Dewey Passed Up Explosive War Secrets

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Thomas E. Dewey of New York was described today by Republican National Committee Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., as having been willing to accept defeat for the presidency in 1944 rather than "risk sacrificing needlessly the life of a single American boy" by revealing that the Americans had cracked the Japanese secret code prior to the Pearl Harbor attack.

Brownell made his statement in commenting on an article in the Life magazine which said Dewey knew during the 1944 campaign, that the late President Roosevelt had been forewarned of a Japanese attack.

Decided Against Use

Dewey decided not to use the information, Brownell said, after Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, advised him in a letter that to do so would let the enemy know that this code had been broken, and might impede the war effort and imperil "untold American lives."

"In the face of this," Brownell said, "Gov. Dewey decided, and told me, that he would not use the Pearl Harbor data because he believed in Gen. Marshall's integrity and he would rather be defeated for President than risk sacrificing needlessly the life of a single American boy."

In Albany, N. Y., Dewey said he would "rather not comment at this time." He also declined to make public Marshall's letter.

Received In Confidence

"Since I received the letter in confidence," he told newsmen, "I refer you to Gen. Marshall for the text of it."

Asked "in the event you are requested to testify before a congressional committee, would you do so?" The governor said:

"Certainly, I would testify if I had any information that the committee wanted, although I have no information not available directly from government sources to any congressional committee."

In another part of his statement, Brownell said:

"In the 1944 presidential campaign the Republicans intended to disclose the truth about Pearl Harbor insofar as we had been able to find out the facts which were being concealed by the New Deal administration. Our information indicated, among othe rthings, shocking lack of coordination between the President, the State department and the armed services leading up to the tragedy of Pearl Harbor."

Two Marshall Letters

Brownell said that "in consulting Governor Dewey about the use of the Pearl Harbor data I learned that he had received, under dramatic circumstances, two confidential letters from General Marshall which warned him that dis-

Marauder Diohara Ordered Arrested, And MacArthur Tightens Censorship Of Press

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Sept. 21—General MacArthur today ordered the summary arrest of Lt. Gen. Kenji Doihara, a marauder in Manchuria who only recently assumed the most important military field command left in Japan.

Doihara was long a member of the Kwantung Army crowd that pushed the subjugation of Manchuria. The order for his arrest came as Japanese sources declared the militarists who led their nation into a disastrous war had hit the bottom of their prestige.

Military Hand Palsied

Well-informed Japanese said the hand of the military now was so palsied it lacked the strength to trouble Emperor Hirohito, whose leadership in the surrender was pictured as raising his authority to the highest peak in modern times.

The Japanese cabinet meanwhile grappled with the harsh reality of occupation—how to feed 80,000,000 people without outside help and with typhoons such as last week's mowing down already-short crops.

MacArthur tightened his grip over the Japanese with a censorship code which told the press to print the truth. It was extended to headlines, recently used by the Japanese for propaganda.

Edwin W. Pauley, American members of the Allied Reparations commission who is expected here within a month, asserted in San Francisco that Japan's warmaking potential would be eliminated and that the beaten nation would pay indemnities in goods, not cash.

Dealy Gives Views

(Ted Dealey, president of the Dallas, Tex., Morning News, said in a signed article MacArthur had told him he would "fix things" so that "the Japs will have a hard enough time eating for the next 25 years, much less having the leisure and materials to build up for another war."

(Dealey, who saw the surrender signed, said MacArthur told a group of American publishers that occupation could end in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel" but might last "indefinitely if we do not handle them right.")

MacArthur gave no reason for the "immediate arrest" of Doihara, but obviously he will be questioned about war crimes as will the rest of the militarists now crowding the cells of Yokohama jail.

Doihara's notoriety was worldwide when he was credited with trying to win over the Chinese warloads in Manchuria, with a deft mixture of brutality and bribery. He had sunk into obscurity in recent years.

MacArthur's censorship code hit hard at the game some Japanese newspapers and Dodei agency had been playing and for which Domei and two newspapers temporarily were suspended.

It prohibited coloring stories by omission of details, the insertion of editorial comment in news stories, and banned undue headline displays calculated to develop a propaganda line.

The occupation of Japan moved on without friction. U. S. Marines are scheduled to move Saturday into the western Japan naval base of Sasebo.

The northern port of Aomori will be occupied by the U. S. Eighth Army Sunday and Japan's second city of Osaka will be taken over Tuesday.

Two Killed In Crash In Downtown Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21. (AP)—A Navy plane apparently in serious trouble and being shepherded toward safety by three other Navy aircraft, tangled wings with a guiding aircraft over midtown Miami tonight, killing at least two crewmen and causing a two-alarm fire in the business district.

Both planes were from the Melbourna, Fla., Naval Air station. Both were night fighter craft.

The troubled plane sputtered through the darkness over Miami Beach low over crowded resort hotels, attracting the attention of thousands of persons.

One Plane In Trouble

Losing altitude and apparently unable to locate an airport, the plane crossing Biscayne bay and passed over the downtown section of Miami. Three other planes buzzed around and around the disable machine, and one seemed to be guiding it, witnesses reported.

One plane plunged through the roof of a hardware company's warehouse, setting it and the adjoining Tutle hotel garage ablaze. The garage was used by the Coast Guard.

The other craft crashed in the street, slithered across a parking lot and struck the wall of the hardware warehouse where it burned furiously.

Firemen using chemicals and water confined the blaze to the two buildings, which still burned brightly an hour an da half after the planes fell at 9 p. m.

Calvin E. Johnson, just released from the Navy, and other volunteers who reached the scene only moments after the crash, said the flames already were too high to save any of the four men aboard the craft.

S. L. Devore and W. W. Rentiers of the Miami Herald stereotype department, eating lunch outside the newspaper office, said they saw the two planes crash and fall.

"There were several planes in the air, and these two were flying courses that crossed," said Devore. "I saw their wings tangle and both planes plunged down.

"Before I could see where they had fallen a brilliant fire sprang up from the garage."

Tempers Rise At Parley Of CIO, Solons

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—Congress eased up on work today—no Senate or House sessions. But:

1. Tempers and salty cussing flared at a conference between Maryland congressmen and 300 Maryland CIO members. Senator Tydings (D-Md) stomped out.

2. The Senate Military committee shelved for the time being a proposal to limit the draft to men 21 to 26 years old.

Sent To Senate Floor

3. The same committee approved, and sent to the Senate floor for a vote:

A house-passed bill to encourage enlistments in the Army and Navy. It made only a minor change.

President Truman's appointments of Robert P. Patterson to be secretary of war and W. Stuart Symington to be surplus property administrator.

A measure to award a special gold medal to Gen. George C. Marshall for his services as Army chief-of-staff during the war.

4. A House committee voted against quizzing Elliott Roosevelt personally about his financial deals.

Truman Slate Appeal

The CIO came to town to urge action on the Truman legislative slate. Particularly on "full employment," more pay for the unemployed, a higher minimum wage.

Said Robert Lamb, CIO national legislative representative:

"Any member of Congress who don't get on the bandwagon and vote for a 65-cent minimum wage are going to be sorry in 1946."

Said Tydings:

"I don't intend to sit here and be threatened by any damn person."

Out he marched.

Boos and hisses from the CIO followed him.

Thomas Drops Ban

Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) dropped a plan to tack onto the measure a ban on drafting any men except those 21 to 26. He said that proposal would stir up a lot of argument and impede speedy passage of the new recruiting system.

Republicans moved in the House Ways and Means committee to question Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President. Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) said 10 of them voted for it, 11 Democrats against.

The committee has been studying Elliott's affairs because they involve a $196,000 income tax deduction. That allowance was claimed by President John Hartford of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company on grounds he lost that part of a $200,000 loan to Elliott to help finance a Texas radio network.

Atomic Bomb Rivalry

Rivalry over the atomic bomb popped up between the Senate Military and Foreign Relations committee.

Military approved a measure to place control of the wonder weapon with a commission headed by Chief Justice Stone.

Foreign Relations is studying some atomic bomb bills, too. A subcommittee has talked the question over with President Truman.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the military committee was a git "premature."

Gasoline Famine Spreads As Strikers Close More Plants

Detroit Situation In Critical Stage; Auto Plants Close

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—The labor troubles of the nation's automotive capital approached a critical stage today as strikes shut off the city's supply of gasoline and closed down two more automotive plants.

The spreading strike of CIO oil workers left the city with sufficient stocks of gasoline to last only until Monday noon, a dealers association said, and approximately 1,400 of the city's 3,400 gasoline filling stations reported their tanks were empty. Their number was increasing hourly.

Meanwhile Chrysler corporations Dodge truck plant and the factory of the Zenith carburetor division of Bendix Aviation corporation were closed.

Chrysler, which sent 2,200 Dodge truck employes home yesterday because of strikes in supplier plants, charged that 40 to 50 pickets representing Local 140, United Automobile Workers (CIO) today prevented 800 employes from entering the truck plant and forced its closing.

Chrysler asserted it had received no notice of grievance from the union. There was no statement from Local 140.

At the Zenith Carburetor plant the management reported a strike of 40 foremen and sent 1,600 production workers home.

Idle Now Total 86,000

The additional strikes and layoffs brought to an estimated 86,000 the number of workers idled in the Detroit area. Included were approximately 13,000 employed in plants in Windsor, Ont., across the Detroit river.

Effects of the oil workers strike first were felt in the Detroit area a week ago with stoppage of deliveries from the Socony-Vacuum Oil company's plant in nearby Trenton. About 750 workers struck, demanding a 30 per cent wage increase. A company statement said the strikers refused an offer of 15 per cent increases.

Today an additional 750 oil workers in the area quit, completely shutting off deliveries.

Contributing Factor

At Chrysler offices it was said that the strike in the Murray Corporation of America plants was a contributing factor in the closing of the Dodge production lines yesterday. Approximately 3,200 Murray workers are on strike in a dispute over the reorganization of several plant departments.

The strike of 4,500 Kelsey-Hayes workers over the refusal of the management to reinstate three minor union officials whose dismissal was upheld by the War Labor board contributed last week to the closing down of the Ford Motor company's production departments.

The enlarged United States Conciliation service continued its efforts to settle the Murray dispute as well as that in the Hudson Motor Car company factories where a strike of 500 members of the Foreman's Association of America was followed by idleness for 6,000 production workers.

SETS PEACE FUND—C. E. Palmer, Arkansas-Texas newspaper publisher, above, announced Friday establishment of a $100,000 foundation to contribute to the "true peace for which we as a nation have been striving." The fund will be known as the Palmer foundation.

Rationing Looms; President Urged To Act Promptly

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 21 — A critical gasoline shortage developed today in many midwestern industrial cities as CIO oil workers left refinery jobs from Texas to Ohio.

At least one city went back to rationing and in the Detroit area approximately 1,400 of the city's 3,400 filling stations reported their tanks empty. Mayor Edward J. Jeffries urged President Truman to order federal labor authorities to give the gasoline situation "highest priority." Dealers said all gas stations would be closed by Monday.

Ration Plan Adopted

In Toledo, four refineries were closed and city and union officials agreed on a rationing plan for essential users of motor fuel.

At least 20,000 workers have left their jobs in the nation's refineries and thousands of others have voted to back up the Oil Workers International union for a 30 per cent wage increase. Texas alone had 14,000 idle.

Cleveland was dotted with "no gas" signs. The Standard Oil refinery there closed when pickets from six other blockaded refineries concentrated there.

Steel men in Youngstown, Ohio, said plants which use large amounts of oil were threatened with a shutdown. Youngstown Sheet and Tube said it could operate only a few days unless more oil is forthcoming.

Deliveries Shut Down

An additional 750 oil workers in Detroit, where 750 more went out a week ago, struck today, completely shutting off deliveries in that city where two more automobile plants also shut down.

Pickets withdrew from Chicago bulk plants today, easing the gasoline situation there. Elwood E. Phelps, president of Local 210 of the union, said the men were withdrawn to avoid "embarrassing" AFL truck drivers who deliver most of the city's gasoline.

Additional members of the OWIU in the Texas coastal section joined today in the strike votes. More than 5,000 balloted today. Another 5,300 were on record for a strike.

From George H. Taber, jr., president of the Sinclair Refining company, came an assertion that "unless the refineries already shut down by strikes soon resume operations the public must face a shortage of gasoline."

Taber, in a statement in New York, said worst conditions at the present time were in the Chicago area; that a serious shortage in Texas "is not far away," and that shutdowns on the Gulf would

Globe Girdling Service Starts

WASHINGTON Sept. 21. (AP)—The first regular globe-girdling air service, giving the world a preview of what will be commonplace in time, was announced today by the U. S. Army Air Transport command.

The first C-54 (Douglas Skymaster)—a 40-passenger, four-motored transport—will leave Washington National airport at 5 p. m., EWT, Friday, Sept. 28 on the schedule to be known as "The Globester."

To Pick Up Others

Additional passengers will be picked up at New York City's La Guardia field at 6:30 p. m. ATC officials and three reporters who will make the entire maiden trip at observers and will return here 151 hours after the Washington takeoff, at midnight Thursday, Oct. 4. They will have covered 23,147 miles.

Thereafter, flights will start on "The Globester" every Friday afternoon.

Bermuda is the first stop out of New York. Here is the route thereafter:

The Azores, Casablanca, Tripoli, Cairo, Abadan, Iran; Karachi, India; Calcutta, India; Luliang, China (50 miles east of Kunming); Manila, Guam, Kwajalein, Johnston island, Honolulu, San Francisco, Kansas City, Washington. Stops totaling 30 hours 15 minutes will range from one to four hours—longest being at Casablanca, Cairo, Karachi, Manila and San Francisco.

Lists Not Announced

The passenger list and crew have not been announced, but possibly no more than five persons will go all the way around.

Once the Army is able to get out of the business and planes become available for commercial airlines, civilians may expect more comforts, more service and in time ever greater speed for a 'round-the-world flight.

A civilian certified by the government as traveling in the national interest may board "The Globester," at the equivalent of commercial rates. The full globular flight fare is $2,431 plus 15 per cent transportation tax. Otherwise, the service will be restricted to military personnel, cargo and mail bound for military installations in zones of occupation.

Draft Law Goes On Senate Shelf

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Revision of the draft law went on the shelf in the Senate Military committee today to wait while measures aimed to induce Army-Navy enlistments get a trial.

The committee put aside a bill by its chairman, Elbert Thomas, (D-Utah), embracing changes in the Selective Service law, and voted to report instead the House-approved "Red Apple" bill.

The House measure was so dubbed because members said it held out a red apple, in the form of allowances and benefits, to enlistees.

Major Provisions

Its major provisions:

1. Mustering out pay for men now in the Army who enlist.

2. Five cents a mile travel allowance for those granted furloughs on reenlistment.

3. An optional monetary allowance in lieu of quarters for dependents.

4. All benefits under the GI bill of Rights for those who enlist before next May 15 when the Selective Service law expires.

5. Optional retirement on part pay after 20 years service instead of the present 30 years.

Only One Change

The Senate committee made only one change. It increased to 18 months an optional one-year enlistment period approved by the House for men who have served six months or more in the Army.

Thomas said the War department had suggested this alteration. Senator Revercomb (R-Va) served notice he will try on the Senate floor to cut it back to one year.

Enlistment for two years or three years also is authorized by the measure.

27 Indictments Returned Here

After three full days of work during which 120 witnesses were heard, a 99th district grand jury reported 27 indictments late Friday afternoon to Judge G. V. Pardue for the largest number of bills to be returned here in several years.

The indictments charged 29 persons. Eight robbery indictments were returned, five theft, five robbery and two each of drunk driving, burglary and assault with intent to murder.

Homer Hunt was foreman of the jury.

Grand Jury Recesses

Judge Pardue dismissed the jury until Nov. 19, on the condition that nothing else should develop meantime to be investigated.

All persons under indictment are either in jail or have posted bond, officials said, in announcing the complete list for publication.

Morze, attendant at Lowrimore's East Broadway station, were Jesse Montague alias Jesse Williams, of Bay City, Tex., Gerald Davis of Lubbock, Hubert O'Pry, of Amarillo, and Ruth Wilder, of Monahans. Miss Wilder is 19 and the youths are all 17. They were named in separate indictments.

All Are Denied Bail

All were denied bail by Judge Pardue.

Buchanan was robbed of $80, Morze of $70.

The four had admitted to officers a string of holdups in Texas and Oklahoma.

Peggy Sue Reynolds, 21, of Beaumont, was charged in the theft of an automobile Sept. 8 from I. D. Dunagan, of 910 Ave. N. She was arrested along with a soldier at Grand Prairie, Tex., about a week ago. The service man also is charged in the case but military authorities would not surrender custody to county officers. Agreement Reached In Movieland Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Heads of seven AFL unions involved in the six months strike at Hollywood movie studios today reached an agreement which AFL President William Green predicted would end the jurisdictional dispute.

After a three-day conference called by Green, the union leaders agreed to let representatives of the locals involved at the studios try their hand at a settlement.

Then, in the event the local unions are unable to do this in five days, the international officers will negotiate the issues remaining in dispute.

The strike last March 12 grew out of a jurisdictional conflict between the 55 set decorators who were members of the AL's Painters union and 55 members of Local 44 chartered by IATSE.

German Election Schedule Is Set

BERLIN, Sept. 21. (AP) — Gen. Eisenhower's command apparently hopes to end American Military government in Germany, except for the top overall posts, within the next 15 months.

Military officers will be withdrawn steadily from civil administration posts as elections produce German officials competent to assume authority, U. S. Group Control council headquarters confirmed.

Election Schedule

This tentative election schedule has been set:

January; Gemeiden—communities ranging from rural hamlets to towns of about 20,000 population.

March: Landkrzisen — equivalent of American counties.

May: Stadtkrzisen — larger towns and cities.

October; Laender—states.

At present the lowest level of the AMG is a detachment in charge of a lankreis. Under present plans these assignments would be eliminated as soon as possible after the March vote.

By current estimates, German state governments could be expected to take office by November or December, 1946, and thereafter American supervisors would be needed only in zonal affairs.

Can Adolf Be Hiding In Japan?

Hitler Believed Alive

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—The American public still does not believe that Hitler is dead.

The Russians recently issued a report expressing serious doubt of the Fuehrer's death, and this week American authorities in Japan started questioning 3,000 Germans living in a Jap mountain resort in an attempt to run down persistent rumors that Hitler is hiding in that area.

GALLUP

Shortly after the fall of Germany a poll of American public opinion found that, in the absence of any official proof or statements by the Allied governments concerning Hitler's fate, approximately two out of every three persons in the United States refused to believe him dead. That was nearly three months ago. Today a new poll finds that nothing has caused the American people to change their minds.

The two surveys, in June and today, asked the same questions:

"Do you personally believe that Hitler is dead?"

The vote:

	June	Today
Yes	17%	16%
No	68	69
No Opinion	15	15

Unless some final proof turns up of Hitler's death, there is likely to be a "Hitler legend" persisting in the minds of the people for some time to come.

Despite Slaying Of Her Husband . . .

Edda Loved Musso

ROME, Sept. 21. (AP)—Countess Edda Ciano says she still "loved and admired" her father, Benito Mussolini, even after he put to death her husband, former Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano.

She denied she ever was the "gray eminence" in Fascist politics and said she wanted to live the rest of her days on a small island "like an ordinary woman."

The countess was interviewed on Lipari island where she is interned by the Italian government after being expelled from Switzerland.

Those who know her say her lot is not so hard. She goes where she pleases on the island, smokes American cigarets and has a superb view from her villa of the Mediterranean in which she swims occasionally.

The countess wore light blue slacks, a flannel blouse and tennis sneakers when she met correspondents in the parlor of her villa.

"To tell the truth, I expected something better than Lipari," she said.

Correspondents observed she really was in a very special position and she replied brusquely:

"I have always been in a very special position. In the end, it will be in a very special position that I will be shot."

She said Claretta Petacci, Mussolini's mistress who was slain with the dictator and whose body also was exposed in the Piazza, had a great influence on her father.

"She became the true head of

STARLIGHT

"I think I'd miss the stars the most," said a friend when we were discussing what we would dread most about being blind. Stars give one such reassurance, he added. This was brought out in a recent movie when the hero (all right girls, all right it WAS Van Johnson) confessed he had named a star "George" after his mother who had told him about those twinkling bits, always gleaming in their accustomed places.

Some one wrote that no night is a dark as a starless night, nor is any life more drab than that of one who has never know the thrill of starlight after storm.

"Give a sailor a star to steer by," he continued," and he will come home to port. Give an airman the company of a star shining clear and you have given him both certainty and direction. Give any man a star on which to fix his eye and he can reach as far as his imagination points the way."

Anne Hlubucek in her poem, "One Star To Look At," writes:

These I would ask: A house upon a hill,
Where all the gentle winds can come and play;
A climbing rose; a lonely whippoorwill
To share my solitude at close of day;
One star to look at in the quiet night.
And think about, and may be call my own."

CHANGED FOOD HABITS

UNIFORMS of thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines are being laundered for the last time—wrapped in paper—stowed away in trunks to be pushed farther and farther back in the attic or basement. For all men, the fighting is over—for mose of them the days of rules, regulations and rank are over—the hours of standing in line for chow—and wearing government issues socks, shoes, ties and handkerchiefs—are over.

Certain aspects of army living will stick for many years to come. Food habits for just one thing. Service men became used to a more varied diet because army and navy mess introduced them to so many new foods—not that the love of mashed potatoes and apple pie, of course, has in any way diministed. But a majority of our fighting men did learn to enjoy a greater variety of foods than they were formerly used to. We wonder if they will carry over into their civilian life a zest for raw salads and will not only tolerate vegetables but will eat them with a relish.

Food consultant Mary Barber to the contrary, it's our belief that men aren't too fond of vegetables and salads. We recall many Kiwanians used to flip cigaret ashes in vegetables and ignored their salads at Thursday luncheons.

ORIENTAL rugs have increased greatly in favor with homemakers since they are colorful, cheerful and fit in easily with decorative themes.

According to a New York home decoration consultant, there are no hard and fast rules in the selection of an Oriental rug for a living room, a dining room or a bedroom. A woman's home should reflect her personality. For that reason a woman should rely upon her own instinct and intuition in creating the decorative character of her home.

To guard against a possible shortage of students in the dental and medical colleges of the Nation, qualified veterans are being given priority in opportunities to study medicine and dentistry under the GI Bill of rights, local Selective Service boards have been advised.

Education benefits of the GI Bill provide up to four years of college for the veteran who was under 25 when he entered service. For the veteran who was over 25 upon entering service, one year of education is provided. This includes $500 per year for tuition, $50 a month for a veteran without dependents and $75 for the veteran with dependents.

The veteran may write to Box 457, Chicago, 90, Ill., for information on medicine, and Box 688, Chicago, 90, Ill., if he is interested in dentistry.

ANPA Head Warns On Newsprint Rush

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers association, warned publishers today they "will pay a fearful price in dollars and interruption of public service" if a "wild scramble develops for more newsprint" when government controls end Dec. 31.

If the available supply is gobbled up by some, leaving other publishers "deprived of newsprint supplies for minimum community service," he said, "government control may result which would not be healthy for the public or the newspapers."

Any great increase of newsprint consumption over that of 1945, Williams warned, would add "chaos to the present bad supply situation."

Canadian National Railway officials believed a record had been set when a family of 11 occupied one drawing room.

World's End Is Not Yet, So Preacher Sets A New Date

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 21. (AP) The world didn't come to an end today (which is this week's most superfluous statement) as the Rev. Charles G. Long said it might. Instead, it was just chilly and lamp and rainy and unfriendly outside his home.

The 72-year-old prohpet declined to see newsmen who huddled on the curb in the drizzle through Long's 7:33 a. m. deadline—first of four he has set for the earth's disappearance in a roar of split atoms.

Long, pastor of the "remnant Church of God," told his 50 followers recently that if the world didn't end at 7:33 a. m., Pacific War Time (or 5:33 p. m., Jerusalem time) it might disintegrate at 5:33, local time, this evening.

In the event of survival past that hour, he added, oblivion may be postponed until Sept. 29 or possibly even next fall.

His prophecy, he said, is the result of a vision seven years ago.

Tech's Red Raiders And Southwestern U. Pirates To Clash In Grid Opener Tonight

By BILL BARNETT
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Texas Tech's Raid Raiders, untried in 1945, open their football wars for the year tonight at 8:15 o'clock on home grounds against the once tried and tied Southwestern university Pirates with Coach Del Morgan's Red and Black holding a glimmering prospect for pulling out of the Southwest's football cellar for the first time in two years. The game is the first 1945 contest for a Lubbock crowd.

The visitors arrived in Lubbock late yesterday for the toss-up game after their opening performance against Bergstrom Army Air field last week ended in a 6-6 tie.

Coach R. M. Medley's crew boasts a lightening fast attack headed by their 170-pound quarterback, Rudy Flores, who heaved the touchdown pass that brought the Pirates a tie in their opener last week.

Pirates Average 192 Pounds

Addition of H. K. Allen, 170-pound back, and Ed Blodzinski, 185-pound guard, after missing the first game with injuries, increases the Pirate potency, even with the loss of bone crushing Swede Ruthstrom, 190-pound fullback. Ruthstrom broke a thumb early this week and will be out for the season.

The Pirate starters will average 192 pounds overall, with a 202-pound line and about a 170-pound backfield.

The Raiders, who finished three weeks of heavy work with a workout last night under the lights in Tech Stadium, will field seven lettermen in the starting eleven and hold down a heavy advantage in weight, totalling 45 pounds.

Tech Line Averages 207

The Raider line, which is reminiscent of days of yore before draft-age youths went off to war before they had time to cover their frames with very much beef, will average 207 pounds with a 180-pound backfield behind them, giving an overall 197 and one-half pound average.

Three months ago the Morganmen were without guards. Tonight Morgan will have a choice of at least six men who can ably plug holes in the hulking forward wall and the middle-line prospects are by far brighter than any other position.

Offensive line play is Morgan's biggest worry and only tonight's performance will prove the blocking aggressiveness of the sevel "mules" up front. Behind this line will come four lettermen backs, the combination that went through one of Tech's worst football years last season, yet one which has proved itself to be one of the most valuable in the school's football history.

Walter Schlinkman, honorable mention All-America and veteran of two varsity years of ball, will head the list. The Dumas Dynamiter has been showing the same explosive power in workouts that battered every opponent's wall last season.

Others of the combination will be Cecil Norris, Arthur Shahan and Gene Hardey. Jack Dillon, veteran end of last season, has been pushing himself close to the quarterback slot but Hardey's year of ball handling off the fast and tricky T formation gives him a slight edge.

The Raiders are expected to play before a full house in the season opener, first game of the year on home soil for any Lubbock eleven.

400 G. I.'S FROM CLOVIS COMING HERE FOR GAMES

Herbert Morgan jr., base commander, has announced that 400 G. I.'s a week will have the chance to attend home football games at Texas Tech at Lubbock. Arrangements have been made for the men to be transported to and from Lubbock by Army conveyance. Each man will pay sixty cents and his ticket reservation will be made for him.

Southwest Elevens Face Service Teams; Baylor To Play Buffaloes

(By The Associated Press)

An avalanche of touchdowns is expected tomorrow when Southwest conference football teams sally forth against opposition from three states.

Few members of the circuit appear to face formidable competition and whirlwind scoring sprees are forecast in most of the contests.

Season Opener For Six

It will be the season openers for six of the seven schools, Baylor having taken the leap last week in an easy warm-up with Blackland Army air field.

Five of the teams have service opponents, Arkansas meeting Barksdale field at Shreveport, Texas A&M playing Ellington field at College Station, Southern Methodist entertaining Blackland field at Dallas, Texas engaging its crosstown opponent, Bergtsrom field, and Rice taking on Corpus Christi naval air station at Houston in a night game.

TCU To Play Kansas

Texas Christian will be in Kansas City to play a light, green Kansas university eleven, while Baylor, hoping for a better work-out than the 40-0 affairs with Blackland last week, tangles with West Texas State Teachers at Waco. Both of these are night tilts.

Baylor probably faces the strongest team. West Texas State Teachers opened the season last week by running over Eastern New Mexico college 56-7 without throwing a pass and not once having to punt. West Texas, however, appears to be outmanned by the bulky squad of schoolboy stars at Baylor.

Brownfield Victor Over Lamesa, 12-9

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 21. (Special) — Brownfield High Cubs got the jump on Lamesa tonight and wound up victors, 12 to 9, in a closely - fought football game.

Brownfield scored twice in the first half with Jack Eicke, tailback, going through the line for seven yards on a quick opening play late in the first quarter and Calvin Franks running 35 yards for the second score in the second period.

Midway in the fourth period, Orville Nieman, Lamesa tailback, returned a Cub punt 45 yards for a touchdown and kicked the extra point. A few minutes later, Eicke was caught behind the Brownfield goal line for a safety and two points.

Jerral Price was outstanding for the locals in the line while the play of Capt. Bill Matlock, Lamesa tackle, was particularly noticed by fans.

Hale Center's Owls Defeat Anton, 14-7

HALE CENTER, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Hale Center High school's Owls won their second game of the season this afternoon, defeating Anton's Bulldogs, 14 to 7.

In the first quarter, Quarterback H. A. Caraway passed 20 yards to Kenneth Bogart, behind the goal line for the first Owl score with Caraway kicking the extra point. The same play was nearly repeated in the third quarter, Caraway to Bogart, with Caraway passing to Landers for the extra point.

Anton scored in the fourth quarter when Eddie Hart caught a short pass from Wood and ran 75 yards for the counter. Wood kicked the extra point. Anton had previously threatened in the second quarter after making three straight first downs but fumbled near the goal line.

Coaches Ray Bailey and Wade Davis were well pleased with the showing of their youngsters who scored 12 first downs to the visitors' 4.

Littlefield Swamps Floydada, 85 to 0

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Littlefield Wildcats really ran wild tonight, swamping a Floydada High eleven, 85 to 0, in a none-conference game. A crowd of 2,000 fans saw the contest.

Littlefield used two complete teams in the game but the second stringers continued to score against the visitors. Littlefield line play was exceptional.

Bill Lyman and Walter Sewell shared scoring honors, each getting three touchdowns. Buster Owens, an end, scored two and Junior Graham, Gene McCandless, Thavis Price, and Oscar Arend all scored one touchdown each. Owens kicked seven extra points.

Littlefield passes accounted for four of the tallies.

Petersburg-Lockney Game Ends In 0-0 Tie

PETERSBURG, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Petersburg's football team played nearly all night in the 201 yard zone but lacked scoring punch and Lockney's Longhorns held the locals to a scoreless tie in the 1945 grid season opener.

Petersburg backs carried the ball to the two-yard, three-yard and six-yard line on three occasions but just couldn't punch it over. White, quarterback for the locals, was outstanding, with Kelly and Gordon sharing honors with him. McGuire and Black were defensive stars.

Lockney's Messer was outstanding on the offense with Cargel and Williams the visiting defensive stars.

First downs were 14 to 3 in favor of Petersburg.

Sundown Wins From O'Donnell, 13 To 0

O'DONNELL, Sept. 21. (Special.) — Sundown High school's football team proved the better of two sluggish elevens in their opening game here tonight and the visitors defeated O'Donnell, 13 to 0.

Sundown's first score came on a two-yard line plunge just before the first half ended and in the third quarter, a Sundown back returned an O'Donnell punt 40 yards for a touchdown.

Levelland, Denver City End In 6-6 Deadlock

DENVER CITY, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Levelland Lobos and Denver City battled to a 6-6 tie here tonight.

Denver City drew first blood after a 50-yard march by Grayson Tate and Bob Miller in the third quarter with Miller making the touchdown. The first half was scoreless.

Levelland came back late in the fourth period to tie the score after a Denver City fumble, Pierce scoring on a 20-yard run.

Levelland B Loses To Meadow Eleven, 43-7

MEADOW, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Meadow High swamped a Levelland B team here this afternoon, 46 to 7.

Rayford Williams scored in the feature play of the game, intercepting a Levelland pass and running 80 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. Joel Locke, Jack Barnes and Terry Leland each scored two touchdowns, Barnes kicking four extra points.

Morton Opens District With 12 to 6 Victory

MORTON, Sept 21. (Special.)—Morton High school opened the district 5-A conference season this afternoon by defeating a heavier Muleshoe eleven, 12 to 6.

Morton scored the first time it got hold of the ball when Billy McAlister got loose through the line for 25 yards after a 65-yard drive down the field. In the third quarter, Kenneth Willis intercepted a Muleshoe pass and went over for the second score.

Muleshoes touchdown came in the fourth period on a completed pass and a three-yard line plunge on the third down

Crosbyton Chiefs Win From Idalou, 25 To 6

CROSBYTON, Sept. 21. (Special.)—Crosbyton Chiefs opened their 1945 grid season tonight with a 25 to 6 victory over an inexperienced Idalou eleven.

Crosbyton scored twice in the first period and once each in the third and fourth quarters. Idalou's score came on a blocked punt, recovered over the goal for a touchdown in the third quarter.

Bill Fletcher, guard; Robert Campbell, tackle; Lawrence Simmons, full; and Howard Bishop and Murray Scott, halves, were outstanding for the locals. Simmons scored twice and Bishop and Scott once each.

Cowhands (Black) Win Abernathy Bests Golds

Lubbock's Cowhand football teams won and lost Friday afternoon, the Cowhands (Black) winning from Ropesville, 7 to 0, at Ropesville, while the Cowhands (Gold) lost to Abernathy, 6 to 0, at Chapman field.

Abernathy scored on an end-around play to catch the Golds off guard but as the game ended the Cowhands were on the 10-yard line after a sustained drive.

Westerners, Angelo Battle To 13-13 Tie

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Writer

SAN ANGELO Sept. 21.—San Angelo's mighty Bobcats had to cash in on the breaks and come from behind in the fourth period to salvage a 13 to 13 tie with the Lubbock Westerners here tonight before a crowd of better than 8,000.

The Bobcats rated to win easily over the heavier Westerners completed two passes during the night both of them for touchdowns—they converted a fumble and a blocked kick into a pair of touchdowns.

Westerners Hold Advantage

In every other way the Westerners held the advantage over the speedy Bobcats rolling up 220 yards on the ground for 16 first downs while Angelo covered 108 yards for seven first downs aided by 24 yards in passes.

George Brewer and Noel Sikes were the boys who drew the praise from the fans with flashy running attack but they had a lot of help from Don Austin who turned in several nice runs.

In the line it was Charles Presley, Stoney Wall and Gerald Davis who were cutting down the Bobcat runners. Most of the time the great goal line stand by the Westerners drew lots of praise from fans in a city where great play in the line has been legendary.

All Bobcats First Half

The first half was all Bobcats and the Concho boys grabbed a 6-0 lead early. The first time the Bobcats had the ball, they marched to the Westerner six, but there Lubbock's seven rocks of granite dug in their cleats, and the line smeared the Bobcats, and took over on the five.

Brewer and Presley ran the ball out to the Lubbock 24, where Presley fumbled and the Bobcats took over again. After a long incomplete pass, Bob Hay broke away to the Lubbock 15. After another incomplete pass Dodson passed to Pete Renner, who made a nice catch for the touchdown. The kick for extra point was wide, and the Bobcats led 6-0.

On the last play of the quarter, Lubbock took over on a punt on the Bobcat 49, the night's first trip over the 50.

Go Into Single Wing

At this point the Westerners went into the single wing back, and started clicking. Brewer smashed through tackle for eight. Lanham picked up two for a first on the 39, Austin skidded for 10 and a first on the 29, Brewer picked up three, and Lanham two. Austin then knifed through to the seven. Brewer picked up two, then Austin went over for the touchdown, his second of the season. The plunge for point failed.

Presley and Wall stopped the Bobcat attempt to more, and the Bobcats kicked. Brewer returned from his 37 to the 50, and the Westerns were off again. Brewer went wide at right end to squirm to the Bobcat 26. Sikes went to the 19 in two plays. Brewer hit tackle for six. Sikes wiggled to the one, and on the next play, Brewer went over for the touchdown. Sikes ran over the extra point.

Interception Called Back

The third quarter provided little in the way of thrills and nothing in the way of scores. Neither team offered a serious threat. The closest thing to a chill came midway in the period when John Paul Jones plucked a stray Angelo pass from the air on his own 35 and weaved and smashed through to the Bobcat 35, but a penalty called the play back deep into Lubbock territory.

In the fourth period the Bobcats struck from behind and again a smooth working Lubbock line forced them to take to the air to score and salvage a tie game from the upset.

Brewer Pulls Muscle

Early in the period Brewer went out of the game with a pulled muscle in his leg but returned later.

With the aid of a 15-yard penalty the Westerners were pushed back to their own six but worked out to the 15, there Presley dropped back to kick. Weldon Behrends smashed through and blocked the kick and Harold Hendrick recovered on the Lubbock one-yard line for the Bobcats.

Three times the Bobcats stabbed at at the line and failed. A penalty on one play pushing them back to the nine from there Dodson again took to the air and Martinets came up with a nice catch for the touchdown.

Lubbock came back scrapping and drove deep into Angelo territory before losing the ball. Angelo then started rolling with a beautiful running game that reached the Westerners 36 as the game ended.

Bradley "On The Ball"

Veteran Chief Gets Things Done

GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY, chief of the United States Veterans' administration, knows how to get things done.

Of course, he demonstrated that ability when he won fame in Europe as one of America's most capable military leaders. But he has just demonstrated it again—this time locally.

When Leroy A. Clower, 25-year-old Texas war veteran from Lamesa, was flown to the veterans' hospital at Muskogee, Okla., from Lubbock last week, it was necessary to leave the iron-lung, owned by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the Muskogee hospital because officials there had neglected to provide one, despite advance notice.

Suffering from respiratory paralysis, Clower, a paralysis victim, would have died but for the breathing aid.

Learning of the situation, General Bradley acted with characteristic promptness. He ordered an iron-lung flown to Muskogee from New York in his own personal airplane, and the Lubbock apparatus returned here.

Because of his alertness in correcting an omission on the part of subordinates, the Lubbock Jaycees' iron-lung was back in this city Sunday night—ready for use in case of another emergency. It had kept Clower alive for thirty days.

In addition to calling attention to General Bradley's executive ability, this incident serves to emphasize the community's indebtedness to the Jaycees for the life-saving "lung" and to the local fire department for keeping it in such excellent working order.

Muskogee had an iron-lung, but no one had looked after it, and the rubber had rotted. Rusty from disuse and lack of care, it wouldn't work.

His Talent Still Remains

DEATH will not still "the golden voice of Athlone," although the owner of that vibrant, heart-touching tenor, John McCormack, died the other day in Dublin County, Ireland, at the age of sixty-one.

Preserved for this and future generations by the magic of Thomas Edison's invention—phonographic recording, the voice that had the mystic power to vibrate human heartstrings as few voices can, will live on to delight a world-wide audience.

There was something almost miraculous in the gift that Nature bestowed upon this son of a poor Irish millworker. One of a family of eleven children, he appeared destined to a life of hardship and toil when he was born June 14, 1884, at Athlone, Ireland.

But it was not long before his voice, trained in the village choir, began to attract attention. A friend, hearing him singing old Irish airs, persuaded John to go to Dublin. There he won a contest over thirteen tenors, and started on the high road.

His first great public success came in 1907 when he made his debut in Cavalleria Rusticana at London's Convent Garden opera house. Soon famed throughout the world, sought by concert managers in every quarter of the globe, he was described during his heyday as history's wealthiest singer.

No one had to be Irish or have Gaelic blood in his veins to appreciate John McCormack. When he sang of the Emerald Isle and "Mother Macree," he also sang of home and mother in every language.

The world will miss this Irish mill worker's son. It wil ltreasure his voice as that of a meadow lark sent to gladden a tired, busy world.

A Standardized Calendar

NOW that Congress has approved and we are getting ready to turn the clocks of the nation back one hour on September 30, the often-discussed suggestion involving old Father Time has popped up for more consideration. It is the idea of a "World Calender" of twelve months and equal quarters.

Fourteen nations, including Brazil, Chile, China, Norway, Greece and Turkey, have already approved the new calendar, which divides the year into equal quarters of 91 days, or 13 weeks, or three months.

The proposed calendar specifies that the first month in each quarter contain 31 days; the other two months of the quarter to have 30 days each, with every month having 26 weekdays plus Sundays. Every quarter with its 31-month and two 30-day months would begin on a Sunday. Every year would begin logically on the accepted first day of the week, Sunday, January 1.

The 365th day of the year, essential in keeping the calendar in step with the seasons, would be designated as the "Year-End Holiday," Dec. 31. And the 366th day, which occurs in Leap Year, would be designated June 31.

Dr. Robert Millikan, the scientist, Dr. James Truslow Adams, the historian, and numerous leaders throughout the nation are reported as endorsing the revamped calendar, which also has the support of the New York State Chamber of Commerce.

But recalling the confusion that has resulted from calendar changes in the past—confusion that has even changed the date of George Washington's birthday, many conservative persons will oppose the idea meritorious as it may be.

The idea, however, does deserve consideration.

If the Hottentot wants a quart of milk a day, let him keep a cow.

SAFETY IN THE WEST

VIII

THE STORY: Carolyn and Obert agree that th X-999 must remain a secret and the remaining portion safeguarded against danger. Leana Sormi comes to Robert's office. Carolyn overhears her impassioned plea to Robert to seize the power that is theirs. "Together we can be the man and the woman of the ages."

At the end of Leana's melodramatic speech to Bob, Carolyn had wanted to interrupt. But a latent, creeping fear of the woman with the foreign name had somehow become intensified in that quarter-hour. It was a senseless fear, she told herself. Leana probably was just wrought up over everything.

But no; no, she wasn't either. She spoke too earnestly, too impressively; plainly she had been thinking all this out. Plainest of all now was the fact that Leana loved Dr. Robert Hale.

"She's crazy about him!" Carolyn half whispered to herself.

A flash of practical reasoning told her instantly to quit this strange new secretarial job and go back to her old position in the bank or find a new routine somewhere with good, solid Ken Palmer. Ken, the kindly plodder who loved her sincerely, but who had no more color than the bookkeeper he was.

She knew in the same instant that she would never do that now. If all the X-999 in Bob's laboratory was about to blow up in her face she'd still stick to this new job, even though she couldn't have said why. Here was too much potential; a lot had already happened, and every hour gave promise of a great deal more. It was like being in a mystery play.

Intuition rather than practicality also prevented her from revealing her presence to Leana Sormi.

She heard Leana's plea; heard Bob take a courteous, kindly, but somewhat superficial reaction to it, giving Leana very little to tie to. Leana worked herself into tears and so fled rather abruptly.

Bob came immediately to Carolyn's office. Carolyn felt herself blush guiltily, even though she had no actual guilt.

"That was Leana Sormi," he said, unnecessarily. "Did you hear her?"

"Oh. Why—yes." She wouldn't lie about it! "She sounded rather distressed, Bob. Naturally so, of course. At least, I thought I heard her voice indicate that, un—"

"She will be all right. She is a brilliant woman. Girl. She is only 29. I mean, well, that's a woman, isn't it?" He smiled a bit. "Exactly, when does a girl become a woman, come to think of it?"

"I wouldn't take that up today if I were you. We still have a moving job on hand."

"That's very true. And you were saying you had an idea."

* * *

"My idea was about moving the X-999. It seems to me that the only safe place to store it is away out on the plains or mountains. You said you would need electric power to run the experimental laboratory. I mean, while you and your helpers adapt the stuff to—to factory engines, and trains, and automobiles, and whatever. Isn't that so?"

"Yes."

"Bob, aren't there electric power lines from dams and things on rivers? I saw in the movies, or read somewhere—"

"I see what you mean!"

"Good! There's, well, Boulder Dam. That's in Arizona, isn't it? Mr. O'Malley at the bank used to talk about it. It's a long way from any city. But the electric lines runs over mountains and things, and — look, couldn't we maybe get the X-999 out there even before you had a laboratory built? Maybe store it in a cave to ease your mind?

"Goodness, Bob, you'll have no peace as long as it stays in this city laboratory here, you know that. Any nearby farmhouse such as you first chose would be dangerous. But away off—"

"That's the ticket!" Bob had hung one leg on a corner of her desk, half sitting, but he suddenly got up to walk back and forts as he did when intent on anything. "That's exactly the right hunch, Carolyn. You're a dream!"

That startled her a bit. She looked quickly at him. But he was gazing off, planning. It had been simply a careless word of thanks.

For another hour he did a great deal of thinging out loud. During that time he ordered maps brought in. He surveyed the western half of the United States with minute care, measuring the distance to cities, calculating mileage, estimating what his laboratory needs would be out there and how best to meet those needs.

"Okay, I shall catch a plane tonight," he suddenly announced, relaxing. "I don't know why I never thought of this myself. I was reared out there, you know. I can—"

"Were you, Bob?" In the West?" Carolyn showed new interest in him.

He nodded. "In Colorado. B. S. degree from Colorado U. I'm practically a cowboy." He laughed at that. "I really can ride, Carolyn. Could, I mean. When I had time. In the last year or two—"

He ended a bit wistfully, she thought. But she studied him anew. That rearing accounted for a lot of his physical appearance and his mannerisms. A boy from the West!

"Of course, every conceivable care must be exercised in moving it and, of course, I shall do it myself." He was back at work again. "There must be no mistake this time."

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

I HAVE heard it said that as people get older they become more cynical and bitter, and yet with me it is just the opposite.

Maybe it is that I get so many hundreds of letters from all over the country, and the more I get the more I believe in the inherent decency and goodness of the human race.

Don't think that there aren't quite a few rotters in this world.

I get letters condemning God and all religion; villifying the government and law; ranting about capitalism and labor and this and that. I even get letters calling me a low-down, no-good so-and-so.

BRANDEIS

But the great majority of my mail has convinced me that 999 out of a thousand people believe in what is right, try to do what is right and try to make the best of life as it is.

They tell me about their homes and their gardens and their husbands and their children. And, strange to say—or is it strange—it makes no difference whether they live in California or Ohio or New Jersey or Texas, they all have the same emotions, they all love and condemn the same things and they all seem to be pretty well satisfied with the things the good Lord has given them.

When I read my daily mail I wonder sometimes how there can be war and strikes and law suits and crime in a community made up of more than 130 million citizens, most of whom, individually, wouldn't hurt a fly.

In Japan they blame the leaders. The militarists, we are told, are to blame for all the trouble. The people themselves have nothing to do with it. They are kept in ignorance and do what they are told.

But America isn't Japan. We can't blame the leaders.

We ourselves, elect our leaders. The leaders are chosen from our midst.

If we have bad leaders, then we are bad citizens.

What we need most to have a better America is a greatly increased civic consciousness.

WHAT good does it do to go to church on Sunday and forget all about your religion the rest of the week?

What good does it do to go to the polls once every four years, and in between election days not to take the slightest interest in what you disdainfully call "politics"?

Government, if you recall your history, is not just "for the people," but also of the people and by the people."

I am glad that my readers love their flowers and their homes and their husbands and their wives and children.

But you take care of the things you love, don't you?

And you love your country, don't you?

Home-Building Snarl Is Broken

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER

AMERICAN home building has been held up for at least six months by internal dissension within the Office of Price Administration, although the building industry had been counted on to provide both employment and lodging for many thousands in the postwar era. But the deadlock has finally been broken by a revolt within the blockading agency.

Ever since V-E day, the makers of brick have petitioned OPA for a 10 per cent increase in the price of the bricks so that they could afford a 15 per cent rise to their workers. They did not receive boom wages during the war, and even their employers agreed that higher living costs entitled them to a fatter pay envelope. There is also the fear that the brickmakers may enter other trades unless they can get more money.

The 10 per cent boost in the cost of brick, according to official testimony, would entail only an extra $35 on a $6,000 house. The additional cost on public buildings and veterans' hospitals is estimated at only one-fifth of one per cent.

TUCKER

Although the delay in acting on these requests prevented contractors from going ahead on ordered jobs, OPA officials dawdled over a settlement for months. But the showdown came at a housing conference here last week.

Denouncing key OPA-ers as "meddlers and bureaucrats," several top officials resigned in protest against the present policy. They spoke up in meeting in favor of a high wage for the brickmakers and a compensatory increase for the manufacturers.

This squabble highlights the difficulties which will dog recovery unless some overweening federal officials — there are not many — keep hands off the nation's economic machine. In this case both labor and management had reached an agreement that promised to benefit everybody. But OPA resorted to technicalities to forestall positive action.

PERMITS: Among those who quit or were forced out in the scuffle was Karl Mathiason, head of the Construction and Building Trades Price branch. For some reason he wanted to keep this vital industry under the thumb of the government.

He was the co-author of a confidential memo recommending that private home builders be required to obtain permits from the OPA before undertaking a project. He also insisted that they furnish appraisals of cost to the OPA before they could dig a cellar. It is this sort of bureaucratic mentality that delayed any decision on the price-and-wage question for six months.

The protests and resignations, however, forced OPA to back down. The key problem — the granting of pay increases which will necessitate a small upping in prices — was referred to the Bureau of Economic Stabilization which sympathizes with the bricklayers as against the bureaucrats.

FRANCS: American soldiers in Paris and other French cities are being gypped on purchases of everything from a lunch to cheap jewelry because of the artificial rate of exchange which the United States Treasury established in order to replenish de Gaulle's finances. Key Army officers have protested against the lopsided monetary arrangement, but to no avail so far.

Soon after the invasion of Normandy, when our boys had a chance to spend their pay in villages and the smaller communes, President Roosevelt and former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau jr. fixed the rate of 50 francs to the dollar of American money.

Every returning economist and military man, not to mention the suffering soldiers, avows that the franc should be worth only about 200 to the dollar.

Instead of its arbitrary evaluation at two cents, it should be fixed at only one-half of one cent. In short, the price set on French currency was dictated by political rather than financial considerations. Our boys overseas are paying tribute to the Bank of France.

HARDSHIP: Mr. Roosevelt figured that he had good reasons for overvaluing the franc, even though his decision has worked hardship on our soldiers. He thought that this small contribution to a healthy France was more important than easy financing of a soldier's weekend in Paree.

If FDR made the franc too cheap in terms of doughboy money, there was the danger that our men would strip the local shops of goods which the native populace sorely needed. Behind this monetary policy also was the theory that if our occupation troops could not buy abroad they would send their money home for safekeeping for themselves and their families.

But it is not an easy task to sell those ideas to youngsters on leave after the rigors of the battlefield. They rarely write home without mentioning the "greed of the French," blaming their predicament on the natives as their fathers did more than 25 years ago. The arrangement has not made for good feeling.

Note: Unless this rate of exchange is altered, bringing it more in line with financial realities, American manufacturers seeking to do business in France will suffer the same injustice that our servicemen do now.

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN.—Many little things that never reach reach the stage of real news importance become gossipy topics about the state offices and departments.

Among them:

Girls employed in the State Highway department now may smoke at their desks while they work. Permitting officials are watching the experiment hoping it will cut down the time spent by women in the rest room.

* * *

IDENTICAL: For the first time in Texas history six men have been elected to state-wide office by identical vote. The six are the former judges serving on the commissions to assist the state supreme court. When the amendment to make them full judges of the court was voted upon the carrying of the amendment automatically elected the six.

SHOOTING: The shooting of a former Kimble County commissioner held up appointment of J. B. Randolph to be new District judge in the 112th District, vacated by death of the late Judge W. C. Jackson.

Judge Randolph was a close friend and offical associate of the slain commissioner and as new judge the trial resulting would come before him. Randolph announced, however, that he would disqualify himself for the trial, so the appointment went through.

OLD STUFF: Free college tuition as a partial reward for military service is nothing new in Texas. Garland Adair, curator of history for the Texas Memorial Museum, discovered the practice in vogue 10 years ago. Adair was perusing files of the Texas Newspapers of a century ago in preparing for Texas "centennial of statehood."

Among the items that caught his eye in a La Grange, Fayette county, newspaper about the opening of the 12th term of Rutersville college was the announcement by its president, the Rev. Chauncey Richardson, that orphans of deceased Texas soldiers would be given two years instruction free.

"An Ohioan, distracted by a headache, placed a stick of dynamite in his mouth and lit the fuse." News item. Although a bit drastic, this headache cure is comparatively inexpensive, and permanent.

Hard-hearted landlords who won't rent quarters to people with children are not new. Years ago an old woman with so many children she didn't know what to do had to live in a shoe.

A number of your problems will solve themselves if you'll forget them and go fishing.

It Takes Time To Get Back To Normalcy

We Americans Are Too Impatient

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Patience has never been a cardinal virtue with the American people.

Which is just as well in many ways. Impatience to be up and doing has helped a lot to make this nation what it is.

But there do come times when patience is needed, and one of them is right now.

When Japan suddenly attacked at Pearl Harbor we were impatient to be up and at 'em, the dirty so-and-sos.

STOKES

But we found ourselves in a war both to east and west and not ready for it. We found it was not possible, as Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) glibly boasted in the Senate, to take care of Japan in three weeks.

We discovered, instead, that a lot of things had to be done that would take time—and pateince. A huge Army and Navy had to be raised and trained. We couldn't just pass the young men by in a line, millions of them, and hand them a gun and tell them to get out and start shooting. It took weeks and months of infinite patience with the many details of training each of those young men, slow day after slow day, so it seemed.

We Had To Take Time

It took patience, too, for the people to wait for all this while Japan was spreading herself across the map in what looked like an endless flood in the East and the Germans were spilling over Europe and North Africa. We had to watch from afar the many set-backs of those days on land and sea, and that is hard for our sort of people to take. That took patience coupled with confidence in ourselves.

It took patience, too, to get the industrial machine geared up for the unaccustomed processes of war. Here there was, indeed, the necessity of patience with infinite detail—by engineers, by scientists in laboratories and, in the end, by workers who performed the intricate jobs on the delicately adjusted mechanisms that go into modern implements of war. There's only so much of all of that possible to do in a day — even at long hours — and we had to wait for the days to pile up that tremendous supply of materials that eventually brought victory in the hands of trained and brave men.

That job got done — with everlasting work, day after day, and with patience.

IT'S BEEN little over a month since the war with Japan ended.

Yet you pick up the newspapers these days and look at the headlines and you get the feeling that from every side voices are screaming frantically to get back to normal at once, today, perhaps tomorrow, not next week. You get the same impression from moving about this town, and from listening to Congress itself an echo and a wailing wall for the people.

The country seems, of a sudden, to be bursting at the seams with gripes.

It's normal. It's healthy, or at least a sign of health. But perhaps it can be overdone.

Bring the boys back home immediately. They are landing in boatloads every day. But that's not quick enough. Congressmen are literally swamped with angry letters, and they try to get off the hook by calling sudden investigations, by introducing bills, by shouting from the floors of House and Senate.

Let off all war restrictions at once, even at the cost of inflation. That howl is raised daily.

Strikes are being called and threatened all over the lot. There must be wage raises immediately.

Congress, irritated by a thousand gripes, drops back into pre-war attitudes. Conservatives, sure that everything is going to be rosy soon and everybody have a job, suddenly resist President Truman's request that Congress exercise patience and provide enough unemployment compensation for a cushion if there should be some bad times. It might be good insurance.

IN the House, a handful of Republicans — luckily a handful —screams that we shouldn't help Britain over her tough times because the money is going to be used to finance Socialism. They speak without any accurate information and before the negotiations had hardly started.

And some in Congress seem much more interested in investigating Pearl Harbor and turning Franklin Roosevelt round in his grave than in doing something about what's ahead of us.

Whoa!

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 21. (AP)—A 25-year-old St. Louis negro, Pvt. Fred Hurse, was executed by hanging at Camp Bowie last night after a courtmartial convicted him of the murder of Pvt. Eugene Pinckney, negro soldier, at Camp Barkeley, March 22, 1944.

Devereux Back, But Comment Reserved

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 21. (AP)—Lt. Col. James Patrick Sinnot Devereux, 42, Marine commander in the historic defense of Wake island, arrived by plane from Japan today and dourly observed "the Japs will have to be taught a lesson."

After nearly four years in Japanese prison camps, the thin, quiet-spoken Devereux refused to discuss the defense of Wake or comment on General MacArthur's occupation policy until he makes his official report in Washington.

It was a quiet homecoming for the colonel and he made no show of emotion. His wife died shortly after he was taken prisoner. After a short stay at Oak Knoll hospital he held a two-way radio conversation with his 11-year-old son, Patrick. He later left by plane for Washington where he will have a reunion with the boy and other members of his family.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — Persistent October liquidation anticipating first natice date and hedge selling developed a reactionary trend in the cotton futures market today. The market appeared to ignore the generally unfavorable private crop report pointing to further deterioration in the crop.

Futures closed 25 to 55 cents a bale lower.

the government," Countess Ciano said. "I hated her because I saw where she was dragging my father."

She asserted Mussolini "intimately hated the Germans," adding:

"But on the other hand, if he did not go to war on their side; they would have occupied us in one month, even if we fought well."

The countess said that "after the execution of my husband, I broke every relation" with Mussolini "but, nevertheless, I loved and admired him."

"Hitler was more human than generally believed and he certainly had charm," Edda said. "The ferocious man was Ribbentrop (Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister awaiting trial as a war criminal), even more than Himmler."

Dewey And Secrets

closure during the war of the story of Pearl Harbor might well disclose to the Japs that our government intelligence service 'cracked' Japan's most secret code which was still being extensively used and from which we were getting vital information."

"I understood that General Marshall indicated it was the reasoned opinion of Admiral King and himself that such disclosure would seriously impede the war effort and might well emperil, if not sacrifice, untold American lives.

Explosive Matter

"We were all aware that if Governor Dewey exposed during the campaign the colosal maladministration which caused Pearl Harbor the voters would respond by sweeping out of office the responsible party of parties.'

"In the face of this, Governor Dewey decided, and told me, that he would not use the Pearl Harbor data because he believed in Gen. Marshal's integrity and he would rather be defeated for President than to risk sacrificing needlessly the life of a single American boy.

"I told him I concurred in his decision. In my opinion Dewey acted with great patriotism and with a degree of courage unparalelled in American public life."

Had Advance Knowledge

Elliot V. Bell, New York state banking commissioner, also named in the article as having conferred with Dewey on the attack data, told a press conference that "the administration had advance knowledge of Japanese plans and also the texts of statements that the Japanese were going to present to Secretary Hull." (Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull).

Bell said Dewey's decision "was one of the most extraordinary examples of patriotism and self restraint that's ever been exhibited, because it was tantamount to giving up his greatest chance to become president of the United States.

ing skeptical of Hitler's death. Opinion surveys conducted in France, Sweden and Denmark early this summer found that a majority of the people in each of those countries do not believe the fanatical Nazi leader dead.

In the United States the general feeling is that any man with as scheming a criminal mind as Hitler would have made careful plans to escape when it became obvious that Germany would collapse.

In Washington, Edgar L. Warren, conciliation director, asked oil industry representatives and the CIO Oil Workers union to meet next Tuesday in Chicago, especially commissioned to attempt settlement of the strikes.

A shutdown of the Sinclair refinery at Houston began today. Seven plants are closed in and around Port Arthur, and workers at another have voted to strike if demands are not met.

To Use Detroit System

A representative of the conciliation service explained that the same system used in the Detroit automotive disputes would be followed in handling the oil strikes—a three man panel, headed by Justice William L. Knous of the Colorado Supreme court.

Knous, frequently called upon by the War Labor board to adjudicate disputes, will be assisted by Conciliation Commissioners August J. Hummert of St. Louis and James O. Hubbard of the Texas district.

O. A. Knight of Fort Worth, president of the OWIU, will represent the union. Representatives of major oil companies involved in the shutdowns were invited to send representatives.
