'Free City' Is Set By Reds

By COLETTE BLACKMOORE
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev warned Saturday night that Russia will go ahead with its "free city" plan for West Berlin if East-West negotiations have not begun within the six-month deadline set by the Soviet Union, diplomatic sources said.

The sources said Khrushchev, speaking at a reception in honor of Communist Albania's national day, again urged international discussion of the Berlin crisis.

"We want a peaceful solution and we would like to discuss things at a round table," he was quoted.

"We would like to drink toasts again with our wartime allies."

But, he was quoted, "if at the end of six months there is no start of negotiations then we shall have to put into effect the measures we have outlined."

He also discussed the overall problem of German reunification, an issue that has divided East and West for years.

"To try to reunify on the basis of a socialist regime in the German democratic republic would mean Bonn would not accept," he said.

"And to try to unify it on the basis of the present regime in West Germany (Bonn), that the German democratic republic could not accept."

Turning to French Ambassador Maurice de Jean, he said: "Your country like ours has suffered often from German aggression. Why don't you accept our offer of a settlement?"

Then, smiling, he answered his own question: "You obviously can't reply until you get instructions from your government."

Although Western officials have denounced the Soviet plan announced Thursday for making West Berlin a "demilitarized free city" in six months and handing over Soviet occupation controls to the East Germans, there have been no formal replies from the West.

In Berlin, a spokesman for the East German Embassy reiterated that the Soviet proposal was not an ultimatum and that the six-month time limit set by the Soviets was not rigid.

"The embassy spokesman said talks with the West might bring revisions of the proposal, provided the West accepted the basic Soviet argument that West Berlin should be a 'free' city and that talks on the subject showed progress."

Showdown In Germany Next June

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI)—East German propaganda chief Gerhart Eisler, a fugitive from U.S. justice, Saturday said next June 1 will be the deadline for a Berlin showdown between East and West.

West Berliners were intrigued by reports that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself might fly to East Berlin shortly to lend his presence to the East German campaign to drive the Western Allies from free Berlin.

These reports could not be confirmed. But they lent weight to the belief in West Berlin that Moscow, having demanded Western withdrawal within six months and the transformation of West Berlin into a "free city," would intensify its campaign against the United States, Britain and France.

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said Russia had a "straitjacket" for any "madmen" who try to maintain the four-power occupation status of Berlin after Russia hands over its occupation powers to the East Germans.

Izvestia denounced the informal Western rejection of the Soviet Berlin proposals. It said Western statements of determination to remain in Berlin were the language "not of reason...but of crude force."

Most Berliners looked for rapid Communist developments including a possible early attempt to interfere with Allied traffic along the land lifelines from West Germany, 110 miles away.

Eisler, who jumped $23,500 bail after his contempt of Congress conviction and fled the United States aboard the Polish liner Batory in May, 1949, said flatly: "From June 1, 1959, in six months, the Western powers will have to yield to negotiating with our (East German) authorities and recognizing our authorities if they wish to go to Berlin."

Writing in a Communist youth publication, Eisler said the East Germans would control not only the land lines but also the Berlin air corridor—the route used to smash the 1948-49 blockade.

I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all winter.

—With apologies to U. S. Grant

(Like millions of other chilled Americans, Claire W. Schuneman braces to meet Winter's initial assault on the walks and drive of his Scottsbluff, Neb., home. Grim days to come will be lightened for Schuneman and the rest by the knowledge of inevitable victory, hand in hand with that never-failing ally, Spring.)

Two Lines' Planes Still On Ground

CHICAGO (UPI)—No progress was apparent Saturday in strikes which grounded planes of two major airlines and threatened a third.

About one-third of the nation's airlines were idled by labor disputes involving Eastern Air Lines and Trans World Airlines.

But American Airlines, which averted a crippling strike through litigation, still was operating although its pilots threatened to walk off the job despite the admonitions of a federal judge.

Meanwhile, a Midwest feeder line, Lake Central Airlines, was reported running out of fuel to operate its planes because of a strike by its stewardesses.

Dan Savage, chief negotiator for the stewardesses who took a wage boost, said the airline tanks and trucks ran dry Friday afternoon.

The Air Line Pilots Assn., representing the almost 1,500 pilots of American Airlines, Saturday replied to a telegram received from the air carrier.

The wire, from Paul Kayser, vice president of personnel, offered to meet with the A L P A "anywhere" to discuss the outstanding issues. But the A L P A said the offer came after the close of business at its headquarters and after its negotiating committee had "scattered to distant points."

"We must conclude," said ALPA President Clarence N. Sayen, "that your telegram...was evidently designed for purposes other than to establish productive conferences since it is obviously continued to operate on fuel received from TWA.

The flow of fuel to Lake Central was interrupted by truck drivers, members of the Teamsters Union, who gave the stewardesses assurances they would not cross their picket lines. Savage said the Teamsters Union maintained that "nothing on wheels will roll to or from Lake Central at any point of the system."

US Takes Huge Step As Atlas Rocket Is Fired With Accuracy

273 DIE IN TRAFFIC

Cold Wave Hits Most Of Nation

United Press International

The first major cold wave of the season mushroomed across the nation Saturday, plunging temperatures to sub-zero levels in the North and to freezing and below as far south as northern Florida.

The mammoth cold front covered about three quarters of the nation and was expected to reach near record proportions with the reinforcement of a second mass of bone-chilling Arctic air pouring across the Canadian border.

Meanwhile, heavy lake snows and near blizzard conditions swept across part of western New York in the aftermath of record-breaking snowstorms that paralyzed traffic for the Thanksgiving holiday from the Rockies through the Northeast.

A United-Press International count at 11 p. m. e.s.t.

showed that at least 273 persons died in highway traffic accidents throughout the nation since the unofficial holiday period began at 6 p. m. Wednesday.

In addition, 33 persons died in fires, 2 in plane crashes and 66 fatalities were attributed to miscellaneous causes for an overall holiday total of 364.

New York led the traffic death county by states with a total of 22. California, Alabama and Illinois had 18 each while Ohio had 14, Pennsylvania 13 and Indiana 12.

Freeze Warning in Florida
The National Safety Council did not issue an official prediction for the 102-hour period which ends at midnight Sunday. But an average of 470 persons would die in a similar period at this time of year, the council said. During the 1957 Thanksgiving holiday, the UPI counted 554 traffic deaths.

Not even the winter playground of Miami was to escape the cold. Weathermen predicted temperatures in the Miami area would drop to around 45 degrees by early Sunday.

But in northern Florida, where the mercury dipped below freezing at Crestview early Saturday, scattered frost and freeze warnings were issued for Saturday night and early Sunday. There was a chance of crop damage, weathermen said.

Over the northern Plains, the mercury refused to budge above zero Saturday after lows of 24 below zero were recorded at Grand Forks, N.D., and 19 below at International Falls, Minn. Temperatures of 20 to 30 degrees were expected by early Sunday.

Inter-Continental Missile Hurdles Over Atlantic Ocean

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.

(UPI)—The Air Force confirmed Saturday that the nation took a giant stride forward in missile development Friday night with the first ocean-hurdling, 6,300-mile flight of a powerful intercontinental Atlas.

The highly successful hop of the massive war rocket bolstered the claim of those who contended the United States never trailed Russia in the missile race, and also demonstrated the Atlas' capabilities as the launching vehicle for huge satellites.

In a terse statement issued jointly by the Pentagon and by the Air Force here, officials said the "Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile launched yesterday was successfully test fired for the first time over the full intercontinental range, a distance of approximately 2,500 nautical miles."

That distance, the equivalent of 6,325 statute miles, put the impact area of the nose cone about 800 miles off the southwest coast of Africa and about 1,100 miles southeast of Ascension Island in the south Atlantic.

The Air Force's test assumed additional significance in view of Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy's recent statement that "The farther you go down the road with the ICBM, the less interesting it is to employ additional intermediate range ballistic missiles."

The intermediate range weapons would have to be based abroad. Atlases based in the United States could reach targets nearly anywhere in the world above the Equator.

A Radio Moscow broadcast, monitored in London Saturday, reported without comment on the successful firing of the U.S. ICBM. The Soviets have claimed possession of such missiles for more than a year, and it has been speculated that they used them to hurl their heavy satellites into orbit.

There was no mention in Saturday's statement on when the Atlas would become operationally ready to be equipped with a devastating hydrogen warhead for firing against an aggressor.

Gail Gillespie, 19, of Houston, who was riding horses with three girl friends in the wooded marsh around Addicks Dam, 15 miles west of Houston near U.S. 190, said she saw the youth in the woods.

She recognized him, she said, because the girls had seen him several times during rides in the area. He was wearing a woman's stocking over his head and carried a rifle.

When the riders drew near, Miss Gillespie said, the youth threatened them with his rifle and they left. More than an hour later, she said, she noticed him again.

This time he was waving at them and motioning them toward him. Thinking he wished to apologize, she said, they rode to him.

He got $40.

The victims were identified as Bertrand J. Appleton, 58, of Houston; his 11-year-old son, Steven, and Lee Hanson, 40, a family friend.

Police arrested 18-year-old Norman Moon, and Sheriff C. V. (Buster) Kern said the boy admitted the killings. Chief Deputy Lloyd Frazier said deputies found the elder Appleton's and Hanson's billfolds in the boy's house, near the death scene.

Negro Group Adopts Tactics Of Insurance

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has enlisted the agents of 10 insurance companies in a drive to boost its membership among Chicago's large Negro population.

Chicago NAACP President Ted Jones, himself an insurance executive, said the companies will send their agents to homes mostly on the cities south and West Side to solicit members.

"Chicago's NAACP membership total should be five times what it is now," Jones said. It is now about 15,000 but the drive is only shooting for 25,000, he said.

He said that the insurance agents signed up to participate in the drive are all Negroes but will make some calls in white neighborhoods where they have policy holders.

Jones said he and other insurance directors who thought of the plan believe such campaigns are necessary in northern cities because belonging to the NAACP in south has become "increasingly difficult."

"Negroes in the South who belong to the NAACP are subjecting themselves to uncomfortable situations," Jones said. He said some could stand to lose their jobs because of it.

The insurance firms participating in the Chicago campaign are the American Woodmen's Fraternal Insurance Assn., the Atlanta Life Insurance Co., Golden State Mutual, Mammoth Life and Accident, Jackson Mutual, Chicago Metropolitan Mutual Assurance, Peoples Burial Assn., Standard Burial Insurance Assn. Supreme Liberty Life, Unity Mutual and Victory Mutual.

Negro Group Adopts Tactics Of Insurance

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has enlisted the agents of 10 insurance companies in a drive to boost its membership among Chicago's large Negro population.

Chicago NAACP President Ted Jones, himself an insurance executive, said the companies will send their agents to homes mostly on the cities south and West Side to solicit members.

"Chicago's NAACP membership total should be five times what it is now," Jones said. It is now about 15,000 but the drive is only shooting for 25,000, he said.

He said that the insurance agents signed up to participate in the drive are all Negroes but will make some calls in white neighborhoods where they have policy holders.

Jones said he and other insurance directors who thought of the plan believe such campaigns are necessary in northern cities because belonging to the NAACP in south has become "increasingly difficult."

"Negroes in the South who belong to the NAACP are subjecting themselves to uncomfortable situations," Jones said. He said Liberty Life, Unity Mutual and some could stand to lose their jobs because of it.

"It's not popular to belong," he said, "so fewer do now."

The insurance firms participating in the Chicago campaign are the American Woodmen's Fraternal Insurance Assn., the Atlanta Life Insurance Co., Golden State Mutual, Mammoth Life and Accident, Jackson Mutual, Chicago Metropolitan Mutual Assurance, Peoples Burial Assn., Standard Burial Insurance Assn., Supreme Mutual, Liberty Life, Unity Mutual and Victory Mutual.

that he was forced to throw his plane carrying 24 high school football players into a sharp 1,000-foot dive to avoid a collision with a T33 jet trainer.

The pilot, Charles L. Kugeler, said the near-collision occurred Friday on a flight from Abilene, Tex., to El Paso. In his DC3 were the football players and their coaches, on their way to Ysleta, Tex., for a game.

Kugeler said in a report to the Civil Aeronautics Administration that in order to miss the oncoming jet he put his ship into a violent roll and dive, but still missed the jet by only about 25 feet.

Five players and line coach Wally Bullington suffered head bumps when they were tossed into the air by the sudden dive.

"We had a pretty good spill," Bullington said. "We were sorta suspended in the air for a moment and two or three of us hit the top of the plane. I just kept hoping the bottom of that plane would come back up."

Bullington said no one was seriously hurt and he wasn't expecting the incident to have any influence on his team's performance in the game, to be played today.

"At least," he said, "it didn't have any effect on their appetites."

Fred Sanner, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter News, who was on the plane with the team, said "I thought we were going all the way down. We were falling long enough."

Pampa's Young, Old Still Need Much Assistance

By WALLY TRUEDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The clatter of dominoes in Lovett Memorial Library means an afternoon of fun for men and women over 60, who refuse to sit life out. Through this Senior Center, the Pampa Altruists Club has succeeded in providing recreational facilities for some of Pampa's older folk.

On the other hand, people under 60 are living for the day when a Pampa Youth and Community Center will be built here.

Pampa is growing and reaching out for big city things. The growing pains and problems are little different from those of similar cities in Texas.

An active Altruist is Mrs. W. A. Spoonmore, director of the Gray County Welfare Department, who attended a Texas Social Welfare Association meeting in Austin recently and brought back a critical but challenging report.

"With an increase of three million in population by 1970, Texas will nudge out Illinois, with its sprawling industrial areas, as one of the nation's first five states," she quoted Dr. Phillip M. Houser, chairman of the University of Chicago Sociology department and director of the 1960 US census, as saying.

"According to the man who predicted the end of the post war baby boom, while a million diapers were still drying on the line, Texas will sprout a whole new bushel of frictions, with the problems of the aged and youth high on the list," said Mrs. Spoonmore. These, she added, are problems which "most Texans have been able to ignore up till now."

Mrs. Spoonmore quoted another speaker, William Fitch, director of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C. Said Fitch, "No government program or action to solve problems can succeed if it isn't started and understood at the grassroots, the community level. The problems of a community must be recognized and receive the interest of the people in the community."

According to Robert W. Kneebone, Texas Youth Council board member, 51 per cent of our criminals are committed by children who have become maladjusted by social problems of the home and the community. His solution is child guidance and family counseling services. The cost of policing Texas is greater than financial support of Texas schools and churches, he stated.

"The treatment of delinquency in children is a psychological treatment and is as necessary as medical care in some cases," said Kneebone. He estimated that $3 tax money per person would support child and family services. "Seven out of 1,000 children in Texas are receiving Aid to Dependent Children which is almost directly the result of maladjusted homes, stemming from lack of vision and activity on the part of citizens of a community. Our children have problems today of which we never dreamed in our youth: space atoms, the fast trend of living. It is no wonder our problems grow," Kneebone concluded.

Mrs. Spoonmore advocates a day nursery for working mothers. "Many cannot work to help supplement the income because they cannot afford it," she said.

Next on her list is a foster home for dependent children, to provide a sense of security in time of stress. Several Pampa children are now in such homes elsewhere, she revealed. "The Optimist Boys Club of Pampa is a very needed and worthwhile recreation facility for boys," she added.

"Aging is everybody's business," Mrs. Spoonmore went on. "It begins at birth. The problems of the aging and the aged are great." Mrs. Spoonmore hopes to see a nursing home established in Pampa and is promoting that project as a director of the Top O' Texas Foundation.

Mouse Plot Fails

VAREZZE, Italy (UPI)—For a while Friday it appeared the mice would get the upper hand in Varezze.

Someone spread a rumor that the circus was paying good money for stray cats to be fed to the lions. Hard-hearted residents turned up at the circus all day long with their pets, but the circus was not buying.

The rumor was spread by a practical joker, circus officials said.

SENTENCES SUSPENDED

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI)—Magistrate W. D. Dickey gave suspended sentences Friday to 13 teen-agers arrested after a gang fight Tuesday night which sent two youths to a hospital with stab wounds. Officers said about 75 white youths took part in the brawl but only 13 were arrested.

Starlets Are Fast Becoming Extinct

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Starlet" is a dying word in the lexicon of tinsel town now that professional "cute young things" are becoming as scarce as Alf Landon buttons.

For years starlets were kept under contract at the major studios to pose for cheesecake—with a firecracker on the 4th of July, a turkey at Thanksgiving, a candy heart on St. Valentine's Day. They accompanied single stars to premieres, in addition to filling in background scenes requiring cuties with curves.

Seldom did they develop to stardom. But they were a part of Hollywood's wacky tradition.

Marion Marshall was a starlet until she married director Stanley Donen in 1952. Now, following a separation from Donen, she is attempting to re-establish her career as an actress with a dramatic role in "I Want to Live."

Didn't Like Starlet Role
"I was sick and tired of being a starlet," she said. "It's the next worst thing to being a prop."

While I was under contract to 20th Century-Fox they used me to fill empty chairs, or put my body in a costume to fill in the background.

"I posed endlessly in the studio gallery in bathing suits, lingerie and other brief outfits."

"Sure, I was given roles in 36 pictures, but I never had an opportunity to act."

The blue-eyed blonde's biggest breaks were in Martin and Lewis comedies. But audiences were too busy laughing at the comedians' antics to notice the pretty girl with the roller-coaster figure.

"Marilyn Monroe is the only starlet I can think of who became a big star," Marion said. "The others lasted four or five years, until their faces became too familiar. Then they were dropped. Most of them married and forgot all about becoming movie stars."

Kids Are Smarter
"Today the young kids are smarter. They realize a starlet contract is a trap, and they don't fall for it."

"That's the reason for the big gap between the Clark Gables and Joan Crawford of the past and the young crop of stars like Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward."

"Gable and Crawford were never starlets, and neither are the newcomers. But for 20 years in-between pretty faces were exploited instead of talent. The studios are paying for the mistake right now."

Marion says cheesecake and publicity never build stars. "I was 'miss everybody' during my starlet years. And the publicity pictures showed up in the papers," she laughed. "But it didn't help my career in the slightest."

"Now the studios can't afford to pay a flock of girls every week just to have their pictures taken. So the starlet system is dying."

More than 2,000 years ago, the Egyptians and other early people used written tablets or carved tablets to keep track of their religious and other festivals. They also noted the movements of the planets which affected or controlled these holidays. An Egyptian "almanac" preserved in the British Museum dates back to the time of Ramses the Great, who lived more than 1,200 years before Christ.

SGT. FRANKLIN LEDFORD
... by grace of Red Cross

RC & Army Hold Line In Pampa

A Red Cross woman is a fairly godmother to Sgt. Franklin G. Ledford, 720 E. Murphy, who just got a ten day extension of emergency leave through Pampa's Red Cross office.

On Nov. 16, Mrs. Ledford gave birth to a girl and the sergeant, home from Korea, had the situation well in hand. The Ledfords have two other young'uns, Lela, 4, and Linda, 2.

Ledford, with the 32nd Infantry, 7th Division in Korea, was granted a 30 day emergency leave Nov. 3 so that he could be with his family. Friday, he received a telegram giving him a ten day extension starting Dec. 2.

His original request was referred to the Pampa office of the American Red Cross where Mrs. F. W. "Libby" Shotwell, executive secretary, investigated, and reported her findings to the Red Cross in Korea. "The Red Cross man called the Division Adjutant," says Ledford, "Seventy-two hours later I was in California."

Mrs. Shotwell is also helping him prepare papers to send to Washington, D. C. for a hoped for transfer back to the States.

Ledford has been in the Army seven years, 11 months. Lela and Linda were born in Panama where he was stationed in the Canal zone.

Last year the Red Cross helped him get home from Little Rock, Ark., where he was enforcing law and order. Ledford is impressed by the Red Cross on all levels of operation. He says that the Red Cross has never charged a serviceman for a cup of coffee although it has permitted voluntary contributions on coffee lines.

COLD

throughout the Dakotas into Wisconsin, with lows of about 30 to 35 below expected in northern Minnesota. At Chicago, weathermen predicted minimums of around zero by early Sunday.

Snow Snarls Traffic
The initial cold wave, which followed the Thursday - Friday rain and snowstorm, spread from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, into northern Mexico and northward across the western plateau, missing the West Coast. Meanwhile, the second bone-chilling cold front, pushed across the Dakotas and Minnesota into Wisconsin, where the mercury fell Saturday from a high of 12 above zero in Milwaukee to 6 degrees in less than two hours.

The snows preceding the cold paralyzed traffic from the Colorado Rockies through New England, with highways covered by snow and ice and described in the most hazardous condition possible. Although skies were sunny, the chilly air prevented the snow and ice from thawing and relieving highway conditions.

Heavy snow over the Northeast boosted the snow cover to 10 inches at Newport and Burlington, Vt. Snows were almost a foot deep in parts of Indiana while nine-inch blankets covered southern Illinois and Ohio.

Strong, gusty winds preceded the rain and snow over the Northeast, with gales reported at higher elevations.

Hubcaps Taken From City Shop

Five Oldsmobile hubcaps, valued at $94, were taken from Matheny's Salvage Shop, 818 W. Foster, sometime over the Thanksgiving holidays, police reported Saturday.

E. C. Matheny told officers his shop was broken into either Wednesday night of Thursday. Entrance was gained by breaking a rear window.

Not Quite False Call

Pampa firemen, called to a house fire Saturday afternoon, drove half way, were informed the fire was out, and returned.

The blaze, which began at 4:45, was in a house seven miles south of Pampa on the Bower City Road. Firemen reported the house was on the Wilcox lease.

1945 Deserter Hopes To Take 'A Load Off'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 37-year-old Texas sailor said Saturday he would go before a Navy court martial board next month with a "load off my shoulders" — although he faces a possible death penalty for wartime desertion.

He was Calton Vance Mings, of Abilene, Tex., when he jumped ship at nearly Mare Island in the summer of 1945 after seeing extended action in the South Pacific.

But as Carl Watson, he fell in love in California, fathered three children, and gained the respect of friends and employers during the past 13 years.

The Navy disclosed his story Friday — and announced that Mings and his common-law wife were married by a Navy chaplain at the Treasure Island brig early this month.

Arrested By FBI
Mings was arrested by the FBI last August in Porterville, Calif., where he worked as a farm hand.

Relatives notified the FBI of Mings' whereabouts after he indicated he wanted to give himself up.

"I felt better when the FBI arrested me," Mings said. "I told them they had taken a load off my shoulders — and they must have believed me because they didn't even handcuff me."

The sailor, who saw World War II action in the Aleutians, at Iwo Jima, Tarawa and Saipan, and during the bombardment of the northern Japanese islands, said he was drinking heavily when he missed the cruiser USS Chester in July, 1945.

"I was dazed and exhausted,"

OBSERVING ANNIVERSARY

O. E. "Oscar" Carlson, roustabout "A" with Bryan plant No. 17, at Skellytown, observes his 30th anniversary with the Shell Oil Company this month. Carlson, who lives at Skellytown with his wife, Lillian, began work with Shell in 1928. He has spent his entire 30-year career at the Bryan plant. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson are members of the Lutheran church, and their son, Donald Glen, is a junior in the University of Texas.

he said.
A short time later, he took Wilma Edna Boren as his common-law wife, and three children were born of the union — Carl, 11; Joseph, 9; and Angie, 2.

Mings said he told his wife he was a deserter, but was afraid of being punished for desertion if he turned himself in. However, he said he worried constantly.

Wife Respects Him
"I just lived in an outer world by myself," he said. "I wanted to get it over with—I just couldn't live with it."

Although the maximum penalty for wartime desertion is death, Mings will probably be tried on a lesser charge. The Navy hasn't executed a man in 116 years.

Mings was pleased by the formal marriage ceremony at the Treasure Island chapel.

"She was my wife and I respected her," he said. "It was common law, but I didn't want to marry until this thing was over. She is a faithful wife and I love her and I love my children."

Mings said he hopes to find a good job when he gets out of the brig and has settled his score with the Navy.

"I want to continue raising my children," he said. "They're good boys — they've even brought their report cards to me in the brig."

Boys Fined For Theft of Shakers

Three Pampa boys, ages 17 and 19, paid $5 fines Saturday for the theft of salt and pepper shakers from the Coney Island Cafe, 114 W. Foster. The fines were paid in corporation court. The boys were cited Friday.

Pampa Groups Send Postage

Four Pampa clubs have sent Christmas money to McKnight Hospital, Sanatorium, Mrs. Paul Bowers, Gray County Tuberculosis Association president reported Saturday.

Contributions enable patients to send Christmas presents to their families, according to Mrs. Bowers. So far Delta Kappa Gamma, Altrusa, Epilone Sigma Alpha and Twentieth Century have contributed.

Patients use the money for postage and are encouraged to spend Christmas in the hospital where they are better off.

Also, Mrs. Bowers thanked County residents who have bought Christmas Seals that the Association mailed out.

impossible to reassemble our people under the circumstances for meetings today."

The American pilots, meanwhile, went ahead with plans to get a new strike deadline. Their action came after federal Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan in New York extended a temporary injunction barring a strike. Both sides, the judge said, were guilty of a "silly exhibition" in failing to meet with federal mediators earlier in the week.

The A L P A said it would return to court Monday in New York and attempt to have the injunction lifted.

Illegal Turn Results In Wreck

Ausbie C. Weigart, 21, 901 E. Francis, was tagged by police for an illegal left turn early Friday morning following a two-car collision in the 900 block N. Duncan.

Weigart, attempting a middle-of-the-block turn, steered into the path of a 1935 coach driven by Edward M. Parson, 21, 422 N. Russell. The mishap occurred at 3:16 a.m.

Damages to Weigart's 1935 sedan were $425, while damages to the Parson vehicle were $150.

Housewives' Dollars Fail To Bring Back 'Matinee Theatre'

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It was a valiant try, but attempts to restore "Matinee Theatre" to network television failed dismally and, in the bargain, struck a damaging blow to the hopes of pay TV.

Last June when the daily, color-cast "Matinee" left the air for keeps, shut-ins, housewives and swing-shift workers cried dirty pool.

Letters by the thousands poured into NBC, demanding the show be continued. But network moguls glanced at the balance sheet and swung the ax.

John Conte, who hosted the show, and his wife Ruth jumped into the breach by forming the "Foundation for the Preservation of Matinee Theatre," with a plea to all viewers to contribute a dollar each to the cause.

Their goal was five million dollars.

Viewers came up with a hefty $312,670, but it wasn't enough. "The program had 35 million viewers a week," Mrs. Conte recounted sadly. "We thought surely a large number of them would contribute to keeping 'Matinee' going. Our largest donation was from Mrs. Dan Gerber of Fremont, Mich., who sent $1,200 and offered to contribute more.

One Donated Stamp
"One man in a Midwest hospital had no money, but donated 27 cents in stamps. Contributions were fairly well spread out all over the country. We had some 10,000 volunteer workers who helped with the campaign for nothing."

Almost all the money mailed to the foundation will be returned. More than 20,000,000 pieces of mail must be sent out—with postage, printing and secretarial services totaling some $10,000. This amount will not be covered by anonymous donations. Thus, the Contes will be out of pocket for the difference. Ruth, a pretty, red-haired actress, says she considers the financial loss a part of her contribution to the foundation.

Claimed Large Loss
At the time the program founded NBC claimed it was losing a million dollars a year on the live dramatic show.

"I don't know about that," Ruth said. "As we understand it the network was spending $17,500 a day, and that the yearly cost ran somewhere between three and five million dollars just for production—not counting the cost of air time."

It was Ruth's idea to buy air time for three-minute commercials, asking viewers to contribute more money, but it would have cost the foundation $24,000 per three-minute plug.

Why didn't the Contes go ahead with a few shows, using up the $312,670, in hopes of finding a sponsor?

"It wouldn't have been possible to set up all the machinery to develop a working organization," Ruth explained.

"Now TV is without a top dramatic daytime show. It's unfortunate for all the people who appreciate good entertainment."

MISMATCH—Big Joe gives a sausage-sized entry the once-over during the National Fox Hunters Bench Show at Starkville, Miss. The bigger fox hound was nonplussed at the sight of Heinie at a hunt show, where he didn't belong.

Airline Cinderellas Round World In Turbo-Jet Pumpkin

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two airline stewardesses know what it's like to play Cinderella—jet-age style. Janet Mick and Sidney Sperbeck went around the world in a new airplane which they probably won't fly again.

The girls spent two months helping demonstrate the plane, Lockheed's Electra turbo-jet, to officials of about 15 countries and to firms interested in buying the aircraft. It will be introduced in American Airlines' service Jan. 23.

"We couldn't imagine why we were called to New York. We were told only that it was a special assignment. We both had done modeling, so we figured it had something to do with that," said Miss Mick, a pretty brunette from Westmont, N.J.

Spent Week Training
She and Miss Sperbeck, a vivacious blonde from Los Angeles, spent a week in training. They learned to explain the plane's new features and to handle equipment.

New are a push-button kitchen and buffet serving cart from which passengers can help themselves.

Flight time is much shorter than on present piston-powered aircraft, so stewardesses must work faster. The re-designed kitchens make the task easier, cut time-consuming steps, eliminate stooping and usual cooking methods. Even coffee is brewed push-button fashion in three minutes.

After training, the girls packed their bags—about four each, which increased to eight apiece on the journey—and set off from Burbank, Calif., for Montreal. From there they flew to Nova Scotia and Iceland—"where women were dressed elegantly in New York and Paris gowns."

Near Riot In Turkey
On to Amsterdam for the weekend, then to Brussels, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Oslo and Istanbul. In Turkey, they shopped in bazaars and headed off a near riot when cab drivers and passers-by shoved aside VIP's for a look at the plane.

Business Views

United Press International

Balanced inventories and the rise in demand—which economic recovery should bring—have placed the petroleum industry "in the most favorable statistical position experienced in years," the Chase Manhattan Bank said. It added that this probably will mean further strengthening in prices in the weeks ahead.

Presidents of 109 major corporations look for a marked improvement in business next year but no boom, according to a Dun & Bradstreet survey. Their expectation is that "business will stabilize at or slightly above current levels and the economy will continue a slow but steady rise," D&B said.

Scientists from three affiliates of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) have started an intensive study of an oil deposit in the making. Located in eastern Venezuela it is only 5,000 to 10,000 years old, compared with the average age of commercial deposits of more than 10 million years. The scientists said the deposit provides the first opportunity to observe nature in the process of creating an oil reservoir.

Monsant Chemical Co. has developed a new ammonium nitrate fertilizer which it says is dust-free and will not cake during storage. The product—Lion E2—can be stored indefinitely and can be stacked high without tumbled bags caking, the company said.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's biggest carrier, reported net earnings of 31 cents a share in October—highest earnings this year. It also was the second time that earnings for a 1958 month topped the similar 1957 period.

Crude oil imports in October averaged 924,400 barrels daily or 9,700 below the ceiling prescribed under the administration's "voluntary" program, the Interior Department reported. Companies east of the Rockies increased their allocations by 15,900 barrels their allocations by 15,900 barrels daily.

Oil company earnings rose in the third quarter but the gain was insufficient to erase the sharp drop which occurred in the first half. Carl H. Pforzheimer & Co., oil specialist members of the New York Stock Exchange, reported. Earnings of 40 companies in the first nine months came to $1,826,817,000, against $2,443,094,000 a year ago.

Edward Henry Brainard III and Lillian Matzell Martin.

DIVORCES GRANTED
Jeannie Gale Mount Reames from Clay Allen Reames.

Next stop, New Delhi, where the hostesses welcomed aboard such celebrities as Prime Minister Nehru, Indira Gandhi and her two children, and the U. S. ambassador to India.

The girls also managed to squeeze in a moonlight flight to see the Taj Mahal.

Then they flew to the Middle East, visiting Cairo and Beirut. Then to Athens, Rome, Paris, London, Germany, Scotland and Ireland.

Gas Station Group

Operates Together

TYLER, Tex. (UPI)—A group of service station operators in Tyler are urging their customers to patronize a competitor.

The operators want drivers to buy gas from the station run by J. L. Ward, who was critically wounded in a holdup by a pair of teenagers a few weeks ago and is still recovering.

Ward had no hospitalization insurance, and hospital bills have been mounting. He has been paying a man to run his station for him until he is back on the job, in about 30 days.

His fellow operators will run his station for him today, Sunday and Monday.

BLEACHER VICTIM SUES

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Forest B. Brooks filed a $150,000 damage suit Friday in connection with the collapse of wooden bleachers at a football stadium in September. Brooks said he suffered a broken leg and other injuries. Authorities had reported at the time of the accident that 72 persons were injured, some seriously.

The crew logged 27,000 miles from point to point and 25,000 miles on demonstration flights—82 in all. Some 3,000 persons made the flights, which were scheduled about three times a day.

"We know so much about the Electra, but we're based in Los Angeles, and the airline won't be flying it from there. It's really rather sad," said the girls.

Matter of FACT

The population of Canada is made up of many nationalities. About half the people are of British origin; about 30 per cent are of French origin and the remainder includes people from all parts of the world, particularly Europe. Because they have a large French-speaking population, Quebec and Montreal are more French than English. In Quebec province, where 90 per cent of the people are French-speaking, civil law is fundamentally based on French law.

Advent Starts Now; Christmas On Way

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International

Churches will take note this Sunday of a fact that department stores have been proclaiming for several weeks.

Christmas is coming.

Sunday marks the beginning of the advent season. The name comes from the Latin word "adventus" which means "coming."

On the ancient liturgical calendar which divides the year into appropriate seasons of worship, advent is a four-week period of preparation for the coming of Christ that is celebrated at Christmas.

Many Protestant churches which formerly paid scant heed to the liturgical calendar have in recent years joined the Catholics, Episcopalians and Lutherans in emphasizing the observance of advent. The reason is obvious.

Suggest Advent Wreaths

Advent offers the best opportunity the churches have to resist the commercialization of Christmas. Instead of waiting until the last minute, on Christmas Eve, to introduce the Christ child as a sort of afterthought of the holiday season, churches begin four weeks in advance to point up the religious origin of the joy and expectation expressed in Christmas customs.

This year, many of the major advent can be observed at home, as well as in church. Through their Sunday schools and church publications, they are suggesting specific ways in which individual families can keep the real meaning of Christmas from being lost in the hectic round of gift-buying, card-sending, cake-baking and tree-trimming that gets under way as soon as the Thanksgiving dishes are wiped.

One suggestion is to use advent wreaths as a vehicle for simple family worship services. This is a very old custom which fell into neglect, and which is now being rediscovered. The wreath itself can be any circular piece of greenery. The only requirements are that it be home-made, and that it contain five candles. It may be used as a centerpiece for the dining table.

Forms of Family Devotion

Each night during advent, when the family sits down for dinner, a candle - lighting ceremony is held. During the first week of advent, one candle is lit and the rest remain dark. The second week, two candles are lit, and so on. The fifth candle, usually larger than the rest and in the center of the wreath, is lit on Christmas Eve.

The religious training imparted by the ceremony depends on what goes with the candle - lighting. Reading from the Bible, formal or informal prayers, singing Christmas carols, asking one of the children to memorize and recite a Christmas poem—any or all of these may provide material for family devotions. The important thing is that the family pauses for a few moments to think together about what the coming of Christmas means.

Any family that gets stuck for appropriate Bible passages or prayers can get help from its pastor, or may buy a little book of family devotions from a religious bookstore. The American Bible Society publishes a list of scriptural readings for the pre-Christmas season.

In baseball slang, a "frame" is an inning.

Coyle Winborn Leads Attack With 19 Points

QUANAH, Texas (SPL)—The Pampa Harvesters took their second straight game of the young basketball season here Friday night, downing the Quanah Indians, 67-51.

It was the 16th straight win for the Harvesters, and their 30th in their last 32 games for the defending state champions.

Coyle Winborn again led the Harvester attack, getting 19 points for the second night in a row. Center Mack Layne was a close second with 18 points.

It took both teams a quarter to get warmed up, as each squad hit less than a third of its shots in the first quarter. The Harvesters led 15-6 at the end of the first period.

Both Quanah and Pampa got red hot in the second quarter, as the Harvesters hit 22 points and the Indians sank 17. Both squads dunked more than half of their attempts.

R. L. Stockstill of Quanah came out at the beginning of the second half and started as if he intended to win the game all by himself. He sank four buckets within less than two minutes to put Quanah right back in the contest.

Pampa, however, matched Quanah point-for-point during the entire third quarter, as each team got 15 points. The Harvesters, outscored the Indians 15-11 in the final period.

The Quanah team averaged about two inches taller than the Harvesters. Only one man on the Indians stood less than 6 feet, 3 inches.

Charles Minor scored 16 points for the Harvesters. Bob Gindorf had 6, Craig Winborn 4, Joe Timms 2, and Phillip Gist 2.

The Shockers won a preliminary game, 34-27 over Quanah B. They led 12-9 after the first quarter, 17-16 at halftime, 24-22 after three quarters. Pat Carter led Shockers scoring with 9 points, and Allen Wise netted 8.

Angelo, Pampa Fighters Split

By RICK PEZDERTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

The regionals at Amarillo for cracks at the state meet in Fort Worth and the national meet in Chicago.

Gary Wills, who only last Saturday hung up his football cleats, accounted for Pampa's most impressive win over San Angelo. Wills snatched a unanimous decision from Sylvan Carlin in the 140-pound class, although tiring badly in the second round. Wills was the heavier puncher and belted Carlin to the canvas for a three count in the first round.

Fort Sill boxers will be at the Pampa Optimist Boys' Club Wednesday night. They are one of the best service boxing teams in the nation.

Their number one man is lightweight Skeet Smith, who will probably be matched against Kenneth Wood. Vernon Winston, runnerup in the Fourth Army tournament, will probably go against Charles Snider in a light-heavy scrap.

Don Shields, heavyweight runnerup in the Fourth Army tournament, may be matched against the rugged Carl McClure.

Fort Sill will bring a 12 man team.

It was a wicked left cross thrown from somewhere out in the third row that pulled the curtain on Cummins, and brought stars to his bleary eyes. Jordan insists he's turning pro before the year's end.

Pampa boxers drew an even split in four matches against San Angelo competition, winning two, losing two. Counting Jordan's walk past Cummins, the visiting San Angelo team copped three of five fights.

However, local boxing officials dubbed in a spirited intra-city program, with seven matches all-Pampa affairs.

The Friday night fling helped warm the local sluggers up for a rugged Wednesday night match with Fort Sill, Okla. Pampa travels to Hereford next Friday night for a return engagement.

The rest of an impressive schedule lined up for the locals includes: Abilene here on Dec. 13, Clovis here on Dec. 19; Sheppard Air Force Base here on Jan. 3; at Fort Sill on Jan. 10; and at Sheppard AFB on Jan. 17.

Another match with Clovis might be slated before the Pampa punchers swing into Golden Gloves district tournaments here and at Borger, with winners there going to DOUBLE DECKER—San Angelo heavyweight, Ronnie Jordan, who expects to turn pro in a few weeks, makes with a wrestling hold as he "pins" Al Cummins, Clovis, New Mexico, negro to the canvas in the second round of their Friday night fight here. Seconds later Jordan landed a KO punch on the jaw of Cummins. At left is referee Ronnie James.

Mangum Mauled

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

MANGUM — The Pampa Harvesters opened their basketball season successfully here Friday night, downing Mangum, Okla., 55-42.

The defending Texas champions built up a 17-8 first quarter lead, then hung on to just about that same lead throughout the game.

The Harvesters were never behind, but they never were able to relax, either. The Mustang Mangum team matched them almost point-for-point after the first quarter.

The two Winborns, 6-4 Coyle and 6-3 Craig, sparked Pampa to its decisive first period lead. Coyle netted nine points in the first quarter, on two set shots, two fast-breaking lay-ups, and a free throw. Craig bucketed six points on a hook shot, a set shot, and two charity tosses.

Coyle Winborn led Harvester scoring with 19 points. Guard Charles Minor netted 13. Craig

Winborn had a total of 7; forward Bob Gindorf and center Mack Layne each pitched in 7, and forward Joe Timms sank 5 in the closing minutes of the game.

The two guards, Ken Parker and Muri Anderson, were the Mangum players who gave Pampa the most trouble. Parker hit three long set shots, two short jump shots, and a free throw for 11 points. Anderson zeroed in on four long shots for eight points.

The Harvesters built up a 13-point lead early in the second quarter, as Minor scored 6 straight points on a layup, two free shots, and a pass under the basket.

Then Mangum made its best rally of the game, scoring 10 points to Pampa's 2, to cut the Harvesters lead to 25-20. Parker, Anderson, forward Nick Curtis, and center Jim Norwood all got into Mangum's scoring act.

The Harvesters took command again near the end of the half as Gindorf sank two free throws and a basket. Pampa led 39-22 at halftime.

The third quarter, and the first five-and-a-half minutes of the fourth, were strictly point-swap-ping periods, with one team getting a bucket, and the other squad matching it. The scoring was well spread on both teams.

The Harvesters led 40-32 at the end of the third quarter and 48-36 with 2:30 left in the game. At that time, Harvester Coach Clifton McNeely sent in forward Joe Timms.

Timms proceeded to add some quick insurance with a jump shot, a hook shot, and a charity toss.

Rebounds were pretty evenly divided between the two teams. Coyle Winborn and Layne snared most of the Harvester rebounds.

the pipeline

The longer I'm here, the more impressed I am by the packing given athletic teams in this area—both by Pampa people and by people in the smaller surrounding towns.

Thanksgiving day, it must have been at least 20 degrees outside, yet more than 600 people showed up for the Miami-Weinert six-man football game.

All but about 250 were in cars parked around the field, but even there it couldn't have been too warm. There were probably about 300 people in attendance from Miami, about 300 from Pampa, and a handful from Weinert.

When that many people show up, on a day that cold, to watch a football game—brother, that's really giving a team some backing.

What—A Crowd?

This kind of loyalty is really amazing when you compare it with the attitudes of people in other towns.

When Marvin Olsen, our ace sports photographer, and I arrived in Mangum Friday night, the first thing we did was have a look at their gymnasium.

It seated only about 600 people, so we figured we'd better get there early if we didn't want to stand up for two games. After all this place, we thought, will be jammed to the gills—since its one of the first games of the season, and since Mangum is playing a state champion.

So we got there early, and what did we find? Empty seats! There weren't over 200 or 250 people in the entire building. There was certainly no danger of anyone having to stand up. To top it off, the small but very vocal group of Pampa rooters made more noise than the entire bunch of Mangum citizens.

It's amazing to think that 300 people from Pampa will sit out in freezing weather to watch two out-of-town teams play football, while in some places not even that many people will pay their way inside a warm gymnasium, to see a very good home town basketball team play a state champion.

Those Mangum boys will probably be scared to death here Monday night, playing before a big crowd at Harvester Field House. Judging from Friday night, they've probably never seen a big crowd. What say we really throw a scare into them with a noisy, capacity crowd?

Mitchell—MVC Coach of Year

Hot off the UPI wire is the news that Odus Mitchell, speaker for Thursday's Harvester - Shocker football banquet, has been named Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the year.

Mitchell, a former Pampa High School Coach, guided his North Texas football team to the Missouri Valley title, in their second year of conference competition. Not bad for a bunch of "newcomers!"

One of Mitchell's players, half-back Abner Haynes, was named back of the year and two others, center Fred Way and guard Bill Carrico, were named to the Missouri Valley all-star team. Being a North Texas ex myself, I may be a little prejudiced, but I think that shows some fine coaching ability—and maybe some pretty good recruiting ability, too. Mitchell has one of the outstanding records among the nation's major college coaches—he's 13th, to be exact. Many of the boys he's coached have gone on to stardom in professional ball. A couple of the more famous ones are Ray Renfro of the Cleveland Browns and Y. A. Tittle of the San Francisco Forty-Niners.

If you want to hear Mitchell Thursday night, and get some good chow too, you'll have to hustle. Ticket sales close Monday. They're on sale at Malone Pharmacy and Richard Drug.

Small world department: I went over to Pampa Junior High Wednesday to get their basketball schedule, and who should I find in charge of the Reapers but Sammy Jackson, another refugee from the North Texas campus.

Seems Sammy had been so quietly attending to business and staying out of trouble that I didn't even know he was around.

On last week's pick - it - line, I got smeared, with a lousy 600 percentage. If you wonder why, it's because I had to do it myself. Five months - old Eddie Griggs, the regular football picker, is up in regular country (Indiana) with the frau, being spoiled by a set of grandparents.

That's why I didn't try to pick any games this week.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Army

spotted Navy a first period touchdown Saturday and then went on to grind out a methodical 22-6 victory behind the brilliant running of Bob Anderson and the fumble-recovery ability of guard Bob Novogratz.

Anderson scored two of the Army touchdowns and Novogratz recovered three key fumbles in Army's march to victory but Army's "lonely end" Bill Carpenter left it up to his opposite end, Don Ustry, to put this game on ice.

As Carpenter decoyed, Ustry, who had caught five passes for 80 yards, intercepted a desperate Navy pass with only two minutes to go and ran across the goal line unmolested for 38 yards to wrap it up for Army.

Before a crowd of 100,000 on a chilly but sunny day in Municipal Stadium, Anderson, Novogratz and Ustry made it pretty much a three-man show. But until the Ustry interception in the closing moments, Navy never was out of the game—not so much because of Navy power but because of Army mistakes.

Army errs early. The Army mistakes started very early when All-American halfback Pete Dawkins took the Navy kickoff on the 16 yard line and ran it back to the Army 35 where he ran into a horde of Navy tacklers and fumbled the ball with guard George Fitzinger recovering for Navy.

It took only eight plays for the underdog Navy team to score, the touchdown coming when Joe Bellino plunged over left guard for three yards. Ray Wellborn missed the attempt for the extra point.

It looked like Navy was driving then because later the Midshipmen stopped an Army drive when Harry Walters fumbled and Tom Albershart of Navy recovered on the Army's 13. The Middles drove to the Army 13 where Bellino failed to make it on a fourth down and three situation. From that time on it was all Army.

Later in the second period with only 34 seconds remaining on the clock, Army went ahead. The Cadets had taken the ball on their own 32 yard line, and went all the way, with Anderson keeping the drive alive on a fourth down and two yards to go situation on the Navy 38. He rushed for the first down and then, with Joe Caldwell passing to Ustry for a vital first down on the 15, the Soldiers went across the goal line, Anderson carrying over from the one yard line. Walters converted. It was

Army 7, Navy 6 at halftime.

The third quarter was a period of frustration for the Army. Twice it drove within the Navy five-yard line without scoring.

Army then started a march from its own 41 yard line as Navy put in its second team. Novogratz, who earlier had recovered two Navy fumbles, kept the march alive when Anderson bobbled the ball but the Army guard fell on it for a five yard gain.

Then it was Anderson and Dawkins, carrying the ball to the Navy two yard line. On the first play of the fourth period, Anderson went over from the two and Walters kicked the extra point to put Army ahead, 11-3. That looked like a safe lead for Army, but Navy threatened twice.

The first time, the Middles gambled on a fourth down on the Navy 46 and Army stopped the drive. Again, later in the maining, Navy received the ball and tried to get its air arm going. But with the clock running out Ustry intercepted a Joe Tranchini pass on the Navy 38 and ran unmolested into the end zone for the score that wrapped it up.

Reapers Season Will Begin Here Tuesday, vs. Travis

Pampa Junior High, which was handicapped in football because of too few players, shouldn't have that trouble in basketball.

Fifteen men are battling for positions on Sammy Jackson's ninth grade Reapers. Jackson, like Bill Anders at Lee, is coaching in Pampa for the first time this year.

The Reapers open their schedule Tuesday against Travis of Amarillo, in Pampa Junior High Gymnasium. Thursday, they travel to Amarillo to meet Bowie Junior High.

The last scheduled non-conference games will be against Tascosa of Amarillo here, Dec. 9, and against Austin of Amarillo there, Dec. 16. On Dec. 12 and 13, the Reapers will compete in the Robert E. Lee tournament here.

Panhandle Junior High Conference play begins here Jan. 6, after a two-week layoff for Christmas. Austin of Borger will be Pampa's first opponent.

A double round-robin schedule of 12 games will be played against Austin of Borger, Houston of Borger, Lee, Phillips, Dumas, and Perryton.

Team Rosters

Reaper forwards are Jim Harris, Dale Brown, Kenny Powell, Corky Godfrey, Ronnie Ingle, Donny Benton, and John Arthur. Guards are Willie Vick, Larry Poole, J. D. Hininger, Max Patton, Douglas Russell, and Robert Garrett. Centers are Jim Story and Billy Hughes.

The eighth grade, also coached by Jackson, plays the full schedule along with the ninth grade, with the exception of two games —

Florida Goes To Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Frightened Florida stayed off a last period University of Miami passing attack Saturday to pull out a 12-9 win and a berth in the Gator Bowl against the University of Mississippi.

Mississippi defeated Mississippi State 21-0 Saturday and accepted the bowl bid.

Florida pushed across touchdowns in the first and third periods before Miami quarterback Bonnie Yarbrough's passing accounted for one touchdown and set up a Florida safety.

Florida immediately accepted the Gator Bowl bid and Coach Bob Woodruff signed the contract on the Florida bench.

H-SU Invited To Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Hardin-Simmons' Border Conference champions Saturday officially accepted an invitation to meet Wyoming in the Sun Bowl Dec. 31.

Bob Kollner, Sun Bowl selection committee chairman, said Evan Allard Reif, had accepted the formal bid by telephone to bring the Cowboys here for the fourth time.

The Cowboys defeated New Mexico A&M 26-20 in Abilene Friday for the Border crown and wound up with a 6-4 season record with all its losses to major college teams — Baylor, Louisiana State, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Sooners Squeeze Past OSU, 7-0

By CARTER BRADLEY
United Press International
STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Boyd bolted 31 yards in the last five minutes Saturday to give the Sooners a scary 7-0 victory over Oklahoma State before 40,000.

The fifth-ranked Sooners, who play Syracuse Jan. 1, were outplayed much of the time on the muddy field of their home-state rival, a three-touchdown underdog. It was State's third defeat in 10 starts and gave Oklahoma nine victories in the regular season with only a one-point loss to Texas marring its record.

A few minutes before Boyd's winning sprint, State had halted Oklahoma's split-T proved impotent. Hobby and Baker both failed to connect with passes. Oklahoma had started a drive at its own 23 with halfback Brewster Hobby and quarterback David Baker launching a grinding ground offensive. It appeared State had earned an upset tie at that point. But Oklahoma took Jim Wood's punt at State's 35 and two plays later Boyd scored.

End Wahoo McDaniel kicked the extra point for Oklahoma. Boyd's run, which started after he had halted as if he had missed a hand-off to the halfback was his first gain of the day.

Before that his attempts had added up to 11 yards lost.

Oklahoma State, which begins full-fledged competition in the Big Eight in 1960, gave the Sooners by far their toughest league competition of the year.

Oklahoma gained a total of 196 yards to State's 187. But State scored 13 first downs to Oklahoma's 11.

Oklahoma made only one serious threat until the final period, getting a first down on the five in the first quarter. In four plays Oklahoma's split-T proved impotent. Hobby and Baker both failed to connect with passes. Oklahoma had started the drive on the State 34, where Tony Banfield had fumbled away a punt return.

Hobby fumbled a punt return in the second period, to give State a first down on the Oklahoma 14. Oklahoma's shooting fullback, Prentice Gault, smeared Vernon Sewell in the mire for a seven-yard loss to help force State into a field goal attempt.

Jim Wood's boot from the 23 was partially blocked.

In the final period, Oklahoma State moved to the 16 where quarterback Dick Soergel fumbled. Oklahoma State 0 0 0 0-0 Oklahoma 0 0 0 7-7 Oklahoma — Boyd 31 run (McDaniel kick).

SIGNS REDBIRD FACT
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Hank Kuhlmann, a rangy catcher from the University of Missouri, signed a $30,000 contract Saturday with the St. Louis Cardinals. He was assigned to Rochester of the International League.

Lee Cagers To Start Here Tuesday, vs. Horace Mann

Robert E. Lee opens its first basketball season Tuesday night at 7 p. m. against Horace Mann Junior High, and several area teams will be entered.

The Rebels will play Fannin of Amarillo Thursday, in Amarillo, and Austin of Amarillo here Dec. 9. The Robert E. Lee basketball tourney begins Friday, December 12.

Ole Miss Takes Gator Bowl Bid

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Quarterback Bobby Franklin riddled Mississippi State's defense in the second period Saturday to give Mississippi a 21-0 victory and a Gator Bowl bid.

Franklin ran for one touchdown and passed for two more within less than eight minutes as the Rebels notched their eighth victory in 10 starts before a crowd of 33,500. Minutes later, the jubilant Rebels were issued a Gator Bowl bid and accepted it on the spot.

Mississippi will face Florida in Dec. 27 classic at Jacksonville, Fla. Florida was defeated 14-7 by Mississippi State in its opening game of the season.

The defeat gave Mississippi State a 3-6 record, its worst since a winless post-war season in 1949. Mississippi's big line stopped State's offense cold. A 75-yard run by quarterback Billy Stacy, a 47-yard kickoff return and 27-yard pass by halfback Robert Collins were the only bright spots for State.

After a Dec. 16 game in Amarillo against Houston Junior High, the Rebels take a couple of weeks off for Christmas, then open Panhandle Junior High Conference play with Phillips here Jan. 6.

Lee, which is in the southern half of the conference, plays a 12 game double round-robin conference schedule — two games each with Phillips, Pampa Junior High, Perryton, Austin of Borger, Houston of Borger, and Dumas.

Sixteen boys are trying out for Coach Bill Anders' Rebel ninth grade team. This is Anders' first year of coaching in Pampa.

Coach Johnny Dobson's Lee eighth graders play their games along with the ninth graders, in the conference. However, the eighth graders do not play non-conference games.

Seventeen boys are out for the eighth grade squad. They are Jim Brashers, Larry Clifton, Gene Cox, Darrell Doss, Richard Organ, Frank Palminter, Mike Schale, Keith Swanson, Leon Brewer, Jon Pitts, Ronnie Chase, Gordon Balch, Jerry Glover, Dick Haffey, Tommy Everhart, Dale Mercer, and Tommy Veale.

John Hale's seventh graders do not play along with the seventh and eighth graders. They do not yet have a definite schedule.

Thirty-four boys are trying for positions on the Rebel seventh grade team. They are Ricky Stewart, Joe Fisher, Kenny Miller, Mickey Miller, Bill Woodring, Joe Jeter, Gene Stotts, Ronnie Oler, Steven Dulaney, Prize Dozier, Tim Eller, Harris Casey, Ronnie Ryans, Hank Henry, Dwayne Sanders, Wesley Green, John Fite, Bryan Martin.

Fem Golf Group Installs Officers

The Women's Golf Association at Pampa Country Club recently installed officers for 1959.

New officers are Betty Garren, president; Ellen Campain, vice president; Melba Wade, secretary-treasurer; Lill Hal, Panhandle delegate; Barbara Dobbin, tournament chairman; and Blanch Thorley, handicap chairman.

In the installation ceremony, each new officer was presented with a golf club, or something else symbolic of her office. Mrs. Lois Watkins was in charge of the installation.

Mrs. Garren was given a driver and told to "lead and direct down the fairway." Vice-president Cam-plain was presented with a three wood, which follows the driver, as the vice-president follows the president.

Secretary-treasurer Wade was given a pen and score card to keep accurate records. Lill Hal, since her job is to get out and contact golfers from other towns, was awarded a three iron, for distance.

Tournament chairman Dobbin received a seven iron, "used all the time," since her job is a never ending one. Blanch Thorley "carried the bag," since she is the one who makes the handicaps, and also got a nine iron, which is useful in tournaments (as is the handicap chairman).

White Deer Plays Sat. In Plainview

The Bucks are among the top favorites for the state championship, since defending champion White Oak has been declared ineligible and dropped out of the playoffs.

COYOTES NIP BORGER, 12-6

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

BORGER — It wouldn't have taken a physician to diagnose Borger High's ailment here this bright and sunny Saturday afternoon. That wheezing sound an excited overflow of 8,600 heard was the Bulldogs' death gasp.

The District 3-AAAA champions died beneath the fangs of a much huskier Wichita Falls Coyote. The bi-district score was 12-6 in as tough a defensive struggle as you'll ever want to see.

Both clubs sparked off loud on defense. However, Wichita Falls generosity was overwhelming toward the end, but Coach Gene Mayfield's Cinderella-like Bulldogs couldn't make hay while the sun shone to quite topple their visitors and gain next week's quarter-final round against title-favored Abilene.

Trailing 12-6 ever since Wichita Falls drove the second half kickoff 70 yards in a dozen ground plays to tally the eventual difference, Borger's Phil Parker halted another drive by recovering a fumble on his own nine-yard-line and moments later, following a punt,

Rice Throws Baylor, 33-21

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Rice overcame a dazzling aerial demonstration staged by Baylor's Buddy Humphrey Saturday, stealing four of his passes and turning two into touchdowns to win the Southwest Conference clash, 33-21.

Humphrey completed 22 of 37 passes for a phenomenal 387 yards but in the clutch, interceptions by Rice halfback Bill Bueck—who picked off three—and by All-America end Buddy Dial spelled the difference.

With Rice leading by a slim 26-21, and less than two minutes left in the game, Bueck grabbed a Humphrey pass and raced 53 yards to the Baylor 1 and quarterback Alvin Hartman plunged over for an insurance touchdown on the next play.

Rice Takes Lead

Humphrey personally accounted for 15 points and his passing was instrumental in the Bears' third drive. Humphrey threw three-yard and 71-yard passes to end Austin Gonsoulin, and flipped a conversion pass to Gonsoulin as Baylor took a 15-13 halftime edge.

Rice took an early first-quarter lead on an 80-yard march climaxed by halfback Pat Bailey's one-yard plunge, but Baylor bounced back with Humphrey's pass to Gonsoulin to move out ahead.

Hartman accounted for two Rice touchdowns with a six-yard pass to end Bill Simmons midway in the second period and a six-yard aerial to Dial early in the third period, when the Owls went ahead to stay.

Air Force Tops Buffs; Picks Cotton

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—The undefeated Air Force Falcons made a great last-minute goal line stand to defeat Colorado Saturday, 20-14, and then voted to accept an invitation to play Texas Christian University in the Cotton Bowl.

In their first year of major college competition, under a new coach, Ben Martin, the Falcons won nine games and were tied 13-13 by Iowa, Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl representative.

Slowed on the ground and stymied in the air, the Air Force recovered six Colorado fumbles and stopped Colorado on the Falcon two-yard line with 15 seconds to play.

The jubilant Falcons voted unanimously in their dressing room to accept the Cotton Bowl invitation, which had been tendered win or lose Saturday.

High Air Force officials left the decision to the team.

Later Dickie Turner, the game's leading rusher with 178 yards on 27 carries, dove in from the one. John Genuing tried a pass to Reagan for the two-point conversion but failed leaving the Coyotes with a 6-0 lead and 5:22 left in the initial quarter.

Two minutes and seventeen seconds later the score was tied at 6-6 as Borger's Jim Dawson scampered 50 yards to score after taking a pithout from Gordon Beamguard when the latter was bottled up by two tacklers at the mid-field stripe after gaining nine yards.

The play was the longest run for a TD against the Coyotes all season. It covered 59 yards. Dawson, who led Borger rushing with 115 yards in only seven carries for a handsome 16.4 average, had a pass try for the two-point conversion batted down.

Except for Wichita Falls' scoring thrust to open the second half it was a superbly fought defensive battle the rest of the way. Borger did reach the Coyote 35 and 39 before the half which ended with the visitors on the Bulldog 24.

It was Borger's first trip into the Texas schoolboy playoffs, and the fourth time in history they tangled with Wichita Falls, who are in the playoffs for the third season in a row and were state champs in 1941, 1949 and 1950.

Borger dropped Wichita Falls in one of the state all-time offensive thrillers, 47-41, in 1951, but the Coyotes flung a white wash brush in the Bulldogs eyes in both 1952 and 1953, winning 28-0 and 32-0 respectively.

Borger's season record this year was 9-2.

Score by quarters:
Wichita Falls 6 0 0 0 — 12
Borger 6 0 0 0 — 6

didn't do much singing, tallied Pampa's other mix-match victory, snaring a unanimous decision from Dickie Valdez of San Angelo. The little Pampa Negro had his best round in the third, landing one teeth-rattling left hook.

Rabbit Ramirez looked sluggish in losing a unanimous decision to San Angelo's Ray Salazar and Charles Coffee, ahead on point, lost a TKO to Lencho Casteneda 1:15 deep in the third round for the two Pampa reversals.

In the all-Pampa bouts, the results by weights were:
50 POUNDS: Joe Williams and James Griffin fought to a draw.
70 POUNDS: Jackie Strickland won a unanimous decision over James Pat Wheat.

105 POUNDS: James Tucker and Johnny Ironmonger fought to a draw.
112 POUNDS: Roland Kenyon scored a TKO over Nelson Rockwell in 1:10 of the third round.

118 POUNDS: James Morse and Kenny Powell, no decision in an exhibition bout.

147 POUNDS: Wayne Matney won a split decision over Gary Bennett.
150 POUNDS: Norman Rexroat won a unanimous decision over Charles Kimbell.

Clemson Accepts Sugar Bowl Bid

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The twice beaten Clemson Tigers will play unbeaten Louisiana State in the 1959 Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, executives of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn. announced Saturday.

The announcement followed Clemson's 36-19 win over Furman in Clemson, S.C.

Despite an 11th hour federal court reversal of a Louisiana law forbidding athletic events between whites and Negroes, the candidates had narrowed to the Tigers and Southern Methodist Saturday.

Clemson took the Atlantic Coast Conference championship with wins over Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, Vanderbilt, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Boston College and Furman.

Veteran Coach Frank Howard's Tigers dropped contests to South Carolina and Georgia Tech and would-up the nation's 11th ranked team in UPI's poll.

The top-ranked LSU Tigers finished their first perfect season in fifty years with a 62-0 win last week over Tulane. They accepted the Sugar bid at that time.

LSU got its unbeaten impetus from All-America halfback Billy Cannon, standout center Max Fugler and Coach Paul Dietzel's inscrutable Chinese bandits—the third or defensive unit.

SMU Rips TCU, 20-13; Sugar Bowl Ignores 'Em

By ED FITE
United Press International

DALLAS (UPI)—Dazzling Don Meredith figured in all three touchdowns Saturday as Southern Methodist made a futile bid for a Sugar Bowl berth with a stunning 20-13 upset over Cotton Bowl-bound Texas Christian before a frenzied crowd of 49,000.

The tall and talented SMU junior quarterback whipped out a pair of six-yard touchdown passes to halfbacks Trey Wilemon and Glynn Gregory, smashed center for the final two yards for another, and ran for two extra points to give TCU's Southwest Conference champions their second defeat in 10 games.

The victory, which SMU had been led to believe almost certainly would earn the colorful Mustangs a shot at national champion Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, was a futile one as far as that was concerned, however, since Clemson's selection was announced over the loudspeaker just minutes before the game was over.

quarterback Harvey White, all-AAC end Ray Maasneri and center Bill Thomas.

The Clemson line, in contrast to the pony-light LSU forward, averages well over 200 pounds. Halfbacks George Ursy and Doug Diagneault do most of the ball carrying for the South Carolinians.

LSU will be a two-touchdown favorite for the post season classic.

"Clemson, who will be making its first appearance in the Mid-Winter classic, has a well-balanced team," Simons said, "and will furnish a severe test for the nation's number one ranked Bayou Bengals."

He said, "The Sugar Bowl Executive Committee feels it has the best New Year's Day pairing in Clemson and LSU, and a close and interesting game should result."

India has more than 225 languages and dialects, with 24 major tongues being used by 96 per cent of its population.

like Wilemon, Billy Polk and Koenig himself blunted the important TCU aerial game.

SMU — Wilemon 6 pass from Meredith (Meredith run)

TCU — Dawson 5 run (kick failed)

SMU — Gregory 6 pass from Meredith (run failed)

SMU — Meredith 2 run (run failed)

Scoring:
TCU — Harris 21 pass from Enis (Dodson kick)

SMU — Wilemon 6 pass from Meredith (Meredith run)

TCU — Dawson 5 run (kick failed)

SMU — Gregory 6 pass from Meredith (run failed)

SMU — Meredith 2 run (run failed)

Groom 4H'er Given $400 Dairy Award

CHICAGO, Ill., (Sp) — "Will come one awaken me, I must be dreaming," was Ellen Marie Latta's first reaction to the announcement at National 4H Club Congress here that she was one of six in the nation to be designated a national winner in the Dairy Foods Demonstration Awards program.

"Just two weeks ago I became a sectional winner in the program and was awarded this wonderful trip to Congress, and then today, when I became a national winner and was awarded a $400 college scholarship, it was all too good to be true."

Donor for the Dairy Foods Demonstration Awards is the Carnation Company of Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Latta became the second Carson county 4H'er to take a national title here this week. On Monday, Norman Warminski was named a national 4H Safety Winner.

Miss Latta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Latta of Groom and her dairy foods demonstration star has been rising since 1956 when she placed third in the district contest. She moved up to second in 1957 and in 1958 won first in the district and state contests.

"She is the holder of numerous county and district awards in many demonstration and activity fields and is a junior leader for a group of 16 younger 4H girls. She is also active in church and school affairs and according to Carson County Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Janie Fletcher has completed more result demonstrations than any girl in the county."

White Deer 4H Boy Wins $400 Scholarship

CHICAGO, Ill., (Sp) — Two near fatal accidents involving his younger brothers caused Norman Warminski of White Deer to become interested in the 4H Safety Program.

The results of that interest paid off again for Warminski. Today he was named a national winner, one of eight in the nation, and was presented a $400 college scholarship by General Motors, donor for the awards offered under the program.

Since 1955 Warminski and his family have made their farm and home a near model of safety. When a new home and barns were constructed, safety was featured in the entire layout.

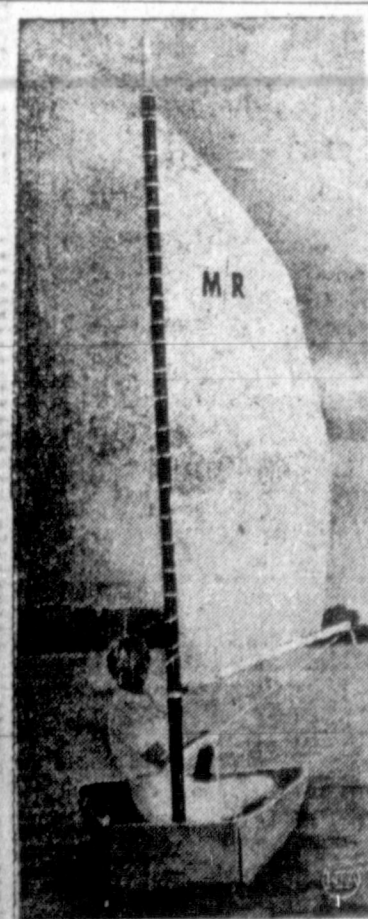

Included were extensive fire protection measures, underground cables for the electric wiring, lightning rods, a water system connected with an irrigation well to supply water for fire fighting and a fire fighting equipment center was included in the farm shop building.

Warminski and his sister won state honors with their team demonstration — "The Use of Volatile Liquids on the Farm" — last summer. Their script was based on a study the demonstrators made of hazards found on neighboring farms.

While Warminski, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Warminski, drew many compliments for his fine record, he gave full credit to his family, local adult leaders and county extension agents for guiding him along the 4H trail.

Warminski is in Chicago as a member of the Texas delegation to National 4H Club Congress.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Service By Eleanor Martin, Gene Robertson

LEFORS (Spl) — The Church of Christ in Lefors was the scene of a wedding on Nov. 21, uniting Miss Eleanor Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin, south of Pampa, and Gene Robertson, Lefors, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Robertson, Amarillo.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed by Minister Bob Beatty, Church of Christ Minister, of Groom, on the platform of the church before tapered candleabra holding tall lighted white candles, flanked by arrangements of palms and tall white baskets of giant red and white mums.

"I Love You Truly" was sung softly by a quartet, Mrs. Charles Roberts, Bob Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tutor, as the candles were being lighted by Misses Darlene Martin and Kay Lovell, dressed in identical red chiffon dresses, black half hats and accessories, rhinestone necklaces and wristlets of white carnations.

A solo, "Whither Thou Goest," was sung by Miss Sheila Cable, and two duets, "Because," and "True Love" were offered by Mr. and Mrs. Tutor. The wedding processional and recessional was sung by a chorus composed of Misses John Roberts, Charles Roberts, Bob Johns, Miss Judy Lane, Mr. Bob Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tutor.

BRIDE

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of imported French lace and tulle over white taffeta and nylon net, featuring long sleeves coming to points over the wrists and a square scalloped neckline. The long torso came to points in the front and back, accented with a huge bow in the back; the voluminous gathered skirt featured an inset of pleated nylon net in the front. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a pearl point crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis, atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Dale Brumley, Pampa, attended the bride as matron-of-honor, wearing a dress of red acetate crepe featuring short sleeves, a square low neckline coming to a V-shape in the back and featured a pleated cummerbund and full gathered skirt. She wore a black velvet half-hat and veil, rhinestone necklace and earrings, and carried a nosegay of red and white carnations.

Miss Sally Pullen, Pampa, was bridesmaid and Miss Ruth Martin, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid wearing dresses and accessories identical to the matron-of-honor. They carried nosegays of red and white carnations with streamers of red and white satin ribbon.

Miss Susan Martin, sister of the bride, was flowergirl and Master

Mr. Brainard attended Canadian High School and New Mexico Military Institute.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Brainard will make their home at Johns Creek Ranch near Spearman. The bridegroom's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson

Richard Roberts was ringbearer. Lefors and both will continue their present vocations.

REHEARSAL RECEPTION
A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin on Thursday night, following the wedding rehearsal.

The serving table was a spread buffet style with chocolate, cherry and date cakes, coffee and hot chocolate.

Learning to eat with spoon or fork is a trying time for Baby and the family. During this period also provide some finger foods such as long strips of cooked vegetables, peas and lima beans that can be picked up. These prevent complete frustration at the table for everyone involved.

Mrs. Robertson wore a tailored dress of navy crepe, accented at the button waist with an inset of red and white crepe, with which she wore black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the civic center. The receiving line was formed by the bride and bridegroom who cut the first piece of cake which was then served by Mrs. Hughes.

The serving table was laid in a white corded cloth over a scarlet linen cloth and held the elaborate five-tiered wedding cake, topped by a bride and groom in heart-shaped archway.

Mrs. Wilena Lovell presided at the crystal punch service assisted by Miss Barbara Henry. Miss Pat Berry caught the bridal bouquet thrown by the bride before she left for a week's honeymoon in San Antonio and points in South Texas.

Approximately three hundred guests attended the reception.

The bride was graduated from Lefors High School in 1956; attended Pampa Business School, was employed by the Boy Scout Office, and is presently employed in the office of Rex Rose Motor Co.

The bridegroom, Science and Math teacher for the seventh and eighth grades of Lefors Public Schools, graduated from Quail High School in 1951, received his BS degree from WTSC and a Master of Ed. degree of the past summer from Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. Before coming to Lefors, he taught one year each in Hobbs, N.M., and Broger.

Miss Gordon Feted With Bride's Party

Miss Joyce Gordon, bride-elect of Howard E. Grant, whose marriage will be an event of December 21, was honored with a bridal shower on Nov. 22 in the First Christian Church parlors.

Hostesses were Meses. J. B. Ayres, Emmett Osborne, W. L. Parker, R. E. Dauer, B. R. Nuckols, Frank Hogsett, Roy W. Williams, Laura Cornelius, Lewis Meers, W. G. Kinzer, Jim Goff, Herman Gantz, Shelby Gantz, H. M. Hassell and W. F. Taylor.

In the receiving lines were the honoree's mother, Mrs. B. G. Gordon, her sister, Mrs. John Gill, and the honoree. They wore corsages fashioned from white carnations.

Miss Ann Hutchins at the piano played background music during the evening.

The serving table was covered with a white ruffled net floor-length cloth over blue, carrying out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white, and centered with a crystal epergne filled with white carnations and tall tapers. Blue napkins inscribed in silver with "Howard and Joyce", silver and crystal, completed the service.

Coffee, tea and a variety of small, decorated cookies were served. Mrs. Herman Gantz and Mrs. W. G. Kinzer presided at the silver service.

Mrs. Gill assisted her sister in opening gifts.

Approximately 95 guests attended or sent gifts.

Sharp Group Presents Program For First Christian Women's Fellowship

Sharp Group of the First Christian Church presented the Christian Women's Fellowship program in the church on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Lloyd Laramore gave the devotional, "Growing Spiritually." Mrs. E. K. Haner showed slide pictures and narrated on the new state, Alaska. The pictures were taken by her brother, Arthur Bowsher, who was in Alaska for five years as a geologist for the Smithsonian Institute.

The Sharp group announced that Christmas cards were on display and that this will be the last week for orders; however, it was announced that they still have candy on hand for last-minute shoppers.

During the business session, Mrs.

Glenn Nichols, vice president, presided. Mrs. W. G. Kinzer gave the opening prayer.

Members discussed sending warm clothing to Yakima Indians and were asked to bring warm clothing that they did not need to the church by Dec. 18 for shipment.

Mrs. C. L. Mason asked all who are sending Christmas gifts to Juliette Fowler Children's home or Harwood Hall in Dallas, to bring the gifts, already gift-wrapped, to the church before Dec. 3 and she will mail them.

Mrs. Nichols reminded members to bring General Mills silverware coupons to the church. "Seventy-six pieces of silverware have just been received," she said.

PATTERN AGAINST PATTERN

There has been a sharp up-sweep in the use of pattern in recent months. This new trend is due, in part, to a universal demand for relief from the severe plainness that has characterized the first several decades of the age of Modern design. In an effort to express only the "light, clean, fresh and simple" — designers have put pattern, as we are used to thinking of it, aside for the most part, and placed the strongest emphasis on color form, and structure.

Today, while we are not abandoning the simple, clean concepts of basic design, we are once again using the arc, the circle, and the deft irregularity of shapes to add enrichment to our room plans.

This brings us to the questions of "How much pattern?" and "Can pattern be used against pattern?"

"How much?" depends, usually, on the size of the room. If you wish to use pattern against pattern, choose a wallpaper pattern that has a good deal of open space (see sketch above) . . . and choose pattern on upholstered pieces that are sympathetic with the wall design. Be sure that the colors blend, and completely dominate the other.

Keep floors and draperies to a solid color.

"Woman Made Miracles" Take Many Forms At Twentieth Century Club Meet

Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Gordon, 1811 Charles, for a program on "Woman Made Miracles" in connection with their year's study theme.

Mrs. Gordon displayed her creations of Christmas decorations. One was a mobile Christmas tree made with different size balloons, which had been pointed with thick starch then wound closely with string and sprayed with gilt and designs. Another interesting idea, presented by Mrs. Gordon, was the imitation stained glass windows made with designs cut from colored tissue paper; laced between wax paper to form panes of glass to be pasted on the window to resemble stained glass.

Mrs. Bob Andis said in her introduction of the program, "Though we live with each day bringing new wonders of science and new methods in daily living, nothing can supersede natural creative art. With progress comes adjustability. While we are looking at the wonders of today, we must also look forward to tomorrow."

Mrs. Roy McKernan spoke on "Holiday Foods" and gave interesting and tempting ideas. She asked, "What does cooking mean?" and continued, "It means the economy of your great-grandmothers and the science of modern chemists. It means much tasting and no wasting; it means English thoroughness, French art and Arabian hospitality."

Quoting from an article "Home Virtues" by John Ruskin, Mrs. McKernan gave this recipe for a "Grandmother's Cake": Use all the butter left from breakfast; as many eggs as you can spare; several handfuls of sugar; a pinch of salt; shake in some cinnamon, nutmeg and soda; a few raisins; some butter - milk, if you have it, if not, some sweet milk; ground salt pork or sausage; use the leftover jams and jellies from your pantry shelf; flour enough to make a good batter; bake in oven that feels just right to you hand; be careful not to add too much wood to the fire as your oven will become too hot; test with broomstick, when nothing sticks, it is done.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah showed some of her original ideas for gift wrapping: one in silver, snow-flaked paper with snowman stickers surrounded with snowbirds; one was a Christmas tree design fashioned from cuts of paper plates; another was a reindeer design from cut-tips on red jell paper; another was red jell paper tied with white yarn in square design with cut-out china plates; centering each plate was the letters on a friend's name. She also showed a shopping bag designed as a Santa Claus head.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell opened the meeting with the devotional "Test of Thankfulness" quoting, this prayer, "Dear Lord, Help me to care a little less about the house in which I live; the clothes I wear and the food I eat. Help me to care a little more about the gifts of energy and time that I can spend for Thee and for those around me."

Mrs. Kirk Duncan conducted the business meeting as plans were made for gifts of food for Thanksgiving and Christmas for individuals who could use these gifts.

Delightful refreshments were served from the tea table to the following members, Mrs. B. B. Andis, E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, Kirk Duncan, Raymond Harrah, Lloyd Hicks, Ronald Hubbard, V. J. Jamieson, Lorene Locke, Roy McKernan, Walter Pung, Robert Sanford, E. Roy Smith, H. E. Stanfield, R. W. Stowers, H. R. Thompson, G. G. Branson and the hostess, Mrs. Gordon.

Skirts and dresses that are marked durable - pleated, retain these pleats better if they don't go into an automatic dryer. These items should definitely drip-dry because it is the dripping water that shapes and resets the pleats.

Gross conducted the business. Plans for the Society's Christmas party to be Dec. 11th, were discussed. "Our Blessings" was the subject of the devotional program brought by Mrs. Bob Chase. Mrs. Chase used an article by Roy L. Smith, entitled "What is a Blessing?" "To pray for a genuine blessing calls for a fine quality of heroism," quoted Mrs. Chase. Scripture reading was by Mrs. J. L. Pierce. Mrs. A. L. Patrick led in the group singing of "Rise Up, O Men of God". Mrs. G. O. Hall, program leader, introduced the lesson "Human Rights and Human Needs." Discussion Of Art For Civic Culture

Civic Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack Hon for a program on art presented by Mrs. A. D. Hills with the theme "Wake Up To Art." In opening remarks, Mrs. Hills said, "When love and skill work together, expect a masterpiece." "The history of art is composed of events, which are paintings and sculptures, buildings and prints, furniture, everything we use to create the surroundings in which we live. These surroundings are changing all the time," she said. "We know that works of art produced by one generation cannot be like those produced by the generation before it," she continued. "The works of art we need now in the middle of the Twentieth Century are those which tell about ourselves, rather than about other times and places. All varieties of expression, which make up the style which belong to our time, has its roots in an environment, which is common to us all. We do not realize to what extent it also creates that environment." Mrs. Hills, to illustrate her discussion, displayed pieces of art, which she and others had made. Refreshments were served during the social hour. Attending were Meses. Carl Axelson, C. F. Pennington, R. E. Dauer, Irwin Cole, Ophelia Morris, Willis White, Katie Vincent, Stanley Brandt, W. C. Scott, A. D. Hills, Vera Lard and Louise Sewell. Members present in addition to those already mentioned were Meses. O. M. Butler, Mearl Black, F. E. Dyer, C. W. Kennemer and Lela Pearl Reed. The next meeting date for both circles will be Dec. 4th, Circle 1 at 7:30 p.m. and Circle 2 at 9:30 a.m.

"Plimoth Plantation" Historic Program For Twentieth Century Forum Club Meet

Twentieth Century Forum Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Kelley, 1715 Christine, on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. William L. Ellis and Mrs. John B. McCrery presenting the program entitled, "The Light Here Kindled" which concerned the Mayflower and the life story of Edward Winslow, one of the Pilgrim fathers who was influential in the beginnings of America. The program was illustrated by films projected by Mrs. McCrery during the narrations.

Mrs. McCrery and Mrs. Ellis have a particular interest in the historic vessel, "Plimoth Plantation" because both had ancestors who came over on the Mayflower. Mrs. Ellis is a direct descendant of Edward Winslow and Mrs. McCrery's ancestor is Edward Doty.

Mrs. McCrery chose to tell about the reproduction of "Pilgrims' Town, Plymouth, or as it was called, "Plimoth Plantation." "The idea," she said, of recreating the first Pilgrim village has been bouncing around for 100 years, but it did not become a reality until 13 years ago when members of the Pilgrim society gathered a nest egg of $20,000. The Hornblower family gave the land for the project. This gift stemmed from the excitement of a small boy, "Henry Hornblower II," years before when the great 300 anniversary of Thanksgiving was held in 1921. Henry Hornblower II watched the impressive parade in which there was a model of the Mayflower and decided then to make a career of preserving historical objects. He is now governor of "Plimoth Plantation."

Mrs. McCrery said that when the Pilgrims landed they built the meeting house first. "It served as a fort, with its old guns bristling at the sides, and as a common dormitory as well as for worship." "The present meeting house," she said, "is an exact copy as are the four little homes. They are models of the Bradford, Brewster, Howland and Warren houses; three more are being completed now. The plantation plans to furnish the houses with authentic antiques. They plan, also, to erect an Indian Village with a square, roofed look-out and a trading post. The plantation itself is two miles from the original Pilgrim landing, that area is now right in the heart of Plymouth downtown business area."

Mrs. McCrery further stated that the residents of this town of 20,000 will re-enact again this year that Thanksgiving procession of long ago. The procession will show the visitor that his mind picture of Pilgrims dressed all in gray is with the West India fleet, as a civil commissioner under Cromwell that Winslow died and was buried passengers, who survived that terrible winter, were a gaily colored band on that first Thanksgiving morning. The women wore white caps with blue, red, green or brown dresses. The men wore colorful tall hats with wide brims and bright buckles. Their trousers were varying colors and their coats were green or brown.

Mrs. Ellis, in opening remarks, stated that the Pilgrim Fathers occupy a paradoxical place in American History. "Actually they were of comparatively little importance in their own time, but with the passing of the years, they exert an increasingly significant influence on us through the traditions they established. The vital factor inspiring this little group was the faith in God, which imbued them and their enterprise with lasting value and enduring interest. However, it was the first colony in New England and it provided to the English Puritans, anxiously seeking new homes in a new world, that it was possible to make a living in New England, and in spiritual quality, the colony was second to none."

"Edward Winslow, the specific Pilgrim Father with whom I am concerned," said Mrs. Ellis, "was born in Dedworth, England. He was well educated. He had farming in his blood and was a dead shot with a gun and possessed an amazing knowledge of flora and country life. He loved books and wrote with ease and charm. At 17, he went to London to seek his fortune and became associated with the Separatist Church in Leyden and helped William Brewster and others in their important work of printing religious books."

"Edward Winslow with William Bradford, William Brewster and Miles Standish," Mrs. Ellis continued, "were the spearheads of the momentous movement of obtaining a patent from King James I which led to the adventure of the Mayflower in 1620 and to the successful settlement of the English race in the New World of North America. Winslow was accredited agent of the Colony in maintaining and increasing the contacts between the old Motherland and the new-born British Nation at Plymouth. He was considered second only to Miles Standish in negotiating successfully with the Indians. He was vitally concerned with affairs of church and state; was Governor of New Plymouth for some time. His writings depicted the early concerns of the country, the natives and the Church are interesting and reliable. It was on an expedition of Pilgrims dressed all in gray is with the West India fleet, as a civil commissioner under Cromwell that Winslow died and was buried at sea with full naval honors." In concluding remarks, Mrs. Ellis used a quotation from Governor William Bradford, who in simple eloquence when speaking of the founders of New Plymouth, said, "Thus out of small beginnings greater things have been produced by His Hand that made all things of nothing and gives so 'the light here-kindled' hath shown to many, yea in some sort to our whole nations."

Refreshments were served during the social hour to the following members, Meses. Roy Bourland, Bob Curry, Joe M. Daniel Jr., E. J. Dunigan Jr., H. C. Federer Jr., William L. Ellis, William T. Fraser, J. R. Holloway, R. G. Hughes, Homer D. Johnson, W. Calvin Jones, John B. McCrery, M. McDaniel, Henry J. Rose, Aubrey Steele, Arthur Teed and C. B. Wilkinson.

Mrs. H. H. Bratcher was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Dow King, president. Mr. McNeel gave a talk on safety on the highways and also discussed the many problems created by emotions. San Angelo School System To Be Studied By Russians

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI)—Ten Russian educators will visit San Angelo next week to find out how it runs its school system.

The Russians are making an extensive tour of American educational institutions under sponsorship of the U. S. Office of Education.

San Angelo was picked because of its advanced "track" system which permits high school students to progress at their own speed.

The Reds will be taken on tour of the city's "ageless" high school system, and perhaps will even tour the elementary schools which include the Belaire elementary school, a showpiece in its novel architectural design, and the 10-building, 60-acre San Angelo College, a junior college run by the city and county.

To Arrive Wednesday

The Russians, with State Department personnel at their elbows, are scheduled to arrive in San Angelo next Wednesday and stay through Friday. School superintendent G. B. Wadzek and they city are planning a big welcome.

United States Education Commissioner Lawrence G. Derthick's office said the enthusiasm of San Angelo about the tour played a big part in putting the city on the Russians' itinerary.

The Russians will arrive in Washington Sunday for the start of the overall, nearly five-weeks tour and will return home Dec. 18.

Marks Return Visit

The tour is a return visit to USSR educational installations made last May and June by a delegation of American educators headed by Derthick.

The visiting party will include Dr. A. I. Markushovich, first assistant minister of education; N. A. Gavrilenko, official of the state's planning committee; D. N. Taptikov, chief of the division of international relations in the Russian ministry of education; K. B. Rashidov, assistant minister of education in the Uzbek Soviet Republic; S. S. Sagindykov, member of the ministry of education for the Kazakh Soviet Republic; A. A. Smirnov, vice president of the Russian Academy of Pedagogical Sciences; and S. G. Sgspovenko, director of the scientific research institute on teaching methods of the academy.

Mexico City Festive For New President

By JAIME FLENN
United Press International

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The week-long festivities celebrating inauguration of Mexico's new president next Monday were in full swing Saturday, with delegations from 51 countries here for the occasion.

The holiday atmosphere was marred only by some indications of anti-U.S. agitation, obviously Communist inspired.

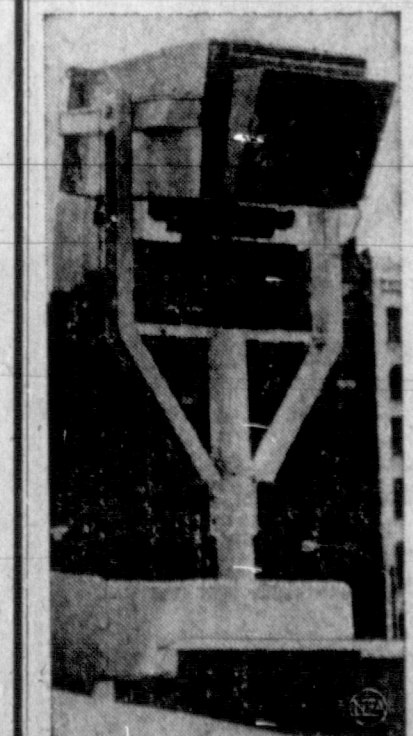

A steady round of events began Thursday and will wind up next Wednesday night with a foreign office reception for the officials who came to attend the inauguration of Adolfo Lopez Mateos, former secretary of labor.

As is customary on most high state occasions, all law enforcement agencies were put on an alert status to combat any possible hostile demonstrations.

Tangible evidence of an organized effort to embarrass Secretary of State Foster Dulles, due Sunday night to head up the U.S. delegation, appeared in anonymous mimeographed letters sent through the mails. The letters urged recipients to protest Dulles' presence as "an enemy of Mexico and all weak nations."

Telephone calls were coming in to the U.S. embassy urging "Fuera Dulles" (Dulles, Get Out), apparently following other instructions in the anonymous letters. The missives also suggested earing of black ties, whistling and hooting on appearance of Dulles or his group, and smearing sidewalks with red paint.

BRIDGE TENDER—There's a television camera, complete with windshield wiper, installed in the all-weather enclosure seen above. The camera is at one end of the Monroe St. bridge in Chicago. There used to be a bridge tender at each end, but with the aid of the TV camera, a single attendant is able to look at the picture screen and see if anyone or a vehicle is on the bridge before raising it to let a ship through.

'Delighted,' Nixon Says To Challenge

By WILLIAM F. SUNDERLAND
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday night the West would be "delighted" to accept Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's challenge to an economic race between the Communist and free worlds.

Nixon warned, however, that the West could not let down its military guard while "the law of the jungle" prevailed.

The vice president told a dinner meeting of the English Speaking Union that "the world would be infinitely better off if man's energies were used for the welfare of families rather than the building of armies."

Besides, he added, "in such a contest no one could really lose."

Nixon's speech ended a busy day which included a surprise call on Sir Winston Churchill and attendance with his wife, Pat, Queen Elizabeth and other members of the royal family at the dedication of the American Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral. The Nixons arrived Tuesday for a four-day visit.

"Just a few weeks ago," Nixon told the dinner meeting, "Premier Khrushchev promised his people a revolution in living standards within the next twelve years. He claimed that the Communist system would overtake and surpass the economies of the Western world."

"If Mr. Khrushchev wishes to consider these steps as a form of competition or contest," Nixon said, "I am sure that all of us would be delighted to accept the challenge."

Economic Stability Important
His speech stressed the importance of proving the west's economic stability. He said the economic battleground now was in Asia, the Middle East, Africa and Latin America.

Referring to the dedication of the American chapel, Nixon paid a tribute to the former British prime minister he visited earlier in the day and to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Our thoughts went back to our great national leaders, Sir Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt," he said.

"They will receive the ungrudging tribute of history for capacity to marshal the forces of democracy," he said.

Nixon broke his planned schedule to drop in at Churchill's London residence. He said later he and the veteran statesman discussed recent world events, with particular emphasis on the importance of Anglo-American relations.

Sir Winston, still his country's chief exponent of the Anglo-American alliance, said he hoped to be able to accept an invitation from President Eisenhower to visit the United States next May, Nixon told newsmen.

Unveil Honor Roll
Nixon, here for a four-day visit, called on the former British prime minister after taking part in ceremonies at St. Paul's Cathedral where Queen Elizabeth unveiled an honor roll containing the names of 25,000 Americans who died in an around the British Isles during World War II.

The vice president spent 25 minutes with Sir Winston, who will turn 84 years old next Sunday. His parting words, referring to Churchill's prospective visit to the United States, were "I know the President will be glad to see you."

Sir Winston had intended to go to America last spring, but illness prevented him from doing so.

Texaco Honors Gilbert With Farewell Party

W. T. Gilbert, District warehouseman for the Texas Company and a Texaco employee the past 43 years, was honored Saturday at a retirement party in Pampa.

Among many old friends and visiting supervisors attending were L. T. Barnett Jr., division warehouseman, Dallas; R. E. Murphy, assistant division warehouseman, Dallas; P. D. Grommon, district superintendent, Wichita Falls; and J. L. George, district warehouseman, Wichita Falls.

Gilbert, who first began work in Pampa in 1926, was presented a cash gift from W. P. Jordan, representing the Texas Co., and was extended congratulations by S. R. Lenning, Pampa district superintendent, P. M. Wiley, assistant superintendent, and L. T. Barnett.

Gilbert began his career with Texaco at Beaumont in 1916. In 1921 he was transferred to Houston, and the following year was transferred to Wichita Falls. Four years later he came to Pampa.

On his first automobile trip into Pampa, Gilbert recalled, he became stuck in mud in front of the 1st National bank building.

During his years in Pampa Gilbert held the positions of field clerk warehouseman, production foreman, district clerk and district warehouseman.

He has also been active in St. Paul Methodist church, and until recently, was a member of Rotary club. He has an elaborate wood-working shop where he plans to spend most of his time after retirement.

Totalitarianism

This century is marked by a gigantic paradox. In this country, particularly, we have seen printed and published, reams of treatises and documents in ferocious opposition to the totalitarian state. At the same time, and with a pervasiveness beyond description, we have been pushing our own government to become totalitarian as rapidly as possible.

The only possible explanation is this. We don't like to see any other nation become totalitarian under the impression that our own government will always be benevolent and that if it has sufficient power it can offset the tyranny expressed in alien lands.

At the base of this fallacy is a peculiar faith, almost a frenzy, that "democratic" government provides the cure for all ills inherent in all other kinds of government. If this nation falls, it will be because we put our faith in a democratic process rather than in principles of sound moral understanding.

We imagine that if only people have a chance to express themselves at the polls, all evils will ultimately be overcome; we can banish war, pestilence, starvation and human misery. The democratically installed ballot box has become the Moloch of our time. We worship it in the same manner the ancient Babylonians invoked Bel, the bright sun god, from the peak of the far famed Ziggurat.

Yet, recent careful studies of comparative criminality, of 967 wars and 1629 internal disturbances in the history of Greece, Rome and the Western countries since 600 B.C. up to the present time, show that democracies have hardly been less belligerent, turbulent and crime-infested than autocracies. Pitirim A. Sorokin of Harvard has made the studies indicate that totalitarian power is a natural outgrowth of any kind of government, and that any kind of government can descend to criminality.

Let us take the country of France as an example. Twenty years ago, according to a report may be arrested, fined and end in jail.

When his harvest is in, he finds his prices determined by the federal government. If erosion appears on his land, the federal government will pay him to remove it. If he fancies a new dam, a lake or some other quasi-irrigation project, the federal government will underwrite the cost.

If he earns nothing, the federal government will pay him anyhow. And if he earns much, the federal government will underwrite his costs and, in certain cases, pay him a huge bonus for what he has done.

Meanwhile, the federal government erects uncounted silos and storage bins in which to store the unwanted produce from a thousand unnecessary farms.

The farmer no longer has the joy of knowing that he is feeding thousands. The farmer simply serves the government and the government feeds whom it will. The government has become the giant middleman in agriculture, settling forth orders in milk, marketing, butter, soybeans, wheat, cotton, peanuts, and other products which orders have turned hundreds of farmers into criminals.

And to sustain this wholesale interventionism, the taxpayers of the nation pay both the supported price of the farm products in the market place, and additionally, via the tax route, pay an added fee to help support both the price and the subsidy.

Nowhere in this nation is there any other business so thoroughly and arbitrarily controlled as agriculture. Circa 1950, our farmers became little more than serfs, tied to land which is underwritten and controlled by the most colossal barony ever to be formed in all of feudal times. It is all of this, and more, that Master Newsom had in mind.

Nor is it necessary to advocate an economy of scarcity, he challenged. On the contrary, the free market would encourage maximum production, for the farmer would gain by superlative production and he would gain by large production. Additionally, surpluses in a free market do not become a burden, but rather become a blessing to all.

We hope the members of the National Grange will follow the wise counsel of their elected leaders.

"Nature's Laws and Man's"

Most of our trouble, it seems to me, comes from men trying to substitute civil or man-made law for natural laws.

Dr. William H. Peterson, Associate Professor of Economics at New York University, has a very interesting article in the November "Freeman" magazine on the subject of "Nature's Laws and Man's Laws."

I want to pass on some of the ideas Dr. Peterson expresses in his article. He writes:

"... The Nineteenth century was a remarkable century. It was a century of political liberty, free trade, and the gold standard, a century in which slavery was banished almost the world over and the British corn laws repealed, a century of science, a century of choice, a century of the inherent dignity of the individual. Essentially, no government burned coffee, operated public granaries, issued fiat on permissible acreages, paid farmers not to farm, nor sold surplus to foreigners more cheaply than to its own citizens. The farmer was a free man, independent on his own acres, beholden to no one but his God, assured of a living if he only worked hard enough. It did happen. It is passing. Now it belongs to history and the poets."

"A generation of 'farm policy' adds up to hopeless tinkering, fantastic losses, planned chaos, a lost war against Nature's laws. The battles have names: The Fordney-McCumber Tariff, the McNary-Haugen Bill, the Farm Marketing Board, the Smoot-Hawley Tariff, the AAA, Soil Conservation, the Ever-Normal Granary, the 'Food Stamp Plan, 90 Per Cent of Parity, the Brannan Plan, Flexible Parity, the Soil Bank, Overseas Surplus Disposal. The irony is that the farmer to be 'saved' wasn't; since the New Deal, one of every three farmers has quit. The exodus from farming, in a sense a triumph of efficiency over bureaucracy, continues to this day."

"The second phase of the tragedy of 'modern' farm intervention is that it is but a chapter in a much longer but unfinished story; it is a part of a philosophy, a way of life, a return to mercantilism, a recall to the planned society of Imperial Rome. How will the story end?"

"Freedom is total: as long as man exercises neither (aggressive) force nor the threat of force against his fellow man, freedom exists. The duty of government, then, is to preserve freedom — to use its force only to repel force; the spirit of free enterprise and liberalism will do the rest. The modern dilemma is that competition, the law of supply and demand, however worshiped in the abstract, is nowadays shot through with privileges extended by government and eagerly sought by its citizens."

"The farmer is not alone. Government, as Voltaire noted, has become the art of taking from some and giving to others. The businessman looks for a tariff, the veteran for a pension, the shipper for a subsidy, the worker for a minimum wage, the periodical publisher for an artificial mailing cost, the industrialist for a defense contract, the silver producer for the monetization of silver, the labor official for immunity from the antitrust laws, the elderly for Social Security, the bureaucrat for power, the debtor for inflation, and so on and on, the State ever swelling, the individual ever shrinking."

"It is an age of amorality, an age of seeking something for nothing, of shedding private responsibility and becoming wards of the State — the Welfare State. It happened before, Rome, for instance, had its 'bread and circuses.' It tried to repeal Nature's laws — for example the law of self-reliance and the law of supply and demand. Nature was not denied then. Will she be denied now?"

"In the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson, more than a century ago:

"The harvest will be better preserved and go farther, laid up in private bins, in each farmer's corn-barn, and each woman's basket, than if it were kept in national granaries."

"In like manner, an amount of money will go farther if expended by each man and woman for their own wants, and in the feeling that this is their all, than if expended by a Great Steward, or National Commissioners of the Treasury."

"Take away from me the feeling that I must depend upon myself, give me the least hint that I have good friends and backers there in reserve who will gladly help me and instantly I relax my diligence."

"Give no bounties, make equal laws, secure life and property, and you will not need to give alms. Open the doors of opportunity to talent and virtue, and they will do themselves justice and property will not be in bad hands. In a free and just commonwealth, property rushes from the idle and imbecile to the industrious, brave, and persevering. The level of the sea is not more surely kept than is the equilibrium of value in society by demand and supply; and artificial and legislation punish themselves by reaction, glut, and bankruptcies."

In the words of President Grover Cleveland in vetoing federal aid to the Texas drought farmers of his day: "It is the business of citizens to support the Government, not of the Government to support the citizens."

"Which will triumph, Nature's laws or man's laws?"

Robert Allen Reports:

'Policy Paper' Plays An Important Role

WASHINGTON — An exceptional "policy paper" is playing a decisive role in U.S. strategy in the Berlin crisis.

Prepared by the State Department's policy planning staff, headed by Assistant Secretary Gerard Smith, this potent study spells out the two key bases on which this country is predicating its adamant stand in this explosive situation:

"That under the Potsdam treaty, Russia cannot unilaterally turn over control of its Berlin sector to the puppet Red regime of East Germany."

Should the Soviet do this, the three other parties to this treaty, the U.S., Britain and France, would have "full legal and moral right" to assume "administrative jurisdiction" over that zone.

This militant view is strongly supported by members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

President Eisenhower has personally read the State Department's forceful "policy paper." He took it with him to Augusta for that purpose, and in discussions with assistants has indicated he is greatly impressed by it.

Particularly striking the President is the paper's emphatic contention that East Germany is wholly a Russian "creature" and without any rights in Berlin.

Secretary Dulles has strongly stressed this study's vigorous views in his exchanges with Britain and France. They evinced some uneasiness over the concept of the three Western powers taking control of the Kremlin relic in the East German zone.

It was this backstage attitude that led to those widely-published reports, from London and Paris, of a rift between the U.S. and its allies over Berlin policy.

Actually, all the latter sought was clarification of the "policy paper."

Neither Prime Minister Macmillan nor Premier de Gaulle has indicated any softening in position.

L. R. Seaman of Bakersfield, president of Intex Oil Co., assertedly charged that this deficiency is being covered with an unprecedented search for "the most trivial recreations" in world history.

Well, it seems likely that this applies not alone to businessmen but, to a greater or lesser extent, to most of the rest of us as well.

Where, then, can we obtain this needed education in the science of living?

The best textbook on the subject that I know of is the Bible and the place where it ought to be taught is in the church.

What is the fundamental axiom in the science of living? I believe Paul comes close to it when he says, "... we have been called into liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another."

Is not this the essence of scientific living — in liberty and by love to serve one another? Would not most of our troubles be solved, most of our turmoil be ended, and our joys be multiplied if we were to live by this scientific formula?

Down South

TIME TO RALLY

How to break the stranglehold radicals undoubtedly will have on the next session of Congress is a question every conservative ought to start considering right away — and this has nothing to do with political parties.

Make no mistake, the situation will be serious between now and the 1960 elections. All the wild spending schemes that were threatened in the last Congress but failed to pass because not enough votes were available, are likely to go through when Congress convenes. The country has just witnessed a radical sweep. Though the landslide didn't directly affect the South on November 4th, the South will feel shocks for months and perhaps years to come. Staunch defenders of free enterprise such as Senators Knowland of California and Bricker of Ohio were beaten by the massed power and propaganda of union bosses. In many ways, they fought the good fight for our way of life.

Conservatives shouldn't say, "All is lost." Those who lie down and quit in the face of adversity do not deserve to win. Sometimes it takes a reversal for a man or a movement or a country to realize the need for making a big effort. There will be blows ahead. Most probably Senate Rule 22, which guarantees unlimited debate, will be knocked down by the radicals. The result will be phony reform legislation that will be aimed at the Southern States.

However, how far Britain and France would support a get-tough policy toward the Reds is still undetermined.

One reason is this thorny issue has not yet arisen. In Secretary Dulles' discussions with the British and French, he has not proposed Western occupation of the Soviet zone. He has explained the legal grounds for doing that, as propounded in the "policy paper." But this is far as he has gone.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Air Force and Army are quietly preparing for any eventuality in Berlin.

The Air Force has hurriedly begun extensive improvements at the Tempelhof airport, main center of the historic 1948-49 airlift. A special grant of $2,000,000 has been authorized to enlarge hangars, extend and resurface runways, modernize communications and underground facilities, and other necessary construction work.

The Army has started training special "Ranger units" from U.S. troops in Germany.

A new Communist blockade of Berlin would not be the dire peril it was ten years ago. Enough food is already stockpiled there for six months' normal consumption, and sufficient fuel to last for a year. By rationing, these supplies could be stretched out even longer. In one huge depot alone in West Berlin there are 3,500,000 tons of food and other supplies. This is equivalent to the total tonnage airlifted during the 1948-49 blockade.

GETTING SET — Italian Communists are preparing to stage violent demonstrations when the first U.S. missiles reach that country early next year. Intelligence reports that the Reds are already planning these propaganda moves. Two of the 10 squadrons of intermediate range ballistic missiles the U.S. will station in NATO countries are slated for Italy. One of these squadrons will be the Army's JUPITER. Guatemala's Foreign Minister Under wants his country to "create and put into operation a navy as soon as possible." He is calling on the U.S. for help on that. Under claims a navy is necessary to put an end to the "constant invasion of Guatemalan territorial waters by pirate fishing ships."

A reversal of progress — and that's what the election means — should lead to re-dedication to states rights and free enterprise. For the South, the months and years ahead should be a time of self-examination. Southerners should say to each other and to themselves, "Let's look at the realities! Let's team up with conservatives elsewhere in the United States."

This is still a conservative country, no matter what the vote totals are in certain states or how effective the union bosses were in crushing outspoken advocates of the right-to-work.

The conservatives are simply handicapped in that they are divided. If they get together, they can prevent the country from moving to the left.

Southerners surely are too smart to let their opportunities drift by in a time of crisis. The future of the South and of the nation depend upon how conservatives rally together to resist the leftists who seek to spend the U. S. into totalitarianism and utter dependence upon the welfare state philosophy.

There is a traditional rallying cry of our nation that has always appealed to the courage of the people. It should be especially appealing right now to conservatives generally — "We have just begun to fight."

How Many Are Set For Enemy Attack?

By HENRY McLEMORE

It would be interesting — if a bit alarming — to learn how many people in the United States know what to do, and are prepared to do it, in case of an all-out enemy attack on this country.

Here's one who wouldn't, and my guess would be that there are millions more like me. This mass ignorance — if it exists, as I believe it does — could prove catastrophic. It was, then, with much interest, that I talked with General Bruce C. Clarke, who was at the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs while I was. The General, now head of all American armies, was in Colorado to address a nation-wide meeting of civil defense directors. The last time I had seen General Clarke was in Stuttgart, a year ago, when he was a Lt. General and commanded the U. S. Seventh Army, the backbone of NATO forces in Europe.

He wears his fourth star well. It becomes him. I have met many servants of the United States, but none more dedicated than Bruce C. Clarke. He not only thinks preparedness 24 hours a day, but works at it. In Germany, in his efforts to keep the 7th Army at a split-second readiness, he was in the field at least 20 days of each month, inspecting, suggesting, ordering, keeping close to the Army that is the shield of Europe.

Now that he is the Continental Army Command, he hasn't let up. Talk to him, and you talk of America's safety. Charm and graciousness he has a plenty, but no small talk. Civil defense has a high priority in his thoughts, for with every inch of the United States in reach of enemy attack, every citizen is, in a sense, a soldier. And soldiers are General Clarke's business.

There are those who want the Army to assume responsibility for Civil Defense.

In his address to the Civil Defense gathering, Clarke laid down the policy of the Department of Defense, not his, on the matter. And the policy of the Department of Defense is that while the Army will, of course, lend every possible assistance, its primary objective is whipping the enemy, winning the war. Nothing else must interfere with that.

General Clarke feels — aside from any national policy — that every citizen owes it to his country, if not to himself, to be as ready as possible for attack.

"Even if there are citizens who don't care about themselves," he told me, "they shouldn't let the country down. Every one should make an all-out effort to acquaint himself with his duties in case an attack comes. There will be no place for the idle, the hysterical, the aimless, the well, the slackers, if you want."

"In case of war, a concerted, knowing effort on the part of every citizen will be needed. Every one will be a soldier, and every one should conduct himself as a soldier, and do his very best just as if he had taken the oath that a soldier takes. The Army will be ready to do all it can for civilians, but commonsense rules that it pursue its first aim — that of destroying the enemy."

DRAFT RAILWAY WORKERS

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The government, seeking to head off the threat of a nation-wide rail strike, has ordered all railway workers drafted into the army.

pad and a reset alarm.

This method has apparently brought some good results where other means have failed. It requires a good deal of attention by the parents.

Children do not all acquire bladder control at exactly the same age. Therefore it is a mistake to worry about a child of four who still wets the bed merely because a brother or sister or a neighbor's child achieved control at the age of three.

Political Tears May Be Too-Soon

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It just is possible that the tears and obituaries shed and uttered for times may have been premature.

The Republican conservatives are down right enough, but not quite out. Consider, for example:—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, will be a candidate again for re-election as House Republican leader. Rep. talking of opposing Martin for that post, Martin is a conservative. Hallock stands much closer to Eisenhower modern Republicanism than he does to Martin. The word on Capitol Hill, however, is that Martin will be re-elected.

—Modern Republicans in the Senate want a share in the party leadership there and more than a share if they can get it. They are likely to put one of their own in a new post of assistant leader to be created for their convenience. But the new Senate Republican leader to succeed conservative Sen. William F. Knowland of California, most likely will be the conservative choice, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

Goldwater Still Strong

—Senate Republicans have another important spot to fill—the chairmanship of the Senate Republican campaign committee. The man most discussed now for that job is Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.). Goldwater is a conservative. He is aggressive and he is smart. More significantly, perhaps, Goldwater is the chief surviving Republican spokesman for those conservative elements of the party who believe they must meet the political challenge of organized labor head-on.

Goldwater regards the Auto Workers' Walter P. Reuther as a political menace and says so, right out in public. Republican policy makers have been strangely reluctant to stand up and be counted behind Goldwater in his reckless with Reuther. Reuther is smart, courageous, articulate and a master of political technique. He's no patsy and Republicans know that whoever tangles with him is likely to be hurt.

Goldwater's charge against Reuther is, basically, that he condones violence for political purposes. In a speech last spring, the Senator cited a document in support of charges that Reuther had directed the use of force and funds in obtaining power in Michigan's Democratic Party.

Charges "CIO" Powerful

"This document," said Goldwater, "written by a CIO expert named Calkins, tells the story of the growth of CIO union power within the Democratic Party of Michigan and how the seizure of the party machinery first was decided upon and carried out."

"In 1950, I understand the traditional Democrats made a last vain attempt to take back their party from the CIO politicians of Michigan. The Calkins investigation shows how this last attempt was smashed by equipping each of the Wayne County (Detroit) district conventions with small squads of men ready to use force to prevent regular Democrats from regaining power."

"The leader of the armed squad which took over the Democratic convention in the 15th district told Calkins he was equipped with six men, 20 clubs and two pistols. By

Man Behind The Wheel Can Keep Blood Off Highways

By DOC QUIGG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Do you feel like a moral offender? One of the frightening aspects of the national traffic blood-letting that will occur from tonight through Sunday night is the lack of moral responsibility of the man behind the wheel.

"This man, in many cases, is behaving close to his animal nature—behaving crudely, callously, while shielded by the anonymity that automobile travel affords."

How to make him understand that he is morally responsible, as an individual, for his actions behind the wheel? The problem has been a stumper for the experts. A recent suggestion is that churches can help.

In a study of human behavior as a factor in traffic accidents, Dr. James L. Maffett writes in the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science that the high accident rate supports the view that the driving public is not safety conscious.

"In each of us is a desire for calculated risks of excitement," he says. "Our daily activities may provide little of this excitement and indeed may represent a series of minor frustrations with no immediate opportunity for outlet so that, consciously or not, we sometimes enjoy taking a little risk, such as speeding and cutting in and out of traffic."

The social deviate invites accidents—but the normal person looking for a "change of pace" makes the same type of driving errors.

Much of the safety publicity, Maffett observes, is based on fear or anxiety—slogans such as "The life you save may be your own" and pictures of gruesome accidents with the implication that "This could be you." However, he says, a typical reaction to fear is trying to reduce or remove it—inattention to the fear stimulus.

"Little effort," he says, "is made to reinforce the driver's understanding that he is morally responsible . . . Some primitive tribes have a rite—of passage ceremony in which the young adult is given a spear and told of its uses for hunting and killing, but warned not to use it on his own tribe. Perhaps something comparable could be done with today's driving novices."

Some community organization might sponsor public discussions of the pleasures, hazards, and responsibilities, and he suggests that a great potential for this would be the churches—stressing the moral aspects of driving a car.

Russia Will Sell Cheap Benzene To Dow Chemical

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Soviet Union will sell about $13,000,000 worth of benzene to the Dow Chemical Co. at about 6 cents a gallon cheaper than current prices in the United States.

Dow Chemical announced the agreement with the Soviet government Friday. It said the company will be delivered 27 million gallons of benzene annually during 1959 and 1960.

Dow will pay for the benzene in Dutch currency at a price comparable to about 25 cents a gallon. Benzene produced by U.S. companies sells now for 31 cents a gallon.

Dow said it made the deal for the obvious "economic advantages" and because it assured the company of "dependability" in its supplies of benzene.

A HORRENDOUS CHOICE

HARLINGTON, England (UPI)—Residents of this village were faced today with what is, for Englishmen, a horrendous choice. Council Clerk Eric White said electricity supplies haven't kept up with the expanding population and "there's not enough electricity for us to have both the TV set and an electric tea kettle on at the same time."

HOLIDAY CHILDREN

HARLAN, Iowa (UPI)—Mrs. Kenneth Blum gave birth to her third child on Thanksgiving Day. Her first was born on New Year's Day and her second on Christmas.
