L-Z RODEO ON FRI. JULY 22

NORTHEAST PANHANDLE AMATEUR RODEO AND NEIGHBOR'S DAY; MARVIN JONES TO SPEAK

With acceptances from two United States congressmen and a tentative acceptance from another, the Northeast Panhandle Amateur Rodeo and Neighbor's Day at the L-Z Ranch, 20 miles southeast of Perryton on Wolf Creek, gives promise of being one of the biggest events in the Southwest this year. The date has been set for Friday, July 22, 1:00 p. m. and according to T. V. Ellzey, the general manager, nothing is going to be left undone to make it a success.

Congressman Marvin Jones of the 18th Texas District and Phil Ferguson of the 7th Oklahoma District have definitely stated that they would be present to discuss with farmers and stockmen problems and ways and means of bettering conditions in this section.

Liberal prizes and low entrance fees will characterize the calf roping, steer riding, wild cow milking, relay races and cutting horse contests. All events in this rodeo are limited to amateurs, professional rodeo contestants being barred from entry.

Hail Last Week

Small Strip Starting North of Huntoon and Circling East Toward Booker Causes Loss

Last Wednesday afternoon a hail storm originating north of Huntoon, and taking a small strip of wheat from that place to Booker, caused damage to several wheat growers in its path.

John Sell, Kenneth Trosper, D. D. Hummer, Amos Schuster, Bony Cook and R. F. Doerrie were among those suffering losses which ranged from 40 per cent up to 100 per cent.

Several growers from other parts of the county reported losses after Monday night's storm of 5 to 10 per cent loss.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rupprecht, Mary Lou and G. K., spent Sunday and Monday in Follett They were guests in the home of Mrs. Rupprecht's cousin, Noah O'Hair.

TO POISON GRASSHOPPERS ALONG STATE HIGHWAYS

W. J. Van London, division state highway engineer, advises that the state highway department started spreading poison on the rights-of-way of state highways south and west of Amarillo on May 29th and that the work will continue until the rights-of-way of all state highways in the Panhandle are thus treated. They expect to complete the program about June 15.

The poison is being spread through the cultivated areas first and it will be spread through the range areas at the same time that adjacent ranch lands are poisoned. Mr. Van London says that they will distribute the poison at the same time the adjacent lands are treated if the land owners will notify his department.

PONTIAC DEALERSHIP FORMED

LANCE PONTIAC CO. IS COMPOSED OF L. L. AND L. H. LANCE AND AUDIE CONLEY

A new business firm was organized in Perryton last week to take over the Pontiac agency for this territory. This new firm is known as the Lance Pontiac Co. is composed of L. L. and L. H. Lance and Audie Conley. L. L. Lance is the manager and Mr. Conley will serve as sales manager. The agency will be located in the Champlin building.

Mr. L. L. Lance states that a full line of all models will be carried and that they will also have parts and be equipped to service their cars. The Pontiac has been sold in this territory for a number of years by Russell's Service. Russell will continue to handle the Buick and the GMC truck.

POISONING OF HOPPERS BEGAN

THOUSANDS OF POUNDS MASH HAS BEEN DISTRIBUTED TO FARMERS IN THE COUNTY TO DATE

The grasshopper poisoning campaign got underway in earnest in the county last Saturday at a called meeting of the Ochiltree County Agriculture Association with representatives of practically every community present.

During the meeting plans were made to cover the entire county in one week with a day set for distributing the poison mash for each community. Orders for 22,275 pounds of poison mash dry weight equivalent to 46,770 wet weight has been issued to 89 farmers was disclosed at the meet. Indications are that the farm operators will cooperate fully in the program. Concentrated effort by all will exterminate these pests with no serious loss of growing crops experienced.

The poison has already been distributed in the following communities: Twichell, Tuesday; McMillen and Black, Wednesday; Alfalfa, Notla, and New Hope today; and will be distributed in Lone Tree and Ochiltree, Friday; Waka and Farnsworth, Saturday and Huntoon next Tuesday. In the vicinity of Perryton the operators are expected to put out the poison as soon as convenient as it may be obtained at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lance will leave Thursday for Austin to attend the commencement exercise of the University, which will be held on Monday. Their son, Wilford, receives his B. A. degree with the class.

COUNTY CANDIDATES MUST FILE BY 18TH

All candidates for County and Precinct offices must file their applications for places on the official ballots on or before Saturday, June 18. Application blanks may be secured at the Herald office without cost to the candidates. Candidates may file now and avoid the chance of overlooking the final filing date.

The County Democratic Executive Committee will estimate the cost of the primary elections on Monday, June 20, and assessments against the candidates must be paid by Saturday, June 25.

VAN W. STEWART,
County Chairman.

THOMPSON HAS PICTURE ON NEW STAMP

Something new is always happening and the fact that a new advertisement for a candidate is new, makes it news.

N. S. Griggs, chairman of the Thompson for Governor Club has inaugurated a stamp bearing the picture of Col. Ernest O. Thompson to be used on outgoing letters of the supporters of Amarillo's candidate for Governor.

The stamp has a big star, representing Texas in the back ground with the picture of Thompson emblazoned on the star, while underneath the picture are the words, "Ernest Thompson for Governor".

Boosters and backers of Thompson may get their stamps from campaign headquarters in the Amarillo building.—The Amarillo Times.

NEW ELEVATOR SERVES HUNTOON

25,000 BU. CAPACITY STRUCTURE BEING BUILT BY TARBOX AND PLETCHER FOR HARVEST

Fred Tarbox and John Pletcher, progressive wheat farmers of Ochiltree county, have formed a partnership in the grain business, and are building an elevator at Huntoon.

Work was started on the structure Monday of this week, with Bradley Lee, of Perryton, as the contractor, and several carpenters assisting with the work. Work is being rushed on the structure so that it will be ready for business by the time the harvest starts.

The capacity of the elevator will be 25,000 bushels, and it is expected with the operating machinery all new that the capacity of the building will be easily handled.

REPAIR DEPARTMENTS OF VARIOUS IMPLEMENT DEALERS SET PACE FOR PRESENT ACTIVITY

Sante Fe Railway Increases Facilities to Meet The Demands; and Local Elevators Make Improvements That a Peak Load May Be Carried

HAIL DOES LITTLE DAMAGE SO FAR

With Ochiltree, Hansford and Lipscomb counties comprising the bulk of the wheat producing area of the Texas Panhandle this year, considerable interest is being manifested in the progress of the prospective crop, and the preparations that are being made to handle it.

No doubt the average person would give the matter very little more than the passing interest which would naturally be shown, since this is the first crop of any consequence since 1931.

Our interest was stimulated after noticing how busy the Perryton implement firms have been the past few weeks, and the more we studied the situation the more interested we became. Finding it to be of immense proportions, a survey was made yesterday as to just what extent these preparations are going forward since January first this year.

Many Carloads

Those who work near or have occasion to pass the unloading docks of the Sante Fe Railway, are aware of the fact that a great number of carloads of agricutural machinery and related merchandise have been unloaded there the past few weeks, and even they perhaps haven't stopped to consider just how much time, effort and money that all represented.

And, in addition to all the merchandise that has come in by rail there have been hundreds of tons brought in on trucks from Amarillo, Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kansas, and other distributing points in the Southwest.

Our survey of the implement and automobile dealers yesterday revealed these facts.

Since the first of January there have been shipped in by rail and truck approximately 40 carloads of tractors, combines and farm tillage implements. This figure doesn't include the equivalent of several carloads of implement repairs which have been trucked into Perryton from the dealer's distribution points.

In addition to the many carloads that have already been received here to date, there will be approximately 35 more carloads shipped in within

JUST HERE and THERE

Yesterday was the 6th anniversary of Perryton's celebrated mystery case, the disappearance of the Cones children. Early in the morning of June 1, 1932, J. M. Cone was found in a dying condition in a garage at his home. He had been shot twice in the breast and it was pronounced suicide. His two small sons, J. M. Jr., age 9, and Vernon, age 6, were missing. They were last seen on the evening before with their father. Were they murdered or are they alive today, youths of 15 and 12? Was Gene Cone a suicide? These are the two questions that have not been answered but maybe time will tell.

Commander J. H. Nail of the Perryton American Legion Post expresses the appreciation of the Legion boys to everyone who contributed in any way to make the Memorial program at the Ochiltree cemetery a success. Attended by what was estimated to be the' largest crowd ever to attend such a program in this county, it was a very appropriate Memorial Day observance.

As the final date, June 6, for filing for state and district offices draws near, a number of candidates are entering the field. Max W. Boyer, now serving his first term as state representative from the 124th district is opposed by John H. White, Borger attorney, O. T. (Jack) Lackey, county attorney of Hutchinson county, has announced as an opponent to W. L. McConnell, incumbent who is a candidate for reelection.

A contest has developed in the race for district judge for the 84th judicial district. Judge E. J. Pickens, Canadian, will have opposition in Joseph H. Aynesworth, Borger attorney. There is much talk over the 84th district composed of Ochiltree, Hemphill, Hansford, Hutchinson and Carson counties as to the probability of Attorney Jack

PERRYTON TEAM AMONG LEADERS

WINNING OF GAME SUNDAY PUTS LOCAL TEAM IN A THREE-WAY TIE FOR TOP

The Perryton Greys, local entry in the Dust Bowl league, came out on top Sunday in their affair with the Sunray entry on Flowers Field when they won by a score of 4 to 3.

This win, while it was the first game of the season for the entrants of the league, will put the local boys in a three-way tie for first place.

As was predicted, the game revealed mid-season form during nearly every inning, stretching over an extra two innings.

Sunray lead the scoring for the first four innings pushing across a run in each the third and fourth innings, before Perryton found its scoring punch.

The scoring for Perryton started in the fourth frame after Muir struck out and Lewis was thrown out at first. Bill Richardson connected for a healthy single to centerfield and took second when Garton sent a skimmer to O'Brien at third where it was kicked around until Garton got to first. Richardson scored from second on a fly to centerfield sent by Riley and which was muffed by Muncy.

At the end of the sixth inning with a one-run lead, the Greys ap-

State Opens Free Employment Bureau in Perryton June 15

In order to render service and assistance to wheat farmers during the fast approaching harvest season the Texas State Employment Service will station a representative at important points in this area.

People desiring employment in the wheat harvest should register at these temporary offices. There is no charge for this service, either to farmers or those seeking work.

At Perryton a state representative will be stationed in the courthouse, beginning Wednesday, June 15. This representative will remain on duty as long as there appears to be a demand for his services. Farmers needing extra help to complete their harvest may contact this State Employee personally, or phone their orders for labor to Sheriff Talley's office, phone number 16.

It is planned to render this same service at Booker. Headquarters will be established at some implement house or other point to be announced. Service will begin at Booker on June 16.

In Spearman, the courthouse will be headquarters, and, unless otherwise announced, there will be a man on duty starting June 18. Orders for labor may be telephoned the Sheriff's office in Spearman and personal contact made with the State representative at the same point.

Manager at Virtue's

J. Malvin Jackson Succeeds Campbell as Manager of Virtue Dry Goods Co.

A change in the managership of the W. W. Virtue Dry Goods Co. occurred Monday when J. Malvin Jackson succeeded Forest Campbell as the head of this large store.

Mr. Jackson's promotion to managership will meet with the hearty approval of his many, many friends in this locality. He has been assistant manager of this store for a number of years and prior to going with the Virtue Company has been connected with other Perryton mercantile establishments.

Mr. Campbell, who is leaving the Virtue organization, has not announced his plans for the future.

Panhandle Holds First Place On Business Map

This map represents business conditions as of May 1, 1938, as shown in "Nation's Business", official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

With the advance of the season, interest in the map seems to be concentrating on the areas of surplus crop production A slight dip in the chart line indicates a trend toward slightly lower levels. The Panhandle is still enjoying the best business conditions in the nation.

HOME BREWING IS UNLAWFUL

MANUFACTURE OF WINES AND BEER IN THE HOME IS A VIOLATION OF THE LAW SAYS LIQUOR BOARD

Austin, June 2—(Special)—C. A. Paxton, chief enforcement officer for the Liquor Control Board, today said reports to his office indicate widespread violation of the state law which prohibits making beer and wine for home use.

"Checking through a large area in recent weeks, inspectors have found evidence that home manufacture of beer and wine is being carried on by many persons who apparently are under the misapprehension that they have a right to do so," Paxton asserted.

"It is generally understood that operation of a moonshine still is against the law, and this activity is usually conducted secretly, but our investigations have disclosed home manufacture of beer and wine is being done more or less openly. The only conclusion is that many of these persons do not know they are breaking the law."

Under the present liquor control act, Paxton pointed out, the penalties for home manufacture of beer or wine are the same as for operating a moonshine still. No one but a license holder, he added, is permitted to manufacture alcoholic beverages in Texas. Price of licenses ranges from $10, for the manufacture of wine by a person growing his own grapes, to $1,000, for a liquor distillery.

"The Liquor Control Board desires to caution all persons who may be unknowingly violating the law that it has no authority to give any special privileges, or set aside any provisions of the act," Paxton declared.

Mrs. C. B. Rogers will receive a quart of PLATT'S ICE CREAM free upon presentation of this advertisement to the Perryton Creamery on Saturday, June 4.

Poppy Sale Success

Nearly 1000 Veteran Made Poppies Sold in Perryton and Funds Used in Relief Work

Poppies made by disabled World War veterans were sold in the annual Poppy Day drive held here Saturday by the Pierce Johnson Unit, American Legion Auxiliary. According to Mrs. J. W. Herrell, Poppy chairman, nearly 1000 poppies were sold and $98.83 received.

After paying for the poppies, the Unit will have about $70.00 to be used for local welfare work.

"The Auxiliary appreciated the contributions of all who helped make this Poppy Day a success," said Mrs. Herrell.

MRS. SUSIE ELLIS PASSES

Funeral services were held at the Gray, Okla., church Thursday afternoon, May 16, for Mrs. Susie Ellen Phelps, who passed away at her home in Phoenix, Arizona, early Monday morning, May 13. Mrs. Ellis has been ill for the past year. Her sisters, Mrs. Louis Bryan and Mrs. Clint Ragsdale were in Phoenix several weeks before her death.

Susie Ellen Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Phelps, was born near Geary, Okla., November 26, 1903 and lived to be 34 years, 5 months and 17 days of age.

When Susie was three years old, her parents moved to Texas County, Okla., near Range, where she spent her girlhood days and made many friends. On September 19, 1928 she was united in marriage to Harold R. Ellis at Panhandle, Texas. They have made their home at Phoenix, Arizona, for several years.

She leaves to mourn her departure her devoted husband; her father; five sisters, Mrs. Elmer Cagle, Mrs. Gabe Etter, Mrs. Clint Ragsdale, all of Hardesty, Okla., Mrs. Louis Bryan, Perryton, and Mrs. Carter Burkhart, Phoenix; six brothers, Milo and Leo of Long Beach, Calif., Ewing of Hardesty, John of Konawa, Okla., Tom of Borger and B. J. of Perryton; and a host of other relatives and friends.

W. E. Platt, who has been spending the past three weeks visiting with his sons, Harold and K. H. Platt, left Monday for his home in Manhattan, Kans.

Billy Maxine McLarty, Pollett, came in Thursday for a few weeks visit in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McLarty.

Miss Essie Todd, who has been visiting the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Todd, Oklahoma City, returned to Perryton for a few days visit before entering West Texas College, Canyon, for the summer. Her brother, Milton Jr., returned with her and will visit several weeks in the home of his brother, Jack Todd, and with his sister, Mrs. Tom McLarty.

"Reliability and Honest Values"

Broiled Steak Always Delicious

The perfectly broiled, tender, juicy steak is a treat at any time for dinners and with modern methods making preparation easy, it is also a favorite meat with housewives, particularly when the weather is warm and apathy is widespread. Nor is there anything so capable of perking up jaded appetites as a nicely broiled steak.

Broiled at Moderate Temperature

"In the past broiling has been considered a very quick method of cooking, but according to the newer ideas on broiling," says Inez S. Willson, home economist, "broiling is easier and produces a more satisfactory result if it is done at a slower pace." So thoroughly pre-heat the broiling oven with the regulator set at "high," and instead of placing the steak close to the flame or heating element, put it so there is a distance of at least three inches between the top of steak and source of heat. This insures that the broiling is done at a moderate temperature, and makes turning more than once unnecessary. If the distance must be less, reduce the temperature accordingly. When one side is nicely browned, season with salt and pepper, turn and finish the cooking on the second side.

Cuts for Broiling

The meats chosen for broiling are the tender ones. Porterhouse or T-Bone, club or Delmonico, and sirloin steaks are the usual choice for cooking by this method. Sometimes also the rib is cut into steaks yielding ones which are suitable for broiling. Ground meat, even that made from less tender cuts, may be shaped into cakes and broiled satisfactorily, because the long fibers, of less-tender meat are cut in the grinding and the meat made tender-er.

All meats for broiling are better if cut thick. Steaks should be cut at least one inch thick, for then the outside may be nicely browned while the center is rare, if desired.

Accompaniments for Steak

The foods served with steak vary with individual preferences and with the time of the year. Fried onions and French fried potatoes have become almost the standard ones. Therefore, you may want to stay by them and serve the steak nicely garnished with onion rings and a table salad with a tart dressing, also bit of fresh parsley. A crisp vegetable is a favorite accompaniment for steak in the summer meal.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 5.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Revelation 4:11).

Among the citations which comLord, is the greatness, and the powlowing from the Bible: "Thine, O prise the Lesson-Sermon is the foler, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all" (I Chronicles 29:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following pasage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Principle, or Spirit, comprehends and expresses all, and all must therefore be as perfect as the divine Principle is perfect" (page 518).

Miss Betty Jo Perry visited from Friday until Monday with her cousin, Miss Mildred Baustead, and with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Benge, Dallas. She accompanied Arch Talley who visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Crosson, Canadian, were Perryton visitors, Sunday.

FIRESTONE Gives You This High Quality Tire at This New Low Price

Because Firestone saves money by controlling and securing rubber and cotton at the sources and by more efficient manufacturing and distributing. These savings make possible extra values at lower prices. You get:

High Quality—First choice rubber and selected cotton that conform to Firestone's high standards and rigid specifications.

Long Mileage—Safe, silent tread design made of tough, slow wearing rubber that assures long mileage. Sturdy bars and rugged notches give protection against skidding.

Blowout Protection—Nine extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone Patented Gum-Dipping process. Every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber which counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Puncture Protection—Due to the Firestone patented construction of two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

New Low Prices—Never before have all these safety features been combined in a tire priced so low.

Don't take chances on your holiday trip. Come in today. Let us put a set of these large size, rugged, long wearing tires on your car—remember, you save 25%.

Mexico's Troubles

A. P. SPICER

Editors Note — Hundreds of Herald readers have followed with interest the letters written by A. P. Spicer of Perryton during the 18 months that he recently lived in Old Mexico. We have persuaded him to write a series of articles concerning Mexico, its people, politics and the present upheavals in their governmental affairs.

Not alone are Texans interested in the brewing troubles of our neighbor just below the Rio Grande, but so are many thousands throughout the United States, for, first of all, the vacation season is beginning in earnest and many folks had decided to take the jaunt to Mexico. This plan for a vacation would be what the promoters call a "natural" because after many years of questionable roads and even more questionable bandits, the people of Mexico were just about arriving at the point where they had built up, not only their roads, but their propaganda and were fast becoming "tourist conscious".

To many thousands in our country the trend has been to Europe when a trip abroad was considered, but to the multitudes living in the middle and far west it was almost as long a distance to the eastern seaports as it was to then go on to some foreign country, even though the pocket book would permit the realization. Many people in this nation cannot afford the time nor the money to go to Europe and so Canada and Mexico get their fair share of the traffic. To get in one's car, taking only a few days or weeks and drive over the line was a very simple and economical way to visit a foreign country.

Now come along several threats to prevent such plans. In the first place a couple of months back the Mexican Government decided to take over some foreign-controlled property in the form of the oil wells that abound in the Tampico area. The question has oft been put here: "What right did they have?" We'll have to agree with Secretary Hull on that score, for although in this country that sort of thing isn't done, it so happens that in Mexico they have a law that permits just that. My personal opinion is that President Cardenas should not have done so at that time, if ever, because he knew that he did not have the money with which to pay. Or he might have taken one company at a time, notifying the others that they would in due course be taken over. He also should have known that Mexicans cannot properly operate such undertakings yet. This is why they have had to appeal for foreign capital and expert service in the past. Turning them over to the natives is most surely going to bring the oil wells to the same end that the railroads have arrived at, a dilapidated condition and an unliquidated state of affairs. It was more than twenty years ago that the government told the foreigners that it was about time that they got out from under the railroads, that Mexico coud handle them for herself, and so it was in 1914 that she quit in her payments on same, leaving more than $60,000,000 due. Within the month the President has turned them over to the labor union to run, admitting defeat.

For many years the oil companies have been expecting this to happen to their interests and as a consequence they've been withdrawing profits as fast as they were made, refusing to invest in new and up-to-date machinery. This is another indication that the oil business is not "up to snap" there and that further difficulties may be expected. This condition likewise accounts for the very poor grade of gasoline that one gets in that territory, where the autoist does not have a choice as he does here. He cannot get Ethyl gas for his car. There is but one grade of fuel and that is just one step above kerosene. The oil workers were the highest paid in Mexico and now most of them are out of work and oil coming to the surface is wasted and even destroyed as it overruns the tanks or pits. Most nations don't dare to buy and the rest don't want to; considering the stuff as "stolen goods".

Immediately following this grave situation, seemingly as reprisal, came the quick drop in the value of the peso, due to two things: the temporary halting by the United States in the purchase of Mexican silver and the action by the Mexican government in taking the peso off the foreign exchange. It was low enough as it was, pegged at 3.60 to the dollar, but since then it has been fluctuating between that figure and 5.00 (being 4.70 at this writing) which is a definite hardship to all of those people whether it has to do with the buying of groceries in their own markets or the purchase of machinery from the U. S. The only advantage lay in the hands of the tourist again, who could go down there and turn his money over at least four times for the value received compared with what the native worker got with his wages.

Then, just as though things were'nt bad enough, the authorities (building a "Mexico for the Mexicans"), added from 50 to 400 per cent increase in the various tariffs on goods brought in from our country. A typical example of what this does is the tax on a Ford car which is higher than that on a more expensive La Salle for instance as they are taxed according to the number of cylinders. The cost, two months ago on a Chevrolet 4-door was 4200 pesos. This figures out to $1176. Why they have such tariffs on articles that they do not even attempt to make is beyond my reasoning.

For many years, and especially the past two, Uncle Sam has been endeavoring to go out of his way to be a real good "brother" to our neighboring republic. And one can readily see the results. The better you treat some people the worse they treat you. If we ignored them, or repealed some of our activities that are almost entirely in their favor, I truly believe that the nation would get into the doldrums; at least they would retograte another hundred years. For generally speaking I would say that they cannot get along without our automobiles. They still import more corn and beans than they raise despite their great agricultural possibilities. The high-grade machinery in the various plants, where owners, whether they be native or foreign are endeavoring to put out the very best product, is usually brought in from the States, as well as the experts that they induct for proper instruction of their workers. Most food delicasies come from here, and although they could get along without such things they should obtain them if only to attempt keeping up with the rest of the world. On my last trip through Nuevo Laredo I was taken through the customs warehouses and shown they were practically empty whereas they are generally full of supplies and a hustling mob of stevedores. Aside from some furniture and odd miscellany there was nothing in evidence except three cages of trained lions passing through for an animal show.

In summary, the country is progressing slowly enough without throwing obstacles in its own way. Most everything they do seems to react in the wrong direction. They can't see much farther than their own noses. Rumor is that the employees of the government are infested with the disease known as "political graft". What they need most of all is a leader, a real leader. And this brings us down to the real business at hand.

In Cardenas they have a president who is Indian and admired by most of the people because he is supposed to be honest and he's trying to do so much for the lower classes. He might be likened to Robin Hood because of his stern application of the agrarian law which permits him to take so much land away from the rich and distribute it among the peons. Along with this distribution goes the award of rifles and ammunition for protection and so it may be said he is in effect thereby building up a certain form of army, or at least a big army of supporters, for what common people would like to see deposed the ruler who gives them something for nothing that they might never acquire in any other way?

In the immediate news we read about his arch rival, Col. Cedillo. (Saturnino is his first name, which I presume is taken from Satan). In one article lately read there is not a chance in the world that this man wants to create any trouble among his people. He is the calm, easy-going, sage individual who sees a little differently than his president and for that reason resigned from the cabinet. "—he might yet be the savior of Mexico". This is the same fellow whom native Mexicans told me used to head bandits in the good old days and if he came across any individual opposition in the towns that he raided would tie his new opponent to the saddle horn and have his horse drag him mercilessly about the town for the rest to see and take warning. If this be so we have a right to expect anything of him now or in the future.

Georgia Hurlhey was dismissed from the Shattuck hospital, Wednesday, where she has been a patient since Friday. She will spend a few days visiting before returning to Perryton. Mrs. Frank Winn is assisting at the telephone office during her absence.

How to Have More Trivial Accidents

If we are going to have automobile accidents, let's have little ones.

It is not such a serious matter when we dent a fender. What we don't want to dent is a skull.

How shall we select for ourselves the smaller or more insignificant or skin-deep or grade "C" accidents?

I have a book in my lap, compiled by The Travelers Insurance Company on last year's smashes and crashes. It tells us which kind of accidents are the deadliest. Let's get a line on 'em and avoid THAT kind.

About the surest way to cinch your death in an automobile accident is to mix in a little alcohol. With an intoxicated driver (you or somebody else) at the wheel, your chance of death is greater than with a sober man at the wheel. I mean if you take 1,000 drunk accidents and 1,000 sober accidents there'll be more deaths in the drunk accidents.

Even an intoxicated pedestrian has a better chance of being killed than a sober pedestrian—per accident.

There has been a lot of loose talk about the safety of driving fast. A lot of people think that it is all right to drive fast if they drive "careful". But the figures show that the rate of death per accident which involves exceeding the speed limit is much worse than the average death rate for all accidents due to improper driving practices.

Places, too, have a lot to do with the violence of your accident. The rate of death per accident on highways and at rural intersections is more than 200 per cent greater than on city streets.

Time plays a part, also. The death rate per accident after dark is about 60 per cent worse than during daylight.

May all your accidents be little ones, and they're more apt to be little if you know about and avoid these deadlier spots and practices.

Call Special Election

Wheeler County Commissioners Order a Special Election On Wine and Beer

Acting upon a petition presented over the sighatures of 437 voters, the commissioners court, in session at Wheeler, Monday, May 23, issued an order for a county-wide special election to be held Saturday, June 11, on the question of legalized sales of light wine and beer.

Before an order for the election was issued, the county attorney, at the request of the commissioners, secured an opinion from the Attorney general's department of Texas on the legality of such an election.

Finding the petition signed by considerably more than the ten per cent of voters required, the commissioners court ordered the election.—The Shamrock Texan.

G. C. Brillhart went to Canyon Tuesday for Misses Mildred Brillhart, and Ruth Ann Shearer, who will be home for the summer months.

Big Tire Shipment

Carload of Firestone Tires And Tubes Unloaded By Local Distributor

The Lackey Service Station, distributors in this part of the state and parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, this week received a carload shipment of Firestone tires and tubes to add to their already big stock in their warehouse here.

This recent shipment was made up of truck, tractor and implement tires, making their present stock a comprehensive one enabling them to handle all requirements.

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., have recently transferred one of their salesmen, Frank Radford, to Perryton, to assist Mr. Lackey.

Associated with Mr. Lackey in the distribution of Firestone tires in this territory, as dealers, are the Perryton Implement Co., and the Bryan Store at the junction of Highways 35 and 83, north of Perryton.

Mrs. Ben Talley and grandson, Tony Dial, Miami, were guests Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson.

Mrs. Lela Keim has accepted a position with the W. W. Virtue Dry Goods Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Autry were business visitors in Dalhart, Monday, and encountered a dirt storm enroute.

Roscoe Elliott, Alva, Okla., was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon during the past week.

TO SCORE 4-H CLUBS ON SOCIAL WORK

COMMUNITY welfare work of over 75,000 4-H Clubs and Leaders in the nation directed by the Extension Services of the Agricultural Colleges and U. S. Department of Agriculture is again receiving incentives in the National Program on Social Progress.

This group and their leader, Mrs. W. L. Jones, near Topeka, Kansas, received trips to Chicago last year awarded their Club as National victor.

THE 34 members gave nine varied public demonstrations, sang Christmas carols to shut-ins, bought clothing for needy school children, fed poor families, organized six vocal and instrumental groups and held seven public educational discussions.

A trip to Radio City, New York (left) for the local leader and two members of the national winning club, trips to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago for the leader and three members of the four sectional winning clubs, $100 RCA Victor radios for state winners and county prizes are this year's awards provided by Radio Corporation of America.

Daphne DeBruin, Ft. Benton, Montana, and Billy Hale, Hixson, Tennessee, former individual national victors, depict an important club activity—that of listening to the National 4-H Club radio broadcast the first Saturday of each month conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with the aid of State Agricultural Colleges, the United States Marine Band and the National Broadcasting Company.

PERRYTON PLAYS LIBERAL SUNDAY

The Perryton Greys will play Liberal at that place next Sunday afternoon, for another scheduled game of the Dust Bowl league. The same day Guymon will play at Sunray, and Clayton will play at Dalhart. Considerable interest is being shown by fans in the different towns comprising this league, and before the season is over some excellent games will be seen.

Managers Hergert and Bill Cayler hope that as many as possible will accompany the Perryton boys to Liberal Sunday.

RINKY-DINKS LOSE TO BOOSTER STATION 8-1

The Perryton Rinky-Dinks lost a ball game to the Booster Station team in the Gray vicinity last Thursday afternoon by a score of 8 to 1.

The heavy hitting of the Booster boys featured the game.

Lt. and Mrs. W. L. Scarbarough were Shattuck, Okla., visitors on Monday.

A. L. Schnell, manager of the Spearman plant of the Community Public Service, was a business visitor in Perryton Tuesday of this week.

DUST BOWL LEAGUE

Following are the standings of the teams participating in the season's play of the "Dust Bowl" league:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Perryton	1	0	1.000
Clayton	1	0	1.000
Guymon	1	0	1.000
Dalhart	0	1	.000
Liberal	0	1	.000
Sunray	0	1	.000

Last Sunday's play was the first and opening game in this league. Play was originally scheduled to start a week ago, but all games were rained out. The scores for last Sunday were close, only one run being the advantage in each game. Clayton defeated Liberal 11 to 10. Guymon defeated Dalhart 7 to 6, and Perryton defeated Sunray 4 to 3.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dowers and sons, Knute and Paul, went to Oxford, Kans., Saturday returning Monday evening. Miss Myrtis Dowers who had been visiting there two weeks returned with them. Mrs. Amy A. Thomas Brooks Replaces Geo. Hay as Educational Advisor at Perryton CCC Camp

Thomas O. Brooks arrived in Perryton Wednesday morning to assume his duties as Educational Advisor for Company 2874, CCC. Mr. Brooks, who has been employed in the same capacity at the CCC camp located at Memphis, Texas, replaces Geo. Hay, who is on terminal leave.

Mr. Brooks was accompanied to Perryton by his wife, but she left in the afternoon for a visit in San Antonio. Until Mrs. Brooks' return, Mr. Brooks will be located in the officers quarters.

Geo. Hay and family are visiting in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Plans are under way at the Perryton Camp for expanding the educational program and activities.

FORGAN WINS FROM THE RINKY-DINKS SUNDAY 7-6

Cy LaMaster and his Rinky-Dinks lost a thriller at Forgan last Sunday afternoon after the game had gone twelve innings by a score of 7 to 6.

At the start of the last half of the ninth inning the Perryton boys were leading with a 4 to 1 score, but a hit and two or three errors made up the difference for the Forgan boys and forced the game to extra innings.

Two more runs for each team were scored during the tenth frame and Forgan scored the advantage in the twelfth.

Gyger, pitching for the Rinky-Dinks for eight innings, offered only two hits to the Forgan boys and Amos Cain, of the local CCC camp camp finishing the game allowed only three, but with the errors added by the local lads made the difference and the game.

Bob Whippo, member of this years graduating class, directed the Perryton High School band for the Memorial Day service at the Ochiltree cemetery Sunday. Liske Grain Company of Canadian Purchases Elevator from Mrs. J. M. North on May 25

Negotiations have been completed for the purchase of the North Grain Company from Mrs. J. M. North by the Liske Grain Company of Canadian. The transaction was made in Canadian on Wednesday, May 25 for the elevator in Perryton with the consideration not being named. The elevator has a capacity of 30,000 bushels.

P. D. Thiessen manager of the new firm announces that it was to be open for business on June 1 and will buy wheat through the summer. Merchandise will be added later. Thiessen has resided in Ochiltree county for many years and is experienced in the grain business. He has been employed by the Perryton Equity Exchange for the past nine years.

The Liske Grain Company founded thirty years ago by A. P. Liske of Canadian is well known throughout the Panhandle. The company of which Judge H. E. Hoover is president has elevators in operation at Lord, Booker, Perryton and is dickering for an elevator in Spearman at the present time.

Adams Improves Cafe

Ralph's Lunch Enlarges Capacity And Adds New Equipment; Air Conditioned

R. R. Adams, proprietor of Ralph's Lunch, has recently added a considerable amount of improvements to his cafe. One change that adds to the seating capacity was the moving in of the counter thus making space for the addition of three tables. This change gives the cafe a seating capacity of 28 customers.

A new gas range has been installed. The new stove has double the griddle capacity of the stove that was replaced. A "fryalator" has also recently been put in operation in this popular eating place.

With a new exhaust fan and some improvements in the air conditioning plant, Ralph's Lunch is now better prepared than ever to cater to those that care for good food. The slogan of this cafe is "Where Perryton Meets and Eats."

Howard Holt and son, Robert Howard, were Spearman visitors, Monday.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

LEOPOLD GODOWSKY, A. S. C. A. P.

By Daniel I. McNamara

SEVEN years ago, at the age of sixty, with world fame as a piano virtuoso and composer of hundreds of works for piano, Leopold Godowsky, A.S.C.A.P., started to pioneer in a new field. Not content to live with memories of success as artist, composer and editor, his restless genius spurred him to new endeavor.

In seven years he has done an amazing work, creating a rich library of pianoforte compositions for the left hand only. In this hitherto neglected musical realm, he has disclosed to pianists an astonishing development of the possibilities of the left hand.

Had Godowsky done nothing else, his fame would have been secure through these recent compositions. Now that he has rounded out his impressive collection of this new type of work, he has returned to his earlier compositions, and is devoting himself to their revision. It was on the basis of these earlier works that he was elected to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and the rights of public performance for profit of his copyrighted works were made available to ASCAP licensees.

Born in Wilna, Russia, February 13, 1870, a son of Dr. Mathew and Anna Lewin Godowsky, Leopold Godowsky was a concert pianist at the age of nine. He entered the Berlin Hochschule at fourteen, and later studied in Paris under Saint-Saens. Before he reached his teens, he toured Russia, Poland and Germany as a concert pianist, and at fourteen made his first American tour, playing in many American cities between 1884 and 1886.

In 1895, he became director of the piano department of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, remaining in that position until 1900. Several years of concert tours and intensive composition followed.

In 1909, he was created Imperial Royal Professor of the highest rank by the Emperor of Austria and named director of the Imperial Royal Meisterschule for Piano at the Imperial Royal Academy of Music in Vienna. In 1912, he was made editor-in-chief of the Art Publication Society of St. Louis.

Godowsky's studio in Riverside Drive, New York City, is the scene of frequent impromptu concerts of chamber music directed by the maestro. Sometimes Albert Einstein, distinguished mathematician and warm friend of Godowsky, is first violinist at these musicales.

Godowsky keeps abreast of the latest developments of physics and chemistry, delights in discussions of scientific trends.

Godowsky is an aviation enthusiast. He flew before passenger carrying had reached the commercial stage. One of his first flights was from Paris to Morocco fifteen years ago, when flight over the Mediterranean was accompanied by hazards.

He likes to fly today, he says. In the air his mind is composed—and he can think out the intricate arrangements of his compositions for the left hand.

Will Fight Yellow Fever Scourge

"Yellow Jack," showing Sunday and Monday, June 5-6 at the Ellis Theatre, reunites lovely Virginia Bruce with Robert Montgomery with whom she previously co-starred in "The First Hundred Years." In the new drama, describing the courageous fight of man against yellow fever, Montgomery plays the part of a soldier who offers his life for humanity, while Miss Bruce is seen as a nurse who accompanies the heroic expedition to Cuba.

FEEDING FOR CHICK PROFIT

MRS. SAM McLAIN WITH FLOCK OF 146 HAS CLEARED OVER $50 FROM JANUARY 1 UNTIL MAY 1ST

"In order for a poultry raiser to have a full egg basket everyday and to make profit from her hens, the flock should be properly fed and housed," says Mrs. Sam McLain of the McMillen Club. Mrs. McLain has a flock of 146 hens. They are the Giants and White Leghorns mixed. Since the first of January to the first of May, Mrs. McLain has made a profit of $51.13. This profit was made beside the cost of all feed, including the milk, and the eggs that were used at home.

Mrs. McLain is improving her chicken house and making it up-to-date. Enough nests have been added to make one for every five hens. There is two and one-half square feet of floor space for each hen, the hens are furnished plenty of shade by the shubbery and trees around the yard. The roost is constructed so as to be easily cleaned, and she plans to cover this with wire so the chickens cannot get to the drippings. The hens were culled this spring and only those that were good layers were kept.

Mrs. McLain also believes to get the best production from hens they should be liberally fed with proper proportions of feed and under sanitary conditions. Milk and mash are fed the chickens, then they get their green food from a field near by. For feeding purposes, there is provided for the hens one foot of trough space for every ten hens.

Mrs. McLain states that it is not the big things that make folks fail with chickens, but the little things like not enough mash troughs, poor water facilities, lack of nests, dirty houses and such like are the little things that make bad luck.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Ellzey and Charles returned to their ranch home on Wolf Creek, Friday. They have been living in the home of Mrs. M. M. North during the school term.

MISSOURI AVE. CLUB

Mrs. Fred Huston, Reporter

Mrs. Anna Reeves Jarvis, known for her kindly deeds to all, was the inspiration and the originator of Mother's Day work. Each man or woman who wears a white carnation on the second Sunday in May as tribute to his own beloved mother is also honoring the other mother of a little West Virginia town—Anna Reeves Jarvis, the Mother of Mother's Day, stated Mrs. C. O. Roach to the Missouri Avenue Club which met in the home of Mrs. French Lawrence Wednesday, May 25 at 2:00 p. m.

"To Miss Anna Jarvis, a daughter goes the honor of the founding of Mother's Day", continued Mrs. Roach.

During the business hour Mrs. Fred Huston acted as secretary for Mrs. Geo. Dietrich who was ill. The dollar for the games tournament was paid. Mrs. Roach gave a very interesting report of the one day Short Course. Miss Edna Huston was elected assistant secretary.

Mrs. Ecton Lawrence program chairman, presented the following special program: Song, "My Mother's Bible", by group; scripture reading, Mrs. E. W. Witt; prayer, Mrs. W. B. Vaughn; "Origin of Mother's Day", Mrs. C. O. Roach; "Nobody Else", Patsy Henry; "Old Fashioned Mother" versus—"Modern Mother's" Poem (original)—Mrs. H. J. Wilson; song, "Little Old Lady", group.

Those present were: visitors, Mrs. W. B. Vaughn, Ruth Huston, Mrs. Lawrence Wilson, Mrs. R. S. Roberts, Mrs. Cora Lawrence, Miss Okla Mae Lawrence. Members: Mesdames Lawrence, Earl McGarraugh, L. H. Kaup, Jim Putman, C. O. Roach, J. S. Slaughter, Fred Huston, John Johnson, Wiley Thompson, A. W. Henry, Walter Bowen, E. W. Witt, H. J. Wilson, French Lawrence, and Ecton Lawrence.

The next meeting of the Missouri Avenue Home Demonstration club will be held in the home of Mrs. C. O. Roach on June 8. Visitors are always welcome to attend any of these meetings.

McMILLEN CLUB

Mrs. Willis Hardy, Reporter

"The first step in refinishing a piece of furniture is to wash it with soap and water," stated Miss Wertha Tarter home demonstration agent to the McMillen club which met in the home of Mrs. C. L. Goodman on Thursday evening, May 26.

"After the piece of furniture is cleaned with soap and water, apply a coating of varnish remover and let stand until bubbles show on the surface, wipe dry with soft cloth. Sandpaper it properly and then varnish," Miss Tarter continued.

During the business meeting Mrs. B. E. Plummer resigned from the position of secretary. Elda Hardy was elected to take her place for the rest of the year.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Blansit Carter, Willis Hardy, S. F. Waide, D. P. Unruh, James Hardy, R. A. Flowers, J. L. Flowers, Harvey Urban, Bud Barnes, B. E. Plummer, Sam McLain, A. C. Dial, Misses Julia Hamilton, Wilma Helen and Elda Hardy. Visitors were Mrs. Audie Conley, Misses Effie Goodman, Ruby Mae Hardy, Rosie Barnes, Lois Flowers and the hostess, Mrs. C. L. Goodman.

McMILLEN CLUB WILL HOLD NEXT MEETING JUNE 9

The McMillen club will hold their next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Willis Hardy, Thursday, June 9 at 2:30 p. m. Visitors welcome.

MERRY WORKERS CLUB

The Merry Workers Club of Gray, Okla., met Thursday, May 26, in the home of Mrs. Ray Bowles. The day was spent quilting and embroidering for the hostess. At noon a covered dish luncheon was served. There were eleven members and thirteen visitors present.

The County Demonstrator, Miss Ruby Welch, gave an interesting account of the Dress Review which was held in Beaver, May 13.

The June meeting will be postponed as all the members are busy getting ready for the harvest season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Barnett, Ponca City, Okla., came in Sunday for a few weeks visit in the home of their son, E. E. Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lovett were Sunday guests in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fendorf Schubert, Spearman.

ENTERS DISTRICT RACE

AYNESWORTH OF BORGER ANNOUNCES FOR DISTRICT JUDGE, SUBJECT TO JULY PRIMARY

Jos. H. Aynesworth of Borger authorizes the Herald to announce his candidacy for the office of District Judge in and for the 84th Judicial District of Texas. This district is composed of the counties of Carson, Hemphill, Hansford, Hutchinson and Ochiltree. Judge E. J. Pickens is present incumbent.

Mr. Aynesworth, a practicing attorney at Borger, was born in Williamson County, Texas, November 11, 1874, and was first admitted to practice law at Jacksboro, Texas, 1899. He came to Amarillo 1889 and moved to the Panhandle in 1900.

Pledging full co-operation to local officers, Mr. Aynesworth makes the following statement; and asks the consideration of the voters at the July Primary:

"If elected, I shall endeavor by all reasonable means, within terms of law, to clear the dockets both civil and criminal, in every county in the district.

"Full co-operation with the local officers, and especially with the district attorney to the end that he may have unlimited opportunities to try every defendant whether in jail or on bond, and at the earliest date, according to authorized criminal procedure.

"There are proper means whereby jails can be cleared of all defendants within a reasonable time, and court expenses and jury fees, reduced materially.

"To that end there shall be instituted by me, if elected, the rule of being present every day in each week, until term ends, ready to try any case wherein trial is desired, as well, on the first day of the week, or the last, with a first and primary rule that with the aid and assistance of the trial lawyers, jury cases, civil and criminal will be placed as near the earlier part of the week and in the first of the several terms so as to reduce the costs of the juries to the counties, where such may be done.

"There is no desire upon my part to usurp the powers or duties of any other official. I shall at all times seek to preside within the legal limits of the duties of a District Judge. The constitution, laws and adjudicated cases shall be my sole guide, and with such hope, to act with justice, fairness and impartiality to all.

"The above promise upon my part is not an unreasonable proposal, and it is one that can and will be kept by me."

Band Leader Honored

Former Student of Perryton School Receives National Recognition In Band Contest at Abilene

Everett E. Wilcox, former Perryton High School student and illustrious band member under Professor George H. Hyde of several years ago has been copping band honors with his eighty-six member Wewoka Band throughout Oklahoma for the last two years. He climaxed his achievements May 21 at Abilene by receiving top honors where the national regional (region No. 9) band contests were held May 19, 20 and 21.

There Dr. Frank Simon, head judge of the meet, in which 43 leading bands of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico were entered, gave the band a one-plus rating in division one, class A—and supplemented that "plus" by commenting as follows: "Heartiest congratulations for a "tops" performance equal to the best in the United States". Dr. Simon is head of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio, and when he gives praise, it is well deserved.

Mrs. H. L. Wilbanks and daughter Sandra Sue, of Spearman spent three days last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T Eads.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch King and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whippo were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Correll, and attended the Memorial services held at the Ochiltree cemetery in the afternoon.

VIRGINIA CORRELL HONORED BY COLLEGE MAGAZINE STAFF

Miss Virginia Correll, freshman at the Texas State College for Women at Denton, Texas, has won recognition this year by her original writings on happenings in the Panhandle. Miss Correll, the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. R. T. Correll of this city, is also a talented musician. During the year, Miss Virginia has had two articles accepted by The Daedalian Magazine, which is published quarterly by the college students. In the fall issue, she gave a realistic account of a "Black duster."

Appearing in the spring issue, just released, is an interesting account of "Pioneer Day at Guymon". This article is printed in full as follows:

When the alarm went off that morning, I was half dressed and nearly through with the fifteenth or sixteenth stanza of "The Dying Cowboy." Yes, sir, for the first time in exactly twelve months had sounded off before the alarm. Nothing to silence "Ben," I soloed while I finished polishing my boots. Bidding my Stetson and burying my cowboy, I wandered out into the yard where I was greeted by a delightful aroma of pancakes and coffee, a melodious "K-K-Katy," and a few strays from "The Last Round Up," which meant that Mother and Bubby were up. Although it was only 5 o'clock, the household was well on its sextet. There were only four cakes, but Bubby was "just at that point" where he furnished an additional two parts. I knocked on his door with "Ready, Bubby?"

"Get along little dogie, geet along, git along . . ." "Bubby was ready.

"Morning, Mother!"

"I'll be waiting at the k-k-k-kitchen door. Good morning, Toots. Oh! K-Katie—".

"Hello, Sis," from Dad.

Suddenly I wondered why I had girt my belt in the last hole. We always had pancakes on May the first; so during two holes retreat to the other side of the buckle, I pulled up my drawers, made for the wash stand, and began to splash. By then Buddy had gathered in all of the dogies, and loosening his belt, sat down to the table to wait. I marveled at his appetence, estimated his appetite, and counted the pancakes.

I washed my face and hands, grabbed the milk pail, and made for the barn. Outside, I glanced toward the heavens to see the sunrise. I might as well; there was nothing else to see, and I could see it just as well looking straight up as I could looking toward the east. That's the way sunrises are in the Panhandle. That morning, as every morning, the rich hue of the sun was caught and intensified by every shining atom in the sky, and the whole sphere reddened. The barn, greeted "Mutt", and promptly reflected the glow. Finally, I reached down to milk. Glancing at my watch, I saw that I had exactly an hour to milk, eat, get my Glockenspiel, and wait for Mary and the "Ford" to honk. You see, today was the first day of the Guymon Pioneer Celebration, and the high school band, of which I was a member, had been invited to compete with nine other high school bands in a contest and to lead the big parade. The parade was to start at ten o'clock. It was fifty miles to Guymon, but we figured we could leave at six-thirty and be there in plenty of time to "gad about a bit" before the crowd gathered. Mutt was a "good fellow" that morning and "gave down" like a thoroughbred Jersey. I filled my pail in about fifteen minutes and ran into the house.

Once inside the house and outside of four pancakes, I found the world even more rosy than before. Bubby had already done well by the pancakes and was shining his trombone. He was in the band, too, but he was making sure that everything would be ready in plenty of time. Good old Bubby! I remember the time . . .

"Ah Younga!"

That was Mary! Everybody was ready. I made it to the car in nothing flat, threw Mother a kiss, and we hurried off in the hackneyed "cloud of dust."

We made it to Guymon in forty minutes and thirty seconds—which wasn't bad considering the fact that fully half of the road was a cow trail and the other half, unpaved. Piling out, we began our day by watching the boys, a couple of the best clarinet players that ever murdered the "Stars and Stripes," strain a Budweiser through their beards. Oh yes, they had beards. All of the men had beards. Beards had been growing since March, and anyone who dared to shave before the celebration got a public flogging. And if he didn't bring his own barrel with him, he got twenty more licks. Mary and I suspected that a good Art Gum eraser would have shaved off most of the clarenet players' beards, but we said nothing.

By ten o'clock the streets were crowded with men in full cowboy "riggin' "—boots, overall "pants" six-shooters, bright shirts, ten-gallon hats, and a wad of chewing tobacco; women in tight waists, twenty-yard skirts, bright sun bonnets, cotton stockings, laced-up shoes, and cameo pins. The older men and women, the genuine pioneers, the vanishing race, still erect and spry, were dressed in the real "McCoy". Many of them wore their wedding "outfits"; some their Golden Wedding "outfits." Some of the others wore the clothes they had worn fifty or sixty years ago on their "trip west", and a few of the women had on their best calico left-over from their "pre-junior days." Those "old-timers" are always very special guests during the celebration. Each year they have become fewer and fewer. Last year there were only about six of them present. They, who had "squatted" or "ranched" on the Great American Desert, fought Indians and bed bugs, made homes, raised families, and "broke the sod," had made the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma—"no man's land," they called it—into the richest wheat producing country in the world. They were all there that May day, huddled together on the west side of the Main Street waiting for the big parade of covered wagons, uncovered wagons, race horses, work horses, mules, bands, and anything else that could walk, run, pace, or limp.

At ten o'clock the whistle blew. This signal meant two things, the Pony Express was in, and the parade was ready to begin. As a part of the preliminary celebration a Pony Express, as far as I know the only one in existence, runs from Guymon to some large city in Texas or Oklahoma. Last year it ran from Guymon to Oklahoma City, but this year it ran from Guymon to Fort Worth, and back in seven days. That ought to establish a record of some sort. Getting back to the parade—at ten o'clock sharp the sweating Pony Express horse and a very dirty and tired rider rode to the head of the line, gave the signal, and ten high school bands, ten yads apart, brushed back their downy beards and sounded off "Home, Home on the Range." Pioneer Day had officially started and the Pioneer Spirit officially prevailed. Everybody became "Pardner". Even the ranchers, the squatters, and the sheep herders were friends.

The parade lasted forty-five minutes, and scarcely had the last note of my Glockenspiel died away when the judge rode out into the street on his frisking horse to announce that our band had won. This meant that we had the right to be the official band of the Pioneer celebration and play for the rodeo that was to begin at two o'clock that afternoon. Solemnly promising our bandmaster that we would all meet him at one-thirty in front of the "arena," we broke for the north end of Main Street where the contests were to begin. Of course, we entered everything we could, beginning with the "Sack Race," in which everybody had to tie a "gunny sack" around his hips and try to hobble over a block of dirt road to the end of the "track" without stumbling. Shorty won. Shorty would—he had more play inside a sack. It's hard enough to manipulate a pair of cowboy boots on a cement walk, but try it sometime inside a gunny sack.

Next came the Turtle Race, later the Horse-Shoe Pitching Contest, the "Warsher" Pitching Contest, and the last event of the morning, the crowning event of the day, the Tobacco Spitting Contest. Now, here was the event. This event required skill, practice, and technique. As training had become more intensive during February, March, and April, the housewives had thrown away the spittoons and coffee cans, blocked off the corners with furniture, rolled up their rugs, and hoped for the best. And now, they were all on the side-lines rooting for "Papa." Needless to say, this was one time we didn't fight for a place on the front row. You can't tell about the Panhandle wind, and we hadn't shined our boots for nothing. At last the contestants had limbered up, ceased talking—indeed, how could they talk?—and sat silently waiting for the contest to begin. Bets were placed, and I was just about to place all I owned on Grandpap, who had his chin out as far as it would go and pointed at the sun, when I noticed Bubby, white, yes, but dripping as fluently as the best of them. My heart sank. I knew he didn't have a chance, because Grandpap had been spitting in corners and at stoves for the past fifty years. Of all the contests he could have entered, Bubby would enter this one, I thought. There was no mistaking it. There he sat, full to the gills, gradually growing greener and greener. I placed my bet on Bubby. I couldn't bet against him. At last the contest began. One by one the old fellows marched up to the crack, leaned back, and let go. An all-time mark of thirteen feet had been set when Bubby reeled into position, but he was game. Taking a deep breath, he put his hands into his pockets, dug his chin into his chest, and heaved at least a half pint thirteen feet and four inches. Well, that broke up that contest. Poor old crushed fellows were humilitated to tears that this little thirteen-year-old "squirt" collected the five dollars. Poor Bubby spent the rest of the day in the back seat of the car.

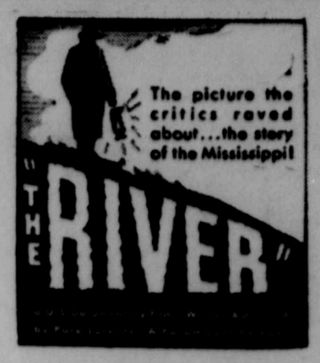

After the horse races, everybody had dinner (we still eat dinner at twelve o'clock) on the courthouse yard, and after the speeches, which invariably started with "When I came to this country . . ." we started for the rodeo. We missed Buddy's trombone, but carried on without him for about three hours. First came the wild steer riders, then the roping, then the bulldogging, then the wild bronco busting, and last, an exhibition by some professional ropers from the "city"—adding an unusual slant. They were good, though, and deserved their applause. Even Uncle Archie admitted that they were almost as good as he was in his "hey day" when he was roping cows and mustangs in the Canadian River bed.

After the rodeo everybody "milled around", talked, and had a good time just having a good time, until eight o'clock when the streets were roped off for a good old-fashioned square dance—the antecedent of the "Big Apple," and a lot more fun. The dance lasted until sunrise. Of course, we had to go home about twelve o'clock because school and Chaucer wait for nobody, and "hooky" is still a capital offense in the Panhandle. We left them "swingin' their pardners and promenadin'," the maidens in their full skirts and laced-up shoes "promenadin' " with their cowboy "men folk" under a diamond-dotted heaven that snugly enclosed their remote Utopia in a studded onyx sphere miles and years away from a modern greedy world.

Next day the band sent a doden carnations to the "gamest little tobacco-spitting spitter that ever spit a spat against the Panhandle wind." The winner spent two days in bed recovering.

Mrs. Harve Holdeman accompanied by Miss Arlene Rogers of Wichita, Kans., Bennie Rogers and Miss Juanita Burk of Springfield, Mo., visited Friday with Misses Eloise and Eileen Holdeman, students at West Texas college, Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Denman and son, Jimmy, made a trip to Dalhart and Perico, Saturday. Mrs. Denman and son remained for a longer stay, Mr. Denman returned Monday.

STARK STORY FLOOD TERROR

COUNTY H. D. COUNCIL WILI SPONSOR "THE RIVER" THE GOVERNMENT FILM OF MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

The Ochiltree County Home Demonstration Council announces that tickets are now on sale for the motion picture production "The River" sponsored by that group at the Ellis Theatre Thursday and Friday, June 7-8. The picture is a United States Documentary film and was produced by the Farm Security Administration and Department of Agriculture. The management is generously giving a per cent of the proceeds from tickets sold by the council members to that organization. Tickets are now on sale at regular prices.

With the beautiful photography and music of the picture is blended an almost poetic narrative carrying forward the story of "The River", a saga of progress and destruction, waste and conservation.

The film starts with the towering timber in the North, with the building of cities and their destruction through ruthless and unplanned cutting. Down in the valley man "mines" the soil for cotton, unmindful of the consequences of growing soil eroston.

The little waters from the hills of the North and the gullies of the South grown into spring and autumn floods and the destruction by flood is symbolized into actual scenes of tragedy and destruction from the 1937 Ohio-Mississippi Valley disaster.

But the picture ends on a progressively encouraging note. Man is doing something about his own ruthless waste and misdeeds of the past. He is reforesting the wornout hills, checking erosion, making intelligent provision against floods through regional planning in the Tennessee Valley and farm aid through other government services.

"The River" is the creation of Pare Lorentz, who made "The Plow That Broke the Plains," dramatizing the effects of dust and drought. He wrote and directed the film, as well as supervised the cutting and editing and musical composition.

Virgil Thomson wrote the musical score which utilizes folk tunes, hymns and special sound effects.

In addition to this thirty minute epic of the flood lands will be John Litel, Ann Sheridan and Janet Chapman in "Little Miss Thoroughbred," a lively story of the race tracks.

Cheering Home A Winner

(Left to right) Frank McHugh, Ann Sheridan, John Litel, and little Janet Chapman cheer their horse home to a perfect finish in "Little Miss Thoroughbred", the thrilling saga of the race tracks showing at the Ellis Tuesday and Wednesday, June 7-8.

New Starlet Soars

Janet Chapman, 6 Year Old "Find" Makes Smash Hit in Film Debut to Show Here

"Little Miss Thoroughbred," which shows at the Ellis Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, introduces to the movie public a new child actress for whom the studio predicts a very glowing future.

The child for whom this brilliant future is predicted is six-year-old Janet Chapman, who plays the title role in "Little Miss Thoroughbred," a part that fully equals in importance those of the three adult leading players, John Litel, and Ann Sheridan of "Alcatraz Island" fame and Frank McHugh.

Little Janet has the appealing task of portraying an orphan searching for a father she firmly believes exists, and the complications of the story ensue when she elects Litel to be her father.

Litel and Frank McHugh are a couple of race track followers who are trying to make their living by "beating" the horses, and Janet is accepted into their strange menage, which also includes Ann Sheridan as Litel's wife, when Litel becomes convinced the child is responsible for a cycle of good luck that he begins to enjoy soon after she shows up.

Pursued by the police—for kidnapping Janet—and by a gang of betting racketeers—for unknowingly cutting into their racket—Litel and his companions travel from track to track enjoying ever-increasing fortune until the police do catch up with them. But everything turns out all right when Janet insists that Litel is indeed her daddy and he accepts the title with all the sincerity any little orphan could wish for.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldon Bell and sons of Enid, Okla., were in Perryton over the week-end visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bell of the Gray, Okla., community, and with her father, Val McLanahan and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Risien, who have been in Perryton the past year while he was engineer with the Soil Conservation camp, left Saturday to make their home in Dallas. Mr. Risien resigned his work here and is employed with a private engineering firm in Dallas.

Miss Lois Mae and J. C. Jones spent the week-end in Oklahoma City visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan. J. C. remained for several weeks stay.

Mrs. Harve Holdeman and daughter, Nana, and son, Frank, went to Canyon Tuesday and returned Wednesday with the twins, Eloise and Eileen Holdeman, who have been attending college there. Miss Eileen had a part in the spring operetta held at the college, Tuesday night.

Miss Mildred Hoghland, who is attending West Texas college, Canyon, came in Wednesday for a few days visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. Harold Hawk and with other relatives. She will return to Canyon for summer school.

YELLOW FEVER BATTLE FOUGHT

ROBERT MONTGOMERY, VIRGINIA BRUCE STAR IN "YELLOW JACK" AT ELLIS ON SUNDAY-MONDAY

A startling page from American history is spotlighted in the new picture, "Yellow Jack," coming to the Ellis Theatre, Sunday and Monday, June 5 and 6.

Robert Montgomery is cast in his most dramatic role since "Night Must Fall", with Virginia Bruce playing the feminine lead and Lewis Stone portraying the historical character of Major Walter Reed who was instrumental in the isolation of yellow fever.

Director George Seitz has placed the action of the picture against the tropical background of an army medical encampment after the Spanish-American War.

The supporting cast is one of the most capable seen in recent months, including Andy Devine, Henry Hull, Charles Coburn, Buddy Ebsen, Henry O'Niell, Janet, Beecher, William Henry, Alan Curtis and Sam Levene.

The story is that of the army medical commission sent to Cuba in 1900 to ascertain the cause of a yellow fever epidemic. Faced with almost insurmountable obstacles, the commission finally realizes that its only hope for success is the voluntary service of soldiers as human guinea pigs in fulfilling experiments designed to establish the cause of the disease. Montgomery, stirred by the death of a friend, caused by the fever, persuades four of the men to join him in volunteering. Their heroic act is one of the thrilling pages in medical history.

Laurel-Hardy Film

"Swiss Miss", Tale of Two Mouse Trap Salesmen Comes to Ellis On Saturday, June 4

Beautiful settings, picturesque costumes and tuneful melodies provide a rich and varied background for the antics of Laurel and Hardy in their new extravaganza, "Swiss Miss", which comes to the Ellis Saturday, June 4. The Alpine setting allows for the introduction of many novelties of entertainment such as folk dancing, bell-ringing, yodeling and flag-throwing. All of these offerings add to the appeal of the production without any distraction from the familiar but always welcome drolleries of the stellar pair.

In this picture they are seen as American mouse-trap salesmen bent on ridding the cheese producing districts of the Alpine republic of its rodents. As salemen their efforts are unavailing but as comedians Laurel and Hardy have seldom had a vehicle better suited to their antics.

Supplying the romantic interest and singing special songs written for the new production are Della Lind, beautiful blonde Vienese who is making her American debut in this film, and Walter Woolf King. Both possessed with rich and appealing voices, the musical interludes of "Swiss Miss" reach unusual significance. Eric Blore, the English comedian, is another member of the cast meriting praise. The picture was directed by John G. Blystone.

NEW EQUIPMENT INSTALLED AT RALPH'S LUNCH

Ralph Adams owner of Ralph's Lunch announces that with the addition of a new gas stove with larger plate among the many improvements in remodeling he has there during the past week he can now serve his customers quicker and more efficiently than in the past. Other improvements include new tables, new cutting and sandwich board and a complete renovation of the Air Conditioning system. Mr. Adams was among the first to install air conditioning in a business house in Perryton.

AVERY Combines Handle More Kinds of Crops Successfully!

With a New Improved AVERY Combine you can handle more crops of different kinds more successfully than with any other make! Just ask any AVERY Owner! The AVERY takes care of Wheat, Oats, Rye, Soy-Beans, Clover, Maize, Timothy, Flax, Barley, Buckwheat, Mustard. And the most abnormal, hard-working conditions make little difference. The AVERY has the easy adjustments and the shelling accuracy to deliver the seeds uncracked, clean as a whistle!

DOESN'T CRACK THE GRAIN!

It's sound common sense to choose an All-Crop AVERY. Perfect spaced cylinder won't crack brittle seeds. Accelerating feed roller prevents back feeding. Spreading comb beater permits cylinder to be slowed to proper speed for all crops without wrapping. Special equipment supplied for any of the crops named above.

To See One Operate is to Want One!

ENGINES WILL BE WORN LESS THIS SUMMER

But you want to know exactly why. You're leery of general statements that won't save you one piston ring or one quart of oil. So you want what the doctors call a specific. And that's what you get from your change to OIL-PLATING. Only patented Conoco Germ Processed oil from Your Mileage Merchant's station can give your engine OIL-PLATING. Other oils can't. No matter how they're refined they cannot surpass the correct refining of Germ Processed oil. But refining only takes things out, while Germ Processing adds in the patented man-made substance that forces oil to "join up" with the working parts, keeping them OIL-PLATED. All the while Germ Processed oil is used, you have permanent OIL-PLATING. Like all plating, OIL-PLATING keeps wear away and it never drains down nor waits for the oil pump! Before other oils could even begin to circulate, OIL-PLATING will lubricate! Hence no "dry starts" with your engine OIL-PLATED. And platings don't fly off at Summer speeds, or frizzle away in the heat. So the heat indicator stays on the safe side, and the gauge-stick says "Still full of Conoco Germ Processed oil!" Have your Mileage Merchant OIL-PLATE Your Engine. Continental Oil Co.

Combat Fly Menace

Despite Progress Made in Eliminating This Menace Much Is To Be Done Says Dr. Cox

Austin, Texas, June 2—"The common housefly possesses two deceiving characteristics. As insects go, it is not offensive in appearance and it is so common that its presence is to a degree accepted. Nevertheless, the fly is a very real threat to good health. It is estimated that the fly is responsible for 40,000 deaths annually in America. Its efficiency as a spreader of typhoid fever, infant diarrheal infections and tuberculosis is well recognized by the medical profession," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"We have, even so, made much progress against the disease-spreading fly. The screening of homes and a sanitary consciousness both in urban and rural communities, have reduced the fly's disease-spreading ability. We all must realize, however, that in the rural areas of Texas there are still many properties lacking sanitary pit privies and adequate screening; and in cities and towns exposed garbage and filth are permitted inexcusably to exist as breeding spots for flies.

"It is such carelessness that still makes possible widespread fly havoc. There is no reason to tolerate fly-breeding conditions, especially in congested metropolitan areas. Even in the rural sections, adequate sanitary protection, household screening, and fly-swatting will greatly neutralize the damaging potentialities of barnyards and cowlots.

"The fly must be recognized for what it is, despite its innocent appearance and lack of sting. It will then be appreciated that no effort is too great to help destroy it. And this effort, when well directed, will not be so much against the fly itself, however commendable that may be, as against its breeding places," Dr. Cox continued.

"Filth is the fly's great and only ally; cleanliness its powerful enemy. If typhoid deaths and infant mortality from diarrheal conditions are to be reduced in Texas this spring, summer and autumn, as well as eventual deaths from tuberculosis, now is the time to wage effective warfare against one of their most powerful agents—the fly."

NEW BRIDGE OVER CANADIAN RIVER COMPLETED

The new 800-fot bridge across the Candaian River, 18 miles north of Amarillo, on the Amarillo-Dumas highway, is due to be opened to traffic next week. It is a $120,000 steel and concrete structure, which highway department engineers declare one of the best bridges ever built in Texas. After the new bridge is opened, the contractor will salvage the 30-year-old bridge.

Center piers of the new structure are sunk 40 feet into bedrock. This crossing is the only place along the Canadian for some 200 miles where there is a rock base. Other bridges have piers sunk into sand and gravel.—The Amarillo Times.

LACKEY ENTERS ATTORNEY RACE

COUNTY ATTORNEY OF HUTCHINSON COUNTY IS SEEKING POST OF 84TH DISTRICT ATTORNEY

The Herald has been authorized by O. T. (Jack) Lackey, now serving as county attorney of Hutchinson county, to place his name before the voters of Ochiltree county as a candidate for district attorney of the 84th

O. T. (JACK) LACKEY

Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on Saturday, July 23. This post is now held by W. L. McConnell, Panhandle, who is seeking reelection.

Jack Lackey is a native of the Panhandle having been born at Wellington in Collingsworth county in 1899. His parents were pioneer Texans and among the first settlers in the Panhandle. His father, J. L. Lackey, was the second judge of Collingsworth county.

As an attorney, Mr. Lackey has a fine record. Before coming to Hutchinson county, he was located at Shamrock. His accomplishments as county attorney in Hutchinson speak well for his ability and recommends him for the important position of district prosecutor.

In making his announcement Mr. Lackey states that he will make an effort to meet every voter in the district and that if elected he will cooperate with city and county officials in the enforcement of all laws.

Jack Lackey is a successful young attorney, he has an excellent background and record, he is worthy of the consideration and will appreciate the support of every voter.

the next week or ten days. These shipments include, mostly, machinery which has already been sold for this season's harvest.

In addition to the machinery shipments received, a survey of the automobile dealers, reveals the fact that twenty-six carloads of trucks and pickups have been shipped and trucked in, the most of which have been sold and delivered to the individual purchasers.

Other Related Merchandise

On top of all the machinery and trucks delivered here for distribution and use in this territory, there have been dozens of carloads of gasoline, kerosene, distillate, oil, lumber, sand and gravel, cement, car, truck and tractor tires, refrigerators, washing machines, hardware, and other related merchandise which will be needed during and after the harvest.

Local implement dealers who are handling this business include Perkins Implement Co., Holdeman Motor Co., Perryton Equipment Co., Perry's Plains Implement Co., R. E. Hall, O'Dell Motor & Implement Co., Universal Motor Co., Perryton Motor Co., Russell Service, Hobbs Motor Co. and K. K. Thomas.

Much Activity

Places of business displaying the most activity this week are the repair departments of the various implement dealers. Extra clerks have been added to all firms in an effort to take care of the extra rush at this time, and this activity will be continued up to and through harvest.

Service departments of the various motor companies are also veritable beehives of activity, getting trucks and pickups in good running condition for marketing the grain.

Unemployment locally has decreased considerably during the past two weeks and more is expected to be absorbed as the rush continues.

Nearly every grain elevator in this territory is receiving extensive improvements, either on the structures themselves or the operating machinery is being replaced with new and more modern facilities to handle the rush. The elevator operators are expecting to run their plants 24 hours daily during the rush.

The Sante Fe Railway company is at the present time making preparations to speedily handle the shipment of grain out of this and other towns along its line in this section of the state. Additional grain cars, engines, crews and office and yard help have been arranged. Plans have been laid by the company to handle as many as 75 cars of grain daily out of the Perryton yards if necessary.

Small Damage By Hail

Up to the present time, with the exception of a small strip between Huntoon and Booker, there has been very little damage done by hail. In that particular area there were several farmers who were paid from 40 to 100 per cent loss on their crops, but as a whole what damage there was in other parts of the county has been but five to ten per cent.

Interviews with various wheat farmers and others acquainted with the crop prospects estimates an average production over the county of around 25 bushels to the acre with some fields producing as high as 50 bushels to the acre.

Reports from various shipping points in Hansford and Lipscomb counties compare proportionately with those of Perryton relative to crop production and the importation of machinery to handle the harvest.

R. Allen becoming a candidate for this office. If Jack has aspirations to serve as District Judge, he will get our whole-hearted support but we do not believe that he would be a candidate under any circumstances against Judge Pickens. Jack stands high with the people of the district and we believe that a majority of the attorneys of the district would support him. He is a very able lawyer and has proven his ability to serve as judge, having presided over several terms of court in the district since Judge Pickens has been ill.

We have a very high regard for Judge E. J. Pickens both as a personal friend and as a jurist and what we have said regarding this office is expressed with the thought in mind that Judge Pickens' illness might possibly force him to retire from the active duties required of a judge in this district. Judge Pickens is held in the highest esteem throughout the entire district and we doubt very much if any attorney in the district can beat him so long as he cares to run.

Saturday, June 18, is the last day to file for county offices. The county Democratic executive committee will meet on June 20 to assess primary assessment fees and the candidates will have until June 25 to pay the ballot fee. Primary on Saturday, July 23. Second primary on August 27.

The Herald presents in this issue the first of a series of articles on Old Mexico from Del Spicer. Del, who has just returned from an 18 months stay in the country across the Rio has been given carte blanche as to subject and content and we feel that Herald readers will enjoy to the utmost the first hand information that Del can give concerning this turbulent neighbor nation.

Just a word about the influx of peddlers, solicitors, agents, gamblers and beggars that have already started to descend upon our community now that the word has gotten around that we are going to have a big harvest and that means money in the pockets of most folks. Just like the threatened devastating grasshopper invasion that has already started so these "fly-by-night" peddlers are starting in on us.

Like the human leeches that follow the oil booms to get the easy pickin's, so they flock in to gather the golden wheat dollars. These out-of-town peddlers don't pay taxes, support our churches and schools nor have they contributed one small iota to the development of this community. They have nothing to sell that a home-town business man cannot sell you just as cheap and in most cases, much better. So we implore of you to stay with your friends and neighbors and let the smooth tongued "city slickers" go out with their pockets just as empty as when they hit Perryton.

The Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council annual summer camp opened last Sunday at the Ochiltree State Park with a big crowd of Boy Scouts in attendance. Scout Executive Fred Roberts states that he expects a capacity enrollment of 100 Boy Scouts for the second and third weeks of the camp. A dam was thrown across Wolf Creek by the American Legion to provide a fine swimming hole for the boys. A large number of Perryton Scouts expect to make the camp next week. The cost is only $6.00 per week for each boy.

Have you visited the Perryton CCC camp lately. If not, then just drive out that way and take a "look-around". Several hundred trees have been planted and they are alive and thriving. The kitchen, store room and woodwork shop has been repainted, grass is being planted and everything put in best of shape. A big new educational building is now under construction and everything points to a continuance of the camp for an indefinite period.

W. J. Van London, division state highway engineer, has announced that grasshopper poison will be spread along the rights-of-way of state highways in the Panhandle. Don't know whether the Ochiltree county commissioners are planning to spread poison on all county roads or not, but if not, then plans should be made at once. The railroad rights-of-way and all other railroad property in the Panhandle should also be covered with the poison bait.

peared to have the advantage and the game, but in the visitors' ninth frame two hits and an error tied the score, forcing the game into extra innings, after Perryton failed to cross the home plate during their session with the big sticks.

The tenth inning and the first half of the eleventh went scoreless, but during the last half of the eleventh Connor connected with a good wallop to rightfield after Riley flied out to centerfield. Chaffin drew a walk, and with Connor on second Hergert sent a sizzler out to center scoring Connor. Lady luck, however, entered the play as Connor neared the home plate, allowing him to score after Smith dropped the throw-in by Muncy from center which would have meant another inning or two to play.

year's Fiesta at great expense.

The rodeos, to be held each afternoon and night, June 9-10 at Roadrunner Park, promise thrills equal to any rodeo in the country. All rodeo stock will be furnished by Beutler Brothers and the arena specialties consisting of trained animals, fancy clowning and clowns will be more than worth the price of admission.

There will be a barbecue for the old timers and there will be old time and modern dances at the visitors option. Other events will incude an old fiddlers contest, exhibits and carnival rides on the grounds.

Car Overturns Sunday

Several Perryton People Bruised And Cut in Head-On Collision Sunday, 4 Miles East

Several Perryton young people received cuts and bruises Sunday evening about 8:15 o'clock when a car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brickley met a Pepsi-Cola truck in a head-on collision and turned over several times 4 miles east of town. R. C. Whitley, driver of the truck was uninjured. Both vehicles were damaged to some extent.

Riding with Mr. and Mrs. Brickley at the time were Beth Lovett, Irene Wilson, Helen May, and Billie Hoskins. None of the parties could explain the cause of the accident, but it was thought that Mrs. Brickley and Mr. Whitely were blinded by each other's lights. The young people were enroute to Miss Hoskin's home north of Booker.
