New EPA regulations

Cities ponder landfill closings

By the end of September Mitchell County cities will be faced with the possibility of discontinuing use of their individual landfills and arranging for the towns' refuse to be taken to another site. This action is not the most welcome option according to mayors in Colorado City, Westbrook and Loraine, but it will be the least cost prohibitive.

In interviews conducted Thursday the mayors acknowledged the inevitable, the Environmental Protection Agency will hand down new rulings concerning landfills, all phases - from opening to maintaining, and cities all over Texas will be faced with some tough decisions. All of the decisions will deal with an added cost to the citizens, and all will deal with a change in refuse services. Many cities have already closed down their individual operation of landfills because of the present expense and regulations. Anson and Merkel are two nearby cities who have taken this course.

Jim Baum, mayor of Colorado City, pointed out that in August or September new rulings will be handed down by the national regulatory body, EPA. The state of Texas will see that these new rules are implemented, plus add rules of their own. These rules, concerning evidence of adequate clay at the landsite, coverings with plastic linings, certain sloping of the land, monitoring wells and a planning engineer to see that the rules are implemented will cost in the average of $150,000 a year according to the Texas Municipal League.

Mayor J. L. Rees of Westbrook indicated that his city received a letter from state inspectors noting several changes that needed to be made in their landfill. He looked for the regulators to shut the landfill down in September.

Loraine's mayor, Catarino Martinez, attended some workshops in Abilene. He is considering two options with an outside company. One is a curb service with one-day-a-week pick up. Another is a transfer service where local trucks are used and refuse is taken to a selected site to be transferred to a regional landfill. Regional landfills will be quite a distance from the cities. Baum spoke of a location near Odessa. He pointed out that Snyder was considering a location near Lubbock.

Baum pointed out that when the EPA publishes its rulings the cities will have 18 months to decide what to do. In Colorado City, it will be whether to continue with the third quadrant for five more years and maintain it under the new rules. He doubted the city would ever use the fourth quadrant due to its Type 1 status, and even more stringent rules.

Rees said that Westbrook has already approached Colorado City about bringing the burned stuff to their landfill. Westbrook couldn't go out and just buy land for a landfill. Because, if they were to buy five to ten acres of land, they would have to have it cored (for amount of clay) to see whether it would pass inspection. Rees says the city does not have that kind of money. He reported that if they don't haul it to Colorado City, they are out of it. (The individual city's operation of a landfill.)

Martinez said that if the EPA finally tells them that they can't maintain their landfill and they do stay open, they will have to maintain monitoring wells, in three different locations around the landfill, plus the correct amount of clay and the proper use of plastic liners (checked by the planning engineer!)

All the mayors agreed that acquisition of land was not the problem. Peggy Maddox, a

Lightning causes new Record 'look'

If you think you see a different "look" to today's Colorado City Record, you're right.

Lightning from Wednesday's thunderstorm which dumped about a half of inch of rain on Mitchell County is responsible for "zapping" the Record's computerized copy-setting equipment.

At presstime Friday, we still did not have our computer system repaired and we had to rely on the Colorado High School's journalism department to help us out with its computer equipment. As a result, the typeface used in some of today's stories is different than what you're used to seeing. And, we've had to leave out some stories until our computers are up and running again. Hopefully, we'll have the computer problems worked out before our next issue.

PHYSICAL THERAPIST - Scott Stubblefield is providing physical therapy services at Mitchell County Hospital. He and his partner, Jimmy Villers, own Angelo Physical Therapy, Inc. in San Angelo and are here three days a week - Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. The hospital has been without physical therapy services for several years.

SOON TO BE A THING OF THE PAST - The two traffic signals on Second Street in downtown Colorado City will soon be a thing of the past when they are removed and replaced with stop signs. Highway department officials say there is not enough traffic to warrant keeping the signals. The two signals on Hickory Street will be upgraded and improved. The traffic signal at Third and Walnut is owned and maintained by the city.

LANDFILLS

member of TAP, had recently contacted Jim Baum saying that there were several people who would be willing to donate land to help the city with its landfill problems. Baum noted that the problem was not availability of land and that Colorado City had from 40-45 years with the third and fourth quadrants of its landfill. He also noted that the land offered might not fit the standards set by the EPA. Rees pointed to the cost of analyzing the land. And, Martinez discussed the machinery, compactors, etc., and the fact that Loraine could not afford them.

Finally, all the mayors indicated that their cities could not meet the expense of the changes coming. Mayor Baum had contacted Ballinger which is already into operating a Type 2 landfill. They have budgeted $175,000 toward operation of the landfill. (Colorado City is operating their landfill for $57,000 not including cost of equipment.) The city of Ballinger does not know how much the total cost will be. Some of the expenses would be a $1,200 analysis once a month, $3,800 for the engineer to approve each plastic liner they use on a daily basis, $1,000 for every monitoring well and expenses of possible lawsuits or liabilities over leakage, etc.

The mayors said all the cities would probably get out of city-owned landfills perhaps before the rulings came out. One major reason would be that the city, whose name is on the license for the landfill, would be responsible for the cost of its maintenance for 30 years, even if it is closed by authorities for use by the city. This maintenance would include monitoring wells and the upkeep of a vegetative cover, which could mean that water might have to be hauled to the site.

Baum said that the time has come when the luxury of maintaining our own landfill is over. According to Rees, when all the landfills are closed, "those people in Austin aren't going to listen to these people who are putting up signs in Westbrook. If they (in Austin) say build something to meet the guidelines, we'll have to do it. They are the ones that make the laws. When they have all the landfills shut down in Texas, we'll have no place to go," Martinez mused that recycling has been championed as a way to deal with refuse, but that people needed to understand that the word recycling starts with you...you as an individual. "You bought that (before it is refuse) and you will have to take the extra trouble to sort it out," he said. "How many people are willing to sacrifice their Saturday mornings to recycle."

Citizens of Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook will be watching for the changes in August and September as they pay their municipal fee to haul unwanted items to their individual dump grounds for the final times.

horse race; and Butch Gass and Damon Shipp, saddle bronc riding, wild cow milking, team branding and wild horse race.

Competing in the ranch cookoff will be Marjie Smith, head cook, and helpers Loyd Smith and Bill McClellan.

In the talent contest will be Rossanne Jameson, painting; Rachel Swann, crafts; and Brenda Wilson, music.

Dorlene Gabaldon will represent the Renderbrook Spade in the First Lady contest.

Other ranches competing will be The Green Land and Cattle Co. in Albany, the Johnson Ranches in Amarillo, the W.T. Waggoner Estate, the R.A. Brown Ranch in Throckmorton, the Burnett/Triangle in Guthrie, the Double U/Lazy S Ranch in Post, Lewis Ranches in Clarendon, the Moorhouse Ranch Co. in Benjamin, the Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co. in Guthrie and the Tongue River Ranch and Spur Headquarters Ranch in Dumont.

During the past nine years, the Texas Ranch Roundup has raised more than $570,000 for the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, West Texas Rehabilitation Center and West Texas Boys Ranch.

Marsh, Greer united in marriage

Mavis Marsh and Doug Greer, both of Colorado City, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 4, 1990 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Parker of Colorado City.

Rev. Travis Monday, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony under a weeping willow tree at the Parker home.

Given in marriage by her son, Gary Marsh, the bride wore a white two-piece linen suit with black trim. She wore diamond earrings and necklace given to her by the groom. She carried a bouquet of silk mauve carnations and roses accented with lace streamers, beaded pearls and net trim.

Wedding music included the traditional wedding music as well as "I Thank God and You for My Life" by Christy Lane and "A Lady Like You" by Glen Campbell.

Matron of honor was Joan Parker of Colorado City. She wore a black and yellow dress and carried a bouquet of silk mauve roses accented with lace.

Best man was Phil Clark of Odessa.

Ushers were the bride's sons, Franklin Marsh and Gary Marsh.

A reception followed at the Parker home. The refreshment table held a centerpiece of silk mauve and pink flowers made by the groom's daughter. Mauve candles in frosted candle holders completed the setting. A watermelon bowl held mixed fruits.

Members of the houseparty were Cyndi Marsh, daughter-in-law of the bride, Michelle Haggerton and Joan Parker.

For their honeymoon trip to Maine and Canada, the bride wore a black jumpsuit with leopard trim.

The couple will live at Lake Champion. The groom works for Davis Exterminators and the bride is employed in the data processing department of Mitchell County Hospital.

QUESTION: Doesn't Ephesians 4:5 teach ONE baptism and wouldn't such a "rebaptism" of Acts 19 take TWO baptisms?

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR: After getting my new teaching job here in Florida, I sadly realized that I probably will never see my ex-students in Colorado City again. I hope that everyone is safe and enjoying their summer.

I tried to be a "different" kind of teacher; a human being first, and a teacher second. That goes against what universities teach and what administrators feel, but I don't care. It's only what the students feel about a teacher that counts. It took them a while, but in the end, many students liked my "style".

Good luck to some of these young men and women I'll miss the most: Seneca, Dana, Richard, Shane, Zach, Scott P., Greg G., Adrian M., the Beavers boys, Joe L., Leah, Jodi, Kaime, Eddy M., Jerrod, Lori Kay, Marcus A. and Justin G.

Dear Editor:

"Something great happened in Colorado City recently. Scott Stubblefield was hired as a physical therapist at our hospital.

My mother, Sadie Troutt, recently suffered a mild stroke and Scott has helped her, encouraged her, joked with her and helped to make her self-sufficient again.

We have a wonderful physical therapy department at the hospital and now we have an outstanding young man to help us use it.

Thank you for letting me share something good that's going on.

Sincerely,
Betty Sayger

FREEDOM & RESPONSIBILITY

Webster's Dictionary uses a number of things to describe Freedom. These definitions include: 1. A quality or state of being Free; 2. Liberation from slavery, imprisonment, or restraint; 3. Immunity from and unrestricted use; 4. Unhampered in any way. All of these definitions would carry with them the responsibility for proper action so as not to interfere with someone else's freedoms.

In America we cherish our freedoms as guaranteed by the Bill of Rights, the first amendment to our constitution. We often fail to forget about another person's right in favor of our own. We have freedom of Speech, Press, Religion, and Pursuit of Happiness. This we must continue to cherish, but there must be a word of caution. A person's right to do as he pleases ends at the end of my nose. In living our freedom, we dare not take away another's freedom.

Let's not forget the price paid for that freedom by our forefathers. When they declared their freedom from England, they had to fight a war to get it. Not only that, but many lives have been given to keep those freedoms in force.

Our recent conflict over the burning of our flag illustrates what can happen when people demand freedom without responsibility and consideration for the rights of others. I cherish the flag and do not want it burned or desecrated in anyway, which is my right.

Freedom has to be maintained by our willingness to pay the cost. We dare not consider freedom a right or license simply to do as we please. Freedom should be considered a privilege granted us to use wisely and with responsible action.

We are free and have this great freedom, so let's cherish it and preserve it as a way for all men to be free not just a visible few.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

"God knows there is no county on earth that needs a new court house as bad as Mitchell County," Gus Bertner, 1922

Bertner wasn't the only person who felt the Mitchell County Courthouse had out lived its usefulness. County Judge J. C. Hall said the records stored in the courthouse were living on borrowed time.

"I shudder everytime I hear the fire bell, fearing that it might be the courthouse on fire," Judge Hall had told friends.

And a visitor to Colorado City in 1922 chided his friend Thomas R. Smith by asking him, "When are you fellows going to build a new courthouse? That old shack is going to fall down one of these days."

By November of 1922, a committee had been formed to talk up the need for a new courthouse. Dr. P. C. Coleman was chairman of the group and petitions were being circulated to get the county commissioners to call a bond election.

Actually, the court didn't need any encouragement. Architectural plans had already been ordered and community leaders started selling citizens on the need for a new $115,000 courthouse. Politicians are known for making promises, but the commissioners of that day and age came up with a new one. If voters would approve the sale of bonds, the elected officials vowed, the mule barns would be removed from the courthouse grounds and the downtown property would become a source of civic pride!

The majority of the residents seemed to favor the idea of a new courthouse, but, naturally, some citizens were against spending more money. They asked why not just repair the existing facility?

Engineers responded by saying renovating the old courthouse was not practical. The foundation was crumbling, they pointed out, and the floor was decaying, plus the walls would have to be rebuilt.

Worst of all, several rooms on the third floor were nothing but roosting places for pigeons and bats. Citizens were invited to tour the courthouse and see first hand the poor condition of the structure. (One visitor said he counted five dead bats in one room alone!)

And so, the bond election was called for January 27, 1923. And Mitchell County voters overwhelmingly approved the project, by a vote of 445-227. The only strong opposition was in Loraine, where voters turned thumbs down on the proposal, 132 to 82.

Named architect for the job was David S. Castle of Abilene while the contractor was J. H. Reddick of Ft. Smith, Arkansas, who submitted the low bid of $98,000.

By the time plumbing was included ($4,117, Colorado Plumbing and Heating), along with heating ($5,867, Kinnison Brothers) and electrical wiring ($2,495, Moody Electric), the total bill came to $110,379. The balance of the $115,000 in bonds would be used for furnishings.

Groundbreaking for the new facility was held in July of 1923 and work was to be completed in about seven months, or by February 1, 1924. The contractor would build the new courthouse just to the west of the old courthouse, with the older building remaining occupied until the new structure was completed. Then, the old courthouse would be torn down.

As, with most projects, the completion date was later than anticipated. Reddick completed the job, except for some minor details, on July 31, 1924. The county withheld $700 of his fee until those odds and ends were finished.

That left only the selling of the old courthouse, and when bids were opened, the best offer was just $625. The commissioners refused to sell the old building and instead advertised to have it torn down. J. C. Bowen won the job with the low bid of $1,440.

The commissioners then sold the courthouse bricks to A. J. Coe for $8 per 1,000. There were an estimated 100,000 bricks involved. Coe was given a year to pay for the bricks and was charged 6% interest by the county. In addition, each commissioner bought lumber from the old courthouse, presumably for his precinct, for $35 per thousand feet.

The last item was the dedication of a large bronze tablet which was placed in the new courthouse corridor. The marker cost $360, (it would sell for thousands of dollars today), and it's still in the hallway.

The inscription reads: "Mitchell County Courthouse, Erected A. D. 1923-1924. Dedicated to the citizenship of Mitchell County for the purpose of enforcing the law, upholding justice and maintaining order." The names of the commissioners court, (Judge J. C. Hall, Commissioners U. D. Wulfjen, H. A. Lassiter, J. D. Lane and W. D. McAdams) are included, as are the architect and contractor.

Earlier this year, the courthouse received a well deserved $52,000 facelift. The brick was cleaned and sealed, a new roof was put on, and the firewall was repaired. Protecting our 66 year old courthouse was tax money well spent and the building should be serviceable for years to come. But, one of these days, our community may again have to decide whether their courthouse is ready to be retired.

However for now, ol' Gus Bertner would be proud to know the Mitchell County courthouse stands tall...definitely not a roosting place for pigeons and bats!!

1990 Property Tax Rates in Loraine I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1990 property tax rates for Loraine I.S.D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case, these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 or property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 267,830
+ Last year's debt taxes	$ 60,037
Last year's total taxes	$ 327,867
+ Last year's tax base	$ 23,528,920
= Last year's total tax rate	$ 1.39 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 327,867
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 23,160,840
= This year's effective tax rate	$ 1.416 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year.)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ /$100

x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ 1.458 /$100
---	-----------------

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 267,830
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 23,160,840
= This year's effective operating rate	$ 1.156 /$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ 1.248 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$.256 /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)
= This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$ 1.504 /$100
+ Rate to recoup lost state funds	$ 0 /$100
= A. Adjusted rollback rate	$ 1.504 /$100
B. Rate that would result in maximum state funds	$.9583 /$100
Rollback Rate (greater of A or B)	$ 1.504 /$100

= This year's rollback rate	$ /$100
------------------------------------	------------------

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines.)

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ (40) /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ (44) /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
Operating Fund	170,000
Interest & Sinking Fund	46,912

SCHEDULE B: 1990 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Bonded Indebtedness	50,000	17,480	300	67,780
Total required for 1990 debt service				67,780
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			7,883
- Excess collections last year			0
= Total to be paid from taxes in 1990			59,897
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only % of its taxes in 1990			1,797
= Total Debt Service Levy			61,694

SCHEDULE C: Expected Revenue from Additional Sales Tax

(For counties and cities with additional 1/2 cent sales tax)

In calculating its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $ in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Loraine I.S.D.

Clanton family reunion held

The sixth annual Clanton family reunion was held July 14-15 at the Colorado City State Park dining hall.

Planning and hosting the two-day event were four of the children of the late James C. and Elizabeth Clanton and two of the grandchildren of the couple. These families were Mrs. Geraldine Stallcup, Mrs. Lucille Roemer, Clifton Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. John C. (Jay) Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Merel Ringener.

The group began gathering on Saturday morning for the visiting, reminiscing and picture taking. Following the evening meal, the traditional and popular auction was held featuring items made and donated by various relatives.

This was much fun and excitement as brothers, sisters and cousins tried to outbid one another for a favorite item. There was a variety of articles such as ceramics, baskets, afghan, ironwork, homemade candy, jams, relishes along with uniquely remade old photos and mementos of the older Clanton generation that will be a treasure to the lucky bidder. This year the auctioneer was Snooks Cathey aided by Jay Clanton who kept the audience laughing with their antics.

On Sunday morning, breakfast of coffee, egg and sausage burritos was served by Jay and Peggy Clanton and Lucille Roemer. The noon meal consisted of barbecue and all the trimmings with the barbecue chef being Kenny Clanton assisted by Snooks Cathey and Cliff Clanton. Prior to the meal, announcements and recognitions were made by Jay Clanton. Special recognition was given to Aunt Eula Clanton who then spoke the blessing for the meal.

About 100 registered for the two-day affair and they were as follows:

Earnest and Willie Ford, Pauline Broyles, Norma Wallace, Lindy and Thomas Rinehart from Snyder, Donna, Tanya and Daniel Dixon, Wanda and James Gostney, Bill and Bobbie Blalock, Samatha Register, Mark and Mary Billings, Kevin, Lorena and Janette from Odessa, Geraldine Stallcup, Sandie, Leslie and Cary Fryar, Eugene Clanton, Jimmy Kandi, Margie, Jeremy and Jinean Clanton, Merel and Irene Ringener, W.C. and Ruby Clanton, Jimmy, Jarice, Jacoby and Jannette, Hopper, Lucille, John III and Kris and Christine Roemer, Clifton Clanton, Bob and Dee Rogers, Dee and Leo Scarbrough, all from Big Spring.

Also, Paul and Bessie Boggan and Melba Canou from Lamesa, Bunk and Florene Green, Pat, Odyne and Nelma Jones from Fluvanna, Jay and Peggy Clanton, Minnie Bonner and Dorcas Bishop from Kerrville, Kenny Sylvia, Zack and Elizabeth Clanton from Westbrook, Rose Ella Ball, Gerald, Betty and AKristi Frizzell from Colorado City.
