MR. W. E. (Dizzy) Dean was over to Fort Worth the other night for a meeting of the Moslah Temple Shrine, and he brings back the report that the Moslah Temple Drum and Bugle Corps will be here Friday night for the Masonic Home and Cisco High football game. The organization will give a half-time ceremony.

The Moslah Shriners will bring their wives and make the trip in special buses. They are big supporters of Masonic Home and form the main cheering section when the orphans play football.

Mr. Dean has asked that a good many local Masons be on hand to greet the visitors. He suggests that it would be a fine gesture if a goodly number of local Masons and their families would occupy seats on Masonic Home's side of the field.

The Moslah Temple members are making it possible for the Masonic Home boys to spend the night in Cisco. Let's all do our part to make them feel welcome in our town.

AND LET'S ALL go out to the football stadium tonight and help the Wranglers of Cisco Junior College in their conference game with the Blinn Junior College. The Wranglers have been working hard this week and they're determined to do their best.

WHAT IS A BOY? For a definition, we'd like to thank Mr. George Irvine of the Humble Pipe Line Company. He handed us a clipping on the subject, as follows:

"A boy is truth with dirt on his face, beauty with a cut on his finger, wisdom with bubble-gum in his hair, the hope of the future with a frog in his pocket."

"Boys are found everywhere; mothers love them, sisters hate them, brothers tolerate them and Heaven protects them."

"Nobody is so early to rise, so late for supper; nobody else gets so much out of trees, dogs and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half eaten apple, three feet of string, two gumdrops, six cents, a sling-shot and a chunk of unknown substance."

"A boy is a magical creature. You can lock him out of your workshop but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind."

"And when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with two magic words: 'Hi, Dad.'"

LET'S ALL get ready to say "welcome home" to Lieut. Worth Carlin. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Lavery, were to meet him in Wichita Falls about noon-time today. He arrived last Saturday in San Francisco after a year in Korea. Understand he gets his discharge from the Army soon.

REV. BOB SANDERS of Wesley Methodist Church and Mrs. Sanders are getting things ready to head out early Monday for Washington, D. C. They'll attend a national temperance convention and will be back home in time for the services at their church on Sunday, October 18. They'll make the trip by auto.

Rev. Sanders tells us that work has been completed on the new educational building over at the church. The structure, which is very handsome, cost about $5,000 and is a valuable addition to the church property and a credit to the community.

FRESHMEN ARE WELCOMED INTO HIGH SCHOOL ON WEDNESDAY

By RHEIDA REED

The assembly program was a huge success Wednesday. The freshmen are now officially members of Cisco High School. They were initiated with all the pomp and pageantry of the annual ceremony. They were urged to help keep the school up to a high standard and to do their best in every activity they entered. We are very proud of our up and coming Freshman Class, and we think they were very good sports during the initiation.

Los Lobocitos

The Spanish Club has changed its name from Los Chicos to Los Lobocitos which means Little Lobos. They are planning a party for all the members in the near future. The teacher is Mrs. Chuck Van Horn.

Annual Sales

Some members of the annual staff are now taking down payments for the 1954 annual. They are charging one dollar for the down payment and they do not know how much the annual will cost when they come in but it is hoped that they will be considerably less than last year.

Dance

There will be a dance after the Masonic Home game Friday night. It is uncertain as to where it will be held, but it will be announced at a later date. All students are welcome.

Student Council

The home rooms each elected two representatives for the student council last Monday. The Senior representatives are Kitty Lou Phippen, C. W. Keller, Ronald Farley, and Benny Edwards. The Juniors are Jean White, Harold Phippen, Kenneth Howell, Garland Nichols, James Brogden, and Mable Barron.

The Sophomores are Howard Hamilton, Joe Farrow, Tia Juana Alford, Lee Cheves, Bill Smith, and Faye Redwine. The Freshmen are Frank Dimore, Ralph Berry, Ronnie Edwards, Vonda Lea Yeager, and Ronnie Reed.

These representatives will strive to make C. H. S. a better school. The officers were elected last year: president, Bobby Miller; vice-president, Leon McCrary; secretary-treasurer, Anita Stroebel.

GOSSIP — Frances Self certainly had on a beautiful new sweater today. She said C. W. gave it to her for her birthday.

LOBOES COMPLETING PLANS FOR MASONIC HOME GAME ON FRIDAY

The Cisco High School Lobos will wind up a hard week of drills today with a light work out in preparation for their game with the Mighty Mites from Masonic Home, Fort Worth, to be played at Chesley Field at 8 p. m. Friday night.

The Lobos came out of the Coleman game and through the first three days of work out this week without serious injury and should be in top condition for the game Friday night. Kent Davis received a slight hip injury Tuesday in scrimmage but was expected to be ready Friday night.

The team has been looking sharp in drills this week and has shown a lot of fire. Scrimmages have been good and the general work has been showing progress.

Coaches Jay Williams and Al Langford said that their starting lineup would probably be about the same as in previous games. Bill Smith and Monte Ingram will be at ends, Benny Cindee Gallagher had a birthday last week also. Happy birthday . . . The juniors are very busy trying to get their poetry memorized . . . Some of the basketball players are already practicing after school. We should really have a good team this year . . . We are so happy to have six weeks' tests next week. We have really been looking forward to them all year.

Lions Hear Talks On Chest Drive, City Gas Matter

Members of the Cisco Lions Club heard discussion of the coming Community Chest campaign and the city gas proposition in talks Wednesday at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop.

The Rev. Leslie Seymour, who was program chairman, spoke on the Community Chest. He pointed out that this year's drive will seek $9,500 to provide the working budgets for 11 agencies that operate in Cisco, including the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the ABC Club, the Hobby Club, the Cisco Welfare Association, the Red Cross, the Heart Association, the Cancer Society, the USO, Salvation Army, and the Gonzales Polio Foundation.

"The budget is not large when you consider how little it costs each of us for the valuable contributions the 11 organizations make to our community," Rev. Seymour said. He noted that the Cisco Rotary Club is taking charge of the campaign this year. The drive begins Monday, Oct. 12.

C. E. Higginbotham, local insurance man, spoke in behalf of a proposition under which the City of Cisco would buy the two local gas distribution systems. An election has been ordered on the proposition next Tuesday.

He pointed out that the city would pay $275,000 for the two systems from the proceeds of a $300,000 revenue bond issue, if approved by the electorate. He used figures supplied by a well known engineering company to show that revenues from the gas operation would amount to about twice the amount of money needed to service the bonded debt and pay the operating expenses.

Mr. Higginbotham said the city could operate the two systems at

THE GAS BOND ISSUE

A Question and Answer Forum

(Editor's Note: In an effort to present a factual study of all information available regarding the issuance of $300,000 in city revenue bonds for the purchase of the two local gas distributing systems, The Press will run a Question and Answer Forum through Tuesday, Oct. 13 — Election Day. To open the forum, a number of questions were submitted to the 15-man advisory committee, which has recommended approval of the bond issue. The public is invited to submit questions to The Press for re-submission to the advisory committee. Those who disagree with the committee's answers are invited to submit their own answers.)

Q. If the people vote in favor of issuing the bonds, what briefly will the city get for its $275,000?

A. Two gas systems, each a going concern, serving altogether 1,720 customers, and worth, according to competent engineers, $461,000.00 after depreciation charges; a 25-year contract guaranteeing the city twice as much gas as it has ever used, delivered to the city system at 15¢ per 1,000 cubic feet — a contract worth more than the gas system to be purchased and enabling the city to assure its citizens low gas rates for many years to come, while paying for and maintaining the combined systems, making up any loss in taxes to city and schools, and returning a profit that can be used to further reduce city financial problems and local taxes.

Q. Besides the $275,000 purchase price, how much additional money will be needed to begin operations?

A. $19,000.00 to take care of first year's bond interest and provide working capital, included in the bond issue.

Q. The election notice says "bonds to bear interest of not more than five per cent. . . ." with the actual rate to be four and three fourths per cent. How much cash money will the city get for its $300,000 worth of bonds?

A. $294,000.00. Balance will pay engineering fees, attorney fees, bonding company fees, printing of bonds, fees for registration and approval of Texas attorney general, the expense of the election and other costs incident to issuance of bonds.

Q. It has been pointed out that if the election fails, the city will be out nothing for holding the election. If the election carries, exactly how much of the $300,000 will be paid to the bonding companies?

A. $6,000.00 as noted in above question.

Q. How much will be required for average interest payments and annual average debt payments?

A. Approximately $8,800.00. $12,000.00. This will not be paid out of taxes, but from the revenues of the system. All private companies, selling bonds which they must service out of revenues. So, as a matter of fact, whether people buy service from a private or public utility, they still pay rates that include interest charges.

Q. What is the anticipated average annual profit?

A. $43,878.90. This estimate of the engineering firm is borne out by the experiences of other communities owning their own gas systems, such as Dumas, Texas, a town of 6,000, which last year cleared a profit of $66,000.00 on gross sales of $133,000.00 at rates of from 40 cents to 20 cents. Rising Star, likewise, has made consistent good profits from its system, which it put in in 1933 and which has paid for itself every three years since that time.

Q. Doesn't the Texas revenue bond laws provide that all profits of a municipal utility be held in a reserve fund until such time as the debt has been paid in full? If not, quote law paragraph applicable.

A. Yes. But the reserve may be "borrowed" by the city so long as the bond payments are met and the reserves sufficient to guarantee within reasonable limits that future payments will be met. In other words, if the system is paying itself out, the requirement of the state is satisfied. So the custom is for municipally owned utilities with unpaid bonds, to turn over to the city in the form of "advances" earnings not required for immediate servicing of the debt, as the City of Hearne received $46,000.00 last year from the operation of its utility department, although there was $270,000 in revenue bonds outstanding.

Q. What method was used to obtain the evaluation of the properties?

A. Evaluation of the two gas properties in Cisco was made by Freeze and Nichols, Fort Worth, a firm of engineers rated among the best in the state, doing much private and public utility work. This firm did the engineering for the Eastland-Ranger water district and for the Stamford-West Texas Utilities Co. lake at Stamford; it does work for Fort Worth, Abilene, Breckenridge and many other towns and cities. It valued the two systems at $461,000.00 after depreciation. This firm also checked and certified the figures in the "Projection of Income and Expenses for the Cisco Municipal Gas System and Proposed Retirement of Gas Revenue Bonds."

Q. Do you have the various engineering reports available for public inspection?

A. Yes.

Q. It has been said and it seems quite logical that the 15¢ gas purchase contract is worth a very great deal. What are the details (minimum and maximum) of the contract, and is the pipe line company being required to post a performance bond?

A. The contract provides that the city shall take a minimum of 109,500,000 cubic feet of gas a year, and that the Ibex Company and its subsidiary, the Cisco Pipe Line Company, shall supply a maximum of 365,000,000 cubic feet in a year, not to exceed 3,000,000 cubic feet in one day, which is three times the greatest amount ever used in Cisco on a cold day. The highest total ever used in one year by Cisco through both gas systems now operating was less than 200,000,000 cubic feet. So the contract provides for twice as much gas as Cisco has ever used. The selling companies, the Ibex and its subsidiary, dedicate to the performance of the contract a reserve of ten billion cubic feet and no well can be removed from this reserve without Texas Railroad Commission approval. The Ibex Company has several hundred gas producing wells in addition to those purchased in the Hickok System which has always supplied the Cisco Gas Corporation. This does not include the gas purchase contract held by the company. It is of interest to note here that domestic users always come first. The Cisco contract with Ibex therefore takes precedence over all other non-domestic supply contracts. It is also of interest to note that the contract was drawn for the City by an outstanding Dallas law firm specializing in natural gas litigation.

A performance bond for a contract such as the above has never been required, the attorneys drawing the contract stated. The city is protected well enough by legal remedies available to it, the firm said. No performance bond is required of a utility company granted a city franchise.

HOBBY CLUB AND HEART AGENCY OFFER MUCH FOR LITTLE MONEY

By MRS. R. H. CUTTING

The organization of the Hobby Club in Cisco was fostered by the realization that our youth, in order to be well-adjusted persons, needed to develop those skills in handicrafts so essential to personality development.

A healthy society is made up of individuals who, themselves, enjoy both physical and mental health; and one of the cardinal rules of mental health is "have a variety of interests." The Hobby Club is fast proving to be the answer to the development of interests and skills among young people of our town.

Ciscoans who viewed the exhibits at the Hobby Fair held at the end of this past summer's work were amazed at the number and variety of articles made by the children, as well as the craftsmanship shown in those articles, many of which were of professional quality.

Each year, a prize is awarded to the person who exhibits the most articles and to the person with the most outstanding article displayed. Julia McCannies won the prize for her 32 exhibitions, and Janice White was awarded a prize for a painting voted by visitors to the Fair as being the most outstanding.

The Hobby Club operates under a Board of Directors, with Mrs. Don Choate as President. This was the second summer that the club operated as a Community Chest agency. Funds thus given were used to buy equipment kept for the use of all participants, past and future; and materials for the articles made were bought and kept on hand to be purchased by the children as required for their particular crafts, so that the club is reimbursed for materials used in the production of the finished articles, spending money only for permanent equipment available to hobbyists of all ages in Cisco.

At no time has money been spent for instruction, as this work is carried on by volunteer workers in Cisco skilled in the various crafts and arts. Among the volunteers who worked with 40-65 children three days a week last summer was Mrs. J. V. Heyser, Sr., who financed the purchase of materials for the first year of the Club's existence. Other workers this summer included Mrs. B. S. Huey, Mrs. Arlin Birt, Mrs. R. L. Justice, Mrs. B. E. Morehart, Mrs. James Starr, Mrs. Lee Lieske and Mrs. D. N. Morrison.

Work done in Arts and Crafts by the boys and girls meeting with the volunteer instructors included basketry metal work (aluminum, copper, etching, etc.) shellwork (jewelry, pictures, paperweights, etc.), textile painting, china painting, leather work (belts, purses, billfolds, etc.), figurine painting, and wood burning projects. Many of us saw this galaxy of completed articles at the Fair.

The Community Chest will include an allocation of $250 for the Cisco Hobby Club this year, which will mean an average contribution of 5¢ per person.

HEART ASSOCIATION — $100

Funds contributed to the Heart Association by the people of America are used in three ways for research, for education, and for community service. The primary need at this time is for research — funds for the study, prevention, and cure of heart conditions.

The educational program is to recognize and be able to live with the condition after it develops. Community service, in areas where it is possible, is to set up Heart clinics and other establishments of a medical nature.

According to the policies of the American and Texas Heart Associations, fund receipts are divided on the basis of 25% to the American and 75% to the Texas Association; however, the total of our contribution of $100 last year was sent in for research — research in cardiovascular diseases which will benefit everyone in every community.

E. L. Jackson, our local representative for the Texas Heart Association reports that we in Cisco may be able to benefit from the educational program this year in that two films, "Guard Your Heart" and "Round Trip," are available to be shown to civic clubs and other gatherings in this area.

Allocation in the Community Chest to the Heart Association of $100 in this year's budget will mean an average contribution of 2¢ per person in Cisco.

College Students Stage Pep Rally

Cisco Junior College students staged a 30 minute pep rally at the college auditorium Thursday morning in preparation for the Texas Junior College Conference game at Chesley Field at 8 o'clock tonight between the Wranglers and the Buccaneers of Blinn Junior College.

The Wranglers had a comparatively light work out Wednesday afternoon to wind up their preparation for the game. The time was spent on defensive plays against the Blinn runners, and in working out new plays to be used.

Coach Red Lewis was pleased with the enthusiasm shown by the team this week. He announced that Richard Baack, 185 pound tackle, would probably start at tackle in the place of Frank Howeth. Baack showed up well in the Henderson game and has looked good all this week. Howeth and Arnold Strain will see a lot of action.

Coach Lewis announced his probable starters as follows: ends — Bud Miller and Don Denard; tackles — Wayne Adams and Richard Baack; guards — Wendell Battle and Norman Boggs; center — Don Robinson; quarterback — Bob Lynch; fullback — Hut Hutson; and halves — Jimmy Adams and Ray Westmoreland.

Coach Butler of the Buccaneers announced his starting 11 as follows: ends — Gene Tippette and Allday; tackles — Lewis McElyea and Henry Holder; guards — Tommy Cuba and B. Tinsley; center — Edward Medina and backs — Bobby Lynch, G. McGinty, Don Alana and L. M. Kilgough.

The weights of the two teams, as announced by the coaches, are about even. The Buccaneers hold an over all advantage of less than a half pound per man with the Wranglers enjoying a slight advantage in the backfield and the Blinn line having the advantage.

Brownfield Choir Will Sing Here

The Brownfield High School choir will be at Cisco Junior College Monday where they will present a concert at 1:15 p. m. in the college auditorium.

The group will arrive in Cisco at 11:30 a. m. and will eat at the college cafeteria before presenting the program.

The choir will be en route to Dallas for participation in the Texas State Fair Music Day program.

The public was invited to attend the concert at the college Monday.

JUNIOR COLLEGE GRID LEAGUES STUDY CHAMPIONSHIP PROGRAM

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 8.—Members of the four Texas junior college athletic conferences discussed possibilities of uniform eligibility rules and considered the possible organization of a state championship program at Texas A. and M. College Tuesday.

Paul A. Cunyus, president, Texas Junior College Association, served as moderator during a panel discussion, "Junior College Athletics," dealing with several questions facing conference members.

Panel members were B. E. Masters, president, Kilgore College, Big Six Conference; Orval Pirtle, president, Henderson County Junior College, Texas College Conference; Andrew Edington, president, Schreiner Institute, Pioneer Conference; J. D. Moore, president, The Victoria College, South Texas Junior College Conference; and J. R. McLemore, president, Paris Junior College, McLemore spoke on compliance of Texas conferences with rules of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Questions considered by the group included eligibility of players, transference from other junior colleges and from four-year colleges, third-year boys; possibility of setting up state championship playoffs, and the number of scholarships a school may give athletes.

Moore, who also is chairman of a four-conference committee to consider the same questions, said, "I think we've got the right approach. We realized in the beginning that it would take conference action to adopt them."

"I think we will eventually eliminate high-school players and third-year men, and I think we will adopt a one-semester ineligibility rule for transfers from other colleges. I don't think we will be able to regulate the number of scholarships each conference member can give, and I believe the schools will continue to use men who transfer from four-year colleges."

According to the state playoff advanced for consideration, each conference would decide its own champion through ordinary methods. These conference champions then would stage games between teams A and B, and C and D. Then the A-B winner would play the C-D winner for the state championship.

This method would be used in football, basketball and tennis. For track championships, a single statewide meet would be held instead of the present conference wide meet.

Those of the 74 junior college representatives present at the 10th annual Junior College Conference who remained for the discussion on athletics were asked to consider the question, "Would you approve the following plan for the determination of state winners for this year (1938-39) with the understanding that eligibility to participate would be determined by the conference rules under which each school operates?"

No vote was taken, and those present agreed that representatives from each conference would try to obtain an answer to the question when the Spring semester begins.

Daffodils by Any Name Are Longest Lived Bulbs

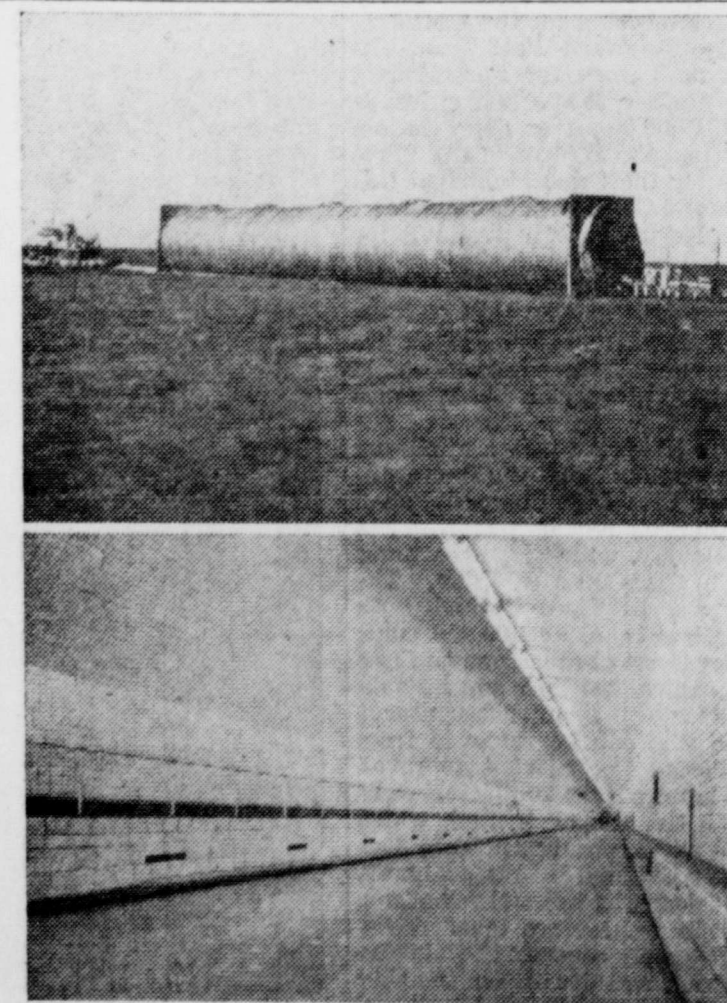

Daffodil Types Differ Chiefly in Size of Trumpet.

Years of spring flowering may be expected of the bulbs planted in the fall which have been introduced which have trumpets faintly suffused with pink when grown in greenhouses, or in shady places outdoors. But this color fades quickly in the sun.

Daffodils thrive in woods, where they can be naturalized and grow with little attention. They like to nestle at the feet of shrubs, or under trees, where they blossom before the leaves come out in locations which then are in the sun, but later will be shaded. They are seldom lifted often more than once in three years. But never plant them where their foliage will be cut off before it turns yellow, which indicates that a new bulb has been formed and has matured.

Some of them are delightfully fragrant. They are ideal cut flowers, as is shown by the quantities of daffodils forced and sold by florists each winter. The trumpet varieties are easily grown as house plants, provided only that the atmosphere is not too dry, in which case buds often blast.

The sooner daffodils are planted in the fall, the better; it gives them more time to make roots and become established in the new location before the freeze-up. They need this time, because they blossom so early in the spring, they have little time to grow then, after the ground thaws out.

TUNNEL TUBE—New achievements in tunnel construction were marked by the completion of the Baytown-LaPorte tunnel, longest in Texas. The 3009-foot underwater structure is an impressive example of engineering with its well-lighted interior, bottom. A giant steel tube, top, one of nine similar sections forming a protective liner, is shown being floated down Galveston Bay to be sunk, top photo. About 8,500,000 pounds of steel were used.

Howard Payne Team Will Play Saturday

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 8.—Howard Payne College's Yellow Jacket gridders will make their second home stand of the season Saturday night when they play host to the Texas Lutheran Bulldogs in Brownwood High School stadium.

After splashing to a 29-6 victory over East Central State of Ada, Okla., here this past weekend in a pouring rain, the Jackets appear fired up to balance their won-lost column.

In other tilts this season, Howard Payne bowed to McNeese State, 26 to 34, and lost to a strong Sam Houston State eleven, 13-19.

U of T Engineers Develop New Idea In Room Cooling

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. — University of Texas engineers have developed an evaporative cooler which lowers temperatures with dry air.

Most evaporative machines now in use cool air by drawing in through a water-soaked mat with a fan or "squirrel-cage" blower. That, of course, greatly increases the air's humidity, producing a clammy or sticky atmosphere.

The new dry-air evaporative cooler is designed for the Navy, which is expected to use it in temporary, advanced-base hospitals, barracks and other structures.

tures, Engineer John R. Watt, who did the work for the Naval Civil Engineering Research and Evaluation Laboratory, said.

The cooler is portable and very simply constructed, avoiding costly, time-consuming maintenance often associated with other types of air conditioning.

University researchers expect the new apparatus to become an important factor in cooling large auditoriums, restaurants and other structures where maximum ventilation as well as coolness is desired.

For such buildings, the dry-air evaporative unit can be "teamed" with refrigerative air conditioning, Watt explained. The evaporative unit, which can supply the greater air circulation, can do as much of the air cooling as possible. Then the prepared air can be routed through a refrigerative unit, which can complete the cooling job.

Such a team requires much less equipment, maintenance and electric power than an equivalent all-refrigerated air-conditioning system.

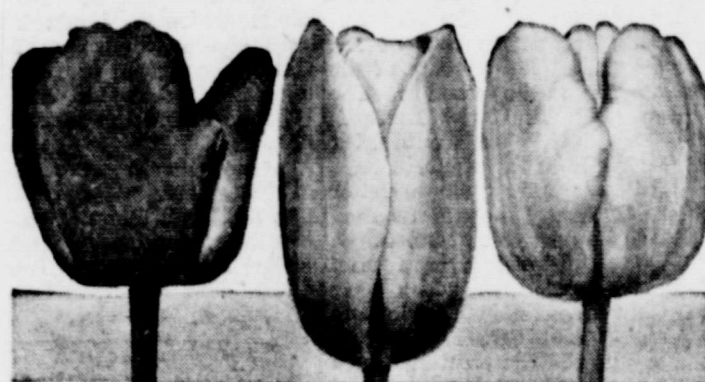

University engineers have conquered the humidity problem by having the air to be cooled drawn through aluminum tubes by a fan or blower. The tubes, which have walls only 40,000th of an inch thick, pass through a forced-draft, water-spray cooling tower. The water's cooling effects transfer through the aluminum tubing to the air.

Tulips Give Most Varied Color Show of Garden Year

Breeder Tulip Cottage Tulip Darwin Tulip.

After looking at a drab landscape most of the winter, when spring comes our eyes are hungry for bright color. Tulips provide a color feast, enabling us to plant our garden beds and borders with every color in the rainbow.

There is no flower family which can equal the tulip's remarkable variety, and those who like color should take full advantage of it. Among all tulips, in color range, as well as size and height, the tall, late varieties excel.

All types of these giants are popularly known as "Darwin" tulips, though in catalogues they are divided into several clans, including Darwin, Cottage, Breeder, etc. But the public is right in considering them all so much alike, that they can be planted together in perfect harmony.

Select your tall, late tulips by color, therefore, rather than by ancestry, and have no hesitation in mixing up the clans, so long as they are well arranged for height, and harmony and blossom at the same time.

While mixtures of tulips attract many, a really attractive display requires that balance of the various colors which is seldom found in mixed bulbs. The most effective way of developing color interest in your planting, is to plant groups of one variety, from 5 to 50 bulbs depending on the scale of your garden, placing each group so that its beauty is set off by companion groups. Extreme contrast is obtained by placing the rich, but duller tones near groups of brighter colors, so that each will enhance the other. There are many blues and lavenders among the tulips, which bring out the brilliance of the yellow, pink and red varieties.

Tulips also lend themselves to less vivid color schemes. Here is one flower which can be depended upon to produce in the garden, the effect planned in the fall. White or yellow tulips are often used in masses, interplanted with forget-me-nots. The wild phlox divaricata, so plentiful in woodlands, has pale lavender flowers which are an excellent foil for all the tulip colors.

The size of the bulb you plant will determine, however, whether normal flowers develop. Tulips are graded according to size, measured in centimeters, not by the diameter but by the circumference of the bulb. All bulbs sent us from Holland are inspected by the Dutch government, which forbids any bulb to be exported which is less than 9-10 centimeters (4 1/2 to 4 inches) in circumference. This size, moreover, is only passed in the case of early tulips. The tall, late tulips which are most popular here, including the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, must be at least 11-12 centimeters (4 1/2 to 4 1/2 inches) in circumference.

Bulbs smaller than this may be American grown, or imported from or through some other country than Holland.

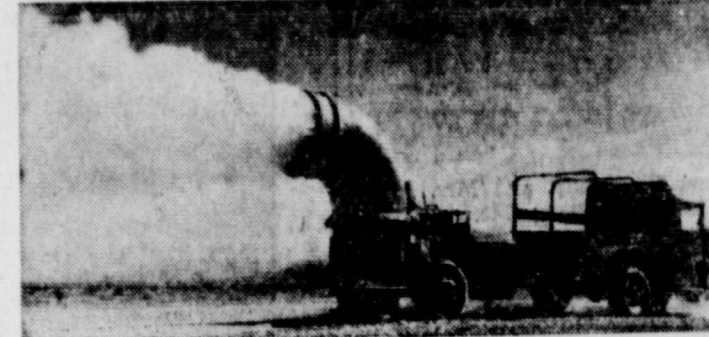

Do not plant in a color-scheme plan tulips which differ in flowering time. First to bloom are the species tulips; next the early single and double varieties; next the Darwin hybrids including the Mendel and Triumph classes; and finally the tall, late tulips, including the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, the Parrot tulips and late double varieties.

While tulips may be planted as late as the soil remains free from frost, it is best to obtain the bulbs while the selection is still unlimited, and be ready to plant them as soon as killing frosts have destroyed the garden flowers.

Mighty Midget Starts Revolution

THIS IS A "TRANSISTOR"... the most important single invention ever developed by telephone scientists. Now used mostly for military purposes, it promises to revolutionize the design of many everyday electronic devices, from hearing aids to television sets. In telephone equipment it is expected to replace vacuum tubes — doing the same job, but taking up far less space and using far less power. Not all the new ideas developed by telephone research are as exciting as this. But every year an average of 260 inventions and improvements are made to help us keep our telephone service high in value — low in cost. SOUTHWESTERN BELL... A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

At this time of year, landlords and tenants alike are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1954. While many operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreement and hard feelings between the parties.

Farming is a business and should be conducted in a businesslike manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn agreement is good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that amateur draftsmanship is risky.

Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relatively simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

A loosely drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important.

In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, the tenant who holds over beyond his term may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on the subject. It is as important to know the results of omissions as to know the courts' interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if a tenant is to farm on a share-basis, care should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what shares are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the tenant can cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other cause frees the tenant, or whether the landlord must accept a sub-tenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between persons even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced persons. The renting of land deserves a written contract, and it is a contract too important to be entrusted to anyone other than an expert.

Care Of Aged To Be Discussed At Two-Day Meeting

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. — Nursing home operators from all over Texas will convene in Austin October 19 for a two-day discussion on how they can give the best care to the old folks whom fate has placed in their hands.

The meeting, to be held in the auditorium of the State Department of Health, will open at 10 a. m. on Monday, October 19 and last through the following day. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, long-time champion of Texas' oldsters, promised that operators who attend will hear an outstanding panel of speakers cover the various problems associated with running a nursing home.

Specifically urged to attend are home operators who have been granted a temporary license under the nursing home licensing law passed by the last legislature. Subjects to be discussed during the 2-day meeting include an interpretation of the licensing law; medical and nursing services in nursing homes; sanitation and building standards; the problems of nutrition among the aged; and general standards, rules and regulations of acceptable operation.

Dr. Cox calls the problem of handling aged citizens "one of the most pressing facing our leaders today."

"These people belong to a generation which time is shoving harshly aside," the health official said. "They deserve something better than to be forgotten."

The State Legislature apparently agrees with that sentiment. During its last session, a mandatory licensing law was enacted for all nursing and convalescent homes.

Designed to raise the standard of care given home residents, the law gives the State Department of Health authority to inspect all homes for health, safety and humane treatment of all residents.

Failure to comply means loss of license, without which the home must close its doors.

Attendance at the October 19 meeting will acquaint home operators with what is expected of them, said Dr. Cox.

a greater profit than they are now being operated because the city would not have to rent of offices and warehouses and would not have to pay federal, state, county or local taxes. He believed the earnings would be adequate to insure a profit regardless of whether the city desires.

Mr. Higginbotham described purchasing the two gas systems as an opportunity to obtain new revenues for use in paving streets and financing other public improvements. He said that profits in excess of the debt payments could be used in any manner the city desires.

Following his talk, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal and James P. McCracken answered questions asked by members of the club.

Lion E. L. Jackson made a short talk in which he asked the club to consider the issue of private industry versus public ownership of business when they go to the polls. Mr. Jackson noted that "private industry has built this nation and made it strong and it has a vital place in our national economy."

Mr. Jackson said private industry, with its jobs for the people and its tax dollars for the governing agencies, builds communities by bringing in investment dollars. He added that "our nation's strength lies very considerably in the size and ability of private industry to get jobs done — in war or in peace."

Mayor Rosenthal concluded the discussion with a statement that the city was approached initially by the Ibox Company on the proposition of selling the Cisco Gas Corporation to the city.

Mrs. C. E. Hailey, Wanda Hailey, Mrs. Owen King and son, Ralph, visited Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tatom, Jr., in Abilene Wednesday.

OUR SCOUTS report that the only newspaper they could find at the Pioneer Cove Lodge at Lake Whitney was the Cisco Daily Press. Guess that's because Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCantles, who own and operate the lodge, are natives of Cisco. They're building a home at the lodge site. Their Pioneer Cove Lodge has fine facilities for visitors, including boats and baits.
