REGARDING FM 1611 EXTENSION

Questions:

1) Since the economy of Scurry County has suffered greatly in the very recent past, and since the idea for this project was conceived and lobbied for prior to this present situation, do you still consider it wise to approve a plan requiring so much of the county taxpayers' dollars?

2) How do you feel about this so-called "by-pass" taking business away from local gasoline stations, restaurants, motels, and any of our other merchants?

3) Are enough of your constituents in favor of this issue? Have you considered their wishes?

4) Did you know that whenever this road was put into the master plan from work done by Southwest Planning of Bryan, Texas, that the projected population for the city of Snyder was 16,830 for 1985 and 18,780 for 1990?

5) If this road is being built as a truck route, do you think that it will be used as one? Or, do you think that the truck traffic will still use the "closer between two points" theory and go across the square?

6) Can you approve this project and retain a clear conscience knowing that a very hazardous intersection will be created where the Big Spring Highway and the proposed road would come together?

TO: The Citizens of Scurry County
FROM: Concerned Taxpayers of Scurry County

Questions:

1) If you oppose this proposal, have you signed one of the petitions that are being circulated?

2) Have you made it known to the Commissioners' Court if you are opposed to this subject?

If you would like to make your feelings known on this matter, please call the commissioners and judge before Monday morning at 10:00 a.m. At that time, the issue is on their agenda. It (the "Minute Order") must be accepted by this body by May 26, 1986, or the State of Texas will drop the project. To express your feelings about this subject, contact any or all of the following:

Spending cut plan defended

AUSTIN (AP) — Downplaying double-digit increases in state agency spending the past two months, Gov. Mark White remains confident his budget-cutting plans will trim the deficit.

"This plan is working, and I think it will work," White said Thursday.

The governor responded to reports from Comptroller Bob Bullock which showed spending by agencies during April was up nearly 20 percent over their average for the first six months of the budget year.

White — who two months ago asked some 200 state agencies to trim spending 13 percent by Aug. 31, 1987 — said it will take a little time for his spending reduction effort to show results.

"I think the overall savings goal we've set is still on course. We still feel we're going to achieve those numbers," he said.

The governor's spending cut request was contained in an executive order issued in mid-February. While he lacks the constitutional power to require reductions, White urged agencies to freeze hiring, not fill many job vacancies, reduce travel and save money through other economies.

The executive order was issued after Bullock predicted that state revenue would fall $1.3 billion below the 1986-87 state budgets because of plunging oil prices and oil tax revenue.

But Bullock on Wednesday issued a second monthly report showing that agency spending has risen since White's executive order took effect March 1.

Bullock said April spending from all funds ran 19.9 percent above the average for the first six months of the fiscal year, while March spending had been up 15 percent.

White said the cuts will show up — in time.

"Basically, the attrition of state employees will not be reflected immediately. That's going to be an accruing of savings over the biennium," White told his weekly news conference.

"There's some other one-time expenditures (which) I think tend to discount the accuracy of those reports," he said.

The governor said some offices, such as the Texas Education Agency and the highway department, had to make payments this spring that won't be repeated.

Standard & Poors Corp. recently lowered its bond rating on Texas state bonds from AAA to AA-plus, saying a tax increase would be needed to bring the rating back up. Again, sharply falling oil prices were to blame.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll get your fair share of opportunities today, but there's a strong possibility you won't recognize them for what they are.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Half measures will count for nothing today if you're faced with a challenging situation. The only way to score a success is to go all out.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today you may view issues as you would like them to be and not as they are. Wishful thinking will work to your detriment because it will distort the picture.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Conditions are a bit unusual today, you could be held accountable for the mistakes of others. Don't put yourself in a position to be used.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) For the sake of image and reputation, it's imperative that you be on your best behavior today. A bad impression won't be eradicated easily.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Results could be undesirable today if you launch a project and then let it fend for itself. See whatever you begin through to conclusion.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be a realistic reasoner today. If you view matters from distorted angles, it could cause you to take actions that don't serve your best interests.

Keep control to score game

Although five clubs might have been easier, it was reasonable for North-South to arrive in four spades. The three-heart bid by South was an attempt to reach no-trump if North had a diamond stopper, and so the momentum of the bidding carried him to four spades. Declarer had a good idea in the play, but not quite good enough.

After leading the king of diamonds, West switched to a spade. Declarer felt that because of the takeout double, West would be short of spades, but he hoped that he would have two. He allowed the seven of spades from East to hold the trick. His plan was to ruff a diamond in dummy, cash the king of spades and then return to his hand to pull the remaining trumps. That would have been fine if spades had split 4-2, but five of them in East's hand wrecked the declarer's approach.

Declarer can succeed, even against the unfortunate trump stack. He must win the spade king, come to the jack of clubs to ruff a diamond, come back to the heart ace to ruff his last diamond, and then play on high clubs. Although East can ruff in, South will be in control. He can ruff a diamond return and play A-Q of spades. Although East will be left with a high trump, declarer will still have made 10 tricks and his contract.

Lesson: You can prevail, even against a bad trump split, if you keep your wits about you and take a logical course of play to make the tricks you need.

Peter Gott, M.D.

Brain damage and newborns

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter was born at 36 weeks' gestation. She had successful surgery that day for a twisted intestine. I have always had watery bowels since I was born, and so did she. The doctors didn't believe me and kept her for 5 months. At 6 months, she was hospitalized for thrush mouth; she weighed 5 pounds, 12 ounces. The next day we went to see her. Because of her IV, her weight had increased to 8 pounds overnight. She is now a brain-damaged 8-year-old child with cerebral palsy. There was no sign of this at birth. Could the IV have cause this damage?

DEAR READER — Although the cause of cerebral palsy is poorly understood, the condition can be seen in children who are born prematurely, suffer severe neonatal illnesses, or become water-intoxicated. According to my pediatric consultant, aggressive intravenous-fluid replacement could have contributed to your child's neurological condition. I do not specialize in diseases of infants, so I suggest you ask a pediatrician to clarify the situation for you.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm 39, and for the past four or five years, I get hives the first time I go outside every day. They go away after 20 minutes and I'm fine the rest of the day, no matter how much sun I get. What does this mean?

DEAR READER — You may be exhibiting an allergic reaction to components in the outside air or to the rapid change in temperature. Check with an allergist to identify the cause of your problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have been taking Premarin for more than 10 years. I've mentioned to my doctor about reading that a combination of Premarin and progesterone is safer. She says she and her associates think the side effects are worse. What do you think?

DEAR READER — I side with you. Studies have shown that in women who have not had their uteruses removed, therapy with just Premarin (female hormone) can cause tumors of the reproductive tract. Experts have concluded that combined estrogen-progestin treatment is much safer. Ask your gynecologist to refer you to another specialist for an additional opinion.

DEAR DR. GOTT — A friend has had pinworms, untreated, up to her present age of 22. She recently had a D&C. What serious long-term harm could the pinworms do? While her cervix was dilated, could they have gotten in and be causing damage? Should she tell her doctor?

DEAR READER — Pinworms are little parasites that, during part of their life cycle, live in the intestinal tracts of animals and humans. Ordinarily, pinworms produce no serious damage, but they are annoying because the adult worms tend to migrate out of the anus and cause itching and irritation.

I think it's unlikely that pinworms would enter or survive in the reproductive tract. Nevertheless, I unqualifiedly urge your friend to tell her doctor about the problem. Pinworms are relatively easily spread to family members, particularly children. The condition is entirely treatable using modern anti-pinworm medication.

DIVERTICULAR DISEASE is a common problem, and Dr. Gott's new Health Report tells how it can be treated and managed. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

Dear Abby

Teen-Aged Virgin Wonders Just How Far Is Too Far

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old college student, and even though I've dated quite a bit, I'm rather naive about sex. I am still a virgin and hope to remain one until I marry. Don't get me wrong, I'm no "Goody Two Shoes," but I don't want to risk an unwanted pregnancy.

I'm dating a guy right now who has been around. He knows how I feel about sex before marriage, so he's never pressured me to go all the way, but I've come closer with him than I have with any other guy. I'm ashamed to tell you how far we've gone, but I'm still a virgin (I think).

A long time ago you explained how a virgin could get pregnant. I'm sorry I didn't save it, but I never dreamed I'd need it.

Well, last night I was with this guy and things really got out of hand. Everything happened so fast. Please run that piece again about how a virgin can get pregnant. I'm worried.

B., ST. PAUL

DEAR B.: The piece is from my booklet, "What Every Teenager Ought to Know." Many junior and senior high school teachers wrote to say that they had read it aloud to their students:

HOW TO GET PREGNANT

One of the questions I have been asked often by teens is: "How far can I go without getting pregnant?"

That is not a dumb question. It's a very intelligent one. A lot of kids get aroused by just lying close to each other while kissing. Then they just naturally proceed to the next step, which is petting.

Sometimes they remove some of their clothing because it's "in the way," or they burrow underneath it to explore each other's bodies with their hands. This is known as heavy petting, or "doing everything else but."

The technical (and legal) definition of sexual intercourse is "penetration." (The male's sex organ must penetrate the female's.) However, as impossible as it may sound, in the medical literature can be found cases where there has been no penetration — the girl remained a virgin, but after engaging in heavy petting, she found herself pregnant.

How can that be? Simple.

The boy and girl were lying very close to each other (unclothed), doing "everything but," when a small amount of sperm leaked out ... near (not inside, but very close to) the girl's vagina. The sperm got into the moisture around the vagina and found its way up into it, and fertilized the egg!

DEAR ABBY: Seven years ago I had an abortion. At the time it was the only way out of a very bad situation. (It was either that, or suicide.) I am a baptized Catholic, so I know that I was automatically excommunicated from the Catholic Church when I had the abortion. I haven't been to church since.

I want so much to confess and receive some kind of absolution, but I can't face going to the confessional. I'm afraid the priest will throw me out and ask me not to return.

Will you please ask one of your priest friends if there is some way to return to the church after excommunication? I am sure there are other Catholics who would like to know.

TORMENTED SOUL

DEAR TORMENTED: Go to confession. The priest will not throw you out. A Catholic is forgiven the sin when he or she truly repents. If you lack the courage to face your own parish priest, go to another parish.

DEAR ABBY: This is to express my appreciation for printing that excellent poem, "Slow Me Down, Lord." At 91 years old, I am memorizing it to use in some of my meetings with older persons. Gratefully,

THE REV. H.T. MILLER, ANDERSON, IND.

Board restores books

KINGSTON, Mass. (AP) — "Tom Sawyer" is boring no longer. "A Tale of Two Cities" isn't dull any more. Officially.

School board members have put those classics back on a summer reading list for students after an earlier vote to ban "boring" books drew the glare of national publicity and the anger of local book lovers.

Ask The Preacher

"...about the salt of the earth."

The meaning of this phrase, "salt of the earth," is the subject of at least a little controversy among Bible scholars. The question is, "What did Jesus mean by applying the word 'salt' to his followers?"

Well, the context of this passage (Matt. 5:13) is the Sermon on the Mount. In this section (5:13-16), Jesus discusses the Christian's responsibility to be an example. He uses the illustration of salt, here, and the illustration of the "light of the world" in verse 14.

I think both illustrations give the same understanding. Light provides meaning to that which is in darkness. Salt provides meaning to food that is tasteless. The Christian, through his Christian life-style (vs. 16), provides the meaning to an otherwise confusing view of life.

We don't have any choice about being an example. The only choice we have is what kind of example we will be.

Tigers face Pecos in district playoff Saturday at Angel Field in Midland

MIDLAND – A few years ago, Snyder and Pecos met almost regularly to try and unseat one another in the playoffs. They are squaring off again here Saturday, but this time its to reseat each other.

As District 2-4A co-champions, 10th-ranked Snyder and once-rated Pecos battle at 2 p.m. here on Angel Field to determine first and runnerup representation rights for post season play. The winner will go on to play a runnerup team from District 1-4A, presumably Lubbock Dunbar, while the loser will tangle with 1-4A champion Dumas.

Tickets for the game are $2 for adults; $1 for students.

The main reasons for winning Saturday's ballgame would appear to be for momentum, record, and possibly for bragging rights in the 2-4A. Snyder and Pecos are tremendous rivals on the baseball field.

In terms of the playoffs, it would seem to make little difference, however. Dumas, Dunbar and any other 1-4A team which might make the playoffs aren't.

Put that theory to Snyder Coach Albert Lewis, however, and he'll bat it down.

"First of all, Pecos is a district opponent. We want to beat them. We want to keep our top 10 ranking if we can. Plus, if we win, we're talking about 250 miles difference in travel," he said, referring to the fact that Dumas is about 250 miles from Snyder. "And, you want to go into the playoffs on a winning note if you can. If we lose, it doesn't mean we're not going to perform well in the playoffs, but you like to have that momentum."

Lewis is looking forward to the game, which will pit Snyder's Jimmy Velasquez (9-4) against Pecos' Javier Solis (7-2) on the mound. The last time they played, Solis came out on top.

"They hit the low fast ball extremely well. We didn't have much luck the other time. Jimmy's arm was a little sore and we weren't able to throw much breaking stuff. We'll be throwing more of that this time. Also, we'll have a different umpire than we had there (in Pecos). In Pecos, the fans don't just intimidate the players, I think they intimidate the umpire, too."

Velasquez has a 1.64 ERA with 100 strikeouts in 74 innings. Solis has a 2.05 ERA.

Pecos is 18-6 for the season and is in the playoffs for the third straight season. A tentative lineup, in batting order, starts with Jessie Abila as designated hitter for second baseman Israel Natividad. He'll be followed by first baseman Lupe Gabaldon, right fielder Larry Avila, center fielder Lance Windham, short stop Oscar Mariscal, pitcher Solis, left fielder David Vejil, catcher Panchito Bafidis and third baseman Tony Urquidi.

Avila is batting .455 for the season, Windham .412 and Solis .404.

Snyder, 18-8, will lead off with catcher Ricky Hunter and follow with third-sacker Justin Webb. The rest of the lineup has Steve Parker at first base, Brad Holcomb at short stop, Velasquez on the hill, Chris Fryar at second base, Mike McWilliams at centerfield, Dennis Martinez at left field and Michael Long at right. Kenneth Pickering will likely serve as designated hitter for either Martinez or Long.

Homcomb's .507 bat leads Snyder hitters. Webb is hitting .489, Parker .481, Fryar .465, Hunter .431 and McWilliams .427.

Coaches fuming over revamped CWS format

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Two of the most successful college baseball coaches in the country say they think the College World Series will be moved from Omaha, Neb., now that the NCAA has changed the series.

Both Cliff Gustafson of Texas and Jim Brock of Arizona State dislike the switch to a single-elimination Final Four playoff in 1988.

Currently, the championship is determined in an eight-team double elimination tournament.

"I don't like it at all. The majority of the coaches are opposed to it. I thought we had something unique and special, and I hate to see that destroyed. I'm sure money was the only reason," Gustafson said Wednesday.

"Anytime you make a decision to compromise the integrity of your championship event, you have definitely taken a step backward. And I definitely think this is a step backward. ... Their attitude is, 'It's not broken, but we're going to fix it anyway.' " Brock told the Austin American-Statesman.

Although NCAA officials said the site for the finals would be decided later, both Gustafson and Brock said they feel it would be moved from Omaha, where it has been played since 1950.

"I think Omaha deserves to keep it," Gustafson said. "But I think they'll wind up moving it around to big league parks where they can seat more and try to sell them out. I think they're making a move that can be a step backward."

Brock said he does not think the NCAA "has any intention of keeping it in Omaha. In their lack of knowledge, I think they plan to go to Yankee Stadium and some of the domed stadiums, sell it out for 25 bucks a night and do it for two nights. They might draw 5,000."

San Francisco defeated Cincinnati, 26-21, in the 1982 Super Bowl despite being outgained by the losers, 356 total yards to 275.

'Makes you want to go home and kick the dog'—Martinez

by The Associated Press

Some say baseball teams play better in their first game after a managerial shakeup. Not the Seattle Mariners, though. They kept playing the same way that got their old manager fired.

"It's the kind of game that makes you want to go home and kick the dog," coach Marty Martinez, the Mariners' interim manager, said Thursday night after a 4-2 loss to the Boston Red Sox.

The Mariners, picked by many to challenge this season in the American League West, dismissed Manager Chuck Cottier on Thursday afternoon. The loss to visiting Boston gave Seattle a 9-20 record, including five straight defeats and 17 losses in the last 21 games.

"I've been in losing situations like the Mariners and you're always wondering what will happen next," said Boston's Marty Barrett, who capped a four-run rally in the seventh inning with a two-run triple.

In the only other two AL games on Thursday, Toronto rallied past California 7-6 and Oakland edged Milwaukee 2-1.

Boston squandered several scoring opportunities before breaking through against Mike Morgan, 2-3, in the seventh inning. Trailing 2-0, Wade Boggs and Bill Buckner singled with one out, and RBI singles by Jim Rice and Don Baylor tied the score.

Reliever Matt Young retired Rich Gedman on a fly ball for the second out, and Karl Best was

Cardinals 7, Athletics 3

Tory Garza slapped four singles; Jason Warren three; and Locadia Luera and pitcher David Patrick cracked a double and a single apiece as the Cardinals outlasted the Athletics. Both teams are 3-2 on the season now.

Also hitting for the Cards were Clay Wemken, two singles; and Chris Winter and Brett Kennedy, one single each.

Eric West powered a triple for the A's and Kyle Highfield bunched together a double and two singles. Tyson Cromeens notched two singles and Brian Burton, Eddie Bolin and Joe Gordy contributed one single each.

Israel Borrego led the hot Indians bats with a triple and a single. Casey Jones and Shane Smith powered a double and a single each while Dane Farley and Brian Upton socked two singles each. Also hitting for the Indians, 1-4, were Kelly Kirkpatrick and Rudy Alaniz, a single each. Steve Owens was the winning pitcher.

Also hitting for the Cardinals, 3-2, were Josh Helms, a triple; Dexter Robbins, a double; and Tommy Felan and Henry Elam, one single each.

The Athletics, 1-4, were led by Todd Iglehart's triple and double. Cody Wunderlich also hit a triple, while Cole Sterling and Marcus Villa punched a double apiece. Hitting one single each were Robert McDorman, Reece Martin, Rayland Goswick and Jason Lieb.

Rain plagues rodeo

STEPHENVILLE – Rains, an estimated three to four inches worth, caused the first show of the Tarleton State University NIRA Rodeo to be postponed until this afternoon.

Western Texas College coach Bob Doty said Thursday evening's performance has been postponed until 2 p.m. today.

Other performances are scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight, Saturday night, and 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Western Texas is currently winning the Southwest Region in the women's division and is in second place in the men's division. First and second place teams advance to the College National Finals Rodeo in June, to be held at Bozeman, Mont.

The Tarleton State rodeo is the final Southwest Region rodeo of the 1985-86 season.

Penalties imposed on TCU could have been lot worse

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - The NCAA Committee on Infractions said today Texas Christian University's football program will be banned from bowl competition after the 1986 season and must forfeit television revenue from the 1983-84 football seasons and give up 35 scholarships for two years because of cash payments by boosters.

The NCAA penalty was reduced substantially because of self-disclosure by the Horned Frogs.

It includes a three-year probationary period that will require annual in-person visits to the university by NCAA enforcement personnel and an audit of the expenses and income of student athletes in football.

Specifically, the penalties are as follows:

- TCU will only be permitted to give 10 scholarships in the 1987-88 academic year and no more than 15 new recruits will be allowed to receive financial aid for the 1988-89 academic year.

- Six representatives of the university's athletic interests will be dissociated from involvement of any kind in the athletic program as a result of their involvement in the violations.

- No television sanctions were imposed in this case, and the football team remains eligible to participate in television.

- The university will not be allowed to play in a bowl game after the 1986 season.

- TCU must forfeit a total of $343,203 to the NCAA in TV revenues earned in 1983-84.

Investigation of the TCU program began in September 1983 when the university discovered seven football players were receiving cash payments.

TCU football Coach Jim Wacker held an early team meeting with the players today before a scheduled press conference to announce the sanctions received by the Horned Frogs who admitted boosters paid at least seven players.

Players were mostly tight-lipped after the 45-minute meeting with Wacker, but the indications were TCU's penalties had been lessened by the NCAA because of self-disclosure.

"The one-year ban on bowls is going to hurt the seniors, but we can live with it," said Ricky Stone of the Horned Frog football team. "The bowl ban is really the only bad part. It hurts the seniors and except for that, though, the NCAA action is fair."

Sophomore Jarrod Delaney said Wacker didn't give the Horned Frogs all the details.

However, Delaney said, "The penalty wasn't severe and we all have a good attitude about it. The way Coach Wacker talked he seemed almost to be happy. We're just glad it's over."

TCU wasn't expected to announce an appeal of the penalties.

Texas Christian knew from the moment it turned itself in that the day of reckoning with the NCAA would come in a case involving cash payments of thousands of dollars from boosters to the seven players.

Lakers eliminate Dallas Mavericks

by The Associated Press

Having disposed of their respective second-round opponents, the Los Angeles Lakers and Houston Rockets are heading for a summit meeting in the NBA's Western Conference playoffs.

"I think Houston has a great chance of beating Los Angeles if they don't tighten up during the close games," Denver Coach Doug Moe said after his team was knocked out of the NBA playoffs by a 126-122 double-overtime loss to the Rockets Thursday night. "I really think they'll win. They don't have the experience L.A. has, but if they can relax and stay calm, they've got a chance."

The Rockets earned a berth in the Western final against the Lakers, who also wrapped up their second-round series in six games with a 120-107 victory over the Dallas Mavericks Thursday night.

The results were according to form. The Lakers, defending NBA champions, had won the Pacific Division in a breeze and the Rockets had won the Midwest with the second-best record in the Western Conference.

Tonight, Milwaukee will host Philadelphia in their Eastern Conference semifinal with the Bucks leading the 76ers 3-2. The winner will advance to the Eastern Conference final against the Boston Celtics, who won their second-round series against Atlanta.

The Lakers, aroused by pregame comment from Dallas management they considered derogatory, charged into the conference finals behind Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 27 points and Earvin Johnson's clutch fourth-quarter play.

The Lakers were called "clowns" by Dallas General Manager Norm Sonju before the game, but the intense defending champions took control from the start.

"Dallas is history now and we didn't have to boast to do it," Lakers Coach Pat Riley said. "That's one of the strengths of this team."

Abdul-Jabbar was hit with a cup of ice while he was leaving the floor.

An irate Abdul-Jabbar jabbed the quiet Dallas fans in the fourth period saying: "I was wondering where they were. They didn't have much to say then, did they?"

Rockets 126, Nuggets 122

Lewis Lloyd and Rodney McCray hit key jumpers in the final 1:45 of a second overtime period as Houston, despite losing three starters to fouls, outlasted Denver.

Lloyd's 18-footer, just beating the 24-second shot clock with 1:45 left, gave Houston a 124-121 lead. McCray sank a 17-footer along the baseline with 55 seconds remaining, and Denver couldn't counter.

Anderson inks pact with Howard Payne

Donna Anderson all-district, all-state spiker for Coach Vicki Nelms' Snyder High School Lady Tigers, has signed a scholarship to play volleyball at Howard Payne University in Brownwood.

Anderson became the second player from Snyder's Class 4A state championship team to sign a college scholarship. Karlene Thompson, another all-district, all-state choice, signed earlier with Texas Tech University.

DONNA ANDERSON
signs with Howard Payne

Anderson signed a partial volleyball and partial academic scholarship with HPU, which competes in the Lone Star Conference.

"I really feel like Donna made a real good choice," said Coach Nelms. "She's a very intelligent young lady and I'm sure she will be able to play right away for Howard Payne if she works hard. We're delighted she has this opportunity."

Anderson was a starter on the volleyball team, which posted a 35-5 season record. She was also a starter this season for Snyder on the basketball court.

One other Tiger volleyball player may sign soon. Kima McLarty is reportedly considering Howard Payne and Hardin-Simmons University.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR FLUID INJECTION WELL PERMIT

C.M. Russell Oil Company, 7806 Indiana, Suite 105, Lubbock, TX 79423 has applied to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a permit to inject fluid into a formation which is productive of oil or gas.

The applicant proposes to inject fluid into the Glorieta (Formation), First National Bank (Lease), Well Number 5. The proposed injection well is located 4 miles West of Ira, TX in the Sharon Ridge 2400' Field, in Scurry County. Fluid will be injected into strata in the subsurface depth interval from 2198' to 2508' feet.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: Chapter 27 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, Title 3 of the Natural Resources Code, as amended, and the Statewide Rules of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Requests for a public hearing from persons who can show they are adversely affected, or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing, within fifteen days of publication, to the Underground Injection Control Section, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 (Telephone 512/445-1373).

AUSTIN (AP) — Most Texas teachers are qualified for the classroom, according to results of a statewide competency test presented the State Board of Education.

The figures released Thursday showed 96.7 percent of the 202,084 certified educators who took the reading and writing test on March 10 passed.

About 3.3 percent, or 6,579, failed. If they do not pass a second exam on June 28 they will lose their teaching certificates.

The test was required by the 1984 school reform act in an effort to improve the quality of public school education in Texas.

The results were reviewed by board members Thursday with no further action required when the formal board meeting is held Saturday.

"That's an 'A' in anyone's book," said Gov. Mark White of the results.

"The teachers did fantastic, far exceeding our expectations," said Education Commissioner William Kirby.

Officials earlier had predicted that about 5 percent or about 10,000 might lose their right to teach.

Kirby said the March test failures included 6 percent Hispanics, 18.4 percent blacks and 1.1 white.

State law requires local school districts to offer the failures remedial help to prepare them for the June test.

Less than 1 percent, or 1,597 people, failed the reading portion; 1.7 percent, or 3,514 educators, failed the writing portion, and less than 1 percent, or 1,468, failed both parts, Kirby said.

Board member Mary Ellen Berlanga, Corpus Christi, urged all possible assistance be offered the failures, particulaly the more than 2,800 black teachers.

Member Jack Strong, Longview, asked the Texas Education Agency to investigate the failing grades and find out where those teachers received their teaching certificates. "We need to take an intense look at the colleges where these come from," he said.

"We have asked our teachers to do more than any other state has required. Texas teachers have met the challenge and have passed their test with outstanding success," White said.

"The teachers have done what we asked them to do," Kirby told reporters. "People have got to make teachers understand they support them. If we don't, we're going to keep losing teachers."

Kirby said he could not make any estimate how many of the 6,500 who failed would fail the second test in June.

Joining White and others in praising the results was John Cole, president of the Texas Federation of Teachers.

"We think that the teachers of Texas should be congratulated on their A work on the TECAT test," Cole said.

"These tests underscore the fact that we have just wasted some $4.7 million of taxpayers' money," said Charles Beard, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, which opposed the exams. "We do not know any more about teacher competency in Texas than we did two months or two years ago."

"We're elated but not surprised," said Al Bookman, associate communications director of the Association of Texas Professional Educators. "It's a big hurdle for everyone. Now we need to sit down with the 6,500 and see if we can help them out."

"We're delighted," said Sherry Fults, communications director of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association, which held workshops to train teachers for the test. "We think teachers and the teaching profession are finally vindicated."

Kirby said the TEA was authorized by the Legislature to extend the teaching certificate of a teacher who fails the tests, if the school board can prove there is no replacement. "But the districts will have to demonstrate an emergeny need in order to get the waivers," Kirby told reporters.

Kirby told the state board on Feb. 8 that Texas may be short about 15,000 teachers in September because of the teacher tests and class defections. He estimated as many as 5,000 teachers will leave the profession for various reasons.

Arrest follows report of rape

The assault is said to have occurred near the dam on the Scurry County side of the lake.

The victim first reported the incident to Dawson County authorities, who called the local sheriff's office into the case when the scene of the alleged rape was identified.

Abrams was transported to Snyder following the arrest and remained in the Scurry County Jail Friday morning in lieu of bond set at $20,000.

Winners noted for 'Mothers'

"Famous Mothers" participating merchants.

Approximately 200 entries were received with some 130 successfully guessing each "mother." Three winners were drawn from the group of correct entries.

Among the most-missed questions were: What "mother" hangs in the Louvre in Paris? (Whistler's Mother); and what is the phrase denoting the English monarch's mom? (Queen Mother).

The Snyder Daily News also plans a "Famous Fathers" contest to be held in conjunction with Father's Day June 15.
