TOWN TALK

The Progress Edition in last week's paper listed many, many industries for Colorado City. It showed the progress that has been made and progress that is anticipated.

Even with all that was listed, there were some industries and items left out.

One of the oldest industries in Mitchell County is the Bodine Brothers Drive-In Dairy in Buford. Their production of milk and eggs plays a very important part in the local economy.

There is the Dunnam Packing Co., formerly M&T Food Service, which also is a large employer and plays an important role in the economy here.

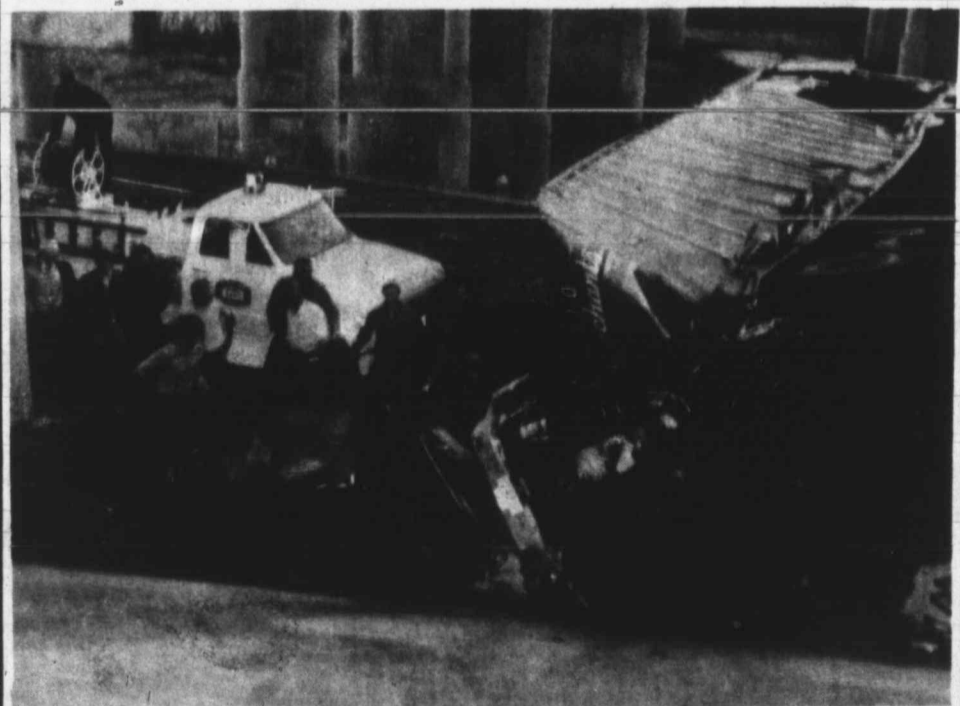

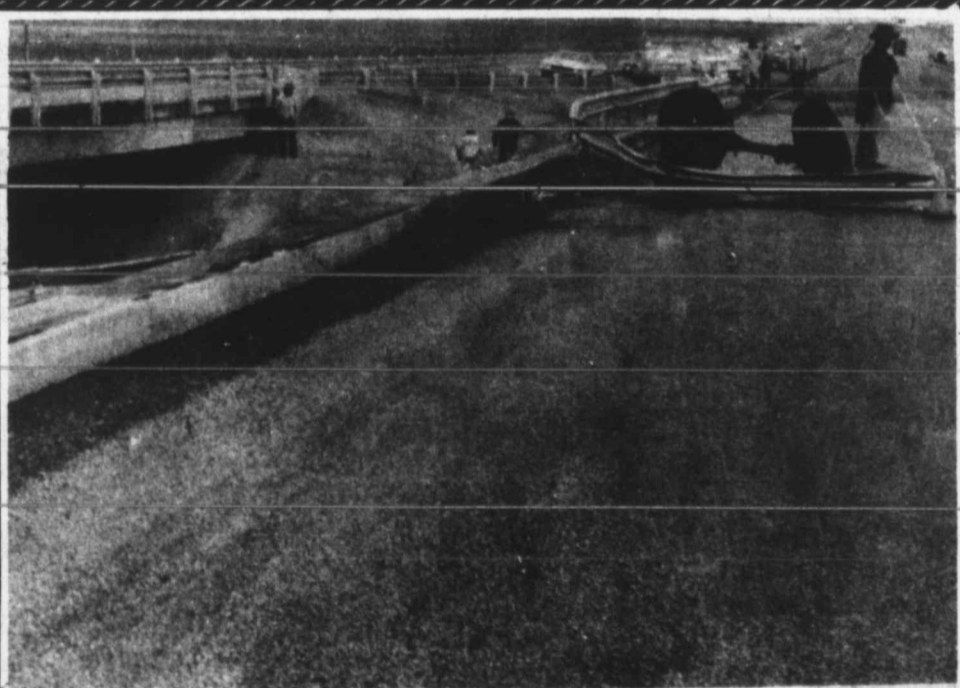

Fuller's Trucktown also has a large payroll and brings in money from out of town.

The two lakes provide two of our greatest assets as tourists and fishermen flock to Mitchell Co. to enjoy water sports which we so often take for granted.

The Colorado School system in 1972 added a number of items which helped the economy including the addition of teachers for Plan "A" and the building of a new gymnasium at Hutchinson Elementary.

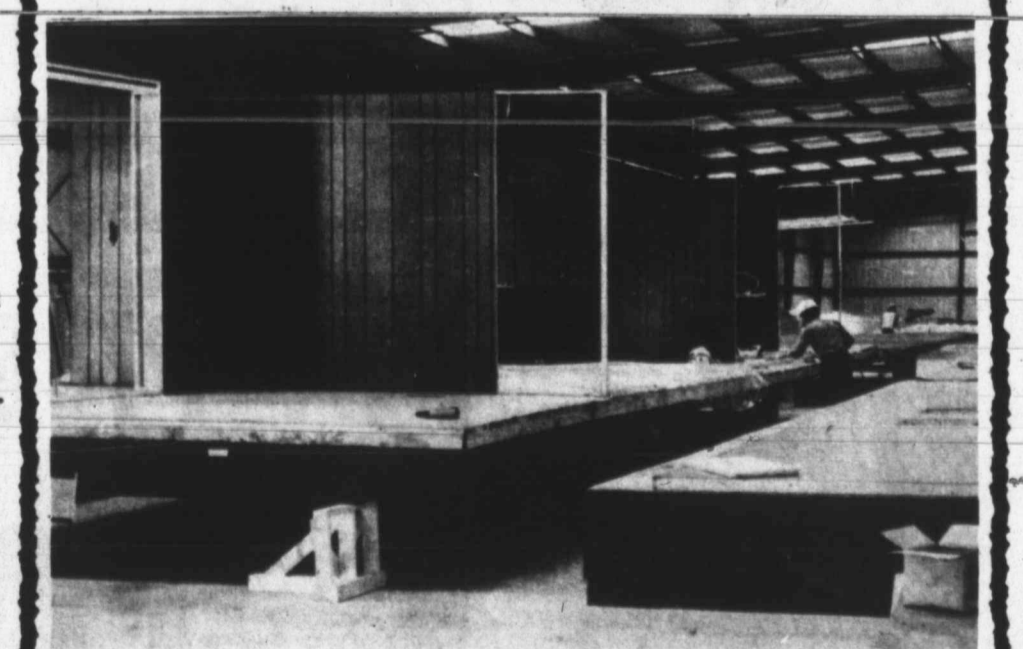

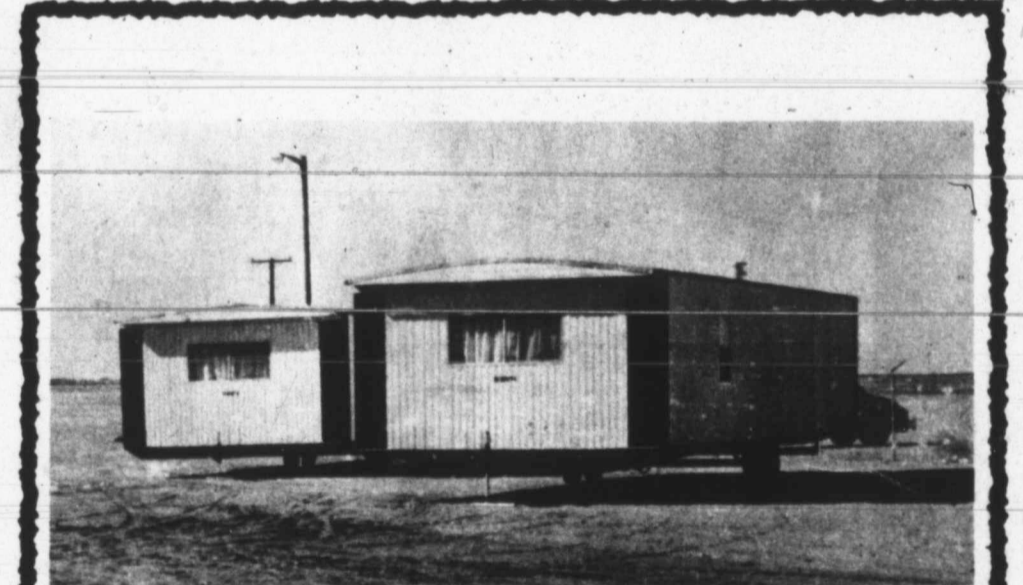

New construction scheduled for 1973 also includes a new church building for St. Anne's Catholic Church. That construction is planned for the near future.

Colorado City Livestock Auction draws people to Colorado City every week and is a big boost to the economy as is M. D. Williams Irrigation Sales and Service which does work throughout this entire area.

Interstate Accident

An empty Merchants Fast Motor Lines trailer truck went out of control Saturday afternoon in the east bound lane of Interstate 20 and crashed through a bridge rail over the Colorado River. The truck landed on the access road that goes under the interstate. The driver, C. W. Selman, 52, of Irving, was treated for a broken back and broken ribs at Roof Memorial Hospital before being transferred to Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

In Production

Production is now underway at Sequoya Mobile Homes of Colorado City where some 40 persons are now employed. Bottom picture shows the beginnings of a mobile home in the factory and at top are two of the factory's finished products. Sequoya hopes to have as many as 150 employees and produce some four to six mobile homes a day within the near future.

Ruth COFFEY'S
CONVERSATION CORNER

(Editor's Note: today's column was taken from the Jan. 9, 1969 issue of the Record.)

PEOPLE WATCHERS are aware of ways to tell a lot about people without asking a single question.

Read somewhere the other day that when a man looks at the menu before he looks at the waitress he's getting old. Now there's a reasonable deduction if ever there was one. He's either getting old or is eating out with his wife.

When a man reads the right side of the menu before he glances at the waitress, listing entrees, he's spending his own money and not blessed with an expense account.

When a man orders without looking at the menu--steak, tossed salad, French fries--he's either in a hurry or in a rut. Or both.

When a man reads the paper while he's eating out, it's almost a cinch he's a stranger far from home.

When a man eats with his hat on he's either getting bald or "done-got" or just plain careless and forgetful.

PEOPLE WATCHERS are wrong on occasion. But it's usually safe to surmise that when a man and woman eat together in utter silence except for "pass the salt", they're married. To each other.

When two women slip out for lunch together, it's most likely to be Lions Club Day.

When a woman orders pie a la mode she's given up counting calories and decided to live in peace with her weight problem.

When a woman orders salad with vinegar and oil she's putting up some kind of token fight.

When a woman forgets to renew her lipstick after a fried chicken feast she's been married forever or is just slipping.

PEOPLE WATCHERS, other places, could offer many observations more apt to be true than not.

When a woman writes letters or thank you notes while under the hair drier instead of reading a beauty shop magazine she's the practical kind.

When a woman can go into a store to shop trailed by kids, and is still smiling instead of yelling, she is either a grandmother or a favorite aunt and not their mother.

When a woman tries on a garment she admires without a glance at the price tag she must be rich or plenty mad at her husband.

PEOPLE WATCHERS learn from experience that when a man goes shopping for his love and knows the exact size, color and style, it's because she told him.

When a car goes by with two men up front and two women riding in the back seat both honeymoons have been over for many moons.

When a woman says she has to talk to her husband before she she's either well-trained or has yet to make up her own mind for sure.

When a man says he has to consult his wife about ANYTHING he's passing the buck too.

When a woman acts or answers directly opposite from the way a man expects, it's because she is a woman.

When a wife can predict a husband 99 out of 100 times, it's because he is a man.

When a man and a woman would defend each other to the death, in spite of all such minor complications, it's because, people watchers all know, the two are man and wife.

Mrs. Baird taught her sons to take personal responsibility for the quality of their product.

And today Mrs. Baird's Bread is still judged by members of the Baird family... because they still care about personal supervision.

County Mental Health Clinic Extends A Helping Hand To All

The patient population of the Big Spring State Hospital is steadily decreasing. One of the primary reasons is because Outreach Clinics help cut down the number of re-admissions and help avoid serious mental illness by giving immediate attention to cases which otherwise would have required long term hospitalization.

Previously in order to receive mental health care, a person needed to be either wealthy or in such a condition that he could no longer function in the outside world. The Outreach Clinics of the Big Spring State Hospital have changed this situation.

Mental health care is now available to all of the residents of the county at the Mitchell County Mental Health Clinic, located at 136 East Third Street. The Mitchell County Clinic was opened in 1969 by the Big Spring State Hospital.

The local clinic is directed by Mrs. Bernice Hilliard, a mental health caseworker with intensive training in care and treatment techniques. Marcus Sweat, a community case-worker, offers social services to welfare recipients. A clerk, Mrs. Elton Burson, schedules appointments, keeps records, and answers inquiries.

Also working in conjunction with the clinic is Mrs. Dona Reed Circuit Rider Clerk.

The Circuit Rider program involves senior citizens, who as volunteers, visit and work at the Big Spring State Hospital. Hospital Superintendent Preston E. Harrison, M.D., credits the Circuit Riders with establishing a "climate of acceptability" essential to the outreach clinic concept.

They became the hospital's liaisons with the local and county officials and civic leaders. Dr. Harrison soon began getting requests from County Judges and others interested in developing mental health services, and the program was on its way.

And in the near future a new program will be begun for persons 60 years of age or older to work as volunteers at the Mental Health Clinic.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program, headed by Nancy Easley of Big Spring, program director, has already started in Big Spring where the senior citizens do volunteer work at the Mental Health Clinics, nursing homes and many other places.

For those wishing further information, Miss Easley can be contacted at 728-3953 or 728-2669.

Tad Corbet, director of Outreach Programs for Big Spring State Hospital since October of 1971 says, "The program is growing and expanding at a tremendous rate in response to community needs".

The network of eight active clinics serves a total caseload of almost 1,600 persons. Patient visits one recent month totaled 820 persons.

In addition to providing follow up care for ex-patients, the purpose of Outreach is to make psychiatric care easier to obtain and readily available to all persons. By taking mental health care from the hospital into the community where it is needed, Outreach can provide preventative care. In this way many serious, chronic mental illnesses can be avoided.

Corbet says, "We are now dealing with an increasing number of community people who have previously had no connection with the hospital."

The first Outreach Clinic, established in 1968 in Snyder, Tex., was originally set up as an experimental necessity to provide out patient follow up services to patients returning to Scurry Co. An already tight hospital budget was squeezed again to provide funds to inaugurate the program since no specific legislative appropriations were made at first.

In September of 1971, no doubt due to the success of the initial program, specific appropriations were made by the legislature for the program. The budget for the current fiscal year includes $87,845 for the Mitchell County Clinic.

Like similar projects pioneered by Dr. Harrison, Outreach services are now provided by other state hospitals in Texas. At present, 50 outreach clinics are in operation. Each of the eight hospitals under the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has at least one such program. The Outreach Clinics also cooperate with county officials, physicians and other helping agencies of the county.

A traveling staff visits each Outreach Clinic on a regular basis, developing social services, performing psychiatric and psychological services, including play therapy for children and group and family counseling. The traveling staff includes Mr. Corbet, a psychologist, Bob Creighton and Mrs. Sandra Neskorik.

Also part of the team as consultant psychiatrist is Dr. Marvin E. Grice, M.D. Dr. Grice visits the Mitchell County Clinic between the hours of 1:30 and 3:45 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Dr. Harrison cites several important factors in the success of the Big Spring outreach program:

Increased maturity of the clinics. Once functioning primarily as case finders for the hospital, they are now able to help many would-be patients at home rather than sending them to Big Spring;

More sophisticated follow-up care resulting in fewer hospital re-admissions. "When former patients go to a local clinic, they usually don't come back here," Dr. Harrison comments;

Enthusiasm of the clinic staffs and volunteers. "These workers can see that the program is working and nothing succeeds like success," Dr. Harrison says.

Special
Prayer
Service

A Week of Prayer for Christian unity began Jan. 18 and will continue through Thursday and is being sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church.

A special prayer service will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the church which will climax the observance, according to Rev. John Mikow, church pastor.

The public is invited to come and join in prayer for the unity among all Christians and a nursery will be provided during the service.

Clinic Workers

Mrs. Bernice Hilliard, director and caseworker for the local Mental Health Clinic, Mrs. Dona Reed, Circuit Rider clerk, Mark Sweat, community caseworker, and Nancy Easley, program director for the new Retired Senior Volunteer Program, met "lined-up" at the clinic. The RSVP program is in the organization stage and will soon be put into effect here in Colorado City. Not pictured is Mrs. Elton Burson, clinic clerk.

Mrs. Earl Brown president, introduced Mrs. E.M. Owen, who presented the program, "Oriental Beauty".

In her opening remarks, Mrs. Owen stated "Ikebana" or the art of arranging flowers in Japan has been built on centuries of study, reflection and creation.

The designs were based on a structural triad. The tallest line symbolized Heaven, the secondary line identified Man between Heaven and Earth, the tertiary line.

These radical lines reflected the teachings of Confucius, Heaven as the soul of all elements of life; Man the fundamental way by which all things become active and Earth, the way in which all things take form.

Mrs. Owen used slides to show arrangements emphasizing "inspiration from the Land of the Rising Sun".

HD Meeting On 'Estate Planning'

All home demonstration club members and their husbands are invited to attend a special meeting this month.

The program is "Estate Planning" and will be presented in the Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric Jan. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

The county wide meeting will take the place of the HD club's regular meeting and each club is expected to have one representative arrive at 7 p.m. to help set-up for the meeting.

Speakers for the meeting will be Marvin Sartin, area economist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, and Eugene McElyea, county officials program specialist from Extension headquarters at College Station, according to Mrs. Janis Choate, County Extension Agent.

"Many Texans do not understand the complicated procedure of effective estate planning," Mrs. Choate explained.

"The estates of many area residents are of sufficient size to warrant detailed plans for transferring these estates to descendants. This can be done with minimum costs, with potential savings amounting to thousands of dollars".

The meeting will cover such topics as the importance of a will, Texas laws of descent and distribution, federal and state inheritance taxes, costs of an estate in probate, community and separate property, charitable gifts, and the use of trusts in estate planning.

The public is invited to attend, according to Mrs. Choate.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

How unfortunate it is for all of us that the good deeds, instead of the sordid ones, are not reported on the front pages of our daily newspapers.

Our son Joe Finger, was one of the tourists stranded in Colorado City last week because of the icy road conditions. Joe told us that he received "royal treatment" from the local citizens, and we feel they are to be commended for their kindness to all the travelers who were staying in the high school and private homes.

May God bless the residents of Colorado City for the warm hospitality extended to their fellowmen.

Our sincere thanks to all of you!

Gratefully,
Jack and Mary Lee Finger

Dear People of Colorado City,

Last week, while driving to Dallas from El Paso, my son had to stop in Colorado City because of icy roads. What started out as an overnight stop turned into a four day stay. Because the motels were filled, my son and his friend were housed in the Junior High school. Not only were they housed, they were fed and generally made to feel welcome and cared for. In my sons words, "The people of Colorado City were phenomenal."

I'm ashamed to admit that I wasn't even sure where Colorado City was before last week. But I'll never forget it. It may not be very big in size or population, but it has the biggest "heart" of any place I've ever known.

My husband and I thank you for your wonderful hospitality to our son.

With sincerest appreciation,
Mr. and Mrs. Gershon Ettinger

Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Fulton Speak To Maranatha Study Club

The Maranatha Study Club met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Wilfred Fox with Mrs. John Henry as leader for the afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by club president, Mrs. H. M. Reed and Mrs. P.H. Pace led the prayer and pledge to the U.S. flag.

Mrs. Henry spoke to the group on the subject "Light the Candle of Understanding About the Jesus People".

"With startling swiftness, numbers of our young people have embraced a new way of life. The way of Christ," Mrs. Henry began.

"What we need to ask is, 'Will the movement last, what is really involved, will this really lead our young people into a true relationship with Christ?'"

"Several of the most able writers of religious columns seem to agree that it is a good thing and that this movement is spoken of as a Jesus Revolution."

"And others say 'What do you revolt against? Jesus' revolt was against sin and Satan.'"

"Is this what the young people have in mind or is it against the established church?"

Mrs. Henry introduced the main speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. W.H. Fulton, who also spoke on the Jesus People.

"This movement has been called a massive fundamentalist, Christ-as-personal-savior revival," Mrs. Fulton began.

"From all sections of the country the number of members are growing. Their message is: the Bible is true, miracles happen, God really did so love the world that he gave it his only begotten son."

"They do shake up the established order of things, are dissatisfied with affluent society, impatient with old forms of worship and are groping for something."

"Ministers can face the challenge, members of congregations should show understanding and patience, parents the same and all should hope much good will come from this new way of life."

"Billy Graham has said 'I have become convinced that the Jesus Revolution is making a profound impact on the youth of American and other countries.'"

"Today this nation longs for the spiritual light. Let's take the power and the love and the vitality that this movement offers and use them to build the Kingdom of God here on earth" she concluded.

The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. Fulton, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Margaret Bullock, Mrs. Leonard Morris, Mrs. Helm and Mrs. Woodrow Crabtree.

Next meeting for the group will be in the home of Mrs. Fulton with Rev. Davis Edens as guest speaker.

Mrs. Piland's program topic for the meeting was "Explo '72".

"The burden for Explo '72 was born in the heart and mind of Bill Bright back in September of 1969 while he was participating in the U.S. Congress on Evangelism in Minneapolis, where he noticed the incredible lack of delegates under 30 years of age," Mrs. Piland said.

After two years of work, Explo '72 became a reality with the leaders urging "all who came to enjoy the abundant life of the Lord Jesus every busy moment-even if you had to sleep on the floor or 15 minutes of waiting drug into hours".

The conference was seminars schedules, mass gatherings in the Cotton Bowl and other highlights all rolled into one and when the thousands of people gathered "without exception the

PCA Loans

Soar In '72

Amount of money loaned for agricultural production soared in the area served by Sweetwater Production Credit Association in 1972, according to R.B. Baker, manager of the CPA's Colorado City office.

Baker said his association loaned more than $35 million to farmers and ranchers in a seven county area, an increase of more than 32 percent over the $26 million recorded by the PCA in 1971.

Sweetwater PCA is one of 33 similar Texas associations which collectively in 1972 extended more than $1 billion in short and intermediate term credit to more than 16,500 stockholders. This was the first time in PCA's 40-year history that the associations surpassed the $1 billion figure in one year, Baker pointed out.

Texas Still Cotton King... Weather and Agriculture... Milk Production Is Down But Also Shows Gain... Planting Dates Set.

Texas will produce almost one-third of the total cotton grown in the nation during 1972. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that upland cotton production in the state during 1972 is now estimated at 4,050,000 bales. Nation-wide, the total for 1972 is now estimated at 13,472,500 bales.

For Texas, production in 1972 is almost double that of 1971. Yield per acre for 1972 is set at 377 pounds per acre compared with 263 pounds in 1971. Harvested acres are expected to total 5,150,000 compared with 4,700,000 acres in 1971.

The southern High Plains-crop reporting district 1-S-is expected to produce 1,700,000 bales for 1972, or almost 400,000 more bales than the previous season. The Blacklands-district four-is in second place with an expected production of 475,000 bales compared with 356,000 bales the previous season.

Weather of recent days and weeks has delayed harvest on the High Plains. But even so, more than 80 per cent of the crop has been gathered compared to only about two-thirds completion a year ago.

Production of American-Pima cotton in Texas is expected to reach 31,000 bales compared with 35,300 bales in 1971. Yield is expected to average 431 pounds of lint per acre compared with 478 pounds in 1971. Harvest of the crop is virtually complete.

FULL effects of the worst snow storm in Texas in 100 years which occurred recently are still not known regarding agriculture. But losses will be heavy. The oat crop, which had been showing some improvement, suffered from the ice and snow. Citrus harvest has been hampered by the cold weather. Rainy weather halted harvest of cabbage and carrots.

In the coastal bend, spinach harvest is at hand. Vegetable growers in Central Texas are preparing land and applying fertilizer when field conditions permit.

Wheat seeding for the state is complete, and wheat grazing has been restricted due to wet fields. Soybean, grain sorghum, and pecan harvesting are all virtually completed.

The cold, wet weather has been hard on livestock throughout the state. Supplemental protein feeding and haying is widespread over the state.

MILK production in Texas during December was four per cent below a year earlier, but still two per cent above the previous month's production.

Milk production per cow kept for milk averaged 730 pounds per cow during December, which is 30 pounds below a year earlier but 15 pounds above the previous month. Nationwide, milk production during December was virtually unchanged from a year ago. Milk cows on farms during December totaled 12,127,000, a one per cent decline from a year earlier.

PLANTING dates for cotton in the Rio Grande Valley have been announced. Cotton planting can begin as early as Feb. 15 in these counties: Bee, Aransas, Brooks, Duval, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces, Webb, Zapata and portions of Hidalgo and Starr counties.
