LOCAL RESIDENTS ASKED TO BACK CANCER RESEARCH

The annual drive for "Cancer Crusade" will be held in Clarendon May 6 and 7. Mrs. W. J Adams is acting as Chairman for Donley County this year, in place of Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. Co-workers are Mrs. Sue Weatherly of Hedley, Mrs. Willard Knox of Lelia Lake, Mrs. H. S. Mahaffey of Ashtola, and Mrs. Richard Cannon of Martin.

The following letter from Arthur Godfrey can express more fully the reason for the effective work of County Volunteers for the Cancer Crusade. Your contribution will help to carry on the fight against Cancer.

Dear Mrs. Adams:

We are making progress in our fight against cancer. The growing ranks of those saved from cancer, now more than one million Americans, furnish hopeful inspiration for volunteers to continue this fight.

This is why I am contributing my effort as national honorary education chairman for the American Cancer Society, and why I am glad that you have accepted the leadership of the annual Crusade for your county.

Together, we have the opportunity of backing up the work of research scientists and doctors with funds and with public education.

Please accept my good wishes for the very best success for you and your co-workers in 1961. You can be certain you are bringing closer the day of total cure of cancer.

Sincerely,
Arthur Godfrey

WHAT MAKES MAIN STREET GO?

This week throughout the state some 350 editors of smaller daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers will lock up their forms and "go to press." Their papers will carry the only broadly circulated written record of the people and events, the problems and opinions that shape our lives in the community, the state and the nation. their editorial pages provide the greatest forum of independent free expression in the world. The value of this in a country where majority opinion will decide public policies with which we all must live cannot be overestimated.

On the pages of these thousands of papers will run the advertising that gives the spark to the engine of private enterprise. Our tremendous transportation and retailing systems. capable of moving and displaying all the nation's wares, would be of little use unless people knew what products were available, at what cost, where they could be purchased, and in addition, were inspired with the desire to buy.

Advertising makes Main Street go in every city, town and village throughout the 50 states. The head of every family knows that the only way to find the right price for the quality merchandise desired is to compare the advertisements, whether the problem is making out the week's grocery list, buying a new house or trading in the old car,

There would be no free press were it not for advertising by the local merchants and industries who support the press but do not control it. Whether you are selling, buying or merely interested in remaining a free informed citizen of the United States, advertising performs a three-sided and indispensable service.

SOCIAL SECURITY SET-UP INEQUITABLE

A writer of note in one of the large Eastern daily newspapers reveals some not very comforting statistics on the entire social security set-up. "In its first quarter century," he says, "social security took in $70 billion. It paid out $50 billion of that, and has $20 billion of government bonds in the kitty. Against that $20 billion there are obligations, at the present rate of benefits, of $360 billion."

If you wonder how the social security system has reached such a pass the answer is simple. Mr. Starnes cites a not unusual case — a pensioner who paid for three years, starting in 1937. Then he retired. Since then he and his late wife together have drawn $13,490 in benefits while their total contributions to the fund had been $40. But in the case of young people starting to work circumstances are reversed. They can never hope to take out as much as they are forced to contribute.

WHAT MAKES MAIN STREET GO?

This week throughout the state some 350 editors of smaller daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers will lock up their forms and "go to press." Their papers will carry the only broadly circulated written record of the people and events, the problems and opinions that shape our lives in the community, the state and the nation. their editorial pages provide the greatest forum of independent free expression in the world. The value of this in a country where majority opinion will decide public policies with which we all must live cannot be overestimated.

On the pages of these thousands of papers will run the advertising that gives the spark to the engine of private enterprise. Our tremendous transportation and retailing systems. capable of moving and displaying all the nation's wares, would be of little use unless people knew what products were available, at what cost, where they could be purchased, and in addition, were inspired with the desire to buy.

Advertising makes Main Street go in every city, town and village throughout the 50 states. The head of every family knows that the only way to find the right price for the quality merchandise desired is to compare the advertisements, whether the problem is making out the week's grocery list, buying a new house or trading in the old car,

There would be no free press were it not for advertising by the local merchants and industries who support the press but do not control it. Whether you are selling, buying or merely interested in remaining a free informed citizen of the United States, advertising performs a three-sided and indispensable service.

SOCIAL SECURITY SET-UP INEQUITABLE

A writer of note in one of the large Eastern daily newspapers reveals some not very comforting statistics on the entire social security set-up. "In its first quarter century," he says, "social security took in $70 billion. It paid out $50 billion of that, and has $20 billion of government bonds in the kitty. Against that $20 billion there are obligations, at the present rate of benefits, of $360 billion."

If you wonder how the social security system has reached such a pass the answer is simple. Mr. Starnes cites a not unusual case — a pensioner who paid for three years, starting in 1937. Then he retired. Since then he and his late wife together have drawn $13,490 in benefits while their total contributions to the fund had been $40. But in the case of young people starting to work circumstances are reversed. They can never hope to take out as much as they are forced to contribute.

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTEND STATE F.H.A. MEETING

"F.H.A Stepping Stones to Happy Homes" was the theme of the state meeting of the Texas Association Future Homemakers of America when they met at the Fair Park Coliseum in Dallas, April 28-29. Delegates from the Clarendon Chapter included: Donna Estlack, Connie Williams and Sarah Antrobus, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourland.

Miss Sarah Antrobus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barcus Antrobus, was one of 350 girls to receive her State Degree in a very impressive Torch Lighting Ceremony at the Friday afternoon session. As the degree emblem, a Torch, was presented the girls, they lighted their torch from the "Statue of Liberty" and held it high to show the high degree of devotion and achievement they have contributed in home, school, chapter and community.

Miss Connie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams had been selected by the Music Committee of Area I to sing alto in the State Chorus and to try out for a similar position in the National Chorus when they convene in St. Louis in early July.

The State Chorus is made up of girls from Areas I, II, III, IV and V. They sang, "Make America Proud of You," "Soon Ah Will Be Done," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." They were directed by Mrs. Laverne Stokes, homemaking teacher of Palestine, Tex. Miss Williams was selected as first alternate for the one Alto representative from Texas to the national meeting.

Miss Donna Estlack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Estlack, represented the local chapter as Voting Delegate. She earned this honor by working for points which is based on grades, service to school and community plus participation in chapter activities and service to the Homemaking Department. The House of Delegates met Saturday morning and considered major changes in state degree requirements and constitution. New officers were installed immediately following the House of Delegates meeting.

The main speaker for the Assembly was Mrs. Billie Davis, Christian Education Consultant for Latin America, writer and lecturer. Her talk, "Life's China Closet" was one we appreciated most. Her life's story had been shown on film to the local chapter last year—"A Desk for Billie"

She was the daughter of migrant family. Her home was a tent and their open-top car. The happiest day of her life was the day she heard a lady say "There is a law that you have to go to school when you are six years old." She went to many schools each year and every day she learned what she could, not to make a grade, but for what it would mean to her in raising her standard of living. She stressed we should not become frustrated with world situations. Do what you can to make life better. Open your "China Closet," pull back the drapes that darken your home, and share what you do have with your friends.

Other experiences enjoyed on the trip included a visit to the campuses of NTSC and TWU at Denton, Texas, a shopping trip in Big Town and Nieman Marcus, and dinner at Port's O'Call Restaurant atop the Southland Life Insurance Building overlooking downtown Dallas. The restaurant is decorated like a ship and the four dining rooms were representative of ports in South Pacific. Food, waiters and waitresses were in keeping with that Port. We also enjoyed "The Absent-Minded Professor."

Chamberlain Center Honors Billy Waddell's With Wedding Shower

The Chamberlain Community honored Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wadell with a Wedding Shower Friday night. The tables were decorated with beautiful flowers and a Bride-and-Groom Centerpiece. Everyone enjoyed watching Mr. and Mrs. Wadell open their many lovely gifts.

"What Bermudagrass is best for improved pasture use in Texas?" George McBee, extension pasture specialist, is frequently asked that question. He says a review of research findings show that Coastal ranks at the top of the list for the areas in which it is recommended — sections of the State below 3,500 feet elevation. Supplemental irrigation should, however, be available in the low rainfall areas. Midland is recommended for the Panhandle area.

Within certain limits, Arch Meekma, extension dairy specialist, says the levels of concentrates and roughages in the dairy ration should be determined by the cost of nutrients in each type of feed. Also the upper limits of concentrate feeding should take into consideration the cow's ability to respond with higher milk production and the relative prices of feed and milk.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

FEED GRAINS "ELIGIBLE" FOR SUPPORT

Farmers should understand that there is a quanitative limitation on the 1961 corn and grain sorghum production that may be put under the price-support program this year.

The amount of corn and grain sorghum from each farm participating in the 1961 feed grain program which will be eligible for price support will be a bushelage equal to the farm's assigned normal per-acre yield times the 1961 corn and grain sorghum acreage as determined by the county ASC committee.

Corn and grain sorghum producers who take part in the 1961 feed grain program will thereby qualify for 1961 price support on oats, barley, and rye, as well as on the normal production of their 1961 corn and grain sorghum acreage. However, there are no limits on the quantity of these "other" three grains which may be put under support by eligible producers. Producers of barley, oats, and rye who did not produce corn or grain sorghum in 1959 or 1960 and who do not produce corn or grain sorghum in 1961 will be eligible for price support on these three feed grain crops.

Growers participating in the feed grain program will reduce their corn and grain sorghum acreage by at least 20 per cent below their base acreages for the 1959-60 period. For diverting acreage under the program, producers will be eligible for special "diversion" payments in the form of negotiable certificates, redeemable either in feed grain or in the cash equivalent of the grain.

CONSERVATION RESERVE

Producers who had Conservation Reserve contracts that expire December 31, 1961, may begin land preparation any time for the seeding of a fall seeded crop this fall. It is permissible to seed oats, rye, barley or wheat on these acres this fall and they may be harvested in the spring or summer of 1962; however, they may not be grazed until after December 31, 1961.

EXCESS WHEAT ACREAGE

May 10, 1961, is the final date for disposal of excess wheat acreage for the 1961 wheat marketing quota program. Notify this office when you have destroyed the excess acreage.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

DONLEY County District

Next week, May 7 through May 14, is Soil Stewardship Week according to Cap Morris, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Donley County Soil Conservation District. The Donley County District is joining with other Soil Conservation Districts all over the nation in observing this week. Churches in Clarendon, Lelia Lake, and Hedley have been informed of this special occasion, and some of them will have special Sunday programs in observance of this week.

Consider the Steward of the Soil

He is the guardian of our soil and the first custodian of our water. He manages our woodlands and provides for the wildlife of Nature. He produces the food and fiber, which is so essential to the health and well-being of all men everywhere. The steward is a man of vision, planning ahead or wiser land use which brings stability and continuing across the long tomorrow. A man of deeds is he, translating opportunity on the land into action; converting needs into accomplishments.

Moreover, the steward of the soil is a cooperator, working on his own land and with his neighbors to conserve and develop God's gifts of soil and water for the greater good of his community and his country. Strengthened in spirit and character by years of work on the land along with his Maker he is a person of integrity, an orderly man, whose well-kept fields and grasslands mark his aversion to carelessness and waste. Too, he is a man of responsibility under God, recognizing that the earth is the Lord's, placed here for the benefit of all His children — in town and country alike.

As the steward serves God, he serves himself and countless others in many ways. Since we depend on the steward of the soil we should also honor him. Consider the soil steward, and, consider him well..

Chamberlain Community Sponsors Community and Home Improvement

By Mrs. Alfred Ivey, Reporter

On Wednesday, April 26 the Chamberlain Community was happy to have as their guest Edith Lois Wilson, Home Demonstration agent of Amarillo, Mona Hildreth of Canyon, one of our judges for Community and Home Improvement, also Knox Parr, one of our judges also who is district agent and Bill Gresham of Amarillo and Norman Chandler of KGNC and Flip Breedlove, Donley County Agent, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ivey met them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wright.

Mrs. Wright showed us her new arrangement she had made in her home. Her "junk" room had been turned into a beautiful bedroom and a huge clothes closet with dressing table was attractive. And her pieces of furniture she had remodeled was pretty also, and 8 new dresses she had made for little Susan, and many other things.

Then we made our tour to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams' home. Here we were shown their beautiful papered bedroom and lovely curtains in their living room and sofa pillows. Their entire home had been painted and a new stove and dining room suite had been added which made their home so pretty. And the cute little new white fence around the green lawn was attractive. Then we went to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dingler's home. We were shown their pretty orchid painted bedroom and pretty curtains and Ethel's fancy work and their house has been dashed and painted since the storm.

Then to Mrs. Velma Heathington who had dashed her house and garage and painted the woodwork and had made a beautiful yard. She re-set her grass and made a beautiful patio and has made seats around two trees. One wouldn't believe it could look so pretty after the tornado last year. Then we went to Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Harrison's home. Mr. Harrison showed his new terraces. We also pointed out Roy Blackman's new terraces and our new mail route.

Then we ended our tour at the Community Center where a large crowd welcomed us with a big feast. We had Mr. and Mrs. Junior Spier of Junior's Food Market and Mr. .Bill Todd of the Household Supply who also was our welcomed guest.. After everyone enjoyed the big dinner we showed the judges the new improvements we had on our Community Building. We had sheetrocked and painted the inside, made a stage setting and bought stage curtains, dashed and painted outside and built a new porch.

Then Alford Ivey, 1960 president, called our meeting to order, all our visitors made a short talk; Mrs. C. L. Mann gave three readings and the meeting then was turned over to our new President Mr. Hawley Harrison. We want to thank Mr. Jim Swift of the Farmer's State Bank, who sent us a gift of money to our Community Center. Our regular meeting night, May 5, bring sandwiches and cookies. Hostesses, Mrs. Mark Allen and Mrs. Donald Ballew.

"Mad Dog" Into "Underlog"

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, writes in a message directed to all law enforcement officials: "We are faced today with one of the most disturbing trends that I have witnessed in my years in law enforcement — an overzealous pity for the criminal and an equivalent disregard for his victim.

"This dangerous tendency is inherent in the various theories and systems now being suggested, many of which are aimed at making sweeping changes in our established methods of dealing with the lawless . . . .

"One proposal, which proponents attempt to justify from an economy standpoint calls for a vast decrease in the number of persons sentenced to prison. Other diverse schemes being propounded, if adopted, would have the effect of virtually opening the doors of our prisons or turning them into little more than restrictive resort hotels. These plans, of course, would remove the threat of the thing most feared by the criminal — punishment for his misdeeds . . . .

"Americans are noted for favoring the 'underdog.' But all too often we have witnessed a 'mad dog' transformed into an 'underdog' by certain people who quickly forget or choose to ignore the great suffering by innocent victims of hardened and professional criminals."

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Memorial gifts have been given to the library dedicated to the memory of Mrs. J. H. Hurn and to the memory of Miss Emma Lavina Bullock.

Quoting from an article "Old Drug, New Miracles" by Ann Cutler: "When Dr. Anna Asian, who heads the famous Parhon Institute of Geriatrics in Roumania, visited this country last summer, large groups of doctors turned out to hear her tell of her work.

Dr. Asian who has treated more than 20,000 patients with procaine therapy (procaine is known commercially as Novocain) over the past 10 years graphically described how bed-ridden men and women got up and walked; how many were able to return to work.

It had proved most effective, she said, in the treatment of arthritis, multiple sclerosis, in restoring the use of injured limbs to sufferers of strokes, and in the treatment of high blood pressure and heart disease.

To the American doctors, it sounded like propaganda and they openly showed their disbelief. 'It's just Novocain' they challenged. 'We've had it around for 50 years and it's never performed any miracles.'

But even as they scoffed, other physicians — eminent psychiatrists, internists, geriatrics and heart specialists, motivated by a desire to see for themselves — were undertaking clinical studies of procaine. The results of their intensive, independent research which has recently appeared in The Journal of Neuropsychiatry and The Journal of the American Geriatric Society — tell of results as spectacular as those results claimed by the Parhon Institute. In the American experiments, just as those in Roumania, procaine therapy altered the course of such difficult-to-cure diseases as multiple sclerosis and arthritis, lowered high blood pressure to normal in a large number of patients; cured ulcers . . . and helped defective hearts to function normally. . . . Once the blood pressure was brought down to normal with procaine, the doctors found treatment often could be discontinued.

Dr. Bruno A. Marangone, Chief of Medicine at Flower Hospital in New York, who has treated more than 50 heart patients with Novacain, reported quick relief in almost every case and a recovery of 85 per cent . . ."

The complete article is on file in the library.

Memorial gifts have been given to the library in memory of Mr. Benjiman Carl Benton and for Baby Leamon Matthew Wallace.

Don't cry when you stumble,
Or lose one round;
For only a worm
Can never fall down.

We should never feel that we are good for nothing. Even as a horrible example we would be worth something. Right off you can likely think of an example that will prove this statement. Perhaps one would have to look far and wide to find some one so perfect that we would want to be exactly like them. On most every street we know of a fellow that we wouldn't under any circumstances want to imitate.

Take the social drinker for instance, and likely as not some young person might decide to pattern their life from this example. On the other hand think of the town sot, and no one, not even the young imitator would want to be like him.

It is better to strive to be perfect, for most anyone can do the ordinary. Even if we miss the birdes-eye we will still have lots of company among the average.

We shouldn't give up because we fail a part of the time, for those who are champions once were only amateurs. There is no use to start hunting for new territory for the most undeveloped place in the world is right under our hat.

It is always too early to be a quitter. Too late to rest on our laurels, and too soon to say, I told you so.

The Little Old Man who came through the country peddling books stands out in our memory as one of the most unusual characters of our byohood days.. My folks never bought his book, and I have no recollection that he ever gave us anything for the night's lodging. We lived 22 miles from nowhere and the news from anywhere was a welcome experience. He did stop by on more than one occasion.

We remember him as a scant four feet tall, and at least half as wide. The story of his size sent both chills and thirlls up our spine, and even though it ruined our sleep for several nights we never tired of hearing about it.

It seemed that he was left an orphan at the age of 12. A small timid fellow with no interested relatives within hundreds of miles. Neighbors placed him on the train in care of the conductor and he made the trip to a town on the Mississippi River where he was after a night's lodging in the town hotel to catch a river boat to a little town down the river and to a home with a distant kin.

He had been guided to the hotel and a room secured. Not being sleepy he wandered down to the street. After a short time he attempted to return to his room. Having found what he thought was the right room he discovered someone already in bed. Lonesome as he was by then he appreciated the kindness of the hotel man in giving him a bedfellow, and snuggled in beside this one already in the middle of the bed.

Shortly a young man and woman came in and sat down beside the dimly lighted table. Soon the man asked for a kiss. He was cautioned not to so act in the presence of a dead man. Upon hearing this he knew the truth, ran out of the room and never grew another inch in all his life.

"Down to our last shirt" is an expression that most of us have heard all our life. We wonder just how many ever had this actually happen to them. As a young lad we found ourselves in this predicament.

For weeks my mother had mentioned the fact that my shirts were about worn out. No one, especially myself, took the situation seriously. There had always been a clean patched shirt and we thought there would always be another one.

On this particular day Mother informed us that we were down to our very last shirt. The discarded one from the day before was pronounced unworthy of any more patches. On top of all this we were cautioned that the one we were putting on needed to be treated with care if it was to last until someone went into town.

We soon forgot all the warnings and were busy at play.. Later in the day an uncle who was almost our age came to visit and we were having the time of our life. First we got the shirt wet and dirty catching craw-dads out of a nearby creek. Then we decided to play leap-frog. This was the en dof my last shirt.

As we walked to the house our thoughts became serious, but we supposed that Mother could surely dig up some kind of a shirt. She couldn't. When the truth finally soaked through we just sat there stunned. It was one of life's most embarrassing moments.

The cotton was lost in the weeds and Dad couldn't take off and go after me a shirt. Mother did save the day by walking some three miles to a country store and bought enough material to sew up up another shirt. We may forget our name, but never our last shirt.

Our rocketeers aim higher and higher. Soon as they shoot a rocket to the moon they're gonna try to put one clear up around the cost of livin'.

A 2 per cent retail sales tax by Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity was approved 75-to-65, on second reading and 76-to-62 on final passage. It is now in the hands of the Senate.

Food, feed, farm machinery, seed, fertilizer, medicine and medical needs are exempt from the bill. Its tax yield is variously estimated at from $127,000,000 to $140,000,000 a year.

Before the bill was given preliminary passage, Wilson staved off efforts of sales tax opponents to put on amendments to make the bill also include a corporation income tax, graduated income tax and graduated oil revenve tax..

Governor Daniel announced his opposition to the Wilson bill before it came up on the House floor. After the House vote, the governor refused to say whether he would veto the measure if it should be finally passed by both Houses.

NEW TEACHER PAY APPROACH — A teacher pay raise plan designed to offer more incentive for heads of families and career teachers has been proposed by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco.

Woods' bill would provide a lower raise in the basic minimum than is recommended by the Texas State Teachers Association, but it would offer higher increments (increases for experience) than TSTA asks.

Woods' bill would provide an across-the-board raise of only $234 a year compared to TSTA's $810. But under the Woods bill, a teacher with 10 years' experience would make $4,950 a year compared to $4,554 under the TSTA schedule. Woods bill would also make special provision for teachers, either men or women, responsible for the support of a household.

UH BILL STIRS FUSS — A bill to make the University of Houston part of the state-supported college system easily won its first vote on the floor of the House.

House vote was 84-to-34 for the bill.

In the Senate, Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center spearheaded the opposition with extended remarks. He protested the state could not take on another $10,000,000 a year for the University of Houston when the state treasury already had a deficit.

Lane was assisted by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville who declared the state should improve the quality of existing state colleges before taking on any more. To help fill up time, Hudson read recipes from a French cookbook.

BREWERY BILL VOTED — Senate finally passed a bill that would make it easier for the Carling Brewery to build a new $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County.

Highly controversial, the bill has brought a pitched battle between "wet" and "dry" forces. All Tarrant County House members voted for the bill, but Fort Worth's senator, Doyle Willis, led the opposition.

Willis had little active help in the Senate, but after the bill was approved on second reading by voice vote, 14 of the 29 senators present asked to be recorded in the Senate Journal as voting "no." Final approval was by a slim 13-to-11 margin.

Bill would allow the brewery to continue to operate even if the area in which it is located should vote dry.

FREIGHT RATE BILL TUMBLES — In an about-face, the House turned down on third reading the freight rate bill it had approved on second reading.

Proposal would have allowed uncontested changes in freight rates to go into effect without hearing and approval of the Railroad Commission.

It passed by a narrow margin on second reading but was voted down, 71-to-65, on the vote for final passage. In general, railroads favored the bill, and truckers did not.

Berry's proposal for a constitutional amendment to legalize horse racing and parimutuel betting lost out earlier in the session. He is now trying for a referendum to let the people express their opinion on racing at the next general election.

Rep. Bill Heatley of Paducah moved the proposal be sent back to committee where, it was assumed, it would die. Heatley's motion for interment lost, 68-to-58.

SENATORS FLAY LOAN BILL — Finding a generally acceptable plan for regulating small loan companies is proving fully as troublesome as many predicted.

Several senators were sharply critical of the House-passed loan regulation bill when it came up for hearing before the State Affairs Committee.

Proposed measure provides for interest rates ranging from nearly 40 per cent for the smallest loans down to 11 per cent for loans of $3,000 or more. Banks, building and loan associations and credit unions would not be under the law.

Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville accused the Statewide Committee to Eliminate the Loan Shark Evil headed by Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, of having misled the public. Sen. Charles Herring of Austin predicted that legalizing 40 per cent interest would cause the people to "come down here and scalp us."

TWO CHANGES NIXED — Two proposed changes for the handling of criminal cases were voted down by the House.

One, sponsored by Reps. O. H. Schram of Taylor and James E. Barlow of San Antonio, would have allowed jurors in non-capital criminal cases to go home overnight. More people would be willing to serve on juries, said the authors, if they didn't have to be locked up during the trial. Opponents successfully argued that jurors turned loose overnight might be exposed to influences that would prejudice their decision.

Other proposal, also by Barlow, would allow defendants to by-pass indictment by pleading guilty. It would save offenders' having to sit in jail awaiting indictment when they're planning to plead guilty anyway, said Barlow. Opponents protested tinkering with "due process of law," said it might encourage guilty pleas who have a good defense.

AUTOMATIC REDISTRICTING — A proposed constitutional amendment to provide for automatic congressional redistricting passed the House, 106-to-39.

Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth is sponsor of the measure which would have to be approved by the people before becoming effective.

In this decade, it would not take effect until 1963. If, however, the legislature failed to reapportion congressional representation in the session that year, the job would be taken over by a redistricting board. Making up the board would be the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, attorney general and land commissioner.

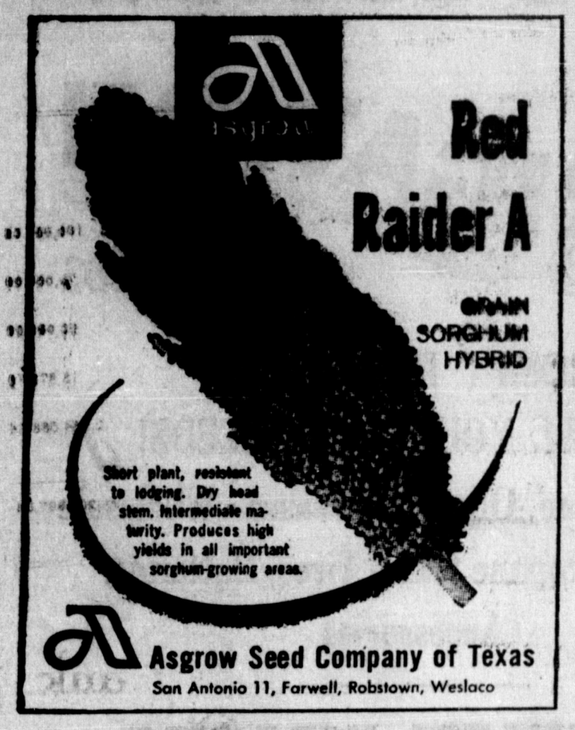

A similar measure was passed in the 1950's for legislative redistricting.

BLUE LAWS STUDIED —Revision of Texas' blue laws, on the books but ignored for nearly a century, is being studied by the House Committee on Municipal and Private Corporations.

Most cities make no effort to enforce the laws providing fines for both employees and owners of businesses staying open on Sunday. A bill before the committee would allow cities of 800,000 and over to set up their own Sunday business practices. Houston Mayor Louis Cutrer suggested it should be applied to all cities.

Most witnesses said they generally favored blue laws. Sunday business, they said, interefered with family and community life.

SHORT SNORTS — A special committee of State Hospital Board officials reported to the Legislative Budget Board that 1,007 retarded children are awaiting admission to a state school. Report was made at the Budget Board's request . . . House passed, 133-to-5, a bill by Rep. John Allen of Longview to allow persons falsely imprisoned to sue the state for damages. Limit would be $25,000.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

The 4-H Club

Washinton is fast becoming the Number One convention city of the world. The only reason there are not more conventions here is because there just is not enough room. One group told me recently that in order for them to schedule their convention in Washington it was necessary to contract with a hotel here on a five-year basis. This will give you some idea of the great demand for hotel facilities for convention purposes. It would be impossible to try to remember the names of all the different groups, and this newsletter would not have sufficient space in which to list them, so I will not even try. I will address my remarks to one of the most refreshing of these groups That is the 4-H Club. The young people who make up this group are the best advertisements for our American way of life that I can think of. Each year the 4-H Clubs hold a National Club Conference in Washington, D.C. This is attended by members of the organization chosen through sharp competition. This year four members were named to represent Texas at the National Conference. The Panhandle can be very proud that one of these came from our District. She is Miss Jan Barton of Matador, Texas, and is well-known throughout 4-H Club work as "Miss Everything in 4-H." Jan is a student in Texas Tech this year, but was excused from her studies long enough to make the trip to Washington, where she has taken a leading part in the activities. The other three delegates from Texas were Miss Kay Botard of Alice, a very charming and beautiful young lady, Mr. Garland Weeks of Wichita Falls and Mr. Orlan Ihms of Georgetown, two outstanding young men who will certainly make their marks in the world.

Jan Barton is one of the finest young people I have ever known. She came to Washington last year and captured the heart of everyone she met. This year she met more people and captured more hearts. One of her captives is none other t han Speaker Sam Rayburn. Each year the 4-H representatives invite their Congressmen to breakfast. Of course the Texas contingent is always deeply honored to have Speaker Rayburn present. He never fails them. This year he and Jan immediately struck up a conversation about Red Payne of Matador and a horse that the Speaker had obtained from Red. You see, Jan had met the Speaker last year, so it was a renewed visit. In addition to the Speaker, the breakfast was attended by Members of Congress and wives who had a winner from their District. I have been going to these breakfasts quite regularly, because we always turn up a winner. Last year I missed the breakfast because I had to be in the District, but Mrs. Rogers attended and had a wonderful time. Those in attendance this year were Senator Ralph Yarborough, Congressman Olin Teague, Congressman John Young, Congressman and Mrs. Frank Ikard, Congressman and Mrs. Homer Thornberry, Jan Barton, Kay Botard, Garland Weeks, Orlan Ihms, Mr. Floyd Lynch and Miss Erma Wines. Mr. Lynch and Miss Wines accompanied the Texas group to Washington as chaperones. Each Member of Congress was presented with a beautiful paperweight with the 4-H symbol and the year of its presentation. This will be proudly displayed on my desk.

On Friday, the final day of the Conference, there was a luncheon for 4-H leaders and special guests. At this luncheon, one boy and one girl out of the entire delegation are selected to speak on their work in 4-H, what it has done for them and their community, and of course touching upon the theme of the Conference, which was citizenship. Jan Barton was the girl selected for this honor.

4-H Club work is a part of the national educational system of cooperative extension work in agriculture and home making in which the United States Department of Agriculture, the State land-grant colleges, and the counties participate. The 4-H Club idea is now worldwide. There are 93,000 local 4-H Clubs in every agricultural county in the United States and Puerto Rico. These clubs are made up of 2,296,000 young people, chiefly rural, between ten and 21 years old. Approximately 302,438 volunteer adult leaders and 109,780 junior leaders guide their activities.

We were so very proud to have Jan here and to have the opportunity to let others see a fine example of the splendid young people with which our section of the country has been blessed. She has brought great honor to her own community and to our District.

I think everyone should know what the 4-H stands for, so well expressed in the Club pledge, which I quote as follows:

4-H Club Pledge

I pledge
My head to clear thinking,
My heart to greater loyalty,
My hands to larger service, and
My health to better living
For my club, my community, and my country.

AUTOMATIC DISPENSERS! Diluted bleach pours in during last 4 minutes for a brighter, safer wash. Fabric softener goes in during final rinse—for extra softness, less static electricity in miracle fabrics.

EXTRA PRE-WASH-RINSE CYCLE! Agitated Pre-Wash for clothes that used to need soaking . . . or an extra rinse for heavier fabrics or for starching.

2-WASH 'N' WEAR CYCLES! One for heavily-soiled no-iron fabrics . . . it gives you fast agitation for the first 4 minutes, then changes to slower action. Both cycles temper the hot wash water with cold in mid-cycle, to prevent heat-set wrinkles.

2-SPEED SURGILATOR* AGITATOR! Fast, vigorous agitator action for your regular wash; slower strokes for finer things. 2 spin speeds, too.

ACRYLIC ENAMEL FINISH to help prevent rust; all-porcelain finish, slight extra cost. White, yellow or pink. Only 29" wide, yet it does a big 10-pound load! *Tmk.

Will Writes From Austin

Rep. Will Ehrle

AUSTIN —After a tense struggle and some curious votes, the general sales tax passed the House last week.

On final passage the vote was 76-62 with no less than 14 liberals joining conservatives and moderates. Had those 14 liberals voted "no," the vote would have been exactly reversed, killing the measure.

Will the governor veto? I doubt it. However, since he opposes the sales tax, he will probably call a special session — perhaps in the fall — to try to get the Escheat Bill passed. It appears we'll have at least one special session if the governor doesn't get his way.

A Step Forward

I very, very reluctantly voted for the sales tax, feeling we have to take steps forward in taxation to support the benefits of living in Texas and to retire the mushrooming deficit.

House Bill 727 is a two per cent levy on most marketable items, however it certainly doesn't heavily burden the lower and middle income groups as the governor and others have been screaming.

Main items in all family budgets such as food, shelter and transportation are NOT taxed further under this bill. Other important exemptions include drugs and agricultural equipment.

Let's look at an example on a monthly basis of a family whose breadwinner earns $400 a month, take home pay of $342.00.

$56.00 car payment
77.50 house payment
110.00 grocery bill
18.00 insurance
5.00 medicine
18.75 savings

$285.00 total. This leaves about $57.00 for new purchases, which, if every bit of itwere spent, THE 2% SALES TAX WOULD BE ONLY $1.14.

This doesn't seem like too much to ask when Texas needs educational advances, highways, farm roads, old age pensions, etc. The bill is designed to raise about $128 million per year and should provide many needed services and increases in Texas.

Battle Lines Drawn

I realize the sales tax will increase bookkeeping for many small merchants, however, the battle lines were drawn in the House when Houstonian Bob Eckhardt offered a graduated personal income tax as an amendment to the sales tax.

We felt the majority of Texans had weighed the tax problem and favored the sales tax over an income tax. The payroll tax, as favored by the governor, and Eckhardt's income tax seemed much more objectionable as broadbased taxes.

Regardless of the nature of the final solution of our fiscal problems, it is my hope that the problem will be solved by May 29 so that we may avoid the needless and costly expense of special sessions.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

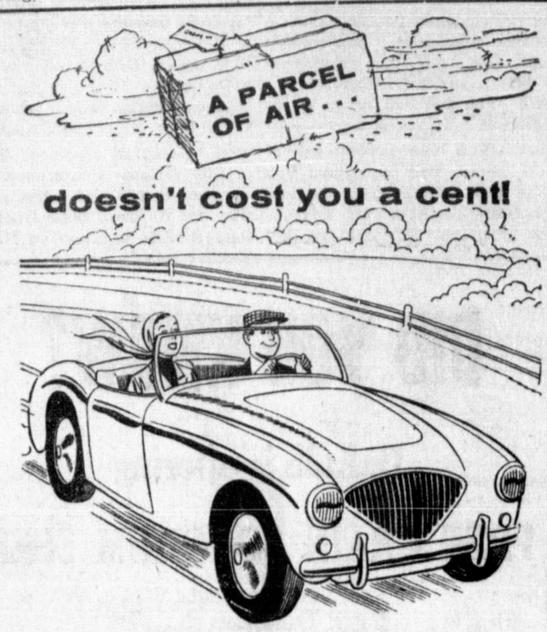

Guess we are getting forgetful, though we hate to admit it. After checking on last week's 'federal aid' article by Walter Rogers, we found it to be his April 6th letter 'To The People.' It cannot be repeated too often nonetheless.

Today's news about the college students of Galveston and the five baboons loose somewhere, on the same newscast were very much alike. The only difference was the items thrown, and the victims. The students were throwing beer bottles and cans at the police; while the baboons were throwing anything they could get their hands on at the nearest pursuer. Tush, tush, all the generations between — and all the education since — when we get in a tight place we still act the same.

Will Ehrle, our Rep. in Austin tells us, "I was shocked, surprised and disappointed when Rep. Tom Shannon of Ft. Worth was asked to resign his church positions and membership for supporting legislation contrary to his pastor's wishes." Seems as Mr. Shannon voted for the bill allowing the Carling Brewing Company to establish a new 20-million dollar brewery in Ft. Worth.

We venture to say Mr. Shannon was carrying out the wishes of the majority, as that majority was made known to him. Although the brewing industry has a lot of help other than non-church members on their side. Mr. K's burying crew thrives on just such legislation. We money-loving, unconcerned Americans only hasten the burial date when we fail to make our voices heard, no matter if it be in our precinct, state or the nation.

Our representatives, wherever they may be may vote many times against their personal convictions, because only those who get in touch with him are speaking for you and I. He cannot read our minds.

MARVIN GREEN . . . Hockley county farmer . . . had this to say about Solutions: "I really gave Liquid Fertilizers a test last year. After all the heavy rains we had, I went back and side-dressed my cotton with Liquids. I saw a big increase in production in comparison to what some of the other county formers gathered who didn't use another application of fertilizer.

This is Green's second year to use Solutions. He uses the tool-bar mounted applicator-cultivator with front-mounted saddle-type barrels. With this type rig—Green added: "I was able to apply 50 acres or more per day of fertilizer. And another thing, I have never been able to get the results from other types of fertilizers that I have received from Liquid . . . with the saving in labor expense, plus the low initial cost of SOLUTIONS, I don't know why everyone doesn't use Liquid Fertilizers."
