Uneasy Nazis Await Next Allied Blow

Move At Cassino Puzzles Germans

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 28.—Showing mounting uneasiness about their flanks in the Cassino area, the Germans after a sharp but unsuccessful attack in the hills north of the stronghold are laying a steady artillery barrage on Allied positions to the south, it was announced today.

The Nazis, obviously puzzled as to where the Fifth Army might strike next in an effort to break the Italian deadlock, attacked yesterday along the road between the villages of Cairo and Terelle, some four miles from Cassino, but were thrown back by Allied artillery and infantry. An enemy patrol that maneuvered around to a point northeast of Cairo also was scattered.

Spray Entire Area

Preceding these two exploratory thrusts, German artillery and mortars sprayed the entire area liberally to discourage any concentration of Allied forces for a flanking move through the hills.

For the second day hundreds of Allied guns smashed steadily at German strongpoints in the southwest corner of Cassino and along Highway 6 leading from the shattered town to Rome. The greatest weight of shells was thrown at the Hotels Continental and Des Roses, into whose ruins Nazi parachute troops have burrowed. German artillery replied in a night-long pounding of Allied positions south of Cassino.

On Anzio Beachhead

Six different patrol clashes were reported on the Anzio beachhead, mainly in the Cisterna and Carroceto areas, and it was disclosed that three small German attacks of platoon strength were broken up Sunday afternoon.

The Allied heavy bomber force was inactive, but lighter craft swarmed out in some 1,400 sorties against railway lines, bridges, air fields and other targets throughout central Italy. Three planes were lost and two German craft were destroyed of about 65 seen over the battle area.

Germans Pound Invasion Bases

LONDON, March 28 (AP)— The Germans, who are reinforcing their western front and warning their people of imminent attack, made an extensive and strong air raid against southern England last night which apparently was aimed at Allied invasion preparations.

The Germans' evident purpose was to find out how much supplies and personnel the Allies have concentrated in southern England for a possible invasion take-off and to do as much damage as possible to the invasion set-up.

It was one of the heaviest aerial attacks in two years outside London.

Considerable Damage

The Germans announced that their target was Bristol, one of England's prime ports and harbors. The British acknowledged only that considerable damage was done to a coast town.

The attacking force was composed of between 100 and 200 planes, and it stirred strong coastal anti-aircraft batteries into one of their biggest barrages. At least 11 German planes were shot down. British casualties included at least nine persons killed by defective anti-aircraft shells in south England and Wales.

The Berlin radio said that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had inspected defensive positions on the Dutch coast which were hit Sunday by hundreds of Allied medium bombers attacking an E-boat nest at Ijmuiden. Rommel's headquarters are at Breda, The Netherlands.

He has six sons in the Army. Four married sons are now classified 1-A. His oldest child is 39 and the youngest is 3. He has been married three times and has 21 grandchildren.

An ordained minister turned war-worker, Knapp is in his 50's.

Reds Topple Nazi Base At Nikolaev

Troops Farther North Plunge On Across Bug In Surge Toward Crumbling Odessa

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Wednesday, March 29. — The Red Army yesterday crushed the German garrison of Nikolaev, former Soviet Black Sea fleet base at the mouth of the Bug, and in a surprise night crossing 60 miles upstream joined other Russian forces striking swiftly southward across the flat steppes on a 175-mile front toward Odessa, 75 miles away, Moscow announced today.

In Rumania, other Red Army units were assaulting the key rail city of Iasi, the Berlin radio said, but Moscow has not confirmed this report. If true, it would be the first Soviet smash into Axis territory.

Kovel Said Encircled

Another German broadcast late last night indicated Russian troops had encircled Kovel in the east-central part of old Poland, saying Nazi troops there were being supplied by air.

A midnight bulletin told of the night crossing of the Bug, the capture of Domanevka, 77 miles north of Odessa, and 40 localities on the opposite side of the river.

The Russian threat to Odessa was especially acute, Moscow said, because in Bessarabia far to the west Soviet units were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspol-Iasi railroad—the last main German supply or escape artery.

Remnants Hurled Into River

Nikolaev fell after several days of fierce fighting in which the remnants of the German garrison were hurled into the Bug river to drown or be mowed down by machinegun fire, Moscow said.

"Infantry and tank men were supported by the vigorous operations of naval and Marine detachments which had landed on the southern outskirts of Nikolaev," the bulletin said.

The Russians were declared to have seized 176 towns and villages in six sectors during the day.

In the southeastern part of old Poland the Russians drove to within 40 miles of Czecho-Slovakia with the capture of Gvozdets, a district center of the Stanislav region only 11 miles northeast of Kolomea on the Czernoditz-Lwow railway. That represented a 10-mile advance from Gorodenka, captured Monday.

Closing Another Trap

Gvozdets is 40 miles northwest of Czernowitz, Bucovina capital in whose outskirts the Russians were reported fighting, and the Soviet troops were smashing toward the Tatar pass leading over the Carpathian mountains into Czecho-Slavakia.

Northeast of Czernowitz the converging Russians were only 15 miles from closing a sack on large enemy forces caught near Kamenets-Podolsk just above the middle Dniester river. Linkovtsy, 15 miles southeast of Kamenets-Podolsk on the southern side of the river, fell to the Russians, said the bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Group Meets With Board On Friday

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP) — Administrative affairs of Texas A&M college, including discharge of Dr. T. O. Walton as president, will be discussed by a special Senate investigating committee and the college board of directors here Friday.

Chairman Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo said in a formal statement the committee expected "to hear testimony by some members of the board of directors . . . and likely others who have information affecting that institution."

He did not disclose whether Dr. Walton would be summoned.

Law Announces Meeting

(In Houston, F. M. Law, board chairman, announced the board would meet jointly with the committee. He added that reports he would testify were incorrect.

(Metcalfe said in a long distance telephone conversation that Law had agreed to appear and later added in a telegram the committee "will hear the A&M board Friday."

(Law had said in his statement that the committee and board would meet jointly at the committee's invitation, the joint meeting to follow a board meeting "to discuss several routine matters, including the subject of the presidency and the most recent developments on the extension service matter.")

Discharged Last Year

Dr. Walton was discharged as president last year. At that time ill health was assigned as the

New Deal Regime Meets Challenge

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 28. —Democrats reasserted their grip on Oklahoma's traditionally Democratic Second district tonight, winning a special congressional election in the face of an aggressive

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 28. (AP) The Second Oklahoma congressional district has been Democratic since 1936.

In the past four elections the vote was:

	1936	1938	1940	1942
Democratic	45,174	28,608	50,851	21,651
Republican	20,310	15,235	35,608	21,760

Republican challenge. Both sides had proclaimed the Roosevelt administration on trial.

Unofficial returns from 304 of the district's 331 precincts;

Democratic W. G. Stigler, 21,193.

Republican E. O. Clark, 17,678.

The precincts still unreported are scattered in less populous areas of the district.

Third Out Of Eleven

The result gave the party of Roosevelt its third triumph in 11 special congressional elections over the country since 1942, Republicans having won eight including three seats which, like that at issue here, were Democratic.

Stigler, former department commander of the American Legion, has served two four year terms in the state Senate. He was president pro tem one term. For the past seven years he has been attorney for the Choctaw Indian nation. He has been a life long resident of the town named for his family, Oklahoma pioneers.

Clark withheld comment as the vote piled steadily against him, saying he would await complete official figures. Clark, likewise the Republican nominee in 1942, lost by only 385 votes that year and unsuccessfully contested the outcome.

Despite the widespread interest—with national party leaders of both parties having proclaimed the balloting a test of New Deal policies in this normally-Demo-

Young Couple Die In Suicide Pact

BALDWIN, N. Y., March 28. (AP)—Two young warplant workers married in Wilmington, Del., 10 days ago were found dead today after what Nassau county Police Inspector Harold R. King called "the most deliberate, the best planned suicide pact we have seen in 20 years."

The couple, Carl A. Klint, 23, and the former Ruth M. White, 21, both residents of Brooklyn and employes of the Bendix Aviation corporation's plant in New York, were found dead in a parked automobile. County Medical Examiner Frank Pomeranz attributed their death to motor fumes, and said they had been dead at least 48 hours.

Both bride and groom, dressed for death in their best clothes, were clutched in each other's arms as they sat on the front seat. She wore a chartreuse tailored suit and corsage of red roses, with a silver fox jacket over her shoulders. He was in neat blue serge suit.

Called Up By Navy

In Klint's coat pocket was a letter from the U. S. Navy directing him to report for duty in the Seabees on April 3. There, too, was a carefully worded will signed by Klint, police said, but written and witnessed by his bride. Police withheld contents of the will pending investigation.

Roadworkers noticed the parked automobile in an abandoned reservoir yesterday morning. When they saw it again this morning they investigated and found the bodies inside, with all windows closed and the doors locked.

A hole had been chisilled into the rear of the sedan and the exhaust pipe twisted to fit into the hole, police said. Two cracks which might have admitted some fresh air were covered.

Italian King Pledges New Regime With "Larger Base"

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

NAPLES, March 28. (AP) — King Vittorio Emmanuele has pledged himself to form a government with "a larger base" after the Allied capture of Rome, with an Italian parliament to be elected within four months after peace is established, it was disclosed today.

The king's personal program for the government of Italy was made public by Vito Reale, minister of the interior, in a speech at a rally of the Italian Democracy party in Potenza last Sunday and reported for the first time.

The program was embodied in a letter which the king sent to Lt. Gen. Frank N. M. McFarlane, deputy president of the Allied Control commission, last Oct. 21.

The announcement coincided with the arrival today at Palmiro Togliatti, head of the Italian Communist party and former secretary of the Communist International, from long exile in Moscow. Togliatti, also known as Ercoli, immediately called a meeting of party leaders from various parts of the country for Thursday.

With the return of Togliatti, a lessening of left-wing opposition to the king and Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio was forecast in Italian political quarters.

The king's seven-point program called for continuance of the present ministry until the government returned to the capital. "Once Rome has been liberated from the Germans there shall be constituted a ministry with a larger base which shall include representatives of all parties, but no one in any way compromised by fascism," it stated.

State Rests In Chaplin's Trial

Joan Denies She Asked Settlement

LOS ANGELES, March 28. (AP) —The government rested its case late this afternoon in the trial of Charlie Chaplin on two counts of Mann act violation.

The end of the government's main prosecution came shortly after Joan Berry, Chaplin's accuser, denied indignantly on cross-examination that she had demanded a $150,000 settlement from the actor on the ground that he was the father of her child.

Few Questions Allowed

Jerry Giesler, Chaplin's attorney, asked the question when she was recalled for cross-examination after the defense lawyer had succeeded in gaining court permission to ask only four or five of 40 questions he had sought to propound in a further examination into Miss Berry's past.

"Is it not a fact that about June 1, 1943," Giesler asked, "you met Mr. Chaplin in his garden and accused him for the first time of being the father of your unborn child and asked him for $75,000 for you and your mother and that $75,000 be placed in trust for the child? Did you not say that you

Arsonist Blamed For Fire Fatal To 22

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (AP)—An arsonist turned a Fourth street hotel into a whirlwind of flaming death today.

Twenty two persons lost their lives and some of the 30 injured may die.

Police agreed with Fire Marshal Frank Kelly that there was no question the blaze in the New Amsterdam hotel was set; that five other fires last night, and five Sunday night were likewise the acts of a fire-bug.

The deaths occurred just after midnight, and 12 hours later only one person had been identified positively.

Fire Marshal Kelly said he had evidence that a pile of "highly inflamable material" had been touched off at the second floor stairway landing, blocking the only route of escape for many residents.

Report Shows Heavy Air Blows By U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP) —Reviewing the European aerial offensive, the Army reported today that between Feb. 20 and March 9 this year the AAF flew 7,044 heavy bomber sorties against Germany, escorted by 10,356 fighter sorties, dropping 17,256 tons of bombs.

Bombers and fighters destroyed a total of 1,023 enemy fighters in the air during this period, and lost 414 heavy bombers and 121 fighters.

The personnel losses of the AAF totaled 4,261 men, but on the basis of past experience, at least half of these are believed to be alive as prisoners.

Japs Claim Burma Gains

Allied Force "Wiped Out;" U. S. Batters Island Bases

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

TOKYO claims its troops are wiping out a large American-British airborne force in north-central Burma.

One of the Japanese columns invading India reported Tuesday it was continuing its attacks against British defense lines while in North Burma American and Chinese infantrymen scored new successes.

In the Southwest Pacific, Allied bombers distributed 300 tons of bombs over the defenses of Rabaul, New Britain; Kavieng, New Ireland; Bougainville in the Solomons; and Wewak and Hansa Bay, New Guinea. An enemy cargo ship was bombed and left in flames off Kaimana on southwestern Dutch New Guinea, where Japanese vessels are seldom seen.

Remnants "Mopped Up"

Looking ahead toward a renewal of the drive across the Pacific to the China coast and Tokyo, the House of Representatives voted more than a billion dollars to develop "advance bases" for the Navy.

Tokyo radio asserted Japanese were "mopping up" remnants of three American and British brigades, landed early in March by gliders and transports near Katha in north-central Burma, 150 miles behind Japanese lines. Like other airborne Allied units in North Burma, they were being supplied by planes. Katha is on a spur of the railroad from Mandalay, supply line for the enemy base at Myitkyina.

Farther north American and Chinese infantrymen fought down the Mogaung valley toward the railway. The Chinese captured another village while the Americans annihilated suicide squads with bayonets and grenades.

Determined Attacks

Determined attacks were made by the northern Japanese column invading India in an attempt to break through British lines to the Imphal-Kohima road. Hard fighting was reported in this sector near Ukhrul, 32 miles northeast of Imphal.

A second expeditionary column, southeast of Imphal, appeared to be stopped just inside the Indian border. Lord Louis Mountbatten said efforts to clear the road south of Imphal of a third enemy force "continue satisfactorily."

Abortive Nipponese counterattacks in southwest Burma cost them heavy casualties.

Wintry Blasts Sweep Plains

Lubbock wriggled a little deeper in the shucks Tuesday night at prospects of another night of subfreezing temperatures after Old Man Winter, acting mighty spry for his age, threw about everything in the weather book at it yesterday morning.

Rain, hail, sleet and snow, whipped by a stiff norther, hit the city, dropping the temperature from 47 degrees at 3 a. m. to 27 at 10 a. m., and dealing what may prove to be a death blow to early vegetables and tender shrubs. It was the second "cold spell" in the last 10 days.

Mercury In Upper 20's

At 9 o'clock last night West Texas Gas company reported a reading of 28. Temperatures in the low twenties seemed in the cards for early today. From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. yesterday the mercury was hung on 26.

Clearing skies gave support to the weatherman's forecast of generally fair weather for West Texas today, with temperatures not quite so low on the South Plain.

A hail storm, beginning about 4:30 a. m. and lasting about an hour, preceded the cold blast in the weather's campaign to annihilate fruit and garden plants. Hailstones were believed to have fallen mostly in Lubbock county.

Precipitation of .94 inches was recorded in Lubbock.

A report from Levelland said two inches of sleet fell there and that livestock was suffering. Traces of snow sleet fell there and that livestock was suffering. Traces of snow and hail with rain was reported from Spur, and rain and sleet fell in the Tahoka area. Crosbyton reported sleet, hail and rain.

Nazi Dromes In France Pounded

30 Grounded Nazi Planes Destroyed

LONDON, March 28 (AP)—Striking in a campaign of mounting intensity against bases from which the luftwaffe defends Europe, 250 to 500 U. S. heavy bombers rained explosives and incendiaries on four airfields in northern France today.

Heavily-escorted formations of Flying Fortresses slapped at Chartres, 40 miles southwest of Paris; Chateaudun, 30 miles farther southwest; Reims, 80 miles northeast, and Dijon, 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Nazis Sulk On Ground

As yesterday, when nine French airdromes were attacked by between 750 and 1,000 big bombers, the German air force seemed to be sulking on the ground, leaving the defense to thinly-scattered batteries of anti-aircraft guns.

"Unable to bring the luftwaffe to battle," said the U. S. communique announcing today's raids, the American escort fighters "attacked enemy planes on the ground, destroying 30, including many bombers, and damaging more than a score."

The air forces of both bombers and fighters involved today were described as medium in the announcement, which said two bombers and three fighters were missing.

12 Bases Splintered

Thus in two days the Eighth Air force has splintered 12 key enemy airdromes and destroyed at least 72 Nazi craft on the ground at an expenditure of eight bombers and 13 fighters.

As an indication of the luftwaffe's declining strength, on March 18 when the Eighth Air Force destroyed 82 planes in the air during raids upon Augsburg, Friedrichshafen and other targets, the Nazis knocked down 43 U. S. bombers and 10 fighters.

FDR Has Check-Up In Naval Hospital

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP) President Roosevelt went to the naval hospital today for X-rays because of the persistence of a case of bronchitis which he has had now for three weeks.

Telling his press-radio conference about it, Mr. Roosevelt said he felt fine aside from the ailment which kept him coughing and wheezing even as he talked with the reporters.

"You don't view yourself with alarm?" a reporter asked.

Laughing, the President said not at all. About one case of bronchitis out of 48,500 develops into pneumonia, he remarked, but he would not put that into the headlines.

Mr. Roosevelt kept to his living quarters in the White House most of last week because of a cold and the bronchial trouble, his secretariat reported that he ran no fever, however, and he held his regular Friday conferences with the cabinet and the press.

U. S. Admits Protests To British On "News Leaks"

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)— The State department disclosed today that it had protested to Britain against four news leaks in London, but reiterated its denial that it sought to have the British impose political censorship.

At the same time it appeared that the British similarly had complained to the United States about "premature" disclosures on important inter-governmental news. The State department said it was customary to register protests on either side whenever the other let important news leak prematurely out in violation of British-American secrecy agreements.

Today's disclosures stemmed from a recent charge by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York that the State department had requested British censors to suppress political news sent to American newspapers by American correspondents abroad. Secretary of State Hull yesterday replied that Dewey was 100 per cent wrong.

Today, at Hull's press conference, Bertram D. Hulen, New York Times reporter, called attention to a dispatch from London to his paper. This dispatch said Hull's denial raised the question of what he meant by political, adding that if the word was used synonymously for "diplomatic" the record "is not so clear."

"There have been repeated instances," the dispatch said, "of objections from Washington to stories by American correspondents for American newspapers about diplomatic developments

Southland Man One Of 40 Back In Oklahoma Hospital

CHICKASHA, Okla., March 28. (AP)—Forty overseas casualties from Texas were among patients received by Borden General hospital here this week.

Most are from England; none served with the 36th or 45th divisions. They came by special hospital train from another Army service forces hospital on the east coast, the object being to treat the men as close to their homes as possible.

"There is a bit of difference in being a cowpuncher, an MP and a baker, but they all come easy when it is necessary," said Cpl. William T Wilhelm, Blackwell, Texas, who spent seven months in England with the Eighth AAF.

Before entering the Army in August, 1942, Wilhelm was a rancher. His first Army job was being a military policeman, but when he reached England the Army made a baker of him.

Southland Man In Group

Returned to the U. S. because of defective hearing, Wilhelm is receiving treatment and training in the rehabilitation program for war casualties with hearing loss. Borden General hospital is one of three Army service forces hospitals designated by the surgeon general to deal with this type of patient.

Another Texan returned because of hearing-loss is Pvt. James E. Martin, Southland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin. He took his basic training at Lubbock Army Air field, went overseas in September, 1943.

The patients arrived in the middle of the night after a long trip but were in excellent spirits, glad to be in the Eighth Service command. The general question was "when do I get a furlough?"

Texas soldiers received this week by Borden General hospital included:

Lt. William H. Alsup, San Angelo; Pvt. Oscar R. Bucher, Waco; Pvt. Everett C. Casper, Cisco; T/3 George L. Clendening, Knox City; T/3 Alred G. Cordaway, Floresville; Cpl. D. R. Cotten, Mineral Wells; Pvt. James A. Crawford, Zavalla; Pfc. Emitt Curry, San Augustine; S/Sgt. Thomas E. Duncan, McGregor.

Pfc. Raymond M. Rudally, Pecos; M/Sgt. Ernest L. Franklin, Eagle Lake; Cpl. Alonso C. French, Maydelle; Pvt. Narvel L. Garrett, Yoakum;

Bride Wants Court To Make Papa Let Hubby Come Home

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 28 (AP)—Shades of William Shakespeare—an up-to-the-minute version of his "Romeo and Juliet" is scheduled to be acted out in Middlesex probate court today when Mrs. Mary Ann Brydges Mulligan, 18, faces the 16-year-old bridegroom she claims was seized on their honeymoon by his father and since held prisoner.

Petitioning for the release of her husband, Mrs. Mulligan stated that she and Joseph Patrick Mulligan, jr., were married Feb. 26 at Town Gates, N. Y.

She charged that as soon as they returned from their wedding trip her husband was seized by his father. Since then, she alleged, he has been held a prisoner behind a specially padlocked door at his parents' home in nearby Somerville.

In turn the young bridegroom's father petitioned the court to declare the boy's marriage null and void as he was only 16 and had not obtained his parents' consent.

The court yesterday issued an order for the appearance of the senior Mulligan and his son today.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Two Face Bank Robbery Charge

Jimmy Leroy Pennick and Bill Lambert face federal charges in connection with robbery Jan. 5, 1942, of the Sudan First National bank.

They were released several days ago from the state penitentiary, at expiration of state penal terms, according to Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the Northern Federal district.

Pennick had posted $5,000 bond and been released from Lubbock county jail, and Lambert was held in lieu of similar bond, she said Tuesday.

Charges recite that they entered a national bank with intent to commit robbery and an assault to commit bank robbery.

Indictment Had Been Held

The indictment, voted by a Fort Worth federal grand jury May 29, 1942, had been held here awaiting expiration of the state's mandate. A detainer was placed with Huntsville penitentiary authorities and a new warrant was sued out before a U. S. commissioner in Houston and was served when the men walked from the state penitentiary. They were removed here by the Houston marshal.

C. M. Furneaux, assistant cashier of the Sudan bank, was forced by two overall-clad bandits armed with pistols to give them $5,489.16.

Furneaux was locked in the bank vault, but the bandits acceded to his request that the vault's trigger be "tripped" so that he wouldn't smother. When he heard the bandits leave he rushed out and gave the alarm.

Lived At Denver City

Pennick, then 20, lived at Denver City. He was arrested two days after the robbery, in Fort Worth, after a drunken spending spree climaxed by tipping a shine boy $11. He was in a tavern, and had stacks of one- and five-dollar bills in the pockets of his new clothing, a total of $976. He confessed complicity in the bank robbery and named the handsome cowboy Lambert as leader in the violation.

Lambert, then 28, calmly admitted the robbery after his arrest at Denver City after building up alibis from a moment two hours after the robbery. Two one-gallon buckets of currency were dug from the ground where he directed officials to hunt. He said he and Pennick went into the bank at 3 a.m. the morning of the robbery and waited for Furneaux to come in and open the bank vault.

Zone 5 Registration Starts Here Today

Registration of rental property in Zone No. 5 will get under way at the area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q, today. Landlords with property in this zone, which is bounded on the south by Nineteenth street, on the west by Avenue Q to fourth street where it makes a jog to Avenue P, then north to the city limits, and takes in all territory north and east of these boundaries, will register today and Thursday.

Total registration through Monday night was 3,444, according to Earl W. Heath, area rent director for the OPA. 556 landlords registered Monday.

Heath pointed out that some landlords with property outside of the city of Lubbock think they do not have to register this property. All landlords outside the city of Lubbock are required to register and may come in at any time.

Property owners of Slaton will register there on April 4, 5, and 6, Heath said.

He added that some landlords are of the opinion that when they file a petition of adjustment they will be allowed to raise the rent immediately. This is not true. The landlord must wait until the area rent office issues an order authorizing the raising of the rent. This is effective on the date of the order and not before, he said.

Stevenson To Use Hands Off Policy In National Ballot

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today he would keep hands off the presidential and vice-presidential races in Texas, confirming the general impression that the Democratic party organization in this state will have only a vice-presidential axe to grind.

At a press conference followed by a meeting with Col. Myron Blalock, Texas' national committeeman and Chairman George Butler of the state executive committee, Stevenson said many persons had asked him whether he would exert his influence for or against renomination of President Roosevelt.

No Reason For Action

"I see no reason for a candidate for state office to attempt to influence the state's decision on a candidate for national office," he declared.

Stevenson, Butler and Blalock conferred on the eve of tomorrow's state executive committee meeting, at which these matters ranked high in the order of business:

1. Consideration of the possibility of party action to waive payment of poll taxes by members of the armed forces wishing to vote absentee;

2. Study of plans to be presented by Blalock and Mrs. Clara Driscoll, national committeewoman from Texas, for the national campaign in Texas;

3. Selection of a site for the May 23 convention at which the Texas delegates to the national presidential nominating convention will be named;

Two-Thirds Rule

4. Consideration of a resolution to be offered to the Senate convention, strongly urging restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule at Democratic national conventions, and securing a reapportionment of convention voting strength.

Stevenson, titular head of the party in Texas whose wishes usually prevail with the organization, and Butler, are outspoken advocates of restoration of the two-thirds rule.

Butler reiterated an opinion the state executive committee has no power to waive the poll tax payment for absentee voting members of the armed forces, but added he would entertain a motion in behalf of a resolution pledging the party to open the primaries if some member of the committee offers it.

Committee members were reluctant to discuss on the record the recurring report that the state convention would be asked to send a delegation to Chicago instructed for Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn for the vice-presidential nomination.

Lot Of Good Texans

"I'm for any good Texan for vice-president, and there are a lot of good Texans," said Blalock. Stevenson has been frequently mentioned as a vice-presidential possibility.

Stevenson asserted he would not attemp to influence selection of delegates to the national convention.

He added that his statement in regard to keeping hands off the national race would not preclude him from accepting leadership of the Texas delegation to Chicago, no matter whether or not it was instructed. Stevenson said he was not sure, however, whether he would be able to attend the national convention.

Nazis Use New Mine In Italy

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—A new product of Teutonic ingenuity, an all but deadly land mine which cannot be located by detection instruments, has appeared on the Italian front to impose one more problem for the American ground forces battling there.

Lt. Col. Alfred K. Du Moulin, back from observation duty with the 34th Infantry, told of the mine in a report today to Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commanding general of Army ground forces.

Known as the "wooden shoemine," the anti-personnel device is made of plywood or plastic and is called "the worst curse" of all the enemy's weapons. Until the non-metallic mine appeared engineers and infantry moving out in the wake of retreating enemy forces could locate buried explosives with detectors actuated by magnetism.

Looks Like Bar Of Soap

The new mine, Du Moulin reports, "looks like an innocent bar of soap but has enough TNT in it to blow off a man's fot when stepped on."

A kettle-shaped, portable pillbox "is one of the most astonishing defenses the Germans have developed," the observer said. Although it is about five feet in diameter and six feet high, only the six-inch concrete dome and machine gun snout are visible when the pillbox is sunk into place. Camouflage makes it all but indistinguishable beyond 10 yards.

The Nazis are adapting every feature of the rugged Italian terrain to defensive use, he declared.

Battered Liberator And Crew Back For War Plant Visits

DALLAS, March 28. (U.P.)—The Army brought a piece of the war back from the fighting fronts today to give defense workers in the Dallas area concrete proof they are helping in the Victory drive.

The crew of the "Blue Streak," one of the most famous of American bombers, arrived in Dallas and will spend the next three days touring war plants and personally thanking the men and women who build planes for the job they are doing.

The battered "Blue Streak," A B-24 Liberator, has flown 110 missions against the enemy as a member of the oldest American bombardment group operating overseas in this war. Official figures say 23 enemy fighters have gone down under her guns as the "Blue Streak" participated in raids on Rome, on the Ploesti oil fields, over Weiner-Neustadt and against the Germans in the Dodecanese.

Winston Churchill personally has commended the group, it was revealed today by Major Ralph Thompson of Columbus, O., the pilot. Each man aboard the "Blue Streak" today wore a presidential unit citation. Typical of the youthful veterans—each with 50 or more missions against the enemy—is Sgt. Ivan Schwartz of Long Beach, Calif., who has been decorated 23 times.

The 11 young heroes tomorrow will tour the big North American aviation plant near Dallas.

"We're going to thank those people for building the kind of bombers that fly back no matter what the enemy throws at us," said Major Thompson. "Sure, we've got a lot of ribbons for flying those American bombers. But we think the war workers ought to have ribbons, too."

Proposed Program For Spain Under Monarchy Published In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, March 28. (AP)—Excelsior today was to publish what the newspaper identifies as a letter from Spanish monarchist leaders on the Western hemisphere to Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne, containing a proposed program in case the throne is restored.

Neutrality of Spain in foreign wars is the first plan on the suggested program.

The proposed program also would "coincide with Spain's tradition of greatness and of a nation of first order," and would seek to preserve the nation's "moral traditions."

"The Spanish moral is the Christian moral," the letter adds, contending that traditional Catholicism should remain.

Bottled Beer To Be Sold At Same Price

DALLAS, March 28. (AP)—Beer drinkers in the six-state region five of the Office of Price administration who buy the new federal excise tax on the beverage goes into effect Saturday, but retailers may charge a cent a glass more for draft beer, the OPA reported today.

The district embraces Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

OPA officials said the beer price orders were being amended in all districts of the region to require the retail sellers to absorb the new tax on the bottled beers but permitting them to pass on the increased tax to the consumer draft variety.

Points Reduced On Ready-To-Eat Hams

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The Office of Price administration announced tonight that the ration point value of ready-to-eat hams will be reduced from 3 to 2 points per pound next month.

Ration point values for fresh and cured hams will remain unchanged.

April point values for all meats, fats and cheeses will be announced later this week. They will become effective April 2.

Estimated average monthly consumption of meat in the United States for 1944 is 3 1-2 pounds, exactly the amount the average citizen ate in the period 1935-39.

News Photo Is Only A Leap Year 'Gag', Boys; She's True To Sailor

SALT LAKE CITY, March 28. (AP)—Too bad, boys, it was only a stunt and besides she's promised to a Navy man.

Several weeks ago Lorna Gleave, University of Utah coed, posed for a Desert News photo. Holding several cards lettered "Will you marry me?" and with boxes designated "yes" and "no."

It was strictly a leap year "gag" and neither the News nor Miss Gleave expected it to go any farther. But the Associated Press picked up and serviced the photo to newspapers all over the country.

Soon letters addressed simply, "Norna Gleave," Salt Lake City," began piling into the postoffice.

The letters were from soldiers, sailors and marines in all parts of the country. One boy said he was mailing photos of himself and his mother and family for Norna to look over. Several merely clipped the photo from a newspaper and marked an "X" in the "yes" box.

But Lorna is still wearing the fraternity pin she got from a Navy man.

Wrigley Resigns As Head Of Gum Firm

CHICAGO, March 28. (AP)—Philip K. Wrigley, president of William Wrigley, jr., company, makers of chewing gum, announced today his resignation as head of the firm. He will be succeeded by James C. Cox, first vice president and treasurer.

In a letter mailed to stockholders today, Wrigley said "feeling as I did that the company's policies were departing from those upon which the business was founded and grew, I saw no alternative, but to retire as chief executive of the company and devote by energies and experience instead in the position of an active director." He added:

"I believe that in this capacity and by urging those policies, which I consider fundamental, I can best serve the interests of the business." The letter did not elaborate on what policies were "departing."

Meeting Of Demand For Gas Predicted

ST. LOUIS, March 28. (AP)—Bruce K. Brown, assistant deputy administrator for the Petroleum Administration for War, today predicted domestic production of 100 octane aviation gasoline would equal demands of the armed forces by late summer 1944 for the first time since the war started.

In a speech before the 32nd annual meeting of the Western Petroleum, Refiners association, Brown said 100 octane gasoline production would increase one-third over March output "within the next 60 days."

He explained he was not able to disclose actual production figures for publication.

He is survived by his widow; one daughter, Lura Mundy, and by his mother, Mrs. Belle Snyder, Memphis. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow. Burial will be at Memphis Thursday.

Governor Hopes To Attend Convention

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has never attended a national Democratic convention.

He said today that while he had been selected as a delegate a number of times, circumstances had always combined to forestall his attendance.

The governor was not sure that he would be able to attend this year.

"Bombing" Excites Small Community

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Residents of Rockaway beach, Queens, experienced much excitement but no harm today when a Navy plane from Floyd Bennett field accidentally dropped two miniature practice bombs on the community.

The Third Naval district announced the accidental bombardment resulted from "malfunctioning of a release mechanism" on the plane, and said the bombs contained smoke-producing charges but no harmful explosives.

College Of Surgeons Meet In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 28. (AP)—An all-day war session will be held here Friday by the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Walter G. Stuck, chairman of the local organization committee, said today. The participating states will be Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Mexico. Members of the profession at large, medical students and hospital representatives will attend the sessions, which will include two separate conferences for hospital personnel.

PARTY TREAT

TOO MANY people think they have a reason for giving a party—someone's birthday to celebrate, an anniversary or a holiday of some kind. But as a matter of fact, the parties that are often the most fun are the informal ones, planned on the spur of the moment.

Children have a way of providing their own entertainment if left to themselves, so there should be as little adult supervision as possible. The refreshments may be simple, cookies and an iced drink (or hot cocoa if this unusual weather continues).

A special treat might be homemade candy—a bit to eat and a portion for each child to take home. If you are ahead in your sugar allowance you might make peanut brittle, it's easy to make and children love it. All you need to make it is two cups of sugar and one cup of chopped peanuts. Melt the sugar, stirring constantly until it is a thin syrup. Add the nuts and a pinch of salt, stir until the peanuts are well-coated and pour in a very thin sheet into a greased pan. Peanut brittle should be made as thin as possible so use either a very large pan or several small ones.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MARGARET TURNER:
I am not going to pass on to you how grand I think your column is except that in this request you were the first person I thought of.

Here is my story: My son, Pvt. William F. Weir, jr., TK destroyers, North Camp Hood, Texas, was in Lubbock in January with nine day stop-over en route to Fort George G. Meade, Md. With him from Camp Hood en route to the new base were four Lubbock boys who left with him the morning of Jan. 20. I heard from my son four or five times. His mail was censored almost from the first and I have not heard from him in almost five weeks. I am ill and recently have been in the hospital and I am sure my son is across but I would like for mothers or sisters of those boys to get in touch with me.

My address is 1624 Eighth street and my telephone number is 7318. Thanks a lot,
Mrs. W. F. Weir, Sr.

Dietitian Speaks At Supper Meeting

Lubbock Dietetic association had its last meeting of the season when Dr. Beulah Becker Marble, former president of the American Dietetic association, was guest speaker in Miss Mozelle Craddock's apartment in Barrack No. 3 on Tech campus Monday night at a supper for members.

Miss Lillian Johnson was elected chairman for next year.

Dr. Mina Lamb, retiring chairman presided and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. N. Michie.

Dr. Marble, who is former research dietitian for the Massachusetts General hospital, is living in Longview where her husband is commanding officer of the station Army hospital.

On New Trends In Diets

In her address on "New Trends in Therapeutic Diets," she pointed out that variety indeed is the spice of life and science has proved it. In discussing adult prejudices in foods carried over from childhood, she predicted that men returning from service with the forces will have a new evaluation of foods; since many of them have learned to eat foods they would not touch at home because of these prejudices.

Admitting that we do not know all the essentials of food constituents, Dr. Marble suggested that dietitians vary diets to include both the known and the unknown.

"If everyone came close to eating according to standards of the National Research Council, we might not be so upset over the shortage of doctors and nurses," Dr. Marble said.

The dining table was covered with an exquisite pink lame cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and iris and lighted with pink tapers in crystal candelabra.

There were 20 women in attendance.

Relaxation Of WPB's Building Restriction Is Seen In Action

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Full responsibility for approving virtually all types of non-farming construction was lodged today in the National Housing agency.

Effective April 1, the War Production board delegates to NHA its authority to handle most housing applications. Previously NHA had power only to approve projects specially programmed for essential war workers.

The acton hinted at subsequent relaxation of WPB's building restriction, for the delegating of authority gave NHA the right to approve "housing to relieve situations of extreme general hardship in communities resulting from a lack of housing accommodations." No materials to relieve "general" hardship situations now are being made available by WPB, so the reference was plainly in anticipation of later WPB action. A WPB spokesman however, said them delegation of power was a "when and if" proposition.

Reciprocal Broadcast Arrangement Planned

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP) — Preparatory to the day of European invasion, BBC, the British radio system, has announced a reciprocal arrangement with American broadcasters for pickups of the event. Front-line or near front-line broadcasting may be included, if conditions permit.

All BBC broadcasts dealing with the initital stages of the invasion are to be made available to any American network or station desiring to relay them from the short waves. In turn, American originated material will be open to BBC for retransmission in the British Isles

Stimson Says Crisis Near, Warns On Any False Hopes

WASHINGTON, March 28. (U.P.)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that "we are approaching a crisis in the war effort" and urged Congress not to modify the stabilization program in any way which might "give false hopes about the early termination" of hostilities.

Testifying before the Senate Banking committee, which is considering extension of the stabilization program, Stimson said he hoped Congress would continue the program "for such time after the war as may be necessary to facilitate and protect the conversion of industry from war work to full-fledged peacetime economy of production and employment."

Effects On Soldiers

Discussing price control from the "standpoint of the military effort" and asserting that the returning soldier will be vitally affected by domestic conditions in the postwar period, Stimson added:

"The vitally important objective is to avoid doing anything which will either give false hopes about the early termination of the war or which will in any way tend to disturb the morale of the soldier in the field or of his family at home.

"This is particularly important just now when we are approaching the crisis of the war effort."

The nation, in contrast to its experience in World war I, has succeeded in avoiding a dangerous rise in prices, Stimson said. He attributed that success to patriotic restraint of the people, to taxes, to what he called "some" wage control, to price ceilings and to rationing.

Inflation Spiral Feared

Stimson said that although he would rather the nation attacked inflation by imposing "a broader tax basis," it would be "highly unwise to remove or materially modify those controls and run the risk of a price rise that might well be the beginning of the dreaded spiral of inflation."

"I think it would be impossible to measure the effect on the soldier of a sudden relaxation of the restraints which have been imposed to protect the national economy for his family as well as for himself on his return from military service," Stimson said.

The 7,500,000 men and women in the Army, he added, have a huge stake in the soundness of the dollar. More than 5,000,000 dependency allotment checks aggregating almost $300,000,000 are sent out each month; Army insurance totals almost $74,000,000,000, represented by 10,000,000 policies; war bond purchases by servicemen total about $60,000,000 a month through payroll deductions, and, in addition, men overseas send home each month approximately $20,000,000 in addition to regular allotments, Stimson disclosed.

"I think that everything possible should be done to safeguard the value of these savings as evidence of our good faith towards the men who are carrying the fight to the enemy," he added. "The plight of the families in a period of rapidly rising prices is too easily visualized to require any elaboration."

Stimson's testimony and statements by other administration officials, as well as by business, congressional and farm spokesmen, made it apparent that stabilization regulations must remain in effect until civilian supplies begin to match stored up purchasing power after the war.

News Briefs

Prefabricated homes in the postwar world were discussed by W. L. Bradshaw, architectural engineering instructor at Texas Technological college, at the luncheon Tuesday noon in Lubbock hotel of Lubbock Optimist club.

W. N. Stanton, described in the complaint as agent for Standard Milling company of Lubbock, was charged Tuesday afternoon with violation of a Texas feed law. The complaint was sworn to by K. L. Kirkland before Syrian E. Marbut, county attorney.

B. F. Fowler, after the state had presented its evidence, withdrew his announcement of innocent of a drunkenness charge he had appealed to the county from a $25 corporation court conviction and pleaded guilty before Judge G. V. Pardue. His fine was $10 and court costs. He paid $28.25.

The War department made public Tuesday the names of 468 United States soldiers killed in action, including the following from West Texas: European area: 1st. Lt. Thomas E. Eaton, Mrs. Helen O. Eaton, mother, San Angelo. Mediterranean area: Sgt. Ebey L. Clark, Mrs. Jennie I. Clark, mother, Clarendon; 2nd Lt. Robert C. Malone, jr., Mrs. R. C. Malone, mother, Plainview; S/Sgt. Carroll T. "Adjusted Pay" For Service Men Asked

WASHINGTON, March 28. (U.P.)—Millard W. Rice, national service director of the disabled American veterans, proposed today that service men be given adjusted pay in the form of government bonds which they could cash for rehabilitation purposes.

Testifying before the House World war veterans legislation committee, Rice said the Senate-approved "G.I. bill of rights" threatened to surmerge the interests of disabled servicemen to those of veterans in general.

The bill would provide a wide range of benefits including hospitalization, education, and business and home loans. It would cost $4,000,000,000, according to unofficial estimates.

State Orphans Home Head May Resign

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—John H. Robertson, superintendent of the state orphans home in Corsicana, is expected to resign in the near future, but no official word has been received by the state board of control, Harry Knox, said today.

Knox said he understood Robertson would resign about the middle of April and leave on May 1 to become business manager of Southern Presbyterian Mountain Retreat association at Montreat, North Carolina.

Several people to replace Robertson are under consideration, but no selection is as yet definite, Knox advised.

Future Military Needs Regarded

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—A committee of 23 members of Congress was established with a $25,000 fund today to study the postwar military needs of the United States, now bristling with the greatest arsenal in history.

As the House adopted the plan, Rep. Fish (R-NY) called for peacetime maintenance of the greatest navy and air force in the world as a club over incipient aggressors.

One Department Suggested

He recommended that the committee look into the advisability of merging all the armed forces into one comprehensive department of national defense.

Fish spoke in behalf of the resolution introduced by Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY). The group is to consist of seven members each from the military and naval affairs committees and nine from the House at large with Representative Woodrum (D-Va) as chairman.

Surplus Study Urged

In the discussion preceding the unanimous voice vote for the study group, Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) of the rules committee urged that it study disposal of surpluses.

"I'm not satisfied with the way surplus property is being disposed of," he cautioned. "The government is losing millions by reckless disposition of surplus property no longer needed by the War and Navy departments."

More Funds Granted Southern Projects

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP) Two southern research projects which congressmen from the area say are developing "untold future wealth" have been handed a financial boost by the House.

The projects, which had their funds increased in the agriculture appropriations bill just passed by the House and sent to the Senate, are:

1. Development of citrus by-products at the Winter Haven, Fla., laboratory.

2. Development of use for interior hardwoods, chiefly the lowly scrub oak so prolific in the South, at the New Orleans experiment station.

The House boosted the yearly fund for the Louisiana work to $55,000, an increase of $15,000.

For the work of citrus by-products, the House provided a total of $40,000 in the coming year, a gain of $18,536.

Fort Worth Hospital To Be Regional Unit

FORT WORTH, March 28. (U.P.)—The post hospital at the Fort Worth Army Air field will become the AAF regional station hospital, Maj. Robert E. Gardner, hospital executive officer, announced today.

It will be used as headquarters for convalescents and observation cases for nearby AAF fields. Gardner said the hospital will offer a special consultant service to medical staffs of other fields in the vicinity.

Medical specialists will take care of patients sent from Love field, Dallas, Hicks field, Sherman and others, Gardner said.

The armed services now use "paperboard" boxes so weatherproofed that they can be submerged for 24 hours without falling apart.

Billy Meers In Coma, Hope Is Abandoned

DALLAS, March 28. (AP)—Billy Meers, 4-year-old victim of chronic nephritis whose need of blood plasma early this year stirred the nation, has been in a coma for 48 hours and hope for him has been abandoned, his mother said late today.

Mrs. Charles Meers said uremia had set in and that a heart complication had developed.

"We haven't any hope left for him," the mother stated. "His heart is so weak that he isn't even able to stand further transfusions."

The case of Billy Meers received nationwide attention in January when Mrs. Meers disclosed her son was 164 pints of blood in debt to Baylor's blood bank and appealed for further donors in order to prolong the boy's life.

Donations of blood and plasma and offers of aid came from every state in the union.

Texan Dies In Gun Battle In Canada

TORONTO, March 28. (AP)—The body of James (Texas) Kelly, fatally wounded in a gun battle at a bank of Toronto branch, is unclaimed in the city coroner's building here.

Police have been trying to get in touch with relatives they believe are in the United States. They said Kelly, about 24 years old, suffered his fatal abdominal wound last Friday in an exchange of gunfire with Douglas S. King, a bank accountant, when two men entered the bank announcing "this is a holdup."

Texas Unemployment Tax Record Is Good

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—An additional 4,000 employers subject to the Texas unemployment compensation act will receive a tax rate of one-half of 1 per cent in 1944, the Unemployment Compensation commission announced today.

Claude Williams, executive director, said that 10,000 of the total of 18,000 employers subject to the act have earned the lowered rate by having good employment records. Only 6,000 employers received this rate in 1943.

The maximum rate is 2.7 per cent, Williams said.

Egg Market Stronger After Texas Action

CHICAGO, March 28. (AP)—Substantiation of a report that the government is entering the egg market in Texas today strengthened egg futures prices which yesterday declined to the lowest levels since the fall of 1942.

October egg futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange closed today at 38.10 a dozen, or almost a half cent higher than the previous close of 36.65 cents a dozen. Early in today's session the price of October futures declined another ¼ cent, before confirmation of the government's buying program in Texas firmed the market.

Traders said the government started yesterday, and would continue for a period of two weeks, to purchase eggs, graded current receipts, paying 26 cents to the farmers, 28 cents to small dealers and 29 cents for carload lots.

The cash market here again was weak today, with all grades declining about ½ cent.

President Declines Comment On Cassino

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—President Roosevelt had nothing to say today about the battle of Cassino.

He answered in the negative a question at a press-radio conference whether there was anything he would like to tell the American people about Cassino, particularly in view of criticism on the subject.

He said he could speak only off the record, and that he would have to reply off the record, also, to an inquiry as to what he thought of stories carried in American and Canadian service papers calling the Cassino campaign a failure.

On the Italian situation, a reporter noted that a columnist had said the President had written Prime Minister Churchill of Britain that Marshal Badoglio should be gotten rid of, and Mr. Roosevelt's only reply was that it sounds like a columnist.

Tighter Controls Over 4-Fs Urged In Manpower Crisis

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Manpower and Selective Service officials revealed today that they would like to ease the manpower crisis by tightening controls over men classified as 4-Fs—perhaps by inducting them into "work battalions" if they remain out of essential war work.

It appeared, however, that they still would have to overcome Army opposition to such a plan.

War Manpower Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt told a House Military Affairs subcommittee that he was opposed to a national service law because it is too late, but that he thought those deferred from military service for physical reasons should be compelled to work in essential industry. They need "guidance" and "uniform treatment" to put them where they will do the most good, he said, because now they have no legal obligation to serve the war effort.

All Able-Bodied To Work

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, told the Rhode Island Rotary club at Providence that we have arrived at "the day and hour" when measures must be taken so that everyone between 18 and 45 who can work, does work.

"The director of selective service," he said, "is prepared to ask the War and Navy departments to induct into work battalions, if necessary, any registrant deferred for physical reasons who does not, if he is physically able, contribute materially and substantially to the war effort."

McNutt testified that if the plan to induct 4-Fs who are not doing essential work was adopted, it could also be applied to men from 38 to 45 who are now deferred because of age.

One Hitch To Plan

He said the only hitch to the plan to make full use of 4-Fs and overage men was that the War department is opposed to plans such as he and Hershey have suggested. Other officials have indicated that the armed services might approve if the 4-Fs were not counted against the 11,300,000-man authorized strength of the Army and Navy.

Chairman John M. Costello, D., Calif., said the proposal to induct 4-F's, armed forces dischargees classified as 1-C or men over the present top draft age of 38 would be preferable to any new manpower legislation because "passing a new bill would require a couple of months and we want to solve this problem within another month."

Another Proposal

He said another plan would be to bring all draft deferments within the purview of the government interagency committee now studying industrial deferments for men up to 26. By studying deferments for men up to 26, then to 28 and 30 and ultimately for all registrants, he said, the committee would free for induction all men not truly essential to the war effort.

But for the time being, the approximately 7,000,000 present and potential 4-F's and 1-C registrants were being studied most closely. Costello said the Army and Navy could start "tomorrow" in taking these men and then either furloughing them or giving them inactive status on the promise to go into essential industry.

reason. The board elected him president emeritus but the attorney general said in an opinion it could not pay him the stipulated salary of $12,000 for his first year and $6,000 for his second year as president emeritus.

On March 6, Dr. Walton, making the first disclosure that his acceptance of the president emeritus post followed failure of the board to re-elect him, said he had placed his case in the hands of his attorneys.

Then the board followed with a statement that Dr. Walton was released because the college had "outraced and outreached" him.

Asks Board To Quit

Dr. Walton's reply was a suggestion that the board resign and he, in turn, would "drop any action in my behalf."

Last August a Senate general investigating committee heard Law and other members of the board testify that Dr. Walton resigned because of ill health. It also questioned directors concerning the release of H. H. Williamson as head of the extension service. The committee made no report.

Early this year Metcalfe's committee, a separate group from the general committee, made a brief study at College Station of minutes of the board's meeting concerning administrative matters. College administrative officers and former officers were questioned, although no statements were taken under oath.

which had been passed by regular routine through British censorship."

Asked for comment on this, Hull stood by his denial of any desire for political censorship. There was no comment immediately from Dewey, but his secretary, Paul E. Lockwood, said in New York: "It looks like the truth is coming out."

Subsequently, the State department issued a statement in which Hull said that the question of complaints about news leaks was entirely separate from the question of censorship.

Doctor Held In Slaying Of Girl

DETROIT, March 28 (AP)—Sheriff's detectives questioned a Detroit physician tonight concerning the death of Joyce Raulston, attractive 14-year-old blonde school girl whose stabbed and battered body was found on a refuse dump this morning.

Detective Thomas Gentile said an anonymous tipster named the physician as the girl's assailant.

Attempts also were being made to trace a man who telephoned the girl's mother Monday morning with the information "Joyce is married and has gone to California" and the owner of a tan automobile which a passerby reported having seen coming from the dump in the early hours today.

Tracks Lead To Hill

Tire tracks led to the top of a short hill, at the foot of which lay the girl's body, both lungs punctured by stab wounds and with part of her clothing ripped away. Shoes, a skirt and parts of underclothing were discovered about 100 feet distant.

Officers said it appeared the girl's head had been battered with a concrete block that lay near the body.

Joyce had been missing from her home since last Friday morning, her third such disappearance since last October, her stepfather, T. Walton Raulston, told detectives. On the other occasions she returned unharmed after spending a few days with friends.

Printers At Corpus In "Strike Session"

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 28 (AP)—The Corpus Christi Caller will appear in abbreviated form tomorrow because its union printers failed to appear for work today.

The executive committee of the union, Local 528 of the International Typographical union, said the union was in session. The session began at 3:10 p. m. today and was still in progress at press time tonight.

Meanwhile, the union committee said members of the union were "going to have more money." This amount, they said, would be approximately $10 per week.

The Caller reported the situation to the United States Conciliation service and Joseph Meyers, federal conciliator in Houston, said he would leave for Corpus Christi immediately.

Chaplin's Trial

had the press on your side and that you could cause him plenty of trouble and could have him blasted out of the country and didn't he deny the accusation and refuse? Did this not take place?"

"This did not take place," said Miss Berry in a firm tone, raising her voice for almost the first time in her testimony.

New Name Enters Case

The name of J. Paul Getty, described by Geisler as being from "New York, Los Angeles and Tulsa," entered the proceedings early in the afternoon session. Giesler asked Miss Berry if she knew him and she replied that she did but Giesler did not follow up the line of questioning.

Previously she told Giesler she bought a railroad ticket in Tulsa, in November, 1942, with money she obtained from a source other than Chaplin.

Miss Berry acknowledged that she bought the ticket at Tulsa to go to New York by way of Chicago over the Santa Fe railway, but when Giesler asked if she went to Chicago, she replied: "Not that I remember."

"Did you cash your ticket in?" he asked.

"I don't remember."

"The moneys that you used to bring yourself back to California—they were not moneys advanced to you by Mr. Chaplin?"

"No."

"They were moneys that you obtained elsewhere?"

"Yes."

Giesler also repeated the following question, which had been asked and answered last week:

"Is it not a fact that a week or two before going to New York in October, 1942, that you were at the house (presumably Chaplin's) and that coming from the pool you saw Edward, the butler, and you said, 'I hate him; I hate him. I want to go to New York and he won't let me; he won't release me. My boy friend is there and I want to see him,' Did you say that?"

"I did."

Miss Tinker Dies At Sister's Home Here

Miss Mary Tinker, sister of Mrs. C. J. Wagner, died at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wagner, 1644 Broadway, late Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Tinker was born at Altoona, Ill., and her home in recent years was at Monmouth, Ill., but she had spent a portion of her time here, where she has many friends.

Funeral services are to be held at the Wagner residence this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, under direction of Rix Funeral home. The body is to be sent to Dallas Wednesday night for cremation.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Wagner, include two sisters, Mrs. Helen Smith of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Glen Wilson of Monmouth.

cratic region—the vote was light. Rain kept many away from the polls.

At the approximate two-thirds mark in vote tabulations, indicated total was 45,000, in 1942, when the Republicans polled their highest percentage margin in recent history in this district, 49.5, the total vote was 42,917.

Senator Ed H. Moore (R-Okla), former Democrat elected in 1942 on an anti-New Deal platform, who led the campaign for Clark, declared late tonight.

"I wouldn't want to interpret the result. We were decisively beaten. The majority has spoken and we bow to that. That's all I can say about it.

Machines In Action

"Both the federal and state New Deal machines were in the district plugging every minute. The organization got the job done."

Republican leaders had said privately that they were not counting too heavily on winning this year, however, because they regarded Clark's successful 1942 opponent as less able than Stigler as a vote-getter. Their generally-expressed hope was that their party would continue to show the increasing strength displayed in recent years in the district which has gone Republican only once, in 1920.

FDR Still Insists On National Service Law

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today that he still favors enactment of national service legislation although Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt told Congress there is no present need for it.

The chief executive declined direct comment at his press-radio conference on McNutt's statement but on the question of how best to use manpower, he declared there are a lot of people who are not aiding in the war, that it is a matter for soul searching and that if people won't search their own souls someone should do it for them.

State Testimony In Lonergan Case Ends

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—A fight to save Wayne Lonergan from the electric chair began today as the state continued its first degree murder case against the young RCAF aircraftman accused of slaying his wealthy wife, Patricia, 22.

The defense struck a snag immediately when its first witness, Mario Enzo Gabelline, dapper interior decorator, failed to appear as his name was called.

Gabelline escorted Mrs. Lonergan to night clubs the night before she was slain. While his testimony was put off until tomorrow, defense counsel Edward V. Broderick re-questioned Detective William Prendergast, who had appeared as a prosecution witness.

Hardly had assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet announced that "the state rests," when Broderick called for dismissal of the indictment on the ground the state had failed to prove its case.

General Sessions Judge James G. Wallace denied this motion and also four others, which asked that verdicts of murder in the first and second degree and manslaughter in the first and second degree no longer be considered.

It also decrees a 36-hour week, a minimum of 10 days paid vacation, 30 to 60-day severance pay, and 5 per cent raises every three years.

Air Blows Cut Sharply Into German Aircraft Production

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Elimination of enemy air opposition to the Allied invasion forces in western Europe has been the main objective of the bomber offensive against Germany since last July 1, the Army said today.

The campaign now has reached such a point, the report said, that the Nazis must decide whether to defend their factories or hoard their planes to meet the invasion.

In an analysis of the bomber strategy, the Army made it clear that continuing operations against aircraft factories are necessary because of the "tremendous reouperative powers" of German industry.

Production Sharply Cut

At the beginning of 1943, the Army reported, Germany set out to treble fighter production. By July 1 production was up 50 per cent and the AAF and RAF—which up to then had devoted their principal attention to the submarine industry—began a systematic campaign against aircraft factories.

By Sept. 1, the bomber offensive had cut monthly production of single engine German fighters to approximately three-fourths of the July 1 level. In all of 1943, the Army reported the bomber attacks prevented production of an estimated 2,500 fighter planes.

Early this year the scale of the bomber attacks was increased enormously and as of March 1 the monthly production of single engine fighters had been cut 2/3 below the Jan. 1. 1944, level, twin-engine fighter capacity slightly more, and bomber capacity by one-third, the review said

"That does not mean, however, the Army explained, "that German combat aircraft production had been permanently reduced to that extent"

Face Bitter Decision

When a plant is bombed out, the Army explained, top-flight German production men rush in to determine whether it is better to rebuild there or move equipment and personnel.

Production may be lost only for the time necessary to move the workers as a second or third shift into another factory.

But progress has been such, the report asserted, that:

"If Germany attempts to frustrate attacks on its fighter industry by throwing a fighter screen against AAF and RAF heavy bombers and their escorts it may suffer a rate of attrition beyond its capacity for replacement.

"If it determines to conserve fighter strength by reducing luftwaffe opposition to the bomber offensive, it will be at the expense of exposing to more effective aerial attack those strategic target systems whose destruction will directly affect German military strength."

Continuation Of All Price Controls Asked

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson appealed today for continuation of price controls through the war and long enough afterward "to facilitate and protect the conversion of industry from war work to a full-fledged peacetime economy of production and employment."

Testifying before the Senate banking committee which is considering legislation to continue stabilization controls a year beyond June 30, Stimson emphasized two major purposes:

1. To protect the standard of living of the soldier and his dependents by maintaining the purchasing power of service life insurance, war bonds and dependency allowances.

2. To prevent price increases which would be reflected heavily in the vast outlay for war purposes.

Hike In B Gas Rations Slated

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Assuming that the gasoline black market situation remains under control, holders of gasoline "B" cards in all parts of the country outside the eastern seaboard are due to get a substantial boost in their automobile-fuel rations very soon, and some similar concession may be possible for the East.

Illicit distribution, according to OPA, drained as much as 2,500,000 gallons a day off the legal market during the late winter, but a concerted drive against black market operators was described in a recent announcement as meeting with success .

The Office of Col. Bryan Houston, OPA rationing administrator, said last night that action to increase the "B" allowance to a maximum equivalent to 720 miles of travel per month was in the books for the states outside the eastern area in about a month.

475 Miles A Month

Present "B" allotments allow 475 miles a month in the middle of the country (including Gulf coast areas).

"A" cards are not to be affected in the change-over. However, OPA is also working on a plan to abolish gasoline ration stamp expiration dates, as has already been done with food stamps. This may be made effective October 1.

RATION TO BE INCREASED "WHEN AND IF"——HOUSTON

WASHINGTON, March 28 (U.P.)—The B gasoline ration will be increased only "when and if" there is enough gasoline to spare, Col. Bryan Houston, Office of Price administration rationing chief, said today.

"And I haven't the slightest idea when that will be," he declared in denying published reports that he had said B rations definitely would be increased in 30 days.

Houston said it would be at least 30 days "before we can even begin to tell the result of recent changes" that have been made in gasoline allocations.

"If there is gasoline at that time," he said, "we will put it out. It is our job to ration out all the gasoline there is according to the allocations made by the Petroleum Administration for war."

Strange Maneuvers Expected As Time For Invasion Nears

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The invasion jitters are just beginning.

From here on there will be "false alarms, feints and dress rehearsals" by the Anglo-American high command and phony reports and rumors put out by the Germans. This will continue until the smartest deceptionists on both sides of the English channel have exhausted their bags of tricks in the greatest battle of nerves, preceding the greatest amphibious assault in history.

The quoted words are from Prime Minister Churchill's Sunday broadcast. His brief reference to the forthcoming attempts to deceive the enemy about exactly where and when the blow or blows will fall was interpreted here today as a warning to the Allied world to get ready for some strange maneuvers.

Surprise Deadly Weapon

Surprise is one of the deadliest weapons in the Allied arsenal of attack, and the Germans are believed to be working along similar lines. They need deception primarily to arouse the underground forces of Europe prematurely, and thus expose them to betrayal. The Allies are counting on these forces to strike at exactly the right moment to wreck enemy communications, tie up enemy occupation and reserve forces, blow up supply centers and otherwise create confusion in the German rear.

The Germans meanwhile are reported working feverishly — impressing French, Dutch, Belgian and other dominated people into service to help them — to strengthen their already powerful "Atlantic Wall" defenses. Dutch reports made available here from underground sources are especially detailed in such activities.

These say the Germans already have flooded some of the Dutch coastal lowlands, which the industrious Hollanders spent five centuries draining, and are ready to blow out all the dikes if necessary. They add that the Germans are particularly concerned about Dutch territory because once penetrated it leads quickly into the industrial heart of western Germany.

There isn't yet the ceremony in taking delivery of a new locomotive that there is in christening a ship.

But, just the same, it's a great occasion on the Santa Fe when we receive those super-powered, high-speed locomotives so badly needed today.

For every new one means "rolling" more and longer freight trains loaded with war matériel, and more trains operated for the increasing troop movements.

The three locomotives shown above are among the first delivered of the big fleet of powerful locomotives ordered by Santa Fe. And more are coming!

★ Locomotives illustrated above—new "4-8-4" steam locomotive, "2900 class"; 5400-horsepower freight Diesel; "2-10-4" steam locomotive, "5001 class." You can bet your driving wheels they'll pull a lot of freight cars fast!

Dainty Hands DO MIGHTY WORK

On the other end of the electric cord is a cooker . . . or a vacuum cleaner . . . or a lamp . . . or a washing machine . . . or a refrigerator . . . or any one of a hundred other electric appliances. And, whichever it is . . . it is alert, ready to serve the bidding of fingers the instant the plug makes contact with the convenience outlet.

No women in all the world enjoy the benefits of electric service to the full extent American women enjoy them. The lady in the cottage and the lady in the mansion have equal rights in their claims for electric service. The dainty fingers of each summon him instantly and with might and thoroughness it bends to the task until dainty fingers bid otherwise. There is no other servant like your electric servant and how convincingly it has proved this during these days when domestic maids have gone to work in war plants . . . and with all this your electricity still serves and works in the average home for the paltry wage of a DIME A DAY . . . the same low wage as before war was declared!

Red Sox Skipper Predicts Big Year For Major Loops

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP) — Joe Cronin is one Major League manager who isn't moaning "ain't it awful" as he looks forward to the 1944 baseball season in general and his own team's prospects in particular.

The 37-year-old Boston Red Sox boss fairly beamed good spirits as he peeled off his leather jacket and shirt in the dressing room of Baltimore's International League park—where the Sox are training—after having run a dozen or so of his men, and himself, through a brisk three-hour drill.

"Sure, I'll see action. I'll probably be in and out of there all year, the manpower situation being what it is," Joe said, thus accounting for his own strenuous workout.

"I'm looking forward to one of the best baseball seasons in years, financially and competitively," he declared, "and if we can keep most of what we have now, we'll be in the thick of the fight all the way."

He blames baseball's difficulties last year "on the worst spring weather in years" and the experimenting the clubs were going to find the right times to start their games. Everything should be set now, he opines, with night games paying particularly heavy dividends.

YANKS BUY INFIELDER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 28. (AP)—The Yankees announced tonight the purchase of second baseman Mike "Molly" Milosevich, 28, from their Kansas City farm in the American Association. Last year he hit .243 and drove in 42 runs in 139 games for Kansas City. He reports Monday.

First baseman-outfielder Jack Phillips reported he had passed his re-induction physical exam, but would return to camp and play until called.

Earlier, pitcher Bill Zuber joined the club, leaving Charley Wensoff as the only remaining pitching absentee.

GIANTS WORK OUT

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 28. (AP)—The New York Giants worked out for three hours today, veteran Ace Adams having his first turn of the year on the mound by pitching in batting practice. Bill Voiselle, Frank Seward and Ken Brondell also threw to the batters.

On nearby Hartnett Field Carl Hubbell put 35 tryout youngsters through the paces.

COUNTS 70 DODGERS

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., Mar. 28. (AP) — Chief Scout Wid Matthews' check-up today showed there were 70 players in the Brooklyn Dodgers' camp.

The feature workout of three practice drills to be held tomorrow will be a game between the Dodgers and West Point Cadets at West Point.

WET AND COLD

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 28. (AP) — The inaugural exhibition game of the Chicago Cubs with the Cincinnati Reds was wiped out today by a soggy field and low temperatures. Tomorrow the Cubs will face their ancient enemies, the Chicago White Sox, at Freeman field.

RUDY'S UNDERSTUDY

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 28. (AP)—Don Ross, who played all the other infield and outfield positions last year understudied big Rudy York at first base today as the Detroit Tigers raced through an infield drill that was curtailed by chilly weather. Ross has been mentioned as a possible replacement for York if the Tigers' regular first-sacker is drafted for armed service.

LEE WILL START

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 28. (AP) — Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox said today he would start Thornton Lee, whose arm has been ailing for two years, against the Chicago Cubs in their first exhibition game tomorrow.

CLINCHES JOB

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 28. (AP)—Eddie Butka, a strapping lad who came up from Springfield in the New England League, apparently has clinched a job as utility infielder with the Washington Senators.

ANOTHER DRAFTEE

MUNICE, Ind., March 28. (AP)—Tommy O'Brien, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, received orders today from his Anniston, Ala., draft board to report for his pre-induction physical April 5.

CARDS HIT AGAIN

CAIRO, Ill., March 28. (AP) — Southpaw pitcher Max Lanier suffered an attack of appendicitis and outfielder Johnny Hopp received his orders to report for pre-induction examination in the main developments today at the training camp of the St. Louis Cardinals.

GAME CALLED OFF

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Mar. 28. (AP)—Cold weather drove the St. Louis Browns indoors today and cancelled the scheduled practice game with their Toledo farm club.

Ledru (Tex) Jacobs of West Texas State, and Howie Rattz, former U. of Miami (Fla.) athlete, are starring for the Camp Livingston, La., basketball team. . . .

Harrington To Give Reds Dash Of Color

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 28. (AP)—A severe knee injury has helped, rather than hindered, wiry Van Harrington's chances of breaking into the Major Leagues.

The 150-pound rookie filched 52 bases for Syracuse, N. Y., last year to lead the International League, and now promises to become one of the most fearless runners the Cincinnati Reds have ever had—as well as adding a dash of color to a club which has lacked it in the past.

Harrington, a second baseman, led Syracuse in hitting with .291 and pilfered his bases with a knee in such had shape that he had to warm it up before he could play. Many a cool night he kept a heating pad around it so he would be able to walk the following day.

The cartilages were torn from it in 1942 when a 210 pound player slid into him at second base. It threatened to end his baseball career, but last season he came back and did his thievery with a new method of sliding which he had to develop to protect the knee.

He plunges headfirst into his job, for he has found it more profitable to dive for the sack instead of going in feet first.

Harrington injured his other knee and also was spiked last July after he had stolen 39 bases. For six weeks he was unable to risk a slide. Thus, he failed to reach his goal of breaking the International League record of 73 thefts set by George Stirnweiss of Newark in 1942.

Cagemen Adopt Four New Rules

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — The National Basketball Committee, making the first important changes in basketball rules in two years, today moved to eliminate "goal tenders" by sharply restricting their activiites.

Requested by the college coaches to make some move to curb excessively tall players, who have been used in recent seasons to bat shots away from the baskets, the committee compiled by forbidding defensive players from touching the ball on its downward flight on a shot for the goal. The penalty is the award of a field goal, the only exception being when the ball obviously is falling short of the basket.

Three other rules changes made during a two-day session were:

(1) Raising from four to five the number of personal fouls a player may commit before being disqualified from the game.

(2) Permitting players to reenter the game an unlimited number of times instead of being restricted to two re-entries after once leaving the court.

(3) Granting the officials authority to suspend play immediately in the case of an injury to a player. Under present rules officials cannot stop play for an injury unless the injured player's team is in possession of the ball or until the play in progress at the time of the injury has been completed.

The committee, headed by James W. St. Clair of Southern Methodist university and including representatives of the National Collegiate A. A., the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, the Y.M.C.A. and two Canadian groups, considered several other proposed solutions of the goal tending problem.

Brazil is larger than the United States by about 250,000 square miles.

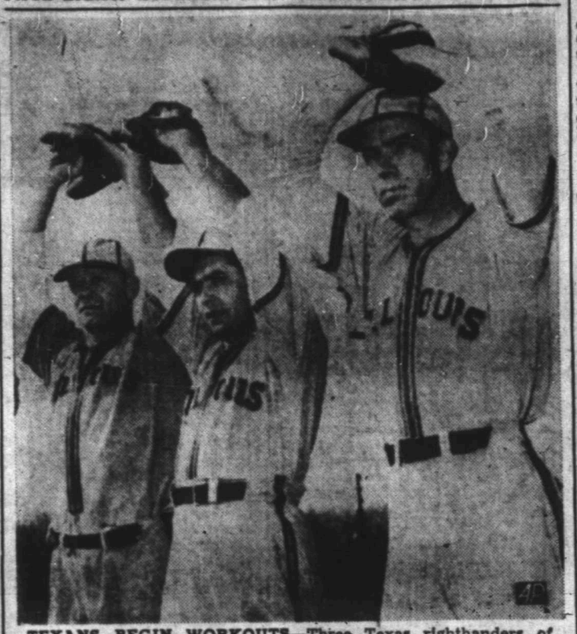

LOCAL VIEWPOINTS

Polk Robison, basketball coach at Texas Tech, heartily endorsed the four new changes passed by the rules committee in meeting in New York for the past two days, and said Tuesday night that all four rules came under his vote on the questions presented to coaches.

Robison couldn't understand the reason for the clause on the rule concerning goal tenders which leaves leeway for balls "obviously falling short of the basket" and believed that this phrase would be more or less ignored by officials to escape confusion and argument.

Dixie White, coach of the Lubbock Westerners, District 1-AA cage champions, said Tuesday night he was in favor of the "last three rules" but was of the opinion that the goal tending rule was "putting too much tax on the tall boys."

White also pointed out that high school teams had little, if any, trouble with the goal tenders, but believes the rule was a bit unfair to a tall boy, and too much a direct blow at a player because he "was tall."

TEXANS BEGIN WORKOUTS—Three Texas righthanders of the St. Louis Browns limber up in workout at the spring training camp at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Grove Awaits Season Opener—For Fishing

FREDERICK, Md., March 28. (AP)—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove turned up in the Philadelphia Athletics' training camp today, but let it be known he's one old-timer who isn't planning a comeback this year.

"Say, Bob, you can have your old uniform back if you like," was Grove's greeting from his one-time boss, Connie Mack."

"No, thanks," said Grove, "ain't thrown a ball since I gave up three years ago. I've only seen one game since I quit. Been too busy."

"Busy doing what?"

"Well, trout season opens April 15. I fish trout till bass season opens in June. That takes me up to hunting season and I shoot through December. That gives me January, February and March."

Ellsworth Considers Naval Appointment

AUSTIN, March 28. (U.P.)—Ralph Ellsworth of San Antonio, star football player and trackman at the University of Texas, today had not announced whether he would accept an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Now in the university's Naval R. O. T. C., Ellsworth was being counted on as a Longhorn backfield sparkplug this fall. However, if he accepts the academy bid he would leave about July.

Cong. Paul Kilday of San Antonio announced the invitation had been extended Ellsworth.

Lamesa Tennis Trip Depends On Weather

Today's weather will tell the story for the Lubbock Westerner's tennis squad in regards to the scheduled invasion of the Lamesa courts today by both the boys and girls teams.

The players were scanning the skies late Tuesday for some break in the weather that might show promise of "tennis weather" for today.

The boys have a match booked for Thursday here with the Shallowater boys team while Lamesa is scheduled to return today's "visit" Friday with both boys and girls matches.

Zivic Changes Mind About Injured Hand

PITTSBURGH, March 28. (U.P.)—Fritzie Zivic, the former welterweight champion, after announcing that he would be unable to fight Freddie Archer at Elizabeth, N. J., tomorrow night because of chipped bones in his left hand, changed his mind today and said he would fight Archer.

Zivic's change of heart came after the Elizabeth promoter threatened to have him suspended when he tried to call off the bout. The former champ said the injury probably would not delay his induction into the Army about April 17.

Browns Accept Gene Moore From Senators

ST. LOUIS, March 28. (AP)—The Browns, who originally traded catcher Rick Ferrell to the Washington Senators for catcher Angelo Giuliani today accepted outGene Moore instead to complete the transaction. Giuliani recently announced his retirement from baseball. Moore, 33-year-old veteran, hit .268 with the Senators last year.

Houston Boy Aims At New Discus Record—

HOUSTON, March 28. (AP) — Another state schoolboy track and field record appears ready to go by the boards when the thinly clads gather at Austin in May for the Interscholastic League meet.

George Kadera of John Reagan High already has bettered the mark for the discus throw with a pitch of 155 feet 10 inches. He did it in the Houston invitation track and field meet.

The state record is 154 feet 11 inches set by Keith Vineyard of Edgewood last year.

HEADS FOR CAMP

NEW BLAST FURNACE WILL DOUBLE TEXAS STEEL CAPACITY
When blown in, the new, modern blast furnace will mean much in future years to Texans and their neighbors.
It will mark the beginning of an important new local market for the output of the iron ore miners, the coal miners, and the producers of many other steel-making materials. Payrolls in these fields alone will show substantial increases.
NEW, HUNGRY MOUTH TO FEED
Upon becoming a full-fledged operation, the Sheffield of Texas steel mill presents a hungry mouth for additional raw materials. To feed it calls for tons and tons of iron ore, limestone, manganese, and coal for coke. Since these are mined or quarried in Texas and nearby states, steel-making truly is another industry they can claim as their own.
PRODUCING FOR WAR BUT PLANNED FOR PEACE
As early as 1936, Sheffield planned a Texas steel mill of 200,000 ton capacity which could be readily enlarged to meet growing needs. Encouraged by the invitations of business and industry of the South-Southwest, its construction was started in April, 1941, to serve not wartime but peacetime needs. So when the war came, Texas had a sound steel-making project under way which drew the attention of authorities charged with increasing steel production quickly. In January, 1942, the War Production Board authorized expansion of Texas steel-making facilities.
During 1943 the Defense Plant Corporation finished several units in this expansion program including two open-hearth furnaces, coke ovens, a blooming mill, and an additional plate mill.
FIRST FULLY INTEGRATED STEEL MILL
These units, together with the new blast furnace, give the Southwest its first fully integrated steel mill. With doubled steel-making capacity, our shipyards and factories can make more ships and munitions of native steel. Postwar, more than any other one thing, steel-making will stimulate faster development of our own industries to serve the needs of the great South-Southwest.
WAR MESSAGE
EVEN WITH THIS NEW BLAST FURNACE WHICH REFINES IRON ORE, YOUR SCRAP STEEL AND IRON IS STILL NEEDED TO MAKE NEW STEEL FOR WAR.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

A Preposterous Proposal

TO describe the demands made on behalf of the CIO United Steel Workers the other day as, "preposterous," certainly is not to be guilty of an exaggeration. "Preposterous" hardly states the case, particularly with reference to the post-war demands of the members of this union.

The stating of the demands, which have been in the preparatory stage for many months, marked the beginning of an attempt to set-up a closed shop that would guarantee post-war employment to members of the union—and to them alone—at the wage scales now prevailing.

The analysis of CIO-ers' demands discloses, first of all, that they be guaranteed the jobs, or the equivalent, that they now hold; and that they be guaranteed an "annual wage" on the basis of present scales, which would be paid them, regardless whether they actually work. They are attempting to set up a condition under which they would have an abundant income exclusively to themselves, and of which they could be sure, even though millions of war veterans might be suffering for the want of employment. They are attempting now to obtain the guarantee of perpetual jobs at no less than the wages they now receive. They are trying to force themselves into a preferred position above all others for the employment that may be available after victory.

No one can predict with any assurance what the immediate results of these demands may be. It is possible that, through their threats to paralyze the war efforts, the selfish union bosses might be able to obtain some concessions.

But the prediction can be offered with confidence that, if the steel or any other union, does force acceptance of any obviously outrageous agreement at this time, the virtual certainty is that it will be abrogated after victory when a steel strike will not endanger the national existence.

Reasonable elements of organized labor realize full well that respect would not be permanent for any agreement obtained under duress. There will be no more respect for it than an individual would have for the promises he made to an armed bandit. Any such agreement as that demanded by the steel workers would last no longer than the critical need for their labor. It certainly could not survive the return of fighting men who will be seeking and obtaining jobs, regardless of the "preferred positions" that short-sighted unionists may be trying to guarantee to themselves at this time.

Mr. Wallace Bumbles On

THE past few days have demonstrated anew that Vice President Wallace has lost none of his positive genius for "putting his foot into his mouth." Seldom, if ever, has there been anyone in the high public life of this country with such a gift for saying the wrong thing in the wrong way at the wrong time.

For example, there was that never to be forgotten utterance of his about a "quart of milk per day for every person in the world for all time to come"—with American taxpayers footing the bill. Many people still are amused by that visionary dream. And, as Mr. Wallace said repeatedly in answer to ridicule, he meant exactly what he said about the milk.

Then there was that speech of his in Detroit, in which he classed everyone who opposed anything the New Deal proposes as being "American Fascists." Those who don't agree with the New Deal—and they now appear to be in the majority in much of the nation—naturally didn't like that kind of an accusation. They hold to the opinion that it is their guaranteed right as American citizens to think and speak as they please about political matters.

Mr. Wallace now has accused members of the Senate with "parliamentary trickery" for having voted to place restraints on the administrations powers in the operation of the Tennessee Valley authority. He has charged, in effect, that no one can be honest and still disagree with anything that the New Deal wants and proposes to do. He apparently is obsessed—and sincerely so, which might make him all the more dangerous—that it actually is criminal to differ with the New Deal.

Japs are now making ships out of rubber. They are said to bounce higher when our boys blast them out of the water.

"The ordinary electric light flickers 60 times a minute," reports some one who can counter faster than we can.

It is difficult for a person to maintain his equilibrium when he is sitting on the top of the world.

Another thing we should be thankful for is that few screwballs have enough money to finance their crazy schemes and ideas.

The One Minute Sermon

The Lord preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.

My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.—Psalms 145: 20 and 21.

One of the first things that caught Peg's eye on Sunday morning—not counting domestic items so familiar as to be invisible—was the spectacle of Jane and Bunny examining the garage and talking it over earnestly on a rare basis of friendly equality. Peg wondered how carefully brought up children learned so young to absorb details out of the air like little leaves picking up chlorophyll. She wondered what kind of a picture they had of their world anyway, what with global war around them and Kitty on the premises.

The next sight she took in was Kitty herself, reading the Help Wanted column in the Sunday paper, her expression both grim and feverish.

"Listen," she said, as Peg came in the room. " 'Typist wanted with knowledge of French.' It's a perfume firm. My French is agonizing to listen to, but nobody would hear it on a typewriter. What do you think?"

"I'm past knowing," said Peg honestly.

"Peg, I've got to go away, and you know it. I'm not walking out—" Peg noticed in passing that walking out must have come to have a special meaning to Kitty, denials of it were beginning to run through all her explanations like a determined refrain. "—but if I go it may help. It may distract attention from you. Only I can't afford to live in the city unless I earn some money. So the perfume firm!" she wound up, with hectic animation. "Voila! I must get in practice."

"Kitty, you're babbling," said Peg, and looked at her pityingly.

"Et vous?" countered Kitty,idiomatically but forlornly. She knew she was babbling, but it helped a little. She knew Peg understood why, too.

"Here's Collins!" announced Peg.

They both started out of the window at a lordly open roadster glittering in the sun with a lighthearted brightness they had forgotten could exist.

"Well," began Collins, as soon as he came in the front door, "I always said Doremus was a nice place to visit, but I don't see how you people stand living here! Too much excitement for me!"

"Collins—" began Kitty, but her voice stuck.

The deep blue of Collins' eyes was electric, his vitality glittered like the car outside. Involuntarily Kitty rubbed her eyes. She found her voice.

"Collins, this isn't any comedy for us. You didn't think it was last night, either."

Last night when Collins had sleepily picked up the telephone and heard Kitty's voice, husky with fatigue and fears, say "Collins?" his heart had turned to water. Even then, he hadn't quite foreseen what would happen to him when he saw Kitty in person.

A tidal wave of abstinence heightened longing swept over him that made his forehead damp, his hands feel as though they'd lost connection with orders from his brain. Collins shoved his hands in his pockets, made himself talk.

"Last night," he told Kitty, "you made me break out into such a clammy sweat I had to change my pajamas before I went back to bed. Do you know what it sounded like? 'Kitty has committed suicide—' "

"I said, 'This is Kitty. A man committed suicide—' "

"In that strange guttural voice you use on the telephone it sounded different."

"Now they're both babbling," thought Peg.

"I think you expect a lot of me," began Kitty, really affronted by Collins' off-key attitude, "if you think I can be calm and distinct and enunciate clearly when—"

Peg pulled herself together and said conciliatingly, in a faint voice, "It was nice of Collins to sweat, though."

"Peg," said Collins, "they could use you on strike arbitration boards, you're wasting your talents. I know it isn't funny, but you girls look so green around the gills I— Where's Ben?"

"In bed," answered Peg. "He had a hard night and artificial respiration is exhausting when it really means what it meant last night."

Collins said Ben probably wasn't too exhausted to move his jaw if he tried, that he was going up to talk to him a minute, and got himself out of the room and Kitty's presence.

The girls heard him bounding up the stairs.

"Well, Ben, ol' boy ol' boy ol' boy, how are you?" he inquired, bursting in upon Ben who was trying hard against odds to sleep. "Beautiful day!"

"I'm glad you think so," said Ben caustically, rubbing bleary eyes.

"Seaton's all right, isn't he?"

"He will be, the doctor said."

"Don't worry, then. This arrest business doesn't mean anything. Sometimes they take 'em into protective custody just to help them readjust. That's all there is to it. Kitty didn't need to think she'd be pulled in, too, as an accessory to the crime."

"I know all that," said Ben irritably, "but she wouldn't listen to me. You had to be consulted. You're the only one who knows anything!"

Collins smiled beautifully and rocked back and forth on his heels.

"Did you make her call me?" he asked.

"Yes, I did."

"My friend!" said Collins affectionately.

Ben glowered at him from his rumpled pillows. "You take it from here," he said finally.

"O.K., O. K.," said Collins. "Am I complaining?"

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

MY SECRETARY, Vera, is a very sensible girl. But recently she has been going around with that dying-calf expression which so clearly indicates a bad case of love.

And Vera is in love — with a dashing young captain-flyer who was wounded in Africa and is now stationed somewhere in the South.

Today Vera came to me and said:

"I don't know what to do. My fellow wants me to marry him. I think I love him, and I miss him terribly. But how do I know it's the real thing?

"I am quite sure it is, but marriage is such a serious thing. I don't want to make a mistake.

* * *

Being an expert on marriages (newspapermen are experts on everything, at least in their own opinion) I said in my most fatherly baritone:

"Yes, Vera, marriage is a serious thing. Maybe you are in love with his uniform and his service ribbons.

"Maybe he is a hero to you; maybe you are just in love with what he represents rather than with him."

"Oh, no," said Vera, "I never thought of marriage as anything glamorous.

"Marriage is keeping house and cooking and washing dishes and raising children."

"Well, have you ever pictured your captain in the kitchen, drying your dishes for you?

"Or have you ever visualized him walking the floor with the baby at 2 in the morning, dressed in pajamas and slippers—no service ribbon, no shoulder-bars — just pajamas and slippers and a crying baby?"

"Yes, I have," said Vera. "I know he's an ordinary man, and I'm an ordinary girl. I don't want any glamour boy.

"He was a salesman before he joined the Army, and he will be a salesman again, and a good husband."

"Then, my child, go and marry him," I said, "and name your first baby after me."

* * *

I DO WISH that every girl who thinks of marriage these days were as sensible as Vera.

Don't marry the uniform. Marry the man.

Gold braids and medals will soon be laid aside. Those who soar today must come back to earth tomorrow.

The dish-towel will replace the sword, every day will be kitchen police, routine will dim glory, and grocery bills will be the war bulletins of everyday life.

Think of that—and may your love be blessed.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE demand of the pro-Roosevelt O'Connell machine in Albany that Jim Farley be ousted as the New York Democratic State chairman exploded a bombshell. But many recent unpublicized events led up to the open break. For example:

Copies of Jim's St. Patrick's Day speech in St. Louis have just begun to reach Democratic politicos who are making fourth-term arrangements, and to say that they are "shocked" is a mild expression. The former Roosevelt pal's remarks attracted scant attention in the press because the address was unusually long, war news was breaking heavily at the time and the first few pages were typical wearing-of-the-green oratory.

But the President's supporters do not have to read between the lines or put on spectacles to conclude that he was striking at the administration from FDR down to the most humble believer in New Deal principles.

Referring to the "sturdy philosophy" of the Irish, he said there was "no room for the supine resignation that takes it as a matter of course that the lives of people should be shunted right or left depending on what muddled impression some neurotic ex-college professor has drawn from the book he read last."

Although he mentioned no names, those who have made up Jim's private audiences in Congressional cloakrooms have no doubt of his target in the following paragraphs:

"One symptom (of what is wrong with the government) is carelessness with the truth. Political adventurers are past masters at the art of manipulating language so that the false that serves their purpose is presented to the people rather than the truth that does not serve them so well. It is not only a matter of direct falsehood, but of suppression of truth, and the suggestion of the false by adroit phrasing and implication.

"I need to suggest no examples, for you hear that sort of thing in public affairs day in and day out. Now, manipulation of the truth is an art most easy to practice when the public mind has been prepared for it by a propaganda of confusion designed to create the impression that everything is relative anyway, and no one can really know what the fact is."

IRISH: FDR's associates are sharply divided as to how to handle the popular New Yorker.

A White House faction wants to apply the same "smear" once directed against such prominent Democrats as Al Smith, Jouett Shouse, John J. Raskob, John Nance Garner and others. The O'Connell machine and many powerful Manhattan bosses plan to elect Tom Cullen, Orange county leader, as state chairman in place of "Big Jim." But National Chairman Bob Hannegan favors a policy of appeasement.

Farley has admittedly lost considerable influence in the national committee, which flouted his wishes at its recent meeting here, and he has no standing at the White House. But he will always command prestige with the rank and file and with Irish voters, who are now resentful of the Roosevelt-Churchill application of pressure against Eire.

SMITH: His old friends, however, wish that he would show less bitterness toward the administration in conversation. In fact, an acquaintance of many years recently retaliated sharply when Farley boasted of the days when he ran a "real organization for the party."

"Why, what are you talking about?" snapped the listener. "You handled the campaigns against Hoover and Landon, and both of them were cinches. In 1940, when you were out, Roosevelt had to buck John L. Lewis, the farmers, a much stronger opponent and the third-term prejudice. But he won easily, didn't he?"

The President's advisers are counting on the "man in the brown derby" to counteract any Farley enmity among the Sons of St. Patrick.

FOOD: The land reforms introduced in Puerto Rico by Gov. Rex Tugwell are largely responsible for continued rationing of sugar in the United States. It was on his recommendation that the crop now reaching the domestic market was reduced by 300,000 tons.

The original proposal was advanced by Charles W. Taussig, Tugwell's erstwhile employer as head of the American Molasses company and now chairman of the American section of the Anglo-American Caribbean commission. As a member of that body, Tugwell concurred, and their joint program was okayed by President Roosevelt.

The presidential "brain truster" inaugurated agricultural changes as soon as he was named to his present post. Arguing that the natives suffered because they depended on a single product, he insisted on diverting land to production of fruits and vegetables. That meant a loss of areas which had been devoted to cane.

Now an official investigation by Tugwell's own experts reveals that under his system it would require 2,500,000 acres to raise sufficient edibles for even an emergency diet. Only a million acres are available for the purpose. Thus it would be more economical to grow the sugar and import food from the mainland.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

NOTHING irritates Army veterans from the front more than civilians' glib assurance that once the invasion starts, Germany's finish will be imminent.

They insist that the recent events in the Balkans—ballyhooed as a sign of Axis weakness — are actually a demonstration of Nazi strength. Despite being pressed by Russians and Anglo-Americans and confronting rebellious Hungarians, Bulgarians and Rumanians, the Reichswehr has succeeded in tightening its mailed fist on 35,000,000 more people —following the pattern in Northern Italy.

We have a tough row to hoe and many of us still do not realize it. A group of generals and admirals held an informal dinner party the other night in New York City. A poll was taken of the prospective peace dates. These topflight leaders picked 1945 as the year of European victory and 1947 for the win over Japan.

Americans need not be pessimistic about ultimate triumph but should be realistic. General Eisenhower must plan for, prepare and deliver 30,000 shiploads across the Channel in a single operation in the face of enemy resistance. And then he has merely commenced his job.

One of Britain's most famous generals told a New York reporter that the Germans may not be bluffing when they talk about a secret weapon. That they may have some such mysterious device held in reserve for our offensive. We must be ready to cope with it.

PERIL: Yanks from Italy call their opponents, "hard-boiled, dirty fighters." The Jerries do not surrender until their last shell or cartridge is fired.

In Naples they sank one ship on top of another for effective blocking of the harbor. We brought in experts fresh from the Pearl Harbor salvage project and cleared channels in 10 days, but our engineers have been less fortunate in repairing damage to bridges and mountain roads and in cleaning up rubble-clogged villages—as proved in Cassino.

The enemy is as ruthless today as when he first machine-gunned peaceful Czechs. Four houses were on a cross road that General Clark's patrols were about to seize. Sleeping within were Italian women with their families. Suddenly a time bomb blew everything to bits and all the civilians were killed. The Nazis had not even bothered to warn the women of their peril.

TUNNELS: We are informed that heavy fortifications have been built along the shores of Europe. German military periodicals maintain that 10,000 guns are assembled and the coastal waters are studded with 7,000,000 mines.

One official publication announces that for months the drone of concrete mixers has been heard round the clock and that caterpillar steam shovels and giant cranes have been employed. A staggered defensive system of barbed wire entanglements runs for miles behind the beaches and a vast network of man-made "rabbit warrens" connects the bastions.

Here And There In Texas

Loose Operations Of State Funds Dug Up In Austin

BY GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, March 28—A requirement that each state department keep on record the signatures of all persons working for the department may soon be ordered by the state.

Numerous disclosures about state payrolls placed before a legislative auditing committee show considerable looseness about present procedure.

Persons were found to have been drawing part time pay from two or more departments under different names. Paid warrants have come back to the state with the endorsement different from the handwriting of the stated payee.

While some warrants may have been endorsed by authorization of the payee, the system offers opportunities for wrong-doing that the state will not long permit to judge from expression of audit committee members.

State Is Not Blameless

As a matter of fact many state employes seldom if ever get their pay direct from the state. This is due to two causes. Many of the employes regularly turn over their warrants to loan concerns that have advanced money to the employe before payday.

Others regularly discount their warrants. The state itself is primarily to blame for this situation. In effect the state is giving "hot checks" to the employes in most departments by issuing them warrants against the general revenue fund. A few who get paid from special funds get full payment. Those who are paid from the general revenue fund sell the warrant to men who visit the state capitol and state offices regularly on payday, collect the warrants and give the employes cash for them less 1 or 2 per cent depending on how long it is likely to be before there is money in the fund in the state treasury to pay the amount of the warrant.

NORMALLY it is several months, sometimes nearly a year, before the treasurer calls in the particular warrants for payment—warrants are called in serial order—and by the time they are actually back in the state's possession, the person who received the money for them may have been gone for a long time.

Warrants issued to the same person, with different signatures on them, recently were exhibited to the committee.

Pretty Sound Reasoning

Judge Ocie Speer, who had long experience on the bench of the State Supreme court before becoming a member of the attorney general's department, surprised a department consultation the other day with an objection to what the grouped lawyers considered a sound opinion.

"What's wrong about it?" Speer was asked.

It's 19 pages long," replied the veteran jurist. "Nobody can write 19 pages without making some mistake."

The opinion was revised. As issued it numbered several pages less.

THE U. S. NAVY is not going to be bothered by a lot of claims from colleges for wear and tear on the college property due to their use for Navy training.

A state committee here looking into arrangements by which Army and Navy training is carried on in many of the state supported colleges learned that the Navy contracts on a basis of cost of actual instruction, plus 3 per cent for wear and tear on the equipment and buildings. Similar arrangements for a wear and tear allowance is made in contracts for housing and feeding the trainees. Average tuition payments per semester is $19.80.

University Patriotic Now

Incidentally, it has been discovered that the University of Texas, complying with a patriotic act of the last legislature, is giving free tuition to more than 100 ex-servicemen for whom the United States government would pay tuition if the university could make a charge for it.

The act authorized free tuition for ex-servicemen and women in state supported colleges. President Homer P. Rainey of the university recently told senators and representatives that while the act was magnanimous, Texas really was penalizing itself by continuings the policy—that Uncle Sam pays for ex-service people's education in other states.

The Texas act does not limit the free tuition to Texas veterans. It applies alike to those who come from Maine or Oregon or Minnesota. Civilian students in state supported colleges pay varying tuition fees if they are from other states. The amount paid corresponds to what a Texas student must pay in the state from which the "foreign" student comes.

Free exchange scholarships with Pan-American nations are provided at the University of Texas.

The Judge Remembered!

A youthful hitch hiker's plea to Judge Jack Reeves of the city traffic court of "but, judge, didn't you ever thumb rides when you went to Rice?" got the lad off with only a warning against future offenses.

The boy, a student at the University of Houston, was accused by the complaining officer of blocking a driveway and thumbing rides.

Italy has two other leaning towers besides that at Pisa, the 163-foot Garisenda and the 320-foot Asinelli at Bologna.

OFF TO A FLYING START

On the Road to High Production with
STANTON'S
MANAMAR
CHICK STARTER
Most poultry authorities agree that profitable poultry raising depends largely on three important factors . . . good chicks, good management and good feed. Our job is to produce good feed that will combine with your good chicks and good management to get your flocks off to a flying start on the road to high production and profit. We have just such a feed in Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. A blend of locally-grown grains, ManAmar and B-G plus, it is rich in the vitamins, minerals and proteins which promote vigorous growth in baby chicks.

B-G PLUS
—is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's ManAmar Chick starter.

MANAMAR
—In Stanton's ManAmar Chick starter supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "complex."

ManAmar and B-G plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formulas for Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

COTTON SEED
D. & P. L. No. 14
TEXAS STATE CERTIFIED
This is the new, early, high yielding strain now grown exclusively by Delta-pine originators of D. and P. L. Made inch-staple and high gin turnouts on the Plains. Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed, germination 96% $12 per 100 lbs.
CHAMPION SNAPPER 140
Grown by R. E. Karper from breeding block seed furnished by Chillicothe Experiment Station where the 140 strain originated. This is an early maturing, lightweight bur cotton bred by Texas Experiment Stations for the South Plains where cotton is snapped. Its light burs enable gins to make better grades from snaps and give higher turnouts. Made ⅞ to 31-32 staple. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $10.50 per 100 lbs.
OLD TIME HALF & HALF
Grown in Wilbarger county by Arnold Seed Farms. This is the old-time high linting, early, short staple cotton. In Lubbock county, in 1943 1500 lbs. of snap made 500-pound bale. Planted in May it made lots of cotton of 13-16 and ⅞ inch staple. Planted the middle of June it was gathered before other cotton planted at same time. We sold several cars on the Plains and have found only satisfied customers. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $11 per 100 lbs.
Send your order with deposit of $2 per 100 lbs. and we will hold seed for May delivery. Other varieties of Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed can be supplied by Kemgas delinting plants in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. For further information address—

MARKET BREAKS SHARPLY

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—The stock market broke 1 to 3 points today and, for a brief period, the high speed ticker tape fell a minute behind actual transactions on the floor of the exchange for the first time this year.

No particular piece of news was responsible for the slump.

Scattered favorites touched peaks for 1944 in the forenoon but the majority failed to hold. Selling dried up at the last and extreme declines were reduced in many instances.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.07 of a point at 51.8, widest setback since last Nov. 6. It was one of the broadest markets in months, 972 issues appearing. Of these 730 were down, 92 up and 130 unchanged. Transfers totaled 1,344,220 shares compared with 692,650 the day before which were the smallest since March 7.

Kansas City Southern was at the years top most of the day on reports Mid-West and Southern business men were moving to acquire voting control of the road. It finished down ⅛.

Utilities, oils and coppers kept declines to moderate amounts.

Bonds were irregular.

Curb stumblers included American Gas, Brewster Aero, Cities Service, Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Electric Bond and Share and Humble Oil.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP) — Cotton prices turned weak in the final hour on a flurry of commission house and New Orleans selling, which met only scale down support. Selling was also attributed to weakness in other markets.

Main Decisions Up To Big Three

LONDON, March 28. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden predicted today every state would have an opportunity to be heard in international discussions, but declared that "responsibility for the preservation of peace must fall in the first instance on Britain, the United States and Russia, and they must have a greater voice in deciding any action taken in the general interest."

In an address before the Free Church Federal council, the foreign secretary said the "first problem is to secure and maintain cooperation of the great powers. This can only be done if we have some common purpose, some common set of principles."

He stated that even after the principles had been agreed upon problems of their application would require "daily continuous consultation" between the big three.

"Every state must have the right to make its voice heard in discussions of means by which we are to arrive at our common ends," Eden said, adding:

"But let us admit that, although all states are equal in status, they are not equal in power and consequently their duties must vary. Responsibility for the preservation of peace must fall in the first instance on the powers which signed the Moscow declaration and I hope also on France, when, as we all trust, without long delay she resumes her place among the great powers. . . ."

The foreign secretary warned that permanent peace entailed "more than political and military security . . . but also economic and social well being, and in this respect too the United Nations are working out a practical policy."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP) — Wheat and rye futures declined fractions to more than a cent just before the close today after holding firm throughout most of the session. Oats drifted lower from the start on a report that permanent ceilings, to be established in about a month, would mean a slight rollback from the present temporary maximums.

Rye, after advancing more than a half cent, eased when selling attributed to houses with eastern connections, uncovered less aggressive demand than recently. Wheat declined with rye and on selling induced by reports of additional snow in the south

Reds Deal Another Tough Blow To Tottering Germans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

In contrast to the stalemated Allied campaign in Italy, Russian forces have dealt tottering German armies in the southeastern Ukraine another swift body blow with the capture of Nikolaev.

The fall of the port city on the Bug estuary exposes Odessa to direct Red Army attack from the east and northeast.

SIMPSON

Just how many German and satellite troops are still east of the Dniester, hemmed in from the north by the Russian breakthrough to the eastern foothills of the Carpathian mountains, is a matter of guesswork. Most military observers have put the number around 500,000, excluding the trapped forces in the Crimea.

It is clear, however, that virtually all Axis forces still east of the Dniester must funnel back into Odessa or its environs for escape by land or sea. And with Nikolaev in Russian hands an immediate Red Army surge across the lower Bug for a converging attack on that Black Sea port seems indicated.

Ukrainian Death Trap

Far to the northwest in the Proskurov pocket another segment of the German Army seeking to extricate itself from the Ukrainian death trap seems all but surrounded. All rail and important highways outlets from the pocket already have been closed by the Russians.

The speed with which the Russians are breaking up the whole German front on the Black Sea flank into dwindling segments serves to emphasize the bogged-down Allied campaign in Italy. Historians, nevertheless are apt to credit some considerable share of the Russian victories to the diversion effect of that Anglo-American surge into the Italian peninsula.

Plastics now are used in the manufacture of the magnetic compass, used in tanks and armored vehicles.

Maj. Dodge Pretty Bad Boy, Charges Estranged Wife

NEW YORK, March 28. (U.P.)—The unfaithful acts of Maj. Horace E. Dodge, heir to a $100,000,000 motor fortune, during the past four years "may well run into the hundreds," his pretty blonde, ex-Vanities wife, Martha (Mickey) Devine Dodge, charged in filing a divorce complaint in supreme court yesterday.

She charged that her husband solaced himself after his daily military duties with a bevy of "seven beauties."

Most of them, she said, were cafe society girls, but one was identified as a lieutenant in the Army Nurse corps.

"My husband gave Lt. Clara Tinsley a gross of nylon stockings for which he paid over $1,400," she charged.

Texans Urged To Help Reduce Egg Surplus

DALLAS, March 28. (U.P.)—In response to an appeal from poultrymen for aid in reducing the egg surplus, L. J. Cappleman, regional director, office of distribution, War Food administration, today urged every Texas family to eat an extra dozen eggs this week.

Cappleman attributed the surplus to record-breaking production in state henyards. He added that all available cold storage space is filled with eggs and that drying facilities and other normal outlets are absorbing more than the usual requirements.

The Jan. 1, 1944, estimate of chickens on farms in Texas hit a record high of 348,495,000, an increase of four per cent from a year ago, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics.
