Pirates Meet Warriors Nov. 3

By Robert Oliver

On Friday, Nov. 3 the Pirates of Rockport-Fulton High School will travel to Tulosomidway to meet the Warriors in a District 28-2A gridiron clash that will begin at 8 p.m.

The Pirates suffered a 16-6 beating last week from Gregory-Portland while the Warriors were also walloped 27-7 by the Taft Greyhounds.

In previous district play the Pirates and the Greyhounds battled to a 0-0 game. Also the Warriors suffered a district loss to Gregory-Portland as did the Pirates. Past play leaves the Pirates with a 1-3-1 district record and the Warriors with a 1-4-0 record which puts the Pirates a half-game out in front of the Warriors.

Both teams will pose a definite offensive threat throughout the game while the Pirates defensive squad will have the slight advantage.

The game will surely prove to be a most exciting clash that will keep fans guessing from play to play. Local fans are urged to follow the Pirates to Tuloso and give their full support in order to help obtain another Pirate victory.

SBA Reconsiders Hardship Cases of Hurricane Victims

The Disaster Branch Office of the Small Business Administration is taking steps to ease financial problems where they have developed into hardship situations for some victims of Hurricane Beulah.

Rodney W. Martin, who heads the SBA operation in the Coastal Bend area, said instructions have been issued to the loan specialists in the offices at Alice, Sinton, North Beach, Robstown and Falfurrias to make sure that "maximum assistance within the intent of governing legislation" is being made in cases where some storm victims have run into financial difficulties.

In most cases where the hardship cases have developed, Martin said, applicants were unable to meet Disaster Loan repayment requirements in addition to meeting their current financial obligations.

He said in some instances, because of that hardship, the SBA had not been able to approve the applicants request for a Disaster Loan, in the past.

Screwworms Pose Threat to County

The fall screwworm outbreak—aided by rains, winds and floods triggered by Hurricanes Beulah and Fern in the Southwest United States and Northern Mexico—continued to threaten Texas livestock producers, says County Agent D. P. Pawlik.

Still another factor of major concern, Pawlik stressed, is the possibility that Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program officials at Mission may not know just how serious the situation is in the southern tip of the state, where high waters, a month after Hurricane Beulah, still make it impossible for many ranchers to check their herds for screwworms.

The week ending Oct. 21 was the biggest one, casewise, thus far in 1967, with a record 170 positive cases confirmed in Texas. The previous week, 133 new cases had been confirmed. In 1966, the peak week was that of Oct. 8, when 197 cases were confirmed. A downward trend was seen after that time last year, however, and cases declined rapidly.

Martin Wheeler, chairman of the San Patricio and Aransas County's Screwworm Committee, reiterated the warning echoed by the County Agent. "We are asking all producers to continue their vigilance

Phone Co. May Run New Line To Key Allegro

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is exploring the possibility of expanding telephone service to Key Allegro Island by installing a submarine type cable approximately 2,000 feet across Little Bay.

This became known Wednesday night when H. Anderson, district engineer, and John Moeck of the telephone company who outlined the plan at a meeting of Navigation District commissioners.

Anderson said the tentative plan is to install the cable several feet below the bottom of the bay and run it from a point near Little Bay Shores to Unit No. 3 at Key Allegro.

Navigation District Commissioners Matt Scott, Dick Fox and Ted Little and Ellis Clark, attorney for the district, agreed that the district would have no objection to the project as long as the cable was buried deep enough to not interfere with marine movement such as a dragging anchor.

In other actions the commissioners:

—Approved payment to Fulton Boat Yard of $7,450 for removing 10 boats sunk in Fulton Harbor, and $628 for removing some concrete bulkheading.

—Approved payment of $513.40 to Vermillion Construction Co. for removing debris from Rockport Beach Road.

Scott said the district expects to be reimbursed by the federal government for these expenditures in connection with the hurricane relief programs.

—The same applies to future payment of $190.35 to Moody Electric Co. on its low bid to install electric boxes and repair wiring at Fulton Harbor around the basin and piers.

In Harbormaster Bernie DeForest's report he said he had finished work on all piers in Fulton Harbor and had repaired a damaged water line in B-dock in Fulton Harbor.

Public Meeting On $400,000 Bond Issue

The public will be given an opportunity Monday night, Nov. 6 to ask questions and get detailed information about the city's proposed $400,000 bond issue for storm sewers and street improvements on which Rockport residents will vote Nov. 14.

The public meeting will be held in the Rockport-Fulton Junior High School cafeteria and will start at 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Delmar R. Hiller urges everyone to attend, pointing out that "only by means of a public meeting, with questions and answers, can all the ramifications of a project of this magnitude be made clear."

In addition to Hiller, others who will answer questions are Gene Urban of Urban Engineering, Corpus Christi, city engineer for Rockport, and Alderman Charlie Garrett, Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Hardin, N. F. Jackson and N. C. Vandagriff.

The election will be to vote for the issuance of $400,000 in general obligation bonds to mature over a period of 20 years. Laddie Janecek of First Southwest Co., the City's financial advisor, said the bonds probably will be sold at approximately 4½ per cent interest.

It is the hope and expectation of the City Council that not only will the $400,000 bond issue election pass but that in addition the city will receive a $200,000 grant from the Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) for storm sewers, making the project a $600,000 undertaking.

Hiller said, "We are encouraged about our grant prospects because we have been visited by HUD teams following the hurricane and they indicated they thought we would have no difficulty in obtaining the grant."

"Because of the strong possibility of obtaining the grant, our storm sewer program has been enlarged to more effectively cover the entire city."

The mayor said that if the HUD grant is obtained and if the bond issue passes, $400,000 will be spent on storm sewers and $200,000 on street improvements including paving, curbs and gutters.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

CAR BURIAL INSURANCE

The problem of what to do with "junkers"—automobiles which are completely worn out—is a lot more complicated and difficult than it appears on the surface. It is also more important. With millions of new cars being put into service every year, and millions more being retired, the junkers pile up, and society is in the way of being devoured by its own refuse heap.

There was a time when the scrap metal market was strong and active. It was worth while for a salvage dealer to buy your old car and sell its metal. at a modest profit. But unfortunately, he can't. Your old car, as scrap metal, isn't worth the cost of breaking up and moving away.

Some authorities hold the cost of transportation is the blocking factor; that the steel mills could absorb the scrap metal and pay enough for it to cover junking the old cars, if only there were some economical way to transport the cars or the scrap to the mills. That may well be true, but it doesn't help much. Old cars are where you find them or, more accurately, where you abandon them.

Now comes Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois with a suggestion of great promise. He proposes what he calls "Car Burial Insurance." It's really another tax, of course, but one which might be welcomed by all concerned. His suggestion it that 1% of the price of a new car be levied to make up a "car disposal fund." The fund would be used to subsidize a vast program to get old cars out from under foot. Not such a bad idea, at that. The price of the car includes the price of its burial.

Just what Senator Douglas proposes to do with the junkers he doesn't say. Perhaps he would sink them in the sea, fire them off into space, or bury them in abandoned mines. Or, more realistically, offer them to steel mills as scrap at minimum prices.

Oh yes, there are some bugs in the Senator's suggestion; but who has a better suggestion? Who has any other suggestion at all?—Washington (Ia.) Journal.

GETTING TO THE SEAT OF THE TROUBLE

The New England of Medicine has published an account of how a lawyer cured a shooting pain in his left buttock and leg by removing the wallet from his left hip pocket. Various treatments had failed to alleviate the misery.

One day the attorney removed the wallet, fat with credit cards and such, from his pocket and went about without it for some time. The pain disappeared. He began carrying the wallet again. The pain returned.

Without expensive medical treatment, the lawyer finally learned the cause of ailment: Credit-carditis.

Economists would nod: Moderate savings are good, but sitting on your money may have bad results. Too many credit cards may be the seat of the trouble.—Boise (Idaho) Statesman.

THE SORT OF WAR WE'RE FIGHTING

The layman on the street, inclined to become dissatisfied with the way the war in South Vietnam is going, simply has no conception of what a difficult conflict this one is turning out to be, despite optimistic statements from Washington, this nation might as well become reconciled to a long, long seige, barring, of course, some quick settlement.

Our troops simply aren't indoctrinated in the Viet Cong methods of waging warfare, but they are being trained as rapidly as possible, and the boys over there are learning from experience. But it is taking time.

Actually, the conflict is one of modern weapons versus some of the oldest forms of fighting known to man.

The Viet Cong have adopted the underground system for one thing. This means they have built intricate tunnels, rooms and living quarters, way down beneath the surface, beautifully camouflaged above ground so as to blend with the scenery.

Take one our forces found near Saigon in the Ho Bo woods. It is believed to extend all the way to the Cambodia border. Troops can enter there, work their way underground to the outskirts of Saigon. It was found to be equipped with reinforced rooms, fitted out as kitchens, mess halls, dormitories and classrooms. In spots it reached down as far as 40 feet.

The Viet Cong are building these underground systems over the territory, where troops can hide out even as the enemy is over them. Our officers say something like 5,000 new bunkers with connecting tunnels have been built just south of the demilitarized zone.

An innocent looking stack in a field may serve as a vent for air to the underground chambers. Or a simple shack may have an air pipe hidden inside some place.

This system is so old it was probably used by cavemen.

It also explains, perhaps, why the Viet Cong can slip back into an area our troops have just cleared.

This is the kind of war we are fighting. We bring up airplanes, bombs and Napalm to wreck the subway bunkers when found. Sometimes the work is successful; sometimes not. But when destroyed, the Viet Cong just brings in labor troops and start to rebuild.

It could go on and on, unless we find a better way of running the chipmunk soldiers out.

And, to think that Thailand even bought the fancy, super-duper train in England.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

Like any business, the business of gathering and publishing news has its ups and downs.

Some weeks the Rockport area produces a lot of news—meetings of the City Council, Commissioners Court, Navigation District and School Board, for example.

Other weeks, news is scarce and we really have to scratch to get enough articles to fill the Pilot. It is during these weeks that we appreciate the help of many local friends such as the folks connected with the School System.

When the call, "Got any news," goes out, our pals pitch in and never fail to come up with a number of interesting stories pertaining to the schools.

We're not going to mention any names because the list is so long that we might forget somebody, but it includes those in the administration buildings, also principals, teachers, coaches and the music experts.

This same co-operation is extended by city and county officials and by the Navigation District people. The Post Office also feeds us news, as do many organizations in the area. Business and industry representatives also report activities that constitute news. And so do churches.

To all these friends who help make The Pilot what we hope is an interesting paper, we thank you.

Seat Belts Fact Sheet

53,000 people lost their lives in traffic accidents during 1966. 35,100 were drivers or passengers in automobiles. If they had been using seat belts, at lease 8,000 to 10,000 of those lives would have been saved.

Three-fourths of all traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of home.

Half of all injury-producing accidents occur at impact speeds of 40 miles per hour or less.

Your chance of survival is five time greater if you stay "inside the car." Thousands of deaths and serious injuries are caused by being thrown from the car . . . being dragged or run over by another vehicle . . . or being "run over by your own vehicle."

A seat belt can help keep you from being unconscious . . . your chance of escaping if the car catches on fire or goes into water is multiplied hundreds of times.

Only 20 percent of all serious accidents in a convertible involve a rollover. In the other 80 per cent, belts would prevent ejection.

Seat belts can help prevent the second collosion . . . being thrown around "inside" the vehicle.

More than half of all passenger car occupants are now provided with seat belts . . . BUT they are using those belts only about half of the time.

Even this limited use, however, saved about 2,000 lives in 1966.

Bloodhounds have a gentle nature.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Around the year 1000 A.D. the Mound Builders planted corn on an area near Alto in Cherokee County now used by the Texas Forest Service as a forest tree nursery. Indian Mound Nursery, as it is called, gets its name from the mound that is on the nursery area. Today, eight million pine seedlings, one-half million cottonwood, and other hardwoods are grown annually in the nursery to provide trees needed by Texas landowners for reforestation and windbreak purposes.

UNCLE SAM'S SELECTIVE SERVICE

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—I am an alien doctor, age 32, who has been in the U. S. three years. My classification was changed from V-A to I-A. Why?

A — You were originally placed in V-A under the law then in effect, as you were over age 26 when you registered with Selective Service. Your liability was not extended to age 35, as you had not been deferred. The Military Selective Service Act of 1967 provides that any person in a medical, dental, or allied specialist category shall be liable for service until age 35. In view of this, you are no longer eligible for V-A.

Q—How much active service must a man perform who volunteers for induction?

A—The same as the non-volunteer, 24 consecutive months, unless sooner terminated by the uniformed service.

Q—I recently moved from Dallas to New Orleans. How do I go about changing my local board to one in the vicinity of my current residence?

A—The draft board having jurisdiction over your place of residence at the time you registered will always be your board. You may transfer for physical examination or induction to the local board nearest you, however.

Q—I'm a graduate engineer. The State Highway Department has offered me a job. May I get a deferement for that?

A — That depends. Your board, after considering the facts, may defer you if it concludes this would contribute to the national interest.

WILDCATS TRIP PIRATES 16-6

By Robert Oliver

The Pirates of Rockport-Fulton High School were tripped 16-6 by the Gregory-Portland Wildcats last Friday night in Pirate Stadium. This District 28-2A thriller marked the third district loss for the Pirates who are now 1-3-1 in district competition.

The first quarter of play found the Pirates leading 6-3, after having trailed 3-0 for the first few minutes of play.

The Wildcats got their first three points from a 30 yard field goal by Albert Fixmer an ex-soccer player from Belgium.

The Pirates got their first quarter touchdown from Chris Edwards to Alan Edmonson. The conversion was blocked and the quarter ended 6-3.

In the second quarter neither team scored but the Pirates moved the ball to the Wildcats' 16-yard line before losing the ball on a fourth down play which failed. The score remained 6-3, Pirates leading as the half came to a conclusion.

The third quarter had just gotten underway as the Wildcats went into the end zone for paydirt. The extra point was good and the Wildcats had a quick 10-6 lead over the Pirates.

The Wildcats came right back to intercept a Pirate pass and move the ball back into the end zone for a touchdown that was called back due to a personal foul.

On fourth down the Wildcats had to settle for a 22-yard field goal by Albert Fixmer which now put them out in front 13-6 as the third quarter ended.

In the fourth quarter the Pirates once again were unable to score. However the Wildcats managed to get another field goal from 16 yards out by Albert Fixmer. This put the Wildcats out in front by a score of 16-6 where it remained throughout the final game time.

The field goal kicking by Albert Fixmer was unusual in District 28-2A football, yet it was undoubtably the determining factor in this grid-iron clash. The Wildcats led the Pirates in first downs and penetrations with 13-6 and 5-1.

Medical Folklore Usually Wrong

While much of medical folklore is now obsolete and largely forgotten, there are still many completely erroneous beliefs about their health held by sizeable numbers of people in our so-called age of enlightenment.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family, points out that grandma is not always wrong in her concepts of health. But she often is wrong.

The book lists some of the common misconceptions about health—

- Eating between meals is always harmful (untrue).
- Bad breath means disease (not so).
- Milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits (not so).
- Proteins and carbohydrates should not be eaten at the same meal (incorrect).
- Daily bowel movements are necessary for health (untrue).
- Pain in the back must indicate kidney disease (incorrect).
- Pain in the abdomen means an overloaded stomach (wrong).
- A laxative is good for abdominal pain (it is sometimes dangerous).
- Food kept in an open tin can is necessarily poisonous (not if properly refrigerated).
- Scales from scarlet fever and measles spread the disease (nose and throat secretions actually do).
- Sewer gas makes people sick (no—it's just unpleasant).

- Pimples and boils indicate bad blood (they are due to infections).
- Boric acid strengthens the eyes (it does not).
- Fried and highly seasoned foods are harmful (not in moderation).
- A cold can be broken up or cured (it cannot).
- You feed a cold and starve a fever (no).
- Eye muscle exercises will eliminate the need for glasses (a dangerous fallacy).
- Vegetarianism is good for health (it simply makes good nutrition more difficult). 10/30/67

Good Neighbor Club Meets

The Good Neighbor Club met Oct. 25 in the IOOF Lodge Hall, with Mrs. Della Scott, Mrs. Sallie Townsend, Mrs. Zoe Heath, Miss Evelyn Townsend and Miss Katie Lee Clarke as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Loreen King, presided at the business session. The committee reported that the piano at the Bayview Rest Home is paid for, thanks to local churches, other organizations and individuals which made substantial donations.

The club sent a box of cup towels to the Sunny Glen Children's Home at San Benito. The work project was a quilt display on a long table, with each quilt having a pattern on it for the members to use if they wanted to make one like it.

The club voted to make a quilt for donations, the money to be used for a worthy project. Each member will make four blocks and take to Mrs. Scott who will sew them together.

The Hallowe'en motif was used in the table decorations, a goblin on each end guarding the centerpiece. Party doughnuts and spiced apple cider were served.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 29 in the IOOF Hall, with Mrs. Loreen King, Mrs. Gladys Mullan, Mrs. Neva Sorenson and Miss Ruby Lawson as hostesses.

Miss Katie Lee Clarke received the door prize.

Minnesota Lady Praises Rockport

Mr. and Mrs. Mildred B. Cheese of Pine River, Minn., enjoyed a vacation in the Rockport area last winter so much that she sent a letter about it to the Minneapolis Tribune which published it. Following are excerpts:

* * *

We who are travelers at heart often find ourselves somewhat thin in the wallet.

How can we escape the northern winter and see another country at a reasonable price covering room and meals? We poured over the "how to" books. They pointed to Mexico, but that we had tried. You don't find real bargains in Mexico any more, unless you're awfully lucky or happy in a ghetto. We finally decided to stick with our own country.

We headed for wide-open Texas, a nation in itself with all its variations including the sea, the hills, bayous and, in its northwest panhandle, even snow.

Two days of driving does it from Minnesota, if you're really economical on motel rent getting you there through countryside where old fighters died with their boots.

Of course, merely reaching Texas doesn't mean we're already by the sea. That's another day's travel, and evening found my husband and me scouting the little fishing villages that dot the headlands around Corpus Christi—towns with haunting names like Seadrift, Matagorda (meaning jungleland), Aransas Pass. In the air is the salty smell of the sea, although by now it is dark and we cannot see the scope of the waters.

Finally we came to the town of Rockport, a resort right on the bay, and we hear the sound of slapping waves.

Now, we must choose a motel. We stopped at one that has cottages. Each is roomy enough for two, with housekeeping facilities, and located a quiet distance from neighbors. The charge, on a monthly basis, was very reasonable.

We sleep like angels and in the morning throw open our cottage door and drink in the view. Gulls are etched in sunlight. The gentle waters of the bay stretch on and on. No noise except a measured beat far in the distance which we later learn is the hammering down of piers for a new causeway miles away.

There is fishing right off the long pier at our resort, as well as from the piers of town, and swimming will be pleasant on quiet days when the sun gets in its licks.

Rockport has a famous little lady birdwatcher, Mrs. Connie Hagar. "The finest birdwatching in the world is right here in Texas," she claims staunchly, smiling at us as she stands with her little feet far apart, hands on hips.

She tells us what to find—and where: The horned lark, the oyster catches, the Scissor-tailed flycatches, and on and on. And that's our daily morning's entertainment already set up for us, within the near miles around the town, although a Texas mile is rather large at times.

To expand a bit on this naturewatching business, we pack a lunch and drive east 30 miles to the world famous winter home of the whooping crane, a vanishing species of ostrich-sized wading bird whose numbers have been reduced to less than 50.

The refuge covers miles and miles of salt-water-bounded wilderness, and we see little armoured armadillos rooting in the grass, their ears looking like bow knots; the wild hog or piccary; deer by the hundreds; and far, far off, but brought close by the forest ranger's powerful glasses, a family of whooping cranes feeding in the salt marshes, side by side with roseate spoonbills and great blue herons and pelicans. This is all free, costing only the gasoline to get there.

Back by evening to a nice restaurant where we had a nice seafood meal at a reasonable price. Texas meals are delicious, generous and low priced, and all around us are the soft drawls of big-hatted, high-booted, friendly Texans.

On the street the strangers we meet say "hello," and as the lights of the town go out one by one, we feel a kinship with this little 10 o'clock town that, even in wintertime, isn't out after the traveler's dollar.

For 50 cents we get a membership at the library and we're set up for reading either in the silence of its interior or, with as many books as we can carry out, for reading in bed in our cottage beside the sea.

Oil News

William Herbert Hunt Trust Estate has scheduled for immediate drilling a 9,000-foot Aransas County Southwest Copano Bay Field explorer 8.5 miles southwest of Rockport.

Location of No. 64-1 Banker's Mortgage Co. is 660 feet from the northwest and southwest lines of Block 64 in Selim M. Quin Survey, A-181.

William Herbert Hunt Trust Estate, Dallas, No. A-3 Banker's Mortgage Co., Aransas County Southwest Copano Bay Field test 8.5 miles southwest of Rockport, was preparing to block squeeze after drilling to 9, 596 feet. Boyd, Durst and Kuenstler is contractor on the 9,800-foot project.

FRESH WATER FAILS TO HAMPER FISH

"Just tell us where you want to drop the net," said Marine Biologist Tom Heffernan of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "There are fish everywhere now and we can catch them where ever you tell us to."

It was a way of saying that fresh water brought by Hurricane Beulah's aftermath has done nothing to damage marine life in the inland bays as yet.

Salinity counts in some of the bays with large watersheds show no salinity at all. Many of them have less than one part salt per million.

That's better than many water wells.

Sport fishermen and biologists are not complaining. Rather, they're happy about the whole thing. Fish are plentiful and the freshening of the water now just puts the bays in perfect condition for next year.

Fisheries Director Ernest Simmons with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said the bays are in no danger right now from the fresh water "although we expect to lose most of the oysters. We didn't have many of them anyway, though, and this will help rid them of the disease most of them have had."

Actually, he said, the fresh water puts the bays in excellent condition for next year's crop of white shrimp, which are spawned in the Gulf of Mexico but come to the bays to grow up, and for all fishes

"As biologists," he added, "there is one 'if' involved: 'If' we don't get a whole lot of winter rain."

Right now, he said there's food everywhere for the fish and there are lots of fish.

"Any change in the waters—like the big spring tide and the fall tide—causes fish to feed heavily," Simmons explained. "They do the same on a sudden change of salinity.

"Every time we get a heavy rain, you know, there's always a run of fish. It happens down in Baffin Bay (near Kingsville) and on Oso Creek (at Corpus Christi) and the fish rush up the creeks and fishermen catch them like crazy. Also, when there's a good flow the trout move up the Colorado River."

Commercial fishermen are doing well in the fresh water bays, he said, and one of his biologists checked a 65 hook trotline in Nueces Bay near Corpus Christi and found nine big redfish and five or six big trout.

The salinity in Nueces Bay checks zero.

Heffernan and his assistant, Joe Novosad, have continued making spot tests in Copano Bay and in San Antonio Bay near Rockport since the water freshened and they find no shortage of fish or curstacaens.

During a routine morning, a set with 1200 feet of trammel net produced nearly 100 small drum, several redfish from 12 inches to 14 and neary 20 sow speckled trout—those beauties weighing four to eight pounds each.

Also, the net caught hundreds of crabs, a few sea catfish, sheepshead, small speckled trout, lots of mullet, shad, spot croaker and four alligator gar.

In Copano Bay, a smaller set (that usually will cover about 600 feet of shoreline), produced 30 trout, 44 redfish, three flounder, 80 drum, crabs, gar, mullet and shad.

"That's about what we had expected," Heffernan said. "There are lots of everything."

Alligator gar, Heffernan pointed out, often stay in salt water even when the salinity is high.

"If it rains and the bays stay fresh a long time," he said, "it could hurt. Otherwise, things look real good."

Vets Eligible For Life Insurance

Veterans of Vietnam and all service men recently separated from active duty are reminded by P. J. Mims, manager of the Houston Veterans Administration Regional Office, of the right to apply for an individual life insurance policy within 120 days after separation from service.

More than 99 per cent of the servicemen participate in the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance program and are eligible to convert to private insurance when they are discharged, Mims added. Veterans are covered by the group policy for 120 days after separation, without further payment of premiums.

During the 120-day post-separation period any insured veteran may apply for an individual life insurance policy from any of the 540 participating insurance companies without taking a physical examination, the manager explained.

Because they are no longer paying premiums many returning veterans forget about their life insurance and fail to apply for individual insurance policies until after the 120 day period has expired, Mims said.

These veterans lose the advantage of becoming insured without a physical examination and, if they have a disability, may not be able to obtain private insurance at standard rates, the manager cautioned.

Long Distance Rates Lowered

The 22nd major interstate long distance rate reduction since the inauguration of coast-to-coast calling will be effective Nov. 1, according to Gray Bryant, District Manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Telephone customers will save an estimated $100 million on their interstate calls within the continental limits of the United States as a result of the new rates," Bryant said.

Telephone users will benefit from the changes by longer time periods and additional days when low rates apply, lower charges on many calls and new "Midnight to 7" rates.

Following are the changes:

The present "After 8" night rate will be extended to include long distance calls placed between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. The new extended night rate will be in effect each weekday and all day Saturday and Sunday and will be called "After 7 and all weekend."

"After 7 and all weekend" rates also will apply all day on July 4 and Labor Day in addition to Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

The present "Evening rate" period will begin an hour earlier, becoming 5 to 7 p.m. each weekday, and will be renamed, "After 5." The rate for maximum distance will be lowered from $1.50 to $1.25 for the first three minutes of a station-to-station call.

Daytime station rates beyond 468 miles will be lowered; and the maximum for a call across the country will drop from $2.00 to $1.75 for the first three minutes. The new "Weekday" station rates will apply from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A new "Midnight to 7" special dial rate will be introduced, featuring a 75-cent maximum for a three minute call across country. The rate will apply from midnight to 7 a.m. seven days a week, for station-to-station calls that go beyond 354 miles from non-coin phones.

Person-to-person rates also will be lowered. The maximum day time rate for three minutes will drop from $3.50 to $3.30. After 5 p.m. the maximum will be reduced from $3.00 to $2.85 for the first three minutes.

Other reduced rates include lowered Wide Area Telephone Service measured service only, and reductions of some overseas calls.

Letters to the Editor

Rockport, Texas 78382
October 26, 1967

The Rockport Pilot
Rockport, Texas
Gentlemen:

Well I see that our good "City Fathers" are again going to give us the opportunity of voting on the $400,000.00 bond issue, and they use as their excuse the recent drainage problems brought on by the storm.

I wonder if at that time we had had the best drainage system that could be built, would there not have been the same problems brought on by the excessive tides that would have kept the system from functioning?

Anyway we are going to have the chance to decide again whether or not we wish to saddle ourselves with this additional indebtedness, and it will be indebtedness. I believe we still have a pretty good size school and navigation bonded indebtedness that we are now trying to pay off.

We have been advised that there will be an increase of .22c per hundred on our school taxes. We also had notice that our water rates will have a nice increase, and you can rest assured they will be higher, if and when, they bring water in here from outside Rockport. We have just again had added to our County taxes a .01c per hundred for Conservation and Reclamation. I have also heard that there will be an increase in the garbage pickup. How long can the retired and people on Social Security that own small homes here be able to stand these additions.

When this came up before at first we were told that there would not be any tax increase if the bonds were voted. I wonder if they still feel that way? Well there may not be any tax increase as such, but they can always increase the valuation, which amounts to the same thing. Where do they intend to get the money to pay interest and retire these bonds if they do not get it from the taxpayer? They do not have money to do things that should be done as to upkeep right now.

How much will it cost for curb, gutters and paving in front of property where the drainage is put in by the city? Is it not the fact that the city will only pay for drainage and street intersections out of the bond money, and the property owner will be assessed for the other work? After the interest is added to the principle on the bonds, is it not the fact that it will cost about $1.50 for each $1.00 in improvements?

I think it is the rights of the voters to know all the facts about this bond issue, how much will they cost, and where will the improvements be made? And who will be the judge as to where? Then when they have the facts they can better make up their minds as to be for or against.

Sincerely,
Ira Baker

INSTRUCTIONS FOR GIVING DESCRIPTION OF SPECIFIC ITEM ON PROPERTY

Article 5.04 of the Texas Election Code which requires that you give a description of one specific item of property which has been rendered for taxation or placed on the unrendered rolls as stated in the affidavit, makes the following provision:

PROPERTY OTHER THAN REAL ESTATE — "The description of a specific item of property which is required on the affidavit shall be sufficient as to personal property if it identifies the property by a general statement of its nature, as, for example, household furniture, automobile, livestock, jewelry, stock of merchandise, corporate securities, etc.

REAL ESTATE — "If real property is located in an incorporated city, town, or village, a statement of the location of the property by street and number shall be sufficient; and if it is located in an incorporated town or village, it shall be sufficient to identify the property by general description as so located, as, for example, 'house and lot in the town of_____.' It shall be sufficient to describe a farm, ranch, or other rural property by a statement of its location with reference to a town, community, or other well-known landmark, as, for example, 'farm near_____.'

"Upon request of the voter, the election officer attending him shall inform him as to what will be a sufficient description on the affidavit for the specific item of property which he wishes to list."

If you need assistance in filling out this affidavit, ask the election officer to help you.

ABSENTEE VOTING BY MAIL. If you are voting an absentee ballot by mail, you must swear to the affidavit before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths, and he must fill out and sign the certificate at the bottom of the affidavit. Place the completed affidavit in the "carrier envelope" with your ballot stub and the ballot envelope containing your marked ballot.

★

The City Council has called an election for the issuance of $400,000.00 General Obligation Bonds. Above is a sample ballot and a copy of the new, required affidavit of ownership.

Since the signing of an "affidavit of ownership" is a new requirement, the City Council requested that it be published so that the voters can familarize themselves with it. The voter may list his property by lot and block or he can fill in "a house and lot at _____". (Giving street address.)

Please note that the form of the ballot has also been changed and an "X" must be placed in the box marked "for" or "against".

Only resident qualified electors, who own taxable property in the City, shall be qualified to vote.
