OPPONENTS TO AMEND BILL IN HOUSE

SENATE REFUSES TO PRINT REFUNDING BILL TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 6.—Vote on the resolution to submit an amendment to authorize the state to issue $212,000,000 in bonds to reimburse counties for funds expended on state highways and to accelerate new construction was delayed today when opponents exhibited a desire to amend the resolution.

The vote probably will be taken late today.

Two amandments, sponsored by Representative Hubbard of New Boston, bond issue floor leader, were adopted. Both were aimed at strengthing the right of the school fund to participate in the receipts of the gasoline sales tax. Opponents had claimed the resolution was drafted so that the schools would receive only one-fourth of the tax levied on the "business of selling gasoline,' and not in the four-cent sales tax.

Two amendments by Representative Laird of Lufkin were defeated. One would have prohibited the legislature from making appropriations from the general revenue fund to pay off the bonds. It was tabled 78 to 48. Representative Beck of Fort Worth claimed the resolution protected the general revenue fund by providing that no tax should be levied on rea and personal property to retire the bonds. Laird admitted the tax was prohibited but that nothing prevented the legislature from appropriating the taxes after they had been placed in the general revenue.

The other amendment was defeated 76 to 45. Laird said it would definitely restrict issuance of construction bonds to $100,000,000.

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—Voting 16 to 10, the senate today refused to print the Brooks highway bond refunding bill on a minority report. The motion to print was made by Senator

WAGES TALKED AT MEETING OF C OF C

GENERAL TENDENCY IS TOWARD HIGH PAY, EUROPEAN SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6 — Wages and their relation to economic equilibrium were brought before the international chamber of commerce today by Alojse Meyer of Luxemburg, president of the European steel cartel, who said the general tendency "may and should be directed toward real high wages."

He added, however, conditions in European countries differ from those in the United States and to introduce the American system of high wages in most of them would be "an extremely dangerous undertaking."

"Economics Stronger"

Economic factors, he said, are stronger than theory and "impose the measure which must not be exceeded without endangering the general economic balance of a country."

Meyer agreed with the report of Gino Olivetti, Italian delegate that the limit of high wages has been exceeded in the United States and that this "explains the attempt on the part of industrial interests to obtain an increase in customs duties."

Example Given

Citing the cases of England and Germany since the war, Meyer said the policy of high wages in those countries, although in mitigated form compared with those in America, had not given satisfactory economic results.

All Gentlemen Do Not Prefer Blondes

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—All gentlemen do not prefer blondes.

Franklin Adkins is one of those gentlemen, his wife charged in a bill for divorce on file in superior court today. She alleged that Adkins didn't notice that she was a blonde until the day they were married, and that he complained so bitterly about it that she went to a hair dyer and had herself changed into a brunette.

"It won't do," she quoted him as saying. "You are not the genuine article. You are still a blonde at heart. Once a blonde, always wrong."

Two months late they separated.

Illness Again Keeps Clara Bow From Leading Role

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 6—For the second time this year, illness has kept Clara Bow, screen flapper out of the leading role in a motion picture production.

The red-headed Clara was confined to a Glendale, Cal., sanitarium today for treatment of a nervous breakdown. Meanwhile Peggy Shannon, also red-headed, who just a week ago arrived in Hollywood from the New York stage, was rehearsing before a critical director the part Miss Bow was to have played in "The Secret Call."

Clara Bow

The rumor, first voiced by Daisy De Boe, former secretary of Miss Bow, that "one more slam in the papers would finish Clara in pictures," was quashed by Paramount-Publix officials as soon as it appeared at word of the substitution yesterday.

Daisy started the report several months ago while she was being tried on charges of stealing from Miss Bow. Before Miss De Boe's conviction, Miss Bow was taken ill and Sylvia Sidney from Broadway replaced her in a film. Miss Sidney now is a star in her own right.

Miss Bow's two physicians laid her breakdown at the door of hard work and worry—worry over the De Boe trial and the recent arrest of Fred Girnau, newspaper publisher, on federal charges of sending obscene articles through the mails. The charges were based on stories in Girnau's paper purporting to re-

CO-ED IS SHOT TO DEATH IN KENTUCKY

JAIL IS GUARDED AS PRECAUTION WHEN SUSPECTS TAKEN

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Ky., May 6—Five men were held here and two others were sought today in the slaying last night of Miss Tessie Patton, 19, co-ed at Lee's junior college.

Sheriff Lee Combs said Bryan Burchman and Odie Malone were in the county jail and that three men known only as "the Turners" were being held in the courthouse pending arrest of two unnamed suspects.

None Is Charged

None of the five was charged with the slaying.

An eleven-year-old boy, whose name was withheld, was held for the purpose of identifying one of the men now sought, Sheriff Combs said.

George Daniels, jr., driver of the car, and Thomas Meadows, another occupant, said a group of men stepped out onto the road and fired four or five shots at the automobile. One of the bullets struck the girl in the head. The youths took her back to a hospital at Jackson, where she died.

Daniels and Meadows, also students at the junior college, said they were on their way to Quicksand to get another girl and bring her back to a party at Jackson.

Bloodhounds were brought from Lexington to assist in the search.

Sheriff Combs denied that national guardsmen had been called out to guard the jail or prevent trouble. "My deputies have everything under control," he said. The jail was being guarded by a special detail of deputies lest feeling become aroused against Bryan Burcham, arrested near the scene and held for questioning, he said.

AMARILLO TO BRING BAND, BIG CROWD TO WTCC SESSION SEEKING 1932 CONVENTION; FAVORS HARTE AS PRESIDENT

"If advance plans mean anything, Amarillo will run some city a close race for the 1932 West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention," Wilbur C. Hawk, chairman of the WTCC's Panhandle district, declared here today.

In Lubbock attending a meeting of the 1931 Convention's Program of Work committee, Mr. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo Globe-News and president of the Tri-State Fair association, estimated that between 300 and 500 Amarillioans will be in Lubbock for the conclave, set this year on May 14, 15 and 16.

"We will also bring our newly acquired band of 40 pieces," Mr. Hawk stated. "It is the reorganized 'Old Gray Mare Band' recently transferred to Amarillo from Brownwood, and everybody knows what that means. The band will be directed by Wilbur Upchurch, who is at present drilling his organization with the Lubbock convention in mind."

The Amarillo delegation will not come in a special train but will make the trip by motor cars, Mr. Hawk said. The group will be led by Col. Ernest O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo; O. V. Vernon, chamber of commerce manager, and Dr. Rue P. Parcells, chamber of commerce president. A large number of the delegates will arrive in Lubbock a day before the convention opens to lay plans for the 1932 convention campaign.

The Panhande District chairman said people in his area were leaning toward Houston Harte, of San Angelo, for WTCC president during the coming year.

"Mr. Harte is not only in line for the place," Mr. Hawk said, "but has the qualifications for a great and aggressive leader. As vice-president of the organization now and with a background of years in WTCC work, we think up our way that he is the logical man for the position."

They Have Taken Honeymoon Trail Around The World

BY MARION HALE
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, —A royal rebuke to blase tourists who act sophisticated and bored by everything is the Japanese couple, Prince and Princess Takamatsu, brother and sister-in-law of the reigning Japanese Emperor.

The Prince and Princess are on the last lap of a 14 months' around-the-world honeymoon. Yet they looked out on Washington, beautiful in early springtime with its tulips and other flowers, with a young curiosity pleasing to behold.

They are the first members of Japanese royalty ever to honor the capital with a personal visit. They came with a whole royal suite, including a "master of ceremonies" and a "lady-in-waiting," yet they have the simplicity of great people combined with quiet dignity of regal blood.

She's a Dainty Princess

Princess Kikuko (meaning Chrysanthemum) is the daintiest kind of little person. She is less than five feet tall, with a waist that barely measures 17 inches and shoes size one and a half. She is pretty as a picture with classically regular features and shimmering smooth, black hair and gracious as only a Princess knows how to be.

She is as Parisian in her lovely French clothes as her husband is English in his correct London attire. In her 18 trunks—mostly filled with Paris clothes—there are many ultra-feminine costumes, chiffons and soft silks and shimmering satins in pastel colors, blues, pinks, beige, lavender and delicate off whites. Some printed ensembles are included also. She prefers fluffy but luxurious furs, natural lynx, beige, white and silver fox and chinchilla. And her several dozen hats include a predominating number of the "picture" variety, sheer delicately colored straws, some with a rose or other flower or ribbon tucked here or there for ornamentation.

Wears Bridal Necklace

Among her evening things, she looks perhaps most exquisite in a diminutive edition of an Empire gown in the most delicate of shell white, embroidered elaborately in tiny opalescent beads. With it she wears her famous diamond and platinum necklace that her bridegroom gave her, a matching bracelet of the wide, cuff variety, and a ring of one singularly lustrous pearl of huge size.

Only on two occasions, so far, has the Princess appeared in her Japanese costume of the traditional kimono. The whole suite, while in America, is doing what Americans do. Even to eating. For breakfast, the typical order from the Japanese royal couple is ham and eggs, hot rolls and coffee for the Prince, and fruit juice or fresh fruit, two soft boiled eggs, toast and coffee for the Princess.

Fortunate it is for the royal couple that they have a strong bodyguard about them. For literally hundreds of Americans have tried to gain an audience. Midgets out of jobs, theatrical performers who could use a royal okay, singers, dancers, modistes who would like to have their talent known in Tokyo.

They have granted no audiences. Asked about their around-the-world trip, they have said that Scotland reminds them most of Japan of any country they have visited, that they have eaten French cooking in most countries because the best hotels invariably have French chefs, so that they cannot speak of the national dishes of each country. Washington, because of its cherry blossoms, makes them think of home, for which they will sail across the Pacific the 26th day of May.

In addition to Mrs. Godeke, the new officers include Mrs. Royalty as first vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, second vice-president; Mrs. B. Sherrod, third vice-president; Mrs. Lamar West, recording secretary and reporter; Mrs. C. A. Burrus, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. V. Kimmel, treasurer.

Dr and Mrs. O. W. English, 2220 16th street, are the parents of a baby boy, who was born Tuesday, May 5, at the West Texas hospital.

BIDS SUBMITTED FOR NEW BRIDGE

OKAHOMA CITY, May 6 (AP)—Ten bids for the building of a free bridge over Red river, between Vernon, Texas, and Elmer, Okla., to be financed by the highway commissions of Texas and Oklahoma were opened by the Oklahoma commission yesterday, with the $126,795 bid of the George W. Condon and Company, Dallas, apparently the lowest.

The ten bidders had submitted identical bids to the Texas highway commission at Austin.

West and Womack, Fort Worth, submitted the next lowest bid, $126,217. The Highest bid, $140,785 was submitted by List and Weatherby of Kansas City. Six Texas construction concerns submitted bids.

CHARGE THREE IN BIG LIQUOR RAID

GALVESTON, May 6 (AP)—Three Italians arrested by coast guardsmen early Sunday morning when $25,000 worth of liquor which had been landed on east beach was confiscated were ordered held in $5,000 bond each by United States Commissioner W. N. Carl at preliminary hearing Tuesday.

The men were arrested by seven coast guardsmen who had been lying in hiding and observing landing operations. Two skiffs, both loaded with liquor, two trucks and a sedan also were taken, the craft from which the contraband was being loaded escaped to sea under pistol fire.

The men charged are Congetto Gracio, Antonio Valastro and Frank Raffadaly, none being American citizens.

Coastguards and customs officials still were keeping a search for the vessel Mercedes Williams, suspected as having landed the liquor. Five coast guard vessels headed by the Saranac were patrolling the gulf, while a lookout was maintained at all ports. Customs officials hoped to make arrests of "higher-ups."

Wilbur C. Hawk, of Amarillo, general manager of the Amarillo Globe-News, is in Lubbock today attending to business matters.

Miss Margie Neal, Texas' only woman senator, is backing a bill which would penalize tardy election judges.

For TEETHING troubles

FUSSY, fretful . . . . of course babies are uncomfortable at teething time! And mothers are worried because of the little upsets which come so suddenly then. But there's one sure way to comfort a restless, teething child. Castoria — made especially for babies and children! It's perfectly harmless, as the formula on the wrapper tells you. It's mild in taste and action. Yet it rights little upsets with a never-failing effectiveness.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given to tiny infants—as often as there is need. In cases of colic and similar disturbances, it is invaluable. But it has every-day uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever older children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset, a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

ASSIST PUPILS

OUR CHILDREN are approaching the end of another school term. Some are dangerously near the failing line.

Many schools send home reports every month or six weeks, and some inform parents in good time if a child has failed in one or more subjects. An occasional school or teacher never lets the parent know anything about the pupil's progress until the end of the school semester or school year. The parents of the child failing without due warning naturally are considerably disturbed.

Not only do we parents want to know definitely the nature of our children's progress in school but we owe it to our children to get into touch with the school so as to do as much as possible for the child's success.

A little help and encouragement now from home will carry many a pupil over the line. There is danger however that some parents, sensing the likelihood of failure by their child, will bring great pressure upon him, expending much emotion and nagging without really helping him. More likely they will hinder him making him more discouraged even to the point of hating school and giving up in despair.

We should remember that any real improvement must come gradually by way of more systematic study and discovery of better learning methods by the child.

As the school is generally organized, some children must be expected to fail. Once they do it is not a matter for anybody to get excited about or weep over. The only hope is in the future.

When the end of the term arrives the teacher must be the one to decide whether the child fails or passes. Many parents foolishly attempt to dictate to the teacher in such matters or to bring on her all sorts of pressure. As a rule, if the child has not done the work required by the standard of his grade, he will be handicapped still more if he is promoted.

Unfortunately there is a frequent practice of promoting pupils on probation. Such pupils, after several weeks in the next grade, are on the following term, demoted. The effect of demotion is practically always disastrous to the child and usually stirs up resentment in the parent.

I wish parents would pray to the teacher and the principal not to promote a pupil on trial, but only promote him on condition that he is to remain in the grade to which he is assigned a full school term.

I shall be glad to answer in these column questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally write me, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

USUAL METHOD OF ROASTING COFFEE MAKES FLAVOR VARY

But Controlled Roasting, Patented by Hills Bros., Prevents Variation

The elusive flavor of coffee is completely captured by a roasting process invented and used exclusively by Hills Bros.

This process roasts a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk. A constant stream of expertly blended coffees is introduced into the roaster in automatically measured lots, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. The speed of operation and temperature remain the same with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is always uniform.

The common bulk method of roasting cannot develop the uniform flavor that Hills Bros.' patented, continuous process develops. For this reason, no other coffee has the same wonderful flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee in the vacuum can which keeps it fresh always. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from this can and kept out. Coffee packed in ordinary cans, even if air-tight, does not stay fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Man Charged With Whipping His Son

The complaining witness his 7-year-old son, M. F. Collins, Lubbock gin man, faces an aggravated assault charge in county court. He is alleged of having whipped the son, Vernon Collins, too hard.

Charges were filed against Collins yesterday by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson after an investigation had been conducted by the county attorney and Sheriff Wade Hardy at the request of teachers in the Sanders school, which the boy attends.

The child's back, from his shoulders to his hips, bore lacerations and bruises, County Attorney Wilson said. The boy told his teacher and officers that his father whipped him with a gin belt yesterday morning. Vernon said he was punished for leaving the breakfast table before other members of the family.

The New 1932 Goodrich Silvertown Tires. Read Facts!

FROM THE TESTING ROOM COMES A TIRE . . . . . 58% BETTER

The Goodrich purpose hasn't changed. Test, test, improve. WEAR tires out—Discover their faults! Get the facts, overcome their faults, and weaknesses—the result! In five years the durability of the Silvertown has been increased 58 per cent.

In the Goodrich factory is constructed a testing machine that will wear out tires ten times faster, than use on automobiles. This testing machine is a large wheel, higher than a man's head, and on the rim, deep cleats of steel stick out.

Under pressure of 1,500 pounds, a tire is forced against the cleated rim. A lever is pulled, and the steel monster begins to turn.

Faster and faster. Another lever is pulled—and the tire is skidded on the cleats of steel, every cord fiber strained and stretched.

This is released and the tire is whirled at 18,000 revolutions an hour. 450 times a minute the steel cleats strike it, each time with a blow of 10,700 pounds.

And on midnight roads ten speeding cars gleam if they should happen to see them, as the Silver Millions of American people will recognize them, is they should happen to see them, as the Silver fleet which two years ago startled the country by its 30,000 mile record-making test of Silvertowns.

The Silver Fleet still lives, new cars of course—and some new drivers. But still the Silver Fleet.

The Silver Fleet travels a more limited course but a tougher schedule. It is on the road 24 hours a day. Driving 650 miles per day, per car. Ten cars make 6,500 miles of tire testing each day between sun and sun-up.

There under the relentless eyes of science, Goodrich Silvertowns run the gamut test on the steel wheel in the factory—and 24 hours the ten Silver Fleet cars grind 650 miles, and after five years of testing, testing, and proving, building and testing again, you are presented a tire that has a tried and tested record of 58 per cent improvement.

"AND YOU CAN BUY THE GAMBLE-PROOF SILVERTOWN, THE 58 PER CENT BETTER SILVERTOWN, AT THE PRICE OF ANY STANDARD TIRE."

To the people of the South Plains we present to you a greater new improved quality for your driving needs and safety. We thrilled to say more tire safety for the tire dollars.

SPYING ON SPORTS

ranking immediately below the state championship tournament itself, and almost on a par with it, the West Texas Golf association's annual tournament scheduled this year over the Lubbock Country club course promises to show West Texans some of the best golf in the southwest. An entry field of between 300 and 400 golfers is expected to enter the qualifying rounds Thursday, May 21, for the biggest links attraction ever to come to Lubbock.

From as far east as Dallas, south as Eagle Pass, west as El Paso and north as Dalhart, ambitious golfers will gather here to take a crack at the crown now supported by Dennis Lavender of Abilene and for the other prizes offered. The daily press over the territory is devoting worthy space to the attraction and with anything like decent weather prevailing the tournament here should be one of the best anywhere. The competition will be keen and the field large.

This department became entangled in an argument with another hired hand at this labor emporium this morning over the choice of a winner in the West Texas Golf association tournament, and we were dared to make public our choice. We're not a betting man but we offered to pit our antique collar button against his collection of broken knife handles that we could pick a winner. He wouldn't go for that, being proud of his collection, but he did offer to risk it on his own choice against ours. So he picks Bohannon of Abilene and we chose Dick Metz of San Angelo, the one to go farther in the joust than the other.

Bohannon has played in previous West Texas tournaments and has quite a neat record. It is doubtful if he is better than his fellow townsman, Dennis Lavender, defending title holder, but you can never tell how a golf tournament is going to turn out. Metz is the professional at the San Angelo club and has never played in the West Texas affair. He hails from East Texas where he is recognized as one of the better class golfers. He traveled a neat distance in the recent Texas open and should be among the leading contenders here.

Lubbock will be represented by a fair group of golfers in the joust here. The local clubs, Lubbock Country club and the Meadowbrook Golf club, together can place a team on the field which will give all the visitors a first class argument. There are the two professionals, W. J. Byrne and Bill McMillan, either of whom is a good bet for the first flight. Then there is Clint Bussey, winner of the West Texas crown in 1929. While there is some argument as to the latter's status at the Country club, it would be exceedingly wise for the player and the club to get together in their ideas and bend their mutual efforts toward bringing the crown back to Lubbock. Bussey is a crack golfer and is needed in the local delegation.

There's a field of new faces on the Lubbock courses this season and some of them are due to get somewhere in the tournament. Over at the Country club there is Gibson Payne, perhaps the best golfer in Lubbock today. In him does the club stake most of its individual faith. He played alongside of Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood here recently and was right in the midst of things. A sensational driver and equally good with his approaches and putter, Payne is due to give somebody trouble.

At the Meadowbrook is a group of college golfers who have been claiming a lot of attention this spring. In Big Bill Holmes, the Shamrock lad, Lubbock and West Texas possesses a golfer that is full of potential tournament victories. He has won everything he has started in the way of tournaments at the Meadowbrook and stands at the head of the class. It is hoped that he will play for Lubbock, being a student here, though civic pride may call him to the side of the Shamrock team. Bill has a brother, Lyle Holmes, who is almost as good as the Meadowbrook champion and student title holder. Speck Koger is another Techite who has been shooting a mean ball over the Meadowbrook course.

Now to end this golfing barrage we reproduce a paragraph from LeRoy Menzing's Fort Worth Star-Telegram Pare for Fans, in which he tells of the Pauper's Country club—that's the official name—which has been formed at Sheffield, Ala., with a nine-hole course, a borrowed clubhouse and life membership fee of 60 cents. And who said golf was expensive? The upkeep problem of the Pauper's club has been solved by the assigning of two members to each green. Knickers are barred and not more than three clubs are allowed a player. A fourth or fifth club, or possibly a sixth may be used by paying a fine of 7 to 21 cents, depending upon the club. Numbers are taboo on the course, and the holes are named instead of numbered. They are, in order, Coolidge's Pocket, Hoover's Veto, Poverty Knob, Poisoned Liquor, Potter's Field, Government Dole, Soldier's Bonus, Farm Relief and Suicide Pact.

ROOKIE STARS AS PHILLIES DEFEATED

CHASE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE TIGHTENS AROUND THE TOP

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Where, Boston fans are asking today, has this Wesley Schulmerich been for the last three weeks?

They had their first glimpse of Wes just two days ago when he appeared in right field for the Braves and knocked in a run that helped beat the Phillies, 4 to 3. They saw him for the second time yesterday when he hit a homer in the sixth and then tripled in the ninth to drive in the score that licked the Phils again, 5 to 4.

Riding Bench

The big outfielder, who hit .377 for Los Angeles last season, has been riding the bench ever since the Braves got home from the south. The report got out that he couldn't hit a curve ball. Evidently the Phillies forgot to serve him benders in the last two games.

The National league race tightened around the top as the Giants made it two straight from Brooklyn, 8 to 0, and the Cardinals were idle for the second time. Only a half-game separated them today. Freddie Fitzsimmons held the Robins to three hits.

Hold To Third

Chicago's Cubs clung to third place by downing Cincinnati again, 8 to 4. They scored all their runs in the first three innings off Frey and Benton. Sweetland's lead was never in danger.

There was another rapid change of scenery in the American league as the Washington Senators took a one-sided trimming from the Yankees and dropped from second place to fifth, while the champion Athletics took advantage of the excitement to move into third place.

Babe Gets Double

In winning their first game from the Senators since early last September, 18 to 8, the Yanks pounded four pitchers for 19 hits, including homers by Gehrig and Reese. Babe Ruth cleared the bases with a mighty double in the second inning.

George Earnshaw turned in his second brilliant performance in five days as the Athletics defeated the Red Sox, 4 to 1. He allowed only six hits, one of them a homer by Earl Webb, and struck out ten.

Cleveland held its two-game advantage over the field by outscoring the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 6. Burnett, Averill and Fonseca led a 17-hit assault in three Brown pitchers, the latter hitting a homer.

Long distance hitting and Urban Faber's fine relief hurling featured the White Sox 7 to 3 victory over Detroit. Faber allowed only one hit and no runs after relieving Frasier in the fifth inning.

Risko Wins Decision Over Max Baer In 10-Round Go

CLEVELAND BAKER BOY WINS BOUT

Johnny Risko, veteran fighter and one time Cleveland baker boy, last night won a ten-round decision over young Max Baer of California. Risko is shown below.

TOUTED CALIFORNIAN LOSES TO VETERAN AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, May 6. (AP)—Young Max Baer, the touted Californian, had another reverse to show today in his heavyweight campaign.

The Los Angeles lad found the experience of the veteran Johnny Risko too much for him last night and lost a 10-round decision to the one time Cleveland baker boy.

Baer rocked the Clevelander with a fusillade of strong rights in the first round but Risko came back to win the second, hold his own in good shape through the eighth and punch out a winning edge in the last two frames. The two judges, Larry Norette and Herb Williams, agreed on the decision. Johnny Kilbane was the referee.

Risko, fighting for the fourth time in five weeks, was worsted in the close milling, but did the most damage at long range. He pounded away at Max's head throughout, with the Californian concentrating on a stiff body attack. They clinched frequently in the losing rounds, and Risko built up the telling margin in breaking away.

Baer, who weighed 204, had a nine-pound advantage.

THREE-WAY DEADLOCK FOR LEAD IN INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL AT TECH

Defeated for the first time in nine starts, the Freshman team of the Engineer League lost a 35 to 32 decision to the Liberal Arts League champions, the Fish Artists, and went into a three-way deadlock for first place in the Texas Tech intramural basketball standing last night. Fighting savagely in the last few minutes of the game, the Fish Artists, undefeated champions of the Liberal Arts League until they ran into the Sophomore Aggies in the final round of play, overcame a 7-point lead that faced them as the second half begun and rallied to take what is so far the most important game of the season with two points to spare.

In another game last night the Soph Aggies, winners over the Artists and losers to the Engineers, defeated the Army team and went into a tie with the Freshman teams for the leadership. W. L. "Crip" Golightly, director of intramural basketball, said last night that a championship of the campus would be decided by a series of elimination games but did not name a definite date for the championship games.

Favorites all through the first round of the double round robin schedule to win the championship having come undefeated through six league games, the Frosh Artists fell before a surprise attack of the Sophomore Aggies in one of the first games of the championship round, winning their second game over the Army, however, to get back in the running. Meanwhile the Fish Engineers won their two championship round games, defeating the Army and Soph Aggies, and stood in line for a campus championship by winning last night's game, thereby passing an undefeated season. They lost their first game in nine starts last night, evening things with the Frosh Artists.

Taking the court with dope pointing either way last night immediately after the Soph Aggies had drubbed the Army, the two Fish teams battled lustily throughout with the Engineers piling up an 18 to 11 lead before the first half ended. But the Artists, coached by Ernest Dowell who played a neat game himself last night, came out fighting and managed to tie the count with four minutes left to play. It was see-saw for a few minutes, but toward the last, "Bulldog" Hale Artists' star center, dropped in a pair of field goals that spelled disaster to the Engineers' hopes of passing an undefeated season. The Engineers had been putting up a fine battle all the way but they failed to improve with the Arts crew toward the last, choosing to take things in the regular course.

Lefty Bryant and Hale divided high point honors, the former with five field goals and three free shots and Hale with half a dozen field goals, for the Artists, while "Little" Owens for the Engineers topped them all with seventeen points. The latter has been one of the most important factors in the Engineers' record.

Here's One For The Books—26 Batters In The 9th Inning

MONMOUTH, Ill., May 6. (AP)—It happened in a college baseball game, but here's one for the books.

In the ninth inning of the Bradley-Monmouth game yesterday, both teams staged such stirring rallies that 13 batters strode to the plate for each team in the inning. Scott of Monmouth struck out with the bases loaded and two out in the final free-for-all inning so Bradley won, 17 to 14.

CATS' MARGIN REDUCED BY BUFFALOES

SPORTS LICK INDIANS TWICE IN A ROW; STEERS WIN

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Phelan's Fort Worth Cats, pacing the Texas league flag chase, were knocked off the pennant fence for the second consecutive time Tuesday night by the Houston Buffaloes.

Monday night, George Washington Payne of the Buffs stopped the cats 7 to 5, and Tuesday night the five hit pitching of E. Hansen clipped another point or so from the Cats league lead, 1 to 0. Hansen struck out four and walked three to put his mates within a game and half of first place.

Sports Lick Indians

If the San Antonio Indians nursed an idea they were going to ride one of baseball's so-called gravy trains when the Shreveport Sports arrived in the Alamo city, they have had a chance to switch their minds. For the second straight time the Sports have licked the Indians. Tuesday night it was a 6 to 2 trick with Oscar Estrada, Cuban southpaw, holding the Indians to nine hits. The veteran Tom Estell started for San Antonio but his spitball delivery was hammered hard by the Sports who collected five runs and seven hits in six innings. It was the Sports sixth win and left them only a game behind Galveston for seventh place.

Dallas Steers Win

After going along several days as a throwback to the hitless wonders, the Dallas Steers lugged their war clubs to the plate Tuesday and chiseled hits enough to sink the Galveston Buccaneers, 6 to 2. While his mates cracked out fifteen hits, George Murray, ace right hander of the Dallas staff, pitched one of the really excellent games of the season holding the Buccaneers to five hits. Leo Cotter, first sacker, and Al Todd, recruit catcher, led the Dallas attack with three and four hits respectively.

Beaumont had to be satisfied with an even split against Wichita Falls. The Spudders grabbed the opener, 5 to 3. In winning the Spudders sent Muleshoe Tom Vaughan down for his first defeat this season.

The Exporters lost no time winning the nightcap affair. They found Florrid's mound offerings to their taste and walloped him for four runs in the first inning to win, 4 to 3.

Three Men Selected As Scratch Players

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—Charles "Chick" Evans, Johnny Lehman and Jack Westland have been named as the only "scratch" players in the Chicago region by the Chicago District Golf association.

Evans held the Western Amateur championship eight times, the National Amateur and the National Open titles once each. Westland was former holder of the French open and Lehman is present holder of the Western Amateur crown.

WITH NO MORE AMATEUR TITLES TO WIN, WOMAN BECOMES PROFESSIONAL GOLFER; TO TEACH MEN AND WOMEN

ST. LOUIS, May 6. (AP)—With no more amateur titles here abouts for her to win, Miss Virginia Pepp has become St. Louis' first woman golf professional.

Miss Pepp, five times winner of the St. Louis district women's championship and numerous other titles, next week will join the group of instructors at the Triple A club here, instructing both men and women.

"I believe I can hold my own with the men," Miss Pepp, who virtually taught herself the game and first won the district title in 1922 at the age of 17, told an interviewer today. "I think I have enough ability as a player to prove to golfers there is a field for women on the links as well as in other professions."

Miss Pepp decided to turn professional, she said, because she already had won every title available here "and I feel I owe it to myself to capitalize on my ability while at the top of my game."

A stylist of the game, she shoots an average score of around 80. Two of her brothers, Frank and John, are professionals.

While not the first woman golf professional, golfers here said today she probably was the first at a semi-public club for both men and women, such as the Triple A.

PREPARE FIELD FOR GAME HERE

Coach W. L. "Crip" Golightly and his band of workers and players are working early and late this week in preparation for the invasion Friday night of the House of David baseball team. The Tech baseball field is being repaired and is rapidly taking on the appearance of a real diamond. Bleachers from the football field are being moved to the site of the first night baseball game on the Plains and wire netting is being placed around the infield. Besides that, the boys who will make up the opposing team are working out daily.

The House of David team whiskers long hair and all, managed by Grover Cleveland Alexander, star of major league baseball and hero of world's series, will arrive in Lubbock Friday morning. A caravan of large trucks and automobiles transports the great portable lighting equipment which is guaranteed to light a baseball field so that night games as well as daytime contests may be seen, and the players. They will spend the afternoon working out while a crew of 16 men erect the towers which support high powered lights. Alexander has promised to appear before the Lubbock and South Plains fans as moundsman for the visitors.

The team to meet the House of David aggregation from Benton Harbor, Mich., is composed almost wholly of Tech college baseball players all of whom would probably be playing on the Matador varsity team if such existed. Proceeds of the game, for which admission charges will be 50 and 75 cents, will go toward furnishing the varsity men's club room at the Texas Tech gymnasium.

The next time a dealer urges you to buy an unknown substitute product for an advertised brand and he tells you . . .

"Yes m'am, it's just as good and cheaper"

● ask him this Question . .

"How much more profit do you make on this item over the advertised brand?"

If he tells you no additional profit, then ask him how many free cans, bottles, or whatever it happens to be, he receives with every order. If he will tell the truth, you will find that he either makes a much greater profit on the substitute, unadvertised product or he receives many free cans with every order, which is just a round-about way of increasing his profit. He has to make more money in one way or another, because he must spend his own time in creating for the product a demand that does not exist. The first question a dependable dealer asks when offered a new product is, "Do you plan to tell my customers about your product by advertising?" He knows that to sell his goods profitably there must be a consumer demand larger than he could create himself.

People who endeavor to substitute unadvertised brands argue that they can sell their goods cheaper because no money is spent in advertising. The principle of mass production refutes this argument. High quality at today's low cost is possible only by mass production. Mass production is possible only by advertising. The cost of good advertising is extremely low. Take, for instance, a well-known brand of soap. It sells for $0.07 and to advertise it costs $0.002 (one-fifth of 1c). Since advertising adds so little to the cost, could unadvertised brands sell so cheaply unless the quality was cheap, too? Save yourself money by refusing unknown substitutes. Insist upon known brands of known quality.

Thought For Today

And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity.—Ezekiel 14:10.

Punishment is a fruit that, unsuspected, ripens within the flower of the pleasure that concealed it. —Emerson.

Speed And Disease

A room in one of the largest hospitals of a middle-western American city has been placed under quarantine because it contains a patient suffering with a rare but deadly oriental disease; and while the news may not seem especially remarkable it does point to a new problem with which the recent improvement in human communications has presented the world.

The victim, in this case, is a returned traveler who fell ill, in America, of distomiasis, a disease contracted in the interior of Korea and heretofore practically unheard-of in this country. Specialists in oriental diseases, at the Johns Hopkins and Tulane Universities, would like to examine the sufferer; but distomiasis is highly communicable, and he cannot be moved for fear of spreading the infection.

Usually we take it for granted that faster transportation between nation and nation is an unalloyed boon. Men can get from America to China now in a fortnight (or possibly less), whereas the trip used to take three months or more. A triumph over space. A magnificent time-saver? Undoubtedly; but also a new problem that will keep wise men furrowing their brows for another century.

For if men can make the journey quickly and easily, so can disease germs. Pestilences heretofore confined to Siberian villages and Amazonian jungles can now appear in New York and Chicago. Germs that have remained in the world's backwaters can now emigrate and find new frontiers in America and Europe. Distomiasis, for example, can be a world-problem and not just one for Korea.

All of this is just one more reminder that no man, in this modern era, can live to himself. We have the whole world for our next-door neighbors now, and not just the inhabitants of our own country. Isolation between two broad oceans has ceased to mean anything.

Thus the health department of a city in the American interior has to worry over a malady heretofore confined to a small peninsula on the coast of Asia. Over-production in the rubber factories of Akron can mean starvation to native workers in the Malay peninsula. The starting of cotton textile factories by the Nationalists of India can ruin an industry in Great Britain. The meat exports of the Argentine can spell hard times to cattle raisers in Wyoming. Farmers in the American wheat belt are suffering because Europe's peasants are raising bigger crops than they did a decade ago.

So it goes. Fling a stone at a native chief in mid-Africa and you are apt to knock the plug hat from the head of an industrialist in Detroit. There are no "purely local" problems any more. Every event has international consequences.

The Field Narrows

It begins to look as if circumstances were conspiring to keep the Prince of Wales a bachelor. The fall of the royal house of Spain has taken from the list of maidens eligible to become his bride two princesses—the Infantas Beatrice and Christina. Wales can marry only a princess; and princesses are growing fewer and fewer.

Perhaps, in the end, an expedition will have to be made to permit Wales to marry a "commoner". Or will he remain a bachelor all his life, and permit his charming sister-in-law, the Duchess of York, eventually to become queen of England? There are times when it looks very much as if that would happen.

Failing to find work a despondent college graduate is reported to have eaten his diploma. To be sure, it represents a good many courses.

That Girl on Broadway says every man's a hero in his own home —until the company leaves!

THE PLAINSMAN spent Sunday in Austin for no particular reason except that the Associated Press was having a meeting and there's no use belonging to the Associated Press if you don't associate with the association from time to time. Anyway, The Plainsman was down at the capital city and the Bluebonnets looked mighty fine.

Incidentally, the legislature is having a big time down that way and if you tried to shake a stick at all the lobbyists on the sidelines you'd soon have rheumatism. Those with axes to grind are busier than a one-armed paperhanger with the itch.

The legislature is busy now trying to cut college salaries after having passed—or paved the way to passing all the revenue-bearing bills they could think of down there. Last Friday or Saturday they wasted about $500 of the state's time deciding on cutting some poor University of Texas professor from $4,250 per year to $4,000. That's economy as it's defined in some localities.

WHILE the statesmen from the forks of the creek are splitting infinitives from day to day, the City of Austin is pushing a vast improvement program in which more than $5,000,000 is being spent. They're widening the streets, doing a lot of paving and adding to sewer lines all over the city. When they get through Austin is going to be one of the prettiest and most convenient cities in the South, residents claim.

The Plainsman dropped up to say 'howdy' to Pink Parrish, who was slightly under the weather. The portly Senator said he had had a bad cold for several days but didn't go to bed until Sunday. He expected to be back on the job last Monday morning.

Pink has lost a lot of weight but aside from being around 100 pounds slimmer than he was a year ago, he looks and acts about the same. While declining to say whether he meant to run for Congress when the redistricting bill is passed, he opined that there would be lots of raging, roaring and gnashing of teeth before the bill is finally made a law. Pink didn't say so, but there are so many legislators planning to run for Congress that it's going to be hard to suit them all.

YOU boys that smoke cigarets and who'll start paying through the nose on the 3-cent cigaret tax in a few weeks, can thank the powerful sulphur lobby for your predicament, according to the newspaper correspondents on duty at Austin. The dozen reporters covering the legislature for the press associations and the metropolitan newspapers of Texas are almost united in the belief that had the sulphur tax gone on the books there would have been no tax on cigarets.

Governor Sterling, according to those same correspondents, is learning that politics is two-sided. The chief executive has followed in office the same impersonal trend he followed in the campaign and has adopted a "hands off" policy toward the activities of the legislature. People who praised him for sitting tight during the drive for votes and making the other candidates come to him are among those rapping him for sticking to his office while the tides roll and roar in the house and senate. He has not made of himself the dominant political power that he was in business circles, bystanders at the capital report. But maybe he is right.

FOLKS who are interested in rain will be glad to hear that from Lubbock, all the way to Austin the fields are green and rainfall has been both generous and general. The state department of agriculture reports that the whole state has better crop and range prospects than in years.

That Man on Avenue Q says men who don't pay as they go seldom go very far.

Life is too short to waste time hating everybody.

A LUBBOCK girl had a date the other night and after the show was standing on her father's front porch, talking to 'the boy friend'. Hearing the muffled conversation, her mother called out:

"Daughter! Who's down there with you?"

"Just one of the boys from the college," was the answer.

"Come in this house right away", the mother commanded, "and bring the porch swing with you!"

Two men were shot to death near Dallas recently as the climax to an argument over a debt of $1.50. Even in this advanced age, a value of 75 cents per human life is a little low, as The Plainsman sees it.

Bob Murray has the sanest solution to business depression The Plainsman has heard. "Give us $1 wheat and 15 cent cotton", says Bob, "and it'll all be over." All we've got to do now is to get somebody to give us those prices!

Equalization Fee And Export Debenture Are Not Dead; Will Be Revived At Next Congress Unless Prices Rise

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 6 — The equalization fee and the export debenture, famous proposals for agricultural relief which were supposed to have been snuffed out as political issues, will be brought to life in the next Congress unless farm prices take a miraculous upward swing such as no one expects.

Thousands of letters have been coming into Washington urging one plan or the other. Advices from the winter wheat belt say that farmers for the first time are displaying interest in them. While the farm bloc was making its loudest roars here and forcing the measures through to defeat by presidential veto or pressure it was often said that most farmers didn't know what the two plans provided and didn't care much as long as wheat was selling around a dollar a bushel.

Lately however, wheat has been shooting down below 60 cents and other grain prices have been the lowest in many years. The farmers have been demanding action and requests also are being received for information about the equalization fee and the export debenture in which so many were previously uninterested.

Borah Promises Fight

Senator Borah of Idaho has promised to launch a fight for the export debenture and Senator Norbeck of South Dakota has promised to introduce a bill carrying the equalization fee principle in case Chairman McNarry of the Senate Committee on Agriculture doesn't reintroduce his old McNary-Haugen bill.

Both plans are designed to meet the problem created by enormous exportable surpluses which depress prices and prevent farmers from benefiting from the tariff—which in the case of wheat is 42 cents a bushel.

Under the McNary-Haugen bill —which either will be reintroduced or succeeded by a bill quite similar —Congress would have created government corporations which would buy from the open market the surpluses of such commodities as wheat cotton livestock and tobacco, paying the "world price" plus the amount of our tariff on the particular commodity. Thus, if the price at Liverpool were 60 cents a bushel the government corporation would pay a farmer $1.02 a bushel. The corporation would buy wheat until an "American price" of $1.02 was established in the domestic market for all wheat. The farmer would actually receive that price, minus the equalization fee.

Would Sell Abroad

The corporation would then sell its wheat abroad at whatever price it could get. It would, of course, probably lose about 42 cents a bushel on all wheat thus bought and sold. Through the equalization fee that loss would be charged to the farmer on each bushel or other unit of his crop. The Federal Farm Board proposed in the McNary-Haugen bill would have estimated probable costs and losses and then have determined and announced the amount of the equalization fee to be collected on each unit. It was left to the board to decide in the case of each commodity whether the fee should be collected at the time of transportation, process or sale.

The McNary-Haugen bill was passed by Congress in 1927 and 1928 and was twice vetoed by President Coolidge on the ground that it was impractical unconstitutional and class legislation. Coolidge contended that such a law would stimulate production and defeat its own purpose, although that argument had previously been countered with the assertion that in that case the automatically increasing equalization fees would deter farmers from increasing acreage.

Exporters Would Benefit

Under the export debenture plan farmers or co-operatives exporting would receive from the government certificates or "debentures" worth the amount of our tariff on the quantity exported. Anyone who exported a thousand bushels of wheat, for example, would received certificates worth $420. The government would not cash the certificates, but would accept them in payment of import duties and the assumption is that importers would be glad to buy them at approximately face value. As with the McNary-Haugen measure, the theory is that the debenture plan would immediately throw wheat into the export market until the American price had reached the "world price" plus the amount of the tariff.

Past debenture proposals have provided flexible debenture rates so that they might be reduced in case of undue increase in production.

President Hoover has been as firmly opposed to the debenture scheme as he and President Coolidge were to the equalization fee. In the last Congress the Senate adopted one variant of the plan and finally wrote it into the tariff bill from which it was eliminated by administration pressure when the bill went to conference with the House.

KNOWLEDGE OF GLANDS

Most of the diseases due to ductless gland disturbance are rare. Fortunately we do not have a great many giants, whose excessive growth is due to the pituitary gland, nor precocious young people whose early adult development is due to disease of the pineal gland.

Dr. Clendening

Great advances have been made in our knowledge of these glands in the last twenty-five years, and even in the last five years. During the latter period the two glands whose study has yielded the the parathyroid and the adrenal glands. Interesting and valuable as these studies are, however, the diseases which involve these glands are not frequently seen, so the information we have will not vitally benefit any large number of people.

The parathyroid glands are four in number and lie at each corner behind the thyroid gland. Our first knowledge of their functions came when the science of thyroid surgery was new and operators in removing the thyroid accidentally removed the parathyroids also. When this occurred a peculiar spasm affected the muscles. The condition was called tetany. It was found that calcium injected in the blood stream or given by mouth would in a certain extent relieve the muscular spasms.

It was also found that many children who had rickets developed tetany. Rickets, of course, is a disease of the bones particularly and consists of a lack of calcium being deposited in the bones. Tetany was also found to occur in mothers during the period of nursing the baby when the calcium of the blood was drawn on to give to the milk. So the idea became firmly established that tetany was caused by changes in the metabolism (nutrition) of calcium.

Tetany is a disease in which both the secretion of the parathyroids is absent and the calcium of the blood is decreased. The administration of calcium helped it some, but not very much. When calcium was given by mouth it was excreted by the kidneys too soon to have any action. What seemed to be needed was the secretion of the parathyroids to fix the calcium in the body. And up to a few years ago an active extract of the glands had not been isolated. Then Dr. Collip in Montreal announced an active parathyroid hormone. When this is given along with calcium, the spasm of the muscles in tetany disappears.

So much for our advance in knowledge of absence or decrease of parathyroid secretion. What happened when the parathyroid secretion was increased. Nobody knew two years ago. There was a very rare and peculiar disease of the bones called multiple myeloma. In this disease tumors or growths formed in different bones and at such points the bones became soft or fractured. Nobody knew much about this disease. One day a patient who was afflicted with it told his doctor (this was in St. Louis) that he had an enlargement at the base of the neck. The doctor examined him and confirmed the finding. He had a surgeon take this enlargement out; when it was put under the microscope it was seen to be a diseased parathyroid gland.

After the operation the softness of the patient's bones began to take on normal hardness, even the tumors in the bones disappeared. The bones! a clue took shape. The bones are made of calcium. Calcium, tetany, after removal of the parathyroids! Bone change, or in other words calcium change, where there is too much parathyroid secretion! We thus now know the symptoms of both over-activity and under-activity of the parathyroid glands.

When all the blue laws are repealed, that will be a red-letter day in American history.

Alfonso is said to be destitute of funds. So the king at last is 'check'-mated.

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, May 6—The first warm days bring out Manhattan's steeplejacks and vermin-chasers.

The latter are considerably in the majority. They are demanded particularly in those sections of the East Side where rats and mice seem to go into winter quarters. Greenwich Village has its share of rodents, too; so has the Bronx.

But in the flagpole squad, one of the most famous is a steeplejack by the name of Robert Merrill. And New York being what it is, here's a man who really worked from the bottom up, for he once had decided to be a deep sea diver and followed that trade for years.

Encountering Merrill ready to go perching above the St. Regis hotel, he informed me that most of the men in his trade happen to be Scandinavians. But his own birthplace chances to be Arizona, though his immediate ancestors are New Englanders who followed the sea until they trekked westward.

Merrill became acquainted with the heights while in the role of a parachute jumper and there are few things he has not undertaken.

"You see," he began, "my father was a whaler—owned a ship running out of New Bedford in the days when whalers were whalers. Just about the gold rush days—in '49—he went around the horn and wound up in San Francisco. His crew joined the gold rush crowd, and being unable to get another crew together, he abandoned the ship and there it rotted.

"My father drifted from there to Arizona, buying a ranch just outside of Tucson. Well, I started right out with a sea urge, ran away from home when a kid and reached San Francisco, where I stowed away on a Panama ship. I wanted to get to New Bedford, having neard my dad's whaling yarns. For 12 years I was on an old whaler and then quit and went to a merchantman. Then I became a deep sea diver.

"And it's because I was a seafaring man so long that I've made good in New York as a steeplejack. You see, the old whalers were all sailing ships, and I got accustomed to running around in the rigging. Flagpole climbing is a cinch, even at my age, for one who has played around in the skysail yards.

"I started by painting the spire of a church in Boston. But this seemed monotonous and being accustomed to the high spots, I became a parachute jumper, going around to country fairs.

"While in the show business, I went with a fair to Paris. It went broke. It so happened that they had a job of repairing way up near the tip of the Eiffel tower. This was duck soup for me, and paid good money because they couldn't find anyone who could stand the dizzying heights.

"Funny—that attracted so much attention that I got quite a rep. James Gordon Bennett, the old New York publisher, happened to be there and later he introduced me to Cleveland Moffatt. Moffatt was going to be made Sunday editor of Bennett's paper and they wanted me to tell stories for the feature section. Moffatt used me in a book some time later.

"What's the toughest flagpole job in New York—well, let's see? Well, one day about two in the afternoon I got a call to go over to Grand Central Palace. They wanted me to take down a flagpole in a hollow square there and have it ready for shipment early the next morning. The darn thing weighed almost a ton—at least 600 pounds—and all my rigging was downtown. You had to make six cuts to get it down, and through iron strips. But down it was by three in the morning."

Which, by the way, is just a sidelight on the strange and interesting people you're likely to encounter in this man's town.

The king of Siam went backstage to congratulate the beautiful Lily Pons after her opera performance. There's not so much wrong with his majesty's eyesight as we thought.

Gandhi says he is not coming to the United States. Perhaps he's frightened at tales of our vanishing Indians.

When Alfonso was in London recently a newspaper there reported he lacked funds. Poor fellow—he didn't even have a crown.

The hole that boys who hook school usually get themselves into is the old swimming hole.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The watermelon didn't last so very long. The bunch ate fast, until the Travel Man exclaimed, "For goodness sakes don't stuff. If any more you Tinies take, I know you'll have a tummyache. Let's journey on our merry way. You all have had enough."

"Oh, my, you're right," one Tiny said. "I'm getting dizzy in the head. I wish we had some place to rest. I cannot walk around." And then he added, "Listen, boys! I thought I heard a funny noise. I think it was some music. Gee, I wish it could be found."

They all stood quiet for a while and then wee Clowny spread a smile. "It was some music," he exclaimed. "I see the players. My, just look! They're coming down the street. Perhaps they'll give us all a treat. At least I'm going to ask them ere they saunter right on by."

When Clowny ran up to the men he spread a real broad smile and then said, "Won't you kindly play for us? I'll do a little dance." One player answered, "Sure we will." The music started. What a thrill. Then Clowny made the whole crowd laugh when he began to prance.

The Travel Man soon tipped the men and they were on their way again. All of a sudden Carpy jumped and cried, "Hey, come with me. I see a sight that you will like. It's just a little Chinese tike. Let's go and say hello to him. He's cute as he can be."

'Course Clowny was the first to get up to the child. He said, "Don't fret. I am not going to hurt you." Then he called to all the rest, "Come shake hands with this little lad. I know that that will make him glad. He'll likely like each one of you, but he will like me best."

(The Tinymites travel on a queer street in Soochow, in the next story.)

The War Department is trying to find out the names of 28 living American war aviators. Aces are called for.

These girl ball players breaking into the minor leagues may not do so well at bat, but they make a hit with the fans.

Girl Scouts Go To Jail; Is Clubhouse

MANAWA, Wis., May 6 (AP)— Girl Scouts in this village are going to the calaboose, not because they are bad, but because they are good.

The id stone jail which the city fathers decided wasn't needed any more, is being remodeled into a clubhouse for the Girl Scouts, leaving Manawa without a lockup.

In the rear is a cell which the scouts also will modernize as soon as they can get it open. It was locked with a padlock when the last tenant was released and nobody has yet been able to find the key.

Home-made "medicines", said to have filming propensities, caused many girls in the Bristol district of England to go to the hospital for treatment.

You, too, can now have whiter washes—easily!

HERE'S a hard-water soap that practically does the wash for you. Loosens dirt so that all you need to do is rinse. Clothes soak so white, you don't need to bother about boiling.

This way saves the clothes. Washes them much, much whiter, too. Safely.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Thick, lasting suds—even in hardest water. And no softener needed! Great, either in tub or machine. The makers of 38 famous washers recommend it. Get the BIG package. Try Rinso for dishes—it loosens grease like magic.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 1 point lower under overnight selling orders.

They were absorbed by covering and a little buying on the relatively steady showing at Liverpool but the demand was limited and the market soon eased further under increased offerings promoted by the lower opening of the stock market. July contracts, after selling up from 9.80 to 9.84, broke to 9.76 while December sold off from 10.42 to 10.35, with the general list showing net declines of about 5 to 8 points at the end of the first half hour.

Trading in May has become very quiet. Three notices were issued this morning, which were without any apparent effect and the interest in that position is believed to have been much reduced.

Liverpool cables said continental buying had absorbed Manchester selling in that market and reported fair sales of cotton cloths to India and South America with an improved demand for yarns. The Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 12 to 25 points lower and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 5 points lower.

Selling pressure increased somewhat later in the morning and the decline extended to 9.70 for July and 10.28 for December. Offerings appeared to come principally from Liverpool, New Orleans and local sources and may have been promoted by the continued weakness of the stock market. The demand was limited chiefly to trade buying or covering on the scale down.

The weekly report of the weather bureau stating that conditions in genera. have been too cool for cotton with germination slow was considered unfavorable but had no apparent effect on the market. Around noon the market was quiet and ruling about 8 to 12 points net lower or within a point or two of the early lows.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 6. (AP)—Cotton experienced rather a quiet and somewhat easier opening here today. Liverpool cables were hardly as good as due and first trades showed losses of one to two points. The market eased off further after the start in sympathy with lower stocks. July trading down to 9.78 and October to 10.13, or eight points under yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market recovered six points of the loss and ruled quiet while traders awaited the weekly weather report.

The market continued to decline most of the morning owing to another break in stocks. The weekly weather and crop summary, while rather bullish was not as unfavorable as some traders expected and affected the market but little. July traded down to 9.70 and October to 10.04, or 16 to 17 points below yesterday's close.

Near mid-session prices rallied nine to ten points on covering by satisfied shorts and due to a better technical position.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, May 6. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today.

May 9.86 bid; July 9.84, Oct. 10.19; Dec. 10.42; Jan. 10.39 bid; March 10.73.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—Grains averaged lower early today owing to absence of any aggressive buying. Upturns failed to hold, notwithstanding that no moisture of importance was reported from drouth districts northwest.

Opening at 1-4 cent decline to 1-4 to 3-8 advance, wheat afterward underwent a general sag. Corn started 1-2 off to 1-8 up and subsequently held near the initial range.

veal incidents in the life of the actress.

Physicians said a long rest was imperative, but expressed no great alarm at Miss Bow's condition. Six months, they said, might elapse before she could resume her work.

Studio officials said emphatically Miss Bow's illness would not end her career as an actress. Miss Bow has two more pictures to make before another option on her services can be exercised, according to her contract.

BOND ISSUE

Small of Wellington. The senate began consideration of the motion yesterday.

The senate's refusal to print on a minority report killed the bill.

The Brooks bill proposed use of gasoline tax funds in retiring the outstanding bonded indebtedness of counties on state highways.

Tangle Over Rules

Today's consideration of the bill was marked by entanglements over rules. Senator Holbrook of Galveston sought to move the previous question and was informed by the chair that he had not been recognized and that Senator Poage of Waco had not yielded the floor. Holbrook then appealed from the decision of the chair. He later withdrew his motion.

Senator Woodruff of Decatur plead with proponents of the bond issue to agree to place the Brooks bill on the table until the house made some disposition of the $212,000,000 highway bond resolution under discussion today. Woodruff made such a motion but it was tabled.

Defeat Forecast

Woodruff predicted that the bond issue would not gain 100 votes in the house "today, next week, nor next year."

Senators Poage of Waco and Small of Wellington, joined in a move to increase the gasoline tax by one cent a gallon.

Poage said he wanted the senate to take action on the motion to print the Brooks bill before the house voted for or against the highway bond issue.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN MAY 22

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—The forty-second legislature will not go home before May 22 under a resolution adopted in the house today, 82 to 57. The resolution proposed adjournment May 12, the date set by the constitutional amendment extending the session to 120 days, but was amended on motion of Representative Johnson of Carrizo Springs.

The sine die adjournment resolution was introduced by Representative Anderson of San Antonio who declared "the earlier we get home, the better off the people will be." Representative Kayton of San Antonio severely criticized the house for its tactics, claiming it was "over paid, over fed, pampered and underworked."

"It is three years old and it looks like—well, I've got seven new hats but I prefer this one," he said. His shirt is Texas made, of Texas grown cotton.

REWARD GIVEN TO OFFICER

CALVERT MARSHAL TO PAY UP DEBTS AND BUY NEW AUTO

WACO, May 6 (AP)—"What am I going to do?"

"Pay my debts and buy a new automobile."

That is how City Marshal W. F. "Red" Hale of Calvert will dispose of part of his $5,000 reward to be received from the Texas Bankers association for slaying John B. Cantrell Waco, who with Ettell Emmons robbed the Citizens State bank of Calvert Monday.

Hale came to Waco Tuesday afternoon to take R. B. Ford, Waco, charged with accomplice to robbery with fire arms, to Franklin where the Robertson county grand jury was in session. Ford admitted "planting" his automobile in Waco so Cantrell could take it and use it in the robbery. Ford had reported his car stolen.

Emmons has been charged with robbery with firearms. He was wounded by a charge of birdshot from a gun manned by Harvey McCloud, farmer near Calvert.

Cantrell's 16-year-old boy was released to attend burial of his father's body in Waco Tuesday afternoon. No charges had been filed against the boy.

All of the $5,000 loot taken from the bank had been recovered but $65.

REVOLT MAY HALT FLIGHT OF DO-X

LISBON, Portugal, May 6 (AP)—The proposed flight of the German flying boat DO-X to South America may be delayed at Portuguese Guinea because its fuel is needed by revolutionists who seized the power in Bolama a fortnight ago, it was indicated today.

Lisbon representatives of the Dornier company made this suggestion when no word was received that the DO-X had taken off for test flights. The plane could have communicated directly by wireless if in the air.

The DO-X flew to the town Sunday from Rio de Oro, ignorant of the revolt.

SAYS JOURNALISM FEAT IS IGNORED

An outstanding journalistic feat of the South Plains was ignored by judges making the Pulitzer awards, a Lubbock attorney observed yesterday.

"Looks to me like those Pulitzer judges should have made some kind of award to the man who wrote one chapter that is allegedly worth $1,600,000," said the attorney yesterday afternoon in 99th district court during a pause in the trial of the suit of Fred Spikes against J. Everetts Haley and the Capital Reservation Lands syndicate.

Haley and the land syndicate are being sued for libel in connection with a chapter in Haley's book, the "History of the XIT Ranch". Suits filed by the plaintiff ask a total of $1,600,000 damages for references made about the Spikes brothers in the book.

"Anyone who can write something worth that amount of money ought to receive some kind of a medal," the friendly jibe at an opposing attorney continued.

Judge Clark M. Mullican and counsels in the suit yesterday were engaged in considering depositions made by witnesses in various parts of the southwest. Selection of a jury is expected to get underway Monday.

6 Close package. It guards Camels from dust and germs and provides sanitary protection

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

The simplest way to insure this is to open the Camel Humidor Pack as shown above.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."
