Robinson Pleads For Retention Of Flexible Tariff

Democratic Leader Offers Views for Quick Remedy For Correcting Mistakes In Rates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP) — Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, said in the senate today that those urging retention of the flexible provisions in the pending tariff bill as a "prompt remedy" for correcting mistakes in rates between seasons of congress were speaking without foundation in either fact or consistency for supporting their conclusions.

Robinson opened the fourth day of debate on the clause which authorizes the president to change duties up or down within a range of 50 per cent after investigation by the tariff commission.

Although President Hoover has thrown his influence behind retention of the provision, a vote on the question is expected to be close. Republican leaders look for this vote early next week.

Robinson took issue with the portion of Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, that the real question was whether the flexible principle should be continued.

Net Quick Method
The flexible provision, Robinson contended, never had proved a quick method of giving emergency rates and never could as long as the rest of production formula was used. In most cases, he said, it took the commission two years to report on applications for duty changes. After all that time, he added, the president often refuses to act on the reports.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee placed in the record a letter from the American Farm Bureau Federation favoring the flexible principle, but urging a liberalization to permit the president to take action from and place them on the free list.

HAMER PLEASED

BORGER, Tex., Sept. 27. (AP) — "Good! Fine!" was Ranger Captain Frank Hamer's only comment when informed Governor Dan Moody was soon to issue a proclamation declaring Hutchinson county under martial law. Other Rangers were silent.

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR

SEPT. 28, 1929

General Topic: Quarterly Review. Scripture Lesson: Golden Texts of each lesson during quarter.

Lesson 1. As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Ezekiel 33:11.

Lesson 2.—Each one of us shall give account of himself to God.—Romans 14:12.

Lesson 3.—Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end.—Isaiah 9:7.

Lesson 4. They that are wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever.—Daniel 12:3.

Lesson 5. Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot.—Ephesians 5:18.

Lesson 6. The angel of Jehovah compasseth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.—Psalm 34:7.

Lesson 7. Jehovah hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.—Psalm 126:3.

Lesson 8. I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of Jehovah.—Psalm 122:1.

Lesson 9. The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him, his good.—Ezra 8:22.

Lesson 10.—The people had a mind to work.—Nehemiah 4:6.

Lesson 11. The opening of thy words giveth light.—Psalm 119:130.

Lesson 12. Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me.—Malachi 3:1.

Golden Text: The loving kindness of Jehovah is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children.—Psalm 103:17.

Introduction.

Our review lesson on the significance of the exile and the restoration closes the six months' course of study of the Prophetic Teaching and Leadership of Judah. This quarter's lessons covered a period of 200 years, beginning with the captivity which started six centuries before Christ and closing with the prophesy of Malachi which took place four centuries before the Christian era.

Lesson Selections.

Study passages from the quarter have been taken from the following six books of the Bible: Ezra, Nehemiah, Psalm, Ezekiel, Daniel and Malachi.

Biography.

The most outstanding characters in the lessons: Ezekiel, Daniel, Zerubbabel, Ezra, Nehemiah and Malachi, with Nehemiah as the Babylonian monarch and Cyrus the Persian king.

Principal Teachings.

(1) Causes of national decline.

(2) Whips that God uses.

(3) Chastened of God.

(4) Conditions of recovery from a fall.

(5) Religious reformers, represented by Zerubbabel.

(6) Educational reformers, represented by Ezra.

(7) Civic reformers, represented by Nehemiah.

Central Truths.

Because God loves his people he chastens them, and his chastening is as severe as his love is great.

Point of Contact.

The viewpoint of the review should be that of an approach to a study of the providences of God, the unfolding of his ways and words to men both by precept and experience in the case of both the individual and the nation.

A Fall and Restoration.

Aside from the elective purpose and grace of God, one's recovery from a fall is possible only when there is in his heart a residuum of piety on which a reconstruction can be based. When a bad man collapses he stays down because he has struck his level. A good man comes sore and his afflictions point him back to God. Contrast the Jews with ancient Greeks and Romans. There was a restoration of the Jews but none of ancient Greece or Rome, because in the latter peoples there were not the elements of personal righteousness on which a revival could be brought about.

The Twelve Lessons.

Ezekiel was the first name we considered. We had three lessons related to him. 1. The story of Ezekiel—A Prophet Pastor.

2. Ezekiel Teaches Responsibility.

3. Ezekiel's Vision of Hope—The Cure for the World's Ills.

Both Ezekiel and Daniel were carried away in captivity to Babylon and both are regarded as major prophets. We had three lessons related to Daniel.

4. The Story of Daniel—His Character and Career.

5. Belshazzar's Feast—Reveling and Ruin.

6. Daniel Among the Lions—The Courage of Faith.

In connection with the return (note the plural) we considered four great names—Cyrus, who gave the permission, and Zerubbabel who led the first great return of about 50,000 exiles; Ezra, the prophet, who did not care for a military escort for the second return; and Nehemiah, the military leader of the third return. Under the favor and authority of Cyrus, Zerubbabel led the first and main return of the exiles and together with Joshua, the high priest, had supervised the laying of the foundations of the Temple. When the work lagged the two prophets, Haggai and Zechariah, spurred the people on. Eighty years after the first return, Ezra led the second. About 13 years after the second, Nehemiah led out from Babylon a third group, and upon arriving at Jerusalem he organized and inspired the discouraged people and supervised the rebuilding of the city walls. Upon the completion of the walls, Ezra (the same Ezra who led the second returning group) led in a great revival of the study of God's law. The series of lessons closed with Malachi's Portentelling the Coming of a New Day.

God's purpose in history is seen.

In His dealing with Israel, He selected Israel to be a kingdom of priests among the nations, to bear testimony concerning Him among all the nations of the earth. He guided Israel in a special way, enabled her to fight her battles, protected her in time of danger, and showed His favor by the manifold blessings showered upon her from day to day. When we turn to the histories of other nations we cannot fail to see God's guiding hand.

Some "Ifs" of History.

"If," says Gibbon, if, at the battle of Tours, the Saracen host had been triumphant, the Arabian fleet might have sailed without a naval combat into the mouth of the Thames. Moslem doctors might now be teaching the doctrine of Omar in the quadrangles of Oxford, and the pulpits of England might be demonstrating to a circumcised people the sanctity of the revelation of Mohammed. If, says Dr. Huxley, in his Deeds That Won the Empire, if Napoleon had succeeded at Trafalgar, the fate of the world would have been changed. "Nobody can read these formidable

Battle of Waterloo; if he Armada had been triumphant, and so on—without feeling that there is some stupendous force working through the episodes of history.

The great events on which the lives of men and nations hang are not determined by the twists of chance or by the freaks of fate. Nations do not rise and fall by chance. Battles are not decided by big battalions. Like stars in their orbits the mighty movements of men are marshalled and directed. The chariots of history are not running wild the reins trailing loosely over the horses' backs. They are driven, firmly driven, skillfully driven; and driven by a divine hand.

Yet I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs, And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns.

Truth forever on the scaffold, wrong forever on the throne.—Yet that scaffold sways the future, and behind the dim unknown, Standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above His own.—Tennyson.

Fleagle Gang Is Sought In Death

Three men thought to be members of the notorious Fleagle gang of outlaws, were sought throughout California today for the slaying of a constable in holding up a bank at Rodeo yesterday.

The bandits escaped with $35,000 after mortally wounding Constable Arthur J. McDonald, who chanced to stroll into the bank during the holdup. McDonald was ordered to put up his hands, but he shot instead, wounding one of the bandits possibly fatally.

Witnesses of the robbery, shown photographs of Jake Fleagle, leader of the desperate band which last year robbed the bank of Lamar, Colo., of more than $200,000 and killed four men, said he was one of the trio.

Sherman Matron Is Awarded Honors In Camp Fire

By LILIAN CAMPBELL

Although she has no daughters of her own, only four sons, Mrs. Mila Hall of Sherman, Tex., was recently awarded the Harriman medal for 1929-30 for outstanding Camp Fire work. The award was made during the Camp Fire Girls national convention held in Omaha.

Miss Florence Hughes, national president, presented the medal to Mrs. Hall. Miss Edith Kempthorne, national field secretary, headed the committee which awarded the medal. Mrs. Hall accepted the medal "on behalf of 'my girls,' she said, although she did not feel that she had really done anything unusual in Camp Fire work. She expects her sons to marry some day, she said, and for that reason she was interested in providing wholesome and educational amusement for young girls.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MISS HELENA RUBINSTEIN

The hands that have grasped rein, club and racket all summer long must now grace fine faces and filmy chiffons. For the world of woman has gone feminine with a vengeance! And hands that were attractive in the summer because of their nut brown strength, are completely out of place hovering over the tea table or idly flitting with a feather fan.

But while the world has gone feminine, it hasn't become an idle world. Women will do just as much this winter as ever before—perhaps more! Hands will be busy, whether they are the hands of social leaders, of professional or business women or of the housewife. Busy hands can be beautiful, for a little care, a little thought will keep them soft and white and charmingly feminine. Such a little care will make a world of difference, for not use, but neglect robs hands of their loveliness!

If you do your own housework—keep a pair of rubber gloves handy and wear them for almost every household task except for cooking. Many women do use rubber gloves for dish washing but never think to put them on when polishing or dusting to protect their hands from dust and furniture polish.

Whether you are a housewife or a woman whose hands never see the dishpan, before going to bed.

He probably still thinks of feminine beauty in terms of curves and of sex appeal as something which creates a furtive guilty feeling.

STANDARDS OF "IT" Who should the young man of today, brought up in the age of the flat-chested, scantily clad, straightforward, boyish little flapper, have any romantic ideas about the "diamond girl" figure of the Klondike days? It seems to me just as natural for one of today's youths to argue that no woman with a rigid corseted figure, rats in her hair, a bustle and an artificial manner could ever attract him in the least.

This whole question of one generation's trying to set standards for another is the same one that is at the basis of the old question "Why children leave home."

Whether it is ideas on locomotion, sex appeal, what constitutes a good dinner, or style in dress, the years bring such changed ideals that what was accepted as correct yesterday may be all wrong tomorrow.

Therefore, it is only the rare occasion when one generation can set standards for another. Even morals and religion change, proving that nothing in life is static and absolute. It is a brave person, therefore, who defines criteria for himself and then declares them universal.

FLYING CO-EDS. New York University has opened a department of aviation for women. This is the first university that has met the growing demand on the part of women to learn to fly. It probably will be followed by similar universities and before we know it, thousands of young daughters will be asking, "Mother, may I go out to fly?"

The universal appeal of the air to youth is much written about. I find myself wondering why no one says much of the mother and father behind each changed ideal that have put a couple of decades into loving and caring for said youngster, only to see him or her rush to the air, and possible wreckage.

Surely parents deserve a word of high praise for the way they have made themselves say, "Hiss off! My children have a right to live their own lives and even lose them, if they will."

That children have such a right every rational person knows. But it seems to me that being a wise parent today is much harder than in the early bicycle days, for instance. That there are so many wise parents abroad today indicates to me a growing universal belief in individual freedom that is bound to make bigger persons of folk.

Arly A Well Day In 10 Years

Marillo Man Says Wife Feels Fine After Taking Two Bottles Of Orgatone

My wife has been ill for about 10 years with stomach and liver trouble," said G. H. Griffin of 2301 W. Sixth, Amarillo, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative.

Doctors told us that she had a bad liver, she always felt tired, sluggish and worn out and didn't have any energy or feel like doing anything. She would have terrible gas which would effect her heart. What little food she ate she would vomit and made miserable for hours afterward.

She had a bad case of constipation and suffered from headaches. She was always tired and felt like she had done a big day's work when she didn't do much of anything.

We saw Orgatone advertised so many times and heard so many people talking about it, we decided that we would try the medicine for her and it has proven so in her case. Her stomach and liver trouble is a thing of the past now, and she is getting her old energy back. She has more energy and strength than she has had in several years. She feels fine during the day and now is able to do part of her work and is getting stronger every day. We think Orgatone is wonderful. It has proven so in my wife's case and I am glad to recommend it.

Orgatone may be bought at Lubbock at Bowers Drug Store.

Technical Topics from Texas Tech

BY FAY FOOTE
Tech College Staff Correspondent

DR. HORN SPEAKS

"The College World" was the subject of Dr. P. W. Horn's annual address to the student body at the first convocation of the year. Dr. Horn's address to the students was to learn to adjust themselves to the new surroundings which they found at college and to apply themselves to what they are interested in.

ENROLLMENT LARGER

A check on the enrollment of the college showed it to be 1873 at the end of the first three days of enrollment. Later registration swelled the total to almost 1900. A larger increase is expected throughout the year as the students register for special courses. This is an increase of 300 over the number of students registered this time last year.

ARENA RITAS ELECT

New members of Arena Ritass, girls pep organization, who were elected Wednesday afternoon are: Cornelia Neadora, Lily Zora, Marguerite Rayzor, Evelyn Shuler, Francis Livingston, Louise Sneed, Connie Matthews, Margaret Whaley, Kathleen Conrad, Eddy Miller, Evelyn Hardin, Lois Wilson, Hazel Vase, Kay Stallins, Katherine Teveler, Joy Welch, Faye Chamberlain, Maxine Bradley, Daisy Lockwood, Geneva Collins, Louise Arrington, Blanche Howard, Margaret Hix, Allene Cunningham, Marie Warren, Edna Finkle Davis, Florine Leslie, Edwin Tavel, Maxine Gwin, Irma Dee Tatum.

A letter tea will be given by the pep squad Friday, October 24, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the home of Miss Mable Irwin, Dean Margaret Weeks and Dean Mary W. Doak.

The girls will make their initial appearance at the second game of the year played in Lubbock.

TICKETS ON SALE

Students who have not yet purchased their student activity tickets for this year may do so at the business office. According to a member of the athletic council, the council is very anxious to sell all of the tickets possible before Saturday afternoon.

La Ventana sales during registration totaled 1467. Holmes Webb, editor of the college annual, expressed the opinion that the sales would be 1500 for the year. Plans for the book are being made by experienced members of the staff. A modernistic design is to be used throughout. Art work will be under the direction of Dr. F. A. Klein-schmidt and will be done for the most part by free hand art classes. Color motifs will be used throughout.

SATURDAY'S ACTIVITIES

Tonight at 8 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Horn will hold a reception for the student body in the round- da of the administration building. Immediately following the reception will be the first all-college dance of the year.

The first football game of the season will be this afternoon. It will be with Wayland college, Plainview.

STUDENT DIRECTORY

The student directory will not be released until after October 15. The delay is caused because the editors want the book to contain all names of students and their correct phone numbers and addresses. The list will be a permanent one in so far as the editors can make it so.

Corporations Are Submitted In Row

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—Approximately 130 names of corporations dealing in lumber, located in the south, the Great Lakes region and a few in the west, were submitted to the treasury today on behalf of Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, who desires to obtain information from the companies' tax returns for use in consideration of the tariff.

The list was in addition to a revised list of 400 corporations already sent the treasury by the senate finance committee.

New List Made.
The new list included:

Matadors Open Season Against Wayland Here Today

Tech Squad Keyed Up To High Pitch For Opening Battle Of 5th Campaign For Institution's Gridiron Cohorts

Knowles and Dewitt Named Co-Captains of Matador Eleven; Pair Will Alternate In Games

Keyed up to an unprecedented pitch for their opening football game of the season, the Texas Tech Matadors set forth on their fifth gridiron campaign today with the highly-touted Wayland College Jackrabbits on hand to furnish a severe test for the first product of the Higginbotham-Payne tutelage.

Winding up their training Friday afternoon with light exercises on the practice field, the Matadors went into their final huddle last night and named H. C. (Chubby) Dewitt and Sidney Knowles co-captains of the Tech eleven. Following the gigantic pep rally held in the gymnasium with the entire student body on hand, the members of the football squad went into a spirited session that will not soon be forgotten.

Dewitt and Knowles were named as the 1939 Matador leaders with both receiving the same number of votes. According to the plans of both coaches and players, one will serve in the capacity of captain in today's game and the other will lead the team to battle in the second. The captain for today's fracas was not named last night.

Head Coach Higginbotham was unable to announce last night the starting lineup for the game. The Tech member added that the majority of men on the squad are likely to see action in the tilt. So bitter has been the fight for positions on the Matador eleven that every member of the squad still stands a chance of making the club, Coach Higginbotham explained.

Jackrabbits Fearful. Opposing the Matadors today is a veteran aggregation of gridiron busters that will average 10 pounds heavier than the Tech footballers. Coach Kinslow, of the Jackrabbits, the Tech eleven the strongest football team that has ever gone out from the Plainview institution. In their previous game this season, the Rabbits battled the Canyon Buffs to a scoreless tie, but according to all reports, should have taken the decision.

The kickoff comes at 2 o'clock.

Rotan Gridders Lose To Snyder

SNYDER, Sept. 27.—The Snyder High School Tigers defeated the Rotan High School Yellow Hammers, 20 to 6, here this afternoon in the first conference football game of the season. The game was played before a crowd of about 4,000, at the Scurry county fair park.

The locals showed considerable more punch today than last week in the Scurry game. Snyder's Rotan last week defeated Hamilton but was powerless before the onslaught of the fighting Tigers. Bedford, McClintock, G. L. Ruston, Buddy Martin, Clark and Captain Tryer showed up for Snyder, while Captain Hardy and Abernethy starred for Rotan. Snyder made 10 first downs and Rotan made two.

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 27.—Coe Sam Houston Teachers' team, defeated 39 yards through the Leon Morris eleven for a touchdown on the opening kickoff of the game, which the Teachers won 19 to 2 today.

He also scored the other two Sam Houston touchdowns, galloping 45 yards for the second. Blevins and Black starred for Leon Morris.

Louisville Ready For Legion Meet

City Prepares Welcome For Vanguard Of Legionnaires In National Convention To Begin Monday

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 27.—Packed in holiday dress and with flags flying from almost every building, Louisville tonight was prepared to welcome the vanguard of American Legion visitors here for the national convention, which begins Monday.

The first ceremony of the convention, preliminary activities will be the official welcome tomorrow morning to commander Paul V. McNitt, of Indianapolis. Seventy-five legionnaires, including state department commanders, have been ordered to welcome commander McNitt.

Past National Commander Howard P. Savage wired he would arrive Sunday.

Four hundred Louisville patrolmen and members of the protective bureau will be assigned by some 500 members of the national guard in handling the crowds. The downtown district will be turned over to the legionnaires, traffic and parking in that section being forbidden.

Both Governor F. M. Stinson of Kentucky and Mayor Harrison issued proclamations urging all business houses to close Tuesday, the day of the parade. Some 3,000 marchers are expected to take part.

SAN MARCOS 28, S. F. AUSTIN 7.—The San Marcos Teachers' college eleven trounced Stephen F. Austin Teachers' college 24 to 7 here today in the opening game of the T. I. A. A. conference. The crowd was one of the largest ever to assemble at an early season game on Evans' field.

The local eleven exhibited great offensive power and had the game well in hand at all times.

Jimmy And Al Succeed Ruth As Series Slugging Threats

There will be no Ruth to terrify National league pitchers in the coming world's series, but Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons, Philadelphia clubbers, will be there to shoot for home run territory.

BY JAY VESSELS

Associated Press Feature Service

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Absence of Babe Ruth doesn't necessarily mean that pitchers of the championship National league team won't have to show against some stellar American league sluggers.

Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons

both among the first four in the junior league home run race, are set to begin banging away at anything and everything the Cub sharpshooters have to offer.

Neither can pound out homers like the Babe, who annihilated St.

Louis Cardinals pitching in the 1928

classic to the tune of a record-breaking 423 batting average.

But both Jimmy and Al are great distance hitters and they are the boys the Chicago fingers will have to soap. Both currently will finish with season averages in excess of 350 and that is hitting

Simmons is the A's senior slugger. He has been bagging a respectable number of homers ever since that "root-in-the-bucket" stance broke into the American league.

Yip Foxx has been outslugging

Simmons most of the season and not only has been runner-up to Ruth for home run honors, but also paced his hard-hitting teammates in batting until he struck an early September slump.

Jimmy and Al are right-handed batters. That may handicap them a bit since the Cubs are so strong on right-handed pitching.

One of them may fall, but you couldn't convince a Philadelphia fan that Joe McCarthy's pitchers have much of a chance against this pair of Mackian celebrities.

Waggoner Pleads Not Guilty When Arraigned Friday

Bail Of $100,000 Set For Colorado Man On Charges Of Defrauding Six New York Banks

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Charles D. Waggoner, bank president of Telluride, Colorado, today pleaded not guilty to a federal indictment charging mail fraud in connection with the manipulations by which he defrauded six New York banks of $300,000.

His bail of $100,000 was continued and that was set for October 4.

Accompanied by lawyers, Waggoner was accompanied by two attorneys at his arraignment.

Four of his relatives who had come here in answer to federal subpoenas to appear before the grand jury were not in court.

C. E. Downman, former cashier of Waggoner's bank, and Harry Miller, a Telluride barber, two other witnesses brought here from Colorado in the federal investigation, saw Waggoner before he entered the room and exchanged greetings.

Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney had sought an earlier date for Waggoner's trial, suggesting next Tuesday. He pleaded that the Colorado witnesses who were allowed only $5 a day expenses should be "shown some consideration."

The defense counsel objected, however, and Judge T. Blake Kennedy, of Cheyenne, Wyo., who is sitting temporarily in this district, set the date a week from today, telling Waggoner's attorneys that if they needed additional time to prepare their case they may apply for a postponement at that time.

Waggoner failing to raise the bail, was returned to the federal house of detention where he has been held since he was brought here Wednesday night.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

The Senate continued vigorous debate on the flexible provision of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill with a vote probable early next week.

The Senate Agriculture committee examined C. B. Deussen and Charles S. Wilson, with a view to reporting on their confirmation as members of the Federal Farm board.

The senate naval investigating committee put the naval members of the American delegation to the 1937 Geneva arms limitation conference on notice that they would be called to testify.

CURB RECKLESSNESS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27.—In a drive to curb increasing recklessness of San Antonio motorists, an 11-year-old ordinance has been invoked by Mayor C. M. Chambers.

Operators of public vehicles must make $10,000 bond, hereafter, Mayor Chambers has ordered.

The city passed an ordinance in 1918 providing license and bond for cars for public use, but the ordinance had never been enforced.

Mayor Chambers said.

Oldest Stagecoach Station, Born Of Early Romance, Survives In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27.—Although roads beaten to its door in the past generations have been erased, the oldest stage coach station surviving in this part of the southwest is still in service.

Into the scrapheap of the new era have gone the once shining coaches, the rumbling wagons and the smart victorias that 70 years ago beat a trail to the George Von Phele stage coach station on the Boerne road near San Antonio.

Born Of Romance

The station was born of romance and nourished by necessity. Von Phele, so the story goes, courted a lady-in-waiting to the empress of Austria. The courtship was frowned upon by the emperor. And so one day Von Phele and his sweetheart eloped into Poland, at that time antagonistic to Austria, and forming a refuge for the young Austrian. But a treaty between the two countries enabled the emperor to seek return of his unruly subject.

The fugitive and his bride fled to America. It was in 1850 that Von Phele built the first stage coach station here and established a freighting route from San Antonio to Chihuahua, Mexico.

Houses Intact

Built of rock, the several houses that comprise the original settlement remain intact and in use by George Alquist. Roofs of the buildings are very steep, for the Austrians had lived in a country where heavy snows fell.

On a hillside near the old houses Von Phele and his wife and son are buried. The son, Frederick, died without heirs, and the name of Von Phele ended, leaving only memories to tell of its romance.

Large Panther Which Terrorized Hays County Citizens Killed After Search

DRIPPING SPRINGS, Texas, Sept. 27.—A large panther, whose scalp had been sought for many months, has been killed. It had terrorized Hays county citizens and devoured many cattle, sheep, goats and fowls.

The panther was seen near an old well here and Joe Jones and J. B. Dickenson pursued it for several hours before the fatal shot was fired.

Devouring Turkey

The hunters came upon it while it was devouring a large turkey gobbler. They walked within 50 feet of it before opening fire. After it had been wounded the panther turned upon its attackers for a last battle and was stopped only with a second volley from the two guns.

Early in the summer the panther came upon a party of motorists on a road near here and forced the occupants of the auto to flee. It sprang into the car after the occupants had escaped and demolished the upholstery and cushions.

Several nights later it killed a number of sheep on a single farm. A large posse of men, headed by Sheriff Allen of Hays county, with trained hounds undertook to run the panther down but the dogs were routed in a fight.

WOULD CHANGE CALENDAR

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27.—Calendar changes that would do away with the observance of Sunday as a day of rest and religious worship are opposed in a resolution adopted by West Texas Presbytery at a recent session here.

The Presbytery will hold its next session in Beville.

Berlin Mayor's Welcome Fizzled

NEA New York, Bureau. His welcome went astray. New York was prepared to give a rousing ovation to Gustave Boess, visiting mayor of Berlin. But his ship got in ahead of time, the welcoming committee was late in getting to the pier, and here you see the Herr Oberbürgermeister, evidently amused at the mix-up in arrangements, as he arrived unheralded in the metropolis to pay back the call Mayor Jimmy Walker made upon him in Berlin some time ago.

As Syria Seethed With Religious Turmoil

While squadrons of armed troops waited in side streets to prevent open violence, throngs of shouting chameleons milled through Beirut, Syria, in a great anti-Zionist demonstration. The anti-Zionist one is pictured above as banners excoriated "Down With the Jews—Up With the Moslems" were strewn through the streets on the shoulders of fanatic religiousists. Some Christians, wearing the fez which the ordinary headgear in Syria, took part in the demonstration.

Celebrate Paving Work Completion

Old Spanish Trail Is Hard Surfaced From Rosenberg and East Bernard; Governor To Participate

EAST BERNARD, Sept. 27.—Celebrating completion of hard surfacing on the Old Spanish Trail between Rosenberg and East Bernard and Highway 69 between here and Wharton, residents of this section will stage a jubilee program at the American Legion park here Oct. 1.

Gov. Dan Moody, R. S. Sterling, chairman of the state highway board and several state officials, have been invited. The governor and highway chief are scheduled speakers.

Form Motorcade

A caravan of 500 automobiles forming a motorcade from Florida to California over the old Spanish Trail, is due to reach East Bernard the day of the celebration. Several thousand motorists are being ordered to provide barbecue for the crowd. A football game, a rodeo, a dance and music will be included in the program.

County officials of both Fort Bend and Wharton counties will join in the observance. Representatives of every town between Houston and San Antonio on the Old Spanish Trail are expected.

For years East Bernard was separated from Rosenberg by a 17 mile stretch of black hard road, made impassable by a light rain. Highway 69 is being completed with asphalt paving.

Franklin Walker, of Elton, has re-entered Tech college where he will be a sophomore this winter.

NOTICE—It is the intention of The Morning Avalanche to use the information on the character of various knowledge, and through error or omission, the management will appreciate any corrections or additions to the news, and will gladly correct any errors or omissions.

The Morning Avalanche is an independent Democratic newspaper, according to its editorial columns the principles which it adheres to are to bring and opposing those conditions which it deems to be in the interest of the public, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and truth. And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him. For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart and knoweth all things.—1 John 3:18-20.

THE GREAT PARTY SEASON

THE more entertaining in their first six months in the White House than the Coolidges did in the seven years they spent beneath those historic eaves. The Morning Avalanche wonders if that is any recommendation?

It has long been the opinion of the publication that the man in the street feels there is too much play and too little work in official Washington. Further, this newspaper is still of the opinion that our officials, from the lowest to the highest, are sent to the capital primarily to work rather than to balance tea-traps and to use an important "bust cookies."

Autumn is gathering in the part of the United States in which is located District of Columbia. That means that the social season is just around the corner and that "it won't be long now" until every afternoon and every evening will be chock-full of teas, dances, balls and banquets. How official Washington accomplishes anything at all during the partying months is hard to understand.

Of course the country gets a kick out of such follies as the Gann-Longworth seating controversy and the disgusting episode of the Defreest fold-out. But generally speaking most of us would rather see fewer parties and more busy labor under the shadow of the capitol's dome.

They may poke fun at Calvin Coolidge for failing to entertain every evening during his stay in the White House. They may call him "short" and attribute Scotch stories to him. But The Morning Avalanche can't help but feel that the rank and file of Americans appreciate the horse sense of the man from Massachusetts who chose to work more and play less than many of his predecessors.

AN AUTO DANGER

Carbon monoxide as the deadly fumes thrown off by the exhaust of an automobile has become so great a menace to the automobile-using public that the government agencies and life and accident insurance companies are taking preventive measures. There is a real cause for concern in this invisible peril.

Knowing the evil is half its extinction in this era of invention and scientific research and the motorists may conveniently expect the early elimination of the treacherous monoxide gas. Science will eventually solve the problem.

But while the chemists and automobile engineers are scratching their heads over the solution the public can attend the same desired result by the exercise of a little care. Ventilation is the arch enemy of poisonous exhaust gases. There is danger in running the engine in a closed garage. Keep the garage doors open while the motor is running. There is danger in poorly ventilated vehicles, tunnels where automobile traffic is heavy. Construction engineers and the overseers of such tunnels must see to it that the ventilating systems are adequate for their new duty.

Caution has solved many problems created by the growth of the automobile and is just as effective in the monoxide gas problem. Lives are being saved by those organizations which have undertaken to warn the public of this menace.

LET MR. CHILD STEP UP AND TELL

In a letter to Senator Borah, Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, says investigation of the Shearer matter "should also extend to lobbies carried on by employees of church organizations and of fanatic pacifist machines which do not make plain the sources of their funds or prove their freedom from relationship with radical alien internationalists, or with foreign-inspired propaganda states in various relations and defenses."

Mr. Child's literary style is not what it once was, but we gather from his various clauses that he knows of the existence of lobbies carried on by employees of church organizations which are provided with funds from unknown but suspected sources; and that these church organizations have some relations with "radical alien internationalists" and with "foreign-inspired propaganda."

Do we take it that Mr. Child has volunteered to tell what he knows? At least this seems to be the proper time for the investigating committee to invite Mr. Child to come before it and testify. There has been a lot of irresponsible talk by big name people about "fanatic pacifists" and "alien-inspired propaganda," but we have never seen a scintilla of evidence in support of their existence. Mr. Child writes as one having knowledge. Let him produce it. Who are the foreigners inspiring the propaganda?

WARNING TO INVESTORS

The Better Business Bureau does what it can to keep incautious fingers from the fire. Its latest contribution to public education is a plain warning against stock promotions in the new business of aviation, which range from the dreams of hopeless "millionaires" to the most crassly dishonest swindles. This adds an unprejudiced confirmation to the opinion of many financial experts and aeronautical authorities that a proportion of "stocksteering" has gone into the generous financing of the new industry of an enthusiastic and optimistic public.

The bureau states that practically all of its district branches report trouble with dishonest or incompetent flying schools. These fakers are perhaps more vicious than the plausible promoters of paper airplanes and airways or those who gain control of reputable aviation enterprises and inflate them into balloons for the stock market. Their victims are usually investors, and their operation imperils human life. In many states they can do business just beyond the range of legislation and take their enormous profits from the pockets of those whose enthusiasm for aviation outruns their judgment and experience. The Better Business Bureau is rendering a service to aviation and the public when it speaks out against this company of unscrupulous which follows after every one and swindles industry.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

STEWART PREDICTS MORE TROUBLE IN NORTH CAROLINA TEXTILE WAR

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Vehement communistophobes were insisting—when I was in the North Carolina textile region last July—that the communist fomenters of the preceding few months of labor troubles in Dr. D. C. O. F. Aderholt in one of the clashes at Gastonia for the election of a dozen or so of their agitators, as martyrs to their cause.

If the radicals really had such an idea, talks I had with them make me certain they could rely on the communistophobes to improve on it, by prefacing it with the cold-blooded shooting of an innocent woman, merely trying to attend a mill workers' meeting to listen to strike oratory.

However, the communistophobes not only did it, but so stage-managed the affair as to give it its maximum effect, without the slightest help from the radicals except that they had arranged to provide the meeting which furnished the excuse for the tragedy.

Chief Aderholt—even if it is assumed that the radicals killed him, which they deny—was, at any rate, on the premises which they legally occupied, and under circumstances which enable them to spread that he fell while leading an unlawful raid.

Nevertheless, all of them were promptly rounded up and held without bail, upon first degree murder charges.

Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, the communistophobe's victim, a poor striking mill hand, the mother of five children according to all the testimony was riding with a party of her fellow workers along a public road on her way to the scheduled meeting, but had already been turned back with the rest of an autoload of companions, all of whom were fleeing terror strikes when the communistophobe agitators overtook them and killed her.

Nevertheless, manslaughter was considered a sufficient charge to prefer against those arrested in connection with the Wiggins shooting, and a bond of $1,000 each was considered adequate to guarantee their appearance to answer it.

Accounts of the activities of unofficial groups of "regulators" in opposition to the communist campaign to organize the cotton mill workers in the territory about Gastonia refer somewhat inaccurately to mob law as prevalent throughout the countryside to a large turbulent, disorderly mass of people—generally of an irresponsible class, to express it mildly.

All versions of the communistophobe warfare in the Gastonia textile district have indicated that, in fact, operations have been conducted by comparatively small numbers of men—not more than 100—more properly a "posse" rather than a "mob"—efficiently lead—and again and again the expression is to be noted, including "the best people in the community."

My own visit to Gastonia left no doubt in my mind, personally, that the communistophobe alignment consists of anything but what is commonly spoken of as the "lawless element."

The town obviously had experienced an acute period of hysteria, immediately following the killing of Chief Aderholt.

This had worn off by degrees, and the citizenry plainly was suffering from an acute reaction—a fit of depression, indeed, aggravated by the circumstance that the press of the little textile center's own state had dealt none too kindly with its initial period of frenzy. It evidently felt, in short, that it had been rebuffed from a quarter whence it had a right to expect sympathy—and was nursing the hurt to its sensibilities, but boiling with resentment underneath the surface, rather than ashamed of itself.

That a great deal more trouble is ahead seems extremely likely.

The mill employers, who have fought for years to prevent organization of their workers by the relatively conservative methods of orthodox union labor, show many inclinations of being willing to accept it now, in preference to the communists' militancy.

It is not so certain that the workers will agree to the substitution.

The field plainly is one where ultra-aggressiveness was necessary to make appreciable progress; a cardinal of national proportions having been created in a few months by the radicals, where milder means had failed for a generation.

The communists' policy indisputably is rough, but the mill owners have brought it on themselves, and conditions are so bad that the chances of their own strong-arm reprisals' success is doubtful.

VALUE OF PHYSICAL INSPECTIONS SHOWN BY SCOUTS' HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

During the past summer the Boy Scouts of the world held a jamboree at Birkenhead in England. More than 30,000 Boy Scouts from all over the world were present and it is interesting to see the figures which have just been made available as to the disturbances from which they suffered.

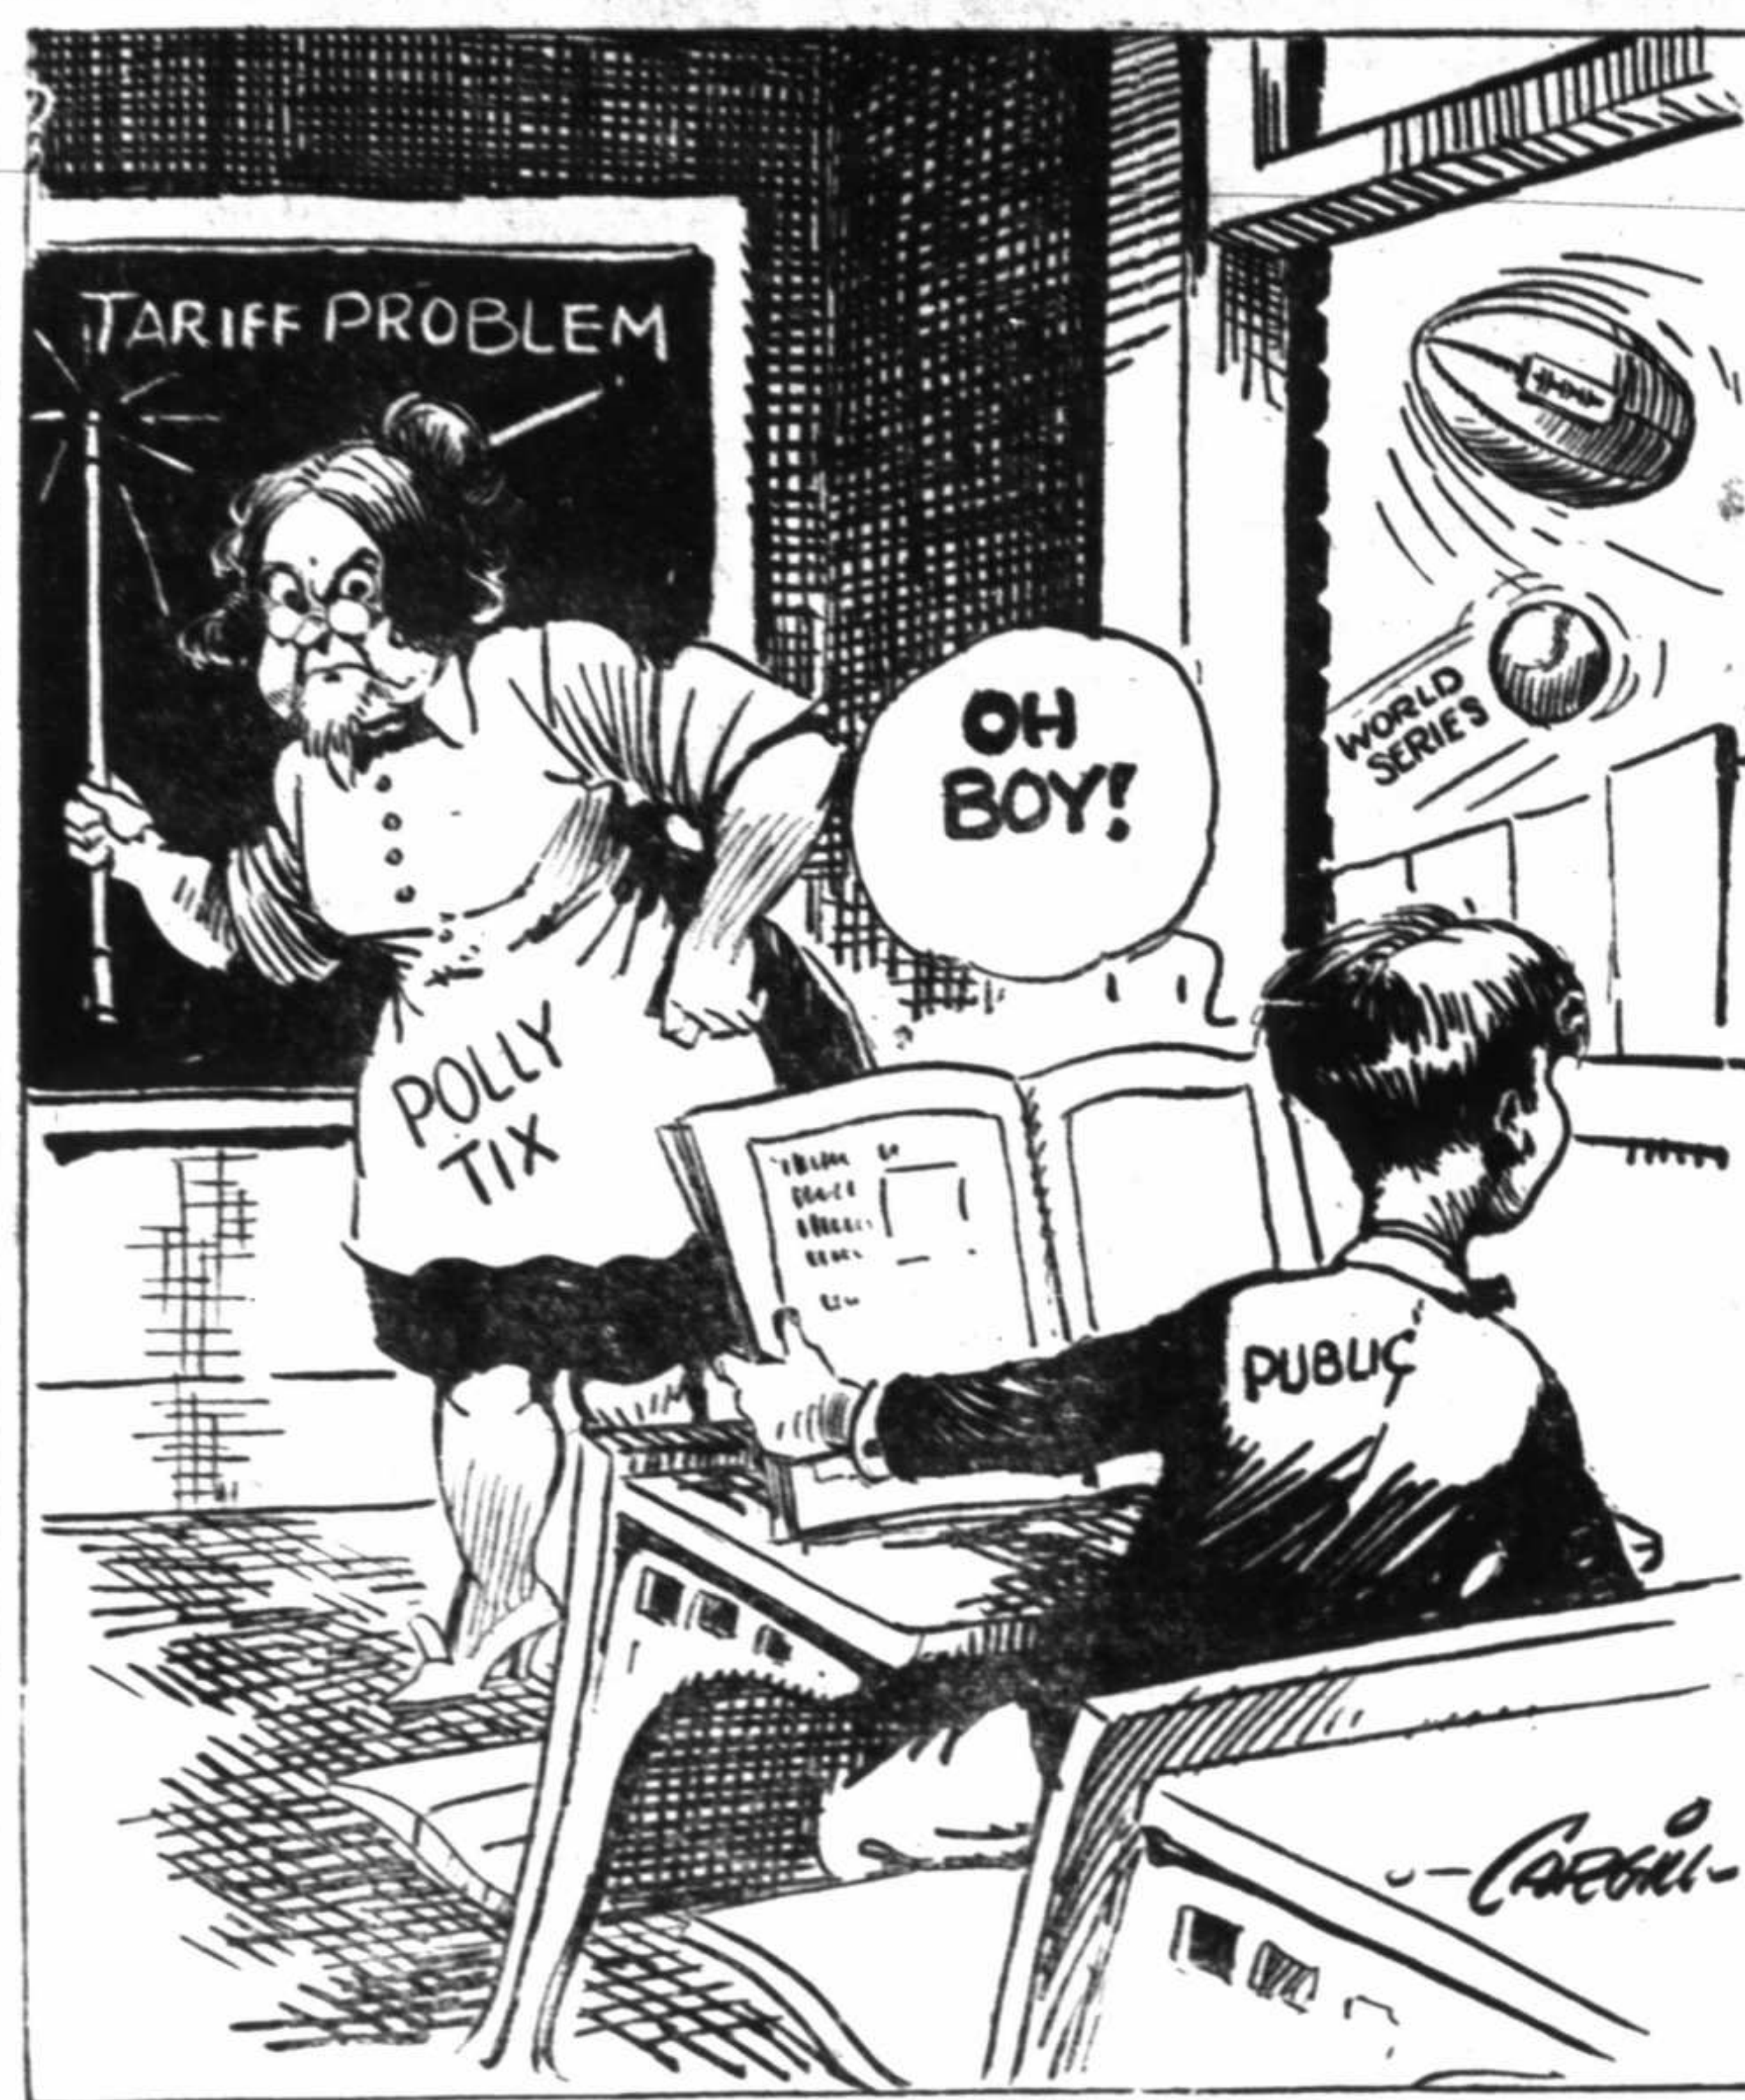

Three hundred twenty-one of them were admitted to the hospital established in connection with the camp. Of the 321, 52 had to be sent to permanent hospitals because their illnesses were serious, and of the 32, nine were infectious diseases.

The most common illness from which the boys suffered was tonsillitis, of which there were 70 cases; the next most common were cuts, stings and bruises, of which there were 39 cases. Then there were chills, malaria and malaria to the extent of 28 cases and 26 cases of fever. There were 21 fractures and dislocations, 14 sprains, 15 cases of constipation and colic and 14 other stomach troubles.

There were only 11 cases of asthma, bronchitis and catarrh, eight of influenza and seven of pneumonia and pleurisy. In the dispensary associated with the hospital, 271 boys were treated for cuts and wounds, 125 had boils and 108 had scalds, burns, sunburns and bruises.

It will perhaps be a source of pride to the Americans that most of the patients who were sick were English, to the extent of 160; the French followed with 51; the Scotch with 12; the Welsh with 12; the Irish with 11 and the Americans with nine.

Another Tough Problem In Interest

Anniversary Notes

EIGHT WITCHES HANGED

On Sept. 28, 1692, eight persons were hanged for alleged witchcraft in Massachusetts, culminating the witchcraft madness at Salem.

The people of Massachusetts at the time like most other Christian people of the 17th century, believed in a hideous crime called witchcraft.

But for more than 60 years after the founding of the colony no one had ever been punished or even convicted of the crime, with three or four exceptions.

Then suddenly a wave of witchcraft operations have been conducted by comparatively small numbers of men—not more than 100—more properly a "posse" rather than a "mob"—efficiently lead—and again and again the expression is to be noted, including "the best people in the community."

My own visit to Gastonia left no doubt in my mind, personally, that the communistophobe alignment consists of anything but what is commonly spoken of as the "lawless element."

781; Petty, ninth, 747; Draw, tenth,
741; Wilson, eleventh, 731; Midway, twelfth, 679; South Ward, 661. Prizes totaling $130 were awarded the best eight places. Community exhibits were judged by Prof. Miller, agronomist, of A. and M. college.

Petty Wins First.
Petty won the prize of $20 for having the best school float in the parade Wednesday morning.
New Lynn was second and Midway third. The judges were T. A. Wilson Jr., A. J. Payne and L. A. Wilson of the Elston Chamber of Commerce.

Practically all the women's and girls' demonstration clubs of the county, under the direction of Miss Thelma Greenwald, and the boys' clubs under the direction of Roy
E. Shaver, had exhibits.
Music was furnished the first day
by the Texas Technological college band under the direction of Prof.
Harry LeMaire.

Cotton Sluggish; Stocks On Decline

Trading Limited To Narrow Price Trend On Friday

Fluctuations In Market On Downward Movement After Selling Drops Off Due To Hedging, Speculation

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27. (P.)—Cotton was sluggish today with limited trading and narrow price fluctuations. Such trend as developed was moderately downward but there was no aggressive selling, the decline being due largely to hedge selling and lack of speculative support.

After an opening decline of 7 to 10 points the market rallied, recovering the loss but later eased to 10 to 15 points under the previous close. December declined from 18.44 to 18.35 and closed at 18.37 for a net loss of 8 points. The general market closed steady at net losses of 3 to 10 points.

Liverpool Lower
Liverpool came in 1 to 2 points lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 3 to 7 points. Prices eased October traded at 18.15 and January at 18.46, of 7 to 10 points below the previous close.

The market rallied, but hedge selling was in evidence. October at the lowest traded at 18.14 and January at 18.43 or 8 to 10 points under the previous close.

Cash Lower
The close was a shade above the lowest with October at 18.19 down 3 points net and January at 18.45, or 8 points net lower.

Port receipts, 74,177, for week, 375,888; for season, 1,648,754; last season, 1,443,307; exports, 10,029; for week, 110,291; for season, 798,305; last season, 816,952. Port stock, 1,169,216. Last year, 1,018,266. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston, 123,105; last year, 146,139. Spot sales at southern markets, 75,496; last year, 78,099.

Cotton Moderately Active On Friday

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (P.)—Cotton was only moderately active today and prices fluctuated within a range of 8 to 10 points. An early decline to 18.37 for December under southern hedging and liquidation was followed by rallies on trade buying and covering. After selling up to 18.62, the price eased. December closed at 18.35 compared with 18.58 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at net declines of 2 to 4 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 3 points and active months showed net losses of 4 to 7 points.

Trading Active
Trade interest were active buyers as prices worked down toward the 18 1/2 level for December. Offerings became light after the early selling had been absorbed. Prices settled.

October contracts advanced from 18.45 to about 18.51 while March sold up from 18.81 to 18.90 making active months about net unchanged to 4 points higher but the buying tapered off at these figures, and the market eased to late trading.

Liverpool cables said hedge selling and liquidation had been absorbed by trade buying. Exports today, 16,541 bales making $24,049 so far this season. Port receipts, 75,382. U. S. port stocks, 1,164,518.

Instructions to bidders, proposal blank, plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of M. R. Smith, Jr., city engineer, upon deposit of Five ($5.00) dollars for each set. This amount to be refunded upon submission of a bona-fide bid or the return of plans and specifications prior to bidding date.

Moderate Activity In Hog Trade Is Feature Of Livestock Mart Friday

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27. (P.)—Moderate activity today around the 11 market circuit on hogs averaging 250 lbs., down, at firm to 25c higher prices. Strong weight butchers, did not share the advance in fat and packers shaded values. Choice was paid at Chicago and St. Louis. Total offerings 50,000, as compared with 56,461 a week ago and 55,802 the corresponding day last year.

A weak undertone prevailed on fat lambs and packers shaded values. Choice natives in Chicago made 12 1/2c. Choice westerns at St. Joseph realized 13 1/2c. The supply was 45,000, a slight increase over last Friday but 14,000 short of a year ago.

Cattle Clean-up
Cattle trade at most markets consisted of the usual Friday clean-up. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 10,500 against 10,833 a week ago and 17,031 a year ago.

Wheat Market Is Jolted By Stock Weakness Friday

Values Undergo Material Turnabouts as Demand for Grain From North America Drops Off

By JOHN P. BOUGHMAN
Associated Press Market Editor
CHICAGO, Sept. 27. (P.)—Jolted by stock market weakness and by sharp falling-off in European demand for wheat from North America, wheat values here underwent material turnabouts today. Reports of large-sized purchasing of flour at Minneapolis were of only transient effect, as a considerable North American clearance of wheat and flour this week were announced at less than half as much as a year ago. London today reported a cargo of No. 1 hard winter wheat afloat sold at 7c per bushel under the price of Chicago December delivery.

Closing quotations on wheat were: Heavy 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c below yesterday's finish. Corn closed 7-8c to 2 3/4c down, oats 1-2c to 1 3/4c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 20c.

Market Failure
Notice of a Liverpool cotton market failure that involved a member of the Chicago board of trade was taken by wheat speculators here. Final quotations on wheat at Liverpool, however, were firm.

Increased rural offerings both of old and new corn did a good deal to pull the corn market down. Freer selling from the country tended also to depress oats.

Provisions were responsive to weakness of grain.

Broadcast Warning.
KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 27. (P.)—Upon advice from Washington the government weather bureau here tonight broadcast a warning to residents of the exposed islands among the Florida Keys that the tropical storm was moving slowly westward from the position it had occupied near the eastern end of the Florida Straits.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 27. (P.)—Miami and vicinity was struck by a 38-mile-an-hour squall tonight during which the barometer dropped to 29.65, the lowest reading here since the tropical hurricane was reported off the Florida coast several days ago. Miami Beach was thrown into total darkness when power lines there were blown down. Electric light service in many sections of Miami also was disrupted but no serious property damage was reported.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 27. (P.)—Wreck of the steamship Princess Montague, of undetermined registry, on Tony Rocks, near Nassau, Bahamas, was reported in a radio message received here tonight at 7:58 o'clock by tropical radio from the manager of the government telegraph station at Nassau. The communication gave no details regarding the fate of the Montague's crew.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (P.)—Shipping records list a steamer Princess Montague, of 570 gross tons as owned by the Florida Railroad and Navigation corporation, of Tampa. She operates in the Miami-Nassau trade.

MISSED THEM
DALLAS, Sept. 27. (P.)—Three alleged Oklahoma Bank robbers, who escaped jail at Colgate, Okla., recently, were reported to have been in Dallas two days ago. Receiving a tip that the men were at the home of a relative of two of the men, heavily armed officers visited the place early today, but learned whether they had orders from Austin to come to Borger with him.

BORGER, Sept. 27. (P.)—If National guardsmen are sent to Borger, they will come from Canyon. It was believed here tonight. Company F, Infantry of Canyon is the only unit in the Panhandle area equipped with rifles, it was learned.

Removal of Officers
It is believed that the governor's proclamation would lead to removal of city and county officers and that four more Texas rangers, now in Amarillo, would be ordered to Borger. There are five rangers here now awaiting instructions and the issuance of the proclamation before making arrests.

Good Record Set By High School At Seagraves
(Special To The Advance)
SEAGRAVES, Sept. 27. (P.)—The Seagraves high school, now in its third week of the present term, in the last five years has climbed from an institution with no state affiliations to one with 14 1-2 units and of first class rating.

The high school has a new and modern building, good library, laboratory, a large gymnasium and is steam heated.

Enrollment in the schools have practically doubled and Nathan Johnson, superintendent, states that prospects this year are very bright. The high school building cost $30,000.

Drop In Price Is Most Drastic Of Year's Sessions

Wall Street Experiences Hectic Session Friday Under Dark Shadows Of Towering Broker's Loans

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER.
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (P.)—Under the dark shadow of towering broker's loans, the stock market experienced one of the most drastic declines of the year today. Efforts of pool operators, who frequently have been able to send sharply higher in the face of large increases in the loan total, were like straw in the storm of selling, which carried most of issues down 5 to 25 points.

The only mitigating factor was the volume of trading, which was able to fairly moderate limits. 4,591,390 shares changing hands.

Increase Unexpected
The increase of $192,000,000 shown by last night's weekly broker's loan figures, was wholly unexpected, and in many quarters regarded as unaccountable save on the theory that stocks have been passing from strong hands into marginal accounts, and the speculative structure thereby weakened.

The break was the most severe since the collapse during the first session after the New York Federal Reserve bank put up its rate to 8 per cent last August, according to the Federal Reserve price index. The index of 20 utilities dropped 10.6 points; as compared to 7.2, and that of 20 rails 3, as compared to 4.

Figures Increase
During the past four weeks the Federal Reserve bank figures showed an increase of $444,000,000. During the period covered by the figures, the price index of 30 industrial has dropped 18.7 points, that of the 20 rails, 7.2 points, while that of the 20 utilities has gone down 10.6 points, showing a gain of nearly 27 points.

There was no change in the money market.

U. S. Steel was heavily sold, sagging more than 9 points to 223 1/2, and closing at 226.

Motors continued to sag.

Naval Experts On Stand In Senate Probe Of Shearer

Committee Awaiting Story Of Defendant In Alleged Interference With Navy Parley In Geneva

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (P.)—Awaiting the story from William B. Shearer of his activities at the 1927 Geneva naval limitations conference, the committee on naval affairs of the American delegation to Geneva, who were named yesterday as associates of Shearer during that conference by Drew Pearson, newspaper reporter at the Geneva meeting.

If those named do not come forward to answer, the committee will call them. Rear Admiral J. M. Reeves was singled out by Pearson as one of the experts he heard openly express the hope that the conference would not succeed. He said Reeves associated frequently with Shearer.

The senate investigators prepared to look into the past record of Shearer and into his activities in Washington with the shipping board, to which the shipbuilders said they sent him late in 1926 to cooperate in formulating a merchant marine campaign.

Reduction Of Light Rates For South Plains Gets Statement From Lubbock Mayor Friday

"Recognizing that the Texas Utilities company in Lubbock and surrounding territory is a very important and integral part of this section's development, too much praise cannot be given for the efficient manner in which the company is expanding its lines into what Lubbock considers its trade territory."

"There exists at this time a cordial relationship between the Texas Utilities and the Lubbock municipal lights plant, both of which are serving an important purpose in the city's development."

Such was the statement made by Mayor Harley D. Woods Friday following a meeting of the Lubbock city commission with I. R. Kelso, president of the Texas Utilities company. H. L. Allen, district manager, and Mr. Scott, plant manager, in which Mr. Kelso announced a reduction in residence and business lighting rates for all cities on the South Plains served by the company.

The reductions, as explained by Mr. Kelso yesterday, range from 10 per cent to as high as 50 per cent on residential rates depending upon the amount of current used. The reductions on the business schedule range from 11 to 15 per cent.

Barbecue, Western Rodeo Given For Delegates At Annual Convention Held At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Sept. 27. (P.)—A barbecue and western rodeo staged by employees of the famous LX ranch, part of the estate of the late Lee Bivins, noted Amarillo cattleman, closed the thirty-eighth annual convention of the consolidated order of Hoo-Hoo, late today.

In the final business session delegates heard A. C. Horner, manager of the western division of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, who lauded the possibilities of Hoo-Hoo in the industry and declared that not more than 10 per cent of those possibilities were being realized.

enforcement officers. Bailey quickly pursued Shook to surrender. Shook was taken to the Wichita county jail at Wichita Falls and remained there until his sensational escape from the "famous jail" of the plastic walls in company with a group of other desperate men.

From time to time Shook was reported seen at various places. Once it was at Childress and again it was in an automobile caravan of Amarillo "hangers" returning home from a football game last year. All reports failed to produce the wanted man.

France To Honor Woman Who Discovered Radium

Marie Curie Plans Visit United States Soon

(By NPA Service) — Marie Curie, who made her second visit to America, on October 15, her husband's death, will make her second gift to her of the most valuable element known—radium.

In 1921, when Mme. Curie first visited America, she was given a gram of radium, worth something like $70,000.

This fall she will be given another gram of the same substance. The first gift she devoted to her husband, who died in 1906.

The second she is going to give to the new Institute of Radium in Poland, her native land. This time, as on the first occasion, she will not make any personal profit out of her pre-eminence as a scientist.

That, in fact, has been her attitude throughout her life. Her whole career has been an almost unbelievable study in contrasts—contrast between unparalleled scientific achievement and on the one hand, and modest, almost straitened private means, on the other.

Mme. Curie's life story is amazing, anyway. The greatest woman scientist that ever lived, she has been honored as few other women have ever been honored; yet in her private life, she has been modest, retiring and unassuming.

Today, at the crest of her fame, she lives on an income of about $10,000 a year, in an inconspicuous apartment in Paris. She does not care about money. All that matters to her is her work.

Sixty-one years ago Mme. Curie was born—born Marie Sklodowska, the daughter of a professor of physics at a college in Warsaw.

She was a brilliant man, a scholar who spent nearly all of his spare time in his laboratory. As a small child, Marie played there. Discarded test tubes and crucibles were her dolls.

As she grew older she began to help her father in his experiments. By the time she was in her mid-teens she was better chemist than the average college professor in that science.

Her girlhood was busy. It was also somewhat clouded. Warsaw at that time was ruled by a scientific and literary turn of mind were under rigid surveillance. In the halls of her father's laboratory there were numerous grim signs—painted fingers, pointing to Siberia.

In such an atmosphere, one soon learned to be extremely reticent. Marie Sklodowska got the habit.

Professor Sklodowski died while Marie was still a very young woman, and she and an older sister were left homeless, and practically without funds. The sister went to Vienna, where she eventually became a physician. Marie headed for Paris to study chemistry.

She reached the French capital with a bankroll of about $10. She found a bare room on the seventh floor of a tumble-down, rooming house, furnished only with a cot and a chair.

To economize, she lived on a diet of black bread and skimmed milk, lived on 10 cents a day, that afterward, when things grew brighter, she actually had to cultivate a taste for meat and wine.

Her one ambition was to gain admission to a laboratory as a student assistant. Eventually she got a job at cleaning bottles and test tubes.

This did not last long, though. Professor Liapomann, the head of the laboratory, quickly discovered that she was an extremely able and talented young chemist, and he gave her a more responsible post with increased facilities for study.

In 1894 Marie Sklodowska made the acquaintance of another young chemist, one Pierre Curie, who was making a name for himself by his researches in physics and chemistry. Needing an assistant, he chose her for the post and they began collaborating on their experiments.

A year later they were married. Both became intensely interested in what was then a new phenomenon in the world of science—the strange, incomprehensible mystery of radio-active substances.

To investigate this mystery they established a laboratory of their own. It was a dismal, make-shift sort of place: a barren shed with plank walls, an asphalt floor and a very leaky roof. Day after day they worked together.

Above: Madame Marie Curie, the famous French scientist and co-discoverer of radium with her late husband, who is coming to the United States in October. Below: her two daughters, Mlle. Eve Curie, left, an accomplished musician, and Mme. Irene Curie-Joliot, right, who is following her mother as a scientist.

ica, and was given a gram of radium by the women of America. Since then she has been able to add to it so that now of the approximately 170 grams of radium in the world, her laboratory possesses two.

Mme. Curie has been given every kind of honor that a scientist can win, including the Nobel prize. Such awards as has come to her in prize awards of that kind she has spent on her laboratory. Her income amounts to approximately $3400 a year, and her private life is as austere and frugal as though she were some unknown widow.

Mme. Curie has two daughters, Irene Curie-Joliot, who assists her in her laboratory, and Eve Curie, who, in Washington, she will be entertained at the White House by President Hoover, a warm admirer.

of 10 per cent on 50 kilowatt hours per month and a reduction of 50 per cent on all current used per month in excess of kilowatt hours. Heating cooking and refrigeration in residences will all be on a rate of four cents per KWH on the new schedule.

The new rates announced are applicable to the following cities in West Texas served by the Texas Utilities company: Amarillo, Canyon, Clovis, Dalhart, Dalworth, Dummitt, Farwell, Floydada, Friona, Hale Center, Happy, Hart, Hereford, Idalia, Kress, Lantieri, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Meadows, Monroeville, Muleshoe, Olton, Petersburg, Plainview, Post, Ralls, Rockwell, Seymour, Seminole, Shallowater, Silverton, Slalom, Southland, South Plains, Sudan, Tahoka, Umatilla, Wilson, and Wolfarth.

NOTE FOUND
LAGRANGE, Sept. 27. — A note written on the face of an envelope April 28, 1915 and dropped into the Colorado river here, was found at Matagorda a few days ago and returned to the sender.

The note was returned by Lonnie Williams of Matagorda, who said he picked up the bottle, containing it on the bank, at Matagorda is at the mouth of the Colorado river, and the note was well-preserved.

Light Rates For Area Reduced By Texas Utilities
Residential And Business Reductions Ranging From Ten To Fifty Per Cent Announced For Cities

(Special To The Advance) — PLAINVIEW, Sept. 27. — R. K. Keiser, president of the Texas Utilities company, at a joint meeting of the city council and the director of the chamber of commerce and agriculture Thursday morning, announced reductions in residence and business lighting rates for all cities on the South Plains served by the company.

The reductions range from 10 per cent to as high as 50 per cent on residential rates depending upon the amount of current used. The reductions on the business schedule range from 10 to 15 per cent.

Keiser's statement in connection with the reductions. "The reductions in residence lighting means that all residence consumers will get a reduction of 14 per cent on a consumption of 25 kilowatt hours or less per month and a reduction of 10 per cent on 50 kilowatt hours per month and a reduction of 50 per cent on all current used per month in excess of kilowatt hours. Heating cooking and refrigeration in residences will all be on a rate of four cents per KWH on the new schedule.

The new rates announced are applicable to the following cities in West Texas served by the Texas Utilities company: Amarillo, Canyon, Clovis, Dalhart, Dalworth, Dummitt, Farwell, Floydada, Friona, Hale Center, Happy, Hart, Hereford, Idalia, Kress, Lantieri, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Meadows, Monroeville, Muleshoe, Olton, Petersburg, Plainview, Post, Ralls, Rockwell, Seymour, Seminole, Shallowater, Silverton, Slalom, Southland, South Plains, Sudan, Tahoka, Umatilla, Wilson, and Wolfarth.

30-Passenger Plane On Tour
It is the largest land plane in the world, able to carry 30 passengers with sleeping accommodations for 16, and it soon will be put into regular coast-to-coast service by the Universal Air Lines System. It was built by the Fokker Air Corporation. The huge craft has a wing spread of 90 feet. It recently began a tour of important cities.

Tech Enrollment Nears 1900 Mark First Four Days

Dr. Horn Speaks On "The College World" At First Convocation Of Students At Gymnasium Friday

Tracing the academic globe in his first address before the Texas Technological college student body Friday, Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the institution, reviewed the status of education, using as his subject "The College World."

Preceding his address Dr. Horn announced an enrollment of 1873 students at the end of the first four days of this year, as compared with 1872 for the corresponding period of last year.

"World Within Itself" — "The college is a world within itself, possessing the various departments which prepare one for useful citizenship," said Dr. Horn. "At first one is almost bewildered by the diversity of subjects offered by Texas Technological college. Whatever you are interested in you will find subjects here dealing with that profession or phase of life."

"I want to exhort you to have a wholesome conception of college life. That which was wrong at home is wrong in the college world; nothing could be wrong in the world from which you came and be right here."

Selectivity Important — "Success in the college world is largely due to selectivity. A period of years longer than the average life time of a person would be required for one to do all the work offered by Texas Technological college. It is, therefore, necessary for one to choose the subjects leading to his planned career. "Adaptability to this new environment is essential. One's success largely depends upon ability to adjust one's self to present conditions."

Urges Friendship — "Form wholesome friendships in college. Your associates in college life will be as set for the future." The president urged precaution upon the part of students who own and drive automobiles, stressing his plea for carefulness by recalling tragedies of the college within the last four years.

He encouraged students to affiliate in this city with churches of which they are members at home. Stating that the college world also has a college calendar, Dr. Horn announced the following program for the next few days:

First football game of the year Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Tech gridiron.
President's reception for students Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the lobby of the administration building.
First sermon of the year by Rev. Forney Hutchinson, Oklahoma City, in the gymnasium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

To Elect Officers — Convocation of student body, when officers for this year will be elected, next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.
Dean J. M. Gordon was in charge of yesterday's convocation program. The Texas Tech band furnished music, and Prof. W. R. Wagborne led in songs.

Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered the invocation, and Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church dismissed the assembly with prayer.

Community Booths For Meet Planned

(Special To The Advance) — EL PASO, Sept. 27. — Arrangements have been completed by the El Paso chamber of commerce for 80 booths on San Jacinto Plaza, in the heart of the business district, to be used for community exhibits at the eleventh annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce. Of these, 30 have already been taken by various communities where farm exhibits or other attractive features will be placed. Directly across the street from the Plaza will be erected a huge band stand where continuous programs will be given by the bands at the convention. It is expected that at least 30 bands will be here for the convention. Cities desiring these booths have been asked to communicate with the El Paso chamber of commerce.
