JUST HERE and THERE

Of interest to many living in Ochiltree in 1914 and 1915 will be the news that two twin brothers Ben and Barney Giles, who taught school in this county at that time, are now generals in the U. S. Air Corps.

Brig. Gen. Benjamin Franklin Giles, who taught the old Plainview school, is commander of the North Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Command. The Plainview school back in 1914-15 was located on the old W. E. Lilly farm, now owned by Mrs. D. C. Wilson. The building was moved into Perryton when the town was started in 1919 and used by the Perryton school for a number of years. It is now the home of the Nazarene Church.

Brig. Gen. Barney McK. Giles former teacher of the Missouri Avenue school, abandoned when Perryton was started, is chief of operations with the Fourth Air Force Headquarters in San Francisco.

The President by executive order, has stopped the voluntary enlistment of all men of military age and in the future men will be supplied to the Army, Navy Marine Corps and Coast Guard through Selective Service. Procurement of men for military, war plants and many civilians needs is now under the supervision of the Manpower director.

It seems to us that this is a common sense solution of the entire problem and a policy that should have been put in effect long ago.

Just think of the man hours that will be saved by the branches of the military services, the newspaper and radio publicity, the time lost by men shopping for the best military job, now that Selective Service will furnish the men for all branches.

Then there is the clearing up of the work of the local selective service boards where last minute enlistment tear into scheduled induction rolls. Too many men were entering the service as

FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS

Prepare Now for V-I-C-T-O-R-Y AFTER VICTORY

The problem of changing from war work, after World War I, to peacetime production, plunged us into a long and grim depression.

Rural America felt this depression five years ahead of industry and business. We tried to warn labor and capital but they would not believe the warning and insisted the rainbow and the pot of gold at the end would last forever.

Finally, the bubble broke and the storm came. We had 12 million unemployed, the domestic market for farm production was gone, and even the smaller export market survived only when we loaned Europe the money to buy our products. Farm income was reduced, mortgages increased and many farmers lost their farms while industry, big and little, was at its wits' end to survive.

To Prevent a Worse Depression.

Our problem is to prevent even a worse depression at the end of this war. Every industry, big and little, has been retooled to produce airplanes, tanks, cannon and weapons of war. Millions and millions of dollars have been spent for this purpose.

When this war is ended it will take the same millions of dollars to turn these industries back to peacetime production.

Lessons of World War I.

We learned after World War I that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture prospers. We know now that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture, business and industry, and labor are all prosperous. Whatever our personal feeling may be, the fact remains that all of these groups taken together make up our domestic market which consumes over 90 per cent of our total production.

Labor can purchase its maximum of farm products if each worker has a permanent job at good wages. The employer can pay good wages if he has something useful to manufacture and some one has the desire and the money to buy it. Jobs at good wages depend upon an employer who is making the money necessary to pay the wages.

Farm Prices Reflect Good Business.

This makes it plain that with employers and business busy in useful undertakings, with all workers employed at good wages, farm prices will be good and consumption at its maximum.

The key to the situation is that employers shall have the cash money at hand to change from war manufacture to peacetime activity with the least possible delay when this war ends.

Our United States Senate is searching for a plan that will produce maximum revenue to the government to insure victory; provide a fund at the end of the war big enough and quickly enough to convert business and industry from war work to peacetime necessity, but without the government having to borrow and lend the money for this purpose after the war is over.

Here is a Simple, Practical Plan.

For the solution of all these problems there is one simple plan of outstanding practical value, based on the idea that war profits from all companies, big and little, should be used for this purpose.

The tax rate on war profits is figured at about 90 per cent. Business and industry, big and little, would be permitted, however, to deduct from their taxable war profits 20 per cent of such profits, provided the deduction is used to purchase United States Recovery bonds.

Recovery bonds would be a special kind of bond for this purpose only. Recovery bonds could not be sold or borrowed upon during the war, and neither would they pay any interest. They must be held by the purchaser until the end of the war.

The day the war is over these bonds would automatically start to bear interest, could be bought and sold, and become the same as any other government bond. The purchaser could sell them or borrow upon them to obtain the money to change his business and plant from war production to peacetime production when and as he needed money to do this job.

Profits for Peace-Time Recovery. In other words, business, big or little, would be required to contribute 20 per cent of its own war profits to provide the money to change its own plants back to peacetime production.

The fairness and equity of such a plan is perfectly plain. Each company, by using 20 per cent of its own war profits to buy Recovery bonds, builds its own backlog to bridge from war production to normal peacetime activities. Big companies and small companies will buy in proportion to their size and needs until the war is over. In the meantime, our government receives the maximum in revenue to produce for victory, and we, the people, have established security against the worst depression of all time.

With such a plan adopted and in operation, we can all give our maximum to the war effort, secure in the fact that when the war is over we can quickly and safely go back to the paths of peace. The necessity for such a plan is so apparent, the evils of depression so grim and widespread that we, the people, can well afford to take time out to support our senators and congressmen in this effort to bypass another depression.

Watch Fire Hazards During Holiday Season

AUSTIN—Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, suggests that plans for the coming holiday season include careful consideration of fire prevention.

"We must not allow destructive fires to burn our homes, or to cause injury or death to our families," Hall said. "This can be avoided by being careful in planning our decorations for Christmas. The decorations more commonly used are highly combustible, and therefore create additional fire hazards during the holiday season."

Several fire safety practices mentioned by the Commissioner were: See that decorations are kept a safe distance from stoves or other heating equipment; do not allow them to come in contact with electric light bulbs, or appliances; prevent the accumulation of trash, papers, boxes or rubbish; "black out" matches, cigars and cigarettes before discarding them; keep matches beyond the reach of children; be careful to keep electric circuits from being overloaded.

If a tree is used, secure a fresh one, keep it dampened and outside the house until actually needed. When set up, place the tree in a room where it will be as cool and moist as possible.

Mrs. Mark Boehning left Friday for Wichita, Kansas, to be with her brother Harry Crouch, who is to undergo an operation this week.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

ABILITY to do an extra job takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it. There are many things for thirst but Coca-Cola does far more than just quench thirst. It brings you a unique taste you enjoy... and unique refreshment you feel.

In the making of Coca-Cola, there's a finished art that comes from a lifetime of practice.

It takes the skill of 57 years of "know how" in blending certain special flavor-essences with all the other ingredients to produce an original unique taste all its own... a taste you never tire of. It never cloy.

You and your thirst could ask for nothing more than ice-cold Coca-Cola. Because ice-cold Coca-Cola is the real thing in refreshment. It's all refreshment... pure refreshment.

War-time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola carries on.

In wartime, less Coca-Cola is available than before. But there's still enough for many a refreshing pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola with food is always welcomed by family and friends alike.

Christian Science War Relief Work

BOSTON, Dec. 9.—(Special)—The Christian Science War Relief Committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which was established in 1914, has recently received its second annual report. It shows that it now has more than 1500 branch units active in the United States of America besides 100 more in Great Britain, Canada, Australia and the Union of South Africa.

The Committee has assembled since Pearl Harbor over 66,000 pounds of durable clothing and bedding, in waterproof, moth proof, wooden cases, at convenient locations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, ready for instant use should emergencies arise because of local enemy action.

More than 32,000 garments have been distributed, through military distribution centers, to men in the United States forces. A large British transport vessel which had arrived from tropical waters and was being repaired at Boston received 100 overcoats for officers. Folding coats have been given to overcrowded seamen's clubs. Civilians arriving in the United States suffering because of war conditions or action have been provided with clothing and other forms of relief. Among them are refugees from the Far East, who landed in California; and merchant seamen rescued from ships torpedoed along the Atlantic coast have been similarly cared for. This work is carried on by the Committee without regard to creed or race.

One of the most impressive branches of the work from the start, before America entered the war, has been the distribution of clothing and comforts to bombed-out people in Great Britain and to refugees from Holland, Norway, Russia, Poland, Belgium, and other European countries. Clothing has gone direct from Boston to Russia, and knitted goods have been sent there from branches of the Committee in England. One example is the preparation, within six weeks, of 1820 knitted garments for the Russians. Overseas workers have won the commendation and co-operation of local authorities by their prompt arrival on the scene of trouble. In cities heavily bombed, such as Plymouth, Coventry, Bristol, and Southampton, they have got there with food and clothing, ready to go to work, even before the "All Clear" sounded.

The wide range of the distribution is indicated in the annual report from the United Kingdom. One worker reports that an English physician, "totally bombed," was fitted out with suitable professional clothing by the almoner. A Scottish center states that Commandos who at one time raided the Norwegian islands were equipped on the expedition with comforts from Boston, and that the center provided clothing for the refugees whom the Commandos brought back.

Throughout the entire Christian Science movement workers are making and collecting clothing of all kinds and sending it to the depots, where it is carefully inspected, sorted and packed in waterproof cases for shipment. One of the most recent of the Committee's activities has been the sending of weekly food packages to British prisoners of war in Germany and Italy. This can be done according to the Geneva Convention. Only an occasional package has gone astray. Correspondence has been started with many of the prisoners and with their families in England. Some packages have been sent to civilians in Occupied France. It has not been possible to reach prisoners in the Far East.

Figures presented for the two-year period ending the first of October, this year, include over 1,600,000 pounds of clothing and bedding sent to the British Isles, more than 8,700 pounds to Russia, and more than 10,500 pounds to Finland, previous to that country's alliance with the Axis.

The yearly shipment to England from the Boston depot alone has totaled between 4,000 and 5,000 crates, each containing about 200 garments. The loss in shipping has been negligible. During the first year of the Committee's operation at least 30,000 people in Great Britain received clothing, food or other comforts, and about 240 were assisted financially. In addition to shipments from the four depots in the States—at Boston, New York, Los Angeles, and Portland, Oregon—crates have gone forth from Christian Science workers in Canada, Australia, and South Africa. In Great Britain alone 300 almoners have been at work distributing relief.

The total value of material in clothing distributed is estimated at $1,533,300. In addition to this money, gifts have been sent to China and other needy countries, and three motorized canteens have been sent to England; they are located in London, Sheffield, and Rochester.

The Committee is ready to aid in relieving human suffering caused by war wherever it can; and it co-operates with many other officially recognized relief agencies when sudden needs arise, readily contributing whatever of its supplies are available.

Christmas Program on December 18

As the Christmas season approaches teachers and students begin to make plans for the Christmas program. The theme to be presented in chapel December 18 is the story of the birth of Christ. Directed by Miss Elizabeth Jameson and the elementary teachers. Numbers will be given by the high school chorus and the choral readers.

Committees are: Script, Misses Mary Louise Yoe and Mayme Halcomb; Mrs. M. L. Stevens, Mrs. C. C. Baker; Costumes, Miss Nellie Wingren; Mrs. Doyle Thompson; Mrs. Sam Fort; Stage, Miss Marie Pinkley; Mrs. Cleo Hall and Mrs. Norman Crum.

EL TORO

Say, if you want to see the biggest of Elmer Schollenbarger's big smile these days, look up the girl who sits on the second row, six seats from the back in the 5th period study hall.

Mary Ellen Moss is still holding true to her promise, "No more men until Joe Cox comes home Christmas." As a constant reminder and protection she keeps a 14 by 20 snapshot of him glaring around the front room to intimidate would be suitors.

This week orchids go to Donald Ellis. He won the honor by taking Miss Shannon Daniels to the show last Sunday. Nice going Don. I thought you had better taste, Shannon.

The gossip has been going around about the feminine telephone calls Johnny Daniels and Danny Ellis have been receiving lately. Girls, these calls may slow down other calls, vital to our war effort, therefore these boys have asked me, to ask you, to please lay off.

Bobby Turner, the beautiful boy with the batch of girls has done it again. Mary Lou Rupprecht is the victim, or the victor as the case may be.

Jack Parker, Perryton's gift to the women, "The Lady Aide," seems to prefer blondes. At any rate he has been seen at the show with "Diddy" Records and Helen Marie Hudson several times lately.

Donald Schuster, the kid with the car, had a date with one girl one night and a different one the next. Gas rationing is sure going to hurt Donald.

Dub "Chemistry Lab" Burleson was slightly injured in the Physics room last Monday when a window slammed shut on his hand. That's what he gets for trying to flirt with June Lance, who was in the next room.

As I close, the latest school romance is that of "Mirt" Orril and her new found boy friend "Red" Roese.

Missionary is Assembly Speaker

On Friday, December 4, Junior and Senior High schools, at regular weekly assembly were honored by a very distinguished guest. Yes you guessed it, Dr. J. Christie Pool delivered an unusual message on the important field of Africa.

Kenneth LaMaster served as master of ceremonies with Herchel Jameson and Paul Allen Plecher as color guards. Darrel Teater read the scripture and Miss Eugenia Mitchell led the assembly in prayer.

Chester H. Williams introduced Dr. Pool with the following statement, "He is a man whom we could not call selfish, because he has given his all in order to carry the cause of Christianity to Africa." Dr. Pool who is a Baptist missionary from Nigeria talked to the students and teachers about Nigeria's school systems. He spoke of the eagerness of the black boys and girls to obtain an education. Customs and food used and eaten by Nigeria were vividly explained.

Dr. Pool ended the program by showing different items that he had brought back. His closing statement was, "If you neglect God you can never be a well rounded person."

Rangers of '42 Honored at Banquet

The annual football banquet was given Tuesday night, Dec. 8, in honor of the past season's Perryton Rangers. The banquet was sponsored by the Lions Club of Perryton. It took place in the school cafeteria at 8 p. m. As a special entertainment, two rolls of film were shown on college football of 1939, 1940 and 1941.

Her favorite picture, Sun Valley Serenade, proves that she enjoys sports. Basketball is perhaps her best liked sport. Mrs. Truitt, who is five feet tall, sews for pastime. School in Holiday Dress

The Christmas spirit is boosted in P. H. S. this week because of the colorful decorations that were found in the halls and class rooms. The study hall blossomed out with red and green decorations hanging from every available corner and nook. Artificial snow is lying about in all the windows and icicles are hanging everywhere and on everything.

Standing in the center of the stage, a large Christmas tree held the center of attraction. It is beautifully decorated with all types of colorful ornaments. The Senior Class was in charge of the decorations of high school.

Several of the teachers have decorated their class rooms and many others intend to.

Grade School

The Christmas spirit is beginning to thrive in the primary grades. With the children seeing a few pictures of Santa Claus and this being December the spirit is running high. They are beginning to bring a few articles in with which to decorate the rooms. So if you come face to face with Santa Claus, remember, Christmas is drawing near.

The little children have finished the football field which they started building a few weeks ago. They will probably be playing regular games very soon.

Experiment Delayed As Plans Blow Up

The field of science suffered a severe setback here last week when the priceless experiment of Professor W. G. Burleson and his assistant, Dr. Wilbur C. Cotner, went up in a terrific explosion with at least half of the chemistry lab. For weeks these keen scientific minds have been engrossed in a secret experiment whose work or basic elements cannot be published because of its infinite value to the war effort.

In an interview after the tragic occurrence, Prof. Burleson said, "Though financial loss was small, due to priorities and scarcity of materials, it will take some time for my assistant and I to collect the necessary materials to finish our work. Though it is quite discouraging to have things blow up just on the eve of success, my assistant and I are also encouraged for we now realize the strength of the chemical with which we are working."

Local officers who are investigating say there were no signs of sabotage.

EDITORIAL

Propaganda

"Loose Talk Costs Lives!" One of the most destructive things in modern warfare is propaganda. Hitler sends his agents into a country years before he invades it. These agents spread propaganda telling how the country is failing and that Germany is great and powerful.

This lowers the morale of a country until the invader can march into the country with little or no resistance. The downfall of France was caused mainly by propaganda. There are now in America agents spreading lies and trash about our own country trying to lower our morale. Although this is a hard thing to do, if we aren't careful we will be fighting among ourselves and losing confidence in our government and its leaders.

The wrong kind of gossip is very destructive and is what the enemy agents are working for. Let's remember not to tell or believe every thing we hear.

The reference books are not to be taken from the study hall without special permission of Miss Helen Pich, the librarian. If it is necessary for students to take them to classes or home, it is requested that you check them out.

War Bond and Stamp Sales Are Soaring

The children of P. H. S. are doing all they can in the war, especially the grade school. Just because they cannot carry a gun, work in a defense plant, or fight on the front line is not holding them down. They are investing their spending money in U. S. War Stamps and Bonds.

Senior High ranked the highest last week. They were credited with $480.05; Grade School, $86.55; and Junior High, $123.96.

Room 5A, Mrs. Sam Fort's room, has a very good record, considering that they are in competition with the entire school. They have lead all classes for the past four weeks. One week they turned in more than $200. This is the highest brought in to date.

Share the Meat For Victory

Why share meat? What types of meat are to be effected, and how is it to be done? These are the major questions concerning the meat proposition.

There is a greater supply of meat this year than ever before in history, but there is still greater demand. The United States must feed its armed services, its allies and itself. Logically, civilians must be the ones to sacrifice.

Beef, real, lamb, mutton and pork, including canned meats and sausage, made from these meats, are effected by this plan. All people over 12 years of age are asked to limit themselves to two and a half pounds per week; children 6 to 12 years old, one and a half pounds; and children under 6 years old, 1/2 pounds. Bone and fat are included in this poundage, but poultry, fish, and such variety meats as kidney, liver, brains, sweetbreads, and tongue are not. Meat in lockers, and that which is killed on the farm are not exceptions to the general rule.

Most people use no more than the allowed amount of meat, but those who do, can benefit by using substitutes and by conserving. By varying the seasoning and by flavoring larger portions of food with smaller pieces of meat, the allowance will go farther. Cheese, eggs, dry beans, soybeans, and peanuts all contain protein plus one or more of the other food values of meat, and will make good stand-ins for meat dishes. In comparison to other countries, both Allies and Axis, the United States has a liberal allowance of meat. For example, in England people are able to buy one pound per week; Germany, 12 1/2 ounces; Denmark, 9 ounces; Belgium, 5 ounces; and Italy 3 1/2 ounces.

The go-to-church movement can be given your personal support without any community drive.

Girls Play Volley Ball in P. H. S.

The girls volleyball team started practice last week and looks like it is going to be a big success. Because most of the girls have not played the sport before, Miss Mary Dean Dozier's team has been slow at getting started. The girls have shown much improvement since they began playing and Miss Dozier expects them to keep improving until the season is finished. Miss Dozier announced that the girls will have games among themselves if they can find no other opposition.

The members of the squad are: Billy Louise King, Mildred Forbes, Mary Ann Cudd, Jayce Lance, June Lance, Ruby Ann Patton, Jean Ruth, Mullins, Alverna Records, Joan Boston, O'Neal Wilson, Shannon Daniel, Mary Lou Rupprecht, Helen Hudson, Billy Pate Bell, Mary Frances Calhoun, Gloria Goettsche, and Jerry Carmichael.

Basketball suit No. 15, the jinx suit, is worn by Danny Ellis this season. Last season three boys wore No. 15 and consequently they all caught the mumps. May Danny have all the luck in the world this season as he plays in suit No. 15.

Jack Phelps is the largest boy out for basketball. There has been a great deal of trouble finding the right size trunks and shoes for Jack. However he is all fitted out now with boxing trunks and size 11 shoes.

Donald Ellis who was high point man in the Spearman game, missed practice two days last week due to a knee injury.

Coach George Philbrick has announced the boys who lettered in football. The seniors who lettered get jackets. They are J. V. Pearson, end; A. J. Eady and Clayton Schollenbarger, tackles; Tommie Bishop and John Daniel, guards; Bob Bray, center; Bobby Turner, Dale Parvin, Jack Ellidge, Travis French and G. K. Rupprecht, backs. The Juniors who lettered the first time get sterling silver footballs with 1942 on a raised letter P. They are Bill Allen, John Dunlavy and Robert Holland.

There are two new boys out for basketball this week. They are Robert Holland and Wilfred Durham.

How to Take a Motorcycle Ride!

You might think me crazy, trying to tell you how to take a motorcycle ride, but take it from a man of experience. I know. Before accepting an invitation for a ride, one should have a thorough understanding with the driver. He should tell the driver not to skid around corners or jump curbs, and not to go over 35 miles an hour (especially in this snow.)

When you get on the motorcycle get a firm grip on the driver and take a deep seat, then hope to pray that you live through it. Sumpter is a motorcycle enthusiast. He is a very nice boy and he is going. That is until he gets into his motorcycle. Oh boy, of all hair brain, idiotic things.

Please, fellow citizens, be careful and take my advice. Before you take a motorcycle ride, you better learn how.

Brother... quit being so human!

★ Remember 1933 — when times were tough?

Maybe you didn't have a job. Maybe you and your wife and kids didn't eat too well — dress too well — have too much fun. Maybe you swore then that if things were ever different, you'd make up for it.

Chances are, today, things are different. You've got a job. You're getting good money. And you'd naturally like to have a little fun with it. You'd like to buy some of the "extras" that you and your family never had during the hard times.

It's only human to feel that way. But right now — we've got to quit being so human!

Right now, over in England, a bunch of fellows are getting ready to tackle one of the bloodiest jobs ever given an Army. In the Pacific, another bunch is playing hide-and-seek with an enemy that thinks the right treatment for a wounded prisoner is a bayonet through the guts. Others are sweating in Africa — still others are on cold, dreary, fog-bound islands near the Bering Sea.

That's their job.

But it's our job to give them the tools they need to win — by buying War Bonds! And so far, we aren't doing our full job!

Right now, there are still people who ought to be buying War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan — but aren't.

While plenty of people in the Plan are investing more than the 10% Uncle Sam needs, a lot are putting aside less than they can.

The fellows who aren't yet in the Plan — or, being in, haven't yet hit their 10% — aren't unpatriotic, or 5th Columnists, or anything like that. They're just human. They just haven't realized their Country's bitter, crying need — now! They haven't realized that Americans have been licked in battle for lack of planes, ships, tanks and bullets — tools that the money we'd like to spend for fun has got to buy!

Uncle Sam hopes that every single one of us will realize it — by January 1st, 1943. By that date, everybody on a payroll should be on a Payroll Savings Plan — and we'll "Top That 10% by New Year's."

So, if you aren't setting aside your 10%, go on in and tell 'em you want to raise your sights. Not to 6%, or 7% or 8% — but at least 10%. If you can put in more than 10% — do it. If you aren't yet in on the Payroll Savings Plan — sign up tomorrow!

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

If you are . . .

1. Already investing 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan — boost that 10% if you can.
2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet — sign up tomorrow.
3. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager — and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
4. Unable to get in on the Payroll Savings Plan, for any reason, go to your local bank, or wherever Bonds are sold. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

Cause for Alarm

The success of many local drives has inevitably resulted in large accumulations of scrap at collection depots in all parts of the country. And these large stockpiles have in turn been the cause of misinformation and apprehension on the part of the general public. In some instances, the size of these piles of scrap created the mistaken impression that the need for scrap was not as urgent as it was represented to be because it was not being moved as fast as it came in. These mistaken ideas must be corrected at once.

As R. K. White, Chief of the WPB General Salvage Section, points out, "community scrap piles can be likened to the corn in a farmer's crib. The fact that his corn is not being fed at the moment is no indication that the farmer grew more corn than he needed. It is simply being held in storage against the day when it will be required by his livestock."

It is essential that the public fully understand the true meaning of the growing scrap piles now springing up all over the country. The purpose of scrap drives is to build up an immense reservoir of easily accessible scrap which the steel mills can draw on throughout the winter months to maintain steel production at capacity. That point cannot be emphasized too often. Finally it must be driven home that dwindling stockpiles, and not growing stockpiles, are cause for alarm.

A Week of the War

The OWI announced that the U. S. in the year of 1942 will have produced approximately 49,000 planes, 32,000 tanks and self-propelled artillery, 17,000 anti-aircraft guns larger than 20-mm., 8,200,000 tons of merchant shipping, thousands of anti-aircraft machine guns, and thousands of scout cars and half and full-track carriers. Munitions and war construction were "above the most optimistic estimate of our production possibilities a year ago," and food production—a large proportion of which was meat, milk, eggs, and soy beans—was 12 per cent above the previous year.

Expenditures for the year for munitions and war construction will total $47,000,000,000. In the first 10 months of 1942, more than $13,000,000,000 were collected in taxes and more than $33,000,000,000 through the sale of bonds and other government obligations. Approximately 17,500,000 people are now employed in war work—compared to 7,000,000 a year ago—but in 1943 an additional 5,000,000 will be needed for war work and for the armed forces. By March 15, 1942 the cost of living had risen 15 per cent over the end of 1939, but price regulation instituted in April, held down the increases in those prices subject to control to 6.10 of one per cent as of October 15.

In the first year of war, the Department of Justice has secured court convictions of at least 8 persons charged with treason, has sent to prison for terms aggregating 530 years, 49 spies in the pay of Germany or Japan, has brought under rigid control more than 3,000 foreign agents, and has indicted 27 war contractors for defrauding the government. Through the breaking up of international cartels and illegal patent pools a great number of trade secrets and technical processes have been given to American arsenals and manufacturers.

October production of alloy steel was 60 per cent higher than the average monthly production in 1941 and 400 per cent over the pre-war production peak, the WPB steel division announced. October steel plate production totaled 1,100,000 tons, an increase of almost 100 per cent over October 1941. The Maritime Commission said U. S. shipyards during November delivered into service 84 vessels totaling 891,700 deadweight tons, raising the total production so far this year to 625 vessels of 6,890,000 deadweight tons. This total is 1,100,000 tons short of the 1942 goal fixed by the President, but the Commission said schedules for December indicate the goal will be reached. Machine tool production in the U. S. during October for the United Nations reached an all-time high of 30,000 units, with the American armed forces receiving approximately 22,500 of these, the War Department reported.

Report on Pearl Harbor

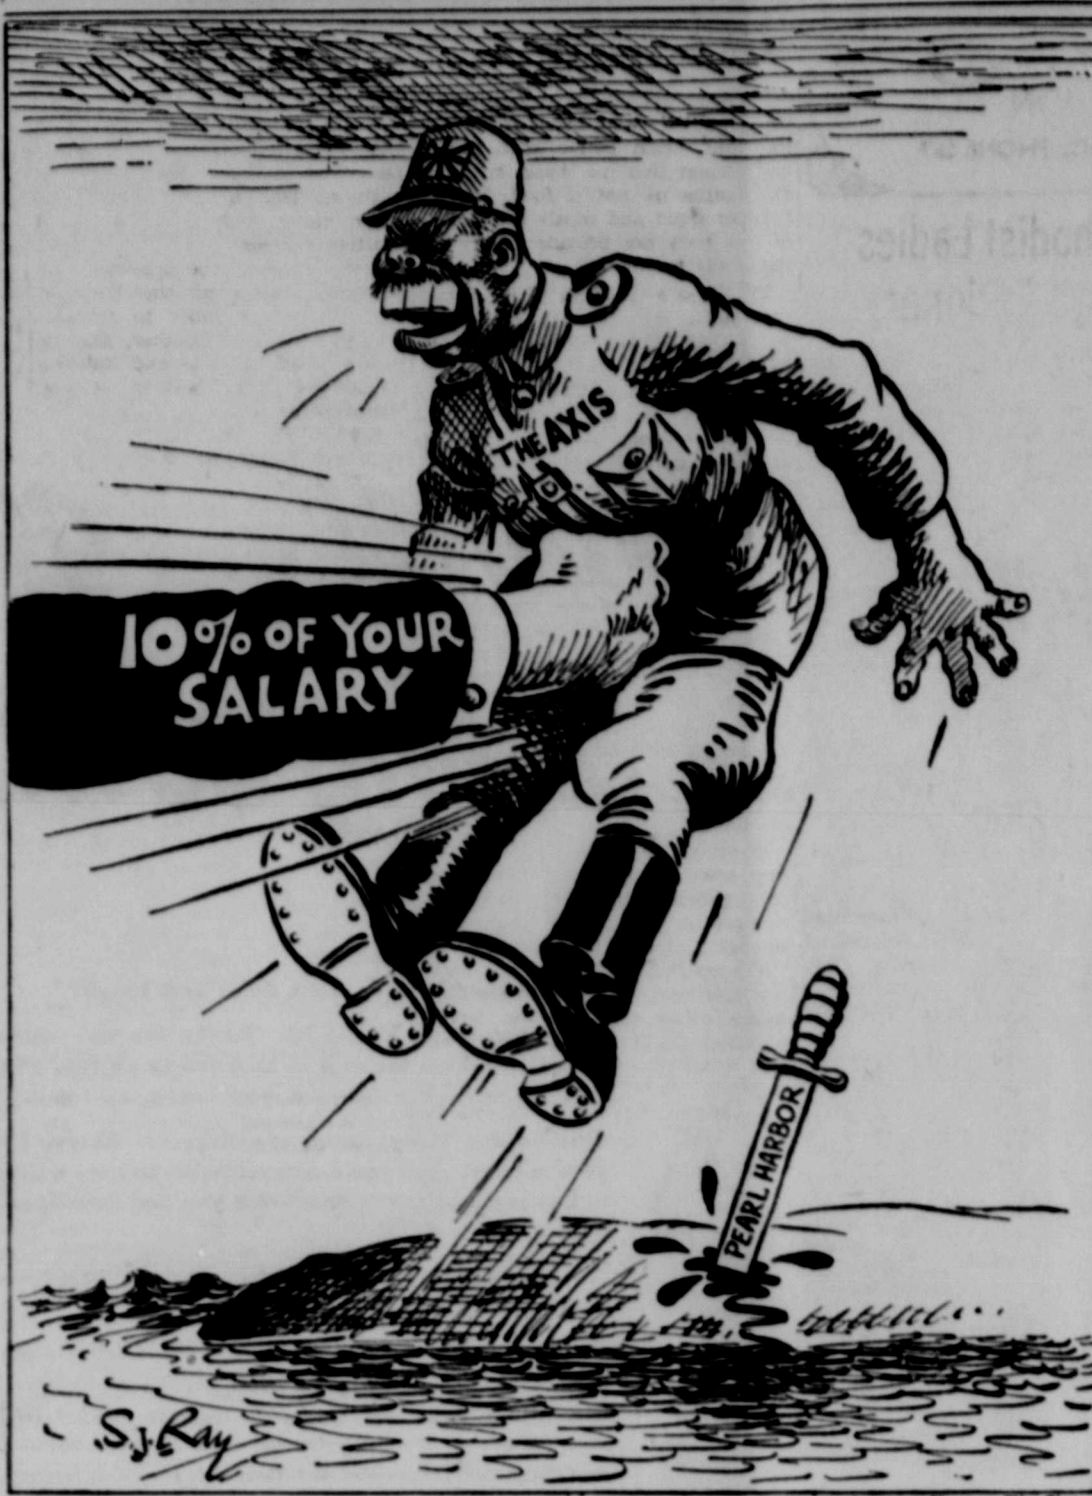

The Navy Department announced that all of the eight battleships in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, were hit, seven of them temporarily disabled, and one, the Arizona, permanently and totally lost. Those reported damaged have returned to the fleet, while others critically damaged are being repaired and will soon be ready for battle action. Of the 202 U. S. naval aircraft based at Pearl Harbor, 150 were permanently or temporarily disabled. Army planes destroyed totaled 97. As a result of the Japanese attack, 2,343 officers and enlisted men of the U. S. services were killed, 1,272 wounded, and 960 are still reported as missing.

The Navy estimates that 105 enemy planes took part in the attack, and that the enemy lost 28 aircraft and 3 submarines of 45 tons each.

The War Front

Navy Secretary Knox told a press conference that Japanese troops on Guadalcanal may be running short of supplies. The enemy's attempt to land supplies and reinforcements on the night of November 30 was a complete failure, he said. At that time a U. S. Naval task force intercepted and engaged Japanese troop transport and vessels and sank nine ships—two large destroyers or cruisers, four destroyers, two troop transports and one cargo ship—at a loss of only one U. S. cruiser. The enemy will try again, Mr. Knox said, but the November 30 attempt indicates clearly that the condition of the Japanese on the island is becoming acute. Navy communications throughout the week reported 170 Japanese killed on the island, three planes downed and one cargo ship hit.

The Navy reported five U. S. naval transports were sunk by Axis submarines during the occupation of North Africa in the early part of November, and during the operation three other U. S. transports, one destroyer, and one tanker were damaged. Reports showed that 218 Axis planes and 10 tanks were destroyed and a number of prisoners were captured, with the Allies reporting 14 planes missing and five lost.

In a daylight raid on Naples on December 4, Allied heavy bombers successfully attacked docks and other targets, scoring hits on one Italian battleship and two cruisers.

The nation's Intelligence Service has estimated Japanese casualties from the day of Pearl Harbor to November 25, 1942, at 250,000 men killed or permanently injured, with naval losses representing about 10 per cent of the Japanese Navy's total personnel. U. S. Army and Navy losses in the same period number about 50,000 men killed or missing, with naval losses representing about one per cent of total U. S. Naval personnel.

Agriculture
The 1943 Food-for-Freedom goals are expected to cause some regional changes in agricultural production, as changes from the past production pattern throw sharp emphasis on crops and livestock most essential to the war effort. All possible assistance, the Department of Agriculture announced, will be given farmers in meeting the record goals—to ease the shortage of farm labor, to support prices, to provide loans and technical assistance—but crop payments will be conditional on the degree to which each co-operating farm family carries out its individual farm plan, with deductions for over-planting of non-essential products and for under-planting of essential crop allotments and goals.

To provide labor for 1943 farm production, WMC Chairman McNutt announced a comprehensive program which will be worked out in detail during the winter and

Farm Equipment Outlook in 1943

COLLEGE STATION—The primary task immediately ahead of the extension agricultural engineer is to assist farmers in keeping the machinery they possess in condition to render good service at least during 1943. This is the opinion of M. R. Bentley who fills that position for the A. and M. College Extension Service. He adds that this may be the engineer's biggest job for the duration of the war.

Bentley, who attended the recent meeting at Memphis, Tenn., called to plan extension agricultural engineering work for the next year, reports that the work in 1943 will embrace farm machinery reconditioning, conservation and use; maintenance of farm structures and equipment; household equipment; fire prevention and control; and safety in agriculture. As the major element of the program, 40 per cent of the engineers' time was suggested for farm machinery reconditioning during the coming year.

"The important phases of this program," Bentley explained, "involves training of new operators, the 'share use' of machinery, and the use of home-made equipment. To keep old machinery running at full capacity will require an organized action program on reconditioning, care and maintenance of the machinery which farmers have on hand."

He reminded that an order regulating manufacture of all farm machinery and parts from November 1, 1942, through October 31, 1943, restricts new equipment to 23 per cent of the 1940 production, but fixes production of repair parts to 137 per cent of that year's output.

In view of this Bentley says, during the winter is to put machinery into condition, make plans for maintenance either by "share" or otherwise and leave nothing undone to hamper service when crop time arrives again.

Expect Many Changes in Food and Clothing

COLLEGE STATION—During 1943 homemakers can expect to buy many foods in bulk which they formerly bought in more convenient cans. Sauerkraut is one food, for example, which likely will be sold only in bulk during the year just ahead, says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Planning meals by the week and taking war-time adjustments into consideration will increase the homemaker's efficiency the specialist believes. She predicts that before the end of 1943 housewives may make their soup at home or buy it at her neighborhood grocery store and take it home in a jar or bucket. Manufacture of canned soups has been curtailed because of uneconomical use of tin cans.

Miss Bryant says eliminating the frills in packaged foods and other household articles may be expected, too. Soap will have fewer wrappings, and there will not be as many types and sizes of containers on the grocer's shelves.

Looking at the adjustments in the clothing field, Miss Bryant says consumers need not expect many major changes in 1943, but may offer many problems. In the year ahead homemakers will find fewer cottons on the market, less rayon and wool goods, and more "blends" of wool and synthetic fabrics. Articles such as galoshes must be "duration goods," that is, they must last for the duration.

"There are some new mixtures, fibers and articles on the market," Miss Bryant says, "but they are still in the experimental stages, so don't believe all the claims made for new articles and materials on the market."

Timely Tips On Coffee

COLLEGE STATION—Arguments that coffee taken black is "better for you" than coffee with cream and sugar has no basis in fact. For coffee is not a food. It can neither build and repair the tissues of the body nor provide energy for the body to run on.

The cream in coffee is food, and the sugar, but not the coffee itself, says Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for A. and M. College Extension Service. She says rationing will cause many people to change their food habits, and they may as well change them for the better.

For example, to "stretch" their coffee allowance, many people may want to try their coffee the French way—half hot coffee and half hot milk. This is a good beverage for making coffee go farther and for getting more milk into the diet. Miss Phipps says, too, that coffee and chocolate are flavors which blend well together. So for a change she suggests a cup of hot chocolate or cocoa with a dash of coffee in it instead of a cup of coffee.

Homemakers who have any leftover coffee, can make excellent use of it provided they store it in the refrigerator. It can be used as a flavoring, especially in desserts.

The specialist also suggests serving beverages which fill in the gaps where coffee formerly was served. At lunch or dinner a cup of steaming meat or vegetable broth is good. "The fragrance of that hot cup should give your appetite a lift," Miss Phipps says. With desserts, try a hot spiced fruit juice. Hot grape juice spiced with cloves or stick cinnamon, or hot spiced cider go well with many sugar saving desserts.

Curing Methods For Home Killed Hog Meat

STILLWATER, Okla.—Cool meat thoroughly before it is put into cure but never allow it to freeze, emphasizes J. A. Beall, associate professor of animal husbandry at Oklahoma A. and M. College.

Salt is the basis of meat curing but since it draws out the juices and hardens the fibers, sugar cures are better as they soften and improve meat flavor.

Stone jars, molasses or syrup barrels are good for pork curing vessels. Meat can be cured in a well ventilated cellar or smoke house but should not be exposed to dirt and dust while curing or after smoking. It should not be allowed to freeze at any time.

Brine Method Explained

The brine method gives the most uniform cure but in mild winters it often sours and spoils the meat. The dry cure must be rubbed on evenly and is better if the weather is warm.

The brine cure mixture for 100 pounds of meat is 12 pounds of salt, 3 pounds sugar (brown or granulated), 3 ounces of saltpeter and 6 gallons of water.

This cure should be applied by rubbing the meat with the mixture and dissolving the dry ingredients in the water later and pouring over the meat which is packed in the container, hams first.

The meat should be repacked in 5, 10 and 15 days respectively, each time reversing the location of the meat. Three days should be allowed per pound for each piece of meat; for example a 15 pound ham should stay in 45 days and a five pound piece of bacon only 15 days.

If the brine becomes old-sour or slick, remove the meat and either boil the brine or make a new one. Be sure and cool the brine if you boil it. Wash the meat thoroughly in either case.

When a piece is properly cured, take it out, soak for two hours in lukewarm water, string and hang up to drip, then smoke.

Beef Curing Explained

For the dry cure use for each 100 pounds of meat 12 pounds of salt, 3 1/2 pounds of sugar and 3 ounces of saltpeter. Rub about one half of this mixture on pieces and pack in box or barrel with meat side up. On seventh day take out meat and rub remainder on and repack. Allow to cure three days per pound and remove, brush and

Smoke

Do not use pine for smoking. Use green hickory, maple, apple or even corn cobs. Resinous woods deposit carbon and give an undesirable flavor. Space the meat in the smoke house to give good circulation.

After meat has hung 24 hours, start a slow fire and keep it going continuously until the meat has a rich amber to medium brown color.

Wrap Stored Meat

Experimental work by the meat laboratory at the Oklahoma A. and M. College shows that the best storage method of meat is to wrap the meat in a heavy white paper and bury in boxes of air slacked lime. Do not let the pieces touch each other and completely surround them with lime. Keep the boxes in a cool dry place.

Beef Curing Explained

Beef is usually corned or dried. Corned beef is usually made from plate, shank, rump and chuck.

The beef is cut into 6 to 10 pound chunks and thoroughly cooled. Fifty pounds of beef goes into a vessel with 6 pounds of salt, 2 pounds of brown sugar and 2 ounces of salt peter.

The vessel's bottom is covered with one-fourth inch salt and each piece is rubbed with the mixture and packed closely. Each layer of meat is sprinkled to nearly cover. The meat is weighted down and the remainder of the mixture dissolved in water and poured in. Make sure that all meat is covered or it will sour.

The beef will be cured in 14 to 21 days, depending on the temperature. Meat may be used at any time during curing. The salty taste may be removed by soaking and parboiling.

Dried beef generally is made from round and the larger muscles. The same mixture as above is used and meat is left in ingredients for 3 1/2 days per pound per piece.

After the beef is cured it is hung up for 24 hours to drip after which it is given a light smoke. After smoking it is hung by a fire to dry. Small pieces and thin ends are apt to get too salty and should be soaked before being used.

TEN STEPS FOR THE 10% DRIVE

1. Decide to get 10%.
2. Set a date to start the Drive.
3. Obtain a committee of Labor and Management to work out details and plans for solicitation. One solicitor for every 10 workers. Personal solicitation is key to success.
4. Prepare payroll savings authorization card for every worker with his name on it.
5. Make estimate of possible amount each worker can set aside for Bonds.
6. Allow little or no time between announcement and the drive itself.
7. The drive should last not more than one week.
8. Open drive with General meeting and presentation of the plan.
9. Arrange for competition between departments and display charts of progress.
10. Use the Treasury Flag with "T" as symbol of the campaign's goal, 10%.

The Library Corner

"The Robe," by Lloyd C. Douglas, is proving one of the best liked of the new books at the Public Library. This distinguished, stirring and exciting novel by the author of "Magnificent Obsession," "Disputed Passage," and other widely read books, is about another terrible era in history not unlike our own. The robe of the title is Christ's robe and the story describes His influence on the lives of those who come in contact with the robe after the crucifixion.

Mr. Douglas says in an interview in the New York Times: "My father was a country preacher. He would take me out of school sometimes and I'd drive with him over the country roads on sick calls, to funerals, to weddings, behind a plodding old horse. Father had kept up his Greek and he coached me in it as we rode. He also stressed the importance of English—herd rather than have had me fuss than make a grammatical mistake. He loved to tell stories and I've seen many a farmer right on the edge of a bench, hanging on every word Father said. They were the old Bible stories, but Father thought of everyone in the Bible as alive and he made them seem alive. Well, I grew up and became a preacher and told stories, but I wanted to write..." Lloyd Douglas has realized that ambition. Since 1929 he has been writing some of the most successful novels of our generation. His latest work, "The Robe" goes back to those early days of his father's Bible stories. It is the wisest and most deeply felt of all his books. Another preacher's son writes another successful book—his second this time. If you enjoyed "One Foot in Heaven," you'll enjoy this one, "Get Thee Behind Me" by Hartzell Spence. It is a candid and continuously entertaining description of what life is like to youngsters reared in the shadow of the pulpit. We see three youngsters at whose coat tails Satan is always tugging; and if it isn't Satan who gets them in trouble, it's the head usher or the Scoutmaster. Here is the same humor that made the first a best-seller. Father, now known to millions through the book, the movie, and the radio, is in this book too, but not in an ecclesiastical role. In this book the person is a pupil learning about life from his own children.

W. T. Eads, who has been in an Amarillo hospital the past six weeks, was brought back, Tuesday. He is staying in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wesley Bryant, and his condition is about the same. Mrs. Eads and daughter, Miss Nora, have been with him in Amarillo.

Sgt. Wilbur Holland left Sunday to return to Ft. Bliss, El Paso after enjoying a ten day furlough with relatives here and in Amarillo.

New Farm Machinery Quotas for '43

COLLEGE STATION—More new farm machinery and equipment than was expected will be made available to Texas farmers for next year's production.

Break-down of state quotas, which include plows, harrows, cultivators, tractors, mowers, and binders, got underway in the state USDA War Board office this week.

Quotas to be allocated first, according to the USDA War Board, are types of machinery and equipment needed during the fall and winter. Included in this classification are 1,720 tractors, 1,470 wagons, 2,948 cultivators and 2,434 spike and spring tooth and disk harrows.

Other state quotas being allocated now are as follows: 1,059 corn and cotton planters, 226 grain drills, 145 tractor drawn disk plows, 951 moldboard plows, and 362 one ways.

Dairy equipment consists of 450 milking machines, 581 separators and 166 milk coolers.

Commenting on the quotas, B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board said that the farm machinery and equipment now being released represent only 75 per cent of the expected 1943 production since materials for only this amount are now available. He explained that if materials for the remaining 25 per cent were available later that proportionate increases would be made in some items.

He added that plans are being made for manufacturers to distribute the machines through their jobbers, distributors and dealers as close as possible to distributing points in order that the number of machines received would match the number of purchase certificates issued by county farm rationing committees.

Purpose of the plan is to eliminate as much as possible any need for reshipping or for cross hauling of new machinery or equipment.

Criteria by which the state USDA War Board is allocating machinery and equipment to counties include consideration of labor supply, type of crops, and existing supplies of used machinery and equipment. Similar factors will be used by county farm rationing committees in distributing the limited quotas to farmers.

Other types of machinery being distributed now include: 4 potato planters, diggers, and sorters, 1,246 listers, with and without planting attachments and 22 manure spreaders.

Selected machines, which will be allocated later, are as follows: garden planters, 102; transplanters, 49; garden tractors, 58; broadcast seeders, 5; fertilizer distributors, 60; soil pulverizers and packers, 19; field cultivators, 9; sweep rakes, 98; stackers, 20; ensilage harvesters, 4; feed cutters, 12; feed grinders (burr and hammer types), 400; grain cleaners and graders, 9; farm elevators, 37; engines (1 to 10 H. P.), 194; and irrigation pumps, 75.

Others include: horse and side delivery rakes, 318; hay loaders, 7; hay press combines, 60; grain binders and packers, 408; corn binders (excluding rice threshers), 7; rice binders and threshers, 34; ensilage cutters, 90; corn shellers, 21; and hay presses, 86.

Seasonal Workers Should Have Social Security Number

The time of year has arrived when many boys and girls will be employed at odd jobs in different lines of work, and many merchants, 5 & 10 cent stores, drug stores, and cafes will be employing additional help, part time and full time, which means, according to Dewey Reed, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board Field Office, that each new worker so employed must have a Social Security account number.

"One of the reasons this is so essential is that it assures the worker that all wages received by him will be credited to his Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Account which is kept by the Board according to the Social Security account number issued to the worker."

It was emphasized by Dewey Reed that unless the individual has a job in view he should not apply for a number. However, as soon as he has a job in sight or expects to go to work at an early date, he should go to the nearest Social Security Board Field Office and apply for a Social Security account number. If he lives some distance from the Field Office, the worker may go to the post office and secure Form SS-5, fill in the blanks and send it to the Social Security Board and he will receive his account number by mail. If he has lost his account card, he should use the same form to apply for a duplicate. Before going to work on a job, the number should be given to the employer. The Social Security Board Field Office in this area is located at Amarillo, Texas in the New Post Office Building.

In addition to issuing Social Security account numbers, the field office staff assists in the development of claims for old-age and survivors insurance, aiding claimants in developing proof of birth, proof of age, etc.

All workers are cautioned to be more careful of their account number cards and not lose them because of the delay and the difficulty involved in replacing them. Since all offices are working with reduced staffs and will continue to do so in order to aid the war effort, the cooperation of everyone in this respect is urgently needed.

Church News

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

By W. W. Reid

In the midst of Iceland's preparation to defend herself against possible invasion of a new Protestant church has just been laid in the capital of Reykjavik, now boasting a population of 39,000. The cathedral will be in the center of the town. Funds for the completion of the structure are being raised not only in Iceland but among the Danes.

The Protestant Episcopal Church decided to hold its next General Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, on October 5 to 13—being one of the latest sessions in its history because of the war situation. Also because of the war, there will be no annual conference, mass meetings, or exhibits, such as usual. The convention will be for the purpose of the Woman's Auxiliary and a Convention of Youth.

Under the direction of Bishop T. T. Chao, Chinese leader of the Protestant Episcopal Church in China, a new mission has been organized by the Rev. T. L. Song in the Province near the western end of the Burma Road, among the Ch'ia, a tribe of some 300,000 people who are aboriginal inhabitants of this region and are now members of thousands of Chinese people who migrated from the west from eastern China because of war conditions. Two houses and a church have been rented as the church among these rural people.

Training children and girls has been the chief joy of my life," says Miss M. Fieger, who has "manned" some 20,000 Pittsburgh girls during her 36 years of service as a deaconess of the Methodist Church. As director of the girls' work at the Pittsburgh Goodwill Industries for 25 years, from which position she has just retired, she has been as "parent, teacher, grandparent, nurse and adviser." During the time she has taught thousands of girls and boys, many of whom have sent their own children for instruction in later years. Miss Fieger sensed the needs of her home city and in day-school teaching, class work, social counseling and visitation to the homes, has contributed much service to make her native city a place in which to live.

Because no medical man is available for the post, the Rev. C. Bertie Rapp, of Chicago, missionary of the Methodist Church in Chungking, West China, is serving as superintendent of the Methodist Union hospital in that city, while the surgical and medical work is carried by Chinese doctors and nurses. Hospital is carried on in three separate buildings. Within the limits is the old hospital, used as a clinic and receiving ward; patients gladly stay in its doorless windowless rooms until they are moved elsewhere in an ambulance donated by Madame Chiang Kai-shek; six direct hits by bombs have ruined the hospital, but not the service. Many babies were born in two little in a dugout of this compound during air raids. In a suburb of the city is the Emergency Hospital and the surgical department. Air raid victims are cared for in a mountain retreat, 20 miles outside the city. The hospital has 150 in-patients. A recent improvement is a delivery and operating room deep underground.

Since the Japanese army began its invasion southward and toward central China, a number of missionary and government universities and colleges have been moved to Chungking, and many of them are now on campus in Chungking, Chungking, and where in Free (West) China, actually every campus in the country has two to four schools, many of which have moved hundreds of miles with their faculties and parts of their student bodies. The word from the National Council of China that Chungking University (formerly of Peking) is opening a center in Chungking; that the School of the University of Peking is moving to Chungking; that Canton Theological College is working in cooperation with Lingnan University at Pingshek. Of the 100 of such migration, Principal of Canton Theological College, says: "The truth is finally being revealed. The use of vegetable oil was in very bad condition. Our load is too heavy. We were in a little mountain village for four houses, waiting for parts to be broken machinery. We were taking up a steep grade when the car got out of control and landed in a back. Fortunately no one was hurt."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holloway, who have been staying the past two weeks with her mother, Mrs. A. Carter Jr., left this week for Austin to spend the winter.

Christian Science

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 13.

The Golden Text is: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God" (Psalms 62:7).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength" (Isaiah 40:29).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God never punishes man for doing right, for honest labor, or for deeds of kindness, though they expose him to fatigue, cold, heat, contagion... The spiritual demand, quelling the material, supplies energy and endurance surpassing all other aids, and forestalls the penalty which our beliefs would attach to our best deeds" (pages 384, 385).

November 19, 1942

Hello All:

Well, how is everyone there? Just the same old story here. Am well and feeling fine. Put a letter in the mail for you a few days ago but don't know whether it is on its way yet or not. In case it isn't you'll probably get it and this one at the same time.

This is quite the country here. I never dreamed that such a type of country still existed. It's hard to believe that a large part of the people here still live as they did back in Christ's time, but just the same it is true. I'll not attempt to describe any of their customs here, because I don't have the time, words, etc. I hope I can remember all the interesting points, so I can tell you about them when this is all over.

The country here is slightly rolling with a range of mountains in the background. It is partly irrigated and the irrigated part is rather pretty, and not a lot unlike parts of California. Their crops in these sections are wheat, grapes, olives, oranges, and many kinds of vegetables many of which I never saw before. Also the climate here is a lot the same as California's at this time of the year. The population here is made up of French Arabs and negroes (and G. I. soldiers now)—the French I think controlling practically all industries. The Arabs and negroes seem to be either nomads or share-croppers.

Back away from the irrigated sections it's hard to say just what the country is good for—about all I can see is to take up space. There are small flocks of goats scattered around, but what they live on beats me. They graze the leaves off the vines as long as they last, but after they are gone, the bill of fare must look rather scanty, even to a goat. I suppose you kept up with the news lately so must know about what took place here. I have no idea how long we will be here, or where we will go if we should leave. I think we should move though—because my bunk tag has almost stopped swinging, and that would be to long in one place, don't you think?

Well, I have no news here. Would sure like to get some mail from you soon, and hear how every one is there. Tell everyone I'm O. K. and hello. And I'll write as often as I can, altho it may seem to you that my letters are far between, at times. It's the best I can do.

Ever,
E. W. G.

(Sgt. E. W. (Buck) Garrison)

WAR changes a famous slogan

FOR THE DURATION, a famous and friendly slogan goes into retirement.

With gasoline being rationed to lengthen the calendar life of your tires and thus conserve the Nation's wartime stockpile of rubber, we no longer invite you to Phillips up with Phillips.

But you are still as welcome as ever at any Phillips 66 Service Station. The Phillips man is anxious to get and hold your business, even though your gasoline purchases are greatly reduced.

If anything, he is more anxious than ever to give you those pleasant, friendly services which make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. That is his way of showing his appreciation for your business. And more, he has pledged himself to "Keep 'em Rolling", as a patriotic duty.

In the meantime, hundreds of Phillips research workers and many thousands of production employees are speeding up their good work for victory. With Phillips vast resources of raw materials, their efforts have made the company one of the largest suppliers of 100 octane aviation gasoline to the Army Air Corps, the Navy, and the United Nations' air forces; have made the company an important participant in the U. S. synthetic rubber program.

Remember these facts, and drive in where you see the Orange and Black 66 Seal. That's where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil... two famous products which are everything you can expect in times like these, when the needs of Uncle Sam's fighting forces naturally come first.

P.S. In place of our slogan at the bottom of this advertisement, we have placed a slogan that is yours, ours, and every American's.

NORTH-EAST TEXAS PANHANDLE AND WESTERN OKLAHOMA FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Announce New Range Program

COLLEGE STATION—Efficient use of practices to conserve future productivity of grassland highlights the 1943 AAA range program in Texas.

Major changes in the program include production practices, increases in rates of payment and combination of all farmland and rangeland under one program. Howard T. Kingsberry, state AAA committeeman and rancher from Santa Anna, has announced.

Kingsberry pointed out that although payments for some practices would be increased over last year's rate that the total production allowance for individual ranches would remain approximately the same as under previous programs.

New rates on prickly pear eradication have been set at 75 cents, $1, and $1.50 per acre for light, medium and heavy infestation, respectively, while mesquite and huisache have been increased to $1.50, $3.00 and $5.00 per acre, respectively, for the various types of infestations.

Payment for eradicating heavy cedar will be $3.00 instead of $1.50 under the 1943 program, the AAA committeeman said and added that light cedar has been advanced to $1 per acre and medium cedar to $2 per acre.

Only two supplemental practices, control of bitterweed, and elimination of other noxious plants, can be carried out in connection with deferred grazing, he said. Other practices which formerly were incorporated under the deferred grazing practice now have been changed to a regular basis and may be paid for out of the regular production allowance.

Included are elimination of prairie dogs, gophers and kangaroo rats, and laying of pipe lines from wells, springs or storage tanks. Purpose of the latter practice is to provide adequate water for livestock on poorly watered range lands.

Sodding and seeding permanent grasses have been increased to $4.50 and $4 per acre, respectively. Under the 1942 program, established rates were $3 for sodding and maximum of $2 per acre for seeding.

According to Kingsberry, grasses recommended for the permanent seeding practice include bermuda, Rhodes, carpet, bluestem, blue grama, buffalo, dallis and bermuda or carpet, side-oats grama and native mixtures.

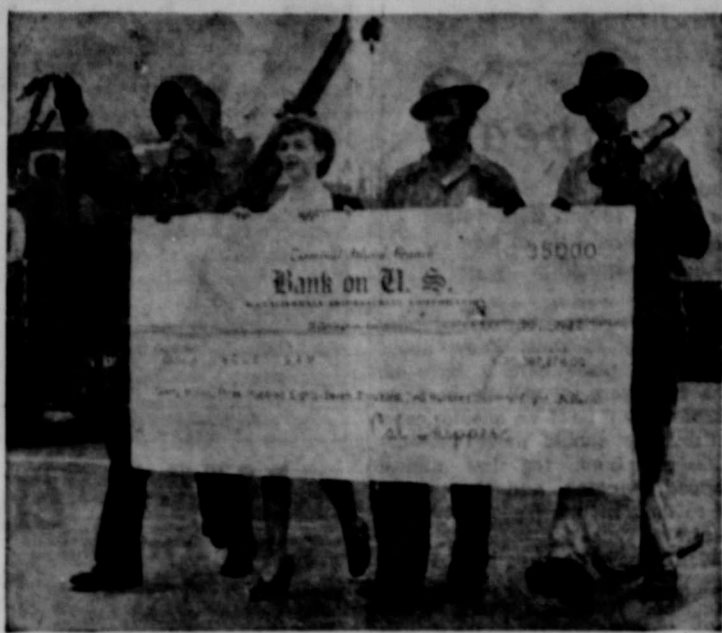

Other production practices for which payments will be made are: contour listing, furrowing and chiseling, constructing drainage ditches, spreader terraces, dams and reservoirs, concrete or rubble-masonry dams or drops, enlarging rubble-masonry dams, drilling wells, developing springs or seeps, planting forest trees, eliminating lechuguilla and sagebrush, noxious underbrush, bushes and shrubs, and plowing fireguards.

Under the 1942 range program, approximately 68,455,583 acres of rangeland in Texas were covered by range worksheets.

Can Appeal ODT Certificates 30 Days After Date

Truck operators who have already received their Certificates of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation were reminded Friday that no appeal can be filed until 30 days after the Certificate is received.

"The tires we are trying to save are being burned up all over the region by truck operators rushing in to the district ODT motor transport offices as soon as they get their Certificates," John C. Massenburg, regional motor transport manager for ODT, said. "District offices are working under terrific pressure in issuing all these Certificates for commercial motor vehicles, and everybody is human enough to make an occasional mistake. These are few, however. In most instances, the Certificate has been correctly tailored according to the application filed by the operator."

Appeals may be filed with the ODT district offices of motor transport 30 days after the Certificate of War Necessity has been received by the operator. His appeal must prove clearly, however, that the needs of the war or the maintenance of essential civilian economy require a change in the Certificate. The appeal must also show records for a period of seven consecutive days within the 30-day period. These records, submitted under oath, must show the origin and destination of each trip, the miles operated on each trip, the total units of freight carried on each trip. The commodity transported and the use to be made of it, and the maximum capacity of the vehicle for that commodity must be shown also.

Mr. Massenburg reminded truck operators who find their mileage allowance cut below their previous operations that the entire program was brought about by a rubber shortage, and that some reduction in mileage must be made to conserve this vital and irreplaceable material. There is no point in Order 21 unless some conservation of tires and equipment is affected, he pointed out.

"Your neighbor and your competitor are in the same boat," Mr. Massenburg said. "Get together with them and work out some way to get your hauling done."

District offices will continue all next week processing and mailing Certificates to all commercial vehicle operators who have filed their applications. Certificates are required for purchase of gasoline, parts or tires beginning December 1.

Prepare for Next Year's Food Harvest
Fred LeCrone
Associate Extension

Oklahoma A. & M. College

Many home gardeners have already done the important job of fall plowing, but there are many gardens still to be plowed. Every home garden is the family's first line of war food production defense. Food is so vital now that this war job cannot be neglected. See to it now.

After the garden has been manured and the manure disked into the topsoil, the next job is plowing. Fall plowing does a great deal for the soil. First, and foremost, it gives manure and other organic material time to decompose before planting time next spring. The decomposition processes actually warm soils up thus making an earlier garden possible. Second, plowing opens the soil to air and thereby sets in motion processes that liberate plant food elements making them available for plants. Third, plowing destroys insects by exposing their over-wintering stages to the cold. Fourth, plowing opens the soil so that it will catch and hold moisture.

Any one of these reasons is sufficient to make fall plowing worthwhile, but combined they make it an absolute necessity. Every garden should be plowed by Christmas so that 1943 Victory Gardens will fill vegetable food requirement.

If soils are sandy and subject to blowing use a lister instead of a plow. In any case plow now and plow deep for next year's food harvest.

Keep Dairy Cows Comfortable

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 2—A comfortable cow puts more milk into the bucket!

A shelter shed deep enough to keep cows dry in cold, rainy weather is the best means of providing comfort, says E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Good dairy cows need to rest, but they won't lie down in mud unless they are exhausted. Exhaustion lowers milk production about as much as wet and cold do. On that account the floor or earth under the shed should be higher than the ground outside and slope outward so that rain which blows in from the open side will run back into the gutter at the outer edge. To assure dryness the floor should be of sand, gravel or shell. Keep the gutter open.

Eudaly says that it is a good rule to make the depth of the shed twice its height at the front. The length should be regulated by the number of cows and whether they have horns. Horned animals need 30 square feet of floor space each, but those with horns should be allowed 45 square feet. Dairy cows require somewhat warmer shelter than fattening steers. They have no protecting fat, their coats are scantier and their hides usually are thinner than those of steers.

"It is not possible to get maximum milk production unless cows are sheltered from cold," Eudaly explains. "It is not necessary to build anything expensive—a shed which will keep the cows dry and warm will do. But it will not do much good to give the cows shelter and no roughage to eat. Cows were made to eat roughage—meaning silage and hay—and best production cannot be had without it. Texas is short of milk. It is highly important to keep the cows on the job this winter."

More Than Million Leave Farms

The number of people who have left the farm in the year prior to September 1, 1942, is 1,329,000, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Six hundred and fourteen thousand took non-farm jobs and moved away from the farms. One hundred and seventy-nine thousand took non-farm jobs but still lived on the farms.

One hundred and forty-three thousand enlisted. Three hundred and ninety-three thousand were drafted.

Of the 1,329,000 who left the farms, 270,000 were farm operators or managers.

AAA Program is Geared to War

COLLEGE STATION—Maximum production from America's wartime agricultural plant is the basis of the 1943 AAA program announced this week.

The program places emphasis on the production of war crops and provides stiff payment deductions on farms failing to meet war production goals. George Slaughter, Texas AAA committee chairman, pointed out.

Payments are designed to help get full production of the kinds and in the amounts needed, and all crop payments are to be contingent on the degree to which the farmer meets his goals, the AAA official pointed out. Deductions will be made from the farmer's maximum production adjustment payments, or allowance, for failure to meet specified goals of both allotment crops and special war crops.

Every farmer in the state cooperating with the program must sign a farm plan outlining his part in wartime production. In the plan the farmer will list the wartime crop adjustments he will make to help him meet his war production goals and the conservation practices he will undertake to help get increased yields in 1943.

Failure to plant at least 90 per cent of special crop allotments for wheat will result in payment deductions at the rate of five times the compliance rate, which means that a farmer's crop payment would be wiped out entirely should he plant only 70 per cent of his allotment. Under certain conditions, however, farmers will be allowed to substitute special war crops or designated feed crops for their allotment crops and still remain in compliance.

Failure to achieve 90 per cent of war crop goals for a farm will incur crop payment deductions at the rate of $15 per acre, Slaughter said.

"The 1943 program is aimed entirely at getting the maximum production of needed products from the American farm," he declared.

"I am certain that Texas farmers will accept and achieve their goals and will contribute their full share towards the agricultural production we need."

Increase Hog Production Goal

COLLEGE STATION—The 1943 hog call is for more and fatter hogs—15 per cent more and each one 10 pounds heavier.

Recent war developments have made it necessary for Secretary of Agriculture Wickard to up the 1943 hog goal to a 15 per cent increase in farrowing over 1942's record crop. Previously the Secretary had asked for an increase of 10 per cent.

At the same time, he reiterated his requests that growers market their hogs with at least 10 pounds more weight on them and that they plan farrowings so as to result in orderly marketings.

Although the Texas pork production goal has not yet been announced, H. P. Vance, Texas USDA War Board chairman, said that Texas growers would be asked to produce their share of the increase being asked.

According to Secretary Wickard's announcement, the Agricultural Marketing Administration will support prices of hogs so as to insure growers a price level of $13.25 average, Chicago basis, for Good and Choice grade butcher hogs weighing 240 to 270 pounds, until the fall of 1944.

Dear Friends: May I express my appreciation for your kindness in sending me the county paper.

As to the Navy life, I think it can't be beat because 1st, we take orders with no back talk and 2nd, no fighting, gambling or drinking can we do while we are in camp.

Dear Mr. Stewart: Thought I would write you a few lines and thank you and the USO for sending me the paper as it is sure a big help to get news from home. I didn't realize news was so important until I got away from home.

According to the Herald everyone is more than keeping up their part in the war effort. If everyone will do their part, you can bet we boys will do our part at this end of the line. We leave the U. S. A. some time in December and every one of us is sure ready to go.

The weather is bad at this time and going is rough but we have a swell place to stay and are doing fine so I am thanking you again for the paper and hope I continue receiving it.

Well, it is close to taps so I will close.

W. D. Lewis, Co. D, 40th Batt., Plat. 3, N. C. T. C., Davisville, R. I.

Memphis, Tenn. December 1, 1942

Dear Mr. Stewart: It has been some time since I have written you. I'm thinking it is time I should write again. I have been short, very short of time for the last two months due to my studying to finish the Class A school I have been attending since August 1. I finally completed it, though, and have been made aviation ordnance man, third class. This is a grade of non-commissioned officer corresponding with the rank of sergeant in the army.

I was very pleased to get my rate for it means more privileges and gives a guy a chance to get his little say in every once in a while.

My class is shipping out tonight, some to other schools, some to sea, and some are being retained here as instructors. I am being kept here as an instructor in the ordnance.

Coffee drinkers who failed to get their war ration book No. 1 (sugar ration book) must file an application with their local war price and rationing board by December 15, in order to purchase coffee, and that date is the last date on which ration stamp No. 9 may be used to buy sugar. Book No. 1 is necessary not only for securing coffee now, but must be presented to local boards around the first of the year in order to receive war ration book No. 2.

Emergency Gas Available to Passenger Cars: To prevent public hardship in emergencies such as sickness or other emergency conditions, Texas OPA Director Mark McGee directed local war price and rationing boards to permit sales of gasoline to passenger car owners on OPA certificates, Form R-553. Thousands of the forms are being printed and will be made available by local boards to filling stations in their jurisdiction.

Consumers Asked to Store Propane, Butane Gas: Farmers, business places and household consumers who use butane and propane gas are urged by WPA officials to put their empty storage capacity to use, if they have not already done so, as they will not be able to rely on regularity of deliveries during the winter. The public is asked to cooperate with the armed forces by filling all storage capacities, to avoid unnecessary interruptions of deliveries for military and industrial purposes.

Christmas Trees Exempted from War Regulations: OPA, ODT and WPA announced jointly that producers of trees maintain good forestry practice and avoid employment of manpower that would otherwise be engaged in essential war work. OPA announced that Christmas trees will be exempted from GMPR, but asked that prices be held at the level of last year.

Passenger Tire and Tube Quotas Enlarged: To meet needs in the first month of mileage rationing, under which practically all passenger cars become eligible for recapping services or replacement tires, OPA announced expanded passenger car tire and tube quotas for December. Quotas announced for the month include 4,973 Grade III new tires, 16,800 tubes and 39,893 recapping services for Texas; 15,132 Grade III new tires, 6,109 tubes and 14,794 recapping services for Oklahoma; and 11,067 Grade III new tires, 4,223 tubes and 10,775 recapping services for Louisiana.

Stricter Rationing Set for Typewriters: To take care of urgent demands of the armed services for typewriters, Price Administrator Leon Henderson put into effect an amendment to OPA typewriter rationing regulations which forbids the sale of all standard typewriters except obsolete models and "stripped" portions, and restricts repairs of non-portable typewriters to those made before January 1, 1935. Persons now holding typewriter purchase certificates issued by local war price and rationing boards may

(b) Those who were born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the week commencing Friday, December 18, 1942, and ending Thursday, Dec. 24, 1942;

(c) Those who were born on or after November 1, 1924, but not after December 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the period commencing Saturday, December 26, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 31, 1942;

(d) During the continuance of the present war, those who were born on or after January 1, 1925, shall be registered on the day they attain the eighteenth anniversary of the day of their birth; provided that if such anniversary falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, their registration shall take place on the day following that is not a Sunday or a legal holiday.

Plans are under way to register during December approximately 28,000 young Texans born between July 1, 1924, and December 31, 1924, inclusive. General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today. He said: "The local boards will conduct the registration at the Selective Service office in the courthouse and will record substantially the same information on registration cards, which will be gray in color, as was required in the first five registrations."

"While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on the dates designated for his registration may register at the registration place most convenient, all registrants are urged to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register away from home is warned to specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board."

General Page pointed out that a registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence, but, in making the choice, he designates the local board which will always have jurisdiction over him.

Perryton Motor Sponsors Victory Service League

A. J. Kelley and son, Ellis Kelly, of the Perryton Motor Co., are sponsoring the organization of the Victory Service League in the Perryton area and have extended an invitation to every automobile and truck owner in this community to become a member of the League.

The Victory Service League is a national organization of patriotic car and truck owners allied to "save the wheels that serve America."

Members of the Victory Service League pledge to conserve their cars for their country. Each member of the League receives a membership card, and the privilege to display on their car the handsome Victory Service League emblem, an insignia of honor.

Every motorist joining the Victory Service League also receives without charge a handbook which contains information as to how to get the most out of a car and how to make it last longer. Valuable data on conservation of mileage by getting more miles per gallon of gasoline is also in the handbook.

All car and truck owners, regardless of make of car or truck, are eligible for membership and are urged by the Kellys to join the League. As an inducement for membership in the League, the Perryton Motor Co. will give free of charge an Official Car Conservation Report on every member car or truck.

Mrs. Thurman had been ill for only a few days when the end came. She is survived by the husband, A. W. Thurman; a son, R. B. Thurman, Albuquerque; a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Wyatt, Amarillo; and five grandchildren.

Sarah Jane Stinson was born in Bledsoe county, Tenn. in 1868. She and her mother moved with the Thurman family to Kansas in 1882, where in 1884 she was married to Asbel Wiley Thurman.

In 1886, the Thurman's headed for the Texas Panhandle in a covered wagon, settling in Ochiltree county near Ochiltree. Here they made their home, taking an active part in the development of Ochiltree county, until they moved on to Sandoval, N. M. in 1925.

Mrs. Thurman joined the church at an early age and had lived a full and consistent Christian life, always concerned with the salvation of souls and administering to the needs of those less fortunate.

In the early pioneer days her Ochiltree county home was always open to the circuit riding preachers. She was active in the promotion of a better social and religious life in the sparsely settled frontier community. For many years, she had the only piano in the county and the Thurman home was always filled with young folks on Sunday nights for the singings so popular in the early days.

She was a charter member of the Methodist Church organized at old Ochiltree, and a Sunday School teacher for many years. She was also active in the Missionary
