DOVER, Eng., Sept. 7 — Shirley May France, red-eyed, string-haired and tired, said today she will have another try at swimming the English channel.

"It beat me yesterday, but I am sure I can get across next time," said the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl.

She does not know when "next time" will be, but it may be in a year or two.

Shirley May was pulled out of the water yesterday afternoon after she had tried courageously for 10½ hours to swim from France to England.

She was hauled out at a point estimated to be six miles from her goal, a very cold, but determined girl.

She protested violently at this. Her shouts of "no, no," rang out over the waves.

"I am very disappointed."

"Next Time" May Be In Year Or Two; Battering By Waves Caused Failure

Shirley May said after a warm bath and shampoo to take the grease out of her hair ."It was the first five hours of the swim that beat me."

"Those awful, chopping waves washed the grease from my shoulders and after that, of course, I got cold quickly."

The temperature of the water was never above the low sixties and in some frigid currents might have been under 60 degrees, her handlers said.

"I wonder what could have happened if I had had a good day," said Shirley May. "Anyway, I am sure I can do it."

"The child was just battered beyond human endurance," said her coach, Harry Boudakian.

"She could have gone on a

Gen. Ike As GOP Candidate In '52 Foreseen By Officials

HST Leaving Door Open On His Candidacy

Speeches On Labor Day Set Pace For Presidential Race

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is talking so much like a Republican that some Washington office holders are beginning to think he may have his eye on the 1952 GOP presidential nomination.

Despite Eisenhower's recent assertion he hasn't the slightest interest in such a nomination, Senator Ives (R-NY) told a reporter he won't be surprised if the general's name is put before the next party nominating convention.

Agreeing, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) said he thinks Eisenhower would provide tough opposition to anyone the Democrats nominate.

HST Leaves Door Open

Along with many others in Congress, Sparkman said he is beginning to believe that President Truman will be a candidate for another term.

The President hasnt said anything publicly about his plans. Lawmakers said that in private conversations he has left the door open to the possibility that he might run again, particularly if Congress doesn't enact his social welfare program before the next presidential election.

Eisenhower's Labor day speech to the American Bar association in St. Louis is regarded widely here as tallying closely with the line of middle of the road Republicans who oppose what they call a welfare state but who don't want to go back to the days of Mark Hanna.

Program Defended

Politicians noted particularly the general's assertion that the future of America "lies down the

Crash Victims Die In Creek

GLADEWATER, Sept. 7. (AP)—The bodies of four Kansas negroes, victims of an automobile accident, were found six miles north of Gilmer today. The scene was a creek 21 miles north of this East Texas town.

The four negroes, two couples, had been missing since Monday when they left Longview to drive to Pittsburg, Texas, a distance of 46 miles.

Upshur County Sheriff Orear Watson said their automobile had plunged from highway 271 into the creek.

The dead:

Lester Whitley, 29, and his wife, Mary Alice Whitley, 23.

Willie Trammel, 32, and his wife, Gladys Trammel, 29.

Names of their home cities were not immediately available.

The automobile was upside down and covered with water. It was near the highway bridge across the creek.

It contained three of the bodies. They were found after one body was found floating in the creek.

Authorities said it had not been determined whether the victims drowned or were killed when the car plunged into the creek.

Sheriff Watson said the cause of the accident was still unknown.

The negroes had been visiting friends or relatives at Longview. They were on their way to Pittsburg to visit other friends.

Heart-Broken Child Collapses Beside Casket Of Her Father

ATLANTA, Sept. 7 (AP)—"Daddy, I know you loved me very much and I know you know that I loved you, too. I want to go with you.

With those words, a frail, grief-stricken girl collapsed beside her father's casket last night and died.

Nine-year-old Mary Long will get her dying wish. She and her father, Hiram B. Long, will have a double funeral tomorrow. Services for Long were postponed one day so Mary's wish could be fulfilled.

Long, a 65-year-old retired brass worker, died Monday. He had been in ill health for months.

Survivors include the widow, the mother of nine other children.

LAMESA BUILDING IS GUTTED

Armory Damage Of $23,000 Reported

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Sept. 7 — Damage from the fire which gutted Lamesa's National Guard armory early today may result in only $23,000 instead of the earlier estimate of $133,000, Mac Wassell, commanding officer of the unit, said this afternoon.

A human chain of Guardsmen was able to save most of the expensive equipment in the building, although the building itself, valued at $18,000 to $20,000, was a total loss. Equipment loss was $3,000.

Building Is Insured

However, the building was covered by insurance and an adjustor was en route to the scene from Lubbock this afternoon, Wassell said. The building was owned by the Dawson County Fair association.

Wassell, a National Guard captain, first estimated the possible damage as high as $250,000 early this morning following discovery of the blaze.

The fire was thought to have been caused by a cigaret. It was extinguished at 12:30 a. m. after Lamesa firemen and guardsmen battled it for two hours.

"Much less equipment was destroyed than we thought at first," said Luther Standifer, Lamesa fire marshal.

Meanwhile, at Austin, it was announced that State Adjutant General K. L. Berry today sent a department representative to Lamesa to make "a thorough investigation" in connection with the fire, the Associated Press reported.

The fire, which apparently started between 10 and 10:45 p. m. following a meeting of the guard unit, was out of control when volunteer firemen and Guardsmen answered the alarm at about 10:45 p. m.

No vehicles were lost in the blaze. They were stored in another

Philadelphia Blaze Damages Buildings

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7. (AP)—The walls of a blazing seven-story building buckled and collapsed today hurling flames and embers high into the air and setting fire to buildings as far as three blocks from the scene.

Flying embers started fires in 15 estbalishments in the heart of the city's business district—hotels, restaurants, warehouses.

Most were roof top blazes which qlickly were put out by firemen using hand extinguishers.

Six firemen were hurt, none seriously.

The Right Flowers Go To Wrong Girl

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 7 (U.P.) — John Taylor was distressed over his girl friend who was injured in an auto accident.

"Why, she didn't even look like herself when I visited her in the hospital," he lamented.

Next day he found out why. He had taken the bouquet of red roses to the wrong patient. His girl's room was across the hall.

Dulles Ready To Make Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP) — Senator John Foster Dulles (R-NY) said today he would "gladly accept" the Republican nomination to run for the Senate in this fall's special New York election.

New York Republican leaders have been pressing Dulles to make the race.

Former Governor Herbert Lehman has announced he will accept the Democratic nomination if it is offered.

The contest is to fill the unexpired term of Senator Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, who resigned.

Named By Dewey

The term ends Jan. 3, 1951.

When Wagner resigned in July because of illness, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to fill the seat until November's election.

At that time, Dulles said he

Police Unable To Get Complete Story

Girl Who Claimed She Took Drug Still Unconscious Here

A girl, apparently in her teens, was taken from the police station early this afternoon to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where her stomach had been pumped out early this morning.

A report filed by Sgt. L. D. Blakney of the traffic department said the girl jumped into his patrol car when he answered a radio call by going to 1200-block Thirteenth.

He said she extended a bottle of barbiturates, three-fourths empty and told him she had taken what was missing from the vial.

Blakney said the girl refused to tell him where and when she had taken the sedative.

He told her he would have to take her to a hospital, but she grabbed the keys from the ignition lock, then jerked the gear shift so that it would not operate subsequently, Blakney said.

The officer radioed for help. Cecil Trull answered.

There was no indication, the police report quoted hospital officials as saying, that the girl had taken the barbitu-

Area Brokers Urge Campaign Against Thomas Proposal

BY C. W. RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

South Plains and eastern New Mexico cotton farmers face the possible loss of their export market for cotton and the further possibility of receiving no more than the support price on cotton in future years if a proposal now before Congress wins approval.

The proposal would allow the government's pool of loan cotton, approximately 3,700,000 bales, to be sold on the export market at prices below the present market.

Bumper Crop Affected

Should the proposal win approval, it would have a vital effect on this year's bumper crop and could cost the farmers of the area an estimated five to ten million dollars in a price dip during the height of the season.

Since 1937, the commercial price of cotton has been above the support price levels and thousands of bales of cotton have been sold in the open market by farmers year after year instead of going through the government's loan red tape.

Should the present plan go through, prices would drop back to support levels and stay there, cotton men believe.

Export Sale Proposed

Under provisions of Senate Bill 2522, introduced by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, sale of Commodity Credit Corporation cotton at less than the current support prices is prohibited except for export, but Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma has proposed that this cotton be sold on the export market.

As more than 90 per cent of the short staple crop of the South Plains area is sold for export trade, this would have a vital effect on the price of cotton in this area, it was pointed out today by members of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange.

"It would simply mean that a continuous loan would have to be carried on cotton and the farmer would receive no more than the support price for his cotton in future years," M. C. (Dink) Robertson, president of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, declared today.

Robertson said every effort

Plane Lands Safely After Fire Warning

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 7. (AP)—A Northwest Airlines DC-4 landed here safely today after turning back on a Seattle-to-Honolulu flight when a warning light indicated fire in the baggage compartment.

Fire extinguishers were used while the plane was returning here, and on landing, baggage was removed and no evidence could be found that there had been a fire, officials said.

The plane carried 11 passengers and six crewmen. Capt. R. O. Polhamus was in command. It turned back when about 3½ hours out of Portland.

British Officials Arrive In U.S. For Dollar-Crisis Talks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The United States, Britain and Canada began momentous talks today on the financial disaster which threatens Britain.

The three delegations arrived at the department with split-second timing.

First were Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and his chief assistant, William McChesney Martin.

Snyder was grim-lipped as he stepped out of his limousine. He looked very much the banker in his dark blue suit, white shirt and dark blue tie.

"British Are Coming"

Photographers were taking their pictures when some one shouted: "The British are coming."

Up drove British Foreign Minister Bevin, accompanied by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, and British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks.

A few moments later, the Canadian delegation, led by Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott, arrived.

Bevin described the three-power conference as a means "to win the struggle for one world, one world of free and democratic peoples."

Idea Sounds Good

Bevin gave his views in New York and he declined to amplify them upon reaching Washington at 6:10 a. m. (Eastern Standard time) today.

A reporter told him that Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Charles Abbott said yesterday that Canada would be glad to see Britain given the right to spend its Marshall plan dollars anywhere.

Bevin smiled over this idea for

Judge Atwell's Kin Killed In Ship Accident

Male Companion Is Gravely Injured In Fall Down Stairway

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Sept. 7—A fall down a stairway brought death to a socialite Texas girl and grave injury to a male companion who were returning with college friends from a European cruise aboard the luxury liner Excalibur, an American Export Line spokesman said today.

The girl, who died yesterday, four days after she tumbled down a nine-foot stairway from the boat deck to the promenade deck, was identified as Adrienne Atwell, 20, of Dallas.

Liner Speeded Up

The big liner has been speeded up to bring her companion Robert M. Willard, 21, Dallas, to Boston.

The American Export official said Willard will be taken off in a launch which will meet the Excalibur in Boston harbor about 8 p. m., tonight. The vessel originally was scheduled to arrive tomorrow afternoon.

Willard was in a coma for three days after the fall but now is in "reasonable physical condition," according to the report of an army neuro-surgeon who boarded the Excalibur at sea, the spokesman said.

The army hospital ship Comfort went to the aid of the Excalibur after the first radio report of the injuries.

No Explanation Given

There were no reports of any other passengers hurt, the spokesmen said. There was, he added, no explanation of what caused Miss Atwell and Willard to Fall.

Theft Charge Is Filed Here

Bond of $1,000 was set this morning for Henry DeWarf, 22, by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in binding the defendant over to grand jury investigation of a felony theft charge.

Billye T. Slater, deputy district clerk, swore to the complaint before A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney.

She charged that DeWare stole her $50 purse and a $10 billfold.

The property, except for operator's license, identification and other papers, had been recovered. It was stolen from a counter in the clerk's office about 2 p. m. Tuesday. DeWarf was arrested about two hours later by Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank at a canning factory.

Window Peepers Caught

The defendant lives at a small hotel here.

Corporation court officials said they had accepted pleas of guilty of disturbance by window peeping from Bobby Gene Sanders, 22, and Delton N. Timons, 18, who gave respective addresses as 424 Ave. B and 601 Ave. E. Each paid a $25 fine and was released.

Complaining witnesses said they heard a noise and saw the two defendants "kneel down in front of a window and deep in," in 1400-block Sixth. It was 2:20 a. m.

Smoking Room For Teen-Age Students Is Opened In School After Poll Of Parents

GOSHEN, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—School Principal Charles Hooker doesn't like the idea personally, but it's now officially okay for his teen-age students to smoke in the school basement.

After a poll of parents, Hooker ordered a special basement smoking room set up for the opening of Central district school's new term today.

The school has pupils from the fourth grade through high school.

Hooker, who also is a Presbyterian church elder and who is opposed to smoking by youngsters, said he had noted for a long time that many of the older students smoked.

So he sent out questionnaires asking parents about it. Most of the 86 out of 287 who replied said "let the youngsters smoke." So Hooker opened the smoking room—for use by students who have written approval of their parents.

Shipping Lanes In Atlantic Menaced By Huge Hurricane

(By The United Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7—A gigantic hurricane spread dangerous gales over 400 miles of Atlantic ocean and rolled slowly northeastward toward the trans-Atlantic shipping lanes today with 115-mile-an-hour winds kicking up mountainous seas.

The great storm was 375 miles east, southeast of Bermuda and moving along a line that would carry it east of the British "honeymoon isle."

The hurricane warning service urged all shipping to avoid the storm. The service said a "few" ships were in the storm area but fleeing from its path.

Winds whirling around the center of te hurricane were piling up "No. 9" waves, the weather bureau code for seas of "phenomenal" proportions.

Raiding Constable Starting His "Back-To-School Week"

(By The United Press)

LA PORTE, Sept. 7—Constable Dale Richardson announced today the observance of "Richardson back-to-school week," his gift to the kiddies of Harris county.

The idea, he admitted, was in support of another phase of his anti-gambling war. But at the same time, Richardson explained, it will be a boon to school children and their parents.

The burly, blond officer has warned owners of the so-called "Coaltown" one-ball marble machines to cease operating the devices by noon Thursday or see them confiscated.

The total number of the one-ball machines in Harris county, said the constable, is something like 1500.

His action in ridding the county of the gadgets, Richardson added, would be more mild than usual. The plan is to get a storage place until "trial time."

"That way, with school starting and all, you won't see the kids going hungry

American Employers Can Block Reds, Delegate To Meet Says

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7 (U.P.) — This country's employer delegate to the International Labor Organization says U. S. capitalism is overlooking what could be its most potent weapon against Communism—human relations.

"Communism never will gain a sure foothold in the United States if a majority of American business firms will take active steps to make sure that American workers are proud of and satisfied with their jobs," Charles P. McCormick contends.

"We must research our practices of capitalism, review them analytically, bring them up to date, and arrive at the enlightened capitalism which I believe is that which holds a responsibility for the welfare of people on a par with the responsibility for making a profit."

McCormick, appointed to the ILO by President Truman on recommendation of the National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce and other business agencies, believes he is capable of counseling business on how to reach the "enlightened" stage.

Long Experience

He speaks from 17 years' experience with Multiple Management.

Based on the principle of employe participation in administration, Multiple Management operates through a combination of auxiliary management boards to which employes are elected on merit.

McCormick introduced the system in 1932 when he became president of McCormick & Co., Inc., spice and flavoring-extract firm which has plants in Baltimore, New York, San Francisco, Memphis, Houston and Mexico City. Since its inception at McCormick, Multiple Management has been adopted in full or in part by hundreds of firms in this country and abroad.

Under the board system, employes make recommendations relating to personnel, administrative or production matters, subject to approval of the senior board (elected by the stockholders) and the line organization.

The plan "puts people first." It is designed to bring new blood into the managerial structure; constitute a form of recognition and promotion in addition to normal channels, and stimulate interest in the organization as a whole.

Big Business To Blame

"The fact that business became big had as much as anything I know to do with destroying the close personal relationship between proprietor and worker which once was the rule and now seems to be almost the exception," McCormick writes in his new book, "The Power of People," a review of the company's success with Multiple Management.

"Multiple Management," he adds, "is an attempt to recapture this same sort of relationship and overcome the obstacle of bigness by setting up a system whereby management is extended down the line closer to the rank-and-file employe."

In his book McCormick recalls the time a union organizer came to the plant. McCormick explained the setup at his firm, but told the union man he was free to organize.

"No, I don't think it would make much sense," said the labor representative. "As a matter of fact, if all companies regarded their employes as you people do here, I'd soon be out of a job."

Engagement Of Thai King Is Reported

BANGKOK, Sept. 7 (INS)—An official announcement said today that King Phumipol Adulet of Thailand and Sirikit Kitiyakara, daughter of the Thai ambassador to London, have become engaged.

The king is 21 and his fiance is 17.

The two families are related.

Phumipol, born at Cambridge, Mass., and Princess iKtiyakara are cousins.

The couple met in Paris in 1946 and now are at Lausanne, Switzerland, where the king is a law student and his fiancee is attending finishing school.

Tech Officials Seek More Housing Space

Officials at Texas Tech Tuesday were casting about for additional housing facilities to care for hundreds of students unable to enroll because of inability to find a place to live.

Hardest hit for places to live were married persons with children, according to Lewis Jones, assistant to the dean of men. Men's dormitories have also been full for some time, he said.

Space At Rremium

In the women's dormitories, housing officials said they still had sufficient rooms to care for approximately 75 more girls. Ratio between the number of men and women students was expected by the registrar's office to be about the same as last year — four men to one girl.

Dormitory space for approximately 1700 men has been pushed to the limit, while off-campus homes are at a premium. Last fall, some 1500 men lived in private homes and about the same number were expected to find such accommodations this year. However, of that 1500, nearly 300 were quartered at Lubbock Air Force base last fall, which is being re-opened to army personel only this year.

Exact number of pre-registrants already enrolled in the college were not yet available Tuesday, but officials expect the figure to be about equal to that of 1948. There is dormitory space for 900 girls, while married students will boost the enrollment another 900 if it approaches that of last year.

In the way of supplies, the purchasing office at the college reported it has been busily getting things in readiness for the fall term since June 1. Other agencies, also, were getting ready for the big rush expected to begin Sunday morning with the opening of dormitories.

Marriage Delayed By Lack Of Funds

DETROIT, Sept. 7 (INS)— James W. Moyer, 27, today gave "lack of funds for a honeymoon" as his reason for not showing up at the altar Saturday to marry Rose Nechita, of Detroit.

The intended bride enlisted the aid of police when Moyer did not appear for his wedding. Foul play was feared.

Moyer appeared today and, a little shamefaced, claimed he had been in the hospital with yellow jaundice and pneumonia. Finally he admitted he hadn't gone through with the ceremony because he was broke.

All is forgiven and the couple have rescheduled the wedding date for the payday after next.

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 7. (AP)—Craig Rice, prolific writer of mystery stories, lies in critical condition in Santa Monica hospital today. She has been unconscious since 7 p. m. Monday.

Last week Miss Rice, 41, was released after being booked on investigation of sanity. Officers found two bottles of sleeping pills in her hotel room.

She told psychopathic court she had no intention of taking her life, explaining she wanted to "make sure my estranged husband would hear about this and come back to me."

She has sued for divorce from her fourth husband, Radio producer Henry De Mott, 29, charging cruelty.

Taxes Will Take 75 Per Cent Of Estate

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7 (AP) — Executors for the estate of Charles W. Nash, pioneer auto manufacturer, estimate that his $43,183,624 estate will be reduced about 75 per cent by taxes and other levies.

This estimate was made yesterday as the federal government was handed a check for $23,500,899.06 for inheritance taxes. The California inheritance tax has not yet been deducted.

Nash died last year in nearby Beverly Hills at the age of 84. His wife, Jessie, succumbed in 1947, leaving a $9,000,000 estate. The remainder of both estates is in trust for two daughters, Mrs. Mae N. Brenton, Beverly Hills, and Mrs. Ruth N. Bliss, Grosse Point farms, Mich.

DALLAS LADY LOSES 58 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely, and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

"I want to tell you what weight I have lost in 2½ months by using Barcentrate. I weighed 262 pounds when I started. I now weigh 204. I am so proud I tried it. I was told that I could not live a year unless I lost some weight. You may use my name any way you wish."—Mrs. J. B. Moore, 1688 Manor Street, Dallas, Texas.

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lucille Ball Entertains With "Mighty Joe Young" Act

Hope's Only Working Rule Is To Have Fun, And Everything Goes On His Hollywood Set

BY JACK KUIGG
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7 — Fun in Hollywood, or a three-ring circus without rings. That's a Bob Hope set.

In one corner, Lucille Ball was entertaining a group with her imitation of "Mighty Joe Young," the gorilla in the picture of the same name. She had mastered the beast's gestures, faces, even the bellow.

In another corner, crew members were slyly pasting "kick me" signs on anyone who ventured near enough. The kicks were ungentle, too (I can vouch for that personally). But nobody got mad. It's against the rules on Bob Hope's pictures.

Where Hope reigns anything goes, and anything gets a laugh.

Hope Set Open To All

The comic himself was up to his ears in people. He posed for pictures with a couple of visiting baseball players, said howdy to an out-of-town fan and signed an autograph book. A top Paramount executive, buried deep in the admiring crowd, patiently awaited his turn to get in a few words.

Hope kept up a running patter with everybody. Agents, writers, electricians, sound men, visitors —a score at least—gawked and milled around.

A Hope set is open to all. He says he tried being alone once, and didn't like it.

The "Fancy Pants" crew was working under pressure. Hope had to catch a 6:20 p. m. plane for Detroit. Half a dozen scenes had to be shot in the next two hours. Otherwise Paramount would have to keep the cast on salary until Hope returned — an extra week.

Ready To Bake Ham

"Let's bake the ham," shouted an assistant director. That's how they call Hope to the camera.

"A straight man would make a million bucks on this set," quipped Bob. "Everybody wants to be the comic."

Bob, Lucille and three other players began rehearsing a tricky scene. Hope suggested changes in two lines. His writers picked a couple of spot gags off the cuff. A Hope script has to be flexible.

A cook clanged a kettle behind him. "They're playing football back there," Bob said. He hears everything, sees everything, picks up everything.

Bob Looks Tired

But he looked tired. I asked him why he didn't cancel the trip, to Michigan state fair and to Grand Rapids for two appearances.

"The trip? It's nothing. No strain at all. I get a kick out of it."

He conceded he's slowing down, though. He's been fishing in the Pacific weekends. After "Fancy Pants" he plans a vacation of fishing, off Guaymas, Mexico.

Came 6 o'clock and the scenes were washed up. No extra week's expense.

I suggested that the bedlam on the set must bother him sometimes.

"Did you ever see a happier set?" he asked in turn. "I love it." apparently there's no limit to the attention he can take.

Outside the sound stage he hopped on his bicycle to pedal to his dressing room, A sign on the bike read:

Curious Raccoon Is Captured On Detroit Street

DETROIT, Sept. 7 (AP)—A venturesome raccoon gave the law a time of it last night.

Of all places, it was Detroit's "skid row," street of forgotten men, that the 'coon chose to investigate—and come to grief.

On skid row the lads do take a sip now and then of stuff that's stronger than water.

Can it be that the raccoon went that far?

Consider.

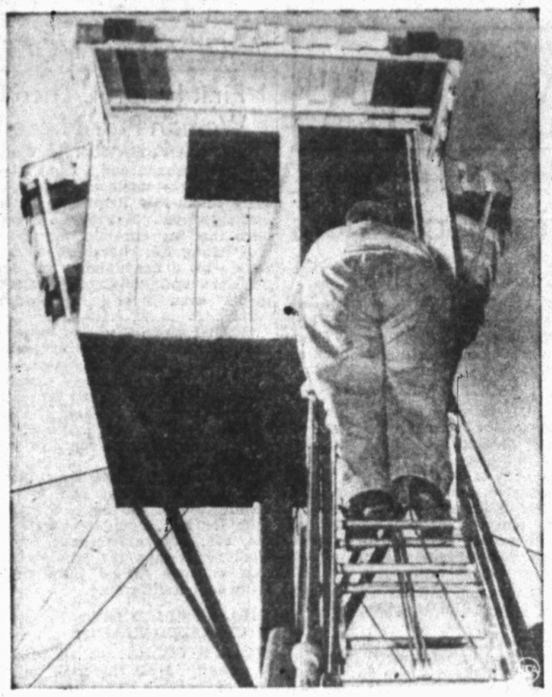

The animal fell smack out of a tree—something no raccoon in its right mind would ever do. And fell on its noggin, so hard that it was knocked out.

Some resourceful passersby laid a handy washtub over the prone body and called police.

By the time officers William Winter and William Herbster got there, the raccoon had come to. And, further, was fighting mad.

After cautious maneuvering, the officers got the raccoon into a dufflebag and carted it off to the central police station.

They booked the 'coon there until it could be turned over to the humane society.

Coplin tortures the scales now with 357 pounds, and he decided to fast in the six-by-six house on a 20-foot pole as the only way to remove himself from the tempting aromas of his wife's cooking.

Former Official Says Personal Freedom Policy May Prevent A Third World War

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—Robert P. Patterson believes this nation's present policy of strengthening the cause of personal freedom may prevent a third world war.

The former secretary of war, speaking at a dinner meeting of the American Bar association last night, said continuation of that policy wherever possible is the most promising road to real peace.

But, he added, as long as Moscow continues its persistent Communist creed of world revolution, "mutual trust among nations can be nothing more than a faint echo."

Cries Are Reminiscent

"The frenzied cries coming out of Moscow against Tito at present are ominously reminiscent of the shrill threats of Hitler against the Poles 10 years ago," he declared.

However, the Atlantic treaty is "plain notice to Moscow that the design, characteristic of conquerors from Philip of Macedonia down to Hitler—the strategy of knocking victims off one by one—is no longer available."

Vinson Is Speaker

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U. S. Supreme court spoke at another dinner sponsored by the bar association's judicial administration section.

He said the delay, expense and needless technicalities of America's courts can be corrected.

"Effective judicial administration requires the establishment of businesslike methods," he said.

Vinson suggested the court should examine some of the practices adopted by successful businesses.

Aging Romeo Shines Up Speech For Top Career Performance

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (INS)—Sigmund Engel, elderly romeo de luxe, was sprucing up his extensive wardrobe and polishing an extensive speech today for one of the biggest performances of his varied career.

The performance is scheduled for Sept. 12 when the dapper "love 'em and leave 'em" expert will face Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy.

At that time Engel will endeavor to convince the judge that his bail—now set at $30,000—should be reduced so he could be released from durance vile.

Becomes One Of Boys

Col. Chester L. Fordney, county jail warden, said Engel will be granted access to his extensive wardrobe so he could appear a this "Sunday best" for the court appearance.

The daper little lothario who is charged with taking thousands of dollars from a Chicago widow, was reported by Fordney to have "become" just another one of the boys since his money was taken away.

The money, it may be recalled, was taken from its hiding place in Engel's underdrawers.

It also was learned that the 83-year-old Engel was working on an "oration of the Patrick Henry type" to deliver in court.

The theme of this opus, it was reported, will be "give me liberty."

How To Play Canasta: 5

Improper Plays In Canasta Call For Point Penalties

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
Written for NEA Service

CERTAIN irregularities in Canasta call for point penalties. These penalties, which are given below, are deducted from your score towards game at the end of the hand. For example, if your score is 1550 points, and you commit an irregularity that calls for a 100-point penalty, it does not mean that your score is immediately reduced to 1450 points for the purpose of determining your initial minimum meld requirement.

POINT PENALTIES:

Irregular draw ..... 50 points
Drawing out of turn .. 100 points
Adding an irregular draw to your hand, An additional 100 points
Failure to go out after receiving permission from partner .. 100 points
Melding out of turn .. 100 points
Attempting to take discard pile out of turn ..... 100 points

IRREGULARITIES: The generally accepted rules of bridge and other card games regulate the irregularities in deals.

When a player draws too many cards, this error is rectified by discarding without drawing at each turn until his hand is correct.

If a player discards without drawing, he cannot pick up his discard, but he can be required to take the top card of the stock pile.

WHEN a player exposes one or more cards from his hand, except to make a legal meld, all of the exposed cards must be left face up on the table and discarded one at a time in successive turns. However, the player may use any of these exposed cards to form melds or to take the pack.

If, for the initial meld for his side, a player shows less than the required count, he must validate his meld if possible with additional cards. If he cannot do so or does not do so before discarding, all the cards he has exposed from his hand are treated as exposed cards.

If he has incorrectly taken the discard, he must restore it to the pile before making his own discard from his exposed cards.

IF A PLAYER makes a meld including more than three wild cards, or attempts to add a wild card to a meld already containing three wild cards (other than a completed Canasta), he must, if possible, rectify the error. He does this by putting the exposed wild cards with another meld. If he is unable to rectify the error, the surplus wild card (or cards) improperly played is treated as an exposed card.

If a player is dealt or draws a red trey and fails to declare it before the play of the deal ends (provided he has had at least one turn to play), his side is penalized 500 points. If he has not had at least one turn to play and the other side goes out, the red treys in his hand are scored as a minus value of 100 points. The 500-point penalty does not apply.

Tomorrow: Four-handed Canasta.

Mary Haworth's Mail

First Helpful, Then Didactic, Then Angry Woman Puts Niece In Bad With Family

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: When my husband and I came here last year, my uncle and his wife were invaluably helpful to us in getting settled. But it soon developed that my aunt (by marriage) was taking full charge of our affairs with a heavy hand, making decisions and dictating arrangements even over my husband's veto.

When I asserted myself, by acting contrary to some of her opinions, she found me "stubborn, ungrateful" and maliciously maligned me to my mother and brothers. They believed her, enough at least to effect a painful rift in our affections, especially as concerns my husband.

Maddeningly, Auntie continues to act the perfect friend to me, coming to see the baby, bringing gifts for him, doing "favors" for me, etc.; and my husband, who can't understand my family's goings on, has turned from them with cool indifference.

GIRL MARRIED INTO A CIVILIZED FAMILY

JOHN'S FOLKS are all intelligently loyal to each other, free of jealousy and pretense, unobtrusively helpful when they can be, never thinking of "acknowledgement,"—and though my family never caused me any grief before and I had always loved them dearly, I confess I can't understand their present behavior either.

Should I rudely avoid my aunt in future, as protection against future probing into the details of our life, and against further vicious attempts to tear us to pieces to those I love? If I try to shut her out, it will bring more embittered reproach on us, I know—"You used us, then cast us off"—and my conscience will feel some truth in it. Or should I continue to try (for my uncle's sake) to be friendly and "grateful" to this woman I've grown to hate?

I am young yet, not wise enough to deal with a woman of her type; and I need advice. I am not her only "victim"—and victim I truly am. I've heard from her, in scathing version, the most ugly intimate scandal about people I've never met; and needless to say, she bandies gossip about me, too. Please help me soon.

Signed: V.L.

MAJOR AND MINOR NEUROTICS COLLIDE

DEAR V. L.: Psychologists tell us that in any type of social exchange—in business, in friendship and in kinship—when formalities are waived, when the ice is broken, and spontaneous attitudes come into play, then all that is neurotically ailing in the personality of either participant begins to crop out like a body rash.

However (if you'll pardon the mingled metaphor), it takes two neurotics to get tangled up in a sparring match, subjective or verbal, after the rash begins to show. If one party to the situation is substantially normal—i. e., comparatively free of either "dependent" or "dictator" patterns of neurosis—he or she (the healthy person) will instinctively, or with intuitive foresight, sidestep "emotional" involvement with the other's temperament.

This your husband seems to have done, with impromptu good sense, as regards both your aunt's outbreak of neurotic symptoms and your family's tacit championship of her squawk. In turning an unmistakeably cold shoulder on the hue-and-cry, he properly put them in quarantine insofar as his emotions are concerned. In effect his attitude says, "Count me out; I don't deal on that level," which is as it should be.

NIECE IS WEAKENED BY DEPENDENCY BIAS

UNLIKE your aunt, who is aggressively neurotic in her drive to dominate, as a means of forming binding ties, because she lacks the know-how to love generously and thus inspire reciprocal devotion—unlike her, you are only mildly neurotic as yet, and passively so; and your neurotic pattern has to do with wanting "dependency" perquisites.

Thus you seized with self-serving alacrity on the aunt's and uncle's patronage when getting settled, instead of firmly declining (with thanks) an excess of supervisory coddling, as a truly adult character would have done perforce, to preserve a solid area of self reliant independence and privacy of life. But at least you are honest enough to sense your venal contribution to a performance which led to sordid squabbling; and if your aunt could be equally reasonable there would be no problem.

Familiarity with a woman of your aunt's type is like opening Pandora's box and loosing a cloud of gnats and scorpions; and halfway measures won't counteract the consequences of that mistake. In my opinion, you should either get tough with Auntie, by asking her to stay out of your life altogether if she can't refrain from vilification and tale-packing when displeased; or you should accept the penalties of your indecisive attitude, without blaming her further for your discomfort in the set-up. M. H.

Texas Farm Outlook Reported Favorable

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (U.P.)—Rains in most northwestern and western counties have been beneficial to late feed, cotton and pastures, while harvesting of mature crops has made rapid progress as hot, open weather continued in most eastern and southern counties, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

The farm outlook was generally favorable.

However, the USDA noted that most southern high plains counties continued dry. Showers along the coast have delayed the rice and cotton harvest.

Conditions remained generally favorable for the maturity of cotton and harvest of the largest crop in many years was becoming increasingly active.

All classes of livestock, the USDA reported, were doing well on the generally plentiful supply of cured feed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Dickenson, 1812 Ninth, had as her week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Errington Lanier of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sandlin of Oakland, Calif., and Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Dickenson and son, Bill Scott, of Plainview.

Polio Cases In Texas Decline

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Polio continued to drop in Texas last week, with a total of 63 new cases reported, the lowest weekly number since June 4.

State Health Officer George W. Cox cautiously said he thought the relatively low incidence confirmed his prediction that the "time for a natural drop in polio incidence has been reached."

Polio Shows Decline

The 63 cases for the week ending Sept. 3 marked the fourth consecutive week in which polio has been on the decrease since the report of 121 cases for the week ending Aug. 6.

The year's total of polio in Texas now stands at 1,684, 375 cases more than recorded for the same time last year. The outbreak this year comes within 81 cases of the all-time high of 1,765 cases for the entire year of 1948.

Chief Threat Over

Dr. Cox said, "without trying to minimize the gravity of the polio situation in Texas, I think we have some cause for optimism now. If we take common sense precautions regarding basic sanitation—insect spraying and refuse clearance—I think the biggest threat from polio is over for this year."

The week's report included new when the police, sighting the suspects at Fifth and Ave. L, ran them down in a chase. The arrest was at Fourth and Ave. K. The two were identified by complainants.

Sudan's First Bale Of Cotton Ginned

SUDAN, Sept. 7 (Special)—The first bale of Sudan cotton was ginned here this morning by the Farmer's Co-Op gin. Alfred Patterson, who lives two miles southwest of Sudan, was the grower.

The bale weighed 440 pounds and was made from 1800 pounds of seed cotton. It netted Patterson the Chamber of Commerce prize of $50.

The bale was ginned in only 15 minutes. This was record time, according to gin manager Earl Chester. Chester, who is also president of the Chamber of Commerce, remarked that none of the cotton was green. All of it was dry which accounted for the speed in ginning, he said.

No sale price for the cotton was announced.

Condition Of State Official "Improved"

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Condition of Railroad Commission Chairman William J. (Bill) Murray jr., was reported by hospital attendants today as "greatly improved."

He suffered a back injury, multiple fracture of the pelvis, an internal injury, serious concussion, shock and bruises in a car-cab smash-up here Monday.

FANTASTIC STORIES ARE HEARD

New Teeth, Glasses Glitter In Britain Under New Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: L. R. Blanchard is general executive editor of the 21 metropolitan papers—mostly in the East—in the Gannett chain. As one of the nation's most widely known and respected editors, Mr. Blanchard has often traveled the world for his papers, informing himself, first-hand, on what is going on. Recently he went to England to look at Socialism and the series of articles he wrote while on the trip are highly revealing. Because some politicians urge that the U. S. follow England in experimenting with Socialism, The Journal asked—and received—permission of the Gannett papers and Mr. Blanchard to present the series in Texas. We consider Mr. Blanchard's articles to be most significant, especially since Britain, largely supported by American tax dollars will seek from us next month more aid to be used in carrying on socialistic aims.)

By L. R. BLANCHARD
Executive Editor, Gannett Newspapers

LONDON—England glitters with new teeth and new glasses.

Under the nation's new billion-dollar health service, dentists and opticians have been overwhelmed.

The dentist's earnings depend on his stamina. He is paid a flat rate for each job and there is no limit on the number of patients.

The doctor has a top limit of 4,000 patients and is paid $3.20 a year for each.

Fantastic stories of dental earnings are heard. These cannot be verified, but there are seemingly reliable reports of gross incomes up to $48,000 per year. Similar reports abound for those who turn out spectacles, either on prescription or after making their own examinations.

One explanation is that formerly many persons were too poor to pay for such services or too proud to ask for charity. Now that they can get them "for nothin," they are rushing in droves for dentures and spectacles.

Politicians "Not Dismayed"

Members of government are not dismayed over inequalities of the law which cut incomes for some physicians and increased them for others. Nor are they concerned at the costs for prescriptions, dentures and glasses.

It is said now that the Health Ministry may take action to curb some of the higher earnings. The Ministry has absolute power.

What dentists and doctors fear most is that they might eventually be put on straight salaries. This would completely nationalize medicine. First step, however, is expected to be slicing of incomes that go over some figure yet to be decided.

The health service is vastly complicated. It has taken over the hospitals and is preparing to establish health centers.

It hopes to provide for education of more doctors. Socialists say that young men who never could get a medical education under the old system will have their chance now.

The service has had to arrange for payment of specialists and technicians. These groups are held in line because they must have hospital connections. If they balk, they will be pushed out of the nationalized institutions.

MEDICAL men in general were opposed to the service when it was first proposed. Gradually great numbers were led into line, and the first 19,000 doctors signed up.

Some important men still hope to swing back to the old system. Their objections range from ethical considerations to the simple matter of how to keep the wolf from the door.

Meanwhile, a great part of the public is endorsing the service, or taking advantage of it. Even the middle class, which suffers the greatest hardship under Britain's economics, is giving up in large part the idea of seeking out a doctor in private practice and is collecting on the 5 shillings paid into the fund each week.

Those who really profit are such persons as could not afford treatment by a regular physician or dentist. They are the kind who picked their glasses from a tray in the 10-cent store.

These who are most optimistic and enthusiastic are persons who have a sincere desire to aid the downtrodden.

"Do-Gooders" Praise It

It is easy to collect glowing accounts of the new system from three groups—the political enthusiasts who wants to see the whole world made comfortable and preferably at one level, the person who benefits from previously unknown services, and the professional man who suddenly finds himself with a practice far beyond anything he had ever hoped for.

These three groups deprecate any criticism of the health service. Also they form a powerful segment of the voters. They excuse faults on the grounds that the "experiment" must go through a period of difficulties and even injustice.

LORD HORDER, once private physician to George V, is an emphatic opponent of the new order. He is on record with such sentences as these:

"Taxation is not, physically speaking, a painful disease, and so the patient does not squeal. It can, however, in course of time be very lethal to the body corporate.

"No medical man should be 'at risk' for 4,000 patients. That may be making medicine available to every citizen, but is it medicine?

"The essence of good doctoring is diagnosis, and diagnosis calls for time and a closeup with the patient, both of which are denied at the time to thousands of practitioners.

"No man or no state lost his or its liberty all at once.

"The public will find it is not getting something for nothing but nothing for something.

"A variation on a current jibe might be to say we seem likely to get not only the best government but the worst medicine that money can buy."

UN Veto Curbs To Be Studied

By JOHN STEELE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—Chairman Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah) said today his Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee will come up with recommendations for strengthening the United Nations by curbing the effect of Russian vetoes.

Congressional resentment over the 30 Soviet vetoes which have stymied many UN Security council efforts have resulted in establishment of Thomas' five-man group. It already has taken under study five proposals expressing considerable congressional support for alteration of the UN charter.

Hearings Scheduled

Thomas said the committee will conduct hearings beginning early in January. In the intervening period, members and staff assistants are studying the proposals in conjunction with State department experts.

The Utah Democrat, an expert in his own right on international law, hopes his committee's work will parallel that of the "committee of eight" established by former Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the days preceding the end of World War II.

That committee, unofficial and unpublicized, served as a liaison and idea group between Congress and the State department during the early drafting of the UN charter and the formulation of U. S. postwar policy. Thomas, who served on the committee, always has regretted that it was not continued.

U.S. Lead Favored

The Thomas subcommittee was established by full committee Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex) a few months ago to "listen, hear, study and recommend." It resulted from an apparently growing belief in Congress that the U. S. eventually must take the lead in altering the UN charter with particular emphasis on curbs for the big power veto and suplying UN with an international police force to keep peace.

The five resolutions which the Thomas group has under study are all based on the principle that the United States must take a stronger role than it has done thus far in strengthening UN. Some of the moves are backed by strong and articulate private organizations such as the Atlantic Union committee, World Federalists and the Citizens Committee for United Nations Reform. Other proposals represent only the ideas of the sponsors.

MAN IS SHOT

WEATHERFORD, Sept. 7 (AP) — J. Harold Beavers of Weatherford accidentally shot himself in the stomach today while cleaning a shotgun in preparation for a hunting trip. Beavers, 44, was taken to a local hospital in critical condition.

Chinese Claim Reds Held Up

CANTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The national defense ministry today claimed recapture of several villages from Communist forces driving toward the Canton-Hankow railroad from Hucheng, 170 miles north of Canton.

The ministry's announcement said ground was recovered up to a point to 20 miles west of Jucheng. That would place the fighting halfway between Jucheng and the railroad.

Chinese news dispatches said a small force of Nationalist militiamen created a diversion by a guerrilla-like raid on Jucheng itself. These reports said the raid was led by a former magistrate there.

Five Communist divisions were reported preparing to attack Anjen, 40 miles east of Hengyang, some 120 miles northwest of Jucheng.

Other reports said the Reds were building defense works on the northern side of the mountains on the Kwangtung-Kiangsi border. Mei Pass, through which the highway from Kanhsien to Kukong runs, was being fortified, these reports said.

In Shensi province both sides were said to be throwing reinforcements into a battle near Fenghsien, 40 miles southwest of the Lunghai railroad town of Paochi.

Dispatches said the fate of southern Shensi hinged on the battle. A Nationalist loss there would leave Szechwan province wide open to attack. Chungking, designated as the next provisional capital if Canton falls to the Reds, is the capital of Szechwan province.

The Red drive on Amoy in Fukien province had stalled about 20 miles northeast of the port, Nationalist reports said.

Beauties Start Title Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7. (AP)—Some of the nation's most beautiful girls tonight begin an intense competition that will end Saturday in the selection of Miss America of 1949.

Fort three days the 52 girls in the Miss America pageant will show off the way they look in a bathing suit, the poise they can muster in an evening gown, and their entertaining talents.

Judged on these three distinct contest phases, 15 lucky finalists will enter the homestretch on Saturday. From them the new queen of feminine pulchritude will be chosen.

The spectacular pageant began yesterday with a four-mile parade of entrants before a jam-packed crowd estimated by police at 250,000.

The retiring Miss America of 1948, Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn., led the parade perched on a huge, gold-flecked float. Strung out behind her on the boardwalk were dazzling beauties representing 45 states, four major cities, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Three Have Floats

Only three of the gorgeous gals rode on floats in the opening event. The others depended on specially decorated rolling chairs, the boardwalk's normal means of transportation.

To keep the mammoth crowd in check, 75 Philadelphia policemen were sent to help out the state police at the sidelines. Eighteen bands were strung out on the line of march.

Sponsors of three of the girls provided floats for them. The girls were Jone Pedersen of Santa Rosa, "Miss California;" Marlene Joan Carozzo of Kennett Square, "Miss Pennsylvania;" and Avelina Medrano Baella of Santurce, "Miss Puerto Rico."

A gold and silver "enchanted isle" float carried Miss Puerto Rico, and Miss Pennsylvania's float was carpeted with 1,500 yellow and red roses. Apples and grapes from her Sonora county orchards and vineyards graced Miss California's vehicle.

Alabaman Charged In Texan's Death

LINDEN, Sept. 7 (AP)—An Alabama man was charged with murder today in the death of a Texas Panhandle woman he said had drowned.

Cass County Sheriff Bill Knight filed the charge against Woodrow Harvey Alford, 26, formerly of Atmore, Ala.

Alford brought the body of Mrs. Thelma Parker, 40, wife of J. E. Parker of Amarillo, to Brooks clinic at Atlanta, Texas, Saturday. He told hospital attendants the woman drowned while swimming near Queen City, Texas.

The sheriff did not say what the Amarillo woman was doing in this small East Texas community.

Knight said a doctor who examined the body did not believe the drowning story. Alford was arraigned today and jailed in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Teachers Receive Rap On Knuckles

DENVER, Sept. 7 (INS)—The nation's school teachers were given a collective rap on the knuckles today by Dugald S. Arbuckle, a delegate to the American Psychological association convention in Denver.

In a speech this afternoon, the Boston university psychologist classified teachers as "an important source of maladjused children."

The psychologist declared that "although teaching is a profession, not all teachers are professional workers." He added:

"Thousands of teachers throughout the country are actually a social menace because of the maladjustments they cause."

One of the common faults found in the classrooms, he said, is the teacher who sets himself up as a "disciplinarian and judge." This, he declared, leads to "personality quirks" in children.

Arbuckle explained that some teachers are "too domineering" and others are inclined to pass judgment "without having adequate understanding of the situation."

From a psychological standpoint, Arbuckle explained, "what many children need, instead of the moralizing and scolding they often get, is better understanding and acceptance."

HOLLYWOOD AND PUBLIC BLAMED

Marriage Of War Hero Audie Murphy, Adress "Fizzling"

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7. — The nation's most decorated war hero admitted today his "ideal" marriage to Wanda Hendrix is fizzling partly because they've got Hollywood and the public for in-laws.

Everything would be all right, Miss Hendrix said, if she and Audie Murphy could only get out of Hollywood to Texas and stay.

The star and Murphy had Hollywood beaming over their two-year-ice cream soda romance. But since they got married eight months ago, they "haven't been getting along."

Movie Studios Interfere

Their studios interfere like monthers-in-law. Friends say they have to stay married to please the public. Everybody has trouble, but they have to work theirs out in the gossip columns.

In eight months of marriage, Murphy said, he's been fighting harder than he fought on eight European fronts.

"I'm tired of fighting," he said. "If I have to fight for a thing now, I don't want it. A lot of troubles have come up. I look ahead 10 years and I don't see anything better.

"Wanda has an obsession against divorce. But I think if it's not right it's better to give up now instead of making each other miserable for years."

Miss Hendrix said firmly she had not given up, and neither had Audie.

Married In January

"I want very much to stay married," she said, looking deeply at him. "This has to be worked vary hard at, but it's worth working for. Our marriage is something I want to keep.

"I don't like to fight. I don't think we fight more than any other couple. We just have more people reporting on us."

The baby-faced Murphy and the 20-year-old star were married in January after a two-year romance. Both got flu during the honeymoon. She came back to Hollywood while he made a tour with his war book. When they got back together Murphy found he had ulcers. Then Wanda broke her ankle.

Working In Film

"Everything's been against us from the start," she said. "We've had so little time together. Things can't get any worse."

Now they're working together for the first time in Universal-International's "Sierra." She plays a lady lawyer who defends him.

"We've been very happy on this picture," she said.

When its over, they want to vacation together in Texas and try again.

"I need to get away from the Hollywood whirlpools," Murphy said. "When I'm in Texas I feel better, and I think clearer."

Finland Moves To Halt Red Strikes

HELSINKI, Finland, Sept. 7 (AP) —Finland's Trade Union federation (TUF), in a move last night to halt Communist-led strikes, gave seven unions the choice of obeying TUF orders against the walkouts or being expelled from the federation.

The federation's expulsion ultimatum went to five striking, Communist-dominated unions of lumbermen, transport workers, buildings workers, masons and truck drivers, and to two organizations of woodworkers and food workers who recently withdrew a strike call.

The ultimatum declared all seven unions expelled unless they give binding guarantees they will "loyally collaborate" with the federation in the future.

The strike wave which began last month has been interpreted by government leaders as an attempt to set the stage for a Communist coup to seize the government. The Communist unions say the strikes are the result of worsening labor conditions.

Bosox Battle Yanks Tonight

Brooklyn Gains On Cards With 10-2 Victory Over Boston Nine

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, leading the American league since the opening gun, face their severest test of the season tonight when they open a vital three-game seris with the challenging Boston Red Sox at Yankee stadium.

Casey Stengel's crippled Yanks lead the sizzling Sox by a game and a half and a Boston sweep would dump the Yanks into second place.

Stengel has selected Allie Reynolds (13-4) to face Ellis Kinder (18-5) before an estimated 75,000 plus crowd. Lefty Ed Lopat is the probable Yankee pitcher for the second encounter and Vic Rachi or Tommy Byrne for the third. The Sox are expected to counter with Jack Kramer and 21-game winner Mel Parnell.

Has Rough Season

Reynolds, despite his impressive won-lost record, has had a rough season while Kinder is enjoying the best campaign of his career. Reynolds has completed only four of 25 starts. He turned in his best game last Saturday when he blanked the last place Washington Senators on three singles.

Kinder, who never won more than ten games in the majors until this season, is working on an eight game winning streak.

The return to action of Joe DiMaggio and possibly Catcher Yogi Berra greatly enhances the Yankee chances. DiMaggio bowed out of the second game in the Labor day doubleheader in Philadelphia because of leg cramps but the jolter reported the ailment has disappeared.

Berra, out with a fractured left thumb since Aug. 7, participated in a "pepper game" yesterday. He reported the digit "felt swell and I guess I'll play." The Yogi's big bat will receive a royal welcome.

Indians Battle Tigers

While the Yanks and Red Sox go at each other the third place Cleveland Indians and fourth place Detroit Tigers will be battling.

The Tigers entertain the Indians in a two game series. The Indians trail the Yanks by four and one half games and the Tigers by six and one half.

Meanwhile, the equally tense National league race finds the front-running St. Louis Cardinals only one game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Don Newcombe, big negro right-hander, pitched the Dodgers to within a game of the Red Birds last night as he turned back the Boston Braves, 10-2, at Ebbets field. The Cards, the Chicago Cubs and the entire American league were idle.

Newcombe, in bagging his 15th triumph, yielded only six hits and fanned seven to run his league-leading strikeout total to 126.

The Dodger ace's string of consecutive scoreless innings was snapped at 31 when the Braves scored the first run of the game in the second inning.

Braves Drop Seventh

Brooklyn bounced back in its half of the second to sew up the game, whacking Bill Voiselle for five runs. Voiselle previously had beaten the Brooks three times including two shutouts.

The defeat was the Braves' seventh straight and it dropped them three and one half games behind the third place Philadelphia Phillies who divided a doubleheader with the New York Giants.

Philadelphia came from behind to beat the Giants, 4-2, in the ten inning opener but Leo Durocher's men took the nightcap, 4-1.

Larry Jansen had the Phils beaten, 2-0, with two out in the ninth when they rallied to tie up the game. Bill Nicholson's single broke it up in the following frame.

Sheldon Jones outpitched Hank Borowy in the finale, winning out when his battery mate, Wes Westrum, poled a three run homer in the sixth.

The Cincinnati Reds exploded for four runs in the tenth inning to clip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-3, under the lights in Pittsburgh.

Winning pitcher Ewell Blackwell singled to start the rally and Johnny Wyostek climaxed the uprising with a two-run triple. Ralph Kiner poled his 43rd homer for the Pirates and struck out to end the game.

Argentina has a taxicab shortage.

Seminole Boosters Slate Variety Show

SEMINOLE, Sept. 7. (Special)—Residents of this city tonight will be given a chance to help members of the Booster club pay for the new electric scoreboard, which the club bought for Seminole High school this summer.

A variety show from Odessa, which will run for a half hour or longer, will be brought here by Cotton Clover. It is one of the most sought-after variety shows in West Texas.

Joining with the Odessa variety club will be a show from Lamesa, complete with band. And to round out the program, the Notables quartet, a member of the SPEBSQSA, will come here from Lubbock.

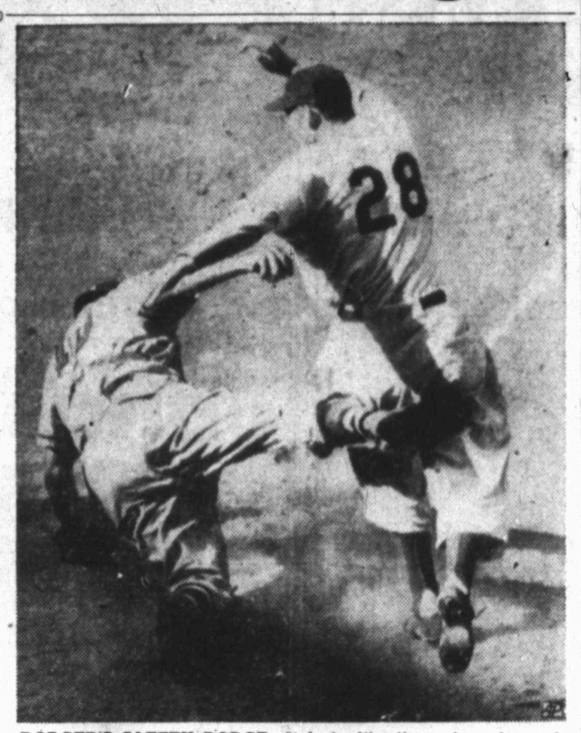

It promises to be a topnotch show and the public is urged to attend.

The booster club is attempting to raise funds to help meet the cost of the new electric scoreboard that was installed here this summer. The scoreboard, one of the most modern that can be obtained, cost $2,400. Members of the club raised the money themselves and now are offering the rest of Seminole and other interested persons an opportunity to help out.

New officers for the Booster club this year are Roger Harrold, president; C. E. Erwin, vice president; Ormond Gregory, secretary-treasurer; and Reeves Cothes, H. S. Fitzgerald and Charles Bennett, reporters.

MEN GET POSTS

HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Clyde Lamotte has been appointed sports editor of the Houston Post and Bruce Layer named sports director of radio station KPRC. Layer has been executive sports editor of the Post. Lamotte, assistant city editor, succeeds Morris Frank who has resigned.

DODGER'S SAFETY DODGE—It looks like the awkward squad in action as Preacher Roe (28), Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, hooks around Boston Braves Catcher Mickey Livingston to the safety of home plate in the second inning of the double header at Ebbets field on Labor day. Scrimmage Performance Saves Players

Slash In Texas Tech Roster Expected After Rough Drill

The knife blade was poised for cutting the 50-plus football squad at Texas Tech yesterday, but after the rugged scrimmage session, the keen edge may be lowered without further slicing.

Several players, who had been on the obrderline when it came to remaining Red Raiders, were put through the acid test of scrimmage and the results were not entirely displeasing.

Cut Is Expected

But there also was enough weak football exhibited to cause Coach Dell Morgan and Coach G. B. Morris to wince. The squad probably will be cut down to 46 players, but the coaches want to be sure that every man is given a chance to make good. Yesterday's scrimmage saved some of the men, although others showed that they aren't quite ready to help the Raiders this fall.

Twenty-five players were sent through a rough scrimmage, one team remaining on offense and the other team staying strictly on the defense. Each team contributed its share of good football, even though the offensive team was able to puncture the defensive team for touchdowns five or six times.

Line Backer Star

Three line backers, Aubrey "Red" Phillips, Don Williams and Bud Conley were next to impossible to move. Phillips only had one good block out on him all afternoon, while Williams and Conley were in on the majority of the tackles.

This performance by the line backers sent Coach Morgan's spirits soaring, while some of the offensive play also was good. Walter Maloney, in his few opportunities to run, was hard to get down, while Halfback Bill Barbee and Fullback George Worrell were turning in impressive backfield performances also. Both Barbee and Worrell were driving hard and proved hard to stop.

Jackie Cockburn, a defensive tackle and Jim Carnish, a defensive end, were showing up well, while Lewis Crossley, also an end, looked good at times.

The defensive team had Phillips at center; Williams, and Cotton Martin, guards; Cockburn and Rex Pinson, tackles; Crossley and Carnish, ends; John Moughon, quarterback; Ike Stuver and Bobby Close, halfbacks; and Bud Conley, fullback.

The offensive team had Bobby Williams at center; Don Anthony and Walt Edrington, guards; John Tom Baker and Bill Glidewell, tackles; Bill Sharpley and Bud Henderson, Hugh and Dick Jackson, ends; Milton Rathbone, quarterback; Maloney and Barbee, halfbacks; and Worrell, fullback.

Backs were throwing a lot of passes and line plays also were being mixed in. Coaches Tipp Mooney and Palk Robison said that the work was light, but that the results were satisfactory.

Meanwhile, Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, reminded fans that time is running out on their chance to pick up reserved seats. If tickets are not picked up by 6 p. m. Friday, the tickets will be placed on general sale. They may be secured at the Tech athletic office in Jones Stadium.

Gonzales Gets Little Praise

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 — Eric Sturgess, the slender South African stylist who came to the United States by special invitation to compete in the national amateur tennis championships, charged today that he had been given the "bum's rush" and never would return.

"The favorites get everything and the rest get nothing, or what they do receive is in the nature of a handout," Sturgess complained as he bitterly rapped the hospitality of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Gonzales Is Slighted

It was just one of several recent cases in which American hospitality and sportsmanship have been found wanting.

Consider the case of Richard (Pancho) Gonzales ,who defeated Ted Schroeder on Monday for the national amateur tennis title. In other years the winner was feted at a post-tournament dinner.

But the scar-faced Pancho is a kid from the other side of the tracks and it was no secret at Forest Hills that "their boy" didn't win.

Pancho, the newly-crowned champion, and his tiny wife ate a lonesome dinner together in the West Side tennis club dining room after his victory. And even in this hour of triumph nobody stopped at their table to offer congratulations. They left quickly afterwards.

Our golfers, both pro and amateur, haven't been the shining souls of hospitality either.

Golfer Lacks Funds

During the U. S. Golf association's national amateur at Rochester last week it was no secret that little Bobby Fair, the 19-year-old Canadian, reached the quarterfinals with $4 in his pocket. Maybe U. S. G. A. officials didn't know the kid was having a rough time of it. Such vision would be, for them, typical. But everybody else did.

Mrs. Ruth Barry, manager of the Oak Hill club, made a lot of friends for the club by feeding Bobby and easing his plight with a "loan." She certainly made one international friend, anyhow.

As for professional golf, there's the case of Bobby Locke. The pros insist that they had a good reason—other than the fact that they didn't like him personally and that he was winning too much prize money—for barring him from future U. S. tournaments.

Maybe they did But they should have given a better reason for barring him than the curt statement that he didn't keep his tournament commitments. Too many of our own pros are prone to do the very same thing—without penalty—as any tournament committee will tell you.

Sportsmanship Assailed

"The U. S. L. T. A. should take a tip from Wimbledon," suggested Eric, who went to the finals there last year. "In England they provide transportation, meals and entertainment."

Nothing lavish, Sturgess added, but when a fellow is a long way from home and in a strange country by invitation ,a bit of genuine friendliness and hospitality goes a long way toward cementing international good will.

"All the U. S. L. T. A. has proved to me," he asserted, "is that those good will dinners and sportsmanship talks during the Davis Cup period are a lot of bunk."

And it's very apparent that the guy has something there!

PLAYERS RECALLED

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates recalled 12 minor leaguers today. They included Outfielder John Fiscalini of Waco, Texas, in the Big State league. General Manager Roy Hamey said how many of the 12 will be brought up before the end of the season will depend on needs and the duration of playoffs in which some of the players may participate.

THOMAS, MELIGNANO SOLD

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7 (AP) — The Kansas City club of the American Association today acquired outfielder Keith Thomas and pitcher Carmine Melignano from Beaumont of the Texas league.

Playoff Clashes Set

Dukes Tangle With Lamesa

(By The Associated Press)

The Shaughnessy playoffs start Thursday night in Albuquerque and Amarillo to determine the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant winner.

The Albuquerque Dukes will meet the Lamesa Loboes for a two game series, and Abilene goes to Amarillo for a couple. The Abilene-Amarillo first-round site was determined by a coin toss in Dallas. League President Milton E. Price did the tossing.

It was announced earlier that the teams—which ended the regular season in a tie for second—would play Wednesday night to determine the game's location.

Teams Change Fields

After the initial round, Albuquerque goes to Lamesa and Amarillo to Abilene for three game series. The teams play for the best four out of seven. If it goes the full seven in the first go-round, the teams will return to the original fields — Albuquerque and Amarillo-Abilene series—will be played on the field of the winner with the highest standing at the close of regular play.

First round pitchers are: Don Ferrarese for Albuquerque, Eulis Rosson for Lamesa, Jim Reynolds for Amarillo and Rudy Lorona for Abilene.

Dukes Pace League

Albuquerque paced the league the entire season, taking the lead on May 5. Two straight months of domination came to brief end on July 5 when the Lubbock Hubbers managed one full game on the Dukes. July 6 and 7 Albuquerque and Lubbock were tied, but then the Hubbers started slipping and wound up in a tie for fifth with Pampa, 13° games off the pace.

From July 8 the Dukes held a comfortable margin over the second place team, finishing the season a full 10 games in front of Abilene and Amarillo, with Lamesa one-half game farther back.

In 1948, the Amarillo Gold Sox, after finishing the regular season in second place, four games behind Albuquerque, swept the Shaughnessy playoff series to capture the 1948 pennant for the first time since joining the circuit in 1939.

Buck Fausett, who took over the Gold Sox reins in 1948 after guiding Albuquerque to a place in the playoffs in 1947, disposed of the defending champion Lubbock Hubbers, who finished third in 1948, in the opening series and then wrapped up the title by besting fourth-place Pampa, four games to one, in the final round.

Winner in 1947 was Lubbock under the tutelage of Manager Jackie Sullivan, who led the Hubbers to their third pennant in the history of the league. The Hubbers won the regular season by a 14-game margin and then captured the playoff. The Hubbers that year became the first team to win three championships and then go on to win the playoff.

OPENING CLASH SET THURSDAY

Plainview To Test Lubbock Cowhands

The first test of the 1949 Cowhand team will be seen Thursday night when the local gridders tackle the Plainview Pups at 8 p. m. at Plainview.

A tough game is expected in the opener, since Plainview is slated to field a scrappy team. That contest will open the 10-game schedule for the local eleven, which includes two games with Plainview Lamesa, Odessa, Brownfield and Midland.

Hard drills have been experienced by the Cowhands since the middle of August.

Coaches Pat Farris and Freddie Brown are not optimistic about the upcoming game after a poor showing Tuesday afternoon. The boys were obviously fatigued after the first day of school, and the offense looked ragged at times.

Timing was off on many plays, and fumbles were frequent. Another dummy scrimmage today, however, is expected to sharpen the offense and give the defense polish.

Monday the team was given drills on kickoffs and kickoff returns, and late Tuesday a session in punt returns was held. The scrimmage was rough, but the offense was too slow.

Thus far in practice James Sides has shown up well at fullback and gives promise of developing even farther as the season rolls on. Paul Hanson, Bo Sexton, Cecil Austin, Johnny Tatum and Charles have looked good thus far in the workouts, and Don Jones, Bobby Davis, Bill Waters, Dale Clark and others deserve credit for their performance.

Starting lineup for the Cowhands will be announced Thursday morning.

QUARTERBACKS — Charles Brewer, Buddy Hill and Gene Welch.

FULLBACKS — James Sides, Johnny Tatum and David Matthews.

CENTER—Tommy Ellis, Dale Clark, Milton Beech and Lon Berry.

RIGHT GUARD—Billy Breedlove, Bruce Willis and Slip Van Meter.

RIGHT TACKLE—Thomas Cadenhead, Don Bacon, Ken Jeffries and Charles Holmquest.

RIGHT END—Bobby Davis, Jerry Rooker and Charles Norman.

WATSON GETS BERTH

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP) — Mercedes' G. E. Watson Vegetable Company will represent Texas in the American Softball Association world tournament at Little Rock, Ark., starting Sept. 15. Mercedes won the place by beating Nixon-Clay business college of Austin 4-2 here last night to become the ASA's regional champion. The game went 14 innings.

MIXED DOUBLES WINNER

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7 (INS)—Eric Sturgess of South Africa and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., won the National Mixed Doubles championship yesterday by defeating Billy Talbert.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

LAMESA — Bill Henderson fought the hardest fight of his short career here Tuesday night and the results showed that he definitely is a 10-round fighter now. Until this fight, there had been some question in people's minds about his ability to go ten fast and furious rounds. But he proved once and for all that he has the stamina to go the distance and fight well while doing it. He had to beat a tough fighter Tuesday in Trinidad Perez. The clever little Vera Cruz, Mexico, fighter seldom gave Bill a good opening and his defenses had to be blasted open by brute force.

As a matter of fact, Bill was fighting by brute force much of the time. We've never seen him quite such a madman in the ring as he was here. He literally tried to tear Perez apart and Bo Sexton, serving as third man in the ring, had his hands full trying to separate the two fighters. Henderson stayed on top of Perez all through the fight, never giving him an opportunity to really get set and throw a Sunday punch. Perez had to hit and give ground, even though he landed some solid blows that staggered and stung Henderson. But the Levelland fighter kept boring in, boring in, forcing Perez to duck, cover his head and stay away. And even when Henderson was hurt, Perez had enough respect for the Tech student to be wary.

It's a good thing that Bill did remain the aggressor. He set a terrible pace from the start and the only fear among his supporters was that he would play out before the final rounds rolled around. He didn't, and while he didn't get stronger, at least he had enough to continue to carry the fight to Perez. If he had relaxed at any time, the Mexican would have swarmed him and, with his punishing right, might have scored a knockout. Henderson wasn't fighting just any boy. Perez is a ring veteran with 101 bouts to his credit. Not only that, but recently he beat Jessy Fonseca badly in El Paso. Perez was decked by Fonseca and it looked like the end, but the game little fighter climbed back up and polished off the champ with ease.

It was our pleasure to sit with Dickie Griffin during the fight last night and he filled us in on Fonseca. You may have noticed that the El Paso Boxing Commission has recommended indefinite suspension for the classy fighter. He failed to show up at El Paso for bouts to be refereed by Jack Dempsey, the same card on which Henderson scored a four-round knockout. Dickie says that it's a shame about Fonseca, but the kid isn't living a good life and is beginning to show it, both in the ring and out. He says it's bad for boxing and for Fonseca and hopes that he snaps out of it before it's too late.

Dickie also is high on Gene James, the Lubbock heavyweight, who is making impressive showings these days. Gene still hasn't been tested by a good heavyweight, which is too bad, but Dickie says that his opponent in the next fight should provide the test that he needs. The El Paso promoter, who is assisting Keith Anderson in Lubbock, is convinced that the next light heavyweight champion, and possibly the next heavyweight champ, will come from Texas. Moreover, he'll almost go so far as to wager that either or both come from West Texas. Dickie says that James has a good chance of going up the ladder all the way and that he wouldn't be surprised to see him some day crawned the world champion. It's a challenging goal.

Along with the interest in the boxing show here, which possibly was hurt by the postponement Monday night, the town is in red hot baseball fever. The Loboes are on the lips of every sports fan. Afterall, they finished in the first division this year for the second time in nine years. They are a young, eager club and are managed adroitly by Jay Haney. They point to last year when Albuquerque hogged first place most of the season, but were licked by Pampa, the fourth place team, in the playoffs. They argue that it could happen again and that the Loboes are the team to do it. The Loboes have been tough on Albuquerque all year and even though they open in Albuquerque, they might manage a split. And when they come home, Lamesa fans reckon that they'll get the jump needed on the Dukes.

We look for Amarillo to beat Abilene in the first round and Albuquerque to beat Lamesa. The fight between the Dukes and the Gold Sox should be a good one, with the Dukes coming out on top. But anything can happen in a short series and it might well be Lamesa on top when the firing is over. We'd like to see it that way. At least we'd have the pennant on the South Plains. When you get right down to it, though, we'll still think of the Dukes as the true pennant winners, even if they don't survive the first round. The team that can win consistently over the arduous trail of 140 games is, in our books, the real champion. The big test of the man and the team is over the season. The playoffs strictly are for the gate and the extra do-re-me that goes primarily to the clubs and secondly to the players.

THE ROUNDUP: Frank Sohne is out of the Duke lineup for possibly two or three days because of a sore neck . . . According to records of both Abilene Christian and Texas Tech, the Raiders hold an edge of only four games won, three lost . . . Morley Jennings isn't kidding when he says all ticket reservatons not called for by 6 p. m. Friday will be placed on public sale . . . Bill Pressley of KSEL is back from his Canada trip raving about the beauty (of the scenery) . . . Junior High Grid Program Is Hiked

If the first day's turnout is any indication of things to come, then the junior high school football program this year will be a whopper.

More than 200 boys reported to their coaches at O. L. Slaton, J. T. Hutchinson and Carroll Thompson, approximately one-third more than reported last year.

At O. L. Slaton Junior High 99 suits were issued, with more expected to be turned over to the boys on the waiting list, and 77 were picked up at J. T. Hutchinson. Carroll Thompson does not open its doors until September 19, and coaches there are handicapped by the delay.

Each school may have three teams, but two is the regular output. Those in the ninth grade play a regular schedule in District 3 against the junior highs from schools in District 3-AA. The eighth graders in the three schools in Lubbock will play each other, and two outside games will be played. The seventh grade teams may play a round robin in the city.

Coaches at J. T. Hutchinson are Roy Hendricks in the ninth grade and DeWitt Alexander for the two lower grades. At O. L. Slaton are Bennie McWilliams and Russell Wimberly, and coaching the boys at Carroll Thompson are Walter Crews and Bert Locke.

Stamford To Meet Beamers

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 7 (Special)—Kenny Scott will be on the mound for the Lubbock Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers softball team tonight at 9:30 MST) when the Texans meet Stamford's All-Stars, another Texas team.

Both teams were knocked into the loser's bracket, Stamford in its initial game, Lubbock in its second round game. During the season, Stamford and Lubbock met twice. The Blue-Beamers dropped an exhibition doubleheader early in the season, but won two straight in the Shaughnessy playoffs of the Texas Softball League.

Stamford Edges Crane

Stamford last night edged a little farther along by licking another TSL team, the Crane Oilers, 3 to 1. Stamford scored all its runs in the first inning and held the lead behind the fine hurling of E. W. Mickler.

The defeat knocked Crane out of further play in the National Softball Congress national tournament here.

Roy Weaks, one of the TSL's better pitchers, will oppose the Blue-Beamers tonight. Lubbock beat Weaks in the playoffs that put the Lubbock team in the finals against Crane.

In other games last night, El Paso remained in the tournament by eliminating Windsor, Colo., 2-1, Phoenix, Ariz., knocked one of the tourney favorites out with a 6-0 victory in 13 innings, beating Toronto, Can:

Slaughter Bids For Loop Batting Crown

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Enos (Country) Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, is stirring up quite a fuss in the National league's individual batting race.

Slaughter today was seriously challenging Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson for the title.

Robinson is but six points in front of Slaughter. Jackie is moving at a .346 gait, including games of Labor day. Slaughter is hard on his heels at .342.

The Dodger sparkplug dropped from .349 to .348 during the past week while Slaughter jumped from .328 to .342. Slaughter belted out 17 hits in 35 trips, a .486 gait.

TEXAN ON TEAM

FT. SHERMAN, Ill., Sept. 7. (AP) W. T. Toney, jr., of Kingsville, Texas, will compete for the United States in international pistol competition at Buenos Aires in November. He was one of six crackshots named yesterday to the U. S. team.

CLUB FOR SALE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 7. (AP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern association are on the sales block. President G. J. (Gus) Jebeles announced last night that he is ready to sell his 51 per cent share of the stock for a "fair price." He said he prefers to sell to a Birmingham group.

Ted Williams Tops Hitters In League

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—If Boston's Ted Williams is looking over his shoulder in the American league batting race, he will find Detroit's George Kell coming strong. The Bengal third-sacker last week picked up eight points on thumpin' Teddy.

While Williams skidded six points to .353, Kell inched up two points to .341. The previous week, Williams held a 20-point margin which now has melted to 12.

Third with .320 is Bob Dillinger of St. Louis. Other leaders through Monday's games included Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .318; Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .313; Cass Michaels, Chicago, .307; Johnny Pesky, Boston, .306; and Vic Wertz, Detroit, Vern Stephens, Boston, and Roy Sievers, St. Louis, all tied at .302.

Williams also is the big man in the specialized departments. He is leading in four divisions, home runs with 37; hits with 176; two-baggers with 37; and runs with 134.

Stephens is tops in runs-batted-in with 145.

O'Dowdy Will Battle Funk

A familiar face will appear on the wrestling card at Sled Allen's arena when Pat O'Dowdy meets Dory Funk in the main event of the local mat wars. The first mach is at 8:30 p. m.

O'Dowdy has had a successful trip through Ohio and in Chicago, but he is glad to be coming back to Texas.

Funk Holds Title

Funk recently won the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight championship in a tournament in Amarillo, and he keeps fit by working on Boys Ranch where he instructs in athletics. Funk wanted a match with Ray Clements, but Clements is going back to south Texas for awhile.

Last week Bob Cummings staged a comeback in his match with Dale Haddock, and this week he has drawn a tough oldtimer—Gorilla Pogi. Pogi looks to be in the best of shape, and should be a tough opponent in the semi-final event. Cummings has been rounding into form the past few weeks, and this match should give the fans lots of action.

In the preliminary, Billy Sandow and Vic Weber meet in what could be called the battle of the referees. Sandow has been handling the officiating the last two weeks, and he will have his first chance to show his wares since his return to the territory. Weber is a popular wrestler with the fans and is fast and hard to handle.

SANDS KAYOES TURPIN

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP) — Dave Sands, Australian champion, won the British empire middleweight crown last night by knocking out titleholder Dick Turpin of England in the first round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

Lubbock Holds Offense Drill

Not even the beginning of classes at Lubbock High school dampened the spirit of the Westerner football team Tuesday in practice, and the boys went through an enthusiastic workout.

Emphasis in the main was on offense, with new plays coming in for lots of attention from Coach Pat Pattison as he prepares his team for the forthcoming campaign which begin with Childress heer on September 16.

Team Likes T

Under the new T-formation, the team as a whole is reacting very favorably, and the Westerner backfield will be hard to equal in the state for its speed and drive.

In the line is a group of 200-pounders and another group of players around the 160-pound mark, with few in between. The success of the T-formation rests heavily on the shoulders of the forward wall since quick-opening plays through the line are the main features of the "T" attack.

Injuries Slight

A few minor injuries still remain in the Westerner camp, the most serious being a slight strain in Center Douglas Wienke's left ankle and a boil on the right forearm of End Billy Wright. A few cases of upset stomach and summer colds have slowed several of the players, but on a whole the condition of the team is good.

As time for the first game nears, the offensive practices will probably be stepped up, with emphasis on pass receiving and punt and kickoff returns.

Heavy defensive drills have occupied the better part of the scrimmages and dummy scrimmages the past week, and improvement in this phase of the game has been very noticeable.

Israel will have an inheritance tax.

Fort Worth Blanks Dallas Nine, 2-0

(By The Associated Press)

Dallas, which has been riding for a fall, finally tumbled last night—night out of the Texas league's first division.

Joe Landrum, Fort Worth's classy chunker, blanked the Eagles, 2-0, on one hit as Shreveport moved into the upper bracket on a sound, 13-5, victory over Houston. Seven unearned runs in the first inning really helped.

Shreveport, with five more games with Houston closing out the season, leads Dallas by half a game. The Eagles wind up the season against the double-tough Cats.

Landrum was one out away from a perfect game in the ninth, when pinch-hitter Roy Sanner singled for the Lone Eagle bingle. It was Landrum's 18th win of the season.

Third-place Oklahoma City downed second-place Tulsa 14-7. Milt Neilsen drove in five of the Indian runs.

Bill White's grand slam homer in the fifth sparked the Beaumont Exporters to an 8-5 victory over the San Antonio Missions. Bob Riga homered for the Missions in the ninth with the bases empty.

Lubbock Bowler Is First In Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 7 (Special) —Ben Brown, Lubbock, and Jay O'Keefe, Amarillo, today held the ragtime doubles bowling championship of the 15th annual Bowlers day tournament, held here Tuesday.

O'Keefe rolled a three-game series of 652 and Brown posted a 605 to give the team an aggregate score of 1,257 pins.

Brown, teaming again with Bill Lillard, Dallas, also won second place. He rolled 666 and Lillard registered 577 for a 1,243 total.

Between them, O'Keefe and Brown collected approximately $700 in prize money.

Participants in the event included such nationally-known bowling stars as Buddy Bomar, Joe Norris and Frank Benkovics.

Teams Clash Tonight For Tourney Title

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 7 (AP)—The Golden, Colo., Coors Brewers lost their first game of the national semi-pro baseball tournament here last night to defending champion Fort Wayne, Ind. General Electrics and sent the tourney into an extra play off round.

The two teams, each with one loss, will play for the championship tonight.

Fort Wayne outhit and outplayed the Brewers to squeak through with a 5 to 2 win. The defending champions scored for the first time last night in the third inning and then built up a three run lead in the fifth when they tallied two more counters.

Grand Jury Is Beginning Probe Of Crusading Newsman's Death

ALICE, Sept. 7. (AP)—A special grand jury today began investigating the slaying of W. H. (Bill) Mason, crusading radio commentator.

Judge Paul A. Martineau of Corpus Christi convened 79th district court at 10 a. m. and swore in the jury, charging its members to investigate the case "from all angles."

He referred to the slaying only as "the killing of July 29."

The 51-year-old Mason, a veteran newspaperman, was shot to death as he sat in his automobile in the industrial outskirts of Alice. Deputy Sheriff Sam Smithwick is charged with murder and is held in the Jim Wells county jail.

Tavern Probe Asked

Martineau also charged jurymen to "investigate beer taverns operating in violation of the law and houses of prostitution.

"If you do this," he added, "you will go a long way toward stopping the shootings in this county."

In his last broadcast, Mason had accused Smithwick of owning the property on which an Alice night club was situated. Mason further had said that loose women plied their trade at the night spot.

Martineau substituted on the bench for District Judge L. Broeter who is ill.

Pleaded Innocent

About 100 persons were in the courtroom.

The session lasted 22 minutes. Then the grand jury retired to begin its work.

J. C. McGill of Alice is foreman. Other members named were W. A. Cobb, Premont; Harry Lee Adams, Alice; T. E. Breedlove, Alice; Tom Dorris, Sandia; Coman Shear, Alice; D. C. Holmes, Alice; Howard E. Fish, Premont; Canuto Ortiz, Orange Grove; H. J. Baca, Orange Grove; W. L. Smith, Sandia and Wash Storm, jr., Alice.

At an examining trial, early in August, Smithwick pleaded innocent to the shooting. Avelino Saenz, an eyewitness, testified that Smithwick fired the single, fatal shot.

Lamesa Fire

building about 50 yards away from the burned-out armory. Firemen credited the absence of high winds with preventing a spread of the fire.

The guard unit, troop C of the 124th mechanized calvary, had used the sheet metal and frame building for the past several months.

The building, owned by the Dawson County Fair association, is located adjacent to Lobo park baseball field in the south part of the city. It is 130 feet long and 35 feet wide.

Guard Helps Fight Blaze

Members of the National Guard troop braved the flames to break a hole into a double-walled storeroom at the rear of the building to remove a large part of more than 30,000 rounds of .30 caliber ammunition stored there. A few rifles and some other equipment in the room also was saved.

The fire was finally extinguished at midnight after a battle of more than two hours, during which the danger of exploding ammunition was present.

The metal walls of the building remained standing, but the wooden interior was gutted.

Firemen Overcome By Smoke

Several firemen were overcome by smoke, and there were a few minor burns reported, but no serious injuries resulted.

The guard troop had held a meeting in the armory tonight, leaving the building at 10 p.m.

"The fire possibly started from a cigaret, but we had special receptacles for disposal of cigarets and observed precautions in smoking," Wassell said.

Smoke Is Intense

A survey of the lost equipment was to be made immediately and new equipment will be ordered, an officer of the unit said.

The volunteer firemen, led by Luther Standifer, city fire marshal, rushed all available equipment—three trucks—to the fire, less than a mile from City hall.

Smoke from the fire was heavy, intense and foggy, drifting over the town. Residents in the north part of Lamesa, some two miles away from the fire, said they could smell smoke when the alarm sounded at 10:45 p.m.

It was not learned whether the building itself was covered by insurance. The building had been used in the past to house exhibits of the Dawson county fair and for other community projects.

Large Crowd Gathers

A large crowd gathered to fight and watch the fire, which grew stronger after the firemen arrived. Although fire-chasers are ordinarily given traffic summons for following fire wagons, police were too busy fighting the blaze to take time out for that.

Lamesa merchants pitched in to help the unit carry out its plans for a dance Thursday night.

Approximately $150 had been lost in the fire and Lamesa merchants this morning made contributions totaling that amount and passed it on to Wassell with instructions to use it in carrying out the dance as planned.

Japanese Worried By House Problem

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sukejiro Suga, 73, a vegetable peddler, took one look at his tiny house today and frowned.

"I'm worried," he said, 'because when I die all my children and grandchildren won't be able to get inside for my funeral."

Sukejiro expects to live another dozen years but his 10 children already have presented him with so many grandchildren he can remember the names of only 60 of them.

would not be a candidate in the election. Since then, however, party leaders have pressed him to make the race. They argue that he has a better chance than any other prospective candidate of keeping the seat for the GOP.

New York Republican and Democratic parties will hold conventions later this month to name senatorial candidates. Present indications are that neither Dulles nor Lehman will be opposed within their respective parties.

Jury Findings Favor Negro Injured Here

A district court jury's answers to special issues found for the plaintiff in the compensation action of Ed Patterson against Texas Employers Insurance association, it was announced this morning.

The jury's findings, signed by R. B. Stalnaker as foreman, included answers that Patterson, a negro, was totally and permanently injured Sept. 10, 1948, when in scope of employment by Plains Cooperative Oil mill here; that a fall was the producing cause of the injuries, and that no previous injury had caused his incapacity.

Attorney Bob Huff of Lamesa, attorney for Patterson, will move for judgment of slightly more than $10,000.

Judge G. V. Pardue presided at the trial, which commenced last week and was recessed over the weekend and Labor day holidays.

Huff and a physician stuck pins in Patterson to show the jury so-called dead areas of the plaintiff's body, maintaining that the condition resulted from the mishap, officials said.

Federal Jury Is Impaneled

A 23-member grand jury was impaneled by U. S. District Judge Joseph B. Dooley in Federal court this morning, first federal grand jury to be called here in 14 years.

"There is no particular significance to the fact that a federal grand jury has been called into session here," Judge Dooley explained after the jurors had been selected. "The business of the court has grown to a point that it is reasonable and proper that federal grand juries be called here from time to time."

Variety of Complaints

A variety of complaints ranging from alleged interstate theft of cattle to the sending of an extortion letter will be investigated by the grand jury within the next two or three days.

Ed Johnson of Whitharral was appointed foreman and Sam A. Henry, jr., of Lubbock was named deputy foreman by Judge Dooley. Other members of the grand jury are:

Haskell Grant, Ropesville; V. C. Bussa, Denver City; H. V. Wheeler, Southland; W. P. Holland, route 1, Amherst; T. E. Verner, Meadow; Hiram Parks, Brownfield; Wyatt L. Hester, Lubbock; J. Marvin Brown, jr., Bledsoe; Alvie Harris, Bledsoe; Carson Echols, Patricia; Buford Dulin, Denver City; William T. Rodgers, Shallowater; L. D. Terrell, Sudan; A. H. Gearhart, Lubbock; R. P. Mayhugh, Wolfforth; Virgil Reed, Sudan; Wm. S. Gage, Whitharral; John W. George, Meadow; Odell Moore, Ropesville; and Lon Carmickle, Abernathy.

Criminal Cases Set

Trial of criminal cases has been set for Thursday.

Judge Dooley was still hearing motions in various civil actions today.

Tuesday he passed two sentences, one a juvenile delinquent in which he suspended imposition of sentence.

Harry Willard Hodges, 34, of Wilson, La., charged with sale of liquor without having obtained a federal license as a retail dealer, was sentenced to three months in jail and assessed a $500 fine. He waived indictment in his case.

In two civil suits, the court took judgment against two automobiles, a 1947 Buick convertible, formerly owned by J. D. Green, a negro; and a 1941 Chrysler club coupe, formerly owned by O. R. Reeves. These judgments were based on confiscation proceedings as an outgrowth of liquor charges in state courts, neither owner having taken out a federal license as a retail dealer.

liam H. Atwell, was returning with her parents, Atty. and Mrs. Webster Atwell.

The line said the Atwells were in a party which included 6 other Texas college students who sailed June 28 for a cruise in the Mediterranean.

Atty. Atwell and Willard joined the group at Marseilles, the spokesman said.

Skull Was Fractured

Willard and Miss Atwell fell Sept. 2 on a winding, outside stairway to the wooden deck, the spokesman said. The girl was reported to have suffered a fractured skull and cerebral contusions.

Willard suffered a concussion, the spokesman said.

Europe Believes Recovery In Sight, Local Pastor Reports

The people of Europe believe conditions there will continue to improve if U. S. aid is extended a while longer, the Rev. William F. Blakeslee, pastor of the St. Elizabeth Catholic church, told Rotarians at their noon luncheon at the Hilton today.

Father Blakeslee said a high French official told him that the Red menace in Western Europe is losing ground, but that it still represents a very powerful bloc in political affairs.

Overpopulation Problem

He said he had been asked several times if he had seen any Communists, and he told the Rotarians that he probably did, since "I saw some fellows that looked at me as if they might have been Reds."

The Catholic priest made a 15,000-mile tour of the continent, visiting France, Italy, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Belgium, England, and Ireland. He said England, Italy, Belgium, and parts of France are very crowded today, and overpopulation is an acute problem.

Conditions in Ireland and Switzerland are the best, with Belgium making a speedy recovery. England seems to be in the worst condition, he commented.

He was introduced by Chas. A. Guy.

New Members Recognized

Four new members were recognized by Pres. Guy C. Victory. Wallace Rix gave them instructions in the meaning of Rotary International. New Rotarians are R. L. Oldham, Virgil D. Shell, J. Davis Armistead, and Ray Lupfer.

Bernard Vincenti of the Jaycees reminded Rotarians of the present drive of his organization for new members to the Matador club, an organization devoted to better support of the athletic activities at Texas Tech.

Visitors included Ed McLaughlin of Ralls, committee chairman for the Rotary International convention to be held next year in Detroit; George Link, jr., of Spur; Stout Jackson of Robstown; Oscar McGinty of Spur, and others.

Horace Coffman led the singing, accompanied on the piano by Roy Bass. Invocation was by the Rev. Mr. Blakeslee.

British Crisis

a moment, said he had no comment but then added, "it sounds rather good, anyway."

In three power talks starting in a fifth floor conference room at the State department at 11 a. m. EST the British leaders are expected to seek American agreement to speed up spending of dollars for strategic materials such as tin and rubber.

At the same time they want to relax a 1946 Anglo-American loan agreement provision so that Britain can increase discrimination against buying American goods.

These and other measures, which American officials are expected to receive sympathetically, are designed to (1) increase the flow of badly needed dollars to Britain and (2) enabled the British to curtail the spending of the dollars and gold they now have.

Bevin was ready to argue, should the point come up, that the troubles which beset Britain are not due to its Socialist government programs. He was somewhat edgy when a newsman asked him last night about charges that British Socialism has bungled the nation's economic affairs.

Canada Third Party

"Unintelligent people always look for a scapegoat," he replied. And later: "We are not here to blame anybody and we're not going to allow anyone to blame us."

The third party in the conferences here—which will go on for at least a week—is Canada. Canada is one of the biggest customers of both the United States and Britain. She is tied to both countries by close economic and military-political arrangements.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, who will carry the ball for the United States throughout the series of meetings, promised a public report on the first session as well as periodic disclosures on further sessions.

Secretary of State Acheson and ECA Chief Paul Hoffman are serving with Snyder on the American delegation. Canada is represented by Douglas C. Abbott, minister of finance, and Lester B. Pearson, minister for external affairs.

Millionaire Leaves 23 Homes For Women Tenants, To Give Them "Independence"

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—The late Wilbur B. Driver, millionaire philanthropist who preferred to be known only as "Mr. X," has bequeathed 3 homes to the women tenants of the buildings.

The will, admitted to probate yesterday, stipulated women as beneficiaries so that "they should have a measure of independence."

The East Orange industrialist made a fortune in metal alloys. He died Aug. 23. Most of his numerous charities were given anonymously, and he became known as "Mr. X" by grateful recipients.

His will said, "for some time I have been interested in aiding to solve the acute shelter problem." This interest led him to acquire "numerous pieces of real estate so that persons might make their homes therein," the will said.

The 23 multi-family houses mentioned in the will are scattered through the Oranges, Newark and Hillside. The number of women who will benefit by the will was not listed.

Marfa Woman Speaks To Pilot Club Today

Miss Phyllis Headless of Marfa, lieutenant-governor of district 8 of Pilot International, was visiting Girlstown, U. S. A., this morning after attending a dinner of Lubbock Pilot club Tuesday night at Hilton hotel.

Lubbock Pilot club has adopted Girlstown as a project to aid and will sponsor a games party at 8 o'clock Thursday night at Seaman hall, with proceeds going to Girlstown. Bridge, forty-two and bingo games will be played. Members are selling tickets for 50 cents each. Tickets also are on sale at Wylie's Drug store.

Miss Headlee spoke at the Pilot club dinner on what Pilot club means and may mean to the individual and the community.

Miss Lois Alexander, club president, introduced Miss Headlee and presided for a short business meeting. Following the dinner, officers and committee chairmen held a council meeting and presented reports.

Those attending the dinner were Misses Alexander, Evelyn Clewell, Lois Graves, Peggy Hess, Hadena Hester, Avey Leeth Smith and Mesdames Ila Beal, Ida Harkleroad, Jewel Huie, Lillie V. Smith, Pearl H. Smith and Letha Simpson, members, and Mrs. Pauline Hitt, a member of Houston Pilot club, Mrs. Irene Ausburn, Mrs. Mallie Sanders and Mrs. Opal Dixon, guests.

Cotton Export

should be made by farmers to prevent this policy from being invoked and urged South Plains people to join in a concerted campaign of expressing their views to Congress on the matter.

The proposal would also kill an earlier plan proposed by Cong. Geo. Mahon of this district to lay aside a stockpile of cotton, grain sorghums and other vital farm prducts until the present unsettled world conditions became more stable.

"I don't know what the United States would have done without its stockpile of cotton before World war II," K. N. Clapp, Lubbock cotton man, said. "It came in mighty handy when things started popping."

The cotton men pointed out that cotton exports were a dominant factor in cotton prices last year and are destined to play a leading role this season.

"With the South Plains' largest cotton crop only a few weeks away, it is imperative that there again be a free export market on which to dispose of the crop," Robertson declared.

"Should the plan now being proposed be approved, the price of our cotton in this area would automatically drop back to support price levels," he added.

Confidential reports from Washington say Senate Bill 2522 is unlikely to be considered for several weeks at least, so cotton men believe farmers sending mail to Congress will have some influence on the final outcome of the bill.

Like earlier committee drafts, it provides for addition of paid labor to the Aiken parity formula, and 90 per cent loan during the first marketing quota year. With no change in prices of things farmers buy, the effect would be a five per cent lower price support in 1950, it was pointed out.

Under present regulations, the CCC cannot sell loan cotton for less than what was paid for it plus storage and even on this basis no more than 300,000 bales per month or 1,500,000 bales per year may be disposed of on the demestic market.

Under the proposal recently presented, the entire 3,700,000 bales could be placed on the foreign market as rapidly as possible.

"This would mean that a farmer could never hope for anything better than the loan price for his cotton," Robertson said.

Sale Of Hot Dogs Includes $1,000

AMARILLO, Sept. 7. (U.P.)—An Amarillo supermarket almost lost $1,000 in cash all because of a hot dog sale, it was revealed today.

There was a shortage of weiners at the Boys Ranch rodeo in Amarilo. A supermarket sent several boxes to the boys. The boys had four boxes left over. About that time the market manager began groaning. Hidden in a box similar to the ones in which the weiners were packed was $1,000 in bills.

The boys had sold one box unopened to a stranger. However, after some searching, the young ranchers found the missing money in one of the boxes and turned it over to the market manager.

Changes In School Procedure Made To Adjust Enrollment

In order to adjust enrollment in several schools, a few changes were being made today in Lubbock public schools, Supt. R. W. Matthews announced.

Sixth grade students at Roscoe Wilson school who live south of Twenty-fifth and west of College Ave. Transferred this morning to J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school to make way for primary students at Roscoe Wilson school.

An unusual feature was noted in enrollment at Overton school, where 104 six-year-old pupils enrolled as beginners, representing approximately one-fourth of the total enrollment at the school. In order to adjust conditions, sixth grade students who ride the bus to school and started to Overton school will go instead to J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school, beginning Thursday.

Students who ride school bus No. 5 started to P. F. Brown school but will go instead to George M. Hunt school.

Central Ward students will report for classes on half-day schedule Thursday. Opening of classes was postponed there because steel fire escapes had not been installed.

Next enrollment check will be made Friday. Enrollment figures Tuesday, the first day of the school year, showed a total of 8-9657 students in 21 schools. Estimated opening enrollment of 817 in the other school, Carroll Thompson Junior High school, which will not open until Sept. 19, would increase the figure to 9,784.

middle of the road between concentrated wealth on one flank and the unbridled power of statism on the other."

Along with his previous opposition to federal aid to education — which he said would put the government into that field — this statement has put Eisenhower on the side of the Republicans who have been criticizing what they call Mr. Truman's swing toward big government.

In contrast, Mr. Truman defended his program against charges that it would lead to "collectivism," "statism" or to a "welfare state". He said the measures he proposed were for the public good and he didn't care what his opponents called them.

Three-Way Race Seen

If Eisenhower should enter or be pushed into the Republican nomination race, most observers here at this early stage foresee a three-way contest between him, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

It would be a case of two college presidents against a senator since Eisenhower heads Columbia university and Stassen is president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Taft will be battling for his political life in next year's senatorial campaign in Ohio. If he is re-elected despite everything organized labor can do to defeat him, his friends predict he will make his fourth try for the GOP presidential nomination.

Reports On Robeson Concert Violence On Way To Governor

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—Official reports on the violence that prevented one Paul Robeson concert and caused a bloody finish to another one were on the way to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today.

The governor has remained silent on the disorders, saying he would not comment until he received the reports.

These were mailed to him last night by George M. Fanelli, Westchester county district attorney, and Sheriff Fred W. Ruscoe. The governor was expected to receive the reports in Albany sometime today.

Restrictions Considered

Meanwhile, a Cortlandt town official may seek to limit mass meetings such as Robeson's Sunday concert that ended with the stoning of departig concert-goers and injuring of more than 100.

It was the second outbreak of violence in as many weekends when thousands of anti-leftist members of war veterans organizations and others turned out to demonstrate against Robeson and his followers.

Alan M. Grant, supervisor of Cortlandt town near here where the outdoor gatherings were held, said the move to restrict such meetings was not aimed at "stifling free speech and assembly."

He said he would propose to the council that sponsors of future open-air meetings meet certain health and safety requirements and file affidavits "as to the purpose of such meetings."

Groups On Subversive List

There were published reports that a group of summer residents of upper Westchester and lower Putnam counties may seek to hold a meeting Sunday at the scene of the riot to voice condemnation of the violence.

The governor directed Fanelli and Sheriff Ruscoe to investigate, and submit their findings following the riot Aug. 27 which broke up a scheduled Robeson concert.

The two county officials said their reports also would cover the second outbreak of violence last Sunday.

The concerts were sponsored by People's Artists, Inc., for the benefit of the Harlem chapter of the Civil Rights congress. The congress is on the Justice department's subversive list.

In New York, the Civil Rights congress said it would hold a mass meeting in a few days to protest the Peekskill disorders, and would send a delegation of 1,000 to Albany to call on Gov. Dewey.

Italy's foreign trade in citrus fruits is reported making an amazing comeback despite loss of the German market and Britain's austerity program.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—Vice President Barkley and his attractive friend, Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley, danced last night—but not until photographers were twice escorted from a hotel ballroom.

The news photographers were ordered out of the Hotel Chase ballroom after objections were raised over picture taking.

"I have asked that there be no pictures taken while we dance," Barkley said after photographers were escorted out for the second time.

About 10 newsmen were on hand when the Barkley party arrived at the ballroom. A short time later Harold Koplar, a son of the hotel owner, ordered the newsmen out.

"Unless you leave, the Barkley party threatens to leave," he said.

Barkley denied that.

Newsmen Get In Again

"I never asked to have the press leave and they had no right to say I did," the vice president said.

Then the newsmen got in again.

But when Mrs. Hadley and Barkley started to dance, a photographer's flash bulb went off and the dancing stopped. Newsmen were escorted out for the second time. Later they agreed to take no more pictures and were allowed to sit in the ballroom.

Barkley came to St. Louis Sunday. He was greeted at the airport by Mrs. Hadley. Rumors of a romance between Barkley, a 71-year-old widower, and Mrs. Hadley, 37-year-old widow, have persisted. Friends say they definitely have not discussed marriage plans.

The vice president plans to leave today for Springfield, Ill., where he has a speaking engagement.

Germans Start A Government

BONN, Germany, Sept. 7 (AP) — The first German government since Adolf Hitler convened today.

The bundesrat, upper house of the West German federal republic was the first branch of the new government to begin work. The bundestag, the lower house, opens its first session this afternoon.

A federal president will be elected Sept. 12 by a convention of 402 bundestag deputies and 400 special delegates from the state legislatures.

British high commissioner, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, and the American and French high commissioners John J. McCloy and Andre Francois-Poncet were present.

President Chosen

The session was officially called to order by Johannes Buehl, 73, of Hamburg, the oldest German senator.

Earlier, in Catholic and Protestant churches, clergymen had prayed for the welfare of the new republic.

The bundesrat elected Karl Arnold as its president. He is a Christian Democrat and minister-president of the largest state—North-Rhine Westphalia, which includes the Ruhr.

Machine Shop Blast Causes Small Damage

An exploding acetylene tank sent firemen to the K and T Machine shop, 1503 Ave. H, at 4 p.m. Tuesday, but alert workmen using hand extinguishers had the resultant fire under control when firemen arrived.

Cecil H. King and A. T. Tarter, co-owners of the shop, said the explosion evidently came from the flashback on the tank, which was ripped to shreds. A high board fence enclosing the tank was blown flat, and telephone wires directly overhead were severed by the fire. Damage was estimated at about $300 by King.

Joe Dillon, garageman, who was working about 20 feet from the tank when it exploded, said he dived into a nearby garage to get under a truck without looking around, since it sounded like debris was falling down upon him.

Shortly afterwards, he and R. E. Huston, who also was inside the garage, ran outside and saw flames shooting up around the tank.

The explosion was heard over a wide section of the city, a resident of 1600 block Eighth street, Mrs. Grace Norrid, reporting hearing the blast in that area.

An unidentified employe from the nearby Lubbock Sash and Door company rushed to the scene with a hand tank to help extinguish the fire.

STUNNED FAMILIES PREPARE TO BURY DEAD

Death Toll In Mass Shooting Mounts To 13 As Youth Dies

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7. (AP)—The toll in Camden's River Road mass shooting rose to 13 today with the death of 10-year-old John Wilson.

The youngster was the third member of his family claimed by the bullets of a stalking gunman who turned a city block into a place of terror yesterday.

The boy's mother and grandmother were killed beside him as they sat in their car waiting for a traffic light.

Three other persons were wounded in the hail of gunfire.

Meanwhile, thousands of curiosity seekers flocked to the scene to examine at first hand the bullet holes and other mute evidence of the massacre—described by police as the worst street shooting in the nation's history.

Killer In Hospital

While the stunned families of the victims prepared to bury their dead, police maintained a round-the-clock vigil at the hospital bedside of Howard Unruh, 28-year-old Bible-reading war veteran who collected guns as a hobby.

A bullet was removed from Unruh's hip last night at Cooper hospital—less than 12 hours after he had pumped 33 shots from a German luger automatic in a methodical door-to-door search for human targets.

Captured when police tear gas bombs forced him from his own barricaded bedroom, Unruh later was found to have the hi, wound. It was not determined immediately whether the bullet came from the gun of a civilian or one of the 50 policemen who converged on his hideout.

Sanity To Be Decided

Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen of Camden county said that arrangements have been made for a mental examination of Unruh—either in the hospital or after his release expected in the next 24 hours.

Four psychiatrists—led by Dr. James Spradley, former head of the New Jersey state mental institute—will question Unruh, Cohen said, in an effort to determine whether insanity was involved in the shootings.

James Unruh of Haddonfield, N. J., expressed the opinion that his brother went berserk because of nervousness brought on by his war service.

James said his brother served in Europe with the field artillery. After his discharge, Howard was employed for a while as a sheet metal worker. He entered Temple university's school of pharmacy last fall but quit after a month, giving "poor physical condition" as the reason. Since then he had remained at home.

Neighbors said he frequently was seen reading a Bible as he walked down the street.

Reports Conflicting

Unruh—an otherwise calm, studious type thought by many of his neighbors to have been a divinity student—was charged with murder before he was taken to the hospital. His formal arraignment will depend on the psychiatrists' report, Cohen said.

The tragedy brought conflicting reports of exactly what happened. Cohen said Unruh told him the slayings were part of a "pre-conceived plan."

In a statement made to authorities, Unruh gave his own version:

A smouldering resentment of his neighbors because of "remarks about my character" grew in intensity through the last two years.

Monday evening, Unruh left his mother with whom he lived and went to Philadelphia to attend a movie. He sat through a double feature "two or three times," eventually returning to Camden about 2 a. m. (EST).

Yesterday morning, Unruh ate a hearty breakfast of cereal, bacon and eggs—prepared by his mother, Mrs. Rita Unruh, 49, before she left for a visit with friends.

Then—carrying the .38 calibre luger automatic loaded with a clip of eight bullets and with other shells in his pockets—Unruh walked calmly out onto River Road.

The stark tragedy began unfolding. The first scene was laid in the shoemaker shop of John P. Pilarchik, 27. Pilarchik was slain as he stood alone in the store.

The grim Unruh moved onto a barber shop. There a half dozen children were awaiting their turn as barber Clark Hoover, 33, cut the hair of six-year-old Orris Smith, sitting on a hobby horse.

Bullets from the luger ended the lives of Hoover and Orris as the youngster's mother sat nearby, too horrified to move.

Back outside again, Unruh spotted insurance salesman James J. Hutton, 45, Westmont, N. J., and mowed him down.

Others Mowed Down

The next stop was the drug store of Maurice Cohen. Finding no one in the store, Unruh went to the second floor. Cohen's wife, Rose, 38, fled into a closet but two bullets found their mark through the door. A third shot pierced her head.

Cohen and his 12-year-old son, Charles were fired at as they climbed out onto a rear shed roof. Cohen fell to the ground mortally wounded but his son escaped unhurt.

A third victim was claimed in a front bedroom when Unruh came on Cohen's mother, Mrs. Minnie Cohen, 63, as she tried to telephone police. (Another version said the boy escaped when his grandmother hid him in a closet.)

In the next few minutes, other bullets killed two-year-old Thomas Hamilton, Mrs. Helga Zegrino, 28-year-old bride of a month; Alvin M. Day, jr., 24, television service man shot as he drove by; and Mrs. Emma Matlack, and her daughter, Mrs. Helen Wilson, slain as they waited in their car for a traffic light with John Wilson.

Tear Gas Used

Those wounded, in addition to the Wilson boy, were Mrs. Madeline Harrie and her son, Armand, 16, shot in their home, and Charles Peterson, struck by a bullet as he emerged from a saloon.

His ammunition exhausted, Unruh returned home as police began arriving on the scene. After a flurry of gunfire, two tear gas bombs were hurled into the second floor bedroom where he was hiding. One failed to explode. The other brought him outside.

An examination of the room produced what detective Marshall Thompson described as an "arsenal of weapons"—guns, knives, more than 700 bullets and bullet making equipment. In the basement of the building was a target range and in a drawer were several marksmanship medals.

On a table a Bible was opened to chapter 24 of the gospel according to St. Matthew, which reads in part:

"And ye shall hear of wars and rumor of war: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass but the end is not yet."

Slipping Of Tube Halts Breathing

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7 (AP)—A 75-year-old woman who was forced to breathe through a small metal tube suffocated yesterday when the tube slipped from her hands.

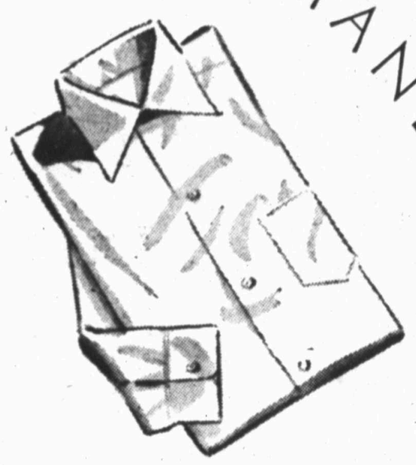

She was Mrs. Laura McMullen, formerly of Harrington, Del. She had been staying here with a sister, Mrs. Flossie Powell.

She had removed it for cleaning and was going to insert a substitute section when it dropped into the folds of her dress.

Eleven Others Are Circulated

Petitions seeking annexation to the city are ready for submission to the city commission for residents of five large areas of suburban Lubbock, members of the city limits extension committee of the chamber of commerce reported at a meeting late Tuesday.

Petitions are continuing in circulation in 11 other areas with indications that at least seven will be signed by a majority of the property owners and residents before the semi-monthly commission meeting on Sept. 22.

J. Ray Dickey, chairman, said the committee hopes to present the petitions to the commission at that session.

The "box score" of progress, as tabulated at the committee meeting, ran about like this:

Areas in which annexation petitions are being circulated, 16; petitions completed, 5; signing progress "satisfactory" or outlook favorable, 7; little interest shown or opposition encountered, 4.

Included among the areas of "little interest" was that known as "Westchester" west of the Brownfield highway along West Nineteenth street.

Opposition petitions were reported in circulation in two areas of South and East Lubbock, but members of the committee were of the opinion that the majority of the residents of those sections favor annexation.

But, if this desire exists, it has not yet been reflected in signatures to annexation petitions, members of the chamber committee were informed.

The status of the 16 areas in which the petitions have been or are continuing in circulation follows:

North Lubbock east of College avenue, north of the Santa Fe tracks and North Second street and extending eastward to include Country Club addition.

East Lubbock, east of Quincy avenue between East Broadway and Fourth street.

South Lubbock between Avenues H and Q from Thirty-fourth street to the Traffic Circle.

THE QUESTION

Do you approve of Defense Secretary Johnson's move in refusing to assign government aircraft to take congressional parties on trips overseas?

THE ANSWERS

J. M. TAYLOR, Lovington, N. M.: "I agree with the defense secretary for this reason: That I think our defense program should be for defense, and another thing, I don't think those fellows have too much business going over there. I feel we have our hands too much in foreign affairs and have sadly neglected home."

REV. F. R. PICKENS, Robertson, pastor of Robertson Methodist church: "Yes, I would rather he would not allow government aircraft to be used for such trips, because it is spending government money that it seems we could use for more essential things."

GLEN CEARLEY, Levelland farmer: "Yes, I do. Those fellows don't have any business using military planes. If they want to travel, they can get some other way—go on a boat, for instance."

V. W. WALKUP, 2121 Seventeenth, building contractor: "I would think if they were going on government business, it would be all right to have government transportation, but if it were personal, it wouldn't. If they don't send a plane, they should furnish expenses, but I think it's all right to send a plane."

J. W. HOLLOWAY, 1913 Thirteenth, retired Santa Fe employe: "I think he's right about it. That's what he's on the job for. Mr. Johnson was appointed to straighten this out. He was put in there to economize without impairing the service, and from what I've read, he's doing a pretty fair job of it. I'm not in any position to analyze, but I draw my opinion from what I've read."

JUDSON JONES, 514 N. Adams, employe of Edwards Co.: "I think it's all right for them to use military planes. Any time they'd go over there, it would be on business referring to the government, and for that reason I don't see anything wrong with their using government planes."

Revolt In Bolivia Is Claimed Crushed

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Mamberto Urriolagoitia said last night the Bolivian revolt was all but stamped out, with Santa Cruz the only strongpoint of resistance left.

The rebel radio in Santa Cruz, on the Argentine border, announced yesterday the formation of a revolutionary government under Victor Paz Estenssoro. The broadcast also continued to predict victory for rebel forces in the 11-day-old Nationalist rebellion.

(Paz Estenssoro, now exiled in Minas, Uruguay, issued a statement there tonight, declaring the revolt was a genuine "peoples movement." He said charges issued in La Paz that it was influenced abroad were false.)

Urriolagoitia declared in an interview that the government "had dominated" the uprising. He promised measures for bettering the lot of the people, especially in the "social and farm" domains.

Garza Wildcat Is Abandoned

P. W. Anderson of Midland, and associates No. 1-A Miller, central-south Garza county wildcat, five miles southwest of Justiceburg, and 440 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 41, block 6, H&GN survey, drilled to 2,617 feet in Permian lime, and failed to find any indications of oil and gas production.

It has been abandoned and plugged.

Continuing To Swab

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Holt, one-quarter o fa mile north stepout to production to the south Cochran county, was continuing to swab perforations at 11,747-794 feet in the Devonian to clean out, test, and complete.

Operator swabbed oil load and 154 barrels of oil in 12 hours, cut with four and five-tenths per cent drilling water and mud.

This prospect drilled to a total depth of 11,817 feet and then plugged back to 11,795 feet and perforated in the Devonian.

It has shown on two drillstem tests between 11,755 feet and the current bottom that it had a considerable amount of free oil despite the fact that it is low to the initial producer from that formation in the Landon-Deep field.

This venture is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey, and one-quarter of a mile north of Stanolind No. 2 Edwards, the first producer in the Landon area from the Devonian.

Locations Are Staked

Lion Oil company has staked locations for two new explorations in the Diamond-M field of southwest Scurry connty, both of which are to drill to 6,800 feet to test for Canyon lime production, using rotary tools.

The company's No. 1 J. N. Bynum is located one-quarter of a mile south of the nearest producer on the southeast side of the Diamond-M field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 178, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is 11 miles southwest of Snyder.

Lion No. 4 Gertie, 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, is on the east side of the Dimond-M field, and 10 miles west of Snyder.

Both are due to start operations soon.

Girl Explains Vanishing Act

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—The mystery of the bride-to-be who vanished on a Labor day train trip to her wedding was solved today—by the girl herself.

While authorities searched for her, Miss Reatha Nixon, 22-year-old journalism student, walked into the Topeka, Kas., police station. She announced she wasn't missing at all; she simply had decided not to go through with the wedding.

Disappeared Monday

Miss Dixon disappeared early Monday as she and a 20-year-old sister, Pauline, were on their way here by train from their home at Ogallah, Kas., for her marriage Saturday night to Russell Johnson, 23-year-old Independence, Mo., farm youth.

Pauline told Johnson upon her arrival at the union station here that she last saw Reatha shortly before the train reached Topeka. She remembered she was sitting in the women's compartment at the end of a coach, reading a book.

Johnson with relatives and friends maintained an all-day vigil for her at the union station. The train was searched both here and at St. Louis.

Confronted by newspaper reporters, Miss Nixon, who will graduate from journalism school at the University of Missouri next February, said:

She Wants To Rest

"As one newspaperman to another, just say circumstances arose that the wedding had to be postponed. I expect we'll be married after I've had a rest. I think there is no doubt in his mind about me and I know there's none in my mind about him."

She refused to elaborate.

A short time later, Johnson, who had carried his search to Topeka, walked into the police station there.

Johnson declined to discuss the LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 7 (AP)—Capt. John Brondello, 36, Italian pilot, has postponed until tomorrow his attempt to fly the Atlantic in a single-engine American plane. Brondello said the flight to New York was delayed, because weather reports indicated strong headwinds over the ocean.

Agreement On Bill Reached

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 7 — New Mexico's Sen. Clinto P. Anderson Tuesday said he would withdraw his oppositon to the Canadian dam project bill, after he and a delegation from West Texas agreed on an amendment to the bill.

Sen. Anderson said he would not oppose the Worley bill if an amendment were added to the effect that no actual appropriations for the dam will be made until a Canadian river compact is signed.

Lubbock Group On Hand

The West Texas delegation, headed by Lubbock City Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, agreed that a compact amendment is needed for the Worley bill, which has been bottled up in a Senate committee because of Anderson's opposition.

Attending the meeting with Sen. Anderson were Sen. Dennis Chavez, also of New Mexico, John Bliss, New Mexico state engineer, and Fred E. Wilson, representing the New Mexico Interstate Stream commission.

Whiteside, who is chairman of the delegation representing 11 South Plains-Panhandle cities urging construction of the dam, was accompanied by Lubbock City Commissioner E. K. Hufstedler; Judge Marvin Jones, former Mayor Lawrence Hagy, and Rex Baxter, all of Amarillo; Mayor C. A. Huff of Pampa; and Joe Cooley of Borger.

Anderson said he thought the bill could be reported from the Senate committee where it has been tied up within a few days after a satisfactory amendment is ready. No particular opposition to its passage is expected on the Senate floor.

However, Anderson said at least a year of negotiations would be required for a compact agreement between Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and possibly Arkansas.

Anderson expressed his disapproval of the way the Canadian dam project had been handled in Washington, adding that New Mexico water rights in the river basin must be fully protected.

Whiteside, who returned home early last night, said the New Mexico senators' opposition was due largely to the fact that they did not receive copies of reports on the project in time for proper consideration of the bill.

Anderson said there was no basic reason for conflict, and with full information available so that New Mexico state engineers could

Three Persons Sought In Lake After Body Is Found On Boat

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Coast Guard crews planned further search in Lake Michigan today for a young couple and their sailing companion who presumably lost their lives in a storm over the Labor day weekend.

Search for the three was started yesterday after the body of the fourth member of the sailing party, a young bride, was found lashed to a mast of the 30-foot battered auxiliary yawl, Lorelei, II.

She was identified as Mrs. Laurel Neitzel, 22, of Chicago. Rescuers reached the boat after it had been sighted from the air about eight miles off shore and by a passing lake freighter.

Missing were her husband, Carl, 29, an engineer, and Louis D. MaQuessan, and his wife, Clarice, 22, both of Chicago. The two couples had left in Neitzel's boat Sunday morning for a trip to Michigan City, Ind.

Coast Guardsmen said Mrs. Neitzel's body was bruised and bloody. A life jacket was strapped about her and she was lashed to the forward mast of the two-masted kawl. They said her husband and the MaQuessans apparently were swept overboard by wind or waves, or were drowned when the sail boat went down at the stern after being swamped by waves.

Boatswain's mate Glen McGeorge of the Coast Guard said the condition of Mrs. Neitzel's body indicated she had been dead about 24 hours. The weather bureau said thunder squalls and high winds struck over the southern part of Lake Michigan Sunday afternoon.

MaQuessan, a student, worked during the summer in a department store. Both Mrs. Neitzel and Mrs. MaQuessan were telephone operators.

Irish-American Pickets Chant Insults At British Officials

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Shouting, sign-carrying pickets dogged British officials last night as they passed through New York on their way to economic talks in Washington.

And: "there'll always be a British empire as long as Uncle Sam pays for it."

About 700 pickets were on hand at the dock as the British delegation, including Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps, debarked from the liner Mauretania.

The demonstrators said they were "American-Irish minutemen."

Pickets Restrained

They lined up along the streets, booing, shouting and waving their banners, as the Britishers left by motorcade to catch a train for Washington. Several pickets tried to push their way into the street, but were restrained by police.

Their placards demanded release of 14 Irish Republican army prisoners, saying:

"Boycott British and six-county (Northern Ireland) goods until these men are released."

Another sign said: "England, get out. America said it in 1776, Ireland says it now."

More pickets thronged about Pennsylvania station as the British officials arrived to board a train.

John Rapp, official of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and picket captain, described the minutemen as "an organization of Irish American taxpayers to stop any more money from going to England."

Estranged Wife Of Cisco Cafe Cook Is Charged In Shooting

CISCO, Sept. 7 (AP) — The estranged wife of a Cisco cafe cook was held on a murder charge today after her husband died of gunshot wounds.

Emory Moad, son of the Rev. C. S. Moad of Cisco, died yesterday, two days after he was shot while sitting in a car in front of his wife's home.

His wife, Alba, 36, was charged with murder.

Last week Mrs. Moad, carrying her arm in a sling, tried to get a restraining order against Moad. She accused him of beating her and displayed severe bruises.

Moad formerly owned a tourist court here. His father has been pastor of the Church of God here more than 25 years. Services for Moad were arranged for today in the Church of God church, with an out-of-town minister officiating. Survivors include his parents, widow, four brothers, three sisters, and two daughters, both in high school.

Loan To Slavs Being Studied

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 7 (AP)—The work of an International bank commission studying Yugoslavia's request for a $280,000,000 loan is nearly completed, it was reported last night.

Yugoslavia has sought the loan to offset the economic boycott which Russia and other anti-Yugoslav nations have imposed on her.

A. S. G. Hoar, assistant director of the loan department of the International Bank for Reconstruction and development, said before he left yesterday for Washington, the loan talks would be completed by the end of this month.

Hoar, who has been here three weeks as chief of the bank's mission, said other members of the mission would remain for another few weeks to talk over loan terms.

Not For Armaments

"As soon as the bank receives its report," he said, "it will be in a position to make decisions as to what steps to take in connection with the requested loan."

Although Yugoslavia has requested $280,000,000, well-informed diplomatic sources here say it is much more likely the commission will recommend a loan of about $50,000,000 to tide the country over until a further study of its future can be made.

The request for the loan comes at a time when Yugoslavia has been the target of attacks in a war of notes between the country and Russia and other Communist-dominated nations.

Premier Marshal Tito last June pledged that western finances will not be used for armaments. He said in a speech Yugoslavia wanted the money for machinery to aid the country's industrial and agricultural projects, but not for tanks and guns.

Scurry County Woman Is Claimed By Death

SNYDER, Sept. 7. (Special)—Mrs. Charles J. Harrell, 68, member of a prominent Scurry county ranch family, died here Tuesday after a short illness.

Born Nov. 29, 1871, Mrs. Harrell and her late husband made the Harrell ranch just north of Camp Springs one of the outstanding in eastern Scurry county.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Snyder Church of Christ. The Odom Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include three children Myrtle Jo and Mary Faye Harrell of Snyder, and Garrett Harrell of Camp Springs; three sisters, Mrs. John Lankford of Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Vine Tarrant of Fort Worth and Mrs. Lula Harrell of Cresson; and three grandchildren.

SIMPLE SOLUTION

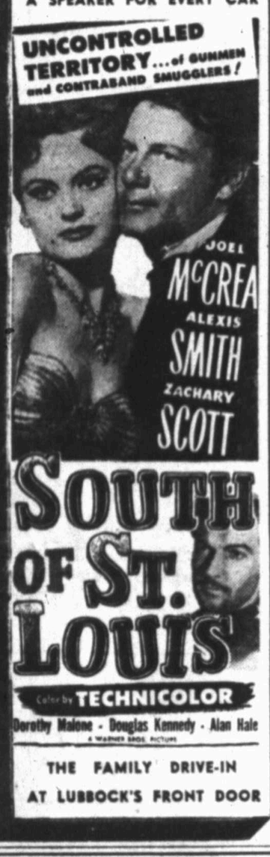

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., (U.P.) — Mrs. John H. Shade complained to police that a neighbor's light was keeping her awake. Police investigated, found the neighbor was "scared of the dark," and suggested Mrs. Shade escape the light by pulling down her window shade.

Senate Democrats Will Resist Compromise On Trade Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP) — The Senate came up today to the start of debate on the sharply contested reciprocal trade agreements bill.

Passage of this measure is one of the more urgent demands President Truman has made of his Senate leaders. It passed the House by a 319 to 69 margin in February but barely squeaked through the Senate finance committee, 7 to 6, last March.

The measure would extend to June 12, 1951, the President's authority to make international agreements raising or lowering American tariffs. It is under hot fire from Republicans.

Truman Draws Line

Administration lieutenants said they will resist any efforts to compromise on a Gop proposal to write into the bill a so-called peril point provision. They have the President's orders to fight it out on this line.

Such a provision would direct the Tariff commission to point out when it believed proposed tariff cuts would damage American industry. The President could go ahead with rate reductions in such cases, but would have to explain to Congress why he took such action.

The President's appointment of former Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island as attorney general removed from the Senate one of the few influential Democrats who had expressed public willingness to compromise on this point with the Republicans.

Huddle Called

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee, who will pilot the measure through the Senate, has opposed any such compromise.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the party's Senate leader, called a conference of all Democrats for tomorrow to check over his team defenses.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) told a reporter he doesn't believe any of the Democrats will go off the party reservation on this issue.

Senator Ives (R-NY) predicted that when the bill finally gets approval of Congress it will carry some provision such as the Republicans have proposed.

GOP Views Given

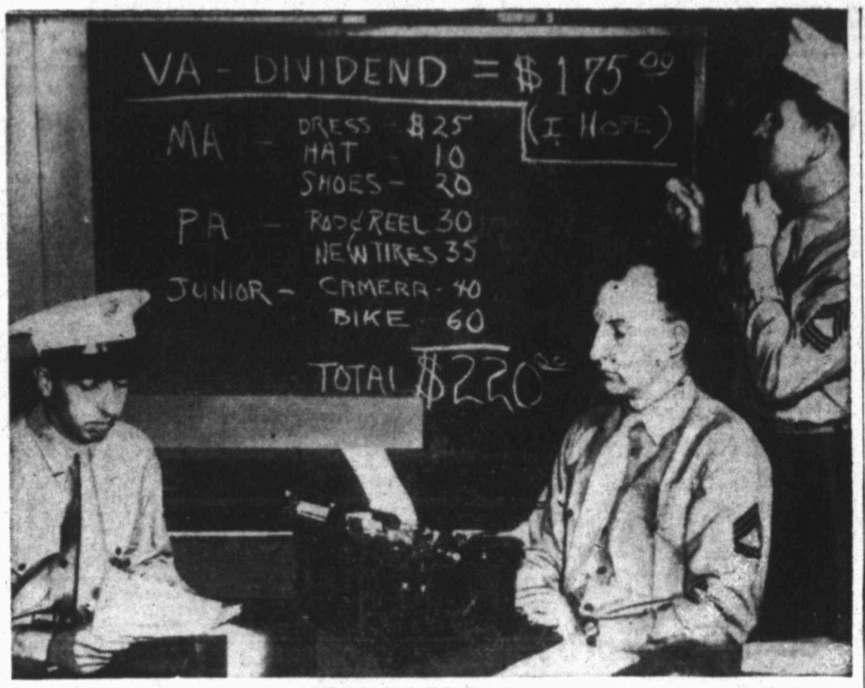

"I don't see why the administration opposes the peril point amendment, except that it didn't suggest it," Ives said. "It won't hamper the program because at best it is only a mild sort of restrainer on tariff reductions."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told reporters that the peril point provision is perfectly sound.

"In effect," he said, "it sounds a warning. Its retention is essential unless we are going to permit the importation of many types of goods produced on very low foreign wage scales. We've got our own industries to think about."

In approving the bill, the Democratic majority of the finance committee said that restoration of the program as it was carried out up to June, 1948, is necessary. The Republican 80th Congress had written the peril point provision into the law which expired recently.

The finance committee majority called this provision unduly restrictive.

ST. LOUIS BLUES (GI INSURANCE DIVIDEND TYPE)—These Marine Corps sergeants in St. Louis, Mo., making application for their share of the Veterans administration's special $2,800,000,000 GI insurance dividend, find the payoff prospects pleasant. On the other side of the ledger, when they tally up all the items the family plans to buy with the "melon," the balance comes out in the red. They are among the 16,000,000 veterans who may have this problem when they get their special dividend checks early next year. The Marine recruiters, left to right, are: Staff Sgt. Harold L. Williams, Tech. Sgt. Olin K. North, and Master Sgt. George R. Schneider.

Tech Faculty Will Hold Meet Friday

Plans for the 1949-50 academic year will be made at 3 p. m. Friday at a general faculty meeting in the agriculture building auditorium on the Texas Technological college campus, President D. M. Wiggins has announced.

Changes in regulations governing class absences along with a discussion of the general orientation, student guidance and counseling programs at the college will be on the agenda.

The general meeting will be followed by staff meetings for the divisions of agriculture, arts and sciences, engineering and home economics at 9 a.m. Saturday.

A joint meeting of the Army and Air Force reserve officers training corps staffs is scheduled for 10 a.m. next Tuesday in the ROTC building. It will follow an Army staff conference at 8 a.m. Monday and an air force counsel at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Anti-Red Policy Of Labor Union Backed

BRIDLINGTON, Eng., Sept. 7 (AP)—The British Trades Union congress in three separate votes yesterday gave overwhelming approval to the strong anti-Communist stand of its general council.

The meeting endorsed the council's report condemning Red activities in British unions by a vote of 6,746,000 to 760,000.

The delegates also supported withdrawal of the TUC from the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions and then voted down a resolution expressing regret at withdrawal from the WFTU.

The congress heard a promise of support in Britain's economic difficulties from Harry C. Bates, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

Bates, head of the bricklayers' union, said, "frankly, to resort to a bit of American slang, we like your guts."

IT seems that one of the New York newspapers sent a reporter over to Israeli to do a story on this new nation, described as a great experiment in modern social democracy and economics.

The reporter got to Tel Aviv and began questioning the residents about conditions, and how they liked them.

He stopped a young man on the street, introduced himself as a New York reporter, and asked:

"How do you like it here?"

"Oh," said the young man, "I like it fine. It's the closest thing to Utopia I can imagine. I've lived here for three years and I hope to spend the rest of my life here."

"Thanks," said the reporter, "I'd like to quote your opinion. Will you tell me your name?"

"Sure," said the young man. "My name's Mike Riley."

"Mike Riley!" ejaculated the reporter, "Mike Riley! What's an Irishman like you doing in Israeli?"

"Oh," said Riley, "that's easy to explain. I'm living the life of Cohen!"

WE were highly flattered the other day to be remembered by a Lubbockite vacationing in New York — and duly appreciative of the information she passed along.

In an envelope bearing the New York hotel address of Mrs. Chas. C. Crenshaw, sr., was the following clipping from the New York Herald-Tribune:

POPCORN BAGS MUZZLED

"Production of a noiseless popcorn bag, a boon to movie patrons, was announced yesterday by the Grand Bag and Paper Co.

"The soft, cloth-like paper not only is rustle-proof, but it is porous and cannot be blown up and exploded, or filled with water and dropped from a balcony."

Of course, institution of the new bags in Lubbock theaters would be a fine thing in some respects, albeit attending a picture show would become a prosaic affair, instead of what now is a glorious, adventurous game.

However, removing the popcorn bag nuisance might result in patrons' being better able to see and hear all the picture—and that, in some cases, would be very boring, indeed!

We see by the papers that four little boys have been employed by a Cleveland concern as candy tasters.

EVERY city of importance ought to have its own flag and most of them do.

The municipal flags fly over city buildings, are used in parades and in connection with other affairs of city-wide importance.

Lubbock doesn't have a flag, but since it is a city of importance—especially to those of us who live within its borders—it should have one.

Certainly, among our talented people there must be some who know about heraldry and who, therefore, could design a flag that would mean something, as well as look good.

A great many people will say: "Phooey! Municipal flags don't mean anything. Lubbock has no more use for one than it has for a municipal sawmill, a subway system, or a Commissioner of Docks and Wharves."

Practically, they may be right. But aesthetically, they are wrong.

There are a lot of little things in life that can mean a great deal and a municipal flag, fostering further community pride and standing for the city which we call home, is one of them.

We ought to have a flag, if for no other reason than to have something most other Texas cities haven't got and to call attention of strangers, or newcomers, to our municipal pride.

ONE of the best things that can be said for Gov. Allan Shivers to date is that his unexpected ascendancy to the chief executive's office—and the resultant improvement of his political position in 1950—did not set well with the lobbyists for a great many of the entrenched, selfish interests in this state.

The lobbying gentry hasn't made any noise about its attitude. Lobbyists never make any noise. They work in the dark, behind the scenes. But the fact remains that they wish it was someone else, rather than Mr. Shivers, who got into the governor's office and, thereby, placed himself in a pretty good position to get elected in 1950.

Of course, the pressure boys may be able to wangle around and get the governor to see some things their way. That would be nothing new and has been done on many occasions here-to-fore. But the fact remains, they aren't happy and have been meeting, surreptitiously, already, looking over the gubernatorial possibilities for next year and wondering about the best move from their standpoint.

It is, of course, 'way too early for anybody to figure out, with any degree of certainty, who should be, elected governor in 1950—let alone who will be.

Texas politics has more vagaries than a butterfly in June and a lot of things can happen to change the picture in the next 10 months.

But the way things look now, there's a possibility that the big interests will dig up Wilbert Lee O'Daniel, who, at the proper time, will be sent out in a white truck, (instead of on a white charger) to save the dear peepul from this, that, or the other calamity.

Despite the fact that he is the biggest filmflammer in Texas political history, Wilbert Lee is a master of mass psychology, a good salesman and has more brass than the brassiest of brass monkeys. With plenty of money behind him—which, of course, he would have—he'd have to be contended with in a big way.

OLD BILL McCRAW, the cracker barrel philosopher from the shadows of Dallas' skyscrapers, once succinctly summed up Wilbert Lee's political appeal and his then overwhelming success with the voters.

When somebody asked Bill how come Wilbert Lee defeated him for governor, the irrepressible redhead answered:

"Wilbert has the greatest of all political formulas. You see, the poor folks think he's 'fur' 'em—but the rich folks know he ain't!"

That was true in the broadest sense a decade ago and while a lot of people since have found Wilbert out, there remain a sizeable number who still are impressed by the self-styled "ga-reat and gooo-ood man."

It will not be at all surprising if the vested (and frock-coated!) interests in Texas bring Wilbert out of the mothballs come next campaign time.

If they do we shall see if Texas' most vocal political medicine man can keep on fooling most of the people most of the time!

BY DREW PEARSON: BARKLEY'S DAUGHTER WANTS NO VICE-PRESIDENTIAL MARRIAGE

British Pound Sterling Is Likely To Be Devalued

WASHINGTON. — Capitol society's biggest question mark is whether Vice President Alben Barkley will or won't marry the winsome widow from St. Louis, Mrs. Carlton Hadley.

The speculation comes up at every cocktail party, and as usual was the subject of much buzzing at a recent party in honor of Barkley's daughter, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, whose husband is the nephew of the famed general and who holds down the State department's important western European desk.

PEARSON

Mrs. MacArthur, asked point blank whether her father was going to marry Mrs. Hadley, summed it up quite briefly.

"Leave it to sis," she said, referring to her elder sister, Mrs. Max Truitt.

"Do you think sis is going to let anyone push her out as father's official hostess and second lady of the land?".

Note—Mrs. Truitt as the vice president's hostess attends most White House dinners, including the exclusive dinner for Winston Churchill to which not even senators Connally and Vandenberg were invited.

British Talk Finance

The British financial conversations, beginning today, are probably as important as any monetary talks held in this country since the days when Alexander Hamilton settled the debts of the 13 colonies. Here is how the respective American-British viewpoints stack up:

British strategy—Sir Stafford Cripps and Foreign Minister Bevin have been rehearsing a sales talk which will have a certain amount of American appeal. They will argue that Britain is the chief bastion of west European democracy, that is her system fails, Russian communism is certain for all Europe. In this case, all the investment of the war, the investment of the Marshall plan, the investment of the British loan will be lost. Therefore it is better, argue the British, to bail out that investment rather than lose it.

Furthermore, Bevin and Cripps plan to talk in terms of air bases. Britain is the one country relatively safe for B-36 bases. And those bases must be protected not merely from oueside aggression but from inside unrest and revolution. A sound British economy, they will argue, is one of the best safeguards.

British remedy—to remedy this, Foreign Minister Bevin wants an economic union between Britain, Canada and the U. S. About this, Cripps has been skeptical. He has hoped for outright U. S. aid.

State department plan—Secretary of State Dean Acheson, whose mother came from one of the great Canadian distilling families, has given up hope of a loan to Britain. The temper of Congress, he knows, is flatly opposed. Furthermore, no increased aid for Britain is likely under the Marshall plan. Therefore, Acheson will propose increased buying of British strategic materials—tin, rubber, etc., which can be stockpiled for emergencies. This can give British economy a lift, but it will be only temporary.

SNYDER plan — Amiable, easy-going John Snyder, whose St. Louis bank once side-stepped hiring him back, will sit across the table from some of the keenest financial minds in England and Canada during the talks. He heads the U. S. delegation..

Snyder's panacea is to devalue the British pound, and his plan probably will prevail. This will mean that the pound buys less British food imported from abroad, which may mean another round of wage demands.

But it also means that British exports can better compete abroad. For, devaluing the pound is a painless way of lowering wages, lowering costs, and underselling competitors.

However, the Snyder plan also is a temporary stopgap—unless Britain takes advantage of this financial fillip to do two things:

1. Increase industrial efficiency, get new labor-saving machinery, and permanently lower costs.

2. Reduce expenditures and balance the budget.

Both will be difficult.

Britain's basic problem—Much more difficult, however, is Britain's long-range basic problem—namely, diminished resources. No temporary stopgap such as devaluing the pound can cure this. The British once were affluent because they were milking Asiatic colonies, because they had their own coal and iron ore and the most modern factories in the world.

Today, British iron ore is exhausted—even as ours is becoming. Coal is down so deep it is expensive to mine, factories are nowhere near as modern as ours, labor is not efficient, and Asiatic colonies are gone. Millions of people in those colonies once lived just above the starvation level while the British empire wore ermine. Now, with the social revolution in Asia, the British, on a crowded, overpopulated island, still cling to the standards of living they maintained as an empire.

But if John Snyder insists on lowering those standards too much, then Britain may follow the French and Italians and become one-third Communist—or more so. That's why the financial talks opening today are so important.

Barkley Goes Back To Farm

Vice President Barkley, America's most-loved personality, sometimes gets tired of gazing at the 96 rambunctious personalities over whom he presides in the Senate.

So, last week, when asked what plans he had made for the Labor day weekend, Barkley replied:

"I am going to escape from the Senate and go down to my farm in Paducah, where I plan to just gaze at the cows and the pigs. I am sure that will refresh my outlook on life."

FOR some reason known only to Washington bureaucrats of years gone by, Milwaukee has no Federal narcotics agent, the largest city so situated. An hour-and-a-half by rail from Chicago, Milwaukee has become the wholesale contraband drug center of the Middle West and the dope binge rendezvous for Chicagoans. Reefer "tea-pads" and opium-smoking dives are common there. The local police are efficient and more honest than in most good-sized cities, but they can't cope with the expert tactics of the vast, rich, resourceful international dope ring. The nearest U. S. narcotics agency is in Madison, the Wisconsin capital, a college town comparatively free of contraband drugs.

In grandpa's day, the three reigning American stage beauties were Lillian Russell, Della Fox and Mary Anderson. Miss Anderson, a dramatic actress of tremendous talent, married Antonio de Navarro, rich and of titled ancestry. Their son, Jose de Navarro, is in New York, at the St. Regis, on a periodical inspection of the Navarro business and realty interests here. His father had heavy investments in New York elevated railways and built the series of apartment houses then known as the Spanish Flats on West 59th St., also called the Banjo Flats. It was then reported that these properties were set up as a source of income and a haven for Queen Isabella of Spain, if she should have to flee her throne and country in a revolution, instead, Isabella was banished to Paris because of her scandalous romances with bullfighters and her own soldiers. In Paris, she engaged in a notorious affair with General Daniel Sickles, one-legged hero of Gettysburg, who in Washington had killed the son of Francis Scott Key, who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner." The young man, District Attorney of the Capital, had seduced Sickles' young wife.

MARY Anderson was profoundly religious. After she married, she quit the stage and lived in seclusion in Broadway (a town), England. She refused fabulous offers to return here for at least a farewell tour. But she consented to come to Chicago to stage "The Garden of Allah." at the Auditorium, still beautiful, stately and almost saintly.

Enough To Scare Any Cow

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine V'ewpoint

FOUR psychologists at the Illinois Institute of Technology have compiled a "worry timetable" based on what 103 psychologists in the older age group confessed they worried about at various ages.

Here's the worry chart: Age 18—idealism and personal development. Age 20—personal appearance. Age 23—sexual morality. Age 26—making a good impression. Age 30—pay and cost of living. Age 31—personal business success. Age 33—job security. Age 38—health. Age 41 — political convictions. Age 42—marital difficulties. Age 45 — giving up ambitions. Over 45—health.

MILLETT

In fact it's so depressing it ought to make us determined not to let our own lives produce such a worry chart. But how can we avoid it?

It might help if we'd clip that worry chart and keep it in a place for easy reference. Then when we start to worry about whatever it bothering us at our particular age, we could look at the chart and be reminded that last year we were worrying about something else and the next year will bring a new worry.

Unless, of course, we do something about it by refusing to spend our lives worrying over one problem after another.

SOME WORRY HARD TO AVOID

IT'S true we can't avoid worry in some periods of our lives. It's hard not to worry when there isn't enough money to pay the bills, or when we're seriously ill.

But certainly every year shouldn't have its worries. There are bound to be good years—years when we have no real worries at all, if we would only stop to consider how lucky we are, instead of fretting over some minor problem, for lack of a real one.

It seems to me that the person who has led a happy and successful life would have some blank spots on his worry chart. There would have been some periods that he recognized as good while he was living through them.

Life doesn't have to be one worry after another—unless we make it so.

"Try And Stop Me"

ONE OF America's great newspapermen wrote a special story for Christmas morning a few years ago. He poured his heart into the copy, finished at in the happy glow of a job well done, and phoned his managing editor, "Say, I'm really proud of this piece. It's hokum but it's the best thing I've done in a year," "Great," said the M. E. "There's no news to speak of coming through. I'll give you the left-hand column of the front page. Get the copy down here fast."

The writer gave his piece to a trusted messenger, trimmed the tree for his kids, and went to bed. At 4 a. m. the managing editor phoned him demanding frantically. "Where's that feature? I can't hold the presses 10 minutes more."

Search for the messenger was fruitless. He didn't turn up, in fact until late Dec. 26. "Oh, that story you gave me the other night," he recalled when the writer started shouting at him. "It sure was good I started reading it on the way downtown, and it make me cry so. I took it home and read it to my wife for a Christmas prenet."

NEW RECORD SET

Cyclist E. Wagstaff of the Broad Oak Club has set up a new English cycling record for the trip from Nottingham to London and back, 251 miles, in 16 hours 35 minutes.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Future Of Video Menaced By Complex Operation, Repairs

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 — Man I know named Bill, ordinarily a placid serene fellow, and a strict teetotaller, to boot, came in with a wild look in his eye and said he thought he would move to Patagonia.

RUARK

"I hear they do not have television in Patagonia," he said. Bill reached for a coke and gulped it down in one swift swig. "I wish this was straight bourbon," he said. "My nerves are shot. I have been subjected to modern civilization, and I do not think I am strong enough to stand it much longer."

"Speak, little man," said I. "Unload your soul in papa's ear."

"Well," said Bill, "I bought a second-hand television set, a table model. I bought it from a friend in New Jersey. With the aid of one non-scientific friend I removed the antenna from the roof of his three-story house. This took 20 minutes.

Deal Is Completed

"I then put the set in the car and drove to New York. I called the service company of the manufacturer and asked to have the set installed. First they wouldn't install it because I had not originally bought the set.

"Then they softened up, finally, and said they would hook it up for me for $35, whether or not I had an antenna. Then they relented some more and I beat them down to a time charge for the job. It would need two men, they said, at $4 each per hour, portal to portal pay.

"The men came and they got to work. The task consisted of fastening the antenna to a sixth-floor roof railing running the wire down a fire escape to a fourth-floor window and then tieing it to the machine. The cost for this was $23.

"THEN I asked them about renewing the service contract that had been lapsed for six months. They told me it would cost $45 for the following year. But with some extras. There would be a $5 depreciation fee, whatever the hell that is and then a $3.50 inspection charge before the contract could be renewed. The inspection consisted of looking into the back of the set and mentioning that everything looked fine.

"I do not think that television is worth all this trouble," Bill said, and his voice rose to a slight scream. "I do not think it is permanently for the people until they uncomplicate it. I do not see the necessity of hiring a lawyer, practically, to represent you in the matter of hooking a wire to a machine.

Bill's beef may be a little heightened by a long, hot summer, but he has a pretty good point about this television business. So far as I can see, the average set in the average price range hasn't improved perceptibly since the war. The programs are still pretty awful, with the exception of sports and special events, and the possession of a set imposes a mechanical responsibility equal to owning an economy-sized cyclotron.

Programs Are Poor

I've got one of the little monsters in my house, and it is as temperamental as redheaded woman. All I can seem to find on it is tap-dancers and puppet shows, and it fades and shrieks and squiggles and cuts out at the most inopportune moments, such as when Musical is up with two on and two out.

They say reception is impossible on some channels and this I know, but I do not care about, because I do not figure it is my problem.

The machine's innards are so mystically complicated that no ordinary mechanic can doctor it, but one must scan the fine print of the contract and summon a bevy of unfrocked physicists to twiddle a knob or adjust a screw.

The modern radio has become almost as fool-proof as the modern auto, and until they press the wrinkles out of this video, so that the average untalented man cah own one with a fair degree of simplicity, I don't foresee the brilliant future for television that was supposed to drive radio and the movies out of business. You can't make it too hard for the customer and still flood the land with your product.

Today's Journal Editorial

TO THE LADIES!

Persistence and determination of the highest quality have earned their reward with the announcement of the purchase of the colonial structure at 2020 Broadway for use as a Lubbock Women's clubhouse.

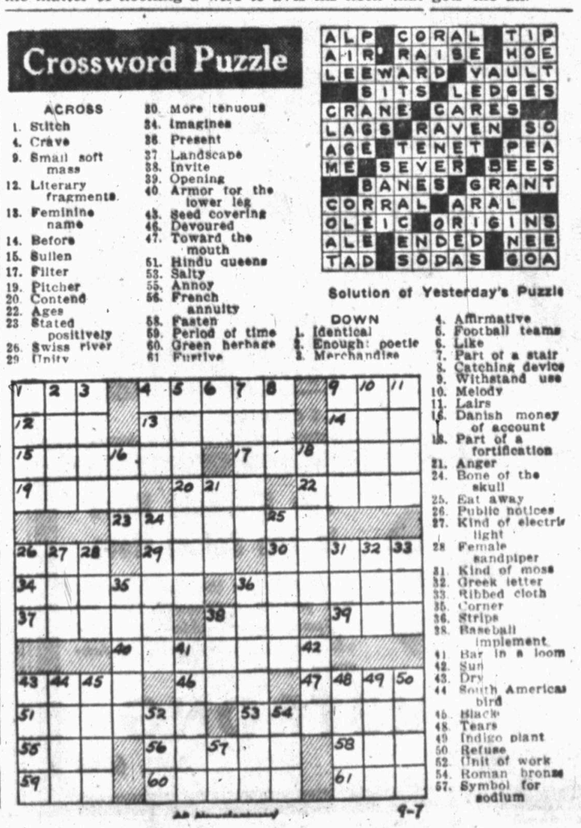

Only those behind the scenes, or privileged to observe closely, can appreciate just how long and difficult has been the struggle of the club toward this goal. It has continued for years. It is a high tribute to the perserverence of those who have taken the lead in the effort that they did not despair in the face of the many obstacles and discouragements they have encountered—and which they now have overcome.

But the club now has a beautiful home. Of greater significance, it has an enduring memorial to the spirit which has gained recognition of the Lubbock Women's club as an outstanding organization of its kind in Texas and the Southwest.

MEN
READ CAREFULLY
I want to talk to ten men who are really ambitious in securing a position that will save them steady year around employment. In other words there are no laying off periods. Consistent income is the income that really counts.

It doesn't matter what your past employment has been. We teach you our work. It will be necessary that you be willing to get along on $75 to $85 per week for the first four to six weeks while learning our work.

If you are mechanically inclined or can handle men in a supervisory capacity, or your present income is not satisfactory, answer this now. You must be able to give the names of three persons who will vouch for your honesty and integrity.

We prefer men who are married or who have some sense of responsibility and have a car.

We will present our plan only if your wife accompanies you. Her happiness is continent upon your success, and we feel that she should know completely from the first what you will be offered.

Therefore, if you are honest and of good character, a willing worker and neat in appearance apply—

CLOSED-COURSE CONTESTS PROTESTED

National Air Race Changes Indicated Since Fatalities

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7. (AP)—Definite changes in the National Air races appeared certain today if they are to be held here again next year.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke was one of the latest to protest against the closed-course competition that took the lives of flyer Bill Odom and two other persons Monday.

"Air races have been a great thing for aviation and this city," he said. "I am all for them if the danger can be removed. I am definitely opposed, however, to any further closed-course racing."

He said he would meet with racing officials and others on eliminating the danger "if they are to be held in Cleveland."

Crash Into House

In nearby Berea, where Odom's plane crashed, Solicitor Paul H. Mitchell said he had been reliably informed that closed-course racing would be banned at Cleveland airport, the race site.

Odom's plane struck a house in the suburb, killing a young mother and her year-old son in addition to the world famous pilot.

Mitchell made the statement at a Berea council meeting in which a resolution protesting the races was passed. The group authorized the solicitor to seek an injunction, if necessary, to prevent further closed-course racing.

Directors for the air races are expected to meet soon, possibly next week, to take up the problem. Frederick C. Crawford, races president, said the entire situation must be "evaluated before a decision if and when to hold the event in 1950 can be reached."

Burials Scheduled

Crawford is head of Thompson Products, Inc., here, which sponsored the fatal Thompson trophy race.

"The air races have been valuable to the prestige of the city," he added. "We want to do the right thing."

Odom's body was to sent today to Columbus, Miss., where his parents live and where he will be buried. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

The bodies of Mrs. Bradley C. Laird and her son, Craig, who died after fire enveloped their flamhome, will be sent to Minneapolis today for burial.

Hike In Telephone Rates Given Okay

WACO, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Waco board of aldermen last night endorsed a raise in telephone rates for business and straight-line residence telephones here.

They turned down a proposal to raise the rates on party lines. They approved a raise in residence phones from $2.75 monthly to from $6.75 to $8.

Ginger Rogers Cuts Off Third Husband

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7 (AP) — The man who didn't come to dinner no longer is the husband of Ginger Rogers.

The 38-year-old actress obtained a divorce yesterday from her third husband, actor Jack Briggs, jr., 29, who she described as "everything I've ever dreamed of" when they married in Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 16, 1943. They separated last July 30.

Charging cruelty, Miss Rogers testified that Briggs didn't come home to dinner — even on their sixth wedding anniversary when she prepared the meal herself. Mrs. Lela Rogers, the actress' mother, said Briggs went to sleep in front of guests—and snored.

Ginger's attorneys said a property settlement has been signed, giving him $5500 interest in any community property. Her previous husbands were E. J. Culpepper, a vaudeville actor, and actor Lew Ayres.

Some Of The Beauties May Have To Eat Oats

Kentucky Derby Much Easier Than Miss America Contest

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—It is much easier today to win the Kentucky derby than it is to become Miss America.

All a horse has to do to cinch the derby is to run faster. And it can use all four legs.

But it doesn't have to prove it can ride a human being, sing a folk song, paint a picture, look well in bathing suit and evening gown, do a tap dance or give Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

The average race horse isn't even sure Lincoln ever had an address in Gettysburg.

May Eat Oats

But to win the Atlantic City beauty contest now a girl not only has to show dreby form—she has to demonstrate personality, talent and intelligence. And she goes through a more rigorous training routine than the average derby entrans. She may even have to eat oats (oatmeal) to slim her figure.

Many of the lassies competing this week for the nation's $5,000 beauty crown at the Jersey resort spent a week or two in Manhattan getting a final curry-combing. They hire specialists to teach them how to walk gracefully and use makeup artfully.

"I've tramped miles up and down my hotel room learning all over again how to walk," said brown-haired, 18-year-old Miss Arkansas—Barbara Brothers, bust 34, waist 23, hips 34. She would like to have a rubber face.

Face Worn Out

"Mine is all worn out from smiling," she said.

Another candidate, "Miss Wyoming"—Esther MacLeod, 22, bust 34, waist 25, hips 34, spent the last few days before the contest studying at the Barbizon School of Modeling. Sponsored by the University of Wyoming, she is a mezzo soprano and want sto continue her study of music.

Miss Arkansas will be one of the few entrants with a claque—three University of Arkansas students who decided to go to Atlantic City and root for her.

One is Bob Riley, an almost sightless war veteran who also is a member of the Arkansas legislature.

"Bob is real fun," said Mrs. Tom Allen, chaperon for Miss Arkansas. "Once, during a night out, he lost his glass eye. So he put an ad in the university paper saying:

"'Lost one glass eye—probably bloodshot.'"

Man Seeks Divorce After Lengthy Wait

NAVADA, Mo., Sept. 7 (INS) — A Navada, Mo., man filed a divorce suit against his wife today.

ELECTION IS SET

HILLSBORO, Sept. 7. (AP)—An election Sept. 27 will decide the fate of a proposed Hill county junior college. Voters will ballot on a $390,000 bond issue for construction, a 20-cent maintenance tax and establishment of a seven-member board of trustees.

Segregation In South Backed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 7 (AP) —A plea by negroes to do away with segregation in Birmingham was answered by the city commission with an ordinance rezoning about 30 more acres for negro houses.

The rezoning law was passed after a heated session yesterday at which two commissioners told a negro leader that traditional segregation laws in the south could never be removed without bloodshed.

A. C. MacLin, president of the Birmingham branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people, called on the commission to remove "all evidences of segregation and discrimination."

For answer, Commissioner James W. Morgan declared: "You know the segregation laws in the south are not going to be broken down without trouble. And the blood is not going to be laid on our hands."

Morgan said the NAACP was making "a big mistake" in seeking to end segregation.

Eugene Sonner, another commissioner, told the negro spokesman that "as long as you live and as long as Connor lives there will be segregation in Birmingham and the south."

The area rezoned for negro houses lies in the disputed North Smithfield area. It adjoins the site of five negro houses that have been dynamited since March. The houses are in an area zoned for white persons and were not affected by yesterday's ordinance.

MacLin said the NAACP planned to take the new zoning law into federal court.

Town Advertises It Really Exists

MAHWAH, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP) "Did you say Mahwah?"

That question, usually repeated in an incredulous tone of voice by hotel clerks and the like, greets residents of this community of 5,000 wherever they go.

So Mahwah's businessmen decided to do something about it. A large advertisement appeared this morning in the New York Times, explaining, among other things, that there really was such a place as Mahwah.

The ad said the name came from an Indian expression meaning "meeting place." It described the rich and varied history of Mahwah, located in Bergin county in the path of Revolutionary war campaigns. One of the town's distinguished products was poet Joyce Kilmer, author of "Trees."

"And finally," the ad concluded, "Mahwah has all modern improvements, including gas, electricity, telephone, and sidewalks in some parts of town (which aren't taken in at night)."

Lightning Is Fatal To Houston Worker

HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (U.P.)—A 23-year-old laborer died instantly yesterday during a minor electrical storm when lightning struck him and broke his neck.

Hometown Planning To Throw Big Clambake

Shirley May Will Be Feted For Attempt To Swim Channel

SOMERSET, Mass., Sept. 7 (AP) This town will throw a clambake for Shirley May France even though she didn't swim the channel.

The 17-year-old schoolgirl, who was beaten yesterday by the tides, will be feted just as though she had been successful.

There will be a big parade the Saturday after she returns to this small community—then the clambake.

"I think she would have made it if they hadn't pulled her from the water," said her disappointed mother, Mrs. J. Walter France, a factory worker.

Had Rough Trip

"But," she added quickly, "her father knows best—what condition she was in." France accompanied his daughter in a boat on the long grind.

Shirley, herself, thought she could have made it. In a short-wave radio talk with her mother last night, she said:

"I think I could have made it, but dad knew best."

Shirley said she suffered a badly swollen tongue, a cramp in her arm and paralysis of one leg.

"I had a very rough trip," she said.

She said she became "very cold" after the water washed the grease from her body.

She told her sister, Marilyn, 13, that she expected to fly home in about three days.

Shirley's father told his wife that he "cried like a baby when I had to take her out of the water —but I'm the proudest dad in the world."

Soup Is Blamed

"She did a wonderful job against tremendous odds," he added. "I had an awful time getting her out of the water.

"When I asked her to give up she refused. She didn't want to quit. Finally one of the boys in the boat jumped into the water, disqualifying her. If he hadn't jumped in, I would have myself."

Mrs. France said she thought the soup fed her daughter during the swim didn't do her any good —"she never had been fed soup before while in the water."

It was Gagnon who had sensed Shirley's possibilities and rowed her boat during training swims in Mt. Hope bay.

The girl had hoped that a victory over the channel would bring funds to build a new house for the family. The small cottage they now occupy has no running water.

Canadian Dam

protect the water rights of the state, the $85 million Panhandle project could go forward without delay.

The meeting was described by Whiteside as "amiable and with a very satisfactory conclusion." He said all the members of his committee took an active part in discussing past and present differences with Sen. Anderson.

Whiteside said he believed that very little New Mexico water was involved, as only the creeks below the Conchas dam would provide water for the new reservoir. Most of the water would come from West Texas watersheds, he said.

To Map Amendment

He said the South Plains-Panhandle committee would confer with New Mexico state engineers and other officials on the wording of the amendment.

The state legislature already has taken steps toward stimulating compact negotiations with the appointment of a compact commissioner, and Gov. Shivers is making arrangements for compact discussions, he said.

The $85 million project includes a dam and a reservoir on the Canadian river at Sanford, northeast of Amarillo, and a pipeline system to supply water to 11 South Plains-Panhandle cities.
