Friday's a big day for seniors

Friday will be a big day for Snyder High School seniors.

They'll be dismissed at 2:45 p.m., then begin the annual Senior Volleyball Tournament, an informal, double-elimination event held at the football practice field.

At 8 o'clock, the year-end steak supper for seniors begins at the First Baptist Church Family Life Center. A slide show of senior memories will be presented and awards — some not so desirable, such as "Most Gullible" and "Worst Car" — will be presented.

At 10 o'clock until 1 a.m., a dance for all high school students and their guests will be held at the Student Center. Admission is $3 per person or $5 per couple.

THE SDN COLUMN

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You know when you're past middle age. You feel your oats less, and your corns more."

Thanks again to Snyder's Steve Mackey who labors for Mobil out at Salt Creek, here are some thoughts of refreshing honesty...from kids.

The subject is letters from children to God:

--I love to read the Bible. What does begat mean? Nobody will tell me.

--Did you mean for the giraffe to look like that or was it an accident.

--Instead of letting people die and having to make new ones, why don't you just keep the ones you have now?

--Who draws the lines around the countries?

--I went to this wedding and they kissed right in church. Is that okay?

--What does it mean you are a Jealous God? I thought you had everything.

--Thank you for the baby brother, but what I prayed for was a puppy.

--It rained for our whole vacation and is my father mad. He said some things about you that people are not supposed to say, but I hope you will not hurt him anyway. Signed, your friend (But I am not going to tell you who I am).

--Why is Sunday school on Sunday? I thought it was supposed to be our day of rest.

--Please send me a pony. I never asked for anything before. You can look it up.

--If you give me a genie lamp like Aladdin, I will give you anything you want, except my money or my chess set.

--Maybe Cain and Able would not kill each other so much if they had their own rooms. It works with my brother.

--You don't have to worry about me. I always look both ways.

--I think the stapler is one of your greatest inventions.

--I think about you sometimes, even when I'm not praying.

--I bet it is hard for you to love all of everybody in the whole world. There are only four people in my family and I can never do it.

--Of all of the people who work for you, I like Noah and David the best.

--My brother told me about being born, but it doesn't sound right. They're just kidding, aren't they?

--We read Thomas Edison made light. But in Sunday school they said you did it. I bet he stole your idea.

--I didn't think orange went with purple until I saw the sunset you made on Tuesday. It was cool.

--The bad people laughed at Noah. But he was smart. He stuck with you. That's what I would do.

Awarding of warehouse bid anticipated by board Friday

The Texas Board of Criminal Justice, meeting in Houston today and Friday, is expected to award the bid for construction of the Snyder regional warehouse and distribution center.

State Rep. David Counts said the item is on Friday's TDCJ board agenda and calls for approval of a revised budget and a construction contract for the facility.

"They are going to spend more money than we originally thought," Counts said. "Also, the agency is looking at utilizing a private contractor rather than inmate labor to expedite the project."

The facilities committee was scheduled to discuss the item today, prior to the full board meeting on Friday.

First announced in August, 1996, officials said other priorities for available funds have delayed the project until now.

The agency plans to break ground in July on a 60,000-square foot expansion to the existing 70,000-square foot warehouse located in the former Wickes building located on U.S. 84.

The expanded facility will include 20,000 square feet of freezer and cold storage space which will enable the agency to house bulk inventories of frozen foods, meats and other perishable items.

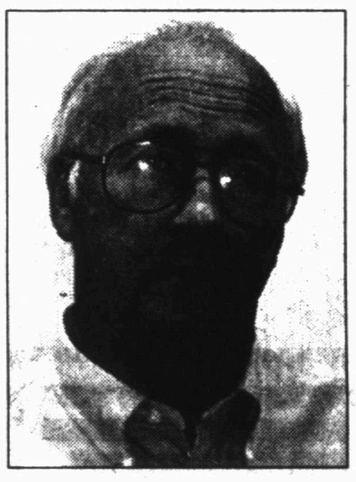

Initial estimated cost of the project was $3.4 million, which included $2.4 million for the building and cold storage. Parking area and lighting are estimated at $322,575 while storage racks and fork lifts will total $696,157.

The distribution center will employ an additional 13 people, bringing the total warehouse employment to 51. The total includes 25 truck drivers.

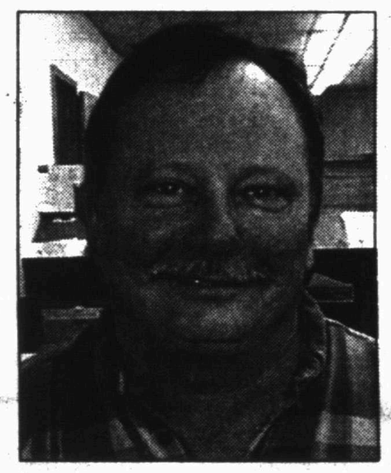

The expansion will result in an additional payroll of approximately $300,000 annually. The Snyder facility is the first regional distribution center for the prison system and is expected to save the state almost $1 million annually in transportation costs.

The region includes Dalhart and Amarillo on the north, Wichita Falls to the northeast, El Paso to the west. Currently, these prisons are supplied from Huntsville.

The Windham School regional staff will be displaced by the warehouse addition. Portable buildings currently are being set in place on the southwest corner of the Price Daniel Unit property to be used for the 15-member school staff.

Wade Warren

Bill McClellan

Wade Warren named SDN managing editor

Wade Warren, veteran newsman, has been named managing editor of the Snyder Daily News, effective Sunday.

Warren replaces Bill McClellan, who has taken the position of news editor at the Big Spring Herald, beginning June 1.

Warren has been a SDN staffer in both news and advertising since 1995.

"We appreciate the 21 years that Bill has devoted to our newspaper and to the Snyder community," said SDN Publisher Roy McQueen. "We wish him the very best in his new endeavor.

"We are fortunate, however, to have someone to promote who knows the community, and who is is dedicated to local news and quality coverage."

McClellan came to the Snyder Daily News in 1977 as sports editor and was named managing editor in 1989, after Donny Brown joined the faculty of Western Texas College. McClellan had previously worked as a sports editor and general assignment reporter for the Mexia Daily News.

"I am thankful to have spent the past 21 years in Snyder. My wife and I, Dixie, raised two sons here and have many good friends," said McClellan. "Leaving Snyder was a difficult decision to make but the Herald represents an exciting challenge as well as an opportunity for advancement. Snyder will always be in our hearts."

Warren, a native of Odessa, is a graduate of Odessa Permian and majored in marketing at Texas Tech. Warren has served as advertising manager of the Lamesa Press-Reporter and as publisher of both the Lamb County Leader-News and the Brownfield News. He also owned and operated the Burnet Citizen.

Warren's wife, Carolyn, is an advertising representative for the Snyder Daily News. The Warrens have four children, Leslie Ann Hargrove, Shannon, Jason and Tyler.

Lyons found guilty of DWI

After deliberating for just 20 minutes Wednesday, a 132nd District Court jury found Roger Doyce Lyons guilty of felony driving while intoxicated.

Lyons, an employee of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, was awaiting sentencing today.

Attorneys for the state and defendant presented testimony in the punishment phase this morning and the trial was recessed shortly before noon. The charge was to be presented to the seven-man, five-woman jury for deliberation at 1:30 p.m.

Lyons, 39, of 852 Lyons Road, was charged with being intoxicated on Dec. 23 when the vehicle he was driving was involved in an accident.

Lyons was arrested at 8:15 p.m. following the accident which occurred at the intersection of U.S. Highway 84 and Ennis Creek Rd.

District Attorney Dana Cooley prosecuted the case. Sweetwater attorney John Young represented Lyons, which is being presided over by District Judge Ernie Armstrong.

Ira commencement is Friday

Ira Schools graduation ceremonies for 1997-1998 are set for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the new gym.

Twenty-eight students will graduate, including 13 seniors and 15 eighth graders.

Band concerts slated tonight

Worsham Auditorium will be filled with music tonight as Snyder school bands present their spring concerts.

The sixth grade beginning band will open the program at 7 o'clock and perform three numbers.

Next up will be the junior high band with "Monterrey March" and themes from "Jurassic Park" and "Titanic."

Snyder High School symphonic band will complete the evening's fare with its concert, including "At a Dixieland Jazz Funeral" and "America the Beautiful" with guest harpist Kim Gorman.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

Blood drive ends at 7 p.m.

The Texas Blood Institute's drive continues through 7 this evening at the First Baptist Church Family Life Center. Area citizens are encouraged to donate.

Donors are reminded that they are required to show a driver's license, birth certificate, or Social Security card before they can give blood.

Hollywood pays homage to Sinatra's passing

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — It was the passing of a legend, another time marker for the century, and Hollywood's royalty bid farewell to Frank Sinatra with touches of kindness, doses of laughter and moments of reflection.

"Barbara, Frank loved you very much," Kirk Douglas, his speech still showing the effect of a stroke, told Sinatra's widow. "We all know that, so don't cry too much. Think of Frank up there with Dean Martin, up with there with Sammy Davis Jr.

"Boy, heaven will never be the same!"

There was hearty applause from the 400 mourners packed inside Good Shepherd Catholic Church for Wednesday afternoon's two-hour service, which included a funeral Mass officiated by Cardinal Roger Mahony, the archbishop of Los Angeles.

It was uplifting, as Mrs. Sinatra asked, but there was no escaping reality: As speakers paraded to the microphone and Communion was served, eyes were focused on the metal casket in front with the body of Ol' Blue Eyes.

Sinatra died of a heart attack last Thursday at 82.

Just before the funeral began, Nancy Sinatra placed her head on her father's casket and prayed. Nearby, Liza Minnelli hugged Mia Farrow, who was briefly married to Sinatra in the 1960s. Another touching moment came when "Put Your Dreams Away" by the man known as The Voice boomed from speakers.

"Our world is a better place because Frank Sinatra passed through it," Douglas said.

Mourners spanned the generations: James Darren, Bruce Springsteen, Vic Damone, Sidney Poitier, Jerry Vale, Tony Bennett, Debbie Reynolds, Tom Selleck, Dionne Warwick, Angie Dickinson, Wayne Newton, Quincy Jones, Milton Berle, Ernest Borgnine, Gregory Peck, Joey Bishop, Tony Curtis, Paul Anka, Red Buttons, Nancy Reagan, Bob Newhart.

During his remembrance, Frank Sinatra Jr. noted his father had the mystic romance of Rudolph Valentino, the aloofness of James Dean, sexiness of Marilyn Monroe and the appeal of Elvis Presley.

"Unlike the others, he lived to a ripe old age," his son noted.

Looking down at the casket 10 feet away, he concluded: "So long buddy, and take care of yourself."

The church was a floor-to-ceiling ocean of white flowers — orchids, roses, mums and Sinatra's favorite, gardenias. Pallbearers, including Don Rickles, Steve Lawrence, Tom Dreesen and Sinatra Jr., wore gardenia boutineers.

Mrs. Sinatra, wearing black, sat in the front row with her son, Robert Marx, who delivered one of the brief eulogies. "He made her feel like a little girl. She called him her knight in shining armor. And he was," said Marx, whom Sinatra considered a son.

The tributes were by turns touching and racy, reflecting the personality of a man whom Peck described as a "reckless rogue, sentimental fella."

Producer George Schlatter offered a slightly off-color remembrance: "His favorite words were 'Jack' and 'Daniel's.' His least favorite: 'Take two.'"

Following the tributes, Sinatra's casket was carried out of the church to a hearse, amid the din of four media helicopters hovering overhead and dozens of reporters and camera operators behind police lines across the street.

As news helicopters followed, the hearse drove to Van Nuys airport, where the casket was loaded on a private jet that flew with the immediate family to the desert town of Palm Springs some 110 miles east.

In a simple ceremony at modest Desert Memorial Park in nearby Cathedral City, Sinatra was buried next to his parents and his best friend, Jilly Rizzo, in a plot near the road.

Sinatra fan Earl Timko, 80, drove up to the cemetery in his golf cart and recalled that he had seen the Chairman of the Board when he was alive.

"He and his friends, they knew how to live it up."

Tommy Lee jailed for spousal abuse

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Despite a plea from Tommy Lee's estranged wife, a judge sent the rocker to jail to begin serving a six-month sentence for felony spousal abuse.

The Motley Crue drummer was taken away in handcuffs to begin serving his sentence Wednesday evening. Lee, 35, was given the jail term and three years probation for kicking wife Pamela Anderson as she held their baby son, Dylan, during a fight in February.

Superior Court Judge Lawrence J. Mira threatened Lee with three years in state prison if he violated conditions of the sentence stemming from his no-contest plea last month.

"What I see here is a very clear, disturbing in my judgment, pattern of conduct in which otherwise resolvable issues are handled with violence," Mira said.

Lee listened quietly in court, a colorful neck tattoo and spiky hair the only hint of his heavy metal background. Fellow band member Nikki Sixx and his wife, "Baywatch" co-star Donna D'Errico, waved to Lee before he was led away.

Ms. Anderson, a former star of the syndicated TV series "Baywatch," was not in court but made a plea through her lawyer that Lee not go to jail. She declined to have Lee pay medical or legal restitution, urging counseling and probation instead.

Lee also was ordered to donate $5,000 to a battered-women's shelter, avoid drugs and alcohol, stay at least 100 yards away from his wife, attend anger management classes and undergo random drug tests.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

2 lives with two wives tearing therapist apart

DEAR ABBY: I have reached the point of desperation, and hope that you can help me find some answers and some sanity.

I am 56 years old, and after more than 30 years of a troubled marriage, I left my wife for a girl 18 years younger whom I had known less than a year. We were married five months later, but I knew immediately that my dream marriage was a mistake — and within days I returned to my wife. Although our children are grown, I knew they needed their parents to be a stable family unit, and I couldn't get over having abandoned them.

My first wife took me back, but none of our problems had changed and I was as miserable as ever, unable to forget the young wife I had deserted. After a couple of months I returned to her.

Now I feel guilty about what I've done to my kids, no one from my old life is speaking to me, and all of it is affecting my relationship with my new wife.

I am afraid of another breakup and can't imagine where I would go or what I would do. Please don't suggest I see a counselor. I am one.

ADRIFT AND AFRAID IN OHIO

DEAR ADRIFT: Please read this carefully: Because you are a counselor doesn't mean you do not need to see one. You will not be the first therapist who has needed to see a therapist. Many therapists are required to undergo analysis as part of their training, and many of them continue to do it as a "reality check" after dealing with so many disturbed people.

You are not a pingpong ball, and you cannot keep bouncing back and forth between spouses. Not only is it crazy-making for you, it's very unfair to them. Please waste no time in making an appointment with a therapist you can trust, respect, and who has an excellent track record. You'll be glad you did. Trust me.

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are getting married in November. His sister "Sue" and I have never gotten along. However, last year, despite our differences, I asked her to be a bridesmaid in my wedding.

I knew she was thinking about trying to get pregnant (as she is almost 30), so I asked her if there would be a conflict with her being in the wedding party. She said there would be no problem and assured me that if she did start trying to get pregnant, her due date would not coincide with the wedding.

A few months later, Sue and I spoke again about the pregnancy, and she once again assured me that there would be no conflict. In fact, although she was trying to get pregnant, she promised she would stop trying for a few months to be positive she wasn't due in November.

Well, surprise, surprise! She is now pregnant and is due 10 days after the wedding. Needless to say, my fiance and I are very hurt and upset that she let this happen. We feel like she betrayed us and lied without caring about our feelings. We think she acted very selfishly. My fiance's parents think we are wrong to be upset. What do you think?

THE HURT BRIDE IN TEXAS

DEAR HURT BRIDE: Your quarrel seems to be more with Mother Nature than with your future sister-in-law. However, according to "Emily Post's Complete Book of Wedding Etiquette," "It is better not to choose as a bridesmaid a girl who is noticeably pregnant unless she and the bride are completely comfortable about it." If Sue still wants to be in the wedding, take her to a dressmaker and have a maternity dress made to match the other bridesmaids' attire.

You might also have a junior bridesmaid in your wedding party lineup who is willing to be a pinch-hitter on short notice if Sue can't go the distance.

ABWA gives scholarship

Scurry Charter Chapter of American Business Women's Association presented a scholarship to a high school student and were entertained by the Sunshine Choir.

At the April 23 meeting at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, Amanda Olibas was given a scholarship, presented by education chairman Leona Wiggins. Miss Olibas will graduate next week from Snyder High School where she was a member of the FFA Quiz Team that won first in district and fourth in area competition. A four-year FFA member, she was also on the academic decathlon team, winning four medals. As a DECA student, she worked at Golden Corral Restaurant.

Carla Thompson directed the nine-member Sunshine Choir in several songs including "Singing In the Rain," "Side by Side" and "God Bless America."

Chapter members worked in the arts and crafts show last weekend at the coliseum. Betty Boyd, Pat Faver and Maxie McNew were elected to serve on the nominating committee.

Inez Teaff was hostess to 16 members and two guests, Anita Brown and Elaine Buchanan.

Vera Pruitt gave the invocation, president Carol Young presided and led the pledge of allegiance, Teaff gave the vocational talk, and Vern Beasley gave the benediction.

Skim milk is not good for babies. It is too high in protein and salt and too low in the calories necessary for growth, according to baby feeding experts.

Altrurian Daughters installs officers

Altrurian Daughters Study Club met for its final meeting of food, fun and fellowship and installation of officers Wednesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Francene Noah, outgoing president, installed 1999-2000 officers using a Candle of Light theme. Jeanell Hammack assumed the office of president; Gussie Gray, vice president; Bobbie Taylor, secretary; Shirley Stewart, corresponding secretary; Dora Blakey, treasurer; and Joyce Williamson, historian. Twenty-one members attended.

Ask Anne and Nan

By Anne B. Adams and Nancy Nash-Cummings

TO OUR READERS: The Last Word (for the moment anyway) On The "-gry" Question.

A few weeks ago we published a letter from Hugh McAtee of Forest Dale, Vt., which read in part: "I was told there are only three words in the English language that end with '-gry'. Two of them are 'hungry' and 'angry.' What is the third? I've racked my brain until it is ready to pop."

Well, so did we, and after our brains had popped as well, we put Hugh's question in STUMPED.

We received a flood of mail. Apparently this riddle, conundrum, hoax, trick question or whatever you want to call it, surfaces every few years, causing argument, controversy and confusion.

Here's what we've learned, thanks to our Dear Readers:

In fact, there are six words (though some say there are 50) that end with "-gry": hungry, angry, puggry, meagry, aggry and just plain gry (one-tenth of a line). All but the first two are either obsolete or sufficiently obscure as to be unlisted in any common-usage English language dictionary.

The "trick" depends on how the question is asked:

Q: Angry and hungry are two words that end in "-gry." There are three words in the English language. What is the third word? Everyone knows what it means, and everyone uses it every day. Look closely, and you'll see that I've already given you the third word. What is it?

A: The answer is "language." The first sentence is just a trick to throw you off.

Q: What are the three words in the English language that end with "-gry"?

A: "I am hungry." (Or "angry.")

Write to "Ask Anne & Nan" at P.O. Box 240, Hartland, VT 05048.

The next stop on our European tour is Stockholm. This beautiful city isn't far enough north to enjoy 24 hours of sunlight in midsummer, but it doesn't stay dark for long. And Sweden has produced many top-class players, who have two other characteristics that stand out: They are very friendly and speak excellent English.

One of the victorious Swedish team at the 1977 European Championship was Jorgen Lindqvist, who is affectionately known as Jorgen-daddy. He declared this deal brilliantly, during the 1976 Swedish Teams Championship.

Jorgen-daddy began with a thin two clubs. This was natural, showing at least six clubs and, in principle, 11-15 high-card points. North, Anders Brunzell, understandably launched into Blackwood before bidding six.

West led the heart four, which had all the aura of a singleton.

It looks natural to take two trump finesses through East and one diamond finesse through West, getting home if two win. But Jorgen-daddy sensed that the cards didn't lie so favorably. At trick two, he played a club to his ace. (Not surprisingly, East didn't drop his king.) Jorgen-daddy continued with a spade to dummy's queen and a spade to his ace, West making a length signal consistent with an odd number of spades. And the appearance of East's 10 on the second round seemed to confirm this. So, Jorgen-daddy cast adrift with a trump. Bingo! East had to return either a diamond into dummy's ace-queen or a heart into the ace-jack. Whichever he chose, declarer had 12 tricks.

If an opponent leads a singleton against your small slam, he won't hold an ace or the trump king.

Tigers, Chiefs square-off in regional quarterfinal series

Only 32 teams remain in the hunt for the Class 4A state baseball championship.

After Saturday, the Snyder Tigers hope to be one of 16 still in the chase.

Snyder squares off with San Angelo Lake View at 2 p.m. Friday at Chiefs' Field in Game 1 of the regional quarterfinals. Game 2 is slated for noon Saturday at Moffett Field, with the third contest to follow, if necessary.

The Tigers, 27-6 on the season and fresh off a two-game sweep of El Paso Riverside in the area round, expect the Chiefs to be a mirror image of the Rangers.

"I think we'll see the same kind of pitching against Lake View that we saw against Riverside," Snyder Coach Roland Herrera said. "We just have to be patient with the breaking ball and wait on the fastball."

Lake View, 14-14 on the year, is coming off a 6-3 upset of Canyon Randall a week ago. Coach Rene Cordova will send right-hander Oscar Solis to the mound in Friday's opener. The sophomore is 5-0 with an ERA of 4.87.

"Oscar isn't an overpowering pitcher," Cordova said. "He's had some shoulder problems, but he's throwing better now. But he's still not the kind of guy who will strike out a lot of people. Oscar's best aspect is his control."

For the Tigers, Clay Berryman once again gets the Game 1 start. The senior has compiled a 14-2 mark with an ERA under 2.00. Berryman notched victories in both the bi-district and area series openers.

As for offense, the edge goes to Snyder in power. The Tigers have blasted 28 home runs on the year, compared to only seven for the Chiefs.

The Chiefs are in the midst of a tumultous week.

On Sunday, Lake View High School burned to the ground following explosions by two transformers. The unexpected cafastrophe came just five days prior to graduation, as the Chiefs are set to walk across the stage Friday night.

"I don't think the fire or graduation will have that much of an effect on us," Cordova stated. "We weren't supposed to get this far anyway. We just have to focus on the business at hand."

The Snyder-Lake View series winner will face the winner of the Brownwood-Sherman contest next week in the regional semifinals. The Lions and Bearcats battle at 1 p.m. Saturday in Graham.

In other Region I action, Andrews and Frenship meet at 7:30 Friday night at Moffett Field. The two squads will finish their series Saturday in Seminole.

Granbury faces Ft. Worth Arlington Heights in a three-game set in the remaining quarterfinal. That series is scheduled for Goldstein Field in Ft. Worth.

All-NBA team...

Spurs rookie nabs honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Tim Duncan has matched Larry Bird in one respect.

The 7-footer from San Antonio is the first rookie to be selected for the All-NBA team since Bird was picked in 1980.

Duncan, who earlier was named the league's Rookie of the Year, joined perennial picks Michael Jordan of Chicago and Utah's Karl Malone, along with two other first-time choices: Shaquille O'Neal of Los Angeles and Gary Payton of Seattle.

Jordan, who won his fifth MVP award this week, and Malone, the runner-up for that award, each received the maximum 580 points with 116 first-team ballots from an international panel of writers and broadcasters. Each was picked on the first team for the 10th time.

Payton had 108 first-team votes and 561 points. O'Neal was picked for the first team on 103 ballots and had 544 points.

Duncan, the first rookie to make the team since Bird, received 45 first-team votes and 370 points. Just three weeks past his 22nd birthday, he is the second-youngest All-NBA pick in history, behind only Max Zaslofsky, who was 21 years and 4 months old when he was picked for the first All-NBA team in 1947.

Stevens, Texas rally from 6 runs down to top Seattle

ARLINGTON (AP) — Lee Stevens hit two homers and the Texas Rangers took advantage of another collapse by Seattle's bullpen to rally from a six-run deficit for an 8-7 victory over the Mariners on Wednesday night.

Tom Goodwin drove in the go-ahead run in the eighth with a sacrifice fly.

Tim Crabtree (1-0) pitched two innings of hitless relief for the win and John Wetteland pitched the ninth for his 13th save in 13 chances. He has converted 25 straight save chances dating back to last year.

Seattle's Alex Rodriguez hit a pair of solo homers to give him an AL-leading 18 this season. It was the sixth two-homer game of his career and second in five days.

The Rangers rallied from a six-run deficit to tie the game 7-7 in the seventh.

Mariners starter Bill Swift shut out the Rangers on two hits over the first four innings before Texas rallied for three runs in the fifth.

Sprewell takes NBA to court

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Latrell Sprewell wasn't pleased with an arbitrator's ruling over his suspension for choking Golden State Warriors coach P.J. Carlesimo. So he's taking the matter to court.

The All-Star guard filed a lawsuit Wednesday in U.S. District Court, seeking more than $30 million in lost wages and additional damages.

The suit alleges the star guard was punished excessively for the same offense by both the team and the league, and that the subsequent suspension kept him from earning a living. It also claims violations of federal and state civil rights laws and federal antitrust statutes.

Astros edge Expos, 4-3

MONTREAL (AP) — Derek Bell hit a tiebreaking RBI single in the ninth inning as the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 4-3 Wednesday night.

Brad Ausmus opened the inning with a single off Anthony Telford (2-1) and went to second on a sacrifice. After Craig Biggio struck out, Bell singled home Ausmus and went to second on right fielder Vladimir Guerrero's throw to the plate.

Moises Alou then singled in Bell to make it 4-2.

BUDDY POPPY SALE — Mayor pro tem Vernest Tippens signed a proclamation urging citizens of the community to recognize the merits of the annual poppy sale by buying and wearing a Buddy Poppy Friday. "Wear a poppy to show honor to those who died for our country and to show appreciation for the sacrifices of disabled veterans who assembled the poppies," she said. Looking on is Buddy Poppy Boy Austin Forbes, son of Joey and Bobbie Forbes. Standing are Geneva Buchanan, local and Dist. 8 secretary; Earline Brooks, local conductress; John Fair, incoming District 8 senior vice commander; and John Cagle, District 8 incoming commander, Post 2479, Sweetwater. (Staff Photo by Jo Ann Nunley)

Memorial Day activities set here

Scurry County Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial Post 8231 will be distributing Buddy Poppies this Memorial Day weekend.

On Friday, the Ladies Auxiliary will be at Snyder National Bank and West Texas State Bank, beginning at 9 a.m. On Saturday, they will be at Wal-Mart and IGA #400, 2912 College Ave.

Other Memorial Day ativities include a 9 a.m flag raising at the VFW post, visits to the Amerian Legion Post, Snyder Cemetery and Hillside Memorial Gardens. Another flag raising is planned at 10 a.m. at the courthouse.

A barbecue meal is set for 6 p.m. Monday at the VFW post. Donations are $5 per plate.

The 1998 "Buddy Poppy Boy" is three-year-old Austin Forbes, son of Joey and Bobbie Forbes. Grandparents include Earline Brooks and the late Weldon Brooks and Joe and Betty Doan.

In observerance of Memorial Day, Austin follows tradition in representing Buddy Poppy Sales for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In 1967, at the age of 3, Austin's mother, Bobbie was the "Buddy-Poppy Girl" and then in 1991, also at the age of three, Austin's brother, Stanley, was the "Buddy-Poppy Boy."

Donations generated through distributing poppies help disabled vets and their families. Wearing a Buddy Poppy signifies gratitude to the men and women in the U.S. who have risked their lives in defense of freedom which American citizens continue to enjoy.

Man, 43, jailed for intoxication

Local peace officers handled a variety of calls Wednesday, including one that sent a subject to jail.

Following a report of a possible intoxicated pedestrian, a 43-year-old male was taken into custody at 8:39 p.m. in the 1200 block of Avenue T and charged with public intoxication.

In other activity, an officer was requested at Lawrence IGA #400 in reference to two shoplifters. Offense reports were filed and the juveniles were transported to the police department where they were later released to their parents.

One other offense report was filed as a deputy was requested in Hermleigh in reference to a dog bite.

At 12:41 p.m. Snyder Fire Department responded to a report of a grass fire on the railroad tracks north of Huffman Avenue. A train coming through had set spot fires along the tracks from Snyder Country Club to Dermott. Damage was confined to the grass.

Firemen also responded to a report of smoke in a residence on CR 3119 at 2:53 a.m. The smoke was caused by electrical problems with an air conditioner, and there was no fire.

Officers were also busy assisting several motorists and investigating reports of prowlers.

1 winning Powerball ticket sold in Wisconsin

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — One gambler — out of the millions of dreamers who waited in hour-long lines or drove into the next state in hopes of winning big — beat Powerball's 80.1 million-to-1 odds.

A ticket sold in southern Wisconsin for Wednesday night's Powerball jackpot drawing, worth a world-record $195 million, was the only winner, lottery officials announced this morning.

The winning numbers were 4, 9, 30, 34, 48 and Powerball 8.

The winner's identity was not known. The big ticket was sold in Walworth County, Wis., at a store just across the state line from Illinois, a non-Powerball state.

It was the second time the Powerball planets aligned and pointed at Wisconsin in a major way: The previous record jackpot of $111.2 million went to Leslie Robbins and Colleen DeVries of Fond du Lac in July 1993.

The winning player in Wednesday's drawing chose to receive an immediate payout, which means the ticket is worth $104.3 million. The full jackpot would have been paid out over 25 years — at roughly $7.7 million a year.

Wednesday's jackpot was originally estimated at $175 million, but that was revised shortly before the drawing to $195 million after record sales.

The consolation prize in Wednesday's drawing wasn't too shabby: There were 57 players who matched five numbers but not the Powerball for a $100,000 prize.

Charles Strutt, executive director of the Multi-State Lottery Association, which operates Powerball in 20 states and Washington, D.C., said more than 72 million tickets were sold Wednesday in the Powerball states.

"They're coming all the way from Memphis and from Arkansas," said Hattie Vines, manager of the Chevron gas station in Delta, La., just across the state line from Vicksburg, Miss.

Richard Meinen of Toledo, Ohio, drove 80 miles west to Angola, Ind., to buy a ticket. "The jackpot got so big we couldn't ignore it," Meinen said.

Doug Orr, the Multi-State Lottery's marketing production coordinator, said 138.5 million of the $1 tickets were sold between Sunday and 59 minutes before Wednesday's drawing.

Indiana, which is bordered on the east and west by states where Powerball is not played, reported sales of 11,000 per minute.

The winning ticket was sold at the Lakeside Country Store, which is listed as either in Pell Lake, Wis., or nearby Genoa City, Wis., Wisconsin lottery spokesman Andrew Bohage said.

The dispatcher at the Walworth County sheriff's office, who would give only her first name, Kathy, found no joy in coming at least geographically close to winning the massive jackpot.

"I guess I'll still be working tomorrow," she said.

Powerball is played in Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Wisconsin, West Virginia and Washington, D.C.

It all starts over again Saturday, when the jackpot shrinks to a mere $10 million.

Sand on the beach is tiny fragments of rock. As big boulders erode and assume different sizes they are called different names by scientists. Boulders become cobbles, which become pebbles, then gravel, then sand. Eventually sand becomes bits of silt and dust.

Clintons' daughter 'on the mend'

STANTON, Calif. (AP) — Chelsea Clinton was "on the mend" after battling a touch of the flu, a White House spokeswoman said.

The Stanford University freshman was recovering Wednesday after she suffered stomach pains and spent the night at the university medical center, said Marsha Berry, first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton's press secretary.

Romantic prospects look very encouraging for the year ahead for unattached Geminis. Several simultaneous attractions might develop, but one could prove to be outstanding.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Do not ignore your hunches today, but by the same token, monitor them carefully — they could impel you to do something that isn't too bright. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can have a good time today without letting it cost you an arm and a leg. Your extravagance will be fueled by the company you keep. If your pals are big hitters, you're apt to follow suit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's okay to want to be independent and maintain your own identity, provided you don't go to extremes to prove your point today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Think before you speak today or else you might unintentionally say something that could upset a sensitive friend. Once your comment is aired, it'll be difficult to retrieve or amend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be willing to share equally in a joint endeavor today, as your behavior will inspire your counterpart to do likewise. Both of you could come out winners.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be more comfortable today with companions who are reserved and gentle. Aggressive or erratic types could make you feel uneasy, and you won't enjoy your time together.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Things should go smoothly for you today, provided you do everything in accordance with your highest ideals. If you're lax in expressing these qualities, disappointment is probable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your personality will be endowed with extra pizzazz today, but your commercial aptitude might not be too nifty. Be careful in situations that utilize financial expenditures.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A delicate balance must be maintained in family relationships today or friction might move in and shove harmony out.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not take the kindness or generosity of others for granted today. If you fail to reciprocate kind gestures, your peers might not be available the next time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful how you behave today when involved with someone who has less than you do. Don't make this person feel his/her worth is based on material assets.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others will find you more appealing than usual today, especially members of the opposite gender. Don't be surprised if your charisma causes one of your peers to be a trifle jealous.

Expelled student goes on shooting spree

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP) — A student who had been expelled a day earlier for bringing a gun to class opened fire with a rifle in a high school cafeteria today, killing at least one person. Up to 24 other people were injured, including three critically.

The suspect was taken into custody within about 20 minutes, police Sgt. Gary Stewart said. He refused to identify the shooter but confirmed he was an expelled student.

Sophomore Jessica Freeburg said she knew the shooter as a freshman who had been expelled a day earlier for trying to bring a gun to school.

"We were in the parking lot getting ready to walk in and everybody came running out and they said: 'People are shooting!,'" said 15-year-old Courtney Anderson.

The shooting erupted shortly before 8 a.m. at Thurston High School.

"It happened just before classes started while people were greeting each other around the cafeteria," Fire Chief Dennis Murphy said.

One person was killed and up to 24 were wounded, Stewart said.

Many of the victims were students, Murphy said.

Two boys and one girl taken to Sacred Heart Medical Center were in critical condition, hospital spokesman Dan Steinberg said.

Others were sent to McKenzie Willamette Hospital.

Wrecks send 4 to Cogdell

Two automobile accidents sent four people to Cogdell Hospital for treatment this morning.

DPS troopers were summoned to the site of a one-vehicle mishap shortly before 8 a.m., north of Dunn on Highway 208.

Driver of the pickup was Joshua Halverson, 17. His 12-year-old sister was a passenger. Both were transported to Cogdell Hospital where they were being evaluated at noon today.

Investigators said the driver apparently fell asleep and ran off the left side of the road, overcorrected to the right and hit a pipe fence before the vehicle came to rest in a cement culvert.

The vehicle did not overturn. Trooper Jeff Buuck credited the use of seat belts by both occupants for preventing more serious injury.

Snyder Police Department investigated a two-vehicle accident shortly after 8 a.m. at the intersection of 25th Street and Avenue I.

Snyder EMS transported two people to Cogdell Hospital.

Texans deserve more choice in local and long-distance service

Dennis R. Gloyna

Choice. When you take all the rhetoric in the telecommunications debate... who will compete with whom, when and where... then boil it down, choice is what Texas customers stand to gain.

Since the 1984 breakup of AT&T, long-distance telephone service has been provided to Texans by other phone companies, while Southwestern Bell has concentrated on providing you with high-quality, dependable local service. But the passage of Texas' House Bill 2128.in 1995 and the federal Telecommunications Act two years ago signaled a new direction for all telephone companies and consumers — one emphasizing real competition for all services.

In Texas, this change in direction has resulted in dramatically increased competition for local service, with 115 companies already approved to compete with Southwestern Bell for local-service customers.

Now, Southwestern Bell has asked the Texas Public Utility Commission for permission to compete for long-distance service . If approval of federal regulators is obtained, we could soon be competing for your local and long-distance service.

We think that's exciting. After all, competition is the best way to ensure customers like you get the best prices, the highest quality service — even one-stop shopping for both local and long-distance service.

Today, Texans have a choice in local telephone companies. It's time Texans had real choice when it comes to long-distance service as well. At Southwestern Bell, we look forward to bringing you more choice, and if our plan is approved, we hope you'll give us the opportunity to prove we are your best choice for local and long distance.
