Revival Led At Janlee Baptist Church, July 12-14th

N. JEFFREY
Evangelist

JERRY BAXTER
Singer

Janlee Baptist Church will be holding a Youth-led Week of Revival beginning Friday, July 12th, and ending Sunday evening, July 14th. James Jeffrey, evangelist, will be the evangelist. Jerry Baxter, Pampa, will sing the music.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30. Although the youth-led is for the youth, so make plans now for each evening.

Jeffrey is well-known in the sports world. He lettered in basketball and football at Baylor in 1949 and in 1950 he established a new record and was named Conference MVP.

He was in the Air Force for two years with Carswell Army Airfield. He was named to serve as a fullback.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of National Fellowship Christian Athletes. He is with the Fidelity Insurance Company for years, has been married three times and has four children, two boys and a girl.

He is a very popular speaker at meetings as well as an entertainer, juggling, performing magic tricks.

Baxter, a graduate of Baylor University, is a twenty-year-old student at Baylor University where he is majoring in education. He has worked in three City-wide gospel tours and has held many revivals including seven through the Division of Student Work in Dallas.

He sang with the Baylor Choir at the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco last year.

This revival will end a week of inspiration and fun for teenagers. The Teentime schedule begins Monday, July 8th at 6:30 p. m. and will end after fellowship Sunday evening, July 14th. The theme for Teentime is "The Challenge of the Cross."

Programs throughout the week will discuss how the modern teenager can accept that challenge in his social life, in his home life, in his school life, and in his future life. These discussions will be led by the pastor, Rev. Travis McMinn.

The Teentime Players, directed by Maxine Bronson, will present a Dramatic Call to Worship at the beginning of each evening activities.

A film on dating and falling in love will be shown each evening. There will be singing, recreation and refreshments (ice cream floats, watermelon, home made ice cream and cookies) to name a few.

An interesting part of the activities will be the career conferences. Some of the leaders are Bob McCreary, KNIN Disc Jockey; Walter Riley, winner of the Dale Carnegie state leadership award; Darrell Grice, Educational Director at Lamar Baptist Church; and James Pearson, Curriculum Director at Burk High School.

There will be a special feature each night. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Shaw will bring a musical program. He is the A Capella Choir Director at WFHS. We will have a Hootenanny on Tuesday night. It'll be even better than on TV. Everybody will get into the act. Paul Trammel, a student at MU who spent last summer in Africa as a missionary will show slides of the people and countryside. You girls will be interested in finding out what the African women use in place of hair spray. On Thursday, there will be a real treat as Miss Lawton and Miss Burk Burnett entertain. Just for laughs we have invited Miss Podunk Center to entertain also.

All teenagers are invited to attend every session of Teentime. You will enjoy every minute of it.

Last Rites Were Friday In Cleburne For J. T. Epperson, Jr.

Funeral services were conducted Friday, July 5th in Cleburne, Texas, for a former Burkburnett resident, J. T. Epperson, Jr., who died Wednesday in a Cleburne hospital.

Services were held at the First Baptist Church at 4:00 p. m. with the pastor, Rev. Robert Fling, officiating, assisted by Rev. Ralph Odell, pastor of the Anglin Street Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Cleburne Memorial Cemetery with Dillon Funeral Home in charge.

Epperson, a former assistant Wichita County auditor, was born November 14, 1913. He was married to the former Kathryn Exley of Burkburnett on September 14, 1939.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. James Sims, Cleburne; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Epperson, Cleburne; one brother, Dwight L. Epperson, Montgomery, Alabama; and one grandchild.

Former Burk Boy Receives Master of Arts Degree June 7

D. L. Richardson, a former Burkburnett resident received his Master of Arts degree from UCLA on June 7. His major was Theater Arts and his specialty was motion pictures.

UCLA holds only one graduation service a year and this year conferred over 4,000 degrees. It was a pretty big graduating class. At this same service Walt Disney received an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree for creating "not a better mousetrap, but a better mouse."

For his master's thesis D. L. produced an educational film in Spanish and researched a new method of using motion pictures in classrooms.

In 1956 he received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Southern California, majoring in cinema.

At present he is director of film production for KWTU, Channel 9 in Oklahoma City.

THE CARDS ARE STACKED

Since the Interstate Highway program was launched in mid 1956, the car owner has seen his federal gasoline tax rate doubled and taxes on automotive accessories increased.

The first wave of increases was followed by other hikes, accompanied by dire warnings that the massive highway program was in danger of "grinding to a halt" unless still more money was poured into it.

"If you want highways, you've got to pay for them,"
 the big spenders kept telling the motorist. That was supposed to keep him quiet, but the facts now available should prompt him to speak up with a loud roar of justifiable indignation.

The latest United States government figures reveal that the motorist has been shortchanged more than $10 billion since the beginning of fiscal 1957.

This was accomplished by taking 40 percent of the highway user tax revenue and spending it for things having absolutely no relation to roads. Thus, the motorist has paid for $10 billion worth of roads he did not get.

This diversion was authorized by the Congress, and it will take Congressional action to stop it.

Some states also practice diversion of highway user taxes, thus depriving their own highway programs of about $400 million a year. However, 28 states have adopted constitutional amendments prohibiting such raids.

We taxpayers do not expect to get something for nothing from any level of government. We know we have to pay for what we get, however, we strongly resent the fact that 40 percent of our highway user taxes are tossed into what one Congressional critic of the present system has called "a bureaucratic grab bag."

IT'S UP TO YOU
 By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THERE is no mystery about depressions or how to cure them. The facts are well known. Flexibility in the wage-price structure which would quickly restore balance as between the different groups of producers, would accomplish the desired results. For instance, plumbers in San Francisco are paid $7.75 an hour. How can they expect to earn much plumbing to people earning $2 an hour? The free market would bring wages and prices into reciprocal relationships so that the marketplace would be cleared of commodities and all workers be fully employed at wages commensurate with their production. Forcing employers to pay wages that exceed the production of their employees creates unemployment.

Freedom in the marketplace will channel materials, labor, and capital away from the production of goods and services that are less in demand and into the production of goods, and services, for which there is greater demand. Moreover, it will more nearly than any other system allot to each producer the true value of his contribution. This restoration of balance will solve the problem of unemployment and provide jobs for all. If our political and labor leadership would recognize this fact and advocate a program in accordance therewith, depressions could be made short-lived and relatively harmless, and jobs could be provided for our idle workers. Wages for some groups would decline, but prices would decline in the same proportion, so there would be no hardship. In the achievement of reciprocal relationships between the different groups of producers some wages would advance. After all is said and done, this is the only way to avoid severe depression, to take up the slack of unemployment and to provide jobs for our young men and women as rapidly as they finish their schooling.

FIRST STOP FOR N. Y. VISITORS

A lot of history has happened in Times Square since its most famous landmark, Times Tower, inched its skyward in 1904. The view (1) looking south along Broadway from 44th Street shows the steel frame being covered with its sheath of terra cotta and pink granite. By the mid-thirties (2) its famed electric news bulletin girdled the building and flashed up-to-the minute headlines; trolley cars still trundled through the Square and a jaywalker could diagonally cross at his own risk. The largest crowd ever assembled (3) along the Great White Way gathered on VJ Day to herald the news of Japan's surrender, August 14, 1945 and the Tower and neighborhood will have a new look (4) when it becomes Allied Chemical's showcase for chemistry, late in 1964, as shown in the architect's model.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sense. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

BETTER BATTERY

This is one of those "maybe" tips but it's intriguing enough to provide food for thought. If your battery is too weak to turn the car over, drop a mothball in each cell. What happens next is the question. And what happens to your battery after that is even more of a question. And this is a good place to state again that these tips are offered as ideas only. The wise sportsman will check each one out for himself.

SOUTHERN PINE

Three-fourths of the nation's pressure treated poles are of Southern Pine. Chief reason—ease of treatment. With this species, chemical preservatives achieve deep and uniform penetration — thus assuring maximum protection against severe weather exposure.

Every year 100,000 letters are mailed without addresses, thus saving seven stenographers.

The Ultimate in Satisfaction

When we were children, the ultimate in satisfaction was an ice cream cone, a nickel's worth of candy, a handful of homemade cookies. But now that we are grown-up, God's spirit has shown us there are more important things in life than satisfying our appetites. There is a higher plane of living — that of loving and serving God and one's neighbor. God wants us to respond to His love by showing this same kind of love to others. The church is the place to center your mature living. Attend church this Sunday.

"When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things." 1 Cor. 13:11.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS

From The American Medical Association

POISON IVY

Itching is no joke. Irritating juice from this little plant puts hundreds of thousands more to bed every summer than thousands more to get relief from the itching. And countless thousands suffer through a light case of ivy poisoning without medical help.

In the United States, poison ivy can be anywhere—in fact, it is almost everywhere. The apartment dweller in the big city who takes an occasional Sunday stroll in the park can get it. Even if you stick to the walks, your dog can bring back the volatile oils on his coat. Smoke from a neighbor's trash fire can waft droplets into your yard.

Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three-leaved climbing plants. On the ground they are about a foot high. Usually they climb walls, trees, fences. Sometimes they mix in with the honeysuckle and other climbing plants, and are very hard to detect.

Poison sumac is a small shrub with small white berries.

Whether it's ivy, oak or sumac, the results are about the same—a stinging, itching patch of blisters. If the rash gets into the eyes, or spreads over a considerable portion of the body, it can become serious.

There is no simple cure for poison ivy. Lotions and ointments can help to ease the discomfort while the ailment runs its course. Don't waste your money on a quack remedy that claims it will cure poison ivy. It won't.

The best precaution is to know how to recognize the plants and avoid them. Any good natural history book and many encyclopedias have photos. The main thing to watch for is the three-leaved twig.

If you have been exposed, wash thoroughly, several times, with warm water and plenty of soap. You might be able to get some of the oil off before it begins to irritate the skin.

Very few people are immune. Some, because they've never had a rash, think so. They've just been lucky. Of course, some people are more susceptible than others, and these unlucky individuals get a rash almost every summer. Search your lawn and garden for suspicious three-leaved plants. Dig out the plant, root and all, and dispose of it carefully. Clean the hoe and rake thoroughly. And wash your hands right away.

EMERGENCY JACK

Okay, this is crude... but it works! We wholly recommend you equip your car with a jack, ax, shovel, water, if you're headed into remote country. But if you get a flat you may be able to change a tire like this. Select a sapling that you estimate is strong enough to hold the car's weight, but small enough to bend as you drive into it. Then, you literally inch the car up the tree. Another man lifting with a tree trunk lever will help the car climb. Gradually the car inches ahead (or behind) and is raised the 10 or so vital inches.

TISSUE TRAIL

New bright colored facial tissues can make fine trail markers. Just tear into pieces and drape at eye-level on branches along the route you don't want to forget. Soft, clinging tissues never blow away.

HOW THE FAST DRAW EXPERT DOES IT
Want to know how the expert "Fast Draw" artist makes his holster leather cling just right around his gun? He takes an old gun and a new holster and wraps the gun in muslin soaked with light oil. Then he jams the gun home. In a couple of days it looks like the holster leather was born for just that weapon.
