Record Vote Is Cast On Tuesday In City Election

TWO NEW COMMISSIONERS, W. G. McMILLAN AND J. A. FORTENBERRY, ARE ELECTED WITH MAYOR ROSS EDWARDS' RETURN TO POST

Two new commissioners, W. G. (Bill) McMillan and J. A. Fortenberry, and Mayor Ross Edwards, will be instated in office tomorrow, two days after they rode into their respective positions on the crest of a record-smashing city poll.

A total of 3,984 persons cast ballots Tuesday to give the three men, representing a "conservative" ticket, a heavy majority over opponents. Edwards and McMillan won by 2 to 1 votes while Fortenberry's victory was practically that large.

An estimated 500 persons jammed the police courtroom and fire station boxes, both in City hall, between 6 and 7 p. m. yesterday to boost the total vote well above the 3,293 persons who had voted in the city election of 1934. Election officials stated that the victorious candidates took an early lead, and held it throughout the polling.

Ross Edwards, running for a second two-year term as mayor and who says he is "just a country boy and proud of it," led the ticket on which W. G. 'Bill' McMillan and J. A. Fortenberry were swept into commissionerships. Derided by opponents as "the fiddlin' mayor who goes a-fishin' between square dances", Edwards took his opponent, City Finance Commissioner B. E. Needles, to a sound cleaning. He polled the surprising total of 2,775 votes to 1,195 given Needles.

J. A. Fortenberry, candidate for commission place 4, was next high man on the ballot, defeating two opponents handily. He received 2,589 votes to 1,205 cast for M. C. Butler, candidate on the ticket with

Tiny Hostess Is Heroine Of Plane Crash; 11 Killed

GROUP OF INVESTIGATORS TRUDGE UP PEAK IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA TO CHECK WRECKAGE

BY MARBEN GRAHAM

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 8 (AP)—The words of a tiny heroine and the twisted dials of a shattered instrument board told the tale today of the airliner Sun Racer's end—11 dead and three hurt.

At dawn a group of investigators trudged up the highest mountain in western Pennsylvania to check over the wreckage of the big TWA transport which plowed through a fog into a rock-strewn woods yesterday.

Survivors Tell Experiences

Then they turned to listen to the experiences of the three survivors. The group included four department of commerce inspectors.

Eleven burned and broken bodies were taken to a morgue for relatives to claim them. The ship caught fire after the wreck.

Petite Nellie Granger, hostess on the California-bound Sun Racer, was the heroine of the disaster. Although injured herself, she stumbled miles through the underbrush to a forest warden's home.

Telephoned News

There she telephoned the news and insisted on going back to remain with the two injured until help came. Hours later she told the story of how the unsuspecting passengers hurtled to their deaths.

Borah Gains Control Of All But Two Of The 24 Delegates In Wisconsin

BORAH ORGANIZATION PUSHES ON IN ITS DRIVE FOR MAN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Expressing delight over reports from the Wisconsin primary, the campaign organization backing Senator Borah of Idaho for the Republican presidential nomination pushed on with its drive today.

Incomplete returns showed Borah-pledged candidates for delegates to the national convention running ahead of the uninstructed slate.

"If Permitted To Do So"

On the basis of these returns, Royal C. Johnson, member of the Borah-For-President national headquarters, declared that "Republicans will vote for Mr. Borah if they are permitted to do so."

Carl G. Bachmann, chairman of the headquarters, was hastening back to the capital to map the final strategy for the Illinois primary Tuesday, when a test of strength comes between Borah and Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago. The Illinois preferential vote is advisory and not binding on the delegates.

Among other developments on the political scene was the California Republican assembly's effort to persuade Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas not to permit the use of his name in the state's presiden-

ROOSEVELT IS 2 TO 1 CHOICE IN VOTING THROUGHOUT STATE

(By The Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, April 8.—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, in the first midwestern test of his presidential strength, had gained control today of all but two of the 24 Wisconsin delegates to the Republican national convention on the basis of incomplete returns.

While several tests were so close that the Borah margin might be reduced in the final count, his candidates generally prevailed over the state party organization's uninstructed slate.

Roosevelt 2-1 Choice

From the standpoint of presidential preference, however, Wisconsin voters in yesterday's elections showed that President Roosevelt was a two to one choice over Borah on the basis of available returns.

The presidential primary was purely advisory, having no effect on the delegate contests.

Demos Make Sweep

The Democratic state organization, faced with opposition from only a few unendorsed candidates, made a clean sweep of the delegate contest for Roosevelt and apparent-

Los Angeles Club Severs Connection

LOS ANGELES, April 8. (AP)—The largest club in the Townsend old age pension movement, Los Angeles No. 93, has severed its connections with the national organization.

The club, claiming more than 22,000 members, affirmed its support of its president, George Highley, whose resignation or removal was demanded by directors of the movement meeting in Baltimore.

Highley was accused of "disloyal conduct." He summoned the club into session last night to hear the charges, and 1,800 members responded. The club unanimously voted to disband, then reorganized immediately without affiliation with the national organization.

HEADS TOWARD PORT

MIAMI, Fla., April 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt headed toward port today from his fishing cruise with immediate attention centered on relief work in the tornado area in the southeastern states.

With busy days ahead as congress draws to a close and the national campaign opens, Mr. Roosevelt arranged to return to the White House on Friday.

WARNING ISSUED ON RENDITIONS

Property owners in Lubbock county who own and can declare homesteads at a valuation of not more than $3,000 entitling them to pay no state taxes, were warned today to render such property with county tax officials.

Unless a rendition sheet is signed on or before April 30, the property will be placed on regular unrendered rolls and the homestender cannot be exempted from state taxes, said Hurley Carpenter, tax assessor-collector.

Carpenter said that several thousand persons had either been contacted by members of the tax office staff or had rendered their property at the office in the courthouse, but that many had not been contacted for various reasons.

"Those whose homesteads can be valued at not more than $3,000 should be certain they have signed a rendition sheet before May 1," Carpenter declared.

SECURITY FOR COLONIES IS SAID VITAL

"TOTAL ANNIHILATION" CANNOT BE DELAYED, PREMIER SAYS

BY CHARLES H. GUPTILL
Associated Press Foreign Staff

ROME, April 8—Premier Mussolini proclaimed to his ministers today that security for Italy in its East African colonies would be realized only with "total annihilation of the Ethiopian military formation."

Il Duce met his council of ministers in a sudden, extraordinary session which had not been announced in advance. It was held just as the League of Nations conciliation committee of 13 was meeting in Geneva.

"Cannot Be Delayed"

Destruction of Emperor Haile Selassie's army, Mussolini told his ministers, "cannot be lacking or delayed."

He paid high tribute to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief

PLAN GRAND ENTRY

GUBA, Eritrean aviation headquarters of the northern Italian Army, April 8 (AP)—The sky patrol of Italian airmen is already forming plans for a triumphant Fascist entry into Addis Ababa.

The air forces are arranging to have 300 machines fly over the Ethiopian capital on that occasion, amid free predictions that Duce's wife will celebrate a week and Easter perhaps at the same time.

The fliers are watching now for an anticipated attempt by Emperor Haile Selassie to escape by air from Addis Ababa.

CANYON FARMS WIN AWARDS

GRAND CHAMPION BULL IS WON BY TIERRA BLANCA FARMS

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, April 8.—The Tierra Blanca farms of Canyon ruled today as champions in the Jersey bull division of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show. The farms' "Sybil's Dreaming Son" was declared grand champion after winning the junior title and "His Majesty Sybil of Randal" won the senior bull championship.

The bulls won over one of the largest fields of entrants in the show's history.

Judging Shorthorns

Judging was started in the Milking Shorthorn division with a record entry list. Final judging in the female Jersey cattle department was scheduled for this afternoon.

In the aged bull class of the Shorthorn Milking division, C. E. Donnell of Canyon won first with his red bull "Waterloo King, the Second." Templar brothers of Muleshoe took second place and E. M. Ewen and son of Estelline, third place.

Muleshoe Bull Wins

The class for bulls one year old and under two, was won by W. H. Wilterding of Muleshoe with "Northwood Dan, The Fifth." Don-

Shoemaker Friend Of Coolidge Dies

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., April 8 (AP)—James Lucey, 81, shoemaker and philosopher-friend of Calvin Coolidge, died today.

Once a White House guest, Lucey came into national attention when President Coolidge wrote him from the capital:

"If it were not for you I would not be here."

Lucey always maintained he didn't know why Coolidge so praised him unless it was because of their philosophic discussions which dated back to the former president's days at Amherst.

Admiral Byrd's Dogs Have Taste For Chicken

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—Admiral Richard Byrd's two Antarctic sledge dogs like chicken.

They proved it last night when they escaped from the home here of Harold Byrd, cousin of the explorer, and killed 35 of the fowls.

The escapade cost Cousin Harold $45, $1 each for the chickens and a $10 reward to the man who found the dogs.

The dogs were Blackie and Admiral, born in Little America.

FRANCE'S PLAN IS REVEALED

HITLER PROPOSALS IN CRISIS ARE TURNED DOWN BY NATION

BY JOHN EVANS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, April 8. (AP)—Peace, with permanent air, land and sea forces to maintain it, was provided in a French plan, published today, to organize Europe with or without Germany, in the aftermath of the reich's breaking of World war treaties.

The French plan turned down Adolf Hitler's proposals for settlement of the European crisis, expressing distrust of Germany's future intentions and demanding flatly if Der Fuehrer would refrain from violating European frontiers in the future.

Question Is Asked

"Does Germany recognize as valuable, and without any reservation, the present territorial and political status of Europe?" the French memorandum asked in reply to Hitler's proposals.

"Does she admit in this respect that this status may be guaranteed by accords concluded on the basis of mutual assistance?"

The French government made public its memorandum to advance its counter-proposals, against those dispatched to the British govern-

WENDEL RELEASE IS PROBLEMATIC

TRENTON, N. J., April 8. (AP)—Officials indicated today there were no immediate prospects that Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney, held on a charge of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., would be released.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall said the grand jury's failure yesterday to consider the Wendel case left the murder charge still on the books and prevented Wendel's removal—except by court order—to Brooklyn to assist in locating the house where he said he was held a prisoner and forced to make a false confession to the crime.

The prosecutor said he could not tell "what might happen to Wendel, and one of the jurors, on leaving the session, remarked: "we're all up in the air." The jury will reconvene next Tuesday.

FRESH MENACE TO LIFE AND PROPERTY

TOTAL DEAD IS SET AT 426; REHABILITATION WORK IS PUSHED

(By The Associated Press)

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Apr. 8—Almost 400 storm dead of Gainesville and of Tupelo, Miss., went to hastily dug graves today, in some instances in group burials for sanitation reasons.

Across a half dozen southern states, rising streams sent floods over hundreds of thousands of acres of land and brought a fresh menace to life and property.

Total At 426

The total dead from storm and flood this week stood at 426, with the latest count at Tupelo 196 and at Gainesville 185.

Through the two towns stricken in a grimly similar manner, swarms of relief workers moved purposefully helping revive a measure of community activity.

Fund Allocated

Residents rendered destitute in tornadoes lasting only a few minutes but causing damage it will take years to erase, were cheered by word that President Roosevelt had allocated $2,500,000 for rehabilitation through the WPA.

The torrents of rain that accompanied and followed the twisting winds inundated hundreds of thousands of acres in a half dozen southern states, but brought no immediate menace to Tupelo and Gainesville.

Expect Crest Above Level

Chattanooga, Tenn., expected a crest of 36 to 37 feet on the Tennessee river, 6 to 7 feet above flood level, during the day.

The Mississippi threatened in isolated places, and in Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas several streams approached the danger level.

Gainesville, on the Chattahoochee, is far above the West Point, Ga., sector where that stream rose slowly.

Tupelo's small neighboring streams were high, but did not constitute a menace to life or much property.

Here the Red Cross was caring for about 4,000 homeless. The few stores left standing reopened for business as truckloads of foodstuffs and other supplies began moving in. A similar situation existed in Tupelo.

City and relief officials ordered

COURT REVERSES THIRD CONVICTION

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed the third conviction of Charles S. Richardson, former mayor of Olney, of murder in the shooting of his son, Elga.

Richardson was sentenced to ten years at the third trial, held in Wilbarger county on a change of venue. The boy was shot at the father's home in a scuffle. Richardson contended it was accidental.

"MAIL-ORDER CHURCH" IS CHARGED IN ORDINATIONS RACKET; JOE PENNER'S DUCK, "GOOGOO," ORDAINED MINISTER

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—An investigator for the Los Angeles Ministerial association charged today that at least 918 persons, and Joe Penner's duck, have been ordained by a local "mail-order church."

Dr. U. L. Di Ghilini, the investigator, said $10 was charged for ordination as a minister, $5 more for a doctor of divinity degree—with no theological study necessary—and $15 additional for a third rank of bishop.

Results of the inquiry probably will be given to the district attorney's office, the Rev. Dr. Isaac Ward, association leader, announced. He is pastor of the Hollenbeck Presbyterian Presbyterian church.

In assisting the investigation, Penner, radio and screen comedian, permitted the name of his pet fowl, Googoo, to be used on an application to a Los Angeles organization last Jan. 18, Dr. Di Ghilini reported.

A statement was prepared by Dr. Di Ghilini, as sponsor, that

Freddie Bartholomew Is Cast In Own Life Drama With Custody In Dispute

AUNT'S GUARDIANSHIP IS CONTESTED BY HIS PARENTS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Twelve-year-old Freddie Bartholomew, the movie actor, was cast in an episode in his own life drama today—a renewal of his parents' fight to regain the custody of their son.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Llewellyn Bartholomew were due to arrive from England on the Europa, their attorney said, prepared to contest the guardianship of Freddie which was granted last Oct. 22 by a Los Angeles court to his aunt, Miss Millicent Bartholomew.

Freddie, a star of "David Copperfield" and several other movies, has lived with his aunt almost continuously since he was three.

Philip A. Levey, New York lawyer, announcing he had been retained by Freddie's parents, said they planned to seek an "amicable settlement" with Miss Bartholomew, but if this failed they would go to the courts to try to void her guardianship.

PUBLIC SAFETY DEPARTMENT DISRUPTED

APPOINTMENT OF L. G. PHARES AS HEAD OF UNIT PROTESTED

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, April 8—Sheriff Albert W. West, jr., said today that D. D. Baker of Seguin, member of the board of directors of the state department of public safety, and Ranger Captain J. W. McCormick had resigned. West predicted other resignations.

The sheriff said Baker and McCormick resigned in protest of a secret meeting of the board of directors held at Austin yesterday at which L. G. Phares was appointed

ALLRED TO CONFER

AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—Reports of disruption in the official staff of the department of public safety arose today after promotion of L. G. Phares from acting director to permanent head.

Governor Allred indicated he would confer with several officials to compose differences promoting the reported resignation of Commissioner D. D. Baker of Seguin and J. W. McCormick, senior Ranger captain.

permanent director of the public safety department. Phares had been temporary head of the department.

Chaplain Also Resigns

Father F. Drees of Selma, chaplain of the Texas Rangers, also resigned in protest. Sheriff West said.

"Phares has never cooperated with local officers," West claimed. "The state police and the Rangers are fighting each other. The sheriffs of Texas cannot and will not cooperate with him."

SPAIN HAS NEW GOVERMENT

ZAMORA IS OUSTED AS PRESIDENT TUESDAY NIGHT IN UPHEAVAL

BY ALEXANDER H. UHL
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MADRID, April 8.—Diego Martinez Barrio, moderate left republican, assumed the presidency of Spain today after a dramatic session of the parliament which ousted the present republic's first president, Niceto Alcala Zamora.

In several sections fresh outbursts of the political violence which has spread through Spain since the leftists triumph in the February parliamentary elections accompanied the startling change.

Precautions Taken

The government took precautions against further conflicts.

Alcala Zamora, an outstanding creator of the republic, was turned out of the office in a political upheaval that bore a striking similarity of the overthrow of former King Alfonso at the hands of Alcala Zamora himself just five years ago.

The entire chamber of deputies stood silently while Martinez Barrio entered the chamber and took the oath. Immediately, then, a loud cheer arose.

"Long live the republic."

To Vote On Election

The cortes will vote tomorrow on calling within eight days of an election for presidential electors. The new president must be elected within three months by a joint session of the parliament and an equal number of electors.

Martinez Barrio himself appeared to be the outstanding candidate for the presidency although the socialists were reported backing Sanchez

New Clipper Ship En Route To Coast

MIAMI, Fla., April 8 (AP) — The Hawaiian Clipper, world's largest airliner and newest addition to the Trans-Pacific fleet, roared up from Biscayne bay here early today, bound for Acapulco, on the west coast of Mexico.

Commanding the 26-ton flying boat was Capt. Edwin C. Musick, who last November piloted the 1,000-pounds-lighter China Clipper on the epochal flight from San Francisco to Manila.

DEWITT LANDIS MADE STATION MANAGER IN DEAL ON TUESDAY

Radio Station KFYO was on the air today as "the Avalanche-Journal station in Lubbock, Texas, the Hub of the Plains and the home of Texas Tech."

A transaction completed late Tuesday resulted in the station's purchase by the Avalanche-Journal company from T. E. Kirksey, its former owner and operator. Simultaneously with the change in ownership came the appointment as manager of DeWitt Landis, experienced in various branches of the radio field since 1929.

Improvements Planned

Announcing that no changes in the seven-man personnel would be immediately made, Landis this morning was beginning plans for improving the station. His program includes improvement of broadcasting facilities to make for better reception by listeners and remodeling of the station's studios at 914 Avenue J. Transmitter and antenna will continue to be housed at the present location, 2312 5th street.

Landis, who comes to KFYO from the 2,500-watt Station KGNC, in Amarillo, is a former newspaperman. He will be joined here by Mrs. Landis tomorrow. Kirksey, who said he leaves Lubbock with regret, will shortly move to a lower climate

District Conference To Be Invited

Members of the City Parent-Teacher council, meeting in business session at Seaman hall Tuesday afternoon, voted to invite the fourteenth district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, to meet here in 1937 for an annual convention. This year's convention is being held in Spur.

The group also planned to work with the Lubbock County Medical society for a better annual summer round-up of school children for physical examinations next fall. The round-up project is sponsored by the council each year.

Reports of work in each parent-teacher unit of the city were given. Fourteen members were present.

Social Is Given For Central Baptists

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Pendley of 1708 Ruby avenue, entertained young people of the Central Baptist church with a social Tuesday night at their home.

Games were played.

Attending were Winnie Graves, Elson Dennis, Taylor Pendley, Addie Lee, Lindsey, Mavis Pendley, Angus Wages, Argo Peele, Louene Anderson, Florine Smith, Ray Judd, Wanda Welch, Mrs. R. G. McLeod, Elizabeth Barron, Modina Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith, Rev. and Mrs. Jeff D. Welch.

Presbyterian Pupils Will Stage Hunt

There will be an Easter egg hunt for First Presbyterian primary department Thursday afternoon, Mrs. L. C. Ellis, superintendent, has announced. The pupils will meet at the church at 3:30 p. m.

CUT FLOWERS

If you have been given flowers to wear, or are plucking some from your garden with which to adorn your person always let them remain in water for a little while first. This also applies if you are taking flowers to anyone, and is imperative if you are sending flowers by mail.

An over-night spent in water will make the flowers stand the journey much better than otherwise. And of course mailed flowers should be wrapped in wet cotton wool—a few stalks to each piece of cotton and covered with wet, glazed paper.

Readings And Music Heard By Class

First Baptist Rebekah class members attended a business and social meeting in the home of Mrs. S. A. Beard, 2602 Twenty-second street, Tuesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mesdames Beard, J. A. Barton and H. V. Bigham.

Mrs. C. W. Moses directed a program that included:

Reading "My Up and Down Religion," Mrs. George Berry; accordion selections, Howard Green, and several readings, little Ludonna Berry. All were guests of the class.

An Easter motif was featured in room decorations and the menu.

Others attending were Mrs. T. G. Shaw and daughter, Sue Alice and Mrs. O. P. Harlan, guests, and Mesdames J. L. Snider, H. A. Piercy, J. L. Pate, B. F. Adams, C. P. Cox, W. S. Clark, Emma Puryear, R. D. Cole, J. A. Mullins, H. G. Brock and O. J. Hull, members.

District Convention Reported Tuesday

Members of the 1933 Study club met at 1906 Thirteenth street Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. A. W. Evans presided. Reports from Mrs. R. I. Tubbs, delegate, and Mrs. C. C. Webb, alternate delegate, to the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs convention, were heard.

Hobby Show Plans Are Made By Club

The second annual hobby show, sponsored by the South Plains Hobby club, will be held at Hemphill-Wells department store April 16-20, it was reported following a club meeting at the Hilton hotel Tuesday night.

Members are anxious to obtain unusual collections of antiques, glassware, books, prints and other items for the show and those who have entries are asked to see B. R. Brady, secretary, or Leland J. Mast.

The deadline for entries is April 14.

The exhibit will be insured for $10,000, Mr. Mast said.

Ilowaine Terrell Is Supper Hostess

Miss Ilowaine Terrell entertained officers of the Amoma class of First Baptist church with a buffet supper Tuesday night in her home at 1910 Avenue N.

Plans for an annual spring banquet were discussed.

An Easter motif featured a refreshment plate served to Misses Sybil Cope, Frances Cleveland, Virginia Millard, Elizabeth Knight, Thelma and Claribel Ford, Helen Ruth Raymer, Oleta Kelley and the teacher, Mrs. Ivy Savage.

Club Presents Bible Program Tuesday

Meeting with Mrs. H. M. Gibson, 2012 Twenty-third street, Tuesday afternoon, members of the Shakespeare club presented an annual Bible program. It was as follows:

"The Book of Esther," Mrs. Arthur Prichard; "The Wisdom of Solomon," Mrs. E. L. Banks; "Interesting Facts in the Life of Paul," Mrs. O. A. Terry, and "Abraham, the Man of Faith," Mrs. J. A. Raley. Mrs. Charles Whitacre was in charge of the program.

CEREMONY IS READ

FARM GROUPS ARE FORMED

PLANS ARE MADE HERE TUESDAY FOR NEW FARM PROGRAM

Handling of the new farm program through a series of group meetings for each of six units in which Lubbock county has been divided were arranged Tuesday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Lubbock County Farm association, Henry Mahoney is chairman.

Aims and objectives of the new farm program, with the plan to be followed, were explained by County Agent C. C. Johson and Charles A. King, jr., his assistant.

Program Adopted

The committee, after working out the districting plan, submitted it to a group of community committeemen, who adopted the program.

Six meetings will be held, beginning Thursday night. Three committee members will be named, and two alternates. One is to be chosen chairman; the six group chairmen forming the county committee. The county group will control the entire program.

Meetings are scheduled as follows: April 9 at Woodrow; April 10 at Slaton; April 13 at Shallowater; April 14 at Wolfforth; April 15 at Monroe and April 16 at Idalou.

Many Held Contracts

Approximately 2,765 farmers held contracts under the former AAA programs. The six groups were divided as equally as possible.

Groups were named, with contract signers as follows:

Shallowater, 119; County Line, 38; Hardy, 81; Grovesville, 100; Northwest Ward, 78; total, 416.

Monroe, 130; Caldwell, 68; Liberty, 111; Center, 130; total, 439.

Idalou, 200; Becton, 135; Estacado, 43; Northeast ward, 71; total, 449.

Wolfforth, 91; Barton, 46; Foster, 60; Hurlwood, 54; Carlisle, 90; Southwest Ward, 127; total, 468.

Slaton, 212; McClung, 60; Posey, 108; Acuff, 168; total, 548.

Woodrow, 90; Union, 82; New Hope, 86; Slide, 49; Southeast Ward, 80; total, 360.

Hurlwood farmers probably will divide between Wolfforth and Shallowater; Grovesville between Shallowater and Monroe; Liberty between Monroe and Idalou and Acuff between Slaton and Idalou. This, it was explained, permits those living nearer the adjoining group to work with them.

Members of the executive committee present besides Chairman Mahoney included: D. W. Huckabee, W. L. Wheeler, C. Z. Fine and R. A. Powell.

Tryouts Are Being Held For Right To Attend State Rally

Lubbock High school students are trying out for competition in a statewide homemaking education rally in San Angelo April 23-25.

A new feature of the rally is a hobby contest for which local competition, open to all students, was begun with displays in room 311 at the school building Tuesday.

First year home economics girls selected materials and finishes for tailored dresses, in competition, during class periods Tuesdays. Contests in selection of clothing accessories for third year clothing classes were conducted Tuesday afternoon. Winners probably will be announced today, sponsors said.

First year home economics students may tryout today from 3 to 4 p. m., for honors in judging of personal appearance. Thursday at 7:45 a. m. competition in planning of a luncheon or supper will be open to the same group. First year students may try for honors in featuring school girl costumes Tuesday, April 14 from 3 to 4 p. m.

Contests for second year students in the featuring of tailored costumes will be conducted at 3:15 p. m. Monday and judging of first aid and home care of the sick will be conducted Tuesday from 3 to 4 p. m. for the second year group.

Tryouts for special occasion costumes will be open to third year students Monday at 3 p. m. Members of the same group may enter a family relationships contest Wednesday, April 15, from 8:50 to 9:50 a. m.

Two contestants from each of first, second and third year groups will represent Lubbock at the state rally, Miss Gertrude Daniel, home economics teacher said.

How Cardui Helps Month After Month

Where there have been severe pains every month, from functional disturbances resulting from poor nourishment, Cardui has helped thousands of women to obtain relief. Their confidence in Cardui makes them eager to recommend it to other women needing such a medicine.

"I suffered a great deal with pain in my side and a weakness in my back," writes Mrs. Walter Page, of Evansville, Ind. "This made me so nervous I couldn't rest. Each month I would suffer all over and would have to go to bed. One of my neighbors told me how Cardui helped her, so I took it and it helped me. After taking eight bottles, I was much better. I surely can recommend Cardui for weakness and pain."

Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. Adv.

ANOTHER TEST TO GO DOWN SOON IN YOAKUM COUNTY

SEAGRAVES, April 8. (Special)—A water pump and other material for the Roosevelt-Stogner No. 1 Ruth Googin on the Googin ranch in Yoakum county passed through here from Midland en route to the test.

Cellar is being dug and also the slush pit. Material for the derrick is expected.

C. J. (Red) Davidson, Fort Worth independent driller, has the contract.

Location is in the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 215. The test is expected to be spudded in about April 15, Mr. Davidson announced.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt and Lou Stogner are interested in the test. It is located on the ranch of Mrs. Ruth Googin, mother of Elliott's wife.

'Economic States' Have Been Set Up By NRA Research

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—NRA-commerce department research experts have divided the nation's 48 political states into 37 "economic states" as an aid in charting business trends and promoting trade.

This has been disclosed in a hitherto unpublished report completed under the direction of L. C. Marshall, director of the NRA division of review. The study originally was undertaken to solve problems arising under administration of retail and wholesale codes.

Gathering a mass of data from government statistics and other sources, the experts subdivided each of the "economic states" into primary trading areas of which there are a total of 372. These again were divided into secondary areas, of which there are 268.

The study, Marshall said, "indicates how the duplication and overlapping of administrative facilities may be minimized, how territories may be most efficiently traveled and, in general, provide for the maximum economy in administrative control."

TELEVISION TESTS SLATED FOR JUNE

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—The Radio Corporation of America has announced that television preliminary tests in the United States have been set for Monday, June 29.

David Sarnoff, president of RCA, named the date at the annual meeting of stockholders in a statement in which he outlined the progress made in other lines of research and noted that "a difficult road" remained ahead in the television field.

The tests, which will comprise RCA's first step in taking television outside the laboratory, are to be in the form of field research from every possible standpoint, including transmission, reception and program presentation.

Last year Pensacola, Fla., went 89 days without rainfall.

Assurances Given Against Bombing

LONDON, April 8 (AP)—The foreign office has announced that new assurances that Italian airplanes would not bomb Addis Ababa or Diredawa, Ethiopia, were given Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, yesterday.

Sir Eric went to Fulvio Suvich, Italian under-secretary for foreign affairs, following the machine-gunning of the airport in Addis Ababa, Saturday, to remind him of the assurances Italy gave Oct. 20 that Addis Ababa and Diredawa would not be bombed.

Suvich explained that the Italian planes attacked the aviation camp outside Addis Ababa because an Italian plane met an Ethiopian plane and followed it back to the air port.

Suvich was reported to have said that the Italians attacked after they were met with anti-aircraft fire.

DISTRICT MEET PLANS MADE

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL SCHOOL COMPETITION

Events in the district Interscholastic League meet at Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday, April 17-18, will be conducted by a program announced Tuesday by Dr. A. W. Evans, director-general.

The program follows:

Friday

8-10 a. m., registration in the lobby of the administration building for all events unless contestant has previously entered and paid entry fee of 25 cents; issuance of all badges, athletic numbers and instructions concerning time and place of events.

10 a. m., declamation contestants meet in room 220 for assignment of sections and rooms for preliminary declamation contests; declamation judges and presiding officers in room 216; debate contestants in room 302 for assignment for preliminary contests; debate judges and officers in room 320; one-act play contest; preliminaries in tennis.

10:30 a. m., preliminaries for declamation contestants of high school, rural school and ward school divisions (girls' and boys' ward school or grammar grades division combined with girls' and boys' high school division in declamation); preliminary boys' and girls' debates.

1:30 p. m., semi-finals boys' and girls' debates.

2 p. m., preliminaries for volley ball and golf and all athletic events.

3 p. m., extemporaneous speech contests, rooms 323 and 316; Three R contests, room 216; Ready-writers, room 214; Spanish, 219.

4 p. m., finals in high school declamation, senior boys, senior girls, junior boys and junior girls, chemistry auditorium.

5 p. m., finals in rural school declamation, senior boys, senior girls, junior boys and junior girls.

Saturday

9:30 a. m., finals in girls' debate room 302; finals in boys' debate room 320.

10 a. m., typewriting contest, room 316.

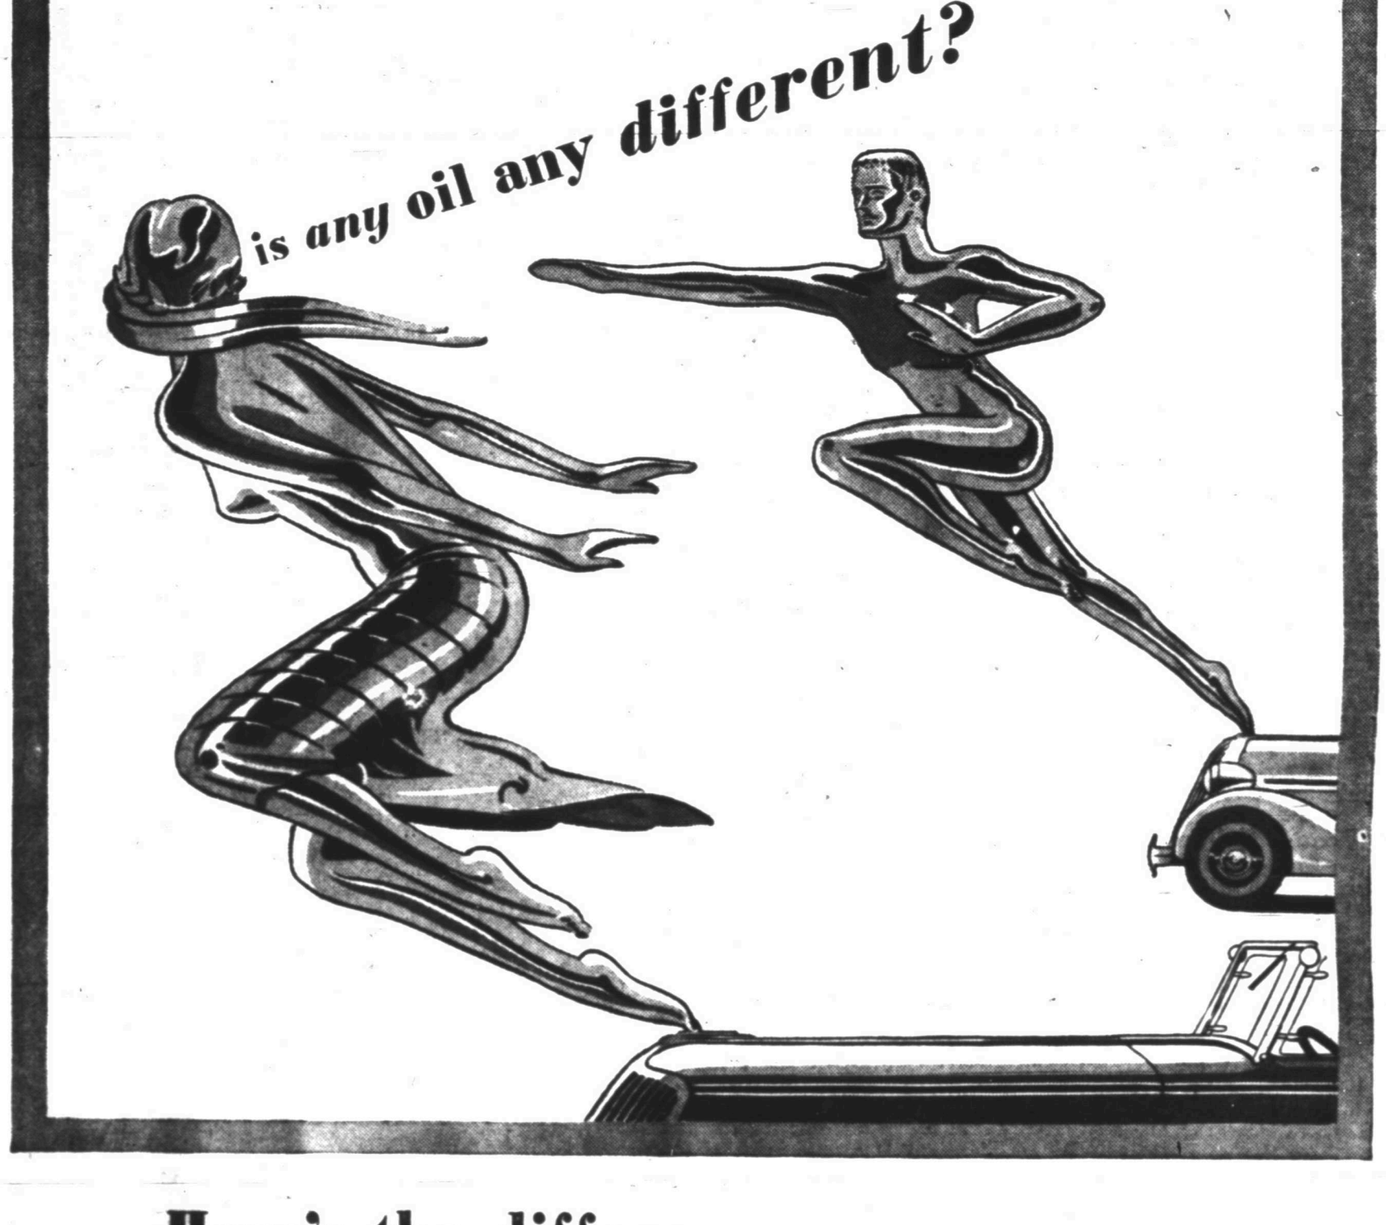

2 p. m., finals for all track and field events, including rural pentathlon; semi-finals and finals in all events not otherwise provided for.

Fourteen counties are included in this district. Approximately 1,500 students came here for last year's contests. The contests this year will be the 11th annual conducted at Tech.

No events are scheduled for Friday night so students may visit the Tech Engineers' show, scheduled for the same dates as the league contests.

This alloyed oil goes beyond any oil-film protection

Don't laugh . . . Somewhat as a beauty expert youthifies complexions, Conoco Germ Processed oil can do a youthifying job inside your engine.

Because it's alloyed—under patents!—this different oil really changes the character of your engine's working surfaces. The cylinders, pistons, valve gear, and any bearings of any type can actually surface themselves with this alloyed oil. It doesn't merely go ON, like an everyday oil film. It goes IN. Attaches itself. Combines. Makes a slippy, durable skin of oil-filled metal, entirely in addition to the extra toughness and heat-resistance of the Germ Processed oil-film.

Protection in duplicate! You can count it up. And you can't race it away or burn it away, or cake it into carbon, on the most tempting days ahead of you. In an old or new car you can change your whole idea of a good day's run, by changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil—The ALLOYED Oil. Continental Oil Company.

WELL GAUGES 234 BARRELS TUESDAY

SEAGRAVES, April 8.—In the first 24 hours of production, Yoakum county's discovery well gauged 234 barrels of oil. The gauge operated from 4 p. m. Monday to the same hour Tuesday.

On Wednesday the well will be swabbed out and then it will be tested to see if there is a bridge. Tools will be put back.

The well flowed by heads, about an hour and a half apart. Some gas accompanied the flow, but the amount was not announced.

Scout Encampment Plans Discussed

LITTLEFIELD, April 8. (Special)—Definition of plans for Boy Scout encampments for the South Plains area scout council Tuesday night was made in a session at Littlefield hotel of district commissioners of the area.

Eastern and southeastern districts will camp June 7 to 13, inclusive; central (Lubbock) district, June 14 to 20, inclusive, and northwestern, southwestern and southern districts from June 21 to 27, inclusive.

Plans for a week-end training camp May 9 and 10 near Lubbock for scouters, scoutmasters, committeemen and committeemen chairmen, were laid.

Reports on likely attendance at a Scouters university to be conducted at Texas Technological college were made, indications forecasting a more-than-satisfactory attendance.

Slaton Woman To Be Buried Today

Burial rites for Mrs. Willie Eubanks, about 75, who died Monday afternoon at the home of a son, Halsey Eubanks, Santa Fe employe at Slaton, were to be read today at Rogers, near Temple.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the First Baptist church at Slaton for Mrs. Eubanks, who had lived at Slaton approximately 15 years. Ill a year, her condition had become serious yesterday.

A brother, Hop Halsey of Rogers and the Slaton son are the only immediate survivors. Mark Halsey and John Halsey, nephews, and Miss Janelle Halsey, all of Lubbock, left for Rogers yesterday.

Tech Officials Are Aiding Dairy Show

Members of the dairy manufacturing department at Texas Technological college judged dairy products at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show in Plainview Tuesday and will attend a cream grading meeting there this afternoon. K. M. Renner, head of the department, is superintendent of the dairy products division.

Mart G. Pederson, assistant professor, judged milk; Renner, cottage and American cheese; and Arthur Prichard, creamery superintendent and instructor, butter. This afternoon Prichard and Pederson will discuss products they judged Tuesday and will give a churning demonstration.

Monument's Plans Given To Board

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—Architects have delivered to the board of control plans for a $1,000,000 Centennial memorial monument on the San Jacinto battleground near Houston.

Claude D. Teer, chairman, said the board likely would approve the plans prepared by Houston architects after engineers had checked specifications.

CALLS MEETING

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul has called the Centennial commission of control to meet in Houston April 20-21. He said the commission would participate as a body in San Jacinto battleground exercises.

SOUTH PLAINS VOTING HELD

SEVEN OUT OF NINE MAYORS IN AREA ARE RETAINED

In nine city elections over the South Plains seven mayors were retained in office, only two being defeated.

Chief executives who were reinstated were: J. D. Norman of Abernathy, L. C. Wines of Brownfield, Chester M. Huddleston, of Crosbyton, W. L. Marr of Lamesa, Ross Edwards of Lubbock, Tom Davis of Muleshoe, and Will Marr of Ralls.

New Mayors Chosen

New mayors were: H. N. Tapley of Amherst, B. W. Clark of Anton, Floyd Terry of Dickens, W. D. Harral of Hale Center, George T. Edwards of Matador, and R. C. Rose of Morton.

Only H. G. Richards of Anton and Henry Cox of Morton were defeated for reelection.

Norman was reelected mayor of Abernathy by a one-ballot margin over W. A. Richter. The vote was: Norman, 32; Richter, 31; Arthur Crow, 4, and Shelton Hardin and Herbert Brown, write-ins, one vote each. Sixty-nine ballots were marked.

Aldermen Are Listed

For aldermen, E. B. Lindsey, with 45, and N. C. Hix, with 38 votes, were reelected. Other candidates were: R. A. McAlister, 21, J. M. Gardner, 21, and Rudolph Struve, 17.

Rose at Morton polled 69 votes to edge out Floyd Rowland, who received 64, and Cox, last in the race. For commissioner, S. A. Ramsey, with 88, and Clyde C. Reynolds, with 61, votes were elected. Defeated were M. E. Jones, with 60, and J. C. Fowler, for reelection, 55 votes.

Tapley defeated J. M. Whitfield, 100 to 33 votes, for mayor of Amherst, and succeeds Frank Rogers, who declined to run. For commissioners, Muriel Autry received 103, Earl B. Luce 97 votes, to win. Owen George polled 31, Clint Abbott, 33 votes.

Two-Vote Margin

A two-vote margin won the Anton mayoralty for Clark over Richards, the vote being 41 to 39. Richards is editor of the Anton news and a minister. For commissioner, R. L. Spradley, with 69 votes, was elected and E. D. Criswell, who polled 48, was reelected. Dan Jackson received 44 votes.

A majority of 134 votes over P. R. Cates, former relief head, was polled by Wines, reelected mayor of Brownfield. Wines received 437, Cates 303 votes, total of 740 ballots being cast.

Gene Brown was reelected city marshal, polling 397 votes to 267 for Roy Moreman and 84 for Jack Hamilton.

For alderman, Tom Cobb, with 403 votes, and Chris B. Quante, with 336, were named. Other results: G. S. Webber, 241; Tom May, 226, and J. B. Knight, 204. Holdover members are C. J. Smith, H. W. Nelson and M. J. Craig.

Huddleston Is Victor

Huddleston received 232 votes, against 143 for J. D. Tussy, to win the mayor's post at Crosbyton. For commissioners, W. Ed Wren polled 315 votes; F. M. Dunn, 260. Both were incumbents. Former Mayor Elzie L. Roberts polled 138.

At Slaton, only slight interest was shown. For ward 2, L. B. Wooten was elected over A. Kessel, 82 to 27 votes, for alderman, O. L. Alcorn, unopposed, being elected alderman from ward 4.

Homer F. St. Clair, M. C. Rainey and Dr. Clay R. Burham were elected City aldermen at Tahoka. J. L. Heare, incumbent, was in the race. W. O. Thomas was an outgoing alderman and a third place was to be filled following resignation of E. A. Park. Miss Rosemary Nelms, City secretary, was not opposed and was reelected.

Terry Wins At Dickens

Terry defeated A. C. Sharp, 47 to 34 votes, for mayor of Dickens, succeeding Zeke Fowler, who moved recently. For City commissioners, Dennis Harkey polled 75 and K. W. Street, for reelection, 61 votes. F. W. Spence polled 18, C. A. Gladish 9 votes.

A nine-vote margin over Sam Weddington made Harral mayor of Hale Center. The vote was 59 to 50. N. M. Akerson, incumbent who was not a candidate, received three write-in votes. For aldermen Wesley Boone and Al Lemond were reelected, receiving 78 and 67 votes respectively. T. A. Greenwood polled 43, W. L. Porter 32 votes.

Marr, unopposed, received 796 of 823 votes, for mayor of Lamesa. For commissioners, A. M. (Buck) Bennett received 404, W. B. McWhorter 352, for election. W. R. Dixon polled 287, Bennie Holt 278, and Jud Watson 247 votes.

Davis Is Unopposed

Davis was unopposed for mayor of Muleshoe. C. F. Moeller and Dr. A. E. Lewis, also unopposed, were reelected commissioners.

By a margin of 58 votes, Edwards defeated Douglas Meador, editor, for the mayoralty at Matador, polling 158 votes. Gene Luker was elected City secretary over Tom Harris, incumbent, 145 to 123. D. E. Pitts and T. B. Edmondson were renamed aldermen, not having been opposed.

At Ralls, Marr, incumbent, was reelected mayor without opposition. Roy Cooper and Dr. E. L. Haney were reelected commissioners, without opposition.

Watching A Dust Storm Start — From 12,000 Feet

Spring winds renewed the threat of dust storms, which last year swept hundreds of miles beyond the Southwest's "dust bowl." This aerial picture, taken from 12,000 feet, shows the birth of a 1936 dust storm about 30 miles south of Denver. From the air it appeared a forest fire. The dust reached an altitude of 8,000 feet. Pershing Cited For Speeding By Former Soldiers

MODESTO, Calif., April 8. (AP)—General John J. Pershing was cited Tuesday for speeding, three highway patrol officers who once served under the wartime commander as enlisted men, making the charge.

Police Officer Cecil Kilroy of Turlock declared the car was traveling 48 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

WORK BEGINS TODAY

MULESHOE, April 8. (Special)—Work on Muleshoe's city sewer system is scheduled to begin Wednesday, it was said here last night by City Secretary Al Isaacs. Cost is approximately $32,000.

Panhandle Construction Co., Lubbock, has the contract. Material is here on the ground.

LAGOON "LOW-WAY" MAY FACILITATE CHICAGO TRAFFIC ALONG LAKE SHORE

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—A highway "low-way" is offered as a solution to Chicago's traffic problem.

It entails the draining of a Lincoln park lagoon and the building of a high speed roadway on its soggy bed. Engineers say it is the most practical suggestion yet made to unsnarl traffic.

The lagoon, which resembles a canal, parallels the outer drive along the lake shore, north of the loop business area, for two miles.

Drives Congested

The outer drive is scarcely able to take care of rush hour traffic now and with completion of a new bridge across the head of the Chicago river, traffic from several sources will converge in the park.

The only other roads through the park that might be utilized are what Otto K Jelinek, traffic engineer for the Chicago park district, calls "horse and buggy" drives of the twisting variety, beautiful but not practical.

Jelinek and other engineers figure the proposed submerged highway could be made into a thing of beauty—for $4,500,000. They would erect arched overpasses of the Venetian type for pedestrians, and would landscape the sloping sides.

Beauty In The Highway

They argue that the lagoon isn't used much any more anyway, and that it would be just as beautiful as a sunken highway as a stagnant pool.

Jalinek would make the lagoon a three-way drive—two one-way sections for high speed traffiic, and a third for motorists in no hurry. The present outer drive would be maintained for sightseers.

Jelinik doesn't know where funds to finance the improvement may be obtained, "I'm just an engineer," he explains.

Intelligence Tests For Drivers Urged

SAN ANTONIO, April 8. (AP)—An annual intelligence test to determine mental shortcomings should be given all motor car drivers in the opinion of Dr. John H. Cassity, alienist of the King's county hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., who is visiting his father, Dr. J. C. Cassity, here.

A recognized authority in the matter of making such tests, Dr. Cassity declared that "traffic morons" can thus be weeded out by refusing them license to drive on public streets and highways.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT

EASTLAND, April 8. (AP)—A motion for a new trial for Raymond Henry, 25-year-old iceman under a 50-year sentence in the "hanging skeleton" death of H. L. McBee, highway worker, was on file today in the district clerk's office.

50 YEARS OF SERVICE TO AMERICA

LIFE UNDERWRITERS IN LUBBOCK ARE CONDUCTING "SAVE-A-LIFE" CAMPAIGN

Furthering their campaign for the conservation of human life and the prevention and elimination of accidents, members of the Life Underwriters association of Lubbock are distributing thousands of copies of the well known Readers Digest article "And Sudden Death," among residents of this city. This horrifyingly frank story by J. C. Furnas has been dramatically prepared in striking color and the front and back covers carry a challenging pictorial message to the careless driver.

Dude Buster, president of the Lubbock association, said today that similar associations in 297 principal cities of the United States, comprising the National Association of Life Underwriters, are deeply concerned over the appalling death and injury list which has been growing so shockingly during recent years. Pursuing their policy of lending their force to all good citizenship efforts, they have undertaken to distribute hundreds of thousands of these pamphlets throughout the United States.

Committee Set Up

Life underwriter "Save-A-Life" committee, of which C. A. Sanford is chairman, and Earl Hunt and S. R. Steele are members, has been set up by the organized underwriters of Lubbock, all of whom are working toward the reduction of the terriffic traffic death toll of the nation.

The campaign which will include the distribution of safety emblems for automobiles and safety literature and promotional work among other civic organizations and the school children of Lubbock has the endorsement of practically all Lubbock City officials.

Citizens of Lubbock are invited to cooperate with the Underwriters in their worthy effort, and copies of the "And Sudden Death" pamphlet may be obtained from any member of the local association.

Dallas Museum Is After Nude Statue

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—Richard Foster Howard, curator of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, said Tuesday he would ask the artist, William Zorach of New York, and the Federal Centennial commission for the nude memorial to pioneer women rejected by the Texas board of control.

"It is the best work by Mr. Zorach that I have ever seen," said Howard, "and we are most anxious to obtain it for our art loan collection at the Texas Centennial exposition here this summer."

Final decision on acceptance of the memorial, designed for erection on the campus of the Texas State College for Women at Denton, rests with the Federal Centennial commission of which Vice President John N. Garner is chairman.

Beatrice Barclay's Romance Is Ended

MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 8. (AP)—The romance of Beatrice Barclay Pickerell, daughter of a socially prominent family, and Bevis Pickerell, her truck driver husband, appeared definitely at an end today.

Mrs. Pickerell admitted she had separated from her husband.

Now only 20 years old, she eloped with Pickerell in 1931 and subsequently was disinherited by her father, the late John Barclay, a vice-president of the Western Union Telegraph company.

He left the bulk of his estate to his widow and their other children. To Beatrice he left $100.

French Troops To Be Held By Order

PARIS, April 8. (AP)—The war ministry has announced to an French troops whose terms of service were due to expire shortly would be held under colors until further orders.

The decree, signed by War Minister Gen. Louis Felix Maurin, applied to troops whose terms of service were to expire April 15.

The decree was approved by the government, which has been considering the crisis resulting from Germany's occupation of the Rhineland.

ARREST EXPECTED IN MURDER CASE; MEXICAN KILLED

Arrest of a man suspected of the ax-murder of Jose Cobarubia, a Mexican, was sought today by the sheriff's department.

"We think we know who did it," said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Cobarubia, about 45, a sheepherder, was found dead in his shack at 122 Avenue N Tuesday afternoon. The man had been slain several weeks before, and his body was in a late state of decomposition. The head had been slashed open apparently with an ax.

Three Mexicans who were arrested for questioning were released today.

Verdict Is Returned

Santos Chavez, a neighbor, said he had not seen Cobarubia for about a month.

J. T. Trigg, coroner, returned a verdict of "murder by person or persons unknown."

A nauseating odor from the locked cabin attracted Chavez and Savino Alvarez, 86, also a neighbor. Some one suggested the odor came from a dead rat.

"No one rat can smell that bad," said Chavez.

So they notified Mrs. George Duval, principal of the Mexican school, who called police.

Door Battered Open

Assistant Police Chief Don Reeder and Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer, battered open the front door, which was latched from the inside.

The man's body was found beneath his bed clothing, and a mattress. Three emptied purses were found. Nearby was an ax, its blade covered with dried blood. Some of the bed clothing was stained with blood.

Justice of the Peace Trigg was called. He, as coroner, began an inquest, assisted by County Attorney Jess C. Levens, Deputies Sheriff Grady Harrist, Parum Posey, and Bedford F. Carpenter, and Policemen Reeder and Fort.

Crowd Gathers Quickly

Nearly 100 Mexicans, more than a score of them children, some from the nearby Mexican school, quickly gathered about the shack.

Sanders Funeral home was called, the body was uncovered and quickly placed in a wood box. Chavez, his daughter, Rosa, and others identified the ghastly body as that of Cobarubia. All except about 10 of the Mexicans fled, holding their noses.

Fort took the ax, a hatchet, an empty whisky bottle, a kerosene lamp, and other articles from the cabin hoping to obtain fingerprints.

Rosa Chavez told officers that Cobarubia, who had lived at the same place for several years, frequently was away from home for as long as four or five months herding sheep. She declared that he was "bound to have some money," because he had worked much of the time.

A rear door of the shack was padlocked on the outside.

PLANE CRASH

Grove City, Pa., Valley Forge student; Crawford Kelly, 18, McKeesport, Pa., Valley Forge student; Robert G. Evans, 18, Wayne, Pa., Valley Forge student; Stanley H. Bayerdorfer, vice president of Hub Department store, Steubenville, O.; Frank Hardiman, Jersey City, delegate to the Union Ironworkers convention in St. Louis; John O'Neill, Jersey City, also a delegate; G. B. D'Arcy, New York City; G. W. Hefferman, New York City; Pilot Otto Ferguson, Kansas City; Co-Pilot H. C. Lewis, Kansas City.

The injured:

Hostess Nellie Granger, Dravosburg, Pa., cut on leg and body; Mrs. mayor C. Ellenstein, wife of the mayor of Newark, N. J., critically injured, and C. C. Challinor, Cleveland and New York, both ankles broken.

Occurred At 10:20 A. M.

Stopped watches on two of the dead convinced Lieut. George Pickering of the highway patrol and Coroner S. A. Balts that the tragedy occurred at 10:20 a. m. Ten minutes earlier Pilot Ferguson, en route from Newark, N. J., radioed he was flying through thick weather by his instruments and would not land at Pittsburgh.

Lieut. Pickering and other investigators who reached the desolate mountainside seven miles from Uniontown soon after Miss Granger's report said the big transport crashed with terrific force.

Wing Ripped Off

One wing apparently was ripped off by the limb of a tree while the ship skimmed the hilltop. It hurtled on to tear through a hundred yards of underbrush and scattered pieces of wreckage for hundreds of feet.

The hostess and two survivors were in the rear of the plane and to that fact they owed their lives. That part of the ship did not catch fire.

Saw Sky Above

She told Frye in a telephone conversation that the impact made her unconscious, and added:

"When I came I could see the sky above me. There was a gaping hole in the top of the fuselage and the wreckage was strewn in every direction.

"I got up and walked — only a few paces, I think. Then I heard a man call. He was outside the plane. I grabbed a blanket automatically and went over and spread it over him.

Heard Woman Cough

"I heard a woman cough, she was Mrs. Ellenstein. I pulled her away from the plane at just about the time it started to blaze."

The little brunette heroine then began her hunt through the forests for a telephone. She went to two cabins without success.

Finally she reached the home of Mrs. R. E. Addis and telephoned to C. A. Williams of the TWA in Pittsburgh — four hours after the Sun Racer was due there.

Rescuers hurried to the spot of the air disaster from all around the countryside.

They ripped off unburned pieces of the Sun Racer's wings to make stretchers for the dead.

Then it became necessary to cut a path through the thicket to a muddy old mountain road. A truck and two wagons, hub deep in the mud, struggled seven miles through a snowstorm to get the bodies to the main road and then to the morgue.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—Steels returned to favor in today's stock market, along with scattered rubber, mining, rail and specialty issues.

While trading continued at a relatively slow pre-holiday pace, many of the leaders forged into new ground for the past five years or more with gains of fractions to around 2 points.

Outstanding advances, near the approach of the fourth hour, were shown by U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Bethlehem, National Steel, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Delaware & Hudson.

Bonds and most commodities held to a narrow range.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—An upward trend showed itself in wheat values early today, influenced by Liverpool quotations higher than expected and by unbroken drouth southwest.

Opening 1-4 to 1-2 higher, May 94 3-4, July 85 1-4 to 3-8, wheat then held near to these limits. Corn started 1-8 to 1-4 up, May 59 5-8, and for the time being altered little.

of the Fascist forces in East Africa, and to the marshal's troops.

Objective Being Realized

"The superb victories of our soldiers, in particular the victory at Lake Ashangi over the Negus' troops, instructed, equipped and armed by Europeans, bring home to Italy a realization of the primary objective for which we had to resort to arms after the mobilization of Ethiopian forces," Il Duce said.

"That is, security for our colonies. That security will be fully achieved with total annihilation of the Ethiopian military formation annihilation which cannot be lacking or delayed."

Conquest Going Forward

Mussolini asserted the populations of the Ethiopian territory already conquered had demonstrated their "sympathy" for the Italians, and said the work of conquest was going forward without encountering important obstacles.

Il Duce called attention, without comment, to the fact that Italy sent an affirmative reply to the chief suggestions of the league's conciliation committee, calling for an exchange of views for a possible cessation of hostilities and definite peace negotiations within the framework of the league.

CHURCH RACKET

"Drake Googoo" was a clairvoyant with some stage and screen experience. Two days later, ignorant of the applicant's true identity, the church certified the duck as a preacher, empowered to administer communion, perform marriage rites and read a final tribute over the bier of the dead, the investigator said.

Many of the 916 persons ordained for small fees are clairvoyants, palmists, card readers and the like, whom a city ordinance banned from practicing their professions as such, Dr. Di Ghilini said.

OIL DRILLER KILLED

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 8. (AP)—O. J. Burd, oil field driller of Kilgore, was killed Tuesday when a derrick collapsed at a well near Orange Grove in Jim Wells county. D. C. Burton also a driller, was killed at the same well Sunday when a brake drum broke.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 4 to 6 points advance on higher Liverpool cables and foreign buying of new crop months. May 11.29, July 10.98; Oct. 10.36; Dec. 10.37; Jan. 10.40; March 10.48.

Bullish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau seemed to be attracting a somewhat broader demand in the new crop positions while there was further buying of old crop months with offerings comparatively light.

July sold up to 11.02 shortly after the call, or the highest price reached by that position since last January. Dec. advanced to 10.40 with the general list showing net gains of about 6 to 9 points at the end of the first hour.

Business continued fairly active later with prices holding steady to firm although there appeared to be more cotton available around 11.30 for May and 11.00 for July. These positions were holding 6 to 7 points net higher at mid-day while new crops positions were 8 to 9 points above yesterday's closing quotations with Dec. at 10.40.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 8. (AP)—Good cables combined with bad weather induced active buying in the cotton market here today and at the first call futures were 4 to 6 points higher.

May was up to 11.27 by the end of the first half hour of trading, while July at 10.96, Oct at 10.32 and Jan at 10.35 made similar gains.

The steady undertoen held through the morning with prices a few points above the previous closing levels. Backwardness of the planting and seeding operations over a wide-spread area is beginning to look like a serious threat to the current yield, in the opinion of crop statisticians.

May sold at 11.24, July at 10.94, Oct. at 10.31 and Jan. at 10.35 during the morning.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 8. (AP) (U. S. D. A.)—Hogs 1,600; mostly steady; good to choice 180-300 lb. averages 9.90-10.10; good lights averaging 160-175 lbs. 9.50-80; numerous lots of mixed grades and weights 8.00-9.00; feeder pigs 8.00 down; packing sows 8.50, or steady.

Sheep 4,000; active, fully steady on all classes; medium to choice spring lambs 8.25-9.50; sales of shorn offerings include fed lambs 7.00-50; fed yearlings 6.50; 2-year-old wethers 5.50; aged wethers 4.50-85; feeder lambs mostly 6.00 down; 2 decks fleshy feeders held above 6.25.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, April 8. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs 2,500; uneven; 250 lbs. down strong to 10 higher; top 10.50; desirable 170-250 lbs. 10.35-50; 260-325 lbs. 10.00-10.35; better grade 140-160 lbs. 10.25-45; sows 9.15-40; stock pigs 10.00 down.

Cattle 3,000; calves 500; fed steers and yearlings fairly active, strong to 25 higher; vealers steady to 50 higher; other killing classes fully steady; two loads choice 1066-lb. steers 9.60; other early sales wed steers 7.25-8.75; better kinds heifers and mixed yearlings 7.00-8.25; butcher cows 5.00-5.75.

Sheep 8,000; fat lambs and springers uneven, mostly 25-35 higher; top wool lambs to shippers 10.75; others to packers largely 9.75-10.60; clippers 8.25-40.

STATE OFFICIALS

Texas Sheriffs' association and the Texas Cattle Raisers' association.

"The Sheriffs' association asked the board not to consider an appointment until Monday," Sheriff West said. "I personally got a petition signed by 30 sheriffs asking that Sheriff J. B. Arnold of Bee county be given the job. In addition, 100 other sheriffs outside of my territory signed similar petitions. More than 1,000 deputies sheriff and other officers asked that Arnold be appointed."

West said Love Kimbrough of Brady, president of the sheriffs' association, had wired the governor asking that the appointment of a state police chief be delayed until Monday. Instead, he said, the board met secretly and appointed Phares by a two to one vote.

SPAIN UPHEAVAL

Albornoz, another union republic and president of the University of Madrid.

Had Over Year To Go

Alcala Zamora's term as first president of the second Spanish republic still had one year, eight months to go.

Deeply affected by the ouster by the men with whom he had helped to form the republic, Alcala Zamora refused to receive a parliamentary committee, bearing the news that the cortes voted, 238 to 5, last night, for his removal.

Deputies of the parliament, in a tense five-hour session, decided the former president had misused his constitutional rights in dissolving the last cortes, and thus was automatically relieved of his post under article 81 of the constitution.

RECORD VOTE

Needles, and 147 for J. W. Ross, only "independent" aspirant in the election.

W. G. 'Bill' McMillan, who left his fate in the hands of the electorate without soliciting a single vote and by leaving Monday on a trip to the Big Bend country, also coasted into commission place 4. His opponent, J. C. 'Cash' Royalty, seeking a second four-year term, got 1,374 votes to lead the Needles ticket, while McMillan received 2,587.

THE RESULTS

Mayor

Ross Edwards	2,775
B. E. Needles	1,195
Commission, Place 2
W. G. McMillan	2,587
J. C. Royalty	1,374
Commission, Place 4
J. A. Fortenberry	2,589
M. C. Butler	1,205
J. W. Ross	147

The two new commissioners and Mayor Edwards will be given the oath of office at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the regular meeting. Prior to the administration of oath, the commission as it was before Tuesday's election will canvass ballot returns and make the result official.

By charter provision, the commission reserves the authority after The Edwards-McMillan-Fortenbermembers shall assume charge of finance, utilities, police and street chairs. Any person authorized to take affidavits or who is a notary public may administer the oath of office. Each commissioner is required to post bond of $2,500.

Little "Heat" Generated

Climaxing a campaign which did not generate the "heat" expected, the voting was largely based on differences regarding methods of securing lower gas rates for Lubbock each election to designate which ry ticket was out in favor of lower gas rates "if they can be secured on a legitimate business basis which will not endanger the financial security of Lubbock." The opposing ticket also was for cheaper gas, but was tagged with the Needles sponsorship of a municipal gas plant to be constructed through issuance of $1,200,000 in bonds, a measure twice beaten in special bond elections and once aired in a district court suit. That proposal also has been espoused by A. J. Richardson, a hold-over commissioner, and by George L. Simpson, a Dallas bond promoter.

Threat Is Dissolved

The election at least dissolved any threat of municipal gas bonds being issued without the approval of a majority of citizens in an election. Commissioner W. B. Price, a hold-over, has already gone on record as favoring no bonds without an election, as have Mayor Edwards and the newly elected commissioners.

The election, while lacking in rancor and personal attacks, was worked at by opposing groups who spared no time and effort in backing their candidates. Scores of workers on both sides were busy throughout yesterday and numerous meetings of opposing factions had been held during the two weeks preceding voting day.

Victory in the campaign was not claimed for themselves by any of the three candidates. In statements made last night, they attributed their election to efforts of their friends and loyal supporters, and were profuse in attributing to them the success of the campaign.

Friends Due Credit

Mayor Edwards emphasized this morning that his friends "were due all the credit." He voiced a call for harmony among the citizenship in order that the city "might be happy" to receive an anticipated greater expansion than has ever been attained.

Besides tendering their thanks to voters, the two others elected declared:

"I shall do my utmost toward what I believe to be the best interests of us all," was an excerpt from Fortenberry's statement.

Said McMillan, who last night was at Ozona, spending the night after archaeological research in the Big Bend country, "I am gratified at the opportunity of serving Lubbock on the commission. I shall do my best to serve the people honestly, efficiently and on a sound business basis."

FRANCE'S PLAN

ment by Hitler, to quiet the controversy arising from Germany's Rhineland remilitarization in violation of the Versailles and Locarno treaties.

Almost dictatorial powers, to compel disarmament and to enforce respect for treaties and international law, would be vested in a "European commission" under the French plan.

The 1,000-word program, in 25 paragraphs on 15 subjects, was divided into four parts, accompanied by a note to Britain, rejecting Hitler's plan for negotiation of separate treaties as "equivocal" and evading the heart of the problem.

The basic factors for peace, France's memorandum said, were equality, independence and respect for engagements.

The Assembly, a young Republican group, charged that Landon was responsible for splitting the party because he did not join a "harmony movement."

This movement followed a decision of various G. O. P. factions to support an uninstructed slate, a course advocated for California by former President Hoover.

Landon's name was placed in the primary when he remained publicly silent on his attitude.

LOCAL WOMAN'S SON IS KILLED

A. J. Newman, 41, of Oklahoma City, whose mother, Mrs. Claude Tatum, and three brothers reside in Lubbock, was killed in a highway mishap sometime last night near Shawnee, Okla.

Word of the fatal accident was received here this morning. Claude Tatum left early this afternoon with a representative of the Rix Funeral home to bring the body here for funeral services and burial. Details of the accident were not learned.

Mr. Newman had visited here several times, and was engaged in the oil trucking business at the time of his death.

Other survivors are J. R., Alex and J. P. Newman, brothers, of Lubbock; George Newman, brother, of Lockney; two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Sellen, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. E. H. Cummings, of Friona; and three half-brothers, Clyde, Lewis and C. W. Tatum, of Lubbock.

WISCONSIN VOTE

ly will control 24 delegates at the national convention.

One outstanding factor in yesterday's elections, with a great army of new progressive party voters sitting on the sidelines, was the predominance of the Democratic over the Republican vote.

FDR Gets 173,374

President Roosevelt received 173,374 votes in 1,574 of the state's 2,918 precincts, compared to 90,477 votes cast for Borah in the same number of precincts.

Each party elected four delegates at large and two from each of the 10 congressional districts.

Returns from more than three fourths of the city's 397 precincts indicated Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, socialist was reelected in a close race with Sheriff Joseph J. Shinners, non-partisan. The vote in 311 precincts gave: Hoan, 82,796; Shinners, 74,560.

Mrs. W. G. Daniel To Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. W. G. Daniel, 19, who died late Tuesday morning here at a tourist camp on Avenue H, are to be held at 4 o'clock today at Sanders Funeral chapel, with Albert Smith, minister of the Avenue G Church of Christ, officiating. A resident here for six years, Mrs. Daniel died following a week's illness. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Survivors are her husband; two children, Wilson Glenn, jr., and Gary Nelson; a brother, E. Forman; three sisters, Mrs. Kelester Sturdevant, Alice, and Mrs. Ruby K. White and Mrs. Mary Garner, Longview; and her mother, Mrs. Leon Jones.

STATION KFYO

more suitable to the health of his family.

Aside from co-operating in the handling of news broadcasts and program publicity, Station KFYO and Avalanche-Journal papers will be operated entirely separately. Local and sectional news flashes gathered by Avalanche-Journal staffmen will be added to augmented news flashes from the state and nation and as soon as organization details are worked out daily programs of KFYO will be published in the Avalanche and Journal.

The station is operated on an assigned frequency of 1310 kilocycles by authority of the federal communications commission. It operates on 250 watts power during the day and 100 watts at night.

Broadcast periods on week days are from 7 a. m. until 9:15 p. m. and on Sundays from 8 a. m. until 2 p. m. and from 4 p. m. until 6:15 p. m.

Kirksey has operated the station here for the past four years, opening with a 72-hour continuous broadcast on April 23, 1932. It was moved here from Abilene.

He first established the station in Bentonville, Ark., in 1923 as a small 15-watt plant. It was later purchased and moved to Texarkana by the Buchanan-Vaughan company. Kirksey repurchased the station in 1927, moved it to Breckenridge and there secured an increase in power to 100 watts. In 1928, it was moved to Abilene and the power increased to 250 watts, its present capacity.

Seven men at present make up the KFYO staff.—

Maundy Thursday Ceremony Slated

Maundy Thursday observance ceremony of South Plains Scottish Rite club will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in Hilton hotel.

The first part of the program, a ritual ceremony, will be held in Aztec room, J. M. Gordon, dean of Arts and Sciences at Texas Technological college, will preside.

A banquet and program with Dr. J. M. Lewis, president of the club, presiding, will be conducted in Chimayo room at 7:45 o'clock. Invocation will be made by Dr. Bradford Knapp. N. H. Wright will read a proclamation of the Supreme Council in Texas and an address, "Maundy Thursday," will be given by S. J. McFarland. Officers of the club are to be elected.

SEMI-ANNUAL CHECK-UP

TEXAS INVITES THE WORLD

With the central exposition at Dallas and dozens of other celebrations throughout the State, Texas is ready with a galaxy of big events for its Centennial year. Ask your Magnolia Dealer or Station for new 1936 Road Maps of the Southwest.

SUMMER is hard on automobiles! The lighter lubricants used for quick winter starting are not made to stand up under the terrific heat of hot weather driving. Get ready now for the trips you will want to take to the many Centennial Celebrations throughout Texas. For best protection — for smoothest performance you need this 7-Point SUMMER-IZE SERVICE:

1 Drain dirty winter oil, flush crankcase and refill with summer Mobiloil—America's Favorite Motor Oil

2 Drain winter transmission lubricant, clean thoroughly and refill with tough, heat-resisting Mobil Gear Oil for summer driving.

3 Drain, clean and refill differential with correct chart grade of summer Mobil Gear Oil.

4 Mobilubricate chassis thoroughly with summer Mobilgreases; give you detailed inspection report.

5 Fill fuel tank with Mobilgas, now adjusted for best summer performance.

6 Drain anti-freeze from radiator, using Mobil Radiator Flush if necessary to clean thoroughly.

7 Check battery and cables; fill with distilled water; remove corrosion and grease terminals.

Clean Your Radiator!

FIRST—Mobil Radiator Flush quickly removes deposits of rust and scale from the cooling system even when bound by oil and grease.

NEXT—Mobil Hydrotone acts as a water softener and neutralizer. Used in a clean radiator the year around it prevents corrosion and the formation of scale and rust.

OTIS CLINGMAN TO WRESTLE TONIGHT

POPULAR GRAPPLER TO MEET HADDOCK IN MAIN EVENT

The wrestling faithful welcome back to the local ring tonight one of its first and most permanent favorites—Otis "Squeeky" Clingman erstwhile Amarillo citizen.

One of the most popular grapplers ever to work in this circuit, Clingman is liked mostly for his consistency. He has never failed to give a good account of himself, to put on a first class show while winning a one-sided majority of his matches.

Having fairly well cleaned house with the then crop of middleweights in this circuit, Clingman sought greener pastures more than a year ago, going north into Canada, establishing residence and reputation as one of the best.

Couldn't Keep Date

Prevailed upon to remain in the vicinity of Montreal and help promote wrestling there, Clingman for approximately a year has assisted in bringing the best middleweights and light heavies to the Canadian district, meanwhile mixing it with them in scheduled performances.

Clingman made known his intention of visiting the old home league in a telegram two weeks ago to Sled Allen, in which was issued a challenge to the winner of that night's fight. He has been posted as to the doings hereabouts. The winner was Dale Haddock, who for the third time conquered rough George Poulos. The challenge fight was set for last week.

But Otis couldn't make it on time, wired his apologies in time for substitute bout, promised to be here this week. So he takes on Mr. Haddock from Detroit in what should be a rousing encounter tonight.

The supporting card boasts main event performers, with the veteran Ernie Arthur, loser in last week's principal match, meeting the clever ex-collegian from Oklahoma, Balk Estes, in the curtain raiser.

Promoter Allen presents as a special attraction the advertised antics of a newcomer, the new Teutonic Terror, Graf Rudolph von Zehrfeltz. The German, said to be quite the boy when it comes to rough and tumble grappling, bumps into the hardy Kentuckian, Ray Meyers in his debut here. Meyers, when he's feeling up to par, is capable of putting on quite a scene, and the ringworms are hoping it will be one of his nights.

Price of admission reverts to the standard—65 cents ringside, 40 cents general admission for men, 10 cents general for women and children. Starting time is 8:30 o'clock, regulation summer curtain raiser time.

GEORGE NICHOLS FIGHTS LEWIS TO DRAW LAST NIGHT

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 8. (AP)—George Nichols, who lost his National Boxing association light heavyweight title four years ago without throwing a punch, is back after a championship bout.

Nichols, who won his NBA crown in 1932 as a 100 to 1 shot, last night held John Henry Lewis, champion, to a draw in a ten round, non-title bout in Buffalo's Broadway auditorium.

Today, the former champion was more confident than ever his showing will land him in the same ring with Lewis in a fifteen round affair with the title at stake.

The judges of the bout disagreed but Referee Luke Carr voted a draw. The Associated Press score card gave Lewis the first, fifth, sixth and ninth rounds; Nichols the second, third, fourth and tenth with the seventh and eighth even.

Lewis weighed 176; Nichols 177.

Ramage, Levinsky Fight To A Draw

LOS ANGELES, April 8. (AP)—Lee Ramage, 189 pounds, of San Diego, and King Levinsky, 200, Chicago, fought ten bruising rounds to a draw last night before a packed house of 10,400 people, at the Olympic auditorium.

Crosetti was struck on the face by a foul ball and Malone has tonsilitis.

AN EYE WITNESS —BY ART KRENZ

SPORTOMETER

by COLLIER PARRIS

OTIS CLINGMAN, than whom there is but one whomer in the middleweight ear-twisting business, is with us tonight—provided he doesn't break down 'way up around Tulia or Abernathy or somewhere. Otis is booked to meet Dale "Two-Fingered" Haddock in the main spasm at Sled Allen's hippodrome.

Clingman should be the world's middleweight wrestling champ, unless he has turned light heavy since leaving these parts and unless he has forgotten how to wrestle. He has whipped the recognized champion—Gus Kallio—to a fare-thee-well, only he didn't win. He has whipped everybody except the Masked Marvel, and the reason he has not whipped the Masked Marvel is because it just isn't being done. He's the bloke referred to in the opening paragirraffe.

The Marvel could be the world's champ hands down, if he could meet Gus Kallio in a mile-square cow pasture under a no-time-limit, nothing-barred agreement. Under such circumstances, Clingman could be the champion, too; so could Vic Webber, and possibly other tin-ears who have performed here. Most of them are much more colorful and agile offensive wrestlers than Kallio, who is not at all colorful but who retains his title from year to year because he is a smart defensive rassler, because he spends half the time outside the ropes, refusing to mix it with the challengers.

So far as we know, the Masked Marvel, from whom we this day received a post card dated from London, has never challenged Kallio. It would be too bad for Kallio if he accepted the Marvel's challenge. Clingman has challenged him, but failed to throw him. Clingman has also failed to throw the Marvel. But we insist that Clingman should be the champion, that he should then accept a challenge from the Marvel, and that he should then no longer be champion. The Marvel is a better wrestler, but Clingman is next in line. Or he was two years ago, and wrestlers don't get old.

Otis, for the past year, has been promoting wrestling in the southeastern part of Canada, around Montreal and suburbs. He has been doing some wrestling, too, so he should be in shape. So it can be anticipated that he will stage a right fair exhibition tonight, that he will defeat Dale Haddock. We shall be disappointed if he does not.

Our communication from The Mask, who signs all his letters and cards that way, does not indicate an early return to this circuit, although Dutch Mantell of Amarillo and Sled Allen of Lubbock have been trying to steer him this way. He apparently has recently arrived in Great Britain from his South African haunt, Johannesburg. He says: "Just to report that I, luckily, still have a clean slate, and that I'm wrestling here soon for the European championship." It would be "luckily" for anybody else, but not for that bird.

OTHER MATCHES of potential interest are included on tonight's card. In the semi-final, for instance, a brave newcomer makes a debut. For 30 minutes or less one Graf Rudolph von Zehrfeltz, who swears that's his right name and who traces his ancestry through a long line of Zehrfeltzes, will twizzle with Ray Meyers, the Kentucky colonel who got off to a good start here but who failed to follow through.

We do not know much about von Zehrfeltz except his name, his nationality and the suggestions in his advance publicity that he has been going great guns in various American circuits since coming over from Naziland. If he is any good whatever, he should take Mr. Meyers in less than 30 minutes, unless Mr. Meyers is vastly improved since his recent engagements here. From certain sources it has been suggested that a decline in health was responsible for the sluggish action of Meyers in his last few fights. The temperature, the altitude or something, a common ailment with visiting football teams who get beat. If Meyers has been on the sick list, he has our sympathy, also our criticism for trying to fight when he should have been listening to a medical adviser.

Curtain raiser tonight, starting at 8:30 o'clock, pits the Canadian title claimant, Ernie Arthur, against the young Oklahoma bruiser, Balk Estes. This may be pretty good, too.

Speaking of fights and fighters, promoters and managers, the Texas Amateur Athletic federation director for this district, Dr. B. F. Stephens, still needs a few more county representatives. There are 22 counties in the Lubbock district of the TAAF, and each county is supposed to have a manager. At last report, more than a dozen had been signed up. If you like to work with youngsters, to watch them box and wrestle, get in touch with Dr. Stephens, either through this office or at his residence here, and if your county has not been taken, he'll be glad to talk it over with you.

GRANT, BUDGE TO PLAY IN SINGLES

ALLISON SELECTS TWO YOUNGSTERS AFTER BEING DEFEATED

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 8—Wilmer Allison, captain of the United States Davis cup team for the matches against Mexico, today assigned Bryan M. Grant and Dodge Budge to play the singles matches after they had wrecked his title hopes in the River Oaks tennis tournament.

Grant won his second consecutive River Oaks championship yesterday by defeating the 1935 National champion, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. It was the first time in years that Allison had dropped the decisive set of a match without winning a game.

Loses In Doubles Too

Hopeful of salvaging at least a share of the doubles championship, the Texan then teamed with John Van Ryn against Budge and Gene Mako, but the colorful young Californians provided too much competition. They won 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

The performances of Grant and Budge convinced Captain Allison that they were qualified to handle the singles in the Davis cup matches with Mexico, opening here Friday. Allison and Van Ryn will play the doubles.

Members of the Mexican team took their final workouts today.

Although impressed by the fast play of their opponents in the tournament, they still felt they would make a good showing. Esteban Reyes and Daniel Hernandez are Mexico's singles hopes while Marco Mestre and Flavio Martinez will represent the neighboring republic in the doubles.

REEVES AND WALLENDER ENGAGING IN TRACK DUEL THAT MAY LAND THEM IN OLYMPICS; ONE, THEN OTHER VICTOR

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two of the Southwest's finest sprinters, Harvey (Chink) Wallender and H. V. Reeves, jr., are putting on a track duel at the University of Texas that may land either or both of them on the Olympic team.

Last year it was Wallender, "Tyler Typhoon," ho beat out Reeves, his close pal, by inches in the sprints. This year the El Campo youngster has switched the deal.

Wins At Ft. Worth

At the Fort Worth Exposition track and field meet Reeves churned down the track to win all three sprints — the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the special 100-meter event. He beat out such meteors as Delmer Brown of North Texas Teachers college and Whit Cox, the former Oklahoma Aggie star.

But Wallender, who tied the world's 100-yard dash mark in the preliminaries of the 1935 Texas Relays, came back in the recent Texas Relay 100-yard dash to roar in ahead of Reeves in the quick time of 9.7 seconds.

Wallender, prior to the season, considered quitting the track. He has been troubled with a "floating cartilage" but postponed an operation and is having his best year.

WANTS OCTOBER

General Manager Frank Reitman of the Epsom Downs track at Houston, says the track would like to have October as the fall racing month. Houston businessmen don't like racing with their Christmas trade.

At the same time, Rice institute's football team will play three October games — with the Texas Aggies, University of Texas and the George Washington Colonials.

Match Play Begun In Women's Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., April 8. (AP)—With the favorites apparently at the top of their game, match play was started today in the annual Women's North and South golf championship.

Deborah Verry, Worcester, Mass., winner of the mid-south title last week, and co-medalist in the current event, had as her first round opponent Elsie Nielsen, Hackensack, N. J.

Shooting an 81 over the No. 2 course, soggy from recent rains, Miss Verry shared the medal with Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C.

LINES UP OUTFIELD

WASHINGTON—Casey Stengel of the Dodgers plans to use Lindstrom in left field, Cooney in center and Bordagaray in right when the season opens. As for Bordagaray, Stengel says: "you can't keep him out of there and on Sunday you're hurting yourself if you do. Frenchie's a great little guy when those seats are filled."

Adamson High Wins Dallas Track Title

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—Adamson High school's Leopards methodically piled up 65 1-2 points at Southern Methodist university's Ownby oval Tuesday to win the city high school track and field championship.

Woodrow Wilson was second, far behind the leaders, with 33 1-5 points.

The decisive victory placed the Leopards in the role of favorites for the district championships to be held on the S. M. U. track April 18.

CARDS TO PLAY INDIANS IN EXHIBITION

ST. LOUIS IS PUSHED TO WIN TUESDAY FROM DALLAS

(By The Associated Press)

Texas league teams, facing loop competition within a week, hit the home stretch in training today.

The Oklahoma City Indians met the St. Louis Cardinals in a one-day stand on the Indians' home lot. The Cardinals, with Paul (Daffy) Dean on the mound, were pushed to the limit yesterday in defeating the Dallas Steers, 4 to 3, at Dallas.

A delayed series opener with Bartlesville, Galveston farm club was on the Galveston Buccaneers' program. Cold weather the last two nights prevented play and limited the Bucs' training to short work outs.

The Tulsa Oilers defeated the Fort Worth Cats, 13 to 8, in an 11-inning contest at Fort Worth to annex their second win in the final of a three-game series.

Inter-squad competition and routine practice were on the Beaumont Exporters' bill until they meet the Galveston Bucs in a two-game exhibition series at Beaumont the coming week-end. The Exporters downed the Tokyo Giants, 6-4, yesterday.

WEST WINS MATCH

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—The west won its first national open polo championship last night when Steve Hammond, hard riding member of a selected high-goal Western trio, banged home a final second goal which downed an all-star trio from the East, 7-6 1-2, in the concluding match of the indoor championships.

YOUR EASTER HAM will be perfect if you bake it in a modern

GAS RANGE

If you want your Easter ham baked to a delicious golden brown, with tiny rivulets of juicy goodness seeping down its sides, bake it in the oven of a modern gas range. You are certain to obtain perfect results because the oven regulator will provide just the right temperature required—and maintain it automatically. And, too, a modern gas range will save you time. Its automatic top burner lighter; the patented non-clog top burners that provide a thousand instant, even heats; and other features make cooking more automatic and results more certain.

See Your Gas Appliance Dealer Or Your Gas Company

The low gas rate recently fixed by the Railroad Commission of Texas and put into effect by the company is lower than the rate in 591 of other Texas Cities and Towns having gas service. Minimum bill also reduced.

Experienced engineers of our Service Department are at present making an annual inspection of lines and appliances. If they have not already been at your home, you may expect them soon. They want to be of real service to you, to help you get the full benefit of the gas you use. There is no charge for this service.

Autos are safe enough nowadays, but drivers aren't —1,300,000 of them hit something or somebody last year—so maybe these devices to detect faulty driving in advance will come in handy

By Dr. Frank Thone

BATTLE, murder, and sudden death — that trinity of evil from which the Litany beseeched the good Lord to deliver us—are still all too common in the world.

The first two have been little altered in the centuries: King Alfred or Francis Drake could "catch on" regarding Ethiopia or American gangsterism in a couple of hours, if it were possible for them to return to us.

But sudden death is quite another matter. Hardly any of the present-day causes of precipitate and unwarned exits from existence are more than a few decades old. Modernity has invented most of its own mortal dangers.

And the sudden-death record of motor traffic looms largest in sinister impressiveness. The annual number of automobile accidents, fatal and otherwise, piles up to the awesome total of 1,300,000, according to figures of the National Safety Council.

Though we strive to stem the danger of war, and "crack down" on criminals with special corps of "G" men, our endeavors to check the tide of traffic accidents have thus far been futile. The National Safety Council reports the number of autocades for 1935 the greatest ever—over 36,000.

Our efforts have been futile because they have been spasmodic and unsystematic. They have tried to cut the accident rate by sudden but unsustained drives of enforcing traffic regulations that are largely routine and unscientific.

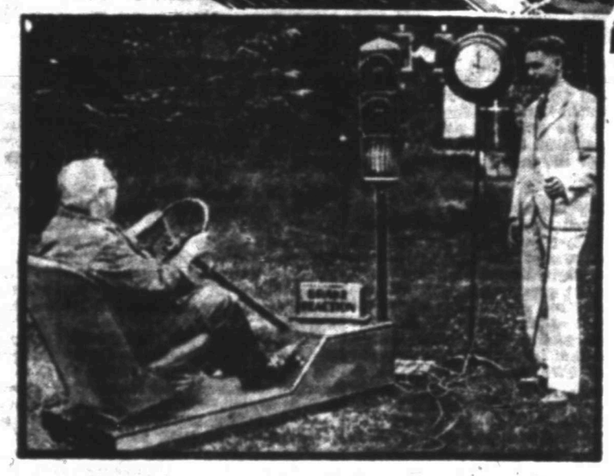

WE have taken much of the danger out of the purely mechanical elements of motor traffic. Breaks in vital parts of cars at critical moment are very rare occurrences nowadays. Roads are engineered for safety even at high speeds. But similar controls have not yet been applied to the third and most important factor in traffic danger—"the nut that holds the steering wheel."

True, before a driver is licensed (in states where licenses are required) he is taken out for a test run in traffic, made to park his car and unpark it, asked some questions out of a book. And that is supposed to qualify him. (In practice, applicants are not often disqualified.)

But that sort of test is merest rule-of-thumb. If a good mechanic should just look at a car, listen to its engine, twist the wheel and fiddle with the brakes, and say "She's all right," or if an engineer should walk down a stretch of highway and render his report from appearances only, that would be about the equivalent of the kind of tests would be drivers get today.

At last, however, a good beginning is being made on this urgent business of getting up some real tests of a would-be driver's actual ability to drive a car safely. At the Massachusetts State College, Amherst, Mass., Dr. Harry Reginald De Silva, psychologist and student of traffic problems, has been at work for some months, with the aid of a very competent corps of engineers and mechanics.

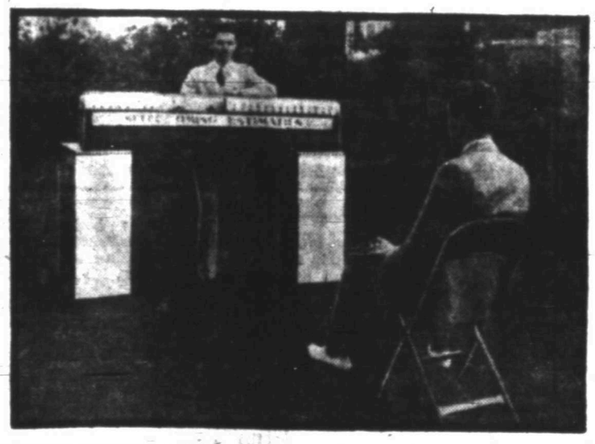

His work is by no means finished, but enough progress has been made to enable him to make some tests with confidence that they are really yielding reliable quantitative estimates of various physical and psychological factors that enter into driving skill.

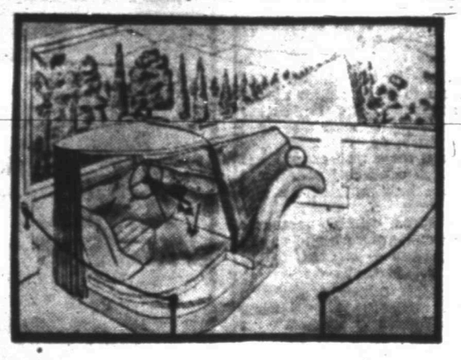

How quick are you on the brakes? This apparatus gives you a test under realistic conditions, but without costing you a bent bumper or ruined radiator.

Do you dread night driving? This box contains a realistic test of your ability to see a pedestrian against the glare of approaching headlights.

By estimating the speeds of two miniature cars, you show in this test whether it is safe for you to pass other cars on the road. . . . At the left is the realistic set-up for the final "roadscape" test.

DR. DE SILVA disclaims exclusive credit for all he has put into his newly published report. While he and his aides have been the original inventors of some of the apparatus and procedures used, ideas and techniques have been freely adopted out of other men's work where they would help. And the entire job has been done as an FERA project: it bears the prosaic number XS—F2—U25.

The tests endeavor to analyze the complex performance we call driving skill into its separate elements, such as braking, steering, judgment of speed and timing, correctness of sight and hearing. There are also other general tests, that require the subject to use several or all of his driving-skill factors at once, just as he does on the road.

Dr. De Silva carries his psychology outside the laboratory. He realized that if hundreds of ordinary car users are to be interested in taking these tests, they must see some connection between them and actual run-of-the-road driving problems. So he made his various pieces of testing apparatus as authentically "car-flavored" as he could.

He used actual steering wheels, brake and clutch pedals, gear shifts, seats, windshields. In miniature moving landscapes, or "roadscapes" as he calls them, he introduced images of cars, trucks, busses, pedestrians, and so on, and employed visual aids to make the illusion of full size and full speed as persuasive as possible.

This illusion of reality is being carried to an extreme in one piece of apparatus now being completed. The driver will be trying to work his way through a maze of highway traffic. Somewhere his judgment or skill will fail him, and he will have a collision.

At this instant, the miniature windshield before him will splinter inward with a crash. It will be fixed so that the driver will not be harmed, but it will enable the tester to get a record of what his behavior might be in a really frightening emergency.

THE first of Dr. De Silva's tests is the braking reaction test.

The driver sits on the seat of a late-type light car, with the wheel and controls in their regular positions. Before him is a standard traffic light. Its lights are electrically controlled so that they will change at irregular intervals. When the red light flashes on, the driver must push down his brake pedal as quickly as he can. Electrical recording devices time him.

The time in which drivers get their foot off the accelerator and down on the brake varies astonishingly. Dr. De Silva has found individuals who can do it in a quarter of a second, others who take almost a whole second to get on their brakes.

Braking reaction times seem to be inherent in the individual. Training may speed them up slightly, but it never improves them much. So far as braking is concerned, then, the best thing to do is learn your limitations and govern your future conduct accordingly.

Next are the steering tests. In the miniature steering test apparatus, you look out through a windshield on a ribbon of road. In order to keep on the moving road and take curves correctly, the driver must use his steering wheel exactly as he does in a real automobile. Steering ability is measured in terms of the percentage of time that you can stay in your lane during the minute of the test period.

In the full-sized driving test, you sit in the driver's seat of a modern closed car, manipulating the controls exactly as you would on the road. Here again, the car tends to drift, and you must correct this with your steering wheel.

In the next test, for speed and timing estimation, you stand by the side of the road (a section of a miniature road) and watch a model car coming up behind another car. Before it overtakes the one in front the two cars disappear behind a low screen bearing a scale.

You give your estimate as to the exact spot where the pass-by will take place. If you can't estimate this within reasonably close limits, you're a menace to traffic if you try to do any high-speed passing, even on a straight road.

THEN come several visual tests. The most interesting, to an outsider, is the glare-blindness test.

You look into a box showing a highway scene. A pair of glaring headlights stare at you, half-blinding you. Somewhere, up front in your path, is a pedestrian. You are supposed to brighten the headlights, on your own "car," until you can see him. Many otherwise competent drivers are so sensitive to glare that they are unsafe on the highway at night.

Other tests for vision are for depth perception, important in judging the distance away of objects you are approaching; movement sensitivity, which enables you to tell whether you can perceive moving objects as readily as the average person; and, "tunnel vision." This latter is for persons who have "single-track eyes," who see badly or not at all "out of the corner of their eyes."

Tunnel vision is undoubtedly responsible for many sideswipings and intersection collisions. The driver at fault may be cursed as a road-hog by his victim, but it may be nothing more culpable than a sight defect he did not even know about.

Hearing, similarly, is important, since not to hear a warning signal from a passing car, or a locomotive whistle, might be disastrous. So a test for hearing is included.

FINALLY there are the "general" tests—the miniature highway test, and the moving picture driving test—where you must use all your several skills as one co-ordinated whole. That, after all, is what you have to do on the road: you have to steer, use brakes, look, listen, and otherwise "drive your car" with everything you've got.

These tests put you in charge of a car's controls, and shoot at you a flowing ribbon of road, with all kinds of mixed traffic—cars, busses, trucks, pedestrians; road-hogs, timid souls, your own car "acting up," and all the other difficulties you are likely to encounter on the road. You run into more traffic troubles in three minutes in this test than you are going to meet in a year of normal driving. If you can pass this test, you are fairly safe to trust on the road.

The tests, when finally completed, will even follow you into traffic, however. Dr. De Silva has a set of recording devices designed for application to an actual running car, which will provide a story of the driver's physical and psychological states and reactions in the real traffic of the streets.

Dr. De Silva's tests have already been tried out on 10,000 persons — drivers of ordinary cars, bus and truck drivers, young and old, men and women. Some of his subjects have arranged to come back at intervals for re-testing, to guage their improvement—if any.

The devices used in the tests can also be used as training mechanisms for persons learning how to drive cars, just as similar contrivances are used in aviation schools before a candidate is permitted to take a flight. It may be that future motor rules will not permit a man or woman to drive a car on the road until he has proved his ability on scientific apparatus in the laboratory which will measure and not merely guess at his degree of driving skill.

An Easterner dropped into Ft. Worth the other day and was talking to one of his native friends when a bandy-legged West Texan, wearing high heeled boots and a ten-gallon hat, passed by.

THE election is over. The people have been heard in certain terms. In a day or so we'll all be back to normalcy.

That is well.

Lubbock has much to do. Every citizen in it has plenty to think of. And we'd better all be about our business, because good times are in the offing.

Both sides in yesterday's election should be commended by every right-thinking citizen—no matter which ticket he supported—for keeping the campaign on such a decent plane.

In doing so, candidates and their friends left no nasty wounds which are hard to heal and sometimes retard a community's progress.

The Plainsman, for one—and there are plenty like him—wants to pay tribute to B. E. Needles. He impressed supporters and friends alike by his good sportsmanship in running an advertisement congratulating his victorious opponent, Ross Edwards. Ross, a fine fellow in the words of friend and enemy alike, was fully as magnanimous in his remarks concerning Mr. Needles after and before the votes were counted. If they both are satisfied, so ought everyone else be. And while The Plainsman hasn't heard about it, he would not be surprised that other winners and losers are taking the same stand toward their opponents as are Ross and Bennie.

POLITICS is just a game, like any other sort of a contest and when players leave the field they should drop their fights and squabbles which arise while each set is trying to win.

As far as this column is concerned, good men were elected and good men were defeated.

Winners and losers alike look the same to The Plainsman today as they did before announcements of candidacies were made and lines were drawn.

We've got a good town here; a promising town; a coming town.

It needs us all—no matter how we may feel about issues, real or imaginary.

Let's get back to work and forget yesterday, all hands around!

In the six months or more it has been on, the Italo-Ethiopian war has produced no great song. That's particularly strange, considering how well "Haile Selassie" would fit into a yodel.

THE Dallas News, which formerly sniffed at printing anything less important than a world court protocol or the latest doings of the League of Nations, recently blossomed forth with a picture of a beautiful Texas lass, clad in silk overalls and posing with a new type of wheelbarrow used in building the Centennial's Central exposition "pavilions."

The new type wheelbarrow has balloon rubber tires, which The News pointed out could be pushed so much easier over rough ground, so we presume either the state or federal government pays for them.

Imagine any good, old McGinty, O'Shaunessy, or O'Toole pushing a balloon-tired wheelbarrow!

Hell rather push a baby buggy!

Over in columns 7 and 8 on this page, take note of a letter to The Plainsman from Frank Holland, jr., about Lubbock's reaction to the Holland's magazine "Trails to the Texas Centennial" map.

The Plainsman has read the advance proof on the magazine's Centennial story, which Mr. Holland refers to, and since we had no hesitancy in criticising Holland's for its "map bust," neither do we have any hesitancy in reporting that the article, to be published in the magazine's June number, is very fair.

In fact, Texas Tech and Lubbock are most favorably mentioned, along with all other parts of West Texas and one of the pictures illustrating the story is of a branding outfit on the Garza county range of the U-Lazy-S ranch, bossed by Jay Slaughter, of Post.

The article does not "bear down" on Dallas and the Central exposition at all, and all parts of the state appear to us to have been fairly served.

To Holland's magazine for its story, a huzza.

WARY voters will make a mental note to "scratch" any candidate who tries to angle their votes by "promising" 30 bucks a month for "every old person in Texas over 65 years."

Such a "promise" is like most election "promises" in that it's "Bull Moose" stuff — one-third "moose" and two-thirds "bull." Unlike some such "promises" it can be spiked in advance—and has been admirably spiked by Julian Capers, an Austin reporter-columnist.

In his weekly column on state affairs, headed "Nobody's Business," Mr. Capers points out:

"Posturing office-seekers, who glibly promise '$30 a month pensions for all of the old folks' and carp at the restrictions set up under the state law which require applicants to show need for a pension, might well examine the constitutional amendment, the state law itself, and the regulations of the federal social security board, which puts up half of the pension money. Under the terms of the federal social security act, states qualifying for the federal constitution must meet the regulations of the board, which limits its aid to 'aged, needy individuals.' Any blanket pensioning of all persons over 65 by Texas or any other state would immediately deprive the pensioners of $15 per month each, the federal contribution. Investigation of applicants, required by Texas law, is also a requirement of the social security board. The existing setup for pension administration in Texas was submitted by Director Orville Carpenter to the board in Washington, and its approval obtained, before it was organized, fulfilling another requirement for federal funds. Total applications for pensions have reached 145 000. Federal census figures indicate far fewer persons in Texas over 65, indicating that many of those who have applied for pensions will be found ineligible."

Readers might well paste Mr. Capers' remarks in their hats. The information may come in handy later in separating the sheep from the goats.

This Library Files World's Sounds And Scenes; Enormous Collection Of Recorded Views, Noises Rented To Studios

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 8 — Movie makers don't send out camera expeditions when they need action shots of angry apes in Africa, or seals frolicking on Alaskan rocks or South Sea Islanders trading for calico.

Neither do they dispatch sound trucks to record cathedral chimes, or waves pounding a coral reef, or the clatter of wooden shoes in a Holland marketplace. They just send a messenger to Hollywood's General Film Library, where there's an almost priceless collection of 20,000,000 feet of film, silent and noisy.

The library has just about everything, all for rent at the tidy figure of $2.50 a foot. "Send us a hundred feet of wind in a schooner's rigging," orders a studio. Or, "Please rush one dynamite blast, 50 feet of dog-fight, and 200 feet of cavalry crossing wooden bridge."

There are scenes from all over the world—Eskimos spearing fish, mountain climbers skipping from Alp to Alp, miners grubbing in tunnels, Orientals at prayer, diamond cutters at their wheels.

One of the six big film vaults contains only historical shots salvaged from ancient news reels. There are scenes of New York's 1900 Easter parade, of President McKinley's funeral, of the Wright brothers learning to fly.

Earthquake Trapped

Sounds, recorded on film tracks and stored in cans, range from an earthquake's roar of devastation (recorded at Long Beach, Calif., in 1933) to a cricket's chirp. In between are horse laughs, running feet, children yelling, monkeys chattering, water splashes, and owl hoots.

There are sounds of pandemonium from chicken coops, dog barks (all breeds), baby cries (all ages), mob thunder, cheers, applause. Sheep bleat, clocks tick, fires crackle, trains roar, and even the breathing of a tiger is recorded for use in feature films.

15-Years' Job

The sights and sounds have been gathered and indexed over a period of 15 years by a Mr. Morris M. Landres, short, bespectacled, and bushy-haired former civil engineer.

He has his own staff of cameramen who travel about collecting modern scenes. Most of the sounds have been recorded by his own technicians.

It's a serious business with Landres, who doesn't crack a smile even while explaining the varieties of door slamming. He has violent slams and medium slams, front and back door slams, slamming of heavy doors and slamming of screen doors. To the practiced ear, he says, they're all quite different.

When the rental business is dull, Landres patches together short films of his own, such as "Wild Women of Borneo." He pasted that up out of stock shots which were going to waste in the library.

Super Blurb

Individuals in the flicker business seem to be in almost unanimous agreement that trailers are bad advertising because they take up too much of the customers' time, offend them with extravagant claims which can't be justified, and tip off the best parts of the pictures to come. Yet trailers—those blinding blurbs which, incongruously enough, precede and do not trail a picture — continue to be made.

A super-epic, colossal trailer with a bit of different twist is being made for "Anthony Adverse." It will have its own script and cast and director, and some of the scenes will be specially shot on location. An independent producer could make a whole "quickie" feature for what that will cost.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

GOP'S, DEMOCRATS AND HUGO BLACK

Republicans and Democrats in Washington are carefully watching Senator Hugo Black's next move. And the amusing part about it is, half the Democrats agree with half the Republicans in hoping Black will do what they think he is going to do—and the other halves of the two parties join in hoping he won't!

It all has to do with Senator Black's investigating committee shooting the white light of publicity of the "Grass Roots" Democratic parley held a little while back in Georgia, in which Governor Eugene Talmadge convinced all who hadn't already realized the fact that he had nothing on the ball except a lot of wind. According to Senator Black's "dope", the American Liberty league and the Delaware duPonts paid the bill for the "Grass Roots" conference and if he can bring that out the fur will fly.

What is causing the split in both Republican and Democratic ranks is that neither the duPonts, the league, nor Senator Black has any friends—who will admit it. The two schools of thought are:

1. Black's espousal of the New Deal will hurt the New Deal; and

2. Activities of the duPonts and the gold-plated league in Democratic ranks will unite the now separated wings of the party and result in a solid front for FDR as opposed to the "Yankee Moneybags".

If Black goes ahead with the investigation—as he says he will—the affair will be interesting to watch and will prove that after all, when the saving of personal skins is at stake, Republicans and Democrats can agree!

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The astonishing thing about the many millions which the "power trust" spends to hire Wall street lawyers and other corporation lawyers and lobbyists is not so much the size of the sum or the fact that stockholders and consumers have to foot the bill.

It's the fact that all the money seems to be going down the equivalent of a rathole. At any rate, that's what the record suggests to date.

The U. S. Supreme court, in turning down the illustrious and expensive John W. Davis himself, by refusing to hear a suit to test constitutionality of the public utilities holding company act, refused a writ of certiorari for the first time in a New Deal case and enormously strengthened the government's hand in the attempt to break up the holding company racket.

Delights New Dealers

Few know it, but the court has an unwriten rule that any time three justices want such a writ they can have one. This knowledge and the indication that at least seven justices sustained Solicitor General Stanley Reed's contention that the petition involving the American States Public Service Co. of Baltimore wasn't a fair test was what gravely depressed "power trust" lawyers and sent government attorneys into transports of delight.

The result is the New Deal lawyers will be able to present the act to the court in the best possible light, through their chosen suit against the huge Electric Bond & Share Co., which is charged with violation through failure to register with the Securities and Exchange commission. Decision on this case —and the act—is expected next winter.

Utility Lawyers Routed

Other notable instances wherein high-priced utility lawyers have come to grief have been in the TVA test, where the supreme court held for the government, and in the Greenwood county case, where the circuit court of appeals flattened out Newton D. Baker's contention on behalf of the Duke Power company that PWA loans and grants to municipalities for public power plants were unconstitutional.

Heavy stockholders in the Alabama Power company who agreed to chip in at so much a share to pay Lawyer Forney Johnston of Birmingham for arguing the case against TVA are said to be balking since they learned that Johnston was also drawing $50 000 from the Edison Electric Institute.

The Duke Power company's suit is one of many and because it asked for a 30-day stay of the appellate court's decree, the PWA loan-grant power plant issue probably won't be decided by the supreme court before next year.

New Deal lawyers assert that the delay is due to a desire by power companies to stave off final decision as long as possible, meanwhile tying up work on such projects, which are designed to relieve unemployment.

Credit Due Jerome Frank

If the supreme court upholds the circuit court of appeals on the Greenwood county case, the result will be final triumph for Jerome Frank, a lawyer who probably has had a finger in more New Deal legislation than any other brain truster.

Frank lost his job as general counsel for AAA because he fought too persistently for the interests of farmers, consumers, and sharecroppers as against conservative, special privilege-seeking forces.

Transferred to RFC, he became unpopular with Chairman Jesse Jones by his belligerent championship of taxpayers and bondholders against such interests as the Van Sweringens, Kuhn-Loeb, and Morgan.

Frank finally decided to return to private practice, but Secretary Ickes retained him as special counsel in PWA power cases. The Greenwood county case had been badly botched by PWA, lost in federal court, and appealed to the court of appeals.

Frank snatched the case back from the higher court, reargued it on new grounds, and won a brilliant victory.

THE BOOMERANG CLUE
BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS: While playing golf with Dr. Thomas, Bobby Jones discovers a man lying injured at the bottom of a chasm. The doctor goes for help, and while he is gone the man mutters, "Why didn't they ask Evans?" and dies. Bobby had promised to play the organ for his father, who is vicar of Marchbolt, and when a pleasant stranger shows up he gladly relinquishes his vigil and skips for the church. But he has seen a photograph in the man's pocket, the face of which has a strange, haunting beauty.

Chapter Three

ENTER FRANKIE

"Sorry, Dad," Bobby broke in, speaking cheerfully and breezily as was his habit no matter what the subject. "Not my fault this time. I was keeping guard over a corpse."

"You were what?"

"Keeping guard over a blighter who stepped over the cliff. You know—the place where the chasm is, by the seventeenth tee. There was a bit of mist just then, and he must have gone straight on and over."

"Good heavens," cried the Vicar. "What a tragedy! Was the man killed outright?"

"No. He was unconscious. He died just after Dr. Thomas had gone off. But of course I felt I had to squat there — couldn't just push off and leave him. And then another fellow came along, so I passed the job of chief mourner on to him and legged

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

HOLLAND'S MAGAZINE REPLIES ON MAP

Dear Plainsman: Your favor of April 1 to Joe Kempton has been referred to me for the reason that Mr. Kempton was stricken on December 1 with angina pectoris. You will be glad to know that he will recover, but its is a slow business.

Naturally, we regret the interpretation you and other Lubbock citizens placed on the map used in the circular soliciting subscriptions to Holland's in Lubbock. Of course it is hard for us to understand your editorial in view of the impartial attitude of everyone connected with this organization. It is true that Farm and Ranch is owned by the same company that owns Holland's; but no map of the kind used in the Holland's circulars has been used in any way with Farm and Ranch.

Incidentally, Farm and Ranch was 53 years old on the day your letter was written. My father moved it from Austin to Dallas in 1885, and Holland's was started with the August number in 1905. Neither publication has ever been partisan or local. Holland's circulation goes into 15 Southern states; and it has enjoyed, does enjoy, and hopes to continue to enjoy a good circulation in West Texas.

The map used in the circular was in no wise intended to be a complete road map. We are all well aware of the tremendous importance of Lubbock and other West Texas cities to the State of Texas as a whole. In fact, I, as well as some of our editors, am accused around here of spending more time in West Texas than in any other section.

Many months before the site of the Central exposition was decided on, the editorial department of Holland's laid its plans; in fact, this was done as far back as July, 1934. We have supported the Centennial as a state institution all along. We would have supported the Central expedition with just as much enthusiasm, no matter what city had been selected; for, as I have said, we are not local or partisan in any way, and West Texas means just as much to us as does any part of the state or the South.

Several months ago, one of our staff wrote the story of the Centennial, which will appear in the June issue of Holland's. This story deals not only with the Central exposition at Dallas, but even more with the rest of the entire state. We hope it will be informative, not only to our more than 300,000 subscribers outside Texas, but to our Texas readers as well. A copy of this story is attached, and we shall appreciate very much your taking time to read it.

Yours very truly,
F. P. Holland, jr.,
Vice-President Holland's, The Magazine of the South.

(To Vice-President Frank Holland, thanks for the letter and advance proof of Centennial story which will be carefully perused. The Plainsman continues to wonder how the map "bust" slipped through in the first place and if it will be changed to show something between Plainview and Abilene, New Mexico and Wichita Falls except blank space.)

Uncle Sam To Play Host To Cuba's First Family

Evidence of his aim to cement the friendship between his country and the United States, as he promised Cubans before his election in January, President-Elect Miguel Mariano Gomez, his comely wife, Senora Arias, and their charming daughters, shown above in a recent photo, will spend a vacation of a few weeks in America. Sailing to Los Angeles from Panama, Gomez plans a 15-day stay on the west coast, then hopes to see President Roosevelt in Washington. Son of Cuba's second president and twice mayor of Havana, Gomez denies that an American loan is one of the objects of his visit. He will be inaugurated May 20.

it here as fast as I could."

The Vicar sighed.

"Oh, my dear Bobby!" he said. "Will nothing shake your deplorable callousness? It grieves me more than I can say. Here you have been brought face to face with death—with sudden death. And you can joke about it! It leaves you unmoved. Everything — everything however solemn, however sacred, is merely a joke to your generation."

Bobby shuffled his feet.

If his father couldn't see that of course you joked about a thing because you had felt badly about it—well, he couldn't see it! It wasn't the sort of thing you could explain. With death and tragedy about, you had to keep a stiff upper lip.

But what could you expect? Nobody over fifty understood anything at all. They had the most extraordinary ideas.

"I expect it was the War," thought Bobby loyally. "It upset them and they never got straight again."

"Sorry, Dad," he said with a clear-eyed realization that explanation was impossible.

The Vicar felt sorry for his son—he looked so abashed; but he also felt ashamed of him. The boy had no conception of the seriousness of life. Even his apology was cheery and impenitent.

They moved towards the Vicarage, each making enormous efforts to find excuses for the other.

The Vicar thought, "I wonder when Bobby will find something to do. . . ."

Bobby thought, "Wonder how much longer I can stick it down here. . . ."

Yet they were both extremely fond of each other.

* * *

Bobby did not see the immediate sequel of his adventure. On the following morning he went up to town, there to meet a friend who was thinking of starting a garage and who fancied that Bobby's co-operation might be valuable.

After settling things to everybody's satisfaction Bobby caught the 11:30 train home two days later. He caught it, true, but only by a very narrow margin.

He arrived at Paddington when the clock announced the time to be 11:28, dashed down the subway, emerged on No. 3 platform just as the train was moving, and hurled himself at the first carriage he saw, heedless of indignant ticket-collectors and porters in his immediate rear.

Wrenching open the door, he fell in on hands and knees, picked himself up, the door was shut with a slam by an agile porter, and Bobby found himself looking at the sole other occupant of the compartment.

It was a first-class carriage and in the corner facing the engine sat a dark girl smoking a cigaret. She had on a red skirt, a short green jacket and a brilliant blue beret, and despite a certain resemblance to an organ-grinder's monkey (she had long, sorrowful, dark eyes and a puckered-up face) she was distinctly attractive.

In the midst of an apology, Bobby broke off.

"Why, it's you, Frankie!" he said. "I haven't seen you for ages."

"Well, I haven't seen you. Sit down and talk."

Bobby grinned. "My ticket's the wrong color."

"That doesn't matter," said Frankie kindly. "I'll pay the difference for you."

"My manly indignation rises at the thought," said Bobby. "How could I let a lady pay for me?"

"It's about all we seem to be good for these days," said Frankie.

"I will pay the difference myself," said Bobby heroically as a burly figure in blue appeared at the door from the corridor.

"Leave it to me," said Frankie.

She smiled graciously at the ticket-collector, who touched his hat as he took the piece of white cardboard from her and punched it.

"Mr. Jones has just come in to talk to me for a bit," she said. "That won't matter, will it?"

"That's all right, your ladyship. The gentleman won't be staying long, I expect." He coughed tactfully. "I shan't be round again till after Bristol," he added significantly.

"What can be done with a smile!" said Bobby as the official withdrew.

Lady Frances Derwent shook her head thoughtfully.

"I'm not so sure it's the smile," she said. "I rather think it's Father's habit of tipping everybody five shillings, whenever he travels that does it."

"I thought you'd given up Wales for good, Frankie."

Frances sighed. "My dear, you know what it is. You know how mouldy parents can be. What with that, and the bathrooms in the state they are, and nothing to do and nobody to see — and people simply won't come to the country to stay nowadays! They say they're economizing and they can't go so far. Well, I mean, what's a girl to do?"

Bobby shook his head, sadly recognizing the problem.

"However," went on Frankie, "after the party I went to last night, I thought even home couldn't be worse."

"Nothing at all, it was just like any other party only more so. We had dinner at the Savoy, and we went on from there to the Marionette, and we went on from there to the Bull Ring—I tell you, Bobby, it's not good enough."

Tomorrow there will be an inquest in Marchbolt.

Girl's Slaying Is Believed Solved

BIRMINGTON, Ala., April 8 (AP) The slaying of Vivian Woodward, 19, at Huntsville, Ala., March 28, was listed as solved today by officers who said Walter Miller, 38, a negro arrested in Terre Haute, Ind., had confessed to the killing.

State Highway Patrolman H. H. Linch said the negro admitted attacking and fatally beating Miss Woodward as she returned from a movie.

A description sent out from Huntsville resulted in the negro's capture at Terre Haute on Saturday night. Four other negroes who were seized by a crowd at Huntsville after the attack and rescued by officers, still were in the county jail here.

CHILD IS KILLED

STRAWN, April 8 (AP)—Madalyn Rogers, 8, was killed Tuesday when she was struck by an automobile as she and a companion, Mary Lou Mitchell, 8, attempted to cross a street here.

The Mitchell girl was knocked down but not seriously injured.

ALLOWABLE REDUCED

AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—The railroad commission has reduced the per well allowable of five wells on the Texas side of the interstate Rodessa oil field from 400 to 350 barrels daily.

CRUDE OUTPUT IS LOWERED

FEBRUARY PRODUCTION IS BELOW THAT OF JANUARY TOTAL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The bureau of mines reports the nation's daily average crude petroleum production in February was 2,831,700 barrels, compared with 2,865,000 barrels in January and 2,598,700 barrels in February, 1935.

The bureau reported a sharp decrease in the California output was almost offset by an increase in Texas. Officials said California's production had been above 650,000 barrels daily since last September but in February curtailment efforts were "noticeably successful" and production dropped from 680,100 barrels in January to 578,400 barrels. Texas' daily average jumped from 1,066,400 barrels in January to 1,124,000 barrels. Louisiana's new record was 189,800 barrels daily, of which Rodessa yielded 37,000 barrels from 75 wells.

Withdrawal Increases

The bureau said increased crude runs were reflected in the trend of crude stock, the daily withdrawal increasing from 1,550,000 barrels in January to 2,269,000 barrels in February.

The daily average domestic demand for motor fuel in February was 945,000 barrels, 1,000 barrels higher than the previous month. The bureau said exports of motor fuel declined materially in February but remained above the 1935 level.

Increase in motor-fuel stocks in February was the largest in history despite the short month, the bureau declared, stocks of finished and unfinished gasoline rising from 62,613,000 barrels to 71,604,000 barrels.

The bureau of labor statistics told the bureau of mines the price index for crude products for February was 55.7 compared with 54.4 for January and 48.7 in February, 1935.

Stocks of all oils were shown by the bureau to have increased 1,583,000 barrels in February compared with a decrease of 365,000 barrels in February and an increase of 2,922,000 barrels in February, 1935.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

VOTE IS HELD OVER STATE

CITY ELECTIONS WERE HELD TUESDAY IN MANY CITIES

(By The Associated Press)

Little political significance aside from local issues developed in municipal elections over Texas Tuesday.

Results included:

Gainesville — Three candidates pledged to sponsor erection of a municipal light plant were elected aldermen. They were Reece A. Hays, reelected; W. A. Hensley and J. B. Tanner.

Pledged For City Plant

Brownwood—Voters favored almost four to one a council pledged to grant an electric light and power franchise to R. O. Mathews, Brownwood business man. The Texas Power & Light company has fought moves favoring the new franchise. Mayor W. H. Thompson was reelected over four opponents.

Huntsville—A record vote in which Dr. E. W. Anderson defeated C. F. Adickes, present alderman, was reported. Other candidates were unopposed.

Civic Leaguers Win

Waco—Civic league candidates, Dr. C. G. Catto, Jim Clark and Lester Levy were elected city commissioners over two opposing tickets.

Paris—Mayor J. Morgan Crook was reelected but five new aldermen were chosen.

New Braunfels—Mayor Hilmar Fischer was reelected, winning over Walter Sippel by a small margin.

Mayor Defeated

Olney—Morriss Hannis, present street commissioner, defeated Mayor Edwin Hill, who sought reelection.

Weatherford—Mayor G. A. Holland was reelected, receiving eight votes more than his two opponents.

Pampa—Mayor W. A. Bratton and the city commission were reelected.

Cisco—R. W. Winston, H. C. Henderson and J. R. Burnett were reelected city commissioners.

Chief Reelected

Mineral Wells—J. E. Lawrence was reelected chief of police, defeating C. M. Thompson. Other candidates were unopposed.

Coleman—The city commission, composed of Mayor E. P. Scarborough and Commissioners H. H. Scott and C. H. Shore, was returned to office.

Corsicana—John P. Garitty and J. Harry Burke were elected to the city commission. Garitty was a candidate for reelection.

NEW SLATE OF OFFICERS AT WICHITA

WICHITA FALLS, April 8. (AP)—Political power in Wichita Falls Tuesday changed hands with the election of a mayor and four aldermen on a ticket definitely opposed to the policies of the party which had held full control for the past two years. The vote for the new ticket was overwhelming, with a majority of more than 2 to 1 for all five candidates.

Judge W. E. Fitzgetald was elected mayor in opposition to Mack Taylor, leader of the party formerly in power. Aldermen elected included Edwin Bebb, Roy Bryan, H. J. Naylor and Frank Wolf.

The new party won on a platform of political harmony, homestead tax exemptions, and improvement of the city's water supply.

NEW COMMISSION IS NAMED AT ANGELO

SAN ANGELO, April 8. (AP)—San Angelo Tuesday elected an entire new city commission for two years; Dorsey Hardeman, mayor; Frank Duckworth, commissioner No. 1, and Dodd Price, commissioner No. 2. Sixty per cent of the voting strength was registered in the ballot.

VOTERS KNOW ABOUT RELIEF, SO THE 'IDEAL ISSUE' GETS HOT IN CAMPAIGN

BY BYRON PRICE
Associated Press Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The issue of federal relief at last is assuming that special prominence which far-seeing politicians long have forecast for it.

The current struggle in congress is deep-seated and severe; but it is only a circumstance to what many on both sides expect once the campaign swings into full stride.

Mr. Roosevelt's message, asking for another $1,500,000,000 for the works progress administration, scarcely could have been better timed to produce controversy. It found the critics of WPA already going into action on many fronts, and WPA itself vehemently denying charges of gross inefficiency, impractical methods and political manipulation.

Should Draw Distinction

One definite distinction should be drawn. Few of those who object to the President's policies think further relief expenditures can be avoided, or regard the sum requested as necessarily excessive. The opposition does object vigorously to the way the money is being handled.

Thus the finger of controversy is pointed rather directly at Harry L. Hopkins, into whose hands this vast spending operation was put by Mr. Roosevelt. Aside from the principal candidates themselves, Mr. Hopkins promises to be exhibit No. 1 of the campaign.

A Natural Issue

This has come about by a process of natural evolution. Sooner or later, in the judgment of the political seers, relief was bound to come to the front because, in a field of complicated issues, this was one issue everyone knew about.

The constitution, the monetary policy, even the farm problem seems remote to many voters. The new tax program is designed to touch only a small percentage.

But everybody in every community knows about relief. He either has direct contact with it, or he has seen its operation, or heard it discussed objectively in even the smallest gathering of his friends.

Delayed By Circumstances

Its emergence as an overshadowing issue, which might logically have been expected much earlier in 1936, was delayed by force of circumstances. The President's decision to postpone his relief recommendation was followed by a season of engrossment in such issues as the bonus, farm aid, taxation. The delay has only accentuated the final impact.

Similarly in previous phases of the Roosevelt administration, various predecessors to Mr. Hopkins have played temporarily the role of exhibit No. 1. First it was Professor Moley around whom the controversy centered. Then it was General Johnson, then Dr. Tugwell. Now, unquestionably, it is Mr. Hopkins.

Watch Hopkins

In view of this, everything Mr. Hopkins does henceforth will come under the closest political scrutiny.

A great deal of the evidence on both sides still is undisclosed. No one denies that the vast relief undertaking involved many inevitable difficulties. Until all the facts are known, it will remain an open dispute whether these difficulties are sufficient to excuse some of the things which have happened.

It would be a gratifying thing to the country if so important a subject could be talked out calmly and judiciously, without partisan or temperamental outbursts on the part of Mr. Hopkins or any of his critics. But that probably is too much to expect in a campaign year.

South American honey bees cannot sting. They drive off an intruder by swarming into his eyes, nose, ears, and hair, and crawling under his clothing.
