Demos Likely To Break Precedent

RENOMINATION OF ROOSEVELT AND GARNER BY ACCLAMATION IS BEING PREDICTED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A prediction that the Democrats would break a precedent of 48 years standing by renominating President Roosevelt by acclamation took its place today beside a Republican forecast that the Landon ticket would win overwhelmingly in November.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), Democratic convention parliamentarian for the past 16 years, expressed the belief that the convention next week at Philadelphia would name Mr. Roosevelt without the formality of a ballot—the first man so honored since Grover Cleveland in 1888.

Procedure Outlined

Cannon said he had confidence the following will be the procedure when the convention reaches the point of nominations:

1. Call of the roll by states with 30 minutes allotted for each nominating speech.

2. Motion to suspend the rules for acclamation.

3. Roll of states for vice-presidential nomination with 5 minutes allotted for speeches.

4. Motion to suspend the rules for acclamation.

The prediction of a sweeping Republican victory came from John D. M. Hamilton, national chairman and campaign manager for Governor Alf M. Landon.

Do Some Picking

Arriving in New York for conferences on party finances, he said Democratic Chairman James A. Farley "will have to do some picking to name six states that the Democrats will carry."

Democratic leaders here today were concentrating much of their effort on the drafting of the 1936 party platform. Those in charge of the work declined to talk about it, but some sources indicated that tentative planks drawn for submission to the convention's resolutions committee make a tacit bid for support by progressives.

LONELY WOMAN FOUND DYING

VICTIM BELIEVED TO HAVE STARVED IN OLD FARMHOUSE

(By The Associated Press)

SHAWNEE, Okla., June 18.—Prolonged ill health and starvation apparently caused the death of Mrs. Mary V. Lovett, 44, of Borger, Tex., who was found emaciated and dying late yesterday in an abandoned farmhouse near Asher. Foy Edwards, assistant Pottawatomie county attorney, said today.

Edwards said an investigation disclosed Mrs. Lovett had not been ejected from a cabin where she had been staying, but that she had asked to be taken to the place where she was found dying because she wanted to be alone and self supporting if possible.

No Foul Play

"Our inquiry disclosed no foul play," said Edwards. "Relatives said Mrs. Lovett had been in ill health for some time and had been found in a semi-conscious condition several times, once in New Mexico where she had taken a claim and attempted to live by herself.

"She apparently wanted to go to the farm to take care of herself and did not wish to be dependent upon anyone. She had taken to the farm some chickens and some feed for them."

Two farm women discovered Mrs. Lovett, after hearing her moaning. The Texas woman died in a hospital here a few hours later.

Relatives, whose addresses were found on letters in Mrs. Lovett's purse, came here from southern Oklahoma and identified the body. They were Mrs. Mary C. Jeffries of Healdton; and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Scarbrough of Ardmore.

Wichita Refinery Destroyed By Fire

WICHITA FALLS, June 18. (AP)—A $40,000 fire late Wednesday night destroyed the plant of the Falls Refining company on the Iowa Park road three miles northwest of Wichita Falls. No one was injured in the conflagration.

The fire started when a small explosion occurred in a clay condenser behind the four stills of the plant.

David Johnson, manager of the plant, said the refinery would be rebuilt.

Case Of Elephant Carried To Court

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 (AP)—The case of Wally, six-ton elephant who killed a man, moved into superior court today for a judicial decision on whether men in turn should kill him.

Judge Frank Deasy set 10 a. m. as the hour to hear arguments on a temporary restraining order which prevented execution of the beast but a few minutes before the scheduled time yesterday.

LITTLE COMFORT IN TWO DEGREES

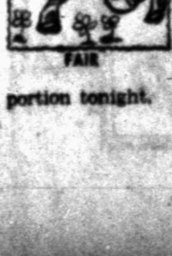

If there's comfort for sweltering Lubbockites in a two-degree reduction in temperature, they'll be glad to know that the mercury at 11 o'clock this morning was standing at 95 degrees. At the same time Wednesday the reading was 97.

Despite the slightly lower temperature today, there were no cooling clouds in prospect, and the mercury was expected to equal or even exceed the official 101 degrees registered at the state experiment sub-station yesterday.

The West Texas Gas company, which recorded 105 degrees Wednesday, gave the report of the 95-degree mark this morning.

The airport mercury "went crazy" Wednesday. Placed above the hangar's tarred roof, the thermometer reached 112. After that airport attaches quit looking at it.

The Weather

EAST TEXAS: Fair tonight, Friday partly cloudy. Gentle to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

Forceful Ejection Of Strikers Looms

PARIS, June 18 (AP)—French government officials resolved today to forcibly eject the strikers who have crippled operations at the American hospital if they refuse to come to terms.

Reconsidering their first reply to a personal appeal from Jesse Isidor Straus, the American ambassador, officials said forceful action would be taken unless the strikers return to work under a contemplated compromise offer.

AGREEMENT ON COMPROMISE IS FOUND

EXACT DETAILS HELD UP; QUICK ACTION BEING EXPECTED

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 18—A far-reaching new system of taxation on the nation's corporations and dividends was declared almost ready for final congressional action today after weeks of nerve-straining debate and conferences.

Exact details were withheld pending a final drawing up today of a compromise in a senate-house conference but it was revealed that the conferees had tentatively agreed on the most controversial angle of the proposed revenue bill.

End Of Deadlock

This was the question of taxing undistributed earnings of corporations. The tentative agreement, reached in a session late last night, was hailed as the end of the long deadlock between legislators of the two houses, which had passed markedly different bills in response to President Roosevelt's demand for tax legislation.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house conferees expressed confidence that by tonight "we shall be able to turn the bill over to the drafting service." After it is drawn, it must be drafted by both chambers.

Although none of the legislators would make public data on the agreement, it was known that it was reached after discussion of a

ECLIPSE WILL BE STUDIED

NEW SECRETS OF SUN ARE TO BE SOUGHT BY SCIENTISTS

(By The Associated Press)

Scientists of a dozen nations waited hopefully today to discover new secrets of the sun.

They poised their instruments in readiness for an eclipse which will throw a 50-mile shadow on the earth's surface from the Mediterranean northeast to Alaska.

Anxiety Heightened

Their anxiety was heightened by reports of cloudy weather along virtually the entire path which the moon, racing between the earth and sun, will darken.

During the eclipse, the scientific expeditions whose apparatus is stacked in remote sections of Russia, Japan and Turkey, expected a minute of total darkness to provide opportunity for obtaining answers to many unsolved problems.

Final Action Seen On Relief Measure

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Congress completed action today on the $2,375,000,000 relief-deficiency appropriation bill and sent it to the White House.

Congressional action on the long-fought measure carrying $1,425,000,000 for relief was completed when the senate agreed to elimination of its amendment for reviving the Florida ship canal.

The balance of the conference report on the big appropriation bill was approved by the senate with little debate.

Gooch Still Hoping To Beat Death Rap

"I NEVER FELT HAPPIER IN MY LIFE," SAYS CONDEMNED KIDNAPER; DEATH SET FRIDAY

(By The Associated Press)

McALESTER, Okla., June 18—Arthur Gooch, condemned to hang tomorrow morning for the kidnaping of two Texas officers, was buoyed today by hope of last minute clemency and said "I never felt happier in my life."

"I never had more hope than I have today," the 27-year-old Oklahoma gunman said in his death cell at the state penitentiary here. He expressed belief his execution would be halted at the gallows.

But no sign came from Washington of a change in the attitude of President Roosevelt, who declined to commute Gooch's sentence after the prisoner's record was laid before him. An aide of Attorney General Homer S Cummings said the president was not giving further consideration to the case.

Some Oklahoma club women were reported to be considering a last minute demonstration here against the hanging of the Lindbergh law violator.

Mrs. Mary Gooch, pretty 35-year-old divorced wife of the prisoner, came here today for a final talk with him. She brought with her the couple's six-year-old boy, Billy Joe, and was accompanied by Gooch's sister, Mrs. C. F. Banks, and the latter's husband. Prison

Officers Outwit Mob Early Today

FEELING RUNS TO A HIGH PITCH AFTER MAN IS SLAIN

(By The Associated Press)

EL CAMPO, June 18—A lynch-bent mob, thwarted in successive attempts to seize nine negroes, dwindled away early today after firing a cafe here in which Deputy Sheriff Tip Simmons, 48-year-old World war veteran, was stabbed to death.

Wary officers, who kept one jump ahead of the armed, howling mob of 300 and finally placed the negroes—five men and four women—in an unnamed jail, believed tension was lessening. Deputy Sheriff A. H. Reitz said he didn't believe the mob would form again.

Mob Is Outwitted

Peace officers outwitted the mob, some members of which were armed with sawed-off shot guns, by speeding the negroes from one jail to another during the night.

Last night the mob formed at Wharton, 13 miles from here, and stormed the jail. Leaders demanded the negroes and Sheriff E. J. Koehl permitted members of the mob to search the jail. They found that the negroes had been removed.

The mob next appeared at the Bay City jail, where a group of men searched the jail upon invitation of Sheriff Harris Milner. The baffled mob again found that the negroes had been removed before

Lucky Luciano Is Given Prison Term

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—Charles "Lucky" Luciano, described by Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey as the head of a vice syndicate with a $12,000,000 year income, was sentenced today to 30 to 50 years in prison.

Eight lieutenants convicted with Luciano on 62 counts of an indictment charging compulsory prostitution and four who pleaded guilty also were sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook.

The convicted men had faced a possible maximum sentence of 1,240 years imprisonment. The verdict was returned June 7.

TURMOIL SEEN IN COMMONS

"RESIGN" IS CRY OF OPPOSITION WHEN EDEN SPEAKS

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 18.—Opposition members of the house of commons shouted "shame! resign!" at Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today when he announced Great Britain would lead a move for the lifting of League of Nations' sanctions from Italy.

From government benches there came a little loyal cheering, but the roars of "shame!" created turmoil in the house.

Assumes Responsibility

Eden himself assumed much of the responsibility for the government's about-face on the question of the sanctions applied in an effort to prevent Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

The storm of shouts burst out after Eden had announced:

"His majesty's government, after mature consideration on advice which I, as foreign secretary, thought it my duty to give, has come to the conclusion there is no longer any utility in continuing

Greenville Man Is Killed In Mishap

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 18. (AP)—T. D. Gay, 36, Greenville, Texas, truck driver, was killed today when his huge van crashed into another truck parked on a highway one mile north of Noble, Okla.

Gay was crushed in the cab of his truck and died before he could be taken to a hospital at Norman.

Key Durkee, Cleveland county undersheriff, said Gay apparently failed to see the lights on the truck, which had halted to exchange an empty gas tank for a full one carried in the back of the car.

BOY ADMITS SLAYING FATHER AFTER BEING BEATEN WITH MONKEY WRENCH

(By The Associated Press)

WALTERS, Okla., June 18.—Grady Zachary, 42-year-old tenant farmer, died today of gunshot wounds and Floyd Jackson, Cotton county attorney, puzzled over what to do with 15-year-old Clifton Zachary, who told Jackson yesterday he shot his father.

Jackson emerged from a conference with the widow and a 20-year-old daughter, Lorraine, and said:

"Both Mrs. Zachary and her daughter corroborated the boy's statement the father was mean to the family."

Jackson said any action would have to be taken in the juvenile court because of the boy's age.

Jackson said the boy told him he shot his father twice early yesterday with a .22-calibre rifle as Zachary lay asleep at their tenant farm home 18 miles southwest of here.

The county attorney said the boy related a story of mistreatment and a beating administered with a monkey wrench.

CROP KILLING HEAT WAVE STRIKES

CALLS ARE SENT OUT FOR AID; 'HOPPERS PREY ON FIELDS

BY TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

KANSAS CITY, June 18—An oppressive blanket of early heat, extending from Alaska to Florida, brought new omens today to warn farmers of an old enemy—drouth.

Along with the threat of a dry season came more reports of its companion scourge, grasshoppers, preying on midwestern crops and giving rise to calls for outside aid.

Mercury Goes High

Reports of the season's highest temperatures were numerous, with the mercury hitting well above the century mark.

From Alaska, "the land of the frozen north," came reports of an unofficial reading of 110 degrees at Seward yesterday. The Alaskan danger was in forest fires more than in drouth, but showers checked two outbreaks, on Prince of Wales island and in the Homer district.

Only 100 miles south of the Arctic circle, Fairbanks had a high of 82 degrees, and Dawson, Yukon Territory, had a maximum of 84.

Emergency Created

A crop killing drouth created an emergency in the Dakotas and Montana, and crops suffered from dryness also in parts of Wyoming, Indiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. Livestock was being moved from some sec-

CARTER GLASS GETS POWER

SENATOR HEADED FOR NEW POSITION AND MORE INFLUENCE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Senator Carter Glass of Virginia appeared headed today for a new position of influence over the nation's monetary and banking policy almost on the eve of a Democratic convention which will re-define the party's attitude toward such questions.

The sudden death yesterday of the veteran Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, placed Glass in line for this chairmanship, in some ways the most important on Capitol Hill.

Attitude Uncertain

It still was uncertain today whether Glass would accept the position, but in view of his life long interest in banking and fiscal affairs most observers believed that he would.

The expected increase in his

PROTECTION IS BEING GIVEN TO MANY IN LEGION INQUIRY

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 18.—Authorities promised protection today to informants who have assisted in rounding up two score suspected members of the Black Legion, while they investigated the beating of a woman as a possible act of reprisal by the terrorists.

The victim of the beating was Mrs. Dorothy Guthrie, 33, who told police two weeks ago that her husband, William H. Guthrie, printed at their home the racial, religious and anti-communistic literature the Black Legion circulated.

Given Police Guard

Another Black Legion informant, James Stewart, of Ecorse, requested and received a police guard after telling of a mysterious visit by three strangers to his home during the early morning hours.

LOUIS-SCHMELING FIGHT POSTPONED

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—Rain today caused postponement of Joe Louis' 15-round heavyweight bout with Max Schmeling at the Yankee stadium until tomorrow night.

A steady rain and weather bureau predictions that showers would continue throughout the day and night led Promoter Mike Jacobs to announce the postponement. Originally the bout was to have been held tonight.

The postponement came a few minutes after Schmeling and Louis had been weighed in. Louis, at 198 pounds, had a six-pound pull in the weights.

Jacobs said that in the event of further rain tomorrow he would try to hold the fight Saturday, possibly in the afternoon if that can be arranged.

KILLED WOMAN BECAUSE SHE RESISTED

SLAYER DECLARES HIS CONSCIENCE HURT; STORY IS TOLD

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18—Albert Walter, jr., 28-year-old New Yorker, was charged today with the silk stocking murder of 24-year-old Blanche Cousins, former Idaho Falls, Idaho, girl who he said had resisted his advances.

Walter walked into police headquarters last night and told astonished officers:

"My conscience bothers me—I've murdered a girl."

Body Is Found

He led the officers to an apartment in the fashionable Nob Hill district. They found the body of the girl in bed, a silk stocking knotted about the throat, and tied to the bedpost.

Police Inspectors George Engler and Frank Lucey and Deputy District Attorney Frank McMahon said Walter told them he "thought" he attacked the young woman after she lapsed into unconsciousness when he strangled her Tuesday night.

They said he related:

Walter met Miss Cousins on a bus between Salt Lake City and San Francisco. The acquaintance was continued after they reached San Francisco. Tuesday night he had dinner at her apartment. They were seated on a couch after dinner.

She Resisted Him

"She resisted me as she had done several times before," the officers quoted Walter. "I became incensed."

DEACONS JOIN ARMY

PRINCES' ISLANDS, Turkey (AP)—Amazed worshippers of the Greek-Orthodox faith are seeing their deacons clean shaven and with hair cropped for the first time here. The explanation is that new regulations make deacons and students of the Greek-Orthodox faculty of theology of Princes' Island officers of the Turkish army. To comply with military rules they had to get haircuts and shaves.

The only provisions for cleanliness in many of London's elementary schools consist of four washbasins and two roller towels a week for several hundred children.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Jittery Mules

SPARTA, Ga.—Farm mules in this area are suffering from the jitters because of a drouth trick.

Cottonseed planted early failed to grow on account of the dry weather so farmers planted fresh seeds between the old rows.

Heavy rains came. All the cotton sprouted and now mules trained for years never to destroy cotton must haul plows along, tearing up whole rows of the plant.

Kitty! Kitty!

CHICAGO—Emerging from a fur store with a fuzzy bundle under his arm, Nathan Sonnenschein told a policeman:

"My cat ran in through that broken window, so I went after him."

Sonnenschein was hauled off to jail. The fuzzy bundle was no cat. It was a fox fur neckpiece.

Mrs. Byrum Had Been Unable To Get Good Night's Sleep; Now Claims Best Health She Had Had In Years Through Use Of Gly-Cas

My entire system must have been full of poisons for about everything that could be was wrong it seemed. But this was all soon changed once I began this new Gly-Cas—the results it gave me were almost unbelievable."

"I am now on my second box of this new Gly-Cas and I am like a new person," she continued. "My kidneys were regulated, the swelling has gone from my ankles and those dreadful rheumatic pains are entirely eliminated. I hope other sufferers will profit from my pleasant experience and regain their health through the use of this new remedy—it is one medicine that is TRULY DIFFERENT."

SINGING MEET IS PLANNED

AFFAIR IS TO START SATURDAY; MANY TO TAKE PART

Plans for a Panhandle-South Plains Singing association convention here Saturday and Sunday were reported by committees at a business session Wednesday night at the courthouse.

The convention will begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at Sled Allen's Auditorium.

Officials In Session

Those who made reports were: S. B. Summers, president, Lubbock; Rev. Jeff Welch, Lubbock; Charles Smith, Plainview, and Charles Clark, Lubbock.

Other officers of the convention are Earl Raper of Plainview, vice-president, and Doc McCollum, secretary-treasurer, of Lockney.

Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, Tennessee, and Alabama will have representatives here, said officials. Boy Scouts will assist as ushers, and officials, expecting 15,000 persons Sunday, said seating room would be afforded only to those who come early.

Pharr To Make Welcome

District Judge Homer L. Pharr will make a welcome address at 10:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

Brief safety speeches will be made by the following: Capt. W. W. Legge of the highway department, City Recorder C. E. Luce, and Prof. J. W. Jackson of Texas Technological college.

Loud speakers are being installed outside the Auditorium through courtesy of B. E. Needles, inside by Allen.

Out of city persons will be accommodated as much as possible in private homes.

Ten-dollar cash prize for the best amateur quartet will be offered Saturday afternoon. A concert will be a feature of that night's session.

A business session will be conducted Saturday night for election of officers.

WITTY DEAN OF AMERICAN POETS POKES SOME FUN AT BERNARD SHAW; INTEREST IN POETRY IS INCREASING

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—Eighty-four-year old Edwin Markham, witty dean of American poets, poked a bit of fun today at his 80-year-old friend, George Bernard Shaw.

"Poor old Shaw," chuckled Markham. "He's threatening to retire, and I'm just starting."

Markham Is Busy

Markham, despite his age, was busy doing a dozen things at once as he talked about the noted Englishman and about the Congress of American Poets, holding an all summer session in a New York hotel.

Closing his heavily browed eyes behind tortoise shell spectacles, Markham talked of American poetry.

"They don't teach it enough in the schools," he said. "Especially, they fail to teach enough of the works of the young poets."

Asked to name some of the younger poets he would recommend, Markham chuckled again.

"First, there's Edwin Markham," he said. "Markham is one of the youngest."

Others Are Listed

The others, he added, include Robert Frost, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Louis Untermeyer, Joseph Auslander and Audrey Wurdeman.

Alternately serious and joking, the author of "The Man With The Hoe" and many other famous works expressed belief there is an increasing interest in poetry among the American people.

Markham paid joint tribute to Shaw and to G. K. Chesterton, the famous British writer who died Sunday.

"You know Chesterton was the brainiest man in England," he said. Then he added—"except for my old friend, Shaw."

Birmingham Couple Best In Contest

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Two polite and neatly-dressed young newspaper salesmen from the circulation staff of the Birmingham, Ala., News, won first honors today in a sales competition held in connection with the convention of the International Circulation Manager's association.

They were George Schoppert, 13, and Elbert Moore, 14. They won the R. W. Bingham trophy. Don Davis is the circulation manager of the paper. Second place went to Oval Haynes and Jack Rylie, the Tulsa World team, and third was won by E. S. Williams and Bob Shelton of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Further honors were paid to William L. Argue, circulation manager of the Toronto Star for half a century. He was presented with a gold medal on behalf of the association by G. B. Dealey, president of the Dallas News, who is serving his sixty-second year with the institution of which he is head.

HEAVIER FINE IS PROMISED

INTENSIVE WAR WILL BE WAGED IN CITY ON SPEEDERS

Heavier fines will be assessed by police in speeding cases, due to increasing complaints of fast driving on Lubbock streets.

"From this time forward, those caught speeding will be required to pay a minimum fine of $5, plus $1 for each mile over the allowable," was City Recorder C. E. Luce's edict in the interests of safety.

Agree On Concerted Action

Police Chief H. L. (Bud) Johnston announced police and the state department of safety office here, in charge of Capt. W. W. Legge, have agreed on concerted action directed at stopping dangers attendant to speeding.

"Capt. Legge has agreed to furnish highway patrol cars, each manned by one state man who will be reinforced by a policeman," said the chief. "The purpose is to overhaul speeding motorists."

20 Miles Allowed

The chief said that, notwithstanding the fact state law allows of a speed limit of only 20 miles an hour in corporate limits, Lubbock police have been lenient in allowing a maximum of 30 miles an hour when the driver was exercising due diligence and care.

"I have no intention of modifying that leniency," said Johnston. "When the streets are not crowded and weather conditions are suited to driving slightly over 20 miles an hour, and when the motorist acts responsible and is driving an automobile equipped for exacting safety demands, I have no intention of imposing the law governing velocity too stringently."

Liable To Damages

The chief pointed out, however:

"Any time a motorist is exceeding 20 miles an hour and any accident or mishap occurs, he is liable for damages, according to the law legislated by this state. In other words, when his speedometer moves over to past 20 he automatically has laid himself open to civil liability."

Luce reiterated a statement made many times during the traffic educational campaign which began April 10 and still is being conducted.

Don't Want Public's Money

"It is not the money of the public the police want; it is the precaution and restraint that stands for conscious effort to avoid injuring members of the community. As long as the present department is in office, that long must the campaign go on—and with more, not less, strictness."

Chief Johnston said attempts to follow recommendations of a Lubbock traffic committee, composed in the main of non-official members, have been made with additional zeal.

To Have Checks Made

"Within a few days I will have representative intersections and traffic lanes checked in an attempt to determine where the greatest need of patroling is," he said.

He warned again against motorists' driving up to a stop sign, shifting gears and allowing their vehicle to roll over the intersection line without coming to a complete, momentary stop. That offense, he said, caused most of the tickets being issued by patrolmen.

"I am pleased at success the safety drive is indicating," he said. "No deaths over the 60-day period dating from April 10 had resulted and the average monetary loss of $330.88 from 345 accidents of a two-year period preceding had been reduced in the 60-day period to an average loss of $37.93. In the two-year period there were six deaths, 126 personal injuries and 687 automobiles damaged. Average loss from death was estimated at $10,000, personal injury $900, and damage to each car $15. Average damage to automobiles in the 60-day period just completed was $18.96 1-2."

Georgia, with an area of more than 59,000 square miles, is the largest state east of the Mississippi river. Florida ranks second.

IMPROVEMENT IN MERCHANDISING OF INDEPENDENT OPERATORS BEING SEEN

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Increased chain store operations have caused an improvement in the merchandising methods of independent operators, James L. Freeman, wholesale druggist, testified today in the $1,000,000 chain store tax suit on trial in district court here.

The suit is an attack brought by operators of 827 stores in Texas on the law which places a graduated tax on retail establishments, based on the number of outlets owned by one concern.

Freeman was testifying for the state. He said that the entire field of retail business has been changed as a result of increased chain store operations. On cross examination, he declined to state that prices were generally better because of chain store operations.

Dewitt Hicks, head of a company operating a number of retail tire stores, said the advantage is with the chains in financing, lower interest rates and wider distribution. He said under cross-examination that his company was in the class which would be exempt from the chain store tax because it sells only tires manufactured by its own factory.

Ace Soldier Busy Helping His Pals

CINCINNATI, June 18. (AP)—The man Gen. John J. Pershing once called "America's outstanding soldier" is so busy helping his buddies that he hasn't had time to collect his bonus.

Sam Woodfill of Port Thomas, Ky., wearer of the medal of honor, was so busy helping other veterans file their applications that he didn't get around to filing his own application until about ten days ago.

Now he is so occupied with his job as assistant secretary of the Kentucky ex-service men's board that he hasn't had time to come home to sign the registered letter containing his bonds.

But, his wife said today, when Woodfill does get his bonus, he'll salt it away for a rainy day.

MAN HELD FOR CAR DEATH

WOMAN IS GROUND TO DEATH UNDER THE WHEELS OF CAR

SALT LAKE CITY, June 18. (AP)—A war veteran held in the asserted "bonus celebration" death of his white-haired mother trembled in his cell last night and sobbed "God, I don't see how all this terrible mess ever happened."

Traffic Investigator H. C. Peirce told County Attorney Harold E. Wallace that Harry Olson, 42, backed his motor car over 72-year-old Mrs. Christine Olson late yesterday in front of their home.

Wallace ordered a complaint charging the shaking prisoner with involuntary manslaughter prepared for filing.

Stories varied. Peirce said he understood the aged woman had been pleading with Olson not to drive while drinking. As he heedlessly drove away, she called. Then, Peirce said, Olson suddenly backed up and the automobile—a cheap secondhand car bought with bonus money—ground her body into the street in front of the Olson home.

Olson mumbled he didn't "remember much about what happened." But he told a reporter his mother was drinking, too.

Modern Women Follow "THE BC WAY" to Quicker Relief

Women who use "B C" at the "trying time of the month" for headache and backache, due to inerganic causes, find that it gives quicker relief. That is because the "B C" formula contains several quick-acting ingredients widely prescribed by physicians. "B C" should also be used for ordinary headaches, neuralgia, muscular aches, simple head cold pains, reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system. "B C" contains no opiates or narcotics. COD LIVER OIL BEST STANDBY

CHICAGO, June 18. (AP)—Grandma's old standby, cod liver oil, was approved by modern medicine today as the best source of vitamin D for baby's milk.

Only one thing—milk irradiated by ultra-violet rays—was "just as good," Dr. Philip C. Jeans, of Iowa City, reported after a study made at the suggestion of the committee on foods of the American Medical association.

Either of the two were about 50 per cent more efficient than irradiated ergosterol, a vegetable substance, or yeast in fortifying milk with the vital bone building vitamin, Dr. Jeans estimated.

Experts Predict "Taps" For Max Schmeling Tonight In Very Short Order

Boxing Faithful Are Being Lured To Watch Battle

ENTIRE PRESS SECTION WOULD COLLAPSE IF MAXIE EVEN SO MUCH AS LAID A HEAVY GLOVE ON BROWN BOMBER IN MATCH

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 18—The weather man forecast showers for today, the experts predicted taps for Max Schmeling tonight, while fight fans served notice that million dollar gates no longer can be swung by the soft warbling of ballyhoo birds.

Joe Louis, still the No. 1 magnet of pugilism, his punching artistry worth watching under any circumstances, lured the fight faithful to the big town today from all parts of the country. But at the box offices, thousands of tickets remained unsold at all prices, up to and including $40 top, for tonight's proceedings in Yankee stadium.

In heavyweight history there have been upsets of such startling character as to make one and all a bit wary, including the experts, but there has not been an occasion in this writer's memory when such complete, unqualified unanimity prevailed on the day of a big fight, with so much at stake. Presumably the entire press section will collapse from the recoil if Max Schmeling so much as lays a forcible glove on Joe Louis. We shudder to think of the reaction if Schmeling, the 10 to 1 shot, beats the Brown Bomber.

May Force Postponement

The weather, it appeared, might take a sufficiently sour turn to force postponement for a night.

Max will collect around $200,000 for a few clouts to the chin and probably will be glad to get it all over with.

All signs point to a quick ending. The consensus of pre-fight views was that the Bomber would win, by acclamation and a knockout, within four or five rounds. It is this writer's opinion he can name the round and punch, either right or left.

The day of the fight leaves no doubt that the drawing power of Schmeling was over-estimated in making this match and that the promoters over-estimated the demand for tickets scaled from $3.50 for general admission to $40 for ringside planks.

Schmeling Blamed

Promoter Jacobs ascribed the failure of Schmeling to respond adequately to the "buildup" processes as the main factor in checking advance sales. He also conceded the effect of a Jewish boycott, due to anti-Nazi sentiments, likewise contributed to absence of another million-dollar gate.

Not even a sudden rush for cut price tickets, it seemed, would develop a crowd of more than 60,000 and gross receipts in excess of $700,000. Speculators who had loaded themselves up with pasteboards in anticipation of eleventh-hour demands were "holding the bag."

All things considered, however, these figures represent a sensational tribute to the drawing power of a 22-year old negro youth who was an unknown, outside of midwestern amateur ranks, two years ago.

Attracts Millions

They mean that for his three big fights in New York within a year, each against a former world heavyweight champion, Louis will have attracted more than $2,000,000 in gate receipts.

Assuming Louis disposes of Schmeling, leaving the German to console himself with life on his Bavarian estates, the company of his screen star wife and a substantial addition to his personal fortune, there remains the problem of matching the Brown Bomber with James J. Braddock for a title fight this September.

The fact that the Louis-Braddock fight will be a fistic "natural" doesn't mean, however, that it can easily be arranged. Demand for it has grown this spring, largely because of a popular notion that the game Irishman stands a better chance to test Louis than any other man he has met, but financial demands, as well as promotional cross currents, have complicated the situation. Whether it's untangled in time to make the match possible this year is uncertain.

Louis and his managers have a long term agreement to fight exclusively for Mike Jacobs, the Broadway ticket broker who has become the dominant figure in boxing promotion. Madison Square Garden has Braddock under contract for his first title defense. Braddock naturally wants the big end of the purse but Louis won't be permitted to fight for the customary challenger's end of 12 1-2 per cent.

Frank Capra, the film director, once wrote "gags" for "Our Gang" comedies.

MATSURA GETS DECISION IN MAT BOUT

COMEBACK IS STAGED BY TROUT IN THE SECOND FALL

With a sudden turn of the tables that turned a weakened defense into a lightning-like and emphatic offensive maneuver, Matty Matsura, the Oriental torture boy, cracked the neck and flipped the shoulders of Dick Trout to the mat last night, and won the main event on the weekly wrestling card.

It turned out to be Matsura's second straight victory over Trout, which was not as Trout had planned it. After losing the first fall to a heart- and back-breaking series of one-handed flips, or flying mare slams, Trout began to use judgment and a killing double wrist lock with triumphant results— temporarily, at least. He did things with the wrist lock no other grappler has done here. He slammed the Jap to the mat with it, raised him up again, and slammed him some more. A dozen times this was repeated, and Matsura was a whipped man. A crotch slam, following a couple of jolts off the ropes, and an airplane spin made Matty easy victim for a body press, in 18 minutes.

Matsura had won the first fall in 22 minutes of slow but serious work, winding it up with half a dozen body slams and eleven straight flying mares, cleverly executed with a tip action of the leg.

Trout sought to repeat his fall nelson jolts off the ropes in the third inning, but the Jap had caught on. Early in the fall, after six minutes, in fact, he backfired in Trout's face, coming off the rope and bearing Trout down, pinning him. Trout was momentarily "out," and had to be assisted to the dressing room by the referee and the Jap.

The match was not as fast or exciting as some had hoped, but it included plenty of scientific grappling, smooth blocking, tricky defensive action, and stubborn offensive holds.

But the fans were ready for something soothing. They had worn themselves out and their throats raw during 80 minutes of a whopperoo semi-final, which stole the works for action, speed and riotousness. It also set a pace which even Danny McShain in his prime would have done well to follow.

This young Buck Lipscomb, billed from Atlanta, Ga., and another youngster called Jack Hagen from Shreveport, shot the props out from under everybody in the house with a lollapalooza that would have turned Sailor Watkins and his ilk green with envy.

These two Southerners, we're here to tell you, went to war in a big way, and they didn't stop — much — until the referee had clawed them apart at the finish. As they entered the ring, and before official pronouncement had been made, long before the opening gong, Lipscomb booted Hagen to the mat, and the battle was on.

For ten minutes the fans here have never seen a faster, rougher battle, with Lipscomb cramming soap in Hagen's eyes and something else in Hagen's ear, knocking him off the platform, and vice versa. Hagen might be the clean wrestler advertised, but he didn't have time to show it last night. He did show a lot of wrestling stuff, when he had a chance, but the biting, slugging, choking, clawing Lipscomb, who became the most unpopular man in Lubbock in less time than it takes to tell, had him begging the referee for mercy much of the time.

Ernie Arthur and Prince Omar battled to a 30-minute draw in the prelim, Omar showing much improvement over his work here two years ago. Though still a young fellow, he is all but mature in wrestling science. It was an interesting bout.

THERE'S A FIGHT TONIGHT

Max Schmeling, the only boxer to ever win the world's heavyweight championship sitting down, and Joe Louis, who hasn't discovered the comforts of sitting on a canvas covered platform, are scheduled to bat each other's buttons for 15 rounds tonight in a temporary ring at New York's Yankee Stadium.

But the rarest animal in or out of civilization is the bird who admits a hunch or a conviction that the schedule will be carried out.

From all indications, the general belief is that the blow-by-blow and round-by-round description of tonight's conflict will not fill more than an inch or two of space in even the most liberal of newspapers, and that the radio announcer will need little vocabulary and practically no throat lozenges.

The Associated Press, in its poll of experts, neglected to request our opinion, but so that our dear public will not be deprived of such a break, let us hasten to submit that we blabbed when we should of have been thinking, maybe, and got called in a hurry. The modest wager? That Schmeling would last six rounds. Thanks, pals—we don't want any more.

Schmeling may surprise us. But then Wayland College might beat Notre Dame, too.

Schmeling is confident, because, as he says through his ballyhoo bureau, he has adopted Jack Dempsey's pose—Dempsey's "stawnce," Dempsey's "weave and bob," Dempsey's clinch and cover-up style, and it is admitted he looks like Jack. But he has neglected to adopt another little Dempsey trademark: Dempsey's punch. And it will take a lot of punching, in the right places, to get that ebony embalmer groggy.

As for a million dollar business at the turnstiles tonight, Promoter Mike Jacobs was walking backward on one foot, up hill and against the wind when he predicted that kind of soup. The faithful can't get lathered up over paying that many dollars for so short a period of entertainment. Forty dollars per ringside chair for six, nine or 12 minutes of fisticuffing such as Louis and Schmeling will do is a leetle bit steep.

TIP-TOP BROADCAST

Don't know why we're wasting so much time and space with Schmeling. Louis won't waste that much, and there are things of more import we could be handing along, such as the Hubber game with Hobbs Sunday, the return of the Masked Marvel, the Kiwanis Knothole gang, Jo Dick Slaughter's election to the Merts Trophy Golf team, etc.

But before taking those matters up, let us announce again that Station KFYO will give you the Schmeling-Louis fight, blow-by-bounce and round by round, as long as it lasts, starting about 8 o'clock tonight. Our Syrian friend, Jimmy Williams of the Tip-Top cafe, is sponsoring the broadcast. Jimmy is just about the hottest box-fight fan in town.

Well, the Hubbers ARE playing here Sunday, versus the Hobbs Oilers, and Manager Chapin tells us that "we need a good crowd, on account of we're paying a goodly guarantee." So let's see you out there, customers.

A lot of credit for the Hubbers' spunk and hustle this season is due to Jack Thompson, rubber-armed third baseman and field captain, who supervises daily workouts, keeps the bats and balls together, gathers up the players—and hits that apple! He's clean-up man in the lineup, and it is where he belongs. You can pretty near depend on him in the clutches. He throws that ball from third like the well known bullet, and he keeps the pepper going. Outside of that, he's a darn fine chap.

MARVEL LOOKS FIT

Presaging a period of very interesting wrestling in this circuit, the one and only Masked Marvel came to town last night. He went right back to Amarillo again, but plans to make this a sort of headquarters during his visit.

Looking fresh and chipper, as hard as a sack of cement, and with a bit of British brogue and wearing a Bond Street suit, the Marvel, who rode the Normandie from France to New York a couple of weeks ago, came over to greet a lot of friends and to see Matsura and Trout do the main event. He was one of the most observing spectators as he caught the main act, a serious ringside fan. He has been five months in Africa, and virtually that long in London and on the continent, wrestling regularly—and hasn't lost a match yet. He should be the champion.

Speaking of wrasslers, those two Southern gentlemen who performed in the semi-final last night are nobody's slouches, by any means. This Buck Lipscomb (where have we seen that mug before?) is about the roughest, toughest, dirtiest little scamp we've watched in a long time. Danny McShain in his prime wasn't much worse. Hagen seems to know something about wrestling, although he didn't have much opportunity to show it last night. They'll do to watch now and then, the boys from Louisiana and Georgia.

A BIG PALM to the Kiwanians, who are renewing their Knothole Gang summer sports program.

Every youngster in town ought to take advantage of the "summer camp" activities which will be conducted daily at the Texas Tech athletic campus. With Tech coaches and players in charge, the lads will be instructed in various sports, will get together each morning, except Saturday and Sunday, for an hour and a half of fun and frolic.

Only strings to membership are: You mustn't "cuss," and you must attend Sunday school regularly. No fees of any kind, nothing to buy or borrow. Poor kids and rich kids will be treated alike, and to all regular members will go passes to all Texas Tech's football and basketball games at home this year.

Softball Contests To Be Held Today

Lubbock Poultry & Egg company's team plays City Bus, and Tip-Top Cafe meets Southern Auto Stores this afternoon in scheduled city softball league contests.

The Tip-Top vs. Southern Auto game is to be played at the 23rd street and Ave. K park. Both games start at 6:30 o'clock.

In a non-league game yesterday, Southern Auto Stores defeated the Lubbock police department club, 9 to 5. Cauble and Nufstedler hit home runs for the losers.

FRISCH FINDS SOME IVORY ON CLUB

BIG VIRGIL DAVIS IS SHIFTED TO THIRD AND DOES WELL

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

While Frankie Frisch and the St. Louis Cardinal ivory department has been hunting here, there and everywhere for a spare infielder to stand up under the strain of the National league pace, the answer to its problems may have been hiding on the roster all the time, behind a catcher's mask and body protector.

Anyway, Frisch has found out through the simple expedient of inserting big Virgil Davis into the infield lineup that the six foot husky, whose entire ten-year career in organized baseball has been at backstop, can take over the third basing job as if he had been born to it.

Can Be Spared

The discovery comes at a time, too, when Davis can be spared from the catching department, now that rookie Brusie Ogrodowski has taken over so capably.

An umpire's exile order for Frisch and "Lippy Leo" Durocher after an argument uncovered Davis as a potential hot corner guardian late in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader, which the Cardinals split with the Boston Bees, taking the second game 10-3 after dropping the first 9-6. Ordered out of the game, Frisch looked over the few possibilities, then called on Davis, and the big fellow wound up the afternoon at third by accepting five chances without a flaw, and, in addition, helping himself to three hits in the nightcap, driving in four runs.

Two other factors, however, more than offset the break in discovering Davis' infield possibilities. One was a hand injury which may keep Roy Parmelee out of pitching action for several days. The other was a half game slice off the gas house gang's National league lead.

Cubs Proving Hot

This out of the pace setting edge to two games came about through the 13th straight victory for the hot Chicago Cubs, who found the going tough against the Phillies, but pulled out a 5-3 decision nevertheless, chiefly through the stickwork of young Ken O'Dea.

The lead of the New York Yankees in the American league didn't suffer, however, for the revived "murderers' row," with Charley Ruffing and Monte Pearson leading the batting barrage as well as doing the pitching, belted the Cleveland Indians 15-4 and 13-3 in a twin bill, while the second place Boston Red Sox were taking their one game, 9-4, over the Chicago White Sox, with Jimmy Foxx clubbing his 17th homer.

The double defeat sank the Indians to a fourth place tie with the injury-ridden Tigers, as the Washington Senators turned back the world champions 2-1 in a game called in eight innings because of darkness, to advance to third place in the standings.

Come To Life

For sheer distance, however, the St. Louis Browns' 14-12 victory over the Athletics had them all stopped. On the short end of a 12-3 count going into the seventh, the Browns suddenly came to life and piled 11 runs across the plate in three innings.

The Pittsburgh Pirates found the Brooklyn Dodgers easy for the second straight day, as Bill Swift pitched seven hit ball for a 14-5 victory, while the still slipping New York Giants were unable to hit with any consistency, and fell before the Cincinnati Reds 4-2.

DALLAS AND BEAUMONT BOTH SET DOWN LAST NIGHT AND STANDINGS FAIL TO CHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

Ira Smith, who manages and pitches for the Houston Buffaloes, knows how to return the compliment.

Last night 6,300 fans turned out to do him honor as a hustling, popular skipper who has kept the Buffs in the Texas league fight all season. They named it "Ira Smith night" and before the game many nice things were said about him by civic leaders.

In turn Smith marched out to the mound and set down the second-place Beaumont Shippers 5-4. He allowed but two earned runs although he was touched for 12 hits, fanned 10 men and got a double and a single. His mates, meanwhile, were not idle. After two were down in the ninth, the Houston batsmen opened up for three runs.

The loss kept Beaumont from taking the league leadership from the Dallas Steers.

The Steers discovered that a change of climate didn't improve their luck in their game with the Oklahoma City Indians, who won, 5 to 3. Kiaerner pitched 6-hit ball for the Indians and blanked the Mavericks after the fourth inning.

San Antonio Loses

San Antonio continued its trick of losing by the thinnest of margins as Galveston came through in 13 innings to win 6-5. Howard Mills, pitching for the Missions in the last four innings, retired 12 of the 13 men he faced. The thirteenth was his Nemesis. Jim Moore belted a homer to break up the overtime contest.

Fort Worth gave evidence of its recent resurrection and won its fourth consecutive game, a record this season for the Cats. They trounced Tulsa 8 to 4 in the first of a series of home games. It marked a turning point in the Cats' season because it was the first time this season the Cats have beaten Tulsa in nine attempts.

ATHLETIC MEETS ARE BEING HELD

First of a series of daily athletic meets for boys of Lubbock between the ages of 6 and 14 years was conducted this morning at the Texas Tech campus.

It was the "organization" meeting of the Kiwanis club's Knothole gang, members of which are to participate actively in various sporting events during the summer. The "gang," sponsored by the Lubbock Kiwanis club, is a free-membership organization, having no fees or dues.

Sports of nearly all kinds—softball, boxing, wrestling, marbles, track and field, basketball, football, etc.— will be offered the boys, who will have their choice of sports. Texas Tech coaches and athletes will supervise the activity. Primo McCurry has been named student director.

The club is to meet each morning from 8 o'clock until 9:30, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

At the end of the summer, all regular attendants at the playground session will automatically become members of the Knothole booting gang, for which a special grandstand has been constructed at the football field and a special section reserved at the gymnasium, throughout the football, basketball and track season, members of the gang will be given free tickets to all Texas Tech athletic attractions at home.

NEGROES, WHITES ARE TO COMPETE

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Negro and white track stars will compete together for the first time in the history of the south in a track meet here in the Cotton bowl June 19, emancipation day.

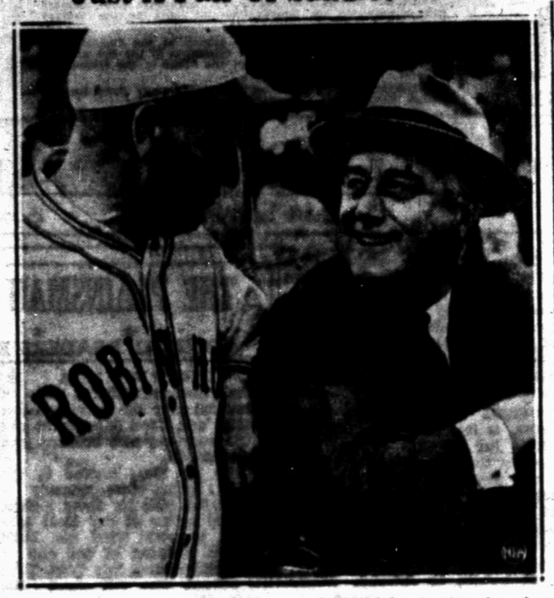

White stars from such established southern institutions as Southern Methodist university, Tulane, Loyola of New Orleans, Louisiana State university and Texas A. and M. will clear the cinder paths in clean-cut competition with negro stars from Xavier, Tuskegee, Wiley, and Bishop colleges.

Ralph Metcalfe, the Marquette racket, will race in the 100 and 200 meter events and Eddie Tolan of Michigan will appear in a special event, Texas Centennial officials announced.

The track meet will be a night affair, climaxing emancipation day at the Centennial.

The famous mineral springs of Bath, England, produce 500,000 gallons of medicated water daily.

Just A Pair Of Sandlot Vets

President Roosevelt returned to scenes of his boyhood triumphs when he watched the Robin Hood sand lot team, on which he played nearly 30 years ago, battle with the Columbiaville baseball team at Hyde Park, N. Y. He is pictured chatting with Arthur deGroff, one of his old teammates and now manager of the nine.

Local Golfers To Compete At Clovis

Linksmen of Lubbock are to compete Sunday in a three-way, inter-city series of matches at the Clovis Golf club, returning the visit Clovis golfers made here recently.

Meadowbrook management requests all local players who plan to make the trip to register at the Meadowbrook club house.

Players who can take automobiles are asked to sign up at once, so that "rides" for other golfers may be arranged. Clovis is expecting a large delegation of Lubbock golfers, including the hotshots of this city.

HAAS VICTOR OF SOUTHERN MEDAL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 18 (AP)—Staging a record-breaking exhibition of sub-par golf, young Freddie Haas, jr., of Baton Rouge, La., a former champion, stroked his way to medalist honors Wednesday with a sensational 139 in the 36-hole qualifying for the Southern Amateur golf tournament.

The slender Southern Intercollegiate champion set a new qualifying score in the 34th renewal of the ancient tournament and established a record for the Memphis Country club course.

Haas, winner of the 1934 tournament at New Orleans, led the field by two strokes and climaxed his excellent assault on par with a 66, four under regulation figures, on the final round for the course record. He had six birdies, five of which he collected on his 31 score on the final nine holes.

Trailing Haas across the finish green by two strokes was Henry Castillo, 20-year-old Spanish-born lad from Panama City, Fla., whose sub-par 69 paced the first round firing.

Skeeters Medalist In Ft. Worth Play

FORT WORTH, June 18 (AP) — Bill Skeeters, former S. M. U. tackle and runnerup in the recent state tournament, won medalist honors in the qualifying round of the eighteenth annual River Crest invitation golf tournament Wednesday. He shot a 69, four under par.

He was playing with Don Schumacher, the lad who defeated him for the state crown last week. Schumacher had a fine chance at the medal himself. He also was three under through 16 holes, but finished with a 72. Johnny Dawson, the Chicago sharpshooter, had a 70.

Jimmy Walkup, the defending champion, laced together 36-36 for a fine 72. Ed Stewart, the long swatting Glen Garden ace who is doing a comeback this year, posted a 36-33—71.

TULSA, June 17 — Heh heh heh! Fooled yah this time! The Old Plainsman, together with That Girl on Broadway and That Man on Avenue Q snuck out of Lubbock while their creditors were still fast asleep and never even turned the motor off 'til we reached this Oil Capital of the World, the first stopping place of a considerable junket.

All kiddin' to one side with the left hand, your humble servant and the Little Woman, firmly in tow, are enroute to St. Louey, Cincinnati, Worshington, Philadelphia, N'Yawk and Baltimore on a combination business and pleasure trip. We'll be seein' yah about July 8 or there-abouts.

The Plainsman is going East for two reasons.

In the first place, he's going to take in the Democratic National convention and try to find out what's going on.

In the second place, he's going to try to get as near as possible the pulse of that part of the country, not only on politics but on the progress of recovery and other interesting angles.

It's good for anybody, and especially a newspaperman, to go North and East about once a year and see what folks are doing and thinking, so they can tell the folks at home about it.

INCIDENTALLY, we are looking forward to a reunion in Philadelphia with Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson.

Doctor Jackson, head of Tech's department of government who is better known as plain "Bill," will be attending his third national convention in a row. He and The Plainsman were room mates at Chicago four years ago and four years before that Bill got The Plainsman's reservations for the Houston confab when your humble servant, at the last minute, had to stay in Lubbock and work for a living.

Bill's a delegate to Philadelphia, and with the exception of Congressman George Mahon, will likely be the only other 19th Congressional district resident at the big powwow.

The Philadelphia convention, despite the fact that Roosevelt and Garner are already "in," is not going to be nearly so cut and dried as the Cleveland GOP get-together of 10 days ago.

So-called "constitutional Democrats" — that's another term for anti-New Dealers — will pep up the meeting no end and there is certain to be a heckuva fight over the platform.

The nation's leading editors never were fooled about the claim that the GOP convention would be the "hot spot" and the Philadelphia Democratic caucus the "cold one." That is attested to by the fact that more newspaper correspondents applied for seats at Philadelphia than at Cleveland.

More than 1,000 applications were received for the 600 seats at Philadelphia as compared with 900-odd applications for the 700 seats at Cleveland.

Thank Heaven, The Plainsman managed to wangle one of those Philadelphia press seats which were parceled out by the standing committee of correspondents of the U. S. Senate.

TOMORROW'S column will come to you from St. Louis, via the good, old air mail, which is a great thing for wandering correspondents but not so hot for the dear, old Western Union.

Monday's stint will come from Cincinnati and there probably will be at least one from Washington.

The Plainsman isn't going to try to write a column every day, since he aims to be plenty busy seeing things and talking to folks. This is partly a vacation jaunt, anyhow, so don't be surprised to find Mr. Rodney Dutcher in this position frequently between now and the first week in July.

There will be, however, a comprehensive series of articles written to run daily for a week or more on The Plainsman's return.

NOTE TO SLED ALLEN: How about setting the introduction of candidates from the wrestling ring for Wednesday night, July 8?

That ought to be just about right, since the first primary is not until July 25.

GETTING back to Tulsa, even with summer setting in—a usually quiet time in the oil capital—things are much better here than they were a year ago and infinitely better than they were during the well known depression.

One of the hardest-hit towns in the country during the worst of the slump, Tulsa has come a long way on the "come-back" trail and people are feeling lots better.

There is much less unemployment and the psychology is a thousand per cent improved.

You hear a lot of anti-New Deal talk here-abouts, because there are still a lot of enormously rich people here.

The rich folks are almost 100 per cent against Roosevelt here as everywhere else, but the common, ordinary mortals are for him tooth and toenail.

Even some people who would give their hides to see FDR beaten admit that the odds are two-to-one that the state will go Democratic despite Landon's oil connections, his many friends here and elsewhere in Oklahoma, and despite the fact that he has always lived just across the line into Kansas.

Oklahoma is not a "Solid South" state, either.

It's pretty badly mixed up politically.

YOU don't hear near as much about the national campaign as you do about the Democratic Senatorial campaign featuring the incumbent, blind Senator Tom Gore, Congressman Josh Lee, of Norman, Gomer Smith, Oklahoma City Townsendite, and Governor Ernest Marland.

Most people think it lies between Gore and Lee and that either of them will beat the Republican nominee, whomever he may be.

Josh Lee is well known in Lubbock and out at Tech. He has spoken in Lubbock several times, also has appeared in other points on the South Plains.

Many a Tech prof knew him when he was head of the public speaking department at the University of Oklahoma.

Well, so long for today. You'll be hearing from St. Louis if we don't burn out a bearing between here and there!

Best Plots, If Raw, Can't Crash Studios; Plagiarism Fears Have Forced Hollywood To Take Published Pieces

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 18—Another of the movie companies has become involved in a suit charging plagiarism of a story. This isn't news, particularly, because all the picture makers are kept busy defending themselves against such claims.

But it does serve to point up the reason why studios are so very choosey about the source-ideas for their scenarios.

Every time this department mentions some of the fat figures paid for screen stories, letters drift in from readers here and there asking how to dispose of original movie plots.

The harsh but certain truth is that there is no possible way of selling them in their raw form. If the plot is made into a story, and the story sold to a magazine or a book publisher, it may then be bought by a studio.

Every studio in Hollywood returns unsolicited manuscripts unopened. In so doing they know perfectly well that they are letting a wealth of original and potentially desirable material slip through their fingers.

An especially ironical phase of this sight-unseen rejection is that Hollywood badly needs story ideas with or without fancy literary dressing.

Any housewife or storekeeper conceivably might originate an idea worthy of a great picture, but if he or she lacks the knack of whipping it into a salable story, the idea will never get to the attention of Hollywood.

Hard To Prove

Even with all their care in refusing to look at unsolicited material, studios are continually being charged with piracy of plots. Claims for damages involve many millions of dollars each year, but probably not one plaintiff in a hundred wins his case or gets an out-of-court settlement.

Most recent of the rare judgments went against M-G-M when the U. S. Supreme Court decided the studio had infringed on the play, "Dishonored Lady," in making the film, "Letty Lynton." The studio claimed the basic plot had been taken from the public domain, which is another way of saying that the idea was so old and often used that it couldn't be copyrighted.

But the adaption of the idea seems to have been too much like the development of the play, because M-G-M will have to pay for its error.

Costly Defense

The first big case involving a charge of piracy occurred many years ago, when Valeska Suratt claimed that Cecil B. DeMille borrowed some of her material for "The King of Kings." The producer won, but it cost him a lot to defend the action.

A man named M. P. Echevarria waged a bitter war on Warner Brothers, asking $1,000,000 indemnity on his assertion that the picture, "Across the Pacific," had been based on his book. The case finally was thrown out of court.

Another big suit, for $500,000, was filed by an artist, Pedro Lanuza, against five Hollywood animated cartoon companies. Lanuza said he had originated the idea of cartoon films.

Two Claimants

Paramount has settled a couple of minor suits in its time and beaten dozens of big ones. Its strangest legal muddle came when the studios and the composing team of Gordon and Revel were sued by two different parties over the song, "Without a Word of Warning."

Each plaintiff claimed to have written the ditty. The whole thing is as tangleed as the authorship of "The Music Goes 'Round and Around."

Shirley Temple's "Captain January" was withheld from distribution for a while because of a contest over the film rights to the novel, which was written in 1890. The studio settled for an unannounced sum.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

CASH FOR THE VETERANS

The soldier bonus, officially known as the adjusted compensation payments, is here and hundreds of former service men in Lubbock and over the South Plains, are receiving this week, cash from Uncle Sam for their war days of 1917 and 1918.

One strong note seems to be running through the boys, who are now turning "fair, fat and forty," in that they are going to spend the cash for something useful.

A check of Lubbock veterans indicates the men will buy homes, buy needed clothing, furniture, cars, etc., will pay out on insurance, on their business and a hundred and one other items of daily life. Some new radios, furniture, etc., will also be bought.

Merchants of this section can expect a good business from the payment of this compensation. Dumping of hundreds of millions into the pockets of men in this country will mean that that sum will be turned over several times. It should make a lot of people happy.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936 (NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 18—The political racket remains essentially the same from one decade to another, but it is rather out of the ordinary to find each big party this year presenting a candidate who was, as you might say, something bought in a poke.

It certainly veers a bit toward the quaint side when the Republicans, who have been bellowing their anguish these last couple of years over the sad fate of a Democratic party which elected a president who disregarded his platform and demonstrated that the party had never known what he really stood for, now discover themselves in a pickle jar on the same shelf.

Vague indeed were the 1932 public utterances of Franklin D. Roosevelt and even more vague — also very scarce — were the pre-convention remarks of Alf Landon on national issues.

Now, in somewhat the same manner as Roosevelt took the Democratic conservatives for a ride by introducing the New Deal —but of course to a much lesser degree—Landon has fooled some of the powerful Republican elements by promptly broadening the party platform after its adoption.

He waited until his nomination was cinched before he took the party into his confidence.

The coy game goes on. Landon in recent months has astonished several eastern liberals who have visited him by private statements indicating an advanced progressive point of view.

These liberals have returned from Topeka reporting that he was for "everything in the New Deal" and merely wanted the country to get it cheaper and more efficiently.

As for Roosevelt, he has very definite ideas as to what he would like to do about the U. S. Supreme Court, whose decisions he feels are both political and reactionary. But he won't tell you what these ideas are.

Their Words Don't Add Up

The Republican convention doings were conspicuous for the differences between the public and private statements of statesmen.

Senator Borah, for instance, had been telling his friends that the backers of Landon were reactionaries and monopolists of the worst type, and that he couldn't support such a man in his campaign. Publicly, however, he insisted he was interested in the platform only.

Senator Vandenberg, from the start, has told every friend he has in Washington that he deems the 1936 Republican nomination to be worthless and that he would be silly to take the presidential or vice presidential nomination in a losing year.

Publicly, of course, he would say nothing of the sort.

Borah Takes It On Chin

Few men have taken worse lacings toward the end of their careers than poor Borah. Plain fact is that Father Coughlin and Dr. Townsend were more influential in the writing of the platform than he.

Borah's big issue was bound up in his anti-monopoly plank. It now develops that the Lion of Idaho went wistfully back to the Democratic monopoly plank of 1912 and presented it almost verbatim to the Republican platform committee.

Its essential paragraph proposed strict federal regulation of corporations which would bar holding companies beyond the second degree, interlocking directorates, stock watering, price-fixing, price discrimination, and "other monopolistic practices."

Of course the old-line politicians tossed that part right out the window, retaining only a denunciation of monopolies and a promise of enforcement of the anti-trust laws which gathered dust under Republican rule for 12 long years.

Coughlin, Townsend Score

The bid to Coughlin was in the currency plank's failure to mention gold, which of course was agreeable to Borah.

Dr. Townsend was recognized in the security plank's approval of a pay-as-you-go policy, old age pensions for all needy Americans over 65, and financing by "a direct tax widely distributed."

And then, as Borah left town, Landon hurled a couple of dead cats after him by suggesting a change in the constitution, which Borah opposed, and by declaring for the gold standard, which Borah detests.

If Borah can now claim that he's even half-satisfied by what happened in Cleveland, he's the kind of fellow who would congratulate a dentist who pulled the wrong tooth.

The GLAMOROUS ADVENTURE

by Jean Seivwright © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GAIL EVERETT, winner of a prize for costume design offered by a large silk manufacturing company, comes to New York to find work. She is hired—due to a stroke of luck—by MADAME LIZETTE, proprietor of an exclusive shop. Madame proves temperamental and difficult to work for.

DEREK HARGREAVES, young artist, is interested in Gail, and offers her friendly advice. Frequently Gail sees DICK SEARLES, whose sister was her roommate at school. She also becomes acquainted with NATALIE PRESTON who, under a mask of friendliness, makes shrewd plans to advance her own interests.

Meanwhile, in Arizona, MARK CHAPMAN has an automobile accident, is picked up and cared for by old JED HOSKEER. Mark, long a wanderer, has returned to see his old home. He learns that the ranch, formerly owned by his brother-in-law, PETER EVERETT, is in the hands of the Travers Mining Co. and suspects the deal may be crooked. Mark does not know the whereabouts of his niece, Gail.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

Rex Hall glanced impatiently at the letter on his desk. Why did his mother persist in writing about all the tiresome details of her business? What did he care how many designers she had or what their names were? Why did she always have to see coincidences in everything? If only she would stop insisting on his writing a weekly letter, telling her exactly what he was doing!

Rex had plenty on his mind just now. More than once he'd felt like chucking his job—but the thought of going back to New York to be a sort of floorman-manager in his mother's dress shop was more than he could stand. He smiled wryly as he thought of Madame Lizette's!

Stuffing the letter—half-read—into his pocket, he studied some papers on his desk. But again his thoughts reverted to his own affairs. He'd never liked the job, working in one of the Arizona offices of the Travers Mining and Development company, in spite of the handsome salary he received. He smiled bitterly, and there were hard lines on his young face. Rex Hall's dream of happiness was to be a sculptor, but his money-grasping mother had no sympathy with his dreams, and had, through her connection with Mrs. Travers, secured the appointment for her son.

Rex's job was not a hard one, dawdling about the office, looking at reports and going out to lawyer's offices to sign his name to deeds. That was what galled him. He was just a dummy for the Travers Corporation, buying up lands that their experts had appraised, working quickly so that his connection with the Travers crowd might not be discovered. If that should happen the sellers would undoubtedly withdraw their properties or demand fabulous prices.

Rex did not altogether approve of Travers' principles. His employer was not above taking long chances with the law, endorsing crooked deals. It was one of these that was giving Rex cause for thought now. The matter of the Everett property was one he had discussed with his chief more than once, but the latter—an inveterate gambler—had decided to take one more chance.

So on his instructions, Rex had turned old Jed Hoskeer out of the Rancho Angelo; had finally convinced Jed he must go and had shown him the deed of transfer whereby Peter Everett had sold the place to the Travers Mining and Development company. Rex had felt sort of sorry for the old man, but he'd done his job. He hadn't raised any objection when Dan Draffen, the man the firm put in to look after the ranch, informed him that he had allowed old Jed Hoskeer to stay in a shack on the ranch. The old man couldn't do any harm in spite of his threats.

But now—Rex had discovered that the deed was a fake.

He glanced up quickly as his desk phone rang. Automatically taking up the receiver, he heard the operator say, "Will you please go into Mr. Harrison's office at once?"

Rex rose from his desk, and walked along the corridor. Bert Harrison was the head of the local office.

"I've just heard from Draffen that there's a stranger staying with Hoskeer. Do you know anything about that?"

"No, it's news to me."

"He says he thinks this man has some interest in the Rancho Angelo . . . maybe abetting Hoskeer. How does the property stand?"

Rex cleared his throat.

Harrison laughed cynically. "I'll say it for you—Travers simply seized that property by fraud. But we've got to have it. Have you any suggestions as to what we should do? Have you ever heard whether or not Everett left any heirs?"

"I don't know, but if he did they'd be in the east, I'd say."

"That's so. Well, you better call

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

JOURNAL READERS EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS

HERE'S NEW IDEA

The Plainsman: There's quite a commotion over the parking meter question and I feel impelled to give to the world my own brilliant idea on the subject.

Here's my idea: Instead of our fair city giving some company a cold $20,000 cash for these meters, let's put a few of our local carpenters to work. They can build little toll stations at the end of each street leading into town. Take the officers who will check the meters (if any) and put one in each station. Charge each motorist a nickel for the use of the street to get to town. This can be done at a fraction of the cost of meters, all the money spent will remain in Lubbock and it will achieve the same end. It will keep the country people and people from our neighboring towns from crowding our streets and cluttering up our stores.

Our merchants won't have to work so hard and maybe we can all get a little rest.

Yours for better gas meters and no parking meters.

J. R. Taylor.

ADMIRER RESENTS ATTITUDE

Dear Mr. Plainsman:

A few of your remarks in Monday night's Journal slightly irritated me. Before hurling my grievance at you let me assert that I'm with you on the parking meters. Lubbock is too young fur such. I know that the legislature ignores the second largest school in the state. I agree with you that the Dallas Fair was railroaded over West Texas. You see, I like your opinions. They're bound to be very, very sound because they're mine!

But since when do all women "yammer—" your remarks concerning women at the Republican convention. I imagine I got the same kick listening to the yammering. But what of that political trick? It is only one of the many that are used eternally in the big game called politics which seems to pervade the biggest part of all activities.

The "yammering" of the women couldn't be any more amusing than that done by the men. By the way, did you notice that Mrs. Landon gave you a break—she didn't yammer more than ten words. And did you listen to Alf as he yammered. By actual count all that the weakling said was that he was delighted, happy, etc., etc., in a most ineffectual, sagging-in-the-middle way at least ten times. Personally I had as soon listen to the high pitched ladies who are being groomed for votes as to listen to the deprofundo of the "brainy" sex as he shoots his bology. In fact, Mr. Plainsman, I'm afraid that the dear old-fashioned woman—the clinging vine—is a thing of the dear, dead past. Your talking about men still wearing the pants sounds very much like whistling in the dark. Don't forget that assertion never has to mean truth.

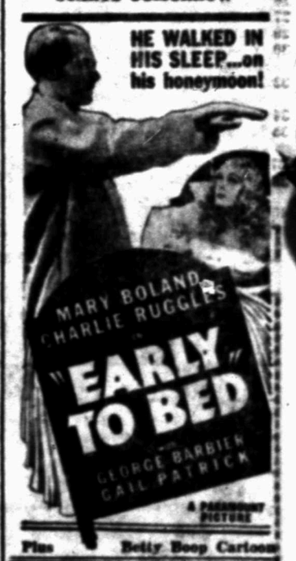

Not that I'm a feminist—goodness no. I've been wanting some big he-man to rush right out and grab the bacon and a little ham. I positively yearn to cling and cling. But what you going to do in this present world?

Personally I could spend plenty of mornings catching up with the sleep while the "provider" was out grappling with the cold, cruel world. I got another smile when you said women vote like their husbands. Just the other day the meekest little woman I know said the maddest she ever made her husband was killing his vote.

Now I pride myself on being nearly as good as the men—not getting personal—sticking to generalities and not getting sore. All this, I assure you, is friendly discussion. I was just a little disappointed in you. You sounded so unfair to the gentle but fast-toughening sex. Really, I thought better of you for after all we can take roasting, but don't be little about it. It's unbecoming to the man that has for a long time gotten my silent and sometime audible vote for the most attractive male personality in Lubbock. No charges!

Yammeringly yours,
A. W.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 18. (AP)—Displacing wheat leadership to some extent, corn came into greater prominence today, and December corn contracts outdid the previous high price record for the season.

Dearth of moisture over most of the corn belt, together with excellent shipping demand, had a stimulated effect on corn values. In some cases, corn futures climbed more than 1 1-2 cents a bushel.

Corn closed firm, 1-4 to 1 1-4 above yesterday's finish, Sept 60 1-2 to 5-8, Dec 56 3-4, wheat unsteady, 1-8 to 7-8 off, July 87 3-4 to 7-8, Sep 88 3-8 to 1-2, oats 3-8 to 1-2 advanced, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to an equal gain.

SEA TRAFFIC SOUGHT

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—This city has authorized a survey for a two-and-a-half-mile channel to make it a deep water port.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 higher to 4 lower with active trade buying of near months and profit-taking in the late positions. July 11.90; Oct. 11.38; Dec. 11.35; Jan. 11.32; March 11.32; May 11.35.

The reactions extended to 11.31 for Oct and 11.27 for Mch later in the morning, making net declines of 8 to 10 points on the new crop positions. Excepting realizing there was not much selling pressure and the market became comparatively quiet on the decline with prices at mid-day showing rallies of a few points from the lowest. Forenoon sales of July attributed to the pool at 11.90 were estimated at about 13,000 bales.

The evening up of the July position continued after the opening and brokers supposed to be operating for the pool were credited with selling approximately 10,000 bales in the first half hour at 11.90 for that position.

Trading in later months was less active than yesterday and a more reactionary sentiment was in evidence. This was reflected by a smaller volume of demand and scatteree, realizing. The market showed a fairly steady undertone. October was selling around 11.35 and March 11.29 at the end of the first hour or about 4 to 7 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 18. (AP)—Cotton was barely steady at the first call today, although all options were above the previous closing levels.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—Brightening business news bolstered the stock market today and kept profit-taking at a minimum.

After a fast get-away the trading pace slowed and many early advances were shaded or lost. Buying support then appeared, but, near the fourth hour, the activity was still restricted.

The rails came to the fore with Santa Fe getting up 3 points. Firm issues included N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Schenley, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Westinghouse, Western Union, Liggett & Myers "B," Douglas Aircraft, Philip Morris, Sperry, Crown Cork, Boeing, International Harvester and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Fractionally ahead also were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, American Telephone, North American, Consolidated Edison and Caterpillar Tractor.

The merchandise stocks, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Allied Stores, Macy and Gimbel were about even, notwithstanding high hopes of soldiers' bonus spending.

NEGROES PLAN CELEBRATION

HENRY SITS BACK TO REMEMBER THE OLD DAYS IN STATE

GALVESTON, June 18 (AP)—Old Henry was just a little feller, black and burr-haided and with lots of foolishments on his mind away back in '65, and his memory of the impo'tant lookin' white gen'lman and his impo'tant lookin' paper is very, very hazy.

The impo'tant lookin' gen'lman with all the yaller braid was Gen'l Gordon Granger, a Yankee gen'lman, and the paper he read in Galveston that June day in 1865 was the 'mancipation proclamation. Little Henry had his eyes all bulged out, watchin' Gen'l Granger and all the Yankee soldjers, but he didn't get really excited 'till his pappy and mammy started hollerin', and then little Henry hollered too.

Important Gentleman

Gen'l Granger had the 'mancipation proclamation in his pocket when the Yankee ships dropped anchor in Galveston harbor on June 18, 1865. The gen'l was an impo'tant gen'lman, though, and didn't get off the ship 'till next mornin', and when he did he was met by a whole mess of hopeful-lookin' darkies and a very small mess of disappointed lookin' white folks. When he puffed out his chest, little Henry and his pappy and mammy, and all the yuther darkies just hollered 'till they like to busted.

"So, now you are free," Gen'l Granger said. "But I advise you to stay at home and go to work for your old masters for pay. This is your opportunity. Make the most of it."

First To Bring Word

General Granger was the first to bring official word of the emancipation proclamation to Texas. His reading of the document on the wharf in Galveston automatically made every slave in the state a free man.

And so, because Gen. Granger read the proclamation in Galveston on June 19th, all the old slaves and children and grandchildren of old slaves have regarded "Juneteenth" as a very important day in Texas. And, since the glad tidings were first uttered in Galveston, this city has assumed an important place in the history of negro freedom.

Thousands of Texas negroes will be in Galveston tomorrow, to celebrate Juneteenth as only darkies can. They will come by train, interurban and automobile, and when they get here they'll spend the daylight hours eating fried fish and crab gumbo, and frisking about in the cool blue waters of the gulf. And when night comes they'll be in the beachfront dancehalls listenin' to the jungle wail of sax and clarinet and trombone—and whilst the young bucks and their gal friends are dancing and sweet-tawkin' under the bright lights old Henry will be sitting in a cool corner, nodding slowly to the rhythm of the music and dreaming of the old days. He'll be thinking of long, hot days in the cotton field, and cool nights around the cabin door while pappy raked toil-weary fingers across the banjo strings.

Accepted As Official

While reading of the emancipation proclamation in Galveston June 19, 1865 is accepted as official in this state, Abraham Lincoln's original proclamation was issued Jan. 1, 1863—the date on which Gen. Magruder recaptured Galveston and virtually destroyed the Yankee fleet in the harbor. On Sept. 22, 1862, Pres. Lincoln issued a proclamation warning that the slaves would be officially freed 100 days afterward.

The emancipation proclamation of Jan. 1, 1863 specified slaves in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana (except 13 parishes), Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South and North Carolina, and Virginia were free. The Americana encyclopedia remarks: "The curious feature of the proclamation is that it abolished slavery only in the section not under the military power of the United States."

There were several other "emancipation proclamations". On June 17, 1862, it was ordered that all "captured, deserted or fugitive slaves of owners in rebellion" should be freed, on April 16, 1862, all slaves of the District of Columbia were given their freedom, and on June 19th of that year it was decreed all slaves in "the territories" be freed.

While the dates of their emancipation do not agree, for Texas negroes there is only one day—the great day—Juneteenth. And Galveston is the place where it is really celebrated.

CELEBRATIONS IN CITY TO BE HELD

Lubbock's negro population will observe the anniversary of the emancipation of their ancestors with separate programs Friday.

Negro ministers are sponsoring a free picnic in the City park in The Flats tomorrow afternoon. Mayor Ross Edwards will be their principal speaker.

Another group is planning dances, one to start at midnight tonight, at Johnson hall, 1792 Avenue A. There will be footraces on Avenue A tomorrow.

The free picnic is sponsored by four negro churches, the pastors of which are J. L. Langston, M. C. Young, L. L. Gordon, and R. E. Jones.

They explained they would have no part in the dances, but that they would conduct a preaching service at Young's church at 307 Eighteenth street Friday night. Jones will speak.

Ex-Convict Sought In Woman's Death

HAMMOND, La., June 18. (AP)—Tangipanos parish officers searched for Kinchen Bridges, 30-year-old ex-convict of Kentwood, La., in connection with the fatal stabbing early today of Mrs. Vyrean Carraway, 30, a Ponchataulo cafe waitress.

Octave Anglade, town marshal of Ponchatoula, who turned the woman over to a Hammond physician for treatment of multiple wounds, said the stabbing occurred on the New Orleans-Hammond highway just outside of Ponchatoula while Bridges was escorting the woman to her home from work.

Bear Grass Grows Through Wall Of Riley Huie Home

Bear grass, which sprouted underneath the home of Riley F. Huie, 3434 Twentieth street and which broke through the wall paper and canvas in his living room, caused considerable interest when displayed by Mr. Huie yesterday.

Dean A. H. Leidigh of Texas Tech division of agriculture, identified the long stem as bear grass. The specimen given him measured about 14 feet in length.

Place where the grass sprouted was at least 15 feet from any sunlight, Mr Huie said. The house has been built at least 12 years and whether the seed which sprouted was dormant all those years or whether it was blown under the house, could not be determined.

Presence of the bear grass was not known, Mr. Huie said, until it broke through the wallpaper and canvas on the living room wall. He brought a sample down town and showed it to Dean Leidigh and to Don L. Jones of the state experiment station, and others.

Eden recited the occasions upon which Great Britain had previously taken the lead in attempting to settle the Italo-Ethiopian war and said that, since the league seemed to be perplexed, the British government considered it to be its duty to take the lead again.

BILL DENMAN IN GRAVE CONDITION

Gravely injured in a 30-foot fall from the sign atop Hilton hotel about midnight, Bill Denman, 17, could not be moved today for x-ray examination to determine the extent of his injuries. He was rushed to West Texas hospital in a Sanders ambulance following the mishap.

Young Denman, son of John Denman, assistant cashier of the First National bank, was working with his older brother, Marion, in the installation of a neon sign. He fell when an electric drill the two were operating shorted and a current passed through his body.

His Known Injuries

Known injuries include a skull fracture at the base, compound fracture of the left leg, fracture of both bones of the left arm, crushed chest, and lacerations about the face.

Marion sought to keep his brother from falling, but succeeded only in seizing the drill, averting shock himself because of insulated gloves on his hands. Bill struck the roof on his left side. His brother carried him down a flight of steps to an elevator which he operated to the ground floor.

The two had been working for the past week, night and day, to rush completion of the new sign. Bill was graduated from Senior High school last month.

them and disappeared, apparently trying to trail the officers with the negroes.

Cafe Is Fired

Early today the growing mob, in which there were some women, returned here and set fire to the cafe in which Simmons was slain when he attempted to quiet a disturbance at a negro dance hall.

The fire apparently sated some of the mob's fury and, officers reported, it dispersed.

The whereabouts of the prisoners remained a secret. No charges had been filed against the negroes, who were arrested after Simmons' death early yesterday.

Negroes Celebrating

The negroes had been celebrating the arrival of bonus bonds when a crowd swarmed around Simmons. Simmons pulled his gun and fired, apparently only to hold back the crowd. Knives and razors were flashed, however, and he was overpowered from behind. He died a few minutes later.

A check of jails in a wide section of South Texas failed to reveal whereabouts of the negroes. Unofficial reports said the officers, three automobile loads of deputy sheriffs and Texas Ranger E. Davenport, planned to place the negroes in jail at Houston.

ISLAND REDISCOVERED

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Forgotten since first explored by an unnamed American 30 years ago, the Isle of Santo Aleixo, a mile long and half as wide, was visited recently by Alfred Von Bukowski, amateur geologist, who said a volcanic eruption at the bottom of the Atlantic centuries ago thrust it up 84 miles southeast of here.

Two Former Nurses Of War Live Here

Lubbock has two former army nurses, both of whom are entitled to an adjusted service compensation bonus payment for their war services. They are: Mrs. E. Kelley Nail, 3101 Twentieth street, and Miss Sophia Johnson, a nurse at the Lubbock sanitarium.

Mrs. Nail has received her bonds, some 26 in number and she is planning to save the money she will receive from them, she said this morning. Miss Johnson would not discuss her bonus payment.

"I served in the army for 19 months, 9 of which were in France," Mrs. Nail explained. I was nine months at base hospital 67, at a small town named Nesves.

"Mr. Nail served in the army longer than I did. I had met him before we went overseas."

The couple were not married until after their discharges from the service.

Walter said he has a wife in New York, where he formerly was manager of a restaurant. The New Yorker said he had never been in trouble over women before.

Attending College

Miss Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cousins of Shelley, Idaho, left home June 1 to attend business college here. She had worked for eight years in the Latter Day Saints hospital at Idaho Falls.

Walter was questioned about the Louise Jeppeson murder in 1933, in which the girl was found strangled and criminally attacked in Golden Gate park. He admitted being in this vicinity at the time, but claimed he was being held at Alcatraz prison as an army deserter on May 13, when the slaying occurred.

A survey disclosed that grasshoppers were swarming over grain fields in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Montana, and spotted infestations were reported in Illinois, Wisconsin and Colorado.

Dr. Leonard Haseman, head of Missouri university's entomology department, said the hopper scourge was worse than that of 1931-32, but not as bad in Missouri as in some of the northern states. The damage will increase, he said, with more dry weather.

So keen was the drouth emergency in North Dakota, Governor Walter Welford dropped his primary campaigning to give full attention to relief measures. It is North Dakota's third straight year of a tense wheat situation—drouth in 1934 and rust last year.

TAXATION

new promise proposal including:

Graduated Levy

A graduated normal tax on corporate income, the levy ranging from 8 to 15 per cent.

A levy ranging from 6 or 7 per cent to 27 per cent on undistributed corporation income.

It was disclosed by conferees that the house delegation had yielded to the senate and agreed to impose a normal tax on corporate income. Previously, the house had called for repeal of the present normal tax, now ranging from 12 1-2 to 15 per cent, and the substitution of a new graduated levy on net income, ranging up to 42 1-2 per cent and depending on the percentage of income withheld from distribution to stockholders.

Closer To House Bill

The latest compromise made public, with its graduated tax of 6 or 7 per cent to 27 per cent on undistributed profits, was closer to the house bill than most recent compromise proposals.

The compromise laid before the conferees for discussion last night would lay a comparatively light tax on small corporations which distribute their earnings, but would impose much stiffer levies on big concerns retaining their income.

The normal tax on net corporate income would be graduated as follows:

8 per cent on the first $2.000.
11 per cent on the next $13.000.
13 per cent on the next $25.000.
15 per cent on all over $40.000.

On this would be superimposed a graduated tax on undistributed income running as follows:

6 or 7 per cent (still undetermined) on the first 10 per cent.
12 per cent on the next 10 per cent.
17 per cent on the next 20 per cent.
22 per cent on the next 20 per cent.
27 per cent on all over 60 per cent.

Bits of wood from famous ranches, fences, and battlefields will be put into a "Texas Centennial table," to be exhibited at the celebration this year.

Drive To Eliminate Word Being Staged

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—The International Circulation Managers association has started a drive to eliminate the word "newsie" from the public's vocabulary.

A report by the association's welfare committee identified a newspaper boy as a young salesman who is learning business fundamentals outside his school training and who may be a leader of tomorrow.

"We are trying to eradicate the word 'newsie' from the public's mind," explained J. H. Kuntz, Lancaster, Penn., one of the delegates at the convention here, "because the term too long has been synonymous with a little ruffian or tramp.

"Modern newspaperboys come from nice families. They are nice kids and not only is the money they earn by their work helpful in continuing their education but so also is the business training they receive," he said.

ANIMAL TOLL HEAVY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 1,000,000 animals were killed by hit-run drivers last year, asserts Matthew McCurrie, secretary of the San Francisco Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in a plea for drivers to show more care.

Although the value of China's import trade showed a decline in the last year, the value of industrial machinery imports increased 19 per cent over 1934.

up the New York office. Have them put an advertisement in the classified columns—a blind ad, for we don't want anyone to know about the Travers connection—and see what that brings. Meantime keep your eyes and ears open. Maybe you'd better take a run up to the ranch and see if you can find out anything more from Draffen—or even the stranger." With a quick nod Harrison dismissed him.

Out in the open, riding toward the Rancho Angelo, Rex felt his spirits rising. Looking around, he marveled at the fantastic beauty of the country, so different from New York, and yet possessing a grandeur that had something in common with the towering gray buildings of the metropolis.

A chorus of barking dogs greeted his arrival, and a moment later Draffen appeared. "You're just in time for chow, if you'd like to eat with us. You know Jed, and this is the fellow who had a nasty spill. Guess I ain't ever heard your name, stranger."

"Oh, it ain't of much account, I reckon. Just call me 'Mark'," Chapman smiled in a friendly sort of way.

"How d'ye do," said Rex. "I guess I'm hungrier than I thought. If it won't be too much trouble I'd like to have dinner with you."

"That's fine." Draffen stepped into the kitchen again while old Hoskeer led the horse to the stable.

Over the simple meal the men talked casually about the weather, politics, and some of the local happenings. Rex felt he was getting nowhere, so at last he turned to to the stranger. "Are you thinking of settling here?" he questioned.

Mark spoke slowly, "I don't know. Guess if I hadn't had that accident I'd be a long way from here by this time. Still it seems real pleasant around here. I might stay for a bit if I could make some arrangements about living quarters."

"You're welcome to stay with me as long as you like, if you can stand the poor accommodations," said Jed, helping himself to another slab of pie.

"You don't need to call them poor. I've been in lots of queer places in my travels." Mark began to tell them about some of his experiences.

The smoke from their pipes filled the room with a pleasant aroma, while the talk and laughter banished the silence that lingered so often in the old ranch house. Suddenly Rex rose. "I've got to get back to town. Guess I'd better be pushing along. If you're in town any day be sure to co: and see me," he said to Mark.

Draffen walked with him to the door while Jed hurried on to put the saddle on his horse. As the two men followed him to the stable Rex said, "What d'ye know about Mark?"

"Nothing! Seems like an interesting sort of chap, pays his way. I thought at first maybe he had his eye on the ranch—found him walking along some of the trails. I guess I was mistaken." He shrugged his shoulders.

"That's all right then, but if you see anything out of the way, let us know at once. We don't want strangers snooping around. Besides, you never can tell what they might be after, or who they might be snooping for."

"Sure, but I guess he's a harmless sort. He's knocked around the world for years and I don't believe he'd want to settle down in a place like this." Draffen added as Jed appeared with Rex's horse.

Loping along the homeward trail, Rex thought of the stranger he had just met. Who was he, anyway? Why hadn't he told them his last name? Oh, well, it was nothing to get excited about! Arizona wasn't Boston. Strangers came and went, accepting a night's hospitality or a meal as the case might be. No one asked their pedigree, or bothered "Mistering" everyone who happened along.

Perhaps it was foolish to have asked him to drop in and see him when he came to town. Rex's connection with the Travers Mining and Development Co. was not supposed to be known to outsiders — especially those who had interests in land. Still, undoubtedly long before this Jed Hoskeer had told the stranger all he knew about him.

Turning his mount over to the stable boy at the Rogosa stables, Rex walked the long block to his apartment. He picked up the evening paper and switched on the lights in the living room. On his desk lay his mother's letter, together with some papers he had tossed there before leaving for his ride.

Frowning, he picked up the letter. He'd better wade through the rest of it. Never knew when she might sandwich in some important piece of news. His eyes flashed with interest as he read. Madame Lizette's new designer was a girl . . . Gail Everett was her name. "When she mentioned it," Madame Lizette had written, "I immediately remembered your company was going to buy some land belonging to someone of that name. Wasn't there something rather irregular about that deal?"

Rex cursed himself for ever having discussed his business affairs with his mother. He knew he shouldn't have done it, but she was so eager to know all about the work he hated that, in a weak moment, he had gratified her desires.

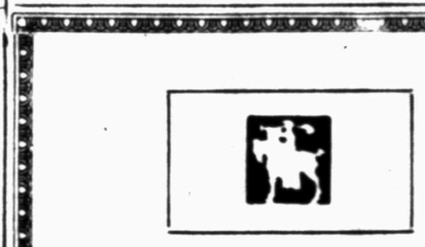

He went on reading. "Mrs. Travers told me today that the company has a huge order for some ore, and they're planning to sink a shaft immediately on some of the property that's never been opened up yet. But of course I suppose you know all about this already. By the way, Gail Everett is a brilliant designer, but she will never learn that from me. She studied at Merrywood Hall."

"Everett . . . Everett . . ." Rex repeated, tearing up his mother's letter and throwing the pieces into the waste paper basket. Then he smiled. It was probably just a coincidence. More important was the news about the shaft. Travers must be desperately in need of ore to contemplate such a step.
