Candidate Arrested For Demonstration

SAIGON (AP) — An antigovernment candidate for the National Assembly was beaten and arrested by police today during a protest demonstration as South Vietnam's political crisis neared the end of its first week.

Tran Tuan Nham, a self-described leftist who opposes both President Nguyen Van Thieu and the U.S. presence in Vietnam, appeared in Saigon's main square with a handful of student supporters to display a copy of his campaign poster which police confiscated early last week.

It depicted President Nixon with fangs, a Hitler mustache and a large "X" across the face. It also carried the slogans "Work for World Peace," and "Oppose the U.S., Save Our Country."

Uniformed and plainclothes police broke up the demonstration, touching off a brief melee as they pursued Nham and his associates through the area.

The police wrestled Nham to the ground and beat him. He lay in a muddy gutter for a few minutes, then was carried to a police jeep and taken away. His injuries did not appear serious.

Witness Testifies 'Tex' Watson Told 'Manson Women' How To Kill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles "Tex" Watson, on trial for the murder of Sharon Tate and seven others, gave a lesson on "how to kill if it came down to it" to female members of Charles Manson's "family," one of the women testified Wednesday.

Barbara Hoyt, 19, now a college student, said that shortly after the seven Sharon Tate murders in August, 1969, Watson, 25, gave a demonstration of stabbing technique at the Death Valley ranch that was headquarters for Manson's hippie-style clan.

He told the women not to put the knife straight in, but to "turn the knife up and move it around to cut up more stuff," she said.

Manson and three female followers were sentenced to death last April in the Tate murders, but Watson fought extradition from Texas and was not tried with them.

Miss Hoyt did not mention Watson's demonstration when she testified in the earlier trial of Manson and three women followers.

Prior to that trial she was allegedly fed a LSD-spiked hamburger by some of Manson's followers trying to stop her testimony. Manson and the three women were convicted and sentenced to death in the Tate murders.

Miss Hoyt also testified that Watson told the girls that it was either "them" or us; "them" meaning "pigs," those who were not members of the Manson family.

She said she recognized a long-barreled .22-cal. revolver identified by police as one of the murder weapons in the Tate slayings, and said she saw Watson practice with the gun at the Spahn Ranch in Chatsworth where the Manson family spent much of the summer of 1969.

Miss Hoyt said that after the "family" went to Death Valley, Watson frequently bought newspapers when there wasn't enough money for food.

CoC Unit To Host New Teachers At Dinner Sept. 2

The Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will host the new teachers in the Pampa school system with a reception and dinner at the Pampa Country Club Thursday evening, Sept. 2, at 7 p.m.

Approximately 40 new teachers and their wives or husbands, along with school administrators, will be the honored guests.

The Education committee, headed by Newt Secrest, has arranged a fine program including "The Pampa Story" by Don Lane. Kay Fancher, president of the Chamber, will be master of ceremonies, with Dr. James Malone, superintendent of schools, introducing the new teachers.

Any local people who might like to attend the dinner will be welcome; however, reservations will need to be made at the Chamber office by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 31. Tickets are $3 per person.

Pampa CoC Unit Begins Accepting Nominations Of Attractive Ground

Pampa's Most Attractive Home Ground Contest sponsored by the Civic Improvements Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, have been completed and nominations will now be accepted, according to Mrs. Thelma Bray, chairman.

This year, backyards will be judged with homes nominated for the honor are asked to open yards for public viewing following judging which will be conducted Sept. 13.

Entries may also be submitted for public buildings and businesses with landscaping projects, plant life situated to add beauty to the location. The committee endorsed the inclusion of businesses and public buildings in an effort to give deserving recognition to the operators, Mrs. Bray said. Points to be considered in judging will be general appearance, overall design, color, originality, charm, appeal and self-maintenance.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in each of six divisions, as follows: Division I — All homes west of Hobart and north of Foster; Division II — All homes between Hobart and Mary Ellen and north of Foster; Division III — All homes east of Mary Ellen and north of Harvester; Division IV — All homes between Harvester and Mary Ellen and north of Foster; Division V — All homes between Cuyler, Barnes, McCullough, and Tignor Streets, and Division VI — All homes between Foster, Rham, McCullough, Barnes and Cuyler.

The following residence in Pampa is nominated for having the most attractive home ground.

Philippines Foils Red Plot To Take Over Government

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos declared today emergency measures he invoked last weekend have blunted a Communist plot to take over the Philippine government.

But he said he has ordered the authorities in threatened areas to maintain pressure on subversives.

Marcos charged Monday that foreign-supported insurgents following the teachings of Marx, Lenin and Mao Tse tung planned to burn Manila and kidnap and assassinate officials.

He empowered the Philippine constabulary to apprehend and detain persons thought to be plotters. More than 100 persons have been apprehended, and an undisclosed number remain under interrogation.

The president met with the National Security Council for 3½ hours today, then told newsmen the situation was stabilized but remained volatile.

Women's Groups Plan Campaign On Equal Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of women's rights groups today announced plans to campaign against any "Congress person" who votes against or further amends the proposed women's equal rights amendment.

The amendment, introduced in every Congress since 1923, is designed to end any traces of discrimination based on sex.

"In 40 to 43 states women activists have gone to see Congress people in virtually every district," Carol Burris of the National Organization for Women (NOW) said at a news conference.

A NOW poll has indicated that about 165 members of Congress plan to vote for the amendment, Miss Burris told a reporter.

There are 435 members of the House, 100 members of the Senate.

Reds Launch 38 Attacks In 24 Hours

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong launched the largest number of attacks in nearly three months in an apparent effort to terrorize South Vietnam's National Assembly election Sunday, the South Vietnamese command reported today.

A communique reported 38 enemy attacks against South Vietnamese military units and civilians, including 19 rocket and mortar shelling, during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. The U.S. Command reported four attacks on American forces.

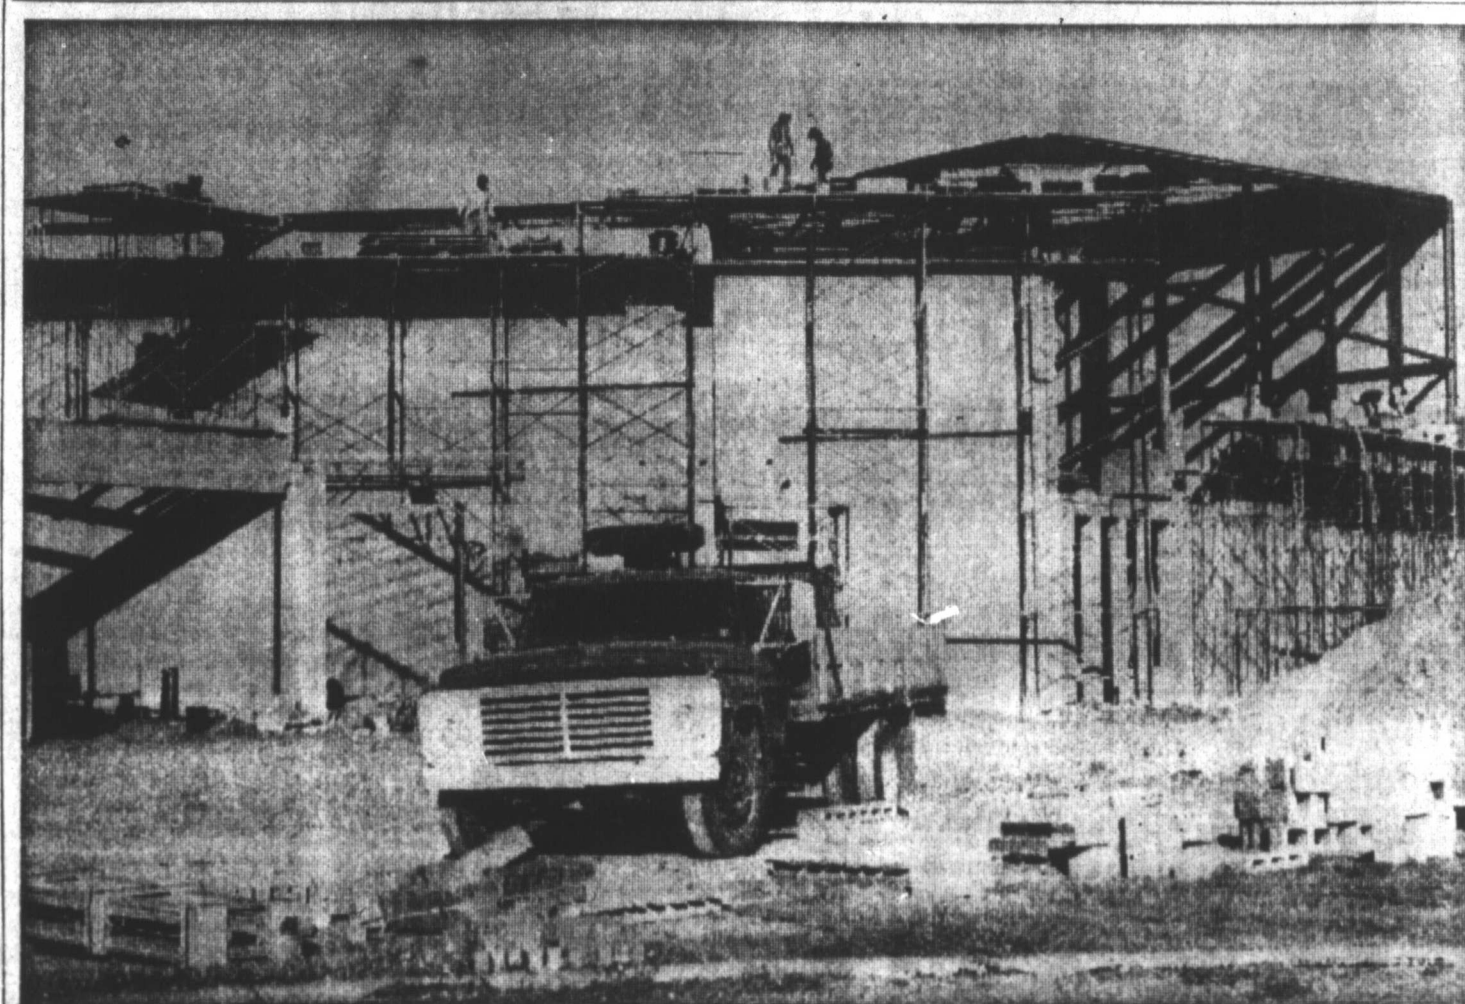

Official reports said two Americans and 49 South Vietnamese troops were killed and five Americans and 115 South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded. Eighteen South Vietnamese troops were reported missing. The two allied commands claimed 236 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

Three Vietnamese civilians were reported killed and five wounded.

A South Vietnamese spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said it was the highest level of enemy activity since May 28-29 when 48 such enemy attacks were reported.

This time the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were most active in the central highlands and in farther north in the area south of Da Nang.

Government To Give Teachers Pay Boost

PICTURE OF PROGRESS — Work on Pampa's civic auditorium is moving rapidly as the giant structure takes shape. The facility is scheduled for an early 1972 completion date. Giant girders have been installed and outside finishing materials will be ready for assembly soon, according to workmen at the site yesterday.

Raise To Be Effective This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Against a growing wall of union opposition to President Nixon's wage-price freeze, the government has opened the door a crack to allow most teachers a pay raise this fall.

"It's just a matter of equity," an Office of Emergency Preparedness spokesman said Wednesday in explaining the new interpretation.

The National Education Association said the ruling affects 80 per cent of the nation's 2.1 million public school teachers. The government said it had no estimate, but had heard figures ranging from 75 to 90 per cent.

The AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers said: "We're happy about that but it still doesn't solve the problem. It puts a premium on foot-dragging boards of education that were waiting until two days before school opens to settle their contract's. The freeze came along and they're home free."

Whether teachers get their master-contract raises apparently will be up to school boards.

The original ruling by the Cost of Living Council had said teachers were barred from pay raises if their contract period started on or after Aug. 15, when Nixon announced the 90-day freeze.

Now the council has ruled teachers may receive raises if they are eligible to be paid over a 12-month period but are in fact paid over a 10-month period, provided the contract took effect before Aug. 15.

Shooting Suspect Sought By Police

AMARILLO (AP) — Officers widened their search Wednesday for a man believed driving a camper-type van, wanted in connection with the shooting of a Japanese tourist.

Tsu Tamu Takahashi, 25, of Tokyo was in critical condition after being shot twice by a man who had given Takahashi and his wife a ride.

Mrs. Takahashi said the couple had been hitchhiking from New York to Los Angeles when they were picked up Monday in Columbus, Ohio.

The woman, 24, said their benefactor drove a cream-colored camper-type van. She said the man appeared to be of American Indian or Mexican descent.

She said they had stopped to sleep near here and that around dawn Tuesday she awoke to see her husband bleeding from the head.

The woman said she struggled in the back of the truck with the man while her husband staggered off. She said the man went to him and fired his gun at Takahashi twice.

The couple was left stranded on the highway where a passing motorist picked them up. Investigators said they later found the couple's clothing about 100 miles southeast of here.

Authorities said they recovered $600 from Mrs. Takahashi's clothing and $100 from her husband's clothing.

Officials said they also found $1,400 in traveler's checks the assailant had apparently overlooked.

Trade Deficit Recorded For 4th Month In A Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in the nation's history, the United States recorded its fourth consecutive monthly trade deficit in July, monthly trade deficit in July, the Commerce Department reported today.

The July deficit of $304.1 million left the nation with a seven-month red ink figure of $676.4 million. This was also the first time a deficit has been recorded for that period of time.

The July trade figures supplied compelling reasons why President Nixon chose to slap a 10 per cent import surcharge Aug. 15 in an effort to protect the U.S. market and why he chose to cut the dollar loose from its traditional link with gold.

The Commerce Department said seasonally adjusted imports in July totaled $3.796 billion, while exports amounted to $3.494 billion.

Dr. Harold C. Passer, assistant Commerce secretary for economic affairs, said the July deficit "further reinforces the need for the temporary import surcharge and for the other new economic programs announced by President Nixon on Aug. 15."

Passer noted the seven-month deficit contrasted sharply with the nearly $2 billion surplus registered during this same period a year ago.

The department offered no opinion on whether Nixon's new program to help foreign trade would improve the trade picture in August, the first month that the new program could.

August trade figures will be released in September.

Wallace To Take Action On Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace, moving toward another dramatic confrontation with Federal authorities, asked the Alabama Legislature today to prohibit the busing of pupils long distances if parents object.

Number Of Families On Welfare Dropping

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of families on welfare is dropping. The government is slightly confused and a little concerned.

Statistics released Wednesday show the number of persons receiving public assistance in May decreased 3 per cent from April, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said.

Most of the shrinkage was in families headed by unemployed fathers, a statistic government specialists cannot explain in view of continuing high unemployment. The drop was 34,000 persons, or 3.9 per cent, from April.

Smith Says He Is Through Trying To Crack President's Freeze Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said today he is through trying to crack President Nixon's freeze on the salaries of state employees and some school teachers.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin squelched Smith's defiance of the freeze Monday with an opinion holding the governor's action was not valid.

"We don't plan any further action as far as this is concerned," said Smith, who had indicated Monday he might not be through fighting.

The governor said public reaction to his stance began turning against him last week, but rose to 3 to 1 in favor after his appearance on "Face the Nation" Sunday.

Some capitol observers indicated skepticism about the 3-1 figure.

Asked if maybe that sort of response made him want to run for a third term, Smith replied: "I don't have any announcement to make."

The governor spoke with reporters after attending the swearing-in of Bill McLaughlin of Lubbock as a member of the State Finance Commission.

Smith indicated he thought he had found a loophole in the

Farm Products' Retail Cost Rose In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says the retail cost of selective farm products rose 9 percent in July. The over-all cost was 2.3 per cent more than a year ago.

The market-basket selection is used by the department as a means of charting food prices and the amount received by farmers.

The department said the largest increases were in eggs and fruits and vegetables, mainly apples, grapefruit, lettuce and tomatoes. Beef prices were down from June but still 4 per cent above the year earlier.

Pork prices rose but remained 11 per cent below a year ago.

Most of the hike was due to increasing cost in assembly, processing, transporting and distributing the food, the department said. The money paid farmers rose 7 per cent, but the department said farmers' share of the consumer dollar remains at 38 cents—the same as in June but 2 cents lower than a year ago.

Employment Act Creates New Jobs For Unemployed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the 150,000 unemployed helped by the Emergency Employment Act will have jobs by Christmas, a Labor Department official says.

William Mirengoff, director of the department's public employment program, reviewed the timetable on the new law Wednesday at a meeting for discussion of the act.

He said so far $42 million has been set aside for 241 program agents to create 11,000 jobs and that 600 unemployed have been hired so far.

The $120 million for initial funding will be obligated by Labor by, and the entire $1 billion appropriated by Congress will be funded by Nov. 1, he said.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 27-year-old divorcee with three children. I am going with a 22-year-old fellow who wants to marry me. He's a real sweet kid, just back from Viet Nam and he doesn't know what the score is.

I prefer older men, but I've dated several, and the minute I mention marriage, they run like rabbits. I've decided to marry this kid, Abby, and as soon as we're married I'd insist that he adopt my children so in case the marriage falls apart he will have to support all of us.

I realize this guy is too young for me, but I am only thinking of my work out. Do you think it will work out?

TEORGIA PEACH

DEAR PEACH: Probably not. It's a cold business proposition where by you are using marriage to trap a young man into supporting you and your children. He won't be young and immature all his life, and when he realizes that he has been used he will resent you and your children.

I know the life for a young divorcee with three children is no breeze, but your chances for a successful marriage would be far better if you started out with a more mature man who knew what the score was.

DEAR ABBY: Having just read the letter from "HURT", I decided to write my first Dear Abby letter.

The lady was hurt because her husband told her that her body was "repulsive" because she had stretch marks on her stomach from numerous pregnancies, and her breasts sagged from having nursed his babies.

I would like to tell Hart's husband that any changes a woman's body goes thru as a result of motherhood should be viewed with pride. My husband would have gladly tolerated stretch marks and sagging breasts if I had been able to bear his children. Unfortunately, at 25 I had a hysterectomy and never had the chance.

We have two lovely adopted children, so please don't get the notion that I am complaining. I simply had to get this off my chest. Sign me...

BEAUTIFUL BUT BARREN

DEAR BEAUTIFUL: Any animal can reproduce. True "motherhood" is in REARING children. And in my book, adopting a homeless child is more noble than bearing one.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to be petty about this, but it

Use new sew-on reflective tape on clothing children wear outdoors after dark. The tape is easy to stitch by hand or machine and is washable. Create decorative designs or racing stripes on jackets, sweatshirts and caps so that car headlights pick up the reflection. (Talo, Division of Textron, Meadville, Pa.)

Most of the personal grooming items women need to stay fresh and feminine throughout vacation trips come in handy travel sizes. These include mini sprays, mini powders and mini pads. Packing the minis saves valuable luggage space.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Crowded driving conditions in Great Britain have caused officials to give stringent driving tests. The World Almanac notes that one applicant for a driver's license, Miriam Hargrave, finally passed her driving test on her 40th try. However, the $720 she had earmarked for a car had gone into driving lessons, leaving her still afoot.

Your Horoscope
FRIDAY, AUG. 27
Your Birthday Friday: This year the results of your last several years of effort come to some application in your life. Your perspective alters as you see most issues in quite different terms. Whatever you have that is surplus or dispensable should be converted to cash or the most exchangeable form you can negotiate. Friday's natives are willing to work hard, interested in doing things correctly, sometimes unwilling to adopt original solutions to chronic problems.

ARIES (March 1-April 30): It's hard to keep energy, particularly on facts scheduled for organized publication later. Divert attention to less sensitive issues by juggling fun.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Neighbors competitors seem restless, perhaps in response to your own stirrings and what they've heard of your enterprises.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): People you care about thrive and prosper now—enjoy their triumph but claim no reward or gratitude.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): It's your turn to remain serene amid a storm of debate, vigorous opposition, perhaps rivalry. Stick with a common-sense, cooperative argument.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Chores do not generally attend to themselves—you (or somebody) must do them. Make full and effective use of Friday's chances to learn while doing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Family and close associates pose good questions. You don't have all the answers—have the courage to say so.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You have no plausible excuse for delays. Starting early and avoiding detours and short cuts may help.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Hold your peace on the affairs of relatives, younger people. You haven't heard all sides of the story.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Explain, apologize promptly where you seem expected to; start fresh, as most people are willing and ready to do.

APRIL (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Attend to routine, neglected or unfinished chores early and a steady clip so the interruptions of later hours do no great damage to your schedule.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Business activities involve social doings and a deal of pleasure. Enjoy the occasion quietly.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): This is the time of a new idea in your life. Not yet up to discussion stage, but for been looking and listening for facts, better perspective.

BEAUTY MASK
To help fight the effects of pollution in the face, try using a beauty mask. Done nightly this will help tighten pores and prevent clogging which will cause black heads.

SHIRTDRESS
The traditional shirtdress in rayon or polyester can be worn on any number of occasions. Dress it up or play it down. These dresses can be worn over pants or, if you like, put a skirt on over it.

'Kickoff Luncheon' Scheduled Saturday
By Beta Sigma Phi

The six local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi are getting ready for the annual Kickoff luncheon to be held Saturday at the Pampa Country Club.

This event marks the beginning of all the chapters' activities for the year. Each chapter has its part in the success of this luncheon. The duties change from year to year which gives each member an opportunity to learn and develop new ideas from their experiences.

This year's duties and those responsible for organizing them are: hostess; Mrs. Wilbur Walls, Phi Epsilon Beta; program, Mrs. Gary B. Clark, Rho Eta; decorations; Mrs. W. Dean Wilson, Upsilon; invitations, Mrs. James Lee, Xi Beta Chi; reservations, Mrs. C. L. Farmer, Xi Theta Iota; corsages, Mrs. Vaila Trusty, Preceptor Chi; and publicity, Mrs. Terry Joe Haralson, Rho Eta.

DISCUSS PROGRAM — Mrs. Ray Johnson, wig specialist, is shown discussing the latest in wig fashions with Mrs. Gary B. Clark, of the Rho Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Johnson and her husband, also a wig specialist, will present the program for the luncheon Saturday in the Pampa Country Club that will begin the fall activities for each of the Sorority chapters. Mrs. Clark is program chairman for the event. (Staff Photo)

Spider Mite Might Turn Plants Yellow

You might have mites if your plants are turning pale or yellow or are covered with minute yellow specks. Turn over suspicious-looking leaves to spot the spider mites' tell-tale webs. To see the little fellows themselves tap the leaves over a piece of white paper. You might need a hand lens. Spider mites are often red, but can range from yellow to green. As temperatures climb through the growing season, the mites multiply faster. In spring, a mite may take 5 or 6 weeks to mature, in mid summer less than a week. To smite the mite, use something even mightier, such as Isotox, a balanced insecticide blend.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Flashlight In Sock
Drawer Solves Problem

DEAR POLLY — A few months ago, I placed a small flashlight in my husband's sock drawer. No longer do I have to hear from him every morning about not being able to tell black, blue or brown socks from each other. It is great and he is happy.

FRAN

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—I would like some suggestions for using leftover carpet tiles for practical purposes or as a decoration. We had several left after carpeting our bathroom and would like to put them to some use.

SHERRY

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve probably concerns other readers who may have been as careless as I while dining out. Twice I sat on a dirty seat and my dress, as well as my evening, was ruined both times. Of course, we should be careful where we sit but I would like to ask restaurant managers to have the waitress check seats, as well as tables, for cleanliness.

MRS. T.M.S.

DEAR POLLY—When I do not want to touch my draperies while cleaning the house, I slip long plastic dress bags over them by coming up from the bottom and then fastening at the top with clothespins. I can wash and wax the wood-work and clean the windows without a soiled drape. I also want to thank Audrey for the nice bright aluminum pans I have after following her Pointer.

DORIS

RUFFLES AND BOWS
If you're tired of seeing the same dress you're wearing on every woman walking down the street, here's a shopping hint. Buy dresses with classic lines and simple styling so that personal touches may be added. A good basic dress will allow you to alter the bodice, add feminine ruffles and ribbons or a row of Victorian-like lace at the neck and cuffs without losing the basic good lines.

Easy Frosting

For an easy fudge frosting recipe, try this:

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1 can Eagle Brand milk
- 1 tsp. water
- Pinch of salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla.

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Gradually add Eagle Brand milk. Add water and salt; then cook until of spreading consistency. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Spread on cake. If you let it cool very long, it will become too thick to use.

Practice Of Portion Control Is Vital For Diet, Budget-Minded Housewife

AUSTIN—Who needs seafood? Everyone, according to Ann Holden, seafood marketing specialist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Seafood is an excellent source of protein, vitamins and minerals for everyone, regardless of the consumer's age.

According to Mrs. Holden, most young persons have few dietary problems and will choose fish on its merits as a tasty dish.

Older persons with cewing or digestive difficulties find seafood a wise choice because the relatively small amounts of connective tissue make the flesh tender.

These same advantages benefit children whose teeth aren't fully developed. And by buying fish fillets, others can eliminate the hazard of bones in the fish.

Fish is low in sodium, fat, cholesterol and calories. Anyone on a diet with restrictions can enjoy fish.

Fish is also an excellent food for those on a high protein diet.

The following is an excellent recipe for your family. For more fish recipes write: Seafood Recipes, John H. Reggan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

OVEN-FRIED FILLETS OR STEAKS

- 2 pounds fresh fish fillets or steaks
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups cereal crumbs or toasted dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted fat or oil

Cut fish into six portions. Combine milk and salt. Dip fish in milk and roll in crumbs. Place fish in a single layer, skin side down, on a well-greased baking pan, 15 x 10 x 1 inch. Pour fat over fish. Bake in an extremely hot oven, 500 deg., for 10 to 15 minutes or until fish are brown and flake easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

LOOKING THIN

Can't stick to that diet? Then wear clothes that make you look thinner. Take advantage of optical illusions in creating a slimmer line. Try A-line dresses, side slits, add trimming along long side seam and long sleeves. Always stay with the vertical lines. Styles with up and down lines always have a thinning effect.

FRECKLE FACE?

If the summer sun has left your face with a field of freckles, follow the advice of all those old wives. Rub fresh lemons over the freckled area. It's still one of the most effective methods of lightening freckles.

Jelly Meatdalls Get A-Plus In Nutrition

Here's help for mothers everywhere who are plagued with the annual problem of what to serve for that just-right lunch or dinner during back-to-school days. Since the weather soon will become crisper, sharpening young appetites that always are hearty, you'll welcome this A-Plus meal idea from Fisher Nut Co. home economists that's not only high in nutrition but sure to please.

Grape jelly meatballs, a variation of regular meatballs, are a cinch to make with this basic meatball recipe accented with toasted sunflower nuts and simmered in a sauce combining grape jelly and barbecue sauce. The meatballs provide a balanced meal in themselves, high in protein and other essential nutrients.

The meatballs can be served on rice or noodles, then sprinkled with additional sunflower seeds for color and a crunchy texture. In minutes you have a savory, satisfying meal that will give your youngsters the staying power they need for school and play.

EYEBROWING

Here are some hints for good eyebrow grooming. Cleanse area thoroughly before plucking. Brush the brow along its natural line. Pluck strays which are not in the natural line. Never pluck from above the brow, only below. Then fill in the sparse areas with an eyebrow brush, making sure that the color is as close to your own as possible.

Grape Jelly Meatballs are fine for family dinners as well. Add a tossed salad and a fresh fruit cup to carry out the nutritious menu plan. Make ahead or on the spot. Either way, it takes only minutes.

Then, get ready for the oh's and ah's when your family tastes this entree that is sure to please all palates with a delightful flavor difference.

GRAPE JELLY MEATBALLS'

(Serves 5)

- Meatballs:
- 1 lb. ground beef
  - 1 egg
  - 1/2 tsp. pepper
  - 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
  - 1 tsp. instant minced onion
  - 2 tsp. tomato paste
  - 3/4 cup dry bread crumbs
  - 1/4 cup salted, roasted sunflower nuts
  - Vegetable oil for frying
- Sauce:
- 1 bottle (1lb.) barbecue sauce
  - 1 jar (10 oz.) grape jelly
- Combine ingredients for meatballs; shape into 20 balls. Brown in hot oil in skillet. Drain off fat. Add barbecue sauce and jelly. Cover and simmer one hour. Serve with a platter of hotsteaming rice.

YOUNGSTERS LOVE 'EM

Meatballs Provide Energy

Savory back-to-school meatballs, especially created by home economists at Fisher Nut Company, provide youngsters on the go with that extra energy they need. The secret—a combination of beef and toasted sunflower nuts simmered in a blend of grape jelly and barbecue sauce. It's a dish that mom can make in minutes for school day luncheons.

"If it came to it, I'd rather have stalks and T-E Liquid Feed Supplement than wheat."

Says Carl Chandler of Tulia, Texas

Mr. Chandler has been feeding T-E Liquid Feed Supplement for three years. Last year he ran 80 mother cows and 70 calves on grain sorghum stalks, from October through February, with T-E Liquid Feed Supplement fed free choice.

With one animal per ten acres, and salt fed free choice, the average daily consumption of supplement was 1.3 lbs. per head.

Rate of gain for his calves was 2 lbs. per head per day.

When Mr. Chandler takes his cattle off stalks, he puts them on grass. And he keeps T-E Liquid Feed Supplement out year-round. Because, says Mr. Chandler, "The cows just do better and my calf crop is larger."

Gun Traps Scene Of Competition Near Borger

PHILLIPS (Sp)—The Adobe Walls Gun Club of Borger, will hold a merchandise shoot Sunday afternoon August 29 at 1:30 p.m. The traps are located just southeast of the Huber Carbon Black Plant. The may be reached by turning west at the cattle guard approximately 200 yards east of the railroad tracks going to the black plants west of Borger on the Bunavista Highway.

A sign at the cattle guard reading Adobe Walls Trap will direct interested people to the traps located about a quarter mile further down the winding country road.

Everyone is welcome to shoot or observe. There will be turkeys, hams, bacon, T-Bone steaks, pork chops, chickens and other prizes.

There are two traps so there should not be much of a wait to shoot. Straight shoots at 16 21, and 27 yards will be held along with doubles, 10-man eliminations, follow the leader shoots, quick shots, quail walks and a lady's shoot.

Juniors and novices may enter in their own divisions.

Robinson's Sacrifice Gives Orioles Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frank Robinson, one of baseball's premier sluggers, had not hit a sacrifice bunt since 1957—and the way Wilbur Wood's knuckler was flitting around, he didn't think he would try again for another 14 years.

But Robinson, who fouled his first bunt attempt against Wood Wednesday night, tried again much sooner than he expected and neatly executed the sacrifice, paving the way for the Baltimore Orioles' 6-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

"This bunt was the best contact I've made in three days," mused Robinson, the 11th leading home run hitter in baseball history with 496 homers.

The bunt also was Robinson's own decision. The rare sacrifice came in the sixth inning with the score 1-1 and followed walks to Don Buford and Paul Blair.

After Robinson's 14th career sacrifice moved the runners to second and third and Merv Rettenmund struck out, Brooks Robinson was walked in, tentatively, and Dave Johnson rapped a two-run double and Andy Etchebarren delivered a two-run single, putting the Orioles safely ahead 5-1. It was the 11th victory in the last 14 games for the runaway leaders in the American League's East Division.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit beat Minnesota 6-2 as Mickey Lolich gained his 21st victory; Kansas City topped Boston for the 11th straight time this season 7-5; Washington edged California 5-4; New York downed Oakland 4-2; and Milwaukee trimmed Cleveland 10-8.

In the National League, it was Pittsburgh 13, Atlanta 6; St. Louis 4, Houston 1; Cincinnati 9, Chicago 4; New York 5, San Francisco 1; Los Angeles 1, Montreal 1; and San Diego 7, Philadelphia 0.

Texas Hunting Guide Available To Sportsmen

AUSTIN—Bundles of the new "Texas Hunting Guide, 1971-72" are now being shipped and will be available to hunters by the end of August at Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offices and license agents across the state.

The accordion-fold publication is printed in black, blue and gold and contains not only summaries of game laws but also five Texas maps which show county-by-county seasons and bag limits for deer, turkey, javelina, squirrel and the special October archery season. A one-page sheet detailing the mourning and white-winged dove seasons is also being sent to the department's game management officers and those bathhouses, camps, marinas and sporting goods stores where hunting licenses are sold.

Two other supplements to the guide will be available by mid-October, added James U. Cross, executive director. They are guides to quail regulations, which have not yet been adopted by the Parks and Wildlife Commission pending field studies of the bird situation; migratory game bird seasons, and regulations for counties placed under commission regulator authority by acts of the 62nd Legislature. Receipt of the first hunting guides in Austin by mid-August was the earliest in the history of the present-day department which was reorganized in 1963.

Reggie Rucker Won't Start For Dallas Cowboys

DALLAS (AP)—Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys said Wednesday that Reggie Rucker will not start at wide receiver because his injured leg has not responded to treatment.

He said Margene Adkins will start Thursday night in the Astrodome against the Houston Oilers in Rucker's place.

Landry said Rucker probably will be out for two weeks, causing him to miss the game against the Baltimore Colts, Sept. 3.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Another former starter has quit the Texas Longhorn football team.

Carl White, 6-foot-4, 233-pound senior from McKinney, a two-year letterman, dropped off the squad Tuesday. He was listed as second-string right defensive tackle behind Ray Dowdy.

Giants Throttled By N. Y. Mets In 5 To 1 Defeat

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry Koosman won his first game in two months Wednesday throttling the San Francisco Giants on three hits and pitching the New York Mets to a 5-1 victory.

Koosman, 5-8, who had been troubled by arm and back problems and spent five weeks on the disabled list, baffled the Giants with an assortment of off-speed pitches and struck out eight, including Willie Mays three times and Bobby Bonds twice.

The left hander did not allow a hit until the fifth inning when rookie Dave Kingman home run.

By then though the Mets had racked loser Gaylord Perry, 13-10, for the early lead.

Best Pre-Season Start Since 1966 For Cowboys

The Dallas Cowboys, enjoying their best pre-season start since 1966 when they went unbeaten in five games, will be meeting the Houston Oilers who are holding a 2 win, 2 loss pre-season mark.

Last week was the first time the Cowboys had been pushed for a victory as they narrowly defeated the Cleveland Browns, 16-15.

This coming meeting with Houston will mark the fifth straight year the Cowboys have played a pre-season game at Houston, having won three of the previous four, losing last year 37-21.

Next year the meeting between Dallas and Houston will fall in the Salesmanship Club Charity game.

In the games between Dallas and Houston only one has been for keeps with the Cowboys winning it 52-10 last December. Kick off time is 8 p.m. in Astrodome.

On Dallas there is a battle between Roger Staubach and Craig Morton for starting quarterback duties. Chapter four in the continuing story of who will wind up as the no. 1 quarterback during the regular season will be tonight at 8 p.m.

After Morton and Staubach recorded easy victories as starters against Los Angeles and New Orleans in the first two games, Morton had to battle back last week in the 16-15 decision over Cleveland.

Craig Morton

And Morton did just that. Despite his fumble for a Cleveland touchdown, an interception and a mediocre passing night, Morton dove the club for two field goal tries to win the game.

Trailing, 15-12, Morton took the Cowboys from their 10 to the Cleveland 12 where Mike Clark missed from the 19 for a field goal with two minutes to play.

The Cowboys held, however, and Morton again drove the team from the Cowboys 42 to the Cleveland 19 where this time Clark hit on a 26-yarder for the victory.

"It's hard to pull a quarterback when it's their game," Landry said. "There just wasn't a situation where it was fair to substitute. Morton was competing to win the ball game and I just had to let him have the chance."

This is in line with Landry's theory going into the pre-season, that each of the two would have a fair shot. And this includes not only equal playing time, but equal opportunity in different situations. Staubach's chance could come this week as Cowboys scout Eralm Allen calls the Oilers a tough, improved club. And the Oilers whipped the Cowboys good in the pre-season last year, 37-21.

The Cowboys victory was paid for however. Lost for three to six weeks is Lance Alworth and from three to four weeks defensive back Mark Washington. That now makes three players, including Mike Ditka, injured the week earlier who might not be ready for the league season opener in Buffalo Sept. 19.

The Cowboys play at Baltimore next week in a nationally televised game, then finish up the pre-season against Kansas City in Dallas, Sept. 11.

Arnold Palmer Isn't Sure About Career

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Arnold Palmer said he wasn't sure whether he liked the format or not. Ray Floyd said he felt as if he'd just finished a tournament instead of facing five more rounds. Jack Nicklaus and South African Gary Player said so long.

Nicklaus and Player were the major upset victims Wednesday as a flock of upsets knocked out some of the top names in the first round of the $200,000 United States Professional Match Play golf championship.

In fact, the dynamic Palmer was the only one of the five top ranked players who survived in the head-to-head competition in which half the field is eliminated each day. Scoring is on the basis of total strokes over 18 holes.

"I'm not sure whether I like it or not," Palmer said after a 68-71 victory over Bruce Devlin of Australia. "I'd like to reserve opinion until I play a few more rounds."

"It's tougher, really, than regular match play. You have to have the same perseverance that you do in stroke play. You can't let up for a minute."

"But if you get behind, it gives you a chance to catch up, maybe make up a lot of strokes in a hurry."

Nicklaus and Player agreed, generally speaking, before packing their bags and calling it a season on the regular American tour.

Governor's Cup At Stake In The Astrodome

HOUSTON (AP)—With the Governor's Cup symbolic of the "Texas Championship" at stake, the Houston Oilers tangle in a cross-state rivalry with the Dallas Cowboys Thursday night.

Roger Staubach and Rookie Lynn Dickey are the starting quarterbacks for the Astrodome game that has been sold out for weeks.

It will be Dickey's first start. Staubach, in his third pro season, started in last year's exhibition against the Oilers only to see the veteran Charley Johnson play a sparkling game for a 37-21 victory that brought the cup to Houston the first time.

Dallas holds a 3-1 edge in the early season series and got revenge for last year's defeat by embarrassing the Oilers, 52-10, in the final regular season game before moving on to the Super Bowl.

The fifth meeting between the two Texas teams starts a weekend NFL exhibition schedule that also includes nine games Saturday and two on Sunday.

Over 2,000 Texans Die In Traffic Accidents

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said today that if the estimated 50 traffic deaths in Texas on Labor Day cannot be prevented then alternatives such as calling out the National Guard must be considered.

Smith spoke to the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee called to Austin to hear reports on a recent series of drunk driving tests and to discuss traffic safety plans for the Labor Day weekend.

The governor said that 1971 traffic deaths, as of last Friday, total 2,109 in Texas, 84 more than a year ago.

"Texas citizens are being killed at the rate of three, four, five and six at a time largely in head-on collisions on state and rural highways," he said. "Fatal accidents on interstate highways, supposedly the best engineering answer to safe driving, are up 24 per cent. . . . Most of these crashes on interstates are one-car accidents caused by excessive speed or alcohol."

Smith said it had been suggested that serious consideration be given to declaring a state of emergency on three-day holidays and calling out the National Guard to supplement activities of the state highway patrol and local police.

"This has never been done in Texas," Smith said. "I hope it will never be necessary. It is predicted that more than 50 persons will die in Texas traffic crashes over the Labor Day weekend. If we can't do better than that we will have to give serious consideration to alternatives such as this in the future." Smith urged "every police

Does Texas Have The Best Chance To Revolutionize Movie Industry?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - It was night and Warren Skaaren, 25, state employee, was working overtime. At the movies. He sat through part of "P'aza Suite," then passed two hours at "What's The Matter With Helen?" an ordinary horror flick. Finally he surprised himself by thoroughly enjoying "Lawman," a western with Burt Lancaster.

It was more a busman's holiday than work because Skaaren, former student politician, playwright, public speaker, television interviewer, folksinger, Eagle Scout, campus reporter, real estate, life insurance and clothing salesman, truck driver, furniture worker, songwriter, and art lover, is the first executive director of the new Texas Film Commission (TFC).

"The job is ripe with fantasy," said Skaaren, whose 14-page memorandum convinced Gov. Preston Smith that Skaaren could develop the film industry in Texas, as the governor wanted.

"He tells me," Smith said, "that we have the best chance of any state in the Union to revolutionize the movie industry."

Smith, a former theater owner in Lubbock, apparently sees dollar signs as he talks about revolution. Neighboring New Mexico, he made $35 million off the movie industry in just over a year. Smith said, "I think that should have been Texas' money!"

"I am completely confident of my qualifications to deliver the goods," said Skaaren. But, he admits, he needs the "Dream Machine," the computer used by the Texas Industrial Commission, which could tell a movie producer within seconds if Texas has the location he needs for his movie.

tion' filming she can be very secure for she possesses almost every possible type of location. She has mountains, great deserts, beautiful seashores, bustling cities, rivers, forests, quaint old towns, Indians, jungles, Swamps, and beautiful people of every race, creed and color," Skaaren said.

He said Del Rio-Ft. Clark area of Texas took in $1.5 million during the filming of "Bandalero," and Columbus gained $100,000 in less than two months from "The Windsplitter."

Another $200,000 was pumped into the economy of Claude, population 750, when "Hud" with Paul Newman was filmed there. "It was the biggest boom since the cattle drives," said an oldtimer.

Similar stories could be told at Marfa, where the James Dean - Rock Hudson - Elizabeth Taylor "Giant" was filmed in 1955; or at Archer City, where "The Last Show" was made; at Paris—"Home From The Hill"; Rio Grande City—"Viva Zapata"; Bracketville—"Two Rode Together"; "The Alamo," and "The Las COMMMAND"; Dall—"State Fair" and "Bonnie and Clyde"; wwarton—"Baby, The Rain Must Fall"; Houston—"Brewster McCloud" and "Hellfighters"; and San Antonio—"Viva Max," a 1969 production which was the first in that city since "I Wanted Wings" with Ray Milland and Veronica Lake in 1940.

But the future rests, for the time being, with Skaaren—a native of Rochester, Minn., who became student body president at Rice University in Houston and the backing of Texas tax dollars.

Skaaren was so strapped for money for months that he occasionally had to wine and dine producers out of his own pocket. Beginning Sept. 1, however, he has a one-year $100,000 budget and the support of a 41-member film commission appointed by the governor.

The commission include Academy Award-winning actress Dorothy Malone of Dallas; and Paul Baker, director of the Dallas Theatre Center, plus bankers, legislators and filmmakers.

All were enthusiastic about moviemaking in Texas. They will meet for the first time Thursday (Sept. 2).

Skaaren said 30 persons applied for jobs as soon as they read of Texas' bid for a share of the movie industry. But it has been a one-man show, Skaaren's show, because of the lack of funds, and he seems to have mastered a cram course in the cinema.

He's been to Hollywood twice, for 2 1/2 weeks, to talk to producers and dine with movie star George Peppard. Skaaren was told the film industry is not what it once was. One star, he heard, demanded and received a $35,000 Rolls Royce on an overseas location, and when the filming was completed, gave the car to his chauffeur.

The industry no longer is free with its money. The unemployment rate in Hollywood is "astronomical," Skaaren said, and producers "are ready to go somewhere else and start over and correct the mistakes" that have been made for years. Texas, says Skaaren, is the place.

There is technical know-how—Dallas already is third in the nation in commercial film footage—and a genuine interest in movies. He mentioned the superb cooperation he received recently when he visited Anderson, population 300, near Navasota, for a possible filming site contracted to sequence shot in New York City where pedestrians refused to wait on the curb until the brief scene was over.

Movie star-producer Guy Madison, returning to this country after 10 years and 35 films in Italy, said he is looking at the Dallas-Fort Worth area as a production site because "it has everything, including money."

Martin Jurow, former consultant on video cassettes for 20th Century Fox, resigned recently to form his own video-film company with headquarters in Dallas and Hollywood. He immediately announced four features, including "Sunday Morning" with Karl Malden, to be filmed in Texas.

Jurow—Producer of "Breakfast At Tiffany's"—is a "real breakthrough," said Skaaren. Jurow "knows which way the wind is blowing and how to make it a warm Texas wind." Gov. Smith told the National Association of Theatre Owners of Texas convention.

Skaaren said Tom Hall, who wrote the best-selling song, "Harper Valley PTA," already has done a song for "Sunday Morning." Word Music Co. of Waco will handle the musical score and Jamieson Film Co. of Dallas the processing.

Filming is to start in 1972 and will include on-location shots at San Antonio. Several University of Texas students are to have parts. Skaaren hopes eventually to establish a film library in Austin and 24-hour telephone service for the convenience of producers.

He has received excellent cooperation from the industrial commission and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in locating movie sites. A contest was held in Bell County this summer to draw attention to the best potential movie site locations there. The Grove, for example, was rated the best western town, and the best general stores were found in Westphalia.

"There's something so personal about living in Texas," young actor John David Carson told Amusements Editor John Bustina of the Austin American-Statesman. "You know you're a person there. It's somehow easier to be a human being. I don't know. I guess I just like the unhurried way of life down there."

Carson, a graduate of Abilene's Central Catholic High School who appeared recently in "Pretty Maids All In A Row" with Rock Hudson and Angie Dickinson, added, "I kind of wish the movie industry could be re-located in Abilene, Texas."

You might get some arguments there. From other Texans of course.

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Julie Nixon Eisenhower says she'd like to be treated just like any other first-year teacher.

The President's daughter showed up for her first day on the job at Atlantic Beach Elementary School Monday, attending a planning session for teachers.

She charmed the principal and fellow teachers and laughed and joked at a teachers' meeting, but she refused interviews and posed for only one picture. She has a great idea, she'd like to be treated like any other first-year teacher. But there's no getting around that she is the President's daughter," said principal Ray Bailey.

Mrs. Eisenhower will teach the third grade. Her husband, Ens. David Eisenhower, is stationed at the nearby Mayport Naval Station.

The Lesson In Gatorade

Private property is not the big argument between socialism and free enterprise. The more precise question is who can own it and what kind.

For example, the U.S. government is suing the makers of Gatorade, a soft drink. Plaintiff claims profits made from the sale belong to the government. The allegation is that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare gave a grant to a Florida professor. His assignment was to develop a formula for a beverage to replace body fluids that are lost under heavy exercise. He associated himself with other professors; they received other grants, and after a time they did come up with a beverage.

Eventually, the same group formed a company and manufactured a beverage which they sold. Now the government says: We own the formula; the profit you made is ours.

The point here is not whether the government's claim is right or wrong. The professors might have cooked up some other drink different from the one outlined in the grant, or the grant might have been an outright, no-strings-attached gift. The point of certainty is that the government asserts a right of ownership.

Now, the question is, who may exercise the right of ownership—governments only or individuals?

Here the government has to answer that individuals may also own. For if Gatorade has any value, somebody has to drink it. When the individual ingests a bottle of Gatorade, the-if not before—it becomes his. Communists and socialists admit that much, for they concede that any system must have consumers.

In effect, therefore, the Communists and socialists would say it's all right for you to possess Gatorade, but it would not be right for you to own the bottling works. You can have the product, but not the productive process, according to Marxist theory. You can own the nut, but not the tree. You can own the pig, but not the pigpen.

Of course, time has proved that the Marxists have to violate their own theory or starve to death. The best food production in the Soviet Union takes place on the tiny bit of land that is left in private hands.

It does seem highly arbitrary for a group of men to say you can own one type of property, but not another type, especially when it turns out that the property you can't own turns out to benefit chiefly the class of persons who say you can't own it.

No Choice For Looters

Everywhere you turn, private groups, public groups, schools, firms, charities and other collections of individuals are finding some legal way to get their hands into the public till. It is as if someone had decided to wreck the country by constant looting under the color of law.

When non-work prospers, the honest individual is put to the test. He has the satisfaction of knowing that he earned what he consumes.

Question Box

QUESTION — How can Freeder "papers substantiate statement that the law is universal as law of gravity? Man can't very well violate the law of gravitation, but he does constantly violate the law against stealing. So how can you compare them and say that "Thou Shalt Not Steal" is a natural law as is the law of gravitation?

ANSWER: There are laws of nature which operate in our physical environment such as the law of gravity, the laws of planetary motion, the laws of thermodynamics, etc. These laws of nature, as we call them, are simply statements by men of what they have discovered of how things work in the physical universe. They show cause and effect. If two bodies of a certain mass exist within a certain distance of each other, they will attract each other in a certain way. If the temperature of a gas is raised, the gas will expand at a certain rate. Man cannot change these cause-and-effect relationships, but he can learn what they are and how to use them to his advantage, as our scientific technology constantly strives to find new and better ways to do.

Physical objects do not have any choice in how the laws are used. Man does. By his very nature, man chooses. But each time man chooses to act in a certain way, there will be effects from his act. The effects of his acts will either be to man's advantage or his disadvantage, with the same immutability of the cause-and-effect relationship which exists for physical objects. And because there is this immutable cause-and-effect relationship between man's acts and their consequences, man can discover how this acts, and if he can precisely identify it, he can call it a moral law in the same way that he can call the cause and effects of gravity a natural law.

Any act of coercion, and by definition stealing is an act of coercion, by one man against another will have effects to the disadvantage of at least that one man and, when understood, it can be seen that those disadvantageous effects do, in the long term, in greater or lesser degree spread to all men.

This cause-and-effect relationship cannot be canceled by man any more than he can throw himself off a cliff and not fall. It is a moral, natural law, just as the known, stated effect of gravity is a natural physical law. Man can, of course, attempt to defy natural physical laws. And he can attempt to defy moral law. But in neither case can he escape the consequences of the attempt. As man's knowledge and understanding of natural physical law has increased he has been able to live more and more in harmony with those laws and use them to this immense benefit. When he has equal knowledge and understanding of natural moral law, and is able to live in harmony with it, he will be able to eliminate war and crime and injustice, and he will prosper materially and spiritually to a greater degree than he has ever before been able to do.

GOOD ANSWER

Sir Winston Churchill was once asked what qualifications he thought most essential for a politician. Without hesitation he answered: "It's the ability to foretell what will happen tomorrow, next month and next year—and to explain afterward why it did not happen."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

A krill is a two-inch-long shrimplike crustacean abundant in Antarctic waters. The World Almanac says that scientists believe the krill could become an important source of animal protein for millions of people. It is estimated that a yearly harvest of 70 million tons of krill would yield 20 grams of animal protein per day for a third of the world's population. Copyright © 1971, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Read the challenging remarks of Dr. Bletz regarding tension and worry. But never decay worry! It is the boon of mankind which has led to most of our inventions and higher standard of living. But don't imitate the lady on the Chicago bus, as described below. Learn to detach the locomotive from your "worry train" on Sunday!

CASE R-546: Dr. A.L. Bletz published a challenging little March essay in "Life and Health."

It's striking heading ran as follows: What's So Bad About Tension? And he expounded the point that tension gets us ready for action. It relieves boredom and prods us toward future attainment.

Contrary to popular opinion," Dr. Bletz wrote, "business executives who give and thrive on tension do NOT have a higher mortality rate than men in other jobs."

"They have a LOWER rate and are less likely to suffer from heart disease and high blood pressure." There may be some doubt about those last statements, but at least we know that worry is the basis for productivity. Some years ago I wrote a popular book called "How to Cash-In on our Worries."

The editor of the Chicago Daily News was so taken with it, that he digested my book into daily newspaper installments for a week. And I stressed the fact that worry is not something to abhor.

"Dr. Crane," many patients had said, "I just wish I were free from all worry!" But that is unwise, for worry is the sign of an intelligent person who is vigorously trying to solve a critical problem. It may be called trial-and-error thinking while facing a grave emotional test.

For example, it would be silly for parents not to worry about a daughter who was out on a date with a reckless auto driver who habitually drank too much liquor. The trouble with those folks who abhor worry is the fact they haven't analyzed worry correctly. What they oppose is usually the failure to lay one's worry down after the quiting whistle has blown. One day I boarded a Chicago bus and at the next stop, a woman got on carrying a bulging suitcase. Since the bus was crowded, she had no seat. But she still clutched the suitcase, holding it as she had while walking along the street. "Lady," blurted out the bus driver, "you can now set your suitcase down till time to get off."

Many business executives fail to heed that shrewd advice. So they remain desirably keyed up at the office as they try to solve crucial problems. But then they figuratively "carry the suitcase" all the way home and until bedtime.

God created the custom of having us rest on the Sabbath, as a means of letting us detach our brains from our workaday tensions!

In my own case, I certainly labor under deadline tensions of magazines and my two daily syndicate newspaper columns, plus out-of-town speeches, etc. But I lay them down at night! And I never work on Sunday! Indeed, I never even studied on Sunday all throughout college, even with a crucial final exam due on Monday morning!

And in this fashion, I can remain keyed up, but still not race my heart unduly. So send for my booklet "How to Control Our Emotions," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. It can lengthen your lifespan.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

H. L. Hunt Writes

Fidel Castro's faltering communist government and economy in Cuba has been costing his Soviet masters a large piece of change in recent years, billions of rubles which the Russians can't afford to spend. But they can't afford to allow Castro's Red regime to go under, either.

When a communist government is in trouble in the world we can expect Sen. J.W. Fulbright to offer proposals for U.S. Trade and aid to bail them out. Fulbright can be depended upon to object to selling modern arms to any anti-communist nation or to giving obsolete weapons or economic loans to governments resisting Red aggression. But Fulbright is up to his usual tricks now, scheduling hearings for his Senate Foreign Relations Committee aimed toward resuming full-scale trade with Castro, along with diplomatic relations.

There is little that the U.S. would want to buy from Castro and nothing he could buy from us and pay for, so Fulbright's plan would have to lead to extending credit to Castro. This would bail out the Soviet Russians from laying out billions of rubles during the years to come, if the Congress and the people stand still for Fulbright's plan. For once, the U.S. should allow a communist government to wallow in its own mess and sink under its own tyrant instead of bailing it out. That is the best way to help the enslaved Cubans, since we have turned our backs on them because of Khrushchev's threat.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Nixon A Gutsy Quarterback

By PAUL HARVEY
As quarterback, President Nixon is inclined to test the center of the opposition line.

He tried to defeat inflation that way for three punishing downs, was losing yardage. On fourth down he was around left end.

President Nixon is a gutsy quarterback, inclined to gamble on fourth down. On his way out of Vietnam, President Nixon gambled on an end-around through Cambodia and was thrown for a loss.

One Saturday morning in June he looked at the rain clouds over Washington, gambled on a rose garden wedding and won.

In July, on his own one-foot line and against an incredible enemy rush, he risked a long forward pass to Kissinger in Peking, advancing the ball half way down the field.

Then, in August, President Nixon faced almost certain defeat on the inflation front.

He was bruised and battered and losing yardage on every play. A hand-off to Congress was tempting. But instead, personally the President carried the ball around left end for what now looks like a turnaround in the final quarter of the game.

However these may appear to be crowd-pleasing grandstand plays, they are neither impulsive nor contrived. Each, for better or worse, results from consultative deliberation and evaluation of the risks involved.

When Mr. Nixon as presidential candidate in 1960 was confronted with serious contradictions of some 1960 quotations, he replied, "I could not recommend myself as a leader if I'd learned nothing in eight years."

When Secretary John Connally was asked about the recent reversal of the President's economic plan, he said, "You'd have to do it for a President if he were incapable of changing his mind."

Further, the President flexibility in adjusting changing circumstances makes us a moving target for predatory nations.

Critics who believed Mr. Nixon to be frozen in an unrealistic, outdated, anti-Communist posture, since the China overture, know better.

Domestically, congressional Democrats who thought the had cornered the supply economic stimulant since the Aug 15 boldness know better.

As I say, President Nixon is a gutsy quarterback, inclined to gamble on fourth down. This kind is likely to be booed a vociferously as he is cheered but when the plays are all added up, if he can show an impressive total of yard gained, he is likely to be re-signed for another season.

Crises Dictated Nixon Move

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—What is most interesting is the extreme caution with which President Nixon approached his radical economic program.

He has known in his own mind, at least since February, intimates say, that something drastic had to be done. In the main he has known for months some of the major actions he must take.

And he has known for weeks most of what he must do.

During all this year he has held endless conferences and interminable talks with Treasury Secretary Connally, Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns, Council of Economic advisers chief Paul McCracken and other aides.

In these months of discussion, every possibility was gone over repeatedly. Every side effect was studied endlessly.

Even then, when his mind was made up, Nixon waited cautiously for the right time. That time would be when a series of crises would make it clear to everyone that he had no alternative but strong action.

His time came only after international speculation had reached dangerous limits and the trade balance became so serious that gold stocks dropped to an intolerable low.

Labor had to believe that Nixon had no other alternative, or it would not stand still for a wage moratorium. Business had to be convinced by the seriousness of the crisis, or it would not hold for price controls. Consumers had to be shocked into confidence the President meant business. And that confidence had to be great enough so that they would take savings out of banks and buy. Bankers had to be shocked into lowering interest rates and industry jolted into a confidence strong enough to put sizable new sums into expansion.

And Europeans, Japanese and other major trading countries had to be so shocked by the U.S. situation that they would negotiate seriously to eliminate barriers erected over the year against American exports.

In the end, therefore, Nixon came to believe he could create a double-barreled shock by coordinating his timing with a crisis so serious it was apparent to everyone and by offering a solution so radical it was itself a shocker.

When he finally made up his mind to go, Nixon worked all night. There were sessions in the evening at Camp David with his advisers. The group broke for supper then back at it again at such a pace that McCracken ran out of yellow paper and began writing on the back of envelopes. At 11 o'clock Nixon dozed himself and wrote through the night until 4:30 in the morning.

The five people who have had the most books written about them are, in order: Jesus Shakespeare, Lincoln Washington and Napoleon.

"The will of the people is the only legitimate foundation of any government, and to protect its free expression should be our first object."

—Thomas Jefferson

Economists Criticize Nixon's Freeze Plan

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the problems involved in the new economic plan are gradually emerging.

The most serious threat to the wage price stabilization aspect of the program is the opposition of labor leaders, who feel that interest rates, profits, executive expense accounts and dividends also should be frozen.

And labor appears to have the company of some economists in claiming the freeze is unfair.

Dr. Walter Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, and now a University of Minnesota professor, maintains that the freeze favors business over the consumer.

And a group of 16 economists, some former advisers to President Nixon, criticized the controls as "inequitable, wasteful, inefficient and destructive of personal freedom." They asked the President to rescind them.

The big question about the opposition of labor leaders is whether they have the rank and file behind them. Surveys showed that most blue collar workers approved of the Nixon program, but that was before the labor leaders' opposition campaign started rolling.

Another potential problem involves mortgage rates, on which there is no freeze except that imposed by state usury laws. Conventional mortgages on new homes have either stabilized or crept up since they dropped to 7.5 per cent in June from 8.5 a year earlier.

Recognizing the danger, the government has now lowered to 7 from 7.5 the percentage of assets that savings and loan associations must keep in reserve.

This has the effect of releasing 800 million more for mortgages, but there is considerable question about whether or not this is sufficient to achieve stability. What's good in one situation is bad in another.

That is, the sum of actions taken by President Nixon is expected to boost consumer confidence. If this takes place, consumers can be expected to spend more on cars, appliances, furniture and other goods.

Another developing situation concerns the nature of actions to be taken when the 90-day freeze ends.

Persia To Fete 2,500th Birthday With Three-Day Party In Desert

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS (NEA) — A birthday party extraordinary, celebrating the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of the Persian empire, will be given Oct. 15 by the Shah and Queen Farah of Iran.

They have invited 50 emperors, presidents, royal princes and other VIPs to what is being called the modern but every bit as fabulous — edition of the historic Field of the Cloth of Gold staged in 1520 by King Henry VII for his peace talks with King Francis I of France.

The cost of this — the most gigantic party of all times — is difficult to estimate. But it is said that the Shah has declared that he would devote an equivalent amount to social welfare organizations and the building of new schools.

By the time of the Oct. 15 celebrations, the Iranian people have been promised 2,500 more schools and 2,500 villages will have electricity.

The Iranian birthday party will be an all French production. Exquisite linens, crystalware, porcelain and the spacious tents copied from those of the nomads were especially created in France. Only the carpets, of course, will be Persian.

The presiding genius of this unprecedented undertaking is Pierre Delbee, director-general of the firm of Jansen, internationally known decorators.

"It really meant creating a town of 5,000 in the desert," he said. "We set to work two years ago and dreamed up this 'tented city,' which the Shah proved when the blueprints were submitted to him."

The Iranian "Field of the Cloth of Gold" will look like something out of the Thousand and One Nights. It is being erected at the foot of the ruins of the Temple of Darius, built in 500 B.C. Against a majestic backdrop of mountains, 50 octagonal tents (as large as two-bedroom apartment with two marble bathrooms and a maid's room) set out in star formation with a large fountain in the center, will house 50 heads of state.

There is also an oblong dining tent seating 500 guests, a circular grand reception hall and club tent (complete with gaming tables,) all air-conditioned, of course. Five grandstands will take care of sports events, and there will also be a heliport, an auto route of 80 miles and parking grounds.

The private apartments of the Shah will be strictly Persian in character while the Queen's quarters are modern, combining glass and steel.

Monsieur Delbee said that some 20 miles of silks, damask and brocades and two miles of braiding have gone into furnishing the tents. Some of the sand-colored tents were subjected to typhoon conditions at Le Bourget Airport in Paris to insure their wind resistance.

The Shah called on Maxim's in Paris to cater to his guests. Thirty master chefs and 150 maitres d's will be on hand during the festivities.

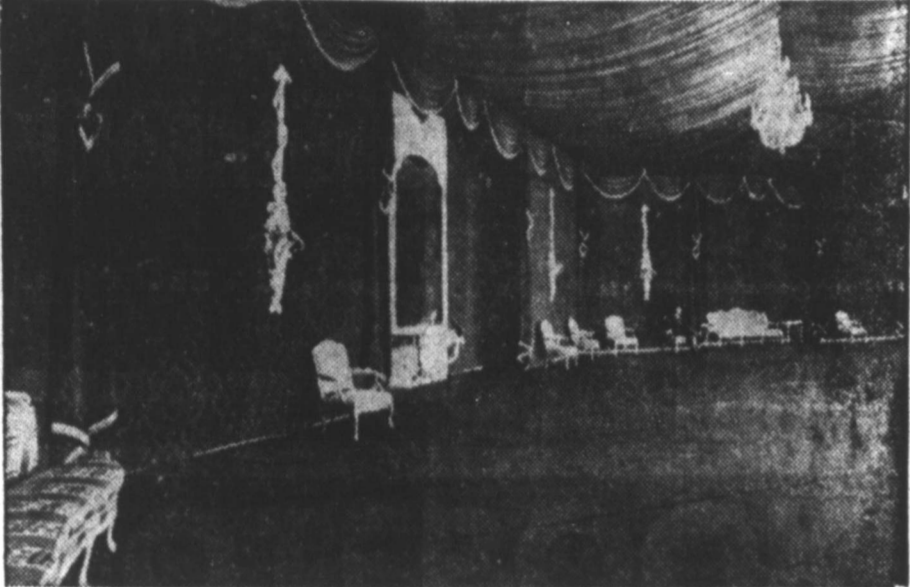

Louis Vaudable, Maxim's director, has organized six menus and two official dinners. Most of the food, fruit and wines, including 5,000 bottles of champagne, will be flown in daily from France.

The entire area — some 160 acres — will be landscaped and planted with trees, shrubs, flowers and fountains, the water coming from numerous underground wells dotting the area.

After the three days of festivities are over, the facilities of this 1971 extravaganza will be taken over by a French tourist enterprise. Iranian of-

WHILE IRANIAN NOMADS, above, live in tents not unlike those of their ancestors, Persepolis, a desert tent city big enough for 5,000 people and including rooms like the grand salon below is being built to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of the Persian Empire.

Missing Girl Found Dead; Ex-Convict Faces Charges

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — An ex-convict led officers Wednesday to an embankment and the battered body of 4-year-old Mickey Marie Kearney.

The girl had been missing from her home in this city between Dallas and Fort Worth since before daybreak Tuesday. A massive search was under way until Edward Chandler Hughes, 25, an ex-convict, led them to the body.

Hughes earlier was charged with kidnaping the little girl, and officers prepared murder charges after the body was found.

The body lay at the bottom of an embankment near the Dallas - Fort Worth Turnpike in Grand Prairie.

Officers said it appeared the girl had been beaten to death with an automobile lug wrench. She was partly unclothed.

Hughes, accompanied by a lawyer, surrendered to officers at police headquarters about 1 a.m. Wednesday. He already had been charged with kidnaping.

Justice of the Peace Ann King ordered him held without bond. Detectives said Hughes' car was found in Arcadia Park, a community west of Dallas, Tuesday night. The officers said the automobile appeared to have fresh bloodstains on its upholstery.

Grand Prairie authorities said Hughes was free on $500 bond after an indecent exposure accusation last week involving a 5-year-old girl.

The search for the victim began before daybreak Tuesday when her mother, Mrs. Shirley Kearney, returned home from her job as an all-night cook at a restaurant and found the tot missing.

Officers began hunting specifically for Hughes after a child living near the Kearney home described a man seen leaving with the little girl.

Mrs. Kearney is the mother of four other youngsters. Mickey Marie and another child resided with her. The other two live with her husband.

Five Texans Killed In Car Collision

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — At least five persons were killed and two others were injured Wednesday in a collision between a car and a cattle truck.

The accident occurred on Texas 114 about 20 miles southwest of this North Central Texas city.

A spokesman at Flow Memorial Hospital in Denton said seven persons were brought to the hospital from the collision. Five were dead on arrival and were believed to be three children and their parents.

They were not identified immediately.

The hospital said a father and his 12-year-old son were being treated for injuries. They were in the cattle truck which crashed with the car.

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The "thing" that was bothering Fulton Stephens' livestock and poultry near Sumner in Lamar County turned out to be a b2-pound javelina.

The animals are strangers in these parts. But Stephens proved his point by killing the javelina when it invaded his barnyard. Wildlife officials said it must have been transported here then escaped from its owners.
