Change Noted In Soviet View Of UN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U.N. peacekeeping operations has generally been uncooperative. The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly. The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peacekeeping activities. The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there.

U.S. officials said that on the basis of the Tokyo reports they could not tell exactly what the Soviets intend by their proposal but assume that what they are calling for is the creation of a U.N. standing army.

In its 18 years, the United Nations has provided forces to deal with crises in a dozen instances, the most notable being the Korean war and the Suez, Congo and Cyprus situations.

The Soviet memorandum to the Japanese government said the Soviet Union would be willing to "shoulder its due share of expenses" for an international peace force if it was under the sole control of the Security Council—where the Soviet Union has veto power.

The proposal also would exclude from the force all troops of the five permanent members of the U.N. Security Council—the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain, France and Nationalist China.

Affirm Rights Act, Rockefeller Urges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller told the Republican platform committee today it must affirm the constitutionality of the recently passed Civil Rights Act.

The New York governor threw his influence strongly behind the drive by supporters of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania to force a fight with the front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona over the platform.

Rockefeller declared: "We must not permit the Republican party to be transformed into a narrow, doctrinaire instrument of extremism."

He said the party cannot win the presidency unless it picks up votes outside its own ranks and, "certainly it cannot expect to win if it seeks to serve the narrow interests of a minority within a minority."

He said he thinks the party can broaden its base and win in November, and he went on:

"It is unthinkable that the party of Lincoln should ever heed the counsels of those who would have the Republican party play upon prejudice and fear, or narrow its base and mount a national campaign more concerned with future factional dominance of the party than future leadership of the nation."

On the civil rights issue, Rockefeller said the platform should express the party's pride in the Republican majorities of more than 80 per cent in both houses of Congress which were decisive to enactment of a Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Goldwater voted against the bill, saying two important parts of it are unconstitutional.

Rockefeller came out for a program for health care of the aged similar to the one proposed by President Johnson and containing the key feature of the Johnson proposal—Social Security financing.

The New York governor's appearance on a day of Republican platform hearings largely devoted to civil rights coincides with a grim drive by backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton. They hope to give their trailing candidate an assist through a platform fight centering on controversial positions taken by the Arizona senator.

They looked to Rocketeller, backing Scranton since Goldwater knocked him out of the race, for help toward such goals as a strong platform position on the constitutionality of the new civil rights law and a condemnation of organizations like the militant John Birch Society.

Scranton sent his troops to battle on these two issues when he wrote the platform committee chairman, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, his views on what the party statement should contain.

The letter, made public Monday, also called for recognizing a federal role in efforts against poverty.

Scranton backed, as well, a constitutional amendment partly to reverse the recent Supreme Court decision that both houses of state legislatures must be based on population; more initiative in foreign policy and tougher measures against the Cuban Communist regime, and more health assistance for the aged—but not, as the Johnson administration proposes, through the Social Security system.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill and said two major sections of it are unconstitutional. He has come out against a general denunciation of Birch Society members, although he criticized the president of the society, Robert Welch.

The fight over the platform eventually could be brought to the floor of the convention. The platform committee organized and started its hearings Monday night without a formal challenge from the minority.

Negroes Map Plans For More Campaigns

By The Associated Press

Negroes ran into scattered pockets of resistance in testing the new Civil Rights Act Monday and integration leaders mappled plans for intestified campaigns, especially in Alabama.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. announced in Birmingham that his staff members would go to Tuscaloosa and Selma, Ala., to begin assessing the situation in these cities. He said his Southern Christian Leadership conference would concentrate its efforts in Alabama this summer.

Meeting with King's group to "re-evaluate summer plans in light of what has happened in response to the civil rights bill" were members of the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Non violent Coordinating Committee.

At Selma, one of the leaders of King's group, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, made a strong appeal for nonviolence at a Negro mass meeting. He said the SCLC would support a Selma drive to test the federal law but, "we will not be part of any violent campaign."

Earlier, 55 Negroes and 6 white men were jailed when civil rights forces launched a new voter registration drive.

The Negroes were arrested by Sheriff Jim Clark when they congregated across from the courthouse and began singing. They were charged under a city ordinance prohibiting demonstrating there while court was in session.

At Birmingham, U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence Allgood continued indefinitely a Negro request to prevent police from interfering with peaceful demonstrations at Tuscaloosa. Allgood said he hoped the testing of the civil rights law would be peaceable and orderly and without disturbances.

At Tuscaloosa, a majority of Tuscaloosa's motel and hotel operators issued a statement saying they would comply with the federa law.

Negroes integrated businesses and facilities in Fort Smith, Ark.; Charleston, Greenville and Myrtle Beach, S.C.; Memphis, Tenn.; Ocala, Plant City, and Dunnellon, Fla.; and Meridian, Miss.

Council Hears CRMWD Report

The Snyder city council met for their regular monthly meeting Monday night to conduct routine business of the city.

Dr. John Blum and Rex Fields, Snyder's representatives on the board of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, met with the council to inform the council on the recent activities of the board.

Col. E. V. Spence, general manager of the CRMWD, received a "favorable nod" at a June 19 meeting of the state water board in Austin, Dr. Blum reported. Under discussion at the meeting there was the proposed construction of another CRMWD lake in either Mitchell or Coke Counties.

Dr. Blum said that the Coke County site, some three and one half miles northwest of the town of Silver, was the preferred site, and is one of the last really favorable sites for a large lake in West Texas. Construction of the lake there would, Fields said, end any threat of a water shortage "during our lifetimes."

The board members also reported on the Sun Oil Company repressuring contract, and noted that sales to Sun Oil were largely responsible for the water district's revenue increase this year of $634,000 with additional expenditures of only $13,000.

Fields and Dr. Blum also reported that sales of water from the district for the first five months of this year were 4,400,000,000 gallons compared with 3,600,000,000 for the first five months of 1963. This is an increase of about 21 per cent.

Snyder's increase in water use during this time was 31 per cent over last year.

The water district is now five years ahead in the payment of their indebtedness, but with the new lake to be built, the time that Lake Thomas and the new lake would be completely debt-free and would revert to ownership of Snyder, Big Spring and Odessa, is in the distant future the board members told the city council.

Both members of the board expressed their confidence in the management and administration of the CRMWD.

In other city business the council authorized the city secretary to negotiate with Eddie Benitez regarding the sale of fragments of several city blocks along the railroad right-of-way in the J. B. Cloyes Addition. Benitez had bid $100 for the property. When the property was advertised for bids, a minimum of $150 had been set, but Benitez' was the only bid received.

The council accepted the bid of Batchler Nursery in the amount of $385.60 for landscaping of the new fire - police - civil defense building.

Gene Dulaney, Snyder attorney, met with the council in behalf of Jim Cain whose car suffered an estimated $450 damage in a mishap which involved a truck and a police car on Apr. 29.

City attorney Joe Carroll said that the city felt that the responsibility for the mishap was the truck driver's, and that the city could not properly pay any damages. The council declined to take any action in the matter.

Harold Lacik, representing the Girl Scouts, met with the council to investigate the possibility of the Girl Scout hut on Thirty-fifth Street being placed on the city sewer.

Cost of furnishing the hut with sewer service was estimated at $1,012, with the city's being able to participate in the cost up to $230 of the total. The hut is presently using a septic tank which is in need of repair.

The city council also voted to close Fourth Street between Avenue S and the west city limits. The area involved is 90 feet long and 60 feet wide, and has never been used as a street. The request was made by Billy McCormick.

The council also voted on second reading to close and abandon a portion of an alley in Block 15 of the Gross Subdivision.

Police Captain Moves To Civil Defense And Fire Department Post

Snyder city employe Alfred Kohl has assumed new duties with the city's fire department.

Kohl, who until transferring to the fire department, was a captain in the city police department, will be doing administrative work with the fire department. As an additional duty, he will have the responsibility of coordination of police and fire department work in the event of natural disasters, fire fighting, or any phase of civil defense work.

Captain Kohl will hold the same ranking in his new job as he held in the police department.

Sweltering Day On Tap For Texans

The Presidio mercury inched up to 105, while 100-degree temperatures occurred in many places.

Ike Shuns King-Making

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, as saying, "The last thing in the world I wanted to do in my retirement was to try to run a political organization or give orders or pull strings."

The July 11 issue of the magazine carries an account of an interview that Cousins had with the former president at his Gettysburg, Pa., home June 26.

Cousins wrote that Republican presidential aspirants and their supporters have beset Eisenhower in attempts "to capture the favor of a man who has no desire to direct or become enmeshed in partisan political warfare."

Eisenhower is quoted as saying:

"Trying to dictate who the man should be who would offer himself to the voters for the most important job in this country is completely out of keeping with what I want to do—or, indeed, what I believe anyone has the right to do."

Cousins reported: "He said he was not a king maker. He didn't believe the party was a one-man affair. One-man rule of anything was obnoxious to him."

Evert Carlsson Back In Snyder

Evert Carlsson of Sweden, Snyder's foreign exchange student in 1960-61, has returned to Snyder for a visit. Evert, who was the second of five exchange students to stay a year in Snyder, is the first one who has come back after leaving.

While in Snyder Evert lived at the home of the Daniel R. Martins, 2215 Forty - first Street. He said that it is "just like being back home to be here again". The Martins echoed this by stating that to have Evert back is to have their son back home.

The primary reason for Evert's return to the United States is the Fiftieth Anniversary of the American Field Service. A large reunion is scheduled the first week in August in New York for all of the students and others who have participated in the American Field Service in various ways. Some 20,000 persons are expected to attend the convention.

Evert flew from Sweden to New York City, arriving there June 22. Eqroute to Snyder he made stops at Butler, Pa., Kalamazoo, Michigan, and Chicago, to visit friends and relatives. He arrived in Dallas July 4, where he was met by the Martins. Before driving on to Snyder they went to Waco to see the Martins' son Dick, who is attending Baylor University.

After he returned to Sweden in 1961, Evert had to first finish high school at Fagersta, Sweden. He then spent about six months in the Swedish army infantry, and has about that same length of time still to serve. After his military service he attended the University of Stockholm for a year. Shortly before he left for this country he spent 3 weeks doing substitute teaching of math and chemistry.

After the AFS convention he plans on returning to Sweden and going into the field of civil engineering.

Evert realizes that many of his friends in Snyder are now gone, but hopes to see all of those that he knew while he is here. Mr. and Mrs. Martin said that those wanting to see Evert are welcome to drop by their house at any time.

31 Killed In Quake

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The earthquake that rocked Mexico's Pacific coastal state of Guerrero took 31 lives, the government says, but no damage or casualties were reported in the crowded resort of Acapulco.

The quake early Monday was felt both in Acapulco and in this capital city 175 miles to the northeast. Buildings swayed in Mexico City but damage was light and only one man was slightly injured.

Reports reaching the federal government from Guerrero State said most of the 31 victims were crushed under collapsing buildings in mountain villages.

Acapulco radio station XEBB said it had confirmed 18 deaths in Coyuca de Catalan, 100 miles north of the resort, and reported the village had been destroyed.

Another report said four persons were killed in Ciudad Altamirano and that 80 per cent of the buildings there were destroyed.

Acapulco, packed with tourists, was shaken for about half a minute.

The tremor in Mexico City was the capital's sharpest since a 1957 earthquake that took 66 lives. Buildings swayed, walls cracked and frightened tourists rushed into the streets in their nightclothes.

The quake reached a grade of 6 on the Mercali scale of 12 at the Mexico City Observatory. The 1957 quake registered 8.

Some newspaper reports said more than 40 persons were killed and hundreds were injured.

Raimundo Abarca Calderon, governor of Guerrero, joined rescue teams that flew into the stricken zone by helicopter.

Damage also was reported in the coastal resort village of Zihuatanejo, north of Acapulco.

Other villages reported hit by the quake were Tierra Caliente, Tlaltehuala, Ajuchitlan, Sam Miguel de Totoapan, Totolopa, Ixcatepec, Cocula, Coalluyutla and Acoutlahuaya.

One report said 80 per cent of the buildings in Ciudad Altamirano were partly destroyed.

A man who broke an ankle carrying a child out of a house was the only casualty reported in Mexico City.

14 Dead In Snow Slide

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — A snow avalanche rumbled down Aiguille Verte peak in the Mont Blanc range today, reportedly carrying 14 persons to their deaths.

Charles Bozon, world slalom ski champion in 1962, was reported among the victims.

Four professors from the National School for High Mountains, which trains mountain guides and ski instructors, and nine student guides were believed to have been in the party.

Bozon was said to have joined the group as a volunteer. Often called France's greatest skier, Bozon won the special slalom event at the World Ski Games here on Feb. 13, 1962.

The group was going up the 12,000-foot Aiguille Verte peak when caught by the avalanche.

Bond Is Denied Suspected Slayer

HOUSTON (AP) — Melvin Lane Powers, 27, charged with murder in the stabbing death of a Houston and Miami financier, remained in jail today after he was denied bond.

Powers was charged with first degree murder of millionaire Jacques Mossler, 68, who was found slain a week ago today.

Criminal Dist. Judge Sam W. Davis ordered Powers held without bond during a habeas corpus hearing as a fugitive from justice from the state of Florida.

At about the same time Monday, Mossler's children were taken before the Harris County (Houston) grand jury under a surprise subpoena.

At the hearing, Roy Lee Jones, an assistant state's attorney from Florida, told Judge Davis that Powers had been charged with first degree murder in the death of Mossler. A murder warrant was presented Powers here Saturday after his arrest Friday.

Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe said the slaying of Mossler in Miami may have resulted from a conspiracy in Houston. He would not elaborate.

Mossler was stabbed 39 times in his posh Miami apartment. His body was found by his wife, Mrs. Candace Mossler, 45, who since has returned to Houston.

Judge Davis refused to set bond during a habeas corpus hearing requested by Powers' attorney, William F. Walsh. Judge Davis granted Walsh the right to confer privately with Powers at "reasonable intervals."

Walsh asked the sheriff's office be restrained from further interrogation of Powers, but Judge Davis denied the request. Walsh said he would seek relief in higher courts.

Judge Davis said he was holding Powers without bond pending extradition proceedings.

Earlier the slain millionaire's adopted children appeared before the grand jury.

They were Edward Glenn Mossler, 10, Daniel Glenn Mossler, 13, and Martha Glenn Mossler, 14.

A 20-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mossler by a former marriage, Miss Rita Johnson Mossler, also was subpoenaed but deputies were unable to find her.

All except Daniel had been with Mrs. Mossler when she came home from an early morning drive in Miami and found her husband slain.

The children, testifying separately, spent a total of about two and a half hours before the grand jury after instanter subpoenaes had been issued for them.

Daniel had not been found by deputies who went to the Mossler home and picked up the other two children. He later was found at St. Luke's hospital, which Mrs. Mossler had entered for what was described as a rest and checkup.

Most Of Nation Is Hot And Dry

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms hit scattered sections in the Midwest to the southern Rockies today but mostly clear skies were reported in the major part of the nation.

A line of severe thunderstorms struck south central Nebraska, with fairly heavy rain and strong winds. Thunderstorms were indicated in other parts of Nebraska and in parts of north central and northeastern Kansas.

Rainless weather continued in many sections from Maine to Maryland, leaving fields and woodlands parched and tinder dry. Water supplies in some areas were reported depleted.

Five counties in New York State have been declared drought disaster areas. Officials in three other counties planned to seek a similar designation. Officials in Maryland, Maine and New Jersey planned to ask the U.S. Department of Agriculture to declare a total of 27 counties in those states drought disaster areas.

Temperatures Monday hit 100 degrees as far north as Nebraska. The mercury soared to 108 in Hutchinson, Salina, Russell and Concordia, Kan., with marks of above 100 also reported in eight other cities in Kansas. The 104 in Little Rock, Ark. tied the all time record high for July.

Desalting Plant Work Is Pushed

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian contractors are working night and day to complete assembly of a water desalting plant at the Guantanamo naval base in Cuba by Aug. 1; the Navy said today.

Conceivably, they could have the plant producing about 750,000 gallons of fresh water a day by July 26.

That could be symbolic of U.S. determination to hold the base, since July 26 is the date Fidel Castro reveres as the anniversary of the day he started his drive to unseat the Batista regime.

The Navy said 168 civilian workers are on 16 and 18-hour shifts assembling a saline water conversion plant shipped to Guantanamo from Point Loma, Calif., after Castro turned off the base's fresh water supply within his territory last February.

Castro acted, he said, because the United States had seized some Cuban fishermen inside U.S. waters. Later, Castro offered to resume supplying fresh water to the base. He had been receiving $14,000 a month for the water before he cut it off.

The United States spurned the offer. Rear Adm. John D. Bulkeley, Guantanamo's commander, cut the pipeline leading from Cuba. The United States announced its intention to make the base self-sufficient.

In addition to moving the water desalting plant from California, the Navy arranged for construction of two additional units and a power generating plant at Guantanamo.

The Navy reported these two units, being built from the ground up, will be operating by December.

When all three desalting units are—humming, they will produce about 2.2 million gallons of fresh water a day — a bit more than the base's normal needs.

Judge Omits Usual Phrase

NEW YORK (AP)—The judge omitted the usual phrase, "and may God have mercy on your soul," when he imposed the death chair penalty on Winston Moseley Monday for the sex murder of a barmaid.

Justice Irwin Shapiro declined to comment on the omission after he had sentenced Moseley, 29, a Negro and habitual sex offender and robber.

On June 15, women in the courtroom cheered when a jury decreed the death penalty rather than life imprisonment for Moseley for the knife murder of Catherine Genovese, 28, in Queens.

When the jury reported its decision on the penalty, Shapiro said he did not believe in the death penalty, but figured he might have the wrong idea "when I see this monster." The justice added: "I wouldn't hesitate to pull the switch on him myself."

Miss Genovese died near her home on a quiet residential street after it became known that 38 neighbors had seen or heard the crime—as the slayer stalked his screaming victim and stabbed her 15 times—but did nothing to summon help.

2 Mishaps Reported

The Snyder police department investigated two minor mishaps Monday.

At 9:23 a.m. at Twenty - fifth Street and Avenue R a mishap involved a 1949 Chevrolet truck driven by Mearl F. Harding of Sweetwater and a 1959 Ford driven by Ona S. Burton of Snyder. Damage to the car was estimated at $100. The truck was not damaged and there were no injuries.

The department also investigated a mishap at 7:40 p.m. at Thirty - fourth Street and Avenue K. A 1955 Mercury driven by Andrew Anderson of Snyder caused an estimated $50 damage to a fire hydrant. Damage to the car was minor.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please save my sanity and tell me if I am wrong. I refused our 17-year-old son permission to invite his 16-year-old girl friend along on our family vacation to the New York World's Fair. (We live in Colorado.)

There seems to be a new fad taking root these days. Parents are trying to "prove" to their teen-aged children that they "trust" them, so they are letting them invite their steadies on family trips. Our son claims that everybody else is doing it and how he is shame - faced because his girl has already obtained her parents' approval, and I won't let him ask her. I would like your opinion of this whole idea.

NOT THAT MODERN

DEAR NOT: Picnics and one-day family outings are one thing, but family vacations are for families. I think your judgment was sound. Don't back down. Of all the weak - kneed reasons to do something, that old stand - by "everybody else is doing it" is by far the poorest.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A socially prominent lady in this town is forever handing out those "Y'awll come up and see me sometime" invitations which, of course, don't mean a thing. But what about the propriety of her ringing up my husband at his office and asking if "Y'awll" will come to dinner? Our home telephone number is in the book, but she has never called me. My husband says, "Oh, what's the difference?" I would appreciate it if you would please tell him (in your column) what the difference is. He thinks I'm jealous because she's a fun - loving, middle - aged widow and not too bad looking.

BATON ROUGE

DEAR BATON: The "difference is a matter of etiquette. Dinner invitations are properly extended to the wife. Tell your husband that the next time the "socially prominent lady" calls his office with a "Ya'wll come to dinner" invitation, he should inform her that if "U'awll" means both of you, she should call YOU.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am a young and attractive (I am told) widow. I have put away my engagement diamond and my wedding band and wear no jewelry on my hands whatsoever. It is evident that I am unmarried but for some reason every man I meet assumes that I am a divorcee. I have heard that one can buy a widow's band, which is a plain black enamel ring to be worn on the wedding ring finger to signify widowhood. It would certainly simplify matters for me if you could tell me where I can buy one of these rings.

A WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: I have never heard of a 'widow's" band. Don't worry about being regarded as a divorcee. You can straighten out the record with one well - timed sentence.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I now learn from your column that I am "uncouth" and "ill-bred". That is how you described one who carries away the bread and rolls from a restaurant table. I take home the bread and rolls for the birds, so hear this:

Boston (the city of culture, ha!) boasts that it has just poisoned and burned 10,000 city pigeons. If this is culture, I want to be a roughneck. San Francisco, named for St. Francis of Assissi, who loved birds, is also destroying pigeons in droves. And now New York is following suit. Pigeons are one of God's ideas. They give us pleasure with their beauty and grace in flight. And they are smart. They are able to land on a tiny telephone pole wire, whereas it takes man about 400 acres to make a landing. You sound pretty stuff - shirted to me.

STUFFED BROILED LOBSTER cooked on a hibachi will make your July entertaining, fascinating and exciting.

Hibachi Style Lobster

For centuries the Japanese have known that cooking with the aid of a hibachi is both appetizing and amusing for guests and family. Since its arrival in this country, the hibachi has enjoyed increasing popularity and has excited the imagination of the American hostess.

Here, just in time for your weekend entertaining, is an idea for cooking lobster on a hibachi. Using packaged herb - seasoned stuffing to fill the lobsters makes them easy to prepare—and extra delicious to eat.

Purchase six 1½ - 2 lbs. whole lobsters and have them split down the center and cleaned.

HERB-MUSHROOM STUFFING

1 package herb - seasoned stuffing
¼ cup minced onion
1½ cups fresh mushrooms sliced
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
few drops lemon juice

Prepare herb - seasoned stuffing according to package directions. In saucepan, saute onions and mushrooms in butter. Add to stuffing mixture along with parsley and lemon juice, toss lightly. Fill lobsters with a generous amount of stuffing.

Wrap each lobster in foil, then place on the hibachi. After 30 minutes remove foil and let lobsters finish cooking, about 5 to 10 minutes. Makes 6 stuffed lobsters.

The club will have a "Street Dance" on the east side of the square, Monday night, July 13th with Bill Wright of Andrews as the caller for the evening. Everyone is welcome to dance or watch. Square dancers from Colorado City will present a "Space - Skit" and our own "little Country Cousins" will perform.

Jr. Behringer is starting a new square dance class which will have lessons every Monday night at the rodeo pavilion at 8 p.m. These lessons will be free of charge. Anyone interested, or wanting more information, call HI 3-5015 or HI 3-9892.

Wash Day

One day a week used to be known as "wash day.' 'However, along came the automatic washer and dryer, and now wash day — at least in the homes with small children — is likely to be seven days a week, year-round. This actually can be easier on the homemaker, but the laundry area certainly takes a lot of beating. Waterproof surfacing materials for floors and walls, such as ceramic tile, are more and more in demand for the washer area, because of their durability and ease of maintenance.

Butter Frosting

½ cup butter
2 cups confectioners sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon (about) lemon juice

Cream butter; gradually beat in the sugar, keeping smooth. Beat in vanilla and as much of the lemon juice as needed to make good spreading consistency. Enough frosting to fill and cover top of 9-inch layer cake.

Note: Cream may be substituted for the lemon juice.

Job Scramble Is Tough This Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Finding a job is tougher this summer. That's so despite a gain in the number of jobs. A record of nearly 72 million Americans are at work.

The job scramble is rough because there are more students looking for them. There are always a lot when school lets out. This year there are more.

But beyond that, there are more adults entering the labor force just now. This happens whenever times are good and the number of jobs expands. That pulls a lot of off-and-on workers into the labor force. Since they usually have skills from earlier periods of employment, they are likely to get the jobs at the expense of the newcomers without experience.

The population growth by itself, and its specific manifestation of more students looking for summer work, would have pulled about 1.2 million more people into the labor force this summer than last. The Labor Department says that this time the force increased by 1.5 million over last year to a total of 79.4 million.

It reports that while employment went up by about 850,000 in June as outdoor jobs and recreational work opened up, unemployment advanced by 1.1 million.

The economy is running fast, but not fast enough in the job sector to hold even with the demand.

Some 800,000 of the unemployed are teen-agers, or 15 per cent of the youngsters looking for work.

The Labor Department indicates that high school graduates had better luck this year in finding jobs than did college graduates.

Disturbing to the department was the rise in unemployment among adult men. The teen-age problem was expected. Washington had hoped that the older men were in for better days.

The rate of unemployment among all men over 20 rose to 4 per cent of the labor force, compared with 3.6 per cent in May. The rise among adult women was only to 5.1 per cent from 5 per cent.

When the rate of unemployment for all ages dropped in May to 5.1 per cent, many had hoped that the long struggle to bring this down by an increase in economic growth was at last bearing fruit. In June the rate was 5.3 per cent. The June rise in unemployment of 1.1 million brought the total to 4.7 million.

The long struggle to get the jobless rate down to around 4 per cent of the labor force still is a tough one. The number of jobs increase. But those who want to fill them increase even faster.

Builder's Estate Is $24 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The estate of Washington builder Morris Cafritz was valued at about $24 million, according to probate papers filed Monday in U.S. District Court.

The bulk of the estate, $20,569,412, was in the form of stock in corporations owned almost solely by him. Federal estate taxes were estimated at $3.1 million by a tax attorney.

Cafritz, 77, who died June 11, was survived by his widow, Gwen, a widely known Washington hostess, and three sons.

Sewers Flooded As Water Main Breaks

ABILENE (AP) — A broken water main released tons of water into Abilene sewers today and for a time threatened to immerse Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s computer complex of high voltage equipment.

Water rushed into the phone company building, a few feet from the break, and built up to as much as six inches on the floor.

With three pumper units and large heavy duty pumps, firemen prevented the water from seeping down into the basement computer units which control half the service in the city.

Restraining Order Still In Force

FORT WORTH (AP) — Federal Dist. Judge Leo Brewster has left in force a temporary restraining order issued against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at the time of their strike, without warning, against six railroads June 16.

He did so Monday after obtaining a promise from the union that it would not strike pending a promise from the union that it would not strike pending settlement of a similar case now pending in the federal district court for the District of Columbia. A decision in that case is expected late this month.

The action was taken at a hearing on the temporary restraining order obtained by the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. and the Missouri Pacific.

Their lawyer, William McDowell, told the court Monday there was no legal basis for a strike and that the brotherhood was "Mad" because of an award at the national level.

Union Attorney William Fonville replied that the strike was not called on the basis of the national award. "There is no occasion for an injunction," he said. "They can invoke mediation and while mediation is in progress no strike can be called."

The other railroads involved are Southern Pacific, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Port of Houston Railway and Texas-Mexico.

Managers Want Change In All-Star Game Rules

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The rival All-Star managers, hard pressed to select a rested starting pitcher for today's mid-summer classic between the National and American Leagues, advocated a wider range of pitchers to choose from for future All-Star games.

American League Manager Al Lopez, after much deliberation, picked Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels as his starter although the right-hander pitched Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. All eight AL pitchers worked over the weekend.

National League Manager Walter Alston's choice was cut and dried. He named Don Drysdale of his own Los Angeles Dodgers team partly because Don was the only right-hander on the NL All-Star staff who had not pitched over the weekend. Four of the seven NL pitchers worked Sunday.

Both managers said they preferred right-handers because of the predominance of right-handed-hitters in the two starting line-ups.

Originally, Alston had four right-handers to choose from but the nomination became automatic when Jim Bunning pitched Saturday and Juan Marichal and Dick Farrell worked Sunday. Drysdale turned back the New York Mets 6-2 Friday night.

"At the moment I have no idea who will be my second pitcher," said Lopez. "It depends on which one is more rested, and the line-up the National League uses. I could use Camilio Pascual, a right-hander, or Gary Peters, a left-hander, depending upon the situation. And I've always got Dick Radatz and John Wyatt."

Alston said that in all probability Bunning, Philadelphia's perfect game pitcher, would be his second choice, followed by Philly southpaw Chris Short, the most rested of the 15 All-Star pitchers. Short has not pitched since Thursday.

While neither manager agreed with Casey Stengel's suggestion that a rule be passed prohibiting an All-Star pitcher from working the Sunday before the game, both agreed that a change was desirable.

"I would prefer that, instead of selecting seven or eight pitchers, we name 10 or 11," said Alston. "In this way we can be better protected against a possible shortage of sufficiently rested pitchers.

"It's this way every year," said Lopez. "Managers fighting for a pennant are going to arrange their rotation so as to get their best pitcher to work Sunday. In this way he can have him ready to pitch again after the three-day All-Star break."

Lopez said he had no specific plans to make changes after the first three innings. Starting players, other than pitchers, are required to play the first three innings.

Drysdale, who was the starting pitcher in three previous All-Star games, faced a line-up that included home run leader Harmon Killebrew, batting leader Bob Allison, No. 2 hitter Tony Oliva, switch-hitting star Mikey Mantle and last year's most valuable player Elston Howard. Other AL starters included Bobby Richardson, Jim Fregosi and Brooks Robinson.

It was the first All-Star appearance for the 23-year-old Chance, who was faced with the task of overcoming a powerful NL batting order that included Roberto Clemente, Willie Mays and Billy Williams, the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 hitters in the league. Other starters included Orlando Cepeda, Ron Hunt, Dick Groat, Ken Boyer, and Joe Torre.

Pro Players Now Want A Playoff

BOSTON (AP)—Okay, so the American Football League — management, that is—can't talk the National into a playoff. Now labor is giving it a try.

At least such an interleague meeting on the field as well as off has been proposed by Tommy Addison, Boston Patriots' linebacker and president of the AFL Player Association.

Addison has contacted Ordell Braase, Baltimore Colts' defense end who is NFL counterpart.

Addison suggests a meeting of both league's associations to "end this senseless war" and improve pro football in general and the players' lot in particular.

Braase said in Baltimore he had received word from Addison but would not comment until he has discussed the matter with his association's membership.

Top Women Athletes To Compete In AAU

HANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Four hundred girls from five nations compete in this central California city Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the National AAU Women's track and field meet.

America's two top performers in each event win places on the United States team which will meet the Russians in Los Angeles, July 25-26.

In addition to athletes from the United States, there have been entries from Jamaica, Mexico, Canada and Formosa.

Meet director Herb Stockman explained that the competition has been divided into girls' and women's sections with 13 events in each.

Cubs, Athletics Beat Braves, Sox

The Athletics shut out the White Sox 10-0 and the Cubs edged the Braves 11-9 in Little League activity Monday night. The Cubs clinched at least a tie for the National League title by eliminating the Braves from contention. The Athletics had already won the American League title.

The Braves could have stayed in contention had they won, and for a while in the 6th inning it looked like they might. Trailing 11-5 going into that frame the Braves rallied and scored 4 runs. With the tying runs on base and 2 out, Cub pitcher Ronnie Lewis bore down and struck out the last man.

Winning pitcher Lewis hit two 3-run homers to help his cause. Brett Bell doubled for the winners. For the Braves Lee McNair homered, Gary Gallman doubled and Roxy Small hit 3 singles.

The Athletics won their game in 4 innings via the 10-run lead rule. They tallied 2 in the 2nd, 4 in the 3rd, and 4 in the 4th. Brad Morgan, winning pitcher, allowed only two White Sox hits, both singles. The Athletics have now won 12 and lost 2, while the White Sox have a 3-11 record.

Cubs, Sox Victorious In FL Tilts

The leaders were defeated in Farm League play Monday night as the Cubs won over the National League leading Braves 4-3 and the White Sox trampled the Athletics, who have already clinched the American title, 18-5.

The Brave - Cub contest had to go an extra inning as the score was knotted 2-all at the end of the regulation 6 innings. In the top of the 7th the Braves picked up one run, but in their half the Cubs ran two runs across to win the contest.

Gary Pruitt and Alfred Smith did the pitching for the Cubs. Gary Shields and Pruitt each hit doubles for the winners. For the Braves, Noble Longbotham, Karl McKinney, and Jim Walters hit doubles. Bill Evans doubled and homered, also for the Braves.

Mark Blythe and Bill Bilberry each hit a double for the Athletics, as did Gary Byrum and Jerrell Patrick for the White Sox.

Olympic Torch Relay Scheduled

TOKYO (AP)—The torch for the October Tokyo Olympics will be relayed by a total of 100,696 runners including 876 foreigners, the Tokyo Olympic Organizing Committee said Tuesday.

The sacred flame will be lit in Olympia, Greece, Aug. 14 and relayed through 11 countries. It will arrive in Tokyo Oct. 9. The Olymp[ic] opens Oct. 10.

British Send Racing Yacht To New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Sovereign, one of the two 12-meter British yachts still in the running for the role of challenger for the America's Cup, arrived from England Monday aboard the liner Andanis.

Sovereign will battle Kurrewa V in a final series of trial races off Newport, R.I. starting Aug. 10. Kurrewa V won the 19-race British series 10-9.

Soviet Track Team Will Be Stronger

MOSCOW (AP)— The Soviet men's track and field team that opposes the United States at Los Angeles July 25-26 will be stronger than the one that put up a strong battle against American trackmen here last year, according to Russian Coach Gavrill Korobkov.

But Korobkov squelched an anticipated broad jump duel between Russian world record holder Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and U.S. ace Ralph Boston Monday by disclosing that Ter-Ovanesyan will not make the trip.

Boston topped the Russian's world mark of 27 feet, 3¼ inches with a wind-aided leap of 27-5½ last Friday at the U.S. Olympic Trials.

In the 1963 meet in Moscow, Americans won over the Russians 119-114.

THAT'S WHAT YOU GET PLENTY OF WITH YOUR TELEPHONE

Your phone makes it so easy to get things done. Calls to order things, to find out things, to tell the news, to organize activities—or you name it.

The busier you are, the more helpful the telephone is. Day in and day out, your phone is an important part of your busy life.

When you stop to think about it, is there really anything else that helps you so much for so little? Or that is of so much personal value?

Strange Actions Are Noted Among Republican Hopefuls

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Needed: one mindreader in these last few days before the Republican convention in San Francisco.

He would come in mighty handy if he could give his version of why some of the things that are happening are happening.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, trying to keep Sen. Barry Goldwater from getting the Republican presidential nomination, went to Illinois for a two-day campaign. He went around shaking hands with commuters.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who quit as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam to come home and help Scranton, went out to Kansas to make a pitch but only six convention delegates showed up. They spent some of their time talking foreign affairs.

Here in Washington, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith still thinks she has a chance for the nomination, she says. She denies she's really hoping for the vice presidential nominaion.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is still refusing to say anything about his preference for a candidate.

Goldwater, who seems to have the nomination locked up, sounds very self - assured. In Washington Monday he said he was shopping around in his mind for a vice presidential runningmate.

He said he has two names on his list of prospects—Reps. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and William E. Miller of New York —but denied stories he favors Miller. "I don't know how that got started," he said.

Meanwhile, the hopeful Miller was saying he would accept if asked but he hasn't been asked.

In Illinois last week 48 of the state's 58 convention delegates lined up with Goldwater after listening to appeals from him and Scranton. The other 10 did not commit themselves.

For a reason which doesn't seem clear even when he explained it, Scranton went back there this week looking for delegates. He started off shaking hands with commuters and getting washed out by a thunderstorm at a shopping center rally.

Scranton said he went back to Illinois to arouse Republicans in general to get them to tell their delegates to switch to him.

Seven of Kansas' 20 delegates are on Goldwater's side, only one on Scranton's, and some of the 20 already have left for the convention. Nevertheless, Lodge saying "my duty is to present my views," went out to Kansas.

Scranton did announce Monday that Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the general's brother, would nominate him at the convention. He hinted broadly he had the unannounced support of the former president with whom he had talked.

Lodge had talked with Eisenhower last week and managed to convey the impression he had found a package of goodies in Gettysburg.

But one of the general's aides said Monday there would be no comment at this time on any preference for the nomination.

Junior Editors Quiz on FIGURES

QUESTION: Where did numbers come from?

* * *

ANSWER: It is probable that numbers came from the tally system which is thought to have been used by prehistoric men to keep track of their possessions. If such a man had 5 sheep, he might have picked out 5 stones to represent them; if a lamb was born, he would have added another stone. A big step was to use a word instead of the group of stones. Gradually, a group of "counting words" was formed.

As civilization developed with its need for written records, men searched for marks or symbols to stand for the counting words. Such symbols became known as "numerals," and we show how they appeared in different civilizations in regard to the number 10. Notice that today we use the same two symbols for 10 which the Arabians used. The other nine symbols also are the same. Exactly how the Arabs arrived at their counting system we do not know, but it has been one of the most important inventions in history. The nine symbols and the important one for zero probably originated in India, before Arabian adoption. The great value of this system was in the placement of digits so those to the left would have a higher value, such as by ten times, or a hundred times.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a large sheet of paper and a pencil. Pretend you're living in the world before the Arabic number system. Invent a symbol for 1. Suppose you had to express 900 by writing your symbol 900 times. It would be quite a chore, wouldn't it? Instead, just write down the Arabic symbols for 900. See how much easier that is?

Actor Is Guiding 5 Teen-Agers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some parents find one teen-ager hard to handle.

What do you do if, like Frank Fontaine, you find you have five of your 11 children in the teen-age bracket?

"You go nuts," smiled Frank, who stars as Crazy Guggenham on Jackie Gleason's television show.

Then Fontaine, to whom family life is the keystone of living, quickly became serious.

"No, you don't really. Actually, the so-called teen-age problem isn't so much a problem to the parents as it is to the kids themselves.

"I call it the teen-age dip. Their bodies are changing, their minds are changing. They are trying so desperately to be like grownups, and yet they still have a foot in childhood.

"It's a tangled age. They're in a split personality period. The role of the parent is to be more understanding—to help guide them through it."

Frank's teen-agers are Peter, 19; Lawrence, 17; Alma, 15; Paul 14, and Christopher, 13. He now is ferrying them in shifts to see the New York World's Fair, along with other members of his big family.

The big blond actor and singer feels strongly that children need help both at school and at home to tide them through the difficulties of adolescence.

"That is when they must build the character to last them the rest of the way," he remarked. "What happens to them the rest of their lives is often determined by what they do in that peroid.

"Some youngsters adjust. Others get in the habit of ducking the problems of life. If they goof-off, they don't blame themselves—they blame their parents and teachers.

"Films should be made and shown in the schools—films showing teen-age kids who ducked problems and the disasters that overtook them later.

"The problem of the teen-ager is to stay out of the whirlwind. A major error made then is hard to correct later.

"And this isn't a problem just of the slum kid. Children of middleclass and wealthy parents can get just as mixed up, and need just as much help."

What about punishing children?

"I give out lickings once in a while," admitted Frank, mildly lifting a ham-sized hand, "but I find that a good family discussion every two weeks does more good Sometimes I have to hold two meetings."

Three Companies May Market Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission has authorized Shell Oil Co., Humble Oil and Refining Co. and the Superior Oil Co. to sell natural gas.

The commission, in a 3-2 decision Monday, authorized sales of gas at 17.7 cents per thousand cubic feet. In 1962 the commission approved temporary sales of gas at 15 cents per thousand cubic feet pending the outcome of the case decided Monday.

Dell City's Only Bank Is Closed

DELL CITY, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. announced today the FDIC will take over operation of a bank in this far West Texas city. Dell City's only bank was closed Friday because of alleged insolvency.

The FDIC's action was believed to be the first of its kind in Texas since the depression years of the 1930s.

The First State Bank of Dell City was closed on orders of the Texas State Department of Banking after it was found the bank had allowed questionable loans in excess of its total capital structure of $160,000.

K. A. Randall, FDIC Officer, said in El Paso that the FDIC had been appointed receiver for the bank.

Randall said 506 checking accounts at the bank totaled deposits of $55,000. He expressed confidence the FDIC, under its $10,000 insurance arrangement for each account, would enable nearly all depositors to recover their full funds.

Under the FDIC, the bank will be known as the Deposit Insurance National Bank of Dell City. The FDIC will offer limited facilities at Dell City for a maximum of two years.

"We want to preserve the deposit facilities in the Dell City area, which is remote to other banks," Randall said. The town is a near-isolated community 90 miles east of El Paso.

Randall said it was hoped a local group could establish an orthodox bank within two years.

He said the bank management had paid bonuses in the form of high interest on savings in order to lure deposits. The interest in some cases exceeded the legal limit, he said.

Of the $896,000 the bank had on loan, some $402,000 was to persons out of the Dell City area, Randall said. Loans were made to people in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

All Rioters Make Bond

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—All but one of 23 Negroes arrested after a racial flareup were free today on $1,000 bond.

Clifford Williams, 21, was held in lieu of $5,000 bond on charges of assault with intent to murder in the wounding of Lee Johnson, 21, a white man shot in the leg.

Police searched for a white man who returned the gunfire with two shots from a shotgun he got from his car.

The incidents occurred Sunday at Lake Texarkana after 80 to 100 Negroes waded out of the lake singing and clapping into a crowd of twice as many whites.

Three Negroes were wounded.

Negro and white businessmen met Monday, and called for strict and impartial law enforcement.

Record Number Of Tourists In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tourists are visiting the nation's capital in record numbers, and the World's Fair in New York is given much of the credit.

The Convention and Visitors Bureau hopes for a gain of from 1 million to 2 million visitors over the estimated 7.5 million to 8 million who came here last year, largely due to the influx of persons headed for the fair.

New Frontier Is Found Under Sea

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "If a man can live and work 600 feet under the sea, he can conquer a frontier as big as the African continent and rich in oil, minerals and food."

This statement was made by Edwin A. Link, 60, a pioneer of underwater exploration, three weeks ago—shortly before he left for the Bahama Islands in his research vessel, Sea Diver.

Now, Link is back with proof that man can operate with efficiency at that depth.

For two days and nights under Link's watchful eye, Jon Lindbergh and Robert Stenuit worked, ate and slept on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean 430 feet below the surface.

Lindbergh, 31, son of aviation's famous pioneer, Charles A. Lindbergh, said "we felt fine all the time."

Link immediately began preparations for a November expedition that will send divers to the 600-foot level, probably in the same area near Great Stirrup Cay in the Bahamas.

"We could have stayed down indefinitely," a smiling Lindbergh said Monday after he and Stenuit, 30, Belgian author and underwater explorer, emerged from a decompression chamber.

They wore suits made of foam rubber, sandwiched between double layers of latex and inflated with compressed air.

At the bottom, they lived in an inflatable rubber chamber, nine by four feet in diameter, and equipped with bunks, communication instruments, food and its own air supply of 97 per cent helium and 3 per cent oxygen.

Contractor To Testify

HOUSTON (AP)—A Pasadena contractor and a Pasadena lawyer were expected to testify when the court of inquiry into suburban Pasadena's fiscal affairs resumed today (9 a.m.).

The contractor is Jesse Lovelace who was subpoenaed Monday.

Frank Puckett, assistant district attorney who is heading the iquiry, did not specify why he subpoenaed Lovelace.

Lovelace has been a successful bidder on several Pasadena construction projects in past years.

The lawyer is Sam Hoover, former Pasadena mayor, who was served Monday with a subpoena that was issued several days ago.

The inquiry is being conducted by Peace Justice Dave F. Thompson Jr.

Accidental Drowning

MISSION (AP) — Justice of the Peace J. M. Austin ruled Monday that a man whose body was found floating in the Rio Grande died of accidental drowning. The head, arms and legs were missing from the body, but Austin said fish apparently had been biting on the body which he estimated had been in the water two weeks.

The world's largest lake in volume - the Soviet Union's Baykal - contains more water than the combined content of North America's Great Lakes.

Soviets Unable To Stifle All Demands

EDITOR'S NOTE—All in all, life is getting better for the Soviet citizen, who is demanding more and more from his government. The youth of the country, too, is striving to free itself of the harsher restraints of party and government. Preston Grover, for five years Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, reports on aspects of life in the U.S.S.R. in the first of four articles.

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—If you don't look too closely, this country is in many respects almost like the United States. In many others, it is not.

Far more people go to the movies than to church. You buy your food in stores, meat from the butcher, bread from the baker and shoes, cloth, waste baskets and aluminum pots from the department store.

On Sunday you can go to the races in Moscow, and on Monday read another letter from an angry housewife demanding that the race betting machines be closed because "they are the ruination of Communist youth."

The boys and girls in college take to one another a little too freely, in the view of the elders, but when an order was issued at Moscow University prohibiting girls from visiting alone with young men in the dormitories, there was a loud outcry from the students. In a newspaper article they accused their elders of hypocrisy and insisted they didn't need to be coddled.

Divorce courts function far more simply than in America. Just as in America, the court tries to effect a reconciliation. The percentage is low. The baby? Grandmother will look after it.

In the five years I have been here, clothes have grown noticeably better. For the most part they still are shoddy as to material, and even far more shoddy as to design. Yet a style show just held displayed men's and women's things much better made. They haven't reached the stores yet. Prices of shoes and clothing are atrociously high, a suit often the price of two months salary.

Americans always have been liked, and envied, by a great body of the population which would like to have things here the way they are found in America. In spite of Premier Khrushchev's promises, it isn't going to be that way very soon, and Russians know it.

Some time ago a group of youngsters, teen-agers and younger, set out to distribute little pamphlets critical of the Chinese. A 9-year-old jammed one into the hands of an American boy, son of an embassy official. Instantly an older girl ran up to reprimand the youngster.

"That's an American. It's the Chinese we hate, not the Americans."

There is a growing resistance to the constant nagging of the party and government. Some time ago one of the perennial "do-gooders" assigned to help police the streets tried to take a group of celebrating young men to the police station for singing too loudy in the streets at night. In the Fracas the youths beat the man to death. One was sentenced to be shot and another to 15 years in prison. But less violent resistance shows up often. The great Anglo-Saxon desire to be let alone is showing up here although it is contrary to all Communist party discipline.

Some of the bolder comedians in the theaters poke fun at persistent over-regulation. One of these, Arkady Raikin, put on a show in the local variety house. One of the actors, planted out in the audience, arose to protest that he wanted to read the books he wanted, to do other things he wanted, but mainly to be let alone. Raikin waved an admonishing finger at him and said:

"See here. You read Pravda more seriously every day. Pravda will tell you what you want." Pravda is the paper of the Communist party.

The audience roared with laughter.

Despite communist efforts to provide bread and circuses, life is drab for most people. In an organized sort of way, the Communist party tries to do something about it. The colorful church holidays and ceremonies have almost disappeared from Soviet life and there is a frantic effort to find something to replace them, for there is a slight drift back to religious ways.

"We invite you to create new holidays and make them gay and festive," said the labor paper, Trud, this spring. "Let there be new and beautiful rituals in factories, towns and mines," the paper said. It urged planting a tree by the father of a newborn.

The air force academy in Moscow has ways of celebrating special occasions. A graduat's badge is plunked into the bottom of a big glass of vodka, and the graduate has to drink to the bottom without taking a breath before he can put on his decoration.

A new apartment always is the reason for a wild party. That is easy to understand. Scores of thousands of families still live two to three families in a single room, with a common bathroom, and a common kitchen. Now it is practically forbidden to move into Moscow, while the city catches up with its housing.

The Soviet government still frowns on the more modern Western dances, such as the Twist. Dancers are likely to be stopped by a restaurant manager, but more often not, Americans here remember an episode in one Moscow restaurant where an overficious maitre d'hotel stopped a quartet of Americans dancing the Twist, and finally ordered them from the restaurant.

The Russian diners were furious at him. As the four walked toward the door, the orchestra began playing the first few bars of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." That is the radio call theme of Voice of America.

There was an outburst of lively applause throughout the restaurant. They all knew what the melody was, and were delighted at the orchestral rebuff to the restaurant manager.

But times have changed. That can happen here now.

It never would have happened under Stalin.

Brown Will Have Try At Football

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Former Maryland halfback and first baseman Tom Brown, who struck out in professional baseball, is going to try his hand in the National Football League with the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers, who finished second in the Western Conference as they bid for a third straight league title last year, said Monday night the 23-year-old Brown had signed.

Terms were not disclosed, but Brown reported signed for a salary of about $20,000 and a bonus of $6,000—the same terms offered when he was drafted by the Packers in 1962.

Brown, a football star and baseball All-America at the University of Maryland, was a 1963 spring sensation for the Washington Senators, who paid him a bonus of "about $20,000." He opened the season at first base after hitting .312 in the exhibitions.

But after hitting only .167 in 61 American League games, he was farmed out to York, Pa., in the Class AA Eastern League, where he hit .228 in 77 games.

He was back at York this year, and his average dipped below .200 before he told Manager Jim Lemon he would play his last professional baseball game Sunday night.

The Packers consider Brown a top prospect for either flanker back or defensive back. He is 6-foot-1 and 190 pounds.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has deployed its 16th Polaris missile-firing submarine.

The Woodrow Wilson, packing 16 nuclear-tipped rockets with a range of 1,725 miles, went on patrol in the Atlantic over the July 4th weekend, it was learned.

New Party Plans Slate In Michigan

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — A newly-created Freedom Now party—dedicated to electing Negroes to public office—has become an unknown factor in Michigan's political balance of power this year.

The third party qualified officially for the ballot when it filed some 22,000 signatures requesting certification last May.

Since then, Freedom Now leaders have announced plans to put up at least 25 candidates for Congress, the state legislature and other offices.

The organization has caused some concern to Democratic party officials who realize that any major shift of the traditionally Democratic Negro vote could be disastrous in tight elections. In the past, some Negro precincts have given Democratic candidates as much as 80 per cent of their vote.

Chairman of the new party is the Rev. Albert Cleage Jr., pastor of Detroit's Central Congregational church, who claims the Freedom Now candidates will capture at least 100,000 votes this fall.

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency scoffs at the estimate, but he admits there is some concern about just how many votes will be siphoned off by the new party.

Although Cleage hopes the Freedom Now slate will draw enough votes to encourage Negroes to put up their own candidates in other states, formation of the all-Negro party has stirred up mixed emotions among leaders of the colored community.

Some have praised the movement's avowed goal of "independent, black political action." Others have denounced it as a Negro parallel to the segregationist philosophy of the white Citizens Councils of the South.
