WHAT'S...

COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT

We are right now in the middle of a special "Week" that we have overlooked entirely.

November 16-22 is being observed all over this country as "Farm-City Week" and as far as we know it got by us here in Ranger and Eastland County.

"Farm-City Week" was observed for the first time last year and was sponsored by Kiwanis International, with some 400 national and regional organizations participating through their various local branches, and with more than 250,000 people actually involved in the activities.

This year the Extension Subcommittee of the National Council on Boys and Girls 4-H Club Work, and other farm organizations, have joined in observing the week, and they're making quite a big thing of it every where except right around here and, as we say, it just slipped by us.

The whole purpose behind such a "Week" is to bring on a unity of purpose and cooperation between town folks and farm folks, and that is something we cannot have too much of.

One of the best speeches we ever heard made at a service club was made right here in Ranger when John Tibbels told the Lions Club that we should do everything within our power to bring about a more neighborly understanding between city folks and rural folks.

The day has long since passed when there is such a thing as town folks and country folks. Many years ago the so-called country folks didn't come to town except maybe on Saturday, or First Monday, but now they are here every day. They enjoy the same identical standard of living as the town folks. If anything, the farm folks are even more modern in their way of living, and much more mechanized.

Today a farmer not only owns a brand new late model automobile, but the chances are he has a good pick-up truck, a tractor and several pieces of motorized farm equipment. All of the farm homes now enjoy electricity and telephone service, and most every home is equipped with washing machines, electric refrigerators, deep freezers, television sets, running hot and cold water, and everything else that is enjoyed in town.

Where once upon a time most of the farm folks wore clothes that came from the mail order catalog, they now wear the same duds as the city folks and buy them at the same places. They worry with income tax troubles like everybody else and the business of farming has been lifted out of the sticks and placed into the realm of BIG business, requiring scientific knowledge and methods and modern implements and tools to carry it on. Today's farmer is a smart man and well read and well informed on all subjects.

Most all of the farm people have a direct, personal interest in the town nearest them because the chances are their children are in school there, and they have as much interest in the school as the man or woman living a block from it.

Deadline Near For Reservations to Scout Jamboree

November 25 is the deadline for Boy Scouts and Explorers from the Comanche Trail Council to make reservations for the 4th Annual National Jamboree to be held July 12-18, 1957, at Valley Forge, Pa.

Thirty-seven scouts and three leaders from this council have already made reservations and will be among the 50,000 campers who will camp on the same grounds where General Washington and his soldiers spent the severe winter of 1777.

In charge of the contingent from this area will be O. E. Winebrenner of Brownwood, J. V. Fox of Breckenridge and Lee K. Tesson of Goldthwaite. These Scouters will be the Scoutmasters for the 16-day trip which will include sight-seeing in Detroit, Niagara Falls, New York, Washington and Philadelphia.

Reservations are being made through the scout office in Brownwood and there are a few places left, it is said. Absolute deadline is next Sunday.

Members of the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star have announced they are giving a banquet on Monday evening, November 26, at 6:45, honoring members of the Ranger Masonic Lodge and their wives. Husbands of OES members will also be in attendance for the feast which will be held in the Banquet Hall of the Masonic building.

The OES ladies have announced that they, personally, will prepare the menu, but are keeping mum on what's going to be on it. It is to be a surprise menu, and the only way to find out what is to be served is to be there, it is said.

As this is the first public announcement of the event, OES members ask that all Masons and their wives please take note, and arrange their affairs so as to be able to attend the banquet.

It is said that an excellent program will follow the food.

Two Carloads of Masons To Attend Breck Dinner

About two car loads of Masons from Ranger Lodge No. 738, A. F. & A. M. will leave here Tuesday evening to attend the chicken spaghetti supper at Breckenridge to which they have been invited by the Breckenridge Lodge No. 492. A special program has been planned for the evening.

Two Ranger Boys Are Delta Sigma Phi Pledges

Gene Deaton and Gerald Bagwell of Ranger have been named to pledge Delta Sigma Phi, national social fraternity, at North Texas State College, Denton.

Deaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deaton, 101 Travis, is a senior business administration major. Bagwell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bagwell, 212 Lola, is a junior business administration major.

RJC Rangers to Meet Cisco Wranglers at 2 p.m. Thursday at Stadium Here.

BULLDOGS' SWEETHEART: Miss Deanne Hazard, standing between Jerry Cantrell, No. 30, and Dan Cruse, No. 20, was crowned Sweetheart of the 1956 Bulldogs at the Ranger-Winters game last Friday night, November 16. Cantrell placed a football helmet, symbolic of a crown, upon the sweetheart's head and gave her the traditional sweetheart kiss while teammates John Hagaman, No. 28 and Paul Hinds, No. 26, stood around enviously. The four players were the football captains of the 1956 Bulldogs. The other young lady in the picture is Miss Charlotte Rose, one of the cheer leaders, who carried the flowers.

LOW 20s Rangers Sweetheart to Be Crowned Thur.

At press time today snow from 2 to 5 inches covered the Panhandle, and freezing drizzle was reported as far down as Wichita Falls.

The temperature is due to reach the low 20s in Ranger and the West Texas area before daylight Wednesday, and there is some talk of precipitation, although not much. A hard freeze warning is out.

Another sweetheart is to be crowned Thursday afternoon at Bulldog Stadium and this time it is the sweetheart of the RJC Rangers. The identity of this lovely young lady is again being kept secret, and she will be presented at half-time amid special ceremonies by the RJC Stage Band and the colorful Rangemans.

Ranger High Basketball Not In Big Rush

Coch Boone Yarbrough said today that the Ranger High School basketball program was not in any big rush to get under way and it may be ten days or more before practice gets into full swing. Yarbrough said they had a lot of work to do in getting football equipment cleaned and patched and stored away, and this work is due to be interrupted by the Thanksgiving holidays.

Ranger ought to have a good basketball club this year which will probably be led by Paul Hinds who was the highest scorer in the district last year. There are other holdovers on the club, including a whole raft of younger players who saw a lot of service during the 1955-56 season.

Eastland Plays Cross Plains In Bi-Dist. Friday

Ranger football fans wishing to see a championship game in District 10-A in which the Ranger Bulldogs went so far last year, will have that opportunity Friday night at 7:30 when the Eastland Mavericks take on the Cross Plains Buffaloes at Maverick Stadium in Eastland.

It will be a fight for Bi-District title and it is said the game is a toss-up although Cross Plains did beat Eastland 7-6 in a non-conference game earlier in the season.

Many from Eastland attended Ranger's games here last year when Albany and McCarney and, believe it or not, rooted for Ranger, by and large.

Regulations On Extra Postal Help Are Sent Out

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has sent out a memorandum to all postmastering citing regulations which are to govern the employment of extra postal help during the holiday season.

The memorandum states that all persons whose names appear on the registers of eligibles must be given first consideration, and no one is to be employed until the registers are exhausted.

In the event registers are exhausted, employment will be given according to the following priority: (1) veterans with 10-point preference who have a 10 per cent or more service-connected disability; (2) those veterans with 10-point preference who have less than 10 per cent service-connected disability or who have wife, widow or mother preference, and all veterans with 5-point preference; (3) all others.

Ranger did it again a few moments later on one of the pre-tickets play seen on any gridiron anywhere this year. Douglas Jordan, a freshman from Rusk, fooled everybody when he snuck off on a keeper play for 20 yards and just before the sky fell in on him he flipped a lateral to Karkoska and the speedy freshman took it for another 20 yards and a TD. Hanson missed the extra point.

Floral Shops Tackle Towns Worse Eye-Sore

Two of Ranger's florists, Mrs. J. B. Craig of ABC Florist and Garden Shop and Mrs. Betty Wolford of Betty's Flower Shop, are going to tackle the worst eye-sore on Main Street as their part in the town's beautification program for Christmas.

They are going to take the old boarded up front next to the old Martin Building and make it beautiful.

That is going to be a handful of work for somebody, but the ladies say they are going to do it. "We may not get it ready by the time the lights are turned on on the 22nd," Mrs. Craig said, "but we'll have it ready for the Santa Claus Parade on the 29th."

With the vacant show windows already lined up for decoration, that just about completes everything on Main street. There are some few stores however, with store fronts without show windows.

Billy Joe Eakin Is Treasurer Marketing Club

Billy Joe Eakin of Ranger has been elected treasurer of the Marketing Club at North Texas State College.

Eakin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Eakin, 600 Caddo Road, is a graduate marketing student, and is working toward a master of business administration degree.

Fresh from a 33-19 victory over Schreiner, the RJC Rangers take on the Cisco Wranglers here at Bulldog Stadium at 2 p.m. Thursday for the last game of the 1956 football season with fire in their eyes and a burning desire to give their ancient and neighboring foe a trouncing.

The game is a daytime affair because it was originally scheduled as the traditional Thanksgiving Day game and Cisco is closing up for the contest. It is expected that a huge crowd of Wrangler fans will be here from that city because they have given Cisco Junior College solid backing all this year. The fact that both towns are not exactly together on the matter of closing up is a thing that could not be helped because the game was already scheduled and Cisco had already made arrangements to close.

The Ranger Junior College Rangers stepped out into fast company last Saturday night in taking on Schreiner and giving the boys at Schreiner a decisive trimming.

The Rangers scored in every period except the third during which Coach Tom Hestand thought disaster had struck when the Mountaineers overcame a 14 point lead by running up 19 points, but the Rangers struck back in the fourth to salt the game away.

Scoring started in the first quarter when Ranger halfback Shorty McLern, a sophomore from Graham, caught a Schreiner punt and rocked and rolled for 60 yards and a touchdown. J. D. Hanson, a sophomore from Eastland, kicked the extra point.

The Rangers scored again in the second quarter when Harold McCurry, a sophomore from Fort Worth, hit Left End Jack Buttledge with a 45-yard pass in the end zone. Hanson again kicked the extra point making the score 14-0 as they went into the third quarter.

Coach Hestand said things happened so fast and furiously in the third quarter that he lost all track of events except that Ranger got set back to the 1-yard line on one occasion when a punt went out of bounds at that point, and that didn't help the cause a bit. Also Ranger succeeded in driving 45 yards in penalties on four straight plays and that didn't help much. Neither did three quick touchdowns that brought the quarter to an end with Ranger on the short end of a 19-14 score.

But things picked up in the fourth quarter when the Rangers worked the ball down to the Schreiner 3 from which Joe Karkoska, a freshman from Ft. Worth, went over on a power play and Hanson followed with another extra point.

Ranger did it again a few moments later on one of the pre-tickets play seen on any gridiron anywhere this year. Douglas Jordan, a freshman from Rusk, fooled everybody when he snuck off on a keeper play for 20 yards and just before the sky fell in on him he flipped a lateral to Karkoska and the speedy freshman took it for another 20 yards and a TD. Hanson missed the extra point.

The final Ranger tally was made by Franklin Sims, a freshman from Anson, who caught the Mountaineers' bird-watching and scooped for 60 yards on a trap play. Hanson didn't kick this one either but the score was 33-19, and that was the ball game.

The Rangers hope to give Cisco a dose of the same medicine here in Bulldog Stadium Thursday afternoon, but they will be up against some tough competition. Cisco has won four games this year to Rangers' two, and it will probably be the best game played this year at the stadium.

Cisco also has credit for two more victories which came as the result of forfeits by Tarkenton Junior College and Blinn College at Brenham, both schools having objected to negroes playing on the Cisco eleven.

Dr. Price Ashton has extended an invitation to everybody in town to be out for the game, and said the ticket office would be open at 1:30.

Believe it or not, the RJC Rangers have won 2nd Place in the Pioneer Conference. For the first time in history, there is a 5-way tie for 3rd place between San Angelo, Tarleton State and Arlington State. By defeating Schreiner, the Rangers were in second. Cisco is a non-conference game.

Town folks should certainly take the lead in sponsoring a good neighbor program among their rural friends not only during one week of the year but during all 52 weeks of the year.

We are glad to see that sort of spirit taking hold here in Ranger. A good example of it took place the other night when Morris Newham gave a barbeque at the Alameda Church for all the folks of that community as well as the Cheatey and Salem communities. More than a hundred of these fine farm people were there and nobody ever had so much fun, with Ranger business men having the time of their lives serving up grub and enjoying the fellowship of their rural friends.

The Ranger Garden Club has also made overtures in that direction extending an invitation to all of the women in these nearby communities to come on in here and be members of the club and to tell these city women how to go about doing things to beautify their homes and surroundings. They realize they can learn a lot from these women of the rural communities who have such a head start on them in making things grow and look pretty.

As John Tibbels said, we ought to get in our cars on just any good afternoon and drive out and chat with some of these folks just for the sake of stopping and saying howdy. The experience would do all of us good and our neighbors, too. Yes, "Farm-City Week" ought to go on all the blessed time.

WOODEN SOLDIERS NEVER DIE—They're just stored away. Standing at attention, though facing in various and sundry directions, these wooden soldiers await a human-sized guard. The tall blockheads are waiting shipment to another building where they will add a happy martial air to a children's show in Paris, France.

No Water—Leonard Shuts Down Schools

The City of Leonard in Northeast Texas, was forced to close its schools this week because the town had run out of water. Gasoline transports were being used to haul in enough water for drinking purposes and minimum essentials. This is another example of what might have happened to Ranger had it not been for Lake Leon. It has been estimated that Ranger's old water reservoirs would have run out of water at least 60 days ago, and the city would have been hauling it at least that long.

DRAFT CLERK REMINDS AREA MEN OF REGISTRATION LAWS

Mrs. Jewell Reeves, clerk of Selective Service Board 36, reminded young area men Tuesday that they must register with their draft board on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

Four Arrested Saturday Night; Paid Off Sunday

Four persons were arrested Saturday night by Ranger City Police and placed in jail here until they paid their fines Sunday morning and were released.

Two men, one from Rule and another a transient, were charged with Drunk in Car and paid fines of $35 each. Two local Mexicans, were arrested and paid fines, one $35 for Drunk in Car and another $15.70 for just plain drunk.

and she said that is "up to normal." Registrations during the summer months were "not up to expectations."

Colonel Morris Schwartz, state director, said that, from official reports which have reached him recently, some young men take needless trips from their communities to draft boards to register when there is an officially appointed registrar living near them.

He said the state Selective Service headquarters recently had ordered registration posters to place in state high schools to keep young men turning 18 reminded of their obligation to register and to direct them to the nearest registrar.

The federal draft law requires all males to register with a draft board on their 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. If they are not at home at the time, they are required to go to the nearest board or registrar.

A young man who registers away from home can be sure he is assigned to the board in his home area if he gives as his place of residence his address in his home area.

Since the present draft law was enacted in 1948, all males born since August 30, 1922, have had and now have a legal obligation to register, except those not yet 18. Failure to obey the law can mean a fine up to $10,000, five years in prison, or both.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new continental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

School Policies To Be Checked By Auditors

In a letter to all Texas public school superintendents today, J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, reminded local school officials of the need for written policies to govern their financial, personnel, and pupil accounting procedures.

Edgar has requested the auditors of the State Department of Education to check local board policies and administrative practices and procedures during their regular visits to local school districts and to determine whether accreditation standards established by the State Board of Education are being met.

One of the outcomes of the Gilmer - Aikin Minimum Foundation School Program, Edgar said, has been a steadily improved efficiency by local school districts in budgeting, budget controls, fiscal accounting, pupil accounting, personnel records, and audits. His purpose in asking auditors to look into these activities is to emphasize the need for school trustees to provide a public record of their policies and procedures in order to meet school accreditation standards and to furnish ish a basis for public understanding of school operations.

Once a school district has established the amount of its entitlement to State funds, the responsibility for the systematic budgeting and accounting of these funds rests upon the citizens of the district through their elected school boards.

State Department of Education auditors devote their time to checking records that have a direct effect on the allocation of funds by the State. "Auditors are not to make audits of funds other than those which are already subject to audit by this Department," Edgar explained. "They will only review the financial practices and procedures of school districts accredited by the State Department of Education."

BRECKENRIDGE BOYS CHOIR IS FINE CIVIC ORGANIZATION

A busy Breckenridge oil man, watching a television performance of the Breckenridge Boys Choir, said thoughtfully, "Everytime I hear those little buckaroos looking and sounding like angels, the money I donated to the Choir is paid back double!"

This attitude is common in Breckenridge, home of an organization unique for a small town, a community supported, non-profit boys choir.

Eighty-four boys are members of the choir, which is divided into three sections: Sub-Preps, comprised of 7 year old beginners;

Glee Men, the slightly experienced; and the Principal Choir, the product of three to five years experience under a competent director.

Now in its fifth year, the Breckenridge Boys Choir has a schedule for the year almost filled. Besides its annual Christmas Carol Festival and Spring Concert at home, the boys are looking forward to several out-of-town programs.

The Breckenridge Boys Choir is unusual in its set-up. There are many church backed choirs, and some choirs organized for financial rewards. But you have to look far and wide for a boys choir that operates strictly non-profit, for its director as well as its organizer.

The Breckenridge choir was organized for one purpose — to show a group of boys that singing is fun, that learning to sing good music is fun. A choir boy gets invaluable experience in learning to sing and read music, and the coordination, confidence, and poise he acquires from appearing before audiences goes with him through life.

Although patronized and encouraged by all churches and clubs of the city, the Breckenridge Boys Choir is a civic organization operated through a representative board elected by parents and friends of the Choir.

Expenses of the Choir are met through a monthly fee charged to each boy who can afford to pay, and through interested citizens who donate to the Choir. Many business men without sons of their own give scholarships each year. Recently the boys got out on the streets of the town and sold stickers emblazoned with a choirboy framed in an arch, and made enough money to buy navy blue jackets with gray slacks when not formally dressed in their traditional vestments.

Wearing this new jacket, the Breckenridge Choir Boy will look, if not "like an angel," then like the proud member that he is of a splendid organization.

Pictured above is the Breckenridge Boys Choir which is rapidly becoming nationally famous, following a few recent appearances over a nation-wide television net-work. The choir, which was organized to teach youngsters that "singing is fun" is unique for a town the size of Breckenridge, and it is bringing the city considerable notoriety as it travels around the country putting on concerts. A Breckenridge oil man has donated heavily for benefit of the choir, and although it is patronized and encouraged by all churches and clubs of the city, it is in fact a civic organization. The story below gives a few more details on this splendid group of youngsters.

Bump Free Pavement Is Predicted

"Bump Free" rides on continuously reinforced concrete pavement are available now in at least five parts of the United States, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. Many other highways may be similarly improved in the future. Research is now going forward to place the design of such roads on a sound engineering basis.

The "bump-bump-bump" effect is caused by the joints in the highways. These roads were built in segments, to allow for expansion and contraction due to temperature changes.

Engineers now believe that the joints may be unnecessary. They say that continuously reinforced concrete pavement may result in lower maintenance costs, in addition to providing smoother rides.

Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, California and Texas are among the states that have stretches of continuously reinforced concrete pavement. The Indiana road was built in 1938, followed by Illinois and New Jersey in 1947, California in 1949 and Texas in 1951. A new stretch is being constructed in Pennsylvania.

The Committee on Reinforced Concrete Research of American Iron and Steel Institute—composed of 22 producers of concrete reinforcing bars — is helping to sponsor research on the Pennsylvania highway, which is near York, Pa. The tests are being conducted by Lehigh University.

A prominent highway engineer believes that the life of continuously reinforced concrete pavement will exceed that of other pavement designs by a number of years.

Charles Marshall Tells 9:49 Class World Doesn't Obey Christ's Word

Charles Marshall told the Mens 9:49 Bible Class that the modern Christian doesn't come near to living up to the basic fundamentals Christ taught in His Sermon on the Mount.

Marshall was discussing the International Sunday School lesson, which for this week was on the Beatitudes Christ related as part of His famous Sermon on the Mount.

Actually, Marshall said, mankind is so far away from the teachings of Christ on this point that he honor and respect the very opposite of what Christ said for us to do.

Christ said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit..." but Marshall said we pay homage to the aggressive, that so-called "livesire," the fellow that gets out and gets things done.

Christ said, "Blessed are those who mourn..." but we don't ever show sympathy for them.

Christ said, "Blessed are the meek..." but we look up to the fellow that is a pure egotist, full of boastful bragging.

Christ said, "Blessed are the merciful..." and we treat our fellow man as if he were trying to cut our throats, and in some cases he might be waiting for a chance to do just that.

Christ said, "Blessed are the peacemakers..." but we extoll warmongers and warmakers. In other words, Marshall said what Christ taught is completely ignored in much of our everyday living, although it would be to our own best interest to live according to His teaching.

Let's take the case of being merciful. It's a fact that when a person is merciful in his dealing with another fellow, the second fellow will in all probability be merciful with us if the occasion should present itself. But if we are hard, unjustly severe with the other fellow he will, if the opportunity presents itself, seek revenge on us.

Mercy begets mercy; hate begets hate. Thus it is better for us from a common sense viewpoint, if for no other reason, to beget that which will be to our own best interests.

Class vice president Leonard Florence presided in the absence of Travis Harrell, class president, who was out of town.

Florence announced that the individual private prayer plan would continue this week as usual. The class is attempting to install in all its members the habit of daily prayer. It believes the men of and this Thanksgiving season is a good time for Christians to do a little praying.

In discussing the Beatitudes in this Sunday's lesson, the editors of the International series were assuming next Thursday to be the universally accepted Thanksgiving Day. Actually this isn't the case. In some sections the old Thanksgiving Day of the last Thursday is used while in other localities the fourth Thursday is used. This year it happens that November has five Thursdays in it, thus the conflict in Thanksgiving Day.

In case of doubt on this point, though, the fool-proof, acid test is the athletic schedule which has been in effect longer than Ed Willman or Earl Bender can remember. It's this: if the University of Texas and A&M are playing football on a Thursday afternoon in November, it's Thanksgiving. If they aren't, it isn't.

But 49ers can study the Beatitudes with profit any day, whether it is the Sunday before Thanksgiving or not. They could study them every day and it would not hurt a bit. They could study them every hour on the hour and still profit spiritually. The Beatitudes contain some basic truths that no one can ever study too much.

"Henry Van Geem has been as busy all week as a termite with a hollow tooth in a new lumberyard getting his quartet in shape," Joe Gray, class reporter, said.

Next Sunday the lesson will be taken from Luke 15:11-32. This is the parable of the Prodigal Son, a lesson in true forgiveness. Vice President Florence asks all class members to read over this bit of scripture before coming to class if they can possibly do so. He thinks this will aid the individual member to gain the full spiritual message of the parable.

And Florence invites all men to come out next Sunday and meet with the class. It meets in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church. All visitors have to do is just come in and make themselves at home. See you next Sunday morning at the 9:49 at 9:49.

MONDAY GUESTS

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. H. McAnally, Manager

King-Size Telephones

Imagine your surprise if the telephone set in your home or office actually grew in size every time another telephone was added to the number you can reach with a local call!

Naturally this doesn't happen, but I brought it up to point out how much your telephone service really has grown in value in recent years.

Today you can reach more people by telephone—your friends, neighbors, and the shops and stores around town—than you have ever been able to before. This means you can run more errands, do more things by telephone.

To me, that adds up to your telephone service being a bigger value today than ever before. And I think you'll agree that it will be an even bigger value tomorrow as we continue to put more and more telephones in service in Ranger.

Go Home By Telephone

Thanksgiving, a real "family holiday," is just around the corner. And I guess we'd all like to be home to share the turkey, trimmings, and just plain "get-together" talk.

For some of us, however, it's impossible to be there in person. But you can still be a part of the family's Thanksgiving Day with a Long Distance call home.

Why not plan now to make a call and be a part of the family group? The cost is low, even lower if you call Station-to-Station. And remember to call by number—it's twice as fast.

See You Next Year

No, I'm not going on a two-month vacation, but this is the last time until early 1957 that I'll be chatting with you in Telephone Talk.

This column has been running in the newspaper for about a year now. I've enjoyed talking with you this way, and I hope you've enjoyed reading about what we're doing in the telephone business. Watch for Telephone Talk again next year. Meanwhile, here's hoping you enjoy that Thanksgiving turkey and have a happy Christmas season.
