Supervisor's Dry Land Cotton

Here's an example of the type of conservation farming that has earned Perry Bowles the award as outstanding supervisor of Mitchell County Soil Conservation District. Waist high tallness of the dry land cotton, farmed on the contour, is emphasized by the four persons standing between rows. They are, left to right, Bowles, A. V. Sheppard, Soil Conservation Service unit technician; County Judge-elect Elmer Martin and City Councilman R. B. Baker.

AS OUTSTANDING SUPERVISOR

Bowles' Conservation To Area Competition

Longer the hunt, the more they are finding in the good conservation farming record of Perry Bowles.

Bowles, Colorado City farmer, has been named Mitchell County Soil Conservation District's outstanding supervisor for 1958.

His selection was made by a special committee, chairmaned by Gus Chesney, as part of 8th Annual Soil Conservation District Supervisors' Awards Program of Texas.

Bank & Trust Company of Dallas.

Selection of Bowles by the county committee was based on service to his board, conservation activities, conservation leadership and practical application of conservation program to his farming.

And as the committee began to gather detailed data to submit in behalf of Bowles in area competition, the more they found.

In fact, they have had to delay mailing the data for the area competition while the extra facts and figures were assimilated.

If Bowles is a winner in area competition, then his record will go up against winners from four other areas for the No. 1 state award plus $500 trip to study conservation.

As a Mitchell County Soil Conservation District cooperator, Bowles has 1,100 acres in contour farming, 823 acres in cover crops, 521 acres in crop residue utilization, 325 acres in rotation hay and pasture.

In addition he has 44.6 miles of constructed terracing, 75 acres in brush control, 45 acres in range seeding and 45 acres in irrigation water management.

Girl Returned from Spree in Odessa; Rifle Firing Checked

A 16-year-old, Colorado City girl has been returned to her home after a three-week drinking spree in Odessa.

She was released to custody of her mother after being taken into custody in Odessa.

Juvenile Officer Claude Henry of Odessa notified city and county authorities here that the girl had been on a drinking spree for "about three weeks."

The girl also had been in company of men during that time, he reported.

Police Saturday were continuing to investigate a theft reported at Whiteway Motel.

Fox Honeycutt notified police Friday morning that between $85 and $90 was taken from his pocket and billfold.

The theft took place while he was sleeping between 9:30 p. m. Thursday and 6:15 a. m. Friday, Honeycutt reported.

A five horsepower Evinrude boat motor was reported stolen last week end at Colorado City.

Final report of All Saints Episcopal Church's every member canvass will be made Saturday at a parish dinner.

Special guest at the dinner will be Rt. Rev. George H. Quarterman of Amarillo.

Bishop Quarterman will be making his semi-annual visit to the church.

All Saints Episcopal's every member canvass began Nov. 2 with the goal for sufficient financing to become a parish with a resident minister.

Bishop Quarterman informed the church prior to start of the canvass that a resident minister could be assigned All Saints if the canvass resulted in a subscription of $8,000 by the church membership.

The canvass report Saturday at the parish dinner will reveal to the bishop first hand whether the subscription will allow assignment of a resident Episcopal minister here.

Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, who has served the local church out of Snyder for the last two and a half years, has encouraged All Saints members to "endorse with sacrificial giving" the plan to obtain a more effective ministry for the Episcopal church in Colorado City.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. for James Hulet Wagner, 80, retired farmer, who died Friday of a heart attack at his home, 1050 E. 6th.

Services are scheduled in Oak Street Baptist Church with the Rev. Ray Sparks, retired Baptist minister from San Angelo, officiating.

Wagner was born Aug. 23, 1878, in Arkansas. He married Eula Davenport in Hamilton County in 1905 and they moved to Mitchell County in 1916.

He was a farmer in the Westbrook and Carr Communities until his retirement several years ago when he moved to Colorado City.

MORE DOLLARS ON TREES TUESDAY

Hundreds of dollars more will hang free for the asking Tuesday on Colorado City's "Money Trees."

In fact, there will be 255 winning numbers on the "Money Trees" in 85 local business and professional firms.

And each of those numbers will be worth from $1 to $100. Every number will be a winner.

All it takes for you to win is for one of the numbers to match the license number of your automobile. Then take the number to Chamber of Commerce before 9 a. m. Wednesday.

First money winner report Saturday — the first "Money Tree" day — was Mrs. J. D. Fuller of Cuthbert. Reporting a short time later with another winning number for S. I. Simmons, 925 Vine.

Four Due Election In Voting

Eight citizens, representing seven different phases of Colorado City's business and professional life, have been nominated for the Chamber of Commerce directorate.

Their names will be listed on the chamber's annual ballot that will be mailed to the membership on or before Dec. 1.

In the list of nominees are: Paul Boston, member of Magnolia Petroleum Corporation's Land Office staff here, active currently on the chamber's oil development committee.

Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson, head of Robinson Drilling Company and a member of the chamber's industrial development committee.

George Witten, partner in Craddock-Witten Ford Agency and Craddock - Witten Insurance, former president of Lions Club.

Bob Pender, owner of Eva's Dress Shop and member of Jaycees.

Dr. Seth Cowan, associated with Rhode-Clinic and a member of the chamber's membership committee.

Philip Berman, owner of Pick & Pay Super Market and member of the chamber's merchants committee.

Dewey H. Davis, owner of Colorado Feed & Seed, member of Kiwanis.

Wayne Shaw, cashier of City National Bank and member of the chamber's merchant committee.

Four of the eight nominees will be elected to three-year terms on the directorate.

Directors whose terms expire this year are G. D. Foster, Dr. W. S. (Bill) Rhode, J. W. (Bill) Randle and O. A. Ruffin. Chamber by-laws do not allow a director to be named to succeed himself, thus assuring constant rotation on the board.

The eight nominees were approved for the December ballot at a meeting of chamber directors Thursday night. Members of the nominating committee were Foster, Randle, Lewis Williams and John T. Merritt.

Hungerford Elected To Diocesan Post

Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, vicar of All Saints Episcopal Church, has been elected to executive committee of the newly created Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas.

He was named at a meeting of the Diocesan Primary Council during the last week in Amarillo. His term of office extends until the council meeting in 1960.

Hungerford, who resides in Snyder, also serves the Diocese on the board of examining chaplains, church pension fund committee and the council committee on resolutions.

County Churches in Mission Programs

Six Baptist churches in Mitchell County will begin special School of Mission programs featuring five guest speakers experienced in the mission field.

The schools, which will continue through the week, will be at Westbrook, Lorraine, Payne, Plainview and in Colorado City at Oak Street and First Baptist.

Explorer emergency service awards will be presented Dee Snyder and Merritt.

Delivery Monday for New Phone Books

New phone directories will be mailed to Colorado City residents Monday.

Approximately 2,800 alphabetical listings are included in the book, according to Truman Black, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager for Colorado City and Snyder.

The new directory has the traditionally grey cover and contains 20 white pages with alphabetical listings, plus 40 yellow or classified pages.

Approximately 4,400 copies of the directory have been printed. Black said.

A net gain of 181 more phones — increase over disconnections — is represented in the new directory. This hefty increase, one of the highest rates of comparable cities in West Texas, is for the first nine months of 1958.

The 4,400 copies printed include extra copies for replacement for phone books in public telephone booths and in other places where heavy use occurs.

"After all," Black said, "the telephone directory remains one of the best read books in Colorado City."

Willard Thurman, 56, of Cuthbert community, died Tuesday in the local hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in Fairview Baptist Church with Rev. Travis Bedford of Abilene officiating.

Thurman was born in Eastland County, June 4, 1902. He came to Mitchell County 31 years ago and settled in the Cuthbert community where he was a farmer.

He married Muriel Craighead in Colorado City Dec. 24, 1929.

Thurman was a member of the Baptist Church. He is survived by his wife of Cuthbert; one son, Waymon, of Cuthbert; two daughters, Mrs. Jake Autry of Cuthbert and Mrs. Clyde Rhodes of Edmondson; and three grandchildren.

Also, five brothers, Ed Thurman of Del Rio, Floyd Thurman of Kaufman, Robert Lee Thurman of Fayetteville, Ark. Wayne Thurman and J. C.

$5,500 STILL TO GO

Fund To $22,007

Mitchell County United Fund climbed another rung on its ladder Saturday.

And the total collection was reported at $22,007—approximately $5,500 short of its goal.

But the Saturday total represented a gain of almost $2,000 during the week.

Roy Bates, campaign chairman, said the $22,007 collected by volunteer workers in six separate divisions included $11,785.19 in cash.

Pledges amount to $10,222.59 at this stage of the campaign, he said.

The fact that actual cash donations amount to more than pledges caused campaign leaders to urge citizens to consider the pledge method for supporting United Fund and its nine participating agencies through 1959.

"Everyone who knows the job United Fund accomplishes through its health, youth and welfare agencies really wants to contribute his share to United Fund," Bates said.

"And in most instances, at least for the average citizen, the individual can best offer his support by pledge method."

"By using the pledge, the citizen can give a little at a time throughout 1959 on the schedule he selects. The pledged payments mount up to the kind of a contribution he desires to make, yet it does not cut a big whack into his budget at any time."

Lorraine volunteer workers under the chairmanship of K. L. Taylor made their second report this week.

The workers brought in $419 more, boosting Lorraine's total to $1,231. All of that is from Lorraine proper, not rural areas.

Campaign in Lorraine is in the windup stage now with only a few workers yet to complete assignments.

Workers in Colorado City's four major divisions were urged Saturday to complete their assignments.

World War I Barracks to Meet Tuesday

The newly organized Mitchell County Barracks of World War I will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Colorado City's American Legion Hall.

And all veterans of World War I are invited to attend the meeting, said Keith Miles, barracks commander.

Charter for the barracks is being held open until Jan. 1. So World War I veterans joining now will be among the organization's charter members.

Miles was elected commander at the second organizational meeting Friday night.

Leroy Gressett was named senior vice commander and Dr. E. W. Brunner, junior vice commander.

Other officers elected were W. D. Jackson, quartermaster; Joe Smith, chaplain; C. M. Watson, judge advocate; W. C. Davis, Sam Thompson and Dave Wonack, trustees.

Also included in the charter member group are Roy E. Warren, Bradley McQuerry, Roy E. Murry, Earl N. Burk, Roy C. Dozier, Lewis Elliott, John B. Pritchett, Howard Rogers and Acie Phillips.

TO INFORM YOUTHS, DADS

Chamber to Sponsor Banquet Program for National Guard

Chamber of Commerce directors have placed three major events on the community's calendar.

Leading off the series will be a businessmen's sponsored Civic House dinner Nov. 24 to educate high school youths and their dads to the National Guard program here at home.

Scheduled for January is the Chamber's 50th annual membership banquet.

And on the calendar for March 2 is the city's annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet.

All three events were approved Thursday night by chamber directors upon recommendation of committees.

Key division and battalion personnel of 648th Armored Artillery Battalion, 49th Armored Division, Texas National Guard, are expected to be here for the Nov. 24 dinner. The program will provide information how young men here with military obligations to their nation can meet those obligations at home with active membership in the local National Guard unit, Battery C of 648th Armored Artillery Battalion.

Youths in high school reaching military age and their fathers will be invited to attend the dinner and program as free guests. Hosts will be local business men, who also will attend.

The National Guard educational dinner is being sponsored by the chamber because the city is threatened with loss of Battery C and closing of the new National Guard Armory.

Battery C, although just awarded "Excellent" rating by regular Army inspection team, was placed on probation Nov. 1 because of being below minimum personnel level.

If the unit's personnel does not increase to 51 officers and men within the six-month probationary period, then government funds for the battery's operation will be cut off and the armory will be closed.

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet in January — definite date will be set later — will feature Rt. Rev. John E. Hines of Houston as principal speaker.

Hines is bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas and one of the Southwest's outstanding speakers.

The teacher banquet in March will be the kickoff event for Colorado City's observance of Public School Week.

Card playing is known to date back at least to the 12th century.

VALUE GAIN BUILDS UP

Profit Gain Emphasized Here In Long Range Farm Planning

By ALFRED BYRD, Associate County Agent

As farmers know, today's profit margins are small. Some farmers and agricultural workers believe, however, that there are certain practices which can improve the situation considerably for farmers who are not using them to a great extent.

Following are a few of these practices:

1. Conserve water. There are many ways to do this. A high of runoff means a loss of 30 pounds of lint per acre.
2. Keep and analyze records to help determine ways to improve individual enterprises and the overall farming operation.
3. Diversify with livestock. This practice helps utilize labor more efficiently; often affords a more profitable way of marketing grain; and helps protect against economic ups and downs.

4. When feed is plentiful and cheap, build up a reserve for dry years. Silage, for example, can be preserved for several years without losing much of its nutritive value and palatability.

5. Compare ideas (varieties, methods, etc.) on a small scale to determine which will work best on your farm. A three dollar an acre idea applied to sufficient acreage and years can amount to thousands of dollars.

6. Examine closely the entire farm operation to see that it is being run with maximum efficiency.

7. Pay close attention to management details. The last two practices are most essential in all farming areas today and will continue to grow in importance in years ahead.

The amount of increased earnings, however, would depend upon each individual farmer's present operation and the extent that these and other practices could be used. In some cases, possible increased income may appear insignificant on the surface, but it increases in value when considered in terms of accumulated value over a period of several years.

In other instances, increased earnings may be sufficient large to take on great meaning when considered from an annual viewpoint.

Increased income would also benefit the county as a whole. For example, if the 900 farm families in Mitchell County could increase their farm profit an average of only $500 annually, this would amount to approximately a half million dollars a year.

This figure would increase in economic value several times as the money changed hands in the county.

For additional information on these and other ideas, you are invited to contact your local county agent's office.

Adventures in ADVERTISING

If the shipping department of a factory had not made an error, the world would never have known of Musa-shiya the Shirtmaker and the most astounding advertising campaign in history would never have been launched.

Following World War I an English textile factory was getting back on a peacetime basis. In error it sent a full five year backorder of shirting material to Musa-shiya, a Japanese shirtmaker who operated a small shop in Honolulu. Business was poor and Musa-shiya was near bankruptcy, when the customs office informed him that certain bales of cloth and a fat bill for duties awaited his pleasure at the port of Honolulu.

When the little shirtmaker realized what had descended upon him, he asked for time and went into the silence for purpose of mental refreshment. Remembering a friend in a big mercantile establishment, he hid himself there and sought counsel. How in the name of the horned prophet of evil was he ever to get rid of all that English shirting? And in the meantime where was he to put it? His little shop of a shop wouldn't hold one bale.

"You'll have to advertise," advised his friend. "Leave it to me. I'll have our advertising agents help you out."

This merely compounded the little Japanese shirtmaker's troubles. Advertising to him was an uncharted sea. The advertising agent called on Musa-shiya and suggested $300 as a modest starter. "Too-o-o much. Maybe I think thirty dollar plenty," said the shirtmaker. He was told that wouldn't even get him in print. The agent explained the costs of various advertisements and finally Musa-shiya agreed to try the plan and what was destined to be the most astounding and far reaching campaign in the history of advertising was launched.

THE FANTASTIC STORY of MUSA-SHIYA THE SHIRTMAKER

(Also Sometimes Drygoods Selling)

Two column by five inch ads then started appearing regularly in the Saturday Honolulu Star-Bulletin. The ads were written just the way Musa-shiya talked—in colorful pidgin English which is used throughout the Orient. Here is an example of one of Musa-shiya's ads:

"Well here come storek again—but Musa-shiya, the shirtmaker, is able prepare. Wonderful accumulation of baby things in dry goods selling corner of Musa shop. Everything for the baby—especially diaper. Exclusive of storek, which find most easily, many persons not finding little shop of Musa-shiya the shirtmaker in King Street, Makai side, between fish market and river."

Tourists started sending copies of Musa-shiya's ads to their friends in many countries. Soon Musa-shiya was receiving orders from all over the world as well as doing a thriving business in Hawaii.

And that is the story of how a well planned, small advertising campaign made an unknown Japanese shirtmaker not only wealthy but world famous.

Your local newspaper doesn't promise to duplicate this story for its advertisers, but it does take your sales message into the homes of your customers where full and careful consideration is given your suggestions. Who knows, perhaps you too can be a Musa-shiya.

OFFICIALS ARE 'FLAG HAPPY'

Lake View & Penalties Derail Wolf Pack, 22-0

A quartet of flag-happy officials, plus a fired-up scalping party of Lake View High Chiefs proved too much for Colorado High Wolves football team Friday night as the Chiefs copped the District 3-AAA contest, 22-0.

A Homecoming crowd of 3,000—with 50 to 100 C-City fans—watched the Lake View team and the officials take advantage of the Wolves' in Chief Stadium.

Lake View's first touchdown was legitimate... the second one was a gratis gift from the officials... and the third was an early Christmas gift from the Wolves to the Chiefs.

Lake View scored with 1:47 left in the first quarter to go ahead 8-0. The second quarter was played almost entirely in the Chiefs' end of the field with the Wolves threatening the double stripe.

Chiefs, who appeared to have lost their vinegar during halftime, were unable to move against the Wolves as the third quarter got underway.

With fourth down, it appeared that the Wolves had held the Chiefs on their own 43... and a turning point in the game seemed apparent.

But then the officials took over.

They called a penalty on the Wolves for hard tackling—a tactic Lake View had been employing all night long.

That set the ball on the Wolves' 42. Wolf Head Coach Homer Jefferson raced onto the field to inquire why the official had penalized his team.

Jefferson told the Record Saturday morning that the officials called a penalty on the Wolves for hard tackling—a tactic Lake View had been employing all night long.

official told him to get off the field or he would penalize the Wolves again.

Jefferson complied with the official's request, turning to go off the field. As he walked off, the official marked off another 15 yards, moving the ball to the C-City 27.

Wolves held the Chiefs for no gain on two plays, then Lawrence Mixson picked up seven and Gary Warren rammed for three yards, close to a first down.

But, the officials did not give Colorado City a measurement to determine whether it was a first down, motioning the chain on down the field.

From that point, Mixson, Warren and Shorty McCall worked the ball to the 1-yard line on short gains as the third quarter ended.

McCall sneaked over on a quarterback keeper play for the score with one second gone in the final period for a 16-0 lead.

Wolves took the ensuing kickoff, couldn't gain a first and the officials slapped another one of those 15-yard penalties on the C-City team, shoving the ball back to the 15 yard line.

In a bit of strategy that backfired, the Wolves ran Lucky Merket on a fake punt on fourth down with 27 yards needed for a first.

Merket gained only four yards and Lake View took over on the 19.

Mixson, Warren, Preas and McCall hacked at the Wolf line six times to cover the 19 yards with Preas ramming over the last two for the TD for a 22-0 lead.

Wolves almost gave Lake View another score on the ensuing kickoff. Merket fumbled the kickoff on his 12-yard line and tried several times to pick up the ball, but the Chiefs swarmed on him to take possession. Wolves held the Chiefs with the aid of a 15-yard penalty.

Wolves punted out with Merket booming a 42-yarder against the wind to the Lake View 48.

Wolf halfback Don Welter intercepted a Chief pass on the next series of plays and the Wolves started a passing attack of their own.

Jay Shimer hit Mike Schoolcraft for a 15-yarder to the 33. Freddie Womack ripped off 10 yards and fans thought time had run out.

But officials ruled the Wolves had one more play. And Jefferson's team used the last second to good advantage on a spread formation play.

Shimer passed to center Raulo Lujan, who was eligible for a pass, hitting the big boy on the 35 and he rumbled on down to the Lake View 20 before being brought down from behind after a 35-yard gain.

Warren, the Chief fullback who dealt misery to the Wolves all night long, was the big gainer with 128 yards in 20 carries. He sparked the Lake View team in its first touchdown drive, ripping off 39 yards to the Wolves' 40 yard line on the first series of plays in the game.

Warren worked the ball on down to the Wolf 20, but Wolf end Phillip Bates fouled up the drive when he threw Charles Preas for a 19-yard loss on a double reverse.

Lake View kicked to the Wolf seven and then the Wolves kicked back to the 42. Warren ripped off 10 to the Wolf 32, then rambled for 22 before Mixson picked up seven to the 4.

Warren rammed the last four for the TD and then added the two points extra on an end run.

Wolves made their big bid for a score early in the second quarter. It came when James Shoemaker recovered a Chief fumble on a punt on the Lake View 36.

A Chief defensive man was found guilty of grabbing Womack's face guard and the ball was moved to the 20.

Shoemaker raced like an antelope around right end for 11 yards to the 9 and first down. Shoemaker gained only three more yards in two carries; a pass went incomplete and Merket lost two yards on fourth down as the Chiefs held on the five yard line.

Rest of the second quarter was spent in midfield until Dickie Richardson boomed a 68-yard quick kick from the Wolves' 30 to the Lake View two-yard line shortly before halftime.

Then came the third quarter and the episode of the flag-happy officials, the play that broke the Wolves' back and the turning point of the game.

A total of 175 yards was marked in penalties with Lake View, oddly enough, receiving 95 to the Wolves' 80, but the Wolves came at a time when it really hurt.

The fast-moving Lake View line hurt the Wolves' running game, held to 60 net yards. The Chiefs employed an eight-man line majority of the time, trapping the Wolf runners behind the line or rushing quarterback Shimer before he had a chance to pass.

Womack led the Wolves on the ground with 45 yards in 12 carries while Shoemaker netted 25 yards in seven carries.

Merket wound up with 6 yards on 11 carries.

Wolves gained 60 yards on three passes while Lake View got only 27 yards.

Merket and Richardson had a tremendous 40-yard average on six boots, the only bright spot in the offensive picture.

The loss left the Wolves' season record at 1-6-1 with one loss and one tie in district

C-City Standouts

HOME BUILDING BOOM

Colorado City is now enjoying the biggest boom in home building in decades. Even this week, 11 additional building permits for more than $124,000 has skyrocketed the 1958 total to $741,810—all in private business or residential projects.

And as these citizens plan their new homes, they're including telephones in the plans. Home builders realize the importance of telephones in the everyday life of the home-maker and business man.

Color telephones are being included in the plans to match the color decor of the new homes. It's the smart thing to do whether you're building a new home or just remodeling.

HOLIDAY GET-TOGETHER BY PHONE

If all the people in your family won't be with you in person for turkey and all the trimmings, let a telephone call wipe away the miles and still make it a "family day".

After all, a long distance "voice visit" is the next best thing to being together. Why not plan now to make your call Thanksgiving Day?

"Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays"

The fascinating story of how scientists tracked down the mysterious cosmic rays will be told in a Bell System science show coming your way on TV on Sunday, November 23.

"The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays" was first telecast last year. Today, this program should be even more timely with television viewers, since one of America's satellites spinning around the earth carries special sensitive devices to record these cosmic rays.

Starring Dr. Frank Baxter in the roll of the "Scientist" and Richard Carlson as the "Writer", this Bell System science program is another in the series designed for family entertainment.

"The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays" will be telecast over Channel 2 at 5:00 P. M., November 23rd, Sunday.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
