NEW POLICE STATION PROGRESSES

Walls of the new city police station were constructed last week, and forms for the re-inforced concrete jail section were put in place. It is located adjacent to the west side of the city hall building. Facilities for detention of juveniles and a women's cell will be provided in the new jail. It is expected to be completed within about 45 days. Jones Construction Co. of Snyder and Big Spring, is contractor. (Lee Watson photograph)

Polio Vaccine Tests In State Set This Week

Salk polio vaccinations will be given Tuesday in San Antonio, second Texas city whose second graders are taking part in mass nation-wide tests of the new serum.

About 4,000 Corpus Christi and Nueces County youngsters got their shots in the arm last week, with a minimum of squeals and a maximum of proud grins and happy licking of free lollypops.

Dallas' vaccinations are scheduled for Wednesday and Houston's for May 11. Dates for the test to begin in six other Texas cities have not yet been announced.

San Antonio health authorities decided last Monday to skip the test of the polio vaccine because "it should be held at some time other than the polio season." But parents' groups protested, and the test was rescheduled.

The required parental request forms had been signed and returned Saturday for more than two-thirds of the 1,400 San Antonio second graders eligible for the first day's shots to be given in 125 Bexar County schools. Dr. George W. Rice, city health director, said the forms still could be returned Monday and up to time for the shots to begin on Tuesday.

The vaccine, developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of Pittsburgh is being tested under the sponsorship of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Other Texas cities listed for tests are San Angelo, Waco, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Orange.

Seven-Nation Parley On Korea Is Decided Upon

More Than 10 Twisters In 2 States Saturday

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes twirled in a May dance of destruction across Texas and Oklahoma Saturday.

They ran wild ahead of a cold front that threatened snow for the Panhandle and freezing temperatures, smashing homes and farms for the fifth straight day.

More than 10 twisters were reported in the two states by 7 p.m. Oklahoma bore the brunt of the devilish storms Saturday. Texas caught their full fury Friday.

The number of known injured from the storms was seven: one in Texas. But the exact number was unknown. Reports of other twisters or tornadic winds were numerous.

Tornadic winds battered Grandfield and Tipton, Okla., just across the Texas line. Six twisters hit all around the Vernon, Tex., area: at Hines, near Crowell, Elliott.

Three were hurt at Grandfield as the town's siren wailed a mournful warning. Three were hurt also at Tipton, 25 miles from Grandfield.

Sam Hulme, tossed out of a pickup truck that was picked up off Highway 70 and spun 200-300 yards into a field near Vernon, suffered two broken ribs.

The boiling black tornado that hit the Southwestern Oklahoma town of Grandfield, across the state border from Wichita Falls, was clearly visible. While the siren wailed and citizens scampered frantically for cover, the funnel turned away as it neared the city and only sideswiped the northeast edge.

Donald Ray Nease, 19, was taken to a Wichita Falls hospital in serious condition. He suffered several fractured bones and head injuries. He was found 55 yards from the Nease house which was destroyed. He had been alone in it.

A Mr. and Mrs. Miller were also injured.

At Tipton, Oran Roberts and his two teen-age sons, Danny and Meredith were hurt. Danny was hospitalized at Altus, Okla. Ten to 12 houses were destroyed there.

Houses were smashed at Hines, Elliott, Farmers Valley, all in the Vernon area. A few roofs were blown off at Vernon as the twisters smashed from 1:30 p.m. to 3:10 p.m. within a 20 mile radius.

Mrs. Paul Schur said she watched a tornado roar toward her farm house near Vernon. She and her husband and daughter reached their storm cellar in the back yard just before the twister demolished their home.

Thunderheads hung ominously in the sky in northern Texas and southern Oklahoma. They spat scattered rain and some hail.

The biting cold blew into the Texas Panhandle from Colorado and at 2 p.m. Dalhart had a temperature of 39 degrees. Near freezing was forecast for the upper Panhandle Saturday night.

Friday, Texas had its worst day from the storms that have battered it this week. Tornadoes spewed shot-gun fashion to hit more than a score of towns and communities. They caused thousands in property damage and injured by an unofficial count at least 39 persons.

The State Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters in Austin said it had a report from the American Red Cross that 24 persons were injured in Friday's storms. The report said 138 families were affeted.

The roof was blown off the farm home of Clem Nail 10 miles north of Vernon at 1:45 p.m. Two barns across the road were destroyed.

The nails and their five children were not at home.

Gov. Allan Shivers' office, in cooperation with the Red Cross, began a survey of business damaged in Friday's storms. The survey is being made so a request might be made to the Small Business Administration for disaster loans.

Along the Rio Grande, another big rise headed down the river toward the reservoir behind Falcon Dam.

A crest of 10 feet above normal was expected at Laredo Sunday morning. The water came from heavy rains in the Devil's River area above Del Rio.

Ficon Lake rose one foot last week and stood at 80 feet depth, compared to the low of 66 feet it reached last April 8. It still is about half as full as it was last November when it reached its highest point to date.

Train Wreck At Childress

CHILDRESS, Tex., May 1 (AP)—A passenger train rammed into the rear of a halted freight train six miles east of Childress during a heavy fog today. No one was hurt but there was considerable damage to the freight.

C.J. Lyons, Childress agent for the Fort Worth and Denver, said the Amarillo-to-Fort Worth passenger train rammed a freight train, demolishing the latter's caboose, heavily damaging the second car and knocking the third partially off the track.

The diesel pulling the passenger train was bashed in but the train returned to Childress under its own power, Lyons said. Otherwise there was no damage to the passenger train. The track was not torn up.

Ed Worthen of Wichita Falls, engineer of the passenger train, said the fog had reduced visibility to a point where he could not stop in time although the crew of the freight was believed to have stopped because several of its cars had become disconnected.

RESTRICTIONS ON U.S. TROOPS IN ASIA SEEN

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) predicted today that the House will place restrictions on the use of American troops in combat zones despite President Eisenhower's opposition.

In making this prediction Vorys, a senior member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, was not stating his own views on the restrictions. But he said pressure is so strong that the committee will be obliged to insert some form of restrictive clause in the foreign aid bill or else amendments will be made on the floor.

The committee is expected to send the bill to the House later this month. It provides for 3½ million dollars in foreign aid.

The House last week defeated, 214 - 37, an appropriations bill amendment by Rep. Coudert (R-NY) barring the use of new military funds to support troops in combat in any country the United States is not required by treaty to defend, without prior congressional approval. This would include Indochina.

Rep. Bennett (R-Mich) has offered a resolution designed to prohibit the sending of U.S. troops to Indochina "without prior approval and consent of Congress."

Two Republican senators, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey and Ferguson of Michigan, strongly opposed these restrictive measures in separate interviews and said they knew of no similar moves in the Senate.

A third republican, Sen. Flanders of Vermont, said the idea of direct U.S. intervention in Indochina is unpopular in Congress, but he said this country and the United Nations may be forced to act if the Communists threaten to overrun Indochina.

"We can't pass off all our dangers and troubles to our children and grandchildren," Flanders said. "We must face them."

TREAT FOR LUCKY TOURISTS HERE, BUT NONE STOPS

The chamber of commerce tourist development committee had bad luck Friday in its attempt to stop tourists here.

The committee, which will stop a car of tourists coming through here on U.S. Highway 180 each week and give them the "treatment," waited for two hours Friday but did not find a car of tourists they could show around the town.

The group this time tried the west highway in an attempt to catch tourists heading east, but it found that few tourists are headed in that direction at this time of year. One car was stopped, but the New York couple in the car, was in a rush to get to Tennessee and could not spend any time here.

The tourist courtesy plan calls for providing motel accomodations, a meal, car service, entertainment, and a tour of the city and area. All of it is free through cooperation of operators of motels, service stations, theaters, and cafes.

The group had stopped a couple several days ago on the east highway, where many cars are coming into Snyder. Most of the tourists through here at this time of the year are those from eastern states headed west on vacation. The committee will try again this week, this time on the east highway.

Fishing Slim On Lake During Opening Day

Many who attended the opening of fishing at Lake J. B. Thomas yesterday reported that fishermen there were catching only a few small fish.

Several fishermen from Snyder made similar reports, some stating that they fished until noon yesterday and caught no fish at all.

Joe Pickle, editor of the Big Spring Herald, said Big Spring fishermen were making similar reports.

Pickle said that about 600 persons were present at the lake at noon yesterday, but more were arriving.

Dulles Will Leave Monday For The U. S.

GENEVA, May 1 (AP)—East-West negotiations for setting up peace talks on Indochina entered a decisive phase tonight as U.S. Secretary of State Dulles prepared to leave Monday without having exchanged a word with Red China's foreign minister Chou En-lai.

Representatives of the Big Four, North and South Korea and Red China met for 2 hours this afternoon on Korea. Asst. U.S. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson described the discussions as "an informal exchange of views" and said no decisions were reached. He added that the group probably would meet again on a later date.

The seven-nation parley was decided upon this morning at a meeting of the 16 nations which fought in Korea. The conference has been unable to reach any agreement on unification of Korea.

Dulles met with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov on the proposals by the United States to establish a pool of atomic materials for peaceful purposes. It was the second such meeting this week.

A communique issued by the U.S. delegation indicated no conclusions had been reached. The communique said a reply to an earlier American note handed over by Molotov at the first meeting with Dulles will be studied further in Washington.

Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Quoc Dinh was on the outskirts of Geneva prepared to discuss with the Western Big Three statesmen the delicate diplomatic problem of seating Viet Nam representatives at the same table with representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh regime.

Bao Dai, Vietnamese chief of state, has insisted that any formula for calling or accomplishing the peace parley which gives national recognition to his Vietminh enemies will be rejected. He has agreed in principal to meeting with the Vietminh in an effort to stop the bloodshed in Viet Nam.

Dinh began his discussions on procedure at St. Julien, just across the border from Geneva in France, with Marc Jacquet, French minister for the affairs of the Associated States. A spokesman for Dinh said invitations to the Ho Chi Minh regime must not imply recognition of a Vietminh government.

The spokesman for Dinh said he had been invited to come to Geneva to discuss procedure by the Big Three. He was waiting at St. Julien for an appointment with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at the latter's villa.

He was expected to confer briefly with Bidault and then have talks with all Big Three representatives.

Dinh's spokesman said the difficulty over invitations to the conference dates back to the final communique of the Berlin conference. The term "interested states" was used by the Big Four in discussing the composition of the conference on Indochina.

If invitations are issued on this basis with explicitly stating the Vietminh status, it will be interpreted throughout Asia as recognition of the Vietminh regime as a state, the spokesman said.

Dulles, after meeting with Molotov to discuss again the atomic pool, went to the lakeside villa of his French colleague for lunch with Bidault and Lord Reading, undersecretary of state in the British Foreign Office.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden dropped in for a brief talk with the other guests before lunch.

More Announce As Deadline Draws Close

As the deadline for filing as candidates in the state democratic primary nears George Mahon; congressman, and C. F. Sentell, state representative, have filed as candidates for re-election.

Harold Bennett, county Democratic chairman, said the incumbents filed last week.

Mahon, of Lubbock, is representative to the Congress of the United States from the 19th congressional district of Texas.

Sentell served in the legislature from 1917 to 1921, and served as Scurry County attorney from 1922 to 1926. He is opposed in this race by Robert R. Patterson, 42, also a Snyder lawyer.

Sentell was elected to the post two years ago when he defeated N. C. Outlaw, Post.

No other candidates have filed for the national office with the county democratic chairman.

Only other newly announced candidate for an office which must file officially in Scurry County is Cecil C. Collins, candidate for associate justice of the court of civil appeals for the 11th judicial district of Texas.

More announcements are expected over the week end before the deadline tomorrow night.

OFFICIAL FILING FOR STATE OFFICE SEEKERS

By The Associated Press

Senior U.S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and Gov. Allan Shivers formally filed for places on the July 24 Democratic primary ballot Saturday.

Their intentions to seek reelection—Shivers for a third term, Johnson for a second term—were made known earlier.

Republicans who will also have a statewide primary July 24 were holding out until Monday to announce their slate of candidates. Chairman Alvin Lane said the GOP would enter candidates for U.S. senator, governor, congressmen at large and others.

The deadline for filing and paying the necessary fees is midnight Monday. The State Democratic headquarters at Austin will stay open until that hour.

There was no word from House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt on his plans. Probability of Senterfitt's making the race for governor dropped when Shivers announced, but some political pros still insisted he would get in the race.

Attorney Ralph Yarborough of Austin announced this week he would oppose Shivers. It will be his second try to unseat the governor.

White had not yet filed an application for a place on the ballot for reelection as agriculture commissioner.

Johnson made no statement in connection with his application. He gave his age as 45, occupation as U. S. Senator, mailing address Johnson City, Blanaco County, Tex.

While Johnson's only opponent thus far, Rep. Dudley Dougherty, Beeville, started a radio-television talkathon campaign, the senator had no immediate plans for campaigning. His office in Washington said he would be too busy as Senate minority leader to return to Texas for a speaking tour.

Johnson was expected to step up his radio reports to the people and otherwise keep himself before the public, however.

Shivers announced speaking engagements in Cleburne Sunday at the Johnson County Centennial Celebration; Monday at Nacogdoches for the city's 175th anniversary festival.

Other political developments:

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert announced that Texas has a voting strength this year of 1,863,619, nearly half a million under the record-breaking 2,337,618 in 1952.

State Sen. Crawford Martin announced at Hillsboro he would be a candidate for reelection.

C. T. Johnson, Austin, candidate for lieutenant governor, said at El Paso that the state government isn't moving fast enough on the water conservation problem. Johnson continued a statewide tour, hoping to speak in every county in Texas before the end of July.

McCARTHY WANTS MORE SPEED DURING PROBE

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD), hunting ways to speed up the McCarthy-Pentagon dispute, said today he may restate the issues in the angry controversy in an effort to keep questioning to the point.

The acting chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said he felt such a restatement might expedite matters. He said he felt there had been a tendency of all concerned to drift away from the basic questions.

The subcommittee is to resume its televised hearings on Monday, with secretary of the Army Stevens called back for further questioning. He has been in the witness chair off and on since the first day, April 22.

Sen. Mundt threw cold water on the idea of calling Sen. McCarthy as the next witness after Stevens.

The Army's special counsel, Joseph N. Welch, said yesterday that in the interest of expediting the proceedings he was willing to have McCarthy follow Stevens rather than going ahead with the presentation of the Army's case.

However, Mundt said he and Ray H. Jenkins, the subcommittee's special counsel, agreed that it would be better for the Army to complete presentation its side before evidence was taken from McCarthy and his aides.

Mundt said Jenkins felt that calling McCarthy immediately after Stevens would result in delaying the hearings. He emphasized that Jenkins did not mean that Welch had made his proposal with that in mind.

McCarthy said yesterday he would be available to take the witness chair at any time.

Mundt was asked if any proposals had been made to limit the testimony to Stevens and McCarthy, without having their subordinates as witnesses, in an effort to expedite the hearings.

He said some senators had asked him why the subcommittee didn't "get it down to two people," but he added that these suggestions had not come from "anyone with any authority or any knowledge of the case."

Mundt remarked that it sounded simpler than it was, adding any such agreement would have to be worked out by all the parties to the controversy. He said this seemed "very doubtful" to him.

In other developments, Mundt said the subcommittee expected to have from both sides early next week any transcribed notes they had on monitored telephone conversations bearing on the issues.

He said he assumed those submitted by the Army would include two telephone talks between Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams late last November about McCarthy's reaction to the possible removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commander of Ft. Monmouth.

He said these and another monitored call between Stevens and McCarthy last Nov. 7 should be "very illuminating."

Testimony Ends In Custody Case Last Night

One of the largest crowds in the last several years sat in the district courtroom yesterday and last night to hear the marathon child custody case of Peggy Nell Merritt vs. Glen H. Merritt.

The suit was continued late last night after witnesses had completed testimony. Taking three days and one night so far, it will be called back into court Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

At that time, final arguments will be heard and the charges given to the jury.

Everything imaginable happened during yesterday's proceedings. Two persons, one witness and one spectator, fainted, witnesses laughed and cried, and lawyers testified from the stand.

Judge Sterling Williams, during a recess of the jury, considered a motion filed by the plaintiff's attorney, Garland Armstrong, and placed Merritt under recognizance, warning him he would bind him to possible judgment of contempt of the court if he carried out a threat against Armstrong.

The threat was admitted by Merritt from the witness stand during the first day of testimony Thursday afternoon. Merritt admitted under examination by Armstrong that he had told his attorney, Eldon Mahon, and Merritt's father, Lloyd H. Merritt, ex-sheriff, that he (Glen Merritt) intended "to whip Armstrong in front of the courthouse and in front of God, man, and everbody else as soon as the trial was over." Armstrong at that time asked if Merritt still intended to do so, and he replied from the witness stand that he did.

Judge Williams asked Merritt yesterday morning if he intended to carry out that threat, and he said he did not. The judge then said he could not bind him indefinitely but that if Merritt would promise never to carry out the threat in any future time, he would bind him under recognizance bond for 30 days. Merritt so promised.

The jury had been recessed for this action and also for the court's questioning of all witnesses, except those previously excused, as to whether they had discussed the merits of the case among themselves in violation of "the rule" while waiting outside the courtroom.

"The rule" of all witnesses remaining out of hearing of the courtroom except while on the stand individually had been invoked from the beginning of the trial.

A dispute arose Friday afternoon as to whether several defense witnesses seen at a window in the ex-balcony of the courtroom had been eavesdropping on the court. Armstrong alleged they were. These were questioned, and they said they could not hear through the closed window. They were ordered by the judge to stay away from the window. Yesterday morning, during the recess in which the judge placed young Merritt under recognizance, Judge Williams lined all witnesses in the courtroom and again admonished them to refrain from eavesdropping, discussing the case with themselves or anyone other than the attorneys.

Following testimony early Saturday by Mrs. Juanita Moore of Snyder concerning "bad reputation" of the plaintiff, Paul Alton Jones, 30, formerly of Snyder, testified he had slept with the plaintiff while she was married and that they had intimate relations that night.

Jones said he and the plaintiff and Paul Trammell and Juanita Moore had associated together at a dance that night in a neighboring town. He said that after their return to Snyder, he and Paul Trammell went to Trammell's home with Mrs. Merritt and spent the night together while Trammell's wife was not at home.

Trammell later confirmed this testimony but said that he went to bed in another bed or on a couch and went to sleep. He said he had no relation with the plaintiff then.

Trammell testified under cross-examination that he was cited for contempt of court here once for failure to pay child support when he and his wife were separated pending a divorce suit. Armstrong alleged in mention of Trammell before he took the stand that Trammell left Snyder with a prostitute and was charged with wife and child desertion.

Jones admitted under cross-examination that he had twice divorced. Armstrong, in questioning him about his testimony that he had heard the plaintiff's reputation was bad, asked if he were not the type who liked to boast of being "a woman-killer" and brag about the number of women he had slept with and how he could "knock 'em over."

"Hell no!" Jones answered. Mahon and Judge Williams then admonished him to refrain from such words while on the stand.

A few minutes later, while Armstrong was asking if Alton knew the location of Trammell's house, Armstrong asked if it were not true that he did not know his directions there. "I damn sure do!" he replied, and the judge and Mahon again admonished him to refrain from such expressions.

Trammell testified that he was married and living with his wife at the times he had dated Mrs. Merritt twice.

The defense began its testimony late Friday with Mrs. Juanita Moore the first witness. She testified she knew the plaintiff's reputation to be bad because she attended dances and drank, but Mrs. Moore admitted that she too attended these and drank. She said she also knew the woman's reputation by hearsay but could not name any persons she heard discuss such except Trammell.

Mrs. Moore said Friday she had never discussed with anyone what her testimony would be concerning the case. Yesterday morning, however, she told the jury she had promised the plaintiff she would tell the jury that she was too drunk on a certain night at a dance to remember what occurred.

Mrs. Moore said yesterday that she had told the plaintiff that but that it was not true and that she was not drunk at that time. She said she never drank to excess and had never been drunk, adding that she could not drink much because she passed out when she did.

Mrs. Moore based part of her testimony on allegation she saw Mrs. Merritt asked Trammell "in a sexual manner" to go to his car with her. Trammell later testified they went to the car and drank but had no improper relation.

Two implications were made against Lloyd Merritt in testimony of the plaintiff Friday. She said he had given Glen Merritt about $1,000 in several gifts while she and Glen were living together and that Lloyd Merritt came to her once and asked her to deny these gifts if asked about them.

The plaintiff said the time of such request was during or about the time of a crime investigating committee hearing in Amarillo concerning bootlegging by syndicates and alleged pay-offs to officers. She quoted Lloyd Merritt as telling her that knowledge of such gifts might cause him some trouble. He was sheriff here at that time.

(Merritt was mentioned several times at the hearing, conducted in 1952 by members of the state legislature, and some former bootleggers of Snyder testified they had received information he had been bribed.)

Another reference to the older Merritt's actions was made when Armstrong asked the plaintiff if it were not true that "Glen had the character of his father before him to take the law in his own hands." She said he did, and Armstrong said, "And the federal court at Lubbock bears that out, doesn't it?" She answered it did. (While sheriff here, Lloyd Merritt was sued for damages resulting from false imprisonment of Merle C. Allen, and in January, 1952, settlement of the case against Merritt and his bonding company was $1,000, which was paid in federal district court.)

On cross-examination by Mahon, the plaintiff admitted that she dated, while her husband was overseas, six men whom she named as Tommy Pherigo, Bill Smedley, Bob Norred, Eugene Maupin,

Marathon Trial In District Court Here

Paul Trammell, and Joe Mathis. She said she dated Mathis more than the others.

Mahon asked if she ever left a note to Mathis on the door of her apartment while gone, and she said she had no recollection of such. She identified the note when Mahon handed it to her, admitting it was written by her. She read it to the jury.

"Joe, if you come back tonight, come on in and stay. I'll be back in the morning with the baby."

She also testified she paid considerable amounts of the expense incurred while dating the men and that these amounts were from funds sent her by Glen and by the government in her allotments.

Asked whether Jones or Trammell ever spent the night with her at her apartment, she said, "No."

Testifying Friday for the good character of the plaintiff and her parents were Mrs. Jess Van Norman, Joe W. Smith, L. A. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Kennedy, and others, all of Ira. Several other neighbors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis, gave similar testimony earlier.

Defense testimony against the plaintiff's reputation was given also by Bill Smedley, 109 Browning Street, who said he once drove her and one of Glen's sisters and Mrs. Merritt's baby to Sweetwater at night.

He said he did not know the plaintiff until that night when she followed him in Lloyd Merritt's pickup until he stopped his car and met her here in Snyder. He said nothing improper was done but that he never told his wife or anyone else of the incident.

He said he had heard from several sources that the plaintiff's reputation was bad but he could name none of the persons whom he had heard.

Norman Whittenburg of Snyder testified he knew her character was bad because he saw her drinking once at the Star Night Club, subsequent to the six-month period it was under his operation. He said he could not name or remember any of the numerous other persons there at that time, several drinking.

Asked how he remembered her in particular, he said he was interested in her "because I'm a man like anyone else." He said he had never dated her.

He said he saw her one other time at a dance in Sweetwater and that she went to a car with a man. He said he based most of his opinion as to her reputation on what he had heard others say, but he refused to name any of them. "I wish not to call their names or bring them into this." He made this and several other similar statements after he had named Maupin as one of them.

Armstrong asked why he named Maupin, whom he described as a good friend, and refused to name others. "He's the only one of them who went with her," he answered.

J. E. Trunzler, 2301 Avenue O, testified that he resided in the Canary Courts at the same time as did Mrs. Peggy Nell Merritt. He said he had seen visitors at her apartment there frequently, both male and female. The only visitor he named was "Bull" Early. He said he had heard discussion about Mrs. Merritt's chastity and that from that talk he considered her reputation "not favorable."

Armstrong asked Trunzler if he had ever heard Early discuss Mrs. Merritt's reputation. After the witness answered in the affirmative, Armstrong said "You know such talk is typical of him" . . . that's why they call him 'Bull.'" Trunzler answered that such talk is typical of a male. "You did hear 'Bull' talk and brag about his winning ways with women, didn't you?" Armstrong asked. Trunzler said that he had but that he did not hinge his remark on Mrs. Merritt's reputation on Early's talk alone but on his and several other men's talk.

Edward Rinehart, who said he lived in Scurry County, told Mahon he had known Mrs. Merritt as long as he could remember and that he had heard discussion concerning her reputation as long as he could remember. He said talk had indicated her reputation was bad. Asked if he had had any relations with Mrs. Merritt, he answered, "Not since she's been married." He testified that Mrs. Merritt had called him by telephone since her marriage and made a date with him but that he did not keep the date. Armstrong asked Rinehart if he had dated Mrs. Merritt before her marriage, knowing her reputation, and he answered that he had. "Did you brag and boast about your winning ways with women?" Armstrong asked, and Rinehart answered that he probably had. "You like to boast and brag about it like 'Bull' Early, don't you?" Rinehart answered he did not, but Armstrong said, "You know that is typical of him (Early)?" Rinehart said, "Yeah, I guess so."

Clint Floyd, Snyder man who was in the Marine Corps in California at the same time Merritt was serving there, testified that he had been in Merritt's home there one time. On that occasion, only he, Mrs. Merritt, and Mrs. Ted Williams, wife of another Snyder man, were in the apartment and the husbands of the two women were on the Marine base, he said. He said he remained all night at the apartment and had relations during the night with Mrs. Merritt. He said they were drinking and having a party, that Merritt and Williams were not there during the night.

Mrs. Martha Spittle, who operated the Canary Courts during a part of the time Mrs. Merritt lived there, and Mrs. Merritt had male and female visitors frequently. She testified she had seen Mrs. Merritt leave her apartment with men several times, on one occasion three men at one time, along with the Merritt child. Mrs. Merritt had telephone calls quite often by men, Mrs. Spittle said, explaining that she (Mrs. Spittle) answered the telephone at the courts when she was at home. She said there were many complaints by tenants at the court concerning Mrs. Merritt's conduct. She added that she told Mrs. Merritt once there were stories circulating about her and that she did not think them good for Mrs. Merritt or the courts. She testified that Mrs. Merritt cried and said none of the stories were true, but she added that conditions became worse after that time. She called Mrs. Merritt's reputation bad, based on the discussion she had heard.

Mrs. Spittle was questioned as to the child's health, and she answered that the child had had bad colds several times. She said Mrs. Merritt asked her help once in giving the child medication for a cold, and that she aided her. Armstrong asked Mrs. Spittle if she knew very many of Mrs. Merritt's relatives, and she answered negatively. He asked then if she would have known whether callers at Mrs. Merritt's cabin were relatives or friends, and she answered that she would not.

Shirley Floyd, who said she was the niece of Lloyd Merritt, father of Glen Merritt, testified of three times Mrs. Merritt spent the night with men other than her husband. She told of one time when she was with Mrs. Merritt and the child when they drove to Big Spring. They stopped at a service station when three boys, one of them a soldier, were following them. The boys also stopped, she said, and Mrs. Merritt asked how to get to the scenic drive there. Miss Floyd said they then drove to the scenic drive, with the boys following, and that Mrs. Merritt parked the pickup in which they were riding. She said Mrs. Merritt then got into the car with the boys, leaving her with the child, and spent the night in that car. The next morning, she said, they returned to Snyder.

On another night, Miss Floyd said, they had been in Big Spring and that two boys returned from there with them to Mrs. Merritt's apartment at the Canary Courts. She said she (Miss Floyd) spent the night in the kitchen while Mrs. Merritt spent the night in another room in bed with the two boys. She testified that the child was in another bed in the same room with the three. Another time was under simiar circumstances, Miss Floyd said, when she and Jeanette Merritt, daughter of Lloyd Merritt, remained in the kitchen while Mrs. Merritt was in bed with two boys for about two hours.

Miss Floyd said that Mrs. Merritt had never threatened her if she told what had happened but that "she told us what she would do to girls if they told."

Mrs. Belma Davis, 801 Twenty-ninth Street, testified yesterday afternoon that she was baby-sitter for the plaintiff on nine occasions, on one of which she kept the child all night and until 11:30 the next morning. Most of the times she kept the child from about 7:30 p.m., until about midnight or 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, she said.

Mrs. Davis also testified of keeping the child on the night of last June 2 until about 1 or 2 o'clock the morning of the third when the plaintiff's sister came for the child, saying its mother had been in a wreck at Big Spring.

The wreck had been mentioned several times in the trial and admitted by the plaintiff who said she was with Joe Mathis and others at the time. Mahon presented a newspaper account of the accident in Friday's testimony. It was from the Big Spring Daily Herald of June 3.

Jeanette Merritt testified yesterday, following the testimony of Shirley Floyd, which she confirmed. The Merritt girl told of going to the Canary Court apartment of the plaintiff on another occasion and that her sister-in-law, the plaintiff, came to the door in only a thin nylon gown and housecoat. She said there were two men in the bed at that time and that it was noon about three days before school recessed for last summer.

Mrs. Lloyd Merritt told the court that if her step-son, Glen Merritt, was awarded custody of the child she would care for it as if it were her own. She said she had been to the Davis home on three occasions, at one time telling Davis the Merritts could file charges against Mrs. Glen Merritt "for the way she had been doing," but that they did not want to hurt the couple's baby.

Lloyd Merritt told of his and Glen's going to the Locke residence for the child. He said there was no physical violence during that visit but that the younger Mrs. Merritt refused to permit Glen to take the child. The child was taken by Glen anyhow he said, but not by force. Twice during his time on the stand, which amounted to more than an hour, Merritt broke down. He also laughed at times. Armstrong mentioned Merritt's laughing and crying, and Merritt said the court was "like a circus." Four letters written to Lloyd Merritt by Glen Merritt while Glen was in Korea were read to the court by Mahon. In one of the letters, Glen had said, "I think Peg has flew the coop."

Armstrong asked Merritt, as a former sheriff here, what right he thought he and Glen had in taking law into their own hands and taking the child from Glen's wife. Merritt answered that he did not think that was taking the law into their own hands, that he was only with Glen when the incident occurred.

Mahon then placed Armstrong on the stand and inquired about a telephone conversation between the two attorneys on April 16. Under Mahon's questioning, Armstrong testified that he had told Mahon this lawsuit had become a personal fight between Armstrong and Lloyd Merritt. Armstrong said Lloyd Merritt had got himself into it because he and Glen had made a communique threat on Armstrong, that Lloyd Merritt was "trying to run this lawsuit like he is trying to run everything else."

Mrs. Tom Pherigo told the court that she had lived at the Canary Courts a part of the time Mrs. Merritt lived there. Mrs. Pherigo was not married at the time, was divorced from her first husband, and was living alone with her small son. She said she had gone to the door of Mrs. Merritt's apartment at one time and that four men were in the apartment. One of the men was in bed with Mrs. Merritt, and they were embracing, she said. She added that she talked to Mrs. Merritt through the screen door, that she did not go into the apartment, and that she could not testify as to whether the two were doing more than just embracing.

During Armstrong's cross-examining, he inquired as to whether she was jealous of Mrs. Merritt because she had dated her present husband before the Pherigos were married. Mrs. Pherigo became very angry during that questioning, told Armstrong he had just the same as called her a liar on one point of testimony. When she left the stand and reached the door of the courtroom, she collapsed but was caught by several men before she fell to the floor. Immediately following that, a woman spectator fainted in the courtroom, breaking up the case for a few minutes.

Glen Merritt, placed back onto the stand, testified that during the incident at the Locke residence that he did not beat his wife, or twist her arm, that he only pried her arms loose from the child and took the child from her. He denied ever choking or beating her, as was brought out in other testimony, and he said he had struck her only one time, as was testified earlier.

During Merritt's testimony concerning the way Mrs. Merritt had dressed the child, Mrs. Merritt spoke up from her place in the courtroom and said he had just lied on the stand. Armstrong quieted her.

Mark Kennedy, who had already testified in the case, was called back to the witness stand after a supper recess ended at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Armstrong asked Kennedy if he had ever discussed the case with anyone since he had been sworn in and put under "the rule." Kennedy said that he had not, but that he did discuss it with "Bull" Early before Kennedy was sworn in as a witness. Kennedy said he asked Early whose side in the case Early was on and Early answered "the one that pays the most money."

"It was a witness for Glen Merritt in this case, wasn't he?" Armstrong asked.

"Yes," Kennedy said.

Next witness was Junior Austin King, second husband of a sister of Mrs. Glen Merritt.

King stated that Mrs. Merritt called his wife, her older sister, while Mrs. Merritt was with Glen Merritt in California, and that Mrs. Merritt wanted money to return home. He stated it was his wife's belief that Mrs. Merritt was distressed and depressed.

Mrs. King was the next witness. She verified the earlier testimony of her husband. She also said that Mrs. Merritt showed scars and evidence of beatings when she returned home about three days after the telephone call asking for money.

Mrs. King testified that she had never seen the Merritt child when it was dirty or unkept, and she said that if Glen Merritt said he had ever seen the child dirty it was not so.

Asked by Armstrong if she knew of a better home in which to raise a child than that of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. King said that she did not know of a better home.

Mahon was placed on the stand by Armstrong and they referred back to their telephone conversation concerning the case. Armstrong said during that time that he had told Mahon that if Lloyd Merritt wanted to make the suit personal he could make it that way.

Mrs. A. P. Wishert of Ira, aunt of Mrs. Glen Merritt, testified that Mrs. Merritt had given her the impression that she had the child's best interests at heart, that she took excellent care of the baby, and that she did not punish it cruelly. Mrs. Pherigo had said earlier that Mrs. Merritt had whipped the child too hard and that she severely punished the daughter.

Mrs. Merritt, back on the stand, denied most of the testimony against her character. She said Lloyd Merritt had ordered her not to come back onto his property. She also said that Glen Merritt had twisted her arm in the incident in the Locke home enough to make it hurt for about three days. She later said she had had no medical care for the arm.

Howard Gibbons, sheriff's deputy, was the final witness on the stand. He testified that he and other deputies had attempted to serve a subpoena on Eugene Maupin of Ira for Mahon's client seven or eight times, that he had closed his business in Ira and that they could not find him. He also said the sheriff's office had attempted to find Mrs. Joe Trammell, who was to be a witness for Mrs. Merritt, and that she could not be located.

Testimony Friday afternoon included the plaintiff's numerous allegations to the jury that her husband frequently abused her by slapping her, insulting her, spanking the baby when she was only three weeks old, and choking and striking the woman into a state of unconsciousness.

She said Merritt on two occasions slapped her after the couple had returned home from card games because of arguments over the way she played and insulted her because she couldn't play poker. In answer to a question by her attorney, she said such actions on Merritt's part were the result of his violent, ungovernable temper.

The most serious allegation of such violence was that Merritt slapped her during an argument while in California, then ducked her head in a lavatory of water because she cried. She said he then slapped her several times across the face, then choked her until her neck was bruised, then struck her with his fist, knocking her unconscious. She said he apparently carried her from the bathroom to the living room, where she was when she regained consciousness discovering that he was administering artificial respiration.

She said he then apologized and cried but that he frequently apologized for abuse and promised to refrain from such.

Her mother later testified that when the plantiff returned from California, she still had a bruise visible on her neck, which the plaintiff said was caused by his choking her. The mother, Mrs. John Davis, said this bruise remained on her daughter's neck for several days after she returned here.

On cross-examination by Mahon it was brought out that neither the plantiff's first or second petitions in the suit contained any allegations of this and other physical abuses. The plaintiff's attorney, on re-direct-examination, explained that it was her desire not to bring all these facts out until she was forced to by the defendant's failure to settle the case without such a trial. He said he then alleged all these facts in her third petition.

She also testified that the reason she did not report the abuses to officers was that she was ashamed to. She said she did not attempt to obtain depositions from witnesses in California because Armstrong advised her such would cost several hundred dollars, which she did not have.

Mrs. Merritt said her husband took her baby from her by force, throwing her to the floor of the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Locke of Snyder, after his return from military service recently. Also testifying of this were Mr. and Mrs. Locke.

All said that Glen Merritt came to the home and visited with Mrs. Merritt and the baby during an afternoon and said that he and his wife intended to be reconciled and return to California. The story was that he then stated he would go to the home of his father, Lloyd H. Merritt, and tell him of their plans. They said he and his father returned that night, however, and that the father urged the son to take the baby from its mother, which was done by force.

Their testimony was that the mother locked herself and her baby in the bathroom to prevent Glen from taking the child, but that he threatened to break the door open. Mrs. Locke said Mrs. Merritt then came from the bathroom with the child and that Glen Merritt shoved her into a door, causing her to strike her head against it, that he twisted her arm behind her until she was forced to turn loose of the baby which she held in the other arm. She said the mother was thrown to the floor, that Glen Merritt sat on her, knocked her head against the floor several times, took the child and handed her to Lloyd Merritt, who had been standing nearby.

Mrs. Locke said she urged her husband to get his gun but that he refused to do so. At this point in the testimony, Armstrong said: "He should have shot them both down then and there, and the grand jury would have no-billed him."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Locke and the plaintiff testified that Lloyd Merritt urged Glen Merritt to take the child by force on that occasion and made no attempt to stop the disturbance. Locke quoted the elder Merritt as asking the son: "Are you going to take that baby or not?" He also quoted Lloyd Merritt as warning him not to strike Glen during the scuffle for the child.

Jimmy Moran, New Orleans restaurateur and sports fan, poses in the outfit he will wear at the Kentucky Derby. The outfit, consisting of a white ermine coat, tie, and derby, is valued at $3,000 plus a few diamonds placed about his person, which according to Diamond Jim's appraisal tally up to about $150,000.

Not So Many Qualified To Vote This Year

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Nearly half a million fewer Texans are qualified to vote this year than there were in 1952's record breaking turn out.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert today figured that the total is 1,863,619 including paid poll taxes and an estimate of exemptions.

In 1952, the last general election year, the fever heat of interest in the presidential campaign even in the fall and early winter produced 2,337,618 estimated voters.

The general election itself brought the astonishing total of 2,075,946 votes actually cast for presidential nominees.

Harris County (Houston) was firmly in first place with the highest vote potential in the state this year. It reported 185,811 paid poll taxes with an estimated 36,795 exemptions for a total of 222,606.

Dallas County was second with 147,471, including 117,700 paid poll taxes and 29,771 exemptions by Calvert's figures.

Other large counties (paid polls and exemptions) included:

Jefferson (Beaumont-Port Arthur) 49,440 and 5,444, 54,884.

Galveston 31,667 and 4,218, 35,885.

McLennan (Waco) 26,978 and 6,290, 33,268.

El Paso (upper Rio Grande Valley) 26,545, and 5,212, 31,757.

Hidalgo (lower Rio Grande Valley) 24,387 and 2,731, 27,118.

Lubbock, 19,660 and 4,226, 23,886.

Rayburn Aide Takes Lawyers' Oath From Justice Tom Clark

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Dee Kelly of Bonham, an aide to House minority leader Sam Rayburn, recently passed his Texas bar examination but couldn't get home immediately to take oath there.

So, after giving the matter a second thought, he came up with a solution that gave his legal career a distinctive send-off. The oath was administered in the magnificent Supreme Court building here by a fellow Texan, Justice Tom Clark, The ceremony was in Clark's private chambers.

Kelly got his law degree a few months ago at George Washington university here. He worked for Rayburn days and attended night school.

Most of the workers—members of Italian Catholic Action—had attended Mass in St. Peter's Basilica as part of their May Day observance.

Concessions Handled By 1 Man At Lake

All concessions at Lake Thomas will be operated by one man, who is still in the process of completing facilities on the south side of the lake near the dam.

He is Ned Sanders of Big Spring, who is building his new home on the shore of the lake, where he and his wife will live while handling concessions there.

Sanders was open yesterday at his new store to handle customers for the first day's fishing activity at the lake. In his store, he will handle bait, groceries and fishing tackle.

The concession operator has 20 boats he will rent to the public at the rate of $3 per day, or, he said, he will rent them to persons getting to the lake late in the afternoon for 50 cents per hour. He will also rent motors and life jackets. The jackets or preservers are required for boaters on the lake.

Two cabins have been completed by Sanders, and both were already rented for the first days of fishing at the lake. Sanders said he will eventually have 12 cabins, but that not all of them will be complete this summer. The cabins will be only a few feet from the shore line when the lake is full.

Each of the cabins has a refrigerator, range, dinette, bedroom suite, air conditioning, and panel heating. "We furnish everything but the groceries in these cabins, and we'll sell those," he said.

Building Permits In State On Increase

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Texas building permit values climbed 24 per cent from February to March, the third consecutive monthly increase, the Bureau of Business Research said today.

Private residential building showed a 40 per cent gain. Additions, alterations and repairs climbed 43 per cent. Non-residential building dropped 8 per cent.

Mosquito And Fly Programs Planned By Health Unit Here

A fly and mosquito control program here this year is being planned by the Scurry County Health Unit with cooperation of the City of Snyder, but effective control will depend on individual control programs by all residents of this area, Dr. Hugh J. Stennis, health unit director, said.

Dr. Stennis said that plans have been made already by the unit and the city to spray all known pest breeding places, creeks, alleys and streets here this year.

"We started the mosquito control program, but it was interrupted by a rain, so we will have to start over," he said.

The director said that individual cooperation of all residents is just as important as spraying of breeding places on public property.

He said that open trash and garbage cans, many of which are still in use here, are ideal places for flies to breed. The city has an ordinance which prohibits use of open-type trash cans, but it has not been enforced yet because weather conditions were not conducive to fly breeding.

"A deadline will probably be set soon for the end of use of such cans or barrels, and they will all have to be replaced by cans which have covers," he said.

He said that removal of any cans, automobile tires, or other things which catch and hold water from all private property should be done by the residents.

"Any standing water is an ideal place for mosquitos to breed," he said.

Prior to the annexation of the colored section of town there were only about 75 pit toilets in use in the city, but there were about 100 pit toilets in use in the colored section of town alone.

"We check and treat all pit toilets regularly, but they are still a health hazard," he said.

Dr. Stennis urged everyone to cooperate in the clean-up campaign being planned by the chamber of commerce here.

If the city could be kept clean there would be practically no pest problem, he said.

Woman Robber Unable To Get Enough, Cries

DENVER (AP) — Frightened and waving a gun nervously, a woman robber asked her intended victim, Mrs. Evelyn Gracey, 30, to hand over the cash register contents in a small grocery Thursday night.

"If I give you the money, I'd have to close the store," Mrs. Gracey told her. "I don't own the place."

"But I need at least $5," the holdup woman persisted.

Mrs. Gracey offered a $5 bill.

"That won't be enough," the gun woman sobbed. She turned and fled from the store with tears streaming down her face.

Band Revue Is Slated Friday At Auditorium

The instrumental music department of Snyder High School will present its annual Band Revue Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Cloud, Jr., Gene Newton and Lynn Tankersly playing a Latin-American number, "Trombrero." The band will also perform an excerpt from the movie score of "Quo Vadis."

BE CAREFUL OF SNAKES WHEN YOU'RE AT LAKE

Rattlesnakes may be plentiful for some time at Lake Thomas, at least until increased use of the lake finally chases most of the snakes away.

That is the opinion of several observers here, who urge persons to watch closely for rattlers at this time of the year, especially since this is the first year the lake will be used to any extent.

The reason there are so many rattlers around the lake, reports indicate, is that the rise of the water in the lake has chased the snakes which formerly inhabited the area now underwater to points outside the water line. A few places in the lake basin were favorite hideaways for rattlers before the water was impounded, according to Nolan von Roeder, local snake hunter.

Von Roeder remembers several snake dens in the lake area, most of them concentrated in the rocky hills on the south side of the lake.

The snake hunter said he believes most of the snakes will be killed or chased away this year. When a person discovers a snake near the lake, Von Roeder said, he should kill the snake to help clear them out. The best way to kill out snakes, he said, is to catch them during the hibernation season, chase them out of their dens, then kill them. This time of the year, however, is when snakes are out of their hideouts much of the time.

Several residents here hunt snakes during hibernation, Von Roeder said. He explained that he and other hunters use a sprayer to spray gasoline into the den. That brings the snakes out, then they catch the snakes to sell them alive. Its risky business, but the hunters do it anyhow. They get 60 cents per pound for them alive. The value of the rattlers dead was not reported, except that several persons here said they would rather have a dead rattler than a live one.

Quick rises at the lake have caused snakes to be concentrated on one area. One person was reported to have killed five snakes in one day last year at the lake. Another discovered a rattler which had crawled into a bush to get away from the water, and the snake was waterbound.

Salvation Army Starts Drive For Donations

The annual fund raising campaign of the Salvation Army will be launched at a breakfast at the Hilander Drive-In at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Coke Williams is chairman of the advance drive, and he will be in charge of the campaign at the breakfast. Aiding Williams in heading the campaign are Weldon Kincaid, Clyde Hall, Olan Griffith, Jim Mixon, J. W. Phillips, John Boren, Riley Foster, J. H. Woods, and Phil Burns.

Solicitation will start immediately following the breakfast, and workers will try to complete the solicitation by Friday. They will turn in ther reports to Williams or to C. E. McGaw, chairman of the unit committee here.

The goal for the drive this year is $3,500. "This is necessary because of the increased need for help to people in our community," McGaw said. He added that the Salvation Army served more than 600 persons in the county during the past year, including lodging, meals, gasoline for transients, paying house rent, grocery bills, medical and hospital bills.

The regular contribution campaign will begin May 11. Many residents will work in this drive.

Ohio produced about 33½ million tons of coal in 1952.

Stiff Sentence Given Man On Bootlegging Rap

Aaron Crimm Hill, 34, of Anson, was arrested Friday night by city policemen, on a charge of transportation of liquor in a dry area. Yesterday he was fined $100 plus costs of $23.50 and assessed a sentence of 30 days in county jail when he pleaded guilty.

The arresting officers, Bob Crowley and J. D. Frith, confiscated 24 pints of whisky and two cases of beer.

Hill told a newspaper reporter that he had been convicted in 1947 on a charge of sale of whisky in a dry area.

More than 1,000 species of earthworm are known.

Soil conservationists are shown here in 1950 viewing the blue panic grass on the Raymond and John A. Smith farm in the Plainview community east of Snyder. The grass was seeded that year. This photograph was taken in September, after the panic had grown tall. It covers 4.03 acres of land.

Here, the Angus cows of John A. and Jeannette Smith are shown grazing on the panic Friday. The blue panic has just begun to grow this season. It had already provided two weeks of grazing for 15 head of cows, taken off April 15. Now, the Smiths say the panic will provide grazing for 10 head for the rest of the summer. Smith is shown with the cows here.

Scurry Farmer Praises Results Of Planting Blue Panic Grass

Recent rains have revived the hopes of all farmers in this area, and if favorable conditions continue there will be very few stock farmers caught in the next drouth without some acreage in blue panic grass, according to Jake Hodges, work unit chief of the local Soil Conservation Service office.

Hodges says interest in this grass has been increasing each year here for the past five year but that due to unfavorable conditions very few successful seedings have been made since 1950, when several small areas were successfuly seeded here.

One seeding of that year was on the farm of Raymond Smith and John A. Smith in the Plainview community east of Snyder. The Smiths, cooperating with the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, seeded 4.03 acres of blue panic that year. The amount of grazing produced during the drouth on that farm indicates the reason so many farmers are now trying to get some acreage of blue panic established.

The Smiths said the panic was planted on May 20, 1950, and it was not grazed that year. However, 600 pounds of cleaned seed were harvested from that acreage. In 1951 and 1952 six head of grown cows were run on the 4.03 acres from April 1 until frost, with no feeding other than what they got from grazing. In 1953 four head grazed the same acreage from May 1 to frost, with the exception of some two weeks in June.

Four hundred pounds of seed were combined from the patch, and the cows were never taken off. This year, 15 head of cows grazed on the panic from April 1 to April 15 and then were removed. They had been off the grass for two weeks before grazing again Friday, and the Smiths say the grass is ready for 10 head of cows for the remainder of the summer.

This planting of blue panic has so impressed the Smiths during the last four years that they have planted an additional 20 acres this year. This seeding is up to a near stand. The Smiths say they have found no crop which can stand dry weather and produce as much grazing as can blue panic.

Blue panic is best suited for summer grazing and requires a small amount of cultivation to make its best yields.

Sorghum Supports Set, Wheat And Cotton Due In Summer

The government support price for 1954 on grain sorghums has been set, according to Irelan Finley, manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office.

Finley said the price is $2.21 per 100 pounds for the grading U. S. No. 2 grain sorghum on total acreage.

Support prices have not yet been set on cotton and wheat. The wheat price will probably be set about June 1, Finley said, while the cotton price will be set in August.

On cotton, farmers who comply with federal acreage allotments will be allowed supports at the rate of 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a price figured for the farmer's product in comparison to the price paid for consumer goods. Last year the support price was 32.55 cents on 15-16 of an inch staple white cotton. The figure varies according to staple and grade.

Farmers who apply for loans on the support price rate on grains must get the grain in storage either in a warehouse approved by the Commodity Credit Corp. or on the farm. When the crop is harvested, he can secure a loan at the support rate less the cost of storage.

From the time the grain is stored until the date of maturity on the loan, if the market price becomes such that the farmer can profit by selling his grain and repaying the loan plus interest and storage, the loan may be repaid. Otherwise, the grain is still in storage at the time the loan matures, the farmer forfeits the grain as settlement of the loan. Interest rate on the loans is three and one-half per cent.

Loans on last year's wheat crops were to mature yesterday. Wheat loans on warehouse storage here amounted to $24,272.69 last year, while those on the grain stored on the farm totaled $840.67. Loans on grain sorghums matured March 31. Those on grain sorghums stored in warehouses were $17,020.58 here, while the total on grain sorghums stored on the farm was $285.98.

Loans on cotton are to mature July 31. Finley has no figures on those loans, since the various lending agencies keep their own records on those. Applications for loans on grains must be made in the ASC office. There are various approved clerks who make loans on cotton.

LITTLE CHANCE OF KILLING FROST AT THIS LATE DATE

Farmers now planting are predicting the date of the final killing frost of 1954.

Many farmers believe the last frost has already fallen, while a few predict that another killing frost will fall this spring.

The average date of the last killing frost is far past here, according to Oscar Fowler, county agent, who said the average date for more than 20 years for the last killing frost is April 3.

Fowler said the latest date he knows of a killing frost was April 27, which fell here in 1920. In 1928, the last frost fell on April 23.

PLANTING OF SEVERAL CROPS STARTED IN AREA

Some grain sorghums and sudan, as well as cotton, is being planted by farmers in Scurry County this week.

Some of the farmers, who already had their land bedded before the April rains began to fall, are taking advantage of the moisture now, planting all their crops. Some are getting their feed into the ground and waiting until near mid-May, when the ground is warmer, to plant their cotton.

If all the cotton which has been allotted to Scurry farmers is planted, there will be some 84,000 acres this year. Those allotments were given to 1,122 farms, giving each of the farmers an average of 74 acres of cotton. There is about 224,000 acres of total cropland in the county, so about 64.4 per cent of the county's cropland will be in cotton this year.

Irelan Finley, head of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office here, said that only five Scurry farmers had their land pre-measured for cotton planting before the April 28 deadline. Pre-measurement was only a service provided for the farmers who wanted to measure out the land where they would plant cotton so they would know just where they would plant. A sizeable number of famers, however, go to the ASC office and have their land measured on an aerial photograph with a planimeter. The ASC has aerials on all farms in the county. Regular measurement of cotton will probably start in June, Finley said.

The ASC head said there is some confusion among farmers here on the cotton acreage allowance in skip-row planting. He cited these two rules which will cover most cases in cotton planting: to be counted as idle, land not planted must be at least four rows wide, and it can be seeded to another crop if it is that wide; strips of other crops planted with cotton must be seeded at the same time as is cotton and grow throughout the growing season for cotton to be counted out as idle. Early or late crops planted between cotton rows will be counted as cotton.

Statistics on people who are more than 100 years old are difficult to evaluate, because exaggerated claims of great age often are made.

Grady Williams, farmer who lives east of town on the Roby Highway, was re-elected president of the Snyder Co-operative Gin recently.

Williams and Clarence Wade are the two directors whose terms did not expire this year.

New directors elected were F. L. Eicke and J. C. Sterling. They replace Clyde South and T. M. Pierigo.

New Co-op To Handle Mexican Labor Problems For Scurryites

A new co-operative has been formed in Scurry County by farmers and businessmen.

It is the Scurry County Labor Association, which will handle the obtaining of Mexican national laborers for farmers here.

C. H. Stahl, president of the Farm Bureau here, was elected president of the co-operative, while J. B. Turner, Jim Sterling, Frank Wilson, and Richard Hardee were chosen directors.

The new group has applied for a state charter and will officially begin operation when that charter arrives. Robert H. Poteet, manager of the Dawson County Farm Labor Association, was hired by this group as manager.

Poteet will come here after the charter arrives and set up a temporary office at the Snyder Co-op Gin.

Turner said that any person who wants to join the association, whether he be a farmer, businessman, or individual, is eligible for membership in the association. Membership fee is $10. Turner said those planning to be members could help get work underway as soon as the office is set up by becoming members at that time so the co-op would have adequate funds to begin operations.

The association will handle all work with the Mexican government in securing Mexican nationals for labor here. Turner said the group believes this can be done at a much lower cost through this association, operated locally. Formerly farmers went to Dawson and Howard County associations to secure workers. The Mexican government will begin permitting laborers to come into the U. S. May 10, Turner said.

The Mexican nationals must be provided housing and insurance on sickness and health while working here.

First Gift In Cancer Drive

The American Cancer Society drive in Scurry County got underway last week with the Altrurian Daughters making the first donation, Ed Bolger, chairman said.

Plans this week are for drive workers to make appearances before service clubs. The Rev. Ronald Hubbard is heading the speakers committee, Bolger said.

If there are persons in the county who wish to give memorial gifts, Bolger urged that they get in touch with him or Mrs. Houston H. Harte, chairman of the coffee committee. In past drives, memorial gifts have played an important part in meeting the drive's goal, he said.

2 Teachers To Vernon Workshop Yesterday

Ollie Peek, president of the Snyder Classroom Teachers' Association, and Miss Ethel Roberts, president-elect, represented Snyder teachers at a District VII workshop in Vernon yesterday.

Mrs. Maybelle McDaniel of Fort Worth served as general chairman of the workshop, attended by classroom teachers from 23 counties. Dr. John McFarland, superintendent of Vernon schools, was speaker for a luncheon at which service awards were made to local affiliate presidents including Peek.

Chamber's Ag Committee To Set Up Plans

Members of the chamber of commerce agriculture committee will hold their first meeting of 1954 at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Max West, chairman of the committee, said the group will discuss its entire program of work, especially the staging of agricultural field days. The field days would be held to stimulate interest in soil and moisture conservation and range management. Farmers and businessmen would parcitipate in those days, touring points of interest in this area and studying various phases of agriculture.

The committee has on its program to cooperate with all agricultural agencies, farmers, and ranchers in staging fat stock shows, rodeos, and other agricultural activities. Presently there is only one stock show here each year. That is the junior livestock and 4-H club members each spring. There is annually the Scurry County Rodeo, being held this year July 14-17. Scheduled for this year is a world champion junior rodeo, which will be held here Aug. 18-21.

Also on the committee's program is work with all agricultural agencies in practices of conservation and education for the future farmers and ranchers of the county; to strive for a broader relationship with farmers and rachers; to make a survey to determine the need for a livestock sales barn in Snyder; and to work with all agricultural agencies in flood control planning on the Deep Creek watershed.

Types Of Farm Loan Available Are Defined

The new unit of the Farmers Home Administration here, one which covers Scurry and Garza Counties, has a caseload of 196 operating loan borrowers, three farm ownership borrowers, and six farm housing borrowers, according to Joseph E. Box, new supervisor here.

Box said there had been three types of loans made in the two counties during this fiscal year, since last July 1. They were production disaster loans, economic disaster loans, and standard long-term operating loans.

Eighty standard long-term loans have been made, totaling $330,055, while there were 116 production disaster loans for a total of $228,020 and nine economic disaster loans to total $16,560. That makes a grand total of $574,575 loaned in the two counties by FHA.

Three other types of loans for farm ownership, special livestock, and water facilities are available through FHA but none made during this fiscal year here. No farm ownership, loans have been made since the beginning of the oil boom because of inflated prices on land and inability to secure required mineral interest with the land, the supervisor said.

The special livestock loans are available for stockmen hard hit by the drouth. These are to help them retain their normal position in production of cattle and sheep and to restock ranges where herds were reduced by drouth or economic reasons. There have been no applications for these loans this fiscal year.

Under the water facilities program no loans for irrigation can be made in either Scurry or Garza County because the two counties are not in the designated irrigation area. Farmstead loans for domestic and livestock water supply are available, however. There have been no applications for these loans this fiscal year.

New Supervisor In Farmers Home Adm.

Joseph E. Box, 45-year-old native of Hopkins County, came here this week to assume duties as supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration office.

With Box's transfer, the state FHA made several transfers when it abolished seven of its units and opened three new ones. The Scurry-Garza unit is one of the new ones, succeeding the former Scurry-Borden - Garza unit, which has been set up only a few weeks ago. Borden County has been changed to be included with Dawson County in the Lamesa office, Box said.

Box succeeds F. O. Smith, who came here as active supervisor in February. Smith will resume his duties in about two weeks at Brownfield, where he was assistant supervisor. Until February, the Snyder office was a sub-office of the Fisher-Scurry unit, which had headquarters in Roby. The FHA has now established the Scurry-Garza unit, with headquarters here, as a permanent unit.

The new supervisor came here from Madisonville, where he maintained residence while he was county supervisor for the Madison-Leon County unit, with headquarters at Centerville, since 1940, except for about three years when he was in military service.

Box has been in FHA work since long before the federal government took over. After attending high school at Sulphur Springs, he went to Texas A&M. He was for some time associated with his father in a farm implement business at Waxahachie. In 1935, when the Texas Relief Commission was established, Box was employed by the Texas Rural Communities in the program as a county supervisor at Edna. During the same year, he became supervisor of the Brazos unit, then from 1937 to 1940 he performed the same tasks at Kaufman.

The supervisor will move his wife here in a few days to his residence in the Waymar Apartments.

Tech To Try Again For Conference Nod

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Texas Tech, Oklahoma and probably University of Houston will be submitted for membership in the Southwest Conference at the spring meeting in Waco May 14, 15.

Texas Tech, long an applicant for a place in the league, and Oklahoma, which at one time indicated it would like to be in the conference, were placed on the agenda for the meeting of the faculty committee, governing body of the conference.

University of Texas submitted a proposal for expansion and the way it was submitted indicated Texas would ask for a vote first on Texas Tech then a vote on both Tech and Oklahoma, obviously the latter to be a doublebarreled proposal only if the first should fail.

Conference Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs said the agenda also would carry the line "consideration of any additional proposals for expansion."

Grubbs would not reveal what if any school wanted the latter on the agenda but it was reported that Baylor, staunch backer of University of Houston, while preparing to vote for Texas Tech, also wanted University of Houston submitted. Houston has been seeking admission to the conference since 1948 when the first official vote was made on Texas Tech's application.

Tech and Oklahoma were turned down last spring at a meeting in Fort Worth when they were submitted together. Each got three votes — Texas, Texas Christian and Texas A&M. Tech needs two more votes in order to get into the conference. Should Baylor come over and Texas, A&M and TCU stay with Tech, only one vote would be needed. It has been variously reported that Arkansas then would go with the majority, thus giving Tech a place in the conference, since five votes are necessary. Rice and Southern Methodist aren't expected to swing over.

First intimation that Oklahoma might want in the league came last year when a representative of the regents came to Dallas and "explored" the possibility of entering the conference. Nothing came of it at that meeting.

Texas Tech officials expressed delight over prospects of the school being voted upon separately. They have claimed that when Tech was submitted at the same time as some other school it hurt their chances.

Meetings of the faculty committee will be in the afternoon and night of May 14, with the windup session the morning of May 15. The conference tennis, golf and track meets will be going on.

Tennis opens May 13 at 10 a.m. at the Baylor courts and will run three days. Golf also opens the morning of May 13 and will be played in two days, with 36 holes daily.

Preliminaries in track and field along with the finals in one event —the javelin throw——will be held at 3:15 p.m. May 14 at municipal stadium. Finals in all events will start at 2 p.m. May 15.

STATE SCHOOLBOY FINALS IN AUSTIN THIS WEEK

Some 850 tracksters, golfers and tennis players move into Austin this week for the annual three-way Texas Interscholastic League meet.

At least 10 records appear likely in track and field with four of them overall in addition to being new marks in their class.

A glittering battle for the Class AA championship is projected among defending champion Sunset (Dallas), Baytown, Abilene, Pampa, Amarillo, North Side (Fort Worth) and even San Benito, with its one-man team—Bobby Morrow, who is due to win both dashes and might win the broad jump, too.

Sunset probably will be a mild favorite because it has a team apparently as strong as last year's despite the loss of its great shot putter, Carl Self. Eddie Southern, its star hurdler, should win more points this time than last season when he got 10½. Southern expects to win both hurdles and run on a mile relay team that should finish high. Sunset also still has Tommy Kelly, its state champion high jumper, and a couple of more point potentials in quarter-miler Allen Mayne and hurdler Luke Hale.

Baytown's strength is in the mile relay, where the Ganders should set a new overall record, and in the quarter and half-miles. Pampa is good in the sprints and hurdles; Abilene is well-heeled in the distance races, pole vault and hurdles. Amarillo has the premier discus thrower in Joe Irvin and a mile relay team due to finish high plus point potentials in the distance races. North Side's star is Jimmy Weaver, the state's top 440-yard man. North Side also has a couple of excellent relay teams.

Baytown's mile relay team has done 3:22.1 this year and the overall state record is 3:22.5. Irvin, who pitches the discus 170 feet, should endanger the overall record in this event. The record is 170 feet 10½ inches.

Andrews is the favorite in Class A track but Olney, Denver City or some other school could ease in with the title and cause no great surprise. Andrews' strength is largely in the hurdles with its Leon Chester and Gene Ellis and the state's top shot putter, Bobby Wright.

The Class B championship depends largely on whether Ken Hall of Sugar Land is ready to continue his wild scoring the third year in a row. Hall made 38 points in 1952 and 36 in 1953 and should do as well this time if a pulled back muscle clears up sufficiently. With Hall in top shape, Sugar Land will be an easy favorite to repeat.

Track and field will attract some 675 athletes. Preliminaries are scheduled Friday morning, a smattering of finals Friday afternoon and all other finals Saturday afternoon.

Golf and tennis play open Friday morning.

Dorsey Out Of Meet In Third

Joe Dorsey, Snyder High School's No. 1 golfer, was beat out in the third match in the Colorado City amateur tournament yesterday. He was the only schoolboy entered from Snyder.

He qualified with an 82 and was in the second flight. He beat Son Powell of Big Spring 3 and 2 and beat Grady Norris one up on the 19th hole. He lost the third match to Ross Dixon of Colorado City.

Last week he beat the No. 1 and No. 2 Colorado City schoolboys here by shooting a 36 on nine holes.

Sports Fish Making Comeback In Gulf

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Reports indicate Gulf Coast sports fish have regained the population losses caused by the severe freeze three years ago, the Texas Game and Fish Commission's chief marine biologist reported today.

Sports fishing has been only fair because of prolonged windy weather, but checks of various areas indicate the population comeback. Marine Biologist C. W. Reid said reports from the Laguna Madre area indicate red fish and trout have been restored in good numbers.

Indians Beat Yanks

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians swept their two-game set with the New York Yankees by whipping the champions, 10-2, today. A Ladies Day crowd of 27,325 of which 20,938 paid, saw Early Wynn hold the Bombers to six hits. This was the ninth time in 14 games that the Yanks had been stopped with six or fewer hits.

Jeffcoat May Make Switch Successfully

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The attempt of the Chicago Cubs' Hal Jeffcoat to make a successful switch from outfield to pitching mound recalls that many similar attempts have been made in the major leagues but few have succeeded.

The most widely heralded successful metamorphoses were the ones that turned third baseman Bucky Walters and Bob Lemon from mediocre batters into 20-game winners.

Jeffcoat's five-inning scoreless sting in his first mound assignment in spring training and his runless two-inning job in his first regular major league game as a pitcher prompted well wishers to predict he would be another Walters or Lemon.

Probably the most successful of all switches was made by Charles (Old Hoss) Radbourne who is best remembered by the real old timers as the man who almost single-handedly pitched the Providence Reds to a National League pennant by winning 60 games in 1884.

Walters, of course, broke in as an infielder with the Boston Red Sox in 1931 and after knocking around with indifferent success he switched to pitching in 1936 at the age of 27. His first year record as a pitcher with the Phillies was a poor 11-21 but three years later, as a member of the championship Cincinnati Reds, Walters won 27 games while losing 11. He wound up with 198 victories.

Lemon joined Cleveland as a third baseman in 1941. Inability to hit big league pitching caused him to switch to the mound in the summer of 1946. A year and a half later, he blossomed into a 20-game winner for the Indians. Lemon started this season with 140 victories accumulated in only seven and a half seasons.

Tigers Drop To Eagles 14-2

The Snyder Tigers stayed at the bottom and the Abilene Eagles at the top of district baseball yesterday when Abilene defeated the Tigers 14-2.

The Eagles ran away with the game in the first two innings, scoring three runs in the first and six in the second.

Don Harber was credited with the win. He started on the mound and was followed by three other hurlers. Alan Snead took the loss for Snyder, going throughout the game, while the Snyder team got four hits.

Ray Courtney, top batter on the Tiger team and one of the top in the district, got a double for the team yesterday. Tommy Pritchard and Tommy Falls each singled in a Snyder run.

Jim Baum homered for the Eagles, bringing in another run besides his own. Glenn Belew and Bobby Jack Oliver, top batters on the Abilene team with averages of more than .400, neither got a hit. Twyman Ash, however, hit 4 for 4 to bring his season average to .395.

The Tigers will play again at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when they host San Angelo here. They will clean up the season at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon with a double header at Wichita Falls.

Deceased Baseball Coach To Be Honored

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—The memory of the late William J. (Uncle Billy) Disch, whose record of coaching success in intercollegiate baseball is unparalleled, will be honored Friday.

A bronze plaque bearing Disch's likeness will be unveiled at Clark Field in Disch Day ceremonies preceding the Southwest Conference game between Texas A&M and Texas.

Disch, who coached baseball at Texas 42 years, saw his Longhorns win 516 games and lose 178—a winning percentage of 75.8—during his active reign. He served the last 12 years in an advisory capacity after illness forced his retirement from active duty in 1940.

For the entire period of his service, 1911-53, Texas won 29 of a possible 37 championships and shared two others.

Baylor Center Signs With Cleveland Team

CLEVELAND, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns professional football team today announced the signing of Jack Sisco, 220-pound center and former Baylor University star.

Sisco is the son of T. D. Sisco, former head coach at North Texas State College, who retired from coaching in 1945.

The younger Sisco, who was selected by the Browns at the 1953 National Football League draft meeting, has been an automobile agency salesman since his graduation from Baylor in 1953.

Dallas Wonders About Trade

By The Associated Press

Jim (Buzz) Clarkson, the slugging infielder who furnished much of the power that pushed Dallas to the pennant last year, undoubtedly is making Dallas wonder if it didn't miss a bet the day it traded him to Beaumont.

Dallas sent Clarkson to the Exporters in order to get a young, promising pitcher, Ed Konick. Konick may yet deliver but thus far he has been of little help to Dallas. Meanwhile, Clarkson is knocking the cover off the ball and has slammed his way into first place in the batting race.

The Negro shortstop is hitting a gaudy .415 with 34 hits in 82 times at bat. In second place is Jimmy Bragan of Fort Worth with .405.

Clarkson tops the league in hits, is second in home runs with seven and second in runs batted in with 25.

Ed Joyner of Shreveport has crossed the plate the most times, showing 21 runs. Ken Boyer of Houston and Ed Kazak of Beaumont have the most doubles with eight apiece. Joe Koppe of Shreveport tops in triples with three, Vic Marasco of Fort Worth in homers with eight and in runs batted in with 26.

Six pitchers have 3-0 records. They are Joe Kotrany of Dallas, Joe Kuncl of Beaumont, Red Murff of Dallas, Dave Hillman of Beaumont, Bill Tremel of Shreveport and Ralph Butler of Fort Worth. Pat Scantlebury of Dallas is the leader in strikeouts, having whiffed 30.

Fort Worth, besides having four players in the 25 hitting .300 or better, tops the circuit in club batting with .271. Beaumont is next with .270.

Chicago Goes Over Boston

BOSTON, May 1 (AP)—Fireman Virgil Trucks tossed a brilliant one-hitter at Boston today as league-leading Chicago defeated the Red Sox 3-0. Batterymate Sherman Lollar acacounted for two runs with a seventh-inning homer and ninth-inning single for the support the 35-year old fastball artist needed to gain his third victory in four starts this year.

Billy Goodman sliced a single to left field with two out in the sixth inning—the only thing that stood between Trucks and his third major league no-hitter.

Trucks faced just 31 batters in giving the White Sox their 10th victory in their last 12 games. He struck out eight and walked three.

The loss, fourth in a row for the Red Sox, marked the second time this year Boston has been the victim of a one-hit performance at Fenway Park. New York's Jim McDonald turned the trick April 19 in the afternoon game of a Patriot's Day doubleheader.

DETERMINE IS DERBY WINNER

LOUISVILLE, May 1 (AP)—Determine, a little package of dynamite from California, became the first gray horse in history to win the Kentucky Derby as he caught the front-running Hasty Road about a sixteenth of a mile from home today in the 80th running of America's horse race classic.

With a wildly screaming throng of 100,000 watching the $124,100 thriller, jockey Ray York put his pint-sized colt ahead of the 16 other 3-year-olds to drag down the richest purse since the Derby was inaugurated in 1875.

To owner Andy Crevolin, Alhambra, Calif., automobile dealer, went a $102,050 jackpot — $4,000 more than Count Turf earned by the 1951 Derby. Hasseyampa finished third.

This afternoon's race, with humid, muggy 80 degree weather laying a haze over ancient Churchill Downs, was sweet revenge for Determine. Four days ago in the Derby trial, Hasty Road beat Determine by a head as the Hasty House Farm's speedster broke the track record for a mile with a 1:35 clocking.

It seemed then that if California was to gather any Derby laurels this year, it would have to be up to Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, for Determine seemed a tired little rascal after chasing Hasty Road last Tuesday.

Correlation, owned by a Los Angeles oil man, was not in the trial, having won the Wood Memorial last Saturday in New York. Previously he had won the Florida Derby, so the crowd made him the 3-1 favorite this afternoon. Correlation, however, wasn't up to it on the dusty Down's racing strip, as he finished sixth.

A year ago when the great Native Dancer failed by a head to win the mile and a quarter race in Dark Star's upset victory, they shook their heads. If the Dancer couldn't, then no grey horse can possibly do the job.

But determined little Determine, who had won the Santa Anita Derby and five other stakes in California before flying here to lose Tuesday, showed them that this business of picking derby winners is no cinch.

York, in winning his first derby after finishing fourth on Phil D in 1951 and fifth on Arroz, another California-owned horse in 1952, gave Determine a confident ride and came under the wire a length and a half ahead of Hasty Road, greatest money-winning 2-year-old in history with earnings of $277,132. Hasty Road is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Toledo, O.

Hasty Road, who led from the start of the gruelling run, wound up two and a half lengths ahead of the third horse. Hasseyampa, owned by the Walmac Farm of R. W. McIlvain, Chicago and Lexington, Ky.

In fourth place, another two and a half lengths back, was Goyamo, owned by the Woodvale Farm of Royce G. Martin, Toledo, who is ill in a Lexington hospital, and Mrs. W. Alton Jones.

Determine, who was bumped in a jam created at the start by Hasty Road and Dr. A. L. Birch's Timely Tip, was second betting choice at 4-1, with his stablemate, Allied.

The Crevolin ace bounced home in 2:03 compared with Whirlaway's derby and track record of 2:01 2-5 set in 1941. Determine paid $10.60, $5.60 and $4.80. Hasty Road, fourth choice at 5-1 and also an entry with stablemate Sea O'Erin, returned $6.80 and $5.60. Hasseyampa, a 25-1 shot was $12 to show.

Tigers Over Senators

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP) — The Detroit Tigers blasted Spec Shea for four runs in the first inning and breezed to a 6-1 victory over Washington today as Steve Gromek limited the Senators to four hits in registering his fourth straight win.

A's Run Over Orioles

PHILADELPHIA, May 1 (AP) — Rookie Vic Power's line drive single to right center sent Don Bollweg scampering home from second base today to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 2-1, 10-inning victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Tariff Called For To Protect Oilmen

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The chairman of a Senate subcommittee on minerals and fuels called today for a protective tariff to help the oil, coal and other domestic industries.

Workers and investors in these industries are entitled to such protection, Sen. Malone (R-Nev) said. He added the oil and coal industries "do not differ from many other domestic industries which have a common import problem."

Malone explained in an interview that he advocates a flexible tariff amounting to the difference between production costs in this country—including wages and taxes—and production costs in competing nations.

"Just give American producers equal access to the American market," he said. "No foreign nation gives us equal access."

Malone would accomplish the protection by letting the present Trade Agreements Act expire.

In 1943, he said, the Tariff Act permitting the Tariff Commission to determine reasonable costs and recommend tariff rates was displaced by the Trade Agreements Act. Unless the Trade Agreements Act is extended by pending legislation, it will expire June 15.

"Let the Trade Agreements Act expire," Malone said. "Then the Tariff Commission could again act under the previous law."

Malone also expressed belief that Congress should continue the 27½ per cent depletion allowance given oil and gas producers for income tax purposes. He has introduced a bill to extend that benefit to producers of all other critical materials.

He said he does not believe that the United States will run out of liquid fuels "except by design" in view of this country's large known reserves of petroleum, oil, shale and coal. But he said it is possible that sometime in the future uranium fuels may displace some of the liquid fuels demand.

The Senate Interior Committee and the Senate Rules Committee have approved a resolution by Chairman Butler (R-Neb) of the Interior Committee providing for an investigation of fuel reserves and formulation of a fuels policy.

It would revive, in effect, authority held by the committee in recent years which lapsed Jan. 31.

Oil Co. Suit Filed Friday

ABILENE (AP)—A suit to prevent control of Condor Petroleum Co. from shifting to Bradley Oil Co., Robert J. Bradley, Virgil B. Harris and Lionel E. Gilley—all of Dallas—was filed here Friday.

Richard A. Hall of Albuquerque, N. M., filed the petition in federal district court yesterday. Hall is the eldest son of Ellis A. Hall, millionaire Texas and New Mexico oil operator killed in an Alaska plane crash last Aug. 17.

The suit says Richard Hall and two minor brothers, James E. and Charles L. Hall, own 1,105½ shares of Condor stock.

The suit alleges:

1. That after Ellis Hall's death the two surviving Condor directors, R. G. Piper of San Antonio and James P. Lockard of Scarsdale, N. Y., undertook to make John B. Fair of Abilene a director.

2. They prevented a regular stockholders meeting and, without consulting other corporation shareholders, sold 1,897 shares of common to Bradley, Harris and Gilley.

3. The latter three then attempted to assign these shares to Condor's competitor, Bradley Oil Co.

A temporary restraining order enjoining the defendants from exercising any ownership over the stock pending a hearing May 10 in Dallas was issued.

Application Filed To Drill Borden Well

Amerada Petroleum Corp. of Midland has filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill the No. 11-A J. R. Canning in the Diamond M-Canyon field of Borden County.

Location has been made 1,590 feet from east and 330 feet from south lines of section 119-25-H&TC, three miles west of Knapp and just west of the Scurry-Borden line. The drillsite is on a 2,784-acre lease. Contract depth is 7,500 feet.

Devonian High On Lea Well

Jake L. Hamon of Midland and Dallas No. 1 Federal-Davis, East Lea County, N.M., wildcat, about 15 miles northeast of Hobbs has found the Devonian high and has logged good shows of oil stain, flouresence and perosity in the section of that formation so far penetrated.

It topped the Devonian at 12,068 feet by samples. Elevation is 3,695 feet. The top of the Devonian is minus 8,373 feet. The project is now drilling at 12,080 feet. It will dig to 12,100 feet and take a drillstem test.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 13-17s-38e. It is two miles southeast of the Knowles (Devonian) field.

Top of the Devonian in Hamon No. 1 Federal-Davis is 370 feet high to the same marker in Amarada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Hamilton, the discovery well of the Knowles (Devonian) field.

Wolfcamp Field In Andrews County Gets Extension Assured

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 Elizabeth Armstrong, assured a half-mile north extension to production in the Andrews (Wolfcamp) field of Central Andrews County, flowed 60 barrels of oil in 11 hours on production test through a 24-64-inch choke.

The flow was through perforations at 8,632-8,647 feet.

Operator then acidized the formation throught the perforations with 3,000 gallons. The well kicked of and flowed out load. No gauge was taken on a new oil flow.

Plans are to perforate higher in the Wolfcamp section and test further.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2-A-46 psl.

Gas And Oil Shows On Well Near Garden City

Hunt Oil Co. No. 1 H. A. Houston, Northwest Glasscock County wildcat, 12 miles northwest of Garden City and about the same distance southeast of Stanton found shows of gas and some signs of oil in a drillstem test 9,140-9,232 feet.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in five minutes. There was no gauge or estimate on the gas volume.

Recovery was 1,380 feet of gas cut drilling mud with some shows of oil in some of the mud. No signs of water were reported from the test.

The prospector then deepened to 9,584 feet in lime and shale and it is now shutdown for machinery repairs. It is contracted to 11,200 feet to explore the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 2,029.5 feet from south and 663.9 feet from east lines of section 22-35-T-2-S-T&P survey.

Swab Wildcat Before Making 2 Zone Tests

Brahaney Drilling Co. of Midland No. 1 Acosta-Sunray, Southwest Borden wildcat, is swabbing to clean out and test on perforations in the Spraberry and in the Dean sand.

The Spraberry perforations are a 7,565-600 feet and at 7,630-680 feet. Dean sand perforations are at 8,050-085 feet. Those three intervals have been fractured with 8,000 gallons of sand oil.

Production gauges are expected to be reported soon.

The No. 1 Acosta has shown possibilities of producing in the zones of electric logs.

Tests of the Pennsylvanian reef through perforations at 9,030-040 feet developed a small amount of oil and some salt water. Those perforations have been squeezed off.

The well is three miles northeast of Ackerly and 1,980 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 8-33-t3n-T&P.

Contract depth is 6,600 feet.

Oil Well Completions Are Running Ahead Of Same Period In 1953

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Oil operators completed 492 drillings in Texas this week, producing 327 oil wells, 12 gas wells and 153 dusters.

The completions included 84 wildcats, 18 of which produced oil, none produced gas and 66 proved dry.

The new oil well completions boosted the year's total to 3,904 compared to 3,478 a year ago. The gas well completions raised the year's total to 442, far ahead of last year's 265 for the period.

Besides the new dry holes, plugs also went in 50 depleted oil wells and two depleted gas wells, raising the total plugs to 205 for the week.

Total average calendar-day allowable as of today was 2,928,498 barrels, down 186,965 barrels from a week ago.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 5, No. 1 | SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 2, 1954 | SECTION B

Ned Sanders is shown above with some of the 20 boats he will rent to pleasure seekers at Lake Thomas. Sanders is in charge of all consessions at the lake. At his store just west of the south end of the dam he will sell fishing supplies, baits, minnows, groceries and sundries. Sanders has also built two rent cabins near the store.

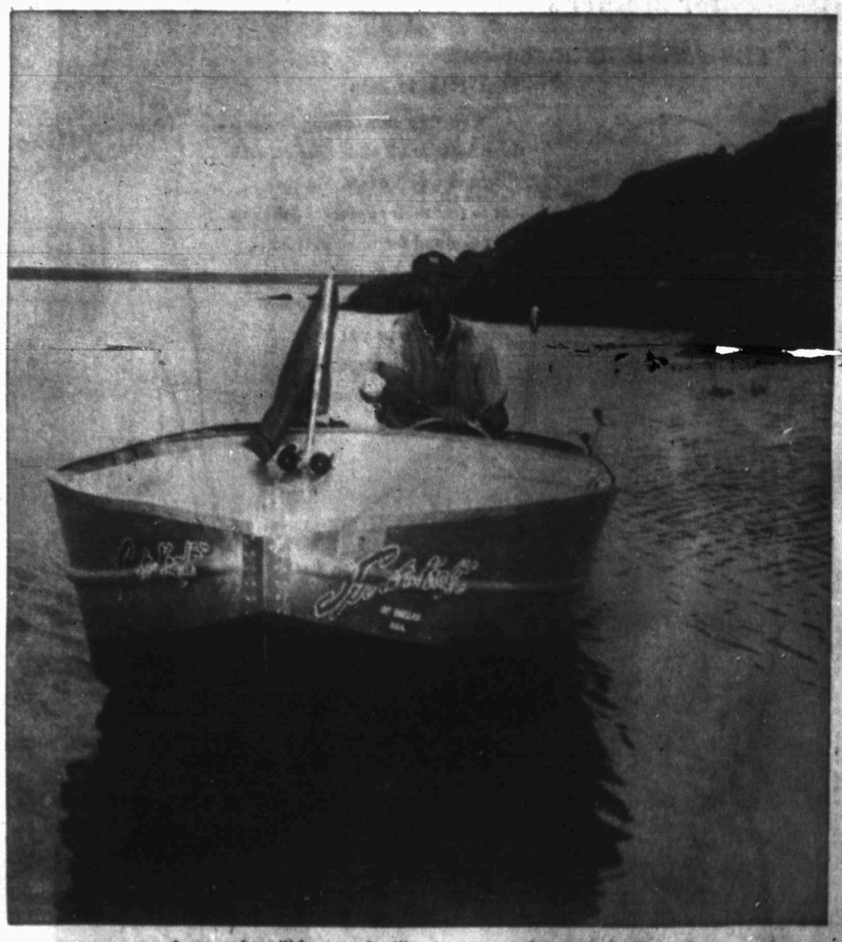
D. C. Bidell, left foreground, Big Spring, was one of the many boaters at Lake Thomas last Sunday afternoon. With him from left in the foreground are J. B. Bidell, son of B. G. Bidell, right, and Wesley Roberts, also of Big Spring. In the boat in the background are W. P. Davis, left, and his son Paul Davis. Davis is owner of the Motel 180 on Twenty-fifth Street in East Snyder.

The aerial view above of Lake Thomas shows the channel of the Colorado River above the lake full of water. The dam is at the far end of the lake. Oil well mounds, once hugh humps of earth, are now becoming small islands as the water rises. Rains west of the lake Wednesday added one and one-half feet of water to the depth of the lake and the water level now stands at 2,227.98 feet above sea level. Spilway level is 2,258 feet, 30 feet above the water line. Average bottom of the lake is about 2,190 feet above sea level, and the bottom of the river channel was about 2,175 feet. (Lee Watson photographs)



A man who will become familiar to persons who use Lake Thomas for recreation is G. A. Milliken, lake patrolman. He is shown with one of the Colorado River Municipal Water District's two power boats at the lake. Milliken said that each passenger in any boat on the lake must have a life jacket while boating.

american designer's pattern

by Joseph Halpert

The kind of difference which sets apart a seemingly simple dress and a very special one is Joseph Halpert's happy secret in designing. The dress illustrated above may be taken as a case in point. The white trim is cut and placed in such a manner that it gives a particularly flattering frame for the chest. The trim on the sleeves is just right to give the shoulder a crisp line. The pleated skirt has only one seam and is cleverly tapered to give additional width at the hem with no bulkiness at the belt. The original model was presented in checked silk taffeta. Less expensive cottons will make perfect summer frocks. Use white organdy or pique for an icy frosting. Size 12 requires four and three-quarter yards of 36-inch material for the dress and five-eighths of a yard of 36-inch material for contrast. To order the pattern, No. 1183, send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. S-13, G.P.O., New York 1, N.Y. This design is cut in the following Designer Sizes:

BUST	WAIST	HIPS	SIZE
34	24	35	10
35	25	36	12
36½	26½	37½	14

Janet Leigh's Contract Is Off, She Makes New Deals

By BOB THOMAS

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Janet Leigh is just as smart as she is pretty, as you can judge from the way she is handling her career.

The blonde beauty was in this Mojave Desert resort to help Martin and Lewis launch their new film, "Living It Up." I asked her at the Apple valley Inn for an explanation of why she is leaving MGM, where she earns $2,000 weekly.

"Look," she reasoned, "I'm grateful to the studio for what it has done for me. I want that to be clear. They gave me my start and have every right in the world to cash in on what they have built up.

"But I feel I have served my apprenticeship. I would be happy to stay there and work, if they had pictures for me to do. But they don't. In the past year I have been trying to get my release. Most of the films I have made have been loanouts.

"I finally had talks with Dore Schary and Benny Thau (MGM execs). I asked them if they had anything for me in the coming year, which is how long my contract will last. They admitted they didn't. They said they understood my side and talked to Nick Schenck (MGM top boss). He didn't want to let me go. But when he understood that I would continue doing loanouts, he said okay."

So after she finishes "Rogue Cop" with Robert Taylor and George Raft, she'll be free from her MGM ties for the first time in eight years. That doesn't mean she'll be adrift in the movie seas. She has already lined up some comfortable security.

"It made me very happy that every studio in town offered me a deal when it got around that I would be free," she said. "I decided I would line up some ties that would give me something to hold onto. I didn't feel that I had progressed far enough to go it alone. I'm no Jane Wyman or Joan Crawford.

"So I signed for one picture every five years with Columbia. I also lined up four pictures with Universal - International. Because they make more pictures than any other studio, they wanted to make the deal for a picture every nine months. That was all right with me.

"But with each deal, I made sure what my first picture would be. That was important. If they started me out with a big picture, it stood to reason they would take good care of me. For instance, my first at Columbia will be 'My Sister Eileen' with Judy Holliday. Obviously, they aren't going to sluff me off after a picture like that."

No Old Ladies Anymore, All Juniors Now

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

"There are no old ladies any more," says Howard Bloomfield of Cleveland.

This lanky Midwesterner heads a firm which has been turning out ladies' ready-to-wear for the last 50 years—longer, he claims, than any other dress firm continuously in business.

Back in 1940 the ideal of womanly beauty was the "perfect 36," and woman were not ashamed to be queen-size, says Bloomfield, but nowadays average American women wear size 14 to 16 dresses, and are rapidly reducing to junior sizes 11 or 13.

"I don't know just what has caused all this change," remarks the philosophic dressmaker. "I guess there are a number of causes, from the changing character of immigration to the influence of movies and television.

"Back in the '90s our population was mostly Nordic, and the women were big-boned, tall and well-padded in the Gibson Girl tradition. Later the tide of immigration came from central and southern Europe, where the woman are smaller, though stocky. A second generation has developed with the best features of their mothers and some new ones of their own.

"Today there are more perfect figures among American women than ever before in history. Women are getting smarter too. Instead of buying a size 40 dress, big women trim down until they can wear an 18. And the woman who used to be proud of being a 'perfect 36' now probably buys her dresses in the junior department and wears a size 13."

The thing the dress manufacturers are trying to impress on the buying public is that dresses are sized according to figure types and not to age. A grandmother may have a perfect junior figure, and find styles to suit her perfectly in the junior department. Says Bloomfield:

"We don't make any 'old lady' dresses any more. There just aren't any old ladies. Look at some of our modern grandmothers, such as Gloria Swanson and Mariene Dietrich. Can you imagine trying to put them into the shapeless kind of dresses that used to be reserved for older women? Their figures are as good as any 16-year-old could boast. They're smart, contemporary and young."

Church Vows Exchanged By Miss Rainwater, Mr. Newton

Double-ring vows read at 8 o'clock Friday night in the First Baptist Church here united in marriage Miss Wanda Jean Rainwater and Bobby Ray Newton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Rainwater, 1801 Thirty-ninth Street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Newton of Ira.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony. The church was decorated with four large baskets of white gladioli and white tapers in branched candelabra. White satin ribbons marked the pews.

An interlude of pre-nupital music was played by Mrs. M. M. O'Rear, organist. Miss Rose Marie Roe was accompanied by Mrs. O'Rear as she sang "Because." "The Lord's Prayer" was played softly during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white lace over tulle and taffeta, the skirt a full circle of lace cut in diamonds joined at the points. The fitted bodice had a deep-cut sweetheart neckline edged in a tiny tulle ruffle, and was decorated with a row of covered buttons from the waist to the neckline. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The bride's name was embroidered in pearls on the hem of the taffeta underskirt.

A lace-covered half hat outlined in seed pearls held the bridal veil of tulle. Lace medallions centered with pearls made a border around the veil. The bride's bouquet was of a single white orchid showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. T. T. Withers, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Buck Layne of Colorado City, the bridegroom's twin sister, attended the bride Mrs. Withers wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow taffeta and net and carried a colonial bouquet of aqua gladioli. Mrs. Layne's dress was identical to that of Mrs. Withers' in aqua taffeta and net, and with it she carried a yellow gladioli bouquet. Both wore tiaras of net to match their dresses.

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Wendell Autry and Miss Peggy Allen. They wore dresses of rose and orchid respectively, fashioned like those of the other attendents. Patsy Rainwater was flower girl and wore a miniature copy of the bridal gown.

Doyle Newton served his brother as best man. Buck Layne was groomsman. Ushers were Eldon Floyd, Eddie Don Floyd and Jimmy Layne.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Withers, 2706 Avenue I, followed the wedding. The bride's table was centered by the three-tiered wedding cake with the bouquets of the attendants on each side. Miss Bonita Lyons and Miss Allen presided at the table. Miss Blenda Stone registered the guests.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride wore a dress of navy salina cloth with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. The couple will be at home at 809½ Avenue I when they return.

The bride, a graduate of Snyder High School, attended Howard Payne College where she was a member of the Madrigal Singers, the Choral Club and the A Cappella Choir. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Ira High School, is employed at Republic Supply here.

Program On Fine China Given Here

Husbands are to be guest for a spring social planned by members of the Altrurian Daughter's Club at a Wednesday meeting in the Country Club with Mrs. Bert Dennis, hostess.

Mrs. Bert Dennis and Mrs. J. D. Scott presented a program on "China, Chrystal, and Silver".

There were fifteen tables set with china and one with pottery. Thirty-three plate-settings were of different patterns of Wedgwood and Spode. Haviland, Lennox, and other fine chinaware were also displayed.

Two color films, one from the Wedgwood company and one from the Spode company, were shown.

The first film shown explained that Josiah Wedgwood founded his firm in 1754 and made 10,000 separate trials before perfecting his first creamware earthenware. He is most famous for his unique, cameo-like raised designs on tinted porcelain.

The film also showed different ways of making china-molds, casts, and pottery wheels, proving that machinery has never been able to replace sensitive handcraft. All designs are made by hand. The artisans are generally descendents of original Wedgwood employes.

The second film showed that the Spode company was founded in 1770. It described some of the intricacies involved in the art of making china. "The better the ware the more it weighs," because the clay particles are packed more closely together, was a quote from the film. Making a platter requires more skill than any other table china. No machinery can be substituted for handcraft in making a platter.

The tea table was laid with a white cut-work cloth. A large milk-glass punch bowl encircled by pink carnations and white candy-tuft made a beautiful centerpiece. The ice in the punch bowl had pink carnations and strawberries frozen into it.

The social is to be a dinner at seven o'clock, May 12, at the Country Club with Mrs. P. W. Cloud and Mrs. Bill Atwood as hostesses.

Mrs. Harry Ward, president, welcomed the nineteen members and thirty-four guests present. Mrs. Manning Davis, a new member was introduced.

ROYAL FAMILY . . . Pretty Archduchess Sandi helps her mother, Princess Ileana, in kitchen of suburban home.

Hapsburg Royalty Subbing Nurse's Cap For A Crown

By The Associated Press

NEWTON, Mass. — Pretty Sandi Hapsburg wears her nurse's cap as proudly as her grandmother, Queen Marie of Romania, wore a crown.

The 18-year-old honey blonde daughter of Princess Ileana of Romania and Archduke Anton of Austria was "capped" recently at New England Baptist Hospital's Nursing School.

Her mother was the principal speaker at the ceremony which marks the end of the students' six-month probationary period. So the hospital invited her to "cap" her daughter, the vivacious burnette princess says:

"I was so pleased. I was an arthritis patient at the hospital for three months. Sandi couldn't have picked a better place to train."

Sandi, born Archduchess Alexandra of Austria, reports the nursing course much tougher than Vassar, where she studied for a year. But she says she enjoys every minute of it.

She prefers to be called Miss Habsburg—or any reasonable variation. She says:

"Some of the girls call me Happy Bug. And a friend of my older brother makes it Sandirella.

"When patients hear about my title, their attitude always changes. They become very polite, distant or embarrassed."

She much prefers the reaction of a plumber she met up with while at work in the hospital recently who said:

"Hi, Habsburg! I hear you're a duchess or something."

Sandi hasn't decided which aspect of nursing appeals to her most. Surgery interests her; so does child care. She majored in child psychology at college.

Her first nursing experience came when she worked in her mother's hospital in Romania when she was 12.

Princess Ileana did nursing and even surgery during the war years. She is dedicating her new book, "The Hospital of the Queen's Heart", to Sandi. It comes out in May.

The military hospital she built in memory of her mother has been taken over by the Communists along with the rest of her homeland. Princess Ileana says:

"The book has a background of Communism as I saw it through the hospital wards."

Fan mail from readers of her first book, "I Live Again", published in 1952, still comes to the rambling frame house in Newton, a Boston suburb, where she lives with her six children.

She recently has flown about the country to give lectures — 90 so far, she reckons. Her main idea is to bring home to this country what the Communists are up to. She says:

"The United States doesn't realize that Communism is a battle for people's minds and souls."

The Princess still finds time for the lively sketches she used as chapter headings in her first book. She also designed and painted a window in the little basement chapel at her home.

The children's interests are as varied as their mother's. Stefan, 21, is studying mechanical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Maria-Ileana, 20, called Minola, now visiting in England, has been studying art here. Dominic (Niki), going on 16, is at preparatory school. Maria Magdalena, 14, known generally as Magi, is keen on architecture and wants to go to M.I.T.

Her sister Elizabeth (Herzi), 11, who attends Notre Dame de Sion boarding school in Kansas City with Magi, has made up her mind to be a nurse or doctor. The Princess says:

"That's the wonderful thing about a big family. They're all so different.

Personality Key Should Be Reflected In Lovely Locks

By The Associated Press

Your coiffure should reflect your personality. This is more important than a modern hair style, says Charles Kasher, president of a hair treatment firm.

He explains:

"Few people could envision Mrs. Pandit wearing a poodle cut or an Italian boy style. Her coiffure reflects her temperament and personality in every fiber. It has a patrician vitality that belongs to her alone."

Kasher believes every woman should analyze her personality and before having her hair shortened or permitting her locks to grow to absurd lengths should ask herself:

"Am I the type?"

It is silly for the older woman to adopt ingenue hair styles, he says. There are variations of all popular coif fashions that might be suitable for her, and created to go with her own personality instead of that of her favorite movie star.

He points out that color, styling and cut of the hairdo vividly express the wearer's type when she or her hairdresser or both are aware of it. Maria Riva's long blonde hair is languid and all feminine, he says. It ties in with the husky romantic quality of her voice. Imogene Coca's shining cap of hair has a sly, humorous look with upturned ends that almost challenge a smile.

Socialite Mrs. Harrison Williams and Barbara Stanwyck are individualists in hair matters, according to Kasher. Mrs. Williams, he says, was one of the first women to add a blue tinge and later a pale blonde tone to her hair. Barbara Stanwyck's trim hairdo is a key to her style sense. Kasher says:

"The gray touches Miss Stanwyck now permits at her temples show that is a realist and an exceedingly brave woman. Very few Hollywood stars show their gray hair, no matter how flattering it might be."

Burnette and auburn hair is vying with blonde for popularity today, according to Kasher, who feels that the bleached blonde era is on the wane. But women who are meant to be blonde by nature or temperament should stay blonde.

Kasher sees Pier Angeli, Audrey Hepburn and Leslie Caron as other examples of the personality-hairdo theme. Pier's locks are perfect for her wistful mouth and eyes. Audrey and Leslie's locks are coiffed true to their gamin type. The dancing feet and rhythm of Ann Miller are echoed in her black curly tresses that have a spring and musical bounce to them, says Kasher.

MRS. PANDIT . . . Her coiffure reflects her "patrician vitality."

AUDREY HEPBURN . . . Her personality is revealed in gamin hairdo.

MARIA RIVA . . . Her long blonde hair is languid and feminine.

"Citizenship and patriotism, scholarship and loans, love of art and sculpture, car and fire prevention, play grounds and music, beauty in all aesthetic forms, club houses, trees and applied education, Red Cross and charity and encouraging every form of home demonstration work."

A capacity crowd greeted the most colorful and beautiful May Day fete pageant ever given in Snyder last night when Miss Katherine Northcutt was presented the Queen's Crown of Jewels by Miss Polly Harpole, 1928 Queen. Herman Trigg was the King.

The pageant, written and directed by Homer F. Springfield, was a masterpiece. Mrs. Hugh Taylor, chairman, with the assistance of the PTA and Mrs. R. L. Gray, accompanist, are due the highest congratulatory words possible to give. More than 300 public school children entertained the vast assemblage for more than two hours.

Space and time limit our description in this issue. It would require a full pace to do it justice.

Milk that is being sold in Snyder today by three dairies and has been labeled Grade "A" raw milk is NOT that grade, and there is not a single pint that should be classified higher than a "D" grade, which is considered very unsatisfactory.

This information comes from H. E. Hargris, sanitary engineer with the State Board of Health, who was here Friday inspecting the dairies. Snyder has an iron-clad Sanitary Milk Ordiance that should be rigidly enforced, and citizens will join heartily with Mayor Towle and the city aldermen to see that it is inforced and will back them up, as well as the city health officer, Dr. Griffin.

One of the greatest feeding projects ever attempted in Scurry County is now being conducted by L. O. Smith and Pierce Moffitt, who are in the hog buying game and up to this week have shipped five car loads of real hogs to the California market.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Mrs. CAROLYN REON was honored as Girl of the Year when Beta Sigma Phi sorority made its annual award Friday night.

It was turn-about for Mrs. Reon, a charter member of the sorority chapter here. Last year she presented the award to Mrs. AREL FAVER. The award winner is selected each year by secret ballot and the winner revealed at the Founder's Day Dinner. "Now I know how surprised Mrs. Faver really felt," Mrs. Reon laughed.

Mrs. Reon, a second grade teacher at the East Elementary School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. NELSON DUNN, 2907 Avenue J. In addition to her work with Beta Sigma Phi, she is a member of the Snyder chapter of the American Association of University Women and of the Snyder Classroom Teachers' Association.

She is president of the Texas State College for Women exes group which sponsored an appearance of the TSCS Modern Chorus in Snyder a short time back. That group, incidentally, got special mention in the college's exes' bulletin for the hospitality shown the visiting students. Mrs. Reon is a member of the First Baptist Church, where she teaches a Sunday school class for girls of junior high school age.

Also receiving awards at the Friday night dinner were Mrs. BILL BUTLER, Mrs. BILL LINE and Mrs. JACK SPARKS, who were honored as past presidents. Mrs. CLOIS HENRY is serving as president now. Mrs. FORREST BEAVERS touched briefly on the 23-year history of the national organization and highlights of chapter activities during the last year. Mrs. HOYT BYRD of Sweetwater was guest speaker, describing activities of the Sweetwater chapter.

JOHN MEIGS, whose paintings were exhibited in Snyder recently, will open his first one-man exhibition at the Grand Central Art Galleries in New York City on May 11. The exhibition will comprise 20 new watercolors of the Southwest, and is to continue through May 21.

Mr. Meigs' principal work was done with Peter Hurd, whom he assisted on the Pioneer Mural for the Texas Technological College museum. This mural is now on display in the museum. Mr. Meigs was the winner of the Southwest Artists' Show Watercolor Prize in 1952-53 and winner of the Whiteman Award of the New Mexico Cattlemen's Annual.

Mr. and Mrs. JOE AMASON, 127 Milburn, were hosts for a gathering of Mrs. Amason's brothers and sisters last week end. Considering Mrs. Amason is one of 11 in the family circle, it was quite a gathering.

Included in the group were H. E. Thomas of Robert Lee, Clyde Thomas of O'Donnell and Tahoka, John Snooks Thomas of Tahoka, Aubrey Thomas of Odessa, Clarence Thomas, Mrs. Magnus Klattenhoff and Mrs. Edna Pearl Sudduth of Lubbock, the Rev. Leslie Thomas of Stith, Tex., Miss Jessie Thomas of Wilson and Mrs. Ethel Kerley of Fort Worth.

It was the first reunion of the group since 1931 when they met at Richland Springs. Between them, they now have 58 children ranging in age from one month to 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Amason, who have celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, formerly lived near Sylvester and Noodle.

Perhaps the main prerequisite for a successful teen-age party is an ample quantity of food. Party cookies and cakes will be fine if your guests are all girls, but for a mixed crowd avoid dainty bite-size sandwiches and serve food which is filling and not messy to eat.

In keeping with the graduation theme, make diploma sandwiches. Cut the crusts from a loaf of sandwich bread, spread with filling and roll as for a jelly roll. Wrap each roll in waxed paper and chill. Unwrap and tie with ribbon just before serving.

This is an egg salad spread we like for this sandwich.

4 hard cooked eggs (chopped)
1 4½ ounce can chopped ripe olives
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mustard
1-3 cup mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients until smooth, then spread on bread slices. This will make 18 sandwiches.

A favorite of any crowd is chocolate cake, so make your favorite recipe, top with a white butter icing and chopped nuts. Cut large squares and serve on a tray lined with a paper doily.

Cool glasses of mortarboard fruit punch with a cherry in each glass complete the service. Mortarboard punch is made with two 12 ounce cans of apricot whole fruit nectar, one cup pineapple juice and one pint ginger ale. Chill and mix just before serving.

Or, for a more formal table, dip rosy lemonade punch from a bowl surrounded by miniature diplomas tied with gay ribbons.

ROSY LEMONADE PUNCH

1 six ounce can frozen concentrate lemonade
3 12 ounce packages frozen strawberries
2 tall bottles ginger ale
2 tall bottles sparkling water
Sliced bananas for garnish

Let the berries thaw and put through a sieve. Combine the concentrate for lemonade with the berries and berry juice and add ginger ale and sparkling water just before serving. Pour over ice in punch bowl. Float the sliced bananas on top of the bowl for garnish. Yield: Approximately 36 servings.

For an appropriate centerpiece carry out the graduation theme with scrolls, tied with ribbons, in a low floral arrangement.

Improvise a bulletin board from large poster paper. Tack up paper cut-outs of school pennants, honor keys, final exam books plus a few paper jackets from text books.

Attractive graduation favors can be made from pipe cleaner figures dressed in crepe paper gowns and card board mortarboards. Or, with little more trouble, you can make your graduation figures from tiny cupcakes, chocolate cookies, construction paper and pipe cleaners.

Cupcakes, baked in 1¾ inch muffin pans, make the faces of the doll. Eyes are formed by pressing the tip of semi-sweet chocolate pieces into the top of cakes. Features are painted on with frosting made from one-quarter of a six ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces melted over hot water, with one-quarter cup sifted confectioners' sugar mixed in to obtain frosting consistency. With the small opening of a pastry tube make the mouth, hair, and glasses.

Roll pieces of black art paper into cones for body; fasten at back with gummed tape. To make mortarboards use chocolate covered graham crackers or your favorite rolled chocolate cookie recipe cut into squares.

To put together, stand cones upright. Press cupcakes on point of cone. Push pipe cleaners through center of chocolate cookie mortarboards, and into cupcakes, leaving enough of the pipe cleaner to bend over edge of cookies to resemble tassel. Glue place cards on body of favors.

The molding of parts from powdered metal has become a 300 million dollar a year industry in the past few years.

Utah produced 6,390,000 tons of coal in 1953.

"BEATS A NEW BROOM . . .
For a clean kitchen"

SNYDER WOMEN YOU KNOW
COOK ELECTRICALLY!

MRS. MITCHELL F. JACKSON, 127 20th Place, likes the economy of cooking electrically and finds that the cost of electricity for cooking is about three cents a meal. Her electric range saves her time, for kitchen walls and woodwork stay clean.

We asked a great many women who cook electrically just why they preferred to use an electric range.

Practically all of them gave about the same answer: "Because it's so clean."

They reported that they had to spend less time keeping their kitchens spotless. Walls and ceiling stayed bright and shining for long periods of time. They had to paint or redecorate their kitchens only because they wanted to change the color scheme — not because of dingy walls.

Ask your electric appliance dealer to tell you about the many other desirable features of cooking electrically.

SLEEK BEAUTY . . . Newest piece in the Bill Baker Furniture Pattern Series is modern, massive kneehole desk. It can be built by even the most inexperienced woodworker.

DO IT YOURSELF

Expensive Kneehole Desk Is Yours When Built At Home

By BILL BAKER

One of the most useful pieces of furniture in the modern home today is the kneehole desk. Desks combining good design and massive beauty, however, are usually very expensive and for this reason many homes have to go without this very practical item.

I designed my modern kneehole desk with an eye to the budget. It has all of the features of desks selling for several hundred dollars, yet it can be added to your home for very little money.

Using Bill Baker's extra-simple pattern No. 114 you can have my kneehole desk for an investment of only a few dollars for materials and one or two weeks ends of workshop effort.

Here are some of the features of my desk:

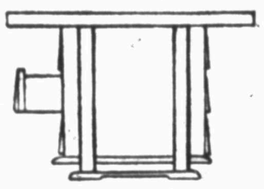
A massive desk top affords all of the space you could ask for. The use of a thin strip around the four sides gives the impression that the top is a thick slab of wood. This adds an expensive, solid look.

Three deep drawers, slanted outward at the bottom of the outer face, allow storage for many items. Drawer handles are eliminated since the sloping drawer allows finger grips. This same slant is repeated at the back of the desk, giving a unique impression and allowing extra possibilities for placement of the desk in your room.

Either wood or metal legs can be used at one side of the desk. The pattern gives full details on construction of the wood legs, but for an extra modern touch, wrought-iron legs can be added.

This do-it-yourself desk can be finished any way you want, so that it can match or contrast with other pieces of furniture in your home.

To build the modern kneehole desk, paste or thumb-tack the heavy-duty paper pattern pieces to your wood. These pattern pieces are cut to correct size for perfect fit in assembling. Then trace and cut according to instructions which are given in clear, understandable language. No power tools are needed.



SIDE VIEW DRAWING shows how drawer slant is repeated on back of desk. Either wood legs, as shown here, or metal legs can be used.

Like all patterns in the series, this one has been shop-tested for complete accuracy, and the job can be tackled by even the most inexperienced woodworker.

To get your modern kneehole desk pattern, send your name and address (clearly printed), together with $1 in cash or money order to Bill Baker, Snyder Daily News, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Remember to ask for pattern No. 114. Other Bill Baker patterns available: No. 113, Shadow box display shelf, 50 cents; No. 109, Bridge lamp-end table, 50 cents.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Contreras of Dermott are the parents of a son weighing eight pounds, four ounces born at 3:55 Friday afternoon in Battenfield Hospital.

Gas Industry Concerned About Loss To Electricity In Kitchen

HOUSTON, May 1 (AP)—Natural gas distributors are not in complete agreement but many believe they face a tough sales fight with the electric industry.

The kitchen range is a primary point of concern.

H. K. Griffin, the 1953-54 president of Southern Gas Assn., said this week:

"Spot checks and surveys reflecting conditions in all sections of the country show a constantly increasing number of housewives stating a preference for electric appliances as replacements for their present gas appliances."

Among ranges selling for $150 or more, Griffin said, the electric is outselling the gas more than 3 to 1. Fifteen years ago, five gas ranges were being sold to one electric.

"Thus we are rapidly losing our quality merchandise market," Griffin said.

Earl H. Eacker, president of the American Gas Assn., was more optimistic.

He said dollar sales of commercial gas appliances last year increased 24.8 per cent over 1952 while commercial electric appliances rose only 12.7 per cent.

Both Griffin and Eacker agreed the industry must emphasize its research and promotion programs.

Griffin said there has been a "slowness in upgrading gas appliances, both in appearance and performance."

Eacker again was more optimistic.

"The gas industry now has available for immediate development completely automatic ranges featuring new and field tested electric and gas single point ignition devices," Eacker, president of Boston Consolidated Gas Co., said.

He said new experimental units have been designed to afford cool ranges for cooler kitchens, unsurpassed heating speeds, greater cleanability and very low turndown heats.

"An opportunity is at hand to make today's modern and efficient gas ranges even better," he said.

Griffin said the industry's customers are now in a position "to be a little choosy," adding that the water heater picture is not much better than that of the kitchen range.

Gas water heater sales last year, he said, increased about 15 per cent while the electric increased about 20 per cent.

"These two appliances form the basic load upon which our industry was built and they are still its backbone," Griffin, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Gas Co., Meridian, Miss., said.

'Anything that happens must be viewed with grave concern and at present we face an extremely serious situation—the increasing rate of loss of consumer preference for gas as a fuel."

Griffin said the gas industry has been "completely outclassed in industry promotion." He said an industry-wide program —producer, pipeliner and distributor— holds the only possibility for reversal of present trends.

Jr. High Band Takes Honors At San Angelo

Seven first division ratings were awarded the junior high band Friday in the interscholastic league contests at San Angelo.

The entire band, directed by Tim Dennis, was given a division II rating for concert playing and division III for sight reading.

First division ratings went to the woodwind trio, composed of Sharon Morgan on the flute, Jo Ann Hamblen on the clarinet, and Jo Ann Miller on the bassoon; and six soloists, Sharon Morgan, flute; Mary Deffebach, flute; Jo Ann Miller, bassoon; Jo Ann Hamblen, clarinet; Lou Davis, clarinet; and Toni Best, alto clarinet.

The flute quarter, composed of Margaret Spence, Mary Deffebach, Judy Griffin, and Adalane Abercrombie, took a second division rating, as did the clarinet quartet, made up of Nancy Carey and Peggy Spence of B flat, Toni Best on alto, and Barbara McMennamy on bass. Soloists receiving division II ratings were Margaret Spence, flute; Nancy Carey, clarinet; Peggy Spence, clarinet; Dixie Rogers, clarinet; Dorene Brown, bass clarinet; and Ronald Miller, trombone.

The population of the world is increasing at a rate of about 1.4 per cent a year says the U. N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

Soviets Enthusiastic About New Moscow Department Store

MOSCOW (AP) — The GUM is going to bloom — with five new salons for Soviet men and women who can afford elegance.

The GUM is the department store on Red Square, the Soviet Union's biggest and finest, and the No. 1 monument so far to the Malenkov government's drive to give the Common Man more consumer goods.

GUM stands for Gosundarstvenny University Magazin, or State Department Store. It has been open since December and is a marvel to many felt-booted peasants and lumber and fisherfolk and soldiers who come from many miles away to see the sights of Moscow. It is a marvel, too, to many of Moscow's estimated six millions.

The GUM is a block square with three floors, but only two now for sales.

Director Vladimir G. Kamenev has his office on the third or administrative floor. Before coming into the top merchandising job he headed a network of state stores handling hats, underwear and ready-made clothing. He is enthusiastic when he describes plans for new salons on the third floor.

"In the near future" he plans to open a fashion salon to show latest Soviet designs. Those which are approved by customers will be sent to factories to be made up. Thus the salon will serve as a test laboratory for popular tastes.

Salons 2 and 3 will serve people who come in and order materials in prepared styles to be tailored. The ready-made clothing industry is small in the Soviet Union and a man or woman usually must select a pattern and then get the materials, including lining and buttons, and then find a tailor.

"We are gathering the best tailors and designers for these two GUM salons," Kamenev says.

There will also be a salon for custom-made footwear and another for hats — men's and women's.

The GUM already has what it calls a beauty salon. But this is little more than a cosmetics shop where the saleswomen also are supposed to give advice on perfumes, etc.

The GUM publishes a guide book for all its departments, and this is necessary because it attracts shoppers unused to such big stores.

There is a check room where you can check hand luggage if you're from out of town, or the parcels you purchase in the store. This service is free. They have a special taxi stand for calling you a cab. A central cashier's office permits you to do a half day's shopping, and notify each department that you will pay at the central cashier's and want to pick up your things there. Also the GUM has a nursery where mama can check a child while she goes shopping. It has a government savings bank, post office and telegraph station, and a theatrical booking office. It is the only store in Moscow with a cafe.

These things may not seem spectacular to Western shoppers. Some of the prices probably will. Noted at random this month were these prices:

Tea kettle, 36.70 rubles; frying pan, 9.20; wash pans, 13 to 39.80; cooking pots, 8.90 to 45.

(Soviet prices may be understood best in terms of purchasing power. The average Soviet worker makes about 700 rubles a month, or 28 rubles a working day. Thus it will be seen that a tea kettle costs more than a day's pay. There are many persons, however, in the Soviet elite who draw larger pay.)

The "Moscow" brand vacuum cleaner costs 650 rubles and the smaller Dnieper model, 405; the ZIS refrigerator, 2,000 rubles and a washing machine, 540; electric fan, 102, smaller fan, 40; and a hand-wound record player, 330.

In the children's shop shoes were marked at 51.50. Women's shoes, mostly in red and inferior leather by Western standards, ranged from 67 rubles to 93.50. There were fur-topped laced-boot shoes for 57.50.

By official estimate, 110,000 to 120,000 persons visit the store daily. This week it is especially busy with customers getting ready for the May Day holiday.

200 Expected To Hear Boyce House Monday At High School Here

About 200 persons are expected to attend a dinner meeting of the Snyder Classroom Teachers' Association at 7:30 Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

Boyce House, Texas humorist, will be guest speaker following the dinner. Tickets are on sale for $1.50 per person, and all reservations must be confirmed before noon Monday.

Vernon Clay Released From Jail On Bond

Vernon Clay, Snyder Negro bootlegger, was released from jail shortly after noon Friday under $1,000 bond on a charge of illegally possessing whiskey.

The charge against Clay was made as a result of a raid on his premises the night of April 24.

Surety on Clay's bond was Clark Light.

West Virginia produces more coal than any other U. S. state — 133 million tons in 1953.
