Further Mishaps Hamper Search For Lost Naval Seaplane

Two Injured And Plane Lost In Saturday Hunt

Great Armada Plows Waves In Futile Search For Missing Bomber And Crew Of 7

(By The Associated Press)

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 8.—Injury of two men and the loss of a bombing plane by fire added to the search toll today as the Navy's great sea and air armada continued the quest for the twin-motored bomber that disappeared during maneuvers on the Pacific late Wednesday.

Hope for the safety of the giant seaplane and its complement of seven diminshed by the hour but the 35 fighting ships and 283 planes continued unabated their activities over 60,000 square miles.

Crash Aboard Saratoga

Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, commander-in-chief of the fleet, sent a radio message to the Associated Press telling of a landing crash aboard the airplane carrier Saratoga yesterday in which pilot Lieut J. M. Elliott suffered second degree burns and M. A. Belgum, a seaman, was cut and bruised.

The bomber caught fire and sank after the accident, said the message.

Previously Cadet Scott P. Hawkins, of Jefferson City, Mo., fell from a searching plane and plunged into the sea. He was given up as dead.

Search Is Extended

The search included an area extending from San Luis Obispo, Calif., to Lower California.

"Decision as to the discontinuation of the search," said the admiral's message, "cannot be made at present."

Two clues as to the fate of Lieut. Truman E. Carpenter, pilot, and his crew aboard the bomber bobbed up and then were dissipated during the day.

Life Preserver Sighted

A coast guard cutter discovered a patch of oil on the surface of the calm Pacific near Santa Catalina island, and a fragment of a life preserver carrying the letters "U. S. S." and either an "N" or an "M."

But an examination of a sample of the oil by naval authorities and the scrap of life-ring resulted in the statement that neither could have come from the missing plane.

Sheriff Howard Durley of Ventura county telegraphed naval officials that Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Wagner reported to him they saw two large sea planes flying off shore there at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

One was near Point Mugu, 15 miles south of Ventura, they said and the other near Santa Cruz island. They told the sheriff they turned to watch the second plane

Burglar At Large, Police Announce

The peace and quiet of the police station was disturbed Fridy night by the ringing of the telephone bell. The trembling voice on the other end of the line at 1411 Eighteenth street reported a burglar was in the basement.

Two police, Aubie Cummings and Melvin Alvey, were dispatched, fully armed, to the address.

The burglar offered slight resistance when surprised by the "law." He was taken to the police station and placed in custody pending a hearing.

Officers were told Saturday afternoon to bring in the prisoner, but they found he had "broken jail" and escaped. So, a burglar is still at large in the city.

There is no cause to worry, however, police informed.

For he is not a dangerous or vicious criminal—just a little screw tail dog that had strayed from home and become lost.

Twelve-Year-Old Bride Said Happy In Honeymoon Home

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Jan. 8. (AP)—Honeymooning today at a new home near Conchas dam were Daniel Brown, 18, and his 12-year-old bride, Lizzie Ruth Bridges.

Asked if the daughter was happy, the mother, Mrs. Edward Brown, replied smiling:

"Well, I guess they are."

DISTRUSTING anesthetics, 35-year-old, unemployed Ben Couch of Wichita, Kan., stormed into a Wichita hospital operating room, brandishing a knife, and carried his wife away in his arms. Ten minutes later, the baby was born in the Couch home without benefit of doctor or medicine. Couch has opposed ether since undergoing an operation he considered unsuccessful.

Gallup Tragedy Indicated; 3 Feared Dead

(By The Associated Press)

GALLUP, N. M., Jan. 8.—Three men were believed to have suffocated in an abandoned coal mine shaft five miles north of here today, members of a five-man rescue party said tonight.

The rescuers, equipped with oxygen masks, emerged to the top after a lengthy search to report they had found Abel Telles, 25, and a man named Delgado, 25, both miners, and they apparently were dead.

They were unable as yet, they said, to find Carlos Molino, 21, for whom Telles and Delgado had been searching, at the direction of sheriff's officers.

Telles and Delgado had not been removed to the surface and the poisonous fumes from blackdamp issuing out of the shaft made the rescue work hazardous, the rescuers said.

Entered At She iff's Command

Sheriff Dee Roberts said he had been holding Molino, an El Paso, Tex., youth, on suspicion of minor thefts. Molino, the sheriff said, told him he had hidden some stolen articles in the mine shaft and volunteered to get them.

The officer said he waited at the entrance 15 minutes, after the youth had entered. There was only a little smoke in the shaft at that time, he said.

A deputy sheriff summoned Telles and Delgado for help. The two wore ordinary masks, which, searchers reported were off their faces when they were found, lying behind three mine cars.

A crew of five experienced mine rescue men said there were no signs of life in the men's bodies. They reported the smoke and heat were "intense".

Judge, 80, Saves $100,000 In Pensions For Government

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 8. (AP)—One of the nation's oldest federal district court judges, who declined to retire when he reached the age of 70, gave as his 80th birthday anniversary present to the government today a $100,000 pension saving.

The saving probably will be far in excess of $100,000 when Federal Judge Tillman D. Johnson steps down from the bench because, he said, "I have no intention of resigning."

"I'll retire when the lawyers who practice before me believe that I am no longer able to keep up my end of the work."

His saving to the government, he said, is one of his "little jokes," but 10 years ago he was eligible to retire on full pay of $10,000 a year. The government would have been required to appoint a successor at the same salary.

LAND AUCTION SLATED

New Attack Of Japanese May Be Impending

French Vigorously Protest An Attack On Policeman; Other Warnings Made To Japs

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 9. (Sunday)—Arrival of a Japanese fleet off Tsingtao, rich North China port, created fear among foreigners and Chinese today of an impending Japanese attack.

In Shanghai, meanwhile, French officials indicated they probably would protest to Japan against an assault by Japanese troops on police of the French concession yesterday.

The incident, the second clash in two days between Japanese soldiers and foreign police, brought Japanese guns into line for more than an hour on the border between Nantao and the French concession.

JAPS AIMING AT WHITES?

LONDON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Japan's demands for increased power in Shanghai and attacks on British subjects today revived fears Japanese military leaders are determined to drive western powers from China.

Such apprehension was expressed by responsible quarters though, officially, the foreign office left to Shanghai British authorities the task of dealing with the Japanese manhandling of British policemen.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was understood to plan a review of the entire troubled Chinese situation with individual cabinet members Monday.

Agreement Dissolves Threats

The French rushed two armored cars of reinforcements to the area but the menacing situation was hastily dissolved by an agreement between French Consul Pierre Ange and Japanese officials.

The nature of the Japanese fleet off the Shantung province port remained obscure. Some Tsingtao reports said the ships were minesweepers and old destroyers. Others, however, said the fleet consisted of 12 warships, including 70 up-to-date cruisers and destroyers convoying transports. There was no indication of immediate Japanese preparations for a landing.

While Chinese continued their "scorched earth" policy at Haichow, eastern terminus of the Lunghai railroad, destroying the station, wharves and public buildings, foreign vigilantes at Tsingtao organized an emergency committee to protect property.

Conditions Almost Chaotic

The city has been virtually ungoverned since Japanese invasion appeared inevitable. Chinese police have sold recovered loot to pay their long-overdue salaries and have attempted to coerce owners to pay for "protection."

According to the French version of the Nantao episode, a Chinese woman attempted to cross the Avenue of Two Republics, the dividing line between Nantao and the concession, to obtain water, violating a Japanese rule closing Nantao's

New European Power Balance Takes Form

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 8. (AP)—A struggle for the balance of power in southeast Europe— most intense in Europe's powder keg since 1914—took shape today with Italy as a potent factor.

Semi-official sources outlined an important three-day conference starting here Monday of the foreign ministers of three nations— Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy, Guido Schmide of Austria and Koloman von Kanya of Hungary.

Their talks, said the sources, demonstrate solidarity of these Rome pact nations and will help their mutaul trade with a new commercial agreement.

But larger issues, hinging greatly on Rumania's possible dispution of her allies' foreign policy by close friendship with Germany and Italy, were expected to take the ministers' attention.

Rumania's approchment with Germany and Italy, a move initiated by the anti-semitic Rumanian Premier Octavian Goga, upsets the unified pro-French policy of the Little Entent— Rumania, Czechoslovakia, and Yugoslavia.

Anton Woman Treated For Burns Suffered In Gasoline Blast

Mrs. Robert Roach, about 35, of Anton was admitted to Lubbock sanitarium Saturday afternoon for treatment of severe burns suffered in a gasoline explosion at her home.

She suffered first and second degree burns on her arms, according to authorities at the sanitarium. Her condition was described as serious but not critical.

The accident happened at her home when gasoline she was using for cleaning purposes was ignited. Ignition of the vapors was believed to have been from a friction spark.

Sloan, Knudsen Paid Biggest Salaries In 1936 As Cinema Top Features Gary Cooper

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A congressional committee, giving the public a peek into the 1936 pay envelopes of the nation's highest paid industrialists, movie stars and financiers, disclosed today that Alfred P. Sloan, jr., of General Motors, topped the list with $561,311.

COLBERT

The House Ways and Means committee divulged the information which had been given to the treasury, by corporations which paid employes salaries, bonuses, commissions and other compensation of $15,000 or more during the 1936 tax year.

Sixteen men received in excess of $300,000 each for the year, the report showed, and nine of them were officials of the General Motors corporation. William S. Knudsen, its vice-president, ranked second to Sloan with $459,878.

SLOAN

In the entertainment world, Gary Cooper was tops with $370,214. Ten movie and radio stars received more than $200,000, including Ronald Colman, $362,500; Claudette Colbert, $350,833; Mae West, $323,333; Madeline Carroll, $287,913; Warner Baxter, $284,384; Marlene Dietrich, $269,333; Ruth Chatterton, $249,500; Charles Boyer, $249,145; Rudy Vallee, $238,744.

KNUDSEN

The report showed that 336 General Motors corporation officials received $15,000 or more and 56 of them got at least $50,000.

Some of the other top-flight industrialists and their compensation included:

Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corp., $180,000; Charles M. Schwab, Bethlehem board chairman, $150,000; James H. Rand, jr., president of Remington-Rand, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., $118,371; Ernest T. Weir, board chairman, Weirton Steel Co Weirton, W. Va $71,785. Weir also was listed as receiving an identical amount from the Great Lakes corporation.

COOPER

J. D. Biggers, president of the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company and director of the government's unemployment census, received $90,000; Henry L. Doherty, utilities executive, got $100,000, and W. C. Teagle, president, Standard Oil company of New Jer-

Three Children Die In Flames

(By The Associated Press)

OKEMAH, Okla., Jan. 8—Three small Indian children perished today in a flaming two-room farm home nine miles south of here despite the heroic efforts of their dog to summon aid by insistent barking.

The victims:
Maxine Wood, 2.
Frank Wood, 1.
Franklin Johnson Yargee, 4.

The mother of two of the victims, Mrs. Lena Wood, full-blood Creek Indian, told Roy Parham, assistant county attorney, she had left the small frame house but a few moments before to get a pail of water at a neighbor's home a quarter of a mile distant.

Dog Loses Life

She said she heard the barking of the dog as she sat in the neighbor's home.

She looked out a window and saw the home in flames.

The distracted mother summoned neighbors, but before they could reach the scene, the blazing home crumpled, Parham said.

Inside the smoldering ruins neighbors later found the bodies of the children. Nearby was the dog's body.

As Parham reconstructed the tragic event, the children had been trapped when the fire broke from an open hearth and spread to one door, blocking that exit.

The second door, he said, had been latched.

DEATH ESTIMATE MADE

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 8. (AP)—A total of 2,240 persons are sentenced to die violently on Texas highways in 1938. The estimate was made today by statisticians at state police headquarters, who applied the mathematical laws of averages and ratio of increase to last year's toll.

Three More Toss Political Hats

Three aspirants to political offices of Lubbock county have added their names to the list of 17 candidates who pitched their hats into the ring Jan. 1.

New candidates are T. E. (Chief) May for sheriff, Frank Bowles for treasurer, and J. T. Inmon for justice of peace of precinct 1, place 2.

May is making his first political race, although he has been in public service here before. He served as chief of the Lubbock police department from 1923 through 1926. He has been a resident of Lubbock since 1921, he said. May also served as United States deputy marshal in Indian territory of Oklahoma seven years, beginning in 1923.

He is running against Sheriff Tom Abel who is serving his third term. He announced for re-election Jan. 2.

Randolph Field Soldiers Are Critically Hurt In Mishap

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8. (AP)—Two Randolph field soldiers were hurt critically, while a third soldier, a San Marcos Teachers' college woman student and a truck driver were less seriously injured last night when their automobile and a truck crashed 12 miles south of New Braunfels on the Austin highway.

Most seriously hurt were Frand C. French, jr., and Louis C. Hendryx, both of the eleventh air base squadron at Randolph field.

Miss Wallie Alvis, 20, of New Braunfels, the student, and Lester Stadt, the other soldier, suffered less serious injury.

"Russian Roulette" Causes Death Of Former Student

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—Associates of Thomas H. Markley, 21, formerly of Houston, expressed the opinion at a court of inquiry here today that he died "through playing 'Russian roulette' once too often."

Markley, a University of Texas journalism student until six weeks ago, was fatally shot last night in the street in front of his home, where a small dinner party observing his 21st birthday was in progress. No verdict was returned but investigators said they were convinced the shooting was not a homicide.

Russian roulette, as described by the youth's friends, starts with spinning the cylinder of a revolver loaded with one bullet. The player then points the weapon at himself and pulls the trigger.

Markley had played the bizarre game often, witnesses at the court of inquiry said. He maintained, they added, that when the cylinder stopped after the spin the loaded chamber always would be at the bottom because of the weight of the bullet. The firing pin, according to his theory, would strike against the upper chamber and no harm would result.

Associates of the youth told the court of inquiry he often had discussed suicide and had written poetry about it.

With Election 2 Days Off, City Still Apathetic

Proponents Of Parking Meters Fear Light Balloting Would Remove Gadgets From Streets

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LUBBOCK residents have declined to get excited about the Tuesday election that will determine whether parking meters are to be retained in the city.

If there has been any interest over the question, city hall observers said Saturday they have been unable to detect it.

There further observation was that the poll will be small unless developments between today and Tuesday should unexpectedly stimulate interest. Three thousand ballots have been printed.

FACTS ON ELECTION

When—Tuesday, 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.
Where—Lubbock City hall.
Question—Whether Lubbock will retain parking meters on a two-hour parking limit basis.
Who may vote—Any citizen of Lubbock holding poll tax receipts entitling them to vote in elections of 1937 or 1938.
Election judges—Bob Smith, S. M. Wilson and W. E. Ballew.

While the poll admittedly is not binding of the city commission, members of that body have repeatedly declared that meters will be ordered out if the majority, as expressed at the election, favors that action.

They agreed that the outcome, whatever it may be, will at least bring an end to an issue which has disturbed municipal affairs for more than a year and that led to one prolonged and embittered court fight.

Expert Opinion Saturday

Expert opinion Saturday as to the probable outcome of the poll seemed fairly well agreed on these contingencies:

It's Up To Turnout

A very small vote—probable approval of the meters because city employes likely will be almost unanimously in favor of them.

A 40 per cent poll—probable defeat because the opposition is more likely to turn out than those in favor and, in this case, the opposition likely will be sufficient to offset the favorable city vote.

Large vote—outcome uncertain, though probably favorable to retention of meters.

Total vote in the city qualified to participate in the election was variously estimated Saturday at 4,000 to 5,000.

A large vote would be 3,000.

Lack of interest thus far evidenced toward the poll, in the opinion of observers, has been due either to the assumption of those favoring retention that a favorable vote is certain, or to the fact that they care

Officers Seek Pair After Kidnaping

TEXARKANA, Jan. 18. (AP)—Officers today searched for two men who kidnaped Tommy Smith, 30, near Atlanta, Texas, last night, the latest of a series of recent crimes in East Texas.

Smith told City Marshal Homer Carter of Atlanta he was abducted at pistol point and released several hours later.

The men were believed traveling in a new small sedan, apparently stolen.

Smith told officers the men were talkative and appeared ready to shoot whenever night watchmen approached. They talked about helping a friend escape the Mount Pleasant jail, he said, and declared they would go to Monroe, La., for an auto if they could not steal the kind they wanted in Atlanta.

Both were heavily armed, he said.

Rooster And A Half Valued At More Than $59 By Ed Greer, Who Has Him On Display

Bill is Ed Greer's entire flock, but on the platter he would be of "half-more" drum-stick value.

Greer's 9-months old rooster, which he displays at his blacksmith and welding shop at 1820 Avenue H, has a spare leg which supports his third and fourth feet.

Two offers of $50 have been made for the rooster, both of which he rejected, Greer said.

Mrs. Charles Wiggins of near San Angelo gave Bill to the Lubbock man.

No Compromise In Business Attack Is Interpreted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Roosevelt gave notice tonight he would wage a no compromise fight against a minority of "business men, bankers and industrialists."

That minority intends to make a struggle "to the last ditch to retain autocratic control" over the country's economy, the president charged in a Jackson Day address to the nation.

At the same time, the chief executive pledged cooperation with all who were willing to "help eradicate the evils that flow from undue concentration of economic power or unfair business practices."

Speaks At Annual Dinner

The president spoke at the annual dinner of Democrats celebrating Andrew Jackson's victory in the battle of New Orleans. His words went by radio to similar Democratic dinners throughout the land.

"The White House door is always open to all our citizens who come offering to help eradicate the evils that flow from undue concentration of economic power or unfair business practices—who offer to do all that is possible by cooperative endeavor and to aid in corrective and helpful legislation where necessary," he said.

* * * *

"We know that there will be a few—a mere handful of the total of business men and bankers and industrialists—who will fight to the last ditch to retain such autocratic controls over the industry and the finances of the country as they now possess.

"With this handful, it is going to be a fight—a cheerful fight on my part, but a fight in which there will be no compromise with evil—no let up until the inevitable day of victory."

History Of Others Recalled

Mr. Roosevelt reviewed the struggles of Jefferson, Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson for what he called the "basic morals of democracy."

"In our nation today," he continued, "we still have the continuing menace of a comparatively small number of people who honestly believe in their superior right to influence and direct government, and who are unable to see or unwilling to admit that the practices by which they maintain their privileges are harmful to the body politics . . .

"In my message to the congress on Monday, I made it abundantly clear that this administration seeks to serve the needs, and to make effective the will, of the overwhelming majority of our citizens and seeks to curb only abuses of power and privilege by small minorities."

The president mentioned the administration's differences with utilities interests. Asserting he was convinced that the "great majority of local or regional operating utility companies can come to an understanding" with the government, he declared:

"But most of these operating

Allred Praises FDR In Talk At Bismarck

(By The Associated Press)

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 8.—Governor James V. Allred of Texas tonight termed President Roosevelt "a greater warrior than Andrew Jackson."

"The battles Mr. Roosevelt has fought for the people," he said in a Jackson day address here, "have been against odds far more tremendous than those faced by 'Old Hickory'."

Allred cited what he described as "a striking parallel between the tactics used by moneyed interests against Jackson and those they have employed in recent years and months against President Roosevelt."

"In these tempestuous days," he said, "when the president finds himself the victim of subtle propaganda and direct charges of aspiration to power, it must be consoling, even amusing, to him to find that Democratic Thomas Jefferson and plain 'Old Hickory' Jackson were subjected to the same charges and were the victims of cartoons and caricatures everywhere protraying them as would-be kings . . .

"By far the greatest victory won, the thing for which he is most remembered, was Andrew Jackson's fight against monopoly. . . . With the present great president, I am one of those who believes that the eternal principles of the Democratic party correctly applied and carried out today will redeem our people from the bondage of monopoly and restore freedom and opportunity to the individual."

Three Men At Baton Rouge Are Charged With Road Robbery

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 8. (AP)—Capt. Murphy J. Roden, assistant superintendent of state police, reported today the arrest in Lake Charles of three men, who have been charged with highway robbery in Houston.

The three were arrested in Lake Charles with an automobile which was robbed from its owner in Houston. The men gave the names of Charles Ibbotson, Fred Wilkins and Nathan Cason. Lieut. John W. Jones and other state police made the arrest.

Southern Senators Filibuster To Delay Anti-Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Southern senators filibustering the anti-lynching bill with oratory on almost every conceivable subject turned today to Communism, Fascism and Nazism for new targets of eloquence.

Senators Reynolds (D-NC) not only denounced what he called these "subversive" influences in America but introduced two bills to put teeth into his argument that there should be laws against the dissemination of foreign propaganda in this country.

New Trade Policy Is Credited With Increased U. S. Commerce

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—The state department credited a portion of the $1,499,566,000 increase in America's foreign commerce in the first 11 months of 1937 to Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade policy today.

"There are definite indications that the trade agreements program is helping to promote mutually beneficial trade between the United States and other countries," the department said.

Four Killed When Car-Truck Collide

CORSICANA, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Four persons were killed tonight when an automobile and a truck collided on a creek bridge 10 miles south of here.

The dead:
Mary Easterling, 29-year-old teacher in the Mexica schools.
Helen Ward, Mexia.
Hazel Ward, Mexia.
John Honeycutt, 45, oil truck driver of Big Sandy, Texas.

Japan's "Warriors Of Peace" Reconstructing What Army Tears Down In China

True Purpose Of Conflict Told

BY J. D. WHITE

PEIPING, China — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Jan. 8—Behind the Japanese army in North China is mobilized a legion of organizers to gather the shattered remnants of Chinese society into a new life—with "Made in Japan" stamped indelibly thereon.

These Japanese organizers, called "warriors of peace," form the "pacification and consolation corps." Their work constitutes one of the most concerted and best organized efforts on record to reconstruct what an army has torn down, to reestablish business and exploit conquered territory.

Set Up Bureaus

As soon as possible after an army captures a city, the organizers arrive, set up "pacification and consolidation bureaus" and plaster the city with such posters as:

"Japan and China must cooperate to secure peace in East Asia."

"The Japanese army is fighting against corrupt warlords and Communism, not against the Chinese people."

"Northern Chinese are northern Chinese."

The last is to tell conquered North China it will not become Japanese, Korean or part of Manchoukuo, but that it will not remain part of China ruled by the Nanking government.

(A provisional government, composed of elderly Chinese statesmen and formed under direction of the Japanese, already has been inaugurated in Peiping to govern the northern provinces.)

A booklet of instructions is said to prescribe the Japanese organizer's duty—to reassure the people, explain that the Japanese army's true purpose is to fight warloards and Communists, restore and maintain order, erase all anti-Japanism, aid in the reconstruction of industry and supervise all business as soon as possible.

Stagecoach Replica Is Being Shown Here

Here is a Reeves photo of a stagecoach, a complete replica of those seen in the film "Wells-Fargo," currently showing at the Palace, which is on display here. Palace Manager Arlie Crites directed construction of the replica, which is as near like the old coaches used in frontier days as present facilities will permit.

Prospects For Use Of Plastic Materials In Mass Production Of Low-Cost Airplanes Are Heightened By Result Of Bureau Studies

BY DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. — Prospects for the mass production of low-cost airplanes by the use of plastics, the same material frequently found in automobile steering wheels and toothbrush handles, were heightened today by the results of studies at the National Bureau of Standards.

"Progress is being made," said G. M. Kline, of the bureau's research staff, in a paper issued by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, but the exploration into the subject "is in its infancy, and still uncharted."

Working Too Years

For at least two years scientists have been working intensively on the problem of employing reinforced plastics for airplanes. Among the possibilities involved is the manufacture of so-called "flivver" flying machines at costs far below those at present.

"Although the values for the strength of the plastics are generally less than for steel and aluminum alloy," he wrote, "they are greater than for spruce, which has been quite commonly employed for the structural members of aircraft."

Has Cord Reinforcement

He concluded that a plastic known as phenolic resin, with a cord reinforcement, could be produced with the necessary tensile and compressive strength for airplane material. It reacted well to impact and loading, and resisted both fire and corrosion.

"In the fabrication of aircraft today," he observed, "the labor costs are high relative to the costs of tools.

"If large sections could be molded in one piece, the labor costs would be reduced, but the cost of the molds and presses would be very high. Such a change in type of construction would not be economically practicable except in the mass production of aircraft of a standard design."

Great "Flying Fortresses" Of Army May Be Outmoded Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP) — Major General Frank M. Andrews, chief of the general headquarters airforce, predicted today that the 8 1-2-ton "Flying Fortress" would be "considered a small airplane" in the near future.

"The trend is toward still larger bombers," he said.

The "Flying Fortress" already has been followed by an army "Super Flying Fortress" weighing 12 tons, and with a wing spread of 150 instead of 100 feet.

Landon, Knox Declined Work

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, disclosed today Alf M. Landon and Frank Knox, the party's 1936 presidential and vice presidential candidates, had formally declined to serve on the Republican program committee.

Former President Herbert Hoover and Charles G. Dawes, vice president in the Coolidge administration, accepted appointment.

Invited As Honorary Chairmen

Hoover was active in organizing the meeting of party leaders at St. Louis last month which created the policy committee. At that meeting, the four were invited to serve as honorary chairmen of the program committee.

Hoover and Dawes said they wanted to serve as rank and file members of the committee, not as honorary chairmen.

The text of Landon's telegram, as made public by Hamilton, merely said:

Unable To Serve

"I sincerely appreciate the honor the Republican national committee has done me but regret I will be unable to serve on policy committee."

Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, said because he would "necessarily engage in active discussion" in his paper of many subjects which would be under consideration by the committee there might be "embarrassment for the committee" if he became a member.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP) — Friends of the Ludlow war referendum in the house said today they were considering changes which would make it inoperative if violation of the Monroe doctrine appeared imminent.

Federated Church Women Start Campaign For Community House; Seek Furnishings

First steps are being taken by a group of women, representing the Federation of Church Women, to establish a community house in the northeastern part of Lubbock, where meetings may be held for adults and children.

A demonstration house on the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds has been secured from Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. Equipment is needed. A piano or an organ, folding chairs, a table or two and a heating stove are immediate needs. An oil burning stove is preferred. A blackboard or two also could be used.

As soon as equipment is secured, class work will begin. It is planned to organize sewing classes for adults as well as girls, and choruses for boys, girls and adults. Competent teachers have been assured.

The committee hopes the move may result in a large community project, including an assembly hall and other meeting places, recreation rooms and a park.

Persons who are willing to contribute needed articles or money, are asked to call one of the following telephone numbers and report the gift: 4073, 3397-W or 3347.

Reports About Crew Of Dollar Liner Are Denied By Delegate

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8. (AP)—Passengers of the wrecked liner President Hoover expected "Waldorf service" and complained of the food while they were castaways on rocky Hoishoto island, the ship's crew declared today in replying to complaints of misconduct.

Sam Cohen, steward's delegate, denied published reports the seamen became intoxicated, molested women and rioted.

"We took off all the passengers in less than nine hours without a casualty," Cohen said. "Does that sound as if the men were drinking?

"They said we broke into the bar. . . . Liquor supplies were taken ashore and placed in the hands of the ship's surgeon. Some of the bottles disappeared, but nobody in the crew got them."

The Dollar liner President McKinley brought 165 of the seamen here from Manila yesterday as a department of commerce marine investigating boar dopened a hearing into the wreck. The $8,000,000 Hoover, piled on a reef off Hoishoto island, southeast of Formosa, Dec. 11.

Cohen told reporters the sailors served the passengers first during their three days on the island, and then received only raw meat and left-overs.

Farm Problems To Be Talked

HOUSTON, Jan. 8—The eleventh annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers' association will be held here next Friday and Saturday to take up problems of horticulture, animal husbandry, crops, farm homes, soil and water conservation and the future of cotton.

Extension service workers, vocational agricultural teachers, experiment station employes, college instructors and United States department of agriculture employes in Texas will attend the meeting.

Washington Officials To Speak

L. A. Wheeler, department of agriculture executive from Washington, will discuss the foreign trade policy and problems in their relation to agriculture. Clara O. Nale, Rural Electrification administrator in Washington, will discuss "rural progress and the art of living."

A session on new developments in agricultural research will follow with J. M. Jones, E. B. Reynolds, S. H. Yarnell, L. P. Gabbard, Miss Jessie Whiteacre and A. B. Conner as the speakers.

Speakers on animal husbandry will include E. R. Eudaly, R. L. Hensel, J. H. Jones, and C. N. Shepardson.

Soils and crops will be discussed by Dr. Ide P. Trotter, E. N. Holmgreen, Paul R. Johnson, R. M. Milhollin, E. B. Deeter, W. T. Larue, Victor Schoffelmayer, farm editor of the Dallas News; and Dewitt C. Greer.

Problems of farm tenancy and rental agreements will be reviewed by Paul Waiser, Dr. Karl Brandt, A. C. Williams, and Dr. C. H. Hamilton.

E. R. Alexander will deliver the principal address at the Saturday meeting. He will discuss the future of cotton in Texas. Dr. Clarance Poe of Raleigh, N. C., will talk on "A Balanced Economic Program for the South," and Grover B. Hill of the Agricultural Adjustment administration in Washington will discuss "New Features of the Range Program."

The annual convention will close with a business session Saturday afternoon.

Two Melvin Schools Burn; Loss Estimated At About $100,000

BRADY, Jan. 8. (AP)—A $100,000 fire early today destroyed the nearby Melvin high and grammar schools.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, destroyed all equipment as well as the buildings, which were situated about 20 feet apart.

Italians Cooled Off; Roman Capital Glazed With Ice And Traffic Paralyzed

ROME, Jan. 8. (AP)—The Italian capital, unused to freezing weather, awoke today to find its streets glazed with ice and temperatures of 24 degrees, fahrenheit.

Early bus traffic was paralyzed. Many persons were injured by falls on the slippery streets.

ARCTIC RESCUE PLANNED

MOSCOW, Jan. 8. (AP)—An aerial expedition was organized today to relieve the ice-bound crews of three Russian ice-breakers drifting in the Arctic north of the New Siberian islands. An unspecified number of planes, commanded by Vassily Malokoff, a veteran Soviet polar flyer, were being provisioned to take food to the ships and to remove all except skeleton crews.

Gain Of $3,154,146 In Texas Net Gasoline Tax Collections Reported For 1937

Every Month In Year Has Gain

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 8—Net gasoline tax collections in Texas last year showed a gain of $3,154,146 over 1936, Comptroller George H. Sheppard reported today.

He pointed out that the substantial increase was recorded notwithstanding Texas gasoline consumption generally was believed to have been larger than usual in 1936 because of the Centennial celebrations. The figures were $41,185,854 for 1937 and $38,031,708 for the preceding year.

Gross Collections $47,895,217

Gross collections in 1937 were $47,895,217, compared with $43,494,510 in 1936. Refunds which are made on gasoline used in farm tractors and for other non-highway purposes, amounted to $6,230,410, compared with $5,027,856 in 1936.

The net was calculated by deducting one per cent for expenses of collection, then subtracting the refunds. The comptroller's department does not use all of the one per cent. During the 1936-37 fiscal year it turned back to the treasury approximately $47,000.

Net Revenues Compared

Comparative net revenues to the various funds in the calendar years 1936 and 1937 follow: public schools, $9,507,927 and $10,296,463; highway construction and maintenance, $19,015,854 and $20,592,927; county and district road bond indebtedness, $9,507,927 and $10,296,463.

Every month in 1937 showed an increase over the corresponding month in 1936.

Dr. And Mrs. Lipscomb Leave For Conference In Savannah

Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of the First Methodist church, accompanied by Mrs. Lipscomb, left Saturday for Savannah, Ga., where he is to attend the general missionary council of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. Dr. Lipscomb is the Northwest Texas conference missionary secretary.

Meeting is being held in the town where John Wesley, founder of Methodism, spent two years, approximately 200 years ago. The anniversary observance of Wesley's "Aldersgate heart warming experience," will be planned.

Frank Bowles, Dairyman And Resident Here Many Years, Asks Treasurer's Office

Frank Bowles, resident of Lubbock county 47 years, formally announced his candidacy Saturday for democratic nomination as county treasurer, subject to the primary July 23.

Relating that he never has held elective office, Bowles recalled that his first job when he came to Texas was driving six oxen to a Casady plow. His first work after he came to Lubbock was driving the mail hack to Colorado City, taking four days for the round trip.

He added that he has reared a family of three sons in Lubbock. He now makes his home at 1712 Ninth street.

Dairyman 20 Years

The statement formally announcing his candidacy follows:

To the voters of Lubbock county:

"I am a candidate for county treasurer and want to tell you some of the things most of you may not know concerning me, especially those of you who have moved to the county within the last 15 years.

"I was born and reared in Kentucky; came to Texas in 1890; first stopped in Hill county and got a job driving six oxen to a Casady plow; and then moved to Lubbock county in January, 1891. I have been a booster for Lubbock county and the South Plains ever since.

"My first job here was driving the mail hack to Colorado City. It took four days to make the round trip.

Always A Democrat

"I am a life-long democrat.

"I never have held elective political office and the only places I have held of political nature were as road overseer and school trustee—having been appointed in each case. The only other office of any kind I have held was president of a literary society.

"For 20 years I have been a dairyman in this city; have tried to live a Christian life in every way.

"I would like to serve you in this office and surely would appreciate this gift. You will not regret voting for me.

Frank Bowles."

Efforts To Halt Grim Reaper In "Death Corridor" Of Texas May Be Made

Extension Of Plan Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—Stick a pin on the Texas map at the scene of each highway death and, highway patrolmen will tell you, the 50-mile sector of highway 2 between the McLennan county line and Georgetown will become a veritable phalanx.

Last year alone this "death corridor" of the state's heaviest traveled thoroughfare claimed 17 lives and 64 injured requiring hospitalization, not to mention minor hurts and property destruction.

It's one of the most vexing problems in the campaign to reduce traffic mishaps.

Chief L. G. Phares of the highway patrol has asked the highway commission to erect speed limit signs along the section and equip it with center stripes where these are missing.

Hines Favors Move

Harry Hines, chairman of the highway commission, said if the highway patrol erection of signs would reduce possibility of accidents, the commission would be happy to erect them.

Phares expressed hope the psychological effect of signs would be beneficial.

At least it would be an experiment which if successful might be adopted on other arteries, he said.

Phares recently surveyed the section which has the worst death record of any segment of road in Texas and pronounced it safe from the structural viewpoint.

Its curves have been removed. Though hilly in places, none are dangerous when reasonable caution is exercised.

"The reason apparently is speeding and recklessness," Phares said. "We hope that signs exhibiting the 45-mile an hour speed limit might serve as a reminder to keep speed down."

A traffic count showed a daily average of 2,145 vehicles use the road. The statistician would say one out of each 42,000 carries a death cargo.

Several states have adopted a timely reminder that a death has occurred at a given spot by a Christian cross, painted white, with a sign underneath: "One person was killed here; drive caustiously."

Meter Election

little one way or another what the outcome may be. One explanation is perhaps as good as the other, observers believe.

If the meters should be ordered out, it will bring to an end a test which began Aug. 27 during which the devices have produced, according to court to noon Friday, $11,263.15 in nickels. Of that sum, $7,796.60 has been paid to Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City, the manufacturer, while an additional $500 to $600 of January collections is held by the city for payment to that company.

Meters Number 603

Of the total revenues, 75 per cent is paid to the company, to apply on the purchase price of $58 a meter. The original agreement was that the company was to take 85 per cent of revenue but that conditional contract since has revised to give the city a larger share with which to meet maintenance and collection expenses. Now operating in Lubbock are 603 meters, obligating the city for a total indebtedness of $34,974—if they are retained.

If the vote is unfavorable, the parking meter company will retain its proportion of the collections until the devices officially are ordered out, probably at the semi-monthly city commission Thursday. That sum will be, in round figures, approximately $8,500. The company must bear the expense of the removal.

If they are retained, the sum already paid to the company applies on the total purchase price.

After they have been paid in full, they become the property of the city, which receives all the revenue they produce thereafter.

Two School Board Members To Be Elected April 2

Election of two trustees of Lubbock independent school districts will be among the tasks confronting citizens qualified to yote in 1938.

Terms of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the board, and Dr. Allen T. Stewart, member, expire this year and will be filled at regular election April 2.

Holdover members of the board will be W. B. Atkins, Maple Wilson, W. G. Alderson, R. F. Bayless and E. J. Parsons.

Lubbock Politics

of Lubbock county, Saturday issued a statement he would be candidate for county treasurer. A. B. Ellis, incumbent treasurer, has not issued a statement to the Avalanche-Journal relative to whether he will be a candidate to succeed himself, but rumors are he will.

Bowles moved to this county in 1891. He has served as a road overseer and school trustee.

Inmon Once With Police

J. T. Inmon, longtime resident of Lubbock and formerly associated with the police department, announced for office of justice of peace of place 2 in precinct 1. S. E McMillan, now a candidate for district clerk, holds the office. No other candidates apparently have indicated intentions of running for that place.

Inmon served three and a half months in the justice of peace office, completing the unexpired term of J. J. Dillard, who resigned that office to become county judge Sept. 1, 1936. Inmon is making his first race. He was a member of the police department seven years, serving as city recorder and corporation court judge three years.

ADVANCES POSTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—The stock market chalked off the initial week of 1938 with the first general advance in more than a month. Industrial favorites pushed up 1 to more than 3 points.

In dealings that were not exceptionally lively, motor, steels, coppers and specialties pushed forward from the start and, despite late profit realizing, most ended around best levels of the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 1 point at 46.6 in the two-hour proceedings. On the week this composite showed a net gain of 3.6 points. It was the largest upturn for any week since Oct. 30.

Announcements that Chrysler was recalling 55,000 employes to resume work on new car assemblies Jan. 11, and that Ford was putting 25,000 more men to work Jan. 17 bolstered sentiment.

At the same time General Motors shipments for December disclosed an exceptionally sharp drop. But this was offset by the fact distribution for 1937 was 3.7 per cent ahead of the year before.

Another rise in export copper aided red metal shares. Steels were in front despite predictions next week's mill operations would show a slight decline. Helpful were thoughts of a huge rearmament program coming up before congress in the near future.

Outstanding share gainers on the day were U. S. Steel at 59⅝, Bethlehem 63¾, Chrysler 55½, General Motors 35, Anaconda 35⅜, Kennecott 42, Westinghouse 106½, U. S. Rubber 27¼, Sears Roebuck 62, Santa Fe 38¼, N. Y. Central 18⅝, American Telephone 149½, and Paramount 13¼.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8. (AP)—Fair trade demand absorbed week-end liquidation and hedge selling in cotton here today and the market closed at new advances of 3 to 7 points.

Cotton goods markets reported renewed activity.

This with higher foreign markets, particularly Bombay, induced some covering and trade buying at the start. Near position showed gains ranging up to 3 points but later options were unchanged to one point net lower because of liquidation and hedging.

The selling soon dried up, however, and in the last hour trade buying entered the market in response to advancing stocks and closing prices were at or near the highs.

Jan. contracts closed at 8.53, March at 8.63, May at 8.70@8.71, July at 8.76, Oct. at 8.82 and Dec. at 8.87.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.56 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.26 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Cotton moved over a narrow range today as trade and commission house buying encountered hedge selling and liquidation. March fluctuated between 8.47@8.50, closing at 8.49, with final prices net unchanged to 3 points higher.

Orders were about evenly divided and during the entire session fluctuations were limited to within a range of 2 to 3 points. Steadiness of the stock market helped the undertone but there was no very aggressive buying.

Col. Zack Miller Grumbles At Resettlement Work On Ranch

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 8 (AP)—Col. Zack Miller, one-time cattle king of Oklahoma, grumbled today at what Resettlement administration is doing to the 101 Ranch, his prairie empire of frontier days.

"Why, they have people settled on 80-acre plots which we condemned as not even good grazing," he lamented.

"I've seen houses about as good as chicken houses on clay hillsides that wouldn't produce two bushels of wheat most years."

Miller made his comment as he emerged from federal court, where he was denied a rehearing in his long legal fight to reassemble the 101 Ranch.

Miller declared he probably would go to the U. S. Supreme court.

boundary to Chinese.

A French policeman, of Russian nationality, saw a Japanese sentry seize and beat the woman. He intervened and was struck in the face.

British, Americans Give Warning

Other Japanese soldiers rushed to the scene and started to drag the policeman toward Nantao. When he struggled free, about 100 of the Japanese troops levelled rifles and machine guns across the boundary from the armed French police.

An American, Cornell S. Franklin, chairman of the Shanghai municipal council, lodged a strenuous protest with Suemasa Okamoto, Japanese consul-general against attacks by Japanese armed forces on settlement police.

It followed a similar warning by British Commander General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett. He advised the Japanese Friday that a recurrence of a beating of two British policemen under circumstances like the French incident might cause "gravest consequences."

Kellogg Left Estate Valued At $761,000, Will Probate Shows

ST. PAUL, Jan. 8. (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former United States secretary of state, who died Dec. 21, left an estate with a probable value of $761,000, according to his will filed for probate today in Ramsey county probate court.

Bequests totaling approximately $350,000 are made, the residue being left to Mrs. Clara Kellogg, Mrs. Kellogg's widow.

Mr. Kellogg left $25,000 for loans to needy, worthy students in the University of Minnesota college of law.

SEARCH FOR OIL MAN

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 8. (AP) — State investigators today joined a search for G. D. Capps, 46, Henderson oil worker, who has been missing since his abandoned automobile was found near here Dec. 31.

Grains . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 8. (AP) — The highest wheat prices since last October were chalked up here today in a final hour rally that wiped out earlier losses in the market.

Net gains of more than one cent a bushel extended the week's upturn in wheat to more than 7 cents.

An advance of 1⅞ to 3⅜ in Winnipeg wheat stimulated the buying here along with strength in securities at New York. Most of the gain at Winnipeg was registered by October wheat, reflecting continued export demand for Canadian grain for late shipment. It was estimated 1,000,000 bushels of No. 1 and No. 3 northern Canadian wheat was sold late yesterday as far ahead as December shipment and additional sales were reported today for October shipment.

Wheat closed 1⅜ to 1¾ higher than yesterday's finish, May 97⅞@97⅝, July 91⅜@91⅜, September 90⅝@90⅛; corn was ¼ off to ⅜ up, May and July 62⅜@62¾, September 62⅞; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May 32⅜; rye 1¼ up, May 77½; lard 12 to 20 up.

Profit taking caused wheat to sink fractionally to early lows of 95⅝ for May and 89½ for July but around midsession the market began to rally. In the final hour recovery prices rose more than 2 cents from the lows and finished at the highs.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Jan. 8. (AP)—Excellent demand was reported for the light offerings on the cash grain market here Saturday. Estimated receipts were: wheat 11 cars; corn 15; oats 1, sorghums 2; and cane seed 4.

Eight Jailed After Explosion Wrecks Home, Kills Three

ELIZABETH, Tenn., Jan. 8. (AP)—Eight persons were jailed today—two on murder charges—in the investigation of a dynamite blast that wrecked a home and killed three children.

Deputies arrived here from Pikeville, Tenn., with two men Sheriff J. M. Moreland said are charged with murder. The sheriff named them as White Tollett and Lee Walker, and said a murder warrant had been issued for Crave Tollett, a brother of White.

Five other men and a woman also are being detained for questioning but no formal charges have been placed against them and their names were not disclosed.

Prominent Midland Cattleman Succumbs To Heart Attack

MIDLAND, Jan. 8. (AP) — W. A. Hutchinson, 62, prominent Midland ranchman, died suddenly today of a heart attack while en route from his ranch to Midland by automobile.

Mrs. Hutchinson, who had left to open a gate, found him dead when she re-entered the car.

Hutchinson was a former resident of Bell and Runnels counties and had lived in Midland county since 1905. He was a former county commissioner and an inspector for an Oklahoma cattle agency.

OKLAHOMA DEAN RESIGNS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 8. (AP) — Dr. J. C. McElhannon, dean and director of the department of education of Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers college, Durant, submitted his resignation to the state board of education today, effective immediately.

FDR Explains Business Stand

companies are owned by holding companies — which are finance companies, not operating utility companies. Very few investors in the operating companies have lost money. But thousands of investors have lost money in buying holding company securities which had blue sky above them instead of tangible assets behind them.

"That evil of utility holding company control will not grow in the days to come because this government has now passed laws to prevent similar occurrences in the future."

Mr. Roosevelt said it had been estimated $13,000,000,000 of electric utility securities were outstanding and that the substantial control of this stock was vested in the hands of owners of less than $600,0000,000.

"That means that the ownership of about 4 per cent of the securities ontrol the other 96 per cent," the president said.

"Here is a 96-inch dog being wagged by a four-inch tail."

The chief executive said other activities which should not be tolerated in a democracy included "price rigging, unfair competition directed against the little man, and monopolistic practices of many kinds."

"Give to me and give to your government," he asked, "the credit for a definite intention to eradicate them. Give to me and give to your government the credit for believing that in so doing we are helping and not hurting the overwhelming majority of business men and industrialists in the United States."

The president said Thomas Jefferson had fought for popular government against "almost all the newspapers and magazines of the day."

"To disseminate their policies in every hamlet and town, his associates resorted to printing simple leaflets and pamphlets," Mr. Roosevelt related.

"The handful of printers and editors who helped them were harried and arrested with the full approval of the great papers and magazines of the day. This was the first effort, with the cooperation of the owners of the press, to curb the essential freedom of the press. It failed just as any similar effort would fail today."

Conciliatory Attitude Not Adopted By Sec. Ickes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Democrats gathered at Jackson day dinners throughout the land tonight to hear spokesmen for the Roosevelt administration offer co-operation to "honest business" and denounce "monopoly."

The dinners had two additional purposes: To reduce the Democratic party's $211,295 deficit, and to muster public support for the administration's program of new anti-trust legislation and other business controls.

Speeches of Washington officials at the banquets in different parts of the country were preliminary to an address by President Roosevelt himself at the party gathering here.

Among the speakers elsewhere, Secretary Ickes at Nashville, Tenn., delivered a fiery assault upon concentrated wealth.

He told his audience that "the hydra-headed economic monster of 1938 is stronger, more cunning and more resourceful than the debonair gentleman who ruled the financial world of America from Philadelphia in the time of Andrew Jackson."

"Monopolistic wealth" has power today to bring on a panic "in order to force acceptance of its ungenerous and onerous terms," the interior department chief said, but he predicted it would not "resort to such an extreme" if the people "are prepared to defend their economic liberties at whatever cost may be necessary."

Critics who had looked for a calmer note in Ickes' utterances as the result of President Roosevelt's more conciliatory message to congress recently were disappointed.

Jackson Talks Cooperation

But at New York, Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, talked more of cooperation between government and business than he had in other recent speeches.

Attorney General Cummings, in an address prepared for delivery at Chicago, declared:

"In dealing with these problems (of mass production) our purpose should be constructive, not merely destructive. Monopolistic practices should be more clearly defined . . . Let it be remembered that the well-intentioned business man is desirous of knowing not only what he is forbidden to do, but also what he is permitted to do."

OIL STRIKE REPORTED

McGREGOR, Jan. 8. (AP)—Excitement ran high in this little McLennan county town today as the second deep test in the South Bosque area, one of Texas' oldest producing shallow fields, reported a showing in the Georgetown lime around 1,000 feet.

ADVOCATES SMILES

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 8. (AP)—From J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture to Texas farmers went the advice today to "cheer up." McDonald said the ground contained ample moisture to make prospects bright for a successful farm year and that farmers had an abundant supply of feed on hand.

Fourteen Bills Name Lembke

ALBUQUERQUE, Jan. 8. (AP) — With 14 indictments charging Mayor Charles H. Lembke with illegal speculation in city indebtedness already returned, a Bernalillo county grand jury delved deeper today into the financial affairs of Albuquerque.

After a session last night in which it returned the indictments to District Judge Thomas J. Mabry, it returned to its investigation today with several witnesses yet to appear.

Lembke, whom District Attorney Owen Marron Dec. 29 charged with embezzling $12,000 of city funds, now stands charged both with embezzlement and illegal speculation.

Seagraves' Boom Is Continuing

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SEAGRAVES, Jan. 8.—Building boom continues here.

About 20 houses are under construction including five duplexes, three apartment houses and one tourist apartment of 10 apartments. Buildings for Joe H. Webb's new funeral home, a California grocery store, Lindley's Red and White grocery store, and Dowell, Inc., are also under construction.

T. D. Julian of Lubbock has moved four houses from Eunice, N. M., to Seagraves and contemplates moving 11 more soon, he reported.

In England, the sun went down on the evening of September 2, 1752, and didn't show again until September 14th.

Anglo-American Pact Nearing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—The United States and Great Britain moved today toward the final stages of a significant commercial accord climaxing Secretary Hull's foreign trade program.

The proposed pact which Hull formally proclaimed last night his intention of negotiating with the United Kingdom, will involve a globe-girdling market.

It will embrace not only Britain but her far-flung colonial empire and Newfoundland. Only India, the dominions and Ireland will be excluded.

Actual negotiation of the agreement, designed to achieve mutual tariff concessions, will begin as soon as American interests have made known their views concerning specific items of commerce.

U. S. Agriculture Would Benefit

Secretary Hull made public a long list of imports upon which the United States will consider granting concessions. Accompanying it was a notice that public hearings will be opened here March 14 for interested parties.

The list of potential American concessions includes whisky and other spirits, dressed furs, tin, rubber, boots and shoes, gloves, leather goods, woolen and cotton textiles and certain types of salted and pickled fish.

In exchange for better customs treatment of such British goods as these, the United States hopes to obtain concessions from the empire which would widen the market there for American agricultural products, among other things. Britain has not announced the products on which it will consider tariff concessions.

Highway 24 Work Is Progressing Fast

LEVELLAND, Jan. 8.—Thirty-four men at work on Highway 24 are laying the caliche base as a foundation for paving the 14-mile sector between Levelland and Whiteface. On completion, this highway will be continuously paved from Dickens City to the New Mexico line west of Morton.

Sixteen men on the force are on the WPA rolls of Cochran county. The work will be done with the combined available labor from both counties. It is probable that three times as many men will be at work on the project within the next few days, when crops are gathered.

Agricultural Workers To Meet For Session Friday At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 8. (AP) — The eleventh annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers' association will be held here Friday and Saturday to take up problems of horticulture, animal husbandry crops, farm homes, soil and water conservation and the future of cotton.

Extension service workers, vocational agriculture teachers, experiment station employes, college instructors and all United States Department of Agriculture employes in Texas will attend the meeting.

Muleshoe Church Sends Feed To Orphanage Home At Waco

MULESHOE, Jan. 8.—Members and friends of the Methodist church of Muleshoe sent 16 tons of feed to the Methodist Orphanage home at Waco recently. The Christmas gift also included about $60 in cash.

Those donating the feed were L. W. Brooks, C. M. Hurst, S. R. Little, L. P. Chuchill, H. A. Douglass, George Bundrick, J. T. Gilbreath, A. C. Gaede, F. B. Gaede, Mills Barfield, H. H. Carlyle, J. L. Rainfall In Muleshoe Area Is Productive Of Bumper Crops

MULESHOE, Jan. 8.—Considerable increase in rainfall and decrease in wind, sandstorms, and other unfavorable elements during 1937 over 1936, contributed much toward bumper crops grown in this area last year, according to government weather reports kept at Muleshoe by R. J. Klump.

Rainfall for 1937 totaled 19.9 inches, against 15.14 inches for 1936, or an increase over the previous year of 3.85 inches.

Back-To-Work Trend In U. S. Automobile Industry Under Way After Holidays

Idle Workers To Return To Jobs

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 8 — A back-to-work trend in the automobile industry was under way today after holiday layoffs.

The Chrysler Corp. announced last night the 55,000 persons who were working in its plants at the time of the curtailment Dec. 23 will return Tuesday.

Hudson Plans New Car

The Hudson Motor Car Co. said this week it would "put money and men back to work" in announcing the expenditure of $11,000,000 for materials and equipment to begin immediate production of a new car in the low-priced field.

It said it would increase its workers from 6,000 to 12,000.

The Ford Motor Co. said that fewer than 25,000 of the 87,000 workers at its mammoth Rouge plant in Dearborn are idle now, and that it "hopes" to have all of them back around Jan. 17.

General Motors Corp. has not revealed when it will recall the 30,000 employes it announced on Dec. 28 would be laid off because of "the recession in business."

General Motors World Sales Show Decrease In December

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—World sales of General Motors Corp., cars in December showed a sharp decrease under December 1936, but sales for all of 1937 were 3.9 per cent above the figure for the preceding year, the company announced today.

December sales to dealers in the United States and Canada, together with shipments overseas, totaled 160,444 units, against 195,[illegible]96 in November and 239,114 in December 1936. For the year the total was 2,116,897, compared with 2,087,690 in 1936.

Bank Stockholders To Meet Monday

Bank stockholders of Lubbock will meet Tuesday in the three national banks here to go over the reports of the past year, elect directors and to transact other business.

No changes are said to be contemplated in personnel of the boards.

After meeting of the stockholders, directors will meet to elect officers.

Anatomist Seeks To Disprove Idea Indians Were Surgeons

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 8. (AP)—Dr. John B. Saunders of the University of California anatomy faculty cast doubt today on evidence of deft surgery among ancient Indians of North and South America.

After examining a skull with two sharply similar holes, taken from a mound in Contra Costa county, Dr. Saunders expressed the view the holes were not due to trephining operations (perforating skull to remove pressure on brain), but to some pathological cause.

Jesse Jones Sees No Reason For "Fear," He Says

DALLAS, Jan. 8. (AP) — Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, hasn't changed his mind about business prospects, at any rate.

Last week he stopped here long enough to tell reporters: "I cannot see any reason for fear." He referred to 1938 business.

Today he arrived for a Jackson day dinner speech and remarked to newsmen: "I can see no reason for fear."

Last Month WPA Employed 1,583

Public improvement projects sponsored by local governmental agencies in the 24 counties administered from the Lubbock field office of the Works Progress Administration employed 1,583 men and women in December, J. O. Jones, administrative officer, said Saturday.

Work progressed on 13 road improvement jobs and two street paving projects during December, Jones said. Sewing room employed women wage-earners in 19 localities, and the statewide tax survey of farm and ranch lands was operated in 10 counties. WPA workers assisted librarians in 10 counties, and four housekeeping aid projects were operated.

Other Activities Listed

Other December WPA activities included the conducting of a nursery school, renovation of toys for Christmas distribution to underprivileged youngsters, underground water surveys in two counties and park improvements.

Road improvements in Cottle county and street paving in Aspermont were completed during December, he reported. Four bridges were repaired and rebuilt, and approaches widened in Cottle county at an expense of $2,592 to the county and $4,137 in federal funds. The project provided 15,407 man-hours of work. Concrete curbs and gutters were installed, and seven blocks of streets were paved at Aspermont. WPA expended $9,618 and the city spent $7,030 on the project which provided 28,690 man-hours of work.

Amnesia Victim Examined At Santone May Be Identified

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8. (AP)—A 45-year-old amnesia victim who appeared at the Veterans bureau here Thursday has been "practically" identified, bureau officials said today.

The man is believed to be an ex-service man, it was said at the bureau, and word as to his identification is expected from Washington Monday morning.

His fingerprints were sent to Washington for comparison with those on file there Friday.

Scout Meetings Are Scheduled

A series of meetings this week, the first to be held this afternoon, will further plans for the most ambitious Boy Scout program for any year since the South Plains council was organized, according to information given Saturday by Earl M. McClure, executive.

Chairmen and vice-chairmen for the 10 districts into which the 20 counties of the council are divided are to assemble at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Aztec room at Hilton hotel at the call of Dr. F. B. Malone of Lubbock, council president. Plans for the annual council banquet, the biggest affair of its kind ever held in the council, will be discussed. It will be held Thursday night, Jan. 25 with an expected attendance of 400 to 500.

Other Meetings Scheduled

Other meetings this week, McClure said, will include:

Monday night — Scoutmasters roundtable for north-central district at Hale Center High school; 7:30 p. m.; E. K. Hufstedler, Plainview, to preside.

Friday night — Scoutmasters roundtable for Lubbock at First Baptist church; 7:30 p. m.; Sam A. Henry, sr., and George Langford, local commissioners, in charge; discussion of plans for participation in national Boy Scout week, Feb. 6 to 12, inclusive, to be feature.

Friday night — Northwest district court of honor at Amherst High school, 7:30 o'clock; Floyd Coffman of Littlefield, chairman, to preside; 50 boys to appear for advancement.

SLATON SCOUTS REORGANIZE

Committee reorganizations for Slaton Boy Scout troops involve the following appointments announced Saturday: W. B. Williams, general chairman of committees; Dr. Roy G. Loveless and John Jenkins, finance committee; J. H. Brewer and H. H. Swanner, activities; J. Q. Quattlebaum and P. G. Meading, court of honor; David Lemon, promotion; and Fagan Gann and K. L. Scudder, camping.

Scoutmasters of various Slaton troops are Joe Hadden, No. 28; R. Sisek, No. 29; S. G. Gregg, No. 30; and John Raburn, cub pack No. 20.

BROWNFIELD BANQUET SET

Annual banquet for southwest district comprised of Terry, Yoakum, Gaines and southeast Hockley counties will be held the night of Jan. 17 at Brownfield High school gymnasium, according to M. L. H. Baze, Brownfield school superintendent, who also is district commissioner. George W. Dupree of Lubbock will be principal speaker. B. G. Hackney will be toastmaster. Emmett Smith will have charge of the program and Dr. R. B. Parrish, scoutmaster of troop 49, will have charge of exhibits. Officers for 1938 will be elected. C. C. Coleman is district chairman.

PLAN SCOUT WEEK MEETINGS

Appointments of local committees and their first meetings to discuss preparations for participation in observance of national Boy Scout week are scheduled in all parts of the district this week, McClure said.

The United States patent office grants about 40,000 patents a year.

New KFYO Organ One Of Most Modern

Installation of an electric organ was completed in studios of KFYO, the Avalanche-Journal station, Saturday morning.

Console of the instrument is comprised of two manuals, with four drawbar groups, permitting 253,000,000 tones, engineers estimate. Notes are "cut off" 10 times as fast as those of ordinary organs making it more suitable for broadcast purposes.

Each of the drawbar groups allow for changes in music types. By prearranging the drawbars before a broadcast, an organist can intersperse either of several changes, including bells and instrumental imitations, on one program.

A demonstration will be made at 6:30 o'clock Monday by Marvin Lucky, representative of Jenkins Music company, Amarillo. Bernie Howell, KFYO staff organist, will be heard each week-day in a 15-minute program beginning at 11:30 a. m.

Safety Council To Meet Wednesday

Meeting of Lubbock Safety council to discuss the proposal that the city commission be asked to order the new Lubbock traffic ordinance printed will be held in the city hall council chamber at 7 o'clock Wednesday night, according to announcement late Saturday by O. B. Conley, safety council president.

A delegation to present the request to the city commission together with the suggestion that copies of the printed ordinance be issued with each 1938 automobile license plate probably will be named at the Wednesday night meeting, Conley said.

He announced also that a series of programs will be broadcast over radio station KFYO at 7:15 o'clock each night urging highway safety. They will present a symbolic character titled "The Working Man," who, in his Saturday night appeal, child had been permitted to live another day.

Departing from that theme, Durwood H. Bradley, city attorney, will be presented on the Monday night program in explanation of Lubbock's new traffic ordinance, Conley said. Programs, interspersed with music, continue 15 minutes.

Mexican Girl Visits In Clovis But Complications Arise; She Is To Return Here

Eupelia Lucero, 15-year-old Mexican girls who lives at 210 Avenue K with a grandmother, Carman Castello, made a flying trip to Clovis, N. M., to visit her other grandmother, but it assertedly was against her will.

The Clovis grandmother, Ines Lucero, came to Lubbock Friday, took Eupelia, and forced her to go back to Clovis, according to information given Burton S. Burks, district attorney, by the Lubbock grandmother.

A check with Clovis authorities brought statements Eupelia did not want to go to Clovis and that she had "been crying all day."

The matter was dropped. Burks said, after the Lubbock grandmother sent Eupelia's bus fare to Clovis authorities who agreed to put the girl on the Lubbock-bound bus.

New Terms Of Court Monday

Both 72nd and 99th district courts Monday will open their first terms for 1938.

Judge E. L. Pitts of the 99th district will open a 12-weeks term at 10 o'clock Monday morning with impaneling of a grand jury and calling civil dockets, according to attaches of that court. The appearance docket will be devoted to hearing of non-jury civil cases.

Judge Daniel A. Blair of the 72nd district will charge a grand jury and call his civil docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning to open a four-weeks term at Crosbyton. His appearance docket will be called at 10 o'clock Tuesday.

"Light" Criminal Business

Criminal business for both grand juries, it was indicated by the office of Burton S. Burks, district attorney, would be "fairly light." Burks will work with the Crosby county grand jury, and his assistant, Victor H. Lindsey, with the investigators here.

Criminal hearings will be held at Crosbyton on the week of Jan. 24, attaches said.

Among the investigations for the grand jury here are two murder cases, the J. T. Elliott poisoning Dec. 13 and a negro murder case at Slaton which happened Christmas day. An estimated 15 cases will be probed here.

It was pointed out the work of the 99th district grand jury was lessened by a former grand jury impaneled only four weeks ago.

County court will continue hearings of criminal cases another week before the November term closes Saturday, said Judge J. J. Dillard.

A jury will report at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Settings for the week are—Tuesday: liquor law violation against Harold Jones, separte theft charges against Bill Pierce and Ira Pierce, and drunkenness against Mack Johnson; Wednesday; procuring against Steve Nixon, and separate charges of liquor law violation against W. L. Lewis and Harold Jones; Thursday: liquor law violation against D. B. Brown, swindling with worthless check against Thomas Place, aggravated assault against Artie Mae Washington, and drunkenness against Porter Grundy; and Friday: fraud against Ned Baum, aggravated assault aginst Ross Gentry, and liquor law violation against Fannie Joyner.

TWO DEMOS NAMED

DALLAS, Jan. 8. (AP)—Two new members were elected to the state Democratic executive committee here today. They were J. T. Drumwright of Wortham and Theo Weiss of San Angelo. They succeeded, respectively, B. W. George of Corsicana and C. S. Slatton of San Antonio.

The worship of fire is still practiced by some primitive tribes in Africa, Asia and America.

Science Offers Aid To Dogs Who Suffer During Hay Fever Season

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 8. (AP)—Science offered its aid to suffering dogs today for a peculiar malady they get mostly during hay fever season.

"The trouble is not hay fever, even though at its worst in the dog day season when ragweed and pollen fills the air. It is a skin outbreak that hit their backs in the hardest place to scratch," it was explained to the thirteenth annual conference for veterinarians at Cornell university.

The dog malady is evidently an allergy. Allergies are the newest of human fashions in disease. They include odd skins troubles that may come from almost anything man touches, from his clothes to the synthetic products of chemistry.

This is known as a "contact allergy." For unknown reasons the skin becomes sensitive. This, said A. F. Coco, M. D. of the Lederle Laboratories, inc., at Pearl River, N. Y., is evidently the kind of allergy which is afflicting the dogs.

WINDSORS IN PARIS

CANNES, France, Jan. 8. (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will leave tomorrow for Paris where a spokesman said they would remain several weeks.

FIVE DIE IN RIOT

ALGIERS, Algeria, Jan. 8. (AP) — Five persons were killed today and 30 wounded at Bizerte, Tunis, in a street battle between natives and soldiers.

Sixteen Are To Complete Work

Sixteen students will complete their high school work Tuesday at Senior High school, according to a statement by Principal R. W. Matthews. They will receive diplomas and take part in May exercises, no exercises being held now.

Mid-term seniors are: Camilla Booker, Edna Jay, Doris Durham, Sterling Short, Leland George, Hulen Eubanks, Oleen Jones, Grace Ann Fletcher, Robert Castle, Dorothy Allen, Dorris McSpadden, Winfred Franks, O. J. Ward, Lloyd Nunley, Woodrow Killingsworth, and Ralph Letsinger.

Louisiana Man Is First To Get Unemployment Compensation

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 8. (AP)—J. D. Shelton, 37, received the first Louisiana unemployment compensation check today.

E. W. Cason, commissioner of the Louisiana department of labor, in charge of administering the law, believes it was the first check issued in the United States under the unemployment compensation program of the Social Security act, except in Wisconsin where the law has already been in effect.

"I AM NOW READY TO OFFER LUBBOCK 1938's GREATEST MOTOR CAR VALUES!"

Horace Hawkins

OWNER
HORACE HAWKINS AUTO CO.
1118 MAIN STREET

IT IS with much pleasure that I announce my association with the Packard family—my appointment as dealer of Packard motor cars in this locality.

This happy association now enables me to offer you:

The most sensationally improved motor cars, regardless of size or price, to be offered the public in years—the new, low-priced 1938 Packard Six and 1938 Packard Eight (also known as the Packard 120).

The safest, quietest, most luxurious motor cars in the world—the new 1938 Packard 12 and the new 1938 Packard Super 8.

You can afford a Packard if you can afford almost any new car—and I can arrange most attractive payments. And you can afford to operate and maintain a Packard—for a Packard challenges even the lowest priced cars for economy.

Visit this new Packard showroom and let me prove it. Or phone—and let us bring a Packard and the convincing figures around to your door at any time that suits your convenience.

Horace Hawkins

(A Word About Mr. Hawkins) To become thus associated with America's largest, oldest and most successful makers of fine cars is, we feel, an indication of this man's unusual fitness and character as a business man. We feel confident that members of this community will agree with us. We hope you will give him an opportunity to serve you.

Amateur Scrappers Ready For Golden Gloves Tourney

Monday Card Lists 27 Boxing Bouts

The stage is just about as nearly set as possible for boxing's "annual" appearance in Lubbock.

One of the rarest of common sports here, boxing makes its bow Monday night at the Auditorium in what is believed will turn out to be the greatest amateur ring show ever produced on the South Plains.

It's the Golden Gloves tournament.

Starting time is 7:30 o'clock, sharp.

Elaborate plans have been made by the Avalanche-Journal Amateur Athletic club, sponsored by the Avalanche-Journal publications for the purpose of staging the Golden Gloves tournaments here, in the hope of giving sports fans not only their money's worth but greater faith in the youth of today.

BOXERS MEET EARLY

All boxers registered for the Golden Gloves tournament Monday night must gather at The Auditorium between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, for final weighing in, physical examination and "coaching" for the program to follow. Every fighter entered should be at the Auditorium no later than 5 o'clock, at which time final instructions regarding ring conduct will be given. No instructions will be given inside the ring.

Then The District

Strong, healthful young men, who fight for sports sake and not for filthy lucre, will march across the auditorium ring tomorrow night, again next Monday night, and again on the nights of Feb. 7 and 8, striving for championship honors in eight weight divisions.

Winners, and those defeated who look good though losing, will return here for the February District tournament, along with a field of fighters who have not entered the city tournament upcoming. Winners in the District joust will go to Fort Worth to compete in the state tournament—and winners there go to Chicago later on to compete in the Tournament of Champions.

Out-Of-Town Fans Due

While Lubbock and Texas Tech boxers comprise the largest single delegation of Golden Gloves entries, the out-of-town trade is expected to be high as boxing fans of the section follow their favorites to the Auditorium.

Wilson, perhaps, leads in out-of-town entries, with seven entries—Fred Pendleton, John Melde, Carl Schubert, Roy Neiman, Albert Wuensche, Herbert Lamb and Buck Vance. Slaton has five entries, Howard White, Earl Blassingame, James Stotts, Bill White and A. A. Sedwick.

From O'Donnell come George Collins, a heavyweight, and Pat Gary, tough middleweight. Olton contributes Bob Bryant, heavyweight favorite, who attends Texas Tech. Post sends Dan Altman and James Hawthorne. Littlefield, usually high in the number, sends only one, Nathaniel McBride. Jim Ware comes from Tahoka. Clarence Little from Lorenzo, Sigle Tomlin from Levelland, O. D. Conner and little Melvin Reed from Ralls, and tough little Benny Moore from Brownfield.

Lubbock had two representatives in the Tournament of Champions last year. Eight fighters went from here to the state tournament. Two emerged therefrom, and got headlines in Chicago.

One Champion Returns

One of the two, Heavyweight Babe Ritchie, is coming back for more this year. Although not listed in Monday night's pairings, he will fight the following Monday night for the city championship, and will return, no doubt, for the district engagements.

The other state champion from Lubbock, little Lewis Terrell, champ in the district and state bantamweight division, had to withdraw from this year's competition because of heart trouble.

But the field this year is fast, and a lot larger than the 1937 entry list.

Except in the bantamweight group, there should be fast competition in every division. Particularly in the lightweight, welterweight, middleweight and light heavyweight divisions will rivalry be tough. Monday night's card will see the same scrappers fight twice, in several instances, because of crowded fields.

Winners, and those left off of tomorrow's card, will return a week later to settle the city championships.

Advance ticket sales indicate that the opening night crowd will be fairly large, although a large number of ringside tickets remain unsold.

Tickets On Sale

The ducats will remain on sale at three downtown agencies—Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, the Hotel Hilton lobby, and Hotel Lubbock Drug—until noon tomorrow. Those left will be on sale at the Auditorium box office early in the evening. The bouts, 27 of which are scheduled for opening night, will start promptly at 7:30, and there will be no delay between bouts.

Plans include speedy handling of boxers between dressing room and ring, as well as inside the ring. Referee Bo Sexton, one of the most popular fight officials in all West Texas, will urge the boys, if they need urging, to their fullest speed while they are fighting. Those who "lay down on the job" will be removed from the ring, disqualified for the duration of the tournament.

For the benefit of fans as well as of fighters, the bouts will move swiftly. Hardly before one fight is finished, the next pair will be ready to climb into the ring. There will be no delay for referee's instructions inside the ring; all fighters will receive instructions in the dressing room, and as soon as they reach their corners the gong will ring and they'll be fighting.

Seconds Are Provided

The boxers will be introduced via the public address system, microphone of which will be placed near the timer's table. Judges will announce decisions as quickly as possible, and the referee will indicate the winner.

Seconds will be provided for boxers who come unaccompanied. Out of town boxers may bring one second each, but this is not necessary. Trained athletic men will be available in each corner.

Boxers are asked to provide their own tape and bandages. Gloves will be provided by the Golden Gloves committee.

Ringside officials include, besides Referee Bo Sexton, Timekeeper Lou Jones, Judges Joe Leonard, Jack Haden, Wynell Cox and Cliff Caraway, and Seconds W. T. Bolt, Lewis Alexander, Charles Barnard and Forrest Jones. The attending physician will be Dr. Steve Marshall of Lubbock Sanitarium. All boxers must pass rigid physical examinations before they are allowed to enter the ring.

Patrons are urged to avail themselves of the advance ticket sale privileges before coming to the Auditorium, in order to avoid the "jam" at the box office. General admission tickets will be on sale at two windows, with ringside tickets at one. Price for all ringside tickets is $1.10, for men's general admission, 75 cents, and for women and children, general, 40 cents. All prices include tax.

Grid Celebrities Gather At Waco To Honor Ace Players

WACO, Jan. 8. (AP) — Football celebrities of the Southwest gathered here last night at a banquet honoring outstanding athletes of college and high school ranks.

The players, headed by Joe Routt, All-America guard of Texas A. and M. college, were awarded watches.

Among coaches present were Matty Bell of S. M. U., Leo Meyer of T. C. U., Morley Jennings of Baylor, Homer Norton and Bill James of Texas A. and M., Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech and P. E. Shotwell of the state championship high school team from Longview.

New Heavyweight Sensation - - In Training Poses

Tony Galento, the bar-keep' of Orange, N. J., whose latest pugilistic triumph was a three-round knockout of Charley Massera, has his own ideas about training. The roly-poly heavyweight seeking a shot at Joe Louis is shown hoisting a stein of the foamy stuff, and claims there's nothing like it for a conditioning diet. Once in a while, however, Tony gets out the heavy woolens, and does some training in earnest. Very seldom, though, and so painful.

Coaches Lineup Stays Same In Southwest

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 8. (AP)—Out of the sports grab-bag:

Football: Intact, for another season, is the Southwest conference coaching lineup . . . Crafty Morley Jennings' terse confirmation he would remain at Baylor and not listen to Ole Miss offers, ended all rumored changes . . . No longer do they use the conference for a coaching stepping stone . . . The boys have something in their own backyard now . . . Sam Baugh and his Washington Redskins will train four days at Fort Worth for their Dallas battle Jan. 23 with the Chicago Bears. . . . Agitation is increasing at Houston to ditch Rice institute's one-year contract for coaches and offer Jimmy Kitts and his crew a three-year pact . . . Lean Cecil Isbell, Houston's contribution to Purdue, probably will ink a Green Bay Packer pro contract when his schooling ends . . . And Frank Steen, Rice's great "comeback" end, has several offers to stab those passes for pay.

Basketball: High scoring honors in the Southwest conference probably will settle down between the two youngsters who fought it out last year, Don Lockard of Arkansas and J. D. (Sniper) Norton of S. M. U. Mustangs . . . Lockard has piled up 139 points in the first nine games . . . Norton isn't far behind . . . Atwell, a West Texas village with a school that only has six boys enrolled, has a great rural cage team . . . The boys went to the finals of a recent tourney; played some of their games with only four men . . . Colorado's loss in the Cotton Bowl is being appropriately avenged by the Colorado Springs Antlers traveling cage troupe . . . Paced by Ad Dietzel, former San Antonio schoolboy and T. C. U. star, the Coloradoans have knocked over several Texas teams . . . Charlie Chan, not the screen sleuth but a 22-year-old California Chinese, is a nifty Rice institute frosh cage star . . . Watch those two Huntsville teams, Sam Houston Teachers and Huntsville High, go. . . . They're on big winning streaks.

Golf: Plans for the Houston Invitation Country club tournament, annually Texas' classiest golf meet, will be laid at a Tuesday meeting . . . Amateur stars the nation over will be there . . . Put down June 8 as the start of the annual River Crest Country club invitation at Fort Worth . . . Tardiness in picking its date cost Houston a visit from the nomadic pros this winter . . . Harry Cooper won the $3,000 event last year . . . Cocky Reynolds Smith, the Dallas amateur, again lands a Walker Cup berth, which keeps the Texas batting average high . . . Some thought Don Schumacher, the Trans-Mississippi champion, would make the overseas trip.

Baseball: Prime business of the Texas baseball league at its meeting in Fort Worth Jan. 29 and 30 will be selection of an official. . . . Contract for the old one has expired . . . None know whether it will be the lively or dead pellet the moguls will choose.

Boxing: One of the state's roslest heavyweight prospects, Maxie Roesch, handsome Dallas youngster, stumbled the other night when a pudgy Chicagoan, Tony Musto, outfoxed and outslugged him . . . Roesch, they thought, had the makings . . . The Fort Worth Star-Telegram's Golden Gloves boxing tourney, to be climaxed with a mammoth state tourney, gets under way Monday night. . . . District eliminations tourneys will follow.

New Home, Meadow Leading League

Teams of the South Plains Basketball league, interscholastic circuit composed of smaller schools of the section, have voted for a "split season" and will start the second half of the schedule on Jan. 21, it was announced yesterday.

Winner of the first half will play the second half winner for the title. This holds good in both boys and girls divisions.

Two games remain in the first half for each team. On Tuesday night, Jan. 11, Cooper plays at Frenship, New Deal at New Home, Meadow at Southland, Roosevelt at Ropesville and Shallowater at Wilson. On Jan. 14, Cooper plays at New Deal, Frenship at Meadow, Ropesville at New Home, Southland at Shallowater and Wilson at Roosevelt, rounding out the first half schedule.

Standings of the teams to date:

GIRLS DIVISION

Teams—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Meadow	7	0	1000
Southland	7	0	1000
Wilson	5	2	715
Ropesville	4	3	571
Frenship	4	3	571
Shallowater	3	3	500
Cooper	2	5	285
New Deal	0	6	000
New Home	0	7	000

Cotton Bowl Games May Shift About

HOUSTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Problems confronting the Cotton Bowls of the future were threshed out at a conference today between Promoter J. Curtis Sanford and a committee of three representing the Southwest conference.

No final decisions were reached. It was a fact-finding conference, with the results to be presented to the Southwest conference spring meeting in Dallas in March.

However, two or three important facts filtered out.

One is that Sanford is not completely sold on Dallas as the site of the game between the Southwest conference champions and a worthy intersectional foe.

"As long as I am promoter," said the man who presented the first two Cotton Bowl battles in Dallas, "the game will be presented in the town which is the best setting for the game. If Houston has a stadium large enough for such a crowd, and if the Rice Owls are in the game, Houston would be a natural site for the Cotton Bowl. You can say the same thing about Fort Worth, College Station, or Austin.

Pirates Gather New Faces For Hundred Grand

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8. — The Pittsburgh Pirates, seeking "new faces," announced today they had expended $75,000 in cash and $25,000 in player values during the off-season to acquire the year's highest priced rookie and five other prized prospects.

This was a greater outlay for new players than was made by any other major league club said President Bill Benswanger, whose star outfielder, Paul Waner, accused him of wanting "cheaper faces" instead of new ones.

Johnny Rizzo, hard-hitting Columbus, O., outfielder is the highest-priced recruit entering the majors in 1938, according to the tag placed on him by Benswanger.

In order to lift the slugger from the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system, Pittsburgh paid $25,000 in cash and gave up Catcher Tommy Padden from the Pirates' own staff and Outfielder Bud Hafey and First Baseman Bernard Cobb, who were wearing Pirate strings in the minors.

Benswanger also disclosed today the cost of some other Pirate newcomers.

He said it cost the Pittsburgh club $12,000 to get Catcher Ray Berres from Louisville; $11,000 to obtain Pitcher Truett Sewell from Buffalo; $11,000 for Pitcher Marvin Duke from Montreal, and $7,500 for Pitcher Bob Klinger from Sacramento. The Pirates have also invested in Pitcher Oadis Swigart of Davenport and others.

Those deals had no effect on the Pirates' efforts to obtain Van Mungo, Frank Demaree, Bill Jurges or other topflight performers in the National League, the Buccaneer boss asserted. But he said:

"If some of the rookies come through as we hope, we'll see those new faces anyway."

Lee Handley, young second baseman acquired for $20,000 last winter, and Pitcher Russ Bauers, earned regular jobs in 1937.

WHAT WOULD YOU CALL IT?

SALISBURY, Md., Jan. 8. (AP) — Referee Ed Brockman, of Baltimore, who says he has officiated at 15,000 bouts, saw something new in boxing when two fighters knocked each other out at the same time here.

Norris Polk, of Salisbury, and Otis Baker, of Baltimore, met in a six-round semi-final. They knocked each other down twice in the first round, then let go with rights to the chin. Both went down for the count and were out for five minutes.

Brockman called it a draw.

Who Are The John Tarletons, Anyway? East Texas Gals Have Better Mark

(By The Associated Press).

KILDARE, Jan. 8.—Out of pine-shackled East Texas comes one of the sports world's really amazing stories—the five year reign of a girls basketball team that has won 114 games.

Five years ago, in the fall of 1932, a group of 11-year-old girls started tossing a basketball at an old hoop nailed up on an improvised court. To this day they haven't been defeated.

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 8. (AP) —Up to even 80 soared the consecutive victory streak of the John Tarleton Junior college Plowboys here tonight, a hard-earned 28-18 triumph over San Angelo Junior college keeping their string intact.

Coach C. C. Alexander, who banded together that group of girls at Oak Grove, a small oil community, still has the same bunch. He moved over, at the start of this season, to Kildare school. The girls just picked up and moved with him.

Winners of 103 straight games at Oak Grove, the girls have tacked on 11 more since donning Kildare spangles. Several times they have surged over the 100 point mark in lop-sided victories. Only the other night they trampled Jefferson High, 95-14. A few nights later they polished off Atlanta, 85-19.

Who is the star of this phenomenal team? They're all good, but Mary Dotson, a forward, is the ace basket ringer. Mary, who has never played on a defeated team, buried 69 points in the mesh in one game and against Atlanta ran up 63.

The girls, still at an average age of less than 17, haven't picked soft spots. Twice they have toppled over the College of Marshall sextet, once they whipped Texarkana Junior college and the victory over Greenwood, Louisiana girl champions, was overwhelming.

So far this season they have averaged 65 points per game, holding the enemy to an average 15 points.

Alexander, who did his basketball playing at Stephen F. Austin of Nacogdoches, says it's easy to explain the team's success.

"They don't even play girls basketball. I've taught them the boy's game. You know, one-hand shooting, man-to-man defense and everything. Why is the other team always held to a low score? That's easy, too. They never get the ball."

Just how good is this Kildare team?

To be exact, Alexander's boys team — runners-up in a recent East Texas tournament—took the court against the lassies in a scrimmage game. In 10 minutes the boys walked off the court. The girls had swamped them.

Tech Cagers Start New Year Schedule On Tuesday Night

Coach Berl Huffman's somewhat cuffed about Texas Tech basketball team faces a four-game test this week beginning with Abilene Christian college five Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

University of New Mexico's strong Lobos furnish opposition for the Raiders quintet Friday and Saturday nights. All four games will be played at Tech gym. Coach Fred Rich's Cooper High aggregation plays the Tech fish in a curtain raiser for the Tech-ACC scrap Wednesday night.

Hard Practice Held

The Techs have been drilling hard since the first of the year, trying to perfect a clicking offense. Five gridiron performers have been added to the team since the New Year's day game at El Paso. Rex Williams, G. L. Webb, Dudley Akins, Red Ramsey, and Elmer Tarbox are football players on the squad.

Tarbox and Williams are regarded as starters at forward and guard, along with John Henderson forward; Sam Garrison, center; and Capt. Paul Morris, steadiest guard on the team.

Another five is composed of Coleman Williams and Webb at forwards, T. F. Bain at center, and Akins and Truman Neal at guard. A third team is made up of A. E. Cloyd, Ramsey, Powell McCreary, Dayton McWhorter and Freeman Overby.

Drills nightly for the past week have been held for two to three hours. Basket shooting has consumed much of the time, with footwork for the less aggressive. Rules and defensive tactics have been drilled in detail.

Huffman has issued an edict anent roughness of his charges. The team was criticized severely in the Oklahoma City tournament during the holidays.

Rest For Examinations

After this week's four-game siege, the Raiders take time out from competition to prepare for and take examinations.

Following term tests, the team makes a swing through New Mexico and Arizona. Twelve days will be spent on the road.

Abilene's Christians are considered strong. New Mexico lost several boys from their 1937 team, but come back this year with stars of that aggregation. Such names as Chief Saenz, Lopez, Godding, and Thomas reappear on the roster.

Golden Gloves 'Lowdown'

By Collier Parris

IF YOU are not tired reading about it, or in case you hadn't heard much about it, here's a bit of lowdown on the why and wherefore of Golden Gloves, actual demonstration of which you'll be seeing tomorrow night at the Auditorium:

"Golden Gloves" is a copyrighted name owned jointly by the Chicago Tribune and New York News.

It was given to an amateur boxing tournament between the two cities (teams sponsored by the respective papers) in 1927, and has endured.

Starting as an inter-city competition, the promotion has proven so popular and successful that it has become a national institution.

The Chicago Tribune now has the Western half of the nation and some of the south, and the New York News the eastern half.

And Then She Moves To Texas

In February, 1937, representative teams from 17 states gathered in Chicago for the "Tournament of Champions," and more are expected this next February.

LATE in 1936 the Tribune granted a Fort Worth newspaper (Star-Telegram) the right to the use of the name "Golden Gloves" in Texas with the understanding that the paper would send a team of Texas champions to the Tournament of Champions.

The first Texas tournament was held in 1937 and it was a success, artistically and financially, in spite of the fact that "Golden Gloves" was practically unknown in Texas at that time, and boxing was generally dead in the state.

The Texas team went to Chicago and acquitted itself creditably, winning 10 of 18 fights.

All Golden Gloves activities are conducted under A. A. U. rules and under A. A. U. sanction. All of the competitors are, of course, amateurs—men of any age over 16 who have never received money for fighting.

The sponsor of the Texas state tournament (Star Telegram) awards all city, county and district tournaments in the state. Sponsoring body of a city or district tournament must be a responsible institution, generally a newspaper.

Then Quickly Into Lubbock

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal has been awarded sponsorship of the Lubbock District tournaments. The district includes all of the South Plains area, and more. There are no definite geographical boundary lines to the District. Any amateur boxer in West Texas who does not participate in any other District tournament is eligible to compete here. By special arrangements, fighters of New Mexico are eligible here.

THE Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Amateur Athletic club has been formed to serve as the actual sponsoring body of Golden Gloves and any other amateur events that may be promoted in the future.

Boxers who compete in the Golden Gloves tournaments are members of the Avalanche-Journal club.

The City tournament, not necessarily closed to fighters outside the city, is designed to attract the interest of fighters and fans and get them ready for the District tournament, dates of which are Feb. 7 and 8. Elimination in the City tournament does not necessarily mean ineligibility for the District tournament, although only those boxers who prove themselves fit and capable in the City tournament will be invited to enter the District event.

The Avalanche-Journal has agreed to send the winners in each of the eight weight divisions to Fort Worth for the state tournament. The Fort Worth Golden Gloves organization sends the state winners to Chicago for the Tournament of Champions. Lubbock produced two state champions last year who went on to Chicago.

THE state tournament this year will be held Feb. 17 and 18 at the Panther City Arena, with finals on Feb. 21 at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

To be eligible to conduct City and District tournaments, the Avalanche-Journal Amateur Athletic club has been required to join the Southwestern division of the National A. A. U. All boxers must hold membership cards in the A. A. U.

State Requirements Are Strict

In addition to meeting Golden Gloves and A.A.U. requirements, the sponsoring bodies must conform to the Boxing and Wrestling Laws of Texas which include the following regulations:

1. Obtain permission from the State commissioner of labor to conduct fight programs.
2. Operate directly under an appointed Commissioner for the District.
3. Employ a referee who holds a state license.
4. Limit contests or tournaments to two performances in any one month.
5. Provide physical examinations for contestants and have physician in attendance at contests.
6. Apply profits derived to the development of amateur athletics.

AND THAT IS about all we know about Golden Gloves. We sincerely trust that the efforts of the Avalanche-Journal to promote and conduct the City and District tournaments will meet with the approval of the sports loving public, that you will be entertained royally, and that you will welcome successive sports events promoted by the Avalanche-Journal Amateur Athletic club, which we hope will become the pace setter for amateur sports in West Texas. Yours truly.

Jap, Moran Head Weekly Mat Card With Newcomer, Oldtimer In Semi-final Go

A newcomer makes his debut and an oldtimer comes back for another spell on Wednesday night's mat card at the Auditorium.

Otis Clingman, local favorite here a year or so ago, comes back to the local arena again. Clingman, from Amarillo, is the clean type wrestler, depending largely on his grappling skill and knowledge of the game, rather than rough and tumble tactics.

Clingman meets the newcomer, Bill Venable, in the curtain raiser. Venable hails from Alabama and has a good reputation for his mixing qualities, although he likes the going rough.

Jap Meets Ex-Tar

Prof. Teisura Higami, Nipponese "sleep" hold artist, will try "fingering" Sailor Moran's anatomy in the main event. The Jap moved Bill Cazzell's bedtime up a few hours in the main spot last week.

Moran, no doubt, will call upon his pet heart jab to beat Higami to the sleep business. A few of the tar's punches are little less than conducive to naps themselves.

Cyclone Mackey tangles with Otto Ludwig in the semi-final bout. Ludwig did not appear here last week. Mackey pinned Andy Tremaine in their prelim.

Giants And Indians To Play Three Games In Texas

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Thirty-one games are on the spring training schedule announced today by the Giants.

The club's pitchers and catchers are due to report at Hot Springs, Ark., in mid-February for preliminary conditioning, with the main squad pitching camp at Baton Rouge, La., the first of March.

The training schedule includes:

April 4, Cleveland at Austin; 5, Cleveland at Bryan, Texas; 6, Cleveland at Longview, Texas.

Lubbock High Ring Finalists Named

Winners for the final boxing bouts in the physical education boy's tournament at Senior High school were decided last week when preliminaries were held during the noon period in the gymnasium. The tournament brought to a close the unit on boxing which has been conducted by Coach Ross Ayers during the past month.

The 14 winners will fight for championship titles Tuesday night, January 18, when senior high students have their first Drollery night, a night of physical education feats and fun, in the gymnasium. The boxing matches will be the main events of the evening, but comic basketball and volleyball games and dances will be given between matches. The evening of entertainment is being sponsored by the physical education department, directed by Mrs. L. H. Kirby and Coach Ayers.

Boys who will box for senior high championships are: 92 pounds, Pierson Gordon and Berry Squires; 100 pounds, Kenneth Lovell and Clifford Duke, jr.; 107 pounds, Howard Gregory and Wayne Lacy; 115 pounds, Darrell Carpenter and Melvin Robertson; 125 pounds, Valton King and J. A. Hall; 135 pounds, Joy Treadgill and Horace Humphries; 145 pounds, George Tate and Bert Klantchnek; 165 pounds, Elmer Gibon and Gilbert Butler; 155 pounds, Leo Huckabay and Jack Swain.

Jimmy Thomson Takes Lead In Los Angeles Open Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8. (AP)—The big guns of Jimmy Thomson blasted away again today to gain a commanding lead at the half-way mark of the $5,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament and hang up a 36-hole record for his fellow shotmakers to aim at in coming encounters on the nation's fairways.

The siege gun of Shawnee-On-The-Delaware continued to fire away at par figures and wound up the day's effort with a 66, six strokes under par for the Harding course of the Griffith Park layout, and a total score of 131 for 36 holes.

Today's total left him six strokes ahead of his nearest friendly enemies, Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., and Willie Goggin of San Francisco, with whom he started out on even terms this morning.

Reynolds Smith To Play With U. S. Golfers

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. — The United States Golf association today named a 1938 Walker Cup golf team of nine players and two alternates, to be captained by Francis Ouimet, and adopted a one-year modification of the stymie rule.

In addition to Ouimet, Boston veteran who has been a member of each squad since the matches were inaugurated in 1922, the men invited to be on the team which will meet the British at St. Andrews were:

Don Moe Is Alternate

Named as alternates in case any of the above men decline the invitation or cannot compete were T. Suffern Tailer of New York and Don Moe of Portland, Ore.

The U. S. G. A. executive committee, which reported the team selections to the annual meeting, also drafted the substitute stymie rule, which is to be in effect for one year as a trial only."

"The present rule states that, when the balls are lying on the green within six inches of each other, the one nearer the hole may be lifted. The modification adds that the ball lying nearer the hole also may be lifted if it is within six inches of the hole regardless of the position of the other ball.

Retiring President John J. Jackson explained that the executive committee felt the modification would "eliminate a good many causes of complaint," and that there is no solution of the stymie problem that would be satisfactory to everybody."

The Walker Cup selections contained only one minor surprise, that of Tailer for alternate. Beaten by Medalist Roger Kelly of Los Angeles in the first round at Portland, he nevertheless has a good match play record and went to the fifth round at Garden City in 1936.

Of the nine tentative "regulars" four, in addition to Ouimet, who was non-playing captain, were on the team two years ago. They are Goodman, Fischer, Smith and Yates.

Youngsters Are Pioneering

Billows, Haas, Kocis, and Ward are outstanding members of the younger crop. Kocis, intercollegiate champion in 1936, lost to Billows in the round of sixteen at Portland; Ward, a terrific hitter, took Goodman to the 36th in the semi-final after beating Haas in a 21-hole fourth round match; and Billows, who bowed to Goodman in the 1936 quarter-finals at Garden City, bated him to the last green in the Portland final, Goodman winning 2 up.

Whether Ouimet, who won the amateur title in 1931 after having won the 1913 open and 1914 amateur, plays at St. Andrews will be entirely up to him. He will select the American lineup for the eight singles and four Scotch foursomes.

These officers for 1938 were elected unanimously: A. M. Reid of Hastings-On-Hudson, N. Y., president; Harold W. Pierce of Boston and R. Arthur Wood of Chicago, vice presidents; Jess E. Sweetser, Bronxville, N. Y., treasurer; Charles W. Littlefield of Montclair, N. J., general counsel; and Frank M. Hardt of Haverford, Pa., secretary.

ton Takes Top Honors In lls Girls Cage Tourney

RALLS, Jan. 8. (Special)—Anton high school ran away with first place and most of the all-tournament team honors in the Ralls invitation girls basketball tournament, just concluded here.

Anton defeated Post in the final game. Crosbyton won from McCaddoo for consolation honors.

The all-tournament first team consisted of Brown of Spade, Spears of Anton and Erwin of Anton, forwards; Little of Anton, Riddle of Post and Keesee of Spade, guards. Second team: Pace of Ralls, McGower of Anton and Howard of Post, forwards; Matthews of Anton, Blackwood of Crosbyton and Marsh of Ralls, guards. Spears of Anton was judged the best all-around forward, while the guard honors went to Keesee of Spade.

chle San Romani Sets New cord In 3,000-Meter Go

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Archie San Romani, one of the country's greatest milers, let loose with a terrific stretch drive tonight to nip Indiana's great Don Lash and hang up a new American citizens' record for 3,000 meters in the Knights of Columbus track and field meet at the 13th regiment armory.

The former Emporia, (Kas.) teachers ace stepped the distance in the remarkable time of 8:27.4 to clip three and four fifths seconds off the mark established by Joie Ray in 1917. The time was only a second slower than Paavo Nurmi's world record made on Madison Square Garden's banked oval in 1925.

Porkers Take Aggies And Steers Win From Frogs

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 8. (AP)—Stymied until the final 10 minutes, Arkansas' Razorbacks closed with a scoring surge led by lean Jack Robbins to hand Texas A. and M. its second straight Southwest conference licking here tonight, 33 to 22.

Seven points to the rear midway of the final period, Arkansas opened the throttle and passed an Aggie team that shot wildly and vainly.

Robbins, from his running guard post, threw in 14 points to lead the scoring, tossing two baskets in the final minute of play to ice the game.

Capt. Don Lockard, who canned 18 points to lead the rout last night, was held to a slim five total by the close guarding of Walt Roberts.

Despite the fact they led most of the route, the Aggies were consistently handicapped by wild shooting.

Tight defensive play held down the scoring but not the excitement at the close of the first half. The lead switched six times and the score was tied twice before the Aggies finally pulled out with a 12-10 half-time margin.

FROGS 21; STEERS 33

AUSTIN, Jan. 8. (AP)—The Texas Longhorns opened their Southwest conference basketball season tonight with a decisive victory over the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, 33-21.

A crowd of 4,500 witnessed the ragged game, in which Coach Jack Gray of Texas presented as scoring stars Warren Osborne and Henry Chovanec, who counted 13 and 10 points respectively.

A potent steer defense featuring Don White, Bob Moers and Willie Tata clamped down on the Frogs so closely T. C. U. scored only four field goals, three in the first half and one in the last.

The game was rough and the Frogs tured Texas' 16 fouls into 13 points from the free throw line.

Aggies Schedule Tulsa And Santa Clara On '38 Card

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 8. (AP)—Tulsa and Santa Clara universities are on the Texas A. and M. college 1938 football schedule, announced today.

It will be the first time the Aggies have faced either of those teams. The schedule follows:

Sept. 24, Texas College of Arts and Industries at College Station; Oct. 1, Tulsa at Tyler; Oct. 8, Santa Clara at San Francisco; Oct. 15, Texas Christian at College Station; Oct. 22, Baylor at Waco; Oct. 29, Arkansas at College Station; Nov. 5, Southern Methodist at Dallas; Nov. 12, Rice at College Station; Nov. 24, Texas at Austin; Dec. 3, open.

Details Clash In Explanation For Airman's Blast Death

HONOLULU, Jan. 8. (AP)—A bomb-laden army pursuit plane thrown out of control by a mid-air explosion carried Lieut. Paul D. Bunker, jr., 28, to his death yesterday in the rugged mountains near Schofield barracks.

Some witnesses told army officials they believed a bomb exploded as Lieutenant Buker attempted to release it in bombing practice. One witness said, however, he saw a wing collapse and then "the whole thing burst into flames."

America Makes Plan For '40 Olympics

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Proceeding on the theory that far eastern turmoil will subside in time to stage the 1940 Olympic games in Tokyo, the executive committee of the American Olympic association today set in motion the machinery for U. S. participation, at an estimated aggregate cost of $400,000.

Actually it won't be necessary to raise any more than $350,000 required to send our athletic expedition to Berlin in 1936. There's a current balance of $64,878.92 in American Olympic funds.

Besides laying the groundwork for national fund-raising, under the combined leadership of the Amateur Athletic union and National collegiate A. A.—now on a parity in all Olympic affairs—today's meeting ratified the membership of 25 out of 27 subcommittees in the various Olympic sports, and debated policies for the incoming American Olympic committee to pursue.

It was recommended unanimously to the A. O. C. that future management of all women's Olympic teams be put in feminine hands. This is aimed especially at the control of the women's track and field and swimming groups. It was prompted by difficulties experienced in 1932 and 1936 with men acting as managers of the women's teams.

No Developments In Case Of Two Men Held At Lamesa

LAMESA, Jan. 8. (Special)—According to information from the office of Sheriff Gus White late tonight, there had been no developments in the investigation of two men in connection with the hijacking of a haberdashery, here, and the shooting of Maxie Woodroof, clerk, Dec. 11.

Two men were arrested Jan. 1 in connection with the shooting and it had been indicated charges would be filed "anytime". A murder charge will be filed against one of them, said Truett Smith of Tahoka, district attorney.

McMillan of Midland to Foster Peteroleum corporation of Bartlesville, Okla., fourth interest in section 75, block 20, HE & WT RR company survey; and McMillan to North Central Texas Oil company of Shreveport, La., eighth interest in section 75, block 20, HE & WT RR company survey.

E. L. Wheeler of Wolfforth, a ginner, has returned from a Christmas vacation. Wolfforth had one of the largest runs in the county. A second gin was built by M. T. Daniell at the height of the season and put in operation in about three weeks.

Plainview had its best December business and the rush is continuing into January, said Truman Meinecke, formerly of Lubbock. He operates the Meinecke Bros. Hardware Co. store there. Meinecke left several months ago to take charge of the business after the death of a brother.

Educators from Lubbock and surrounding counties returned Saturday from the two-day annual conference for school administrators which was held in Austin Thursday and Friday. A large attendance from all parts of Texas was reported by Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county superintendent of schools. Nineteen from South Plains attended.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell of 1814 Avenue M will leave today for Stephenville, Tex., on a business trip and will visit in the home of Mrs. C. L. Cromwell. Mrs. Cromwell is the sister of Campbell.

J. H. Ward, 87, of Athens arrived Saturday for an indefinite visit with his granddaughter, Mrs. A. Jarrett of one mile from Lubbock on the Slaton highway.

Several officers of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, including President O. W. English will attend an officers training school in Tulia Tuesday. Will Williams of Vega, district lieutenant governor will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stanton of route 1 Lubbock, are parents of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 13 1-2 ounces born at 10:25 o'clock Saturday night at West Texas hospital.

Regular semi-monthly meeting of the county commissioners court will be conducted Monday morning. Only routine matters are expected to come before the body in its first meeting of the new year, Judge J. J. Dillard said.

Capital stock of the Dryer and Lee Oil company of Lubbock was increased from $12,000 to $20,000, according to an Associated Press report from Austin Saturday night.

A 20-year-old Lubbock man of East Main street was arrested late Saturday by Jas. P. Posey and Grady Harrist, deputy sheriffs, for investigation of theft of tools from a tool house belonging to the Santa Fe Railway company. The materials were recovered, Posey said. Charges against the man probably will be filed today, officers indicated.

Clyde F. Elkins, attorney, of 1803 Thirteenth street who suffered a fractured wrist in a fall early last week, was released from the West Texas hospital Saturday afternoon. His condition has shown considerable improvement, attaches of the hospital said.

Tahoka Conducts School Contests

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

TAHOKA, Jan. 8.—Forty-five vocational agriculture students from seven high schools competed in a judging school for dairy products at the high school here today.

K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department, and L. G. Harmon, instructor, both of Texas Technological college, conducted the contests assisted by Chester Hufstedler, Tahoka vocational agriculture teacher.

Judging was on individual basis, no team being entered. Determination of quality and sale value of dairy products was purpose of the school. Others are being planned, Renner said.

Renner Speaker

Renner discussed judging of milk and market cream for butter manufacture and Harmon discussed butter judging. Post, Anton, Fluvanna, New Home, Seminole, Whitharral and Wilson were represented. Luncheon was served by home economics students.

Results were:

Milk judging: Robert Haddox, New Home, first; Edwin Stanley, Seminole, second; Wayland Mathis, Fluvanna, third; Weldon Newsom, Whitharral, fourth; Mac Brandon, Wilson, fifth; Hyde Doss, Seminole, sixth; Noyle Wood, Anton, seventh; Miles Keifer, Anton, eighth; H. M. Nesbitt, Fluvanna, ninth; Gordon Davis, Anton, tenth.

Cream judging: Truman McCampbell, Post, first; John A. Stavely, Fluvanna, and Bruce Wren, Whitharral, tied for second; Sam Bulman, New Home, and A. B. Sealy, Fluvanna, tied for fourth; Herman Howell, Seminole, sixth; Haddox and Davis, tied for eighth; Wood, ninth and Truett Babb, Mathis, and Newsom, tied for tenth.

Butter: Wayne Wood, Anton, first; Haddox, New Home, second; Keifer, third; Babb, fourth; Fred Sharbutt, Whitharral, fifth; Sealy, sixth; Bruce Shepard, Post, seventh; Stanley eighth; Jesse Lewis, Anton, ninth; J. B. Ferguson, Post, tenth.

Dairy products: Haddox, first; Wood, second; Mathis, third; Bulman, fourth; Stanley, fifth; Wren, sixth; Davis, seventh; Babb, eighth; Sharbutt, ninth; Howell, tenth.

Mishap Victim Of Tahoka Buried

TAHOKA, Jan. 8. (Special)—Last rites were conducted at the First Baptist church here at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon for Bill Bishop, 54, long-time resident of Tahoka, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident 12 miles south of Lubbock Friday afternoon.

Rev. G. A. Dale, pastor of the First Baptist church here, and a Baptist minister from Lamesa were in charge of services. Burial was in Tahoka cemetery with Harris Funeral home officiating.

Bishop had been a resident of east of Tahoka "20 or 25" years. He is survived by his wife and several children of near Tahoka.

He died in a sanitarium at Lubbock at 8:45 o'clock Friday night after having been injured in the accident.

Condition of E. J. Criswell, 24, also of Tahoka and who was injured, late tonight was described as satisfactory by authorities at West Texas hospital at Lubbock where he was rushed in a Harris ambulance for treatment.

Several Court Cases Handled

Ivory Coby, negro, Saturday was charged with theft of an automobile from T. G. Wallis and bond of $1,000 was set by S. D. McMillan, justice of peace.

Coby was transferred here from Abilene by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and Bill Mabray, police identifications officer. He had been arrested at Abilene in possession of the car.

Mabray said Coby several days ago stole a bicycle at Slaton, rode it to Lubbock, stole Wallis' automobile, tied the bicycle on it, and, en route to Abilene, sold the bicycle for $5 at Snyder.

Last night the negro had not posted bond.

J. W. Tuke, charged in county court with theft, was released on bond of $250 set by Judge J. J. Dillard.

Several Other Cases

L. L. Ford and Mrs. Ford, charged jointly with violation of state liquor laws, posted bonds of $250 each, said Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff.

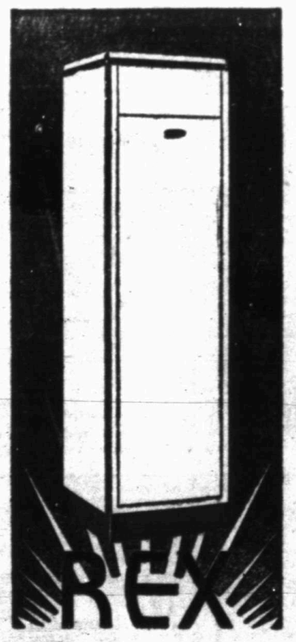

Loyd Phillips, about 27, was named defendant in a charge filed in county court alleging theft of eight shirts valued at $5.10 from Montgomery Ward.

Charles O. von dem Berg entered a plea of guilty of a charge of embezzlement and was sentenced by Judge Dillard to five days in jail and payment of costs. A charge of theft naming him was dismissed.

Judge Dillard sentenced Nathan Pennington, charged with violation of liquor laws, to a day in jail and costs.

IF IN DOUBT
Ask The Master Psychologist
DR. LA ROSE, Ds. D.

How to obtain Love, Happiness, Success, being loved and admired for yourself alone, capturing the hearts and friendship of all about you, can bring you more happiness than all the jewels and fine clothes you could wear . . . than all the wealth you could spend in a lifetime. Without friendship and love, life would not be worth living, for admiration and affection are the breath and heart beat of all human happiness. Within you is a power that controls your destiny. It is in every woman and man, but few discover it. Those who do are blessed with the key to Life's Happiness. With all my heart I urge you to bring forth this innate charm that is yours. Develop it, and you will attract to yourself those things that make life worth while. You are helpless in the hands of women who have learned how to use their hidden powers of attraction. You have these powers. You can discover and develop them and swiftly make yourself irresistible to men . . . even in competition with women far more attractive-looking. You can win and hold the love of the one you want. So if in doubt, ask the man who knows.

Solution Of Problem Of Both Italians And Germans Will Be Offered In New Plan

ROME, Jan. 8. (AP)—Thirty thousand Italians will go to Germany in March to work as farm hands under an agreement between the Italian and German governments.

The arrangement announced today will absorb some of Italy's surplus farm labor and give Germany needed agricultural workers in the reich's campaign to increase its food production.

German farm work normally attracts seasonal laborers from Italy and eastern Europe but, under the new plan, Italians, instead of filtering into the country individually, will go as an organized work army and in larger numbers.

Girl Slayer Given Solace Of Mother

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 8. (AP)—Dorothy Schaefer, 18 awaiting grand jury action on a charge of slaying her father, was "forgiven" today by her mother and offered spiritual aid by the clergyman of the church in which she was a choir singer.

The comely, chestnut-haired girl was back in Hudson county jail after pleading innocent at her arraignment yesterday on a charge of murder. She was accused of stabbing her father with a carving knife.

Police Sergeant Oscar Treger quoted her as saying: "I grabbed the knife to scare him (her father) so he would stop threatening mother and me."

Valuation Of $30,000 Is Placed On Child's Smile In Damage Suit

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 8 (AP)—A valuation of $30,000 was placed on a 3-year-old child's smile in a damage suit filed here as a result of a motor car accident.

The action, brought against C. G. Hilligoss, Wchita oil man, by Mrs. E. M. Shafer of El Dorado in behalf of her daughter, Charlotte, contends nerves in the child's face were severed in a collision involving Hilligoss' car and that she "never will be able to smile again."

The bureau of reclamation's revised plans for Shastas dam, on the upper Sacramento river near Redding, Calif., will make it the second largest concrete dam in the world—3,100 feet long and 560 feet high.

Every aspect of rural electrification will be touched on in talks and talking movies in a conference sponsored by the plant industry department of Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday at the college, Henry P. Clay, assistant professor of agricultural economics and program chairman, said Saturday.

More than 300 Lubbock county farmers who have signed contracts with South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., have been invited to attend. Vocational agriculture instructors and Lubbock electrical contractors are expected to attend.

Luncheon Scheduled Saturday

Programs will be held throughout each day of the conference. A luncheon will be held at noon Saturday at the Hilton hotel ballroom.

Motion pictures will be shown each day on subjects allied to rural electrification.

Friday's program will include talks by R. L. Burdette, Lubbock High school vocational agriculture teacher; H. N. Roberts, Lubbock engineer; P. T. Montfort, rural electrification expert of Texas A. and M. College; C. V. Bullen, head of the electrical engineering department at Texas Tech; Frank White, Delta Electric company; and John Shewmake, Texas-New Mexico Utilities rural service.

Talks will be made Saturday by Montfort; W. H. Crenshaw, Texas-New Mexico Utilities company; Miss Clara E. Pratt, Lubbock county demonstration agent; Miss Mayme Twyford, associate professor of foods and nutrition at Texas Tech; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech; William P. Heiwig, instructor in electrical engineering at Texas Tech; and Ben Jenkins, Jenkins Brothers dairy.

Man And Woman Held To Answer Questions In Trucker's Death

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8. (AP)—Police arrested a 45-year-old man and a woman here today as suspects in the killing of Ray E. Owen, Bertram trucker.

The officer who arrested the woman said she fitted the description of a woman who was seen trying to hail automobiles and trucks on American Legion Memorial highway at 11 p. m. Thursday, near the spot where Owen was beaten to death early Friday.

FARM PROVISION TOLD

Teruel's Beaten Insurgents Trek To Haven

War And Hunger Blast Spirits

By CHARLES P. NUTTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MADRID, Jan. 8. — Dozens of ambulances and trucks today rolled down the snow-packed highway from Teruel to Valencia, carrying 2,000 gaunt insurgent soldiers and civilians who were driven by cold, hunger, thirst and siege from refuge in the government-held city.

With the main body of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's lower Aragon army blocked from recapture of Teruel, the beleaguered insurgent garrison and their weakened women and children surrendered yesterday.

For 17 days they had withstood artillery, rifle fire and dynamite. They had hoped that the counter-attacking insurgent army would break through and rescue them. Meanwhile, food, water and ammunition ran low.

They negotiated the surrender through the Teruel Red Cross chairman.

Insurgents Believed Slowing

The offer was accepted and the exodus began in the afternoon with Lieut.-Col. Rey D'Harcourt leading 1,500 soldiers and 500 women and children into the government lines in groups of six.

Many were wounded and unable to walk. The first plea of all was for water. Physicians treated them while assault guards stood by to protect them from violence.

Observers were convinced that the insurgent counter-offensive was slowing up markedly. The uncertainty in Madrid last week when Franco's troops were advancing behind a terrific pressure of planes, tanks and artillery had given place to full confidence in ultimate government success at Teruel. Many observers considered the battle might decide the outcome of the war.

The terms of the surrender by Lieut.-Col. D'Harcourt did not apply to a smaller band of insurgents barricaded in Santa Clara convent on the western edge of Teruel and cut off from the main body Dec. — when a wedge was driven between the convent and the hospital.

Dolls, All Sorts Of 'Em, On Display In Lubbock

Bearing the marks of an international style conference, probably one of the largest and most colorful exhibition of dolls is now open for public inspection at the West Texas museum at Texas Technological college.

The display, which opened Saturday, will be closed Jan. 17 and is in charge of Miss Mabel Erwin, head of the clothing department at Tech. It was arranged by Miss Josephine Looney, instructor of clothing there.

Dolls range from a one-inch peasant to an Eskimo skin doll two and one-half feet tall, given to Ludlow J. Weeks, a government geologist of Canada and a brother of Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of home economics at Tech. The collection also includes a "merchant prince of Sinbad" which is an old Spanish marionette that was used 16 years in Tony Sarg's puppet show and given to Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department of speech at the college, by a director of the Sarg productions.

Approximately 150 dolls are being shown, 30 of which are owned by Miss Erwin and 64 distinctly foreign dolls for which orders can be taken. Twenty of the exhibited models are owned by the clothing department of Tech and were dressed by classes in that department.

Poll Tax Payments Aggregate 1,746

Poll tax receipts had reached 1,746 Saturday night, according to information obtained at office of H. B. Bryan, county and state tax collector-assessor. Eighty-three exemptions had been issued.

Receipts indicated that an all-time record for Lubbock county would be reached this year. More than 9,000 poll tax payments are anticipated, Bryan said. In 1937 payments totalled 4,200.

With state and county elections being held this summer and fall, observers believe the previous record of 8,600 of 1936 will be surpassed this year.

Only three weeks remain before the deadline Jan. 31.

AUCTION IS SCHEDULED

AUSTIN, Jan. 8. (AP)—Mineral rights to approximately 12,000 acres of University of Texas land will be auctioned here in March, the university board of regents decided today.

The land, comprising 73 tracts, is in Andrews, Crane, Crockett and Ward counties.

Southland Couple Married At Residence Of Justice Davies

Miss Margaret Davies, niece of Justice of Peace and Mrs. Walter Davies of Lubbock, was married to Woodrow Locklier here at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Both live at Southland.

The ceremony was at the Davies residence at 1923 Main street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Davies of Southland, where the couple will live.

Tech Beauties To Be Voted On This Week By Student Body

Plans were complete Saturday for the election of yearbook beauties to be held at Texas Technological college Monday.

The elections will be conducted according to plans submitted to the student council by Miss Marie George, editor of the 1938 "La Ventana."

Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday for the nomination of beauties. Each student will be given a blank ballot on which to nominate any three girls.

Votes will be counted Monday night and names of the 25 students receiving the most votes will be placed on the second ballot.

The second election will be Thursday. Each student is to vote for 16 of the 25 girls, numbering them in the order of preference on the ballot.

Elections will be supervised by the student council and faculty members.

Junior Livestock Team To Leave

Five members of the Texas Technological college junior livestock judging team with their coach, Ray C. Mowery, professor of animal husbandry, will leave Wednesday for Denver, Colo., where they will compete with eight western colleges and universities Saturday for honors in the National Western Livestock exposition.

Composing the team are: Allen Henry, Sterling City; Robert Marshall, Ft. Sumner, New Mexico; Winston McInnis, Menard, and Jim Wiman, Roscoe.

En route the team will practice judging at the Allen Cattle company, Colorado Springs, Colo., Allan Kildow's farm in Brighton, and at the Colorado Agricultural college at Fort Collins. Possibly the team will visit on the Wyoming Hereford ranch in Cheyenne, Mowery said.

Tech junior judgers took second place in the contest last year, when they entered for the first time.

Hockley Teachers And Members Of School Board Will Meet

LEVELLAND, Jan. 8. — Hockley county school teachers and board members will meet at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night in Whitharral gymnasium. Girls of the home economics class will serve dinner.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, of Texas Technological college is to speak, as will G. D. Holbrook of Lubbock, deputy state superintendent of schools.

Activities of Hockley-Cochran Teachers Federal Credit union will be discussed. A Hockley county unit of the Texas State Teachers association is to be organized. A. K. Krise of Ropesville will discuss interscholastic work.

Singer Everett Marshall Says Wife Abandoned Him In 1931

FORT WORTH, Jan. 8. (AP) — Everett Marshall, singer, took the stand in 96th district court here today to testify in his suit for divorce from Carolina S. Marshall of New York.

Marshall told the court that Mrs. Marshall abandoned him in 1931, three years after their marriage in Milan, Italy. They have one daughter, Belen.

Inventories In City Healthful

Year-end inventories found Lubbock business houses with less stock than in several years, a survey revealed.

Reports of merchants indicate that the national business recession has not been felt here as severely as in other sections. Post-Christmas sales are far above those of the past few years, usual decreases not having been experienced, merchants said.

One department store reported a 74 per cent business increase for 1937 above the previous year. Its Jan. 1 inventory was short of Jan. 1, 1937 figures, and stock value was even less, comparatively. Merchants concurred that purchasers were demanding higher quality goods now than heretofore.

Demand Is High

Cotton goods prices are considerably lower than a year ago, although other prices were generally higher. Labor conditions in the East account for advanced prices for fur goods, a store manager said.

Ladies' wear merchants reported similarly on prices, stock, and quality demands. A dry goods store manager said his stock was more completely "cleaned out" this year than ever before in the store's history.

Post-holiday business of hardware stores was said to be above the average, with inventory stocks changed little this year, due to more stable types of commodities. Even in small ware, however, one manager said women were demanding better quality.

Diverging opinions were held on extent to which present business conditions would continue.

Texas Star Mail Route Group To Meet Here This Afternoon

Star route carriers of Texas are to meet here at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Hilton hotel to discuss pending legislation in congress.

Price Bankhead of Big Spring, president of the state association, said, "legislation of vital importance is pending and prompt action is necessary. We are anxious that all star route carriers attend this meeting."

Star route carriers carry U. S. mail on contract between postoffices and are not regular employes of the government under civil service rules. Only three star routes operate from Lubbock postoffice.

Joe McIlhaney Back In Milk Business

Joe S. McIlhaney is back in the milk business after an absence of 10 years. During his absence he has built up what is said to be the fifth largest commercial creamery in Texas, located at 1803 Avenue H.

He will begin service Monday with a specially designed refrigeration truck, built with a two-inch insulation in the body. Another truck will serve the wholesale trade.

Modern equipment, meeting all sanitary requirements, has been installed. A cooling room, 15 by 20 feet, will be used to store milk after it is pasteurized. A 200-gallon capacity stainless steel machine, with automatic control, for heating milk to the proper temperature, was selected.

Three containers, a 50-gallon capacity for cottage cheese and a 100-gallon and 250-gallon capacity glass-lined for buttermilk have been installed. A mechanical pressure bottle washer and steam sterilizer are to be used.

The dairy will have a capacity of 600 gallons daily. Equipment will allow of greater volume.

TO HAVE 'ROVING' CCURTS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 8. (AP)—A system of "Roving" courts to punish Pannsylvania traffic speeders will be open in 11 districts Monday.

Motor police stations will be used for the hearings at sites were most convenient for the drivers involved.

J. Neil Johnston Rites Read Saturday; Burial Made Here

Funeral services for J. Neil Johnston, 23, son of Mrs. J. E. Johnston, 1401 Twenty-fifth street, were held at Sanders Funeral chapel with Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of First Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery.

Johnston, a graduate of Lubbock High school, had been associated with the circulation department of Avalanche-Journal Publications more than eight years. Death Friday night was due to complications from heart disorders.

Husband-Calling And Sound Recording On Kiwanis Program

Husband-calling technique and garrulity will out in a ladies night meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday in Lubbock hotel, W. G. McMillan, chairman of the program committee, said.

An animal imitation is billed for the men, with quartet numbers, solos and several other stunts. Each number will be recorded on a sound recording machine and repeated.

K. N. Clapp and R. C. Mowery are on the program committee with McMillan; Hugh Ragland heads the banquet committee and O. J. Sexton, P. F. Prouty and John Halsey the ticket sales group.

CARLSBAD IN GOOD SPOT

CARLSBAD, N. M., Jan. 8. (AP) — Dr. Charles A. Lory, chairman of the Federal Reclamation Repayment commission, said here today that Carlsbad water users "occupy the most enviable position" of any of the 30 irrigation districts in 12 states in which hearings already have been held. Carlsbad was the only district which did not ask for an extension of payments on irrigation projects.

Horace Hawkins Is Packard Distributor

Horace Hawkins of Horace Hawkins Service and Storage at 1118 Main street has been appointed agent here for Packard automobiles, according to announcement Saturday.

Davis Auto company formerly held the agency for Lubbock and this territory. Hawkins will maintain headquarters at his service station, he said.

Body Full Of Pain Before The Gly-Cas

Indigestion and Kidney Disorders Had "Wrecked" His Health; Gly-Cas Amazes; No Longer Needs Cane To Get About.

"I was a constant sufferer with indigestion and stomach trouble for twenty-eight years, before I knew of Gly-Cas," said Mr. Wilson Babin, 319 Ford St., Lake Charles, Louisiana. "I dieted strictly and for a long time, raw eggs and mush were the only nourishing foods that would agree with me. The attacks of indigestion were terrible and the severe pains in my stomach seemed to almost draw me double. My kidneys began to trouble me with the almost unbearable misery in my back and I had to use a cane to get about. I was so worn-out and tired I could hardly do anything. But finally I was persuaded to try Gly-Cas and it soon proved its difference from all other medicines."

MR. WILSON BABIN

"The results I received from Gly-Cas were actually alarming," continued Mr. Wilson. "I soon began to eat foods that had been denied me for years and without any ill effects at all. My kidneys are now normal and the poisons have been eliminated from my system. Every ache and pain has vanished and I am now feeling the best I have in years. It is no longer necessary for me to use a cane to get about and I walk wherever I please with ease. I sleep fine, am full of energy and now realize why so many people are praising this new Gly-Cas—it deserves it all and more too."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. (Adv.)

Public Flogging At Post Imposed To Chase Petty Law Offenders Out Of Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 8. (AP)—Three convicted robbers were lashed today at the public whipping post to which they were sentenced under a Delaware law older than the state itself.

A gallery of 160 men—women were not permitted—witnessed the whippings administered with a cat-o-nine tails over the prisoners' bare backs.

Two were sentenced to receive floggings at the solid "pillar of the law" in the yard of the New Castle county workhouse for stealing an automobile, a third for the theft of seven watches and a small safe.

Warden Elwood H. Wilson was ordered by the court to administer 20 lashes to Raymond Shrewbrooks, 21; 10 to David Otavani, 20, and five to Arthur Spain, 21.

The latest whipping sentences came in the midst of a controversy that has divided penal officials on the value of such punishment.

Warden Wilson, given the task of carrying out today's sentences, declared that whippings serve as a crime deterred and keep "big city" crooks out of Delaware.

A strong opponent is Elmer J. Leach, who formerly held Wilson's job.

"When a man is taken out into the yard," Leach said, "shackled to a post and lashed on his bare back in view of the public, that man certainly does not leave the post with as good a feeling towards society as when he went there."

In the past nine years 227 prisoners have been whipped in Delaware, more than half of them for larceny.

Carpenter Gets Life For His Part In Kidnaping Of Four

RICHMOND, Ind., Jan. 8. (AP) — William Chester Marcum, 30, unemployed carpenter, pleaded guilty in circuit court today to kidnaping for ransom and was sentenced to life imprisonment for his part in the Christmas Eve kidnaping of four persons at Centerville, Ind.

Harry C. Walter, 52, also an unemployed carpenter, who confessed the crime with Marcum, committed suicide in the county jail here Wednesday by diving from a bacony.

Five Die In Tennessee After Explosion Of Stove In Home

TRENTON, Tenn., Jan. 8. (AP)—A man, his wife and three children were fatally burned in a fire following a coal oil explosion at their residence today.

Right Arm Of Laundry Worker Worth $3,500, Congress Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP) — Congress has placed at $3,500 the loss in earning capacity suffered by a Texas laundress when an accident involving a Civilian Conservation corps truck resulted in the amputation of her right arm.

The senate passed and sent to the White House a measure authorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay this amount to Mrs. Carolina Maldonado, 44, of Socorro, who was injured when the automobile in which she was riding collided June 22, 1936, near Ysleta with the CCC machine.

TEN YOUNG MEN

AMERICA'S YOUNG MEN, a magazine, has selected 10 outstanding young men of the nation for 1937, including a Texan, Howard Hughes, of Houston, named for achievements as an aviator and business executive.

Others on the list are: Edgar Bergen, 33, radio entertainer; Donald Budge, 22, tennis star; Thomas Dewey, 35, racket-smasher of New York; William O. Douglas, 39, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission; Robert Hutchins, 38, president of the University of Chicago; Franklin M. Kreml, 34, contributor to traffic safety; Ernest O. Lawrence, 36, Rosengren, 35, president of the "atom-smasher"; Reswell P. Rosengreen, 35, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, and John Steinbeck, author of "Mice and Men."

TIME FOR WRITING

MANY scribblers intend to "write a book" when they find time from their routine of daily living. They should take a hint from Millen Brand, author of "The Outward Room," a novel which was described as one of the finest bits to come off the 1937 presses. Until a couple of weeks before his novel was published, young Brand always worried the elevator man in the New York Telephone building by coming to work every morning for years two hours early. How could he know that six days a week Brand was devoting those two hours between seven and nine to turning out his first novel?

Incidentally, Brand wrote furiously "on the side" for five years and until "The Outward Room" was released had earned only $17 from his writings.

BEGINNING AGAIN

OF the New Year's letters we received, none was more philosophical than one which came from a friend who has kept her chin up through many trying experiences. Although the year is well underway we believe her words are too good not to share:

"A lot of living can be packed into 365 days. Adventure, love, excitement, achievement, happiness, peace—asy wonderful thing you desire may be found within those 365 days provided you waste none of them. You can always begin a new life with them, a new or better method of living. No matter how many mistakes you have made, the new year offers you an opportunity to blot them out to change your destiny."

Welfare League To Begin Sale Of Tickets To Charity Dance Monday; Henderson To Play

TICKETS for the third annual charity ball, sponsored by the Lubbock Junior Welfare league, will go on sale Monday. The dance will be given the night of January 21 at Sled Allen's auditorium. Fletcher Henderson's radio, recording and dance orchestra will play.

Members of the league are selling the tickets at $2.00 for couple or stag. The committee announced that anyone wishing to buy tickets may telephone the general chairman for the dance, Mrs. Sam West, 3980, or the league president, Mrs. John D. Mitchell, 1614.

Leader Is Composer

The Henderson orchestra, which broadcasts nightly over NBC network, recently completed a successful, long engagement at the Grand Terrace in Chicago. The leader is composer of his nationally famous theme song, "Christopher Columbus." He often is billed as "the sepia king of swing."

Credited with having a distinctive brand of "swing" music, Henderson recently defined the new term in dance music as follows:

"It is produced by a group of musicians who, given a musical theme, improvise around the melody and interpret the tune with rythmic variations and trick intonations, as they soulfully see it. Swing is the only field of music where the soloist has free rein to play a melody as he feels it. If the syncopated patterns move the listeners to rythmic feeling, then it swings."

Elaborate decorations for the dance are being planned by the decorative committee of which Mrs. Arno Dalby is chairman.

DAR Marker To Be Dedicated

A public dedication of a slab placed on the courthouse lawn to mark the southern cut-off of the Mackenzie trail will be sponsored by the Nancy Anderson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Lubbock chapter placed the marker several months ago.

County commissioners in office at the time permission was given to place the rock and incumbents will be given invitations to attend the service. Mrs. W. L. Baugh, past regent, will give the history of the marker. Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, chaplain, will offer a prayer and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, regent, will make the dedicatory speech.

After the service the chapter will go to the home of Mrs. Clarence S. Mast, 2219 Thirteenth street, for a monthly meeting. Mesdames E. L. Klett and W. M. Craig will be assistant hostesses. Mrs. A. H. Leidigh will direct a program on "Our National D. A. R. Organization."

Happy Twelve Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. H. B. Adams

The Happy Twelve Forty-Two club and three guests, Mesdames A. L. Mangum, B. A. Maddox and R. E. Rampy, were entertained Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. B. Adams, 1311 Ninth street.

Friendship Club Meets For Games Friday Afternoon

Mesdames W. W. Campbell and C. C. Webb entertained the 1930 Friendship club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. P. Garvin, 1711-A Fourteenth street. Special guests were Mesdames A. N. Gamble, J. C. Reynolds and C. M. Chandler. There were five tables of forty-two.

A refreshment plate was served.

Wedding Service Is Read Friday In Dalby Home

MISS Helen Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ray of Troy, became the bride of Loyd Lanotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lanotte of Post, at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the home of her cousin, Arno Dalby, 1902 Twenty-ninth street. Rev. C. E. Hereford of the First Baptist church officiated with a double ring ceremony.

Setting for the wedding was a large black structure glass mantel decorated with a profusion of calla lilies. Calla lilies also were arranged in the entrance to the living room.

Kenneth Smith Sings

The ceremony was preceded by a solo, "I Love You Truly" (Bond), by Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Ralph Lipscomb playing piano accompaniment. Mrs. Lipscomb played "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) as the briday party descended the stairway to the living room.

The bride entered first, escorted by her brother, De Witt Ray of Lamesa, who gave her in marriage. She wore a black crepe dress.

Mrs. Milton Rampy, matron of honor, wore a pink crepe dress that was embroidered in floral design. The bride's nephew, Dwight Pounds, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Pounds of Crosbyton, was ring bearer. He wore a white satin suit.

Brother Is Best Man

Mr. Lanotte was attended by his brother, Frank Lanotte of Monahans, former Lubbock resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalby were hosts to the 55 wedding guests at the close of the ceremony. Coffee and cake were served. For the occasion, a long dining room table was covered with a Madeira cloth and set with silver coffee and tea services at one end, the wedding cake at the other and a long flat centerpiece of calla lillies. Centerpiece for the buffet was Talismen roses and orchid sweetpeas. On each end of the buffet was a three-pronged Dresden candelabrum with lighted white tapers.

Mrs. Martha D. Morgan and Mrs. Ruby Stewart presided at the coffee and tea services.

Out-Of-Town Guests

Out-of-town guests were Homer Ray, jr., of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dalby, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lanotte, Mrs. Maggie Childress and daughter, Katherine Blanche, and Miss Mary Ermine Speck of Post, Mrs. Frank Lanotte of Monahans, Mrs. H. A. Benton of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Pounds of Crosbyton.

The couple left on a short wedding trip. Early this week they will be at home at 2316 Broadway.

Mrs. Lanotte, former student at Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Belton, has lived in Lubbock three years. She is an employe of Morgan-Champlin Interior Decorators. Mr. Lanotte, former student at Texas Technological college, is employed as rate clerk by Dalby Motor Freight Lines.

Mrs. Rampy entertained with a surprise linen shower, honoring the bride-elect, Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benton, 1903-B Twenty-fourth street. There were 12 guests. The gifts were presented to the honoree when she "bingoed" in a game.

School Units Will Meet This Week

Three Lubbock parent-teacher association units have meetings scheduled for Thursday.

The Jnnior High P.-T. A. will meet at the regular program time, 3:15 p. m., at the school building, as there will not be a business meeting, the president, Mrs. H. S. Weiss, has announced.

Boy and Girl Scouts of the city will present a program under direction of Earl McClure, scoutmaster. A Junior High glee club will present a musical program with Mrs. M. E. Ware, directing.

The George M. Hunt P.-T. A. will have a business meeting, followed by a fun program, at 3 p. m. at the school.

Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, executives of the Hunt P.-T. A. will entertain in the home of Mrs. Curtis Crawford, 1614-B Avenue K, for teachers of the school.

A talk by G. C. Brewer of the Broadway Church of Christ and a thrift play and song presented by Miss Beulah Starnes' room will feature a meeting of the Sanders Parent-Teacher association at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the school building. Characters in the play will be Clarence Reed, Geneva McLain, Glen Matheny, Betty Jo Graves, Naomi Jobe, Betty Lou Youngblood, Gustine McDaniel and Jo Anne Cornelius.

Sports Unit Of AAUW Group Plans Bowling Parties

The sports unit of the American Association of University Women Recreational Group has planned two nights of bowling for this week. Members and any other women interested are asked to meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday and Tuesday nights at the Myrick building recreational room. Miss Ouida Davis will be in charge Tuesday night and Mrs. L. H. Kirby will direct Monday night's activities.

Neighborhood Musicale Is Given Saturday In Home Of Mrs. Roscoe Wilson

THE Lubbock Music club entertained Saturday afternoon with a neighborhood musical tea in the home of Mrs Roscoe Wilson, 2201 Broadway, as a courtesy to music clubs in Brownfield, Levelland, Slaton and Littlefield. Mrs. George Robertson of Childress, president-elect of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Music clubs, was a special guest.

Mrs. Robert H. Hester, district president, greeted guests at the door and introduced them to a line composed of Mrs. Wilson; Mrs. Raymond Marshall, president of the host club; Mrs. Robertson; Mrs. W. H. Dallas, district vice-president and president of the Brownfield club; Mrs. Rex Hudson, president of the Levelland club; Mrs. A. L. Miss Weneva Dolores Buck Of Crosbyton Is Married

The marriage of Miss Weneva Dolores Buck of Crosbyton, graduate of Texas Technological college, to J. C. Ricketts of Kosciusco, Miss., Christmas Day was announced Friday in The Crosbyton Review. The ceremony was performed at Winona, Miss.

Mrs. Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Buck of Crosbyton, lived in Mississippi before moving to Crosbyton 16 years ago. At Tech college, she was a member of Sock and Buskin, Pre-Law and Debate clubs. Since graduation in 1932 she has been a teacher at Crosbyton. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. M. W. Holt of Kosciusko where he is in business.

Mrs. Ricketts will continue teaching in Crosbyton until summer when she will go to Kosciusco to make her home. In the early summer the couple plans to take a trip along the Atlantic coast.

James G. Allen Will Speak On Wilkins Book

JAMES G. ALLEN, actiug dean of men and assistant professor of English at Texas Technological college, will review the popular 1937 novel, "And So—Victoria" (Vaughan Wilkins), in the fourth program on the First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary's 1937-38 book review series. The review will be given at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the church.

The discussion will be the third by Mr. Allen in three years of auxiliary programs. He has proved to be an extremely popular reviewer in Lubbock.

Admission will be by season ticket or 35 cents a person.

If Intelligence Is Married To Love It Means Farewell To Romance Avers Ruth Millett

BY RUTH MILLETT

LOVE ought to be linked to intelligence, we're being told now. And it sounds like a good idea until you think it over. Then you begin to realize that what you'd get probably wouldn't be love at all. Or if it were love, it wouldn't be fun.

If love ever should be "married" to intelligence, as Rev. Dr. C. Jefferes McCombe of New York advocates, we're in for plenty of change.

The beautiful but dumb girl will have had her day.

Pretty legs won't be as popular as good minds.

Honeyed words will be less acceptable than plain, unromantic facts.

Profile boys will lose their fascination for romantic young girls.

Wavy hair will be less important than earnest ambition.

Women will stop marrying men to reform them. And they'll no longer go for the "little boy" quality in men.

Men and women will stop telling each other, "You're the only person in the world."

Women will stop expecting miracles of romantic love.

Men will understand that women aren't really any better than men are and don't want to be.

Both men and women will realize that "until death do us part" is a long, long time.

Men will realize that they aren't a hundred per cent irresistible.

And women will understand that men can love and still look around.

Women won't believe everything that men tell them. And men won't believe anything a woman says about blind devotion.

The picture's not so good, is it? Let's hope these forward-thinkers never succeed in linking love to—of all things—intelligence.

Lubbock County Girls' 4-H Clubs Announce Year's Schedule

Clothes And Poultry Are Study Topics

Work clothing and poultry is subject for 1938 activities in the 12 girls' 4-H clubs of Lubbock county. Yearbooks have been released and several clubs have had their first January meetings. Goals for the year are listed as follows:

Clothing: Make slacks or shorts with shirt, or culotte dress or smock; provide sunbonnet or hat; provide work gloves, and provide ten coat hangers.

Poultry: Have a standard breed poultry flock of at least 50 chicks; provide adequate nests, good water fountain, feed hopper and green feed for the flock; clean poultry houses at least once a week, and serve poultry dishes at least four times in 1938.

Each club meets twice a month, once for a demonstration by the assistant county home demonstration agent, Miss Elizabeth Brooks, and once for a demonstration by the club sponsor.

Agent Demonstration

Both programs for January were presented at a meeting of the New Deal club Wednesday. Subject of the first program, which also was presented at a Shallowater club meeting Thursday is "Would You Be Neat At Your Work?" The agent demonstrates the use of a sewing basket, selection of pattern and appropriate material, and seam finishes for work garments.

The second program is "Fitting Yourself" with the sponsor demonstrating study of patterns and guide sheet, alteration of patterns and laying of materials. Training on "make-up" also is included. Schedule for the remainder of the year includes:

February, "Checking Up On Yourself"; demonstration by agent on "Good looks" and accessories for clothing; second meeting, "Making Up With Prettiness," demonstration by the sponsor on "Suitable Make-Up"; training school, adequate equipment for the poultry flock.

March, "Do You Have Quality Chicks?", demonstration by agent, standard breeds of poultry; second meeting, "Is Your Flock Comfortable?", demonstration by sponsor, adequate equipment; training school, "Sunbonnets and Hats."

Finishing Garments

April, "Finishes for the Frocks," demonstration by agent, "Finishes for the Work Garments"; second meeting, demonstration by sponsor, "Making the Sunbonnet or Hat"; training school, "Storage of Winter Clothing."

May, "Cleanliness Pays, demonstration by agent on "Sanitation in the Poultry flock; second meeting, "Are You Kind To Your Clothes?", demonstration by sponsor, "Storage of Winter Clothing"; training school, baking chicken.

June, "Smartness in Service", demonstration by agent, carving of chicken and table service; second meeting, "What is Better?", demonstration by sponsor, "Baking Chicken"; training school, "Party Dishes from Poultry Products."

On Summer Parties

July, "Summer Work and Play Fashions," wardrobe achievement day; second meeting, "Do You Like Parties?"; demonstration by sponsor, "Party Dishes from Poultry Products"; training school, picnics.

August (only one meeting prescribed) "Ready for a Good Time"; meeting with sponsor to discuss picnics; training school, planning exhibits for the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

September, "Getting Along With People," family relations program conducted by the agent; "What Will You Exhibit?" fair program conducted by the sponsor; training school, club reports.

Fall Round-Up

October, "Let's See What We Have Accomplished," poultry achievement program; second meeting, "How Has the 4-H Club Plan Helped You?"; training school, social.

November, "Beginning a New Club Year," reorganization; second meeting, "Christmas Time Is Near," meeting with sponsor to plan social.

December (only one meeting prescribed); "Make Your Christmas Party Pretty," party with sponsor. Each club will have an annual achievement program in December.

The year book is complete with information concerning each club, its sponsor and officers and meeting dates and hours; list of all the officials of 4-H club work; 4-H prayer and pledge, order of business, a 4-H club song and an inspirational "if" for girls.

Young America Wears Peasant Hood

Peasant Hood

Peasants inspired it, young America wears it—this gay kerchief hood tied under the chin. It comes in bright colors and many different fabrics, goes cruising, boating, motoring, skiing and even dancing. This crepe one is patterned with peasant girls.

Latest Dance Craze, "The Big Apple" One Of Influences On Milady's New Spring Hats

BY CHARLOTTE COOPER

This was the hint given here Saturday by style authorities in women's wear.

Natural sized fruit, including a large apple surrounded by leaves, was shown on a number of hats in a recent style show, and doubtless will be on display soon in South Plains establishments.

May Look Like Hats

Another hint from eastern style centers is that milady, with her usual daring when style is concerned, may be wearing hats again which look like hats.

Stiff sailors and poke bonnets in all colors will be emphasized in the first spring showings of hats.

Ribbon trimming will probably be seen on the majority of the new hats. Bands of ribbon across the forehead and streamers which tie below the chin will be featured.

Bright colors will be used almost exclusively. Dull shades and pale colors will not be as popular as in former years.

Off-the-face hats are regaining favor, and veils will continue to be as popular as during the winter months.

Eighteen Girls Will Live In Cooperative House On Campus

Eighteen girls will reside in the cooperative house at Texas Technological college which will be open the beginning of the second semester, according to Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women.

Those who wish to stay in the house must submit a written application to the housing committee, she said. Certain standards will be observed in the selection. The student must make a statement that she is willing to cooperate in the management of the house. Her grades also must maintain a certain average.

Room rent will be $5 each month. Other expenses will be divided among the girls and will be as low as possible, she added.

Miss Ellen Kleppe, member of the home economics staff at Tech, will be director of the house.

The 18 girls who will stay in the house next semester have not been selected yet, said Mrs. Doak.

Play Featuring Dances Given By Students Of Junior High

Featuring two national dances of the Bulgarian peasants, a play was given by seventh and eighth grade students in Junior High school Thursday morning. Misses Catherine Jameson and Ouida Davis directed the play, and Mrs. Elois Elliott assisted with the music.

The entire group of students danced the Dunavski Horo, the national group dance, while the Rutchenitsa, a couple dance was done by Carol Ann Krueger and James Venable.

Characters in the play included Charles Craig, James Venable, Mary Lou Scoggins, Billy Murfee, Carol Ann Krueger, Bernice Cocanougher, Georgia Neal Harris, Earl Horton, Billy McGehee, Frank Fite, Marion Chandler, Barbara Hale, Edith Noey, Doris Cherry, Lora Bess Eubanks, Gladys Jeffries, Mary Lou Jobson, Amarie Lynch, Evelyn Margaret Atkins, Betty Myrl Alexander, Dolores Bizzell, Marjorie Martin, Darleen Newton, Olene Stevenson, Florence Townsend, Francine Younge, and Peggy Ann Miller.

Program Is Scheduled Thursday Afternoon

"A Pageant of Time" with a cast of 43 students, in which the characters portray months, weeks and days, will be presented in assembly program at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Senior High school auditorium to Dupre children by the third grade room of Miss Thelma Myrick.

Joe Nelson will be announcer for this New Year's program. Characters are: sleep fairy, Geneva Jane King; Little New Year, Harold Bergman; Little Boy, Joe Nelson; seasons, Jane Brooks, Silby Bell, Billie Ruth Stiles, and Ruth Hensley; months, Charles Horton, John Paul Craig, Billy Roy Chance, Robert Brown, Norman Morgan, Billy Petree, Wilburn Stephens, Bob Corbell, Otis English, Billy Charles Poston, Dan Williams, and Keith Stovall; weeks, Gladys Peek, Dortha Lee Haddock, Jeannine Fertsch, and Jessie Ashton; days, Lorida Hughes, Evalyn Garrett, Wilma Hutton, Wyada Jean Whisler, Betty Jean Wallace, LaJuana Earnest, and Mozella Wise.

The second part of the program will tell "What the New Year Brings," portraying the gifts of the months. The time is midnight and the place is before the palace of Father Time. Characters are: Father Time, Grady Pearson; the months, Rhea Bradley, Bob Corbell, Tom Gregory, Geneva King, Jewel Fay Ince, Marilyn Abernathy, John Paul Craig, Billy Charles Poston, Mary Lou Lindsey, Dan Williams, John Sam Lewis, and Robert Brown.

RETURN TO STUDIES

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nelle, who have been visiting Mrs. Nelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward, 2101 Thirteenth street, left Friday for Berkeley, Calif., where January 13 they will re-enroll in the University of California. Mr. Nelle is studying toward his doctorate and Mrs. Nelle is working on a masters degree. Before going to Berkeley the couple will visit in San Diego and Los Angeles.

Mrs. J. P. Edgar, 2305 Ninth street, has returned from Dallas where she spent the Christmas holidays.

from Lou to Louella . . .

DEAR LOUELLA: I did fairly well with my romance predictions of last week; had only one kickback and that from the person I expected to fuss the least. They say a bit dog, etc. I feel inspired to try again:

Kathryn Weaver and Oliver Thomas, date uncertain.

Jean Cantelou and a young man I haven't met, still uncertain.

Charlotte Ratliff and Russell Redding, former Tech textile engineering teacher, now of La Grange, Ga., summer.

There are some who expected Charlotte to take off Christmas when she visited in Louisiana, but I didn't because I know she loves teaching in Pampa.

Here's No. 1 Eligible

Thomas B. Simmons, jr., nephew. I believe, of George Simmons is given up by mammas of the younger set to be the most eligible young bachelor in town. I'm expecting someone to make off with him by August, and I have an idea as to who the young lady will be. More about that later.

My friend wrote that at the railway station Sunday she saw Inez Stewart who was showing "a really beautiful diamond ring which was given to her by Odell Blackwell. However, she wears it on the wrong hand." My anonymous correspondent also wrote the following pieces of news:

"VIVACIOUS Katherine Malone of Plainview is now in the advertising department of radio station KFYO.

"Mrs. Jean Sanders of Dallas and son Homer (Red) Sanders (former Tech student and member of Jimmy Ross' orchestra) visited here Tuesday.

"A lot of people are wondering whether or not Ancil Berrier, young Tech student, and Ruth D--, also a Tech student, have tread their way to the altar. Some think they may have done so Christmas.

Cheers For Evans Baby

"Oops. Have you seen the infant daughter, Sue, of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Evans? He is secretary of the Texas Compress and Warehouse company. The child is beautiful, looks like a Rose O'Neill drawing. You know, all curls, plumpness and dimples.

"Those delightful John Bells are staying with the senior Bells, 1911 Avenue K, while the building of their home is in progress."

No, I haven't seen the Evans child, but I'd like to, and I am looking forward to meeting the Bells.

I HEARD the other day that Mrs. J. F. Gregory, who went to the Philippine Islands about 18 months ago when her daughter, Lucie, married Arthur Evans, will return to Lubbock this spring. I know her friends are all happy over the news.

Guess who has moved back to town? Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crites. She is the former Pauline Conner, you know. I saw them Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mendal Hughett and two former residents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McClain of Brownfield. Mendal is gaining weight.

Ernest said he was employed by the West Texas Gas company. He moved from Lubbock to Hobbs, N. M., about two years ago but in 1937 he was employed at Rock Springs.

The Voice Betrays

I was dining out with the relatives that night, and while I chatted with the Crites, etc., someone whom I'd never met recognized my voice from how it sounded over the telephone. She was Mrs. R. V. Kimmel whom I momentarily mistook for Mrs. Floe Swenson, and her charming 'teen-age children, Sarabeth and Turner.

One of these days I'm going to the George Kuykendall home and take a look at their recently remodeled basement recreation room. I'll write the details.

I JOURNEYED out to the Plains hospital a couple of times this week to view with pleasure little Karen Kerr, 8-day-old daughter of the Wright Kerrs. She looks just like I thought she would, like Bertha Helen, her mother. She coos like Halcyon Campbell does in her famous baby impersonation.

The prettiest sight I've ever seen, I really believe, was the Arno Dalby home mantel decorated with calla lilies for the Lanotte-Ray wedding Friday evening. You can't imagine what a sight that was unless you have seen the huge black mantel in the Dalby mansion.

Yours, Lou.

Miss Betty Grimsley, 2417 Fourteenth street, left Saturday morning to visit a sister, Mrs. T. W. Brittain, and family in Chickasha, Okla., and a brother, Glenn Grimsley, and family in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Weakley of Post, and daughter, Miss Mae Weakley of Ralls, visited here Friday. They met their daughter and sister, Mrs. Frank Lanotte of Monahans, and daughter, Mary Katherine, for a brief visit. Mary Katherine went to Post with the Weakleys for the week-end. Mrs. Lanotte and Mrs. H. A. Benton of Odessa spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benton, 1903-B Twenty-fourth street.

Why fear Childbirth

...when you can turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort. Avoid unnecessary pain and after regrets by preparing your body now for that dear baby's coming. A massage medium and skin lubricant, called Mother's Friend, helps to relieve and prevent skin tightness...abdominal tissue breaks ...dry skin... caked breasts...after delivery wrinkles. Mother's Friend refreshes and tones the skin, tissues and muscles. It makes them supple, pliant and elastic. It is scientific in composition—composed of especial oils and highly beneficial ingredients—externally applied—pure and safe. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Time-tested for over 60 years. Millions of bottles sold. Try it tonight. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend.

Church Sessions To Be Held Here

Lubbock will be host to two Presbyterian meetings late in April when the El Paso Presbytery and the Presbyterial, meet here in the First Presbyterian church, Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor, announced Saturday. Dates are April 26-28.

The 26 churches of the presbytery, which extends from Lubbock to Big Spring and west to El Paso and northwest to Clovis, N. M., will send several lay delegates as well as ministers here for the 3-day session. First session will be Tuesday night, with the election of a moderator and the retiring moderator's sermon. Two full days will follow.

Expect Many Women

Women's work will be considered at the same time. Lubbock was awarded the 1938 meeting last year at Clovis. The local organization has been making preparations for several months for the meeting and between 75 and 100 out-of-town women are expected. The area group meets annually.

Rev. Fred W. Tyler, Barstow pastor, is moderator of the Presbytery. Rev. S. J. McMurray, Crosbyton, is stated clerk. Action on the Presbytery's attitude towards the proposed annuity plan for ministers is to be discussed, it is expected. Recommendations were made at the fall session in Midland.

Men Of Church To Meet

Men of the church, under the leadership of Dean James M. Gordon, of Texas Technological college, president, will meet the opening day. An effort is being made to have every church organization in the Presbytery have a representative group present.

The local Presbytery is one of the largest in the Presbyterian church in the United States and is also the largest home mission group. Every one of the 26 congregations has a supply pastor, although there are but 17 resident ministers. Several serve more than one church. Rev. W. K. Johnston, home missionary, serves Tahoka, Levelland, Morton and Ropesville.

Dr. Sterling Brown To Preach Today At Christian Church

Dr. Sterling W. Brown, a former Lubbock Christian church member and active worker, will preach in his home church twice today at the morning and evening services.

Director of young people's work at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, for his denomination, he is well known over the state among his own church. He also is a member of the faculty of the school of religion of the university.

After attending Texas Technological college during its early years, he transferred to Texas Christian university, Fort Worth and received two degrees, B. A. and a divinity degree. From there he went to the University of Chicago and earned his doctor's degree. This is his second year at Norman.

While at Chicago Dr. Brown was student assistant pastor at University Christian church, one of the large churches of the denomination. He also was head resident at Divinity house, a high honor conferred only on those of recognized ability in the school.

In Lubbock, he will be the guest of his sister, Mrs. L. O. Armstrong, and Mr. Armstrong, 2205 Twenty-fourth street.

Good Posture Week Is Planned For Students Of Senior High

Good Posture week is being planned for students of Senior High school for January 17 through 21. The week is to be sponsored by the physical education department, the student council, and The Westerner World, weekly newspaper.

As a climax the boy and girl who have the best posture will be selected by students. Radio talks, classroom exercises and a posture clinic are being arranged by Mrs. L. H. Kirby, girls' physical education director. Information will be given on posters in halls and in the newspaper.

F. A. Kleinschmidt To Lecture To Presbyterian Men's Meet

"Early Development of Church Architecture," illustrated by slides, will be given by F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the department of architecture and allied arts at Texas Technological college, Wednesday night in the First Presbyterian church. It is the monthly meeting of the men of the church, said C. A. Bruner, president, in announcing the meeting.

Women will be guests. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Light refreshments and a social hour, in charge of R. E. McDonald and J. E. Maisen, will follow.

Payne Returns From Christmas Vacation Trip To Florida

"HOUSEWIFE" TRAVELING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—The "housewife" is not sticking to home as closely as her designation might imply.

Statistics on passports issued in 1937 disclosed that more of these necessary documents for travel abroad went to housewives than any other classification.

M. L. Kelly, president of the Lubbock county convention, was named chairman of the Plains Radio Singing convention organized at the Central Baptist church.

Singing will be broadcast over station KFYO each Thursday night from 8:30 to 9 o'clock by remote control from the Central Baptist church. C. O. Pendley, director of the church choir, will be in charge of the singing. From 7:30 until 8:30 o'clock there will be community singing in the church.

About 120 people representing Lubbock and surrounding communities attended the organizaion meeting.

HINT ON SPOON BREAD

Bake and serve spoon or corn bread in well buttered, individual baking dishes, custard cups ar casseroles. This keeps the bread hotter, requires less baking time and makes it easier to serve.

KEEP FLAVORS SEPARATED

Always store leftover vegetables in separate dishes in the refrigerator. Even though they are to be combined later, the flavors will be better.

Lubbock Shriner Pushed For Post

Delegation of 15 to 20 South Plains Shriners will go to Amarillo Wednesday for the annual election of divan officers to support the nomination of L. D. (Pup) Thomas of Lubbock for the position of oriental guide, according to information given Saturday by Alvin R. Allison of Levelland, Hockley county judge and winner of the Shrine ring at the recent autumn ceremonial.

The election will be one of the two big event's on the week's calendar here for members of Khiva temple. The other will be the annual banquet of South Plains Shrine club at Hilton hotel Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Entertainment Featured

Featured events on the banquet program will be feats of magic by the mysterious "Prince Alli Bindo of Cairo, Egypt," according to the announcement, and the adoption of constitution and by-laws of the club, which was organized last May. Thomas is president and T. V. Ellison is secretary of the club.

According to the disclosed plans of those who will go to Amarillo for the annual Khiva temple election, Allison will nominate Thomas, citing his activities in behalf of the Shrine, while Thomas is not an announced candidate and has not made a personal campaign, friends said he will accept should he be elected.

The post of oriental guide is the lowest of the five offices comprising the divan of the temple, the usual procedure being to step those officers place by place from year to year until each reaches the position of potentate. The only South Plains man ever to occupy that place is former state Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, who tentatively plans to make the trip to Amarillo Wednesday.

New Crystal Theater Being Built At Ralls

RALLS, Jan. 8 (Special) — The new Crystal theater here, which is to replace the one destroyed by fire Nov. 22, will open about Feb. 1, according to W. A. Mauldin of Lubbock, owner.

The front wall of the building, which has been replaced, is of modernistic design with black glass. Mirrophonic sound, 400 cushion seats on the bottom floor, and 137 in the balcony have been added as new equipment. The building, to cost approximately $10,000, will be semi-fireproof.

The new theater, patterned after the Majestic theater of Dallas, has been leased to Leroy Land of Ralls. W. G. McMillan of Lubbock is contractor for the rebuilding.

Mauldin also announced that he has sold the 400-seat Queen theater at Crosbyton to Jack Arthur of Lockney.

SO PLANTS WILL GROW

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Because the man-made Treasure Island, site of the 1939 world's fair, is saturated with salt water it has been impossible to grow plants on it.

Before the $1,500,000 landscaping program starts, it will be necessary to drill 200 shallow wells and lower the water table. Introduction of loam, fresh water and fertilizer also will encourage vegetation.

VACUUM CLEANER MUZZLE

Empty the vacuum cleaner into a large paper sack (saved from groceries). The sack can be discarded easily and the dust won't fly.

STAINS AND ODORS

To remove vegetable stains or fish, onion or garlic odors from the hands, rub with lemon juice before washing with mild, soapy water.

Near Verdun, France, is a sacred bit of ground protected by a monument. At this place a detachment of French soldiers was buried alive by a German shell and, to this day, their bayonets and rifle barrels may be seen projecting from the ground.

Jobless Data Is Given In Report

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—John D. Biggers, director of the unemployment census, reported to President Roosevelt today the November voluntary count of jobless showed 3,200,000 persons were partly employed and wanted more work.

The report was the second in a series made by Biggers. The first, a week ago, showed a total of 7,822,912 to 10,870,000 persons were out of work in November.

Aliens Have Been Barred

The state department estimated 1,250,000 aliens have been barred from this country and kept off the labor market since October 1, 1930.

The unemployment census office made a careful distinction in its report between partly employed persons wanting more work and those not wanting more work. To those who do not want more work it generally applied the term "partly unemployed."

Men Five To One

The total of partly employed who want more work included 2,641,000 and 567,000 women.

Arkansas	67,235
Louisiana	60,797
Oklahoma	61,487
Texas	146,160

There has been a drop of nearly fifty per cent per 1000 of the population in the number of pawnbrokers in England during the past thirty years.

Dallas Man To Speak To Insurance Men Here On Thursday

"Slave or Master," a subject dealing with self-management, will be the theme of an address to be delivered at a luncheon at Hilton hotel at noon here Thursday by Ross Priddy, widely-known life insurance man of Dallas, before a special meeting of South Plains chapter of the Texas association of Life Underwriters.

Chas. A. Whitacre, president of the chapter, announced Saturday that Archie Copeland, supervisor here for Gulf States Life Insurance company, will be toastmaster at the luncheon and will introduce the principal speaker. Priddy is branch manager for Gulf States at Dallas.

One Of Series Of Programs

The special program is one of a series arranged by O. D. Douglas of San Antonio, president of the state association, and presented at monthly intervals.

Priddy was described as being one of the outstandingly successful life underwriters in Texas. The Dallas office of which he is head was described as the leading producer in the entire company the first six months of 1937—the latest period for which figures were available.

Colds, diphtheria, measles, and scarlet fever, in the order named, are the four most common diseases.

Interest In West Texas Oil Development Shared By Hockley, Cochran Tests

No. 2 Slaughter Has Good Flow

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

INTEREST in West Texas oil development during the first week in the new year was divided largely between southwestern Hockley county where the first producer became the largest and two nearby tests were staked; eastern Cochran county, where a wildcat cored oil saturated lime and western Crane county where a test topped the Ellenberger 400 feet higher than an Ordovician producer 2 2-3 miles to the southwest after showing a Simpson section 399 feet thinner.

The Texas Co. No. 2 Bob Slaughter block, Hockley county's third well, flowed 531.90 barrels of 32 gravity oil in 24 hours, bottomed at 4,985 feet, after being treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. It registered a gas-oil ratio of 1,389 to 1. The well is 440 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 92, league 37, Zavala county school land. Its initial yield was 29.40 barrels higher than that of the discovery, Texas No. 1 Slaughter 1 1-4 miles to the northwest and 100 barrels more than Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter 1 1-4 miles to the southeast.

Gives East Offset

Texas No. 2 Slaughter gives Honolulu Oil Co., an east offset, in labor 78. Gulf staked No. 1 M. G. Gordon 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 12-X-psl, one mile southeast of Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter, and No. 1 Mallet Land & Cattle Co. 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 6-X-psl, about two miles southwest of Texas No. 2 Slaughter.

J. R. Meeker and others' No. 1 Della Slaughter Wright, eastern Cochran county wildcat, recovered saturated lime from 4,883 to 4,910 feet in coring to 4,924 in barren anhydrite and hard lime and was circulating to condition the hole. It is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 26, league 96, Mills county school land.

Flows 245 In 7 Hours

P. N. Wiggins and others' No. 1 Carrie Slaughter Dean, six miles south of Meeker and others' No. 1 Wright and four miles northwest of the Duggan pool, swabbed and flowed 245 barrels of oil in seven hours after a shutdown at 5,030 feet. It drilled ahead below 5,035 in lime. It is in the center of labor 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land.

Toddie Lee Wynne, American Liberty Co., trustee, No. 1 Willard in southern Yoakum county, which last week virtually completed the six-mile link between the Denver pool in Yoakum and the Wasson pool in Gaines county, flowed 294 barrels of oil in 24 hours at 5,000 feet in lime. It had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid and was to be retreated. Location is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of section 38-AX-psl.

Gulf staked No. 1 F. J. Dixon about midway between the Denver production and Bond and Bohago No. 1 J. L. West, first and most northerly of southwestern Yoakum's three strikes. It will be 330 from the south, 990 feet from the east line of section 609-D-John H. Gibson. Murchison & Fikes No. 1 Sawyer, 3 1-2 miles northeast of Denver No. 1 Whittenberg, opener of the Denver pool, and 660 from the south, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 702, was abandoned a failure at 5,255 feet, having shown no oil or water.

Stogner & Pipkin No. 1 Pollard, extreme northwestern Yoakum wildcat 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 108-D-John H. Gibson, showed only a scum of oil with three-quarters of a bailer of slightly salty water hourly when bailed at 5,256 feet in lime. It cored oil stained, porous lime at intervals below 5,198 feet.

May Be Largest Producer

Carter and Continental No. 2 A. L. Wasson fulfilled promise of becoming the largest natural producer in the Wasson field in Gaines county by flowing 543 barrels of oil with 1,540,000 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours, bottomed at 4,985 feet. It is 440 feet out of the northwest corner of section 48-AX-psl.

Amerada No. 1 Robertson, 1 1-2 miles east and one location north of the discovery oil producer in the Seminole pool in Gaines, tested 220,060 cubic feet of gas daily for several Yates sand zones, bottomed at 3,445 feet, and recemented 7 5-8-inch casing at 3,440. It is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 196-G-WTRR.

Fuhrman No. 6 Ford ranked as one of the largest producers in the Fuhrman pool in southern Andrews county by flowing 3,164.71 barrels of oil in 24 hours through tubing after being treated with 9,000 gallons of acid with the total depth 4,465 feet. It is 440 feet out of the southeast corner of section 20-A42-psl.

Gins In Slaton Turn Out Total Of 20,285 Bales Of Cotton

SLATON, Jan. 8. (Special)—The five Slaton gins have handled 20,285 bales of cotton to date, an increase of 12,381 over the same period a year ago, according to reports Saturday. Posey ginnings approximate 4,000 bales additional.

HE'S TOO GOOD

CHEROKEE, N. C. (AP)—Carl Standingdeer, most famous of the North Carolina Cherokee Indian archers, was so good he had to quit competition.

Champion for a generation, his easy walkaway discouraged youngsters from entering the annual tournaments. The tribe therefore ruled him out of the contests.

Work On Library Is Progressing

Construction on the new library building at Texas Technological college is progressing rapidly, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, said Saturday. Workmen are now completing the forms for the second or main story.

"If weather conditions continue favorable, the building should be finished some time in the summer," Dr. Knapp said.

To Be Three Stories

Resembling the Chemistry building and located immediately north of it, the Spanish-styled structure will be three stories of steel and reinforced concrete. The cloisters will be on the south, and not on the north as are those of the Science building. Floors will be of terrazzo, tile, wood, and cement, and walls will be of brick with a limestone trim and tile roof.

Nathan Wohlfeld of Dallas has the general contract for construction, which was begun Nov. 1, after an allotment of $275,000 by the legislature.

Bits Of Gossip On The Ether . .

GOOD NEWS FOR KIDDIES

Great news for the kiddies is the announcement that "Bill, Mack and Jimmy" will soon be heard again over Station KFYO. Bill and Mack are the two war-time aviators who served together in the World war. Jimmy, a 13-year old youngster, full of fire, life and enthusiasm, has been adopted by Bill and Mack and they take him on their thrilling trip 'round the world.

The only 10,000-foot power dive, taken from "Hells Angels", is used exclusively as the signature for "Bill, Mack and Jimmy." This dive brings the youngsters in from their play and they come scrambling from all part of the house to be glued to the radio to hear each chapter of the thrilling adventures unfold.

Time and dates for "Bill, Mack and Jimmy" will be announced later.

SWING REPLACES HILLBILLY

With 1938 and the off with the old—on with the new, "swing" replaces "hillbilly" music on the KFYO Barn Dance. The new 6-piece musical organization, which as yet has no name, is composed of veteran musicians whose ability to play sweet or swing should make them favorites with local dancers.

The group includes a piano, saxaphone, clarinet, violin, bass fiddle, and drums with doubles on three violins, two saxaphones, and two clarinets.

Guest Star

Doris Kerr sings as the guest of Victor Arden on his Musical Moments Revue over KFYO Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock. Also featured on the program will be the Four Songsmiths and Graham McNamee.

Radio Programs For New Semester Set

School radio programs over station KFYO have been scheduled for next semester, according to Mrs. Ross Ayers, radio chairman. Regular program will be broadcast every two weeks at 3:45 on Wednesday afternoon from the Senior High school auditorium.

Special programs will be planned next week when radio chairmen and principals from each school meet with Mrs. Ayers. Each school will have only one program during the semester, unless they desire to give a special program on an open date.

Students of Guadalupe will give the radio program this Wednesday. Mrs. Leonard Cole and Mrs. George Duval are the directors. The program will include offerings from students in rooms of Mrs. Jewel O'Dell, Ray Hynds, Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Duval.

Children who will take part on the program include Canuta Bustellas, Delphnia Ortega, Lily Bustillas, Milly Buca, Deigo Montoyo, Ramon Urtado, Alfonso Ducero, Bill Dominguez, Phillis Todd, Alva Todd, Mary Chavez, Angel Flores, Chelo Carmona, Louisa Bustillos, Juanita Flores, Ruth Martinez, Ramona Marmalejo, Frances Todd, Aurora Carrillo, Beva Moncada, Frances Armenta, Concho Figueroa, Stella Urtado, Flora Chaves, Kiko Aquilar, Raymond Flores, Manuel Garcia, John Todd, and John Figueroa.

The pelican flower of tropical America, when viewed from the side, closely resembles the bird for which it is named.

Dates For Exams Set At College

Dates for final examinations for the first semester at Texas Technological college have been set for January 24-29, inclusive, according to a report at Dean J. M. Gordon's office Saturday.

The week preceeding examinations is designated as "dead week," which means that "all's quiet" in the boarding houses and dormitories. Social activities are banned to avoid interferenee with study.

Registration for the new term will be Jan. 31-Feb. 1, with classes beginning Feb. 2.

Examinations To Begin At High School On Thursday

Examinations for Senior High school will begin Thursday noon and continue until Friday noon, with second term for all Lubbock schools being brought to a close January 18. New term will begin January 19.

Friday afternoon and Monday, notebook work and recitations will be completed. Grades will be given out on Tuesday morning.

BIG DIVIDENDS

ST. PAUL (AP)—Wolf killing was a $43,628 business in Minnesota in 1937.

State Auditor Stafford King paid that sum in bounties, $15 per head for full grown wolves and $6 each for cubs.

Two of the animals were killed near Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Slaton Rotary Club Starts New Year With Four New Members

SLATON, Jan. 8. (Special)—Slaton Rotary club has started the new year with four new members instead of the usual loss of three or four members. President Jim Elliott has sent letters to present members asking them to be on the alert for other desirable additions to the rolls.

This week's club meeting featured a musical program presented by the high school orchestra composed of Joe Hadden, Lannie Hope, Weldon Jones, J. C. Tucker, George Gentry, Dick Ragsdale, Billie Ball, Truman Shelton, Warren Taber and Clyce Rowe. A. J. Payne, secretary-treasurer of the club, described his recent trip to Florida.

Slaton's Postal Receipts Show Gain Over Last Year's Total

SLATON, Jan. 8. (Special) — Increase of $1,493.63 in Slaton postal receipts for 1937 over 1936 was reported here Saturday by Postmaster K. L. Scudder.

Of the gain, $731.08 was in the last quarter and $180.82 in December, when the 1937 total was $2,219.70, Scudder said.

Bette Davis' Greatest Problem Her Southern Accent; She Does Right Well For New Englander

BY ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—Bette Davis, from New England, was in slacks in her dressing room, but on the wall hung a pretty little number—with hoops—that was the latest thing from Paris for a New Orleans belle of 1842. In a few minutes Bette would have to put it on, and she liked that part of her role in "Jezebel" very much.

Bette Davis

At the same time she would have to put on a Southern accent. And that, she admitted, was more difficult, although she has done it twice before. Once in a stage play, and then in the movie "Cabin in the Cotton."

The problem, as she sees it, is to speak naturally enough not to offend Southern ears, and at the same time—"if your talk isn't strongly accented the rest of the country won't accept it as Southern," she said. So she's striving for the middle course.

To aid her there is Dalton Reymond, a Louisianian making a movie career here out of his hobby, the study of diction in various parts of the South.

When Bette tried out her drawl, it struck these bayou-country ears that a New England girl who is an actress can do right well by Dixie dialogue.

Valuable Scrapbook

IT cost Sophie Tucker $52 to have her "past" shipped out to Hollywood. It came in innumerable scrap books, now filling an entire closet in her home, and covering the record of her 30 years as an entertainer—from her first appearance at $12.50 a week on through her rise to eminence as the "Mary Garden of Ragtime," the queen of coon-shouters, and so on to her present movie prominence.

Sophie Tucker

It's been only fairly recently that Sophie let a secretary take charge of her press clippings. She used to paste them in personally.

"If there's anybody owes the newspapers a debt of gratitude," says Sophie, "I'm the one. I used to use those press clippings to get my raises. I'd just take 'em in to the managers—and I'd get what I asked for, every time!"

Bridge Game

DIRECTOR Kurt Neumann hired a boat the other day, but you won't see it in Joe E. Brown's new film, "Wide Open Faces."

Neumann was shooting scenes at a drawbridge down by the San Pedro waterfront. The action demanded that the bridge be hoisted at periodic intervals, and the director tried to make a deal with the bridge tender to have the span raised on cue.

This the tender refused, on the ground that it was against the law to raise the bridge except to permit a boat to pass beneath. So . . .

Box-Office Race

LAST season the colony's hit-leader was Metro, turning out such attractions as "Libeled Lady," "The Great Ziegfeld," "Born to Dance," "After the Thin Man," "Maytime," "The Good Earth," and—in a freak box-office sense—"Saratoga."

This new season it looks like United Artists, where between David O. Selznick and Sam Goldwyn they've put out "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Stella Dallas," "Dead End," "The Hurricane," "Nothing Sacred," and reams of publicity on "Gone With the Wind." Figured for big money likewise are the unreleased "Tom Sawyer" and "Marco Polo" and "Goldwyn Follies."

For Metro, this far in advance, "Rosalie" looks like a best bet, with "Benefits Forgot" a dark horse of importance. But there's still time for Leo to growl more fiercely.

"Wells Fargo," "Hollywood Hotel" Top Week's Movie Programs In City

Other Films On Menu Are Good

TOPPED by an 'epic' picture in Paramount's latest release, "Wells Fargo," this week's schedule of theater programs run the gamut of entertainment for Lubbock moviegoers. There's everything you want in the way of films, so just take your choice.

"Wells Fargo," showing at the Palace until Thursday, is a sweeping saga of winning and building of the West motivated on the processional developments of the nation's transportation systems during the nineteenth century. It has something for every type of theatergoer—action aplenty, authenticity of historical background, a well-modulated comedy relief, thanks to Bob Burns, and a touchingly human romance.

Turn To Another Type

Switching to another type of picture, "Life of the Party" is showing at the Broadway through Tuesday in which a young millionaire meets a young socialite masquerading as a professional singer, and, after many amusing complications during the tuneful interim, marries her. It's a riot of comedy throughout with good acting thrown in.

Out of the early ledgers of empire-builders comes "The Toast Of New York," a bizarre romance founded upon the gold and blasted love of the dramatic career of Jim Fisk, showing at the Tech today and Monday. Intrigue among the money monarchs, their gala revels, post-Civil war Wall Street frenzy and Fisk's intense infatuation for Josie Mansfield which ultimately threatens the financial structure of a great nation form a panorama of splendor and magnificence of production brilliance studded by the excellent acting of Edward Arnold, Cary Grant, Frances Farmer and Donald Meek.

Wheeler-Woolsey Swan Song

Go over to the Lindsey either today or tomorrow and you'll find another comedy riot with Wheeler and Woolsey in "High Flyers" which is said to mark the termination of that famous comedy team in films. Palming themselves off as aviation experts they get mixed up in a stolen jewels smuggling case and an exaggerated funny plot.

Heart-stirring drama is in store at the Lyric Sunday and Monday as Mickey Rooney plays another stellar role in "Hoosier School-boy," a story of a young impoverished boy who is considered with his shell-shocked father the nuisance of the town. He wins respect with the aid of a new school teacher.

Another soul-twitching drama is offered those who might have missed it in previous showings at the Texan through Tuesday. It is "Stella Dallas" with Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles and Ann Shirley carrying the lead roles in the now-famous story of broken lives.

The program changes back to comedy later in the week at the Palace with Warner Bros.' latest cinemusical comedy, "Hollywood Hotel," showing Thursday through Saturday. It's a combination of radio and films plus a host of stage and vaudeville stars, the list of which contains many box-office attractions in all three, a tale of a temperamental starring team and a pair of youngsters whose destinies get all tangled up in theirs and unsnarls at the picture's end in formal Hollywood fashion.

The Broadway's Wednesday and Thursday program has Warren William and Delores Del Rio teamed in "Widow From Monte Carlo," a light comedy.

"Mysterious Crossing" with James Dunn, Jean Rogers and Andy Devine in a combined thriller-comedy

s the Tech's Tuesday menu while on Wednesday and Thursday, the program shifts to Shakespeare as Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard return with "Romeo And Juliet." A picture which has already won the acclaim of the nation's critics. Middle-of-the-week offerings at the Lindsey find "Fight For Your Lady" carded Tuesday and Wednesday, a subtle farce in which John Boles is given a chance to use his fine singing voice with Margot Grahame as his heart-interest, until he becomes engaged in inciting a duelist's jealousy by paying ardent courtship to Ida Lupino who is beautiful throughout. Thursday, Peter Lorre, Rochelle Hudson and Robert Kent entertain in "Thank You, Mr. Moto," a wild and wooliy and utterly ludicrous thriller. A faint romantic interest is carried by Kent and Hudson with Lorre as the Nipponese detective in a variety of plot complications which will make the average movie fan dizzy.

Jack Haley, Patsy Kelly, Mischa Auer and Laurel and Hardy give you slap-stick deluxe at the Lyric on Tuesday in "Pick A Star" in which a young man, posing as a big shot but in reality a bus-boy in a filmland cafe, tries to get his sweetheart in the movies. "Personal Maid's Secret" is booked for Wednesday and Thursday at the same house with Margaret Lindsey, Warren Hull, Anita Louise and Ruth Donnelly.

More comedy of the musical variety is offered at the Texan on Wednesday with "New Faces Of 1937" which comic antics of Joe Penner, Milton Berle and Parkyakarkus interspersed throughout a backstage plot. A powerful story of mother love and a beautiful woman's battle to keep her child after her name had been besmirched by a vengeful husband is presented in "Midnight Madonna" showing at the Texan Thursday. Two new film personalities, Mady Carroll, from the New York stage, and Kitty Clancy, one of the sweetest child personalities to appear on the screen, are introduced in the film. Warren William carries the lead male role.

"A Family Affair" at the Broadway Friday and Saturday offers a simple story of a country judge in a small town who has many troubles but he sets out to fight to regain the respect of his fellow men and does. Lionel Barrymore, Cecilie Parker, Eric Linden and Mickey Rooney bring out the story in able acting.

A new star, Anton Walbrook, is introduced in "The Soldier And The Lady" at the Tech Friday and Saturday. The story, taken from Jules Verne's adventure classic, "Michael Strogoff," has a Russian setting of a great love story crammed into a thrill-packed Hollywood spectacle. Elizabeth Allen, Margot Grahame and Eric Blore add to it.

A western with Dick Foran carrying the burden of a cavalry scout guarding a telegraph line stretching across the Indian-fested plains of the early West is offered at the Lindsey on Friday and Saturday.

Bob Steele brings his usual western performance to the Lyric Friday and Saturday in "Gun Lords Of Stirrup Basin" which is all that its title implies.

Bob Allen in "Reckless Ranger," another typical western film is the offering at the Texan for Friday and Saturday.

Some Encouraging Testimony

FURTHER and convincing evidence that Lubbock, while growing with remarkable rapidity, is building upon solid foundation was given by the newly announced expansion program of Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

We as citizens of the city might be inclined to let pride warp our judgment as to the real prospects for Lubbock's future. Because we are so close to the scene and because our own welfare is so definitely bound to the welfare of the city and territory, any picture we may vision may be distorted.

But not such institutions as the telephone company. In deciding whether an improvement is or is not to be made, just one question is taken into consideration.

That question is: "Will the investment make money for the company?" The answer must be "yes," or the improvement is not made.

Dozens of factors are taken into consideration before attempt is made to answer the question. The citizenship, the assets, the potentialities for growth and the surrounding territory are only some of the things that are weighed. They then must add up to give as their answer that more telephones will be used in the city or town under scrutiny.

In Lubbock the answers obviously have been "yes" that the investment will be a good one for the company and that more telephones will be used. That naturally means the company is "betting," so to speak, a substantial sum that the additional people will be here to use them. And, that, in turn, means that cold-blooded analysis of cold-blooded facts allows only the conclusion that Lubbock's growth will continue.

That Challenging Equation

EVERY once-in-while, The Editor of The Avalanche-Journal comes upon an article in a scientific or pseudo-scientific publication unfolding the prospect of super-highways of the future, whereon motorists will go like the proverbial bat out of Hades at no set speed limit; such highways being so marvelously projected that no speed limitation whatever will be indicated.

We read with comparative interest and relief, therefore, the more conservative forecast of Julius Kaulfuss, professor of highway engineering at Pennsylvania State college who discounts the vision of these super-highways with the declaration that the motorist will never be able to drive faster than 60 miles an hour with safety to himself and others he may encounter on the road.

"The prime obstacle to these super roads," Prof. Kaulfuss realistically points out, "will be the inability to discover and control an adequate number of drivers who can safely operate vehicles at such speeds as to warrant the building of such highways. Psychologically and psysiologically, a lesser speed such as 60 miles an hour will be the fastest for the best drivers." Prof. Kaulfuss looks forward rather to a wide improvement in road structure, illumination and other incidentals, which will make the 60-mile rate generally practical.

In other words, the mainly desirable objective of automotive progress is not the super-highway, nor yet the super-automobile, but—if anything superlative—the super-motorist, meaning the generally superior type of operator who takes automotive progress in stride, rather than in various excesses of driving. How long it will take to develop that type is evident from the numerous accidents that happen on the best devised highways.

One basic trouble is that each new generation produces its crop of irresponsibles, in addition to the untold numbers of new drivers who apparently have to learn everything about driving by the traditional system of trial and error.

In short, the human equation is the most challenging factor of the problem of automotive progress.

With Our Contemporaries

"Not many years ago," Homer Steen points out in the Floyd County Hesperian, "the primary consumer demand was classified as (1) food, (2) clothing. But recent surveys indicate this change has been to (1) food, (2) automobile, with clothing, third."

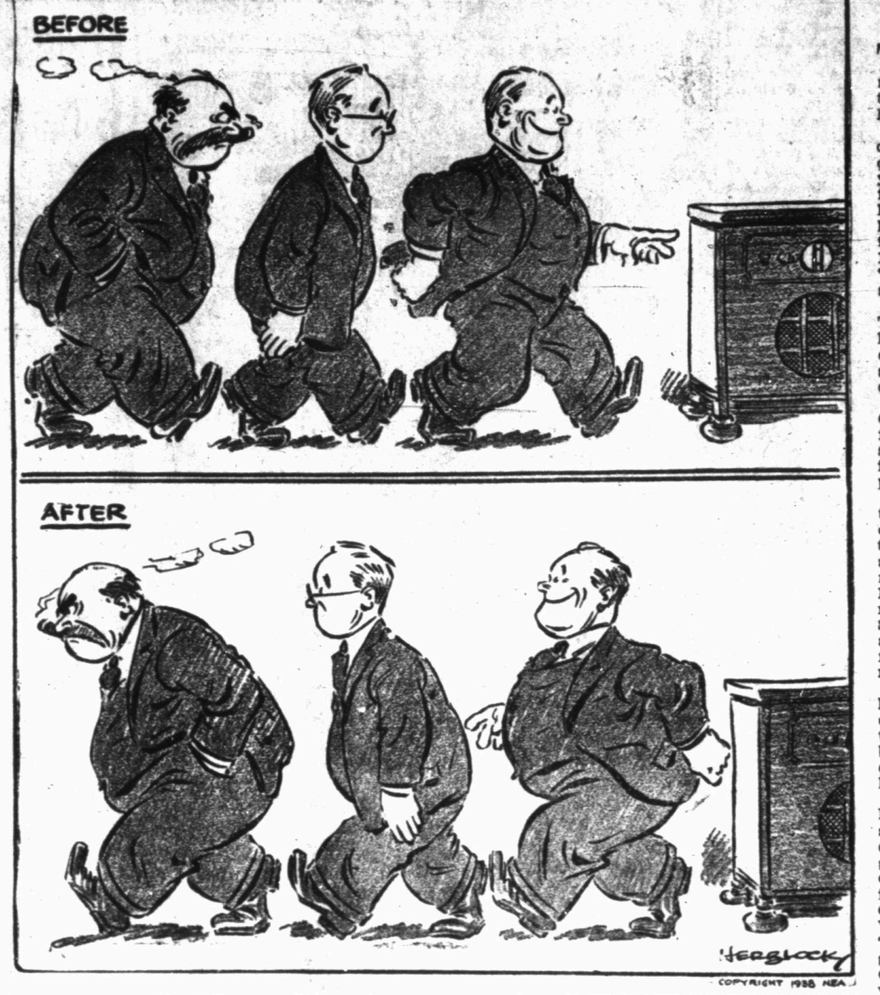

"A 250 pound hog will yield from 12 to 15 per cent of its weight in cuts suitable for bacon," W. M. Curry tells Crosby county farmers as a gentle hint the Review force likes bacon.

The One-Minute Sermon

Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me: for there is no saviour beside me. Hosea 13, 3 and 4.

Eleanor Roosevelt Sees Hope For World In Her New Book, "This Troubled World"; She Concludes That Peace Rests On Changing Human Nature; Variety Of Other New Publications Offered During Week

"THIS TROUBLED WORLD," by Eleanor Roosevelt; (Kinsey).

IN her new book, "This Troubled World," Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt touches on a point that must have occurred to every thoughtful citizen often enough, of late. She says that there are times when she reads her morning newspaper with a feeling of desperation.

There is blood on the moon, in short, and the peoples of the world have the look of bands arming for the last great battle in the west; and in this book Mrs. Roosevelt muses on the situation and searches for a way by which mankind can escape destruction.

Examines Peace Plans

She has examined peace plans without number, she says, and none of them seems to be worth much more than the paper it is written on. For if peace on earth is to come to men of good will, it must come by men of good will, also; and the sad fact is that few of us carry our proper cargo of good will these days, or ever have carried it.

And so—while she suggests certain emergency measures: nationalization of arms manufacture, disarmament treaties, mediation plans, and so on—she arrives at the conclusion that the attainment of world peace is fundamentally a matter of changing human nature. We must reform ourselves, before we can start reforming our world.

Task Not Impossible

Is the task impossible? Mrs. Roosevelt has the good sense to see that it is not. Civilized man has been changing human nature ever since he stopped eating his grandfather. It is a hard job and a long one, but it can be done; and until it is done, there will be no certainty of peace.

"This Troubled World" is a slim little book, but a wise and good one. The material in it has not, by the way, been published before.

For Interesting A Boy

IF your boy is interested in tricks of magic (and what boy is not?) the volume for him is "The Magic Show Book" (Macmillan). A professional magician, Alexander, reveals here the secrets of over a hundred tricks with string, handkerchiefs, coins, with diagrams to show his young pupils exactly how to perform them.

Going farther, he gives the principles behind the more famous magicians' tricks, and the general rules and history of magic.

A Girl's Mystery

ANNE McCLURE leaves art school when the terms of a will that makes her heiress of Tamarind Court in Bermuda state that she must live there a year and a day to validate her inheritance. The sacrifice of her career seems more worth while when she and her family see the lovely little house, and learn that a famous lost painting is hidden there.

Helen Girvan's "Blue Treasure" (Farrar and Rinehart) has all the thrills that a girl's mystery should have, from secret caves to night intruders. A lively family, gay friends, and island sports lend to the plot an entertaining background.

Prized Literature

THERE'S something tremendously satisfying about the five prize-winning novelettes chosen for publication by Little, Brown and Company from 1340 manuscripts. Lusty, searchingly frank, laying bare the whole gamut of human emotions, these stories leave you pretty hopeful for the future of our younger novelists.

First-place novelette was Wallace Stegner's "Remembering Laughter." Runner-ups are William Corcoran's "This Man, Joe Murray"; "A Cargo of Parrots" by R. Hernekin Baptist; "Loving Memory" by James Hill, and "Night at Hogwallow" by Theodore Strauss. Mr. Stegner's story has been previously reviewed in this column.

Explaining Love

Love, from the man's standpoint, is the story of "This Man, Joe Murray." Joe was a pretty regular guy up against a pretty irregular world. He liked new places, new girls. He fell in love once—hard—but he didn't marry the girl. The second time the girl married him. You'll go a long way to explain love as well as Mr. Corcoran does.

"A Cargo of Parrots" is a vastly different story, swinging you down the cost of Africa on a tramp steamer. Here the east and the west meet dramatically.

In "Loving Memory," James Hill returns to romance — after death, and to the story of a man who found in his wife's diary what she really believed of him.

The final wallop comes in "Night at Hogwallow." Mr. Strauss has packed into this story all the bitterness of a rape case in the south. A white girl goes out "hunting for trouble," finds it, and because a white man was afraid and a black man was black a whole township is embroiled.

Thumbnail Reviews

"FOREVER ULYSSES," by C. P. Rodocanachi (Viking) — pastiche in which bits of many famous people are woven into the "fictional" story of one; reads slowly.

"WINTER IN APRIL," by Robert Nathan (Knopf) — novel of novelette length in Nathan's whimsical style; there are underlying "truths" and at least one charming character, a girl named Ellen.

"THE GREAT AMERICAN FAMILY," by Lee Shippey (Houghton Mifflin)—they started out to write the Great American Novel, but the stork beat them to the draw; a man who has lived and suffered writes comedy with a wry twist.

"THE WOODEN SPOON," by Wyn Griffith (Dutton) — a typical Welsh novel, preoccupied with earthy things, rather artfully unsophisticated; you may find more entertaining fiction.

"YOUNG CATHERINE," by E. M. Almedingen (Stokes) — a historical novel based on Catherine the Great's youth, by a Russian woman who has had unusual opportunity to study her; readable, occasionally more.

"I'M GETTING MARRIED," by Jolan Foldes (Farrar & Rinehart)—an earlier novel than "The Street of the Fishing Cat," this one is purely entertainment; Suzy and her pals establish a house-furnishing business, and keep it going by a somewhat romantic ruse.

"THE SAILOR'S HOLIDAY," by Eric Linklater (Farrar & Rinehart)—more entertainment, about a sailor who goes ashore and gets into all sorts of monkey-business; his name is Henry Tippus.

"SPORTING PRINT," by G. March-Phillips (Dutton)—novel about the English hunting set, full of the out of doors and horses and dogs and horsey people; a little too haw-haw for our taste.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE House vote on the Ludlow resolution for a war referendum amendment to the Constitution will mark the high water mark in the humdrum career of the ex-newspaperman from Hoosierland—no matter how it comes out.

The gentle, Gargantuan Louis now enjoys the acclaim—the publicity—he dealt to honorable members of Congress as a Washington correspondent for 20 years. He was so startled by action on his almost forgotten proposal that his lips trembled when he heard the news. His name has flashed through the headlines of newspapers in foreign capitals; his let-the-people-vote plea has shaken world chancelleries. It may even promote the sale of his books, especially "Senator Solomon Spiffledink", which he describes as "a satire on political bunkum".

He is fanatically earnest in his anti-war crusade. Though a powerful, strapping fellow, Louis's colleagues on and off the floor never knew him to grow excited, to utter or write a fighting word. He is truly a man of peace, though Messrs. Roosevelt and Hull deem him a disturber.

COMPROMISE: President Roosevelt has quietly informed Capitol Hill bosses that he will consent to seemingly unimportant but really significant changes in three major measures—farm, wage-hour, regional planning—if it will boost their chance of passage.

He seeks to placate the Southerners who defeated the wage-hour proposal in the House by allowing for differentials in the pay scales of different sections of the country. He hopes to soften labor's opposition by agreeing to machinery which will work automatically rather than be operated at the whim of bureaucrats. He has hinted that he prefers the House farm measure rather than the more compulsory features of the Senate bill, thereby satisfying almost all the major agricultural groups except the American Farm Bureau federation. He will forego power provisions in the regional reorganization scheme.

In the past Mr. R. rarely stooped to conquer. But his setbacks during the last two sessions apparently convinced him that he can get more by compromising than by cracking down. Eager to dodge charges of being a do-nothing body, Congress may pass these emasculated measures after months of wrangling and haranguing.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

FINANCIAL men will be watching Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma at this session of Congress. They get word that the leading apostle of monetary inflation on Capitol Hill is about to bust loose again in a big way.

The senator is famous for his faith in monetary medicine as a cure for all economic ills. He authored the well-known Thomas amendment which gave the President the most sweeping powers to devalue the dollar, print money, etc., that any American chief executive has ever possessed. Mr. Roosevelt had used this authority sparingly—somewhat to the chagrin of those who conferred it on him. Now the recession gives Mr. Thomas an excellent springboard for new monetary proposals. Anything he suggests is likely to attract strong support among his Congressional colleagues—especially those from the South and West.

The Oklahoman used to be an ardent advocate of the Committee for the Nation theory that raising the price of gold was the magic key to prosperity. He is reliably reported to have forsaken this idea in favor of complete government control of the volume of currency and credit. Expansion of the currency would be a logical first step from his viewpoint. In any case Mr. Thomas is slated to make headlines—and headaches for the White House, which is averse to further monetary tinkering.

FRANK: Selection of Glenn Frank to head the Republican Program committee fits neatly with the plans of certain G. O. P. chiefs who want to make sure that no detailed declaration of policy is adopted so far in advance of 1940.

It is true that there was no great enthusiasm for Mr. Frank in New York Republican circles when he was first mentioned for the job. Many G. O. P.-ers promptly though privately denounced him as a bolshevik. Many others were equally fervid in blasting him as a reactionary. No one could arouse such vigorous reactions from both sides without actually being somewhere near the middle of the road. He has a reputation as a liberal, which is rated an asset by shrewd Republican leaders, but sources who know him well doubt that he has profound convictions either to the right or to the left.

Mr. Frank has the further recommendation that he was one of the few men mentioned for the chairmanship who was not repugnant either to Mr. Hoover or Mr. Landon. Not that he is a colorless person—far from it. He's a powerful speaker and has attracted a strong following via his newspaper column, which has been widely syndicated since 1925. He is reputedly popular in the farm belt. Above all, he is a suave diplomat who, as chairman, can do a lot to keep family quarrels within the Program committee from blossoming into public controversies harmful to the G. O. P. cause.

GREEN: Barring a last minute change, President Roosevelt's guests at his widely heralded utility conference next week will be Daniel C. Green, John W. Carpenter and Arthur B. West. Chances are you never heard of any of them.

Mr. Green was until recently president of Mid-West Utilities, a company which was an important unit in the former Insull empire. He resigned not long ago to organize the Independent Service company.

This is not a utility at all, but an organization of experts formed to manage utility properties for a service fee—similar to the original Stone & Webster set-up. At the moment, Mr. Green is anxious to land a management contract with Utilities Power & Light—the former Harley Clarke system which is now in receivership and actually supervised by the courts and the S. E. C. He must obtain S. E. C. approval to do this. It is therefore reasonable to assume that Mr. Green will be responsive to administration wishes.

CARPENTER: John W. Carpenter is president of Texas Power & Light, a subsidiary of Electric Bond & Share. He is opposed to New Deal power policies and is quite likely to say so if given an opportunity. He is certainly more representative of Bond & Share opinion than Harvey Couch would have been.

But Mr. Carpenter, who lives in Dallas, is, after all, only a subordinate, and cannot commit his superiors to anything. He was probably chosen for this parley because he is on friendly terms with leading Texas politicos.

WEST: Arthur B. West is president of the Nevada-California Electric Corp., a small holding company which serves chiefly the territory around San Bernardino. It was exempted from registration under the holding company act because of its localized character. It also has an arrangement to puchaser Boulder Dam power from the government.

Mr. West is a complete stranger to most eastern utility leaders. Considering his background, they figure he is likely to go along with anything the President suggests.

From this line-up, New Yorkers are convinced that the conference is being called chiefly to set the stage for another Presidential utterance about how foolish it is for the industry to fear the benevolent New Deal.

MORRIS: The New York City election last November swept one Republican into office who has only local fame to date, but has possibilities of going places in a larger political arena.

Britain Moves To Bring Forces Up-To-Date

"Official House-Cleaning" Prepares John Bull For Future

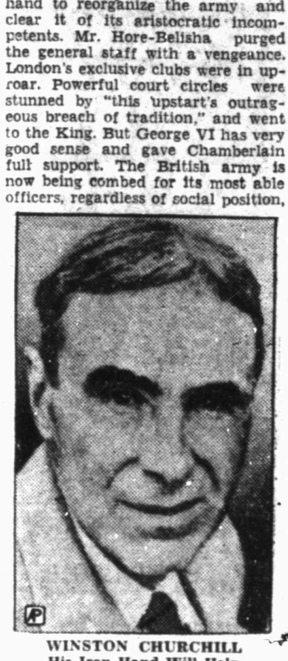

BY FREDERIC SONDERN
Special Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 8—Autocrat and realist, Britain's Prime Minister Chamberlain is wielding a sharp axe to make his government "at least fit to meet today's conditions." Mr. Chamberlain is now convinced, according to intimates, that further negotiations with dictators are futile. Hitler's recent "demands" to Viscount Halifax and Mussolini's latest actions have removed all doubts. The prime minister sees only one solution: To speed rearmament in order that Britain may be equipped as quickly as possible to outbluff and overawe the dictators—then a ruthless policy of the mailed fist, come what may.

Several weeks ago Chamberlain gave the fire-eating ex-newspaperman who is now war minister a free hand to reorganize the army and clear it of its aristocratic incompetents. Mr. Hore-Belisha purged the general staff with a vengeance. London's exclusive clubs were in uproar. Powerful court circles were stunned by "this upstart's outrageous breach of tradition," and went to the King. But George VI has very good sense and gave Chamberlain full support. The British army is now being combed for its most able officers, regardless of social position, to form a staff able to cope with any contingency.

NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN
He Doesn't Like U. S.

WINSTON CHURCHILL
His Iron Hand Will Help

Foreign Office Hit

The prime minister's fist has already landed on the sacrosanct foreign office. Sir Robert Vansittart, formerly permanent under-secretary was given the new post of diplomatic adviser. Officially a promotion, in fact it deprives Vansittart of the tremendous power which he had as boss of the bureaucratic civil service machine which he used freely to put over his own policies — concessions to the dictators, "peaceful discussions," "sailing to the wind", as he put it. Sir Alexander Cadogan who succeeds him is a brilliant organizer and obedient civil servant. Anthony Eden, still foreign secretary, has been reduced to a "glorified messenger boy."

Mr. Chamberlain is gathering the reins into his own hands. And we shall soon see a much firmer British foreign policy.

LONDON supporters of closer Anglo-American cooperation, particularly the big British financial interests, regard Chamberlain's growing power with considerable alarm.

The prime minister has very little use for the United States and often refers to her citizens as "Those damned colonials." Ambassador Bingham he regarded with veiled contempt, and has said to friends that he desn't think Joseph Kennedy will be much of an improvement. According to insiders, Chamberlain resents bitterly the "independence" of President Roosevelt and state department in settling the Panay incident without consulting London.

Prospects of a closer London-Washington understanding look dark.

New Job For Churchill

Chamberlain is also planning to give the rapidly expanding air ministry a strong shot in the arm by appointing another fire-eater, Winston Churchill, as chief. Churchill is a fanatic Francophil and Germanophob and has promised to throw all of his tremendous personality and energy into the job. From behind the scenes he has been pushing the Anglo-French military entente through a series of general staff talks between London and Paris that have linked the two countries "far more closely than they were in 1914"—he claims proudly.

Without publicity, energetic French Air Minister Pierre Cot put the finishing touches to an Anglo-French air pact that practically amounts to a military alliance. The British airplane industry having drafted the best engineers and research men from the auto plants, has forged ahead with extraordinary speed during the last year. Experts say that the new British designs now ready for mass production are second only to the American. The French air ministry, which has been lagging hopelessly in the air race, will use these for a rejuvenation program. In exchange, Paris will keep London informed of German and Italian aerial developments. Complete detailed plans of British air support for France in

"Jimmie" Gets Around In The Capital City

BY L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Texas' youthful governor, James V. Allred, widely mentioned as a third term candidate, made most of every minute of his recent three-day visit to the capital.

As a result he talked with a half dozen high administration leaders in additional to Social Security board officials.

A few hours after he arrived Allred had discussed the Texas jobless insurance program with the board's executive director, Frank Bane, and had left the matter in the hands of Orville S. Carpenter, chairman of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, and Edward Clark, secretary of state.

Jimmie Makes The Rounds

While Carpenter and Clark threshed out technical details of the state's program with the board, Allred went the official rounds, putting in a good word for his state and chatting "generally on a lot of things" of interest to Texas.

He had luncheon at the White House with the President.

He had a couple of friendly chats with Vice-President Garner, trading deer hunting tales.

Talks With Wallace

Attorney-General Cummings welcomed him, and J. Edgar Hoover conducted him through laboratories of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He spent some time with Joseph B. Keenan, Cummings' assistant, and with assistant Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson.

The three state officials disclosed upon arriving they had spent several hours on the train playing dominoes.

Carpenter, who won most of the games and the lunch, said a sizeable crowd gathered to witness the struggle when word got around that the gentlemen with the broad brimmed white hat was the governor of Texas.

"The farther north we got the more curious the people became," said Carpenter. "I think they were amazed to learn that we like and play dominoes so much in Texas."

Two Texans Get Jobs

Two Texans have just assumed important posts here in the agriculture department.

Harold G. Anthony, formerly with the Regional Soil Conservation service office at Fort Worth, is connected with the information branch of the service headquarters, and Arnold Davis, also from the Fort Worth office, has been assigned to highway erosion control work, cooperating with state highway departments.

Mahon Has Company

A GUEST of Rep. George Mahon of Colorado Christmas was Midshipman Hailey of Big Spring, who was forced to return East when the automobile in which he was travelling to Texas for the holidays skidded off the highway in Ohio.

With Hailey at the time were two other Texas students in the naval academy, Midshipmen Glenn of Amarillo and Ashby of Vernon. The former continued the trip home and the latter returned to Annapolis.

Wild Scramble For 'Locations' Reported Among Tenants Of South Plains

Heavy Sales Of Land Reported

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

HUNDREDS of South Plains farmers are engaged in the annual scurrying around to find a location where they can plant, cultivate and harvest a crop this year. Indications are that the scramble for location will be wilder than ever before, as scores and hundreds of farms have been sold during the past year and the tenants must make way for new owners. It is probable that there will be as many, if not more, dispossessions of tenants than in years.

Heavy Sales Reported

Heavy sales of cultivated farms, mostly repossessed by the large land owners during the depression, have been reported by the large land companies. Some companies report they have sold off all surplus cultivated land and have no more to dispose of.

Comparatively little raw land will be put into cultivation this year, due to uncertainty as to the government's expected program about land. Land owners with much unCultivated land, prefer to wait and see what the government's program of helping tenants become owners will be.

Much New Land Plowed

Last year between 150,000 and 200,000 acres was plowed up and placed in cultivation, on the South Plains. Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock and Cochran counties were the chief centers of this work.

The cotton crop of 1937 was such, in volume, that most men buying a crop were able to make full payments of obligations. Some did even better.

Land owners, in selling improved farms, insisted upon a good payment in cash as a down payment. Five dollars an acre was the average.

Land Off Market

Other large land owners, particularly in the counties where there has been oil developments, in the past few years, are taking their raw land off the market. They are unwilling to sell the land without retaining the mineral rights. Where they cannot make a sale along this line, they have refused to sell.

Farmers in the wheat counties, particularly Floyd and Crosby, who made record crops and sold their wheat for good prices, invested the surplus in raw land, especially in the counties west of Lubbock. They bought, usually, a quarter to a half section.

Cotton farmers during the past two months have done likewise. Numerous sales of quarter and half section farms have been made.

Local real estate men report a number of sales of improved farms in this and other counties. Sales have been better than for a number of years, and prices have been holding up well.

Chief activities in the sale of farms have been centered in and around Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran and Lynn counties, with Lubbock, Garza, Yoakum, Gaines, and Terry counties also seeing activity.

Two Hens Of Littlefield Man's Flock Lay Double-Yolked Eggs

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 8, (Special)—Oscar Walters, who owns 500 White Leghorns, has two hens that lay double yolked eggs. The hens lay about every other day.

Walters reports averaging 300 to 350 eggs daily from his flock.

Three Rules Given For Farm Success

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Success formula for farmers:

1. Buy good land.
2. Use modern machinery.
3. Participate in community life.

L. J. Taber speaking. The dynamic, white-haired national master of the 800,000-member cooperative and social Grange organization adds that there is a substantial financial reward for the young man who fitted these qualifications:

"Likes to work, loves the soil and has the tact and ability to become a real farmer."

"We will have no farmer millionaires," declares the veteran farm leader, who is rounding out 35 years as a Grange official, "but when it comes to setting up estates we will find that farmers average pretty well with other groups."

Farmer Needn't Grind

The former Ohio director of agriculture stresses education, organization and cooperation as the "three old weapons," which the farmer "can use in a new way."

"Science, research and inventive genius are building a new rural life that offers added rewards to young men and women of courage and ability," he asserts.

The old notion that a farmer must work from sun-up to sundown is still partly true in the rush season, but that does not hold good in the year-round program. The young farmer and his wife who are community builders will stand just as good a chance of keeping the sheriff from the front gate as those who keep their noses all the time on the agricultural grindstone."

L. J. TABER

Fifty-nine years old, Taber says he is good for 40 more. He has been head of the Grange 15 years. He and his wife, who divides her time between acting as his secretary and doing housework, live in Columbus, but own a farm in eastern Ohio and specialize in raising cattle.

Taber's philosophy as leader of the Grange:

The farm is a basic factor in American life and it will remain an essential spark-plug in the economic and social development for generations and probably for centuries.

Agricultural Congress Scheduled In March For Plainview; Irrigation, Fertilization And Related Problems To Be Discussed

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 8.—The Board of City development has invited irrigation experts of the Southwest to take part in a congress here March 9 and 10 to consider field irrigation problems, land fertilization, livestock on irrigated farms and related subjects.

The Plainview board has been at work for some time arranging a meeting of irrigation experts and interested farmers.

Hale Leading Irrmigation Area

Hale county is one of the leading counties in the state in irrigation. Its shallow water area extends into Floyd county on the east and Swisher on the north, with shallow water in Lamb and Bailey counties to the west and Castro northwest. Lubbock's area also is believed to be connected in the group.

Intensive drilling of wells for irrigation farming has brought up numerous problems. Hale, Floyd, Lamb and Lubbock county farmers have formed organizations to study the possibilities and also to secure recognition in a proposed agricultural bill that is now before congress.

South Plains irrigation covers, besides the above named counties, Lynn, Crosby, Hockley and Briscoe, with several other counties now becoming interested. Deaf Smith county is an important water sector also.

More than 1,450 wells have been drilled in this section, with an acreage in excess of 200,000 under the pumps.

The state of Texas through its water board, and the federal government, has begun a study of water resources of the area.

RESIGNS STORE POST

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — Mrs. Ed Seeley, for four years with the ladies ready-to-wear department of Ware's department store, has resigned. She will take an extended vacation. Mrs. E. J. Newgent, for many years with Cuemod's department store, was named manager in place of Mrs. Seeley.

Two pioneers in the introduction of fingerprints for identification purposes were Sir Francis Galton of England and Sir William Herschel of India. Herschel wanted to fingerprint members of the Hugli courts, while Galton wanted to do the same for Chinese immigrants.

Dairy Shows To Be Conducted

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 8. (Special)—Sponsored by the Central Plains Dairy Herd Improvement association, two dairy schools are to be conducted late this month in cooperation with the state extention service, one here and the other at Tulia.

Dates are: Jan. 27 in Tulia and Jan. 28 here, said K. J. Edwards, district county agent leader. Identical programs will be given, to acquaint dairymen with breeding and feeding of dairy cattle. Problems as related especially to the Plains area.

Programs Are Given

Programs include: "Roughage for Dairy Cattle," by E. R. Eudaly, College Station, dairy specialist for the extension service; "What is a Good Grain Mixture for Dairy Cattle?" G. G. Gibson, assistant dairy specialist; "Herd Improvement," by Walter Davis, herd tester of the association. These will comprise the morning program.

In the afternoon D. T. Simon, veteran secretary of the Jersey Cattle club will speak on "Better Herds Through Breeding," and Roy B. Davis, Plainview, manager of Plains Cooperative, Inc., on "Dairy Herd Sanitation." Eudaly will close the program with a talk on "Vitamins and Minerals for Dairy Cattle."

Importance of the Plains area as a dairy center is seen in the selection of Tulia and Plainview as places for the school.

Rainfall In Garza Area During Last Year Totaled 15.49 Inches

POST, Jan. 8, (Special)—The rainfall here during 1937 was 15.49 inches, according to an official rain gauge kept by the Double U company. The amount was 8.6 inches below that in 1936.

Records kept back to 1908 show the 1926 fall, 35.79 inches, was the heaviest recorded here. Other years in which over 30 inches fell include: 1914, 33.17 inches; 1920, 30.78; 1923, 30.38 and 1919, 30.44 inches.

Average since 1927 has been 18.49 inches. Lowest fall was 10.68 inches in 1917.

One-Variety Contest Group Of Lions Club To Meet Monday

Members of a special committee of the Lions club to handle a proposed one-variety cotton contest this summer for farm boys will meet Monday night in the office of Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent. M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering department at Texas Technological college and chairman of the group, called the meeting.

Other members include D. C. Prince, Griggs, W. Bogart, R. H. Bean and George R. Bean.

The committee is to make plans for the contest and to name subcommittees to handle details. Directors of the club voted recently to sponsor the movement.

BUY ABERNATHY BUSINESS

ABERNATHY, (Special) — J. L. Merritt of Dickens has bought the Hall's Handy Dandy laundry. Mrs. Merritt and their daughter, Ruby Joe, are now in charge.

It's A Coming Out Party For These Birds

On shaky, incredibly awkward feet, these two South African ostrich chicks wabble calmly about after bursting their shells in the zoo at Bedfordshire. They are believed to be the first ever born in England. The hen egg in the foreground gives a comparison for the size of the shells from which the chicks just emerged.

Cattle Shipped From Pens At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 8 (Special)—Two train loads of cattle, approximately 90 cars, were moved recently by Peyton Packing Co. from its pens here to El Paso, where the packing plant of the concern is located. The animals, fore than 3,000 in number, had been fed in the company pens here for several months.

It is reported here the company will begin stocking up its pens some time in February. Cattle will be purchased over the area and shipped here for fattening.

The company has operated here for several years, buying heavily of grain sorghums and corn from over a wide section of the Plains. Generally from 2,500 to 5,000 head were fed at a time, depending on the market. As many as 5,500 have been on feed at one time.

Last year the company fed out between 12,000 and 15,000 head. Recently the pens were enlarged, additional equipment installed and other changes made. A new type of ration, including the use of molasses, was begun some months ago.

HAS FISHING JOB

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — Fishing for 600 feet of drill pipe, lost in the hole at a depth of 3,285 feet, drilling had stopped on the Toddie B. Wynne estate No. 1 Neuenschwander, at last report. Bit was in anhydrite when the stem was lost.

Post Planning For Annual CC Banquet

POST, Jan. 8, (Special)—Preliminary plans for the annual meeting of the Post Chamber of Commerce, scheduled for Jan. 18, have been started, President Ashley Lawson announced.

Jim Hundley heads the ticket committee with Glen Leonard and Shorty Greenfield; Phil Bouchier and Harold Voss the arrangements; Tom Bouchier, Ed Warren and Lawson the program.

The affair will be in the First Methodist church, at night. It is open to every citizen of Garza county, Lawson added.

SPUR RECEIPTS GOOD

SPUR, Special)—Postal receipts for the last quarter of 1937 were $5,407.09, best in the history of the office, Postmaster O. C. Arthur reports. Increase was a substantial one over the 1936 quarter.

STOCKHOLDERS MEET

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — Annual meeting of stockholders of the Littlefield National Farm Loan association will be held Tuesday, said J. S. Hilliard, secretary-treasurer. A large attendance is expected.

BACK TO SPUR

SPUR, (Special)—B. T. Dewveall, formerly of Levelland and at one time a resident of Dickens county, has returned here and has leased the new Phillips service station.

Dixie Leading In Cattle Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Agriculture department surveys showed today that Southern states have outstripped the nation as a whole in expansion of the beef and milk cattle industry since inauguration of the farm adjustment programs in 1933.

The number of all cattle, including dairy, in 13 Southern states increased from 18,616,000 in 1922 to 20,051,000 in 1937, while the number in the nation as a whole increased only 906,000 to a 1937 total of 66,676,000.

Number Of Cattle Up

The number of dairy cattle increased 4.3 per cent in the South compared with one-fifth of one per cent for the nation as a whole.

Officials said further expansion in the South might be prevented if the amendment of Rep. Boileau (Prog-Wis) to the administration's new farm control legislation is retained by congress. Secretary Wallace has urged its defeat.

The amendment would deny benefits of farm programs to growers who used land diverted from cotton, corn, wheat, rice and tobacco for production of soil-conserving crops used to feed livestock and dairy cattle and products for market.

The number of cattle in Southern states in 1932 and 1937, respectively, included: Arkansas, 1,015,000 and 1,084,000; Louisiana, 920,000 and 1,045,000; Oklahoma, 220,000 and 2,252,000; Texas, 6,890,000 and 7,547,000.

Oberlin was the first college to admit women.

Annual Loan Session Is Set For Tuesday

Annual stockholder's meeting of the Lubbock National Farm Loan association will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Hilton hotel L. C. Denton, president, announced Saturday.

Besides hearing reports of the work the past year, the meeting is to select five directors; two for 3-year terms; two for two year terms and one for a year term.

Organized In 1917

The association was organized in July, 1917 and has been operating ever since. It now has outstanding loans as follows: federal land bank, 914 for $3,162,400; land commissioner, 617 for $1,035,400. The association has never ceased making loans.

"Loans through the association are available for refinancing existing indebtedness against farms and ranches; for making additional improvements and for purchase of farm and ranch lands," said R. S. Rodgers, secretary-treasurer.

W. M. Ross is vice president. Other directors are Arthur Dean and E. N. Harrison.

HAS GOOD RECORD

GRASSLAND, (Special) — Leroy Davis, a farmer near here who had about 750 acres in cotton, reports he placed 469 bales in the government cotton loan, with only three rejections.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LIGHT BULBS

Facts that everyone who buys a lamp should know in order to avoid a possible 30% loss of light

1 The true cost of light is the cost of the light bulb, plus the cost of all the current it consumes; and the cost of current is far more than the cost of the bulb.

2 Some inferior bulbs on the market waste as much as thirty cents out of every dollar spent for current. Even a 2% loss will more than wipe out any saving you might make in the purchase of so-called "bargain" bulbs. In fact, some bulbs waste so much current that they would be expensive to use if they were wrapped in a dollar bill and given away free.

3 These unknown bulbs may grow dimmer and dimmer with use. The longer they are used the more you have to pay for light. Good lamps give you all the light you pay for.

4 Inferior bulbs may burn out quickly. Slight imperfections in the filament of a bulb—too small for the human eye to see—may cause inferior bulbs to burn out after only a few hours of service. Good lamps do not burn out quickly—do not waste electricity.

5 A light bulb is a delicate, precision instrument. It must be made with the highest skill and of the finest material to prevent loss of light, early burn-outs and early bulb blackening. MAZDA lamps made by General Electric undergo 480 inspections and tests to guard against the tiniest flaw or imperfection that might lower light output.

6 How can you tell a good lamp? There is only one sure and easy way: Look for a dependable trademark at the end of the bulb. If you find the G. E. Trade-Mark you will know that you get all the light you pay for.

"Truck Week" To Be Observed In City

In co-operation with fellow dealers the nation over, Kuykendall Chevrolet company here will make its first public display of 1938 Chevrolet trucks as a part of "National Truck Week," Walter Alderson, manager, said yesterday.

Latest developments in delivery and haulage equipment will be displayed at Kuykendall showrooms, 13th street and Avenue K. "National Truck Week," Alderson said, is the outgrowth of interest shown in new displays of trucks at the New York and Chicago automobile shows and at the national truck show in Newark last November.

The new Chevrolet truck line includes six series of commercial cars and trucks, comprising a wide range of different body styles. There are two models for light delivery, built on the Master passenger car chassis, and a wide selection on the heavier 1-2-ton, 3-4 ton, 1-ton, and 1 1-2 ton chassis. The 1 1-2-ton models are available on both a 131 1-2 inch wheelbase and a 157-inch wheelbase chassis, Alderson said.

CAUSES OF AIR ACCIDENTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An eight months' study of airline accidents has been completed by the Commonwealth club. Primary causes of plane crashes were listed as pilots' errors, too much dependence on blind flying, and failure or inadequacy of ground personnel. The latter item included both private and government weather services.

TARZAN'S QUEST, No. 157 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Jane was horrified as she saw the Kavuru warrior lift his spear to plunge it into Tarzan's back. A warning scream burst from her trembling lips. At the same moment a pistol barked. The warrior fell, and Tarzan turned to see Brown holding a smoking gun.

Jane leaped from the dais and ran to the yearning sanctuary of Tarzan's arms. They stood thus clasped in silence; their joy was too great for words. Then Brown saw Annette among the girls beside the dais. In a moment they, too, rushed to rapturous embrace.

Then an excited black girl separated herself from the huddled group and ran to Tarzan. "O, Big Bwana, it is you!" she sobbed happily; "at last I am saved." The Jungle Lord smiled, for this was Buira, daughter of Muviro, hereditary chief of the Waziri.

Then the ape-man's smile melted into a grave frown. "Come," he said to his friends, "we must hurry. Soon the Kavuru warriors will recover their wits and attack us. In any battle between us, they will surely win. Their victory can mean only death for us!"
