Marshals To Inspect Businesses

By Eddie Bradley

Elva Mullinax and Leslie Cole are currently in the beginnings of a campaign to inspect commercial businesses and buildings in the area to make sure they are meeting regulations for fire safety.

Mullinax is the Fire Marshal for both Rockport and Aransas County; Cole is the Fulton Fire Chief and the Assistant County Fire Marshal.

The project began with some routine inspections, but, as the two men said, "We found so many problems in the few places checked, we thought we had better do a thorough job."

"People are subject to fines," they said, "but that is not our goal. We don't want to fine anyone, just prevent fires."

They emphasized that they want to work with the people in order to help cut down the possibility of dangerous situations arising. "People don't do dangerous things on purpose," they said, adding that some just need to be reminded occasionally of possible hazards.

After inspecting a location, the Marshals will give the proprietor a list of any violations found and then come back in 10 days to make sure corrections have been made.

Three of the most obvious violations that they have seen so far are the failure to have the proper amount and type of fire extinguishers, the failure to have a properly accessible

Six Miles Of Streets To Be Seal Coated

Some 27 Rockport streets -- a total of 6.6 miles -- are scheduled for seal coating sometime during 1980 as the result of city council action last Monday.

City council members approved the list of streets for seal coating during the April 28 council session.

The biggest single job on the list is the scheduled seal coating of Broadway Street from North Highway 35 to Traylor Avenue -- a total of 7,600 feet.

The next largest job is on North Live Oak from North Street to Alamito, 3,500 feet. But the paving of South Live Oak from North Street to Market adds another 1,200 feet to this project.

Other streets scheduled for seal coating during the remainder of 1980 include Fuqua Street from Bay Street to Lamar -- 2,800 feet -- and from Second Street to Sixth Street, another 1,800 feet.

Bay Street is also scheduled for seal coating in two sections: a 300-foot strip from Bronte to Young and another 800 feet from South Church to South Austin.

The entire 1,800 feet of Percival Avenue is on the list to be seal coated.

Other streets on the seal coating list include Glass Avenue, 800 feet from Percival to Sorenson; Laurel Street, 2,000 feet from Fuqua to North Pearl; Gagon Street, 1,200 feet from Sabinal to Liberty; South Water Street, 2,300 feet from King to Third.

James, Lamar and Sixth streets are all scheduled to be seal coated a distance of 300 feet, from Fuqua to Bronte. Fifth Street will be seal coated 600 feet from Bronte to Business Route.

Also on the list are Cedar Street, 1,300 feet from North Live Oak to Allen; Market Street, 200 feet from South Austin to South Water; North Church, 300 feet from Laurel to Liberty; Cornwall, 1,000 feet from Bronte to North Ann.

Also Allen Street, 300 feet from Alamito to the end of the street; Victoria Avenue, 800 feet from Broadway to Patton; Lady Clare, 1,200 feet from Linden to Broadway.

Also State Avenue, 200 feet from Lady Clare to Broadway: South Pearl, 400 feet from First to Second streets; North Ann, 1,200 feet from Liberty to North Street; and Wharf Street, 400 feet from South Water to South Austin.

Errors Cause Problems For Candidates

The corrected statements of candidates in the race for County Commissioner Pct. 3 and corrected ad for Raulie Irwin Jr. appear on Page 3 of today's Pilot.

Due to clerical errors, part of the statement of Roy Biggs Jr. was attributed to another candidate in the Place 3 Commissioners' race, and Irwin's name was omitted from his ad in two places.

These errors have been corrected in today's edition.

City Needs Dog Pound To Meet Requirements

By Pat Blair

Rockport must have a dog pound in order to comply with state legislation, city officials say.

And the city's present goal is to get one that will meet State Health Department Requirements without putting too much burden on city taxpayers.

John Hicklin, the architect the city has hired to draw up plans and specifications for the proposed new pound, thinks one can be built for in the neighborhood of $20,000 or less.

Taking him at his word, city councilmen Monday night, April 28, authorized him to draw up plans for a structure that will be within a $20,000 budget.

At Monday night's meeting, plans for a dog pound were on the board for the council members to view -- but city officials emphasize these are not final plans, but just one proposal.

The city has been looking at a dog pound -- and an animal control ordinance -- for several months. At one time, city and county officials considered going in together on a joint city-county pound operation, and the city budgeted $10,000 in the current budget for such an operation.

However, plans for a joint pound fell through and ended permanently with the county's decision to construct a $30,000 dog pound entirely through county funds.

The first plans tentatively considered by city officials were for a completely enclosed metal building. However, at Monday's meeting, City Secretary Herman Johnson said it wasn't necessary to have the building entirely enclosed.

Johnson continued he had talked with a representative from the State Health Department and quoted the representative as saying that an open structure "would be just as good, if not better" than a completely enclosed building.

One advantage of an open building, Johnson said, would be the elimination of ventilation and odor problems.

Johnson presented to the council a plan he and City Director of Public Works J.C. Gurley had come up

Commissioners Court Hears Complaint About Loose Dogs

By Beverly Wilken

Mrs. Amil Johnston spoke to the commissioners court during their regular meeting on Wednesday, April 30, about "over 17 loose dogs" her street is plagued with.

Mrs. Johnston, who lives on North Verne Street, said the residents across the street from her have a large number of dogs and a fence in their backyard, but the dogs are not kept there.

She is not the only resident being kept up late hours with the dogs barking and having to chase her newspaper each morning, she said, adding that several other neighbors are having the same problem.

She said one has chickens that the dogs try to attack.

County Judge John Wendell asked Mrs. Johnston if she had contacted the county attorney concerning her problem, and she said she had, and was referred to Rick McLester who is employed by the County Attorney's office as a part

Speaking Out

Do you think President Carter did the right thing in attempting a military rescue of the hostages in Iran? Would you be in favor of any further military actions?

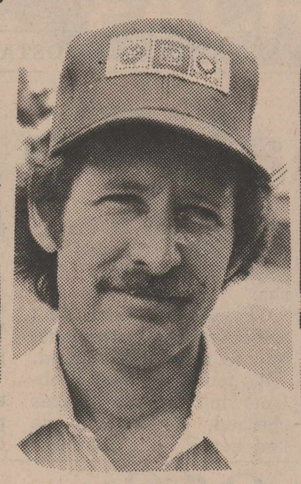

Mrs. J.F. Matthews, San Antonio
He should have gone in there within the first 48 hours and not waited all this time. I would favor any action to quickly get our hostages back.

A.C. Hamon, Timber Lane Loop
I do think he did the right thing. I would favor further military actions if that's the only way we will get them out.

Larry Wells, Oak Street
I think he went in with too little too late. I would definitely be in favor of further military actions.

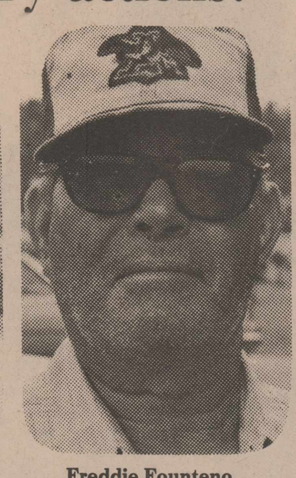

Paul Murphree, Oak Street
I believe he did the right thing. I believe he ought to get out of his chair and do more.

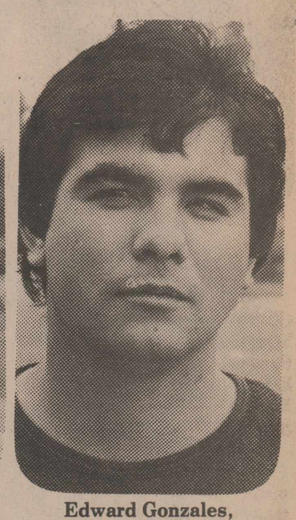

Donald Dennis, Holiday Beach
I think he did the right thing in trying, but I think we've lost the element of surprise.

John Gonzales, Corpus Christi
I would say he did the right thing. I really wouldn't be in favor of other actions since this one failed.

Freddie Founteno, Oak Street
He should have done it a long time before. I would be 100 percent in favor of further military actions.

Edward Gonzales, Young Street
I think he did the right thing, but he waited too long. I would favor further actions with proper planning.

Austin At Wharf

"GIVE ME YOUR TIRED, YOUR POOR, YOUR huddled masses yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore."

All of us, from our earliest youth have responded patriotically to these words by Emma Lazarus which are engraved on the Statue of Liberty. They have through our lives reminded us of our greatness as a nation, served as a reminder of our compassion. Even though in reality we have not always been so genuinely faithful to their meaning as we would sometimes like to think and pretend. Countless first and second generation Americans are aware of the indignities their fathers and grandfathers suffered when they arrived here speaking little or no English.

Of all this I am very much aware as I write the paragraphs to come. Paragraphs which will be in the end a refutation of Emma Lazarus. It's like this. Rightly or wrongly, although rightly, else I'd not be writing, I have come to the conclusion that the time has come for the people of this country to solidify and stablize.

In a word, I believe we should bring the acceptance of newcomers to the United States to an end. That will be considered by some of you as a very cruel statement. And it is, but I am, on the other hand, fearful of the future unless we take positive action, become extremely selective of any newcomers we accept.

Essentially I would say this? The greatness of this nation, and this applies to us all, be we of French, Dutch, German, Jewish, Italian descent -- or whatever, stems from a Constitution based upon the Magna Carta, or Anglo Saxon thought and mores.

As a consequence our common language has been for two centuries English, or to be more precise an Americanized English that has been accepted here and its adapted words and phrases from virtually every spoken language in the world. As a consequence, our English, or American if you prefer, has become the most virile language in the world.

In recent years we have tended to turn away from that language. To illustrate the point let me cite the circumstance of legal notices in Texas and several other states where the law requires that they be published in Spanish as well as English. The circumstance is not a healthy one. Indeed it is dangerous; it signals a national softness that we mistake for kindness which it is not.

A single national language has for every great nation in known history been the first bond of its people. In America today that bond is in jeopardy.

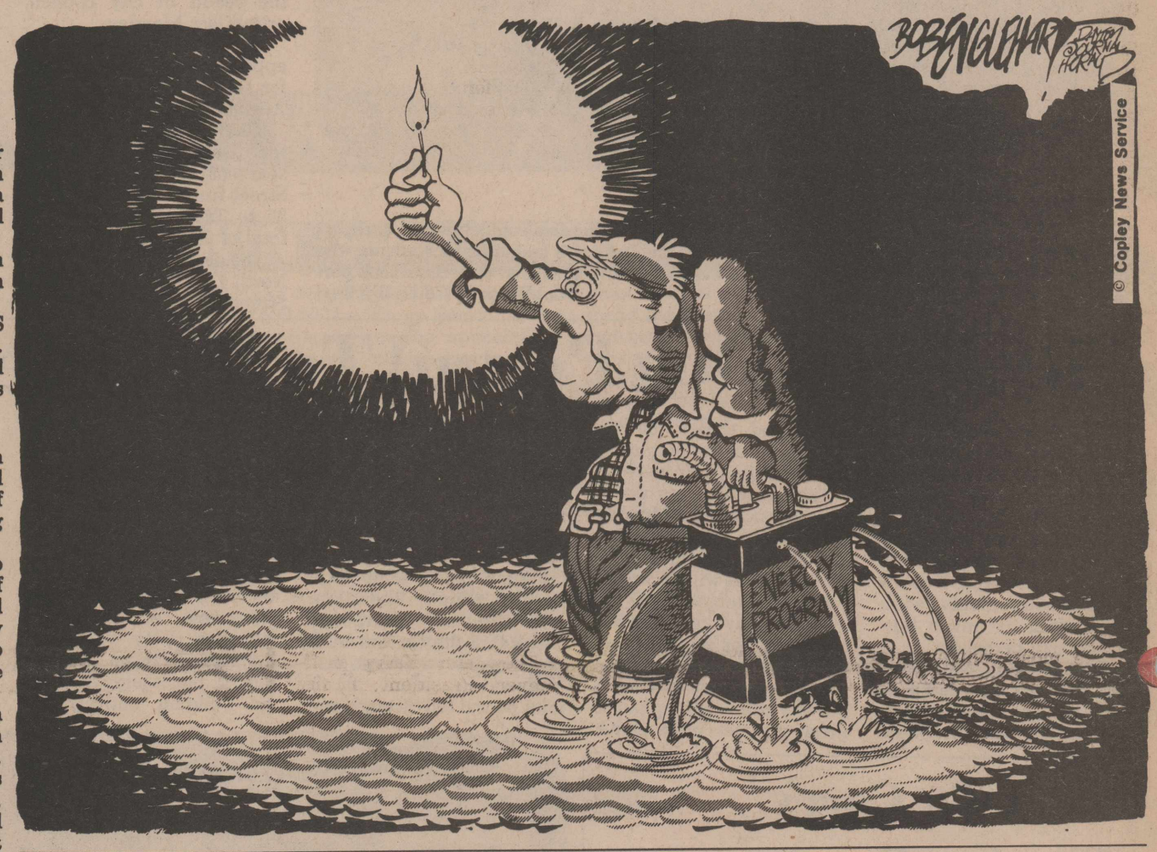

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO I WAS charmed with the idea of living in a bi-lingual atmosphere. I was fascinated by lilting Spanish music, a ranchero band sometimes brought a sentimental tear to my eye. I was bent on learning the language.

Then I slowly began to realize that a non-English speaking citizen was trapped in a sort of self-inflicted slavery. And of course it still holds that no one, of whatever his descent advances far without first becoming fluent in the language of the nation in which he lives.

Perhaps some will be determined that I make too much of the issue. Perhaps some consider publication of legal notices in other than the historically accepted language of the country is a trifle. I don't think so. Usually I find that those who disagree are people who choose to keep political control over those of their own native background.

In the end I feel that this country has enough problems, problems that increase daily. Hence I am convinced that we need solidarity as never before. Acceptance of another language then opens dangerous doors. And so, if we choose to learn Spanish, French, Hindu or any other language let us do so for cultural purposes or because the nature of our work demands that we live in a country where another language is spoken.

THIS COLUMN MIGHT HAVE BEEN ON THE subject of President Carter's attempt to free the hostages in Iran, but too much has already been written, so suffice that all comment must boil down to the fact that we waited too long and too late. Call it a good college try if you like. My thoughts are with the families of the men who lost their lives in the attempt. -- ahab

Our Readers Write . . .

Dear Sir

In an editorial published in another local paper, the paper had very critical remarks to make about my actions approving a budget which contained a raise for Commissioners along with all elected officials and county personnel. Since that time he has raised the price of his paper several times for his own benefit.

Also he has criticized me for a public election in which the public voted against a useless law. The County Road & Bridge was already using a unit system voluntarily. Also we are still using consulting P.E. engineers on drainage problems. His protege, Pat Farley, advocates county sewage. He evidently is not aware that the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District is ready to begin studies for a sewage system. This study was funded by the County Commissioners.

An editor who is not aware of current events in his own area cannot honestly reflect the opinions of the public.

I have told him before and I will do so again. He is not an editor who has ever offered any constructive criticism because he is not capable of doing so.

Please assemble some facts for a change Mr. Mullins. Thank You, Raymond Owens

"Concerned Citizens" Group Confronts Sea Fair Board

Friday evening a called meeting of the Board of Directors of the Rockport Seafair was attended by representatives of the Rockport Beach Restoration Committee and/or officials of the so called "concerned citizens."

At issue was a proposal by the board of directors of Seafair, headed this year by chairman Bob Barnardy, that in order to continue improving the quality of Seafair, additional grounds area would be needed. Barnardy stated that although no additional food or exhibit booths were anticipated the board felt that larger grounds area would make for more comfort and enjoyment by the many participants of Seafair. Several division chairmen in attendance stated that over crowding was the only significant comlaint about Seafair.

Areal photographs were presented by proponants showing that an area at the north end of the mile long Beach Road was some three to four acres larger than the traditional area at the South end of the Beach Road. Barnardy stated that underground utilities (water & electricity) would be installed at Seafair's expense and according to Navigation District & Beach Commissioner specifications. The board members present stated that the larger North site offered many advantages in terms of booth & tent spacing, parking, controls, and pedestrian access to the grounds.

Anita Dingenary, representing the Beach Committee stated the Seafair should stay where it was due to plans for the North site to be a future park area. Others present expressed concern for the least-tern nesting area. It was reported that, according to Parks & Wildlife Biologist John Smith, the least-tern was present in June thru August only leaving the October date of Seafair uneffeced.

Self appointed spokesman of the "concerned citizens" Gary Deason stated that "three navigation district members & two city councilmen were in his pocket" and that as such he and the so called "concerned citizens" had ultimate control, regardless. Additional allegations were made as to the validity of the Seafair organizers contention that they had out grown their site. Dingenary stated that she had met earlier in the day with three navigation district commissiones regarding alternate sites that the Beach Committee would approve.

A second choice site outlined by Barnardy met with mixed resistance by the Beach Committee spokesman.

Deason stated that large festivals were not in Rockports best interest as they led to even larger & potentially dangerous events such as rock concerts or massive outdoor country & western music festivals concluding that perhaps "Seafair had out lived it usefullness."

Following the confrontation the Seafair Board voted to submit its porposal for the North Beach site to the Navigation District for approval.

Food product concern

The public's concern about the safety of food products has risen sharply in the last few months, according to the Consumer Response Corporation.

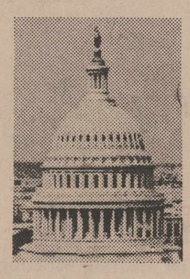

From January of 1978 to September of 1978, the level of concern grew by 11 percent, with sweetener being perceived as the most dangerous food hazard. — CNS

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

Senator David Durenberger (Minn.) " . . . I am introducing a bill today to amend section 1034 of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the exclusion of gain on sale of a personal residence. The bill eliminates the 55-year-age limitation and the one-time election requirement.

"While the provisions of the law prior to 1978 relating to the exclusion of gain by taxpayers who attained the age of 65, ameliorated this situation somewhat, it was believed that the prior dollar limits and age restrictions were unrealistic in view of increasing housing costs and decreasing retirement ages.

"The 1978 amendment provided that an individual who has attained the age of 55 may exclude from gross income, on a one time elective basis, up to $100,000 of any gain realized on the sale or exchange of his or her principal residence.

"Today the current age limitation and one-time election are again unrealistic in light of our efforts to conserve energy. New housing will play a large role in our Nation's ability to successfully implement our energy conservation goals. We must provide incentives to assure that newly built homes will be smaller and more energy efficient.

"The bill (S. 2522) I am introducing would eliminate the disincentive to purchase a smaller residence by providing that the $100,000 exclusion of capital gain be used in part or in total. This provision eliminates the indecision on the part of the taxpayer who may postpone the use of the exclusion until he is sure of its maximum effectiveness.

"Further, the bill provides that the $100,000 capital gain exclusion can be used by all taxpayers regardless of age. This provision will encourage taxpayers other than those planning retirement to purchase smaller fuel efficient personal residences."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Any move to stimulate the Real Estate market is to be commended, especially if it is to the taxpayer's advantage.

Now is the time to place inheritance tax laws on the front burner. The inheritance tax structure is as out-dated as the Home sale tax law was 20 years ago. Parents shouldn't have to resort to tax loop-holes to insure that their children benefit from years spent accumulating security. In many cases the children helped in the search for security. Inheritance tax laws as they apply to small business and family farms are senseless. A congressman promoting inheritance tax reform would be welcome with open arms, and votes.

Representative E. Thomas Coleman (Mo.) " . . . Today I am introducing an amendment to the 1977 Food Stamp Act that could reduce the cost of the program by $700 million in fiscal year 1981 without depriving needy families of proper nutrition.

"The Congressional Budget Office estimates that we could save about $700 million in the coming year by eliminating this duplication of service to eligible families.

"Apparently, administration of the food stamp program have not taken into consideration the fact that some recipient families have children who eat one or more meals a day in school through the Government's free programs to needy youngsters. The families receive full allotments of food stamps, designed to provide proper nutrition for thee meals a day for every member of the family even though one or more of the family members may actually eat meals at school . . .

"Under provisions of the amendment, adjustment schedules would be developed and local officials could simply refer to them to determine the level of benefits for food stamp recipient families.

"Admittedly, this amendment is just a small start when you consider that the food stamp program has nearly doubled in cost in the last 2 years, from $5.7 billion to $10 billion. However, my amendment is a reasonable and responsible step toward eliminating waste and duplication in the food stamp program."

Representative Eldon Rudd (Ariz.) . . . "I am pleased to join with my distinguished colleague from Missouri (Mr. Coleman) in introducing legislation which would eliminate unnecessary and costly duplication between the food stamp and school lunch programs . . .

The net effect of this overlap is that families with children who receive federally financed free or reduced-price school lunches are subsidized for four rather than three meals per day, with resulting increased costs to our taxpayers . . .The bill which we are introducing has been sponsored in the Senate by the distinguished gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. Helms) . . ."

CUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

A poorly written and administered Food Stamp program is the fault of Congress. What congressman will volunteer to tell the poor family that their food stamp allotment will be reduced because their children are getting a government-subsidized lunch at school.

County Commissioner, Pct. 3 Democrat

Pat Farley

Dane Patrick Farley, 1902 Cochram, Rockport, Texas. Married - Charlotte Anne Farley. No children. Self-Employed - Farley Boat Works, - Rusty Anchor Restaurant.

Many problems face the new Commissioners when they take office. Of the many challenges ahead, I have selected three major objectives.

ONE

Better communication and understanding between the Commissioners Court and the Sheriff's Department. One Commissioner should be appointed Liaison between the two in order to better understand each other's problems.

I would like to envision a Sheriff's Department with a reputation of keeping its deputies in its employment for extended periods of time. Rapid turnover of employees is expensive, non-productive, and indicates an internal problem. The problem is a very simple one; that being the deputies cannot basically live, or support a family on their meager salaries.

It is my contention that the Law Enforcement officers salaries can be raised, without actually costing the taxpayers additional money. It will also open the door for applications for more qualified and experienced personnel.

TWO

The most controversial subject is, of course, our road and drainage problem. There is no easy solution to this problem, even for the present Commissioners Court, with all their combined experience.

It does not take an engineer to tell us we have problems, but it will take someone his equal to tell us how to alleviate some of these problems.

THREE

Perhaps the most difficult objective is the implementation of a county-wide sewer system. This subject, or at least related subjects, is a topic of discussion among many Aransas County residents, especially after a heavy rainfall.

Roy Biggs

Drainage is a problem only if you lack the knowledge to control it.

Construction work is baffling only when you're not properly trained in the trades.

Business is confusing only when you don't have the ability to cope with it.

The incumbent is deadwood on the tree of progress. He has had many years to solve the Precinct's problems, and has failed, simply because he lacks in ability and motivation.

I'm only asking for the chance to prove it can be done.

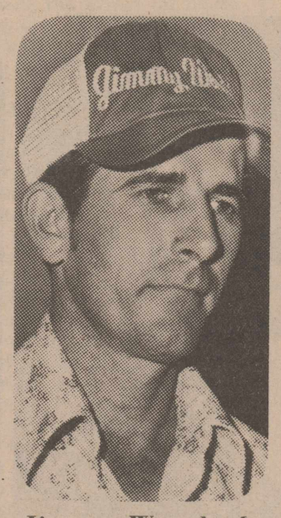

A choice for the voters-ability, knowledge and desire, or total apathy and ineptitude.

I do not advocate hiring an engineer, as Mr. Farley suggests, in case the elected candidate is not qualified to do the job. My experience in construction is commercial, residential, industrial, schools, churches, hospitals, sewer and water treatment facilities, Nuclear Reactor generator, and many more. I also operate my own business.

I will be accessable to, and aware of the people's wishes constantly.

I earnestly believe myself to be the only 100 percent qualified candidate in Precinct 3, but I must have your support to prove it. We need each other.

Help me, to help you. Vote my Ballot May 3 . . .

Jimmy Woods Jr.

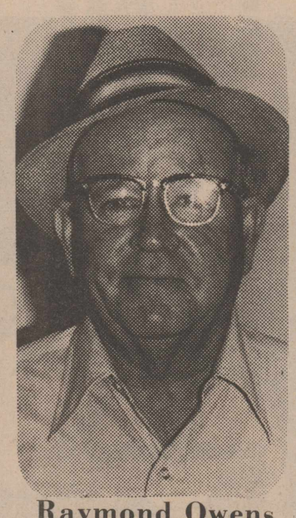

I was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana, in 1944 and moved to Corpus Christi with my parents when I was one year old, attending public schools there. Am married to Ann Harris Woods, my wife of 17 years. We have one daughter Debra Sue Woods, who is a sophomore in the Rockport-Fulton High School. We reside on 9th Street in the Fulton area.

Being a young businessman in this County for almost a decade, I am associated with my father at the Jimmy Woods Produce Market on Hwy. 35 North.

Drainage being a serious problem in Precinct 3, a definite plan needs to be established and this plan carried forth to solve this Drainage problem.

I believe that each Precinct should operate within a balanced budget, but this budget should be changed from year to year to fit existing needs.

The reason for my seeking the office of County Commissioner of Precinct 3, is my feeling that now is the time for a new outlook, new ideas and to have a young businessman "WHO WILL WORK FOR YOU".

Raymond Owens

I moved here in 1947 after serving in World War II.

I have built, operated and sold two businesses. Presently I am involved only in the business of Aransas County. A fortunate situation which gives me all of my time to devote to roads, drainage and other business of Aransas County.

I was one of the first elected officials of the Navigation Board. The other commissioners being Dick Picton and Norvel Jackson. The Navigation District was instrumental at that time in completing improvements and facilities in Rockport, Fulton and Cove Harbors. These facilities are presently facing expansion problems.

I became county commissioner of Pct. 3 in 1965 after resigning from the Navigation Board where I had served approximately 10 years.

County government is a body which is designed to respond to the wishes and needs of the people of Aransas County within legal limits of Federal and State regulations. Sometimes it is difficult to decide which needs are desired by the majority of the people of Aransas County and if the taxpayers are willing to pay for the services.

My contact to the public is often. If I am not available I can be reached through my wife at my home or the secretary at the judge's office through the commissioners telephone.

Pet Talks

By Dr. Hap Lutz

Dr. Lutz is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Texas A&M University. He specializes in small and exotic animal practice. He was an instructor of small animal diseases and surgery in the Veterinary School at Texas A&M and was in private practice in Waco for 25 years.

WHAT I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT MY PET BUT WAS AFRAID TO ASK

Dear Dr. Lutz: I have a 45-pound pointer trained to hunt. During quail season, I hunt with him two or three times a week. I have noticed that he loses as much as ten pounds during the hunting season. I feed him once a day. Is this normal to expect such a loss of weight?—Max

Dear. Max: Dogs are like humans. The more active they are the more calories are utilized or burned up.

I would suggest that during hunting season you feed your dog twice a day. Be sure the diet you are feeding is high in protein.

Dear Dr. Lutz: My five-year-old child has a poodle she loves dearly. The dog sleeps in the bed with her. I discovered yesterday that my daughter has pin worms. Could she have gotten them from her dog?—A Concerned Mother

Dear Concerned Mother: You cannot place the blame on the little poodle. Dogs do not have pin worms.

If you have any questions concerning your dog's health or care, send them to the Rockport Pilot, P.O. Box 608, Rockport, TX. 78382. Dr. Lutz will answer them in the weekend edition.

Pirates Lose Close One To Tough Pitcher, 2-0

By Eddie Bradley

Rockport-Fulton ran into some tough pitching Tuesday night in the person of Gordo Villalon of Tuloso-Midway as the Warriors shut-out the Pirates 2-0 at Tuloso.

The Pirates were limited to only one hit, that coming on a double by Mark Setterbo in the fourth inning to escape a no-hitter.

Wayne Childers opened for the Pirates on the mound, and unfortunately, the opposition got to him early. The leadoff man got on base with a hit, stole second, and then scampered home on another hit. The Pirates trailed 1-0 at that point.

The Warriors picked up an insurance run in the third without the benefit of a hit, and then the Warriors backed Villalon's pitching to hold the Pirates off.

Rockport couldn't touch Villalon who struck out 11 Pirates and allowed only three balls hit out of the infield. Coach Skip Richardson said after the game, "We should have hit that guy, but we were swinging at bad pitches, helping him out. We were swinging at curve balls in the dirt."

Childers and reliever Mark Setterbo gave the Warriors only four hits, but that proved to be the difference.

The Pirates are nearing the end of their season with games remaining against Sinton, Beeville, and Flour Bluff.

Judge Bob Barnes on Inflation and Interest Rates

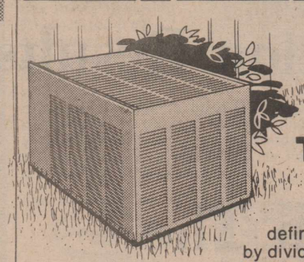

"Nobody is for high interest rates, but politicians who want to put a lid on them without doing something concrete about inflation are either very cynical, or underestimate the voters' intelligence. A lid just drys up available money to loan.
"As the Washington Post noted April 5, 1980: '. . .prolonged inflation, the basic cause of high interest rates, always tends to expand the governmental sector at the expense of the private sector.'
"Don't be taken in by a politician sweet-talking about interest rates. Ask him about his program for inflation. That's what counts. Trimming back a cactus doesn't kill it. You've got to get at its roots.
"I'll fight inflation in Congress by working for a balanced budget, and eliminating unnecessary regulations through Congressional vetos and a strong Sunset Law. I pledge this: I'll give you action on inflation, not the tired old lip service you've been hearing."

with for a 16-by-16 foot office-supply building with a roof and "10 or 12" separate pens running off of this.

The pens would be roughly four feet by six or eight feet with slab foundation, chain link fence and running water into each. One pen on the end would be reserved for observation of suspected rabid animals.

As an alternative for cutting down costs on the proposed dog pound, Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk Jr. suggested that -- rather than let bids for construction -- the citizens of Rockport might be willing to volunteer time and effort to build the structure.

"There is precedence for local participation," Falk said, adding that the city would furnish the equipment and building materials.

The state law that is requiring construction of a dog pound does not have a time limit, city officials say, but indications in Monday's meeting were that Rockport officials want something done by this summer.

Once the dog pound is built, it is expected that the city will adopt an animal control ordinance, to be enforced by an animal control officer operating under the jurisdiction of the police department.

time investigator.

Mr. McLester took a statement from Mrs. Johnston and contacted the county health inspector.

The problem, said Judge Wendell, is that Aransas county has no leash law, and several guidelines must be followed in correcting the loose dog situation.

Attorney Jim Anderson said the normal steps were being taken to correct the situation, and the next step is for the health inspector, who was expected to be in Rockport that same day, to view the situation and see if the dogs presented a health hazard.

Judge Wendell then appointed the sheriff local health authority when no other inspector is available. The motion was approved by the commissioners.

Mrs. Johnston said the dog owners have been asked several times to keep their dogs under control, but so far they have not done so.

In further business, application was approved for Bell telephone to bury cable across Perry Jones Road in Precinct 3, and an offer of $150 made by B and J Sanitation was accepted to buy the county compactor container tank.

Rockport Elementary Has Track And Field Day

All the grades of Rockport Elementary School took part in Track and Field Day on Friday, April 25.

The event, which took about three weeks planning by physical educators Marsha Green and Vera Predom and included assistance and coordination by the various classroom teachers involved.

The overall purpose was to get the children interested in physical fitness and help the older ones begin preparing for the President's Physical Fitness test this year. They also had in mind giving the youngsters a good time, and from the looks of things, they succeeded.

There were three general categories of events in the meet; the students could pick one event from each category, so that everyone was in three races for the day.

The first category was Track and included the 50 and 100-yard dashes and the 600-yard run/walk.

Field, the second category, included low hurdles, high jump and the standing broad jump.

The third group of events were in a category called Fun and included a tire rolling race, clothes changing race, balloon popping race, potato spoon race and a frisbee throwing contest just for the fifth graders.

Each grade competed separately for an hour during the day, and by the time it was all over, almost everyone got some kind of prize for winning or competing.

This is the second week in a row that Mr. Dickey has been a winner and taken home the bucks. He seems to have a string going. Fire Units Do Well In Pumper Races

By Eddie Bradley

Some of the area volunteer fire departments sent their pumper teams to Lagarto recently and came away with top prizes.

Two men's teams from Rockport and one from Fulton competed against teams from Sinton, Gregory-Portland and the host Lagarto squad. Lagarto is located in the Sinton/Mathis area.

A women's team from Rockport also competed against Portland, Taft, Orange Grove and Lagarto.

The races involved six people on each team trying to see which group can get their fire hoses hooked up and pumping water the fastest.

In the men's contests, Rockport Number One finished first, followed by the Fulton team and then Rockport Number Two.

During a business meeting earlier in the day, Lois Gurley of Rockport was elected Second Vice President of the South Central District of the Fireman's Auxiliary.

The winning pumper racing team was composed of Ricky McLester, Willard Cox, Ronnie Roberts, Louis Solis, Roy Curley and John Kelly.

The second-place Fulton team had Jackie Mundine, Jimmy Hattenback, Danny Cox, Wayne Oakman, Leslie Cole Jr. and Russell Cole.

Rockport Number Two, which finished third, had a team of Jeff Janecek, Grady McNutt, Tom Deroy, Edward Truelove, E.J. Koubek and "Doc" Thomas.

The Rockport ladies team was composed of Ivalea Hinze, Tricia Gurley, Janet Truelove, Carolyn Cox, Joan Truelove and Myrna Koubek.

Pilot Seeking Photographs

The Rockport Pilot is looking for old photographs of Aransas County for use in our fourth annual Progress Edition to be printed in July.

If you have any old photographs of the area, we would like to borrow them. They will be returned to you following publication of the Progress Edition.

Just bring your photos by the Pilot office — or give us a call at 729-9900.

HOW FAR HAVE WE GONE?

These first grade students haven't gotten too far yet in the 600-yard run/walk at Rockport Elementary during Track and Field Day. But they all seemed to enjoy the event, at least for the early part of the race. From the left are, P.J. Levy, Benjamin Clarke, Jonathan Sifuentes, Joe Ortiz, Eric LeBlanc, Corina Salazar, Joshua Valdez, Pete Guzman and Beverly McClain. [Pilot Photo By Eddie Bradley]

Pilot Outlines Editorial Policy

Once again it's election time -- a time that brings special problems for newspapers.

In an effort to prevent some of those problems, or at least keep them to a minimum, the Pilot would like to explain our editorial policy regarding columns, letters to the editor and advertising during the election season.

The views and opinions expressed by writers of columns that appear in the Rockport Pilot and Pilot Weekender are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the Pilot's editorial opinion.

Letters to the editor expressing opinions on the upcoming Democratic and Republican primary elections will be accepted through noon Thursday, April 23 -- the deadline for the April 27 Pilot Weekender.

Letters will not be accepted after noon Thursday unless they are in rebuttal to a letter previously published in the Pilot. This is to insure that no person or organization will be able to take unfair advantage of any other person or organization.

For the same reason, the Pilot will not accept any advertising after noon Thursday that is critical of an opponent or that presents statements or claims that cannot be verified.

Pilot Announces Deadlines

The deadline for all news articles, photographs, display ads and classified ads in the Rockport Pilot is noon Monday for the midweek and noon Thursday for the weekender editions.

Pages for the newspapers are put together on Monday and Thursday afternoons, and sent to the printer immediately upon completion.

We want your news, your advertising. Please help us by honoring our deadlines.

Is Someone Special Having A Birthday?

Are you -- or is someone you know -- having a birthday?

The Pilot would like to know about it.

Because all of our readers are special people to us, we'd like to give you a special birthday present.

If you're having a birthday, just bring us a photograph of yourself.

If you or a member of your family are having a birthday, just bring us a photograph of the birthday person and a little information.

The Pilot will publish the picture and information -- free.

Just because you're someone special. . .

MEDICAL EMERGENCY

You're child just fell and it looks like the arm might be broken. It is 8 p.m. and none of the doctors' offices are open. What do you do? Should you drive to the Enterprise Medical Center for emergency treatment?

The answer to that last question is, "Not immediately."

Dr. Fred Warren says that the center does not have someone on duty at all hours and that if you drive there at night or on the weekend, there will be instructions for a phone number to call.

He says that the best bet is to dial the general gmergency number, 729-2222. The police dispatcher can then reach Warren either by pager or by two-way radio. If Dr. Warren is unavailable, the dispatcher will have been informed and will be able to suggest some alternate help or radio for an ambulance.

Warren says that the number to call to reach him by pager is 729-7501, but stressed that the simplest thing to remember is to call the 2222 number for the quickest and easiest results.

JUST 10 YARDS TO GO

Tammy Woods, far left, and Betty Jones only need to make up about 10 yards to catch up with Jessie Corpus and Robert Herrera. Unfortunately, Jessie and Robert only have about 10 yards left to the finish line of the 100-yard dash. These first graders were running in the Track and Field Day at Rockport Elementary. LEARNING TO SAY "NEVERTHELESS"

We've all heard the expressions, "Don't confuse me with the facts," and "Be reasonable. Do it my way." And we all smile to ourselves when we hear or read them because we know that each speaks to the stubbornness and obstinacy that lie in every heart.

I'm sure you've had the experience of dealing with — or of trying to deal with — someone who is so stubborn that he will not give an inch. His mind is made up, and come hell or high water he is going to do it his way no matter what.

Like the man I heard of the other day who was bound and determined to move a trailer off his lot. Only he refused to take his neighbor's advice about how best to remove it. As a result he had to spend time and money getting it unstuck from the sand and repairing a broken axle which had rusted out over the years.

So stubbornness is stubbornness, and there's no way you can negotiate with someone who knows he is right, be that person in your own family or down the street or across the sea in Iran or elsewhere.

The Bible, too, is full of examples of stubborn people. One of my favorites is Naaman the Syrian. Remember him? He was the general of the Syrian army, a proud, haughty, and powerful military leader.

But Naaman had a problem. He had leprosy, we are told, a disease which threatened his continued career and which embarrassed him personally. And so in order to do something about his condition he consulted the Hebrew prophet Elisha who told him to wash seven times in the Jordan so that he might be healed.

Well, as you can imagine, Naaman was outraged. What nonsense! Why should he take such advice? Why the Jordan? Were not the rivers of Damascus better than any in Israel? And so on and on he raged, but his disease remained. It remained until he came to terms with his pride and haughtiness and did what he had been told. He went and washed in the Jordan, and his flesh was restored.

I like Naaman not only because in his pride and arrogance he reminds me of myself but also because of another outstanding quality which genuinely religious people possess. He had the courage and the ability to set aside his pride and vanity in order to try doing things another way.

At first he said No, but then he said Nevertheless. No, I will not do it your way. I will only do it my way. Nevertheless, I will at least give your way a try. And in Naaman's case, doing it another way worked.

The Bible is full of people like you and me who at first say No but then come around to saying Nevertheless. It seems to me that if you and I are going to be the help to others we claim we want to be, then it is of the greatest importance to get on top of our stubbornness by learning, over and over again, to say Nevertheless.

Peace, The Rev. Walter Clark, Jr., St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

BIBLE BLISS IS A PARADOX

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness." [Matt. 5.6] The natural man desires [hungers] for food, water, pleasure, and etc., if he does not there must be something wrong. The same is true of the spiritual man, he must be eager to learn what constitutes a righteous life. If he does not, there must be something wrong. "As newborn babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:" [1 Peter 2:2] That will bring happiness, Jesus guarantees it.

A BIGGER WORLD

There comes a time, even in a chick's life, when the way must open to a greatly expanded world. When his confining shell no longer allows proper growth, he makes a point of throwing off his shackles and steps out into a big, strange world.

This comparatively simple phenomenon is paralleled in human existence as each child grows toward adulthood, and reaches out for the wider horizon. What he finds there will depend in great part on what he has been taught.

For this reason the early and continued guidance of Christian home and church are all-important. From these things the foundation of faith is built. Through faith and understanding the shackles of fear and bondage are dispelled, and your child grows spiritually strong to meet the ever-widening horizons and challenges of a modern world.
