

Rangers Meet Canadian In First Conference Game

"Every member of the Ranger squad has noticed the increased interest being shown by townspeople this year," said Coach Slack yesterday. "Much of this interest has been stimulated by the formation of the Quarterback Club. This support is vital to a successful season. It helps the boys play better football and wins games. Every boy appreciates it greatly so keep up the good work, get behind the boys and turn out for every game."

Ochiltree county folks do not have to be solicited, they do not have to be browbeaten about anything when the war effort is concerned. The goal for the Ochiltree County War Fund is $7,759. Cash donated and in the bank at the close of business Wednesday, Oct. 11, just two days after the drive opened on Oct. 9, was $6,997.14. This is less than $800 short of the goal.

A letter from Headquarters, Army Air Forces, Washington, dated Sept. 29, gives encouragement to relatives and friends of Sgt. Wm. F. Stark, reported missing in action over France on August 12. The following is the letter received by his mother, Mrs. Reulah M. Stark.

This amazing record was made without a single letter being mailed, not even a postal card; with no general solicitation, other than the list partially covered by the special gifts committee. The checks are rolling. They're coming by mail to Treasurer C. B. Rogers and they're bringing them in person to Mr. Rogers at the First National Bank to W. B. LaMaster at his real estate and insurance office; and to F. B. Sumpter at his insurance and real estate office; and to Van W. Stewart at the Herald office.

This is one campaign in which every person in Ochiltree county will want to give their part and one in which it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to participate. The goal will be oversubscribed, going to at least $10,000 if everyone does their part in proportion to the gift already made. Only a small per cent of the people of the county have given almost $7,000.

Complete lists of all donors and the amount of their gift will be published as the campaign progresses. Subscriptions to date are as follows:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The agriculture department, reporting today on production in this year is 3,196,977,000 bushels and wheat bumper crops, the corn crop production 1,106,881,000 bushels. The record corn crop, passing the three million bushel mark for the fifth time in the country's history was forecast a month ago at 3,011,519,000 bushels. Production last year totaled 3,076,159,000 bushels and the average production in the ten years 1933-42 was 2,369,334,000 bushels. The 1940 crop was 3,175,154,000 bushels, the largest heretofore.

Wheat production this year, setting an all-time record, was indicated a month ago as 1,115,402,000 bushels. Production last year was 836,298,000 bushels. Average production in the ten years 1933-42 was 760,199,000 bushels. The record production heretofore was 1,006,637,000 bushels in 1915. That was the first billion bushels crop ever produced in this year's is the second.

BIG REFINERY TOWER MAKES TRIPLE LOAD

The Santa Fe used three flat cars to move this 500,000-pound fractionating tower from Tulsa, Okla., to an undisclosed out-of-state plant, where it will be used in the manufacture of butadiene for synthetic rubber. The huge pressure tank was the largest ever built in Tulsa, and the largest ever shipped in a single piece on any railroad. The load was 150 feet long, 13 feet, 6 inches wide, and 30 feet, 6 inches high. These dimensions called for a special routing in order to clear bridges, viaducts and other structures along the way, and at one point it was necessary to lower the track a few inches to get the shipment through. The two end cars which bore the brunt of the 250 tons, were fitted with pivoted cradles to allow the load to take curves. Movement of this unusual war-time cargo was in daylight only, and at restricted speed.

Refund Checks 1943 Income Tax Returns

Thousands of inquiries concerning income tax refunds are reaching the Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas from taxpayers in every county and practically every town in the northern half of Texas. Many inquiries are received from taxpayers having moved to other states since filing their 1943 income tax returns, with the Dallas collector. In answer to all such inquiries, W. A. Thomas, collector of internal revenue, Dallas, Texas, issued the following statement relative to refunds.

"To every taxpayer of this district who is entitled to a refund on his 1943 return, I would like to say that your refund is being processed as rapidly as possible. I cannot tell you exactly when your refund will come through, because it might be today and it might not be for a few months. But I can promise you that you will be paid interest at the rate of 6% per year for every month your refund is delayed after March 15, 1944.

Throughout the country, we have about 18 million refunds to make. We estimate that between 275,000 and 300,000 refunds will clear thru the Dallas office. In each case, the return must be compared with employer's withholding tax receipts and other documents. In many cases, returns contain errors that must be corrected.

"This involves a tremendous amount of work that must be done with comparatively small staffs. Obviously, the entire 18 million refunds cannot be completed at the same time and some taxpayers must wait another few months. However, a million checks are being distributed every three weeks by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and so you can see that, in your case, you may get your refund fairly soon. Already to date the Dallas office has issued over 100,000 refund checks.

"The refunds are definitely not being issued in alphabetical order, but in fairness to all taxpayers, refunds are being made in the order in which the returns are reached for mathematical verification. The returns must be checked for errors in the mathematical computation of the tax. Correction of errors may change the amount of refund or, in some cases, even show that no refund is actually due. Naturally, before the check is made out, we must correct the mistake whether it increases or decreases the refund and advise the taxpayer accordingly. This, of course, takes extra time. Ordinarily, the refunds are based on the fact that too much tax was withheld by the employer. Before the refund can be paid, the return must be compared with the duplicate withholding tax receipt filed by the employer with the collector. Likewise, the return may have to be checked against several other documents, such as Declarations of Estimated Income Tax, if filed, or statements showing amounts paid on 1942 taxes. It would be very difficult, therefore, to make all refunds on a strictly alphabetical basis. Such a procedure would also give preference to taxpayers whose names begin with the earlier letters of the alphabet.

"This explains why John Smith, living across the street, may receive his refund before Jim Allen, and also why, upon inquiry, it is impossible to determine the status of any individual case without disrupting and slowing up the whole refund system.

"The Dallas office is receiving about 100 letters and 100 telephone calls per day from all over the district inquiring about refunds. Many taxpayers are calling in person at the Dallas headquarters office and the field offices throughout the district. It is requiring a substantial amount of time and clerical and typing effort to make responses to these inquiries. Many urgent requests have been received from individuals who want their particular refunds placed ahead of everyone else. The whole refund procedure is being slowed considerably by the numerous inquiries received.

"On the other hand, several thousands of refund checks have been returned unclaimed, principally because the taxpayer has changed his address since he filed his return. Taxpayers who have moved since filing 1943 returns should promptly notify the collector with whom they filed their 1943 returns giving both the old and the new addresses. This will help greatly in making delivery of the refund checks.

Wave Enlistment Quotas to be Reduced Dec. 1

The present enlistment quotas for WAVES in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle will be continued in effect to December 1, when they will be reduced substantially, it was announced this week by Lieut. E. W. Nippert, Officer-in-Charge of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement Oklahoma City.

"The continuing need for WAVES is emphasized in a Navy Department release which states that present enlistment quotas for the Women's Reserve will continue in effect to December 1, when the national quotas will be reduced to approximately 500 per month," Lieut. Nippert said.

By December 1, it is expected that total enlisted personnel in the Women's Reserve will approximate 75,000 and officer personnel will reach approximately 9,000. This number is expected to cover current needs in jobs for which women are qualified, although this will be increased if future requirements indicate that additional women can be used.

The monthly enlistment quota of 500 is expected to be sufficient for replacements and for future additions. Navy requirements for enlisted WAVES.

Application of WAVE officers from civil life is expected to be virtually terminated on October 25. Thereafter requirements for WAVE officers will be met by commissioning qualified enlisted women selected from the ranks. Exceptions will be certain specialists available only from civilian sources. This is in keeping with present procedures of the Bureau of Naval Personnel whereby male officers, with the exception of certain specialists, are selected from the ranks of enlisted men.

AMARILLO, Oct. 10—Army and Navy Production Award will be presented to the Pantex Ordnance Plant on October 20 for its excellent record of production in the war effort. The "E" for excellence with its proud background of tradition is the symbol by which both Armed Services confer their highest praise on those plants whose record in the production of war materials is outstanding. Justly proud of their achievement, workers at Pantex continue their efforts to keep a steady stream of bombs and shells flowing to the men who are in the actual fight on distant battle fronts.

Additional workers are needed now at Pantex in order to meet the in-

Belgian Radio Free

BELGIAN PATRIOTS who worked secretly and constructed eight broadcasting stations under the nose of the Germans, were hailed recently by The Associated Press as heroes of the Belgian Broadcasting Services. He commended the underground workers who destroyed all of the country's radio services in 1940 to prevent the Germans from making any use of them. Then, for four long years, working night and day, frequently within a stone's throw of the enemy, the patriots built eight complete broadcasting stations with all vital equipment and managed to keep the Belgian Government in London acquainted with day-to-day progress. When Allied troops entered Belgium, the Belgian Broadcasting Services were ready!

Mrs. Tom Elzey has been enjoying a visit in California with her father and sister and with Mr. Elzey's sister.

Increased demands coming from the front lines. New workers will find a typical West Texas welcome in joining the ranks of its "Fighters behind the Fighters" at Pantex. Attractive wage scales start at 75 cents per hour with time and one half for more than 40 hours per week. No experience is necessary. Wage increases are given for length of service.

Workers who have been employed within the last 60 days at their highest skill in essential war work must have a statement of availability. Men engaged in farm work should secure their county agent's approval before applying.

Wartime Washington

Newsletter by Congressman Gene Worley

An encouraging announcement was made this week when the War Production Board officials stated that the production of tires for civilian use will be increased in 1945. It was pointed out, however, that very little rubber would be available for pleasure driving. Only 12 million passenger car tires were produced during the first nine months of this year according to WPB figures but production during the last three months of the year is expected to raise the year's total to 18.5 million tires. This compares with an original schedule for 1944 of 30 million tires which was reduced to 20 million during the year, and with a peacetime production of almost 50 million tires for new cars and replacement needs. Production during the first three months of 1945 is being scheduled at the rate of 2.5 million a month or 30 million a year.

A further announcement by the War Production Board concerned its decision to authorize the renewal of production of light trucks for civilian use which was stopped in January, 1942. It has authorized the manufacture of 20,000 light trucks for the first six months of 1945 for civilian use.

AMERICA, WHAT NOW?

Total Government EXPENDITURES, Taxes and Debt

The mounting public debt dwarfs the sum that is currently being collected in taxes by the federal, state and local governments, as can be seen from the above illustration. The explanation comes from the middle block, "Expenditures," because, over a period of years, debt is the difference between what is collected in taxes and what is spent. Notice how the total public debt has been growing since 1941, when it was in the neighborhood of $65 billion. It is now well over $200 billion and will possibly rise to $275 billion in 1945. What height it finally reaches will be determined by the length of the war and its attendant costs, since the local and state governments are in many cases building substantial surpluses.

While most of this national spending is for victory, there is room for economy in many departments which are not doing essential war work or are heavily overstaffed. If such economies were effected, it would lighten the tax burden, now and in the postwar years.

Nisei Are Leaving Centers to Work In Rural America

Rural America has absorbed upwards of a third of the 30,000 persons of Japanese ancestry who already have left the nation's relocation centers to work and live in normal communities, records of the War Relocation Authority show.

The agricultural experience represented by the 60,000 evacuees still living in the centers indicates that considerably more than half of those who will eventually relocate will eventually settle in farm areas and small towns, the WRA said. Approximately 45 per cent of the original 110,000 evacuees came directly from West Coast farm communities. Many of the other 55 per cent have lived or worked on farms.

WRA has consistently centered a major share of its energies upon resettlement of this group of the evacuee population, believing that these rural adjustments will prove to be the most permanent.

Its director, Dillon S. Myer, born and raised on an Ohio farm and for many years active in agricultural planning and administration, says that, because of the long farm experience of these individuals and families, their greatest contribution to the war effort and to the communities in which they live can be made in food production.

The 10,000 to 15,000 evacuees already raising foodstuffs from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico are working under every kind of farm arrangement from day labor to resident ownership, the records show. A similar diversity of pre-evacuation experience is represented by the farm families still in the centers, among whom are farm workers, independent operators and managers.

The agency cites as typical of these transplanted farmers, and of those hundreds who will relocate in the months to come, the case of Kay Inagaki, who before evacuation owned and operated a 60-acre fruit farm near Hood River, Ore.

Inagaki and his wife and three children left the Jerome Relocation Center in Arkansas in March of this year. Since then he has operated a 240-acre irrigated farm on Wood River, in Merrick county, Neb., on a written share-crop agreement. His seven-year-old son, Charles, attends a rural school a mile and a half from the farm.

Inagaki has bought seed on credit, is buying a tractor on time-payment and has exchanged farm equipment with several of his neighbors. Richard Nishimura, who lived in Los Angeles and who had no previous agricultural experience, has been working almost a year on a typical Vermont dairy farm a few miles from the Canadian border. Last spring he became a member of the Grange.

WRA cites the case of Shinobu Tani as typical of the relatively smaller run of evacuees who have resettled in Georgia. Tani, who draws monthly wages and maintenance for his wife and two children, as a truck farm worker on the Maryfield plantation, at White-oak, is again raising about the same crops he grew before evacuation.

What About Reconversion?

In front lines and fox holes there's little talk of reconversion—by that name, at least. Between exterminations of Huns and Japs, though, our troops think often enough about jobs to come home to.

There's plenty of talk about reconversion here, which is as it should be for it is up to us at home to provide those jobs. But while everybody's talking about reconversion, almost nobody (to paraphrase Mark Twain's remark about the weather) does anything about it.

Certainly industry, willing and eager to do its share and more, must have the benefit of something better than official talk to solve its many reconversion problems. It must, for instance, be permitted, through sane and realistic tax policies, to set aside enough money to accomplish the reconversion that everyone is counting on.

Frederick C. Crawford, of Cleveland, board chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, 71 per cent of whose members have thriving enterprises employing less than 500 workers, sums it up this way:

"There must be reserve funds available now, created out of profit, if the jobs and opportunities of tomorrow's economy are to materialize in numbers enough to keep our living standards up to American expectations."

Two Sets Demo Electors on Ballot

The presidential election in Texas is confusing to some voters. There are two sets of democratic electors on the general election ballot—but the major issue between them is clear cut. One group pledged to a fourth term for President Roosevelt, approve the party's Chicago platform, with its racial equality plank; and has accepted the shifting of the party control from the true Democrats of the nation to the CIO political action committee, the Communist leader Earl Browder, the negro groups and the graft ridden machines of Chicago, Jersey City and the Bronx. The names of this group of electors appear on the ballots as "Democrats."

The other group are Democrats, too, but their names will appear on the ballots as "Texas Regulars." They are the democrats of Texas who would not agree to the anti-Southern, pro-negro, and CIO dominated platform adopted at Chicago; they demanded at Chicago that the democratic party adhere to its long-established principles; that the negro question be left to the states, that the democratic party in Southern states be permitted to conduct its own free and white primaries, that our constitutional form of government be saved from subversive forces within the party, and who refused to sit idly by and see foreign born Sidney Hillman of the CIO and Communist Earl Browder take over the party and become the ring-masters of the administration.

And, so the issue between the two sets of electors is clear cut. The people of Texas now have the opportunity to take their voice. And, in so doing they will not have to desert the party. The question as to what kind of democracy and what kind of a democratic party the people of Texas want can be answered in an open and above-board manner on November 7. The war does not enter into the question; it is an issue of freedom versus brass collar control in the party, an issue that will affect our individual and collective welfare for generations to come.—Memphis, Texas, Democrat.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to voice my heartfelt gratitude to the many friends who by cards, cards and sympathetic words, proffered condolence in my hour of loss and sorrow.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Dust Bowl Lesson Learned

With the lesson of "dust bowls" fresh in their minds, American farmers during this war are using their land much more wisely today than they did in the last war, the Office of War Information reports on the basis of data from the Departments of Agriculture, Interior and War. Farmers plowed up 30 million acres of land unsuitable for row-crop cultivation during the last war. During this war they have plowed up less than 1,170,000 acres of such land, and much of this has been put in victory gardens where it can be kept fairly well under control. Airfields have caused one of the worst recent soil erosion problems. Spinning propellers caused miniature dust storms—resulting in damage to planes and injury to the men. Soil conservation experts and army engineers, however, have worked out methods of protecting the runways and preventing these miniature "dust bowls" from getting started.

Fire Prevention Week

This is fire prevention week, by proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. One out of every person who lost their lives as a result of fires in the United States last year was a farm person, the Department of Agriculture reports. Fire is more hazardous on the farm than in the city because few farms can call on a trained fire department for assistance, most farms are not equipped with a ready water supply for fire-fighting, farm buildings usually are not as fire resistant as city buildings and farmers usually carry less fire insurance than city people do. Farm fire prevention suggestions have a readily available ladder that will reach to the top of the highest building, see that there is a water supply for fire-fighting in the farm yard, and establish firebreaks around haystacks, farm buildings and maturing crops of high fire hazard.

May Ease Dads Fuel Bill

Fuel shortages this year have prompted the solid Fuels Administrator for War to offer householders the following fuel-saving suggestion: "Winterize with insulation, storm shutters and weather-stripping; clean and repair heating plant; install temperature control device; keep room temperatures as low as health and reasonable comfort will permit; clean furnace regularly during heating season; keep windows closed as much as possible; and close off unused room space."

Livestock Prices

With fewer hogs to be marketed this fall and winter and with large non-civilian pork purchases, the hog price outlook is more promising than a year ago. The Department of Agriculture says. Total calf slaughter this year will reach an all-time high. The large slaughter has resulted from high butterfat prices in relation to dairy cow prices, a weak demand for calves by cattle feeders, relatively high prices for veal calves for slaughter and record numbers of cows on farms. Prices for lambs are likely to average higher this fall and winter than a year ago, and ewe prices now lowest since the fall of 1941, are expected to continue lower than a year ago.

Aid for War Victims

Since Poland was invaded in 1939, Americans have given more than $175,000,000 to war victims of more than 30 countries, the President's War Relief Control Board reported in calling attention to the second National War Fund Drive to be conducted during October. Before the War Relief Control Board was established, 700 agencies were appealing to the public separately for support. Now only 110 agencies are authorized to engage in foreign and domestic war charity—including United Service Organizations, United Seamen Service, War Prisoners Aid, and local Community Chest services. The $250,000,000 fund sought this year is expected to bring aid to 60 million persons.

Tobacco Use Near Record

While domestic tobacco consumption has declined in recent months, this decline has been offset by shipments to armed forces abroad, so that overall consumption is at or near the highest in the history of the industry, the Department of Agriculture reports.

Not a Man in Plant

The women have it all their own way in one Melbourne, Australia, war plant. Now entering its fourth year of operation, this plant is run entirely by women, ages 25 to 40. Most of the women had never worked outside their homes before they took their present jobs. Among other things the women turn out steering gears for Bren gun carriers and telescope holders for 25-pounders. Miss Irene Seales, General Manager, is now in the U. S. studying latest production methods.

Rabbit Comes Into His own

When early English settlers moved to Australia, they took rabbits with them, according to the Australian News and Information Bureau. Australia then spent millions of dollars trying to get rid of the offspring of these rabbits. The Australians hunted them with guns, traps, poison bait, ferrets and gas. In Western Australia they even built a supposedly rabbit proof fence from North to South. Still the rabbits increased. Then came the war. Other meat grew scarce. Rabbit meat was captured free. Recently, the Indian Government asked for Australian rabbits to breed for food for her services, and export of rabbit pelts to the United States is increasing. Today, Australia's one-time pest is practically a national hero.

Help Veterans With Housing

To provide living quarters for war veterans, honorably discharged since December 31, 1940, who are unable to find them, the WPB and the National Housing Agency offer immediate priorities assistance for construction, alteration for betterment of houses. Veterans should apply on form WPB-2806 at the nearest Federal Housing Agency Office. If the veteran does not know where the nearest FHA office is situated, his local banker should be able to tell him.

Round-Up

OPA says—More than 88 million persons live in rent-controlled areas in the U. S. . . Farmers will pay about 40 cents a hundred pounds more for dried beet pulp and dried molasses pulp as a result of new ceiling prices. . . Highest retail prices for cranberries is expected to be about 41 cents a pound, since ceilings have been revised due to weather damage to the crop.

The Department of Agriculture says—Total feed grain supplies for the 1944-45 feeding year are estimated to be the third largest on record. . . The Aerial Bomb method of combating mosquitoes, which in 10 seconds can release enough poison to kill mosquitoes in a large room, shows potential promise for household use against flies and mosquitoes and for protection of certain truck crops.

The WPA announces a support price of $12.50 a hundredweight, Chicago basis, for good and choice butcher hogs, 200 to 240 pounds, and a cotton loan rate on the 1944 crop of an average of 20.03 cents a pound, gross weight for 7 1/2 inch middling cotton.

West Coast shipbuilding and repair yards need 25,000 more workers in October, and 2,000 workers are needed for naval repair work at Pearl Harbor. Workers will be recruited through United States Employment Service Offices in all parts of the country. . . Sale of second hand school buses and other local passenger transportation equipment is now unrestricted, but purchasers to obtain gasoline must qualify for certificate of war necessity, the ODT says. . . For the first time in the country's history, births exceeded the three million mark in 1943. The Department of Commerce reports.

J. W. Payne and son Buddy and his sister, Mrs. J. W. Tuley and son Michael of Austin, were in Johnson City, Kansas, Saturday evening and Sunday visiting with their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bahrer. Mrs. Tuley and son remained for a longer visit.

R. P. Hurn and Dean Blank were in St. Louis attending the baseball games.

The wives of two of Texas' most famous fighting men have called on the people of the Lone Star state to support the National War Fund campaign which opened in every Texas county and community this week.

They were Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of the supreme Allied commander in Europe, and Mrs. Chester W. Nimitz, wife of the Texas Naval commander whose fleets are blasting the Japs in the Pacific.

There is little doubt that the people of this state will respond to the call, for this state has sent more than its share of soldiers and sailors to war, and Texans everywhere are anxious to give them every possible home-front support.

But more than wishes will be required if the Texas campaign for approximately $5,000,000 is to go over the top. Thousands of volunteer leaders and campaign workers are giving their time to the drive, and every man, woman and child in Texas must join in the effort if it is to succeed.

War fund dollars go to the support of our own fighting men and their allies, and to alleviate suffering among war victims throughout the world.

War fund dollars provide USO centers for our troops in training camps at home, and send USO Camp Show troupes abroad to entertain our fighting men near every battlefield—often within sound of the guns.

War fund dollars provide rest and recuperation camps for our merchant sailors, through United States mens Service, serving the many men injured while sailing their ships to assault beaches or through war zones.

War fund dollars send games, books, study courses, athletic equipment, musical instruments and many other supplies to our men in enemy prison camps, to help combat the dread "barbed wire sickness" that threatens their morale.

War fund dollars send food to the helpless orphans of China, whose parents have been killed and whose land has been ravished by the Japanese.

War fund dollars send medicines, food, clothing and other supplies to the aged and the helpless in areas liberated by our armies, giving new hope to the oppressed peoples while helping our own fighting men restore the areas they have freed from the enemy.

War fund dollars help bring earlier victory, through services to our fighting men and their allies.

War fund dollars give new hope to the entire war-stricken world, and carry the message of freedom to every remote section of the globe.

Texas, always generous, always in the forefront of every fight for freedom and decency among nations,

New Students of Flying School

New students are enrolled every day at the Collingsworth Nicky Flying School, operating out of the Perryton and Guyton airports. Among the latest enrollees are Johnny Luthi, Dwight Coffey, Bob Harris, Joe Buckmaster, Dave York Jr.

The school now has more than 100 students. A few have made their first solo flight and others are ready.

Mr. Nicky and Fred Taylor made an air trip to Guyton, Okla., last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Osborn, Perryton, the day, Sunday, visiting the M. P. Hethcock home.

are responding enthusiastically to the call on behalf of home county and every community.

There is little doubt that in the National War Fund drive will over the top.

For Texans everywhere are taking the words of the war fund slogan: "Sure, I'll give a Texan's share."

Invasion Scene, Act II

Yesterday was Act I.

Same beachhead scene. Same—except today there are no screaming bombs, no burning tanks, no convulsive shells tearing big holes in the ground. Same scene, but today the guys up there on the beach put on the show.

They're ready for Act II. They've pushed the enemy back a few miles. Here comes Act II. Here comes the USO Camp Show!

Our boys need this show. They need it desperately, like starving men need food. For an hour or two they'll get back to America . . . back to Broadway, Hollywood, Main Street . . . back a thousand miles from this beachhead. They need to laugh, to forget.

They NEED it, undersand?

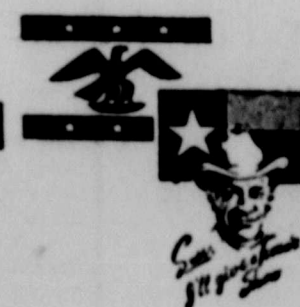

Thanks to the folks back home, USO Camp Show units have played in every combat zone, often immediately behind the front lines. More than 90 units are playing the "Foxhole"; more than 80 units appear regularly at camps and hospitals in the western hemisphere.

It costs money to operate the world's biggest theatrical circuit. Even though most stage and screen stars donate their services without charge, it still costs a lot of money to send hundreds of other performers. Every cent must come from part of the money you give to your local community drive.

Your gift helps in other ways too. It serves our men in enemy prison camps, sends relief to suffering victims of war, serves our own fighting men and our allies on every front! Through the agencies of the National War Fund it carries new life and new hope throughout the war-torn world!

Give once for all these. There are many war needs to cover. Give now—at least two day's pay. Give all you can.

FEEDING LAMBS ON GAIN BASIS

I am interested in having some lambs fed, paying so much per pound for the gain. Even though you have the feed and the cash or credit to buy your care, write me advising what feed you have and the number of head ahead of us, you may hesitate to do so.

If you have your own feed and interested in feeding lambs for so much per pound for the gain put on and can provide the proper own stock to feed—possibly with all the uncertain times that are you can care for.

An Appreciation . . .

After 14 years in business at the same location in Perryton, we have closed our doors due to the fact that our lease expired and we were unable to secure suitable quarters. For the present we are storing our fixtures at our old home town of Clayton, N. M. Our plans for the future are uncertain, but wherever we reenter business, be it Perryton or some other town, we will always have a warm spot in our hearts for Perryton and the friendship and patronage that was our lot as operators of Wolford's Sweet Shop.

Wolford Closes Sweet Shop; To Clayton

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wolford, who have operated the Wolford Sweet Shop in the Perryton Hotel building for 14 years, have closed their place and are moving to Clayton. They suspended business Oct. 1, and have been dismantling fixtures and getting them ready for shipment. The room occupied by the Sweet Shop is going to be used for an expansion of the Goodrich Store. They were unable to find another location in Perryton, so were forced to close. The fixtures are being moved to Clayton, N. M. for storage at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolford are returning to Clayton, their former home where they own residence property. They have not made definite plans for the future.

Rangers to Meet Canadian First Conference Game

Oct. 13, spells revenge for the Rangers once again take the field to tangle with the Canadian Wildcats in the first conference game of the season. The game is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at the home of the Wildcats, the P. Richardson and Sons, in the town of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

The Rangers are going to make the usual unlucky 13 a day of victory. Rangers have been altered and a deciding factor in a hard-fighting gridiron.

Gate Receipts from Memphis-Perryton Football Game

The gate receipts from the Memphis-Perryton game last Friday night gave the Rangers a net profit of $38.10. $231.90 was the total with $193.80 going for expenses which included officials salary and the guarantee to Memphis.

What's in a Number?

Every thought and every deed deals in some vague way with numbers. Numbers are a part of life itself, so it is with Perryton Public Schools.

The school boasts of approximately 800 students with about 500 of them riding the bus to and from school, many of whom ride 45 miles or more to attend Perryton schools.

Next we look into the cafeteria. The cafeteria boasts of serving 6,823 lunches during the month of September. There are six adults and six students employed in the cafeteria.

Last but not least is the faculty number. There are 34 teachers not including two men that school could not get along without, the janitors, Oliver Kling and Ed Schroeder.

Marriage is a sentence starting with a proposition.

The man, who said do right and fear no man; don't write and fear no woman; was right. Right?

Rangers Down Tigers 7-6

In a dazzling game, Friday night, Oct. 6, on the Guymon home field, the Rangers downed the Tigers 7 to 6. The Tigers scored in the first five minutes of the game. In the second quarter the Rangers came back with determination in their stride and pushed across to pay dirt with Schroeder carrying the ball. The try for the extra point was blocked but Peckenpaugh carried the ball across for the extra point. The third and fourth quarters were a trading of punts.

The Rangers played with practically a new line-up. It was as follows:

Cecil Bartel, fb; Calvin Schroeder, lb; Earl Mounts, rb; Delos Pugh, qb; Duwayne Trosper, c; Delmar Peckenpaugh, rt; Don Eudy, lt; Floyd Enterline, re; Jim Hudson, le.

Slim Williams Lyceum Attraction

Slim Williams, world famed Alaskan wolf dog musher and trail blazer, will present the second in a series of six lyceum numbers, in the high school auditorium, Friday, Oct. 20 at 2:45.

Williams walked hand in hand with danger for more than 30 years in blazing Alaska. Jack London noted novelist, made Slim the dominant character in his book, "Burned Daylight."

In his adventurous journey Williams also shot some thrilling color films, that will be shown at the conclusion of his lecture.

Patrons of the community are invited to attend. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

Shade of the Hat

Mrs. Modelle Moore and son, Dale, were visiting her parents in Seagraves over the week-end.

Quentin Engleman returned to school Friday after a four weeks absence.

Bob Thurston returned to school Friday after a visit with his grandmother in Raton, New Mexico.

Mrs. Ermael Termino and Miss Monnie Kemp spent the week-end in Lubbock visiting Mrs. Termino's parents.

Another visitor in Lubbock over the past week-end was Miss Maudie Jo Fields.

Due to illness, Gene Caldwell was unable to attend school last week.

Perryton schools will miss two very popular students, Dave Sue and Jimmy Ratliff, who have returned to Haskell, their former home.

Mrs. Maurine Tatum was in Amarillo over the past week-end.

Due to illness, Misses Monnie Kemp, Flora Rhine and June Gillespie were absent part of last week.

Imogene Harrison was out of school three days last week.

Misses Jamie Moore, Flora Rhine, Janice Rogers and Mrs. L. C. Rogers were in Amarillo over the week-end.

A large group of students and teachers gathered Friday, Oct. 6, to give the Rangers a send off as they prepared to leave Perryton to meet the Guymon Tigers in the third game of the season.

Cheer leaders Jerry Carmichael, Helen Hudson and Diddy Records led the crowd in a number of yells.

SUPERSTITION

Do you turn back when a black cat crosses your path? Will you walk under a ladder? If the answer is yes, then that black magic or better known as superstition has you in its spell.

The dictionary defines it as an excessive reverence for, or fear of, that which is unknown. The encyclopedia says it is a phrase in the history of thinking. The most difficult art for man to master has been that of reason.

Take for instance Friday. The ancient Scandinavians considered Friday their "luckiest" day, but since the crucifixion of Christ on Friday, many people regard it with superstitious dread.

The notion that stars are connected with human destiny is an underlying one. When Rome was threatened the earth trembled, volcanoes broke loose, and lightning bolts flashed across the sky. In some minds, a comet still strikes dismay as a sign that the end of the earth is near.

Such everyday sayings as: "spilling salt is a sign of a quarrel," "bubbles in the tea cup indicate visitors," or "giving a knife ends friendship" doesn't mean much, but we hear them over and over again.

From 875 persons, there was obtained about 1,100 admissions of full belief in some superstitions, about twice as many admissions of half-beliefs, and nearly four times as many disbeliefs. So when you hear that finding four leaf clovers or picking up pins brings good luck, just remember black magic spins its spell with one easy turn.

Meet the Seniors

One of the young men who is destined to become one of our leading agriculturists is Dwendle Atchison. Dwendle was born on Feb. 22, 1928, and has lived in Perryton all of his life.

Standing at the proud height of 6 feet, he weighs 180 lbs. and has brown hair and eyes and goes in wholeheartedly for anything that pertains to horses.

Everyone has his favorites so, therefore, Dwendle says he simply loves fried chicken and prefers the performances of Robert Taylor and Betty Grable and the movie, "Sergeant York" in the cinema world. He can't think of anything he dislikes more than snobbish people.

Seventeen years ago on February 26, 1927, a little bundle of brightness was left on the front doorstep of the Bartel home. Adorned with brown hair and laughing brown eyes, Cecil, as he is known today, now stands 5' 8" tall and weighs 160 lbs.

Cecil seems to rate aviation highest in all vocations because it is his hobby, ambition, and best liked subject.

When asked his favorites in the entertainment world, he rated "Pride of the Yankees" as the best movie and Gary Cooper and Anne Baxter as his choice of actors.

It was very hard for Cecil to decide which food he likes best but he finally came to the conclusion the Pineapple Upside-down Cake is pretty good.

Cecil plans to join the Air Corps after graduation and we all wish him the best of luck in the world of aeronautics.

Notia News

Mrs. N. N. Flathers, who was ill for several days in the Pampa hospital, is improving and back home.

Several friends gathered in the F. L. Hamilton home Friday night to honor J. J. Morrissey, who is leaving Wednesday to make his home in St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. Morrissey is one of Ochiltree County's oldest old timers, having been in this community for almost 50 years.

He has been a good man and neighbor all these years and we hate to see him leave. Mr. Morrissey received several nice gifts from the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Good, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cotner, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cronister, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Kizlar, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor of Perryton were unable to attend but sent a gift and best wishes.

Mrs. Will Tandy went to Port Worth last week for an extended stay to be under the doctor's care.

The state postal inspector was in this community last week. Since he was unable to get anyone to take the Notia postoffice, it was discontinued.

Mrs. Raymond Byers spent the first of last week in the Hamilton home, as she was unable to get over the muddy roads to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ferguson were in Pampa last Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Kizlar made a business trip to Spearman, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McMillen were Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whippo. The Whippo's accompanied them home and spent the night.

War Roars From Wheat Fields

A wheat field near St. Hilaire, France, provides cover for this anti-aircraft gun and crew. This scene, which might have its counterpart in a thousand American areas, must remind GI's of home—and of ravages from which their native land has been spared.

Lone Tree H. D. Club

A display of foods showing discoloration and other signs of spoilage due to improper storage was followed by a discussion of the importance of proper storage when the Lone Tree H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. Robert Barlow, Wednesday, October 10. A kraut demonstration was given by Mrs. Virde Wheeler, county agent, and Mrs. Barlow showed the improvements made in her storage space by adding shelves.

Reports were given by the finance, yearbook and exhibit chairmen, and roll call was answered by labor saving devices. The following officers were reelected: Mrs. Amos Morris, president; Mrs. E. V. Lackey, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. George Pletcher, council delegate; and Mrs. Harold Holdeman, reporter.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Chas. Selby, Mrs. Haggard, a visitor, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. C. O. Peterson, Mrs. Frank Holdeman, Mrs. Harold Holdeman, Mrs. B. H. Murphy, Mrs. Julius Pahigoda, Mrs. J. H. Malaney, and Mrs. Robert Barlow.

They Look to the West

THEY LOOKED to the West for strength of arms . . . for liberation from the yoke of the oppressor.

And still they look. But they look now for food to keep alive the spark of life. They look for food for their children . . . their hope of the future . . . the hope of their unhappy, war-racked lands.

They look for clothing . . . warm clothing to protect them against the dread, sickening chill of coal-less houses.

They look for medicines and vitamins . . . to help them save their wounded, their ill, and their plague-stricken victims.

They look for seed . . . to plant the fallow earth once more . . . to eke out their famine rations of grass and weeds and ersatz, sawdust bread.

They look for hope.

Out of the cradle of liberty they pray that there will come the inspiration to build anew . . . with new rights, new freedoms, new opportunities for themselves.

They have suffered long, and they are weary. We cannot fail them . . . we must not fail them . . . now that a new day is so close at hand.

The things they need . . . food and clothing, medicines and vitamins . . . and hope for the future . . . are all made possible by your contribution this year to your Community War Fund, representing the National War Fund.

NORWAY AIDS ITS OWN

The drama of war is not always on the fighting front or in the hidden attack of the underground. The thrill of restoring human bodies, of salvaging minds harassed by the tortures of shipwrecked days, of rebuilding health—these miracles of modern science provide drama that often is left untold. In the files of the Royal Norwegian Public Health Service are many stories of selfless devotion, of the heart-tugging drama of men and women who devote their every waking hour to bringing brave fighters against Fascism back to health so that they again may help their fellow-warriors of the Allied Nations rid the world of Hitler's henchmen. In the many health centers, established by the Royal Norwegian Government in leading ports throughout the world, in the reading rooms, sanatoria, hospitals, may be read in the faces of brave Norwegians, stirring sages of the sea, of thrilling fights in the air, of Commando raids into Norway—and the battle of science and skill against the ravages of war's wounds. Here, too, may be seen visual evidence of how little Norway plays a major role in the war—not only with its mighty fleet and its brave sailors and soldiers—but with its unsung heroes of the stethoscope, the lancet and the microscope.

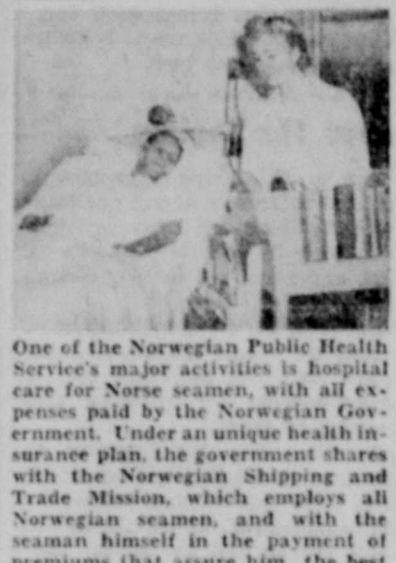

X-Rays for health is part of the Norwegian clinic's work in Halifax, Nova Scotia, one of several such health clinics located in Newcastle, England; London, Glasgow, Cardiff, Liverpool, Bombay and New York. An average of 3,000 consultations a month is reached at the largest of these clinics and all possible care and attention help Norwegian seamen reach a high standard in health.

The Norwegian Government's home for sailors at Katonah, New York, in the hills of Westchester, is a model rest home. Named "Eidsvold" in commemoration of the birthplace of Norway's freedom-expressing constitution, this lovely home is a haven for men and women of the merchant marine. Pictured above are Norwegians finding relaxation in cards under the benign eye of an Abraham Lincoln portrait on the wall.

The new Norwegian Seamen's Hotel in Brooklyn, New York, is the last word in comfort for the seamen. Fourteen stories high, its comfortable quarters provide rest, recreation and a home away from home for Norway's fighting seamen. It was purchased early this year by the Royal Norwegian Government under a program of social welfare for sailors and its recent formal opening, after remodeling, was a gala event attended by Crown Princess Martha of Norway, Ambassador Wilhelm Morgenstjerne and other Norwegian officials.

One of the Norwegian Public Health Service's major activities is hospital care for Norse seamen, with all expenses paid by the Norwegian Government. Under an unique health insurance plan, the government shares with the Norwegian shipping and Trade Mission, which employs all Norwegian seamen, and with the seaman himself in the payment of premiums that assure him the best of care and attention. Above is a Norse sailor in White Plains Hospital, White Plains, New York, selecting books from the library attended by a Norwegian-American social worker.

War has proved the value of considerate driving. And now this fine national habit keeps spreading.

There's been a fellow-feeling about cars. When it comes to even a dejected fender it's no longer a question of who's to blame, but of sparing one another from costly slow repairs—and footwork. Some such spirit has been making live-and-let-live driving so general. It's only logical to be fully as thoughtful of your engine. You'll exercise wise foresight by having it OIL-PLATED.

You can defy internal acid corrosion... engine suicide! ...by means of OIL-PLATING. You can do it by changing to popular-priced patented Conoco Nth motor oil—energized to surface your engine's interior with an acid-resistant shield of OIL-PLATING. This is the result of the special Conoco Nth ingredient developed by costly pioneer research. And while fluid oil alone goes draining down to the crankcase, OIL-PLATING remains as closely attached as if it were chromium plating—keeps on serving its special purpose of hampering contact between corrosive acids and metals!

These unavoidable acids of combustion—always had—reach their worst in cold weather, when there is rarely heat enough to get rid of acids. Hence they linger inside—aplenty. But every OIL-PLATED surface is armed against the spread of acid corrosion. That's why you want Conoco Nth oil now... from Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 15.

The Golden Text is: "God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him." (1 Thessalonians

5: 8, 10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day." (John 6: 40).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The scientific unity which exists between

God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must

'Impatient Years' Tells Timely, Poignant Story of War Marriage

Lee Bowman, an exciting new star, is co-starred with lovely Jean Arthur in "The Impatient Years," a story of the return of a GI from overseas to the wife he has known but four days.

"The Impatient Years," playing this Sunday and Monday at the Ellis theatre, sets a new pace for romantic comedy. It tells of a worried bride and an impatient groom hilariously falling in love again 18 months after their marriage.

Jean Arthur, as the quickly-married girl who bears her husband a child in his absence at the wars: Lee Bowman, newly raised to stardom after his triumphant portrayal in the recent "Cover Girl"; as her GI spouse; Charles Coburn as Jean's father, all give portrayals both heart warming and screamingly humorous.

'Kansas City Kitty' At Ellis Preview

Columbia's rollicking comedy hit, "Kansas City Kitty," starring radio's screwball comedienne, Joan Davis, and Bob Crosby, plays this Saturday night at the Ellis Theatre, at the 11:45 preview.

Besides the stars, the cast features Jane Frazee, Erik Rolf, Tim Ryan, Robert Emmett Keane and the Williams Brothers, who give a modern and novel rendition of that old favorite, "The Old Oaken Bucket."

Tops in Song and Story, 'Merry Monahans' Clicks

Together again! Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan play brother and sister in "The Merry Monahans," a heart-warming story of a family of troupers headed by Jack Oakie. Ann Blythe is co-starred.

"The Merry Monahans," one of Universal's biggest productions of the season, plays Thursday and Friday of next week at the Ellis theatre.

The film projects the considerable talents of Donald O'Connor, Peggy Ryan, Jack Oakie and Ann Blythe, mounted against a background of vaudeville in his halcyon days. The supporting lineup of topflight performers includes Rosemary DeCamp, Isabel Jewel, John Miljan and Gavin Muir.

Although the production offers twenty melodic tunes, fifteen of them oldies, and five originals, plus several lavish dance spectacles, these are part and parcel of the plot, which concerns the dramatic rise of a family of troupers.

Both the maturing O'Connor and his professional partner, Miss Ryan, reveal new facets to their versatility. They are capable of moving an audience to tears as well as to amusement and applause.

In his sixteen years before the cameras, Oakie has never had a finer role nor acquitted himself more creditably. His comedy is spontaneous, his serious moments poignant and convincing, and his dancing unrestrained.

Practical Tribute

The American Red Cross in Merced County, Calif., recently received a $250 donation, raised by the sale of the "best cow" from the prize dairy herd of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hultgren of nearby Winton. The donation was made in honor of the five young men now in the armed forces, who helped them build up their prize stock.

The Hultgrens were forced to abandon dairy operations when the young men who worked for them one by one joined the armed forces. Three expert dairymen selected the best cow, and a Modesto farmer bought her for $250.

Friends calling to see little Bonnie Lou Tatenhorst during her first week on the farm were Mrs. Greengr, Mrs. Rod, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Shubert and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Powell. Elma Ruth and Roy think Little Bonnie Lou a very precious little sister.

The writer stopping in the Rogers General Store in Purnsworth was greeted by a very charming little Miss Rebecca Carol Sparkman, the Roger's granddaughter. Asking in a very business like manner is there something for you, lady? I replied, yes, I am hungry and looking for something to snack on. Little Rebecca, looking very serious, said, "we have minced ham, balona, oranges, fresh fruit, bread and pop." Rebecca is only three and a half years old but she has an eye and mind for business as she informed me of several other things they had recently replenished their shelves with that they had not been able to get for some time.

Little Mary Lee Nitchske has a new rocker and is very busy rocking her dolls to sleep while she keeps her eye on her toy trucks, airplanes, tractors and other farm equipment as Marylee is truly a little farmerette.

Little Shirley and her brother, Terry Beck, are enjoying grandmother Mrs. W. M. Deck's spacious lawn and house to romp and play to their heart's content while their daddy is in the army—needless to say the yare getting a lot of loving by their mother, their grandmother and aunts.

Little Orlene Fullbright and her mother are now in Mineral Wells to be near Orlene's daddy, as he is stationed in a camp near there.

Little Wanaana, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bagley, likes very much to have her mother carry her to the Bagley store in Spearman to see her grandmother.

Joe Flowers has always seemed to be a very manly boy for his age, knowing and doing so many things around the farm. He now has the responsibility of motoring with his three smaller brothers and sisters about six miles to catch a bus for the Spearman school, but it makes no difference what task it is, Joe gets the job done in a manly way.

I was told Willis King was very anxious to start to school to play football. The first time he went out he sprained his ankle and limped around for some time. Football just wasn't what he thought it would be.

Callers in the J. A. King home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Knox Pipkin and family, Woods King, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Wilson, Buster and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. John King and children Anita and Willis visited with the J. A. Kings, Sunday.

The John King family spent the week-end at home catching up with the farm work. Mrs. King and Anita canning tomatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods King called in the Knox Pipkin home Monday evening.

Thursday the Pipkin family, Mrs. Orville Fullbright and Orlene, Mr. and Mrs. John Pipkin and daughters Yvonda and Pauline shopped in Pampa.

I heard a man who has to move to town to school his children say I'll be glad when wagon and horses come back and people can live peacefully on their farms without moving to town to school your children, when neighbors have time to visit, when there can be community gatherings, when we can have Sunday School in our little school house.

Mrs. Lalah Thomas left this morning for Waynoka, Okla., where she will visit friends for a week.

Hints on Taking Care of Your Coffee-Maker

Half the secret of good coffee is a clean coffee-maker. Clean periodically by perking a teaspoon of baking soda in water for a few minutes. Once a week air your metal coffee-maker in sunlight. The American Badge of Freedom APPEAL

by HOWARD FAST
Author of Citizen Tom Paine

It used to be that election day was a day of shouting, bonfires, and foolish bets; but this coming election day is like a day of prayer, a day of thanksgiving.

It used to be that we took the ballot for granted, as we took the fresh air and the sunshine and the bread we ate for granted; but the enemy showed us that we can take nothing for granted.

We had the right to vote; we had always possessed that right, and we felt we would always possess it. For all of that, it was a casual act, and if we had nothing better to do, we voted; otherwise, we didn't.

And then we learned that there are no rights but those for which we pay in blood. And in blood we paid!

The price was high, but all good things come dear; and if we never knew before what the ballot meant, surely we know now. Surely we were taught what the right to vote means. Surely, in all the history of this earth, there was never such a bitter, such a cruel and pointed lesson.

Let us not talk any more of the right to vote . . . or the privilege! It is a duty! It is the first and foremost duty of a citizen of a democracy!

Only by use of the ballot can he justify the very word democracy. Only by use of the ballot can he exercise the freedom for which Americans are dying.

There are no excuses, neither forgetfulness nor indifference. Each of us, as an individual, has it in his power to influence the future of this nation and the course of history. Each of us may cast but one vote. With the ballot we are equal in the truest sense of the word. Each of us, on election day, no matter how he votes, stands forth as the protagonist and justification of democracy.

The future is in our hands. What is asked of us? Only the small matter of casting a secret ballot on that Tuesday in November . . . the small matter which is the best and proudest possession of free men.

Let no one be absent from the polls! When that day comes, no cause is a greater cause than this! No need is a greater need! No duty is a higher duty!

We vote only because brave men have died for that right; but this democracy of ours, for which they fought, cannot endure unless we go forth to the polls on election day, fully conscious of our duty, our responsibility and our necessity.

Above all things, the ballot is the badge of freedom Americans wear!

AMERICA, WHAT NOW?

FEDERAL Tax Revenue

FISCAL YEAR 1943

During 1943, American business not only won the battle on the production front but it also paid into the federal treasury almost 40 percent of the taxes collected by the federal government. Total federal receipts for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1943, amounted to a little more than $22.5 billion, of which almost $10 billion was derived from business in corporation income and excess profits taxes. The federal government received $6.5 billion in personal income from individuals, not including payroll taxes deducted for social security, which amounted to an additional $1.5 billion. The combined revenue from liquor, tobacco, excise, estate and gift taxes, as well as miscellaneous taxes, totaled approximately $4.5 billion. High income taxes on business and individuals may be excusable in the national income is at peak levels but they would act as a brake on the economy in the postwar era, preventing the maintenance of full employment.

The Ochiltree Home Demonstration club met Friday, October 6, at 3:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Delbert Davis, for their regular meeting and to elect officers.

The following were elected to hold office for the new year: President, Mrs. Delbert Davis, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Blank; reporter, Mrs. Leon Shrader; coinell delegate, Mrs. Kirt Williams.

Mrs. Wheeler gave an interesting demonstration on "Causes of Spoilage in Canning." She used a display of spoiled fruit and vegetables. There are three main causes of spoilage: Faulty seal, poor storage; under processing.

Thirty refreshments were served to Mrs. Claude Crouch, Mrs. Kirt Williams, Mrs. A. L. Carter, Mrs. Ben Graham, Mrs. Robert Thurman, Mrs. Leon Shrader, Mrs. Oscar Blank, Mrs. Wheeler, and two visitors, Mrs. Jim Dodson and Mrs. Bill Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helfenbien will leave Saturday for a three week course of baths at Hot Springs, N. M.

Our Defenders Speak!

The Herald asks that men and women from this community serving in the armed forces write letters to this department for publication. Letters to relatives that would be of interest to the public will be published under this heading.

Ranikhet, India
Sept. 22, 1944

I hope you will pardon me for not writing you much sooner, but it seems that this has been the first real opportunity I have had.

At the present time I am located at Ranikhet, India, in a rest camp. I will be here for fifteen days, after which I will return to my organization and carry on with the war. Ranikhet is located in the Himalaya Mountains. This range of mountains is the highest in the world. Mt. Everest is located in this group. The beauty of these mountains even exceeds those of Colorado and boy, that is really saying something.

I am sure you are interested in knowing something about the people of India, so I will do my best to give you my impression. The first thing I noticed was their clothing. The majority of the people wear very few clothes and after being over here a while you can understand why. If it were not for army regulations I think most of the G.I.'s would be dressing like them. The men and women wear about the same thing; it is just the difference in the way they drape it around them. The men usually drape their shawl fashion, and the women wrap theirs around them. Most of the people wear a turban which serves many purposes, the main two seem to be for a cushion when they carry something on their head and for a dust cloth or utility rag.

I am sure you have heard of the sacred cows of India, but you probably never had any idea how many there were. It is said that there are one for every two persons. Anywhere you travel in India you will see cattle running around. Since they are sacred they are free to roam anywhere they please, and it seems that they choose the highways most of the time. You may see the Indians pushing the cattle out of the way or driving them from the open markets but they would never dream of killing a cow.

Due to the quantity of cattle in India, they are not as healthy as those in the U.S. There is just not enough feed to give them all the want. It is very odd to see cattle and water buffalo roaming the streets and sidewalks of the larger cities unmolested.

The caste system is very hard for us to understand over here. Every Hindu is born into the caste from which he must take his wife and which often determines how he shall earn a living. For instance those belonging to a certain caste will be water-carriers by occupation and their sons will continue to carry water. Originally there were four main caste groups: the Brahmins, or priests; the Kshatriyas, or warriors; the Vaishyas, or merchants; and the Sudras, or farmers. Now there are some 2,000 castes and sub-castes. At present there are many who do not follow the occupation of their caste, but they remain a part of the caste socially. The caste system is very much a part of their religion; they believe that if a member of the higher caste brushes against a member of the lower caste that he must immediately take a bath to become pure again.

According to caste rules a member of the higher class cannot eat food prepared by a member of a lower caste. Since we have no caste standing the religious Hindus will not eat or drink anything which we have touched. Some of them will not eat anything which only our shadow has fallen over. You may think unions are bad back there but you have never run into a caste system. A man who is a carpenter by caste over here will do nothing but carpenter work, and there is no way in the world that you can get him to sweep the floor; you just have to hire another man who is a sweeper. The Indian woman holds no place in society, comparable to the American woman. The women carry most of the burden over here, and I mean literally. All the heavy loads are carried on their head. It is not uncommon to see a group of women carrying some heavy object such as a sack of cement and place it on one of their heads, and she walks calmly away with the load. Most of the books you read about India tell of women wearing veils; however it is a very rare that a G.I. ever sees one. A married woman will always walk a few feet behind her husband in order to show her respect for him. The men never show their love for a woman in public such as holding hands, etc.—but it is not uncommon to see two grown men with beards walking down the street holding hands. Here you cannot tell if a woman is married by a ring on her left hand, but you can by looking at her forehead; if she has a red spot in the center of her forehead, she is married. Many of the women wear ornaments on their nose, ears, and ankles, but these are decorations only, and have no significant meaning.

The bazaars of India are very interesting to me. The Bazaar is the place where all the stores are located. The merchant will always ask a lot more than he expects to receive and sometimes you have to argue over a price for an hour before he comes down to the price you want to pay. I had a very interesting experience in a store the other day. I went into an ivory shop to look at some of the carvings and a very nice looking Indian came out to wait on me. I thought he was the best dressed one I had seen. He wore a brown coat, light grey trousers, a light green striped shirt, and a conservative red tie. I looked in his show case and found nothing I liked so he invited me behind the counter to look at some of his special stuff. He offered me a chair which I took, and he, in turn, sat right down on the floor oriental fashion; it was then that I noticed that he wore no shoes.

I have played several rounds of golf since I have been up here. Special services furnishes the clubs and we play on a British course. Since we have only one set of clubs we have one caddy for the four of us. In addition to the caddy we each have a ball chaser. The price for these luxuries is about 8 cents a round. When you get ready to tee off the ball chasers run down the fairway about 200 yards, turn around and face you. Most of the time the greens are not visible from the tee so the ball boy stands in line with the green and you shoot at him. As soon as you have shot he takes off in a sand trap or a water hole, but when you get to your ball it is off to one side or the other and all teed up. Of course sometimes you play with doubting Thomases and they think your ball boy moved it.

So far it has been impossible for me to send you a paper. Even though the papers are pre-censored we are not allowed to send them home. I guess I will have to bring you some when the war is over for your collection.

It is getting late now so I must close. I am receiving the paper and really appreciate it, for it brings more news than I would ever receive otherwise.

Yours truly,
Wilford Lane.

New Guinea
September 26, 1944

Dear Van:

Just received another Herald, so thought I would take time out to write a few lines. I am making it o.k. This is all a new experience for me over here but it's not so bad. We all thought it would be a lot worse.

There are some parts of New Guinea that are very pretty but most of it is just jungles. We have a good camp set up and our shade trees are coconut trees, which are very pretty tall trees. Look a lot like a palm tree but much taller. We are always on the lookout not to let one of those coconuts fall on our head.

Van, most of our work is on water, repairing and operating small boats. There is plenty of work for all. We work seven days a week. It is best to keep busy as the time passes a lot faster and that is too slow.

We have a few natives living close to our camp. Their huts, built over the water, look like they might fall down with a little push. The native men have really got their women on the ball—they do all the work while the men go fishing or sit in the shade. I guess that is all right if they can get by with it. I might try it myself when I get home. (I probably won't get over as good as the natives do.)

Well, it is time for chow now so will go get it. I want to thank you and the USO again for the Herald. It is wonderful to be able to read the home town news wherever we are. Tell all hello.

Your friend,
Arthur Elmore.

Somewhere in France
Sept. 25, 1944

Dear Van and Jessie,
As you recall, my last letter stated that I was still in England, and wanted to go to France. My wish was gratified shortly after I wrote that letter, and here I am.

I've been in the field long enough to become used to shelter halves and C rations. I just hope I can hang on to the shelter half. It does keep the rain out.

I've been re-assigned and am no longer in Division headquarters. I am to move on with a team to follow the advancing armies and administer the cities so the follow up combat troops can pass through with a minimum of civilian interference. It should prove interesting and I shall be much closer to the activities of war.

Some of these towns are really shambles. St. Lo is just nothing but masses of brick and concrete rubble. More about my sights later.

I'll send my new address as soon as I find out what it will be. The Herald is still coming on time.

Yours,
Harold

Somewhere in India
July 23, 1944

Dear Grandma and Grandpa:
It has been some time since I can recall having written you, but I likewise cannot find any of your recent letters. You see, I usually have to destroy the letters after they have been answered, as they pile up too much.

Anyway, I have an interesting insight on Indian marriage that I thought you would like. Times have changed here in India for the Indians. The old days the parents made the bargain when their kids were babies. Today, the choice is with the young man (real modern!). For instance, one of our bearers, age 20, decided he wanted to get married. He had heard that a certain family had a daughter of marriageable age. This one happens to be 11 years old. None of the young suitors have seen her before his first visit to the house. First, her father is in the house alone, when "he" arrives. They make tentative arrangements for the two-week period of decision or I should say "indication." Then father leaves and "she" comes into the "his" presence veiled. "He" is then permitted to size her up, as it were for the first time. Then he has the unmistakable privilege of raising her veil. So, then he sees for himself just what kind of a face the old gal has.

Then for two weeks he has a chance to make up his mind. If he decides "Yes," the fathers get together to settle the dowry, engagement, and wedding feasts and holidays. When the actual ceremony takes place, "HE" places his thumb in a bucket of sacred blood, and politely places a print on "her" forehead. This clinches the deal, and they are eternally hitched. So after a minimum of six weeks carrying on, the happy couple will settle down in some fashionable mud plastered bamboo hut, to live happily ever after.

12,000,000th Member

The twelve millionth member of the Boy Scouts of America since it started nearly 35 years ago is 12-year-old Preston Elksworth Koontop (above) who is doing a man-sized job, handling tractors and other farm machinery on his father's 151-acre farm at Brandon, Wis. His dad was a Boy Scout in the same town just 30 years ago. Typifying the average American boy, the twelve millionth member was the guest of national rural and Boy Scout leaders at a luncheon in Chicago and spoke on a coast-to-coast hook-up with Burridge D. Butler, Editor and Publisher of "Prairie Farmer," Wheeler McMillen, Editor of "Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife," both members of the National Committee on Rural Scouting, Walter W. Head of St. Louis, President of the Boy Scouts of America and Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive and Editor of "Boys' Life."

He'll probably continue to bring home the bacon while working for the Americans, but between little bambinos, he'll go to work in a nearby juke mill, or carry bricks on her head for some contractor. Ah, such bliss!

This week down at an American mission in the village, three of us are conducting a week's meetings. We don't expect large crowds, but after considerable prayer and conversation, we feel that it is the Lord's will. If just one soul would decide for Christ, it will be worth the effort. We have three or four that are definitely on our prayer list. We would like your prayers for there is much work that should be done for the Lord at this place. So many soldiers need Christ so much. We are praying for the right words and witness that will turn men's hearts to Him. We are not responsible for anything, and what little is accomplished, we give Him all the Glory.

Hoping to hear from you soon,
Your grandson in Christ,
Thaine.

England
Wednesday, Sept. 20, 1944

Dear Folks,
Guess you all have been wondering why the big delay in writing, but honestly, it's very simple to explain. I am now at a rest home, commonly called a "flak home" by the air crew members which it is being run for. It is army operated, but is run a lot by Red Cross basis, which makes it almost the same as any big summer resort on the seacoast where this is located.

We got to come here, as every crew does, when we finished a certain amount of missions, which is prescribed by army doctors and the big wheels of the 8th air force. We are supposedly to have been in such a strain as to the point that some of the fellows are "flak happy." I mean by that, that we have seen so much flak that we are supposed to be a bit slap happy, like a guy that has boxed the biggest part of his life and become punch drunk in the head and caused his nerves to be shot all to hell and gone, but don't get the wrong idea, because every crew gets the leave such as this or similar, whenever they reach their prescribed missions.

About my not writing, I have been so busy having fun that everything has just about slipped my memory until today when I came to life and got off the wagon and cut my sports.

long enough to drop you all these few meekly lines. Am having the most wonderful time ever; that is in the ETO. Dancing, boating, swimming, riding horseback and bicycles, golfing, playing tennis, a little football, snooker, ping pong, and enjoying myself at the amusement park on the lake front. It is really and truly wonderful here. The city is very modern and up to date; reminds me of the cities back in the states. Wide streets, trees and shrubbery, large parks and up to date buildings, most of all. Several different hospitals, convalescent homes and what have you and the people can't be beat anywhere in England. Girls are awfully nice here, too. Ha! I have the cutest little thing that ever walked. Good at all sports and a swell dancer, but doesn't compete at all with her sweetness, which incidentally, keeps me very much interested in her and her doings. Not jealousy, you know, just that I like to look out for my own interests and at the same time keep her happy and sweet as she really is. Ha!

Was showing her some photos of the family yesterday. She thinks it is a swell family and approved every last picture, but best of all she liked Dock, and then with a sly look gives me that old hint that she would be very proud to be part of such a family and especially be so closely related to such a swell looking brother of mine, but then is where I began talking and am still talking my way out of such a deal. A guy can sure get in a mess easy if he doesn't watch himself, you know; so I am still playing things safe. Ha, Ha!

I could write on and on for several hours, but since it is time for chow and I have a bit of cleaning up to do before going out tonight guess I had best come to a close and say "adieu" until next time.

Take care of yourselves and write as often as always.

Love,
Charles

Our Mums Will Be
The "Talk of the Town"

Yes indeed, folks, we're certainly proud of the lovely selection of chrysanthemums in our greenhouses. In a week or ten days they'll be in full bloom and believe us, you'll never see a larger or lovelier collection. Come by to see them, you'll be thrilled . . . and we'll be glad to have you.

Mums are the outstanding flower of the season. Choose a mixed bouquet of baby Mums in pale yellow and white for a delicate floral piece, or splashy giant Mums in autumn's gay russet shades for color and cheer.

In Any Event . . . Send Flowers

If you're wondering what to send, don't delay any longer in selecting her favorite flowers . . . for an anniversary birthday, or just to show your thoughtfulness. Flowers help morale, add cheer to autumn days.
