Ike Ends Crusade, Heading For Home

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — President Eisenhower headed for home tonight, winding up the crusade for friendship and peace in freedom which he carried to 11 nations.

A thunderous acclaim by about 500,000 jubilant Moroccans and a generous send-off capped the President's history-making tour, the most extended foreign trip ever undertaken by an American president.

The 19-day journey, on which the President was cheered by perhaps nine million welcomers, encompassed visits to Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, Tunisia, Spain and Morocco, as well as a Western summit meeting in Paris.

The conclusion of the President's far-ranging venture in personal diplomacy still found him grinning and radiating confidence that he had managed to spread to millions a feeling of trust in the sincerity of American motives and policies. Only time will disclose the long-term effects. But there were many signs of at least a temporary boost to American prestige as a result of the tour.

The President's orange-nosed jetliner headed westward and was due at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington at 11 p.m. EST, his point of departure Dec. 3. A refueling stop was planned at Gander, Nfld.

The President was received with wild enthusiasm and one of the most colorful welcomes of his three-continent tour when he arrived in this white-walled North African city.

He was fascinated by dashing horsemen, 5,000 strong, who raised their ancient long guns in salute as he rode by in an open car with King Mohammed V past crowds roaring "Yaish Ike" (Long ive Ike)".

The President was presented with the traditional Arab greeting gift of dates and goat milk.

Tens of thousands packing United Nations Square cheered as the president grinned and waved in appreciation of the silver tray of dates and the pitcher of milk.

Then the Eisenhower motorcade continued from the square down the Avenue of the Royal Armed Forces, packed 10 deep with screaming, cheering Moroccans.

Thirty motorcycle police escorted the American visitor into Casablanca.

Moroccan women in veils shrilled "Yoo, Yoo," the traditional Moroccan shout of excitement.

The President, arriving from a whirlwind visit to Madrid where his welcome was similarly enthusiastic, rode through the city in an open car beside King Mohammed V. Both were standing.

Wearing a broad grin, the President waved his hat to the shouting thousands of Morrocans, many in the burnooses and colorful robes characteristic of the country.

The president frequently extended his arms in greeting. When he did so, the crowd seemed almost to go wild with joy. It thundered approval when the President clasped his hands above his head in a gesture of friendship.

Morocco's King, who wants more American aid but wants the U.S. to give up its bases here, turned out to greet Eisenhower at the airport.

The dense crowds slowed the motorcade's progress, and the president was about a half hour behind schedule on the trip to the royal palace.

He was due to leave at 11 a.m. EST for Washington, bringing to an end a history-making journey which was a triumph for the President in most of the places he visited.

"We are very happy to greet you," said the King in a brief welcoming address in Arabic before they drove off to Casablanca for talks on Morocco's desire for more U.S. aid and a swift departure of American troops from Moroccan bases.

Summit Worries 3 Little Nations

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—Belgium, Greece and Turkey expressed fears today they may be affected by decisions taken at an East-West summit conference in which they had no part.

The three little nations—supported in party by Norway and Italy—spoke up at a closed session of the Atlantic Alliance's Ministerial Council.

The council gave full support to the Western Big Three proposal for summit talks with the Soviet Union but with a proviso for prior consultation among the allies.

Strong hints came from Moscow that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will accept the Western invitation to a summit session this spring with the United States, Britain and France.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd took pains to reassure doubtful smaller nations.

Herter and Lloyd assured the other ministers that no nation's interests would be jeopardized behind its back. NATO officials emphasized that the issue did not develop to the point of acrimony.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu expressed doubts the Soviet Union has the peaceful intentions it professes. This, he said, made firm consultation all round more than ever necessary.

Lloyd said that even on disarmament he did not visualize any final agreements would be made without full approval of any nation concerned. Sources said the allies appeared reassured by these pledges and the meeting closed harmoniously.

It was reported authoritatively that the United States considered the West's proposals for a series of summit conferences as mainly a psychological move in order not to raise false hopes.

The United States does not believe the proposal for a series of summit conferences in any way commits the West to more than the Paris meeting proposed for April, it was reported on high authority.

The test of whether any future summit meetings will be arranged will be the sincerity shown by Moscow at the first conference.

The Ministerial Council of NATO ended its annual policy review meeting after hearing a report from French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville on the weekend meeting of the Western Big Four.

The 15-nation council in a communique said it fully supported the invitation the United States, Britain and France sent Khrushchev Monday. West Germany also attended the weekend meeting, but will not go to the East-West summit.

The ministers also endorsed the Western proposal that the new 10-nation Western-Communist disarmament conference start work in Geneva March 15. The council offered the services of NATO's military experts in the disarmament study.

The NATO ministers reaffirmed their year-old pledge to support the United States, Britain and France in maintaining the freedom of West Berlin.

In a news conference the council president, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange, predicted a period of extensive negotiations with the Soviet Union.

"Political cooperation, political unity and—I stress the word—effective political consultation are more important than ever," he declared.

Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, said the Paris conference "marked a step forward on the path of easing international tension."

Frail Mother Hospitalized

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Marie Mackey, 26, a frail Korean war bride found starving Sunday with her two young daughters, was hospitalized Monday night.

Attendants at St. Joseph Hospital said she was not in serious condition but needed rest and intravenous feeding to combat malnutrition.

Her husband, Jack Mackey, 26, an unemployed hospital orderly, was charged Monday with wife and child desertion and jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Her two small daughters, Beverly, 2½, and Judy, 1½, remained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Somers, who gave them refuge Sunday after policeman R. I. Haddix discovered their plight. The trio was found, poorly clad and starving, after alarmed neighbors reported hearing children cry incessantly in the Mackey apartment.

Living Costs Creep Upward In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs crept upward to another all-time high in November, but the rise was at a slower pace than in other recent months, the government reported today.

Consumer prices advanced less than one-tenth of one per cent to a level 25.6 per cent above the 1947-49 average. A month earlier, prices were 25.5 per cent above the base period.

It was the sixth time in seven months that prices, as measured by the Labor Department's consumer price index, advanced to a new peak.

The November rise was less marked than in September and October, and Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said he looks for relative price stability until next spring.

A continued downtrend in food prices helped check the November rise in the index. The big factors on the upside were increases in charges for services and for durable goods, including new autos.

The November rise in the index will bring pay increases to about 170,000 workers who get cost-of-living increases under union contracts.

Factors affecting the shift in buying power included the return of steelworkers to their jobs, which boosted average hourly earnings, and a drop in the factory work week because of layoffs by makers of autos and other goods affected by a shortage of steel.

Skies Mostly Cloudy Today

By The Associated Press

Skies were mostly cloudy over Texas Tuesday and scattered rains—mostly light—were expected in west and central portions of the state.

The rains were expected to extend into East Texas Tuesday night and Wednesday as temperatures continued mild for most of the state.

The Panhandle could expect slightly cooler weather, the forecasters said, by Tuesday night with the cooler air spreading over the entire western portion by Wednesday.

Some light snow was predicted for the Oklahoma Panhandle, eastern Colorado and northern New Mexico. But, to date, there was no mention of snow for any part of Texas. A White Christmas appeared remote.

Temperatures Monday over Texas were near springtime levels, ranging from a balmy 69 at Brownsville to a chilly 46 at Amarillo. Pre-dawn temperatures Tuesday ranged from 54 at Galveston to 34 at Midland.

Separate Bargaining Talks Scheduled On Steel Issue

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators plowed ahead today without visible progress while plans sprouted for 93 separate bargaining sessions across the country next Sunday.

Seemingly to the surprise of some unionists, industry negotiators bowed quickly Monday to the demand of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald for company-by-company negotiations.

This scrambled the bargaining picture. McDonald apparently hoped that by bringing the responsible executives of every big and little steel firm into direct talks, he could crack the industry front which has held almost completely solid for eight months against the union's wage and benefits demands.

There was no immediate sign, however, that any of the smaller companies were ready to offer their local union leaders any more than the industry's top negotiating team has offered McDonald.

Each company has its own contract with the union, even though the bargaining up to now has been on an industry-wide basis.

The continuing deadlock made it almost certain President Eisenhower, returning to the capital tonight after his 11-nation peace mission, won't get the homecoming present he requested when he left — a signed and sealed steel agreement.

Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan scheduled morning and afternoon meetings today between top union officials and the industry's negotiating team. They met Monday for the first time in 10 days, but reported no progress.

Finnegan said there probably will be more sessions as the week advances—perhaps even next Sunday, while the dozens of home town negotiations are going on.

On Sunday, representatives of the "Big 11" steel companies will hold separate meetings in Washington with their own union bargaining committees. These companies are the original dozen firms making up the Steel Industry Coordinating Committee, less Kaiser Steel which pulled out and made a separate contract.

Also next Sunday, but in many cities and mill towns, the other 82 firms which are parties to the dispute will meet with their local union officials.

Institute Plans Suit

BOSTON (AP) — The National Cranberry Institute will seek federal government payments of 15 to 20 million dollars for damages the industry says it sustained through a Food and Drug Administration announcement last month.

The Food and Drug Administration's pre-Thanksgiving announcement that some berries were thought to have been contaminated by a weed killer caused heavy damage in the marketing of the 1959 crop, and may cause losses in the 1960 crop, Institute President Orrin Colley said Monday.

"Cranberry growers are asking the government for indemnification," Colley said, "because of the unprecedented action by Welfare Secretary Arthur S. Flemming who deviated from accepted policies of his Food and Drug division and publicly singled out the cranberry industry at the peak of its marketing season without giving the industry opportunity to defend itself against the charges."

Think Rate Plan Will Clog Courts

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Bar said today the new auto insurance program effective Jan. 1 will point up inadequacies of the traffic court system in Texas.

Doren Eskew, Austin city attorney and chairman of the Bar's committee on traffic regulation, said his committee has completed a study of the new insurance rating plan and its probable effect on lawyers and courts.

"We believe it will make drivers, charged with traffic offenses, begin thinking more seriously about traffic cases," Eskew said.

"It undoubtedly will clog dockets of trial and appellate courts with traffic cases ordinarily disposed of by pleas of guilty and payments of fines."

Appeal from a present traffic court requires the county court to conduct a completely new trial because the traffic courts are not courts of record, Eskew said. The Bar committee recommended establishment of traffic courts of record, which would allow an appeal directly to the appellate court and eliminate the second time-consuming trial before county court.

Eskew's committee said it is apprehensive "that the new insurance rating plan might cause wholesale cancellations by insurors who either do not understand the order or whose premiums will be drastically increased.

"Unless the people are firmly committed to the proposition that careful drivers ought not to have to bear expenses not caused by their own driving, it is probable that assorted kinds of legislation will be sought in opposition to the safe driving plan promulgated by the board," Eskew said.

One Dead, Five Hurt In Collision

SHERMAN (AP) — A two-car collision south of here last night killed one Sherman resident and injured five others critically.

Leon Schilling, 47, was killed. His 18-year-old brother, Melvin, was critically injured as the pair pushed their disabled auto.

Melvin Schilling had one leg severed.

The second vehicle, driven by Lee Jackson, 30, struck the Schilling vehicle from the rear. Besides Jackson and young Schilling, also injured critically were Mrs. Jackson and the Jacksons' two sons, Howell, 7, and Johnny, 4.

Hearing Set Today In Bribe Attempt

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A preliminary hearing was set for this afternoon for Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, Pittsburgh dentist charged with attempting to bribe two University of Pittsburgh basketball players.

Dr. Sebastian, former dental instructor at Pitt, was arrested Monday following an investigation of statements by John Fridley, 20-year-old defensive star of the Pitt Panthers, and teammate Dick Falenski, 21, the team's leading scorer.

Fridley and Falenski, both juniors, told university officials Dr. Sebastian offered them scholarships to Pitt's dental school, and to pay them 50 per cent of bet winnings if they would keep Pitt's victory margins within betwinning range.

Dr. Sebastian denied the charges, saying, "everything we discussed, he (Fridley) started."

The investigation began Dec. 11 when Fridley and Falenski, on the advice of their parents, reported to University Athletic Director Frank Carver that they were offered a bribe.

Fridley told detectives he met with Dr. Sebastian separately Dec. 3 and Dec. 9. He said Falenski was with him in a meeting Dec. 10, and that it was then Dr. Sebastian gave his pitch.

He "offered us the world—anything that came to his mind he said he'd get us—cars at cost and everything," Fridley said.

Falenski, who has been averaging 17 points a game, said:

"Our grades aren't up to snuff, but he said he'd fix everything—get us senatorial scholarships and guarantee we got into dental school."

Both players said they refused to have anything to do with the offer.

Legislative Panel To Study Property Tax Use Organized

AUSTIN (AP)— A conservative 9-man committee created by the Legislature to concentrate a study on the use of the property tax in Texas organized here today.

Sen. William Fly of Victoria, head of a general tax study group two years ago, became chairman and Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, author of the resolution, was elected vice chairman.

Public hearings will begin late next year. The commission will report by Dec. 1 on the amount of money being collected due to the new tax laws recently enacted. A final report is due in late 1962.

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policies will report on these specific topics: Any changes needed in the basic state law relating to property taxation; whether the state should abandon the tax and what revenue sources should be substituted to maintain present state services; how to insure more equitable property tax administration; whether the property tax is capable of continuing to finance local governmental services.

It also is to evaluate the taxes and revenue measures enacted by the 56th Legislature, the collection of the taxes and enforcement procedures.

The Texas Research League was invited to assist in the research for the committee and the committee also obtained the services of the Legislative Budget Board.

Fly termed the league the committee's "research arm" but said all policies and decisions would be set by the 9-man joint legislative citizen committee.

The commission requested that the Texas Assn. of County Collector-Assors; the Texas Assn. of Assessing Officers; county, city and school officials and other interested groups and citizens submit any topics "which they believe should be included in a property tax study."

The commission said it will compare taxation in Texas with other states following enactment of the new tax laws. It acknowledged "the interest many people have in the relinquishment of the ad valorem tax by the state government and also recognizes the problem of replacing the 40 million dollars of revenue currently produced by this state tax."

John McKee of Dallas, one of the three members appointed by Gov. Price Daniel, was elected secretary. Others appointed by Daniel are Hugo Lowenstein of Amarillo and Dr. John Stockton of the University of Texas.

Other members of the Legislature includes Sens. George Parkhouse of Dallas, Louis Crump of San Saba, and Reps. V. I. Ramsey of Beckville and Gordon Bristow of Big Spring.

Thousands Troop Slowly By Bier Of Civil War Veteran

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mourners trooped slowly by the bier of Civil War veteran Walter Williams by the thousands today.

The body of the 117-year-old soldier of the South lay in state in the Civil Courts Building a second day—the last survivor of the five million members of the Blue and the Gray who took part in the great conflict.

Flags dipped to half-staff across the land. Texas and Georgia observed memorial days in his honor.

A military procession escorts the body Wednesday morning through downtown streets to the South Main Baptist church for funeral services. Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, pastor, will officate.

At the church will be a group dressed in Union blue. The Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sons of Union Veterans Fife and Drums Corps will render the one-time forage master's favorite melodies—"Dixie," "The Yellow Rose of Texas," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Then U.S. 4th Army and Texas state highway patrol units will escort the body to the country cemetery at Franklin, Texo, for military rites.

Williams died Saturday. His doctor said he apparently had beaten back his fourth attack of pneumonia since summer, only to succumb of old-age complications.

Governmental agencies pay tribute to him tonight with memorial services in the Houston Music Hall. Various service organizations will take part.

The body was clad in a Confederate officer's uniform of gray, trimmed with gleaming gold buttons, cuffs, collar and braid.

Willie Mae Bowles, a daughter with whom Williams lived out his final years, sobbed as she touched her father's head.

Ike Santa Claus To Spanish Girl

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

MADRID (AP) — President Eisenhower played Santa Claus to a cute little Spanish girl today. He gave her a doll and got a big kiss in exchange.

Rosa Maria Jimenez Calvo, 7, wrote to Eisenhower and said she wanted to kiss a good - looking grandpa—her description of the American chief executive.

The President arranged with U.S. Ambassador John Davis Lodge to have Rosa brought to him.

Tiny and sleepy-eyed, the little girl showed up with her parents at 7:30 a.m. today at Moncloa Palace, where Eisenhower was an overnight guest of the Spanish government. Rosa was standing at the foot of an ornate staircase as the President came down to start a busy day taking him to Morocco and then home to Washington.

Photographers' lights momentarily blinded Eisenhower as he stopped to shake hands with the tot, who greeted him shyly in Spanish.

"Let's get over here out of these lights where you and I can talk," said the President, taking Rosa's hand.

Eisenhower took the youngster, who wore a white sweater over a yellow-flowered dress, to the corner of the room. He sat on a chair and drew Rosa to his knee.

"Do you like dolls?" asked Eisenhower, who has four young grandchildren.

Rosa replied in Spanish that she does. The President handed her a large box wrapped in bright Christmas paper. Rosa beamed and Eisenhower told her: "That will be your doll."

Whereupon Rosa kissed the smiling President — full on the mouth.

Rockey Not Interested In Veep's Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he will have no part of any attempt by the 1960 Republican National Convention to draft him as a vice-presidential candidate.

He would reject such a draft "in any form," he told a news conference Monday.

Some Republican leaders have continued to urge Rockefeller to run on a ticket headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, despite Rockefeller's repeated assertions that he is not interested in second place.

Rockefeller is considering running for president. Nixon generally is considered to have a commanding lead for the nomination.

Rockefeller also said he does not know what was discussed by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Nixon at a meeting in Washington last weekend, and therefore does not know what significance to attach to it.

He declined to say whether he had received from Dewey any indication whether Dewey would support him for the presidential nomination.

Daily Crude Flow Higher

TULSA (AP) — Average daily domestic crude oil and condensate production for the week ended Dec. 19 was up 25,110 barrels to 7,168,610 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Total oil output this year has been about 5 per cent more than during the same period of 1958, the Journal added. It was pointed out 1958 was an abnormally low year for crude production.

Operators, through Dec. 19, produced 2,484,272,830 barrels compared with 2,363,039,230 for last year.

Oklahoma was up 5,700 to 566,200; Colorado up 400 to 127,000; Arkansas was down 1,000 to 83,300; and Louisiana was off 100 to 1,047,100.

Unchanged were New Mexico 266,100; and Texas, 2,647,200.

Rains Slow Farm Work Over State

AUSTIN (AP) — Widespread rains and the holiday season slowed Texas farm activity last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Small grains, winter pastures and wheat were benefited by rain up to five inches. Land preparation will continue as soon as soils dry.

In southern areas, farmers are now applying fertilizers in getting ready for next year's crop. South Texas flax missed the heavy rains and still need growing moisture.

The harvest of winter vegetables was active in South Texas. Cabbage and carrots moved in good volume from the Valley. Early plantings of lettuce were furnishing a light production. Green winter vegetables are available in good supply and mixed car loadings continued to increase.

Preparation of land for watermelons is nearing completion in the Falfurrias area. A light acreage will be planted later this month.

Rain, cold weather and removal from muddy, small grain pastures caused some livestock shrinkage. Grazing prospects will improve rapidly when temperatures moderate.

The rain and snow should carry the wheat crop through the winter. It had been making slow growth due to lack of moisture. Oat prospects improved, especially in the plateau country and in South Central Texas.

Laws Banning Birth Control Are Upheld

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The State Supreme Court of Errors today upheld the constitutionality of two state laws dealing with birth control.

The laws prohibit the use of contraceptive devices and forbid physicians from advising their use under any circumstances.

The court, in a unanimous decision, said the laws "are a constitutional exercise of legislative power."

It said "the judiciary has a duty to test legislative action by constitutional principles, but it cannot, in that process, usurp the power of the Legislature."

Connecticut's highest court was ruling on four suits brought against the laws, which often have been involved in court tests since they were passed in 1879.

Backers of the suits had indicated in advance of the ruling that they would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Principals in the suits were Dr. C. Lee Buxton, a physician and chairman of Yale Medical School's obstretrics department; three of his women patients; and two husbands.

Buxton claimed that the ban on giving birth control advice prevented him from prescribing contraceptives for three patients for whom pregnancy could mean a loss of life or abnormal children.

The patients also filed suits, using fictitious names to maintain their anonymity.

First Woman Convicted On Kidnap Law

CHICAGO (AP)—The first woman in Illinois to be tried under the Lindbergh Kidnaping Law has been convicted of kidnaping a 5-month-old boy in Chicago Nov. 19 and taking him to nearby Gary, Ind.

She is Mrs. Diane Varner, 27, a dice girl, who showed no emotion Monday when Judge Edwin A. Robson opened a sealed verdict. A jury of seven men and five women reached the verdict Friday night after a three-day trial.

Sentencing of Mrs. Varner was continued to Jan. 15 when Judge Robson will hear a motion for a new trial.

Mrs. Varner, who was arrested by FBI agents in a Gary hotel with the baby, James Vickers, said she had been released in 1958 from the women's federal reformatory at Anderson, W.Va., after serving three years for kidnaping a child in Amarillo, Tex.

Mrs. Marilyn Vickers, mother of James, testified she hired Mrs. Varner as a sitter when she went to work as a waitress and told her not to leave the hotel. Mrs. Varner testified she had Mrs. Vickers' permission to take the boy to Gary for two or three days. Mrs. Vickers is separated from her husband.

Work Week Shorter During November

AUSTIN (AP)—Wholesale and retail trade workers in Texas averaged shorter work weeks and reduced earnings in November, the Texas Employment Commission said Monday.

The average retail trade work week of 40.9 hours with average weekly earnings of $60.94 was down from 41.3 hours and $61.54 during October.

In wholesale trade the average wage of $92.61 for 42.4 hours compared with $92.02 and 42.6 hours in October.

Policeman In Bribe Case Quits Post

HOUSTON (AP) — Policeman Billy Snow, 32, who charged a police inspector with attempting to bribe him, had resigned today from the police department.

Snow submitted his resignation effective Jan. 16.

The patrolman became a figure in a department investigation when he charged that police inspector Foy Melton indirectly tried to bribe him to change his testimony in a $2,500,000 Federal Court damage suit.

Houston oilman Robert Milner filed the suit against National Airlines following his arrest on a drunkenness charge as he disembarked from a New Orleans flight at International Airport here.

Milner was cleared of the drunk charge in Corporation Court but lost the damage suit.

Snow and another officer made the arrest. Snow charged Melton had attempted to bribe him to say Milner was not drunk when he was arrested in November 1957.

Melton later was fired by Police Chief Carl Shuptrine.

Snow resigned, saying he wanted to devote "full time" to a service station he operates.

Infant Spends First Christmas In Jail

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Three-months-old Karen Bruning will spend her first Christmas in jail.

Her mother, Beverly Bruning, 22, is confined to Plymouth County Jail. Her father, Leslie Bruning, 24, is confined to Barnstable County Jail.

The couple was sentenced to a year in jail Nov. 5 for shoplifting.

The judge decided it would be better for the child to accompany the mother than to be placed in a foster home.

Karen has her own room—gaily decorated for Christmas—to which the mother has ready access.

Husband Held In Beating Of Woman

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Mrs. George Jarvis, 48, of New York City was found badly beaten and stripped of her clothing early today near the shrimp basin at Port Brownsville.

She was in a critical condition today.

Cameron County chief deputy Sheriff Bill Gatliff said charges of assault with intent to murder was filed against George Jarvis, about 42, the woman's husband.

Gatliff quoted Jarvis as saying he was a former convict and had served time for armed robbery. He told officers the couple had been on a trip to Mexico.

Dallas Commissioners Tie On Controversy

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County Commissioners Court cast a tie vote Monday on a matter on which a grand jury severely criticized the court. The 2-2 vote came on a motion by Mel Price to do away with all county work for private individuals and to abolish the work order system. County Judge Lew Sterrett voted with Price while commissioners Denver Seale and Lynn Lawther voted against the measure.

Seed Crop Value Higher Than '58

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's seed crop had a value of $123,018,000, or about one per cent more than last year's crop.

The Agriculture Department said production of 27 important kinds of seed used for planting hay, pasture, turf and winter cover crops totaled 789½ million pounds compared with 751 million last year.

Newborn Winter Chills Northeast

By The Associated Press

The first day of winter today found the Northeast shivering under a vast blanket of snow as deep as 10 inches in some spots.

One death occurred during the snowstorm in a traffic accident at Sturbridge, Mass.

Travelers crept along treacherously icy highways. Schools closed in some areas. Emergency crews moved in quickly to keep traffic moving where possible. Some buses were trapped in the snow. Trains were late. Air traffic was slightly delayed.

Heavy winds whipped the snow across a region stretching from the Great Lakes east through Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and parts of New England. The Atlantic Coast in New Jersey and New York appeared hardest hit.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was expected to end tonight throughout the area.

In New York City, seven inches piled up before the snowfall ended.

All arteries into the city were clogged with traffic during the morning rush hour. The storm knocked out some subways and others were running late.

In Rockland County, N. Y., the snow was 10 inches deep in some spots. A number of schools closed in New York and New Jersey.

The storm covered virtually all of Pennsylvania to a depth of five inches in the western part of the state.

Several hundred cars were trapped several hours on Route 35 in New Jersey between Middletown and Red Bank. The stranded motorists included three pregnant women headed for hospitals. A doctor, also snowbound in the traffic snarl, attended them until emergency crews hurried them onto hospitals.

It was cold across most of the northern half of the country. The lowest readings — edging toward zero—were near the Canadian border from Minnesota to Maine.

Temperatures rose gradually south of the coldest weather, with readings in the teens from southern New England through Wisconsin.

Philippines Counts 20 Storm Deaths

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Gilda one of the worst storms to hit the Philippines in recent memory, left at least 20 persons dead, 27 missing and some 60,000 homeless, official reports said today.

The typhoon also dealt a staggering blow to the Philippines' coconut industry, the largest in the world. The 120-mile winds ripped through coconut plantations in the rich, thickly populated central islands 150 miles south of Manila.

Authorities said it might take four years for the coconut industry to recover.

A report from Samar Island, which bore the brunt of the onslaught last Friday and Saturday, said 27 towns were badly hit and some 2,500 homes swept away.

Fourteen of the deaths resulted from the sinking of the inter-island ship M. V. Riza. Another 27 of the 107 passengers and crewmen aboard were missing. The others were rescued.

A launch, reported missing earlier with 100 teachers aboard, was reported safe.

Gilda was considered a freak. The storm season usually ends in November.

Say Rebels Reshuffle Command

CAIRO (AP) — Algerian rebel leaders were reported today to have reshuffled their provisional government-in-exile and named a tough military commander as premier.

Reliable North African sources said the new Cabinet would be a five - man military government headed by Krim Belkacem, former vice premier and defense minister.

Belkacem is a shadowy figure who has been involved mainly with the military conduct of the five-year-old rebellion. Last year he was quoted as saying that his men would not lay down their arms unless France recognizes Algeria's independence.

Ferhat Abbas, moderate premier of the old Cabinet, was reportedly named the new government's official spokesman.

Other members of the new Cabinet reportedly are Abdel Hafiz Boussouf, deputy premier and minister of armament; Omar Ouseddik, minister of social affairs Youssef ben Khedda, foreign affairs and interior, and Al Akhdar ben Toubal, finance and economy.

All held different posts in the rebel Cabinet set up here in September 1958. Recently it shifted its headquarters to Tunis.

Word of the new cabinet came to sources here by cable from Tripoli, Libya, where the rebel leadership now is meeting. The sources said the rebels had decided to locate the official seat of their government within Algieria, although full cabinet meetings would be held in tripoli.

Ex-Burlesque King Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Kay Minsky, 68, one of the Minsky brothers who once owned a coast-to-coast chain of burlesque houses died Monday night.

Minsky, who had been ill several months with a heart ailment, died shortly after being admitted to University Hospital.

A graduate of the Columbia University Law School, Minsky in 1912 joined his brothers Abe, Billy and Morton in building a nationwide chain of 14 burlesque houses.

The last of the Minsky striptease theaters was closed here by New York Mayor Fiorello La Guardia in 1937.

The Minskys were credited with the discovery of such stars as Gypsy Rose Lee, Phil Silvers, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Red Buttons and Pinky Lee.

Confiscation Authorized

HAVANA (AP)—Acting swiftly on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's promise, the Cuban Cabinet early today authorized confiscating the property of anyone convicted of counter-revolutionary activities at home or abroad.

The Prime Minister had announced at a workers' rally Sunday night that the Cabinet would make the move.

The Cabinet authorized "confiscation of all material goods" of persons conspiring against the Castro goverment at home or abroad or who flee the country to avoid court action.

It was not clear whether the new law will be retroactive and apply to fugitives already convicted in absentia.

Mohammed V Is Moderate

By STEPHEN HUGHES

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — King Mohammed V of Morocco, host to President Eisenhower today, is a mild mannered moderate who has spent much of his reign trying to calm the passions of extremists.

He once was shipped off to a two-year exile when the French were masters of the country. His prestige was so great among his people that France finally called him back to the throne and gave Morocco its independence.

Nominally, Mohammed is the absolute civil and religious ruler of his nation; slightly larger than California and its 10 million inhabitants.

In practice he never has been able to wield this authority fully. For many years he could only rubber-stamp decisions by the French. Now he must fight his way through the political intrigue by ill-defined political parties.

As 18th ruler of the Alaouis dynasty, he traces his ancestry to Ali son-in-law of the founder of Islam, the Prophet Mohammed.

Now 50, Mohammed was elected Sultan of Morocco at 18, after his father died. The election was by the Ulemas, the learned doctors of Islamic law. The throne stays within the Alaouis family but does not automatically pass to the eldest son.

National elections never have been held. Political leaders gained their stature during their fight for independence from France, and there is little way of telling how much popular support they have.

This leaves the King the delicate task of mediating fierce political infighting.

Through the years of struggle for independence, Mohammed proceeded at an unhurried pace. After his return from exile, Spain also agreed to withdraw from its area of occupation and the 12-power control over Tangier was dropped.

The result has been that Mohammed and Morocco have managed to keep on friendly terms with France and Spain, although conflicts still erupt.

The King—he discarded the title of Sultan in favor of what he considered a more up to date title—has 10 rambling baroque palaces at his disposal. But he seldom lives away from the sprawling palace at Rabat, with its colorful Negro bodyguard, a fleet of 35 American cars, tennis courts, gymnasium and swimming pool.

Mohammed has two of the four wives allowed by Moslem law and is the father of six children of whom the eldest, Prince Moulay Hassan, is crown prince. He also keeps several concubines, but in Moslem eyes this only adds to his stature.

Believe Missing Widow Alive, Well

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Authorities in her home town believe Lyde Marland, shy and retiring widow of a former Oklahoma millionaire governor, is alive, well, and not too far away.

Beyond that they're saying nothing about the 7-year mystery of the former Oklahoma first lady's whereabouts.

Sheriff Forrest Walker of Ponca City said Monday he is satisfied the missing woman is alive and living in a large city in an adjoining state. He said he is closing the case.

"Apparently she wants her whereabouts to remain secret," the sheriff added, "so we are not going to divulge where she is living."

His statement plus a letter prompted residents of Long Beach, Calif., to recall they had been Mrs. Marland's neighbors through most of 1959.

Mrs. Carrie Ferris and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peck of Long Beach said they lived in the same apartment building with Mrs. Marland for more than a year. All said they don't know where she is now.

"She is a wonderful individual," said Mrs. Peck. "She seems shy and disliked having so many stores about her, some of them wrong she said."

Peck added he was writing to protect Mrs. Marland's interest because "I understand the time is now near for her to be declared legally dead."

Under Oklahoma law a person can be declared legally dead if there is no information or evidence she is alive for a period of seven years. Peck in his letter offered to supply affidavits from other neighbors that Mrs. Marland was alive this summer.

Mrs. Marland disappeared from here in February 1953.

She was the legal ward of the wealthy oil man before they married after the death of his first wife in 1926.

The official search for Mrs. Marland has been carried on because of the fear she met with foul play and the fact that the Marland estate has not been settled.

Mrs. Marland inherited about $40,000 and a small part of a 2,000-acre estate from Marland's abbreviated second fortune.

Rocky Knows Of Juvenile Delinquency

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he has a personal knowledge of juvenile delinquency because his son Steven was beaten up three times by a youth gang.

The governor said it was 10 years ago when Steven was 13. He said the beatings took place in Manhattan while Steven was en route home from school.

Rockefeller made the disclosure in a panel interview on juvenile delinquency, published in the latest issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

"Youthful crime and violence have increased in alarming proportions in recent years," the governor is quoted.

"You know, one of my sons was beaten up three times on his way home from school here in New York a few years ago. In fact, 82 boys in his school were attacked and beaten.

"Juvenile delinquency isn't some abstract problem of a group of unfortunate people remote from us. It is right here. It affects all children and all families directly and indirectly."

At that time, Steven attended a private school.

Dismembered Plane Put Up For Sale

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Brookley Air Force Base planned to open bids today on a military amphibian plane being sold on a "where is, as is" basis.

The tail section of the SA16 Albatross is at Brookley Field. The rest is under 36 feet of water 27 miles away in the Gulf of Mexico.

The plane cracked its hull Nov. 23 while the crew was making practice landings in the Gulf. Only the tail section was salvaged.

The plane costs about $75,000 new, but Brookley wasn't saying what it expected to get for this one.

Wounded Man Under Guard

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—Officers stood guard today over an aged man wounded in a triple shooting that took one life.

Police identified the wounded man as Ott Ellison, 72. His former wife, Ivey Ellison, 60, died in a burst of gun fire on her front steps. Mrs. Ellison's sister, Mrs. Bessie Hollis, 63, was critically wounded.

Officers said Marion Richardson and James Moore gave this description of the shootings:

Witnesses said there was an argument on the front porch of Mrs. Ellison's home. Mrs. Hollis was there and so was Ellison. Suddenly, shots were fired.

Mrs. Ellison fell first. Then Ellison was seen chasing the crippled Mrs. Hollis, who hobbled away on a crutch.

Herbert Kirschner, 18, told officers he saw Ellison fire a shot at Mrs. Hollis as she reached his driveway.

Then Ellison ran back to the side of his former wife and shot himself in the chest, the witness said.

Officers said they found Ellison holding his former wife's head in his lap. They were divorced last month.

Three Killed In Collision

KILGORE (AP)—Three persons were killed and three injured in a two-car collision 5 miles east of here early today at a farm road intersection.

The dead were identified as Dr. Samuel Perlman, 57, widely known Carthage, Tex., physician; Miss Barbara Ann Bates, 21, of Rt. 2, Gary, Tex.; and Thelmer Thedford, a 40-year-old Negro who resided at (104½ Teague St.) Longview.

The Highway Patrol said the accident occurred about 12:45 a.m. at the intersection of Farm Road 2011 and Farm Road 349.

Dr. Perlman was dead on arrival at Gregg Memoral Hospital in Longview. Miss Haynes died at 2:10 a.m. Thedford, driver of the second car, was killed instantly.

The injured, all Negroes riding with Thedford, were listed by state police as James Earl Brewster 16, Joe Cephus Rusk 17, and Napoleon Jones, 28. Their addresses were not learned immediately.

Politics Goes International

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed series of summit meetings may cause both parties to put a premium on international experience in the choice of their 1960 presidential nominees.

President Eisenhower, along with the heads of Britain and France, spoke of the desirability of a series of summit meetings Monday as they formally proposed a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris in April.

If the Soviet Union agrees, the timing of any subsequent sessions would be dictated in part by the progress made in the original Big Four talks.

But politicians here are of the general opinion that if the Allied idea is carried out, the next president may find himself involved shortly after his inauguration in what could be a decisive meeting with the other heads of states.

This is likely to emphasize at both July conventions the possibility that the party may be nominating the man who will have to deal with Khrushchev in efforts to end the cold war.

Part of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's current popularity is attributed in many quarters to the way he handled himself in his widely publicized "kitchen debate" with Khrushchev in Moscow.

Nixon also sat in on some of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks during the Soviet Premier's visit to this country.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a potential rival for the GOP nomination, had a brief meeting with Khrushchev in New York during the tour.

Both Rockefeller and Nixon have been under attack from the Soviets. Khrushchev classed Nixon as one of those he said didn't want to end the cold war. Pravda, the authoritative Moscow organ, recently jumped on Rockefeller after he said Soviet policy, backed by military power, threatened the very existence of the United States.

While they might benefit from any summit agreement upholding Eisenhower's prestige as a peacemaker, Nixon and Rockefeller are satisfied to have it known they are wary of Khrushchev's motives and tactics.

This wariness is shared by Democratic hopefuls who believe that Khrushchev is going to demonstrate at the summit an unwillingness to yield any major concessions on Berlin and other trouble spots.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D - Minn), who had an eight-hour talk with Khrushchev in the Kremlin last year, already is taking the line that the Eisenhower administration has been "too easy" with the Soviets. He contends a Democrat as president would offer "Stiffer competition" for Khrushchev.

Among the Democrats, Adlai E. Stevenson has been the most conspicuous Khrushchev conferee. The two-time presidential nominee met with Khrushchev in Moscow last year and had one of the few informal talks Democrats managed to get in with the Soviet Premier on his American tour.

Eldest Ford Daughter Has Debut

DETROIT (AP)—Charlotte Ford eldest daughter of Henry Ford II, made her debut Monday night at a dazzling party attended by high society and leaders of business and industry.

The 18-year - old great - granddaughter of the late Henry Ford was introduced to society at a night-long coming-out party at the Country Club of Detroit.

The party was estimated to have cost the Fords $100,000.

The club was decorated by Jacques Frank of Paris in an 18th century French motif. Imported French tapestries, insured for $150,000, lined the walls. Flowers and fountains were everywhere. A formal French garden had been reproduced on the spot.

Charlotte, a willowy blonde, wore a strapless white satin gown designed by Yves St. Laurent, the Parisian successor to Dior. The ankle-length gown was trimmed with bands of embroidered flowers, pearls and tourmalines.

Carhlotte was escorted by a cousin, Peter Sullivan of Glen Head, N.Y. Her father, president of Ford Motor Co., got the first dance.

HOLD THAT TIGER—Texas Christian University players seem to be having trouble stopping Clemson halfback, George Usry, in center of pile-up. This action took place in the first quarter of the Bluebonnet Bowl game at Houston. This play set up the field goal scored by Clemson. TCU players shown are Don Floyd (75) and Arvie Martin (53). Mighty Cincinnati Top-Rated In Poll

By The Associated Press

Undefeated Cincinnati, called by some coaches as the "finest college team ever assembled," is the No. 1 cage team in the nation.

Sports writers and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the season, gave the Bearcats a wide margin over the rest of the field Monday, giving them 55 of the 120 first place votes. In the point score, the Bearcats received 956 points to 820 for runner-up West Virginia, which drew 30 first place votes.

Following the two pace setters were Ohio State, California, Bradley, Utah, St. Louis, Georgia Tech, Indiana and Illinois, in order. Six of the top ten are undefeated. Ohio State and Georgia Tech tasted defeat for the first time Monday night. The Buckeyes bowed to Utah 97-92 and the Engineers were beaten by SMU 80-71.

Cincinnati, averaging better than 100 points a game in five straight victories, meets fifth - ranked Bradley tonight before competing in the ECAC Holiday Festival in Madison Square Garden beginning Saturday. Other top ten teams scheduled tonight include seventh - ranked St. Louis (6-2) against Kansas, third-ranked Ohio State (6 - 1) vs Brigham Young, eighth - ranked Georgia Tech (6-1) vs. Texas Tech, and ninth-ranked Indiana (4-1) vs. Butler.

West Virginia (8-0) won't see action until it goes into the Los Angeles Holiday Festival next Monday but fourth-ranked California (5-0) has a big game against a strong Michigan State team Wednesday. Utah and Indiana also play Wednesday. The Utes will meet College of the Pacific and the Hoosiers will face Butler.

Favorites fell by the wayside in Monday night's action but 10th-ranked Illinois managed to keep its slate clean, nipping Oklahoma 60-57 in overtime. The biggest upset was perpetrated by Brigham Young which defeated Michigan State 79-75.

UCLA edged Minnesota 73-72. Wisconsin topped favored Stanford 61-60. Providence took a 62-60 decision from Santa Clara. Denver beat Michigan 71 - 65, Creighton won over Seattle 77-70 and Miami of Florida beat Miami of Ohio for the first time in four years, 83-78.

Utah, led by Billy (The Hill) McGill, led Ohio State all the way in racking up its seventh victory without a defeat. The sixth-ranked Redskins led at halftime 49-44. The 6,000 fans in the Ute Fieldhouse went wild as the 6-9 McGill scored 31 points. Scoring honors, however, went to Jerry Lucas of Ohio State. The 6-8 sophomore sensation netted 32 points.

UCLA squandered a 13 - point lead but survived a late scoring splurge by Minnesota's Ron Johnson for its fourth victory in eight games. Four free throws by Bill Ellis in the last 90 seconds won for the Bruins.

Wisconsin had to freeze the ball for the last two minutes to eke out its one-point victory over Stanford and their second triumph in seven starts. John Arrillaga tallied 25 in a losing cause.

Illinois scored nine points in thr last four minutes to pull into a 47-47 tie with Oklahoma at the end of regulation and won in overtime on the shooting of Ed Perry, a substitute.

Lenny Wilkins sparked a second-half rally that gave Providence its 62-60 uphill triumph over Santa Clara and ended a three-game losing streak.

Jim Peay's 38 points paced Denver to its victory over Michigan. It was only the Pioneers' second victory of the season.

Brigham Young handed Michigan State its's first defeat in five games when Gary Ernest hit two free throws and a layup in the last 34 seconds.

Missouri's once - beaten Tigers scored their sixth victory with a 71-62 triumph over Loyola of Chicago. Dick Hickox, 5-6 speedster, rang up 28 points as the Florida Miamians came from behind to defeat the namesakes from Ohio.

Other results were Louisville 84, Alabama 54, Arkansas 75, Centenary 55, Bucknell 74, Rhode Island 66, Xavier of Ohio 94, Citadel 71, College of Pacific 57, Idaho State 55, Oregon 56, San Jose State 41, Washington 79, Northwestern 60, Oregon State 67, Nebraska 65.

SMU Back In Saddle, Wins 80-71

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist was back on the beam Monday night and the Southwest Conference hurdled a strong menace to its intersectional record as the Methodists whipped Georgia Tech 80-71.

The league had pulled even for the season last week, winning 19 and losing 19 along the intersectional front. Georgia Tech, which had an unbeaten record, was considered a top threat to the status quo.

But Southern Methodist, with its most impressive showing of the campaign, snapped the Georgia Tech winning string at six straight.

Arkansas walloped Centenary 75-55 to shove the league ahead 21-19 in intersectional play.

Two more games against outside foes are scheduled Tuesday night with Texas Tech hosting Georgia Tech and Texas Christian entertaining Oklahoma City University. Texas Tech and TCU won't be favored to win but even if they lose the conference still will be breaking even.

Steve Strange, with 20 points and 13 rebounds, led SMU to its mildly surprising victory over the Engineers. Max Williams had 20 points, Wilbur Marsh 14, and Kim Nash 10 as the Methodists showed four players in double figures. SMU led one time by 19 points and in the late stages used its reserves.

Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech was the game's high point man with 25 and teammate Wayne Richards had 20. But no other Tech got as many as 10 points.

Arkansas dominated the backboards in slamming Centenary and had four players in double figures — Pat Foster and Clyde Rhoden with 18 points each, Ron Garner with 15 and Jerry Carlton with 10. The Razorbacks shot at a 44.8 per cent clip from the floor and 88.5 on the free throw line.

Lombardi Honored As Coach Of Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Vinnie Lombardi, in his first year as head coach of the Green Bay Packers, today was voted coach of the year by National Football League writers in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 45-year-old tactician, who once served as Red Blaik's backfield coach at West Point, guided his team to a third-place tie in the Western Conference with seven victories against five defeats.

Lombardi took over a team which had won only one game, lost 10 and tied one in Green Bay's poorest season in 40 years of professional football.

The little man with the build of a blacksmith steered his team to victories in its first three games. He was carried off the field by his players after their opening game triumph over the Chicago Bears.

Lombardi won in a landslide. He received 29 of the 37 votes cast with four votes going to Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants and two each going to Weeb Ewbank of Baltimore and Red Hickey of San Francisco. Ewbank earned the award last year.

Lombardi took over as coach and general manager of the Packers last winter after five years as offensive coach with the Giants. He succeeded Ray (Scooter) McLain as head coach and Verne Lewellen as general manager.

Lombardi, who first gained attention in football as a guard at Fordham and was one of the "seven blocks of granite" in Fordham's glory days, made a remarkable metamorphosis at Green Bay. He revamped the team almost completely, instilled morale and bouyed up the spirit.

He traded for or acquired eight players from rival teams. He installed five rookies, and picked up two veterans who returned from the service.

Paul Hornung fonnd himself under Lombardi. After two seasons as quarterback and fullback, the former Notre Dame All-America was switched to left halfback and became the key to Green Bay's offense. He led the league in scoring with 94 points. Lombardi also established Jim Taylor, a second-year man from LSU, as his regular fullback. The youngster proved a devastating runner after recovering from an injury.

Lamar McHan, who spent five undistinguished seasons toiling for the Chicago Cardinals, proved a first-rate quarterback after Lombardi acquired him for a coule of 1960 draft choices. When McHan went sour, Vinnie switched to Bart Starr and the youngster turned in a fine job as signal caller and passer.

Lombardi, father of two children, launched his coaching career at St. Cecilia High School in Englewood, N.J.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Well, found out what a "javelina" is from a couple of gracious sources. It's a wild hog— a vicious little south Texas somebody who reportedly is about as mean as they come. A rascally razorback with razor-sharp tusks.

His ancestry is strictly Spanish, or so would be evidenced by his name, which is pronounced "have -uh-LEEN-uh" rather than "java-LINE-uh". Call him what you will, but be sure you're at a safe distance when you do it.

But back to the Holiday Bowl, and what transpired there Saturday.

Contest A Cockeyed Corker

THE GAME ITSELF was unusual, to say the least. You may recall that the contest was played in St. Petersburg, Florida, which, of course, is the mecca of spring training baseball. And it was more than evident that the playing field had been constructed for same.

First of all, the stands looked weirdly lopsided, having a staggered, haphazard appearance about them, and the die-hard infield and basepaths were plainly visible beneath their semi-camouflage of yard markers. In fact, the Mountain Bears' only touchdown was on a play originating from second base, it being a pass eventually caught between the third base coaching box and the home team dougout.

The possible psychological repercussions in playing a game under such conditions are frightening, to say the least.

Also, there was a high chicken-wire screen which had been thrown up out in left field which served to keep footballs and baseballs in— and non-paying customers out. No one but an accomplished skin-diver would try to sneak in from that side, anyway, though, since there was nothing on the other side of the screen but the Atlantic Ocean.

Now, Here On My Right Downstairs. . .

HOWEVER, that same ocean helped to serve as a boon to the local Chamber of Commerce, as there was an unending panorama of sailboating and water skiing going on during the tilt's tenure. All of this was clearly visible to both players and fans alike, the whole show sandwiched in between swaying palms and what-not. A very pleasant change-of-pace for any "captive fans" who didn't happen to give a hang about football, though.

It seemed they were carrying things a little too far at one particular stage of activity, however. Right in the middle of one of those intricate aquatic thingumajigs that you've seen them do on water skis in news reels the band struck up "Winter Wonderland". Good song, but no correlation with what was happening. Totally incoherent with the situation.

The biggest treat of all, though, was a referee who wore a striped hat to match his striped shirt.

He was a one-man show in himself, being in his glory when the announcer would tune him in down on the field as he (the ref) discussed the penalty situation with the combatants. He must've been a true Southern gentleman, since he referred to the players as "suh" and would invariably say "fo' " and "fo' teen" as he stepped off penalty yardage.

At one point he stepped off a 15-yarder, wheeled around to give the signal for the infraction (almost tripping over the 40-yard line in the process), and ended up giving a dilly of a flourish that was uninterpretable, but that would've put Art Carney to shame.

He should go far.

Far-Far. The farther the better.

Frosh Defeated, Blue Devils Win

Snyder's Freshmen went down to their first defeat in five outings in Post last night. But it took a "B" team to turn the trick, as the Post boys won out by 47-39.

The local Fish might very well have sprung an upset, but for a first half which found their shooting percentage drop considerably below that of previous games. Post held what turned out to be an insurmountable 27-14 lead at intermission.

Gerald Aldridge led the way for Snyder, meshing 12 points, and he was followed by Pat LaFountain, who had nine. Snyder scoring was rounded out by Jimmy Taylor with six, Danny Colwell and Kenny Welborn with three apiece, and Carl Bailey, William Robinson, and Stewart Long with two each.

Shubber and Hays were high for Post with 14 and 11 points, respectively.

Coach Ned Underwood's Eighth Grade Blue Devils fared quite a bit better in their tilt against the Post five, winning handily by 32-17.

The Blue Devils struck early and were never threatened, as they held leads of 12-2, 24-4, and 30-13 at the end of the first three quarters.

Once again, a pair of Stewarts topped the local scorers, as Jackie popped the nets for a dozen points and Billy tallied seven. Other scoring was turned in by Jimmy Wilson, who had six, Benny Minor (4), Larry Lee (2), and Edward Schulz (1).

Cornell of Post was high point man for his team with 11.

A slow first half also spelled "doom" for Lamar's Seventh Graders, as they went under by 14-9 before the Post crew.

A greater number of chances at the free throw line was the difference in the game, in that each team racked up four field goals.

Lamar bounced back from a 3-8 halftime deficit to play on even terms throughout the second half, but were unable to bridge the gap.

Two boys turned in all of Lamar's points, as Albert Williams and Fred Bullard hit for six and three, respectively.

Cohn Hoping To Promote Return Bout

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Cohn was ready to make his big pitch today before the New York State Athletic Commission for a license to promote the return Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight.

At the moment, Cohn has the field pretty much to himself. He has bought out Vincent Vellella's controlling interest in Rosensohn Enterprises, which holds the return bout contracts. He shelled out —with the help of his 10-man syndicate—$150,000 for the two-thirds interest.

He hopes to buy out Bill Rosensohn's other one-third interest before long.

"We talked about it yesterday," Rosensohn said, "and we may get together again today. We're not too far apart in price. It's possible the transaction will be completed soon."

One thing is certain: Cohn and Co. won't get a license today. The State Athletic Commission had its fingers burned in the aftermath of the first fight last June 26 in which Johansson won the crown.

If Cohn and his group are elected, they plan to stage the bout in the Yankee Stadium here in June. Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, who used to runs boxing shows in the 1920s, will be the promoter.

Fugazy, 72, is brimming with optimism.

"After our organization closes the stock deal with Rosensohn and gets a license from the commission," he enthused, "some of us may go over to Sweden and get things straightened out with Johansson. I think the rematch will draw $1,500,000 at the gate."

Colts Back To Practice

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts returned to the practice field after a two-day rest today to prepare for their National Football League championship game here Sunday with the New York Giants.

Most of Baltimore seems more concerned with the rematch of last year's sudden-death Colt victory than with Christmas.

Lighted windows that used to spell out "Noel" in downtown buildings now say "Colts."

Everyone is giving opinions of making predictions. Joe Tereshinski, who scouted both teams for the Washington Redskins, got in the act Monday by rating the Colts a slight choice.

"Two things must be considered in making the Colts the favorites," said the former Redskin end. "Quarterback John Unitas needs a dry ball and a dry field, whooping give the Colts an edge in their stadium."

Yogi Berra has been to bat a record 223 times in World Series competition.

Spikes Named 'Mister TCU'

FORT WORTH — Jack Spikes, TCU's All-American fullback from Snyder, was named "Mr. TCU" as the result of student body elections recently.

He was introduced at the formal Presentation Ball held last week in the Brown-Lupton Student Center ballroom. Theme of the dance was "Rhapsody in White."

Four favorites from each class, eight campus beauties and "Mr. and Miss TCU" were announced at the dance. "Miss TCU" this year is senior Rita Kay Stewart of Fort Worth, cheerleader and a 1959 Homecoming Duchess.

The dance was sponsored by the Horned Frog, TCU student yearbook. Presentations were made by Miss Judy Galloway of Denver, Colo., annual editor.

Spikes, a senior geology major at the university, took all-Southwest Conference honors on both the UPI ratings and was named to the Look Magazine All-American team. He is married and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spikes, 2806 37th St., Snyder.

Baltimore Knuckler Is ERA Winner

BOSTON (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm, 36-year-old Baltimore knuckleballer, climaxed a brilliant pitching comeback in 1959 by winning the American League earned run title, the official averages released today showed.

Wilhelm yielded only 55 earned runs in 226 innings for an ERA of 2.19. Camilo Pascual of Washington was second with 2.64 followed by Bob Shaw of the Chicago White Sox, 2.69 and Art Ditmar, New York, 2.90.

Wilhelm is the first pitcher ever to lead in both the National and American Leagues. He topped the NL in 1952 with a 2.43 mark while relieving for the New York Giants. Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles switched him to starting roles late in the 1958 campaign and, although finishing with a 3-10 record, Hoyt hurled a no-run, no-hit game against the Yankees.

Early Wynn of the White Sox, another veteran right - hander, captured a large share of the pitching spoils. He won the most games, 22, pitched the most innings, 256 and tied Detroit's Paul Foytack for starting the most games, 37. Wynn also gave up the most bases on balls, 119.

Bob Shaw of Chicago won 18 games and lost only 6 for the best winning percentage, .750. Jim Bunning, Detroit's fireballer, led in three categories — strikeouts (201), home runs allowed (37) and total batsmen faced (942).

Bud Kennedy is in his 12th season as basketball coach at Florida State.

Fast Steer Backs May Deal Misery

By JIM KOCH

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas' swift backs could give national champion Syracuse trouble in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, says Hal Lahar, who came from Colgate in 1956 to coach the University of Houston.

However Lahar, host to Syracuse at its training site here, shied from any prediction of the outcome. Nor would he comment on the announced breakup of the Colgate-Syracuse rivalry, other than to call it "unfortunate."

"Tradition and rivalry have made football what it is. This is the real motivation behind college football," he declared.

Lahar saw little difference in Eastern and Southwest styles of play, particularly since the Southwest largely abandoned wide-open tactics about five years ago in favor of possession football.

"We seem to get a different-type boy down here," Lahar said. "They come rangy, big - boned, lean, not so heavily muscled as in the East."

Speed is a favorite topic in this football - hungry land. Track is popular, topped only by football.

Boys run all year in this snow-free climate, so it is no surprise when the Southwest Conference schools and Houston continually come up with fast backs.

Jimmy Saxton, a 160 - pound quarterback, is the University of Texas' fastest runner and most dangerous back, in Lahar's opinion.

Saxton, a frequent runner on the run-or-pass option, alternates with Bobby Lackey whom Lahar considers a good passer.

Jack Collins is a Texas threat at left halfback, although Lahar feels that Ernie Davis, Syracuse's highly touted sophomore half, is just as fast.

Syracuse's 200 - pound fullback Art Baker is bigger and quicker than any Texas fullback, Lahar adds.

Syracuse worked behind closed gates Monday, emphasizing its passing attack, with quarterbacks Dave Sarette and Dick Easterly doing the throwing. Left halfback Pete Brokaw went on the casualty list with a bruised forearm.

Coe Fires Hot 59

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Charley Coe, two time national amateur golf champion, fired a 12-under par 59 at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club here Monday to break a course record he set just last year.

Coe covered the 18 holes with 7 pars, 10 birdies and a lone eagle. He fired from the middle tees for 6,343 yards.

Syracuse Prepares For Bowl Clash

HOUSTON (AP) — Syracuse's undefeated football team is working to perfect pass patterns and set up defenses for its Jan. 1 clash with Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's Orangemen, No. 1 in the nation, kept behind closed gates Monday afternoon to sharpen their passing game.

Quarterbacks Dave Sarette and Dick Easterly pitched to a corps of ends.

In a morning drill, left halfback Pete Brokaw bruised his right forearm, where a bone was chipped in the Boston University game.

Whether Brokaw, a top sophomore prospect from Nyack, N.Y., would be ready to see much service against Texas was a question.

UT Head Switches To AFL Position

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Halford, assistant sports news director of the University of Texas, today accepted the post of public relations director for the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Halford will take over his duties here when he has finished his work connected with the appearance of Texas in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.

He was a sports writer for four years on the Austin American-Statesman before going to the university to assist Wilbur Evans.

Make Your Time Count When Waiting For Baby

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

A baby changes your way of life. Many of the changes you have though about, I'm sure, but no matter how well prepared you think you are, you're in for some surprises.

In the early months of pregnancy your life probably will go along as before. But there comes a time when you will probably quit your job, if you have one, and begin to feel like the mother you are soon to be.

One of the complaints of young mothers is isolation and confinement. Before you have a baby you can pretty much go where you like when you like. Maybe you never realized your freedom. Perhaps you felt you were tied down by your job, by skimpy funds, by lack of a car. But when you have one, or several young children, you'll find that its much more difficult to leave home. You cannot go anywhere without taking the baby with you. This doesn't mean that you're not going to be able to go anywhere ever again, but it does mean that you cannot skip out lightly. You must time a trip to the market between the baby's feedings, and no baby goes anywhere without quite a bit of paraphernalia. Occasionally you'll get a babysitter and have a spree, but you're not going to do that too often.

Housebound

After you baby is born you are going to be housebound for a few years. And if you plan several children, as I certainly hope you do, you'll be about the house some more years.

You can fret and fume, and feel sorry for yourself—some girls do. You can nag your husband, complain about your lot. The more you nag and complain, the more your husband will find excuses to stay at the office and the more lonesome you will become.

Instead of complaining and telling everyone you never did like housework, let's take a look at the job you have before you. A job, by the way, for which you have responsibility 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. A job in which there are no vacations, with or without pay, and a job you cannot quit.

Mother's Job

You have a house to keep clean and orderly. You have a child, maybe several children, to bring up. You have husband and children to feed and keep well nourished. You have a husband whose love you want to keep warm and fresh. Altogether you have a home this you have to do on whatever contentment within its walls. All this you have to d on whatever your husband provides. No matter what it is, it is never quite enough and you will have to budget and learn to squeeze value out of each penny.

Be Prepared

As you wait for your first baby think about this big job you have ahead of you. What can you do now to make yourself better prepared? The better you do the job the better you will enjoy it.

How good a cook are you? How much do you know about nutrition? Can you prepare tasty meal that grow rosy cheeks and sturdy muscles on the food allowance you have? Maybe a course in cooking or in nutrition right now would stand you in good stead later on.

Read a few books on child care and the development of children. Be prepared to avoid a few problems— you can't expect to avoid them all.

Plan out how your money is to be spent.

If you have a bit of time on your hands now, spend it to become better prepared for the job ahead of you.

GFWC President Pleads For Safety During Holidays

Washington, D. C., — "Women are so conspicuously 'in the driver's seat' of the family car these days that they must assume special responsibility for traffic safety, particularly during the coming holiday season," Miss Chloe Gifford, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs declared here today.

"The 'family chauffeur' no longer sits in splendid isolation in front of a glass partition; as a matter of fact, she's far more likely to have a bunch of bouncy children draped around her neck, which doesn't help her driving any," Miss Gifford observed. She pointed out that, while the men may roll up the big mileage behind the wheel, it's the ladies who are on the go around town—fetching youngsters, doing the shopping, meeting commuters.

"Take a look at the passenger cars on the streets and you'll see that it's the ladies who are doing the driving during the day—a large part of it through congested urban traffic," Miss Gifford observed.

"It's pitiful," the GFWC President said, "that the year-end holidays have always been the most dangerous time of the year on our streets and highways. And it's not just the grim traffic fatality rate that casts a pall over the Yule season— even a crumpled fender can ruin a festive mood."

Statistics show that women have fewer automobile accidents than men— "but that's no reason to sit back and smile smugly. Instead, we should take the lead in seeing that every family gets through the holidays without a traffic mishap," Miss Gifford said.

She suggests these safety pointers to keep in mind during the coming Christmas-New Year period:

1. Be doubly alert on downtown streets. The rush of Christmas shopping can make anyone careless. Take the time to make sure the street is clear before you pull out of parking space. Streets gaily decorated for the holidays can obscure traffic lights and generally make visibility poor, so be especially meticulous about making the proper stopping turning signals.

2. Don't drive yourself to hard, no matter how staggering your "Do" list may look. A driver tired from a hectic day of shopping and chauffeuring can be just as accident-prone as the one who has put in long hours behind the wheel. It's a good idea, whether you're at home or downtown, to take a few minutes out to refresh yourself with a coffee-break.

3. Be prepared for bad weather. Nothing is trickier, even for the most experienced driver, than icy, snowy roads. If you can't maintain complete control of your car at all times— don't drive, especially if you have passengers. They're your responsibility.

4. Pedestrians are a particular hazard at Christmas— particularly young folks letting off steam during the holidays. Drive as though someone's child is about to pop out from behind every parked car. It will only take a few seconds longer — and may save a life.

Olympics To Spark Ski Styles

DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Skiwear makes news this winter as ski fans from all over the world prepare to attend the 1960 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Both Swiss and American designers have come up with gay, colorful new snow fashions both for active skiers and style-conscious spectators.

Fred Picard, who now lives in Sun Valley, Idaho, likes textured fabrics this year—particularly a group of parkas made from Swiss drapery fabrics. Each year Picard and his family go back to Switzerland, for fresh inspiration from the land where skiing was born.

One of his most dramatic parkas of the season is made of bold squares on blue and yellow woven into a white background. It reverses, as do most of his ski jackets, to a plain blue cotton poplin side.

Many of the new parkas are trimmed with saddle stitching or embroidery in delicate tones— the latter on pastel jackets.

All parkas are slightly longer this year, some reaching to the knees. Although the new long parkas look slim, they are cut with plenty of fullness to give freedom of action. They also are warmer on ski lift.

A striking seven-eighths length parka is made of orange and beige cotton poplin reversing to plain cocoa color on the other side. Another of blue poplin is lined with white printed in Olympic symbols. Both have hoods banded in fox.

Slim-legged stretch pants designed by Picard and made in France come in 24 colors. All are made with a special pleat at the ankle that opens to allow the closefitting pants to slip over the foot. Picard points out that his ski pants are cut to hang in a straight line in back, avoiding the skin-tight "long underwear" look to which he objects.

The Swiss designer likes vivid colors and strong contrasts between parka and pants, to brighten up the Olympic ski scene. Says he:

"After all, when you have a background of white snow, you can shoot the works on color. Anything goes."

SCHOOL ORGANIZER—Mrs. Leon Nernard, who started her own school in South Bend, Ind., teaches a French lullaby to her kindergarten pupils.

Ambitious Woman Opens A School

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — If you want something done, it's sometimes faster to do it youself —even if it means opening your own school.

That's exactly what Mrs. Leon Bernard did. She wasn't satisfied with merely supporting the school building program, promoting bond issues and going to P-TA meetings.

Mrs. Bernard, mother of five children, opened the Mary Reid Cleland school— named for her grandmother — in 1958. It is unusual for its large teaching staff and small classes. Second and third grades were added this year to kindergarten and first.

Mrs. Bernard had neither financial backing nor capital when she started out to create an independent elementary school in which each child would receive, she says, "maximum individual attention and the opportunity to develop fully his own intellectual capacity."

She acquired a modest eight-room house and went to work to staff it with well qualified, experienced teachers.

The school now has a staff of nine teachers who can teach the three R's, French, dramatics, art, literature, science and music.

The neophyte school boasts a board of academic advisers composed of Arnold Ross, head of the Notre Dame mathematics department; Marshall Smelser, professor of history at Notre Dame; and Robert Leader, associate professor of art at Notre Dame.

Mrs. Bernard is proud of the curriculum. "We combine traditional emphasis on fundamental academic learning with the best of new ideas in education," she says. "We follow what is prescribed for elementary grades by the Secondary Education Board."

The large staff and limited enrollment of 20 children in each classroom permits a high degree of flexibility in following the dictates of the board.

One of Mrs. Bernard's most enthusiastic supporters is her husband, a history professor at Notre Dame.

"It's a wonderfully satisfying, genuinely interesting undertaking," Dr. Bernard says, " but no one should attempt starting a school for the purpose of earning a living. Any money that is over and above what is needed to run the school is put right back into equipment. A school must keep improving."

The Cleland school is nondenominational and meets all state requirements for accreditation. It will move to new quarters when additional grades are added.

Two of the five Bernard children attend the school. Anne is in the second grade and Betsy is in kindergarten.

Mrs. Bernard, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, devotes several hours each week to teaching kindergarten French in her school. The rest of the time she is at home with her children and her husband.

Women Live In Male Domain

CINCINNATI (AP) — If you were a young woman, how would you like to live in a college dormitory containing 400 men— and not another gal?

It's being done at the University of Cincinnati, in two dorms. Gail Dunlop is the wife of John Dunlop, assistant to the dean of men and head residence counselor at French and Dabney Halls.

Margaret Clark's husband, David Clark, is an instructor in journalism, adviser to university publications, and resident counselor at French Hall.

"I wouldn't recommend it for a middle-aged couple," Mrs. Clark says.

"My four younger sisters are delighted," says Mrs. Dunlop. "They love to visit me."

Mrs. Dunlop has become an unofficial advisor to the 400 boys in the dormitory where she and her husband have an apartment. She is fast becoming an expert on engagement rings and gifts for mothers.

Mrs. Dunlop says her 3-month-old son, Stewart, has 400 "uncles".

"After a dance last spring the boys toasted the baby we were expecting and told my husband there would be 400 'uncles' pacing the floor with him when I went to the hospital."

She said some of them had offered to babysit, but her sisters take over when she and her husband go out.

The Clarks live on the third floor of French Hall. Every time she walks into the building, the public address system booms:

"There will be a lady on the third floor."

A little decorating ingenuity can give your favorite wool sweater a whole new costume lease on life. Trim it with the same fabric as a skirt or dress for that expensive custom-matched look. Trimmings of pearl, beading, colorful embroidery, or dainty clips will give a new dressed-up air to a knitted wool pullover or cardiagan. Before discarding that fur coat that bares too many areas, cut and line a shawl collar of fur and add it to the neckline of a sweater for a real luxury gift to yourself.

Nutmeg Butternut Squash

INGREDIENTS: 1 butternut squash (2 pounds), 1¼ cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 to 3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon (or more) lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg.

METHOD: Cut squash in half; remove seeds and stringy portion. Pare; cut into ¾-inch cubes; makes about 6 cups. Cook rapidly, covered, with boiling water and salt just until tender — 8 to 10 minutes. Drain and dry by shaking pan over low eat. Mash with butter, lemon juice and nutmeg. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Perfect Dinner Topper

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Does your family, like ours, expect Christmas dinner to end with a collection of desserts? Most everyone around our table is eager to taste small servings of the traditional plum pudding and mince pie (or mince turnovers) but there are always enthusiastic takers of an extra sweet.

At our house we often make this "extra" a snow-white dessert and glitter it with color in honor of the season. This year we choose the famous French frivolity, Riz al' Imperatrice—cooked rice folded into Bavarian cream, with nuggets of candied fruit flavored a special way.

RICE IMPERATRICE

INGREDIENTS: 1 cup cut-up mixed candied fruit and peels, ½ cup glace cherries and diamond-shaped citron, 1-3 cup kirsch (clear cherry distillate), ½ cup rice, 1¾ cups milk, 4 egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, ¾ cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 envelope unflavored gelation, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1 cup heavy cream.

METHOD: Marinate mixed candied fruit and peel along with cherries and diamond-shaped citron in kirsch. Cook rice in 1¾ cups milk over low heat until very tender and milk is absorbed— about 30 minutes. Mix together egg yolks, sugar, and ¾ cup milk in top of double boiler. Cook and stir constantly over very hot water until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Soften gelatin in cold water and stir into hot custard to dissolve. Stir in rice chill until mixture begins to set. Arrange the ½ cup marinated cherries and diamond-shaped citron on bottom of a 6-cup ring mold. Whip cream and fold into rice mixture with the 1 cup of marinated cut-up mixed candied fruit and peel; spoon into mold. Chill at least 4 hours; unmold onto chilled serving plate. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Time Alone Can Disclose Trip's Value

By JOHN SCALI

MADRID (AP) — President Eisenhower has won new friends and perhaps influenced some very important people in his strenuous peace and friendship tour.

But only time will tell whether the President's venture into personal diplomacy eased any of the bitter disputes which plague much of the 22,000 miles he traveled.

His top aides are convinced that the good will and sincerity Eisenhower radiated, both before cheering crowds and in confidential talks with foreign leaders, will pay impressive dividends later.

In his modern Odyssey, they say, the President created a "peace atmosphere" which will help many nations to discuss their quarrels with others more calmly—and eventually with positive results.

This would be a notable achievement for a journey which, in any event, will go down in history as one of the most adventurous ever undertaken by an American president.

Even the most skeptical of those accompanying Eisenhower acknowledge that his trip already has yielded significant short-term gains for American foreign policy. These appear to be:

1. A hefty boost in American prestige in Asia, particularly in neutral-minded India, which may be the main arena in the East-West struggle for the allegiance of uncommitted millions during the next decades.

2. New luster for Eisenhower's reputation as a world leader dedicated to peace. This bolsters him in advance of face-to-face talks with the Soviet Union's Nikita Khrushchev.

The President made no visible effort to use his added prestige to dominate the Western Big Four summit meeting which ended in Paris Monday. Eisenhower's role was overshadowed by French President Charles de Gaulle, who wound up convincing Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that Paris should be the site of the proposed East-West summit parley.

This appears to be Eisenhower's record of achievement in each of the 10 countries he has visited thus far in his unprecedented three-continent journey:

Italy—Not much, though he won the endorsement of Pope John XXIII for his quest for peace in freedom.

Turkey — A rousing reception which reinforced the close Turkish-American military partnership in the anti-Communist struggle.

Pakistan — A million cheering Pakistanis hailed him. In confidential talks with Pakistan leaders he preached the value of a reasonable settlement of disputes with India.

Afghanistan — A surprisingly warm welcome from the thousands ordered out to greet him. Eisenhower warned of the dangers of too much reliance on Soviet assistance. Afghan leaders publicly pledged their allegiance to freedom.

India — The most spectacular phase of the tour. Some four million Indians roared their approval while Prime Minister Nehru lauded Eisenhower's visit "at this juncture" in world affairs, a polite reminder to Red China, which has seized border territory claimed by India. The net result of the President's stay was to push India a little further toward the Western end of the neutral tightrope Nehru is trying to balance on.

Iran—A firm pledge of support to the Shah at a time when he is under Soviet pressure and is worried about conditions in his country.

Greece—An emotional welcome by three-quarters of a million people. Eisenhower assured Greek leaders of continued American aid and full backing.

Tunisia — More assurances of American economic assistance to a young North African nation which has been one of America's best friends in Africa. Eisenhower and President Habib Bourguiba joined in expressing concern over failure to settle the Algerian war, a statement which annoyed the French.

France — A disappointing welcome by a Paris crowd apparently used to Eisenhower's visits. In private talks with De Gaulle, Eisenhower convinced the French leader that the United States supports his Algerian policy but failed to persuade him to commit French forces to the unified military command of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Spain — Eisenhower's mere appearance boosted the standing of dictator Francisco Franco. Eisenhower stressed the people-to-people aspects of his visit, but Franco seized on it as a sign that Spain and the United States are destined to forge a common front.

Hearing Not To Delay Rate Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — The effective date of Texas' new auto insurance rates will not be postponed because of a scheduled Jan. 14 public hearing on the controversial program.

The new rate plan, designed to reward safe drivers with lower insurance rates and to increase rates for accident-prone motorists, will go into effect as planned on Jan. 1, State Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson said Monday.

"The board must give 10 days notice of a public hearing and suspension of the rate plan now would create much confusion," Jackson said.

The board set the Jan. 14 hearing date Monday after receiving a letter from Sen. Grady Hazlewood in which the Amarillo legislator criticized the plan. Hazlewood requested the special hearing. He proposed that the board eliminate penalties for all moving traffic violations for the past three years should not be counted.

Jackson refused to comment on the letter saying the board should not act as the judge and jury before the trial.

Jackson invited "anybody and everybody, including Sen. Hazlewood, to attend the meeting and discuss any modifications, rates or rules they want to."

The hearing will be in the State Highway Department Building auditorium.

Sparklers Protested

BOSTON (AP)—A plan to distribute 15,000 giant sparklers to greet President Eisenhower on his return to the White House tonight is opposed as a menace to life by the National Fire Protection Assn.

A spokesman for the non-profit organization said Monday night the association's files contain scores of reports of death and crippling disfigurements caused by the pyrotechnic device.

In Washington, District Commissioner Robert E. McLaughlin said elaborate precautions were planned to prevent injury. Sparkler carriers will be widely spaced, he said.

McLaughlin said he had checked with District fire officials and they would have "no hesitancy" in issuing a license for the kind of demonstration planned for the President.

10-Year-Old Boy Is Fatally Injured

DALLAS (AP) — A 10-year-old boy, Leroy Gentyr, was fatally injured Monday as he played near his South Dallas home.

The youth was struck by an automobile as he and two other youngsters darted across a busy street. He died four hours later in a Dallas hospital to become the city's 68th traffic fatality of the year.

Housewife Major Deception Target

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A housewife who would like to earn a few dollars at home is a favorite target of deceptive employment advertising, a spokesman for the Association of Better Business Bureaus said today.

Edwin M. Lockard, who is also general manager of the Baltimore Better Business Bureau, spoke today from a statement prepared for a Federal Trade Commission Conference on Deceptive Advertising.

He cited promotional matter put out by a Baltimore firm speaking of "numerous affiliations" with businesses needing envelopes addressed and chances to earn "$35 or more per week for a few hours a night." Women were asked for two dollars "to cover cost of mailing, listing and registration."

Bureau investigation, Lockard said, disclosed that the advertiser was a newly formed company which could not prove it had work to offer. After a postal investigation, the firm went out of business and the Post Office returned to the senders the letters with the fee, Lockard said.

The FTC concludes today a two-day session for representatives of 47 consumers, civic and other organizations, seeking to strengthen defenses against misleading advertising and other deceptive sales practices.

Lockard applauded the effort but suggested care "to avoid creating a national neurosis that would cause the feeling that all advertising is suspect."

Barrymore Estate Winds Up In Red

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Actor John Barrymore's estate wound up more than $31,000 in the red.

A final accounting in court Monday listed assets of $10,812.58, mostly from the recent sale of his interest in three old movies.

But he owed more than $40,000 in federal income taxes for 1939, 1940 and 1941. He died in 1942.

Consequently, there was nothing left for his three children, Diana Barrymore, John Drew Barrymore and Dolores Barrymore Bedell.

This car is built a new solid way by Chrysler Corporation engineers. It simply doesn't have many parts that work loose and need fixing in some cars. We'd like to answer some questions about this car now:

Q. What is this new way of building?

A. Chrysler Corporation's virtually trouble-free version of unit construction. Body and undersills are joined in a single unit of enormous strength, locked by close to 5400 welds. In Dura-Quiet Unibody, there is no frame and no conventional body bolts, struts, braces, etc., to loosen and rattle.

Q. What about power and performance?

A. There's the new 30-D Economy Six, a new "inclined" six that delivers outstanding economy in normal driving. The standard V-8 is the Fury V-800 which three times in a row topped its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Or you may choose the extra-cost SonoRamic Commando V-8.

If you ask us, this is the best built, best performing low-price car of all. Give it a real try soon, won't you?

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

WAITING THEIR TURN—What do you do with 600 school pupils while they are awaiting their turn to appear on a program? Well you stand in the hall for a while as the Travis Junior High choir is doing here while another group performs at the Christmas Choral Festival last night in the high school auditorium.

A CAPPELLA RESTS—The Snyder High School A Cappella Choir rests patiently (?) in the school choir room while awaiting its turn on the stage at the Christmas Choral Festival. A capacity crowd jammed the high school auditorium for the annual festival last night.

Exiles Protest Ike-Franco Talk

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Several hundred Spanish exiles marched on the United States Embassy Monday, deposited large funeral wreaths protesting the Eisenhower-Franco meeting, then silently melted away.

It was one of the most unusual demonstrations seen here in some time.

The well-dressed Spaniards, refugees from Republican Spain, gathered at the major square in the capital and marched in absolute silence a long block to the embassy.

They carried the 20 wreaths and banners reading "Democracy Died On Dec. 21," "Death To Franco," "Sorrow For Americans," "Ike Helps One Who Killed Thousands of Yankee Soldiers."

As they reached the first embassy entrance on Paseo de la Reforma hundreds of colored leaflets fluttered from an adjoining skyscraper.

Several of the wreaths were propped up against that entrance, and the others were carried around the corner of the Sanborns Department Store to the embassy entrance on La Fragua.

Not a word was spoken.

At waves from the Spanish leaders, banners were wrapped up and the crowd dissipated.

House Full For Choral Festival

The vocal music department of the Snyder Public Schools presented its annual Christmas Choral Festival to the usual packed house last night in the high school auditorium.

The program, which featured all choirs in the school system, was climaxed by the Hallelujah Chorus from "Mount of Olives," which was presented as the final number of the Snyder High School A Cappella Choir.

Combined elementary school choirs opened the program, under direction of Gwen McLaughlin, Dorothy King, Mary Lou Scott and Valdean Dennis. Ann Freeman was pianist for the elementary choirs.

Other choral groups appearing in order, were the combined high school girls choirs, directed by Robert Clinton and Patricia Yarborough; the Travis Junior High School choirs, directed by Patricia Yarborough; the Lamar Junior High School choirs, under direction of Nan Lee; the combined junior high choirs, directed by Nan Lee, and the A Cappella Choir, directed by Robert Clinton.

A Nativity Scene concluded the program.

The program last night may be the last of its type to be presented here, said Clinton, who is head of the school vocal department. The number of choral units has increased steadily in recent years, and in time it will be virtually impossible to include all units on on a single program.

Several ensembles were presented between appearances of the various choirs. These included the Sub Debs of Lamar Junior High School, the Lamar 7th grade boys ensemble, the Key Notes and the Travis Junior High School girls ensemble.

38 Couples Told They're Firmly Wed

WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP)—One couple made sure, and the other 38 married by Elsie Foster since July 1 had the assurance of Judge Robert Gambill today that they are firmly hitched.

Miss Foster, who works in the Wilkes County Register of Deeds Office, had performed the ceremonies thinking she was a justice of the peace. However, it came to light over the weekend she had failed to qualify for a two-year appointment by not taking oath of office in the prescribed 90-day period.

The Superior Court jurist told Miss Foster, 38, that "technically the couples might not be married but they entered into the ceremonies in good faith. I feel they are actually married.

"I would not entertain any (court) action," he continued, "to question the legality of the marriage."

Still, Grady Blackburn, 22, and Mary Jane Poplin, 17, of Roaring River, N.C., who were married Dec. 4, by Miss Foster, weren't taking any chances. They decided to go through the ceremony again. This time before Justice of the Peace C. W. Hanes.

East Texas Area Year Profitable

LONGVIEW (AP) — A survey made by the Longview News and Journal shows this section of East Texas had one of its most profitable years on record during 1959.

The newspapers report that the Longview-Gregg County market, sparked by industrial expansion and booming payrolls, rang up a record high in retail sales of $120,500,000 in 1959.

The News and Journal said this was a gain of $28,089,000, or 30 per cent, over the 1954 total.

The newspapers said the uptrend was reflected in all counties in the East Texas natural resources belt. These include Gregg, Harrison, Camp, Cass, Marion, Morris, Panola, Rusk, Titus, Upshur and Wood counties.

The News and Journal report these developments:

A multi-million-dollar expansion for the Texas Eastman Co. plant at Longview.

Lone Star Steel Co. had its biggest year of production and sales.

Gates have been closed and water is filling the huge new Lake o' the Pines, giving the Avinger, Daingerfield, Hughes Springs, Jefferson, Lone Star, Ore City, Pittsburg area the largest industrial water supply in the Southwest.

New and expanded industrial plants, commercial and business growth are strengthening the economic base of the Big Sandy, Gilmer, Hawkins, Mineola, Mount Pleasant, Quitman, Winnsboro.

Industries in Marshall and Karnack have expanded mightily in the past year, and there has been new progress in the Hallsville, Linden, Atlanta, Naples and Omaha areas.

Gladewater had new progress during the year and its prospects are bright for industry and business.

Yule Turkey Will Cost A Bit More

By The Associated Press

Your Christmas turkey is going to cost more than last year. And the price is up from Thanksgiving.

Although prices naturally vary around the country, turkeys at the big supermarkets in the New York metropolitan area range from 45 to 51 cents a pound, depending on size. Last year the range was 35 to 45.

Turkeys and hams are universal specials on the meat counters this week. Ham prices range from 49 to 59 cents a pound.

With the emphasis on these two holiday favorites, there are good bargains in beef, pork and lamb. Sirloin prices are down as much as 16 cents a pound. In some areas, loin pork chops dipped 6 cents a pound and leg of lamb declined 16.

The week's specials in the vegetable and fruit departments include typical holiday fare such as broccoli, brussels sprouts, sweet potatoes, white onions, delicious apples and California naval oranges.

With the alarm over contamination of cranberries having simmered down, the traditional red berries are among best buys.

Best buys in vegetables include large artichokes, packaged small carrots, collards, kales, endive, escarole, small to medium yellow onions, Eastern potatoes, radishes, Italian type squash, sweet potatoes and turnips.

In the "good buy" classification are beets, cauliflower, broccoli, brussels sprouts, celery, Chinese cabbage, mushrooms, spinach and iceberg lettuce.

Best buys in fruits are Eastern apples, avocados, limes, oranges, grapefruit and tangerines.

There are good buys in pears, lemons and Western oranges.

McAulliffe's Classic Reply To German Demand Recalled

Editor's Note: Fifteen years ago today, U.S. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe gave the nation a lift when he replied "Nuts" to a German surrender demand during the Battle of the Bulge. Hal Boyle, who tells of the incident in his column today, covered the battle as an Associated Press war correspondent.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen years ago today a U.S. brigadier general became the first soldier in history to win military immortality with a four-letter word.

The word was "Nuts!" and the man who said it—and later came to hate the word—now feels it changed his whole life.

This bit of American slang, delivered as a defiant reply to a German surrender demand, infuriated a Nazi army. It set the Allied world rocking with laughter and pride.

Today it is still the best remembered symbol of the greatest engagement fought by American troops in World War II —the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

The battle, personally planned by Adolf Hitler in a last-ditch gamble, began at 5 a.m. Dec. 16, 1944, with a bombardment by 1,900 German artillery pieces.

The Nazis, attacking with 250,000 troops and 1,000 tanks through the Allied "rest camp" area in the Ardennes, achieved complete tactical surprise.

The acting commander, Anthony (Old Crock) McAuliffe and the 101st Airborne Division were rushed by truck to Bastogne. There, strongly supported by elements of the U.S. 9th and 10th Armored Divisions, McAuliffe held the vital Belgium road center against frantic German breakthrough efforts.

The enemy couldn't bypass him. They had to destroy his force to go on. And if they couldn't go on their cause was lost.

It was a bloody battle fought in a frigid hell. The U.S. forces cheerfully gave the map code name "Merry Christmas" to the 20-square mile area they held that blocked the gigantic German advance.

By Dec. 22, McAuliffe and his 10,000 men were surrounded by seven Nazi divisions and outnumbered four to one.

Through the morning gloom four German soldiers carrying a white flag trudged up to an outpost three miles south of Bastogne.

They carried a message which said in part: "The fortune of war is changing. There is only one possibility to save the encircled U.S.A. troops from total annihilation. That is the honorable surrender of the encircled town."

"If this proposal should be rejected, one German artillery corps and six heavy battalions are ready to annihilate the U.S.A. troops in and near Bastogne."

The four Germans, blindfolded by their own truce flag, were handed McAuliffe's quickly scrawled reply: "To the German commander Nuts! The American Commander."

When one of the Germans who spoke English complained he didn't understand the message, he was told it meant "go to hell." He said he understood this, and the four were blindfolded again and led away.

The battle raged on for more than four days and four nights until an armored column from Gen. George Patton's 3rd broke through and lifted the siege.

"Old Crock," a square-jawed, 5-foot-5 soldier who weighed only 135 pounds, performed heroically before and after the Bastogne siege. After the war he rose steadily in the service until he retired in 1956 as a full general commanding the U.S. Army in Europe. He is now a vice president of the American Cyanamid Co.

Production Set For '60 Christmas

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —The late Christmas shopper — and how many of you could cast the first stone?—probably is all tied up or snowed under today in millions of yards of decorative ribbons and string; wrappings, seals and stickers and Christmas cards.

And the some 50 factories across the land that make these things are already taking in new carloads of raw material and starting production for next Christmas's multimillion-dollar outpouring.

The makers of these things say that spending on colorful trappings that go only with Christmas is a strong clue that this Christmas will see the greatest exchange of gifts in the nation's history. The clue may be better than the big retail sales volume now setting a record, since so much of the buying at the stores can be for other things.

Those in the gift embellishment business say this also has been a big year for technological advances, with science and automation invading the field.

Once paper and common twine ruled almost unchallenged. Now you find mylar, nylon, laminates, polyethylene film, synthetic adhesives, glass fiber, aluminum.

The Christmas seal business is blooming as never before. The Tuberculosis & Health Assn. of New York reports mailing 378 million seals, or 22 tons, to persons living in three boroughs of New York City alone.

Hallmark Cards Inc. says card sales average four million a day and that Americans will spend close to 200 million dollars this year for cards, paper, ribbon, seals, tags and decorations.

One big boost has come from business concerns themselves. They have been competing in gift wrappings and cards to attract shoppers in the nation's stores. Increasing stress on help-yourself buying, as in a supermarket, has increased the rivalry.

One firm in the bow and ribbon field, the Facile Corp. division of Sun Chemical, estimates that this year 60 million dollars worth of package ribbon has been sold, a 10 per cent gain over 1958.

New Type Diplomacy Should Bloom In '60

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year 1960 should become known as the time of the big switch—when foreign affairs became a little more human and a little less snarled in what is called diplomacy.

Western leaders—brushing aside the ancient tradition of letting foreign ministers dicker and deal and diddle on details—have proposed not one but a series of summit conferences with the Soviet Union.

Even if they don't accomplish much, or anything, at least they will be brief and direct and save the world from that gruesome frustration of the long-drawn-out hairsplitting, minuet - dancing of the ministers.

Many forces — both men and events—have brought the West to this startling development in world affairs.

The wartime meetings of President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill—occasionally with Joseph Stalin—broke for a while the old reliance on foreign ministers to find the answers.

The tradition took over again after 1945 when the cold war set in and the sullen, inscrutable Stalin poked for weak spots in the West: pressure on Greece and Turkey, Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia, the Berlin blockade, Korea.

The years between 1945 and Stalin's death on March 5, 1953, were hardly a time for talking peace. He seemed to want no peace. The foreign ministers never solved a major East-West problem.

Ministers began to seem out of date in this new age when the new planes could take the top men anywhere in a few hours and there was less and less reason for them to stay at home. It took them a long time to realize it.

Shortly after he took office, on Feb. 25, 1953, President Eisenhower was asked at a news conference whether he would be willing to meet with Stalin. He said he would, if he thought it could do good.

Nevertheless his underlying feeling about meeting the Soviets then and for years afterwards, was extremely cautious, and hedged around with requirements that preliminary conditions be met. This was also the attitude of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's chief foreign policy adviser.

On March 2, 1953, Churchill said he would be willing to meet with Stalin and Eisenhower. Three days later Stalin died. A transformation began. His successors began talking of peace.

But perhaps more impressive than that was the fact that the Soviet Union began to show astonishing power—with the hydrogen bomb, missiles, and Sputniks.

The nuclear development in the United States and the U.S.S.R.—with all that it meant in devastation if war came—began to make all other wars look as simple as the Fourth of July. It increased the reasons why the West and the Soviet Union should try to find some settlements.

While Churchill was willing to go to the summit without assurances it would produce agreements and even with an agenda —prior agreement by both sides on what should be discussed—Dulles took a different line. So did Eisenhower.

They wanted the Soviets to show by deeds a meeting would be worthwhile. Time passed. The war in Korea ended, at least in armistice. The U.S.S.R. let Austria have freedom. The Soviets kept talking peace.

On May 11, 1953, two months after Stalin's death, Churchill called for a summit conference. This government was cool, laid down its condition of deeds, not words. Time passed and with it enough talk on this subject to fill a book.

Finally, on March 20, 1955, Sen. Walter F. George (D - Ga), now dead but then chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, suggested it was time for a summit conference. This was a big nudge to Eisenhower.

Soon the United States, Britain and France proposed a summit meeting to the Soviet Union. It was held in July 1955. Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, and later Khrushchev by himself, repeatedly called for the West on Berlin.

He argued: Letting foreign ministers meet is a waste of time; only the heavyweights can settle anything. British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan visited Khrushchev early this year, came away confinced a series of summit meetings is needed.

Eisenhower didn't buy until Khrushchev visited him in September. Now Eisenhower goes along on the series, too, without an agenda or prior conditions.

Father-Daughter Team Suspected

NE WYORK (AP) — Detectives believe a father - daughter team may have pulled a bold $5,600 theft on a busy New York street Monday.

Catherine Bacon, 62, a bookkeeper, was carrying the money to a bank in a paper bag when a girl of about 8 snatched it from her and ran. Miss Bacon screamed. A passer-by caught the youngster.

There was a scuffle and the girl escaped, the sack falling to the sidewalk. Bills spilled out.

A man appeared and said: "Let me help you." He picked up the scattered money — then ran in the direction opposite to that taken by the girl.

SALAD CUE

Some cooks like to marinate cooked vegetables—carrots, snap beans, broccoli—and then add them to a bowl of crisp greens for an interesting salad.

SMILING DEPARTURE—French Premier Michel Debre, Presidents Eisenhower and De Gaulle, and the president's interpreter, Col. Vernon Walters, prepare to part company after a luncheon meeting in Paris' Elysee Palace. President Eisenhower urged DeGaulle to make concessions on his opposition to the integration of French fighting forces with other NATO Allies. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Paris)

Interracial Subdivision Is Planned

DEERFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The village park board, with $550,000 at its disposal, meets tonight to map plans for acquisition of the site of a planned interracial housing subdivision in this all - white suburban community.

The park board wants to buy the land from the builders with funds voted Monday in a village referendum. A record 86 per cent of the eligible voters in this Chicago suburb of 10,000 turned out to give a 2 - 1 approval to the board's 1550,000 bond issue referendum.

The board plans to add six tracts of land to the village park system, including two that make up the proposed integrated Floral Park project.

Although the ballot contained only a "yes" or "no" on the bond issue, the vote was regarded as a censure of the Floral Park project in which the builders said 10 to 12 of the 51 homes would be sold to Negroes.

The builders, Progress Development Corp., have indicated no desire to sell the Floral Park land. They already have rejected one park board offer of $166,999.

Park Board President James Mitchell has said that if the land can't be purchased, the board would instigate condemnation proceedings. A long court fight appeared probable.
