Lexington Speeding To Howland Area To Launch 62 Planes In Earhart Search

Farm Tenancy Aid Bill Approved

Navy Launches Final Efforts For Rescue

No Trace Of Fliers Is Found By Colorado's Planes On Third Day Of Flying Over Pacific

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, July 9.—The navy launched its final efforts to find Amelia Earhart in the vast Pacific tonight as the mighty aircraft carrier Lexington sped toward the equator to send her 62 planes into the far-flung hunt.

Refuelled after a dash to Hawaii from San Diego, the Lexington sailed from Lahaina roads at 3:25 p. m. (7:55 p. m. Central Standard Time) on a voyage of more than 1,500 miles to the area under search.

Carries Extra Gasoline

Aboard the carrier, which expected to actively join the hunt Monday morning, were 10,000 extra gallons of aviation gasoline to supply the planes which can scan nearly 60,000 square miles daily.

The destroyers Drayton, Lamson and Cushing accompanied the Lexington into the hunt, which found other rescuers virtually abandoning hope for the aviatrix and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, who vanished near bleak Howland island a week ago on a world flight.

Planes Catapulted Third Day

Planes which were catapulted from the battleship Colorado for the third day flew over Gardiner and McKean islands, western extremities of the Phoenix group, and Corondolet reef, but sighted only ruined Guano works and the wreckage of a tramp freighter, lost many years ago.

Thousands of birds, frightened by the roaring planes took to the air from the islands, forcing the ships to climb higher for safety.

The hunt entered its second week with three planes catapulting again from the decks of the battleship Colorado for a survey of McKean island, one of the Phoenix group, deemed feasible for a "last resort" landing.

Officers aboard the Colorado expressed the belief that tomorrow

Navy's Search Is Criticized

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The house rang today with criticism of the navy's search for Amelia Earhart.

Rep. Scott (D-Calif) expressed belief it is about time someone in authority announces the navy will not be used to search for "publicity stunt" fliers in the future.

"Do you think if some poor fisherman, the father of a family, got himself lost out on the Pacific, the navy would be spending $250,000 a day to look for him?" interposed Rep. Faddis (D-Pa).

Rep. Collins (D-Miss) declared this country would have slight chance of winning a war if its air forces performed no better than the navy has done in hunting the aviatrix.

Texas Motorists Are Warned To Exercise Care In Traveling

AUSTIN, July 9. (AP)—The public safety department, reviewing 3,746 traffic accidents in three months, warned motorists today to exercise care in vacation travel.

The department said that 19 of the 426 deaths in the three-month period ending May 31 were "on the consciences of hit and run drivers."

In addition there were 81 other accidents where injured persons were left by roadside at the mercy of passing motorists.

Eight-Weeks-Old Baby Boy Is Is Adopted By Jimmy Walkers

CHICAGO, July 9. (AP)—An eight-weeks-old boy "with three dark hairs" was adopted today by former Mayor James J. Walker of New York and Mrs. Walker, the former Betty Compton.

Walker said the boy was chosen as a companion to Mary Ann, 17 months old, whom they adopted at the same home (The Cradle) in April, 1936.

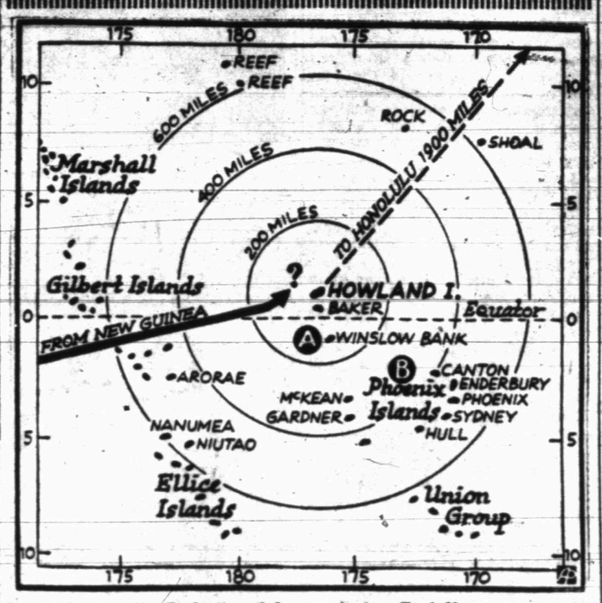

The former mayor said the boy would be named James John II.

Fish Gives His Charges Before Committee

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—A charge by Rep. Fish (R-NY) that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt had avoided income taxes by using a "loophole" in the revenue law drew retorts from members of a congressional inquiry committee today that he had a "brainstorm" and was offering "unadulterated hearsay" evidence.

The senate-house committee on tax evasion and avoidance heard Fish say Mrs. Roosevelt had signed a radio contract in 1935 under which she was to receive $1 each for ten broadcasts and the sponsors were to turn over $3,000 after each program to the American Friends Service committee, a charitable organization in Philadelphia.

Would Show Family Trusts

He expressed a belief the income tax returns of Henry Morgenthau, jr., before he became treasury secretary, would show creation of family trusts used for exchange of property between Morgenthau and wife.

Suggesting that returns of the secretary's father, Henry Morgenthau, sr., be scrutinized, Fish said the committeemen should "see if he hasn't used the same devices so stigmatized before your committee—foreign personal holding companies—in order to avoid taxes."

Others Are Mentioned

He also mentioned James and Elliott Roosevelt, and Mrs. Anna Roosevelt, children of the president; Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator; and John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organiza-

France Threatens To Open Borders

LONDON, July 9. (AP) — France, weary of prolonged bickering over Europe's efforts to isolate the Spanish war, today intimated to other powers that unless they can agree on some formula "beginning next week" she may throw open her Spanish border to passage of arms and men.

The French stand, presented by Ambassador Charles Corbin in two meetings of the full 27-nations non-intervention committee, confronted that group with a new problem but apparently did little to break its deadlock. France favors the Spanish government and her threatened action would aid its cause.

The negotiators turned to Britain, in her familiar role of conciliator, to urge that she put forward a solution of their dilemma. Thereon rested continued hopes that the opposed Anglo-French and Italo-German stand could be reconciled.

Man Charged In Wife's Death

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, July 9—Charles W. Betlan, 26, held by police for questioning since the discovery of his wife's battered body in their apartment Wednesday, today was accused of murder in a complaint filed before Justice of the Peace Horace Blades. Police Captain H. A. Downey signed the complaint a few minutes before a hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus was scheduled to begin in criminal district court.

Examining trial was set for 9 a. m. Monday Judge R. A. Shivers of criminal district court denied the habeas corpus application. Gilbert Adams, attorney for Betlan told the court that in view of the early setting of the examining trial, he would not push the application further. Betlan was returned to county jail.

Betlan has contended that the first knowledge he had of the slaying of his 22-year-old wife was when he found the body on his return from Port Arthur about 2 a. m. Wednesday. The woman had been slain by repeated blows of a heavy iron pipe.

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

"Cheap Tactics" Charged In Senate

Wheeler Talks Most Of Day On Court Bill

House May Take Two-Week Recess Until Senate Finishes Debate On President's Proposal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9. — The furious senate struggle over the Roosevelt court bill led to charges today that the administration is guilty of "cheap tactics" and counter-accusations that politics are being played in the Supreme court.

First Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), in a vehement speech that lasted almost all day, declared that besides using cheap strategy, the administration stands convicted of "intolerance" and of playing on "mass prejudices" in its campaign to revamp the high court.

Later Senator Minton (D-Ind) arose to declare that Supreme Court Justice Roberts, who first voted to invalidate minimum wage regulation, changed his views after listening "to the political voice" of Chief Justice Hughes.

House May Take Vacation

Meantime the house, with comparatively little business to do until the senate ends debate on the court bill and thus releases a log-jam of legislation, heard welcome tidings that it may get a two-week vacation from Washington's heat. Majority Leader Rayburn of Texas said the chamber may take two weeks off while the senate battle goes on.

Wheeler, during his speech, called the court bill itself "morally wrong," an effort to do "by subterfuge" what the administration dared not do openly, and a "violation of the spirit of the constitution" which he compared with the treatment of the courts in Germany and Italy.

Calls Bill "Slow Motion"

The compromise bill now before the senate, which calls for the appointment of new judges at the rate of one a year instead of all at once, is as bad as the original, Wheeler contended. He called it "slow motion" packing of the court.

The hard-hitting speech of the Montana liberal was the first to be made by the opposition in the senate debate on the measure.

Previously, administration speakers were kept under a constant fire of questions and interruptions by the opposition, leading many times to angry shouted assertions. Today the administration let Wheeler proceed almost without interruption.

Heat Wave Spreads; Death Toll Is 102

(By The Associated Press)

The most protracted heat wave of 1937 spread rapidly Friday, and enveloped most of the states east of the Rockies.

Deaths attributed to the sweltering spell totaled 102.

Scattered showers and cloud formations in many parts of the nation failed to break the siege. No general relief was sighted.

The season's heat record was shattered for the third successive day in New York City. The official thermometer there registered 95.1 at 3 p. m. eastern standard time.

The torrid pall over the prairie states of the West, the East and New England extended into the South during the day.

Chicago had a peak temperature of 89 shortly after noon but lower humidity eased the city's trial by heat.

Mae's 'Remembered' Hubby May Sue Her Manager For Alienation Of Affections

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Attorneys for Frank Wallace, recently "found" husband of Mae West, said today they might bring an alienation of affections suit against James Timony, the star's manager.

Instructions from Wallace's attorneys in New York are awaited before papers are prepared, declared Avery M. Blount and Betty B. Gillette, Wallace's counsel here.

Outcome of the present suit to determine whether Miss West ever lived with Wallace as a wife also is awaited before the alienation charges are filed, Blount said.

"We have received no directions to proceed with the alienation suit against Timony—yet," Blount said. "But in case this marriage question is not settled, we plan such action."

Wallace's lawyers also said they expect to start new deposition proceedings in efforts to pin Miss West down on the question of whether she and Wallace lived together as man and wife after their marriage in 1911.

Wallace says they did, for

Government's Crop Experts See Country's Bins Filled By This Year's Harvest

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Government experts predicted today this year's harvest will fill the country's grain bins.

They forecast the largest wheat crop in six years, 882,000,000 bushels, and the largest corn crop since 1932, 2,571,851,000 bushels.

"The production of the principal crops will be much greater than in recent drouth years, 1933, 1934 and 1936," the federal crop reporting board announced, "and about equal to the average production during the 1928-32 period."

Weather May Upset Things

Unless unusual weather conditions upset the government estimates, the crop board said, farmers will produce enough this year to meet prospective needs.

The wheat estimate was about 250,000,000 bushels above last year's production and nearly 20,000,000 bushels above the average for 1928-32. This wheat is needed, the board said, to increase short reserves and feed livestock until corn is available.

Production Estimate Up

A month ago the crop board estimated winter wheat production at 648,597,000 bushels. This compared with 663,641,000 bushels forecast today.

Spring wheat production was estimated at 218,646,000 bushels, compared with 107,448,000 bushels last year and the recent five-year average of 241,312,000 bushels.

The estimated corn crop of 2,571,851,000 bushels would be more than a billion bushels larger than the drouth-shortened production of last year, and slightly larger than the 1928-32 average of 2,554,772,000.

Restrike Call At Youngstown Is Not Effective

(By The Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 9.—A restrike call by the Steel Workers Organizing Committee for employes of Republic Steel plants here apparently failed today.

Republic Steel officials said "not a man left the plant." Tom White, president of the SWOC lodge at Republic plants here, contended that "some men had left the plants," but said he did not have a report on the number.

Crowd Gathers At Gates

A crowd estimated by Police Chief Carl Olson at 2,000 gathered at the gates at 11:30 a. m. (est) the deadline for the strike. Police and National Guardsmen kept all moving and by noon only a few remained.

Plans went forward, meanwhile, for reopening of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company's plants in northwestern Indiana. Efforts of Governor M. Clifford Townsend of Indiana to effect an agreement for reopening, as he did in the case of Inland Steel Co., were stalemated.

Other Mills To Reopen

D. L. Ellinwood, secretary of the Association of Steel Employes, an independent union, said Frank Purnell, Sheet and Tube president, had authorized him to say the mills would reopen "within a very few days."

John L. Lewis, generalissimo of the strikes, replied at Washington to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who said yesterday the "steel strikes are lost."

The Committee for Industrial Organization chairman termed Green's assertions: "Droolings from the pallid lips of a traitor."

Texas Cotton Acreage Placed At 12,000,000 In Estimate

AUSTIN, July 9. (AP)—The department of agriculture reported today Texas should harvest 12,500,000 acres of cotton this year, 903,000 more than last year.

The area standing on July 1 was estimated at 12,926,000 acres compared with 12,080,000 on the same date last year. The harvest estimate was based on a 2 per cent abandonment, average for the past 10 years.

Estimated acreage for the United States on July 1 was 34,192,000 compared with 30,960,000 at the same time a year ago.

Menard Man Announces Race For Coke Stevenson's Post

Three Convicts Still At Large

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, July 9. — Four reckless criminals who reversed the usual procedure and kept officers on the jump since the Eastham prison farm break Thursday continued to screen their presence in wily movements tonight.

Chagrined peace officers, two of their automobiles stolen by the desperadoes, fumed over the fact the fugitives were at large in a state highway patrol car, listening to every broadcast concerning the chase over short wave radio.

Another Escape Reported

As reports from two widely-separated East Texas points gave paper-thin clues to the whereabouts of the quartet, who have kidnaped, robbed and shot in their wild foray, prison system officials reported another escape — the twenty-ninth in three weeks.

Fred Flores, 22-year-old trusty at the Blue Ridge farm near Houston, was "missing" today.

George Brent Is To Ask For Annulment Of His Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 9. (AP)—George Brent, husky screen leading man, said today he would seek an annulment of his recent marriage to Constance Worth, actress.

The couple eloped last month and were married in Mexico. Brent said he will contend they did not comply with Mexican marriage laws. The couple lived together for two weeks after their marriage.

American Volunteers Reported Wounded Fighting In Spain

MADRID, July 9. (AP)—American volunteers wounded while fighting with Spanish government forces in the current drive against the insurgents outside Madrid reported tonight at least three of their number were killed in action.

The dead were listed as Jean Bronstein, David Walba and Ray Peters.

At least 40 Americans wounded in the current heavy operations are now in a Madrid hospital.

Oklahoma Indian Electrocuted After Crash Into Line Pole

CACHE, Okla., July 9. (AP)—Sam Kassanovoid, 32, a Comanche Indian, was electrocuted today when his car plunged off a highway two miles west of here and crashed into a high line pole.

Deputy Sheriff Otis Waldron said a 6,600-volt line fell across the car.

Government To Make Loans For Farms

Appropriation Of $85,000,000 Is Set Up For Program To Be Expended In Next 3 Years

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9. — Senate and House conferees agreed today on a compromise farm tenancy bill, authorizing the government to lend $85,000,000 in the next three years to help competent tenants purchase their own land.

The measure empowers the secretary of agriculture to lend $10,000,000 this fiscal year, $25,000,000 in the next, and $5,000,000 annually thereafter at three per cent interest.

Can Take Title Immediately

Tenants buying land with federal aid would take title immediately, but could not sell the property for five years.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), joint author of the bill, said this provision was considered "adequate to prevent land speculation," although it is far less stringent than restrictions in the original senate bill.

Must Follow Practices

Until their loans are completely repaid, purchasers will be required to follow farming practices prescribed by the agriculture department.

The measure also authorizes a $10,000,000 appropriation this year for purchase and retirement of submarginal land, and $20,000,000 for the next two years.

To Set Up Corporation

The tenancy legislation authorizes the secretary of agriculture to set up a farmers' home corporation, to handle the loans if he believes such an agency is desirable.

Bankhead indicated that this corporation probably would take over many functions of the present resettlement administration.

The bill contains no civil service provisions, despite repeated recommendations of the president that all new agencies be put under the merit system.

China To Buy Gold From U. S. In Pact

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP) — Secretary Morgenthau and Dr. H. H. Kung, Chinese finance minister, announced today conclusion to an agreement under which China will buy "a substantial amount" of this country's gold.

In a joint statement, the Chinese and American fiscal heads said the United States would buy silver from China in addition to that already being acquired under the original Chinese silver agreement effected last May.

FDR Assures Federal Workers They're Not To Be Cut Off

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—The government's 840,000 executive employes received assurance from President Roosevelt today that they will not be fired, or furloughed, in an economy drive.

Speaking to relieve the minds of the federal workers, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference that there are many other ways to reduce expenditures.

Illustrating, he said departments could leave vacancies unfilled. Because there are many vacancies each year, he indicated this policy might bring substantial savings.

Missing Goat Mystery Is Unsolved As Scouts Leave

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Texas delegates to the National Boy Scout Jamboree departed from the capital today, leaving behind them several thousand horned frogs, many wild animals and the mystery of the missing goat.

A few hours before his troop left the city Garland Lang, jr., of Kerrville, still had a Texas goat on his hands. He wanted to give it to President Roosevelt. He telephoned Rep. Charles L. South of Coleman, Tex., and asked if the congressman would arrange an appointment with the president.

South did the next best thing. He made an appointment for the youth to present the goat to Roosevelt's secretary, Marvin McIntyre, who in turn would hand it over to the agriculture department.

The youth failed to report the outcome of his trip to the White House. South investigated tonight and heard that the

Farmers Plan 'Roundup' To Wipe Out Grasshoppers

(By The Associated Press)

CLAYTON, N. M., July 9.—Adapting the time-tested tactics of the range to fit a new problem, embattled Union county farmers completed plans tonight for a grasshopper "roundup" to wipe out an infestation of the insects in this northeastern tip of New Mexico.

While their women folk lend a hand, businessmen of Clayton and neighboring towns will join with farmers from the uninfested southern part of the county in devoting their accustomed Sunday holiday to the battle. Nearly 1,000 men are expected to participate.

Farmers, CCC enrollees and WPA workers have labored day and night for a week to throw a semi-circle of poison in front of the hopper herds, which swept into Union county from Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Now, County Agent J. D. Copeland reported, the advance has been halted on all fronts

Three Brides Are Complimented At Recent Parties Given In Lubbock

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

PORTRAIT OF A WOMAN TALKING TO HERSELF

IT'S amazing how wonderful Lubbock looks to people who take trips down state where nights remain as muggy as mid-afternoons here. . . . We hope to make a trip to Mexico City before American tourists and business have modernized it too completely. . . . Wonder if we'll ever have a chance to go to Europe. . . . Dick Dickerson is musical from his finger tips to his toes. He arranges his own orchestra scores.

Our favorite tune is "The World Is Waiting For the Sunrise." There's something about "At Dawning" makes us want to cry. We had never thought how appropriate "Ah' Sweet Mystery of Life" is for funerals until we read that it was chosen for Jean Harlow's last service. "Ah sweet mystery of life at last I've found you; ah at last I know the secret of it all," don't you agree that it is fitting? . . . We wish we could play the organ like Mrs. Mamie I. Neal and the violin like Margaret Halsell Parker. . . . If we had long black hair we'd wear it like Mrs. W. R. Vivrett or Mrs. Olan Key or Mrs. James G. Allen.

IT'S edifying how much more work we can get done on Saturday morning (when our Sunday deadline is 12 o'clock noon, by keeping calm than by raving and ranting. We've tried the former method after several years of the latter which left us worn and got us nowhere. . . . It's a mystery how flat most things seem when they become realities as compared to the way they seemed when you dreamed about them. We like to make images out of clouds, a hold over from our childhood days. . . . We never see a line of nurses that we don't wish we had entered training. Even catching a hospital beat for several months and being on the inside did not blot the thought.

There can never be a greater thrill than seeing the skyline of New York. People who live there never tire of its beauty. Small wonder that immigrants are pleased when they first sight it. . . . We wish we could write like Damon Runyon or McIntyre. They can make the most trivial happenings seem colorful and worth hearing about.

The BuJac estate in Carlsbad, N. M., is quite a show place. Mrs. BuJac is the step-mother of film star Bruce Cabot. . . . The old S. S. Leviathan, three years rotting at a pier in Hoboken, has been leased by a syndicate for a "floating hotel," with night clubs, movies and theaters during the New York World's fair. . . . Wonder what's become of George Putnam's young son.

IF we had our choice of celebrities to know we'd choose Bing Crosby, Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor in that order. To strengthen abdominal muscles and cut off those waistline bulges all you have to do is lie on your stomach and grasp your heels with your hands. Sounds easy, but try it. It's also great for posture. . . . There are reminder services now that will do everything from waking you in the morning to buying your hats, delivering a roast duck, meeting your girl, purchasing railroad, bus or theater tickets, and throwing rice at weddings to supplying a fourth at bridge or warning you when Aunt Minnie, who is threatening to change her will, has a birthday.

We heard recently that there has been some concern as to whether the members of the society department "get along" with each other. We can't imagine that thought causing anyone to stay awake nights but for those who wonder we hasten to assert that possibly no two women ever shared a desk with less friction. We work hand in glove as it were, writing one another's stories and typing them from each other's notes when we can read them. We might quarrel except that Mrs. Boyd has the most even disposition imaginable and we're too lazy to argue over trivial matters. This desk doesn't know what a "scoop" is; in fact our salaries are the same if we write two dozen or two stories a day.

Mrs. Gammill Is Honored

Recent brides were honored at several parties given here the latter part of the week.

Entertaining at the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway, Misses Elsie V. Link and Sadie Bownds were hostesses for an informal reception and shower given Thursday night to compliment Mrs. Clayton A. Gammill, jr., who was Miss Jennie Fay Stennett before her marriage.

A profusion of daisies and other garden flowers were arranged throughout the party rooms.

In the house party were Mesdames Randolph Houston, Lucile Smith and Floe Swenson, Misses Marguerite Whipp and Ruth McCormick.

Miss Ruth E. Ford played piano selections throughout the evening.

The guests registered in a bride's book presided over by Miss Bownds. Miss McCormick presided at the tea table.

Guests included memberships of Business and Professional Women's clubs, the Triple Four and Chatter Box clubs and others.

Those who registered were Mesdames J. B. Stevens, James A. Elliott of Slaton, Lottie B. Hilton, Harriet Johnston, L. G. Brown, Olive Fluke, Fred Higbee, Homer Moss, Vernon Brown, Ed S. Wilson, R. E. Wylie, Mina K. Graves, H. D. Woods, H. A. Welmaker, J. D. Jenkins, H. L. Allen, A. O. Carr, J. J. Smelser, Lee Ragland, J. D. Gammill, Ruby Stewart, G. P. Cunningham, Sherrill Boyd, W. O. Three Entertain With Party Complimentary To Bride

Mesdames H. O. Waters, Houston Miller and Alton Lindley entertained Thursday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock in the waters home at 1020 Ninth street honoring Mrs. E. C. Hatton, bride.

A pink and green color motif was used in decorations and refreshments.

Miss Mary Knight read and Wayland Lindley, nephew of the bride, brought in a wagon loaded with gifts.

Mrs. Carl Pool Is Honored With Shower In Idalou

Mrs. Carl Pool, 1812 Avenue K, who was Miss Adelia Derrick of Idalou before her recent marriage, was complimented at a shower given Thursday afternoon at Idalou in the home of Mrs. Dick Baze. Hostesses were Mesdames Baze, L. E. Countess, K. Coats and Claude Newton, all of that city.

The program included several accordion solos by Mrs. Virginia Cowan; reading by Miss Mary Jane Baze, and toast to the bride by Mrs. L. E. Countess.

As guests registered they wrote suggestions in the bride's recipe book. Forty-five women were present.

The hostesses served an ice course.

Nine Kiwanis Club Members Visit At Plainview Friday

Nine members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club yesterday attended a luncheon of the Plainview Kiwanis club, according to Ray C. Mowery, chairman of the organization's inter-club relations committee.

Three of Lubbock's representatives played golf and the others formed a gallery. Golfers were Robert J. Allen, Amos Howard, and Otis Felty. The gallery was composed of John L. Ryan, Mowery, O. J. Sexton, Dude Buster, E. L. Klett, and B. Sherrod.

The committee has planned a series of similar visits to nearby Kiwanis clubs to foster a better spirit of fellowship and friendship, Mowery said.

Iron, sugar, salt, coal (carbon), water, iodine, phosphorus, oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, and lime make up the human body.

Committee For Library Named

Personell of a committee of great importance to Texas Technological college was announced along with plans given at the college Friday for a board meeting to be held in Fort Worth Wednesday.

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, board chairman, has appointed a building committee which will supervise construction of Tech's $250,000 library which was assured when the governor signed the education appropriation bill in June. Members are: Joe T. Snead, jr., of Amarillo, chairman; Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock; and Mrs. John A. Haley, Midland.

Additional business in connection with the library will be considered when the board meets at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Fort Worth club. The board postponed consideration of several subjects when it met June 1, since the governor had not then signed the appropriations bill.

Applications for faculty positions also will be considered.

Whether the question of fraternities and sororities at Tech would be brought up is problematical, said President Bradford Knapp. The board decided at its June meeting to consider allowing campus clubs to be converted into chapters of national Greek letter organizations, and to make a final decision later.

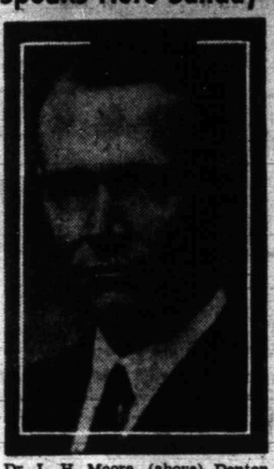

The building committee also will supervise cooperative cottage construction for which the legislature allocated $15,000. Plans for that construction likely will be considered at the Fort Worth meeting.

The board of directors has recommended three sites for the library, and the committee will make the final selection.

LOTT SERVICES FRIDAY

CROSBYTON, July 9. (Special)—Body of Mrs. J. P. Lott, about 66, who died here Thursday night, was buried after services this morning, with Rix Funeral home of Lubbock in charge. She had lived in Crosbyton about 18 years.

Cotton Splashes Through Mud To Take British Open; Americans Well In Rear

Posts Brilliant 290 To Triumph By Two Strokes

By SCOTTY RESTON

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 9. (AP)—Henry Cotton, sloughing his way through as wild a storm as ever blew in off the Irish coast, came from behind today to win the British Open golf championship with a 72-hole score of 290.

Favored to win over one of the greatest fields ever assembled, the solemn Briton toured Carnoustie's vast, rain-sodden distances in 73-71, 144, only three over par, on his last two rounds to overtake his countryman, Reginald Whitcombe, and leave most of the Americans well to the rear.

Striding along in a brilliant red sweater under a tremendous yellow and brown umbrella, Cotton gave one of the greatest exhibitions of chipping ever seen in a major championship to pass Whitcombe, who took a shanky 76 on his last round and finished in second place with 292.

Certainly there was no doubt of Britain's supremacy on this final day. Even Charley Lacey, the big, blond Long Island professional who now is an American citizen and placed third, a shot behind Reg Whitcombe, learned his golf in England before going to the United States twelve years ago.

Nelson First American

The first born-and-bred American in the field was Byron Nelson, slim ex-Texan who is pro at Reading, Pa. Nelson finished fifth, six shots behind Cotton at 296.

In fourth place, with 294, was Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British Ryder cuppers and older brother of Reggie.

One shot back of Nelson came Ed Dudley, who stood on one foot atop the field at the end of the first day and was only two shots away this morning. The genial Georgian, who divides his working time between Philadelphia and Augusta, Ga., shot himself out of the running with a 78 on his third round and topped it with a 75 in the afternoon for a total of 297.

Alf Padgham, winner in 1936, was a stroke further away, tied with Arthur Lacey, brother of Charles and a member of the British Ryder Cup squad, and Bill Laidlaw, Cotton's assistant from Hertfordshire.

Smith Kills Chances

Horton Smith, killing his chances on the morning round with a 79 and then rallying to a great 72 through the afternoon's storm, finished with 299, the last of the little group of ten players who were able to break 300 over the famous course.

Ralph Guldahl, the American Open champion who had 74-77, 151, and Sam Snead, the usually straight-hitting youngster who had troubles with his driver and took 75-76, 151, both ended with totals of 300. That was 19 strokes more than Guldahl used in winning the U. S. crown.

The story was Cotton's almost from the start of the afternoon round. Reg. Whitcombe, leading his brother by two shots and Cotton by three at that point, started off in the midst of a downpour. He was steady enough for five holes, but then began to fade.

Whitcombe, playing through a downpour all the way, was out in 39 when Cotton started, and Cotton started well. He got his four at the first; and, at the second, struck his approach in the middle of a puddle 60 feet from the pin.

He began looking for a place dry enough to putt from. When he finally found it, he studied the putt for a long time, then marched up and swished it through the water and into the cup.

Fires Birdie

He raced over the next three holes in par. At the sixth he thumped two great wood shots to the edge of the green, 521 yards away, then chipped dead to the hole and got his birdie 4. He lost a stroke at the seventh when his second skidded over and he took a 5, but he was out in 35.

Meanwhile Reggie had dropped strokes at the tenth and twelfth and finished with an inward 37 for a 76.

All Cotton needed to win after his 35 was a 37. He knew this when he went to the tenth tee and so did everybody in this section of Scotland.

He got away magnificently, playing the tough "South America" hole in 4, getting his 4's at the next two, and banging a nice drive on the short of the fourteenth green and chipped dead for a birdie 4, and at no time from then on did he look troubled.

Kirkland Wins By Technical Kayo At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, June 9 (Special)—One thousand fight-fans cheered themselves hoarse here tonight as Cye Tankersley promoted the first of his bi-weekly boxing cards in the Venetian Auditorium.

Three decisions and one technical knockout were called on the four-match program. Suave Jack Kirkland, 160 pounder from Waco looosed a terrific right swing in the second round of the scheduled ten-frame main event, breaking three of Cowboy Terry's ribs, winning a technical kayo.

But it wasn't the main event that stole the show. Young Thomas survived fourteen knockdowns at the hands of ring-seasoned Woody Windham to lose on a decision in six rounds. Thomas was bleeding profusely, suffered a broken nose and other injuries, but won the crowd's admiration with his ability to take it.

A. C. Pace and Johnny Bowlin popped the lid of the show with a four round prelim, which Pace won by decision. Bert Tankersley nursed an injured thumb on his right lunch-hook, but decisioned James Cotton of Seagraves in the special event. Both were middleweights.

Littlefield Opens Night Season In 10 To 2 Victory

LITTLEFIELD, July 9. (Special)—Baseball fans of Littlefield turned out en masse tonight to witness the first game under the new lighting system, and Manager Dick Ratliff's team obliged by turning in a 10 to 2 victory over the Muleshoe club.

Although there is work to be done with the lights yet, and more are to be added, neither players nor fans complained tonight and night baseball was acclaimed a success, and "here to stay."

The Littlefield team meets the powerful Phillips "66" Oilers of Amarillo here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In a previous game, the Amarillo team was victorious. With an improved lineup, the Littlefields are expected to give the boys from the North Panhandle a stiff battle.

Guy Aldridge, University of Texas sophomore, pitched seven hit game for Littlefield tonight. The home club combed Lefty Burns and Davenport for a dozen hits and took advantage of three errors to score its ten runs.

Burleson, Littlefield third baseman, hit two home runs, and Manager Dick Ratliff clouted another for Littlefield to assist in the tally making.

SIGNS WITH MUDHENS

DALLAS, July 9. (AP)—Fred Marberry, former manager and ace pitcher of the Dallas Steers, today came to terms with Toledo of the American association and left tonight for the Ohio city.

Fist Fights And Joe DiMaggio's Hitting Feature As Yanks Blast Senators 16-2

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 9.—Joe DiMaggio, sophomore executioner of murderers' row, slaughtered the pitching of Carl Fischer and Ed Linke today to lead the Yankees to a 16 to 2 victory over the Washington senators in a game featured by a fist fight on the field.

DiMaggio clubbed out two homers, his 21st and 22nd, a triple, double, and single and drove in seven runs in the course of the Yankees' 17-hit assault by which they scored their fifth straight league victory.

Lou Gehrig collected a homer and two singles, and Monte Pearson pitched steady 11-hit ball.

The fist fight broke out in the sixth and was precipitated by those old feuders, the Yanks' Jake Powell and the Nats' Joe Kuhel. Apparently, the row picked up where it left off in Washington last week, when Powell bumped into Kuhel in rounding first base, and caused the Senators' first-sacker to drop the ball. A pop bottle barrage from the left field bleacherites was the only untoward result of that incident however.

Today, Kuhel, taking Buddy Lewis' throw on Powell's grounder, put out the Yank fly-chaser, and gave him the shoulder as he crossed first base. Immediately, the two squared off and began throwing fists, and players from both clubs poured out of dugout and in from the field to toss punches at each other.

The umpires broke it up, banishing Powell and Kuhel.

Local Isaac Waltons Leave To Seek Colorado Trout

Off at the bust o' dawn today for the Creed, Colo., fishing grounds is a party of ten Lubbock men with few intentions of "bringin' 'em back alive."

The caravan of three automobiles heading north early today contains Neil H. Wright, I. C. Enochs, Sam Reid, Weldon Chapman, W. B. Powell, Charles Read, H. F. Cantalou, Johnny Crisler, S. E. Cone and Jack Randal.

The trout hunters expected to reach the Creed mountain streams this evening in time to wet a hook. Some of the party will return about the middle of next week, while the others plan to stay a week or ten days.

Local Teams Prepare For Annual Tourney; Independents Face Hobbs Oilers Sunday

For the final home baseball attraction before the seventh annual Avalanche-Journal tournament begins a week from tomorrow, the Lubbock Independents, defending tournament champions, will clash with the Phillips "66" Oilers of Hobbs at the local park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Manager Everett Gurule of the Phillips team, borrowed by the Amerada Oilers for a series with the Hubbers here last weekend, has announced a lineup that contains names of former professional and semi-pro players of ability. Some of the players are off the defunct Odessa league team, which was running second before its recent demise. Others have had experience in the East Texas league, and some have had tryouts in the Texas League, Gurule writes.

The Hobbs Phillips team, not to be confused with the Amerada Oilers of Monument, near Hobbs, whom the Hubbers play Sunday, is rapidly becoming the toughest of the eastern New Mexico semi-pro outfits due to recent addition of talent. The club has been invited to compete in the tournament beginning next Sunday.

Addison at first base, H. West at second, G. Addison at short, C. Lauater at third, Stewart in right, H. Smith in left, Moore in center, with Williams catching and Gurule or Wilson pitching is the probable Hobbs lineup. Two other pitchers are carried, Smith and Remies.

Names of the local Independents are familiar to Lubbock fans. There are several former Hubbers, Blackie Hilliard at second, Red Fincher, catcher, and Buddy Aderton, utility man, for example. Others are Ott Stevenson, shortstop; Shaw, former Wilson infield star, at third; two of the Crews boys, popular South Plains athletes for years, Olin in left, Alvin in right, with a youngster, Robinson at first. Slats Maguire, one of the leading right-handed artists of the section, is due to start on the mound. G. W. Bell of the local police force and Demp Webster, dangerous southpaw, round out the hurling staff.

The Lubbock Hubbers board their special bus tomorrow morning and head for Hobbs where they meet the Amerada Oilers at the Hobbs League park. Their next appearance will be in the tournament.

Prexy Says Race Will Continue With 4 Clubs

DALLAS, July 9. (AP)—Milton Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico league, said today the loop would continue its race despite the fact that Midland's franchise had been surrendered, leaving only four teams.

Price said a revised schedule of short home stays and road trips had been arranged until Sept. 6. Monahans plays at Roswell and Hobbs at Wink Saturday and Sunday, and Monday and Tuesday Monahans goes to Wink and Hobbs to Roswell.

City Open Links Tourney Begins Here Tomorrow

There WILL be a City Open golf tournament, and it will start this very tomorrow.

Officials of Meadowbrook golf club said last night the club would be more than glad to serve as host this year, in view of Country cub's situation, and announced that qualifying would begin Sunday.

Country club, which "drew" the tournament this year, discovered it would be unable to stage the city championship event until after August 1, and maybe not until early September, due to condition of greens, tees and the fact that two other tournaments are scheduled this month and next.

Greens at the Country club will be undergoing a top-dressing next week; the new grass tees have been slow to develop and are not ready, so the club left the way open to Meadowbrook to take the event. Because of condition of the greens next week at Country club, members there should be available for the City Open at Meadowbrook, it was believed.

Start Out Tomorrow

Entrants may qualify from Sunday through Tuesday, it was decided last night. Match play will begin Wednesday, and two days will be allowed for the first round matches. All entrants must turn in a qualifying score by Tuesday evening, when the Calcutta party will be held.

An entrance fee of $1.50 was decided upon. This will permit all entrants to play the entire week, qualifying or practing from Sunday through Tuesday, and competing in match play the rest of the week.

A committee will meet today to decide about prizes, but it is expected that the usual list of practical prizes will be offered.

The Relief Cut Won't Hurt Us

HARRY HOPKINS, responding to orders from his chief, President Roosevelt, has ordered drastic reductions in all WPA relief rolls over the entire nation. "Cut 'em down," he has said. And this reduction must be accomplished by July 15.

Lubbock district, comprising 24 counties of the Panhandle and South Plains, has the answer to that one. District officials here explain that the new quota of 3,195 will be met with ease and no one will be hurt. The figure means a reduction for this area of 355 men but, as explained by officials, when that quota is not even filled now, then Mr. Hopkins' order will have little effect.

It might be the reverse. Lubbock's relief rolls might be crowded to overflowing. Such a reduction might mean cutting that many more worthy men from jobs in which they earned barely enough to feed their families. The situation might be serious and even critical. But it's not. And why not?

Because Lubbock and the Panhandle and Plains sections have forgotten the depression to a great extent. Now it is remembered as something akin to a bad dose of medicine which had to be suffered after we gorged ourselves in the rosy days of 1929.

Local WPA officials explain that others of the several reductions in workers during the last two years have taken care of themselves by removals from the district and by assorptions into private employment. Seldom has the full quota allotted the district been filled.

And the same condition is expected to result when the new reduction goes into effect. The approaching slash will reduce the district quota by more than 1,000 from the peak figure of approximately 4,200 established two years ago for Lubbock district when the area was comprised of only 15 counties. The district was enlarged several weeks ago by the addition of counties from districts being abolished.

Perhaps another two years will see an even greater change for the better. The Morning Avalanche is confident of the fact. Maybe private employment will be begging for workers, with more jobs than there are men. Optimistic? Yes. But who wouldn't have called you an incurable optimist 10 years ago had you predicted Lubbock would be the city she is today? It can happen here. Anything can hapen when you find a people just rarin' to go, pulling together and building, in reality, a rich empire from what once only seemed vague dreams.

Something To Diplomacy!

TO MOST of us the word "diplomat" conjures up a mind picture of an overstuffed gentleman wearing a Prince Albert coat, pin-stripe trousers, spats, a silk hat and carrying a cane—a rich old duffer who was sent abroad to represent his country by virtue of having contributed quite a sum toward the campaign of the successful presidential candidate!

But while diplomats have long been considered fair game for quip-makers, now and then a situation arises which illustrates that a certain amount of mettle must be inherent in the men who take the sharp edges off our quibbles with other nations.

There is, for example, the case in which an Argentine consul found that San Francisco had not named a single street for his nation. This was a minor omission, no doubt unintended. But many a major disaster has spread from a smaller incident.

The crisis was averted when city planners promised to honor both Argentina and Buenos Aires with street names if and when a real estate operator developed a new tract. Here was an example of promising everything asked without giving up an inch. And that, if just one more quip may be pardoned, is the perfect essence of diplomacy.

The One-Minute Sermon

For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.

Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

And when ye stand praying forgive, if ye have aught against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.—St. Mark XI, 23 through 26.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

IRON EYELIDS

Surely few men on earth have a stranger way of making a living than John Dunning of Clinton, Oklahoma. Now only 24 years of age, Mr. Dunning has been lifting weights and pulling autos and light wagons with his eyelids since he was 16. He finds good jobs with automobile agencies, demonstrating how easily the autos roll along by actually pulling them with his eyelids. This bizarre feat is accomplished by inserting on the under side of his eyelids two dull hooks which are attached to a strap on the auto bumper, pulling it taut very slowly and cautiously. Mr. Dunning is performing daily at the Odditorium in Cleveland.

SUPERSTITION MOUNTAIN

By Oren Arnold

Copyright, 1937, NEA SERVICE, Inc.

Yesterday: Stuart's father is shot at while riding in the mountains. The next day Stuart, armed, starts out to investigate the source of the shooting.

CHAPTER VII

Jacob Walz, "the old Dutchman," acquired ownership of an extremely rich mine in Superstition Mountain some time in the 1880's, the Arizona legends say. He was an eccentric man with a long white beard, fierce of countenance, massive of frame; a drifter whose background only he knew. He himself admitted killing three Mexicans in order to steal their bonanza, Mexicans who were descendants of the original Spanish discoverers of the mine. But he worked the property alone.

Walz would come periodically into the village of Phoenix, plunk down a bag of amazing nuggets and forthwith drink all the liquor he could hold. Then he'd come out on Washington street and yell like a rebel.

"Waugh!" he'd shout. "I'm a two-legged hellion outen the hills, and I'll kill any damned fool who says I ain't!" He was not exaggerating.

People tried to pump him about his rich mine, but he wouldn't talk, even when drunk. Some tried to follow him to the mountain and he slipped back at night and killed them. Others kept bedeviling him trying to get a share of his wealth, and he was afraid they might murder him for it.

One day, therefore, he concealed his mine opening. He covered the hole with ironwood logs as large as his burros could drag, then piled rocks and dirt over them. He obliterated all traces of his camp and came back to Phoenix to wait until interest in his gold store should subside. He told these things himself, but he died unexpectedly without definitely revealing the mine's location. It was, he did say, somewhere near Weaver's Needle, the highest peak in Superstition, and not far from a palo verde tree with a pointing arm.

Stuart Blake knew that bit of history. When he rode out from Superstition Lodge that morning he decided to go up near the base of Weaver's Needle and scout around from there. The shortest route was six miles in, with much climbing, but his horse was a hardy one. He recognized the Needle about midday, not more than a mile from him.

He had never seen a more beautiful region, never imagined one as rugged and wild. He wondered where the ironwood logs might lie concealed. It intrigued him to think of the fun and excitement if he should happen to find the Dutchman's gold; he pictured himself telling Carolee Colter all about it first. And telling Nina. And his friends back in Chicago. Stuart Blake was young and romantic enough to enjoy day dreaming.

His attention was caught suddenly by hieroglyphics etched on big rocks near him. They were strange picture writings, evidently of Indian origin, animal and human forms and odd circular designs. They were interesting but he couldn't decipher them. He wondered if they were important to the mine.

It was well past noon but he hadn't thought to eat the lunch he brought, nor even to take a drink from his saddle canteen. The surroundings were too impressive, and he was thinking of the palo verde tree with the pointing arm. His horse was puffing, so he dismounted to let the animal rest, dropping the reins as cowboys do. He walked a few hundred feet, climbed up over a series of boulders which gave him a view in every direction for many miles. Only the Needle was higher. The breeze whipped him, snapping his silk bandana. The sun shone intensely. He studied the landscape for a quarter hour or so, grew thirsty and climbed back down. When he reached the picture rocks again, his horse was gone.

At first he was astonished, then alarmed.

He remembered the experience with Carolee. Here, though, the brushy growth was negligible. He remembered to look for tracks. Sure enough, they led off, and were easily followed.

The hoof marks went 200 yards or so then suddenly disappeared at a cliff edge. Stuart peered over. "Good Lord!" he breathed.

The horse was dead—literally smashed — on the rocks several hundred feet below.

Stuart hastened to circle around and down to the beast, but there was nothing he could do. How could a mountain horse have slipped so fatally? Stuart realized the seriousness of his situation. He was a long rugged hike from the Lodge. But he wasn't as helpless as when he was Carolee became lost for a while; he had thought to bring water this time. Water!

Quickly he looked. The canteen was under the dead animal and the saddle. By straining he extracted it, but it had been smashed in the fall and was quite empty now.

Diabolically, at that instant, thirst seemed doubled within him. (Many another man has expecienced that sensation, when water is discovered gone.)

"This is getting fantastic!" Stuart told himself. "All that hooey about Superstition Mountain—and yet I get lost with a girl, dad gets shot at, and now I'm in a new spot. I'll be seeing the Thunder Gods next!" He was confused at the train of events as well as concerned for his own safety.

He had good reason to be concerned, even more than he realized. Arizona air is "thin," dry. Wet clothes in back yards dry in 20 minutes. Meat is cured quickly or "jerked" simply by hanging outside on a string. The aridity is even greater in desert altitudes such as Superstition provides. Rainfall is rare, totaling but five or six inches in a year, often less. Canteens are standard equipment with every man who works outdoors. Sun and thirst can cause real suffering in four hours, delirium in six or eight, death in 24.

Stuart didn't know all these details, but he was beginning to suspect them. By 4 p. m. he was ill. His tongue seemed double in size, and he was seeing his first tantalizing mirages, always of lakes and streams. Yet he felt rational.

He fired his pistol repeatedly but his only answers were mocking echoes.

He tried chewing the scanty green leaves, and once he sucked some moist earth that he found in a deep, shady gorge, but that only made him vomit and caused his mouth to bleed.

The air turned sharply cold after nightfall. The wind changed, too. Stuart wondered where the intense sun heat had so suddenly dissipated. But the night wind seemed no more humid. He was shivering. Once—he had been walking for hours—he thought he heard Carolee Colter's laughter. He looked up suddenly and saw nothing, and knew then that he was beginning to lose control.

His collar had seemed tight earlier and he had unbuttoned it. He had thrown the neckchief away. Now his throat seemed even more constricted and he tore off his entire shirt, panting a bit at the exertion.

That made him realize his semi-hysteria, so he calmed for a while. He could see fairly well by the stars. He kept going in what he believed to be the back-trail direction, down the rocky slope that would lead into Apache Canyon, thence home. But sometimes he climbed, too. He wasn't sure.

It was late when he decided finally to sleep. He moved, partly by instinct, toward a low slip of rock that would afford protection from the wind, and crawled under it.

Something went "whs-s-s-s, a-a-a-a, whs-s--s-s-s-s-s" at him, and he could see moving forms. He saw that they were babies, knew them for lion kittens. He had stumbled onto a panther den. He didn't remember about panthers, but he imagined they ate men. The mother cat would be coming home.

He backed away, and soon he stumbled onto some buck brush. He fell and it was soft, and so utterly exhausted was he that he just lay there.

Protest Is Filed On Trinity River Canal

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Representative Clyde L. Garrett, Eastland, Texas, filed today with the army engineers a protest against the proposed Trinity river canal.

He filed the protest at the request of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and other interested persons in that city who asked further public hearings so they could present evidence in opposition to canalization of the river.

At a recent hearing advocates of the project submitted evidence in an effort to reverse a previous adverse report by army engineers.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE Roosevelt-Perkins-Roper rebukes of John L. Lewis' C.I.O.-ers were no hasty and intemperate flings. They were definite moves to acquit the administration of the popular charge that it was paying off a political debt in lending unofficial sympathy to the strikers.

Mr. Roosevelt had followed events in the motor and steel conflicts more closely than he lets on. To the press and public he gives the impression that all he knows is what he reads in the papers, but privately he has lost no chance to keep informed. And from three men unequivocal in their friendship for labor—Mediators Charles P. Taft and Edward McGrady, and Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan—he has heard warnings that it was time for him to use his influence to curb excesses on both sides.

Their reports impressed him so deeply that he authorized quotation of his "plague on both your houses" remark, and then sanctioned Miss Perkins' anti-sitdown statement. It furnishes a striking and significant contrast with his attitude in April, when he spurned Vice-President Garner's suggestion that he intervene to check the spread of sit-down strikes. "Jack," as usual, proved to know what he was talking about.

BUSTED?: From their study of the signs of popular resentment, Washington politicos now rate John L. Lewis as a member of the lost legion that numbers such ex-threats to their peace as the late Huey Long, Doctor Townsend and Father Coughlin. Both the White House and Congress figure that they can oppose or defy the mine leader without jeopardizing their political necks.

Only a few weeks ago Mr. Lewis loomed second to the President as the most powerful figure on the political horizon. Either as a candidate or organizer of a third party, he entered into all confidential calculations of the 1940 lineup. There was talk that he might then be able to control from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 votes—perhaps the balance of power in the next presidential election. It is no secret that this consideration accounted for the tenderness displayed toward him at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. Everybody was afraid of him, as they once cringed before the three share-the-wealthers.

But every known test indicates that the Lewis prestige is dwindling by the moment. Capitol Hill mailbags bulge with more letters denouncing the epidemic of strikes than with communications on the Supreme court issue, most of them from workmen's wives. A wave of anti-labor prejudice has apparently set in, and and Mr. Lewis happens to be its immediate victim.

COMEBACK: The Republican party is actively looking for a new leader, and it will pay him $25,000 a year when and if it can find the right party. The political posse sponsoring the search insist they have the votes to oust National Chairman John Hamilton provided they can uncover a successor.

The anti-Hamilton movement is attributed by his associates to the activities of Herbert Hoover's friends, who are supposed to be striving for control of the G.O.P. but fact is that almost all factions demand a reorganization that will produce a more virile party opposition. Republican stalwarts in and out of Congress ache to capitalize on the administration's recent errors and losses and dissensions, but they see no prospects under the existing setup. They think the time has come to do the same sort of smearing job on F.D.R. that "Charley" Michelson, under the inspiration of John J. Raskob, did on Mr. Hoover.

Two G.O.P.-ers most frequently mentioned as party evangelists are former members of the Hoover cabinet—Ogden L. Mills and Patrick J. Hurley. Few months ago they would have received no consideration because of their erstwhile affiliation with the "depression President." But now the changing mood of the people and politicos has restored Mr. Hoover to higher favor than at any time since he left the White House. It is quite probable that his ideas and his friends will eventually dominate a reorganized G.O.P.

DISPUTE: About August 15th Congress will emulate Vice-President Garner by walking out on President Roosevelt. They will pass some sort of Supreme court reorganization scheme, and then ditch his four other major measures till the next session.

The fight over the date of adjournment will precipitate an even more sensational party conflict than differences over revision of the judiciary. Unless he suddenly changes his mind, Mr. Roosevelt wants the legislators to "pack" the court, enact the wages-and-hours bill, establish six new power authorities, reorganize the government, provide for a new agricultural setup more far-reaching than the present system. To ignore such a batch of presidential requests would be an almost unprecedented rebuke to a party leader. And yet that is what the boys on Capitol Hill contemplate.

The dispute will probably never reach such a critical stage. As he has done with respect to the court and strike issues, the President will undoubtedly back down, curtail his program and let Congress go home. If he doesn't, the country will be treated to the amazing spectacle of a legislative lockout. Boss Farley has told members the "chief" will call them back to a special session if they go on strike, but there was a twinkle in his eyes when he said it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

IT LOOKS as if August will be a hot month in Michigan in more ways than one. For one thing, the behind-the-scenes struggle between Henry Ford and the C.I.O. is likely to come to a head about then.

Ford's River Rouge plant will shut down at the end of this month to get ready to produce 1938 models. New York insiders understand that plans are set to shake all men who belong to the United Automobile Workers out of the plant as "agitators" at that time. That may start trouble. If it doesn't, other means may be found to force a showdown. It is much better from Ford's viewpoint to have one in August while the C.I.O. is still weak in his factories and while production is at its lowest ebb, than in the fall when interruptions of work would be costly and the union would have had more time to recruit.

Harry Bennett, Ford personnel manager, will be commander-in-chief of the loyalist forces. It's a safe bet that he is thoroughly prepared. This is one war in which the odds will be heavily against the C.I.O. from the outset.

CHANCES: The General Motors contract with the Automobile Workers also expires in August. A hot argument about union responsibility is brewing. The corporation will not compromise its demand that it be allowed to punish union members who indulge in unauthorized sit-down or other strikes—unless the union is willing to give a signed guarantee that it will undertake stern disciplinary measures itself.

Even if this point is amicably adjusted, there is no certainty that General Motors will meet the terms of contract renewal which the union seeks to impose. There is strong sentiment among New Yorkers influential in the corporation's affairs in favor of withdrawing recognition of the C.I.O.

The unionists could not afford to allow that to happen without a desperate struggle. C.I.O. prestige would be vitally at stake. So the chances for continued peace on the General Motors front are none too good.

APPROVAL: Father Coughlin's attacks on the C.I.O. feature the idea that the Lewis unions are financially irresponsible. This contention is based on the lack of accounting to members for their initiation fees and their dollar-a-month dues.

New York observers crack that this is certainly a case of pot-and-kettle. The radio priest has never disclosed to this day where his National Union for Social Justice got its money or what it did with it. Now he wants 50,000 or more workers to give him $3 a year for his Workers Council for Social Justice, so he can win the annual wage, lower living costs and other such advantages for them.

Officially the Ford management frowns on organizing activities among its employes on behalf of the Workers council. Actually, well-posted sources have more than casual reason to believe that Father Coughlin has Ford's tacit blessing for his work in the labor field.

Houston Deputy Sheriff Has To Work Longer; Gets His Subpoenas, Mail Mixed

HOUSTON, July 9. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff K. D. Wright had to work a little longer than usual Thursday.

The deputy absent-mindedly dropped a handful of subpoenas in a mail box instead of a letter he planned to post.

It was several hours before Deputy Wright retrieved the subpoenas — and several more hours before he finished serving them.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 150

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Tarzan and his friends fell back to the tunnel, a trembling little monkey leaped to Tarzan's shoulder. "We won, Tarzan," Nkima chattered; "now we go home." But, outside the Dead City, Tarzan escorted the party back to camp and set out to trail Ragian.

At dawn he came suddenly upon the Green Goddess. Then he saw why it had been abandoned. In the distance, Ragian was racing through the forest, with a jaguar in swift pursuit. For once, Tarzan did not deny a beast its human prey. The jungle was meting out justice.

Now the ape-man's perilous mission was done. As he picked up the idol, he wondered how Queen Zalya had fared. It were better, he mused, if her tortured soul had found peace in death. Now Tarzan returned to camp, and found Ula Dale's eyes dancing with delight.

Beginning Sunday "Tarzan's Quest"

separately — each unaware of the other's danger — Tarzan and his mate, Lady Jane Greystoke, battle for life against a new and seemingly supernatural terror that strikes in the heart of the jungle. . . . Start this new Tarzan story Monday.

"The Green Goddess will find a restful haven in the Guatemalan National Museum. It is the most valuable archeological discovery in years. But I—I found something even more precious," Ula said shyly as she smiled up into D'Arnot's adoring eyes.

Invitation Extended Knot Holers To Be In Parks Project

Invitation to Knot Hole gang members to take an active part in the city parks recreation program to be started Monday was extended by William P. (Bill) Witt, new parks recreation superintendent, at an assembly of the boys Friday in Texas Technological college gymnasium.

Witt was introduced by W. O. (Dan) Daniels, commander of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion and member of the new city recreational council. The parks recreation project will operate under the joint sponsorship of the city parks board, of which the council is a unit, and the WPA. Daniels was presented by Russell T. (Dutchy) Smith, assistant coach at Tech and director of the Knot Hole gang.

Project Purposes Explained

The new recreations superintendent explained briefly the purpose of the parks project and invited the Knot Holers to be on hand at various of the parks Monday afternoon for the inauguration of the program. Details of the program yet are to be worked out, Witt said, but scenes of the initial activities will be Seventh street, Twenty-seventh street and Mackenzie park for white boys and the negro park for negroes.

While Witt completed inspections of playground sites, the interviewing of those who will assist him and conferences with officials and citizens, word was received at district WPA headquarters this morning that Lamesa is going ahead with the development of a similar project. It already has received approval in principle by city and county commissioners there, and copies of the Lubbock city resolutions and ordinance creating the one here have been requested at Lamesa.

They will be sent without delay, WPA officials said.

Rep. Fish's Charges

tion, as possible subjects for the committee's attention.

Then, in clipped phrases, Rep. Vinson (D-Ky) began a cross-examination.

Pure, Unadulterated Heresay

"All your testimony," he said, pointing a finger at Fish, "is pure and unadulterated hearsay. What are you doing but smearing?"

Fish contended his evidence was "hearsay from a reliable source." He argued that "tax avoidance by the rich or people of moderate means knows no party lines."

He accused the administration, and treasury, in the course of the tax dodging investigation, of singling out "for reprisal and inquisition what may be termed, if you will, certain economic royalists."

Charges Controlled Money

He said that money paid the Philadelphia committee under terms of Mrs. Roosevelt's radio contract was earned by her "as much as money ever was earned by anybody."

"She directed where it would be and controlled that money," he said. "If she can avail herself of a loophole, then anybody else in America can do the same thing."

Revenue law permits deductions up to 15 per cent of a person's income for contribution to charity.

Asked about Fish's assertions at a press conference, President Roosevelt said he would not discuss them at present. Aides quickly added he had no intention of ever replying.

Mrs. Roosevelt herself told reporters recently:

"On every penny of income which I received, I have paid my tax."

EIGHT TARPON CAUGHT

GALVESTON, July 9. (AP)—Eight tarpon were caught today in the fishing rodeo here bringing the total taken since the contest got underway Sunday up to seventeen. H. F. Courtney of Kansas City took three tarpon on the north jetty to head the list in this division. His largest was 6 feet and 2 inches long and weighed 107 pounds.

PUBLISHER'S SON DIES

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 9. (AP) — Howell Howard, son of Maxwell Howard, Dayton, Ohio, publisher, died today from injuries suffered yesterday when he was thrown from his horse while playing polo at the Meadowbrook club.

MARKET GIVES GROUND

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—After advancing for seven consecutive sessions, the stock market today gave ground under mild profit selling.

Recently strong steels, motors and rails led the quiet retreat. At the same time advances were plentiful at the close with farm implements and specialties conspicious on the upside.

Business news generally was pleasing, but brokers found many of their customers inclined to cash in some of their gains after the lengthy recovery on the theory a set-back was overdue.

Analysts were cheered by the fact volume dwindled appreciably on the decline and that closing recessions generally were confined to fractions.

Transfers amounted to 845,420 shares compared with 1,033,390 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .4 of a point at 67.4.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 9. (AP) — Cotton continued to climb today under large scale buying, covering and final prices were at or near the best of the day. The close was steady at net advances of 16 to 17 points.

Trading was at a faster pace than in recent sessions despite periods of activity. A good portion of the demand was attributed to a large eastern operator whose large scale buying activities were said to be the main reason for the late firmness of prices.

Liverpool cables were better than expected at the start here and first transactions showed gains of 6 to 8 points.

Flurries of profit-taking were encountered as the session progressed but were absorbed at moderate recessions. Commission house and trade purchasing bulwarked the covering and had a large part in taking up the offerings.

July closed at 12.38 bid; Oct. 12.53; Dec. at 12.54, Jan. at 12.56, March at 12.60 and May at 12.61. Spots were 16 points higher with middling at 12.88.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Further sharp gains were registered in cotton today on active Wall Street buying which quickly absorbed limited contracts. October rallied from 12.38@12.58, and closed at 12.55 with final prices 14 to 22 points higher.

Opening advances of 7 to 10 points were attributed to far eastern and commission house buying. There was accumulation of overnight buying from domestic and foreign sources promoted by a bullish interpretation of yesterday's government acreage estimate showing an increase of only 10.5 per cent over the 1936 planted area.

An early rally to the 12½ cent level for October attracted scattered realizing. The market displayed firm undertone and sold at the highest levels of the day during the last hour.

Purchases for Wall Street account were estimated as high as 50,000 bales. Aside from the acreage report of Thursday, no fresh factors were mentioned to account for the advance.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, July 9. (AP)—The average price of middling spot cotton at 10 southern markets today was 12.75, for the past 30 days 12.39.

Mae West's Case

four years, but Miss West says they did not, and furthermore that Wallace married someone else without obtaining a divorce. He is suing to have himself declared her legal husband.

Superior Judge Emmet Wilson ruled today that Miss West need not respond to a subpoena issued some time ago directing her to answer questions about the marriage which she long publicly denied. He held she satisfied this subpoena in her formal answer filed Wednesday admitting the marriage.

Judge Wilson pointed out that his ruling does not bar a new subpoena, which Wallace's lawyers must apply for if they want to ask Miss West whether she was a wife in name only—a question not included in the original list.

FRIDAY'S LOCAL GRAIN RECEIPTS

Wheat	60 cars

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 9. (AP) — Tumbles of wheat prices, 3½ cents a bushel, maximum, resulted largely today from some moisture relief in Canada and from continued record-breaking domestic receipts.

Tending also to pull wheat values down were correct assertions that the United States government crop report due after the close of today's trading would figure the 1937 domestic winter crop yield as larger than any official estimate heretofore this year.

It was contended in this connection that high temperatures of late had halted development of black rust, so that threshing returns were showing much less injury to wheat than had been expected.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1¾ to 2½ cents under yesterday's finish, July $1.22⅝, Sept. 1.23⅜@1.23¼, Dec. $1.25⅜@1.25¼, corn 1⅜ off to 1½ up, July $1.28¼@1.28¼, Sept. $1.14⅝@1.14¼, Dec. 84¼@84⅛, oats ⅛ to ⅜ down, Sept. 38½@38⅝, and rye 1¼ to 2½ drop, Sept. 88. Provisions results were unchanged to 12 cents lower.

Assignments Are Filed Here On Oil And Gas Leases In County

An assignment conveying oil and gas exploration rights on one-half a section of Lubbock county land from J. D. Bodkins to General Crude Oil company with offices at Houston yesterday was filed at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

It was the first record here showing oil activity of that company, according to the clerk. The land was described as the south one-half of section 13, block 20, HE & WT Railway company survey bordering the Lynn county line. It is about 14 miles south of Lubbock and about a mile east. The entire section earlier had been leased by Bodkins from W. P. Martin and wife.

Another assignment of rights yesterday was filed by the Stanolind Oil and Gas company with an office at Midland. The rights were obtained from E. W. Anguish. Land on which mineral rights were conveyed was described as the northwest quarter of section 9, block E, GC & SF Railway company survey with exception of four acres.

Six Injured As Car Overturns; Brought Here For Treatment

Six men were given emergency treatment early last night for minor injuries suffered in an automobile mishap shortly afternoon Friday.

Given treatment at the Lubbock sanitarium were: George Houghton, 24, face skinned; Alvin Crews, 26, bruise on left shin and face; Art Fullington, 27, no injuries; Max Morgan, 24, minor injury to left elbow; A. A. McClarey, about 27, laceration of head; and S. W. Clark, 21, bruise on left temple and slight concussion. All were released from the sanitarium last night.

The men were injured when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on its side because of muddy roads. All are employes of an oil company.

Baron, Henkel Clinch Places On German Davis Cup Team

BERLIN, July 9. (AP)—Germany's tennis aces, Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Heinrich Henkel, virtually clinched a berth in the Davis cup interzone finals against the United States today.

Facing Czechoslovakia in the European zone finals, the Germans walked off with both of the opening singles matches and thus need only one more victory, either in doubles or in the final two singles tests, to qualify for the interzone finals to be played at Wimbledon July 17-19-20.

Henkel disposed of Ladislaus Hecht in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5, 7-5; and von Cramm cut Roderich Menzel down at 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Harry Todd Gunning For His Second Junior Open Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 9. (AP)—Harry Todd, of Dallas, 1934 Western Junior open champion, and Worth Stimits, 17-year-old Colorado Springs High school ace, will battle tomorrow over the 36-hole route at the Patty Jewett course for the fifth Western Junior Open Golf association championship.

Todd defeated Joe Cooper, Albuquerque, N. M., 10 and 8, while Stimits took an 8 and 7 decision over James Davie, of Pueblo, in today's 36-hole semi-final matches.

Todd established a new course record this morning when he fired a 67, five under par.

AAU Official Removes Runner From Pan-American Games

DALLAS, July 9. (AP)—Bob Humphrey, Pan-American games director, said today Clarence DeMar, veteran Keene, N. H., marathon runner, had been removed from the United States track and field squad which will oppose stars of South and Central America and Canada here next week.

Humphrey said DeMar was removed from the games on orders of Dan Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic union, because the 59-year-old school teacher had written other U. S. athletes suggesting that "we should get more than our expenses and transportation 'out of Texas'."

Humphrey said Ferris told him from New York he was naming Johnny Semple, Beverly, Mass., veteran, to the squad, replacing DeMar, dean of marathon runners.

Mrs. Joiner's Suit Is Refiled In District Court At Dallas

DALLAS, July 9. (AP)—The suit of Mrs. Lydia A. Joiner, 72, of Ardmore, Oklahoma, against her former husband, C. M. (Dad) Joiner, discoverer of the East Texas oil field, has been refiled in fourteenth district court.

The suit asked a receivership for the Joiner Oil corporation.

District Judge Claude M. McCallum recently dismissed without prejudice Mrs. Joiner's receivership suit, holding that the case should have been filed in the fourteenth district court as ancillary to a case between the Joiners, involving ownership of property and stock in the Joiner Oil corporation.

Navy Launches Final Efforts

would just about determine the success or failure of the preliminary search. They figured the planes, the Colorado and two other ships would complete their survey then.

Officially, naval authorities reiterated hopes that Miss Earhart and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, would be found. But privately they conceded the chances were infinitesimal.

The Lexington was expected to reach Howland, more than 1,500 miles distant, Monday morning and immediately unleash most, if not all, her aircraft.

The Colorado reported 38,810 square miles of the Phoenix region had been searched but naval headquarters here estimated the catapult planes, the battleship, the coast guard cutter Itasca and the minesweeper Swan, all in the Phoenix region, had covered nearly triple that area.

Mysterious Signals Heard

Amid optimism the search shifted to the Phoenix region last Tuesday after technicians reported radio bearings on mysterious radio signals pointed to that area.

But the Colorado with its three planes; the Itasca, and the Swan reported no encouraging clue after having scanned the area since Wednesday afternoon.

Even the navy planes had difficulty in trying to find some of the reefs mentioned as possible havens for Miss Earhart's plane, which disappeared last Friday on an attempted 2,570-mile flight from New Guinea to Howland.

After three trips out from the Colorado the catapult planes yesterday finally circled over the charted position of Winslow reef, a northerly extension of the Phoenix formation, but found nothing.

Besides the eight Phoenix islands, a few uncharted reefs remained to be searched.

Youths Charged In Forgery Complaints

R. M. Prather, 18-year-old resident of the Lakeview community in Lynn county, yesterday was named defendant in two complaints filed with Walter Davies, justice of peace, one alleging attempting to pass as true a forged check and the other alleging making of a false instrument.

Upon arraignment before Justice Davies, he waived examining trials and bonds were set at $750 in both cases, binding him over to grand jury investigation.

A 16-year-old boy also was charged in juvenile court, with passing a forged instrument. The juvenile was arrested Friday afternoon by Bill Mabray, member of the police department, and Cap Moore, deputy sheriff. Prather had been arrested by C. C. Chase, assistant chief of police, Thursday.

May Try Juvenile Today

Complaints filed with Davies were prepared by Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney. The charge against the juvenile was sworn to by Mabray before Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney. The juvenile probably will be tried before Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court today, officers indicated.

In a statement by Prather to Lindsey, the Lynn county man said he purchased a bathing suit here and gave an $8 check bearing the signature of Clyde Foster. Chase arrested him soon after police had been notified.

The second charge sets out Prather made a false instrument bearing the forged signature of L. W. Williams. As set out in Prather's statement to Lindsey, the juvenile endorsed it and passed it at Slaton. The check was for $7.

The statement also "clarified other recent activities in this area," authorities said.

Last night Prather had not posted bonds, said members of the sheriff's department.

Take Patrolmen's Car

The brash fugitives — notorious Charlie Chapman, bank robber; Roy (Pete) Traxler, under a life sentence for robbery; Walter Belton of Fort Worth and Fred Tindol of Jasper county—cruised in a car taken from three patrolmen last night.

Near Alto, the patrolmen came upon a car in the middle of the road. Two alighted to investigate and the third remained to cover them. The convicts rushed them from the darkness, fired numerous shots and in the resulting confusion dashed away in the patrol car.

Today Capt. Lee Miller and two other officers reported they were forced as a precautionary measure to telephone into Dallas that they were coming into the city after they heard a broadcast that citizens of Edgewood, through which they just had passed, had seen the criminals in the squad car.

Since the break, the convicts wounded a guard, kidnaped and released J. C. Dunlap and Howell Dunlap, brothers, took from City Marshal Harry Domengue of Trinity his automobile, and generally kept the eastern half of the state in anxiety with their bold tactics.

A ducking pool, bingo, roulette wheels, live duck pond, penny board, cat and doll racks, dart board, live snake show, cane rack, and ice cream, candy and hamburger stands are among concessions.

Amateur programs were scheduled each night.

Proceeds will be used partially for school ground equipment and partially for other civic projects.

San Antonio Youths Return From "Day Trip To Del Rio"

SAN ANTONIO, July 9. (AP) — The mystery surrounding the disappearance of two San Antonio boys was solved this morning when the youths returned home after a "one day trip to Del Rio."

The disappearance of the boys, Earl Helmers, 17, and Joe M. Loper, 14, gave rise to fears that they had drowned while on a fishing trip. Firemen dragged the San Antonio river for hours yesterday.

Young Loper told his mother that they had encountered a group of hoboes while they were fishing and after the men had painted such a vivid word picture of life on the road they decided to "hop a freight" and accompany them to the West coast. When the lads reached Del Rio, young Loper said, they realized life of a hobo was not for them and decided to return.

Man Injured Slightly When Gored By Bull Here Friday

Bruce Gentry, 31, resident of Lubbock, was admitted to Lubbock sanitarium Friday for treatment of injuries suffered when charged by a 1,500-pound bull in the early afternoon. He suffered a chest injury and tissues probably were torn from his ribs, said authorities last night. No ribs were believed fractured.

The bull's horns did not strike Gentry. The accident happened near the Texas Auction and Trading company at Thirteenth street and Avenue C. He was rushed to the sanitarium in a private car. A Rix Funeral home ambulance was called, but the man already had been taken to the sanitarium when the ambulance arrived.

A salesman, he lives at 1918 Fifteenth street.

Tech Trip To Grand Canyon Is Postponed Friday Afternoon

A week-end trip to the Grand Canyon of Arizona, scheduled to start today, has been postponed until later in the summer, Dean James M. Gordon of Texas Tech announced Friday afternoon. An insufficient number of students desiring to go was given as the reason for postponement.

Those who had already made reservations for the trip will get their money refunded, the dean said. The trip was sponsored by the college as one of the summer's recreational features.

Scouts Depart From Capital; Side Trip Taken By Majority

Sixty-two South Plains Boy Scouts were homeward bound today, most of them by a circuitous route, as the national jamboree at Washington, D. C., came to a close Friday night.

Several of the boys are to come home directly from Washington, according to information to Mrs. Earl M. McClure, who has been in charge of council area offices here during the absence of her husband, council area executive. Mr. McClure has had charge of the jamboree delegation.

To Visit New York City

Most of the South Plains group will not return until Wednesday night because of a side trip they are making.

Itinerary of that trip called for their arrival in New York City Saturday morning where they made the Piccadilly hotel at Fifty-first street and Seventh avenue their headquarters.

Following luncheon there, according to the announced schedule, they saw a baseball game and attended the night performance at Radio City music hall.

Today's schedule calls for a morning motor coach tour of upper New York City on which they will travel the length of famous Fifth avenue, see Rockefeller center, Riverside drive, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Columbia university, Grant's tomb, the theatrical district and ascend to the observation tower of Empire State building, the loftiest man-made structure. This afternoon they are to board a steamer for a ride around Manhattan island, traveling under 16 bridges and visiting Statute of Liberty and Ellis island, among other historic points.

They are scheduled to travel tonight, reaching Buffalo Monday morning for a motor coach trip to Niagara Falls on which they will cross into Canada. The start for home via Chicago will follow.

Court Reform Bill

troversy more than five months ago, Wheeler said, the administration tried to "stir up mass prejudices" in favor of the bill, by implying that flood sufferers, drouth sufferers, farmers, and others would receive no federal assistance unless the bill was passed.

"This was followed," he said, "by an appeal by the postmaster general on the ground of party loyalty, that every Democrat ought to support the bill regardless of its effect and regardless of the fact that it was a violation of the spirit of the constitution."

Secretary Wallace, he added, tried to "stir up the farmers," and Harry Hopkins, the relief administrator, had attempted to "stir up" those on the WPA rolls.

Wall Street Speculates On Taylor Retirement Report

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Wall Street, where the possibility of Myron C. Taylor's appointment to a diplomatic post has been long rumored, speculated today upon a newspaper report that he expects to retire Jan. 1 as chairman of U. S. Steel corporation. A company spokesman refused to confirm or deny the report.

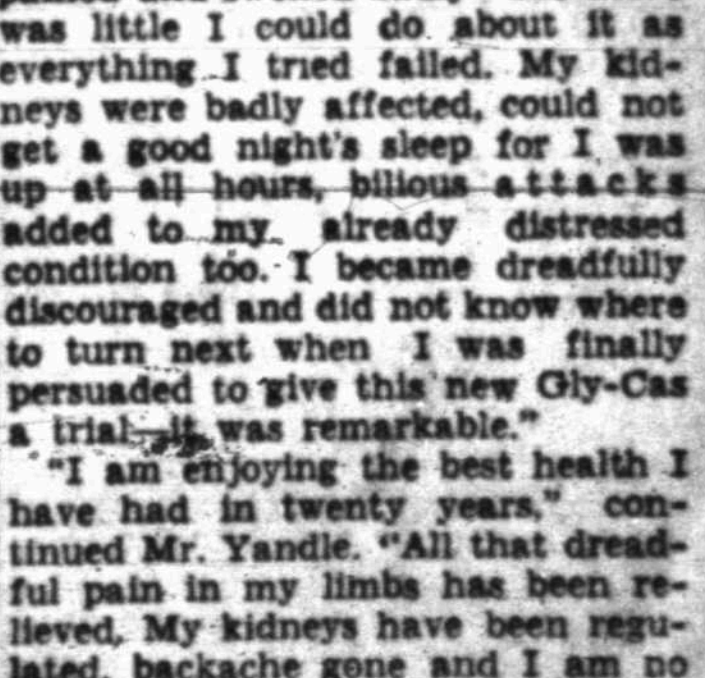

In Florence, Italy, where he is vacationing Mr. Taylor said he could not comment on the report.

The New York Herald Tribune said Taylor's retirement "is contingent on the completion of a financing and common stock dividend resumption program on which his heart is set."

Gly-Cas Gave Him The Results He'd Never Expected

body, knees became stiff and sore, could not get around as I should, pained and swelled badly—but there was little I could do about it as everything I tried failed. My kidneys were badly affected, could not get a good night's sleep for I was up at all hours, bilious attacks added to my already distressed condition too. I became dreadfully discouraged and did not know where to turn next when I was finally persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial—it was remarkable."

"I am enjoying the best health I have had in twenty years," continued Mr. Yandle. "All that dreadful pain in my limbs has been relieved. My kidneys have been regulated, backache gone and I am no longer troubled with those awful bilious attacks. Gly-Cas seemed to take hold of my case at once, I do my own work now, eat and sleep good and enjoy new strength and energy. Gly-Cas is one medicine that does not disappoint with the results it gives."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Letters' Author Being Hunted

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 9. — Federal agents hunted today the woman author of a series of fantastic letters which climaxed in the threat to "expose" Mr. and Mrs. John Boles, film couple, unless a $500 payoff was made.

U. S. Attorney Peirson M. Hall authorized issuance of a complaint against an Oakland, Calif., resident charging misuse of the mails in an attempted extortion scheme.

Arrest of the woman, authorities intimated, might dispel also the mystery regarding four weird telegrams received from Oakland by Cecil B. de Mille, motion picture producer, last week and letters sent to Buck Jones, screen cowboy.

Boles' business manager, Ira Uhr, turned over to postal inspectors a letter upon which the complaint was based. It was mailed last June 13 in Oakland, addressed to Mrs. Mancelita Boles.

"I intend to expose the dope in Los Angeles, and that brings you in as a headliner, as well as your old man," a passage read.

"I Gave You Chance"

"I gave you a chance to pay me off for silence, but you didn't see it that way . . . I'm coming down to tell all I know this time. I don't want any $50 or $100. It's worth $500 to me—no less, so get that. I wouldn't consider less."

Uhr said the Boleses had received scores of letters from the same volunteer correspondent in the last four years, but these had been considered harmless.

The couple has two children. Their alarm about the letters was increased, Uhr said, by the recent slaying of three Inglewood girls, and they were led to believe the writer "must be a crank or insane."

"They think the writer should be placed in some institution for observation, rather than prosecuted," the manager added.

Low Bid On Dredging Work Is Submitted By Orleans Firm

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—The war department announced today the low bid of $532,226 for dredging the Neches river Texas channel was submitted by Jahnecke Service inc., of New Orleans, La.

The contract will be awarded by the division engineers in New Orleans, the department said, and will call for dredging of 3,600,000 cubic yards from the mouth of the river to the Beaumont turning basin.

ASKS TRANSFER OF LAND

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP) — Senator Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico has asked congress to authorize the transfer by the secretary of the interior to the regents of New Mexico Agricultural college of land for a recreational site at $1.25 an acre.

The land is in the Organ mountains, about 15 miles from Las Cruces. The bill would authorize transfer of several hundred-acres of land to the state.
