Grand Jurors charge local couple with death of child

Floyd County Grand Jurors on Monday indicted a Floydada couple, Henry and Eloisa Fuentes, with two counts of first degree injury to a child. The indictment came after grand jurors heard evidence of a six-week-old girl, LaToya Capuchino, who died on Oct. 8 while being cared for by the Fuentes.

The couple was given custody of the child, after the mother gave birth on Sept. 1, at Methodist Hospital. The child was then "signed over" to the mother's cousin Henry Fuentes and his wife Eloisa. After the documents were signed, the baby was released from the hospital on September 3.

Henry Fuentes brought the unconscious child to the Floyd County Sheriff's office on the afternoon of October 7, because the baby was having difficulty breathing.

Dispatcher Linda Edwards performed mouth to mouth until Paramedic Paul McIntosh arrived and transported the baby to Lockney General Hospital. It was then flown by AeroCare to Methodist Hospital. The child was determined to be "brain dead" on Saturday, October 10, and taken off life support. Officials stated the child died from complications caused by "infection throughout her body."

District Attorney Becky McPherson contends that the Fuentes broke several of the infant's bones and failed to seek medical help for her.

Henry Fuentes, 33, was arrested on October 16 and arraigned on charges of injury to a child. Eloisa Fuentes, 34, was arrested on Tuesday, December 1.

Aiken given Proud Community signs

Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc. presented Cargill Representatives of Aiken with official Proud Community signs Tuesday, December 1.

Celeste Hoehne, KTB District 5 Governor, presented the Aiken representatives with the signs which will be mounted on Aiken's population signs. The signs were provided through support from the Steel Can Recycling Institute and will be installed and maintained by the Texas Department of Transportation.

Aiken is one of 115 official Keep Texas Beautiful Proud Communities across the state who have demonstrated a commitment to improve the Texas environment through local grassroots efforts.

Aiken was recently recognized as the state's 2nd place winner of the Proud Community Award. The annual award is co-sponsored by Keep Texas Beautiful and the Texas Department of Transportation.

Blown fuses cause power outage

The power outage that occurred in Floydada on Sunday night, Nov. 29, was caused by "blown fuses in the city's substation", according to City Manager Gary Brown.

Various parts of the city were without power from approximately 8:45 p.m. until 1:20 a.m.

"We do not know what caused the blown fuses," added Brown.

After several years of work in the areas of recycling and community education, Cargill Incorporated organized and headed up the Proud Community Program in Aiken and the surrounding areas.

Cargill representatives then submitted the Aiken community to Keep Texas Beautiful Inc. for recognition.

"This is the first time that Aiken has entered and they placed 2nd (according to their population) in the state," said Hoehne.

"We are very proud of their hard work. This is quite an accomplishment. They can enter again and could one day become eligible for a portion of $700,000 which is available for landscape programs."

The Aiken Community was judged on litter control, recycling programs, education and quality of life.

"Winning the Proud Community Program shows that Aiken and its citizens are dedicated to this area," said Hoehne.

A community must do three things to become a Proud participant," said KTB Chairman Bill Vincent. "They must be a member of Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc., attend annual KTB training, and complete an official "Proud Report" annually, which gives us a record of the community's activities and results."

"We want to work together with people all over this area," said Richard Larsen, Cargill Production Manager.

"We hope to educate people in what they can do in the areas of recycling and litter control. Our most recent accomplishment was our joint effort with the

Lockney woman dies from injuries suffered in accident

Longtime Lockney resident, Rebecca Acosta Cavazos, 58, died Monday night from injuries sustained when she was pinned between two vehicles in her driveway.

Lockney Fire and Police Department were called to the Cavazos residence at 6:18 p.m. Monday and transported Mrs. Cavazos to Lockney General Hospital. She died a short time later.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Cavazos was standing in her driveway behind her vehicle and in front of a pickup truck belonging to her daughter.

The truck had been turned on to warm up, and Mrs. Cavazos' two-year-old grandson was inside.

Rosary for Mrs. Cavazos was recited at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, December 2 in San Jose Catholic Church.

BY THE WAY!

BY
GILROY

It seems like every holiday season we have to report on some kind of tragedy in the county.

We had to do it again this year with the story on Rebecca Cavazos. I did not know her personally, but my husband did. It was a hard call for him to have to answer. He said she was a fine woman.

His sentiments were echoed all day Tuesday after the accident. Everywhere I went in the Junior High Tuesday morning, people were expressing their sadness and talking about what a wonderful woman Mrs. Cavazos was.

I believe that much of the legacy you leave behind comes from the friends you've made and the good memories they all share about you. Mrs. Cavazos has left a wonderful legacy. She will be sorely missed.

Other bad news that ended on a better note, was the news about Dr. Mangold.

We were asked to pray for him in church because the word was out that he had had a heart attack.

It was a horrible feeling, but the good news is that he is feeling well.

Dr. Mangold was hooked up to a heart monitor on Saturday after complaining about some chest pain and was then sent to Methodist Hospital for further observation and testing.

I don't think I would be assuming too much if I said that Dr. Mangold is probably the most respected man in Lockney and one of the most respected in the whole county.

He is known as the backbone of Lockney General and of course loved by hundreds of people who have been brought into this world through his loving and caring hands.

What I love most about Dr. Mangold is the smile on his face and his happy whistle.

We hope he gets well very soon!

Don't forget Lockney's Holiday Affair Thursday. Santa will be at the bank from 5:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., and lots of businesses will be open late with specials and refreshments.

I don't know how my mom has managed to make Thanksgiving dinner look so easy every year.

I know I've at least graduated from spending 30 minutes looking for the giblets, but I still can't manage to make giblet gravy.

I do everything my mom tells me. I've got it all written down. Why can't I make my gravy pour?

I was doing OK I thought. I had the gravy in the pan cooking away and I was happy. My first mistake was asking my husband's opinion.

"How does it look to you?", I ask. "I think it needs to be thicker," he says.

The only person I know that knows less about making gravy than me—is my husband.

The second mistake I made was thinking he knew more than me.

I add more cornstarch and water paste (I used cornstarch because I was told you can't mess us with that stuff). Things continued to look OK for about 15 seconds and then in nothing flat it turned to paste.

I wanted to cry. Deputy Greg Pierce (a bachelor) was coming for dinner and I wanted to make a good impression. I wanted him to see what he was missing out by not being married.

I shoveled my gravy into a gravy bowl to serve my husband. Greg got a package of gravy mix. My husband did not want to appear like he made a mistake with the gravy so he just kept scooping it out with a spoon and trying to pat and smush it on his turkey.

"But it's got a good flavor," my husband keeps saying.

Greg was not impressed. He ate the packaged mix and looked at my husband like he was nuts.

It made for a great conversation piece. They decided if I could just remember how I did it we could patent it and sell it for cement. We could fix potholes and put up drywall.

One liners:
My ex-husband and I just weren't compatible—I'm a Capricorn and he's a jerk.

Teacher: I've asked you to come in, Mrs. Smith, to discuss Johnny's appearance.

Mrs. Smith: Why? What's wrong with his appearance?

Teacher: He hasn't made one in this classroom since September.

Other indictments handed down by grand jurors included:

Martha Reyes, 25, of Floydada, for the third degree felony of Tampering with a Governmental Record, which occurred on May 6;

Cheryl Anderson, 27, of Floydada, for the third degree felony of forgery by check, which occurred on October 23;

Julian Najera Soriano, 53, of Floydada, for a felony DWI offense which occurred on October 17, and;

Margie Williams, 44, of Floydada, for the third degree felony of aggravated assault which occurred on November 4.

Grand jurors also returned three sealed indictments.

Courtroom Activities

In county court, November 24, the June 9th DWI charge against Franklin Leon Williams, 51, of Floydada, was reduced to reckless conduct. He was charged $750.00 and court costs.

Williams also pled guilty on November 24 to his September 15 charge of DWI. He was fined $500.00 and sentenced to six months in jail which was probated for two years.

Also on November 24, the probation of Willie Garcia, 32, was revoked. Garcia had been placed on probation after a October 10, 1986 DWI charge. He must

In response to Layne Kirk, Harsh words indeed, "If parents aren't interested." Granted some aren't but most are.

I, personally, simply "forgot" to go to the TEA meeting. My day ended at 8:00 p.m.

Your "parents aren't interested" conclusion is in connection to, or should be, to your "Concern in Floydada about bilingual teaching", although it should not only apply to bilingual.

Point in hand. In some volunteer work I did for another school district I learned this lesson.

A child who was very bright ("A" student) missed alot of school, would come in sleepy, if not late and so on. His teacher asked if I would speak to his mother. When I went I told her that I was there to discuss her son's absence and what it could do to his education. I asked

"do you know how well your son does in school, or what his grade level is?"

She said "no."

I told her "Your son is an "A" student, that means he's very smart. He is at the top of his class."

She stared at me and said, "My son, mine?"

I said "yes, you sign his report card. But you never come to the awards assemblies or recognition parties. They send notes home to you."

She said "Yes, he would give me the notes and I sign his report card. But I don't know how to read. I didn't know!"

I said "when he brings a note home call the school or his teacher, they will be happy to help."

The ending is obvious. The child rarely missed a day thereafter and she was always present for assemblies.

Mr. Kirk, this parent was not a "parent that is not interested" just a parent who didn't know.

How many other parents are out there who just don't know? Quite a few I'm sure.

Regardless of what TEA did or didn't do, the problem is ours and so will be the solution. It is up to us.

Court discusses proposed right of way

By Juanita Stepp
Floyd County Commissioners discussed the status of the right of way for a proposed paving project in northeast Floyd County. The state has been asked to consider funding the extension and paving of a roadway north of the South Plains Community to connect with FM 1065.

According to county judge Bill Hardin, "The possibility of getting the road paved is looking better and better to me." He added that Floyd County would be responsible for securing the required right of way for the road easement.

At this time, the commissioners are in the process of discussing the elements necessary to secure the right-of-way should the paving project be funded by the state. No action was taken and no decisions made regarding the matter at the Tuesday, November 24 session.

A motion by Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden approved payment for diesel fuel for Precincts 1 and 4. The motion was seconded by Precinct 4 Commissioner Howard Bishop. The court approved the expenditure by a unanimous vote.

Six farm work contracts were approved on a motion by Bishop with a second by Precinct 2 Commissioner Floyd Jackson. The vote was unanimously in favor of approval.

Contracts approved were for: Jan

Fleming by Ricky Mosley; Yearly Farms by Jack Yearly; Wes Campbell; H. T. Farms by Jerry Huddleson; Ike Johnson by Tom Johnson; and Jerrald Vinson.

Attending the 10:00 a.m. session were Judge Bill Hardin and Commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, George Taylor and Howard Bishop.

"In years past a chemical auction has been held and has been very successful, but this year we decided to do something different. We have had many many items donated to us by individuals and businesses," he continued.

"At 7:00 p.m. the auctioneers will take over and they have something for everyone to bid on," stated Rasco. Serving as auctioneers for the night will be Sam Fortenberry, Jimmy Kemp, Ronnie Thornton, Billy Joe Turner, Don Mc-

Candle and Larry Ogden.

The items include jackets, button covers, car washes, gift certificates, calculators, an alarm clock, quarter inch drive socket, buffet dinners, videos, one load of gravel, $200 worth of beef, caps, buckles, western wreath, pizzas, 5 lbs. beef filets;

12 quart case of oil, pictures, seed, chemicals, fish dinners, wooden cows, 4 rows of bats and brushes, pet vaccinations, movie rentals, spark plug set, 1/3 page ad, christmas ornaments, work light, booster cables, hand cleaner, Full Meal Deal, cottonseed, floral wall decorations, 50 gallons diesel, robe, picture frame, 1 dozen brushes, key chains, Italian cream cake;

One case transmission oil, 4 games miniature golf, 2 passes to the Cinemax, sheep blanket, 10 bags HS200, 2 bags Mil-Hi 300, 2 bottles syrup, pencils, pens, shirts, 5 bags sorghum seed, 2 cases Roundup, 1 bag HS200, 1 bag 147 seed.

These are the items that have been donated to date and other items will be added before the auction.

The money raised from the auction will be used to support 4-H youth projects. The aim of 4-H is to get more families involved in the program.

4-H'ers receive awards at food show

From Melissa Long, CEA-HE
Floyd County was well represented at the District 24-H Food Show held Saturday, Nov. 21, at Levelland with 11 participants receiving blue ribbon awards and seven of those placing 1st, 2nd, or 3rd in the overall standings.

"Our success was phenomenal," states Melissa Long, CEA-HE with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Our 4-H'ers were very well prepared as a result of the great adult volunteer leader help we had throughout our project."

To arrive at the number of 12 qualifying 4-H'ers, volunteers gave leadership to some 52 4-H'ers who attended project meetings, toured grocery stores, area restaurants, participated in various community service projects, learned and put in to practical use cooking skills and nutritional health practices.

Social Security News

By Mary Jane Shanes

If you're thinking about retiring and signing up for Social Security anytime soon, some of the best advice I can give you is contained in the old Boy Scout motto: "Be Prepared." I realize that the prospect of retiring and then dealing with a big government agency like Social Security can be overwhelming, but you should know that those of us who work at the Plainview Social Security office understand your apprehension and are here to help.

If there is comfort in numbers, you might like to know that about 4.5 million people sign up for Social Security benefits every year. And for almost everyone, the process is relatively simple and straightforward. Here are some tips that will help make sure the same is true for you.

1) Learn as much as you can about Social Security ahead of time. Call or visit our office and ask for free copies of one or both of these publications: "Understanding Social Security," (Publication No. 15-10024), which provides a general overview of all Social Security programs; or "Retirement," (Publication No. 05-10035), which tells you everything you need to know about Social Security retirement benefits.

2) Find out how much you'll get from Social Security ahead of time so you can make better plans for the future. To do this, just call or visit our office and ask for a "Request For Earnings And Benefit Estimate Statement (Form 7004).

About three weeks after you send in the form (it asks a few simple "Identifying" questions), you will receive a statement that lists your earnings as shown in our files and that provides an estimate of your retirement benefits. (Disability and survivors estimates are also provided.) Check the earnings statement and if you note any discrepancies with your won records, let us know and we'll help you correct our files.

3) Gather the documents you'll need to file for benefits. You'll need to have a certified copy of your birth certificate and W-2 forms for last year (or your tax return if you're self-employed). If you were in the military, bring your discharge papers. If your wife and children also are filing for benefits, bring their birth certificates and Social Security numbers. If you want direct deposit, bring your checking or savings account information.

If you follow this advice, in other words, if you will "be prepared," signing up for Social Security should be a simple and easy process.

You can get the booklets and the benefit estimate request form mentioned above by calling our office at Plainview or by calling Social Security's toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213, business days between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

FLOYDADA — Hi! once again, guess you are still full from all the turkey, dressing and trimmings that you ate.

Some of our residents went out to visit and be with their loved ones and some had visitors. Now we will prepare and look forward to the Christmas Holiday.

Last Monday, Bro. Williams couldn't be with us, so we shared a Psalm 107-1-9 for Thanksgiving. The residents expressed what they were thankful for, the good things and the not so good things too. Irene Wexler played the piano for us. At 2 p.m. the residents painted ceramics. At 2:30 Ruth McIntosh shared the word as last week was National Bible Week. At 6:30 Roberta Hardin came and played the piano.

Tuesday, the residents enjoyed pecan and pumpkin pie. The ladies serving were Ruth McIntosh, Shirley Varner, Dorothy Neff, Leona Neff and Ola Smith.

Wednesday, Ruth Smitherman had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis and Ruth Hammonds assisted the residents in Bingo. In the a.m. Fr. Richardo had the devotional. We sang some songs.

Thursday, was Thanksgiving, a delicious dinner was served here. The residents watched the parade on our large TV screen.

Our love and sympathy to out to the family of Charles Millican.

We will have our tree decorating party Thursday, December 3 at 9:30 to 11:30. Refreshments will be served.

Also on Monday, December 7, at 11:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m., friends and family are invited to come and have Christmas coffee with the administrator. Please join us in the welcoming of the Christmas Holiday Season.

Harmony Club hears program on creative gifts

By Doris Snodgrass

The Harmony Extension Club met at 2 p.m., November 16, with the Homebuilders Club in the Floyd County Council Room with Blanche Williams as hostess and the Extension Agent Melissa Long, gave a very interesting program on creative Christmas gifts. It was an informative program on what can be made in the kitchen and the decoration of the packages that could be given to friends and relatives for Christmas.

Roll call was answered by a gift that I have made for Christmas.

The hostess, Blanche Williams and Melissa Long served refreshments to the following: Arvie Schulz, Vivian Curtis, Juanita Poole, Ruth Scott, Karen Miller, Gladys Widner, JoNell Fawver, Anna Maude Hopper, Maye Williams, and Doris Snodgrass.

After the meeting the Harmony Extension Club took gifts they had made to the residents of the nursing home and visited most all of the residents.

It was an enjoyable afternoon enjoyed by all.

Youths receive top 4-H awards

CASSIDY MALLET and MISTY BERTRAND
Floyd County 4-H Gold Star Recipients

Thirty-five outstanding members of 4-H Clubs across the South Plains were honored in Lubbock Monday, Nov. 23, at the 35th annual district Gold Star Banquet.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level by the youth organization, the youths heard Dr. Lynn Thibodeaux, assistant director for 4-H and youth with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, trace past successes and future challenges of the program.

Four-H is the youth development program of the Extension Service, an educational arm of the Texas A&M University System.

Joining the youths at the event at the Koko Palace were parents, government officials, Extension Service faculty, fellow 4-H'ers, educators and other community leaders. The event has been sponsored each year by 11 area electric cooperatives: Bailey County, Caprock, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb County, Lea County, Lighthouse, Lyntegar, Midwest, South Plains and Swisher.

In those 35 annual banquets, 1,378 winners have been honored with the Gold Star Award in the presence of more than 12,500 guests.

This year's audience was welcomed by J.C. Roberts, general manager of South Plains Electric Cooperative. Adina Martin of Crosby County, South Plains District 4-H Council member, responded. Brooks Brunson of Lamb County, district council president, was master of ceremonies. Allen Martin, Floyd County 4-H'er, gave the invocation.

The awards were presented by Dr. Kathy Volanty and Dr. Bob Robinson, Extension Service district directors. Recipients were introduced by 4-H'ers Terri Wilcox of Hockley County, council first vice president, and David Carver of Hale County, council second vice president.

Other 4-H'ers on the program were Ashleigh Wyatt, Briscoe County; Cade Shepard, Hale; Jim Ed Field, Cochran, council secretary-treasurer; Casey Klesel, Crosby; Jason Belew, Lynn, council information chairman; Jerod Glasson, Floyd; Jeremiah Brooks, Briscoe, and Melissa Sherrod, Hale.

"We live in an interdependent world," Thibodeaux told the group. Young people learn from their opportunities to interact with adults, and adults learn from their interaction with youths, she said.

"Today, the average father in the home interacts about seven minutes a day with his children," Thibodeaux said. "In carrying out a 4-H project, a youth interacts with their parents an average of 57 minutes a day."

She pointed out that it took parents and adult volunteers to enable the Gold Star winners to reach the honor they were receiving at the banquet.

Thibodeaux said a statewide panel of 4-H'ers, leaders, supporters, 4-H faculty and others recently had studied the history and pondered the future of 4-H. She said the group had developed a mission statement, a list of values and a goal for 4-H of the future.

She said the mission statement identified 4-H as an organization which develops youth and adults, utilizing research-based information in creative, diverse educational programs. Tops on the list of values, she said, is that "people are the most important product of 4-H." Among other key values identified by the panel are that 4-H provides a nurturing, positive environment in which people can learn how to fail as well as succeed, and that programs are designed to meet local needs.

The goal of 4-H, the panel decided, is empowering individuals, families and communities to release their potential.

The Best That We Can Be In '93

By Criselda Valdez

One of the FHS seniors in the spotlight this week is Gayla Copley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Copley of Ralls. Gayla also has a sister named Jill. Before she came to FHS two years ago, she attended Ralls High School.

Gayla is on the yearbook staff this year. Her favorite subject is pre-calculus and her favorite teacher is Mr. Lockwood. She plans to attend SWT in San Marcos and major in chemical engineering, pharmacy or interior design.

The one thing Gayla has to offer people is her friendship, trust and honesty. Believe me she has all these fine qualities; I only wish to get to know her better. The best thing about Gayla is that she's not afraid to be different. But one thing she is afraid of is growing old; but growing old doesn't always mean the fun stops.

Gayla is a senior with lots of talent and intelligence. Success is in her future and she will be the best that she can be in '93 and always.

Another student in the spotlight is Suzanne Doerschuk, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doerschuk. She also has two brothers and one sister. She has attended F.H.S. for four years.

This year Suzanne is president of F.H.A. Other activities include Youth Exchanging with Seniors (Y.E.S.), Band, Spirit Committee, Spirit Club and Senior Class T-shirt committee. She is active in a youth group at her church. She is a very active senior.

Suzanne plans to attend Abilene Christian University, and receive a degree in communication, Public Relations or Social Work. She has lots of goals and plans to accomplish them all.

Her favorite TV show is "The Heights", her favorite movie is "Beaches" and the "Cutting Edge." Suzanne's hobbies are spending time with her friends and reading. Her favorite trip was when she went to Hawaii.

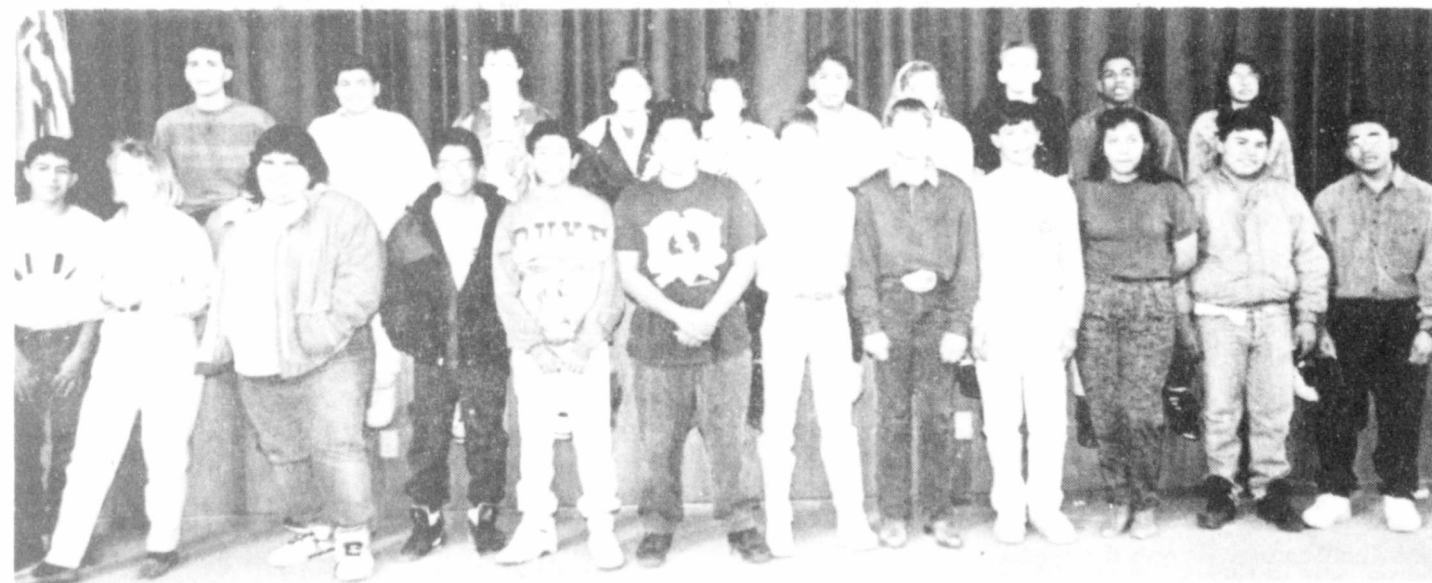

Suzanne is very friendly and is very considerate of others. She tries very hard to work with her teachers so that she can get the best education. Many teachers appreciate hard-working students like Suzanne.

PUBLIC NOTICE

GTE Southwest Incorporated (GTSW) and Contel of Texas Inc. (Contel) have filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to seek approval to provide two new private line services and to change rates for existing services. GTE's intraexchange DS1 Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through concurrence with GTE's interLATA access tariff rates which are lower. Contel's intraexchange DS1/DDS Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through Contel's current private line tariff rates. Existing customers with DS1/DDS Services will not be affected by these rate changes. DS1 1.544 Megabits per second (Mbps) Service and Digital Data Service (DDS) will normally be used for the transmission of data communications or large volumes of voice communications between two locations. These services are optional and will not affect the existing rates of customers who do not order these services. The estimated annual effect on GTE-SW's revenues in the first year is $1,080,567. The estimated annual effect on Contel's revenues in the first year is $42,383.

DS1 Service

DS1 Service is an intraLATA Private Line Service which provides a dedicated, high capacity channel which may be used for simultaneous two-way transmission of voice data or other digitally encoded customer information signals. DS1 Service provides a transmission speed of 1.544 Mbps and is designed to provide an average performance of at least 95 percent error-free seconds of transmission over a continuous 24-hour period.

DS1 Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DS1 Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two Customer Designated Locations (CDL), between a Serving Wire Center (SWC) and a CDL, between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider or between two SWCs.

IntraLATA DS1 Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DS1 Local Loop, DS1 Transport and DS1 Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DS1 Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer has two payment options for the purchase of DS1 Local Loops. There is a month-to-month plan or term contract Optional Payment Plan (OPP).

The month-to-month payment basis allows the customer to establish and disconnect DS1 Services, without penalty, other than to meet the minimum service interval of one month's service, as needed. Under the month-to-month service, the additional DS1 Local Loop rate applies only when the additional DS1 Local Loop (s) is (are) ordered at the same time and between the same two CDLs as the first DS1 Local Loop.

The OPP plan allows the customer to select a term of service (1 YR, 3 YR and 5 YR) with lower monthly rates associated with longer term contracts. If the customer selects an OPP, additional DS1 Local Loops may be ordered and installed at the Additional DS1 Local Loop rate between any SWC and CDL covered by the OPP, at any time during the term of that OPP.

DS1 Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DS1 signal between Serving Wire Centers. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DS1 Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DS1 Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DS1 Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the DS1 Transport.

Proposed Rates and Charges for DS1 Service are as follows:

	Nonrecurring Charge	Monthly Rates
DS1 Local Loop
Month-to-Month
First System	$ 1,000.00	$ 298.00
12-month term
First System	-0-	$ 283.00

DS1 Transport
Per airline mile	-0-	$ 16.00

Digital Data Service

Digital Data Service (DDS) is an intraLATA Private Line service which supports synchronous, full-duplex transmission between the CDL and the SWC or the point of connection with another telephone company at transmission speeds of 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, 19.2 and 56 kilobits per second (Kbps). DDS provides a transmission path for digital data signals within the same LATA.

DDS Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DDS Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two CDLs or between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider.

IntraLATA DDS Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DDS Local Loop, DDS Transport and DDS Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DDS Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer may establish and disconnect DDS Local Loops without penalty other than the minimum service interval of one month's service, as his/her needs demand.

DDS Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DDS signal between SWCs. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DDS Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DDS Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DDS Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the service.

Proposed rates and charges for DDS are as follows:

Junior board members of Lockney bank meet to learn banking business

The Junior Board members met at the First National Bank in Lockney on Monday, November 23. Board members present were Shawn Hill, Tara Vickers, Kori Kellison, Ryan Ford and Michael Henderson. Others present were Gerald Wiles, Jinna Turner and Ronnie Hardin.

The purpose of the meeting was to make the Junior Board members familiar with the purpose of a board meeting and the information made available at a meeting. Hardin explained the responsibilities of a full director. A board packet with reports having fictitious names and financials was then given to each member. Hardin, Wiles and Turner used the reports for a Junior Board of Directors meeting. This was done in order to make the Junior Board members familiar with the information that is furnished to a full director at a board meeting.

The members of the Junior Board scheduled the next monthly meeting for January 25, at the Floydada Branch Bank. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Conference to launch new crop year

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology
(PM)

Crosby-Floyd Counties

The Crosby-Floyd Integrated Pest Management Program is one of 22 programs throughout Texas, each located in an area of intensive agricultural production. This program is a cooperative effort between Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Pest Management Association, and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Integrated Pest Management assists producers in maximizing economic returns, while minimizing adverse impacts upon the environment.

The 1992 Crosby-Floyd Intensive Scouting Program involved 1323 enrolled acres and 15 participants. This was approximately 20% of anticipated size. Several thousand acres were lost to severe weather. Four field scouts and one demonstration aide were originally hired, but acreage losses forced downsizing of staff to the two most experienced field scouts.

A soil sampling project for Pest Management program fields was conducted for the second year. The soil sampling program involved four participants and 19 enrolled fields. Test results indicated 100% of fields with very low nitrogen, 15% with low phosphorus, and 59% with low zinc levels.

A two-day workshop, the Crosby-Floyd In-Depth Cotton Production Seminar, was co-sponsored by the Crosby County Crops Committee, the Crosby-Floyd Pest Management Committee, and the Floyd County Ag Committee (209 attending). Topics included presentations on management of insects, weeds and diseases.

Certain noxious weeds present an annual economic problem for county producers. Research-type weed control demonstrations for mintweed and Venice mallow were conducted in Crosby-Floyd Counties. A tour of these two demonstrations were held in July (23 attending). Also, a multi-county seminar, 'Options in Weed Control', was held at Floydada in March (24 Crosby-Floyd producers attending; 2 CEU's).

Due to pecan pest problems experienced in 1991, a turnrow meeting was held for commercial pecan producers at Lorenzo in June (five commercial growers attending). Specialists from Lubbock and Dallas addressed the group concerning specific pest problems. These growers were also updated on computer-predicted emergence dates for the pecan nut casebearer.

'92 Pest Management report

The latest information to help area cotton farmers plan their 1993 crop will be presented in Crosbyton Jan. 25-26 during the Caprock Cotton Conference. The two-day program, featuring national leaders in the cotton industry, will be at the Crosby County Pioneer Memorial Museum and Civic Center, 101 West Main St.

The conference is especially designed for growers of the Rolling Plains, South Plains and West Texas, said Rick Smathers, Crosby County extension agent. It is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Crosby County Extension Crops Committee; the extension agriculture committees of Floyd, Dickens, Briscoe, Garza and Motley counties; and the Crosby-Floyd Pest Management Committee.

The program has been approved for eight continuing education units for licensed private chemical applicators who attend.

The first day's technical sessions will open with information on growing cotton with limited water. It will be presented by Dr. Dan Krieg, professor of agronomy at Texas Tech University, Lubbock. Dr. Harlan Thorvilson, professor of entomology at Tech, will discuss insect management.

Smathers and Mark Brown, extension entomology agent for Crosby and Floyd counties, will cover weed control. Roger Haldenby, Plains Cotton Growers coordinator of the boll-weevil diapause program, Lubbock, will report on that long-successful effort. The proposed boll weevil eradication program for Texas will be discussed by Dr. Ray Frisbie of College Station, coordinator of integrated pest management with the Extension Service.

The second day will open with an update on work of the Extension Service by Dr. Chester Fehlis, associate director of that agency. Characteristics of the cotton plant's physiology which can benefit the farmer will be detailed by Dr. Kater Hake, National Cotton Council, Memphis. In February, Hake will join the Extension Service as cotton agronomist at Lubbock.

Management and economics of conservation tillage will be discussed by Dr. Wayne Keeling, assistant professor of systems agronomy with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock.

Growing cotton to meet textile demands will be covered by Dr. John Gannaway, Experiment Station cotton breeder and professor, Lubbock. Mark Lange, director of economic services with the National Cotton Council, Memphis, will explain the outlook and local effects of world cotton supplies and trade agreements.

Cotton of the future will be discussed by Dr. Norma Trolinder, plant physiologist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service, Lubbock.

Each day's program will begin at 9 a.m. The registration fee is $20 for both days, or $10 for one day, until Jan. 15. After Jan. 15, the fee is $40 for both days or $20 for one day. The fee includes lunch, refreshments and admission to the technical sessions and exhibits. Advance registration may be made at county extension offices in Briscoe, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza or Motley counties. Checks should be made payable to Caprock Cotton Conference.

Mexican cotton boll weevil still looking for a home

For a century the Mexican cotton boll weevil has been "looking for a home" in American cotton, but it has never gained a foothold on the High Plains of Texas thanks to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

PCG has operated the High Plains Boll Weevil Diapause Control Program for the past 29 years in order to protect the 3+ million acres of cotton in its 25 county area.

PCG initiated the bast containment program in 1964 in cooperation with USDA and TDA. The plan was to take a stand against the boll weevil along the edge of the Caprock, the steep escarpment where the High Plains begin. The program has continued to successfully prevent this highly damaging insect from becoming established in cotton above the Caprock.

The suppression area measures around 150 miles north to south and about 50 miles east to west. It encompasses around 8,500 square miles with close to a half-million acres within its boundaries.

Cotton producers in the control zone are encouraged to use all cultural measures possible to minimize field infestations. Uniform planting dates, early stalk destruction and short-season cottons help in the fight. The PCG program maps cotton fields in the control zone and carefully monitors boll weevil activity during the growing season using pheromone traps and field scouts.

During the six weeks or so before first freeze, the boll weevil starts to build fat deposits to enable its survival through winter hibernation. This stage of the insect's life cycle is called diapause.

A proven control strategy during this diapause period is to treat infested fields with light applications of the insect control agent malathion.

The control phase of the 1992 program started in mid-September, and ended following this week's freeze. Field treatments were made to some 400,000 cotton acres.

The carefully run suppression program this year combined proven and safe control strategies with ultra modern computer and satellite technologies to achieve its objectives.

A satellite based, parallel-swath navigation system that automatically tracks and records each aircraft's flight path has made the army of ground flaggers, required on previous programs, a thing of the past. The system was provided to the PCG program by its developers, SATLOC Inc. of Casa Grande, Arizona.

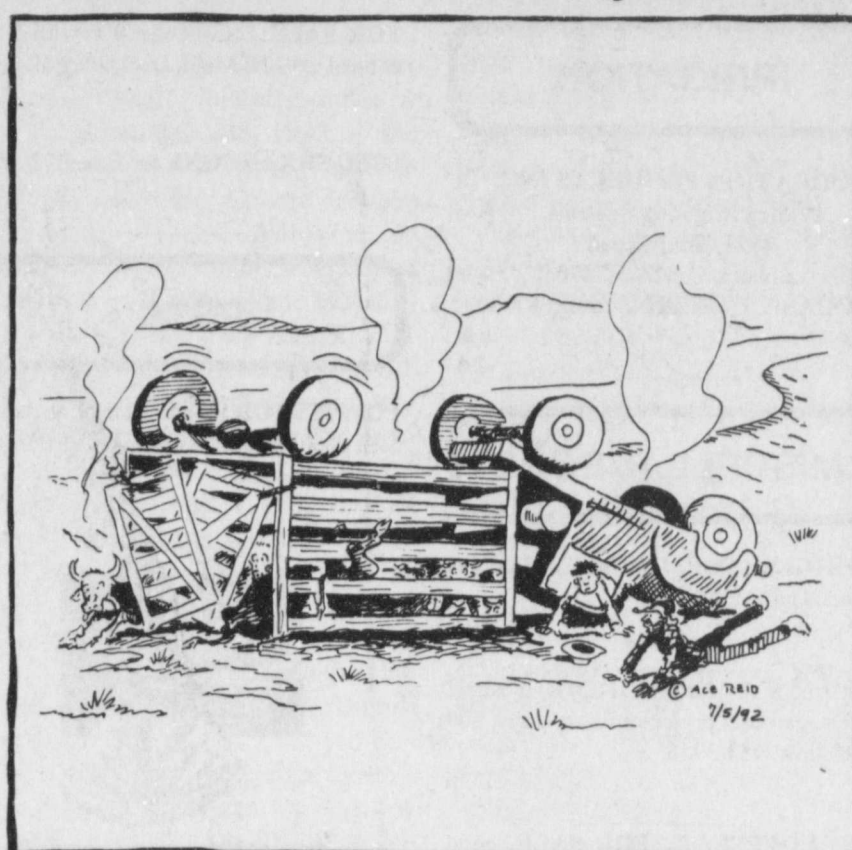

The guidance computers were installed in five modern turbine-powered aerial application aircraft operated by McAdoo Flying Service, the application contractors for this season's operation.

Eighty local people were employed during the year. They worked on the various phases of the program which include trapping, mapping, field survey, environmental monitoring and control operations.

PCG extends its thanks for a successful program to its employees, SATLOC Inc., McAdoo Flying Service, USDA, TDA, Boll Weevil Steering Committee and the cotton producers throughout PCG's 25 county area.

"What were you sayin' about us Traders needin' to turn cattle over faster in order to make more money."

Texas FmHA Farmer Programs Division operating year is successful

Neal Sox Johnson, State Director of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Texas Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), said, "I am pleased to announce another successful year for the Farmer Programs Division of the Texas FmHA."

Texas FmHA made 1,877 direct operating loans totaling more than $1.7 million dollars to farmers and ranchers in Texas to finance operating and living expenses. In addition, the agency also guaranteed 1,021 farmer program operating loans made by private lenders totaling over 125 million dollars.

In excess of 4.2 million dollars in direct farm ownership and more than 13.3 million dollars in guaranteed loans were granted. Funds from these loans were used to purchase and improve farm and ranch land in Texas.

As result of Texas FmHA programs in fiscal year 1992, 3,015 farm and ranch families continued to work in the ranching business or to become owner/operators of family farms.

President Bush's budget for fiscal year 1993, as recently approved by Congress, has authorized 3.3 billion dollars nationally to continue to meet the needs of our nation's farmers and ranchers. "Texas FmHA looks forward to an allocation of approximately 250 million dollars to assist eligible Texas farmers and ranchers in fiscal year 1993," Johnson said.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing borrowers who have a reasonable chance for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The Agency is committed to excellence in providing its service.

Providing woody cover for wildlife

By Mark Lewis

Enhancing woody cover for wildlife is a critical part of developing a home for our native animal species that prefer to stay in this area during the winter instead of flying south as migratory birds do. Woody cover is the same to birds as homes are to us.

There should be at least one, but preferably two good wintering sites per section (one square mile of 640 acres). Many wildlife species, like pheasants, live out their lives in an area less than two-square miles and may intermittently shift wintering areas to take advantage of food and avoid predators. The less distance a pheasant has to travel to find wintering areas, the better its chances are for survival.

It is critical to protect existing winter cover, such as wetlands and improve them by establishing new woody plantings near the edges, also, old homesteads where the brush is thick make excellent winter cover.

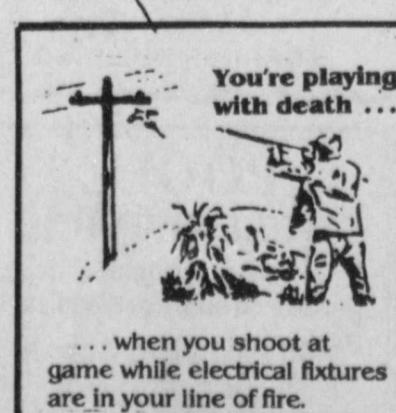

Quality wintering areas should be at least one acre in size to provide the best habitat. To be effective, good winter cover must stop the wind, snow, and rain before it reaches the center portion of the woody cover.

Choice woody cover plantings can provide wildlife habitat almost anywhere. However optimum benefits result only when other needed habitat components are available. Winter food should be within 100 to 200 yards to minimize exposure to predators and the elements. Nesting cover such CRP grass, undisturbed roadsides, and thick grassy areas should be within one mile of the wintering area.
