Act That Eventually Proved Fatal

British Marine Capt. Antony Laurence Easterbrook is shown performing in his act, "The Death Slide," at New York's Madison Square Garden in the British military tournament and tattoo. Easterbrook later fell while doing this act in the Garden and died several hours later in a hospital. A nurse reported that every bone in his body was broken in the 85-foot fall. (AP Wirephoto.)

Truman Takes Slap At 'Rigged' Convention

Suggests Kennedy Ought To Wait

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Saturday the forthcoming Democratic National Convention looks like a "prearranged affair" and urged Sen. John F. Kennedy to be patient in his bid for the presidency.

Truman told, etc. 2nd graf 20 vised press conference he will not attend the Democratic National Convention opening July 11 at Los Angeles "because I have no desire whatever to be a party to proceedings that are taking on the aspects of a prearranged affair."

Truman had some nice things to say about Kennedy, currently the front-runner for the nomination, but then addressed some remarks specifically to the 42-year-old Massachusetts senator.

DIRECT QUESTION

"Senator, are you certain that you are quite ready for the country or that the country is ready for you in the role of president in January, 1961?" he asked. "I have no doubts about the political heights to which you are destined to rise.

"But I am deeply concerned and troubled about the situation we are up against in the world now and in the immediate future. That is why I would hope that some one with the greatest possible maturity and experience would be available at this time. May I urge you to be patient?"

In Los Angeles aides of Sen. Kennedy promptly said he would demand equal air time to answer Truman.

Kennedy himself, at his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, declined to comment immediately on Truman's query as to whether he is "quite ready" for the White House. When a newsman pressed him as to whether he would reply eventually, Kennedy said, "Naturally."

DENIALS

Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, who will be permanent chairman of the convention and who was mentioned by Truman as one of several who should be considered as possible candidates, denied the convention is rigged.

Paul Butler, national Democratic chairman, also has denied the rigging charge.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader and now considered as running second behind Kennedy in the preconvention presidential sweepstakes, said in Washington that all delegates should have the opportunity to make a democratic choice of their candidates."

Truman, who is backing his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, for the nomination, named Johnson in his list of possible candidates, saying the Texan had "grown in skill and esteem in his service to the nation and the party."

The former president declined to detail his reasons why he thinks the convention is taking on the aspects of a prearranged affair.

"I am speaking up at this time because I would hope that many of the delegates who have been stampeded or pressured into preconvention commitments against their better judgment—and I know at first hand of such instances—will have a chance to exercise further judgment," he added.

"I don't like a fixed convention," he declared.

Truman said he thinks to a great extent that Sen. Kennedy "is a victim of circumstances brought on by some of his overzealous backers, which is unfortunate and unfair to him."

A reporter asked Truman, "If we all leave here and write that you have started your own stop-Kennedy movement, you won't deny it, will you?"

Truman replied: "We'll wait and see. If you make any such statements you may be in a lot of trouble."

Truman listed Congressman and former Gov. Chester Bowles of Connecticut as among those from whom the final choice should be made. Others he mentioned were Gov. Robert D. Meyner of New Jersey, Sen. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee, Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota and Collins.

Demo Candidates' Fate In Hands Of A Few Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Little more than a week before the Democrats name their presidential candidate, a handful of big state leaders appeared. Saturday to hold the outcome in their hands.

They'll have much of the say-so on where hundreds of nominating votes, not now in the possession of any major candidate, will wind up in the party's national convention opening at Los Angeles July 11.

Four who loom large are the governors of Pennsylvania, California and New Jersey and the mayor of Chicago. Their states together have 272 votes.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the front-runner for the presidential nomination, could take encouragement from some recent happenings in these bailiwicks.

YET TO BE SEEN

But whether the four will combine with his other strength to put Kennedy over remained for the convention to demonstrate.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, second in the unofficial standings, had reason for hope that he, too, can build up his total from states now in the favorite son or uncommitted categories which together total 606 votes.

Johnson's veteran mentor, speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, also of Texas, put it this way:

"If the convention isn't blitzed on the first or second ballot, he'll be the nominee."

The chances of two other candidates, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, continued to be pegged to the possibility of a Kennedy-Johnson deadlock.

With 761 votes needed to nominate, here are new unofficial standings of first ballot strength, based on primary results, state convention actions and Associated Press polls:

Kennedy 538, Johnson 211½, Symington 77, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 53½, Stevenson 35, favorite sons and others 204, uncommitted 402.

CLAIMS

Kennedy has been predicting he'll have over 600 votes on the first ballot, but some of his supporters have boosted the claim well over 700.

Johnson backers say he'll have a bit more than 500 on the first ballot, and be in a position to exceed 600 on the second.

Here's a fresh rundown on key states:

California (81 votes) — The delegation is pledged to Gov. Edmund G. Brown on the first ballot, but he may turn it loose ahead of time. The pressure has been mounting.

A recheck showed that once Brown is out of the picture, Kennedy might corral an 51 votes, Symington 5 or 6, Johnson 5½ and Stevenson 16½ to 18½.

Pennsylvania (81)—Gov. David Lawrence repeated last Saturday his statement of neutrality, while saying Kennedy "apparently has terrific appeal with the people."

A late AP poll showed Pennsylvania delegates with 24 votes backing Kennedy, Stevenson had 5½, Symington 2, Lawrence 2½. The rest were uncommitted but largely willing to go the way Lawrence suggests.

Illinois (69)—The bulk of [illegible] delegates no doubt will follow the lead of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who for weeks has been dscribed as leaning to Kennedy.

Symington supporters say they will get 13 to 20 Illinois votes. J. A. Arvey, listed as a Symington backer, said recently it looked as though Kennedy could not be stopped.

New Jersey (41)—The delegation is pledged to Gov. Robert B. Meyner but he has been under heavy pressure to step aside in favor of Kennedy.

US Plane, 6 Aboard, Sought In Far North

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—A far-ranging hunt over icy northern waters was under way Saturday for six American fliers missing north of the Soviet Union in a reconnaissance bomber. Searchers were aided by daylight around the clock from the midnight sun.

Two American and one Norwegian plane were in the air hours after the plane was reported missing. Between 20 and 25 planes were sent to Norway from as far south as the Azores to scour the Barents Sea. Ships also were on the lookout.

The six-engine jet plane last checked in by radio Friday. It was an RB47, a reconnaissance version of the B47 bomber. A Norwegian air force spokesman said it had given its position as about 275 miles north of the Soviet Union's Kola Peninsula and the same distance west of Novaya Zemlya Island, also Soviet territory.

AIR FORCE MUM

U. S. Air Force spokesmen in Wiesbaden, mindful of how the United States was caught with a false story of a weather mission in the U2 spy plane incident, were tight-lipped on the possibility of any misadventures to the RB47 at Soviet hands.

Officials in Washington said the plane was making a survey to provide information for more accurate maps.

A spokesman at U. S. Air Force European headquarters said the search was conducted north of Norway.

There was no indication whether the plane, which operates under the U. S. Strategic Air Command, had come down at sea or found land somewhere. If down at sea, the six crewmen were presumed to have taken to the dinghies with which the plane was equipped.

NOT OVER RUSSIA

In Washington a top Defense Department official said he was sure the plane had made no deliberate attempt to fly over the Soviet Union. Assistant Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder, the Pentagon's information chief, said he based his opinion on the order to halt reconnaissance flights over the Soviet Union after the U2 spy plane case in May.

There was no indication why the RB47 had failed to return to its base in Britain, where it was due Friday night.

An Air Force spokesman said Strategic Air Command planes operate under their own command and not under the Air Force's European headquarters.

Congress In Fuss, Recess Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Saturday night abandoned hopes for preconvention adjournment and scheduled legislation for next Monday, July 4.

Majority leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass) told the House it was apparent Congress would have to be in session next week because of a snag over sugar quota legislation.

There was a slim chance, however that a compromise could be worked out on the sugar bill which might cause another change in plans.

At 11:15 p.m. EDT the House took an indefinite recess but members were told to remain nearby on the off-chance that the convention adjournment could be taken Sunday morning.

The Senate, which had been in temporary recess, resumed its session at 11:11 p.m. EDT.

The Senate had been standing in recess for over three hours waiting for the leaders to try to work out a solution of the sugar bill dispute.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower is reported to have told leaders he will call Congress into a special session immediately if it adjourned without passing a sugar bill.

The Senate and the House were locked in dispute over rival measures to give the President discretionary authority to curb sugar imports from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.

A Senate source, unwilling to be quoted by name, told newsmen that two White House aides and an emissary from the State Department had been sent to Capitol Hill to inform leaders of the President's position.

He told reporters they could be sure that the information he gave them was "very authentic."

Census Check Shows Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau Saturday revised preliminary population figures for 23 of the nation's 50 states but left the national total unchanged at approximately 179½ million, up 18½ per cent since 1950.

Biggest change in the revised figures—which still are preliminary and subject to change—was a jump of 30,995 in the count for Illinois. That state's total now is tentatively set at 10,012,612. The change resulted from inclusion of additional figures from Chicago not available for the June 16 estimate.

The revised figures showed decreases for both Florida and California from the earlier estimates. California's tentative total now is set at 15,530,973, a drop from 6,440 from June 16, and Florida's total is tentatively listed at 4,890,001, down 3,097 from the earlier estimate.

State Bar Favors Amendment On Loan Firms

HOUSTON (AP)—The State Bar of Texas Saturday urged Texas voters to support a constitutional amendment in November that would give the Legislature authority to regulate small loan firms.

In a resolution passed at the closing session of the bar's 78th convention, the lawyers said the Legislature does not now have the authority to regulate the firms.

"Texas has wasted its substance for many years because of the exorbitant charges by lenders of small loans," the resolution said.

GENE FOWLER

Gene Fowler, Writer, Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Fowler, 70, famed newspaperman, screen writer and novelist, died Saturday.

His personal physician, Dr. Frank Nolan, said Fowler suffered a heart attack at his West Los Angeles home and died minutes later.

Nolan said Fowler had been in good health for the past year.

Just before the seizure, Fowler told his wife, Agnes: "I have some pains in my chest—maybe indigestion or something."

Fowler had been away from home earlier in the day, visiting his sons Gene Jr. and Will.

Will was with him at his death.

Fowler, whose works included the celebrated "Good Night Sweet Prince," a biography of John Barrymore, lived in relative seclusion in recent years.

He was working on another book at his death. It was about the newspaperman of the 20s.

Dr. Nolan said he had ordered Fowler not to exert himself and the author had apparently followed instructions. "He was a good patient," Nolan said.

Death Investigated

HOUSTON (AP)—Homicide detectives were investigating the death of a Houston woman found lying on her bed Saturday.

Mrs. Oretha Ramble Donahue, 29, was found with multiple bruises and a possible broken neck. Homicide Dets. C. B. Massey and P. S. Nix said the woman had been dead about 24 hours when she was found.

Holiday Deaths Are Climbing Steadily

Traffic	139
Boating	11
Drowning	26
Miscellaneous	15
TOTAL	191

By The Associated Press

The toll of dead among the millions of Independence Day weekend celebrators climbed steadily Saturday.

The bulk of the fatalities were in the heavy traffic on the streets and roads.

Boating accidents and drownings added very little to the total.

Fireworks, the big killers of the Fourth of July period in the early years of the 20th Century, so far have cost no lives at all.

The National Safety Council noted that traffic deaths were matching the pace of the recent three-day Memorial Day holiday observance, when 367 Americans were killed in motor vehicle accidents.

The council had estimated a toll of 370 deaths in traffic for the current holiday weekend that began at 6 p.m. Friday and will end midnight Monday.

The council also had figured that virtually all of the 73 million cars, trucks, and buses in the country would be in operation at one time or another during the Independence Day period.

Most areas had dry weather—the kind that favors speed over caution.

During the Memorial Day weekend, beside 367 traffic deaths, there were 48 fatalities in boating accidents, 77 drownings that didn't involve boats, and 87 in the miscellaneous class for an overall total of 579.

The record traffic toll for a three-day celebration of Independence Day was set in 1955. It was 407.

Texas Counts Nine Deaths

By The Associated Press

The long 4th of July holiday meant violent death to at least nine persons in Texas before sundown Saturday. Some of the most dangerous periods of the holiday loomed ahead.

A tabulation showed three persons killed in traffic, three drowned, one crushed by a rodeo bull and two shootings.

The Texas totals included all violent deaths, while the national tabulations were limited to traffic, boating, drowning and miscellaneous deaths directly attributable to the holiday. This caused some variation between the tabulations within Texas and those nationally for the state.

Business At A Halt Monday

Monday will be a general holiday in Big Spring.

All public offices will be closed. Stores will present locked doors to the public. Parking space will go begging on streets where it is usually hard to find.

The highways will teem with traffic, however, and highway patrol officers and others assigned to traffic control, will work around the clock trying to prevent accidents.

Citizens will either be out of town on visits or will be lolling lazily around their homes. Lakes and swimming pools will be crowded; picnic areas will probably be piled high with crumpled paper plates, empty cold drink bottles and discarded remnants of outdoor meals.

Only the firemen, policemen, sheriff's deputies, service station men, cafe workers and newspaper employes will be on the job. Others working will be the nurses and aides in hospitals, the fellows who keep the water, electricity and gas flowing and ambulance drivers.

It's July 4 — the 184th anniversary of the day that our forefathers declared this a free and independent nation. And it happens this year to be on a Monday —which means a long weekend off the job for millions of Americans.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week —

With Joe Pickle

Long weekends are wonderful things for everybody except maybe traffic enforcement officers. The great fear was that the Independence Day holidays would see more slaughter on the highways. The area counted one traffic death (Mrs. Nellie Patty McKinley, in Martin County) last week. The prayer was that there would be no more.

Organizations and groups worked up programs to keep people at home, where the safety odds are better. Webb Air Force Base had a full weekend of recreation, with something for everyone. The Country Club was the scene of a golf tournament. And backyards were popular.

Heart-warming news continues to come in reports of support for the city's new crippled children's center. The work—nearly all done by volunteers with material furnished free—should be complete in a few days. Meanwhile, cash gifts rolled in. Organizations which helped generously were the Rotary Club, American Business Club, American Business Women's Association, and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Girls Arrested In Clothing Theft

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston juvenile officers Saturday arrested six teen-age girls in connection with the theft of an estimated $1,000 worth of clothing.

The clothing—dresses, bathing suits and shorts—was allegedly stolen from downtown Houston stores during the past five weeks.

Texas Has Slight Gain From Census Revisions

WASHINGON (AP)—The Census Bureau revised Texas' population upward Saturday to 9,503,035, a gain of 829 over earlier figures published June 15.

The state had 7,711,194 residents in 1950.

The biggest gainer was Travis County (Austin), whose population increased to 211,292 from 201,201. Wichita County (Wichita Falls) gained more than 2,000, up from 122,619 to 124,783.

Tarrant County (Fort Worth) was the biggest loser, down from 537,263 to 534,072. Dallas County slid from 943,500 to 942,562.

The Harris County (Houston) figure was unchanged at 1,234,868, largest in the state.

The populations by counties included these new figures (June 15 figures in parentheses):

Anderson 28,067 (28,075); Angelina 39,252 (39,337); Atascosa 18,772 (18,777); Bowie, 59,906 (60,022); Brazoria 73,441 (75,729); Burleson 11,118 (11,248); Collin 40,940 (41,186); Cooke 22,470 (22,045);

Harrison 45,608 (45,642); Hidalgo 179,487 (179,581); Hockley 22,087 (22,065); Hunt 38,130 (39,304); Jefferson 244,320 (243,693)); Jones 19,402 (19,182);

Kaufman 29,874 (29,929); Kerr 16,612 (16;565); Lamar 33,862 (33,973); Limestone 19,911 (19,913); McLennan 148,336 (148,744); Montgomery 26,650 (26,656);

Nolan 19,239 (19,261); Nueces 219,002 (220,049); Randall 33,657 (33,729); Rusk 35,693 (35,913); San Patricio 44,597 (44,711); Shelby 20,306 (20,404); Smith 85,295 (85,765); Taylor 100,216 (100,521); Tom Green 63,415 (63,891);

Upshur 19,725 (19,766); Van Zandt 18,461 (18,485); Walker 21,454 (21,462); Webb 64,847 (64,857); Wichita 124,783 (122,619); and Williamson 35,943 (35,368).

Fence Argument Leads To Slaying

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—J. D. Rice, 65, of Rt. 2 Arlington was shot to death Saturday in what police said was an argument over a fence.

Officers said a man identifying himself as Ray R. Moore called them and said: "I have just shot a man. Call the sheriff's office."

Rice's body was riddled by a blast from a .12 gauge double-barrel shotgun. Police said they were told the men argued over a fence Moore was building.

Congressmen Put $ 25-Day Limit On Their Travel Expenditures

WASHINGTON (AP) — By law and regulation, irritated congressmen hope they have put to rest charges of traveling high on the taxpayer's dollar.

Within the last 10 days House members have been advised to expect no more than $25 a day from the federal till while touring the country on official business. Both senators and representatives ordered themselves to account for expenses they charge to the government while overseas.

The irritation which preceded this self-discipline stemmed from two sources: a series of articles pinning extravagant expense accounts on some House members and a family quarrel over disclosure of funds spent abroad.

Copyright stories by the Knight newspapers recounted spending of public money on plush hotel rooms, epicurean feasts and relaxation in night clubs. Legislators named in the series defended their way of living, but the upshot was a new set of travel regulations by the House Administration Committee.

This group headed by Rep. Omar Burleson, (D-Tex) screens vouchers before they are turned over to the House disbursing office. Burleson now anticipates aid from the General Accounting Office in auditing expense accounts. His committee's rules, which apply to all House travel on appropriated funds, establish ceilings under which senators have traveled since 1956.

From July 1 on, House members may draw a set daily rate for food, lodging and incidentals while on the road and make no public accounting of how they spend it.

With advance approval they may choose reimbursement for actual expenses. But in this event they may receive a maximum of $25 a day and must report how they spend it in some detail.

Basic information from their vouchers will be published in a House document once a year.

As Congress recessed for the political conventions, legislation was pending to raise the spend-as-you-will per day allowance from $12 to $15.

An appropriations bill amendment by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) requires all members of Congress to explain how they spend foreign currencies available to them in countries aided by the United States. Although open to interpretation, the amendment was accepted as also providing for publication of expenses claimed for inspection jaunts abroad.

Senators asserted they had proposed such a disclosure of the spending of these counterpart funds in past years. They said they bumped up against House opposition and relented only to settle the quarrel and pass necessary appropriation bills.

Major Issues Will Come Before Solons In August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress got ready Saturday to quit work during the national political conventions and leave four major domestic issues for final action in a politically charged August session.

The key questions put aside until next month are medical care for the aged, minimum wage law changes, federal aid to education and housing.

Both Senate and House tackled stacks of minor bills during the final day.

A tentative agreement was reached to adopt an adjournment resolution under which the Senate would return to work after five weeks, on Aug. 8, and the House a week later, on Aug. 15.

ELECTIONS

This was in recognition of two facts of life: 1. the Senate has unlimited debate and so usually spends more time getting its work done and 2. all House members are up for re-election this fall while only one-third of the senators' terms expire.

All sides were agreed the new session should end by Labor Day, or four weeks after the Senate planned to reassemble. But there was no guarantee it would wind up that soon.

Many legislators, particularly Republicans, were unhappy at the prospect of coming back in August and said nothing would come of it but a political donnybrook.

But most Democrats, especially those from the North and West, held the view that their party—with its big majorities in both Senate and House—has yet to write major parts of the record on which they must run in the fall campaign.

FLOOR FIGHTS

The August session makes it highly likely that the presidential nominees of the two major parties will confront each other across the Senate chamber—vice President Richard M. Nixon from the presiding officer's chair and a Democratic senator from his desk on the floor.

The Senate will have two big floor fights ahead when it reconvenes.

One will center on medical care for the aged, which some Democrats call the biggest domestic 1960 issue.

The House, after months of indecision, passed a Social Security bill containing a limited plan of medical benefits for older persons to be paid for with federal-state grants.

Many Democrats want to write in a much broader program and put it under the Social Security system financed by payroll taxes so the benefits will be a matter of right. The Eisenhower administration favors a more costly insurance program than the House voted, but opposes the Social Security approach.

The Senate Finance Committee will have to act on the issue before it reaches the floor.

WAGE BILL

Now ready for floor debate is a minimum wage bill sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination. His bill is far broader than the measure which the House passed Thursday.

The Kennedy bill would boost the $1 wage floor to $1.25 in three steps and bring about five million more workers under the act. The House bill carries a $1.15 figure and lesser new coverage. The administration has indicated it might accept the increase to $1.25 although it recommended none.

It was disclosed Friday that the House inadvertently accepted a floor amendment which would eliminate from coverage 14 of the 24 million workers now under the law. This amendment is sure to be junked in the Senate.

SCHOOL AID

The school aid issue is firmly locked in the House Rules Committee but Democratic leaders are expected to make another effort to pry it loose in August. Nixon also has reportedly take a hand in that direction.

Both branches passed school aid bills for the first time in history this year, but they varied considerably. The Senate sent the legislation to a conference to iron out differences, but the Rules Committee has refused to go along.

Also stalled in the Rules Committee is a $1,365,000,000 omnibus housing bill with funds and new authority for a variety of programs. The Senate has passed a similar measure.

The August session also may see efforts to revive farm legislation and other controversial measures carrying political overtones. The House recently rejected a farm bill offered by its Agriculture Committee. That action appeared to kill such legislation this year, but a new effort may be made next month.

8-WEEK TIE-UP

By far the most important bill to clear Congress so far this year was a civil rights measure. This tied up the Senate for eight weeks, much of it occupied by a Southern filibuster.

Congress also sent to President Eisenhower a 251-million-dollar bill to aid economically depressed areas with federal loans and grants, but he vetoed it.

Also vetoed was a measure to increase the authorization for federal water pollution grants from 50 million dollars a year to 90 million.

The legislators overrode an Eisenhower veto Friday and gave 1½ million federal employes a 746-million-dollar annual pay raise. It was only the second veto to be upset in Eisenhower's 7½ years as President.

Lyndonites Cheered By HST Stand

AUSTIN (AP)—Harry Truman gave Texas backers of Sen. Lyndon Johnson new hope and new muscle Saturday in the "stop Kennedy" movement that Johnson himself urged on them at the recent state convention.

The former President's demand for an open convention at Los Angeles, plus his mention of Johnson high in his list of prospects who would be hurt by a John Kennedy bandwagon, touched off pleased comment from the Senate majority leader's at-home friends.

"An open convention like the one Mr. Truman calls for will give Sen. Johnson a much better chance at the nomination," said Ed Connally of Abilene, state executive committee chairman.

ATTACK ON BUTLER

Texas Johnson leaders construed the Truman statement as an open attack on National Committee Chairman Paul Butler.

Leaders of the party organization and the Texas delegation have been in a fermest of discontent with Butler and national Democratic headquarters over pre-convention planning.

They said that the national party demanded a double certification of Texas delegates and of delegates named as members of the key pre-convention committees. One certification was made by Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls, chairman of the June 14 state convention.

Then Butler asked Connally for another certification. Connally confirmed Saturday that while he saw no necessity for it, he had complied with Butler's request. He said he wanted the Texans to avoid any technical objections at Los Angeles.

NO WORD

Texans named to such vital committees as platform and credentials had received no word Saturday on when the committees would meet.

Typical was that of Mrs. Charles Bailey of Austin, member of the credentials committee which would hear complaints if any about the loyalty of any of the Texas delegation members.

"I haven't had one line of any kind from the national committee," said Mrs. Bailey. She said she had been told unofficially that credentials would meet Thursday.

Ikard, also a member of the credentials committee, said by telephone from Washington that he had been notified semi-officially that the session would be on Friday. He said he got this word from the national headquarters after making repeated requests.

Connally, commenting on the Truman statement, said that the Texas friends of Johnson expected the former President to stick with Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo) as his first choice. While Truman declined to name a second choice, the LBJ-All-The-Way Texans recalled that Truman once said when asked about his nomination favorite:

TEXAS NEXT

"I'm from Missouri first, then Texas."

Truman made that statement at the Johnson ranch several months ago. Saturday he named a long list of "good men" that he said should be properly sized up before the convention makes its final choice.

Johnson, said Truman is a man "who has grown in skill and esteem in his services to the nation and the party."

Connally said the Truman statement about the tactics of Kennedy's campaign "brings to light some things that have been talked about unofficially." He said he referred to the "conduct of the Kennedy people" and of those making arrangements for the Los Angeles convention.

"Some of the Kennedy people have been throwing money around and doing underhanded things such as exerting undue pressure on delegates," the state chairman said.

"This cught to put a stop to any effort to steamroller the convention on the first ballot."

War Means World Ruin, Says Khrushy

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared Saturday night another major war is unthinkable because it would destroy a world made [illegible] weapons and rockets.

In a speech before the Austro-Soviet Society, Khrushchev disavowed the Lenist theory that the triumph of communism could only be achieved through conflict with capitalism.

"We don't want to push solving the question of capitalism versus communism through a war because all would be lost," he said. "What would war mean at the present time now that we have atomic bombs and rockets?

"Everything would be destroyed. The few people who would survive would vanish because of horrible radiation."

The Kremlin leader departed from his prepared text to say that another war would destroy the world.

In his speech he charged that American planes remain deployed and ready to resume spy missions over the Soviet Union despite the U2 incident.

The Kremlin leader congratulated Austria for following a neutral foreign policy and thereby keeping its towns and villages free from the "thundering noise of military planes." Austria would have been "in deadly danger," he said, if this country had allowed the United States to use Austrian territory for espionage flights.

The Austro-Soviet Society is a private body which includes Conservative Chancellor Julius Raab among its members. The meeting in massive Hofburg Palace, climaxed the third day of Khrushchev's nine-day state visit.

Khrushchev's denunciation of American defense policies came while an Arctic search was in progress for a missing U.S. Air Force reconnaissance bomber.

Khrushchev repeated his contention the U2 incident had made it impossible for him to negotiate with the Americans at the Paris summit conference in May since "the Soviet Union has never crawled before anybody, and it never intends to do so."

Additional Funds Set Up For Texas Dam Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Saturday accepted a Senate amendment to the catch-all money bill adding another 5 million dollars for the Amistad (Diablo) Dam and Reservoir on the Rio Grande between Texas and Mexico.

It also accepted another Senate amendment adding $1,570,000 for a flood protection loan to Brady, Tex.

Both amendments were written into the bill on the Senate floor Friday and the bill was then sent to the House.

The Senate and House a week ago passed a bill authorizing the conclusion of an agreement with Mexico for the construction of the Amistad Dam expected to cost $109,554,000. The cost to the United States had been set at $71,846,000, but the amendment now approved by the Senate and House would add another 5 million dollars.

The bill passed Friday a week ago is awaiting President Eisenhower's signature.

The dam is to be built 12 miles upstream from Del Rio, Tex., and a mile downstream from Devil's River to provide electrical power, flood control, and water for household, municipal, industrial and irrigation use.

It will be the second major storage and conservation dam on the Rio Grande. The other is Falcon Dam, between Laredo and Roma, Tex., which went into operation in 1953.

THE WEEK

Fund program came to light this past week. Goal for this fall's campaign is $98,210, which is up only 1.5 per cent from last year. At the same time, agencies will be getting 5.5 per cent more, the difference coming in savings in campaign operations, and in cutting down some on reserves. With the greatly expanded programs being put on by most of our welfare and youth organizations, this is not too much money from a community as prosperous as ours.

On the business front, Southwestern Bell Telephone anounced a sizable expenditure — $285,000 for building expansion and equipment—in keeping its service up with the city's growth. And Congress, in a conference committee, OK'd $731,000 in construction funds for Webb. The week also welcomed the new Masters Cafeteria and another Wagon Wheel Drive-in.

A severe blow to community as well as property owners affected were two costly fires this week. The Gus Barr home suffered heavy loss, and in another blaze the Matlock fruit and vegetable stand and an adjacent Cosden warehouse were burned out. They ran the fire loss up to the heaviest in many a month.

The folks out in Wright Airport Addition are due to get better water service. City Fathers this week approved expenditure for a new and larger line. This has been a trouble spot for a long time.

Water usage continued to hit records, right along with the mercury readings. June went out of the picture, and good riddance. It was the third driest June in 60 years of weather records, and right at the top as one of the hottest. Wanted: RAIN!

Changed His Mind About Blowing Up VA Hospital

CORSICANA (AP) — It was the heat, Lester Lee Jackson explained, that caused him to change his mind about blowing up the Veterans Administration Hospital in Houston.

State Patrolman Noel Wilson picked up Jackson, peacefully asleep in his car, here Friday night.

A pickup order for the Santa Cruz, Calif., former serviceman went out after his wife told authorities he was en route to Texas threatening to blow up the VA hospital.

"Naw, they got it wrong," said Jackson. "I was going to blow up the VA office in Houston.

"But then coming across Arizona the heat got up to 115. I studied the thing through and got straightened out in my own thoughts," he said. "I didn't want to hurt anyone."

Then he poured out the nitroglycerine but kept the small bottle and the bottle was found with him.

Jackson was taken to the Veteran Administration in Waco Saturday. He said he had been in three institutions.

"I need some attention," he said. "They have a lot of mental hospitals, and they haven't done me any good, but maybe some day they will."

Jackson said he served in the Army from 1939 to 1941, then after a brief period as a civilian joined the Marine Crops.

On Tarawa, one of the early and bloodiest battles in the Pacific, a Japanese grenade exploded in his face. He said he has suffered severe headaches since.

His beef against the VA, he said, stems from failure of the federal government to help a son by a previous marriage who lives on the Gulf of Mexico coast.

Jackson said the federal government has been stalling on aid for the boy. He said he decided he would just blow up the Houston VA office.

Police protected both the Houston VA hospital and the VA office when warned that Jackson was approaching Texas.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to Continental Oil Co. employees and their wives, the members of the A.B.W.A., the Rebekah Lodge No. 294 and all of the wonderful friends and neighbors who expressed their love and loyalty to the shining symbol left by the beloved Mr. Charles Martin, at the time of his death. For the many beautiful floral offerings, the visits, and abundance of food and the many cards and letters, we are most grateful. May God bless each of you, is our prayer.

'Stop Kennedy' Strategy Seen

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost to a man, congressional political leaders had the same reaction Saturday to former President Harry S. Truman's charge that the Democratic National Convention will be "a prearranged affair."

It was this: The big push in a "stop Kennedy" drive is under way.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts was not immediately available for comment. But one of his aides in Los Angeles said Kennedy would ask for equal radio-TV time in which to answer Truman.

For public attribution, most Capitol Hill political leaders took the position of Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who is directing Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's drive for the presidential nomination.

"No comment," Rayburn told newsmen.

Republicans were overjoyed.

"For once I find myself in agreement with Harry Truman," said House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who will preside over the Republican National Convention.

A top Kennedy booster privately said Truman's statement at Independence, Mo., "means simply that they are desperate and that they are making a last ditch move to stop Kennedy. It won't work."

A leading backer of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri predicted that Truman would show up at the convention despite his publicly expressed desire not to be "a party to proceedings that are taking on the aspects of a prearranged affair."

"He wants to be free to operate as spectator Harry Truman instead of delegate Harry Truman," this source commented. "He will be there. He doesn't want to be bound by the unit rule which the Missouri delegation has adopted."

Truman, who has been working for the nomination of Symington as the Democratic presidential nominee, said Saturday he had not canceled his Los Angeles hotel reservations.

A Kennedy man noted that in 1956 Truman tried to keep the nomination from Adlai E. Stevenson and failed.

"The same thing will happen this year," he said. "Only I hope the outcome of the election will be different."

Money Bill Is Adopted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress finally agreed Saturday night on a $138,221,740 catch-all money bill which was one of the two barriers to adjournment along with sugar legislation.

The bill was sent to the President by the Senate, which acted on the compromise version after the House.

They had wrangled all day over the appropriations bill but both sides finally made concessions.

The House originally passed a $149,738,200 measure; the Senate boosted it to $166,327,740.

Included in the measure was $73,666,700 asked by the administration as the initial U.S. contribution to the International Development Association—a new organization set up to make long-term, low-interest rate loans to poorer countries, repayable partly in soft currencies.

The House - Senate conferees knocked out 33 million inserted by the Senate to pay up previous federal obligations for forest and public lands highways.

Also included were five million sought by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) to buy up two blocks of land southeast of the Capitol. He said it was needed for future expansion of congressional activities. The Senate originally balked at this.

Kermit Postmaster

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Saturday confirmed several postmaster nominations, including Herman L. Almond, Kermit, Tex.

Woman Charged In Traffic Death

DEQUINCY, La. (AP) —Dist. Atty. Peter Anderson said Saturday a charge of failing to yield the right of way had been filed against Mrs. Edward Reed, driver in a traffic crash in which her husband died.

Mrs. Reed, 69, of Ralls, Tex., is in a hospital with a broken leg.

Her husband was killed near here Thursday when a truck collided with their car. Earlier, it was reported state police charged her with negligent homicide and reckless driving.

Killed in the crash was Jefferson Edward Reed, 68, of Ralls. Police said Mrs. Reed failed to yield the right-of-way at an intersection about 18 miles east of here.

The truck driver, Manuel Barras of Houston, said the collision was unavoidable.

Nominations Get Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Saturday confirmed a batch of diplomatic, judicial and executive agency nominations. Earlier it had confirmed 247 postmaster nominations in a prerecess burst of action.

Among the nominations confirmed was that of Robert S. Rankin, Duke University political scientists, to be a member of the Civil Rights Commission created by Congress in the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

CBS Denies Time To Sen. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System Saturday night rejected Sen. John F. Kennedy's request for time to answer personally criticism by former President Harry S. Truman.

However, the network said it would allow a representative of the Massachusetts Democrat, to appear for half an hour either Monday or next Saturday. If Kennedy himself appeared, the network said, it would then be obligated to give equal time to all other aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy made the same request to the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co., NBC said it was studying the request. ABC said it did not carry the Truman news conference.

CBS said it was not obligated by federal law to grant Kennedy free time to answer Truman because the former president "is not a candidate." Moreover, the network said, the program constituted a news interview and news event.

U.S. Residents In Mexico City Observe The 4th

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The large American colony of about 15,000 living in this Mexican capital Saturday began celebrating the Fourth of July two days early.

Major event was the annual Independence Day Carnival held at the American school grounds, packed by thousands riding ferris wheels, merry-go-rounds, eating hot dogs and hamburgers and Mexican tacos and tamales.

Featured speaker was U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill, who delivered an address after viewing a parade. Hill also presented the "Ambassador's Cup" to Travis Crockett, an American high school student termed the best in scholarship, leadership and character in 1960.

The celebration continues Monday when Ambassador Hill will will play host at his residence to all the American citizens living here.

Stevenson Man Jeers Truman Strategy

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Former President Truman and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) are seeking to "divert attention from the fast rising tide of national support for Adlai Stevenson," a Stevenson backer said here Saturday.

Jack Matthews of Houston, chairman of Texas Democrats for Stevenson, said statements by Truman and Johnson criticizing Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler are "in fact an attack on the integrity of all the National Democratic Convention delegates."

Matthews is in San Antonio conferring with local Stevenson supporters.

Matthews said Truman and Johnson "well realize that a real Democratically conducted convention will not be to their advantage."

Letter Carriers Elect Officers

FORT WORTH (AP) — T. T. Morris of Wichita Falls was elected president here Saturday of the Texas Assn. of Letter Carriers and Abilene was selected as the state convention city for 1961.

Other officers named as the group ended a state convention are Glenn M. Hodges of Dallas, vice president; Clarence J. Rehn of Hallettsville, secretary, and Jerry Gietz of El Paso, treasurer.

Morris succeeded Frank Eddleman of Lubbock, who was elected delegate-at-large to the national convention.

Executive board members elected are W. C. Seitzler of Waco, District 1; John Gregory of Sherman, Dist. 2; Douglas Meador of Borger, Dist. 3; Clint C. Harless of Odessa, Dist. 4, and Everett Smith of Corpus Christi, Dist. 5.

Water Resources Program Is Proposed For Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP)— A 22-billion dollar program for developing water resources in the Western states during the next 40 years has been proposed to Senators.

The proposal by the Reclamation Bureau was made public Saturday by Chairman Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) of the Senate Select Committee on National Water Resources.

The vast program would provide water for 17 million acres of new land under irrigation by the year 2000, flood protection and hydroelectric power.

At present approximately 30½ million acres are under irrigation, and the long range program contemplates 9½ million acres on federal projects costing 12 billion dollars and 7½ million acres on non-federal projects.

The non-federal projects would include 4,800,000 acres under the California State Water Plan. The non-federal development was estimated to cost 10 billion dollars, of which the California plan would account for $8,600,000,000.

Combined federal and non-federal works would call for the construction of nearly 174 million acre feet of reservoir storage capacity, nearly double the present 190 million acre feet in existence in the West.

An estimated 6,280,000 kilowatts of new hydroelectric power, nearly double the present western hydroelectric power capacity, would be provided by the projects. The California plan would furnish 2,057,000 kilowatts and the remainder would be developed on federal projects.

Over 22 million acre feet of flood control storage would be provided, mostly on federal developments. Expanded water supplies for municipal and industrial use, fish and wildlife, recreation and pollution abatement would be lesser benefits expected from the program.

The Bureau of Reclamation's report to the Senate committee on its study of the western problem and its idea of a long-range program did not propose any specific projects but listed river basins or areas where the water resources could be further developed. It gave these estimated costs of the recommended work in each:

Federal projects ($12,000,000,000) include:

Upper Rio Grande and Pecos, $186,000,000; upper Arkansas and Red, $840,000,000; lower Arkansas-Red-White, $183,000,000; western Gulf, $1,050,000,000.

Non-federal projects ($100,000,000) include:

Upper Rio Grande and Pecos (no estimate); upper Arkansas and Red, $170,000,000; lower Arkansas - Red - White, $11,000,000; western Gulf, $493,000,000.

PLANNING TO TAKE THINGS EASY
Alfred and Mrs. Collins to retire from business after 32 years

Collins Drug Sold To Riley Foster

By SAM BLACKBURN

One of Big Spring's pioneer business establishments has changed owners.

Collins Drug, which has occupied the building at 200 Runnels for 32 years, has been sold by A. R. Collins, who established it, to Riley Foster, former food store manager, and more recently associated with Tarbox-Gossett, Inc.

Announcement of the sale was made by Collins and Foster. Foster took over management of the store effective Friday.

He said the contemplated no immediate changes in the operation of the store other than that he would not operate a prescription department. Foster said he is not a pharmacist and that his invasion of the drug business will be a new line of enterprise for him.

Collins, who has lived in Howard County most of his life, said he proposes to do "nothing."

GOING TO REST

"I'm going to rest," he said. "I've seen a lot of druggists keep at the old grind until they died on the job. I don't want that to happen to me. I intend to take things easy. My wife and I have worked a long time and we feel we are entitled to relax a bit."

The Collins own a cabin on a lake in the Lake Buchanan area. They will spend considerable time there. They also have their home at 431 Edwards to occupy their time. Likewise, they have five grandchildren who are very important to them.

Collins and his brother, M. D. Collins who operates a drug store in Lafayette, La., opened the Collins Drug at 200 Runnels in 1928. Alfred Collins was a graduate pharmacist of the University of Texas. He had set out to become a doctor — like his father, Dr. T. M. Collins, pioneer Howard County physician — but eye trouble diverted him from the course.

PLAYED FOOTBALL

The Collins family came to Coahoma in 1910. Four years later, they moved to Big Spring, where Alfred attended high school and played on the football team. After graduation, he attended Abilene Christian College and later, the pharmacy school at the University of Texas. He completed work there and returned to Big Spring.

"I didn't begin work that year, though," he recalls. "I was coach for a year of the Big Spring high school team."

He worked for a time with Shine Philips, colorful early - day drug store operator of this city. Then, in 1928, he and his brother opened the store at the corner of Second and Runnels in a building owned by his father.

After the brother retired from the firm, Alfred and Mrs. Collins continued the operation. The store has expanded considerably from its original area, he says.

Mrs. Collins is also a Howard County girl — the daughter of Mrs. Ben Adams, Coahoma. They have three sons, Dr. Reed Collins, Midland; Don Collins, USN., and Jimmy Collins, of the home address. Their one daughter is Mrs. Aubrey Armistead, Big Spring.

Mrs. Collins is bookkeeper for the store. Collins has been pharmacist, clerk and general manager.

STILL AT WORK

Ninety-two year-old Dr. T. M. Collins still maintains his office on the mezzanine floor of the store. He comes down town about once a month, his son says.

Foster has been a resident of Big Spring for the past 11 years. He was formerly manager of Safeway Food Stores here.

He and his family live at 607 W. 16th.

"Drug store operation will be a new experience for me, he said. "However, I look forward to it with great interest. Mr. Collins, in his many years in Big Spring, has established an institution. I hope to continue to merit the patronage and interest of the people of Big Spring."

Extra Directors Urge Strike Vote

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's extras should vote to strike, their directors say.

The 2,000-plus membership of the Screen Extras Guild votes on the issue July 8. H. O'Neil Shanks, executive secretary of the Guild, urged Thursday night that they vote to strike.

The producers offered a 7½ cent hourly increase to extras, who make $22.05 a day—or $29.04 for those who wear costume. Shanks said the offer "is so far below that given other performers and other employes in the industry it would seem the employers are trying to foment trouble."

Three Spurts Boost Area Population 941 Per Cent

Three great spurts of growth have boosted the population of the immediate eight county area by 941 per cent in the past 60 years.

With a head count of 8,126 in 1900, this area posted a high mark of 84,598 in the preliminary count of the 1960 census.

The area includes Howard, Borden, Dawson, Garza, Glasscock, Martin, Mitchell and Sterling counties.

The first spurt of growth came in the early part of the century, from 1900 to 1910. In that time, the area more than trebled in population, to 27,723 in the 1910 count.

NEXT CLIMB

The next sharp climb came during the 1920's, gaining impetus from the oil boom. From a total of 26,770 in 1920, the population gain almost doubled by 1930 when 64,214 were reported in the census.

The last substantial increases were recorded in the period beginning with 1940 and it is still continuing for most of the area. From the low of 64,061, the present figure is 84,598, a boost of about 20,000, or an average of 1,000 per year.

In the decade just closed, the area had an increase of 9,107 or 12 per cent. However only three of the eight counties posted gains, the others losing residents.

During the 60 year growth period, there were two decades when the area lost population. The first was from 1910 to 1920, when the total count fell from 27,723 to 26,770. The other was in the depression 1930's when a token loss from 64,214 to 64,061 was reported.

All counties in the area have recorded some increases through the 60 year period. But only Howard, Garza and Glasscock counties registered increases during the 1950's. Only Howard County reported a substantial gain in the last decade or in the past 60 years.

Probably the most spectacular growth was Dawson County which came from 37 residents in 1900 to 18,720 in 1960. This was a 50,494 per cent gain. The county lost population during the 1950s, however.

Since 1900, Howard has added 37,247 residents within its borders, an increase of 1,473 per cent. In the last decade, the increase was 13,053 residents, a raise of 48.8 per cent.

LETTER

Writer Critical Of Ike's Trip

To the Editor:

President Ike has definitely not set up any crusade for peace. His going to other lands was primarily to make an impact upon the American people for social integration, and, of course, to pave the way for future pleasure trips for his party.

And, despite the fact he spent lavishly the people's hard-earned money to royally entertain the Russian premier while he was in this nation, the President would have urged that we be penalized had we hobnobbed with the dictator as he did.

By his own version, Ike is a strong exponent of social integration. He is also a bitter foe of Communism, yet, he is aware that 100 per cent of the Commies have infiltrated the ranks of integration.

Five Students Attend McMurry Band School

ABILENE —Five students from Big Spring have been accepted for McMurry College's annual summer band and twirling school on the campus at Abilene, July 10-23.

Director of the school and head of McMurry's band program, Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, said around 450 are expected to attend.

Instruction is offered to college, high school and junior high students in twirling, individual instruments, band work and marching.

Fifteen instructors, plus several assistants, will be on the faculty this summer. Ten Texas cities are represented by the veteran musicians. These cities also include Snyder, Midland, and Colorado City, where the band school instructors direct high school or junior high bands.

McMurry dormitories will house out-of-town students and a recreational program is provided, in addition to several concerts.

Accepted from Big Spring are Mary Alice Chavarria and Durward Earl Rutledge. Miss Chavarria will receive clarinet and twirling instruction, and Rutledge will obtain trombone and drum majoring training.

BENNY EDWARDS

Benny Edwards Wins Phillips Scholarship

Benny E. Edwards is one of six West Texas high school graduates to receive a $2,000 scholarship from the educational fund for children of Phillips Petroleum Co. employes.

The firm named a total of 50 recipients from 134 candidates who had qualified to take the scholastic aptitude test of the college entrance examination board.

Area students who have been awarded scholarships to any accredited college or university of their choosing include Sondra Sue Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lindsey; Eldon R. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ball, and Kenneth Z. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Scott, all of Odessa; Marilee C. Summers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Summers, Midland; Rucky M. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Q. H. Fisher, Andrews, and Benny E. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Edwards, Big Spring.

Each of the 50 scholarship awards provides $500 annually during four years of college attendance, subject to the maintenance of a satisfactory record by the awardee.

The scholarship fund was established in 1939 for the purpose of aiding children of employes of Phillips and its subsidiaries in obtaining a college or university education. More than 500 young people have obtained education as scholarship holders.

High school students from 61 towns in 12 states took the 1960 aptitude test. Qualifying students who did not receive scholarships may apply for loans for higher education from a separate educational loan fund.

Noted Athlete Wanted To Sing

Althea Gibson, who has an important role in the Civil War drama, "The Horse Soldiers," at the Sahara Sunday and Monday, had her way she would have been a singer today instead of an internationally renowned woman athlete. In the DeLuxe color film starring John Wayne and William Holden, Miss Gibson portrays a courageous Negro girl who faces every hardship her mistress does.

Born in South Carolina, Althea came to New York City at an early date and her parents settled in Harlem, where they still live. She led a tough, rigorous, grab-what-you-can sort of life in the Harlem jungle. Realizing that she had a voice, and being infatuated with the entertainment world, she decided to be a singer. Her friends, knowing her desire to "be somebody," told her that there were plenty of excellent Negro singers around, and suggested that she try athletics.

A Pat on the Back For O. S. "RED" WOMACK

When somebody said, "Ugh—too many Chiefs—not enough Indians!", they undoubtedly meant that one Big Chief is enough when he is "Red" Womack. As chief of the West Texas District of Indian Guides, he covers a lot of Texas territory—West to El Paso, East to Cisco, South to San Angelo and North to Amarillo, wherein approximately 100 tribes are camped.

Red was elected to the district position after his term as Longhouse Chief of the Big Spring Area in 1959-60. Presently, there are 20 local tribes encompassing 315 men and boys who meet bi-monthly as part of the YMCA program to further companionship and understanding between fathers and sons. An annual Pow-Wow is staged in April with a cook-out, tribal games, craft displays, colorful Indian dancers and overnight camping. Membership is limited to boys in the first through third grades and their dads.

In 1938, Red graduated from Big Spring High as an outstanding athlete. After Air Force service in World War II, he returned here and was associated with the First National Bank. A later partnership with Clayton Bettle was the beginning of the Continental Construction Company, a pipeline business which they still operate.

He is a YMCA director, ABC member, past adjutant of the American Legion and a trustee on the Big Spring School Board. Still interested in all sports, Red limits his own participation to golfing at the Country Club regularly and occasionally has time for a fishing trip or hunting.

In 1946 he married the former Edna Ellis. They live with their son, Brent, at 1601 Tucson and attend the First Baptist Church.

FIRE RAZES GUS BARR HOME FRIDAY AFTERNOON
Second blaze of the day causes damage estimated at $12,500

Faulty Air Conditioner Gets Blame For Burning Barr Home

A faulty air conditioner was blamed Friday afternoon for igniting a $12,500 fire at the Gus Barr residence at 1707 Harvard.

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the fire started in the west end of the attic and swept eastward. The air conditioner was set in the west end of the attic, and while it was not turned on at the time, Meador said a short or some other malfunction in the system caused the costly blaze.

The roof of the five-room house was completely destroyed and the weight of the water used to extinguish the flames collapsed the ceiling throughout the front portions of the house.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barr were away from the house at the time, working at their photography studio in downtown Big Spring. A roofer, Obie Young, reshingling their roof, noticed smoke blowing out from under the eave of the roof. He put in the alarm at 1:50 p.m.

Firemen spent about 45 minutes bringing the fire under control, battling it almost entirely from the attic.

The fire was contained in the attic area but water damage was heavy to walls and the floor throughout. In addition, carpets in the living room, front bedroom and hallway were water-soaked and covered with charred debris from the roof and attic.

Firemen were assisted by neighbors and onlookers in salvaging furnishings once the blaze was extinguished.

The afternoon fire was the second such disaster of the day. When the Barr residence caught fire, firemen were just beginning to catch their breath after fighting a $25,000 blaze all morning. The Matlock Fruit and Vegetable Stand and Harvey Wooten's warehouse, used by Cosden, in the 500 block of E. 2nd, were gutted by flames about 7 a.m.

SOMETHING NEW IN IRRIGATION
. . . Unusual device propels self automatically

Lucian Wells Ranch Tries Novel Irrigation System

Something new in irrigation systems is being tested by Will and Connie Edwards on the Lucian Wells Ranch.

This is a device which is self-propelled. It works in a circular fashion and is rigged to irrigate 80 acres in one complete revolution.

The Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation District office says this is the only device of its kind in this area. In general, it was explained, two irrigation methods are usually employed in this part of the country. One is the flood system and the other is by employment of sprinklers.

The Edwards plan follows an entirely different plan.

It was installed this spring. It has an overhead pipe which is mounted on 10 stands. These are 100 feet apart. The pipeline is tied to a concrete base, from which the stands carrying the pipeline move in one full circle.

When this circle has been completed, 80 full acres have been irrigated.

The metal "A" frame stands are mounted on wheels which are turned and controlled by means of a hydraulic pressure pump. The system may be set to put out any rate of water depending upon what moisture is needed by different crops.

When the first 80-acre circle has been watered, each stand is jacked up and the wheel put on another axle which is in line with all 10 stands. Then the complete system is pulled to its new location. There it is tied to another concrete base, pressure is regulated and it starts irrigating another 80 acres.

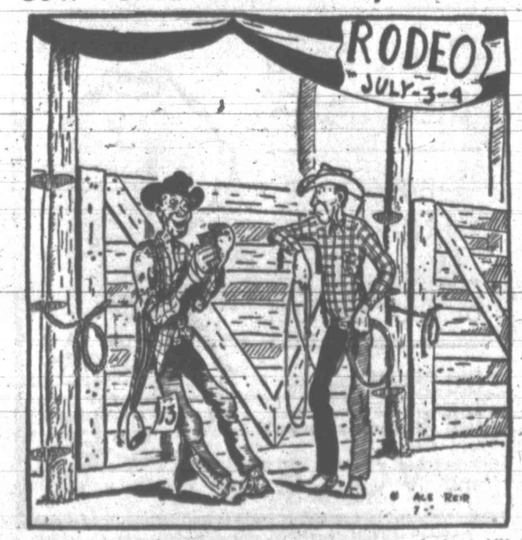

By using this system, the Edwards have eliminated the moving of any pipe by hand except the main well supply line. This extends from the well to the concrete bases. This system, it has been demonstrated, will move itself over lister beds, terraces or in sandy land.

TWIN CROPS

To fully utilize the system, the Edwards brothers intend to grow cotton during the summer and small grains in the winter.

The Soil Conservation office points out that this system of cropping, through use of small grains, will return to the soil the organic material needed to maintain the fertility and physical condition of the land. It will also protect the fields from wind erosion during the spring months.

Traffic Group Meet Delayed

The first meeting of the Big Spring Traffic Commission will be held July 13, a week later than regularly scheduled, due to the vacation absence of some commission members. Meeting time is 5:15 p.m. at City Hall. Normally meetings are to be held on the first Tuesday of the month.

The commission is expected to begin outlining its program concerning traffic problems in the city at the first meeting. The goal of the program will be constructive recommendations for city commission action.

The commission was created by city ordinance and differs from the old Citizens Traffic Commission in that it has semi-official status within the city government.

George Oldham is chairman of the commission and Glenn Cootes is vice chairman. Other members are Louis J. Thompson, Jack Y. Smith, Coy Nalley, Emmett McKenzie, Joe Leach, Jerry Worthy, and R. R. McEwen. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, is secretary.

Andrews Sisters Sue Record Firm

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The singing Andrews Sisters have sued Decca Records, Inc., for an accounting on more than $100,000 in royalties.

The sisters, Laverne, Maxene and Patricia, base the suit on a contract signed in 1958 and which they maintain had a proviso that Decca retain some of the funds because of claims for back income taxes made against them by the federal government. They said in the suit that the tax claims for back income taxes no longer exist and that Decca should pay the funds to them.

Lamesa Youth Take Helm Of Baptist Church

LAMESA — The youth of First Baptist Church will take the helm today as they assume leadership of the church for the coming week.

During the morning worship service the pastor, Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, will turn over the key to the church to Willie DuBose, youth week pastor, and activities will be under way as they lead in Training Union and the evening worship services. Bill McCulloch is to serve as educational director during Youth Week.

A special feature will be a Youth Revival July 6-10 led by Gordon Smith of Tahoka, evangelist, and Hugh Sanders of Pampa, singer.

The main social event of the week will be an Hawaiian Luau on July 5. Kay Campbell is chairman of the entertainment committee.

To serve as Training Union directors Sunday evening, July 3 are Adult III, Benson McCulloch; Adult II, Sherron Phillips; Adult I, Rex Nolen; Married Young People, Mike Jenkins; Young People II, Tawana Boatright; Young People I, Sherrell Kidd; Senior II, Judy Goen; Senior I, Don Lumus; Intermediate, Lenda Currie; Junior II, Naomi Koen and Carol Lamb; Junior I, Jean Ranson and Nancy Taylor.

The same youth will take places of leadership in the various Sunday School departments on Sunday, July 10.

Youth Week is a plan for the church to use its young people in all the official positions of church life for a week, training them for places of leadership in the future.

New Series On Daniel Boone

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney has dipped into American history again to come up with a hero to match his great success with Davy Crockett. This time it's Daniel Boone.

With characteristic thoroughness, Disney has researched the life and times of the great wilderness pioneer, who will come out a flesh and blood character instead of the legend of history books.

Dan'l will joint the lineup of heroes on the Walt Disney presents TVer next season, along with Texas John Slaughter, the Swamp Fox and Zorro. To play Boone, the producer hired an actor he has long admired— Dewey Martin.

"I've been trying to get Dewey to work for me for a long time," Walt explained. "But he didn't want to get tied down to a contract. The Boone deal appealed to him because he isn't stuck in a series."

"The role was what did it," said Dewey. "This is the best character I've had to play since 'The Big Sky.'"

Dewey is compactly built and may not fit the usual conception of Boone. "But I've done a lot of reading about him," the actor said, "and I found out he was exactly my height and build."

Dewey is faced with a dilemma in the Daniel Boone TV films. He naturally wants them to be successful, but not to produce the kind of tidal wave that engulfed Fess Parker.

"The good thing about it is that Disney doesn't believe in sequels; that's why he never did a series on Crockett. We'll just make four or six stories and that will be that."

Carlile Initiated In Stanton Lodge

STANTON — Lewis Carlile received the Initiatory Degree in the Stanton Oddfellow Lodge Thursday night at the IOOF hall.

Les Durham presided. During the team work, Judge Jim McCoy was the team captain.

Two visitors from the IOOF No. 117, Big Spring, and two visitors from IOOF No. 107, from Knott, attended.

In honor of all deceased Oddfellows and Rebekahs a memorial service was held. Judge Jim McCoy was the speaker.

Special music in song was given by Mr. and Mrs. Grady Standefer, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Greenlee, Mike Anderson and Mrs. Richard Daggett accompanied on the piano.

Director Honored

As a result of his Paramount "Shane," which climaxed a number of film accomplishments, Producer-Director George Stevens was awarded the coveted Irving Thalberg Award.

The Technicolor Western drama, which co-stars Alan Ladd, Jean Arthur and Van Heflin, with Brandon De Wilde and Jack Palance, starts a return engagement this week at the Jet Theatre. The classical tale told in this film is that of the fierce struggle between homesteaders and cattlemen to control the range, a struggle resolved by the gun-toting stranger called Shane.

DEAR ABBY

THEY MEAN WELL

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Are there no social graces when it comes to paying a condolence call?

Recently we lost a loved one. For weeks our home was filled with people who, I am sure, meant well. But there was conversation of every sort going on, and a kitchen full of laughing women. Do you think this showed the proper respect for the one whose memory we cherished?

MOURNER

DEAR MOURNER: When well-bred friends make a condolence call they simply enter, express their sorrow and then leave. Those who feel that it is their duty to distract or entertain the mourners undoubtedly "mean well," but don't know better. You might call it ignorance with a halo.

DEAR ABBY: I don't have a problem. I have a complaint. Why is it that when people ask a clergyman to officiate at a wedding, christening or even at a funeral service, they always say, "Please make it short and sweet!"

Most folks are in such a big hurry nowadays they don't even want to take the time required to make a ceremony official. No name please. I have to live in this community.

DISGUSTED

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to know if the nurse or secretary (or whatever those nosy women who work for doctors call themselves) have any business asking questions when someone calls for an appointment.

When I call, she says, "What do you want to see Doctor about?" I tell her it is private and she says "What seems to be your trouble?" Twice I told her it was none of her business and hung up on her. Now I have to see the doctor. How do I get an appointment without telling that woman everything?

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: In all probability the nurse wants to know the nature of your complaint so she will know how much time to set aside for your appointment. . . (A) Tell the nurse (or secretary) that your business with the doctor is personal and you'd rather not disclose it on the telephone. (B) Leave your number and ask the doctor to call you. (C) Write the doctor a personal note.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.M.: Rotten wood cannot be carved.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager," is on sale at all bookstores.

CAR LIFE Magazine says:

"1960 OLDS IS BEST BUY IN MEDIUM-PRICE CLASS!"

Read some of the reasons why CAR LIFE Magazine editors rate Olds as the best buy, after testing all seven medium-price cars!

"Basically, what puts Olds out ahead of its medium-priced competition is the level of quality and finish, plus the car's pure competence in every operation.

"It behaves beautifully on the road, all controls work smoothly and precisely. It is a really finished car with no rough edges or incomplete engineering.

"Proof of Oldsmobile's superiority is the degree of relaxation experienced by the driver and passengers. This is what we might call the 'X' factor. It can't be measured or compared on the specification sheets or on the showroom floor, but after several hundred miles of comparative driving I'm convinced that Oldsmobile is more restful to ride in and more relaxing to drive than any other medium-price car."

Before you buy any medium-price car, visit your Oldsmobile Quality Dealer and get a free reprint of the complete August CAR LIFE article. Then take a test drive . . . see why the new '60 Olds is rated the "best buy in the medium-price class!"

The campus of beautiful Occidental College in Eagle Rock, Calif., is the setting for "Tall Story," a Mansfield production for Warner Bros., starring Anthony Perkins and Jane Fonda, returning to the Jet Thursday through Saturday.

Though only six miles from downtown Los Angeles, producer-director Joshua Logan selected Occidental, a co-educational institution of 1,500 students, as the perfect small town college for his romantic comedy. Occidental was founded in Los Angeles in 1887 and moved to its present site in 1914.

SPORT STOPS IN SUNDRY DIRECTIONS — Milwaukee's Braves, favorites to win the National League back in March, played 35 games before Manager Charlie Dressen was able to start his regular nine. In the 36th game of the season, Dressen started outfielder Wes Covington, infielders Red Schoendienst and Joe Adcock for the first time.

Injuries had kept them out of the lineup until that day. Burdette beat Cincinnati, 5-1, in that one.

Tribe Tramples Washington Behind Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant had a 13-0 record against Washington going into Saturday's game, so the Senators tried bad luck charms and a pre-game snake dance to break the jinx.

Result: Cleveland 12, Washington 2.

And to rub it in, Grant knocked in three runs personally with a bases-loaded single and a sacrifice fly as he posted his 14th victory over the Senators across his three-year American League career.

Four thousand rabbit's feet and "Beat Mudcat" lapel buttons were passed out to the fans as a Boy Scout group tried to dispel Grant's hex in rites around the pitcher's box. But it was Washington which seemed to go into a trance.

Washington infielders made two errors in the first two innings. Then, in the third and again in the fifth, Washington players collided going after pop flies.

Grant, a right-hander, blanked the Senators until two were out in the ninth when Julio Becquer hit a two-run homer. Grant now is 6-2.

Bill Cheek, who fired a 68 earlier in the week in the Country Club's Golf Tournament, tied W. E. Ramsey Friday for medalist honors. Each had a 72. Souchak, Littler Ahead In Flint Open Link Meet

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Mike Souchak and Gene Littler, two of golf's most spectacular players, bolted ahead Saturday in the $52,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament as a tightly packed field reached the halfway mark.

Souchak and Littler mastered par for the second straight day and totalled 139, five under par for the 36 holes. They led Texans Don January of Dallas, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, one stroke. January had a 69. Hawkins shot a second straight 70.

Strong play out of the sand traps and a delicate touch on the greens shot Souchak into a share of the lead. He stroked in a pair of long birdie putts on the front nine and then shaved a stroke off par on each of the par-5 holes coming home for a 68.

Littler, 30-year-old Californian, followed his opening 69 with a 70 over Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club's course.

The first round leader, Davey Hill, slipped to a 73 and tied Bob Goalby and Mason Rudolph at 141.

The huge field of 150 was trimmed to the low 90 and ties for Sunday's play. After the third round, only the low 60 will remain in the scramble for the $9,000 top money.

Sox Rally; Beat Birds

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Chicago White Sox exploded seven straight hits like a string of firecrackers Saturday night for a seven-run fourth inning and an 8-7 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The defeat before 23,367 dropped the second-place Orioles two games behind the American League-leading New York Yankees, who defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-6.

Luis Aparicio's triple to the left center field fence and Minnie Minoso's double to the same sector each drove in two runs in the big Chicago fourth inning.

Phils Tip Giants In Overtime Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pancho Herrera's single scoring Ken Walters gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants in an 11-inning game Saturday night.

Herrera also homered in the second.

Left hander Mike McCormick, who took over in the 11th for southpaw Billy O'Dell, took the rap for the defeat—and made only four pitches. He served up a single to Walters. Then Bobby Gene Smith bunted and both runners were safe on Willie McCovey's error. Herrera hit the southpaw's second pitch into left field and Walters scored with the deciding run.

As a result, Dick Farrell posted his sixth win of the campaign in relief of Johnny Buzhardt. Farrell allowed only one hit in three innings after Buzhardt and O'Dell had engaged in an old-fashioned pitching duel with home-runs producing the only scoring. O'Dell allowed seven hits; Buzhardt six.

Colts Crush Stars, 9-4

Larry Broughton slammed a single and two homers Saturday night to lead the Colts to a 9-4 American Little League win ofer the Stars.

R. J. Englert stroked two singles and pitched winning four-hit ball at the Stars.

Bobby Thomas got a single and a double and Larry McCurtry and Richard Staggs each had a single to complete the Star hitting.

Venetian Way Takes Memorial

CHICAGO (AP)—Venetian Way, with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, equalled the track record Saturday in winning the $46,659 Warren Wright Memorial at Washington Park.

In scoring his first victory since he took the Kentucky Derby, Venetian Way took the lead at the three-eighths pole and pulled ahead by three lengths in the stretch before Run for Nurse put on a great drive to press the winner at the wire. Heroshogala was third and Hillsborough fourth.

Venetian Way negotiated the 1⅛ miles in 1:48 1-5 tying the mark set by Colossal in 1948. The crowd of 24,406 made the winner odds-on favorite and he paid $3.40 and picked up $28,100 for his Sunny Blue Farm owners.

Ramsey, Cheek Tie For Medalist Win

Bill Cheek and W. E. Ramsey, after each carded 72's on Friday's qualifying round and then posted identical 73's Saturday, are still battling it out for the medalist honors in the Country Club Annual Golf Tournament.

Cheek toppled Gil Jones Saturday afternoon, 3 and 2, to advance to the quarter-finals in the meet. He faces Jack Wallace, who nudged defending champion R. S. McCullah, 1 up.

Ramsey eased past R. Pfeiffer, 2 and 1, Saturday and will meet either J. C. Underwood or Ell McComb today. Reynolds beat M. R. Koger, 4 and 3, in a first-round match Saturday.

The tourney had 66 entries and was divided into four flights. The two extra players are in the third flight and will compete in three-man matches to determine the flight winner and consolation winner.

A putting tournament will also be held this afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock and a handicap tournament is also being conducted simultaneously with the match tourney.

In other championship matches Bernard Rains toppled Son Powell, 2 and 1, and he will meet J. R. Farmer, who licked Berl McNallen, 4 and 3.

Weldon Bryant and R. H. Weaver failed to play their match as did Ell McComb and J. C. Underwood. These two first-round matches will be played today and the Weaver-Bryant winner will face Earl Reynolds.

In championship consolation bouts, R. S. McCullah will take on Gil Jones and Berl McNallen will meet Son Powell. The loser of the Weaver-Bryant match will tackle M. R. Koger and Pfeiffer will see the loser of the Underwood-McComb match.

In first flight competition Daryle Hohertz dropped Hudson Landers, 5 and 4. Hohertz will face Kent Morgan today. Morgan downed Jack Roden, 4 and 2. Roden and Landers will play for consolation honors.

Sam Thurman bested J. W. Atkins, 4 and 2, and he will tackle Charles Sweeney, who beat Red Womack, 1-up. Womack will also play Atkins in a consolation match today.

Louis Stallings beat Alton Underwood, 3 and 2, while Tom South was dropping Sam Burns, 1-up through 19 holes.

These two winners will tangle in the winners bracket today and the losers will play in a consolation match.

L. D. Hansen eased past H. W. Wright, 3 and 2, and Bud Pickett trimmed Bill Edwards, 1-up. The winners, Hansen and Wright, will meet, and Pickett and Edwards will battle.

In second flight matches today, Carl Benson, 4 and 3 over Bill McClendon, will meet Cliff Fisher, who won by default over Jim Zike. McClendon draws a bye in the consolation bracket.

Jack Wilson, 1-up over Sam McComb, will face Gaylon Head, who dropped Jack Irons, 3 and 2. Irons and McComb will play a consolation match.

In other second flight matches Saturday, George Grimes beat Bob Johnson, 2 and 1; J. T. Morgan bested Ralph McLaughlin; H. F. Schwarzenbach dropped Richard Clark, 2 and 1; and Gus Barr laced J. R. Smith, 5 and 4.

In winners matches today, Grimes and Morgan will play; Schwarzenbach and Barr will play. Consolation action will see Johnson and McLaughlin tangle and Richard Clark will meet J. R. Smith.

In the third flight John Jones beat Lloyd Wasson, 8 and 7; R. L. Heath dropped Arch Ratliff, 3 and 1; Jim Lewis beat Bill Neal, 7 and 6; Hayes Stripling downed Pat Patterson, 4 and 3.

Other Saturday matches in the third flight saw Carol Belton win over Travis Reed by default; Harrol Jones beat Zollie Boykin, 1-up; Worth Peeler beat James Underwood, 1-up; C. D. Turner beat David McCullah, 1-up through 21 holes; and John Taylor beat Kelly Lawrence.

Today's matches pit John Jones and Heath; Lewis and Stripling; Belton and Harrol Jones; Peeler and Turner and Taylor will play a three-man match.

Consolation play will match Wasson and Ratliff; Neal and Patterson; Reed and Boykin; Underwood and McCullah and Lawrence will tangle in a three-man battle.

Heavy-Duty Practice

Daryle Hohertz and Sam Thurman hit the putting green with anxiety Saturday morning in preparation for the Country Club's putting tournament which will be held today along with the annual Members' Golf Tournament.

Cards Nip Braves, 7-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hot-hitting veteran Stan Musial led a 13-hit St. Louis Cardinal assault against an old nemesis, Warren Spahn, as the Redbirds made it three straight over Milwaukee 7-1 Saturday night behind Bob Gibson's six-hitter.

Musial, on an 11-for-19 streak over a five game span, batted in two runs and scored three. His sizzling two-run double in the fifth was the clincher, making it 4-1.

It was the first victory of the season for the fireballing right-hander, a former Harlem Globetrotter basketball player.

Singles by Musial, Daryl Spencer and Hal Smith in the second gave Gibson an early 1-0 edge. But Bill Bruton's single and Johnny Logan's double in the third tied it 1-1. Musial led off the fourth with a walk and eventually scored on an infield out by Gibson.

Curt Flood's single and a walk to Ken Boyer set the stage for Musial's two-run double in the slot. Bill White then singled home Musial to make it 5-1.

Musial, traveling at better than a two-hits-a-game pace, raised his average to .283.

Olympic Trials Card Three World Marks

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Ray Norton, sprint sensation from Granada, Conn., shot to the head of the powerful team the United States will send to the Olympic Games in Rome by adding the 200-meter title to the 100-meter crown in world record time of 20.5 seconds Saturday.

He was the only double winner in the two-day track and field competition that drew 65,000 to Stanford Stadium and brought total receipts to more than $200,000.

Norton's world record for the race around one turn was the second of the tryouts. John Thomas of Boston University Friday high jumped 7 feet 3¾ inches, bettering his own previous mark of 7-2. Stone Johnson of Dallas, Tex., who finished second to Norton in the 200, also did :20.5 in his preliminary heat.

The recognized mark for the 200 meters around a turn is :20.6. Dave Sime holds the straightaway record of :20.0.

Oregon's Dyrol Burleson, who suffered from the flu early this week, raced to victory in the 1,500-meter race with 3:46.9.

Other victors in a day of frequent sensations were Tom Murphy, Brooklyn, 800 meters, 1:46.7; Lee Calhoun, Gary, Ind., the defending Olympic champion, 110-meter hurdles, :13.4; Rink Babka, formerly Southern California, discus, 192-3½; George Young U.S. Army formerly of Arizona, 3,000-meter steeplechase, 8:50.6, and Jack Yerman, California, :46.3 for 400 meters.

Bobby Morrow, formerly of Texas Christian, who won both the 100 and 200 meters, at the last games, finished fourth in the 200 mefer finals here and failed to make the team. He did not compete in the 100. The first three in each event are automatically named to the squad.

Fortune Gordien, ex-Minnesota, and one time world recordholder, fell by the wayside in the discus, and Greg Bell of Indiana, who won the broad jump at Melbourne, also failed to make the team. On the other hand, Dave Sime, formerly of Duke, holder of numerous world sprint records who failed to make the last team because of injuries, qualified this time with a tie for third in the 100 meters.

All the foot races were scorchers.

Norton and Bobby Morrow came off the curve in the 200 shoulder to shoulder, but Norton forged into the lead and Stone too kover second with :20.8, three-tenths of a second slower than his record-tying heat time. Les Carney, formerly of Ohio University, took the third place on the team with 20.9.

In the 400 meters, Yerman took the lead on the final straightaway and breezed home ahead of Earl Young of Abilene Christian who did :46.5. Otis Davis, formerly of Oregon, was third in :46.7. And Ted Woods of Colorado was fourth also in :46.7. All four will run on the relay, and the first three in the open 400 meters at Rome.

Ernie Cunliffe of Stanford set the early pace in the 800 meters and half way through the final lap pulled out to a 15 yard lead, but Murphy and Jerry Siebert of California overhauled him at the head of the stretch and fought it out to the tape. Siebert was timed in 1:46.8. James Dupree of New Mexico came up fast to catch Cunliffe at the tape.

After a study of the photographs, the judges awarded third place and a trip to Rome to Cunliffe.

George Young of the U.S. Army, from Silver City, N.M., won the 3,000 meter steeplechase in 8:50.6 in a brilliant last lap fight with Phil Coleman of Chicago, who did 8:51 and Deacon Jones, ex-Iowa, with 8:52.5 in third.

In the 1,500 meters stretch drive it was Burleson, Oregon's Jim Grelle and Peter Close of Manchester, Conn., in that order. Grelle's time was 3:47.4 and Close did 3:49.0.

In the discus Al Oerter, defend-Olympic champion, formerly of Kansas, was second with 188-3 and Dick Cochran of Missouri took the third spot with 181-11.

Ira Davis of Philadelphia won the step and jump with an excellent mark of 53 1¼. Herman Stokes of the Los Angeles Striders was second in 51-11 and Bill Sharp of Philadelphia third with 51-9¾.

The recognized pole vault mark is 15-8¼ by Bob Gutowski, set here in 1957. Gutowski himself Saturday failed to make the U.S. team.

The crowd of 65,000 went wild as Bragg's great vault matched in superlative achievement the record 7-3¾ high jump of John Thomas of Boston University Friday.

A third world record, but of a qualified nature, was set by Ray Norton who emerged as the only double winner of the meet and the head man of the American sprint contingent that will go to Rome for the games starting Aug. 25. Norton did :20.5 for the 200 meters around one curve, one-tenth of a second under the standard.

Stone Johnson, of Dallas, Texas, who finished second to Norton in the finals, also did :20.5 in his heat. Norton Friday won the 100-meter dash.

Ron Morris, formerly of Southern California, took second place in the pole vault with 15-5¼, and Dave Clark of North Texas State took third and a place on the team by making less misses before clearing 15-3 than did Henry Wadsworth of Florida.

Cosden Whacks Optimist Nine

Dee Roby Gartman and Gene Rzasa led the way Saturday night as Cosden walloped the Optimists, 23-8, in a Teenage League ball game.

The Cosden crew scored 11 runs in the second inning to ice the game. Norman Patterson was credited with the win.

Smashes Way To Finals Despite Tumble

Brazil's Maria Bueno sprawls on center court in her semi-final match against Britain's Christine Truman in the All-England tennis championships at Wimbledon, Eng. The Brazilian star won, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1, despite her fall in which she lost her racket. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London.)

Brazilian Maria Bueno Takes Women's Singles Tennis Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON (AP) — Maria Bueno of Brazil captured her second straight women's singles title and a fuzz-faced pair of giant-killers from America's Pacific Coast won the men's doubles Saturday in a rousing climax to Wimbledon's dedicated tennis fortnight.

Miss Bueno turned from uncertain bumbler to methodical killer in scoring an 8-6, 6-0 victory over Sandra Reynolds, the student-teacher from South Africa.

But, from the American standpoint, the thrill of this last day of the 83-year-old championships came when Dennis Ralston, a 17-year-old Bakersfield, Calif. schoolboy and his 21-year-old Mexican partner, Rafael Osuna, capped off their unbelievable march through the men's doubles division. They crushed England's Davis Cup team, Mike Davies and Bobby Wilson, 7-5, 6-3, 10-8.

An unseeded scratch combination, they had barely made the tournament by winning a five-set qualifying match.

Then they seemed to jell. Expected every moment to get their come-uppance, they slashed their way past the Davis Cup teams of Italy and Sweden. Then they whipped Australia's fine tandem, Rod Laver and Bob Mark, to get into the final.

Ralston has just finished high school and is heading for UCLA. Osuna attends the University of Southern California and is a protege of former Davis Cup captain Perry Jones, who sponsored Alex Olmedo, last year's Wimbledon king.

The youngsters' surprise victory has one ironic twist. They must now split up and possibly face each other in the United States-Mexico inter-zone Davis Cup match in early August at Mexico City.

Ralston was invited to join the U.S. squad, which plays Canada at Quebec July 15-17. Osuna received a cable inviting him to join the Mexican team.

Ralston, a strapping boy close to six feet, never lost his service. Osuna lost his delivery only once—in the second set.

Miss Bueno, whose main enemy seems to be herself, was obviously gun-shy of Miss Reynold's slingshot forehand in the first set.

Finally, the 20-year-old 110-pound girl from Sao Paulo squeezed through the error-ridden first set and her confidence grew.

In five minutes of murderous tennis—serving and volleying with man-like power, Miss Bueno ran out the second set losing only three points in the last four games.

Harvard Wins Rowing Honors

HENLEY - ON - THAMES, England (AP)—Harvard University's lightweight crew, dog tired but magnificent, won the Thames Challenge Cup of the Henley Rowing Regatta Saturday.

It decisively defeated the Detroit Boat Club in the all-American final of a competition in which 39 hopeful crews started last Wednesday.

Harvard's time over the placid one mile, 550-yards course on the River Thames was 6 minutes 47 seconds. Its margin of victory over the Detroiters was 1½ lengths. Conditions were ideal.

Six American crews fell in the Thames Challenge Cup competition.

They were Washington-Lee high school of Virginia, St. Paul's School of Concord, N.H., Eliot House of Harvard, Tabor Academy of Marion, Mass., Kent School of Kent, Conn., and, Detroit.

Harvard now has won the Thames Challenge Cup three years in succession, a feat achieved only by one other crew in the regatta's history. The Thames Rowing Club took the cup in 1872-73-74.

City Pool Opens At One O'Clock

Dan Lewis, who is in charge of the City Pool says that after trying various opening times for the pool, he plans to begin letting the public in to swim at 1 p.m.

Swim classes usually take up most of the morning hours at the pool and then the summer fun clubs such as synchronized swimming utilize the pool through the noon hour.

Webb Plans July 4 Action

Webb AFB plans to hold an 18-hole partners' handicap golf tournament at the Webb course Monday.

The meet will begin at 6:30 a.m. and continue until 3 p.m. This golf meet is one of many athletic events which highlight the base's "stay-at-home" activities over the holiday weekend.

A softball doubleheader will be held Monday beginning at 1 p.m. on the International Little League field. The first game will be between Webb and A&J Electric from Midland. The second game features the First Sergeants and the Commanders.

Two swim meets will also be held on the base Monday. One will be at the Airmen's Pool and the other will be staged at the Officers' Club Pool. Prizes will be awarded in both contests.

So You're The Guy

AFROTC summer encampment at Webb has brought together two former college football adversaries — Bill Watts (left) of the University of Oklahoma, and J. A. Muennink, of the University of Texas. Last time the two cadets met was in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on New Year's Day. Watts was alternate tackle for the Sooners, and Muennink played center and tackle for the Longhorns. Caught chatting football in their quarters, the two cadets have decided to forget the 19-12 win by Texas six months ago. Instead, they dwell on next year's prospects — Oklahoma having lost Boyd and Gaunt in the backfield and Wahoo McDaniel on the line; while absent from the Texas lineup will be quarterback Bobbie Lackey and fullback Don Allen.

Yank Rally Aids 7-6 Win Over Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees exploded for five hits and three runs after two were out in the ninth inning Saturday and defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-6.

Tom Morgan, a former Yankee and the fifth Tiger pitcher, was the loser in the three hour and 43 minute game.

After Roger Maris and Yogi Berra grounded out to start the last of the ninth, Bill Skowron started the fireworks with his 11th homer into the lower right field stands off Clem Labine, the former Dodger.

When Gil McDougald tripled, Morgan came in to pitch for Detroit. Bobby Richardson's single scored McDougald with the tieing run. Then Art Ditmar, a good hitting pitcher, pinch-hit for Johnny James and sliced the first pitch down the right field line for a ground rule double. Manager Casey Stengel had run out of pinch-hitters.

Joe DeMaestri, who came to New York with Maris in the trade with Kansas City, then got his first hit of the season, a single through the left side that won the game.

Carey Helps A's Topple Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Andy Carey's slugging helped southpaw Bud Daley to his 11th victory, 10-6 over Boston Saturday, as Kansas City battered its way out of a seven-game losing streak.

Yankee castoff Carey, accounting for five runs, was the central figure in the Athletics' twin four-run innings. The muscular third baseman slammed a three-run homer into the left field screen in the first and contributed a run-producing single in the third.

Entering the contest batting average .233, Carey lined loser Frank Sullivan's 0-1 pitch into the nets to put Kansas City ahead 4-0 at the outset. Hank Bauer sacrificed to start the traffic rolling across home plate.

When Boston cut the gap to 8-6 in the last of the eighth, Carey brought home Norm Siebern with a sacrifice fly after the latter had tripled, to make it 9-6.

Kansas City collected 15 hits off four Boston pitchers.

Maris Predicts No New Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The newest "new" Babe Ruth would just as soon stick to his old handle, if you don't mind.

"No one is going to beat the Babe's record," said New York Yankee outfielder Roger Maris today. "Certainly, I won't. Furthermore, hitting home runs does not interest me that much."

Right now, the 25-year-old refugee from the Kansas City A's has 25 homers to his credit. That puts him four up on Ruth's 1927 pace when the Babe hit his record 60.

"I'm not looking for any records," continued Maris. "I'm just hoping to have a good season and help the Yanks win. I know much better than to start setting any fantastic goals for myself."

A whole fistful of great long-distance hitters have preceded Maris as the "new" Ruth in other years but the record still stands. Jimmie Foxx and Hank Greenberg came closest, each with 58.

Karen Hantze Junior Winner

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Karen Hantze, the tennis tomboy from San Diego, won the junior Wimbledon title for girls Saturday by defeating blonde Lynne Hutchings, from South Africa 6-4, 6-4.

Karen's socking serve and hard driving were too much for Lynne, who relied on a good forehand and a nice lobbing touch.

The junior tournaments for boys and girls—age limit between 16 and 18—are played alongside the main championships and match the promising youngsters of many tennis-playing nations.

Bill Nieder Falters In Olympic Tryouts

By JACK STENSON

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — U. S. stars continued their assault on records today in the final events of the Olympic trials after John Thomas again bettered the world high jump mark with a jump of 7 feet 3¾ inches.

"We'll have a lot better than before," declared Chairman Pincus Sober of the U. S. Olympic Track and Field Committee. "But we'll have a lot harder time winning gold medals."

There was heartbreak for many. Bill Nieder, the Kansan who put the shot a record 65 feet 7 inches failed to qualify as he finished fourth to Dallas Long, Parry O'Brien and Dave Davis among the "Big-Four" of the sport.

Greg Bell, the 1956 Olympic champion, failed to rank among the first three in the broad jump and didn't make the team. Neither did Eddie Southern, the second-place winner in the 400-meter hurdles four years ago at Melbourne.

NCAA sprint champion Charlie Tidwell of Kansas pulled up lame in the 100-meter dash.

Meet record breakers, in addition to Thomas, were Al Hall of the New York Athletic Club with a 214-foot 7-inch hammer throw; Long with 63-3¾ in the shot; Ralph Boston of Tennessee A&I with 26-6½ in the broad jump; Jim Beatty with 14:13.6 in the 5,000-meter run and Al Cantello with a 277 foot 7-inch javelin throw.

Glenn Davis, the ex-Ohio State star who won the 400-meter hurdles gold medal at Melbourne, tied his meet record here with a time of 49.5 seconds.

Hall set the previous hammer throw trials record in 1956 with 197-7½ and went on to finish second to teammate Harold Connolly in the Olympics. Connolly, suffering from a pulled muscle in his back, was second Friday with 212-3½.

Long's throw surpassed the 60-10 record of O'Brien four years ago. O'Brien, winner of two Olympic gold medals in the shot, qualified with 62-3¾ while Davis had 62-3½. Nieder, who foulded on a 63-foot throw, had a best legal heave of 61-9¾.

Boston's broad jump erased a record of 26-2 set by Willie Steele in 1948 while Beatty erased the 5,000-meter mark of 14:26 by Bill Dellinger. Cantello's javelin throw far surpassed the 244-11 by Cy Young four years ago.

Ray Norton won the 100 in 10.4 seconds. Events scheduled this afternoon in Stanford Stadium were the 800-meter finals, pole vault, 110-meter high hurdles, hop-step-and-jump, discus, 400 meters, 3,000 meter steeplechase and 1,500 meters.

Kansas' great javelin hurler, Billy Alley, whipped his spear 269 feet, 7½ inches on his first try. It was a great beginning for the national collegiate champ but on his second try he lost his balance on his approach run, wrenched his back and spiked himself in the right calf.

He was taken from the field on a stretcher. While officials and reporters contemplated Alley's loss, Al Cantello of the U. S. Marines, world record holder, tossed his spear 277-7.

A few minutes later Alley, his calf bandaged and wearing football cleats, was back on the field. He got his last four throws in but finished second to Cantello.

Why did he come back when he had an Olympic berth clinched?

"Oh, I wanted to win, man," said Alley. "I wanted to win."

Thomas Is Almost Certain Of Olympic Gold Medal

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — John Thomas, of Boston University has cemented his claim to being the greatest high jumper in history.

He bettered his own world record Friday night at the Olympic trials with a leap of 7 feet 3¾ inches.

The tall, skinny Negro later failed three times.

"I wasn't looking for a record," he told reporters. "I was just trying to win a spot on the Olympic team. It's the first time I ever jumped on grass and it's kind of hard to explain what made it better."

His best outdoor jump previously was 7 feet 2.

Thomas, 18, is a bus driver's son who loves dancing, jazz records and his own cooking. His current goal is a gold medal at the Olympic games in Rome next month—a goal that appears virtually certain.

Yet only five years ago the 6-foot-4¾ athlete wasn't considered tall enough for high school basketball and he barely cleared 4 feet 9 inches on his first competitive high jump.

He was cut from the basketball squad at Rindge Technical High School in Cambridge Mass., when he was a still growing 5-10. He was persuaded to try high jumping again.

"I was just trying to win," said John Thomas of Boston University, who high jumped 7 feet, 3¾ inches, highest ever recorded.

The lanky Thomas, who already had a world mark pending at 7-2, bettered that twice Friday. He went 7-2½ just before he zoomed to 7-3¾. Thomas then missed three times in attempts at 7-4.

"This is the first time I've ever jumped on grass," Thomas said. How high can he go?

"Later," smiled Thomas "Check me later."

Post Leads Reds By Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)— Wally Post's second of two homers accounted for three of Cincinnati's six runs in the eighth as the Reds rolled to a 13-8 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

Swinging a bat as hot as the weather, the homers were Post's fourth and fifth plus two doubles and a single for a total of eight hits in his past 16 times at bat bridging the last six games as he platoons in left field with Jerry Lynch.

Although starter Dick Drott, kayoed in the fourth, drew his fifth straight loss without victory, Mark Freeman was the victim of Cincinnati's belated spurt to assure starter Bob Purkey's eighth triumph among 11 decisions.

Hansen Ousts Aparicio As AL All-Star Shortstop

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Hansen, Baltimore's 22-year-old rookie shortstop, will start for the American League in the All-Star baseball games at Kansas City on July 11 and at New York on July 13.

The clutch-hitting Nebraska native, who played last year with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League, was chosen for the position by the league's 237 eligible voters in a poll announced Saturday by Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Four members of the league-leading New York Yankees, two players from the tailend Boston Red Sox and one from the 1959 pennant winning Chicago White Sox complete the American League team that must start both games against the National League's best. The NL starters are four Milwaukee players, two from first place Pittsburgh, and one each from Chicago and San Francisco.

The four Yankees who will be Hansen's teammates in the 28th and 29th dream games are catcher Yogi Berra, first baseman Bill Skowron, center fielder Mickey Mantle and right fielder Roger Maris. The Boston players are second baseman Pete Runnels and third baseman Frank Malzone. Minnie Minoso, White Sox left fielder, completes the lineup.

The Milwaukee Braves in the National League's starting lineup are catcher Del Crandall, first baseman Joe Adcock, third baseman Eddie Mathews and right fielder Hank Aaron. Second baseman Bill Mazeroski and left fielder Bob Skinner are the two Pittsburgh Pirates, along with Ernie Banks, Chicago shortstop, and center fielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants.

All players, coaches and managers in the two leagues were polled within the last 10 days but were not permitted to vote for a man on their own club. Maris, with 29 Yankees ineligible to vote for him, was the league's top vote getter with 198 out of a possible 208.

Mays was the best in the National League, where 234 votes were cast. He got 193 of a possible 205 with 29 Giants forced to abstain.

Hansen, with 47 runs batted in on a .255 batting average, drew a surprising 165 votes to unseat Luis Aparicio of Chicago, the AL's shortstop the past two years. Hansen's margin over Aparicio was 124 votes.

Dodgers Trip League-Leading Pittsburgh, 6-1

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Stan Williams held the Pittsburgh Pirates at bay with only four hits Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the National League leaders 6-1.

The big right-hander survived a shaky start and then went on to hurl eight innings of shut out ball, striking out six and walking none in posting his seventh victory against two losses.

The Pirates tagged Williams for their only run in the first inning on Bob Skinner's long triple off the right field exit gate and Dick Stuart's single.

After that, Williams was practically untouchable, giving up a harmless single in the third frame and a two-base hit in the seventh. Until Smoky Burgess socked the double, Williams had retired 12 Buc batters in a row. Then he came on to knock down the last seven men in the order.

MEET THE 'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY . . .

MARVIN J. FRANCIS

This is the 7th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valuable services of these employes who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

15

Enthusiasm for basketball is contagious at the Marvin J. Francis household in Sand Springs. The twins of the family, Patty Lou and Peggy Sue, were star players when they attended Howard County Junior College a couple of years ago. Now they are strictly spectators, along with their parents, but loyal fans for their old team.

The twins enjoy singing and have entertained at numerous gatherings. This summer, however, they are following separate paths. Peggy is studying home economics at the University of Texas while Patty works here for a loan company.

Their older sister, Joyce, resides in Austin with her husband, Jimmy Spears. The couple has a daughter, Carla Joyce, who is three.

Although born in Coleman County, Francis grew up in Jones County as one of a family who had talent for playing musical instruments. A childhood neighbor, Lucille Nowell, became his bride Feb. 10, 1934. He farmed for a while, then joined an aircraft plant in Fort Worth.

A visit here with a friend who was a mechanic for Cosden sold him on the idea of approaching the company for a job. On June 13, 1945, he started as a truck loader. It was the era of the bob-tailed truck, he remembers. The common transport truck of today can carry more than double that capacity. For a few years Francis was a tank car repairman, but he has been dockman since Nov. 11, 1955.

The Francises take an active part in the program of Birdwell Lane Church of Christ. Fishing is a leisure-time pleasure.

Thomas Needs Rain But Fishing Still Profitable

Wind and dust have been prevalent on Lake J. B. Thomas during the past week, but the weatherman still forgot to throw in a little moisture.

It's been over a month now since the lake even had a sprinkle and the folks who live there say the water is going down an inch every day.

But with the drought and the windy, muddy waters, the fishing has been surprisingly good. The catfish are still hitting good and the bass continue to grace the fishermen's stringers with regularity.

Clyde Montgomery, Lakeview Cafe, says that Cecil Hyden, Big Spring, caught five nice channel cat weighing as much as 3½ pounds. Another Big Springer, Elwood Carlisle managed a three-pound blue cat.

Harson and J. Woods and Don Alred, Knott, caught their limit in white bass one day this week and Bob Cowley, Forsan, hooked a 6¼-pound blue cat and a 2½-pound channel cat.

J. C. Ballinger, Lamesa, also brought in a six-pound blue cat and several small channel cat. Dwayne Leonard pulled in a 3½-pound channel cat and several bass. Dale Lipsey and Floyd Hathaway, Goldsmith displayed 10 good-sized channel cat.

Claude Hodnett at Sportsman's Paradise said that Jack Nall and party from Big Spring caught a nice bunch of crappie and channel cat. Nancy Hodnett tugged in 23 pounds of bass and Ginger Patterson, Midland made a nice haul of crappie this week.

J. C. Jackson and Ike Jennings, Midland, caught 20 white bass weighing as much as two pounds in the waters near the Paradise.

Jinkens Moreland, operator of Jinkens' Grocery and Bait, said that C. J. Earl, Seminole, caught his limit of crappie one day this past week and the haul averaged 1½ pounds each.

Elwin Davis, Lamesa, caught some nice channel cat on trotline and Mrs. G. P. Addison hooked a four-pound blue cat.

Bill Dunlap and family, who live on Lake Thomas, caught 17 white bass one day and then Mrs. Dunlap and her son caught 11 on another day which averaged two pounds each.

Halley Browne said the fishermen in his part of the lake have been catching mostly cat and crappie lately and that the waters have been too windy and muddy for any bass fishing.

Lem Gresham, at Lem's Bait House, said B. O. and Jean Tremble caught 14 white bass by casting and trolling and some of the catch went three pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cotten and Jerry made a nice haul of white bass and channel cat and Larry Patterson and party from Lubbock brought in 25 channel cat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Ellerd, Plainview, gathered 94 channel cat in one day and George Anthony caught 15 white bass which averaged 1¾ pounds each. Anthony said he had his luck using a big yellow Bomber.

Buck Bennet, Felix Foster, Walter Bruce and Ed Randolph, from Brownfield and Lubbock, caught 15 channel cat and a 11¾-pound yellow cat.

R. T. Boyd said the Creighton family from Big Spring had good luck in the fishing house and Chuck Pollard, Midland made a nice haul of crappie.

Sam Eavenger, Lubbock and Otis Walton, Odessa, caught a good many crappie and bass and Mrs. Walter Hart, Odessa, caught her limit in crappie in the fishing house.

Midland Sets Jaycee Tennis Tournament

MIDLAND (AP) — The annual International Junior Chamber of Commerce junior and boys tennis championships will be held here Aug. 1-6.

The tournament rounds out a program of the national Jaycees in which each state sends four boys, winners of state tournaments, to the national meet.

Play is open only to bona fide representatives of the different state tournaments, and who are 18 and under as of Jan. 1, 1960.

National Jaycee tennis chairman John Harrelson of Midland said the biggest field in history is expected.

The international championships were held in Phoenix, Ariz., last year. Midland was host to the Texas state Jaycee tournament in 1959.

Activities for the week include a barbecue, swimming parties, a tennis clinic, free movies, bowling, dancing and at least three banquets.

The clinic will be under the direction of Billy Talbert, former Davis Cup captain. Talbert is to play an exhibition with Hamilton Richardson of New Orleans, former Davis Cup player and top amateur.

Bill Lenoir of Phoenix, last year's national Jaycee junior champion, is expected to repeat in his state and be eligible again.

Butch Newman of San Antonio, who teamed with Jerry Walters of Baytown to reach the junior doubles finals last year, is expected to make it to the tourney. Walters is also a strong contender to be Texas' representative.

Pirates Show Daring Speed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Danny Murtaugh's come — from — behind Pittsburgh Pirates found another way to win a ball game Friday night. They did it with rare and risky base running in the 10th winning.

The south - of - the - border speedsters, rookie Joe Christopher from the Virgin Islands and Roberto Clemente from Puerto Rico, ran the Pirates to their 4-3 victory over Los Angeles.

Christopher, who had doubled, scored from second on Clemente's deep infield single, and then Roberto came all the way home from first on Dick Stuart's fly ball single. The Dogers had gone ahead 3-2 in the 10th on Charlie Neal's homer.

"We took a couple of chances and won," said third base Coach Frank Oceak, who had the gambling job of waving both runners in.

Scotsmen Waiting To See Palmer Prove Himself

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Here where the game of golf was cradled, Scotsmen don't impress easily.

So the grizzled devotees around the old lady of St. Andrews, where the 100th British Open gets under way Monday, aren't quick to jump on the band wagon of Arnold Palmer, the new young golf giant who has come out of America.

"Och, he is a fine laddie, indeed, but he does not look like Bobby or Ben Hogan," said one gray-haired gentleman in tweed coat and small cap. "He must prove himself first."

Bob Jones and Ben Hogan are still heroes to the men who walk the seaside links of Scotland's famed golf courses, most famed of which is St. Andrews. They are not willing yet to mention another name—such as that of Palmer—in the same breath.

Palmer, the young pro from Latrobe, Pa., who already has won the U. S. Masters and Open championship and now is gunning for a professional grand slam, has attracted attention here.

Everytime he takes to the course in practice, for next week's qualifying and championship play, a knot of spectators may be seen standing over in the heather, watching every move critically.

They want to see what this muscled young athlete had which has captured the imagination of the golf world.

"A strong lad," they say, "a good hitter of the ball." But the question always rises: is he to be compared with Jones or Hogan?

No one ever has won the hearts of the golf-loving Scots as did Jones, the gentlemanly Georgian who won three British Opens—in 1926, 1927 and 1930—and the British Amateur in 1930 when he completed his famed grand slam.

He won with wooden-shafted clubs and with none of the precision steel implements—such as the handy sand wedge—which favors the stars of today but he won 13 national championships, British and United States, before he retired at the age of 28.

While Jones was their favorite the Scots found another hero in Hogan, the steel-eyed little Texas master who won four U. S. Opens and the British Open at Carnoustie in his first and only try.

AFL Teams Begin Football Workouts

By The Associated Press

The budding American Football League, winner in the courtroom over its established rival, the National Football League, starts out this week in the search of its share of the sports entertainment dollar.

Dallas, Denver, New York and Los Angeles launch pre-season drills. Buffalo, Boston, Oakland and Houston join the parade next week.

The first team in the league—the Dallas Texans, owned by the founder of the circuit, Lamar Hunt—will be first to take the field. The Texans begin practice at Roswell, N.M., Friday with 71 players.

The Denver Broncos open training Saturday at Golden, Colo., the New York Titans at Durham, N.H., and the Los Angeles Chargers at Orange, Calif.

Oakland's Raiders open camp July 10 at Santa Cruz, Calif. The Buffalo Bills start at East Aurora, N.Y., Boston's Patriots join the field with a first workout July 11 at Amherst, Mass., and Houston's Oilers round it out by launching training at home July 14.

More than 700 players will be in the eight camps.

The AFL will become the first major pro sports organization to be formed and start play within a year. It will have 70 per cent of the top graduating college stars and it expects to have a balanced race because of measures it took to bring this about—a draft and distribution of players to Oakland, the club that came in after all the others already had obtained many of their players through the draft.

The AFL has been warring with the NFL from its inception. The AFL claimed the NFL had no intentions of expanding until the AFL was organized. Then the NFL took in Dallas and this brought a howl from the AFL, which claimed the older circuit was trying to stifle competition in the city that's headquarters of the new league.

The AFL complained to the Justice Department then, getting no help there, filed a 10 million dollar damage suit.

Three players were being contested in court by the NFL—Billy Cannon of LSU, signed by both the Los Angeles Rams and Houston; Charley Flowers of Mississippi, signed by the New York Giants and Los Angeles Chargers; and Johnny Robinson of LSU, claimed by both Detroit and Dallas. The AFL won in all three cases.

The first league games are the weekend of Sept. 9-11. Exhibition games start in July.

Pirates Pound Pigs Friday By 12-0 Margin

Frank Sabbato barely missed his second no-hitter of the season Friday night as the Pirates tamed the Pigs, 12-0 in an American Little League contest.

Bruce Bellamy stroked two doubles and Gary Rogers had a perfect four-for-four night to lead the Pierate hitters. Gary Miears also had two singles and a double as the winners slammed out 16 hits.

Randy Thomas led off the sixth inning with a single to mar Sabbato's no-hitter.

Bengals Schedule Twin Bills

Big Spring's Tigers, riding a 13-game winning streak, play two games today as they host Andrews in a New Mex-Tex League tilt and Ojinaga in the second attraction.

The Bengals plan to start the Andrews game at 1 p.m. and this bout will be a seven-inning match. Manager Sonny Dutchover says that either Bobby Beall or Joe Cadenhead will charge the hill for the locals in the first game and Bobby Suggs is set twirl the second contest.

On Monday the Bengals will host the Ojinaga team in another doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m. Chubby Moser is due to pitch in one of the games and the other hurler is yet undecided.

Ojinaga has won seven and lost one so far this year and Big Spring stands 13-0 for the season.

Unknown's Win Wimbledon Play

WIMBLEDON (AP) — The unseeded team of Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Mexico's Rafael Osuna won the Wimbledon men's doubles championship today after Brazil's Maria Bueno took her second straight women's singles crown.

Ralston and Osuna defeated Britain's Bobby Wilson and Mike Davies 7-5, 6-3, 10-8, for one of the biggest upsets in the tournament's history. The American - Mexican combination almost lost to a nondescript British team in a first round qualifying match.

Miss Bueno, 20, turned on the power to trounce Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, 8-6, 6-0.

Local Tennis Tournament Is Scheduled By YMCA

Ted Kirby, physical instructor at the YMCA, announced that a city-wide tennis tournament will be held in July.

The tournament is set up for a women's singles meet and a men's singles meet along with doubles competition.

The women will conduct their tournament July 8-10, and the men will have their meet July 14-17. Entry fee for the attraction is a can of new tennis balls.

All matches will consist of the best of three sets with the exception of final matches which will be the best of five sets.

All first round winners will win the can of new balls and the loser will take the used balls. All matches will be staged at the city park courts.

Failure to show within 15 minutes of starting time will result in a forfeit. Tournament matches will be played from 8 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Finals will be from 3-6 p.m. on Sundays.

The doubles teams will be assigned by the YMCA in accordance with the results of the singles matches. This is in attempt to keep the teams as evenly matched as possible.

Registration begins immediately at the YMCA. Women's registration closes at 4 p.m. July 6. Men's registration closes at 12 noon, July 9.

For additional information contact the YMCA.

Fraser Favored In Forest Hills

By RONALD THOMSON

WIMBLEDON (AP)—Neale Fraser, Winbledon's newest king of the courts, sent out transatlantic warning signals today that Australia means to retain its stranglehold on the American tennis crown.

On the final day of a triumphant Wimbledon for the boys Down Under — and a disastrous one for the United States — Fraser was a strong favorite to retain the U. S. title at Forest Hills N. Y., Sept. 2-11.

The 26-year-old son of a Melbourne physician drove and volleyed his way on to the glory roll of these 74th championships after a dashing duel with fellow Aussie Rod Laver — another danger man for the U. S. crown.

By his 6-4, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5 victory, Fraser stamped himself once and for all as the world's top amateur — while the red-haired Laver, 22, moved into line as No. 1 challenger.

Laver lost to Alex Olmedo in the Wimbledon final last year—but he holds the Australian title. Fraser now has added Wimbledon to his U. S. laurels.

Together they make up a pair of formidable challengers to the United States both at Forest Hills and in the Davis Cup.

But few deep thinkers around this tennis capital feel sure that the challenge will be too great.

One name keeps cropping up in all the reckoning — the name of unlucky Earl "Butch" Buchholz. He had to retire with severe cramps in sight of a quarter final victory over the ultimate champion.

Buchholz, at 19 probably the best tennis teen-ager in the world, stands out as the main American force to break Australia's winning streak at Forest Hills.

Barry MacKay, the husky 24-year - old from Dayton, Ohio, played disappointingly at Wimbledon but his fighting ways and his slamming power will be invaluable in the battle.

The Aussies have captured the U. S. title the last four years.

Orioles Sign Bobby Thomson

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced Saturday the acquisition of outfielder Bobby Thomson, recently released by the Boston Red Sox.

Thomson is best remembered for his dramatic home run for the New York Giants in the 1951 National League pennant playoff against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

A righthanded hitter, he compiled a .271 batting average from 1946-1959 with the Giants, Milwaukee Braves and Chicago Cubs.

Jack Says Liston Ready

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Heavy - weight Champion Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson will never meet again, predicts former boxing great Jack Dempsey.

"Why should they?" queried Dempsey, who reigned as heavyweight champion of the world from 1919 to 1926. "Sure they have a contract for it, but it's time somebody else had a crack at the title."

When asked if he had any ideas as to whom Patterson should fight next, Dempsey answered: "They tell me Sonny Liston could lick both Patterson and Johansson. I don't know, I've never seen Sonny Liston fight. But, maybe he ought to get the chance."

Dempsey, who was in Pittsburgh Friday to boost sales of his biography, then launched an attack on boxing in general.

"I never had any return bout contracts," he said. "All they do is tie up championships and enable managers and promoters to maintain a monopoly while they shut out worthy comtenders and eliminate competitive bidding for matches."

He added that boxing needs "men who know something about the business instead of uniformed politicians."

"The boxing situation is a sorry mess," he continued. "But the mess is more the making of interests on the outside than on the inside. The manner in which the Johansson fight was mishandled was a disgrace."

Texas Loop Cites Stars

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rio Grande Valley and San Antonio took more than half the places on the Texas League all-star team chosen by sportswriters in the six league cities.

The Valley Giants, leading the circuit, put three infielders and outfielders and three pitchers on the 19-man squad.

Second-place San Antonio has two pitchers and two other players among the 11 infielders and outfielders named Saturday.

Texas League selections will meet the Mexican League all-stars here July 10 in a Pan American Assn. all-star game.

Infield all-stars include catchers John Orsino of the Valley and Jim Callaway of Austin, first baseman Joe Arenivar of Amarillo, second baseman Charley Hiller of the Valley, third baseman Kal Segrist of Victoria, shortstop Julio Gotay of Tulsa and utility infielder Dalton Thomas of Austin.

Outfield selections are San Antonio's Layton Ducote and Dick Getter, the Valley's Manuel Mota and Amarillo's Leroy Thomas. Ducote, Mota and Thomas will start.

Ducote, a unanimous choice of the 10 sports writers, leads in home run production with 24. He is hitting .291.

precasts made six months ago were in general agreement 1960 domestic crude production should show a healthy increase. Most estimates indicated a gain of at least 5 per cent.

Actual production the first half of 1960, however, was about 1 per cent below the first six months of 1959.

An increase of about 2 per cent in drilling operations had been anticipated. But the total number of wells drilled the first half of 1960 was about 8 per cent below the January-June total for 1959.

Down about 5 per cent was the total number of feet drilled, a factor which in this modern era of deeper wells has become more indicative of oil industry economy than the number of wells drilled.

The 1960 economic troubles of Texas oil operators, both large and small, have been intensified by production cutbacks that have been sharper than those of other oil states.

Monthly proration allowables in Texas the past six months have permitted production on only a total of 55 calendar days. The 1959 total for the same period was 71 days.

The 55 days the first half of 1960 compares to 56 days the first half of 1958, the period during which domestic crude output dropped to its lowest point after the rapid build-up during the Suez crisis.

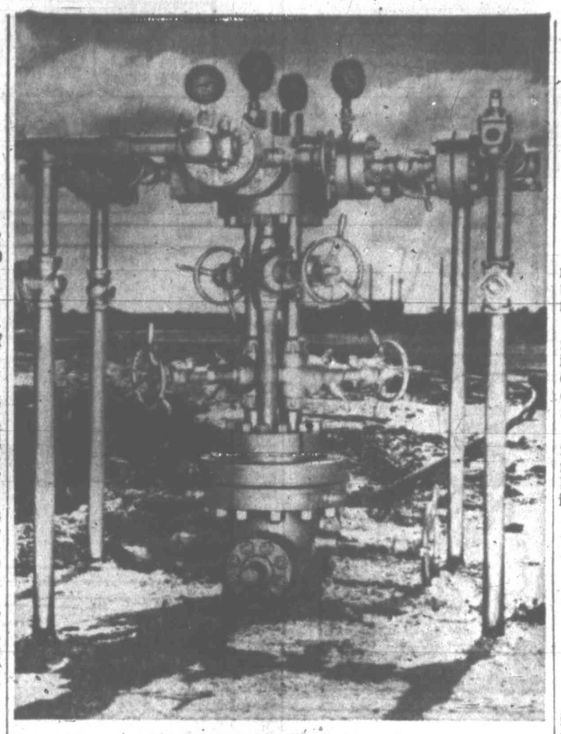

The 1956-57 campaign to supply western Europe with oil during the Middle East emergency prompted Texas to permit production on 96 calendar days the first half of 1957. Domestic output reached a record average of 7,818,400 barrels a day the week ending March 22, 1957, with Texas posting an all-time high of 3,333,000 barrels a day.

SUG STAKES GARZA TEST

Southern Union Gas Co. staked a new wildcat location in Garza County Saturday, slated for a test of the Strawn formation at 8,400 feet.

The explorer will be No. 1-D Koonsman and is located 660 from east and 2,618 from south lines of section 679-97-H&TC survey, about 11 miles west, southwest of Justiceburg.

The site is about 1,000 feet southwest of General American No. 1-63-A Koonsman, which has indicated discovery in the Strawn and Ellenburger sections.

New 'Quad' Tree

A new concept in multiple completion well head equipment is capping this quadruple producer in South Texas, five miles northwest of Taft on the Engeo Oil Company Mayo Lease. Designed and manufactured by the Oil Center Tool Co., the "Quad Tree' controls a gas flow from 4,800 feet, and three oil flows from 5,800, 6,200 and 6,250 feet. The hookup is versatile in that one or more valves can be removed without disturbing the remaining valves. Although the Engeo B-7 Mayo is flowing, the O-C-T hookup will allow any combination of zones to be flowed or pumped. In this installation, all tubing strings are parallel.

Phillips Promotes Talley At Midland

Phillips Petroleum Co. has announced the promotion of S. J. Talley to assistant division manager and division exploration geologist of its Midland division land and geological office. He has been southwest regional exploration geologist at the company's Bartlesville, Okla., headquarters since November 1959. Prior to that time he had served as division development geologist at Amarillo.

New Demands Made To Curb Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — New demands were made in Congress this week for reduction of the flow of oil imports.

Rep. Ed Edmondson (D-Okla.) said Congress will have to act, if the Eisenhower administration doesn't, to "preserve this vital domestic oil industry in a strong and healthy condition."

Rep. George Shipley (D-Ill.) said in effect since March 1959, had failed to achieve its objective and has no chance of doing so unless import levels are cut.

Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) called for a review of present import levels, and said imports had depressed the entire economy of the oil producing area of Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois.

Shipley contended the manatory program merely had stabilized a rate of imports that already was excessive. He said cuts in crude oil prices in the Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois area had brought economic uncertainty and generally depressed conditions.

Edmondson said drilling has declined 13 per cent from last year and U. S. crude oil production is down 131,000 barrels a day from the 1959 average. Imports now amount to 25 per cent of the domestic production, the highest rate in industry history, he said.

The entire economy of Oklahoma has been depressed, Edmondson said, because production allowables are at the lowest point in five years.

New Bill On Helium

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill of interest to the oil and gas industry which may reach the White House this year is the administration-backed proposal for setting up a range helium conservation program.

Passed by the House and approved by the Senate Interior Committee, it now awaits Senate action. The Senate committee added an amendment to provide that none of the helium produced under the program shall be sold commercially at a price lower than what the government pays for it.

The bill is designed to stop the waste of helium, used in many defense activities. It calls for construction of 12 plants to extract helium from natural gas before the natural gas is piped to consumers. The plants would be built by the government if private industry is not interested.

Drillers Complete 229 Oil, Gas Wells

AUSTIN, (AP) — The Railroad Commission said Saturday drillers brought in 207 oil and 22 gas wells during the week.

This year 5,036 oil wells have been completed compared with 1,016 a year ago.

Wildcatters brought in 10 oil wells. Some 200 wells were plugged, including 140 dry holes.

The new monthly proration order dropped the daily oil allowable by 40,045 barrels. The allowable of 2,615,315 barrels compares with 2,655,360 a week ago.

Oilmen Request Petition Denial

AUSTIN (AP) — An association of Texas oil men asked the federal government Saturday to deny petitions by four importing companies seeking exemption of the asphaltic content of imported crudes.

John Hurd, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., appealed to the Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization to hold the line against exemptions under the mandatory imports program.

"The members of this association feel that the mandatory oil imports control program is being weakened by exceptions and exemptions and should be strengthened at once rather than further relaxed," he said.

Atlantic Refining Co., Cities and Indiana Standard have requested asphalt exemptions.

30 COUNTED

Many Basin Rigs Still Idle

ea and Eddy Counties, New xico, held on to their first and ond places in the Reed Roller
Co. survey of active rotary lling rigs in the Permian Basin.

ea counted 32 active units, mpared with 38 last week; while dy totaled 24 rigs making hole, mpared with the 28 count of the ek before.

Andrews County took third place in the survey with a total of 20 rotaries in operation, closely followed by Gaines County with 17.

The survey, taken every Friday, counted 230 rotary rigs drilling in the entire Permian Basin this week, compared with 240 counted last Friday and 369 last year at this time.

The complete tabulation — by counties — for the last two counts:

Andrews 20 (24), BORDEN 2 (3), Chaves 5 (0), Cochran 2 (3), Crane 10 (8), Crockett 3 (2), Culberson 0 (1), DAWSON 9 (9), Dickens 2 (1), Ector 9 (6), Eddy 24 (28), Fisher 2 (1), Gaines 17 (16), GARZA 2 (0), Hockley 3 (3), HOWARD 2 (2), Lea 32 (38), Loving 3 (3), Lubbock 1 (2), Lynn 0 (1), MARTIN 2 (2), Midland 11 (11), MITCHELL 1 (1), Nolan 1 (0), Pecos 11 (9), Reagan 0 (1), Reeves 4 (4), Roosevelt 2 (1), Runnels 2 (3), Schleicher 1 (2), Scurry 2 (2), Stonewall 2 (3), Terrell 3 (3), Terry 0 (1), Tom Green 4 (4), Upton 5 (7), Val Verde 2 (2), Ward 5 (10), Winkler 15 (13), Yoakum 9 (10), TOTALS 230 (240).

Geologists Set Abilene Meet

ABILENE (SC)—High ranking uthorities on natural gas, includ-g some of America's leading ge-logists, will address members of he Southwestern Federation of eological Societies at the group's ird annual meeting, October 12-
4, in Abilene. The tentative con-ention program, announced, this eek, includes papers by well-nown university professors and embers of consulting firms.

R. C. Moore of Lawrence, Kansas, president of the American Geological Institute and a professor of geology at the University of Kansas, will speak on "The Permian System of Texas."

B. W. Beebe, Boulder, Colorado, independent geologist, will speak on "Natural Gas in North America."

S. P. Ellison Jr., chairman of the geology department at the University of Texas, will discuss "Geology of North Central Texas."

Members of the firm of DeGolyer & Mac Naughton, Dallas consulting firm, will present a paper on "Natural Gas Potentialities in the Southwest." This paper, described as a "team effort" by the firm, will given an evaluation of natural gas reserves in this section of the country.

Otto Wetsel of Dallas, Texas, member of the firm of Purvin & Gertz, will speak on "Physical Attributes of Gaseous Hydrocarbons."

Headquarters for the meeting, which also is designated a regional meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, will be the Wooten Hotel. Technical sessions, scheduled Oct. 13 and 14, will be held in the Paramount Theatre, next door to the Hotel.

Louisiana Demo Leader Charged On Drunkenness

New Welch Project

Davison and Pembroke staked No. 4 Lee Brownfield as a Welch field location about three miles northwest of Welch on a 200 acre lease. The project will go to 5,100 feet and is located 1,787 from south and 1,980 from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 10-C-38, PSL survey.

11 Rigs Gained

Rotary drilling activity across the United States showed a slight recovery over the past week, with 1,771 hole-making rigs counted this week, a gain of 11. The survey is made by the Hughes Tool Company.

Texas rotary activity slipped since the last count was made and ended the week with 574 operations. The week before there were 602 rigs making hole in the state. West Central Texas lost seven for a count of 93.

Louisiana had 295 rotary rigs making hole, compared with 296 the previous week, and Oklahoma counted 192, picking up 12 additional rigs.

Kansas moved into fourth place with 120 rigs making hole, a jump from 93. New Mexico, in fourth place last week, skipped a notch with 114. That state counted 120 last week. California gained from 80 to 87.

Total Rig Count In Slight Dip

The number of active rotary and cable tool drilling rigs throughout the United States took a slight dip this past week, with 2,488 counted, compared with 2,596 the week before. The International Oil Scouts Assn. makes the survey.

Texas, leading state in the survey, gained from 860 to 878. The West Central Texas area gained four active rigs, from 88 to 92.

Louisiana, trailing Texas, picked up seven, with 388 counted. Oklahoma gained 16, from 354 to 370. New Mexico lost from 168 to 146. Kansas gained from 109 to 126, and California, rounding out the list of top states, lost from 129 to 110.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF ALL ADVERTISING STOPPED ?

Stores would begin cancelling orders. Very quickly, manufacturers would close down plants and lay off millions of employees. Volume production would be a thing of the past . . . and so, prices would rise fast.

Within a week most radio and television stations would close up shop for lack of revenue. The ability of many newspapers and magazines to perform their full, vital functions would be seriously impaired. And the cost per copy would zoom for those that tried to keep running only on circulation revenues.

This alternative to advertising can hardly be the goal of the critics of advertising. Without advertising our national economy, our national life, would be bleak indeed. In many ways, advertising is the power plant of our society.

MORE CUSTOMERS FOR MORE PRODUCTS—American creative genius and wonderful ability for organization have resulted in a tremendous flow of goods of all kinds. This creates a crucial need for masses of people anxious, willing and able to buy and consume these goods. Only a society with a constantly rising standard of living can provide the customers. These customers have to be sought, taught and often persuaded to move higher in the scale of living. This is the job of advertising.

Advertising not only gives people news about new products, but provides the urge for people to own and enjoy these products. The wider and deeper the penetration of our products into the life of America, the greater the need for more production. This means more jobs. More jobs mean more people able to enjoy what we make. More people buying means more, still more production. And so on and so on. The result is that more Americans can enjoy more of the fruits of their labor than people in any country anywhere in the world can enjoy theirs.

ADVERTISING LOWERS PRICES—Does advertising raise the cost of goods? On the contrary. Through newspapers, television, magazines, radio and billboards, an advertiser can talk to a prospect for a tiny fraction of a cent. Advertising is the quickest and cheapest way of reaching large numbers of people. It enables the advertiser to reach his market (customers) inexpensively and thus increase his total production, thereby reducing the cost of making and selling each unit.

THE CULTURAL EFFECTS OF ADVERTISING—It's because of advertising that our mass media of communication can afford to command the finest talent for bringing to the American people information, stimulation, entertainment and education which in other countries are available to just a very few people.

Advertising makes its cultural contribution in another way. Advertising is in large measure responsible for better living, less drudgery, more leisure for more people. This creates opportunities for intellectual and spiritual activities equaled in few, if any, other countries. While millions and millions of dollars are being spent by Americans for cars, boats, sports equipment and the paraphernalia of leisure, there is a growing hunger for improvement of the mind and for aesthetic enjoyment.

WHAT ARE THE "NEEDS" OF THE PEOPLE?—Critics of advertising sometimes indict it for creating dissatisfaction in people's minds with what they have, and persuading and cajoling them into buying what they neither need nor want. But what are "needs?" The "needs" of people in undeveloped countries are not the same as our needs. Our needs of 50 years ago are not the same as they are today. We don't actually "need" electric razors, electric refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, television sets, shampoos, beauty treatments, packaged goods, or even automobiles. But would the critics of advertising stop encouraging people to want a better life? Would they have the millions of people who create, produce, and market the so-called "non-essentials" thrown out of jobs? Do they want us to go back to the more primitive living of other countries?

ADVERTISING — PUBLIC SERVANT—Frequently, the advertising industry is called on to direct public-service jobs—for the Government as well as for private public-service organizations. This it does through the Advertising Council, a non-profit organization supported by American business and advertising media. Here's what President Eisenhower said to the Advertising Council in Washington several months ago:

"For eighteen years you have been stimulating the nation's conscience in areas where the voluntary work of great numbers of people has been necessary in order to promote worthwhile causes. I know you have been in such fields as conservation, organized charities, safety, prevention of accidents, and more recently in giving your efforts to the job of pointing out to our people the need for self-discipline if we are to avoid debasement of our currency and prevent inflation.

"And I think no other body has done more in this regard in trying to inform America across the board of these things than The Advertising Council."

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

"Wild River" is good theatre. It is simply but forcefully told, sensitively directed, well researched and written, and the actors act as if they believed in their roles; there is not a false word or expression or motion in the entire film.

"Wild River" is a story of human drama against a background of the giant TVA project in the early Thirties. It was written by Paul Osborne, who based his script on novels by Borden Deal and William Bradford Huie. Osborne also spent time and effort in researching the manners and mores of the white and Negro populations that were moved from the Tennessee River Valley to make way for the reservoir.

Director Elia Kazan's deft touch keeps the film moving where it should move, stilled where the story is quiet. The direction is done in a traditional manner, but with knowledge. Love scenes, for example, were handled with a delicacy unknown to the more sexy modern dramas.

The story centers about an elderly woman, feelingly played by Jo Van Fleet, whose homestead is in the way of the TVA's progress, but who refuses to move. Montgomery Clift, a government agent, is sent in to try to persuade the old girl to leave before she and her farm are drowned. Lee Remick co-stars as a young widow who provides love interest for Clift.

All three actors are superb, but no one rivals Miss Van Fleet for eloquence.

This tiny human drama takes place amidst a culture of ignorance and narrowness so common to many parts of the South at the time the TVA was built. Kazan's direction reflects his love of the common man as have his previous films.

Incidentally, the TVA itself remains in the background throughout—with no scenes of construction.

Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds prove that, despite their popularity, they have a growing theatrical talent, in "The Rat Race."

Generally, those actors with mass popular followings are all public personality and little thespian talent, while those with real talent just keep working along quietly.

"The Rat Race" is the story of two young people caught up in the struggle for survival and advancement in a New York that cares little for the individual.

Tony moves into an apartment being vacated by Debbie for nonpayment of rent. But Tony, being the generous soul he is, offers to share his apartment with Debbie. She accepts, thinking the young fella is something of a square.

Eventually, of course, everyone lives happily ever after. After, that is, the two fall in love and Debbie proves to be a good girl.

'Wild River' Is Tense Drama Of Struggle Over TVA Project

"Wild River," Elia Kazan's explosive CinemaScope, De Luxe Color production for Twentieth Century-Fox of the clash between the proud people of Tennessee and a federal agent ordered to clear them from their ancestral homes to make way for the mighty TVA project, will have its local premiere Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

Starring beautiful Lee Remick as a gentle country girl, and Montgomery Clift as the government agent assigned to move Jo Van Fleet, who is cast as Miss Remick's grandmother and the last holdout in the path of the dam, the Paul Osborne script, taken from a best selling novel by famed writer, William Bradford Huie, combines action and romance with a true story taken from one of the harshest cultural clashes in America's recent history.

The film was made entirely on location in Cleveland, Tenn. That is producer-director Kazan's way of working . . . filming the story where it happened. He made a movie about stevedores and filmed it right on the New Jersey docks. The film was "On the Waterfront," awarded the Oscar for the Best Picture of the Year, Marlon Brando, Eva Marie Saint, and director Kazan also received Oscars for this film.

LEE REMICK & MONTGOMERY CLIFT
Time to move the old homestead

"Wild River" star Montgomery Clift has never won an Oscar, but he has received more nominations for Best Actor of the Year than just about any male star in Hollywood. He has appeared in an amazing number of Hollywood's finest films. Among them are "The Search," "The Big Lift," "A Place in the Sun," "From Here to Eternity," and "The Young Lions."

Lee Remick was so good in her first movie that Jerry Wald did not hesitate to co-star her in her second film with such famous film figures as Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Anthony Franciosa and Orson Welles. Shortly after this film ("The Long, Hot Summer") Miss Remick had the key role of the assault victim in "Anatomy of a Murder," co-starring with Jimmy Stewart, Kazan and Wald and dozens of others who should know, predict for her one of the brightest careers in filmdom.

Broadway actress Jo Van Fleet has scored triumphs in Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale" and "King Lear"; she was superb in the Kazan directed production of Tennessee Williams' difficult "Camino Real." Her pictures include "I'll Cry Tomorrow," "Rose Tattoo," and Kazan's "East of Eden," for which she won an Academy award for Best Supporting Actress.

Key roles in "Wild River" are filled by some of America's finest and most exciting character actors. Jay C. Flippen, James Westerfield, Frank Overton, Malcolm Attabury, and Albert Salmi are probably unknown names. But their talent is unmistakable.

A superb cast, a taut and powerful script, exciting, graphic photography and the astute direction of Kazan are all welded together in an emotional torrent, the "Wild River."

Mail-Order Bribes Plot Of Western

"Plunderers of Painted Flats," which opens Thursday at the State Theatre, is a story of a group of squatters in their fight against a ruthless cattle baron. The plot is familiar, but it has been given a new dressing, and there are many other plot facets to the story, plus humor and romance.

The story, produced and directed by Albert C. Gannaway for Republic presentation, adds human interest to the action by having three mail-order brides come to a small western town to marry the squatters whom the ruthless cattleman wants to drive out. They come in on the same stage which is bringing the 'hired gun,' played by John Carroll. He is attracted to Corrine Calvet, a dance-hall girl who is going West to try a new life, and this attraction plays an important part in the plot.

Skip Homeier is the young rancher who marries Corinne. George Macready, who has played a long list of villains, comes through with another characterization. Edmund Lowe is a retired gunslinger forced to attempt a comeback.

Bea Benaderet and Madge Kennedy are the two other mail-order brides. Rickey Allen is Homeier's young brother, and Joe Besser has a comedy role.

Associate Producer Phil Shuken collaborated with John Greene on the screenplay. Cinematographer John Nickolaus Jr. handled the Naturama lensing.

Babette

Brigitte Bardot is the stellar attraction of "Babette Goes to War," French comedy screening at the State Sunday through Wednesday.

'Rat Race' Tells Of Career Battles

The hard-hitting story of young moderns caught in the competitive rat race for survival in today's hectic world, which was dramatized in Garson Kanin's Broadway play, has been adapted by the film production team of Perlberg-Seaton into the Technicolor Paramount picture, "The Rat Race," due to arrive Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. Starring Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds, the romantic drama co-stars Jack Oakie, Kay Medford and Don Rickies with a trio of jazz favorites, Joe Bushkin, Sam Butera and Gerry Mulligan.

"The Rat Race" tells specifically of jazz musician Tony Curtis, who leaves his home town of Milwaukee to seek a career in New York City. There in the lower West Side slum neighborhood he rents a room from which Debbie Reynolds has just been dispossessed for non-payment of rent. Debbie is a disillusioned, cynical failure. Her show business ambitions stymied, she has been reduced to earning her living as a dime-a-dance hall girl. Since she has no place to go, the soft-hearted Tony, whom she considers a sucker, sells her on the idea of sharing the room with him, on a strictly platonic basis. She has no alternative but to accept his generous offer. The sharp-tongued landlady, played by stage and screen star Kay Medford, has no objections as long as she is paid on time.

The harrowing experiences the young people have and the development of their romance is built on a growing admiration and respect of each other's principles, all played against the excitement of New York's "rat race."

Minute Kiss

While western heroes generally don't kiss the girls—just their hosses—in "Man of the West," Sunday and Monday at the Sahara through United Artists release, Gary Cooper and Julie London engage in one of the longest, most passionate kisses in recent screen history. Director Anthony Mann clocked it at well over a minute.

Invisible Man Is Theme Of State Feature

Political intrigue, a hero who can make himself invisible, and scenes of New Orleans are blended in a melodrama Thursday at the State Theatre. "Invisible Avenger" has a range of ingredients aimed at all film fans.

Richard Derr sets out to avenge the murder of a friend, only to become involved in a nest of political intrigue. Mark Daniels is a Far East mystic who has taught Derr to become invisible, a talent which stands him in good stead in his battle with the henchmen of a merciless dictator.

Willis Winford and Joseph Wheeler photographed the New Orleans scenes: Canal Street, the French Quarter, the Famous Door Club and the Old Absinthe House, St. Louis Cathedral and many other landmarks. Authentic, moody Dixie Jazz bands add flavor to New Orleans and to the picture.

'Stalag 17' Encore At The Sahara

"Stalag 17," Paramount's uproarious prisoner - of - war melodrama which won for William Holden an Academy Award, begins its re-release engagement next Tuesday at the Sahara Theatre.

Produced and directed by Billy Wilder, the film adapted, from the stage play which ran for three riotous seasons, stars Holden with Don Taylor and Otto Preminger and features many of the actors from the Broadway hit, including Robert Strauss and Harvey Lembeck. The story concerns the men of "Barracks Four" and their efforts to learn the identity of the informer among them, who they know is reporting all their plans to the camp commandant.

Miss Rush Finds Director Is A Girl's Best Friend

A director is a girl's best friend, says Barbara Rush. At least if she's an actress, and if the director happens to be a man like Daniel Petrie, who guided Barbara through the wilds of "The Bramble Bush" at Warner Bros., Technicolor film version of the Charles Mergendahl novel, due Sunday at the Jet Theatre.

Miss Rush's particular affection for Petrie is based on the fact that he's not only an exceptional director, "but he's also a great audience."

"When we played a scene," continued Miss Rush, referring to herself and co-stars Richard Burton and Angie Dickinson, "Dan sat outside the camera range, like polite directors do, and carred on so enthusiastically that we couldn't help play our best."

He cried at sad scenes, he beamed broadly at light ones, and he grew tense at emotional ones, the actress said. His reactions were a great influence on the players," Barbara declared.

This happens to be Daniel Petrie's film bow. He came to Warner Bros. and Hollywood via the television trail. The motion picture medium came so quickly and naturally to his talents that by the lunch call on the first day of studio filming, he had the poise and know-how of a veteran.

Directors are extremely necessary and important people in actors' lives, and also in the entertainment lives of film audiences, who are indirectly affected by the talents of the man who tells the players what to do and the cameraman how to show them doing it.

Petrie gathered his principals together in his office before filming of "The Bramble Bush" started, Barbara reports, and they read the script through, analyzing the scenes as they went along.

"I knew he was going to be a fine man to work with," she says, "because he got choked up just listening to me read some of my scenes."

300 Girls Visit Baptist Camp

More than 300 juniors of Girls' Auxiliary from churches in 12 counties attended the Baptist camp last week.

Varied activities included hearing missionary Blanche Groves, for many years in China, and Ruby Hines, messages by the camp pastor, Paris Barton, Midway Baptist Church pastor of Lamesa; swimming, eating, stunts and a little sleep. Mrs. J. W. Arnett, district GA director, was camp director.

This Baptist camp is located north of Stanton on the Stanton-Lamesa highway. This is the first summer of camps at the new site, which is being developed by Baptists of District Eight. There are 136 churches in the district, cooperating with the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and joining in developing the encampment.

Next week will provide opportunity for all members of the churches to share in the activities. Beginning Monday morning, the 4th, and continuing through noon Wednesday, a program is planned recognizing 20 years of camping in District Eight and for dedication of the new encampment, with Bible study and messages beamed into the work of the church.

Dr. E. S. James, editor of the "Baptist Standard," Dallas, will be the preacher Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning. This also marks the beginning of the 16th year of Missions Secretary J. William Arnett serving with the Baptists in District Eight. He has also served as encampment administrator.

Tourists Add To Nevada Money

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Individually, the tourist visitor doesn't stay long in Nevada nor does he spend much money.

But 13 million of them together in 1958 spent an estimated 440 million dollars in Nevada gambling halls and recreation spots, the state highway department estimated.

The department survey said the average tourist stayed less than two nights and spent $62.12 for himself and his group. And most of his spending was at motels, restaurants and bars, rather than in gambling casinos.

Easy As Sneezing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The common cold figured in an automobile accident here.

Leonard R. Romans, 42, told police that while driving, he sneezed, causing his glasses to slip off his nose. In pushing them back into place, he said, he turned the steering wheel of his car and the vehicle struck a utility pole.

Romans was treated at a hospital.

'Well, There Goes Another Juror'

County Judge Ed Carpenter was getting plenty of phone calls last week. He has a jury panel to report Tuesday. Tearful pleas to be excused from duty are pouring in. Women, especially, seek most diligently to escape sitting on juries.

Local Judges Find It Difficult To Empanel Women On Juries

By SAM BLACKBURN

It's getting more and more difficult to persuade local women to serve on juries.

Both Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court, and County Judge Ed Carpenter are finding the going rough when a jury panel includes a considerable number of women.

As soon as the notices to report are received by the prospective jurors, the phones in the judges' offices begin to jangle.

Judge Caton, for example, had five women in his recent grand jury panel of 20. None of these wanted to serve and they let "his honor" know it. They had excuses galore. Some of these were entirely valid. Women who have children in their homes under 16 years of age can claim exemption from jury duty. Other exemptions, applicable to all jurors, apply in the case of women.

A VIGOROUS "NO"

One of the women was particularly vigorous in her insistence she would not serve on the grand jury. The judge tried to reason with the lady — he explained that he needed her services. That was not an issue with the panel member.

"I won't be there," she said. "If necessary, I'll check in at a hospital on Sunday night."

The judge finally excused all of the women. Then five of the male jurors also posted valid excuses and the court wound up with only 10 panel members on hand. A deputy sheriff had to be dispatched to draft four talesmen from the street to augment the depleted panel. The grand jury, when organized, was devoid of feminine members.

Now Judge Carpenter, in county court, is having similiar troubles. He has a regular county court jury docket opening next Tuesday. Notices have been sent to the panel members to report on that date.

EXCUSES POUR IN

And already, the judge reports, the excuses are pouring in. All of the women, on the panel, he estimated have pleaded for release from duty. He is beginning to wonder if he will have enough jurors left to carry on when court opens Tuesday.

Statewide, it is reported that women are becoming less and less interested in court room service. When the state Constitution was first amended to permit women to serve on grand and petit juries, jurists say there was a grand rush of the weaker sex to court rooms. They were eager, it appeared, to sit in the jury box.

As time passed, this enthusiasm has shown a steady decrease. Now not only in Howard County but all over Texas fewer women are willing to serve on juries each year.

"Jury duty," Judge Caton observed, "is not something that many people are eager to do. However, the courts must function and they cannot function unless there are jurors. It's a civic duty and a citizen responsibility to serve as juror.

DIFFICULTY

"We have difficulty finding jurors at all times. Those who do serve, as can be readily understood, are doing so because they feel it is the right thing to do.

"Certainly the pay is not an inducement. And it involves a personal sacrifice for the average person to devote time to this sort of work. The courts realize this and make it their practice to be as lenient as possible in the matter of excusing panel members who have valid reasons for not sitting on juries.

"Women make good jurors. This has been repeatedly demonstrated in the courts. I regret personally that so many of them are developing such strong dislike to serving on panels."

June Leaves Farmers Facing Critical Future

Half of 1960 passed into history Thursday and leaves Howard County farmers and ranchers facing a critical and omnious future.

Persistent dry weather and intense heat is playing havoc with crop prospects and transforming pasture lands into grassless wastes.

Jimmy Taylor, county agent, said that the probable last date to salvage any major benefits from the situation will have to be rains in liberal quantities between now and July 15. Even at that, there will be costly losses already imposed. Some cotton is already gone beyond the recovery point. And the replanting deadline is passed.

REMOTE CHANCE

"You sometimes hear of cotton growers who planted as late as July 4 and made a crop," said Taylor. "This can happen only if everything works out just right for the grower. The frost must fall late; there must be other rains at precisely the right times. The odds of a cotton farmer cashing in on cotton planted at this late date are so remote as to be of no importance."

Taylor added there is a lot of good cotton in the county despite the dry weather. A considerable part of this can survive a while longer and still make a crop—provided that badly needed moisture comes soon. Many acres of later cotton, which has not achieved the growth of that planted earlier, may not be so fortunate. Rain must fall soon if this is to be saved. Some fields are already gone, he said.

THIRD DRIEST

June was a hard month on cotton. Rainfall gauged at the U. S. Experiment Station here for the month was only .9 of an inch for the third driest June in the 60 years that records have been kept in Howard County. Total rainfall for 1960 now stands at 5.57 inches as compared with 10.81 inches for the same six months in 1959. In 1956, rated a dry year, the first six months produced only 3.41 inches of rain.

Ranchers are hard hit from two sides by the continued drought and heat. Grass has faded and some cattlemen are already having to feed their stock. Water is becoming a problem as stock tanks dwindle. The winds and sun are taking heavy toll in evaporation.

The destruction of the pasturelands has multiplied the farmers' problem by driving hungry jackrabbits by the thousands into the cotton fields. These are ravaging the cotton and grain, particularly those where pasturelands surround the fields.

4,000 POUNDS

The county agent's office has distributed more than 4,000 pounds of prepared rabbit poison. Demand for the poison continues and almost daily shipments of the preparation are being received. A waiting list of farmers who have applied for poison usually take up the shipments as rapidly as they arrive. Indicative of the widespread campaign to poison the rabbits under way is shown by the fact that a pound of poison is adequate to treat five acres.

Taylor said that the preparation, made of maize and strychnine, is placed on top of small earthen mounds around the perimeter of the fields. These mounds are spaced about 20 feet apart and a tablespoonful of the mixture is adequate for each mound.

Thousands of rabbits have been killed but farmers say no perceptible decrease in the number, or the damage they are causing, has developed. Some insect infestation has also been reported. However, Taylor says there is little the farmer can do in dry weather to combat this enemy.

70,000 ACRES

Howard County had approximately 70,000 acres planted to cotton when the dry weather set in. This is several thousand acres under last year's total.

Feed, too, Taylor reported, is feeling the effect of the drought and heat. Rains are badly needed if this crop is to survive.

It seems generally agreed that zero hour is at hand—there must be rain between now and July 15 if Howard County farmers are to harvest crops of any major importance.

175 Expected For SA Camp

Attending the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle, near Midlothian next week, will be Mrs. Berta Kirby, Mrs. Mabel Morgan and Mrs. Capt. James Jay of Big Spring.

Approximately 175 women are expected to register at the camp Monday. Representing 37 Salvation Army corps throughout Texas, the delegates will include officers and members of the Home League. Meetings will continue through Thursday.

Women will attend from throughout the state.

Mrs. Lt.-Colonel Ernest Pickering, director of women's services of the Salvation Army in Texas, will be in charge. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Colonel George Marshall, League of Mercy Secretary of the Southern Territory which includes 15 southern states, the District of Columbia and Mexico.

The Salvation Army Home League is an important program in every corps. Its four purposes: worship, education, service and fellowship include services to their own community. Other projects include work for the Institute for the Blind in Kingston, Jamaica; Katherine Booth Hospital in India; the Children's Home in Mexico City; and the Home and Hospital for unwed mothers in San Antonio—all Salvation Army institutions.

Camp activities will include Bible classes, instruction in homemaking and handicrafts. Recognition will be given various corps and members for their work, at an awards dinner Wednesday night.

Entry Blanks Out For Junior Rodeo

Rodeo performers, boys and girls of high school age and of amateur calibre, in four states are receiving entry blanks this week inviting them to participate in the 15th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo. The rodeo, which attracts youthful riders and ropers from a wide area is slated for Aug. 11, 12 and 13 at the Rodeo Bowl, west of the city.

The rodeo is sponored by the Howard County 4-H Clubs. The clubs elect six boys and girls annually to serve as rodeo directors. This year's directors are Rodney Brooks, Tommy Newman, Jay Boatler and Skipper Driver.

132 LAST YEAR

Last year's rodeo drew 132 entries from Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana. The clubs anticipate an entry list this year of from 125 to 150.

Six hundred entry blanks went in the mail Thursday. Deadline for entering the events is 5 p.m., Aug. 10.

Entry fees for the events, in which boys and girls 19 years old and under compete, will be combined to make prize money for the first four places in each contest. All entry fees are paid back in prizes. The show is under the official sponsorship of the American Junior Rodeo Association and places won count toward national championships.

Buckles are awarded to the winners in major events. The all-round champion will receive a valuable saddle. The saddle is provided by the Howard County 4-H Club Association.

Major events on each night's program include calf roping, ribbon roping, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, pole bending (boys or girls) and girl's barrel race.

For entrants 16 years old and younger, there is a goat hair pulling contest each night and for the very young rodeo actors, (under 15) a wild calf race, (three man teams); boot scramble and goat sacking.

Jimmy Taylor is general show superintendent.

ENTRY FEE

Announcement was made that each entrant must include his entry fee when he returns his application blank. All roping and racing events will be two go - rounds; one go - round in riding events with the top 10 qualifiers getting a second horse or bull on the closing night.

Rodeo headquarters are to be set up in the County Agent's office in the Howard County Court house.

Hair Style Contest Set

Opportunity for someone to win a free course in setting and styling hair is being offered by Bette B. School of Beauty, 7th and Main St.

The school has announced a contest, open to any nonprofessional hairdresser and without entry fee, which has as its grand prize a complete training course at the school plus a student kit.

The second prize will be a free tuition certificate in hair dressing and styling and third prize will be a student training kit.

Kits include all textbooks and materials needed in the course and have a value of $35.

The contest is set for July 11. Judges will be professional hairdressers. The general public is cordially invited to attend the showing. There will be door prizes for spectators.

Anyone between the ages of 16 and 60 is eligible to compete, the school announces. It hopes that a large number of contestants will design a hair style and enter.

Sinatra Fought For Stellar Role

Frank Sinatra knows what's good for him. He fought for—and won—a role in Columbia Pictures' version of the best-selling novel, "From Here to Eternity," the Columbia re-print which won eight Academy Awards returns to the Sahara this week.

Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Cliff, Deborah Kerr and Donna Reed are co-starred with Sinatra, whose performance netted him an Oscar.

Since then, Sinatra has been considered one of Hollywood's "hottest" stars.

When Sinatra first read the Jones' novel, with its peppery Private Maggio, he haunted Columbia executives for the role. Finally, it was in Africa that Sinatra received a cable asking him to report to Columbia for a screen test. Months passed and at last, in London, word came that the part was his.

Wave Aide

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Lt. Lucille Ross Kuhn, a 32-year-old Wave, is the first woman to serve on the military staff of a Virginia governor. The other 111 aides to Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. are men.

Building Permits Hit Low Point

LAMESA —Building permit applications dropped to the second lowest point of the year during June when approval for $112,600 was recorded in City Hall.

Only February had a lower figure, $84,000 and the total of permits authorized during June dropped $43,000 from May.

The aggregate pushed the total for the year to $1,190,019 and sent the figure soaring toward the $2 million mark for the second straight year.

The June figure included $77,600 for new homes, $15,000 for remodeling and $20,000 for new business establishments.

Curiosity Saves

CHESHIRE, Conn. (AP)—Motorist after motorist drove over a white envelope in the middle of Main Street.

Two men in one car got curious, however, and stopped to pick up the envelope. Inside was $300. They turned it over to police.

The money was returned to Donald Cozzolino, a service station operator, who had placed the envelope on the roof of his car, forgot it and drove to the bank.

Taxes Raised

MIDLAND (AP) — School taxes here have been raised from $1.84 to $1.98 per $100 valuation to support a record budget of $5,959,313 which the school board has adopted. The budget provides for a $200-plus raise of teachers.

Lamesa Water Usage Soars

LAMESA — Water consumption in Lamesa fell short of the all-time record on June 30 when usage was tabulated at 3,837,000 gallons, only 263,000 gallons short of the record set in July, 1958.

During June, consumption soared to 88,316,000 gallons and set the pace for 1960. Highest previous month of the year was May with 71,404,000 gallons.

Total usage this year was tabulated at 317,279,000 gallons, according to W. E. Sealy, city water superintendent. Lowest usage total of the year was recorded during February, 29,938,000 gallons, according to W. E. Sealy, city water superintendent. Lowest usage total of the year was recorded during February, 29,938,000 gallons.

Sizzling temperatures maintained during June accounted for much of the increase in consumption totals. Temperatures in the 100-plus range prevailed throughout much of the month and the highest recorded was 114 degrees.

24 Cases Filed In Lamesa Court

LAMESA —A total of 24 cases were filed in the office of District Clerk Robert E. L. Smith here during June and cash receipts amounted to $330.35.

A monthly report indicated that 19 civil suits were filed during the period along with one criminal case and four certificates.

Clerk's fees totalled $314.80 and sheriff's fees amounted to $15.55, according to the report.

Fun on the Fourth

Keith McMillin

A FISHER'S DREAM—a strike for each at the same time! In a case like this, who's to help the other with the catch? One thing sure, Mrs. B. F. Everett, 516 Dallas, at left, in picture above, and Mrs. Clayton Coats ,1900 Johnson, will try their luck again, come the Fourth of July. Fishing is the favorite sport of the two and they may be found at some body of water every time there is an opportunity to cast a line or hold a pole.

NOTHING LIKE A COOL TRIP around the lake in a motor boat, say Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones, 1206 Scurry, shown in picture at right, packing their boat in preparation for a Fourth of July outing. Five-year-old Randy makes sure that they don't forget him—and the fishing poles — by taking a good comfortable seat in the center of activities.

A TAKE-IT-EASY FOURTH is what the Loyd Wootens, 817 W. 18th are looking forward to, and with a back yard as delightful as theirs, who could blame them. A patio for sunning, a huge shade tree for shelter while they enjoy a long cool drink, and their little dog, Rusty, to entertain them —sounds like a wonderful way to spend the holiday. Two-year-old Rusty responds to several words and directions, such as the one that had just been given when the picture above was snapped, and which resulted in his getting a delicious morsel.

WOMEN'S NEWS

The Big Spring Herald

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1960

Oo-o-oh, Doggie!

Selicia Benge pets one of her four new playmates, a two-week-old Pekingese puppy, as her mother and father watch. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benge, who have recently moved to Big Spring from Odessa.

Pekingese Dogs Give Oriental Look To The Charles Benge Home

The dogs have gone Oriental around the Charles Benge home. Chuck and Vernelle Benge raise Pekingese, and mama and papa Pekingese are Miyoshi and Chow Mein. Right now there are four little members of the family. They are only two weeks old and have just opened their eyes. The youngsters' coats are of slick hair now, but later they will become the little pug-nosed fluffy balls of fur that their parents are.

The Pekingese, along with Mr. and Mrs. Benge and 14-month-old Selicia, moved to Big Spring recently from Odessa. Charles is the district manager of American National Insurance Company.

The Benges first met each other in their home town of Coleman. Vernelle was working in the tax collector's office when Charles came in to transfer a car title. They were later introduced by a mutual friend. The couple has been married four and a half years.

After their marriage the newlyweds moved to Lubbock where Charles attended Texas Tech; he majored in business administration and insurance. Vernelle worked most of this time as a secretary.

Benge enjoys any kind of sport, and especially likes football and basketball. Fishing ranks first as a summertime hobby.

Many interests are entertained by Mrs. Benge. She enjoys playing the piano and singing — both popular and classical. Art is something she enjoys also, and has tried many media of expression.

In the living room of the Benges' home, (they are looking forward to owning their own home) hangs a large picture made of aluminum sheet metal and sprayed with gold. The stand-out is a large artifical flower and a little black-and-white bee. Mrs. Benge made the picture after seeing one similar in a newspaper.

The Benges attend Birdwell Lane Church of Christ.

Adjust Skirt Hem Of Last Summer's Frock

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures

Face the grim fact: the skirt that was daring last summer is dowdy now.

Fashion - conscious females meet the challenge, and lacking the money for an all-new short-skirted wardrobe, go to work jazzing up the dragging hemline.

You don't have to sew a delicate stitch to do the job, for the problem is largely mathematical.

To shorten a straight skirt, pick a skirt that's the right 1960 length, and note the inches' difference.

Decide how many inches must be lopped off to be in fashion. Then collect your ironing board; an iron, needle and thread.

Lay the skirt over the ironing board (you've already pulled out the old hem.) With ruler or tape measure, measure the total hem length you want. Fold over the material and press with the iron. Proceed around the skirt, measuring each time you make a new fold-over.

Stitch in the hem, using the firmly-ironed crease as your guide. Give it a finishing lick with the iron, and you're done. No pinning, no basting necessary with this quickie approach.

A circular skirt may need a little pinning, since the excess fabric between seams must be folded over for smoothness. Otherwise the procedure is similar.

It's wise to cut off the extra material if the hem is more than an inch and half wide; otherwise the skirt will be too bulky at the hem line.

When you're hemming, bring your needle back through the preceding stitch for a little catch stitch every three or four stitches. This holds the hem firm in case you put your heel through it some day.

Experts have another tip: make sure you wear the shoes you plan to wear with the skirt you're altering, to gauge exact length. House slippers won't give you the true picture. The same goes for a girdle. Wear it when you're looking for proper skirt adjustment.

Men's SS Class Enjoys Barbecue

STANTON — A barbecue and game party was given Thursday night at the home of J. W. Sale for members of the Men's Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church. Wives were guests.

A pink and blue shower was given Monday honoring Mrs. Roy Koonce in the annex of the Church of The Latter Day Saints.

Hostesses were Mrs. La Verne Hopper, Mrs. E. F. Polson, Mrs. Mike Anderson, Mrs. Ruby Davis, Mrs. Elmer Mashburn, Mrs. C. V. Greenlee and Mrs. Joe Holland.

MRS. FREDERICK EMANUEL CARSTENSEN

Wanda Jackson Weds In Saturday Nuptial

Wedding vows were exchanged by Wanda Lee Jackson and Frederick Emanuel Carstensen Jr. Saturday evening.

The Rev. A. B. Murray, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church, read the rite in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fullen of 308 Willa.

Miss Jackson is the daughter of Mrs. J. L. Mayes of Ackerly and L. L. Jackson of Texarkana, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Carstensen Sr. of Stanton are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, J. L. Mayes, the bride was attired in a street-length dress of white embossed taffeta. Her shoulderlength veil was attached to a crown of pearls.

The traditional something old was a white Bible, upon which Miss Jackson carried a bouquet of white carnations. Something new was her wedding dress; she borrowed the single strand of pearls she wore and carried a blue handkerchief.

The bride's matron was Mrs. Tommy Carstensen, the bridesmaid was Barbara Roberts. Both attendants wore full - skirted dresses of blue organza. The bodice had a V-neckline in back and short sleeves. They wore corsages of white carnations.

Kathy Mayes was dressed in pink organza for her part as flower girl; Jimmie Allen Mayes was ring bearer. They are the brother and sister of the bride. Candles were lighted by the bride's cousin, Carolyn Haywood.

Best man was L. D. Jackson, a brother of the bride, while Arthur Ray Carstensen was his brother's groomsman.

Following the wedding a reception was held. Serving were Nellie Carstensen and Lillie Gandy.

Guests from Ackerly, Big Spring, Flower Grove and Tarzan were registered by Mrs. C. H. Farrell.

Crystal appointments were used on the refreshment table which carried out a yellow and white theme. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells.

For the wedding trip to Austin and San Antonio the new Mrs. Carstensen wore a dress of orchid cotton satin. The skirt was pleated and the bodice featured short sleeves and a square collar. Accessories were white and she wore a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Carstensen is a graduate of Flower Grove High School and Isabel Powell's University of Beauty Culture in Lubbock. She has been employed by Alline's Beauty Shop in Ackerly.

L-CPL Carstensen attended the Brown community schools. He is now stationed with the Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Carstensen will reside in Oceanside, Calif.

Miss McMillan Wed To James F. Abraham

Twin ring vows, read in a mid-afternoon ceremony Saturday, united in marriage Billie McMillan and James Frederick Abraham in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

The bride, who resides at 304 Johnson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Exal McMillan of Cross Plains; the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Charles Abraham of Utica, N.Y.

Father Francis Beazley of St. Thomas Catholic Church read the ceremony before an altar flanked with baskets of orchid and white gladioli.

Mrs. William P. Brooks of Dallas, organist, played nuptial music during the ritual.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street length dress of Chantilly lace over satin. The straight skirt featured a bouffant overskirt of lace, scalloped and tapered in the back. The fitted bodice was fashioned with three-quarter sleeves, complemented with short gloves, and a sabrina neckline, which followed the scallops of the lace.

A shoulder length veil of silk illusion floated from a lace medallion band, embroidered with pearls. The bride's flowers were a white orchid and Frenched carnations in cascade.

TRADITION

With her flowers, the bride carried a white Bible, which had been borrowed from Mrs. Jim Bouldin; her wedding attire was named as the new item; she wore a pair of pearl earrings as something old, and her garter was blue. Birthdate pennies were in her slippers.

Anne Etheridge of Covina, Calif., was maid of honor, while Jane [illegible] maid. Both were frocked in identical fashion—sheaths of faille with full overskirts. Miss Etheridge was in violet; Miss Bonner in lilac. Both wore headbands and pumps in shades to match their dresses, and both carried cascades of white carnations.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Brian Bootel of Philadelphia, Pa; groomsman was Dr. Billy H. Sandefer of Evansville, Ind., and ushers were Bill Montgomery of Maryland and Dr. Al Arnie of Franklin, Ky.

Wedding guests gathered at the Desert Sands Restaurant following the ceremony, where they were received by the couple with their parents, the two feminine attendants and Mrs. Brooks.

At the register was Mary Camp; Mrs. Billy Sandefer and Mrs. Billie McClure served from a table in white ruffled net with designs of lace at random spots. Orchid and white gladioli formed a centerpiece.

The cake, in three tiers, was frosted in white and enhanced with confection roses. Wedding bells were the top ornament.

WEDDING GUESTS

Guests from out of town included Fred Simon of Utica, N.Y.; Mrs. Judd Barnett and Mrs. J. L. Bonner both of Cross Plains; Phill Lobestein of Brownwood; William Brooks of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McMillian, grandparents of the bride, and her aunt Mrs. Hazel Coker, all of Coleman.

For a trip to Niagara Falls, N.Y. the bride left in a linen sheath of white with a black jacket, to which she attached a white orchid corsage; her accessories were black and white.

The couple will be at home at the Johnson Street address upon their return from the tour.

Mrs. Abraham is a graduate of Cross Plains High School and attended Howard Payne College. She is now employed by Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

The bridegroom was graduated from Utica Catholic Academy and is a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is now stationed at Webb AFB.

REHEARSAL DINNER

At the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at the Desert Sands Restaurant, the couple presented gifts to their attendants. The table at which guests were seated was decked with orchid and white gladioli; about 20 attended the party.

MRS. ROBERT BURNETT COX

Lamesan Weds In Midland

LAMESA — The First Presbyterian Church of Midland was the scene for the marriage of Nancy Rice Forman and Robert Burnett Cox Friday afternoon. Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor, officiated for the vows, which were recited at 5 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rice Forman and Mr. and Mrs. William Burnett Cox of Lamesa.

Honor attendants for the pair were Mrs. Donald Ken Rone of Midland, who was matron of honor, and the bridegroom's father, who was best man. Donald Holt of Lamesa was usher.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Cox is a graduate of Midland High School and received her degree from the University of Texas in June. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Her husband graduated from Lamesa High School and Texas Tech, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta. A graduate of the University of Texas Law School, he is serving a year's appointment as briefing attorney for the Texas Supreme Court.

The couple will make their home in Austin.

All-White Setting For Carmack-McPhaul Rite

LAMESA — Marilyn Carmack became the bride of Jack David McPhaul Thursday, in an all white ceremony in the chapel garden of St. John's Methodist Chruch, Lubbock.

The double ring ritual was performed before a background of tropical foliages and an arch of white gladioli with baskets of white gladioli and fuji mums completing the setting. Dr. Calvin W. Forehner, minister of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Carmack of Tahoka; parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McPhaul of Lamesa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pure silk, fitted suit in oyster white with a white organza hat and white accessories. She wore a single strand of cultured pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a catalya orchid atop a white Bible with showers of stephanotis.

Judy Barnett of Friona was maid of honor. She wore a suit of ice blue brocade satin with matching fabric hat and carried a cascade of white fuji mums with feathered white carnations. The bridegroom's father was best man.

Wedding vocalist was Tracy Crawford, stepbrother of the bridegroom, who sang "The Lord's Prayer." Lutine Harris of Levelland accompanied him at the organ and played traditional wedding selections.

The bride graduated from Tahoka High School and attended the University of Colorado and Texas Tech where she was a home economics major. Her husband graduated from Lamesa High School a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. At Tech he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's honorary music fraternity.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside at 704 N. 9th St. McPhaul is currently an associate of Bennett Ford Sales.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Interest, Work Add To Youthful Feeling

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—When Peggy Wood finished "The Story of Ruth" at 20th Century-Fox, she was going on a lecture tour and then settle down and do some writing. This lady, who admits to having lived more than three-score and ten years, believes that interests and hard work keep her young.

"Vitality!" she exclaimed. "It is the secret for being successful as much as talent. But you can't have it if you abuse your body with too little sleep and too much food.

"Vitality starts with a good breakfast. After eight hours of fasting, you need nutritious food. You may not feel like eating, but if you force yourself, you'll form the habit and you'll have more energy and will be less tired at the end of a day.

"My breakfast is my favorite meal. I enjoy fruit, and egg, toast and tea with a little honey. You needn't worry about the calories you eat for breakfast. What you do during the day will burn them up. I'm a natural weight watcher. I count calories almost instinctively," Miss Wood said, scanning the commissary menu.

For lunch Miss Wood ordered split-pea soup with little sausages floating in it, a green salad and jello.

"At four o'clock, I'll have a cup of tea. It's very stimulating. A habit I acquired when I was playing in London. It is a relaxing ritual that a coffee break does not give me, and the little honey I have in my tea is a pick-me-up for the low period of the afternoon. But," Miss Wood cautioned, "I don't enjoy it made with lukewarm water and tea bags. So I don't allow myself to depend on tea because I can't always get a good cup of it.

"I am a stickler for eight hours sleep," Peggy continued. "I like to wake up ready to get out of bed and face with pleasure my breakfast and an active day."

"You don't seem to have any of the tensions that actors consider an occupational disease," I remarked.

"I have never had to resort to sleeping pills or psychoanalysis," she replied. "I'm never tense, and I feel so sorry for a person who has tension problems. I think that a person has to help herself to improve. No one can do it for her."

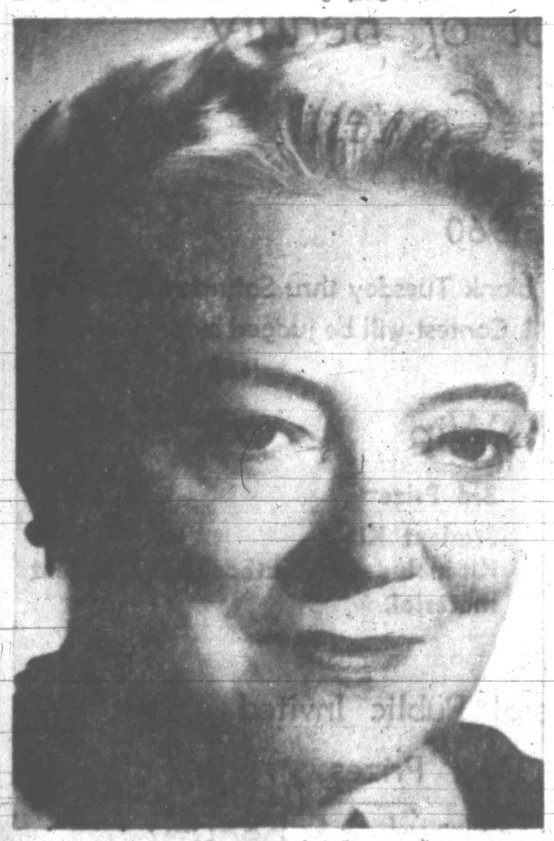

"You have been successful in every field you have attempted," I remarked, "in writing, in acting and in your marriage. This is no accident. What helped you and to what combination of forces do you attribute this?"

"It's many things . . . hard work . . . organization . . . concentration . . . consideration . . . patience and, of course, one has to have a gift for what you are undertaking. You can't get along without being prepared, and I don't put any faith in overnight success. It's merely a term. And as I said before, I don't feel you can have enough vitality.

"You have to keep your confidence. Bizet died at 30 of a broken heart because 'Carmen' was received so poorly. And you have to guard against trying too hard. Learn to let go and relax. Knowing when to relax is everything.

FIFTEEN MINUTES FOR YOUTH

Can you spare 15 minutes a day? You'll feel better and look better by devoting a small amount of time to this unusual exercise routine. You don't exercise long and the routines are exceptionally easy. A Hollywood mother of two grown boys designed this leaflet for busy mothers or career girls. Everything is included, and from head to toes, you'll stimulate your circulation and build muscle-tone. By following the suggestions in Leaflet M-25, "Fifteen Minutes For Youth," in two weeks you'll feel like a different person. For your copy of this sensational leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Keeps Active

Versatile Peggy Wood, who has been a star on the stage, TV and motion pictures, attributes activity and a healthful routine as the secret for youthfulness. She is soon to be seen in "The Story of Ruth" for 20th Century-Fox.

SANDRA ESMOND

Date For Wedding Is Announced

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. Conley Esmond have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sandra, to Jack Parker of Springfield Mo.

Miss Esmond, a graduate of Lamesa High School, will receive her B. S. degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, in August. She is a member of Alpha Chi and Kappa Beta Phi, national education society and has been elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She is employed in the math department of the college.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Murl Parker of Herford, her fiance graduated from the Hereford schools and attended West Texas State College. He is associated with Collier Publishing Co.

The pair plans to be married at 8 p.m. Aug. 6 in Midway Baptist Church.

Glenn E. Wallace, Westbrook Girl Twin Ring Vows

WESTBROOK — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Edward Wallace, who were married June 26, will make a home in Coahoma. The bridegroom is employed by Leach Oil Col., of Big Spring.

The bride is the former Linda Faye McMahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. McMahan of Westbrook; parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wallace of Coahoma.

The Rev. Travis L. Livingston, pastor of the Westbrook Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony in the church. The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Andress, accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Hutchins, sang "I Love You Truly."

Wearing a white satin frock, street length, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her flowers were white rosebuds on a white Bible.

Attendants were Jean Claxton of Irving, who was her cousin's maid of honor, and Lynell Phillips of Merkel, who was bridesmaid.

Horace Lee Hickey of Quanah was best man. Randal Todd of Coahoma was groomsman. Ushers were Lee Ashinhurst of Sand Springs and Larry Fryar of Coahoma.

A reception in Fellowship Hall honored the couple after the ceremony. Assisting with the hospitality were Marie and Brenda Putnam, Janette Reed, Shirley Walraven, Miss Phillips, Miss Claxton, Mrs. Rex McKinney, Mrs. A. G. Anderson, Mrs. W. T. Brooks and Mrs. P. E. Clawson.

The new Mrs. McMahan is a 1960 graduate of Westbrook High School; the bridegroom was graduated from Coahoma High School.

Eager Beavers

Six members of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club met in the home of Mrs. A. E. Reynolds Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. O. Washington will be the hostess next week. Her home is in the Worth Peeler addition.

Marilyn Boswell Feted At Pre-Nuptial Shower

LAMESA — A gift coffee given Tuesday was a compliment to Marilyn Boswell, who will become the bride of Don Smith Aug. 20.

Receiving the guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Aubrey Boswell; her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Standefer; Mrs. Dale Johnson of Brownfield, sister of the bridegroom-to-be; and Corene Harvey of Lubbock, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Ebbie Lee was at the door. Other hostesses included Mrs. J. E. DuBose, Mrs. Stansell Clement, Mrs. Hershell Elliott, Mrs. Roy Tidwell, Mrs. Paul Minnix, Mrs. Bob Mooney, Mrs. H. B. McMullen, Mrs. A. J. McDaniel, Mrs. R. B. Snell, Mrs. Joe Spikes, Mrs. Billy Mitchell, Mrs. Ernest Barrett, Mrs. Ralph Ranson, Mrs. Velma Trammel, Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Alton Addison, Mrs. Loy Phillips, Mrs. P. K. Humes, Mrs. M. F. Cohorn, Mrs. Webb Weaver, Mrs. Stanley Applegate, Mrs. Jim Hardwick, Mrs. W. J. Beckham and Mrs. Lloyd Fincher.

Their gift to the betrothed pair was an electric mixer.

Serving was done from a tea table laid with a linen and crochet cloth lined with blue. It featured twin wedding bands inscribed with "Marilyn and Don" beneath a miniature archway topped with blue and yellow daisies. Wedding bells were suspended from the archway, and before the arrangement stood the traditional bride and bridegroom.

Music was furnished by Candy Orson, Melody Edwards, Tawana Boatright, Carol Lamb and Patt Beckham. Sonja Minnix presented a vocal selection dedicated to the honoree. Other members of the house party were Gwen Cohorn, Kay Campbell, Jan McDaniel and Jean Ranson.

Jacquelyn Wilson Bride Of Johnny Zitterkopf

In the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, A.1.C. Johnny Lee Zitterkopf of Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, took as his bride Jacquelyn Wilson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson of Coahoma and Mr. and Mrs. John Zitterkopf of Casper, Wyo.

Double ring vows were taken in a setting of pink gladioli and white stock in baskets with tapers in floor candelabra. Reading the [illegible] Perry, pastor of the church.

The Rev. Jack Webb of Midland sang "Because," True Love," and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Mrs. Ronnie Wood.

Wilson gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown of white brocaded taffeta was made with a fitted bodice and full waltz-length skirt. This was worn over a petticoat of her great grandmother, the late Mrs. N. E. Snow of Denton.

ANTIQUE LACE

On the bridal gown was lace which had been used on the wedding dress of her grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Long of Vian, Okla. A half crown, encrusted with pearls held a shoulder length veil of silk illusion and the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations in which nestled a white orchid. Underneath was a white Bible.

The lace she considered as something old; the bride had borrowed a handkerchief which her mother had carried at her wedding, and her garter was blue. The bridal gown was a new item; in her slippers she carried birthdate pennies.

Carolyn Wilson attended her sister as maid of honor; bridesmaids were Betty Smith of Stanton and [illegible] Newman of Coahoma. Vicki Annen of Big Spring was junior bridesmaid.

Pink and white carnations were carried by the maid of honor and bridesmaids, who chose pink taffeta for their full-skirted frocks. Miss Annen was dressed in pink organdy and carried white feathered carnations.

The best man was Bruce Walker of Bennington, Kan. Guests were seated by John O'Conner of New Jersey and Gordon Elford of Horseheads, N. Y. Tapers were lighted by Andy Wilson, brother of the bride.

In the church parlor the couple received guests, assisted by the parents of both and the feminine attendants.

On the bride's table, a cutwork cloth over pink formed a background for the wedding cake in three tiers, separated with tiny confection swans and frosted with pink roses. A miniature bridal couple topped the cake, and the floral centerpiece was of pink carnations and white stock.

HOUSE PARTY

Members of the house party were Mrs. Harold Stone of Seminole; Myrna Reed of Paint Rock; Mrs. John Annen of Big Spring; Brenda Ingalsbee and Mary Jean Walker, both of Abilene.

For the wedding trip to Carsbad Cavern, the bride chose a two-piece frock of black, with which she carried white accessories. To her jacket, she pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon the return from the trip, the couple will be at home at 510 Peach Street, Abilene.

The new Mrs. Zitterkopf, a graduate of Garden City High School, will complete her work for a BS [illegible] H-SU in August. She is a member of S. E. A., the speech club, press club and the annual staff. She is employed in the university's division of public relations.

Airman Zitterkopf was graduated from Newcastle (Wyo.) High School and is presently at Dyess AFB.

Guests attended from Tuscola, Seminole, Garden City, Denton, Stanton, Big Spring and Coleman.

To Be August Bride

August 9th is the date selected for their wedding by Pat Dunn and A.2.C. Frank E. Hardy, according to the announcement made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dunn of Colorado City. Parents of the prospective bridegroom, who is stationed at Shaw AFB, S.C., are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hardy of Snyder. The couple will be married in the Vincent Baptist Church.

Home Ceremony Unites Miss Stewart, G. Capps

STANTON — S.Sgt. and Mrs. George William Capps will be at home in Abilene following their wedding Saturday evening in Stanton.

The bride is the former Alice Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stewart; Mrs. Theresa M. Capps of Lake Wales, Fla., is the mother of the bridegroom.

Tapers in candelabra were flanked by baskets of white gladioli to form an improvised altar before which the nuptial vows were exchanged. The Rev. Noah L. Range, pastor of the Courtney Baptist Church, read the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Marshall Louder of Lenorah, pianist, played as Mrs. Bob Creech sang "Because," and selected Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" to herald the approach of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was frocked in blue lace over a strapless slip of light blue satin. A brief veil floated from a blue satin pill-box type hat. White carnations with a cascade of blue ribbon streamers was carried on a white satin Bible.

A modified version of the bride's gown was chosen by Mrs. Gerald Smith, matron of honor, who wore blue taffeta. Her pill box hat was of the same material, and she carried a nosegay of white carnations.

S.Sgt. John T. Jones of Abilene served as best man. Linda and Janice Myrick of Odessa, cousins of the bride, lighted the tapers.

Lace over blue covered the bride's table for the reception which followed the wedding ritual. Centering the table was a bell holding two flower - decked candles and streamers of blue ribbon.

The double-tiered cake was embellished with blue roses on the white frosting.

Guests were registered by Kathryn Stewart, sister of the bride; Mrs. Milton Yater and Mrs. Irvin Myrick, both aunts of the bride; served refreshments.

When the couple left for their home in Abilene, the bride wore a sheath of black shantung with a wide white collar; her corsage had been taken from the bridal bouquet, and her accessories were white.

Attending from out of town were Mrs. Jones; Abilene; Gerald Smith, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crone, Morton; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Myrick, Odessa; Glenda Scott and Barry Hendricks, both of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, Roswell, N. M.

Invalids Get Charm Helps In Hospital

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures

Madeline Ketch thought she had 20 different diseases after listening to her customers talk about their operations.

She also thought she should have had nursing training for the job she took on: running the beauty parlor in the new 25-million-dollar Washington, D. C., Hospital Center.

"It took about a year to build up business," Mrs. Ketch recalls two years later. "Now I work six days a week and have two beauty operators working with me."

Some of her customers come in with fractured backs, legs, arms. Others are post-operative cases, unable to get out of a wheelchair.

"I have to be like a nurse," Mrs. Ketch explains. "Some women are really ill and I've learned how to handle them with sympathy. When I hired a second operator, I found one who was also a practical nurse because it's so important to know how to move wheelchair patients."

Mrs. Ketch recalls one customer who was partially paralyzed. "But she wanted to look nice for her husband so she underwent two hours of discomfort for a permanent."

Many women are reluctant to let their friends know how gray they have become during a long hospital stay.

"If they can't get out of a wheelchair," Mrs. Ketch says, "I rig up special tubes, bowls and aprons for a color rinse."

Nearly all hospitals offer bed patients the services of a beauty operator who comes in to give shampoos, sets and haircuts. The new Washington hospital is one of few with its own beauty shop in the building.

"Doctors are getting to know the importance of beauty care in therapy," Mrs. Ketch says. "All our work with patients has a doctor' okay. The part of my job I like most is having women tell me how grateful they are for their hairdos."

Mrs. Ketch's shop is also open to visitors and busy women doctors and nurses. If there is any style trend, she says it's toward short haircuts — "nobody in a hospital has time to fuss with fancy hairstyles."

If you're headed for a hospital, Mrs. Ketch strongly advises keeping your hair in a sinple-to-do arrangement. Once in bed, brush your hair thoroughly every day—or have someone do it for you—until you can get a shampoo.

Mrs. Ketch doesn't have to listen to much feminine gossip. But she's heard about every operation in the book.

"I was afraid at first I was coming down with something," she recalls. "I was so worried I even got a complete physical checkup."

Transistor Radio Has Advantages

Transistor radios offer many advantages.

Most important of these, according to engineers at one of the largest manufacturers of all types of radios, is that transistors never have been known to wear out. That's because the biggest cause of wear in electronics is heat, and none is present in a transistor.

Another advantage is size and weight. Some transistors now are no larger than a king-size pack of cigarettes and can almost be hidden in a person's hand.

A transistor won't break easily, so transistor radios naturally are more durable and can withstand shock. If such a radio is dropped, there's little chance of breakage.

Also, transistor radios can go anywhere. They have no "strings," or electric cords because they are powered by batteries carried right in the radio case.

Fashions In White Require A Make-up Applied Carefully

Pure white is at the height of popularity on this season's fashion scene, and the beautiful new fabrics and styles in this color give the wearer a freshness for any occasion.

When wearing stark white, however, the utmost care should be taken while applying your make-up, since this clear background will tend to point up the smallest of application flaws.

Although white gives you the freedom of a wide range of color choice in your accent make-up, say beauty authorities, rouge, eye shadow, and lipstick should be applied in pastel shades instead of the more vivid tones.

The pastels will impart to your features a softness against the bright white of your ensemble. Rouge, in particular, should be worn in the palest of shades and blended perfectly.

Eye shadow will look most attractive in any of the misty pastel shades of pink, orange, or the popular new cool coffee colors will add the perfect finishing touch.

Grill Can Provide Fun In Summer

There's no doubt about it, Outdoor living is easy living.

Nothing is so relaxing as lolling around in the back yard in casual clothes, perhaps working a bit in the garden or grilling steaks or hamburgers for the family on an outdoor barbecue brazie.

The thing most homemakers like about cooking on an outdoor grill is the simplicity of menus. Elaborate or exotic meals aren't necessary to spur sagging appetites in hot weather. One look at tasty food being prepared on a grill starts mouths watering.

Also, cooking over a charcoal grill is an excellent means of relaxation for the tired homemaker. Instead of facing the depressing [illegible] of having to cook indoors over a hot stove, she can move her kitchen into the shady yard and take advantage of every cool breeze. Cleaning up after a meal is a lot simpler, too, when it's done outdoors.

Use your patio more often this summer. You'll find it makes the season a lot more enjoyable.

Why Install a Gas Light?

If you are a home owner who takes justifiable pride in the appearance of his property . . . if you have a regard for the convenience and safety of folks who come to see you . . . and if you have a keen sense of economy as well as for things functional . . . then a Gas Light will be a satisfying addition to your yard.

Neighbors welcome its glareless illumination . . . insects give its soft, mellow glow a wide berth. And regardless of the architectural style of your home, gas lights provide an indefinable "something" that adds noticeably to the appeal of any residence, at an amazingly small cost of operation.

Why not call Pioneer tomorrow and find out all the details about Gas Lights? Special Budget Prices start at just $49.50, installed.

A Devotional For Today

When Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone. (John 1:42.)

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee that Thou dost not look so much upon our failures and shortcomings as upon our promise of Christian growth and service. Help us this day to press toward the mark for the prize of Thy high calling. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

New Flags–And An Appreciation Thereof

More than one observer of the American scene has commented upon the decline of public expression of patriotism, and one contemporary, the Shreveport Times, has said that perhaps by 1976—a bicentennial milestone—Independence Day may have fallen completely apart.

The oratory, singing of the anthem, display of the flag—all the traditional ceremonies associated with July Fourth—may not seem today to be important in themselves, but they undoubtedly are a part and parcel of our attitude toward what we want our country to be.

A Herald columnist, Inez Robb, on successive days last week called for (a) a stand-up attitude toward Communism, rather than merely reacting to its threats; and (b) a return to some of the fundamental patriotism associated with the Fourth of July. Who says they do not go together?

To quote from the Shreveport Times:

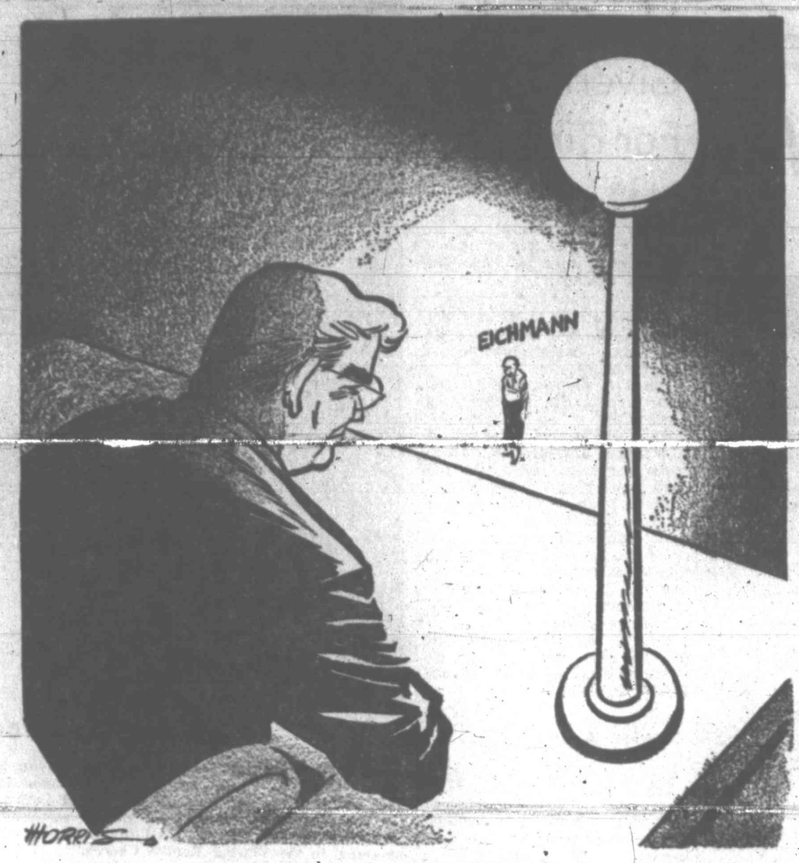

"The impassioned speeches are short and perfunctory now. The display of flags and bunting is left to merchants. Where is the little hand flags we used to wave, the honest-to-goodness parades, the big picnics, the delightful twisting of the (British) lion's tale that used to put ginger into the day? Well, let it pass. Nobody wants to be called a flagwaver; England is an ally; oratory is a lost art, and even nationalism (a new word for patriotism) is a demonstrable evil according to most civic texts."

Perhaps the new way of life—with speed as its measure—means that no more will return the picnic, the oration, the flag drill and the stirring military music from the band.

But must we forget this symbol of our nation, the flag? Flag Day, another official holiday for respect to our banner—was only a few weeks back. We heard of one household which put out a flag for the day. Were there others? Not even is there uniformity any more in downtown displays.

We get down to the point of the matter: Before another Flag Day, another Independence Day come around, this community ought to resolve to be well fitted with the new emblem of 50 stars. An organization, be it Chamber of Commerce, American Legion or other, ought to seize upon a program of putting large flags into hands of merchants for public display; smaller flags into every home as one of the treasures there.

Something could come from this. A new respect, a new appreciation, a new determination that this country is, after all, something noble and something worthy of respect. Why not "let freedom ring"? Why not have an attitude of love of country? It may be a requisite for our survival.

THE CASE OF HUMANITY VS. INHUMANITY

Around The Rim

Uncle Wobbly And The Fourth Of July

If you chilrun would wash yore feet and come on in the house, I would tell you a story which is very important to yore upbringin'. It is about the history of yore country, and the Fourth of July.

"Oh, we know about Independence Day, Uncle Wobbly."

Yeah but you don't know ALL about it, and I aim to tell you. Now hush up and listen.

THIS TOOK PLACE a long time ago, though I suppose it was as hot then as it is now. There was people living in a new country, y'unnerstand, but they was in charge of the king over in England. Most of 'em came from England, like Okies would go to Californy, only the difference is that the king of England still would tell 'em what to do.

This ole King was named George Three-Eye—

"You mean he had three eyes, Uncle Wobbly?"

Not that, it was just the way they named their kids in those days. His Papa was George Two-Eye, so the boy was named Three-Eye. But HIS boy got named George Eye-Vee, which threw everything off the track, and they ain't had no more than a George Vee-Eye to this day. But to get back to history—

THESE PEOPLE over here in what we call the United States, but in them days was mostly Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds — but not chickens—they wanted to do as they pleased. They had a hard enough time fightin'-off the Indians without having to kowtow every time George Three-Eye sent out a letter tellin' him to kowtow.

Worse than the kowtowin' was that George Three Eye kept wantin' more money, and he would put a tax on this and a tax on that and a tax on everything until these people on our side got a belly full of it.

"You shouldn't say belly, Uncle Wobbly, it's not a nice word."

WELL, ALL RIGHT, but the people wasn't being treated nice, either. One day they called a meetin', and they said let's break off from ole George Three-Eye, and set us up a country of our own. And somebody else said, well, who's goin' to be the new king. And the smarter heads answered back and said, Heck, kings is only good for taxin' people to death. Let's not have no king.

Well, they agreed that maybe they could work without a king, but first they had to let the world know they was quittin' George Three-Eye. So a few of 'em as could write, fixed up a paper and it said that they was tired of bein' pushed around, and from now on, they was a new country, on their very own, and George Three-Eye had nothin' else to do with it. This is what the Fourth of July is mostly about since they got the paper up on that day. Was a feller named John Hancock who probably could write the best, so he signed first. This feller later went in the insurance business, as I recollect.

YOU'D THINK this would be all there was to it, but it wasn't. George Three-Eye got mad, as you might expect, so he send over to this country a boat load of tea. Seems these fellers liked tea. And he said, you gotta drink this stuff, and pay me a tax on every drop you drink.

Well! You can see this made 'em madder 'n ever. So they rounded up a bunch of people, headed by Paul Revere—

"Uncle Wobbly, Paul Revere wasn't in the tea party."

HOW YOU KNOW? Was you there? Who ever it was, they climbed this boat, grabbed the tea, and threw it all overboard. They'd've got that if you take a cup and get some water out of Boston harbor and put some lemon or maybe some sugar in it, you can have a pretty good cup of tea, to this very day.

I wouldn't know about this for sure. This is the last they ever heard of George Three-Eye, but it dang sure wasn't the last they ever heard about taxes.

All right, git on to bed. Next time there is somethin' historical, I'll tell you about it.

An Indictment Of The President

WASHINGTON—Has the "prestige" of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee "reached a new low"? The Senate has just been given a report on the U-2 affair which in part is concurred in by some of its members, while others dissent. It lacks coordination and consistency. Ten senators—all of them Democrats, including Sen. Kennedy — officially put themselves on record as implying that the President should have lied to the world. Six Republicans and one Democrat insist that it was absolutely necessary for the President to tell the truth.

THE SAME COMMITTEE'S chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, Democrat of Arkansas, after presenting the report to the Senate, alleges that the administration is lying now about certain aspects of the incident. In a speech to the Senate, he says:

"We are told that this particular flight was in a special category; that it was seeking information of extraordinary importance which might not be available later. However, we are not told, even under conditions of the utmost secrecy, what that information was. In view of the sensitivity of some of the other things we were told, this reticence on the part of the executive branch raises the question of whether the information sought on May 1 was in fact as important as it has been represented. There is ground here for the conclusion that the alleged extraordinary importance of this information is the administration's cover story for its own costly mistake."

TO ACCUSE ONE'S own government of lying to a Senate committee doesn't seem to bother the senator, who, in the same speech, also declares that President Eisenhower should have refused to take responsibility for the U-2 business and, instead, should somehow have evaded the truth. For, while Mr. Eisenhower did not really know in advance of the particular flight on May 1, he did give general authorization in advance and said so to the American people and the world. Yet Chairman Fulbright says to the Senate:

"The gravest mistake was made when the President assumed responsibility for the flight."

BUT WHAT IS puzzling are the contradictions in the main report, which frankly says that "the sort of information provided by the U-2 is of enormous value in assessing Soviet capability to mount a surprise attack," and then argues later on as follows:

"In looking back, if one accepts the conclusion that the failure of the mission furnished an excuse for Khrushchev's wrecking of the 'summit' conference, then, in the absence of compelling reasons to the contrary, there is good reason to conclude that the flight should not have gone."

But the secretary of defense says the reasons were compelling, and the Senate majority report itself concedes the great value of information obtained by the U-2 flights, which were needed to help protect the American people against surprise attack by the missiles of the Soviet Union.

POSSIBLY THE PRIZE example of inconsistency and lack of coordination among the Democratic members is to be found in Sen. Fulbright's own speech, when he says:

"In any event, my argument is not that the President should not have told the truth; my argument is that he should not, as the head of our nation, have become personally involved in the incident, one way or the other."

THIS APPEARS TO BE one of those "distinctions without a difference." For the query will be immediately posed as to how a President of the United States can keep himself from becoming "personally involved" in any official action taken by his own administration. One can hear already the outcries from the Democrats demanding an investigation of why the President, assuming that he did blame someone else, didn't know in advance what was being done and why he has subordinates who do such things, and so on. Indeed, Mr. Khrushchev would not have been satisfied with such a patent evasion of official responsibility and would have continued to demand the removal and punishment of those same subordinates.

There was a time when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had considerable prestige. Today its report stands as a glaring example of how to furnish arguments to the Soviets for use on the air waves to try to discredit the United States and to help bring it to a "new low in prestige"—which phrase an American senator, chairman of the senate Foreign Relations Committee, uses in an indictment of his own government.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Typewriters constitute a rather modest (700 million) proportion of the $7 billion annual business in office equipment in this country; but not so small that manufacturers of these items have not appealed to the Tariff Commission for protection against imported competition.

On the surface there appears some reason for this. In 1949, this country exported 224,200 typewriters, only to see its exports decline to 50,600 units last year. Sales of U. S.-produced typewriters in roughly the same period mounted from about 490,000 to 740,000 units, but imports have expanded at a much faster rate—from 36,000 units less than a decade ago to 454,000 last year . . .

Graphically as this picture has been presented in Washington, there is an important element missing from it. It is this: About a third of the "imported competition" is provided by American firms which have set up facilities abroad to manufacture, among other things, typewriters . . .

Actually, of course, there is nothing reprehensible about the establishment of American production subsidiaries overseas, or about the sale of their products in this country. It is all part of the complex fabric of foreign trade and generally mutually rewarding to all sides.

But when an industry engaging in this practice points to the imported competition it has played a considerable part in generating a reason for raising tariffs or imposing quotas, the whole question becomes a horse of another color. In such circumstances the American manufacturers involved are not, naturally enough, trying to create difficulties for their own foreign-made goods in their own market. We can assume they are motivated by the discovery that their foreign competitors are doing better here than they had expected them to, and would like to shift the main area of competition between foreign-made products elsewhere, giving the products of their domestic manufacturing plants greater play in the home market.

To raise the tariff on typewriters under circumstances such as this would set a most unhappy precedent for this nation's foreign trade policy.

Business On A Plateau, Economists Assert

Prosperity on a silver plateau. Not a golden plateau, not platinum, but silver.

That's a consensus, an averaging out—of forecasts by 53 of America's foremost economists for the rest of 1960 and all of 1961.

The next 18 months won't be glitteringly super-colossal. Unemployment will still hitch a ride on prosperity's tailgate. Industrial production will remain level. Inflation will stutter along. And Wall Street will be anything but estatically venturesome.

THAT'S HOW economists associated with corporations, banks, investment houses, labor unions, government agencies, universities and research organizations sized up the outlook in response to my semi-annual questionnaire.

Yet, only 18—one in three—can be described as out-and-out bulls. Of these, 15 bet on continuous expansion through the 18 months. Three foresee a rise and then a flattening out.

The majority senses a decline sometime between now and December 1961. Seven say the drop will come in the next six months; 14 pick the first half of 1961; 14 put it off till the last half of '61.

FOR MOST of these, the drop will be of recession, not depression, magnitude. Only eight figure it will last a year. But one respondent counts on a decline lasting through 1961 with production falling nearly 20 per cent. Contrary views—with up forecasts offsetting downs — produces the "prosperity-plateau" concensus.

The economists this midyear seem strangely unsure of themselves. I deduce this from the comments, such as:

"My crystal ball is cloudy this year . . ."

"There are so many confusing cross currents I find myself unable to set forth estimates in which I have confidence . . ."

"DON'T YOU think it's time for the great postwar boom to terminate?"

But one economist had the election as well as the outlook taped: "The recession, which should occur in 1961, will be ameliorated by increased military expenditures, easier money, and the 'full employment practices' of a Democratic administration."

As the economists see it, white-collar, not blue-collar, activities determine the state of the economy. Twenty years ago a minor decline in industrial production over a period of 18 months would have resulted in a substantial increase in unemployment and economic stagnation. White-collar workers then comprised only 45 per cent of the labor force.

TODAY, prosperity can persist even though manufacturing doesn't rise because white-collar employment dominates—at 55 per cent. A rise in jobs among clerical, sales and professional workers can offset a drop in manufacturing and prop up payrolls and buying power. Thus, the economists as a group foresee gradual expansion in the total output of goods and services even though production slips:

Date	Gross Nat'l Product (Billions)	Industrial Production
Today	$500	110
Dec. 1960	512	112
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Dec. 1961	502	101

Plant and equipment expenditures of corporations will be neutral. They will hold about even—rising slightly in the next six months and declining slightly during 1961 — hardly enough one way or the other to push business up or down.

HOME-BUILDING is a bolstering force. A rise from the recent annual rate of 1,300,000 housing starts to 1,415,000 is projected. This optimism, no doubt, is encouraged by easier, cheaper money.

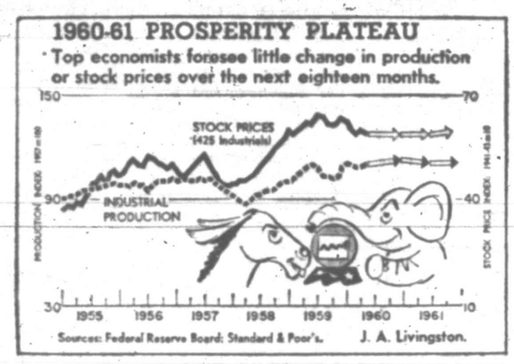

Another bolster is defense. Outlays are expected to rise from an annual rate of about $45,000,000,000 to above $47,000,000,000. Here's an indication of the white-collar shift. During World War II, defense outlays represented metal-working on tanks, guns, ammunition. Today, the accent is on engineering, scientific and other research.

COMMODITY PRICES will rise about 1 per cent, but prices received by farmers will remain about where they are. The cost of living—no doubt because of the rising price for service—will go up about 2 per cent.

Unemployment—because of additions to the labor force—will increase gradually from 3,500,000 to 4,000,000. But earnings in manufacturing industries will rise from the current level of $90.74 to $92 by the year-end, $92.60 by mid-'61, and $93.50 by December, 1961.

THUS, purchasing power will be sustained. The forecasters expect a 5 per cent growth in retail sales from the recent monthly level of $18,400,000,000 to $19,300,000,000 by the end of 1961.

But a dull 18 months are ahead for Wall Streeters. The Standard & Poor's average of 425 industrial stocks will back and fill around current levels of 61. Hardly a golden beginning for the "golden 'sixties."

You Can Get Help Through Prayer

I receive many thrilling letters reporting experiences of overcoming difficulties through prayer. These are truly inspiring to read. I also receive letters now and then from puzzled writers who wistfully ask why his or her prayer remains unanswered. And that is a question that deserves real consideration. Why do some get answers and others not?

I have made a study of the phenomenon of prayer, and one thing seems clear. The prayers that get results are those in which certain factors are always present. Perhaps I can describe these conditions by relating an incident which occurred some twenty years ago.

I WAS SCHEDULED to speak in a large auditorium in one of our western cities. While waiting off-stage to be introduced to the audience, I was approached by a man who said, "I'm in terrible trouble. Will you talk with me?" He had to leave while I was making my talk, but he left his name and telephone number.

When I got to my hotel room I phoned him. He explained that his wife was at a P-TA meeting that evening. He had hired a baby sitter, but she had had to leave at nine and he had to get back to the children. "I'm so disappointed, Dr. Peale, because I do need help. I just must get help."

"I SAID, "Tell me about yourself." And he responded with a truly distressing story of failure and unhappiness. "I sincerely want to be different," he concluded sadly. "I had hoped you would be able to pray for me."

"Let's both pray, together," I suggested, "right now over the telephone. Suppose, first, I say a few words of prayer and then you." I asked that he might be helped to change and live up to his true potential. When I had finished there was a long silence. Then I heard a barely audible sob and sensed the man was deeply moved. I reminded him it was now his turn to pray and insisted that he do so aloud. Slowly, earnestly, he uttered as touching a prayer as ever I have heard.

"DEAR LORD, I am just about the worst servant You have. But I get the idea that Dr. Peale actually loves me. I didn't think anyone outside my family could love me. But I guess You must love me too. I know I can't change without Your help. I want to be a better man. I am asking You to help me. I believe You will. And I thank You for it."

This was a case where prayer brought immediate and continuing help. And I think it is worth noting the elements in his prayer which seem to be essential in unlocking the power of prayer.

First, this man had a definite sense of need. He really wanted to be helped. So he prayed and meant it. Second, he recognized and honestly admitted his weakness, accepting for himself the responsibility of his own unhappiness. Third, his attitude was free of resentment toward God or others.

ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT element was his faith. He believed God could and would help him change himself. In this he was meeting a condition emphasized in the New Testament: "And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive." They key word here is believing. For most people the hardest thing in life is simply to believe.

Pray wholeheartedly, in true humility, with resentment toward none, with faith in God, and you will get help through prayer. I would be pleased to hear from any of my readers who have had some demonstration of prayer.

The Plight Of State Governments

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. — Once a year the Governors of America's 50 states come together for the kind of outing they have just had here. Like princes of the blood they assemble with thier entourages to get the full ceremonial treatment and to discuss in solemn conclave their mutual troubles.

But a great deal of the time, when they are not on public display, they lament over what a rough, tough life a Governor leads. And they give convincing evidence of the hazard of holding public office under a system that with the overlapping and duplication of Federal, state and local levels of government is perhaps as wasteful as any history has ever seen.

IT IS NOT the fault of these men. Given all the penalties attached to running for office, the average seems fairly high. They have inherited the system in which they seem inextricably tangled and they struggle from day to day to survive.

The premiums all seem to be on inefficiency, indifference, waste and even graft. Where the term is for only two years the Governor, once elected, must begin immediately he is inaugurated to start campaigning for re-election. Where the state constitution provides that a Governor may hold only one term there is little incentive to do more than get through the job. With a career interrupted the Governor, once a term is ended, must somehow rehabilitate himself and get back into private life. If he has tried to be honest and has refrained wherever possible from dispensing favors, he may find this extremely difficult.

WHAT, ABOVE ALL, this conference has shown, as have others in the recent past, is that the states are increasingly dependencies of the Federal government. The Federal government has pre-empted the great source of tax revenue and virtually every Governor must scratch for funds to scrape by on.

As Governor Orville Freeman pointed out, the squeeze gets worse with the Federal share of all government spending for domestic purposes decreasing from 47 per cent in 1948 to 35 per cent in 1957. The states must fill in most of this gap. So the pressure on the Governors is to step up the sales tax, pushing the cost of government onto lower-income families. Since sales taxes are notoriously unpopular, the harried Governor shrinks from this expedient, knowing it may well defeat him.

THE DEPENDENCY is political as well as economic and that has been evident in this Presidential year. The fate of many Governors, or so they believe, hangs on the national ticket.

Governor Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island, who as a Republican squeaked into office two years ago, is fearful that if Senator Kennedy is the Democratic nominee the Republicans will abandon New England and he will go down to defeat. In Iowa Governor Herschel Loveless, a Democrat, running for the Senate, is afraid that neither Kennedy nor any Democrat can carry his state and so quite understandably he is out to save himself, as he did in 1956 when he ran 250,000 votes ahead of Adlai Stevenson.

UNDER THE Eisenhower Administration the unrelenting pressure has been to push onto the states a greater share of the cost of government. And without too much success the states have fought back. This kind of gamesmanship entirely avoids the central problem which is the proliferating burden of an impenetrable jungle of government. The very fact of 50 states — six, for example, in the tiny area of New England — is an anachronism.

There was not the slightest sign here that anyone is about to face up to the central problem. But it is perfectly obvious that the longer this is postponed the greater will be the deterioration at almost every level.

To Your Good Health

'Freezing' At Danger Is Protective Instinct

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER,M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: In our health class, a question brought up for discussion was: 'Why does a person freeze when he sees a car approaching which might hit him? Our teacher suggested asking you. —C. D."

A dominant emotion in self-preservation is fear and it can overwhelm other factors. It can supersede reason, which is just what happens when people are trampled in a panic.

Possibly some of this trait of "freezing" when we detect danger is the result of instinct, developed over thousands of years. Animals have the same trait. A rabbit or other wild creature will move quietly away from danger if it is detected soon enough. But if an animal is surprised, or is in a place from which it cannot back away, it will "freeze" and wait for an opportune moment to escape.

Possibly the first purpose of "freezing" is to avoid detection—which would be a matter of instinct rather than reason in the case you cited, a car bearing down. But the secondary purpose might be the logical one of holding still until you have had time to decide what is best to do. This might be for only a split second, but erupting into action before you decided what is best isn't very wise.

In that connection, remember that this "freezing" may seem like a long time under the stress of fear, yet it can actually be a very short time in terms of seconds or fractions of a second.

Keep this in mind: Jumping in one direction or another to avoid an oncoming car can be dangerous, too. If you don't pause long enough to see what other cars are coming, you can leap out of the path of one only to get in the way of another.

This is not a rare occurrence, for you often find in police reports of accidents a reference to a pedestrian becoming "confused in traffic."

I suspect one other factor, too. Our muscular strength potentially is always greater than we suppose it to be. Under psychological stresses it is possible for people to perform what seem to be "superhuman" feats of strength, as in daring rescues.

By the same token, the psychological factor can suppress muscular activity—make you hold "stiller" than you thought you could.

This, I should say, is the physiological explanation of how we "freeze" when danger appears. And by and large, I should say it is a good thing. Instinct makes us stand stock still until we can decide what we should do about the danger, and then, if the urgency is great enough, we can react physically with much more strength and speed than we realized.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am an adult who would like to learn how to swim. But where?—J. M."

I wish more adults who can't swim would, like you, decide to learn. Try the Y.M.C.A., or (since you live in a large city) the municipal recreation centers which have swimming instructors. If you prefer, one of these instructors doubtless could arrange for you to have some private lessons first.

Neighbors Rushed Over To Help, But Fire Won

By SHERI WEBBER

Neighbors ran across their green lawns Friday afternoon as they saw white smoke pouring from the Gus Barr home Friday.

Men began to carry out the turquoise-covered sectional, the heavy piano, the coffee table.

Women grabbed anything that was handy and began to wipe the droplets of water that fell on the walnut furniture from the spray of the firemen's hoses.

Teen-age boys in white tee-shirts began to carry loads of clothing out of the house. Neighborhood women retrieved the garments as they fell to the ground and carried them to be spread on a neighbor's carpet of thick green grass a few lawns away.

Watchers heard a bedroom ceiling collapse and the bright sunlight that flooded the bedroom could be seen through a small window whose curtain had partially fallen.

Firemen moved cautiously across the shingled roof with their heavy hoses, their gray uniforms soaked from the heavy blasts of water.

Fingers tore at the shingles as a man in a short-sleeved sports shirt tried to lay bare the roof's skeleton.

Little flickers of flame tongued at the roof until they pressed their way through, and then they began greedily to gulp the ceiling.

Water trickled down the living room walls.

In a back room, the portable sewing machine stood on a desk—the only thing left in the gutted room.

The living room ceiling fell in and debris covered a tall china cabinet. Two men removed the soggy black soot with their hands, picked the cabinet up and moved it to the refuge of the lawn. A couple of women quickly began to wipe the refuse away—none of the china or gold-banded crystal was broken.

But the house was ruined.

Watkins Says New Building Nearly Ready

Construction work on the new building for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is nearing completion.

Roy Watkins, who has coordinated the labor forces, said Saturday that the final work is just around the corner.

Friday, the canopy was installed. Watkins said it is about seven feet by 25 feet. It will allow visitors to have shelter from the rain to the door of the structure.

Saturday morning, Bill Boadle, Nolan West, Donald Duke and Roy Watkins finished up the canopy and were working on the eaves. L. R. Mundt, T. W. Alderson and Jack Richburg were putting on the final paint.

Johnny Nobles, Joel Roberts, Chuck Cole, Charles Stigen, Frank Parker, Merle Ringner, Floyd Young, Lloyd Thomas, John Roemer, and Robert Patterson were on hand for the initial work on the canopy.

Watkins said the building would be ready for floor tile by Tuesday. Then, only the plumbing fixtures, doors and cabinets will be necessary to complete the structure.

Webb Airmen Stay On Base

"Stay at Home and Stay Alive!" That is the slogan at Webb AFB this holiday weekend as all base recreational facilities go all-out to entice personnel to stay out of dangerous July 4 highway traffic.

Under direction of Wing Commander Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, entertainment calendars have been loaded with special events at Officers' and NCO Clubs, the Youth Center, the Service Club, pools, golf course, bowling alley, and softball diamonds.

An 18-hole Individual Handicap Golf Tourney was held Saturday at Webb's golf course and dances were held at Officers' and NCO Clubs and the Youth Center. At the base theater, "Command Performance", a variety show staged by military talent from all over Air Training Command, played to a full house.

Sunday, there will be an open house at the Youth Center, from 1 to 6 p.m., a special family buffet at the Officers' Club from 4 to 6 p.m., a special family buffet at the Officers' Club from 4 to 6 p.m., and dances at the NCO and Service Clubs.

On Monday, July 4, the Independence Day festivities open with another golf tournament—an 18-Hole Partners' Handicap Tourney—from 6:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. At the NCO Club, there'll be a hayride for the kids and barbecue for everybody, with music provided by a western band.

On the softball front, there'll be a game at 1 p.m. between Webb's team and A&J Electric from Midland, followed by a contest between First Sergeants and Commanders, both games at the little league diamond.

In the evening, there will be a dance and wiener roast at the Youth Center.

Two swimming meets will be held during the afternoon—one at the Airmen's pool and one at the Officers' Club pool. There will be contests, and prizes for all ages.

Another dance will be held at the Officers' Club in the evening.

Since most recreation seekers take a chance on crowded, dangerous highways, on holiday weekends, because better entertainment beckons from other areas, Webb officials feel that this offering of home-made diversion should keep most Webb families on base and make this the safest July 4th on local record.

County Court Prepares To Try 20 Cases

A jury panel, originally of 30 members but somewhat depleted due to jurors being out of town, illness and other factors, is slated to report in Howard County Court at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The panel has been called for trial of a criminal docket slated by County Judge Ed Carpenter to run through Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Twenty cases are on the docket, announced by Wayne Burns, county attorney.

He has not announced which cases will be called first and all defendants will be in court at 9 a.m. for arraignment.

The docket is dominated by DWI complaints. Fourteen of the 20 matters slated for trial are charges growing out of operating motor vehicles while under influence of intoxicating liquors.

Cases set for trial:

DWI — Thomas W. Savell, Lloyd R. Young, Richard C. Goodson, Paul S. Liner Jr., Robert Lewis Myers, Woodrow W. Nichols, Lloyd R. Jenkins, Mathias Fenn, Alexander Leroy Odell, Otis H. Ogden, Floyd A. Moore, Billy Rex Hardison, Cleo M. Lowery and Galen T. Freeman.

Also, sale of liquor to a minor, in a dry area, James Kingery; beer retailer drunk on licensed premises, Inez Moncada; possession of a barbiturate, Charles L. Cameron; carrying arms, Charles L. Cameron; theft, Ardie Segrest.

20 District Court Cases Set For Trial

Gil Jones, district attorney, has withdrawn charges against Jack Reed, theft over $50 and embezzlement; Cleofas Rodriguez, DWI second offense; Victor Zeigler, theft by bailee; Eugene White, assault with intent to murder; Harold Jean Pitts, murder by automobile; Fred B. Connell, DWI second offense; George B. Anglin, DWI second offense; Nelda Bly Whitman, DWI second offense; Odis Lopez, theft; Odis Lopes, burglary; two indictments; Emmettene Tatum, forgment; Lloyd Ray Young, DWI second offense; Cecil Schaer, forgery two indictments; Shirley Schaer, forgery, two indictments; Johnnie Price, forgery and Billy Wayne Cockrell, forgery.

announced 20 felony cases set for trial before a jury in 118th District Court on July 11.

It will be the first criminal jury docket of the current term of court.

Jurors will be notified this week to report for jury duty in the court on July 11. Jones did not speculate on how many of the 20 cases docketed will be tried during the week nor was it announced which would be called for trial first.

The cases slated:

Godfrey Paul Gaskill, DWI second offense; Ralph Junior Wilson, burglary; Johnnie Price,

Pioneer Gas Distributes Deposit Refunds, $90,000

A sum in excess of $90,000 has been distributed in the community this week, as Pioneer Natural Gas made refunds on gas deposits.

The company said that accounting costs in handling the individual deposits made it impracticable to continue handling them.

The gas company (and its predecessor, Empire Southern) had held some deposits as far back as 1927, when the first gas system was installed here. Policy on the amount of deposits has varied, with some customers having put up $5, others $10, and others $15.

About 8,000 individual accounts were involved in the refund, the company said. Payments were made with interest at 6 per cent, to July 1, 1960. The company in the past has credited interest each January 1, so that payments currently being distributed bore six months interest.

Pioneer officials reported that some people, unaware of the nature of the check received, called the office asking about the refund. Others protested under the impression that the check was a statement.

Philip Crosbys Have A New Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sandra Crosby, wife of Bing Crosby's son Philip, gave birth to a son Friday night.

The child weighed 8 pounds 2 ounces. The couple also have a daughter. Mrs. Crosby is a former Las Vegas showgirl.

Deputy Employed

Howard County Commissioners have authorized Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, to employ a special deputy to work during the month of August. The deputy will be needed, she told the court, regular deputies being on vacation. She said she had already made arrangements with an applicant to fill the job starting Aug. 1.

36th Division Stages Review

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney called Saturday for a rededication to national freedom.

Phinney, commander of the 36th National Guard Division, spoke to the division and civilian officials and friends at the midway point of the outfit's summer camp training.

"Our training here is but to prepare us—and to keep us prepared—to protect those freedoms long cherished, and too lightly considered," he said.

The T-Patchers marched in review. The commander for the parade was Brig. Gen. Everett Simpson of Amarillo, new assistant division commander. Three Bronze Stars went to T-Patchers for action in World War II. They are Dennis Perez of San Antonio, Col. Jack Bergfeld of New Braunfels and Lt. Jimmie Barnett of Whitney.

The state's highest peacetime award, the Eisenhower Trophy, went to the 36th Quartermaster Company of Austin, for the best all-round performance in 1959. The company also won the governor's trophy as the best company-size unit at annual field training.

Agent Wins Vacation

T. A. Thigpen, Big Spring agent for the Amicable Life Insurance Co., has been given a surprise vacation by his company.

He won the Golden Anniversary vacation, it was announced Saturday. The award was given for his production in 1959.

Thigpen will take a trip to Estes Park in Colorado from July 6 through July 11.

Says Farmers Must Agree On Type Of U.S. Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said Saturday "farmers themselves must [illegible] that are best for them" if a solution to the farm problem is to be found.

"We cannot find solutions if one farm organization goes one way and fights all the others," he told the Senate.

"We cannot find solutions until the farmers themselves sit down and thrash out their differences and agree on basic approaches."

Johnson said President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt got farm leaders into a room in 1932 and insisted they not come out until they had agreed on solutions to then pressing farm matters.

This meeting, he said, "became the foundation for the Federal Farm Credit Administration, the land banks, the home-loan bank system, and the credit agencies that literally saved thousands of farm families from bankruptcy during the depression."

Johnson said he also believes "We must think in terms of establishing price support and production control programs on a commodity-by-commodity basis.

"It is impossible for anyone to say—and be fair—that this formula or that formula will solve all of our farm problems."

He said agriculture "is the lifeblood of our American free enterprise system" but that it "has been going downhill day by day for the past eight years."

"Regrettable as it is, our abundance has become a burden," Johnson said, adding that there is no reason why a system cannot be worked out to distribute U.S. surpluses to needy free nations throughout the world.

Newspaper At Pecos Is Sold

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Trans-Pecos Industries Inc., a new organization, has bought the Pecos Daily Enterprise from Barney Hubbs and Joe Pouns, co-publishers. The price was not disclosed.

The Enterprise, established in 1887, became a daily Jan. 24. It has reverted to semi-weekly—published Mondays and Thursdays.

Officers of the new corporation are three Pecos physicians, Drs. H. F. Avery, John Dunn and Charles Sullivan, and an accountant, Allan Propp.

Don Kretsinger, city editor of the Enterprise for four years, has been named executive editor of the semi-weekly. No other staff changes are planned at this time.

SWEETWATER (AP) — Leland Glass has sold to Sweetwater schools five acres of land at $500 per acre and optioned for 12 years another five acres at $500. The land is for a second junior high school, when required.

June Weddings Fewer Than 1959

Cupid was a busy little duck in June but he was unable to recruit as many altar-bound couples this year as he did in the same month in 1959.

Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that her office issued 43 marpared with 51 in the same month a year ago. A brief rush, which built up in the last week, promised for a time to equal last year's figure but it faltered before the month faded.

McKee Bids Low On College Building

AUSTIN (AP)—The low bidder on a new classroom-office building at Texas Western at El Paso is Robert McKee, University of Texas officials said Saturday.

The El Paso contractor bid $1,268,305. The contract was recommended by the administration and the building committee of the board of regents.

The regents, however, have not yet formally awarded the contract.

A university spokesman said the bid was lower than expected. If accepted, it would free $100,000 to be added to a $725,000 gymnasium-field house at the university's West Texas branch. It would also add $15,000 to the appropriation for a warehouse-shops building, the university said.

Schantz To Sing With NTSC Group

DENTON — Ira Schantz is a member of the North Texas State College Summer Chorus, which will be presented in a joint concert with the NTSC Symphony Orchestra Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the main auditorium.

Dr. Lee Gibson will conduct the 50-piece orchestra and Frank McKinley will direct the chorus of 50 voices.

Schantz, a graduate music major, is on the faculty of Howard County Junior College.

Local Student On Honor Roll

SAN ANTONIO — Kelsay Ray Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Meek, 409 Dallas, was named to the Trinity University honor roll for the 1959-60 spring semester just ended.

Meek is a senior government major at Trinity, where he is a member of Triniteers, and was recently elected treasurer of the 1960-61 student body.

Star Added To Old Glory

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Writer

Old Glory gets a new star—for Hawaii — Monday with all the pomp and circumstance reserved for a beloved grand dame on a very special birthday.

It's a lot different from the first one.

The fact is that no one can say for sure just how the flag of the United States came to be the Stars and Stripes in the first place.

Did the design spring full-blown from the brain of some creative genius among the founding fathers? If it did no one ever stepped forward to take a bow for it.

Or did it evolve from some existing standard? There is enough evidence, real and fancied, to support several schools of thought on the subject. For instance, the tea party school.

When that defiant band of patriots climbed aboard the good ship Dartmouth in Boston harbor the story was that more than a cargo of tea went overboard with them.

SHIP'S FLAG

They carried back to Boston the ship's flag, the standard of the British East India Company with its 13 alternate red and white stripes and the British Union Jack in the corner.

The same flag, or an identical copy, now known as the Cambridge or Grand Union flag, was raised over George Washington's headquarters outside Boston in 1776 as the national banner.

Naturally, after the Declaration of Independence was signed, the Union Jack on the American flag became intolerable and was changed to 13 stars. Or so the story goes.

Another school detects a similarity between the Star-Spangled Banner and Washington's family coat of arms, a shield bearing two horizontal red stripes and three red stars. The likeness seems strained.

The first documented reference to the Stars and Stripes came on June 14, 1777, when the Continental Congress resolved:

"That the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes alternate red and white, that the union be thirteen stars on a blue field, representing a constellation."

The resolution left flagmakers a lot of leeway.

The first flag customarily is thought of as having 13 stars in a circle. Not all of them did. Some were arranged in the form of a cross. Others were scattered at random.

No one knows who made the first flag, either.

Was it Betsy Ross, the Philadelphia seamstress—who, incidentally, already enjoyed a certain local fame? (She was banned by the Society of Quakers—for eloping with an upholsterer.)

Or was it, as another story goes, an unknown soldier's wife who pieced it together with cloth taken from white shirt, a blue jacket and her own red petticoat?

CUSTOM

The current custom is that a admission of a new state. That's why Hawaii is just now getting one. It wasn't always that way, either.

In the confusion that surrounded the beginnings of Old Glory, the states of Vermont and Kentucky managed to have their stars added on May 1, 1795, the only new states to miss the July 4 deadline.

Of course, in the 183 years since the flag was born in the halls of Congress, much of the confusion has been straightened out—with one minor exception.

The stars. In heraldry, the science of coats of arms and ensigns, stars have six points. Old Glory's, having only five, are mullets.

Winning Look

Mrs. Dotty Wright of St. Joseph, Mich., displays portraits of Gov. William Quinn, left, of Hawaii and Gov. Luther Hodges, right, of North Carolina, after they were named the favorite two governors by persons in nine states whom Mrs. Wright asked to judge "by photo only." In her photo popularity contest, Mrs. Wright said Gov. Hatfield of Oregon was third, Gov. Brown of California, fourth, and Governor Rockefeller of New York was fifth. On the wall are photos of all governors except two. (AP Wirephoto).

FOR SMALL ONES

Shirtwaist Details Will Give A Tall Look

For the 5'3" (or less) set Varden Petite does a fine job of high styling scaled to petite proportions.

This shirtwaist is pretty proof that fashion need not be sacrificed for size but can be made to measure up to any measurements.

The bodice has a high bosom of unstitched pleats, and a button placket that extends below the waistline, two details that add height. The shirt front has unpressed pleats, but the back is a smooth flare.

Make it in wool crepe, shantung, taffeta, or novelty cottons.

From this size chart select the one size best for you. Our measurements are comparable to ready-to-wear sizes.

Size	Bust	Waist	Hips	Nape of Neck to Waist
12	35	26	36	16¼ inches
14	36½	27½	37½	16½ "
16	38	29	39	16¾ "
18	40	31	41	17 "
20	42	33	43	17¼ "

Size 12 requires 5⅞ yard of 36 inch material for dress with short sleeves and 1⅛ yards of 35 inch material for interfacing.

To order Pattern No. 1248, state size, send $1.00. For first class mail, add 5 cents.

Send $1.00 for Book No. 17 showing a collection of 98 patterns by world famous designers. If paid by check, add 5 cents for handling.

Miss Knox Bride Of L. Lowry

Mary Alice Knox, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. N. Knox of Coahoma, became the bride of the Rev. Lester Lee Lowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grea E. Lowry of Bartlesville, Okla.

Vows were read in the First Assembly of God Church in New Braunfels June 18 by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Dave E. Laughlin.

As the Rev. Knox escorted his daughter to the altar, the bridegroom sang "Always." Attendants were the bride's sisters, Ida May and Nancy Knox. Best man was Richard Lowry, the bridegroom's brother.

The new Rev. and Mrs. Lowry will make their home in San Antonio where the bridegroom is stationed at Kelly AFB.

Topper Easy On Budget

You don't have to shiver in your formal evening gown on a cool summer night, even though you don't have a fur to toss over your shoulders.

The popular woolknit jacket has become indispensable to every wardrobe, is available in a half-dozen bright shades or pastels.

It has bonus wear too, as a day time topper. The brushed lambs wool jacket looks expensive, yet pleases the pocketbook.

Museum Exhibit Shows Wonders Of Home Kitchens

The wonders of the modern American kitchen are featured in a new, permanent exhibit at the Chicago Museum of Science and [illegible]

Part of an exhibit called "Feeding a Family or a Crowd" is a kitchen scene demonstrating some of the time and labor-saving appliances today's housewives use.

Built and sponsored by The Hobart Manufacturing Company, the exhibit includes two Kitchen Aid home dishwashers, one of them installed waist high and in operation. A plexiglas demonstration door permits the visitor to see the operational features of the machine.

A 3-quart mixer can be operated by museum visitors merely by pushing a button. A portable hand mixer and a home coffee mill also are shown, along with slide films on home appliances.

The exhibit, which also includes the story of commercial food preparation and dishwashing machines, will be seen by 2½ million persons this year, museum officials predict.

Dabbler Has Many Lines

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) —Betty O'Neal is a dabbler.

As a businesswoman, she operates a shop called Almost Antiques.

Mrs. O'Neal opened the shop by mere chance. Her home became too small to hold all the plunder she had collected—furniture and bric-a-brac she couldn't bear to see discarded.

"My kids were glad to see me get rid of some of it," she says.

"They always said they never dared walk into an unlighted room because nothing ever stayed the same.

"And they always said they'd never have any of this junk. But let me find a good piece now, and you can bet where it goes — straight to one of their homes."

For 10 years after the last war, Mrs. O'Neal dabbled at her best.

The Family and Children's Service called to ask her to become a foster mother. Her husband said "no." Mrs. O'Neal said "yes."

During the 10 years that followed, the O'Neals were foster parents to four babies at a time, a total of 100 babies in all.
