One U-Turn Caused It All

Here's what happened to a roofing-loaded truck on U. S. Highway 80 Monday when a car made a U-turn in its path. Luckily, the truck driver — Carlos Burch of Dallas — walked away from the wreckage with three band-aid size scratches. The accident happened at the U. S. 80 freeway detour two miles east of Colorado City.

HOMETOWN VALUE

Neighbors Count High in Business

Why do you live in Colorado City?

There is a warm neighborliness . . . the dignity and satisfaction of life in a community like Colorado City.

And there is life as it is lived in the cities . . . as one of a scrambling herd, where neighborliness is viewed with suspicion, and where squalor is the lot of anybody who gets pushed aside in the rat race.

Those who live in Colorado City, generally speaking, have already voted their preference for the more tranquil smaller community unit as a way of living. They like churches where everybody knows everybody else, schools where they know their children's teachers.

They like a living that is more calm, easier, safer . . . and they like business dealings with neighbors they can depend upon.

ARRESTED BY STANTON POLICE

Shoe Tracks Link Suspect to Two Local School Burglaries

Tracks left by canvass top shoes have brought burglary charges here against a 50-year-old Odessa man.

At the same time, the man has become a prime suspect in a series of burglaries over a wide area of West Texas during the last few months.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon filed the charges against the suspect, identified as Robert Jackson Forrest.

He is charged with burglary of Westbrook School Friday night, Oct. 17, when approximately $50 in cash was taken, and with the Monday night burglary of D. W. Wallace School, where only about $1 in dimes was reported missing.

Forrest was picked up Tuesday by police as he slept in his 1953 Pontiac sedan beside the highway near Stanton.

Stanton police questioned the suspect and then radioed towns in the area for data on recent burglaries.

Police Chief Leon Yeager and Deputy Sheriff Lewis Claxton had observed that foot tracks in the vicinity of both Wallace and Westbrook schools had noticeable bar-type marking across shoe tread.

Stanton authorities said the foot imprint made Forrest a definite suspect for the burglaries here.

Pelony charges were filed after statements made by Forrest to Stanton police were received here by the district attorney.

Sweetwater, Lamesa, Stanton and Midland are other cities that want to question Forrest in connection with burglaries.

Entrance to Wallace school Monday night was gained through a window. An unsuccessful attempt was made to break into the school's cold drink machine. However, only loot taken was $1 in dimes from the school's milk fund and four pounds of butter.

About $45 in cash from the school office and additional money from the cold drink machine were taken at Westbrook when entrance to the school building was gained through a pried window.

Frees on $5,000 bond is A. D. Williams, 55, who is charged with murder here in connection with the stabbing death of Gus Carter early last year.

Hundreds Given Weekly In Cash

Merchant "money trees" will offer cash prizes totaling thousands of dollars to Colorado City shoppers in November and December.

Forty local firms already have signed as participants in the "money tree" promotion sponsored by Chamber of Commerce merchants committee. Upward to 100 Colorado City firms are expected to sign as participating in the special pre-Christmas shopping feature before the first cash prizes are given away free.

Merchants in the "money tree" program will be furnished special Christmas tree posters to be displayed in the promotion days.

At the Chamber office the winning shoppers — after check of their license receipts — will be presented cash prizes ranging from $1 to more than $100 each.

Nobody will know the amount of the prizes until the cards taken from the "money trees" will be matched with numbers in the chamber office.

LEADING THE merchants committee in the sign-up of business firms in support of the "money tree" program is Bud Everett, who reported that business firms are enthusiastic for the new pre-Christmas promotion.

Busy with him contacting merchants are Jeff Taylor, Arthur Kelley, Walter Rogers, Leo Norrell, Philip Berman, John T. Merritt, J. Ralph Lee, L. J. Taylor, Charles Freeman, Raymond Fuller, Bob Thompson, H. E. Manis, Paul Boyd Hunter, Ira Utz and Bob Reilly.

All Saints Canvass for Minister Fund

The bishop's committee of All Saints Church has approved plans for an every-member canvass with the goal of obtaining a resident Episcopal minister in Colorado City.

Dick Wistrand, local insurance man, has been appointed chairman of the canvass.

Noting that the local Episcopal church has a history which ante-dates the organization of this Episcopal Diocese, Wistrand said he has challenged by letter the members of All Saints to "live up to this heritage by putting first things first" to enable his mission, organized in 1831, to become a parish.

Bishop George A. Quarterman of Amarillo has conferred with Wistrand and indicated that he can assign a resident minister to Colorado City's All Saints Church in 1960 if the immediate canvass for $8,000 is subscribed by local membership.

All Saints currently is ministered by Rev. Donald N. Hungerford of Snyder, who travels here for services at 9 a. m. each Sunday.

IN SOIL DISTRICT

Award to Honor Top Supervisor

An outstanding supervisor of Mitchell County Soil Conservation District will be honored this year.

Selection of the award winner will be made by a local committee named in the 8th Annual Soil Conservation District Supervisors' Awards Program of Texas Bank & Trust Company of Dallas.

Chairman of the selection committee is Gus Chesney, vice president of City National Bank.

Other members of his committee are K. L. Taylor, president of First State Bank in Lorraine; J. W. King, publisher of Lorraine's Mitchell County News; A. V. Sheppard, Soil Conservation Service unit conservationist with the local district; and Joe Bell, co-publisher of Colorado City Record, which in 1955 earned the first place award among the nation's newspapers for service to agriculture.

The outstanding supervisor selected by the committee will be presented a gold certificate of merit for his service in behalf of conservation farming.

In addition, the local winner will be entered in the awards program's area competition.

Winners of the five area awards will be eligible to compete for the state award — $500 for the state No. 1 supervisor and wife to study methods of soil conservation farming and ranching in some part of the U. S.

Among areas of service to be considered in the awards selection are length of service to district board, board meeting attendance, time and thought devoted to district activities, leadership, participation in state and national conservation district conventions, application of conservation to farm and ranch.

Chesney said the local winner will be selected prior to November 15.

THE UNITED WAY

PROGRESS IS SLOW

Fund Drive at $17,135 Level

Leaders for Mitchell County United Fund urged renewed vigor in the fund's financial campaign as the drive passed the $17,000 mark.

Progress in the campaign for $27,885 inched forward slowly as the appeal was made for all citizens to join together in an "over-the-top" effort.

Total contributions (pledges and cash donations) reported Saturday at United Fund headquarters in Civic House were $17,135.

The new total was slightly more than $1,000 above the Thursday report of $15,944.

The Saturday report included contributions obtained by four major divisions in the once-for-all roundup to obtain funds for nine health, welfare and youth agencies participating in United Fund.

But all of the four divisions were below the goals set for them.

With the best percentage record Saturday was the advance gifts division, commanded by Dr. Kenneth Cowan.

More than half of the entire collection has been by volunteer workers in advance gifts. They have collected $10,759 in pledges and donations.

But they are still short of their goal between $13,000 and $14,000.

Special gifts division, which has the assignment to collect more than $3,500, reported $2,386 — $70 more that the division collected in the entire campaign period last fall.

However, the general solicitors still have approximately $1,000 to go before reaching their goal.

Late to go into action, but still far short of its goal, is the employees division. Last year the employees group — boosted by pledged contributions by the working staffs of local business and industry — contributed the second largest amount to the entire United Fund.

Only $2,000 has been reported so far this fall by the employees workers — $5,000 short of the division's goal.

Chesney said the local winner will be selected prior to November 15.

The outstanding supervisor selected by the committee will be presented a gold certificate of merit for his service in behalf of conservation farming.

In addition, the local winner will be entered in the awards program's area competition.

Winners of the five area awards will be eligible to compete for the state award — $500 for the state No. 1 supervisor and wife to study methods of soil conservation farming and ranching in some part of the U. S.

Approximately 200 public school educators from a 15-county area gather here Tuesday to learn latest developments for improving education in Texas.

They meet at a dinner session of District 7-B Schoolmaster & School Board Members Association in Primary School Cafeteria.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m., according to Supt. Frank Wilson, president of the district association.

Principal speaker will be J. Warren Hitt of Austin, Texas, deputy commissioner of education.

Hitt will be subbing for Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education.

er of education. Edgar, who previously accepted an invitation to speak to the association, notified Wilson Friday that he was being called to Washington, D. C., for a meeting of a special nationwide committee on education.

However, Hitt will report on the same area of Texas education as Edgar has planned. This report will concern what is going on for improvement of education in three fields — study of Hale - Aiken Committee, studies by Commission for Curriculum, and program of national scholarship contests.

Wilson, as president of the 15-county group, will preside at the dinner meetings.

Invocation will be by Supt. Olaf South of Sweetwater. The visitors will be officially greeted by Dr. Oscar Rhode, president of Colorado Independent School District board of trustees.

The speaker will be introduced by Supt. E. A. Wells of Abilene.

Special guests at the meeting will be Mitchell County's Hale - Aiken study committee and the local school board. Among out of town guests will be Max Carriker of Roby, Democratic nominee for state representative from Mitchell, Nolan and Fisher counties.

JUDGE POLICIES BY WHAT THEY "SAY" — NOT WHAT THEY "WEIGH"

Many people think that the more insurance policies they carry the more protection they have. Not true. You can get all the fire, theft and liability insurance you need in one policy... with one premium. You can save as much as 20%... or have more protection than you get from separate policies. Faith Chapel Dedication Ceremony Planned Nov. 7

Highlight of a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Mitchell County Tuberculosis Association was the discussion of dedication ceremonies for the newly completed Faith Chapel at McKnight Hospital, Sanatorium, Nov. 7.

The group met at the Court house in the county judge's office and during the discussion of the forthcoming dedication ceremonies of the non-denominational chapel, an announcement was made that a special section will be reserved at the ceremonies for the Mitchell County delegation.

Mrs. Bruce Johnson of Lorraine, president, presided during the meeting.

Mrs. C. P. Gary, executive secretary, read a letter from the volunteer council at McKnight concerning the Christmas Gift Shop at the sanatorium. All gifts in the shop are donated and this group has been asked to send gifts by Nov. 15. The 500 to 600 patients at the sanatorium select Christmas gifts from the shop to mail home to their families.

Civic organizations, study clubs, clubs and church groups will be contacted so they will have the opportunity to take an active part in this project at McKnight.

The volunteer council there has requested a wide variety of gifts which may be donated. To list a few, they are robes and undergarments for men and women, hose—all sizes, toilet articles, costume jewelry, sewing kits, pens, stamps, all types of linens, toys suitable for small children, dolls, gifts suitable for teenagers and cash contributions for the shipping of the gifts.

Deadline for arrival of gifts at the sanatorium is Nov. 15. Mailing address is Christmas Gift Shop, McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital, Sanatorium.

The association voted to participate in the local "Light a Window" contest at Christmas. The following committee was appointed for this project: Mrs. Eldon Mahon, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Gary reported 2000 patch TB tests have been ordered and will be used in Mitchell County.

Mrs. Mahon is TB Christmas seal chairman for this year and plans were completed for this project.

Those attending the association meeting were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jack Smith, Miss Elinor Harvey, Mrs. Jack Burkhalter, Alvin Byrd, Mrs. Price Hendricks, Mrs. Roy Messimer, Mrs. J. C. Womack, and Judge Bullock.

WILL OBSERVE BIRTHDAY SUNDAY

Lost Fredericksburg Child Survives Nearly A Century

By Deolce M. Parmelee

The song of the dove—bird of peace—strikes terror into Mrs. Pauline Newman, Colorado City. In 1864, in rough woods near Fredericksburg, Pauline at the age of two was lost for a couple of days and nights. When she would call to her mother, only doves would answer. Although search parties found her sleeping, unharmed, at the foot of a tree, she has retained for 94 years her horror of doves.

Pauline, fourth child of Edmond and Theresa Hodger Moritz, was born October 26, 1862—during the War between the States. Theresa, Pauline's mother, came to Texas about 1848 from Glauz, Germany.

What today are Fredericksburg curiosities were common points in the town to Pauline's family. Of the famous round church they would say: "Meet me at the coffee mill."

All week they worked on their farm three miles from town. On Saturday afternoon or evening they came into Fredericksburg to their "Sunday house," in order to attend early mass and other church services.

The Moritz's "Sunday house" hasn't an outside stair like that of the Staudts. A ladder from the interior led into the loft, but the Moritz boys slipped out by means of firewood piled high underneath their upstairs window beside the chimney corner.

Indians menaced Fredericksburg. One foggy morning Pauline and other children heard Indians approaching as though to ride them down. Creeping into low, fog-shrouded brush, the young settlers escaped notice.

"The government caught Indians, put them into Chihuahua wagons, and took them to San Antonio. We used to see the Chihuahua wagons halted in front of the Nimitz Hotel," Pauline Newman recalls.

A young schoolmate kidnapped and held for years by Indians, rejoined the Fredericksburg community, but never quite sloughed off Indian ways.

Pauline's father died, and her widowed mother married Peter Schmitz, a stonemason famous as one of the builders of St. Mary's Church, Fredericksburg.

In 1876 Pauline Moritz, 14, and her sister, Mary, 13, moved to San Antonio. Pauline went to work in a bakery and later married John Joseph Newman of that city.

In 1902, Theresa Hodger Moritz Schmitz died. A few rarities she brought from Germany were left to her children. A carved wood rosary—apparently from Black Forest wood—still is cherished by Pauline. One piece of Theresa's beautiful floral china is held together by wire brads. In 1958 the mystery is: how were the brads inserted without causing further and extensive damage?

Of Pauline Newman's six children three survive: Mrs. Mary Morgan, 709 East 6th, Colorado City; Mrs. A. A. Lawrence and Walter Newman, both of Austin.

Mary Moritz Stephens also survives. When in 1962 Pauline Newman reaches 100, Mary will be 99, for she was born October 26, 1863, one year to the day later than Pauline. Out of common courtesy Pauline should arrange to survive until her sister's centennial anniversary.

Hardy Texan that she is, she probably will—though that will make her 101. Nowadays, virtually blind, she helps her businesswoman daughter with housekeeping.

Flames Raze Lake Cabin

Fire Thursday night destroyed the Lake Colorado City cabin of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richardson.

Flames already were spreading through the two-room structure when Richardson, who was asleep in the cabin, was awakened by the barking of his dog.

SNYDER COMES FROM BEHIND

Wolves Shock Tigers In 12-12 District Tilt

They said it couldn't be done... Colorado City tying Snyder.

But it was. The Wolves soared to new heights as they shocked the powerful Tigers in a see-saw 12-12 battle to open District 3AAA play Friday night.

A crowd of 4,000 fans in Snyder Stadium watched in amazement as the lowly-rated Wolves played "jaw-to-jaw" football for four full quarters with the Tigers — rated in the top 10 in Class AAA football in Texas.

It was a magnificent job of defending — plus the determined running of Freddie Womack, Lucky Merket and James Shoemaker — that held the key to the Wolves' "moral victory."

Snyder — rated at least 40 points better than the Wolves before the game — felt the jolting tackles of the entire Wolf line as Snyder tried to spring their fast backs into the open.

Snyder outgrounded the Wolves on the ground, 202 yards to 150, but the Wolf secondary stopped the Tigers' famed passing attack cold.

All-District Quarterback Richard Mahan was able to complete only one pass of six attempts for eight yards and two of those six tosses were intercepted by the alert Wolf defense.

Coach Homer Jefferson's Wolves — who have had too many passes to backfire this year, stayed strictly to the ground game. Only once did the quarterback raise his arm to throw — and it was completely wiped out by a penalty.

Wolves' touchdowns were no fluke — they came for real the hard way.

And each of the Wolves' touchdowns put them ahead of the frantic Tigers who had walked over four opponents this season.

Key man in the Wolf offense was James Shoemaker, the only married man on the squad, who picked up the yardage when it was definitely necessary on the Wolves' fourth down running gambles.

Shoemaker rode the broad backs of center Rumaldo Lujan and guards Bobby Caffey and Larry Hardcastle right through the center of the 190-pound Tiger line.

Snyder's first gamble in the game backfired on Coach John Conley's team and set up C-City's initial score.

It was late in the first quarter when the Tigers needed a yard or so for first down on their own 34 yard line. Confident that they could run at will through the Wolf line, the Tigers gambled — but failed.

Taking over on the Tiger 34, Shoemaker carried for three yards and Merket gained two in a couple of carries. On fourth down, Shoemaker blasted his way for three yards to grab the necessary first down on the 20.

Merket ripped off seven yards, Shoemaker got two and Merket added three more to the Tiger five yard line as the quarter ended.

Shoemaker went over on the first play of the second quarter, dragging several Tigers over the goal line on his five-yard plunge.

An attempted run for the two-point conversion failed with 19 seconds gone in the quarter.

Snyder took the ensuing kickoff with ace halfback Dick Hayes returning it to the Tiger 33.

Hayes ripped off 13 yards. Paul Stanley got 10. John Weaver and Stanley each got three yards and Mahan set up a first on the Wolves' 30.

Mahan faded back to pass, fumbled the ball, picked it up and skirted right end to go down the sideline for 30 yards and Snyder's first TD.

Tigers' attempted kick for the conversion was low and the score remained tie 6-6 with 9:08 left in the half.

Lujan took the ensuing kickoff on the Wolves' 48 as the ball soared straight into his stomach... and the Wolves marched 52 yards for the touchdown that sent them ahead 12-6.

Three running plays netted the Wolves only seven yards to the Tiger 45, but the gambling Wolves called on Merket on fourth down and the little halfback rammed through the eight-man Snyder line to set up a first down on the Tiger 35.

Womack lost 12 yards on a reverse and attempted pass but he and Merket made up the loss in two plays.

Then the Wolves pulled out probably the key play of the entire game.

On fourth down, Merket faded back to punt but tricked the Snyder defense with a run off the punt formation, moving the ball 19 yards to the Tiger 23 to keep the drive alive.

Two five-yard penalties set the Wolves back temporarily but Dickie Richardson picked up five and a 15-yard penalty on Snyder moved the ball to the 14.

Merket got one yard and Womack one before quarterback Jay Shimer made a quick toss to Womack in the flat and the little halfback skirted left end for eight yards to go over, standing up to shoot the Wolves ahead 12-6 with 3:14 left in the half.

Early in the third quarter, Wolf fullback, Richardson quick kicked 57 yards to the Tiger 25 where Mahan returned to the Wolves' 48.

Stanley and Hayes moved the ball to the Wolves' 36 where a five yard penalty on the Wolves helped move the ball to the 31.

Stanley carried three straight times to the 13 and Mahan hit Ken Drake with a seven yard pass to the six yard line. Stanley rammed for five yards and then Weaver slipped over for the TD with 3:35 left.

Snyder had two attempts at the extra points that would have won the game. A pass on the first attempt was too low as the Wolf line put terrific pressure on the passer Mahan.

A penalty gave Snyder another try but the solid Wolf line rose up to slam down Hayes short of the double stripe.

The thrill-packed fourth quarter held many anxious moments for both teams.

Wolves stopped a Snyder drive on their 30 when the Tigers needed short yardage and moved the ball out to the Tiger 44 with Shoemaker providing most of the power.

But then the Wolves lost the ball on a fourth down gamble when Merket's fake kick run fell short of the necessary yardage on the 44.

Hayes got four yards and then almost went the distance on the next play as he rammed 25 yards to the Wolf 25. Hayes picked up three more yards to the 22 — but then the mighty Wolf defense rose up.

Mahan lost 13 yards on a attempted pass. Hayes lost 11 yards on a reverse as Jerry McKay made a brilliant diving unassisted tackle, leaving the ball on the Wolves' 47, 24 yards back from where the Tigers had started two plays previously.

Richardson intercepted a Mahan pass on the next play with 2:16 left in the game and the Wolves set about the job of running out the clock as they drove toward the Snyder goal line.

With 19 seconds left, the Wolves were forced to punt with the Tigers taking over on their 37.

Mahan faded back for a last second desperation pass but Lujan grabbed off the toss and returned it 10 yards with the clock running out before the next play could be set in motion.

Merket led the Wolf ground attack with 56 yards in 14 carries for a four-yard average with his 19-yard run on the fake punt the longest run of the night for the Wolves.

Womack had 46 yards in 21 carries for a 2.2 average while Shoemaker got 42 yards in 13 carries — all the hard way through the middle — for a 3.2 average.

Morris Runs 99 Yards in 14-6 Victory

By JAMIE ANDERSON

Colorado City's seventh grade Pee Wee Wolves, spurred by a 99-yard touchdown run, romped to a 14-6 victory over Snyder's seventh grade Thursday in Wolf Stadium.

The Pee Wees took a 8-0 lead in the second quarter on the flying feet of Ronald Morris as he galloped 99-yards for a touchdown behind the tremendous blocking of the Pee Wee squad. Denzil Pendergrass completed a short pass to Danny Kennemur for the extra points.

Jerry Davis sneaked for the final Pee Wee tally and gave them a 14-6 lead as the try for points failed. Snyder was able to muster only one scoring drive during the contest.

Leading the Pee Wee defense were Buster Jernigan, Ronnie Lightfoot and Bill McGuire.

Bill Boren and quarterback Pendergrass were tops in the backfield for the Pee Wees.

Davis Passes Jr. Wolves To 24-0 Win

By JAMIE ANDERSON

Colorado City's Junior Wolves put together a strong passing and running game along with a stout defense to whitewash the Winters ninth grade squad, 24-0 Thursday night, in Wolf Stadium.

Terry Davis had another tremendous night of passing as he completed 6 of 12 aerials in the contest.

Steve Hillhouse scored first for the Junior Wolves on a 15-yard pass from Terry Davis. Kenneth Northcutt added the extra points on a short run. C-City tallied again in the middle of the second quarter on a 20-yard pass from Terry Davis to Jim Womack. Northcutt again made the extra points and the Junior Wolves led 16-0 at halftime.

Third touchdown for the Junior Wolves came on a 2-yard sneak by Terry Davis. The score followed a beautiful 40-yard pass to Hillhouse from Davis. Hillhouse scored the extra points on a short pass and left the final score at 24-0 in favor of the Junior Wolves.
