40 FFA and 4-H members participate in show

Many Lockney FFA and 4-H members saw the efforts of many months of hard work they have spent rewarded at the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce sponsored Lockney Junior Livestock Show Saturday. The young people have tended, cared for and fed their animals, preparing them for the local and county shows. The first rewards of this hard work came in winning at the local show.

About 40 FFA and 4-H members exhibited 102 animals at this year's local show. This showed a decline from the past two years, but still had a large number of high quality animals shown.

The local show kicked off this year with the junior showmanship contest which gives youngsters who are upcoming members of the 4-H and FFA programs a chance to get hands-on experience in showing animals. Showing this year were Robert Delgado, the only one to show a barrow; Riley King and Kay Lynn Lusk, both showing lambs; and Mark Todd Terrell, exhibiting the only steer in the contest. Each of these young people received blue ribbons for their efforts.

49 barrows were shown this year in the swine division. Taking top honors in the barrow show were Clay Adrian, who showed the Grand Champion Barrow. It was a cross breed. The Reserve Grand Champion Barrow was shown by Michelle Delgado, a Hampshire. The Barrow Showmanship winner was Wymon Rexrode. Each of these young people won belt buckles as prizes for their efforts.

Other winners in the barrow division were Heath Rexrode and Jerod Glasson who showed the Breed and Reserve Breed Durocs, respectively. Michelle Delgado showed the Breed Champion Hampshire; Rusty Carthel had the Reserve Breed Hampshire. The Breed and Reserve Breed Spotted Poland Chinas were shown by Boyd Jackson and Rusty Carthel, respectively. The Other Breeds Breed Champion and Reserve Champion were shown by Clay Adrian and Rusty Carthel.

Belt buckles for the barrow winners were donated by Warren Mathis for Grand Champion, the Lockney Coop for the Reserve Champion, and Herbert Dudley for the showmanship winner.

The Grand Champion lamb of the Lockney show was exhibited by Gwen Lane this year. It was a heavyweight Suffolk. Reserve Grand Champion lamb this year, also a Suffolk, was shown by Wesley Teeter. The lamb showmanship was awarded to Erik Anderson. The three winners were also given belt buckles, jointly donated by Kenneth Holt, Clar Schacht, Eddie Teeter, Buster Terrell, Warren Mitchell, Kenneth Brosch, and Carroll Anderson.

Other top winners of the lamb division included Matt Mitchell, who exhibited both the Breed and Reserve Breed Champion Finewool lambs. The Breed Champion Finewool Cross was shown by Erik Anderson; the Reserve Breed Finewool Cross was shown by Lisa Terrell. Erik Anderson also showed the Breed Champion Hamp; the Reserve Breed was shown by Matt Mitchell. The Breed and Reserve Breed Champion Suffolks were shown by Gwen Lane and Wesley Teeter, respectively.

In the steer division there were only 10 animals shown, but they were all very nice animals, and the exhibitors did a good job with them.

The Grand Champion steer, a cross breed, was shown by Matt Williams, and the Reserve Grand Champion, also a cross breed, was shown by Clint Bigham. Both of these animals were also the Breed and Reserve Breed Champion Crosses, respectively. Winning the steer showmanship this year was Billy Bob Sherman. The belt buckles for the steer winners were donated by Jerry Williams, the Lockney Coop, and Larry Golden, for the Grand Champion, the Reserve Grand Champion, and the showmanship winner, respectively.

Other winners in the steer division included Troy Bigham, who showed the Breed Champion Angus, and Colt Golden, who showed the Reserve Breed Angus. Breed Champion and Reserve Breed Champion Herefords were shown by Billy Bob Sherman and Lisa Terrell, respectively.

In addition to the belt buckles received by the top winners in the Lockney show, each exhibitor received $2.00 each from funds donated by Warren Mathis and Kelton Shaw. The Lockney Chamber of Commerce provided the prize money for those who placed in the top five places in each class. Prize money included $5 for first place, $4 for second place, $3 for third place, $2 for fourth place, and $1 for fifth place.

County Show

The county stock show will be the culmination of the hard work that the young people have put into their animals. The show will be Saturday in Floydada at the county show barn.

The animals being shown in the county show must be in the barn by 6:00 p.m. on Friday, February 15. The weighing in of barrows and lambs will be conducted Friday evening at 6:00 and weighing in of the steers will be done at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, February 16.

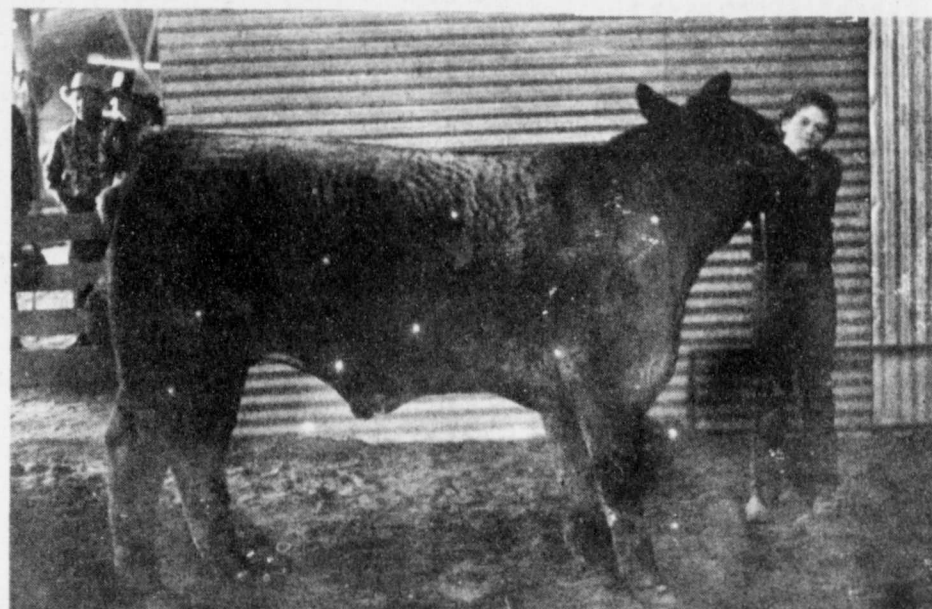

The county show will begin at 9:00 a.m. Saturday with the lamb show. The swine show will begin at 2:00 p.m. that afternoon, and the steer show will be on Sunday, February 17, beginning at 3:00 p.m.

The judging contest is set for Monday morning at 7:45 a.m. and the annual buyers' luncheon will follow beginning at 11:30 a.m.; the sale is scheduled to start at 1:00 p.m. Kenneth Gregg of Plainview will be serving as the auctioneer for this year's sale.

Banquet

Capping off the annual stock show will be the Floyd County Farm Bureau sponsored banquet to be held in the Lockney Elementary School cafeteria. The banquet is open to all exhibitors and their families. This year's meal will consist of a full course Mexican dinner.

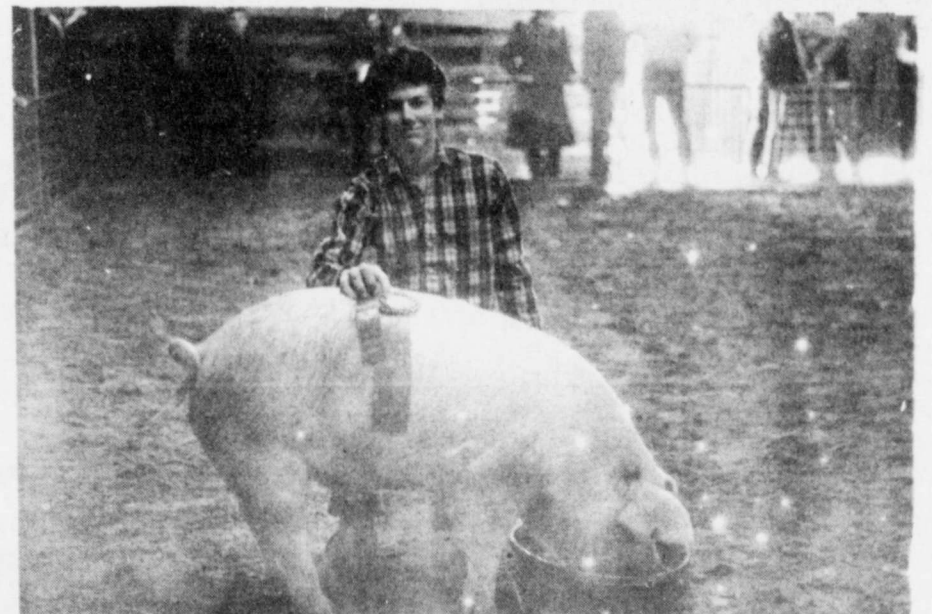

The top exhibitors will receive trophies at the banquet for exhibiting animals in the stock show, including herdsman trophies, sweepstakes trophy, judging trophies, and trophies for the top animals in each of the divisions.

MATT WILLIAMS — Grand Champion Steer

GWEN LANE — Grand Champion Lamb

CLAY ADRIAN — Grand Champion Barrow

Hallmark named DAR Good Citizen

Brent Hallmark has won the Lockney High School Good Citizen award. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Hallmark. His high school awards have included marshall for the 1983 LHS graduating class, Best Attitude Award as a junior in both football and basketball, Class "Most Attractive," and Class "Most Studious." He participated in the district winning UIL one-act play and the International Rotary Leadership Conference held in New Mexico during the past summer. He has served as student body president; student body treasurer; student council representative; class president during his freshman year; class treasurer during his sophomore, junior, and senior years; National Honor Society president; and President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes during his senior year.

BRENT HALLMARK

He plans to seek a degree in computer science at either Texas Tech or Angelo State and to become a computer analyst. He is quarterback of the football team but enjoys all sports including basketball, track, skiing, fishing and hunting. His church activities center around First Baptist Church of Lockney where he has served on the youth council and nomination committee.

The D.A.R. contest is sponsored by the Mary McCoy Baines Chapter, Plainview. The contest was open to boys and girls in the senior class of an accredited high school and three members were chosen by class members as those who best exemplify outstanding qualities of leadership, dependability, service and patriotism in school, home, and community. One was chosen by the faculty as School Good Citizen.

This year's contest consisted of three parts: personal, including activities, awards, offices held, special interests, service given to home, church or synagogue and the community, future plans and hobbies and interests; a national, civic, and patriotic quiz; and a patriotic essay.

The chapter winner will compete at state level. If a winner at state, the competitor will compete at national level for the National Good Citizen Award. The chapter winner will be announced at a tea at the Woman's Clubhouse in Plainview on February 16. Mrs. Carolyn Courtney will serve as chairman of the DAR Good Citizen Contest Committee.

Mary McCoy Baines Chapter awards the Chapter Good Citizen with a $100 scholarship to the college of his/her choice; the state winner is given $200 and the national winner's monetary award is $1,000. The National Association of Secondary School Principals has approved the DAR Good Citizen program and has placed the program on the advisory List of National Contests and Activities for 1984-85.

LOCKNEY STUDENTS, Terri Bailey, Lisa Terrell, Julie Davis and Heath Rexrode won in the Night Writers' poetry contest.

Four students win poetry contest in Plainview

Tuesday, February 5, at the Llano Estacado Museum in Plainview, the Night Writers of Plainview had an awards presentation for their annual poetry contest. This year's contest for students was monopolized by Lockney entrants. Sweeping the high school division were winners: Terri Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey of Lockney, whose first place poem was entitled "As I Sit"; Lisa Terrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Terrell of Lockney, whose poem, "No One is There", won second place; and Julie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis, who won with the poem, "In Times Like These".

Heath Rexrode, seventh grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neil Rexrode of Lockney, won the junior high division with his poem designated "Peppermint Ice Cream". Mrs. Bek, junior high English teacher, remarked, "Heath exhibits potential and we expect a great deal from him."

"It was a honor for these students to have been selected because of the competition they faced, and also because the panel of judges consisted of Wayland's English department; Dr. Don Cook, Dr. Don Taylor, Dr. Arch Mayfield and Mrs. Reta Carter," stated Cindy Smith, Lockney English II teacher.

Betty Givens and Dr. Fred Howard, both of whom have published books presented poetry readings to the assembled group. A tea honoring poetry winners, Ms. Givens, and Dr. Howard followed the program.

Trinity Luthren to celebrate Lent

Trinity Lutheran Church in the Providence Community will begin conducting special worship services during the season of Lent. The Ash Wednesday service begins at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, February 20. The remaining Lenten services will be held on Sunday evenings beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Lent is a special time of preparation for the celebration of Easter and an opportunity for emphasis on repentance and spiritual renewal. During Lent baptism is brought back anew and its basis in Jesus' death and resurrection and the new birth we experience because of Christ.

A series of Drama and Sermon with participation by the members will focus on "What Did Jesus Do?"

See you at the stock show Saturday

SOUP LABELS

Students at Lockney Elementary School are collecting Campbell's soup can labels to get new equipment for the P.E. department. Labels may be given to any elementary school student or turned in at the office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

As of February 1, 1985 subscription rates for The Lockney Beacon were increased by $1.00 for the in-county and the out-of-county subscriptions. The new rates are $12.50 for those mailed in Lockney and $13.50 for all those which do not have Lockney addresses.

The increase was necessary due to the new postal increase and also because of the new tax imposed on newspapers.

CHEESE

American Agriculture Movement will be distributing cheese Tuesday, February 19 from 9:00 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Bacus Ford House in Lockney. Identification will be required.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Lone Prairie Gas Association will be held Friday, February 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lockney Junior High cafeteria.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

The Communist Party of China has publicly conceded that Marxism is obsolete and not up to the job of creating a modern China. In an editorial in the People's Daily, the party newspaper there is stated the conviction that the theories of Communism's founders are outdated.

"Marx passed away 101 years ago; his works are more than a century old," the editorial declared. "Some reflected his visions of that time, after which the situation changed greatly."

Misnamed bilingual movement combated

Editor's Note: A commentary, written by Guy Wright, recently published in the San Francisco Examiner & Chronicle, is being reprinted for our readers. For more information one may contact Mac Willson at Builders Mart or Clar Schacht in Lockney.

At last we have a national organization to combat the misnamed bilingual movement.

U.S. English, nonprofit and tax-deductible, has opened shop at 1424 16th St. N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036, and welcomes to membership "all who agree that English is and must remain the only official language of the people of the United States."

Or, to put it another way, it will try to speak for those who don't want to see this English-speaking nation turned into a poly-lingual babel.

Former Sen. S.I. Hayakawa, who fought this battle almost alone while in Congress, is honorary chairman of U.S. English.

Chairman is Dr. John H. Tanton, a Michigan physician whose years of concern about population trends and immigration — he founded the Federation for American Immigration Reform — led him to embrace this kindred cause.

"With an organizational structure in place, we may at last be able to gain some ground," he said.

It is none too soon. Although there is virtually no public support for the proposition that this country should conduct its affairs in foreign languages for the convenience of those who don't want to learn English, the ethnic leaders pressing that demand are highly organized and single-minded, and they have won every skirmish so far against the disorganized opposition of a general public with many other worries.

Until a few years ago there was no problem. It was taken for granted that anyone who wanted to share in the benefits of American citizenship should learn English. Even today most immigrants realize the value of knowing English and are eager to learn — witness the packed newcomer classes.

The resistance comes from leaders of ethnic blocs, mostly Hispanic, who reject the melting-pot concept, resist assimilation as a betrayal of their ancestral culture and demand government funding to maintain their ethnic institutions.

We have seen the fruits of their victories. Laws now require multilingual ballots and voting aids, and tax money pays for voter registration campaigns aimed solely at those who will vote in a foreign language.

As for bilingual education, it has fallen into the hands of people less interested in building a bridge to help immigrant children learn English than in building a bridge-head within the school system for foreign language pressure groups.

This anti-assimilation movement (a more accurate name than bilingualism) comes at a time when the United States is receiving the largest wave of immigration in its history. This influx strains our facilities for assimilation and provides fertile ground for those who would like to turn language minorities into permanent power blocs.

To combat those forces, U.S. English offers this program:

- * Adopt a constitutional amendment to establish English as the official language of the United States.

- * Repeal laws mandating multilingual ballots and voting materials.

- * Restrict government funding for bilingual education to short-term transitional programs only.

- * Control immigration so that it does not reinforce trends toward language segregation.

U.S. English is no refuge for red-necked chauvinists. Among its guiding principles it says:

"The study of foreign languages should be encouraged" and "the rights of individuals and groups to use other languages must be respected."

But it also says, "In a pluralistic nation such as ours, government should foster the similarities that unite us, rather than the differences that separate us."

"There are many things that (Karl) Marx, (Friedrich) Engels, and (Uladimic) Lenin never experienced or had any contact with. We cannot depend on the works of Marx and Lenin to solve our modern-day questions."

The editorial comes at a time when Ding Xiaoping regime is launching bold capitalist initiatives. Some of his innovations are introducing a bonus system for plant workers and opening many of the country's cities to foreign investment.

The radical changes Ding has decreed in China are not without risk. Even some supporters think he has moved too far, too fast. However, his latest attack on the founding fathers of Communism showed China's pragmatic boss is not about to retreat.

Lockney Care Center Capers

By Linda McCullar

Hello again from the Lockney Care Center. First I would like to welcome our new resident. Vivian Morris joined our resident family Feb. 5th. We are proud to have her, she seems to be making new friends and renewing old friendships.

Monday, the residents and I put together scrapbooks of news articles from the past years while some of the residents played dominoes. They are enjoying themselves working in the scrapbook or playing dominoes.

Tuesday, Mary Jo Fielding, Bessie Hunt, Alma McDonald, Donie Hanson, Betha Cunyus and Esker Pyle went on the bus ride. They went to Plainview and looked at all the new buildings that are being built. They had ice cream at the Sonic. Thanks to the Sonic staff. The residents returned home excited and a little tired, really a great day.

Wednesday, Emma Stallbird, Nora Ayers, Annie Lee Kellison and Nell Schuster, from the Main Street Church of Christ, gave the monthly birthday party. Clyde Morrison was our only birthday in February. They served cake and punch to all the residents. All the residents really enjoyed the party, and we would like to say "Thank you, ladies, for the lovely birthday party." Later Wednesday several residents played dominoes. Several of our residents really love playing dominoes.

Thursday, Cinde and I went to Lubbock to attend an activity directors meeting at Goodner's Steak House. The topic of the meeting was "Physical Fitness." We both enjoyed the meeting and sharing of ideas.

Friday, we tried some of the new exercises, the residents like and enjoyed doing them. We always have a good time in exercise. Friday afternoon we played Bingo as usual. Lewis Roberts, Mary Jo Fielding and Edna Hunter won coke money being the first three to bingo. Our residents all enjoyed the bananas given to them as a treat. A big thanks to Myrtle Gibson. Also donated this week were houseshoes by Gene Fortenberry and toothbrushes by Arlene Raissez. Thanks Gene and Arlene. The houseshoes were given to Clyde Morrison for his birthday. "Thanks, they were a perfect fit," Clyde says.

Be sure to come by the Care Center and see all of the lovely doors that were decorated by employees for Valentines. The doors were judged on Feb. 11th. We will be giving three prizes to the first, second and third place winners. Thanks to Pam for judging the door winners. It looked like a very hard job as all the doors looked great.

Be sure to remember the residents on Valentines. They would love to have visits during this week. We love and appreciate all volunteers and visitors, and families. Until next week.

George Schuster named new minister

Sunday, February 3, was the first Sunday for George Schuster to address the congregation of the Main Street Church of Christ in Lockney as its new pastor.

Schuster, wife Nell, daughter Cristi, and son Ben have moved to Lockney from Groom where they had lived for several months. Prior to living in Groom they had lived in Rusk for about 4 years.

Schuster has received the bulk of his education at Abilene Christian University and presently holds bachelors and master's degrees in religious education.

Nell is a registered nurse and has been hired by Caprock Hospital in Floydada. She presently holds a bachelors degree in nursing and a masters degree in educational guidance and counseling.

Christi is a 19 year old freshman at Abilene Christian and is majoring in journalism and mass communications. She is a member of the Big Purple Band and is active in other on-campus organizations.

Ben is a 16 year old sophomore at Lockney High School and is "eagerly awaiting" the next football season. He plays tailback and is also a place kicker.

Commented Schuster, "We enjoy living in small communities and plan to be active in civic and school functions. Our reception here has been quite friendly."

GEORGE SCHUSTER has moved to Lockney as the new minister of the Main Street Church of Christ. His wife, Nell and son, Ben are living in Lockney. Their daughter, Cristi is attending Abilene Christian University.

Robbins takes over as new Lockney ag teacher

Randall Robbins, the newly hired ag teacher for Lockney, spent a busy first week here as he helped prepare for the annual Lockney Stock Show.

Hired by the Lockney school board on January 24, Robbins has had four years of teaching experience. He taught two years in the Valley School system, one year at Panhandle, and one year at Capitan, N.M. He is a 1977 graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelors degree in agriculture economics.

Robbins commented "I really like it here. The kids are just the kind of kids I like to teach; kind of rough and tumble. I have met more nice young people here than in any school I have ever taught in. They are very well mannered and are interested in just about everything. I think there is great potential for FFA leadership in these kids."

Robbins has several new plans for the FFA program for the last four months of school and is hoping to build up a program and interest more kids in the agriculture program by stressing the fact that the young people do not have to have an animal to be in the program.

"They can now go through the program on a point system, and it is not necessary to have an animal project," said Robbins. In addition to ag related topics the FFA program offers vehicle mechanics, electrical wiring projects, wood working and painting projects and many others.

Robbins is very excited about teaching in Lockney and has many ideas to add to the existing program offered at Lockney.

Robbins and his wife are presently living in Tulia and he will be driving back and forth. This was approved by the board since Robbins has only been hired to complete the school year at the present time.

Lockney C of C elects new officers

Directors of Lockney Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday morning week at Strickland's Restaurant for their monthly breakfast and election of officers.

Jack Covington was selected as president. He is to be assisted in directing the upcoming year's activities by vice president Joe Zorger; secretary Donnie Meriwether and treasurer J.D. Copeland. The latter two were re-elected to their offices.

Outgoing president Gary Marr presided at the business session, and welcomed newly-elected directors Cindy Smith and Gayle Jackson. Other new directors are Jim Bob Martin, Kathy Kellison and David Workman. The five were chosen in balloting conducted by mail.

Outgoing directors are Carroll Anderson, Guy Hazlett, David Patterson, Raymond Lusk, Roy Howell and Marr. However, Marr will return to the board as an appointed director. Anderson was vice president of the chamber.

Holdover directors are Copeland, Covington, Meriwether, Vera Jo Bybee, Merle Mooney, Zorger, Buddy Wiley, Boyd Lee, Clar Schacht, Mike Mooney and Jeff Race.

Wiley and Lee are appointed to distribute prize money at the Lockney Junior Stock Show Feb. 9. The chamber furnishes the approximate $300 prize money.

Reports were heard from the chairman of the various committees for the annual chamber banquet to be held March 1. Tickets will be $7.50 and are available from chamber members and directors, and also may be purchased at First National Bank and J.D. Copeland's office.

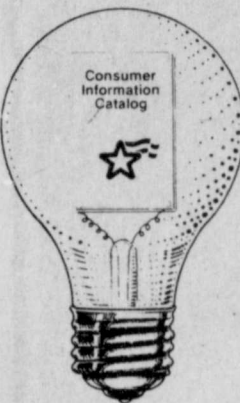

Tickets for the Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet scheduled March 1 have gone on sale at First National Bank and at J.D. Copeland's office for $7.50. Chamber members and directors also are selling the tickets.

Mexican food will be on the menu. Speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Virgil R. Trout of Oklahoma City.

Nominations

Outstanding man, woman and family of 1984 will be revealed during the banquet. Nominations may be made by any Lockney resident, club, organization or church. Letters of nomination must be given by Feb. 20 to Gary Marr, Box 130, Lockney, or to J.D. Copeland.

The honors selection committee, composed of one voting delegate from each club, organization and church, will meet at First National Bank Feb. 24 to make the three selections.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

Divestiture revisited: one year later

A little over three years ago — January 8, 1982, to be exact — we were stunned by the announcement that AT&T would divest itself of 22 operating companies, including Southwestern Bell, in exchange for the federal government dropping its 8-year-old anti-trust suit.

Most of us remember that moment: where we were when we heard the news, the looks on the faces around us, the feeling in the pit of the stomach as it slowly dawned on us what it was going to take to dismember the world's largest corporation.

We did what we had to do — all the while wondering if it would work.

Today, it works.

Although every one of us is still analyzing divestiture's effects on our responsibility areas and working out the glitches, we've come a long way.

Service has remained at quality levels

A year ago, when divestiture took place, some thought the Bell System breakup would cause local telephone service to deteriorate drastically. But it hasn't.

And the many changes haven't always been easy — on you or on us. We still don't know where some of our longtime work friends in other departments wound up. And I can imagine the consternation of many customers who had been accustomed over the years to one call doing all, being told overnight they would have to get their own telephones.

To help you with your questions, we introduced a series of informational booklets in 1984 called "Tele-Help." And, as a result of your questions, more booklets are coming this year, including a series for small businesses.

New revenues, new services and budget cutting

One of the principal axioms of our business has always been, "to serve well, we must earn well." Since divestiture, that's never been truer in Texas.

It's important to point out we've managed to get through the first year on our own as a stand-alone company without any significant increase in local residence rates. In fact, flat-rate residential service increased only 30 cents per month in 1984 — and that was the result of a rate filing a year earlier.

And despite all the havoc of divestiture, our internal measurements tell us service has never been better in Texas.

But more than ever, we understand that really satisfying customers requires a great deal more than looking good on a monthly service report. We know we have some weak spots, but we're working on them.

You see, the ultimate judge is not what our surveys tell us, but what you tell us.

And serving you is our only business. We appreciate the opportunity to do so.

City council calls for election

During the regular monthly meeting of the Lockney City Council the calling of the upcoming election was approved for April 6, 1985. Mayor J.D. Copeland and alderman Kenneth Wofford are up for reelection. The seat on the council vacated by Gail Kring will also be filled. Copeland will seek reelection and Wofford had not made a decision at the time of the meeting.

Those wishing to run for the city council may begin filing their intention to do so from now until March 6, 1985. Those wishing to file may do so at the city office.

There was time allotted for a revenue sharing funds hearing. Since no members of the general public were present, no decision was made as to how the funds received this year will be spent. Jimmy Durham appeared before the council to discuss a new concrete sealing product now being distributed by the Conklin Company. Durham suggested that the council consider using this sealant to coat the new floor in the new fire department building and also he suggested they might want to use it on the floor of the community center to aide keeping that floor in better shape. No action was taken by the council.

Present for the meeting were mayor Copeland, aldermen, Dipprey, Frizzell, Reece, Wofford, city attorney Paul Lyle, and the city secretary.

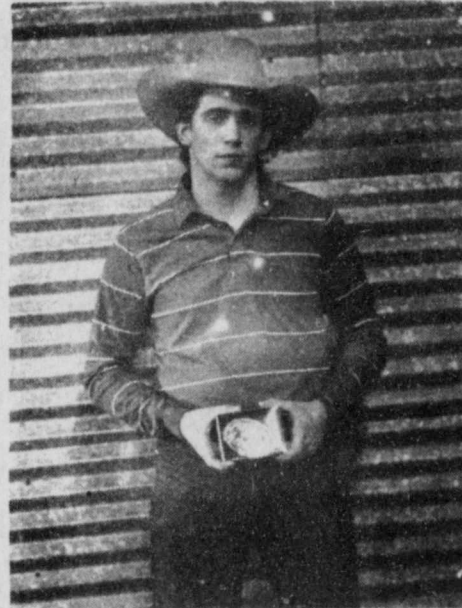

Former resident to sign autographs

Frieda Mild, a former resident of the Providence Community, has written a book entitled "The Potter's Clay" which describes her experiences as a missionary in New Guinea along with her husband the Rev. Andrew Mild, former pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. The struggles, joys, and hardship along with waiting and wondering about God, their work, and their lives are described with personal feeling as the Potter molds the clay. Not only a first hand account of life as a missionary but practical application to all who struggle to answer God's call.

An autograph party will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church in the Providence Community on Sunday afternoon, February 24, from 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Friends, acquaintances, and anyone interested in reading this inspiring book are cordially invited. Copies of the book will be available.

Melissa Johnson, a student at Angelo State University, and Doug Chadwick of San Angelo were in Lockney last weekend to visit with Melissa's parents, Tom and Dixie Johnson.

Here from Levelland this past weekend was Beverly Barker, to visit with her parents, Barry and Algene Barker, and grandmother, Bernice Barker.

Dar Lee Pool of Amarillo visited this past weekend with her parents, Gale and Gay McPherson and Dee; with her brother, Steve and Becky McPherson and Matt.

Effie Parker's sister, Ruby Foster of Littlefield, is to arrive today (Thursday) to stay with Effie for several weeks as Effie continues to recuperate from the injuries she received in a car wreck near Roscoe last fall. About March 1, Effie's daughter, Clara Lee Smith of Union Lake, Michigan, plans to come for awhile.

Gladys Ragle and Glenna Miller represented West College and Third Street Church of Christ congregation on a recent mission trip to Mexico. A group of 20 departed in late January on a chartered bus from California Lane Church of Christ in Arlington.

They visited churches in Salanama and Moreleon in the state of Guanajuato; Morelia in the state of Morelia; Tiquicheo, Ocampo and San Luis Potosi in the state of Michoacan.

The Lockney church assists in the support of mission work in Mexico. Mrs. Ragle says, "We went to see the congregations and to encourage them, but we were the ones who were encouraged and inspired."

Also on the trip were people from Arkansas, the Dallas-Fort Worth area, two couples from Nevada, and from Rock Creek, J.D. and Lois Nance, John and Maebelle Francis. The group returned home Feb. 6.

Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Russell of Nevada remained in Mexico for a short term language study at the San Miguel de Allende School of Language near Salanama.

Saturday, Jeanne Fairman of New Deal visited with her mother, Emma Thomas, in Lockney. Coming to see Mrs. Thomas on Sunday were her grandson, Mike and Kristina Fairman, Courtney Jeanne and Dane, of Lubbock.

Emma's guest on Monday was her son-in-law, Mark Fairman of New Deal. Members of Evans Chapel and Templo Bautista Salem worshipped Sunday morning with members of First Baptist Church in observance of the Southern Baptist Convention's Race Relations Day. Speaker for the service was Dr. Ciro Garcia of Plainview, who is an assistant of area missionary Dr. Floyd Bradley in the Caprock-Plains Association office.

A come-as-you-are party was held Monday night week by members of Athena Study Club to say "good-by" to Patti Mowrey, who has since moved to Nebraska. Hostesses were Vida Hrbacek, Donnie Meriwether and Sandra Turley. The party was held at the Meriwether home.

Each member was given time to bring her quilt square (for the quilt to be given to one member) to show at the party. All of the squares will have a design done in candlewicking.

A crystal salad bowl was given to Mrs. Mowrey as a going-away present. Attending were those mentioned, Barbara Cawley, Barbara Mathis, Judy Gill, Jill Golden, Charlotte Mitchell, D'Lynn Morgan, Linda Ryan, Laura Wilson and Kathy Hunter.

Mrs. Raymond Lusk was hostess Thursday night for a meeting of members of Athena Study Club.

The program was presented by Reggie Gross of the Floyd County Child Welfare Unit. She showed a film and talked about emotional, physical and sexual abuse of children.

During the business session conducted by president Vida Hrbacek, members chose their nominees for the Lockney's outstanding man, woman and family for 1984. Laura Wilson was named as secretary for the remainder of the club year to replace Patti Mowrey who has moved to Nebraska. Resignation of Linda Ryan was accepted.

Co-hostess was Tanya Covington. Guest was Doris Vinson of Floydada, who accompanied Reggie Gross. Members present were Jill Golden, Kathy Hunter, Barbara Mathis, D'Lynn Morgan, Carla Robnett, Judy Gill, Judy Schacht, Sandra Turley, Wilson, Lusk, Covington and Hrbacek.

Next meeting will be March 7 at the home of Cindy Smith. The program will be given by Linda Terrell's junior high oral readers.
