Eubank's Release Appears Imminent

By SAM BLACKBURN

The sovereign state of New Mexico has stated:

"It is the recommendation of all, including Governor Campbell, that extradition of Mr. Eubank (Jack Eubank, fugitive lifer now in Howard County jail) be pursued no further . . . Treat this letter as your authority on behalf of the State of New Mexico to discharge this prisoner, if he is presently incarcerated inasmuch as the State of New Mexico has no further interest in attempting to extradite him to New Mexico."

Wayne Burns, district attorney of Howard County, has filed a petition with the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals asking that the state's motion for a rehearing in the matter of Jack Eubank now pending before that court be withdrawn. He also asks that the mandate in the case be issued. The mandate in this particular phase of the Eubank case holds that the original application of New Mexico to extradite Eubank was invalid.

A. N. Standard, sheriff, who has Eubank in custody, said this morning:

"It will apparently take a mandate from the appeals court to authorize me to release Jack Eubank from jail. I must see a mandate or a writ of habeas corpus instructing me to free the man before I will permit him to leave the jail. I feel this is what I have to do as a peace officer. I have no animosity toward Eubank, and I only want to have this matter handled legally and properly. I see no reason why either of these procedures would require longer than a few days."

Lanny Hamby, attorney for Eubank who has led the prisoner's fight to stay in Texas so successfully, said:

"I have called the appeals court and told them the situation. The clerk is checking on the matter of whether the court prepared a mandate prior to the time that Burns filed his original motion for a rehearing. If the mandate is ready, there should be no delay in our getting it after Burns' withdrawal notice is received.

"Should it require action by the court itself (which is now on vacation) we intend to ask that Eubanks be released on bond pending the reconvening of the court.

"We feel sure that any court, in view of the new developments, will grant our client bail."

Meantime, Eubank, the lanky carpenter about whom all this legal turmoil ranges, continues in his jail cell. His worldy belongings are all packed into a small zipper bag which rests on his bunk.

He has been in jail now for 160 days while New Mexico has made two unsuccessful efforts to extradite him, and it looks as if he will have to stay a while longer.

Eubank, originally a resident of Carlsbad, N. M., escaped from the New Mexico prison system in 1957 after having been commited on a life sentence for murder in 1953.

He had lived here quietly under an alias for seven years until last March, when a pickup order was issued by New Mexico for him.

Health Study Bill Signed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed a $280 million health research bill today and announced he is going to create a top level task force to set for the nation goals that will be at once ambitious and realistic.

Johnson said his panel will set national goals in education, in health and in the quest for happiness for all the world's children.

TASK FORCE

Composed of experts in and out of government under presidential leadership, he said, the task force will "tell America where we are, where we are going and how we are going to get there."

Johnson announced his plan in a ceremony at the National Institute of Health, and at the same time announced the resignation of U.S. Surgeon General Luther Terry. Johnson said Terry will become vice president of the University of Pennsylvania after Sept. 30.

A crowd of perhaps 1,000 people stood under murky skies to hear Johnson and watch him sign the measure with dozens of souvenier pens.

LIGHT RAIN

A light sprinkle began falling as Johnson declared:

"As the leader of this country, I plan to set some goals. . .

"We do this because. . . we must advance daily or we will fail eternally."

Johnson said he will create the task force, choosing great leaders of the nation, within the next few days.

He also intended to stop in the heart surgery section.

The President was felled by a heart attack in 1955, and White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said last Friday:

"Some of their research, he believes, helped save his own life after his heart attack."

Soldiers Under Age 18 Will Leave Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Younger members of the 173rd Airborne Brigade are being screened and those under 18 years of age will be transferred out of Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Another source said about 100 youths would be sent out of Viet Nam because of their age.

The brigade began landing in Viet Nam on May 5 and is stationed around Bien Hoa air base, north of Saigon, where it has been taking part in operations against the Viet Cong.

The spokesman said soldiers under 18 will be sent back to Okinawa or perhaps to the United States. He said there are certain provisions in enlistment and draft regulations under which soldiers under 18 can be sent overseas but not to combat zones.

He said other American units coming to Viet Nam apparently screened out their under-18s before shipping out, but that the 173rd did not because it originally was moved here from Okinawa on a temporary basis.

Robbers Kill Store Owner

DALLAS (AP)— John Cooley, 66, owner of a drive-in grocery, was killed Sunday night as he sought to shoot it out with robbers.

Mortally wounded, Cooley held one of the holdup men at gunpoint until he could dial police. Then he collapsed.

Police arrested five Negroes.

Peace Group To Trek To Capitol Steps

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam adopted a "declaration of peace" at a meeting on the Washington Monument grounds today and voted to march to the Capitol.

Some 350 persons were at the meeting of the newly formed Assembly of Unrepresented People.

The decision to march to the Capitol steps was despite advice from police that it would be illegal to march past the end of the mall a half-dozen blocks away.

INTRUSION OFF

An earlier idea of attempting to invade the U.S. House chamber appeared to have been dropped. Several speakers suggested it, but there was no support from the rest of the group.

The "declaration of peace" stated:

"Because we believe that the steady escalation of the war in Viet Nam threatens all people with nuclear death, we declare peace with the people of Viet Nam.

"Because millions of Americans had hoped and expected that their votes in the 1964 presidential election would move our country away from war toward peace and because these hopes and expectation have been betrayed in Viet Nam, we declare peace with the people of Viet Nam."

1,000 ATTRACTED

The assembly attracted about 1,000 persons to its four days of activity, but it wasn't known how many might participate in the march.

Most of the participants belong to other groups, primarily those connected with civil rights.

Some 120 of those on hand picketed at the White House Sunday and police arrested 35 of them.

Coed-Slaying Suspect Gets Mental Check

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—James C. Cross Jr., 22-year-old University of Texas student charged with killing two attractive brunette coeds, has been examined by a psychiatrist, Sheriff T. O. Lang disclosed Sunday.

Lang said Cross, a dark, good-looking Fort Worth English major, was examined by a psychiatrist in his Travis County jail cell at the request of his defense attorneys.

One of the lawyers, Roy Q. Minton, said he has not yet received a report from the psychiatrist.

"We felt that, if he actually did kill these girls, we should definitely have a psychiatrist examine him to determine whether there was a mental condition which motivated him," Minton said. "The very nature of the case would suggest a psychiatric examination."

PAIR SLAIN

Cross is charged in the slaying of Shirley Ann Stark and Susan Rigsby, 21-year-old Chi Omega sorority sisters from Dallas whose partly nude bodies were found July 30 in a vacant lot in north Austin.

The Dallas Morning News quoted investigators as saying Cross brought friends to his apartment the night of July 18. Police say the coeds were killed that afternoon in the apartment and dumped in the field the following morning.

Medical examiners said at least one, and probably both coeds, had been strangled. When their bodies were found, part of their underwear was missing and their other clothing crammed under their arms.

ASK TRANSFER

Another Cross attorney, Perry L. Jones, said Monday if the student is indicted for murder by a grand jury, he will ask the trial to be moved from Austin, the state capital and home of the university.

Jones said he didn't think his client could receive a fair trial here.

There is little doubt that feeling is running high here.

The Daily Texan, the school's student newspaper, said most coeds attending summer sessions "were in a state of near-panic" after the young women's bodies were found.

Few ventured out alone on the campus at night.

STREET LIGHTS

Law officers held a special lecture for women on how to protect themselves, and dozens of parents wrote school officials, asking for better police protection and additional street lights in the campus area.

Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell said he will try to send Cross to the electric chair.

The muscular youth had dated Miss Stark several times but had never seen Miss Rigsby before the slayings, which police said took place after the coeds had gone to his apartment to change clothes.

Town Due To Be Sold

CREEDE, Colo., (AP) — Creede, onetime gold mine bonanza town high up in southwestern Colorado's rugged San Juan Mountains, is about to be sold—at least a big chunk of it is.

The sale, by the Colorado Board of Land Commissioners, is to clear up a land ownership muddle that has existed for at least 30 years— ever since the courthouse went up in flames, and the land records burned with it.

ROARING CITY

Creede isn't what it was 70 years ago when it was a boom town of 15,000; when Bob Ford, slayer of Jesse James, was shot to death there, and confidence man Soapy Smith made it his base of operations.

Then it was a roaring city of tough, hardrock miners, gamblers, girls and gay saloons.

Today, the town has about 350 permanent residents. It attracts visitors chiefly interested in fishing or skiing.

Commissioner Wesley Woodward of the Land Board says that for years he has been trying to unscramble the riddle of who owns what land in Creede, particularly in the southern part of the community.

SELL DEEDS

Anyway, in mid-August the state will sell quitclaim deeds to 219 lots and a 10-acre hill.

But if you're thinking of buying an old gold mine and heading for the Rockies with pickax and mule, don't. The state reserves mineral rights at these sales.

Senators Briefed On Viet Situation

Singer Hospitalized

Singer Helen O'Connel who achieved fame with the Dorsey bands of the 1940s, was hospitalized in Los Angeles Sunday night in a serious condition. Police said the 45-year-old singer was found unconscious at the wheel of her car in the wrong lane of traffic. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Bipartisan Group Hears President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave a bipartisan group of about 40 senators today what Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., called a "person-to-person" briefing on Viet Nam and the world situation.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said there was no indication of any shift in Viet Nam strategy in the 1-hour, 45-minute briefing by the President and his top advisers.

"We are going to have to wait and see what develops in Viet Nam," Mansfield told a reporter. "No man in the country is more vitally interested than the President in the question of Viet Nam. He is spending every waking moment on it and leaving no avenue untrod in seeking a solution."

"WIDE FRONT"

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois declined to discuss what went on at the meeting. But Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said that while the briefing covered a wide front, "I heard nothing new or startling."

Half the senators met with the President at 9:30 a.m. and the others at 6 p.m. House members will be invited at a later date.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said the briefing was "just a recap" of the Viet Nam and world situation.

With Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey present but silent, Mansfield said Johnson participated "with vigor and candor," in answering questions by the senators after the experts had spoken out.

FOR UNDERSTANDING

Mansfield said this morning's briefing — to be followed by a similar one for other senators tonight and four subsequent briefings by House members — was arranged by the President "to bring about as great an understanding as possible of the situation in Viet Nam."

While Mansfield said he was neither more or less optimistic about the outcome of the Vietnamese war because of what he had heard, Sen. D.K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, said he was encouraged.

"It was the most encouraging two hours I have spent at any White House briefing," Inouye said.

"If the people of the United States could have been sitting in the room, I am convinced there would be very few picketings and demonstrations on this matter. However, the circumstances would now allow the administration to discuss this publicly in full detail now."

IMPACT ON WORLD

Mundt said Secretary of State Dean Rusk "discussed the impact of Viet Nam on the rest of the world — the importance to the cause of freedom that Viet Nam be not crushed to earth."

Dirksen, like other Republicans at the conference, was loathe to discuss any details because of the flareup following a White House briefing which caused a dispute between Johnson and House minority leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan over reported "leaks" of information.

Johnson laid groundwork for the meetings Sunday by telephoning diplomatic and legal advisers from Camp David, Md., where he and Mrs. Johnson spent the weekend.

Cong Scheme For Influence Includes Ruse

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong agents have moved rapidly and astutely to take advantage of the burned homes and civilian casualties caused by U.S. Marine and Air Force operations south of Da Nang, well informed military sources said today.

They said some military circles believe the Communist drive to undermine politically the American position around this strategic air base is gaining momentum.

RED RUSE

Senior Viet Cong leaders have moved into villages in the densely populated area south of the base. They tell the peasants they are from the Viet Minh, Ho Chi Minh's army which destroyed French power in Indochina and won the peninsula its independence. The Viet Minh is still respected by many older Vietnamese who are not Communists.

The Communist propaganda line now is that the Americans have replaced the French and are trying to take over the country in a new war against the Vietnamese people. It claims this is proven by recent operations south of the base.

HOMES DESTROYED

During the past week Marines killed at least five civilians in one operation. About 100 homes were destroyed in another by Marines. The Marines had received sniper fire from both villages.

Marine artillery and U.S. Air Force and Marine planes also have blasted villages the Viet Cong were using as bases from which to harass Marine patrols and outposts. A number of buildings were destroyed and some civilian casualties were reported.

The Viet Cong reportedly have tightened their discipline to prevent friction with villagers. They are said to be paying for all food and going out of their way to aid villagers caught in recent Marine operations. In some areas the guerrillas reportedly have put down their rifles long enough to help rebuild destroyed bamboo and thatch huts.

Col. Taute Named For Star Rank

The rank soon will be Brig. Gen. A. F. Taute.

The name of Webb's wing commander appeared on an official list of Air Force nominations for star rank, released through the service today. Effective date of the promotions was not immediately given.

The promotion of Col. Taute to general rank is the first made at Webb through the Air Training Command as an actual on-duty recognition. A former wing commander here, the late Brig. Gen. Howard Withycombe, had received his promotion from colonel through service at the Air Force Academy before arriving at Webb. Other wing commanders have had promotions after departing the local post and going into other commands.

Col. Taute has been in command here since February, 1964, had spent an earlier tour as deputy commander at Webb from July, 1960 to January, 1961.

COL. A F. TAUTE

At the latter date, he went to Del Rio to activate a training operation at Laughlin AFB, and won special commendation for work there. Since his return to Webb, the base has achieved highest rank from the ATC in virtually all areas of inspection.

He has had close to 25 years' service in the Air Force.

A native of Tolley, S.D., he is a graduate of South Dakota State College, and took aviation cadet training at Randolph and Kelly Fields in San Antonio. He is a graduate of the Air War College and the Command and Staff school. He has served with a military assistance advisory group in Peru, and also had a tour in Okinawa. For the past nine years he has been with the Training Command, at Lackland, Laughlin and Webb.

Nobody On Drifting Boat

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — A yacht found abandoned in the Mediterranean was towed into Marseille today where maritime authorities probed for some clue to its missing crew and passengers.

The yacht was sighted Sunday afternoon by officers of a Swedish ship. They ordered a search of the yacht when they saw it drifting aimlessly off the Balearic Islands. Officers who went aboard found personal baggage and fuel in reserve tanks but no sign of crew or passengers.

The Swedish officers reported by radio the yacht apparently belonged to the Belgian Yacht Club. It could accommodate four or six persons the Swedish officers reported.

High Court Seat For Fortas Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Conservative Union says the appointment of Washington lawyer Abe Fortas to the Supreme Court may lead to further "political mischief" on the court.

The union, headed by former Indiana Republican Congressman Donald C. Bruce, attacked in a statement Saturday what it called Fortas' "dedication to the left-liberal political and social viewpoint."

Cotton Crop Dip Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department forecast the cotton crop today at 14,916,000 bales. This is 1.7 per cent less than last year's crop.

The Texas crop was estimated at 4,250,000 bales, grown on 5,525,000 acres averagihg 369 pounds.

The 1964 harvest was 15,180,000 bales. It compared with the five-year (1959-63) average of 14,670,000 bales.

UNDER CONTROLS

The crop is being grown under government controls, including the offer of payments to growers for reducing plantings at a time when there is a surplus.

The crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surplus estimated at 14,200,000 bales, largest since 1956 when the carryover supply was at a record high of 14,400,000 bales.

The yield of cotton lint per harvested acre was forecast at 525 pounds, highest of record, compared with 517 pounds last year and 464 for the five-year average.

ESTIMATE TOTALED

The acreage expected to be harvested was estimated at 13,632,000 acres compared with 14,060,000 last year and 15,168,000 for the five-year average.

The Census Bureau said 180,062 bales from this year's crop had been ginned prior to Aug. 1. This compared with 152,092,000 last year.

Production of cottonseed was indicated at about 6,147,800 tons.

The department said heavier grower participation than last year in the department's domestic allotment program—designed to help hold down production—accounted for 4 per cent increase in acres planted. Abandonment of the acres planted this year was indicated at 4 per cent compared with 5.3 per cent last year.

LATE CROP

Because of a cool, wet spring, much of the crop is later than normal. The main exceptions are in Central and South Texas and the upper Mississippi Delta.

In Texas, harvesting of a good crop in the Lowen Rio Grande Valley was well under way. May and June rains were favorable for the Blackland and Low Plains crops, but these areas as well as parts of the High Plains now need moisture.

Dry weather is threatening the Oklahoma crop.

Stocks Led By Aircrafts

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft issues were standouts in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Interest in the aircrafts apparently stemmed from the United States' expanding role in the Viet Nam war.

There were no other news developments to stimulate the market.

Sinatra, Mia Future Secret

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (AP)—The future plans of singer Frank Sinatra and television actress Mia Farrow remained secret today. Their vacation yacht was at anchor off Martha's Vineyard.

Sinatra gave a party Saturday night for a group of guests, one of whom was erroneously identified as Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the president.

DIDN'T GO

Miss Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, said the former First Lady had not gone aboard the yacht, as previously reported.

News photographers and reporters thought a woman photographed boarding the yacht looked like Mrs. Kennedy.

Miss Turnure told The Associated Press today that Mrs. Kennedy "is upset about published pictures which identified her as boarding the boat. She did not go near the boat and the picture is not of her."

NOT IDENTIFIED

The woman mistaken for Mrs. Kennedy was not identified.

Meantime, neither Sinatra, 49, nor Miss Farrow, the blonde actress 30 years his junior, would disclose any information about their plans.

In the upper photo, two girls stage a temporary sit-down in near 90-degree heat near the northwest gate as part of a demonstration against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam. Specter Hangs Over Britains Of Bankruptcy

LONDON (AP) — "Get off your backsides!" the prime minister demanded.

Harold Wilson was addressing directly, if inelegantly, Britain's businessmen in a recent public speech.

This was his case: If 400 key firms making good products would sell harder in world markets the nation could overcome its chronic problem of spending more than it earns abroad.

NEAR BANKRUPTCY

Today the main political parties agree on one thing: The whole British people will have to get off their backsides quickly if Britain's money, living standings and world influence are to be preserved.

For Britain, mightiest of powers at the turn of the century, teeters on the brink of bankruptcy.

The globe-girdling giant that dominated the world is living on borrowed time and money and the help of its friends.

Britannia once ruled the waves and a lot more but in recent times leaders of such former colonies as President Julius Nyerere's Tanzania and Prime Minister Eric Williams' Trinidad-Tobago have tweaked the British lion's tail. Premier Ian Smith of Rhodesia, a self-ruling colony, has threatened to defy British authority by proclaiming independence.

At home a phase of grim political warfare is under way.

VERBAL DUEL

The ruling Laborites and opposition Conservatives are locked in a bitter duel of words and personalities. For weeks recriminations have filled the parliamentary air over which side is to blame for the plight of the nation.

Wilson sarcastically dubbed Edward Heath, the new Conservative leader, as "this Sir Galahad." Then he accused Heath of deliberately misleading British voters in 1964 about the state of the economy.

Reginald Maudling, Heath's deputy, flung back the taunt that Wilson "loves the nasty smear — a mean-minded little man masquerading as a prime minister."

Hope Held On Apportioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert J. Dole says "there still is a glimmer of hope" for a constitutional amendment which would permit states to apportion one house of their legislature on a basis other than population.

The Kansas Republican said Sunday bipartisan effort will be made to get a House vote on the plan.

The Senate voted 59 to 39 in favor of such an amendment last week, but a two-thirds majority of the 100-man body was required for approval.

Meanwhile, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted that such an amendment eventually will be referred to the states by Congress.

Javits, speaking on a recorded television-radio program, said the amendment should permit the Supreme Court to determine whether apportionment on a nonpopulation basis would be fair to minorities. He failed in an attempt to substitute such a proposal for the one sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Nagging Ruled Not Grounds For Divorce

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The South Carolina Supreme Court has ruled that nagging is not physical cruelty and, therefore, not grounds for divorce. The ruling reversed a divorce decree granted in a Greenville County court.

A Greenville County man claimed in his suit that his wife's "unjustified jealousy and nagging grew so unreasonable that he was deprived of rest and sleep, and that such conduct amounted to physical cruelty within the meaning of our divorce statute."

In reversing the divorce decree, the high court said:

The record in the case "shows nothing more than incompatibility betwen the parties characterized by the nagging of the wife and such conduct does not constitute physical cruelty."

Incompatibility is not grounds for divorce in South Carolina.

Court records showed the couple married in 1924, separated in 1949 and the suit for divorce was filed in 1964.

White House Said Blocking Secrecy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House drive to pierce government secrecy by making more records available to the public has stalled in the face of White House opposition, congressional informants said today.

One source said word had been passed from President Johnson to House leaders to jettison the bill.

The measure would not interfere with matters dealing with national security, but the administration is said to be concerned with protecting the doctrine of executive privilege and with guarding secret files such as the FBI's.

RIGHT TO KNOW

The freedom of information bill has been urged by news media representatives as a guarantee of the citizens' right to know about their government, but opposed by the Justice Department as an attempt to oversimplify a complex problem.

Despite the opposition, two of the measure's leading congressional supporters, Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., and Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., are portrayed as being optimistic the legislation will be approved. Moss heads the House government information subcommittee; Long heads the Senate judiciary subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure.

But the bill's chances appear dim for this year with Congress shooting for adjournment by late next month.

Aides of Long said the senator hoped to push the measure along by winning his subcommittee's approval this week. Moss is not that hopeful.

HELD HEARINGS

Both subcommittees have held hearings on the measure. In general it would require federal agencies to make their records open to public inspection except for matters pertaining to security, personnel records and information private concerns must submit to the government.

Since Moss' hearings ended in April, discussions have been under way in an effort to draw up a suitable bill that will satisfy every one including the President.

A source said the measure has undergone eight revisions.

The major difficulty, Moss said, is the insistence by "people at the Justice Department" that provisions be made in the bill for protection of executive privilege.

MOSS' STAND

"I will not agree to any language that grants statutory recognition to executive privilege," Moss said.

The doctrine of executive privilege is used by Presidents to prohibit certain records or correspondence from being made available not only to the public but also to Congress.

A freedom of information law was passed in the Senate last year but wasn't considered in the House.

GAINED MOMENTUM

But the move developed more momentum this year when on Feb. 17 more than 25 representatives and senators introduced freedom of information bills aimed at establishing a federal records law.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
[© 1965: By The Chicago Tribune]

Q. 1—As South vulnerable you have dealt yourself:
♠ AKQJ ♡ 642 ◇ 753 ♣ AK4
What is your opening bid?
A.—Tho this hand possesses the textbook requirements for a one no trump opening, that call should be avoided when all of your values are concentrated in two suits. A one-spade opening may present rebid problems. The best approach is to bid one club with the intention of showing spades next.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠ Q964 ♡ AQ1052 ◇ K73 ♣ J
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. While it is tempting to double for penalties, partner may think you are contesting for the part score and bid three clubs for which you are not prepared.

Q. 3—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠ AJ1054 ♡ 3 ◇ A1096 ♣ 854
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♣	2 ♠	3 ♣	?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. Altho partner was not strong enough to make a take-out double the bidding marks him to be short in clubs. The hands should fit well enough to offer a reasonable play for game.

Q. 4—Neither side vulnerable, your partner opens with one spade and you hold:
♠ KQJ2 ♡ AJ5 ◇ 843 ♣ 752
What is your response?
A.—Two spades. We are normally reluctant to make a mild response with a hand containing so many high cards, but no other satisfactory call is available. In support of spades this hand is worth 10 points, which brings it within the limits of a single raise. The distribution is against you.

Q. 5—North-South vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠ A5 ♡ K1094 ◇ AJ9874 ♣ 3
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
3 ♣	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid?
A.—Three diamonds. It may seem that this hand rates more aggressive action, but a take-out double would be attended with grave danger, for if partner responded with three spades you might find yourself in an untenable position. True enough you may miss a heart game, but then you must charge it up to the fortunes of war.

Q. 6—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠ AKQJ753 ♡ 5 ◇ J3 ♣ 1062
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	1 ♡	1 ♠
2 ♡	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. You can win seven tricks and should rely upon the opener to produce three.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠ KQJ95 ♡ 82 ◇ KQJ9 ♣ 73
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♡
5 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?
A.—While you have considerably more than you might have had for your one-over-one response, nevertheless you should pass, for you haven't exactly what partner needs. He is evidently faced with the loss of two heart tricks. With a singleton heart you should accept the invitation, for he holds solid clubs, spades and the ace of diamonds, but two little hearts.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠ A42 ♡ AQ94 ◇ K1085 ♣ Q9
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Dbl.	Redbl.	1 NT

What do you bid now?
A.—Double. You have East hanging on the ropes. You have 18 points in high cards, and partner's redouble marks him with at least an average hand so that the opposition is in for a rough voyage. Strike now and let them try to extricate themselves.

Flying Objects Go Unidentified

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Unidentified flying objects which hovered in one place for about three hours were reported Saturday night by policemen here and in nearby Sulphur Springs.

A police official here said officers reported sighting an object with red, white and blue lights staying in one place in the sky northeast of Paris, an East Texas town.

Patrolman Richard Denson at Sulphur Springs reported seeing objects that "looked like stars," but changed colors from red to blue to amber. A number of residents also reported seeing the objects, Sulphur Springs police said.

Hail, Strong Wind Strike

By The Associated Press

Strong wind, rain and hail hammered into West Texas Sunday as a weak cold front triggered turbulent weather in the state. The Weather Bureau called for scattered thundershowers Monday night in Northwestern and South Texas.

In East Texas, hail and heavy rains hit the Woodville-Kountze area during the early morning hours Monday.

Hail damaged the cotton crop near Lazbuddie in West Texas. The town reported over two inches of rain and the flooding of nearby roads. Hard rain was also reported at Friona and Muleshoe.

Tornadoes were reported 20 miles northeast and 40 miles southeast of Lubbock, and a high wind toppled a trailer house, blew a butane gas tank from its foundation and uprooted a large tree in the Abilene area.

Thundershowers are predicted for Northwest Texas and for 20 to 40 per cent of South Texas east of the Pecos through Monday night.

Who wears the pants in the Flint family?

We get lots of nice mail about Volkswagen Station Wagons. But Mrs. Anidelle Flint of Fresno, Cal., gave us fits.
"Good grief!" she wrote. And we shuddered.
Was she going to tell us her Volkswagen didn't get over 20 miles on a gallon? Or 35,000 miles on tires?
It was much worse than that: She was angry because we'd said husbands are the only people who can appreciate a station wagon that looks like a bus.
When it comes to appreciating the homely virtues of our homely wagon, Mrs. Flint (mother of six) is the undisputed man of the house.
She not only appreciates it, but she made her husband (father of six) appreciate it. To the point where he went out and bought one.
"I love the way it fits almost twice the packing space of a big wagon into 4 feet less parking space," she said. "But I'll bet you got the whole idea from your wife."
Maybe we did. And maybe we didn't.

Two Major Bills Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress faces another heavy workload this week in its drive for adjournment by mid-September.

Two major administration measures top the legislative docket, one in each chamber.

The Senate takes up Tuesday a House-passed bill to create a Department of Urban Affairs to cope with the mounting problems of cities. The department would be headed by a Cabinet officer.

The following day the House will start debate on President Johnson's new public works and economic development plan, a $665-million-a-year measure to help areas of chronic unemployment.

PASSED HOUSE

Headed for the Senate floor later in the week, but not for a decisive vote, is another administration bill, a $1.65 - billion measure continuing the antipoverty program for another year. It already has passed the House.

Also in line for Senate consideration is a House-passed measure to give members of the armed forces pay raises aggregating about $1 billion a year.

And before the week is out, the Senate may approve the nomination of Abe Fortas to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Its Appropriations Committee is expected to grant, perhaps with increases, the President's request for $1.7 billion extra to help pay the cost of the fighting in Viet Nam. Another military money bill, providing $1.7 billion to finance construction of bases and housing, may be passed by the House Tuesday.

The Senate has not considered a House-passed bill to strike down state laws against union-shop contracts between workers and employers.

Backed up in the House Rules Committee are a new farm bill, a bill to give government civilian employes and members of Congress pay boosts, a measure to revise broadly the immigration program, and a bill to provide federal aid for higher education. All have been approved by other committees, and the farm measure may emerge from the rules group this week. All rank high on the President's legislative program.

AGAINST BILL

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., today urged defeat of Johnson's request to establish a new Cabinet department of housing and urban development.

The veteran Virginia Democrat said the proposed new executive unit "had better be called a department of backdoor spending and contingent liabilities."

If it followed the pattern of the newest Cabinet Department of Health, Education and Welfare established in 1953, Byrd said in a statement, it "would be a $225-billion department" in 13 years.

MRS. ELENO BRITO

Couple Weds In Stanton

STANTON (SC)—Miss Ninfa Bryand and Eleno Brito were married in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. John A. Pierce in the St. Joseph Catholic Church Saturday morning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Bryand of Tarzan. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Brito, Stanton.

The altar was graced with baskets of white gladioli and banked with green fern.

Miss Carol Ann Pribyla, organist, played "Ava Maria," "Panis Angelicus," 'My Rosary," and the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown with a bodice of white lace. The scalloped neckline was accented with seed pearls and sequins. The chiffon skirt and train were trimmed with a wide border of lace, and her elbow-length veil of illusion was of tulle and fell from a crown accented with seed pearls.

For traditional items, her dress was new, and her necklace was borrowed. She wore a blue garter and a birthday penny in her shoe.

The bridal bouquet was white roses carried atop a white Bible. Inside was a iridescent rosary, a gift from the priest.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Augustine Ramos, Tarzan. She wore a white Jacquared taffeta dress with an empire waistline, and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Domingo Equiniones, Mrs. Senaido Hernandez Jr., Mrs. Luis Duque, Miss Adelina Guevara, Miss Mary Louisa Duque, Miss Hortensia Briseno and Miss Linda Villa.

Cushion girls were Miss Mary Linda Silva and Miss Mary Sanchez. They wore identical dresses of blue fashioned after the matron of honor's dress. Their headpieces were of light blue tulle attached to a bow, and they wore white accessories.

Jeanie Ramos was flower girl and wore a white dress identical to the other attendants. The bride's brother, Joe Benny Bryand, was ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Aquestine Ramos. Groomsmen were Domingo Equiniones, Senaido Hernandez Jr., Luis Duque, George Gonzales, Clemente Villa Jr., Juan Arredondo and Lalo Salgado. Pablo Bryand Jr., brother of the bride, was usher.

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a blue two-piece ensemble. She wore white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Stanton.

The bride attended Stanton High School, and the bridegroom attended Stanton schools and is employed by R&S Construction Company of Midland.

The reception was held in the parish hall. The guests were greeted by the honored couple and parents.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace tablecloth and accented with blue and white streamers. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Master Play Is Set Wednesday

Announcement of Master Point play was announced for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Saturday duplicate games at the Big Spring Country Club when four tables joined in games.

The Howell movement was used Saturday and winners were first, Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. E. M. Bunn; second and third place tied with Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. Ayra McGann, Mrs. J. C. Greenhaw and Joe Steyer.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Talked with Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Robert Stripling while lunching at Cosden Country Club several days ago and met Angel's nephew, Jimmy Tate of Lubbock. The Angels flew to Houston with the youngster where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Angel, and their grandson, Bobby. She said the Astrodome is well worth seeing even if there's no game scheduled. She was to leave Friday to see her mother in Lubbock.

When Mrs. S. A. McComb was in last week to bring the information on Sammie's Midland wedding, she said that her son, Dell, speech teacher at Abilene, is spending the summer at the Lake Hotel near Fisherman's Bridge at Yellowstone National Park. He's in charge of all park reservations and is having a lot of fun with the job. Plans to be back at the end of the month.

Back at her job, also, is Mrs. C. C. Choate who took one day off to accompany her husband to the 10th annual conclave of the Far Western DOOK Temple at Lubbock. The meeting was held at the swank Koko Palace.

I joined Mrs. Reba Meadows, Roy Rogan, Benny Kilgore and Ann Willis for a little celebration dinner at the Spanish Main last week and was glad to see Mrs. Faye Morgan who was dining with Judy Gillean. Mrs. Morgan left Sunday to spend a week in Los Angeles, Calif., where she'll be making arrangements to open a business here, and was happily enthusiastic about the prospects.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watkins waved from a corner table where they were having a quiet evening alone.

A note came from Mrs. Robert Hartzog (Molli) saying she and the family had finally reached Charleston, S. C., after a rather harrowing trip—only to have the sand blow their first day home. She said they arrived there in the early morning hours with two sick children after having a flat tire in the driving rain—and as she put it, "feeling mean, mean, mean!"

Mrs. R. W. Andrews was in the office the other day, and I guess it was the first time I'd seen her since we were neighbors on Yale Street. Their son, Bill, is going to summer school at Abilene Christian College, and the other son, Bob, is doing graduate work there.

It was fun doing Sunday's page on the girl's getting ready for college. They were all pert and pretty. Does it seem to you, as it does to me, that these young people have a lot more on the ball than we did at that age? We took one picture at the home of the H. L. Gray Jrs. where Mrs. Gray was nursing a sore knee from an accident while vacationing. They were at Lake LBJ, Galveston, and Sulphur, La., where they were guests of her mother, Mrs. Bonnie Vincent.

It could happen to anyone—and it did to me. I got into the wrong luncheon for a few minutes Friday at Big Spring Country Club, but it afforded me the opportunity to chat a few minutes with Mrs. Jordan Grooms, who is here with her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Hewett. She and Dr. Grooms will go on to their summer home in Kerrville but will be back "off and on" for the next couple of months.

Ran into Dick Phieffer at Cosden Country Club, and he reported that he and Mrs. Phieffer and the boys had a fine vacation trip. While at Fenton, Mich., they spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeHart, former local residents while he was an instructor at Webb in the late fifties. Dick said they watched the Green Bay Packers work out, and I discovered that he and Bill Veck have been buddies since their Navy days. Veck is living in Phoenix, Ariz., and anxious to get back into baseball.

Mrs. Joe Moss is looking for a fall costume to do justice to the unusual python shoes and bag that her brother, Dr. Floyd Reese, sent her from overseas. He is due back home soon and may be visiting here.

Had a call from Mrs. H. H. Thames who has retired from her nursing career and said she is growing tomatoes by the bushel. Her guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Thames. He's manager of the Dalhart division of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. The couple went to Fort Worth Sunday to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Webb.

Bob Bright's guests today are his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Barnett and their son, Davy. Mrs. Barnett is teaching in Oklahoma City this fall while her husband continues his law study. Bruce Bright will join his father and the Barnetts for a week at Capitan, N.M., where they'll be guests of Bright's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mayfield. Mayfield is principal of the school there.

That midsummer madness is upon me and I'll be vacationing for the next two weeks. Call anyway—Mrs. Joe Pickle will be as pleased to hear from you as I would.

Lake Scene Of Family Gathering

KNOTT (SC) — The annual Roman family reunion was held recently at Lake Thomas. Attending the three-day affair from Knott were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown and Robbie, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roman, Leah, Jan and Rena, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cheatham, Diane and Randy.

Others attending were Mrs. May York, Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Warren, Goodland; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Billings, Kevin and Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogue, Brent and Carla; all of Brownfield; and Mrs. Minnie Unger, Walter Unger, Mrs. Francis Glynn and Carolyn Owens, all of Big Spring.

Mrs. Charles Williams and children are visiting her parents in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Morris, Nelda, Linda and Judy are visiting relatives in Houston.

They will also visit Mrs. Albert Norris at Evening Shade, Ark., and will be the guests of a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hayhurst and children of Slidell, Ark. Later, they will visit New Orleans, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will return home by plane.

Mid-Summer Travel Occupies Forsanites

FORSAN (SC) — Mr. Oscar Boeker, Beth and Lewis, will spend this week in San Antonio with Mrs. Boeker's parents.

Home from a short visit in Gail are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lewis, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore.

The Pioneer Sewing Club was entertained by Mrs. G. L. Monroney, with 11 members attending. Next hostess will be Mrs. Henry Park, Aug. 16, at her home south of Forsan.

Mrs. Earl Beeson is in Dallas, to be with her sister, Mrs. Allie Edwards, who had surgery in a hospital there Friday morning. Mrs. Beeson will be in Dallas several days.

J. W. Griffith has been dismissed from Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital where he was a patient for several days.

A visit to Wingate, Ariz., was completed recently by Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ferguson, who visited Mrs. Ferguson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Henson.

Blake, Cindy and Scott Patton have returned home from Tye where they visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patton, for two weeks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey have been Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davie of Iraan, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Davie of Ozona and Joyce Boatright of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Stroud are in Monahans for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkerson.

Here from Skaitook, Okla., are Mrs. Pat Brunton and Pattie, visiting Mrs. Brunton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Camp.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall and children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oglesby, Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. Don McAdams and sons, Big Spring.

Mrs. Ted Henry has been with her mother, Mrs. Petsick, who is ill at her home in Hico.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Garrett and Cindy are on a vacation trip to Carlsbad Caverns and to their parents' home in Colorado City.

Returning to her home in Odessa was Virginia Greer, after a visit here in the Earl Beeson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGuire and children of Abilene were here to visit her parents for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hoard and sons of Rush Springs, Ark., are expected to visit here next week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoard, with her mother in Big Spring.

Attend Services

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Jones returned Sunday from Rowlett where they attended funeral services Saturday for her brother, Conner Taylor, 57, who passed away Thursday in a Dallas hospital.

Storms Lash U.S. Sectors, Some Severe

By The Associated Press

Scattered thundershowers rolled over the South and Midwest today in the wake of storms that spawned funnel clouds and hail Sunday.

Some of the Atlantic states also had storms. Tampa, Fla., reported this morning receiving more than 1½ inches of rain in a six-hour period.

Storms Sunday were particularly severe in Texas. Two tornadoes were reported to have touched down during the night in open country near Lubbock. Near Abilene, high winds overturned a house trailer. There were no injuries reported.

EASTERN PART

The extreme eastern portion of the state was lashed by hail and heavy rain.

Thunderstorms spewing hail and funnel clouds passed through northern Illinois during the day. Damage, however, was negligible.

Eastern and central Indiana also were targets for heavy rain and tornadoes. Three homes at Alexandria were reported to have been heavily damaged by what was believed to be a small tornado. North of Anderson, several autos were overturned and some small buildings damaged. No injuries were reported.

BOLT BOUNCES

John S. Childs, 35, Richmond, Ind., was electrocuted at Jimmerson Lake. The county coroner said Childs died of electrical shock while fishing. The coroner theorized lightning bounced off the water onto Childs' homemade raft.

Temperatures this morning were above normal through the West and below normal from the Ohio Valley to the Great Lakes. Readings elsewhere were normal.

Clear to partly cloudy skies were reported over most of the Western states this morning.

Driver Strike Due Mediation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Representatives of striking bread truck drivers and the Texas Gulf Bakers Council were to meet Monday with a federal mediator in an attempt to settle the strike that began Saturday night.

Some 550 sales drivers who deliver about 80 per cent of the bread sold within 75 miles of Houston are involved in the strike.

Pickets of Sales Drivers Union Local 949, a Teamster affiliate, walked Sunday outside the five bakeries they are striking.

R. B. Moon, secretary-treasurer of the striking local, said the picketing will continue 24 hours a day until the negotiators agree on a contratc.

Details were not revealed but the drivers and spokesmen for management said issues in the dispute include wages, seniority, pensions and reductions of a six-day work week to five days.

The five bakeries affected are Mrs. Baird's, Rainbo, Schott's, Continental Baking and American Bakeries.

Robert Ruhe, executive director of the Bakers Council, said the five bakeries are specializing in one and a half pound loaves of white bread during the strike.

Bakery officials have said they foresee no shortage of bread in stores. Grocerymen and restaurant operators were to pick up bread at the five plants.

Nagasaki Notes Anniversary Of Atomic Bombing

NAGASAKI, Japan (AP) — The citizens of Nagasaki bowed their heads in prayer today to mark the 20th anniversary of the atomic bomb blast that left their ancient city in ruins.

The bells of Buddhist temples and Christian churches tolled and sirens wailed at 11:02 a.m., the time the second of America's wartime nuclear weapons exploded over Nagasaki and killed an estimated 75,000 persons.

Three days earlier a U.S. bomber had dropped the first bomb over Hiroshima.

King To Visit Harlem In '65

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said in New York Sunday that he intended to visit Harlem later this year as part of his tour of Northern cities.

Angleton is in Brazoria County on the Gulf Coast. Visitors to the camp this summer have come from as far away as Alaska, Maine and Oregon, Crow said.

Lightning Kills Two Golfers

LOUISVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A doctor says he believes metal-spiked golf shoes contributed to the deaths of two golfers killed by lightning Sunday as they took shelter in a metal shed.

The doctor who pronounced Jerrold J. Quinn and Joe L. Gay, both of Louisville, dead said he believed the shoes helped ground the lightning.

He said the lightning apparently jumped from a nearby tree to the shed and then to an umbrella the men were holding. The doctor asked anonymity.

Sarnoff Makes Reality Of Dreams

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen David Sarnoff sat in his gadget-operated office and stared into the 21st century.

He saw: Homes run by finger-touch, with 20 years of light, heat, cooling power buried in a suitcase-sized battery in the basement;

Planes winging 5,000 miles an hour overhead; freight shot across the continent by missile;

Food enough for all will be harvested from the sea and outer space. Someone will punch a button and it will rain; the great deserts of the world will be in bloom; hurricanes will be turned around and headed back to sea;

Man working only two hours a day; living past the biblical three score 10 toward the five-score mark, in happier health with electronic replacements for wornout hearts, lungs or kidneys; doctors programming their patients' symptoms into computers and collecting within seconds the latest medical knowledge from all over the world.

"ARE POSSIBLE"

"All these things are possible by 2,000 A.D. from the development of scientific discoveries already made," says Sarnoff, 74, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America. "Whatever the mind of man visualizes, the genius of modern science can turn into fact.

"What a world this will be, if mankind's hearts can pace their minds!"

Many of today's miracles — radio, television, electronics, radar, space shots, satellite television, machines that store giant masses of information and solve intricate equations with demonic speed — were translated into being by this dynamic dreamer-doer, born the first son of a poor Russian trader about the same year man discovered the secret of the electron which, harnessed by the mind of man, is the keystone of many of today's scientific marvels.

Sarnoff, known as the "father of radio," has been called the "positive charge of kinetic energy" that put the electron to work.

BECOME FACT

Neither an inventor nor a scientist, Sarnoff is a catalyst, a man who has made many prophecies, then forged and managed the business and research which made them come true.

In 1915, when the wireless was still a "contraption," he foresaw music boxes in every home. In 1921, shortly after RCA was formed and he became its commercial manager, he talked his bosses into risking $2,000 to develop a "music box."

Today 228 million radios are in use in homes, automobiles, coat pockets, under the sea and in space.

In 1923 he said, "Television will come to pass in due time." Sixteen years and $20 million later, he — then president of RCA — unveiled the first television at the World's Fair in New York.

Today 67 million television sets are in use.

Today he watches yet another prophecy come true. Color television has caught on, after $130 million in research and a 10-year wait before color's account could be written in uncolored ink.

Mysterious Murders On High Seas Probed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard is piecing together clues to mysterious murders on the high seas that left a 125-foot cargo vessel adrift off Florida with a frightened crewman and three bodies aboard.

Eight men were on the Panamanian flag vessel Seven Seas when it left Miami Saturday bound for repairs in a Tampa dry dock. It was due to arrive today.

WAS HIDING

The crewman, Elvin Burywaise, 25, was hiding in the vessel's chain locker room when Coast Guardmen boarded the Seven Seas shortly after noon Sunday.

Burywaise told the boarding team he saw a crewman shoot the first mate in the bunk. He said he ran to the bridge to notify the captain, and found Capt. Rogelio Diaz of Miami dead.

Burywaise said four men had been shot to death, but there were only three bodies. The Coast Guard surmised the fourth had been thrown overboard.

A Coast Guard patrol plane first sighted the craft at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, drifting approximately 100 miles south of Miami.

The plane made several passes over the ship, saw no sign of life and radioed the Coast Guard Rescue Coordination Center here to investigate.

The cutter Cape Shoalwater, on patrol in the Florida Straits nearby, rushed to the scene.

Coast Guard aircraft immediately began a search for the vessel's missing 14-foot skiff and the three persons believed to be aboard.

The Cape Shoalwater took the Seven Seas in tow after removing Burywaise and interrogating him. The Coast Guard said Burywaise was a Honduran, but it had no additional information.

The Cape Shoalwater and the Seven Seas were en route to Key West hoping to complete the journey by noon today.

Six aircraft and the cutter Diligence searched for the missing skiff.

Lomax Gets Most Rainfall

Lomax residents revelled in a rain which dumped .60 inch of badly needed moisture on their parched fields and pastures Sunday night, but the rest of the county got only light showers or no rain at all.

The Lomax area favored with the Sunday night rain was limited. Heavier rains were reported to have fallen south of Lomax. Toward Elbow and north toward IS 20 the moisture dwindled to light showers.

Here in Big Spring, about a tenth of an inch of rain fell in the brief shower which was ushered in by black clouds and flashes of lightning.

Texas Electric Service Company switching station reported a trace. Chalk got .30 inch and Morgan Creek, a quarter of an inch, TESCO reported.

U. S. Experiment Station reported no measureable rain.

The temperature climbed to a sizzling 98 degrees Sunday afternoon and cooled down only to 74 degrees early Monday morning.

Partially cloudy skies with a few scattered showers was the forecast for today and Tuesday.

House Burned

A fire of unknown origin heavily damaged a house at 1500 State Park Drive Sunday at 9:30 p.m., city firemen said Monday. The fire was quenched only after considerable damage had been caused by the blaze, firemen indicated. They described the house as an uninhabited shack, and said no one was injured in the fire.

Auto Repair Course Begins

The first of two sections due to receive training in auto body repair started class sessions today at Howard County Junior College.

Later, training will be shifted to another site, said college officials.

The next section will start classes Aug. 30. Those who are unemployed or under-employed and who can pass certain aptitude tests given by Texas Employment Commission are eligible for the 43 weeks of training. They receive $31 a week base allowance, plus $5 each for additional dependents during the period of training. Out-of-town bulk of the enrollment in the first class, will receive a subsistence allowance.

Nineteen signed for the first section and another is pending. Eighteen showed for the first session Monday under W. E. Scarbrough, instructor. Classes run on an 8-hour day, 5-day week basis.

Weather Forecast

Scattered showers and some thundershowers are forecast for Monday night from the Great Lakes eastward to the middle Atlantic Coast and over portions of Arizona. It will be cooler over the central Rockies, the northern Plains and from the lower Great Lakes and Ohio Valley to Virginia. It will be warmer over the midlands. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

The plant was opened recently in a new industrial area between the Space Center and Galveston Bay.

Agency Curbs Public Access

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department shut off free public access to its building today for the first time in peacetime.

In announcing this, a spokesman said the action is being taken to improve security following recommendations by a State Department task force on security.

The spokesman denied there have been breaches of security but said "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Two instances last month in which female employes complained of being molested in the building were not the basic reason for the new step, he said.

Under the new setup, costing about $250,000 this year, a force of 78 guards will man all pedestrian and auto entrances to the big State Department building located in Washington's Foggy Bottom area near the Potomac.

No one is to be allowed into the building without approved accreditation or permission.

Three Guilty Pleas Handled

Three pleas of guilty were handled in the Howard County court Friday afternoon.

Don S. Jones drew a 30 day jail sentence and costs on a charge of aggravated assault.

Albert Lujon pleaded guilty to DWI and was sentenced to jail for three days and fined $50 and costs.

Routine Agenda Due Commission

City commissioners will consider nine routine proposals at the regular meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Commission Room of city hall.

An ordinance permitting builders of housing additions to delete sidewalks from their developments will be discussed, and Dr. P. W. Malone's offer to give the city a lot will be considered.

Acceptance of the paving on Virginia, North San Antonio and West Nineteenth streets will be considered. The acceptance is one of the steps required by Texas law in the city's paving program. A resolution will be offered, giving Texas Electric Service Co. authority to begin a new rate for electric service.

Several recommendations of the Planning and Zoning Board will be considered — Rock Oil Co.'s request for rezoning of a tract of land on US 87 south near the Ponderosa Motel to retail from planned district; a request from Phillip Burcham to use a trailer house as a secondary residence to his home; and a request by Don Newsom to change land near Gibson's Discount Center in the College Heights area from retail to commercial use.

Also scheduled are: third and final reading of an ordinance changing property of Thomas McAdams from two-family to neighborhood service; final reading of an ordinance changing property owned by Don Newsom from parking to retail; and final reading of an ordinance allowing on-premises consumption of beer at the "Beer Garden," owned by Bill Cadzow and J. L. Harmon.

Services are being held there daily at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. through Saturday, and the final service for Dr. O'Brien will be next Sunday morning. Wayne Nance, also formerly here, was to have been the music director, but a last minute conflict in Houston prevented his coming, said the Rev. James Turner, pastor.

Interim Rule Approaching

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Formation of a provisional regime to govern this country for the next nine months will be announced probably by the end of this week, Hector Garcia Godoy, lawyer-diplomat said today.

Garcia Godoy will preside over the government, he told newsmen.

He disclosed the government plans amid reports the Organization of American States' political committee was preparing to make "an important announcement." This announcement, according to informed sources, would report what progress had been made in negotiations to end the Dominican crisis and steps still to be taken.

Garcia Godoy, 44, said that while a period of two to three years was preferable for the purposes of preparing the country for general elections it was necessary to do it as quickly as possible because of impatience among the civilian population.

"In any event," he added. "I don't intend to stay on one day longer than nine months."

Car Bids Are All Turned Down

Bids submitted to supply a car for the Howard County Sheriff's department were rejected today by the Howard County Commissioners Court.

The county commissioners had advertised for bids on a 1965 model automobile and the offers submitted were for 1966 model cars.

The commissioners will seek new bids in about a month, it was said.

Nicklaus Near Season Record

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus doesn't play golf. He works at it.

Two strokes behind after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic Saturday, he went out and practiced for about an hour and a half.

"I was hitting the ball lower than I wanted to and worked on getting it up higher," he said Sunday after overtaking the leaders for his second straight victory in the Philadelphia tournament.

The practice paid off with the $24,300 first prize, boosting his 1965 earnings to $114,000 and just $14,230 off the all-time single season money record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963. He can surpass it this week in the PGA Championship.

Deadlocked with three others at nine under par with two holes to play he rammed home a 45-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 515-yard par five 17th hole.

Nicklaus made a key shot on the 17th by getting the ball high, which is what he practiced on Saturday. His drive on No. 17 was in the rough behind trees. He used a wedge to loft the ball onto the green, 45 feet past the cup, from where he putted in for all the money.

Nicklaus carded a 71-65-73-68—277 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. His 11-under-par 72 hole total gave him a one stroke win over Joe Campbell and Doug Sanders. Randy Glover was fourth with 280. Gary Player and Tony Lema were next at 281.

The 32-year-old Sanders had the best opportunity to force a playoff. Playing in the same threesome with Nicklaus, he had a chance for an eagle on the 17th. After Nicklaus holed his, Sanders stroked from 20 feet for an eagle, but the ball just slipped by the cup. He came back for a birdie, but both carded pars on the 18th and that was it.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Johnny Rutherford, the 27-year-old Texan who won the Atlanta International Raceway championship recently, is a college dropout who wanted to get on with his racing career.

Rutherford checked out of Texas Christian University during the first semester of his freshman year to devote more time to his chosen profession.

He earned $17,450 with his first place finish at Atlanta. He won in the same machine (a rear-engine Ford) in which Rodger Ward failed to qualify for this year's Indianapolis 500.

Rutherford's father was a career Air Force officer.

Around 1906, the risks were overwhelming for a pass-minded football team.

If a team tossed a pass and it struck the ground before a player touched it, possession of the ball was yielded to the opposition.

The same thing occurred if a pass crossed the scrimmage line less than five yards on either side of where the ball was snapped.

It was impossible to pass into the end zone for a touchdown. Any ball caught there by the attacking team was ruled a touchback.

Louisiana State University is planning to increase the seating capacity of its football stadium from 67,500 to 84,000 by 1968.

The Cotton Bowl people should follow suit.

Lubbock West, which supplied the all-star team that beat the Big Spring Nationals in last week's Region 1 Little League Baseball tournament at Dumas, operates on a budget of $14,000 a year.

The circuit has eight major league teams, with 40 minor affiliates. In all, there are ten Little Leagues in the city of Lubbock.

Lubbock West has grown so big that its territory will probably be divided next year.

Lubbock West is far and away the biggest team the Nats faced all year but the Weatherford club that met Lubbock in the finals is almost as huge.

Despite the one-sided score (14-3), Big Spring, should have been leading, 3-2, going into the final inning.

Incidentally, the 19th annual Little League World Series' championship game will be televised by ABC this year. The tournament ends Aug. 28.

The Oklahoma Wildcatters of the Continental Football league, who recently announced they hired Sammy Baugh as coach at a salary of $50,000 per annum, don't even have a place to play their home games.

The Tulsa-based team has bene denied use of Skelly Stadium there, at least for the 1966 season. Seems the team couldn't meet the financial requirements demanded by the operators of the stadium.

• • •

The Southeastern Conference tried an anti-noise rule at its football games in 1964 and it worked.

Not once was a penalty levied and the fans heeded all appeals for quiet from team captains.

The rule provides for a five-yard penalty if rooters for a team keep up an excessive loud noise, following a warning, that interferes with play.

Marlene Wins At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "It's great to finally win a tournament," said a tired Marlene Bauer Hagge after capturing the Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament Sunday with a record-tying 72-hole total of 287.

The 31-year-old blonde from Pensacola, Fla., who collected $1,875, was the only one to shoot sub-par golf for the four-day event.

Her rounds of 71-71-72-73 on the 6,508-yard, par 72 North Shore Country Club layout equaled the 287 carded by Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio, Tex., in 1963 when she won the Open.

High, unpredictable winds and the rain and fog of the final day hampered all but Mrs. Hagge, for whom victory had been elusive this year. She had finished second in five events, but won only the Beaumont, Tex., Open.

Judy Torleumke, the 20-year-old stylist from North Key Largo, Fla., was runner-up, five strokes behind at 292. She collected $1,475.

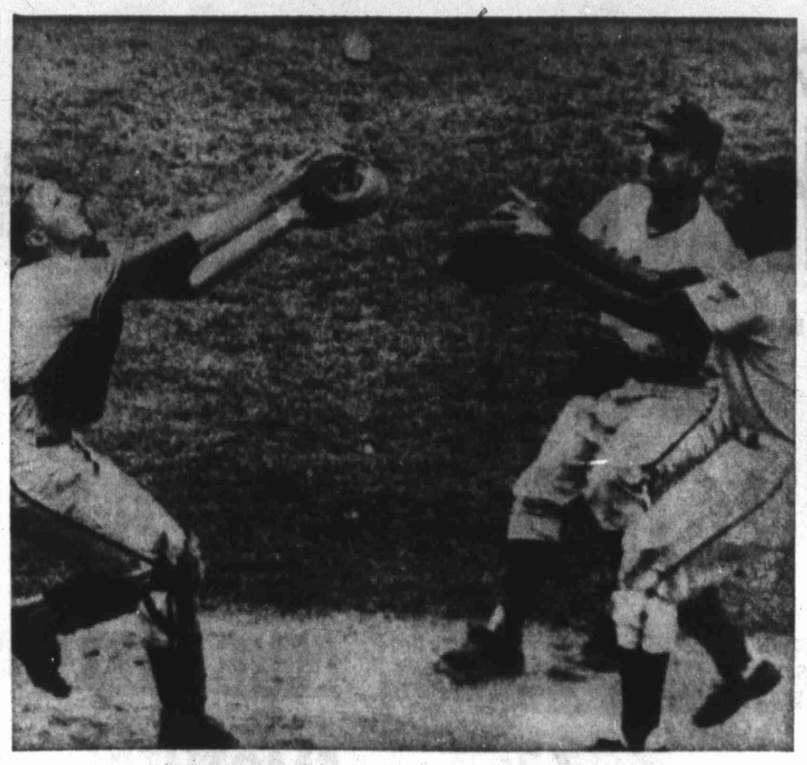

Judy's final round—a 68—was the best of the Open by two strokes.

Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., and Sandra McClinton of Mineola, Tex., tied for third with 296s and each earned $1,100.

Miss Whitworth was alone at 297 followed by Margie Masters of Victoria, Australia, and Sue Maxwell of Tulsa, Okla., with 298s.

Stolle Captures Baltimore Title

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP—Australian Fred Stolle, the 26-year-old Davis Cupper, easily polished off Lew Gerrard of New Zealand, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, to capture the Middle Atlantic Grass Courts Championship Sunday.

Three Men On A Baseball

It's a three-way rush for the ball by Chicago Cubs' catcher Vic Roznovsky, relief pitcher Bob Humphreys and first baseman Ernie Banks (right). The action took place in the third inning of the second game of the Cubs-New York Mets doubleheader yesterday at Shea Stadium. Mets pitcher Darrell Sutherland attempted a bunt but instead poped a high fly along the first base line. Roznovsky made the catch. The Mets lost both games: 7-6 and 14-10. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Pope Pitches Sharp Game But Oilers Drop Close One

Bob McDermot's eighth-inning single scored Julio Guerrero, on second via a double, and put the San Angelo Angels out front 2-1. Then Angel pitcher Jesse Alcala held off the Big Spring Gage Oilers to clinch a sandlot baseball win for the visitors here Sunday.

The game had been tied at one all since the first inning.

The Angels scratched first, Guerrero scoring from first on a single and an error with two men out. In the bottom of the inning Jerry Barron walked, and eventually scored on Tommy Young's sacrifice fly, putting the Oilers' only tally on the board.

Alcala went the distance for the visitors, allowing three hits. H. Pope gave up only six hits in the nine-inning contest for the losers. He struck out 14 Angels, while winner Alcala fanned only nine Oilers.

Amateurs To Defend Cup

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — American amateur golfers picked to defend the Walker Cup against England hope they fare better than they did in defense of the Americas Cup against Canada and Mexico.

Canada won the Americas Cup Saturday in the windup of the two-day competition in six-somes and singles with a total of 22 points. The Canadians thus handed the Americans their first defeat ever in the 16-year history of this biennial affair. The U.S. finished with 19½ points, Mexico was third and last with 2½.

Keith Alexander of Calgary was Canada's individual standout. He teamed with Nick Weslock for a 4-3 victory over Mark Hopkins, Texas City, Tex., and Dave Eichelberger, Waco, Tex., after a 4-3 triumph over Mexico's Richardo Vega and a 2-1 conquest of Dale Morey, High Point, N.C.

Hopkins and the veteran Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., led the Americans in the singles. Hopkins was eight-under-par in 5 and 4 victories over Weslock and Mexico's Tomas Lehmann. Campbell defeated Johnny Johnston, Vancouver, 2 up, and Mauricio Urdaneta, Mexico, 2 and 1. Altogether Campbell had a hand in eight of the Americans' 19½ points.

Willie Mays Hits Three Moving Giants Closer

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays increased his major league-leading home run total to 39 Sunday and the second-place San Francisco Giants trimmed St. Louis 6-4 for their sixth straight victory to move within one game of the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League.

In all, Mays lashed three hits against the Cardinals and increased his average to .328.

Starting July 9 and lasting for three weeks, the streaky Mays hit no home runs, drove in no runs and managed only six hits in 40 at-bats for a .150 average.

The star center fielder finally rediscovered his home run swing July 30, and in the last 11 games has clouted seven homers, driven in 12 runs and batted .426.

His punch has been even more damanging in the past four games. In that time he has recorded five homers, 10 RBI and 10 hits in 16 trips to the plate for a .625 average.

Another slugger Ed Mathews, led the Braves to within two games of the Dodgers as he rapped five hits and drove in seven runs in Milwaukee's 8-5 and 8-3 sweep of Houston. Cincinnati also stood at two games back following its 18-0 trouncing of Los Angeles.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 7-1 before losing 5-2 and Chicago took New York 7-6 and 14-10.

Mays' homer and Willie McCovey's 26th roundtripper helped Warren Spahn end a nine-game losing streak. Spahn, replaced in the sixth inning, hadn't won since May 23. He's now 5-13.

Jim Maloney coasted to his 13th triumph in 18 decisions with a four-hitter as Cincinnati pounded out 20 hits. Los Angeles' Don Drysdale, now 15-10, lasted only two innings. Leo Cardenas led the attack, collecting three hits and batting in four runs.

Bob Beale set Philadelphia down on six hits in Pittsburgh's opening-game victory. Jim Pagliaroni and Manny Mota homered for the Pirates.

The Phillies came back in the nightcap as Ray Herbert scattered eight hits. Tony Gonzalez triggered a three-run outburst in the second inning with a double, then homered in the third. Bobby Wine doubled in two runs in the second.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs and Ed Bailey three in the Cubs' first-game triumph. The Mets made it close with two runs in the ninth, but reliever Ted Abernathy ended the game by getting Ed Kranepool to hit into a force play with the bases loaded.

The Cubs won the second game with a six-run rally in the ninth. Joe Amalfitano raced home with the winning run as outfielders Gary Kolb and Johnny Lewis let Billy Williams' high fly to short right-center field drop for a single.

Eight Was Unpopular

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Eight became the most unpopular number for the Houston Astros Sunday—they lost a double header to the Milwaukee Braves 8-5, 8-3.

Eddie Mathews drove in six runs with three hits, including his 23rd and 24th homers, as the Braves took the first game.

Billy O'Dell's relief pitching in the clutch helped the Braves to their sweep.

Joe Morgan and Jim Wynn hit homers to spark a three-run rally in the eighth as the Astros pulled up on the Braves in the opener, but Jim Gentile, representing the tying run in the ninth, struck out before the slants of O'Dell.

Gentile and Lee Maye hit homers to draw the Astros within a run of the Braves in the second game but O'Dell again relieved and again struck out Gentile.

Houston beat Longview 4-3 and Waxahachie downed Borger 7-4 Sunday to attain their status.

San Antonio took out Longview 4-3 Sunday and it eliminated the latter.

Twins Extend Lead To Eight Games

By The Associated Press

The new gleam in Johnny Keane's eye may be the last glimmer in a vanishing American League pennant race.

"I don't think the race is over, the New York manager said Sunday after the sixth-place Yankees' second straight 6-5 victory over contending Detroit. "But we all know an eight-game lead is pretty good at this stage. It will take a pretty good run by somebody to catch the Twins."

Although the Yankees, 17 games off the pace with only 49 to play, appear to be out of it, they'll have a chance to forestall a Minnesota runaway in a three-game series against the first-place Twins beginning Tuesday night at New York.

The Twins ran their winning streak to five and pulled eight lengths ahead of second-place Baltimore by blanking Boston 8-0 Sunday on Jim Perry's two-hitter. The Orioles divided a doubleheader with Kansas City, losing their third game in the four-game series 4-3 after rallying for a 9-5 victory in the opener.

Washington topped Los Angeles 6-4 and Cleveland beat Chicago by the same score before the second game of their doubleheader was rained out.

Led by a resurgent Mickey Mantle, the Yankees took two of three from both the Tigers and White Sox on last week's road trip and climbed within one game of the elusive .500 mark. They haven't been at the break-even point since May 1.

Minnesota's Perry didn't allow a hit until Felix Mantilla doubled with two out in the seventh and breezed to his eighth victory in 10 decisions. Tony Oliva sparked the Twins' attack with four hits while Don Mincher knocked in three runs with a triple and single.

John O'Donoghue checked Baltimore on four hits until the eighth inning, when Jack Aker came on to end a three-run rally, as the A's gained a split of their doubleheader. Mike Hershberger doubled in the deciding run in the sixth inning.

The Orioles struck for five runs in the ninth inning of the opener with Norm Siebern, whose two-run homer in the previous inning had tied the score, singling across the go-ahead run.

Dallas Man Wins Tennis Crown

ABILENE (AP)—Tommy Howorth of Dallas beat Ted Gorski of Fort Worth 5-7, 6-3, 6-2 Sunday for the men's singles championship of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation tennis tournament.

It was a case of upsetting the upsetter. Gorski had beaten top-seeded Ronnie Fisher of Houston. Then Howorth, who was third seeded, beat Gorski.

Paula Thomas of Fort Worth won the women's singles by beating Kay Young of Lubbock 6-3, 6-1.

Howorth and Leo LaBorde of Dallas beat Chip Meyers and Wayne Kiser of Abilene 6-4, 6-3 for the men's doubles title.

Miss Young teamed with Liz Parker of Lubbock to win the women's doubles over Suzy Crain and Sherry Sloan of Lubbock 11-9, 6-2.

Prall Tops In Skeet Shoot-Off

SAVANNAH, Ga., (AP) — The annual World Skeet Shooting Championships drew to a close with James Prall of Lackland AFB, Tex., winning the 12-gauge competition in one of the longest shoot-offs in tournament history.

Prall outlasted three opponents Sunday to take the title in the 15th extra round.

Prall and Ed Ray of Gatesville, Tex., each had broken 250 regulation targets and 350 in the sudden-death shoot-off when they stopped to take a little rest before beginning the 15th round.

Ray stepped to the line first and missed the first bird. Prall then took his turn and hit the first one to end the competition and win the championship.

The two other men involved in the shootoff, Tony Kelly of Kingston, Jamaica, and James Bellows of Encino, Calif., dropped out of the shoot-off in the 12th round.

MEDICARE AND SOCIAL SECURITY: 7

Home Health Benefits Offer Special Delivery

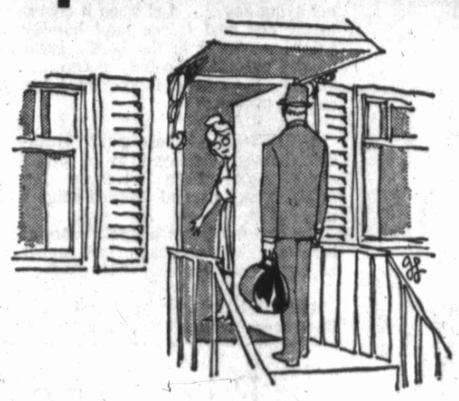

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Medicare will deliver some health benefits right to a patient's home. These "home health services" become available July 1, 1966:

- Part-time or intermittent nursing care provided by or under supervision of a registered nurse. (But services of a private-duty nurse won't be covered.)
- Physical, occupational and speech therapy.
- Services of medical social workers.
- Part - time for intermittent services of a "home health aide," such as a nurse's aide. (But services of so-called homemakers, who handle cooking or housekeeping chores, won't be covered.)

ORDER BOOK

All the valuable information contained in this series, PLUS additional details and charts are offered to you in a new 80-page book for permanent reference. To order a copy, send name, address and $1 to "Medicare" c/o Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 489, Dept. 79721, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

- Medical supplies other than drugs (such as dressings and splints).
- Use of medical appliances (such as wheelchairs and crutches).
- Services of interns and residents connected with a hospital which is affiliated with an agency authorized to provide "home health" benefits.

Excluded will be any services not deemed to be both reasonable and necessary.

For example, if the homebound patient doesn't really need to rent a special hospital bed Social Security won't pay the tab. The same will apply to such things as massages and heat treatments — if they are of real value in the patient's treatment, the government will pay; otherwise, no.

HOME SERVICES

Under some circumstances, a patient will be able to obtain "home health services" outside his home. For instance, if he needs hydrotherapy the agency handling his case may send him to a hospital, nursing home or rehabilitation center for the treatment — because the equipment is too bulky to take to the patient's home.

But in such event he'll have to provide his own transportation. And he won't be able to stay overnight at the treatment center.

To qualify for "home health services" under the basic Social Security Medicare plan, the patient first must be hospitalized at least three days.

He then may go to a nursing home or his own home. Within 14 days after the patient returns to his home, a "plan" outlining the services he is to get must be "established" by a physician.

The doctor must certify such services are required because the patient is confined to his home. He also must certify the patient needs "skilled nursing care on an intermittent basis," or needs physical or speech therapy, for a condition which was being treated in the hospital or nursing home. The other home benefits then would be available, too, if needed.

The patient must remain under the care of a physician. And from time to time, as specified by government regulations, the doctor must review the treatment plan to gear it to the patient's progress.

A patient may receive up to 100 health "visits" after he returns home. Each service will count as one visit. For instance, if a nurse and therapist both see the patient the same day at his home, it will count as two visits. Likewise, if a medical social worker interviews him at a hospital while the patient is getting hydrotherapy, the single trip to the treatment center will count as two visits.

The benefits end one year after the patient's discharge from a hospital or nursing home. However, if a patient is rehospitalized after being home 60 days, it will be regarded as a new "spell of illness" — and he then will be eligible for 100 more visits upon returning home.

The "home health services" must be supplied by or through a "home health agency." This may be a public agency or a private non - profit organization "primarily engaged in providing skilled nursing services and other therapeutic services." (But an agency whose main aim is to serve mental patients is excluded.)

BE SUPERVISED

The agency must be governed by policies established by a professional group that includes at least one physician and one registered nurse. And the services must be supervised by a doctor or registered nurse.

Also, the agency must keep proper patient records. And, where applicable, be licensed or approved by the state.

Profit - making organizations offering such services (there are none now) may join the program if they get a state license and meet federal standards that will be set up for them.

(NEXT: Additional benefits health insurance.)

'Quality' Tag Used To Tout Coming Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The forthcoming television season's word is "quality." This is a change from previous seasons' "creative" and "original."

Time was when performers and producers inevitably inserted somewhere in an interview a sentence like "Harry Smith, who created the series, has a really original idea in taking this professional gunfighter and making him sheriff of a lawless town."

But this year "creative" and "original" are words that start arguments because almost every program that was successful last year has what looks suspiciously like one, two or even more imitators this year.

PURE COINCIDENCE?

The strong family resemblance, it is asserted, is mere coincidence. But it does seem amazing that 12 months after we first met the beautiful genie who lives in a bottle and has magic powers in NBC's "I Dream of Jeannie," and a bumbling angel in CBS' "The Smothers Brothers" show.

Can it be pure coincidence that "The Loner" will slip into the CBS niche held so long by "Have Gun, Will Travel"? Doesn't "The Big Valley" of ABC remind one of NBC's "Bonanza" except that the head of the family will be Barbara Stanwyck instead of Lorne Greene?

Isn't "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" built on very familiar situation comedy lines, except there are four boys in the family replacing the regulation son and daughter?

The answer — this year — goes: "Ah, the framework isn't important. It's the quality of the scripts that matter, and I may tell you that we've been working like dogs to make sure we get real quality."

Plots of television soap operas are usually guarded like crown jewels on the theory that knowing story lines in advance is like reading the last chapter of a detective story before tackling the rest of the book.

ALL NONCOMMITTAL

Even the one-line teasers written for newspaper program schedules are carefully noncommittal: "Dr. Charlie comes to a critical decision" or "Claudia finds she must help."

However, amid the publicity surrounding Mia Farrow's yachting trip with Frank Sinatra, whom some say she may wed, word has leaked out that the "Peyton Place" bosses have decided to put Allison Mackenzie, that's Mia, into a coma until they find out how Mia's personal plot is resolved.

Allison will have an automobile accident and be hurried out of the viewers' sight. If Mia returns, Allison will recover from her head injuries. And if she doesn't — well, viewers have survived the deaths of their favorite characters before.

Citizen's Protest Brings Shooting Of Pet Squirrels

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "In memory of Charlie, Jennie and Eddie Squirrel," read the sign which appeared with three small, white crosses on Kenneth Agnew's lawn in suburban Prairie Village, Kan.

The crosses and sign apparently were placed there to protest the shooting of three squirrels which frequented the neighborhood.

Residents of the area had made pets of the squirrels.

Agnew, who recently moved into the neighborhood, complained the squirrels kept dropping walnuts on his car, denting the trunk lid and leaving walnut stains which could not be washed off. He asked the Prarie Village Police Department to do something about it.

Two officers arrived and brought the squirrels down with a .410 shotgun.

The neighbors protested.

"He didn't even ask whether we knew the squirrels," said one woman.

That night the three tiny crosses appeared.

"This reminds me of the Ku Klux Klan—with the white crosses at night and all," Agnew said. He threatened to press charges if he caught anyone putting signs in his yard.

Riot Police On Guard In Seceded Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP) — Riot police stood guard in Malay sections of Singapore today after the island state of Singapore separated from the 23-month-old Federation of Malaysia and became an independent .

Malaysia's prime minister, Tunku Abdul Rahman, told the federation parliament in Kuala Lumpur that Singapore and Malaysia would continue to cooperate in defense and economic affairs despite the secession of the federation's chief port and metropolis.

Singapore's 1.2 -million Chinese, 70 per cent of the population, began exploding firecrackers as soon as the break was announced.

POLITICAL RIVALRY

Malay-Chinese rioting killed 23 persons in July 1964.

The split is the outcome of political rivalry between the Malaysian Chinese, who dominate the economy of the federation, and the Malays who control the federal government in Kuala Lumpur.

The Chinese made up about 42 per cent of the federation's population of 11 million and slightly outnumber the Malays. But the constitution gave 104 of the 159 seats in the lower house of parliament to mainland Malaya, and the Malays had most of these.

In a televised news conference, Singapore's Premier, Lee Kuan Yew, made an overture to regain the trade with Indonesia which Indonesian President Sukarno banned when he launched his campaign to smash Malaysia.

Lee said the split was forced on him by Malaysia's federal leaders. He broke into sobs and wiped tears from his face as he made the announcement.

"All my adult life I have believed in the merger of Singapore and Malaya," he said.

Lee said he agreed to the split Saturday at a meeting in Kuala Lumpur with Rahman. He said Rahman told him the only way to solve the problems of Malaysia was for Singapore to leave the federation.

OKS AMENDMENT

As Lee spoke, the Malaysian parliament approved 126-0 a constitutional amendment separating Singapore from the federation. One member abstained. All but one of the fifteen members representing Singapore were absent.

The bill said "Singapore shall cease to be a state of Malaysia on the 9th day of August 1965, and shall thereupon become an independent and sovereign state and nation."

It said Singapore would continue to recognize the mutual defense treaty between Malaysia and Britain, covering British bases in Singapore. Britain has about 50,000 troops in Malaysia because of Sukarno's campaign to smash the British-backed federation.

Malaysia was established Sept. 16, 1963, as a federation of the former British territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo).

The new state was opposed from the start by Sukarno, who has waged a campaign of infiltration by guerrillas and saboteurs against it.

The break with Singapore was followed by rumors that Sabah and Sarawak also would separate from the federation. But these were denied. The two states were thrown into the federation mainly to balance the Chinese populace of Singapore.

"Those Amazing Herald Classified Ads Brought Me A New Fall Wardrobe"

It's a fact! I wouldn't have my new clothes if I hadn't discovered the fantastic results you get with Herald Classified Ads.

I went through my home one day and wrote down everything we weren't using anymore. (When you really go looking—you'll be surprised at how much you find). When I had my list I dialed (AM 3-7331) and the friendly Ad Writer took it from there. She helped me write my ad and explained the low rates.

Before I knew it . . things we didn't use were gone and I had all the extra cash I needed for a complete new wardrobe. Believe me—from now on—nothing stays around this house one day after it's no longer needed. I'm turning it in to extra money with result-getting Herald Classified Ads.

A Devotional For The Day

Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. (Proverbs 4:23)

PRAYER: O Lord, grant us, we beseech Thee, such a tender sense of Thy mercies that we may be truly thankful for them. Save us from hardness of heart and from blindness of mind that we may never neglect or abuse They grace. Enable us to use our time to improve the talents Thou hast committed to our trust. In Christ's spirit. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Sometime It Costs To Help

Editorialists and others have been quick to cite a moral weakness that permits crowds of people to stand by in the face of murder or assault for fear of getting involved. There have been numerous examples of sorry situation.

Some sort of salute is due three people who did get involved last week when Robert Brown, a 29-year-old Negro, tried to molest a small girl. The mother ignored his threats to "be quiet," and screamed. An elderly woman rushed to her aid, and the assailant stabbed her in the back. He also stabbed Donald O'Neill, who came to the aid of the two women, and then inflicted a less serious stab wound on Frank Davey, a young man who gave help.

Brown broke away, but to escape transit police who by then had rushed up, he fled down the subway tracks and was killed by a train. While this is poetic justice for him, it does not particularly help his victims. They have only the balm of a clear conscience in having done something about a bad situation. Perhaps the plaudits of good people might be of some additional consolation.

Good Investment

The City of Big Spring is well along now on its program of seal coating more than three score blocks of city streets. This is part of a continuing program which annually sees certain streets earmarked for this protective and rehabilitating cover. In effect, it means that on a rotation basis streets come up regularly for this maintenance treatment.

While relatively economical on a square yard basis the cost is substantial because of the sheer volume of it. Still it's a good buy.

This is something that property owners should bear in mind when they are confronted with prices on new paving. While they are paying a share of the original cost as a valid price of increased value and convenience to their property, they also are getting over the years a bonus in the form of maintenance by the city. Which underlines what we have long contended, namely that few things contribute so much to the comfort and appearance of a city as paving.

States' Voting Control Trampled

WASHINGTON — History may record as a "day of infamy" Aug. 6, 1965, when the voting-rights bill was enacted into law. For, while the objective of the measure—to secure equal voting rights for citizens irrespective of race or color—is worthy and meritorious, the method used to attain this end must inevitably shock the conscience of anyone who notes that the Constitution of the United States explicitly gives only to the states the right to stipulate what tests or qualifications may be used to register a voter.

THE NEW LAW goes even further —it assumes the right of the federal government to suspend voter tests on mere suspicion that they are being abused. Even more palpably unconstitutional is the insertion of a paragraph in the new law which hasn't anything to do with race or color but which would prohibit a state from requiring a person to be able to read or write or understand the English language in order to be eligible to vote. This is a flagrant example of how the federal government is usurping the right of the states to determine their own voter qualifications.

THERE ARE also provisions in the law designed to prevent otherwise legitimate tests from being used to discriminate against a citizen on account of race or color. The purpose is a good one, because the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution does say clearly that no citizen shall be deprived of his right to vote because of race or color. Never before, however, has Congress sought by law to adjudge a state or city or county guilty of wrongdoing and punishable for such alleged offenses merely because of suspicion.

No state, moreover, has hitherto been deprived of its right to set voter qualifications just because census figures may show that a certain percentage of non-whites didn't happen to be registered to vote in a previous election.

THE NEW STATUTE also declares that, if a provision requiring a test of reading or writing ability or evidence of good moral character is abused in a few cases, that same method of determining voter qualifications cannot be used legitimately to qualify or disqualify any other voters, either. The states under the new law thus lose, in effect, their right to set voter qualifications for anybody.

ON THE SUBJECT of poll taxes, the new law would take away an inherent right of the states to require payment of such taxes as a condition for voting in state elections. This kind of tax is imposed on both whites and non-whites to help pay the costs of elections. Congress took the proper course when it approved the Twenty-Fourth Amendment to the Constitution, which was ratified by the states and proclaimed on Jan. 23, 1964. This amendment forbids poll taxes to be levied as a condition for voting in federal elections. If poll taxes in state elections were to be barred, this was the way to do it—by including such a prohibition in the Twenty - Fourth Amendment.

THE FOURTEENTH and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution—which now are theoretically relied upon as a basis for abolishing state poll taxes—bar discrimination in voting by reason of race or color. But as long as every voter in a state is obliged to pay the poll tax, it is not subject to federal control or regulation. Yet the new voting law now imposes an unprecedented restriction covering state elections.

An overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress has approved the new legislation on the theory that "the end justifies the means." It is being assumed that the American people don't much care if the Constitution is trampled on now because it has been circumvented by local authorities before. Two wrongs, however, do not make a single right.

Billy Graham

If there is a God why is there so much misery in the world? What of the thousands of orphans in Korea and the Orient who did not ask to be born, and yet their lot in life is unspeakably miserable? It seems to me that if there is a God He would not allow such suffering. T.S.

You are assuming that if there is a God this world would be a paradise. You are overlooking one thing: Man's freedom to make the kind of a world he chooses. The misery in the world is not God-made, it is man-made. Our world is not a paradise for the same reason that Eden did not continue as a paradise: Man's wilful action in opposition to God.

When a father, with good intentions, gives his son, who is of age, a car he anticipates no tragic consequences. If that son abuses his privilege, turns the car over and is seriously injured, could you blame the father? Would you ask, "Why did the father allow such a tragedy to happen?"

God put us in this beautiful world. He gave us a free will. He laid down some rules for our good. If we break them (and we have) and suffer the tragic consequences is it fair to blame God? The innocent always suffer for the guilty. Defying God's law has serious consequences, individually and collectively. Even God had to pay for our wrongdoing. It cost His Son's death on the cross. Indeed, He is more than fair.

Political Revolution Likely In South

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South will never be the same again.

The voting Rights Act of 1965, throwing the door open for additional thousands of Southern Negroes to vote, should create a political revolution if followed up by Negroes themselves.

Immediately after President Johnson signed the act last Friday his administration got busy to make it work.

THE ESTIMATED number of whites of voting age in 11 Southern states outnumber Negroes four to one — roughly 20 million to 5 million — but in some sections Negroes outnumber whites.

Eventually it can be expected that in those areas, at least, Negroes will be sending representatives to state legislatures and to Congress. As more of them vote white politicians will have to cater to them and their needs.

And the number of white Southern segregationists in Congress should decrease as more Negroes go to the polls because in many places they may hold the balance of power.

No doubt the picture of the South in the years ahead will undergo many changes.

FOR ONE thing, many whites eligible to vote but indifferent about doing so until now will surely start going to the polls to offset the increase in Negro voters.

For a while, at least, many white Southerners, traditionally Democrats, will probably turn to the Republican party while Negroes will cling to the Democrats since Johnson has made a big impression on them.

In time, because of candidates, issues and the circumstances and relationships in Southern life, party alignments may get fuzzed up by crossovers by both races.

A few figures on the 1964 elections — taken from a compilation by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission which gathered them from official and unofficial sources — give an insight into what lies ahead:

IN 11 Southern states only 38 per cent of the estimated number of Negroes of voting age — or 1,907,279 out of 5,000,376— were registered to vote.

In the same states, 67 per cent of the estimated number of whites of voting age were registered, or 13,688,899 out of 20,032,-661.

There were some tremendous differences in the number of Negroes registered in the Southern states. In Mississippi, which had the lowest percentage of registered Negroes, the figure for Negroes was 6.7 per cent while for whites it was 70.2 per cent.

In Tennessee, with the highest percentage of registered Negroes in the South, the figures were: Negroes, 69.5 per cent; whites, 72.9 per cent.

Talent Scout Macy Talented

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whoever scouted the President's talent scout—John W. Macy Jr.— found a man with a special skill for finding others.

"Between Macy, President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey, they know everyone of any consequence all over the country," an aide says.

Macy draws on computer punch card records of over 20,000 prospective nominees and sources across the country in industries, labor unions and private organizations to supply Johnson with the right candidate.

HE WORKS 14 to 15 hours a day with as much zest as the President at his dual job as chairman of the Civil Service Commission (CSC) and as Johnson's talent scout.

Macy says the talent scouting is just a natural extension of his role as head of the CSC and its 2.5 million government employes. And he spends about a third of his time at it.

Macy finds his job so stimulating "I can't imagine a recreation I'd enjoy more."

A DOSSIER on Macy, like the ones he supplies daily to the President, might go like this:

—A Democrat with over 20 years experience in government personnel, from Post Office to Pentagon.

—Handsome, 48, 6-foot-1, prematuraly gray hair, full of vitality. Described by those who know him as "sharp as a tack" and with a "memory like his computer."

—Well liked, an expert public speaker, married, four children ages 3-13. Episcopalian who attends a weekly religious class, devoted tennis player, expert on baseball.

HIS WIFE, the former Joyce Hagen of Rochester, N.Y., a Smith College graduate who met Macy while working as a wartime research analyst for Army intelligence, says: "John can't waste a minute. He's never doing nothing."

Those who deal with Macy might keep in mind her insider's tip: "When he's mad—he just doesn't talk."

Commuting between his fifth floor office suite in the new Civil Service Building to the executive offices near the White House, Macy uses a government car. He'd like to walk the few blocks but it takes too long.

To Your Good Health

Male Infertility Can Result From Many Things

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss treatments to increase fertility in men. Approximately how long does it take to build up the sperm count enough to cause pregnancy? My husband has only 30 per cent motility. —MRS. J. B.

There are different causes; different treatments. Asking how long it will take to build up the sperm count is too difficult a question for any doctor to answer. The question is how quickly, if at all, the patient will respond to treatment.

Mumps, whether in childhood or later, may (not necessarily will) destroy fertility. If both testes are affected, there is no treatment to restore fertility. If only one is affected, fertility remains. Another cause is undescended testes; unless this is corrected early (by teenage at least) sperm production will be nil.

A defect in the tube which conveys sperm from the testes is another possibility. Sometimes this can be corrected surgically.

Insufficient thyroid activity may be involved. Use of proper hormones can be very helpful in such cases.

Naturally, general health is important.

Sometimes—in fact, frequently—a period of abstinence from sexual activity allows the sperm to increase in number.

The motility or activity of the sperm is one thing. The number of sperm cells is another. Only one healthy sperm cell is required to cause pregnancy, if that cell reaches and penetrates an ovum. Yet Nature arranges things so that millions of cells are released at one time. The number and the motility or activity are different factors, but if the sperm count is increased, the chance of finding more active cells also is increased. Hence the count is a good guide but isn't necessarily the whole story.

The sperm count can vary, so don't rely on a single examination. Several counts should be made to be sure that a deficiency really exists.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion of all the germicidal mouthwashes? I think the more germ-proof you are, the more cancer - prone you are. Sometimes the cause of bad breath is from eating too much sweets and starches. Sugar ferments and this is the cause of bad breath.—M.F.

Are you asking me, or telling me?

Mouthwashes can freshen the mouth, and remove some debris that causes odor. Rinsing your mouth with water will do some of that, too. If you like mouthwash, use it, but you can't get rid of all the germs in the mouth.

I don't know a shred of evidence to support your notion about cancer. As to your theory on bad breath, certainly sugar or protein material ferments and provides a good medium in which odor - producing germs can thrive. But there is a great deal more to bad breath than sugar and starches—onions, tobacco, infections, trapped particles of other foods, etc.

Seedy Sport

MIAMI (AP) — Come watermelon time, you are challenged to a seed spitting contest by a Miami student who aspires to the world championship.

Seventeen-year-old Sal Bello says he has spat melon seeds 41 feet, 4 inches, and would welcome competition with other expectoration stars. He did only 31½ feet in winning a Miami-Dade Junior College student contest, and blamed his "seedy" performance on cross-winds and inferior melon missiles — not slick enough.

Fair Fight?

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Two brawlers told the judge they laid down their weapons so the fight would be fair. They left their knives inside when they went out for what one called a "friendly fight." Once the fight started, however, the one who was losing grabbed a lead pipe and swatted his opponent over the head. The judge found both guilty.

Let's Just Sleep On It

WASHINGTON — Dean Rusk, the nation's beleagured minister of state, has devised the first new strategy of government since tribal elders learned the educational value of impaling the heads of tax dodgers on sharpened stakes.

Secretary Rusk's secret weapon is sheer boredom. All the while everybody in Washington was feeling faintly sorry for Rusk because he seemed so hopelessly, pedantically square, it turns out he was that way on purpose.

THE SECRET escaped when Rusk replied to the profitably acid recollections of Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. which was presently being enshrined in slick-paper immortality, courtesy of Life magazine. Schlesinger wrote that Rusk had an "irrevocably conventional" mind and that President Kennedy had planned to sack him.

Rusk, as vivacious as a sloth with poorly attuned metabolism, told a press conference that it was true that much of the State Department's paper-shuffling was "perhaps on the boring side," but that creating boredom was part of State's job. Peace, said the Secretary, was less exciting than crisis.

EVEN WASHINGTON'S raptorial press corps, a group that seldom has much difficulty in containing its enthusiasm for Dean Rusk, had to concede that the Secretary of State's measured, deliberate, dispassionate—in short, boring — answer had taken the measure of Schlesinger.

Indeed, upon reflection, it occurred to ever so many correspondents that Rusk had measurably advanced the art of government. Any day now the demand will be heard that the Congress pass legislation creating a Department of Ennui, whose chore will be to smother every incipient crisis in layers of tedium.

THE POSSIBILITIES inherent in the Department of Ennui fair make the mind reel. A crisis brewing in Berlin? Send for whoever it is that Big Daddy taps to head the new agency. Trouble in Bogalusa? Get a task force from the tedium desk on it, and before you can yawn politely it will be forgotten.

Secretary Rusk's discovery was there waiting to be uncovered all along, of course, just like the electric toothbrush. Now that he thought of it, everyone is saying he knew it all along: No crisis can endure for 20 minutes, once it gets boring. Learn to drown every potentially dangerous flap in oceans of pedestrian prose and it'll vanish as surely as congregations doze.

AS A WEAPON to turn against potential aggressors, boredom is frightful in its implications. It could end noncivilization, as we know it, in less time than it takes to decide not to curl up with the collected speeches of Thomas E. Dewey.

"China Explodes 500 - Megaton Bomb," scream the headlines, and the world stands poised on the brink of catastrophe. But the Secretary of Ennui takes to the TV.

"WELL, YES," the Secretary would intone, "500 megs is a biggish bomb, but has anybody noticed the good, straightforward sort of job our own Department of Agriculture has been doing on corn borers? In 1964 alone, 7,562,091 bushels of corn were destroyed, but by the end of the fiscal year 1965, assuming climate norms remain undisturbed, the net loss will be. . . ."

The nation sleeps well that night. The Department of Ennui has convinced it that everything is routine, dull, under control. If Secretary Rusk will forgive us, we think he's produced a simply dazzling idea.

Butter And The Chinese Bomb

WASHINGTON — If the Russo-Chinese H-Bombers had an old college yell, it might go like this:

Russ hit 'em high—Chink hit 'em low

Rah! Rah! Rah! Let's go.

We know, of course, that the Soviets have the nuclear capability of hurling thermonuclear warheads into our industrial and population centers, but we are prepared to retaliate in kind. With an over-all superiority which Secretary McNamara sets at three- or four-to-one, the United States appears ready to mete out far more devastation than it will receive.

ON THE THEORY that a good offense is the best defense, we figure to deter the Russians from making a foolhardy strike, but the deterrence method does not have the same validity against less-developed China.

In addition to offensive weapons for deterrence, we have in the making our Nike-X system, which will set up anti-missile batteries around the major cities. The combination of threatening the Russians and intercepting their missiles gives us optimum protection — so long as we don't get flimflammed into the hoax of a disarmament treaty. With sleepless vigilance, we can guard against the Russian hit 'em high technique.

BUT THE WAR in Viet Nam seems to have distracted our attention from the hit 'em low capabilities of the other partner in the Communist Axis. Despite warning by highly-informed scientific sources, the administration has not yet taken Congress or the American public into its confidence about the Chinese threat.

Dr. Edward Teller, as recently related here, estimates that in two years the Red Chinese will be able to propel guided nuclear warheads for a distance of 2,000 miles, a first-phase step to intercontinental range. In the Aug. 2 issue of the magazine, "Missiles & Rockets," a journal of Advanced Technology, the Chinese strategic role in the Communist partnership is discussed.

THAT ROLE is based on our preoccupation with the Russian nuclear menace. While we stand posed to protect our high-priority centers from Soviet attack, "Red China (says M. & R.) could capitalize on this posture by scoring critical damage to the variety of unprotected, less populous targets — particularly if it were content to take advantage of the terror factor by an attack solely against civilian population."

The administration is now being called to account for its guns-and-butter propaganda, which plays down the need for a multi-billion dollar program in Viet Nam in order to keep the pipelines flowing into social welfare experiments. But the time is not distant when many more billions should be spent to protect both our Pacific frontier and our homeland against the H-bombs of Red China.

THERE SEEM to be two contrasting reasons why the administration gets away with ignoring this modern Yellow Peril. One is public complacency, which assumes that China can't hurt us in any way except in a land war. The other is a fear that we have a home-grown tiger by the tail.

The Great Society is hand-raising a politically - powerful Welfare Population which might turn and rend us if we don't supply the butter even at the greater risk of not supplying the guns.

Camel Balk

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Greta, the camel, sulked when they tried to move her into a luxurious new home at Bristol Zoo.

She sniffed contemptuously at the new enclosure and then sat down for 15 hours. The 20-year-old camel would not eat or move.

It rained but she sat there, damp and dignified.

Finally, zoo authorities gave in. Greta was allowed to go back to her old home.

Doesn't Pay

PALMETTO, Fla. (AP) — Courtesy didn't pay Mrs. Joyce Ponder when she pulled up a moment to let another car pass hers.

A peevish, 6-foot alligator pounced on her car, snapping at its door. Mrs. Ponder sped away with 'gator tooth marks in the paint.

DEAR ABBY

When You're Only 11--

DEAR ABBY: I am sending you this letter because of my mother and father. They treat me like a dog. It's "Susie, do this," and "Susie, do that." I am getting sick and tired of being bossed around. Can you get me into an orphan's home in the state of Texas? If you can't get me in one there, I will be glad to go to any other state. I will do anything to get away from my folks. I am almost 11 years old and I don't get half as much as most girls my age get. And don't worry, we can afford it, too. Another thing, Abby, don't try to get me to change my mind. Thank you.

"SUSIE"

P.S. My name is not really "Susie." I just used that so my folks wouldn't know I wrote this. If they knew they would kill me.

DEAR SUSIE: I know it's not easy to be 11 years old and constantly "bossed around." But there are lots of kids who are worse off. Those without parents. And those whose parents don't take the time and effort to time limits, and try to shape their children's characters so they will grow up to be useful, responsible, respectable citizens. Keep this, honey, and write to me again—when you are 12.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am so worried about our son, who is 30, unmarried and will not leave home. He has a master's degree, a wonderful job, excellent health, good character and is very handsome, but he doesn't care about having a social life. He says all girls are tramps. I don't like to nag him, but when I suggested that he go look at some of the new apartment buildings that are going up, he said he likes living with Dad and me. His father can't see why I want the boy to leave our home as long as he's comfortable here and we have the room. Abby, I want our son to have a normal life with a wife and family. Maybe I should just push him out of the nest. How can I get him to see that he's wasting his life?

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You can't unless HE wants to see it. A "normal" bird would fly if he were pushed out of the nest, but if he's psychologically 'nest-bound" he'd only break his neck. He needs to change his thinking, not his address.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who does everything her own way, which is usually just the opposite way everybody else does it. She calls it "negative psychology." For instance, when her baby, who is not quite two years old, is naughty, my sister-in-law punishes her by NOT making her go to bed. She claims that children are conditioned to HATE going to bed because they are put to bed for punishment. She uses going to bed as a "reward" when her child is good. As a punishment, she makes her child stand with her face in the corner. After the child has been punished in this way, she forgives her, kisses her, and then puts her to bed. What do you think of this kooky sister-in-law? OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: More mothers should be as "kooky" as your sister-in-law.

Red Forces Lay Siege To Camp

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces on the march to relieve the besieged Duc Co special forces camp were attacked by snipers today, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

"Cavalry elements attached to road clearing troops on Route 19 took some sniper fire Monday with light casualties," the spokesman said.

Communist forces have laid siege to the camp 220 miles northeast of Saigon near the Cambodian border for 66 days. Twelve Americans and more than 150 mountain tribesmen and Vietnamese are in the camp.

WITH MORTAR

The Viet Cong hits the Duc Co camp daily with mortars and small arms fire. Two Americans and 20 Vietnamese have been killed since June 3.

A large Vietnamese paratrooper force was sent in last Thursday to lift the siege but was driven back into the camp lines when it tried to move out against the Viet Cong.

Ground action in other areas continued light over the weekend and into today.

U.S. spokesmen gave this report of military actions:

Government forces made a sweep through the much fought over rice paddies near Ba Gia, 4 miles west of Quang Ngai, killing 17 Viet Cong and capturing nine. There were no government losses.

NEW SEARCH

A second search and destroy operation was launched 20 miles west of Quang Ngai, but there were no immediate reports of results.

A Viet Cong regiments is known to be in the area around Quang Ngai, and the two operations apparently were aimed at preventing small enemy units from joining up for another big offensive. Quang Ngai city is 330 miles northeast of Saigon.

A small group of government militiamen killed seven Viet Cong and captured 60 pounds of TNT in an operation 6 miles south of Da Nang. No government casualties were reported.

Viet Cong harassment continued in Chuong Thien Province 100 to 120 miles southwest of Saigon. It was the fourth time in the last five nights that the Communists opened up on watchtowers or outposts. Small arms or mortar fire were used against five targets, but no government or Viet Cong casualties were reported.

CONG KILLED

In a government ambush 10 miles southwest of Saigon in Binh Chanh district two Viet Cong were killed. Government casualties were described as very light.

A U.S. Marine patrol fought an unknown number of Viet Cong in the vicinity of Chu Lai Saturday, capturing two Viet Cong. There were no Marine casualties.

Another Marine patrol killed three Viet Cong in a fire fight in the Da Nang area, again without Marine casualties.

Heavy air strikes continued against suspected Viet Cong concentrations and installations.

Woman's Body Unidentified

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas police said Sunday an unidentified woman whose body was found in underbrush on the west side of Dallas Saturday may have died by blows from a heavy instrument.

Detective Dean Monaghen said the woman's skull had been crushed. The exact cause of death is expected Monday from a coroner's investigation.

The woman's body was found by a dragline crew in a gravel pit a fourth of a mile south of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike.

Monaghen said identification would be established by dental records or fingerprints.

Officials at Parkland Hospital, where the body was taken, would not estimate how long the woman had been dead, but said the body had apparently been lying in the field where it was found for some time.

Plane Crash Hurts Airmen

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Two airmen stationed at Perrin Air Force Base here were seriously injured last night when the small airplane they were flying hit a power line and crashed two miles west of here.

Injured were Airman 2.C Roger L. Smith, 22, whose hometown was given as Delphos, Kan., and Airman 2.C. Tommy D. Modrall, 20, of Mount Pleasant, Tex.

Officers said the plane, a two-seater piloted by Smith, apparently was attempting to land on US 82 when it struck the power line and nosed into the shoulder of the highway. There was no immediate indication why the highway landing was attempted.

Police said the plane took off earlier from Perrin and was scheduled to return to that base.

Wrinkle came to the Big Spring store from San Angelo about 18 months ago and has been in the furniture and appliance department during that time. Fine Italian Foods Are Available At Pizza House

Gourmets of good Italian foods probably know about the Ranch Inn Pizza House at 4600 US 80 west. If you like good old American foods, such as fine steaks, they are available too. In fact, you can be choosy about what you order and get what you want.

LaWanda Yager, owner, says her menus are designed to meet the most fastidious tastes, and that opening hours are set to permit the whole family to dine out, as well as for working people to take advantage of the kinds of foods they like.

The building is located across US 80 from the Webb AFB runways, and ample views of aircraft taking off and landing, without too much noise heard inside, are provided.

DOUG CARTER
Popular KMID-TV Newsman

Italian dishes include pizzas in: baked lasagna, veal parmigiana, veal scaloppine, calabrese, chicken cacciatore, chicken tettrizini, Italian style pork chops, deluxe spaghetti.

There is a special gourmet dinner for four. This includes appetizers (with a choice), antipasto salad, bread sticks, garlic toast, combination pizza, lasagna, veal scaloppine, ravioli, dish of spaghetti, chicken tettrizini, coffee or tea, and dessert. The dinner features some of each of these and can be divided, according to taste, for a reasonable price.

A catering service for parties, club meetings, and groups, is also available, the manager said. All you have to do is call AM 4-9311 or AM 4-9059, tell what you want and when and where you want it.

In addition, the Ranch Inn Pizza House prepares lunches for working people or for individuals to take home. Each is wrapped in foil to maintain the warmth and juices of the food. Just telephone your orders and they will be ready when you come by.

Other food served at Ranch Inn Pizza House include "Bambino Specials" (children's plate); American style sandwiches; all kinds of salads and appetizers; sea foods, and choice steaks.

Beverages of all kinds are available to go with food, if more than coffee, tea, or milk is wanted.

Parking is no problem around the Pizza House because there is a large area for "off-the-highway" parking around the establishment.

The business was built from the ground up, LaWanda said. "We plan to do remodeling and decorating as business continues to grow. We feel that our customers have been kind in making it possible to improve as we go along."

An invitation is always out to stop by the Ranch Inn Pizza House for coffee, full meal, or cold drink. The service must be good.

Haston Electric Is Able To Make Circuits Modern

A new building, in the planning stage, may be designed to carry light or heavy electrical loads, whether it be a residence or business building. Haston Electric, 1606-B Gregg, is capable of advising with the planners for the best designed circuits and fixtures.

The firm is owned by Gene Haston, who has been in Big Spring many years. His employes know what is needed in installing electrical fixtures and outlets to handle loads properly. The firm is equipped to handle residential, commercial, and industrial jobs, whether new or renewing.

Some older buildings may have been constructed before the day of modern appliances and lighting systems. They need rewiring to handle the loads, including a sufficient number of circuits to prevent overloading and possible fires.

Haston also carries a good stock of fixtures and supplies in the present location. Call AM 4-5103 for consultation, before starting a new building job, or remodeling, to handle all modern requirements.

Full Color Programming Set For Fall By KMID-TV

When the fall programs open on television, viewers of this area will be able to get fine pictures on the "full color network"—Station KMID-TV — the Permian Basin affiliate for the National Broadcasting Co.

Walter D. Scott, vice president in charge of the NBC Television network, along with KMID-TV at Terminal, announced the color schedule "way back" in March, and since that time some new programs have been scheduled.

Highlights of the promised color schedule include:

—Approximately 95 per cent of the entire evening schedule will be in color during the average week, as compared to 80 per cent in the current season.

—100 per cent color on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings; Friday and Saturday night all color (except for occasional black and white feature movies and news programs).

—All 14 returning evening shows in color; 12 of the 15 new series in color.

—Total color volume at the rate of 3,000 hours a year (when NBC-TV first broadcast color in 1954, the year's total was 68 hours).

NBC selected its 15 new programs from more than 30 pilots and series. The new programs, combined with 14 established and successful shows, give NBC-TV a structure of broadly diversified programming of quality and audience appeal.

A total of 15 independent creative organizations — covering all facets of the program production field—will supply NBC-TV with the wide variety of programs comprising the network's 1965-66 evening schedule.

Scott said that the ability of the network to complete all schedule preparations, including the tremendous expansion of color, on the exact timetable planned, was a tribute to "a strong and stable organization of creative broadcasting professionals that can plan ahead with forethought and carry out its plans with precision."

First Lady Of Hawaii Works In Wheelchair

HONOLULU (AP) — The wife of Hawaii's governor is a fragile, gentle woman who runs a 24-room mansion, is hostess to a continuous stream of important visitors, and fields the obligations that are hers as the state's first lady — all from a wheelchair.

Striken by polio 30 years ago and unable to walk since then, Beatrice Burns has raised three children, campaigned side by side with her husband, and now presides with self-assurance over historic Washington Place, home of Hawaii's governors in downtown Honolulu.

"MOST ADMIRED"

She's so popular with islanders that she was recently elected "Hawaii's Most Admired Woman" in a newspaper poll, edging out Rep. Patsy Takemoto Mink, the first woman of Japanese-American ancestry to win a seat in the U.S. Congress.

Mrs. Burns was stricken with polio four years after her marriage. She was pregnant and lost the child.

At first she was unable to move either her arms or legs. Later, she got back partial use of her arms.

Mrs. Burns has been able to lead a normal life, she says, because of her family. "They treat me as a human being rather than as a handicapped person. There is never any chance of self-pity when they are around. When I do get a little soupy, they kid me out of it."

Mrs. Burns, the former Beatrice Majors Van Vleet, was born in Sumpter, a mining town in Oregon, and spent her youth in more than a dozen cities in the West, from Los Angeles to Nevada.

Her parents were school teachers and farmers. They had migrated from the Midwest where her great-uncle, Thomas J. Majors, was a lieutenant governor of Nebraska from 1891 to 1895.

PONY EXPRESS

She is a descendant of Col. Alexander Majors, one of the founders of the Pony Express.

Coming to Hawaii in 1930 as an Army nurse, she met her husband-to-be, John, then a student at the University of Hawaii, at Schofield Barracks.

Despite her handicap, she raised her young children, John, Jr., and Mary Beth, who were infants at the time she was striken. John is now a speech writer in the Treasury Department in Washington, and Mary Beth is a housewife in Honolulu.

The Burns' youngest son, James, 27, was born after she had the polio attack. He is an attorney in Honolulu.

"I did all my own cooking and sewing. I was the main dishwasher. I was not too good at cleaning the house but Beth took care of that," she says.

U.S. Patrol Fleet Busy Off S. Viet

IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA (AP) — "Stand by to take junk on starboard side," shouted the officer of the deck.

The U.S. Force, a 173-foot minesweeper from Long Beach, Calif., stopped a few hundred yards from the small, motorized fishing craft. Four sun-baked Vietnamese guided the junk beside the minesweeper for boarding.

While one officer stood guard with a .45-caliber submachine gun, two others, questioned the Vietnamese and searched the junk. Fifteen minutes later, satisfied that no arms were concealed and that the occupants were fishermen, the officers climbed back aboard the minesweeper.

The boarding incident was typical of thousands that the U.S. 7th Fleet has conducted off South Viet Nam since March. U.S. and Vietnamese naval officials suspect that the Viet Cong has stepped up use of the seas to infiltrate arms and personnel into the south.

"MARKET TIME"

More than a score of U.S. ships involving thousands of men are taking part in the patrol. The operation, dubbed "Market Time" by the U.S. Navy, is being carried out in conjunction with a Vietnamese sea force of 44 ships and a government junk fleet of more than 500 boats.

The most recent additions to the patrol fleet were eight Coast Guard patrol boats. A total of 17 of the 82-foot boats are expected.

The radar-equipped boats, making their first appearance in a war zone since the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, have a crew of 2 officers and 10 men. They will operate in shallow water where the larger fleet ships are unable to go.

With some 40,000 to 50,000 junks engaged in legitimate activities along 1,000 miles of coastline, the job is immense. Whether the effort is successful remains open to interpretation.

"You can look at it two ways," said the skipper of the Force, Capt. Walk Brubaker of Huntington Beach, Calif.

"Either we're succeeding because we can't find any infiltration or the Viet Cong is getting through our network."

BY SEA

Officials believe more arms have come into the country by sea since the United States began air strikes against land supply routes last February. They are unable to even guess whether sea infiltration has replaced land infiltration as the major source of supply for the Viet Cong.

"I can't make any speculation on the ratio because I don't know how many arms have come in by land, and we certainly don't know how many have come in by sea," said Capt. Tran Van Phan, commander of the Vietnamese navy.

"I go where the traffic is," said Capt. Richard Kemble of Denver, aboard the 1,850-ton USS McMorris, a destroyer escort.

J. J. Campbell Dies Sunday

James J. Campbell, 74, died Sunday morning in a local hospital. A retired barber, and long-time resident of El Paso, he had lived here for the past three years.

Services were at 2 p.m. today in the cemetery at the Big Spring State Hospital, with the Rev. Ronnie Bostich officiating. Burial was under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include two sons, L. D. Campbell, Hanna, Wyo., and James Campbell, El Paso; two brothers, Spike Campbell, El Paso, and Frank Campbell, Brownwood; four sisters, Mrs. Ada Cock, San Gabriel, Cal., Mrs. Dotson, San Diego, Cal., Mrs. Cora Brooks, Lawton, Okla., and Mrs. Minnie Caves, Quinton, Okla.; and six grandchildren.

Job Center Seen Settling Down Now

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Gary Job Corps Center, a beachhead for the war on poverty, is hot, dry and crowded these days. There has been a day-to-day battle to solve a multitude of problems.

But officials are convinced they are accomplishing the center's mission: Train disadvantaged, unemployable boys in a trade so they can become useful citizens.

Nearly 1,400 corpsmen are at the old army post, and that many again are expected by early fall. About 450 have come and gone. Some were troublemakers, but most left on their own—homesick or disgusted.

SETTLING DOWN

"We're very definitely settling down now," said Dr. Oscar Baker, center director.

"During the first few weeks, we were getting students while still employing a staff," Baker said. "Some of the boys left because the vocational courses they wanted weren't ready for them."

The curriculum of more than 30 courses now ranges from auto mechanics to cooking and commercial art. The boys can stay up to two years.

Most like the idea of being a job corpsman and proudly display the red, white and blue corps patch on their sleeves. Some don't.

Six corpsmen stalked briskly to their barracks recently, bitter and ready to leave.

"I'm fed up," Tommy Peterson, 18, of Texarkana, Ark. said. "This camp will never last—someday race riots will close it down. And there's no privacy. We have two to each room—six to a shower."

RACIAL TENSION

Baker reported that "There is a certain amount of racial tension among some of the boys who are in a completely integrated program for the first time. We recognize this and to say we didn't would not be fair."

Less than 50 per cent of the corps men here are Negroes, an official said.

"We've never had any real outbreaks of violence, and what violence we've had has not necessarily resulted between the races," Baker added.

Baker said 38 enrollees had been arrested in surrounding cities for various offenses. Most were misdemeanors.

Five Negro corpsmen from Chicago were jailed and charged in San Antonio following the sidewalk shooting of two young Air Force enlisted men July 17. Officers filed assault to murder charges against two and conspiracy to commit robbery charges against three.

At the time of the wounding of the airmen, Baker said he feared the alleged action by the five might lead the public to forming "an unfair judgment of the typical Gary enrollee."

Rallies Conducted By Klan Negroes

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan staged a silent march and massive rally Sunday only a few hours before Negroes held their own demonstration.

State troopers and city policemen stood by in large numbers as each group gathered. There were no incidents.

Klan members and white sympathizers marched 600 strong to the street corner where Andrew Whatley, a 21-year-old white man, was shot. A civil rights demonstration was being held several blocks away at the time of the shooting. Two Negroes have been indicted on murder charges in his death.

After the Klan marchers knelt for a brief memorial service, they trooped behind flags of the United States and the Confederacy along a seven-block route to the Sumter County Courthouse where another 400 persons waited.

Seventy-five robed and hooded Klansmen were scattered along the procession. Others wore sport coats emblazoned with Klan emblems. There were no masks, which are outlawed by Georgia law.

"We're here to let the people know the Klan is on the move," said Calvin Craig of Atlanta, Georgia grand dragon. "The Klan is the only salvation of the white man."

"It's the white man against the Negro," said another speaker, Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of United Klans of America, Inc.

When about 300 Negroes gathered a few hours later they renewed demands for a biracial committee. Civil rights leaders have promised to march on the home of Mayor T. Griffin Walker if one is not formed today.

U.S. Examiners Will Begin Signing Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the third phase of putting the new voting rights bill into action, the Justice Department designates today those counties where federal registrars will be used.

And Tuesday, in keeping with a presidential timetable, about 45 of the 75 federal voting examiners — all employes of the Civil Service Commission — will start signing up voters in 10 to 15 counties.

The Justice Department also is to go to court Tuesday in an effort to upset the poll tax requirement for voting in state and local elections in Texas, Alabama and Virginia.

President Johnson established the schedule Friday when he signed the voting rights bill into law.

TWO PHASES

The first two phases of enforcement went into effect Saturday.

—Literacy tests as a prerequisite to voting were suspended in Alabama, Alaska, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia and in 26 counties in North Carolina and one each in Arizona, Idaho and Maine.

—The first of the poll tax suits was filed against Mississippi. The state plans to defend the constitutionality of the $2 fee required of its voters in state and local elections. The poll tax requirement already has been banned in federal elections through a constitutional amendment.

Johnson directed the Justice Department to work through the weekend to determine those counties "where past experience clearly shows that federal action will be necessary.

"And by Tuesday," he said, "trained federal examiners will be at work registering eligible men and women in 10 to 15 counties."

The Civil Service Commission has completed three days of training for 75 of its regular employes. The 75, a few of them Negro, thus are prepared to serve as examiners as the Justice Department might require.

In a television scene Sunday on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers," Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the examiners will register illiterate Negroes.

Katzenbach said Southern states have been registering white illiterates and now this same standard must be applied to Negroes.

The voting rights law suspended literacy tests and other vote-qualifying devices in any state or county which used them on Nov. 1, 1964, if less than 50 per cent of the voting-age residents were registered on that date or voted in the presidential election that month.

This automatically took effect in Alabama, Alaska, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia, 26 counties in North Carolina and one county each in Arizona, Idaho and Maine.

The use of federal registrars was provided for in any county hit by the test suspension if the attorney general received at least 20 complaints of voting discrimination or if he decided they were necessary to preserve the constitutional guarantee to vote.

These are the counties which were to be designated today.

Young King Constantine Facing Grim Challenge

ATHENS (AP)—Center Union party deputies today voted against allowing Stephanos Stephanopoulos to form a new government. The action plunged Greece even deeper into crisis and confronted young King Constantine with a new challenge.

The deputies of the nation's biggest party, led by ousted Premier George Papandreou, voted 120-18 against Stephanopoulos' accepting a mandate from the king, a party official said.

A former deputy premier under Papandreou, Stephanopoulos told the caucus: "I will abide by the party's decision."

In asking Stephanopoulos Sunday night to try to form a government, King Constantine rejected Papandreou's demand that he be returned to power.

The king fired him July 15 in a dispute over control of the armed forces.

Thailand Police Fight Terrorists

The police skirmished with about 15 terrorists Sunday in a jungle region of Nakorn Phanom Province, directly across the Mekong river from Laos, police said.

One terrorist was killed and a pile of Communist literature was captured.

IRS Bugging, Senator Says

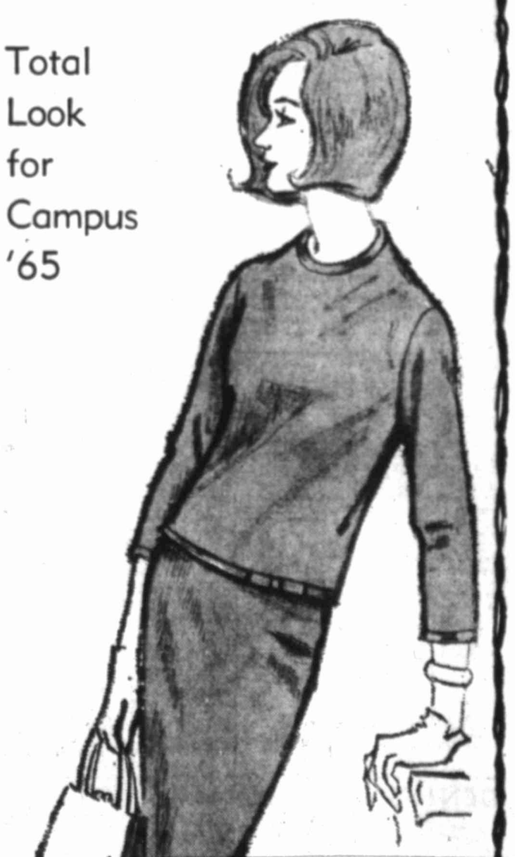

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward Long, D-Mo., says the tax-collecting Internal Revenue Service has "bugged" a bevy of conference rooms with two-way mirrors and concealed microphones.

Long, head of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating snooping practices by federal agencies, said Sunday his committee first uncovered a "bugged conference room in Pittsburgh."

Then, he said, IRS Commissioner Sheldon Cohen learned there were about a half-dozen such rooms.

Said Long: "The list has now grown to many times that size."
