Spike Plant Application Goes to SBA

An application was filed with the Small Business Administration Wednesday, April 13, asking $275,000 to fund the building and equipment of Southwestern Rail Products, Inc. new Wellington plant.

Making the application were Wayne Smith, president of Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., Robert Messenger, company auditor, Lyman Daniel, president of Wellington Industrial Board, Inc., and Kenneth Moore, vice-president of Wellington State Bank.

These four also conferred with Thurman Wildman, finance officer of SBA in Lubbock recently and returned home "very optimistic," Mr. Daniel said.

"Mr. Wildman didn't see any problem at all," he added. SBA sees the railroad industry as having a good future for at least the next 20 years.

The funding application is in the amount of $275,000. Cost of the proposed building will be approximately $190,000, and the remainder will go for equipment to be installed in the plant, Mr. Daniel explained.

Mr. Daniel said that it will not be necessary to do the core drilling at the plant site, which was at first thought necessary. At the time the foundations are dug it can be determined if any reinforcement will be needed.

Mr Smith has told Wellington associates that he was well pleased with the labor survey and applications for employment made here recently.

SKYROCKET WINNERS
Four Wellington High School athletes received honors at the annual All-Sports Banquet Thursday, April 7. From left are Jessie Davis, Outstanding Back; Allen Sanders, Outstanding Lineman; Shane Tarver, Most Valuable Basketball Player; and Tony Martinez, winner of the Larry Wright Memorial Fighting Heart Award. West Texas State University Coach Bill Yung, banquet speaker, told WHS athletes that if a young person "believes in himself, believes in his team and believes in God," he's on the road to a successful life.

District 2-A Track Meet April 20 at White Deer

The Skyrocket track team will be running for keeps, with District 2-A championships at stake, Wednesday, April 20, at White Deer.

Preliminaries will start at 9:30 a.m. and finals at 1:30 p.m.

This is a new date, and Wellington is scheduled to run the meet. Track Coach Phil Bailey explained the schools alternate in directing the event. He will be in charge, assisted by other members of the Wellington coaching staff.

Wellington's most serious contender will be the Memphis Cyclone, state defending champion in track.

The Cyclone mile relay team has defeated Wellington twice this season, at Panhandle and Shamrock. On the other hand, Wellington's boys have run a 3:27.8, on occasion, the best of any Class A school in the Panhandle. This is not far behind Dalhart's 3:24 record Class AA Dalhart is considered to have the best small school relay team in this part of the state.

Wellington and Memphis will also provide the fireworks in the spring relay.

Ramsey of Shamrock and Shahan of Memphis are top contenders in the mile run and Irish runner Stokes is regarded as a top man in the 220.

Clarendon has a good intermediate hurdler--one capable of dashing the hopes of any other school. Claude does not have many men running this year, according to reports received here.

Coach Bailey is urging Skyrocket Boosters to support their team at White Deer.

Members of the Wellington track team who will be in district competition are:

440 relay: Dan Ford, Jessie Davis, Joe Baumgardner and Shane Tarver.

880 run: Dickie Moore, Roy Cardwell and Chris Watts.

100 yard dash: Shane

Burned Child First Patient Here Airlifted by Helicopter

An eight-year-old girl, with third degree burns over 30 percent of her body, became the first county person to be airlifted to an Amarillo hospital by emergency medical helicopter.

The accident and evacuation took place Friday evening, April 8, according to Bob Watson, president of the Volunteer Ambulance Service, who with Tom Anderson co-ordinated the operation.

Rosa Hernandez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Esequiel Hernandez, 301 Floydada, was reported by a spokesman at High Plains Hospital Tuesday morning as "doing much better," according to Mr. Watson after a telephone call.

He said the helicopter was called through the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services communication center at 6:58 p.m., the four member trauma team from Northwest Texas Hospital and the pilot contacted and it reached Wellington at 8:19--an hour and 21 minutes after the call.

Only 35 minutes was needed for the helicopter, with trauma team attending the little girl, to make the return trip and set down on the helipad at High Plains Hospital.

The helicopter belongs to the Potter County Sheriff's Department and is operated under a grant to provide emergency helicopter service for the entire Panhandle through the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System. The program is funded by a federal grant and there is no cost to the patient.

According to information given ambulance personnel and to friends, the accident in which Rosa was burned came after children of the family had gotten into a can of paint, which was being removed from the skin with gasoline.

Rosa, according to reports, went into the bath room, brushed against a lighted heater and her clothing ignited.

Mr. Hernandez put out the child's burning clothes and sustained burns on his hands. He quickly wrapped Rosa in a sheet.

The family first called for the fire department and firemen, sizing up the situation, summoned the ambulance. It was logged into Collingsworth General Hospital within 10 minutes and Rosa was receiving emergency treatment.

According to information received here, Rosa will probably be in High Plains Hospital from 6 to eight weeks, and this maybe followed by a stay in a Crippled Children's Hospital.

The family has lived in Wellington about four years and Mr. Hernandez is employed by Singley Mill and elevator, according to Mrs. Tess Burba of the Community Action Center. Mrs. Hernandez does not speak English.

Rosa is the oldest of five children and is a second grader in Mrs. Bill Estes second grade at Elementary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Aguilar visited the parents and Rosa Sunday. She remains in the isolation ward but is conscious and alert, they report.

Rosa Hernandez Fund Started Here

A fund has been started at Wellington State Bank for the benefit of Rosa Hernandez, 8-year-old girl who was burned over 30 percent of her body Friday, April 8. It is sponsored by the Community Action Program and Mrs. Tess Burba, director, is also in charge of administering the fund.

Assisting her are Mrs. Jose Guajardo and Mrs. Julian Torrez, Sr., both CAC employees.

The money will be used only for medical expenses relating to the girl's treatment in High Plains Hospital, Amarillo, and for travel expenses of the parents to be with her, Mrs. Burba emphasized. It is estimated she will be hospitalized from 6 to 8 weeks.

The family has no hospital or medical insurance to cover Rosa.

Tuesday morning, funds collected had reached $237. Donations may be made to the Rosa Hernandez fund at Wellington State or left at the Community Action Center, Mrs. Burba said.

Cancer Crusade Opens in County-Wide Drive Sunday

Sunday, April 17, is designated for the opening of the 1977 Cancer Crusade, when volunteers throughout the county will ask their friends to join in the fight against this disease.

Mrs. Gary Brewer is the Crusade chairman. This week, she announced those who will direct the drive over the county.

Working in Wellington will be Mrs. Howard Murdock, Mrs. Bob Weatherly and Miss Vikki Saunders. They are recruiting a large group of workers who will cover Wellington, street by street.

Kay Coffee is the student chairman. Working with her are these Wellington High School seniors, Debbie Stallings, Kim Cannon, Brenda Willis, Darla Dodge, Janee Taylor, Suzy Castleberry, Penny Morgan, Kathy Trimble, Cindy Black, Rhonda McClendon and Terri Vassey.

Mrs. T.E. Lennon will head the Cancer Crusade in Dodson.

The Quail Chairman is Mrs. Cary Don Neeley, while Mrs. Haskell Manuel is to handle the campaign in the Lillie community.

Chairmen for the Samnorwood and Lutie areas are still needed, Mrs. Williams said.

April is designated nationwide as the month for the American Cancer Society's educational and fund raising Crusade.

The crusade extends into all grades of the county schools, and Mrs. Lynn Wright, educational chairman for the county unit, American Cancer Society, has distributed "Send a Mouse to College" envelopes to children of all grades.

"Two quarters and a penny buy a mouse for the cancer research lab. Scientists need thousands of mice to help save lives from cancer. Will you send at least one?" she requests.

Mrs. Brewer has reminded that one program of the American Cancer Society goes on year-around, although she is emphasizing it in Crusade week.

This is the memorial gift program. Donations made in memory of a friend or relative who has died. Or a gift-may be made as a tribut to someone who is living, she explained.

The theme of this year's Crusade is "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

There is a basis for cautious optimism that this can be

June Rodeo Plans Taking Shape

Plans for the three-day Collingsworth County Rodeo, and a series of events associated with it, are rapidly taking shape, Jack Clinkscale, chairman, announced Monday, April 11.

The rodeo will be Thursday Friday and Saturday, June 16, 17 and 18, at the Wellington rodeo area. Bill Halliday of Elida, N.M. is the producer and will furnish all the stock.

Mr. Clinkscale outlined plans at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Monday.

A rodeo queen will be named and will participate in the opening. Mrs. Sam McGill was appointed queen chairman and she will meet with other workers to set up rules. These will be announced shortly.

The rodeo parade is scheduled for Saturday, June 18, at 2:00 p.m. In addition to local participants, a number of those in town for the rodeo will take part, and riding clubs from surrounding towns will be invited. A chairman will be named this week.

There will be a rodeo dance. Yet to be decided is whether this will be all three nights or Saturday night only. Henry Wells and Bill Hatch are co-chairmen.

Kirby Campbell is area director, and Eddie Orr will work the chutes.

Judges will include Blackie Johnson of Memphis, highly regarded among Panhandle-West Texas rodeo contestants for a quarter of a century, and Kenneth Kromer of Vinson, a former RCA rodeo performer. Mr. Halliday will furnish the other judge.

Entries will be limited and each night will be a separate event, Mr. Clinkscale told CC directors.

There will be 12 contestants each night--36 total--in these events: bareback riding, calf roping, heading-heeling, saddle bronc riding. Bulldogging was eliminated due to lack of interest in this area.

There will be 15 bull riders each night for a total of 45.

Barrel racing for girls will be a feature. There is no limit on the number of entries. Twelve girls will compete each evening, and after the Saturday night show, any who has not raced will be in an additional contest.

Besides the 36 steer ropers there will be 12 slack ropers who will compete Saturday at 8:00 a.m.

A big calf scramble is scheduled for boys and girls

Most competitive event of the day in Division 1 came with the mile relay, when Wellington had accumulated 78¼ points and Dalhart 54.

Dalhart's Rusty Summerville used his third leg to make up 18 yards on Wellington's Joe Baumgardner, then Dalhart anchorman Lloyd Blackburn used a strong stretch kick to overhaul Rocket Shane Tarver at the finish line.

Winner Dalhart's 3:37.4 and second place Wellington 3:27.9 clockings came on a windswept track, with wind gusting from the southwest up to 40 miles per hour, carrying dust and sand. At their steady point, the wind ranged from 25 done. In the late 1930s less than one in five cancer patients was being saved. Twenty-five years ago it was one in four. Today one of three who get cancer is saved, Mrs. Brewer pointed out.

"While we are trying to save more people with the knowledge we have today, we are asking Collingsworth residents to support the threefold ACS program of research, education, (both for the public and the medical and allied health professions) and service and rehabilitation for the cancer patient and family," said the Crusade chairman.

Cancer treatment today often includes the skills of many specialists--surgeons, radiotherapists, chemotherapists and immunotherapists.

"For many forms of cancers there are treatment approaches and drugs that didn't exist a few years ago," said the Crusade chairman. "While our ability to diagnose and treat cancer has sharpened, we have been giving more and more attention to the emotional needs of the cancer patient and family.

"On one hand, the ACS is supporting highly sophisticated research into the mucleus of the cancer cells, on the other, we are trying to answer simple human questions like this one: 'How do you keep a family going when one child is struck by leukemia?'"

10 years of age and under.

Area improvements were approved by the CC board. The city is donating lights and standards. These were replaced at Marian Airpark Ball Park improvement last year.

One of the major complaints of the arena made during the Tri State High School Rodeo performances was the lighting. The rodeo grounds are owned by the city, and the improvements by Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Eddie Blackshear will head a group of volunteers who will repair pens, gates, chutes and other sections of the arena. Plans call for new double gates on the north side, from First Street. The present single width gate on the east side has long been a bottleneck.

Others assisting Mr. Clinkscales include Jim Henard, Johnny Henard, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe. Others will be added.

This group will hold another planning meeting Friday, April 29.

City State Bank has volunteered to enclose and repair the announcers stand over the chutes.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the rodeo.

"Now Your Electric Service Bill Gives You Even More Information"

Fuel Adjustment Cost Will be Shown As A Separate Item.

The fuel charge you have been paying is now shown as a separate item on your bill from WTU. The money from this charge is used for ONLY ONE PURPOSE— TO PAY THE INCREASED PRICE OF FUELS needed to produce your electricity. None of this money is used for profits or for any other expenses.

Your electric service bill will be similar to the one shown here with base rate and fuel cost charges included among the separately listed items. We've prepared a line-by-line guide to explain these items in your bill.

If you need more detailed information, please contact your local WTU office.

LINE ONE is the base rate portion of the monthly bill. It also shows amount of kilowatt hours used.

LINE TWO shows the fuel adjustment separately. The fuel adjustment has been part of the rate since 1959, but until now has been included as part of the base rate on your bill. The six-digit number shown (.017076) is the fuel adjustment factor. This factor reflects the difference between the price of fuel this month and the price in 1959.

This adjustment factor is then multiplied by the number of kilowatt hours used by you, the individual customer.
Example: .017076 x 562=$9.60

LINE THREE shows any charges for other electric services, which on this bill includes a Guard-Lite.

LINE FOUR shows the amount of SALES TAX remitted to the STATE.

LINE FIVE indicates your total bill for electric service.

Dinner Honors A.B. Clark On His Eightieth Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan hosted a surprise dinner party Sunday, April 3, honoring her father, A.B. Clark on his 80th birthday.

Mr. Clark was associated with the Chevrolet dealership in Wellington, as an employee and owner, for more than 40 years, something of a record in Wellington.

It was about 52 years ago that Mr. Clark brought his young family to the Fresno community, where he farmed. After two years, however, he went to work for the Cone and Kern Chevrolet agency as a salesman.

He remained with the business under A.B. Mears ownership, then bought it when Mr. and Mrs. Mears moved to Kansas.

His first years as an owner were during World War II, when production of new cars for civilian use was stopped, then returned at a dribble. In 1947, his son-in-law, Henry Sullivan returned with his family from Port Arthur to join the firm, and about two years later, his son, Earl Clark, came into the business.

During all of this time, Mr. Clark remained interested in farming and cattle, and some of his family has recalled that each day, when he finished work at the Chevrolet agency, he went out and did his farming.

This left him no time for clubs or other organizations.

Mr. Clark retired from the business 8 years ago, and since then he has given his full time to farming and ranching interests in Collingsworth County and across the state line in Oklahoma.

Mr. Clark was born at Chico and came here from Bowie. Mrs. Clark, the former Susie Kilcrese, grew up at Bowie. They have two children, Mrs. Sullivan and Earl (Skeet) Clark, six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Only one member of the family was unable to attend the birthday dinner, a granddaughter, Lucy Sullivan, who was studying for exams at Texas Tech University.

Those attending were the guest of honor, Mr. Clark, Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Clark, Joe Kent and Jason, Jim Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Phillips, Shana, Bobby and David of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hicks, Chris and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Davis and Paige and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

Personal

LaDonna Dunavant of Garland, Kathy Holland of Nacogdoches and Craig Morton of Pampa visited last week with their grandmother, Mrs. Grace Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cudd spent last week visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Vaughn, of Monahans. Dennis and Ronnie spent most of the week camping.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Isaacs were their daughter, Mrs. C.O. Mullins and their granddaughter and her children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bloug, Robin and Chad of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ford and Dan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Ford of Arlington over the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Hightower spent the Easter weekend with relatives and friends in the Ft. Worth area.

90th Birthday Dinner Honors Mrs. S.F. Hughs

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughs were hosts at a dinner Sunday, April 10, for an early celebration of the 90th birthday of his mother, Mrs. S.F. Hughs.

Mrs. Hughs real birthday is still a month away, May 13, but this was the time her grandchildren could best come home for the event.

The dinner was a surprise to her.

Mrs. Hughs, the late Mr. Hughs and their son came to Wellington from Quanah 40 years ago this month, 1937, when he and a partner bought the Wellington bakery.

He operated it through the World War II years until he retired.

Although the Hughs family lived in several area towns before coming here--Memphis, Paducah, Quanah and longest at Childress--They are originally from the area east of Dodson.

Mr. Hughs homesteaded a place north of the land now owned by Newell McDaniel. Mrs. Hughs, the former Florence Perkins, was living in Hollis when they married.

Both the Hughs and Perkins families had come here from Coleman, although she was born in the Joplin, Missouri area.

Mrs. Hughs is a long-time member of the Rebekahs and has held all the top offices in the Wellington lodge.

Joining Mrs. Hughs, her son and daughter-in-law, for the dinner Sunday were her three grandchildren and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Holiman, Tanya and Stacy, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hughs Matt and Marcus of Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Feemster, Chad and Cristy of Oklahoma City. With them were Mrs. Buster Hughs sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hunter of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. S.F. Hughs also has a step-daughter, Mrs. Verna Schultz of Salt Lake City, and three step-sons, Wes Hughs of Amarillo; Lee Hughs of Camarillo, Ca., and Em Hughs of Eugene, Oregon.

Dinner Honors W.A. Colson April 3 on his 95th Birthday

Children and grandchildren gathered Sunday, April 3, to honor W.A. Colson with a dinner to celebrate his 95th birthday. His daughter, Mrs. Velma Rainey, was hostess at her home at 509 Haskell Street.

The actual birthday was Monday.

Mr. Colson, a resident of the county for many years, has lived in Thomas Nursing Home since February 1.

Altogether, 37 members of the family were present for the birthday dinner, including Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Colson of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Colson of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Colson and grandchildren of Lockney;

Funny thing about habits. They're almost always either good habits or bad habits. Ever hear of a "mediocre habit"?

Unfortunately, bad habits seem to get all the publicity. Everything from drug addiction to overeating is lumped together under the general category of "bad habit". In fact, so much is being said about bad habits that it's giving the word, "habit", a bad name.

There's a whole world of good habits. One of the best, for financial well being, is the "savings habit". Making savings a part of the way you do things. Set aside a certain amount of each paycheck and deposit that amount to your savings account. Do it on a regular basis for just a month or two and before you know it, Presto! A Good Habit. You'll be surprised by the self satisfaction and personal security that can be created for you by something so simple. As a matter of fact, it's just the kind of thing that could give "habit" a good name.

Guy N. Wood to Preach in Church of Christ Meeting

A gospel meeting will open at the Church of Christ, 13th and Bowie Streets, on Sunday, April 17, and continue through the following Sunday, April 24.

Returning as the evangelist will be Guy N. Wood of Memphis, Tenn.

Tom Anderson is the local preacher and the song leader is Ward Jones.

Services will be at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. weekdays and at 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Guy N. Wood was minister of the Wellington Church of Christ almost 40 years ago, for a period of several years. Since then he has returned many times to hold gospel meetings, his ties to this church remaining close.

At the time he was minister here, Mr. Wood was already a lawyer who instead of going into private practice, had turned his life to the study and keeping of the Bible.

In the years since he left here, Mr. Wood has become one of the best qualified religious lecturers in the country, as well as a Bible scholar of national recognition. He is the author of 12 books relating to religion. One of his latest books is a self-teaching test on New Testament Greek.

Library Week Tea Planned April 21

The 1924 Study Club will host its annual Library Week Tea Thursday, April 21, at the county library in the courthouse.

The hours are 9:00 to 11:00 a.m., and all business people are invited to come by for coffee and cookies, and to see the library facilities.

Co-operating with the club is Mrs. Frances Mote, librarian.

Children of the first and second grades in the three county elementary schools will be special guests. Besides visiting the library, they will be taken on a tour of the court house and hear stories.

Readers will be Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason, Mrs. Don Hendrix and Mrs. Sandy Covey.

The tea is held each year during Library Week, which this year falls on April 17 through 23.

Complete plans will be announced next week, according to Mrs. Chester Fires, club president.

Stories, Pictures In April 21 Issue

Additional pictures of Quail and Dodson school reunions, along with stories of the Dodson Reunion, Tiny Tot Revue, Thomas Nursing Center News and a number of other stories had to be left out of this issue and will be printed next week.

First Baptist Revival Planned April 17-21

"Have you heard the Good News?" You are invited to First Baptist Church for revival services starting Sunday, April 17 and continuing through the week including April 24, to Hear the Good News and see Living Proof that Jesus Lives," declared the Rev. Mickey Fugitt, pastor.

Services will be held each morning, Monday through Friday, at 10:00 a.m., and each weeknight evening at 7:30. Sunday services will be at the regular times, 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Rev. Fugitt will preach and Glen Mize, minister of music, youth and education, will direct the singing and give special music.

All offerings taken during the week will go toward paying off the debt on the television equipment of First Baptist Church. Those who would like to participate in this but who cannot come to the meeting can mail their gifts to the church, said Rev. Fugitt.

A nursery will be provided during the revival services.

The public is invited.

This revival is in conjunction with the "Living Proof" campaign being sponsored by the Southern Baptist Association across Texas.

Norwood Lions Hold Egg Hunt For Children

Samnorwood Lions Club sponsored an Easter egg hunt for children of the north half of the county, the entire school district, on Sunday, April 10.

Approximately 1,000 eggs were hidden in Marvin Knoll's wheat field for the youngsters to find.

Winner of the hunt was John Bentley, who found 82 eggs. A number of prize eggs were hidden for the youngsters, also.

Approximately 55 children were in the hunt, and with Lions members and visitors, approximately 100 were present, according to W.R. Breeding, Lions president.

Farmers Co-op Reviews Successful Year, Looks Back on 50 Years Faithful Service

Stockholders of the Farmers Co-op Society No. 1, owner of the county's largest cotton gin, heard reports of one of their banner years, received $265,638.05 in cash rebates, and then briefly looked back to their organization's 50 years of service to cotton growers of the Wellington area.

-They heard the story of the young Co-op's financial struggles as drouth and depression hovered in the early 1930s. They heard how disaster to the young gin was averted by will power alone.

The story was told simply by F.O. Masten, the man who led the fight that eventually preserved the Society. The only surviving member of the first board of directors and served as the first president.

Also present at this meeting was J.C. Emmert, who for many years was on the board of directors. He was already a life-time member of the society, but on Mr. Masten's nomination, a motion quickly seconded, he was made an honorary lifetime member of the board of directors.

J.N. Glasgow, assistant secretary-treasurer, explained the financial operation of the gin, and pointed to one matter of which it could be proud. Its accounts receivable are unbelievable. This million dollar business has only $70 owing it on accounts, and that is a current transaction.

Don Hendrix read the auditing committee report Since the gin began operation in 1927, it has paid $3,618,871 in cash rebates back into the economy of the community Manager Webb Johnson told the stockholders.

It has ginner 467,893 bales of cotton!

The Co-op Society is looking with optimism toward its half-millionth bale.

Mr. Johnson noted that he is glad to have the co-op's two gins on the same lots. After no satisfactory bid was received on moving the old gin from the corner of 8th Street and Highway 83, he took the job of using gin employees and move it to the location east of Wellington.

"For a while, it was scattered over five acres and didn't look like much, but we put it up," he noted. Regular employees of the gin were kept on the payroll through the summer to move the plant and reassemble it, making them completely familiar with everything about is, as it now stands.

The move was made between May 8 and November 3. On that morning, 7 bales of cotton were ginned and by evening, the figure reached 31.

It was operated continuously until Christmas, when 4,789 bales were ginned. The new gin accounted for 13,385.

The total cost of moving the gin and bringing it to operating condition was $162,614.22, considerably under the price bid.

"You are the best customers I ever saw in my life. It is your business. Be its best customers," he said in closing.

Mr. Johnson is the eighth manager of the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Grady Graham was temporary manager until the A.N. Hutcherson was hired for the post. He was succeeded by Walter Watson, and he by Jack Watson. The two men were not related. Dick Sweat who died earlier this month, managed the gin for a period of about 20 years, the longest tenure. He was followed by Dub Marchant, who was manager until Mr. Johnson came.

As nearly as can be determined, there have been only 8 years when the co-op society did not pay a rebate.

Mr. Masten recalled that this included the first year, several years in the 1930s, and perhaps 1940-41, the year the gin stock was retired. From

It's also people who operate and repair those machines.
And people with foresight and judgement,
and a plan for the future.

FARMERS CO-OP GIN, Wellington, is fortunate in having good directors and management who have looked to the future and planned for it.

The entire community will benefit from their progressive viewpoint for years to come.

"Completely Cured" End of Long Fight Against Leukemia

Young children sometimes show great courage, and such has been the courage of teen-ager Cara DeAnn Morrow who lived with leukemia from her kindergarten days until February 1977.

Cara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Morrow, now of Shattuck, Oklahoma. She lived here as a small child, then moved to Lubbock. Her story has been told by a member of the family.

On the morning she graduated from kindergarten in Lubbock, May 26, 1970, she didn't feel well and Mrs. Morrow took her in to see the family's doctor. He said he'd like to run some tests in Methodist Hospital next day.

That whole day was spent going fron one test to another. "We all waited anxiously, expecting bad news. Still, we were not prepared when the doctor said Cara had acute Leukemia and the most hope he could give the family would be that she might be with us three months," her aunt, Mrs. Gene Morrow, recalls.

The doctor recommended the Morrows try the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine, Dallas. They left the next day, prepared to stay as long as necessary.

Dr. Ellen Lobe, her doctor, kept telling the family not to give up hope.

Actor John Wayne visited the hospital and came in to see Cara. He told her and her parents to have faith. On July 21, she suddenly went into remission. For the next four years, the family drove to Dallas from Lubbock each week for bone marrow and platelet tests. Sometimes they thought her remission might be slipping and her medicine was changed. Once, as a precaution, the little girl was taken into a lead-lined, underground room, where lazer beam, was used to kill any cancer cells which might have been in her brain. After that, she lost all her hair. However it came back, as beautiful as ever.

All of this time, Cara was not allowed to be around other children. A cold or any childhood disease she might have caught could have killed her, for at that time she had no immune response.

Until she was in the fifth grade, a private teacher came to her home twice a week for her lessons. All this time, she remained happy and content to be at home, not the hospital.

At times, however, the medicine made her sick and she had to stay in bed for several days.

At last, she had to go to Dallas only once every two weeks, then once in six weeks.

In August before she entered the fifth grade, the Morrows moved to Shattuck and that fall Cara went to school for the first time.

She joined 4-H Club and won a blue ribbon on a skirt she made, as well as on other things, including a back pack for camping. She took that to the Oklahoma State Fair at Oklahoma City and again was a winner.

In the sixth grade, her doctors let Cara start playing basketball. Sometimes she couldn't play, but when she could, she was good enough to be on the starting team.

She has studied piano and is in the Shattuck school chorus. She has been a winner in talent shows.

Still, she had to go once every six weeks to Wadley Memorial Research Center for tests.

The Gene Morrow family saw her in February in Shattuck.

"I dread going to Dallas Monday because this is the time for all the tests, but the bone marrow test is worst," she told them. "The chemotherapy treatment I take each week is next worst."

Monday night, February 21, the Gene Morrows had a telephone call.

Dr. Lobe had told Cara that morning there was not a sign of leukemia in any test they could run, and now she could face the world completely cured.

In spite of her problems, Cara has remainded a grade A student and plans to go to college, majoring in piano and voice.

She likes horses and riding them. She has trained her Pomeranian dog, Cutie, to perform to music and they have won talent shows. She does needlepoint and paints.

CARA MORROW

Cara has relatives in the Wellington area, for her mother was Oletha Morris, who went to school at Quail, while her father, H.C. Morrow, graduated from Samnorwood High School and farmed there. Later he operated the Lutie Mercantile several years. They now own the Northwest Drilling Company at Shattuck.

Her sisters are married. Donia is Mrs. Warner Ford of Amarillo and Judy is Mrs. William Lewis Byrd III of Dallas.

Graveside Rites for Mrs. Ella Smith

Graveside services for Mrs. Ella Mae Smith, 86, of Lubbock were conducted at Fairview Cemetery Friday, April 8, at 4:00 p.m.

Dr. Jaroy Weber and Rev. I.D. Watkins of Lubbock officiated, and grandsons were pall bearers. Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements here.

Lubbock services were held in Sanders Memorial Chapel at 10 a.m. Friday morning.

Mrs. Smith died at Lubbock Wednesday, April 6, eight days after she suffered a heart attack.

The former Ella Mae Young was born in Howell County, Missouri September 8, 1890, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Young. They came to Texas while she was a child.

She was married there to Walter Smith, who preceded her in death about 1929. She continued living at Quail a number of years, but made her home in Wellington for a period of time before moving to Lubbock in 1953.

Mrs. Smith was a member of First Baptist Church, Lubbock.

Survivors are three sons, Buster Smith of Lorenzo, Jack Smith and Sunday Bill Smith of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Vaudell Wilson of Pasadena; a step-son, Dudley Smith of Hemet, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Mattie Lane of Deming, N.M.; 18 grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

WHAT WILL YOU NEED TO KEEP THE WHEELS OF PROGRESS TURNING IN YOUR COMMUNITY?

Communities that have built a strong, healthy economy know what they must have to keep the wheels of progress turning in the years ahead. Although each community is different, the basic requirements will be the same:

A labor force known for its productivity. Municipal water supplies that can outlast a drought. A good transportation network. Diversification of industry, just to be on safer ground. Cultural and recreational attractions. Favorable tax structures. Strong leadership.

And energy to power assembly lines. Energy to heat, cool, process foods, lift, spin, dry, pump, drill, press, shape, compute or to use however industry needs it to create products that create jobs.

Meet the Changing Times.

The cheap and abundant energy available here in years past is one reason this area emerged from the recent recessions with one of the strongest economies you'll find in the nation. Few others have a business outlook as optimistic or an employment level as high.

The days of cheap energy are gone, of course. The cost of producing and distributing energy of almost every type has increased dramatically. This, with the demand that exists for energy, has forced a sharp increase in the prices that you and people everywhere are having to pay for it.

But the availability of an abundance of energy to keep the wheels of progress turning in this area still holds true.

You Can Have What You Need.

Natural gas, for example. Lone Star's pipeline system now extends into basins that contain 50% of the remaining onshore gas reserves in the United States. And this puts us in an excellent position to buy enough new gas reserves to last all of our customers for many decades.

Securing these reserves will be essential to the future of the communities served by Lone Star. Because gas not only meets your energy requirements directly, but indirectly as the primary fuel for generating most of the electric power you use.

The new gas will cost more, and Lone Star will have to recover the actual cost of it on a timely basis. A bargain, even so? Yes. Because these long-term supplies will help your community build job security through business growth.

And that's a bargain in anybody's economy.

Lone Star Gas Company
Working energetically for your area's future.

Co-op Leaders At Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Johnson, manager, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fourmentin, director and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Thomason, director, representing the Farmers Cooperative Society #1 were among over 250 agricultural farm cooperative managers, directors and wives from across the state that recently attended the 26th Annual Cooperative Manager/Director Conference in McAllen, March 27 through 30.

that point to the present, everyone who gins a bale of cotton at the Co-op becomes a member.

From its beginning, the Farmers Co-op Gin has had a lively history. Mr. Masten told about it Saturday.

C.W. Roberts, a member of the board was to select the location of the gin on the chosen site. Mr. Masten remembers. The Murry Gin Company had agreed to install the gin machinery but they said Mr. Roberts location was wrong. After considerable discussion, he resigned from the board and the gin machinery people prevailed.

It was of the depression years that Mr. Masten's memory was most vivid. The society had incurred additional debt when it doubled the size of the plant to better serve the area, just before the depression came.

"We couldn't pay our bills. There were 10 other gins in town and we couldn't pay our bills. We hired John Barjenbruch to buy cotton off us, but the other gins paid $5 per bale more than we were paying and we couldn't hold our customers," he continued.

The bank with which the gin did business was insisting on its money. The directors held meeting after meeting hunting a solution. Twice these meetings lasted all night. Some of the directors wanted to let the gin go. Mr. Masten told them "No."

But the day came when the bank said to the gin board president, "This is it."

"We took it to court and lost in county court. We lost in district court, in the court of civil appeals and in the state supreme court.

"The Mish Dukeminer's dray came and took everything out of the office and locked the gin. There were 100 bales of cotton on the yard.

At this most crucial point, Wellington State Bank sent word to Mr. Masten: Tell the farmers if they will bring their working capital in, we'll loan enough money to pay back the other bank.

The county court room was jammed with stockholders. "I have pledged every dollar I have for the machinery," Mr. Masten told the group. "Will you raise the money we need now," he asked.

"Yes, Yes, Yes," rang in the court room.

"The next week, wagons were all over the gin yard and down the street. That year we ginned enough to pay off the debt," remembered the man who had led the fight.

He closed with this other memory. On the day the directors paid for the gin, Fatty Hite stood up in the meeting, a smile on his face but with tears shining in his eyes. On behalf of the board, he presented Mr. Masten a 21 jewel Hamilton pocket watch which to this day keeps perfect time. On the back was engraved: To F.O. Masten, an unselfish and faithful neighbor."

During the short business session, members re-elected the entire current board: Carl Wischkaemper, who was concluding a term as president; Louis Allred, C.G. Lewis, Dan Henard, Jr., Troy G. Thomason and Jerol Morris.

In the re-organization which followed, Mr. Henard was elected president for the coming year, Mr. Allred vice president and Mr. Lewis secretary-treasurer.

Hello Everybody. We're popping our buttons. Because of you, Wonderful Volunteers. You never disappoint us. We had over 2,000 volunteer hours turned in for the month of March.

Every bit of time spent in volunteer service is worth reporting, whether it be quilting at the Senior citizen Center, visiting or playing games at Thomas Nursing Center, or telephoning shut-ins, or taking your elderly neighbor to the grocery store. We do need your continued help and new members are needed all the time that our program might grow.

The blood pressure clinic will be held Wednesday, April 13, starting at 1:00 p.m.

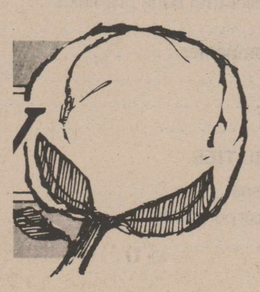

Our monthly birthday luncheon will be Wednesday, April 20 at 12:00 noon. Please be here for the program at 11:00 a.m. Those having birthdays in April are Mrs. Grace Cook, Mrs. Marie Gollihugh; Haskell Manuel, Mrs. Fay Davis, Mrs. W.M. Scott and our secretary, Jean Reynolds.

We are planning a recognition day for all our volunteers in May. Be thinking about attending. You will get an invitation through the mail at a later date.

When was the last time you told someone you appreciated them?

CJC Presents "Deadwood Dick"

"Deadwood Dick", a hilarious comedy of the old west, will be presented by the Fine Arts Department of Clarendon College Thursday and Friday, April 28 and 29, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, May 1 at 2:00 p.m.

All of our good wishes to Farmers Co-op Gin, Wellington on your 50th anniversary.

Here's hoping your second 50 years is as good as your first.

We enjoy doing business with people like you.

A Voice is Strong in the County's Cotton Industry

This week, The Farmers Co-op Society, No. 1 celebrates 50 years of service to the cotton growers of Collingsworth County. Immediately after the society's organization, work began on the gin plant--the same one that was moved from 8th and Highway 83 to the new gin grounds east of town.

Since that first season, it has ginned more than 467,000 bales of cotton for Wellington area farmers. Few gins in the entire West Texas cotton area can boast of this.

The early history of this gin, as it was told at the annual meeting Saturday by F.O. Masten and seconded by Clyde Emmert, has something valuable to say to every cotton grower today. It is how just a few men, not even all of the elected board of directors, refused to accept demands that the gin close in the face of adversity, when it couldn't pay its debts, how it said "NO" to adverse court decisions, all the way to the state supreme court, and in the end the gin remained open to serve the people of the county.

It is this spirit - and there remains a strong strain in Collingsworth County - that can bolster the cotton grower today. When these people speak out with the emphasis of those early Co-op directors, their voices will be heard in the cotton industry.

We congratulate Farmers Co-op Gin and the people who are responsible for it.

Other Editors Say . . . .

Violators Hurt Sportsmen

Readers are generally aware of the responsibility placed on Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife game management officers (game wardens), but maybe it's time to take a look at the other side.

The duties today of the game warden are difficult. The lawless minority fights him at every turn and leaves nothing undone to make futile his efforts at law enforcement.

And the honest sportsman doesnt help much. There exists in this nation a vast distaste for "tattlers." But deliberate violations of hunting and fishing laws fall into a category which makes reporting them something entirely different from ordinary "tale bearing."

When a person willfully breaks game and fish laws, he is robbing each of us about as directly as a burglar would. If the offender shoots an illegal female,he is robbing us of perhaps as many as 1,510 chances to legally shoot a buck. If he catches less than a legal size bass, he is removing from the lake thousands of potential fish we might have enjoyed at a later date.

Yet, a great number of sportsmen, even if they personally see a violation, hesitate to report it because they don't want to get involved. This attitude encourages the offender and punishes the honest sportsman.

Wichita Falls Times

Miracle Food

The average American farmer feeds 96 people around the world. Farmers in no other nation can come even close in such food production.

Not only are we constantly increasing the production of our own specialities, such as wheat and beef, but we are also encroaching on the specialities of other nations - soybeans, fish, rice and other "foreign" staples.

Someone should write a book. It might be titled "More to Eat."

It would recount the miracles of American plant and animal geneticists in multiplying the production of food. It would begin with Luther Burbank of California and tell of Henry Wallace and his work in producing hybrid corn strains.

Elsewhere across the country, especially in the land grant colleges of the nation, work continues to be done on new methods of food production. Sorghum hybrids represent an achievement of Texas A&M's extension service.

New strains of rice have been produced which have proved to be one of the biggest boons to Asians that has come along in a lifetime.

That's the book that somebody should write.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A $528 million finance bill — most monumental achievement of the legislature to date — finally wound its way through the legislature and moved to the governor's desk.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who tagged the measure an emergency and plugged for it in both houses, applauded passage and promptly scheduled signing ceremonies this week.

The bill was deadlocked for six weeks in Senate sub-committee after Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby insisted the $674 million House version was excessive.

After Hobby engineered a compromise on a $428 million bill with a built-in inflation-adjusting mechanism to take care of future needs, new trouble developed in the Senate.

Briscoe held out for another $100 million to repair weather-damaged roads, and Hobby agreed.

Several senators, including A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Lloyd Doggett of Austin, who weren't too keen on the highway department getting first crack at a big bundle of money, waged a battle against the compromise in the Senate. Schwartz was particularly irate about addition of the last $100 million.

Schwartz and Doggett claimed commitment of the additional revenue to highways killed a $258 million tax cut passed by the House. Hobby agreed there is now no chance for elimination of the state sales tax in utility bills, but Briscoe insisted the levy can still be taken off.

Over a 20 year period, the compromise bill will provide more money for highway building than the original House version. Briscoe had requested about $825 million in his initial recommendations for additional highway funding.

Session Speeding

The legislature, following an Easter recess, shifted gears for the final month and a half of the 65th session.

Major business — including school finance legislation and a $15.6 billion general appropriations bill for 1978-79 — awaited the House this week. The governor tagged school finance as an emergency.

The Senate may see its Finance Committee's budget bill next week and its Education Committee's school funding proposals soon thereafter.

Presiding officers of both houses and Gov. Briscoe are optimistic over chances for an early windup of the session. But most observers conclude that, realistically, legislators aren't likely to adjourn before the 140-day deadline at the end of May.

Presiding officers and the governor are convinced accomplishments will be significant.

DODSON SCHOOL - 1914

This Dodson school picture, believed to have been made in 1914, is of the upper grades. It was sent by Jack Jones, who now lives in California, to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swift recently, and circulated at the school reunion Saturday, April 9. The school was a four room white frame building with a cupola on top. Here is the way the group has been identified: Back row, from left: unknown, Carol Jones, Buddy Wynn, Merlyn Carter, Clarence Talley, Fred Scott "Teacher", E.T. Vaughan, who came in 1912, Coleman Berry and Alf Wynn. Middle row: Jewel Nipper, Ruth Royal Hunt, Sue Rogers Branum, Ralph Branum, Virgie Trout, Margie Trout, Susie Trout Crawford, Leona Rogers (wearing bonnet), Rosalie Jones Roberson, Floy Wynn, Ruth Gardner, Dell Hunt and Otis Royal. The three between this and the front row include Alonzo McDowell, Ralph Cherry and an unknown student. In the front row, from left, are: Goldwyn Milner, Brian Ellis, Carl Weaver, Jack Deahl, Arlon Baker, Elliott Wynn, Forrest Jones and Jack Broyles.

A Job Well Done

Experts say money changes hands 7 times before it passes out of a community. And this year the Farmers Co-op Gin of Wellington put more than $500,000 in payroll checks and dividends into the Collingsworth County community.

Multiply that figure times 7 and you realize the importance of the gin to the local economy.

Congratulations to the Members, Directors, Management and Staff on the 50th anniversary of a job well-done.

Collingsworth County's Largest Gin Is Owned by Farmers' Co-op Society

(This article about the Farmers Co-op Society is reprinted from the Silver Anniversary Issue of The Wellington Leader, published in the summer of 1934. The headline is the same, also.)

In the summer of 1927 a group of farmers banded themselves together to organize what has since become Collingsworth County's largest gin. This organization was know as the Farmer's Co-operative Society No. 1. The first officers of the society were F.O Masten, president; R.L. Wood, vice president; H.G. Graham, secretary-treasurer; C.L. Geesey, A.B. Cogdell and J. Barjenbruch, directors.

In less than six weeks after the charter for the gin was received from the secretary of state, the gin was in actual operation, and started ginning its first cotton on Oct. 11 of that same year.

The newest type of machinery was installed and consisted of Murry airline cleaners, two separators, four-cylinder relay machines, and two Hancock hull extractors.

The gin did a flourishing business from the first season and continued to gin to capacity each fall. The partronage proved so satisfactory that is was decided to enlarge the plant and an additional structure was built in connection with the first system and a complete new gin was added.

For a time the indebtedness caused by the expansion and other reverses proved to be a heavy burden, but in the fall of 1933 with F.O. Masten as president and I.E. Emmert, C.B. Nunnelley, E.M. Trew, O.A. Kiker and R.W. Duke as directors, the gin embarked on an aggressive campaign to clear up the indebtedness, which was made effective by consistent advertising. As a result of the intensive work and loyal response of the membership, the Co-operative Gin ginned more cotton than any other gin in the county and succeeded in putting its affairs in good shape.

The present officers of the gin are O.A. Kiker, president; I.E. Emmert, vice president; Jess Hunsaker, secretary and treasurer; E.M. Trew, assistant secretary and Walter Watson, manager. The directors are R.W. Duke, C.B. Nunnelley and the officials listed above with the exception of the manager. They are making plans for a successful season in 1934, and at the present time are busy overhauling and repairing the gin machinery for the fall ginning season.

The membership of the Farmers Co-operative Gin is composed of a group of the most progressive farmers in the county. The charter members of the society who joined in 1927 are: R.B. Alford, J.C. Alexander, J.M. Alford, Joe Alexander, Harris Brantley, W.S. Braboy, John Barjenbruch, S.B. Bowen, W.A. Box, M.A. Barton, J.B. Baumgardner,
