

Katanga Secession Ended By Force

By DENNIS NEEDLE
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations announced today a forcible end to Katanga's secession from the Congo. U.N. troops downed military resistance in a blood-spilling fight of several hours at Elisabethville, the provincial capital.

President Moise Tshombe fled, denouncing the attack, and the Leopoldville central government appointed an administrator to take over the mineral-rich province.

"The Katanga secession is over," U.N. headquarters here was told by its Elisabethville representative, Conor Cruise O'Brien. "Katanga is now a Congolese province."

This would mean an end to the independence of the lush, copper-laden plateau land proclaimed by Tshombe 14 months ago.

It also would mean diversion of millions in tax revenues from Katanga's $860-million annual production to the treasury of the deficit-run central government.

Casualties among Elisabethville defenders were undetermined.

Swedish sources said one U. N. soldier, a Gurka in Indian ranks, was killed. They reported five Swedes and seven Indians wounded.

U. N. headquarters here said two U. N. soldiers were killed and five or six wounded.

Premier Cyrille Adoula announced the Katanga army—stripped of its 500 or so white mercenaries by another show of U. N. force Aug. 28—will be integrated with troops of the central government's commander in chief, Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Adoula told newsmen he had asked the United Nations to take over all essential services in Katanga and his government has declared a state of emergency in the province.

A radio report picked up from Elisabethville said Tshombe, after reaching a safe hideout, issued a statement.

"The United Nations tricked me right to the end. Only last night they gave me a solemn promise that they would not go against the Katanga government. Now would they disarm Katanga's troops, they said," the statement said.

"Early today they told me they were arresting three of my ministers and wanted to take me to Leopoldville."

Adoula said three of Tshombe's ministers, including Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo, have fled. Munongo is considered the strong man of the province.

About 150 U. N. Irish soldiers were reported surrounded by 500 Katanga soldiers in the mining town of Jadotville about 60 miles from Elisabethville.

Adoula said that Tuesday night Katanga forces set fire to a U. N. garage and when U. N. troops went to put out the blaze they were fired on by mercenaries from the Belgian consulate.

A Katanga tank later fired on a U. N. vehicle near the post office and a general battle broke out, he said.

77 Persons Perish in Jet Crash

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—A French jet airliner, feeling its way through a heavy fog, crashed and burned in a rocky ravine Tuesday night. Air France officials said 77 persons aboard perished.

Three U.S. citizens, an Arabian prince, the Australian ambassador to Cairo, a Moroccan diplomat and two Soviet citizens were among the victims, an Air France spokesman said.

The sleek twin-jet Caravelle airliner, in service only 3 1/2 months, was bound from Paris to Casablanca, with a brief stop scheduled at Rabat.

The plane contacted the Rabat control tower, then began its landing and glide. In the thick fog, the plane veered into a ravine and struck a jutting rock.

Witnesses said they heard two distinct explosions and then the plane turned into a torch, burning for several hours.

Flames towered above the ravine as firemen, soldiers and police rushed to the disaster scene. They were hampered by the rocky terrain and the dense fog. They found burned and torn bodies strewn as far away as 100 yards from the wreckage.

There were six persons in the crew and 71 passengers in Paris France headquarters in Rabat said. Some reports in Rabat said there was one additional passenger, but this could not be confirmed.

An inquiry commission from the Moroccan Public Works Ministry was on the scene shortly after dawn and a French investigation board was ordered to Rabat.

One unofficial theory of the cause of the crash was that in the heavy fog the pilot mistook the lights of a small nearby village, Donar Doum, for the airport.

The crash was the second air disaster in Morocco in two months. On July 12 a Cessna two-engine airplane crashed near Casablanca, with 73 deaths.

Trade Stamp Premiums Are Taxed

AUSTIN (AP)—The state comptroller said today that the sales tax does not apply to trading stamps given a customer but the tax must be paid when stamps are traded in for a premium.

The ruling (No. 17) was one of three made today by state comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

The other interpretations were on auctioneers and brokers (No. 2) and notaries (No. 24).

The comptroller also said his department is rewriting a previous ruling on prior contracts (No. 2) and it will be reissued Thursday.

Calvert said cash discounts allowed and taken on taxable retail sales may be excluded from the tax, promotion plans such as trading stamps, coupons, tickets and cash register tapes constitute cash discounts.

The cash discount is allowed the retailer and taken by the customer at the time the retailer incurs the expense with relation to the premium.

Calvert said the delivery of premium merchandise under the promotion plans is taxable whether the exchange is made by the merchant who gave the trading stamps or other promotion units or by a third party. "In any event the person delivering the premium merchandise shall remit a tax in an amount no less than the amount of sales tax reimbursement collected from the customer."

In another ruling Calvert said persons having possession of property for the purpose of sale such as auctioneers, pawnbrokers and storage men are retailers with respect to sales of the property and must collect the tax. The sales tax would not apply to an owner who probably who bids in his own property at an auction.

Mock Astronaut Is Landed In Atlantic

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States took a long stride toward manned orbital flight today by rocketing a Mercury space capsule into orbit and recovering it after one sweep around the earth.

The two-ton capsule, which carried an "artificial astronaut," was fished from the Atlantic Ocean 100 miles east of Bermuda by the destroyer USS Decatur at 12:14 p.m.—just over three hours after it roared away from Cape Canaveral on the nose of an Atlas missile.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the capsule will be returned to Cape Canaveral as soon as possible for study.

The single orbit of the earth had taken one hour and 46 minutes. The capsule was launched from the Cape Canaveral test center at 9:04 a.m. EST.

The capsule is identical to the one a man is expected to ride on a three-turn orbital flight in a few months. The robot spaceman—a small gray box of instruments—was designed to "breathe, sweat and talk" just like a human astronaut.

Full success for the trial would be a long leap forward in the program aimed to match or surpass Russia's manned orbital flights.

NASA officials spotted the landing point as 100 miles east of Bermuda, some 40 miles short of the planned impact point.

That created some delay in the recovery operation.

The USS Decatur, a destroyer, was the closest ship. It was expected to arrive about noon EST.

Helicopters also were dispatched from the USS Plymouth Rock, an LSD which is the flagship of the recovery fleet.

Reverse rockets were set off as the space trailer sped over the Mexican west coast, to slow it for a descent into the Atlantic east of Bermuda. There an attempt was to be made to recover the Project Mercury capsule, just as would be done if a spaceman were aboard.

A fully successful operation would be a long stride toward the time, hopefully—but not certainly within this year—when a real spaceman will fly the route on a three-turn orbit.

An automatic timing device fired the three small slow-down rockets attached to the base of the capsule at 10:33 a.m. as the vehicle neared the end of its single whirl around the globe. As a backup, a ground station at Guaymas, Mexico, sent a radio signal to ignite the rockets.

The intention was to slow the capsule by 350 miles from its orbital speed of 17,520 m.p.h. This is enough to ease the craft gradually back to earth under the pull of gravity.

The flawless performance of the Atlas and spacecraft were reported by the Mercury control center from the instant of launch.

Shortly after the rocket blasted off in a swirl of flame the tracking station on Bermuda picked up clean signals from the booster and capsule.

The NASA confirmed that the capsule had achieved orbit 20 minutes after liftoff.

An announcement said the Atlas engine firing the two-ton capsule at a point 500 miles down range from Cape Canaveral at an altitude of 99 miles.

The shot could start this nation on the long road to overtake the Soviet Union's lead in the space race. Two Soviet Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, have been reported returned safely from orbital trips.

The United States also has two experienced spacemen in Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom. They survived brief 15-minute suborbital flights which provided valuable data for the orbital rides. No further suborbital launches are planned.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the main goal of today's flight was to place the capsule in orbit and bring it back to earth in a preplanned area, all automatically.

2. To test Mercury's worldwide tracking, data-gathering and flight control network.

3. To test the thousands of devices in the capsule in orbital flight.

4. To determine how well the space craft withstands re-entry heat expected to reach 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Launch signals, the pull of gravity,

Minor damage, but no injuries...

Student Escapes Injury In Mishap While Landing Plane

No injuries were sustained at midnight today when a plane piloted by student pilot James Louis Moseley failed to make a successful landing on a cattle range 13 miles due west of Snyder.

Moseley, a Texas A&M student who resides at 2306 Forty-second Street was attempting to initiate a landing after spotting a group of friends who were working cattle on the J. Monroe estate below. Thus, the landing was not of an emergency nature.

He set the craft down "perfectly," according to onlookers, but evidently applied the braking apparatus too soon, so that the plane nosed over and flipped completely once, coming to rest on its top side. The mishap, which occurred at 10:30 this morning, came about as Moseley was attempting a landing while flying in a northerly direction, and the craft eventually came to rest some 500 feet north of U.S. Highway 180.

Moseley received "not a scratch," although the windshield of the sleek Luscombe SiLVaire was broken, the propeller was bent—as was the left wing strut—and the tail assembly was damaged slightly. He is a student pilot and alone at the controls of the plane when the accident occurred.

Jaycee Drive For Storm Aid Grows

A project launched by Snyder Jaycees to aid victims of Hurricane Carla had developed "into virtually a community-wide effort today."

The Jaycees are collecting clothing and food which will be transported by Civil Defense vehicles. The food and clothing will go from here to an emergency warehouse in Dallas and then will be distributed by the American Red Cross. The first load is scheduled to depart Snyder tonight.

Sonny Greenfield and Bill Dryden are Jaycee co-chairmen of the drive. They reported this morning that many individuals and organizations had helped. City firemen and other employees have helped handle donated items, and members of the Robokah Lodge helped sort clothing at the National Guard Armory last night.

Other volunteers were being asked to help sort clothing and food at the armory from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and during the evening hours after 7 p. m. today.

All types of wearable clothing and non-perishable food is being sought in the drive.

The bright silver and red SiLVaire belongs to Moseley's instructor, J. M. Kayser. Kayser, who arrived at the scene within a few minutes following the mishap, stated that the accident—although minor—was still the most severe in which any of his students had ever been involved.

Due to an unusual sequence of events, the alarm was sounded and the mishap reported in lightning fashion by a passerby—Lloyd W. Shaw of Fairbanks, Alaska—who spotted the upended craft from the highway. Shaw, who is a ham radio operator and was at a "geared" for such an emergency, sent out word of the accident on his "ham band" and it was picked up by A. B. Crowder in Swartz, who promptly notified officials.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today that purchasers of Texas crude oil indicate they will buy 2,437,563 barrels daily in October.

The forecast is a decrease of 26,748 barrels daily, caused largely by October being a 31-day month as compared to 30 days in September.

The Bureau of Mines has forecast an October demand for Texas crude at 2,400,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 80,000.

The Railroad Commission meets here Sept. 19 for its monthly session to set oil production allowances.

Actual cost of the milk, rather than a reduced rate supplemented by state subsidy.

The comparative report, covering the first six days of school this year and the similar period in 1960, showed 13,819 half pints served with meals this year, and 13,617 half pints served with meals for the period a year ago. Extra half pints served this year totalled 7,178, compared to 14,315 a year ago. The over-all total this year is 22,165, compared to 20,293 a year ago.

A comparison of cafeteria meals served shows 16,206 this year, and 16,714 during the first six days last year.

School Board Gets Reports On Opening Of 1961-62 Term

Snyder School Trustees last night studied various reports and statistics associated with the opening of the new school term.

Superintendent T. E. McCollum submitted the initial report on enrollment, which showed a total of 3,804 pupils.

At the same time, McCollum advised the board that Snyder High School has the latest supplemental physics books and is using them in the science course. The superintendent noted that some concern may have stemmed from a newspaper article distributed by The Associated Press which reported that the physics texts approved by the Texas Education Agency ignore modern developments in physics.

"We have the PSSC texts as supplements," McCollum said. "We spent about $900 to $1,000 to provide them and they are being used in the classroom."

The PSSC text was cited in the AP article as one of the up-to-date texts being used by some schools to supplement the state-approved books.

The board was advised that Fred Buford, architect, would be here next week to confer with the board in plans for repairing fire damage at the Stanfield Elementary School.

The board also conferred with Regal Rosson, who appeared in behalf of W. C. Murphy concerning property purchased by the school several years ago from Murphree. The board had expressed interest in developing feed lot facilities on the 15-acre tract southeast of town for use by vocational agriculture students. Murphy had objected to the project, noting that the site had been purchased originally for a school building, and said he felt that it was too close to dwellings and business houses to be used for a feed lot. The negotiation is in the hands of a committee of the board.

The superintendent also presented a comparative report on the school milk program. The school withdrew from the state program beginning this term, with pupils who purchase milk paying the actual cost of the milk, rather than a reduced rate supplemented by state subsidy.

House Okays Rights Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-year extension of the controversial Civil Rights Commission was approved by the House today by a 298-106 roll-call vote which added it to an appropriation bill.

The commission, created four years ago, technically went out of business last week.

The extension originally was added by the Senate to a money bill passed earlier by the House. It would keep the commission in business until Sept. 30, 1963, and give it $200,000 to finance its work during the present fiscal year.

The funds were part of a $554,422,000 appropriation bill to finance the State and Justice Departments, the federal courts and the U.S. Information Agency for the government year that started July 1.

BANKER VS. BARBER

Cotton Picking Contest Slated

A banker and a barber, each boasting of his prowess on the cotton field, will engage in a cotton-picking contest here Monday, and their efforts will aid some charitable organization.

Roger Mize, president of the Snyder National Bank, and Jim Lacey, local barber, will compete. They plan to enter the cotton field at 8 a. m. and continue the contest until 4 p. m. Monday.

The two contestants have announced that they will use different "systems" in the field. Lacey, whose experience in such pursuits was gained in West Texas where cotton stalks are relatively short, identified himself as a "knee-walker."

The government year that started July 1, was reared in Mississippi, where charitable organization.

Rossini 'Barber' Top Album

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeature Writer

GIACCHINO ROSSINI was not a man to waste a line of music—his or anyone else's.

His "Barber of Seville" undoubtedly the greatest comic opera ever written was composed of odd bits of business gathered over the years by the thrifty composer.

The overture for instance which everyone acclaims as being just right for the rowdy doctors that follow, had been used in several other Rossini operas, two of them tragedies.

The libretto was based on two plays by Beaumarchais, which already had been used for a "Barber of Seville" opera by Paisiello, a forgotten Italian composer, and by Mozart for his "Marriage of Figaro."

Five of the major numbers Rossini lifted unabashedly from other operas, among the famous "Zitti Zitti" in the second act bore an astonishing resemblance to the plowman's song in Haydn's "The Seasons."

But if "The Barber" is made up of little snippets of creative plagiarism, a charge that Rossini never denied, it remains in toto a work of a daring and originality. Like Shakespeare and Chaucer Rossini was an exceedingly gifted "borrower" who never failed to lend new charm and rare beauty to whatever he lifted. When the opera was given its world premier in Rome in 1816 a claque paid for Rossini's composer. Paisiello created a disturbance in the audience to demonstrate their outrage at Rossini's effrontery in coming out with another "Barber of Seville."

With characteristic indifference Rossini yanked left the theater and went to bed. The following night with the claque no longer in the house the opera was given a tumultuous reception and the applause has continued to echo down through the decades.

More than any other opera "The Barber of Seville" is the one opera that most opera lovers cut their eye teeth on. Its rousing score and effervescent humor win thousands of new fans to opera each year. From there they may go on to Wagner or maybe to Prokofiev but they always return to "The Barber" with fondness and affection, like going back to see an old professor at school.

Even in today's rock 'n' roll epidemic, "The Barber" can win new customers to opera if only given half a chance.

Happily, Angel Records provides that half a chance with its new "Highlights of the Barber of Seville Album," which means the neophyte doesn't even have to listen whole opera. Just the juicy parts like "Figaro Figaro" and "Zitti Zitti."

The highlights are presented by an all star cast that includes the incomparable Maria Callas as Rosina and Tito Gobbi as Figaro, the barber. Both are in excellent voice and exuberantly reflect the gaiety and wit of Rossini's masterpiece.

One Man's Dilemma In Retirement

CHAIRMAN OF THE BORED.
By Edward Streeter.

Streeter has dramatized, in the form of a novel, many of the facets of retirement's dilemma. It is a subject of increasing interest in these days of social security and retirement plans. His hero, Graham Crombie, is not very typical, however. He has been the head of a large and profitable investment counseling firm and even on retirement pay he does not have to pinch the pennies, though he thinks he does.

Crombie is the empty business type who never has taken time to read books, live in a fine old house in the country or set up the standard hobby, a woodworking shop. So when he finds himself pinched, he goes through a compulsory retirement at 65, he buys a fine old county house, tries to read books and goes through some rather ridiculous motions of setting up a shop. He feels miserable.

He finally discovers salvation by returning to his old patterns of life, as he knows it, the competitive spirit of business.

Streeter, incidentally, is a retired banker whose association was writing, so in his own case he probably found writing an easy answer to his adjustment problems. He has come a long way since writing "Dere Mable" in the days of the first World War.

His novel has rung all the changes on the mental conditioning which retirement forces upon tycoons, and is mildly amusing in this respect. To this reader the funniest passages were the keen satires on the nonsensical conferences, irrelevant charts and frantic telephone calls of Big Business. It's a pretty good book, appealing chiefly to the middle aged.

A STRANGE WORLD

Young Poet Tired Of Hearing This

By Hal Boyle
 NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a young poet gets tired of hearing: "If you ask me, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow said it all."
 "How do you guys get paid—by the line or by the rhyme?"
 "Could you knock off a couple of funny stanzas about my cousin and his wife? They're celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary next week and just for laughs, I'd like to have something come to surprise them on the occasion."
 "There's nothing in the mail, dear, except three more rejection slips."
 "In a way he's like Western Union—full of messages for mankind. The difference is that Western Union knows where to deliver them."
 "I understand he's a stand-in writer for the fellow who writes those highway shave jingles."
 "You couldn't exactly call Algren a mute, injurious Milton. For one thing he isn't mute—unfortunately."
 "They tell me you're a poet, young fellow. That's nice. What do you do for a living?"
 "I'm leaving you, Algren, and going home to mother. No, it's not because I'm mad at you. But at mother's I can at least be sure of eating."
 "Algren kind of reminds me of Alfred Tennyson, particularly when he runs out of razor blades and doesn't shave for a month or two."
 "I didn't actually say he rises above his lack of perspiration."
 "He really hasn't published anything noteworthy ever since that mimeograph machine broke down in the office where his sister works."
 "Algren isn't proud. He'd be glad to write for the little magazines. The trouble is that so far he hasn't found one small enough for his kind of verse."

'Americaneese' Is Dominant Language In Bermuda Now

BY INEZ ROBB
 CARLTON BEACH, Bermuda — I hope that what follows will not wear out my welcome in these lovely islands.
 But truth compels me to report that in the 20 years since I was last here, the once-clipped British intonation has been transmogrified into grass-roots Americaneese. There was a time when it took my ear a good 48 hours to become attuned to the Bighty speech-pattern; now I feel I have never left home.
 And—may Her Majesty forgive me!—something more drastic has happened. The most burning question in Bermuda today is not "Will there be a third World War?" but "Do you think Maria will tie the Babe Ruth home-run record?"
 There are, I am assured on the best authority, more baseball than cricket fans in these islands. During the World Series, work stops while fans tune in on the games.
 Indeed, the other night at a formal banquet celebrating the opening of a new American hotel, the Carlton Beach, the ceremonies were stopped cold by an excited Bermudian who climbed to the dais to announce that the Yankees had just won another game and Maria had hit another homer.
 From the applause and the "hear! hear!" one would have thought that word had come through that the old empire was back in business.
 "Is all this seeming Americanization of Bermuda traceable to the rude influx of us American tourists?" I asked D. Colin Selley, a personable young man who works here and is now an officer of the Bermuda News Bureau.
 "Don't use that adjective," cried Colin Selley in accents of purest Midwest corn. "You are speaking of the bread and butter we love!"

 Of course, Bermuda is sensitive to American influences, he went on. After all, he himself is a graduate of an American prep school and university. So are many other Bermudians, since the islands have neither university nor college.
 The only higher educational facilities on the island are maintained by the University of Maryland. It conducts an extension school at Kindley, the American Air Force base. The school is open to Bermudians and is widely popular with them.
 With a population of only 50,000, the islands were inundated in 1960 with 150,000 tourists, who left some $7,000,000 in Bermuda. The figures for 1961 are running 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

Tourism is by far the largest and most profitable industry here. The handsome new American hotel, the Carlton Beach, with 200 air-conditioned rooms, is testimony that financial interests from home are interested in getting in on the gold rush.
 At the moment, the hotel is a chief tourist attraction for both residents and visitors. After absorbing the stunning use of brilliant colors in the hotel's public rooms, everyone rushes out to see what I am told is Bermuda's only waterfall. This man-made miracle leaves 45 feet from the rocky ledge, or which the sickle-moon-shaped hotel is built, into the Atlantic.
 The waterfall is an unplanned and unexpected byproduct of the hotel's desalination plant. The transformation of sea water into fresh water may still be a somewhat thing elsewhere, but in Bermuda it is here and now. For its drinking water, Bermuda from the beginning has been dependent upon rainfall—all wells here yield salt water.
 The Carlton Beach, a real luxury job, is the third hotel here to install a system to distill fresh water from salt. The plant not only supplies the hotel with 35,000 gallons of fresh water every 24 hours at a cost of $1 per 10,000, but with a really beautiful waterfall. It is the excess, doubly salted water that tumbles so impressively into the sea.
 One last word: Despite the creeping Americanization, if you don't want a boiled sole, better ask for a grilled rather than a broiled one. (Copyright, 1961, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Design Is Questioned

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man planned to build a nuclear blast shelter.
 The original design was produced for testing at the Nevada proving grounds. Nuclear engineers claimed it would withstand five times the pressure of an atomic blast and keep out gamma rays, an fallout.
 Its estimated cost was above $2,500.
 The resident hired a contractor. An engineer approved the plans. A 17-foot pit was dug in his backyard.
 Then he applied to Montgomery County officials for a building permit.
 His application was denied.
 County engineers questioned whether the shelter would hold up the six-foot of earth the man planned to pile on top of it.

Sophs Playing Dominant Role For Mustangs

DALLAS — Eleven sophomores have already won positions on the top three teams on the SMU football squad and two or three other first-year men could be among those suited up for the Mustangs' opening game with the University of Maryland in the Cotton Bowl Saturday night, September 23.

Although none of the players who are getting their first experience with the varsity has succeeded in outstaying the veterans on the first team, Mike Kelsey of Corpus Christi, at center, Jerry Rhone of Dallas Sunset at quarterback,
John Hughes of Bevely at right tackle, Lewis Albright of Scottsdale Arizona, at left half, and Tom Sherwin of Windyng, Pennsylvania, at right half are on the alternate eleven.

First year performers with the
No. 3 team include John Graves of Florio at left end, Ronnie Cosper of San Angelo at right guard,
Mike DeGrazer of Dallas Wood-
Gannon of Highland Park at left half, John Richey of Houston Lar-mer at fullback, and Don Campbell of Bonham at right half.

The Mustangs are three-deep with lettermen and squadmen at may succeed in replacing one or two of the more experienced players before the season opens.

"I don't know anything about it," Dykes said in Cleveland.

Gabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, would neither confirm nor deny the information.

DISCRIMINATORY SPRING TRAINING HIT Bostick Addresses Club

Tiger head coach Horace Bostick, definitely disappointed at the team's showing in its opener of Friday against Berger, was openly pessimistic in his address to the local Quarterback Club last night.

One "peeve" in particular that he aired was his dissatisfaction over the current set-up which allows only Class 4A schools to take part in spring training.

"They (Class 4A coaches) already know who can find really winners to play when the season starts," he commented, "while we have no way of knowing for sure."

He also intimated that tentative plans call for the dropping of Berger from future scheduling, and he added that "We don't plan to pick up another, strong 4A team in its place until such time as our classification allows spring training once again."

Bostick was displeased with the results of the Tuesday workout, also, as a sickness siege had some eight players sitting out the session, whereas only three were absent from Monday's workout, which was described as a "very good one."

In addition to quarterback Tim Marcum and end Ray Grummett, both of whom are continuing to nurse broken bones, the injured and sick list now includes guard Bob Smith, halfback Mike Morris, center Joe Robinson, tackle Riley Boothe, halfback Johnny Mitchell, and tackle Tommy Nick.

Coach Jimmy Gafford presented the scouting report on Friday's foe, the Andrews Mustangs, to the club. He stated that the Mustangs were outmaneuvered by Tom S. Lubbock in going down in their opener, 15-6, but that Andrews "never quit trying" and came back to score after falling behind, 13-0.

He speculated that the Mustangs would probably "make a lot of changes" prior to taking the field against Snyder, but that fundamen- tally they would remain a bread-and-butter club which would use the straight-T and avoid using any radical formations. He noted that no flankers nor wing-backs were employed against Lubbock, and indications are that the Mustangs will not stray far from that basic system.

Gafford also surmised that Andrews—long noted for its break-away seatbacks—has one of its slower backfields this year, built primarily a 1-2-3-4-5 quarterback Tommy Canacho, a 160-pound senior signal-caller, Canacho was described as "their best passer and a very good punter," and that even though his play selection would not rank as exceptional, he nevertheless ran his plays well.

In a brief business session which preceded the program, vice president Virgil Walton presided in the absence of proxy Joe Williamson. A report from club secretary Bill Williams was heard in which he stated that membership now totals 95. The need for a large number of additional members is desperately needed, however, in order to make the organization a more workable one, and all men interested are urged to join in the near future.

The meeting was concluded with a running of the Snyder-Berger game, along with narration by Coach Bostick.

Moody Maris Mumbling

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
There's been a claim of foul in that home run race that's heading into the home stretch with Roger Maris holding a three-length lead over fast-climbing Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle losing ground.

Maris, the leader with 56 home runs, angrily criticized plate umpire Hank Sar last night after the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in a rain-shortened contest that cost Maris and Mantle at least one at-bat apiece.

Gay Timers To Kick Off League Play

Formation of the Gay Timers Winter League was accomplished at Snyder Lanes Thursday, with initial league play slated to begin tomorrow morning at 9:15.

New Gay Timers officers as elected include Daris Bunch, president; Connie Robinson, vice president; Ruth B. Bunch, secretary; and Joan Priddy, treasurer.

The league will convene at Snyder Lanes, along with all women interested in taking part in the winter league, by appearing at or contacting Snyder Lanes.

Too Wet In Texas, So On To Mexico!

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—San Antonio and Veracruz are moving to Mexico to finish up their Pan American Association playoff series.

Rain caused the transfer after the two clubs had played two games, each winning one. The remaining five will be played at Veracruz starting Thursday night. It is a best of seven series. The decision to move the series was made Tuesday when long range weather forecasts predicted rain and overcast for the next five days.

Lary (10-9) won his 20th on the fourth go-round with a five-hitter when the Tigers came up with two in the eighth against Jerry Walker (1-12). Billy Brant's triple, a walk, Norm Cash's se- nior fly and singles by Dick McAniff and Steve Boros got the job done after Dick Brown tied it in the fifth with his 13th homer. Homer No. 9 for Deron Johnson accounted for the A's run.

Experience Reigns In U. S. Amateur

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)
Three former champs and an Irish beller kept the United States Amateur Golf championship from being completely wide open today in play that will see only 36 survivors by nightfall.

Defending champion Deane Beman fell Tuesday before veteran Billy Joe Patton, but ex-champ Harvie Ward Jr., Charlie Coe and Jack Nicklaus all whipped through the second round.

So did three-time British champion Joe Carr of Ireland, a witty fellow who laced a couple of drives about 300 yards while over- whelming Claude Wright of Englewood, Colo., 4 and 5. Not in 25 years has a foreigner won the U.S. Amateur title.

Exact conditions of play over the 6,747-yard Pebble Beach course, with small greens, and weather conditions that vary al- most hourly, give the advantage to the experienced golfer.

Even the dark horses were golf- ers with experience—Bob Gardner of Elmford, N.Y., two-time for- mer California champ and last year runner-up in the National to Beman and ex-pro Glen Fowler of Oklahoma City, both sub-par shooters in the past two days.

Patton, 36, ousted Beman, 2-up, the 1960 champ missed six putts of eight feet or less as his usually reliable putter failed.

Patton, of Morganton, N.C., out- drove his foe and hit beautiful chip shots on the 16th and 17th to preserve a one-hole lead. On the 18th, Beman hit into a trap and it was all over.

Ward was 2 under par in dis- patching Harlan Lane of Houston, 7 and 5, to put him against Dud- ley Wyszog Jr. of McKinney, Tex., today. The San Franciscoan, national champ in 1955 and 1958 didn't lose a hole, Wyszog beat Andy Gard of Weyland, Mass., 2-up, after Gard staged one of the few first-round upsets by eliminat- ing ex-Walker Cup star Bill Campbell.

Oklahoma City's Coe, 41st in 1949 and 1952, triumphed 3 and 4 over John Nichols of Dyerney, Calif. Nicklaus, eve after nine, rallied to win the next three holes against Oregon champ Donald Krieger of Portland and go on to a 4 and 3 triumph. The big blond from Ohio State drew Bill Ed- wards of Garden City, N.Y., to- day. Edwards advanced with a 2 and 1 triumph over Dick Giddings of Modesto, Calif.

Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., national cham- pion in 1952, went to the sidelines with Beman as collegian Frank James of Grinnell, Iowa, beat him 6 and 4.

Tammy Thomas of Indianapolis pulled a surprise by eliminating Walker Cupper Bob Cochran of Norandy, Mo., 1-up at the 20th hole.

90 Per Cent Could Survive Nuclear War

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The date is some dreadful tomorrow.

The holocaust of nuclear war might sweep the United States.

But 90 per cent of Americans could actually survive declares Dr. Edward Teller of H-bomb fame.

And in three to four years, they could rebuild desolated industries, cities, schools, homes, Democratic institutions would function again.

Longer radiation would be a problem, but not insuperable, he says. The human race would not die.

Indeed, he regards this attitude and lack of defense as a temptation for a well-prepared nation to launch thermonuclear war.

It is an invitation to panic and wholesale, needless loss of life if bombs ever fall, says the famous physicist of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California.

Three steps could create the defense for insurance against war, or for national survival if it comes.

1. Building shelters against fallout and against the blast and fire from nuclear bombs.

2. Stockpiling surplus food, machinery, machine tools, generators, building materials—the essentials to generate power, start factories, build more machines, transport people and goods, and assure communications.

make open tests simply to answer some final questions.

The Soviets knew open testing would force or irritate the United States into more testing, and arouse adverse opinion.

But an edge won through secret testing could mean "they are so far ahead in weaponry they don't care what we do."

Dr. Teller says "if we don't prepare, 100 million Americans could die in the first days of an all-out war. Thirty to forty millions more could die from starvation and disease. The United States would cease to exist."

"But I firmly believe 90 per cent of our population could be saved. It means 30 million would die, and this is terrible to contemplate. But why not try to give 90 per cent a decent chance for survival?"

Nuclear war "would be one of the most horrible things imaginable. And everything should be done to prevent it."

But, he adds, he is dismayed by "those who say that a nuclear war necessarily means the end of everything."

"The fear of radiation is much greater than it deserves to be. It is not so bad that radiation, even from an all-out war, would destroy all forms of life."

"And it is simply not true that if war came, everything is hopeless."

"We can prepare. One-third of our people would not even be in danger, because they don't live near targets the bombs hit."

KITTY ISN'T KIDDING—A 350-pound lioness mauls and chews on Lynn Hudson, 19-year-old zookeeper at Lincoln Park in Oklahoma City. Hudson spent a harrowing 20 minutes in the den before being rescued. He is reported in satisfactory condition despite being clawed and bitten on the stomach, arms, chest and neck. A pistol bullet also hit him in the arm when another attendant fired three times at the lioness. The lioness was hit in the head but not severely wounded. A zoo visitor from Allison, Tex., made this picture and sent it to the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman. (AP Wire-photo)

Rash Sends Girl Off To New School

LOUGHTON, England (AP)—Jane Reeve, who breaks out in a rash when she mixes with boys, has won her battle to save her schoolgirl complexion.

She early skipped off today to an all-girl school where there'll be no boys to bring out those ugly blemishes.

Jane, 11, is allergic to boys. Boys make her nervous. That brings on the rash.

Finishing at her girls' school, Jane was threatened with a rash of rashes when she was assigned to a coed high school in this town just outside London.

Her father, Leslie Reeve, protested to the local educational authorities. He told them about the rashes.

The authorities turned down his request that Jane be allowed to attend the local girls-only school.

Even a doctor's certificate, pointing out Jane's strange ailment, wouldn't budge them.

Until Tuesday, that is, when the authorities, after thinking things over, decided that in the interests of her health Jane should go to a girls' school.

Trail Drivers Set Session

The Old Trail Drivers Association of Texas will hold its annual convention Oct. 5-7 in the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio.

An interesting program is being arranged for each day, officials of the organization said, and the daughters and wives of Texas Trail Drivers will be hostesses.

The association is seeking the names and addresses of any men who trailed cattle from Texas to other states before the year 1837 so that a special tribute may be paid them at the convention.

All descendants of Texas Trail Drivers and pioneer Texas settlers have been invited to attend the convention and register for membership.

Information about the convention and membership may be obtained by writing the Old Trail Drivers Association of Texas, 515 West Lubbock Street, San Antonio.

Change Is Rejected

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma voters rejected Tuesday a proposed change in the constitutional formula for House of Representatives membership.

The issue remained alive with the announcement of plans for circulation of an initiative petition for a new legislative reapportionment plan.

Voters gave emphatic approval, however, to another constitutional change which would remove a loophole from criminal statutes.

The House reapportionment proposal had 25,829 yes votes and 67,737 no votes.

Vote on the proposal to authorize trial of accused persons in any county where evidence shows the crime might have been committed was 90,871 for and 23,367 against with 2,138 precincts counted.

UAW Orders Local Unions To End Strikes At GM Plants

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers today ordered local unions to end strikes at General Motors factories as quickly as they conclude at-the-plant working agreements.

The UAW also called off a scheduled 2 p.m. Thursday meeting of its General Motors Conference which had been summoned to wrap up a new three-year contract with the world's largest automaker.

The union urged intensification of local-level bargaining "to reach sensible and satisfactory solutions to local problems at the earliest possible date."

Local-level agreements have been worked out at 43 GM plants since walkouts began at 10 a.m. Monday. None of the plants had gotten back in operation by Tuesday night.

The strikes completely shut off the flow of new 1962 model cars which had just started to come in volume from assembly lines of the highly integrated GM empire.

The GM conference was postponed to a date and time to be announced later. The meeting had been considered, in effect, a deadline for local-level settlements.

Thirty-six plants continued in operation Tuesday. Some local agreements had been reached prior to Monday. Others operated while negotiations progressed, but no assembly lines were operating.

GM and the UAW have agreed on a national wage and fringe benefits package which the union estimates is worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay.

Four settlements were reported Tuesday—at two plants in Tarrytown, N.Y., and single plants at Livonia, Mich., and Marion, Ind.

One new walkout erupted at the Chevrolet engineering plant at the GM Technical Center in Warren, Mich., where 800 men quit work.

SPORTS SOCIETY DEATHS BIRTHS GROWTH MARRIAGES OTHER

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

By Rev. R. Charles

As Jesus drew near to the gate of Jerusalem, he had died was being carried out. And he came and touched the bier. . . . And said, 'Young man, I say to you, arise.' And the dead man sat up and began to speak." Luke 7:12, 14, 15, (read 11-17)

Is it any wonder that the people of New Testament days called Jesus, 'Lord?' When they saw the dead being raised and the sick healed, they knew that here was no ordinary person. The Scripture today goes on to say that the crowd at the funeral cried out "God has visited his people!" Perhaps they didn't know how true the saying was. Nevertheless, it is true—and that same God is present today. His great power is working the lives of those who believe.

Sad Journey Is Launched By Families

CAMERON, La. (AP)—Women and children began the sad journey today.

Kitty said journey down public highway. . . . Knowing what they would find left of homes battered by Hurricane Carla.

A day earlier husbands, fathers and brothers had returned to this town of 3,200 to inspect damages wrought by giant waves and Calcasieu Lake floodwaters. Many remembered the same trip 4 years ago when Hurricane Audrey took 300 lives and destroyed $11 million in property.

Louisiana officials placed crop losses in the millions. More than 40,000 escaped to the higher, safer cities to the north last weekend when Carla made a mad rush toward the Louisiana Texas coast and veered to Texas.

Investment Law Due

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A proposal to revamp laws regulating foreign investments probably will be introduced soon in Congress.

The newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Tuesday that Rep. Stephens Garcia intended to propose the revision.

Dead snakes, muskrats, birds—all forms of wildlife that abound in the verdant marshlands—cluttered the roadways into Cameron. A monumental cleanup job was in the offing.

15 Clergymen Face Trial In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Fifteen Episcopal clergymen, including the son-in-law of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, will go on trial Friday on charges of peace charges after efforts to desegregate a Jackson bus terminal.

City Prosecutor Jack Travis and defense attorney Jack Young, a Jackson Negro lawyer, agreed to the new date at a conference. It previously had been planned for today.

The Rev. John Dorr, chairman of Oklahoma State University and spokesman for a group of ministers not jailed, said there were no plans to secure the release of the 15.

"They will all probably serve some time," he said, "and some of them may stay in jail longer. I expect all of them to appeal if they are convicted."

Dorr did not indicate whether the Rev. Robert L. Pierson of New York City and Evanston, Ill., Rockefeller's son-in-law, would be among the first to post appeal bond.

The 15 were participating in a "Prayer Pilgrimage" which left New Orleans Tuesday and proceeded without incident until they reached Jackson. Twenty-three white and five Negro Episcopal priests started the pilgrimage.

It was the first arrest for Pierson, 35, of New York City and Evanston, Ill. His wife is Ann Rockefeller, one of the New York Gov.'s five children.

After a meal in jail of cornbread, peas and meat, the minister said that police had been polite and that the treatment was satisfactory.

"I admire all of them," Rockefeller said in Rochester, N.Y. "I admire the courage and dedication of these young people to the basic precepts on which

Evacuees Are Hurt In Fall

GALVESTON (AP)—The porch of a Red Cross chapter house, crowded with Hurricane Carla evacuees, collapsed today. Fifteen persons were injured.

About 1,000 persons were in and around the chapter house at the time, most of them registering for assistance.

The collapse apparently ruptured gas and water pipes, and gas flames.

Howard Benton, Red Cross regional director from Denver, ordered the two-story building evacuated.

"I was inside when I heard a crash," said Elmer Bertelson, Houston Chronicle reporter. "It sounded awful, like a bomb."

West Foreign Ministers Slate Conference Today

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk opens a conference with Western foreign ministers here today to chart the Allied approach to the Soviet Union next week on negotiations for a Berlin settlement.

Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are due to attend the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly beginning Tuesday. President Kennedy, disclosing this Wednesday, said their presence in New York will provide opportunity for serious talks about Germany and other problems if the Soviet side proves willing.

The three-day Western policy conference was scheduled to start at the State Department at mid-afternoon with Rusk, Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville attending.

Rusk scheduled preliminary talks earlier in the day with West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano and Lord Home. Von Brentano will join the main conference Friday morning and participate in the sessions which will continue into Saturday.

Home said on his arrival that the foreign ministers will seek a fair basis for discussions with the Soviets on Berlin. But he said a negotiated settlement of the problem does not depend entirely on the Western allies, adding that it takes two to make for successful negotiations.

Von Brentano said he was confident the Big Four foreign ministers will find a joint position on the Berlin problem. "I came here to talk to friends on common problems in the spirit of growing cooperation," he said.

Three main issues are set for discussion—the problem of Berlin negotiation between the Soviet Union and the Western powers, the planning of emergency measures could take to put pressure on West Berlin and issue which may come up at the United Nations. The third item is understood to include tactics for defeating the Soviet Union's expected bid to give Red China U.N. membership.

Kennedy declared Wednesday in his statement on Berlin that the United States is ready to discuss the Berlin crisis with Moscow and other governments in a search for means "to preserve an honorable peace."

"If that is the purpose on all sides," Kennedy said, "there is no need for resort to force."

Kennedy made his statement in comment on his meeting Tuesday and Wednesday with President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali, who came here as emissaries from the recent Belgrade conference of 23 nonaligned nations. Sukarno and Keita delivered a conference appeal to Kennedy for direct negotiations to save the world from nuclear war over Berlin. Such an appeal also was presented to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Keita told a news conference late Wednesday that Kennedy had said he was not opposed to a summit meeting with Khrushchev but that such a meeting must be carefully prepared. Careful preparation is said within the U.S. government to include East-West discussions among the foreign ministers which would show a reasonable basis for success at the summit.

The projected Rusk-Gromyko talks in New York would provide the first such high-level contact. It is understood that the Western governments, having made clear that they do not intend to pull out of West Berlin, want to find out from Gromyko what Khrushchev considers to be negotiable on Berlin.

One specific point Rusk would like to clear up is what Khrushchev means when he says that after he signs a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany Western access to West Berlin will be guaranteed.

Since Berlin supply lines cross East Germany territory, the access of the rights, obligations and vital interests of others.

"The situation in Berlin is filled with danger," he added. "I have made it clear that the position of the West and of the West Berliners will be defended."

He did not refer directly to a meeting with Khrushchev but apparently had that in mind when he said: "The channels of diplomacy are open for the exploration of constructive steps toward a resolution of tensions. Other means are available when they can serve a useful purpose."

He then added a sentence which read like a warning to the Soviet Union not to make the situation worse by some aggressive action prior to East-West talks. He said "It is clearly of the utmost importance that there be no unilateral acts which will make peaceful progress impossible."

In view of the tough line recently followed by Moscow, Rusk is expected not only to advise Gromyko of Western interest in starting negotiations but also to emphasize as strongly as possible that the Western powers have no intention of backing down on their Berlin rights even if the exercise of these rights in the face of Soviet pressures requires force.

Typhoon Is On Course To Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Powerful Typhoon Nancy was spotted 180 miles southeast of Okinawa today, moving along a path that could bring it to the big southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

It is expected to strike a glancing blow at the U.S. base on Okinawa.

The Japanese meteorological agency said Nancy was moving north northwest at 15.6 miles an hour. It changes course or loses speed, agency spokesman said, it will reach southern Kyushu by Friday morning.

The agency said maximum center winds were clocked at 167 miles an hour. U.S. Air Force weathermen earlier put the maximum wind speed at 207 miles an hour.

Reports from Naha, Okinawa, said Nancy is expected to pass about 80 miles east of Okinawa. Gulf Coast sector today and weather violence from the departed storm widened more than 1,000 miles northward into the Midwest.

Bodies of eight persons — all members of the same family — were discovered Wednesday night in inundated Freeport, one of the hardest hit among cities suffering multimillion-dollar losses along 250 miles of Texas and western Louisiana shore line.

The death toll, which could mount still higher, climbed to 33 in three states — 22 lives in Texas and five each in Louisiana and Kansas.

Rains up to 8 inches sent flood waters rising in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. Flooding continued in South Texas, doused by post-Charla downpours up to nearly 10 inches.

Victims of another hurricane, after Charla's onslaught at scattered points from Texas' southern tip through Missouri and into Michigan.

As these echoes from the massive tropical storm continued, National Guardsmen, public officials and a horde of refugees trudged through mud and debris on what promised to be a long and wearying struggle back to normalcy in coastal areas.

Public health threats caused widespread concern. Water supplies were contaminated in dozens of towns and cities.

Typical shots were being given to tens of thousands returning to devastated areas. At Houston's Municipal Auditorium still filled with evacuees, doctors found 14 cases of measles.

Officials feared there would be more grim discoveries like that at Freeport, 40 miles from Galveston, where exhausted Robert

Carla's Toll Mounts

GALVESTON TEX. (AP)—Fresh details of death and destruction from killer Hurricane Carla unfolded in the ravaged Gulf Coast sector today and Wives of the two men and another youth were missing. Bodies of the father, R. W. Dunn, 32; Robert's uncle, Joseph J. Drvar, 54, and six children were recovered in a muddy bay.

"We all started trying to get on the roof," the youth related. "I managed to get up there. The wind was blowing really hard then, and I tried to reach down and help two of the children up. But something seemed to pull them away from me."

Deaths charged by the hurricane included five Wednesday in Kansas. A family of four perished in a car washed off a road near Waverly and another victim in a car swept off a causeway at Fort Scott.

Volunteers generated before and after Carla's center surged inland with winds up to 175 miles per hour took six lives in Galveston and five others at two points in Louisiana. Still others died from touching power lines snapped at the hurricane's belt.

Sightseers flocking toward Galveston after ebbing waters uncovered a causeway.

To keep curious spectators from interfering with the giant rehabilitation job ahead, Texas Gov. Price Daniel ordered the National Guard to put roadblocks at the Galveston county line. He said local authorities agreed that non-essential travel was interfering with the return of evacuees.

City workmen also used pumps to ease the flooding.

The five inches of rain, much of it falling in six hours, soaked the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The rains continued generally over the entire Valley early Tuesday.

Heavy Rains Flood Brownsville Area

More than 5 inches of rain during the night turned much of sketchily drained Brownsville, just off the coast at the Rio Grande's mouth, into a temporary lake Thursday.

Bob Reeder of Radio KBOR said as much as four feet of water covered low sections of the city for a time. He estimated three-fourths of the city's streets filled before workers managed to reopen clogged storm sewers.

A woman caller appealed to newscasters.

"Please beg people to stop driving so fast—the water is right up to the edge of my house and every time a car goes by it sends waves right through the door."

Reeder said cruising police, who kept close watch on the rising waters, advised there was no serious danger to Brownsville's 50,000 residents.

The steady rain continued in daily morning.

Reeder reported that the accumulated rainfall made Elizabeth St., the city's main thoroughfare—impassable for 18 blocks. He estimated that before the water subsided, it spread along the entire thoroughfare.

Winds with gusts up to 30 miles per hour were clocked by an Edinburg—duster plane airport gauge Wednesday night as the front moved in. The winds caused minor damage mostly confined to the city's eastern edge.

Other totals included Weslaco 5.47, Roma 5, Harlingen 4.6, Mercedes 3.25, Rio Grande City 3.25, McAllen 2 inches and Edinburg 1.91.

Snakes Are Big Threat

GONZALES, Tex. (AP)—Edward Reese, general manager of the Gonzales Inquirer, said today that snakes are a real danger in the Fort Lavaca area.

The newspaperman said he saw about 15 rattlesnakes and cottonmouth moccasins killed at Mayhew Beach, about 10 miles north of Fort Lavaca on the bay.

Reese said the snakes took refuge in houses during Hurricane Carla and now are coming out.

Space Drive Gets Boost

By HOWARD BENEDICT CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—America's drive to hurt a U.S. astronaut into orbit by the end of the year has received vigorous impetus from the successful recovery of a Mercury space capsule after it circled the globe.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration intends to rocket one more capsule into orbit, perhaps with a chimpanzee passenger, before risking a human life on the journey into space.

An Atlas missile propelled a two-ton capsule carrying a mechanical man into a 17.15-mile-an-hour loop around the earth Wednesday. Braking rockets sent the spacecraft out of orbit and it parachuted safely into the Atlantic Ocean 161 miles east of Bermuda after a 10-minute trip.

The destroyer USS Decatur retrieved it.

A few minor electronic difficulties cropped up on the flight, including a faulty electrical inverter, a possible leak in the oxygen supply system and loss of contact with the robot spacewalker's tape recorder "voice" halfway through the test.

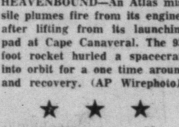

NASA Administrator James E. Webb said in Washington there definitely will be one more unmanned orbital flight before an attempt is made to orbit a man pilot. He said this would come in six to eight weeks.

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director, reported these failings alone would not necessitate another preliminary shot before man is sent aloft.

"We'll have to look at the capsule and into the problems to see if they were serious," Gilruth said. "But we feel that no matter what we find, we want to fly a capsule with a quick-release escape hatch once more before putting a man in orbit."

The quick-release hatch has been flown on only one capsule, that which carried Astronaut Virgil I. Grisson on a suborbital space flight in July. The hatch, designed to blow out under pressure of explosive bolts, flew off prematurely when the capsule impacted. Water rushed into the craft and Grisson had to swim for his life. A manually-operated hatch was on Wednesday's capsule.

Government Renews Pressure To Spur UA W-GM Settlement

By A. F. MAHAN DETROIT (AP)—The federal government renewed pressure today to get snarled contract negotiations between General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union moving toward a final agreement.

A direct appeal to both parties from President Kennedy was read by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on a national television program.

The President's statement said both parties have problems, but they also have an obligation to the country to settle these local differences quickly and expeditiously.

The message said Kennedy hopes that "by this weekend the problems between GM and the union can be put back on the track by Monday. It added: 'So let's get on with the job and finish it.'"

"Any hope of GM getting back into high gear production of 1962 cars before next week is gone, despite the fact that five more plants are being kept open and operated overnight, bringing to 23 the number of local agreements worked out with striking UAW locals. Some 80-plus GM plants have been idled since Monday, chiefly because of bargaining breakdowns at the local level.

Idleness at key plants could cause a parts shortage that ultimately could force a complete shutdown of GM's 129 plants and affect production at other auto makers who buy parts from GM.

Before resuming negotiations here today, Earl R. Bramblett, GM director of labor relations, commented on the government statement.

"I think we feel the urgency all right. We were here until 2 a.m. and we are back now, working at it and doing the best we can," he said.

Local agreements completed overnight included two key plants—the Oldsmobile assembly plant at Lansing, Mich., and the Fisher Body stamping plant at Mansfield, Ohio.

In addition, he said, a settlement at the Fisher Body plant in Van Nuys, Calif., should help to

DISCUSSION OF INDUSTRY SET HERE FRIDAY

A meeting to discuss industry has been scheduled for Friday afternoon by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The session will begin at 3 p. m. in the dining room at the Highlander.

It is open to all Chamber of Commerce members and others interested in industrial development. A panel, composed of persons who recently made a tour of industrial cities will be on hand to help lead the discussion and to answer questions about their experience and observations while visiting industries.

bring about settlements at some other assembly plants. Another settlement was reached at Brown-Lipe-Chapin, of Syracuse, N. Y., a parts manufacturer.

Despite the few agreements, UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted, "This thing will develop into a long and wearying struggle back to normalcy in coastal areas."

Public health threats caused widespread concern. Water supplies were contaminated in dozens of towns and cities.

Typical shots were being given to tens of thousands returning to devastated areas. At Houston's Municipal Auditorium still filled with evacuees, doctors found 14 cases of measles.

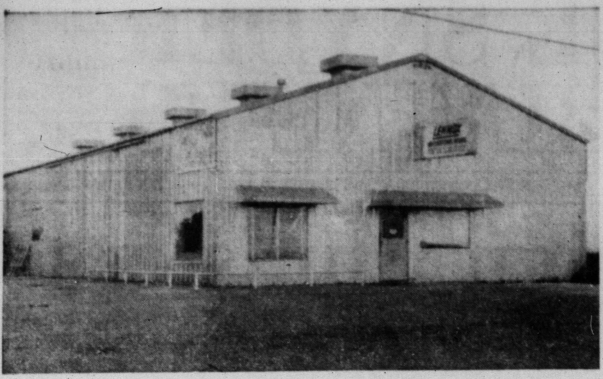

Officials feared there would be more grim discoveries like that at Freeport, 40 miles from Galveston, where exhausted Robert

Rockets Of Soviets Have Accurate Aim

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller has grave respect for the aim of Soviet rockets bearing nuclear warheads.
"They are accurate," says the University of California physicist. They could hit assigned cities or military targets, unless anti-missiles or other defenses brought them down.
Warning systems promise to sound about 20 minutes advance notice—time enough for most people to take shelter.
"But—few shelters exist."
Dr. Teller strongly urges a huge national effort to build public and private shelters from city to hamlet.
"With them, nine out of 10 citizens could survive," he declares.
Without them, he fears, six or eight out of 10 will die.
The choice is that stark, in the eyes of the scientist whose genius contributed to fashioning the H-bomb.
"Millions of people live in the fatalistic fear that if bombs fall, each will be directly underneath or utterly doomed by radioactive winds and fallout."
Dr. Teller calls this dangerous nonsense.
"Sketching basic essentials for shelters, he says many regions of the country would need only fall-out shelters in basements for protection against radioactive clouds sweeping downwind from blasts.
The greatest danger would last

Food Crops Missed By Big Storm

By The Associated Press
The impact of Hurricane Carla on food supplies at Texas markets will be more important in the days ahead than this week, the Agricultural Marketing Service says.
Trade channels were full of fruits, vegetables and other seasonal items. Most came from producing areas out of the path of the storm.
The most immediate effect will be to end the cleanup harvesting of cantaloupes and watermelons. Broilers via with turkeys for the marketings of green peppers and a few other vegetables from fields in the storm's path.
Cabbage, carrots, celery, greens, lettuce, potatoes and onions continue plentiful and seasonally lower in prices, reports the AMS.
Sweet potato supplies from East Texas are increasing.
Some peaches help bring variety to fruit counters filled with pears, apples, grapes and nectarines.
Broilers via with turkeys for the bargain spotlight at meat counters. Broiler farm prices hover around the record low of 10 to 11 cents a pound.
Both fed and grass beef supplies began the usual fall increase.

Session Set For Scouters

Approximately 100 Scout Commissioners of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will meet tonight in Midland, it was announced by Maj. Wilson E. Speck, council commissioner.
Each of the council's eight districts covering 18 counties of West Texas will be represented by its commissioner staff headed up by the district commissioner. They include Jack Alexander of Big Spring, George W. Stewart of Snyder, R. T. Wilson of Monahan, Wayne Carsway of Pecos, Kenneth Moore of Odessa, Joe Payne of Midland, Judge Gerald Fugitt of Odessa and A. E. Patterson of Midland.
Purpose of the meeting is to develop plans for commissioner service to the fall and winter program of scouting.
An attendance prize will be presented to the district commissioner with the best attendance.

Farm Labor Panel Meets

A meeting of the Scurry County Farm Labor Consultant Committee was held in the District Courtroom here Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the public interest and to comply with consultation provisions of Public Law 78. This law provides that where a shortage of domestic agricultural workers exists, Mexican Nationals and certain other foreign workers may be imported to relieve the shortage.
Committee members met with area representatives of the Texas Employment Commission to review current farm labor forecasts of seasonal worker needs, the estimated supply and shortages and other aspects of the Farm Placement Program for the next twelve months. Consultation with members of this committee is regarded as a valuable assistance rendered to the Texas Employment Commission in serving Scurry County farmers and workers.
Members of the committee for Scurry County for 1961 are Jerry Woolbridge, The Rev. Edward Chrisman, Bill Jordan and Benly Baize. Participants from the Texas Employment Commission were Joe Manahan of Austin, Farm Placement Department and Truett L. Hawkins and W. T. Edwards of the Sweetwater Office.

Fined For Passing Bus

A driver has been assessed a fine here for unlawfully passing a school bus, prompting local officers to issue new warnings about such incidents.
The sheriff's department reported that a fine of $15.50 plus court cost of $10 was assessed in justice court here after a ticket was issued to a driver on the Clairemont Road.
Officers reminded that all vehicles must stop when approaching a school bus which is either loading or unloading students. This regulation applies to traffic in both directions on the road.

Drilling Barge Is Located

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A $7 million offshore drilling barge, missing since Hurricane Carla blew in from the Gulf of Mexico was located early today about 90 miles from the spot where it normally operates off the Louisiana coast.
The Placid Oil Co. owners of the barge, said a company boat found the rig and reported it apparently was in good condition.
The barge had been driven about 50 miles northwest from the Augustine Island area where it was operated by the Penrod Drilling Co., before Carla struck over the weekend.
The rig, called the "Petrel," had been at work in 90-foot water about 55 miles south of Marsh Island.
Headquarters for the Penrod firm are in Dallas.

Two of the hardest pro football colleges, Ernie Stauffer of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Art Donovan of the Baltimore Colts both are starting their 11th seasons as pros.

GREAT TREAT—Trey Cooper and Bill Bowden entertained a group of friends Tuesday afternoon at the Cooper home, 3000 Thirty-fourth Street, with an autograph party, inasmuch as Mr. Justin Wilson, humorist, held the spot light. Autographing the children's personal records and just plain name writing kept Mr. Wilson

Justin Wilson Makes Big Hit With Snyder Residents

It seems the children of today have a mind of their own, and Trey Cooper and Bill Bowden, sons of Mrs. Charles Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowden, put their heads together and came up with a pretty good idea.

It was announced a few weeks ago that Mr. Justin Wilson, a safety consultant in Baton Rouge, La., but more popularly known for his great wit and after-dinner speeches, was coming to Snyder. Of course this was to entertain the adults. Not to be outdone the boys made their complaint about not ever getting to meet a celebrity, so they promoted the party Tuesday for their friends and themselves.

At the evening entertainment at the Snyder Country Club, which was over flowing with people, I imagine very few, if any, could say they had not laughed so much in many a moon.

In speaking with Mr. Wilson he said one of the faults of the world today is that "people do not laugh enough." He also lives up to his word as a safety man, wearing both belt and suspenders. "And you can't get any safer than that; I don't care what you say."

"Climb your self down. What's ya' behind name?" Expressions like these not only make sense when "Ole Goostain" uses them, but—they come to life.

Justin Wilson is the real name, both "front and behind name" and his wonderful stories about Louisiana's equally wonderful Cajun people have made people laugh from Cape Canaveral to Vandenberg. Audiences have snickered, chuckled, guffawed, and finally howled out loud as Justin played on these funny bones with wit and wit—but somehow—believable tales.

Wilson's humor is clean, even kind; deep, but not difficult; subtle, sometimes, but not strained; the right word is; well, hilarious.

Justin's after-dinner and conversation talks (approximately 200 per year) are widely known throughout the country as "a rare flair," "remarkable" story-telling.

For Peak Performance

Cutting through center to your peak performance for athletes is a treasure fund of research-backed rules on food. Published recently in Physiological Reviews, the research shuns aside food fallacies and old wives' tales. It gives beleaguered team physicians, coaches, school administrators, parents, you and me when we play the endurance game-ground rules to follow.

Energy. To endure, make sure you have energy on tap, whether for chasing a 3-year-old all day, for a prolonged football game, or for golf. A continuing flow of energy depends on the food you eat and your supply of oxygen. In using oxygen to release energy, carbohydrate in food is 10 percent more effective than fat or protein.

Meal timing. Space 4-6 meals daily within your calorie quota.

Vitamins. Hard, physical exercise increases your need for B vitamins-thiamine in particular. A thiamine shortage causes fatigue and exhaustion. To make sure of adequate thiamine, eat liver and pork often, enriched or whole grain bread and cereal each day.

Best advice for amateur and professional athletes alike, say Dr. Jean Mayer and Beverly Bullen: Eat a variety of foods daily—Enriched or whole grain bread and cereal, milk or cheese, meat or an alternate protein source.

Special pre-event meal instructions for strenuous contests: Avoid a heavy meal within 3-4 hours before the game. For endurance events, concentrate on foods high in carbohydrate, low in fat.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"Understand, O dullest of the people! Fools, when will you be wise? He who planted the ear, does he not hear? He who formed the eye, does he not see? He who chastens the nations, does he not chastise? He who teaches men knowledge, the Lord knows the thoughts of man, that they are but a breath. Blessed is the man whom thou dost chasten, O Lord, and whom thou dost teach, out of thy law, to give him respite from days of trouble, until a pit is dug for the wicked. For the Lord will not forsake his people; he will not abandon his heritage; for justice will return to the righteous, and all upright in heart will follow it."

Psalm 94: 6-15

How comforting it is to know that we are in the hands of a mighty God who will not forsake His own. But let us not take for granted that we are His people. Rather let us continually examine our faith, and return to Him.

Cronin Pinch Hits For Mantle, Maris

By JO REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — American League president Joe Cronin said today if New York's Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle hit at home runs in the regulation 162-game schedule, it must be regarded as a new record.

Rain prevented Mantle and Maris from continuing their bid Wednesday night to move up on Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60 homers in one season.

Maris has hit 56 in the Yankees' 146 games (including a tie), and Mantle has 53.

Roger is three games ahead of Ruth's pace and Mantle is three behind.

A getaway double-header between the Yankees and the Chicago White Sox was scheduled for this afternoon. The weatherman predicted early morning showers. Should the rain continue, the teams will try to get the games in in late afternoon or evening.

Cronin said he did not wish to become involved in any dispute with Ford Frick.

At the same time, he added, he could see no logic in the commissioner's ruling which specifies that Ruth's 60 homers in 1927 must be topped in 154 decisions to count as a new standard.

"After all, Ruth hit his 60 in 151 games," said Hall of Famer Cronin, a contemporary of Ruth when he was the star shortstop and manager of the Washington Senators in the early 1930s.

"Therefore, if a person wants to be technical he can say the record counts only if either Maris or Mantle hit 61 homers in as many games as Ruth did."

"I respect the commissioner's feelings about the matter, but as far as I'm concerned, it will be a record if either or both do it in 162 games."

Cronin frankly stated he was rooting for both Maris and Mantle.

"I hope they make it," he said. "I'm a little sentimental about Ruth, of course, because I played against him. I regard Ruth as the greatest home run hitter of all time. I don't believe anyone will ever match his career total of 714 homers. That record seems to be safe."

Cronin said his office received thousands of letters and telephone calls from people giving their views of the Mantle-Maris argument.

"This is Americana if you please," he said.

"The old people cherish Ruth. The young are all for Mantle and Maris. The Mantle and Maris boom is the greatest since the days of Ruth and Gehrig. Mickey and Roger have kept interest in baseball alive and attendance up everywhere they've played. They have put on a wonderful show. Good luck to both of them."

Tiger Free Sports-Minded Individual

Steve Free, veteran quarterback of the Snyder Tigers, is a fine example of a hardy but fast-vanishing band—the all-around athlete.

This senior signal caller, in addition to being the starting quarterback throughout his junior year, is also a starting Tiger in the haller and basketball during those respective seasons.

Free, who is 17 years of age, stands 5'11" and weighs a solid 163. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Free of 2803 Thirty-fourth Street. Papa Free is owner of Snyder Hot Older Sports Company here, and an avid sports fan and participant in his own right. The Free's have one daughter, also—Susan—a 15-year-old high school senior and Tiger roofer.

The younger Free was born in Salem, Illinois, and took the majority of his elementary schooling in Gainsville prior to moving to Snyder. In addition to the previously mentioned competitive sports, he also enjoys hunting and water skiing.

His college preferences include Texas Tech and Oklahoma University, and he plans to major in business administration upon entry into college.

He will be the "doubtful starter" in 1962 here tomorrow night when the Tigers engage Andrews in their 8 o'clock home opener against Andrews due in several bruised ribs as sustained in the season opener at Borger.

Two Texans Survive At Pebble Beach

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Two Texans remained in the National Amateur Golf Tournament Thursday and they'll meet each other in the quarter-finals.

They are Ed Hopkins of Abilene and Dudley Wyson of McKinney.

Four Texans were eliminated Wednesday although one of them—Homero Blancas Jr., won his third round match.

Blancas beat Robert Gardner of Elmstort, N.Y., 2 and 1, but lost in the fourth round to S. H. Carmichael of Martinsville, Ind., 3 and 1.

Wyson was the sensation of the tournament Wednesday as he took out two-time national champion Harvie Ward of San Francisco, 4 and 3. Then in the fourth round Wyson beat Ronnie D. B. M. Shade of Edinburgh, Scotland, 3 and 2.

Hopkins downed Martin Sanojich of Niles, Ill., 1-up, in the third round and beat T. J. Thomas of Bloomington, Ind., 3 and 2 in the fourth.

M. H. Greenwood of Houston lost to Sam Marsh of Greenville, S.C., 1-up in 20 holes, in the third round. Richard D. Davies of Pasadena, Calif., eliminated Richard Yates of Corpus Christi, 2 and 1. Herb Durham of Dallas lost to John S. Spray of Des Moines, 2 and 1.

Hurricane Plays Havoc With Schedule

By The Associated Press

The first complete week of Texas school football—with every school in all classes slated for action—run into trouble with Hurricane Carla.

At least two games were cancelled—Lamar Consolidated vs. LaPorte at Rosenberg, and Victoria at Freerport, Brazoria.

The Galveston-Austin McCallum game scheduled for Galveston Friday night was postponed. It may be played Saturday or the site may be shifted to Austin.

Victoria, however, is standing by and will play McCallum Friday night at Victoria if Galveston cancels out.

Other games in doubt were Placitas at Fort Lavaca, Tidehaven at Edna and Bloomington at Vanderbilt.

Meanwhile more than 400 games will be played over the state with Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi Ray, the heralded powers of Class AAAA, having important engagements.

Wichita Falls meets Breckenridge, a Class AAAA toughie, at Wichita Falls Friday night while Corpus Christi Ray takes on San Angelo at San Angelo.

Six Junior High Tilts On Calendar

Tonight represents the first "full" night of the season for Snyder's junior high footballers, as six games involving Travis and Lamar teams join the slate—three at home and a like number on the road.

Starting the home action on the junior high field here at 5 p.m. will be Travis 7th, which is to take on Sweetwater. Travis 8th will follow up at 6:30, also against Sweetwater, after which Lamar 9th is to clash with Big Spring Runnels at 8 o'clock.

The Lamar eleven began its season on a successful note a week ago, pinning back Big Spring Goliad's ears, 14-0. Travis 8th and 7th will be experiencing the ir initial action of the season when they take the field, however.

Lamar 7th and 8th both hit the road for Big Spring, where they are to engage Runnels at 5 and 6:30 p.m. respectively and rounding out the bulging slate is Travis 9th, a team that travels to Sweetwater for an 8 o'clock joust.

Travis 9th embarked on its maiden voyage the past Thursday by knocking the props out from under Lamesa, 4-0, while Lamar 8th was tipping past Goliad, 6-4. Lamar 7th will be engaging in its first game of the year when it takes the field against the Big Springs.

Dodgers In A 'Bad Way'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To say that the Los Angeles Dodgers' pennant hopes are fraught with peril would be correct. The situation is worse than that.

Today the Dodgers trail the National League leading Cincinnati Reds by 5 games, with time fast running out. This, for a team generally picked to win it all.

The club lost the fifth out of its last six games Wednesday night and you could have heard a percentage point drop in the dressing room after the 8-2 loss to Pittsburgh.

In the past two evenings Dodger pitching has given up 37 hits and 27 runs. And if you care for even more gory statistics, in the last seven games opponents have accumulated 60 runs and 84 hits, 21 of the latter home runs.

Jay Nips Braves For 20th Victory

By MIKE RATHEP
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joey Jay, the Little Leaguer who became a big leaguer, today savored his 20th victory and that last full measure of revenge after moving the Cincinnati Reds to giant step closer to their first National League pennant since 1960.

The 26-year-old right-hander, traded by Milwaukee, was compiled an unspectacular 9-8 record last year, blanked his former teammates 4-0 with a four-hit, Wednesday night and became the first National League pitcher to win 20 this season.

He also scored the game's only run in the fifth inning.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with reliever Harvey Haddix pitching two-hit ball over the final eight innings, beat second-place Los Angeles 8-2 and dropped the Dodgers 5 1/2 games back of the league-leading Reds. Any combination of nine Cincinnati victories and/or Los Angeles defeats will give the Reds the NL flag.

San Francisco's Giants moved into a tie for third place with the Braves by defeating last-place Philadelphia 8-2. The Chicago-St. Louis game was rained out.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees were idled by rain at Chicago. Second-place Detroit whipped Kansas City 8-0 and cut their deficit to 11 games. Cleveland blanked Baltimore 5-0 and Washington hopped Boston 4-2. The Los Angeles-Minnesota twin-nighter was rained out.

Jay (20-9), first Cincinnati hurler to enter the 20-game circle since Ewell Blackwell won 22 in 1947, completely handicuffed the team that signed him for $20,000 in 1953 and traded him to the Reds last winter. Jay scored the Reds' run on a two-out single to center by Vada Pinson. Carl Willey (5-11) was the loser.

Bill Mazeroski's second homer, with one on against reliever Dick Farrell (8-7) snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning and sent the Dodgers crashing to their fifth loss in six games. Dick Stuart also homered for the Pirates, his 20th. Haddix (9-6) came in when Bob Friend retired due to a stiff shoulder after giving up two runs in the first.

Rookie right-hander Jim Duffalo (4-0), recalled from Tacoma Monday, practically got the job done for the Giants singlehandedly in his first major league start. He limited the Phils to six hits and drove in four runs—three with his first big league homer. Dallas Green (2-4) took the loss.

WITH JERRY MILLER AS HEAD COACH

Cats Back In Grid Saddle

HOBBS—Following an unavoidable year's layoff from the sport, the Hobbs Panthers are once again resuming football play here.

Their District 5 foes include Ira, Blackwell, McCaulley, Divide, and Highland.

Due to a shortage of personnel in 1960, the Panthers were forced to discontinue football during the course of that season. However, the picture is much brighter this year, with there being 13 boys turning out for the sport, along with a new coach at the Panther helm.

Jerry Miller, a recent Howard Payne College graduate, will be the guiding force for the team. He is being assisted by Julius Knesek in the handling of the coaching reins.

The Panthers encountered some tough sledding in their Friday opener against the Ira Bulldogs, as they were plowed under by the ira six, 51-26. The game was not a district affair, however, as only a single round-robin setup is being observed this year in the district, with the final five Panther games of the season being counted toward the District 5 title. The Panthers will be attempting to hit the win trail tomorrow night when they travel to Divide.

A complete listing of the remainder of the Hobbs schedule includes the following games: Sept. 15—Divide away; Sept. 22—open; Sept. 29—Highland home; Oct. 6—McCaulley home; Oct. 14—

Ira away (homecoming); Oct. 20—Divide home; Oct. 27—Blackwell home; Nov. 3—Highland away; Nov. 10—McCaulley away.

Travis 9th, a team that travels to Sweetwater for an 8 o'clock joust.

Travis 9th embarked on its maiden voyage the past Thursday by knocking the props out from under Lamesa, 4-0, while Lamar 8th was tipping past Goliad, 6-4. Lamar 7th will be engaging in its first game of the year when it takes the field against the Big Springs.

Ads On Financial Page Are Designed To Stir Curiosity

By INEZ ROBB
 Everyone, so the legend goes, had his favorite section of the family newspaper — editorials, sports, society, household hints, advice to the lovelorn, horoscopes, garden, photography, pets, theatre or gossip. There are even fanatics who read the news.

For a good many years, my favorite section of the family paper has been the financial department. And that's not because of the stock market tables or over-the-counter index. What I really like to know is what goes on under the table. It isn't even because of the splendid advice of the house croupier on how to invest my two cents' worth, or the scholarly diagnoses of what's wrong with the financial picture (currently, in one word: Democrats).

What I love about the financial pages and what has given me sustaining pleasure for years is the advertisements for the tip sheets and "investment" advisory services on how to make money and win a fortune without half trying.

These advertisements constitute the best suspense literature now being produced, and it's odd that no critic of the who'dunnit has made this discovery. That old master, Agatha Christie, could take lessons in sustained mystery and spine-tingling buildup from the operators of the tip-sheet ads. They are also akin to strip-tease — promising everything and delivering nothing.

Who among us is above an honest itch to make a little easy money? Who can resist such a come-on as the following tip-sheet advertisement crying "118 Stocks of Firms that Have Never Shown a Loss or Missed a Dividend in 30 to 124 Years?"

Only the novice mystery fan reading the financial ads for the first time will bother to go farther or scrutinize the fine print. An experienced addict like myself knows that pecking through the ad for the name of even one of the 118 nonpareil stocks is a more futile exercise than hunting a hairpin in a haystack. Not even a clue is wasted on the reader. Here is pure mystery, unadulterated suspense, and no philanthropy.

Only by filling in the coupon at the bottom of the ad and sending in one Kennedy dollar will the reader ever learn the secret or the names of, in the advertisement's promissory prose, "Candidates for Stock Splits in Today's Markets: 'Blue-Chip Science' Stocks with Dynamic Potentials; Strong Stocks Still Outperforming the Averages."

With eager, trembling hand I fill out the coupon and am about to stuff a dollar in the envelope when I am hypnotized by the suspense thriller on the opposite page, "Stock Market Slide Within 30 Days?" asks this advertisement.

Now, follows a paragraph that is the quintessence of suspense writing in the tip-sheet trade, advertising-wise. And I quote: "Some experts think that there is a severe drop in stock prices coming. Others believe the recent market action is simply clearing the way for a further rally to new all-time highs. Would you like to know what action we are now recommending to our thousands of subscribers?"

You want to know the answer, baby? Then fill out the coupon and send in a dollar. These people aren't in biz for their health.

But right here on the same page is another mystery gnat that asks in bold, black type: "Can the Market Break Loose?" I didn't even know it was tied up! What dastard has been at work? Is there dirty work at Broad and Wall?

Well, sir, if I want to know the answers to those questions I am asked to send five dollars in return for four weeks of solid answers. Already I am out seven bucks! But it's going to cost me another dollar to learn the name of "Ten Stocks Under 20" (Ed. note: dollars, I guess? For Strong 1961-62 Rises!).

The truth is that the suspense isn't killing me. So I put my money back in my pocket, and reach for the old reliable Oulja board. (Copyright, 1961, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Every Call Becomes An Emergency

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — At one time or another every husband has told his wife sternly:

"Now, don't phone me any more at the office. I'm being paid to work there, remember, not to waste company time listening to personal calls."

But it really doesn't do much good, does it?

A busy man may even formally ban during office hours all personal calls except those of an emergency nature. That doesn't do much good either.

To a wife any message she decides she wants to communicate to her husband is always of an emergency nature. And by heaven and Alexander Graham Bell, she intends to get that message through.

If all the hours spent by husbands listening to their wives on company time would be put to constructive use, well—we'd have a missile on the moon by this weekend.

Wives who phone their husband on the job fall into several classes.

Every office switchboard operator is familiar with these types: Barometric Bertha—She confuses her husband with the U.S. Weather Bureau. "I may go up town later," she phones. "Tell me what it's like out—hot or cold? Do you think it will rain? What about the humidity?"

Five-alarm Flora—To her everything that happens at home is a disaster. Then she clears all wires to inform hubby in a voice of doom: "I just burned my finger again," or, "Guess what happened—the dishwasher just blew a gasket."

Melancholy Mabel—"Gee, honey," she whimpers into the mouthpiece. "I get so lonely and blue sitting here in this empty house all by myself. You've got the fun and excitement of your office. But what have I got? Nothing."

Maternal Matilda—"Little Bertram has learned to speak," she crows proudly. "Listen, and I'll put him on." After holding the phone to his ear for half an hour, the husband hears a faint "glub." Little Bertram has spoken!

Authoritative Agnes—She's the command type, and here are a few of her crisp orders of the day: "Remember to pick up my glasses during your lunch hour. Here's a list of what I want you to get at the store on the way home. No, they're not for tonight. I've decided you're taking me out tonight. So don't forget to get a shoe shine," etc.

There they are—just a few typical live-wire corporation wives. Because of them a husband's office is not just an office. It is his home away from home, always reachable by telephone.

But don't call us, ladies, we'll call you!

Junior Editors Quiz on LONGEVITY

QUESTION: What is the longest living creature on earth?

ANSWER: This is an interesting question, for it can be taken two ways. Perhaps you mean, "what is the longest creature on earth?" Or perhaps you mean, "what is the creature which lives the longest?" We will answer both questions. The animal which is the longest, and largest, of any living creature on earth is the blue whale which inhabits the colder oceans. He may be more than 100 feet long. This is one of the group of whales known as the baleen whales, because they strain sea water through many strips of baleen, swallowing the small creatures which are left in their mouths. The animal which lives the longest is the giant tortoise of the Galapagos Islands. One such tortoise was known to have lived to be 152 years old and to have died by an accident. A great expert on these reptiles, Walter Rothschild, said he had examined a tortoise who was at least 400 years old.

FOR YOU TO DO: It is good to learn to express yourself so that others know exactly what you mean. Study the question so that you understand how it might be taken in two ways.
(Patty McCurdy of Chambersburg, Pa. wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a post card to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Statistical Side Of Recession Out

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The statistical side of the recession has been pretty well erased. And to date there is a bit more than just hope that the human side is on the mend.
Many are returning to old jobs or finding new ones. And if all goes well, the number of unemployed may drop below the four million mark a month from now.
For many Americans, licking the unemployment problem would seem more important than getting a man on the moon.
The "ifs" in the case are troublesome ones. And a total of jobs less than under four million still isn't anything to brag about. But it's better than the figures of recent months that have counted 7 per cent of the labor force as looking for work in vain.
"The hope for the better than seasonal drop in unemployment is based on expectations that industry is now ready for a big step upward. It already is pretty much back to where it was before the 1960 recession."
Economists at the Northern Trust Co., Chicago, note: "In the recovery to date, however, it would appear that more than half is the result of a turn from liquidation to moderate accumulation of business inventories and to increased federal spending, as well as the stimulus of large orders for military goods."
The "ifs" that cloud the prediction for increased employment include what the Chicago economists call the "more volatile sectors of economic activity" including automobiles and other durable consumer goods, residential building and business investment in new plant and equipment. And they note that "the expectation is widespread that further gains in these sectors are in prospect." They warn that this is yet to be proved.
A major basis for expecting an employment pickup is the belief that the auto industry, when its labor difficulties are settled, can head for big production. If the public buys the 1962 models as Detroit hopes, the boost to the economy would be considerable.
Steel has owed most of its output recovery so far to other customers, but counts heavily on auto makers' orders coming in greater volume than ever.

Another big "if" is consumer buying intentions. These are expected to firm up fast if the economy takes on the aspect of even a mild boom. Business spending, also coasting now, could pick up just as rapidly as sentiment improves.
All of this is giving the job outlook a brighter aspect. And that is why the Labor Department thinks there's a fair chance the jobless total will drop below the four million mark in October. It was above five million in June and July.

Falls Cause Many Deaths

Falls are the main cause of accidental deaths in the home. Fatal home falls in a recent year totaled 13,400, according to C. L. Callaway, Lone Star Gas Company Manager. Lone Star and The Snyder Daily News are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety Program in Snyder.

"The 13,400 fatal home falls," Callaway said today, "represented 7.9 per cent of all home accidents."

"From year to year," Callaway said, "only motor vehicle accidents outrank falls as an accidental killer, and approximately 64.7 per cent of all falls occur in the home."

The greatest number of fatal falls occur in the bedroom. Falls on the stairs and in the yard and kitchen follow in that order. Fatal falls in fewer numbers occur in the living room, bathroom, dining room, hall, basement, garage and on the porch.

Approximately 86 per cent of the victims of fatal falls are more than 65 years old. Eight per cent are in the 45-64 age group. The remaining 6 per cent are spread through the 0-44 age group.

A majority of fatal falls occur while victims are walking on a level surface. However, they also occur while the victims are standing still, ascending or descending stairs, working, sitting, playing, eating, drinking, climbing and reclining. Some occur while the victims are sleeping.

"Particular attention," Callaway said, "must be given to the problem of protecting the older people. Lighting, particularly on stairs, must be adequate. Do not leave loose objects in the middle of the floor. This particularly endangers an older person. His sight may not be able to detect the object. If he trips, he is less likely than a young person to recover his balance."

"Keep an orderly home. Arrange furniture so that it does not prevent free passage around the room. Do not let beds, vanity benches and other furnishings in the bedroom jut into the middle of the room. Keep doors closed. Close dresser drawers when not in use. Do not leave shoes in the middle of the floor."

"When a person gets out of bed in the middle of the night and tries to make his way to the bathroom or kitchen in the dark, he is more than likely to fall over any improperly placed object. This danger can be eliminated by keeping the house in order and by having a light located within reach of the bed and at the entrance to all of the principal rooms," Callaway concluded.

Kadar Again Has Reins In Hungary

By ANTHONY PEARCE
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Communist party chief Janos Kadar has again taken on the post of premier in a major government shakeup. He quickly announced a boost in Hungary's military spending.

Kadar took over the premiership from Ferenc Muenich an old revolutionary. They had ridden to power together when the Soviet Union crushed the Hungarian uprising of 1956.

The shakeup, announced on Wednesday by the presidential council, makes Kadar the official government spokesman. His dual role parallels that of Nikita

Legion In Demand For Defense Hike

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The American Legion has demanded a buildup of national defense, a firm stand against communism throughout the world and watchfulness to prevent subversion at home.

The program made public on Wednesday, was drafted during three days of business sessions by the 2,600,000-member veterans' organization during its 43rd annual convention.

Election of officers, a report by the committee on foreign relations and an address by former President Harry S. Truman were scheduled for today's closing session.

Even before the foreign affairs committee reported, the Legion pledged its support to President Kennedy's policy to deter aggression, including rearmament and mobilization of National Guardsmen and reservists.

The program called for resumption of nuclear weapons tests, both underground and in space, "with all due humane consideration of guarding radioactive fallout. It did not mention testing in the earth's atmosphere."

Also recommended were speed-up of the Atlas, Titan, Minuteman, Polaris and Nike Zeus missile programs and quicker building of B70 and B58 bombers.

It called for an Army of at least a million men backed by 300,000 reservists and 400,000 National Guardsmen.

Buildup of antisubmarine defenses and modernization of the Merchant Marine were asked.

The Legion supported the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security Committee and "openly condemns those organizations and individuals who are trying to destroy these committees or reduce their effectiveness in investigation and exposition of subversives and subversive organizations."

It also commended the FBI and its director, J. Edgar Hoover, as "America's first line of defense against domestic communism."

Storm Damage Is Deductible

AUSTIN (AP) — An Internal Revenue Service official reminded Hurricane Carla victims Wednesday that property damage is deductible from income taxes.

District Director R. L. Phinney said aerial losses to dwellings, cars, grounds, boats, furniture and other business and nonbusiness properties are deductible on 1961 returns.

Expenses for personal injuries, temporary lights, fuel, moving or rentals for temporary quarters are not allowable, he said.

Brasilio Baeza, 21-year-old Panamanian, rode in his first Belmont Stakes this year and won with Sherlock, a 65 to 1 shot.

New Measles Vaccine Is Successful

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A measles vaccine has been successfully tested in field trials among 600 children in the Philadelphia area.

Children's Hospital said today research on the vaccine "suggests that the 200-year search for a method of immunization against measles is now over."

The vaccine still must be approved by the U.S. government. If accepted it might go on sale sometime next year, says the drug firm which plans to market it, Merck, Sharp & Dohme Laboratories.

A team of clinical investigators from Children's Hospital and the University of Pennsylvania reported on the vaccine, developed by Dr. John F. Enders of Boston and his colleagues, in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

They said it has given 100 per cent protection from measles in children during epidemics in recent months in a controlled field trial.

Half of the children in the field trial were injected with attenuated measles vaccine of the Enders type concurrently with human gamma globulin, the report said.

A large percentage of children in the trial who did not receive this type of immunization caught the measles.

Execution Is Postponed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The execution of Preston Cobb, Jr., 15-year-old Negro boy convicted of slaying a 70-year-old white farmer in Jasper County has been postponed by a motion for a new trial.

The new trial motion will be heard by Jasper County Superior Court Judge George S. Carpenter Oct. 6 in Milledgeville.

Cobb, of Monticello, Ga., was under sentence to die Sept. 22 in the electric chair. He was convicted of shooting Frank Coleman Dumas June 1. The shooting allegedly followed a dispute over fish caught in the farmer's pond.

Attorney Donald L. Hollowell, who took up defense of the boy at the request of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked for a new trial Wednesday on the grounds Cobb was convicted on a verdict contrary to the law and evidence.

Tower Gets Leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate gave an official leave of absence Wednesday to Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., to attend the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association in London Sept. 24-Oct. 1.

Rudder To Speak At Dedication

Earl Rudder, President of the A&M College of Texas, will be the principal speaker at the formal dedication of the new Lubbock Research and Extension Center on Sept. 19, County Agent Billy Roach announced. His subject will be "South Plains Research, Past and Present."

The new center, located about 7 miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway, is officially known as Substation No. 8 of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Rudder was reared on a Concho county farm, attended the public schools of Eden, and was graduated in 1932, from the institution he now served as president. He served with distinction in World War II as commander of the 109th Infantry Regiment which played a prominent role in repulsing the German attack in the Battle of the Bulge. During the post-war years, Rudder remained active in the Army's Reserve Program. As Commanding General of Texas' 90th Infantry Division, he now holds the rank of Major General.

In 1955, Rudder was appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office of the State of Texas. He served in that capacity until he was named vice president of the A&M College in 1958. In recognition of his work, the Board of Directors elevated him to the presidency on July 1, 1959.

Appearing with Rudder on the program will be R. E. Patterson, Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M College; R. D. Lewis, Director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Charles E. Fisher, Superintendent of Substation No. 8. The day's activities will begin with guided tours of experimental

Solon Told Why Troops Aid Movie

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican spokesman asked the Pentagon today to explain why Germany-based U.S. Army troops had been used as "props" for the filming of a commercial movie in France.

The reply: The Defense Department responded to a request from Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in Europe, who asked cooperation with a film producer friend.

The request for an explanation came from Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., who is chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee and a member of the House Armed Services Committee.

Wilson said 150 troops were diverted to France for 11 days to participate in a movie version of "The Longest Day" an account of D-Day of World War II. He said the troops were drawn from the same division which now has troops stationed in West Berlin.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs gave this background to the Army's connection with "The Longest Day": Late in 1959, Darryl Zanuck, the producer, wrote to Norstad enlisting his support for making the film. Norstad recommended to the Defense Department that the support be given.

The department concurred in Norstad's proposal for "military cooperation with Gen. Norstad's friend, Darryl Zanuck."

Sylvester also concurred within "a strict interpretation of a long existing interpretation of defense directive permitting such cooperation providing it does not interfere with either the training or operations of the troops in the command."
