8,725 Register For Ration Book Four In County

Registrations for War Ration Book No. 4 on October 21 to 23 totaled 8,725, Miss Merle Hays, chief clerk of the County Ration Board announced late last week, after reports from all registration points had been reported.

This is fewer by approximately 1,300 than the number registering for Ration Book 3. Because of this, the Ration Board believes there were a number of persons who failed to register for their fourth book during the designated period.

All who failed to do so may come to the Ration office in Wellington and register for their books at any time after Wednesday, November 10, Miss Hays said.

Guest Preacher At Methodist Church

Dr. Paul Stevenson, pastor of Floral Heights Methodist Church in Wichita Falls, will speak at the Methodist church in Wellington Sunday night, November 14 in interest of the financial drive now under way for McMurry College at Abilene.

Dr. Stevenson is one of the leaders of the church who has been chosen to visit other churches in interest of this drive.

The McMurry College campaign has its aim the raising of a $1,000,000 endowment fund and a $750,000 building fund for four buildings to be constructed after the close of the war.

All churches in the northwest Texas and New Mexico conferences are taking part in this campaign.

Second Sunday Singers To Meet At Assembly Of God

The Second Sunday Singing convention will meet at the Assembly of God in Wellington, Mrs. Alvin Horton, secretary of the county singing convention, has announced.

Special music will be given by the Conn Quartet of Childress.

Both the singers and Rev. A. A. Daly, pastor of the church extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this singing.

Local Group To Baptist Meeting

Five members of the First Baptist Church in Wellington left Monday to attend the Baptist General Convention and the state Women's Missionary Union, which opened in Dallas Tuesday morning.

Representing the local church are Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Kinkeade, Mrs. J. W. Harper, Mrs. C. C. Bishop and Mrs. J. A. Dukeminier.

During the three-day session, Baptists from over the entire state will hear outstanding preachers of the denomination from over the South discuss present problems of the church as well as the problems facing the world at war.

Demonstration Club Plans Rummage Bake Sale Saturday

The North Wellington Home Demonstration Club has announced a rummage sale and market for Saturday, November 13, at the Piggly Wiggly Grocery, on the east side of the square.

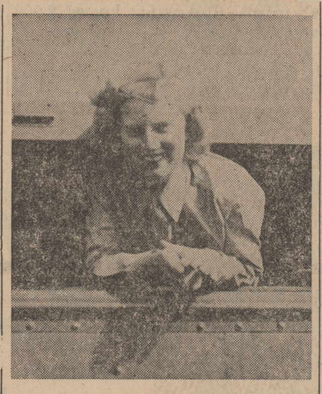
Proceeds will be used to further the home demonstration club work.

George Lewis Is New Director Of Wellington NFLA

George R. Lewis was elected a new director of the Wellington National Farm Loan Association at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday morning.

Mr. Lewis replaces Winfield White, who became ineligible to serve as a director upon payment of his NFLA loan recently.

Both men are from the Kelley community.



PFC. ROBERTA BLEVINS

Mrs. S. C. Bell, 87, Dies Here November Ninth

Mrs. Samanthy Clementine Bell, 87-year-old Wellington woman, died at her home here Tuesday, November 9, after having been ill two weeks.

Mrs. Bell was the mother of Fred Bell and Mrs. Kate Ann Sanders of Wellington.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Wellington Wednesday afternoon with Rev. S. T. Greenwood in charge, assisted by Rev. T. L. Burns.

Pallbearers for the service were Gilbert Bell, W. J. Bell, J. B. Williams, Joe Cooley, Butch Clark, and Ford Bell.

Interment was in the Wellington cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Bell, who was before her marriage Miss Samanthy Clementine Craig, was born in Tennessee June 14, 1856, the daughter of William J. and Margaret Ann Nichols Craig. Her family was among the early settlers of that state, and both her parents were born there.

For the last 20 years, Mrs. Bell had made her home in Wellington. Of a gentle and friendly disposition, Mrs. Bell had many friends throughout the area, and by her interest in the welfare of others and her willingness to help, she gained the friendship of those of all ages.

Several years ago Mrs. Bell fell and broke her hip and since that time she had been confined to her home.

Surviving are seven children, Mrs. Tommie Gregory and Charley Bell of Los Angeles, R. L. Bell of Pueblo, Colo., Mrs. A. B. Dooley of Jacksonville, Fla., E. F. Bell of Lubbock, Mrs. Katie Ann Sanders and Fred Bell of Wellington. Other survivors are a brother and sister, W. H. Craig of Lubbock and Mrs. C. L. Hutcheson of Springtown; 28 grandchildren, 24 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Farm Program For 1944 To Get Under Way Soon

The administrative set-up for the 1944 AAA program will be worked out by farmers of the county Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19, with the election of community committeemen, alternates and delegates in the 10 communities of the county set up for AAA purposes, Millard Brown, who is in charge of the local office, announced Wednesday morning.

Mr. Brown pointed out that this will be one of the most important series of meetings throughout the year, since community committeemen will have much greater responsibility during 1944, helping farmers and ranchmen in meeting their war production goals and helping individual farmers determine compliance on their own farms.

Although marketing quotas and allotments on special crops have been suspended in 1944, Mr. Brown pointed out that there will still be an AAA program. Producers will receive payments in 1944 for carrying out certain production practices on the farm and meeting their production goals.

"Because of these things, we urge every farmer in the county to attend one of these community meetings. The work of the farmers is becoming increasingly important and we of this county must do our part," Mr. Brown said.

The places and dates of the community meetings include:

Midway, community A, Friday, November 19, at 2:30 p. m.

Kelley, community B, Friday, November 19, at 2:30 p. m.

Rolla, community C, Friday, November 19, at 8:30 p. m.

Wellington, community D, Friday, November 19, at 8:30 p. m.

Cross Roads, community E, Thursday, November 18, at 8:30 p. m.

Quail, community F, Thursday, November 18, 8:30 p. m.

Marella, community G, Friday, November 19, at 8:30 p. m.

Dozier, community H, Thursday, November 18, at 8:30 p. m.

Samnorwood, community I, Thursday, November 18, at 2:30 p m.

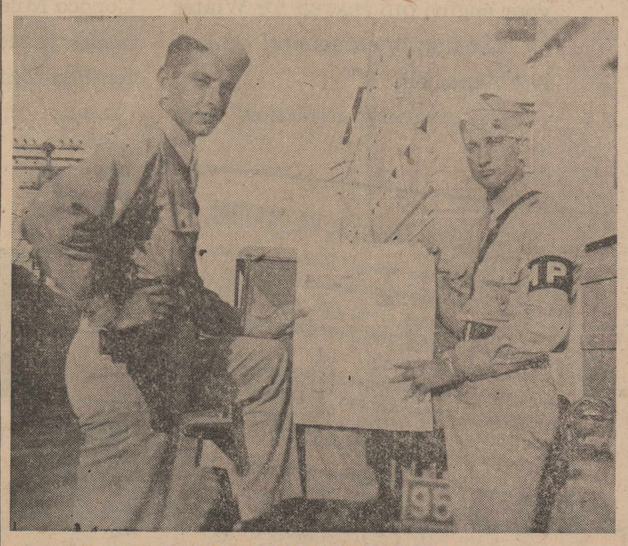
Aberdeen, community J, Thursday, November 18, at 2:30 p. m.

Sermon Subjects For First Christian Church Announced

Services and sermon topics for the First Christian Church Sunday, November 14, were announced Tuesday by Rev. J. F. Mathews, pastor.

At the morning service, Rev. Mathews will preach on "The Handwriting on the Wall." The subject at the evening worship at 7:30 p. m. will be "The Second Mile."

"Our attendance is increasing. Just a few more at each service will build the church and Bible school substantially and surely," the pastor declared.



THE LEADER ON AFRICAN STREETS
Proof that The Wellington Leader goes right along with armed forces was sent home by James D. Reeves, right, from a city in North Africa. He and a friend are holding a copy of the paper, which in the original picture was clear enough to be definitely identified as The Leader. Reeves is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Reeves who now live in California.

City To Observe Armistice Day

SGT. ELMER E. WOOD AND CREW
Sgt. Elmer E. Wood (fourth from left, front row) of Wellington, is now the waist gunner of a Flying Fortress crew at the Walla Walla Army Air Base, Washington, where he and his crewmates are receiving last phase training before being shipped to an overseas combat area. Sgt. Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wood of near Arlie. He received his early training at Amarillo. His wife, Mrs. Marie Wood, is living in Wellington now.

Honoring the men who fought in World War I and who are the home front fighters of this war, as well as the younger men in the armed forces, Wellington will observe Armistice Day, Thursday, November 11.

No formal celebration is planned.

The Frank King Post of the American Legion has announced its regular open house throughout the day. At 11:00 a. m. members and visitors will gather in front of the hall to observe the traditional minute of silence. Visiting and recalling events of the other World War will follow. Lunch will be served at the noon hour.

All men now in the armed service are cordially invited to come to the Legion Hall at this time, Riley Dunson, post commander, said.

Stores of Wellington will close from 11:00 a. m. through the remainder of the day. Because of this, people of the trade territory are asked to make plans to do their shopping later in the week.

City schools will dismiss all day Thursday, but will take up again Friday, Supt. Logan Cummings has announced.

Outstanding for sports fans will be the Wellington-Shamrock football game, to be played Thursday afternoon at Shamrock. In spite of tire and gas restrictions, it is believed that a far larger number will be able to attend this game than any other out-of-town game played this year.

Community Chest Goal Passed

The county's Community Chest goal, $500 over and above the United War Fund goal, was passed Tuesday, November 9, when workers in several rural communities turned in contributions from their sections, Deskins Wells, county chairman, has announced.

The total collected for the War Fund Drive and the Community Chest is $5,052.

The $4,500 quota assigned the county in the former drive has already been sent to the State United War Fund headquarters, and this county is credited as one of the few in this section of the state to meet the goal assigned them.

The entire Community Chest fund will be kept in here to be used in case some emergency or catastrophe arises in the county.

Some money remains to be turned in. Mr. Wells has requested all community workers to turn in any funds given them by Saturday.

Chairmen of the various communities were also asked to report the names of all extra workers who were named after the initial drive was organized.

Among those who have contributed during the last week are:

Mrs. Ed Warren, N. B. Ringgold, Mrs. H. B. Martindale, Joe Jones, Chas. D. Slay, Mrs. J. M. Walker, Mrs. Tom Starkey, E. W. Jenkins, Mrs. Cap Davis, Miss Florence Jones, Mrs. E. F. Lewis, Mrs. E. M. City Teachers Receive Bonus

All members of the Wellington school faculty who were in the system last year, as well as janitors of the schools, were given a bonus of $75 each recently, Logan Cummings, superintendent, said Monday.

This was money received from the state, Mr. Cummings explained.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, this community and this nation will observe the 25th anniversary of the ending of the First World War on Thursday, November 11,

AND WHEREAS it is the wish of our citizens to pay tribute to those men who fought in that war, as well as to the men who are fighting for their country today,

NOW THEREFORE, I, Pink Sullivan, Mayor of the City of Wellington, Texas, by authority vested in me as such, hereby request all business firms in Wellington to close their doors from 11:00 a. m. through the remainder of the day Thursday, November 11.

Witness my hand officially and the seal of the City, attested by the City Secretary, this the 9th day of November, A. D., 1943.

PINK SULLIVAN,
Mayor, City of Wellington

JOE THOMPSON,
City Secretary

Changes Made At WTU Office

Personnel changes in the Wellington office of the West Texas Utilities Company were announced this week by N. C. Beam, manager.

Miss Bula Bess Bell, cashier, has been transferred to the district office in Childress. Taking her place is Miss Delene Nall, who comes here from the Qutaque office.

Another new employee in the local office is L. M. Smith. Mr. Smith comes here from Childress. His family has lived here for several months.

Miss Nall began work here Monday. Her home is at Turkey and she was employed in the West Texas Utilities Company office there before going to Quitaque a little more than a year and a half ago.

Demonstration Of Beef, Pork Cutting Slated For Nov. 15

Miss Doris Leggitt and Knox Farr, district extension agents from A. & M. College and Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent, will give a beef and pork cutting and canning demonstration at the Quail High School on Monday, November 15. This will be of special interest to the men as well as the women since Mr. Parr is just back from a meat institute where he learned to cut both beef and pork by the newest methods in order to eliminate any waste in cutting. Canning of chili, mince meat, roasts and other products will be of special interest to farm women at the meeting.

Sugar curing will also be dem-

Rockets Meet Irish In Decisive Game Thursday

Thursday the Wellington Skyrockets will journey to Shamrock to meet the Irishmen in a game that is almost certain to decide the district championship.

The game will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon and tickets are on sale at Wellington drug stores.

A limited number of tickets for the Rocket-Irish game have been placed on sale at Parsons Drug Co. and the High School. These will remain on sale until Thursday noon.

All persons wishing to attend the game were urged to secure tickets early, as only a limited number will be available.

The east side of the field has been reserved for Wellington fans.

In addition to probably deciding the district championship the game will present two evenly matched teams neither of which has been defeated in conference play. The Rockets have slightly the best scoring record having piled up 213 points in seven games to 32 for their opponents while the Irish have made 192 in eight games while their opponents were scoring 25. Wellington had two backfield men out of the game at the time they were defeated by Phillips and Shamrock had two linemen out at the time they were defeated by Altus.

As a whole the Wellington squad is in the best physical condition of any time during the season, and the coach said that he was well pleased with the determination and confidence of the Rockets.

Texaco Agency Changes Hands

I. M. Hutchins, Texaco dealer for the Wellington territory for the last nine years, announced last week that he has sold the agency to J. H. Lowe, who has already taken over active management of the business.

Mr. Lowe and his family come here from Port Arthur, although they formerly lived at Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins will leave within the next few days for Hamilton County, where they will make their home on a ranch they bought recently.

"We appreciate everything the people of the county have done for us during the nine years we have had the Texaco agency here," Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins said. "We have enjoyed making this our home, and we will miss our many friends here."

Mr. Lowe was employed by the Texas Company in Port Arthur. He and Mrs. Lowe were active in the Baptist Church there, and she took part in P.T.A. work. She has been serving as a P.T.A. mother for the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe have three children, Jeanell, age 13; Joyce, age 9, and Jimmy, age 4. They are making their home at the Alamo apartments in the south part of town, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins.

Returned Soldiers Christmas Packages May Be Remailed

If a Christmas package, mailed to a soldier overseas, has been returned because of improper address, it still can be mailed, the Eighth Service Command has announced.

The sender must present proof that the package was mailed originally before the October 15 deadline.

Soldiers who are embarking for overseas duty still can be sent Christmas packages. The sender must present the Army post office address at the post office, this being the form soldiers going overseas send to relatives some time before embarking.

Dodson School Opens Nov. 22

The Dodson school will reopen Monday, November 22, after having been dismissed nine weeks for the children to help with cotton picking.

The opening hour has been set at 10 o'clock, H. H. Risinger, superintendent, said.

All parents are urged to co-operate with the school by starting their children as soon as the school re-opens and encouraging their regular attendance.

72 Brands Recorded Here Under New State Ruling

Seventy-two livestock brands have been recorded in the office of the county clerk since October 1, in accordance with a recent act of the Legislature, Miss Margaret Shields, clerk, said Friday.

This act requires that all brands must be re-recorded between October 1, 1943 and October 1, 1945. After the expiration of this two year period, all brands and marks not recorded by the present owners are considered forfeited and will be subject to registration by any person.

The number recorded, however, is only a small portion of the brands now in use in the county.

In addition to local brands, several out of county brands have been recorded here, including the famous Running brand of the King Ranch at Kingsville.

A fee of 25 cents is charged at the county clerk's office for recording.

Brands recorded through November included:

THE END OF A PERFECT SHAY

Jap Atrocity Picture Coming

When Mark L. Moody's picture "Ravaged Eearth" opens at the Ritz Theatre on Tuesday, Nov. 16, the citizens of this community will have an opportunity of securing first hand information verifying the press headlines of recent months in which Japanese artocities were exposed.

The picture shows plain unvarnished scenes where the atrocities were committed. All are shown in vivid reality and it is said that people who see the film express a determination to want to do their part in curbing the Japs and bringing about a cessation of their wholesale and wanton cruelties.

No part of the film is cut or censored and the picture is the only one of its kind ever to be shown publicly in this country.

Knox Manning narrates the picture, which is exceptionally well done.

Because of the frankness of the picture, children under 16 are not admitted.

Armistice Day · 1943

Twenty-five years ago today, American fighting men won a great victory on the bloody battlefields of France. They won what they hoped would be a permanent peace for themselves and for their children.

In memory of their sacrifices and their courage and in memory of another generation which is again offering all to preserve freedom, we observe this Armistice Day.

Let us here on the home front devote our full effort to shortening the war. And when the war is finally won, let us again resolve to see to it as a people that the war that is won by brave men in uniform shall not be lost by the politicians. And let us be sure that We, The People, come to this time of judgement with clean hands by giving our utmost effort on the home front. It is the proper manner in which to observe this Armistice Day.

Overweight Motor Oil Proved Non-Essential

See how safe and economical a surprisingly Light grade can be with your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

A motorist who kept a record for a month averaged only 2.7 miles between stops. Maybe you average twice that. Yet the "coupon shortage" means short runs—lots of stopping and starting. That's extra bad for your oil. The first hardships of Winter will find it unfit. This year, of all years, the height of economy is to change your oil promptly.

The lightest suitable oil you can use is best for your engine—your battery—your gasoline economy... best for lengthening your car's future! You needn't risk any overweight grade...not when you have your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by changing to economical Conoco Nth motor oil.

The "magnetic attraction" that seems set up by a certain synthetic in patented Conoco Nth oil enables it to OIL-PLATE. Now all good plating forms a staunch protective surface, and that gives you the idea of OIL-PLATING. Now think of any OIL-PLATED part in your engine facing another OIL-PLATED part...double OIL-PLATING in between—plus Conoco Nth oil's regular-type liquid film that's extra strong! You can't get more protection than that, while with overweight oil you'd only invite needless drag and dangerous "absentee" lubrication in starting cold. Don't risk it. Consult Your Conoco Mileage Merchant for your lightest grade of Nth, and face Winter fully confident, with your engine OIL-PLATED. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING
Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.
Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.
But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Army Navy Air Force Marines Coast Guard

After serving eleven months months with the Seabees in Bermuda, Second Class Petty Officer Bo Yates is spending a 28-day leave in Wellington with Mrs. Yates. He arrived October 26 and expects to be here during his entire leave.

Yates, for a number of years the popular secretary of the Volunteer Fire Department, and later with the Water Department of the City, has been in the Navy for the last 14 months. This is his second leave.

He reports the Bermudan climate fine in winter, but disagreeable in summer. Although the temperature seldom rises above 90 degrees, the intense humidity was most uncomfortable for American Navy Men. Once a popular tourist spot of the Western Hemisphere, Bermuda now sees only service men and a small number of goverment civilian employees, Yates reports.

"I've been very fortunate since I've been in the Navy," Yates said. "In Bermuda I was doing practically the same work that I did when I worked for the city. That is, I was with the public works in the water department."

The Naval Operating Base on that island was one of several in the Atlantic and Carribbean areas secured by the United States from Great Britain on 99 years lease in exchange for destroyers, Yates explained.

The Seabees work on that base has been completed, and after he reports back to Davisville, Rhode Island, Yates expects to receive another foreign assignment.

Aviation Cadet Elba Glendon Hunt ,son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edwin Hunt of Dodson, Texas has completed approximately one-third of his Pilot Training and will soon report to an Air Corps Basic Flying School in Macon, Georgia for the intermediate phase of his flying training.

Before entering the Air Corps, Cadet Hunt attended Dodson High School and Texas Technological School, Lubbock, Texas.

He was accepted as an Aviation Cadet at Nashville, Tennessee in July, 1943, and has received his primary training at Union City, Tennessee.

Upon completion of his Basic and Advanced Training, he will be given his wings and commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Corps.

FORT SILL, Okla.,— Corporal Thad B. Trew, Wellington Texas, has been commissioned a second lieutenant of field artillery upon completing the Field Artillery Officers Candidate course of the Field Aritellery School.

Lieutenant Trew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Trew of Wellington, and was a student at Texas A. and M. college before entering the Army.

Lieutenant Trew has been assigned to the Field Artillery Officers' Replacement Pool of the Replacement Training Center, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Field Artillery tactics and techniques developed in the Field Artillery School have proved their effictiveness on every battlefront where American artillery has been engaged with the enemy. Its first test in this war was during the heroic battles of Bataan and Corregidor.

Pvt. Olin Roberts left Thursday after spending his furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Roberts, and his sister, Mrs. Walter Langford, and family.

He is stationed at Fost Custer, near Battle Creek, Michigan. He entered the service in May and this was his first furlough.

He was accompanied here by his wife, who lived at Amarillo.

James Gosnell and wife were here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gosnell. James Gosnell, who is in the Navy, has seen duty overseas.

Pfc. Harvey Jones arrived November 2 to spend his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Jones. Harvey is now stationed at the Army Air Base at Yuma, Arizona. Since being at Yuma, he has been assigned to air duty, flying as an aerial engineer on a Flying Fortress. He will return to his station Saturday, November 13.

Morris W. Barton of Camp Blanding recently received his two stripes and rating as corporal. Cpl. Barton is stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida.

Chaplain W. A. Squyres of San Francisco is visiting in Wellington this week with his wife and children, who are making their home here for the duration. Chaplain Squyres recently returned from Australia.

Pvt. Kenyard Poteet, who is stotioned with a U. S. Army Tank Division was at home for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Poteet, from Friday of last week until Tuesday. Pvt. Poteet has been in the service since last February.

Lieut. Paul Wischkaemper, formerly of the Lutie community, is now stationed at North Camp Hood in the tank destroyer section of the Army.

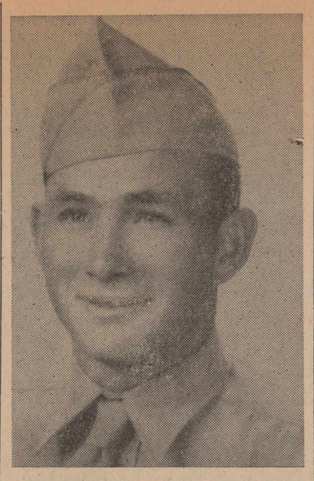
He is the son of Mrs. Richard Wischkaemper of Riverside, California.

Cpl. Ralph Gray of Pocatello, Idaho, arrived Monday for a week's furlough with his wife and son here.

He is in the last phase of his training in the Air Forces and when he completes this work he expects to be assigned as a first engineer on a bomber.

Cpl. and Mrs. Raymond Morris of Gainesville spent the week end with Mrs. Morris' mother, Mrs. Dora Ryan. Cpl. Morris is stationed at Camp Howze near Gainesville.

Second Lt. Thad Trew arrived home this week for a ten day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Trew. Lt. Trew has just received his commission, graduating from officers training school at Fort Sill.



SGT. EUGENE MORROW

S-Sgt. Eugene F. Morrow is serving with a Laision Squadron, in San Antonio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrow of Samnorwood, and has been in the service for the past three years.

Santa Claus With American Accent

Members of the Eighth Army Air Force in England have opened a hobby shop. Here the boys spend their spare time making toys for English children—model tanks, fire trucks, cradles, tommy-guns, little wooden locomotives, racing automobiles, with real windshields.

The boys go to the schools in poorer districts and ask the teachers which children need things and what they like the most. The boys set a goal of 2,400 toys to be made and stuffed with candy and gum from their weekly rations.

SAMNORWOOD
By MRS. C. W. FRITTS

Mrs. William O'Rear and small sons, Ronnie and Robert, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, of near Quail.

Miss Virginia Turner of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Turner, and children over the week end.

Pfc. Jim Hightower returned to his base at Camp Pickett, Virginia, Thursday, after a week's stay with his wife here, and to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, D. Granger.

Cpl. Clarence Granger returned to his base at Camp Young, Calif., last week after attending the funeral of his father, D. Granger, and visiting his wife and baby, his mother, Mrs. D. Granger, and sister, Mrs. Jim Hightower.

Mrs. D. Granger and daughter, Mrs. Jim Hightower, moved from the Theo Parker farm to near Bray recently.

Mrs. Walter Fritts is ill at her home.

Miss Mae Jean Fritts of Wellington spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fritts, and Quentin and Belva Fritts.

Cpl. and Mrs. Clarence Granger and infant daughter, Mrs. Jim Hightower and Mrs. D. Granger visited Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Hightower and small sons near Bray Sunday.

Mrs. Clarence Granger and baby daughter visited Mrs. Walter Fritts and Belva Monday.

We are happy to report Mary Ruth Montgomery, after seven weeks in St. Joseph's Hospital, is slowly improving. There is hope for her recovery if no other complications set in.

Miss Estelle Peeples and Geneva Montgomery spent the week end with Miss Alta Marie Terrell in Pampa. Miss Terrell is a former high school teacher at Norwood.

An Explanation
TO THE PEOPLE OF WELLINGTON

During the past several months it has developed upon us to provide certain necessary laundry service for the local hospital and other business firms. We have endeavored to meet your needs as conditions would permit. BUT WE REGRET THAT WAR CONDITIONS AND THE RATIONING OF CERTAIN SUPPLIES PREVENTED US FROM GIVING PRE-WAR SERVICE.

It has been our aim during the present emergency to take care of that institutional work necessary to the protection of the health and morale of the citizens of the community.

We are now happy to announce that additional equipment has been released to us and our plant has been completely converted to wartime production. This will enable us to give you better service on wartime necessities.

We appreciate your past co-operation and indulgence and shall try to show our gratitude by giving you increasingly better service on your laundry necessities.

Funeral Rites For Lutie Woman Held Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Sam M. Poteet, a resident of this county for twenty-nine years, were held Thursday, November 4, from the Church of Christ at Samnorwood. Mrs. Poteet died in St. Mary's Hospital at Shamrock at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, after an illness of only four days. Her death was attributed to a heart attack.

She was 63 years of age.

Mrs. Poteet was the mother of J. A. Poteet of Wellington and T. F. Poteet of Lutie.

In charge of the funeral services were Minister J. Loyd Rice of the Church of Christ at Shamrock.

Pallbearers were John Daffron, Joe Rountree, Stanley Whitson, Odus Offutt, Alfred Knoll and Louis Maddox. Flower girls were Viola Hyman, Katie Maddox, Winona Morgan, Cordie Foster, Eula Mae Burke and Mrs. Eva Davis.

Minnie E. Cothran was born September 9, 1880 in Riverside, Tenn. While still quite young, she came to Texas, and lived with her father at Malone until the time of her marriage.

She was married to Mr. Poteet at Malone in September 1901. In 1914, the family moved to Collingsworth County.

Mr. Poteet preceeded her in death on June 1, 1936, and one daughter, Thelma Kate, died January 6, 1919.

Widely known through the northern part of the county, Mrs. Poteet had many friends who loved and admired her.

She had been a faithful member of the Church of Christ for 47 years, having become affiliated with that church when she was 16 years old.

Mrs. Poteet is survived by four children, her two sons, J. A. Poteet and T. F. Poteet of this county and two daughters, Miss Eula Poteet of Shamrock and Mrs. J. B. McNeill of Allison. Three sisters and seven grandchildren also survive.

No Extension On Sugar Stamps

According to District OPA officials, an announcement from Washington to the effect that no extension has been granted on sugar stamps 15 and 16 has punctured widespread rumors that these stamps are still valid. Consumers who did not use stamps 15 and 16 may take their books to their Ration Board where certificates can be issued for sugar up to 10 pounds per person on the basis of unused stamps. Sugar for canning was set up on an annual basis of 25 pounds with the fiscal year ending February 29.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

Island
Oct. 2, 1943

Dear Brother,

I will try to answer your kind letter I received this morning and was glad to hear that you were well and that you like your work. You don't have to tell me what those destroyers escorts are doing because I have seen them in action and I will say one thing that they are really doing their part; so just keep on rolling and I hope it won't be long until this thing will be over.

T. P. I am proud that you are taking so much interest in your work, and I believe you have your whole soul in it. It is people like you who couldn't go to army, navy, or marines, but yet didn't let that stop them, are the ones that need the praise; so don't feel too bad about it because you are fairly doing your part. I was glad your plant won the Army-navy E. A lot of the boys worked for Brown before they came into the service; they really did like to work for them.

Well, T. P., you haven't got anything on me, I get up the same time you do, but I don't mind it because I don't feel like I am doing enough yet.

About myself, I can't say much only that I am well and felling fine although I am getting tired of this mud. It really rains a lot here.

I heard about the storm you all had; I suppose it was really bad.

No, T. P., don't look for me home by Christmas because there is not a chance for me to make it.

I'm afraid you all have the wrong impression of this country. I haven't seen a white woman since we left the Caledonia and just a few natives and brother you should seen them. They have the poorest living conditions I ever saw; they are a thousand years behind.

I must close; write every chance you get. My prayers are that we will soon be back around the family table.

Your brother,
Robert Belew

This letter was received by T. P. Belew of Houston, Texas from his brother, Robert Belew who is serving in the South Pacific area. Both men formerly lived here.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the children of Mrs. S. M. Poteet, wish to thank all the good people who assisted us in any way at the death of our mother. The people of this community are of the best and we greatly appreciate such friends.

May God bless each of you and stand by you in your hour of darkness.

Well Known Loco Farmer Dies After Brief Illness

Marshall M. Manahan, 52-year-old Loco farmer, died in St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington Friday morning, November 5. His death, which occurred at 5:30 o'clock, followed a brief illness.

Mr. Manahan had been a resident of this section for the last 32 years.

Funeral services were conducted from the Church of Christ at Loco Saturday afternoon with Min. W. H. Riley and Min. Claude Walkup in charge.

Pallbearers were Ernest Darnell, Bob Sexton, Wilbur Hagerman, Rube Crawley, Wayne Darnell, Clarence Terry, Sidney Elmore and Darrell Darnell. Flower bearers were Mrs. Viola Jeffers, Mrs. Lucille Gilmore, Miss Jewell Kelly, Mrs. Dorothy Keenan, Mrs. Mayrene Darnell, Miss Bethine Adkins, Mrs. Melvin Couch and Mrs. Claude Walkup.

Interment was in the Arlie Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Manahan was a native of Texas, having been born in Limestone County May 18, 1891, the son of J. F. and Callie Carrington Manahan. At the time of his death he was 52 years, 5 months and 17 days of age.

During the years he had lived at Loco, Mr. Manahan had been active in the church life of that section and at the time of his death he was serving as choir leader for the Church of Christ.

Of a modest disposition, he was known to his friends and neighbors as a man of sterling character and high ideals. Throughout the section he had a wide circle of acquaintances.

Mr. Manahan was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Frank King Post of the American Legion.

He is survived by two brothers and four sisters, J. C. Manahan, P. A. Manahan, Miss Maggie Manahan, Miss Belle Manahan, Miss Susie Manahan, and Miss Annie Manahan, all of Loco. Other survivors are a niece, Miss Nola Beck of Wellington, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carrington of Clovis, New Mexico.

Miss Mary Ruth Montgomery of Samnorwood, who has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital for approximately two months, is improving slowly. Her condition for much of this time was regarded as critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Cayton of Amarillo, who formerly lived here, announce the birth of a daughter born Sunday, November 7. The baby weighed seven pounds and has been named Paula June.

Less Delay On Needed Repairs

Effective November 1, a change of method in the aid given motor vehicle operators in obtaining automotive replacement parts is expected to put vehicles laid up for want of parts back on the roads with less time lost, N. F. Nelson, District Manager of the Office of Defense Transportation stated today. It will also aid in the accumulation of data needed to forestall widespread parts shortages.

Under the new procedure, ODT Maintenance Specialists are to be responsible for searching out, from parts distributors on down the line of course, parts to fill operators' orders bearing "Certificate for Emergency Order" certification.

In addition to the requests received directly at ODT district offices, all such authenticated requests received by War Production Board automotive specialists are to be referred to the nearest ODT representative for handling. If a canvass of the ODT region in which the shortage is reported fails to turn up the part, the ODT regional office is to reverse the case to the WPB regional automotive specialist in order that the producer of the part may be contacted.

Previously, local shortage cases were reported to ODT's Washington Office by district officers and were then sent to WPB's Automotive Industry Division. The new procedure shortens the route by authorizing the contacting of parts producers direct by the WPB regional automotive specialists.

At the same time, reports on all shortages continue to be sent to Washington and give advance notice of widespread developing shortages extending over one or more regions.

Mrs. R. L. Porter, Jr., arrived Monday from Ogden, Utah. She plans to make her home here while her husband, Sergeant Porter, is serving overseas. Before coming here, she visited her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Porter, at Lela.

An Urgent Message
From
Your Doctor

AN APPEAL FOR COOPERATION IN A VITAL HOME FRONT EMERGENCY

Many doctors are now on duty with the armed forces and indications are that many more will be called into service. As a result, the physicians who stay at home are forced to tackle a job which will tax their abilities and strength to the utmost.
Those who wish to help physicians carry this load should put into practice the suggestions listed below:

1. See your doctor in his office whenever possible and save him the time which is consumed in travelling to and from your home.
2. If you plan to see him in his office, make your appointment ahead of time if you can, and then be on time for your appointment. He will see you as promptly as he can.
3. If you want him to see a patient in the home, make your request as early in the day as possible so that he may arrange his calls to conserve time and travel.
4. When seeing your doctor, make your conversation brief and to the point. Remember that other people are waiting to see him and talk with him.
5. See that your house is well marked so that the doctor will not waste time finding your residence. If you call him at night, turn on your porch light so that he can find your house with ease.
6. Avoid calling your doctor on Sundays except for serious or emergency illness. Give him time to rest and enjoy his family.
7. When you call him on the telephone, plan what you have to say and make your conversation brief. If possible, get the information which you desire from his secretary.
8. Avoiding requesting home calls for minor ailments, particularly at night. Doctors need sleep as do others.
9. Do not criticize your doctor and promote dissatisfaction among his patients. He is overworked but he is doing the best he can.
10. Be patient. So long as the war continues every practicing physician will have far more work to do than he has ever done before, but he is still human, and can do only so much in a given length of time.

It's Your Patriotic Duty To Protect Your HEALTH!
Watch your diet . . . live sanely . . . get plenty of rest . . . drink lots of water—do all things necessary to protect your health. It takes a vigorous, healthy person to fight and win a war.

SERVICING A FORTRESS IN ENGLAND

Among the ground crew men at an Eighth Air Force base in England, helping to keep the Flying Fortresses blasting away at Nazi Europe, is Master Sergeant Herman C. Mitchell of Quail, center, crew chief of the ship "Gremlin Gus II." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Mitchell of Quail.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Harold Pollard S.O.M. 2-c to his mother in California and sent to The Leader by Mrs. Felix Pollard of Goldsmith. She felt that many of the readers of the Leader would be interested in reading the letter, written to his mother and sisters. Harold joined the Navy May 1, 1942. He has been in active service in the southwest Pacific since November 1942. His brother, J. Y., was inducted into the Navy last April. He left the west coast in August serving on a PT boat as C. M. 3-c. These brothers had hoped and dreamed of the meeting described in Harold's letter ever since J. Y. entered the service.)

My Dearest Folks:

Had a letter from you all when I got back to my ship yesterday. Sure was glad to hear. Just Bea and Mom wrote me in this one. I guess I will have to spank my little sisters if they don't write me.

Well, guess you have got that crazy letter J. Y. and I wrote you. We had lots of fun writing it. We knew it would puzzle you. My dreams came true. I found out where he was, so I didn't let my shirt tail hit my back until I was there. I got reservations on a plane and flew down to see him. Boy was it a happy meeting. The tears started rolling down his cheeks. I never saw any one so happy and surprised as he was to see me. It was really wonderful getting to see him. I'd give a million if I could be stationed with him. We sure had a good time and talked hard and fast as long as we were together. I was gone four days but I had so much red tape connected with my traveling that was with him only about 36 hours. He didn't know I was coming to see him. He didn't even know I knew where he was. Anyway when I found him, he was standing by the mess hall waiting for chow, combing his hair. I slipped all the way up to him and said, "Hello, bud," before he saw me. He sure threw a fit. It sure was nice of my Commander to let me go to see him, and I won't forget it. He is from Dallas. J. Y. is going to try to come and visit me when and if he can get caught up with his work. He didn't work while I was there.

Mom, dear, I'm glad you are able to run around. Wish I could see you and the rest too. I'll get to come home for a rest some day, I hope. I get pretty tired, but we're doing a good job, so I don't mind. What I want is to get this war over so I won't have to come back out here, ever again. I got a letter from Tressa and she said I looked so much older. You said I did too, and all of J. Y.'s friends thought I was the oldest. I can see the change in myself too, and also feel it. Ha!

Mom, I get promoted to S.O.M. 2-c the first of November so the family allotment will be stopped. The Government doesn't pay it above 3-c. Since I'm not married they won't pay me $37.50 per month extra for housing allowance. I am going to make application for the $37.50 and if it is approved you will get it. I hope you can. If I can't get it, I will be sending all my money home in checks anyway.

Mom it's OK about the fountain pen. I know how it is. I have to stop for now. Will write more later. Bea I enjoyed your letter. Carl you and Beth write.

I love you all dearly,
Harold Pollard.

Poultry Hints

KEEP THE CHICKENS IN LAYING CONDITION

If you want eggs in winter you've got to keep old man winter on the outside, according to Guy Clay of the Clay Hatchery.

"Provide the layers with a good warm laying house which is well ventilated and has a deep covering of straw or other suitable litter on the floor to keep their feet warm," he suggests.

"I consider lack of sufficient, good-egg-emaking feed one of the main reasons why many of the flocks in this area do not lay a profitable number of eggs in winter," Mr. Clay said, "and this year flocks can be made profitable a lot more easily than formerly because egg prices are much higher. If possible, lights should be provided to give the birds a longer day."

He explained that ice water is no more desired by hens in winter than it is by people. "Warm it up to 50 or 55 degrees," he suggests, "as chickens like it best at this temperature. And don't let ice freeze over it, as even hen's can't scratch through ice."

The hatcheryman stated that chickens which are closely confined in winter often experience periods of sluggishness. "Pep them up by stimulating the appetite. Add a conditioner to the regular mash. This keeps up feed consumption. Throwing part of the scratch grain in clean litter at night also helps the birds to activity.

"Clean houses are even more essential in winter than in summer," he cautions, "since the hens live there day and night. Clean often and disinfect after each cleaning. Never allow the hen house to become soggy. Stir it daily to keep the air circulating through it. During damp weather stir it several times a day.

"If serious trouble breaks out in your flock, don't hesitate to consult someone who can help you control it, as prompt action may save you much grief and loss of profit," Mr. Clay points out. "Often in disease outbreaks flocks that receive prompt treatment respond quickly and resume laying," he says.

The composite index of Texas business reached 196.1 in September, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has found, as compared with 194.1 in August and 160.7 in September a year ago.

SAVE FEED . . . INCREASE POULTRY PROFITS

Feed supplies, as you know, are short and may get shorter — So it behooves every poultry raiser to make the most efficient use of every pound. Here, in the seventh in our series of poultry management checklist ads, are a few suggestions which may help along this line. Watch for more ads to follow.

Check List No. 7

MANAGE PULLETS FOR FEED CONSERVATION

CHECK THE FOLLOWING SUGGESTIONS AGAINST YOUR POULTRY RAISING METHODS

☐ Have Enough Feeders

In the first place, there should be sufficient feeding space so that all birds can eat at one time. This way they do not fight for space and so throw out a lot of good feed. To do this, you should allow not less than three, 4 foot feeders — open both sides — for each 100 birds.

☐ Don't Overload Feeders

Feeders that are filled right up to the top cause considerable waste. Feed thrown out by the birds is not recoverable, and it has been estimated that in many cases as much as 40 per cent goes to waste in this way. Such extravagance in times like these cannot be tolerated. Make sure you have plenty of feeders and fill them only half full — filling them more often.

☐ Cull Out the "Loafers"

Don't let the non-productive birds consume feed that can more profitably be used by the good layers. The hen that lays an egg a week eats almost as much as the one that lays five times that amount. Cull out these "thieves" constantly — save money — save feed — save labor.

Have a Coca-Cola = What's the good word?

. . . or how to get along with folks

Your American soldier carries the keys to comradeship wherever he goes. Have a "Coke", says he to the eager youngsters at home, and it's like saying, What's the good word? It's a phrase that's understood in New Zealand or Newport, at home or in far-off places. Around the world Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the gesture of good will, saying Let's be friends.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Thursday a lot of Wellington people will go to Shamrock to see as evenly a matched football game as will be played in the Panhandle this fall. There is no telling how the game will come out. Four weeks ago the Shamrock fans thought they had a cinch to defeat the Rockets by a decisive score. They are not so sure on the eve of the game. The reason is that the Rockets have been getting better steadily, while the Shamrock team is about the same good senior team that it was a few weeks ago. The Rockets are in about as good shape physically as could be hoped for at this time of the year and they are in excellent shape mentally. The game will start at 2:30 in the afternoon.

* * *

Colored folks in Wellington will have none but themselves to blame if this is a short fall. They were arbitrary to say the least early in the season both about the rate of pulling and also about selecting the best fields. Now the cotton growers are building sleds as fast as they can, and a few of the thoughtful colored people are beginning to thinks that this may be a cold winter.

* * *

Here is the simple arithmetic that has caused so many farmers to decide to sled their cotton after the first killing frost. They have been paying $1.50 for pulling bolls—some paid as high as $2. The first wage amount to $30 per bale and the second to $40 per bale. The cotton brings around $100 a bale for lint and seed after paying the ginning costs.

* * *

When the farmer sleds his cotton he expects to be penalized to some extent on the grade. The worst that has happened thus far was a cent and a half a pound. Compare this with the $1.50 rate for pulling. It saves him 4½ cents a pound. In short they figure that they are $22.50 a bale better off than if they had it pulled, and this if after they have been penalized for the lower grade. The man who has been paying $2 a hundred for pulling will bake $32.50 a bale by the same figures, and this is the way the farmers are figuring.

* * *

They would rather have the cotton pulled by hand, but there is a limit to all things. Furthermore sledding will make no greater waste than is happening in many fields where no pickers are available.

* * *

Last week I had occasion to drive to Shamrock several times. Between Wellington and Shamrock there were several fields of white cotton that needed to be harvested. One was particularly distressing. The field had at least a third of a bale open and some of it was falling on the ground. One man and his two children were picking on the edge and had gathered what looked like might be one-tenth of the crop. By all patriotic standards and all practical standards, that man would be justified in starting to sled his cotton tomorrow.

* * *

They tell me that Frank Light rigged up an outfit that does not waste the cotton as much as has been wasted by falling to the ground. Perhaps some other farmers need to inspect his rig. And the payoff is that it graded middling.

* * *

If you were one of the community heads in the United War Fund Drive, and if you appoointed extra workers as you were instructed to do, please send me their names. I want to send them a ticket to "So Proudly We Hail" which will show at the Ritz November 21 and 22. In the past years I have picked a number of pictures for various groups of useful people to see. And I have not picked a lemon yet; so I want all the workers in the United War Fund Drive to see this picture as my guest.

Cotton Loan Rule Explained

The following announcement regarding the signing of cotton loan papers was made Wednesday morning by J. C. Emmert, chairman of the Collingsworth County ACA committee, Wednesday morning:

It has come to the attention of the County Committee that there are some gins who buy cotton in the County that are telling producers that they will give so much for their cotton if they will sign the loan papers for the Government Loan in blank and also sign in blank for the transfer of the loan papers and these ginners are holding the blank forms which can be executed at a later date.

All loan agreements must be made and signed by a person who is authorized by the County Committee and Commodity Credit Corporation, and all transfers of loan papers must be made in the presence of authorized witnesses who are to see that dates of transfer and amount of equity are shown on transfer agreement between buyer and seller.

Any person whether producer or buyer who violates the 1943 Cotton Producers Note and Loan Agreement Regulations which are shown in the loan agreement is subject to the penalties as set out therein.

County Boys Named To FFA District Offices

At a meeting of the Memphis District of FFA Saturday, November 6, three county boys were elected to offices of that group. Billy Nelson of Wellington was elected Area merchant and will represent the ten chapters of the district in the Area I FFA. He was also elected treasurer for this district.

Troy Cass of the Quail Chapter was named vice president and James Paul Jones of the Samnorwood Chapter was chosen sentinel.

Dan Trew and Marion Baumgardner attended the meeting as delegates from the Wellington chapter. Baumgardner made a report on the National FFA Convention which he attended in October.

A district program of work was made out and planned for the coming year. The objectives include an officers training school, district banquet, judging contest, leadership contest and an encampment.

Plans are being made for having the training school and banquet at Wellington during the early part of December with the Wellington Chapter serving as host.

The Memphis district includes the following schools: Childress, Clarendon, Estelline, Lakeview, Quitaque, Quail, Samnorwood, Turkey, Memphis and Wellington.

Tom Henry, local FFA adviser, took the Wellington group to Memphis and attended a district meeting of the vocational agriculture teachers. — Marion Baumgardner, reporter.

Smaller Cotton Yield Forecast By Government

WASHINGTON.—The agriculture department today estimated the 1943 cotton crop at 11,442,000 bales, a reduction of 36,000 bales from the estimate made a month ago and 1,346,000 bales under the 1942 crop.

The department said conditions on November 1 indicated an average yield of 253.4 pounds of lint cotton per acre, considerably above the 1932-41 average of 217 pounds but below last year's record yield of 272.5 pounds per acre.

Cotton ginnings to Nov. 1 totalled 9,061,252 bales, compared with 9,713,354 bales to the same date of last year.

The slight reduction in production prospects during October were the result largely of mid-month killing frosts in North Carolina, Tennessee and Missouri, the department said.

MARELLA

By MRS. PRESTON GILBRETH

Sunday School was as usual Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blevins and relatives from Memphis visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coleman Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Claunch and Beatrice visited Mrs. Henry Jones Saturday night.

Winfred Glenn, C. H. Jones, Richard Gilbreth, Jack Pettitt, Melvin and Bill Breeden and Joe Claunch visited Chester Byrd Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gilbreth visited in the Coleman home Sunday.

Frank Coleman, Jr., will leave Tuesday morning for San Diego, Calif., where he will report for duty with the Navy.

We regret to hear that Rev. Melvin Mathis has resigned as pastor of the Methodist Church here. He is also a teacher in the Quail School. We hope to have a new preacher by next Fourth Sunday.

Rev. C. W. Squyres of Alfalfa, Okla., spent Monday and Tuesday of last week with his daughter and family, Mrs. Albert Gollihugh.

Richard Gilbreth, Jack Pettit, Melvin and Billy Joe Breeden took dinner with C. H. Jones Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gollihugh of Amarillo spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gollihugh. Mrs. Henry Gollihugh is staying on for an extended visit.

We surely are proud to read the good letters from soldiers. You can let us hear from you in that way and tell us things about army life. We Marella folks were glad to read Merle Carmack's letter, also that of the boy who visited the Catacombs in North Africa, as well as the letters from all other boys. So come on and write when you have time.

"Army Strikes Again" says a headline. But that's different from a strike here at home.

DON SMITH EARL SLAY ENS. MARSHALL BAXTER

Danes Blow Up German Marines

When the Danish Admiral Vedel had given his order that the fleet was to be either scuttled or sailed to Sweden, a detachment of German marines succeeded in getting on board the Danish naval ship "Ingolf." The German commander demanded 10 hostages as guarantee that the ship would not be blown up nor scuttled. The captain of the "Ingolf" said, "I can't prevent you from taking the hostages but I must call your attention to the fact that the seacocks are already open."

The Germans put their ten hostages in a row on the deck, when suddenly a signal sounded, the whole Danish crew, hostages and all, jumped overboard, and deafening explosions shook the ship.

Many of the Germans were killed or wounded, but all the Danes escaped. This report came from the Stockholm newspaper, Dagens Nyheter.

Mrs Wilma Brewer and son, Cecil, are visiting this week with relatives and friends in Eldorado and Altus, Oklahoma.

MEMBER TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Editorial

Lamar Fleming was talking sense when he declared at the recent fourth cotton research congress in Dallas, that practically everything hinges upon whether this country will lower its high tariff and be willing to trade on an equable basis with the nations of the world less fortunately endowed naturally.

If that were done, the Houston cotton man estimated, perhaps a world consumption of 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bales, instead of the previous high of 30,000,000 bales, might be attained. That alone would bring about a world boom and general prosperity of an enduring nature, Mr. Fleming said.

Of equal importance to insure lasting peace, he added, will be the decision of Great Britain to give up her locks and keys to vital gateways of navigation and to recognize the rights of the rest of the world to their equal use after the war. A third decision to be made, he continued, is whether nations occupying or controlling undeveloped countries will allow the more crowded peoples thereof to participate equally in developing and enjoying their natural resources. The fourth and last condition of Mr. Fleming's design for world peace and prosperity is whether our country, England, Russia and our enemies will be tolerant and not interfere with the political systems of their nations, but instead will guarantee and exact a reasonable treatment for each other's citizens.

Free trade, free seas, free enterprise and free men—there are the ingredients in a nutshell, as compounded by Mr. Fleming. And he is right, and we in Texas will be false to our own interests if we forsake any one of the four to go chasing after will-o'-wisps, such as bottle-nursing the whole world from the cradle to the grave. —The Houston Post.

• Counteragent

At present about two and a half million dollars are being spent on the International Highway from Mexico City to Laredo by the Rockefeller interests. This money is being spent to furnish drainage, sewage, water supply and sanitation to the towns along the international road. It is also money which along with money from other funds, is being spent to promote understanding and good will between the United States and Mexico.

On the other side of the picture labor has been imported from the neighboring country to aid in the harvest of cotton. An imported laborer of Latin-American extraction has been refused service in a cafe in a Texas town. A near riot followed which had to be quelled by civil authorities.

Thousands will repeat the story. Newspapers carried it. The incident was investigated by consular authorities and men from our government. All in all, more damage was done by the unfortunate happening than can be rebuilt by the expenditures of another two and a half million dollars.—J. A. Koch in The Quanah Tribune Chief.

• Nature

We wonder how the things that live by nature as it is, and not as it is made to be, can feel or sense or in some manner foretell that a winter is to be late coming or early. Like this year, all the signs pointed to October frosts and they came. Last year the prairie life said a late frost and late it was. The "signs" are always right but they are not always read properly, appreciatively enough. Now you take us. We read 'em right. A lot of the neighbors don't. This year we missed a wee bit account of the war. We just didn't have time to get out and commune with nature. We anticipated a killing frost on October 20, according to word brought in by scouts. The first frost fell on the fifteenth or sixteenth and the almost killing frost a little after the twentieth. Also the prairie life had news about the dry fall, which we gave out in the summer. You can't help knowing things when you are told in plain "language."—Homer Steen in the Floyd County Hesperian.

• New Pennies

The more than 500,000,000 shiny zinc and steel pennies that have been minted and put into circulation this year have provoked more petty protests than all of the regulations and rationings necessitated by this war. They will be kept in circulation to meet the demand, but after the new year dawns there will be no new mintings of these pennies that look like a dime. We will be getting, instead, an increased output of new coins that will be much the same as the old bronze cent.—The Tulia Herald.

• Servant Problem

One thing the war has done is to give household servants a chance to make some money in other lines. For some unknown reason, servants have been kept at starvation wages while other lines have paid good money. Many a person holding down a good job has paid his servants only a dole. There is no servant problem now, for there are no servants. It is to be hoped that from now on they may be treated as other persons and paid what they are worth.—T. A. Landers in The McLean News.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by BOYCE HOUSE

General Sheridan once said, "If I owned Texas and h——, I'd rent out Texas and live in h——."

And Senator Ben (Pitchfork) Tillman is credited with having declared, "Texas has more trees and less timber, more rivers and less water, more cows and less milk—and you can see farther and see less than any durn country in the world."

●

These are two of the best known sayings about Texas—and they, with 498 others, are included in a new book, "I Give You Texas: 500 Jokes of the Lone Star State."

The oldest joke on the weather in Texas is the story about the farmer who started to town in a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen. On the way, one of the oxen died of sunstroke and, as the farmer was skinning the animal, the other one froze to death.

Another is the one about the traveler who asked the filling station attendant in West Texas, "Does the wind blow like this all the time." and the native answered, "No, sometimes it turns around and blows the other way."

●

Maybe not so often-told is the one about the tourist who was going through a Southwest Texas town. He saw a teacher out on the school campus with a group of little children. She had a garden hose and, as the water sparkled through the air, she said, "Children, that's what rain looks like."

●

Of course, everybody has heard about there being nothing between Amarillo and the North Pole except a barbed wire fence. When Admiral Peary reached the North Pole, he is supposed to have remarked, "Gee, I'll bet it's cold in Amarillo this morning." (This is a gross reflection on the exhilirating climate of the Panhandle).

And we all know the suddenness with which a norther strikes: like the time a man threw a dipper of water at the cat. Just then a norther hit, freezing the water in mid-air and the chunk of ice fractured the cat's skull.

●

Anyhow, there are hundreds of Texas jokes in the book—about razorbacks, mavericks, cowboys, Judge Roy Bean, politicians, to name just a few of the subjects. The Naylor Company of San Antonio is the publisher of "I Give You Texas" and (if the editor will let this get in print) the price is $2—and I think it's worth every cent of it, but, then, I'm the fellow who wrote the book!

Odd Bits Of News

"Precision gloves," which enable our flyers to handle instruments without freezing their fingers when flying at high altitudes are made of rayon, a relatively new use for this fiber.

Twelve thousand labor disputes have been settled in the past year by the U. S. Labor Conciliation Service, members of the Texas Personnel Conference were told during their recent meeting at the University of Texas. Conciliation has been effective in handling labor-management problems for 30 years, they learned.

The Mexican-United States border crosses only five permanent running streams from El Paso to San Diego.

THE PRINCIPAL THINGS

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matt. 6:33.

Folks in Uniform

"Strange thing—I keep hearing planes approaching."

Town And Farm In Wartime

Ration Reminder

Gasoline—In 17 east coast states A-8 coupons are good through February 8 in states outside the east coast area A-8 coupons are good through November 22.

Fuel Oil—Period 1 coupons are good through January 3.

Sugar—Stamp No. 29 in Book Four is good for 5 pounds through January 15, 1944.

Shoes—Stamp No. 18 in Book One good for 1 pair. Stamp No. 1 on the "Airplane" sheet in Book Three good for 1 pair.

Meats, Fats—Brown stamps G, H, and J good through December 4. Brown stamp K becomes good November 14 and remains good through December 4.

Processed Foods—Blue stamps X, Y, and Z good through November 20. Green stamps A, B, and C in Book Four good through December 20.

* * *

Release Canned Foods

Approximately 2,790,000 cases of canned peaches, peas, and tomato catsup were released to consumers recently by the War Food Administration. The canned goods probably will not reach retail shelves for several weeks. These foods were a portion of the reserves owned and held by canners to meet possible emergency requirements of the government.

* * *

Reduce Octane In Gas

Premium gasoline used by civilians will be reduced from 78 and 80-octane to 76-octane to conserve tetraethyl lead and volatile gasoline fractions, both of which are required in the manufacture of high-octane military gasoline. More than 50 million gallons of gasoline, fuel oils, lubricants, and other petroleum products are going directly to the fighting forces every day, the Petroleum Administration for War disclosed. One-third of all gasoline produced in the U. S. is now required for military purposes.

* * *

Plenty Of Turkeys

The civilian turkey supply, just starting to come on the market, will be almost as large as last year, according to the Department of Agriculture. However, this year's demand will probably be much larger and shoppers will be wise to put in orders early. Men and women on duty in the American armed forces, at home and abroad, will be served a pound of turkey at dinner Thanksgiving Day and will have all the traditional "fixin's."

* * *

V-Mail Xmas Presents

Relatives and friends still have time to send men and women overseas V-Mail notices of war bond gifts for Christmas. The Army Postal Service has assured delivery by December 25 of all V-mail notices sent before December 1. War bonds as Christmas gifts will help to hold down inflationary buying of scarce merchandise, and will be a financial cushion for the service man or woman upon return to civilian life, the Treasury Department added.

* * *

Hamburger Point Values

The ration point value of hamburger has been increased from seven to eight points per pound. OPA has also broadened its definition of hamburger to include meatier cuts of the lower grades of beef.

* * *

Increase Food Supply

More peas, beans, rice, and cheddar cheese are going to be available for civilian consumption. Supplies have been increased by the removal or reduction of government set-aside orders. Present conditions indicate there will be enough dry beans to provide about 10.4 pounds per capita for civilian consumption in the 1943-44 marketing season, compared to 8.6 pounds in 1942-43.

* * *

Cooperation On Coal

Consumers and dealers have been urged to cooperate in an effort to alleviate suffering in homes and public institutions which may be without coal. "Consumers who have any coal are urgently requested to refrain from ordering more while their neighbors may be without any," Harold L. Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator for War, said recently. Retail coal dealers have been asked to check the fuel supply of their customers to discover where the need for coal is most acute. Dealers in communities where coal has been short and where the weather has turned cold have been directed to get in touch with the area distribution manager of the Solid Fuels Administration so the limited amount of coal may be distributed where most needed.

* * *

Tire Situation Tightens

Operators of passenger cars may find it impossible to obtain used tires because commercial vehicles delivering essential goods are now eligible to receive used passenger and truck tires of sizes smaller than 7.50-20 to replace tires no longer serviceable. November quotas recently released by OPA for new passenger and truck tires show 30 percent fewer for trucks and 14 percent fewer for passenger cars.

* * *

No More Book 1 And 2

No more copies of War Ration Book One or Two can be issued by local rationing boards for any purpose whatsoever. All stamps in the two books have expired except stamp 18 in Book One, for shoes, and blue stamps X, Y, and Z in Zook Two, which may be used to buy processed foods through November 20. OPA said the covers of the two books may be thrown away when the stamps have been used or have expired.

* * *

Ration-Free Shoes

Some relief from the shortage of youngsters' shoes will be provided about the first of the year by a new supply of children's non-leather shoes for general wear, to be sold ration-free, OPA has announced. In general, children up to about eight years of age will benefit. The shoes will have canvas uppers and soles made from remnants and heavy woven fabric, reinforced with vulcanized rubber. Shoes of this type larger than misses' and youths' size three will be rationed.

* * *

Farm Construction

The limit on farm construction, including residential, has been placed at $1,000 under a revision of Order L-41 by WPB. Previously, there were separate limits, farm residences not being considered part of the farm unit.

* * *

Cut New Car Quota

Only 20,600 new passenger automobiles have been released for rationing during November, OPA has announced. This is the lowest figure since rationing began and represents a reduction of nearly 35 percent from the October quota of 30,800.

Sam Raburn reminding big brother O. B., who was reading a magazine, that it was time to go to school. . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey saying they liked California fairly well, but they'd rather be in Wellington. Richard, who has been in the Army, received an honorable discharge recently.

●

Something that should have been mentioned several weeks ago: the lovely water lilies that Mrs. Fred LeDerer has had in the pool in her front yard this fall. They looked like something out of a magazine.

●

Cynthia Watkins carrying her new puppy down town, wrapped up and in a shoe box. It was brought to her about a week ago by her aunt, Mrs. Eddie Bassel of Lubbock. . . Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Driskill, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Vaughan and Mrs. Bill Leechman eating Sunday dinner in town.

●

Mrs. Dick Richards saying that if it weren't for her daughters she'd like to skip Christmas this year, everything except Christmas dinner. "I guess the merchants are glad everyone doesn't feel like I do," she added.

●

Loraine Curry carrying two new books. Few women around read more books than Loraine, or books on a wider variety of subjects.

●

Pfc. Harvey Jones of Yuma, Arizona, saying furlough time went all too quickly when you're spending it at home. . . Judge C. C. Bishop, who is in charge of the federal crop loans for this district, saying that actually he was out of Wellington only two nights a week, but since he isn't here much in daylight and doesn't see many people, a number have asked if he gets back to Wellington very often.

Local Board Reclasses Many Men Recently

The following re-classifications were made by the local selective service board between October 15 and November 1.

Since this covers several meetings of the board, names of a few men placed first in one class, will be listed later in another.

The classifications include 1-A, men subject to induction in the armed forces in the near future; 2-A, men in essential activity supporting the war effort; 2-B, men engaged in war production; 1-c, men already inducted into one branch of service; 2-c, single men engaged in agriculture; 3-c, men with dependents engaged in agriculture; 3-D, men whose induction would result in a hardship for their families.

The list, as posted on the bulletin board at the selective service office, follows:

1-A: Lester L. Harrison, J. W. Pennington, George C. Richards, Reuben C. Jones, L. A. Carter, Luther Breeding, Mac H. Wilkerson, Clinton C. Epps, Orphus L. Judd, Eddie B. Jones, Woodrow T. Can Vitamins Change GRAY HAIR?

Impartial investigators have found vitamin Calcium Pantothenate of some value in changing gray hair, where a deficiency of this vitamin may have caused gray or graying hair.

For example, one test conducted by Good Housekeeping magazine on a number of people, showed 88% of those tested (all ages were included) had positive evidence of a return of some hair color.

The new GRAYVITA contains not 10, but 20 mlg. of Calcium Pantothenate. Absolutely harmless. This gives you TWICE the former Calcium Pantothenate potency and value in each tablet. Or by using one-half the tablet you cut your cost one-half yet still get the same potency of ordinary brands. Each new GRAYVITA tablet also contains Brewer's Yeast, a natural source of B-Complex, PLUS 450 U.S.P. units of vitamin B_1—necessary for healthy nerves. Try GRAYVITA. See what a difference it may make in the way you look. 30 day supply, $1.50; 100 day supply, $4.00.

Christmas Gift Items

Two colorful and useful gift aprons can be made in the twinkling of an eye with inexpensive muslin, scraps of cotton fabric and bright bias binding. This Christmas, aprons will be more important than ever as gift items, for they preserve good clothes and build kitchen morale. Easily applied floral appliques decorate the half-apron. Three colors of bias binding trim the bibbed apron.

Miss Floy Mae Willis Bride Of Tech. Sgt. Howard Frost In El Paso Wedding

Miss Floy Mae Willis, daughter of the late Vander Willis, was united in marriage to Technical Sergeant Howard M. Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Frost of Vernon, on Monday, November 1, at El Paso. The wedding vows were spoken by Judge Charles Windberg, Jr. in the presence of Sergeant Granville A. Webb and Master Sergeant Lloyd J. McKay at 4:30 o'clock p. m.

The bride wore a brown gaberdine suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Frost, a graduate of Wellington High School, attended college at Texas Tech in Lubbock. For more than a year she has been making her home in Dallas. Mrs. Frost, until going to Dallas, had resided in Collingsworth County since 1918 and has many friends here.

The groom attended school at Levelland where he graduated from high school. Before entering the service he was with the Texas Company at Lubbock.

At the present time Sergeant and Mrs. Frost are making their home in El Paso.

Mrs. Fred Kersten led in prayer.

Circle No. 4 met at the Church for Missionary Study under the direction of Mrs. J. O. Wells.

Mrs. Tom Berry was in charge of the business.

Those present were Mmes. Earl Smith, Wells, W. E. Halls, Jack Ball, Tom Berry and Arvezene Winter.

Dinner At Craven Home Sunday For Friends And Family

Mr. and Mrs. Craven, Sr., were hosts Sunday at a dinner for members of their family and friends. A bountiful dinner was served at noon and followed by kodaking and visiting.

After several rolls of films were made the younger members of the party attended the theatre in Wellington where they saw the picture, "Dixie."

In the evening before going to church the party went to Goat's Cafe where they were served refreshments of pie and coffee.

Those present for an enjoyable day at the Craven home were Mrs. Selby D. Grout and children, Jerral and Vona Lee; Mrs. George Deger, Mac Wilkerson, Bessie Craven, L. C. Craven, Jr., Jeynell Deger, Mattie Marie Payne and Doris Null.

Mrs. Glynn Essman Shower Honoree In Gardner Home

Mrs. J. G. Gardner and Mrs. L. B. McNeill were hostesses at a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Glynn Essman on Saturday afternoon, November 6, at 3 o'clock in the Gardner home.

After the arrival of the guests two beautifully decorated baskets of gifts were presented to Mrs. Essman. The gifts were displayed by the honoree and later dainty refreshments were served to thirty-five guests.

Subscription Days Are Here Again

THIS YEAR you will need The Wellington Leader to a greater extent than you have ever needed it since the paper was founded in 1909. The reason is simple. Events are moving faster. Problems for the individual and the community are more complex. War regulations and duties bring rapid changes. To meet them you must keep informed.

YOUR PAPER, your home town newspaper, The Wellington Leader, will keep you informed—not on broad general national matters, but on the specific things that we must do right here in this county to do our duty. Your home town newspaper will help you perform the task that is before you. That task is your duty to the boys who have gone from here to fight and to the children who follow after them. It is your duty to yourself and to your country.

IN THE LEADER you will find the same friendly news about the people of Collingsworth County that you have learned to like. It will be tempered with the gravity of the times. There will be the sad, grim news of our own young men killed or missing in action. There will be the point-blank, factual articles of what you must do. Some will concern laws you must obey—others will concern duties you must perform patriotically.

CHEERFUL NEWS, however, will continue to be published about the doings of the folks in Collingsworth—for the boys away as well as for you. After all nothing bolsters them up like hearing the news about the ordinary things of home—the American way of life for which they are fighting is a way of life they knew in their home county.

SUCH SERVICE is one that can be furnished to the people of this community by no other paper or no other medium on the face of the globe. Other such community papers are doing it elsewhere but this is the only one doing it for you. It is your paper. The function is to present the essential worth of an agricultural community, and to keep that community worthy by enabling each individual to do his best intelligently and fully.

THIS IS your invitation to renew for this service that is ever old and ever new. Since new things confront us just as they do you, we make no elaborate promises of what you will be receiving by the end of next year, but we are confident you will continue to recognize the familiar spirit of your paper. And again, we say, you will want The Leader more in 1943 than ever before.

NEWS OF MEN IN SERVICE, tells the story of the part of Collingsworth men in this war. You learn of the honors they earn, the life they live, and the courage with which they are doing their part to protect this county and this nation.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE. In their own words you learn what our men in arms are doing. Just as your words of encouragement builds morale on the front lines, the letters of these men, reaching all their friends and neighbors through this column, build morale at home.

AGRICULTURE NEWS. The farmers of this county are engaged in war work just as completely as any other defense industry. But they need the help that only a county paper can give in keeping them informed on the government farm program as it affects this county, on gasoline and tire rationing, on new or needed crops, and in many other ways that will mean dollars in their pockets.

WAR PROGRAM. Winning the war is our chief aim, and The Wellington Leader will continue to keep the people of this county informed on the War Program as it affects them, and to assist them in carrying out the program to its fullest extent. The War Bond Drive, the Scrap Metal Drive, the U.S.O., the Red Cross, the Navy Relief and other such activities are a part of your living today. It is also part of ours.

PEOPLE'S FORUM. The Wellington Leader opens its columns to its readers. Here you may express your views of an important question. You may air your opinions or propose some action to the county's citizens.

DECK'S DIDACTICS. A personal column written by Deskins Wells. A heart-to-heart discussion of current topics, flavored with the views of a weekly newspaper editor.

I SAW. A column by Virginia Robey in which you find verbal pictures of what you and your neighbors are doing each week.

COMMUNITY NEWS. In the news items from almost every community in the county you will read about your friends and know what they are doing.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES. The social and cultural activities of the women are found on the society page of The Leader each week. This page rivals those of many daily papers in Texas, and is conducted for the women of the entire county.

BOYS AND GIRLS WORK. The boys and girls have become a mighty important part in the county's activities. In their work in the FFA, the FHT and the 4-H Clubs, they are contributing to the war effort and they are taking their places on the farms and in the stores. You will read of this work in The Leader.

EDITORIAL PAGE. The Leader is one of the few weekly papers in the state devoting a whole page to editorial comment of a fair, tolerant, and courageous nature.

LOCAL PICTURES. Not only will you read of the happenings of the county, but you will see pictures of many of them. No weekly paper in Texas runs so large a number of pictures of local people.

NEWS PICTURES. Happenings in many parts of the world are of vital interest to us here at home. Pictures from these far places help us to realize better what is happening.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS. Home Demonstration news helps to carry the importance of this work to every woman in the county, and gives the club members pointers on important features of their work.

SCHOOL NEWS. The most complete coverage of school activities in all parts of the county records the educational progress of our children. In addition it tells of their sports, extra-cullicular and citizenship activities.

"For Thirty-Four Years A Builder In Collingsworth County"

Governor Urges State-Wide Health Campaign

AUSTIN.—Inauguration of a State-wide "Health for Victory" campaign, designed to maintain the civilian population of Texas at the peak of productive capacity and to protect members of the armed forces stationed here, was announced today by the State War Office.

In a letter to all county judges and mayors of Texas, who serve as the local coordinators of war activities, Governor Coke R. Stevenson, chairman of the National Defense Committee for Texas, expressed concern over the public health situation existing in many sections of the State.

The State-wide campaign was organized following conferences of officials of the State War Office, the Governor's Staff, and representatives of the State Health Department, at which detailed reports from all parts of Texas were studied.

It was revealed that in between 75 and 100 communities emergency sanitation and health programs have been started already by State and local health authorities, in collaboration with other public officials, civilian defense organizations, commercial and civic clubs. The view was expressed, however, that "a united effort, on a Statewide basis, must now be undertaken if we are to cope with the problem of maintaining public health and safety."

In a statement accompanying the Governor's bulletin to local officials, the State Health Department expressed concern over the increase in typhus fever throughout Texas. Rats have been responsible for the spread of this disease, the statement said, and trapping, poisoning and rat-proofing were recommended in all communities.

Emphasis was placed also by the Health Department on the importance of educational and inspectional work to combat typhoid, dysentery, and other filth-borne diseases which are spread through contaminated water and food.

The toll in Texas manpower which malaria is taking was noted. A certain type of mosquito is the sole agent of transmission of this disease, the statement said. Other types of mosquitoes were characterized as conveyors of dengue fever and many become the vectorys of yellow fever.

The Governor called upon the local leaders to inaugurate campaigns immediately in their respective jurisdictions, organizing such committees and developing such plans as may be indicated to handle the various local situations. The communities were offered the services of public health sanitarians, members of the staff of the State War Office, and representatives of other State agencies.

Particular attention was given to the importance of collaboration with local American Red Cross chapters in programs of home nursing, nurse's aides, and first aid, which, the Governor said, took on more and more significance due to the serious shortage of doctors and nurses and hospital facilities.

Mention was made of comprehensive material on the entire health problem which has just been distributed by the United States Chamber of Commerce to its member organizations. It was recommended to the local leaders that the cooperation of Chambers of Commerce, Junior Chambers of Commerce, and other commercial and civic organizations be secured.

Reports on the progress of the local campaigns will be issued by the Governor's Office as they are received from various sections of the State.

Farm families who have been operating as a "meat circle" or "club" can continue to slaughter their own meat without obtaining a farm slaughter permit and without exchanging points among themselves, Miss Erisman said.

It is necessary to keep records of the division of meats, however. And, too, it is mandatory that one in the group had raised the animal which is killed. These families—or others who slaughter animals they raise themselves—can store this meat in freezer lockers without giving up ration points to the locker operators. The same is true if their own animals are custom slaughtered or if their own meat is cured, ground, or made into sausage, for use at home—no points need be given up.

Families also may consume meat without giving up ration points if they owned the livestock for a period of 60 days prior to slaughtering it or if the weight of the animal increased at least 35 per cent between the time it was acquired and the time is was slaughtered. Another requirement the producer must meet is to have resided on the farm which he operates for more than six months of the past year.

These rulings from the Office of Price Administration should encourage farm families to can, or freeze considerable amounts of meat for their own use, Miss Erisman believes, and also predicts a big increase in home conservation of meat this winter.

Dust Storms Are Likely In Spring

Dust Stormes Next Spring!

This is a warning of the Soil conservation Service headed in Amarillo by H. H. Finnell. He also stated that there will be strong likelihood of severe wind erosion of soil that does not have adequate cover of crop residues or growing crops.

No serious damage has been done to date and little is in prospect that cannot be taken care of if percautions are made early enough.

If it is not possible to leave crop residues or a winter grain crop on the soil as cover during the blowing season, then it will probably be necessary to list or chisle the land most likely to blow. Fore-thought in the use of moisture conservation practices and limited "stubble" grazing will make soil cover more accessible.

We Salute the Fighting Men of '43

In memory of the men who fought for freedom we salute another generation of brave Americans who are fighting with high courage and great skill to keep this country free. Most of the slogans are catchwords, but the task of keeping this country free is of the highest importance now and always.

Let us by our efforts do all we can to end the war quickly and see to it that the victory shall be complete and the peace a lasting one.

Take Up The Torch

This Armistice Day is not what another generation of brave men fought and hoped for.

Today another generation is waging the fight for freedom in far flung battlefields on land, on the sea and in the air.

Let us resolve on this Armistice Day to take up the Torch—Do our part to end the war as quickly as possible—and the war having been won, do our part to see that a just and lasting peace shall prevail.
