The Panhandle oil production tobooggan was almost halted this week by Gray county wells, which offset the decline in other counties and held the area drop to 872 barrels.

Gray county had five new producers for an initial production of 1,869 barrels, boosting the county total to 10,177 barrels. Production in other counties:

Carson county, 155 wells, 10,286 barrels.

Hutchinson county, 1,006 wells, 55,144 barrels.

Moore county, two wells, 120 barrels.

Potter county, one well, 35 barrels.

Wheeler county, 35 wells, 2,255 barrels.

The Panhandle total for the week was 107,987 barrels. Gray county wells topped the Carson county average. There are now 149 producing oil wells in Gray county.

With a number of wells being deepened, cleaned out, or drilled near the pay, next week's showing in this county is expected to be even better.

West Texas oil men are much interested in a good showing of oil northwest of Spearman, in Texas county, Okla. An oil test near Range had a good showing at 2,977 and has deepened the hole to 2,990 feet.

Reports that the well in the Wilcox addition, No. 1 W. R. Campbell, had a good shallow showing of oil were denied here yesterday. The well is about 2,400 feet and drilling ahead. It is logging somewhat like the Gulf-Saunders area.

Gray county is moving ahead of other Panhandle counties in wildcat operations. The crude oil, testing high, is finding a ready market. Wildcaters are being encouraged. The Gulf-Saunders pool southeast of Pampa promises to become the greatest producing area. Deeper pay has been found below sea level northwest of Pampa.

J. M. McDonald, oil and gas supervisor for this district, says that the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission has advance evidence of improving conditions in the industry. Mr. McDonald is spending each Wednesday and Thursday in Amarillo while the supervisor for the Amarillo district is on a vacation.

This Man Was Evidently Anxious to Get His Mail

An unknown man driving a Chevrolet coupe with a truck body was in such a hurry to get into the post-office Friday night that he hit the center column holding the awning, completely demolishing it. The driver nonchalantly got out, went in after his mail, and drove off leaving bricks scattered along the sidewalk.

The sag at the middle pillar caused the pillar on the west end to crumble and today scantlings hold the awning in place.

QUAKE HITS JAPAN

LONDON, Aug. 6. (AP)—An earthquake described as the severest felt in this region for 30 years shook the northeastern part of Japan today, says a message to Reuters from Tokyo.

He's In It Again

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, here pictured vacationing at his summer home in the Thousand Islands, N. Y., has come into the political limelight again by reason of Mr. Coolidge's "I do not choose to run for President in 1928." Lowden's chances for the G. O. P. nomination are considered bright.

Drug Store And Service Station Robbed Friday

Unknown persons broke into the Owl Drug store in South Pampa Friday night. Entrance was gained by breaking a glass in the front door.

The thieves are reported to have stolen about $300 worth of jewelry, several boxes of cigars, and a quantity of candy. They left no clues.

The P. and L. Service station on East Tyng street was also entered Friday night and eight casings stolen, as well as a few dollars left in the cash register.

Officers think it was the same gang who robbed the Owl Drug store.

Negro Held On Several Charges

K. K. Stevens, negro, is being held by the sheriff's department on a charge of burglary. Stevens is alleged to have entered the room where he was staying one night last week and to have stolen a pistol and $18 in cash.

He was apprehended Friday afternoon after he had accidentally shot a negro in the foot. He is said to have been loading the gun in a room and it discharged, the bullet entering the foot of a man in the adjoining room. After the shooting Stevens ran out of the house and hid the gun, but was seen and officers easily found the weapon.

A barrel of mash, or rather an assortment of prunes, peaches, bran, and numerous other articles used in the making of home brew, was discovered at a negro shack and the occupant is being sought now.

NEW YORK HAS
EXTRA GUARDS

Motion for Retrial Is Filed in Superior Court

(By The Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The council for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti today filed in Norfolk county superior court at Dedham at motion for a new trial for the two men and petitioned Governor Fuller for a stay of execution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—Every subway and elevated station here was under police guard today in a determined attempt to prevent further activities of bombers believed in some quarters to be Sacco and Vanzetti sympathizers who shortly before midnight wrecked two subway stations in the Madison Square district terrorizing thousands and injuring more than a score.

The federal government took a hand in the investigation today assigning the department of justice agents to assist the police bomb squad in their search for clues. Two bombs exploded almost simultaneously in the Brooklyn Manhattan transit station at Broadway and 28th street just above the Madison building and at the interborough station at Fourth avenue and 28th street, adjacent to the site of the old Madison square garden.

PARIS, Aug. 6 (AP)—The French cabinet today decided to forbid any public demonstrations in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti. This included the labor socialist and communist meeting and parade scheduled for tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—Maurice Seigel, 30 year old dentist, was held without bail today charged with the suspicion of implication in the bombing of the two subway stations shortly before midnight.

MONTIVIDEO, Uruguay, Aug. 6. (AP)—A bomb which had failed to explode was found today in front of the Montivideo branch of the National city bank of New York.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—The home of Mayor William Brining was damaged by a bomb this morning, which terrified his wife and two children, set fire to the rear of the house, and rocked the exclusive forest park section of the city's northwest quarter.

The mayor was not at home, being enroute to St. Louis.

The police are unable to assign any motive for anyone to mark him or his family for death.

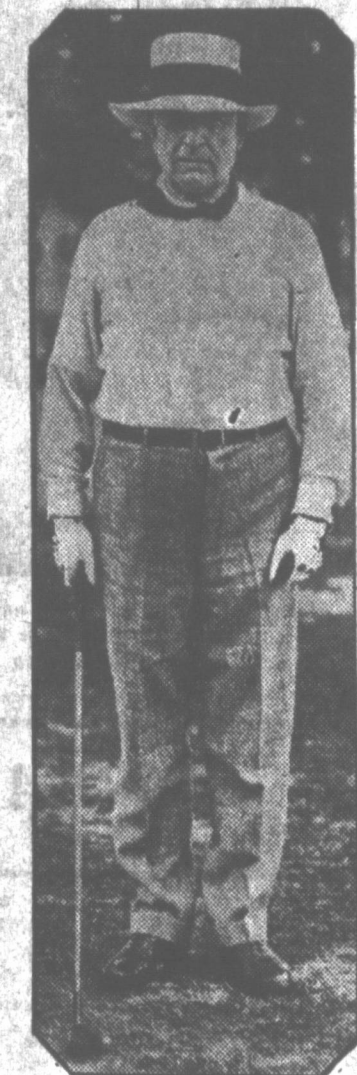

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Emanuel Presbyterian church was badly damaged today by an explosion which police attribute to a bomb being hurled through the basement window. No one was hurt.

The Rev. Edward Bowman, pastor of the church, was out of the city and neither members of his congregation nor his wife could offer any explanation for the explosion.

RAIL ROAD MEN TO ARBITRATE

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Representatives of 55,000 firemen and helpers on 55 western roads agreed with the railroads today to submit their disputes over the firemen's demand for a $1 a day raise in wages to arbitration.

Methodist Troop Will Be First Organized in City

Twenty-five local men interested in Boy Scout work gathered at the Chamber of Commerce Friday night to hear Tom Nelson, area executive of the Panhandle council speak on Boy Scout work.

His talk was clear and concise and those present received an insight into the life of the boy they had never known.

Rev. Tom Brabham, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave a short talk and told the men assembled that plans had been completed by members of his church to organize the first troop of Boy Scouts in Pampa. The first meeting will be Thursday night at the Methodist church. The troop committee is composed of C. E. Kingsbery, Bob Campbell, W. A. Ferguson, Horace McBee and E. E. Reynolds. Jimmie D. Sackett has been chosen as Scoutmaster.

Plans are under way to have troops sponsored by the Fire department, Lions club, Rotary club, and other local organizations. Places of meeting will be the Methodist church, American Legion hall, Chamber of Commerce rooms, and the basement of the Draper-Ross Produce company.

Levine's Plane Is Held Pending Hearing in Suit

The French flyer selected by Levine to fly the plane back to America, but the two have been unable to come to terms on a contract.

Jack DeGraftenreid Is Acquitted By Jury In 45-Minute Conference

A verdict of not guilty was returned at 2:15 p. m. Saturday at LeFors in the trial of Ranger Jack DeGraftenreid, local man charged with assault with intent to kill W. H. Bates, Hutchinson county deputy. The jury was out 45 minutes. District Judge Newton P. Willis charged the jury about 10 a. m., and both sides finished by noon. The jury went to its deliberations at 1:30 o'clock.

Rangers Will Be Taken From Borger Soon, Says Moody

(By The Associated Press.)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 6.—Shortly before leaving here in an airplane for Dallas today Governor Moody announced that in all probability the Texas Rangers would be removed from Borger, where they have been stationed for some weeks, within the next few days.

The governor's statement was made after he had read a report from Captain Tom Hickman, which is said to have related that conditions in Borger were now satisfactory and that Rangers had accomplished the purpose for which they were sent to Borger.

Wouldn't Cross Creek—But Another Used His Auto

Because of high water in the creek near LeFors Friday night, Ray Reynolds left his car on the east bank and walked to the county seat. Saturday morning the car was missing when he went for it.

The car was found by the sheriff's department Saturday at the south end of Cuyler street. Apparently someone had found the car and risked the creek crossing in order to get a ride to this city.

Appointments Made to Institutions

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—All except seven superintendents of states and seven eleemosynary institutions were re-appointed today for the next two years by the state board of control.

The new appointees are A. C. Ellis, state school for the blind; Mrs. S. J. Thomas, Women's Confederate home; Miss Jennie Burleson, home for dependant children; J. S. Halley, Orphans' Home at Corsicana; W. M. Ruck, colored deaf, dumb, and blind institute; and J. W. Standifer, Austin insane hospital.

More Teachers for Schools Are Chosen

Aaron Meek, an associated arts graduate of Wayland college, who last year taught at Wheeler, has been engaged by the Pampa school board as principal of the south ward school.

Miss Freda Dillon and Miss Ruth Catlin, employed several weeks ago as teachers in the rampa schools, have resigned and teachers to take their place will be chosen this week. Also a librarian will be employed to complete the staff of the Pampa schools.

Dallas Will Have Passenger Air Service

(By The Associated Press.)

DALLAS, Aug. 7.—Daily aerial passenger service in the Southwest will be inaugurated in September between Dallas and Chicago by the National Airport, Inc., a message from Col. Paul Henderson, general manager at Kansas City, said today. Fare will be 10 cents per mile, and a parachute will be furnished each passenger. Planes will leave Dallas at 7:30 a. m. and arrive in Chicago at 7:30 p. m.

District Attorney Curtis Douglas prosecuted the defendant, and Judge Ben S. Baldwin of Pampa was chief counsel for the defense.

Ranger DeGraftenreid was tried as the result of an altercation which took place on the evening of July 20 between him and Deputy Bates. They quarreled over the release of Bill Christian of Stinnett, who was arrested by the Rangers near Electric City on a charge of drunkenness and placed in the Borger jail. Bates took Christian to the county jail at Stinnett, where he was released without being confined.

Several Blows Struck.
DeGraftenreid, testimony showed, remonstrated with Bates about releasing a prisoner arrested by Rangers before presentation of a complaint or holding of a habeas corpus procedure. After a short, heated discussion, blows were struck, and a bullet from DeGraftenreid's gun pierced Bates' trousers near his holster. The Ranger was arrested and charged with assault with intention to kill Bates.

Before arguments began, yesterday morning, Bates was recalled and asked if he, as former foreman of a grand jury, knew of Christian's alleged reputation for drinking. Bates denied such knowledge. He testified that he once served as a sheriff.

In his charge Judge Willis said an acquittal should be found if the defendant did the act charged under "reasonable apprehension or fear of death." He pointed out, however, that while the Rangers had the right to arrest Christian, it was their duty to turn their prisoner over to the sheriff and accept a receipt for him. The sheriff, subject to the order of the courts, is thereafter responsible for the safe-keeping of the prisoners.

Quotes Rangers' Words.
Opening his state argument—the District Attorney Douglas recalled testimony of Bates that DeGraftenreid said "to hell with the district judge and district attorney" when the deputy said his orders came from those officials and the sheriff, not from Rangers. It was stated that Bates was struck a terrific blow by the Ranger and shot at as he reeled backward with his right hand over the injured organ. The shooting at the deputy was declared intent to kill without any justification.

Charges Bullying

Douglas declared it was unreasonable that Bates would attack three Rangers. He imputed a bullying attitude to the state officers, although he contended it was none of their business to dictate how the Hutchinson county sheriff's department shall handle prisoners duly received as provided by law. He asserted that the Rangers were trying to hold Christian without filing a charge, although they were said to have released three men arrested with him.

Judge Baldwin centered his argument for the defendant upon the "hip pocket play" and the right not to wait for proof of danger before exercising the right of self-defense. He said Christian had been arrested at 11 o'clock at night, and that Bates took the prisoner to Stinnett and secured his release before he could be arraigned. He called attention to DeGraftenreid's telling Bates that he should wait until a complaint was filed or habeas corpus proceedings instituted.

State Witness Attacked

The defense strongly attacked the reputation of the State's witnesses, asserting that testimony showed one

MOVIE "TWINSHIPS" IRK STARS
WHEN CAMERA FINDS TWO ALIKE

BY WADE WERNER

(Motion Picture Feature Editor)
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6. (AP)—

In Hollywood almost everyone looks like someone else. Some enjoy it and occasionally make a little money at it. To others the coincidence of resembling a stranger is just another one of those unpreventable annoyances.

There are so many extras who look like stars that the central casting bureau, through which the studios employ their extra talent, would be embarrassed only momentarily by an order for a dozen Pola Negris, half a dozen Harold Lloyds, 10 Charlie Chaplins and a quartet of Greta Garbos.

The normal demand for photographic doubles is very slight, so the casting bureau seldom keeps more than one or two listed for each star. But should a sudden demand arise for doubles in wholesale lots they would be available.

The photographic double, incidentally, is not to be confused with the riding, swimming, flying or fighting doubles who sometimes substitute for stars in hazardous scenes. Such athletic doubles may resemble the star only in height and weight and may even be of the opposite sex without impairing their usefulness.

Some of the most interesting resemblances are among the established players, who decidedly are not looking for employment as doubles. Jean Arthur, for instance, Monty Banks' new leading woman, is the image of Mary Brian. Priscilla Dean and Leatrice Joy strongly resemble each other, and Louise Lorraine is the photographic twin of Norma Talmadge.

Others whom the camera, in certain moods at least, seems to classify as doubles include Walter Goss and Charles Ray, Eugene O'Brien and Jack Mulhall, and Lawrence Grey and Harrison Ford. Rudolph Valentino doubles have been appearing in Hollywood periodically ever since that actor's death.

Sometimes the unofficial twins of Hollywood look alike only on the screen or in certain photographs. In other cases the resemblance is so strong they are mistaken for each other even at screen colony gatherings, where presumably everyone knows everyone else. In the latter event the likeness is more often embarrassing than entertaining.

Telephone 100, all departments

Regardless of whether district road bonds are voted, there will be no actual road work for a year or more. That question is not now related to the need for better kept roads in the Pampa district.

Recent rains have made the roads almost impassable. The Chamber of Commerce should no longer have to give any attention to the oil field roads. But it requires only a short trip in most any direction to see the need for keeping the county road machinery busy.

Modern automobiles are wonderful things. They creep or they virtually fly. The extremes are bad. The slowpoke may not be as dangerous as the speeder, but he is just as aggravating. California's new traffic laws ban the slow paces as well as the too fast. But 40 miles is now the highway limit, instead of 35. Drivers must be physically fit and skilled, and must be licensed. Traffic is so heavy that the law is probably wise in California. It might be wise in such communities as Pampa.

Texas is spending millions of dollars on highways. Where does the money come from? It comes from taxes on property, very largely. That means Gray county is helping to finance Carson county's paved road project. It is an unsound method. We like the suggestion of the Highway club that a state-wide bond issue for road building, to be retired by taxing the motorist who uses the highway, would more nearly present the bill to the rightful debtor.

PAMPA SHOULD SEEK NEW RAILWAY LINE

Indications are that a final I. C. C. hearing will be held on the application of the Clinton and Oklahoma Western railroad to extend its line from Cheyenne, Okla., to Pampa.

It is believed the Santa Fe will make a determined effort to show that it is serving this territory and that the proposed line would interfere with Santa Fe patronage. The situation is one that should be of vital interest to Pampa people and those living along the route of the proposed line. While it is to be expected that the Santa Fe shall contest the entrance of any road which, for example, could take part of the oil field traffic, the situation is more significant than it appears on the surface.

Pampa needs another railroad. The rich oil and agricultural land to the south and east can never reach its greatest possibilities without better rail facilities. Pampa cannot become the city desired without it is enabled to serve its trade territory better as a distribution center. The Santa Fe is not now and can never with its present lines adequately serve the territory under discussion. Its method of extending short feeder lines is detrimental to the best interest of the whole section involved. Under these conditions, it is but logical that agitation for a new trunk line should be carried on vigorously and effectively.

The Santa Fe is a wonderful railroad. Local people would prefer to see this company build from Pampa to some other large center of population. But there is no assurance that the local road will ever build more than a feeder line out of Pampa. The C. & O. W. proposes to build as other railroads have not. If the Interstate Commerce Commission should listen to the opposing arguments and refuse the Cheyenne-to-Pampa permit, would not this tend to set a precedent in this section?

The Chamber of Commerce directors voted to submit a brief in support of Kell's contentions as to the need of a new railroad here, and in relation to the above facts their action appears to be wise. Pampa is going after a new railroad.

Queering The Act

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — If you must have inspiration with your reading, you might do worse than to study the autobiography of the Honorable J. Thomas Heflin, senator from Alabama.

For some reason or other, this remarkable tract has failed to be included in the list of books which every boy should read. But every boy who ever liked Horatio Alger would be enthusiastic over it.

The account is published by the New Menace and is entitled "Boyhood Days of J. Thomas Heflin, United States Senator from Alabama (In His Own Words)." Book reviewers have paid little attention to it, so the job seems to be up to your correspondent.

Responsibility for the Heflin oratory apparently may be laid to the schools which served his birthplace of Louisa, Ala., where, at the age of 10, the future statesman was forced to declaim every Friday afternoon. He got to like it.

But let us quote an incident of Heflin's early career in his own words:

"We had a good cook, old Aunt Rose Dannelly, but she had a bad temper and her bad temper brought me into a serious and difficult situation in a little while. One afternoon about sundown I heard my little sister screaming. I ran as rapidly as I could. I found her lying on the floor crying. I lifted her in my arms and asked what the trouble was and she told me Aunt Rose had slapped her."

"In less time than I can tell it, I seized a piece of wood about five feet long and struck Aunt Rose across the head and she danced a bee line across the room and fell to the floor. For a moment there was a grim silence and nothing more. Then I commenced to shake Aunt Rose and tell her to get up, that I didn't intend to kill her. In a minute or two she opened her eyes and got up and left with the supper still on the stove. I was worried for a minute . . ."

But not for long. Fourteen-year-old Thomas realized it was up to him to complete the supper, and sure enough, he did. It was a "success" and his father approved his wallop at Aunt Rose. But Aunt Rose didn't return that evening and Thomas had to cook breakfast.

"Well, Aunt Rose never came back," concluded the senator, "and the news spread all over the community that

By that time I had become such a success as a cook, according to the expressed judgment of my older brothers, to whom I was giving such pre-eminent satisfaction by serving them scrambled eggs and fried chicken and ham, that they wanted me to continue; I did so for three months."

THE PASSING OF FERDINAND

The solemn scenes in Rumania ensuing upon the death of King Ferdinand are vividly recorded in these first photos to reach the United States. At the left above you see the royal casket borne from Sinaia, where death culminated the monarch's long illness, to lie in state in Cotroceni Palace, Bucharest. Queen Marie (left) and her daughter, the Queen of Yugoslavia, are seen at the lower left tearfully watching the pall's passage out of Sinaia. At the right, above, the young Prince Michael, Ferdinand's grandson and successor, is seen entering the Chamber of Deputies to receive the oath of allegiance from his regents, as pictured at the lower right (arrow points to the young ruler.)

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—
David Spares Saul.
Scripture Lesson:—
1 Sam. 26:7-14, 21.

7. So David and Abishai came to the people by night; and, behold, Saul lay sleeping within the place of the wagons, with his spear stuck in the ground at his head; and Abner and the people lay around him.

8. Then said Abishai to David, God hath delivered up thine enemy into thy hand this day: now therefore let me smite him, I pray thee, with the spear to the earth at one stroke, and I will not smite him the second time.

9. And David said to Abishai, Destroy him not; for who can put forth his hand against Jehovah's anointed, and be guiltless?

10. And David said, as Jehovah liveth, Jehovah will smite him; or his day shall come to die; or he shall go down into battle, and perish.

11. Jehovah forbid that I should put forth my hand against Jehovah's anointed; but now I take, I pray thee, the spear that is at his head, and the cruse of water, and let us go.

12. So David took the spear and the cruse of water from Saul's head; and they gat them away; and no man saw it, nor knew it, neither did any awake; for they were all asleep, because a deep sleep from Jehovah was fallen upon them.

13. Then David went over to the other side, and stood on the top of the mountain afar off, a great space between them.

14. And David cried to the people, and to Abner the son of Ner, saying, Answerest thou not, Abner? Then Abner answered and said, Who art thou that criest to the king?

15. And Saul knew David's voice, and said, Is this thy voice, my son David? And David said, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

16. Then said Saul, I have sinned; return, my son David; for I will no more do thee harm, because my life was precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly.

Time:—David spares Saul's life the first time, B. C. 1055; the second time, B. C. 1055.

Place:—The first sparing of Saul's life, at Engedi, halfway up the west shore of the Dead Sea; the second at the hill Hachilah in the wilderness of Ziph, southeast of Hebron.

Golden Text:—Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

—Rom. 12:21.

Introduction.

"The most striking thing about the gospel of Christ to non-Christian people who give it careful study—they tell us—is its insistence upon forgiveness, forbearance, and love for one's enemies. This is taught by Jesus in the most positive, unambiguous language; and besides, there is the luminous, consistent, living-out of this teaching in his life and death. The Christian may never forget that his Savior's few dying words included a prayer for those who had brought him to the cross. Saul was David's enemy, if ever a man had one. For years the king hounded him. David's patient forbearance, generosity, and dogged fondness for Saul mark him with Christian character. It isn't easy to act toward those who have wronged us as David did. If you are going to try it, you will need Christ's help."

David a Fugitive

It has already been said of David, "And Saul sought him every day, but God delivered him not into his hand." (23:14). The most of David's outlaw life was spent in the hill country of Judea, that, because it was so barren and unsettled, was sometimes called the wilderness of Judea. Ziph and the near-by hill of Hachilah were a few miles to the south and a little to the east of Hebron. "The Jeshimon" (Marg. R. V.) was the barren region along the western shore of the Dead Sea. Traditionally it was the wilderness of John the Baptist's sojourn and of Jesus' temptation.

David Forbids Revenge

"It is not by our hands that we are to be freed from our wrongs, nor is every opportunity to attain our ends, whatever they may be, God-sent. There is ever the prior question of plain duty, with which nothing else, however tempting or promising of success, can come in conflict; and such seasons may be only those when our faith and patience are put on trial, so as to bring it clearly before us whether or not quite irrespective of all else, we are content to leave everything in the hands of God. And David conquered, as long afterwards his great Antitype overcame temptation, by steadfast adherence to God's known will and ordinance." "The ugliness of personal jealousy may not always find expression in actually destroying the object of its dislike, but persisted in, it kills the finer life in the heart which cherishes it." "You will never help yourself by pulling down somebody else. If your competitor were as bad as your jealous fancy would paint him, that would not make you one whit better. It is only by building up our own character into genuine greatness that we can permanently advance ourselves."

David Leaves Saul in God's Hands v. 10.

"And David said, As Jehovah liveth, Jehovah will smite him." "God is not dead" said David in effect. "Jehovah does not need our help to punish the guilty. Vengeance is the Lord's and he will repay." "Or his day shall come to die." Saul was by no means an old man, but he was older than David and would probably die before him. David might wait the course of nature, and still receive the kingdom in time without resorting to violence. "Or he shall go down into battle, and perish. David had seen many men die in battle; and though the person of the king was shielded as much as possible, yet it was the custom for monarchs to lead their armies in person, and a seasoned warrior like Saul would often find himself in the thick of the fray, where his identity would soon be known and the attack would focus upon him, or where a chance arrow or javelin might find his heart."

David Rebukes Abner. v. 14.

Abner was not only Saul's general but his prime minister, with an influence in the kingdom hardly second to that of Jonathan. After the death of Saul and Jonathan it was Abner who made Ishbosheth king, and afterwards, becoming angry with the king, sought to put David in his place. It was Abner's business to safeguard Saul's life in every way, and David was right in rebuking him sharply (vs. 15, 16), and declaring that he deserved death for not guarding more effectively his royal master. David's words were also intended for Saul, hinting to the king that if he were in charge, no such mishap would occur. It must be remembered that David, before Saul sent him into exile, was the king's armorbearer, his personal attendant.

Saul's Shame and Sorrow. v. 21.

"Then said Saul, I have sinned." David, with all the eloquence that was his natural gift, enhanced by the deep feeling inspired by the occasion, had pleaded (vs. 18-20) with the king for a return to his former kindness. "What have I done to deserve your hostility?" David sorrowfully asked. "I am no more than a flea, so insignificant am I. I am only a hunted partridge. Why do you pursue me?" The king's better nature was aroused, and he was moved to an expression of repentance. His "I have sinned" was very different from David's own confession of guilt in Ps. 51; but, though it was shallow and did not reach back and take hold upon God, it was sincere for the moment. "Behold, I have played the fool and have erred exceedingly." "Probably in all his chequered career Saul never so nearly scaled the heights of wisdom, or was so high to the kingdom of God, as when he thus exclaimed." "There was no resisting such an appeal as David's. Saul had received good for evil, and on a nature in which there is anything worthy this always makes a powerful impression." "Would it not be manly to resent it?" said one who had received an insult. "Yes," was

Sul Ross College Expects to Have Strong Eleven

ALPINE, Aug. 6. (AP).—Prospects for a winning football team at Sul Ross college this year are said to be the brightest in recent years. An exceptionally stiff schedule faces the Lobos this year with Texas Tech, and Howard Payne, two of the strongest elevens which the Sul Ross will meet.

"When deep within our swelling hearts
The thoughts of pride and anger rise,
When bitter words are on our tongues
And tears of passion in our eyes,
Then we may stay the angry blow,
Then may we check the hasty word,
Give gentle answers back again,
And fight a battle for our Lord."

Few homes have all the light that is needed. It is a matter of health and one that you cannot afford to overlook for a few cents a week. You may need another light—you may need larger globes—you may not have the right kind of globes. We can provide the remedy.

INVESTIGATOR FINDS HOMES HALF LIGHTED
HARRISON, N. J., (AP).—The average American home is only half lighted, asserts Miss Helen G. McKinley of Harrison.
Miss McKinley is one of a score of engineers and eye conservation specialists carrying on a nation-wide investigation of light, sight and safety under the direction of Richard E. Simpson of the Eye Sight Conservation Council of America.
She is studying in the home, quite lighting in each room, and a statement of a well lighted home, "It takes 12 per cent of the normal energy the body generates to see under normal conditions," she explains. "When there is poor lighting 50 per cent is required. Every room should have lights above the sink, if you work and can't see well, your irritability is increased. Why lose so much nervous energy in the kitchen?"—Pamona Daily News.

Tulsa Has Half Of First Ten In Western

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The American League now has a hard hitting trio like the three Pittsburghers of the National League but the three Yankees lack one step of being at the top of the batting column. Al Simmons of the Athletics sits serenely on the throne there, though he has been on the bench the past week.

Right behind his chair, though, are Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, a first baseman and two outfielders, the same as the Pirate trio of old Joe Harris, Paul Waner and Clyde Barnhart.

Meusel joined his two mates in averages compiled today, including Wednesday's games, with a great hitting rally which ran his percentage from .363 to .371, eleven hits in six games. Earl Combs Meusel's gain to make the fourth Yankee in the first ten batters, displacing Johnny Neun, the Detroit first sacker.

Still sliding, Ty Cobb who a month ago was in the first ten, today is down in 22nd place, Tris Speaker still hangs around in fifth place. The Detroit pair, Harry Heilmann and Bob Fothergill, who used to be battling for leadership, also are still in the first ten but well down the list.

Slater Waiting

George Slater is still waiting for an opportune vacancy among the leaders, but meanwhile continues to add to his stolen base string which now totals 20. Neun has displaced his teammate, Tavenner, as runner-up, with 18, a gain of two.

Lou Gehrig is only two home runs behind Babe Ruth's pace in the 1921 record year and led Babe by three on Wednesday night. Lou had 37 and Babe 34.

With all the New York batting power behind him, Walter Hoyt still holds the leadership of the regular moundmen of the league with a mark of 14 victories to four defeats. Ted Lyons of the White Sox has the most wins, 17, but is charged with 8 defeats.

Leading American League batters: Simmons, Philadelphia, .394; Gehrig, New York, .387; Ruth, New York, .373; Meusel, New York, .371; Speaker, Washington, .369; E. Miller, St. Louis, .369; Heilmann, Detroit, .367; Schang, St. Louis, .361; Fothergill, Detroit, .351.

Frisch Threatens

Frankie Frisch, who broke up the Pirate trio at the head of the National League's batting list three weeks ago, threatens to do it again. He was the only one of the leaders, with the exception of Harvey Hendricks of Brooklyn, to make an outstanding gain in percentage, in today's figures. He is but one point behind Clyde Barnhart, the trailing members of the Pirate trio.

Hendricks, who held a middle seat in the first ten for several weeks, a month ago and then dropped out, returned to his accustomed spot today displacing Eddie Farrell of the Braves.

The Fordham flash, as they used to call Frisch in New York before he was traded to St. Louis, didn't steal any bases this week but his mark of 31 is a dozen higher than the former base stealing leader, Kiki Cuyler of Pittsburgh.

The home run honors of the elder league still rest upon the brow of Cy Williams. He would have had one more than his mark of 22 if the hickory hadn't given way in a game against the Cubs. When the bat broke the ball, instead of sailing out into the bleachers, dropped weakly back of the infield. Cy had 22 Wednesday.

Hornaby Has Century

Rogers Hornaby, the crown prince of the Giant squad, was the first National Leaguer to cross the century mark in runs, with Frisch close behind him. Gehrig turned the trick in the American League two weeks ago, and Paul Waner, the Pirate star, was just on the threshold Wednesday night, with 99 runs.

Rube Benton, on the Giants' successful western tour, slipped in between Lee Meadows and Carmen Hill, the two Pittsburgh pitchers who have been sharing the league honors, and Hill dropped to third. Meadows leads the regulars with 14 victories and five losses, Charley Root of the Cubs has 15 victories but nine defeats.

Leading batteries of the National League: P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .385; Harris, Pittsburgh, .378; Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .366; Frisch, St. Louis, .361; Hornaby, New York, .346; Hendrick, Brooklyn, .344; Hafey, St. Louis, .343; Stephenson, Chicago, .338; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .338.

Nation's Capital Honors Walter Johnson

Here are two interesting views of Walter Johnson Day at Washington, when thousands of Washington fans honored their great hurler, the greatest in baseball, on the twentieth anniversary of his major league debut. At the left is shown Secretary of State Frank Kellogg, acting in the absence of President Coolidge, presenting Johnson with the American league distinguished service cross, studded with a diamond for each of his 20 years service, and, at the left, is Billy Evans, ace of American league umpires, who worked Johnson's initial game in 1907, congratulating Johnson on his remarkable career. Evans, assigned to work the August 2 game, was able to work only one inning, and that on crutches, because of a recent injury.

Chicago stepped a little further into the lead of the National league race Friday when they took the third game from Boston while the Pirates were losing to Philadelphia.

Babe Ruth got another home-run Friday and came within two of Lou Gehrig. The Yankees won the game from Detroit, 5 to 2, which gave them an even break in the series.

In a regular slugfest the Senators beat St. Louis 17 to 8. The Harris men scored 10 runs in the fourth inning. Goslin hit a single and a homer in that inning.

With the installation of a new dry tumbler and one more truck, the Pampa Cleaners, 300 block on Francis avenue, now boasts one of the largest and best equipped cleaning plants in the Panhandle. More than $1,000 was spent in the purchase and installation of the new machinery.

The growth of business in the four months the plant has been in operation here has made necessary the increase in equipment and service. It is now equipped to handle all the work of a town the size of Pampa.

TEXAS RANGER IS ACQUITTED

to be now indicted for car theft and another being adoped Borger policeman. He contrasted the testimony of Rangers Harrill and Purvis, who were the nearest eye-witnesses, being with Bates and DeGraftenreid at the time of the fight in front of the Borger police station. He portrayed the Rangers as protectors of all Texans, without whom Borger would soon be overrun with outlaws. He asked for a verdict of not guilty on the plea of self defense, coupled with charges that Hutchinson county officers were not cooperating with the state force.

"I am the man who asked Dan Moody to send the Rangers to Borger," said the district attorney in rebuttal, "but I say to you that when a man supposed to enforce the law breaks it himself he is setting up a dangerous precedent."

Asks 5-Year Sentence

Douglas charged that the defending Ranger had assumed an illegal, dictatorial attitude. He defended the State witnesses and vigorously attacked the defense testimony intended to prove the justification of steps toward self defense. The trousers worn by Bates when slightly injured were used to show how the deputy was said to have stood, nearly blinded, as the Ranger fired after the blow. He said the Rangers had no intention of filing a complaint against Christian, and that the trouble grew out of their anger when their plans did not carry. A verdict of guilty and sentence of five years' imprisonment was asked. The minimum in such convictions is two years, and the maximum is twelve years.

Owing to muddy roads, a small crowd was present for the final trial proceedings Saturday. Among the state officers present was "Lone Wolf" Gonzalez, special officer, who added the defense during the taking of testimony.

Judge Holmes of Borger was DeGraftenreid's attorney until the motion for continuance was denied, then he withdrew. He was sitting in a car near the Borger police station at the time of the shooting.

The defendant, when it became necessary to go to trial, obtained Judge Ben Baldwin of Pampa and Attorney Ledbetter of McLean and the selection of jurors began soon after the noon hour Friday. The following jurors were selected within a few moments: John Brooks, C. V. Davis, Oscar W. Moorehead, Victor Back, M. H. Kinard, Allen Wilson, M. D. Abbott, R. A. Smith, Clyde Beebe, Pete Fulbright, Walter Jones and W. J. Carruth.

W. H. Bates, Borger deputy whom DeGraftenreid was alleged to have intended to kill, was the first state witness. Under cross examination he sketched the cause of the trouble and gave his side of the altercation with the Ranger.

Bates said that after finishing some work on the records at the sheriff's office in Borger, July 20, he went outside and sat down in a chair at the front with Mack Hodgson, special Santa Fe officer. A few moments later he heard his name called. He arose and saw three men, Rangers H. B. Purvis, E. F. Harrill and DeGraftenreid, standing between two cars in front of the police station nearby. They motioned for him to join them, which he did.

"Did you call me?" Bates said he asked the trio.

Started Over Prisoner.

"Yes," he quoted DeGraftenreid as saying. "Did you take one of our prisoners out of jail last night?" "What, do you mean Christian? (Stinnett city official arrested by Rangers on a charge of drunkenness). Bates said he asked.

He said DeGraftenreid replied in the affirmative.

"Well, if you want to know anything about that ask the district judge or the district attorney; they are the ones I get instructions from," Bates said he explained, to which DeGraftenreid was said to have returned:

"I can't help that, and I don't give a ——— about the district judge or the district attorney. I am telling you it ———"

Bates said he interrupted: "If that's the way you feel about it, I don't give a ———"

Said Ranger Struck First.

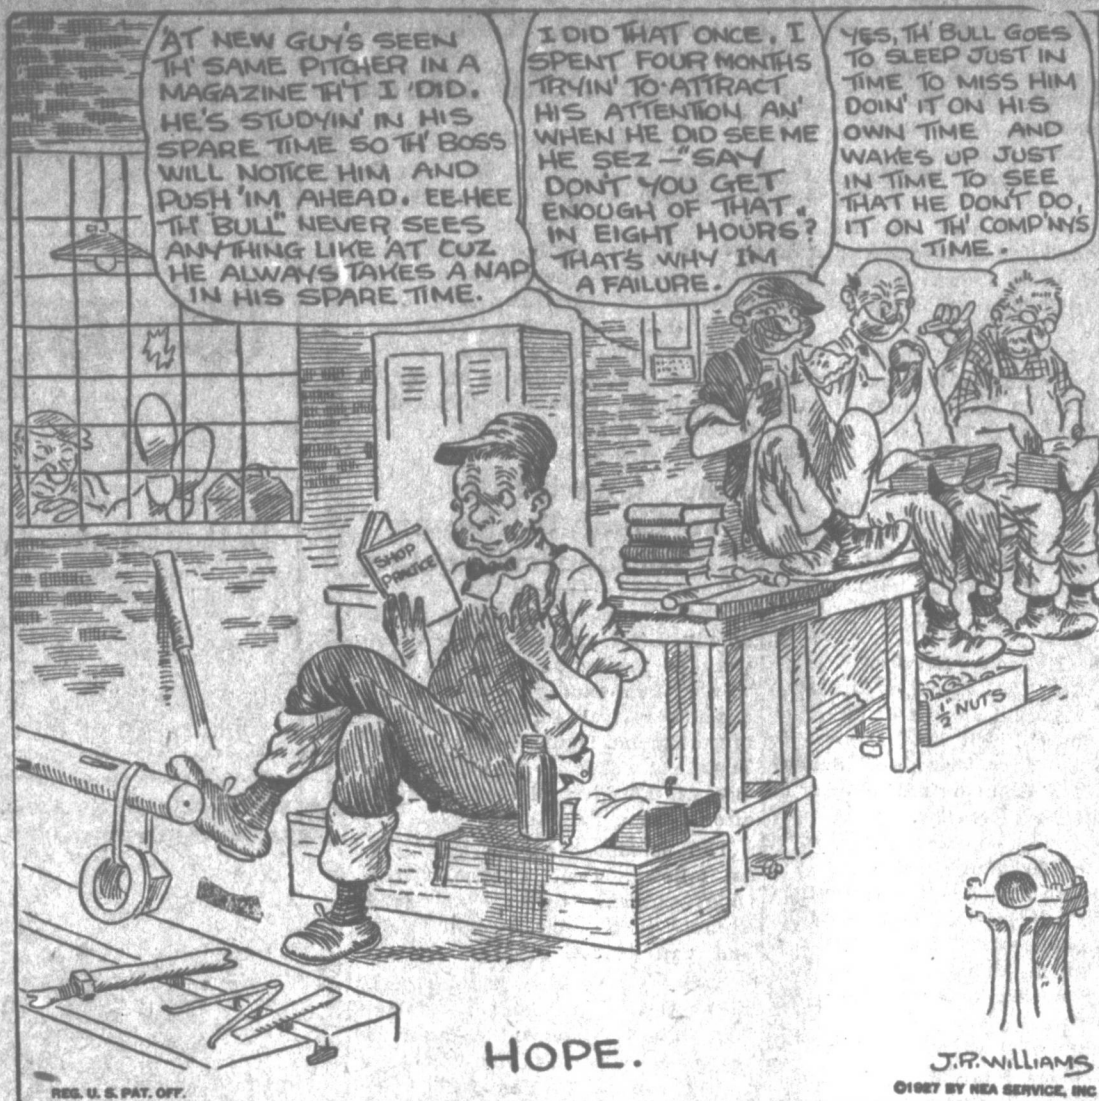

Then, the deputy asserted, Ranger DeGraftenreid struck him a terrible blow in the right eye, so that he reeled back against the car and raised his right hand to his eye. While he was reclining there turned partly away from DeGraftenreid, the latter fired at him, Bates asserted. He said the blow in the eye had blinded him. He denied on cross examination that he had his hand near his gun.

The bullet from the Ranger's pistol perforated Bates' trousers slightly, near the watch pocket.

In long testimony, Bates explained

ed that he had orders to remove county prisoners from the Borger jail to the county jail at Stinnett. On July 19 he made a trip to Stinnett, and took Christian, arrested previously by the Ranger, with him. Christian was released at Stinnett after being turned over to the sheriff. Bates said Christian was a personal friend of his. He admitted he used his influence to keep Christian "out of that lousy jail." He said he did not know at the time who was the arresting officer, and he did not know the circumstances of the offense.

Coat Not Perforated.

Defense counsel questioned Bates at length, stressing the point that Bates' coat was not punctured by the bullet and intimating that the reason was that the deputy brushed the coat back as he reached for his gun. Bates said he had the coat thrown back as he reeled from the blow, and that his right hand was raised to his injured eye.

M. K. Brown of Borger and Tom Chapman, former Borger deputy, testified that they were sitting in front of the police station when they saw Purvis and DeGraftenreid standing by the cars nearby. They heard the shot and saw Bates after he was helped into the police station.

J. M. Hodgson, the Santa Fe officer, said he had gone to see Bates on business and was talking to him when the Rangers called for the deputy. He said a few minutes later he heard a shot. Bates reeled backward against a fender. Hodgson did not believe Bates' hand was near a gun. He heard Bates say:

"What do you want to shoot me for?"

The state rested.

Bates Talked to Captain.

The next witness was Jim McCoy, Ranger, whose principal testimony was that that morning he heard Bates and Ranger Captain Aldrich in Stinnett speaking about the release of Christian. He said Bates then said he got his orders only from the sheriff and the district attorney, and that the affair was "none of your business." Aldrich was quoted as saying "that's all right, but don't turn out any more of our prisoners."

Bates then, McCoy declared, said and added that he would phone the he would turn any out on orders of the county or district authorities, governor about the matter, or have someone else do it.

Ranger H. B. Purvis was the first defense eye-witness to testify. Purvis said on the evening of July 20 he was standing in front of the Borger police station when DeGraftenreid and Harrill called him over a few steps to where they stood talking. DeGraftenreid was said to have asked if Purvis had spoken to Bates about turning Christian loose. Purvis had not done so.

"Well, we'll call him out and talk it over," DeGraftenreid was asserted to have said, referring to Bates. The defendant called Bates from his chair in front of the police station. When the deputy came up DeGraftenreid is alleged to have said:

"Mr. Bates, we don't want you to release any more prisoners put in jail by the Rangers until a complaint is filed or habeas corpus proceedings are held. I mean it."

Strong Differences.

Purvis said Bates retorted: "Let me tell you something; I am taking orders from the sheriff and the district attorney and I'll release whom I please."

DeGraftenreid, the witness testified, shook his finger at Bates and said: "I mean just what I tell you."

"Bates then hit DeGraftenreid with his hand; I think it was a slap on the face," Purvis testified. Several blows were exchanged. Bates staggered back. Purvis said he did not see the Ranger strike, but he heard the blow and saw Bates reel. Then, he said, Bates got his balance and went for his gun, thrusting his coat tail backward with the motion.

DeGraftenreid fired. Purvis said Bates appeared dazed, and was saying "Don't shoot me any more."

Warned About Gun.

"Keep your hand away from your gun and you won't get shot," Purvis said he told the deputy. The slightly injured man was taken into the police station and examined.

The next defense witness was E. F. Harrill, Ranger, who was with DeGraftenreid and Purvis when Bates was called. His testimony of the conversation between DeGraftenreid and Bates was similar to that of Purvis, except that he implied stronger oaths to the deputy. Bates slapped DeGraftenreid and went for a gun before the latter fired. Cross examination developed that Bates' gun never left his holster. Harrill denied that DeGraftenreid told Bates that he must take orders from the sheriff. A lively exchange developed.

TEXAS RANGER IS ACQUITTED

Tried At LeFors On Charge Involving Deputy

the testimony of Mrs. H. M. Hood, wife of a Borger justice of the peace. She said she was about 40 feet from the scene of the shooting, and saw Bates reel backward with his right hand near his hip. She repeatedly declared she saw the light between the crook in Bates' bent arm and his body, but could not say that his hand was on his gun. District Attorney Curtis Douglas asked her many questions about the buildings nearby, for the purpose of contending that the woman was much farther than she estimated and could not have seen so clearly in the dim light.

The next witness, J. W. McCormick, former Borger deputy was asked questions intended to conflict with those of Mrs. Hood regarding her position. McCormick also testified that he ran out of the police station when he heard a shot, and that on looking about he did not see Brown or Chapman, who testified they were nearby.

Harrill Returns.

Harrill was called back and questioned by both sides. He quoted DeGraftenreid as saying, as Harrill pushed him back and told him not to fire again: "I don't want to, but don't let him get at that gun."

There was a 15-minute intermission at 9 o'clock. Then Purvis and McCormick were called back to clear up minor points, but exceptions, involving Rangers' previous testimony, were overruled, as were also some "leading questions."

Paul Jameson, Borger garage man who works across the street from the police station, was admitted as a witness after exceptions had been raised that he had overheard other witnesses and had once been arrested on a charge of vagrancy in Borger. He said he heard the shot and joined the crowd which rapidly congregated. He told of seeing Bates being taken to the police station, supported by Purvis.

Chapman, recalled, reiterated that he and Brown were sitting within 20 feet of the shooting and that both went to Bates at the same time.

Harrill was brought back to say that few people were on the street, that there were no policemen in front of the building, and that the first he saw of Brown was when the latter came from the west out of an alley after the shot was fired.

The last witness was Bates again. The district attorney introduced the trousers Bates wore July 20 as evidence, and had the latter retire and put them on.

Bates said he was six or eight feet from DeGraftenreid when the Ranger fired. He said he did not place his hand near his gun, and that his right hand was at his injured eye.

The defense, led by Judge Baldwin, objected to the introduction of the trousers as evidence, and sought to show that for the bullet to have struck on the right hand side, although DeGraftenreid was on Bates' left according to the state, Bates would have had to have been nearly facing the Ranger instead of as testified.

With the dismissal of Bates, both sides closed and Judge N. P. Willis recessed the session until 9 o'clock Saturday in order that he might prepare his charge to the jury.
