Legislature Tackles Cotton Problem As U. S. Forecasts Record 1931 Crop

Young Fatalists Due To Meet Bad Storms In Sub-Arctic Area

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8. (UP)—Two youthful fatalists, one facing a jail term and the other mourning the tragic death of his sweetheart, presumably were flying through sub-arctic storms tonight in a precipitate non-stop dash from Japan to Seattle.

If the second-hand monoplane of Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen was still in the air over the turbulent Pacific, they probably were skimming down the wild Aleutian island chain toward the Alaskan coast, more than 24 hours after they took off from the beach at Shabishiro, Japan.

Rains on Route

Moyle and Allen last were sighted when they were starting over open sea, about 100 miles from the beach.

Intermittent showers pelted the Gulf of Alaska, northwest winds were blowing at 25 miles an hour and the flying "ceiling" was low. Many steamers of the Arctic Transport company, the Santa Ana Steamship company and the San Juan Fishing and Packing company were scudding toward the Yukon. None reported seeing the battered City of Tacoma II, veteran plane of two previous but unsuccessful transpacific attempts.

The plane carried no radio, however, and no undue alarm was felt. Moyle, the ex-motorcycle salesman, and Allen, the ex-washing machine purveyor, said they planned to fly at an average speed of 105 miles an hour. They had 4,500 miles of ocean to cross. They would arrive in Seattle, thus, about noon tomorrow.

Brass Band Ready

W. W. Connor, president of the Seattle chapter of the National Aeronautical association, had a brass band ready to play "When Good Pals Get Together." He said the band would be at Boeing field to meet them "no matter what time they arrive."

The fatalistic pair of Southern Californians indicated before they left Japan, however, that they didn't much care whether they did arrive.

"I don't care what happens to me," said Allen, whose fiancee, 22-year-old Eileen Miller was killed in an air crash last March. Allen had been depressed ever since, said his friends; had joined Moyle in his super-dangerous hop because there "wasn't anything left."

As for Moyle, he faces a month in in the Los Angeles jail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

"If I make it," said he, "it means jail. If I don't, well, there's the deep blue sea."

GERMANY BUYS 200,000 TONS OF U. S. WHEAT

Farm Board Declines to Discuss Deal Claimed In Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 8. (US)—Germany will buy 200,000 tons of American wheat in 1932 under an agreement to purchase signed by the ministry of agriculture today. It was stated that the announcement would be made officially today by both Washington and Berlin.

U. S. 'HOPES' IT'S TRUE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (US)—The federal farm board threw considerable mystery over press dispatches from Berlin today to the effect that the German government had purchased 200,000 tons of the board's wheat holdings.

When confronted with the dispatches saying the deal had been closed and officially announced, Chairman Stone merely said:

"I hope it is true, but I haven't heard anything about it."

Stone, like other members of the board, retired to his private office and declined to see the newspaper men. Later in the day he sent out word that he would see the press "as soon as anything develops regarding the press rumor now appearing."

Rumors Differ

One Berlin dispatch said the deal had been closed. Another said a German mission is on the way to Washington to negotiate for 16,500,000 bushels of wheat.

Negotiations between the German government and the farm board have been rumored for almost two months but the board has constantly declined to discuss the terms.

Since rumors started that Germany was negotiating for the grain, the board has closed deals to ship 25,000,000 bushels of wheat to Brazil and 15,000,000 to China.

Guardsmen Kill Suspect In Death of Sheriff

FAIRMONT, Minn., Sept. 8. (INS)—Nicholas Rodriguez, 38, a Mexican, was shot and killed by national guardsmen today only a few hours after he was alleged to have murdered Sheriff Gus H. Jorgenson.

The guardsmen were commanded by Arthur Nelson, who served as an officer in the world war.

Sheriff Jorgenson was slain, according to the authorities, when he answered a complaint of Roy Pyoman early this morning. Pyoman asserted Rodriguez was threatening his life on the Pyoman farm, 18 miles from here.

When the sheriff went to the Mexican beet worker's shack, he was met by a bullet, witnesses said. He died almost instantly.

Wife of Indicted Texas Banker Asks Divorce

RENO, Nev., Sept. 8. (AP)—Mollie Harris Samuels charged cruelty in filing suit here today for a divorce from Bertrand B. Samuels, prominent Texas banker who was indicted at Fort Worth following the failure of the Texas National bank.

Samuel Platt, attorney for Mrs. Samuels, said that the cruelty charge was based on incompatability, and that evidence supporting this allegation would be introduced before Judge Morgan when the case is tried tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Samuels will ask the court for custody of an only child, but will not ask for alimony.

Sterling's Message Read in Both Houses, Exhorting Solons

ACUTE EMERGENCY

Futures Markets Hold Own In Face of Federal Crop Estimate

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—Cotton leaders of the South centered their attention tonight upon the Texas capitol, where the legislature was convened in special session today by Gov. Ross Shaw Sterling with the exhortation to enact cotton reduction laws that would "light the way for the southland out of the darkness that now engulfs it."

Governor Sterling's message was read in both houses of the legislature only a few hours after the federal department of agriculture at Washington had issued a new production estimate which gave little comfort to alarmed cotton growers. The estimate of 15,685,000 bales was the highest September forecast since 1915. The futures markets, however, were little affected. After slight declines when trading was resumed, the New York market closed one to three points net higher. The New Orleans close was uneven.

Long Plan Presented

The first cotton bill of the legislative calendar was the plan sponsored by Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana for complete cotton planting prohibition in 1932, embodied in a bill introduced by Representative Victor Gilbert of Cisco. Representative Gordon M. Burns of Huntsville introduced a bill calling for 50 per cent reduction in acreage. Several other bills were in preparation both in the house and senate, although the upper house spent the afternoon in organization.

Governor Sterling's message to the lawmakers declared that nothing less than an acute emergency in public affairs of Texas would have occasioned the session. The weary legislators already had been in session 161 days this year, wrestling with problems of oil conservation and taxation. He indicated he favored a 50 per cent cotton acreage reduction in 1932.

Whole State Affected

The executive asserted the session "was called to aid an industry in distress—the basic industry of the state, materially affecting practically the entire population, directly or indirectly."

He added that "judging from appeals thousands have made to the chief executive in telegrams, letters, petitions and resolutions, the

Woman Lawmaker Urges Return of Cotton Petticoat

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—A plan for solving the cotton problem was offered today by Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, member of the legislature from Bryan.

Mrs. Rountree suggested the Texas legislature pass a law requiring men to return to the old cotton night shirt and women to wear petticoats not shorter than 14 inches from the ground. It might also be advisable, she said, to pass a law adding eight inches to the length of shirt tails.

"If the legislature has the authority to tell a man what he can plant on land that he has bought and paid taxes on, it has the right to tell other persons what they can wear," Mrs. Rountree said.

Dallas Man Accused of Killing 'Keggy' Jones

HOUSTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—A charge of murder was filed against Walter Shanks of Dallas today in connection with the slaying of Chester Alvin (Keggy) Jones. He was held without bond.

At the time the charge was lodged against Shanks he awaited a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings. His attorneys instituted habeas corpus proceedings on the grounds Shanks was held illegally as no formal charge was filed against him.

As officials haggled with Robert Allen, the attorney, over beginning the proceedings, District Attorney O'Brien Stevens entered with a warrant, announcing a charge of murder had been filed against Shanks.

BRITAIN'S NEW CABINET GIVEN ENDORSEMENT

Parliament Votes Confidence in MacDonald Ministry 309 to 250

HUGE CROWD CHEERS

Labor Members Desert Premier in Test of New Government

LONDON, Sept. 8. (UP)—Great Britain's coalition government, created as the nation's bulwark against financial disaster, was given a vote of confidence tonight after bitter and boisterous debate in the house of commons.

By a vote of 309 to 250 the commons, convened in extraordinary session, empowered Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald's new cabinet to present its drastic program for economies and new taxation.

Important session

The opening session of parliament, considered the most important since the world war, revived the tumultuous "class" controversy over reduction of the unemployment benefits, which caused the fall of the Labor cabinet and the revolt of Socialists against MacDonald's leadership.

The cabinet's victory was greeted with loud cheering by the thousands of persons who were held back by reinforced police lines outside the parliament buildings. There was a rush against the police lines and mounted officers had difficulty in forcing the spectators back.

Reds Active

The crowd was larger than in recent years. For the most part, it was quiet and orderly, but there were various attempts to create disturbances. Communist agitators circulated among the unemployed and handbills attacking the "starvation parliament" were distributed. Communist songs were shouted by demonstrators, who clashed with police in several minor outbreaks. Three persons were injured and several others were arrested.

The vote of confidence came after the prime minister had revealed the full extent of the threat to Britain's financial stability in August, when he said the pound sterling was on the verge of collapse, but his plea did not swerve the Labor party from its opposition to the cabinet.

Encouraging Majority

The majority of 50 votes given the government was considered an encouraging sign, as only about 50 votes majority had been expected. The Liberals and Conservatives voted solidly for the cabinet, but only three Laborites, Maj. A. G. Church, Holford Knight and James A. Lovat-Fraser, joined the Labor members of the Cabinet in supporting the motion.

The house of commons will resolve itself into a committee on ways and means Thursday to deal with the financial situation.

Lieutenant governors elected included: Claude Pollard, Austin; Joe Naylor, San Antonio; Gordon Worley, Huntsville, Texas; Tom Archer, Dallas; R. W. Haynie, Abilene; Garland Woodward, Big Spring; Wylie Adams, Tonkawa, Okla.; Emmett Sammen, Cordell, Okla.; Ed Hisel, Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City, and Tom Phillips, Holdenville, Okla.

Grand Jury at Austin To Prove Fee Claims

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—District Judge Walter Robertson declared today in charging a grand jury that "money collected from the people of Texas is a sacred fund and no man has a right to one dollar of it unless there is an express statutory authority for its withdrawal."

Judge Robertson called the grand jury's attention to recent investigations made by a special committee of the 42nd legislature into fees paid to Texas county officials, and charged the grand jury to make a complete investigation of the alleged excess fees and return indictments against all persons which the investigating body, in its deliberations, believes guilty of receiving or demanding excess fees.

Community Chest Drive Leaders Predict Success for Campaign

Cities Bureau Representative Addresses Group, Citing Accomplishments of Other Texas Cities

Complete assurance that Wichita Falls will raise its announced community chest budget of $59,921 without undue effort or delay was expressed by campaign leaders before about 75 local men and women assembled at chest headquarters Tuesday night.

Declaring that charity relief campaigns all over the country are being completed with greater dispatch than ever before, Linden E. Brooks of the American Cities' bureau predicted a quick and successful campaign in Wichita Falls.

Other Cities Do It

"There will be many who will say it can't be done in 1931," Mr. Brooks said. "But I call your attention to the fact that Waco raised its budget this year from $84,000 to $90,000, and raised $96,000; Galveston increased from $105,000 to $115,000 and raised it; Beaumont jumped from $113,000 to $123,000, and made it. Other Texas cities are doing the same thing. Increased needs are being recognized and provided for. A group of 232 community chests in this country already have reported $74,000,000 for their new budgets, as compared with a total of $69,000,000 in 1930. It can be done, and is being done."

Mr. Brooks will be general manager of the community chest drive here as the representative of the American Cities' bureau, as he was in 1930. Frank E. Jaynes, educational director last year, has arrived and will again participate in the campaign.

Jaynes Speaks

Mr. Jaynes spoke briefly Tuesday night. He declared that one of the outstanding results of community chest movements, and similar endeavor, is the development of a new and valuable sense of the humanities among all classes of our population.

Walter D. Cline, chairman of the chest budget committee and of the annual campaign, presided at Tuesday night's meeting, and discussed the budget which was announced earlier in the day. He emphasized

BIG MAJORITY CARRIES ISSUE IN TWO CITIES

North Texas Towns to Build Municipal Distributing Equipment

ENDS LONG BATTLE

Election Follows Rate War With Northern Texas Utility Company

By overwhelming majorities the citizens of Memphis and Wellington Tuesday voted bond issues for the construction and operation of municipally-owned gas plants. Each city voted a $65,000 issue.

The elections, hotly contested and attracting wide interest in both municipalities, came as the climax to a prolonged gas rate controversy with the Northern Texas Utilities company which now serves both cities. Governing bodies in both towns refused to accept the company's rate basis and answered the company's ultimatum by the calling of Tuesday's elections.

Arrangements for putting the money voted Tuesday into immediate use will be mapped by the councils of the two towns later in the week.

WELLINGTON VOTES 329 TO 97

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Sept. 8.—A controversy that has split the town under the leadership of the two local newspapers came to a close here Tuesday when Wellington voted, 329 to 97, to spend $65,000 for a municipally owned and operated gas plant.

The bond issue, supported by the Wellington Leader, Mayor W. W. Neely and members of the city council, was bitterly opposed by the Collingsworth Standard and the newspaper battle came to a climax with the issuance of special editions on the morning of the election.

The city council will meet in special session Wednesday to map plans for using the money. The immediate question before the body is the filing of condemnation proceedings against the Northern Texas Utilities company, now supplying the town.

Self-Styled Gangster Admits Slaying College Hitch-Hiker

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 8. (AP)—John Markham, 21-year-old self-styled Illinois gangster, confessed to Chief of Police Albert T. Clark today he killed Stanley M. Moore, 21, student at the Michigan College of Mines whom he picked up as a hitch hiker.

Markham told Clark Moore became suspicious the automobile in which they were riding had been stolen, and added:

"Why shouldn't I have killed him? He was going to turn me in."

Clark said Markham confessed he killed Moore on a lonely road near Holyoke, Colo., but denied any knowledge of the slaying of Cecil Pruitt, alias Lyal Berry, in Kansas City. In today's statement Markham repudiated an earlier admission in which he asserted a Chicago gangster with whom he was travelling killed both the student and Pruitt.

Pruitt's body was discovered Sunday behind a Kansas City pool hall, located near a garage from which Markham admitted he stole a $4,000 automobile for his trip to Denver. Clark said he was convinced Markham was alone at the time Moore was slain but believes he had two companions when he stole the automobile.

Mexico Asked to Join League as Belated Rectification of 'Error'

GENEVA, Sept. 8. (AP)—An invitation to Mexico to enter the League of Nations was extended today by the league's assembly, which also heard Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy propose an immediate armaments truce to be effective until the end of next year's disarmament conference.

The invitation to Mexico was delivered with a manifestation of friendship for that republic and in the confident expectation that the Mexican government would accept it and soon adhere to the league covenant.

The assembly's cordial action was described by statesmen as a rectification of an unfortunate "error" by which the league organizers 12 years ago omitted Mexico from the list of states invited to membership.

President Wilson was said to have played a large part in excluding Mexico from the league. Associated with him in this action, which the assembly today deplored, was Lord Cecil of England who said today:

"That omission has lasted much too long and I am not sure that I ought not to acknowledge that I was in part, I suppose, to blame. It therefore gives me particular pleasure to take part in remedying an omission which never should have been made."

FARMERS SEEK TIME ON LOANS

A. H. King of Throckmorton Sends Petition

A. H. King of Throckmorton, former state senator, visited J. D. Avis here Tuesday.

Mr. King has just forwarded to the secretary of agriculture at Washington petitions from Throckmorton, Haskell, Stephens and Baylor counties, asking that the government loans granted farmers in those counties last spring to assist them in planting cotton be extended.

The petitions recite that on account of the low price of cotton if the farmers are required to repay the government loans out of this year's crop they will have nothing left. The petitions are endorsed by the county committees which recommended the loans and by the bankers of those counties. A copy of one of the petitions follows:

"Hon. Arthur M. Hyde,
"Secretary of Agriculture,
"Washington, D. C.

"Sir: We, the undersigned citizens of ——— county, Texas, who borrowed from the seed, feed and farm maintenance fund authorized by congress, respectfully ask that the time for payment of our notes be extended from Nov. 30, 1931, to Nov. 30, 1932. We offer the following reasons for making this request:

"There was no debt-paying money in the wheat crop on account of the expenses of harvest and the low price.

"From present indications there will be little net margin in the cotton crop. There will be no sale for our feed crops, all of which we will need for this winter.

"If you take from us the little sums we may be able to save from this year's crops we will be left destitute and unable to secure food and clothes and will not be able to plant a crop next year.

"We are the victims of a three-years' drouth and unprecedented low price and we disclaim responsibility for both.

The secretary is supposed to represent the farmers in the government and we have a right to expect you to adopt a policy of sympathy and liberality in dealing with us rather than ruthless policy indicated by the cold-blooded letters we are receiving from your St. Louis office.

"We believe that if congress were in session now the relief we ask would be promptly granted, and further believe that if you will let these not go over until congress meets in December you will be commended by all the people of the country.

"We believe that if it was good business to extend the payment of debts to foreigners it would be better business to show some consideration to destitute farmers in the drouth-stricken sections of our own country."

"We will not ask that contractors replace their permanent personnel from this list, but all extra workers must be taken from the registered group," said A. R. Losh, city manager.

Wholesale Prices Steady During July

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (INS)—There was an encouraging firmness in wholesale prices in the United States during July, the level having failed to move downward for the first time since September, 1930, the commerce department announced today in its monthly survey.

There was, however, a weakening tendency since the end of July, the extent of which is not yet established.

Although the trend was generally downward the average of stock prices held slightly above that of June, while alternate gains and losses have featured the security market during the first half of August.

HOOVER HEARS STIMSON TALK

State Secretary Reports on European Affairs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—A picture of European conditions made vivid by personal observation and discussions with the continent's leading statesmen was painted for President Hoover tonight by Secretary Stimson.

Just back from an extended tour abroad, the secretary was invited for dinner with the president and later an intimate chat in the privacy of Mr. Hoover's study.

First of Conferences

This conference is expected to be the first of many that will take place before the general disarmament conferenes meets in February at Geneva. Arms limitations is one of the administration's important objectives. A general preliminary clarification of its attendant problems was one of the primary purposes of the secretary's trip abroad.

Mr. Stimson visited the White House this morning for the regular meeting of the cabinet. There he had a brief talk with Secretary Mellon, who carried on negotiations with France which led to French acceptance of President Hoover's plan for a one-year moratorium on inter-governmental debts. The two cabinet members later represented the United States at the London ministers conference.

Talks With Adviser

Most of the day, the secretary spent at his desk. In the afternoon he summoned a meeting of division chiefs to acquaint himself with the affairs which occurred in his absence. He also talked with Undersecretary Castle, who was acting secretary in his absence and who was a close adviser to the president in the negotiations with the other powers on the moratorium plan.

Departmental officials said they gathered in talking with the secretary that he held optimistic views on Europe's political and economic situation. On leaving the White House the secretary said he was hopeful with regard to the Franco-German situation since he knew from his conversations with Premier Laval of France and Chancellor Bruening of Germany that the leading statesmen of the two countries were anxious for a rapprochement.

Stimson was emphatic in the expression of his opinion that the disarmament conference would not be postponed but would be held in February. Recurring reports, in each case denied officially, have said recently that France would seek a postponement of the conference.

PASTOR ADMITS STOCK LOSSES

Murder Suspect Tells of Gambling on Board

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 8. (INS)—Half of the $2,500 insurance he collected on his son was used in paying stock market losses, the Rev. J. N. Williams, 43, Methodist minister charged with the youth's murder, admitted today.

At the same time, the curly-haired, spectacled preacher of Rochelle, Ga., vigorously reiterated his denial that he was responsible for the death of his son, Raford G. Williams, 22, whose bullet-riddled body was found on a lonely road near here Aug. 5.

"I got in pretty deep in the stock market and lost some money. I decided to stop all that and start all over again so I called my board of stewards together and told them what I had done, and that I was going to quit gambling," police announced Williams admitted.

Hall County Maps Plan for Barter

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Sept. 8.—A conference, attended by Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent; E. W. Thomas, county agent; W. C. Dicky, chairman of district one of the agricultural committee; W. B. Quigly, county key banker; Henry Reed and Colonel Matkins, representatives of the chamber of commerce, was held Monday for the purpose of perfecting a plan to conserve the feed and food of Hall county.

The barter plan, as explained by the county agent, is a method by which farmers can conveniently exchange their products. In case a man has an excess of one product, by the plan he can trade it to another who might have a shortage of that particular product but an excess in something else.

According to Miss Ruby Adams, Donley has been operating this plan for some time. The exchange may be made locally as well as with neighboring counties, it is said.

Much stress was placed on the fact that the exchange should be made immediately while an excess of food material can easily be secured. Any information concerning the exchange of available products can be secured at the office of the county agents, according to Miss Adams.

Though this plan comes under the work of the county agent, the local bankers have signified their willingness to be of any assistance possible.

Goodbye itching scalp

Goodbye
DANDRUFF

If your scalp burns and itches, if your hair comes out, if you have loose dandruff, give Listerine a trial. If you do not see improvement in ten days you will be an exception. Just douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously. Keep the treatment up systematically. Note how it cleans and heals the scalp, and gets rid of those telltale flakes.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

BYERS SCHOOL TERM OPENS

Enrollment Sets New Record for City

Special to The Record News.

BYERS, Texas, Sept. 8.—With a first day attendance exceeding any previous total enrollment, the fall term of the Byers public schools opened Monday. A large number of late entrants is expected to increase this number in spite of unfavorable economic conditions, according to a statement by Frank W. Richardson, superintendent of city schools, so that 1931-32 will be the biggest year of Byers school history. A large group of transfers from the Valentine, Charlie and Linville communities is attending school at Byers, bus transportation being available for them as in previous year.

The new school plant has had several improvements completed in preparation for this year's work. A modern library unit has been added to house the high school's extensive and extremely adequate collection. An electric range, the gift of the Texas-Louisiana Power company, and many other appliances have been placed in the home economics department.

Basket ball prospects for the Hornets seem very good this year, says Coach George W. Wilhite, although not a great deal is evident at such an early date. He has Johnson, Stanley and Taylor as veterans around whom to form a winning team and expects to call the first practice in a few days.

This is Professor Richardson's eighth year in the Byers school system, and is his second as superintendent. He holds B. A. and M. A. degrees from East Texas State Teachers' college and Southern Methodist university. Other members of the faculty are Prof. G. W. Wilhite, Mount Pleasant, principal and coach, E. S. T. C.; Mrs. F. W. Richardson, B. A., Byers, E. S. T. C. and S. M. U.; Miss Morine Clark, Wichita Falls, Wichita Falls Junior college and C. I. A.; Miss Elizabeth Scheer, B. Woman to Appear Against Clergyman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (INS)—Supporting charges she filed against the Rev. William A. Shelton, pastor of Mt. Vernon Place Methodist church, South, Miss Carrie A. Williams, former secretary of the clergyman, will appear personally against him when he is tried by a church jury, she said today.

Miss Williams said she "regretted the publicity in a case of this kind," but would appear nevertheless.

Trial of the 58-year-old clergyman was ordered by Bishop E. D. Mouson of the Methodist church, South district which includes Washington, after a committee of five investigated Miss Williams' charges and determined a trial "would be fair to all concerned."

SEYMOUR WINS POWER SUIT

Court Denies Company's Rate Injunction Plea

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Sept. 8.—Judge Atwell of Dallas, at a hearing held at that place, declined to grant the Texas Electric Service company an injunction restraining the city of Seymour from enforcing the rate ordinance recently passed here by the city council, according to reports of City Secretary H. K. Jackson and City Attorney Joe A. Wheat who were present at the hearing.

The case proper will come before Judge Atwell some time in November.

The city's ordinance fixes a minimum rate higher than the company's present rate, and which the company charges will cause them to lose what business they are now receiving.

The city was represented by its council J. W. Gormley and the company's case was presented by R. K. Hanger.

Cotton Mass Meeting Held In Seymour

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Sept. 8.—A meeting of farmers, business men and representatives of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association was held here Monday afternoon at the city hall. The meeting was called at 2 o'clock with about 200 farmers and business men present.

Senator Ben G. Oneal was the principal speaker. B. S. Burgess of Dallas, director of field service for the co-op, and Raymond Ford of Abilene, manager for this district, spoke and explained carefully the workings of the co-op. They also stated that farmers who now had cotton in the association would receive full settlement in 1932. They stressed the fact that the federal marketing act was not intended to put the government in business.

Votes were taken on the reduction plan for 1932, a good number voted for the Long plan, while the majority voted for a 50 per cent reduction. All those present favored the reduction of cotton crops for 1932.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has 495,489 farms valued with their 124,707,130 acres of land, improvements, implements and machinery at $3,779,593,795 or approximately one-fourth of the total 12 billion dollar value of the state. Farm land and buildings are valued at $3,597,406,989, of which $534,537,451 represents all buildings and $351,008,434 the value of farm homes.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Texas will come nearer to "living at home" during the coming year than ever before in modern times. Never in the history of Texas has there been as much home-canning and home-preserving of foods as the present summer has seen. Reports from dozens of counties say new records have been set in this item, while actual figures from 100 counties compiled by the Dallas News show that in those counties alone 10,000,000 cans were sold this past spring and summer, and that total does not include the glass jars and other food containers. . . . . Twenty Central Texas counties, the survey showed, bought 4,500,000 cans this year, and yet the increases over 1930 purchases were largest in Northeast and Northwest Texas, with an average increase in all sections of more than 50 per cent. . . . Texas might advantage, even at this late date, from the example set by a number of small cities in a northern state where home economics classes volunteered to do preserving and canning of all kinds of produce using their school equipment for the purpose. The produce was given free by producers and the canned and preserves foodstuffs have been given to local charity agencies for distribution among the needy during the coming winter.

Baseball Tourney Profits to Benefit Electra Children

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 8.—Electrans are being urged this week to buy tickets to the baseball tournament to be held at the local ball park Thursday and Friday. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be turned over to charity to purchase school supplies for the children who are unable to buy them. The Federated Missionary society with the help of other organizations is sponsoring the games. The Electra Shavers, Phillips Oilers of South Vernon, the Harrold All-Stars and the O. P. & G. nine at Burkburnett will participate. Each team has to pay $5 as an entrance fee and the winners receive the $20. All the other money derived from the games goes to charity.

There will be a house to house canvass for the sale of tickets and at the same time there will be a special charity drive for clothing. People who have clothing to donate to charity should have it ready for the women who will visit the homes. A number of children do not have sufficient clothing to attend school, officials say, and all clothing received will be appreciated.

School opens soon. Why not rent your bedroom or apartment to teachers or students? A small want ad in The Times and Record News may bring results.—Adv.

Mail Order Love

A LITTLE common sense would prevent so many tragedies. The five murders which Harry F. Powers, of Clarksburg, W. Va., committed wouldn't have taken place if two women had refused to let his flattering phrases play upon their vanity. They might have known that advertisements inserted in matrimonial papers aren't based on a certain man's reaction to a certain woman. They are founded on a wholesale interest in any daughter of Eve who is curious enough to send her name and address and volunteer for a correspondence course in courtship.

But somehow or other there is a woman now and then who has an idea that she is really the woman of his imagination for which the man who advertises is searching. Maybe he doesn't know it, she argues. And he certainly won't unless she tells him about it. When an answer comes she can't base the sudden flair of his interest on the light in her eyes or the smothness of the complexion that he has never seen.

When she finally meets the man and the romance takes a personal turn, the fact that its foundation has been built on shifting sand doesn't give it much room on which to stand.

Powers, who preyed upon a foolish sentimentalism which some women have, in order to obtain their property and bank accounts, is a dastardly coward, of course. But it is hard to realize just what charming words the erstwhile Don Juan must have written in order to make women believe that he was a pearl of great price.

There have been pitiful stories told of women who have been afraid that their communities would think that they were unsought because they hadn't married, and who plucked a Beau Brummel from any tree.

But the two women whom Powers confessed that he murdered weren't the only two who were gullible. Scores of letters from others are pouring into the Clarksburg postoffice in which others admit that they, too, received long distance thrills from the matrimonial advertisements of the slayer.

Now and then someone criticizes the younger generation. Heads are shaken because the girls of today are supposed to have considerable more knowledge of life than their grandmothers had at the same age. But it is fairly safe to wager that a far smaller percentage of the worldly-wise teen-age group will ever chase a thrill through an advertising agency.

He Should Have Waited

SO RARELY does a principle of religious doctrine enter into a law suit that a decision handed down Thursday by the federal circuit court of appeals at St. Louis becomes conspicuously interesting.

The suit originated in the disposition of a $1,900,000 estate left by Richard C. Kerens, late ambassador to Austria. Vincent Kerens, a son and a Texas rancher, claimed a share of the estate. The will of the deceased diplomat stipulated that the son should receive part of the estate only after five consecutive years of good conduct. A federal district court upheld the Texan's claim, but two sisters carried the case to the St. Louis appelate court and won a reversal of that decision.

Evidence adduced showed that the son had married after having been party to a divorce. Because the Kerens family was of the Catholic faith, the sisters charged that their brother's second marriage violated the "good conduct" stipulation. The federal court of appeals upheld that contention.

There will be many ardent advocates of various religious denominations who will charge the court with allowing religious doctrinalism to intrude upon the lofty principles of impartial jurisprudence. Careful consideration of the case, however, will reveal the soundness of judgment and loyalty to fact which motivated the decision. It compliments the stability of our courts.

Construction of the "good conduct" clause written into the will obviously should be made from the viewpoint of the man who wrote it. What other people think "good conduct" may be, in the abstract, has no bearing on the case. The decision aptly exemplifies the application of fine legal intelligence to an unusual situation.

The Price of Competition

RENO divorce courts are operating under force blast. Other cities are operating marriage bureaus under the same tempo.

There is something tragic in this. There is something cheap about it. True, the machine age has brought it about. We can not have highly organized lives and medieval romanticism.

Yet, it would be pleasant to believe that some phases of love and life had not been warped by the whip of competition and the necessity of efficiency. A price must be paid, but it would pay to consider what price it is worth.

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: I picked up a choice bit of clue, I think, about that Jap ...I understand that he also was a camera fiend, and on the boat took pictures with his baby movie camera...Why doesn't the law find that camera—and have the films developed? Might help a little... Martha Pryor just called to tell you that Vivian Nolty, a beautiful show girl (in the 1st Vanities) died and that her funeral is Friday morning from her late home at No. 1084 Amsterdam avenue. The Fox theater, Brooklyn, would like to have a telegram from you congratulating them on their 3rd ann'y... Times must be slack considering that Peggy Joyce accepted a "Ring of Romance" from a feller before she sailed...If you remember your ads none of them are priced over $300 ... There's a thief back stage in the "Follies"...Gladys Glad's pocketbook containing a mess of money was burgled...Virginia Golden writes me from Hollywood that they certainly postpone their adolescence out there.

Your poke at the Strand press dep't over the stale funnies in its current flicker brings a note from Carroll Carroll...He says he was prowling thru a copy of Dostoyevsky's "Karamazoy" and in it he discovered the "I'll take vanilla" gag, which makes the gag over 50 years old...Life is very confusing, as Dostoyevsky has a habit of saying on nearly every page, which is why his books are so long...I was reading Post and Gatty's new book and came across some interesting items, such as Mrs. Lindbergh studied navigation with Gatty as tutor... That Post once remarked that he'd give an eye for a plane, and then he met with an accident to an orb, the insurance helping to buy a second-hand plane, his first one...By the way, there's a new insult making the rounds—You simply say to some one you dislike: "Aw, don't be what they call you!"...Talk about faces burning up!

A Miss Edith Page phoned. Said she represented all the "Vanities" girls and would you please quit thumbing your nose at the show... That "your" editorial was cruel and things like that might eventually cost them their jobs...I tried to tell her you were entirely divorced from that part of the paper and that you didn't write it, but it made no impression on the dear person ...She agreed, however, to complain to the editor...Vivian Denton, of Greenwich Village, who entered the Toronto marathon swim, won the distinction of being the first to quit after swimming 100 yards...You might inquire the name of the Friar who was suspended from the club and then sought reinstatement by offering a check for dues that bounced back! ...Mrs. Donald G. Perkins, of the smart Fairfield Hunt Club set, has two daughters named Nancy!

Allene M. Harrison of Memphis (you mentioned her recently) was married on May 19 to Rob't K. Reidford of L. A., at San Jose... Statistics prove that more people are killed bringing liquor into the country than are killed from drinking it...I hear that Jock Whitney also has coin in Peter Arno's show ...Understand that Ethel Merman complained about the "Scandals" score not fitting her range and that they are hastening new ones for her...Pierre Norman, who wrote the song, "Leave Me With a Smile," has done a new one with Ed Duchin, of the Casino, called "Love Comes But Once, Dear"... Collier's had a piece very reminiscent of one by Lord Dunsany and please do not ask me to tell you the title because I've called up everyone in town to find out...Allan Prescott phoned. Said that a bird in the hand is worth two in the theater...George White has posted a sign back stage of "Scandals" warning chorus girls that if they are seen with principals they will be fired...It seems one star and a chorine are nice persons—but People Are Beginning to Talk!

One of the better known movie executives was an active member of the Communist party in 1920—he now has money and is terribly American...The model for that famous collar ad in the subways is growing a mustache and is on the editorial staff of a magazine... That book due soon by R. Field is not about the uncensored letters of Chaplin but Chapin, the former editor who died in Sing Sing...Perhaps Mr. Seabury doesn't know that the man in charge of all contracts for the N. Y. State Dep't of Audit and Control is named Mr. Crook... Norma Terris will be glad, she says, to serve as guestar on your broadcast...Ruth Etting is first, am not sure how you've arranged the second, Raquel Torres or Miss Terris? ...I think that list of questions answered by the "Vanities" girls is very amusing, particularly the girl, who in reply to the query: "What is your ambition?" answered: "To get a divorce!"...The late Starr Faithfull's sister is posing for mag covers.

It seems to me that the critics are more severe than ever, or is it that the shows to-date have been that ordinary?...Friends who saw "Scandals" in Newark assert that Vallee will surprise you all...Simon & Schuster liked your foreword to Reichenbach's "Phantom Fame" and they thank you a lot...Did you ever use: "And They Pan Cakes!" ...Nobody has pointed this fact out regarding the innocence of that taxi driver in that Bronx wild-west stuff ...Do you believe for a moment that he would have used his own cab, which could be checked up, if he had been a gangster?...I say No! and if you want to make me happy say something in the col'm ...Don't forget the 3rd instalment of the Federal tax...I know this will irk you a little but Theodore Dreiser was very sore about a line he said you wrote...I told him the line appeared elsewhere...He was confused because there were three dots between the sentences and assumed it was by you...As a matter of fact one of the boys carelessly paired a "Follies" dolly with a man, whose wife just had a child ...Fortunately for the man, the columnist got his name wrong... We all make mistakes, I know, but not one right after the other!... Through thick and thin, no matter how you slice it—Faithfully—R. C.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

M. FRANCOIS DANGUIN HAS BEEN A CHOIR SINGER FOR 79 YEARS—A few years ago a curious inquiry was started in an effort to ascertain who was the eldest choir singer in France, and brought to light the unusual record of M. Francois Danguin of the little village of Ternand, in the diocese of Lyons, to whom the honor was conceded. M. Danguin, now in his 94th year, is still singing in the parish church. He was regularly installed as a member of the choir at the age of 15. His 79 years of service do not include the years prior to those when he wore the red cassock of an altar boy.

M. Danguin's record is verified by the archbishopric of Lyons.

TWELVE INCHES ARE NOT USUALLY A FOOT—While every nation has a unit of measure called "a foot" its value differs from the foot current in the United States and from each other. Thus the Canadian foot measures 12.8 English inches, the Brazilian "pe" 13.122 inches, the Argentine "pie" 11.365 inches, the Mexican 10.997, the Swedish "fot" 11.689, etc.

The variance is due to the varying sizes of the human foot on which the measure was originally based.

T. F. Hunter Urges Crop Rotation Law in Letter to Texas Lawmakers

Wichita Falls Oil Man, Mentioned as Candidate for Governor, Offers Solution for Farmers

T. F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil operator who has been mentioned as a candidate for governor in 1932, has mailed to each member of the legislature at Austin a communication in which he discusses the cotton situation and expresses the belief that a law requiring rotation of crops and prohibiting the planting of cotton any two consecutive years on the same land would be valid and would reduce the cotton yield. Mr. Hunter's communication follows:

"To members of the Texas legislature: No edifice was ever constructed without first a set of plans. No artist ever did his masterpiece without first an idea and an outline. The federal farm board undertook a great program without a well-worked objective. It has accumulated, without first determining what they were to do with it, a great surplus of cotton and wheat. Its three and a half million bales of cotton, added to the 15,685,000 bale American crop estimate, makes 19,185,000 bales available this year. Why does it not have a plan?

The board's suggestion that the farmer increase his expense by plowing under every third row is a joke and allays what little faith one might have had in them. It would be just as reasonable to tell the dairyman that to solve their difficulties they should pen their cattle and cut off every third teat.

Board's Cost Unknown

"No one seems to know what it is costing to maintain this board. They have an organization of a great many men with warehouses and keepers. One man in that organization, not a member of the committee, "earns" $75,000 per year. This man's assistant gets $37,000 per year. We should liquidate the business of this board over a period of say five years, at as little expense as possible. If it were announced that the three and a half million bales of cotton in the hands of the board were not available on the market, that not more than 20 per cent of it would be sold during any one year, there would immediately be a raise in the price. Such a liquidation would reduce our available crop by nearly three million bales. If, while the wheat was in the hands of the farmer, it had been announced that the government had 200 million bushels that would not be sold until there was a crop shortage, wheat prices would have responded. Instead, it was as the cotton is, held open as a club on the market.

"Governor Long's plan has some merit, though, as enacted into law by the Louisiana legislature, will not stand the test of the courts. His plan is embodied into the one by Senator George. If the entire crop was purchased by the government, 50 per cent paid this year and the balance next year, conditioned that the same farms produce no cotton during 1932, it would be by contract made legal. Only those who entered into it would be bound. Though, if the opportunity was afforded, practically all would take advantage of it. The price would be advanced sufficient, if the overhead was not too great to save the investment by the government. Rotation of crops would maintain the price gains.

Plan Has Evils

"There are some evils to come from this plan if put into operation. In the first place, our cotton is being marketed through regular channels. Thousands are engaged in its gathering, ginning, compressing, shipping and marketing. These people would be put among the unemployed for a year. The cotton being in the hands of the government, it would be diverted from its regular channels of commerce with other countries. Foreign countries would increase their cotton yield. "While it would only require $450,000,000 cash (an amount equal to the recent British loan) for the government to make the first year's payment under the George plan and though its sale would not only take care of the second year's payment, but refund the first, it is but reasonable to presume that the George plan will not be adopted. If a commission was appointed to investigate it, the cotton would be out of the producers before a report was had.

"Summing up the figures, for the year 1929-30 the world produced 26,200,000 bales of cotton, of which the United States produced 14,828,000. There was only an increase for last year over 1927-28 of two and a half millions (less than that of the farm board club). During the three years there was an increase in acreage planted of 8,770,000, of which increase the United States was responsible for 5,655,000 acres. There was on July 31 a carryover of 9,130,000 bales—a large surplus, while for 1929, the carry-over was 4,679,000. The United States consumes about 50 per cent of the cotton produced; the other is exported. Therefore, the price depends upon foreign conditions.

Rotation Plan Legal

"It is obvious that the individual states must either solve their own problem or allow the plight of the plants to further demoralize the country. A law requiring a rotation of crops, if properly drawn, being necessarily as a soil conservation measure, to prevent root-rot and other plant pestilence, will stand the test of the courts. To prohibit the planting of cotton any two consecutive years on the same land would reduce the yield. Probably the law should require during 1932 and 1933 that land theretofore planted in cotton be given two years rest from cotton; thereafter, one year. This would no doubt reduce the crop for the next two years by approximately 50 per cent (I do not have exact figures); then by rotation a decrease of probably 30 per cent. This means would accomplish the desired results without the evils attending the complete shutdown. Banks would then finance the carrying of the present surplus.

"Texas should be first in the production of grains, cattle and hogs. It should raise hogs for the outside market. We have given too much attention to cotton when we should have been diversifying. We produce only one-third of the pork we use. We buy our pork from Iowa and other states. A plan of crop rotation might bring us into our own.

"A reduced cotton acreage and yield would produce the farmers more money by less labor and allow more children to attend full school terms. It is a heritage to which they are entitled.

"Tom F. Hunter."

Local Artists Give Opening Tejas Delphian Program

A perfect setting for the inaugural autumn meeting of the Tejas Delphian chapter in their program on art was furnished Tuesday morning in the long living room and bright sunroom of Mrs. Rhea Howard's home where a green bowl of dawn pink roses, a crystal vase of marigolds in lemon and gold and rich crimson zinnias in a black bowl on the piano furnished color notes exquisite in the room.

Mrs. Walter Hugh Caldwell made the opening talk, telling of the three years of work that had been done and stressing the fourth when the study of art would furnish an interesting season following the preliminary work based on social culture. The idea of the Delphian that papers should not be read but that students should learn to think and talk on their feet was prettily stressed in her introduction and Mr. Emil Hermann who was beautifully presented as the first artist speaker, expressed admiration for the ideals of the chapter.

Aesthetic Sense

The basis of Mr. Hermann's initial talk was his conception of the sixth sense which he stated was the aesthetic sense. In it, he stated, man was differentiated from the animals, and in it was the beginning of art. Following his appreciative talk on the manner in which this aesthetic sense had bettered the trade of nations, Mr. Hermann read several pages of a paper he is to deliver in November before the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, of which he is a member.

Stressing as the most important thing the home, Mr. Hermann stated that in the home fine family spirit and bodily health were necessary. He traced through the Chaldean, the Egyptian, the Greek civilizations the art that had perpetuated ideals showing an aesthetic sense had not lived in vain. His description of what an artist wished to catch—the harmony of color in flower and vegetation, the mist on the hilltops—was beautifully worded. Art in the school was given its meed of praise and the need of harmony and beauty in children's lives was stressed.

Mr. Hermann's discussion of cubist and futurist art was scathing and his praise of the fundamental principle needed in art, proper drawing, powerfully expressed. "Today," he said, "out of the artists in the country only about 15 per cent know the fundamental principles of drawing." He spoke of the various manners in which modern artists arrived, condemned the jury system of passing off paintings and expressed what art meant in mental and spiritual satisfaction to the artist.

Mrs. Hoffman's Talk

At the conclusion of an interested discussion of Mr. Hermann's statements, Mrs. Luther Hoffman talked vividly on Italian artists. Going back to those earliest works of art that needed only dimension—before shading or color was known, she traced art through Babylon, Assyrian, Persian, Phoenician, American cliff dwelling and Mexican work where history was told in the work on walls. Pictures of Grecian vases were shown, telling of the Greeks' power as draftsmen; she spoke of the symbolic pictures in the catacombs and showed illustrations of decoration done in mosaic and the fresco that followed. From a stirring description of Byzantine art, she came into modern art when feeling of perspective was attained and the beauty of color preserved.

Beautiful colored prints were shown by Italian artists including Fra Angelico, Michael Angelo, Del Sarto, Botticelli, Titian, Leonardo da Vinci with the Last Supper, Raphael with his beautiful Madonnas and Titian, the supreme colorist.

Urges Drawing

The enormous value of the pictures preserved as specimens of art in their age and as lessons in inspiration for this age were stressed. Drawing was urged by Mrs. Hoffman as the foundation for real work.

Miss Anna Catherine Howard, the pretty young daughter of the hostess, played "Within the Walls of China," by Katherine Lively, interpreting the changing tempo with beautiful effect.

Mrs. Caldwell thanked the artists who had appeared on the program and announced the next meeting of the Tejas chapter of Delphian society to take place at the home of Mrs. H. B. White, 3701 Kessler, Tuesday, Sept. 22.

A delightful luncheon was served to Mesdames G. P. Raborn, L. E. Martiew, H. B. White, W. C. Woody, H. W. Barton, Austin Leach, W. H. Caldwell, C. F. Greene, R. G. Cocanower, F. C. Elkin, R. L. A representative of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce probably will attend the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing of oral argument at Washington Sept. 21, in connection with the application of railroads for a 15 per cent freight increase over the United States, it was announced Tuesday.

Opposition to the granting of the application was expressed by the chamber here recently when the board of directors voted disfavor of proposed increases in petroleum rates. However, no vote was taken directly for an opinion on the proposal for 15 per cent increases generally.

The Washington hearing will be the final before the commission rejects or approves the application for increases.

Bratton at the Church of ing at 9 o'clock when Miss Mary Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Allison became the bride of Albert Reinhard Gaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gaus of Pittsburgh, Pa.

A prenuptial song, "All For You," by Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis announced the arrival of the wedding party. Mrs. Carrie Wilcox played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the party entered. Messrs. Carter McGregor and David G. The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and met Mr. Gaus and Harold M. Kelleher, who acted as best man, at the altar entrance. A Mary Lee frock of diagra cloth in Spanish tile with trim of brown and white broadtail and brown accessories made her dark beauty more vivid. She carried an arm bouquet of great yellow chrysanthemums.

During the conclusion of the impressive ceremony, said at the altar, Mrs. Wilcox played "Perfect Love," in beautiful undertones and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was the recessional.

The bride attended school at Ward Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., and Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth. Mr. Gaus is a Cornell university man and is now engaged in the oil business in Wichita Falls.

Directly after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gaus left for a two weeks' trip to Corpus Christi and other points in the valley and in Old Mexico. On their return they will be at home at 1413 Hayes street.

The Treatment of Varicose Veins

Any one who is trying to overcome varicose veins must avoid long-standing positions. It is a good plan to raise the foot of the bed to allow the veins to drain while one is asleep.

I recommend an acid fruit fast in the beginning of the treatment not only to get the blood in a healthier condition so as to build stronger walls in the veins, but also to give the liver a chance to function better.

Local treatments of the enlarged veins are also necessary if one wishes to reduce them to normal size. Certain kinds of electric apparatus, which can only be used by physicians, are extremely valuable for accomplishing this. If the veins are not too badly enlarged, however, one may accomplish a great deal of good by applying a piece of ice to the enlarged veins several times each day.

You can also benefit yourself by taking certain exercises for carrying the blood away from the enlarged veins. A good exercise for varicose veins of the legs is taken by lying on the back on a slanting board with the feet elevated several feet higher than the head. In this position gravity pulls the abdominal organs away from the pelvis and relieves the pressure against the veins coming from the lower extremities. Gentle massage while the limbs are elevated is also beneficial. The strokes should always be in the direction away from the extremities toward the heart. After the veins have been emptied in this manner, you can tone up and contract the walls by the application of ice. This should be done several times daily. The ice may be held against the vein with a towel so that the hand will not become too cold, but the smooth part of the ice should be pressed directly against the swollen veins while the limb is elevated and should be allowed to remain on a part of three or four minutes. Apply the ice successively to the different parts to be treated. After three or four months of this treatment the veins usually have become strengthened and contracted.

During the cold weather a substitute for the ice treatment may be had by sitting in a bath tub with the leg elevated and allowing the cold water to run over the part of the leg where the varicose veins are located. The ice treatment, however, produces the best results. You should bear in mind the benefit to the whole circulatory system that is derived from living on a carefully selected diet. Care should also be used not to cause a congestion of the liver by an excessive use of fats, sugar, or alcohol.

When ulcers have developed on varicosed veins, there is at first only a discharge of serum, but in advanced cases blood and pus may be exuded. The ulcers will disappear very rapidly during a fruit juice fast, but it is often also necessary to use local treatments of the ulcers by radiation from the ultra-violet or actinic light. Only a few applications of these rays are usually necessary to bring about a healing of the ulcers.

I believe that any one with varicose veins will find it advantageous to follow the instructions which I have just outlined in this article.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Empyema

Question—E. A. K. writes: (A) What is empyema? (B) By what symptoms is this accompanied? (C) What is an empyema scar? Is any treatment helpful?"

Answer—Empyema is the accumulation of pus in any cavity of the body, but the term usually refers to the chest. When it occurs in the chest, it is usually due to pleurisy or injury. It causes difficult breathing, fever, loss of strength and emaciation, as well, and the white blood cells became very numerous in the examination of the blood. An empyema scar would be the adhesions which would form after the absorption of the pus. The treatment is similar to that described in my article on pleurisy, which I will be glad to send you if you will send me your full name and address and a large stamped envelope.

Nose Enlarged From Acne

Question—Marie says: "Can you give me some remedy to reduce a large fleshy nose. My nose is very fleshy especially from the middle to the end. The pores are very large and fill up with acne and oil surpisingly quick."

Answer—The appearance of fleshiness in the end of your nose is probably caused by the acne, as there is undoubtedly a good deal of inflammation and swelling under the skin. If you can overcome this acne, I am sure your nose will appear more normal in size. I will be glad to send you my article on acne if you have not already received it. Simply write to me and enclose a large self-addressed envelope.

West Texas Cities to Get New Power Service Through Extensions

Special to The Record News.

ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 8.—Through the construction of new electric lines and facilities, the West Texas Utilities company will extend modern transmission line electric service to new residential, commercial and oilfield customers, according to information contained in the company's regular construction report. Work on the projects is going forward.

In addition to the service extensions, work is scheduled on existing equipment which will strengthen and improve service now rendered to customers.

The most important projects are as follows:

Vernon Transformer

Two miles east of Vernon, a 12,000-115 volt transformer will be connected to the Oklaunion highline, and service rendered to the Needler store; at Lela, new transformers and service lines will carry service to a cotton gin; the distribution system at Dumas will be extended to serve a new public school building; a two-wire secondary line will be built out of Haskell to serve two filling stations south of the city; at Dalhart the distribution system will be extended to serve new customers; at Wellington a 2,300 volt service line will be extended to an ice plant, and at Bradshaw the distribution system will be improved and service furnished to the Putnam Gin company.

New oil field extensions will be made from Iraan, where a three-phase, 440 volt line will serve the Easter and McCurdy company with power to pump four wells, and in the Royston oil field, where 9,600 feet of 12 Kv. distribution line will be constructed to take care of new drilling contracts in the Fisher county section.

Crews Employed

Modern sewer service will be extended to new customers in West Vernon through the extension of 570 feet of six-inch tile sewer line.

As a part of its program of standard office identification throughout its properties, the company will install a double-faced electric sign on the office of the recently-acquired Dalhart Public company, Dalhart.

The construction work included in the report is going forward at the present time. Regular construction and maintenance crews of the West Texas Utilities company are handling the work.

SPUDDERS RALLY TO DEFEAT SHREVEPORT IN 11TH, 5 TO 4

BARGAIN BILL CARDED TODAY

'Two-Bit' Day for Final Sport Series Here

By FRED THOMPSON

Proving that it's not how many hits a team gets that counts, but when it gets them, the Spudders won a ball game yesterday on a grand total of six hits, scattered over 11 innings.

The Shreveport Sports banged away at Ash Hillin and Lester White for a dozen hits, but only once was a Sport hit delivered at the timely moment—when Winegarner belted one out of the park in the sixth with a mate aboard. The other two tallies off Hillin, in the fourth, were unearned.

The Spudders had anything but batting punch at the start of the contest, but picked up gradually until the tying run was pushed over in the ninth. After the scoreless 10th, a walk to Bradbury started the Sports' undoing. Fuss sacrificed him along, and Scharein came through with the necessary single, a hard grounder through the box.

Today Wichita Falls and Shreveport meet for the last time this season. A double-header will be played, starting at 3 o'clock, and a special bargain offer will be made. Any seat in the park may be had for 25 cents. The "two-bit" bargain proved so successful here at its last trial that President Huff decided to repeat it.

The Spudders took the lead in the first frame when Garms' double, an error by Geygan on Allday's grounder, and a pass to Badgro loaded the bases, Garms scoring when Gerken hit into a double play. Bradbury grounded out, second to first, to retire the side.

This lead held until Shreveport's fourth, when with two out the Sports scored a pair to force ahead. Solters singled to center. Winegarner lifted a single to shallow right and Fuss' peg to third hit the runner and got away from Euller, allowing Solters to score. Winegarner drew up at third. Mueller beat out an infield hit to short, scoring Winegarner. Rowland singled and both runners advanced on a wild pitch but Moore rolled out to Scharein for the third out.

Matters were at a standstill then until Shreveport's sixth when Solters singled and Winegarner followed with a home run over the left field fence, giving the Sports two more tallies.

After the first inning the Spudders went five innings without a hit. They got their second hit of the game when with one out in the seventh. Fuss doubled to center. Scharein followed with a triple to right, scoring Fuss. Euller grounded out, short to first, Scharein scoring. Hillin flied to left for the third out.

Badgro got a double in the eighth for the fourth Spudder hit, but his mates left him stranded.

Good fielding quashed Sport threats in the seventh and eighth and in the ninth Hillin retired his foes in order.

In the Spudder ninth, Fuss walked, took second on Scharein's sacrifice, and went to third on Euller's infield out. Hungling batted for Hillin and doubled to center, scoring Fuss with the tying run. Florrid went in to run for Hungling. Garms flied to center.

White took the mound for the Spuds in the tenth. The Sports went down in order, all three hoisting to the outfield. Three Spuds also went down, via the infield.

In the first of the 11th with two out, Geygan doubled but Cashion popped to third. In the home half Bradbury walked and took second on Fuss' sacrifice. Scharein singled through the box, scoring Bradbury with the winning run.

Canzoneri, Berg In Title Bout Thursday

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—Apparently neither Tony Canzoneri nor Jackie Kid Berg will have any trouble making the 135 pound weight limit for their 15-round lightweight title match at the Polo grounds Thursday night.

Canzoneri, who repulsed Berg's title challenge in Chicago with a two-round knockout, finished training today weighing 133 pounds. Berg also completed training today scaling about 135 pounds.

Three Southwest Conference Teams Loom as Contenders

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Seven Southwest conference football aggregations, some with championship aspirations, others centering their hopes on one major combat, go into training Sept. 10.

Some will make bids for nationwide fame by playing major intersectional games such as the University of Texas against Harvard, and the Southern Methodist Mustangs against the Naval academy. However the big goal of the powerful teams is a conference title.

The University of Texas Longhorns, Texas Christian university Frogs and Southern Methodist university's galloping Mustangs have been selected to head the championship parade.

The Rice Institute Owls have been assigned the task of furnishing any possible upset.

The University of Texas 1930 championship team is not expected to repeat, although Coach Clyde Littlefield will have a collection of all-Southwest conference material. The reason is that no team in the conference ever has won two consecutive titles.

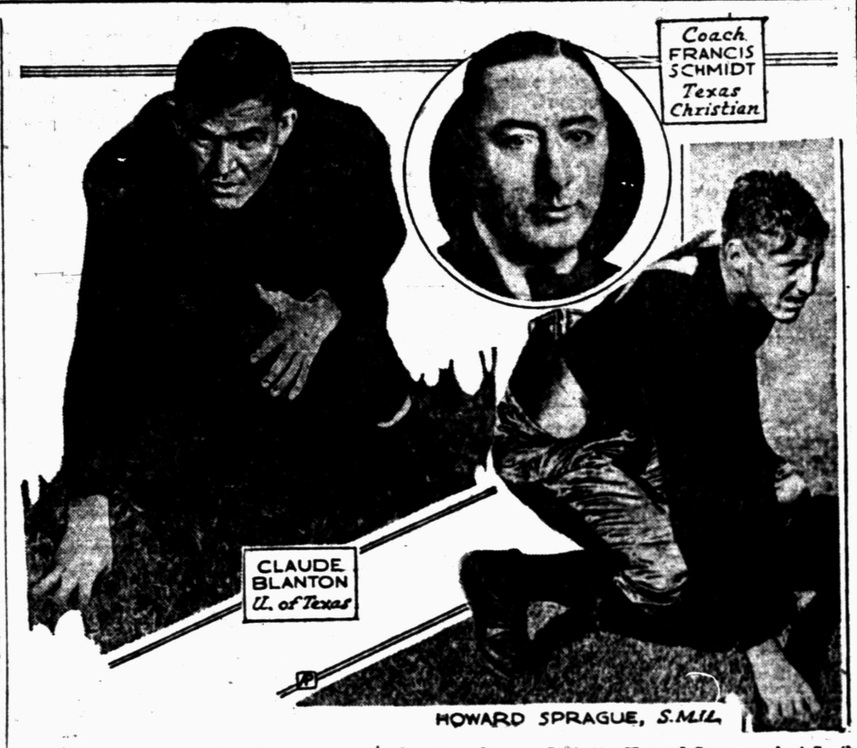
Ernest Koy and Harris Stafford, backs, and Claude Blanton, tackle, three Longhorns who were placed on The Associated Press' honorary Southwest conference team last year, are the backbone of the 1931 team.

Coach Ray Morrison's Southern Methodist university Mustangs, celebrated for their aerial attack, will be bolstered by the return of Marion Hammon, lineman who was placed on numerous All-America teams in 1929 but who was ineligible last season.

Along with Hammon, Morrison will have Weldon "Speedy" Mason, a brilliant broken field runner, Bob Gilbert, one of the best pass throwers in this section; "Roughhouse" Riley, giant tackle and Howard Sprague a 220 pound ramming fullback.

Coach Francis Schmidt's Texas Christian Frogs are expected to be the thorn in the side to the Long horns and Mustangs.

Schmidt, as usual, will rely on a deceptive running attack built around Harlos Green, Vance Woolwine, J. W. Hinton, Standard Lambert and Ben Boswell, all veterans.



First practice of Southwest conference schools gets under way Sept. 10. Howard Sprague, giant Southern Methodist university fullback, and Claude Blanton, University of Texas tackle, are two big reasons why their teams along with Coach Francis Schmidt's Texas Christian Frogs are figured to battle it out for the title.

Boswell, 201 pound tackle, was placed on The Associated Press' all-Southwest honorary team last season.

The Rice Institute Owls may be the surprise team of the race. The Owls turned in a splendid record last year, although the team was composed of sophomores, with limited experience. Coach Jack Meagher has his entire flock back this season.

Seaman Squyres, 190 pound quarterback and one of the longest punters in the conference, is expected to be Rice's outstanding star.

Baylor university Bears, Texas A. & M. Aggies and the University of Arkansas Razorbacks are not expected to furnish serious opposition.

Barring fumbles, Texas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian should go into their Thanksgiving day battles with the title in the balance.

COACHES MEET AT LUBBOCK

Rules to Be Discussed At Parley Saturday

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 8. (AP)—Joe Utay, of Dallas, one of the most outstanding football officials in the Southwest, will conduct the second annual convention of the West Texas Coaches and Officials association here Sept. 12. A telegram verifying his earlier promise to be here was received early this week.

Pete W. Cawthon, head coach at Texas Tech, president of the association, expects in the neighborhood of 300 delegates to the meeting, the morning session of which will be devoted to a discussion of the national intercollegiate rules, recent changes and interpretations.

Invitations are being mailed this week to more than 300 coaches and officials of West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The visitors will meet at the Texas Tech gymnasium at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

At the organization meeting last September, Cawthon was unanimously elected president and three vice presidents were named to look after the association's business in as many sections. Les Cranfill, head coach at Simmons university, Abilene; Blair Cherry, Amarillo High school head coach, and Barry Holton, head mentor at Wichita Falls High school were named vice presidents.

The West Texas organization is affiliated with the Southwestern Coaches and Officials association.

Sharkey Proclaimed 'American Champion'

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—The New York State Athletic commission at its meeting today reaffirmed its nomination of Jack Sharkey as "American heavyweight champion."

The commission has refused to recognize Max Schmeling as world's champion and has taken the position that Sharkey is the "American champion." Re-statement of the commission's position today was made in connection with Sharkey's match against Primo Carnera at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, Oct. 1, the solons announcing that the "American championship" would be at stake.

A recent invention is a compact photographic print press for use of traveling photographers.

Two Upsets Feature Forest Hills Play

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8. (UP)—Two stunning upsets featured the third round of play today in the golden jubilee men's national tennis singles championship.

The greatest of these came in the last match of the day, when Frank Bowden of New York defeated Sydney B. Wood Jr., American Davis cup star and this country's No. 2 ranking player, 2-6, 6-0, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3. Robert (Lefty) Bryan of Chattanooga, almost as unknown as Bowden, eliminated George "Pat" Hughes, veteran British internationalist, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3, 8-6. Play ran unusually true to form aside from these two upsets.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—The government crop report placing the indicated cotton production as of Sept. 1 at 15.685.000 bales, or slightly above average expectations, was followed by liquidation which sent prices into new low ground for the season. The decline was checked, however, by trade buying or covering which caused later recoveries.

October sold up from 6.62 to 6.69 and March from 7.14 to 7.22 on this demand, but the bulges met liquidation which seemed to be coming partly through Wall street sources and the market eased off a few points before the market closed to receive the government report.

The report of the census bureau showing 565.160 bales ginned prior to Sept. 1 was a shade above some of the recent private estimates, but small enough as compared with last year's ginnings of 1.879.919 bales for the same period, to re-emphasize the lateness of the crop. The increase in the official crop estimate as compared with the Aug. 1 indication was attributed to less than average abandonment of acreage since the beginning of July. According to today's preliminary figures, abandonment this season has been only 1.5 per cent, or less than half the 10-year average. The weather news was considered generally favorable but came in for very little comment.

Liverpool cables said covering had been supplied by Bombay selling in that market. Exports today 16.602 making 311.065 so far this season.

Futures closed steady 1 to 3 points higher. Oct. 6.66-67; Dec. 6.88-89; Jan. 6.98; March 7.19; May 7.35; July 7.51-52

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Unusual activity marked today, bureau day, in the cotton market here, but the government forecast of 15.685.000 bales, 101.000 bales above the record crop forecast of August, was about as traders expected and failed to fluctuate the market radically. At the close, prices were one point up to three points down in comparison with the previous close. Trade buying in anticipation of southern legislation for 1932 crop curtailment counterbalanced the 13 to 18 point decline that followed on the heels of the estimate, and wiped out the loss before the close of the market.

Liverpool came in 3 to 5 penny points better than due and private cables stated that there was continental covering and Bombay selling but that hedging was light. Manchester cabled that the market there was inactive awaiting the bureau report.

The international federation of spinners placed world consumption of American cotton for the 1930-31 season at 10.907.000 bales against 13.023.000 the previous season and total all kinds 22.483.000 bales against 25.209.000 previous season.

The census bureau also reported today that total ginnings prior to Sept. 1 were 565.160 bales as compared with 1.879.919 same date last year. The ginnings for the period between Aug. 16 and Sept. 1 totaled 475.746 bales.

October advanced to 6.70 and December to 6.93 or 18 to 21 points above the lows and closed steady, 4 points down from the top, showing 1 point net up on both active months.

Port receipts 12.892; for week 45.896; for season 345.466; last season 1.000.702; exports 16.602; for week 25.424; for season 304.678; last season 510.032; port stock 1.758.472; last year 2.019.114; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 85.850; last year 67.144; spot sales at southern markets 24.993; last year 29.945.

Futures closed steady, net one point up to three points down.

Pessimistic Post-Holiday Trend Puts Prices Down Under Selling

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept 8. (US)—The post-holiday mood of the stock market was decidedly pessimistic and found reflection in heavy selling which created a most unsettled market today.

Price depreciation in some issues was rather substantial and the entire market felt the weight of offerings. Rather than any news accounting for the pressure, it was apparent that the pessimism in sentiment was but intensified by the three-day further revelation of no alleviating developments to encourage the hope for early material revival.

In a goodly number of stocks it was most evident that short-covering provided the principal means of support, buying of different nature being at a minimum. Volume rose to two million shares and the pressure extended even into the bond market, where the volume was the largest in almost two months.

The news of the day was all of the same cheerless nature as has become so common of late, decreasing trade activities, adverse dividend actions, pessimistic forecasts, etc.

The market plainly evidenced, too, revival of sizeable activity by bear forces. Encouraged by the failure of the widely-forecast autumn rally to extend beyond a mere technical demonstration, the bears hammered issues in all sections of the market. The oils were forced down in company with the remainder of the list, the railroad stocks plunged to new lows for the past three decades, industrials were in supply, and the public utilities were heavily sold.

Pressure against the public utilities confirmed widespread reports last week that they would have to face concentrated selling from bear quarters. Consolidated Gas was a particular target, and American Telephone came in for considerable selling.

American and Foreign Power and International Telephone were also selected for the especial attention of bears. International Telephone's dividend safety is questioned, although officials insist it will be paid the remainder of the year even though earnings are not expected to equal the distribution.

The day's budget of dividend news was highly disconcerting to would-be bulls. New Haven did the expected and cut its dividend to $4 from $6, and some extreme bears questioned the advisability even of a $4 payment.

Nevada Consolidated Copper lowered its quarterly rate to 20 cents from 25 cents; Congress Cigar cut to a $1 basis from $4 previously; Youngstown Sheet & Tube omitted entirely its dividend which the last quarter amounted to 50 cents, and the B. F. Goodrich company directors omitted the $1.75 quarterly dividend due on its 7 per cent preferred stock. Porto Rican Tobacco decided to cancel payments on it's class "A" stock, and Cooper-Bessemer Steel omitted the 75-cent dividend on its preferred due now.

Slightly offsetting the distressing dividend news was the announcement, just prior to the market's close, of maintainence by Western Union Telegraph of its $8 annual dividend rate. Western Union's earnings however, are running very close to this rate, and the market is disinclined to regard the payment as secure until earnings show definite uptrend.

The willingness of the market, however, to respond to good news of whatever nature was demonstrated when Western Union rallied six points on the dividend news. Homestake Mining, one of the few genuinely profitable gold mines, also contributed its share to the small portion of good cheer by voting an extra of $1 a share.

General Motor's August sales report, showing a substantial decline from last year's total, encouraged renewed and substantial offerings of the stock, which sold down more than a point. Its weakness found immediate reflection in duPont which broke three points net. The latter's prospects are interwoven with General Motors' dividend outlook. Steel common joined the downward swing and broke to 80⅞, a brand new low for the bear market, and rallied very feebly.

The most distressing feature of the market, however, was the continued liquidation of the rails, some of which broke more than five points and most of which were at new lows for the bear market or for the last decide or more.

Persistency of the offerings of rail shares very plainly indicates more than bear pressure and the fact that London was reported a heavy seller definitely disclosed the large-sized blocks were being thrown onto the market regardless of the long price decline.

Commodities were not particularly affected by the weakness in stocks. The latter obviously are depending mainly upon technical conditions for support.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Faced by blackboards showing a fall in securities, with United States Steel at new bottom quotations grain pits witnessed a general decline today. Corn suffered the most. September delivery showing 2½c a bushel setback. Reports from Germany that grain crops were rotting in the fields failed to bring about any decided rally.

Corn closed nervous, 2¼@1¾c down, wheat 1¾@2c off, and oats at 3/8@¾c decline, provisions finished 2 to 12c up.

Downswings of grain came after an early show of strength that was associated with European reports of heavy rains and of unseasonable cold there were also indications that export demand for North American wheat was of at least fair volume, that Germany was inquiring for a three-year credit purchase of 17.000.000 bushels of United States government financed wheat and that estimates of Russia's exportable wheat surplus had been reduced to 60.000.000 bushels compared with recent forecasts of 120.000.000 bushels.

Attention of traders, however, soon focussed on the bearish action of securities, United States Steel in particular, and on a simultaneous selling movement in corn, with the principal owner of the Chicago stock of corn trading seeming evidence that he was selling a considerable part of his holdings.

Provisions sagged with grains, but were afterward jerked upward as a result of packers' buying.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (US)—Along with the reports of crop damage in Europe and England, with Germany reported the worst sufferer, are indications that the Russian crop has been affected. Broomhall says this is substantiated by withdrawal of offers of high grade wheats, which he ascribes to wet harvest.

Reports that Germany will ask for 19.500.000 bushels on three-year credit at 4½ per cent caused no end to the grain market. Farm board officials deny that they have been approached with this proposition.

Rye showed independent strength throughout the session. Rumors of foreign inquiry linked up with the cables which told of heavy crop damage in Germany made an impressing combination.

Trade in corn remains a local affair. Holders are inclined to run at the first signs of pressure in the September fearing that the leading owner of cash supplies may deliver or hedge at any time.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8. (AP)—U. S. D. A.—A total of 50.100 cattle were estimated at various markets around the circuit today as compared with arrivals of 37.851 last Tuesday. Better grade fed steers and yearlings sold at steady to strong prices with spots higher while in-between grades of natives and western grass steers moved at weak to 25c lower levels. A noticeable trend has developed recently wherein strong weight fed steers of good to choice quality command a premium over comparable grades yearlings and lightweight steers. This feature is a direct contrast to the period of a few weeks ago when fed yearlings and light steers were in greatest demand. She stock carried a generally steady trend with some weakness developing on short fed heifers.

COTTON RELIEF SESSION OPENS

Sterling Exhorts Solons to Aid Farmer

majority favors a one-half reduction of cotton acreage next year, as a means of decreasing the vast over-supply which has prostrated the cotton market and threatens an even more complete collapse."

Governor Sterling referred to the fact that cotton acreage reduction legislation was defeated in a special session about a month ago but added he felt "later developments have placed a new aspect upon the situation."

Farmers Ask Help

The governor said farmers were "long suffering and patient and seldom ask for special consideration" but appealed to the legislature to act because "they have risen in their distress and lifted their voices in the most widespread and concerted demand that has moved them during modern years."

As a concluding appeal, he declared, "the problem before you is an extraordinary one, calling for heroic measures in its solution. This is an hour when political and private considerations should be laid aside. . . . Patriotism dominated our thoughts and actions during the world war and should do no less now, the country's greatest crisis since then."

The governor followed his usual custom of not appearing in person before the legislature.

Loy Resolution

Soon after the senate organized, Senator J. J. Loy of Sherman introduced a resolution calling for investigation of the cotton industry, to ascertain in particular the number of bales of untenderable cotton stored in warehouses which had been included in the 9,000,000 bale carry-over estimate of the federal government.

Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald, one of the leaders arranging a huge mass meeting for tomorrow night expected to draw a crowd of 25,000 farmers, said late today he had further assurance from Governor Long of Louisiana that he would come to Austin to address the meeting. Governor Sterling was on the program to introduce Governor Long and all living former governors of Texas were invited to be present.

State Senator W. B. Roberts of Mississippi reached Austin today and Eugene Talmadge, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, was expected to arrive tomorrow to speak at the meeting.

Three distinct groups emerged during the opening day of the session. One advocated the prohibition of cotton planting next year, another desired acreage reduced from 25 to 50 per cent and the third was opposed to any acreage control.

"They ought to pass a bill in three days," Governor Sterling said. He indicated he would not submit any other subject during the "farmers' session."

The senate agricultural committee voted a favorable report on a resolution to investigate the number of bales of unmarketable cotton included in the 9,000,000 bale carryover estimated by the federal government. The resolution was introduced by Senator J. J. Loy of Sherman.

HOOVER CONFERS WITH LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—President Hoover today sought a way out for American cotton growers, buried under the highest September crop estimate in 16 years.

Eugene Meyer, chairman of the federal reserve board, and William L. Clayton, of Houston, Texas, a leading cotton merchant, were called to the White House as the official September estimate of the department of agriculture forecast 15,685,000 bales.

Observers believed the president was looking for a way to carry out a scheme advanced by some southern senators under which the government would carry over several million bales of this year's crop for those farmers who agree not to plant any cotton next year.

Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, who conferred recently with the president, is known to favor such a plan. Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, came here today to press such a proposal upon Mr. Hoover.

No announcement, however, was forthcoming from the White House where George R. James, of Tennessee a member of the federal reserve board, joined in the conferences late in the day.

Under the Smith-Caraway proposal, the cotton farmers would be financed for a share of this year's surplus, sell the cotton next year and take the difference between the prevailing low prices and the increased price expected to result next year from their refusal to plant new crops.

Senator Caraway would have the government buy 8,000,000 bales at not less than eight cents a pound. He then would have this allocated to those farmers who agree not to plant next year, permitting the farmers to collect the difference between the eight cents a pound and the prospective higher price in 1932.

The agriculture department's forecast of 15,685,000 bales was no unexpected in view of the August forecast of 15,584,000 bales and apparently the market was braced for it.

Commenting upon the forecast today the agriculture department said the 1931 increase of 101,000 bales over the August report was due largely to lower than average abandonment of cotton. Another explanation of why the agricultural department expects the 1931 crop to be 1,752,000 bales more than the 1930 crop is the condition figure given in today's report. This was placed at 68 per cent of normal, as compared to 53.2 per cent on Sept. 1, 1930, and a ten-year average of 66.4.

Long to Attend

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8. (AP)—A statement issued on behalf of Gov. Huey P. Long today said he would go to Austin, Texas, tomorrow to address a cotton relief mass meeting there tomorrow night.

The statement said he had reached an amicable agreement with Lieut. Gov. Paul N. Cyr, opponent of the Long administration not to interfere with affairs of the state during the governor's absence of 60 hours.

Capone Withdraws Guilty Plea When Magistrate Frowns on Pact

Leniency Compromise Falls Through in Liquor Case; Gang Chief to Say 'Not Guilty' in Trial

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, facing trial on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws and of evading the income tax law, was granted permission today, by Federal Judge H. Wilkerson to change his plea of guilty in the liquor case to not guilty.

The ruling was made at an unexpected hearing in Judge Wilkerson's chambers, the jurist recently having announced that the hearing, originally scheduled for today, would not be held until Sept. 10.

Court Objects

In a memorandum the judge explained the change in pleas was being allowed because the defendant had agreed to plead guilty under a compromise agreement with the prosecution in which the court could not concur.

The gang leader was allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty to the income tax charge last July 31, the day he was to have been sentenced. At that time, Judge Wilkerson announced he would hear evidence in the liquor case, apparently discrediting the agreement for leniency entered into by Capone and the prosecution.

Under the original agreement with the prosecutors, it had been anticipated that Capone might receive sentences ranging from two to five years imprisonment on each of the indictments, the sentences to run concurrently.

When his case was called for trial, Capone's attorneys stressed this "understanding," only to receive a summary warning from Judge Wilkerson that he would not be bound by any such agreement, and his counsel promptly moved to withdraw Capone's plea.

Today, the judge said although compromises are legal under some circumstances, those concerned in the Capone case were not arrived at in "the manner prescribed by law."

Capone is now subject to a possible 34 years imprisonment and $90,000 fine.

Three Face Beer Charges After Finish of North Side Roundup

Completing a roundup started Monday when the mother of four children was jailed after 276 pints of beer was seized at her home, deputy sheriffs Tuesday morning arrested the woman's husband and a second woman and charged the three of them with possessing intoxicating liquor.

The man and the second woman were arrested on North Lamar avenue. The woman was arrested at a residence and the man in a garage across the alley, where he was said to have been concealed while spying on the raiding officers through a crack in the wall. The officers had been unable to find him on the first raid Monday.

At the residence officers found two 10-gallon milk cans, sunk beneath the floor of the garage, obviously as a cache.

Receiving a tip that the man also had rented a small house nearby, the deputies obtained a search warrant and raided that place. There 12 gallons of beer was confiscated.

When the man's wife was arrested Monday she left her children with only a kettle of beans for food. Bond in her case was set at $750. Amount of bond was not set in the other two cases.

Deputy Sheriffs Ben Smith and E. L. Kincaid conducted the raids and the charges were filed before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs upon complaints received by George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney.

Allred Protests Ruling In T.-P. Spur Case

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (UP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today filed protest with the Interstate Commerce commission against the findings of its examiner recommending that the Texas and Pacific Northern be permitted to extend only from Big Spring to Levelland.

Allred said such a report is at variance with previous commission rulings in other cases. The state railroad commission recommended extension from Big Spring to Vega and Amarillo, as proposed by the railroad.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 8. (AP)—One man was slain and another probably fatally wounded in a shooting affray at Jalufka gin near Violet, 12 miles west of here tonight.

Paul Setliff, farmer, was killed and Earl Lewis was not expected to live.

Officers questioned Lewis' father. The elder Lewis told Sheriff Ben D. Lee he did not know if he fired the shot that wounded his son. He said he opened fire when he thought Setliff shot his son.

NEGRO DEATH TRIAL OPENS

Doctors Testify in Strychnine Charge

Trial of Robert Burns, negro, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of another negro, Eddie Nash, in May, consumed all of Tuesday before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court, and will be resumed Wednesday morning with the state still engaged in presentation of its case.

Burns is charged with having placed strychnine in coffee for Nash about May 24. The dead man's wife, Varee Nash, was acquitted several weeks ago after having been tried on a charge of murder in the same case. Burns is a step-brother of Varee Nash.

Dr. D. W. King, negro, reported having answered a call to the Nash home on the night of the death, and to have found the wife, her mother, and step-brother present. Alleged evidences of poison about the mouth of the dead man, he said, led to the autopsy.

A. E. Nelson, negro undertaker, told of having witnessed the autopsy performed by Dr. M. A. Beckman, county physician. Dr. Beckman told of having removed the stomach and of having sealed it and its contents for mailing to Austin.

Dr. D. W. Wardlaw, of the state health department, described the chemical analysis by which, it was alleged, presence of strychnine in the deceased's stomach was proven.

C.-C. to Join Fight for Lower Cotton Rates

The traffic division of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will intervene in behalf of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in connection with the latter organization's complaint with the state railroad commission attacking cotton freight rates from West Texas to gulf ports, it was announced Tuesday by Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager.

The rates opposed by the West Texas organization were recently prescribed by the rail commission, and went into effect June 15. Rates are based on group areas.

It is alleged that the common carriers have not complied with the commission's order in arranging groups. The complaint asks that carriers be required to rearrange groups to comply with instructions outlined in the rail commission's cotton rate order.

The project is the most important now under way in the state, Mr. Colp said, explaining that the road is a part of an almost straight route from Canada to the Mexican border.

COUNTY HALTS CHARITY FUND

Big Overdraft Causes Definite Action

No further donations for charity of any kind will be made from the general fund of Wichita county during the remainder of this year, according to a definite decision announced Tuesday by the commissioners court after a prolonged discussion of the matter.

A present overdraft of about $40,000 for the general fund, it was said, is due to the expenditure of more than $100,000 during the year 1930 for charitable purposes. Of that total, about $63,000 was expended through various charitable organizations and the county's own charity relief agencies. The remainder was spent in the road and bridge activities of the four precincts as a measure of providing part-time employment to many men.

Pointing out that the General hospital entails an expense of about $20,000 annually for the county, the county farm about $15,000 per year, and insanity cases about $2,000 annually, the commissioners declared that other charity donations positively must be discontinued.

A small part of the $1,000 appropriated three weeks ago for a commissary remains unspent, it was said, and will be applied to relief until exhausted. There will be no further appropriations, according to the court's announcement.

Easy
if you know how

A man who was called on to settle his friend's estate said: "It was all a puzzle to me. What did I know about this highly technical job? And the time it took from my own business simply made matters worse."

Yet to us the duties of an executor under a will are no puzzle; we are handling them every day. And it takes no time from our business because it is our business.

You do not have to rewrite your will in order to name us as your executor. It can be done by adding a codicil to that effect.
