Methodist Pastor Attacked by His Flock Friday Nite

Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Methodist church in Tahoka, was attacked by several members of his flock Friday evening of last week and was subjected to one of the most severe poundings that has ever been dealt out a Methodist minister in this section of the State. The attack was made without warning, whatever, and the minister was absolutely at the mercy of his brethren for a few minutes.

They brought him and his family a bountiful supply of good things to eat and with it their best wishes, extending a hearty welcome to the new pastor and his family.

Rev. Howell stated to the News that he had never in all his ministerial career received such a pounding as he did at the hands of his Tahoka members Friday night, for which he and family were indeed thankful.

COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION NEXT SUNDAY

Everybody who loves good- singing should make preparations to attend the Lynn County Singing Convention to be held with the Central Baptist church in the Grassland and Magnolia communities next Sunday, November 26th., beginning at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Let everybody attend the singing.

T .G. Marks Buys Interest in Abstract

T. G. Marks has purchased an interest in the Lynn County Abstract company, buying out County clerk, B. H. Robinson. Mr. Marks has already taken charge. W. S. Taylor, who has been at Lamesa the past few months, has returned to Tahoka and will again be in charge of the abstract work here. Both Mr. Marks and Mr. Taylor will move their families to this place as soon as they can fine suitable quarters to reside.

Mrs. M. M. Boyd returned to her home this week in Plainview, after spending several weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Knight.

Dr. and Mrs. John Dressen and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. May and little daughter, Jean, were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. May.

Miss Era Small returned Monday from a two weeks visit in Brownwood and Rising Star.

Miss Flavia Baker, of Floydada, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt this week.

NEARLY ONE INCH RAIN

A slow rain fell over the county, beginning Tuesday night and continued until Thursday morning, which registered nearly one inch. The moisture will probably damage the grade of cotton to a certain extent, but on the other hand the ground is in excellent condition for breaking and wheat farmers. Also the range will be greatly benefitted. Lynn county was never faced with more promising conditions than at the present time.

16,000-ACRE RANCH OPENED IN TERRY CO. TO SETTLERS

Brownfield, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Sawyer ranch of approximately 16,000 acres, near this city is to be immediately subdivided into 100 farms of 160 acres each and sold to homesteaders at the best possible advantage, purchasers being allowed 15 years in which to pay for it, the first five years no payment of principal being required. Mr. Sawyer expects to get 100 thrifty farmers to settle in this section. The land is very productive, some being "tight" and others being sandy loam. It is all watered well. The subdivision of this large ranch into farms at prices within the reach of all insures prosperity for this section and will increase the farm production of this territory greatly. Some of this land has produced as high as 60 bushels of corn to the acre, it is said.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Dosher, Mrs. J. B. Lowe and Rev. J. F. Curry returned at noon yesterday from Waco, where they attended the Baptist General Convention. They report having traveled over some exceedingly wet country on their return.

Anderson Seal, of Colemen county, was here last week and closed a deal with the West Texas Real Estate Co. whereby he becomes owner of the east one-half of the Huckaby section, 8 miles southeast of Tahoka. Mr. Seal is to be congratulated in his choice of farm land, as this tract is among the best on the plains.

Messrs. Seth Ray and Lester Barrew, of Mansfield, Texas, are guests this week of their old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brewer. These gentlemen stated that they came west on a prospecting tour and had traveled over a large portion of the Panhandle before coming to Lynn county, and were very much delighted with this immediate section. We would be pleased to have these progressive citizens become permanent settlers in our county.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lockhart, of Snyder, accompanied by their son, Tate Lockhart and wife, spent Sunday in Tahoka as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lockhart, returning home overland late Sunday afternoon.

Every grade school teacher will want to hear her, as she has devoted much time and attention to the training of grade teachers in the essential principles of representation, construction, and design. Her lecture is both instructive and entertaining, and she shows you how it is done as she tells you about it.

WILLOUGHBY-BRADLEY

Last Saturday evening at eight o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knoy, a pretty home wedding was solemnized when Miss Irma Willoughby became the bride of Mr. Irvin Bradley, Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Methodist church officiating in the presence of only the immediate families of the contracting parties.

Both the bride and groom have resided in Tahoka for a number of years and are exceedingly popular with their young friends.

Their marriage is the culmination of a romance extending over a period of several years, hence their union must needs be a beautifully happy one, for their love story is founded upon the solid rock of mutual respect, through acquaintance and deep abiding love.

The News, with their many friends here and elsewhere, unite with the earnest wish that their matrimonial barque will ever sail upon untroubled seas, lighted only with effulgent rays of Heaven's sunshine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley are at home to their friends in the King apartments in west Tahoka.

TIME IS EXTENDED IN RADIO CONTEST

The firms of the Limit Drug and Jewelry Store, the McCormack Store, Lynn County News, Wall-Walton Tailoring Co., and Rix Furniture & Undertaking Co., who are giving away a $300 Westinghouse Radio Set to some school in Tahoka trade territory, have extended the time from January 1, to February 15th, 1923.

It is the desire of these firms to give radio concerts at the various school houses, and after reconsidering the matter they find that they cannot do this in less than ninety days. Remember that the small school has just as good a chance in winning this set as the larger schools.

Call for your radio tickets on every purchase made from the above named firms.

Truck Collides With Wagon

Saturday night, as Uncle Ira Preston was returning home in his wagon north of town a short distance, he collided with a large truck, which was coming into town from the north. The wagon was considerably demolished and Uncle Ira was thrown down to the double trees of the vehicle, resulting in bruising his right leg, otherwise no damge was done. The driver of the truck stopped and assisted Mr. Preston in righting the vehicle. Uncle Ira stated that he was fortunate in having the most gentle team of horses in Lynn county or else he would probably have been seriously injured or killed outright.

Judge Cain Painfully Burned

Judge C. H. Cain was quite painfully though not seriously burned Friday night when he tried to extinguish the flames of a wood acholol lamp and the lamp exploded burning his face severely.

The judge was fortunate in two respects; his eyes were not injured and he did not enhale any of the fumes.

A Gentleman

An exchange says a gentleman is a man that is clean both inside and outside, who neither looks up to the rich nor down to the poor; who can lose without squealing and win without boasting, who is considerate to women, children and old people; who is too brave to lie; to generous to cheat, and who takes his share of the world and lets others have theirs.

PRINT PAPER ADVANCING

A traveling salesman dropped in Monday and quoted print paper to us at 6¼ cents. That means that it has advanced one cent in the past few days and prospects are favorable for another advance or two. One cent a pound does not sound big but it means $20 on a ton of paper. Some people would howl their heads off if $20 were added to their ton of coal.—Ex.

Both Drivers Right but Come to Grief

A tourist westward-bound late Thursday afternoon turned to the left near the John Burgess place to pass some west-bound wagons hauling sand. The tourist was in a second hand Chevrolet which he had bought the day before and driving probably five or six miles an hour as he passed the sand wagons. About the same time an east-bound tourist in a Hudson and driving probably twenty-five miles an hour met the wagons and turned to the right. No one was hurt but the front wheels and axle of the Chevrolet were badly broken and bent. The Hudson suffered practically no damage and proceeded on its way.

This accident forms an interesting study in road rules. The drivers of both cars obeyed the road rules as to the proper way to turn, one to the left the other to the right, yet they came to grief.—Plains Journal.

According to reports given out by the local postmaster, D. A. Parkhurst, the receipts at the postoffice have greatly increased within the past few months. The postoffice is the best place in town to learn the true coditions of things, and if one will watch the volume of mail that is handled here every day in the week, they will soon decide that there is plenty doing in Tahoka. New people are coming in daily and settling in various parts of the county. It is expected that the next two months will be the heaviest part of the year with the local postoffice force.

Here is an old one that has been going the rounds of the press for a long time, but we publish it once more for the benefit of a few of our subscribers: "There'$ a $mall matter which $ome of our ubcriber$ have forgotten. To u$ it i$ nece$$ary in our bu$ine$$. We are very mode$t and do not wi$h to $peak of it, but we know po$itively that tho$e ubcribers of whom you are undoubtedly one, who peru$e$ the$e few line$, will not require over three gue$$e$ to know what we in our difficult he$itating way, are $o delicately trying to imply.

Free Camp Grounds Misused

Complaint is made that the free tourist camp grounds are being misused by parties who drive in with a whole herd of stock and put up for weeks at a time. The parties have been so low down as to cut up the buildings for kindling wood. This sort of practice should be stopped at once. The free camp grounds was not built for this purpose. It has been suggested that a fence be erected around the grounds and signs placed at prominent places announcing the fact that the grounds and buildings are for the use of tourists only and others please stay out.

Let the citizens of Tahokas take pride in their free camp grounds and assist in taking the proper care of same that we may have a decent place for the weary travelers that come this way during the summer months.

A Good Move

City Marshall, A. M. Sullivan, under instructions from the City Council of Tahoka, has ordered the removal of all obstacles off of the sidewalks in Tahoka, and will also inforce the traffic ordinances, requiring drivers of vehicles to drive and park to the right.

This is a good move on the part of the city dads, and the News is sure that Mr. Sullivan will carry out these instructions to the letter, as he has proven himself to be an able and efficient peace officer during his reign as deputy sheriff in Lynn county.

All business firms in Tahoka should assist Marshall Sullivan in carrying out these orders.

ADVERTISING COLD CHECKS

A merchant is advertising for sale in the Childress Index a list of cold checks, bad accounts and notes, including names and amounts.

The advertisement reads as follows: "The following accounts, notes and checks are offered for sale:" Then follows the list. This ad will be printed in this paper from week to week until a buyer is found or they are paid or a satisfactory settlement is made. Any kind of trade will be considered. Any one wishing to pay any account on this list and have their name removed can do so by paying up promptly.

Old Jack Strychnine, high cockalorum of the Brownfield "Blanket" came back at us last week strong as horseradish, and really tried to be-mean us for calling his attention to his conglomerated way of balling up certain articles appearing in his blanket, stating that he did not give a whoop whether Magnolia or Grassland was in Tambuucktoo or Kalamazo, and in fact he was not interested sufficiently to really know where these two progressive communities were located, although he knew that they were not in "old Terror" county. Old Strychnine knows well enough that Terry does not contain any communities as progressive as the two mentioned above. The same stuff that Strychnine wrote in the Blanket about these communities being in the Brownfield association was sent in to the daily papers, trying to make the world believe they were right close to the berg of Brownfield, when it could have been very easily stated that said church and communities was located in Lynn. So much for that which has already been said and done. That Jack is in good with all the big men of Tahoka and Lubbock, as stated in his article, we have no doubt, for he has intimated on several occasions that he was a man of brains, which is as much as to say that he is brainless when he has to tell the folks that he has a cocanut full. Yes, we're satisfied Jack, that you have devoted many hundreds of inches praising Lynn county to the skies, when everybody knows you never make mention of Lynn, without trying to make the outside world we have nothing but gyp water. Isn't it the truth, Jack? You evidently have been listening to some of those windy real estate dealers. Brush up, Jack, sweet thing, we won't get mad at the nice things you have said about us, but we serve notice here and now that we are through arguing with a pin-headed, brainless sap—the highcockalorum of Brownfield's Blanket; it's a hopeless case, and our efforts have been in vain.

CO-OPERATION BRINGS PROSPERITY TO BAPTISTS

Brownfield, Tex., Nov. 9.—Co-operation between two Baptist congregations in the rural district under the leadership of Evangelist Curry has demonstrated the success of uniting forces. Grassland and Magnolia Baptist communities, owned their own buildings, four miles apart, but they were feeble. Curry suggested they cultivate fifty acres of cotton each. At the end of the season 100 acres netted the two churches $1,750. Such co-operation inspired unification of the two churches, and decision was made to build a common church. It has been erected at a cost of $6,000 being one of the best community churches in this section. Most of the debt has been paid.

The above article was sent in from Brownfield and leaves a false impression on the minds of the public, as to the exact location of the Magnolia and Grassland communities and the house of worship. It should have been so stated that these particular comunities were located in Lynn county, some fifty miles east of Brownfield, from whence the article originated.

Brownfield evidently claims everything worth while if it is located in the Brownfield Baptist Association.

We appreciate publicity, when it is rendered in the proper manner, but news dpoe sent out as the above is obtaining notoriety under false pretenses.

H. O. WARD NEARLY LOSES FORD CAR BY FIRE

H. O. Ward, defeated republican candidate for congress, this district, and publisher of the Matador News, came near losing his Ford bby fire last week and had the following to say about the matter in the last issue of his paper:

"While enroute from a campaign tour up on the Denver last Sunday morning, he stayed all night at Quitaqua, and while he was getting ready to leave there, or about the time he left, someone must have accidentally thrown a cigarette or cigar stub between the seats, where the side curtains had been left, and the inflamable material caught from it, at least the first indcation was when about two miles south of Gasoline the whole thing burst into a blaze and for a few minutes it looked like the car was doomed. The blaze was extinguished after it had destroyed the top, rear seat, back cushion and considerably damaged the interior of the entire back."

E. C. McCartry, of Huckabee, Texas came in Monday and was registered at the Lynn.

When the Reader Kicks

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right.

He finds a lot of fault, too he does, perusin' it all night.

He says there ain't a single thing in it worth to read.

And it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need;

He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum.

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the wedding's and he

He reads the social doin's with a snorts like all get out.

snort like all get out.

most derisive shout.

He says they make the papers for the women folks alone.

He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan.

He says of information it doesn't have a crumb.

—But you ought to hear him holler when it doesn't come.

He is always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clear thru.

He doesn't miss an item, or a want ad—that is true.

He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys.

I'm going to take a day sometime and go and put 'em wise.

Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dum—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

MR. McCASLAND MEETS TRAGIC DEATH AT LAMESA

Sometime Wednesday Mr. McCasland left home, about eight miles east of Lamesa, to go on a wolf hunt in the neighborhood.

That was the last time he was seen alive.

Thursday morning, he not having returned, a search was made and his dead body was found in a pasture, lying face downward. A short distance away his horse was grazing. Two dogs that had accompanied their master, were found by the body, guarding it.

Justice of the Peace D. W. Adams, was notified and went out to hold an inquest. The body was badly bruised about the head and face. He rendered a verdict of accidental death, it being evident that the horse Mr. McCasland was riding had fallen with him in such a manner as to cause probably instant death.

Mr. McCasland moved here with his family about five years ago. He was a good citizen, highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was about 38 years old. He leaves a widow and nine children to mourn his untimely end, and to them we extend our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of great sorrow.—Dawson County Journal.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

Mr. Robt. Billingsly, a good citizen of Sparenberg community, was accidently shot and seriously wounded, Tuesday. The shot was fired from a target gun and struck Mr. Billingsley in the abdomen.

His condition at this writing, is considered serious.—Dawson County Journal.

Mr. Merchant

You Need the Newspaper

The newspaper of today is the most powerful medium of advertising on earth. In the old days the merchant may have thought he was a benefactor and that he was contributing his bit "as a public-spirited citizen" when he carried a two-inch space in the village paper every week in the year and generally without change of copy. Possibly he was.

But that is changed now. A new order has arrived. People read adverticements. Many find their greatest interest in looking over the advertising pages to get news that will save the money, and take it from John D. Rockefeller, the way to save your dollars is first to save your pennies.

Advertisements today are right up to the minute. They are as fresh as the news of the world or the latest baseball score. Live merchants cater to live people and they know they must not alone be up to the minute, but they must be some distance ahead. They must anticipate the wants of their customers.

And they do. Turn to the advertisements in this paper right now. Just read what each one is offering. Notice the invitations for you to do business with them.

Business men—that is the successful ones—know advertising pays big returns. Unsuccessful men don't advertise because they are unsuccessful. That's the answer. Look over the town right now and pick out the big firms. Advertising is the tonic that puts dividends in the banks.

Everybody reads advertisements today. Mr. Merchant' is your advertisement in this paper?

Give Us Markets

BY PHEBE K. WARNER

Who was it that said "Give me liberty or give me death?" Patrick Henry, was it? That was a long time ago when a few struggling colonies were trying to free themselves from the bondage of "Taxation without representation." We all know what happened. The United States has grown since those days, until now there are 20,250,000 families in our nation, and those families represent a population of about 105,000,000, all of whom have to be fed three times a day from the hour of their birth to the day of their death. And somebody has to supply the food. these people may be divided into two great classes, first the producers and second the consumers.

Now strange as it may seem they all belong to the class of consumers, for everybody has to be fed and clothed and sheltered. But less than half of them belong to the class of producers. Baring the children who are too small to produce as much as they consume, it leaves about one-fourth of all the people to produce enough for the entire four-fourths to eat and wear. and can you think of a more essential work in all this land than the work of producing the food and clothing for all the people?

Now it would seem with only one person to produce the food and raw materials for all the clothing of every four persons that there would be such a consistant and urgent demand for food and clothing all the time when the producer could not get a good market for his products. But does he? Is there anything constant or permanent or sure in the business of production? Can a farmer sit down on a cold winter day and figure out what his expenses and his income will be for the next year? Can he count on doing anything for SURE? Is there any way for him to plan a year's progress and business and be sure he can carry out his plan?

The only honest answer is NO! Why? Simply because he never knows whether he can find a market for his products or not. He has no idea when he plants a hundred acres of grain what the price will be by the time that the grain is ready to put on the market. Beside he must battle with all the natural elements of the weather. Then he must take the price that is paid for everything he offers for sale. And as one of the consumers of his own products after they are made over and manufactured into different forms of food and clothing he must pay the ultimate and final price to get his own stuff back to eat and wear. This of course cannot be helped as the farmer must be the first to sell and the last to buy the manufactured products for home consumption.

Nevertheless the farmers of today are in very much the same mood as Patrick Henry was a hundred and fifty years ago. They are still suffering the humiliation of "Taxation without representation." Because by our present system of marketing they are forced to sell their products at prices fixed by the consumers and in turn are forced to buy back the essentials of life and home and farm at the price the consumers fix. Financially the farmer is as much a slave to the dictates of others as any citizen of Revolutionary times. Financially, he has no more liberty or freedom than the old-time slave. And not as much as somebody usually looked after the slave, but nobody looks after the farmer.

If the farmer were to put their pent-up feelings into words today they would likely sound like this: "Give us MARKETS or give us DEATH." The farmer is willing to take his chances with God and the weather. It is taking his chances with the financial sharks and gamblers and the freight rates, and the great horde of financial consumers who will not do a day's work for a day's pay, and the manifold middle men, all of whom are trying to make a living off of the farmer from the time his products leave the farm until they return.

The price of everything the farmer buys for his family is fixed by somebody, not him. The price of everything he has to sell is never fixed by him. For examples, the interest on his borrowed money remains the same year in and year out, whether it rains or not. If he goes to market his railroad fare is the same whether he hits a good or bad market. When he buys a cake of soap or a yard of calico or a spool of thread or a pound of coffee or a thousand feet of lumber, the price is the same whether he has a good crop or a por one. When his wife has a dozen eggs to sell in the Fall they will be worth from 40c to $1.00 a dozen; when the hens all begin to cackle in the Spring time the price of eggs drops to 10 cents and 15 cnts a dozen.

Do you want to know why Texas does not produce enough eggs to supply the state? Simply no one ever knows whether they will be worth anything or not. Put eggs at 35c to 40 cents or even 50 cents per dozen and keep them there by the year and listen to the chorus of the poultry yard. Is not an egg worth as much one day for food as another? Does the egg change? Yes it does if you keep it too long, but as a rule the longer you keep it the more you get if you keep it long enough. Here is where the consumer plays a joke on himself.

What the farmer and his family needs today more than anything else is a just and honest and constant market for his time and labor in order that he too as well as the banker and the merchant and the teacher and the official of a thousand different species may be free to plan his business with a slight degree of confidence that he will be able to put his plans over. Nothing would bring more joy and contentment to the farm home than to KNOW that if he planned to do a certain thing and worked hard to execute his plan that there would be a hope of being victorious. Make the markets for the producer as safe and sane as the markets are for the consumer and it will cure more rural ills than any other thing that can be done. But before this can ever be the farmers of every county and every State will have to learn the lesson of co-operation and then stick together until the consumer cries 'Give us food or give us death."

If the farmer were to put their pent-up feelings into words today they would likely sound like this: "Give us MARKETS or give us DEATH." The farmer is willing to take his chances with God and the weather. It is taking his chances with the financial sharks and gamblers and the freight rates, and the great horde of financial consumers who will not do a day's work for a day's pay, and the manifold middle men, all of whom are trying to make a living off of the farmer from the time his products leave the farm until they return.

The price of everything the farmer buys for his family is fixed by somebody, not him. The price of everything he has to sell is never fixed by him. For examples, the interest on his borrowed money remains the same year in and year out, whether it rains or not. If he goes to market his railroad fare is the same whether he hits a good or bad market. When he buys a cake of soap or a yard of calico or a spool of thread or a pound of coffee or a thousand feet of lumber, the price is the same whether he has a good crop or a por one. When his wife has a dozen eggs to sell in the Fall they will be worth from 40c to $1.00 a dozen; when the hens all begin to cackle in the Spring time the price of eggs drops to 10 cents and 15 cnts a dozen.

Do you want to know why Texas does not produce enough eggs to supply the state? Simply no one ever knows whether they will be worth anything or not. Put eggs at 35c to 40 cents or even 50 cents per dozen and keep them there by the year and listen to the chorus of the poultry yard. Is not an egg worth as much one day for food as another? Does the egg change? Yes it does if you keep it too long, but as a rule the longer you keep it the more you get if you keep it long enough. Here is where the consumer plays a joke on himself.

What the farmer and his family needs today more than anything else is a just and honest and constant market for his time and labor in order that he too as well as the banker and the merchant and the teacher and the official of a thousand different species may be free to plan his business with a slight degree of confidence that he will be able to put his plans over. Nothing would bring more joy and contentment to the farm home than to KNOW that if he planned to do a certain thing and worked hard to execute his plan that there would be a hope of being victorious. Make the markets for the producer as safe and sane as the markets are for the consumer and it will cure more rural ills than any other thing that can be done. But before this can ever be the farmers of every county and every State will have to learn the lesson of co-operation and then stick together until the consumer cries 'Give us food or give us death."

What you get in the Fordson for $395 f. o. b. Detroit is the greatest farm power unit ever offered.

Let us show you how a Fordson will cut farm costs, increase your bank account and take the drudgery out of farm work. Write, phone or call.

ON THIN ICE

A charming but different young woman was seated next to a bishop at a dinner party one evening. It was the first time she had been so close to a dignitary and it paralyzed her tongue. The continued silence became most embarrasing to her.

At last some fruit was passed and she snatched at the chance to say something to him.

"Are you fond of Bananas?" she asked him.

The dear old prelate, a trifle deaf, thought she said pajamas, and, after thinking for a moment, replied: "Since you have asked me, I will frankly state that I much prefer the old-fashioned night shirt.—Clipped.

Parent-Teachers Serve Chili

Last Friday at the noon hour the Parent-Teachers' Association served hot chili in the lunch room to the pupils and teachers of Tahoka school. The proceeds of the sale of the chili will be used by the P. T. A. in its various activities. To Mrs. Singleton is due the credit for the preparation of the excellent lunch Friday. On these cold days it would help wonderfully to have even one hot dish to serve to the children. Let us hope that other ladies will continue this good work.

KNEADS DOUGH

Recently there appeared an item in a Panhandle paper as follows:

"Mrs. Smith, a prominent newlywed, kneaded bread with her gloves on."

An editor of a country newspaper in an adjoining county clipped the notice and remarked that he hardly thought the item worthy of mention, the editor of this paper, meaning himself, needed bread with his shoes on; he needed bread with his coat on, and he even needed bread with his shirt on. But if some of his delinquents didn't pay up pretty soon, he'd be needng bread without a d——thing on.—Clipped.

CROSBYTON LOSES $10,000 JERSEY COW LAST WEEK

"Golden Cymbeline," the ten thousand dollar imported Jersey cow at the Cap Rock Jersey Farm, died Wednesday night, it is claimed as the result of an operation performed by a couple of veterinary doctors from Lubbock. Dr. M. F. Husky of Floydada, was called to attend the cow but did not get here in time to render assistance and in no way is responsible for the death of the cow, Mr. Guy holding the Lubbock men wholly responsible for the death of his great loss.

"Golden Cymbelene" was a famous cow, was a native of the isle of Jersey and cost Mr. Guy the princely sum of $10,000, so the reader will see that in her death Crosbyton has sustained a great loss.—Crosbyton Review.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGE, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown of some kind. . . I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, trembly, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it helped Mrs. Lange and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years.

Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.
