Fair begins today!

The Mitchell County Fair begins today! Booths have been constructed, exhibits set up and the E & B Amusement Carnival has arrived—all in time for the 1995 fair.

The fair will be held at the Mitchell County Ag Barn September 28, 29 and 30.

The dunking booth is a new feature of the fair this year and there's a twist to the usual dunking booth—those in the dunking seat will be armed with high powered water guns of their own. The Colorado Independent School District, Colorado City Police Department and Wallace Unit prison all have representatives who have agreed to be dunked.

The booth will be open Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. Thu McAdams, with the Colorado City Police Department, will be in the dunking booth from noon to 1 p.m. Jim Iglehart, CHS principal, is scheduled for 1 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. Bill Grissom, head coach at CISD, will be in the booth from 1:45 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. when Jackie Edwards, assistant warden at the Wallace Unit takes Iglehart's place in the booth. Officer Tom Calzada, the newest officer at the Colorado City Police Department, will be in the booth at 3 p.m.

The third annual Domino and 42 Tournament will be sponsored by the Colorado City DARE program this year. Trophies will be provided by the First National Bank and The City National Bank. Registration will be Saturday at 8 a.m. and the registration fee is $10.

According to DARE Officer Charles Rice, the tournament rules and procedures will be the same this year as it has been in past years.

The E & B Amusement Carnival, who pulled into town Monday, has brought 18 rides this year—more rides than ever before.

Accident sends two to hospital

Two men were airlifted to area hospitals with severe injuries following a one-vehicle accident in Loraine last Thursday evening.

The accident occurred at 7:15 p.m. The vehicle was southbound on FM 644 when the driver failed to make the curve, lost control, hit the curb and struck a concrete pillar underneath the I-20 overpass at mile marker 225, according to Department of Public Safety Trooper E. J. Nunez.

The driver, Martin Solis, 22, of Robert Lee, was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit at Angelo Community Hospital in San Angelo Sunday. Mauricio Salinas, 57, of Loraine, a passenger in the car, was in stable but critical condition Sunday at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

Solis, a former Loraine resident, was pinned inside the vehicle for 35 minutes while Colorado City and Loraine Fire Department personnel used Jaws of Life equipment to free him. Loraine Fire Department

First Responders assisted Mitchell County Ambulance EMTs in caring for Solis while both departments were attempting to free him from the wreckage.

Two hundred two feet of skid marks indicate that speed was a factor in the accident, said Trooper Nunez. Alcoholic beverage cans were found inside the vehicle, Nunez said, and the DPS office in Sweetwater is awaiting the results of alcohol tests to determine the cause of the accident.

Local man honored at dedication

A Colorado City man who lost his life on a submarine during World War II was among those honored recently during the dedication of a memorial shrine in Connecticut.

Jack A. Reid of Colorado City, was one of the 3,617 submariners honored at the dedication ceremony for the National Submarine Memorial Wall of Honor.

The unveiling of the memorial September 2 came on the anniversary of the day Gen. Douglas MacArthur signed the treaty with Japan that ended the war.

Reid joined the Navy in 1942 and died July 15, 1945 while serving aboard the submarine Bonfish. The Bonfish was one of a pack of three submarines on a mission in the Sea of Japan. The USS Tunny and the USS Skate returned from the mission but the Bonfish failed to return.

After the war Japanese records were found that reported the probable sinking of a submarine in Toyama Bay in the Sea of Japan by depth bombs. An oil slick was seen but no survivors were found. Due to the depth of the water, 183 fathoms, no attempt was made to raise the ship and recover the bodies, though the Bonfish was located. Eight-five officers and men were lost.

The concept for the Wall of Honor was originated by the U.S. Submarine Veterans of World War II.

Groton, Conn., the "submarine capital of the world," was selected

Lone Star Card goes into effect Oct. 1

First cards were issued Friday

Food stamp recipients in Mitchell County are saying goodbye to old coupon books in anticipation of using the credit card-looking Lone Star cards October 1.

The first cards were issued Friday in the local Department of Human Services office and throughout Texas to new food stamp clients and those applying for emergency benefits. Clients previously enrolled in the food stamp program have been receiving their cards by mail and can begin using the Lone Star cards October 1.

Fuller Foods Thriftway here has enrolled in the program and went on-line on the state agency's computerized system Monday, according to Jeff Mounts, store manager.

The Lone Star card was developed to abolish waste, fraud and abuse. Each food stamp recipient is being issued a personal identification number and the Lone Star card. The card accesses an account into which the client's benefits are electronically deposited each month. As the client buys groceries, the cost of the items is deducted from the account's balance.

All clients are being trained to use the card. If a card is lost or stolen, its owner can call a toll-free number to kill the account.

The card also will be used to issue Aid to Families with Dependent Children, replacing the 250,000 checks mailed to Texas recipients each month. Retailers can enroll in the program by calling 1-800-418-8000.

Burt discusses county tax picture

"We're in the same position as the national government. If people demand tax cuts, then there's only one way—reduce services," said the county's tax assessor recently after speaking before a civic organization audience on the Mitchell County economy.

As guest speaker at the Lions Club weekly meeting, Mike Burt, Mitchell County tax assessor/collector, provided a picture of the area economy over the last five years along with explanations for a declining tax base and rising local taxes.

From 1990 to 1995 the county tax rate increased 11 percent, a small increase in the money they've had to work with, he said. The city and school district have had about the same percentage of increase over those five years.

"I think they've all done an excellent job of keeping down the cost of government," said Burt. "They've had excellent judgment in the use of tax dollars."

In 1991, our tax base was $504,793,387. In 1995, it was $383,939,870—approximately a 23 percent decline in the tax base.

"Therefore, to generate the same tax money, our tax rate has increased 11 percent, while our tax rolls have increased from one million nine hundred thousand to two million in five years," said Burt.

In 1990 the appraisal review board, using a five percent economic factor, decreased the value of all property owned by Mitchell County residents because of the economic conditions then. In 1992, they approved an extra five percent decrease in value of property.

In 1994, with an improving economy, the five percent economic factor was removed and residents' values were raised by five percent. "In 1995, the final five percent was removed and our values are still increasing. Right now, they're five to ten percent above what they were one year ago," he said.

House values are continuing to increase, which Burt predicted would continue for another year with the opening of the state jail.

A Comptroller of Public Accounts study of appraisals on property in Mitchell County showed that in the Colorado City area, property was 94 percent of its market value, property in Loraine was 105 percent of the appraisal value and 103 percent in Westbrook, he said.

"You might think that your house is decreasing in value. If so, put it on the market and you will see," said Burt.

The tax assessor explained how value has been lost in the past five years, despite the $5 million increase in city values because of construction and additions.

"Values have been lost primarily in three place—utilities, oil and oil-related businesses," he said.

"In 1991, Mitchell County had three oil well servicing companies. Today we have zero for taxation. Also, we had three trucking companies and now we only have one," he said.

"Oil prices in this five-year period have dropped as low as $11 a barrel, averaging approximately $14, which has reduced the market value of the properties. The economic factor determines when wells need to be plugged because of this low price."

"The new generators at Texas Utilities are leased equipment and these units are appraised on a straight line 20-year depreciation of

No changes due for TDH clinic

"There will be no changes in Mitchell County. The regional clinic will continue without any changes," announced Dr. Scott Simpson, Texas Department of Health, Women/Family Planning Director in Austin Thursday.

The health department awarded contracts September 15 to private contractors to assume responsibility for rural clinics throughout the Big Country. Until then, rural health clinic staff were uncertain whether their clinics would be downsized, privatized or if any state employees would lose their jobs.

"Our intention is that the same level of service will remain," said Dr. Simpson. "We will provide

TEC accepts new jail applicants

Potential applicants for jobs at the almost completed state jail here may fill out applications at the Texas Employment Commission office in Sweetwater.

However, applicants need to contact the employment office once every two months to keep their files active, said Cecilia Rivera, TEC employment supervisor.

The state jail is expected to open next year.

Rivera said that the Texas Department of Criminal Justice enters job orders into the TEC system.

"So if they fill out an application, they'll be in the system when TDCJ enters the orders," said Rivera.

THIS 'n THAT

By SHEILA PLAGENS

Jay McCollum deserves a bronze star according to his wife and Sue Lowrance. Those women are busy working on more Christmas yard art for the Courthouse lawn and Jay came up with the idea to put one extra bar across the art to help with pushing it into the ground. Charlie said "See—he is good for something!"

I hear Golda Redwine and Gayle Younger did a fantastic job of entertaining at the Kiwanis Club installation of officers Monday night.

I read something I just couldn't believe the other day! Just think—a soap that washes away fat. No, I'm not kidding—it was a story in one of the weekly "tabloids" so it's got to be true. It was invented in Japan and is made with seaweed and other things. I would just like to see how big the woman was who bought 300 bars of the soap!

...I don't know about you, but I think if it becomes available in the states, the water bills all around the country may go up!

Rachel Rangel has a story to tell, but she might not—so I will. A little birdie told me she borrowed Bea Madrid's car the other day to pick her child up at school. After getting her son, she went back to the parking lot, unlocked the car door and climbed in.

The only problem was, Rachel couldn't get the key to turn in the ignition. She tried and tried. Finally, she went back into the school and called Bea, who gave her a few instructions. Back to the car Rachel went, but to no avail.

The only thing left for Rachel to do was go back into the school and call Bea again, which she did. Bea hitched a ride up to the school and drove right past Rachel to her car. That's right, Rachel had been trying to start Mary Petty's car all along.

The cars look pretty much alike, so the mix-up would be easy to do—except for the fact that Bea's car is a four-door and Mary's is a two-door.

What a good idea! A Wolf mug for Homecoming filled with wonderful fudge. The Band Boosters still have some of the mugs left and you can get your special person one by calling 728-5453 and placing your order.

Only two months until the Christmas parade. That sounds like a long way off, but really it's not. Don't forget the theme is "A Fairy Tale Christmas". All entries will be judged for a prize this year, so don't hesitate to participate. The categories include: floats, pedestrians, bicycles, automobiles band (or musical entries) and equestrian divisions.

Another clean sweep week at Colorado Schools. Every football team won their game against Clyde! Way to go boys—keep up the good work!

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Horses. Time was when just about every family in the county had one. Or more. Those beautiful four-legged animals all had names, too. Names like Babe and Bess and General.

That was the name of a horse owned by Barzie Parker's family. General. The Parkers lived south of Loraine and Barzie and his buddies would saddle up their horses and head for Champion Creek where they'd go swimming in "Blue Hole."

Barzie remembers his friend Oren Richardson once had a horse that had been owned by the Army. An old cavalry horse. Still had "U.S." branded on one hip.

Ed Morrison grew up around horses. "All the boys had horses and we could ride anywhere," he once told us. "Every Saturday and Sunday we would go out on the Colorado River. We'd have a hard ride, roping contest. Go swimming. Just have a good time."

"Course, most families back in the early 1900s had to have horses, or mules, to help with the farm or to pull the buggy. But, for the most part, these horses were more than work animals."

"They were family friends, too," Jerry Montgomery noted. He grew up in Mitchell County and recalled his family had one horse that "would knock down the kitchen door and come in the dining room. He'd try to get sugar right off the table."

Montgomery says that was ol' John, his favorite horse. (They had others, too. Horses named Billy, Russell and Red. But John was the smart one.) And horses are smart. They know their names. Mrs. Thurston Smith once recalled as a child she had a "big ol' bay horse."

"I just thought the world of him. His name was Bob." And Mrs. Smith said Bob was good with a buggy, too. Which brings us to the subject of dating. And buggies.

Chester Hart says he used to take his date out in a buggy. "We used lap spreads," he told us. "Sit in the buggy and pull these lap spreads over you (and your date) to keep warm." That really sounds like more fun than turning up the car heater.

Actually, Chester says he thinks he was the last person in Mitchell County to use a horse and buggy. ("Didn't have the money to buy a car.") He still had a surrey with a fringe on top when he married.

Hubert May also used to date back in the horse and buggy era, but he didn't use the buggy.

"Used to get my girlfriend on my horse," he told us. "I would take her to the grocery store to get a little candy and chewing gum. Kindly butter her up a little bit."

Sam Horn grew up around Cisco, then later moved to Colorado City. He had fond memories of his horses.

"I always liked horses. My dad farmed and we used those ol' walking single row planters and cultivators. I always liked a good set of harnesses with knobs on 'em. Dad said I put in more time taking care of my horses than I did farmin'."

Horn later owned a pair of bay horses which he used for working on highways. One weighed 1,120 pounds and other 1,140.

"People would come just to look at 'em," Horn said with obvious pride. Then there were men who made a living riding horses. Or trying to ride them. Old Jack Doss came to Colorado City from Erath County in a covered wagon. And he could ride horses.

"I could ride any of 'em and I ain't just a-woofin'," he told us. Doss started breaking broncs when he was just a kid. His secret for staying on?

"Oh, I don't know. That's just like anything else. It becomes sort of natural." Doss said other cowboys used to pool their money and place bets that he could ride a certain horse. Then they would give him a cut from their winnings.

Lloyd Smith's another cowboy who earned his pay breaking horses. He remembers one horse in particular which really tested him.

"It was up at Andrews," Smith stated. "He pitched all morning. He was probably the meanest horse I had ever seen."

Despite the long morning of staying aboard the bucking animal, Smith says he was never thrown. "But I wish I had been. He gave me a good whippin' before noon."

But mostly cowboys enjoyed their horses. The late M.A. Dunnahoo once told a great story about the legendary 80 John Wallace and his horse. Wallace, by then, was an old man.

"He had a big horse he called 'White Man.' John's son, Carson, saddled the horse and led it up to the front of the house," Dunnahoo continued. "John went out and tried to get on it and he tried three times. He never could get on."

Dunnahoo said the aging cowboy then pulled the saddle off the horse, slapped it on the hip and said, "Well, White Man. Looks like we've made our last roundup."

As far as Dunnahoo knew, 80 John Wallace never rode a horse again. Horses. Time was when just about every family in the county had one. A horse is more than a work animal. More than a "faithful" companion for the cowboy.

It's a big part of the history of Mitchell County.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

When I was a girl in grade school we started every school day facing the flag and reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.

Recently, my husband James had a car wreck. He was hit by a drunk driver. After seeing the shabby treatment of him and others like him (poor and on a fixed income) by those in power (who feel they can do a man dirty because he is poor), I once again thought about those words I said so often as a schoolgirl, and my mind got stuck on the last sentence of the Pledge, "...with liberty and justice for all."

"With liberty and justice for all." Grand and noble words that should strike fear in the hearts of lawbreakers and give comfort to law-abiding people, rich or poor—but if you're poor, these are just empty, hollow words.

We see examples every day, all day long, of how justice is being packaged and sold like so much washing powder or dog food. The more justice you can afford to buy, the more justice you'll receive.

The most glaring example is the O.J. Simpson case. Would he get the same justice if he were just another poor black man?

While I've mentioned the O.J. Simpson trial, I feel I must mention Detective Mark Furman. Everyone seems to act shocked that there was a dirty little tin Hitler on their police force and Furman must be a freak of nature (like a two-headed calf). But this kind of cop is as common as dirt, and Colorado City has had its share of "Mark Furmans".

They ranged from some whose sins were so open and blaring—like a former officer who was publicly fired and had to slip out of town like a whipped cur—to others whose names and sins were softly buried and who were allowed to quietly "resign" and steal away like thieves in the night.

The power of the badge and gun is sometimes truly the power of life and death, so remember, "all power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

In closing I would like to state that until the poor can receive equal justice, the Pledge of Allegiance should be amended to say, "With liberty and justice for all...who can afford it."

Yours truly,
Thelma Morris

City manager requests list of goals

City Manager Steve Shutt recently requested city council members to work on a list of goals they'd like to see reached in Colorado City.

At the September meeting of the Colorado City Council, Shutt explained that he'd like input from council members on setting priorities and identifying short, medium and long term goals for the city.

"What are our priorities? What do we want to accomplish?" he asked council members to consider.

Shutt said he hopes citizens will also contribute their ideas.

"Many small cities work from crisis to crisis and we're wanting to get away from that," he said.

The list of goals will be incorporated into a management plan before budget discussions the first of the year.

The plan would include timelines to coordinate available money and manpower and include contingency funds to be able to take advantage of opportunities that arise, said the city manager.

"The plan can't be rigid or inflexible. In other words, it can't be cast in bronze," said Shutt.

One gov't. job to be eliminated

One of two positions in the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services office here in Colorado City will be eliminated in the agency's statewide reduction in staff.

The local office, which is charged with services such as child protection and foster care, has been manned by a caseworker and a clerk, with the clerical position scheduled to be eliminated.

Support staff and administrative positions have been targeted by lawmakers and agency executives for elimination.

The clerk's last day on the job will be October 6, said Jim Bonds, the local caseworker.

The reduction is caused by reduced federal funding.

"We've received $40 million less from the federal government for foster care reimbursement," said Bonds.

The Protective and Regulatory Services office shares building space at 440 E. Second Street with the Department of Human Services, another state agency scheduled for a "reduction in force."

Despite heavy reduction in the DHS regional office in Abilene, no positions in Mitchell County are scheduled to be eliminated, said Barbara Evans, regional community services director.

The jobs of 36 regional employees, including 22 in Abilene, have been recently eliminated in the agency's efforts to resolve a $1.5 million budget shortfall. Abilene has suffered the brunt of staff losses because its offices are home for most of the region's administrative and program support positions which have been targeted for elimination.

Police recover stolen property

Colorado City Police Department officers recovered property Sunday that is believed to have been stolen during a rash of burglaries of local storage buildings this summer.

During a 30-day period in May and June, storage buildings at U-Store-It, located at Hickory and 20th Streets, were burglarized, according to Police Chief David Montgomery.

Approximately $12,000 of household items and furniture were stolen from five different individuals.

"On Sunday, Sgt. Tim Atkins received information on where some of the stolen property was located. He and Lt. Taylor went to 961 E. 16th Street and conducted a consent to search. They recovered a dining room table and chairs," said Montgomery. "From that, they were able to identify a suspect who voluntarily came to the police department and gave us additional information."

Montgomery said the information led local police to identify three additional suspects and recover property at two other locations.

The police chief has been inventorying the $1700 worth of property and notifying the rightful owners.

Montgomery said he is working closely with the Snyder and Plano Police Departments on possible connections with offenses that have occurred in those areas. No formal charges or arrests have been made.

"It is our intention to take this information to the grand jury for indictments," said Montgomery Monday.

RECOVERED PROPERTY is inventoried by Police Chief David Montgomery. The household items and furniture were stolen during burglaries of local storage buildings that occurred this summer.

Two rows of black polished granite, each about 20 feet long and six feet high, is engraved with the names of the U.S. Navy submariners. Rivera advised applicants: "Fill out the application as carefully and completely as possible, noting job history, education, job location desired. Supply as much information as possible on job skills, including skills acquired from non-paying jobs, such as a housewife who has organization skills from volunteer work. Enter the location where you want to work. Applications are coded with where a person wants to work and then the computer matches that location to incoming job orders. If applying for a clerical position, use this time to brush up on your typing skills. TEC tests are given on electric typewriters rather than computers. To pass the typing test, applicants must type 40 wpm with no more than ten errors. Begin now to request and gather needed documents such as transcripts or military records.

extended until today, Thursday, at 5 p.m., according to Dori Shutt, chamber of commerce director. All the booths were reserved by last week. George Hardegree and Jeremy Strain, fair officials, said the layout at the barn will be different this year than previously. In addition, there will be a place for fair-goers to sit down and enjoy their food and drinks.

Fair entries will be accepted today, Thursday, from 7 a.m. to noon. The barn will close from 12 to 1 p.m. and then judging will be held from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. All ribbons and banners will be exhibited on the winning exhibits until the closing hour of the fair on Sunday, October 1, at 2 p.m.

The fair opens to the public at 6 p.m. this evening. Cost at the gate is $2 or $6 a carload.

On Friday, the fair opens to schools and nursing homes from 10 a.m. until noon and then opens to the public at 2 p.m.

On Saturday, the fair opens at 10 a.m. and runs until 10 p.m. The pet show begins at 12:30 p.m. and the blind man's tractor race begins at 4 p.m. Roy Wilson of Colorado City will have a cattle dog demonstration at 5 p.m. (note a change in time from last week's schedule).

Team roping begins at 7 p.m. Saturday. The deadline to enter the team roping is Friday at 5 p.m. with participants restricted to Mitchell County residents.

For the first time this year, parking for the handicapped will be available at the fair. Mitchell County Explorer Post members will assist with the parking.

For more information, call the Chamber of Commerce, 728-3403.

services or they will be awarded for someone else to do."

In January, requests for proposals to receive Title V funds to provide services beginning in September 1996 will be announced for clinics throughout the state, said Dr. Simpson.

According to the Texas Commissioner of Health David R. Smith, M.D., the department's actions have been prompted by budget restraints and a change in funding philosophy.

In 1994, more than 300,000 patients were treated in some 350 TDH-supported Maternal and Child Health clinics statewide.

TAXES

approximately $4.3 million a year.

In 1991, Texas Utilities paid 31.66 percent of the tax roll and was the top taxpayer in Mitchell County.

The next six largest are oil corporations. The tenth is the Morrison family who is the largest individual taxpayer.

"The oil income is owned by approximately one percent of Mitchell County residents. The balance of this income is owned by non-residents," said Burt.

Seventy-one percent of the Mitchell County tax roll was paid by people or corporations residing outside of the county.

"In 1995, it's estimated that 68 percent will be paid by non-residents," said Burt.

"This shifts the tax burden from out of the county back on the tax payers—that's you and I," said Burt.

In the future, he predicted that the tax base would continue to decline, causing tax rates to continue to increase.

Wolves come from behind to beat Clyde

Colorado City football fans have been waiting a long time for a night like they experienced last Friday in Clyde.

The Wolves came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the tough Clyde Bulldogs 15-14.

The touchdown that narrowed the score to 14-13 came with 1:36 to go in the game. A gutsy call by Coach Bill Grissom to go for two and the lead was really not that big of a deal, according to Grissom.

"The kids wanted to go for it, the coaches wanted to go for it and I wanted to go for it, so it was really not a big decision," Grissom said.

"This was a big win for our team, the kids know they can come from behind and win football games," Grissom said.

But it was the defense that got most of the praise from Coach Grissom. "Our defense played great and that was the key to our win," he said. "This win could be a turning point for us—the way we won, came from behind, scored and played good defense to hold 'em," Grissom said.

The Wolves dodged a bullet early in the first quarter when punter Tim Edwards mishandled a snap from center and was forced to scramble. Edwards was brought down on the 25 yard line, giving Clyde excellent field position.

A good defensive effort forced Clyde to go for a field goal and Lynn Boyd tackled the kicker after a bad snap.

Colorado City's first touchdown came later in the first quarter as the Bulldogs were attempting to punt at the goal line and a strong rush by Chris Fambro, Brandon Atkins and a couple of other Wolves blocked the punt in the end zone and Fambro recovered for the Wolves' first touchdown. Fambro was credited with the blocked punt.

Chris Ramirez added the PAT for a 7-0 Wolf lead.

"It was a great play by Chris Fambro," Grissom said. "He rushed all-out, got good penetration and blocked the punt."

An interception by Lance Dockrey midway through the second quarter gave the Wolves the ball at mid-field, but the Bulldogs' defense stiffened and the Wolves gave the ball up on downs after a fourth and 13 pass fell incomplete.

The Bulldogs took over on their own 34 and were immediately hit with a 15 yard personal foul penalty.

A big hit on the Bulldogs' all-district fullback Kurt Evans by Phillip Garcia and the ball popped out and linebacker John Erwin took the ball in mid-air and ran it back five yards, giving the Wolves excellent field position. The Wolf offense couldn't mount a drive and the half ended with the Wolves leading 7-0.

The Wolves' defense started the second half with big plays by Phillip Garcia and Brad Anderson stopping the Bulldogs on a third and three.

Clyde punted but the Wolves gave it right back, turning the ball over with their only fumble of the night.

A good punt by Clyde put the Wolves deep in their own territory on the six yard line.

The Wolves couldn't get any type of offensive drive going and again were forced to punt.

The punt was blocked and the Bulldogs took over on the three yard line. Clyde scored on their first play and after an unsuccessful PAT the Wolves led 7-6.

A big kick-off return by Ryan Costabile gave the Wolves good field position at the 49 yard line, but a Clyde interception of a Frank Espinoza pass ended the Wolf drive.

The Bulldogs then went on a 10 play 58 yard drive to score a touchdown and successful two point conversion for a 14-7 lead with 9:29 to go in the game.

The Wolves took over on the 27 and after a couple of plays fumbled, giving Clyde good field position on the Wolves' 38 yard line.

Frank Espinoza made a big defensive play on a third and 13, forcing Clyde to try a 44 yard field goal. It was no good and the Wolves took over.

With 6:27 to go in the game and 75 yards away from pay dirt, the Wolves mounted one of the best drives in several years for the go-ahead score.

Quarterback Frank Espinoza teamed up with Lance Dockrey and Lynn Boyd for several big pass plays enroute to the end zone.

In the drive, Espinoza hit Dockrey for an 11 yard gain and first down. Seconds later on another third and eight, Espinoza hooked up with Boyd for a 19 yard gain and another first down.

The big pass play of the drive came on a third and 15 when Espinoza hit Dockrey slanting across the middle for a 38 yard gain, giving the Wolves a first down on Clyde's 11 yard line.

A Bulldog pass interference penalty on Dockrey set the Wolves up in great shape on the three yard line.

Espinoza hit Boyd for a four yard touchdown pass culminating an excellent Wolf drive and putting the Wolves in a position to attempt the go-ahead two point conversion.

Espinoza executed the play perfectly, completing a short down and out pass to Chris Fambro for the successful two-point conversion.

Leading 15-14 with 1:36 to go in the game, the defense again rose to the occasion and forced Clyde into a long game-ending field goal that was no good.

The big victory gives the Wolves a 2-1 season record.

Stanton next for Wolves

It will be another big game for the Wolves Friday night as Head Coach Bill Grissom takes his young and improving Wolves to Stanton to battle the Buffaloes.

Grissom spent the last four years coaching the Buffaloes and the trip back to Stanton Friday would be made more enjoyable if the Wolves could pull out a victory.

The Buffaloes are 3-0 for the year and are coming off a 7-3 record last year.

First-year Head Coach Mark Cotton of Stanton has spent the last 17 years coaching with Bill Grissom. Are the two coaches looking forward to this first meeting?

"To be real honest, I'm not looking forward to the meeting," Stanton coach Mark Cotton said. "I know how good a coach he is and I know how his teams are always ready to play."

"I'm sure he's got a few more lessons to teach me," Cotton said.

Grissom expects the Buffaloes to be the toughest opponent the Wolves have played this season.

Kick-off time is 8 p.m.

Grissom talks about his return to Stanton

Coach Bill Grissom

Wolves coach Bill Grissom returns to Stanton Friday to take on the Buffaloes, a team he coached the past four years. Here is Coach Grissom's response to a few questions on his return to Stanton.

Q: What are your thoughts on going back to Stanton?
GRISSOM: Well, you look at a situation like this—you've been in a place four years and you make a lot of friends, especially the coaching staff. I had so many good years with them and it's going to be tough to go back.

We're just going to have to take it and go from here just like it's another football game. It's something we need to work hard for getting ready to play.

Q: You spent four years in Stanton, you know the kids. Will this be an emotional game for you?
GRISSOM: I think so. I think it's a situation where you had a lot to do with those kids who are seniors now, working with them and building the program there. Now they're seniors and for those kids especially you're going to have a lot of affinity.

Still, it's a situation in which I know they feel the same way. It's probably going to be a big week for them and they told me when I left, "Coach Grissom, I hope you're 9-1." So it's something they've probably been looking forward to and talking about a great deal.

Q: Your wife still works for the Stanton Independent School District. What kind of week do you expect her to have?

GRISSOM: I'm afraid she's going to have a busy week. I'm sure she'll have a lot of things go her way. I asked her about it this morning before she left the house and she said she'd just hang in there.

I don't know. It's going to be tough on her. She'll get a lot of ribbing, I guarantee.

Q: Were there any hard feelings when you left Stanton?

GRISSOM: No, there were no hard feelings. In fact, I didn't even plan on leaving Stanton because we spent a couple of hard years working to get that program turned around. We finally felt that we were at a point where we were able to compete with people at higher levels and had good kids coming through the system.

I had no bad feelings and no thoughts even of leaving until I made the decision to come to Colorado City.

Q: What's your relationship with the present coaching staff at Stanton?

GRISSOM: There were a lot of good years with those coaches—guys I've worked with for a long time—especially two or three of them, like Mark Cotton, who was with me 17 years.

Q: If you can go back to your first year at Stanton, how does the program at Colorado High compare with Stanton's football program?

GRISSOM: You know, when you look back it was almost an identical situation going in.

When I went to Stanton they were 0-20 going in and for two years hadn't won a ballgame. We knew it was going to be a hard situation to go into and build.

It is similar to what we're doing here. The difference now is that some of our kids have a little more experience. I knew that if we had some good breaks early in the year and good things happened to us, we'd have a chance to rebuild the program a little quicker than we did there.

Q: A third of the season is over with and you're 2-1. Your thoughts on the rest of the season?

GRISSOM: We're in a great situation right now. We're happy to be where we are. The best thing that could happen to us was to win a few football games early in the year and it's happened. I think it's already brought our confidence level to a point where we're going to be ready to play every Friday night.

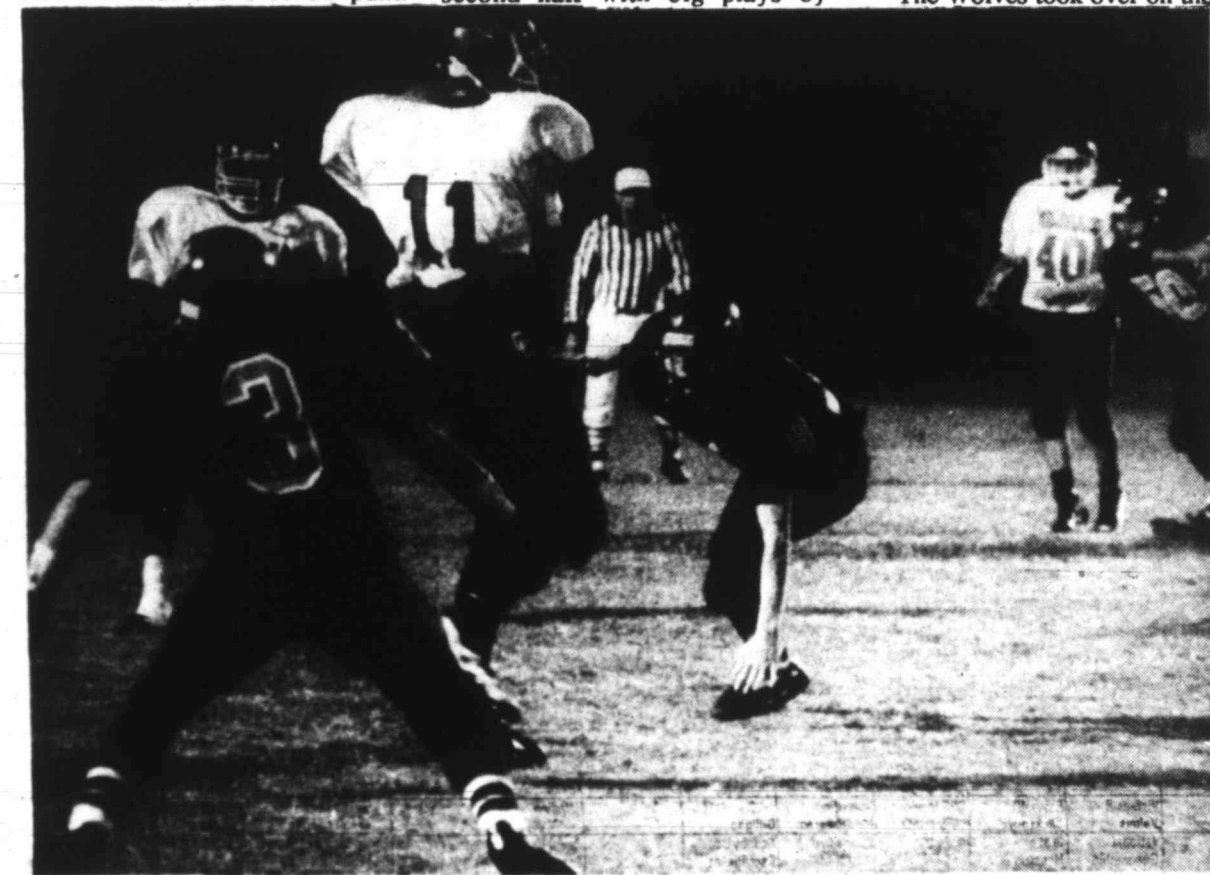

I always go into a football season thinking we have a chance to go to the playoffs and that's what I tell our kids. That's what we're looking at.

Q: What do you expect at Stanton? Are they as good as any team we've played?

GRISSOM: I think skill-wise they're as good as any team we've played. They have three or four people with great skills. The quarterback does a great job throwing a football, they have some outstanding receivers—that's going to be the key.

There is also the possibility that one of their running backs from last year will return and be ready to play this week. He's going to present a problem also.

We'll have to eliminate a big play situation. That's what they can do—they can put the points on the board in a hurry because of their skilled people.

BIG PLAY...Wolf receiver Lance Dockrey (11) hauls in a pass from quarterback Frank Espinoza (40) in last Friday night's game against Clyde. The pass was good for 38 yards and set up the Wolves' final touchdown.

Freshmen remain undefeated

The Wolves freshmen defeated Clyde 14-2 last Thursday at Wolf Stadium. The win keeps the freshman record perfect at 3-0 for the year.

It was the defense that kept the Bulldogs in check most of the game. The Wolves' defensive stopped the Bulldogs twice in the first quarter inside their own 25 yard line.

Singled out for their outstanding defensive plays were Rashard Walthall, several big hits by Abel Bonilla and Brett Hoyle dominating the line of scrimmage.

The Wolves had 155 total yards on offense, 125 rushing and 35 passing.

Terry Green was the Wolves' leading rusher, carrying the ball 20 times for 80 yards and two touchdowns.

Green scored the Wolves' first touchdown in the second quarter on a one-yard run and returned the third quarter kick-off 80 yards for a touchdown.

The Wolves were good on one PAT on a pass to Kyle Hammond.

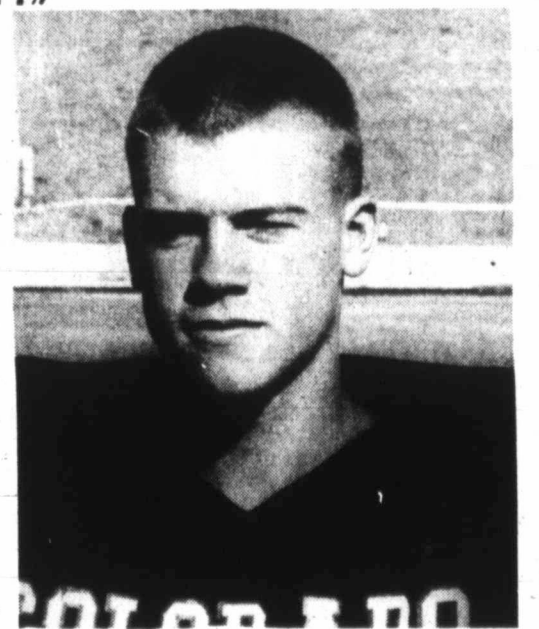

The freshman Wolves host Stanton Thursday night at Wolf Stadium as they will try to extend their undefeated streak to four games.

Wooddell sparks Loraine victory over M-Christian

By CARL GRAHAM

Cory Wooddell scored on a five-yard run with only four seconds left in the game to give Loraine a come-from-behind win over Midland Christian. Wooddell had a hand in all five of Loraine's touchdowns, leading them to their first win of their season.

Loraine drew first blood in the contest as Wooddell scored on a five-yard scamper with 5:55 left in the first quarter. The extra point kick was good by Raymond Limones and the quarter ended with Loraine on the top, 8-0.

Early in the second quarter, Wooddell hooked up with Limones on a 12-yard pass play, putting Loraine up 14-0. The extra point was blocked by Midland Christian. Minutes later Wooddell broke loose and scored on a 68-yard run. The point after was blocked, putting Loraine up by a 20-0 score.

Midland Christian's Chris Patteson caught a 46-yard bomb from Alex Autry for the only blemish on a fine first half defensive effort by the Dogs.

Wooddell tossed a 12-yard touchdown pass to junior fullback Bear Cooper to open the scoring in the second half. That was to be the last score for the Bulldogs until their last-second heroic effort as Midland Christian scored four unanswered touchdowns. Midland pulled ahead of Loraine on a Chris Patteson reception from Alex Autry with only 41 seconds left in the game.

A great leaping catch by Alvin Crawford on a pass from Wooddell set up the five-yard scamper by Wooddell to bring the final score to 36-30 in favor of Loraine.

The Bulldogs will be at home again this week as they take on the always-tough Grady Wildcats. Game time is set for 7:30.

JV Wolves hold off Clyde for win

The JV Wolves held off the Clyde Bulldogs last Thursday at Wolf Stadium for a 28-20 win. The victory puts the Wolves' record at 2-1 for the year.

The Wolves' offensive efforts accounted for 244 yards, 164 rushing and 80 passing.

Quarterback Justin Sparkman threw three touchdown passes in the game. A 34-yard touchdown pass to Adam Wood in the first quarter put the Wolves on the board first. Sparkman also hit Wood for the two-point conversion.

A second quarter eight-yard pass from Sparkman to Roland Nelson put the Wolves up 14-0 at the half.

Sparkman's third touchdown pass came in the third quarter when he hit Ray Martin on a 25-yard touchdown pass. The Wolves converted the two-point conversion on a Sparkman to Wood pass.

The Wolves' final score came in the fourth quarter on a Roland Nelson one-yard run following an impressive 70-yard drive that sealed the victory.

"It was a great win for us," Coach Phillip Ritchey said. "The kids played much better this week and are steadily improving."

"We showed a lot of heart by driving 70 yards for a touchdown to put the game away in the fourth quarter," Ritchey commented.

Ray Martin made a big defensive play, intercepting a Bulldog pass.

Jesse Rios made a number of big plays at safety.

Bubba Limones, Roland Nelson and Adam Wood recovered fumbles, then helped the defensive efforts of the Wolves.

Leading rusher for the Wolves was Roland Nelson, who had 65 yards on 17 carries.

The JV will host the Stanton Buffaloes Thursday at Wolf Stadium.

McSpadden sets up winning touchdown

The eighth grade Wolves drove the ball 65 yards in the fourth quarter and scored the only touchdown of the night en route to a big 8-0 victory over the Clyde Bulldogs in Clyde.

The win was the second victory of the year for the Wolves.

Two long runs by John McSpadden set up a one-yard touchdown run by Jeff Babb for the Wolves' touchdown. Babb added the two-point conversion on a run.

It was also a great defensive effort by the Wolves to shut out the Bulldogs.

"I thought the offensive did an excellent job of controlling the ball and clock," Coach Jerrold Epperson said. "It was a great win for the eighth grade," he said.

The Wolves travel to Stanton Thursday night to take on the Stanton Buffaloes.

Wolves split with W. Valley

The Colorado City JV volleyball team defeated Water Valley in two games Tuesday night at Water Valley, 15-6, 15-1.

Seventh grade Wolves shut out Clyde

The seventh grade Wolves shut out the Clyde Bulldogs last Thursday in Clyde 32-0, for their second win of the year.

Nick Rodriguez added a two-point PAT for a 14-0 Wolf lead after the first quarter.

Tony Leanos scored two first quarter touchdowns on runs of 60 and 40 yards.

In the second quarter it was Nick Rodriguez' turn as he scampered for 35- and 30-yard touchdown runs. The Wolves led 26-0 at the half.

Lee Ybarra added a third quarter five-yard touchdown run for the Wolves' final score.

The defensive unit did an outstanding job shutting out the Bulldogs and limiting them to only a few first downs.

The seventh grade will travel to Stanton Thursday for their third game of the year.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Jayton scored and the PAT was good. Westbrook struck back quickly with Jeff Hill finding

Noises Off opens Friday

Cast members of Colorado High School's fall production Noises Off have been working overtime in preparation for opening night, according to director Nancy Stuart. The show opens September 30 at 8 p.m. at the Opera House.

Written by Michael Frayn, Noises Off is a fast-paced, upbeat comedy about what may happen behind the scenes in a theatrical production.

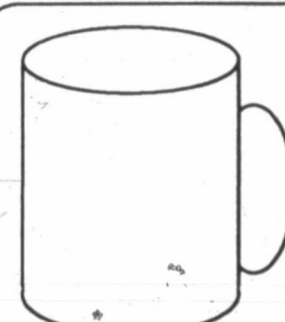

This play within a play revolves around a backstage romance, leading to confusion and chaos among its main characters. "That's farce. That's theatre. That's life," says the charming but brash director Lloyd Dallas, played by Fred Morris III.

Will Crockett plays Gary LeJeune/Roger Trampelman in a convincingly arrogant and comically insightful performance. Kelly Younger's self-absorbed Brooke Ashton/Vicki are good complements to Crockett's characters. LeeAnn Ramage appears as Belinda Blair/Flavia Brent, the catalyst of the confusion occurring in Act II.

Frederick - Fellowes/Phillip Brent, played by Stephen Hill, is a sensitive character, unaware of the tension he causes among his fellow cast members. Cathi Robertson portrays Dotty Otley/Mrs. Clackett, an actress made cynical by years in the theater. Her humor blends with her sarcasm in a special Act III appearance.

Amy Evans and Colender Redwine appear as Poppy Norton-Taylor and Tim Allgood, quiet, nervous, often confused characters adding to the general chaos. Selsdon Mowbray, an elderly, vague British actor, is portrayed by Anthony Chastain.

Tickets are on sale as of Wednesday, September 27 at 1 p.m. for $7. Each. Other showtimes besides September 30 are Sunday, October 1 at 2:30 p.m. and Saturday, October 7 at 8 p.m. Call 728-3491 for reservations.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine. Stack the firewood near the house and batten down the hatches. We have had cold temperatures, cold rain and cold high winds!

Lawn mowers are bogging in between rains and the gales are reshaping trees.

We locals know all this, but this bulletin seeks sympathy from our red-necked friends, if possible, who are wintering in Florida and Arizona.

No, they aren't red-necked from pea picking but from golfball plucking in the sunshine.

Nola Taylor returned home Thursday after a 10-day visit with relatives in Ackerly, Lubbock and Chandler, Okla.

Margaret Vaughn from Anchorage, Alaska and her daughter, Debra Tilton from Ft. Worth, have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Richburg this past week.

Debra returned to Ft. Worth but Margaret stayed over for her school homecoming at Roscoe last weekend. Margaret is Homer's daughter.

Jean and Troy Kegans of Arlington and Mary Love and Jack Allbright of Odessa visited their mother, Syble Walker, Thursday through Sunday and Tuesday through Thursday, respectively. Jack and Mary Love Allbright also spent Saturday in Loraine.

The four hosted a 92nd birthday celebration for Syble on Saturday at Collum's Restaurant. Her birthday was September 26. Sharing the celebration were her sister, Juanice Butler, who had a September 9 birthday and a brother, Chester Hart of Colorado City, who will have his 95th birthday September 30. His grandson, Steve Hart of Lubbock, was also present.

Happy birthday was sung to the three after Mrs. Walker was presented a cake.

"Ben's" service station in Loraine will reopen shortly. Mrs. Gayle Lindsey of Sweetwater says she will sell tires, gas, oil, fix plates, etc., and also have a working cafe inside.

Ham and Blondie Hamilton are back in town for the winter. They are an asset to the community and we are pleased to welcome them back home.

When I went inside Green's Grocery last week, I couldn't help but notice that the cash registers and counters had been rearranged and placed in different locations. One would assume that it was merely just for a change.

"Not so," Addie Mahoney and Tommy Green said. The change was to accommodate the new Lone Star Card machines. No, no, not a beer card, but the new Lone Star welfare cards.

It seems that the stamps will soon be a thing of the past.

Royce and Neysa Beights stayed 10 days recently in Garland, where they "house sat" and "grandson sat" with their 14-year-old grandson while his mother was in New Jersey.

They then went to Lubbock to be with their daughter Tracy Biles, during surgery, later bringing her home with them for a recuperating time.

Now the Beights are home alone and things are okay once again.

Little Treston Marshall, baby son of Bro. and Mrs. Dan Marshall, has had health problems due to a thyroid dysfunction. It is a problem that responds to oral medication, a fact that everyone is thankful for. He is showing some improvement since starting his medication.

Mrs. Denise Marshall's grandmother Brown is in a Lubbock hospital at this time with pneumonia. We hope by this time she is greatly improved.

Cory Wooddell made us proud when he rushed for two touchdowns and passed for two more in a 36-30 win this past Friday night when Bulldogs played Midland Christian.

Way to go, Bulldogs—Rah! Rah! Rah!

Sunday, October 1 Shady Oaks Ranch Resort south of Abilene is sponsoring a benefit to aid the Vallery family. Rhonda, Kenny and children need a helping hand after the tragic death of Kenny's brother, and Kenny's staggering hospital expenses.

The benefit includes an auction (bring white elephants). There will be food for sale and other events to bring in money. For information, call 737-2754.

At the senior center last week Julia Green brought in a sample of sesame.

It was an educational "show and tell" for those of us who weren't familiar with the plant. (We do know about the seeds.)

The cash crop was planted on land owned by A.K. Sheffield and leased by Nathan Hoyle. Mr. Hoyle said he planted 100 acres, which would later be harvested by a combine.

The crop is growing just west of Loraine and can be seen from the interstate. It is getting a lot of attention. I found out later it is not only harvested for seeds but also for oil.

Darlene Hamrick and Joan Long attended a meeting in Abilene Wednesday, September 20 at West Texas Central Council of Governments on policies and procedures concerning nutritional sites. They reported it very informative.

Sheila Plagens and son Tyler were in town Friday the 22nd and came to the center to have lunch with Mom and Grandmom, Agnes Haney. Tyler is still handsome and growing fast.

Monday the 25th we were all pleased to see Wayne and Lynetta Dubose back in our part of the country and back down at the center.

They have come from Colorado to warmer parts. (Slightly warmer.)

James and Treva Quinney visited with us Monday, also. Treva is Darlene's sister. Nice to see them again.

Hubert and Nina Meadows attended their granddaughter Julie Meadows' eighth birthday party at the Party Room in Merkel on Saturday, September 23.

Saturday night Nina Meadows' sister and brother-in-law, Bettye and John Sherwood of Ft. Worth, spent the night with her and Hubert.

Eva Wells accompanied her brother, Bob Smith of Groesbeck, and her sister, Lessie Coker of Abilene, to San Angelo, where they visited another sister, Pearl Prentice, for several days.

Margaret Brame went to San Angelo this past Saturday to attend a birthday party for her grandson, Joshua Zabica. He is now two years old.

The Loraine Methodist Church family enjoyed a guest speaker from Snyder this past Sunday. His name was John McMakin. His oratory was well received.

This past weekend Tharon and Doris Henderson helped their granddaughter Morgan celebrate her fourth birthday at a party given in her honor.

Morgan's parents are Brad and Pennie Henderson of Midland. Congratulations, Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Merrell of Paris, Texas were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gowen and daughter. Mrs. Gowen is Mrs. Merrell's daughter. As you may know by now, Mr. Larry Gowen is Loraine's band director.

Mr. H.C. McDermott celebrated his 101st birthday at the home of Hubert and Nina Meadows on Sunday, September 24. Mr. McDermott has been living at Loraine Manor since August 7.

Cake and punch were served from 2-4 p.m. to 26 people.

Out of town guests were from Abilene, Ft. Worth, Lorenzo, Merkel, Mexia and San Angelo.

This past Sunday, Nina's cousins, Dr. Tyler and Sue Cagle, spent the night with the Hubert Meadows. They make their home in Mexia, Texas.

Loraine F.C.E. Club met September 20 at the center building with Billie Schroeder as hostess.

The meeting was turned over to John McAdams, Mitchell County juvenile probation officer. Mr. McAdams told us about new laws in Texas which concern juveniles, their crimes and the appropriate issuance of fines, work programs or detention, if required.

The juvenile officer works hard with parents, other police officers and community outreach in order to keep young people in school, drug free and off the streets after midnight.

If we expect or care that our young people stay out of prison systems, start teaching them good basic principals while they are very young and at home.

This meeting was well received by all attending and thank you to John McAdams for his enlightening program.

No minutes were read in the absence of Secretary Shirley Kendall. The treasurer's report was given but there was no council report.

There was some discussion concerning the tasting spree, and we discussed some future programs that we would like to have.

Attending this meeting were Billie Ruth Abernathy, Doris Henderson, Millie Rose, Effie Wheeler, Mary Rose Bowman, Billie Schroeder, Elaine McMichael, Wanza Graham, Blondie Hamilton, Margaret Brame and Bessie Ann Vaughn.

Great great granddaughter of Chief Lone Wolf visits Loraine and Mitchell County

Most of us growing up in Mitchell County have always had an interest and fascination with stories and information gleaned about Lone Wolf Mountain and the chief himself, Lone Wolf.

Leona Linam, her late husband Jack and the Linam children have had more than just a passing interest in all this history because of living so many years at the foot of the mountain. Leona has lived there 88 years.

In 1979, a great granddaughter of Chief Lone Wolf, Gertrude Hoag, and one of her four daughters, Lillie, came from Hobart, Okla. to see Lone Wolf Mountain as she had heard about it all her life.

The pair stopped at the Linam home because of the proximity to the mountain.

Leona had a nice visit with Gertrude and her daughter, telling them what she knew would be of interest to them.

Because of rainy weather, a trip to the mountaintop was not feasible, plus Gertrude's husband wasn't well. The two ladies headed on back toward Oklahoma but not before exchanging addresses.

Several years went by without Leona hearing from Gertrude. So in November 1993 Peggy Luxton, editor of Caprock Electric Hi Lines publication, featured an article on Lone Wolf Mountain including an interview with Leona plus a mention of Gertrude Hoag and her daughter. In turn, Leona sent the article and a letter to Gertrude, not aware that she had passed away in 1990.

Saturday, September 16, 1995 Gertrude "Elaine" Hoag Eskamire, another daughter of Gertrude Hoag, and her husband, Kenny Eskamire, of Davidson, Okla. came to visit Leona. They had with them the Caprock publication article that Leona had mailed their mother Gertrude, plus other pertinent clippings about the mountain and Chief Lone Wolf.

Leona told them about the Mitchell County Museum and the copper pot and beads found on the mountain in 1925 by the Stevenson boys. When hearing about their visit (on a Sunday), Liz Connell, museum curator, opened the museum for a special tour and Jim Baum taped an interview that was broadcast the next day.

While there, Liz presented the young couple with a copy of the cookbook, The Saga of Food.

Later, the Eskamires learned about Lone Wolf Cemetery and the drive-in and took pictures of them and other places named for their ancestor.

Before going back home, they did visit the mountain and went back to tell Leona goodbye. They were very appreciative of the welcome and courtesy shown to them.

Take care and see you about town.

Look in back of our North Lake power plant, and you'll find, you guessed it, a lake. Two years ago, a small patch of a Southeast Asian aquatic plant called hydrilla was discovered there, causing us some concern.

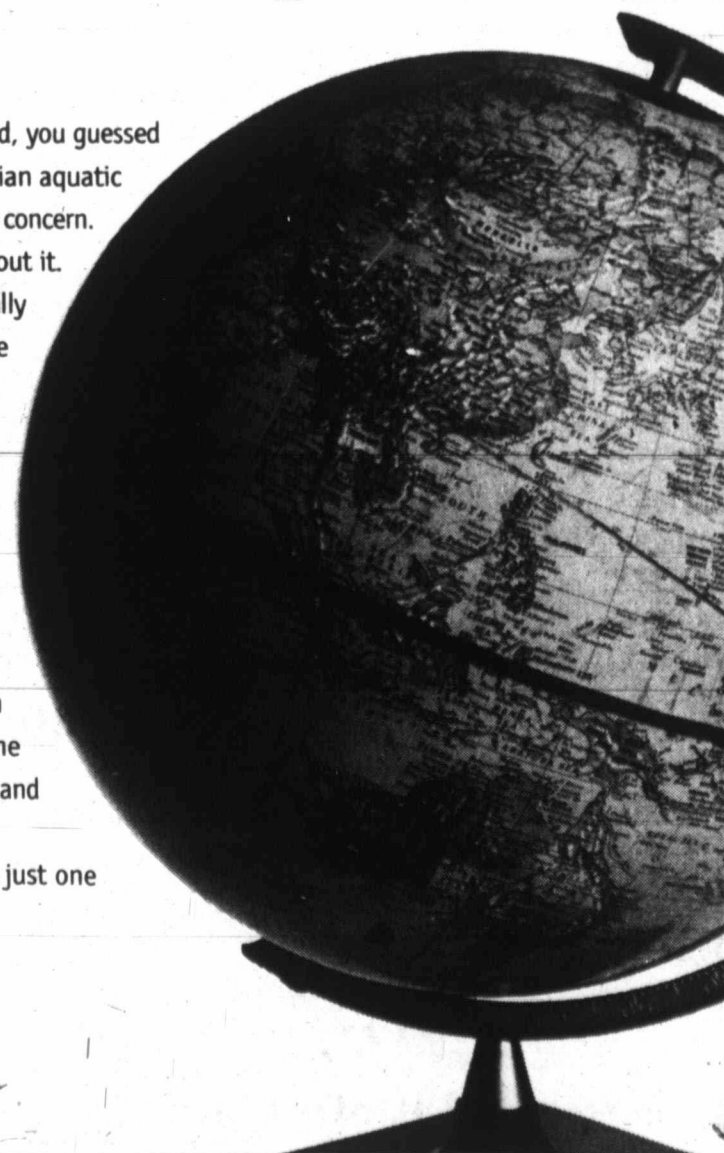

You see, hydrilla grows two inches a day. That's pretty fast, if you think about it. It can grow to the surface and get in the way of skiing, fishing, swimming, virtually anything you can do in a lake. Hydrilla can also clog the power plant's intake pipes, lowering efficiency. So, as you can see, it's a real problem for everyone.

The Solution To The Problem In Our Back Yard Was Found Twelve Thousand Miles Away.

Now, there are several ways that have been used to control hydrilla. Some lakes have been completely drained while others have been bombarded with expensive chemicals. But, none of these treatments was right for us. So, we continued looking. And we found a solution that had been discovered at the source of our problem, where hydrilla came from, Southeast Asia. It's a grass-eating fish that prefers to eat hydrilla and will help to keep it in check, naturally.

Finding creative solutions like this one from halfway around the world is just one more way we're working to build a better electric company.
