

C. C. Terry, Pioneer Resident, Dies Thursday

C. C. Terry, 66, beloved farmer-stockman and banker of this county, died Thursday morning, February 5, at 1:45 a. m. He had been in ill health for approximately two years and critically ill for seven weeks preceding his death.

He had been a resident of this county for the last 43 years.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon, February 6, from the First Baptist Church, with Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor, and Min. Luke Priba of the Church of Christ in Pampa in charge of the rites. Gathering to pay final tribute were a host of friends, some of whom had known him for most or all of his residence here; others had come to know him only more recently.

Pallbearers for the service were Claude Cason, T. B. Cross, Charlie Cason, A. Y. Bell, P. E. Starr, and Roy Fulcher. Flower bearers were Mrs. Aubrey Duke, Mrs. Charlie Cason, Mrs. Claude Cason, Wanda Joe Wigham, Mrs. Edward Todd, and Mrs. Floyd Nipper. Hymns were "Where We'll Never Grow Old," "Farther Along," and "Old Rugged Cross."

Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

A native Texan, Cyrus Conley Terry was born at Bonham on April 16, 1875. He was, at the time of his death 66 years, 9 months, and 19 days of age. He was the son of James and Olympus Sloan Terry, both of whom came to Texas many years ago.

Mr. Terry's childhood was spent at Bonham, but in 1889, when he was 14 years of age, he came with his parents to Childress County, where he grew to manhood. He was married to Miss Daisy Hassell of Childress about 1895.

In 1898, Mr. Terry and his family moved to Collingsworth County, and he filed on the section three miles north of Wellington which had continued to be his home.

Since coming here, he had worked untiringly in his efforts to build up this area. He took an active interest in school and community life, and served for several years as a county commissioner.

In 1906, he helped to found the Wellington State Bank in Wellington, and for many years he had been a member of the board of directors.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

In the years that he had lived here, Mr. Terry had made a host of friends who loved and admired him. To those who knew him, he typified the type of early-day resident.

Men Reminded To Register

Emphasizing that the Selective Service Registration on February 16th will complete the inventory of America's potential military manpower, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, today pointed out that it affects every male resident in Texas between the ages of 20 and 45 years, with a few exceptions made by Congress.

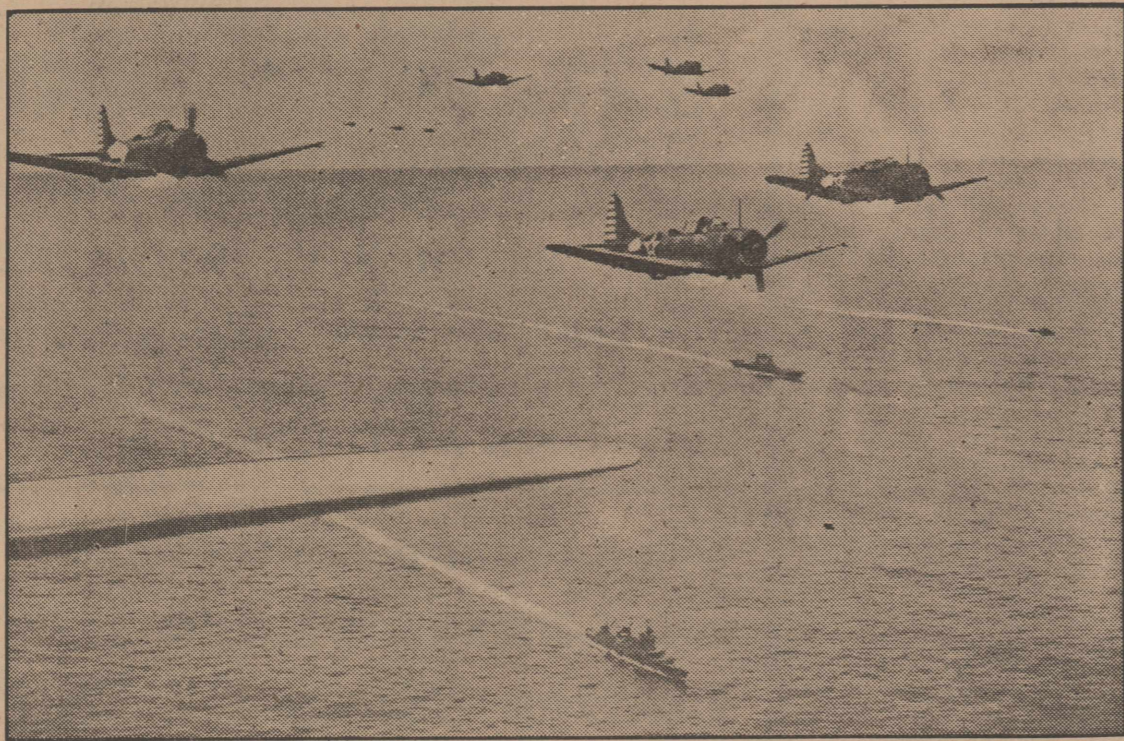

The requirement, General Page explained, is that all male persons not previously registered, who attained their twentieth birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before February 16, 1942, must register as of their home address between 7 a. m. and 9 a. m. on February 16. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between February 17, 1897, and December 31, 1921, must register.

Dutch Meyer, who has made southwestern football history as head coach of Texas Christian University, in a short but pointed talk told of the value of football as a builder of character when he spoke at the annual Football Banquet here Tuesday night, February 10.

At this occasion, members of the Rotary Club honored the members of the Skyrocket football squad, their dates, and Rotary Anns. Another high point of the evening was the awarding of sweaters to lettermen of the squad.

Coach Meyer drew upon his experiences of seven years as head coach of TCU for many of his observations Tuesday night. He is regarded as one of the outstanding football coaches in the southwestern section of the United States and has proved his ability by producing four teams to participate in Bowl games.

Twice his men have played in the Sugar Bowl, once in the Orange Bowl, and once in the Cotton Bowl.

"In business and professional life, the dad or some strong politician may get the boy a good job, but when he's out on the football field, he's on his own, and if he has it in him, he comes through all right, and if he doesn't, he fails," he told the group here.

Following Coach Meyer's talk, L. A. Manzer, president of the school board, presented special awards to Coach Scott McCall and assistant, John Lee. Coach McCall presented sweater awards to nineteen members of this year's squad; James Williams, Wendel Brewer, Will Joe Cummings, Dale Scott, Dick Wiles, Fred Decker, Herbert Bearden, LeRoy Jones, Lawson Holton, Max Sachse, W. D. Aldridge, Jr., Junior Melton, L. E. Gribble, Melvin Thompson, Olen Goodner, Fred Covey, Ernest Kendrick, Wayne Benson, and Dane Sisk.

Colored Men Go Into Army

Two Wellington men will be included in the draft call for colored soldiers to be inducted into the United States Army in the near future.

They are John Givens and Henry Lewis.

Only two other colored men have gone from this county previously.

Collingsworth County citizens, eager to do their part for their country, will have the opportunity to offer their services at the voluntary registration for civilian defense, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, February 13 and 14.

This registration is a part of the voluntary registration undertaken throughout the nation. It is under the County Defense setup, which is headed by Judge C. C. Bishop.

The registering will be in the Justice Court Room, on the second floor of the county court house. Volunteer workers will be in charge, and registering will begin at 10:00 a. m. each day.

There is nothing compulsory in this registration, those in charge point out. It is simply an opportunity for every patriotic citizen to offer himself for voluntary training in case of an emergency.

Under the plan, volunteers will be registered, along with personal data, list of each individual's skills, interests, and hobbies, and his indication of the emergency work he prefers to be trained to do.

This work includes first aid, auxiliary nursing, motor transport, office work, communications, diet and canteen work, emergency services, fire defense, air raid warden, fire watcher, rescue squad work.

Training in the various types of work will begin within the near future in order that all workers may be fully prepared in case an emergency should arise here.

I will appreciate your consideration for a second term.

Library Club Sponsors Puppets

Miss Doris Goodrich Jones and her Puppet Theatre will be sponsored here on Friday, Feb. 13, at 2:00 p. m. in the local high school auditorium by the Library Club of Wellington High School.

Miss Jones' Marionettes travelled over 16,000 miles last year, giving shows for school children, colleges, women's clubs, men's luncheon clubs, etc., in Texas and nearby states. Cowboy Pete, the Fiddler, and the little colored girl "Asthma," are very proud of their many appearances in their seven years of programs.

When asked what the difference is between a puppet and a marionette, Miss Jones says the puppets will explain it at her program. The plays used in the Puppet Theatre are original and are written around such characters as the negro mammy, Auntie Chloe, Zephie the Texas pony, Sniffer the pup, Peter Rabbit, Jimmy Scarecrow, Cowboy Pete and a dozen others.

In New York City, where Miss Jones has given her shows many times, she was dubbed the "lone puppeteer" as she alone operates the puppets, even when she has three on the stage at once, all acting their parts in her delightfully humorous plays.

Our bargain rate is over and a few people got left in the lurch. I have another offer to make. I will sell you the paper for the next two weeks for $1.50 for a year provided it is paid in Defense Stamps. Remember your money won't get this rate, but Defense Stamps will.

The following telegram just arrived from Congressman and Lieutenant Commander Eugene Worley from Washington:

"President just approved state WPA application five naught five six supplementary application to continue and complete improvements to municipal building totalling three thousand two hundred fifty nine dollars." signed Gene Worley.

If you were born after Feb. 17, 1897 or before Dec. 31 1921, remember February 16. You have a date with Uncle Sam. It is the date all men between 20 and 45 who did not register before will register under the Selective Service Act. Points of registration are: Wellington, Samnorwood, Dodson, Dozier, Rolla, Quail, Lutie and Aberdeen.

A growing demand for must stories is swamping this paper. Due to a shortage of personnel it is becoming harder to oblige everyone. Last week my wife and I did all the front end work. I would suggest that you get your copy in ahead of time. We are eager to do our best. Early copy will help us greatly and it might help you.

There won't be any vests with the double breasted suits. Manufacturers will be asked to cut out the frills and eliminate all unnecessary designs. Flaps on pockets and cuffs on trousers will soon be a thing of the past.

Last week you read on the front page of this paper that the Government had used its surplus stocks to nip in the bud an upward rise of farm products. It is a brake on agricultural communities that enjoy none of the benefits of war expenditures. It is possible that this condition may not last. There is a chance that the cotton surplus may be wiped out and it is the most difficult surplus of all.

It is my guess that farm prices will go higher, but do not depend on it. Don't make your plans on anything going in any given direction. Play safe. Produce as much as you can and pay as many debts as you can.

Cottonwood, Rolla, Buck Creek Clubs Learn First Aid

The Cottonwood women along with the Midway, Buck Creek and Rolla women are learning first aid in order to protect their families, and as a way in helping out national emergency. The Cottonwood homemakers will continue their practice of making bandages as a part of their first aid course in the home of Mrs. S. R. Davis on Thursday afternoon of this week.

However, they are going a step further and after an hour of practicing first aid each second and fourth Thursday, they will spend the rest of the afternoon knitting and sewing for the Red Cross. Every one is urged to bring their knitting needles and learn to knit.

This club is not limited to the Cottonwood community, and they are anxious for all those in nearby communities who are interested to meet with them.

Miss Allegra Gibbs, sponsor of the home adult classes, states that first aid is vital in war zones, but is also of extreme importance here in Collingsworth County. She pointed out that figures show more home and vehicle accidents were caused by deaths than any other source. Each was responsible for 32,000 deaths, and home accidents totaled 4,700,000 disabling injuries.

Doctor Terms Healthful Living A Patriotic Duty

AUSTIN.—"The term speed-up repeatedly is heard these days in connection with war defense production. Under the present international pressure the speed with which defense units can be manufactured in this country is almost phenomenal. However, an acceleration in mass production of war and allied material is one thing, and the persistent high-speed living indulged in by thousands is a different matter," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Hard work in itself is seldom harmful. The physical and mental breakdowns, which in ever increasing numbers are being brought to the attention of physicians, usually occur in men and women who are far removed from the exactions of an assembly-line. The recruits for shattered nerves are generally from those who do not lead physically strenuous lives. Habits which tend to devitalize plus misdirected use of leisure time represent the background for the majority of physical and mental crack-ups. In many other cases, where the consequences are less pronounced, supreme vitality has surrendered to false conceptions of the value of high-pressure practices upon which nature frowns.

"This speed-up which results in habitually robbing one's self of the required amount of sleep each night, which demands the stimulation of the excessive use of stimulants of any kind, which involves whipping up the nerves by constant excitement, and which consequently refuses to recognize the reconstructive and health-building advantages of out-door exercise and relaxation, can and frequently does end in serious and sometimes in permanent physical trouble. It is a scientific fact that over living man's capacity is a definite predicate for high blood pressure and other ills of advanced life. That these effects of ill-advised living usually take time to assert themselves definitely, perhaps is one of the real reasons for many persons to continue half-blissfully on their merry way.

"Quite aside from the personal responsibility to one's self in the development and maintenance of maximum health, is the added obligation in these uncertain days to conserve physical resources for whatever may be ahead.

"It follows that, however proud the United States and Texas may be of its high speed productive capacity, there is a patriotic duty for everyone to review his or her customary daily life, discover if any of the habitual speedy practices are affecting one's maximum health possibilities, and eliminate those which violate nature's basic laws."

Navy Has Big Name Flyers

Corpus Christi, Texas.—This is a story of a plumber's helper who laid away his tool . . . of a cabinet maker who turned away from his bench . . .

. . . of a night club empressario who sold out and a beer salesman who quit his route.

They all had something in common. They saw wings in their sleep—they wanted to fly.

They're working for their wings now at the Navy's University of the Air in Corpus Christi.

Some of their names you'll recognize: names that have been heard on college football fields or the cinder track.

Like All-American Rudy Gmitro of the University of Minnesota, stout, blond halfback that steamed up Big Ten gridirons a couple of years back.

Or Dick Gale of the University of Missouri, another All-American and outstanding mid-west athlete.

And before Boyce Gatewood entered training as naval aviation cadet, he had established a world's record in the shuddle hurdles at the University of Texas.

Jack Moore of Stanford was a member of his school's world record-holding 2-mile relay team.

Others became recognized for other achievements, like Bill Gunter, who was a tight rope walker in the Gainesville (Tex.) civic circus.

Bill Baldwin, described in the music world's bible, Downbeat, as "one of the best piano beaters in the business," entertained in swank supper clubs before entering training.

Arne Havu spent 14 months in the Yukon with the United States forestry service, and hit headlines as one of the "mercy fliers" who brought food and rescue to snow-bound arctic colonies.

Joe Marchel took vagabond trips throughout the world before the war became general, and reported his adventures in a northern syndicate of papers. He was secretary to the lieutenant governor of Minnesota and was considered first-grade political timber in capitol corridors.

This is the story of bank clerks, butchers, prize fighters, farmers, mechanics and lawyers who wanted to fly for the Navy . . .

Military flying has become grim business since they entered the Navy, but they take it in stride. A job must be done. They'll do it.

A Week Of The War

President Roosevelt told his press conference Pacific councils coordinating the war effort of the United States in the southwest Pacific have been operating for about a month. The military command in the ABDA area itself, the President said, is in the hands of Gen. Archibald Wavell, but strategic problems are referred to Washington and London. The joint military and naval staffs sit in Washington.

The Senate passed and sent to the White House a joint authorization for a $500,000,000 loan to China. President Roosevelt said the money will make it possible for the Chinese to purchase numerous war materials, both in China and in other countries. He said the loan would be a definite relief for the Chinese financial structure strained by the long war with the Japanese.

The White House announced the U. S. through the RAF had dropped a second pamphlet over several occupied French seaports in the "biggest pamphlet bombing job ever done." The first pamphlet, announced a month ago, stressed the traditional friendship between this country and France; the second told of the rapidly-expanding U. S. war production.

Air

A Navy aviation training program designed to develop 30,000 of the toughest pilots in the world annually for the Navy and Marine Corps will be put into operation by May 1, Navy Secretary Knox announced. Applications for training are now being accepted. Mr. Knox asked U. S. high school youths to aid the Navy by producing 500,000 aircraft models of 50 different types of fighting planes to be used in aircraft recognition and range estimation in gunnery practice and for training civilians in aircraft recognition. The Office of Civilian Defense invited college flyers and aviation enthusiasts to participate in the Civilian Air Patrol which is seeking to enlist 90,000 civilian pilots. Sixteen years is the minimum age for enrollment for ground service, and 18 for flight duty. The Civil Aeronautics Administration reported a 60 percent increase in private flying during 1941.

The War Front

Gen. MacArthur's troops in the Philippines repulsed continuous attacks by the enemy throughout the week. Enemy losses during the week included 11 planes plus an undetermined number destroyed in the air and on the ground in an attack on Japanese-occupied Marshall and Gilbert Islands, many fleet auxiliaries, two transports and "probably" a third, and an enemy warship torpedoed. U. S. losses were 13 planes, two tankers and two freighters. The Navy and Marine Corps reported 1,294 officers and men missing or prisoners of war. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to continue the pay of persons in the armed forces and civilian employees of the War and Navy for a year after reported missing, captured or interned.

Navy

Congress passed the largest appropriation bill in history of nearly $24 billion in direct cash appropriations and $4 billion in contract authorizations for the Navy. The Navy said 100,000 men have enlisted since the attack on Pearl Harbor, and the Marine Corps has passed the 100,000-man mark in officers and men, both reserves and regulars. Three destroyers and one battleship were launched and two more destroyers and one cruiser will be launched: Lincoln's birthday.

Selective Service

Selective Service Director Hershey asked local draft boards to aid deferment of apprentices in essential war production trades because there is a mounting demand for skilled workers. Gen. Hershey said a plan has been proposed for allowances and allotments to release for induction many registrants now deferred on grounds of dependency. In World War I, he said, payments up to $50 a month were made. He said no figures will be issued on the number of men who register February 16.

Shipping

President Roosevelt told his press conference emergency shipping schedules make it almost impossible to utilize full cargo capacity of American merchant vessels because war developments often make it necessary for the ship to sail without advance notice. The Maritime Commission said through cooperative action with American ship operators, imports of 10 important raw materials increased about 200 percent during 1941. The Commission maintained its ship-a-day construction schedule by launching 14 new vessels during the last half of January. Eight French merchant ships in U. S. ports were requisitioned by the Commission.

Production And Conversion

The WPB announced it cleared contracts amounting to $3 billion in the week ending January 21. The War Department announced production of .30 caliber ball ammunition was nearly doubled during the first three weeks of January 1942 over the corresponding period last year. War Department Production Director Knudsen announced the Chrysler Corporation will construct a $100,000,000 plant in Chicago to turn out Wright 12-cylinder air-cooled engines.

War Production Chairman Nelson announced adoption of a system of daily progress reports to check production delays "anywhere along the line." He merged priorities and subcontracting field offices in a new Bureau of Field Operations to provide "faster, more efficient service to business and industry." The WPB asked the typewriter manufacturing industry which produced 1,000,000 machines in 1941 to cut its normal production 25 percent immediately and convert its facilities to war production.

Central Information Service

President Roosevelt directed the United States Information Service to expand its facilities "so that visitors shall have one central place to which they can go for direction and information." The President said because many businessmen and other citizens "are coming to Washington in increasing numbers seeking information and assistance of their Government . . . it has become more and more difficult for those coming . . . on specific business to locate the Government official who can give authoritative answers to their questions. . . . It is now necessary that there be an integration of the various offices having direct contact with the public, and that their activities be coordinated under the direction of a central office."

Civilian Defense

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to create a $1,000,000,000 fund to compensate American property owners for war damages. The fund would compensate for losses other than life or personal injury to the extent of $15,000. OCD Executive Landis announced cities in target areas will not be required to submit requisitions for protective equipment including gas masks and auxiliary fire-fighting equipment to be provided by $100 million of Federal funds. He said the equipment would be allocated to the various areas according to their likelihood of attack, vulnerability and present equipment. Attorney General Biddle established a special War Frauds Unit within the Department of Justice to prosecute all cases involving frauds in connection with the war effort.

Civilian Supply

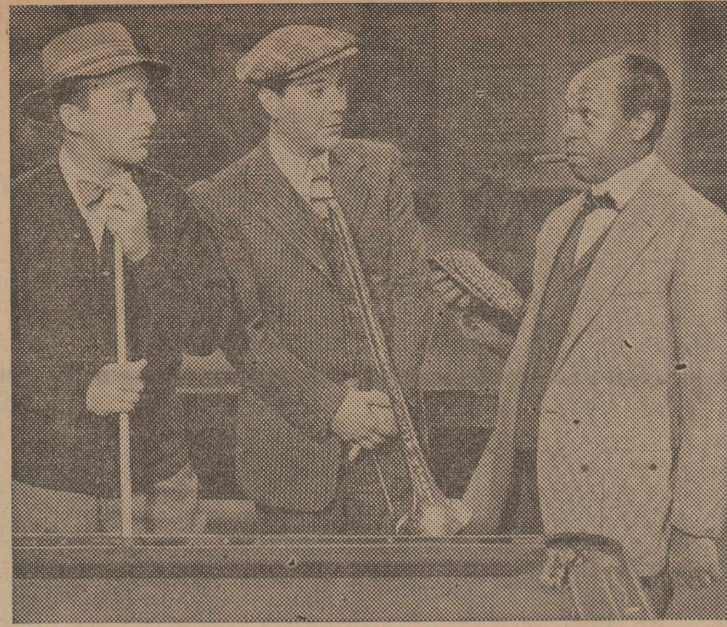

Price Administrator Henderson announced rationing of new passenger autos to eligible users will not begin before February 26, and delivery of cars purchased but not delivered before the Government froze all sales will begin February 12. The WPB Food Supply Branch asked sugar retailers to take care of small industrial users who have bought sugar from them in the past so they can conduct business on a minimum basis. The OPA Consumer Division said wool products sold during the emergency still must carry a label telling the fiber content of the article.

Prices

Price Administrator Henderson set ceiling prices for electric phonographs, radios and all tubes and parts at the levels of last October 15. He also set ceiling prices for washing machines and ironers. Wholesale and retail prices were set for passenger autos under the rationing program, including a provision to compensate dealers for storage expenses. The WPA reported that since the beginning of the defense program rents have been increased in 114 of 115 vital defense areas surveyed.

Government Calls For Stenographers In Washington

The Federal Government is in urgent need of Junior Stenographers for employment in Washington, D. C. The entrance salary for this position is $120.00 per month. The opportunities for later advancement are excellent for young men and women with ability. Applicants will be required to take an examination to receive an appointment to this position, consisting of a test in copying from plain copy and a dictation test. The shorthand speed has been reduced from 96 to 80 words a minute. Persons who are interested in employment as Jr. Stenographer in Washington should immediately contact the Secretary, U. S. Civil Service Board, Post Office, Wellington, or the Manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BILLIARDS AND BLUES

Bing Crosby and Jack Teagarden exchange those billiard cues for clarinet and trombone, respectively, when Rochester brings them the tidings that he has found the hottest jazz trumpeter in Dixieland, who turns out to be Brian Donlevy. All this goes on in Paramount's "Birth of the Blues," opening Prevue Saturday night at the Ritz Theatre, with Mary Martin.

Texas Safety Association, Austin.

Texas' greatest peacetime civic problem has now become its most serious home defense problem.

Traffic accidents exacted a toll of almost 2,000 lives in this state last year. Some 50,000 persons suffered injuries. The economic waste amounted to more than fifty million dollars.

A nation at war cannot afford traffic accidents. Victory cannot be won when home front losses 40,000 persons each year. One might think the ban on new automobiles and tires would solve the traffic problem automatically. Such a belief isn't supported by fact.

The ban might reduce accidents if it does three things:

1. Reduce sharply the number of cars in use.
2. Influence those who do use cars to drive less.
3. Influence motorists to drive more slowly and carefully to prevent excess wear or loss of the car in a wreck.

But it is more probable that other factors may cause an actual increase in the traffic toll. They are:

1. Motorists will be driving older cars, and may find it difficult to keep them in safe condition because of a shortage of spare parts and skilled mechanics.
2. Tires in many instances will be used beyond the safety point.
2. Many cars discarded as unfit for services will go back on the road.
4. The tempo and urgency of war production and transportation there aggravating the problems that already have sent the traffic toll to record proportions.
5. Blakouts are bringing new traffic hazards.

America is a big country. And yet, in almost every city, town and hamlet in the United States you will find a Boy Scout, or a man who was a Boy Scout. With a total of 10 million men and boys who are, or have been Scouts or Scouters during the life of the Boy Scouts of America it is hard to imagine many places where you would not find one or more Scouts.

Scouts are celebrating this week—they are celebrating the thirty-second anniversary of the founding of the movement in America. The Boy Scouts of this community are part of this gigantic, National birthday week.

In a very real sense this birthday celebration should be our celebration. We will be so much better if we keep Scouting alive and vigorous.

Character and citizenship, the aim and purpose of all Scouting activities are the real life blood of this and any other democratic community. These boys we see carrying on their Scouting and "good turn" activities are going to take our places some day. They can receive no finer training than Scouting affords them for citizenship in a free country.

Their course will be true—their heads high—because they stand by the Scout Oath and Law which reads:

"On my honor I will do my best—
To do my duty to God and my country,
and obey the Scout Law.
To help other people at all times.
To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

The million and one-half men in uniform will absorb 512,000,000 pounds of wool, or about one-third of the quantity being used in the United States this year. Despite the army demand, no shortage is in sight.

A War Department report says that the wool from 26 sheep, or about 200 pounds, is required to outfit a soldier with overcoat, jackets, pants, underwear, socks and hats needed during his first year of service.

Do not grow peanuts for harvest on the same land more often than once in three years, says Texas A. and M. College Extension Service experts. Harvesting peanuts on the same land year after year lowers the fertility and organic matter of the soil, and diseases come in to reduce yields.

OTHER EDITORS SAY--

• Sugar In West Texas

The shortage of imported sugar, together with the increased demand occasioned by use of sugar in making commercial alcohol for the war effort, makes more interesting the possibilities for raising sugar beets in this area. Sugar beets have been raised commercially in West Texas for several years, particularly in Floyd County, with apparently satisfactory results. Sugar beets have been raised experimentally by the plant industry department of Texas Tech, and the new conclusion of the experiments as voiced by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department, is that sugar beets can be grown profitably in West Texas.—The Brownfield News.

• How Do You Feel?

When you do it, Don't feel sorry for yourself, don't feel silly, and above all, don't feel rebellious about moving your clock. REMEMBER, over 130 million other patriotic Americans will be doing the same thing, under orders from the federal government. Take it from the federal government, it is a good thing or you wouldn't be asked to do it. Most of all, DON'T CHANGE YOUR TIME FOR DOING THINGS. Every American is expected to do his work, and have his play, and to get his sleep at the USUAL Hours. If we don't, the purpose of daylight saving time will be defeated.—Carl Rowe in The Turkey Enterprise.

• This School Does Its Part

Starting this week, the Buffalo High School begins a six-day-a-week schedule —By going on the new schedule, the students at the large—200 students—East Coleman County school will get out of school 13 days earlier in the spring. Thus, they will be able to assist in harvesting crops.—The Coleman Democrat-Voice.

• Hot Politics

Several sharply contested races are shaping up in Cottle County during the early stages of the 1942 political campaign, and interest is expected to reach the customary peak later in the campaign, despite the war.—Ed Carlock in The Pecos Post.

• Passed Along

IT IS NOT EASY—To apologize. To begin over. To admit error. To be unselfish. To take advice. To be charitable. To be considerate. To endure success. To keep on trying. To avoid mistakes. To forgive and forget. To maintain a standard. To keep out of the rut. To make the most of little. To see the silver lining. To shoulder a deserved blame. BUT IT ALWAYS PAYS.—Mountain Lion, Covington, Va., as quoted by Sam Braswell in The Clarendon News.

• Regard For Religion

In tire rationing, ministers are to be given the same consideration as doctors, nurses and other services essential to public health and safety. Our government is wise to recognize that spiritual welfare is at least as important as physical health. Importance of religion and the church in strengthening our people in this time of trial and stress cannot be over emphasized. Ours is a fundamentally religious nation, though often we have strayed far from our holy heritage. Our Declaration of Independence, our Constitution, and our most hallowed institutions are of a deeply religious nature.—The Stamford American.

Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

WASHINGTON. — Don't be surprised if soon you see young people wearing an emblem consisting of two carrots forming a V with a tomato between them on which are the words: "I have a garden."

If plans formulated by the National Defense Garden Conference go through, it is going to be very fashionable to have a garden. But the garden must be of the right kind. Land that is not suited for gardening must be left alone. To try things with it is just labor lost. And the kind of things that can grow on suitable land must also be studied. Expert advice will be necessary.

The conference, which was recently held in Washington under auspices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Federal Security Administration, decided that the campaign should be for farm vegetable gardens, farm fruit gardens and community and school gardens.

There will thus be something like the approach which the British made to the subject in the last World War and even more so in the present one.

In Britain not only are farmers encouraged to grow vegetables for their own use, but in the cities wherever there is empty ground, allotments are made on which the city toiler can grow things for his kitchen. It has worked wonders in cutting the cost of living for the gardeners and also giving them a welcome addition to their menu.

The Washington conference recommended that in each state there should be a committee to set standards for adequate victory farm gardens and to make recommendations as to the kinds of vegetables that will best meet nutritional defense needs.

BRIEF TOPICS

One hundred fifty University of Texas co-eds have begun knitting for some of the 1,600,000 soldiers in the U. S. Army and for refugees. Under supervision of the Red Cross, members of the Present Day Club at the University are knitting garments needed by men in camps and by refugees who have lost their homes in Europe's war.

In a test of 308 days by the Department of Agriculture, pellets fed mash in pellet form each averaged 17 eggs more than those fed unpeletted mash. Feed consumption for each group was practically identical.

T. F. Hopping of Buffalo was fined $10 for cruelty to animals when he pleaded guilty to throwing a bird cage, bird and all, at his wife.

In order to speed production of physicists, badly needed in the nation's war effort, the University of Texas is doubling up basic courses and is offering advanced work needed to train workers for physics duty in the services. Electronics and acoustical work is being particularly stepped-up.

"Do you still think I can't drive well enough to use the car? I just covered the last 10 miles in nine minutes."

The Bright Side

Useless
Wife (learning to drive): "Henry, that little mirror up there isn't set right."
Husband: "Isn't it?"
Wife: "No, I can't see anything except the car behind us."

Variable
"Does your wife keep her temper under control?"
"Absolutely. She can make it bad, terrible, or insufferable, whichever she prefers."

Sound Reasoning
Two drunks were driving along a country road.
"We're coming to a big city," said one.
"How can you tell?"
"We're hitting more people."

No Protection
The saying is that heaven will protect the working girl; but nothing is said about who will protect the man she is working.

About Face
A salesman was dismissed because of a lack of courtesy to customers. A month later the sales manager spotted him walking along in a police uniform.
"I see you've joined the force, Jones," said the sales manager.
"Yes," said Jones. "This is just the job I've been looking for all my life. On this job the customer is always wrong."

Ought To
Contractor: "Does the foreman know that ditch caved in?"
Laborer: "Well, if he don't we'll tell him when we get him dug out."

Just Jones
Hunter (to guide): "What's the name of the animal I just shot."
Guide: "Well, sir, I've just been over and had a look and he says his name is Jones."

Co-Operation
"We're going to give the bride a shower."
"Count me in; I'll bring the soap."

Joe
Joe didn't listen, look or stop; They dragged his car off to a shop. It only took a week or two To make his car look good as new. But though they hunted high and low, They found no extra parts for Joe.

The optimist laughs to forget; the pessimist forgets to laugh.

Just and Unjust
First Communist: "Nice weather we're having."
Second Communist (grudgingly): "Yes, but the rich are having it, too."

Came To Just in Time
"And you gave up drinking at her request?"
"Yes."
"And you stopped smoking for the same reason?"
"Yes."
"And it was for her that you gave up dancing, card parties, and billiards?"
"That's right."
"Then why on earth didn't you marry her?"
"Well, after all that reforming, I realized I could do better."

One Thing at a Time
"But, dear, if we buy this car, how are we going to pay for it?"
"Now, now, let's not confuse the issue by considering two problems at once."

Man: "When I was in Europe, I saw a woman hitched with a mule."
She: "That happened at my wedding, too."
Labor Saver
"I have my husband eating right out of my hand."
"That must save a lot of dish washing."

Dirty Work
"What's these here names doin' on the pay roll?" asked the political boss.
"Them," the appointee retorted. "Them two birds is the ones that does the work."

I Saw

—By VIRGINIA ROBEY

All this about Daylight Saving Time got most of Wellington well mixed up, most of us not being quite sure whether we were eating when we used to, or working longer hours, till we could hardly work at all. But as almost everyone agreed it would probably work out all right, I SAW

Frank Anderson saying he didn't see how on earth he could hear his favorite morning radio programs now unless he got up an hour earlier, which he didn't plan to do. . . Juanita Clark saying she actually worked just the hours she had been, but because the clock said 1:00 p. m. when she went to lunch it seemed like the morning had been a lot longer.

J. W. Wells out writing down the serial number of his tires. . . Ruby James and Mrs. Lawrence Gillespie getting together to talk over plans for something. . . S. W. Norwood stopping by to discuss politics. . . Dr. E. W. Jones, Rev. J. E. Kirby, Ollie Raburn, Bura Handley, Dr. J. F. Johnson, Jack Hurst, J. L. Beard, and Scott McCall coming in to meet with Herschel Combs on a jumped-up Rotary committee meeting.

Lloyd Graham looking as if he might be having a breathing spell as he helped wind up the ginning season down at the Cop Gin. . . R. A. Williams talking to a farmer friend about spring repair problems. . . Fred Allison having difficulty getting folks to understand what he said, all because of a throat ailment.

Mrs. A. L. Cochran not letting the sandstorm disturb her habitual pleasantness one bit. . . Marvin Englander looking over one of his own display windows carefully, like he might be criticizing his own work. . . Elmore Dodson of Dodson, an honorary member of the Rotary Club, up to attend one of its meetings.

Mrs. Fred Boyd and daughter of Dodson up shopping and window shopping. . . Don Smith proudly wearing a jacket which he won at a recent Golden Gloves Boxing tournament. . . Mrs. Guy Beasley buying material for a program of the Women's Society of Christian Service at Dozier.

Gas Company Warns Builders

United Gas Corporation through its district manager, R. W. Lindsey, announced today that those who are planning to build new homes should first inquire at the gas company to make certain that gas service is available at the site of the new structure.

"Government regulations restrict the use of steel and other critical materials used in gas main extensions," Mr. Lindsey said. "Before construction of the house begins, inquiry should be made of the company in order to avoid the possibility of inconvenience and disappointment."

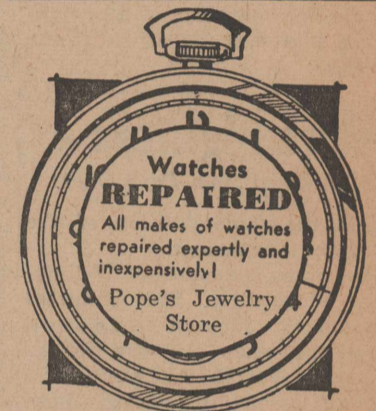

"We are anxious to serve our customers, but we are sure they will agree that our first duty is to cooperate fully in the great national task of conserving important materials necessary to the winning of this war," he concluded.

Dear Mr. Wells:

I am wondering how cold the winter has been up there. I have not seen any natural ice down here this winter! The winters are fine here but I am thinking Collingsworth may have it beat for summer weather.

I am getting along very favorably with my battle with the mosquitoes here.

We have moved into Edinburg and I wish you would have the address on The Leader changed to the above address.

Yours sincerely,

Aberdeen Farmers Finish Gathering Best Crop In Decade

By MRS. JOHN LIGHT

Farmers of the Aberdeen community are just now completing the gathering of one of the best crops in a number of years. Some cotton yields per acre have exceeded those in the past 10 years combined. The cotton yield varied due to type of soil. Too much rain caused later planting by many farmers. Some varieties of seed for later planting has increased the yield more than twice as much. With a bumper feed crop, the 1941 year brought farmers here the largest cash income of more than a decade.

The buying committee, which will make all purchases to carry on the work here, are Mrs. Walter Campbell and Mrs. John Coleman. "We will need the co-operation of all women of the county during the coming year," Mrs. Harper said. "The effort put forth since this work was started here has been largely responsible for the splendid results this county has obtained. With this same fine co-operation, we will be able to accomplish just as much in the months ahead."

Mrs. Peoples, chairman of the cutting committee, said: "Quite a few ladies have already expressed their willingness and desire to help cut Red Cross garments. If you have not been contacted and would like to help with this work, call me. Cutting will be in the county court room on the second floor of the courthouse. We are anxious for, and will appreciate all the assistance the ladies of the county can render at a time when we are supposed to be our brother's keeper."

Mrs. Harper said that a part of the thread for knitted garments has arrived, and that materials for sewing are expected within a few days.

Workers met Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 11, at 2:00 p. m. in the county court room, and are scheduled to meet again next week at the same time.
