3 Trainees Leave; Draft Quota For March Set At 5

This county's draft quota for February was filled Thursday, February 6, when three young volunteers left for the U. S. Army induction station at Lubbock. The group included Delbert Clyde Lee, J. C. Scott, Jr., and Weldon Gamel Sullivan.

At the same time, J. N. Wallace, clerk of the draft board, announced that three replacements were scheduled to leave Wednesday, February 12, for their year's selective service training.

The next regular call for this county will be March 4, when five men will be selected. This is the fifth call since the registration of the young men of the nation Oct. 16.

Replacements to leave Wednesday were James Asa Reeves, Jewel Leslie Aldridge, and Paul Riley. Reeves holds Order No. 1 for this county, but due to the number of volunteers, he had not been sent previously. Aldridge has Order No. 17, while Riley is a volunteer.

Men wishing to volunteer to fill the March quota still have time to do so, Mr. Wallace pointed out.

The five leaving here at that time will go directly to Fort Bliss at El Paso, rather than to the induction station at Lubbock.

Community House Is Given Approval By State W. P. A.

CHURCHILL PLAYS HOST TO HOPKINS

In England as President Roosevelt's personal representative, Harry Hopkins, right, accompanied Britain's Prime Minister, Winston Churchill on several tours of naval units and scenes of bomb damage.

Approval of the proposed Wellington Community House Project was made during the week end by the State W.P.A. office, and application, plans, specifications, and other necessary papers are now in the Washington office awaiting final approval, Mayor F. C. LeDerer announced Tuesday, February 11.

"We are confident the project will go through now," Mayor LeDerer said, "for it is very seldom that a project is turned down in the Washington office."

The papers of application were taken to the state office in San Antonio Friday by Bura Handley, city engineer, and Stanley Larsen, member of the city council. There they conferred with state WPA officials concerning the project.

"We should get definite approval of the project in about 30 days," Mayor LeDerer estimated.

After that, it is believed that actual construction work will get underway in another month.

Efforts to secure this community house for Wellington have been under way for the last year and a half. Twenty thousand dollars worth of bonds were approved by city voters last summer to finance the sponsor's share of the project. The remaining $70,000 necessary to build the house will come from W.P.A.

The community house will be erected on the lots located just south of the Collingsworth Motor Company. Plans call for it to be constructed of native rock. When completed, it will house a community auditorium where meetings of all types will be held; the city hall; city jail; fire department and dormitory for the firemen; as well as several other offices.

Buick SPECIAL 4-door Sedan, model 47, $1021.★

Here are FOUR NEW ADDITIONS to the BUICK SPECIAL Line that Compact Motorcar Bigness into Handy Size

TIME was when you measured a car's ability and standing by the yardstick distance from bumper to bumper.

But not any more — not entirely.

Not since Buick made ready the four new additions to its 1941 SPECIAL series that are built for big-car travel tastes — and small-car garages!

They are cars to take the measure of almost anything on the road in the lift and life of their 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL engines.*

They are cars with room for all the family, with all the little Buick

luxury touches, with the unrivaled comfort of Buick's all-coil springing and steady-going roadability

But bumper to bumper they are shorter — so they fit your garage, park like a bicycle and flit through traffic with ridiculous ease.

And they go farther on every gallon — farther, even, than other Buicks.

So you can't take their measure with a yardstick.

You've got to measure them by what they do for you — in the easier handling, the bigger thrill, the extra convenience they add.

And when you hear the prices on them — prices made lower by their new compactness—you'll find they measure up plenty BIG in the dollar-for-dollar value they put within your reach.

How about seeing them — now?

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

On February 28 and March 1, Wellington will be the scene of the best Project show ever held in the county. It will include exhibits of the FHT girls, the FFA and the 4H boys. Make your plans now to see it.

G. S. Dowell said that his boys would have more exhibits, but that the quality would not be as good as last year. However, it seemed to me that I could see his tongue sticking out the side of one cheek while he was talking.

I certainly do admire the work that is being done by the vocational agriculture teachers of this county. In my opinion, it is an important part of defense work, but it is valuable in time of peace as well as in war.

The City did an excellent job of cleaning the streets Tuesday night, but the grandpappa of all the sandstorms came up Wednesday just as the taxpayers were beginning to brag on the job.

Two buildings were being remodeled on The Leader block at the time the grandpappa came to town. The fronts of the United Gas office, Pope's Jewelry and Cooper's Studio were wide open. Farmers who have their crops blown out in June could sympathize with them, but a lot of them won't. Instead they will do just about like I do. When one of these things blows up, I think of Ed Bishop, Bill Miller and Van Stewart and have a good time congratulating myself on living in a place where there are not as many dust storms as there are in other places.

I found Kelly Pigg and a salesman for the Ford Company in a heated argument over whether or not Lindberg had a right to say what he did say. Kelly said he had that right. Naturally Kelly was correct. I do not agree with Lindbergh, but I most certainly think that he has a right to say what he thinks. I settled that in Kelly's favor, and then I got the salesman in a good humor by agreeing with him on the excellence of Churchill's speeches. All of which I was most anxious to do, because I wanted to sell Kelly Pigg an ad, which I did.

J. B. Wright, the accountant who formerly lived at Memphis and is now at Abilene, just left the office. He thinks that next year people who make as much as $800 a year will be charged a tax on their gross income—perhaps 1 per cent. That means you will pay an income tax whether you made any clear money or not.

Mr. Wright also believes that inflation in some controlled form will come sooner or later. He thinks folks should have their money in some kind of property. Ernest Lewis and Gene Lewis think this too. They have been putting their money into land.

If you have some property this is the time to improve it. Paint your house. Put new wallpaper on the walls. Put on a new roof. Do it even if you have to do it on a credit, and pay it out by the month. If you are going to buy a car or a tractor in the next three years, buy it in the next six months. Common sense should tell you not to extend your credit beyond your ability to pay, but it should also tell you that things will not be cheaper for the next two years.

Well, I am having a hard time finishing this column. Three members of The Leader force have been back in the last five minutes to say: "You can't even see the courthouse now." What do I want to see the courthouse for? I know where it is. What I want to do is to finish this column.

Orval Couch says that this is the only part of the paper he reads. I wouldn't admit it if I were in his place, but it does explain a lot about Orval.

J. M. Strong was in to tell us that he was going to conduct the drawing as usual in spite of the dust storm. (A big crowd assembled.) He saw a picture of Harry Koch on the wall, and he remarked that he used to deliver papers for him when Mr. Koch ran a daily paper in Quannah in 1901.

News in brief: Mary Clay paid $26.75 for a Cornish game rooster; Joe Baumgardner sold his lambs for the highest price he has ever received; Joe McWilliams, who

In fact, you can't even see the post office.

Elmore Dodson Is Rotary Speaker

Elmore Dodson of Dodson, honorary member of the Wellington Rotary Club, was speaker before that group at the regular luncheon Tuesday.

Mr. Dodson spoke informally, and related tales of pioneer cowboys and settlers in the Panhandle and Indian Territory.

Following Mr. Dodson's talk, the Rotarians discussed the proposed food stamp plan for this county. A committee to cooperate with the boys' and girls' Project Show on February 28 and March 1, was named, including L. A. Manzer, Sandy Parsons, Sr., Pink Sullivan, and Charlie Garrison.

Civil Service Opens Places For Mechanic-Learner

The United States Civil Service Commission announces open competitive examination for the position of Mechanic-Learner, $50.00 a month, to fill vacancies in the Air Corps, War Department, San Antonio Air Depot, Duncan Field, San Antonio, Texas.

This examination offers unusual opportunities to young men between the ages of 16 and 25 years to assist (in a learner's capacity), mechanics of a higher grade in the miscellaneous repair and manufacturing work on aircraft and aircraft engines.

Applications must be on file with the Manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, Louisiana, not later than February 18, 1941.

Additional information and application blanks may be obtained from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Post Office, Wellington, Texas, or from the Manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mrs. Strong, Sr., Attends Pioneer Club Meeting

By MRS. J. M. STRONG, SR.

(Editor's Note: Mrs. J. M. Strong, Sr., member of an outstanding pioneer family in Texas, has written an account of a trip made by her to Quannah to attend a meeting of the 1904 Club. Mrs. Strong lived in Quannah before coming to Wellington in 1911.)

On Friday morning, February 7, Mrs. Chester Fires and I went to Quannah to attend the thirty-seventh anniversary of the 1904 Club.

At 12:30 we drove to the First Presbyterian Church on South Main Street, where the meeting was held. We were welcomed by many pleasant friends and club members.

A lovely luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. Valentine decorations in the dining hall and on tables were carried out in beautiful arrangements. Large red hearts were used as centerpieces, with small red containers and filled with beautiful red carnations surrounding them. Place favors were small, red, heart-shaped boxes filled with mints. The three course luncheon was also carried out in the beautiful Valentine decorations.

A very interesting program followed the luncheon in which all the ex-presidents were called upon to give short talks. They gave a synopsis of the special work they carried out during their administration. There were nine ex-presidents present. After this followed a very interesting character sketch on O'Henry given by Mrs. Marshall. It was given in the style of Dr. I. Q. of radio fame. Mrs. Marshall then gave a book review on one of O'Henry's books. This concluded the program.

This club was organized on February 7, 1904, at the home of Mrs. Kate Alverson, who, with Mrs. Strong, were the only charter members present at this meeting. At the organization, I was elected president and served for two years.

The club has a very interesting history and has been active in civic and many other activities for the interest of the town. They have in their files minutes of every meeting and year books from 1904 to 1941, with the exception of 1917 and 1918 during the World War, at which time they did not publish year books.

Many letters were read from members and charter members living in faraway places. There were forty-five at the meeting and the club has a membership of thirty. Mrs. Alverson claims a very unusual and exceptional record as a member. Her membership is uninterrupted from 1904 to 1941. I believe that is the longest club membership that I have ever known, and she always manifests a lively interest in all the matters pertaining to the club.

At 3:30 o'clock we adjourned, each promising to be present on February 7, 1942. All present were delighted to have Mrs. Fires as a guest, and she is invited and expected to be present at next year's meeting.

Before signing off, I want to express my appreciation for the gracious manner in which Mrs. Fires made this pleasurable trip possible to me. To give a full day of one's time and the use of her car for the pleasure of one who can in no way return the favor is a kindness which I value beyond words to express. Mrs. Fires is a most gracious hostess, and many thanks to her.

Rocket Boxers Win From Miami

Taking six of the nine bouts fought, the Skyrocket boxers defeated the Miami team here Friday evening, February 7.

Highlight of the evening was the bout in which Leo Thompson, 165 pounds, decisioned Bruce of Miami. Bruce went down for the count of nine in the second but came back to complete the bout, although he went down twice again in the third round. This is the fourth time these boys have fought.

In the 65 pound division, Howard of Miami decisioned Eddie Crawley. Crawley went down for the count of one in the first round.

N. Kivelyn of Miami won by a decision from McPherson in the 75 pound division. Kivelyn proved to be one of the smoothest men on his team.

Dan Bevers of Wellington decisioned T. Graham in three fast rounds. Bevers, fighting out of his own division, won from a man nine pounds heavier and six inches taller than himself.

Winner of the 125 pound division was Kivelyn of Miami, who took the decision from Leroy Jones. In the same division, French of Wellington decisioned Nickel of Miami, and Van Pelt of Wellington won a decision over Hardin of Miami.

In a well-matched fight, Junior Young, in the 135 pound division, came back in the second and third rounds to decision Ramsay of Miami.

Also fighting in the 135 pound weight, Cummings of Wellington won an easy decision over M. Graham of Miami.

Food Matinee Benefits School Lunch Rooms

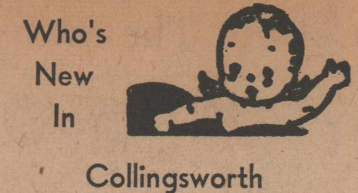

Six hundred thirteen cans of fruit and vegetables were collected at the show sponsored Tuesday, February 11, at the Ritz Theatre for the benefit of the hot lunch rooms for underprivileged school children of Wellington.

"We were mighty well pleased with the turnout. In fact, if there'd been many more children, we couldn't have handled them," Bill Turk, manager of the Ritz, said following the matinee.

Admission to the show for the matinee was one can of vegetables or fruit.

All of these will go to the WPA school lunch rooms, which are under the supervision of Mrs. A. C. Boverie.

While these lunch rooms feed free-of-charge all children who cannot otherwise afford nourishing food, a large number of other students who pay for their lunches are served.

Wheat Quotas May Be Set

That the first wheat quotas under the government farm program may be set this year was announced locally by J. C. Emmert, chairman of the AAA committee, after he, other members of the committee, and County Agent W. K. Cottingham returned from a two-day meeting in Amarillo February 4 and 5.

Other members of the committee are Tom Cunningham and Pat O'Hair.

Whether these quotas will be set will be determined by the secretary of agriculture after the government wheat report of May 1, and the marketing elections will be held around May 10.

Government wheat loans and crop insurance were also discussed at the meeting.

Concerning the wheat now under loan, Mr. Emmert stated that the maturation date on farm-stored wheat is ten months from the date on which the note was made. Three methods are given as caring for these loans: they may be paid off, the loan may be extended another ten months, or the wheat may be delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Loans on wheat stored in warehouses mature eight months from the date the loans were made, or on April 30, depending on which is the earlier date.

Methodist Church Makes Appeal For Emergency Fund

The Methodist Church in Wellington will participate in the Methodist Emergency Million Crusade, for which cause the collection plates of the 43,194 Methodist Churches of the nation will be passed on "Methodism's Day of Compassion," Sunday, March 2.

This is a nation-wide attempt to raise one million dollars to meet three war-caused appeals.

Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, pastor of the Wellington church, explained this week the three types of appeal which are consolidated in this movement:

(1) $250,000 is to be allotted to the religious and social well-being of young men in army camps and navy yards. Methodist chaplains within these camps will be aided with literature and equipment as needed from the fund. Churches nearby will be helped to meet their enlarged responsibility in ministering attractively to unusual numbers of youth during the critical hours of "leave." In some cases this fund will provide general Methodism's share in creating interdenominational social and religious centers to sustain and build character.

(2) $250,000 will be devoted to assist the mother church in England in temporarily easing some of the frightful situations involved in 150 bombed churches. Also, in the South and East of England there are parishes so dangerously located that almost the entire congregations have evacuated, leaving quite unprovided for the pastors who are staying to minister to those who remain. Other urgent needs grow out of the necessity of rescuing certain British Methodist missionary personnel and projects which are in jeopardy.

(3) $500,000 will continue and supplement the Methodist overseas relief now in progress; feeding, clothing and sheltering non-combatant war victims.

"Since war conditions make added demands on all regular missionary and philanthropic funds, both the national and local leaders of this campaign emphasize that this is an emergency offering and must not be allowed to block the flow of giving to the regular world service activities of the church, or the result will be the creation of new and equally serious problems," Rev. Kirby warned.

The national movement is led by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, retired, of Washington, D. C., who is supported by the Methodist Emergency Commission, composed of all the bishops and a representative number of prominent Methodist laymen, and ministers from all the six jurisdictions of the church.

Wilbur Earl Nation, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Earl Nation, Sr., eight months of age, is receiving medical treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital this week.

Exhibit Displays Arts-Craft Skill

The skill which may be acquired in a short period of time in the arts and crafts was shown in the display of work recently completed by girls of the NYA Arts and Craft Project in Wellington. This work was exhibited in the window of the LeDerer Hardware Co.

Mrs. Lwood Dow is supervisor of the project. Articles ranged from coveralls to costume jewelry. Attracting much attention from passers-by were the collections of articles made from wood—book ends, trays, and other useful items—and those from gyp rock, native to this section. Other items included knitted sweaters, operating uniforms, and pajamas for the Red Cross; hooked rugs from burlap sacks and snip rugs; and upholstered footstools from kegs and boxes. This is only one phase of work now being conducted by the girls of the project, Mrs. Dow pointed out.

PAYING FOR PRIVILEGE OF HELPING

A Dumas electrician is home after having made an attempt to do electrical work at a Texas Army Camp.

He couldn't work until he had kicked in with a union initiation fee amounting to around $200.00.

Not having the money, he had to come home. He eked out a few days on a three per cent payoff until a lull came on the job, while materials were waited for. Then, it was pay up or scat.

The housing program for the draftee army is far behind schedule. It seems that instead of using defense needs to spread employment, it is being used to build up the war chest of the organized few who have had good paying jobs all the time, even through the depression.

Taxes for defense are a grim necessity that few Americans will refuse to meet. Taxes on opportunity to work are getting prohibitive and repulsive to right thinking Americans everywhere.—Moore County News.

THE FUTURE OF THE CCC

More than 2,500,000 young men have passed through the Civilian Conservation Corps since 1933. Today there are more than a quarter million enrollees.

More than seven years' experience were available for the study which the American Youth Commission has made of the work of the CCC. Its conclusions are interesting. It believes that the idea of work camps has justified itself, but that it can be extended and made more valuable to the nation.

First the commission suggests that enrollment be no longer confined to families on relief; that it be transferred from the public assistance divisions of states to their employment offices, and considered as one alternative when a young man seeks work. It suggests that the boys of many families not in acute need would profit by a period in a work camp.

The commission sees the CCC as no longer a mere emergency measure to create a temporary social place for "unwanted youth," but as a permanent feature of the education and training of all youth who have not adjusted well to school environment or ordinary work-life. If conditions indicate continuance of "emergency" agencies like the CCC, it is certainly worth while to study means of getting out of them the maximum national benefits.

SHIP LOSS ESTIMATES

It is perhaps impossible to arrive at one trustworthy estimate of shipping losses suffered by various countries since the war began, but some figures compiled by the United States Maritime Commission may give some general idea of the extent of these losses.

This compilation includes merchant vessels only, and does not take into account losses of warships and auxiliary naval vessels such as trawlers, minesweepers and the like. The figures, incidentally, are considerably lower than those from British and German sources.

The Commission's estimate, covering the period from the outbreak of the war until December 7, 1940, lists a total of 964 vessels lost, aggregating 3,619,624 gross tons. British losses are placed at 436 ships of 1,767,851 tons; German losses at 70 ships of 386,630 tons, and Italian losses at 16 ships of 82,618 tons.

This would leave 442 ships of 1,382,525 tons to cover losses of France and neutral nations, which seems proportionately large, although it is known that many vessels of countries bordering on the Baltic were torpedoed or sunk by mines.

But even if Britain's losses were as great as two or three million tons, it does not seem that she should be badly crippled for it is known that she had more than 21 million tons at the outbreak of the war and has added some eight million tons since, through acquisition from other countries and her own new construction.

In the meantime, German and Italian merchant ships have been practically driven from the seas, except those in the Baltic and Mediterranean. Therefore, Britain's need for merchant vessels will hardly become urgent until much heavier losses occur.

ARE WE ALL DYNAMOS?

Quite frequently a particularly active and hard-working person is spoken of as a "human dynamo," but the term is popularly employed only in a figuratively sense, to indicate that the individual referred to is possessed of uncommon energy.

Now the researches and experiments of Dr. George W. Crile, world-famous surgeon of Cleveland, and his associates have led them to the conclusion that all persons are literally electric dynamos—that each of the 28 trillion cells in the human body is a tiny electric cell—that what we call life is really an electrical phenomenon.

Going deeper into the subject, Dr. Crile found evidence to indicate that the brain is the positive pole of the body machine, and that the liver is the negative pole, with the heart, stomach and lungs as accessories to the electrical operation of the two dominant organs.

When the body is in normal condition, a continuous flow of electrical energy is produced, but this becomes weaker through fatigue or exhaustion, and at death ceases altogether. Sleep permits the brain to reestablish its load of positive electricity, through a process somewhat similar to that of charging a battery. At least these are the theories advanced, with scientific explanations, in Dr. Crile's book entitled "A Bi-Polar Theory of Living Processes."

These investigations by Dr. Crile are in line with the theory that all matter and all life are varying manifestations of electricity.

A Brooklyn wife-beater was sentenced to kiss his spouse every day. Thus do the innocent suffer with the guilty.

Why Shirley Temple Jilted School For Films

Big movie news of the day is that Shirley Temple is coming back to the screen, faced with the problem of making good with boxoffice managers, who measure films not by their artistic merit, but by what they put into the cash box.

After six years on the screen, Shirley, at the mature age of 11, retired to private life and for nine happy months enjoyed the career of a normal school girl. She went to a special girls' school, danced at kids' parties, attended Campfire Girl meetings, won merit badges, snapped her friends with a miniature camera, wrestled with French, arithmetic and English literature, and picked out elementary lessons on the piano.

As she will be 12 on April 23, also the birthday of a bard named Shakespeare, she has had her rooms redecorated. They are no longer in approved nursery style, but more grown-uppy.

There's been a lot of talk to the effect that her release from her contract with 20th-Fox was the final proof she had outgrown her screen popularity, just as she had outlived her baby dimples. Metro does not think so, having recently written a year's contract whereby the poor little rich girl will get a paltry $2500 a week for 40 weeks.

Metro executives think the trouble has been not with the child star, but with the parts she was compelled to play. That, they think, explains why, after being No. 1 boxoffice star for four successive years, she dropped to fifth place before she "retired."

There are other things that encourage Metro. While Shirley has been going to school the past nine months, it has still been necessary to employ a secretary to handle her fan mail. Tourists in Talkietown still stare at her house and enthusiastic crowds still mob her when she appears in public places.

Ready to go back to the grind of movie work, Shirley today weighs all of 95 pounds and stands four feet eleven inches. Her baby blond hair has now turned to a dark brown.

Incidentally, she and Mother battle over that hair. Shirley wants to ditch the baby curls and wear her hair in a flowing shoulder length, just as she prefers to dress like her schoolmates: pleated skirt, sweater and oxfords.

Man's Reality In Religion

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 16.

Text: Luke 17:1-4, 11-19.

As Jesus continually emphasized in His teachings, it is not what one professes to be but what one is, that constitutes one's real faith and religion; and that it is not conventional religious rites and performances, but actual deeds of love and kindness, acts of forgiveness and gratitude, that are the fruits of real faith.

Here is this matter of forgiveness. To the Christian who is in any sense a realist it is at the very foundation of religious faith and action. The Gospel which is the very essence of Christianity is the good news of God's forgiving grace and love; and the Lord's Prayer, which is the Christian's most essential expression, links the forgiveness of man with the forgiveness of God. "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us."

Yet when we look around us and observe the masses of professing Christian people, how few are ready to show any real forgiveness in the presence of some real wrong done them, or are ready to forgive when the offender shows a repentant spirit! It was so in the time of Jesus. So, when a disciple asked Him how often a brother should offend and be forgiven He said "seven times"—not meaning just seven times literally, but teaching that in reality there was no limit to forgiveness, just as there is no limit to God's forgiving love.

But repentance, Jesus indicated, is necessary to make forgiveness effective. Willingness to forgive cannot alone effect reconciliation and restoration when wrong has been done. Wrong must be undone insofar as the offender can undo it. But to treasure up hate in one's heart, even against an unrepentant offender, is to make the injury to one's self all the greater. The true Christian will manifest a forgiving spirit as well as forgiveness in action.

Then there is the matter of gratitude. How apt we all are to take things for granted, failing to show either a grateful spirit or to give words of thanks.

Jesus struck at ingratitude with a dramatic incident. As He went into a village, 10 lepers met Him, standing afar off, as lepers were required to do. He healed them, and in their surprised rejoicing they went off to see the priest and have their cure confirmed. Perhaps it was natural that they should think only of the amazing thing that had happened and what it meant to them.

But one of the healed lepers improved on nature. Apparently swept on with his fellows, when he saw that he was healed, he turned back to give thanks, glorifying God. And he was a Samaritan—as much as to say in modern language, an outcast from orthodox religion and the church. Yet he was the man of true religion. When are we going to learn the lesson, that regardless of race, creed, color, or profession, it is the reality of what men are and what they do that constitutes their real religion?

I SAW

By V. A. R.

There's all the unmistakable signs of spring . . . discussion of new clothes and what colors will be stylish this spring . . . and how to take care of baby chicks and who's building a new brooder house . . . and what sort of flowers to plant that won't wilt down in the summer. With this I SAW

Robert Baumgardner, Andrew Hill, and Lloyd Holloway discussing the $3 each they'd have to pay for caps and gowns when they graduate in May. "Let's just show our personality and graduate without them," suggested Andrew.

A note from Minnie Atchley, who went to Cameron recently to teach. "I am eager to learn all the Wellington news. I am liking my new work fine. The country here is beautiful. Flowers of all kinds are in bloom, but I certainly miss my friends in Wellington."

A. A. Breedlove obviously doesn't take stock in superstition, for he gets his mail out of Box 13 at the post office.

Mrs. Dick Richards with a pot of lovely yellow jonquils, in full bloom.

Mrs. Heber Brantley bringing her tiny daughter, Linda Leigh, down town for the first time, and it was a trip to the doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin driving their new car and enjoying it very much.

Clerks at the post office say that since D. E. Fulton, who works there, had to go away to the Veteran's Hospital, his big black dog, Peeks, comes down every morning, sits around the post office door for a while, then goes home.

Miss Lora Mae McFarland, high school teacher on leave of absence this year, visited here recently. "You know this has made me homesick to come back to Wellington to stay," she said just before she left.

Fred Taylor trying to get in his own place of business. He'd locked it from the inside, then left his key at home.

Frank Ford coming in and offering to pay for his Wellington Leader a second time.

H. D. Creath trying the door of the new bank building just to make sure it was locked tight and fast.

Mrs. V. H. Lindsey dressed out for spring in a pretty light blue knitted dress and a light blue coat.

Miss Mary Nell Scruggs Is Bride Of John Holton In Rites Performed Sunday

A beautiful wedding of the past week was that of Miss Mary Nell Scruggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Scruggs, and John Holton, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Holton, which took place on Sunday, February 9, at 10 o'clock in the morning, in the home of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Lowell Wells and Mrs. John Starr. The Rev. J. Edmund Kirby read the single ring ceremony.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar arranged in front of triple windows. White tapers burning in wrought-iron floor candelabra were placed on each side flanked by baskets of white gladioli and Oregon fern. Candles were lighted by Bud Scruggs, brother of the bride, now a student at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene.

First to enter were Laverne Clark, bridesmaid, and R. E. Parker, best man. The bridesmaid wore a navy blue dress and turban with corsage of sweetpeas in pastel shades.

The bride and groom entered together. The bride wore a redingote dress of Iris blue wool with matching turban. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white lace trim and a corsage of sweetpeas. The groom's mother wore deep purple with black accessories and carnation corsage.

Power In West Texas Enough For Defense

West Texas and the nation now have an abundance of electric power to meet the national defense requirements over and above present consumption in home and business.

Present-day plant generating capacity in the United States is greater than the combined electrical output of England, France and Germany, a recent survey shows.

The nation's utilities companies, owned and operated by men and women who invested in sound business enterprise and who've learned to render emergency service through long experience, have prepared in advance and without the use of tax money or government aid.

U. S. electric power facilities now exceed 40,000,000 kilowatts compared to less than 9,000,000 kilowatts each in England, France, and Germany.

The West Texas Utilities Company, now entering its thirtieth year of service to West Texans, already is serving three national defense units: the Army air base at San Angelo, Camp Barkeley at Abilene, and the air training school at Stamford. Present facilities are sufficient to fill the requirements of many other defense projects should they be located in this area.

The company has three major generating stations and 14 stand-by power plants, maintained as a reserve supply of electricity. Eighteen interconnections give added security against shortage or prolonged interruptions.

A total of 2,713 miles of transmission lines form a network giving nearly every community served by the company at least two incoming sources of electric power and many communities three sources of supply.

Such transmission systems throughout the nation have replaced small isolated plants subject to frequent breakdowns and expensive overhead, depreciation, and operating costs. The first such line in West Texas was constructed by the company in 1915 and extended from Abilene to Merkel.

Supplying the nation as a whole are 82,000 miles of high voltage transmission lines, 60,000 volts and over, interconnected to give U. S. a higher peak of service efficiency and cost economy than any other country in the world.

ELECTRIC POWER FOR U. S. DEFENSE IS READY NOW!

The Electric Industry Has Prepared Without Tax Money Or Government Subsidies

Nation's Power Facilities Total More Than 40,000,000 Kilowatts...

Greater than France, Germany and England Combined

EDISON, through his invention of the incandescent lamp, laid the ground work for an industry that today holds a key position in the nation's defense program. It is a credit to his successors that electric power today is plentiful both for national defense and for the purpose he intended:

"... to free the people from drudgery and create happiness and prosperity."

FOURTEEN BILLION DOLLARS for national defense—but not a dime of the taxpayers' money is required to prepare the electric industry to meet the emergency!

Present-day generating capacity of 40,000,000 kilowatts, with an increase to 45,000,000 by the end of 1942, is ample to supply a vital need in the defense program, in fact, 50 per cent above demand. It is greater than the combined total of Germany, England, and France, each of whom has less than 9,000,000 kilowatts.

NO BOTTLENECK IN POWER INDUSTRY

Today sees the power companies, made up of men and women who are your friends and neighbors working under a system of private initiative and enterprise, prepared for the tremendous job of energizing the country's wartime industries. There is no bottleneck in electric power.

Over 82,000 miles of high voltage transmission lines link the country's raw material production centers with every important concentration point. They are interconnected and organized in integrated systems for economic operation, guaranteeing not only industry but each individual community a dependable, continuous supply of electricity at low cost.

NOW PAYING $400,000,000 IN TAXES

The electric utilities now are providing jobs for 275,000 persons, all of whom are highly trained and experienced to do their jobs expertly and efficiently. They are paying $400,000,000 a year in taxes.

An important feature of the nation's interconnected power systems is that they are ALREADY available, built and owned by men and women who invested their savings in sound business enterprise and who represent the American way of living which we now are preparing to defend.

PREPARED IN ADVANCE FOR EMERGENCY

Because the utilities built ahead of demands and have prepared for just such emergencies, every dollar of the fourteen billion defense fund is going for other necessities in the preparedness program such as aircraft, guns, ships, food, clothing, shelter, tanks, and for the training of men. The expenditure of this vast sum is required to maintain and guarantee the nation's freedom, the American way of living!

The usage of Electric Service has contributed more than any other single item to creation of what we call "the American way of living." It has brought light, household comforts and conveniences, to the average home in greater quantities than has ever been known in other countries.

Your Electric Servant is ready NOW to help defend that way of living.

Larry Sanders Letters At WT

CANYON.—Larry Sanders of Samnorwood, a sophomore, has been granted a letter in football at West Texas State College, contingent upon maintaining a satisfactory scholastic standing during the first semester.

This honor was announced at the annual banquet recently. The Buffalo squad received a big silver trophy emblematic of the Alamo conference football championship in 1940.

Sanders traveled and played with the Buffalos last season in games as far away as Fresno, Calif. Losing only eight of 27 lettermen next season, the West Texas State eleven will be a powerful outfit next season, with a schedule covering thousands of miles.
