Israel-Syria Reach Accord

The SDN Column

Do you ever wonder how and why shortages suddenly are piled upon other shortages?

It has been a puzzle to many of us, and we bumped into someone who had a logical explanation for the spread of shortages through all types of petroleum products. He was an asphalt salesman, and he said the whole thing started with a shortage of natural gas.

How did this spread all the way through the petroleum lines down to asphalt?

Well, it went like this. Industries depending upon natural gas began calling for fuel oil to take up the slack as their gas supplies dwindled. This created a shortage of fuel oil, which, in turn, prompted the refineries to begin turning out more fuel oil. Obviously, concentrating on this shortage led to others. Finally, asphalt, which is the last thing left after other products are skimmed from West Texas crude oil, was being mixed with higher grade products to stretch the fuel oil yield. It helped bolster the fuel oil supply, but virtually wiped out the asphalt supply. And all of this began before the embargo on oil shipments from the Middle East.

The Middle East embargo further curtailed the supplies of various products, such as gasoline and fuel oils, but had no affect on asphalt because the crude from the Middle East has no asphalt anyway. But, as the foreign oil imports are resumed, they are expected to relieve the gasoline and fuel oil situations to a great extent, but natural gas and asphalt still are in extremely short supply. The only place they get asphalt is from Western U.S. crude. And the only way they can get more natural gas is to drill for it. And so long as there is a shortage in one product, most others will be affected to some extent.

For a number of years now—at least a decade—the time for action on renewal of the agreement for local school participation in the USDA "Commodity Program" has served as an opportunity for local school board members to lodge at least a token protest against federal intervention in public schools. The custom has been for the six voting members of the board to split, three and three, forcing the president of the board to vote off the tie. Invariably the tie-breaker has been in favor of the agreement, but the protest has been duly noted.

This year, however, the tradition was broken. The commodity proposal was up for consideration in a special session Monday night as the board met to begin work on the 1974-75 budget, and one member was a few minutes late getting to the Memorial Day special meeting. So, that left an uneven number of voting members and the proposal was approved on a 3-2 vote, thus depriving Board President Dillard Teal of the opportunity of breaking the traditional 3-3 tie. Teal complained that Board Member Ted Crenwelge, who arrived at the meeting shortly after the vote on the commodity program, had kept him from getting a chance to vote.

The commodity program is not what it used to be during the days of huge agricultural surpluses. Back then, the USDA had many items available for the mere cost of transportation. Now its storehouses are limited in stocks, but the program still provides some of the items used in school cafeterias. During the 1973-74 school year, the Snyder Schools got around $60,000 in supplies, which would amount to a little over two cents on the tax rate if they had been provided from local funds. Of course the funds came from the same place anyway, but they took a round about route to get to the schools, which stimulates the protest each year.——WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 29, the 149th day of 1974. There are 216 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1453, the capital of the Byzantine empire, Constantipole, was captured by the Turks. The date is regarded by some historians as the end of the Middle Ages.

On this date:

In 1736, the American patriot, Patrick Henry, was born in Hanover County, Va.

In 1790, Rhode Island became the last of the 13 original colonies to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1848, Wisconsin joined the Union as the 30th state.

In 1917, the 35th American president, John Kennedy, was born in Brookline, Mass.

In 1943, the Americans defeated the Japanese in the Pacific War battle of Attu in the Aleutians.

In 1953, Edmond Hillary of New Zealand and Tensing Norkay of Nepal became the first climbers to reach the top of the world's highest mountain, Mt. Everest.

Ten years ago: Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said that the Soviet Union had photographed military bases and installations from space satelites.

Five years ago: President Nixon created a Cabinet-level Environmental Quality Council to coordinate a federal program to clean up pollution.

One year ago: Canada said it would withdraw its cease-fire observers from Vietnam because they had not been permitted to do their job properly.

Court Rules In Favor Of Roloff

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court ruled today that radio evangelist Lester Roloff did not have to get state licenses to operate child care facilities because he did not house more than six children under the age of 16.

Roloff was fined $5,040 and sentenced to five days in jail by a trial court judge in Corpus Christi for failure to obtain licenses for his homes.

Roloff made several public statements about the holiness of his fight, but his lawyer's only reference to that in arguments before the high court March 20 was to say, "This is not a religious fight."

On Aug. 3, Roloff agreed to get licenses for the homes. In exchange for that agreement, the state said it would not require immediate compliance with the law and it also said it would not present in open court what it called evidence of child abuse.

But the law requiring such licenses contains no definition of the word "children." The licensing agency, the Department of Public Welfare, interpreted it for many years to mean children up to the age of 16.

Atty. Gen. John Hill issued an opinion Oct. 14 saying that was wrong, that it applied to children up to 18.

It was this attorney general's opinion that today's Supreme Court decision in effect overturned.

Roloff later contended the licensing law was unconstitutional as it applies to religious homes. He told a rally in Austin in March the state should spend its time catching "immoral, filthy, nasty" streakers instead of forcing him to close his homes.

Personal Income Tax Cut Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are moving ahead with plans for a $6.6 billion personal income tax cut in the face of new warnings from President Nixon that the action could fuel more inflation.

Senate leaders said the tax cut proposal would be called up soon for floor debate and predicted that it would pass their branch. Whether the House will go along is unclear.

The President's views were transmitted to the Capitol in a special report of his Council of Economic Advisers which said a recession is much less likely now.

It estimated the inflation rate would drop to about 7 per cent by the last quarter of 1974. The rate was 12.1 per cent in the first three months of this year, the highest since 1951 during the Korean War.

However, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., vice chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, told a newsman "there is no anti-inflation program at all in this report.

"In his current budget, the President recommended one of the biggest spending increases in history, yet his report talks about fiscal restraint," he said.

Proxmire cited as "positively harmful" the proposal in the report to deregulate natural gas, asserting this would mean further sharp increases in utility bills to consumers.

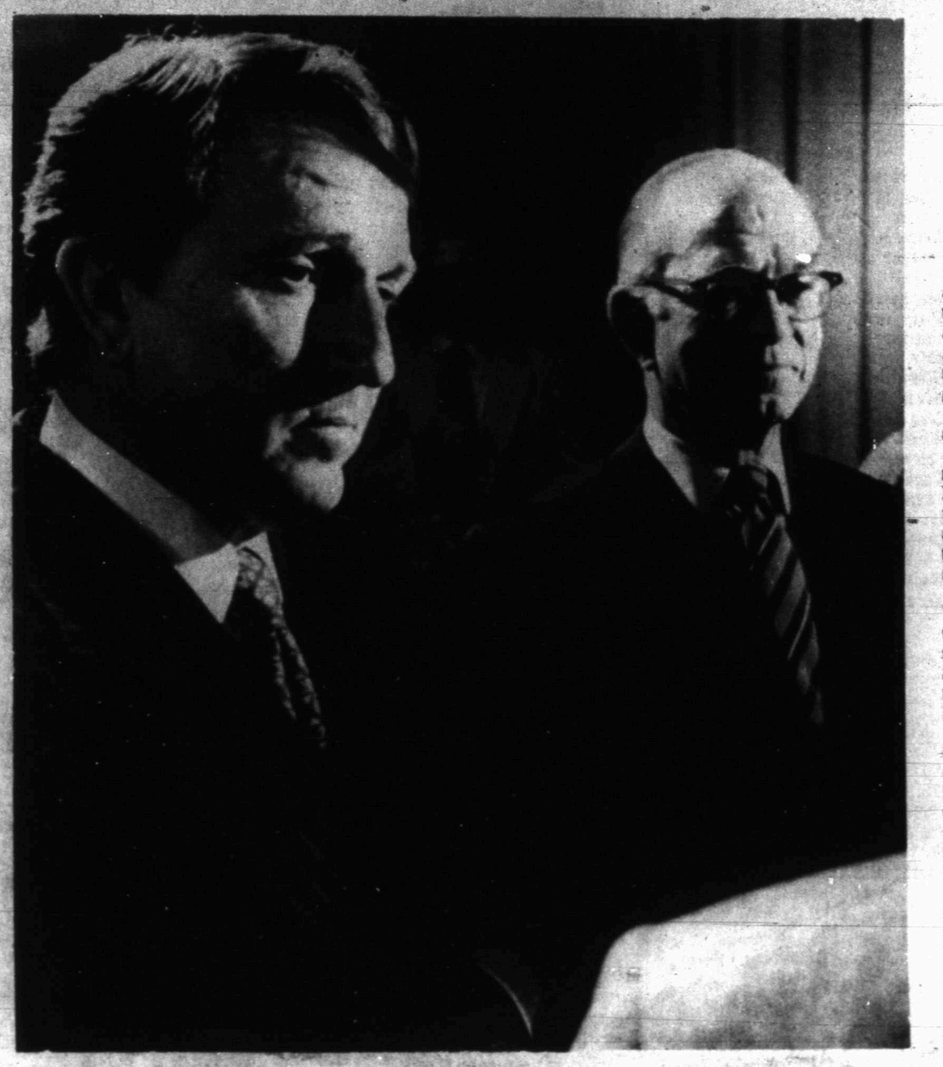

209 Absentee Ballots Cast

Absentee voting for the runoff election to be held Saturday ended yesterday with 209 votes being cast at the county clerk's office, according to an announcement by Beverly Ainsworth, county clerk.

She said an additional 12 ballots have been sent through the mail.

The polls open at 8 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m.

Voters were asked to have their registration certificates with them if possible, but it was pointed out you can still vote without them if you've lost them if the election officials have a record of your having registered.

Bumpers Beats Veteran Fulbright

By DON McLEOD
AP Political Writer

Fast-rising political newcomer Dale Bumpers ran away with the Arkansas Democratic senatorial nomination and ended the 30-year career of J. W. Fulbright, one of the leading powers in American foreign policy.

The two-term Arkansas governor ran up almost a 2-to-1 victory margin Tuesday over Fulbright, who has been chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee for 15 years.

At the same time, 73-year-old Wayne Morse was winning the Democratic senatorial nomination for a political comeback in Oregon.

Morse, who like Fulbright was a leading Senate critic of U.S. Vietnam policy, will meet Sen. Robert Packwood in the fall. Packwood, who ousted Morse after 24 years in the Senate in 1968, was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

In Kentucky, another of the Democratic new faces, Gov. Wendell Ford, won the party's nomination to challenge Republican Sen. Marlow Cook in November. Both scored easy victories over token primary opposition.

Just four years ago, Bumpers was a school board member and city attorney in Charleston, Ark., a town of 1,500. But in 1970 he upset former six-term Gov. Orval E. Faubus in the Democratic primary and went on to oust incumbent Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller. He won re-election in 1972.

Both Fulbright and Bumpers said they were surprised at the size of Bumpers' win.

Bumpers, 48, had called for new leadership in Washington to deal with problems such as inflation, energy, federal spending and post-Watergate political clean-up. Fulbright stressed his seniority and experience, but at 69 said he would "cheerfully accept" retirement if that was the voters' verdict.

With 2,626 of the state's 2,786 precincts reporting, Bumpers had 345,801 votes, or 65 per cent, to Fulbright's 187,718, or 35 per cent.

Morse, who was voted out at the height of his anti-Vietnam war effort, used the related theme of usurpation of constitutional power by the President, but said "the numbers of us opposed to it are increasing."

With 1,647 of the 2,514 Oregon precincts reporting, Morse had 89,211 votes, or 49.2 per cent, compared to 71,604, or 39.5 per cent, for his chief opponent in the four-way race, state Senate President Jason Boe.

In the Arkansas Democratic gubernatorial primary, former Rep. David H. Pryor, 39, of Little Rock held a bare majority of 51 per cent. Faubus was in second place with 33 per cent, followed by Lt. Gov. Bob Riley. Pryor must stay above 50 per cent to avoid a runoff.

In the Oregon gubernatorial race, state Sen. Victor Atiyeh scored an upset victory over Secretary of State Clay Myers in the Republican primary.

UWC Calls Off Strike

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Protestant extremist Ulster Workers' Council called off today a 15-day general strike which paralyzed Northern Ireland's economy and brought down the British province's moderate government.

The UWC announced that it was asking workers to drift back to their jobs, with heavy industry resuming production probably on Monday.

The announcement came as Prime Minister Harold Wilson called a meeting in London with his cabinet to discuss ways to solve the crisis in the province prompted by the resignation on Tuesday of Protestant members of Chief Minister Brian Faulkner's Executive, the provincial government.

Leaders of the walkout gave no immediate reason for calling it off.

Bid Is Accepted For Ag Building

Scurry County Commissioners yesterday accepted a bid of $425,511 with four alternates from Wadleigh Construction Company for construction of an agriculture complex on the Scurry County Coliseum grounds.

The Wadleigh base bid was $607,371, but with the alternates deleted the figure was trimmed to $425,511. Wadleigh was the only firm that submitted earlier bids last month, but these bids were turned down as being too high. The first Wadleigh base bid was $591,895.

The alternates included in the bid were as follows:

Alternate 1—Omit chain link animal pens for a saving of $20,134.

Alternate 2—Omit asphalt paving north and east of the parking lot for a saving of $23,575.

Alternate 4—Omit all fill dirt for a saving of $24,488.

Alternate 6—Omit permanent arena for a saving of $113,863.

Commissioners indicated that some of the work omitted in the alternates could be performed by county work crews.

The bid called for completion within 275 calendar days.

Scurry County voters approved use of federal revenue-sharing funds by the county for construction of an agriculture exhibit facility on the coliseum grounds and a new county jail in a referendum last July.

The agriculture exhibit facility will be used by the Scurry County Fair, for livestock shows, horse shows and indoor rodeo events.

Registration At WTC Set Tonight

Registration for summer classes at Western Texas College is underway and a special evening registration period has been set for tonight.

Students may register for any summer course tonight, beginning at 6:30 p.m., said Dr. Duane Hood, registrar and director of student services.

Prospects for summer enrollment are good, Dr. Hood said, with 71 students preenrolled in advance of the summer registration session.

Big Win For Dr. K

By BARRY SCHWEID

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Syria concluded a separation of forces agreement today after Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger won a major Israeli concession on Palestinian guerrilla attacks.

The concession was not spelled out immediately.

Premier Golda Meir is to announce the agreement tonight, Israeli and Syrian commanders will sign the pact in Geneva in a few days, and the fighting is to stop and prisoners on both sides freed at that time.

At the United Nations in New York, a U.N. spokesman said the United States had informed the world body that Israel and Syria had agreed to disengage their forces on the Golan Heights front.

The spokesman said if requested the United Nations could shift troops from the U.N. Emergency Force standing between Egyptian and Israeli troops in Sinai to man a buffer zone between the Syrians and Israelis on the Golan Heights.

Unofficial Israeli informants said 1,250 U.N. troops would set up the buffer and that it would be one to four miles wide. They said it would stretch from Mt. Hermon along the Golan Heights, including the abandoned Golan capital of Quneitra and a strip 300 yards west of the wrecked town.

They said on each side of the buffer the armies would be reduced in two corridors, each six miles wide. In the front line corridor, troops would be limited to 6,000, with 75 tanks and 36 short-range cannon. In the deeper zone, each side would be restricted to 450 tanks, with no long-range artillery or antiaircraft missiles, they said.

Mrs. Meir's cabinet met early this morning to discuss the pact, then scheduled an afternoon session during which it would decide "yes or no," according to an Israeli government communique. It said the decision would be final.

HENRY KISSINGER
. . . Scores Triumph

Information Minister Shimon Peres told newsmen he expected the announcement would be in "very general terms."

Nixon Says Roadblock Removed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that Israel and Syria have reached agreement on disengagement of their forces, and called it a stride toward a permanent peace settlement for the entire Mideast.

"What was a major roadblock to any permanent settlement has now been removed," Nixon said in a nationally televised statement from the White House.

Nixon said prospects for a permanent Middle East peace now are "better than they have been at any time over the past 25 years."

The President announced that Israeli and Syrian representatives will sign the disengagement agreement Friday in Geneva.

St. Clair Favors Airing Evidence

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair said today he would have no objection to the playing in public of the taped presidential conversations held by the House Judiciary Committee.

St. Clair also said he favors making public all the Watergate evidence received so far by the committee in its impeachment inquiry and the opening of future sessions of the committee.

The committee is considering public release of much of the evidence, but there has been no proposal for a public airing of the tapes.

Although it has been turned down in most of its requests for tapes, the committee has 19 tapes that were obtained from the special prosecutor's office, including a March 21, 1973 conversation between President Nixon and former White House counsel John Dean III.

That tape, in which Nixon and Dean discussed payments to keep convicted Watergate burglar Howard Hunt quiet, has become a focal point of the impeachment inquiry. Nixon also claims that he first learned of the Watergate cover-up during that conversation.

Meanwhile, Judiciary Committee Republicans were advised by the staff Tuesday to seek congressional authorization to go to court for a judgment upholding the panel's right to subpoena evidence from Nixon.

Both Democrats and Republicans, meeting in separate party caucuses Tuesday, decided to support a request by Special Counsel John M. Doar for a new subpoena at a Judiciary Committee meeting Thursday.

Bipartisan support also is expected at the meeting for a letter notifying Nixon he has failed to comply with a previous subpoena and calling his attention to the constitutional authority on which the committee's impeachment inquiry is based.

A party split is shaping up over two other issues due to be considered at the meeting—whether the committee should receive evidence in open or closed hearings, and whether it should make public much of the evidence it has received.

In a related development, Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski asked a federal judge to turn over portions of a White House tape previously withheld from him, saying he had evidence that Nixon may have discussed with aides the use of the Internal Revenue Service to harass political enemies.

Thermometer Hits 100 Here

Summer was definitely in the air Tuesday over the Snyder area.

The official thermometer at the city water plant hit the 100 degree mark for the first time this season as bright sunshine and scorching southwest winds prevailed over the area.

Weather forecasters indicated that more of the same could be expected today. A possibility of a few thunderstorms was in the forecast for Northwest Texas, but they were expected to be mostly in the northern part of the region.

It was a relatively cool 69 degrees early this morning in Snyder, but the thermometer was due to rise rapidly as the day progressed.

If streaking offends, just wear blinders

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You hear so much talk about how terrible the young people are, but how about the adults?

This new streaking fad is being encouraged by people who are old enough to know better. You can't pick up a newspaper without reading about a streaker. And everyone thinks it's something to laugh about.

Well, last week my 43-year-old husband went to take his usual shower before dinner, when all of a sudden we heard the shower door bang, and in nothing flat here comes my husband running completely naked past me, our teen-aged daughter and two teen-aged sons! He ran through the living room, dining room, kitchen and back to the bedroom. He thought he was being funny. I was furious, and the children were too shocked to say anything.

What do you think about this streaking business?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: I think that there is so much to cry about today, that streaking is part of the "anything-for-a-laugh" syndrome. For my part, if something I didn't want to see more of came into view, I'd quickly close my eyes.

DEAR ABBY: I am doing time in a federal penitentiary, and have noticed that you seem to have a sympathetic feeling toward prisoners.

I won't go into my history because it would take up your whole column, but I do have a favor to ask of you. I want to study the Bible, but I don't have one. Could you please send me one? I am a Christian. I am not begging. I can pay for it a little at a time. I am black and male, if that matters.

FOUR YEARS TO GO

DEAR FOUR: Your color doesn't matter, but your sex does because I have a friend in Dallas, Tex., who will send a red Bible to any man in prison who wants one, and a white Bible to every female inmate. It comes with instructions on how to study, and it's free. His name is Chaplain Ray. Send me your complete address and I'll do the rest. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: The following story is almost identical to the one described by Loved and Lost, which recently appeared in your column. Only the ending is different. I think it's worth printing.

Mature man in his 40s meets younger charming woman in her 20s. She's sexy, charming, vivacious, etc. A serious emotional involvement follows. After a six months hidden passionate affair the man leaves his wife of 16 years and several wonderful children. He begins a new "heavenly" life with the younger woman, and after one year he finds that she is selfish, moody, materialistic, arrogant and possessive. The situation becomes intolerable, and the love affair is over.

All this time the wife had been getting counseling to help her over this painful experience. I asked if we could try again and this magnificent woman took me back with dignity and nobility. For her the whole miserable episode never happened, and she refuses to hear even one word about it.

Conclusion: There are still women who hold the home and family above their own pride.

PLEASE WITHHOLD MY NAME

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. L.: No one said it better than Sibyl Krausz:

"I know what every woman needs
As she, perforce, grows older;
A true and understanding friend
To lend a wetproof shoulder,
And who, when they shall meet again,
Forgets the things she told her."

Graham Deplores Nixon's Language

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham says the transcripts of President Nixon's conversations about Watergate are "profoundly disturbing."

"One cannot but deplore the moral tone implied in these papers," Graham said Tuesday, ending a three-week silence about the released texts he had imposed until he had time to examine them himself.

A long-time personal friend and spiritual adviser to President Nixon, Graham said that "what comes through in these tapes is not the man I have known many years. Other mutual friends have made the same observation."

But the evangelist said Nixon remains "my friend, and I have no intention of forsaking him now. Nor will I judge him as a man in totality on the basis of these relatively few hours of conversation under such severe pressure.

"But I would be neither his friend nor God's servant if I did not point out the righteousness of God's demands at such a time as this."

Graham telephoned his statement from his Montreat, N.C., home.

Graham said he last had spoken with Nixon about three weeks ago by telephone while conducting a crusade in Phoenix, Ariz.

He said he since has spent several days reading the White House-released text, and had "thought about it and prayed about it" before issuing his statement.

"I just wish the whole thing had never happened," he said.

"We have lost our moral compass. We must get it back."

Pleas Heard In County Court

William Jerome Walker pleaded guilty in county court yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term, probated for six months. He was arrested May 25 by City Police.

Probation for Peggy Bryson McElreath was revoked and she will have to pay a $100 fine plus court costs and serve a 30-day jail term. She was originally convicted on a DWI charge Oct. 4, 1973, then was arrested again Tuesday morning by Sheriff's Authorities.

One Injured In Two-Car Mishap

Romie Delilah Kersh of 305 E. Snyder, Rotan, sustained minor injuries in a two-car collision at Twenty-seventh Street and Avenue V at 12:07 p.m. Tuesday.

She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Galyean Ambulance Service. She was released this morning.

City Police said she was driving a 1970 Model Chevrolet that was in collision with a 1967 Model Dodge driven by Sanjuana Torres Alaniz, 1801 Fifteenth Street.

Students Presented In Recital

The piano and organ students of Marvella Thompson were presented in recital Sunday afternoon, May 26 at Colonial Hill Baptist Church. Awards were given to Pam Burrus for entering University Interscholastic League solo contest where she entered a class two solo.

Debbie Inman received a medal for earning a first division on a class II solo in U.I.L. competition. She also received a pin for entering 13 pieces in the National Piano Guild competition. Trussha Farquhar received a pin for entering Piano Guild and Brenda Beauchamp was honored as the senior piano student.

The students played pieces from other countries and dressed in the costume of the native land in which their pieces originated.

Participating in the recital were Rod McCulloch, Brenda Beauchamp, Rhonda McAnear, Carol Eiland, Trussha Farquhar, Teresa Strickland. Sharon Strickland, Natasha Bills, Pam Burrus, Lori McCormick, Sheryl Prewitt, Janie Prince, Brenda Beauchamp and Debbie Inman.

Spring Recital Held

The piano students of Mrs. Jerry Neill were presented in a Spring recital May 23 in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church.

Special recognition was given to the following students who were winners in a contest for both the fall and spring semesters: Practice awards, Kim Davis and Kaki Riley; Memorization award, Kaki Riley; Theory award, Vance Andress; and Performance award, Kim Lunsford.

A reception was held following the recital.

Eleven Commissioned To Symphony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Symphony has awarded grants to 11 composers to create works for performances in honor of the Bicentennial, during the 1975-76 and 1976-77 seasons.

Composers are Stephen Burton, Kensington, Md., a song cycle for baritone and orchestra on poems by Sylvia Plath; Luigi Dallapiccola, Florence, Italy, an orchestral work; Robert Evett, Washington, a cantata for small orchestra and choir on texts by Mark Twain; Gene Gutche, White Bear Lake, Minn., an orchestral suite on the theme of Columbus; Ulysses Kay, Teaneck, N.J., a work for orchestra and narrator; Benjamin Lees, Great Neck, N.Y., a passacaglia for orchestra; Frank Martin, who is Swiss, living in the Netherlands, a symphony for wind instruments; Juan Orrego-Salas, a Chilean teaching in Bloomington, Ind., an oratorio on a theme of Genesis; Robert Russell Bennett, New York, a choral work set on themes by William Billings; Gunther Schuller, Boston, an orchestral work, and William Schuman, New York, his 10th symphony and a choral work.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY—Family and friends of Mrs. Minnie Falls, 3111 Forty-first St., honored her Sunday on the occasion of her eightieth birthday. Some seventy-five friends called at her home during the hours of 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Housewife Is Now In Construction

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — If there are any last-minute changes Mary Sue Mitchell wants in her new home under construction in a suburban area, she's right on hand to see that they're done.

She's working as a carpenter's helper on the job, at $2 an hour. And her boss, Harold Wright, says he'd hire her for his next job, too.

Mary Sue and her husband Jim, an appraiser for a logistics contractor, hired Wright last October to build the house. It wasn't long before Mary Sue asked Wright for a job.

Wright had watched Mary Sue search for, and then dig the dirt out of, an old well that had been filled in years ago. He was impressed with her determination and stamina as she shoveled dirt for three days, so he hired her.

Mrs. Mitchell, an attractive 35-year-old housewife, hadn't worked since she quit a clerical job in 1960. But Wright expected her to keep up with carpenter Bud Robinson.

She worked beside Robinson as they raised the walls, installed the vacuum system and laid bricks. Then they started her shingling the roof.

It was her aptitude for shingling that finally won Mary Sue the accolade as "one of the boys," she believes.

Her size — slightly over five feet tall and 100 pounds — proved a problem at first in carrying the heavy bundles of wooden shingles up to the roof. But then she devised a slide for them.

Wright said she is a good shingler, faster than most men because her perception of what size cedar shingle which would fit a particular spot turned out to be almost perfect.

"I learned everything by trial and error," she said. The two men would tell her to "dig in and start" on whatever job she tackled.

"If I did something wrong two or three times, then they would correct me," she said.

Mrs. Mitchell has missed only four days of work since she started last October. Wright said that aside from losing a fingernail to a dropped brick and shredding the bell bottom of her paint-spattered blue jeans when she walked too near a power saw, she hasn't had any injuries.

"She's all right," he said when asked his opinion of his helper. But Mary Sue said she knew Robinson had accepted her when he bought her a nail apron.

Mary Sue said her husband looked on her job as a joke when she first started and wouldn't tell his co-workers that the mother of his three children was helping build their house.

The most noticeable reaction, though, has come from delivery men and subcontractors on the job, Mary Sue said.

She said she was on the roof shingling one day while a delivery man stood on the ground and watched for a long time. Finally he asked, "Are you a boy or a girl?"

Pungency Marks Food

By TOM HOGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

For centuries, the mariners of Portugal have roamed the seas, many of them settling in far-off places from Macao to Massachusetts. As a result, the pungent dishes of their homeland have left an imprint on cuisines around the world, including the East and West coats of the United States.

A Portuguese fishing captain is said to have dreamed up Cioppino, that rich bouillabaisse of fish, crustaceans, vegetables, wines and spices that brought fame to San Francisco. A steaming bowl of Cioppino laced with a heady brew of brandy, Burgundy and Chablis made for a memorable evening when I visited that West Coast city last year.

On the Atlantic side, Portuguese seafarers settled along the shores of New England, and some of the chowders we are so proud of today can be traced back to the kitchens of Portugal. This fondness for fish dishes is understandable. Portugal's coastline is bordered by a continental shelf that abounds with marine life ranging from salmon and sardine to lobster and lamprey. But despite this wealth of local seafood, the Portuguese have a passion for cod and their fishing vessels journey to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland to bring back the fish that provide the foundation for a national specialty called Bacalhau.

The Portuguese have reportedly devised 2,000 ways of preparing Bacalhau, some of them fortified with the sprightly young wine known as vinho verde. But the key ingredient is the cod that is dried and salted down by the Portuguese fisheries.

One popular Bacalhau dish is cod croquettes in which the fish is flaked and mixed with potatoes, eggs, onion and parsley and fried in deep fat. Another is Bacalhau Pndre in which the fish is mixed with eggs and a sauce.

But our favorite version is Sopa Bacalhou, or salt cod soup. This rich, thick chowder is a meal in itself. Here is a recipe.

1 clove garlic, crushed
2 shallots chopped
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 quarts water
4 potatoes, medium-sized, peeled and cut up
4 tomatoes, peeled, seeds removed and cut up
2 quarts tomato juice
2 pounds salt-cod, soaked overnight
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup vinho verde

Fry shallots, garlic and potatoes in oil till lightly browned. Add tomatoes and continue frying till vegetables are tender. Add tomato juice, fish, water and wine and bring to boil. Simmer over low heat for at least one hour, or till liquid is reduced about one third. Put in blender. Taste and season. Reheat and serve. Serves 6-8. Good with chilled vinho verde, which comes in red, white and rose.

Use leftover fabrics for contrasting yokes, sleeves, pockets or front dress panels in new garments. However, combine fabrics of similar weight and washing instructions, recommends Vivian Warminski, clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

We all know that painting the outside of a house is a chore. We know, too, that sometimes we get good results, sometimes bad. Generally, the defects do not show up immediately. It may be months, even years, before paint begins to blister or peel or crack or exhibit other signs of irregular wear and tear.

What causes these paint failures? If we know the causes, perhaps we can prevent the trouble the next time.

Blistering and peeling (the second usually follows the first) come from a buildup of moisture underneath the paint. It can result from vapor inside the house which works its way through the interior walls, condenses and soaks into the outer walls. Or it can result from water which has leaked behind the outer walls through the roof or the sidewalls themselves.

What is known as cross-grain cracking is usually caused by repainting too frequently or by too many layers of paint, which is why it generally occurs in very old houses. There's an old saying that you should repaint just before it becomes necessary. Not very informative, perhaps, but it does get across the point that repainting a house unnecessarily (as, for instance, because you have decided you don't like the color) can cause a maintenance headache later on.

While most peeling starts with blistering, there is one type which comes from lack of adhesion between the top and undercoat or because the surface was too glossy or oil and grease were not removed.

When knots or pitch streaks show through, it's clearly the result of a failure to seal them before painting. Shellac or one of the specially designed knot sealers should be applied and allowed to dry before any paint is put on.

Sometimes when paint peels, you'll see mildew on the undercoat. That mildew and the kind which occurs on the outside of the paint are caused by dampness. Note that mildew usually makes an appearance where the sun cannot get through to that part of the house, perhaps because of shrubbery or some other obstruction. An excellent mixture for removing mildew is 3 ounces of trisodium phosphate, 1 ounce of detergent, 1 quart of sodium hypochlorite bleach and 3 quarts of warm water.

Apply to the affected areas with a brush, scrub and rinse thoroughly with clean water. Wear rubber gloves while working. Check the labels of ordinary household cleaners and bleaches to determine which have trisodium phosphate and sodium hypochlorite, although each can be purchased separately. When repainting, use a mildew-resistant paint.

What can we do to prevent the most common trouble — blistering and subsequent peeling? Reduce the amount of moisture in the house with the use of exhaust fans and wall vents or a dehumidifier. Prevent leaks by caulking any openings in the outside of the house. Be sure gutters and downspouts aren't clogging and backing up water behind the walls.

Older Women Become Cinderellas

DALLAS (AP) — For a while each week the faded beauties of Golden Acres get to be Cinderella, albeit on canes and in wheelchairs.

"It's been such an uplift. I am 81 years old yet I have the skin of a 50-year-old," beamed one proud lady.

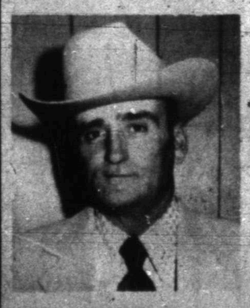

Through a program funded through the Dallas Geriatric Institute, the residents of Golden Acres are treated each week to a facial message with cold creams and cleansers, fresh makeup and a hairstyle.

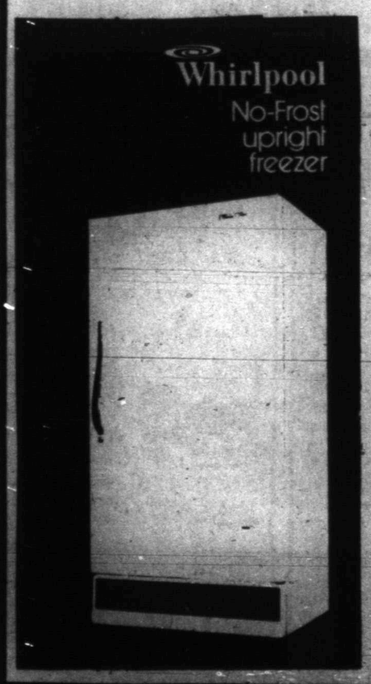

"The point we have tried to prove is that older women are still interested in how they look," explained Marvin Ernst, director of the institute. "The better they look, the better they feel."

After six months, the program has proved to be a rousing success, says Ernst.

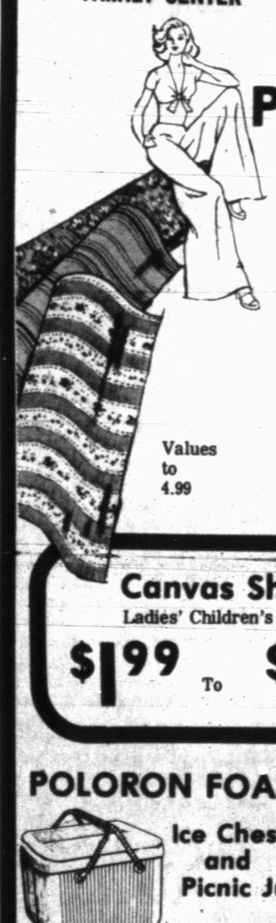

Fifty women, aged 57 to 94, have been taking part in the grooming program.

Oil Prices To Play Big Part In Trade Figures

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — While the United States turned in a net trade surplus of nearly $93 million in April, it is far too early to say that deficits are behind us. Not with oil prices as they are.

No matter how encouraging the country's exports look, some trade analysts look for a net imbalance for the entire year. Blame it not on export weakness, they say, but on import prices, especially for oil.

The Morgan Guaranty, which closely follows the situation, foresees a 1974 trade deficit of as much as $5.5 billion, the unhappy consequence of an increase of $16 billion or more in the cost of oil imports.

Aside from the problem—and realistically, of course, it cannot be put aside—the U.S. trade position has improved in several categories during the past year, remarkably so in some respects.

Many a food buyer won't view the situation with the same joy as might a government bureaucrat, but a good part of the improvement is due to a huge leap in the value of agricultural exports from this, the most highly industrialized nation in the world.

In 1972 the United States sent abroad $3 billion more agricultural goods than it imported. In 1973 the comparable figure was $9.4 billion, and in the first quarter of 1974 the agricultural surplus rose to an annual rate of $13 billion.

While that first-quarter could very well fall off to a full-year rate roughly the same as last year's, it does indicate the preeminence of the United States as the world's breadbasket, even if some of the increase is due to inflation.

Almost every other nation on earth has a greater proportion of its citizens engaged in agriculture, but none can even approach the United States in productive capacity and efficiency.

Fortunately for the trade balance, but less happily for the American consumer, food prices are increasingly determined by a world rather than domestic market. If world demand pushes up prices, Americans must pay too.

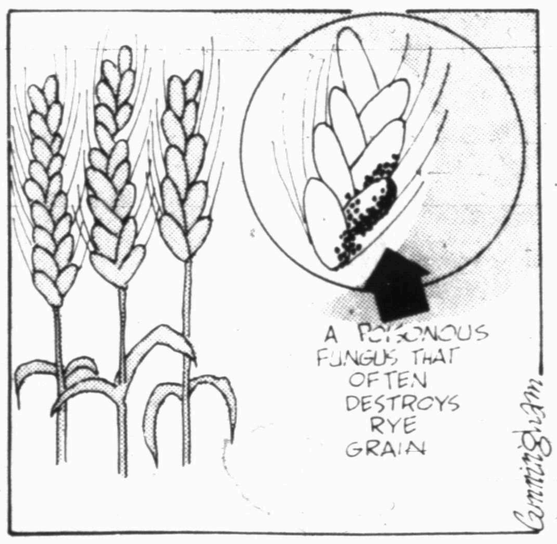

Another encouraging segment of the trade figures is finished manufactures, especially of heavy, capital items. In 1972, finished manufactures showed a net trade deficit of $1 billion. In 1973, a $1 billion surplus showed up.

Since the third quarter of 1973 the surplus in this area has been growing, and during the first three months of this year was at an annual rate of $6.1 billion.

Aided by a dollar devaluation that Morgan Guaranty puts at 19 per cent in about four years, U.S. trade strength actually has improved except for that big but — oil.

All by itself oil is tipping the balance of trade, and not nearly so much because of its volume as its price. Last month, said Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent, imported oil averaged $9.84 a barrel, versus $2.78 a year ago.

Junior Editors' Quiz on ERGOT

QUESTION: What is ergot?

ANSWER: Ergot is a fungus, a parasitic plant that feeds on wheat, barley, rye and other grasses. It seems to favor rye crops. It forms hard black or dark purple structures, replacing the cereal kernels. When they fall to the ground, they produce stalked clubs that eject air-borne spores. The wind scatters the spores and new plants are infected. Ergot growth can be checked by mowing down grasses in the vicinity of the cereal fields, cleaning the seed and rotating crops.

Ergot also caused a disease known as ergotism. It assumed epidemic form in the Middle Ages and attacked humans and cattle. It was a severe disease, accompanied by a high fever and skin inflammation. It was also called St. Anthony's Fire. This disease has practically disappeared because of more sanitary methods of handling grain. Powerful drugs have been made from ergot and they have been found valuable in obstetrics and in the treatment of migraine headaches.

Clutch Dancing Is Back

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

It is a joy to see by the newspapers that clutch dancing is back.

In case you don't know what clutch dancing is, it is a boy grabbing a girl and a girl grabbing a boy and there they go, swinging around the dance floor in a perfect picture of grace and beauty.

It is a picture of grace and beauty provided the male doesn't have two left feet and if the girl doesn't decide she will do a different dance than her partner.

The term "clutch dancing" is not in Mr. Webster's dictionary book. Have heard it used only by westerners, generally in ranch country.

This was to distinguish the style from square dancing where the partners only touch hands while going through maneuvers more athletic than romantic.

Then rock dancing came along and that is about as graceful as a crackback block by a 220-pound pro footballer. Never understood why the kids liked it.

Clutch dancing once was banned among certain sub-cultures of our nation and may still be.

This largely was among religious groups which felt that such close contact between males and females was sinful or at least would lead to something bad.

There was another reason, too. Usually there were hangerson at dance halls who brought along a little bootleg panther sweat and got tipsy.

This could lead to serious confrontations and there often were fist fights and sometimes knife play and shooting, and what a moment before had been pleasant social affair turned into something ugly.

A dance sponsor who didn't hire a beefy type or two to break up fights was asking for trouble. But the security men sometimes could not act quickly enough and some youth would put a nasty hole through another male.

Many thousands of University of Texas ex-students can recall with pleasurable nostalgia the Germans held each Saturday night.

Don't recall why they were called Germans. They simply were student dances.

A boy for $1.10 could take his best girl to the Student Union for several hours of dancing. Probably 2,000 persons would be on the floor, the men in their best suits and the coeds in fantastic evening gowns.

Strangely, there never seemed to be any trouble. Perhaps it was the care with which the students conformed to custom.

Custom permitted any man to "tag," meaning he could tap a male dancer on the shoulder and the dancer would have to surrender his partner to the newcomer.

Girl Files Suit On School

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A young girl has gone to court in an attempt to be named salutatorian of the 1974 graduating class of Port Isabel High School.

Lucy Bernal filed suit in state court Tuesday alleging that the Point Isabel School Board used the band grades in determining the grade point average for selection of salutatorian.

In a suit filed by Jerry Davidson, a Brownsville lawyer, Miss Bernal alleges the school director lists band among several classes that are not to be used in determining the grade point average.

At 3 p.m. Friday, only five hours before the class of 1974 is to graduate, District Court Judge Darrell Hester will hold a hearing on Miss Bernal's request that a temporary restraining order be issued against the school naming Jose Banda as salutatorian.

The suit alleges that W. Carl Powers, a school counselor, told Miss Bernal in early May that she was to be salutatorian. She says she was then told May 20 that the school board would meet May 21 to select a salutatorian.

Miss Bernal alleges the board met at the request of Banda's parents and voted to use Banda's band grade in determining his grade point average.

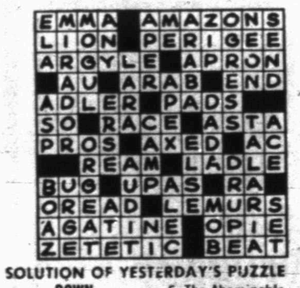

In the suit, Miss Bernal alleges that if Banda is allowed to graduate as salutatorian she will be denied scholarships.

New Badge

NEW YORK (AP) — The quality of the stationery organizations allocate their executives may become a badge of office, the Cotton Fiber Paper Council says. The Commonwealth of Virginia, for example, now designates who among state office holders are entitled to 100 per cent cotton fiber content paper and envelopes, who gets 50 per cent cotton paper, who 25 per cent, and on along the line. The higher the rank, the better the paper.

The council predicts that with this trend stationery will join corner offices, private washrooms and company jets as symbols of executive suite status.

Penn Gals May Be On TV

By FRED FARRAR
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In the space of just the past couple of weeks, the face of womens' intercollegiate sports in Pennsylvania has changed completely.

Recruiting, athletic scholarships, summer sports camps and even televised games are either realities or being planned.

The first public word came Friday, when it was learned Penn State had approved as many as 50 athletic scholarships for women starting this fall. Not counting its 100 football grants, Penn State awards about 100 athletic scholarships to men.

While Penn State was deciding about granting scholarships to women, the University of Pittsburgh was recruiting.

And Pitt has been so successful, says basketball coach Sandra Bullman, that "we're going to win a national championship with these girls."

But from the defending national champions, Immaculata College of Malvern, Pa., comes a challenge.

"Tell Pitt to add us to their schedule," said coach Cathy Rush.

Her teams have compiled a 74-4 record the past four seasons.

Her husband, Ed, an official in the National Basketball Association for seven years until he switched to the rival American Basketball Association this past season, said Immaculata's following is growing by leaps and bounds.

Rush said next year's team has been scheduled into Madison Square Garden and will play twice in Philadelphia's basketball shrine, the Palestra.

And there is more.

"We are very, very close to signing a television contract," Rush said. "The interest is definitely there, and women's basketball will definitely be a major spectator sport in the future."

The rush to financial aid for women athletes and the upgrading of long-neglected women's sports programs around the nation has been prompted by a set of guidelines being drafted by the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

It is believed they will call at least for equal opportunities for women athletes in colleges and universities receiving federal funds.

Ignoring the guidelines could mean loss of the federal money.

Penn State, with 10 years of intercollegiate women's athletics behind it, doesn't have as far to go as many schools.

Its assistant athletic director, Della Durant, is a woman.

Its women have an entire building for their program, and they receive an increasingly large share of the athletic budget. The decision to start awarding scholarships, for example, probably adds 50 per cent to this year's estimated intercollegiate expenditures of $40,000 for women.

In contrast, the mens' teams, not counting football, spent about $280,000 this year.

"But that's deceptive," said retiring basketball coach Maryann Domitrovitz. "We get all the support, in terms of money, equipment, advice and encouragement, that we need."

Marvin Barnes Is 2nd Draft Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Marvin Barnes' mother thinks her son is worth more than Bill Walton. And Marvin tends to agree.

Walton, the three-time All-American and two-time College Player of the Year from UCLA, was officially made the No. 1 pick in the National Basketball Association's draft of college players by the Portland Trail Blazers Tuesday.

Actually, the Trail Blazers had signed Walton before the draft, the Bruins' 6-foot-11 center agreeing to a five-year contract for between $2 million and $3 million.

Portland and Philadelphia, the teams with the worst records in the league last season, had conducted a coin flip to determine the No. 1 pick. The Trail Blazers won.

That left the 76ers with the No. 2 choice, and after being rejected by the league in an effort to draft 1974 Player of the Year David Thompson of North Carolina State, they selected Barnes, the 6-9 All-American from Providence.

A happy Marvin acknowledged that his mother was recommending a $3 million contract. "That sounds good to me," he said. Barnes was the nation's leading rebounder last season and the runner-up in 1973. He was drafted last year by Denver of the American Basketball Association.

Barnes' teammate, Kevin Stacom, was picked in the second round by the Boston Celtics.

Big men were at a premium in the first round, with 15 of the 18 players selected being centers or forwards.

Buffalo selected Rhodes scholar winner Tom McMillen of Maryland as the ninth pick over-all, considered by some a surprise because the lanky McMiller might pass up pro ball to continue his education. Furthermore, his toughness, stamina and lack of speed have been questioned by pro scouts.

The Atlanta Hawks' first choice was center Mike Sojourner of Utah, the Most Valuable Player in the 1974 National Invitation Tournament, who was taken from the hardship list.

Another center drafted as a hardship in the first round was junior Maurice Lucas of Marquette, taken by the Chicago Bulls. It brought a bitter reaction toward pro recruiters and lawyers representing players from Marquette Coach Al McGuire, who lost juniors Jim Chones in 1972 and Larry McNeill in 1973 to the pros.

The new New Orleans team chose Aaron James of Grambling in the second round as its first selection. It had traded away its first-round choice. It also named Scotty Robertson of Louisiana Tech as coach.

In the only trade Tuesday, the New York Knicks gave their first-round choice to Chicago for forward Howard Porter and the Bulls' second-round pick in 1975.

Others big men selected in the first round were: 7-foot-4 Tom Burleson of North Carlina State, by Seattle; All-American John Shumate of Notre Dame, by Phoenix; Bobby Jones of North Carolina, by Houston; Scott Wedman of Colorado, by Kansas City-Omaha; Campy Russell of Michigan, by Cleveland; All-American Keith Wilkes of UCLA, by Golden State, and Len Elmore of Maryland, by Washington.

Squires Hit With Big Suit

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The future of the Virginia Squires' franchise in the American Basketball Association not only is still up in the air, but owner Earl Foreman has been hit with another lawsuit, this one for more than $380,000.

Even as a group of local businessmen seeking to keep the ABA team here said Tuesday it had enough cash to purchase the club, Foreman was sued for $384,303.39 by rookie Barry Parkhill, who charged, among other things, he had been paid $24,303.39 in checks that bounced.

It was the second suit filed in a little more than two months against Foreman, who was forced to sell such stars as Julius Erving, Sven Nater and George Gervin in an effort to keep financially solvent during the past season.

Several Summer Activities Set

The Snyder school system is planning several summer activities, according to an announcement by Maurice (Mo) Hodges, head football coach and athletic director at SHS.

The program will include tennis, golf, track, gym activities and weight training. Coaches will be Hodges (golf and weight training), Boxie Weems (track), Bill Boles (tennis), and Bob Moore (gym activities).

Hodges said tennis will begin June 3 and continue through July 12, Mondays through Fridays. Beginners will meet from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., and advanced classes will meet from 9 a.m. to 1 a.m. Transportation will be provided to only one out-of-town meet.

The golf program will be held at the country club from June 3 through June 12, Mondays through Fridays. Grades 4 and 5 will work from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., grades 6 through 8 from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., and grades 9 and over from 11 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon.

Track activities will be held at the high school track June 3 through July 12, Mondays through Fridays at 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Transportation will be provided to two out-of-town meets.

Gym activities include basketball, volleyball, bedminton, table tennis, and floor hockey. These activities will be held at the high school boys' gym June 10 through July 19 from 9 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon.

Weight training will be held at the high school field house June 10 through July 19 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Registration will be on the starting days of each activity.

Colt Tickets Go On Sale

BALTIMORE (AP) — The public sale of Baltimore Colts' season tickets, an unheard of phenomenon since team's formative years, will begin at 9 a.m. Monday.

Only about 36,000 season tickets for the 1974 season have been sold by the National Football League team so far, as compared with some 48,000 last year.

By your vote, you will elect the person to represent you for the next 4 years. I would appreciate that vote.

Lee "66" Loses, 4-2

Lee "66"'s lead in the mens softball league lasted one day as they ran into another Lee Club by the name of Lee Construction and were defeated 4-2.

Behind 2-1 going into the 6th inning, Lee Construction erupted for three runs on singles by Spencer Smith and Ronnie Lewis with an error sandwiched between to put the game away. Dan Humphries went the route for Lee Construction, allowing four hits in picking up the win. Dub Myers was the losing hurler.

Wadleigh Star Builders, playing the late game, found themselves in a 3-way tie for first place with Lee "66" and AM Gang. Wadleigh, last year's city league champions, seemed to be spurred on by the fact that they could take over sole possession of first place by defeating AM Gang. They scored three runs in the 1st and five in the 3rd enroute to a 2-1 triumph as AM Gang only threatened in the 6th when they scored a single tally. Freddie Benitez with three hits and Pat Smith with two hits led the Wadleigh team. Guy Sullivan and Don Head combined mound duties with Sullivan being credited with the win.

Lee "66" and First Baptist vie in the first game Thursday night, and with a win Lee "66" would move into a first place tie with Wadleigh Star Builders. Browning Liquid Feeds and Lee Construction play the 9 p.m. game.

Snyder Flames Plan Workout

The Snyder Flames will have their first workout of the new season at 5:30 p.m. Friday in Winston Park, and any woman who would like to try out for the team is welcome to participate.

The Flames again are managed this year by Albert Lewis and R.J. Nelson. Either one of these men may be contacted for further information.

Rockets Get Three Texans

By The Associated Press

The Houston Rockets picked three Texas basketball players out of a total of ten Texas and Southwest Conference players chosen Tuesday by the National Basketball Association in its annual college draft.

The Rockets chose Bobby Jones of North Carolina in the first round then followed in the second, fourth, and sixth rounds by choosing guard Gus Bailey of Texas-El Paso, forward Larry Robinson of Texas-Austin, and center Lawrence Johnson of Prairie View A&M.

SMU guard Sammy Hervey went to the Atlanta Hawks in the seventh round.

The Chicago Bulls chose two Texans—forward Jim Forbes of UTEP in the fifth round and forward Randy Knowles of Texas A&M in the sixth.

The fledgling New Orleans club drafted Bruce King of Pan American in the second round.

Bernie Carbo Wins Award

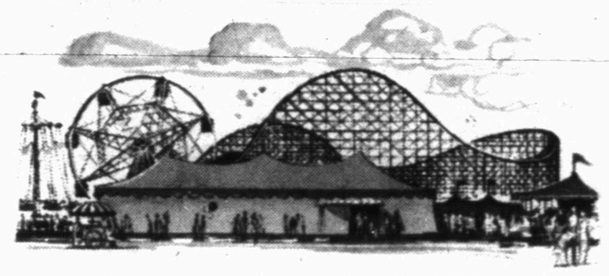

BOSTON (AP) — Slugging outfielder Bernie Carbo of the Boston Red Sox is the winner of the American League's weekly Star Parade Award.

Carbo was honored Tuesday for his performances in helping the Red Sox into the East Division lead. He had 13 hits, including two homers, in 29 times at bat, a .448 average. He also drove in 10 runs, two which won games.

Bob Robertson of the Pittsburgh Pirates explained his spring haircut this way: "I'm beginning to hear for the first time in a year."

DON'T TAKE TIRE TROUBLE ON YOUR VACATION.

Go with the radial leader Michelin

When you set out on vacation all you should have on your mind is a good time. You shouldn't have to worry about traffic conditions, breakdowns, tire failure, flats and running out of gas. We can't help the traffic situation but we can install a set of Michelin 'X' steel-belted radials — and they can help insure you of a trouble free ride. They're built to give you long tread life, excellent puncture protection, a safe, smooth ride with firm road holding and precise steering control. And, you can go further on a tank of gas with Michelin 'X' radials because radials roll more easily than conventional bias ply tires.

Stop in today and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed. Then start to enjoy thinking about your vacation.

Think radial... and look to the leader MICHELIN

DRAPERY SPECIAL—Art Roberts, manager of Joe Graham Cleaners, 2417 College Avenue, holds up a freshly-cleaned drape. It's his way of calling attention to the annual Drapery Special at Joe Graham Cleaners. During this time of year, the firm cleans drapes at a 20 per cent discount to give fulltime employment during the summer to the Household Department.

Summer Drapery Special Is On At Joe Graham Cleaners Here

Joe Graham Cleaners, 2417 College Avenue, is having its annual "Summer Drapery Cleaning special" with 20 per cent discount on drapes cleaned.

"There is a good reason why we have an Annual Drapery Sale each year at this time," said Art Roberts, manager of the firm.

"At the plant, we employ a lot of skilled people in our Household Department, and we run this discount sale on draperies to give these folks full employment," he said. "It's your chance to give your draperies the same attention to details and all at a 20 per cent discount. If you want to get a head start on housecleaning, I can help you take the drapes down today or on my next call."

Just dial 573-3401 and Robetts will be glad to pick up your draperies.

Joe Graham Cleaners provides professional service. The firm specializes in the finest cleaning fluid that can be used—the exclusive Custom Care process.

"We can keep you looking your best with our new exclusive Custom Care process," Roberts said.

"Our new process puts life back into your garments," he said, adding, "It's more than just dry cleaning. Custom Care restores the crisp smartness, body and drape to your clothes. Try our exclusive dry cleaning service and see the difference."

Custom Care restores the original finish, newness and body to limp fabrics. Custom Care takes out the tired, puckered appearance that seams and lapels sometimes get. Replace the droop with a drape—use Custom Care at Joe Graham Cleaners.

Need a hat blocked or some alterations? Just dial 573-3401 and the friendly personnel at Joe Graham Cleaners will take care of your problems.

PRODUCE EGGS—This is one of several large feed storage bins at McBeth-Marricle Egg Farm that is used to feed 70,000 laying hens east of town, at Anson and Abilene. L.E. McBeth, co-owner of the firm, said he is proud that West Texas feed is used for his chickens, thus contributing to the economy of the area. He says eggs are a better bargain now than they've ever been before at 60 to 65 cents a dozen.

McBeth-Marricle Eggs Are One Of Today's Biggest Bargains

L.E. McBeth, co-owner of McBeth-Marricle Egg Farm east of Snyder, said that many people in this country do not appreciate the really good food bargains we have in this country.

"The energy crisis may be bad, but it would be much worse if you lived in Arabia and had plenty of oil but not enough food to eat," he pointed out.

McBeth believes we're fortunate to have great quantities of food in this country. Most of it is reasonably priced, he said, and he believes that eggs, at 60 to 65 cents a dozen, are the best bargain of all.

"We can't really produce eggs at that price, but we've faced crises before, and I guess we'll get through this one," he said.

McBeth-Marricle Egg Farm also operates egg farms at Anson and Abilene. They have over 70,000 laying hens. McBeth is proud of the fact that all of his hens are fed from feed grown in West Texas, thus contributing to the economy of the area.

"I recently received a letter from my daughter in Arabia, and she has a new appreciation for food," McBeth said.

His daughter, Janie, now married to Walter Romine, is a teacher in Yemen, Arabia. She purchased several items of canned food before she left the United States, but it took them five months to ship it to her in Arabia.

"She said she nearly starved to death before the food arrived," her father pointed out.

His daughter also has a new appreciation for eggs, as attested to in the letter. A portion of the letter follows:

"We finally got eggs—relief! I didn't think I would make those weeks without eggs. A friend went to Ethiopia last weekend and brought everyone a dozen eggs as a souvenir. It was such a pretty sight! First, they were in a real live egg carton! (Here, they sell you how many you want in a paper sack). Then, I opened the carton and not only were they eggs, but they were sparking clean and white. What a beautiful sight!"

Cashing In On Coupons

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: Some time ago you offered a list with the names and addresses of refunding bulletins -- those magazines that tell you which companies are offering refunds for sending in labels. Is the list still available? -- P.O., Tullas, La.

As Mark Twain might have amended his statement today, "I can live for 2 months on a good compliment – and $10,000!" That's an exaggeration for most of us, but inflation has made those cents-off coupons more golden than ever. Dedicated refunders can save over 25 percent on shopping bills, and those who make less effort can save 10-15 percent.

DISTRIBUTION OF COUPONS rose to 23 billion in 1972, up from 10 billion coupons 7 years earlier, according to a report issued by the A.C. Nielsen Co. Refunding expert Carole Kratz, co-author of "The Coupon Way to Lower Food Prices," says a supermarket industry survey shows that nearly 70 percent of all retailers feel that more coupon offers will be made each year as customers become increasingly economy-minded. Moreover, Mrs. Kratz says that the average American family discards about $2 worth of labels every day, not being aware that a refund is regularly offered on most household products and packaged foods, from ammonia to canned zucchini, by at least one manufacturer of each product.

In case you're not tuned in to refunding, it's the process of sending boxtops and labels to companies which offer to send cash, coupon or gift (refund) in return -- or other variations of getting money back or a bargain. Sometimes the coupons are cashed in at the supermarket. Companies issue such refund offers as sales promotions to induce customers to buy and try their products.

REFUNDING HAS BECOME A BIG DEAL. There are refunding clubs, whose members trade coupons and labels; label and refund-form exchanges operated by individuals, and some 50 refund bulletins, most of which are mimeographed.

Mrs. Kratz says most of the bulletins are printed by housewife-refunders and are not usually professionally produced but the information is abundant. Some bulletins are issued weekly, others monthly and a number come out quarterly. She also notes that they vary in accuracy. Most cost in the range of $5 to $6 per year and it's a wise idea to buy a sample copy first before taking a year's subscription.

Mrs. Kratz's paperback book is published by Workman Publishing Co., 231 E. 51st St., New York, N.Y. 10022; cost is $1.95.

READER SERVICE: For a list of selected refund bulletins, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Joyce Lain Kennedy at this newspaper. Ask for "Refunding Bulletins 1974."

Segments of our society are being separated by the language they create, says Philip Lesly in "The People Factor: Managing the Human Climate." Lesly says that specialization sometimes requires special terminology. But there is an added factor — snobbery. People want to make sure others recognize they are on a different level. So they deliberately develop jargon that sets them apart.

Southwestern States Have Cheapest Gas

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico have the lowest gasoline prices in the nation, an American Automobile Association survey shows.

The AAA survey, prepared here, shows motorists in the five-state area are paying an average of 53 cents per gallon for regular and 57 cents for premium grade casoline.

Highest prices in the nation, the survey shows, are in California, Arizona and Nevada, where prices range from 57 cents for regular to 61 cents for premium.

New York and New Jersey and the Great Lakes states are next highest at 57 cents for regular and 60 cents for premium.

Gasoline prices are averaging 55 cents for regular and 59 cents for premium in the Mid-Atlantic states, the survey found. In the Midwest and Mountain states, it's 55 cents for regular and 58 cents for premium.

After the Southwestern states, the Pacific Northwest has the next lowest with regular averaging 54 cents and premium 58.

The AAA survey indicated only one per cent of the stations on a nationwide basis are out of fuel and only two per cent are limiting purchases. Forty per cent are open Sundays.

Service stations in Colorado, Montana, North Dakota, Utah and Wyoming are reporting the best supplies, the survey found, and the New England states have the most limited supplies.

Alda, Moore Win Top Awards In TV Series

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A poignant drama tracing a black woman's path from slavery to the civil rights movement and two zany comedies were the big winners of television's "Best of the Year" awards.

Cicely Tyson was named actress of the year for specials Tuesday night for her performance in the title role of "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," and the show was named as television's outstanding special of 1973.

All of the performers, writers and directors competing for the newly established "Best of the Year" awards previously were announced Emmy winners.

"Thanks to all the Jane Pittmans of the world," Miss Tyson said during the 28th Emmy Awards, telecast by NBC from Hollywood's Pantages Theater. She won over Mildred Natwick of "The Snoop Sisters."

Alan Alda, the anti-establishment Army surgeon of "M-A-S-H," and Mary Tyler Moore, who portrays the bouyant assistant producer of a television news show on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," won as actor and actress of the year for series.

They beat out Telly Savalas of "Kojak" and Michael Learned of "The Waltons," Emmy winners as performers in dramatic series.

"M-A-S-H," an irreverent spoof of the Army set in wartime Korea, was selected the outstanding comedy series. The British production of "Upstairs, Downstairrs" was named the outstanding drama series.

Hal Holbrook was named actor of the year for specials for his portrayal of the skipper in "Pueblo." He won over Oscar winner William Holden of "The Blue Knight."

Michael Moriarty and Joanna Miles were named supporting actor and actress of the year for "The Glass Menagerie," which starred Katharine Hepburn.

"Columbo" was picked as the outstanding limited series.

"The Carol Burnett Show" and its star, Miss Burnett, won Emmys for the second consecutive year as the outstanding music-variety series.

Lily Tomlin and her special, "Lily," were honored for the best comedy-variety special.

"Marlo Thomas and Friends in Free to Be ... You and Me" was named the outstanding children's special.

Robert Butler was named series director of the year for "The Blue Knight" and Dwight Hemion won specials director of the year for "Barbra Streisand ... and Other Musical Instruments."

Emmys for outstanding achievement in sports programming went to "ABC's Wide World of Sports" and to its host, Jim McKay.

In the American colonies, few homes or barns were complete until the weather-vane was in place. Artisans fashioned them of wood, and later of wrought iron, sheet metal and copper.

Baptists Hit Gambling Proponents

DALLAS (AP) — A statement by the Baptist General Convention of Texas Tuesday condemned gambling proponents for "trying to make Baptists a whipping boy" in the controversey over inclusion of an antigambling section in the new state constitution.

The 192-member board of the general convention responded to Joe Strauss Jr. of San Antonio who had accused Baptist leaders of "bullying tactics" and "blackmail."

Straus was co-chairman of Texas Citizens for Pari-Mutuel Horse Racing.

Baptists had said earlier the new constitution will be rejected by voters if it does not contain forceful antigambling langugage. Straus described the two-million member group as trying "to impose their moral beliefs on generations of Texans to come."

The Baptists' statements said people from all walks of life joined in defeating the pari-mutuel horse race betting referendum May 4.

Three outspoken opponents of legalized gambling in Texas are Baptist leaders.

Dr. Ralph Smith, president of the Baptist convention, has said, "if the new constitution does not contain an anti-gambling provision, I will do all in my power to get the constitution defeated."

Shapp Will Try To Stump Panel

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Milton Shapp in the role of songwriter — not governor — will appear on the television program "What's My Line" to try to stump the panelists, his office says.

Shapp will be identified as Pennsylvania's governor and then the panelists will try to guess his avocation—songwriting.

Shapp wrote "The Ballad of Rose Mary," a spoof of Watergate, which has been recorded.

The program was taped Thursday. No date was set for its showing.

Here's what Dawson County farmers and businessmen have to say about
Glenn Toombs

Welch Farmers and Businessmen Support Glenn Toombs!
We urge you to do likewise
Farmers and businessmen of the Welch Community believe Glenn Toombs will be an effective State Representative of the 63rd District.
Glenn Toombs is the only candidate familiar with agriculture
We are one of the best agricultural communities in Texas. It makes good sense to support the man who is familiar with agricultural problems and our economy.
We urge you to vote for Glenn Toombs June 1.
We believe he would be best for Dawson County - - that's what we're interested in.
