House Passes Liquor-By-Drink Bill

Colleges Facing Cut In Funds From Senate

Senate Economy Ax Is Hanging Over Salaries Appropriated; Tech May Lose $181,956

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. — The senate's economic ax today hung over salaries paid teachers and employes of the state supported colleges but when, where and if it would strike none could say.

The senate finance committee received a majority report of a subcommittee recommending slashing $2,300,000 from $16,729,500 earmarked for institutions of higher learning for the biennium and ordered a public hearing on the proposal Monday night.

Separate Report Prepared

Meanwhile, a minority of the same sub-group worked on a separte report which Senator H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur indicated would call only for a slight reduction.

Senator Morris Roberts of Pettus, reporting for the majority subcommitteemen, said the reductions were aimed only at salaries and left intact the allotments for maintenance, repairs and improvements, including new buildings.

From $2,400 Upwards

He said the group reduced by 25 per cent all salaries from $2,400 upwards, levelled those between that figure and $1,800 to $1,750 and left others unchanged.

Public hearings were postponed when members of the main committee mustered a majority which contended college administrative officers should be given more time to study the retrenchment proposal.

Already Under Contract

Woodruff maintained most of the money alloted by current appropriations was under contract but if a majority of the committee was "willing to operate colleges and universities of less than first class levels" he could save more than the majority group recommended.

The recommendation would deprive each state institution exclusive of some minor department, of this much of its appropriation for the current biennium:

Texas A. & M. $253,182

A. & M. experiment station system $291,000.

Texas Technological college $181,956.

John Tarleton Agricultural college $37,620.

North Texas Agricultural college $66,850.

Prairie View Normal and Industrial college $5,606.

University of Texas (main) $565,692.

University of Texas (medical branch) $65,926.

College of Mines and Meallurgy

TAX BILL FACES PROTESTS

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—The wave of protest that deluged the general tax bill before it passed the house may roll again when the senate state affairs committee conducts a hearing on it Monday afternoon.

The measure, now estimated to yield $5,503,000 annually, was received by the senate today and referred to the state affairs group which sent it to a sub-committee for "study and rewriting." The smaller group will report at 2 p. m. Monday and a half hour later public hearings will begin.

Chinese Strike Back At Japs In Shanghai

Counter Attack Forces Nippon To Retreat

Three Early Morning Raids Are Staged By Chinese Airmen; Two Americans Are Injured

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15. (Friday)—Chinese air forces made three early morning raids today on Japanese positions near Shanghai while Chinese land forces immediately north of the city struck in a desperate counter attack.

The fighting continued savage exchanges between Chinese aircraft and Japanese warships and land forces late Thursday which subjected the International settlement to one of the most dangerous showers of shell fragment it has suffered in two months of warfare.

Two Americans Injured

Two Americans, a marine and a sailor, were injured slightly. Police estimated 37 persons—all Chinese—were killed and 67 injured.

Artillery and tanks supported the Chinese drive on a four-mile front beginning in Chapei, adjoining the International settlement.

Chinese asserted they thrust deeply into the Japanese positions, inflicting heavy casualties. Japanese admitted there was a strong Chinese attack, but said Japanese fighters, firing point blank, took a heavy toll.

Jap Admiral Apologizes

During Thursday's bombardment United States marine lines were under a continuous shower of fragments and bullets. Hilton Hiatt of Crystal River, Florida, was wounded in the left arm. Earlier J. P. McMichael of Connersville, Ind., standing on the bridge of the United States flagship Augusta, was injured slightly by shrapnel. Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief, who was standing near, protested to Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, the Japanese naval commander, who apologized for subjecting the American ship to danger.

Jap Activity In China Condoned

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 14 — A reliable Vatican source said tonight the Holy See condones Japanese military activity in China wherever Communism appears to be the enemy.

This policy was said in well-informed Vatican quarters to represent a normal expansion of Pope Pius' increasingly militant campaign against Bolshevism. It was described as being in harmony with the Vatican's attitude toward the Spanish civil war and with the outspoken attacks on Communism which His Holiness made in his encyclicals of March 18 and September 29.

Policy Is Set Forth

The Vatican source said this policy had been set forth in a private memorandum defining the church's position in the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Catholic representatives in the Far East were said to have received instructions to adapt themselves to this policy. Wherever in China the

Ford May Close His Kansas City Plant

DETROIT, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Ford Motor Co., charging an "intolerable" situation had arisen because of the picketing of its Kansas City plant, indicated today it was considering closing the plant permanently.

"I do not think there is anything to do but close the plant," said Harry H. Bennett, personnel director, "but that is up to the company. We can't get police protection. The Ford Motor Co. doesn't work that way. As far as I'm concerned—if I have anything to say about it—we're all through in Kansas City."

Italy Loses 41 Officers And 17 Soldiers In Native Uprisings

ROME, Oct. 14. (AP)—Native uprisings during Ethiopia's dismal rainy season cost the lives of 41 Italian officers and 17 soldiers, the government announced today.

Ethiopians participating in the resistance to Italy's rule, including many minor chiefs, were wiped out, the announcement said.

The losses brought the total number of Italians who have given their lives in the conquest and pacification of Ethiopia to 4,004, according to official figures. There were no estimates of losses among native troops serving Italy. They suffered much more heavily than the Italians.

Indians On Hunt For Somebody's Mother-In-Law

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Oct. 14. (AP) — Navajo huntsmen reluctantly took up the trail today of a huge black bear which killed a little Indian girl in the Lukachukai mountains.

To the Navajos, a bear is a sacred animal. It is supposed to be the reincarnation of some departed mother-in-law, and is killed upon the greatest provocation.

When the offending bear is slain, the most powerful medicine men of the region will be called to transfer the soul of the mother-in-law to a pine tree, or other firmly-rooted object, where it can do no more mischief.

The little victim was reported found mangled to death on the summit of the Lukachukais, where she had been herding sheep.

Weather Slows Start Of Fair At Lamesa

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Oct. 14. — Dawson county's fair got off to a slow start today because of inclement weather conditions, but expectations tonight were that with more favorable weather tomorrow crowds would threaten former records.

Official opening of the three-day celebration was at 10 o'clock this morning and the afternoon program was highlighted with a parade at 3 o'clock, said A. G. Bearden, secretary of the chamber of commerce here.

Small Admission Charged

Last year's attendance was 15,000 persons. A small admission charge is being made with children under 12 admitted free.

Bearden described the agricultural and community exhibits as "unusually good," and said approximately a dozen communities were represented in displays.

Livestock judging will begin tomorrow and amateur contests will be features of programs Friday night and Saturday. Beef cattle, hogs, and poultry exhibits will be judged Friday.

Communities Cooperating

County Agent Joe Williams is assisting in handling agricultural exhibits. Communities over the county have supported the plan and boys and girls as well as men and women cooperated with association leaders.

Carnival attractions are furnished by Western State shows.

A band concert which had been scheduled for this afternoon was postponed until later in the exposition.

Grid Game Is Featured

Featuring Friday night's program will be a football game between high school teams here and at Ralls.

Approximately 1,000 persons saw the exhibits today and it was expected crowds would increase considerably by Saturday, closing day for the observance. A new building

Chicago Amnesia Victim Said To Be Man From Roswell, N. M.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—A young amnesia victim who wrote "I don't know what is the matter with me" in four languages was listed tentatively by police tonight as Clyde Butler, 20, of Roswell, N. M., as he searched the shadows of his memory for his name.

"I'm still not getting anywhere," he told hospital attendants after three persons reported they had known him for several days as Butler. "But I'm going to keep on trying to get out of the fog."

The victim, who knows medical and psychological terms, wrote in English, French, German and Spanish in reporting his trouble to a physician Tuesday.

Farley Says FDR Could Carry 46 States If He Ran Again; Reticent On His Own Plans

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 14. (AP) — Postmaster General James A. Farley, in an interview here today said President Roosevelt, if he should seek a third term, "would carry 46 states again, and you can throw in Maine and Vermont, too."

But, he added, the question of whether President Roosevelt will run again "is one that only the president can answer."

Questioned about the possibility of seeking the presidential nomination himself in 1940, Farley responded: "I never cross my bridges until I get to them."

AFOL Submits New Plan For Peace To CIO

Response Made To Lewis' Offer For Conference But Objection To Size Of Delegation Made

By JOSEPH L. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

DENVER, Oct. 14.—The American Federation of Labor sent a new peace proposal to the CIO today in response to the offer John L. Lewis sent here Tuesday.

The federation's proposal was new in that the federation agreed to enlarge to a "reasonable" size the executive council's three-man standing peace committee.

No Different Otherwise

Otherwise, it was no different from the offer the federation has stood by since it suspended ten leading CIO unions for "insurrection" more than a year ago.

It called for committees from the

RECEIVED IN SILENCE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 14. (AP) CIO leaders received in silence tonight renewed AFOL proposals for a conference to discuss a unified labor policy and settlement of labor's internal strife.

High officials of the Committee for Industrial Organization said they preferred not to comment until the conference here of leaders of CIO unions took some official action. The next meeting will be tomorrow.

two camps to meet "without conditions or stipulations" to work out a settlement.

Lewis' offer stipulated that the AFOL recognize the principle of the industrial form of labor organization for mass production industries.

Proposes 100 From Each

It also proposed that each side send 100 men to the peace conference.

While a telegraph operator was tapping out the peace plan to the CIO meeting in Atlantic City, N. J., the AFOL convention unanimously elected Green to his thirteenth term as president.

In accepting the post, Green adopted the most conciliatory tone he has used for weeks in discussing the CIO issue.

"I hope and trust and pray we may become united," he said. "United we are invincible."

"Admit We Are Right"

Green interpreted the CIO peace bid as an indication that "even these to whom we have appealed in the past 12 months admit we are right—they are willing to meet us in some kind of a conference.

"No epithet hurled at me can swerve me from this purpose of presenting to the world a solidified labor movement," he concluded.

"That patient, dignified policy is winning in America. Public opinion is with us."

Although the federation's peace

France Stands Ready To Act With Britain

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—French foreign office officials said tonight France is considering joint direct action with Great Britain if a non-intervention subcommittee fails to obtain withdrawal of Italian volunteers from Spanish insurgent armies.

France stood ready to protect her Mediterranean trade routes after agreeing to go along with Britain in giving the nine-power subcommittee a quick chance to obtain withdrawal of the troops. The committee is to meet here Saturday.

French sources were pessimistic on the outcome of the meeting. British spokesmen were only moderately hopeful.

Edward Signs Up For Tour Of World As Representative Of American Concern; Work In Keeping With His Peace Plans

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—The Duke of Windsor has signed up as representative of a commercial firm and in that capacity will start a world tour shortly after Christmas Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., said today.

"His work naturally will be of a propaganda nature and is in keeping with his plans for world peace," said Vanderbilt.

"Windsor holds to the theory that undernourishment and ill-housing conditions are the cause of most internal strife. 'Wherever you find nearly intolerable living conditions you will find internal strife,' he once said to me."

Attended Their Wedding

Vanderbilt attended the wedding of the former King Edward VIII of England and Mrs. Wallis Simpson in France some months ago and has been in touch with them since.

The Duke and Duchess are due here the latter part of November on their American tour.

"I cannot divulge the name of the firm Windsor has contracted to serve," said Vanderbilt, "but I can assure you it definitely has nothing to do with motion pictures."

Duke And Duchess End Visit In Berlin; To Visit Krupp

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor ended their Berlin visit tonight when they entrained for Essen for a visit to the giant Krupp armament factories.

They were accompanied by Dr. Robert Ley, head of the German labor front. A crowd at the station gave a friendly sendoff.

The Duke and Duchess this afternoon motored to the weekend resort of Col.-Gen. Herman Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 man of the Nazi regime, near Berlin where they were the guests at a tea party.

Throughout his Berlin stay the Duke made no effort to meet his royal kin, the Hohenzollern family.

Large Crowd Is At Opening Of Hockley Fair

By IVAN LITTLE

LEVELLAND, Oct. 14. — Despite lowering skies and soggy country roads, a large number of persons braved the early season chill Thursday when the curtain was raised for Hockley county's three-day Jamboree.

Because of the death of Mrs. J. B. Shofner, mother of J. P. Shofner, Hockley county commissioner, the grounds were closed to the public from 2 to 3 o'clock during the afternoon.

Unusual Interest Shown

Farmers, business men, and their wives evidenced unusual interest in the agricultural and women's exhibits which lined the walls of the new 40x100 feet fair building. Many were flocked around the judges as they made their decisions.

"There are exceptionally good exhibits at the fair this year in spite of the fact that weather conditions have been unfavorable toward the production and preservation of show specimens," said Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment sub-station at Lubbock and president of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association, who acted as judge of agricultural and community exhibits.

Cooperation Is Commended

"The county as a whole has exemplified a commendable degree of cooperation," Jones continued. "Out of the 12 possible communities to charter booths, 11 have done so." These exhibitors, besides Levelland, are: Clauene, Ropesville, Whitharral, Smyer, Sundown, Cobleland, Pep, Hodges, Pettit and Anton.

Jones was exceptionally pleased with a flower booth sponsored by the Garden club of Levelland of which Mrs. I. N. Lee is the chairman.

Cake Show Saturday

He announced that a cake show sponsored by Miss Hazel Phipps, Hockley county home demonstration agent, will be held Saturday.

The fair is the big feature of the county jamboree. This year the general supervision has been in the hands of D. W. Sherrill, Hockley county agent and chairman of the fair committee. Assisting him are B. F. Minor, superintendent of Levelland schools and president of the

Tax Diversion Is Warned Against

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 14. (AP) — Texas county judges and commissioners, loudly applauding all suggestions that attempted diversion of gasoline tax funds be vigorously opposed, heard Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt of the highway commission and State Engineer Julian Montgomery in pleas for the help of local officials in keeping the "highway program of the state in operation without interference."

Both Bobbitt and Montgomery told the commissioners and judges they "are partners" in the state's road-building program and that they should oppose with fervor any attempts to take additional gasoline tax funds and hand them over to other departments.

Bobbitt urged the county officials to insist that an adjustment be made by the state in the $170,000,000 debt for county and district road bonds, declaring the interest rate now being paid is too high.

He admonished delegates to fight any attempt to divert the gasoline tax funds to the general fund, declaring "if the general fund needs more revenue now we all know where it should come from. It should be paid by the people and institutions in Texas who are profiting from their operations here."

City Commission Prepares For Litigation; Purchase Of More Meters Approved

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock city commissioners figuratively pulled off their coats, rolled up their sleeves and prepared at their semi-monthly session at city hall Thursday for court battles.

Contrasting with the usual placid commission sessions, the mayor and four commissioners unanimously, emphatically and belligerently rejected two propositions which, in their expressed opinions, would require unjustified expenditures of city monies and announced that they are ready to "go to bat" in the matters.

Refuse To Pay Claim

In one, the commissioners flatly refused to pay any sum to satisfy a claim growing out of an automobile accident last Oct. 2. In the other instance, the commission directed City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley to take steps looking to condemnation proceedings seeking to open Nineteenth street from Texas avenue to avenue H. Such proceedings would force to a head a controversy which had its birth on the day that the original townsite of the city of Lubbock was laid out.

Participating in the important session of the city governing body were Mayor Ross Edwards. Commissioners W. G. McMillan, W. B. Price, J. A. Fortenberry and A. J. Richardson; City Manager W. H. Rodgers, and Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary.

To Buy More Meters

The decisions to fight rather than pay money they do not believe should be paid crowded into the background several other major matters transacted. Among them were the decision to purchase 300 additional parking meters if they can be obtained on the same conditional contract as those now on the streets; and authorization to buy with 4 per cent warrants approximately 234 acres of land at $35 per acre in Yellowhouse canyon southeast of the city from the Temple Land ompany. The land, for which a total purchase price of $8,200 is to be paid, is adjacent to the 800-acre George M. Boles tract acquired several weeks ago as the future site for garbage and sewage disposal plants.

A number of other matters scheduled for consideration at the session were postponed to a meeting to be held next Monday night. At that time, the proposed city budget will be discussed in an effort to set a tax rate, action may be taken on a proposal to add several members to the police department, and a building plumbing, electrical and gas inspector may be named to succeed D. J. Schlag, who resigned two weeks ago.

Thursday's session of the commission pursued its usual placid tenor until a claim on behalf of D. G.

He asked substantial increases in teachers' salaries, $25,000 for current expenses, $25,000 for use cooperatively with the Trinity exstudents in construction of a men's building, and discussed a proposal to raise $250,000 for building a science hall.

Measure Voted In Turbulent Proceedings

Vote Is 65 To 49 After Full Day Of Debate; 'Dry' Forces Are Defeated By 'Wet' Bloc

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 14.—The house of representatives tonight passed a bill which would legalize and tax hard liquor sales by the drink where authorized by local option elections. The vote was 65 to 49.

The action climaxed all-day debate on the controversial question during which the house witnessed some of the most turbulent scenes of the current special session.

'Dry' Moves Defeated

Many "dry" moves to recess and adjourn were turned aside by advocates of the measure, who, however, were able to force three-minute adjournment immediately after the bill had been passed to third reading in order to start a new legislative day and finally jam the bill through.

Under the present law hard liquor may be sold only by the bottle but leaders of the move to permit sale by the drink, largely from the "big cities" of the state, long have battled for liberalization of the statute.

Now Goes To Senate

Having passed the house, the bill now goes to the senate, and there was no indication what that body might do. In the regular session concluded last May, the senate defeated a similar bill by a small margin.

The measure was authored by Rep. Emmett Morse of Houston.

Should the bill pass both houses, it would yet have to run the gauntlet of approval or disapproval by Governor James V. Allred, generally known as a "dry" but who has not committed himself recently on the issue of sale by the drink.

Sought To Break Quorum

Immediately after the passage to third reading, or engrossment, by a vote of 67 to 57, and in the maneuvering to force a new legislative day, thereby getting around the constitutional requirement that bills be read on three separate days, a number of members, amid shouts, fled from the chamber, apparently in efforts to break a quorum. Later they returned.

An amendment adopted at a late hour limited alcoholic content of drinks to 25 per cent, compared with 33 per cent originally provided in the bill.

The effect of another amendment was to limit sale of such drinks to strictly food-dispensing places.

"Treating" Amendment Defeated

An amendment which would prohibit "treating," that is, one person's buying a drink for another, was voted down, 30 to 85.

The bill came up for considera-

CIVIL WAR STORY

AN untold story of the Civil War was given recently in a letter to the Dallas News by Mrs. J. B. Mobley, 1646 Main street. The Lubbock woman sent a clipping of the letter to Margaret Mitchell, whose famous book, "Gone With The Wind," brought back many long-hidden episodes of this sorrowful chapter in the history of our country. Last week Mrs. Mobley received the following letter from Miss Mitchell, who is Mrs. John R. Marsh of Atlanta, Ga., in private life:

"Thank you so much for the copy of the Dallas Morning News which carried your letter. You must have realized how interesting I would find it.

"It is heartening to read even at this late date of generous and compassionate acts performed by some of Sherman's officers. More's the pity men like Captain Kirkwood were not more numerous!

"I appreciate your interest so very much.

"Cordially, Margaret Mitchell Marsh."

MRS. MOBLEY'S LETTER

WE are re-printing Mrs. Mobley's letter in part:

"Having recently read "Gone With the Wind' for the second time since it came out last June (a year ago), I am forcibly reminded of a war story told me by my husband, the late J. B. Mobley, who was a native of South Carolina and was a little boy about 10 years old when Sherman, the Attila of the Civil War, made his march of destruction through South Carolina and Georgia. What he saw and heard made a lasting impression on his childish mind and rankled in his hot cavalier Southern blood throughout his life. And who could blame him? Certainly no one 'born and raised' in the path of 'Sherman's march to the sea.'

"As I recall the story of the morning after the main army had passed he and his little brothers and sisters—and they had a large family and all young—had nothing to eat for breakfast but parched corn. Everything edible that could be found was consumed or taken away. All the provisions laid up for the family and 150 slaves disappeared 'like morning mist before the summer sun.' The family silver had been hidden in the woods and thus escaped the hands of the vandals. Most of the army had passed on but a regiment and its commander, Captain William H. Kirkwood, was still camped around his home. Most of the lovely old mansions in the neighborhood were being burned and, of course, they were expecting theirs to meet the same fate. His father, Dr. Samuel Mobley, was at home and sick in bed. He requested to see the commanding officer. When the officer came into his room he lifted his cap and held it in his hand as he watched the children parching corn for breakfast. Doctor Mobley said in substance: 'I don't know who you are, but I know you are a gentleman, for you are the first Yankee that ever took off his hat as he came into this house.' A guard was put around the house to keep it from being burned and in due time the soldiers went on their way of destruction.

"About thirty-two years after that, when the little boy had grown to a man and had wandered to the great West and was having a part in the settlement of a little town called Lubbock on the frontier of Texas he saw in a paper that Captain William H. Kirkwood had been appointed superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Quincy, Ill. The name of the officer had lingered in his wonderful memory the passing years. He immediately wrote to Captain Kirkwood and told him when and where he saw him. In response Captain Kirkwood wrote him a most beautiful letter. He was a man of education and culture. Captain Kirkwood remembered the incident and told it almost verbatim. He even remembered the names of some of the slaves on the plantation who worked around the house. In closing his letter he said, 'Sometimes my little grandson climbs upon my knee and asks for a story of the great war. The next time he does, I will tell him about some little children in South Carolina parching corn for breakfast.'

"This letter was published in the Lubbock Leader of which the late Dr. J. Winford Hunt of McMurry college was editor some 40 years ago. It is now, I suppose, in possession of some member of the Mobley family."

• • •

WE believe it's incidents like the above that help pave the way for a better understanding between the few boys in Blue and the boys in Grey. We would welcome a day when little happenings like this would completely overshadow the relating of atrocities that only re-open wounds from generation to generation.

Evelyn Stewart Complimented

Two brides-elect are being honored with week-end courtesies. Miss Ellan K. Clapp, who is to become the bride of George Dale on October 27, will be honored this afternoon at 6 o'clock at a party to be given in the F. R. Friend home at 2005 Broadway.

Hostesses will be Misses Pauline Jones, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Billie Bloom and Lena Belle Brown.

As a courtesy to Miss Evelyn Stewart, bride-elect of Holland Stewart of Hobbs, N. M., Mesdames M. E. Ware and B. T. About thirty guests called between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Terrell poured tea at a table covered with lace and centered with an arrangement of roses and pink tapers.

As guests arrived they were taken to the bedroom where the gifts were on display.

Business Club Has New Members

The Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club, meeting Wednesday night in regular business session at the Hilton hotel, received Mrs. George Thompson and Misses Ernestine Richmond and Clara Pratt as new members.

A letter from Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas attorney, asking members to contact legislators and urge that they pass a bill allowing women jurors in Texas, was read. The club discussed a proposed book loan club which it might sponsor for worthy women students of Texas Technological college who are financially unable to buy textbooks.

Mrs. Harry Urguette presented a financial report and Mrs. Floe Swenson reported a recent district 1 conference in Amarillo. The meeting was conducted by the president, Miss Ruth F. Reid.

Others attending were Misses Faith Franklin, Gladys Sanders, Ruth Crain, Elsie V. Link, Irma Pryor, Mesdames J. J. Smelser, Harriet C. Johnston, Lottie B. Hilton, Willie W. Thomas, F. E. Barrier, Mary E. Turner, W. O. Harbison, Ben F. Maxey and Fred Higbee.

Tech WAA Is Host For Novel Party

An annual "cabaret" party, given by the Texas Technological College Women's Athletic association Wednesday night in the college gymnasium, was attended by 350 young women. First and second year girls of the college and several other guests were invited.

The gymnasium was decorated with Japanese lanterns and a colorful low ceiling improvised of crepe paper. Tables were arranged around the walls of the room and the center was reserved for the program and dancing. Ned Bradley's orchestra played.

The program included an acrobatic dance by Claudia Moseley, a harmonica solo by Lovie Beavers, a "negro" tap dance by Marcella and Jean Ware and a mock freshman gym class, in pantomime, by a group of W. A. A. members. Eloise Smith played the part of the instructor in the pantomime.

Paper hats, confetti and serpentine were distributed. Bags of peanuts and candy were refreshments.

Special guests were Mrs. Mary W. Doak, Miss Margaret W. Weeks, Gloriadel Bowen, Virginia Knapp, Betty Alice Gordon, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, Marie George, Maxine Fry, Marjorie Elder, Misses Geraldine and Evelyn Clewell, Alice Muse Rogers and Georgina Conner. Thirty-four active members of the association, three inactive members and five alumnae were present.

Prizes For Benefit Bridge Are Displayed In Store

Prizes which will be presented at a benefit bridge party given by the Lubbock Junior Welfare league at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Hotel Lubbock are being displayed in Hemphill-Wells department store window with names of merchants contributing them attached. About 25 prizes will be given for high scores.

The bridge party is an annual affair sponsored to raise money for charity projects of the league. Tickets at 50 cents each are being sold by members. Anyone wishing to buy one may telephone Mrs. W. D. Girand, jr.

Mrs. T. J. White of Coleman is guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Ballenger, and Dr. Ballenger.

P-TA Meetings Attract Many

Hundreds of patrons and teachers attended monthly meetings of three parent-teacher associations Thursday afternoon.

Individual rooms programs were presented at meetings of the George M. Hunt association, the first at 2:30 o'clock for patrons and teachers of first and second grade children; the second at 3 o'clock for patrons and teachers of third and fourth grade children. These meetings drew 136 in attendance.

Explanations were made of the local survey sponsored by the federal government department of home economics to determine standard measurements of children in order to make model patterns. Lubbock is one of the five Texas cities that is included in the survey.

Other talks concerned changing the methods of report cards and problems that arise of the child going back and forth to school.

The association is to sponsor a Hallowe'en carnival.

Miss Evelyn Jones' room had the most mothers in attendance. Attendance favors also were presented to ten other rooms.

Tech Professor Is Speaker For Junior High P-TA

Mrs. H. S. Weiss presided at a meeting of the Junior High school Parent-Teacher association, which was attended by 100 persons.

The school glee club sang, directed by Mrs. M. E. Ware and Jack Thompson was presented in vocal solos.

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth of the Tech college faculty spoke on "Character Building Through School Activity."

The association will sponsor a rummage sale on October 23.

Room Mothers Are Selected At Sanders School

Room mothers were selected at a meeting of the Sanders Parent-Teacher association at that school Thursday afternoon, W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock Public schools, talked on "The Family's Share in the School Problem," and a Columbus Day program was presented by children in Mrs. E. B. Speck's room.

This association also will sponsor a Hallowe'en carnival; the committee on arrangements which is composed of Mesdames W. S. Hayes, C. C. Mills and Porter McDougal.

Prizes for room attendance went to Mrs. Winnie Lee Holloway's and Mrs. Harold Biffle's rooms.

Teachers and room mothers are the following:

Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. McDougal; Mrs. Biffle, Mrs. W. T. Adams; Miss Marian Bray, Mrs. Mills; Miss Beulah Starnes, Mrs. Orville McDaniel; Mrs. Speck, Mrs. G. J. Cornelius; Miss Lois Mangum, Mrs. Jobe; Kary Mathis, Mrs. Vernon Bessent.

POSEY CLUB MEETS

POSEY, Oct. 14. Vocational Home Economics Club Formed At Idalou

IDALOU, Oct. 14. (Special)—The Idalou Vocational Home Economics club was organized here Wednesday by high school home economics students, former home economics students who are interested in home economics as a vocation and the local home economics teacher, Miss Catherine Couch who will serve as sponsor. Officers are:

President, Wanda Kimbrell; vice president, Nadine Gregory; secretary, Lucille Fulfer; treasurer, Mildred Fugate; reporter, Zelda Eubank; song leader, Anna Lois Evans; parliamentarian, Asaline Wall, and historian, Edna McFarland.

A program of work for the entire year was outlined to include discussions of personality, friendship, personal appearance, home economics in the current affairs of our country and home economics as a vocation.

An aim of the club, which has 58 members, is to improve the high school department and make it more attractive. Several porjects will be sponsored to further that and other goals.

Installation will be conducted at the next meeting, November 3.

County Federation To Meet All Day

To an all-day meeting of the County Federation of Women's clubs in the Slaton club house Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m., all clubs are urged to send representatives, the program chairman has announced. Visitors will be welcome.

The morning session will be of a business nature. Clubs will present individual reports, emphasizing especially their programs for the year. Each club is asked to bring its yearbook for a display.

Mrs. Viola Perkins of the state child welfare board will speak on child welfare work in Lubbock county. She will talk instead of Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, president of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, who had a conflicting engagement.

To Discuss Erosion

Following luncheon at the club house will be a rural-urban cooperation educational program on the subject, "The Land and the People." Roll call will be answered by giving facts relating to soil erosion. Mrs. H. F. Godeke will lead a panel discussion which will include:

A review of facts in the government bulletin, "Little Waters," Mrs. R. T. Campbell; "In the Wake of Ax and Plow," Mrs. O. R. Copeland; "Our Land," Mrs. W. P. Clement, and "Saving the Land For Tomorrow's Consumers," Arthur W. Young, associate professor of agronomy at Texas Technological college. The program committee is arranging a program of musical entertainment by residents of the Slaton community.

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS
IF you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.
BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.
For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."
Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Adoption Of Long-Range Agricultural Program Is Predicted By Marvin Jones

Amarillo Congressman Points To Success If Farmers Cooperate

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAYLOR, Oct. 14.—Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house agricultural committee, predicted today that congress at its approaching session would adopt a long-range agricultural program destined for success if farmers cooperated.

The congressman was the principal speaker at a statewide farmers' meeting.

Estimated 1,500 Present

With Jones to appear before an estimated 1,500 farmers from more than two score Texas counties, came Rep. Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, also a member of the house agricultural committee, and Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Austin, Rep. Nat Patton of Crockett, and Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco.

Jones was applauded when he said the cotton farmer was receiving a "fair deal" under the Roosevelt administration for the first time in may years.

Double Pneumonia Recovery Cited

"Some of you feel that recovery from the depression is slow," Jones said. "Remember it takes a long time to get over double pneumonia."

At another point in his address he declared "the man who says "it's my land and I'll do what I please with it regardless of my neighbor and my children's heritage' is as bad as a Communist."

The idea of giving the American farmer a bounty to balance the effects of a high tariff go back as far as Alexander Hamilton, Jones said.

Suggested Protective Tariff

Hamilton, the "father of the protective tariff system in America," suggested in 1791 that a high tariff was needed so infant industries could compete with well-established business of the old world, Jones continued.

"... Hamilton could not fail to realize that to establish such a system would favor certain groups and place an especial burden upon the producers of agricultural products," he said. "He was fair enough to admit this. . . . He suggested that the true way to correct this discrimination was to pay a premium or a bounty to the farmer."

Farmer "Forgotten Man"

But the farmer then became the first "forgotten man," he added. "Selfish groups picked up one wing of the Hamiltonian philosophy and established a tariff system, but they failed to bring forward the other part, that is, the provision for restoring to the farmer that which was taken away from him under the protective tariff."

For 100 years, he continued, "the fight against the unjust provisions of a lopsided tariff system" continued, until in 1929 both agriculture and business collapsed from the strain. The new program instituted under President Roosevelt merely has aimed at establishing "the principle of equality"—which he called the solid rock on which this government was originally built.

Own Suggestions Given

His own suggestions for a new farm program, he said, include:

1. continuation, improvement and simplification of the present soil conservation program;

2. obtaining for the farmer a fair division of the national income, to which "he is entitled as a matter of right;"

3. provision for an ever-normal granary, storage or warehouse program with adjustment or control provisions to assure the consumer against scarcity and sellers against ruinous prices;

4. Encouragement of the search for new uses and new markets;

Reduction To Large Producers

5. Graduated reduction in payments to large producers so as to encourage individual farming;

6. A provision preventing land owners from receiving the benefits of the program if they reduce the number of tenants without approval of local committee—"a proper division between landowner and tenant should be stipulated;"

7. The law should be administred by local people wherever possible.

Never Included Before

He said three things have never been included in farm legislation: reduction of payments to large operators; search for new uses and markets, and correction of freight rate discriminations against farm products.

The agricultural committee, he said, has prepared "a sort of workbench bill based on these principles." The committee hoped, he added, it may be able to get a continuation of the present appropriations to carrying out the farm program.

Present Act Flexible

The present farm act, he said, was flexible enough to permit different programs to be fashioned for different crops. "Not only may there be soil conservation, but the domestic allotment plan may be put into effect in reference to any commodity."

Cotton, which he said occupies a unique place in the affairs of the country," requires special treatment in any farm program."

"To undertake to reduce it to a purely domestic basis is unthinkable. To try to take the entire American crop too much out of the price picture would result in increased foreign competition and in domestic substitution. Cotton competes with many commodities.

Adjustment, Control Necessary

"To undertake to produce it regardless of price is also unthinkable. Proper adjustment and control is necessary."

J. E. McDonald, state agriculture commissioner, and several other farm leaders also were on the program. Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the East Texas chamber, called the session a "farm clinic."

"Texas representatives on the house agricultural committee want to know the views of farmers on the most important production control question," he said. "And Texas farmers are eager to hear what their leaders are thinking."

Speaks On Domestic Allotment

McDonald spoke on a domestic allotment plan, asserting it would satisfy the salient points in the president's agriculture program.

He said the cotton farmer should be given parity prices for his pro rata share of the production used by this nation and should be left free to grow a larger quantity and compete in the world market if he desired.

Any crop reduction plan would fail, he said, unless it embraces a method of upholding prices. The cotton farmer's condition has become much more serious this year, he said because of increases in costs of things he has to buy and a big drop in cotton prices.

W. Wipprecht, 73-year-old farmer from Bryan, said a person should be allowed to produce cotton on a specified percentage of his total land in cultivation, not his former cotton acreage. This, he said, would benefit the person who started diversifying before the government thought of it.

Bids On Library To Be Awarded

The board of directors of Texas Technological college will convene in an annual fall session, at which a contract is to be let for construction of a library, Saturday morning in Fort Worth.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, college president, and W. T. Gaston, college business manager and secretary of the board will leave tonight for Fort Worth.

Bids Have Been Asked

Bids have been asked for construction of the library, and for installation of plumbing, heating, air conditioning, wiring and such equipment as steel bookstacks, library furniture, elevator, and book lift.

The board will meet in the office of Wyatt C. Hedrick, architect and engineer.

May Talk New Dorms

Approval of appointments of faculty members and other business will come before the board. Possibility of securing new dormitories, for which an application has been made to the WPA, will be discussed.

Construction of the library is to begin as soon as materials can be secured after letting of the contract, likely this month. Half of an allocation of $275,000 made in June by the ligslature became available Sept. 1 and the remaining $137,500 will become available Sept. 1, 1938.

Mothers Club Has Evening Party

Approximately 200 persons called in the Senior high school home economics department from 7 until 9 o'clock Wednesday night to honor Superintendent and Mrs. W. B. Irvin and members of the Senior high school faculty. The reception was given by the mothers club of the school.

Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin; the high school principal, R. W. Matthews; Mrs. Matthews; the club president, Mrs. Marvin McLarty; members of the board of education and their wives; the high school dean of boys, Dan W. Powers; the dean of girls, Mrs. Ed Terrell and student council officers, W. O. Estes, Jane Prickett and Harriet Jarrett.

Parents of students registered in a guest book which was presented to the superintendent.

Large baskets of dahlias decorated each entrance of the entertainment suite. The refreshment table was centered with a lace cloth and set with an attractive arrangement of mixed flowers and yellow tapers in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. H. D. Woods and Mrs. Charles Read presided at the table the first hour and Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall and Mrs. H. L. Allen presided the second hour. They were assisted by students of the home economics department, directed by Miss Gertrude Watson.

Thirty members of the student council served as guides in the corridors to direct callers to the entertainment suite.

The social was arranged by Mrs. Woods, committee chairman, and Mesdames A. N. Gamble, Kuykendall, Allen, C. E. Maedgen, T. R. Prideaux and W. E. Humphries, assisted by the following club officers:

President, Mrs. McLarty; vice-president, Mrs. Read; secretary, Mrs. S. C. Parnell; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Smith; reporter, Mrs. Florence Hvass; finance chairman, Mrs. M. D. Temple; City Parent-Teacher association councilor, Mrs. J. H. Stiles, and telephoning chairman, Mrs. J. I. Kilpatrick.

KEEP THE DIFFERENCE IN YOUR POCKETBOOK

Performance! . . . Mileage! . . . Savings! . . . they're only words to you until you try a tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

Millions of car-owners have made the test and discovered that there is a real difference, a big difference, between gasolines.

Remember, Phillips is a comparatively young company. So practically every present Phillips user had previously bought some other brand. To win his continued patronage, we had to offer "something better."

Year after year, Phillips sensational sales climb is dramatic evidence of our success in producing an exceptional motor fuel. A modern, high-energy gasoline that does more, but costs no more! A gasoline that really demonstrates!

Right now every gallon gives you the extra energy units of the patented POLYmerization process plus the benefits of 100% custom-tailoring.

No matter how the weather varies, regardless of where you live, the money-saving performance of the Phillips 66 you buy is thus preserved and protected in the highest degree. Note that only Phillips can say this: No other gasoline is so accurately matched to the climatic changes in your weather!

It's simple . . . it's easy . . . it's fun to find out the difference in your own motor. Just stop for gas at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

TIME TO CHANGE OIL

Avoid cold-weather damage to your modern close-tolerance motor. Drain and refill with the correct low-temperature grade of Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It's concentrated! Absolutely our finest quality.

Christian-Aggies Game Headlines Saturday's Southwest Conference Schedule

Arkansas Faces Texas In Other Loop Conflict

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 14. — The team they've been promising down at Texas A. and M.—the best since the memorable year of '27—bows into Southwest conference competition Saturday against a rugged crew that could shatter their illusions on the tee-off. Texas Christian.

Two of the best-balanced clubs in the Southwest will play before Fort Worth's second largest football throng—second only to the mob that gasped through the Southern Methodist-Christian "Rose Bowl" game of 1935. Twenty-seven thousand should see the kickoff.

Aggies Are Favored

Favored because of two fine intersectional victories over Manhattan and Mississippi State while Texas Christian was losing to Ohio State, tying Arkansas and beating Tulsa, the Aggies, nevertheless, will be playing a potent team that has held a jinx over them the past 12 years.

Four thousand Aggie cadets will follow their team to Fort Worth to see the big Aggie line try to shake loose Dick Todd, great halfback who ran wild last week against Mississippi State. Todd will be engaged in a duel with Little Davey O'Brien, the Christians' able successor to Sammy Baugh who has hurled 33 passes for a total of 354 yards to date.

Best Frogs Last Year

Only once in 12 seasons has an A and M. team licked T. C. U. and that was last year, 18-7. However, Sammy Baugh was injured and his passes were wild. This year, the Christians will have O'Brien and Johnny Hall, a granite back who slashes the tackles, in good health.

Another tossup game will be played at Austin when Texas and Arkansas, both with one victory, one tie and one defeat, meet in the other league game. Texas, with its bevy of fleet backs, will miss Hugh (Big Bad) Wolfe, unlikely to play because of an injury. However, there was also doubt that Arkansas' Jack Robbins, passer, kicker and runner, would play. Dwight Sloan, his capable running mate, may shoulder most of the burden.

Father-Son Duel

The game of many angles, Southern Methodist vs. Vanderbilt, will be Dallas attraction. Coach Matty Bell, given his shove to the Rose Bowl by Ray Morrison, now Vandy coach, will match his faltering Methodists against his old head coach while Morrison's son, Jack, the Methodists' crack passer, will be firing his aerials in an effort to put a smear on his dad's record for the season.

Baylor's Bruins, the courageous outfit that smothered Arkansas with a last-minute surge last Saturday, goes into Shreveport prepared to fire Bullet Bill Patterson and his noted passes at a Centenary team that polished off Southern Methodist two weeks ago. Last season Baylor took Centenary lightly and were dazed by a 10-0 defeat.

Still without a win and scoreless through two games with Oklahoma and Louisiana State, the Rice Owls, a potent team that can't get started, will meet Tulsa's Golden Hurricane at Houston.

Oklahoma Dog Wins Grand Championship At Quanah

QUANAH, Oct. 14. (AP) — Roddy, two-year-old male wolfhound owned by Dr. V. C. Tisdal of Elk City, Okla., was declared grand champion today of the Texas-Oklahoma Wolfhunters' association.

Second honors went to Fiddler, owned by Bill Crowder of Quanah, and third place to Mollie, owned by Roscoe Wiseman of Vernon.

Rody was first in the field trials, first in the bench show for dogs of two years and under, third in the bench show for all-age dogs and first with Highcock as the best pair in the show.

Coyote Chase Is Feature

Crowder, owned by T. R. Champsey of Goodlett, was first in field trials for derby dogs—dogs under two years. Cry Baby, owned by Fred L. Green of Wickett, was second, and Bill Boy, owned by R. W. Summers of Elorado, Okla., third.

A feature of the final day's program was the chase after a coyote, with all derby dogs competing. The animal lasted a mile.

A meeting of the directors of the association was set for February in Quanah. At that time dates for the 1938 trials and bench show will be selected.

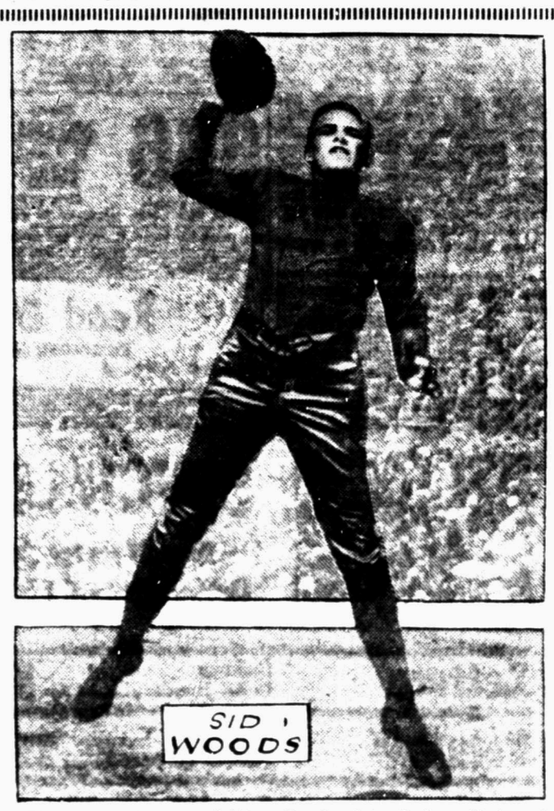

"Elder Statesmen" To Be In Santone Golf Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Senior golfers of Texas—those past 49—will gather at the San Antonio Country club Nov. 9-13 for the Texas Golf association's first annual tournament of the "elder statesmen."

Frank M. Lewis, president of the association, said all members of clubs belonging to the association who passed their 49th birth date are eligible.

Qualifying will start Tuesday, Nov. 9 and the championship matches in six flights will be played Saturday, Nov. 13. Outstanding in the list of golfing elders is J. K. Wadley, of Texarkana.

Can He Match Barnett?

The good passing arm of Sidney Woods, pictured above, that carried the Wildcats of Arizona University to victory several times last year, and is expected to care for Blue Brigade aerials here Saturday night. Woods is a senior student at the Tucson institution, and besides being a capable tosser, can also tote the "mail" on occasion.

Arizonans Are Favored To Beat Tech Here Saturday

University of Arizona, which has sponsored a college football team for 39 years, comes to Lubbock tomorrow to play Texas Tech, which has been playing college football for a dozen years.

The University of Arizona Wildcats are favored to win the game, which is scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, but not because of the 27-year advantage. The Wildcats have other advantages. They have, possibly, the best ball club. They have the satisfaction of having won their first two games this season, which is all they have played. Texas Tech, on the other hand, has played four games, has won but one of them.

Arizona's Blue Brigade worked out in El Paso yesterday. They are to drill at Amarillo's Butler Field this afternoon before coming on to Lubbock.

Teams Tied Last Year

Until 1935, Texas Tech held a decided edge on University of Arizona. Tech won the first three games played between the teams, winning 21 to 0 in 1932, winning 7 to 0 in 1933 and winning 13-7 in 1934. In 1935, Tech played Arizona a Thanksgiving game at Lubbock, in the snow and mud, and the score favored Arizona, 7-6, because the Arizona place-kicker kicked the converting point. Last year, Tech played at Arizona and the score was 7-7.

Arizona it appears improves in its games with Texas Tech. From a couple of touchdown lickings it came back to win by a place kick, then it tied Tech when conversions were successful.

This time, Arizona is the big favorite, because Arizona has most of its regulars from last season, plus a bunch of reserve material that has seen severe service. Texas Tech, on the other hand, is playing without a single backfield man who saw regular service last year, and in all but three line positions the Techs are new.

Tech Is Much Weaker

Arizona, on the other hand, will bring a squad containing 17 lettermen, six of them with two stripes on their letter sweaters, and the starting Wildcat lineup will not differ greatly from that of 1936. Tech, admittedly, has a weaker team than it had a year ago. Arizona is being boomed for national recognition, the Border conference championship being virtually conceded to the Wildcats.

Arizona won from Oklahoma A. & M., another of Tech's opponents, last week by a 22-13 score, showing a great staying power to win in the closing moments of the game after protecting a 15-13 lead.

Texas Tech's gridders worked out yesterday on the field, still soggy from recent rains, and accomplished quite a bit in the way of practice for tomorrow night's game. Much of the time was devoted to defensive work against the plays Arizona is expected to pull tomorrow night. There was a session of offensive workout, as the Techs looked rather good drilling on running and passing plays in a light scrimmage.

May Arrive Tonight

The Arizona team, working out at Amarillo today, may not arrive in Lubbock until tomorrow afternoon, although it is possible the club will wind up its practice at Amarillo today in time to reach Lubbock tonight.

Texas Tech coaches yesterday were pretty sure they would stick with the original lineup, except for one change in the line and maybe two in the backfield. Big Bill Davis, sophomore heavyweight tackle, may not start due to an injured ankle. Cawthon may start Bobby Holmes instead of Gene Barnett at left halfback. It is a question whether Babe Curfman or Ed Smith will start at quarterback. Miles Chapman may get the call at fullback, with Charley Calhoun ready to replace him. Buzz Barnard may start at right half, but Elmer Tarbox is sure to see service at the position. Tarbox was Tech's greatest offensive threat in the University of Detroit game last week.

Cowboys Run Amuck To Beat Littlefield Juniors 67-0

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 14 (Special)—Coach Mule Davis's Lubbock Junior High school Cowboys ran roughshod over Littlefield Junior high this afternoon to the tune of 67-0.

Bearden halfback scored five times for the invaders and Glaze made 4 touchdowns. Griner added the other. Glaze also contributed 7 extra points by plunging and kicking.

McKechnie Signs 2-Year Contract With Redlegs

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14 (AP) — Bill McKechnie signed today a two-year contract as manager of the last place Cincinnati Reds, and with a guarantee of $25,000 annually plus a bonus, became, officials said, the third highest-paid skipper in the major leagues.

"But I am no miracle man," he warned, asserting he had turned down two "better offers" in order to affiliate with Warren Giles, Reds' general manager and his friend for 15 years.

Frosh Struck By Injuries; Star Passer Is Cut

For the second successive time before games, injuries struck Burl Huffman's husky Picador football squad at Texas Tech.

Physicians announced last night that a bone infection would annex C. L. Storrs, lanky passer for the Fish eleven, and that the former Lubbock high star would be unable to participate in tomorrow's clash with NMMI.

Huffman stated that Billy Dodd, 175 pound back from Sherman, would replace Storrs in the Pic backfield, and that Walter Rankin is carded for the aerial work. Rankin formerly was strictly a line plunger but the 195 pounder who tosses from the wrong side has shown sufficient skill to warrant the other wave appointment.

Boasts Heavy Forward Wall

The remaining Picador pigskin packers are Charles Dvoreck, 190 pound blocking back from Colorado and John Simms, 160 pound speedster who hails from Mineral Wells. Woodrow Ramsey, brother of Raider Captain Red Ramsey, is carded for considerable signal chanting Saturday afternoon.

The burly Fish boast a line which averages only six pounds lighter than that of their big brothers the Matadors. The 192-pound forward wall is touted as one of the best freshman front lines in the history of the institution. Glen Jones and Prince Scott will be on the receiving ends of Rankin's throws.

Scaling 206 pounds, Durwood Herring is carded for one of the tackle positions with Gordon Miller, former U. S. Marine, mounting the other. Primo McCurry, bell-beaked Lubbock high player two seasons ago, is down for one guard slot. Tom McQuillan, San Antonio Irishman, will run from the other.

The heaviest gridder on the Fish squad straddles the pivot post Saturday in the form of Rafe Nabors, 235 pounder from Lubbock high.

Class B Conferences Book Busy Programs

Only two members of Districts 4 and 5, Class B, get to rest this week, others entering one of the fullest cards of the season.

Four conference games spot each schedule.

Games today and tonight:

DISTRICT 4
Spur at Matador
Floydada at Lockney
Silverton at Estelline
Turkey at Quitaque
Paducah at Wellington

DISTRICT 5
Littlefield at Brownfield
Ralls at Lamesa, night
Olton at Post
Levelland at Crosbyton
O'Donnell at Tahoka

Westerners Have Open Date, Prepare For Borger Joust

Despite adverse weather conditions Coach Weldon Chapman has put his charges through a series of helpful workouts this week, although the Westerners are idle until next Friday, when they face Borger.

The layoff comes at an opportune time for the local gridders as it gives injured players, notably Capt. Babe Ritchie and Jumbo Webster, time to recuperate from injuries. Both were left on the sideline last week when Lubbock beat Thomas A. Edison from San Antonio.

Game with Borger was originally scheduled for Saturday, according to local officials, but school men and coaches at Borger understood it was to be played on Friday night. Thus it will be, after authorities here conferred with those from Bulldogville Saturday in a district confab at Amarillo.

'Little Brown Jug' May Get New Owner

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—The "Little Brown Jug" is up for grabs again Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Minnesota's Galloping Gophers, 36 strong, and with a guard around the "jug," left tonight for the battle with Michigan in a different frame of mind from the past three years when the Gopher juggernauts smashed over an even 100 points to nothing for the Wolverines.

Coach Harry Kipke's remark he "wouldn't be surprised if Michigan wins" and captured the "jug" brought the first smile to Coach Bernie Bierman's face in two weeks. He pointedly forgot to argue the question with the Michigan mentor.

Minnesota, defeated by Nebraska and held to a 6 to 0 count by Indiana, was given little better than an even chance Saturday.

The "Little Brown Jug" tradition originated in the famous 3 to 3 tie in 1903 when Oscar Munson, Gopher custodian, took a five gallon water jug from the Michigan quarters painted on the score and announced, "when you beat Minnesota you can have it."

Andy Uram, Minnesota's "ace" will be at his left half post and Minnesota fans hope he repeats his performance at Ann Arbor two years ago when he reeled off a 58-yard touchdown run and three minutes later repeated with a 73-yard touchdown gallop.

Forfeiture Of Bond Is Asked In Bill Sinclair Case Here

When Bill Sinclair, charged in county court with violation of a road law, assertedly failed to appear for trial in that court at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, members of the county attorney's office filed a motion with Judge J. J. Dillard asking for forfeiture of bond.

Late Thursday afternoon the judge had not acted on the motion, he said.

Charges against James and Sybil McMullen alleging violation of liquor laws, were dismissed, court authorities said. Cases of liquor law violation against Steve Sanz and Rufus Smith were postponed.

A jury was dismissed until Saturday morning. On today's docket in that court are cases against: Joe Myers, charged with liquor law violation; and Jno. W. Thompson, charged with swindling. On Saturday's docket is a charge of procuring against Nathan Pennington.

Judge Atwell Makes Ruling On Motion Picture Contracts

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (AP) — Motion picture film distributors have the right to contract with exhibitors, individually, for first-run pictures exclusively and the contract may fix the admission price, it was held here by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell. The court held also that the contract may stipulate the date or lapse of time under which such pictures may be shown in second-run houses. Copyrighted pictures may be held off the market for second runs as long as desired if there is not an agreement through a conspiracy.

The decree was entered in the government's suit against the interstate circuit and several major film distributors.

STEAMER IS BEACHED

LEHARVE, France, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Latvian steamer Vizma, rammed by the French vessel Leon Martin, was beached near here today with a hole in her side.

Tugs from LeHarve towed the ship to safety. First reports said none of the crew was injured.

Guldahl-Burke Team Leading Sooner Play

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 14.—Ralph Guldahl, 1937 National Open golf champion, and Billy Burke wound up three points to the good and stepped out in front of a select field of 16 crack professionals at the end of the opening round of Oklahoma City's first annual $5,000 four-ball golf tournament here today.

The Guldahl-Burke combination swept into the lead at the expense of Big Ed Dudley, Philadelphia pro playing on the course he once called home, and Jimmy Hines, blond buster from New York's Garden City club.

Shot 5 Under Par

Guldahl, who hails from Chicago, and Burke, from White Sulphur Springs, Va., shot a low ball of 66, five under par, to defeat the Dudley-Hines duo, 3-up.

Harry Cooper and Horton Smith chalked up two points on the plus side of their score sheet with a 2-up victory over Ky Laffoon and Dick Metz in an all-Chicago match.

Oklahoma Hopefuls Lose

Lawson Little of Chicago one-time king of the amateurs on both sides of the Atlantic, and Little Paul Runyan, from the Metropolis Country club, New York, won their first round match from Johnny Revolta, Evanston County club, Chicago, and Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O., 1-up.

Oklahoma City's hopefuls—Zell Eaton of Twin Hills and Francis Scheider of the home club—went down fighting, losing, 1-up, to Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, and Tommy Armour of Chicago.

Darkness Halts Play In Bobby Jones Tourney

ATLANTA, Oct. 14. (AP)—Darkness prevented completion of the semi-final bracket in the inaugural Southern States 4-ball golf tournament today, with a Louisiana and a Georgia team all square at the end of 42 holes.

Tomorrow they will renew the struggle on the 43rd. Fred Haas, Jr., and Edwin McClure of Louisiana, and Crawford Rainwater and Frank Mulherin of Georgia.

The victorious team will swing into action immediately against Arkansans Frank Stiedle of Helena and Collins Gaines, jr., of Texarkana, in the 36-hole semi-final play.

Stiedle and Gaines eliminated a Tennessee unit, Polly Boyd and Darden Hampton of Chattanooga, 2 and 1 today.

Texas and Georgia teams will meet in the other semi-final.

The Texas team of Don Schumacher and Morris Norton advanced by defeating Sam Perry and Warren Smith, jr., of Alabama 4 and 3.

Charlie Yates and Dick Garlington of Georgia won the right to meet the Texans by downing Ward Hillerich and Craigie Krayenbuhl of Kentucky 3 and 2.

Dexter Fellows, Veteran Circus Press Agent, Ill In Hospital

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Oct. 14. (AP)—Dexter Fellows, the 66-year-old circus press agent ill in the hospital here, was denied visitors today while messages poured in from all over the country inquiring of his condition.

Fellows contracted influenza while in the service of his circus, Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey touring this section and had to be left by his circus for medical attention in Hattiesburg.

His physician today pronounced his condition as serious but not dangerous.

Undefeated List Is Due To Shrink In Schoolboy Race This Week; Lubbock Idle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 14.—The Texas Interscholastic league's fast dwindling list of undefeated, untied teams prepared today for the sternest competition of the season, six of them squaring off against each other in games bearing double significance.

Among the 31 district championship contests on the schedule were three matching clubs with perfect records — Sweetwater playing at Stephenville and Brownwood at Abilene in the Oil Belt and Ysleta going to Austin (El Paso) in District 4. Two faced strong intersectional foes, Amarillo entertaining Lawton, Okla., and Paris being host to Hugo, Okla.

Of the 12 other teams in the select circle, all had games except Temple, Pampa running neck-and-neck with Amarillo in the Panhandle, journeys across the state to play Port Arthur, Olney gets district competition at Wichita Falls, Highland Park, hailed as the class of North Texas, also plays a conference game, engaging Sulphur Springs at Dallas.

Longview, East Texas power, plays Kilgore at Longview, and Marshall goes to Gladewater in another District 9 encounter. Lufkin tackles Henderson in a District 10 conference melee and Palestine plays at Nacogdoches in the same district.

Hillsboro Plays Strong Tigers

Waco is host to Hillsboro in a District 11 conference joust and Conroe defends its unsullied record against Lamar (Houston) at Conroe in District 13. Corpus Christi, South Texas juggernaut, opens the District 15 drive at Kingsville, but the other unbeaten team in the Corpus Christi area—Robstown — plays a non-conference foe, Corpus Christi College-Academy at Corpus Christi.

All these games are Friday except the Amarillo-Lawton contest, which is carded for Saturday. Clovis, N. M., plays at Plainview Friday.

The other conference games are: Breckenridge at Big Spring, Cisco at San Angelo, Eastland at Ranger, Bowie (El Paso) at El Paso high, North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Masonic Home (Fort Worth) at Mineral Wells, Forest (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas), Adamson (Dallas) vs. North Dallas, Mexia at Jacksonville, Cleburne at Bryan, Kerrville at Brackenridge (San Antonio), San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston), Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston), Orange at Galveston, Goose Creek at South Park (Beaumont), Mercedes at Mission, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Weslaco, Brownsville at San Benito.

FAILS TO BREAK RECORD

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Oct. 14. (AP)—Captain George E. T. Eyston, hampered by rain and a mushy track, failed today by a narrow margin to shatter Ab Jenkins' world land speed record for 12 hours.

Eyston's average speed for the long grind was 160.04 miles per hour. Jenkins' was 160.17.

Associated Press Editors Are Holding Session In N. Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14. (AP) — Managing editors from member newspapers of the Associated Press met here today for their annual "shop talk."

Multiple problems of the editorial room, including news, features, pictures and comics, will be discussed today and tomorrow under direction of an executive committee headed by Roy A. Roberts of the Kansas City Star.

A score of speakers lined up for informal discussions was to give special attention today to the news report and picture service of the Associated Press.

Chas. A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Avalanche-Journal, is attending the convention from Lubbock, Texas.

Second Victim Of Car Accident Dies; Another Seriously Hurt

LUFKIN, Oct. 14. (AP) — Robert Luther, 22, died of injuries late last night, the second fatally hurt victim of a car collision which injured four other persons.

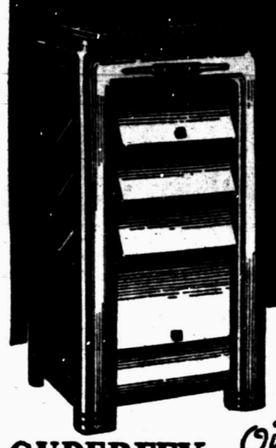

The year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Thigpen of Shreveport died in a hospital a few hours after the crash of two cars on a narrow highway during a rain.

The injured included the parents; G. H. Starks, who was given a small chance to survive, and Harry Neill, both of Montgomery, Ala. Starks, Luther and Neil were riding in the second car.

For 'The Spade Work'

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has called congress to convene again in a special session with passage of farm legislation foremost on the calendar. He feels that, although the session will naturally soon merge into the regular meeting, the few intervening weeks will provide opportunity to get what he calls 'the spade work' for his program well under way.

And rightly so. During past sessions, weeks and even months have been spent in preliminary work and procedure and the real work has been done in the ebbing days of congress. The president wants a workable farm program enacted in time for application before the advent of another crop season when it will be needed most.

The program includes crop-control legislation, the wage-hour measure the proposal for regional conservation — better known as the seven little TVA's"—and administrative reorganization, designed to put all the independent agencies of government under control of the executive.

It is rather a stiff program which Mr. Roosevelt has outlined—stiff, that is, to force through a congress which has shown a disposition to reassume some of its responsibilities as an equal arm of the government. All the subjects mentioned should call for debate; some of them will invite strenuous objection.

A Rightful Demand

ALTHOUGH the most loyal sons of the South are content that bitterness of the War between the States shall remain buried at Appomattox, they will stand united with Texas veterans of the Confederacy who have refused to participate with Union veterans in reunion at Gettysburg if they are refused permission to march in their grey uniforms behind the Stars and Bars.

It was in grey that they fought at Gettysburg and a hundred other battlefields. It was the Stars and Bars which led them into action. To suggest any other uniform or any other flag for the march that may be their last would be preposterous.

It is inconceivable that anyone anywhere in the states which fought for the Union could think of Gettysburg without also thinking of the Stars and Bars. But if there should be persons in high places so narrow and so-sectional minded that they would object to the banner of the Confederacy floating once more over that greatest of all Civil war battlefields, then veterans of the south are wholly right in refusal to take part. H. I. K.

The One-Minute Sermon

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:

But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.—Isiah, 1, 18 through 20.

Madman's Island..... By Nard Jones

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KAY DEARBORN—heroine who inherits a yacht for vacation.

MELETA HOWARD—Kay's roommate and co-adventurer.

PRISCILLA DUNN—the third adventurer.

FORREST BROTHERS and GRANT HARPER—young scientists whose expedition turned out to be a rare experience.

• • •

Yesterday: The girls begin their vacation cruise and are quick to thrill to the zest of their experience. Then a huge white yacht passes them, leaving the "Chinook" wallowing in its wake.

CHAPTER V

Melita and Pricilla crowded onto the brige to observe the cause of all the disturbance. Kay was vallantly trying to keep the "Chinook" on her course, but the little boat did a good deal of bobbing. As she nosed down, the propeller would lift out of the water for a few seconds. Then the engine, relieved of strain against the water, would race noisily, frightening the three girls.

"D-darn them, anyhow," muttered Kay. "They didn't have to pass so close."

Melita held to the edge of the chart table. "So there are road hogs on the water, too!"

The boat now showing its trim gold-lettered stern was indeed large by comparison with the "Chinook," and she had plenty of speed. Two young men in white sweaters stood at the stern rail, waving cheerfully.

"Look at those—those idiots!" said Priscilla with venom. "I just hope we see them again!"

"Well, I don't," insisted Kay, relinquishing her strained grip on the wheel as the swell subsided. "One thing, I don't think any of us will be seasick if we're still on deck after that."

"I don't know . . ." This was Priscilla, looking a bit dubious as she said it. "My lunch isn't resting so easy right now. And Jim Pike said it was the long, slow swells that made you really sick in a small boat. I—I feel like a piece of ice in a cocktail shaker."

The trim yacht with her cheerful pair at the stern was quickly forgotten as the girls became more accustomed to their little boat and began to take in the restful beauties of water and green distant shoreline.

"This is certainly the life!" Melita exclaimed. "We never really lived before we got the 'Chinook' did we?"

"I'm just wondering, though," mused Kay, "if the trip won't get sort of—well, monotonous. It's fun so far, but it might bet tiresome."

• • •

Not two days later she was to recall her use of the words "monotonous" and "tiresome"—and wish to Heaven that she had been a more accurate prophet! But meanwhile they did enjoy the cruise to the utmost. Two hours after the passing of the big yacht, Kay announced that they were going into Key-Hole Pass. "We've hit it just right, according to Jim Pike. An hour later and the tide would be running too swift against us."

She reached for the control panel, set the engine up to its full revolutions and started through the narrow pass. Once, half way through, the engine coughed, seemed to stop dead. Kay Dearborn paled, for Jim Pike had warned that without power a small boat might be whirled back down through Key-Hole Pass like a chip—perhaps to be dashed on the rocky shore. But a second later the doughty motor was chugging merrily away again, and within a few minutes the "Chinook" had safely negotiated the pass. Kay thought it just as well not to inform Melita and Priscilla what could have happened. And she resolved never again to start on a cruise with such a slender knowledge of the things Jim Pike knew by second nature.

"Fairweather Cove ought to be about an hour from here," she told Melita. "That's where we'll spend the night. Jim Pike said it was a fine place to anchor."

"We sleep ashore?" asked Melita.

"We do not! We anchor the good ship, and roll gently to slumber in our bunks."

"That sounds better," said Melita. "Once I tried spending a night in a sleeping bag—and never again!"

Kay was immensely relieved when she saw the unmistakable landmarks of Fairweather Cove which Jim Pike had described to her. "It's a perfect anchorage," he had said. "Almost land-locked. It's popular with cruising yachts, but you're not likely to have company this early in the season." For the first time in her life Kay experienced that glorious feeling which every true boat lover knows — approaching a quiet berth at night after having brought the little ship over her course without mishap.

Suddenly she saw the narrow opening off to starboard, and from Pike's excellent description she knew, without consulting the chart, that this was her goal. She steered for the dead center of the entrance, as Jim Pike had advised. Just inside, she was startled to see another boat—the big white yacht which had given them its wake earlier in the day! Now she dozed at anchor with no sign of life aboard.

Drawing more water than the "Chinook," the yacht was anchored more in the center of the cove than Pike had advised for the "Chinook." Kay drew closer to shore, abeam of a grouping of evergreens. "There's where you'll find a good holding bottom for your ground tackle," Pike had said.

Priscilla, nose pressed to the window of the pilot house, made a sound of disgust. "There's that confounded boat that tossed us around this morning!"

"Well," Melita said, "you hoped we'd see them again. Now's your chance to give them a piece of your mind."

Kay turned from the wheel. "If you two can manage to stop the conversation for a moment, I'd like to have you put down the anchor."

"You know," said Melita, "you're probably the politest captain in the world." Dodging Kay's suddenly outstretched foot, she went forward.

Kay stopped the engine, but the little "Chinook" kept veering. Kay was forced to maneuver the boat into position again. "Are you sure you got that anchor down?" she asked Melita.

"Absolutely."

"It doesn't seem to be holding at all. I wonder—"

She was interrupted by a halloo from the side. All three girls looked from the pilot house. Standing in a small dinghy was a good-looking young man in a white sweater and ducks, obviously from the fancy yacht.

"Ahoy there, 'Chinook'," he called. "I see you're having a bit of trouble. Maybe I can help."

Kay slid the pilot house window down. "Thank you. The anchor doesn't seem to be holding."

The dark young man smiled. "I think I can explain that. I happened to see one of your crew let it go. And I noticed it's one of those new light-weight folding types. You see, the trouble is, you didn't unfold it before you tossed it over!"

Melita turned the color of a summer sunset.

"Just draw it up and unfold it," the young man advised. "Then let her down again and head the boat a little more into the wind. You'll be all right then."

"T-thanks," stammered Kay.

"Glad to be of help. Our boat is the 'Mistral.' We'd like to have you come aboard tomorrow for breakfast. Our cook makes the swellest flapjacks north of the Panama Canal."

"That's very nice of you," said Kay. "But we're pulling out at dawn tomorrow."

"Good cruising then." The young man resumed his seat in the dinghy and took up the oars. "We may meet again further north."

Leases On 500 Acres Are Filed Thursday

Conveyance of exploration rights on nearly 500 acres of land was recorded at the office of the county clerk Thursday when three oil and gas leases were filed.

The Sun Oil company of Dallas obtained rights on two quarter-sections and the Hunt Oil company of Tyler on a quarter-section.

The Sun Oil company obtained rights from H. M. Williams and wife on the northeast quarter of section 2, block RG, TT RR company survey, and J. A. Wood and wife on the southeast quarter of section 7, block RG, TT RR company survey.

The Hunt Oil company obtained rights on the northwest quarter of section 46, block A, certificate 403, abstract 1115, HE & WT RR company survey from R. C. Anderson and wife.

Specifically, the total amount of land on which rights were conveyed Thursday was 480 acres, according to figures released by Ed Allen, county clerk.

Improved Conditions Reported For Hospitals Of West Texas

"Economic conditions in hospitals are improved despite the effect of low prices in cotton, as far southwest as Monahans, southeast to Abilene and north to Pampa," said C. E. Hunt, superintendent of Lubbock sanitarium and president of Texas State Hospital association, on his return Wednesday night from his second official visit to hospitals throughout northern and southwestern Texas.

Although he inspected large hospitals in Wichita Falls and Abilene, the majority of hospitals visited were small, but modernly equipped with x-ray and other equipment.

Hunt examined an "iron lung" when it was on exhibit at the West Texas fair at Abilene. The lung will go into the Hendricks Memorial hospital there.

His first trip, made last week, took him southwest and southeast of Lubbock. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, he went north and east. Before his term as president of the association expires in April, he hopes to visit a large number of hospitals throughout the state, 50 of which he has inspected already.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

FRESH talk of a coalition between Republicans and Democrats for 1938 and 1940 has cropped out since President Roosevelt swept throught the West like a young Lochinvar in reverse. The G.O.P.-ers think they'll need outside help if F.D.R. is as popular as their own scouts report.

The inner circle of Republicans frowned on the idea when it was first suggested. So did the Democrats, who warned that the mere whisper of an alliance would strengthen the White House in Capitol Hill battles, especially the Supreme court controversy. New Deal reverses and the furore over the Black appointment broke up the courtship once more, because the Republicans figured that the president was losing his grip inside the outside congress, and they could win on their own.

Mr. Roosevelt's western strategy in the Northwest packs a distinct threat to both conservative factions, and they may have to organize to meet it. By his cash-and-carry appeal, and promise of a still more abundant life he may force die-hard Democrats out of their party (he won't need them), and tempt Republicans Progressives into it. Prime trouble toward effectuating a counter merger is that nobody dares to make the first overt move.

FARMER-LABOR: In outlining his immediate political program, John L. Lewis was extremely careful to say nothing about the flank attack which he is making on his enemies within the Democratic party.

He has his eye on the tenant farmers and share croppers of the South, who have voted in accord with tradition in the past—when they vote. The Lewis strategy is to enroll them in the C.I.O., and then build up a powerful political organization that will turn out of office southern conservatives who have fought him on and off Capitol Hill. With the exception of Justice Black, whose defense the C.I.O. leader praised, there are only a few Senators below the Mason and Dixon line he would endorse.

Two erstwhile key men in the A.A.A. are now handling labor policies, and using their knowledge to set up a rural machine for Lewis. Lee Pressman, former A.A.A. counsel, now legalizes for the C.I.O. Gardner Jackson, who headed the share croppers' movement after being "purged" out of the A.A.A., has lined up with Labor's Non-Partisan League. It's a start toward the Farmer-Labor party Mr. Lewis has been nursing the last few months.

THREAT: That record-breaking cotton crop highlights a phase of the Sino-Japanese conflict which isn't discussed in statemen's speeches or diplomatic notes, but underlies British and American anxiety over Tokio's ultimate aims on the mainland. It's fresh evidence that war's basic causes are economic.

Japan hasn't been able to grow cotton profitably in Manchukuo yet, though she may yet discover a brand which will flourish there. But if she conquers North China, she may soon shove both the United States and Britain out of the world cotton market. With cheap labor and Oriental standards of living she could undersell them anywhere. Worse still, finished goods—textiles—manufactured on a starvation-wage system would drive competitive products from stores in our own cities. They have already in some places.

The disturbance of world trade resulting from Nippon's conquest of the raw and finished markets might easily precipitate a permanent depression in the nations victimized. It would cause popular unrest, strain federal finances, promote unemployment. In the back of their heads the statesmen of two continents realize that Japan is not only seeking a place in the sun—she's trying to steal the sun.

ANSWERS: Presidential aides have formulated a few basic conclusions from their recent travels, and from confidential reports reach the White House from all sections of the country. F.D.R. has read them carefully, possibly as a guide for his congressional program. Here are the more significant:

(1) The president is far more popular than his policies. Though he makes mistakes, the people seem to think he always has their interest first.

(2) They disagree with many of his policies, dislike many of the personalities around him, but they don't hold him responsible for his actions or his appointments. The same sentiment prevailed last fall.

(3) Everybody wants federal economy—reduction of the national debt—balancing of the budget—lower taxes—but always at the expense of the other fellow. Farmers want urban relief cut down, and vice versa.

(4) With a few racial and geographical exceptions, the people seem more interested in whether Justice Black votes right on legislation benefiting them than in what he did back home fifteen years ago.

(5) They're deeply sympathetic toward the Chinese, bitter against the Japanese, and wish something could be done. But they're not willing to fight for or against anybody.

(6) No Republican or third-party figure has come along to catch their fancy. They're not interested in partisan politics. Too busy trying to make a living, and doing fairly well up to now. That's the big answer.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

PRESIDENT GEORGE H. DAVIS of the United States Chamber of Commerce paid an unadvertised visit to New York recently and talked off-the-record to groups of the nation's topflight industrialists.

His keynote was a sharp warning that unless big business got busy selling itself to the American public, regimentation would be likely to become more stringent rather than less. He pointed out that large corporations have allowed themselves to be placed on the defensive and are widely regarded as little better than racketeers who must be rigidly regulated in the public interest. He counselled an aggressive public relations campaign to get the idea across that corporate enterprise raises the standard of living and benefits all classes of the population.

His listeners agreed it was a splendid and timely idea, but there was a dearth of specific suggestions as to how to go about it.

CLUE: A leading automobile manufacturer tried recently to get substantial price con cessions on an order for steel on the basis that steel operations have slackened appreciably in the past few weeks. He shopped around among several steel companies and got absolutely nowhere. He was told emphatically that the steel price structure would be maintained.

New York analysts generally interpret this as an encouraging sign that the steel industry's morale has not been hurt by ahe recession. But wise observers remark that nothing is proved yet. If past experience means anything, a few more weeks of curtailed activity will weaken the resistance of some of the less prosperous steel makers. Holes in the price dike will appear here and there—and then the deluge.

Of course, if the steel people can keep their chins up until their customers have to buy, this won't happen. The outcome of this tug-of-war will give an important clue to winter price trends.

LAPSE: Jerry Mahoney was a spread-eagle New Dealer before the Democratic primaries in New York c mayoralty election. He hasn't mentioned the New Deal since he licked Doc Copeland.

Cynical observers wonder whether it's a lapse of memory or just plain cold feet.

Critics who rap WPA workers for leaning on their shovels apparently aren't always willing to call a spade a spade.

Again the machine age hits the workingman. A new precision device fine enough to split hairs will do the work of a dozen opposition senators.

Insurance Group Hears Douglas

Perhaps the most largely attended luncheon of life underwriters ever held on the South Plains paid tribute to O. D. Douglas of San Antonio, their state president, at Lubbock hotel here Thursday and applauded his statement that they must place service ahead of personal ambition if they are to achieve the maximum of success in their chosen profession.

They cheered also when he announced that present officers of the Texas association of Life Underwriters have completed arrangements to supply a speaker of outstanding prominence at intervals of once a month this winter to various local chapters, of which Lubbock has one. It was described by Chas. A. Whitacre, president of the Lubbock life underwriters as being the "most praise-worthy and most constructive program ever to be attempted by a state president of our association."

Winter's Schedule Given

The winter's schedule for Lubbock and South Plains underwriters was announced by Douglas as being: Nov. 17, Sam R. Hay, jr., of Houston, a "certified life underwriter," agent director for Great Southern Life, to speak on "Motivating Influences in the Interview"; Dec. 8, Homer G. Hewitt of Houston, C.L.U., state manager for Northwestern National of Minneapolis, to speak on, "Life Marches on"; and Jan. 13, Ross Priddy of Dallas, official of Gulf State Life, to speak on, "Slave or Master."

"All speakers," Douglas said, "are men who have achieved such success in their chosen work they can give their time and their money to the encouragement of others in the life underwriter's field." In the aggregate, he added, they will deliver 115 addresses to underwriters' groups in Texas.

Eight Towns Represented

In the luncheon audience Thursday were life underwriters from Littlefield, Floydada, Ralls, Anton, Lorenzo, Idalou and Brownfield as well as a large representation from Lubbock. Attendance at the luncheon was considerably in excess of expectations, with the result that table service dragged.

Douglas' address, sparkling with epigrams, was intended primarily to be inspirational to life underwriters, but in that regard, he constantly emphasized that the underwriter's personal achievements can be no more than in proportion to the service he gives his clients.

Must Give Service

"You can't succeed just by carrying a rate book," he said at one point. "You can't be a success without first thinking of the service you can render. You must not let pursuit of the dollar obscure your greater vision."

He warned further that the life underwriter can no more suggest the type of policy a client should have without investigating the particular needs of the individual than a physician can properly prescribe for a patient unless he has knowledge of the patient's illness.

Insisting that the life underwriter "has the right to see any man," the state president declared that "no investment stood up so well during the depression as did life insurance."

Out of town underwriters attending the luncheon were F. O. Boles of Littlefield; R. E. Fry of Floydada; M. G. Hardgrove, H. B. Little and Lester Bownds, of Ralls; C. J. Williams of Anton; Aubrey Ashley of Lorenzo; A. O. Hood of Idalou; and A. W. Turner of Brownfield.

Those present from Lubbock were Mrs. Lulu Morris, Mrs. O. P. Harlan, E. J. Ford, L. R. Cloninger, K. L. Riggs, Archie Copeland, S. S. Prichard, Howard A. Parks, E. Ray Smith, S. R. Steele, Lonnie Langston, J. B. Shannon, A. B. Mays, O. P. Harlan, Neil H. Wright, Rayford B. Hills, H. C. Stovall, C. C. Perryman, M. L. Waldrop, W. W. Carroll, S. A. Henry, sr., A. B. Slagle, R. L. Stovall, B. C. Dickinson, J. P. Newman, L. E. Hunt, Gradie W. Bownds and Whitacre, who was toastmaster.

Airplane Is Used By Attorney To Speed Filing Of Papers

There's an old adage known to flying men, which admonishes: "When the birds stay on the ground and walk humans should not fly."

But the low ceiling Wednesday did not discourage a flight cross-country from Lubbock to Dimmitt, where legal papers were picked up and taken to Olton for being recorded.

The entire flight required only three hours.

Client Breedlove, manager of Municipal airport, piloted the Taylor Craft plane which took Robert H. Bean, lawyer, to Dimmitt, where signature of the district judge was secured in connection with cases being appealed, and to Olton, where the papers were filed.

They avoided muddy roads, but encountered rain and fog. Ceiling ranged from 400 to 500 feet during the trip. Wind velocity was 18 mph., north. The plane left here at 2:20 o'clock.

Dean Gordon Speaks To Tech 'Y' Units

Dr. James M. Gordon, dean at Texas Technological college, in introducing his subject of "Student Self-Government for Tech Students" told members of the YMCA-YWCA Thursday night that "We learn to do by doing."

Students were offered self-government soon after founding of the institution, Dr. Gordon said, but after consideration of the responsibilities accompanying the privileges, rejected the offer. The administration does not propose to "ram it down their necks," but would consider student proposals, he said.

Dr. Gordon cautioned that students should not seek self-government unless all angles of the undertaking were considered carefully, but recommended that the attempt to practice self-government should be a very helpful method of achieving competence as self-governing citizens.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

NEW 2-YEAR LOW HIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Stocks crumbled under last-minute selling pressure in today's market and leading issues hit new 2-year lows with general losses running to 3 points. A few dropped 5 to 7 or so.

Offerings in steels and motors touched off the final hour's slide after most of the day had been spent in futile efforts to get the list started upward. For a while the ticker tape lagged behind floor dealings. Closing prices were around bottom levels of the session.

Brokers found little in the news to account for the fresh outburst on the downside and were inclined to attribute it partly to speculative disappointment over inability of the market to shake off its "thinness" and the lack of vigor in following through on rallying periods.

Much attention was paid to the speech of Chairman Aldrich of the Chase National bank of New York primarily blaming the recent securities relapse on undue federal regulation and restriction of the stock exchange rather than on business conditions or forced unloading, but the effect of the addressor trends was said to be debatable.

Dealings were quiet until the concluding lap when volume expanded sufficiently to lift transfers to 1,681,530 shares compared with 2,567,030 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .9 of a point at 49.2, a new low mark since Oct. 8, 1935.

Liquor Bill Passed

tion after Speaker Robert W. Calvert permitted introduction in deference to an opinion from the attorney general to the author that it came within Governor Allred's call because of the tax provision.

Speaker after speaker called the proposal a move to "re-establish the open saloon under the guise of helping the old people" since allocation of the revenue was to old age pensions.

Opponents charged "steam-roller" tactics and attempted "gagging" of speakers. Several hours were consumed in speeches on personal privilege while an attempt to cut off debate and stop amendment was pending. A filibuster, designed to halt passage until the bill could be amended, came to an end when Rep. Bob Alexander of Childress backed down on his efforts to hurry a final vote.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Cotton felt heavy profit taking today and together with hedge selling the offerings proved sufficient to register net losses of from 11 to 19 points. The closing tone was steady.

Aside from a desire to realize on recent purchases there was nothing in the news to stimulate selling. On the other hand various bullish developments failed to engender much buying support.

Weather conditions in large portions of the growing region were far from favorable.

Trading was moderate but was limited to professional activities. Speculative interests continued to remain out of the market pending more details on future crop control plans.

Prices were on the downgrade throughout most of the session with only inconsequential rallies on trade buying and covering. Last prices were near the bottom.

Oct. finished at 8.35, Dec. at 8.33, Jan. at 8.21, March at 8.24@8.24, May at 8.25@8.26, July at 8.28, and Oct. (new) at 8.41. Spots were steady and middling declined 15 points to 8.33 on sales of 12,546 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Cotton reacted today under liquidation and profit realizing attracted by the recent rally of about $4 a bale. December eased from 8.33 @8.23, and closed at 8.25, with final prices 14 to 20 points net lower.

The market opened 7 to 12 points lower in response to the action of foreign markets and under an overnight accumulation of hedge selling. However, there was enough commission house, Wall Street and trade buying to impart a fairly steady undertone. Prices sagged slowly under scattered liquidation and foreign selling. Although hedging was light most of the day, Southern offerings increased moderately toward the close when easiness of the stock market brought in other selling. Last prices were within 1 or 2 points of the lows.

Domestic consumption of 601,837 bales during September, as reported by the census bureau, was above expectations. A better demand was reported for cotton goods but higher mill asking prices tended to check business.

Exports today 35,901 making a total of 1,152,216 for the season thus far. Port receipts 41,855. U. S. port stocks 2,938,660.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at 10 southern spot markets today was 8.23 cents a pound; for the past 30 market days, 8.39 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—For the most part, lower wheat prices became the rule at the last today after the market had registered a zigzag course 1½ cents upward.

Late selling to realize profits was a feature of wheat operations, with considerable notice being taken of unsettled conditions pointing to likelihood of beneficial rains in dry areas of domestic winter crop territory southwest. The preceding advances of wheat values were largely based on estimates that during four successive days the export buying of United States hard winter wheat has averaged daily 1,000,000 bushels or more.

Today's export purchases of North American wheat totaled well upward of 1,250,000 bushels, with some estimates as high as 2,000,000 bushels, half from the United States and half from Canada.

At the close: Chicago wheat futures were varying from 1¼ cents decline to ¼ cent advance, Dec. 97¾@98, May 98¾@98¾, July 92½@92½, corn ¼ to ⅜ down, Dec. 58¼@58⅜, May 59⅜@59½, July 60, oats ⅛ to ½ up, Dec. 29½, and rye showing ¼ to ⅜ gain, Dec. 73. Provisions results ranged from 2 cents setback to 17 cents bulge.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14. (AP)—Demand was good for wheat and fair for other light offerings on the cash grain market today.

Estimated receipts were 20 cars wheat, 2 corn, 5 oats, 1 barley and 1 sorghums.

Freight paid to Texas Gulf ports, domestic rate, or Texas common points.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.12@1.13, No. 1 hard 1.13½@1.15.

Rodeo Is Delayed

Combined with the fair are the Silver State shows and a rodeo. The rodeo was scheduled to begin Thursday, but was delayed until Friday because of the muddy grounds. It will last through Sunday. Contestants from as far away as Cheyene, Wyo., will thrill crowds during the three days.

The first big event in Levelland was held Aug. 6, 1925 and celebrated the completion of the Santa Fe into town, which at that time consisted of about 30 wooden shacks. This was duplicated the following year. Ranch owners donated beeves for an immense barbecue that fed thousands who traveled from great distances to see the new "land of promise." The first attempt at a fair was held in September, 1927, and the exhibits were housed in an unfinished store building. The fair was continued until the depression. It opens again this year for the first time since the "lean years," and is hailed by Hockley county citizens as an evidence of returning prosperity.

Decorations Are Up

Levelland streets are wearing bright colors for the remainder of the week. The county board of development furnished the decorations free of charge.

Other judges besides Jones are Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent from College Station who will judge all women's exhibits; and W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, who will place livestock entries.

Lubbock Men Pay Visit

Several Lubbock business men paid a good-will visit here Thursday afternoon. Among those representing the chamber of commerce were: Ray Farmer, manager of the City Bus company; Clayton Gammill, manager of Goodrich-Silverton store; John Crawford, owner Crawford Food market; R. (Dick) Shinkle of the chamber of commerce staff; and a reporter for the Avalanche-Journal publications.

Congressman George Mahon, who was invited for the opening day, will speak Friday. He also will contact farmers of this area relative to proposed agricultural legislation.

Other features will include bicycle races for Hockley county residents; tumblers, and greased pole and greased pig stunts.

Fair grounds are at the park near the new football stadium. A new building houses exhibits.

City Prepares For Litigation

Bramlett of Lynn county was presented asking damages of $147 for a 1929 Nash automobile which, he said, was wrecked when it plunged from the road into a city-owned caliche pit near the fairgrounds last Oct. 2. His claim, presented by Attorney W. H. Evans, said that Bramlett escaped injury but that the automobile was damaged so badly that it was sold as junk for $7.

Commissioners were informed that the mayor and city manager had investigated the accident and did not believe the claim had merit.

Ready To Go To Bat

A few minutes later the commissioners heard proposition relative to the opening of Nineteenth street, and this time it was Commissioner Richardson who spoke up.

"I'm ready to go to bat in this matter, also," he announced. And once more the commission was in unanimous agreement.

This action was taken after G. E. Lockhart, Lubbock attorney, had proposed in a letter to sell to the city for $15,000 the property which would permit the opening of the street.

Dates Back To City's Founding

The controversy, as explained by city officials, traces back to the day Lubbock was born. Nineteenth street formed the southern boundary of the original townsite, but for some reason lost in antiquity, the property line extended exactly to the south boundary line of the townsite. Then, also for reasons unknown, when city limits were extended, no provision seems to have been made for a street between the original townsite and the additional immediately adjoining it.

However, a street was established along most of the boundary which became Nineteenth and which now comes to a dead end at Texas avenue. Lockhart holds title to the property between Texas and Avenue H which is the prolongation of Nineteenth. Upon that land are two small residences, two warehouses and other lesser structural property. It is for that property that negotiations have been carried on from time to time and which has been the cause of numerous minor controversies.

First Offer Is Withdrawn

Several weeks ago, city officials said, Lockhart submitted an offer to sell the property to the city for $10,000, including the removal of structures, but that offer was withdrawn by him.

Thursday the letter from Lockhart submitted another offer. The letter related that on the basis of income from the property it is worth $25,000. But, he said, he will be willing to accept $15,000. He will also be willing, the letter further continued, to accept in payment 6 per cent city warrants payable in $1,000 installments over a period of 15 years.

Obvious irritation of the commission was in no wise soothed when Lockhart was quoted as having remarked that "if the present city commission doesn't buy, some future commission will have to." That was when Richardson made his remark about "going to bat."

Follows Up With Motion

Richardson followed up his remark by offering the motion that the city attorney be instructed to bring condemnation proceedings to open the street unless some other satisfactory adjustment of the matter can be made.

On the matter of parking meters, the commission directed that they be bought from the Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City at $58 each on the same terms as the 315 devices now in operation. Those terms provide they are to be paid for out of 85 per cent of the revenue they bring in, and that they may be removed without obligation if, after a trial period ending next Nov. 26, the people of Lubbock do not want them.

To Abide By Agreement

The mayor and Commissioner recalled during the discussion a "gentleman's agreement" among commissioners that an election is to be held at the end of the trial period if there is any doubt as to the attitude of Lubbock citizenship toward retention of the devices. They remarked that they intended to abide by that agreement.

Dual Parking company's automatic meters were decided upon when none of the devices submitted by several other concerns was of the automatic type. Prices of some which would require hand cranking by the parking motorist were even higher than those of automatic type with which Lubbock residents have become familiar.

Purchase Pipe For Park

Another matter which occasioned much discussion among commissioners resulted in the decision to purchase approximately 12,000 feet of six-inch and two-inch water pipe to be loaned to Mackenzie park and to be used in an irrigation project in connection with the development of 60 acres of forest adjoining present picnic grounds.

K. N. Clapp, chairman of the city parks board, urged the purchase at a cost of approximately $4,500, explaining that the loan of the pipe and an additional city appropriation of $979 will make possible the securing of $5,200 worth of CCC labor to be used in the forestry project. The 3,500 trees to be planted, Clapp said, should be sufficiently rooted within two years to require no further irrigation and to permit the return of the pipe to the city for other uses.

Mayor Votes No

Mayor Edwards voted a positive "no" on the proposition, and Richardson did not vote. He explained afterward, however, he was opposed to the outlay.

Also in connection with parks, the commission appointed O. W. Ribble to membership on the parks board as successor to C. E. Russell, who removed recently from the city.

Richardson voted against the proposal to buy the Temple Trust company tract, contending the commission was authorizing expenditures without knowing from whence the money would come.

Signs To Be Replaced

A motion by Commissioner Price that stop signs replace "slow" and "danger" signs on Avenue Q at Main, Broadway, Sixteenth street and Nineteenth street intersections was approved unanimously.

Bids on construction of a 43 by 78 foot masonry building to house a Diesel engine to be installed at the electric power plant within the next few months were opend, but action was deferred until the commission meeting two weeks hence. Bidders and bids were: Virgil Shell, $12,440; Robert S. Maxey, $12,673; W. S. Moss, $12,736; Louis Gosdin, $13,446; Jess Williams, $12,675; and J. B. Maxey, $12,591. The delay, commissioners pointed out, will give opportunity to determine whether the city can build the structure more cheaply than proposed by bidders. McMillan, himself a construction engineer, expressed doubt however as to whether that could be done at a worthwhile saving.

offer, drafted by Vice-President Matthew Woll, said the AFOL was willing to expand its committee, it found fault with the number suggested.

"We cannot believe the suggestion for a committee of 100 representatives on each side, making up a conference of 200, can serve any useful or practical purpose," it said.

"We prefer to regard the proposal for a conference of 200 rather as an initial method of approach on the part of the Committee for Industrial Organization."

With Green's reelection and the selection of Houston, Tex., for next year's convention, the only remaining business was a few minor committee reports. Leaders expected final adjournment after tomorrow morning's session.

Octogenarians Of Hale Feted

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

HALE CENTER, Oct. 14. — Hale Center Thursday paid a fitting tribute to old age—to the men and women who have passed the biblical "three score years and ten," by a decade or two and who are now sitting back in their closing years to let the younger and more active people carry on the business of the day.

It was the eighth annual dinner for the octogenarians of Hale county, and there were eight guests of the occasion who thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Expressions of appreciation were heard on every hand for Dr. Smith J. Underwood, orginator of the program, and the business men of the town, for their thoughtfulness in remembering the elders.

As has been the custom, the banquet was held in the Methodist church, with the ladies serving.

R. W. (Uncle Bob) Lemond, who was to have given the invocation, was unable because of the weather, to come. Instead, he wrote out his thoughts and they were read by Rev. W. R. Burnett, pastor. Knowing Uncle Bob, his many friends could almost see him as he would stand reverently for the invocation. The meal was served in the dining room to some 46 people. Places were prepared for 83, that number having planned to attend.

Program Is Held

Adjourning to the auditorium, Dr. Underwood presided over the session. He spoke briefly on the affair and its objectives before presenting the speakers of the occasion.

Reverend Burnett said he would take for his text, Proverbs 16:31. He pointed out that the honored guests had "outstripped the three score years and ten of the Psalmist." Two things about the old folks of today were outstanding, he pointed out. First, "you have inherited from your forebears a strong constitution" and, second, "you have lived well yourselves," not having "wasted in dissipation your early years."

There is today, he added, a "distinct move for more mature judgment," a calling on the part of the public for the use of men and women with years of ripe experience. Their strength, he added, "is the strength of God," and not that of mere man.

Tells Of Experiences

R. B. C. Howell, Plainview, just passed 80 years, told of his 48 years residence on the Plains. He had recently been in El Paso, he said.

Another old timer who spoke was Mrs. Nancy (Mother) Taylor, 87, who declared she "enjoyed these occasions" very much. "There is happiness in old age," she added.

Here for the first time, having passed her 80th birthday anniversary, Mrs. Mary Babb, said she "certainly enjoyed the occasion."

From Plainview, W. F. Elkins, 90, spoke several times. He gave a brief sermon at first, then recalled boyhood experiences as others spoke. His father, he said, was a "tune hister" or song leader in the Methodist church when he was a boy.

Col. T. J. Tilson, Plainview, compared boyhood occurances and customs with those of today. "We sometimes like to revert back to old times and our childhood days," he said, to compare them with today. He gave a brief account of agricultural methods of half a century ago.

Former mayor of Hale Center, N. M. Akeson said he had eight years to go before he would be eligible to join the group. He gave an interesting account of a building which "Uncle" Frank Lester, the first justice of the peace, had built in about 1891 and which was later used as a school house by early day school districts south of town. The building was thus used until about 1920.

Others Speak Briefly

Others who spoke briefly included: T. R. Gault, who must wait two years more before he is eligible; Mrs. Tom Mounts, Mrs. S. J. Underwood, Mrs. M. E. Ross, Dudley Wardlow and Mrs. Lizzie Luttrell. The latter, a school teacher for 33 years, related several interesting personal observations.

With Miss Lela Wilhite, music teacher, at the piano and playing a familiar hymn, ladies of the church held a memorial service for those of the group who had died since the program given a year ago. The women, as they passed a basket in front of the pulpit, placed a flower in it in memory of one of the group.

Those thus honored were: J. W. Sears, 84; Mrs. S. E. Sears, 91; T. A. Weddington, 84; Mrs. J. W. Neeley, 90; Mrs. Eliza Norfleet, 91; J. R. (Uncle Jim) Ritchey, 90; R. G. Brownd, 88; Captain J. A. Wheeler, 90; G. D. Allen, Mrs. Walls, 91; R. W. Babb, 82; W. M. Mullican, 82.

Besides those who spoke, S. S. Howard, 83, and J. M. Caudle, 82, were present.

Following the speaking a song service was held, with old time favorite hymns being used.

Army's Drive Is Moving Slowly

Partial reports from the Salvation Army's drive for $4,000 operating funds late Thursday showed that $319.50 had been collected, said officials of the campaign.

That amount was collected from divisions 1, 5, 7, and by the employes' committee. Dr. M. M. Ewing is major of division 1, B. C. Dickinson, division 5; and Ed Wilson, division 7.

The drive began Wednesday morning and will continue several days, said Captain John G. Churchill, commander of the Salvation Army corps here.

Object of the campaign is $4,000 to be paid by contributors in monthly sums of $1 each, Capt. Churchill said.

C. A. Sanford, in charge of the campaign, said prospects would be contacted as soon as possible so that the drive may be closed within a few days.

Mass Meeting On New Hotel For Plains Is Postponed

PLAINS, Oct. 14. (Special)—The mass meeting to discuss needs for immediate provisions of hotel facilities and for an adequate water supply to fight future fires has been postponed until Saturday night because of the bad weather said Durwood McGinty, president of the chamber of commerce.

Following the destruction of the Long hotel early Tuesday which left the town without hotel facilities of any kind, the call for the meeting was issued. Oil field workers on leases and surveys near Plains have been forced to seek accommodations in other nearby towns.

Nothing definite can be announced now said McGinty, although he predicted that plans will be completed at an "early date" for construction of a 40-room hotel, first floor of which will be partitioned into business spaces. It will occupy a site at the southwest corner of the square.

Arthur C. Derrick, 50, Dies At Idalou Thursday Afternoon

IDALOU, Oct. 14. (Special)—Arthur C. Derrick, 50, died here at the home of a brother-in-law, J. M. Caddell, at 2:10 o'clock this afternoon after an illness of several weeks.

Burial will be in Windhill cemetery near Jacksboro at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, said Sanders Funeral home at Lubbock who had charge of the body.

Derrick had been living here about two months.

He is survived by two sons, Cecil Derrick of Houston and Loal Derrick of Bryson; a grandson; two sisters, Mrs. J. N. Hampton, of Bellevue and Miss Lena Derrick of Jacksboro; and three brothers, W. C. Derrick of Peppin, W. L. Derrick of Jacksboro and H. J. Derrick of Clarendon.

Less Cotton Consumed In U. S. During September; More Is On Public Storage

Exports More; Imports Less

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. — The census bureau reported today that cotton consumed during September totaled 601,837 bales of lint and 73,700 of linters, compared with 604,380 and 72,215 in August this year, and 629,767 and 68,799 in September last year.

Cotton on hand September 30 was reported held as follows:

In cohsuming establishments 991,224 bales of lint and 170,005 of linters, compared with 960,899 and 199,121 on August 31 this year, and 848,431 on Sept. 30 last year.

More In Storage

In public storage and at compresses 6,926,365 bales of lint and 52,396 of linters, compared with 3,504,127 and 47,387 on Aug. 31 this year, and 6,652,334 and 31,706 on Sept. 30 last year.

Imports for September totaled 5,042 bales, compared with 8,458 in August this year, and 9,142 in September last year.

Exports for September totaled 617,444 bales of lint and 12,597 of linters, compared with 220,415 in August this year, and 569,624 and 12,801 in September last year.

More Water Is Used During September

Approximately 10,000,000 more gallons of water were used in Lubbock in September than were used September a year ago. Increase was reported Thursday morning by City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., to City Auditor D. D. Martin.

The total, however, was approximately 31,500,000 below the gallonage for August, and was 42,900,000 below that for July, peak month of 1937.

Gallonage for September, according to the report, was 59,769,000, as compared with 49,771,000 in September, 1936, 91,082,000 last August and 102,567,000 last July.

Average daily consumption last month was 1,923,000 gallons, with a maximum of 3,167,000 on Sept. 4 and a minimum of 1,405,000 on Sept. 19.

Increase, said the city officials, was due almost wholly to growth of Lubbock, as weather conditions of the past month were almost identical with those of September, 1936. Rainfall was heavy during both.

October's Building Permits Moving Toward New Record

October's building permit total continued its pace toward a new monthly record when a permit authorizing construction of a residence estimated to cost $3,000 was issued Thursday.

The month's figure climbed to $83,011.50 and the year's to $1,080,905. This year's aggregate now is within $8,000 of the figure for the whole of last year and is expected to surpass it, possibly this week, authorities said.

Thursday's permit went to A. L. Woodfin, owner, and G. H. Hughett, contractor, to construct a one-story residence at 2415 Twenty-first street, $3,000.

There are over 37,000,000 people in the world's Sunday schools.

County Clerk's Office Serves As Bureau Of Information; Countless Inquiries Answered

Their wedding day might have been an important event to them, but recently a Lubbock couple got into an argument about the date—and called the county clerk's office to find out. The county clerk, Ed D. Allen, told them.

That is one of the things he is supposed to know. The whole office force is supposed to know such things as "who owns the lot with the old vacant house on it—out at the end of Third street," "when the duck season opens," "if a person still has to wait three days to get married," and "the year in which Lubbock county was organized."

Wanted License Refund

Women want to know if they have to give their correct age when they get a marriage license, one wanted to get a refund on the license because she was ready for a divorce, and scads of persons tell the clerks confidentially they will purchase the license from them if they will keep it out of the papers.

Mr. Average Citizen wants to know how much it costs to record a deed. To the office force this is like asking how much it costs to buy a house, because the cost depends upon the length of the document.

Other Inquiries Made

A widow wanted to know her second husband's middle initial, and others call the county clerk's office to know the name of the sheriff of a certain county, the number of votes a candidate got in on election, when the next term of court begins, who the first county judge of Lubbock was, when the city swimming pool will close (or open) and where Tech will play football next.

Louie F. Moore, deputy county clerk, said a Lubbock man called the county clerk's office to know if that was the place to file a consumed name certificate (meaning assumed name or partnership trade name), and dozens of persons ask if the office has a conversion table. It has a conversion table. It is pasted on the door of the vault and is nothing more than a table which gives equivalents of acres in square feet and other such measurements.

Crowded Conditions At College; Chorus Is Meeting In Church

New note on crowded conditions at Texas Technological college:

Students in chorus, 167 strong, because of no available classroom, have rented the College Avenue Baptist church for their meetings each Monday night.

There has been an increase of 355 per cent since 1934-35 in chorus, which carries a credit value of one semester hour and is taught by Julien Paul Blitz, head of the music department.

Years Of Suffering Are Entirely Ended

Gly-Cas Changed His Life From One Of Suffering To That Of Good And Glorious Health; Thought He Would Surely Die

"I cannot make too strong my praising statement of Gly-Cas," said Mr. Albert Hinson, 1003 Adams Street, Amarillo, Texas. "For eight years I was in a miserable condition, my stomach simply refused to function properly regardless of what I did. I endured terrible gas pains, bloated and had such attacks of indigestion I could hardly stand it. Often I would have to lie down for five and six hours at a time for months and actually thought I would surely die for I knew I could not continue in my condition. I had seven medicines in my house at the time I began this new Gly-Cas but it was not long in proving to me how different it was from the ordinary medicine."

MR. ALBERT HINSON

"Why in a short time after I began this new Gly-Cas I started back to work," continued Mr. Hinson. "I began to eat and enjoy my meals and never being bothered with gas, bloating or indigestion like I was, I now sleep good the entire night through, my nerves are quieted and I feel like a new person. Everyone should know of such a remarkable remedy as Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Advertising For Texas Planned

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 14.—Chambers of commerce and civic club representatives have discussed a $5,000,000 advertising campaign for Texas.

Spokesmen said they attended as individuals and would explain the proposed plan, to be financed by voluntary subscriptions, to their respective governing bodies for possible ratification.

The tentative plan contemplated yearly subscriptions by all cities ranging from $100,000 for metropolitan centers to a minimum of $250 for small communities. San Angelo, Tyler, Laredo and towns of similar size would be asked for $3,000.

Amarillo Entertainer Invited To Make Screen Test On Coast

A major Hollywood motion picture company has invited Cecil Hunter, young Amarillo comedian and singer, to have a screen test made, Joe Bryant said. Hunter's last appearance here was Tuesday night at the Fashion revue, in connection with the market week observance.

Bryant, a former manager and employe of radio stations in West Texas and New Mexico, was connected with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Panhandle-South Plains Fair association until his resignation last week to become manager of the radio and appliance department of Sanders Tire company. His and Hunter's association began when one was manager and the other program director and featured entertainer of the Pampa radio station.

Hunter's entertainment repertoire is extensive, ranging from simple clowning and imitations to operatic roles for which he studied more than a year in a New York conservatory before a financial crisis caused his return to Amarillo.

Date for the screen test, Bryant was advised, will be made to conform as far as possible for Hunter's present bookings which cover a period of several weeks.

Financial Report Of Fair Nearly Ready

Officials of the Panhandle-South Plains fair said Thursday the financial report on the recent fair probably will be ready for submission to the board of directors by the latter part of next week.

Completion of the report has been delayed, it was explained, because chamber of commerce workers who prepare it have been occupied during the last several days with the annual market week and fashion show which closed Wednesday. An audit will follow the submission of the preliminary statement to directors.

While officials said that no exact estimates can yet be made, the statement is certain to reveal a profit. Any such margin, officials added, must be applied on improvements for future fairs, nature of which must be decided by the board.

WPA Office To Lose Employes

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14. — State Public Works administration officials have disclosed here thirty-six employers would be taken from the federal payroll effective Nov. 1, when Fort Worth becomes seven-state southwestern regional headquarters in a nationwide economy curtailment.

C. A. Johnson, whose telegram from Washington contained the news, would not be retained as acting state director of the PWA, a post he has held in the Texas office here since resignation of Julian Montgomery last summer.

To Retain Only 18

Only 18 employes in Johnson's office were to be retained.

Among those slated to go were Walter Koons, chief counsel for the state, but Koons accrued leave keeps him with PWA until January 10, and there was reported a possibility he might remain in some capacity.

G. C. Street, jr., chief engineer inspector for PWA, was to be retained with four others of his office force which was cut from 13 to five. Harland Mayes, head of the state finance division, was to be retained.

There was no indication given who would head the regional office for Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado, New Mexico and Kansas.

Oklahoma Office Of WPA Is Closed Wednesday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Public Works administration closed out its Oklahoma office Wednesday, ordering 12 employes transferred to the new regional office at Fort Worth, and dismissed five others, George Huey, state director, said.

Coin From Japan Is Found In Bale Of Rags; Had Long Trip

In the pocket of an old pair of pants shipped from the Land of the Rising Sun to the Texas Technological college Toreador office was a little Japanese silver soin worth about five cents on which were the statements: "The Country of the Rising Sun," "Strong Country," and "Sum Two Times Ten."

Floyd Raymond, the Tech student press employe, who found the coin said that the trousers were in a bale of rags shipped to the Toreador office from a Philadelphia broker, who in turn had received the consignment from Japan.

From Tokyo through Japan sea, around the Peninsula of Burma; across the monsoonial Indian ocean, up the coast of arid Arabia, through the Suez Canal, out of the Red Sea into the Mediterranean, through the Strait of Gibraltar and across the Atlantic to New York City, to the "city of brotherly love," and then to Lubbock came the battered and value-lessened silver piece to make its home in Texas—after an 8,000-mile journey.

A person is said to have died intestate when he leaves no will and an administrators is appointed for his estate.

Judge J. J. Dillard Has Last Laugh As 'Joke' Of Press Convention Comes True; Article In Farm And Ranch Praises South Plains

BY MARY BETH CLARK

Back in 1905, at a press convention at Hereford, an elongated young man took the floor and stirred gales of laughter at his references to Lubbock as the future metropolis of the great surrounding area.

Lubbock, at that time did not even have a railroad!

One of those who enjoyed the "joke" most was T. C. Richardson, then editor of a Shamrock newspaper.

He found in the speech slightly more than one would in the ordinary chamber of commerce or Rotary club approach to boosting one's own home town, except that admittedly the address was a "stem-winder."

Richardson Turns About Face

In the current issue of Farm and Ranch, however, Richardson, now an associate editor of the publication, turns about face and, in the best display offered by the magazine, refers to Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains, as having borne out prophecy of the lanky one, who now is County Judge J. J. Dillard. The article, spread over a two-page display section, is profusely illustrated.

Judge Dillard is entitled to his laugh, since the development of Lubbock is proof enough to verify the truth in his prediction and the misjudgement of these men attending the press association meeting at Hereford 32 years ago.

Population Growth Cited

In 1880 the town in the prairies of the Llano Estacado, or stockaded plain, was "townless" with the exception of a few postoffices, and even 20 years later the population of the 15 counties totaled only 6,746. In 1935 the population of these same counties amounted to more than 170,000, $75,000,000 taxable valuation, and a retail business of $33,335,000 was done, making $196 the average for every occupant in these counties, which signifies their high standard of living.

Following the buffalo hunter, trailed the cattleman who found an abundance of grassy country and plenty of water; later he started raising small crops of corn, sweet sorghum, millet for forage, and finally he experimented with cotton, for which the plains is now noted. This steady rise of crops and the new discoveries of the valuable soil advantages were open to men with "stickability" and "workability." Farmers were attracted from countless regions, and soon the South Plains had begun its extensive campaign of progress.

Towns Sprang Up

Small villages began to grow, and other towns sprang up in every direction—Crosbyton, Brownfield, Lamesa, Amherst, Littlefield, Slaton, Ralls, Muleshoe, Floydada, Tahoka, Lockney, Morton, Levelland, Bledsoe, and others. Everything about these hard-working, conscientious people spelled "progress."

Later, in 1925, Texas Technological college was located in Lubbock, adding culture, beauty and prestige to the area. Also Lubbock became the wholesale center of these growing counties, the headquarters for the Texas-New Mexico utilities, the WPA district No. 17, and location for the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

Richardson's article says "Eight railroad outlets, seven state and eight U. S. highway routes, give Lubbock every right to call herself the 'Hub of the South Plains'."

Lubbock is the third largest inland cotton market in the world. When Coronado, the first explorer in this part of Texas according to written record, searched Texas hopelessly for gold in 1541 and returned to Mexico disappointed beyond words, he left a valuable treasure to be discovered by aggressive South Plains farmers.

R. W. Pittman Erecting Building In Seminole; To Be Two Stories

SEMINOLE, Oct. 14. (Special) — R. W. Pittman, former county judge has begun construction of a two-story stucco business building near the intersection of highway 84 and 15 at the courthouse. His location is a lot north of the corner lot.

The building will be 24 by 60 feet, divided into one room 12 by 60, one 12 by 40 and one 12 by 20. The latter will have an opening on the south facing highway 15.

On the second floor will be six rooms, four, 10 by 18 feet and two 12 by 15 feet, with a 5-foot hallway connecting. There will be two stairways, in the northeast corner and on the back of the west end of the building. The owner plans to use one of the offices for his brokerage business.

'Mystery Man' Being Groomed For Presidency Of Ireland

DUBLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Enigmatic President Eamon de Valera has indicated that he was grooming a "mystery man" to run for president of the new state of Eire, which is to be set up under the constitution adopted by the Irish Free State last July.

The New York born president, who disclaims any attempt to assume dictatorial powers through the constitution, apparently will not offer himself as a candidate for the presidency of the new state.

Oil From Wasson Area Expected To Be In Pipe Line This Week

(By Staff Correspondent)

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 14. — The Humble 6-inch pipe line from the Hobbs field has headed the Wasson area west of here in Gaines county and connections were being made with gathering lines there.

It was expected oil would be run into the line this week, probably Wednesday of Thursday, if connections were completed. Reports that oil was run into the line Tuesday were not confirmed.

More Seed This Year Crushed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. — The census bureau reported today that cottonseed crushed in the two-month period, Aug 1 to Sept. 30, totaled 972,619 tons, compared with 697,289 tons in the corresponding period of a year ago.

Cottonseed on hand at mills Sept. 30 totaled 988,590 tons, compared with 834,834 a year ago.

Cottonseed products manufactured in the two-month period and on hand Sept. 30 were:

More Oil Produced

Crude oil produced, 282,117,467 pounds, compared with 206,643,382 in the corresponding period a year ago, and on hand, 108,070,190 pounds, compared with 93,181,542 a year ago.

Refined oil produced, 155,426,596 pounds, compared with 115,716,820, and on hand, 311,861,656 pounds, compared with 228,451,108.

Cake and meal produced 422,938 tons, compared with 311,173, and on hand 103,397 tons, compared with 125,212.

More Hulls On Hand

Hulls produced 258,175 tons, compared with 181,125, and on hand 96,389 tons, compared with 70,347.

Linters produced 217,610 running bales, compared with 164,214, and on hand 168,954 running bales, compared with 98,450.

Imports of cottonseed oil during September included 5,534,132 pounds of refined "entered directly for consumption," 2,616,302 pounds of refined "withdrawn from warehouse for consumption," and 2,687,590 pounds of refined "entered directly into warehouse."

Court Rules Officers Are Not Accomplices In Liquor Case

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals in affirming a $350 fine assessed T. E. Stevens of Brownwood for violation of the liquor law has held in effect officers who purchase liquor in making a case against the seller are not accomplices when used as witnesses.

Stevens appealed because the trial court did not submit the issue whether officers were accomplices and the high tribunal held the lower court was correct in its ruling.

BLOATED UP BY LOADS OF GAS

Kidneys Sluggish; But Now Van-Tage Has Given Her Real Relief.

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are praising and endorsing Van-Tage, the "Amazing New Medicine," now being introduced in Lubbock. Just a few days ago Mrs. Gladys Hardison, of 1641 E. Monroe St., Phoenix, Ariz., made the following statement:

Mrs. Hardison

"For many years," says Mrs. Hardison, "my kidneys were sluggish and my digestion was terribly upset from loads of gas that bloated me up. It was bad enough for me to be in this ailing condition, but on top of that I had to take care of my 3 small children. I heard and read so much about Van-Tage that I decided to try it and, after taking 2 bottles I can safely say I have been relieved and I feel all right once again. Now I am able to care for my family and to do my work easily and without suffering as I used to. I shall never be able to tell the world how much I owe to Van-Tage."

VAN-TAGE contains 21 Great Herbs and nearly a dozen other Splendid Ingredients which help cleanse bowels, bring forth gas from stomach and invigorate kidney action so that people say they feel different IN GENERAL. Van-Tage is reasonable in price, so don't hesitate. Get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. —Adv.

TARZAN'S QUEST, No. 83 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Quick as a cat, and with surprisng strength, Annette tore herself from Prince Sborov's grip. "Help, Tibbs!" she screamed. Tibbs had not gone far, and now he came running. "If you tell on me," Sborov whispered, "I'll kill you—as I killed her!"

Annette gazed into his cold eyes, as Jane had, and she was frightened. "What's wrong?" Tibbs demanded as he came near them. "Why—er—nothing," Alexis laughed. "Annette thought she saw a snake." "I did see a snake," the girl added meaningly.

At that moment, Brown came racing out of the forest. "What's going on?" he cried excitedly. "I heard someone scream. Was that you, Annette?" "She saw a snake," Prince Sborov declared, with a shrug. "Where is it?" the aviator demanded. "Did you kill it?"

"I had nothing to kill it with," the girl replied. "But if it frightens me again, you will kill it." "You bet I will, girlie. Where is it now?" "It got away," said Alexis. Annette looked into the prince's eyes and said: "Next time it will not get away!"

Gloomy Picture Painted By Economist

Depression Said Enveloping U, S,

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—The United States is entering a depression period of undeterminable magnitude, Joe Pogue, a New York banker and economist, told delegates at the Interstate Oil Compact commission today.

The commission, inaugurated in 1935 and with six states as members, met with Col. E. O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, presiding. The six member states—Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Illinois and Colorado—were represented as were the following non-member states: Louisiana, Georgia, Wyoming, Arkansas and Pennsylvania.

Marland Is Attending

Ore Governor E. W. Marland of Oklahoma who was scheduled to address the group was present.

Pogue said the economic picture of this nation now points to "a depression of undeterminable magnitude."

"It will be perhaps moderate," he said, and he predicted the national business average, calculated from the statistical trend, will be not more than 10 per cent lower in 1938 than for the 1937 average.

Conditions in the business world are "cloudy," Pogue said. "Heavy commodities are feeling the decline."

This economic outlook he explained, should influence oil producers in production analysis for the coming year. Production in 1938 by the oil industry, he advised, should be at a lower figure than for the current year.

Supreme Court May Rule On Validity Of Foreclosure Act

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Constitutionality of foreclosure sales postponed by legislative act from February 6 to the first Tuesday of March 1934 may be determined by the Supreme court.

The tribunal has agreed to review a case in which J. H. Shafner attacked validity of the sale of 35 acres belonging to him in Cass county. He maintained the legislature's attempted postponement of sales through the moratorium act was unconstitutional.

The Webster Brick line of Dennison was unsuccessful in its effort to obtain a mandamus forcing the state commission to permit its operation between Nocona and Wichita Falls.

The court granted a motion to advance a case involving legal consideration of the nature of a bank as the debenture as a bank obligation. The Reconstruction Finance corporation and state bank commissioner were opposing parties in the suit.

Condition Of Injured Man Is Reported As 'Satisfactory'

Condition of W. L. Pirtle was reported unchanged and satisfactory at West Texas hospital Thursday night. Pirtle, 64, of 1917-A Twenty-fourth street, suffered fractures of both bones of his right leg when struck by an automobile early Wednesday night.

He was taken to the hospital in a Sanders ambulance after the accident at the intersection of Twenty-fourth street and Avenue T.

The accident was investigated by Melvin Akes and O. E. Rush of the police department. George Campbell, who lives in 1400-block Thirteenth street, was driver of the car. The accident apparently was unavoidable, said police.

Marvin Miller Of Littlefield 'Squeezes' Out His Poetry Via 'Milk Bucket Metronome' System

LITTLEFIELD Oct. 14 (Special)—The long-haired fellow who gazed with rapture on daffodils and rainbow streams and cloud racks and sunsets knitted out his poetic affiliation the rough way.

Take a tip from Marvin Miller of Littlefield whose success in selling his verses is rivaled only by the unique manner in which he composes them.

The "milk bucket metronome" is the system.

Miller, who combines chicken ranch and office duties with his writing and who has a book coming off the press soon, goes to the cow pen, milk bucket in hand and "gets busy with Bess." The rhythm and musical lilt caused by the milk streams into the bucket gives him the ideas he seeks, and he rides to his typewriter and transfers his thoughts to paper.

Seriously injured in an automobile mishap in 1934 Miller's doctors despaired of his ever walking again. Through a program of exercise, however, he learned to walk again and now runs two miles daily. He sleeps on a pallet to keep his back straight.

Some of his successes: "Music" is being carried in the September edition of Holland's magazine; he won a poetry contest sponsored by Texas High School Press association in 1933, was awarded first in the Southwest Inter-Collegiate poetry contest at Trinity university, fourth place in a national scholastic contest and has been offered scholarships to Hardin-Simmons university and the University of Colorado. He won the John P. Splander cup last year, and his poems have been read over numerous radio stations.

"SHARP STOMACH PAINS UPSET MY WHOLE SYSTEM"

Weaknesses Of Market Cited

(By The Associated Press)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The present drastic slump in share prices has revealed "an impairment of efficiency" of the stock market which calls for "prompt correction," Winthrop W. Aldrich, New York banker, asserted today.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Rochester Chamber of Comerce, Aldrich, who is chairman of the Chase National bank, said the "acute thinness" of the market was largely the cause of "extraordinarily drastic and severe" price movements on even a moderate amount of selling. He attributed the thinness to "the cumulative effect of a variety of recent government policies," many of which, he contended, should be modified.

Among them he enumerated the capital gains tax, high and rigid margin requirements, the rule requiring officers of corporations and other "insiders" to hold stocks of their own concerns for at least six months before taking a profit and number of regulations of the securities exchange commission affecting dealers in securities.

"The break which began in mid-August is not to be attributed to current business or foreign selling," Aldrich asserted.

He defended legitimate trading by insiders as a means of "cushioning" the market in breaks. Margin requirements, he said, should be made flexible, rising promptly on booms and dropping promptly on breaks.

Persimmons were introduced into the United States from Japan about 1875.

Making the grade

GROWING children with an abundance of energy usually do make the grade . . . and with ease.

Every thoughtful mother recognizes this fact . . . mothers know, too, that children need help to build and maintain blood strength.

Particularly is this true with those who have suffered some illness or who look pale . . . are easily . . . are underweight or have lost their zest for food.

SSS Tonic is especially designed to build up children's health through the red blood cells, thus putting them in better condition to enjoy the food they eat and to regain lost weight . . . all which make for strength and vitality.

Help your child to "make the grade" by starting him or her on a course of SSS Tonic now. There is no substitute for this time-tested remedy and no ethical druggist will suggest something "just as good." © S.S.S. Co.

For Interior Walls and Woodwork . . .
DU PONT INTERIOR GLOSS and DU PONT SEMI-GLOSS

95c Quart

Your walls and woodwork will look better, and will be infinitely easier to keep clean if you paint them with either of these fine finishes. The GLOSS gives a rich, deep luster, while the SEMI-GLOSS has a satiny eggshell sheen. They dry hard and resist dust, stains, grease, ink and finger-marks. You can wash dirt off them as you would a tile wall.

They're Washable!

DU PONT FLAT
WALL PAINT
$2.60 Gallon

Painted walls make the whole house look brighter, fresher and cleaner. The soft, lovely tints of Du Pont Flat Wall Paint will give your home a new and enduring beauty.
