PRESIDENT TO GIVE 3 TALKS ON RADIO SOON

DEFICIENCY MEASURE BEATEN BY LONG FILIBUSTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The new social security bill was reported in authoritative quarters today to have given up its plans to grant aid to states this year for old age pensions and other parts of the social security program.

This word preceded a White House conference at which President Roosevelt and congressional leaders arranged to canvass how the bill could be financed until January.

Loss of the deficiency bill before the filibuster by Senator Long (D., La.) last night left it without funds.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt called senate and house leaders into conference today to study means to finance the social security and other programs left stranded through defeat of the deficiency bill last night.

Invited in (at 3:30 p. m.) were Senators Robinson (D-Ark.) and Byrnes (D-S. C.), Speaker Byrnes, Chairman Buchanan of the house appropriations committee, as well as Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury and Comptroller General McCarl.

Authoritative reports were that the president, exercised over the loss of the important legislation through the last minute filibuster of Senator Long (D-La.), was contemplating three radio speeches, starting tomorrow, in which the defeat of the legislation and the results would be discussed.

Although there were conflicting expressions as to what handicaps failure of the bill might impose upon such new agencies as the social security commission, labor relations board and railroad pension agency, capitol consensus was that the primary part of the program would go ahead. Some of the $4,000,000,000 relief money may be used temporarily.

Turbulent and tense to the very last instant of its strife-torn first session, the 74th congress headed homeward today leaving anxious Roosevelt leaders seeking ways to obtain millions in funds cut off by a

AAA Explains Payment Plan Under New Loan Scheme; Loan to be 10c.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The AAA announced today that subsidies to be paid cotton farmers under the new loan and payment plan would be limited to two cents a pound.

The government agreed yesterday to lend ten cents a pound on cotton produced this year under the control program and to guarantee producers a total return of 12 cents a pound. This was a compromise with southern senators who wanted a 12-cent loan.

Charles C. Davis, the farm administrator, explained today that "adjudgment payments" to farmers under the plan will be limited to two cents.

An AAA statement said: "This explanation was made to clarify any erroneous impression that might have been drawn from the announcement of the new policy yesterday and in response to inquiries as to whether the producers would receive the difference between the average price and 12 cents in the event the average price declined below the 10-cent level.

"The government's commitment to pay producers the difference between the average price and 12 cents is limited to two cents per pound," Mr. Davis stated, "and if it should develop that prices drop below ten cents—a highly improbable contingency—producers would be expected to put their cotton in the loan and wait for prices to recover."

In other words, should the price go below 10 cents farmers would be expected to apply for the 10-cent a pound loan offered by the government and hold their cotton until the market quotations reached that level.

Further announcements were predicted as fast as additional details are worked out by the farm administration.

BCD To Combat Any Injurious Oil Proposals

Proposals made to the Railroad Commission which are deemed injurious to the Panhandle oil field development will be combatted by the Pampa Board of City Development as they arise, it was determined by members last night.

A current proposal regarded as dangerous is that to drastically reduce the oil-gas ratio. Many operators declare that the proposal, if adopted, would close many wells and dangerously restrict the available gas for casinghead gasoline plants and carbon black plants.

Executives of the plants were questioned by B. C. D. members last night in an effort to learn the probable effect of such an order. The board will proceed to accumulate data and prepare a brief concerning the investments and payrolls which can be adversely affected by too drastic rulings.

The Board reiterated its belief in conservation as a public policy.

Solons Clash On Liquor Law Form

AUSTIN, Aug. 27 (AP)—Governor Alfred said today he believed a special session of the legislature would be convened Sept. 16 to pass a liquor regulation and tax law and provide for old age pensions. The governor said he expected to announce the date definitely within a few days.

The governor said legislators differed widely on the time for the session, some advocating an immediate call and others suggesting it be delayed.

Governor Alfred said it would require two or three weeks to outline a legislative program and write bills for submission. He said he had not decided if any subjects other than

Suggested Tax Taken Under Advisement By Commission

City commissioners last night received for study a franchise desired by the telephone company, whose franchise has expired.

The proposed new franchise would have a lifetime of 20 years. A franchise tax of about $525 a year was suggested by the company as part of the City took this item under advisement. The amount would approximately equal the annual City expenditure for its own telephone service. The telephone company pays an ad valorem tax which amounts to about $100 a month.

W. G. Riddle, district manager, and E. Hooks, local manager, represented Southwestern Bell Telephone company. They said there were about 1600 telephones or "stations" in Pampa now, although the plant has a much larger capacity.

However, Mr. Riddle readily agreed that another panel on the board was needed to handle peak loads, and added that this would be completed by October 1. Then, he said, the longest wait for a connection would be 10 seconds and instant service would usually be given.

Concerning a dial system, he said that his company was ready to install one whenever the citizens were ready to pay the necessary higher rate. He said that seldom are dial systems used in cities of this size, inasmuch as the manual system is virtually as efficient and provides more employment. No saying would accrue to the company, he added, because girl operators would be replaced by a higher-salaried corps of machinists. He showed rates in other cities to illustrate that dial systems are 50 to 100 per cent more

Three inches of rain! That is the total of the precipitation which fell in the Pampa area yesterday afternoon and last night. With the rain yesterday came hail which beat out windows and damaged roofs. Wind broke 3 panes of plate glass at Pampa Motor company, one at L. T. Hill company, and smaller glass at several other places. Gardens and flowers were stripped of leaves and blossoms by the hail.

Yesterday's driving downpour was limited to a narrow belt of which

The rain and wind did considerable damage at Road Runner park and forced postponement of the next game. There will be no game tonight, but the tourney will be resumed tomorrow. Wind blew down the fence on the east side of the park and also did some damage to the lights. The field was partly under water early today, but was drying fast. Damage was being repaired.

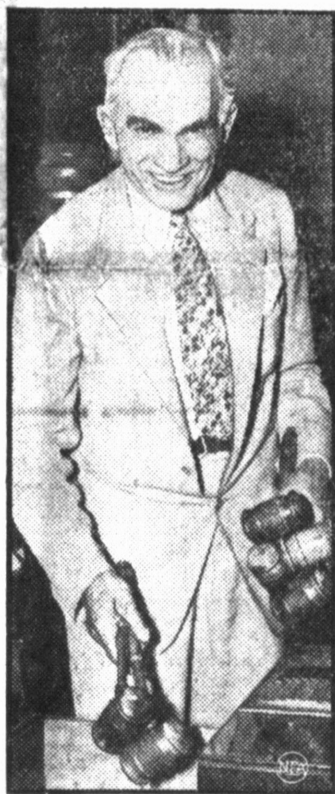

Pampa was the center. Nearby points received mere sprinkles. LeFors had no rain yesterday, but was visited by a heavy downpour last night. Pampa Harvesters, in camp on the Mel Davis place, were forced to crowd into limited tentage for protection. Last night's rain was rather general over this area, although the amounts of moisture varied considerably. There was a portion on the west, W. J. Brown reported, which received very little rain.

In Pampa, the precipitation yesterday afternoon was 1.85 inches, and last night 1.15 inches. The night fall was similar east, south, and northeast of here, farmers reported. Row crops will be much benefitted where not damaged by hail, and wheat lands will be in better condition for planting, which normally starts about Sept. 15.

WPA DIRECTOR OF JOBS TO BE HERE THURSDAY

Sewing Room Will Be Sought As Works Project

R. W. Willis, director of projects and planning in this WPA district, will be in Pampa Thursday to meet the county planning board recently formed.

Mr. Willis will meet the board in the courthouse at 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

Gray county commissioners yesterday appointed Mayor W. A. Bratton, city representative, to represent them as well, believing a smaller body would be more efficient. Hank Breining of LeFors is temporary chairman of the board.

County commissioners yesterday voted to sponsor a sewing room for women as a works project. There will be little county expense, but space must be found. If the county agents move to the postoffice building as planned, their quarters can be used.

Only three projects for WPA have been submitted in Gray county. These are the field house and stadium for McLean high school, work on the LeFors-Alanreed road, and five double tennis courts in Pampa. These are inadequate for the number of men available here, and Sept. 30 is the deadline for submission of WPA proposals.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, probably local showers in extreme west portion tonight and Wednesday.

BUS SYSTEM IN CITY SUGGESTED BY F. S. BROWN

TAX DISTRICTS TO SEEK BASIC VALUE SYSTEM

Detailed Survey Of All Properties To Be Made

Representatives of the city, county, and school district yesterday afternoon decided to collaborate in an effort to arrive at a basic property value system of assessing taxes. WPA labor will be sought for a detailed appraisal or survey of all properties in the county.

After the survey is made, each body will appoint a competent man and the three appointees will arrive at the uniform value allotted each piece of property.

Those present agreed that it would be desirable to have a uniform basis of valuation and vary only in the percentage of the value total needed to meet requirements of the school, city, or county.

It was brought out, however, that should the county-city-school values be raised considerably when revenue needs increase, state taxes—with county assessments as the basis—might place a penalty on taxpayers. This circumstance, however, is not yet in sight, and could be met by working with lower assessments and higher rates.

There was a lengthy discussion about the possibility of having joint sessions of the three boards of equalization, or their representatives, and to have an expert appraisal of all property every few years. This system is in use in many cities and states. Those present agreed that injustices through inequalities of assessment chiefly affect the smaller properties. Instances were cited to show that city, county, and school value bases varied as much as 200 per cent on identical property.

Mayor W. A. Bratton, who called

BUS SYSTEM IN CITY SUGGESTED BY F. S. BROWN

Commission Acts To Give Franchise To Pampa

F. S. Brown proposes to give Pampa a first class bus system, he told the city commission last night.

After a discussion, the commission expressed willingness to grant him a franchise to operate. On the basis of this assurance, Mr. Brown will proceed to form a corporation and City Attorney John Sturgeon will draft the proposed franchise.

Mr. Brown said that he did not expect the buses to pay dividends at the start but thought they would eventually prove to be a good investment. He proposes to have an east-west loop with two buses and a north-south loop or one or more buses. Other buses would be held in reserve for football games and other events.

Estimated cost of the system would be between $12,000 and $15,000, Mr. Brown estimated. Standard buses would be used and one of the cheaper rates adopted. The system would pay an annual franchise tax.

Roosevelt Will Sign Neutrality Bill Late Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The unprecedented neutrality policy went to the statute books today, with President Roosevelt choosing late afternoon to approve the resolution.

The new course is a sharp departure from traditional American policy in that it is mandatory upon the president.

In addition, the legislation sets up a munitions board to control licensing of arms exports.

It authorizes the president to proclaim that Americans traveling on ships of warring nations do so at their own risk, to forbid American ships to carry arms to any belligerent or any neutral port for shipment to a nation at war, and to keep foreign submarines out of American ports.

Attorney Offers Land Buying Plan

The B. C. D.'s land committee appointed to assist in selection and purchase of a site for a fairground, will meet with the city commission next Monday.

The original proposal was to raise the B. C. D. levy from 7 to 15 cents and to use the 8-cent difference for purchase of land. City Attorney John Sturgeon advised the city commission last night that this procedure would involve legal and administrative complications, inasmuch as the city would have to own the land and handle all revenues. He suggested that instead the City consider going the route provided in a state law of 1933, which empowers cities to make 5-cent levies for purchase of park land and 5-cent levies for improvements on such lands. Thus the levy, over a period of 3 or 4 years, would be 10 cents on the $100 valuation instead of the 8-cent levy originally proposed.

Many cities of Texas, including Dallas, have found it desirable to own and operate their fairgrounds as parks, Mr. Sturgeon told the commission.

Fred Cullum, Mark Graham, and J. E. Wynne of the B. C. D. conferred with the commission.

VIOLATION OF ANY PROMISES IS DISCLAIMED

SOVIET OFFICIAL SAYS NO FACTS WERE PRESENTED

By JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff
MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Soviet government today replied with a rejection to the United States' note protesting against activities of the seventh congress of the third communist international.

Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the United States received a note from Under-Commissioner N. N. Krestinsky which read:

"Your note of August 25 contains no facts which could be regarded as a violation on the part of the Soviet government of its obligations.

"On the other hand, it is undoubtedly nothing new for the government of the United States that the government of the union of Soviet socialist republics cannot assume and has never assumed any obligations as regards the communist international."

Krestinsky summed up by saying: "I cannot accept your protest and I am compelled to reject it." Verbal protests by the British, Italian and Latvian governments against statements by speakers in the recent seventh congress of the third international were "rejected immediately" by the Soviet government. This announcement was made today.

The American protest was delivered Sunday. The other three governments made their protests prior to that of the United States.

The British protest was made Aug. 19 when Lord Chilton, the British ambassador, called on Vice-Commissioner N. N. Krestinsky.

Lord Chilton attacked remarks made by George Dimitroff, Bulgarian communist leader, who, in a speech before the international, accused the British national government of clearing the way for fascism.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Soviet rejection of the American protest against interference in American affairs will—in the opinion of well-informed observers—force the United States to review the character of its future relationship with the Soviet Union.

Secretary Hull declined any comment today on the Soviet action pending receipt of official dispatches from William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador.

While the American note served blunt warning on Moscow of "serious consequences," it was believed by observers here that for the time being at least, there will be no definite break in friendly relations.

Expectation was, however, that relations between the two nations may be reduced to the bare and necessary formalities, and lack the friendly tone that has characterized Soviet-American intercourse since President Roosevelt's recognition.

The Leading Stores of Pampa Offer Back-To-School Values Look For The Cards In The Window

EDITORIAL

LIQUOR IS NOT ONLY EVIL

In repealing the Texas prohibition amendment, the people have stipulated that they were opposed to "the open saloon." Admittedly then, the open sale of hard liquors is an evil and one that has been prohibited in the new amendment.

Just what an "open saloon" is, the legislature must define. Almost any kind of definition could, in law, be invoked.

If liquor were the only evil, the question would be much simpler. Sold only to adults, in a limited number of places, consumed privately or at least unostentatiously and in small amounts, it is more of a personal, moral problem than a public menace. But the thirst for dollars drives those who sell it to absurd and anti-social ends. In the present instance, as before prohibition, some of those who expect to sell liquor under state law are showing no respect for the law and the will of the people. Those who "jump the gun" in the present instance are the greatest menace to the wet "side." The public will be quick to resent such tactics.

Texas is officially and legally dry until the vote is canvassed. That cannot begin before Sept. 7. Texas counties which were dry at the time prohibition became effective (1919) will remain dry until voted wet. No local option election can be held until election machinery is set up by the legislature, according to Attorney General William McCraw. Date of the special session call is uncertain.

As expected, legal obscurities abound. While the Dean or enforcement law will officially end as to wet counties when the state vote is canvassed, it will continue its penalties as applied to dry counties until the legislature sets up other penalties, if the attorney general is right. If the courts should hold that the Dean law is inoperative as to dry counties, there would be no penalties, in dry counties, until voted by the legislature. No one doubts that, under such an interpretation, Texas would be uniformly wet for several weeks.

But it should be understood that under McCraw's ruling Gray county and the state will continue dry until the state election canvass and Gray county will continue to be dry until and unless the voters in a local option election decide to have a wet county. The will of the people will determine the result, but in the meantime the duty of officers to enforce the law continues unchanged.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 27 (AP)—The tremendous interest in the tragic death of Will Rogers and Wiley Post was reflected in the queries which flooded the capitol press room when reports of the fatal plane crash got about.

State department heads, employees and even a colored janitor sought information on the passing of the beloved humorist, and high and low joined in eulogizing him. Governor Alfred voiced the grief of the state in an official proclamation.

Governor Alfred has used the airplane more often than any other governor notwithstanding he once said he was a poor air traveler. Throughout the summer he has hoped to many sections of the state in a national guard plane.

His preference for flying has developed mostly since he became chief executive and has been stimulated by the necessity for saving time. When in a national guard plane, which is open, he wears a parachute.

Employees of the attorney general's department threw a little party for their chief the other day, loading his desk with gifts and standing by while he unwrapped them. It was the 39th anniversary of his birthday.

A miniature airplane, suggestive of McCraw's flying habits, hung from the ceiling, while ribbons ran down to an elaborate collection of socks, neckties, cigars and handkerchiefs. In the center was huge watermelon, a gift of Assistant Attorney General Red Marrow.

McCraw had a big laugh upon finding a shirt with size 15 collar. He wears a 17.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, who has been conducting a kind of one-man investigation of the oil industry, says he has "found a few ducks" and will keep on looking. He admits he has uncovered nothing likely to shake the foundations of the state.

As chairman of a sub-committee, he has questioned a number of witnesses in his office and is willing to question more if he can get them there. Because the contingent fund was exhausted long ago, his committee is out of money.

The suggestion has been made that the re-vamped Texas rangers would not look bad in uniform if something snappy and distinctive, like that of the Royal Northwest Mounted, was chosen.

One objection would be that a nice, loud uniform like the brilliant red of the "mounties" would not help the Rangers in their new status as detectives.

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Grizzled veteran of famous congressional battles for more than 30 years, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is still winning victories.

His latest triumph was won largely at the expense of his former secretary, J. R. McCarl, long since grown powerful as comptroller general. McCarl wanted to get TVA finances under his thumb. And TVA is the senator's cherished child.

The controversial TVA amendments, designed chiefly to protect TVA against invalidation by courts, went through the Senate as Norris and other friends of the project desired. But a hostile House military affairs committee mangled them so as to hamstring the TVA directors seriously. The House repaired some of the damage, repudiating its committee, but the House measure was still in such shape when it reached conference that Norris, head of the Senate conferees, couldn't accept them.

Speaker Joe Byrns appointed a House conference committee, four of whose five members were hostile to TVA. Congressman Lister Hill of Alabama was the only friend Norris had in the House group. The outlook seemed hopeless.

After weeks of deadlock, the conference suddenly reported out a bill far more favorable than any friend of TVA had dared anticipate.

Norris and Hill, throwing every ounce of energy into their persuasion, had won over two of the House conferees, giving them a majority on that side. The inside story is this:

The Norris threat to tie up the issue until next session, making TVA a campaign issue unless it were treated fairly now, was backed up by pregnant messages from an important gent at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue and by his congressional contact man, Charles West.

Chairman John McSwain of the House conferees, a South Carolinian and secret foe of TVA, was caused to remember that his state seeks 20 or 30 million dollars for a certain Santee-Cooper river navigation and power project.

Congressman Numa Montet of Louisiana, who has broken with his old friend Huey Long, was forcibly reminded that no anti-Kingfish candidate could be re-elected in Louisiana without strong administration support.

After McSwain and Montet saw the light, it was all over.

The net effect is to let TVA do approximately whatever it finds necessary to achieve success and to knock out hampering restrictions. The TVA directors have insisted that they must be allowed some of the flexibility and freedom of a business corporation and a minimum of red tape.

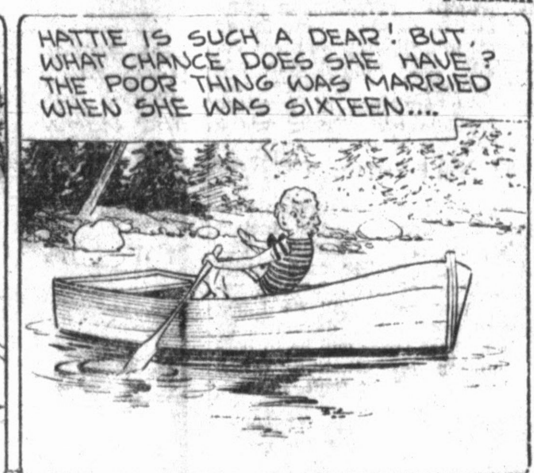

McCarl, instead of getting the firmer hold on TVA finances for which he had hoped and worked, receives a setback. Although still authorized to audit TVA accounts, his comments can no longer be heralded—as they were recently by "power trust" representatives—as a "report" damning the development. McCarl's reports hereafter will be subject to TVA scrutiny and accompanying explanation or answer before they are submitted.

On a German spy was found a fountain pen "which projects a liquid producing a deep sleep." A typewriter, operated by certain authors, has a similar effect.

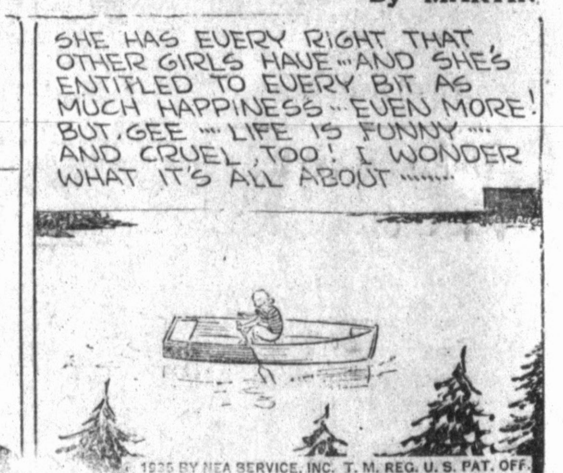

Col. Frank Knox, prospective G. O. P. presidential candidate, attacks Roosevelt's tactics. But then the Democrats prefer Frank Knox to sly innuendo.

The Detroit ball club has begun a war on scalpers, but the announcement reportedly has failed to daunt the Indians.

Verdict Jeered As Salica Wins Bantam Crown

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Lou Salica of New York was bantam-weight champion of the world today, but he probably found little pleasure in reviewing the opinions of fight experts, most of whom believed he was outpunched by Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico in 15 rounds last night.

Salica had the best of his brown-skinned opponent at long range, but he retreated time and again as Escobar closed in to jolt him with body blows.

Wilmer Allison and Van Ryn Win National Doubles

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 27. (AP)—Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn held their second national doubles championship today, disproving the decision of unofficial U. S. Davis Cup selections committee that they were too old for international play.

They defeated Don Budge and Gene Mako, young Californians, on the Longwood courts yesterday, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 2-6, 6-1.

It was the second time since the Davis Cup disaster the veteran Allison and Van Ryn combination engaged the Californians, and it was their second five-set victory.

Allison and Van Ryn played perhaps the best tennis of their long career to win yesterday's final. A barrage of baffling lobs and savage cross-court firing forced Budge and Mako to retreat in the fifth set.

Allison was the dominating figure, bearing the brunt of long rallies and scoring in so many of them that he ended the match with the amazing total of 33 placements, against 19 for Van Ryn, 21 for Mako and 19 for Budge.

It was because he went after the most returns, that Allison recorded the most errors. He finished up with 55 miscues, while Van Ryn and Budge had 52 each and Mako 48.

VAUGHAN AND GREENBERG DUE TO BE VOTED MOST VALUABLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—The twin batting heroes of the major league races, Arky Vaughan, Pirate shortstop, and big Hankus Pankus Greenberg, first sacker of the Detroit Tigers, are headed for honors as the most valuable players of the 1935 season, baseball writers believe.

The final month of campaigning may cause some switches in judgment but the powerhouse clouting of Greenberg, who is leading both leagues in home runs and runs batted in, has gained him a sweeping endorsement so far.

An Associated Press poll of the big league experts showed 30 of 46 experts naming him as the No. 1 American leaguer of the year.

His closest rival, pitcher Wes Ferrell of the Boston Red Sox, collected ten votes.

Opinion is more divided in the National league although it appears Vaughan will gain recognition as batting king with one of the high-

Cardinals Also Lose Game But Retain League Lead

By ANDY CLARKE Associated Press Sports Writer

The mailed fist has been substituted for the kid glove in the Cardinals' camp.

Bill Terry sat down to consider the situation after the Cards wrestled the lead from the New York Yankees last night. He remembered his own prophecy earlier in the season, that the Giants would wind up about 20 games ahead of the second place club, and he began to wonder if the turbulence of the St. Louis bad boys hadn't something to do with their baseball success; if the honey and roses atmosphere he tried to maintain in his own dugout wasn't conducive to defeat.

"If I'm going to lose I can lose with nine men as well as 23. From now on the issue isn't the pennant. It's your jobs. If you play winning ball, the pennant will take care of itself. If you don't, not many of you will be here for another chance next year."

The boys apparently understood, but they went out yesterday and dropped another to Pittsburgh, 10-2. Manager Pie Traynor led a 15-hit attack on four pitchers, collecting a homer with the bases loaded to send the Bucs away in the initial frame. Then he added four singles. He drove in six runs.

It was the Cardinals' opportunity to slip back into the favored niche too, for the Cards were defeated at Philadelphia, 4-3.

Civille Jorgen held the Cards to nine scattered hits but Bill Walker, on the mound for the champs, gave way to Jesse Haines after allowing nine hits in six innings.

The Reds defeated Brooklyn, 3-2. Babe Herman's ninth-inning homer provided the winning margin.

The Yankees and the Chicago White Sox played five and a half hours of baseball yesterday to no avail as far as league positions were concerned. Chicago took the first game, 9-8, but the McCarthy men came back to cop the nightcap, 7-5.

The first game went 15 innings with Zeke Bonura stealing home with the run that won. Lou Gehrig hit for the circuit in the first game to run his season total up to 26. Darkness halted the second game after seven innings.

The Philadelphia Athletics broke even with the league leading Detroit Tigers, the champions taking the first game 10-7 and Philadelphia the second 3-2. Tommy Bridges allowed but four hits in the second game, but errors by Owen and Rogell in the ninth let in two Philadelphia runs. Jimmy Fox hit his 28th homer of the season in the seventh, getting his 27th in the first game.

Hal Trosky's 22nd home run ended Cleveland to defeat the Red Sox 4-3 and go into third place ahead of Boston.

EL DORADO, Ark., Aug. 27. (AP)—Managers Lena Styles of Pine Bluff and Guy Lacey of Jackson were master minding today in search of the best pitching and batting combinations to place on the field here Thursday night when the East Dixie League championship playoff starts.

Neither skipper was ready to reveal his choice of starting pitcher or to discuss possible changes in lineups that might be used. Both expressed confidence that their teams, winners of the two halves of the league's split season, were in the best shape to win the bunting.

The schedule calls for games in Jackson Saturday and Sunday. If the playoff goes more than four games, the fifth contest will be played in Jackson.

Meanwhile, in the West Dixie League of East Texas, four teams begin a Shaughnessy playoff today. The winner among the teams of Tyler, Longview, Jacksonville and Palestine will meet the winner of the Jackson-Pine Bluff series for the Dixie championship.

HORSE ENTRIES IN RACE MEET TO SET MARK

PROBABLY 300 RACERS WILL BE ENTERED AT PANHANDLE

PANHANDLE, Aug. 27. (AP)—With more than 100 horses in the barns early this week, indications were that entries would set a record at the Southwest Race Meet, which will be held in Panhandle Aug. 31 to Sept. 7, inclusive.

A car of 12 horses arrived by freight Monday from Loveland, Colo.

C. E. Deahl, president, returned home Monday from a month's racing in the north. He entered horses in meets at Billings, Great Falls, and Helena, Mont.; Loveland, Trinidad, and Pueblo, Colo. Previously he had been at Omaha, Neb., and other cities.

Deahl said that more than 100 horses would come here from the meets he had attended. Another 50 or 75 should come here from Oklahoma according to advance reservations for stalls.

D. E. Hill of Hill & Hill, reservation men, came here this week from his home at San Antonio and said he knew of at least 50 horses coming here from South Texas.

Supt. M. B. Davidson expects 250 to 300 horses to be in the Panhandle meet. Already he is worrying about plans to stable the horses, and it is believed that another barn or two will be built this week.

Never has there been such interest manifested in the Panhandle meet, and officials say this indicates that Panhandle has stepped up several notches in importance as a racing center.

The meet opens Saturday, Aug. 31, and continues through the following Saturday. A record crowd is anticipated on Monday, Sept. 2, Labor day. In years gone by Labor day usually set a record in attendance and no exception to the rule is expected this year.

Tuesday will be ladies' day. All ladies will be admitted free that day, or at least for a small service charge of 10c or 15c.

Wednesday and Thursday have been set aside for Pampa and Borger days. Friday will be Amarillo and Panhandle day. Panhandle will close for the races on Friday, according to the president of the chamber of commerce.

The closing day will be Saturday, Sept. 7, and it is expected to draw a record crowd of horse lovers anxious to get a last glimpse at the races.

So great is the number of entries that it is expected eight or nine races a day will be run instead of six as originally planned by the racing association.

Workmen have been busy at the track for weeks and Supt. Davidson said it is in ideal shape. Horses are being worked out daily, and one of the big pre-racing attractions is the daily running match races.

Racing fans will not be disappointed in making a visit to the Southwest Race Meet this year. They will find the best horses of the Southwest here, and indications are that the fans will be here in increased numbers for each of the seven days.

This is the longest meet ever planned for Panhandle and is being staged in response to the demands of horse owners and fans.

Braddock Says

Max Baer Will Subdue Louis

HOUSTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—James J. Braddock believes the man he whipped to win the world's heavyweight boxing championship will punch the grin from the face of Joe Louis in New York Sept. 24.

"Max Baer is the first scrapper matched with Louis who can take it," the champion, here for a three-round exhibition and to referee about tonight, said. "Carnera was quaking in his shoe-tops when he fought the negro, but it will be a different story with Baer."

"I saw Louis slaughter Carnera and I still believe Baer can take everything the negro offers without folding."

"I'll meet the winner of the Baer-Louis fight, probably next summer. If it's Louis, which I doubt, I think I can outbox him. It's Baer—well, I whipped Maxie once."

NO GAME WILL BE PLAYED IN MEET TONIGHT

Tournament Will Be Resumed Tomorrow on Revised Schedule.

There will be no baseball game in the Junior chamber of commerce tournament tonight. The tournament committee was to meet this afternoon and re-arrange the schedule.

The field is too wet for play, having been soaked by the 3-inch down-pour. The east side of the park was hard hit by the wind, the fence going over. The fence was being repaired this afternoon. The lights, too, suffered some damage.

Tournament officials, including A. J. Johnson, manager, said that the tournament would be continued tomorrow, weather permitting, on a schedule satisfactory to managers of entered teams.

Get Mail Lessons From New Mentor

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—By way of getting his football candidates to report in condition, Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt has done a bit of early coaching by mail.

"Lessons" will be given each player before he reports for practice on Labor Day, one on offense and another on defense, and the letters Morrison is sending are different for each of the 11 positions.

His condition Labor Day will determine where you will be when the team is in New York and Philadelphia. (Vanderbilt plays Temple and Fordham.)

"Test your physical condition about the middle of August by sprinting a hundred yards and immediately sprinting another and see how you feel; test by scuffling or wrestling for ten minutes with another boy your size and see how you can stand it."

It is quite a minute ball players. "Start getting ready to make the team and not the squad. There will be plenty of bench warmers. We want some 60-minute ball players."

"The position you are trying for is wide open. I shall select the best man to fill it. It is up to you. Good luck."

MISSISSIPPI IS TO FILL SEAT OF GOVERNOR TODAY

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 27. (AP)—Mississippi's democrats, a welter of vituperation ringing in their ears, voted today to decide whether Paul B. Johnson, a charge Johnson vigorously denied—in the hope of extending his Louisiana dictatorship to Mississippi.

Bilbo also said the primary marked the opening of President Roosevelt's campaign for re-election because of the activity of Long, his bitter enemy.

Shortly after the first primary three weeks ago, in which Johnson led White by several hundred votes in a field of five candidates, Long announced he would take no part in the second primary because neither of the candidates believed in his share-the-wealth program.

'WASTE!' CRIES DICKINSON OF LAST SESSION

REPUBLICAN ATTACKS LAWS ENACTED BY CONGRESS

By SENATOR L. J. DICKINSON of Iowa.

Prominent in Republican Councils. WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The first session of the 74th congress will be remembered for ill-advised legislation, extravagant appropriations, and four billion dollars for work-relief waste.

No congress in American history has made such a record. This record has been made under the direction of President Roosevelt. Congress has initiated nothing. The president has directed everything.

Whatever responsibility there is must rest with him and with a congress that has surrendered to his wishes. To me it has been almost pathetic that so many representatives and so many senators would surrender their individuality and cooperate in a coercive program such as has been put through.

The $4,000,000,000 was put through for work-relief. To date nobody has been put to work and relief rolls have not been materially decreased.

Increasing the powers of the Tennessee Valley Authority means the confiscation of private property, of many independent and municipally owned electric light plants. I know of one instance where the public works administration is loaning nearly one-half million dollars and refusing to consider the property of the independently-owned plant located in that city.

With reference to the AAA amendments, it must be admitted that the cotton situation is most chaotic. Just now we have the taxpayer subjected to the necessity of paying a subsidy out of the general funds of the treasury to the cotton producer. This is simply an indication of what will be proposed on behalf of the many other producers of raw products. In other words, if this proposal is to be carried on, it means that in the end we will be subsidizing not only the farmer, but the farm owner, the miner, the mine owner and many other lines of industry.

The authority of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the Home Owners Loan corporation, and the Federal Credit administration to extend loans has been signed. This means that if the program is continued, the Reconstruction Finance corporation will own the banks of the country and will practically control many industries.

LENIN 'HEADQUARTERS' RIVAL WASHINGTON'S

LENINGRAD (AP)—Houses in which Nikolai Lenin lived are becoming more numerous in Russia than the "Washington's headquarters" which dot the eastern seaboard of the United States.

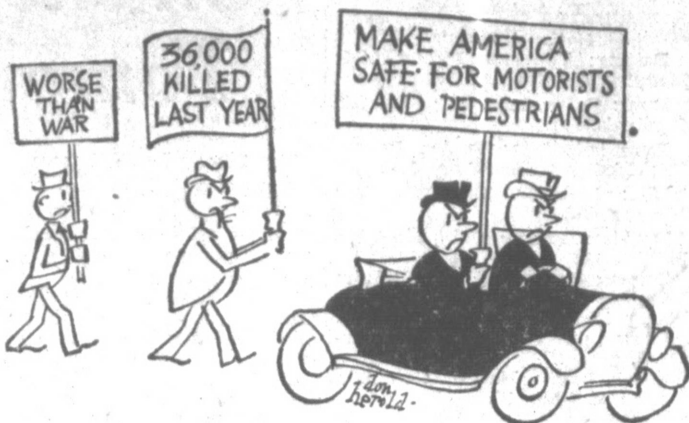

In Leningrad alone 194 houses have been identified as places where the Bolshevik idol lived, held meetings or was hidden between 1891 and 1920 when he was working underground.

Moscow, Sumara, Kazan and a score of other cities are similarly blessed.

All these premises are to be marked and shown on a map which will record the wanderings of the revolutionist.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

If some other nation struck suddenly at our shores and killed 36,000 of our people and injured nearly a million others, how quickly we'd FIGHT!

We'd crush each other in the jam at the enlistment stations.

Our patriotic blood would geyser like Old Faithful. Bugles would sound, bands would play, orators would orate, we'd give up sugar and wheat, and women would start to knit socks by the million.

Yet an enemy worse than any warrior-nation is at our doors today and we YAWN with indifference.

Automobile accidents killed 36,000 people last year and injured nearly a million, and we don't bat an eye.

Will you get a war-like spirit toward this great enemy of our population—will you fight—will you kill your blood a little about this—OR will you try to "get it fixed" the next time you are handed a ticket for speeding—will you giggle at traffic regulations—will you drive while under the influence of intoxicants—will you drive with selfish recklessness and darn-fool abandon—will you consider automobile safety just a gag?

Which? Which side are you on? In the last 10 years automobile accidents have killed 291,061 persons. The loss of life and limb from automobile accidents is "Worse Than War."

TEXAS DELEGATION IN CONGRESS WAS MOST POWERFUL AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A delegation of Texans, strongly behind President Roosevelt for the most part, turned toward home today with an enviable record of achievement for their state and nation behind them.

Eight committee chairmanships gave them a whip hand; the astute Vice-President Garner quietly counseled them and two of their first-term house members attracted nationwide notice.

Internal dissensions bobbed up occasionally but only on the bonus and holding company bills did the lone star states break definitely with President Roosevelt. Frequently their 21 house and 2 senate votes were cast solidly for the administration policies.

Senator Morris Sheppard voted down the line with the White House consistently but Senator Tom Connally strayed from the administration occasionally. The senior senator directed the work of the military affairs committee but found ample time to seek a wide range of benefits for his state. Connally, chairman of the public buildings and grounds committee, spent less time at that work naturally but participated in many a vigorous floor fight.

The delegation's largest single achievement was gaining an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the Centennial celebration next year. They had to do considerable back-stage maneuvering to remove opposition to such a large outlay but they won through sheer weight of numbers and their "sales talks" on Texas and its history.

They all took as liberal a stand as could be consistent with President Roosevelt's wishes. Their agricultural interests centered around Chairman Marvin Jones of the house agriculture committee and Representative Richard Kleberg, a member. Chairman Joseph J. Mansfield of the house rivers and harbors committee scurried around trying to put as many Texas streams as possible in the preferred class, although Chairman James P. Buchanan of the appropriations committee almost single-handedly obtained through another route about $20,000,000 for flood control, irrigation and power development on the lower Colorado.

Sam Rayburn had his hands full as chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee. For months he wrestled with the administration utility bill, did everything he could to get it through the house but saw some of his own colleagues help swell the vote which balked immediate approval of the "death sentence." Against federal interference in state matters, Rayburn delegated oil legislation to a sub-committee of five although he kept in close touch with the situation.

Representative Hatton Sumners, head of the judiciary committee, and Representative Fritz Lanham, in charge of public buildings and grounds work, rounded out the delegation's chairmanship.

In addition, Representative Morgan Sanders again was a member of the ways and means committee which drafted bonus and tax legislation among other things. Representative Tom Blanton aided Buchanan in his efforts to keep government expenditures within bounds and Representative Martin Dies became a member of the powerful house rules committee.

Representative Maury Maverick was easily the most voluble of the Texas freshmen, speaking his mind plainly on the Tennessee Valley Authority. Representative Nat Patton became as well known as some of his more experienced colleagues when the senate and house investigations of lobbying against the utility bill developed that he had associated with his old friend, John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light company.

E. V. Sellers, an NRA employee of Abilene testified he had some doubt that a package "Cousin Nat" took from Carpenter's room contained cigars as many others claimed. Patton submitted much personal and financial evidence to show he was not a party to any of the lobbying, having announced his opposition to the "death sentence" early in discussion of the bill.

Although the 1936 elections present a problem for many of the delegation, only one house member is definitely lost. He is Representative O. H. Cross of Waco who has announced he will retire at the end of this congress.

PRINCIPLE—WITH INTEREST

DENVER—R. E. Faubian, tram operator, never had been robbed, and it was the principle of the thing, he explained, that caused him to act. As a would-be robber wrestled a money changer containing $4 from him, Faubian grappled with the thug, retrieved his cash from the man's pockets and, a final check disclosed, came out a little cash ahead. The robber had had some change in his pocket.

JACK HOXIE TO APPEAR WITH CIRCUS AT TRI-STATE FAIR

AMARILLO, Aug. 27.—From both an educational and entertainment standpoint, the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, September 14-21, will be "tops."

This year the fair holds undisputed rank as the largest exposition in Texas and to entertain the crowds the management has arranged for many attractions, including a three-ring circus.

With this circus, formerly known as Bailey Brothers but now owned by Harley Sadler, well known for his amusement enterprises, is Jack Hoxie, western screen star.

Hoxie, who had the leading role in such pictures as "Outlaw Justice" and "Trouble Busters," will appear in person at each circus performance.

Jack Hoxie, one of the favorites of western fans, also was starred in "Law and Lawless," "Via Pony Express" and "Gun Law."

While giving performances daily at the exposition grounds, the circus will stage a mile long parade every other day—Sept. 16, 18, and 20.

Other entertainment features will be Backmann and Gerety shows, largest of midway attractions; daily horse races and variety of other amusement.

Exhibitors from every section of the exposition's vast territory and many from distant states already have made entries.

Officials of the fair association predict there will not be only more and better exhibits, but also larger crowds at the 1935 exposition.

Many cities served by the exposition already are making plans for huge motor caravans and special trains to the fair.

ALEXANDER'S DEATH SPOT RULED BY CITY TRAFFIC

MARSEILLE (AP)—A bronze plate, embedded in the street, will mark the spot where King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were assassinated.

The decision to commemorate the tragedy with a plaque in the pavement instead of building a monument, was taken by the city government.

It decided an upright memorial would be a hindrance to traffic.

TEXANS MOURN FOR WIFE OF TOM CONNALLY

SUDDEN HEART ATTACK IS FATAL; DIES IN OFFICE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Texans in the capital felt the full shock today of the death of their junior senator's wife, Mrs. Tom Connally.

Expressions of grief were heard on every hand from representatives from Texas, among whom she had shared the great popularity of her husband.

Mrs. Connally died in the senator's office at the capital late yesterday while congress was in the throes of adjournment.

Apparently in good health, Mrs. Connally came to the capital to witness the closing session. Feeling tired, she started for Senator Connally's office to rest. She collapsed in an elevator, and was carried to the office, where she died a short time after from a heart attack.

Chesley W. Jurney, senate sergeant-at-arms, made plans for the funeral party to leave Washington by train tonight, arriving in Waco, Thursday afternoon. The trip to Marlin, home of Senator and Mrs. Connally, will be made by automobile from Waco.

The senator will be accompanied by his secretary, Robert Jackson, and Rep. Luther Johnson of Corsicana.

Condolences poured into the senator's office from Texas and other parts of the country. Among the first was a note in the handwriting of President Roosevelt.

FALL PLANS ARE OUTLINED IN CHURCH SOCIETY MEETINGS

CIRCLES WILL RESUME STUDY IN SEPTEMBER

BAPTIST BOARD; M. S. COUNCIL HAVE PROGRAMS

Work for next year was outlined by the executive committee of First Baptist Missionary union, meeting yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. T. F. Morton, president. A full program of meetings will be resumed next month, following summer vacations.

A general business session Monday will open the season, and circle meetings are to be resumed the following week with new membership divisions. New study courses will be started.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Morton to Misses C. L. McKinney, C. L. Stephens, H. Cox, T. M. Gilliam, J. A. Meek, Wilson Hatcher, Dee Campbell, W. B. Henry, C. E. Lancaster, G. C. Durham, and R. W. Tucker, officers of the union.

GUESTS JUDGE IN CONTEST REVIEW

Questioned in the fashion of a spelling match, members of First Methodist Missionary society yesterday afternoon reviewed their latest study text, Jesus Among Men. About 50 women were present at the church. Mrs. Frank Shotwell was leader.

Misses C. E. Lancaster, L. Burney Shell, and John S. Mullen acted as judges in the question match, and declared circle three the winner.

Mrs. Harris, member of the Colored Methodist church here who has recently returned from a study course at Tyler, reported on her trip and plans for work in her church. First Methodist W. M. S. made the trip possible.

Mrs. J. M. Turner, vice president, was in charge of the business meeting when plans were made for starting regular meetings next month after a summer recess for circles. Mrs. John Dodge conducted the devotional lesson.

Punch and cookies were served after the program by Misses Shotwell and Ralph Chisum.

New Basis Set For S. S. Report

Percentage reports, based on church membership, will be made with attendance reports from Sunday schools in the future, it was decided yesterday afternoon by the pastors' association in a regular meeting.

Each church will announce its present membership, a figure that will serve as the percentage basis for three months. When attendance reports are published each week, the percentage will also be given. This plan was adopted in the belief that interest will be stimulated by the comparative figures more than by mere announcement of the number present.

CRITERION FOR COOK IS GIVEN BY LECTURER

KITCHEN SECRETS TO BE DISCLOSED IN SCHOOL

"With more than thirty-five percent of the family income going out for what we eat, it is most important that we give every attention possible to this great and master of all arts—cooking—isn't it?" asked Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates, the noted southern lecturer who will lead in what is probably one of the most splendidly harmonized centennialization of food parades that has been held in this section. Mrs. Yates comes to this city to hold the Kitchen Chautauque very soon now under the auspices of this newspaper, and her coming has been heralded by her reputation for plain, logical, common-sense, understandable, manner of talking and explanatory demonstrativeness.

She takes a great pride in the many secret formulas she gives free to her thousands of listeners throughout the United States and she likewise feels a pride in the housewife who attends her lectures. She says: "A cook should be known by her knife, yes, but far more, most certainly she should be in a position to 'commend her own pies.' Yes, too, by her cleanliness, a cook must please the entire family. Yes, I have heard of the man whom Emerson sent to the city, in one of his books. 'Consideration by the Way,' I believe it was, and the fellow was made to say, as I remember it, 'I have been sent here to procure an angel to do the cooking.' And I know that old one which says that 'as the house showeth the owner, the cooking showeth the cook.' I know many of them but I also know this—that there will be no disappointments and many happy experiences remembered after I have the opportunity to meet, lecture, demonstrate and talk freely, frankly and plainly, heart to heart with the housewives of your wonderful city and the communities around. What the ladies of this land are most interested in are the short-cuts, the quick, certain, positive, the shortest route to perfection in that highest and most important master art, cooking. I am happy that I have many solutions to meet all of their desires."

The public is cordially invited to attend all sessions of the Kitchen Chautauque to be held September 9, 10, and 11 in the City Hall auditorium. No obligation of any kind.

Built-in Furniture Improves Odd Walls

Irregular walls often give a room a broken appearance and make it hard for the housewife to arrange her furniture in satisfactory groupings. This fault can be remedied by building bookcases in the incut sections, giving the room an uninterrupted wall. This type of improvement may be achieved by money advanced by your bank or other financial institution under the modernization credit plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

A New York woman solved such a problem in this manner. The living room of her apartment had a fireplace which extended into the room. On either side shelves were built in, giving the wall an unbroken line. Wooden doors had circles cut out of the middle, giving a Chinese moon door effect. The circles were filled with fine wire mesh.

NO TROUBLE IS TROUBLE RUNNEMEDE, N. J.—This town is so peaceful that Justice of the Peace Henry "Burr" doesn't get enough business to give his wife $8 weekly as ordered by the court. The justice told the judge of the domestic relations court he's had only eight cases since he was elected four years ago.

That Dainty Wee Maiden of Yours

Needs Plenty Leg Freedom

BY ELLEN WORTH

One little person not affected by various skirt lengths, is the small daughter of the household. She romps about with skirts as well above her knees and plenty of leg freedom.

The cute little dress for today's pattern is darling in any of the pretty cottons of the gingham type with plain contrast for the attractively shaped collar. Batiste prints, dimity, wool crepes, challis prints, wool-like cottons are also suitable.

The lower sketch shows this model of sturdy brown and white gingham with white pique trim.

For more dainty wear, it's made with short sleeves of dimity print in blue and white with plain blue trim and plaided skirt.

Style No. 375 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 39-inch material, with 3/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting for long sleeved dress.

Our Fashion Magazine beautifully illustrated in color.

Price of BOOK 10 cents. Price of PATTERN 15 cents (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Do your friends just drop in about supper time Sundays? Ours do, and we enjoy them almost more than the ones we invite days ahead, because entertaining them is delightfully informal, even to having them stay for supper.

If we have a cake in the house, will and good. If not, we serve ice cream on hot waffles and nobody misses or wants the cake, of course.

These waffles I make differently than for breakfast.

Dessert Waffles. Two and one-half cups cake flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2-3 cup melted butter.

Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Sift flour once and measure. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Add beaten egg yolks, milk and melted butter and stir until smooth. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Bake in a hot waffle iron. Serve with a mound of ice cream and sweetened fruit or other sauce.

Fresh peach sauce is good. To make it, allow one peach for each person to be served. Peel and cut in thin slices, dropping in sugar as you slice them. This prevents them from discoloring too rapidly. Be sure each slice is well coated with sugar. Cover and let stand half an hour. They will be deliciously syrupy when you want to serve them.

Berries always make a nice sauce, too. Crush them in sugar and let stand fifteen or twenty minutes before serving.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, cereal, cream, sautéed eggplant, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Hot bouillon, salad of stuffed eggs and endive, waffles with ice cream and crushed berries, milk, tea.

DINNER: Broiled fresh salmon steaks, shadow potatoes, creamed kohlrabi, onion and orange salad, elderberry pie, milk, coffee.

Jellied meat salads keep well, so I often make one for possible week-end emergencies. Jellied ham salad is one of our favorites.

Two cups finely chopped cold ham, 1-2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 4 chicken bouillon cubes, 3 cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon made mustard, 1-2 cup whipping cream, few grains cayenne pepper.

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and add softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Let stand until cool and beginning to thicken. Whip cream until firm and fold in ham, mustard and pepper. Fold into gelatin and turn into individual molds. Let stand on ice for several hours to chill and become firm. Unmold on lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise.

A cheese tray with its accompanying crackers, several kinds of breads and rolls and a relish tray complete an easily prepared menu for Sunday night supper. It depends on the weather whether you have an iced or a hot beverage, although hot coffee always is acceptable when the rest of the meal is cold.

People who loved music could walk into her house, the door of which was always open (it wasn't necessary to knock) and Mrs. Carr would leave any household task to play music. The only thing she wanted to know was whether they liked music, because music was the only thing that mattered to her. No able musician was more generous than Mrs. Carr in the willingness to let other people enjoy her talent. There are scores of adults and children in Pampa who owe their appreciation and knowledge of beautiful music, meaning classical music, to Mrs. Carr. Her influence on the music-loving people of this community has been incalculable, and will last as long as life lasts, because people who once sense the face of ultimate beauty in the notes of beautiful music will have it with them always. Mrs. Carr was an artist, first, last and always. She was one of the best pianists who ever came to the Pampa.

It is to be regretted that she is leaving this city which needed her. Perhaps Pampa should have adopted ways and means to keep her. She will be missed.

Mrs. Carr was assisted in the concert last night by her daughter Miss Margaret Carr who played one piano solo, and by her two sons, Malcolm and Norman who sang a solo each and a duet.

The Rev. Gaston Foote expressed the general regret of Pampa people for Mrs. Carr's departure. The missionary society of the church was host at a reception in the basement after the concert.

TO CLIMAX LECTURES. A talk on The Master of the Twelve will be given by H. D. Tucker, educational director, at the mid-week service of First Methodist church tomorrow evening. This will climax a series of talks on The Disciples of Jesus. The choir will meet for rehearsal at 8 o'clock.

France's No. 1 Newlyweds

It was a match of state and aristocracy when Jose Laval, daughter of the French premier, and Rene de Chambrun, son of Count General Adelbert de Chambrun, were married in Paris. The young couple here are pictured on a balcony of the Quai d'Orsay, where she works as secretary to her father.

AN ORCHID FOR MRS. CARR

BY STAFF WRITER

Acute grief assaulted the emotions of many music lovers last night as they listened to Mrs. May Foreman Carr play her farewell concert at the First Methodist church. Deep regret seized the consciousness of the large group as it became aware that it was hearing her play for the last time, perhaps, those familiar compositions which have become synonymous with the name, "Mrs. Carr."

It was not that she played Liszt, Beethoven, Chopin, Tchaikovsky any better last night than she ever did, that caused members of the audience to have a keen feeling of loss, but it was a remembrance of things past, of beautiful music played, of great deeds of music done in Pampa. There was no gaiety in the church auditorium, and when she played light compositions that should have brought cheer the somber atmosphere still existed. The sense of loss brought grief.

Undoubtedly, most of those present remembered the countless things Mrs. Carr had done for music in Pampa, while she was giving her farewell concert (she leaves tomorrow to become head of the music department in Martin college, Pulaski, Tenn.). They remembered her work in the Treble Clef club, the Philharmonic chorus, the piano ensemble, all of which she helped organize. They remembered that music week became a vital tangible thing of beauty after Mrs. Carr came to Pampa five years ago. There was nothing too difficult for Mrs. Carr to tackle, largely because no music was too difficult for her. She began training a symphony orchestra this summer for the high school in the same spirit that she directed Gilbert and Sullivan for the Philharmonic, in the same spirit that she directed a piano ensemble through Beethoven's Fifth.

If Mrs. Carr had done nothing else in Pampa than make it possible for music-lovers to become thoroughly familiar with the Second Hungarian Rhapsody, the Trolisene Ballade, the Raindrop prelude, certain Sonatas by Mozart, Pampa would be indebted to her. She was not stingy with her music. She never turned down a request to play, always hoping that some, perhaps one, might sense the beauty of the thing she was playing. That was enough reward.

People who loved music could walk into her house, the door of which was always open (it wasn't necessary to knock) and Mrs. Carr would leave any household task to play music. The only thing she wanted to know was whether they liked music, because music was the only thing that mattered to her. JOE ROBINSON PRAISES WORK ACCOMPLISHED

SAYS SESSION WILL BE MEMORABLE FOR HUMAN LAWS

By SEN. JOSEPH T. ROBINSON

Democratic Leader of the Senate WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—The achievements of this session of congress will be memorable. Practically every problem that touches human interest has been made easier of solution by the legislation enacted. As a coordinate branch of the government cooperating with the executive and judicial branches, I think it can be truly said that the congress has done its part to carry on through a grave crisis. Legislation enacted in the 73rd congress and reinforced by the legislation of this session, was enacted with the expectation that it would help every phase of human and industrial endeavor.

Salient features of legislation are the appropriation of $4,880,000,000 for work relief, purposely proposed to substitute for the dole. If the people whole-heartedly cooperate with the government in this great enterprise, we should hear the increased hum of industry.

Industry has been materially aided also by the extension of lending powers to the reconstruction finance corporation, home owners loan corporation and farm credit administration, thus making it possible for the self-reliant to re-establish themselves and continue with government loans instead of direct government relief.

A bill declaring a moratorium on farm mortgages, coupled with the increased powers to the agricultural adjustment administration, will further promote the comeback that agriculture has made and give to the farming interests, additional courage. The senate has voted to assist the tenant farmers and share croppers.

The social security bill, providing a system of old-age pensions and unemployment insurance, is an outstanding enactment that, working in cooperation with the states, will give a definite feeling of security to the aged and unemployed. The law raising the central banking system will improve the banking methods and give further security to financial interests. The extension of deposit insurance continuing the federal deposit insurance fund will protect individual small depositors in our banks.

It is to be regretted that she is leaving this city which needed her. Perhaps Pampa should have adopted ways and means to keep her. She will be missed.

Mrs. Carr was assisted in the concert last night by her daughter Miss Margaret Carr who played one piano solo, and by her two sons, Malcolm and Norman who sang a solo each and a duet.

BEDOUIN PEACE TREATY

PERMITS DESERT RAIDS

PALMYRA, Syria (AP)—Quarrels dating from Bible days were smoothed out at a Bedouin peace conference here.

Six chiefs representing the two great nomadic tribes, the Roualas of Syria and the Choummars of Iraq, concluded a treaty covering all the points at issue.

The tribes may continue to raid each other, but the treaty provides that booty shall be restored to its rightful owners. It also determines pasture rights and establishes a neutral zone between the two tribes.

POWER CZARS TO SEEK TEST OF NEW BILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Prospects for continuation of the fight against the utility holding company bill, this time in the courts, unfolded today in Wall Street as power company experts studied the regulatory law signed last yesterday by the president.

Legal aides gave close attention to wording of the act to advise utility chiefs how far-reaching they believed the law will be and whether, in their opinion, drastic realignment of utility organizations will be necessary immediately.

One stunning shock which bobbed up right after President Roosevelt affixed his signature to the act was the attitude power company directors should adopt on dividends pending an interpretation.

So far as holding companies are concerned, those high in utility groups were in the dark on whether they might be expected to conserve cash under the theory that such assets belonged to creditors and not to stockholders.

On the other hand, it was believed if outstanding obligations of holding companies are to be redeemed within a few years, the companies will need extra cash to meet the additional expense of the redemption.

Some companies have securities outstanding which under ordinary circumstances would not be called for something like 90 years, and it was said by some that a substantial cash premium might have to be paid if the obligations are called within a short time.

Most financial circles agreed that a court test of the holding company bill is inevitable, but there was no understanding as to the time of such test or how the battle would be opened.

One executive was of the opinion the utilities would not open the court fight themselves but would permit the government to start the wheels of the legal mechanism.

It appeared likely that such action would be brought on by deliberate and open evasion of the law—such as declining to register to submit to regulation—so that the government through the securities and exchange commission might take the disciplinary action provided for in the law.

Then, with the "utility able to show damage because of the law, a suit against the government was expected to be carried through to the supreme court.

Informed quarters did not believe that such steps would be taken immediately. One source suggested a ruling from a lower court might not be made before early next year.

Crack-Up Forces Ong To Quit Race

TYLER, Aug. 27. (AP)—Bill Ong, who was forced to withdraw from the Bendix air race, which starts from Los Angeles Thursday, when he overshot the Tyler airport and crashed yesterday, prepared today to ship his plane to Patterson, La., for repair.

Ong received only minor bruises but he said his plane was so badly damaged that it could not be repaired in time for the race.

The flier, on his way to Los Angeles, landed here because his fuel supply was low.

The Wasp engine in the specially built Wedell-Williams ship was used by Capt. Roscoe Turner in the 1934 Bendix race and the remainder of the plane was used by Jimmie Hazel, who made an average of 280 miles an hour to win the trophy. Ong said.

Leipzig Jobless Get Smokes

LEIPZIG, Germany (AP)—To provide this city's jobless with cigars and cigarettes, the local anti-war relief committee has asked for "one smokestick out of each package." Smokers are told that this sacrifice "won't hurt you and, moreover, you'll be making a poorer fellow citizen happier."

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter 31
ELSIE GROVE

"I'll mix you my latest," said Jimmy.

Jimmy walked out of the room to fetch ice, and when he came back, Gladys was looking at a photograph that stood in lonely importance on his mantelpiece flanked by various quaint animals blown out of glass.

"Who's this?" asked Gladys curiously. "One of your sisters?"

"No, it's a friend—a girl I've known since I was a kid," he answered.

"My, isn't she plain? I don't remember it the other night when I was here. Jimmy, and I had a good look around."

"No, I was going through some drawers and came across it with a lot of others. I forgot to put it away."

"It's not a girl you're in love with, is it?" Gladys' voice was decidedly suspicious, although she could not imagine Jimmy in love with a girl who looked like that.

"Good Lord, no!" There was whole-hearted truth in Jimmy's voice. He was appealed at the incident. Poor Elsie Grove certainly was plain. The reason for the photograph being there was that Mrs. Grove had brought her daughter to the house yesterday to inspect his newly-furnished quarters.

Elsie Grove decided that he should eventually marry. They were not engaged officially, but the families were bent on the match. It had advantage of business and property; quite an out-of-date idea, but, then the families were hopelessly old-fashioned.

"Here's the best cocktail you've ever drunk," he told Gladys, handing her a generous glass. "To our next merry meeting, sweet heart!"

Gladys put her glass down when she had finished. "It was one of Jimmy's characteristic points, his love of display, of expensive things, of rare luxuries, of the last word in fashions. A taste he could never have satisfied on his own merits."

"I'd love a ring," the girl went on and in her voice was the note of helpless devotion that thrilled the young man, and sometimes made him feel that life might be very wonderful if one wasn't so tied up. "It would make me sort of feel I belonged to you, Jimmy."

"You bet," he said, very low, and took her in his arms.

"Oh, Jimmy!" she smiled happily, and looked adoringly into his eyes. His spell was on her more powerfully than ever. "You do love me, don't you? We are going to get married some day."

"You bet your life," he answered. But there were depths in the girl that she did not know herself, and in them stirred a sudden fear and a sudden pain. She clasped her arms

Chatterton And Fliers Dine At Abilene Barbecue

ABILENE, Aug. 27. (AP)—Leslie Hayward of Hollywood held the lead today in Ruth Chatterton's aerial derby as the fliers pointed for Oklahoma City and Tulsa in the handicap race from Los Angeles to Cleveland.

Miss Cecile Hamilton of Santa Monica, Calif., spent the night at Midland and planned to catch the other fliers today.

Hayward took the lead from Earl T. Ricks of Hot Springs, Ark., leader through the Midland lap who was forced down and out of the race by engine trouble at Colorado, Tex.

Miss Chatterton, movie star turned pilot, was put at the head of the parade by agreement with contestants to assist in checking the time of each. She arrived 15 minutes ahead of the leading contestant early last night.

The fliers, on a leisurely race staged on the handicap basis, were given a barbecue dinner here last night. The final destination is Cleveland and the national air races.

Oil Production Shows Decline

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 27. (AP)—Daily average crude oil production in the United States declined 7,902 barrels during the last week due principally to a reduction in Oklahoma, the Oil and Gas Journal reports.

Production in Oklahoma dropped 9,625 barrels to 495,025 for the week. Texas production was up 3,610 barrels to 1,058,066 with East Texas contributing 4,284 barrels of the increase.

Rocky mountain production also was up, climbing 4,050 barrels to a total of 109,850 barrels.

Kansas, with a production of 141,375 was down 1,100 barrels from the week previous; eastern fields, including Michigan, dropped 834 barrels to 149,307 and California recorded an average of 609,500, which was 500 barrels below the figures of the week previous.

The AAA said final statistics were not available on processing tax collections for June, 1935, but that the total should be "approximately $30,960,261."

Rental and benefit payments were divided as follows: Cotton $116,195, 92.50¢; wheat $98,223, 175.49¢; tobacco $28,914.02; corn-hogs $302,407, 647.62 and sugar $17,844, 145.08.

The AAA spent $11,486,937.36 in disease eradication; $11,540,027.43 in the purchase of drought cattle, $7,709,879.50 for drought sheep and goats, $17,780,661.20 in conservation of seeds in drought areas, and $3,314.38 in feed and forage conservation.

Children Starve, Mother Beheaded

BERLIN, Aug. 27. (AP)—Frau Charlotte Jeunemann was beheaded at dawn today for allowing her three children to starve to death. Willy, George, 23, was beheaded for robbery and murder.

Frau Jeunemann, young, slim, blonde and bobbed-haired, was convicted last March after testimony was given that she had squandered in cafes and dance halls the money she had received for the relief of her three boys, 4, 18 months and four months old.

"I had not time to give the children food and water," the police quoted her.

After she heard the death verdict imposed upon her, without betraying the slightest emotion, she said: "I did not want the children to die."

At the time of her trial she was reported to be an expectant mother. It was thought for a time Reichsfuehrer Hitler would intercede for her.

ON the diagram mentioned above, in which the sun is represented as a tennis ball placed at New Orleans, only a few of our closest star neighbors could be shown, even though a map of the entire world were used. The nearest star, placed at Duluth, would represent a star 26 trillion miles away.

THE rafflesia arnoldii, named for its discoverer, Sir Stamford Raffles and Dr. Arnold, lives in the rain forests of Sumatra. It has blossoms nine feet in circumference, weighing 25 pounds, but has no stems, leaves, or roots. It derives all of its nourishment from a species of tropical grape, on which it grows.

THE Himalaya mountains are "new" mountains, upraised mostly during the Tertiary Age, millions of years ago. They are new only by comparison with some of the other ranges of the world, such as the Scottish Highlands. At one time, the lofty Himalaya mountains were far below sea level.

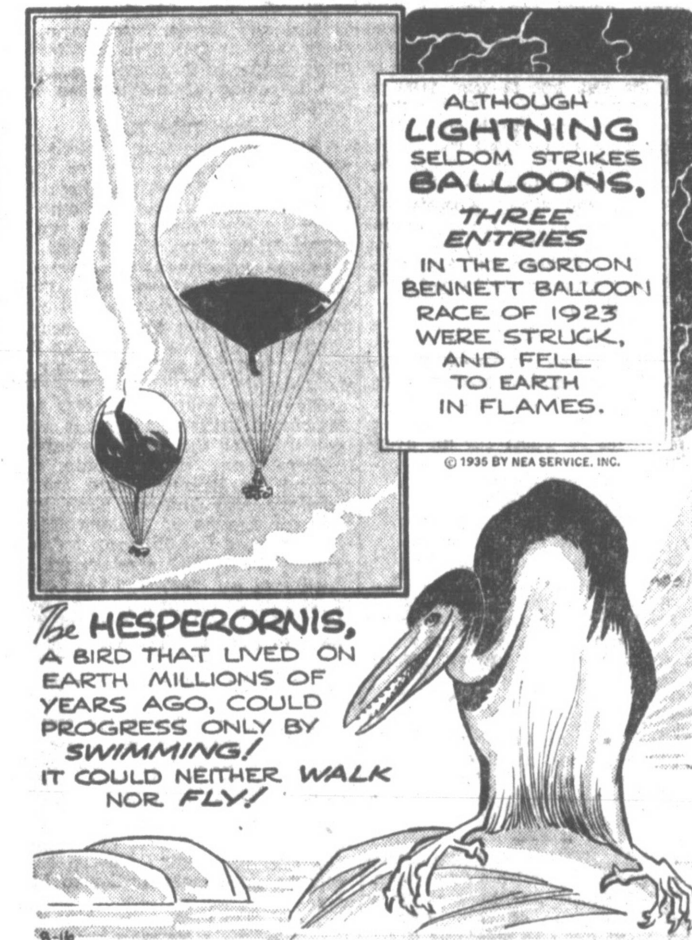

AT the root of each of a cat's whiskers is a delicate nerve, so placed that the cat can tell at once if the tip of the whisker is touched. In stalking prey, the cat can keep her eyes on the victim and let her whiskers guide her noiselessly past obstacles.

ONE of the largest prairie dog towns ever reported began in Trago county, Kansas, and extended along the divide north of the Smoky Hill river, almost to Colorado. Parts of the town were located in areas where water could not be reached without going down 350 feet.

IT is probable that no bird that ever inhabited the earth was capable of chewing its food, although some prehistoric birds did have teeth. These teeth, as well as the horny plates of some modern birds, were for the purpose of holding slippery prey, once they had succeeded in capturing it.

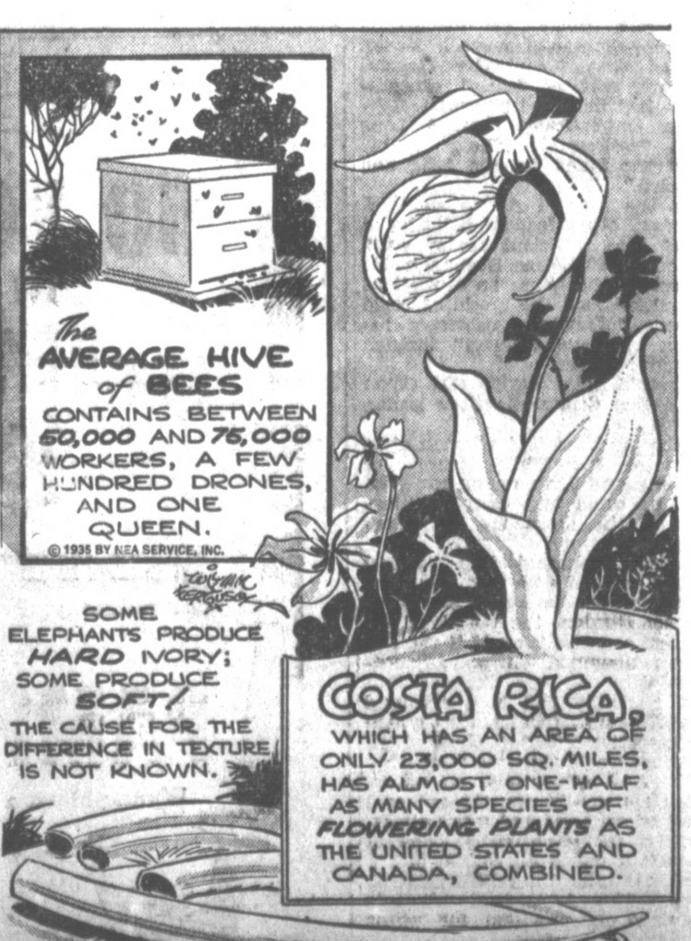

THE hesperornis, a bird which depended on water for its very existence, once lived in what is now the state of Kansas. It had stout legs, but they were so placed that the bird could not walk, and its wings were so small as to be entirely useless. As the earth's waters gradually disappeared, the hesperornis likewise vanished.

THE huge planet, Jupiter, revolves about the sun in 12 of our earth years. But a day on the planet is only nine hours and 55 minutes long, since the planet spins completely around on its axis in that time.

SINCE ferns have no flowers through which to carry on reproduction, this phase of their life must be accomplished by other means. On the backs of the leaves, numerous small, brown dots are to be seen, and each dot is filled with thousands of microscopic spores. By a most complicated process, these spores make reproduction possible.

ALL ivory is divided into two classifications, hard and soft, and of the two, the latter is by far the more desirable. Thin shavings of soft ivory are opaque, while hard ivory is translucent. Soft ivory does not split easily and is, therefore, more easily worked into intricate designs and patterns.

THE ancients arranged the planets thus: Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, the Sun, Venus, Mercury, and the Moon. They assumed that each hour of the day was ruled in turn by one of these planets. Thus, Saturn ruled the first hour of Saturday; also the eighth, fifteenth and twenty-second hours. The twenty-fifth, beginning the next day, fell to the lot of the sun, therefore that day was called Sunday.

ONE hears much about "impenetrable virgin jungles," but the virgin forest holds little terror for the explorer. It is the forest that has been felled once that is most difficult to get through, for there a secondary growth of low-lying shrubs and vines mingles with the taller trees.

HOUSE CLOSES WITH FUN-FEST AND CAVORTING

Members Turn Into Entertainers As Session Ends

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—Happy, cheering members of the house closed up their congressional shop to the strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" in honor of the people of the country and congress.

Crowded galleries, laughing and applauding, joined in the singing. When the last note was ended, Rep. Knutson (R., Minn.) jumped to his feet and yelled:

"That's a swell tribute to the taxpayers."

The legislators forgot the long grind of almost eight months as they put on their annual end-of-the-session show. A thirteen-piece navy band was brought on to the house floor to provide music.

Rep. Connery (D., Mass.) one-time actor started off directing the singing. First there was "On the Banks of the Wabash," then "My Old Kentucky Home," "Swallowtail of New York" and a score of others.

Visitors in the galleries eagerly joined in the fun. They cheered and applauded Connery and others who took over leading the band.

A high point was a sort of "Society 78" act by Connery, playing "Tany" and other tune calls on a trombone accompanied by Rep. Buchanan (D., Tex.) on the snare drum and Rep. Bloom (D., N. Y.) on the big bass drum.

"Dixie" touched off a rebel yell by southern congressmen. But the shouts seemed to be just as loud when the band struck up "Dixie," "Doodle" and the northern members came to their feet.

Women members took their turn leading the musicians. Mrs. Florence Kahn directed them through "California, Here I Come," and Mrs. Caroline O'Day waved the nation for "Tany."

Generous applause greeted the efforts of Rep. Merritt (D., N. Y.) when he swung into "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Mother Macree."

In contrast to all this fun-making was the senate where Senator Long (D., La.) conducted a filibuster that killed the third deficiency appropriation bill.

BUDGET

among themselves, with a representative of THE NEWS, and a few others. I. E. Howard, farmer-stockman, told the court that he appreciated public affairs much better through attendance at such hearings than when he was familiar with the court's problems. He did not have any suggestions, although feeling that public expenditures generally are in need of paring.

The court voted to add $3,000 to the tentative budget to place holders in jail cells in the event of the courthouse. The jail has been crowded for months.

The tentative budget, before adding the jail item, totaled $396,943.79, which is little different from that of last year. Interest and sinking fund payments for the year are $181,977.88. The item for charity was $8,825.

Estimated revenues total $356,855. Balances in current funds make the difference between this amount and the budget. An additional tax on automobiles and a new tax on delinquent taxes $13,850, and other revenues $95,660.

Commissioner M. M. Newman of McLean said he had heard complaints concerning the sheriff's department and the court informally agreed to give further attention to this matter at the regular meeting Sept. 9.

Installation of the salary system to replace the fee system will make changes necessary in budget estimates. Income from fees continues steady there will be no considerable added expense to the county.

ALLRED

Governor Allred said he intended to investigate the relief situation to determine what the state could do toward relief of unemployed. He said he would be glad to take the federal relief program. State relief funds will be exhausted by next January 1. Failure of the electorate to approve an amendment permitting submission of constitutional revisions at special sessions closed an avenue heavily relied upon to meet relief needs.

Representative Jim Young of Cuero, chairman of the house liquor traffic committee to which will be referred liquor control proposals, strongly opposed the monopoly plan advocated in certain quarters. Young favored a state license plan.

"Unfortunately, some pro-liquors who opposed repeal are seeking to take charge of the bandwagon and lead the parade in an entirely different direction from that indicated by the people's verdict," Young said. "They now advocate putting the state into the liquor business."

Young feared an extensive fight over liquor control would delay legislative enactment.

SITTON RECAPTURED

STANTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—Lee Sitton, thirty-three years old, was captured at the Arkansas prison July 4, was back in the custody of Arkansas officers today. Sitton was captured on a street here yesterday by Sheriff Milt Yater and was turned over to Arkansas officers who came here after Sheriff Yater tipped them he expected to arrest the fugitive in Stanton.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Prices of leading stocks toppled today under a deluge of selling orders that put the ticker taps several minutes behind.

Losses ranged from fractions to around 3 points. The downturn was attributed largely to profit taking induced by technical factors. The close was weak. Transfers approximated 2,300,000 shares.

Constable And Justice Accused Of Killing Wife

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27. (AP)—Murder charges were filed today against James J. Westwood, justice of the peace in the suburban community of McKees Rocks, and his friend, Constable Tim Drexler, in connection with the murder of Westwood's wife.

They were placed in the county jail this morning after an indictment was returned from the grand jury.

Mr. Westwood, 38, mother of three children, was slain as he sat in a chair who poked a pistol through her bedroom window and fired three bullets into her head. Since the morning of the killing, police made an intensive search for the slayers but made little progress until today's developments.

The arrests caused a furor in McKees Rocks. The Westwoods are outstanding citizens of the community, and Westwood has been foremost there as a political leader.

County Detective Walter Monahan and Chief of Police Michael Matvey of McKees Rocks made the arrests. Monahan, a friend of Westwood, said:

"The case is solved—I'm going home and get the first sleep in 47 days."

Matvey was asked what motive was charged as a motive for the killing, and replied:

"We'll charge that he (Westwood) wanted to be free from his wife so that he could play around without facing arguments and quarrels."

Ruth Chatterton and Fliers Land At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27. (AP)—Ruth Chatterton and her sportsman's air derby coterie arrived here today for the night, completing another leg of their flight from Los Angeles to Cleveland for the national air races.

Mrs. Grace Prescott of San Diego, Calif., was the first of the derby entrants across the line. Legend Howard of Los Angeles was second and Carl Woodson of Los Angeles was third. Officials required time to check figures, but it was believed Howard held the lead of more than 40 points he had at Abilene.

Edith Sheehy of Fontana, Calif., and Cecile Hamilton of Los Angeles had not arrived when the other entrants and the derby officials left the municipal airport for an official welcome and something to eat at the chamber of commerce. Some believed they might have turned back toward Abilene.

In this derby, speed is not the point. The fliers are scored on precision flying and penalized if they fly too fast, too slowly, land too fast, or unt.

After luncheon the party planned to move on to Tulsa for an overnight stop.

JOHN L. MCCARTY in Dalhart, Texas, said the dry forces should concentrate their efforts on temperance education, and give the people an opportunity to try out a new liquor plan.

GROOM NEWS—Nightwatchman Reuel Smith has had his gun stolen, his wallet stolen, and he says he is afraid that some of the Groom widows are going to steal his liberty if he is not pretty careful.

CARLSBAD CURRENT-ARGUS—Roswell dog owners and lovers mean business.

Irrked by months of dog poisoning cases in Roswell, a number of owners have posted notices of cash rewards totaling $25 for the apprehension of the guilty party or parties.

The reward list is growing hourly, according to a report in a Roswell paper.

We can think of no one meaner than a dog poisoner. A dog poisoner has as little regard for human life as does a cold blooded murderer.

Children constantly are picking up things which they put in their mouths. Food such as poison is usually hidden, and can be as easily eaten by a child as by a dog.

Several attorneys in Roswell have offered their services free in prosecuting any apprehended dog poisoners.

Carlsbad has had a few instances of dog poisoning. It is to be hoped that the scare of the Roswell incident will prevent any more such incidents here.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

To Talk Road

Sponsored by the Berger chamber of commerce, a meeting will be held here next Thursday noon for representatives of counties from Gray to Moore counties. How to expedite hard-surfacing of the oil field road will be talked. Monty Wolford, secretary of the Berger chamber of commerce, has called the meeting.

Plan Joint Session

Jaycees of Berger and Shamrock will come here Sept. 10 for a joint session with the local organization. Politics in connection with the approaching state convention in Tyler will be discussed. Monty Wolford of the Berger chamber, here today with J. C. Phillips, editor of the Berger Daily Herald, said his group would be well represented.

Wolford announced that a convention would be held at Berger from 4 a. m. to 7:30 a. m. on Labor day, Sept. 2. A number of local Jaycees likely will attend.

Board Will Meet

Complaints of property owners not previously heard, concerning proposed increases in assessments for city purposes, will be received Sept. 9. The board of equalization will convene at 8 a. m.

Visit Old Home

Dr. and Mrs. W. Purviance and daughter, Miss Janice are expected to return late today from a visit with relatives in Illinois. Dr. Purviance recently joined Mrs. Purviance and Janice, who have spent several weeks in Mrs. Purviance's old home there.

were interpreted here as a counter-move to Great Britain's massing of her Mediterranean fleet within striking distance of the Suez canal. Jealousy eyed by Britain as the "life-line" to its African colonies and by Italy as a vital artery of supply for some 250,000 soldiers in the desert and the Italian Somaliland, the Suez canal is felt here to offer far more danger to European peace than the impeding Italo-Ethiopian hostilities.

The whole question received impetus from another quarter today when Japan was reported to have followed Germany's lead in clamoring for a colonial "place in the sun."

The Daily Herald said that the Japanese government was preparing to open negotiations with Great Britain, The Netherlands, and other powers "with the idea of securing immigration rights in the Far East for some of her millions of surplus population."

The paper said that access to a number of British possessions would be sought for the Japanese surplus. These twin developments confronted Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, and Anthony Eden, minister for League of Nations affairs, who returned to Whitehall today to prepare the British strategy for the meeting of the council of the League of Nations at Geneva Sept. 4. Mussolini is expected to demand then the expulsion of Ethiopia from the league in rebuttal to the British government's insistence on a show-down.

The foreign office today awaited official information regarding the reported incident in Massawa, Eritrea, where 15 Indians, British subjects, were arrested by Italian authorities. A dispatch from Aden, Arabia, said they were arrested by telegraph operators to ship no more merchandise to Massawa.

nition of that government two years ago.

In an unofficial comeback to an American note protesting "flagrant violation" of Soviet pledges to prevent certain communist activities aimed at a revolution in this country Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky said last night:

"Anything said in Moscow by American citizens about the United States is very insignificant compared to their continuous propaganda in the United States against the Soviet Union."

"I have even seen suggestions that our government should show how stop the activity of American organizations and American citizens in the United States against the Soviet Union."

"It is obvious that my government will not interfere in the internal affairs of the United States in this or any other matter."

The ambassador made plain that this was not the reply of the Soviet government. He said, would come from Moscow.

Ten Billions Appropriated Says Buchanan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—Chairman Buchanan (D., Texas) of the house appropriations committee estimated today that the first session of the 74th congress made available to the government approximately $10,250,000,000 for emergency and ordinary running expenses.

This sets a new high for peace-time appropriations. It exceeds by nearly $3,000,000,000 the previous record peace-time appropriation for the fiscal year 1934. The peak wartime $22,200,000,000 for the fiscal year 1919.

Not all of this year's appropriations, however, will be used in the fiscal year 1936, which began last July 1. Some of the money is intended to cover later periods.

The estimate of $10,250,000,000 as the total appropriated by this congress was made by Rep. Buchanan (D., Texas), chairman of the house appropriations committee.

The figure represented approximately $7,550,000,000 in new appropriations, $2,200,000,000 in annual permanent appropriations and $500,000,000 made available for relief from RFC funds.
