Nazi Defenses Ripped; Yanks Nearing Metz

Powerful Fort L'Yser Latest Bastion To Fall

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 14. — U. S. troops seized a fourth and powerful fortress south of Metz today, and piled through this newest breach in enemy defenses to within 3½ miles of the beseiged city.

Supreme headquarters identified this latest prize as Fort L'Yser, a half-mile northwest of the Orny, and described it as a powerful system of underground defense works.

So far as was known at supreme headquarters, Fort L'Yser fell without resistance from its turreted batteries — just as Fort L'Aisne and two satellite bastions to the southwest were taken yesterday. L'Aisne was the first of nine main fortress groups in the Metz system to fall, and L'Yser was the second. They were stormed by troops of the Fifth division of Lt.-Gen. Patton's Third army.

Striking Toward City

The Americans pushed on into the Hopital forest for their closest approach to Metz, and were striking toward that city from the south along a nine-mile front. Nothing in front dispatches indicated any stiffening of resistance, and the apparent German fall back suggested Metz itself might be forfeited to avoid encirclement of its strong garrison.

British Open Attack

British troops in eastern Holland struck in a violent attack today in the Nederweert area, 18 miles southwest of the German-Dutch border city of Venlo, a front dispatch declared. More than 40 guns gave thunderous support to the push.

Actions flared from the Vosges foothills, below Metz, to Holland, with the Third army's drive in the Metz area on the largest scale.

Even as this fourth fortress fell, and all of Metz' roads of reinforcement or retreat were brought within artillery range, doughboys left flank of the 70-mile Third army front shoved forward in their Moselle bridgehead to within 1½ miles of the German border near the Luxembourg corner.

South of Metz, the Seventh army pushed forward in two-mile gains at either end of a 10-mile front, spreading the U. S. attack into the snow-drifted foothills of the Vosges mountains.

Fifth division units, punching through unexpectedly light resistance, had captured Fort Aisne and two of its satellites near Verny yesterday, and seized the towns of Corny, Pommerieux, Verny, and Liehon.

The fortifications at Orny fell to the 10th regiment of the Fifth division, but battlefront reports did not disclose whether it was taken without a struggle.

Cut Behind Fort Driant

With capture of Fort Oisne and the town of Corny earlier, the Americans had cut up behind formidable Fort Driant, on the Moselle's west bank.

The speed with which this division has penetrated the German defenses south of Metz raised the question of whether the enemy actually plans to yield without a

Eire Reserves Right To Aid War Criminals

Allied Demand To Refuse Sanctuary Is Rejected

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Nov. 14—The government of Eire has declined to join other neutral nations in refusing sanctuary to proscribed Axis war criminals and has reserved the right to shelter such refugees at its own discretion, a British spokesman indicated in Commons today.

Replying to a volley of questions from the House, Dominions Undersecretary Paul Emrys-Evans said Eire had rejected the Allied demand that neutral states close their doors to war-guilty Axis leaders who might try to flee abroad.

Give No Assurance

"In their view (the Eire government), the right to grant asylum is not in question and they could give no assurance which would preclude them from exercising that right should justice, charity of the honor or interests of the nation so require," Emrys-Evans said.

Eire, he added, also informed Britain that since the beginning of the war the Irish had denied admission to all aliens whose presence would be at variance with the government's neutrality policy or detrimental to Eire's interests.

Lack International Code

The Irish answer alluded also to the lack of a comprehensive international code covering the treatment of "war criminals" and to the fact that Eire does not recognize any established court or procedure for the judicial determination of individual cases.

Emrys-Evans told Commons that Eire insisted its policy of turning away "undesirable" aliens would not be altered.

Prof. Douglas Lloyd Savory, a Conservative, asked whether it was true that all other neutral states, including Spain and Argentina, had given assurance they would not harbor war criminals, but Emrys-Evans refused to answer.

ENAMEL WARE AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The War Production board today removed limitations on the manufacture of enamel ware to allow production in all sizes. Overall production will not be increased because of continued restrictions on the use of iron and steel.

Demos Due To Have 244 House Seats

James Byrnes To Keep Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Roosevelt announced today that James F. Byrnes will continue as director of war mobilization and reconversion until Germany is defeated.

Byrnes has been serving under a temporary appointment, having told the President he did not want the job on a permanent basis.

BYRNES

However, Presidential Secretary Stephen Early called reporters to his office shortly after noon today and read them this statement from the President:

"In view of the importance of continuing the winning of the war at top speed, and at the personal request of the President, Mr. Justice Byrnes has consented to continue as the director of the Office of War mobilization until the elimination of Germany from the war.

President Gratified

"The President is very much gratified by the willingness of Justice Byrnes to do this, and the work of the office will, therefore, continue as at present."

Byrnes left the Supreme court to enter the administration's war program and became head of the Office of War mobilization—a post which frequently won him the un-

Several Races Still Undecided

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — Unseating of an additional Republican representative by a Democrat in Missouri appeared today to have assured the Democratic party of having at least 244 members of the House when the 79th Congress convenes in January.

Four House seats still were undecided — two in Missouri, one in California and one in Pennsylvania. Also on the yet-to-be—decided list was a Senate seat from Missouri, in a race which probably will not be decided definitely until all soldier votes are counted. A partial count of service votes since last Friday had whittled from 9,000 to 4,000 votes the lead of Republican Forrest C. Donnell over Democrat Roy McKittrick.

Four Races Undecided

On the basis of two Missouri congressional races having been decided, the House of Representatives of the 79th Congress now lines up like this:

Democrats 244; Republicans 185; Progressive 1; American Labor 1; Undecided 4.

One other Senate race in addition to that in Missouri remains to be decided — the contest in Pennsylvania between incumbent Sen. James J. Davis, (R.), and Democrat Francis J. Myers. With the count of that state's estimated 210,000 soldier votes starting Nov. 22, Myers holds a lead of about 23,000. A Republican trend in the service ballots could, of course, dissipate that lead. As it now stands, the Senate of the 79th Congress will line up as follows:

Democrats 58; Republicans 37; Progressive 1; Undecided 2.

EXECUTIONS REPORTED

BRUSSELS, Nov. 14 (AP) —The first executions ordered by Belgium's post-liberation military courts were carried out yesterday by firing squads at St. Gilles prison in Brussels. Joseph Hoogeven and Paul Herten were executed for betraying to the gestapo a young patriot who had killed an alleged collaborationist.

Operation On Hitler's Throat Is Reported

Dangerous Tumor Developed From Old War Wound

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A "high German personality" reported in Switzerland today that Adolf Hitler had undergone a throat operation at Berchetsgaden after a dangerous tumor had developed from an old ailment.

The mysteriously absent Hitler now is at his Barchtesgaden retreat in the Bavarian Alps after submitting to the operation, a United Press dispatch from Zurich quoted the unidentified German informant.

Obesrvers agreed that the report had an authentic ring, and would go far toward explaning the long silence of Hitler during this crucial phase of the war.

Gassed In First War

Hitler, then a corporal, was gassed in the First World war, and it appeared probable that any "dangerous tumor" of the throat might have stemmed from that cause.

The operation was performed by a Professor Eicke of Vienna, the Zurich dispatch said. It gave no details of the reported operation, how Hitler responded to it, and his present condition, but did say that he still is at Berchtesgaden.

A dangerous affliction of the throat would account for Hitler's silence last week on the anniversary of the Munich beer cellar putsch. The alarming effects of his silence on the German people were acknowledged by the frantic Nazi efforts to cover up with a broadcast version Sunday of a diatribe attributed to him.

German "Chaos" Reported

Along with the mounting wave of speculation on the whereabouts and condition of Hitler were unconfirmed reports from the continent of "chaotic" conditions in Germany.

The reports were received with reservation pending more authoritative information on the German people's acceptance or rejection of the Nazi hierarchy's desperate efforts to bolster resistance against the Allied winter campaign.

German industrialists arriving in Switzerland told newspapermen that "nearly chaotic" conditions prevailed in southwest Germany, with hordes of foreign workers and escaped prisoners of war ter-

FDR Asks More Funds For Federal Agencies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP) — President Roosevelt asked Congress today to add approximately $400,000,000 to funds previously appropriated for more than a score of federal agencies.

The total includes $339,112,455 for the Navy department, the bulk of which was for the bureau of yards and docks. There was no detail on how the funds would be used.

Other items included $13,990,000 for the Treasury department; $10,010,000 for the Army, $15,000,000 for the Federal Works agency, $11,036,682 for the Interior department, and $7,401,000 for the National Advisory committee for Aeronautics.

Congress Back In Session; Activity Light

Extension Of War Powers Due For Slight Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Consoling election losers and congratulating winners, Congress reassembled today for a six weeks' flurry of activity, but decided to wait a few days before buckling down to work.

Neither Senate nor House had anything to do for a while. But Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) supplied material for some future chores by offering a bill to freeze social security payroll taxes for another year at one per cent each on employers and employes.

And just before he took the chair in the House, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) gave a news conference this pre-Christmas program for the old Congress:

1. Extension of the President's extraordinary war powers, which otherwise would expire Dec. 31. Rayburn said: "We can do that in mighty little time for I expect little if any opposition."

Crop Insurance Planned

2. Revival of the federal crop insurance program, killed by Congress last year.

3. Enactment of legislation providing for federal expenditures in cooperation with the states, in building roads throughout the nation. It is necessary to hasten this legislation, Rayburn said, due to the fact that 42 of the 48 state legislatures convene early next year.

Only about 100 members were on hand when the gavel fell at noon in the House.

In the Senate, 47 senators were on hand when Vice President Wallace rapped for order.

Republicans Jolly

The Republicans were doing the most laughing and chuckling and handshaking before the Senate session opened.

In the absence of urgently pressing business, and with some members not yet returned, both houses scheduled only perfunctory sessions today to go through the formalities of reconvening and serve notice that Capitol Hill once again is open for business.

Democratic leaders scheduled a conference with President Roosevelt at the White House to plan the final session that will conclude a Congress which since Jan. 3,

Training Plan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A mountain of opposition has piled up against plans of congressional leaders to seek early action on legislation to require military training in peacetime.

So formidable has it become that backers of the proposal say they would just as soon postpone consideration until sometime next year.

Earlier plans had called for action soon on a bill providing that every youth take a year of military training upon reaching the age of 18.

No Hearing Due This Year

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate military committee said there would be no hearings this year on the legislation before his committee. In the absence of Chairman May (D-Ky), members of the House military committee said they do not believe they will tackle the subject for some time.

Major opposition to the legislation has come from churchmen, educators and other groups who have flooded the military committees with petitions and letters. Endorsements have been received, committee spokesmen said, from the American Legion and other veterans organizations.

Enemy Warships Reported Hit In Raid On Manila

Cavite Navy Yard, Clark Field Blasted By U. S. Carrier Planes, Tokyo Reports; Bitter Fighting Rages In Leyte Sector

(By The Associated Press)

Attacks on growing Japanese concentrations on western Leyte island paid off with the highest one-day toll of Nipponese dead in the Philippines campaign, front line dispatches reported today as Tokyo radio said 400 U. S. carrier planes had renewed their attack on imperial warships in Manila bay.

On other fronts Chinese troops advanced five miles in north Burma and a Pacific fleet communique acknowledged enemy forces had retaken an islet in the Palau group, east of the Philippines.

Tokyo radio announced waves of American planes struck Monday and Tuesday (Philippine time) at Manila bay, Cavite navy yard and Clark field.

Some Damage Admitted

"There was some damage to our warships," principal target of the raiders, the broadcast said.

It claimed 34 U. S. planes and five Japanese were shot down in an hour-long "violent air battle." Other U. S. air squadrons, Tokyo added, swept the length of the Philippines.

On western Leyte island conquering riflemen of the 24th division counted 640 Japanese bodies on the slopes of breakneck ridge, with a field of uncounted dead stretching out in front of them, Associated Press War Correspondent Fred Hampson reported.

An American commander expressed belief the bloody battle, combined with night-long shelling of enemy concentrations at Limon, broke the northern Japanese force as a fighting unit. Infantrymen were closing in from three sides on Limon, which Hampson reported was an apparently uninhabited mass of wreckage when the U. S. artillerymen ceased firing.

Jap Reinforcements Slip In

Elements of five Japanese divisions have been thrown into the narrowing fight on western Leyte island. Reinforcements are still slipping in by barge at night.

But "the enemy's general preparations for counterattacks" have been frustrated by the steady pressure of American infantrymen, combined with devastating artillery and aerial bombardments of Japanese concentration centers, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today.

The new mountain, taken by the dismounted First division cavalry outflanking the enemy, is Mt. Cabungangan. It represents a two mile gain from Mt. Catabaran. From the two peaks artillery can sweep most of the Yamashita defense line and its supply trail.

Japs Reoccupy Islet

In a resurgence action in the Palau group, 515 miles to the east, 200 Japanese reoccupied Ngeregong islet as a U. S. Marine patrol hastily withdrew without casualties.

The islet flanks Denges passage into the Palau lagoon. U. S. warships immediately blocked the passage and heavily shelled the Japanese, Adm. Chester W. Nim-

Russians Drive Into Rail Hub

Germans Hurl In New Power

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 — Russian forces have driven into the important rail city of Jaszbereny, 37 miles east of Budapest, and are engaging the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting, front dispatches said today.

The Germans were reported hurling in numerous new tanks and scores of anti-tank weapons in an attempt fo check the Soviet drive to outflank the Hungarian capital.

Nazis Admit Penetration

(The Germans admitted Soviet units had penetrated into Jaszbereny, but asserted the attackers were hurled back.)

Red army columns striking from the northeast after crossing the Tisza river apparently had made solid contact with the main forces of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian army, and were aiding in drawing the assault line close to Jaszbereny from the east, west and south.

Ten Towns Captured

Despite the fierceness of the enemy opposition the Russians captured at least 10 towns, including the rail terminal of Jaszapati, 11 miles east of Jaszbereny and 45 miles east of Budapest.

(Moscow dispatches made no mention today of Russian forces previously reported in the southern outskirts of Budapest. A German broadcaster, Col. Ernst von Hammer, said the Russians held a bridgehead on the Danube at Dunaharaszti, opposite Csepel island, five miles south of the capital.)

The Soviet war bulletin said the Russian drive around Budapest's eastern flank had swept six miles northwest of Cegled and that more than 1,000 prisoners were taken in the Hungarian fighting.

WHEAT SENT TO BOLIVIA

Captured German Document Reveals Order

Nazis Told To Shoot Comrades If They Contemplate Surrender

WITH THE U. S. 2ND ARMORED DIVISION On The Western Front, Nov. 14. (AP) — A captured German document disclosed today that the Nazis had ordered all soldiers to shoot their comrades or officers instantly "like a dog" if they observe the slightest decline in battle morale.

The order was published in Scorpion, a Nazi news commentary distributed to troops. The order was specifically applied to any German contemplating surrender. It was attributed to Heinrich Himmler, gestapo head and commander of the German home army.

Position Said Critical

The Nazis acknowledged the critical position of the Reich in these words:

"Our will to resist is the only thing that we have left against the material superiority of our enemy until the new weapons are ready for the front. Therefore, whoever sabotages our will to resist must be smashed."

Scorpion said that Himmler "for the first time has given the common soldier an opportunity to execute the will of the people even if he is forced to take up arms against his superiors."

Child's Birth Causes Heavy Bombardment

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 14 (AP)—The birth of a girl in Columbus, Ohio, was responsible for a terrific mortar bombardment of Japanese near Breakneck ridge on Leyte island in the Philippines, Australian Correspondent Reg Harris reported today.

Lt. James Croswell of Columbus had just returned to his mortar batteries from an observation post when mail was delivered. Croswell opened two letters and then let out a shout:

"Whoopee! It's a girl!"

When the mortar detachment heard the news, Harris reported, every crew dropped a shell into its mortar and sent over one of the heaviest salvos of the campaign.

Freezing Weather Forecast Tonight

(By The United Press)

Northeastern New Mexico and the Panhandle and South Plains regions of Texas shivered this morning in what promised to be the opening thrust of the season's first major cold spell as subfreezing temperatures were reported as far south as Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle.

(Temperatures of 28-32 were forecast for tonight in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Riding in the wake of clearing skies which promised to push a heavy overcast out into the Gulf of Mexico as it moved across the state, the cold snap threatened to bring a major freeze to the New Mexico-Texas regions along the border.

Elsewhere in Texas, low hanging clouds of several days' duration were emptying only traces of rain in scattered spots and a few showers as mild temperatures hung on.

Dalhart's 40 degrees was the lowest reported in Texas, but 33 was recorded at Lubbock, 34 at Clarendon, 35 at Amarillo, 38 at Wink and 39 at El Paso. At Midland, a low of 45 was reported, 48 at Wichita Falls, and 53 at Abilene.

Refusal To Pay $1 Union Fee May Bar De Mille From Radio

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 (AP) — The refusal of Cecil B. De Mille, film director and radio producer, to pay a $1 union assessment in a campaign to defeat a state proposition at the Nov. 7 election known as the "right of employment initiative" may cost him his right to put on his Monday night radio show.

De Mille, who is paid $5,000 a week for producing the show, refused to pay the assessment to the American Federation of Radio artists.

DE MILLE

Claude L. McCue, AFRA secretary, said De Mille has been put on the dues and assessments delinquency list and that action will be taken by the federation board Dec. 1. He said that radio artists must be in good standing to appear on the air and that suspension or expulsion of members who fail to pay dues or assessments is possible.

De Mille, who supported the proposition which was defeated, said he refused to pay the assessment but had no other comment to make.

Proposition No. 12 was described on the ballot as being for the "right of employment, free from interference because an employe does or does not belong to a labor organization"; and would have made illegal any interference with the act.

Five Killed When Two Trolley Cars Collide

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — Five persons were killed and 33 were inured today when two packed trolley cars collided in one of the heaviest fogs ever seen in the greater Pittsburgh area.

The accident occurred early this morning and one car was filled to capacity with work-bound persons traveling to McKeesport from Pittsburgh. According to police reports, the filled car, carrying approximately 60 passengers, struck the rear of an almost empty car, telescoping both cars into a twisted wreckage.

Arrests Of German Bankers Cause Panic

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The gestapo has arrested the managing directors of Germany's "two greatest banks," causing a panic in German financial circles "greater than the panic following the bank crash in 1931," the Swedish newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen said in an article reported today by the OWI.

The newspaper said they were arrested for refusing to accept short-term German treasury notes "thus expressing doubt in a German victory."

Legislative Inquiry To Open Wednesday

Paul McNutt Enters Speculation On New Texas U. President

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (U.P.)—Paul V. McNutt, head of the War Manpower commission, is being considered by some of the University of Texas regents for successor to Dr. Homer Price Rainey, it was learned on reliable authority here today.

McNUTT

So far McNutt has not been contacted in regard to his willingness to consider the $17,500 a year post.

The former governor of Indiana and former high commissioner to the Philippines is former national commander of the American Legion.

His selection would end any dispute over communistic leanings at the university, it was pointed out. He is former dean of Indiana university's law school and holds degrees from many leading colleges.

He has a Texas background, too, having married Kathleen Timolat of San Antonio after he had been in military training for World War one at Camp Stanley near San Antonio.

FIVE PERSONS DECLINE REGENCY APPOINTMENTS

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP) — Five persons have declined appointment to three vacancies on the board of regents of the University of Texas, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said today.

At a press conference the governor said he was continuing his search for qualified appointees and hoped to announce his selections early next week. The governor leaves tomorrow for a deer hunt.

Clifford Jones Declines

Answering a question, he said one of the declinations came from a man "who has independent oil connections in a small way." He previously disclosed that Clifford Jones, former president of Texas Technological college and member of the Texas Tech board of directors, had declined.

A legislative inquiry into the University of Texas administrative controversy begins here tomorrow.

GOP Is Supporting Farmer Air Proposal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Substantial Republican support lined up with the administration today behind a revived proposal for the government to take risks with farmers against floods, drouths, storms and grasshoppers.

Rep. Hope (R-Kans), ranking minority member of the House agriculture committee, told reporters, "I hope to see federal crop insurance legislation passed before Christmas."

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) put crop insurance on the schedule for consideration in the session beginning today. Congress refused last year to provide further funds, and ordered liquidation.

Returned Methodist Mission Worker Addresses Groups

Highlights of work among Chinese children and influence of Christian literature in a mission school in northern China were described by Miss Mabel Ruth Nowlin of Kansas City at a joint meeting of members of Wesleyan Service Guilds from First, Asbury and St. John's Methodist churches and Overton chapel at the First Methodist church Monday night.

Miss Nowlin's work is supported by the church's Wesleyan Service Guilds. She returned to the United States six months ago and has been traveling throughout the country, lecturing to Guilds on the value of their contributions. She flew to Calcutta last year and stayed there from Christmas until Easter, coming to the U. S. by boat.

Miss Nowlin told of the pitifully inadequate diet for children and adults in most parts of China. The soy bean is their standby, she said, and added that if it were not for the crops, sparse as they are, the Chinese would be worse off than they are since inflation makes it impossible for them to buy products in stores.

Speaks Of China's Future

After her lecture Miss Nowlin answered questions, cleverly dodging those which evidently she did not wish to comment on. Of help coming from the U. S. to China she said that the things which did not arrive too late were greatly appreciated and that the people could not have gone on without that help. They are optimistic over the outcome of their country, she said.

Commenting on the relationship between Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, Miss Nowlin observed that Chinese were outraged over the rumor that they were separated, terming it malicious gossip and added they felt there was complete understanding, or a sacrament as they expressed it, between the Chinese leader and his wife.

She voiced the opinion the trouble confronted by General Stilwell was occasioned partly because he did not observe a Chinese maxim that a person who gives orders also should be able to take them.

Miss Frances Urban presided.

Miss Natalie Reynolds, sang, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. E. Reynolds. During a social hour Mrs. C. A. Bickley and Mrs. H. I. Robinson presided at a refreshment table laid with lace and decked with white chrysanthemums.

Lt. James Qualia Is Back In States

Lt. James Qualia, 21, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Qualia, 2609 Twenty-fourth, has arrived in Miami, Fla., by plane, according to a telephone message received by his parents. Lt. Qualia was critically injured in a plane crash at an Army air base in Italy July 30.

Young Qualia, a bombardier on a B-24, had been in the Italian theater of operations only 16 days when he was injured. The crack-up which left him partially paralyzed cost the life of the pilot and injured other crew members, although none was hurt as seriously as Lt. Qualia. He has been assured of complete recovery he told his parents.

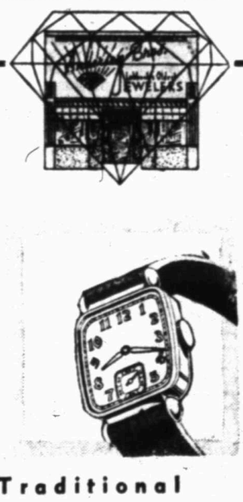

A brother, 2nd Lt. Frank Qualia, 20, a radar-navigator who has been stationed at Langley Field, Va., was home last week on a brief leave. He joined in the family reunion by way of telephone. He left by plane Saturday night for Washington, D. C.

Pay Raises Urged For State Employes

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP) — The board of control today gave to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and the legislature budget recommendation for the next two fiscal years intended to:

Grant salary increases for state workers in the two lowest brackets.

Increase appropriations for old age assistance and for teachers salaries to meet cost of living increases.

Provide for $3,000,000 of new building construction.

The board said our recommendations were well within estimated receipts for the next two years and $26,201,748 less than requested by state departments.

Can Spend More Money

It estimated that the state can spend more money for services, salaries and construction and still end each year with a cash balance.

The next two fiscal years begin Sept. 1, 1945 and Sept. 1, 1946. Appropriations for the biennium will be made by the 49th legislature which meets next January.

The board made these observations and recommendations:

State salaries were cut in depression years and very few of them were restored. Because of this situation and a minimum 30 per cent increase in the cost of living salaries up to and including $2,100 should be raised 20 per cent and those from $2,100 to $3,600 should be increased 15 per cent.

Teachers' Raises Urged

The state is now financially able to provide "reasonable" increases in teachers' salaries. As long as business and industry offer better opportunities in security of employment and salaries than does the teaching profession, we cannot hope to improve standards of education and properly reward those who have loyally stayed in the profession throughout the years. We have much to our credit in Texas about which we can boast but our educational system is not one of them.

The state is paying $139,559 annually in rentals for office space, a sum sufficient to pay for a state office building in a few years.

The state should pool its many motor vehicles and reduce the cost of repairs which was estimated at more than $1,000,000 annually.

Purchase Authority Urged

The board of control should be given legislative authority to purchase at prices not exceeding market value or actual and intrinsic value surplus government goods because under present statutes, requiring bids, the federal government will not bid on the state's requirement and cannot give the required bidder's bond and performance bond required from dealers.

A tubercular hospital should be built somewhere along the Rio Grande, possibly at Fort Ringgold or Fort Clark.

State universities and colleges should receive appropriations on the level of 1941-43 with additional contingent appropriations of $1,867,143 and $1,912,703 for each year of the biennium to be used when and if enrollment exceeds that of 1941-43.

Before the end of the next biennium eleemosynary institutions will need more housing facilities. These should be provided by appropriating money for new buildings or by acquiring at least four of the better class Army training camps which may be abandoned as war demands decrease.

The board estimated $35,846,415 would be needed for the first year of the biennium and $35,461,302 for the second year of the biennium.

Two Lubbock Fliers Given High Awards

AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND BASE, India—Two Lubbock, Tex., men have been awarded high military honors for participation in flights over the "Hump," the air route between India and China, it was announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding the India-China Division of the Air Transport Command.

1st Lt. Glenn H. Lattimore, 1802 Avenue O, Lubbock, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for more than 300 hours of operational flight over the dangerous and difficult run.

2nd Lt. Samual W. Martin, jr., 2215 Sixteenth, Lubbock, received the Air Medal upon completion of more than 150 hours of flight, piloting giant transport planes across the Himalaya Mts.

Vital military supplies for the Allied forces battling the Japanese in China are flown regularly by the ATC over the "Hump," where "enemy interception and attack is probable and expected."

The citation adds: "Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments . . . requiring courageous and superior performance of duties to overcome . . . the accomplished their missions with distinction."

Lt. Lattimore is at present visiting his father, Dr. J. P. Lattimore, 1802 Ave. O, on a 21-day leave.

Joseph Gould Is Convicted

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Capt. Joseph Gould, former boxing manager, was convicted late Monday by a general court martial of conspiracy of accepting bribes totaling more than $1,600 in connection with the award of Army contracts worth $1,000,000 to the Cornwall Shipbuilding Co., Inc.

He also was convicted of seeking to have Stephen Patrick (Tex) Sullivan testify falsely in his behalf, before the court martial.

Gould was dismissed from the service, fined $12,000 and sentenced to three years at hard labor.

13-Man Military Court

Col. Ralph Slate, president of the 13-man military court, announced the verdict at 5:05 p. m. (EWT) following three hours and 25 minutes of deliberation. The court martial began at the New York port of embarkation on Oct. 20.

The diminutive, 48-year-old Gould, who once managed exheavyweight champion James J. Braddock and a host of other boxers, heard the verdict with the same outward calm he had maintained throughout the trial.

Gould was found guilty of all four specifications in the charge of violation of the 96th article of war except for one amendment. Specification three was changed to read that he had received an amount in excess of $1,600 instead of $18,000 as originally charged.

Little Change Seen In '45 Food Supplies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Little change in civilian food supplies for 1945 is seen by the Department of Agriculture, even if the European war is ended.

Civilian consumption of food this year has been running about 7 per cent above the pre-war years of 1935-39. The department said non-civilian requirements will continue to take a "substantial portion" of the total food supplies throughout 1945.

In the Pacific islands birds are much more numerous than mammals.

Lubbock Man Helps Capture 21 Nazis

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy Private First Class David Enger of Lubbock, Texas, helped capture 21 Germans in the Gothic line in Italy recently.

His platoon in the 351st "Spearhead" Regiment of the 88th "Blue Devil" Division in Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army, made the capture in the rugged Apennine Mountains during the push to the Po valley. As the Americans cautiously pressed closer to the two houses in which the Nazis were hiding, the Jerries walked out behind white flags and with their hands upraised.

The prisoners said during their four or five years in the German army they had fought in Russia, coming to Italy about two months ago. They were agreed that the war in Germany would end soon and expressed happiness in the fact that it already was over for them.

The Germans wore good, new clothing and were well equipped with automatic weapons. They averaged in age about 25 years.

Enger's wife, Verna Ray, lives at 1303 Twenty-seventh, Lubbock.

Farm Meeting Is Held Here

Plans for 1945 and the preparation of reports were discussed at a district meeting of county agricultural and home demonstration agents of 20 counties this morning in Lubbock hotel. Miss Kate Adele Hill, district home demonstration agent, and K. J. Edwards, district agricultural agent, presided.

Guest speakers at the morning session were J. R. Thompson and J. W. Gunn, Dallas, representatives of the National Cotton congress, who told of plans of the congress for the advancement of cotton products in the post war era.

Separate meetings of home demonstration and agricultural agents were scheduled for this afternoon. Among topics to be discussed by agricultural agents was the farm labor program for 1945.

Among those from College Station attending the meeting were Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist; Miss Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening; R. R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist; and Paul Gregg, extention entomologist.

Area Agents Attend

Home demonstration and agritural agents attending were: Mrs. Ruth Marshall and W. M. Kimbrough, Crosby county; H. B. Horn and Mrs. Lady Clare James, Yoakum county; Mozelle Reast and A. L. Hartzog, Terry county; Carolyn Dixon and R. L. Stone, Lynn county; Mabel Ann Manley and Wallace Kimbrough, Garza county; Mary Grindstaff and Cline Morris, Gaines county; L. H. Lions Club Plans For Passion Play

Members of the Lions club made final plans for their part in the presentation of the Black Hills Passion play here Nov. 18-21 in their luncheon today noon at the Hilton hotel. Dr. Marshall Harvey, club secretary, had charge of the luncheon program which was devoted exclusively to reports of committees and assignment of final tasks for the production of the play.

Ticket sales thus far have totaled $2,394.10, J. Y. Boyd, chairman of the finance committee, reported. Howard Hunt, advertising chairman, reported two airplanes will take off from Lubbock Wednesday morning and "bombard" South Plains towns with leaflets advertising the play. A. H. Maas reported on advance publicity efforts and Ed Allen, chairman of ushers, secured enough men to handle this task during five performances.

Dr. F. G. Harbaugh issued an appeal for stagehands from the Lions club and an appeal was also issued for 'extras' needed in various parts in the production. Members of the American Business club will furnish other extras and members of the choir.

Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: Sgt. Don Davis of Frederick, Okla.; Leo Udashen of Wichita Falls; and J. W. Watson of Crosbyton.

Crosby Grand Jury Reports One Bill

BROSBYTON, Nov. 14. (Special)—A 72nd district grand jury of which J. W. Catchings of Lorenzo was foreman was recessed on its request until Feb. 5, after reporting one bill of indictment Monday afternoon to Judge Dan Blair.

Defendant named in the indictment, for forgery, had not been reported arrested today.

Judge Blair will reassemble a grand jury at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in Levelland, Hockley county, he said, and that afternoon will hear a motion for dissolution of a receivership.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks assisted the Crosby county grand jury.

Lights on the instrument panel of planes will warn pilots of future planes before lack of speed, lift, and control can cause serious difficulties.

Former Tech Beauty First In Contest

Texas Tech came out on the long end of the honors in the "Miss Texas In The War" contest at Waco Monday in connection with the celebration of the opening of the General Tire and Rubber company's factory there.

Miss Faith McNamara of San Antonio, popular student and campus beauty at Tech from 1941 through 1943, was named winner of the contest and received a $500 war bond for first prize.

Miss Elizabeth (Umpy) Robinson, Lubbock's entrant in the contest, was awarded a $100 war bond.

Miss McNamara, slender blonde beauty, was a student in commerce, majoring in economics while at Tech. She was a member of Las Chaparritas club and roomed at the women's dormitory with her sister, Gladys. She is a daughter of Guy McNamara of San Antonio.

Miss Robinson, Lubbock's entrant, was sponsored by the Tech chamber of commerce in the local contest conducted recently by Woody Tire company. She is a daughter of Mrs. Errol J. Taylor of the Spade community in Lamb county. Miss Robinson wore a brown suede, fringed skirt and vest, white satin blouse, boots and a gray plainsman hat trimmed in brown in the contest.

Congress In Session

1943, has acted on most of the wartime legislative authority and appropriations.

Little "Must" Legislation

There is little "must" legislation still pending before the retiring Congress. Possibly the major item is the extension of the second war powers act, which expires Dec. 31, defining wartime presidential authority for allocation of priorities and requisitioning of property.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, jr., (R., Mass.), said that Congress would give President Roosevelt "all the power that he needs to fight the war." He said he knew of no plan to oppose extension of the war powers act.

Another important issue is renewal of the law, expiring Dec. 7, which extended the period for court martial proceedings against Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short and Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel in connection with the Pearl Harbor attack.

Hopes For Tax "Freeze"

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, (R., Mich.), also hopes that the Congress will "freeze" the social security payroll tax at its present level of one per cent on both employers and employes, as it has three times previously. Unless Congress acts, the tax doubles automatically on Jan. 1.

First business on the calendars of both houses, however, is expected to be legislation authorizing postwar public works projects.

Sen. John H. Overton, (D., La.), said he would ask the Senate to open debate next Monday, Nov. 20, on two bills involving approximately $1,500,000,000 in flood control and rivers and harbors development.

The House, which passed both measures before the recess, is expected to give right of way to a Senate-approped bill to authorize expenditure of $1,350,000,000 to match state funds in a three-year postwar highway building program.

The deficiency appropriation bill, to finance governmental agencies to the end of the fiscal fear, and a move to revive the federal crop insurance program which was killed a year ago, possibly will complete the major legislative program of the year—leaving to the next Congress party pledges of broadened social security and postwar tax programs.

City Hopes For Loophole To Become Airline Stop Point

Although Civil Aeronautics board action Monday dashed Lubbock hopes temporarily for a place on a transcontinental route of American Airlines, chamber of commerce officials today were awaiting transcript of the board's action for scrutiny in advance of further application for airline service.

The CAB authorized American to establish a route from El Paso to Tulsa via Oklahoma City in its action Monday but did not give Lubbock recognition as an intermediary stopping point. Officials were hopeful that the CAB action left a loophole open for later application for a stop on the line as Lubbock is actually on the route except no stop was provided for planes here.

Lubbock's Brief Praised

Lubbock's brief in the case was one of the best presented in the hearing, chamber of commerce officials were told and it is possible that provision will be made at a later date for a stop on the line here.

The bypassing of Lubbock was taken despite a recommendation of CAB examiners that this city be placed on the route.

Chamber of Commerce officials frankly were disappointed. They were notified of the decision in a telephone call from Carrol Hinners of Fort Worth, American Airlines representative.

However, they were inclined to believe that now the CAB might take favorable action on Continental Airline's application to put a line through Lubbock. The proposed new leg would serve Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Hobbs and El Paso. A place on the line would give Lubbock access to transcontinental air service.

Protest Period Allowed

American Airlines will be allowed a period in which it can protest the decision, chamber of commerce officials said. They stated Hinners mentioned in his call that the company intended to "examine findings" of the board preparatory to deciding whether to protest. They leaned to the belief that the protest would not be made.

Continental at this time offers Lubbock its lone hope of getting on a coast-to-coast route, officials declared.

Braniff Airlines has an application which includes Lubbock pending before the board, but it calls for a loop beginning at Oklahoma City, picking up Lubbock and San Angelo and terminating at Laredo.

Doctor Standefer's Condition Improves

Condition of Dr. Fred W. Standefer, Lubbock eye, ear, nose and throat specialist undergoing treatment in Methodist hospital, Fort Worth, was reported here this morning to be "considerably improved."

While the doctor, 52, who is widely known in civic and professional circles here, cannot yet be said to be "out of the woods," his heart action shows improvement and a bronchial disturbance, which yesterday caused some alarm, apparently is subsiding under treatment.

Stricken While In Plane

Doctor Standefer, staff member at West Texas hospital since 1924, was taken to the Fort Worth hospital late Saturday afternoon after having been subjected to a heart attack while a passenger in a private airplane in which he was en route to Meridian, where an older brother, Wade Standefer, had died from a heart ailment the day before.

Since the attack struck Doctor Standefer when his plane was nearer Fort Worth than Lubbock, he instructed Ab Holt, Lubbock business man piloting the ship, to take him to the Tarrant county capital for treatment.

Assuming his condition shows continued improvement, Doctor Standefer likely will remain in the Fort Worth hospital for from six to 10 weeks and upon returning to Lubbock will be forced to curtail many of his normal activities for a period of months.

Cpl. James Leonard Thomas, jr., 22, son of James Leonard Thomas, sr., near Lubbock, is back in the States after having served 22 months overseas, as a gun captain of a 155mm gun in the marines. Corp. Thomas wears three battle stars for participating in three major campaigns. He is a member of the famed 4th Marine division, who as a group has just been awarded the Presidential Unit Citation. Cpl. Thomas is on a 30 day leave, and is to report to Norfolk, Va., for reassignment. He was in the invasion of New Georgia, Guadalcanal, and Saipan.

Linda Kay Patterson, 2½-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patterson of Hobbs, N. M., died at 4:40 a.m. today in Lubbock General hospital. The body was sent to Hobbs for burial today by Rix Funeral home.

Police said this morning they had been asked to broadacst relatives' fears that Joe Pridmore, 35, of Lubbock had "met with foul play." He left Lubbock a week ago for a "New Mexico town near Albuquerque" to visit with his wife and infant and "had planned to do some deer hunting too." He had not been heard from since leaving Lubbock in a 1937 Packard sedan, license number of which was not reported, it was announced.

He was "buzzing" when he came in. It was evident he meant to buzz some more. The prisoner, police said, had in his pockets one bottle and three boxes of barbituric acid (sedative) pills and capsules of various colors and "sleep-inducement strength." Another prisoner, released this morning after satisfying his fine, had been reported "dead" to officers who had to lift him into a squad car. He said he hadn't drunk anything "but bay rum—and I feel dead this morning."

A woman in 2000-block Ave. L complained to police her estranged husband had thrown a milk bottle through her door Monday night.

C. B. Conditt this morning reported to police theft of an automobile tire from 1014 Sixteenth, and named a suspect.

H. W. Sellers, 34, who had not posted a $2,500 peace bond set Monday in the court of J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, was named in another complaint filed in county court, charging him with having threatened to take the life of a human being. The charge, sworn to by Claudia Jones, set out Sellers had said he would get a gun and kill her.

Man Sentenced On Service Law Charge

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP) — William L. Baker, former carnival and circus worker and one-time Mormon church evangelist, who assertedly had his death notice inserted in a trade magazine and then enlisted in the Army under another name, was sentenced to two years in the federal reformatory Monday on a charge of selective service law violations.

Baker admitted to Federal Judge James C. Wilson that he enlisted as Murray H. Mayfield and was given a medical discharge because of high blood pressure.

PRO-FASCISTS PURGED

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 (AP) — A purge of pro-Fascist elements in Romania has resulted in the arrest of many prominenet members of the government which served from 1940 until last August, advices from Bucharest said today.

Ward's Appeal Turned Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Supreme court declined again Monday to interfere with a lower court decision that courts can neither review nor enforce War Labor board orders.

Without comment, the tribunal turned down an appeal of Montgomery Ward & Co. from a ruling by the District of Columbia court of appeals. The latter court held that WLB actions are administrative and "at most" simply advisory to the President.

The WLB, in case its orders are disregarded, turns cases over to the President for action.

Powers Said Exceeded

The mail order firm contended the WLB exceeded its statutory powers in issuing orders involving union maintenance, dues check-off and grievance machinery for CIO employes at four Ward stores in Detroit, and one each in Jamaica, N. Y., and Denver.

The Supreme court previously at this term had rejected an appeal by a group of trucking companies from a similar decision by the court of appeals.

Also for the second time, the court today declined to review a case which posed the question whether the National Labor Relations act applies to a "local retail department store." The M. E. Blatt Co., Atlantic City department store, raised that issue in appealing from a lower court decision that the company was guilty of unfair labor practices in posting a notice advising employes that they did not have to join a union.

Southwest's First Tire Factory Opened

WACO, Nov. 14, (AP)—Thousands of persons gathered here to inspect the General Tire and Rubber company's nearly completed $6,000,000 plant which was dedicated Monday.

Industrialists, federal and state officials and Army and Navy officers attended the ceremony dedicating the Southwest's first tire factory.

Program speakers were William O'Neil, General Tire Co., president; Charles J. Jahhant, vice president; State Secretary Sidney Latham, who represented Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. Conway Craig, Corpus Christi, president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers association, was master of ceremonies.

Other speakers were Waco Mayor A. N. Denton and C. B. Williams, chamber of commerce president, who welcomed the new industry.

The dedication brought to Texas 30 writers and radio men who will tour the state as guests of industrial concerns.

Bomber Group Cited; Lubbock Man In Unit

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE LIBERATOR STATION, England — The B-24 Liberator Four-engine bomber group in which Pfc. Jesse R. Boling, of 519 Eighteenth, Lubbock, Texas, is a member recently was cited by Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, commanding Second Bombardment division, "for distinguished and outstanding performance of duty."

The citation in part reads: "The devotion to duty, determination and tenacity of purpose exhibited by personnel of the group reflect great credit upon themselves, their organization and the United States Army Air Forces."

The group, which recently completed its 100th combat mission, is commanded by Col. Luther J. Fairbanks of Burt, Iowa and had previously been cited by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commanding Eighth Air force, for low-level destruction of a bridge across the Loire, near Blois, France. Demolition of the span was ordered regardless of cost." To achieve visibility necessary for destruction of the bridge it was necessary to descend below clouds to 6,500 feet, an altitude usually considered extremely hazardous for four-engine bombers. From this height the target was reduced to a heap of smoking rubble. It was the first low-level bombing ever performed by four-engine bombers from England.

Earlier the group had been officially commended by General Doolittle for combat achievement on its first mission, an attack on Berlin and the longest initial assault ever flown in the European theater. The attack was one of the heaviest daylight bombings of the German capital on record.

New Mexico Seeks Equalized Oil Price

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—An amended petition, seeking to equalize the New Mexico crude oil price with that of West Texas, will be filed with the OPA by Gov. John J. Dempsey.

Dempsey, who claims the price of oil from his state is more than 10 cents below the West Texas price, said after conferring with OPA officials that he would send them additional information they asked.

"The Office of Price administration apparently acted correctly on the information they had," the governor said, "but their information was not complete. Since my talk with OPA the situation looks much different than it did and the conference was satisfactory."

U. S. Prisoner Of War Information Bureau Handles Many Affairs For Captured Yanks

BY MARGARET KERNODLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — An American in an enemy prison camp has been married by proxy and at least one other is being divorced through the U. S. Prisoner of War Information bureau.

Many a prisoner has bought war bonds via this little known bureau and others carry on business, even having wills sent by registered mail to "next of kin" through the bureau.

Within a month a destitute Brooklyn mother began to receive a regular $100 check from her merchant seaman son. He was located in a German prison camp and authorized that the check be taken from his pay being credited to him by his company.

Handle Many Squabbles

Thousands of family squabbles go through this bureau. Most frequent fight is over who is "next of kin," entitled to send a parcel to the prisoner. (It's the wife if there is one.)

Here is how "your" American officially is reported prisoner in 99 cases out of 100: The enemy notifies the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland, which which cables the U. S. Prisoner of War Information Bureau.

Copies of the Red Cross cable go to his service, which identifies him and telegraphs his next of kin or emergency address. From then on, the Prisoner of War Information bureau handles all requests.

Part Of "Strip File"

An American war prisoner becomes a part of an enormous "strip file" in this bureau, which already has 1,038 trays of 60 to 85 names per tray. Each strip includes a code-like recording of his name, serial number, prisoner of war number, service, internment place and cable number.

A blue strip means he is in Germany; a yellow strip, Japan; a pink, in the Balkans, and green, Italy. Only 35 of the green strips remain unaccounted for, either "dead or free," the bureau says.

A white strip indicates the man is a "highly secret" prisoner interned in a neutral country. Information about him is likely to be much less revealing than about the others.

'Machine Record File' Made

From this file a "machine record file" is made and copies are sent to the headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower if the prisoner is held by Germany. Copies of files of Japanese-held prisoners now are en route to Gen. MacArthur.

One of every 40 Americans reported prisoner is named Smith. Other frequent names are Jones, Williams, Johnson, Brown. This, the bureau points out, is the reason why the family of a prisoner should identify him fully by name, serial number, rank and service in requests to the bureau.

More than 70 monitor stations pick up broadcasts from the enemy and report to this bureau which advises "next of kin" if they contain messages supposed to be from a prisoner.

Some American families never have heard from prisoners in the far east except through these messages.

U. S. SUB SCUTTLED

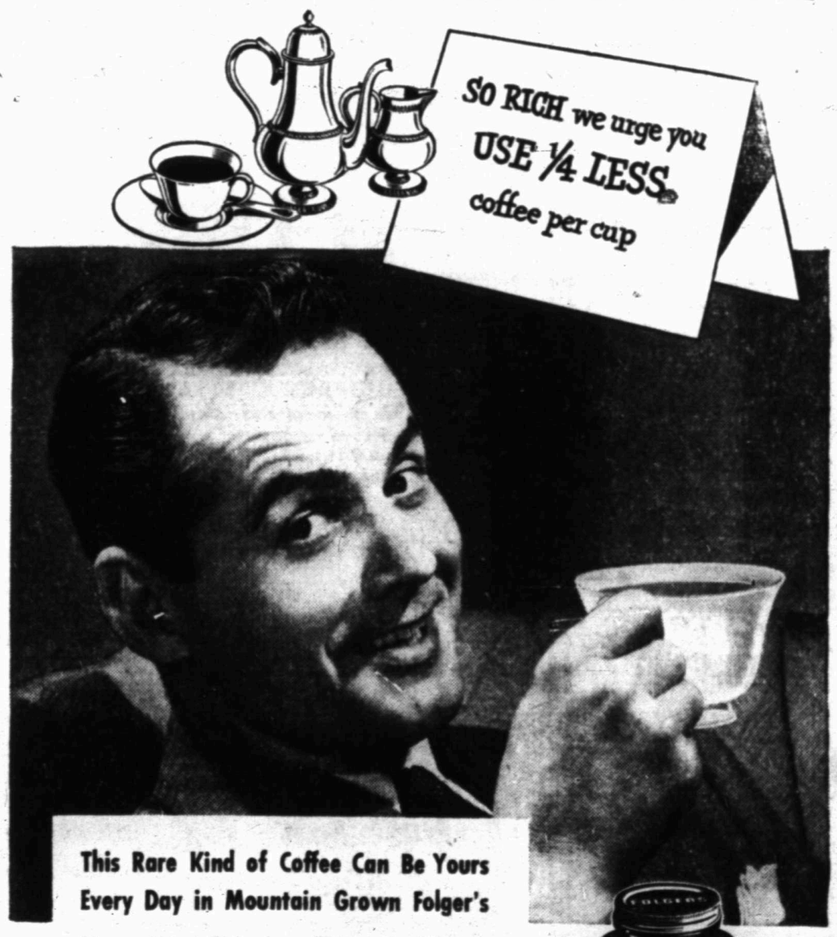

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP) — The Navy announced today the Submarine Darter was destroyed by its own crew to prevent capture by the enemy after it had run aground in an undisclosed area. All the complement of 65 officers and men survived unharmed and escaped to an advanced naval base.

Sellout Indicated For Amarillo Game

Tickets Are Going Fast For Holiday Classic Here

Another gridiron sellout for Lubbock was predicted Monday night at the close of the first day of ticket sales for the Turkey day classic at Tech stadium Nov. 23 between the Lubbock Westerners and Amarillo Golden Sandies.

The Sandies have already wrapped and tied up the District 1-AA pennant, and are only marking time until the bi-district clash with the winner of the Wichita Falls-Vernon classic, scheduled for the same day.

The last matematical chance of the Lubbock Westerners in the flag chase vanished in the last half of last Saturday's battle at Pampa. So the annual West Texas classic will not have the added color of a pennant battle when the two teams meet.

Sandies Could Be Tied

The Sandies could be tied by the Plainview Bulldogs or the Pampa Harvesters, but the conference rule would award them the victory, for the Sandies won over both these teams in their respective meetings.

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools, sent 1,172 adult tickets and 500 student tickets to Amarillo Monday morning, and they will go on sale there, with indications that they will be sold out in record time.

Amarillo officials informed Lowrey Monday by long distance telephone that this would not be nearly enough tickets for the demand in the Panhandle city.

Tickets Sell Fast

The tickets went on sale in Lubbock Monday morning, and a stampede of buyers was the result. Tickets will be on sale again this morning at the Hilton hotel lobby, and will remain on sale until the supply is exhausted.

The brisk advance sale of tickets indicate the game will be a sell-out far in advance of the date of the kickoff, and will draw the season's top grid crowd.

In the meantime, Coaches J. Mule Davis and Dixie White sent the Westerners through a light drill Monday, working out the kinks from last Saturday's tough battle, and began to map plans for the Amarillo game.

The team will have two weeks in which to get into shape for this big battle, and both coaches indicated the drills during this time would be long and hard.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—After last Saturday's game, Notre Dame has slipped way back in the football ratings but you can't deny that the Irish have courage. Ed McKeever proved it by showing up for both the football writers and sports broadcasters meetings yesterday. And what's more, Ed hasn't changed the opinion of one-sided scores he expressed after that Dartmouth rout. "It isn't fair to the kids to send them in and tell them to hold the score down," he argues. After Linesman Dave Reese was hurt, McKeever and Col. Biff Jones were discussing what to do. The Notre Dame coach remarked: "One thing that would help the game would be to let us have Blanchard and Davis for the next half." And when Minor went 60 yards to score on that tricky punt return, an Army colonel shouted to Steve Owen of the Giants: "That's a good play; you ought to use it." Steve replied: "Yes, it is a good play and you should have been using it for the last 13 years."

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Jimmy Johnston (announcing that he has taken over Lou Nova's contract): "Now Lou intends to start chasing Joe Louis until he catches up with him. He may be sorry, but he'll be well paid."

END TO END

The normally mild Don Hutson became somewhat annoyed when a Cleveland player guarded him rather roughly last Sunday and gave him a good shove while he was going after one pass. The Ram promptly offered to clip Hutson on the chin the next time that happened. Came another Green Bay pass and Don headed directly for the defender, shouting "get that clip ready, here I come." Then he neatly sidestepped as his rival got set to swing, went on to the end zone and caught a touchdown pass.

Charles Jones, wrestling and judo instructor at Keesler field, Miss., also can letter some nifty signs and the grid coach, Capt. George B. Huffman, has made god use of his talents. The captain's latest idea backfired when he asked the corporal to paint a "don't let George do it" poster for the dressing room. It came out "don't let Jones do it."

Angott Announces Second Retirement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sammy Angott, former world's lightweight boxing champion, has announced his second retirement—but this time, says the ringwise little veteran, "I'm going to make it stick."

Angott renounced his title two years ago, then staged a sensational comeback and regained the crown by whipping Luther (Slugger) White in Hollywood in October, 1943. He lost the championship to Juan Zurita in a Hollywood bout last February.

A broken right hand which he suffered in his first bout with Bob Montgomery back in 1941 led to both of Angott's retirements. The injured member never healed properly, despite a bone grafting operation and a six-month rest.

Raiders, Lobos To Clash Here

Techsans Prepare For Saturday Tilt

With three home games in a row ahead of them, Texas Tech's Red Raiders returned home Monday afternoon to lick their wounds while getting ready for the invasion of the New Mexico Lobos next Saturday.

The Red Raiders renew an old feud with the New Mexico eleven next Saturday afternoon at Tech stadium. It will be the second meeting of the year with teams in the Border Conference, the Red Raiders having beaten the West Texas State Teachers college eleven earlier in the season in a game played at Amarillo.

Nothing has been learned here of the personnel of the New Mexico club.

Gene Hardey Hurt

The Red Raiders came out of the Texas Christian game last Saturday somewhat the worse for wear, and will take the field against the Lobos without the services of Gene Hardey, the first string quarterback.

Hardey injured his knee in the TCU game, and will be out of the game this week. Hardey has been slowed down much of the time this season with a knee injury, but hurt the other knee at Fort Worth.

Cecil Norris, halfback from Beaumont, and Coach Morgan expressed hopes that he would be ready to go at full speed by Saturday.

Jim Taylor, end from Sweetwater, was also injured in the game, which was his farewell appearance for the duration with the Red Raiders. He will be released from the Fort Worth hospital this morning, and will return to his home in Sweetwater to await his call to report to the Navy at Memphis, Tenn.

Another Godoy Or Firpo Is Indicated

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 14 (AP)—He fights like Arturo Godoy of Chile, and he made his American start in the same ring where Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine was unveiled, but whether he'll hit the heights reached by those other "south of the border" guys only time can tell.

We speak of Fernando (The Mighty) Menichelli of the Argentine, heavyweight fighter who last night blasted out a 10-round decision over Laurient Bouchard of Montreal, Canada, at Laurel gardens before a crowd of about 2,500 which contributed a gate of $3,400.

The mighty one, fighting from the famed Godoy half-crouch and throwing the same overhand right which was the best weapon of the Chile clouter who went 23 rounds with Joe Louis before being knocked out, displayed a rugged ability to take it and dish it out in the 10 heats against the dominion scrapper.

Hunt, Dupre Gridders To Clash Wednesday

Undisputed leadership in the Lubbock grade school touch football league will be at stake Wednesday afternoon at the Dupre field when the undefeated, untied leaders clash in the season's feature.

The Hunt Pioneers and the Dupre Dogies slug it out in this battle for the undisputed leadership. The Dogies are not only undefeated and untied for the season, but to date are unscored on in five games.

It requires a temperature of 1775 degrees Centigrade to melt platinum.

Randolph Field Second In Over-All Poll

Army, Navy First And Second Among Collegiate Grid Teams

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Army and Navy, rivals in the service clash Dec. 2, rank one-two in a strict collegiate segregation of the football teams rated in today's Associated Press poll.

Army, with 77 first place votes of a possible 106, collected 935 points. Navy, beaten by North Carolina Pre-Flight and Georgia Tech in early season games, is second with five first place nominations and 759 tallies.

Randolph field sets the pace for the service division with 15 tickets for the No. 1 spot and 770 points. In the over-all poll Army ranks as the top team but the Randolph field squad moved to second from their fourth place berth a week ago.

Notre Dame Drops

For the first time since Oct. 12, 1942, Notre Dame is not in the top ten teams in the country, dropping to eleventh place following the Irish 59 to 0 setback by Army.

Notre Dame is among the elite, however, in the division reserved for college teams only, holding down seventh place.

The college group is made up of Ohio State, Michigan, Georgia Tech, Duke, Notre Dame, Southern California, Purdue and Mississippi State in that order behind the two service schools.

Fellow members with Randolph in the service contingent are Bainbridge, Iowa Pre - Flight, Fourth Air force, Great Lakes, El Toro, Calif., Marines, North Carolina Pre-Flight, Norman, Okla., Navy, Second Air force and Maxwell field.

Congress May Ask President To Move Army-Navy Game

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) A Congressional group may appeal to President Roosevelt to move the Army-Navy football game from Annapolis to a large city stadium.

Rep. Manasco (D-Ala) said he would ask Speaker Rayburn and House majority leader McCormack today to lead a House contingent in a final appeal to the White House for a change.

The game is scheduled Dec. 2 in the naval academy's stadium which seats about 15,000. Earlier congressional moves to switch the game to Philadelphia or some other big city where from 60,000 to 100,000 could see it failed.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said at a news conference yesterday that he believed the President would keep the game on a "community limited basis" because of transportation problems.

Junior High Playoff Series Opens Today

Coach Bob Parker's Reds and Russell Wimberley's Whites open the junior high playoff series this afternoon at Chapman field at 4 o'clock, with the winner to play the Purples at a later date for the championship.

The race was thrown into a three-way-tie last week when the Purples, coached by Roy Morris, were tied by both the Reds and Whites. The Reds played the Purples to a 6-6 tie, and the Whites to a 7-7 tie.

The Reds and Whites met in the first game of the season, and also played a tie game, a scoreless affair. So indications are that the series will be a toss up from start to finish.

Cowhand Teams To Meet Ropes, Sudan

The Lubbock Cowhands, both George Philbrick's Blacks and Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's Golds, swing into action again this week, with one game before the home fans and the other on the road.

The Cowhands Black team will entertain the Ropes eleven here Friday afternoon in a battle at Chapman field, while the Cowhands Gold club will take another tough foe on in a game at Sudan Friday.

ORTIZ FAVORED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14 (AP)—Manuel Ortiz, El Centro, Calif., is a 1 to 4 choice to retain his world bantamweight championship when he meets the rock-ribbed Luis Castillo of Mexico City in a scheduled 15-round title tilt tonight.

Ramblers Have One Of Top Records

(By The Associated Press)

Randolph field's mighty Ramblers stand alone in Texas service football. They are the only unbeaten team left. Hondo Air field fell Saturday night before Galveston Air field 19-14 while Randolph was rolling over Maxwell field 25-0.

The Ramblers have one of the greatest records in football—seven victories, 321 points to six for the opposition. That's an average of almost 46 points per game while allowing their foes less than one point.

Randolph Meets Southwestern

This week Randolph plays Southwestern, which lost to Tulsa Saturday 51-6. Hondo meets Bryan Air field which lost to Ellington field 7-0.

It's a busy week for the service teams with seven games scheduled. Play opens Thursday with Bergstrom field meeting Ellington field at Houston.

Friday South Plains Army Air field meets West Texas State Teachers at Lubbock and Bryan Air field plays Hondo Air field at Hondo.

Saturday the Eagle Mountain Marines who have won two and lost two this season, engage Blackland Air field at Denton. Galveston Air field tackles Lake Charles, La., Army Air field at Galveston, Randolph field clashes with Southwestern at San Antonio and Lubbock Army Air field engages John Tarleton college at Stephenville.

Texas service football standings (teams playing as many as five games):

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Op.
Randolph field	7	0	0	321	6
Hondo field	5	1	0	141	31
Blakland Air field	5	1	1	130	19
Amarillo Air field	5	2	0	180	87
Galveston Air field	4	2	2	98	105
Ellington field	4	2	2	40	39
Lubbock Air field	4	4	0	117	139
Bergstrom field	3	4	0	111	72

SPAAF Polishes Air Attack For Buffs

Ever since the West Texas State Teachers college Buffs brought the Lubbock AAF Fliers to earth with a jar, the South Plains Winged Commandos have been sharpening their aerial circus for their battle with the Buffs Friday night in Tech stadium.

The Buffs will be rounding out a series of three games against Lubbock opponents. The Canyonites dropped a game to Texas Tech in Amarillo, but defeated Lubbock Army Air Field 14-12 on their home grounds.

West Texas also holds a decisive victory over the University of New Mexico, but have lost to powerful Oklahoma A.&M. and Amarillo Army Air Field.

It is the final game of the season for the Buffaloes and they probably will be pointing for the SPAAF tilt in an attempt to make it two in a row over Lubbock rivals.

Flashy Eddie Castleberry, West Texas State Teacher's tailback, has been the Buff sparkplug all seasc and will show off his wares against the Commandos, who will be bucking for their first win after a fine showing against Tony Canadeo and company from Fort Bliss.

The Commandos showed improvement in passing and running against Fort Bliss, but will get a lot of work on defense this week.

Ickes Is Uninjured In Train Derailment

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov 14 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes was among several hundred passengers who narrowly escaped serious injury today when derailmen of a car truck brought their train to a halt on the Pennsylvania Railway Raritan river bridge.

The accident occurred shortly after 4 p. m. on a Washington to Boston run of the Senator express when the front truck of a carriage four cars ahead of the one in which Ickes was riding left the rails and was dragged for a mile with its wheels off the tracks.

Local railroad officials said more serious consequences were averted by the fact that the truck was kept in line first by plowing along the edge of the station platform at New Brunswick, where three persons were slightly injured, and then by the guard rail of a street overpass just before the Raritan bridge. A foot of the platform edge was sheared off for its entire length and the guard rail was badly smashed.

That Girl on Broadway says she supposes that the ultimate in futility is exemplified by a political ghost-writer wrestling with a dead issue.

Personal observation: Prettiest of the high school girls we've seen this year is Charlotte Scoggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Scoggin, 2207 Sixteenth street. A member of the Junior class, of which she is vice president, Charlotte is busy as a bee with student activities, singing in the a cappella choir, serving as a cheer leader and holding several offices. Schoolmates say she's definitely "in the running" for the title "Westerner Girl of the Year" for her class in 1945.

SPEAKING of the high school reminds us that many youngsters of the community are all pepped up over the "Teen Canteen," located in the building formerly occupied by the Christian church at Sixteenth street and Avenue J. The building has been rented by the city's recreation department and will be outfitted with a snack bar, a library, a game room or two, a partial kitchen where kids can do some light cooking. Also included is a dance floor large enough to take care of most of the terpsichorean needs of the youngsters.

Plans are now to have twice weekly parties, or get-togethers, on Tuesday and Friday nights and the youngsters currently are organizing to aid in the operation of the center.

These "Teen Canteens" have been organized in various cities over the country since the war broke out, the general idea being to give youngsters supervised fun which will keep them away from questionable places of public entertainment. Whether the idea proves to be a permanent addition to life of American youths, or is a "flash in the pan" which will disappear with the return to normal times, nobody yet knows.

Because of lack of information giving complete reports on "Teen Canteens" to date from other cities where they have been in operation for from several months up to three years, The Plainsman hasn't been able to form a concrete opinion about them.

We can see where they would do a lot of good under some circumstances; considerable harm under others, especially where proper supervision is lacking.

As a father of three, we haven't yet found it necessary to rely upon any sort of organized help in charting the entertainment of our youngsters, preferring to do our own supervising, to date at least. At our house, we stick to the oldfashioned system of applying parental authority and so far it has worked all right.

However, we see where a properly operated "Teen Canteen" could be quite serviceable to many parents as well as to many youngsters. Along with a great many other oldsters hereabouts, we shall watch with interest the project here.

The whole thing revolves around parents. Those who take time out to actively supervise the entertainment of their children; who sponsor for their kids and the various socials and parties essential to normal youth, will find no particular need for an organized "Teen Canteen," although if the latter is properly operated they will see no harm in permitting their kids to be active in it.

A "TEEN CANTEEN" in Lubbock, or anywhere else, will not, however, absolve parents from their responsibilities toward their children.

No matter how well such a project may work here, wise parents will continue to give thought and attention to their youngsters and their pleasures.

Nothing that we can think of will ever take the place of a firm parental hand on the youthful bridle rein, or will supplant proper relations and confidences between parents and children.

Any who think a "Teen Canteen" in Lubbock, or elsewhere, will solve all problems attendant upon raising youngsters is doomed to disappointment.

GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR'S dramatic and triumphant return to the Philippines as a conqueror bent upon liberating Americans who may still be in Jap hands there and the people of the islands, as well, recalls the great soldier's earliest activities as an officer of the United States Army. That was back in 1903.

The general, then a spanking new second lieutenant just out of West Point, drew as his first assignment service with the Corps of Engineers on Leyte, near Tacloban, which was his fighters' first objective in the recent invasion. Never a shrinking violet and always a swell showman, young MacArthur at times was a little too dazzling for his brother officers.

Maj. Gen. Charles D. Herron, retired, who was MacArthur's room-mate on Leyte 41 years ago, tells how the other officers there rubbed some of the glitter from the young second lieutenant, now one of the world's most famous generals.

"One day," says General Herron, "we decided that MacArthur's form-fitting, longhandled civilian underwear needed treatment. The rest of us had been wearing GI's for as long as we could remember. So we threw MacArthur out of the window of the quarters, clothed only in his splendid underwear; locked all the doors and windows and let him holler and beg to get back in."

It was a marvelous joke, General Herron remembers, but luck was with MacArthur. None of the dozen or so American women on the far-away post was around to witness his embarrassment.

Nothing was said about it in the dispatches, but our guess is that when General MacArthur went back to Leyte a couple of weeks ago, he thought about what happened to him there because of his underwear!

SAM Leifeste, acting manager of the Social Security board here, informs us that benefits under that agency are already seeping into Lubbock.

According to his figures, a total of 261 persons in this county are receiving an aggregate of $3,088.91 per month, broken down as follows:

125 dependent children receive $1,335.80; 65 former workers who are 65 years of age, or over, receive $607.45; 17 wives over 65 receive $181.20; 46 widows with children under 18 receive $811.55; six widows over 65 receive $101.01; and two dependent parents receive $31.90.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

WAR wives don't ask or expect to be handled with kid gloves—but they do wish the women who are fortunate enough to still have their husbands around the house, instead of overseas, would not be tactless enough to make any of the following remarks:

MILLETT

"I know exactly how you feel" to a wife worrying about her husband at the front. Only another war wife or mother of a son at the front knows exactly how she feels, and it is presumptuous for anyone else to make the statement.

"Oh, he's probably all right," said airily to the wife who is worrying because it has been weeks since she has heard from her husband.

"Well, we can't expect to win a war without losing a lot of men." Nobody with a loved one on a fighting front appreciates that kind of matter-of-factness from women whose men are still at home.

ADJUSTMENT IS HARD

"LUCY isn't making a very good adjustment," said one war wife about another, a woman who hasn't had to learn the hard way that there is no real adjustment for the wife whose husband is in constant danger—that the best a woman can do is fake a cheerfulness and untroubled exterior.

"Sometimes I think the men left at home are the ones who are really having it tough. Joe is working so terribly hard these days." It takes perfect self-control for the wife of a man living in a fox hole to let that kind of remark pass unchallenged.

Comments like those make war wives feel that they aren't understood or appreciated. Because no one who even faintly understands the problems and worries of a war wife would make any of those cracks. And yet many women untouched by the war—except for doing without nylon stockings, etc.—do make such remarks every day.

Star Beams

From two directions, women are fast approaching a point where the paint, enamel and powder they wear will weigh as much as their clothes.

OCCIDENTALS IN THE POSTWAR ORIENT

The first and foremost reason why our war with Japan must be won as soon as is humanly possible is because the earlier the victory the fewer American fighting men will die and the fewer will be wounded.

That reason, in itself, should be enough to spur every home-fronter to do his full duty to the men in the services and to his country as a whole.

But there is another reason, too, why we should all help to the utmost and that is because the longer the Japs remain in control of much of the Orient, the more damage they will be able to do to the standing of the white race among the yellow and brown people.

It is true that the Japs are not making friends among the people they have conquered. In fact, the Nipponese are hated by most of their unwilling subjects. But, never-the-less, by many subtle means the Japs are poisoning Oriental minds against all Occidentals, and they are doing it "around the clock," every day.

By way of the radio, the Japs almost continuously pound into Oriental ears all sorts of poisonous statements regarding Americans and British, in particular, and all other Occidentals, in general. They "bear down" on the white man's loss of face.

Shrewdly, the Japs have turned over to natives business and residential property previously owned by the Americans, British and Dutch—although in many cases the Nips retain "interests" in valuable property. Swank clubs in Java, the Philippines, Malaya and the East Indies, once barred to natives, have been thrown open to the richer natives now, which has made a hit with some of the latter.

Shinto priests, who preach the native religion of Japan, are using a "back door" route with Orientals being held under the mikado's yoke. Instead of attempting to force Shintoism upon the natives all at once, they attempt to superimpose its beliefs and rites onto native religions, or upon Christianity wherever it is practiced.

This much is certain, when Japan is reduced to a third-rate power, and her nationals are imprisoned, economically speaking, within their own island chain, the Occidentals who return to the South Pacific must be good will evangels as well as business men and missionaries. They will have to practice more courtesy — even more humanity—than they ever practiced in the Orient before and must forget the silly tradition that "the only way to get along with an Oriental is to kick him around."

By the time the Japs get through with the downtrodden peoples now held in their bondage, those peoples will not only deserve more consideration than they ever got before, but will have to get it if the Occidental and Oriental worlds can live happily on the same planet.

MacArthur And FDR Forget Old Differences

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. — One of the hitherto secret incidents of the late political campaign was an offer by General MacArthur to support the president for a fourth term.

The conversation took place at Pearl Harbor when Roosevelt held his conference with Admiral Nimitz and MacArthur. After the naval officers had left, the general and the President had a private conference of their own.

Prior to this, the President was certainly not enthusiastic about MacArthur and, judging from the critical letters made public by Congressman Miller of Nebraska, the feeling was mutual. But at this meeting, FDR later told friends, butter would hardly melt in MacArthur's mouth. He dripped cordiality and friendship, actually offered to make a statement supporting the President for re-election.

PEARSON

FDR in turn was so impressed with MacArthur's strategy plan for landing on Leyte and retaking the Philippines that he later expounded on the subject at some length to those who accompanied him on the trip.

"A great strategist," the President told Admiral Leahy.

The President also proposed, following the MacArthur conference, that he send a message to Congress urging that MacArthur be made "General of the Armies." This is the title now held by Gen. John J. Pershing, long retired but still accorded the rank. Republicans in Congress, the President thought, would be glad to pass the necessary legislation giving MacArthur this title.

Admiral Leahy, however, strongly advised against it. He told the President that people would immediately accuse him of playing politics.

The President, however, continued to be enthusiastic about MacArthur's strategy plan for retaking the Philippines, and supported Doug to the hilt when the plan later was reviewed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington. They argued against it, wanted to land on the coast of China instead of the Philippines. However, the President, as Commander in Chief, threw his weight to MacArthur, and the plan went through.

SOLVES PROBLEM

OKLAHOMA'S Indian lawyer, Roy St. Lewis, has been having servant trouble. Roy lives in Maryland on the only Western-type ranch anywhere near Washington. But despite the Western atmosphere, he couldn't get servants to stay. They didn't appreciate it.

In the Hoover administration, Roy was assistant Attorney General. He remains an ardent Republican, doesn't like Roosevelt and makes no secret of it. Or rather, he didn't.

But Roy has a new wife, the former Peggy Hammond Taylor, who has been on friendly terms with Mrs. Roosevelt and once had her picture taken with Mrs. Roosevelt at some social function.

Finally, with his servant troubles at their peak, Roy remarked to Mrs. St. Lewis:

"The trouble with us is that we sit around damning Roosevelt. Maybe that's why we can't keep any servants. Now you dust off that picture of you and Mrs. Roosevelt and put it right out here where they can see it. Then maybe we can keep some servants.

Roy says that he hasn't had any servant trouble since.

NOTE—Friends are now kidding St. Lewis that he really married his new wife because he knew she had that magic picture.

FOR "HARD PEACE"

SENATORS Kilgore of West Virginia and Elbert Thomas of Utah could have published it before election, but decided to wait for a minority Republican okay before letting out a dynamite-laden report recommending a "hard peace" for Germany. Their findings, in general, support the Morgenthau plan and warn against the danger of German remobilization for another war. The report will be published very soon.

Prepared by a special Military Affairs sub-committee, it shows that, for 30 years, German economy has been carefully geared for war. Immediately after the last war, the powerful metallurgical and chemical trusts were built up as a base for the munitions industries.

The Kilgore committee will recommend the following:

(1) Punishment not only of war leaders but of German cartel leaders;

(2) The complete outlawing of international cartels;

(3) Immediate creation of an international economic and social council provided for in the Dumbarton Oaks agreement. This is necessary, according to the Kilgore committee, in order to prevent reviving the international cartel system.

"It is generally agreed," the report will say, "that the German armament industry must be liquidated, but there has been much confusion in the public discussion as to the extent German industry as a whole should be liquidated.

"The subcommittee believes that those who have urged that all industry other than direct armament manufacture be left intact have overlooked the fact that, for more than 30 years, all of German industry has been closely integrated in a munitions economy.

"Final agreement cannot be reached immediately on the disposition of the remaining industries which are suitable to a balanced peacetime economy but are also convertible to war purposes. Discussion may bring out various general alternatives, but definitive action by the international organization will depend on factors which are still imponderable. These factors include (1) the extent of German industry still intact after final military victory; (2) the internal political balance after punishment of war criminals; and (3) the number and influence of Germans who can be relied upon to operate German industry solely for peace production."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

LAST year Republican congressmen launched a violent attack on the Office of War Information for being pro-Roosevelt. They claimed it was a camouflaged agency to put across Roosevelt propaganda. But four days before election, OWI broadcast to Italy a message from Joseph Carlino, treasurer of the Italian Division for the Election of Thomas E. Dewey . . . Among other things, Carlino said: "Keeping in mind the speech of our candidate, Dewey, on the Columbus Day anniversary, we Americans of Italian origin cannot help but feel still happier because of the fact that, in his program for a prosperous Europe, Dewey maintains that an Italy completely restored will be an important factor for stability . . . We are sure the forth-coming election will prove us right."

Ernie Has Grandstand Seat As Tank Is Hit

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

BY ERNIE PYLE

IN NORMANDY, June, 1944 — The hospital was in our hands, but just barely. On up the street a block there seemed to be fighting. I say seemed to be, because actually you can't always tell. Street fighting is just as confusing as field fighting.

One side will bang away for a while, then the other side. Between these sallies there are long lulls, with only stray and isolated shots. Just an occasional soldier is sneaking about, and you don't see anything of the enemy at all. You can't tell half the time just what the situation is, and neither can the soldiers.

About a block beyond the hospital entrance two American tanks were sitting in the middle of the street, one about 50 yards ahead of the other. I walked toward them. Our infantrymen were in doorways along the street.

ERNIE PYLE

I got within about 50 feet of our front tank when it let go its 75-millimeter gun. The blast was terrific there in the narrow street. Glass came tinkling down from nearby windows, smoke puffed around the tank, and the empty street was shaking and trembling with the concussion.

As the tank continued to shoot I ducked into a doorway, because I figured the Germans would shoot back. Inside the doorway there was a sort of street-level cellar, dirt-floored. Apparently there was a wine shop above, for the cellar was stacked with wire crates for holding wine bottles on their sides. There were lots of bottles, but they were all empty.

Shell Hits Tank

I went back to the doorway and stood peeking out at the tank. It started backing up. Then suddenly a yellow flame pierced the bottom of the tank and there was a crash of such intensity that I automatically blinked my eyes. The tank, hardly 50 feet from where I was standing, had been hit by an enemy shell.

A second shot ripped the pavement at the side of the tank. There was smoke all around, but the tank didn't catch fire. In a moment the crew came boiling out of the turret.

GRIM as it was, I almost had to laugh as they ran toward us. I have never seen men run so violently. They ran all over, with arms and heads going up and down and with marathon-race grimaces. They plunged into my doorway.

I spent the next excited hour with them. We changed to another doorway and sat on boxes in the empty hallway. The floor and steps were thick with blood where a soldier had been treated within the hour.

What had happened to the tank was this: They had been firing away at a pillbox ahead when their 75 backfired, filling the tank with smoke and blinding them.

They decided to back up in order to get their bearings, but after backing a few yards the driver was so blinded that he stopped. Unfortunately he stopped exactly at the foot of a side street. More unfortunately there was another German pillbox up the side street. All the Germans had to do was take easy aim and let go at the sitting duck.

Boys Ready For More

The first shot hit a tread, so the tank couldn't move. That was when the boys got out. I don't know why the Germans didn't fire at them as they poured out.

The escaped tankers naturally were excited, but they were as jubilant as June-bugs and ready for more. They had never been in combat before the invasion of Normandy, yet in three weeks their tank had been shot up three times. Each time it was repaired and put back in action. And it can be repaired this time. The name of their tank, appropriately, is "Be Back Soon."

THE main worry of these boys was the fact that they had left the engine running. We could hear it chugging away. It's bad for a tank motor to idle very long. But now they were afraid to go back and turn the motor off, for the tank was still right in line with the hidden German gun.

Also, they had come out wearing their leather crash helmets. Their steel helmets were still inside the tank, and so were their rifles.

"We'll be a lot of good without helmets or rifles!" one of them said.

The crew consisted of Corp. Martin Kennelly, of Chicago, the tank commander; Sgt. L. Wortham, Leeds, Ala., driver; Pvt. Ralph Ogren, of Minneapolis, assistant driver; Corp. Albin Stoops, Marshalltown, Del., gunner, and Pvt. Charles Rains, of Kansas City, the loader.

Private Rains was the oldest of the bunch, and the only married one. He used to work as a guard at the Sears, Roebuck plant in Kansas City.

"I was MP to 1,500 women," he said with a grin, "and how I'd like to be back doing that!"

The other tankers all expressed loud approval of this sentiment.

Pretender To French Throne Faces Arrest

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — The French government today ordered the arrest of the pretender to the throne of France, the Comte de Paris, who was reported wounded at Perpignan after crossing the Spanish frontier into France.

The interior ministry issued a warrant to all department prefects on two counts—illegal entry into the country and violation of a law against the residence on French soil of the head of a family in exile.

Reports from southern France said the Comte was in hiding after being wounded, but there was no report on the cause of the injury.

Tirpitz Sinking Releases Fleet

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Sinking of the German battleship Tirpitz in Norway's Tromso fjord is expected here to release additional strong units of the British home fleet for service against the Japanese in Far Eastern waters.

As long as the Tirpitz remained afloat she constituted a potential threat which made it imperative that the Royal Navy keep some of its most powerful warships at home ready to deal with the German vessel should she venture forth.

Other Ships Bottled Up

With the Tirpitz gone, sunk at her mooring Sunday by RAF bombers, all that remains of the German surface fleet is bottled up in the Baltic. These remnants include two pocket battleships, the Admiral Scheer and the Lutzow; two eight-inch gun cruisers, the Hipper and Prinz Eugen, and four six-inch gun cruisers.

GERMANY REPORTS MOST OF THE CREW IS SAVED

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The great German battleship Tirpitz, sunk Sunday by 6-ton British earthquake bombs, was "put out of action in shallow water just off the Norwegian coast" and a great part of her crew of possibly 1,600 was saved, the German communique asserted today.

The broadcast requiem for the 41,000-ton superdreadnaught said: "The German battleship Tirpitz, engaged in protecting the north Norwegian coast, has repulsed in the last two years numerous air attacks by strong special British bomber formations and shot down a large number of enemy machines. On Nov. 12, the Tirpitz was again attacked by British planes with super-bombs. The battleship lying in shallow water just off the Norwegian coast was put out of action. A great part of the crew was rescued."

Three Texas Cities In Tight Labor Spots

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—C. E. Belk of Austin, state director of the War Manpower commission, said here today that tight labor spots in Texas now are Fort Worth, Beaumont and Galveston.

Belk, elected president of the Texas chapter of the international association of public employment services which held its organization meeting here today, said workers laid off in Dallas can find employment immediately in more critical areas.

R. L. Coffman of Austin, assistant state director of the United States Employment service, was named vice president of the new organization. Other officers included Alma Herndon, assistant area director of the War Manpower commission, Fort Worth, third vice-president.

ROBOTS HIT LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—After a lull of several days the Germans launched a brief flying bomb attack on southern England during the night. An official announcement said some damage was done in the London area and in outlying districts.

Congress Returns To Work Today With Plenty Of Soda Pop, Danish Snuff And Ersatz Sand

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — Congress returned to work today in a capitol washed, polished, painted and supplied with soda pop, fresh Danish snuff and ersatz sand for the blotting of historic documents.

I had a swig of the senatorial pop, took a pinch of the snuff and looked into the sand situation; I want to warn the Senate of the United States to go easy on the sand because it's a fake and it won't work.

Each senatorial desk contains a cut-glass jar with a punctured silver top, like a salt shaker, for the sprinkling of black sand on signatures. This is supposed to work like blotting paper. It's been working like that since 1859.

Isn't Really Sand

I shook some of the stuff into my hand, scrogged it around, tasted it and came up with the discovery that it wasn't sand at all.

"Iron filings," admitted the senatorial sand man. "It's the war. We couldn't get black sand."

"But will it blot up ink?" I insisted.

"Well, no it won't," the sand man said. "I tried it and it made a mess, but it doesn't matter because senators don't use it, anyhow."

The sand man also supervises the snuff boxes, which are dainty looking oriental dinguses fitting into the wall on either side of the vice president's chair. The sand-and-or-snuff man said he'd been filling these boxes since 1898 with a special dark, damp Danish snuff obtainable only in a special cigar store in Philadelphia.

Sniffs Senatorial Snuff

"Here, try," he suggested. I sniffed a slug of senatorial snuff up my nose and nearly blew off the top of my head.

"That's the trouble," the man said. "Senators don't use it any more. Causes too much commotion."

While I was recovering I tried out the chair of Vice President Henry A. Wallace and I can report that it is a black calf skin dilly, with patent insides. It'll do anything that a hospital bed will do; the vice president can push a lever and take a nap any time he's of the mind.

By now it was noon and I got to talking to another official who said it was beyond him why the House of Representatives' lunch room served so much more food, better and cheaper, than did the Senate restaurant. He said senatorial food was awful. He said there ought to be a law.

You don't catch me ruining my stomach on the meals of senators; I had lunch with the representatives, most of whom were taking the 45-cent special: Boston baked beans, salt pork, coffee, and a fine slab of pie.

Congressmen can have all the catsup they want with their beans. So can Othman when he eats with them and there doesn't seem to be anything the OPA can do about it. I didn't investigate the rationing of congressional catsup; I merely floated my beans in it, lik the lawmakers, and I don't know when I've had a better lunch. The apple pie was good, too, and so was the coffee. All Congress needs now, as I see it, is some sand.

Drive On Metz

fight this strongest fortified city in all western Europe. A dispatch from supreme headquarters said the answer to this riddle may come within the next 24 to 48 hours.

Corny is on the banks of the Moselle almost due east and across the river from Fort Driant, which like Fort L'Aisne was one of the nine main forts in the Metz defense system. A frontal assault by American troops on Fort Driant some weeks ago failed.

Nazis May Yield Metz

Possibly the forts which the enemy yielded were not needed for a close siege defense of the city, the dispatch pointed out.

An intimation that the Germans might not make a last-ditch fight for Metz came in a broadcast from the headquarters of Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt which asserted that "Metz has fulfilled its task" in holding back the Americans while "front zone fortifications" were deepened.

Despite snow and bitter cold the Third army's wheeling movement southeast of Metz enveloped at least 15 more towns in gains of one to three miles.

15 Miles From Germany

This portion of Patton's northeastern France offensive carrier to within 15 miles of the border of Germany's rich Saar basin when tanks of the Sixth armored division entered many, 16 miles southeast of Metz, and Thicourt, a mile and a half farther down the line. Now that division was within four miles of the enemy base at Faulquemont.

South of the Third army front the U. S. Seventh army's left flank troops captured Veney, four miles north of Raon-L'Etape, one of the towns guarding the Vosges mountain passes to the Rhine.

On the U. S. First army front inside Germany American artillery fire broke up an attempted German counterattack in the area of Schmidt, southeast of Aachen. There were artillery duels on the Holland front.

Oklahoman Killed By Texas Cafe Operator

WALTERS, Okla., Nov. 14 (U.P.) —Gussie Woods, Randlett, Okla., farmer, was shot to death early today at a beer tavern near the Red River bridge, and a Texas cafe operator was held on a murder charge.

County officers said Woods was killed instantly at 3:15 a. m. by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

James Fonville, 20, Burkburnett, Tex., cafe operator, was arrested. A murder charge was filed against him at mid-morning by Cotton County Attorney Gordon Coker.

Stock Market

MARKET LEADERS LOWER

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Attempts to stem the stock market retreat generally met with failure today and, while a few favorites managed to breast the move, most leaders backed down fractions to a point or more.

Inspiring extension of Monday's liquidation was further apprehension over reconversion as thoughts of a possible German blowup persisted, a smattering of year-end tax selling, the fear that wage boosts would unsettle business if the "little steel" formula is broken, recent inability of the average to get through the 7-year highs of July and the desire to wait congressional shifts.

Offerings were relatively light from the opening until after midday. Volume then picked up in the final hour as prices resumed the downward drift. Losses were widespread near the close. Transfers again were around 1,000,000 shares.

Prominent casualties included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Dupont, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris and U. S. Gypsum. Ahead at intervals were Standard Oil (NJ), Gameweell, American Can, Southern Railway and Union Carbide.

Electric Bond & Share was resistant in the curb. Stumblers were Aluminum of America, Cities Service and United Shoe Machinery.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Reactions in other markets and renewed uncertainty by the favorable war news depressed the cotton futures today. Scattered commission house and New Orleans selling along with hedge offerings met only scale down mill buying.

Futures closed 65 to 95 cents a bale lower.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Slightly Tipsy But Dazzling Blonde Has Narrow Escape

HOUSTON, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—The local constabulary was still laughing today about the dizzy (but dazzling) Austin blonde who, swacked to a most enjoyable degree, balanced her automobile precariously on the edge of the ship channel last night and, thrusting her goldie locks out a window, bellowed:

"What in thunder became of that bus I was following?"

The golden-haired one, police relate, was following a bus through the channel district late last night when the bus suddenly turned off.

The blonde didn't turn but slammed straight for the turning basin and finally stopped—but only because the under side of her car caught on a piece of piling.

One policeman said the car was so nicely balanched it would have plunged into the channel if a fly had landed on the radiator.

Officers For Teachers Group To Be Named

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP) — Results of a mail ballot conducted this past week-end to select officers for the coming year for the Texas State Teachers association will be announced during the third streamlined wartime conference to be held in Fort Worth Nov. 24-25.

Meetings of standing committees and the executive committee on the first day and of the association's house of delegates the second day will again take the place of a convention for the general membership, B. B. Cobb, executive secretary, said.

Charles M. Rogers, superintendent of schools at Amarillo, was nominated for president of the association to succeed Mrs. Virginia Link of El Paso.

The only contested place is that of first vice-president, the two candidates being Miss Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio, and George H. Gentry, superintendent of schools at Temple. F. M. Jackson of San Angelo, county superintendent for Tom Green county, was nominated for second vice-president. No nominations were submitted for the post of third vice-president.

Ex-Techsan Loses Leg In Hunting Accident

Carroll Doshier, 18, handsome former pre-med student of Texas Technological college, was in serious condition in Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo, where his right leg was amputated after a Sunday hunting mishap, friends here learned today.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Doshier of Claude was duck hunting with friends near Claude when a shotgun charge accidentally fired lodged in his hip. La Nell Doshier, home economics student of Tech and a runner-up recently for "Miss Texas Tech" designation in the statewide "Miss Texas in the War" contest, is with him.

Young Doshier was to have gone into armed service in the "next call," friends said. He was in Tech last long term and the preceding summer. A brother, George, is in the Army Air forces and formerly was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field.

Texan Has Long Fall Before Opening 'Chute

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—When Lt. Daniel F. Gilmore's Flying Fortress exploded on a mission over Europe the Luling (Tex) bombardier had just picked up his chute. He was blown through the nose of the plane and fell 10,000 feet holding the chute in his hands before recovering enough from the explosion to snap the hooks and pull the rip cord. He landed three miles from the German lines.

The pilot and co-pilot were killed outright and three other members of the crew hospitalized.

FIRE DAMAGES SCHOOL

IRVING, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Irving Junior High students were enjoying a temporary holiday today following a fire which broke out in the building 30 minutes after the close of yesterday's session causing an estimated loss of more than $15,000, mostly to the school's auditorium and stage equipment. Class rooms suffered little damage.

News Brief

A motion picture on modern sanitation methods was shown members of the Optimist club and guests at luncheon today in Lubbock hotel by Optimist G. K. Landreth. A. E. Quest was program chairman. Because of the banquet next Monday night honoring Dr. Joseph Seay, president of Optimist International, it was announced there will be no luncheon meeting next Tuesday.

"Forerunner of a new irrigation system" for all Lubbock's parks is almost completed, it was explained today as workmen continued ditching and laying 2-inch master and 1-inch lateral mains. Except for certain valves deemed to require critical materials, the project soon will be completed. "Much less hose will be needed, and the new valves will be obtained after the war," it was announced at city hall.

Dennington Services Are Still Pending

MULESHOE, Nov. 14 (Special)—Funeral services for R. C. Dennington, about 45, who was shot to death Monday morning in front of a cafe in Bula, small southeast Bailey county town, were still pending early this afternoon, Hammonds Funeral home of Littlefield said.

Dennington's father-in-law, J. W. Parkman, about 60, was charged with murder after the shooting, it was announced by County Attorney Pat Bobo. Dennington was shot with a pistol.

Both are farmers in Bula community.

Parkman posted $5,000 bond.

Bobo said Mrs. Dennington had filed suit for divorce in early November.

Parkman waived preliminary hearing and Peace Justice R. J. Klump bound him over to action of the grand jury under $5,000 bond. The charge was prepared by Bobo and filed in Klump's court.

The Bailey county grand jury is to meet early in December.

Japs Launch Drive To Collect Silver

(By The Associated Press)

Japan launched a nation-wide drive today for collection of silver to be used in airplane motors with the official statement that heavy air losses were sustained in the "victories" off Formosa and the Philippines.

Shigenobu Matsukuma, vice minister of finance, said in announcing the drive that the metal was needed to "replace our aircraft losses" and to "produce many, many more superior planes in preparation for the ensuing enemy attacks." His broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

The finance officials declared "aircraft losses were hidden" behind the "brilliant successes" in recent naval-air engagements. He said silver would be used in propeller mountings because the copper and lead alloy formerly used was "unsatisfactory."

rorizing the countryside.

The workers and prisoners, Swiss dispatches said, escaped after the recent bombing of Stuttgart and other industrial centers in that area.

Officials Arrive For Survey

Other Swiss sources quoted unconfirmed frontier reports as saying Reichmarshal Hermann Goering and other ranking officers had arrived in Ludwigshafen to survey the situation.

Official Allied circles remained aloof from the growing discussion over Hitler's health and whereabouts, but cautioned against wishful thinking.

A British government spokesman in Commons refused to answer questions from the house about a rumor that Hitler had fled to Spain.

Premier Dr. Stephen Tiso of the puppet state of Slovakia was said to have been among those whose appointment to confer with Hitler had been cancelled on short notice.

A London Daily Herald dispatch from Stockholm said. Dr. Otto Dietrich, German press chief who customarily gives Hitler a daily report on world events and opinion, repeatedly has been sent away without seeing the fuehrer.

Photographer Not Used

Hitler's personal photographer, Heinrich Hoffman, has been unable to issue any photographs of Hitler since mid-September, the Herald said.

It added that reliable sources reported Hitler still was alive during the last weeks of October, but causing his immediate entourage great anxiety. Living in an armored train, Hitler became so restless and apprehensive over Allied bombing that he rarely spent more than two days in one place. He ordered the train to run into the deepest convenient tunnel each night, the dispatch said.

Observers pointed out that German radio assurances of Hitler's good health yesterday were broadcast only for overseas consumption and expressed surprise that the Germans were devoting so great a propaganda effort to an attempt to prove Hitler well when a single minute speech from the fuehrer himself would do the job 100 per cent more effectively.

Copper Alloy Alloted For Civilian Use

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The War Production board today promised "prewar serviceability" for a variety of metal products by allotting 16,000,000 additional pounds of copper alloy for civilian use this year.

Safety pins, slide and snap fasteners, scales, plumbing equipment, staples, church goods, and silverplated table flatware were among items in which the metal was restored.

WPB said, however, that the improved products will not reach the market for some time because manufacturers still must order the copper alloy and process it.

Applications To Be Taken For Trucks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Persons wishing to purchase new commercial motor vehicles in 1945 may apply now to local ODT offices, the Office of Defense transportation announced today.

ODT said it desired to give the names and addresses to manufacturers of heavy duty trucks 60 days in advance of production, so that the trucks may be shipped into areas where certificates have been approved.

FIRE DESTROYS WAREHOUSE

ROCKWALL, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Lack of water facilities was blamed today for the complete destruction by fire last night of a cotton warehouse and 1,000 bales of cotton near here. Garland firemen answered the call, but no water was available and the warehouse and cotton were a total loss—estimated at $125,000.

Chinese Gain In Burma

American-trained Chinese in northern Burma advanced five miles in a march reminiscent of their gains under Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, to close within two miles of Bhamo, important road and river junction near the China border.

Slight progress against stiff resistance was reported by other Allied units in central North Burma and Southwest Burma.

The main Japanese fight was obviously in the Philippines, their forces on Leyte were estimated at between 45,000 and 60,000, and still growing. Air replacements were continually flown in. Twenty-three Japanese planes were destroyed yesterday over Leyte and other central Philippine islands. Two U. S. planes were lost.

"Increasingly strong opposition" met the 24th division pushing toward Ormoc. The 96th division broke organized resistance in Central Leyte valley.

day, after telephone consultation with other committeemen, Chairman Penrose Metcalfe of the senate's special education investigating committee declared at San Angelo:

"It is evident that the new legislature (meeting in January) may need a clarified report on the dispute. For the welfare of the university as a whole, without reference to persons or personalities, we plan to make a thorough check of the controversy."

His statement came after:

Governor Coke R. Stevenson announced delay in filling three vacancies on the university board of regents because several prospective appointees had declined or were unavailable.

"Clean Sweep" Asked

A committee of ex-students reiterated a request that the governor "make a clean sweep" of the board of regents to expedite a solution of the controversy.

The governor revealed that at least four persons have declined board appointments. He said that perhaps he could fill the three vacancies by Wednesday, after which he was going deer hunting.

The vacancies were created by resignations of Chairman John H. Bickett, jr., of Dallas, H. H. Weinert of Seguin and Dan J. Harrison after a climatic board meeting in Houston Nov. 1 when Dr. Homer P. Rainey was discharged as university president.

Other Resignations Considered

Three other board members, W. Scott Schreiner of Kerrville, Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls and D. F. Strickland of Mission were reported considering giving their resignations but have not done so.

Metcalfe said past and present regents, Dr. Rainey, university vice president J. Alton Burdine and representatives of students, ex-students and faculty were invited to testify at committee hearing which may last until Saturday.

Besides Metcalfe, committee members are Senators A. M. Aikin jr., of Paris, Pat Bullock of Snyder, Wardlow Lane of Center and G. C. Morris of Greenville.

official title of "assistant president."

Accepted Temporary Appointment

When the reconversion bill became law, Byrnes accepted a temporary appointment from the President with the understanding a successor would be named when Congress reconvened.

When Congress recently passed its reconversion bill as the first cog in a postwar program, however, Byrnes estimated that the man who accepted the directorship under that bill would have to devote at least two years to the job. In several public statements he said he did not want it.

His agreement to continue at the head of the office—announced the day Congress came back to Washington—eliminated for the time one of the major appointments awaiting presidential action. There had been speculation that Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization, might have been placed in the Office of War stabilization as Byrnes' successor.

Anti-New Dealers To Remain Active

LONGVIEW, Nov. 14 (AP) — Anti-New Deal forces in Texas will continue to oppose the New Deal, Judge Merritt H. Gibson, general election campaign chairman for the Texas Regulars, said yesterday.

The Regulars executive committee meeting here authorized Judge E. E. Townes of Houston to appoint two seven-man committees to investigate legislation defing the powers of political parties in the state, and to lay plans for future anti-New Deal opposiiton.

Artillery Ammunition Needed By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces are losing 500 tanks and 900 trucks a month, says Undersecretary of War Patterson.

And Eisenhower is in "imperative need" of more artillery ammunition than we are producing, Patterson told a news conference, explaining that the general should have 3,600 tons a day for adequate support.

Bloc To Sentinel Germany Discussed

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Responsible quarters in London today reported progress toward a program for creation of a western European bloc composed of Britain, France, Belgium and Holland to take over sentinel duty against German aggression after the post-victory occupation period.

The plan has reached the point of diplomatic discussions among representatives of the four countries, these sources said, and the long-range aspects probably will be laid before Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Marshall Stalin at their imminent conference, to determine if such alliances could operate within the framework of the future world security organization.

These same sources expressed belief that a similar combine would be formed in the east, with Russia at its head, and with Czechoslovakia and eventually Poland as partners in guarding against a rebirth of German militarism.

As a part of this plan of a western bloc, France would maintain a strong army—already advocated publicly by Churchill — Britain would keep a powerful fleet and air force, and Belgium and Holland would waive their former attitude of neutrality to provide air bases near Germany's borders.

Change In 1946 Tax Rates Improbable

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee asserted today "prospects for any substantial change in tax rates for 1946 are very remote."

He told a news conference he felt the adoption of a postwar tax program should be delayed until Congress can see the end of the European war definitely approaching. But it should have its plans ready for quick action when the time comes, he added.

"There is not much basis," he asserted, "on which anyone can make the prediction or express the hope that we shall be able to revise taxes generally for 1945."

While some tax measures might be enacted next year, he said, in his opinion it could not be made effective before January 1, 1946.

The mystery of Hitler's whereabouts is rapidly assuming the proportions of one of history's prime thrillers, and it's likely to have a profound influence on the German people and consequently on the trend of the war if it develops that the fuehrer of the super-race is incapacitated.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels has set all the wheels of his great machine turning to convince the Reich and the world at large that the dictator isn't ill, mad or dead but is in "excellent, vigorous health." Still the fact remains that the Nazi chief's people haven't heard from him directly in about four months.

Has Been Great Silence

The bomb attempt on his life was July 20. The next day somebody representing himself as Hitler went on the air to say that the plot had failed. Since then there's been a great silence on the part of Hitler. Many are wondering why the master hasn't appeared personally. Why should they be so anxious to make a secret of an affair that would be treated openly in any normal country?

I think the answer is clear enough. Hitler has been absolute in his dictatorship for more than a decade. His control has been so complete that all Germany has come to think of government in terms of this one man.

True, within recent months it has been reported that the bloody-minded Himmler, chief of the gestapo and the home troops, had got Hitler under his power and was the real ruler of Germany. Well, that could be true. However, if it is true I don't believe the German public knows it.

I believe that if Hitler is permanently out of the picture for any reason, we shall see a slump in German morale which will hasten the end of the war.

Here's Business Man Who Aims To Please

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 14 (AP)—In these days of few cigarettes, one Phoenix drug store manager believes in keeping his customers satisfied.

Unable to open promptly this morning, he sent a uniformed clerk to pass along two block-long lines with a box full of cigarettes so they could smoke while they waited.

Rites Held Today For Victim Of Car Wreck

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 14 (Special)—Last rites for Billie Sanders, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Sanders of Littlefield, who was victim of a car-truck accident Saturday night near Roundup, were to be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Littlefield First Baptist church with Rev. D. C. Lindley officiating.

Burial was to be in Littlefield cemetery.

Roy Luke, also of Littlefield, suffered a broken arm and scalp wounds in the same accident.

In connection with the accident, a charge of failure to stop and render aid was f[illegible]unday in Hockley county [illegible] R. C. Bonds, 17, of Sud[illegible]rding to the Lubbock highw[illegible]trol.

The charge against Bonds was filed with H. G. Richards, justice of the peace at Anton, and signed by Patterson. Richards said Bonds posted a $1,000 bond Sunday and he would appear before the Hockley county grand jury Thursday.

Letter Details Bob Brewer's Mishap

Details of the mission over Germany in which Bob Brewer, former star athlete with the Lubbock Westerners and Texas Tech Red Raiders, was reported missing in action on Oct. 14 have been received by his wife from the War department.

Brewer was the aerial gunner in one of a formation of Liberators that attacked oil refineries in Odertal, Germany, on that date. A heavy anti-aircraft barrage was encountered over the target. The ship in which Brewer was flying received a direct hit, and was forced from the formation and entered the undercast below.

Occupants of other planes in the formation reported no parachutes were seen, but this does not eliminate the possibility of there being survivors from the ship.

Brewer was reported missing in action several days ago.

"We have 4,300,000 jobs to do today"

These are busy days for everybody in the telephone business. About 4,300,000 Toll and Long Distance messages go over the lines in the average business day. (That's in addition to more than 100,000,000 daily local conversations.)

We appreciate your help, especially when you're on a line to a war-busy center and the Long Distance operator says—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes."

Census To Be Taken Of Every U. S. Farm Soon After Jan. 1

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Right after Jan. 1 an army of 26,000 men and women—armed with 195 questions—will set out to visit every farm in this country to get basic information on agriculture.

They are census takers. The only figures they want are farm figures. They will ask questions like these:

Name of the owner, number of people living on the farm, number of people employed, wages, crop and livestock production, and value of land, buildings, machinery.

This census has been taken every five years since 1840, but this census probably will be one of the most important ever taken.

In Peak Production

Here are a couple of reasons why:

This year U. S. farms are in peak production, outstripped everything that went before and for good reasons: When Americans have money—they have more now than they ever had—they spend much of it on food; the armed forces have to be fed; and food is being shipped abroad.

Between now and the next census this peak production may not be necessary and probably won't be. The government will have to know something about its farms and farmers in planning for those leaner years ahead because farm prosperity is tied in with the rest of the country's well-being.

Information Valuable

The individual farmer himself may never study very hard the records of this census of agriculture. But the information will be valuable to people like these.:

Congressmen who pass the laws affecting farmers, the policy makers of the Department of Agriculture, the technical advisers in the state agricultural colleges, the county farm agents, the farm paper editors and leaders of farm organizations.
