POET LAUREATE IS SKILLED CONFESSION STORY WRITER

When, along with 125,000 others, I enter a boxtop contest and fail to win, I cross the product off my list for the rest of my life.

For Mrs. Jeffers of Burk Burnett has a confession to make. She's a poet of distinction, says that writing confessions is a fascinating task that requires just as sensitive and delicate writing as do her poems. Then she hastens to add that the confessions she writes about aren't her own!

My confession stories are about real people in real life situations," she says. "I report life, so to speak, and I try to write with understanding and sympathy of problems which beset people."

Mrs. Jeffers' first confession story in 1955, and she has been writing this type of story ever since.

My first confession story was turned to me, with suggestions for revisions. I made the revisions and sent it back to the magazine. Then came another letter suggesting other revisions. I decided I just was going to make the changes, and stuck the story in my desk drawer.

Eventually after the story had made the rounds of other markets, I decided I was going to sell it to the first magazine I had sent it to, and I did.

When her hometown found out about her story, there was a complete sell out of the magazine.

Confession writing no longer follows the time worn pattern of sin, confess and repent, she says. Rather, the writing is like the traditional short stories found in the 'slick' magazines. Writing for the confessions magazines requires skill and techniques, Mrs. Jeffers says.

had been confined to newspaper features. In 1955 she joined the Writer's Department of the Woman's Forum, and decided to begin serious study of writing techniques.

She enrolled for a Creative Writing course taught by Foster Harris and Helen Smith at the University of Oklahoma, and is now taking another of their courses. She has attended the University of Oklahoma Workshops for several years.

Best known for her poetry, Mrs. Jeffers was Poet Laureate of the Texas Federation of Women's Club in 1960; she is now president of the Wichita Falls Poetry Society, and she is a past president of the Forum Writer's Department. She has now had acceptance of three poems within the past two weeks, two by the American Anthology of Verse.

Mrs. Jeffers' interest in everything about her is reflected not only in her writings, but in her activities. She is active in the Current Literature Study Club, and the Santa Rosa District of the TFWC. She has two children, both of whom live in Burk Burnett.

Saturday, Mrs. Jeffers was one of the reception hostesses at the annual awards dinner of the Poetry Society of Texas meeting in Dallas.

More than twenty years ago, a student not yet nineteen years old looked at the world scene, as pages of history began to unfold. And war clouds began to scatter.

And became a menace to his homeland, and decided to enlist in the R. C. A. F. And against world tyranny take a stand.

Soon, F. M. Murtry Jr. went to Canada. And a R. C. A. F. cadet became. Then on that fateful "Pearl Harbour" Day, When war to the United States came, Back to the U. S. came F. M. To help his homeland defend, And with a special transfer His Canadian service end.

When training in Georgia was completed, Receiving his bars and wings to fly, Back home to Texas for a fortnight, And to loved ones a final goodbye. Then off to Europe he went, And from bases in England His final message sent.

Bill Reasoner Presents Key to Youth Center

Sunday, November 11, the Key to the Youth Center was presented by Optimist Club President, Bill Reasoner to Treva Ladd and Eddie Viavattene who represented the young people of Burk Burnett. As the two turned and walked into the building, the Youth Center was formally opened to the youth of Burk Burnett for fun and fellowship.

Kid Football Banquet Held Friday, Nov. 9th

A banquet to honor the players of the Kid Football Program was held November 9th. The invocation was given by Rev. Hollis Morris, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Webb Sharp, master of ceremonies, introduced Mr. W. T. Zimmerman, president of Kid Football, who in turn introduced other officers and sponsors. The coaches were introduced and presented with football jackets. They introduced their players and presented each of them a trophy. Trophies were also given to Terri Young, football queen, and runners-up Janie Robinson and Carolyn Farris.

Bill Reasoner, president of the Optimist Club, presented plaques to Mr. Zimmerman, Archie Faulk, treasurer, and Dr. Rudolph Robinson, finance chairman.

"Big Ed" Neal, an ex-professional football player made quite a hit with the boys. After a brief talk on the privileges of playing football he invited the boys to ask questions.

The Kid Football Program has been pronounced a success for the 1962 season.

Karl Goetze Funeral Was Friday

Karl Goetze, 83, pioneer Wichita County farmer and musician died in a Wichita Falls hospital Wednesday.

He was born in Mittweida, Germany, June 5, 1879. He came to Texas with his parents when 5.

Theta Epsilon Sorority Meeting Held November 12th

Theta Epsilon Sorority met on November 12th, 1962, at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Murray Carter.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Helen Cornueus. A devotional was given by Evelyn Farris on "How Should We Live Today."

The theme for the scrapbook this year will be "Boontown." Each member was asked to bring a pound of coffee for the State Hospital by the Welfare Committee.

A Thanksgiving basket will be given to a needy family. Bobbye Slusher was chosen as Theta Epsilon's "Beauty Queen" for this year. She was also voted by the other members of the Sorority as the "Outstanding ESA'er" for this year.

The program was given by Betty Carter. The title was "Cheeses" and Quick Meals. The program was very interesting on the origination of cheese, the different types of cheese and many uses of cheese. The average American consumes one billion pounds of cheese per year. Many valuable hints for quick meal preparation were given to the busy housewives, including a 15 minute Banquet Dinner recipe.

The door prize was won by LaDonna Shepard. Refreshments of coffee, Coke, apple pie topped with cheese and cheese cake were served to thirteen members and three pledges, as follows: Mesdames, Kathleen Brammer, Betty Carter, Helen Cornelius, Pat Dunn, Helen Eaton, Evelyn Farris, Lea Glisson, Bobbie Klinkerman, Marjilyn Howard, LaDonna Shepard, Shirley Spinks, Audrey Tibbets, Mary Tullis, Ruby Van Loh and Etna Wilkens.

The couple went into a showroom to buy one of those new economy compact cars. After learning the price of the automobile, the husband remonstrated: "But that's almost as much as a big car costs," he said. "Well," replied the salesman, brightly, "if you want economy, you got to pay for it."

Junior Class Selling Personal Bowling Passes

In cooperation with the Wichita Falls Bowling Proprietors' Association, the Junior Class of Burk Burnett High School is offering area bowlers a bargain.

$20.00 worth of bowling for only $4.00. The Juniors, as a class project to raise funds for the Annual Junior-Senior Banquet, are selling personal bowling passes good for 40 lines of bowling for only $4.00. Student bowling passes are one-half price, 40 lines of bowling for only $2.00. Deadline for securing your bowling pass is Monday, December 3rd. The passes may be used any time, between now and November 1, 1963.

A $50.00 donation was made to the Junior Class by the Wichita Falls Bowling Proprietors' Association. The class also receives $1.00 on each adult $4.00 pass and 50 cents on each $2.00 student pass sold. Prizes will be awarded to the top salesman of the class. First prize will be $5.00, 2nd—$3.00; and 3rd—$2.00.

These bowling passes are good at any of the following bowling lanes: Boomtown Bowl in Burk Burnett, Falls Bowl, Kickapoo Bowling Lanes, Spudger Lanes and Village Bowl in Wichita Falls. Be a booster of your Burk Burnett High School Junior Class and save yourself $ $ at the same time.

Social Security Information

Students, housewives, and others who plan to make extra cash by working during the pre-Christmas rush were advised to avoid possible delay by getting a social security account number now.

Erton F. Tate, district manager of the Wichita Falls social security office, reminded students who have never had a social security number to apply for one without delay at their Wichita Falls social security office.

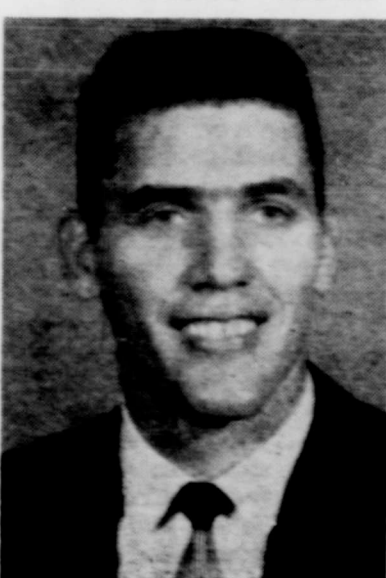

Housewives should check their social security cards to make sure that the account is in their married name. If the card is still in the maiden name, application should be made to change it, Mr. Tate suggested.

The key to the benefits which are paid to workers who retire, die, or become disabled is the number on your social security card. Any person who cannot locate his or her card should take immediate steps to make application for a new one by obtaining a form for this purpose at the Wichita Falls social security office or local post office. The new social security card will have the same number originally assigned to the worker.

The competition for Christmas jobs is always hectic, Mr. Tate said. Having your social security card available will make finding cash-producing Christmas employment easier.

First Baptist Church Revival Services Nov. 25 Thru Dec. 2

MR. ROY HARRIS

REV. A. L. LOWTHER

Revival Services will be conducted at First Baptist Church November 25 through December 2. Guest evangelist will be Rev. A. L. Lowther, Superintendent of Missions of Oklahoma County Baptist Association, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. SERVICES will be held at 7:15 P. M. each evening, including Saturday.

Music will be under the direction of Mr. Roy Harris, Minister of Education and Music at the church.

Highway Committee Seeks Listing Of "Continental 281"

McAllen—Large cities of Texas, such as San Antonio, Fort Worth and Austin, through whose hinterland the proposed one - numbered "Continental 281" Highway passes, as well as towns on the route will ring up more travel dollars when the project is completed, according to W. J. Wisdom of Stephenville, national president of U. S. 281.

Wisdom, Thomas N. Lockridge, national secretary, and E. E. Haverlah of Pleasanton, president of Texas Highway 281 Association, will meet with federal, state and city officials from Mexico December 7-9 to do further work on the project. The road conference will be held at McAllen during the visit of 175 Mexican leaders and their wives. McAllen will be host to the Mexico neighbors for hotel and motel lodgings, reception, luncheons, a banquet, style show for the ladies, and other events.

The national president pointed out that the Osborne, Kansas convention of U. S. Highway 281 delegates agreed not to ask for highway number changes from Fairbanks, Alaska through Canada to the North Dakota border, nor in Mexico, but to seek the added designation "Continental 281" on road signs and maps.

Wisdom says the convenience of travel on a one-numbered highway will increase travel of summer vacationers, fishermen and hunters to Alaska and Canada and will bring additional winter tourists to the Lower Rio Grande Valley and to the year-round vacation spots of Mexico. U. S. 281 presently traverses North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. It follows the 281 segment from Pharr, Texas to the McAllen Municipal bridge at Reynosa, Mexico.

the church for more than two years. Several special musical features are being planned and favorite gospel hymns and songs will be featured.

Mr. Harris served as Music Director at First Baptist Church, Spearman, Texas before coming to First Baptist Church, Burk Burnett as Education and Music Director. He had also served as Music Director in Village Baptist Church, San Lorenzo, California. First Baptist Church, Claude, Texas and College Heights Baptist Church, Plainview, Texas.

Mr. Harris is a native Texan, born and reared at Gruver, Texas. He holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Wayland Baptist College, with a Major in Religious Education and a Minor in Music Education. Mrs. Harris has also attended Baylor University, University of New Mexico, and Wayland Baptist College. Mrs. Harris' father, Mr. H. C. Sivells, is currently Secretary of Brotherhood and Royal Ambassador work for The Baptist General Convention of New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Harris have three fine boys, David Leon, Howard Dean, and Douglas Roy.

Music is a universal language. The public is cordially invited to share in the heartwarming evangelistic music in this revival. Also, the fully graded choir program in our regular church ministry.

Modern nurseries are provided for all services. Come and give God a chance in the Fall Revival of First Baptist Church of Burk Burnett, November 25 through December 2, 7:15 P. M. daily.

BOYS and GIRLS - News and Notes

Dear Boys and Girls—

Three hundred and forty-two years ago a group of people called Pilgrims set forth on the Mayflower in search of religious freedom. They landed on the shores of our own country and began building it into the country that we know today.

They were faced with many troubles. The winter was very cold and some of the Indians were not friendly. Many of the people would not do their share of the work. There was not enough food and there was much sickness so about half of the people died.

and although our hearts may not be quite as full of thankful feelings as the Pilgrim's were. I bet our stomachs are just as full at the close of the day.

This Thanksgiving Day let us not only feel thankful, but let us show that we are thankful if you are thankful for your mother and daddy, show it by being kind and obedient. If you are thankful for your home, show it by doing your chores without fussing. If you are thankful for your food, show it by stacking up the dishes after the meal. It is much nicer to show how thankful you are than just to say it.

I hope you will have a very Happy Thanksgiving Day and no tummy ache.

Until then, there had never been a Thanksgiving Day anywhere. The very next year they decided to have another day set aside to give Thanks for all the good things they had. Since then there has been a Thanksgiving Day every autumn and now it is one of the most beloved traditions. Today we try to use the same pattern set by the Pilgrims. We give thanks for all the good things we have.

Traditional American Way

Businesses of every kind have one thing in common. They are forever searching for ways and means to do a given job better and at a lower cost. That goes for both little things and big.

An interesting instance of this, which, directly or indirectly, will affect just about everyone in the country, is found in a recent innovation made in REA Express operations. It is a radically new small shipment handling system known as "Cost-Kut". What it amounts to is a piggyback method of highway express movements, whereby demountable containers of various sizes are carried on the trucks. It is applicable to both inbound and outbound shipment handling. Its virtues include reduced shipment handlings, earlier route-sorting, better shipment protection, speedier deliveries, and lower operating costs.

All such steps forward work out to the benefit of the American consumer. REA Express has had to face plenty of tough problems—one of them being below-cost, taxpayer supported competition from parcel post. But it has not cried "uncle." It is dealing with those problems in the traditional fashion of American private enterprise—that is, by improving its service in every possible way.

THE DANGER

The next Congress will be called upon to consider a "Truth In Packaging" law which was introduced near the end of the 1962 session. The bill would give a federal agency far more sweeping powers over the packaging and labeling of non-durable products sold at retail than it now possesses. The purpose is to protect the consumer from dubious and dishonest practices, and, also, to protect legitimate producers from competitors whose ethical standards are of a lower character.

There can be no reasonable opposition to laws and regulations which demand that products be properly labeled as to ingredients, weights and other such facts as the buyer is entitled to know. But the pending bill would go much farther. To take but one example, columnist Sylvia Porter observes that it would empower the regulatory agencies involved to ban "pictures of luscious cherry pies on packages which contain . . . ingredients for making a pie." That seems to be going a long way

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

What well could become one of the most important legal decisions in economics was entered in the Common Pleas court of Judge Paul H. Smith Jr. in Pittsburgh, Penn.

The Gillette Safety Razor people, to protect their trademark, and to prevent disruption of the quality razor blade market by inferior foreign made blades, maintain a retail price structure on their products.

In Pennsylvania, a discount operation started using cut prices on Gillette products as bait to induce store traffic. Gillette took court action.

Judge Smith apparently took cognizance of the merit of the Gillette pleading. But he also took cognizance of the fact that in many stores where Gillette products are sold at the established price, these stores also give trading stamps on the items they sell, including Gillette products.

On this basis, the judge handed down a decision giving Gillette 90 days in which to advise all retailers they must stop giving trading stamps with Gillette products. If Gillette fails to follow ruling, then Gillette must stop objections to discount pricing on their products.

The court took the position that the National Federation of Independent Business that in the final analysis trading stamps act as a discount, or price reduction, and hence, probably acting on the old common law precept that a plaintiff should come to court with clean hands, made this unusual decision.

This decision is an important one in the legal cloth on the subject of trading stamps being woven by many court verdicts in many courts in many scattered areas.

It would seem eventually that the Federal Trade Commission, which has off and on toyed around on the trading stamp matter, will be forced to take a non-weasel-worded position on the subject.

More and more regulations are being formulated and enacted that have the intent of advising the installment buyer what the cash price of the merchandise is, and what the price is when bought on the installment plan.

Thus, it seems perfectly logical that consumer should be given two prices on merchandise they buy with trading stamps. One would be the price without stamps, the other the price if they take stamps.

Obviously, if the consumer wants to pay extra to get the trading stamps, the consumer should have that privilege.

But the consumer should not be permitted to suffer under the delusion that with trading stamps, something for nothing is being gained.

indeed—it would certainly be an unusual consumer who thought that a package with flour-like contents had a ready-for-the-table pie inside.

In the urge to protect we can go to ridiculous and destructive extremes which, carried to the ultimate end, would allow powerhungry bureaucrats to decide what manufacturers can offer for sale, and what consumers will be allowed to buy. This is the danger that Congress should watch with an eagle eye when legislation of this kind comes before it.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

QUAKERTOWN, PA., FREE PRESS: "About 30 years ago, Washington took note of the fact that the rural people of the Tennessee Valley didn't seem to be as prosperous as those in much of the rest of the country. The Tennessee Valley Authority was the result. Today, most of the Tennessee Valley is still described as 'depressed', despite the outpourings of hundreds of millions of tax dollars to un-depress it."

WATERTOWN, WASH., EMPIRE-PRESS: "We could do much with a free market and a sound currency. We could do even more if profits were encouraged for with that comes investment and employment. And if we refrained from oppressive taxation it might eliminate this siphoning away of funds that would otherwise be available for investment. And if we allowed free wage rates it might encourage full employment."

With the hunting season here again, it's time to review the basics of gun safety. First make sure your gun is clean and that your ammunition is the right size. Keep every gun unloaded except when in use—but always treat it as if it were ready to fire. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

Model building is an exciting indoor winter hobby for millions of boys and girls. Monogram Models, Inc. has some suggestions for getting good results. First, set up your work area properly, using a large table placed near a good light. Set aside space to sort parts and lay out your tools, leaving room to steady your arms while working. If you hang the instructions beside your work table, they'll be easy to refer to and won't get in your way.

Proper physical conditioning is a must for all active sports. Here is a good limbering-up exercise. Sit on the floor, hands clasped behind your head; pull up your knees until calves and thighs form a right angle; bend forward, touching your chest to your thighs.

It's none too soon to start dropping hints for Christmas—or thinking of your own gift-giving list. The Big "T" plastic custom car model kit fills the bill for experienced model builders and car customizers. The Monogram model incorporates parts from 11 standard-make cars, including a 1924 Model "T" Ford body and an "A" pick-up bed. With 203 parts, the Big "T" presents a real challenge to the customizer's imagination and model building skill. The result is an eye-catching car a full one-eighth the size of the real thing.

Wilbarger-Wichita SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Average costs for applying conservation practices through the Great Plains Conservation Program for 1963 have been determined, according to Elvy Sargent, Iowa Park Conservationist.

The county committee working on average cost determinations were L. E. Brooks, Bob Crocker, Ralph Swinford, Albert Brockriede and Vivian Andrews. Others on the committee but unable to attend the meeting were Rufus King, Emile Flusche, Howard Henderson and Joe Cope.

Cost-share practices in the program for 1963 are Range seeding, brush control, farm ponds, terraces, diversion terraces, land leveling, waterways, erosion control structures, pasture planting and fencing. Participants also plan all needed recurring practices.

Farms and ranches approved for planning by placing them in medium priority, are James R. Stewart, Tom Swanson, James Ludeke, Steve Gose, Dr. Ted Alexander, and J. F. and James F. Foster.

A waterway was designed and staked for C. Birk Estate Farm, operated by Arnold Kiesling of Clara area, by Soil Conservation Service.

Where have the LEAVES Gone?

Trees without their leaves, are like a Church building without the people. The real warmth, friendliness, and welcome atmosphere are created by the people. All of these things are a real aid to worship.

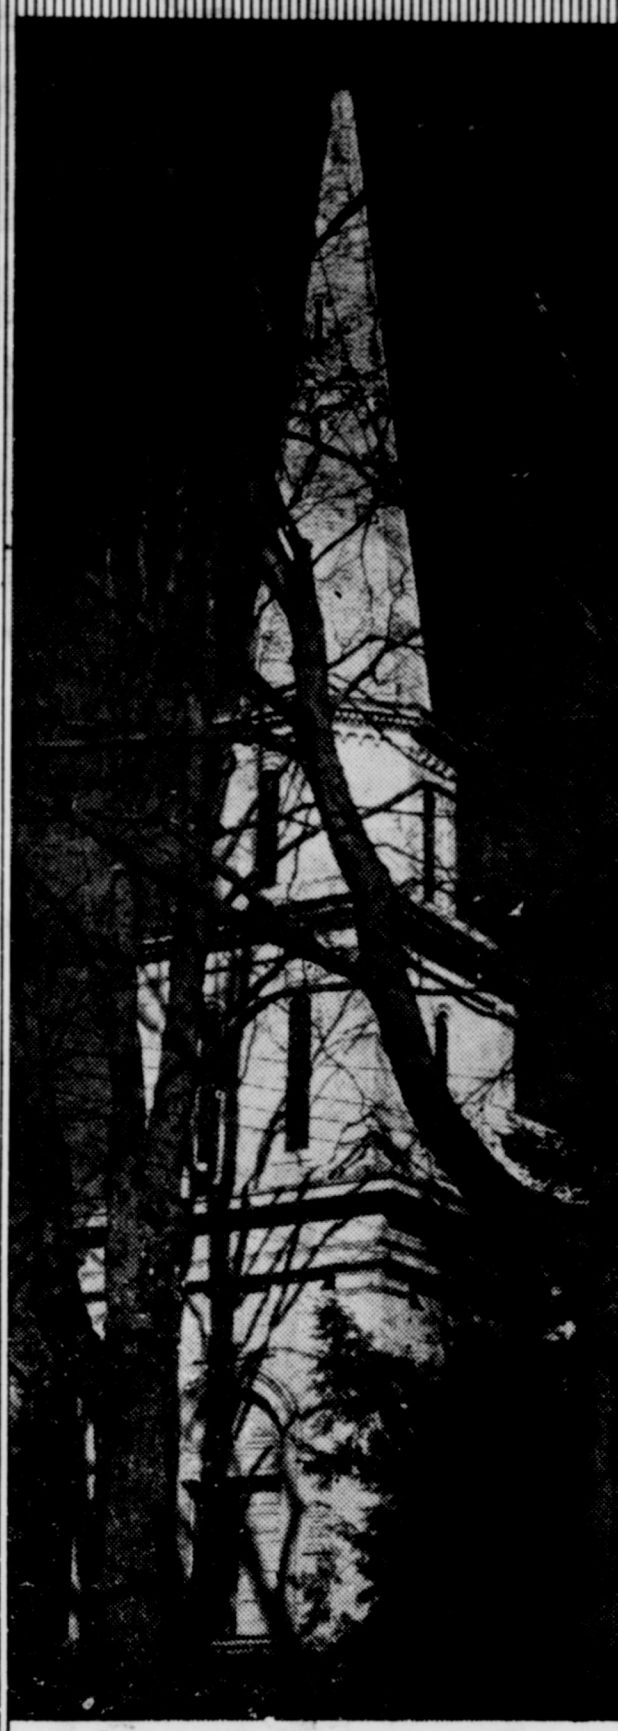

"Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

Come, be one among many to share in the joy of worshiping in the Lord's house this Sunday.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

Roger W. Babson
BABSON DISCUSSES GOING TO THE MOON

I find that young people are well informed with regard to going to the moon. This does not necessarily mean that they expect to go, but they are very much interested in reading about others who will go. Books are being published for these young people to read—various editions for various ages. What troubles me is that too often they get no encouragement from their parents who pretend the idea is all nonsense.

Impetus to General Business
I do not claim that preparing to go to the moon will bring about a business boom; but I do believe it will give an uplift to business within the next few years. I am thinking of the billions which will be spent in this attempt. These billions will be distributed to nearly fifty thousand contractors; the contracts will extend over five years, and may benefit every reader.

It is fair to assume that Russia and possibly other countries are working on similar programs. We will know more about this when Mr. Khrushchev comes over to make his visit. It is even rumored he will recommend that the moon project be made a joint effort. This would unite the brains of both countries as well as the money. I should not be surprised if Germany joined and made it "tripartite." Such a joint effort could be a forward step toward world peace.

The Moon and Canada
Canada is very rich in natural resources, but unfortunately,

Sheppard-Burk Burnett School Receives Gift

A welcome gift to the Sheppard-Burk Burnett School is the National Geographic Magazines from 1929 through 1959. Shown in the above picture with Mr. Buell Samuel, Mr. Hal Mabry, and Mrs. Buell Samuel. The magazines are from the library of the late Dr. A. B. Holsted, Temple, Oklahoma, father of Mrs. Samuel. Mr. Samuel is a former teacher in this school and Mr. Mabry teaches Seventh Grade Science, and Health and Physical Education.

ately, too much of this wealth is under ice as well as underground. Canada is in good financial condition but its one great liability is climate, which meteorologists believe could be greatly ameliorated by influencing the weather from the moon. If, however, the weather of Canada could be changed, so could that of other countries—the tropics as well as the colder countries. We know what the moon does to our tides.

Wherever we were born, we have taken the climate of our fathers as something permanent and unchangeable; but this is a mistake. Practical ways will be found to adjust climate, and this will be of great advantage to all nations. It may be the one effort which will result in a useful and permanent United Nations Organization. The thought has tremendous possibilities for good. At present, it looks as if using the moon as a base of climate control may be the answer.

Ownership of the Moon
An astronomer stated to me, "The moon is no good; it is dusty, void of water, with rocks near the surface." When in Africa and Johannesburg, I was told that this was the natural terrain of the richest part of Africa. Most of the diamonds, gold, and now uranium, are being found in the most barren portion of that continent. It is very possible even that the moon may give us the richest discoveries of these minerals. And the expense of getting back and forth from the moon may prevent what might otherwise be a great decline in the prices of diamonds, gold, and platinum.

This discussion about going to the moon reminds me of my boyhood days in Gloucester, Massachusetts, when I used to listen to the seafaring captains in my family. At first they went to India and China; but when gold was discovered in California, they sailed their ships around South America and up the west coast to profit from the gold rush of 1848. They went on a four-months trip from Boston to get this gold and take passengers to California. But it will take only four days to go to the moon at the speed which is being counted upon. I am told that after a port has been secured and the landing made safe, this speed can be reduced to what will seem normal to modern youth.

Psychology and Business
Mr. James P. W. Davidson, in an address in Wellesley this week, thinks that the talk about "going to the moon" will have a stimulating influence upon general business. It will raise the hopes, expectation, and enterprise of many people—especially young people. It should help general business as the automobile did fifty years ago, and as the discovery of gold in California did a hundred years ago. In the meantime, it certainly should indirectly increase newspaper advertising during the next year.

Afraid Of Colors?

"Too many people fear color," states Faber Birren, international color authority, "and this is particularly true in color selections for the home."

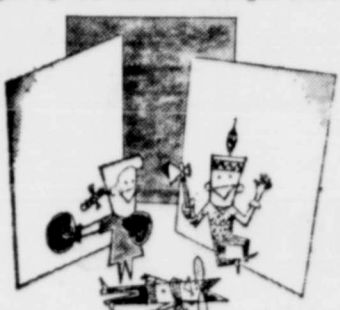

Modern research into the emotional reactions of color on thousands of people, he points out, has proved that off-white or beige (the usual choice for home decorating) creates far more mental strain than the use of prominent or rich color combinations.

Be bold with lively, gay colors in the children's game or playroom, he advises parents. Happy and merry tones are favorites of youngsters and encourages them schemes frighten you! For example, use a variety of strong colors such as shades of red, pumpkin or coral. These are typical of the lively, warm tones that help stimulate people, make them talk and feel animated.

Color expert Birren has developed a number of helpful hints for "timid" home decorators who are really not confident in their ability to select bright and cheerful color schemes. He strongly recommends a visit to the local Dutch Boy paint dealer where you may freely borrow their new 139-page Color Harmonizer guide for on-the-spot home consultation. The book contains large swatches of basic wall colors with suggested harmonizing colors for accessories, as well as actual rug samples in eight popular colors.

to give vent to their feelings, whereas somber and subdued colors have a tendency to "bottle them up."

The same idea holds true in a room which is used for entertaining. Don't let prominent color

City Wide Thanksgiving Service

The Burk Burnett Ministerial Alliance will hold its Annual Thanksgiving Service next Wednesday Evening November 21 at 7:30. The service will be held at Central Baptist Church with ministers of the participating churches taking part in the program. The sermon will be given by Rev. Carrol Copeland, pastor of First Methodist.

Special music for the service will be furnished by a combined choir directed by Mr. Roy Harris, Minister of Music at First Baptist. Mr. Harris invites all persons interested in being part of the choir to meet at Central Baptist Church on Sunday, November 18 at 2:30 p. m. A nursery will be provided for the Sunday Rehearsal as well as for the service on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Kenneth Brodshaw, President of the Burk Burnett Ministerial Alliance, extends a special invitation to all citizens of Burk Burnett to attend this Annual Thanksgiving Service.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin, Texas — Republicans have turned Texas into a two-party state.

The heavy vote for Jack Cox against John Connally, election of two members to the national house of Representatives and seven members to the Texas House, plus substantial Republican voters in nearly all areas, are being interpreted by many State Capitol observers as meaning that never again will the Democratic nomination be tantamount to election.

Dallas County elected every Republican candidate for county and legislative office they had on their ballot, and gave Cox a 25,000-vote lead over Connally. Tarrant and Harris were close. Bexar, El Paso, Travis and Nueces, the next four of the big counties, went Democratic.

Unofficial and incomplete returns indicate that Connally carried 204 counties and Cox carried 50. But it was the substantial Cox votes in the 204 counties he lost which makes this election significant.

Connally is conferring with legislators and with state boards and commissions. He will not make complete budget recommendations, since outgoing Gov. Price Daniel is required, under the Constitution, to make budget recommendations to the Legislature in January.

But Connally will make his own budget proposals in his message to the Legislature. Industrialization, tourism, higher education and water conservation are the areas of state activity which Connally stressed most in his campaign. He will propose the creation of a Bureau of Commerce to take over tourist and industry-attracting.

The new governor, with a 120,000-vote margin of victory under his belt, said he holds no ill will toward areas which voted against him, that he will be governor for Republicans as well as Democrats.

Main areas where the Republicans ran strong were in the oil areas of West and East Texas, in the major cities, and in the Panhandle. They elected local officials in Midland, Ector, Smith, Dallas, Kerr, Bexar, Pecos, Hutchinson, Zavala and Randall Counties.

Campaigns Too Long—After the longest political campaign in Texas history there is a desire—on the part of many candidates, newspaper reporters who travel with the candidates, and the voting public—to return to the shorter campaign periods.

The old late-in-July, late-in-August and early-in-November voting months were far less strenuous than the present early-in-May, early-in-June and early-in-November dates.

Campaigning in the heat of the summer now is very much preferred over the cold winter months and the long, tedious battle period that extends from December to November.

Don't be surprised if there is a big demand to return to the old election dates. They consumed only about 120 days, compared with this year's long, drawn-out pace-killing, man-killing, more than 300 day battle.

Governor-Elect John Connally has been quoted as saying he would favor moving the primary elections to August or September, as they are in most two-party states.

Under the present system the various party organizations close shop during the summer. Then it becomes necessary to reorganize and re-vitalize each setup for the General Election campaign. Heretofore the momentum generated carried them through to the November election. They got it all done in one big swoop.

Another reason for reverting to the old dates is that the cost of maintaining a long campaign naturally is much greater than the expense in a short one.

Island Under Fire—Officials of state and federal government had a heated discussion about land values on Matagorda Island in a preliminary round in the General Land Office.

Main bout will take place during the November 19 session of the U. S. District Court at Victoria, where the federal government has filed a suit to condemn a lease on some 16,000 acres of land on the island.

State of Texas will contest the suit.

U. S. has leased land on Matagorda Island since 1942 for Air Force bombing practice. But when Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler was notified on May 31 that a new five-year lease was in the offering, he raised objections.

Uncle Sam leases state-owned land there for less than six cents an acre annually. Some of it is subleased for grazing at 25 cents per acre.

In last week's Austin meeting between representatives of the U. S. Department of Justice, the State Attorney General and the Land Office, it was learned that federal appraisal of the disputed property was made from an airplane.

Government appraiser placed a 44-cents per acre value on beach and grass land owned outright by the U. S.—set a six cent value on some land; and a zero value on other state-owned property—to reach a 25-cent rental rate.

State land was described as "marshy and boggy," but Rep. Grainger McIlhenny, chairman of a legislative committee on state-owned lands, said he'd like to own "some of that worthless land," which is thought to be rich in mineral value.

Land Office questioned the government's need for all the land it seeks to lease.

As assistant to the U. S. Attorney General replied that U. S. Air Force and Navy bombing and strafing operations were subject to error—both human and mechanical—and simultaneous use by the public and armed forces would be impractical.

Emergency Resources—Gov. Price Daniel appointed Major General James E. Taylor chairman of a 35-member Texas Emergency Resources Planning Committee.

In answer to a presidential request, the committee will plan for conservation and use of essential resources and services at state and local levels in case of nuclear attack and a temporary breakdown of control of service operations.

James H. Garner, state coordinator of Civil Defense and Disaster Relief, will serve as State Emergency Planning Director. Other members of the committee include representatives of government, industry, commerce, consumers' services, labor and agriculture.

Employment Up—Unemployment in the state dropped in September to its lowest level since October, 1959. September showed 155,400 unemployed, compared to 170,100 in August.

Employment increased from 3,471,300 hired workers to 3,472,800. Texas Employment Commission predicted an overall gain in employment between September and November, with a heavy concentration in non-factory industries.

Fish Creek Dam—The Texas Water Commission authorized a permit to the City of Gainesville to build a $1,724,143 dam system on Fish Creek, a tributary of the Red River.

Plans for the dam, which was backed by local citizenry 2-1-2 to 1 in a local bond election, will include a reservoir with storage capacity of 23,210 acre feet; supply pipelines to town; and a filter plant.

Surface water will be used with water from Trinity wells until the well supply dwindles. Then the reservoir is expected to supply all water for a population expected to reach 24,000 in 1995.

Talking Books—Only about 10 per cent of the estimated 25,000 blind people in Texas are taking advantage of a free service just for them, said Dr.

Dorman H. Winfrey, director of the Texas State Library.

Winfrey said that this 10 per cent "read" about 56,467 talking books last year. But he estimated that the books which are recorded on phonograph records would be read by 10,000 if they were told about them.

The state library circulates both talking books and Braille free of charge, including postage, to any eligible blind person. Inquiries about eligibility should be sent to the State Commission for the Blind, 201 East 14th Street, Austin.

Optometry Rules Changed: An attorney for Texas State Optical accused the State Board of Optometry Examiners with passing a rule unrelated to optometry when the board met with the House Committee on State Licensing and Examining Boards.

House committee is in the process of checking the efficiency of operations of each of Texas' 24-state licensing agencies.

Rule challenged by attorney Quentin Keith would prevent optometrists from practicing under a trade name, and force an optometrist to be in his office 50 per cent of the time he is open for business.

Disputed rule—approved in December, 1959—has never gone into effect because of a restraining order Lee Optical filed three days after its passage.

Injunction is still effective, since the suit has not come to trial.

Stinson Hired—Texas Tourist Council hired an executive vice president, Bill Stinson, a member of governor-elect John Connally's campaign staff.

Stinson, former public relations director for the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio, will open an office in Austin soon.

Farm Income Down—Between 1929 and 1961, farmers' and farm laborers' incomes showed a percentage decrease of 12.8

per cent, according to the Bureau of Business Research.

Percentages are up on mining contract construction, manufacturing and retail trade, but down in transportation. Property income and proprietor's income.

Big Thicket Activity—Governor Daniel picked 31 state officials, historians and East Texans to study the feasibility of a state park in the Big Thicket area.

A report is due by the time the Legislature meets in January.

Taxes and Deficit Both Rise—The state deficit has increased despite higher tax collections.

Robert S. Calvert, State Comptroller reports the general fund deficit stood at $56,284,79 as of October 31. This compares to $51,022,09 a month earlier.

Revenue for two months of the fiscal year, started September 1, totals $209,970,520, up from $182,948,556 of the previous year.

Spending for the two months was $278,985,927, more than $62,000,000 ahead of last year.

Transfer of Authority—Gov.

Price Daniel wants regulatory control over radioisotope used in Texas vested in the State Health Department.

On behalf of the state he has asked the Atomic Energy Commission to transfer control to the Health Department "as soon as possible."

Included in the Governor's request is the licensing and regulation of by-products, source and special nuclear materials.

Hopes to Expand—Some 50 top general aviation leaders have asked the Texas Aeronautics Commission to expand its program of improving small airports and giving safety instructions.

Commission Chairman Paul M. Fulk of Wolfe City pointed out that the commission's problem lies in the more than $20,000 accruing monthly from unclaimed aviation fuel tax refunds.

Shelby M. Krister of Amarillo, vice chairman of the commission, said authority is needed from the legislature to spend the money.

An estimated $100,000 annually is needed to assist dozens of small airports in the state.

Tourist Traffic Rising—Reports to the Texas Highway Department indicate tourist traffic into the state is on the rise. Travel promotion is credited with ending the five year decline.

Governor Daniel says his mail gives two good reasons why folks like to tour Texas: a fine highway system and the friendliness of Texans.

Texas State Dept. of Health

Texas has 90 "packaged" hospitals on hand, ready for almost instant use following enemy action or a major natural disaster. Most of them are located at least 15 miles from assumed strategic target areas.

Star Office

The hospitals, costing $21,000 apiece, were provided by the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as part of a nationwide stockpile program. They are administered in Texas by the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, with technical cooperation from the Texas State Department of Health.

Outgrowths of the mobile army hospitals developed and tested during the Korean War, they can be completely installed by 40 or 50 people in four or five hours. In one test exercise an installation was made in 70 minutes by experienced personnel.

Local civil defense organizations in designated locations store and otherwise manage the hospitals and equipment. Emergency conditions such as the Cuban crisis are occasions for making sure the hospitals are in a high state of readiness.

Each unit—already crated for instant shipment into stricken areas, is a complete 200-bed affair with facilities for three operating rooms, a pharmacy, X-ray service, clinical laboratory, sterilizing room, central supply room, and electrical power supply.

Each hospital weighs 24,000 pounds and contains 8,000 individual pieces of equipment, including a 1500-gallon water tank and pump for emergency water supplies. There are also complete medical supplies, from surgical caps and gowns to ether and alcohol which are separately packaged and marked to avoid fire hazards.

Local civil defense authorities provide refrigeration for items such as insulin and blood derivatives. Antibiotics and other materials with expiration dates are labeled "deteriorative" to indicate they must be periodically inspected and rotated.

State civil defense and health authorities estimate that emergency hospitals will have to provide at least half the total hospital beds following a major emergency, since most conventional hospitals are located in metropolitan centers which may be targets of enemy action.

Doctors and nurses to staff emergency hospitals will be recruited from the community were the unit is installed for service, according to present planning.

Unwillingness To Breast-Feed

Q. My daughter-in-law refuses to breast-feed her baby because "no one else does." Is this attitude gaining in popularity?

A. Probably not. The vast majority of doctors favor breast-feeding and so advise their patients. Unwillingness of mothers to nurse their babies seems to have reached a peak during the middle of the 18th century. In 1780 the Lieutenant General of Paris Police, whose help had been sought in stamping out wide-spread child desertion, estimated that not one infant in a thousand received breast milk. The well-to-do employed wet nurses at such attractive prices that many less fortunate women abandoned their children to "baby farms" or foundling homes. The death rate in these places was appalling. Of 10,000 babies admitted to one such institution, only 45 survived — a mortality rate of over 99 percent!

Easy Bruising

Q. Can anemia cause easy bruising? I bruise quite easily, especially during certain times of the month. I am the mother of two small children, both quite healthy.

A. Many women, especially those with unusually soft skins, tend to bruise easily even though all blood factors are normal. The tendency to bruise may be related to estrogen (female sex hormone) blood levels. This would account for easier bruising during certain periods of the month.

Promptness, dependability and price fairness are the watchwords of our prescription department.
