BOND ISSUES WIN DECISIVELY

COMMITTEE VOTES DOWN PROPOSAL TO TAX OIL IMPORTS

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The proposal to impose an import tax on crude oil in the permanent tariff bill has been voted down by the house ways and means committee, according to information available here today. The vote on the proposition was 9 to 8. This action by the committee is understood to be final and indicates a failure of the effort to include this provision in the new tariff measure.

REFUSE TO RECONSIDER THE AD VALOREM DUTY ON LUMBER

WASHINGTON, June 18.—By a vote of 8 to 6, republican members of the house ways and means committee tonight refused to consider their action in agreeing to a 25 per cent ad valorem duty on finished lumber in the permanent tariff bill.

The fight for reconsideration was made by middle western representatives under the ladership of Representative Young, North Dakota, who immediately gave notice that the proposed duty would be vigorously opposed when the measure reaches the floor of the house.

The six republican votes against the tariff, however, indicate that the duty might be defeated later in committee with the assistance of democratic members.

NAVY REORGANIZATION AND CHANGE IN POLICY WILL BE ANNOUNCED

STATEMENT IS EXPECTED TO BE GIVEN OUT DURING THE WEEK.

MAIN BATTLE FLEET PLANNED FOR PACIFIC

Intimated Movement Involves an Agreement With Great Britain.

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A reorganization of the United States navy, involving a probable change in naval policy, will be announced next week, it was stated officially tonight.

The statement followed the first actual reorganization step taken today when new commanders for the two major fleets in both the Atlantic and Pacific were announced along with the statement that there would soon be a redistribution of ships.

The change in policy is expected to be that a main battle fleet of the American navy is to be created in the Pacific.

Secretary Denby, it is known, some time ago decided on strengthening the Pacific fleet, if not immediately putting the main American fleet on west coast. He recommended this to President Harding.

The contention of Secretary Denby and of high officials of the navy, it is understood, is that the proposed creation of the main fleet in the Pacific is not a warning to Japan, but is only following out a sound naval policy.

The change in American naval policy is linked with the naval policies of Great Britain and Japan. If a main American fleet be created in the Pacific, this brings up the question of a possible working agreement between the United States and Great Britain, to police the waters of the world, the British to take the Atlantic, and the American navy the Pacific. President Harding has given attention to this question.

"All the state's witnesses have been our best evidence," said Ben Short, Mrs. Orthwein's attorney. "There is no use going on. I will appeal to the court Monday."

The state rested its case late today and the defense will start Monday unless the judge grants the request of Short.

"I am confident that I will be acquitted," said Mrs. Orthwein tonight. "The state's trump cards were jokers."

The state has been attempting to prove that Mrs. Orthwein killed Zeigler because she was jealous of other women. Mrs. Orthwein said she did it in self-defense.

Parrish. Richardson is now serving a life term at Fort Leavenworth following his conviction on a charge of murder. The killing occurred at Coblenz, Germany, where Richardson was serving in the American expeditionary forces and his conviction was based almost exclusively upon circumstantial evidence. There was a fight among several soldiers and there was not direct evidence to show which one struck the fatal blow.

Congressman Parrish also has applied to the chief of the bureau of markets asking that a special representative of that bureau be stationed at Denton during the melon marketing season. This was done at the instance of County Agent Don T. Griswold, who explained that Denton farmers have several hundred acres planted in melons and are desirous of obtaining expert advice in selling and marketing their crop.

MAKE GUN BARRELS FOR THE MEXICANS; CAUSES SENSATION

GENEVA, June 18.—The disclosure that 10,000 gun barrels are being made by an arms factory in the free city of Danzig for Mexico caused a mild sensation at the meeting of the council of the League of nations today. M Hanotaux, the French representative, expressed in sharp terms his surprise that a municipality under protection of the League of Nations was making war materials.

Herr Sahm, president of the free city, explained that the order had been received October, last, before the constitution of the city was adopted. He said it was difficult to change the factory immediately for the manufacture of other articles. The council passed over the question without announcing its decision.

The claims of Greece, Jugo-Slavia and Italy relative to sections of land along the Albanian frontier will be considered before the council adjourns, as will Germany's protest against the placing of French garrisons in the Saar district, and disagreements which have arisen between the city of Danzig and Poland.

DALLAS, TEXAS, June 18.—Death by hanging was the punishment meted out here today by a jury who found J. T. Parks, 47, guilty on a charge of assaulting Gladys Sapp, 13.

Every member of the jury signed the verdict and, as the judge read it, all the jurors fixed their eyes on Parks where he sat with his wife and three children. Parks hung his head. Otherwise he showed no emotion.

Parks, who took the stand in his own behalf, broke down under cross-examination, and partially admitted the assaults. He denied that the girl had struggled with him as she testified.

The alleged assault was committed May 22 in the Trinity river bottoms near the city, where Gladys lived in a tent with her parents.

Gladys was not in court when the verdict was brought in.

Attorneys for Parks announced their intention of making a motion for a new trial.

ROAD AND HOSPITAL PROPOSALS CARRY OVERWHELMINGLY MAKING CONTINUATION OF WORK CERTAIN

Wichita county Saturday voted overwhelmingly for the substitute road bond issue and thereby made it certain that the road program will go on.

With five small boxes to hear from the vote was more than 7 to 1 for the road bonds, while both hospital bond issues carried by better than two to one.

The unreported boxes probably did not poll more than 50 votes, and it was understood Saturday that some of them held no election.

The election brought some surprises. Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett each went more strongly for the road bonds than did Wichita Falls although the majority in this city was a substantial one. Court house box No. 2 voted against both hospital bond issues but its total vote was small.

Iowa Park, which has quite frequently voted against bond issues in the past, turned in a healthy majority for all the issues Saturday, registering only six votes against the road bonds. Burkburnett had only two negative votes, and Electra went for the road bonds more than 10 to 1.

The election means that the road work will continue, practically without interruption, the construction gangs being ready to start on the stretch from Iowa Park to the Wilbarger county line through Electra. It means also that the general hospital will be more than doubled in size and capacity and that branch hospitals will be established in Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett.

Following is the tabulated vote:

Box	For Road Bonds	Against Road Bonds	For W. F. Hospital	Against W. F. Hospital	For Branch Hospital	Against Branch Hospital
City Hall	16	10	14	11	14	11
Box No. 2	13	6	6	14	6	13
Box No. 12	107	16	106	17	102	21
Box No. 13	219	41	211	47	190	68
Iowa Park	95	6	87	28	87	14
Burkburnett	59	2	57	24	46	16
Electra	227	23	197	60	225	37

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OPPOSES BONUS FOR SOLDIER

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The United States chamber of commerce tonight came out against a cash bonus for service men.

A brief sent to President Harding and hundreds of trade and commercial organizations declared that the war had laid a mortgage of $1,125 on every family in the United States and that a cash bonus would only add to the burden.

At the same time the brief made it clear that the organization is actively in favor of national legislation to meet adequately the need of hospitalization and rehabilitation for disabled veterans, and for constructive measures to enable ex-service men to cultivate the soil, to build homes or to obtain vocational training.

It was pointed out that the government has already authorized the expenditure of $1,500,000,000 for soldier relief and in addition $900,000,000 for war risk liability insurance. Economic rehabilitation is seriously interfered with by the excess of government expenditures over revenues and the paramount consideration is to conserve resources and lessen the burden of taxation, the brief states.

MURDER TRIAL HALTED WHEN WITNESS TESTIFIES HIS LIFE IS THREATENED

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., June 18.—Trial of J. M. Saunders, private detective, charged with murder of Earl Marlin, was temporarily halted and the court room thrown into a furore this afternoon when Bud Fongdon, defense witness, refused to testify and informed the court that he had been threatened with death if he did so.

SCHOOL TAX WINS BY SAFE MAJORITY LIGHT VOTE CAST

MORE OPPOSITION THAN EXPECTED BUT FRIENDS OF PROPOSAL CARRY IT.

RESULT BRINGS NEW HIGH SCHOOL ONE STEP NEARER

For school tax 166 against 85.

With rather more opposition than had been expected, but by a safe majority, the proposal to authorize the school board to increase school taxes above the 20-cent limit carried Saturday by the above vote.

There was only one polling place, at the city hall, and as the great majority of Wichita Falls voters cast their ballots at the court house there were not a great many who cared to take the extra walk to the city hall to vote for the proposition. Had there been any organized opposition to the measure it could easily have been defeated, owing to the indifference that was manifested.

Adoption of the proposal brings Wichita Falls one step nearer to the new high school in means of the higher tax now permitted, the trustees can levy a sufficient tax to make a new bond issue possible. It has been known for some time that the new school so badly needed, could not become a reality until a higher tax were authorized and now that this has been done, it is expected that plans for the new institution will move forward more rapidly.

NOME, ALASKA, June 17.—Roald Amundsen, the explorer whose ship, the Maude, wintered off Cape Serge, Siberia, arrived in Nome today and will leave for Seattle on the first steamer, he announced. The explorer, noted for his discovery of the south pole and for his many Arctic and Antarctic voyages, said he would continue his efforts to reach the north pole by drifting with Arctic ice floes as soon as repairs to his vessel were completed.

He spent the winter on board the Maude with one native and three white companions, and said the party experienced few vicissitudes. He reached Nome on the trading schooner Herman, which had picked him up at East Cape, Siberia.

With the explorer were the daughter of Charles Carpenter, a Siberian trader, and a Chuchuk Eskimo girl, whom he will send to school in Norway.

FIGHT BEING STAGED FOR LEADERSHIP OF FEDERATION OF LABOR

EFFORT BEING MADE TO DEFEAT PRESIDENT SAMUEL GOMPERS.

CHARGE HUNDRED THOUSAND FUND TO ASSIST LEWIS

Report Agents of William Randolph Hearst Active in Behalf of Lewis.

By J. L. SULLIVAN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 18.—The fight for leadership in American labor took the stage tonight at the convention of the American Federation of Labor. The bitter controversy between the forces backing the veteran leader, Samuel Gompers, for re-election as president, and those urging the candidacy of John L. Lewis, bids fair to hold the spotlight during the remainder of the convention.

The clash, which has been stirring quietly during the last few months, came into the open today with publication of rumors that a campaign fund of $100,000 was being used to further Lewis' candidacy. These rumors have been circulating throughout the convention.

According to the story as rumored and printed here, the campaign fund was brought to Denver by a delegate to the convention. These reports say the delegate obtained the money from agents of William Randolph Hearst in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Publication of the rumors, which are not substantial in any way, has thrown the entire convention into a turmoil. Lewis' candidacy, which has been smoldering, has burst into full flame. At a conference of his backers, it was definitely decided to place Lewis' name before the convention as a candidate in case Lewis can retain the support which already has been pledged.

Causes Great Bitterness.

Printing of the story caused increased bitterness among the Lewis faction. They accused the Gompers faction of deliberately circulating the rumor of the campaign fund to injure the candidacy of the president of the United Mine Workers of America. This was denied by Gompers' supporters.

They declared the story of the $100,000 fund originated from persons close to Lewis, when first heard at the convention.

A conference of those supporting Lewis' candidacy was held enroute to Colorado Springs from Denver today. The delegates came to Colorado Springs for a day's outing. In checking over the votes pledged to Lewis, his supporters claimed they have found a sufficient number to insure his election.

The hope of the Lewis faction is that it will be able to gain sufficient strength to force Gompers to announce his retirement from active leadership in the labor organization.

There is no question but what Lewis' candidacy has developed rapidly during the last two days.

William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers is one of the leading workers in behalf of Lewis. If Lewis should be chosen president of the national federation, Green probably would succeed him as head of the miners' organization.

Seriously Discuss Morals and Habits Of Younger People

FORT WORTH, June 18.—Detailed disclosures and reports of several priests regarding instances of immorality, said to be the outcome of immodest dressing, jazz music, modern dancing and night riding in automobiles of unchaperoned youths, caused the Dallas clericus of the Episcopal church, meeting here, to seriously discuss morals and manners of young people.

The clergy of the Dallas diocese, according to a formal statement today, "condemned all these sources and evidence of a widespread demoralization of young people and admonished and warned parents that the chief responsibility for the evil and shameful results of this manner of life rests upon them."

The statement was issued in place of a pronouncement, the Rev. Mr. E. H. Eckel of Fort Worth said.

"From cases of young girls cited from hospital experience," the announcement said, "the clergy determined that fathers and mothers should be urged to talk to their sons and daughters on matters of sex and parenthood and the consequences of loose morals."

The priests said they did not condemn dancing but that "only the discipline and restraints of Christian morality and the incentives of religion can effect the raising of moral ideals and clean living which is the paramount need of the day."

ARCHER CITY, June 18.—The lid will be off in Archer City on July 4, as the town has invited the whole world to take part in the old fashioned rip-roaring celebration which will be given throughout the day and night on independence day.

The town will stage a big rodeo, a free barbecue, a ball game, furnish jazz band music and a dance to entertain the visitors. The celebration will also extend on to the following day when another ball game, horse racing and a big public auction will be held. Besides this will be trades day and boxing and wrestling matches have also been arranged.

Twenty-five riders will contest for honors and prizes in the big rodeo event on July 4. A car load of Brahama steers will be shipped in for this event. There will be steer bulldogging, calf roping and goat roping and other events.

One of the best negro jazz bands has been secured to furnish music for the day and they will be on the job all the time.

At 10 o'clock in the morning the Archer City nine will cross bats with the First National bank team of Wichita Falls. On the morning of July 5 at the same hour the Texas Company ball team of Wichita Falls will furnish the opposition to the home boys.

At noon a big old-fashioned, free barbecue will be spread on the tables and everybody, visitors and all is invited to sit in, stand in or in any way get in on it. There will be barbecued beef, bread, pickles, onions, coffee and a sufficient amount for everyone.

In the evening excellent music will be furnished for those who care to dance. A floor will be erected underneath the lights on the public square.

In all, Archer City is planning one of the biggest events ever given and it is hoped and urged that a large delegation from surrounding cities will attend.

WILMAN CASE GOES TO COMANCHE JURY

With Three Others Is Charged With The Murder of Jack McCurdy.

COMANCHE, TEXAS, June 18.—The case of W. W. Wilman, charged with the murder of Jack McCurdy and which has been on trial here all this week, was given to the jury this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Wilman, along with Earl Henry, Gid Howard and Ed Walker, were indicted for the murder of McCurdy, whose mutilated body was found on the Frisco railroad track at Hasse on the morning of May 13.

The largest crowds ever attending a trial in Comanche county were present every day of the week. Each day of the trial not only was the court room filled to capacity, but corridors and stairways were filled with those interested and those idly curious. Court convened at 8:30 every day, and by 7:30 each day available seats were filled and people were pouring in, bringing with them stools and other seating arrangements. Many of those attending were women, who brought lunches with them and sat throughout the noon hour, awaiting the continuance of the trial.

The principal witness for the state was Earl Henry, under indictment for the crime. His testimony was to the effect that he accompanied Jack McCurdy to the home of Wilman about dusk on the night of May 12 and that while there Gid Howard and Ed Walker came up, following which a row occurred with McCurdy, in which Walker hit McCurdy with a club over the head and which was followed with other blows that killed him, Henry said. The body afterward was taken on horseback to the railroad track some time between 8 and 9 o'clock and placed on the track to be run over by the train due about 9 o'clock.

Henry claimed that he was forced, after being shot at by Howard, to remain and assist in the disposition of the body, after which he was ordered home.

Other corroborative evidence was offered by the state, including a saddle alleged to have been ridden by one of the defendants and which is alleged to have been bloody, when returned to the owner. The defense offered testimony to prove that Henry and McCurdy were at the home of Wilman at an hour a little earlier than that which McCurdy is alleged to have been killed, but that both Henry and McCurdy, who were alleged to have been drunk, left the home of Wilman, McCurdy going in the direction of the railroad. Efforts were made by the defense for a change of venue, which was overruled. The companion case of Gid Howard is set for next Monday.

SPANISH COMMUNISTS TO CONFER WITH BOLSHEVIKI

MADRID, June 18.—A deputation of Spanish communist party organizers has gone to Russia to confer with Premier Lenine and War Minister Trotzky.

Francisco Cambo will leave for Reval, Esthonia, at the beginning of July, should political conditions in Spain permit, for conferences there with Maxim Litvinoff, chief of the soviet legations abroad. Afterward, if guarantees can be procured, he will proceed to Petrograd and Moscow to study the bolshevik organization.

DRY LEADERS CLASH OVER VOLSTEAD LAW

Wheeler and Dinwiddie Disagree at Hearing Before House Rules Committee.

By HERBERT W. WALKER
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 18. — Dry congressmen and prohibition workers tonight were fighting among themselves over Representative Volstead's latest prohibition proposal, his supplement to the original Volstead law.

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league and E. C. Dinwiddie, formerly with the league, but now connected with another reform organization, clashed in hearings before the house rules committee.

Dinwiddie sided with leading chemists and industrial alcohol manufacturers of the country in their position that the additional restrictions placed upon their interests by the Volstead bill should not be rushed through congress under a "gag rule."

This aroused Wheeler, who in a formal statement said:

"Mr. Dinwiddie has not been connected with the Anti-Saloon league for more than a year and is assuming to protect certain parts of the legal traces, as is unwittingly protecting the illegal traffic."

The house rules committee probably will demand that Volstead separate his bill and rush through congress only that section prohibiting the prescription of beer as medicine. This has angered Representative Volstead and he charged before the rules committee that Chairman Campbell, Kansas, who has always supported prohibition, was endeavoring to delay his bill.

DECLARES HE IS AMAZED AT PROVISIONS OF LAW

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Dr. M. C. Whitaker of Baltimore, vice president of the United States Industrial Alcohol company, told the house rules committee today that the czar of Russia had been dethroned and shot for exercising far less autocratic power than the Volstead bill would vest in the prohibition commissioner.

Appearing with representatives of chemical drug manufacturing interests seeking full hearing on the bill, he declared he was amazed at some of its drastic provisions.

Dr. Whitaker added: "The only booze fighters in our plants are government employes."

Former Attorney General Palmer rightly construed the Volstead act in holding that beer could be prescribed as a medicine, E. C. Dinwiddie, formerly executive superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, testified.

"Mr. Palmer did the only thing he could in rendering that opinion," said Mr. Dinwiddie. "Unless this anti-beer bill is passed quickly, rivers of beer will soon begin to flow."

The witness said he thought time might be saved by putting through the beer provision as a special emergency measure.

Chairman Campbell said the beer bill could be passed by unanimous consent. "I have held all along," Mr. Dinwiddie said, "that we have no right to interfere with any legitimate business which uses alcohol, and I am not alone among prohibitionists in this respect."

WANT PHARMACISTS EXEMPT FROM FURNISHING BONDS

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, June 18.—Amendments to the Volstead and Dean acts to exempt pharmacists from furnishing alcohol bonds were demanded in resolutions passed by the Texas Pharmaceutical association at its concluding session of a three-day convention here today. The resolutions set forth that the alcohol bonds are no more necessary than would be peace bonds and are unnecessary expenses to the druggist. Repeal of the requirement of a physician's permit under the Volstead law was also asked. Forfeiture of the druggist's permit would be a more drastic measure than forfeiture of his bond, one resolution declared.

Arthur Skillern of Dallas was named president of the association, and Fort Worth was chosen as the next meeting place. Walter H. Whisenant of San Antonio heads the new executive committee.

YOUNG LADY REPORTED LOST IS LOCATED AT TEXARKANA

TEXARKANA, TEXAS, June 18.—Miss Ruth Stephens, 17, who disappeared from the Sunshine Special train here, while en route from Fort Worth to Birmingham Thursday night, was found early today in a local hospital.

Mrs. Stephens, who was asleep in a Pullman, missed her daughter about 50 miles north of here. She was informed by trainmen that the girl left the train at Texarkana. She immediately wired the local police and returned on the first train.

Hospital attendants declared that Miss Stephens appeared at the hospital and asked for shelter, which was granted.

Her mind is believed to have become temporarily deranged on account of a severe spell of sickness. Her father is said to be a Methodist preacher.

HAVE INDICTED 88 IN CONNECTION WITH RECENT TULSA RIOT

TULSA, OKLA., June 18.—Twenty-four more indictments growing out of the Tulsa race riots were returned by the grand pury investigating the outbreak at noon today. The total number of indictments is now eighty-eight. Warrants for arrests were to be issued this afternoon. It was understood that a number of whites were included in the latest list and that they were charged with looting and arson.

COLLEGE STATION MAN ADDRESSES LOCAL POULTRY RAISES FRIDAY NIGHT

An address on the evolution of the chicken from its primitive state up to the present time was delivered before forty members of the North Texas Poultry Association Friday night by F. W. Kazmier of the government bureau at College Station.

Mr. Kazmier's talk was heartily received by all those attending and plans have been made to bring him back to this city in the near future. He will be here for the local poultry show, which is to be held December 15 to 22, according to Ira Brown, one of the leaders of the poultry men here.

HEADS OF CITY GOVERNMENT WILL BE HOSTS TO MANY MUNICIPAL OFFICERS THIS WEEK

Mayors, city attorneys, city engineers, city managers, commissioners and other municipal officers of a number of Texas cities, will convene in Wichita Falls Tuesday morning for a two-days session, the gathering being that of the League of Texas Municipalities. Program for the convention has previously been published in The Times.

In addition to city officials, several state officers are on the program, and Dr. Herman G. James of the University of Texas, who, as a student of municipal problems, has been quite active in the organization's affairs, is also on the program.

Entertainment features will include a dinner Tuesday night and an automobile trip Wednesday.

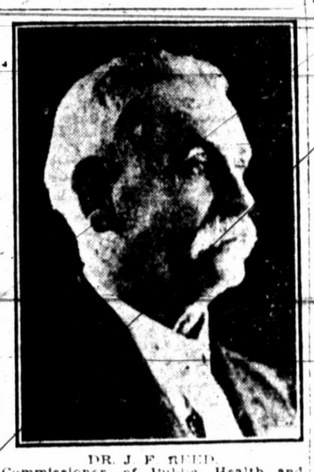

J. W. Chancellor, mayor of Bowie, is president of the organization. E. R. Cockrell, Fort Worth's college professor mayor, Mayor Sawnie Aldredge of Dallas, and City Attorney Collins of Dallas, are among the better known city officials who will attend.

Wichita Falls was chosen as the place for the meeting under circumstances that make the selection appear as a decided compliment to this city. Officials of Texas cities had heard of the big problems that this city's government had undertaken and wanted to see the results at first-hand.

Mayor Cline and members of the administration will be hosts to the meeting. Mayor Cline will deliver the address of welcome Tuesday morning. City Engineer Montgomery and Fire Chief McClure are both on the program.

SEWING MACHINE AND $75 A MONTH ALIMONY GRANTED BY COURT

Mrs. Annetta White was granted a sewing machine and $75 temporary alimony per month in her cross action in a divorce suit brought by her husband, Walter White. Judge F. A. Martin heard the petition for temporary allmony Saturday morning and made the award.

The husband testified that he had no use for the sewing machine but had taken it away along with a phonograph "just to show her up when she acted so smart about his taking things out of the house." The court stated that he could haul it back as a man had not much use for a sewing machine.

JONES ADDRESSES COURT LAST TIME BEFORE DEPARTURE

District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones in his remarks to the court Saturday morning, representing the state in the motion for new trial in the Willie Shelton case, announced that he was addressing the court for the last time in criminal matters as the representative of the state of Texas.

He stated that he expected to leave within the next week if possible.

The race for the district attorneyship grew still more interesting Saturday with the announcement that Elmer Graham of Young county had also entered the ring. He is the eighth attorney to announce that he is a candidate for the appointment.

Cedric Taylor of Henrietta, son of R. E. Taylor, former United States district attorney, has been mentioned as a possible applicant for the place, but it is not known that he will enter the contest.

"We recognize that he came to [illegible] at a most critical moment in the career of the old college [illegible]. During his administration serious difficulties growing out of three years of drouth and two years of war have confronted him. But, heroically, he has lead in the fight for progress in all phases of the life of the college, and has won the victory.

"Under his direction the Southwestern University Scholarship society has been organized and a movement begun [illegible] extend its influence to other institutions in Texas, the Faculty club has been organized and made a real factor in the intellectual life of the college; the Williamson county science building has been erected, and made it possible for the college to do work in the sciences which is unsurpassed by any college of the south; the endowment funds of the institution have been materially increased, constant effort has been expended to deepen the religious life of the entire college community, and standards of scholarship have been raised.

"President Bishop has left an indelible stamp upon Southwestern university. His dignified and gracious bearing, his broad scholarship, his deep spirituality and pure, religious life, his statesmanly vision and wise judgment in all matters concerning Christian education have combined to type Southwestern university as a college where ideals of Christian manhood and womanhood are continually sought. He has breathed and fostered a distinct Southwestern spirit. His aim has been to make and keep Southwestern a college of a limited student body, where the best faculty obtainable can maintain intimate personal contact with each and every student, and through personal co-operation to develop in Southwestern men and women characters embodying broad scholarship, ideals of service in all relationships of social life, patriotic citizenship, and the Christian love for God and fellowman. We trust that the ideals for Southwestern which he has so wisely set up may be perpetuated, and that the coming years may see his policies maintained, such that Southwestern shall always be known by the stamp which his great personality has impressed upon it."

Dr. C. M. Bishop is well known in Wichita Falls, where he was serving as pastor of the M. E. church, South, 10 years ago, when he was called to the presidency of Southwestern university. His many friends here have followed with much interest his successful career as a university executive.

DEFINITE STEPS FOR COLISEUM LIKELY TO BE TAKEN TUESDAY

The first definite steps for construction here of a live stock coliseum and stadium are expected to be taken Tuesday morning, when a meeting of live stock breeders from Wichita and neighboring counties will be held at the chamber of commerce rooms.

It is hoped at this meeting to formulate some plan whereby the proposed coliseum can be made a reality. Such a building, according to present plans, would be on a scale making it available for live stock exhibits, public meetings, athletic contests and the annual spring rodeo.

Considerable preliminary work has already been done on the project, and Tuesday's meeting will probably witness some decisive steps.

The proposed reduction would effect a material saving in the cost of Wichita county's good roads program.

DOUGLAS ADVISES BOILING OF WATER USED FOR DRINKING

Boil your drinking water, is the advice of Dr. A. H. Douglass, head of the city sanitary department, who states that the heavy rains of the past few weeks, together with the cleaning out of the reservoir basins, has made the city water somewhat dirty.

"There is no real danger," he asserts, "but boiling the water may relieve the bad taste and will eliminate any dangerous germs which might be present."

The trouble will be over within a few days, Douglass believes, after which the water will be entirely satisfactory again.

SALT WATER SHOWS IN SEVERAL TESTS

Activity Continues Despite Price Drops—Red River Tests Are Being Watched.

Salt water bids fair to accomplish in Archer county what two 25-cent price reductions in one week failed to do—bring about a curtailment of drilling. Activity continues with little evidence of cessation, despite the price cut.

Reports from the Nelson well on the J. D. Miller, the Cahlke-Donohue well on the Wilson, the Radtke test on the Netherton and the Couch-Winfrey on the Henderson indicate that the extensions of the field are yet to be delineated in the respective directions of those wells. Water trouble has been countered in each of these tests and will have to be circumvented before more favorable news can be expected.

The Sun company on the Henderson, Texas-Illinois on the Taylor, Link Oil on the Coffman are expecting to pick up the sand at any time and are coring ahead to the depth where the sand should be encountered.

The Canadian Petroleum company on the Gose, just south of the Texhoma No. 1, has junked its No. 1 well and skidded the rig 50 feet south and are now rigging up a rotary and are about to spud in. The test of the Lomax Oil company on the J. D. Miller, one and one-half miles east of the discovery well, is also testing out a sand at 1,600 feet.

In the Archer City townsite the Wm. Priddy Oil company is drilling around 1,700 feet. On the Taylor Harper, Jones No. 1 is on the sand and will test out Monday.

In the Electra field the Wichita Electra Trust company's well is shut down for orders until Monday. This well is located nine miles north of Electra on block 279 of the Waggoner Colony lands and just west of the Hazel Burk well which was drilled about a year ago. On account of difficulty in shutting off the water due to leaky casing the Hazel Burk was then abandoned in a sand showing both oil and gas.

The owners, who are mostly Wichita Falls men, to show their faith in this district, immediately made a location and began to operate. So far the formation of this well has run true to the Hazel Burk and all of the parties are very optimistic for the result of this test. They have passed through a small water sand and are in lime where they will set the casing.

The other wildcat on the Swanson land on the bank of Red river, known as the J. B. Lawrence well, after six months shut down, has resumed drilling and is down 700 feet. This well is on a direct line north of the Burk-Cameron on Red river.

South of Electra, William Peeples and associates have erected a derrick on the A. C. Henson, where they will drill a deep test. In this district the Ryan Petroleum company is also drilling 760 feet in their No. 6 well.

The Gulf Production company in their No. 4 Collet is running a string of 8 5-16-inch casing to shut off the water. The same company is bailing the oil sand in their Grace Jennings et al No. 6, which looks like a good well at 1,356 feet, and is shut down on the sand in No. 3 Melton at 1,405 feet waiting on orders. West of the Planet Petroleum company on the Waggoner, Fridwell & Heydrick are rigging up preparatory to drilling their No. 8 well.

40 HARVEST HANDS ARE OBTAINED HERE FOR OKLAHOMA WORK

Ross, who are in this city in the interests of the recruiting movement, stated that they would not leave without securing their full quota, and that the 200 desired would be had by noon Sunday. Those wishing to take advantage of the work offered are requested to get in touch with Dr. Stetcher or Mr. Ross at the city hall.

The company has been operating in Texas for the past nine months and is at the present time opening in New Mexico.

Stationed at Beach Ready to Censor the Bathing Suits Worn

CHICAGO, June 18.—Seamstresses with pins, needles, thread and other requisites of the ladies' tailor, were stationed at Chicago beaches today to censor the bathing suits worn by women and sew in these wearers who violated prohibitions against the display of legs and shoulders, which were made effective this year.

Last year the style of costumes worn at the beaches was left almost entirely, it was explained, to the conscience of the wearer. The result led to the adoption this year of strict regulations which are now being enforced with needles and thread.

THE POLITICAL POT BOILS.

In a recent dispatch to The Times Mark Sullivan tells of the disquietude which reigns in the hearts and the minds of the republican state chairmen and national committeemen who recently attended the gathering of g. o. p. leaders in Washington.

These men, who are close to the grass roots, wanted most pointedly to know when the taxes were going to be reduced. Theirs were not idle questions. They do not live in the isolated atmosphere of Washington, where questions of government are settled by political maneuvering. They live in the communities large and small over the country where the voters live and they have been hearing criticism that was unmistakable over the delay of a preponderant republican majority in both the house and senate to reduce taxes and to act on positive measures which will stabilize business.

The answer given them was that plank in the republican platform, adopted at Chicago last June, wherein it was stated clearly that there could be but little hope for tax reductions for some time. The only promise held out in this plank was that taxes might somehow be shifted slightly. This, the Washington leaders pointed out, was the official and last word of the party in power.

But the men whose positions depend upon their party's remaining in power went away unsatisfied. They knew that this was no satisfactory answer. The platform did say that, but the campaign was not waged along this line. The speakers appealing for votes for Harding all over the country ignored the platform declaration and promised an early resumption of business and decreased governmental expenditures; the latter was to bring down taxes at a very early date.

This question is settled. Governmental expenditures are nearly where they were last year. Tax changes to date have brought no relief. Any one who is capable of thinking would have known that this must be the case. The war has to be paid for, and the adjustment of life, following a complete upheaval of our economic system is slow to slip back into its former grooves.

But this is not the worst. The notorious weakness of the republican leaders has been always to favor the manufacturing interests. And the plans for the permanent tariff call for no tariff on hides, no protection for cotton, no duty on petroleum and a scaling down of the tariff on farm products to such a point that it gives the farmer no relief to speak of.

The manufacturers are to get all they ask in the way of tariff protection. Thus the producers of our hides, petroleum, cotton and foodstuffs are left to hold the bag. And they constitute fully sixty per cent of our population.

How a party in power could be so blind to this elemental truth seems hard to conceive. But they are. The answer is that the chairmanships and committee places on the powerful committees, as well as the leadership in both houses of congress are from manufacturing centers. The manufacturers are their leading supporters both politically and financially. They must have protection. The cost of living may be kept up, that is not the issue; the "infant" industries must be protected at any cost—with the public footing the bills.

Just eleven years ago this same party tried exactly the same experiment and it went down to shameful defeat two years later. Very much the same leadership which brought the previous defeat of the g. o. p. about is now directing its steps. A substantial proof that the old guard dies, but never surrenders.

What has happened before can again happen, and likely will happen. There was much comment after last fall's election to the effect that the democratic party is a thing of the past. To the unobservant this might have seemed possible. But a political party which received less than four million votes in 1912 just eight years later carried its presidential candidate into office with better than a seven million majority.

The democratic party after the 1920 election was not in as hopeless condition as was the republican party in 1912. A war was the undoing of the democratic party—the representatives of big business in Washington, who are the leaders in congress, will be the undoing of the republican party. That they have learned nothing from past defeats should be pleasant news for all democrats.

LIVING MEMORIALS.

The state of Illinois is taking the lead in planting trees along important highways. The trees are being set out as memorials to the men who lost their lives in the world war. The American Legion is doing the work and the newspapers as well as state and local officers are giving every help in this fine undertaking.

The state road commissioner has given those in charge the following advice regarding the tree planting:

To leave a free space of 250 feet on either side at cross roads to prevent accidents.

When planting along a farmer's property, ask him what kind of trees he prefers. Perhaps he will offer to plant them himself, and contribute that much to the cause. Many have already done this.

Do not plant trees too close to poles. Ten feet is about the right distance.

Wichita county will before long have long stretches of hard surface roads. Our section of the state has all too few trees along the roadside or other places. A great irrigation project is slowly being brought to the point of starting actual work. The county will no longer know months and years of drouth. Trees can be watered and cared for.

A fine double row of trees stretching from the Clay county to the Wilbarger county line bordering our pike would in a few years make a drive such as few counties in the state could boast. People driving through would be so impressed that they would tell others about this community and bring it more desirable advertising than almost any other agency.

Aside from all that it would be a fine thing for us who live in Wichita county to keep before us what our boys did in France, what they died for, and the debt we owe their sacrifice and idealism.

STATE TAXES GOING UP.

State Treasurer John W. Baker, a member of the Automatic Tax Board, which fixes the state tax rates each year, indicates that the state will have to levy the constitutional maximum of seventy-five cents on each $100 valuation for the coming year.

Last year the state taxes totaled sixty-two cents on the $100, or thirteen cents lower than the legal allowance. But aside from many large appropriations made by the last legislature, and possible ones to be made by the coming special session the state's income from the oil production tax will be much less than it has been the past few years.

The regular session appropriated $1,500,000 for the Kerrville hospital for tubercular soldiers, $1,350,000 for University land acquisition, $550,000 for the prison commission, $3,000,000 to supplement the available school fund; and emergency and deficiency appropriations amount to another million dollars.

Mr. Baker estimates that the state will require approximately $12,000,000 a year for the coming two years. In addition to which it is not starting off on the new year with any too much cash. At the present time the state has only $4,500,000 cash at hand, whereas one year ago it had $9,250,000 at this time.

The tax board is to meet July 20th, but since the legislature will undoubtedly still be in session, the board can scarcely get down to work until after the legislature has finished its appropriations. However, the board pretty well knows right now what will have to be provided for. Aside from the appropriations mentioned above as already made, the school fund will likely call for 35 cents of the levy, the pension fund for 5 cents, with the remaining 35 cents for state ad valorem. Whether or not any of these appropriations could be reduced is a question, certainly the school tax should not be cut.

But it does cost a lot of money to run a great state.

MUCH ADO BRINGING NOTHING.

According to reports from New York City there have been 3,500 arrests under the new dry enforcement law and exactly one conviction. It sounds like fishing for whales and catching an undergrown sucker. But in spite of their luck in convictions the arrests of offenders continue at the rate of 100 per day.

We are a peculiar people. There is a stringent national dry law. New York state in addition has its own dry law with many sharp teeth. Arrests are so numerous in New York that they could well be made in groups. Undoubtedly all have been made when the offenders had the goods on them and yet the illegal sale of liquor continues. Even the national prohibition enactment and the federal officers seem unable to make any headway.

Texas is under the self same national law with New York and she has also her own state dry laws, as does New York. The dry laws of neither state can abridge the national law in any way and going back to the q. e. d. of geometry the dry laws of New York and Texas should be similar since things equal to the same thing are equal to each other. But in Texas both the state and national laws work, for the most part. They do say that liquor can be bought here. But to be able to buy it one must belong; he must know the hidden terms and the grand hailing sign. A few months ago in New York any one could stop in almost anywhere and be supplied—the only difference the laws had brought was that the present liquor was of an inferior grade.

Apparently the desire for strong drink will continue in the systems of men for the next several thousands of years, certainly the proneness to do that which is forbidden will be always with man, whether he lives in Wichita Falls or New York City. But if we are to have dry laws they should be enforced. If men break these laws in the wholesale fashion as is now being done in New York City then they should be convicted as well as arrested.

HUMANISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY

Joseph P. Tumulty was in the New Jersey state legislature from Hudson county and a man of some political influence before he became secretary to Woodrow Wilson.

It was natural, therefore, that he should go to Boss Davis, of the organization, and ask that influence be used toward getting a pardon for a certain constituent of his who was suffering durance vile for homicide.

Just then the local juries were being made up. Boss Davis wrote the name of Tumulty's man on a slip. Unfortunately he got it mixed up with other slips of men who wanted to be called for jury service.

The result was that the man in jail, instead of getting a pardon, got a call for jury service to which he was unable to respond.

Nick Longworth, representative from Ohio, played many a joke on the late Theodore Roosevelt who, Longworth says, had the distinction of being his father-in-law.

One night at Oyster Bay Mr. Roosevelt was showing a party, of which Bourke Cockran was a member, over the house and was expatiating as usual over his trophies.

Just as they had reached a certain bear rug on the second floor William M. Calder called and Mr. Roosevelt had to go downstairs.

Thereupon Mr. Longworth took his place on the bear rug, thrust his hand into the front of his coat and made a speech recounting the thrilling adventure of slaying the bear just as he knew, from frequent repetition, the colonel would have made it.

When Mr. Roosevelt returned he walked out on the rug and began his speech. To his surprise it provoked only mirth.

The scientist in the senate, Dr. Edwin Freemont Ladd, of North Dakota, has a tragedy in his past.

For ten years he labored on an agricultural chemistry. He had devoted his life to this science at the State Agricultural College. On Christmas Eve, 1909, the final copy of the manuscript was on his desk, all ready for the printer.

He was a happy man as he bustled down town to make some final Christmas purchases.

That night the chemistry building was burned and with it Dr. Ladd's manuscript. He has never found time to rewrite it.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

The People.

Living with the people, the good, the brave, the strong,
Glad to pass the time of day with all who come along,
Lord, it's good to meet your children as they trudge life's thoroughfare
And learn the hopes they cherish and the dreams they see out there.

Living with the people here upon the kindly earth
And finding in the strangest garb the messengers of mirth,
For many a stirring tale of life the passer-by can tell,
And every man is worth your while if but you know him well.

Living with the people, the rich, the poor, the wise,
The same breeze blowing over them, the same sun in their eyes,
And this you learn from high and low, throughout life's stretch of years,
We're brothers in the joys we take and brothers in our tears.

I'm sorry for the haughty man who holds his head in air
And passes by in cold disdain the garbs of toil and care,
For though he may be rich and great 'tis lonely he must live,
He misses all the glorious joys his fellows have to give.

Oh, walk with them and talk with them and hear the tales they tell,
The passers-by would be your friends if but you knew them well,
The children of the Lord are they, and as they come and go,
There is not one among them all that is not good to know.

WHY?—

Do We Taste Things?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

When we speak of the "sense of taste" we think at once of the tongue, for here is the seat of the principal nerves of taste, though some of these lie in the palate and the upper portion of the throat, transmitting the sensation which we call "taste" directly to the brain and registering an impression there precisely as sound or pain register.

But, in order to be apparent, the object tasted must be at least partially dissolved, either in water or in the natural fluid—salvia—secreted by the glands of the mouth, for even substances with marked tastes such as salt or quinine will not make the "taste impression" upon the brain unless applied in the form of solution to the nerves of the tongue or throat. Moreover, these nerves are not regularly distributed through the mouth, but are closer together at the tip of the tongue and at the back than they are at the center and the sides. It is for this reason that a pill, which would ordinarily taste bitter, may be swallowed with comparatively little annoyance if placed in the center of the tongue and washed down so quickly that it has no time to dissolve before passing the nest of taste-nerves at the back of the tongue.

The difference in tastes noticeable in different kinds of substances is due to the effect which these solutions have upon the brain cells which control our nerve reactions, just as sounds have varying intensities and the nerves of feeling indicate different degrees of pain or pleasure. Taste, indeed, is very closely akin to another sense—that of smell—for the aroma of many things which we eat blends itself with the taste and a cold or anything else which effects our sense of smell will instantly cause things to appear to assume a different taste.

The History of Your Name

PICKETT.

Variations—Pigott, Pigot.
Source—Personal characteristic.
Racial Origin—French.

It would be hard to pick a more English sounding family name than Pickett. Yet its origin is not English at all but French.

Those who bear the name of Pickett, however, can be sure of one thing, that the name has spent two or three centuries in England before being brought to this country, for while the origin of the name is not English, its spelling certainly is. This points very strongly to the probability that it was transplanted from France to England at some period before the spelling of names, and indeed of all words, settled down into what we might call a standardized rut.

There's nothing new about "simplified spelling." Most of the complexities of the English language today are the result of periods of "wide open" simplified spelling in past centuries. And the name of Pickett is an example.

It comes from the French adjective "picote," meaning pitted, as from smallpox. At the time of the Norman invasion family names had barely begun to develop, and were confined at first to the nobility. By the time such an adjective could have settled down into a family name vitually everybody had ceased speaking French in England. Hence it must have come over later. The pronunciation of "picote," with the final syllable "e" dropped, was very naturally represented by the spelling Pickett. The surnames Pigott and Pigot show every evidence of having developed in France, and of being brought to England, or straight to this country, at a later period.

Tomorrow—Palmer.

The Wichita Falls Medicine Company

The Wichita Falls Medicine Company manufactures and sells the NICHOLS FAMOUS RHEUMATIC REMEDY

This Company, a Wichita Falls Institution will now offer for sale a limited amount of its capital stock for sale at par.

THE NICHOLS FAMOUS RHEUMATIC REMEDY has been taken and recommended by thousands of rheumatic sufferers in this state, it has never been advertised, to any extent, except by those who have taken it, and personally know its merits.

THE WICHITA FALLS MEDICINE COMPANY now expects to place this remedy on the market throughout the United States by placing the same in every drug store throughout the whole country as fast as possible.

This company is a going concern and will have its home office at the corner of Eighth and Travis, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The capital stock of this company is $100,000.00, par value of the shares $100 each, and is a corporation whose officers are:

J. S. NICHOLS, President
LESLIE HUMPHREY, Vice-President
J. C. WARD, Secretary-Treasurer.

We believe an investment in the stock of his company will be a safe, conservative and profitable investment, and one which will net the shareholders large returns on the capital invested.

PATENT MEDICINE COMPANIES ARE USUALLY A SUCCESS

Have you ever heard of one going broke? Many of these companies have made their shareholders huge fortunes on a small investment.

We believe all this can be expected from an investment in the shares of the company. We believe in our medicine, we believe it will be a boon to rheumatic sufferers throughout the United States.

One drug store in the city of Wichita Falls with which this remedy has only recently been placed has already sold over one hundred dollars worth of same. We believe other drug stores throughout the country can and will do likewise, and we are placing same in all drug stores throughout the country as fast as possible.

We believe a purchase of shares in this company will net you a steady and permanent income, which will increase in amount as the remedy becomes better known and advertised.

We expect to place this remedy in thousands of homes throughout the entire country and this will not only promote the interests of the shareholders but will also be a great advantage in advertising the city of Wichita Falls, the place where this remedy is manufactured.

There are thousands of people who are suffering from rheumatism who would buy this remedy if they knew where to obtain it, and our purpose is to fully advertise same so that all who desire can get it.

We are not manufacturing a cheap cure-all remedy, but a special remedy for a specific disease, and it is BACKED BY HUNDREDS OF FORMER RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS WHO HAVE BEEN CURED BY IT, a number of whom live in the city of Wichita Falls.

Every cent obtained from the sale of treasury stock will go into the treasury of the corporation for the manufacture, advertising and distribution of this remedy.

This remedy is sold for $5.00 per bottle and has been distributed by J. S. Nichols individually throughout the country for the past six years, and our intention is to enlarge its manufacture and distribute the same through the drug stores all over the United States.

Applications for stock should be made to the office of J. S. Nichols or J. C. Ward, Wichita Falls, Medicine Company.

FOUR PEOPLE KILLED AND SIX INJURED IN COLLISION OF CARS

JACKSON, MICH., June 18.—Four persons were killed, six injured seriously and ten others hurt in a rear-end collision of two westbound Detroit interurban cars near Ann Arbor late today. According to reports, a wooden car was telescoped by a steel car, the dead and most of the injured being occupants of the forward car. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

WILL KEEP FORCES IN HAWAII AND CANAL ZONE

BOSTON, June 18.—The forces on duty in Hawaii and in the Canal Zone will be maintained at present strength, Secretary of War Weeks said here today, notwithstanding the reduction in the standing army. He had just left a conference with Brigadier General Mark L. Hersey, acting commander of the first corps area, regarding the extent of the retrenchment to be made in this district.

Explaining that economy was necessary as a result of recent congressional action, the secretary discussed the effect of the policy.

"As the army exists today it consists of approximately two hundred and twenty thousand men," he said. "This number is to be reduced to one hundred and fifty thousand of whom probably one hundred thousand belong to the coast defense, the air, the chemical warfare and other similar and allied services, including its forces in Germany and in foreign possessions. This leaves a bare fifty thousand men to be distributed throughout the nine army areas made up of camps and stations.

"It is easy to understand under these circumstances why there must be a general shifting of forces that will result in at least a garrison force to act as caretaker of government property in each of the camps."

Referring to the force now at Hawaii, Secretary Weeks said:

"There is a good reason for these men being in Hawaii and a good reason for their staying there."

The secretary said he favored repeal of the war-time regulation that army officers should appear in uniform at all times.

ARMOURS ARE UNABLE TO STAGE COTTAGE WEDDING

LAKE FOREST, ILL., June 18.—Efforts to hold a "cottage wedding" in a palace failed here late today.

Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of the multimillionaire packer, and John J. Mitchell Jr., son of one of the nation's leading financiers, were married at Melody Farm, the vast estate of the Armours.

Mrs. Ogden Armour and her daughter did their best to keep the ceremony a quiet, simple affair, but the gorgeous Louis XVI room, a long hall of Italian marble carpeted with jade green, could only furnish the background to an elaborate wedding.

Three hundred guests, many of whom came out from Chicago in a special train, were present when Miss Armour, known as the democratic little rich girl, walked down the picturesque staircase on the arm of her father, to be given to "Jack" Mitchel, world war hero.

The service which united two of America's greatest fortunes, was read by Bishop Houman Page of Portland, Ore.

Much of the beautiful furniture was cleared from the spacious rooms and corridors of the Italian villa to make way for the reception which followed.

UNVEIL A BRONZE BUST OF PRESIDENT HARDING

NILES, OHIO, June 18.—Impressive ceremonies marked the unveiling here today of a bronze bust of President Warren G. Harding at the McKinley memorial.

From a platform in front of the memorial, addresses were made by Vice-President Coolidge, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Governor Harry L. Davis of Ohio and Congressman John G. Cooper of Youngstown. Secretary Davis delivered a message of harmony to employers and employees of America. Recalling the fact that more than twenty years ago he had worked as a puddler in a Niles steel mill, Mr. Davis said:

"My message to you is organize and work in harmony. Stop fighting and trying to put something over on each other. Stop advocating the doctrine of hatred for each other. You employees, call your employer the greatest employer in the world, and likewise, let the employer frankly say of his men that they are the best workmen in the world. By working together we will sell the world America's products. That is the only acceptable way of putting it over."

TRAINLOAD OF TEXANS ARE ENROUTE TO MEXICO

FORT WORTH, June 18.—With Mexico, land of senioritas, sunshine and scenery, business prospects and pre-prohibition atmosphere as objective, a trainload of Texas citizens pulled out of the T. & P. depot at 8.30 o'clock Saturday night.

A last minute demand for tickets featured the departure. Ed H. Byers of the Fort Worth freight bureau, who was in charge of the ticket sale, was forced to turn down a number of would-be passengers whose applications came too late. At the depot several men, anxious to make the trip to Mexico, offered double the trip fare if taken and were told if they could find room they would be taken. Space was lacking, however.

Practically every profession or business in Fort Worth was represented among the passengers of the special train. W. E. Buchanan of Denison, veteran conductor, directed the passengers to their places on the five cars.

PROMINENT MUSKOGEE MAN DEFENDANT IN $300,000 SUIT

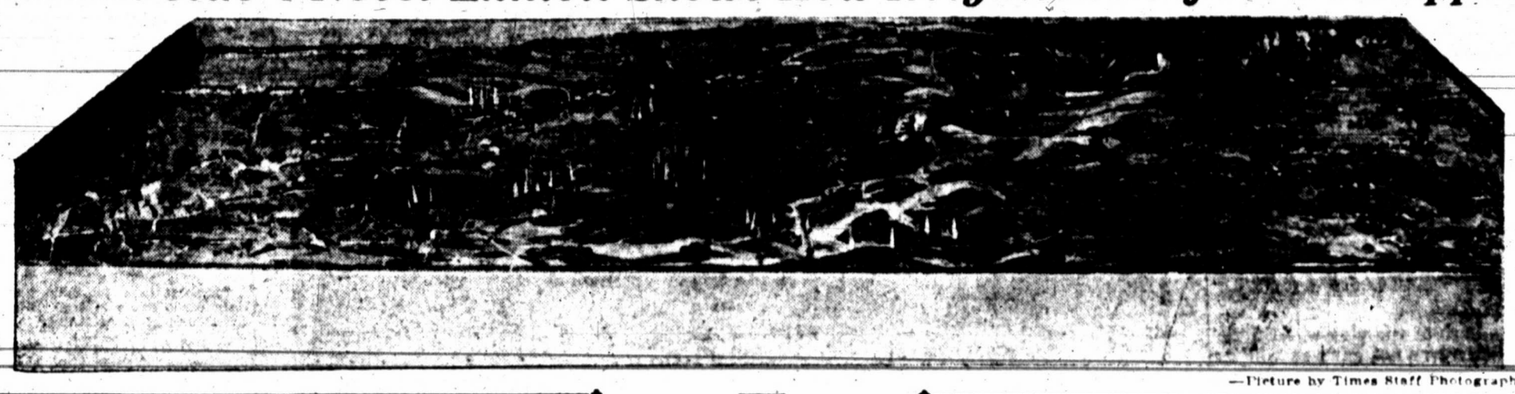

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., June 18.—R. T. Price, prominent coal operator of Oklahoma and president of the Muskogee chamber of commerce, was made chief defendant in a $300,000 damage suit filed in district court today by Brietag & Co., Ltd., a metals and commerce corporation of New York City; the Consolidated Fuel company, and American Coal company of Muskogee.

The plaintiff alleges Price, who was formerly manager and director of these companies, appropriated their funds and used them to operate coal companies which he himself controlled.

DETROIT, June 18.—Mrs. Elizabeth Lewen, 58 years old, was convicted of first degree murder by a jury in recorder's court late tonight in connection with the death last month of 1-year-old Max Ernest. She was sentenced to life imprisonment at the Detroit house of correction.

Kiwanis Club's Novel Exhibit Shows How Irrigation Project Will Appear

—Picture by Times Staff Photographer.

The above "bird's-eye view" of the Wichita Falls irrigation project was taken late Friday, shortly before the plaster of paris replica was shipped to the Kiwanis International convention to advertise this city's possibilities.

The replica gives a far better idea of the project as a whole than any map or description could. On the extreme right, almost surrounded by the hills, is the big storage lake, 16 times as big in area as Lake Wichita, and holding about 60 times as much water.

To the left of this, and down the Wichita river, appears the dam that will form the diversion lake, from which the irrigation canals go out on each side of the river. The diversion lake is about as large as Lake Wichita. The replica shows the main canals, including the two large ones that will convey water to Lake Wichita.

Wichita Falls, a group of inch-high "skyscrapers," is shown on the extreme left of the replica, and Iowa Park is also shown. The oil fields are indicated by groups of tiny derricks.

A. M. McPherson and J. C. Fagan prepared the replica, spending many patient hours on it, and arranging it as true to scale as was possible. It was then painted by Emil Hermann, well known portrait painter.

As shown at Cleveland, the model will have real water in the lake and flowing over the dams and down the streams and canals; so accurately are the contours placed that the water will flow in tiny streams no less surely than it will in the completed project.

Ben Neal, secretary of the Kiwanis club, is personally escorting the exhibit to Cleveland. Dr. M. W. Hoover, president of the club, is also attending the international convention.

URGES ELIMINATION OF THE FIRE HAZARDS

Effective Way of Reducing National Waste Wentworth Tells Credit Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Co-operation by local organizations of citizens to eliminate fire hazards in every municipality was urged as the only effective way of reducing our enormous national waste, in an address by Franklin H. Wentworth of Boston at the convention of the National Association of Credit Men here today. Taking as his subject "The Red Peril," Mr. Wentworth, who is secretary of the National Fire Protective association, said in part:

"We have already burned $112,000,000 of created resources in the first four months of this year. This leaves us but $138,000,000 for the remaining eight months to make up our annual ash heap of a quarter of a billion dollars, and there is little doubt that American carelessness will accomplish this shameful objective.

"There are optimists in America who state that we are reducing the fire waste because this average figure of $250,000,000 now represents inflated values. There is little comfort in that academic reflection. The present housing situation is too desperate for us to be so complacent over it.

"The mayor of a western city of 20,000 people told me recently that if one of its stores should burn the owner would be done for. There is not a vacant shed or shack in the city to hold a new stock of goods. The shortage of dwellings is equally acute. A burned out family has to leave town. Every fire in every other city of the country is bringing it so much nearer to a similar situation. Every fire in a dwelling or apartment house intensified an intolerable congestion or turns people into the streets.

"Every fire today is a crime against the whole people, a crime for which we should not withhold punishment. Every community today for its own preservation should bring swift legal reprisals against the person who has a preventable fire.

"In Europe a man who has a fire is looked upon as a public offender. In America he is looked upon as an unfortunate. People still imagine that the underwriters pay the loss, that they pay $250,000,000 a year out of their surplus and capital stock—and remain solvent! The fire waste touches the pocket of every man, woman and child in the nation. Every stock of goods is insured; the insurance is added to the cost of the goods, and when we buy a hat, or a shoe, or a coat, we pay this insurance concealed in the price of the goods.

"The attorney generals of half a dozen states have egiven it as their official opinion that under the American common law a man, whose negligence causes a fire, is liable for fire damage to his neighbor's house, but nobody thinks of bringing suit. The habit of mind that the insurance companies pay the loss is too strong. But in the personal liability idea of the French resides a companion thought that is permeating the American brain—idea of imposing a charge for the use of the fire department upon the man who disregards a fire prevention order.

"Fire departments are not maintained to protect a man from the results of his negligence, and when he calls upon the city in any such case he should be made to pay for the service.

"Considering the American psychology, an amazing success has been achieved in the last few years in gaining th erecognition of this principle. Already it has been written into the charter of the city of Greater New York, the state law of Pennsylvania, and the city ordinances of Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio; Portland, Ore.; Billings, Mont.; Austin, Texas, and Newark, N. J.

"But with all this progress on record the fire losses in America in 1920 were $321,000,000—eight million more than for the average year.

"There are men and women in every city willing to assist in this object if someone will take the initiative and tell them how they can help.

"The down town, high value portions of all cities can gradually be made proof against conflagration by quiet, effective work."

TWO MEN WHIPPED AND COAT TAR AND FEATHERS APPLIED

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 18.—Two men were whipped, tarred and feathered and ordered to leave town within 24 hours at Goose Creek, oil town near Houston, shortly before midnight tonight, according to an unconfirmed telephone report reaching here this morning.

oBth men were dumped out of autos at downtown corners by the masked men who seized them earlier in the evening. The attacks were not made at the same time, but one closely followed the other, the report said. The mob put a sign on one man's back declaring "This man whipped, tarred and feathered for the benefit of Goose Creek. He is a ——— and a nuisance to the community."

The other man was said to have been given 24 hours to leave town, but declared to his abductors he didn't need that much time.

LORD MAYOR OF CORK RETURNS TO IRELAND

Neither Date Nor Manner of His Departure Announced in This Country.

WASHINGTON, June 18 — Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, has arrived safely in Ireland, Michael Francis Doyle, his counsel, announced here today.

Neither the date nor manner of the departure of the lord mayor was announced. Immigration officials have no official knowledge of his departure, it was said at the department of labor, and according to the belief of Assistant Secretary Henning, he did not leave in "a regular manner."

Under a ruling of the department, O'Callaghan, who came to this country as a stowaway to testify before the commission of the committee of one hundred investigating conditions in Ireland, had until June 6 to reship as a seaman.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND HANDS WILL BE REQUIRED FOR THE KANSAS HARVEST

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—Demand for men to harvest the Kansas wheat crop were more urgent today, according to A. L. Barkman, field representative of the United States employment service. Twenty-five thousand hands will be required for the Kansas harvest, Mr. Barkman estimated. The standard wage continues at $4 a day with board.

PRISONER ON CHARGE OF BEING A GERM CARRIER

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 18.—Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner of Chicago, today was ordered to appear before the supreme court in habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Jennie Barmore of Chicago, whose attorney told the court the petitioner was a prisoner in her own home as an alleged "germ carrier."

Mrs. Barmore's petition says she was never sick from typhoid but that the health commissioner had decided that she always would be a germ carrier and therefore was subject to the control of the health department as long as she lived. No one, she says, is permitted to see her except her husband.

DENTAL EXAMINERS ARE NAMED BY THE GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, TEXAS, June 18.—Governor Neff today appointed the following as members of the state board of dental examiners:

Dr. R. L. Rogers, Amarillo, reappointed; Dr. G. P. Robertson, San Antonio; Dr. Ola Dee Sheffield, Rosebud. Dr. Sheffield is the first woman to be appointed as a member of the board of dental examiners.

The governor also announced the appointment of Oscar Frink of San Angelo as district attorney of the fifty-first judicial district to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of J. A. Thomas.

THREE OR FOUR INJURED WHEN A TRAIN WRECKS

WICHITA, KAN., June 18.—Three or four unknown men believed to be harvest hands are severely injured and another is pinioned underneath wreckage, gradually dying in sight of rescue workers at Tollerville, eight miles northeast of here, where a Missouri Pacific freight train was wrecked tonight, according to a statement given out at the office of the road.

CLEM KIER CONVICTED OF SECOND DEGREE MANSLAUGHTER

ELDORADO, KAN., June 18.—A verdict of second degree manslaughter was returned by a jury here late tonight against Clem Kier, on trial charged with murder in connection with the death of Roy Greenfield, an Eldorado taxicab driver, who was killed April 29, last. Kier is 20 years old.

CLARK IS REELECTED CHAIRMAN OF COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The interstate commerce commission announced today that E. E. Clark had been unanimously re-elected chairman.

GOVERNOR TO MAKE SERIES OF SPEECHES

Will Discuss Measures Mentioned in Proclamation for Special Session of Legislature.

AUSTIN, June 18.—Governor Neff announced today that he would take the stump and make a series of speeches in support of the measures mentioned in his proclamation calling the legislature in special session on July 18.

These subjects include the bill authorizing the removal of officers who fail or refuse to do their duty; repeal of the suspended sentence law; amendment to the prohibition act and abolishment of departments which overlap and duplicate.

The governor has not yet announced his itinerary. His first address, however, will be made at Palacios, Matagorda county, July 4.

"The more I see of public office life, the more am I impressed with the thought that a person is not qualified to hold an office of responsibility as the representative of the people who does not live close to the people," Governor Neff said, in explaining the purspeaking trip may not be of any special benefit to those who listen, but it will certainly be helpful in many ways to me. It will aid me in knowing the conditions and the need of the people generally and will help me from many angles to properly solve the problems in which they are interested. There is no schooling for public servants that is equal to that which comes from an intimate acquaintance and an exchange of ideas with those who compose the rank and file of our citizenship."

FORMER BANDIT LIVING CONTENTEDLY IN DURANGO AMONG 800 FOLLOWERS

WASHINGTON, June 18.—An official report today from a government agent who recently visited Francisco Villa's farm in Mexico said that the former bandit was living contentedly among 800 of his followers, who now form a farming colony of about 500,000 acres of land in northern Durango. In six months, the report said, the colony has 50,000 bushels of wheat ready for the market from several thousand acres under cultivation, planted also in corn, beans and vegetables.

Villa has started schools to accommodate 500 children and arranged with the Mexican government to provide teachers.

Villa is regarded by the colonists as chief and instructor, and the agent said he has taught honest work to hundreds of former marauders.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED AND PROWLERS TAKE $225 WORTH OF GOODS

A. B. Lipscomb of 1664 Lucile street reported to the city police at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night that his house had been burglarized during the family's absence and that the prowlers carried away about $225 worth of clothing.

The prowlers spent the most of their time in gathering up Mr. Lipscomb's son's clothing and took with them two overcoats, two suits of clothes, three silk shirts, two handbags and a sweater. A hurried invoice of the other goods in the house showed nothing else missing.

The man, however, rifled two trunks where Mr. Lipscomb's daughters kept all their wearing apparel and scattered it over the room.

It was reported that two young white men were seen loitering around the neighborhood earlier in the evening and police were dispatched at once to attempt to run down the prowlers.

ONLY TWO CLUBS IN MAJORS CAN BOAST OF MORE THAN ONE CONSISTENT TWIRLER

CHICAGO, June 18.—Lack of good pitching probably is costing half a dozen clubs in the two major leagues a chance to take part in the world series next fall, for, of the sixteen teams, only four have more than one regular hurler able to win consistently at present. Several clubs have tremendous batting or scoring strength and with effective pitchers any one of them apparently could make the pennant race a walkaway.

The two New York clubs, Cleveland in the American league and Pittsburgh in the National league are the only teams able to boast of a pitching staff with as many as two effective regulars. Many clubs have several men on their staffs credited with more victories than defeats, but they are mostly players who have been in only one or two games and are not regulars.

The records show that there is not a club able to boast of the star pitching staffs of a few years ago such as Brown, Pfeister, Overall and Ruelbach of the Chicago Cubs, Mathewson, McGinnity, Wiltse and Ames of the Giants, Bender, Coombs, Waddell and Plank of the Athletics, Walsh, White and Altrock of the White Sox, or James, Rudolph and Tyler of the Boston Braves' miracle team."

Giants Have Best Staff.

The New York Giants have Benton, Toney, Nehf and Douglas to bear the brunt of the hurling and each of these has won more games than he has lost. Perritt and Barnes also have done their share, giving the Giants the best pitching staff in either league so far as the number of effective men is concerned.

Pittsburgh has Hans Adams, Wilmot Cooper and Earl Hamilton, three veterans, doing good work, with Glazner, a recruit, leading all of them in the percentage column and Zinn filling in.

For Brooklyn, Grimes has been the only steady winner. Mitchell, Mamaux and Reuther have managed to break about even in their games, but their work has been erratic.

The rest of the National league clubs boast of little in a pitching way. Chicago's staff undoubtedly will improve later when Vaughn and Alexander return to form, but both are out now with lame arms. None of the other clubs has a pitcher who has been able to return more victories than defeats.

In the American league, Cleveland, the world's champion, has Coveleskie, considered one of the best in the circuit, Bagby, who won more games than any other hurler last season, Mails, the sensation of the closing days of the 1920 schedule, and Uhle, who seems at last to have found himself. Mails, however, has not been so effective as last year and Uhle is not yet ranked as a topnotcher.

Mays Keeps Yankees Up.

The New York Yankees have had to depend almost entirely on Mays, with Pierce, Ferguson and Hoyt, all recruits and Shawkey, a veteran, winning a majority of their games. Detroit's best work has been done by Sutherland, a recruit. St. Louis has only one man—Schocker—who can be said to have a fair chance of even lasting through a game, while Faber has been the only pitcher able to win consistently for the rebuilt White Sox. Sam Jones carries Boston's burden in the box while Zachary is the only man Washington can depend on with Walter Johnson on the shelf with a sore arm. Philadelphia has no one.

Thus, a majority of the clubs have only one man pitching staffs. Detroit, with a powerful all around team outside the box, would have an easy time winning the pennant. It is generally believed Ty Cobb could find a pitcher or two. The New York Yankees have a hitting team and a pitcher or two would put them in a fair way of winning. St. Louis, long a second division club, is generally able to pound out enough runs to win if only its own pitchers could hold the opposition. The White Sox look like world beaters with Faber in the box, but without him they are hopeless. And so on through the leagues. The records show more good base running clubs, more teams with powerful attacks and fewer good pitching staffs than in many years.

CARPENTIER CUTS LOOSE IN PRIVATE

None of His Sparring Partners Able to Lay a Glove On Him.

MANHASSETT, N. Y., June 18.—Georges Carpentier showed his real class in secret training here today.

The pugilist who went five fast rounds in his scheduled training ring here was a different man than the stalling, bowligh carpentier of his public workouts.

Georges cut loose with some real fast work, something the scribes have found missing in his exhibitions. None of his sparring partners could put a glove on him.

Marcel Denis, the French lightweight, went two rounds with Georges, trying to score on the challenger with rights in imitation of Dempsey. Georges stepped away and the blows caught only the empty air.

Then Carpentier called for Italian Joe Gans, possessor of a powerful left hook and practiced his peculiar defense for that blow. After Gans cumbersome Paul Journee took on the French champion. Carpentier came into close quarters and let Journee cut loose with everything he had in the way of infighting, without taking a solid blow anywhere but on his gloves.

Carpentier fought today with the crouch he will use against Dempsey, his chin well tucked in behind his left shoulder and his right held high and ready for straight counters. When the public has been admitted, Georges has boxed nearly upright, and the change today was pronounced.

DEMPSEY TRYING TO INCREASE SPEED

(Written for the United Press by Jack McAuliffe.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.—Dempsey turned his attention to speed this afternoon.

He is following a good schedule in working out one day with heavyweights and the next day with little fellows.

Against the heavyweights he has been showing that he has his fighting machine going well, that he is even better puncher than he was against Willard.

Against the lightweights today he showed that he is faster on his feet and quicker with his hands. He had no trouble reaching Patsy Cline, Joe Benjamin and Eddie O'Hare, three fast boys who can box.

Dempsey is not trying to box with them. He is working to get his wind and improve his footwork.

Physically, Dempsey is improving every day. His wind is much better than it was when he resumed work and he breathed much more easily this afternoon when he went at an unusually fast pace for six rounds. However, he still needs some tightening up. He ought to cut down his food and dry up a little bit. He's not fat, but "loose" inside.

MRS. BOULANGER SAYS SHE MET DEMPSEY CASUALLY, DENIES OTHER STATEMENTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—The Mrs. Boulanger, in whose divorce case Jack Dempsey has been named, was said today by a local attorney to be here and employed in a cafeteria. The attorney said Mrs. Boulanger had consulted him about her case and had denied the allegations relating to Dempsey. The attorney said Mrs. Boulanger had known Dempsey as a child in Oklahoma and had met him here casually during his recent visit to the coast, but that she denied any further statements contained in the divorce complaint.

TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED AND ANOTHER IS SOUGHT IN DANIEL F. KABER CASE

CLEVELAND, June 18.—Two men, one under arrest and the other still sought, were indicted today at a special session of the county grand jury for the murder of Daniel F. Kaber, in his Lakewood home, nearly two years ago.

The men are Salvatore Cala, 31, of Cleveland, under arrest at Buffalo, N. Y., and Vittorio Pisegilli, named by Cala as the man who stabbed Kaber to death. Pisegilli has not been captured and a country-wide search was started immediately.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE TITLE TO ILLINOIS

Texas A. & M. Showing is Disappointing—East Wins Two Mile Relay.

CHICAGO, June 18.—An evenly balanced team which scored points in ten of fifteen events without capturing a single first place today brought national honors to the University of Illinois by carrying off first place in the national collegiate athletic association meet at Stagg Field, a contest open only to champion athletes and entered by more than three score of the country's colleges and universities.

Illini through second, third, fourth and fifth place points gathered a total of 26½. Notre Dame was close behind with 18½, and Iowa took third place. Fourth place went to the five man team of the University of Washington, which had been looked on as almost a sure first place finisher. While central western schools, with a preponderance of entries, outranked the east, far west and south in point totals, the east and west furnished the individual stars of the meet and it was their work which brought the greatest cheers from the 15,000 spectators, the largest audience that ever witnessed a track and field meet in Chicago.

Earl Thompson of Dartmouth equaled his own world a record of 0:14.4 in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Pope High Individual.

The Pacific coast furnished the individual point winner in Pope of Washington, a weight man, whose stature made central western and eastern huskies look like pygmies. Pope took first in the shot put and in the discus throw for ten points. Hannah of Stanford took first in the javelin throw with a mark of 191 feet 2½ inches.

Welch of Georgia Tech with a tie for first in the pole vault and Skidmore of the University of the South, with fourth in the shot put did the best work of the southern entries.

Probably the greatest event of the day was the two-mile run which proved to be an east-west clash, with the east victorious. Romig of Pennsylvania State stepped into the lead from the start and held it all the way, with Wharton of Illinois ten yards behind most of the distance. With two hundred yards to go Wharton started a dash that finally overtook the easterner, but Romig in a beautiful sprint swept into the front again. Wharton staggered and fell across the line. He could not be revived for several minutes.

The Texas A. and M. team proved somewhat of a disappointment, obtaining only one point, whereas it had been considered virtually sure of eight or ten.

Following is the official points in the national collegiate track meet:

Illinois 26½, Notre Dame 18½, Iowa 14, University of Washington 12½, Wisconsin 10, Nebraska 9, Grinnell 7, Northwestern 6, Ohio State 6, Ames 5½, Dartmouth 5, Chicago 5, Kansas Aggies 5, Michigan 5, Pennsylvania University 5, Penn State 5, Pittsburgh 5, Stanford 4, Minnesota 4, Oregon 3, Washington State 2½, Yale 2½, Georgia Tech 2½, Knox 2½, Baylor 2, Syracuse 1½, Texas A. and M. 1, Rice Institute 1, Ohio Wesleyan 1½.

Hollingsworth Knocks Buffs Off the Top Rung By Airtight Twirling

One Ezra Hollingsworth was the hero of the play at Athletic park yesterday afternoon. Though Ezra was not quite as wild as the average hawk, he was as hard to do business with as the same flighty creature, and though he was hit rather freely by his opponents they never had a chance with men on the sacks. The score of the first game of the series with the Huston Buffs was 6 to 1, with the Whiteman warriors getting such faint consolation as might be had from the minor digit. Incidentally, the Spudders toppled the invaders from the top rung of the Texas league and put them one full game behind the Panthers who once again forged into the lead by defeating the Sand Crabs.

"Lefty" Potts was the box incumbent for the visitors and he stuck through some lusty swatting, though the fielding by his mates did not offer him much encouragement. The locals wasted no time on preliminaries, but went after him from the opening gong and kept up piling up runs. In the field they performed like champions, Tex McDonald showing the way in this particular phase of the pastime. He made several scintillating stops in addition to cutting off a couple of runs at the plate by accurate pegging.

Danny Gross showed the way with the willow. The youngster poled out three safe swats, including a double, and delivered his blows when they were needed. Griggs and Clark also hit the ball in timely fashion. As usual, Bescher's base running was an important factor in the victory.

"Holly" sent eleven Buffs back to the bench via the whiff route and most of these came when there were men on the sacks. The catapult shooter did not extend himself except with runners on the bags, but every time he put on the brakes it was all day with the invaders. The detailed score:

First Inning.

HOUSTON. Baggan walked and took second on Bailey's sacrifice. Hollingsworth balked and Baggan was waved to third; Whiteman drove a sharp grounder at McDonald who returned the ball to Kitchens and Baggan was out sliding into the plate. Whiteman was pegged out at second a moment later trying to steal. No runs, no hits, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Bescher was given four wide ones and went to second when Gross singled to center. Whiteman juggled the ball in trying to return it and Bescher made third safely from where he scored when Rothfuss was thrown out, Blades to Bottomley. Clark popped to Doyle and McDonald flew to Baggan. One run, one hit, one error.

Second Inning.

HOUSTON. Snappy fielding nipped another Buff score in this session. Bottomley walked and went to second on Doyle's single to center. Darringer tried to sacrifice, but Hollingsworth took his bunt and threw Bottomley out at third. Gross made a pretty stop of Blade's grounder and forced Darringer at second, Doyle taking third. Elffert whiffed. No runs, one hit, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS. Miller's drive went over Whiteman's head in center for a triple, and he scored a moment later on Griggs's single to left. Kitchens struck out. Hollingsworth was almost out on a foul, but Bottomley fell down before getting under it, and Holly later walked. Bescher went out to Bottomley, unassisted. Gross went out, Darringer to Bottomley. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning.

HOUSTON — Gross took Potts' grounder and threw it badly to first, but Griggs saved the play with a handsome stop. Baggan punched a Texas leaguer into left field and stole second with the assistance of a bum peg by Kitchens. Bailey popped to Gross. Whiteman grounded to McDonald who made nice work of a difficult chance. No runs, one hit, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS — Rothfuss' bunt went straight into Bottomley's hands. Clark swung three times in vain. McDonald flied to Baggan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

HOUSTON. The Buffs edged into the score column this time. Rothfuss played Bottomley's drive poorly, and it got away for three bases. Doyle's drive went through Gross' legs for a lucky single, Bottomley scoring. Darringer and Blades struck out. Doyle went out, Kitchens to Clark. One run, two hits, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS. Miller flied to center, Griggs looked at the third one, and Kitchens went out swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

HOUSTON—Houston looked dangerous again, but was nipped in time. Elffert singled to center. Potts tried to sacrifice, but was safe on Griggs' error. Baggan advanced both runners on a sacrifice, McDonald to Griggs, Bailey grounded to McDonald, who threw to Kitchens, nabbing Elffert at the plate. Potts went to third. Whiteman forced Bailey at second. No runs, one hit, one error.

WICHITA FALLS — Hollingsworth went out, Blades to Bottomley. Bescher walked and a few seconds later was camping on third, the throw to catch him stealing going into center field. Gross delivered the pinch, a bingle to left, scoring Bescher. Rothfuss beat out a bunt down the third base line, Gross going to third on the play. Clark laid down a perfect bunt, and was safe, Gross scoring on the play. McDonald forced Clark at second. McDonald stole second while Potts held the ball. Miller went out, Doyle to Bottomley. Two runs, three hits, one error.

Sixth Inning.

HOUSTON—Bottomley struck out. Doyle caught one on the handle of his bat, sending it to right for a single. Darringer fanned. Blades walked, and Elffert fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Griggs singled to left and Kitchens singled through Doyle. Hollingsworth fanned, and Griggs was thrown out trying to steal third. Bescher was safe at first when Doyle's throw was high. Gross again delivered the pinch, scoring Kitchens, Bescher taking third. On a delayed double steal, Bescher scored and Gross took second. Elffert threw to second to catch Gross, who had taken a big lead and Danny sprinted for third, being safe when the throw to that base caught him in the back. Rothfuss popped to Blades. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

HOUSTON—Houston filled the bases with two down, but nobody delivered. Potts fanned, Baggan walked, Bailey popped to Gross. Whiteman singled to right, Baggan taking second. Bottomley walked, filling the bases. Doyle forced Bottomley at second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Clark doubled to the right field fence and remained on second while McDonald popped to Bailey, Miller pop-fouled to Elffert and Griggs went out, Blades to Bottomley. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning

HOUSTON—Darringer struck out for the third time. Blades struck out for the second time. Elffert varied the monotony by singling through Gross. Then Potts struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

WICHITA FALLS—Kitchens went out, Darringer to Bottomley. Hollingsworth struck out. Bescher filed to Baggan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning

HOUSTON—Baggan filed to Rothfuss. Bailey fanned. Whiteman died on a grounder to Clark. No runs, no hits, no errors.

BABE RUTH MAKES BASEBALL HISTORY WITH RECORD HIT

In a game with the Detroit Tigers at the Polo Grounds, New York, Babe Ruth, the home run king of all times, drove the ball into the center field bleachers for his twenty-third home run of the season. The ball landed 470 feet from the home plate, a drive never before equaled in the history of baseball. The "Babe" broke the record he had established on the previous day, when he clouted the ball into the same stands for a distance of 460 feet. Another record he had established was driving out seven home runs in five consecutive days.

GALVESTON 1, FT. WORTH 4

FORT WORTH, June 18.—Fort Worth gained first place in the Texas league by defeating Galveston today 4 to 1, while the Wichita Falls Spudders were trimming the Houston Buffs. Long hits enabled the locals to beat Couchman, although the Crab hurler pitched good ball, his fielding was poor in the pinches. Haley and Hoffman tore boards off the local wall with terrrific triples. Score:

KEARNS AND JERSEY COMMISSION AT ODDS

Selection of Referee For Coming Bout at Jersey City Is Bone of Contention.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.—"We will call off the fight before we will submit to dictation of the selection of a referee," Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, declared tonight.

"There will be a New Jersey official in the ring or there will be no fight," said Commissioner Lyons of the state boxing commission, who arrived here unexpectedly this afternoon.

The fact that the commission had come here, however, was accepted as meaning there would be a compromise. Reports were being circulated that Harry Ertle would be dropped and that an agreement would be reached on "Slim" Brennan of Jersey City as referee.

The commissioners, however, maintained they had only come here on a pleasure trip and did not intend to talk to Kearns. They declared the referee would not be named before next week.

Kearns Wants Even Break.

"All I want is an even break," Kearns said. "I am willing to have a Jersey man for referee, but I want the commission to certify a list of licensed referees. I would even be willing to have the name drawn from a hat. In the past the champion has always had something to say about the referee, and Dempsey is going to this time.

All that Lyons would add to his statement was that "the commission has the right by law to name the referee."

The champion gave his heavyweight sparring partners a rest this afternoon and took on Patsy Cline, Joe Benjamin and Eddie O'Hare, the latter a new middleweight addition.

Jack worked two fast three-minute rounds with each. His speed impressed a crowd of several hundred spectators, including many women. Dempsey had no trouble in reaching the speedy lightweights, but pulled all his punches and seemed to be trying for footwork and wind.

O'Hare, a rugged boy and a great boxer, gave Dempsey the best workout of the afternoon. The champion put more force into his blows against him.

Bill Brennan, who has been basking in the limelight since he stayed twelve rounds with Dempsey last winter, was one of the spectators.

"He's looking great," Brennan said. "He ought to beat Carpentier without trouble. No heavyweight in the game can stand up before Dempsey's short body punches. Carpentier is too frail to take them."

CINCINNATI, June 18.—The Phillies today stopped the Reds, who had won four straights, by sloughing Buddy Napier for five hits and five runs in the fourth inning. SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Let's hit that .500 mark today if its only for a few minutes. It must be a grand and glorious feeling.

The Buffs looked like anything but champions in their first matinee, but there may be a different story today.

Today's the last chance the fans will have to see the Spudders perform for 21 long days. They'll probably be given a royal sendoff. Their work during the home stay entitles them to it. They have played championship ball if any club ever did.

They looked more like pennant winners than the Buffs did yesterday. They made only one bobble in the field and that was an excusable error by Griggs. The base runner kept him from getting both hands on the ball.

George Whiteman hasn't got through talking yet about the decision rendered against his club in Fort Worth Friday. If his version is correct, and we are inclined to believe it is, he certainly was handed a raw deal. He is quoted as saying that the coacher ran from his box and put his arms around a runner, yet Umpire Schaeffer waved him back to the bag and called him safe. Even the fawest amateur knows that such a decision is incorrect. Whiteman was also forcibly ejected from the park for no reason at all.

He also contends that Umpire Miller continually kept Dick Robertson in the hole and that Dick was banished unjustly. In other words, he claims that everything possible was done to weaken his club and give the Panthers the advantage. That's a rather rash inference for a manager to make, but it is a well known fact that the Panthers are the worst losers around the circuit and that it is almost impossible to beat them on their own grounds, especially with a certain umpire working.

Doak Roberts saw the game in question and it will be interesting to see if anything is done.

The Elks will not play the top-notchers of the City league even if they are fortunate enough to be on the top rung of the Twilight league July 4. They have a series of games with Electra one of which will be played on the Fourth. Despite their 10 to 1 win over the Pond Laundry last week they failed to go to the top as the Methodists tied the University club. Nevertheless, they expect to be there on the holiday.

The first of the famous Red Sox outfield has been shipped to the minors. Duffy Lewis, though still a wonderful fielder, failed to come through with the willow for the senators and he was let go to the Coast league. Outfields may come and outfields may go, but it is doubtful if any has ever equalled that one which included Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper.

Duffy's release to the minors marked the passing of the third big league star of former years within a couple of weeks. The others were Eddie Murphy, who was shipped by the Indians to Columbus and Dode Paskert who went from the Reds to the Kansas City Blues.

Have you noticed the new straw hats that all the Spudders are sporting? That's what they received for knocking the Crabs under three out of four. Salm's dolling them up for the road trip.

Two More Records Broken by Paddock

PASADENA, CAL., June 18.—Charles W. Paddock broke the world's record for the 90 and 110-yard runs and tied the record for 100 yards at tryouts held here today for the national A. A. U. championship meet, according to the official timing. He made 90 yards in 8 4-5 seconds, 100 yards in 9 3-5 and 110 yards in 10 1-5.

The accepted records for the distances are 9 1-5, 9 3-5 and 10 4-5 seconds, respectively. The tryouts were held for southern California athletes under the personal supervision of Robert S. Weaver, A. A. U. president.

Paddock's time for the three distances was caught in the 110-yard dash, tapes being stretched at 90 and 100 yards as well as at the finish.

TO HEAR PROTEST OF FIRST NATIONAL TEAM

One of the important matters that will be brought up before the executive committee of the City league at a special meeting Tuesday night in the Southern Electric store will be the protest of the First Nationals over the game scheduled between them and the Wichita Motors yesterday.

Representatives of the Motors claim that their team was on the ground at the starting hour and that after waiting for more than a half an hour for the bank boys to show up, Umpire Shay forfeited the game to them. The First Nationals immediately filed a protest with Jack Bristol and he decided that the best way out would be to call a meeting of the league.

The game in question is an important one as the Motors are leading the league with the First Nationals close upon their heels in third place.

SPUDDERS AND BUFFS WILL NOT MEET HERE TOMORROW MORNING

Houston Club Crosses Salm and Game Is Postponed to Some Future Date.

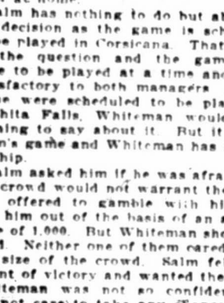

There'll be no game here Monday morning. George Whiteman put one over on Skipper Salm yesterday and the contest will be played on some future date. It happened thusly: Several days ago Walter got in touch with Ackerman, the Houston secretary, and the latter said that it would be O. K. to play the game Monday morning. Since that time the Buffs dropped three to the Panthers and when they hit town yesterday Whiteman claimed that Ackerman had no authority to say when the game would be played. Ackerman said that Whiteman told him to call the game off Friday. Whiteman says he told Ackerman not to schedule it several days ago. Somebody's handling the truth at an angle of about 45 degrees, it would seem.

However, it all simmers down to this—the Buffs have started skidding and Whiteman knows it. The Spudders are going at top form and at present are the most dangerous club in the league. Whiteman also knows this. Consequently, he wants the game put off until later in the season when the conditions may be reversed. It is his contention that if the game is played here Monday morning his athletes will have to spend the night on the train and won't be in A-1 condition when they open at home.

Salm has nothing to do but abide by his decision as the game is scheduled to be played in Corsicana. That is out of the question and the game will have to be played at a time and place satisfactory to both managers. If the game were scheduled to be played in Wichita Falls, Whiteman would have nothing to say about it. But it is not Salm's game and Whiteman has him on the hip.

Salm asked him if he was afraid that the crowd would not warrant the game and offered to gamble with him and pay him out of the basis of an attendance of 1,000. But Whiteman shook his head. Neither one of them cared about the size of the crowd. Salm felt confident of victory and wanted the game. Whiteman was not so confident and did not care to take any chances.

Kraft Passes Eibel in Texas League Batting Race, Rothfuss Climbs

By WILLIAM B. RUGGLES
Official Statistician, Texas League.

Clarence Kraft, the mauling first-sacker of the champion Panthers, reached the peak of Texas league batting last week, wresting the lead from the rugged Hack Eibel of Shreveport "Big Boy" had a five-point lead over Eibel through Wednesday's games, 396 to .391. The only .400 hitter left is Bill Bolden, the Houston pitcher. Thirty-one .300 or better hitters were listed, including several newcomers. Pete Lapan's feat Wednesday in hitting safe in six times at bat brought him back in the charmed circle. Harry Rothfuss, the hard-hitting Spudder collegian, is headed back to the top, while Frank Blades, the Buffs' speed marvel, is within reach of the leaders. Kraft, with 91 hits through Wednesday's games, should easily make his century inside of the week.

Barfoot Displaces Johns.

Clyde Barfoot, the brilliant right-hander of the Houston club, has displaced young Lefty Johns as the leading winning pitcher of the league. His average of .769 is easily the best on the circuit. Barfoot, Johns and Knight of Galveston share the honor of having won 10 games each this season. Wachtel leads in innings pitched, 126, and Bill Bailey in strikeouts, although the Beaumont left-hander has not won half his games. Conley is still the league marvel in control. Kraft vs. Eibel

LEONARD PREFERS TO SEE HEAVYWEIGHTS

But Manager Gibson Decrees Otherwise And He Will Defend His Own Title July 2.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., June 18—Benny Leonard, world champion light weight fighter, would rather see Dempsey-Carpentier fight than make $15,000 for thirty minutes work, but Benny's manager, Billy Gibson, has decreed otherwise. So, Leonard, instead of watching the fight, will do some fighting himself more than a thousand miles from the heavyweight clash however.

Leonard will fight Sailor Freedman of Chicago here July 4, and will arrive two weeks earlier to begin training.

In a letter to a friend, Leonard says: "I had my heart set on seeing Dempsey and Carpentier, but Billy—who is both pal and manager to me—thought I'd better go west and box this Freedman fellow. I don't care about the $15,000—what's that in my young life?—but Billy doesn't want to give any one a chance to say I'm dodging them, so the Freedman fight for me.

"Incidentally, while I don't know much about this Freedman boy, I'm not going to take chance like I did with Charley White. I'm going to be in condition this time, and the fight won't last long if I have my way."

Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons is gambling to the extent of $35,000 on the Leonard-Freedman fight, which comes two days after the heavyweight title clash. Leonard has been guaranteed $15,000 and Freedman's guarantee, with taxes and expenses will bring the total expenditures to about $35,000.

The arena where the fight will be held will seat 20,000 and the prices will range from $3 to $15.

WILLIE MEEHAN HAS EYE ON JACK DEMPSEY'S TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Willie Meehan, San Francisco heavyweight, who claims two decisions over Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, has attempted a comeback, after a short retirement, and has left for points beyond the Rocky Mountains to fill four boxing engagements.

Bob Martin, heavyweight champion of the A. E. F. will be one of Meehan's opponents. They are scheduled to go twelve rounds June 28 at Columbus. Tommy Gibbons is on Meehan's schedule for twelve rounds June 22 at Cleveland and Jack McCoy at Boston for twelve rounds at Casper, Wyo., July 4. Meehan's first bout on the trip will be against Andy Schuman, formerly a navy champion, at Omaha, June 20.

Meehan hopes to get back to a position where he can meet Dempsey for the championship.

VERNON GOLF TOURNAMENT PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

VERNON, TEXAS, June 18.—Enthusiastic participation on the part of club members has featured the golf tournament in progress at Hill Crest Country club in Vernon, and most of the second round of play has been completed. There have been but few forfeits thus far, and even those with little experience are testing their abilities with driver and putter. The ground has been dragged and is in good condition since the recent rains.

VERNON SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE COMPLETES SCHEDULE

VERNON, TEXAS, June 18.—A complete set of rules governing the Vernon Sunday school league has been drawn up and the schedule for the remainder of the season completed. There are no officers in the organization. The games will be played at the rate of two a week, and the last will be played September 1.

MRS. EDWIN FOLK WINS JERSEY TENNIS TITLE

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 18.—Mrs. Edwin Folk, New York, defeated Mrs. C. B. Hitchens, Mexico City, Mexico, in the finals of the New Jersey state tennis championship at the Englewood field club here today. The score was 6-1, 6-4.

COMPETING TODAY IN ENGLAND —By Wood Cowan

The international polo matches, which are being played today in England, are the revival of a pre-war event. The last match was held in this country and resulted in a British victory.

Polo, because of the expense connected with it, is a rich man's game. But it is certainly one of the most thrilling and interesting games imaginable, to watch. No game moves faster than polo.

Devereux Milburn, who captains the pony American team, has played in every international match since 1909, when we first won the cup. He is 40—which is not so young for so strenuous a game as polo.

Another veteran of past international polo encounters upon whom we must rely is "Tenby"—his 17-year-old polo pony, whose knowledge of the game makes up for his age. For a pony must know polo as well as his rider. He must know when to wheel, when to turn his head out of the club's way; he must follow the ball and keep to the left of it, and be quick to obey a command. All these things has Tenby. But his wind is getting bad, so Milburn intends to work him for five minutes of fierce competition, and then he must give way to a younger horse. But that five minutes may mark the margin of victory.

RUTH'S SWATTING IS FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Bambino Boosts Average 26 Points But Heilman is Still on Top; Hornsby Leads National.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Babe Ruth and Wee Dickie Kerr, White Sox pitcher, share the honors in the American league averages released today, which include games of Wednesday, for Babe broke all hitting records and Kerr stopped the mighty slugger when he seemed on an endless homerun streak.

Ruth shattered all records by driving out seven homers in five games, one establishing a new mark for distance, its estimated length being 470 feet, and gathered enough shorter hits to bring his average from .349 to .375. This placed him well to the front in the players who have been in 30 or more games. Then he faced Kerr and his homerun streak was broken. Ruth had 23 homers up to Wednesday and was 16 days ahead of last season's mark.

All the leaders of a week ago suffered slight batting slumps except Ruth. Harry Heilmann of Detroit lost nine points, but continued to hold the lead with a mark of .451, while Tris Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland world's champions, continued to be the runner-up with .414 despite the fact he dropped three points. Ty Cobb lost seven notches and is behind Spoke with .394, while George Sisler, the St. Louis star, is trailing the Georgia peach with .390, eight points below last week's mark.

The St. Louis star, however, broke up the merry race for stolen base honors which Rice and Harris of Washington were having a week ago. Sisler has passed the pair and is leading with 14 thefts. The Washington pair failed to add to their string during the past week and have a dozen each.

Hornsby Pushed by Matz.

Austin McHenry, the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, is making rapid strides toward the top among the National league batters and is pushing his teammate, Rogers Hornsby, for the lead. Hornsby suffered a slight slump in hitting and dropped from .424 a week ago to .416, which retains for him the lead, however. McHenry boosted his average from .342 to .401, only 15 points behind Hornsby. Leslie Mann and Jacques Fournier, two other Cardinals, went on batting rampages during the week, the former tacking on 26 points for an average of .383, while the Frenchman advanced 18 points for fourth place with an average of .368.

Emil Meusel, the slugging Philadelphian outfielder, is topping the National league circuit drive hitters with 11 round trip smashes, having added one to his string during the past week. Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgh outfielder, is showing his old-time form on the paths and has snatched the lead from Frisch of New York for stolen base honors, having pilfered three sacks in the last week and now has a total of 13 while the New Yorker is trailing with 12.

Other leading batters: Hargrave, Cincinnati, .363; Young, New York, .362; Maranville, Pittsburgh, .358; Bressler, Cincinnati, .357; Tierney, Pittsburgh, .352; Grimes, Chicago, .351; J. Miller, Philadelphia, .348; Johnston, Brooklyn, .346; Meusel, Philadelphia, .346; Sullivan, Chicago, .346.

Association Batters Slump.

The pitchers of the American association have put a crimp in the batting averages of Butler of Kansas City, who has dropped from .441 a week ago to .418. He still leads the league, however. Hauser of Milwaukee also slumped, but continues his position as runner-up to the Kansas City slugger with an average of .392, while Lear, another Milwaukeean, remained in third place with .390 despite a slight falling off in hitting. Reird of Indianapolis fared well with the stick and boosted himself to fourth place with a mark of .390.

Faird also displayed some speed on the bases during the past week and has taken the lead for stolen base honors from Del Gainer of Milwaukee. Baird stole four bases and ran his string to 18, while Gainer swiped two, his total being 15.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City has tied Reb Russell of Minneapolis for the homerun honors of the league. Russell failed to add to his total a week ago, while Brief crashed out a four-ply blow. They are tied with 11 each.

Other leading batters: High, Columbus, .389; Gainer, Milwaukee, 385; Brief, Kansas City, 382; Kirke, Louisville, 377; Good, Kansas City, 357; Fisher, Minneapolis, 356; Ellis, Louisville, 348; Russell, Minneapolis, 348; Thorpe, Toledo, 346.

Harper Passes Lelivelt.

Western league pitchers fared better against Jack Lelivelt of Omaha than they did against Harper of Oklahoma City and, as a result, the Oklahoma slugger has stepped to the head of the list of batters in the Tierney circuit with an average of .421, a gain of 29 points. He was in third place a week ago. Lelivelt dropped off 15 points, but is the runner-up to Harper with an average of .402, while Robertson of Joplin, runner-up a week ago, is third with a mark of .383.

Beck of Wichita failed to add to his homerun record of last week, but is out in front with a dozen four-base drives, while W. L. Haney of Omaha added three stolen bases to his string and is showing the way on the paths with 18 thefts.

Other leading batters: Todt, Tulsa, .349; Davis, Tulsa, .349; East, Wichita, .348; Metz, Sioux City, .342; Massey, Omaha, .342; Walker, Joplin, .337; Butler, Wichita, .336.

Brown Pressing Boone.

Don Brown of Little Rock, who tried out with the Chicago Cubs this spring, is swinging the ash in the Southern association in major league form and as a result is pressing T. M. Boone of New Orleans for the leadership among the batters. Brown is hitting for an average of .372, while Boone is leading the league in President Martin's circuit with .378. McLarry of Memphis also struck a batting stride and is third with .340. Bogart of Nashville, who made such rapid strides a week ago, advanced another notch and is in fourth place with .333.

Bernsen of Birmingham is leading the league in homeruns with nine, while Stewart, a teammate, has taken the lead for stolen base honors with 23 thefts, one in front of Traynor, another teammate.

Other leading batters: Harper, Little Rock, .352; Land, Little Rock, .338; Traynor, Birmingham, .336; McMillan, Memphis, .335; Guyon, Atlanta, .335; Brungting, Memphis, .334.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright 1920 New York Tribune Inc.)

LONDON, ENGLAND, June 18.

Bigotry and intolerance still play their part in human affairs. One nation can't understand why other nations should think differently about the same subject. The English can't see baseball and we can't see cricket.

Therefore, to the American, cricket is a terrible thing and to the English baseball is even worse. Whereas, both happen to be very fine games for the people who play them and know them.

For a golf course the British believe largely in dips and knobs, sharp rises and deep hollows down the middle of their fairways. Neither of their courses do, and they string with nature. The British idea is that one should know how to play from every type of terrain.

We can see their idea to a certain extent, but we like the American way better, where fairways, if rolling, are at least not nearly so bumpy.

To us it looks to be fairer golf. One man gets a fine drive and is left with a level lie. The opponent, just as straight, drives five yards further and has to use a mashie in place of a brassie to clear some sudden, abrupt upheaval in the soil. Luck plays a big enough factor as it is. It would be well enough to have these abrupt dips and rises to the right and left of the course, with the middle left open.

There is far from being any strong unanimity between countless golfers in Great Britain and the ruling committee. The disagreement is frequently wide, but the R. and A. rules with an iron hand. There is deep dissatisfaction in many quarters over retaining the present list of championship courses, many of which are considered out of date. We are not here offering the opinions of Americans, but of British players. But there will probably be no change for some time to come, despite the fact that some of the greatest British courses, courses much better than types such as Hoylake and Deal, are not on the list.

There is still another difference. To the British the most skillful shot in golf is the pitch and run. To the American it is the backspin approach close against the pin. Your courses, remarked Grantland Rice, are just built for our best type of play, and they put both forms of golf to the test. I prefer the American, but that has more than a little to do with the failure on both sides where each is in the enemy country. I could not use the pitch and run effectively at the Engineers Club, and that accounts largely for my downfall there.

In spite of these differences, the international debate will be continued. Travis, Hilton Nardin and Ray have proved that these handicaps can be overcome by the six-ring golfer. The British have three championship victories in America to one in England, but that doesn't mean that America will cease firing or that Great Britain is satisfied with her success.

The three greatest courses in Great Britain today are Westward Ho, Prestwick and Sunningdale. Sunningdale has only lately been completed, but it is a wonderful test of golf much better liked than Deal, Hoylake, Westward Ho is unthinkable as a golfing domain and Prestwick isn't very far behind. Which reminds us that the next two amateur championships of the United States will be held at Brookline, 1922 and Lone Valley, 1923. And these two will rank as high as any in the land.

ROSCOE SEARLES WINS THE UNIVERSAL RACE

Ellingboe Thrown From Machine And Is Unconscious When Taken From Track.

UNION TOWN, PA., June 18.—Roscoe Sarles, driving a Deusenberg, won the 225-mile Universal trophy automobile race here today.

The most serious accident of the day occurred near the end of the race when Jules Ellingboe, speeding at almost 100 miles an hour, skidded on a curve and was thrown from his machine. He was still unconscious when he arrived at a local hospital. His mechanician was thrown from the car but not badly hurt.

Ellingboe was driving a Frontenac. Sarles' time was 2:18:20 and his average 97.75 miles per hour. His victory brought him $5,000 and a leg on the Universal trophy.

Eddie Hearn finished second, a lap behind Sarles.

Miller, Scales and Murphy finished in that order, behind Hearn.

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Yesterday's severe break, followed by rallies in the cotton market this morning was not sustained and the close was easy, net unchanged to six points higher. The price of October contracts advanced from 11.90 to 12.23 and closed at 12.05 compared with 12.02 at the close yesterday.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 5 to 15 points as a result of overnight selling orders, and sold about 7 to 15 points net lower during the first few minutes with July touching 11.07, or a new low record for the season. There was evidently disappointment over the British labor news but covering was active and some trade buying developed on the decline. This caused rallies during the middle of the morning when reports reached here that in spite of the adverse vote, British coal miners were rapidly returning to work and that a settlement of the strike was expected at any moment. July sold up to 11.42, while December advanced from 12.42 to 12.73 with active months generally showing net gains of 20 to 23 points, until well along in the morning. Just before the close, however, brokers with southwestern connections became sellers and there was a renewal of scattering liquidation which sent prices off rather sharply during the last few minutes. According to reports received this morning, operations in the Lancashire mills will not be resumed until another vote of operatives has been taken by districts.

The weather in the south was considered generally favorable except for continued absence of rain in some eastern belt sections. Fall River sales for the week were estimated at 80,000 pieces and curtailment of production at one hundred and twenty-five thousand.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—While trend in cotton today was toward higher levels, it was an unsettled market in early trading and again toward the close. Heavy realizing on the short side caused almost complete rejection of the unfavorable views held yesterday regarding British labor conditions, for a while, at least. In the late trading, news that striking mill operatives in Lancashire had, in many cases, refused to abide by the decision to end their strike caused new selling. The market finally closed at net advances on the day of 8 to 12 points, with July at 10.77.

First trades were at lower levels and for a while the selling pressure in evidence yesterday was again felt but after declines of 10 to 14 points had been reached and July had fallen to 10.51, the market commenced to feel new buying of consequence and realizing short with the result that a sharp upturn came about which lasted long enough to put prices 18 to 23 points over finals of yesterday, July rising to 10.53.

For a while the market held steady but gradually gave ground, receding about 10 points. A flash of strength came in late trading which carried July to 10.64, but later months did not make new high levels.

Just on the close there was a burst of selling and gains were pared down materially.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

New York Stocks—Grain and Provisions—Cotton—Livestock

LIVESTOCK.

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, June 18.—Livestock receipts today were unusually small, the count showing only 50 head of cattle, 75 calves and 225 hogs. Nothing in the cattle division found an outlet, as the only cattle here were not for market disposition and the calves arrived too late to be shown. Hogs gained 10 to 15c and closed back to where they were a week ago. Packers paid $9 to $9.10 for most of the supply.

Steers and cows declined 25 to 50 cents this week, but bulls gained 25c, calves are 50 to 75c higher and good to choice heifers and yearlings the market is fully steady. Steers of choice quality and good weight sold up to $6.00 to $7.00, the best cows went at $5 to $5.25, yearlings notched $9.50 and calves sold at $7.75.

Hogs closed generally steady, the best sales being around $9.10. Good stocker pigs went at $7.10 $7.25.

Sheep and lamb values are steady and the market active. Lambs are making $7 and $8 and the best wethers are clearing at $4.25 to $4.50. Quotations:

Cattle—Beeves $2.00@7.00, stockers $3.00@4.50, cows $2.00@3.00, canners $1.00@2.00, heifers $4.50@6.00, bulls $2.00@3.25, calves $2.00@7.75, yearlings $4.50@9.00.

Hogs—Lights $8.00@9.10, medium $7.75@8.00, mixed $7.25@7.75, common $6.00@7.00, heavy $6.25@7.25, rough $5.00@6.00, pigs $7.00@7.25.

Kansas City Livestock.

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—Cattle, 50. For week, Beef steers mostly 25@40c lower, bulk fat she stock barely steady, better grades heifers steady to 25c higher, canners stockers and feeders steady to strong, bulls and calves steady.

Hogs, 400. Active, steady to strong with yesterday's average, choice hogs to packers, $7.90.

Sheep, no receipts. For week, Sheep, 75c lower, lambs, $1.75@2.00 lower.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Chicago board of trade operators had their eyes on the weather map and their ears tuned to reports from the grain fields today. Forecasts of cooler and unsettled weather and expert opinions that wheat rust reports were premature turned the market downward after a fairly strong opening and all options closed near the low point of the short session. Wheat showed net losses of 1¾ to 2c, corn 1¾ and oats ¼ to ⅜c. Provisions influenced by a strong yard market finished fractionally to 7½c higher.

Wheat started 2@2½c higher. At the close the market was 3 to 5c under the top price.

Corn and oats followed wheat. Country offerings were reported as fairly liberal and crop reports generally excellent.

Provisions demand showed signs of reviving. Trade however was dull.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, June 18. Selling of high and low degree rails featured today's brief but active stock market. Canadian Pacific was weak at 114 and Reading lost 3¼ points on unusually large offerings. Other transcontinentals, trangers and Coalers were carried down by the movement as well as some eastern trunk lines. New Haven, however, recovered part of its extreme decline.

Sumatra and Coca Cola were weakest of the miscellaneous stocks losing 3¾ and 4 points respectively. Losses of fractions to nearly 2 points ruled elsewhere at the heavy close.

An increase of above $11,500,000 in actual loans and discounts the first heavy expansion in that item for several weeks was the noteworthy fea-

GOREE IS ENJOYING A SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH

Marked Improvement Including Nine Brick Business Houses During Past Year.

GOREE, TEXAS, June 18.—Goree is a little city on the Wichita Valley, 73 miles south of Wichita Falls, situated in a splendid farming section, peopled with thrifty and energetic farmers. This town has made marked improvements within the last year. Nine brick business houses have been erected and new residences are being built to accommodate the people who are coming to the city to make their permanent home. There are several new bungalow residences nearing completion and another building will probably lay the foundation and begin building by July the first.

A nine months school is maintained here and $15,000 bonds were voted in April for the improvement of the school building. A brass band was organized about a year ago and the boys are getting down to business. They have 32 pieces in the band and have a good bandmaster employed.

Good rains have made the crop prospect very promising and the farmers are now busy harvesting the grain and working out their feed and cotton crops.

It is estimated that the cotton acreage is cut 15 per cent this year and that the crop is at least three weeks earlier than usual. Several farmers report cotton blooms and the crop is doing exceedingly well with no insects to damage. Corn is reported good and more corn planted, this year than in the last few years past.

PERMANENT HOME AT SCOUT CAMP IN OKLAHOMA PLANNED

MASONS TO ERECT TWO-STORY BUILDING AT CACHE FOR USE OF BOYS.

WICHITANS BACK WITH MANY SNAKE STORIES

Polecats Also Among Their Victims—Boys Well Pleased With Their Two Weeks Outing.

A permanent two-story frame house which will be available for all scouts of Oklahoma and northern Texas is to be built within the next sixty days on Canyon creek near Cache, Okla., according to word brought back by H. E. Taylor, city scout executive, who returned Friday from a two weeks' trip with seventy-five local boys. The building is to be erected by Oklahoma Masons and will be available for use at all times. It will be 60 by 140 feet and will contain everything that a modern club house should—kitchen, dining room, bed rooms, recreation hall and wide porches extending around all sides.

Mr. Taylor returned with some interesting accounts of events which transpired during the final ten days of the camp life. A relentless war on rattlesnakes, the capture of five baby polecats, several midnight hunts for skunks and a three-day hike to the Wichita mountain game preserve all stood out as high lights of the camp, he said, and furnished quite a few thrills for the scouts.

The snakes appeared in profusion about five days after camp was pitched and eleven in all were killed before the locals left. One reptile, which the boys declared was daddy of all the snakes in the south, was found slumbering peacefully in Scoutmaster Chester Powell's bed one night and had to be evicted before Powell could seek his blankets.

A few days after this several of the boys while on a hike, stumbled onto a polecat's nest and after killing the mother captured five little ones, which they promptly adopted as pets. All but one of the animals were brought back to the city. The skunk hunts proved to be the main nocturnal diversions and on at least two occasions a group of boys sallied into the woods in search of these enticing brutes.

The heavy rains which visited Oklahoma during the final days of the stay worked some little hardship, Taylor stated, but no real damage accrued from this and it was accepted as one of the things to be contended with on a "back to nature" stunt such as was being staged. The army tents in use proved to be entirely satisfactory from all standpoints and afforded ample shelter.

The big hike to the game preserve at the Wichita mountain headquarters was started on Thursday afternoon and ended Saturday night when the whole camping crowd arrived back at their tents, footsore and tired, after walking over thirty miles through rough, mountainous country. Such small matters as this made but little difference, however, as the boys were treated to some of the best lectures in woodcraft and scouting that it would be possible to obtain. The talks were given by Frank Rush, head of the preserve, and covered many of the subjects which the scouts have been studying from books all summer.

In addition to this they saw the buffalo, deer and elk herds which are maintained by the game warden.

Innumerable smaller hikes were made by the boys on their own hooks and after the first week jaunts of eight or ten miles were daily occurrences. Scoutmaster Si Merriott took eight boys on a starvation hike early last week, leading them up the creek several miles just at dinner time. No provisions of any kind were taken, so some of the hikers peeled off their clothes, dove into the creek, caught fish with their hands and broiled them over a fire in regular backwoods manner. Some wild currants and dewberries were picked to eke out the repast, and according to the tales of the hikers their meal was just as enjoyable as that of the rest of the bunch in camp.

A company of thirty scouts from Burkburnett arrived as the locals were leaving and took over the equipment preparatory for a two weeks' stay. The tents, cots and some of the provisions left were all turned over to the visiters.

Very few of the latter were left, for seventy-five hungry boys can make a big hole in a lot of fodder, especially when it was prepared by Uncle Levi Richards, who the scouts are now ready to swear is the best cook in town. His meals made a big hit with the youngsters and he has already been drafted for use next year.

There will be a meeting of all scoutmasters in the city at the Christian church next Tuesday night. Plans for summer work will be discussed and other matters of importance taken up. Mr. Taylor is very anxious that all officials be present and on time.

TRIO OF HOSTS ENTERTAIN HONORING VISITING GIRLS

Messrs. Armstrong, Hogan and Guernsey were hosts Friday afternoon at a thoroughly delightful "excursion" hospitality which honored Misses Bernice Towle of Harrisburg, Pa., and Amy and Mary Hoge of Mount Pleasant, Tenn., the house guests of Misses Lois and Katheryn Moore.

The young people, something less than a score in number, were taken in cars on a trip which invaded Burkburnett, the northwest field, including Newtown and Bridgetown, and other points in that section. At Burkburnett they were taken through the Noble gasoline plant, and late in the afternoon reached the "shack" home of two of the hosts on block 86, where a four-course supper was served. In the evening the Block 86 Community club entertained with a dance specially honoring the young ladies, whose names, with the date, were inscribed on the programs, together with the itinerary of the auto trip. Punch was served during the evening. Those who enjoyed the well-planned affair included: Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Bacon, Misses Lois and Katheryn Moore, Bernice Towle, Amy and Mary Hoge, Cecilia and Sadie Adlekes, Mary Belle and Vera Hale, Bernice Sams, Ruth Barnard, Lillian Fain, Sybil Kell, Louise Hamlin and Thomas of Vernon; Messrs. Ray Puckett, Joe Farrabee, Cecil Wilfong, Jack Hale, Charles Nolen, Leslie Aaron, Alonzo Scurlock, Sayles Leach, Glen Burnett, Vernon Jarrett, Robert Nolen, Raymond Myers, and the hosts, Messrs. Armstrong, Hogan and Guernsey.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO HEAR OFFICIALS ON MUNICIPAL TOPICS

In the luncheon Tuesday of the University club the subject for discussion will be some phases of city government and the speakers will be visiting delegates to the sessions of the League of Texas Municipalities, which meets in Wichita Falls June 21 and 22.

The club had invited Mayor Cockrell of Fort Worth, who was scheduled to be on the program of the league meetings to discuss any subject of his own selection. He advised he had been obliged to cancel his appearance on the program of the league sessions in Wichita Falls on account of the trade excursion to Mexico as arranged by the west Texas chamber of commerce, which he expected to join.

The League of Texas Municipalities has been in existence for a number of years and its programs are of great interest to citizens especially interested in their city, and particularly officers and members of city council.

The subjects that may be discussed before the University club are the city manager plan and the zoning system. The usual excellent musical numbers are promised.

No Change in Model of the Marmon 34
Buyers will not find their Marmons superseded by new models. Marmon owners assured permanent investment.
THE lowered price of the Marmon 34 does not mean a different nor lesser model. It does not mean that we are disposing of one model preparatory to introducing a new.
For $3985 you obtain the identical $5000 Marmon 34, the finest car we ever built.
Your investment is permanent. Your car is not superseded by a later model. We emphasize this point and suggest that you be certain, in buying a car, that your money is going into a permanent model—not one that will soon be out-of-date. Be as sure of the permanency of the model as you are of the price. Ask this question: "Is the car I am buying a permanent model, or is a new model about to be announced?" You are entitled to this information.
The Marmon price reduction is a genuine one, based on the changes and anticipated changes in production costs.
It brings today the prices of 1922, together with the latest improvements and refinements in motor-car engineering and construction.

With Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, pioneer citizen and mother of Pat Carrigan for whom the local Legion post is named, president, and with one hundred and one members enrolled on its charter list, the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion began work in dead earnest at its meeting Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Charter Roll.

The meeting was held at the Salvation Army Citadel, and the secretary, Mrs. R. C. Thaxton, read the following honor roll of charter members to the thirty or forty in attendance:

Ikard, Frank Kell, E. F. Kemp, J. W. Lee, J. B. Lee, Carolyn H. Long, L. I. Lucey, J. W. Meadors, W. M. Mackechney, J. L. Mears, Mollie McElroy, A. C. McGregor, Lee McLean, J. L. Nabb, John W. De Montel, Louise Chenault, Anna Chenault, Valois Compere and Irene Davidson.

Discuss Hospital Conditions.

At Wednesday meeting the Auxiliary members went seriously into the matter of hospital conditions where disabled soldiers from the world war are being cared for, and the conditions responsible for the fact that literally thousands of the disabled and ill war veterans are not being cared for anywhere.

They voted among other things, to be responsible as a chapter for the attention, other than actual care for, to two disabled soldiers at Camp Logan. They talked of the more serious aspect of the situation, however, with a view to doing everything in their power as a Legion auxiliary toward awakening public opinion to the condition of the disabled soldiers throughout the country. Ma Burdick told of the hundreds of sick, tuburcular, and in many cases absolutely helpless veterans at Camp Logan who have no family or connections of any sort, and who are dying or going through long months of convalescence without any care or attention whatever outside that absolutely necessary.

Letters from headquarters telling of the thousands of soldiers who, because of governmental red tape and the inexcusable slow motion of governmental machinery, have been and are being allowed to die without hospital attention since their return from the French battlefields.

During the meeting the president was authorized by a unanimous vote to appoint a committee to look after world war veterans who may be needing assistance here in Wichita Falls.

Auxiliary First in District

The Pat Carrigan Post Auxiliary was the first in the 12th district to organize, headquarters of the American legion auxiliaries have informed the local women. It was the 81st in the state, and out of all 81 was the forth to remit for the poppy sale recently held for the soldier hospital benefit.

"BUBBLES" TO BE SHOWN FOR CHILDREN WEDNESDAY

"Bubbles" will be shown at the children's matinee Wednesday morning at the Strand, and the mothers club of the Fannin school will have charge of the arrangements.

The matinee begins at 9:30 promptly, for the first show. All children are admitted for 10 cents apiece.

Mary Anderson Stars.

Mary Anderson is the star of "Bubbles," and is said to be a thoroughly adorable one. The story itself is a bit of laughable and lovable drama from the very beginning, when "Bubbles" first tries to convince her aunt that the trying conventionalities of femininty are not for her, and dons trousers.

The story is not essentially for children, but is a play for grownups as well, and Fannin club mothers invite all those who can and wish to do so to attend. The play is exceptionally attractive and interesting and would be a splendid selection for a movie party in the morning. A nappy comedy, "Sonny Has the Mumps," will also be shown.

The prices are 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults.

LATEST STYLE

By LENORE

It is one of the real problems of dress while traveling in the summer to know what to wear that would be cool, comfortable, and also smart. For travel by water there are any number of chic costumes to wear, but for the long, dusty, smudgy train ride in the heat of midsummer, it is often difficult to combine coolness with chic. Many women solve the problem with the lightweight jersey suit and silk pongee blouse, while others prefer a one-piece dress in some color which will not show the dust, such as taupe, light browns and tan.

Probably the smartest outfit, however, will be found in the three-piece suit which came into so much prominence the present season. An attractive example is shown in the sketch. This model was designed for a bride's going-away outfit, and combines a one-piece dress with matching coat. Both are made of mole brown Canton crepe, the bodice part of the frock of printed silk in brown and turquoise. The youthful coat is edged with point banding of self-material. This also finishes the neck and elbow sleeves.

PATTERN NO. 189.

A pattern for the above model (No. 189) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36, 38 or 40, by sending to Lenore, 8 West 40th street, New York City, your name, address, the number of this pattern and the size required and 25 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

The Sans Souci "500" club members remembered their husbands most handsomely Thursday evening of last week, when they entertained them with a "500" party and dinner at the home of Mesdames L. E. Stewart and Otis Geers.

The evening was pleasantly spent at the game, and at its close, scores were counted. As a result J. G. Howard was presented a handsome pair of gold cuff links and Mrs. A. J. Lester a beautiful Japanese sandwich tray for high scores. Mr. J. L. Nabb was presented with silk hose as winner of second score, and Otis G. Geers and Mrs. R. B. ECZEMA IN LARGE WATER BLISTERS

"Eczema broke out in large water blisters around the edges of my hair, temples, and nose. After a few days they turned to sore eruptions, which caused terrible disfigurement, also itching and burning. "A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and when I had used about two cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Marion E. Hughes, 815 12th St., N. E., Washington, D. C.

SIX YEARS AGO THIS MONTH YOU COULD GO BOATING ON SCOTT AVE.; MUCH OF CITY WAS UNDER WATER

Speaking of floods—most of these newcomers look rather askance at us old-timers when we start telling about the time we went boating at the corner of Scott and Tenth.

It was six years ago this month, in June, 1915, that Wichita Falls experienced her last real flood. Holliday creek crawled up Scott to Tenth, and the Wichita river edged up Scott to Sixth, for a few hours. Practically all of the city north of Sixth and east of Burnett was under water, and the section east of the railroad tracks was a young ocean. They would have needed water-wings to play at Spudder Park.

The high water followed about a week of persistent rains that played havoc with a wheat crop that was all but ready for the binders and threshers. For one day Wichita Falls was isolated entirely, there being washouts on every road entering the city. Mail was brought overland from Seymour to Vernon, thence by rail to this city. Train service was soon resumed on the Wichita Valley, it being the only railroad operating into this city for three or four days.

There is small prospect of a repetition of such conditions. The Holliday creek overflow was largely due to the fact that the Denver's embankment at its crossing had only a small outlet for the stream's waters, and operated as a dam, backing the waters up in the lowlands on each side of the creek. The embankment was dynamited during the flood, and the condition has since been remedied so that there is nothing to stop the flood waters finding their way to the river.

Had the rain continued, a really serious situation would have resulted here, but nothing worse resulted than about a week of discomfort for those in the flooded area. Those who were forced to vacate were provided with sleeping quarters in downton buildings, and the city established a temporary commissary to feed them. No lives were lost, but property damage amounting to probably $100,000, exclusive of that suffered by railroads, resulted.

Previous to 1915, this city's most serious flood was in 1899, when a considerable portion of the city was overflowed, including some portions of the business district.

It is said that back in the seventies, when there was a very small settlement here, the site of the city was entirely under water; it is hardly probable that the hill portion was overflowed, but old-timers have said that all that section that is now east of Austin street was inundated.

The danger of floods from Wichita river will be largely eliminated by the dams which will be a part of the irrigation project; these dams will impound so large a part of the river's flow that there will be scant possibility of a repetition of the conditions that prevailed in 1916.

BURKE CULPEPPER, EVANGELIST NOW HOLDING MEETINGS HERE, DYNAMIC EXPONENT OF GOSPEL

(Contributed)

For one week there has been conducted in Wichita Falls an evangelistic meeting that has been far-reaching in its effects. The meeting is under the auspices of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of which Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, is the popular pastor. Early in his ministry at Wichita Falls, Dr. Knickerbocker sought to get Mr. Culpepper for this occasion, and notwithstanding the evangelist is dated far ahead in 1922, with the present year full up, it was possible, through his friendship for Dr. Knickerbocker, to get him.

Evangelist Culpepper comes of good old southern stock, as he puts it. Ancestrally he comes from Virginia, but his birthplace was Georgia—Macon—that little city that nestles so coquettishly among the chuggy, nuggy hills of Georgia. He was born in a Methodist parsonage, the son of an illustrious father, Rev. John B. Culpepper, who was one of the pioneers of the south, whom the younger Culpepper was associated with for a number of years. He is not a long-face, aesthetic churchman, but believes if one has the 'genuine article' he will have a bright, happy smile and a sunny disposition, for he says:

"If I knew the box where the smiles are kept,
No matter how big the box or strong the key,
I am sure I'd try so hard it would open to me,
And broadcast over the land I'd scatter the smiles to play,
That faces of workers might hold them fast for many and many a day.

"If I had a box big enough to hold all the frowns I meet,
I'd gather them everyone up from office and home and street,
And holding and folding I'd pack them in and turn the monster key,

Mr. Culpepper holds up the church as the biggest thing in the community and says he does not count much on any man who will not connect himself with some church, for, as he says, a town without church would not be a fit place in which to live and rear a family. The organized church is the one force that holds a community together and keeps it from reverting to barbarism.

No clap-trap methods are used by the evangelist. He preaches the plain gospel of Christ and puts the matter square up to the individual. His slogan is "Put God First," and when that is done it solves every problem and lifts every load. He knows human nature from A to Z. He preaches with all the earnestness of a man who has completely and unreservedly committed his life to his Master's service.

Burke Culpepper is a veritable dynamo of spiritual and physical energy. He never drawls nor whines. Everybody knows where he stands on the fundamentals of the gospel. Strong personalities hang upon his words and unconsciously estimate the energy and divine grace to save by the earnestness of the preaches who declares the old-time gospel in the new way. His exhortations stir the aspirations and move the wills of men; his propositions are fair and brotherly. He is big-brained and big-hearted.

Mr. Culpepper says he has no "cut and dried way" of conducting a meeting, and especially no "dry way." Sometimes he will turn over a piece of furniture, upset a dignified preacher or two; oftentimes he is in the aisle or elsewhere about the building in his eagerness to press home some great truth that has gripped his own heart, but these movements of his are absolutely spontaneous and are never invoked for sensational effect. It would be marvelous if some did not criticise—conventionality, selfishness, pleasure-loving society desire nothing so much as to be let alone. Crickets chirp their protest against the great ploughshare which breaks up the winter-packed sod in which they live, but the plow moves on because the nation awaits the food which springs only from the furrowed soil.

His home life is beautiful and simple. He remarked a few evenings ago that he had a happy home, and if he did not reach the beautiful home on high, where the "sun never sets and the rain-bow never fades," he can say that he had "a little heaven on earth."

He holds woman in a very high degree and thinks one of the great evils today is the divorce. Leaving the platform a few nights since he walked down the aisle with arms uplifted and said: "She told me good-bye, that little woman whose eyes are as blue as the Galilean sea, and whose hair is as dark as the lingering light which Moses threw over the valley of the Nile, and she went out, out, over an expanse no man's foot ever trod, no angel's wing ever fanned the aerie of, and she took from the long, loving arms of God a little immortelle, and coming back over that expanse no man's foot ever trod, no angel's wing ever fanned the aerie of, she climbed up the slippery banks of death and said to me, with a smile that was as sweet as the lilies of the valley, 'Burke, kiss our baby.' Oh, God, let me die before I ever be untrue to such love as that."

Mr. Culpepper will be in Wichita Falls for two weeks longer, and it will be an opportunity to hear him.

PROGRESS ON TARIFF CENTER OF INTEREST AT NATION'S CAPITAL

DISARMAMENT ISSUE ALSO A MATTER OF MUCH CONCERN.

TRADE ASSOCIATIONS COMMAND ATTENTION

Subject Is One of the Most Difficult With Which Administration Must Deal.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Wichita Daily Times.
(Copyright, 1921, by the New York Evening Post)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18—Within congress this week the chief subjects of interests were the progress which the ways and means committee has been making on the tariff bill and the registering of a rather formidable amount of dissatisfaction with the schedules of that bill as they became known. In addition to that there was an increase of the restlessness which a majority of both the house and senate has shown about the lack of progress towards a conference for disarmament, and towards the commitments which our government is making toward a large armament program and the continued heavy taxation it involves.

While these things occupied congress, the chief interest of the administration, if one subject can be picked out from among several and called chief, has been finding a way to treat trade associations. The two departments of the cabinet to which this subject is of most interest are the commerce department and the attorney generals' department. The commerce department wants to retain and use these associations in so far as they are legal in their constitution and within public approval in the nature of their activities. The commerce department wants to use them because it is only through them that any practical way can be found of extending our trade in foreign countries in competition with other nations which use similar associations freely and give them official sanction. On the other hand, the attorney general finds that a certain number of these associations are in violation of law, and has been active in taking steps to suppress such of the them as are clearly not within the law. There is no antagonism between the two departments. Attorney General Daugherty and Secreatry Hoover, as well as the rest of the administration are in entire harmony, the attorney general point of view is that associations which are following practices of doubtful legality must cease to do so, and that those of them which are wilfully or obstinately refusing to stay within the law shall be prosecuted.

Different Subject.

The whole subject is one of the most difficult the administration has to deal with. There are some 6,000 of these trade associations, the number would run above 100,000, if it included local associations of farmers and laborers. These 6,000 associations of manufacturers and dealers are the ones that are under consideration. The law permits manufacturers and dealers to combine exist for the purpose of fixing prices, for practically every subject except the fixing of prices, where associations or where the fixing of prices is an incident of their present activities, they are in opposition to the law.

Wherever this is the case these associations are under pressure both from the attorney general's office and from local state prosecutive officers. Great difficulty lies in drawing the line. Undoubtedly, when a gumber of dealers and manufacturers are cooperating closely for legitimate purpose there is an opportunity and a temptation, consciously or unconsciously, to adopt prices which are more nearly uniform than would be the case if there was no cooperation at all. The point of view of the commerce department is that it is imperative for America to extend its trade abroad, the minute we try to extend our trade abroad we come in competition with the businessman of various European nations. These European governments do not have our prejudices against trade combinations at all, they believe in trade combinations, they encourage them, and they give official sanction to them. In many cases indeed the trade associations of foreign countries have not grown up spontaneously, but have actually been organized by agents of the government with the purpose of greater effectiveness in extending trade abroad.

Beaten From the Start.

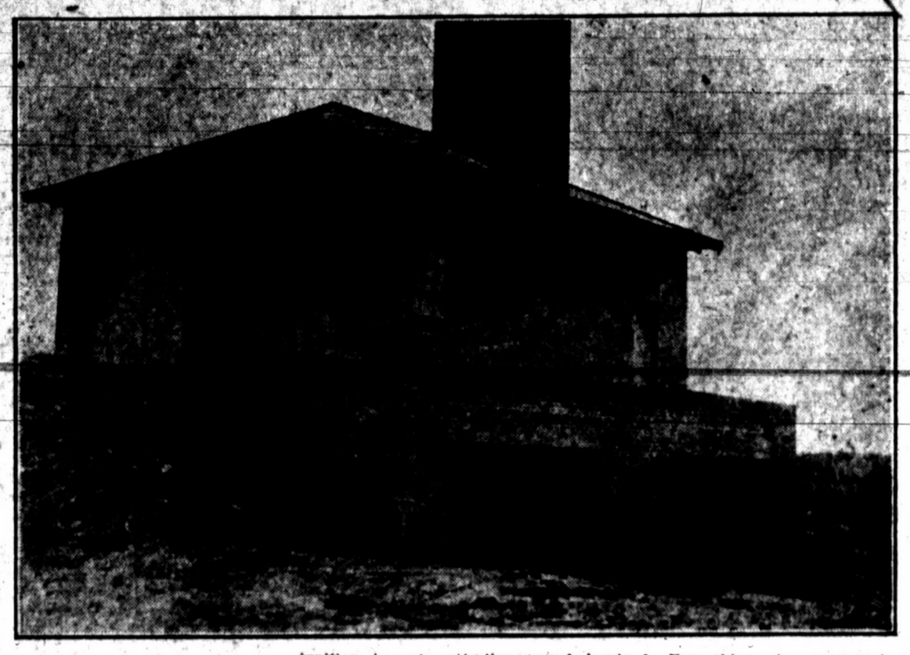

From the point of view of the commerce department, and from every point of view of common sense, and individual American business man, attempting to compete in South America, let us say, against a solidly organized trade association from Great Britain or France or Germany, is beaten from the start. If we are to compete successfully with these foreign countries, we must adopt the economies and other advantages inherent in their devices of compact trade associations. For this reason, the department of commerce wants to take the large number of legally organized and ethically disposed trade associations that exist in America and wants to help them and work through them.

The theory of the administration is to preserve the beneficial activities of these organizations, while at the same time preventing an agreement of prices to the consumer which is illegal and contrary to American ideas.

Some members of the government would go so far as to permit these trade associations to include in their activities the collection of statistics about prices in widely separated communities, statistics about local demand here and there, and about stocks on hand at various points, that the collection of such statistics and their distribution to individual members of an association would give those members the opportunity for a degree of uniformity of price cannot be doubted.

But the theory of some members of the administration is that the economic benefit of this practice can be preserved, and its possibility of mischief discounted, but the device of making these statistics just as readily available to the consumers as to the producers, their theory is that if the buyer of coal is as well informed about prices and other details of trade conditions as the seller is, then the buyer would be under no disadvantage. This could only be accomplished, of course by a much larger identification of the government with the trade associations than is now the case. In fact the government and not the trade associations, would have to be the collector and custodian of the statistics

NEWLY COMPLETED GARBAGE PLANT WHICH WILL REDUCE CITY'S REFUSE TO ASHES

The city's new 40 ton garbage plant located 1.6 miles east from the heart of the business action of the city will soon be completed and ready to consume the waste of the city's kitchens.

Situated along the river's edge, on top of a high knoll, the plant can be seen from the grand stand in the ball park.

The plant is one of the most modern devices for the disposition of garbage and waste and will be maintained without any additional expense of fuel. The plan of its working seems intricate but a study of the structure proves that the method is very simple.

The furnaces are located underneath and the garbage will be dropped directly into the furnace from the wagons through the chutes that open on the driveway above. There are two furnaces and four chutes, two to each furnace. Dry garbage is deposited in two of the chutes while the wet is introduced into the furnace through the other two.

The dry garbage is lighted first from which the blaze and heat begins. As the wet garbage with its gases and odors is dropped into the furnaces which are lined with insulated bricks in order to keep all the heat enclosed, ignition is automatically started by reason of the drafts. The gases supplemented by the blaze of the dry garbage are sufficient to produce the required amount of heat to reduce all the garbage to ashes.

In testing out the furnaces and curing its walls eight loads of garbage were consumed and the residue was not enough to make one good sized load. Everything is consumed except cans and bottles but it was stated by Al Earling, who is in charge of the installation of the plant that after the furnaces have been sufficiently cured that the bottles will be melted and partially destroyed.

OBREGON'S BAND TO PLAY HERE JULY 5, NOW TOURING U. S.

Through special arrangements with the government of the republic of Mexico the presidential orchestra of President Alvaro Obregon will play in Wichita Falls matinee and night, July 5. The orchestra is making an extensive tour of this country and Canada in its special train in the interest of closer friendship and trade relations. With it will be a Mexican trade evangel, the personal representative of President Obregon, classic dancers and operatic singers.

The orchestra, the pride of Mexico, is composed of 45 musicians under the direction of Professor Serroblanco. The operatic singers with it were engaged by President Obregon after he heard them in concert in Mexico City. The dancers are typically Mexican and are past masters of Mexican classic dancing.

The Mexican government is spending more than $200,000 to send the orchestra through this country. Col. John S. Berger, personal representative of President Obregon, in charge of the tour, states that the orchestra is expected to bring the people of this country and Mexico into closer relations.

"It was with that object in view that President Obregon organized the orchestra and entrusted me with the responsibility of taking it through the United States," Mr. Berger said.

CARPENTIER, IDOL OF RING, SMOKES CIGARETTES WHILE TRAINING FOR BIG BOUTS

Followers of the fistic art in America were astounded when Georges Carpentier, who as heavyweight champion of Europe may soon meet Jack Dempsey in a world's championship battle, admitted that he smoked cigarettes or cigars while training for his fights. The famous Frenchman will be seen in action in "The Wonderful Man," the Robertson-Cole super-special, at the Gem theatre beginning Thursday for a run of one day.

"There are no hard and fast rules about training," the idol of France smiled when interviewed by a special representative of the sporting page. "What is food for one is poison for another. I am not a heavy smoker and I do not smoke enough out of training to injure my throat membranes or my lungs.

"When in strict training if I feel the need of a cigarette, why, I light one. I find it quieting and soothing to the nerves. I don't believe it is wise to smoke immediately upon arising nor just before a meal, but frankly I admit I don't know what I would do without my after dinner weed.

"I wonder if it has ever occurred to you that it is infinitely more wearing on the nerves to combat the craving for a smoke than it is to satisfy the longing. After a person has become addicted to the habit the strain of refraining from smoking is far more injurious, in my opinion, than over-indulgence."

Naturally, at this point, the interviewer inquired if the French pugilist would discuss his methods of training. "Why not!" Carpentier's brilliant—a Million Dollar Smile, it has been called—flashed back.

"I am averse to long periods of training," Carpentier said in answer to another question. "When a man is active physically as I am, six weeks is plenty of time to fit him for a world's championship contest. To get the best results from training the period should bring a feeling of buoyancy and exhilaration."

Carpentier is out of sympathy with the old-fashioned methods which strictly prescribed a fighter's diet and his general living conditions. Road work, he believes, was over emphasized.

"Boxers no longer have the same ideas about dieting," he said. "They have ceased to punish themselves with some of the rigors of old time training. A boxer now eats that which he feel will do him the most good. As far as I am concerned I am very fond of greens and vegetables, most I eat but once a day. Of course when training, I see that soilds make up the bulk of my diet."

RAY, MEIGHAN AND FARNUM APPEAR AT MAJESTIC IN A WELL BALANCED BILL

The masculine predominates at the Majestic this week, every single picture offered being featured by a male star. Charles Ray heads the list on Monday, followed by Thomas Meigham on Tuesday, William Farnum Wednesday and Thursday and all star cast of cowpunchers in "The Last Chance" for the final two days.

Ray's contribution is "The Dividend," which is said to be another of his well known rural comedies. Ever since it was found that the popular Charles could play hick roles to perfection the movie public has demanded that he produce this type of picture, and as a result he has turned out a greater number of successes, probably, than any other single star now posing before the camera.

"The Dividend" is fully up to the high standard of his other releases.

In "The City of Silent Men" Thomas Meigham has given the world a dramatic film without parallel. Many of the scenes were filmed in Sing Sing prison near New York and show some of the every day life of the inmates. The story deals with the life of a young man who was railroaded to prison on circumstantial evidence which connected him with a murder, and how he escapes in a packing box, later to be found by a famous detective as the president of a large mercantile company on the west coast. Many gripping scenes are included and the picture is well worth seeing.

"When A Man Sees Red" anything is likely to happen, and plenty of things do happen in the picture of that name which stars William Farnum. The ever popular Bill has been given another powerful role, and makes good as usual. This production comes on Wednesday and Thursday, together with another installment of "Fighting Fate," the William Duncan serial.

A western of the usual type closes the week on Friday and Saturday.

Little Jackie Coogan, star of "The Kid" is scoring another triumph in "Peck's Bad Boy." During the filming of the picture he was heard to say to his dog: "Come on Beans let's put this over, remember we ain't got Charlie in this one."

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AND THE CANADIAN ROCKIES HEADLINE OLYMPIC BILL

"Straight From Paris," with Clara Kimball Young leading the way in all the Paris fashions is to be the feature attraction at the Olympic on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, while on the final three days a vivid picture of the Canadian rockies, "Snowblind" comes as the main presentation.

The Young production is one of the ultra fashionable type in which the fading stars of yesterday find a welcome bonanza. With their popularity dimmed by the march of time many of the favorites of a few years past have been forced to turn to lavish settings and stories of the queer but attractive customs of a foreign land in order to produce pictures which will warrant the financial outlay involved.

Reviews of "Straight From Paris" seem to think that there is nothing of especial value in the story, but the elaborate stage settings and some of the scenic "shots" is worth while. The star appears in the dual role which has suddenly come into favor with so many screen celebrities, being seen at first as a Parisian social lioness who is all mixed up in an "affair" with a duke or count or some other titled dude and later as a shop girl in a fashionable ladies store.

"Snowblind" is an entirely different sort of picture, being taken in the Canadian rockies, or rather in Los Angeles with plenty of studio snow and cardboard mountains, and depicts the life of some of the hardy pioneers who rest a living from that wild and desolate tract. Plenty of pep and action is crammed into the seven reels and let it be said that this is something to be thankful for.

An imposing array of comedies and other extra films have been secured for presentation during the week.

Sylvia Breamer says that contrary to the career of most screen artists she did not "break into the movies." Her first role was that of a corpse in "The Whip," which anyone can see was not a very lively beginning. "I suppose that's why Goldwyn chose me to do Juliet to Will Rogers' Romeo in his last picture," remarked Miss Breamer in passing.

Reel Chatter

By JEAN DARNELL

Marie Provost is another of the Mack Sennett bathing beauties to forsake comedy for the serious "dramer." Here's lots o' luck, Marie.

Wallace Reid is doing the bright-lights of little ole Broadway—giving the Ziegfield follies chorus the once over, and letting other enthusiastic movie fans gaze on his manly beauty while in New York.

It is said that Mary Pickford is at her best in her latest picture, "Through the Back Door," that her characterization of the little American girl left in Belgium even surpasses "Pollyanna" and "Daddy Long Legs."

Thos. H. Ince, that pioneer producer, has again scored in "Mother O' Mine."

Marjorie Daw is soon to be starred in "The Butterfly Girl." Miss Daw has well earned stardom, as all remember her excellent work opposite Douglas Fairbanks and later in Marshall Neilan's productions. She is a great favorite.

A lot of fans have asked "What Has become of Tom Forman?" Why Tom is a director now. He is directing Thomas Meigham in "White and Unmarried."

Did you know that dainty Marguerite Clarke spends much of her time at Patterson, Louisiana, where her husband owns lumber mills? Lucky natives.

Ida Rubenstein, famous Russian dancer, willl shortly be seen in "The Ship" an Italian film released by Goldwyn and directed by the son of the famous poet-statesman D'Annunzio.

Lillian Walker, known for years on the screen as the star with the dimples, and who is now appearing in vaudeville, received a very painful accident last week while playing in Chicago. She was caressing a dog in an animal act that preceeded her on the bill, when the dog snapped and bit her through the upper lip and chin. It is thought the wound is not dangerous.

Harry "Snub" Pollard, now on his seventy-seventh comedy at the Hal E. Roach studio is a remarkable example of the faithful screen husband. Marie Mosquini, who has played opposite him in all his pictures and always as his wife, has somewhat tried Harry's patience to the extent of about twenty-five divorces which have been made up in fifty re-marriages.

Edward Kimball, father of Clara Kimball Young, is appearing in support of Will Rogers in "An Unwilling Hero."

Samuel Goldwyn has entirely recovered from his attack of tonsilitis. It was a most severe attack, contracted on return voyage from Europe and proved very stubborn.

The long accordion like tube with photographic chamber at its base, which J. Earnest Williamson used to film his undersea picture, "Wet Gold" was the invention of Mr. Williamson's father.

John Bower's yacht "The Uncas" is getting its annual spring house cleaning. Every one around the Goldwyn studio is getting out his or her nautical clothes in anticipation of a big yachting party as soon as "She" is in shape.

STRAND OFFERS THREE BIG ONES FOR LOCAL FANS THIS WEEK

For Monday and Tuesday of this week the Strand is offering an all star production "Behold the Man," one of the most vigorous and stirring dramas which have yet been presented on the screen of the city's newest playhouse. A strong cast, an intensly interesting story and some excellent photography have been combined to make this one of the outstanding features of the year.

The middle period of the week, Wednesday and Thursday, brings another of Zane Gray's well known novels dramatised in film form. "The Man of the Forrest" is the title given the production, and it is said to combine all the glamour, excitement and interest of many of this famous author's works.

Gray's stories are of the type which lend themselves to ready adoption for the screen and this fact has resulted in nearly a score of his better known works having been taken for use by the movies. "The Man of the Forrests" is the latest of these and by many is said to be the best.

The final two days brings Frank Mayo in "The Magnificient Brute," a lurid drama of the Canadian northwest in which man hunts, fist fights, romance and everything else combines to form a melo-drama of great proportions.

A strong supporting bill of comedies, news reels and topics of the day films are to be offered in connection with the Strand features.

Doctor Smith the Great Eye Specialist Warns the Public To Care for Their Eyes

Says Eyesight May Be Strengthened Through the Law of Osmosis 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances.

New York.—Doctor Smith says, "Most people's eyes go back on them between forty and fifty years of age unless they strengthen them while young." He further says, "Everyone young and old should know how to care for their eyes in order to prevent the wearing of glasses by strengthening the eye muscles through the law of Osmosis." Again he states, "The eyesight even in old folks eyes can positively be strengthened to a surprising degree by properly treating the eyes so as to build up the eye muscles and wash away the mist and haze in front of the eye lenses. Before a photographer can take a good picture the lens of the camera must be clean, so it is with the eyes. The eyes get misty and dirty and must be cleaned in order to see well." Very few farmers require distance glasses because most of the time they have an unobstructed view and use their eye muscles for distant vision; this keeps their eye muscles strong and well developed while the city man is restricted in his range of vision, and therefore does not properly exercise his eye muscles; thus they become weak and susceptible to eye strain. Doctor Bickstien, who is heartily in accord with the views of Dr. Smith, says there is no better method of preserving and developing the eyesight than the Bon-Opto method and he advises everyone of any age to use Bon-Opto to relieve such troubles as inflamed eyes or lids; weak or watery eyes; itching, aching, burning eyes. Cold winds, glaring sun and snow cause a profuse watering and weakening of the eye muscles and a 'misty eye lens. These troubles may be quickly overcome through the daily use of Bon-Opto. A single trial will convince you that it has a soothing, healing, cooling effect upon the eyes. Doctor Lewis, another physician of many years practice, says: "It is a strange thing to me why so many people hesitate to put anything into the eyes as it is just as safe to wash the eyes with Bon-Opto as it is to take a drink of good, pure water. The eye is not the delicate organ many suppose. Look how we abuse them and yet they continue to serve us well." Doctor Conner says: "Misfit glasses have injured and weakened more eyes than any other one thing, and I advise everyone young and old to use a method of treatment like Bon-Opto before resorting to glasses and even if one wears glasses they will find great relief and clearer vision by following the Bon-Opto method." One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully, now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this method for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read the fine print without glasses."

NOTE—A city physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable, harmless remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time or refund the money. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." LOVE ANNOUNCES HE WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR THE U. S. SENATE

PLATFORM OUTLINED IN REPLY TO LETTER FROM G. E. HAMILTON.

OPPOSED TO ANY KIND OF PROTECTIVE TARIFF

Favors Joining League of Nations And Says He is Woodrow Wilson Democrat.

Matador, Texas, June 6, 1921.

Hon. Thomas B. Love,
Dallas, Texas.

Dear Mr. Love:

For some time past the newspapers have been suggesting that this or that prominent citizen of Texas would be a candidate to succeed the Hon. Chas. A. Culberson in the senate, in next year's election. Once or twice I recall seeing your name mentioned as a possible or even a probable candidate for this high office.

The varying attitudes of democratic leaders in this state on what appears to be fundamental issues, and especially the differences among democrats on the tariff, the labor question and other important subjects, naturally creates in the mind of an old time democrat, such as the writer, a curiosity to know what kind of a platform this candidate or that candidate proposes to stand upon.

I am sure, therefore, that you will pardon me for presuming at this time to ask you in this inquiry, two leading questions:

1st: Will you be a candidate for the senate next year?

2nd: If so, what will be your platform?

At the present time I have not made up my mind as to whom I will support, chiefly because I have not as yet learned what interpretation those whose names have been mentioned for place, will give the many issues which now appear to be pressing to the front.

If not inconsistent with your idea of propriety at this time I would be pleased to hear from you in reply to the above question. It occurs to me that your numerous friends throughout the state would be glad at this time to learn what your intentions are with reference to making the race for the senate and what your platform will be in case you make the race. An early reply to this letter will be appreciated. Yours very truly,
(Signed) G. E. HAMILTON.

Mr. Love's Reply.

June 9, 1921.

Hon. G. E. Hamilton,
Matador, Texas.

Dear Friend:

I have received and read with much interest your letter of June 6 in which you ask me: "1st: Will you be a candidate for United States senate next year? 2nd: If so, what will be your platform?" In view of our long time friendship I appreciate the spirit in which you ask these questions and am grateful for the opportunity to answer them frankly, and I shall take the liberty of giving my reply to the press. It is my present intention to be a candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator before the July primaries of 1922.

Whoever may be candidates I hope the successful one will agree with me in the following proposals:

Opposes Protective Tariff.

1. I am utterly opposed to the principles of protection and to any and all protective tariffs, including the so-called farmers emergency tariff recently enacted. Since our infant industries have assumed giant proportions, a protective tariff can have no other effect than to enrich the few at the cost of the many. It is the natural enemy of the farmer and the laboring man, increasing the cost of those things they have to buy out of all proportion to any increase which may be effected in wages or in anything they may have to sell. It is noticeable that many crocodile tears are being shed these days over the hardships of the farmer by minions of big business, especially by some who have grown rich in the manufacture and sale of lumber. I am opposed to a tariff on lumber would increase the the cost of building homes and improving farms in order to add to the already ample profits of the trusts. A tarif fon lumber would increase the price of lumber and I think the present price is high enough. I am opposed to a tariff on frozen beef which would increase the cost of living for farmers and town people alike by raising the price of meat and swelling the already swollen profits of the packers trusts while still leaving them free to fix the price at which the farmers are compelled to sell their cattle to them. I am opposed to the tariff on vegetable oils which would also increase the cost of living by raising the price of cottonseed oil products, which farmers and townspeople buy, for the benefit of the big five packers (who with three other large corporations control nearly 75 per cent of the output of refined cottonseed oil) while leaving them free to dictate the price they will pay the farmer for his cottonseed, which admittedly no tariff can protect.

Opposed to Open Shop.

2. I am opposed to the open-shop movement, which, I am convinced, is a drive of organized employers to destroy organized labor. I am not unmindful of the fact that errors and abuses have arisen in the methods and practices of organized labor as they have in all other human agencies and affairs, and these should be corrected; but the trade unions, which have done so much to provide living wages for the workers and to improve living and working conditions for them and their wives and children ought not to be destroyed and the laboring classes left with no effective means of collective bargaining or mutual co-operation. This would not be a good thing for the laboring people or for the public or for the employing classes themselves. I favor good wages for the men and women who toil, and the underlying purpose of the open-shop movement is to reduce the cost of labor to certain employing industries by reducing the wages of their employes so that larger dividends may be earned and paid. While I am naturally disposed to have a greater concern for the interests of men and women and children, of flesh and blood, than for the interests of inensate capital, although I recognize that capital has important rights which justice and the public welfare alike demand shall be maintained and enforced, yet I favor good wages for the working people on economic grounds of a more practical nature. I live on a Dallas county farm and have the savings of a lifetime invested in cotton and general farming and in the raising of cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry. The price of the products of the farm must depend upon the demand for those products, and this demand must depend upon the income and ability to buy of those who use and must buy farm products. All the farmers of Texas and the nation are substantially engaged in the business of feeding and clothing laboring men and their wives and children and the price of products of the farm must depend more largely than upon any other factor, upon the wages received by the laboring man. It is within the observation and common knowledge of all of us that the farmers, merchants, professional men and all classes of people are prosperous whenever good wages are being paid to the working classes.

Home Ownership.

3. I stand for efficient governmental aid to home ownership. I am in favor of extending the facilities of the federal farm loan act and of providing additional facilities which are practicable and safe whereby the federal government may aid the citizen, whether he lives in the country or in a city or town, to become the owner of his own home. I do not believe that the government should give the citizen a home or should contribute any part of the cost of his home, but I do believe that it is one of the first duties of the government to do what it may to provide facilities whereby the citizen can, by his own efforts, without cost or injury to the government, have a fair chance of acquiring his own home. Nothing could contribute more to the economic welfare and business prosperity of the nation or of Texas than to put the great power of the government behind every citizen who would strive by his own labor to acquire his own home. Tenant farming is growing in Texas and in the nation. The government has recently announced that the 1920 census returns show for the first time more tenant farmers than home-owning farmers in Texas, and they also show that there are more than one hundred million acres of farm land in Texas which have never been plowed. It is not a healthy economic sign that tenant farming prevails in so large a volume and it is a still more unhealthy sign that it is increasing in volume and in proportion. The traditional policy of the American government of aiding the citizen to own his own home through the homestead and pre-emption and other federal land laws gave America its greatest progress and economic growth just as the traditional policy of Texas of aiding the citizen to become the owner of his own home through practically giving out public lands to actual settlers gave Texas its best citizenship and its greatest economic prestage. There were no tenant farmers either in the nation or in Texas in considerable numbers until the public lands began to be exhausted and tenantry has grown as the supply of public lands has diminished. I believe the government should return to the business of aiding the citizen to acquire his home by helping him to finance the purchase of a home, just as formerly it gave him the land or sold it to him at a low price and on reasonable terms, and the man or woman living in a city or town should have the same opportunity and the use of the same facilities as one living in the country. Governmental aid to home ownership is not socialism any more than were the homestead laws or the Texas land settlement laws. On the other hand, it is the answer to bolshevism. No home-owning citizen will become a bolshevist. The citizen who feels that he has a stake in the government will support the government, and the citizen who owns his home will feel that he has a stake in the government.

Strict Prohibition Laws.

4. I favor making it a felony, punishable by imprisonment, to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors in violation of the constitution and the laws of the United States. Many years ago as a member and speaker of the house of representatives of Texas, I urged and aided in the passage of the Texas law making it a felony instead of a misdemeanor to sell intoxicating liquors in violation of our local option laws, and I think the results of the operation of the law have demonstrated that the way to enforce prohibition laws is to send bootleggers to the penitentiary. I am opposed to any amendment permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers or increasing the alcoholic content fixed by the Volstead act, and I favor such legislation as will put the rich man and the poor man on a basis of equality by taking intoxicating liquors out of the rich man's cellar.

Co-Operative Marketing.

5. I favor governmental aid to co-operative marketing of cotton and other farm products. I believe the intervention of the great power of the government is necessary to prevent a continuance of the abuses and waste which are inherent in the present marketing methods under which farmers in marketing their crops are largely at the mercy of speculating exploiters. I favor the widest practicable extension of the aid of the government in promoting and financing plans of co-operative marketing which are safe and practicable.

6. I favor the fullest measure of appreciation and just recognition by the government of the service and sacrifice of the brave men and women that made up the army and navy and the nurses' corps of the United States during the world war. They offered their lives not only to preserve the nation but to save civilization. Just and timely compensation to the living for the losses they sustained and generous care for the widows and orphans and other dependents of those who made the supreme sacrifice is the nation's debt of honor which must be promptly paid, and this sacred obligation should be the more strongly impressed upon the national mind and conscience as the years go by.

7. I favor giving women equal pay with men for the same service.

8. I favor exempting all incomes of $5,000 or less from the payment of income taxes. I also favor a constitutional amendment which will make it possible to tax stock dividends. Under a recent decision of the supreme court the present provisions of the constitution are held not to permit the taxation of dividends paid by corporations to their stockholders when paid by the issuance of additional stock instead of in cash and in this way hundreds of millions of dollars of stockholders' dividends are escaping taxation.

Favors League of Nations.

9. I favor the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations. I believe it to be the duty of the American government to take immediate steps to stabilize exchanges and restore international trade and to recover the foreign markets for our surplus products which we have lost since the world war and from the loss of which we are so acutely suffering at this time. There can be no real beginning of a return of prosperity until the regions of the earth impoverished by the world war are enabled to purchase our surplus products. This can only be done when America lends them the money with which to make the purchases, for America has all the surplus money in the world as it has substantially all the surplus supplies. The United States cannot practically or safely extend these large credits indispensably necessary to restore her own prosperity and the prosperity of the world without her participation in an organization of the nations of the earth to make it possible for her to efficiently exert her great influence in preserving the world's peace and order and thus assuring its prosperity. To these ends Woodrow Wilson procured the agreement of the nations of the earth to the great covenant of the League of Nations, of which every nation outside the United States that fought with the allies in the world war is now a member. President Harding denounces the League of Nations, but says that he and the American people yearn for an association of nations. Nomenclature is unimportant. The United States should enter the League of Nations by whatever name it may be called, with such modifications of the League of Nations covenant, and only such, as it is necessary to make in order to procure the ratification of the covenant by the senate of the United States, and thus effect its entrance into the league.

A League of Nations with America in it is necessary to end wars and to keep faith with those who died fighting our battles in the world war. It is necessary in order to restore prosperity to America by creating a market for our surplus cotton and other products. It is necessary as the only safe and permanent means of international disarmament, which alone can substantially reduce the present heavy tax burdens of the people, or in fact prevent their being largely and continually increased.

I am a Woodrow Wilson democrat and believe that the achievements of his administration, whether in war or in peace, if there had been no war, constitute altogether the greatest record of governmental service in the history of the world.

In due time I shall present to the people my views on these and other matters. I shall state my position on all questions that may arise in the campaign, clearly and frankly, whether the result may be to gain votes or to lose them. I will be glad to have the support of those who believe in the things for which I stand and who believe that I can be useful to the state and nation as a senator from Texas, but I shall have no unkind feeling for those who shall oppose me and no unkind word to say of anyone personally.

Sincerely yours,

COOLIDGE SPEAKER AT BUST UNVEILING

Vice-President Praises President and His Attitude Dealing With Foreign Affairs.

NILE, OHIO, June 18.—President Harding's attitude in pacifying Europe has been a far greater influence than is yet realized, not through entanglements but by holding to that strictly American policy so well expressed in the notes to foreign governments, Vice-President Calvin Coolidge told an audience at the unveiling of a bust of President Harding here today.

The vice-president pleaded for patience, pacification and harmony in solving the problems of reconstruction and asked his hearers to hallow the memory of President McKinley, who so greatly desired these attributes in his day.

"William McKinley," he said, "was wiser than his critics. He was gentler than his friends. He was firmer than his party. He found the nation depressed and distraught, he brought it to prosperity and contentment. He led the people not from afar, where his influence could not be felt, but from near at hand, directing their course, but yet with them. It is little wonder that men loved him.

"If he were to have no successor, no representative of kindred mind to take up and carry on the ever-unfinished task of serving the world most by serving America's best, this (McKinley's) memorial would have been in vain. But your faith is being justified. As there have come those who have been raised up to serve the nation in time of need, so they come now, so they will come. In those who have in the past been honored here, in him who today is honored, this promise stands fulfilled. And what a grand fulfillment in William McKinley and Warren G. Harding."

Tribute to President.

The vice-president then paid a tribute to President Harding, ascribing to him many of the virtues that made McKinley so beloved.

"It were enough to say of any man that his countrymen had chosen him to be president of the United States of America," he said, "but to be chosen to that office by a majority of seven and one-half million votes is a distinction that never came to any other president."

Mr. Coolidge spoke of the personal affection which all who came in contact with Mr. Harding have. "The open White House gates are but the symbol of the open heart of him who wishes his every approach open to the people," he said.

"There is harmony in the cabinet and in congress. The confidence of South American republics is being restored. The terms on which commercial relations with Russia can be entertained have been stated and the existing differences between this country and Mexico have been clearly defined. Invitations to meddle in European affairs have been refused, but the obligation to make separations in accordance to stipulated agreements has been expressed in a way most effective in preserving peace. Contact with the allied nations has been resumed."

"LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT" FOR DOGS THAT NOBODY WILL CLAIM

Bad dogs?

No, not necessarily.

Not even homeless or friendless, necessarily. Not even mongrels—necessarily.

Just "outside the law." And can't help it.

Somewhere in Wichita Falls right this minute a yellow-headed youngster in sandals and blue overalls may be weeping his heart out because "Maje" disappeared overnight. And Maje, of the huge white body and the drooping head in the far corner, is watching through the wires of his prison for the streak of blue and yellow that spelled the only comradeship he can remember.

Over here with his back to the unsympathetic camera is a well-kept looking Scotch collie. His antecedents may not date back into the mid-Victorian period by established record, but he's a good dog—from unmistakable signs. And from signs as unmistakable the little yellow fellow over on the left side lying down behind the black dog is "somebody's dog." He's got the look in his eyes. He gets up for everybody who comes within a dozen yards of the wire, pokes his little black nose through and gazes steadily and hopefully. Then he goes back. But no matter what advances are made, the droopy little tail doesn't wag. Whoever you were—you weren't the boy who dragged him out from the mud under the edge of the warehouse that cold morning after getting a bloodied nose from his persecutors, and took him home and smuggled him into the barn, and fed him, and chained him to a boy soul with links of steel. You aren't the boy.

Still further over in the corner is a sprawling puppy who was easy money for the dog-man. The only thing which concerns him with any degree of intensity is probably the fact that meals aren't as regular and as much to his liking as they were up to a sun or two ago. The keeper isn't anyways particular as to a puppy's preferences along the diet line—though maybe they have reasons for the apparent lack of interest.

The black fellow has a smart-alecky looking body, but a wistful looking face. He has had the feeling ever since his service-car driver master first taught him to stand on the running board that he ought to have a collar and a tag thing, like the other dogs who rode in cars and Fords, but the thought was evidently a mere solo stunt. His master didn't have it.

None of their masters had it—though some of them may have just grown up without the assistance of an owner. Dog tags cost a little money, and it isn't hard to get by without them if you're lucky.

But when you aren't lucky, it's the big pound for Maje, five days' board, and then—a trip "west."

That's what it means for a dog to be "outside the law."

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Will you kindly give your valuable advice on the following: I have a 1919 Saxon six, run less than 4,000 miles. Last week while on a five hundred mile drive it developed a knock when the motor is idleing and especially when the spark is retarded and the motor is speeded up suddenly. Knock does not show when motor is pulling. Spark plugs are clean and crank case has been rinced and fresh oil put in. Motor runs very smooth when on road and knock does not show after motor has been warmed up, but does show when machine is started cold, but disappears mostly when spark is increased. As stated above, it is worst when spark is retarded and gas is abnormally turned on suddenly. Thanking you, I am—C. T.

It is difficult to locate such a knock without hearing the engine in operation. The symptoms indicate piston slap in one or more cylinders, or possibly a worn valve lifter. Try sounding with a metal rod under the conditions of engine operation you describe. Hold one end of rod and thumb to the ear and close the other ear. Sound over the engine and suspected parts until you locate the place of the loudest noise. It may possibly be end play in a drive shaft.

Motor Department: How can I prevent the brushes from squeaking on my generator? Do they need renewing, or is the commutator getting rough?—K. J.

The squeaking is caused by the commutator being a little too dry. A very light touch of vaseline is all that is necessary. If the commutator is rough it should be turned down and new brushes installed.

Motor Department: Please tell me what you think is the matter with my Ford car. The engine stopped about a week ago and has refused to run ever since. When it is cranked it gives explosions in the muffler, and will not turn under its own power. As I know nothing about the mechanism I have not attempted to tamper with it. Thanking you, I am—C. K.

The fact that it always fires through the muffler shows that the roter in the timer has come loose. It makes contact when each cylinder is on the exhaust stroke. The ignition will have to be retimed, which is a service station job unless you are experienced in such work.

Motor Department: Please give me directions for charging a Ford magneto. Is it practical to do this without removing the fly wheel cover?—OWNER.

It will not pay to recharge the Ford magneto. Buy new magnets and have them properly installed. Some experimenters have found a way to recharge with the magnets still on the car, but it would not be advisable for you to try it without the special apparatus they use.

Motor Department: My Ford differential is becoming noisy, possibly because I have not attended to it recently. I put oil in the engine regularly. Is the differential oiled from the engine or must it be looked after separately?—A. B.

The oiling system on the Ford car merely takes care of the engine and gears. The plug on the differential housing must be removed and more grease inserted at frequent intervals. Use a medium cup grease. If this does not stop the noise, perhaps you will find it necessary to make repairs.

Motor Department: Will you please let me know how to prevent accumulation of soot on two of the exhaust valves and on spark plug? Only a short time ago all carbon was removed and, only running about 100 miles, it is so bad that I get poor ignition. Could it be leaky cylinder rings?—S. C.

The piston rings may have lost their resiliency, be sticking in piston grooves owing to carbonized oil, or the slots may have worked in line. If the motor is an old one new rings will not show much improvement. If the cylinders are true then perhaps oversize pistons and rings will cure the trouble, otherwise regrinding of cylinders will be necessary.

Motor Department: Is there any method of removing the old grease from the differential of an old Ford without taking it apart?—E. L.

Place about a pint of kerosene in the case and operate the car for an hour or so. This mixes with the stiff grease around the sides and bottom and softens it so that it will run out. Refill with kerosene and operate another hour on level roads, as kerosene makes a poor lubricant. Drain and refill. After the third cleansing it should be drained thoroughly and filled with transmission grease to the usual level.

Motor Department: We have a Dort car. Recently it has begun to consume three times as much cylinder oil as it used to, and if the oil gets low the engine develops a knock and weakens in climbing a hill. If filled full of oil there seems nothing wrong with it. Yet there must be something, as it did not have this trouble until recently. Can you tell me the cause?—M. C.

There must be a leak somewhere, as you could not consume an excessive amount without carbonizing the cylinders. Evidently there is a leak at some point when engine is working. This should be stopped immediately.

Motor Department: When I let in my clutch the car jumps in starting. This has occurred lately. It is almost a new car and I do not know whether there is any adjustment or not. Can you tell me what might be the cause of this and how to fix it? I think it is a leather faced clutch.—P. T.

The clutch is too "fierce." When starting from a standstill you should engage it slowly. If it is a leather-faced cone clutch, then treat the leather with some neatsfoot oil. The oil should be allowed to soak into the leather for a few hours at least.

Motor Department: Please advise me how to adjust the bands on my Ford transmission. Where are they located and how can I tell when they are correctly adjusted?—T. K.

The low speed adjustment can be made without removing the cover of the transmission case. Screw it in up to the point where it takes hold without slipping when pedal is applied. If set up too tight the car will run forward when cranked. The reverse and brake adjustments are inside the case. Move the pedal and tighten up the nut on the band you see moving.

Helpful Hints.

Too much grease in the transmission is likely to make the gears almost as noisy as too little. It is a poor practice to fill transmission cases to the brim in an attempt to silence the noisy growl from the gears. The better way is to fill the case about half way—unless the manufacturer recommends some other limit.

Be sure your gear case lubricant is not too heavy for this time of year. It should flow between the teeth of the gears readily. For this reason a medium grade of good lubricant should be used.

Grinding noises in gear-set or differential can be reduced by using a heavier grease, but judgment must be used, as it is easy to get a grease so heavy that when it is chilled it will squeeze out of the gears and stay out, causing them to run dry and thus aggravating the trouble.

When coasting down a long hill change from one brake to the other to allow each one to cool in turn. Unfortunately this does not cool the brake drums. So use the engine as a brake and go down very steep hills against compression. Leave the gears in high speed, or, if you find it too fast, use second or first speed. Stop the engine so it will cool at the the same time.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTOMOBILE MEN

E. Cochran is back from his trip to the Chevrolet assembly plant at Fort Worth and reports that from all indications our own little auto row is putting it over the central Texas dealers in point of sales by quite a margin.

Paul Von Allmen has been holding down the fort alone for the past week as Carl Eckman is still with his wife and family in Louisiana. Second hand car sales have been unusually good, one new Hupmobile was delivered the first of the week.

Lloyd Weaver spent last Saturday and Sunday in Fort Worth. Hall reports delivery of a Hudson seven passenger to A. A. Percley of Burk.

Doc Randle has been mighty busy the past few days on the Chautauqua committee. Found time somehow, however, to get a new shipment of Oldfield tires put on the racks.

F. D. Keim announces delivery of three new Studebakers.

W. J. Daugherty of the Overland outfit is on jury duty. Says the three bucks a day hardly compensates him for the sales he has been losing.

Glad we don't come up for trial this week.

AUTO TIRES ARE NOT HAMMERS DON'T ABUSE THEM, M'FALL SAYS

There are two ways of mistreating a tire, one neglect and the other downright misuse. To get proper mileage on the investment involved it is necessary to give a tire occasional attention, especially important being the requirement that the inflation be kept up to the prescribed figure.

"But it is equally important," says J. M. McFall, dealer in United States tires, "that abuse be avoided. How can a tire give a good account of itself if it is bumped and scraped and hammered? Even the best tires will look like poor ones under such treatment, for they simply cannot stand up under it."

Times want ads bring quick results.

New Street Cleaning Truck.

The power is applied to the third wheel, which is in the rear of a new street cleaning truck, the engine also revolving a cylindrical broom, while a snow plow can be mounted in front if desired.

Converts Auto Into Tractor.

A cleated belt has been invented to convert an automobile into a tractor of the endless tread type, supplementary wheels being inserted between the regular ones to distribue weight.

WAELDER MAKES HIGH MARK IN TESTING OUT FRANKLIN CAR FOR GASOLINE MILEAGE

Carl Waelder started out last Wednesday to prove to himself and others just what a Franklin could do in the way of high mileage per gallon of gasoline.

A brand new car was used, with an absolutely empty carburetor. The gasoline tank was disconnected and a quart bottle of gas was rigged up on the side of the car, feeding into the carburetor.

The test was started from a dead stop in front of the Franklin sales room on Lamar street, up the hill on Tenth street and out the lake road, beyond the Call Field road. Five and five-tenths miles was covered on the quart of gasoline, or at the rate of 22 miles per gallon.

On the return trip the quart bottle was filled again and the start made on the far side of the spillway from a dead stop. This quart brought the car back down town and around the city streets for a total of 8.6 miles or at the rate of 35½ miles to the gallon.

Mr. Waelder states that the test was absolutely a fair one and that what he accomplished is no more than any Franklin owner can do any time, anywhere. He wants them to try a similiar test to convince themselves of the extremly low maintenance cost of the Franklin.

RUBSAM GIVES OUT SOME HOT WEATHER HINTS ABOUT CARS

"Hot weather hints for motorists" might be the subject of some timely advice to all Wichita Falls automobile owners from D. H. Rubsam, Manager Marshall Huff Motor company, well known in this vicinity as the Oakland Motor car representative.

"There are certain precautions that every motorist takes in the winter," remarks Mr. Rubsam, "to protect his car frow low temperatures. The extreme heat of the summer presents hazards, too, that should be guarded against by the provident driver.

"Especially should he see to it that he is receiving and using an ample supply of the exact oil recommended for his car by its builders. Unless he is getting efficient lubrication he cannot expect maximum efficiency and freedom from trouble. Some cars are built to use the same oil the year 'round. Others resuire oils of varying viscosity in summer and winter. Make certain from your dealer what oil you should be using. Ask him for the engineers' specifications.

"In hot weather make every endeavor to prevent the water boiling. See to it that the fan belt is in good condition and at proper tention, and that the fan belt pulleys are in alignment.

"If dirty water, or water containing anything that might tend to corrode the radiator interior—thus obstructing the water flow—has been used, take immediate steps to correct such trouble. Examine the hose connections to make certain they are not in need of renewal. Often through neglect, the interior of these connections bulges to such an extent that the water flow is hindered.

"If you have used a saline anti-freeze solution—which is not recommended but oft-times employed as cheaper than alcohol—be certain that it has been entirely removed.

"When washing the car, flush water through the radiator the most ordinary source of a quick-to-overheat motor lies in faulty ignition. The timing should be checked up, the plugs kept clean.

Combines Tool Box and Work Bench.

The hinged lid of a new tool box for automobile running boards is fitted with legs that enable it to be used as a work bench when opened.

Do not neglect the universal joint because it is hard to get at. It does a terrific amount of work, and must be lubricated properly to stand the strains and also to trasmit power without absorbing a great deal of it through friction. As it begins to wear it develops a peculiar thump, which gets worse very rapidly.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

A fan belt kept soft and pliable will give the best service.

Tires will wear twice as fast as they should when the wheels are allowed to become wobbly.

When cleaning and running gear parts it is advisable to use a wire brush.

Cone clutch slipage can sometimes be avoided by using some talcum powder.

The use of cheese cloth to remove dust from the body of the car will ruin the finish.

Rope burlap wrapped around the rear tires will prove a big help in keeping the wheels from spinning when stalled in a sandy spot.

The use of hot water for washing a car has a deteriorating effect on the varnish of a well finished body of a car.

There are ruts at the bottom of almost every hill. Hitting these ruts at top speed may cause the driver to lose control of the car and cause a serious accident.

In order to prevent the silvering of lamp reflectors from tarnishing when not in use it is good to give the surface a light coating of alcohol in which collodion has been dissolved.

When difficulty is encountered in turning down grease cups they should be removed and the obstructing matter carefully cleaned out, after which they should be filled with fresh grease.

When installing chains on the rear wheels, install on both wheels or none at all. Only one chain may result in a serious accident, but when all four wheels are chained it will help materially in the steering.

Do not throw away your valve caps. Screw them on firmly and prevent air leakage. The valve plunger, a little mechanism inside the stem, serves as an air lock during the inflation, but the valve cap is a secondary air seal during the usage.

When the rear wheels get into a hole and it is difficult to obtain traction to pull out, back up then shift gear quickly to take advantage of any forward momentum of the car. The forward drift of the car may be just enough to help you out.

The life of a tire is the air it contains. Twenty pounds to the dross section inch is the general rule. Thus, a 3½-inch casing needs 70 pounds and a 4-inch 80 pounds. The condition of the road, the weight carried and the speed traveled are also factors in determining the correct amount of air pressure for the tire.

Flooding of Carburetor.

Flooding of the carburetor is caused by several possible troubles. A needle valve may be held open or be leaking. Dirt may have collected on the seat of the valve, preventing its closing, or the following may be the causes: Imperfect or worn needle valve or seat; mechanism stuck; a too heavy or leaking float, which would sink too deep, holding the needle valve open; level too high; loose spray nozzle.

Visible Temperature Indicator.

WORTHLESS GOVERNMENT TIRES HAVE APPEARED IN NATIONAL MARKETS—RANDLE

A flood of automobile tires have been placed on American markets during the past months and are causing no end of trouble because of inferior quality and the absence of any adjustment provisions, according to C. C. Randle of the Randle Auto Supply company.

These tires were purchased by the government during the war, Mr. Randle says, and after the signing of the armistice were sold to France. Now, for some reason or other, they have been returned to America and are appearing on American markets. Being out of date and having had no care taken of them they have naturally deteriorated and when placed in use quickly go to pieces and blow out.

This includes solid truck tires.

The only way to avoid getting these worthless tires and tubes is to purchase your new "shoes" from a responsible dealer and get adjustment clauses with them.

A device made in sections that can be combined to form a chair, a bed or a table has been invented by a Californian for use by automobile tourists.

Texan Who Heads Shipping Board Was Once Cub Reporter

Albert Lasker, new head of the federal shipping board, son of M. Lasker of Galveston, who figured prominently in Wichita Falls' early history, began his business career as a newspaper man, according to a story told by S. O. Young in the Houston Chronicle. Mr. Young's story follows:

The appointment by President Harding of Albert Lasker, formerly of Galveston, as head of the shipping board, was peculiarly pleasing to me, for I have known him since his boyhood, and, in fact, had a hand in launching him on his successful career, after his graduation at Ball high school, and have followed his course onward since that day.

In the late '80s, I have forgotten the exact year, Albert's father, the late M. Lasker of Galveston came to the Galveston News office one day, bringing with him his son Albert, and told me that Albert was anxious to become a newspaper man, and, and asked me to make a place on the News staff for him if there was no vacancy. He remarked that there need be no question of salary, since he proposed to look after the financial end of the affair, considering the whole thing as a part of Albert's education.

However, there chanced to be a vacancy in the staff of reporters, and Albert was given the place and turned over to D. D. Bryan, the city editor. Bryan told him that he had best start in on some routine work, and instructed him to go to the custom house and get a list of vessels that had arrived and cleared the day before, together with a copy of their manifests, etc., and then to go to the barge office on the wharf at the foot of Twentieth street, where Chief Inspector Delaney would give him a list of arrivals and departure of vessels, and would also correct the location of vessels in port.

Already Prepared.

Lasker told him that he knew all about that, for he had been studying the local columns of the News carefully for a week or two, studying the "style" of the paper and the methods of treating the news, and felt that he understood everything except where to go after the news.

That afternoon he brought in his report, which was written accurately and would have passed muster as being the work of an old head. He did something more, however, that showed that he had the true instinct of a good reporter.

Captain Delaney had given him the list of arrivals, and in doing so had mentioned the fact that a Spanish tramp steamer had arrived that morning that was pretty badly battered up, having encountered a hurricane off Cape Hatteras. Lasker asked where she was berthed and then went there and interviewed her captain on his experience. He gave latitude and longitude of the point where she first felt the effects of the storm, followed that up with questions about the development of the hurricane and all those kind of things, and when he got through he had his note book filled with notes from which he wrote one of the best stories I have ever read about a ship's experience when passing near the center of one of these great storms at sea.

There was nothing amateurish about the thing, and not a word or line in the whole story had to be changed. The information contained in the story was considered of such great value that Major Buell, the weather observer at Galveston, who is now on duty at San Antonio, sent a copy of it to the United States hydrographic office at Washington.

I mention these things here to show how thoroughly Lasker prepared himself for anything he undertook in his early days, and his success in life since shows that he still adheres to his methods of arming himself as thoroughly as possible before entering on an undertaking. He had studied the columns of the News, as I have said, before undertaking to write a single line for its columns, with the result that when he began he knew exactly how and what to write.

Leaves for Chicago.

After remaining on the News for a month or two, he resigned, telling me that the writing end of a newspaper offered no future for a man who wanted to advance in life, but that he thought that the advertising end might give him what he sought. He announced his intention of going to Chicago, where there was a great field, and studying that branch of newspaper work. He left for Chicago, entered an advertising office in that city, and gave the same thought and attention to the work that he had given to the writing end.

His success was phenomenal. In less than a year he had advanced to the position of assistant manager of the company, and then he organized a company of his own, which is today regarded as one of the greatest and most successful advertising concerns in the United States.

Albert is a man of brains, and one who does great things. His talent as a organizer and director of men and affairs is phenomenally great. He comes by this naturally, for his father, the late Senator M. Lasker, who was one of the most successful business men of Galveston, while his uncle, Herr Lasker, was the great German statesman who was such a thorn in the side of Chancellor Bismarck, and who died in New York while on his way home after visiting his brother, Albert's father, in Galveston some years ago. Thus it is seen that Albert inherits executive, business and organizing brains, and it is evident that he knows how to use all three kinds.

I noticed that some of the democrats in Washington opposed his confirmation as head of the shipping board, and can not understand why. Unless Albert has fallen from grace and gone over to the republicans, he must be an old-time Jacksonian democrat, for his father was one in every meaning of the word.

STUDEBAKER CORPORATION STARTS "CHICAGO DAY" IN NORTH; WOT SAY, FRANK?

"Chicago day" is the latest innovation at the big Studebaker factory which manufacturers the light-six Studebaker models in South Bend. The idea has been engineered by dealers in Chicago territory, and is in the nature of a trip by deligations of these dealers on Wednesday of each week for the purpose of absorbing plenty of factory enthusiasm. Incidentally, each dealer drives away from the plant in a brand new light-six intended for a waiting customer.

The first "Chicago day" invasion was such a great success, with 78 dealers from small Wisconsin and Illinois towns in the party, that it has been decided to make this plan permanent. In each instance, the dealers are chaperoned by the manager of the Studebaker branch in Chicago. Many of the dealers are also accompanied by owners who drive their own new light-sixes home from the factory.

Perhaps the feature of greatest public interest brought out by these trips by the Chicago territory dealers is that the rural districts are prosperous and purchasing automobiles in large numbers, and that the bankers in these districts are lending their support to the purchase of motor cars.

Reports from these dealers are also to the effect that farmers are demanding better motor cars than they were satisfied with in former years. They are becoming more interested in cars which, while light in weight, are of high quality and offer unusual value in terms of better looks, easier riding qualities, greater power and more all-round comfort and convenience.

DON'T RUN YOUR CAR WITH THE GENERATOR; LOCAL BATTERY DEALER ADVISES

What is the greatest drain on an automobile storage battery? Operating the starting motor."

J. W. Brown 1 SL service station representative for this locality says that that under no condition should this motor be used in running the car. If it is, permanent damage may result to the battery.

"The storage battery is not a too intricate mechanism for the motorist to master at least its fundamentals. For example, he should know a little more than merely keeping the plates covered with electrolyte by adding pure distilled water occasionally. He should know something about electrolyte and how battery plates wear out. He should understand the normal specific gravity of this fluid, so that he will have a battery recharged and the conditions affecting it rectified before it is too late.

"Furthermore, he should be able to recognize the difference between up-to-date machine-pasted plates and the old-style hand-made plates. The greater pressure used in the manufacture of machine-pasted plates and the resultant greater density and tougher structure make these plates more durable. They are able to resist longer the wearing out action to which they are subjected."

ESSEX

How to Choose a Motor Car

Do you choose an automobile merely by its looks?

Appearances alone often determine the choice.

But the way to judge an automobile is by what it and rival cars are doing after a year's hard service.

So the showroom view and the demonstration we can give you can not reveal the long endurance you get in the Essex.

But from scores of owners you will learn what Essex means in reliable service, in low operating cost in freedom from repairs.

Our demonstration will show performance of a character no similarly priced car will undertake. It is fine to know that one drives a car that need not give way to any other on a stretch of open road or hill.

It is fine to know you have as sturdy and as good a performer as those who are driving cars costing twice the Essex price.

But the greater delight grows as month after month you learn Essex reliability.

All its advantages cannot be seen in the new car. Many devices which provide for longer wear or for taking up wear at no expense are not conspicious.

The Essex clutch, as an example, so completely performs its functions, owners are hardly conscious that the car has such a unit.

There are many types of clutches.

In a new car they operate equally well. But time reveals the difference and justifies the greater cost put into the Essex in design and workmanship.

Throughout the Essex are found just such items that assure a longer, more satisfactory service.

So when owners tell you of two year old cars and of twenty or thirty thousand miles of service be not surprised. It is not that they have an unusually good Essex, but that every Essex is so different from other cars of its class that it rightfully holds its exclusive title as "The moderate priced, economical light weight car with costly car performance and reliability."

Would any similarly priced car be as desirable after a year's service?

FAVORITE OF 15 CARS
Have driven 9,000 miles to date and instead of depreciating in efficiency my Essex has increased daily.
It is the greatest of 15 makes I have driven. My next car will be an Essex. And so will the next.
I average in summer driving 19 miles and in winter 15 miles per gallon.
I do not know what tire trouble is.

FITTS' STATEMENT DECLARES STAND ON MUNICIPAL MATTERS

The Times has received the following:

To the Voters of Wichita Falls:

I believe that a man who submits his name to the voters for any official position should in connection therewith advise them of his plans for service, should give them an idea, at least, of the measures favored as a means of better representing their interests. If I did not believe that I could render a better service to the tax payers of Wichita Falls than they are now receiving I should certainly not ask them to support me in this campaign. If I did not think that I could conduct the affairs of the police department in a more economical and more satisfactory way I should not be in the race for commissioner at this time. That there is room for improvement I think all will admit. In the face of the lavish expenditure of money and the incident high rate of taxation it is certainly time to call a halt. In connection with other things let me call your attention to these facts.

Wichita Falls, with approximately twice the population credited to the city a few years ago, has a police force more than four times as large. Will any one contend that crime has increased proportionately? We believe not. Then are we not over-burdened with patrolmen and incidentally squandering just that much of the money that is being garnered from the pockets of the men who must foot the bills for municipal expenses? I believe that the city of Wichita Falls can be provided with adequate police protection with a much smaller force than is now being used, and if I am elected your commissioner I intend to see that economy is exercised in this branch of the city government, as well as in all others as far as in my power.

If elected I shall organize the police department on an economical basis, with a view to efficiency, but at the same time a salary sufficient to command the services of the very best men, and home men at that. I do not believe it is necessary and I am sure that it is not good policy, nor is it manifesting a spirit of loyalty to Wichita Falls to give preference to out-of-town people or men who have been here but a short time. In all instances I shall insist on preference being shown to bona fide residents in the employment of men in any department of the city government. Furthermore, I shall insist that American citizens be employed at all times where such service can be obtained.

There are other matters which do not come directly under the head of the police department, but which the city government has authority to regulate, and in which the people are very vitally interested, that need immediate attention. Especially is this true of the gas company, the rates of which have been steadily mounting from time to time until the aggregate charge for service has reached a point entirely beyond all reason. A government, city or otherwise, that will permit such practices to be perpetrated as is shown by the bills charged by this company, is certainly neglecting a duty it owes to the people, and if I am elected a member of the city council the matter is going to be remedied or I will know the reason why.

It is not necessary for me to cite any particular example of this fragrant over-charge, almost every home in the city is familiar with the situation, but I will refer to one instance of which I have personal knowledge just to show how the public has been made to dance to the music of this corporation, while the city officials not only condoned but encouraged to the extent of authorizing an increase in the rates from time to time. In this particular home using two stoves the gas bills at intervals during the past few years have run as follows:

February, 1916	$2.05
November, 1917	$6.25
December, 1917	$8.00
February, 1918	$7.50
November, 1919	$16.60
November, 1920	$18.90
December, 1920	$20.50
January, 1921	$60.00

This is just one instance. There are many others with proportionate increases the receipts for which are available if required to convince. The people are entitled to relief from such charges and the city government alone has power to provide the remedy. It is up to you.

In this connection I might also state that I consider the telephone rates in this city excessive.

I shall also favor requiring public service corporations enjoying the franchise privileges of the city to provide service to all parts of the city when reasonable conditions have been met.

Another matter to which I wish to call your attention is the excessive cost for paving in the city. I believe this can be overcome by eliminating some of the profit-takers involved in the contract system, and to this end would favor the city employing a competent superintendent, buying the materials in large quantities and doing the work itself, giving work involved to our home men. Such a plan, I am quite sure, would effect a nice saving and prove a very satisfactory arrangement.

Among other things, if I am elected police commissioner, I am going to free the residence part of the city, as far as possible, of women of questionable character. Every neighborhood should be protected in this respect in justice to the respectable families residing therein.

There are numerous other matters upon which I shall touch during the progress of the campaign and in the meantime I shall be glad to have you consider the issues referred to herein as specially bearing on the present contest, and if you believe that such changes as are outlined will be for the best interests of the city and the tax payers, I shall appreciate your support for the office of police commissioner. My policy at all times will be to exercise the strictest economy in conducting the city's business with a view to keeping the tax rate at the lowest possible figure.

In conclusion I wish to refer to the matter of the selection of a chief of police. While I personally have no grievance with Mr. Goodfellow and am personally on the most friendly terms with the former chief, I should not, if elected, recommend him for appointment to the office. First, because I understand that Mr. Goodfellow does not want the position, and second, because I believe it would be better to name some one who has not been involved in any controversy in this capacity. I refer to this in all due respect to Mr. Goodfellow and do not intend in the least to ditract from his splendid reputation as an officer. I mention the matter in order that I may not be misunderstood, confident that the issue would have been raised during the progress of the campaign.

Yours for economy and low taxes,
J. B. FITTS.

"KU KLUX" APPEARS AT BURKBURNETT

Editor of Star Receives Statement of It's Plans—Is For Law Enforcement.

The "Klu Klux Klan" has made its appearance in Wichita county.

The Burkburnett Star has received notice that Burkburnett now has such an organization, the newspaper being sent a communication setting forth the purposes of the secret body.

So far as known, no similar organization has yet been formed in Wichita Falls. The Burkburnett organization appears to aim particularly at cohabitation between whites and blacks. Its communication, as published in the Star, follows:

"To the citizens of Burkburnett and vicinity, greeting. This organization has caused to be posted the following proclamation:

"Be it known and hereby proclaimed:

"That this organization is composed of native-born Americans and none others.

"That it proposes to uphold the dignity and authority of the law.

"That no innocent person of any color, creed or lineage has just cause or fear to condemn this body of men.

"That our creed is opposed to violence, lynchings, etc., but that we are even more strongly opposed to the things that cause lynchings and mob rule.

"That this organization stands for the enforcement of all laws without fear or favor. It recognizes, however, that situations frequently arise where no existing law offers a remedy. It hopes to see such conditions remedied by the power of public opinion and proper laws.

"That this organization does not countenance and will not stand for the co-habitation of blacks and whites of either sex. It does not countenance and it will not stand for social parasites remaining in this city. It is equally opposed to the gambler, trickster, the moral degenerate and the man who lives by his wits and is without visible means of support.

"The eye of the unknown hath seen and doth constantly observe all white and black who disregard this warning. 'Whatever thou sowest, that shall ye also reap.' Regardless of official, social or financial position, this warning applies to all living within the jurisdiction of this klan.

"'Your sins will find you out.' Be not deceived. You cannot deceive us and we will not be mocked.

"This warning will not be repeated.

"'Mene Mene Tekel Upharsen.'

"This organization further believes that the certainty of perpetuating American liberties lies in the solid support of our public school system, adding thereto love of country and veneration for the Deity. With this in view, it wants to see an American flag raised each day with appropriate ceremonies over every public schoolhouse in the state, and each pupil in those schools instructed in the principles of morality. We believe in the enactment of a statute to that effect.

"Hereafter all communications from us will bear the official seal of our klan.

"KNIGHTS OF THE KLU KLUX KLAN."

The notice received by the Star also stated that the official seal of the klan would be filed with the police department of the city of Burkburnett, and anyone receiving a notice could go to the city hall and compare them to see that their notice was genuine.

MARMON CONVENTION AT INDIANAPOLIS DRAWS MANY DEALERS, LOCAL MAN SAYS

L. L. Fritz, local Marmon distributor, has just returned with a description of the second annual two-day convention of Marmon dealers and distributors held in the Nordyke and Marmon plant at Indianapolis immediately following the speedway in that city. Approximately 100 distributors attended the meeting and enjoyed the comprehensive program that was arranged and conducted by Vice-President F. E. Moskovics.

One session was devoted to a free discussion of service in which general approval of the fixed price system of charging for service was strongly advocated by a few of the distributors who have had it in operation for some time. One distributor discussed a plan whereby he had a record of the service cost of every Marmon in his territory and explained the value of such information. A vote was taken on whether the hour rate charge for service should be changed.

A feature of the convention was a series of demonstrations in touring cars over a specially arranged circuit in which the advantage and merits of Marmon design were explained by different methods. Acceleration and brake tests were included. The thought was to stage an ideal demonstration which might be used by each individual distributors.

One session was also devoted to the subject of analysis of a distributor's territory to ascertain the sales possibilities. In this a typical Ohio territory was taken and a factory analysis made, showing charts which gave the approximate population and number of Marmon sales which might be expected. The method of making such an analysis, the time needed for such, cost and other items were also shown.

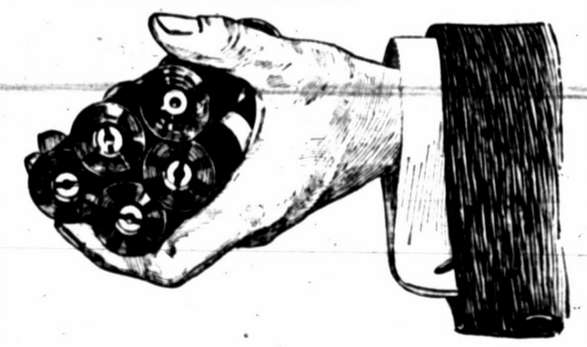

Prompt and efficient service for all autoists in this city has been promised by L. M. Forcier of the Electric Service Station following his return from a state distributors' convention at Dallas a short time ago.

At that meeting, which was attended by practically all dealers in the state who handle the Delco, Klaxon and Remy products, it was decided that when adjustments were needed in any of the above electrical equipment such work would be done right at the local stations and would not be sent to the factory for an official O. K. Heretofore this has been necessary and has resulted not only in much loss of time but also in considerable expense to all parties involved.

Under the new plan all local auto drivers using Electric Service equipment may have adjustments made quickly and correctly at the local station.
