FROM CANADIAN TO SPEARMAN SUNDAY

A baseball game on last Sunday between Perryton and Canadian turned out to be a away for the local club, the from the river town never having a chance. At the end of the game were stood 16 to 6 in favor of Perryton and the breaks were all in favor of the visitors. The boys from Perryton were just up against a real team and that was the whole story. The Perryton boys were unable to publish the box score of the visiting club for they had numerous changes in their line-up during the game without notifying the score keeper. The Perryton box score as follows:

Well here's hoping that we do for these one sided games but very interesting from the viewpoint of the players, either

PREPARE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Joel Nelson of the Gray neighborhood was very pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends and neighbors with a big birthday dinner on Sunday, it being her sixty-fifth anniversary. She was the recipient of a number of nice presents. Those who were: Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reisinger family, Mr. and Mrs. Delano and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sebastian, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Horne and Mr. and Mrs. Cook and family.

C. Reagan left last Friday in a car for Anacostia, Montana for a visit with relatives. Mrs. Reagan has been visiting in Montana, and returns home with him.

MRS. T. W. GRAY GOES TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Cora Fee Gray, wife of T. W. Gray of Gray, Oklahoma died at her home in that town on Saturday, July 18, 1925 after a lingering illness of over a year. The deceased was born at Williamstown, Missouri on August 28, 1869, to Mr. and Mrs. William Fee. She and her husband came to Beaver County in the early days and founded the town of Gray and they had always taken a very active part in the development of that section. Mrs. Gray had been ill for some time and only recently returned from a trip to the west in a vain attempt to regain her health. Everything that loving hands and medical skill could do to save and prolong this life was done but the end came at about seven o'clock on Saturday evening. Funeral services were conducted at the Gray Church on Sunday afternoon an immense throng was present to pay their last tribute to a woman who had taken so prominent a part in making that section what it is today. The following ministers of the gospel had charge of the burial services: W. C. Bryan, J. W. Duff and Ditto. The body was shipped to Wyandotte, Missouri for burial and was accompanied by the husband, T. W. Gray and a sister, Miss Emmeline Fee. The Herald extends their heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing relatives left behind in this sad hour.

PERRYTON P. T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting at the school house Monday, July 27th at 3 o'clock. The subject will be "Echoes of the Inspirational Conference." Please come prepared to tell what you got out of the meetings just closed. Did you get any sort of an inspiration that will help you better to "carry on?" What points and what lectures impressed you most strongly? What suggestions were made by Dr. Dutton which seem to you of benefit to the community, to the schools? In what ways can we make practical application of these suggestions for the good of all concerned?

The five wonderful days of Dr. Dutton's stay were full to overflowing with good cheer. Perryton has had no greater privilege than this has been. We regret that many were unable to attend and regret, perhaps even more, that there were some who were uninterested. But large numbers appreciated the unusual opportunity for hearing such lectures and for giving their children the benefit and pleasure of the young peoples' picnics sponsored by Dr. Dutton. All were well repaid for the effort of attending Chautauqua during the hottest week of the summer. All will long feel the inspiration received and the powerful impetus toward things that are worth while.

If you are not a member of the P. T. A. come and join. If you are a parent, a teacher, or a friend of the children and of the schools in Ochiltree County you can find plenty of work in the P. T. A. and you will be welcomed as a member. There will be music at the next meeting furnished, we understand, by Mrs. Wilson. —N. M. P.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Alfalfa Sunday School will have a picnic Sunday July 26, in the grove on Mrs. B. J. Jackson's place. Sunday school will open promptly at ten o'clock and immediately following the morning sermon the people will drive to the grove where the remainder of the day will be spent. Dinner will be the first thing on reaching the grove. Then later in the afternoon, there will be several talks made. A cordial invitation to this picnic and to the morning service at the school house is extended to all. If you do not already know the hospitality of the Alfalfa people take this occasion to test it.

The Luxury of Sleep
— O. Lawrence Hawthorne

"Now I lay me down to sleep"—
Oh, what a happy phrase!
Enwrapped in folds of slumber deep,
While stars their faithful vigil keep,
Our barks across the darkness creep
Between two busy days.

Afar we float on spirit wings
Beyond the vaulted sky;
We soar to realms of mystic things
And drink of youth's eternal springs,
While Mother Nature gently sings
A soothing lullaby.

Of men asleep, it matters not
How humble they may be;
In sleep we know a common lot;
All strife and burdens are forgot
When each has found his friendly cot
And sails the Morphean Sea.

The luxury of sweet repose
Bids petty cares be gone!
When men their weary eyelids close
The spark of genius brighter glows;
They gain the might that sleep bestows
And gayly greet the dawn.

LARGE CROWD AT NEW HOPE ENTERTAINMENT

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at the New Hope School was present on last Friday evening when the Perryton Band and Orchestra gave a concert in connection with the ice cream social which was put on by the good ladies of the community. Something over $40.00 was realized from the ice cream supper which will be applied on the purchase of a new piano for the school. A number of short talks were made and a general good time was enjoyed by everyone. These get together meetings are good things. There was at least fifty Perryton people present. A closer relationship between the people of the town and the country is essential for the conditions that confront both are identical and by real co-operation, the best results can be obtained. There is no finer folks in any community in Perryton's trade territory than are to be found in the New Hope district.

PERRYTON SCHOOLS GIVEN THREE MORE CREDITS

Prof. L. L. Price reports to us that the Perryton School has been awarded three additional credits of affiliation for the work accomplished last year. These credits are as follows:

- Agriculture ..... 1/2
- Home Economics ..... 1/2
- Civics ..... 1/2
- Commercial Law ..... 1/2

The census of the Perryton Independent School District as taken by Prof. Price has been approved by the State Board of Education. This census shows a total of 781 students in this district.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

Booker Lodge, U. D., A. F. & A. M., wishes hereby to tender her thanks to the Perryton Municipal Band, for their splendid music rendered in connection with our installation banquet on Saturday evening, the eighteenth instant.

Booker Lodge, U. D., A. F. & A. M., J. W. Bell, Asst. Sec.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Calhoun left Tuesday for their home at Sherman, Texas, after a visit in the country home of their son, Wes Calhoun. They had been visiting in Colorado and had been visiting on their return trip stopped over here on their return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Lackey of Spearman, Texas, are here at the bedside of Mr. Lackey's sister, Mrs. J. L. Dodson.

W.T.C.C. OFFICIALS COMING HERE NEXT MONTH

Col. R. Q. Lee, president, Porter Whaley, manager and other officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, are making a tour of the North Plains and they will visit Perryton on Tuesday, August 11th, getting here at noon and remaining until 3:00 p. m. Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Whaley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ansley of the Amarillo Globe will be in the party.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on last Monday evening, plans for their entertainment was discussed, but no definite action was taken. A committee consisting of H. C. Coffee, Judge Geo. M. Perry, B. B. Kent and R. C. Johnson was appointed to make all necessary arrangements.

The distinguished visitors will be met at Spearman by a large delegation who will escort them to this city. There will be a luncheon of some nature at the noon hour. Col. Lee, the president of the W. T. C. C. is one of Texas biggest business men. He owns one of the finest poultry farms in the United States. He organized the Bankhead Poultry Association, whose members are now getting $10.50 a case for their eggs. He knows, from practical experience the value of diversified and intensive farming, and a special invitation is extended to every farmer in this locality to come and hear the message, which he will bring to us.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means to express our appreciation to those who contributed so freely toward the success of our ice-cream social. We are especially grateful to the Perryton Band and Orchestra for their lovely music, to Mrs. Hudson for her splendid readings, to Mr. R. T. Shindler for his untiring efforts in advertising the affair, to Mr. Van W. Stewart for his liberal donation, to Mr. Connor as auctioneer, and to all others who helped make our social a success through their kindness and liberality. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hogland of our own community deserves special mention for their lovely music.

New Hope Sunday School

Messrs. Joe and Guy Coffee of Miami, Texas, were business visitors here last Saturday.

Howard Brin of Chicago, Illinois, is visiting in the home of his aunt, Mrs. H. Abrams of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bell of the Union vicinity were trading here on Wednesday of this week.

TWO GOOD RAINS FELL THIS WEEK

The official rain gauge kept at this place by Attorney Jack Allen showed a precipitation of .72 of an inch on Monday night and .85 on Tuesday night and from all reports both of these rains were fairly general over this trade territory. These rains will do the cotton and feed crops much good. From the present indications, it looks as though the feed crop will be fairly good. The cotton crop depends entirely on more rain as does the feed grain crop. We have got to have a number of good rains yet in order to make much of a crop. The farmers are all busy getting their wheat land in condition for the fall planting. With a favorable season, we should have the biggest wheat yield in the history of the country next year for practically the entire crop will be planted on summer fallowed ground. The few wheat crops that were cut this year were nearly all on summer fallowed fields. There is a shortage of seed wheat and some will have to be shipped in for there was not enough wheat raised here this year to seed the country. Some of our farmers are going to have to help in obtaining seed wheat. Just what action will be taken to get this relief, we do not know but something will have to be done at once or many fields that are prepared for seeding will go without seed.

BOOKER INSTALLS NEW MASONIC LODGE

Many Perryton people were in Booker on last Saturday evening to attend the installation of the first officers of the Booker Masonic Lodge which is now operating under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge of the State. A banquet was served to all who came and it is estimated that there was at least four hundred people present. The new lodge starts off in a fine new brick building which is one of the best fraternal halls that we have seen in this entire southwestern country. It was built by the Masons of Booker before they even had their charter and it is a credit to a lodge of many years standing. The hall is located over the drug store of Dr. Smith, who is a loyal Mason himself. Visitors were present from Perryton, Beaver, Huntoon, Spearman, Forgan, Shattuck, Follett, Darrouzett, Higgins, Lipscomb, Canadian and other towns.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Perryton Municipal Band. Talks were made by W. T. Quinn of Beaver, Dr. Long of Beaver, Guy Winghamof Follett, E. C. Carver of Perryton and others. The installing officers were Reputy Grand Master Frank Latimer of Higgins and Deputy Grand Marshal Joe Michel of Darrouzett, assisted by the regular officers of the Higgins lodge. Following are the officers of the new lodge: H. H. Mitchell, W. M.; C. E. Burchet, S. W.; E. H. Wheat, J. W.; W. F. Lany, Treas.; J. N. Fleck, Sec.; W. E. Dart, S. D.; C. J. Osborn, J. D.; J. A. Burran, Tiler; R. S. Norman, Chaplain.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of our beloved aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Metcalf. May the blessing of Good rest upon each and every one is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. N. Stump and Relatives

Mrs. Fred W. Hood and son, George came in Saturday from Joplin, Missouri, where they visited in the home of Mrs. Hood's parents. Mr. Hood met Mrs. Hood here and they left Sunday for the south plains, where Mr. Hood is employed by the Panhandle Lumber Company as special representative. George remained here for a few weeks visit with his many boy friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bell of the Union vicinity were trading here on Wednesday of this week.

NEXT TRADES DAY ON AUGUST FIFTH

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on last Monday evening it was decided to hold at least one more Monthly Trades Day. It will be held on the first Wednesday in August which is the fifth. Many of the merchants are strong for continuing this monthly event which has never failed to attract the largest crowd of the month. Others think that it does not pay. While it may not pay directly for all business houses, yet we are of the opinion that as a whole a Trades Day is a good thing for any town. Since the starting of the first Trades Day in Perryton, the following neighboring towns have fallen in line and are now holding Trades Day: Higgins, Booker, Hooker and Guymon. Canadian and Liberal have been holding them for some time. Towns east of here in Oklahoma have been holding them for ten years and more without a break. Yet some contend that they are not a good thing for Perryton. A Trades Day is just what the merchant makes it. If he is alive and awakes he will profit by it, but if he is one of the old time "sot in his ways doing business like they did at the cross roads thirty years ago," then it won't do him any good. You've got to be sold on an idea before you can put it over or even be the smallest cog instrumental in putting it over.

PERRYTON WILL CELEBRATE SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

It will be just six years on next August 22nd, since the town of Perryton was founded. On August 22nd, 1919, there was nothing where the beautiful city of Perryton now stands but the bald prairie. Now what do we find? A hustling, bustling little city of over 2000 inhabitants, modern business buildings, churches, school buildings, water and light plant, white ways, and a town which is known far and wide as the "Wonder town of the North Plains." The wonderful growth of Perryton has been made through the hard work of a citizenship which is second to none on the face of the earth. Every single one of them is a booster for a bigger and better Perryton. Of course we have had our up and downs, our little sore-spots, but we defy the world to show us a town where personal differences are thrown aside when we are called on to all pull together for Perryton.

And so, to commemorate the progress that has been accomplished since that day six years ago, when that vast crowd assembled here to do honors to the birth of Perryton, it has been decided to have one big day here on Saturday, August 22nd. A committee consisting of Leon Roembach, R. T. Shindler and R. C. Horn has been appointed to work out details for the celebration. The program has not been planned in full but there will be ball games, a rodeo, band music, games and contests for the children and a good time for all. Make your plans now to be here with us in Perryton on the 22nd.

CELEBRATE THEIR FIFTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McMillen celebrated their fifty-second wedding anniversary with a six o'clock dinner at their home in this city on last Friday, July 17th. These fine people were wedded in Collins County, Texas, in 1873, and came to this country in March, 1901, when there were few people in the county. They have raised seven children, all of whom are good substantial citizens and leaders in their respective communities. Mr. and Mrs. McMillen also have seventeen grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Those present at the anniversary dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Barbour and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McMillen and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McMillen and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rogers, and Misses Antha Rogers and Ruth Spencer.

KING OF THE RODEOS

(Copyright by R. B. Doubleday.)

Tex Austin, a name that is known in every locality in the country where horses are bred or cattle raised. Such is the man who will draw on his years of experience to manage the Chicago Roundup and World's Championship Rodeo to be held for nine days, beginning August 15.

"King of the Rodeo" is the title Austin has won. Born in the great state for which he was named, he was raised in the atmosphere of the range. He participated in the thrilling deeds of the famous contests of the Far West and then became a ranchman himself. Wherever the roundups have been staged, Austin's name has become synonymous with the cowboy sport. In the effort to perpetuate the spirit of the West, he managed and directed numerous rodeos in the West, also giving the East its first thrills from cowboy contests. Then, spreading the fame of Uncle Sam further, he put on the great international rodeo at Wembley, England, under the auspices of the British government.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLarty and family and Miss Alwayne Ford of Liberal, Kansas, who was their house guest, returned last Friday from a fishing trip in the Follet country.

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY

(Copyright by R. R. Donohedy.)

Estimated tornado on four legs, 1,200 pounds of living dynamite—such is the "outlaw" bronk, scores of which will provide the chief thrills of the Roundup and World's Championship Rodeo, to be held for nine days, ending August 15. Wiry and daring, coolest when facing almost certain death—such is the buckaroo, standard type of the men who will fight it out the "bad" horses in the Chicago contests.

Broncho busting calls forth all the courage that is traditional on the range and a great part of the $30,000 in prizes appropriated by the Association of Commerce, under whose auspices the rodeo will be held, will go to the men who will fight to stay for a few seconds on the horse decks of the "sunfishing," "skyscraping," squealing, fighting cayuses, in the course of the buckaroo clashes with the lawless spirit of the rodeo, the ride is always a sensational finish. Tex Austin, famous for his many successful rodeos and who will manage the Chicago spectacle, already has contracted for the top bronks from the three greatest up of bucking horses in the West.

Mrs. Jas. E. Barbour and Astha Rogers visited relatives here last Sunday and Monday.

HEALTH EDUCATION
IN RURAL DISTRICTS

By Mrs. C. R. Fields, Sec. Public Health Education, Texas State Board of Health.

Let's wife was turned into a pillar of salt because she looked backward, so the Bible tells us. However her deed was prompted by idle curiosity, the satisfaction of which could serve no worthy purpose. Prior to this occurrence, Abraham had parted company with Lot because the venerable patriarch had reflected upon the multiplicity of grievous experiences that had hatched out from time to time between the two households. Looking backward in his case made clear to the Father of Israel his only practical, future course.

Looking back in the matter of public health, we find that years ago conditions for the conservation of health were more favorable in rural districts than in cities. This being before the almost universal use by municipalities, of sewage systems, inspection of food supplies, establishment of health centers, examination of school children, and other protective health measures. It is now an established fact that rural communities are more insanitary than well kept cities, and the incidence of sickness is higher there and the death rate greater.

Rural Schools Should Be Health Centers

Those who are leaders in modern sanitary thought realize today that the future of health endeavor lies in the education of the people in health essentials. When the idea of health education was first developed, the natural course was to begin with the adult, but experience has taught that the child is the proper one with whom to begin. The teaching of health should be as much a part of the school curriculum as the teaching of geography, arithmetic, or any of the routine subjects.

It is time the people of communities were waking up to the importance of protecting community health. Make your school not only a social center but a health center as well. And in line with this thought, there is one important thing that people in rural districts must realize, and that is this: Children can not be taught health valuations when surrounded by insanitary conditions. It is necessary in order to impress children with the importance of observing sanitary regulations in the conservation of health, that special attention be given to the sanitation of the school plant. It is a lamentable fact that little or no attention is given to the sanitary conditions of many rural schools. It is the duty of trustees and patrons of those schools to see that everything is in readiness for the opening of school, which means absolute cleanliness of grounds, an approved type of privy, and an uncontaminated water supply.

Deadly Open-Pit Closet

Can you imagine anything more insanitary than the common type of insanitary closet, unscreened, allowing the fly free access to its load of accumulated filth, and making him a carrier of disease germs. To have a privy of his type around your home is extremely dangerous to yourself and family, and to tolerate one on your rural school grounds is hardly less than criminal, as it is a menace to the health of the whole community.

We have reached that stage of civilization and education when a privy must no longer be considered merely a place to hide the body while performing the acts of nature. The excreta from the human body often times contains deadly disease germs, and any privy which allows its contents to be spread in any way is dangerous. Some of the diseases for which open-back insanitary closets may be responsible are: typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, and hookworm.

As a rule, the farmer does not really understand what a serious health menace this type of closet is, or he would not tolerate one on his premises. He spends much money building a comfortable home for his family, constructs a garage and adequate barns, and then proceeds to build an open-back privy, which immediately becomes a health menace to his entire family.

This is indeed strange when one considers that an outlay of $12.00 or less would build a pit privy type of safe and sanitary surroundings for his home.

In First Line Trenches at Dayton

Here are the headliners in Tennessee's court trial against the teaching of the theory of evolution in public schools. Left to right—Wm. J. Bryan for the State; Judge Ralston, presiding; and Clarence Darrow for the Defense. Insert is of John T. Scopes, the young Dayton teacher who is charged with teaching the theory. The battle between Bryan and Darrow is of national interest and it is a shirt sleeved affair as the picture shows.

One's health and the health of his family is more important than anything else, as upon health is dependent success and happiness. Protect the health of your family and promote the health of your community by observing common sense laws of sanitation. These laws are nothing new, as Moses was the first improved closet which would mean Sanitarian of which we have record, and any reader of the Bible is familiar with the teachings given to the children of Israel by him on the disposal of body waste.

Plans for building a safe type of privy will be sent you free of cost by your State Board of Health at Austin. Statistics show that 3,000 persons die every year in Texas as a direct result of the open-back closet. In order that you or some member of your family may not be among this list, write today for a copy of these plans, that your home may be provided with the most necessary of all equipment, a sanitary closet.

FARM POPULATION DECLINED DURING 1925

The farm population of the United States decreased approximately 182,000 during 1924, according to estimates based on a survey of 25,000 representative farms made recently by the United States Department of Agriculture. This is a drop of .6 per cent during that year, the estimated farm population on January 1, 1924. This estimate includes not only the agricultural workers, but all men, women and children living on the farms on that date.

The movement from farms to cities, towns and villages in 1924 is estimated at 2,075,000; the movement to farms was 1,396,000 making a net movement from the farm population of 679,000 persons, or 2.2 per cent. Births among the farm population during 1924 are estimated at 763,000 and deaths at 266,000 leaving a natural increase of 497,000 which reduced the loss due to the cityward movement to 182,000 or 6. per cent.

A similar estimate made in 1922 showed a loss in farm population of 460,000 as against 182,000 in 1924. The gross movement from farms to cities in 1922 was 2,000,000 compared to 2,075,000 in 1924, a slight increase. The gross movement back to the farms in 1922 was 880,000 compared to 1,396,000 in 1924, a very decided increase. The net movement from farms to cities in 1922 was 1,120,000 or 3.6 per cent and in 1924, 679,000 or 2.2 per cent.

Two geographic divisions (the New England and South Atlantic States, showed a net increase in farm population for the year 1924, of .9 per cent and .2 per cent, respectively. All other divisions showed decreases, the Mountain States leading with a loss of 2.8 per cent.

The decrease in farm population due to the cityward movement, not taking into account births or deaths, was highest in the Mountain States 4.3 per cent, followed by the Pacific and West South Central States. In all other divisions, except the New England, the percentage of decrease due to the cityward movement was equal to or less than the average for the whole United States, 2.2 per cent. New England alone showed a gain of .3 per cent, since more people moved from cities to New England farms than left farms for cities.

The movement from farms to cities was found to be at the highest rate in the Mountain States, 13.8 per cent, followed by the Pacific, New England Middle Atlantic, and East North Central States in order. In the movement to farms from cities, the Mountain States again lead with 9.5 per cent, followed by the New England, Pacific, Middle Atlantic and East North Central States.

Mrs. G. R. Wilson and little daughter, Mary Lee, returned home last Friday from Bloomfield, Indiana, where they had been visiting for the past few weeks in the home of Mrs. Wilson's mother.

Off The Beaten Path

The real charm of touring lies in leaving the main-travelled highways and exploring the thousands of alluring side-paths. These dirt roads and trails lead to spots of rare beauty unvisited by the throng—where better camp-sites may be found—finer fishing and lovelier scenery. In a Ford car, you can enjoy the thrill of exploration and discovery. It is the one satisfactory means of travel for these narrow roads—light—yet so powerful that it will bring you through—easy to handle—sturdy and economical.

It will carry the whole family and the saving in cost often pays for the entire vacation.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The Fort That Was Built on a "Scrap of Paper"

On September 3, 1813, a young lieutenant of the American army, Thomas Hamilton, found himself in a desperate predicament. Outside Fort Madison, a little fortification on the Iowa shore of the Mississippi river, swarmed hundreds of hostile Indians who had been besieging him for nearly a month. Any attempt to escape would be perilous but to hold the fort meant the massacre of his men, if the savages carried the fort by assault. Starvation, too, faced them, for their provisions were exhausted.

So Hamilton ordered a trench dug down to the river's edge where boats were moored. That night they crept down to the water, undiscovered by the enemy because of the blackness of the night and a high wind which was blowing. When the last man left the fort, he set fire to it and as Hamilton's force paddled out into the current of the Mississippi the buildings roared into flames. The Indians pursued but Hamilton had too much start and he reached St. Louis in safety.

Thus ended the brief history of a fort which was built upon a "scrap of paper." In 1806 Gen. James Wilkinson sent Lieut. Zebulon Pike to select a post between St. Louis and Prairie du Chien, Wis. Pike chose a place on the west side of the Mississippi some 40 miles above the mouth of the Des Moines river. A treaty made with the Sac and Fox Indians the previous year had specifically prohibited the government from building forts on the west side of the river. As in many other cases, the government regarded this treaty as a "scrap of paper" and in 1808 Lieut. Alpha Kingsley of the First Infantry began building the fort, completed it the next year and named it Fort Madison in honor of President James Madison.

Lieutenant Hamilton came there in September, 1812, with a force of 50 men and immediately afterwards the fort was attacked by 200 Winnebagoes, who were aided by a young Sac warrior named Black Hawk, who was on his first warpath against the Americans. From that time Fort Madison was repeatedly attacked and besieged, until at last Hamilton abandoned it. It was never rebuilt and all that remained for many years to mark its site was a stone chimney which survived the fire. The chimney later crumbled and fell but a few years ago it was restored by the women of the city of Fort Madison which grew up on the site of the old fort. It now stands as a monument to a thrilling episode in Iowa history as well as to the tragic sequel of a broken promise.

DEATH TAKES ANOTHER ADOBE WALLS SURVIVOR
By a few short days, Andrew Johnson was prevented by death from seeing the fifty-first anniversary of the battle of Adobe Walls and the United States was left with only one white survivor of the most famous conflict of the last Indian uprising of any consequences in Oklahoma and Texas. The only white survivor now left is Fred Leonard of Salt Lake City.
In 1924, the Panhandle Plains Historical society erected a monument to the twenty-six men and one woman who, on June 27, 1874, repulsed a band of between 700 and 1,000 Kiowa, Comanche and Cheyenne and Arapaho Indians with the loss of only three lives, and made one of the most stirring chapters in the history of the old southwest. The Indians lost heavily. The autobiography of Billy Dixon, one of the fighters, states that at least thirteen bodies were left so near the stockade and houses of the walls that the intrepid warriors were afraid to get them.

No Count Made.
No count was ever made of the Indian dead, which were taken away by the tribesmen, where they would be buried safely and not scalped.

Johnson helped build the first post of Adobe Walls, in Hutchinson county, Texas. Later another trading post was established within a mile of the old post. After the battle he moved to Dodge City, then a frontier town, where he spent his remaining days.

The very reason for the existence of Adobe Walls was the reason for the attempted massacre by the Indians, which was the beginning of a summer of guerilla warfare over western Oklahoma and Texas until United States troops, under Gen. Nelson A. Miles, pushed the barbaric savages back on their reservations. Some of the Indian survivors still are to be found on Oklahoma Indian reservations, living peacefully beside the white man.

Slaughter Begins
When railways pushed through Kansas, opening a market in the east, the slaughter of the vast herds of buffalo was started by many adventurous spirits. As the herds were thinned, prices went up. By a treaty with the Indians, the Arkansas river was the "deadline" for hunters. South of there was the territory of Indians, for their own hunting and pleasure.

But "ager buffalo hunters gradually pushed over the line, and began to destroy the buffalo, and therefore the food of the Indian tribes. Comanches, under Quannah Parker, who died only a few years ago; Kiowas under Lone Wolf, after whom an Oklahoma town is named, and who died this year, and the Cheyenne and Arapahos under Little Robe banded together for a last blow against the dominance of the white man.

City Only Dot
Adobe Walls was a little dot of civilization on an expanse of plains. The nearest town was Dodge City, across "No Man's Land," and the Kansas line. There were two stores, one belonging to Rath and Wright, who also operated a buffalo hide yard, and the other to Myers and Leonard. There was Hanrahan's saloon and a blacksmith shop.

On the night of June 26, 1874 there were many tales of western exploits told in Hanrahan's saloon. Billy Dixon was starting on a fresh buffalo hunt and he and friends were jokingly speculating on how much money they would make. Mrs. Williams Olds, the only woman in camp, was busy in her little restaurant, a part of one of the stores. Finally those who had beds turned in, and those who didn't turned out into the open, the favorite place to sleep of the frontiersman of that time. Big "50's" or buffalo guns, were placed between blankets to avoid the rusting dew.

A trick of fate perhaps saved the little band of whites from being killed. Early in the morning several of the men were awakened by a peculiar noise. The ridge pole of the saloon had cracked under the weight of the sod roof. Many crawled back into their blankets after finding what the trouble was. Three or four stayed up, some of them going to a creek to cut some props for the roof.

They decided to stay up and get an early start. Dixon went for his horses when from out of the shadows of the dawn swept a horde of barbaric figures, headfeathers flying in the breeze and naked bodies red with war paint. Dixon fired a shot or two and retreated to cover where Johnson and others were repairing the roof.

The surprise attack cut off the twenty-six men pretty evenly in the two stores and saloon. The Shadler brothers, a sleep by their freight wagon, were scalped where they lay. Others got into houses.

Doors were barricaded while the buffalo guns of the frontiersmen boomed into action. Indians began to fall under the long range fire, as the hunters and pioneers shot through chinks and over doors. Some of the white men did not have time to dress. Late in the day the attackers retired and soon other hunters began to run into the post, having been warned of the trouble. There was no more trouble and Henry Lease volunteered to make the trip through the hostile county to Dodge City to get the aid of the United States government.

Billy Tyler was killed in the fight in addition to the Shadlers, and after going through the battle, Olds was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun, while building a lookout tower on one of the houses.

Perhaps the most pitiful part of the story as told by various authorities on the subject was the plight of the horses, wounded by stray bullets and shot by Indians, who came to the post

Poem
Uncle John
While madder, last an' thiev' cry has got us by the hair, our optimistic friend butts in and sez there's nothin' there. The gloomy prospect brightens every time he takes a look—an' he wants to call the doctor if we think we see a spook.

There ain't no durability to optimistic paint, when it makes a rotten structure look like somethin' that it ain't. And, there's nothin' more disgustin' than the optimistic guess which would turn a dismal failure into an-achieved success!
I don't deny the optimist is nice to have along, on a voyage where the undertow is tuggin' at us strong—and I don't consider optimism a very grievous fault,—only when it starts to lyin'—then it's time to call a hull.

So—we reckon that the optimist may help to banish dread—regardless of the dairy-fat that's stored inside his head. But, until the rule is altered 'that, a man is born to die, you can't postpone the funeral with an optimistic lie!

WHO SHALL BE PRESIDENT OF TEXAS A. AND M.

The selection of a president for the Texas A. and M. College is an important matter. Dr. Bizzell, who resigned the position recently to accept the presidency of the University of Oklahoma, was an exceptionally fine president, and there should be no "let-down" in the quality of the man who fills the position.

The president of the A. and M. College should be farm-raised. He need not be what is commonly known as a "dirt farmer," but it is essential that he know enough about farming to feel a keen sympathy for our farm people and to have a sufficient grasp of their problems to enable him to lead the way in solving them.

The president of the A. and M. College should have other attainments besides a sympathy for and a knowledge of agriculture. He must be a leader of men, a broad-minded man, a diplomat, and somewhat of a politician in that he will have to use political methods at times in order to protect the interests of the college.

But let no one get the idea that The Progressive Farmer thinks a politician should have the position. There is a difference between using political methods to help the college and using the college to help one's political aspirations. The president of A. and M. should put the welfare of the college first. Too many politicians use the jobs they hold as rungs by which they climb higher upon the political ladder. Let's not allow the A. and M. College to be used for any such purpose. All farmers should insist that the appointment of the president of the A. and M. College be free from the taint of politics.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE A. AND M. COLLEGE

The recent action of the Governor in vetoing various items in the A. and M. College appropriation bill is a good example of the harm that may be expected to follow when politicians are allowed to decide what a state school needs and what it does not need. As we see the matter, the college should present its budget to the board of control. The board of control should work it over and then pass it on to the Legislature. The Legislature may appropriate such an amount as it sees fit to allow for the support of the college. It should then be up to the president of the college to distribute the funds among the various departments of the college, as he sees fit, and the Governor should have no hand in the matter. Surely the president of a school is in better position to decide what the college needs and what it does not need than the Governor. The president usually has the welfare of the school at heart. The Governor may be, and quite often is, more interested in his own political welfare. If the Governor is given the power to veto separate items in a college appropriation bill, he can dictate what the school shall teach. If he does not like the way any one department is being run, he is in position to eliminate it. He can veto its appropriation and it perishes for lack of financial support. Any state school that can be made the plaything of politicians is in a fair way to be ruined.

DISAPPROVES COOLIDGE. LEVIATHAN FOR SALE. VERY NICE GIRL WANTED. MR. ROCKEFELLER, AGE 86.

England dislikes President Coolidge's Fourth of July address and says there is nothing in it to "show that the President has tried to master the facts concerning Europe."

That, however, isn't what interests the United States. The President HAS mastered facts concerning THIS country. He has mastered the fact that when you lend money you expect to get it back.

And he seems to have mastered the fact that the business of the United States and of the President is to attend to the United States and keep out of foreign complications.

THAT SUITS THE UNITED STATES.

A little girl of seven set fire to six houses and was sent to an industrial school for correction.

Not long ago this child would have been punished with death, perhaps by burning, first being encouraged to denounce the "witch" whose evil spirits had compelled her to set the fires. The world is not so bad as it was once, even if it seems less religious.

The Government will sell great ocean liners that don't pay, including the Leviathan. Suppose the richest country in the world would run its ships without extravagant frills, brass bands, etc., and allow school teachers, high school and college students to go to Europe and back at cost, or better still, FREE of cost. How much would it be worth to this nation to have 25,000 teachers and young students see and study Europe every year? But nothing of that kind could be done. It would be "nationalism."

JUNIOR SOROSIS CLUB

Miss Ruth Puckett was hostess last Wednesday to the Junior Sorosis Club. At the time of this meeting no definite line of study had been decided upon, so at this time it was decided that the Club take up the study of Home Economics. The first part of the program consisted of current events, which proved very interesting. The Junior Sorosis Vice-President, Miss Louise Garrett, then gave a very interesting account of the life of Carrie Jacobs-Bond, composer of "A Perfect Day," after which Miss Marie Kent sang "A Perfect Day," accompanied by Miss Navis Witt. Mrs. Henry Cutter, President of the Senior Sorosis was present and responded with a very interesting, as well as instructive talk. Mrs. Freeman Garrett then read the Club Collect. After the business hour luncheon was served to Mesdames Henry Cutter, Freeman Garrett and C. L. Hooper, and Misses Etta Mae Garrett, Celta Gardner, Mary Ragan, Louise Garrett, Mabel Cutter, Mary Garrett, Mildred Bauman, Navis Witt, Ruth Puckett and Marie Kent.

John D. Rockefeller is eighty-six years old. He plays his usual round of golf, weather permitting, quite content with 48 for 9 holes, and with his milk and seltzer, toast and perhaps two ounces of meat. It is hard for some to realize that golf, exercise that anybody can take with a stick and a round pebble, not more than 20 cents worth of food a day and a bed to sleep in are all that Mr. Rockefeller gets from his great fortune.

What will history say of John D. Rockefeller, whose work and success better than that of any other man with the possible exception of Henry Ford, typifies this industrial age?

He will be praised because he has never set a bad example of ostentation and extravagance to embitter the poor.

All except his contributions to knowledge will be forgotten in 500 years. But 1,000 years hence, historians will carry the picture of John D. Rockefeller and will say of him: "This is the man who proved competition to be wasteful and unnecessary."

"This man, proving that one man could successfully manage and own an industry, laid the foundation of ownership by the people. They at last discovered that what one man could do the people could do for themselves."

Latest Triumph in Railroading

The completion of the new Chicago Union Station marks a noteworthy accomplishment in the history of important engineering undertakings, in which travelers from all parts of the United States will derive pleasure and benefit.

The station is without doubt one of the most and most efficiently designed and terminals in the world. It is a vital link in the realization of the "Chicago City Beautiful Plan." Simplicity, accessibility and convenience to the traveling public are the essential virtues of the new terminal. Rest, recreation rooms, ticket offices, refreshment shop, dining rooms, stores of every kind, and almost every convenience known to travelers, are to be had at the one level, no steps to climb.

The main station is a low monumental type of building with a row of twelve columns of classic design along the entire east front. Once inside, the traveler finds himself in a spacious waiting room more than 100 feet high and brilliantly lighted through skylights in the great arches. Colonnades inclose the room, the walls of which are patterned after the architecture of ancient Rome. Here the traveler is met by the ultra-complete passenger terminal facilities. An innovation in railway terminal design is a reference room accommodating 125 people which is available, without charge, to patrons of the Union Station lines for conferences and other meetings.

To give some idea of the immensity of the new station, it may be stated that the main building covers an area of about three acres with a concourse covering 60,000 square feet. The entire terminal facilities cover more than 85 acres and will expedite the prompt and satisfactory handling of 50,000 passengers, 400 tons of baggage and 900 trains daily with room for future expansion. Fifteen acres of glass were used in the various coverings over the train sheds, which extend more than 1,200 feet beyond the main structure. A total of 17,000 tons of structural steel, 175,000 cubic feet of Indiana limestone and 10,000 cubic feet of granite were used in the station building and concourse. The foundation consists of 449 cylindrical concrete piers from four to ten feet in diameter, reaching to a depth of more than 60 feet below the level of the Chicago river.

Those who have had the privilege of inspecting the new station pronounce it a marvel in terminal construction and are urging their friends to see it on their next visit to Chicago.

The station is used jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., and the Chicago & Alton R. R.

FEEDING GRAIN TO WORK STOCK

"Would you feed grain two or three times a day?" asked Sam.

"It makes little difference, but probably feeding grain three times a day is more satisfactory, and possibly less colic or overeating occurs. However, mules fed grain twice a day will do well, if once accustomed to it. The most important matter in grain feeding to horses and mules is regularity—regularity in time of day, times per day, and in quantity and kinds of feed.

"If the work is changed, especially if made harder, the quantity of feed should be reduced if the animals have been getting a full feed. It is in such cases and for such reasons that individual feeding is desirable, for only when the mules are fed separately can they be fed according to their needs.

"The amount of grain fed should be regulated to the size and needs of the individual horse or mule, and to fit the kind and amount of work being done. Some animals of the same size and doing the same work will require less feed than others, but as a general rule, idle horses or mules, when fed all the good equine hay they want, will generally require very little if any grain. Attention to this matter and the growing of an abundance of legume hay would save the South millions of dollars in reducing the cost of feeding our horses and mules. As the work is increased the amount of hay should be decreased and the grain increased in proportion, until the hard-working animal should get not over three quarters of a pound to one pound of hay daily for every 100 pounds of his weight. The smaller amount is better in hot weather for animals doing hard work. As the work is increased and the hay decreased the grain must be increased. The amount required will usually range from 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of grain daily for those doing hard work. More pounds of oats will be necessary than of corn and cotton seed meal. If one bushel of corn is equal to 2 bushels of oats, then 7 pounds of corn is equal to 8 pounds of oats. Also, when grass hay or fodder is the roughage used, 10 pounds of corn and 12 pounds of cottonseed meal will be found equal to 16 pounds of oats."

Aileen, the Queen

Aileen Riggin is again demonstrating that she is queen of the waves in fancy diving and will easily retain her national title during 1925. This excellent photograph is the newest of her.

FEEDING DAIRY COWS FOR MILK AND PROFIT

"Is there a crop I can raise which will take the place of cottonseed meal or other rich protein feeds which I now buy?"

There are crops which you can raise which will take the place of cottonseed meal, or largely take its place, but it is questionable if it will pay you to produce these crops and feed them in place of purchased cottonseed meal. For instance, 35 bushels of soybeans is probably equal in feeding value to one ton of cottonseed meal. These beans might be grown on two or three acres, but if a ton of cotton meal can be bought for $40, then 35 bushels of beans need only sell for $1.15 a bushel to make them as expensive for feeding as cottonseed meal at $40 a ton.

The costs of feeds or their market prices must always be kept in mind whether you grow them or buy them, and when any ready-mixed feed, oil-meal or by-products like wheat bran, gluten feeds, rice polish, etc., can be bought for less money, feeding value considered, such purchases should be made, instead of feeding corn, oats, etc., even though these be home-grown.

HOT WEATHER POULTRY HINTS

"Don't sell the well developed, early pullets, because they will pay many times the price brought as fryers, by producing the high-priced eggs this fall and winter," advises Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at State College. "The early hatched cockerel that is blocky, heavy of weight, and mature, should be saved for breeding. He will give strength and vitality to the flock." Dr. Kaupp adds these five additional timely hints:—

1. The late hatched, deformed birds are the ones to be fattened and sold for broilers during summer.
2. Dispose of the old birds as soon as they quit laying. This will give room for the young stock coming on.
3. Separate the cockerels and pullets; give both plenty of shade, clear pure water and plenty of dry mash.
4. Give grain feed morning and evening and in such amounts as are cleaned up thoroughly. This will help bring early eggs. If scraps are fed, give at once before they become moldy, and putrid.
5. Use the spare buttermilk or skimmed milk for the birds as this will aid in bringing the pullets into early laying and will put strength and stamina into the males.

MISTAKES I HAVE MADE

One of my greatest mistakes was in failing to provide adequate shelter for my farm machinery. When one has a tractor, truck, reaper, and binder, several wagons, and innumerable small implements, there should be enough shed-room for all of them. For several years I left some of my most valuable implements out in the weather because I did not want to go to the expense of building shelter for them. I see my mistake now and am paying for it dearly in repairs and new parts for machinery which deteriorated simply because of exposure.—Q. J. M., in The Progressive Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hutchinson and little son, Arliss, left Thursday for College Station, Texas, where they will attend the Farmers' and County Agents' Short Course at the A. M. College. From there they will go to Port Arthur, Texas, where they will visit relatives, and then on to Alexandria, Louisiana, where they will visit for two or three weeks in the home of Mr. Hutchinson's parents.

WHEAT, HOG, AND CATTLE OUTLOOK

Last year's favorable wheat situation may be somewhat reversed this season, declares the Department of Agriculture in its June 1, report on the agricultural situation. Instead of a bumper crop in time of world shortage, the report says, we appear to have a poor yield in sight with likelihood of better crops abroad. More than half the winter wheat acreage was abandoned in Washington, Montana, Oregon, New Mexico, and Texas, and nearly a quarter of the acreage in the whole country.

Commenting on the hog situation, the report says that the total supply of hogs and pork in sight for this year is much smaller than in any other year since the close of the war. Of the estimate of about 42,000,000 hogs to be slaughtered in the year ending next November 1, over 28,000,000 were slaughtered in the first six months, against 21,000,000 in the same period of 1921-22, when hog production was closely comparable with that of last year.

Any easing up of hog supplies would presumably not be without effect on cattle prices, report states. One of these days the cattle industry will find itself definitely on the up-grade, following which the country will become concerned over a cattle shortage in about eight years.—The Progressive Farmer.

THE MONEY COST OF THE TOBACCO HABIT

Many years ago, when I was just a boy growing up on a Southern farm, an old uncle of mine brought out the money side of the matter in a way that I have never forgotten. He was a great smoker, and in the family circle one day somebody suggested that he figure out about how much money he had spent for tobacco. I do not recollect the exact figures, but I know it astonished him and all the rest of us to see how much he would have had if he had saved it all and put it out at interest—I think about $5,000. An old man reared near where I was gave an experience sometime ago that is pertinent in this connection. He said:—

"Forty-three ago I quit using tobacco in any form. It had cost be a little over $24 a year. At the end of the first year I put in the bank $24, taking a certificate at 4 per cent. At the end of each year I put in the bank $24 together with interest. At the end of seventeen years the interest was $24. At the end of twenty-eight years my certificate drew $49. At the expiration of forty-two years it drew $102. Total $2,690. I am using this in the education of my children. Am now sending the sixth one to college."

In other words, when he as a young man was spending $24 a year on tobacco, he was spending not merely the $24 but he was spending something else. He was spending the possibility of getting all the later interest on this amount, the interest alone on his tobacco money now amounting over $100 a year.—Clarence Poe, in The Progressive Farmer.

WHAT IF CO-OPS' MILLION BALES HAD BEEN DUMPED?

What if the million bales in all the co-operative association in the South had been dumped at the same time the non-members were dumping? Where would the price have gone? This is the thing that should interest members. So when you think that you have not received the last penny that you might have gotten, think of the above and make a guess as to what you would have received had there been no organization in the South.

It is too bad that men who join themselves together for the purpose of working out the problems of a whole group, should have to give a large share to men who stand aside and watch the fight. But this is true of every movement of any size which has for its object the revolutionizing of any business. Whoever heard of the burden of any big public enterprise being spread over the entire people as it should be?—J. D. Eldridge, in The Progressive Farmer.

A Young Man who was determined to build up a snug little fortune decided to learn how others had solved the same problems that confronted him.

He found three things were necessary.

FIRST—Of course he must learn to earn money and the more he could earn the easier his success would be.

SECOND—He found that it was very important to learn to spend his money properly. It is very easy to "blow in" all a man earns.

THIRD—He found it was no trick to save money if the first and second rules were observed. Any one who knows how to earn money and spend wisely will find a snug bank account easily obtained. Try these rules for yourself.
