City to Propose New Annexation

Proposed annexation of four property tracts totaling approximately 30 acres in the northeast and east portions of Pampa will be up for consideration at next Tuesday's regular city commission meeting in City Hall.

Two of the tracts are in the Mesilla Park Addition and two are east of Dogwood Ave. between Harvester and 18th Ave.

City Manager Charles Hill stated today he will recommend Tuesday that the city commission request City Atty. Bob Gordon to prepare ordinances to annex the four areas.

Tract 1 (9.14 acres), normally described as Comanche St.,

extends from 23rd St. on the south to Washita Dr. on the north. Twenty-two of the 35 lots on the street have been developed as residential homes and now have city water and sewer service. Residences on the east side of the street are on city trash collection service.

Tract 2 (1.89 acres), also in the Mesilla Park addition, has seven of nine lots already developed as residential units, all of which receive city water, sewer and trash collection service.

The city manager said it will be recommended that the area east of Grape St. and north of Harvester, designated as Tract 3 (7.75 acres), be annexed inasmuch as it is fully developed for use as an apartment complex and has been proposed to be served by city water, sewer and trash collection.

Tract 4 (11.04 acres), between Harvester and 18th, known as Moore-Wilks Park, has been dedicated to the city for park purposes and is recommended for annexation to bring the area under control and development by the city.

City manager Hill will recommend that the commission set a public hearing on development (See CITY, Page 3)

Lefors Progress To Be Suspended From Publication

Don Peoples, publisher of the weekly Lefors Progress, today announced plans to suspend publication with today's issue because of insufficient advertising revenue.

"An effort was made the last two months to secure a buyer, but none has expressed an interest in operating the paper. The publication will remain on the market," Peoples said.

The publication could maintain its legal status and second class mailing permit if an issue is published by Dec. 12 without missing more than two issues," Peoples said.

A weekly newspaper has been published in Lefors since the 1930's, when C. C. Wofford was publisher and owner and printed the Lefors Enterprise, Mrs. D. C. Read, editor, said.

The last editor under the name of Lefors Enterprise was Joel Combs, who published the paper in McLean from 1958-1960 with Charles Cullen. For about a year, the paper was published as The Leforian by Cullen and Bill Neal, Combs said.

Jack Shelton, McLean, started his first issue of the paper April 6, 1961, and renamed it the Lefors Progress. Editors were Mrs. Charles Roberts, who now lives in Santa Fe, N.M.; and Mrs. Jeannette Fish, who was editor about three years.

"After Mrs. Fish, Ann Teel was editor. I became editor in 1965. Mrs. Fish lives in California and Mrs. Teel in Oklahoma," Mrs. Read said.

The present publisher, Don Peoples of Panhandle, bought the paper from Bill Pierce of Wheeler who operated the eighth page off-set newspaper about six months, Mrs. Read said.

Choir Members To Perform Play 'In the Round'

Pampa High School choir will revert to the Greek form of theater production when they present their first theater-in-the-round, a two-hour musical, "Showboat." Curtain times are 8 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Saturday at PHS Field House.

Orchestra for the two-act play will be members of Amarillo Symphony and the PHS Harvester Band. Harris Brinson, PHS band director, will play lead trumpet. Bill Davis, musical director and high school choir director, said.

"We will use suggestive scenery with only outlines of sets to permit actors and actresses to portray life as it is. Sometimes you don't see a person's face because his back is turned to you. That is how the cast will portray this play, on a circular stage with entrances in four aisles," Davis said.

About 200 students are working in the production, and have rehearsed three hours a day for 11 weeks to present the late 19th century, early 20th

Bankers Near Move To Bolster the Franc

By WILFRIED SALIGER

BONN (UPI) — A crisis meeting of the world's 10 richest trading nations was reported tonight to be nearing agreement on a $1 billion "swap" arrangement whereby several nations would put up money to bolster the French franc and avert financial chaos.

International bankers in Switzerland, in close touch with the Bonn meeting, said the alternative would be devaluation of the British pound sterling and franc and revaluation upward of the German mark.

The decision was believed near at hand. West German Finance Minister Franz-Josef Strauss told reporters during a luncheon break "the outline of a solution is slowly coming into sight." But all indications were that heated arguments were going on.

The financial chiefs dismissed their aides and went into a strictly private session as the international monetary situation deteriorated and the French franc, the British pound sterling and the U.S. dollar dipped to record lows on the West Berlin money markets.

The crucial session was reported split on devaluation measures with the United States and West Germany pitted against France and Britain. Strauss once more repeated West Germany's firm refusal to revalue the mark upward from its present worth of approximately 25 cents.

"We will not change our position" against revaluation, Strauss told newsmen during a lunch break.

Possible Devaluation

Strauss did not elaborate but his remarks spurred speculation the Group of Ten now has shifted discussion to the alternate solution of devaluing the French franc, now worth approximately 20 cents, and perhaps the British pound, worth approximately $2.40, moves opposed by the French and British.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson hastily summoned from Bonn Harold Lever, financial secretary to the treasurer, indicating Britain like France soon might have to make a major decision. Lever raced home by special Royal Air Force jet and then Wilson began meeting with his key cabinet ministers.

As the crisis session resumed the monetary situation's deterioration spurred them to come up with a quick solution. World bankers in Switzerland were calling on France and Britain to impose severe restrictions on foreign exchange transactions if they were to prevent devaluation.

Major money markets remained closed pending outcome of the meeting of the Ten. Major West German and Swiss banks began putting limits on how many francs they would buy. Some London hotels imposed limits on transactions in U.S. dollar travelers checks (See BANKERS, Page 3)

Communists Bombard Hoi An

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist guns bombarded Hoi An in the costliest shelling of a South Vietnamese city since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1, U.S. spokesmen said today. A South Vietnamese general forecast a new Red offensive.

Two sudden barrages into Hoi An on Wednesday slammed into a hotel, the central market place and a street crowded with home-bound school children. Officials said two persons died and 27 were wounded, 19 of them youngsters.

Gen. Do Cao Tri, South Vietnamese commander of the provinces around Saigon, said in Bien Hoa today the Communists are now in hiding, regrouping and refitting for a winter-spring offensive.

"We are confident their units will become active again once grouped," he said. Allied troops found two big arms caches on Saigon's doorstep Wednesday, one of them with 1,000 grenades.

Hoi An, 340 miles north of Saigon and 20 miles south of Da Nang, is in the middle of a Communist buildup of troops who battled allied soldiers during the weekend and lost more than 500 men.

It was one of two major South Vietnamese cities shelled Wednesday and today. A Viet Cong mortar barrage caused light damage and casualties in My Tho, second largest city in the Mekong Delta, spokesmen said.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met for the first time in nearly a week with President Nguyen Van Thieu amid speculation among diplomats in Paris that South Vietnam was almost ready to join the Paris talks.

U.S. headquarters announced, meantime, that American battle deaths last week dropped to their lowest in five weeks. The casualty report showed 127 U.S. dead and 1,031 wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters said it lost 128 men killed—the fewest in three weeks—and 644 wounded. Communist deaths numbered 1,838, an increase of 237 over the previous week.

Take Hostages

The shelling of Hoi An coincided with delayed reports that guerrillas Monday stormed a village north of Hoi An and blew up a new community center built to house 500 people. The Communists escaped with 20 hostages. No one was hurt in the attack.

U.S. headquarters said two U.S. fighter-bombers and one helicopter were shot down by Communist ground fighting during the weekend battling near Hoi An, killing eight Americans and wounding 12.

The new shelling brought to 74 the number of South Vietnamese cities bombed since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped. It was the costliest single attack since Nov. 1 in total casualties. South Vietnamese headquarters said.

In addition, the Reds slammed the U.S. Air Force base at Pleiku in the Central Highlands and the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 20 miles north of Saigon.

American headquarters described damage and casualties at both bases as "light."

Currency Exchange Rates Need Readjustment, Bankers Note

BASEL, Switzerland (UPI) — International bankers are convinced the French franc, the British pound and maybe the American dollar will continue to be in trouble until world currency exchange rates are brought up to date.

The last time exchange rates were established for all currencies was July, 1944, in Bretton Woods, N.H., when 28 nations got together to straighten out their money in the fading months of World War II.

Since then drastic changes have taken place. Defeated West Germany and Japan have become rich. Some of the victors, such as Britain, have become economically weaker.

The changes brought trouble to the weak. Credits and declarations of support from other countries have been used to bolster the British pound and the French franc in times of crisis.

Temporary Answers But, say the world bankers, these are only temporary solutions.

They say that as long as some currencies are stronger than others on the basis of current exchange rates, there will be continued wild speculation in money markets. For example, today speculators were dumping French francs and grabbing West German marks—causing France to "pour out her gold in a desperate effort to maintain the franc's worth on the market."

The bankers say curing the money ills is out of their hands. They say it can now only be done by government leaders. The bankers say it will take a great deal of political courage. For some leaders will have to lower the value of their money, meaning money will buy less in foreign trade.

The world bankers said, however, putting a realistic value on a nation's money is the only way to stop the speculation that hurts almost everyone.

Some Problems Serious They say that temporary help for the franc and the pound will not cure the economic woes of France and Britain. Those nations simply buy too much and sell too little in foreign trade. According to the bankers, even temporary credits and supports will still leave the franc and the pound weak and subject to speculation.

The bankers say that a new Bretton Woods meeting is the ideal solution. They predict it probably would mean a devaluation of the French franc. The British pound's value—compared with the U.S. dollar—also would probably be cut but not so heavily as the pound's recent devaluation. The value of the West German mark and the Japanese yen most probably would go up—both nations enjoy a booming surplus in trade.

The bankers say the U.S. dollar most likely would remain where it is—not being upped or lowered in value. They say this is because all other non-Communist currencies are pegged to the dollar and because the United States is in reality, economically the strongest nation on earth.

New Position At City Hall Being Studied

Authorization for the setting up of a new administrative post at City Hall is expected to be asked at next Tuesday's regular meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

City Manager Charles Hill said today the new post being considered is that of corporation counsel and recorder.

Under present plans, Hill stated, the proposal would establish a city hall office for the city attorney who would also serve as recorder in the corporation court.

If the plan is adopted it would remove the necessity of appointing a successor to Corporation Court Judge John Warner, who will leave office Dec. 31 to become Gray County attorney.

Also expected to come up at next Tuesday's meeting is the matter of calling a special election to pick a Ward 3 successor to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Commissioner Joe Taylor, whose term would have expired in April 1969.

The election would be held 30 days after called and candidates for the office would be required to file their intentions within that time. The newly-elected commissioner would serve only until the first Tuesday in April of next year.

175 New Trees, Shrubs Planted Along Hike Trail

Operations began today for the planting of 175 trees along the hike-and-bike trail following Red Deer Creek.

Planting started about 8:30 a.m. today and is expected to continue through tomorrow.

The tree planting is a project of the Pampa Garden Club. The Gray-Pampa Foundation is paying expenses for the project. City workers are planting the trees.

The Southwestern Public Service Co. is providing the power equipment, free of charge as a courtesy, to dig holes for the plants.

Various shrubs, including 10 pampas grass, will also be planted.

Footbridges will be put in at several places along the trail. Construction started yesterday on one of the bridges.

The Foundation has made arrangements to put up lights where the trail goes underneath the bridges.

Varieties of trees to be planted include American elm, Asiatic elm, molle elm, Arizona ash, bald cypress, box elder maple, supreme boisdArc, red oak, green ash, magnolia, flowering crab, sunburst locust, catalpa and ponderosa pine.

Your Horoscope

JEANE

THURSDAY, NOV. 21

YOUR BIRTHDAY Thursday:

The coming year is easier than most. The temptation is to merely drift without seeking enough change to improve conditions. Any powerful drives are aimed at trifling goals. Today's natives need adversity to bring forth their qualities.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): This is a neutral day with no strong directives at work. Stay out of the middle; needless bickering is commonplace. Cooperation is not spontaneous, so use your own steam.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Thrift is the most desirable quality now. Look after the affairs of those who depend on you. Joint investments prosper. BUT speculative moves are to be avoided.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Until theories of everybody else fail in practice, your voice will not be heard. So go along with the group.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Make an analysis of old problems. Matters you hold in trust for other people can be worked out. Allow for the stubbornness of others, and you will survive the day.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): New ventures are just as well put over. Clear the decks; abandon unprofitable sidelines. A concert tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Experimentation is not favored in the usual areas. Ideas are almost impossible to sell. You simply act on them, listen to the results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): After this confusing day the month opens up for easier living. Secrets are still not to be revealed. Do not say a word about these things!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A period of opportunity is open! Enlist the support of other people. Retreat from argument. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You find yourself doing the big end of the job, virtually alone. Establish the record of how it was done and who did it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Keep your own counsel concerning private affairs. If you have any issue at law, seek redress.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Begin clearing the decks — it will take several days — for a change of circumstances. Level with old friends on outstanding disagreements. Meditate tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Earnings can be improved, working conditions made a bit easier, if you will go into the matter the first thing Thursday. Be moderate as well as candid.

Clean Vacuum Bottle

With school time in full swing, it is good to remember that vacuum bottles can retain a sour odor if not washed immediately. When this happens, use two tablespoons of baking soda and partly fill the bottle with water. Shake and rinse. Rub corks with dry soda.

To remove gum from material, place item in plastic bag in the freezer for several hours. Gum then peels off easily.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and have a beautiful baby whom my husband and I both adore. I was 6 months pregnant when I got married, but my husband and I are very much in love, and we are not ashamed of it. My problem is my mother. She is so ashamed of me that she's gone around saying we were "secretly" married for 6 months, and I guess some believe her and some don't. I just tell people the truth.

We're going to a family wedding out of state soon and my mother says if she hears me tell anybody we were married in January and the baby was born in April she will take me bodily from the room. I told her I wasn't going to lie about it, but she has already lied so much she looks silly. Now she says I don't have the right to make a liar out of her. So what would you do?

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three daughters, ages 11, 13, and 15. These girls are driving me crazy! There is never a peaceful minute in this house. They are always fighting. When they were small they were constantly at each other's throats, but I thought they would get along better when they got older. Well, they've gotten worse, not better. We have done everything to teach them love and respect for each other, but we've failed. My husband still insists they will "outgrow" this hatred they seem to have for one another. Will they? If so, when?

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Decorations, and refreshments Thursday were planned around the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adair, which fell on the Senior Center meeting date last week. They were married in Hillsboro in 1908. Mr. Adair spoke during the meeting and thanked Altrusans for this honor. A card was signed by those present and presented to the honored couple.

Ruel Erwin, Odessa, was guest of his mother, Mrs. Pearl Erwin last week. Mrs. Lillian Wade, Snyder, also spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Erwin.

Mrs. D.H. Porter of Shamrock visited her mother and brother, Mrs. C.G. Miller and Bill Miller Saturday while shopping in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. George spent two weeks visiting his mother, Mrs. H.A. Carr, 92, of Ada, Okla. and their relatives in Tulsa, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Houchins, A.B. Cross, H.G.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. Evans and Clyde Gray. Hostesses were the Civic Culture Club, Mmes. A.C. Houchins, A.B. Cross, H.G.

Tests for Foam

When buying urethane foam for mattresses or pillows, squeeze the foam firmly between thumb and index finger. It should return to shape as soon as you release it. Next, put your lips to it and blow hard. Good foam has open cells and you should be able to blow through it. Give it a good twist. The foam should immediately snap back. Don't worry about foam turning yellow. Nearly all white foam eventually yellows after exposure to the atmosphere.

Sunlight Dries Oils

Strong sunlight falling directly on your furniture will dry out the natural oils contained in leather and wood and cause the finish to bleach and fade.

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: Send her flowers, write her "love" letters, send her a little gift of perfume or some other frivolity, and woo her back the same way you wooed her the first time. If she doesn't forgive you, I don't know women.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GENE: Don't marry for money. You can borrow it cheaper.

Treble Clef Has '68 Patroness Tea

More than 50 Treble Clef Club members and guests were present for the annual Patroness Tea and special musical program recently in Tarpley's Recital Hall.

Patroness members were presented a corsage as they arrived and were later recognized for their contributions to the club's scholarship fund and for their help and interest in the cultural life of Pampa.

Patroness members present were Mmes: D.V. Burton, Jack P. Foster, Gladys Harvey, Luther Pierson, Libby Shotwell, and Miles O'Laughlin of Miami.

The special musical program was presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Read and Mrs. Gayne Wheeler, pianists, and John Wheeler, clarinetist, all of Amarillo.

Mrs. Read and Mrs. Wheeler played as a duo-piano team, presenting the Bach Passacaglia, and a group of modern numbers by Milhaud.

Waters, C.J. Pennington, Frank Grantham, Chester Williams, Emmett Osborne and C.V. Forsman.

Red Cross Volunteers with transportation were Mrs. J. J. Rance and Mrs. Olive Hills.

City to Propose New Annexation

Proposed annexation of four property tracts totaling approximately 30 acres in the northeast and east portions of Pampa will be up for consideration at next Tuesday's regular city commission meeting in City Hall.

Two of the tracts are in the Mesilla Park Addition and two are east of Dogwood Ave. between Harvester and 18th Ave.

City Manager Charles Hill stated today he will recommend Tuesday that the city commission request City Atty. Bob Gordon to prepare ordinances to annex the four areas.

Tract 1 (9.14 acres), normally described as Comanche St.,

extends from 23rd St. on the south to Washita Dr. on the north. Twenty-two of the 35 lots on the street have been developed as residential homes and now have city water and sewer service. Residences on the east side of the street are on city trash collection service.

Tract 2 (1.89 acres), also in the Mesilla Park addition, has seven of nine lots already developed as residential units, all of which receive city water, sewer and trash collection service.

The city manager said it will be recommended that the area east of Grape St. and north of Harvester, designated as Tract 3 (7.75 acres), be annexed inasmuch as it is fully developed for use as an apartment complex and has been proposed to be served by city water, sewer and trash collection.

Tract 4 (11.04 acres), between Harvester and 18th, known as Moore-Wilks Park, has been dedicated to the city for park purposes and is recommended for annexation to bring the area under control and development by the city.

City manager Hill will recommend that the commission set a public hearing on the matter.

Lefors Progress To Be Suspended From Publication

Don Peoples, publisher of the weekly Lefors Progress, today announced plans to suspend publication with today's issue because of insufficient advertising revenue.

"An effort was made the last two months to secure a buyer, but none has expressed an interest in operating the paper. The publication will remain on the market," Peoples said.

"The publication could maintain its legal status and second class mailing permit if an issue is published by Dec. 12 without missing more than two issues," Peoples said.

A weekly newspaper has been published in Lefors since the 1930's, when C. C. Wofford was publisher and owner and printed the Lefors Enterprise, Mrs. D. C. Read, editor, said.

The last editor under the name of Lefors Enterprise was Joel Combs, who published the paper in McLean from 1958-1960 with Charles Cullen. For about a year, the paper was published as The Leforian by Cullen and Bill Neal, Combs said.

Jack Shelton, McLean, started his first issue of the paper April 6, 1961, and renamed it the Lefors Progress. Editors were Mrs. Charles Roberts, who now lives in Santa Fe, N.M.; and Mrs. Jeannette Fish, who was editor about three years.

"After Mrs. Fish, Ann Teel was editor. I became editor in 1965. Mrs. Fish lives in California and Mrs. Teel in Oklahoma," Mrs. Read said.

The present publisher, Don Peoples of Panhandle, bought the paper from Bill Pierce of Wheeler who operated the eight-page off-set newspaper about six months, Mrs. Read said.

Choir Members To Perform Play 'In the Round'

Pampa High School choir will revert to the Greek form of theater production when they present their first theater-in-the-round, a two-hour musical, "Showboat." Curtain times are 8 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Saturday at PHS Field House.

Orchestra for the two-act play will be members of Amarillo Symphony and the PHS Harvester Band. Harris Brinson, PHS band director, will play lead trumpet. Bill Davis, musical director and high school choral director, said.

"We will use suggestive scenery with only outlines of sets to permit actors and actresses to portray life as it is. Sometimes you don't see a person's face because his back is turned to you. That is how the cast will portray this play, on a circular stage with entrances in four aisles," Davis said.

About 200 students are working in the production, and have rehearsed three hours a day for 11 weeks to present the late 19th century, early 20th

'THE COSTLIEST SHELLING'

Communists Bombard Hoi An

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist guns bombarded Hoi An in the costliest shelling of a South Vietnamese city since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1, U.S. spokesmen said today. A South Vietnamese general forecast a new Red offensive.

Two sudden barrages into Hoi An on Wednesday slammed into a hotel, the central market place and a street crowded with home-bound school children. Officials said two persons died and 27 were wounded, 19 of them youngsters.

Gen. Do Cao Tri, South Vietnamese commander of the provinces around Saigon, said in Bien Hoa today the Communists are now in hiding, regrouping and refitting for a winter-spring offensive.

"We are confident their units will become active again once grouped," he said. Allied troops found two big arms caches on Saigon's doorstep Wednesday, one of them with 1,000 grenades.

Hoi An, 340 miles north of Saigon and 20 miles south of Da Nang, is in the middle of a Communist buildup of troops who battled allied soldiers during the weekend and lost more than 500 men.

It was one of two major South Vietnamese cities shelled Wednesday and today. A Viet Cong mortar barrage caused light damage and casualties in My Tho, second largest city in the Mekong Delta, spokesmen said.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met for the first time in nearly a week with President Nguyen Van Thieu amid speculation among diplomats in Paris that South Vietnam was almost ready to join the Paris talks. U.S. headquarters announced, meantime, that American battle deaths last week dropped to their lowest in five weeks. The casualty report showed 127 U.S. dead and 1,031 wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters said it lost 128 men killed—the fewest in three weeks—and 644 wounded. Communist deaths numbered 1,838, an increase of 237 over the previous week.

Take Hostages
The shelling of Hoi An coincided with delayed reports that guerrillas Monday stormed a village north of Hoi An and blew up a new community center built to house 500 people. The Communists escaped with 20 hostages. No one was hurt in the attack.

U.S. headquarters said two U.S. fighter-bombers and one helicopter were shot down by Communist ground fighting during the weekend battling near Hoi An, killing eight Americans and wounding 12.

The new shelling brought to 74 the number of South Vietnamese cities bombarded since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped. It was the costliest single attack since Nov. 1 in total casualties. South Vietnamese headquarters said.

In addition, the Reds slammed the U.S. Air Force base at Pleiku in the Central Highlands and the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 20 miles north of Saigon.

American headquarters described damage and casualties at both bases as "light."

Bankers Near Move To Bolster the Franc

By WILFRIED SALIGER

BONN (UPI) — A crisis meeting of the world's 10 richest trading nations was reported tonight to be nearing agreement on a $1 billion "swap" arrangement whereby several nations would put up money to bolster the French franc and avert financial chaos.

International bankers in Switzerland, in close touch with the Bonn meeting, said the alternative would be devaluation of the British pound sterling and franc and revaluation upward of the German mark.

The decision was believed near at hand. West German Finance Minister Franz-Josef Strauss told reporters during a luncheon break "the outline of a solution is slowly coming into sight." But all indications were that heated arguments were going on.

The financial chiefs dismissed their aides and went into a strictly private session as the international monetary situation deteriorated and the French franc, the British pound sterling and the U.S. dollar dipped to record lows on the West Berlin money markets.

The crucial session was reported split on devaluation measures with the United States and West Germany pitted against France and Britain. Strauss once more repeated West Germany's firm refusal to revalue the mark upward from its present worth of approximately 25 cents.

"We will not change our position" against revaluation, Strauss told newsmen during a lunch break.

Possible Devaluation
Strauss did not elaborate but his remarks spurred speculation the Group of Ten now has shifted discussion to the alternate solution of devaluing the French franc, now worth approximately 20 cents, and perhaps the British pound, worth approximately $2.40, moves opposed by the French and British.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson hastily summoned from Bonn Harold Lever, financial secretary to the treasurer, indicating Britain like France soon might have to make a major decision. Lever raced home by special Royal Air Force jet and then Wilson

Authorization for the setting up of a new administrative post at City Hall is expected to be asked at next Tuesday's regular meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

City Manager Charles Hill said today the new post being considered is that of corporation counsel and recorder.

Under present plans, Hill stated, the proposal would establish a city hall office for the city attorney who would also serve as recorder in the corporation court.

If the plan is adopted it would remove the necessity of appointing a successor to Corporation Court Judge John Warner, who will leave office Dec. 31 to become Gray County attorney.

Also expected to come up at next Tuesday's meeting is the matter of calling a special election to pick a Ward 3 successor to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Commissioner Joe Taylor, whose term would have expired in April 1969.

The election would be held 30 days after called and candidates for the office would be required to file their intentions within that time. The newly-elected commissioner would serve only until the first Tuesday in April of next year.

175 New Trees, Shrubs Planted Along Hike Trail

Operations began today for the planting of 175 trees along the hike-and-bike trail following Red Deer Creek.

Planting started about 8:30 a.m. today and is expected to continue through tomorrow.

The tree planting is a project of the Pampa Garden Club. The Gray-Pampa Foundation is paying expenses for the project. City workers are planting the trees.

The Southwestern Public Service Co. is providing the power equipment, free of charge as a courtesy, to dig holes for the plants.

Various shrubs, including 10 pampas grass, will also be planted.

Footbridges will be put in at several places along the trail. Construction started yesterday on one of the bridges.

The Foundation has made arrangements to put up lights where the trail goes underneath the bridges.

Varieties of trees to be planted include American elm, Asiatic elm, moline elm, Arizona ash, bald cypress, box elder maple, supreme boldArc, red oak, green ash, magnolia, flowering crab, sunburst locust, catalpa and ponderosa pine.

Currency Exchange Rates Need Readjustment, Bankers Note

BASEL, Switzerland (UPI) — others on the basis of current exchange rates, there will be continued wild speculation in money markets. For example, today speculators were dumping French francs and grabbing for West German marks—causing France to pour out her gold in a desperate effort to maintain the franc's worth on the market.

The bankers say curing the money ills is out of their hands. They say it can now only be done by government leaders. The bankers say it will take a great deal of political courage. For some leaders will have to lower the value of their money, meaning money will buy less in foreign trade.

The world bankers said, however, putting a realistic value on a nation's money is the only way to stop the speculation that hurts almost everyone.

Temporary Answers
But, say the world bankers, these are only temporary solutions. They say that so long as some currencies are stronger than even temporary credits and supports will still leave the franc and the pound weak and subject to speculation.

The bankers say that a new Bretton Woods meeting is the ideal solution. They predict it probably would mean a devaluation of the French franc. The British pound's value—compared with the U.S. dollar—also would probably be cut but not so heavily as the pound's recent devaluation. The value of the West German mark and the Japanese yen most probably would go up—both nations enjoy a booming surplus in trade.

The bankers say the U.S. dollar most likely would remain where it is—not being upped or lowered in value. They say this is because all other non-Communist currencies are pegged to the dollar and because the United States is in reality economically the strongest nation on earth.

O. H. (OAK) ODOM
Funeral services for O. H. (Oak) Odom, 73, of 515 E. Foster, who was found dead at his home Wednesday, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at First Christian Church with Rev. J. W. Duke, pastor, officiating. He had suffered a heart attack and died Monday night.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside the grave of his wife, Annie A. Odom, who died Oct. 28, 1967. Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors will have charge of services.

He was born Jan. 26, 1895, in Millam County and came to Pampa in 1945 from Brownsville. He was a member of First Christian Church here and had been a retired building contractor.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. C. J. Zabeck, Houston; one son, Ralph Odom, Phoenix, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. Lola Sparks, Memphis, and Mrs. N. O. Brown, Gainesville; three brothers, Dr. J. A. Odom, Memphis, Dr. C. C. Odom, Temple, and O. W. Odom, Gladewater; and four grandchildren.

Palbearers will be W. R. Harden, Lloyd Kuntz, R. C. Wilson, Bert Jones, E. E. Schultz and Frank Skidmore.

MRS. LOTTIE LANGLEY
Funeral services for Mrs. Lottie A. Langley, 74, who died Wednesday at Casa Del Nursing Center, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel with burial in Memory Gardens.

Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate.

She was born Jan. 22, 1894, in Pennsylvania, and was married to James Oscar Langley in November, 1915, in Houston. He died in 1965. She moved here in 1961 from Erick, Okla., and was a member of First Methodist Church.

Survivors are one son, Vernon Langley, Pampa; one sister, Mrs. Alta Epps, League City; two brothers, Eugene Rakestraw and Steve Rakestraw, both of League City; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Palbearers will be C. B. Homer, J. B. Austin, Roy Byerly, Clyde Chisum, A. D. Speck and Ned Pryor.

Pythians to Visit Amarillo Lodge

Members of Pampa Lodge No. 480 Knights of Pythias and of Pythian Temple No. 41 will attend the Amarillo Lodge No. 479 Annual roll call dinner meeting at Amarillo Lodge Hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

Bryan Thomas, Electra, Supreme Representative of Texas Knights of Pythias Lodges, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting.

The "Golden Spur" rank team of Pampa Lodge 480 will confer the Golden Spur Degree on a member of the Amarillo Lodge who has been selected for his outstanding efforts in the Pythian Order.

Speed Breakers In Use at PHS

Pampa High School principal Cameron Marsh said today that speed breakers will be in use on the High School parking lot Nov. 27.

"We just want to let the students and people know that the speed breakers have been put in and maybe this way we'll keep someone from ruining a tire," Marsh said.

Marsh said that students and other persons who use the parking lot should watch out for them.

Czech Students Ending Strikes

PRAGUE (UPI) — Carrying bedrolls, blankets and empty milk bottles, hundreds of students in Charles University today peacefully ended their four-day sit-in strike.

The students agreed to cease their movement against cutbacks in Czechoslovakia's democratization program after being told the cabinet met this morning to consider their protests.

Students in the philosophy department, nerve center of the nationwide strike movement, filed out of the building in groups of 20 to prevent any possibility of incidents on the streets.

No police were in sight. The students quietly left on foot or on trams to their homes and dormitories after living in the university buildings since Sunday afternoon.

Students said sit-ins at Brno, Nitra and Kosice universities would continue until tonight.

The nation's leadership issued a solemn warning Wednesday night that if the student-worker protests continued Czechoslovakia faced "social upheaval."

The students and in some case factory workers have been protesting steady cutbacks in Communist reforms the Soviets have forced on the Czechoslovak regime headed by Communist party First Secretary Alexander Dubcek by the Aug. 21 Warsaw pact invasion.

proposed annexations for Tuesday, Dec. 10.

He stated it was hoped final consideration of the annexation ordinances could be held at the second council meeting in December.

Hill pointed out that advantages of annexation to property owners in the proposed areas include a one-third reduction in monthly water costs, garbage collection service, street maintenance, water and sewer maintenance, zoning protection and police and fire protection. Through annexation property taxes would provide payment for the services.

Western Europe to Japan kept their doors shut to give the "group of 10" time to agree and to act on the crisis threatening the French franc, the British pound and even the U.S. dollar.

U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler and his colleagues from West Germany, France, Britain, Japan, Holland, Belgium, Canada, Switzerland and Sweden began their emergency conference Wednesday following a wave of money market speculation attacking the franc.

Economy Weakened
The basic problem was that a lack of confidence in the French economy triggered the money market selling of billions of dollars worth of francs. Speculators grabbed for the stronger West German mark. It was the third such money system crisis of the year, the British pound and the U.S. dollar already having been attacked.

Conference sources said Britain and France were pressing for the West Germans to raise the value of their mark, now set at about four to the dollar, in order to cool down the speculators.

Former Pampans Set Homecoming For Convention

A "home-coming" will be the three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Pampa, starting Friday at the Robert E. Lee Jr. High School Auditorium, for three former Pampans.

Donald H. Lardie, Daniel Katsanis and Jimmy Conner, former presiding ministers of the Pampa congregation, are now serving as ministers in two of the five congregations in Amarillo.

Lardie was presiding minister in Pampa in 1955 and 1956. After leaving Pampa he served as circuit supervisor in Central Texas. In 1958 he and his wife Loretta graduated from the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead and went to Scandinavia as missionaries for three years.

Lardie, with his wife and two daughters, Elizabeth and Lynda, are recently from Detroit, having moved to Amarillo in the summer of 1967. He is now an assistant minister in the North Congregation in Amarillo.

At the assembly he will be working as an assistant in one of the 21 departments for the operation of the assembly. Friday he will be on the program at 8:15 p.m. with the part "Make Sure of the More Important Things As a Pioneer." Also his wife will be on the theocratic ministry school.

Katsanis, a former member of the International Headquarters staff of Jehovah's witnesses in Brooklyn, N.Y., was presiding minister in Pampa in 1960 and 1961. He and his wife, Rosemary, went to Kingdom Ministry School in 1961. They were sent to Colombia as missionaries and remained in South America for 3 1/2 years.

At present Katsanis, his wife and three boys, Nicky, David and Philip, are living in Amarillo. Katsanis is the presiding minister of the North Congregation in Amarillo and has oversight of one of the 21 departments at the assembly. He will also be on the program Friday evening.

Jimmy Conner, a native of the Texas Panhandle and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner, 607 Powell, was presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in Pampa from 1961 to 1965, when he was transferred to Amarillo as the presiding minister in the South Congregation.

Conner attended the Kingdom Ministry School in 1964. He is also one of the department heads at the assembly and will address the group Sunday at 9 a.m. He will be discussing Matthew 10:11 and will emphasize the theme "Searching Out Deserving Ones" by using several demonstrations.

All three delegates and their families will be looking forward to renewing acquaintances at the three-day assembly as well as giving and receiving Bible instruction.

All sessions, which begin Friday at 8:45 p.m. at the Robert E. Lee Jr. High School Auditorium, will be open to the public and no collections will be taken.

Saigon May Attempt To End Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI)—Allied diplomats today said South Vietnam may join Paris negotiations in Vietnam only to sabotage the talks.

They said President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam has agreed "in principle" to end his boycott of the talks and send a delegation headed by his vice president, Nguyen Cao Ky.

The diplomats said Thieu believes he will be in a better position inside rather than outside the talks to torpedo any compromise with the Viet Cong.

Publicly, South Vietnam maintained its boycott of the talks the United States and North Vietnam arranged. The negotiations were to open three weeks ago. But Saigon's boycott has stalled the start.

In Saigon today, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker spent an hour with Thieu in the president's Independence Palace office. Diplomatic sources said Bunker apparently was working out details of a South Vietnamese agreement to end the boycott.

The allied diplomats here said Thieu will announce his decision to send a delegation to Paris as soon as the details are worked out.

"It is then that the South Vietnamese may become really difficult," one high allied diplomat said.

South Vietnamese officials in Paris made no bones about their belief that all concessions in negotiations thus far have been made by the allied side and none by the Communists.

The allied diplomats said Ky's coming would underline the worry about Saigon taking an especially tough line in talks. They said Ky is a hardliner, strongly opposed to compromise with the Communists.

Saigon has thus far refused to attend the planned talks because of Communist insistence that the Viet Cong guerrillas be seated as a full conference partner. Saigon, with American support argued that the Viet Cong are not to be recognized. Saigon wants the guerrillas seated only as a part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

The allied diplomats here said

Welcome Thanksgiving Pilgrims with Festive, 'No-Fuss' Turkey

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1968
61st YEAR

NORWALK, CONN. (Sp) — Turkey for Thanksgiving is a "must," but it need not always appear in the same old familiar way. Many families will be enjoying a turkey roll this year, chosen for its ease of preparation and good-to-the-last-alice qualities.

If turkey roll is on your shopping list, you'll want some ideas for how to serve stuffing alongside. Stuffing cups, balls, sticks or squares are easy to make... especially when you start with cellophane-packaged stuffing — herb seasoned, corn bread or cube.

The spices are so fresh and well-balanced in these prepared stuffing mixes that there really is no need to change them. To compensate for the lack of turkey drippings, you may want to add chicken broth instead of water. An egg will keep the stuffing more moist and help bind it together. Follow recipes on the packages or try the Mushroom Stuffing Cups given below.

MUSHROOM STUFFING CUPS
One-third cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1 cup chicken broth
1-7 oz. package herb seasoned cube stuffing

1 egg
1 tablespoon snipped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute onions, celery and mushrooms in butter. Add broth; bring to boiling. Remove from heat. Add stuffing, egg, parsley, salt and pepper. Toss lightly. Place in greased custard cups. Bake in moderate oven 20 to 30 minutes. Invert around turkey roll when serving and garnish with parsley. Makes 12 cups. (Muffin tins can also be used.)

STUFFING BALLS:
Form stuffing into balls with an ice cream dipper or one-third cup measure.

STUFFING STICKS:
Place stuffing on greased baking sheet and press into rectangular shape, about 1 inch thick and 6 inches wide.

FOOD QUESTION BOX

Q—I expect 10 guests for Thanksgiving dinner. How large a turkey should I buy?

A—The following suggestions are based on servings—each serving amounting to approximately three ounces of cooked meat without bone, skin or juices. When buying whole ready-to-cook turkeys under 12 pounds, allow three-quarters of one pound per serving. For larger birds, allow one-half to three-quarters pound. With uncooked boneless turkey, allow one-third pound per serving. A ready guide for turkey size and servings:

Fresh Cauliflower With Caper Sauce

No turkey is completely happy unless a flock of fresh vegetables accompany it at the Thanksgiving dinner.

Now that fresh cauliflower is so white and firm and really beautiful, why not try this recipe with caper sauce?

- large head fresh cauliflower
1/2 teaspoon salt
Cornstarch
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated fresh onion
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon turmeric
2 tablespoons capers
Chopped fresh parsley

Wash cauliflower, remove outside leaves, leaving young tender inside leaves attached. Place whole cauliflower in saucepan with 1 inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to boiling point and cook, uncovered, 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 20 minutes or until cauliflower is tender, turning the head once. Drain liquid from cauliflower and measure. (There will be about 1 cup, depending upon diameter of cauliflower.) Blend in one-teaspoon cornstarch to every 1/2-cup liquid. Add butter, lemon juice, onion, salt, black pepper and turmeric. Stir and cook until sauce has thickened. Add capers and pour over cauliflower head. Garnish with

In Surprise Pie, Mix Mince, Pumpkin

By GAYNOR MADDOX (NEA) Food Editor

Something different for Thanksgiving dinner: A half-and-half pie for those who can't decide which—pumpkin or mincemeat.

The raisin mincemeat and mellow pumpkin custard combine into a delicious one-crust pie. Decorate the top with tiny pumpkin pastry and serve pecans with it in the center.

HALF-N-HALF THANKSGIVING PIE
1 1/2 cups prepared mincemeat
Pastry for single 9-inch crust
2 eggs
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup evaporated milk

Wild Sandwich

For the kids (and groovy moms): Put slices of fresh pears (ripe and icy cold), peanut butter and potato chips (1) between slices of oatmeal bread.

ROAD FREEZE LIFTED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a memorandum to Texas the Federal Highway Administration listed a $200 million freeze on highway funds ordered to curb inflation and government spending, and allocated $181.7 million for highways in Texas over the next seven years.

By United Press International
WASHINGTON—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., explaining why he believes congressmen are justified in using a filibuster to help pass an antifilibuster law.

"It's like football. Just because you want to abolish the forward pass is no reason not to use it if it's legal."

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There have been some pretty silly arguments over television, but few to match the case of "Heidi" vs. the American Football League.

As you probably know by now, NBC-TV caught the devil Sunday when it cut away from a dramatic football game to make sure a two-hour adaptation of "Heidi" began on time throughout most of the nation.

The game, between the New York Jets and Oakland Raiders, was close, all right. But the topper came during the minute or so of missed television action, when Oakland scored twice to come from behind and win.

Father vs. Child

You can imagine the hysterical funny scenes of enraged fathers throughout the country storming around in anxiety over the football outcome as the network switched to a show for their children.

As it happens, I am one of these hooked football addicts. I love sports almost as much as good cigars. And I am all for keeping brats in their place.

But, for my money, the gentlemen who had to make the awful decision to cut away from the game was absolutely right in his verdict. There are roughly three million football games on television each year, and although this was an outstanding and significant one, it wasn't a championship contest or a playoff.

If there was blame involved, it should be aimed at the video scheduling of the game so close to "Heidi"—a tactical error by the network, and a lesson for programming planners in the future.

Favor Youngsters

"Heidi" had cost NBC-TV a small fortune, had taken a long time to produce and had been promoted widely as one of the year's major video attractions.

ONE SUSPECTED CASE

AUSTIN (UPI)—State Health Commissioner Dr. J. J. E. Peavy said Tuesday only one suspected case of the Hong Kong flu has been uncovered so far in Texas. Peavy said a man in East Texas was suffering from a type of flu that had not been confirmed as the Hong Kong strain.

WINS COURT SEAT

BIG SPRING (UPI)—Bill Crocker Tuesday became the first Republican member of commissioner's court in Howard County after a recount of the Nov. 5 election returns. The first count of the vote from Precinct 3 re-elected Mrs. May Hayden but Crocker demanded a recount and the result put him ahead 1438 to 1239 votes. A recount committee spokesman said the error was in the counting.

"Well, no. The republic will not abdicate. The people will collect themselves. Progress, independence and peace will prevail, along with liberty. Long live the republic! Long live France!"

—President Charles de Gaulle of France, May 30, 1968.

Twice in a week De Gaulle had appeared on French radio and television to rally the French nation from a state of near paralysis and the greatest threat of civil war since the liberation of Algeria nearly 10 years before.

The specter he held before the French people was a takeover by a Communist dictatorship.

It had started as a student revolt in mid-May against an archaic educational system. It quickly spread to 10 million French workers, nearly half the French labor force, in a revolt against low wages, a housing shortage and depressed living conditions overlooked by De Gaulle in his obsession for a restoration of the grandeur of France.

New Crisis

This week France was in the midst of a new crisis stemming from the old.

The cost of settlement had been high.

Renault automobile workers, previously paid a minimum of $125 per month for a 48-hour week demanded a new minimum of $220 per month, a 40-hour week and the right to organize within the plant.

The workers pointed out that since 1958 industrial wages in France had lagged behind those in Germany, Italy and the Netherlands by 15 per cent while in the same period cost of living had risen twice as fast as in other European countries.

In the end, for all French workers the government was forced to accept a 10 to 15 per cent wage increase across the board.

Government curbs on imports and a drive to stimulate productivity and industrial expansion failed to balance the books against sharply rising industrial costs and the cost of living.

Gold Reserves Cut

French gold reserves of some $6.5 billion, acquired at heavy cost to the United States in De Gaulle's drive to unseat the dollar and the British pound, fell by nearly half.

It was another pie in the face for De Gaulle and a situation to which he had contributed more than his share. But no one was cheering.

As French francs fled toward the stronger German mark, the British pound also trembled.

The French hoped the Germans would revalue their currency upward, but the Germans resisted. De Gaulle declared devaluation of the French franc an "absurdity," and said France would go it alone if necessary.

But the French were in a bid. Taxes could not be raised without damage to the expansion of business. And any attempt to take away from French workers the gains of last May and June almost certainly would lead to a renewal of violence.

CITES TRINITY BENEFITS

PALESTINE (UPI)—Gov. elect Preston Smith said Tuesday economic benefits of the Trinity Canal from Fort Worth to the Gulf of Mexico will help more countries than just the 17 that will border the canal. He said the canal will be an economic shot in the arm to many sleeping towns.

FREEDOM OR CHOICE

TYLER (UPI)—U. S. Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex., said Tuesday he thinks the Richard Nixon administration will furnish more "freedom of choice" in the matter of taking students by bus from one school district to another. Roberts objected to excessive busing of students in some areas of Texas as prescribed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

A thought for the day: Ethel Barrymore coined a line in 1904 after receiving enthusiastic applause for her role in a play. It became her trademark: "That's all there is; isn't any more."

DEAR ABBY: I am a single, been wagging their tongues attractive blonde. I've recently since Hector was a pup, but received a very interesting and tempting invitation from a gentleman friend. (I'll call him Hector.) Hector has been divorced for 15 years and is fairly well-to-do. He's always been a perfect gentleman with me. Hector has invited me to go on a Caribbean cruise with him. All expenses paid. He assures me that all he wants is a charming companion for dining and dancing. He has guaranteed me a separate cabin and my own key. If I go, people will talk, but why should I pass up this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity just because of some wagging tongues?

reading material to the dinner table and read while they eat. Not a word is uttered other than pass this or that. What do you say?

NO NEWS

DEAR NO: I say that mealtime is probably the only time a family can sit down together and exchange ideas and enjoy conversation. To read in the presence of others is rude. It's like saying, "I may as well entertain myself. The company is pretty dull." (P.S. Perhaps you should bring an etiquette book to the table and read it aloud.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I fight all the time about this one thing. Is it all right for a married woman to go to a nice, clean barroom for a drink and pizza with a married girl friend if they get home at a reasonable hour, like 11 o'clock?

The other night my girl friend and I went shopping at 8 p.m. after which we went for a pizza and a drink. At 10 o'clock my husband stormed in like a madman and practically dragged me out of the place. We fought all night. He claims we looked like a couple of pickups. Abby, we were at a table all alone talking to each other. What do you think?

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: I think if respectable women (single or married) wish to go unescorted to a RESPECTABLE place and they mind their own business, they need not be concerned about "looking like pickups."

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about people who read while they eat?

I recently married a woman with two teen-aged daughters, and at every meal all three women bring their favorite

FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1968

Your birthday tomorrow: The year ahead will be a stubborn fight to change conditions to fit your own changing ideas and needs. Many adjustments turn out to be sound aids. Friday's natives are enterprising, restless seekers for truth.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Another day in which to avoid petty arguments—save your energy for real causes. Stay with your planned schedule. Where you can, do it alone.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Make the most of interruptions; have some standby activities you can switch into. Where mechanical equipment is concerned, watch what you are doing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money continues to be the controversial subject. Be as thrifty as you can, but wait until asked before you volunteer! Avoid speculation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Leave possessions well enough alone. Be glad you have the patience to bear with the conflicts of family. Wait for them to come to you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Patience is the main consideration. Tensions building up produce delays and errors; let them be somebody else's. This evening look ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Group and family relations turn the corner and are much easier to manage. Odd coincidences divert you from usual

Your Horoscope

JEANE
DIXON

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Cut a little in order to give others a chance to accept your ideas. Pay more attention to family affairs. Check for hazards; do something about them!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take a new tack. Plan generously; envision larger areas than present expansion indicates. Think big.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If you will hold your own counsel, you find friends and others doing all sorts of things to support your long term plans (without their realizing it).

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Disregard intolerant attitudes from other people. Your weekend chores are heavier than usual, with not enough help. Be self-sufficient to cope with this.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Impulse in dealing with hospitals or institutions will bring unexpected side effects. You have no way of anticipating the quirks of Friday's events.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Graciously but firmly back away from financial deals with friends, pending fuller investigation. Unfamiliar people may be reliable, but until you are very well satisfied, let them wait.

Waxy Protection

What's shaping up: A big boot wardrobe for winter. The prediction is based on the variety and quantity of boots in trend-setting stores. From the looks of it, the daring young lady who brought her first pair of thigh-high boots last winter this year will be tempted to buy several additional kinds—maybe even a pair trimmed with glitter for evening wear. The boots in the store windows are out in such force that one wonders if the shoe makers of America have had a secret forecast about a long, cold winter.

Study Club Hears Pedro Vial Report

Twentieth Century Forum Study Club met in regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert W. Harmon recently as the President, Mrs. Frank Stofa conducted the business meeting.

Naomi Class Has Officer Selection

Naomi Sunday School Class of Central Baptist Church met recently for a meeting in Miss Grace NeCase's home, 521 N. Warren.

Mrs. J. R. Sparkman read the devotional on "A Psalm of David," after members discussed a Thanksgiving basket for shut-ins, and elected officers.

New officers are Mrs. Helen Lunsford, teacher; Mrs. J. R. Sparkman, assistant teacher; Mrs. Virgie Reeves, president; Mrs. Elmer Holley, vice president; Mrs. Della Crump, secretary; Mrs. Georgia Biggers, assistant secretary; Miss Grace NeCase, treasurer and Mrs. Dewey Lunsford, reporter.

Group leaders are Mrs. O. T. Gist, group one; Mrs. Sam Batteas, two; Mrs. R. L. Ratliff, three and Mrs. Bessie Addington, four.

Members selected a class scripture, John 3:16; a class motto, colors, gold and blue; flower, lily; and decided to meet at 7 p.m. the second Tuesday each month.

Those attending were Mmes. Helen Lunsford, Sparkman, Batteas, Ernest Luedecke, Dewey Lunsford and Miss NeCase.

Christmas gifts to the patients in the State Hospital in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Aubrey Steele reviewed the book "Pedro Vial and the Roads to Santa Fe," by Noel M. Loomis and Abraham P. Nasatir.

"Pedro Vial gave a major contribution to the history of exploration in the Great Plains, especially from 1786 to 1812. This book is the first complete and documented account of the travels of the trial," Mrs. Steele said.

"He was a Frenchman employed by Spain for 26 years who traveled the savage Southwest seemingly at will on foot or horseback.

"His journals giving the account of his travels have lain undiscovered for 140 years in the archives of Mexico City, Seville, Havana, Madrid, and Santa Fe.

"It was Vial who blazed the trail that was followed a few years later by prairie men who moved the big wagons from Independence or Westport to sell their goods at Santa Fe. Vial actually established three most important trails—from Santa Fe to San Antonio, to Natchez, an d to St. Louis," she said.

During the social hour refreshments were served to members, Mmes. Holt Barber, Michael Dunigan, J. R. Holloway, David E. Holt, M. McDaniel, Aubrey Steele, and Frank Stofa.

Music Teachers Attend Program On Violin, Viola

Pampa Music Teachers' Association met recently with Mrs. Harris Brinson, 1820 N. Wells, for a program by Mrs. John Bird, on "Teaching the Violin."

Mrs. Bird, a graduate of Kansas State University, performed two years with Topeka's Civic Symphony and for three years with Amarillo Symphony. A Pampa violin and viola teacher, she played "Cavatina" by Raff on the violin and "Tambourin" by d'Heruelois, Shenandoah on the viola and several violin numbers by Bach.

Also for her program, she demonstrated the correct position for holding and playing the violin, explained the techniques of bowing, and discussed classical and modern solo music for the violin.

She displayed a half size violin used to teach a small child, and a regular size violin and viola.

Members also discussed Pampa's need for a string or orchestra program in the school system.

Those attending were Mmes. Fidelia Yoder, Carl Shafer, W. H. Fuller, Ramon Wilson, Joe Foster, Calvin Whatley, Lois Fagan, Harris Erinson, Charles Parr, W. M. Cooper, John Bird and Mrs. Gary Jones.

Storing Hint

Stranded Ranchers Saved by Camps

TRES PIEDRAS, N.M. (UPI)—Three abandoned cowboy camps at "the end of the world" provided shelter, fire and food for two Springer area cattle ranchers who were stranded six days in the snow-covered mountains near here.

Ross Glaze, 39, of Amarillo, Tex., and Springer, rested his blistered, chilled feet Tuesday night at a Taos motel and related the encounter he and his ranch foreman, Lewis Fernandez, 40, experienced with the elements.

Glaze and Fernandez—weak, tired and hungry—straggled down a lonely road near Tres Piedras about noon Tuesday and encountered a U.S. Forest Service worker eating his lunch. They had missed a score of forest service, state police and Civil Air Patrol air and ground searchers during the last three days of their ordeal.

Big Smiles

"They just walked up the road with these big smiles on their faces. They said 'Thank God we've found somebody,'" the forest service employee, Sabino Trujillo, said.

The two men had disappeared last Wednesday on a cattle-buying excursion from Springer to Tierra Amarilla. They said their pickup truck became stuck in deep snow after they took a wrong road near Chama.

Glaze said he and Fernandez spent the first night in the pickup, then came upon the first of the cowboy camps which were to save them. From his warm, snug motel room, Glaze said he had tried to locate the camp on the forest service map, but could not.

End of World

"I guess it must have been the end of the world," he said. "We were getting very weak and we were getting doubtful we would be able to walk back to a main road."

"There was about three feet of snow on the ground and temperatures must have been about 10 below zero," Glaze said, throughout their ordeal.

He and Fernandez managed to find shelter in the cattle cabins, and round up a bit of coal and some matches to provide warmth from the freezing snow outside. They found some food, mostly peanut butter and biscuits, which was left in the abandoned camps. That managed to sustain them until Sunday night.

State police said the men miles through the area, searching for a main road and some sign of civilization.

Glaze said he and Fernandez had spotted one of the five search planes Monday and had lighted fires, but were unable to attract the pilot's attention.

Amarillo Discount Stores To Remain Open on Sunday

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Two Amarillo discount stores will remain open on Sundays despite the Texas "blue law" and an officer in one of the firms said today the state would have to clarify the statute if it wants to close them down.

"We are adhering to the specified items there is not any question about (being prohibited)," said Jess Hux, assistant manager at Gibson's department store.

"If it is a borderline case, we'd like to have a clarification on the matter of closing. If they want to keep it in effect the people down in Austin will have to clarify it," Hux said.

"If they want to make it so you just can't sell anything on Sunday—well, fine, we'll just lock (the store) up."

Tuesday, an Amarillo district judge officially agreed with the stores' position. Judge Gene Jordan refused to enjoin the two businesses for remaining open on Sunday—and raised a constitutional question.

Jordan said any violation by the discount stores is due to the fact that the statute is "vague, indefinite and impossible to be understood by that degree of certainty required by the law."

He said there was a serious question of the law's constitutionality but in view of the fact that he denied a request for an injunction he would not go into that question.

The judge said he refused the petition for injunction because most of the evidence in a hearing Friday failed "to show any intentional violation of the law; to the contrary, it appears that at least some effort was made to comply."

Walter Hill, an employee of Sears-Roebuck, asked for the hearing, contending K-Mart and Gibson's Discount Center were selling certain items on Sunday prohibited by law and that employees at the stores were forced to violate the law by making such sales.

The Texas Sunday blue law requires stores that sell items such as appliances, hardware and dry goods to close on either Saturday or Sunday each week.

"We have roped the restricted departments off," said Hux. He said the only items under question in the hearing were the "vague" items cited by Jordan.

DUPED

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI)—Detective Bill Kirschner asked his prisoner, "Do you intend to break away from me?" Mike Reynolds, 19, arrested on a bad check charge, replied, "No. You caught me fair and I won't try to get away."

Taking Reynolds at his word Kirschner didn't put handcuffs on the youth. Police are still looking for Reynolds, who broke away from the detective at the front door of the county building Tuesday.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Here's the problem: you are a wheat farmer and your crops are being damaged by hessian flies.

In which of the following ways would you react:
() dust the wheat with hessian fly powder;
() become an oat farmer;
() sell the farm and get a job as a brain surgeon.

If you checked any of the above solutions, it shows a singular lack of ingenuity on your part. Which isn't surprising. If you had any ingenuity, you probably wouldn't be a wheat farmer in the first place.

If you had any ingenuity, your name would be Dr. Robert L. Gallun and you would be working for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Heredity Factor

Gallun, a USDA entomologist, is attacking the hessian fly problem in a truly ingenious manner. It is his idea to save the wheat by insect interbreeding.

As he explained at the international wheat genetics symposium in Australia this fall, there are eight races of hessian flies that look alike but differ in their ability to infest various wheat varieties.

The Great Plains hessian fly, for example, is unable to infest soft wheat.

Okay. If you are Dr. Gallun, you produce a big bunch of Great Plains hessian flies in the laboratory and then you turn them out in a soft wheat area and let them mate with other types of hessian flies.

If things work out right, the next generation of hessian flies will inherit the genetic characteristics that render Great Plains hessian flies incapable of infesting soft wheat.

New Era

I stand in admiration of Dr. Gallun for thinking this up and I want to be the first to predict that it will usher in an entire new era of insect control.

The day when we attacked insects with flit guns, fly swatters and other crude devices may soon be gone forever. Instead, we simply cross them up genetically and let heredity do them in.

If the Gallun plan works for hessian flies, it should work for other types of insects, such as ants. Among the many varieties of ants, there must be at least one variety that dislikes picnics.

Large numbers could be produced in a laboratory and then released in public parks, there to mate with other ants. In a couple of generations, every grassy knoll would be crawling with picnic-hating ants.

Then we could start breeding a strain of squeamish mosquitoes that faint at the sight of human blood.

Now You Know

The worst mine disaster in the United States occurred at Monongah, W.Va., Dec. 6, 1907 when 361 persons died.

A thought for the day: Scottish poet Robert Giffill said, "There's hope for every woe, and balm for every pain, but the first joys of our heart, come never back again."

Hospitalization Under Medicare Needs Security

Most persons who reach 65 this year or later must have some work covered by social security before they can have hospitalization coverage under Medicare, according to Howard L. Weatherly, officer-in-charge at the Pampa Social Security office.

Persons who became 65 years of age before 1968 needed no work under social security to be covered by hospitalization or Part A under Medicare.

Beginning with 1968, three-fourths of a year of work (3 quarters under social security) is required to be eligible for hospitalization. In 1969, one and one-half years work will be required and it will continue to increase each year at the rate of three-fourths of a year of work until the requirements are the same as those for cash retirement benefits.

Weatherly said the requirement does not apply to those who can draw social security payments based on someone else's work and number. These persons, most of them wives and widows, will be covered automatically for hospitalization when they become 65.

Additional information is available he stated, at the Pampa Social Security office, 400 W. Kingsmill.

Don Perkins on the Run

Perk Means Lot to Cowboys

NEA Sports Writer
DALLAS — When Don Perkins speaks, grown men and women stop in mid-syllable to listen. Somewhere in the distance, chimes ring and perhaps someone strums a harp.

It's that kind of voice — a smooth Robert woulet or maybe, as one writer put it, a silver Ronald Clemen. wat home in Albuquerque, the women want him to teach Sunday school just so they can hear him speak.

Still, DQON Perkins, fullback for the Dallas Cowboys, claims to be self-taught. "I scream at the wife and kids a lot," he says, smiling. "I suppose you on one foot. "Perkins has a can develop a lot of volume that way."

In Dallas, where he has become the fifth leading rusher in National Football League history, ahead of fabled Steve Van Buren, Perkins is famous for his voice. He also is famous for something which involves keeping the voice quiet — enduring pain.

At 5-foot-11, 195 pounds, the 30-year-old University of New Mexico import is not big as NFL fullbacks go. He is not even big as NFL equipment managers go. Hence, he is frequently injured. Pain is a constant factor in his life. But Perkins plays.

bother me. I guess pain is only troublesome in idle moments. A former Cowboy trainer once said Don Perkins takes pain better than anyone. There was the time, for instance, when Perk played an entire quarter with a broken arm.

"When Perkins is hurt, he's hurt," says coach Tom Landry. "A coach does not have to worry about when to send him back into a game. When he comes out, he's finished."

Landry sticks by this statement although there are times when Perkins blatantly disproves it.

Against New York recently, for example, Perkins had to be helped off the field. He hopped league, the waves have flattened out for Don Perkins. "I'm pretty much free from knee injury," the press box announcer said. "We'll have a report from the bench later."

Later, Perkins ran back onto the field, without a limp, and gained many yards. For Don Perkins, you see, pain has been something to outrun.

"It's been my experience that if you have something that's annoying you, it does not bother you so much when you are actually executing a play."

"There are times when I'm walking back to the huddle that I think, 'God, my shoulder's sure killing me.' Then I'm moving again and it doesn't

It should be interesting to hear Perkins describe a player in pain. He's been there himself.

"Watching game films, sometimes I can detect a noticeable limp when I'm running an alternate pass pattern where you rarely get an opportunity to catch the ball. Then, on the next play, I'll be carrying the ball and I'll see no evidence of a limp at all."

There was a time, several years ago, when Perkins was beset with a "rash of minor injuries," when the money was not so good, that he considered quitting. Not now.

Now, after eight years in the everything," he says, "including injuries. It makes a lot of difference."

Memories of getting knocked cold by the Giants in 1961 still linger, though. The Redskins kayowed Perkins, too.

"Football is still a game of contact," he says. "You have to enjoy delivering a blow and not mind receiving one." Perkins has had his, thank you. Outsiders talk of a political future for Perkins and his voice, but he speaks fondly of a career in radio and television.

"I've done a little piecemeal work for CBS," he said. "I did the color on the runner-up game film on rookies. I really enjoy that type of thing."

Hogs Worry About Tech

By United Press International.
Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles was either trying a new type of psychology or he forgot his poor-mouthing of the day before when he said his Razorbacks had done so well during practice sessions that he did not feel they could accomplish any more with an extra days work in pads.

Tuesday he said the practice was one of the worst the Hogs had had on any Tuesday and he bemoaned the "quite a transition" necessary to prepare for down-to-earth Texas Tech after playing pass-happy SMU the week before.

well but added, "The Razorbacks run their pass routes to perfection and it's going to take a great effort to stop them."

The Red Raiders will meet Arkansas in Lubbock before an estimated crowd of 45,000.

In Waco, Baylor coach John Bridges put his team through a light contact drill against Southern Methodist's offensive and defensive plays.

Bridges said he was pleased with Baylor's progress this week especially in the offensive and defensive lines.

Lady Jockey Defies Males

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—"Sooner or later, they have to let me ride," said pretty Penny Ann Early.

With feminine determination, Miss Early stepped into the Churchill Downs paddock today for her third attempt to become the first woman jockey at a major American race track.

She was listed to ride "Witness" in the fourth race by trainer Freddy Wirth, one horseman apparently willing to defy a threatened jockey boycott. It was to be a six-furlong race for two-year-olds with a $2,600 purse.

"Witness is a nice filly," Miss Early said before the race, "she likes an off track."

The Churchill Downs' track has been muddy for several days.

The petite 25-year-old divorcee began a battle between the sexes when she received her temporary jockey's permit from the Kentucky State Racing Commission last week. She must ride in two races before the commission reviews her for permanent status.

Churchill Downs' all-male jockey cadre has tried to keep Miss Early from achieving her goal. Her first horse was scratched because of a muddy track, and her second attempt failed when trainer Clarence Breedlove switched to a male jockey.

Alford Pleases Crowds by His Punt Returning

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Safety Larry Alford has the second smallest foot on the Texas Tech Red Raider football team, but when he starts making tracks, he's a real crowd pleaser.

Alford's specialty is punt returning. He has been among the top three punt returners all season. He is in the process winning his second straight South-west Conference punt return championship, making him a candidate for national honors.

Alford also covers the long scoring pass and has done so well this year, that only four have been completed this year when he was in the game.

Alford captured the SWC punt return title last season as a sophomore. He had 320 yards on 32 returns.

With only Saturday's crucial SWC bout with Arkansas remaining on this year's slate, the 5-10, 180-pounder has returned 35 punts for 416 yards and an 11.9 average per return.

"It's been our goal all along to have the best defensive team in the conference," says Alford. "We believed that we could all along—and now we're doing it."

The Raider pass defenders, of which Alford is a prominent member, have allowed 182 yards per game.

Although Tech has faced four of the nation's top 10 passers this season, it has allowed only 127 of 271 passes to be completed while intercepting 17.

"I'm real proud of the way our defense has come through this season," said Alford. "The big difference this year has been the play of our line. I can remember getting 14 to 15 tackles in a game last year, but this season I'm lucky if I get four or five. They don't leave us much work."

Saturday the Tech defense faces another tough job in Arkansas and top-notch quarterback Bill Montgomery.

Alford says his job as a "free safety" is to help out the rovers, halfbacks and catch the Freeman no one else covers. "It is just a big job of helping out," he says.

"All our whole defense wants to do is to get the ball back in good field position for the offense," Alford says. "If I look up and see the opposition coming down on me real fast, I like it because there is a good chance they will run past me."

College Teams Looking For Berths in Bowls

The cupboard will be almost bare Saturday for college football teams looking for bowls but the oldest cup of them all, the Rose Bowl, will be there waiting to be picked up by either Ohio State or Michigan.

Southern California already has its hands on the Rose Bowl as the West Coast representative in the Pasadena classic and the co-owner will be established Saturday when Ohio State and Michigan clash in the Big Ten title game.

Should the contest end in a tie, Ohio State would represent the Midwest since Michigan visited Pasadena more recently than the Buckeyes.

The Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Sun Bowls signed four schools early this week and will complete the task of filling the remaining berths after Saturday's games.

Buckeyes Slight Favorite

Second-ranked Ohio State is favored by four points to make its first Rose Bowl trip since the 1957 club. The Buckeyes, seeking their first perfect record since 1954, have an 8-0 mark while Michigan State is 8-1.

Top-ranked USC, also 8-0, tangles with cross-city rival UCLA with the O.J. Simpson-led Trojans favored by 14.

Penn State, pride of the East and the nation's third-ranked team, takes on arch rival Pittsburgh as the Nittany Lions prepare for their Orange Bowl appearance against Kansas and shoot for their ninth win without a loss. The Lions are heavy favorites.

Sixth-ranked Kansas is a one-point favorite over Missouri, a Gator Bowl participant.

Georgia, which accepted a Sugar Bowl bid, is idle this weekend as is seventh-ranked Texas, one of the teams involved in the three-way fight for the Southwest Conference championship battle and a contender for the Sugar or Cotton Bowls.

Tennessee Favored

Eight-ranked Tennessee, one of the Cotton Bowl teams, is favored over Kentucky and bowl-hopeful Arkansas (No. 9) is picked by six over Texas Tech.

A big game in the West sends Wyoming against Arizona at Tucson with the Western Athletic Conference title and a bowl bid at stake.

In the East, the big game is the Yale-Harvard battle at Cambridge for the Ivy League title. Yale enters the contest with the nation's longest winning streak among the major colleges (16) and is a seven point favorite.

Stanford and California tangle on the West Coast for the glory that comes with winning THE game and the Golden Bears are favored by six.

In other big rivalries, Utah plays Utah State, Syracuse

Matson Considering Professional Track

DALLAS (UPI) — World champion shot putter Randy Matson, tottering on the fence between pro football or basketball and going into the business world and remaining an amateur, welcomes the addition of another horn to his dilemma—professional track.

Matson, in town to talk to both the American Basketball Association's Dallas Chaparrals and a business firm about his future, said he was "really excited" about a proposed lucrative pro track circuit.

"I'll say one thing—if this thing goes through it is sure going to shake up a few people," he added. "But, if it works out and becomes a permanent affair, it will be a good thing."

Strengthen Program

"I know it would strengthen our college track programs because now the track athlete hasn't had anywhere to go after college."

"It's really tough to be an amateur athlete. It's hard to find a good job that will permit you still to compete."

Matson was drafted by the Dallas basketball pros and by the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League although he had not played football since his high school days at Pampa, Tex., or basketball since his junior year at Texas A&M University.

"I'm still talking to the Chaps and Falcons and I've visited with some business firms, but my future still is up in the air," he said.

Matson said despite his superiority in his specialty, in which he holds the world record of 71 feet 5 1/4 inches, he didn't think he'd be one of those winning $50,000 if he turned track pro.

"For a one-event man, especially in the field events, I'd say about $35,000 to $40,000 would be tops," he said.

"But, you know, that's pretty good pay for three months work," he added and turned back to talking pro basketball with Dallas Chaps General Manager Max Williams with a smile of satisfaction.

Cowboys May Use Morton Against Crippled Chicago

DALLAS (UPI) — Quarterback Don Meredith probably will occupy the role of "pinch hitter" Sunday when the Dallas Cowboys face the crippled Chicago Bears in Chicago.

Coach Tom Landry reported Wednesday that Meredith's twice-injured knee had flared up at mid-week after first appearing hale and hearty from the bang-up job done on it in last Sunday's Washington game. It had originally been injured a week earlier against New York.

So, he said, the Cowboys will return to their plans to start reserve quarterback Craig Morton against the Bears and use Meredith "as a spot player from time to time."

Actually, Landry said he was leaving "open" whether Meredith would start the game, "according to how he feels."

But, because of the soreness of the knee and what he termed the "agility, quickness and hard-hitting" of the Chicago defense, Landry said he was concerned about Meredith's ability "to move around."

"A quarterback who can't move well would be in jeopardy," he said.

Turning back to Meredith's participation in the game the coach said he "might use him for a particular play, or series."

"It might be for short yardage, at the goal line or on third down... where you have to read the keys to make the play go."

Morton took over for Meredith late last season and piloted the Cowboys to three victories in four starts in their drive to their second Eastern Conference crown, but Landry thinks Morton is a much better quarterback now.

"It won't bother the team to go with Morton," he said. "He's a much better quarterback now than a year ago. I think Morton could take us all the way. He couldn't have done it last year but he can this year."

The first professional football player deal was made in 1920 when Bob Nash was purchased from Akron by Buffalo for $300.
